Schools Rate Well
But Reports Say Davie Could Do Better

Davie schools improved on their ratings in a State Department of Public Instruction "report card" released last week.

The schools rated par, near above par. Last year, Davie schools rated an even par.

Davie Schools General Supervisor Elaine Strider said that news, along with the rise this year in SAT scores, is good.

But the scores are still lower than they were four years ago.

"We are still under the state average in local expenditures per student," she told members of the board of education meeting at Davie High School.

"We are working in this county with far less money."

The report card ranks schools with what students should achieve, using a number of variables, including incomes, or ability of a community to support schools.

Davie students are expected to score above the state average, and do. Scores were down in some areas this year, and up in others, Strider said.

"We were very pleased. We're proud of the improvements ... but we want to come back to where we were four years ago. In the past four years, we have declined in achievement."

Election Filing To Open

Filing for local and state offices begins at noon Monday, Feb. 10 and ends at noon on Monday, March 2.

Seats to be filled by Davie voters, including filing fees, are: county commissioners (three seats), $10; county board of education, $5; Davie Register of Deeds, $321.62; and N.C. Senate and N.C. House, $125.

Filing will be in the board of elections office, county courthouse. For more information call 634-2027.

All races are subject to May 5 primaries, except the non-partisan board of education which will be elected on May 5. Education board incumbents Jerry Swicegood of Mocksville and V.G. Prim of Cooleemee said they plan to seek reelection, as will incumbent Republican register of deeds Henry Shore.

County commissioners Spurgeon Foster Jr. and Buster Cleary said they will not seek reelection. Bert Bahnsen could not be reached for comment. All are Republicans.

Davie Could Get Up To $191,000 To Use On Homes

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Davie County commissioners agreed to join a four-county consortium that could help to renovate delapidated housing, help pay rents or build new homes for the poor.

While some say the federal HUD program is a gift the county would be foolish not to accept, others say it's another form of administrative-heavy bureaucracy.

The board approved joining the group on a 3-2 vote, with commissioners Diane Foster, Buster Cleary and board chairman Glenn Howard voting in favor of the move. Commissioners Bert Bahnsen and Spurgeon Foster voted against it.

As proposed, Davie County would spend an estimated $12,600 to help pay for administrative costs and receive $191,000 in federal funds to help those who live in sub-standard housing.

"I think we would be stupid not investing $12,600 to get $191,000 to help our people who have no other ways of improving their homes," said Diane Foster.

"The $12,600 comes out of my real estate taxes and the $191,000 comes off my 1040 I send to Washington," Bahnsen said. "It looks like a real bureaucratic type of thing."

County Planners Hear Rezoning Requests

Location, Propane Gas Tank Worry Neighborhood Group

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Citing the integrity of Davie Oil Co. and its owners, members of the Davie County Planning Board last week unanimously recommended that 5.21 acres at Howardtown and Cornatzer roads be rezoned from residential to industrial special use zoning.

Davie Oil Co. plans to move its warehouse and offices there, and install a large propane gas storage tank.

Several residents spoke in favor of the proposal.

Others were opposed, citing a curve on Howardtown Road near where it appeared the propane gas tank would be located. They also said they hadn't been told of the proposal in time.

601 And Bracken Road: Now Hydraulic Repairs Proposed

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

When the John Deere dealership closed at U.S. 601 and Bracken Road, it started a string of business openings and closings — and a string of complaints from area residents.

First came a trucking company, then a landscaping equipment company.

Last week, county planners voted 5-1 to recommend that the 9.5 acres be rezoned for industry, special use, for Carolina Hydraulics, which plans to put hard chrome plates on hydraulic cylinders and parts at the site. In a special use zoning, only the business specified could operate there.

Resident Says Point Road One Of Last Rural Areas

By Mike Barnhardt

Thirty trucks hauling sand would destroy what one resident calls one of the last true rural areas in Davie County.

Members of the Davie County Planning Board apparently agreed, voting 4-1 to recommend denial of a rezoning for sand dredging in the Yadkin and South Yadkin rivers in the area known as The Point. County commissioners are scheduled to make the final decision Feb. 17.

"This is a dead-end dirt road in one of Davie County's last truly rural areas," said Mary Davis, who lives off Point Road, off Cherry Hill Road in southern Davie. The 30 trucks expected to go to the sand dredging site would make 60 passes daily on

Politicians take heed: election filing time's here

Politics has had to take a month's vacation across North Carolina, pending the outcome of the legislative redistricting battle.

Candidates usually line up in January to file for all the county and state offices that are decided in election years. This time, they had to wait.

The final verdict is still waiting the congressional and state legislative district maps, but the counties can go ahead with their county races. The filing begins Monday.

Davie County will elect three commissioners this fall. Two incumbents, Buster Cleary and Spurgeon Foster, have said they won't seek re-election. Vacancies tend to attract a lot of candidates.

A race with a lot of choices is always exciting. But if you're among those thinking about filing ...

It's not an easy job. And it takes a lot of time. If you're after glamor and want to be popular with all your neighbors, the county commissioner's seat is not the place to be. Try congress.

The demands of the office — if the job is done correctly — can be exhausting. The board needs five members who will do the work and share the load. It doesn't need loafers. It's not a one-meeting-a-month assignment.

Potential candidates should talk to the current members. But don't be scared away from the race if you've got a busy schedule. Bill Foster's one of the busiest men in town, but he spent 12 years on the board. And he ranks easily as one of the most most effective commissioners in recent decades. He worked tirelessly — often from his store on the telephone.

There's one characteristic that's hard to measure in candidates. Courage. Can you make difficult decisions? Can you withstand public scrutiny? Can you do the public's business in public where they can watch? Do you have good sense? If you can meet those requirements, you should be running. Bring $10 to the Board of Elections office before March 2.

Geography graduates making big bucks?

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has a pretty good basketball team, but its campus is nice too. Every year the N.C. Press Association has its winter meeting on the campus.

Back when our state elected Democrats, the governor always came and shook hands with the newspaper folks. Gov. Jim Martin came a few times, but he started sending regrets before his first term was up. His wife's birthday falls about the same time. The governor always presented the NCPA press awards, and it seemed the winners were the ones who criticized Martin the most.

He didn't come this year, either. C.D. Spangler was there. He's president of the University of North Carolina system. He gave advice to the journalists who have children going off to college. UNC-Chapel Hill recently surveyed its graduates to determine which group earned the most money.

Surprisingly, it wasn't the medical school grads. Or the law school grads. Or the engineering students. It was the geography graduates.

Spangler said there were three reasons:

- There aren't many geography graduates.
- Most of them land good paying jobs with state and federal governments as map makers.
- Michael Jordan was a geography graduate.

DARE Is A Worthwhile Program

To the editor:
On Jan. 21, 22, and 23, 1992, I had the opportunity to witness the DARE Graduation Exercises at Coolmore, William R. Davie, and Pinebrook elementary schools. DARE is an acronym standing for Drug Abuse Resistance Education. The graduation exercises were the culmination of a seventeen-week program taught by Officer J.W. Phipps of the Davie County Sheriff's Department. The purpose of the DARE Program was to give children the skills to avoid using drugs.

After witnessing these graduation programs, I felt it important that the community know that this is one program that works. My soul was uplifted and my spirit enriched by hearing these children speak of their commitment to remain drug free throughout the rest of their lives. The testimony of some of the children, especially those who had suffered the abuses of drug and alcohol in their families, were especially moving. These children are honest, courageous and responsible. The depth of the commitment each child made to remain drug free was very apparent on their faces and in their essays. Likewise the depth of commitment that the DARE program teacher, Officer J.W. Phipps, had for the children and their program was very apparent. This is a true success story and Officer Phipps, the schools, and the Davie County Sheriff's Department are to be highly commended for their efforts. I think the community should know.

Focus On Problems At Home

To the editor:
It is amazing how many people want to help other countries. What about ours? We share the same problems with many of them, and yet, it seems like the people who do without shelter, clothing, and food right here in our own town even, are insignificant in comparison with those in other countries with the same problems.

No Justification For Rates

To the editor:
It seems one of our public servants (Commissioner Bahson) will go to any length to try to justify the highest water rates in the state. It seems if anyone can afford the luxury of Cable T.V., they are fair game. Just hope he doesn't find out some of us have central heat, and/or air conditioning.

There are quite a few people on fixed incomes that the only recreation they can afford is T.V. and cable does give them a little more variety. I for one don't begrudge them that small luxury, if you can call it that. Seems Bahson is missing the point.

Most people don't mind going to a good restaurant and paying $10 to $15 for a good meal, but they would balk if they had to pay that for a hot dog. Most people don't like to be taken advantage of and that is what they are doing to the water consumers.

New Rule For Estate Settlements

To the editor:
As of Jan. 1, a new rule has been established of 3 months instead of 6 months to settle and complete estate and executor cases.

For some time I have contacted the Forsyth and N.C. Bar Associations and Gov. J.G. Martin, but didn't seem to get any good answers. Regardless, somebody took the hint, and I am thankful. So far I have seen only two ads listing three months, but several still asking for six months. Change is hard for lawyers. They are so used to 18th and 19th Century rules. Delay is bad for persons over 70. Some states have a "Preference Law" to advance litigants on court calendars — but not North Carolina. Write your legislator or governor to take care of this.

Elevators, Spiders, Snakes, Needles ... Aaaagh!

For some people, it's snakes. For others it's airplanes, high buildings, spiders ... The list goes on of things that scare people.

For me, it's needles — the long, sharp kind that doctors and nurses love to jab into your arm, or your leg, or your ... How this fear got started, I don't know. Maybe it goes back to my spoiled-rotten screaming brat days when a doctor had to chase me down and hurl the needle at me like a javelin. I don't remember. All I know is that needles containing medicine scare the patookie out of me.

The last shot in the arm was about two years ago, when my heartless doctor decided I needed a tetanus shot. It had only been about 20 years since my last shot. I couldn't understand the rush.

The nurse had to wait for me to get someone to hold my hand and whisper soft "It'll be OK's" into my ear before I would let her get close to me with that needle. She went for my left arm and my head turned to the right — exorcist style — as far as it would go. My teeth clenched. Sweat poured from my forehead and palms. Even my toes were squeezed into tight curls. I thought about fainting, but decided to be a big boy instead. Luckily, I survived.

A week ago last Saturday, I had a feeling the needle monster would again try to attack me. I had agreed to cover a Red Cross Bloodmobile at Pinebrook Elementary. Normally, I say no to such last-minute Saturday assignments, especially when there's a good chance they will try to get a needle into my arm. But the caller said it was for a good cause, that the blood drive was being held in honor of Larry Jones, Pinebrook principal suffering from cancer. I had Mr. Jones for English while at Davie High. He was one of my favorite teachers, and knew how to relate to those of us who really wanted to be somewhere else. For him, I agreed to do the story.

Arriving at Pinebrook, I took the camera out quickly. I wanted to make sure they knew I was there to take pictures and write an article, not to be a victim of the needle.

It worked — for a while. When I ran out of questions, the Bloodmobile director asked me when was the last time I gave blood. My face turned red, my ears redder. I started to sweat. My toes curled. I mumbled that I never had, trying to justify the excuse by explaining my fear of needles.

It didn't work. "How can you write about something you've never done?" they asked. "What better way to write about something than doing it," was another suggestion.

I hate it when people I interview want me to try what they do when I don't want to. Usually, those types don't get very good coverage. But these women were right. Blood is an essential part of modern medicine, and there's only one place to get it — from people. If everybody thought like me, a lot of people would die from a lack of blood.

I don't want to be responsible for the deaths of others because of some stupid phobia. I told the women I would be back next year to give blood, that I needed time to ready myself for the experience. They'll remember. I can't get out of it.

So next January, I'm overcoming my fear of needles and giving blood, in honor of Larry Jones, one of my favorite high school teachers. I hope he's there to laugh at me when I say, "Mr. Jones, this blood's for you."

Teach Basics Of Survival First

To the editor:
A man is rich in proportion to what he can do without. I think a person with knowledge of survival during times when there was no electricity, county water systems, welfare and social programs, can survive most anything. With knowledge of hard times and common sense, they will fare much better should hard times hit America.
Maybe we should teach everyone the basics of survival first, and then it would be no problem to educate them after that, because they would be hungry for knowledge, which could give them a much easier way of life.

Girls Using Three-Player Team

To the editor:
I have been an avid fan of the Davie County boys and girls basketball teams every since my nephew played there several years ago. I travel from the other side of Winston-Salem to attend every game this season, but I have been very disappointed in the girls team. It appears they are playing a three-player game. You would think after all the losses something would change; however, it is the same every game. I have enjoyed the boys games; seeing new faces and the look of determination on each. Hopefully, the athletic director, who stated in an article in the Davie County Enterprise earlier this season that he wants a winning season in all sports, will try to see what the problem is.

Tour Organizers Deserve Praise

To the editor:
In December, a wonderful group of volunteers formed a committee and held the first annual Mocksville Tour of Historic Homes to benefit the Davie County Unit of the American Cancer Society. Approximately $7,400 was raised to carry out the work of the local American Cancer Society Unit. I would just like to publicly thank Chris Drayton and Doug Williams who engineered the entire project. They did a wonderful job by giving hours of their time to see that everything went smoothly. Also, I would like to thank Pat Amore who chaired the patron's party and Linda Hwagins who did a great job of representing the America Cancer Society.
A special thanks to each of the home owners and the local businesses who helped sponsor this Christmas event. Without you, the entire project would not have been possible.
We are looking forward to next year's tour which is currently being planned. We hope for the continued support of the community.

Jaycee Holiday Project Gratifying

To the editor:
On the 14th of December 1991, I was privileged to take part in a wonderful event conducted by the Mocksville-Davie Jaycees. Their 4th Annual Christmas Cheer event was a very gratifying experience.

Yes, the Jaycees played their role as they have before and as they often do in conducting events like this, as well as other projects. In this particular project, however, the individuals that I want to specifically thank are the patrons of this event.

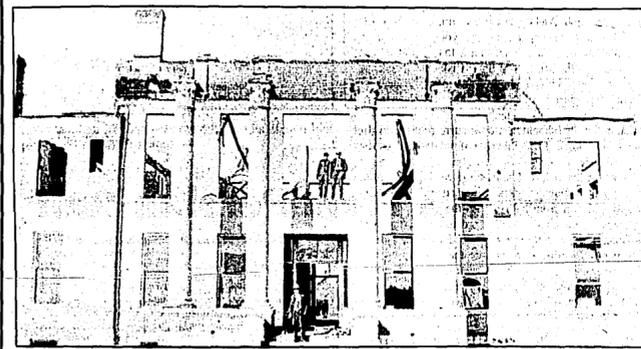

To find this outing, the Jaycees received monies from throughout the community. Without the support and generosity of the many businesses and individuals in Mocksville and Davie County, I might not have been able to attend this function, because it did not have to happen at all.

The response from the community this year was phenomenal. This annual project has grown, since its inception, from ten children and $1,000 to the forty children this year and over $4,000. The reason for this growth comes from you, the community. I applaud Project Chairman, Jeff Easton; his guidance and dedication to this project ensured its success. I also extend my thanks to the other Mocksville-Davie Jaycees who participated in the execution of this project. Because of the commitment of your local Jaycees, forty young children were able to receive Christmas gifts, have some food and enjoy themselves for a few hours that morning.

It was a special day for me to be able to take part in the true spirit of the season. It was especially rewarding to watch the young children as they selected not just toys, but material items that they really needed, and also gifts for their family members. They too were able to experience the satisfaction of giving. I appreciated the opportunity to be a part of such a wonderful and meaningful activity.

As Regional Director for the West Central Region of North Carolina Jaycees, I am very proud of the efforts of the Mocksville-Davie Jaycees, but the height of achievement from their endeavors can only be realized in those instances where the citizens of your community step in and become a major part of the foundation of a successful project.

Domestic Violence Orders Possible

The previous article discussed domestic violence and the short-term solution of temporary separation. If a person encounters violence or the threat of violence in a domestic relationship and it is apparent that a long-term solution is needed, the aggrieved party needs to consider obtaining a domestic violence protective order as provided under North Carolina General Statute 50B.

The aggrieved party may be a minor child as well as an adult. To obtain a domestic violence protective order requires a visit to the clerk of court and the completion of a complaint and motion. This form must be completed by the complainant and the clerk cannot assist or suggest answers to questions on the form. When the form is completed, the complainant will be sworn and will pay a $50 fee. At this time the complainant will appear before a District Court judge for an Ex Parte hearing (Ex Parte means only one party is required to attend). The judge will consider the complaint as filed and if favorable the judge will issue the Ex Parte order. The clerk of court will issue a notice of hearing to both parties. The Ex Parte order is only valid until the hearing and in any event not longer than ten days. A copy of the Ex Parte order is sent to the responsible law enforcement agency. At the hearing and domestic violence protective order, the district court judge will either grant a long-term order based upon findings or dismiss the action.

Following the hearing and granting of a domestic violence protective order, a copy of the order will be mailed or otherwise given to each party and to the law enforcement agency responsible for the plaintiff's residence. This order will show those restrictions which apply to the defendant. If this order is violated by the defendant, it could result in an immediate arrest. The order is normally in effect for one year from the date it is signed by the judge.

If any restriction on the order is violated, the defendant is subject to arrest. If observed by an officer, arrest can be immediate. If not directly observed, then the plaintiff will have to file a complaint. The plaintiff needs to retain a copy of the order to show an officer if the need should arise. In general, law officers will only become aware of violations following a complaint by the plaintiff.

If within the one year life of the order the plaintiff and defendant get back together by mutual consent, that is fine with all concerned. However, if further difficulties arise, the plaintiff is going to be in a poor position regarding having law enforcement enforce an order which has been, in effect, set aside by mutual consent of the parties. This, of course, does not apply where the aggrieved party was a minor child, and both adult parties had best not violate an order involving a minor child.

Man Returns From Persian Gulf

By Kara Kooker
Davie County Enterprise-Record

FARMINGTON — After serving in the Persian Gulf conflict for more than five months, Charles Cecil Lashley, a staff sergeant in the Second Armored Cavalry Regiment, has finally made it home.

Lashley, 31, is the only son of Charles and Lorraine Lashley. He grew up in Mocksville and graduated from Davie High School in 1979. Nine months later, Lashley joined the army.

"I tried my hand at civilian life," said Lashley, "but it wasn't very exciting. I wanted to see the world and find adventure."

Stationed in Bamberg, Germany, Lashley was fortunate to spend a month at home on convalescent leave before being deployed Nov. 8, 1990. His regiment was the first ground unit to be deployed from Europe.

On Nov. 12, Lashley's regiment began moving equipment to Hammurg, a German port on the Elbe. On Nov. 18, 13 soldiers boarded the USS Jupiter and set sail for the Persian Gulf. The trip was long and rough, but they arrived safely and in one piece.

Lashley described the Cavalry Regiment as a "self-contained unit or pocket division of the Army." He said it is analogous to the "2nd Airborne division of the Air Force."

"We have some of the best soldiers in the Army," said Lashley.

Lashley said the 2nd Armored Cavalry Regiment is a highly mobile ground force unit that generally operates behind enemy lines. On average, Lashley said they would travel anywhere from 150 to 200 miles a day.

Lashley served as a tank commander for a four-man crew. After waiting for days behind enemy lines while the air warfare took place, Lashley said his regiment finally crossed the border 24 hours before the ground war officially started on Feb. 23.

"It was kind of hairy there for a while," said Lashley. "In the first eight hours of combat, I lost a good friend."

The friend Lashley lost was Andy Moller, an M2 Bradley gunner. Moller was inside another tank.

While the ground war was tough at first, Lashley said the Allies "basically just out-classed" the Republican Guard. Lashley said they had prepared themselves for the worst and had expected five to 10 percent casualties in their regiment, but their American technology was far superior.

"Modern warfare on that scale couldn't last more than 21 days," said Lashley. "It's so destructive."

Even though he tired of all the sand and insects, Lashley said he was proud to serve his country in Operation Desert Storm.

"It was a great feeling to know people all over the world supported us," said Lashley. "My letters meant more than anything."

Lashley returned to Germany on April 29. He said he was not able to take leave earlier, because of all the loose ends and paper work he needed to complete.

Lashley arrived in Mocksville Jan. 10 and will drive to Fort Polk, La. Feb. 10. He said he will be stationed

County Looking For Ideas About Proposed Law

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Should Davie County push for tougher trespassing laws?

Should it require written permission before hunting, fishing or operating an all-terrain vehicle on someone else's property?

Let your county commissioners know how you think.

On Monday, the board rescinded a resolution asking state legislators to enact such a law for the county. Because it would be May or June before the bill could be passed by the legislature, they decided to take public comment until then.

Commissioner Bert Bahnsen said that while the proposed law may not be what is needed, property owners need some type of protection.

"The main thing is attitude," Bahnsen said. "Being on somebody else's place is a privilege, but some people treat it as a right."

"I don't think our current law is strong enough. If somebody wants to go on somebody else's place, they ought to go to the trouble of getting written permission."

Commissioner Spurgeon Foster Jr. said he had given written permission for people to hunt on farmland he owns, and has no problem with the proposed law. The complaints he gets are from those who get permission about others who hunt without it. Bahnsen also said the board needs to study the liability issue in case of an accident if written permission is given.

Bahnsen and Foster welcome suggestions that could toughen the trespassing law and keep hunters and landowners happy.

"The folks complaining need to come up with a suggestion," Foster said.

Bahnsen agreed. "That's the way it should be with all county business."

Bahnsen said if changes are made, the burden needs to be on those wanting to use other people's property — not the property owners.

Under current trespassing laws, a property owner could be spent countless hours waiting to prosecute a case in court, he said.

Bahnsen said he likes the proposed law, which was enacted for Davidson County, because it is short and simple. It says: "A person commits the offense of third degree trespass if, without written authorization, he enters or remains on the premises of another for the purpose of hunting, fishing, trapping, or operating an all-terrain vehicle."

The law says third degree trespass is a misdemeanor punishable by up to 30 days in jail and up to a $200 fine or both.

"It's a new federal program and I'm real leery of new federal programs. It looks like an overkill from the federal government and that's what has got us in the mess we're in today," Babson said.

Rebecca Kassner, housing administrator for the Northwest Piedmont Council of Governments, said Davie County could back out of the program if HUD next year stipulated that the county would have to pay matching funds.

A board, consisting of three members each from Davie, Yadkin, Surry and Stokes counties, would be set up to administer the funds. Yadkin and Surry, and now Davie, have agreed to join the consortium, Kassner said.

Plans are to hire three people to administer the program, which Davie County Manager Larry South says is too much.

"I think three people is way too much — administratively heavy," South said. "One person is plenty."

More use of services and knowledge already in the counties could be used to cut costs, South said.

Kassner told the board that Monday's vote was not in favor of the three employee administrative structure.

"If somebody has a better solution, we should look at it," she said.

South said administrators in towns and counties in the consortium region had agreed that the plan was administrative heavy.

"The $12,600 may not be a lot of money, but they wouldn't listen to other alternatives that were brought up," South said.

Diane Foster suggested the county talk to officials with Mocksville and Cooleemee to require them to pay a portion of the administrative costs if any of the work is done in the respective town limits.

Sand Mining Request Turned Down the road, she said. "I feel strongly that this would totally destroy the integrity of the neighborhood."

Planning board member Kenneth Harpe agreed, saying he had no problem with a sand dredging operation, but did object to 60 truck passes on the dirt road. "I think that would be placing too much hardship on citizens in that area," Harpe said.

David Springer, who had asked for the rezoning, said he wanted the same considering given to property owners in northern Davie where a sand dredging operation was allowed.

His land, he said, "is where the Yadkin River slows down before going into High Rock Lake."

"Therefore, there is, and will be, a huge deposit of sand," Zoning Officer Jesse Boyce showed the board a letter from the City of Salisbury, which gets drinking water from the Yadkin just downstream from The Point. The letter said the city would not oppose dredging in the South Yadkin, but would oppose dredging in the Yadkin above the water intake.

Planning board member Robert Dwiggins suggested that Springer modify his request to include only dredging on the South Yadkin. "It would be in your best interest to modify your request not to include the Yadkin," Dwiggins said.

Springer said the planners weren't issuing permits, that is the job of state water quality and environmental agencies. All he asked was to zone the flood plain for a sand dredging operation only, Springer said. "I think it's a good idea."

Harpe said permitting was not an issue. "Do we want that strip to be rezoned industrial?"

Davis argued that Springer never gave a detailed enough report of the land he wanted rezoned. The nearest industrially zoned land is miles away, she said. "This is spot zoning and I don't hear any designated spots."

The planners had heard the arguments before, but delayed making a recommendation until hearing from the City of Salisbury and to ask Springer for a surveyed map of the area he wanted rezoned. Springer submitted a map which showed land contours, which is probably legal but difficult to define a specific area, Boyce said.

Davie Oil Request OK'd By Planners to prepare for the meeting.

Frances Watson, who came with a petition she said had 101 signatures of people opposed to the rezoning, asked that a decision be delayed so the group could learn more. One person got a letter a couple of days before the meeting, she said.

Zoning Officer Jesse Boyce said the proposal and meeting was advertised in the newspaper, and the letter sent as a courtesy. Legal notices, site signs and letters to all adjoining property owners are done for all rezonings well before they are heard by county commissioners, Boyce said.

The county board is scheduled to act on this proposal Feb. 17.

Watson said there had been two wrecks in the last five months at the curve on Howardtown Road. "I would rather see it put somewhere else, not in such a residential area," she said. "I'm scared of some type of gas leak or explosion, and the traffic."

Sally Nivens said the site would face her front door. "I've been there 73 years and I don't need this in front of me," she said.

James Nance, Gray Potts and Tom Compater spoke in favor of rezoning, which as requested, means only the business specified could be put there.

Davie Oil has been a good business for the county and deserves a chance to expand, Nance said. Potts said: "They keep it real nice, neat." Cor-natzter said he has two grandchildren living in the neighborhood and he is not worried by Davie Oil's proposal.

William R. Carter of Davie Oil said the company would put the propane tank at the safest location on the property, and it would be enclosed by a fence and locked. No trucks would be left on the property overnight containing fuel, unless indoors.

He said there was no guarantee there wouldn't be an accident, but the company had never had one in many years of operating.

Planning board member Wayne Webb said he has seen numerous propane storage tanks, and the site proposed by Davie Oil is one of the safest he's seen.

Board member Bill Johnson made the motion to recommend the rezoning, citing "the integrity of the business and people." "They will have the health of the community at heart," Johnson said.

Hydraulics Plating Company Proposed

Hydraulics, which was represented by vice president Tom Prince.

Van Hoy said the company wants to be a good neighbor. The company agreed to all conditions the board put on previous owners, and also agreed to plant evergreen trees on all sides of the property except facing U.S. 601, not store materials outside, not to create outside noise other than loading and unloading, comply with all EPA and other environmental rules.

Since there is no wastewater discharge, there is no way for the chemicals to reach outside soil, Van Hoy said. "We don't see how this can be any added burden to the neighbors at all."

Prince and Van Hoy described the system Carolina Hydraulics plans to install, that uses sulfuric and chromic acids in a closed system.

Few chemicals would be stored on site that aren't in the system, Prince said. There is no wastewater discharge, but sludge would be removed occasionally which would be disposed of at an EPA approved site, he said. There is some evaporation from the system, which also uses water, Van Hoy said.

Planning board member Kenneth Harpe, which voted against the recommendation, said "it's that evaporation that worries him. "Are the neighbors going to be smelling sulfuric acid?"

Prince said they wouldn't, that the air filtering system is elaborate and closely-monitored by the EPA.

Neighborhood resident Fred McCloud said he wasn't fighting Carolina Hydraulics, but wanted "insurance" the residents would be protected in case of an accident. County water is not available in the development behind the plant, he said, and contamination of wells would be devastating.

Van Hoy said that EPA regulations would govern any accident, and require the guilty party to compensate those harmed.

If granted the rezoning, scheduled to be decided on by county commissioners Feb. 17, the company would begin making improvements to the property in 10 months, Van Hoy said. Plans are to hire from 15-20 employees at hourly salaries between $7 and $15, he said.

Dove Nest Sparks Interest

COOLEEMEE — The yard around the Tom and Janie Vogler home on Center Street looks like what you would expect from bird lovers. Bluebird houses are mounted on several posts. Swarms of birds fly around a feeder. And up in the tree, a dove sits patiently on her nest.

"She's been up there for three weeks now," Mr. Vogler said. "It's unusual to see a bird on the nest in January. We've never seen the male out here or seen her leave."

Mrs. Vogler said the couple enjoys watching the birds. They have blue jays, but the bluebirds are the favorites.

They also enjoy the doves. "We have had 20 to 25 doves at the feeder at one time," he said. "Those baby doves are so pretty," she said, explaining how they walk across the back porch. "And of course, the mother is right behind them."

Bloodmobile Held At Pinebrook

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Giving blood is no big deal. That's until they stick the needle in your arm, right?

Wrong, said Sandy Scherle, coordinator for the recent Pinebrook Elementary PTA Red Cross Bloodmobile visit.

"Giving blood is no big deal — until you need it," Scherle said. "Then you're really thankful that somebody took the time to do it. That's the real reason I'm doing this."

Besides, Scherle said, the needle stick feels like a soft pinch. The blood drive at Pinebrook, in its fourth year, brings out the best in the community, Scherle said. This year's drive was dedicated to Pinebrook Principal Larry Jones, who is suffering from cancer.

Among the early donors were Davie Schools Superintendent Dr. Bill Sneed and Shady Grove Principal Larry Bridgewater.

"There's really a big community awareness," Scherle said. "We've had parents donating, normal business people, people who learn about it and say 'I haven't given in a while.'"

"The community is becoming aware of this and it being dedicated to Larry Jones this year has really brought the people together."

Scherle said giving blood is simple and painless. Although organizing and running a blood drive is time-consuming and a lot of work, Scherle enjoys the job and is thankful for the other volunteers who help.

The mother of two girls at Pinebrook, Scherle said the blood drive is what she does for the PTA.

"Once you get into it, you find out it really is a lot of fun," she said. "This is something I really enjoy doing.

"And it's something with a purpose. One pint of blood can help four people," Scherle said.

Nicole Scherle, Crystal Mock, Lisa Thompson, Susan Hauser, Anna Riddle, Jennifer Bowles, Pam Mock and Christin Howard; and from Troop 207 of Mocksville — Jasmine James, Oubon Phommavanh, Allison Blacklock, Regan Jones, Lisa Turner, Olivia Steele and Amanda Collins.

Drug Cases Going To Federal Court

By Lynn Hall
Davie County Enterprise-Record

They came to Mocksville to buy 600 pounds of marijuana and three kilos (6.6 pounds) of cocaine. They're leaving Mocksville in the custody of federal marshals headed for federal court on charges of conspiracy to traffic in those drugs.

That was the word in Davie District Court last Thursday, where the six defendants were scheduled to appear for probable cause hearings on the charges.

Because federal warrants had been served, the charges were dropped in district court, according to Mary Hedrick, assistant district attorney. "We dropped them here so that they could go on for appearances on these charges at the federal level," she said.

The six were arrested at the Comfort Inn in Mocksville on Jan. 13 in a drug deal arranged by undercover officers.

One of the six, Terena Renee Cook, 29, of Route 1 Advance, still faces possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia charges in Davie County, and that case was continued until March 2.

Arrested Jan. 13 along with Cook were Leubardo Rodriguez Jr., 38, of Corpus Christi, Texas; Ramino Suarez, 40, of Alice, Texas; Harold Gray Winters, 44, of Route 7, Calabash; Oliver M. Garcia, 39, of Alice, Texas; and Michael Ralph Holbrook, 31, of Rock Hill, S.C. Holbrook was using the alias Christopher Lee Mathis, when arrested.

Each had been held in lieu of a $500,000 bond. Last Thursday, Judge Robert W. Johnson, reduced Cook's bond on the charges still pending in Davie County to $10,000 secured. This was to allow federal marshals to take custody of her as well.

At the time of the arrest, Davie Sheriff's Detective Jerry Williams said local authorities learned about the deal when Corpus Christi police notified them that Cook was in Texas visiting known drug dealers.

Williams said a deal involving $300,000 was made and the defendants showed up with half of that amount.

In addition to the money, vehicles driven by the suspects were also confiscated.

members of the Davie Sheriff's Department, the Northwest Piedmont Multi-Jurisdiction Task Force, Forsyth County Sheriff's Department, Kernersville Police Department and IRS criminal investigators.

Honey May Not Be Best Alternative To Sugar

Honey is often promoted as a nutritious, "natural" alternative to table sugar. The truth is, honey has only tiny amounts of calcium, iron and phosphorus, say extension foods and nutrition specialists at NCSU.

You'd have to eat 800 tablespoons of honey to meet the Recommended Dietary Allowance for calcium, 180 tablespoons for iron and 800 for phosphorus. Cup for cup, honey has more calories — 1,030 compared to the 770 calories in a cup of sugar. This usually evens out when baking, since less honey is needed for sweetness. All sugars have essentially the same nutritive value: calories for energy.

Now Is Time To Plant Trees

Now is the time for planting trees.

The North Carolina Forest Service still has seedlings available for planting, but inventories will soon be depleted.

The species still available for planting are: Loblolly Piedmont Improved (first and second generation), White Pine Improved (two and three year old), Virginia Pine, Pond Pine, Red Cedar, Atlantic White Cedar, Black Locust, Sweet Gum, and Bald Cypress.

This year the environmental packs (both East and West) are still being offered. These packs contain 100 trees of several species. If you only need 50 trees, the Forest Service offers an educational pack. This pack comes in Loblolly or White Pine.

To order these trees you must use an application. These applications also contain the price list and other information needed.

Applications are available from the North Carolina Forest Service, Davie Soil & Water Conservation District, and the Cooperative Extension Service. These offices are located in the Davie County Office Building and are open Monday through Friday.

Because trees are usually dormant in the winter, it is a good time to do maintenance on the trees such as pruning. When you are pruning, be sure to do it correctly. There are several pamphlets available through the Cooperative Extension Service and the North Carolina Forest Service in Davie County.

Avoid topping trees because it can cause serious injuries to the tree or even the death of the tree. It is better to train trees through pruning while they are young and continue over a period of years.

If you have any questions about trees, you can contact the North Carolina Forest Service in the County Office Building Monday-Friday. If not there, leave a message. The phone number is 634-5319.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

JACOB'S WELL

ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF THE ANCIENT SAMARITAN CITY OF SYCHAR, IS JACOB'S WELL WHERE JESUS OF NAZARETH ASKED THE WOMAN OF SAMARIA FOR A DRINK OF WATER. IT IS SITUATED AT THE EASTERN MOUTH OF THE VALLEY BETWEEN MOUNT EBAL ON THE NORTH AND MOUNT GERIZIM ON THE SOUTH. THE WELL IS MORE THAN 78 FEET DEEP BEFORE WATER IS REACHED BUT IT IS STILL USED AND ITS WATER IS PURE AND IS SUPERIOR TO THAT OF NEARBY SPRINGS AND STREAMS.

THE DEPTH OF THE WELL CERTAINLY AGREES WITH THE STORY OF THE SAMARITAN WOMAN ADMONISHING JESUS THAT HE HAD NO WAY TO GET WATER FROM SO DEEP A WELL AS THIS ONE WAS! (JOHN 4:11)

THE WELL WAS PROBABLY DUG BECAUSE THE MANY SPRINGS IN THE VALLEY DRIED UP IN THE SUMMER AND PEOPLE NEEDED A GOOD SOURCE OF WATER SUPPLY WHICH A DEEP WELL WOULD GIVE THEM.

Davie Wrestlers Upset

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

• Davie had not been beaten in 72 regular season dual matches.

• Lowery had been named Coach of the Year for eight straight seasons (one in 3-A).

• Davie had been ranked number one in Mat News for the past two months.

• But all that is probably ancient history now. A talented Grimsley team took advantage of three forfeits and held off the War Eagles through the middle weight classes.

• "We didn't need to win more matches," said Lowery. "We just needed to eliminate some big moves by them."

• Davie thus becomes the CPC's second seed and traveled to fourth-ranked Gastonia Ashbrook Tuesday in the 4-A dual tournament. A win would give the War Eagles a home match Thursday night at 7 p.m.

Davie Hurting

Lowery entered the last CPC match of the year missing his 112 and 145-pounder due to grades and never had a 103-pounder. By his calculations, the match could have been a draw had it gone according to plan.

"I had it figured 30-30," he said. "But we didn't get some pins where I thought

Wildcats Win NPC Tourney By Whopping 116½ Points

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Robbie Yonce's first match Saturday in the North Piedmont Conference freshman wrestling tournament told North Davie wrestling coach Ron Kirk — as well as everyone else in the North Davie gymnasium — that the Wildcats were in complete control.

Kirk's 86-pounder pinned his first opponent in seven seconds and the Wildcats never looked back as they won the event by 116½ points. Its 241½ outdistanced second place Southeastern Stokes, which finished with 125½.

Five of North's champions went 15-0 on the year: Scotty Spry (115 pounds), Matt Sain (128), Wesley Foster (143), Michael Hunter (148), Mark Mason (155) and Kevin Caudle (192). Mark McKnight, Justin Jenne and Tony Nichols didn't lose until the tournament.

Kirk said he could make a case for this team being the greatest in school history. It went 13-0 and the average score was 72-3.

"As far as points scored and records set, it was the best," Kirk said. "We had six shutouts. But it's hard to determine a top leader or Most Valuable Wrestler."

Davie County's other participant in the tournament, South Davie, brought only a few wrestlers and finished in last place with 32 points.

Spry MVW
While Kirk will have trouble picking his own Most Valuable Wrestler, the coaches had no trouble choosing Spry as the tournament MVW.

"It was pretty much unanimous," said Kirk. Spry won his title match over North Davidson's Brandon Sink, who was 14-0 coming in.

"Scotty used every move in the book," Kirk said. "He was ahead of Sink 14-0 when he pinned him. He ran a clinic on him."

Spry's win came after Dan Callahan's hard-fought 3-1 victory over South Davie's Bill Overcash at 106, in what could have been the most exciting final. Overcash had defeated Callahan earlier in the year.

"Dan wrestled his match and did well defensively," Kirk said. "Bill's a good wrestler."

Sain won 6-1 at 128 over Southeastern's Troy Nelson. Justin Carter took first at 138, 18-2. Foster won by pin at 143. "Foster had a real good season," Kirk said. "He was ag-turnovers.

"We'd make a steal or get a rebound and then turn the ball right back over," Jarvis said. "That's what really hurts. We're always doing it after we do something good. Because of that, we have no ball possession. It's no wonder they scored. We're on defense 80 percent of the time."

Davie would also like to forget South Rowan's 74-44 win earlier in the week.

Loosing To Grimsley
Davie looked unbeatatable in the first two minutes of the game against Grimsley. With Shannon Umberger controlling the boards and her sophomore teammates Carrie Brown and Andrea Gentry running the break, Davie streaked to an unbelievably easy 15-3 lead.

Brown scored three straight baskets to open the game, followed by Lori Sluder's 15-footer for an 8-3 lead. Gentry hit a three. Brown a 12-footer and Gentry a layup and Davie had a quick 12-point margin.

"We got turnovers off of our press and made the easy baskets," Jarvis said. But that was it for the cheering. Grimsley, like Davie, had come into the

Grimsley's Height Too Much For Davie Boys

Substitutes Play Well In 81-58 Loss

By Ronnie Gallagher

The tallest team in the Central Piedmont Conference met the shortest Friday night at Davie County and the results were predictable.

Grimsley's height was too much for the War Eagles in a 81-58 rout that saw the Davie subs take center stage. But by the time Paul Wondracek and the other reserves got some playing time, the game had been decided.

Wondracek

Afterward, Davie coach Charles Crenshaw was praising new names like Wondracek, Bryan Johnson and Jason Phelps. They helped Davie outscore Grimsley 23-21 in the final quarter.

"I thought our subs played well," he said. "If not for them, we'd have lost by a lot more."

The War Eagles also fell to South Rowan earlier in the week, 78-63, dropping their seventh straight game, all in the league.

Grimsley Wins
Davie actually scored the first five points of the game — a three-pointer by Bubba Coleman and a rebound basket by Chip Carter. But by the end of the first quarter, Davie trailed 15-2.

Grimsley's lead was 29-16 when Davie made a run, scoring six straight — four by Coleman and two by Wondracek — to cut the margin to seven. Davie went into halftime down 39-27 but

Willard, Cats Set School Scoring Marks

Ricky Hendrix watched his North Davie freshman girls set a school single-game scoring record last week in a 76-34 win over West Alexander. Then he watched the Wildcats break it again on Wednesday in a 77-34 win over Southeastern Stokes.

And when his team had 42 at halftime Thursday against Chestnut Grove, he was headed for another school record.

But Hendrix let up, allowing his subs to play most of the second half and he still won, 62-29.

An individual record was set as well. Eighth grader Jonette Williard scored 37 points against West Alexander, breaking Andrea Gentry's mark of 31. Willard had 89 in the three games.

"This was three great wins," beamed Hendrix, whose team outscored the three opponents,

Wrestling Juggernaut

Deese: Pine Time To Playing Time

Corey Deese went down so his playing time would go up.

Deese, a junior, has left the varsity boys to play on the jayvee team for the rest of the season. As a result, PT doesn't mean "pine time" anymore. It means "playing time."

Jayvee boys coach Mike Dinkins needed help underneath. He lost four players to grades and one to the varsity. Three were big people. He had no rebounding left.

"Dinkins had Stick (6-5 Jason Smith) and eight guards," said varsity coach Charles Crenshaw. "I asked him if I had anybody that could help and he mentioned Corey. We talked with Corey and he wanted to play."

It didn't take Deese long to become a leader. In his first action with the team, he swished five straight free throws late in the game Friday as Davie's jayvees held off Grimsley, 74-70.

"I'm tickled how the younger players accepted him and how he fit in," Dinkins said. "Corey is going to help us a lot the rest of the year."

The wins left North with a 5-0 mark in the North Piedmont Conference, going into Tuesday's clash with second place South Davie.

Beating West

Willard made sure everyone knew quickly that a scoring record was about to fall in the West Alexander game. She scored 21 of the team's 25 first quarter points. By halftime, it was 51-16.

"We combined a tremendous offensive and defensive first half effort," said Hendrix. "We used fullcourt pressure defense, excellent passing and fast breaks. We shot 90 percent in the first half."

Maria Newsome scored 12 points, grabbed 15 rebounds and blocked five shots.

Christina Cassidy and Katie Desch had their overall best games, combining for 18 points and 20 rebounds, 10 points and 13 rebounds by Cassidy. "She is much improved," said Hendrix of Cassidy.

Beating Southeastern

It took one game to break the single-game scoring record with 77 against Southeastern.

Willard and Newsome combined for 24 of the 28 first quarter points. Willard finished with 30 and Newsome 24 to go with her 19 rebounds. "Maria had her best game," said Hendrix.

Nine different players scored in the game.

"We began subbing in the second quarter and they all played well," said Hendrix. "It was a great team effort."

Beating Chestnut

80 points. He let the subs play the second half and they still outscored the Trojans 20-13 in the final half. In just a half of play, Willard dominated underneath with 20 points and 20 rebounds. Cassidy had 13 points and 10 rebounds. Notes: • North is 9-1 overall. • Newsome scored 56 points and game with only a victory over hapless Parkland to its credit. But the Whittles seldom missed after the early Davie surge. They scored 10 of the final 12 points in the first quarter to close within 17-13. Davie scored only two baskets in the second period — by Brown and Umberger — and trailed 23-21 at halftime.

Grimsley increased the lead to 41-32 after three quarters and then used free throw shooting to wrap up the win. Eleven free throws swished during the final quarter.

In fact, Jarvis couldn't believe the disparity in free throw shooting. Davie didn't hit its first foul shot until the fourth quarter while Grimsley was hitting 21 during the course of the evening.

"We hit the same number of two-point field goals and hit more three-pointers (three) than they did," she said. "We won the game on the floor. But they got us by 19 at the free throw line."

Davie was led by its three sophomore stars. Brown finished with 13 points and six rebounds. Gentry had 12 points and Umberger scored 10.

Losing To South

When Tracy Connor entered the CPC wars at South Rowan as a sophomore, Jarvis said she would be the Player of the Year in the CPC for three straight seasons.

Now a senior, Connor is currently working on her third and proved to Jarvis why she'll get it in South's win over the War Eagles. Connor scored 25, blocked four shots and even dished out seven assists.

"We couldn't stop her," said Jarvis. "We'd overplay her and she still scored."

Davie was out of this one quickly, trailing 20-12 after one quarter and 40-24 at halftime. South added insult to injury later, outscoring Davie 20-7 in the fourth.

"South's a good team," Jarvis said. "They know their roles."

Brown was the only Davie scorer in double figures with 11.

Notes:

• The girls have also lost six straight games and stand 1-6 in the league. The War Eagles are 4-11 overall.

• Davie committed 16 turnovers against Grimsley.

• After the first two minutes, Grimsley outscored Davie 57-34 the rest of the way.

• Umberger had eight rebounds and seven steals to go with her 10 points.

• Davie will travel to Mount Taber Friday to meet the only team to defeat South Rowan. Reynolds then comes in Tuesday.

Boys

Crenshaw was still optimistic. "I didn't think we were out of it at halftime," he said. "It didn't take long in the third to realize we were."

By the fourth period, Crenshaw's second leading scorer, Tyronne Martin, was on the bench nursing a sprained ankle, his team was down 60-35 and the bench had been cleared.

"We've got close and then do crazy things with the basketball," Crenshaw said. "As far as bringing the ball upcourt, we left Bulbin against the world. We have to give him some help."

Coleman still managed to lead the team with 11 points but he was the only one in double figures. Eleven players scored, including eight by Wendrace and Martin. Phelps had six and Bryan Johnson five.

Johnson hit a three-pointer, which brought every player off the bench.

"Bryan's been pretty hard on himself as far as his shooting but we all keep telling him to put it up," Crenshaw said. "I was glad he played well. Paul made some good moves, and so did Phelps."

Losing To South Rowan

After falling behind by eight after one quarter to South Rowan, Davie owned the second and third quarters. The War Eagles outscored South 26-24 in the second and after a 17-point third, they were within 56-55.

Davie boys coach Charles Crenshaw discusses a call with the official during Davie's 81-58 loss to Grimsley.

But then came the fourth quarter collapse. South outscored Davie 22-8 and lost by a deceiving 15 points.

"It was our usual pattern," said Crenshaw. "With about six minutes left, we suddenly got out of what we were doing and they went on a run and the game was over."

Eleven different players scored for Crenshaw, including Martin with 19, Coleman with 13 and Carter with 12.

Notes:

• Davie fell to 4-11 overall and 0-6 in the league.

we would and we gave up six where I thought we'd give up three."

Grimsley went ahead 15-0 after two forfeits and Alex Akers' hard-fought 4-0 win over Matt Wilson.

"Akers is good," Lowery said. "He beat Jon Ward twice last year."

Davie then started coming back. Ward won an 18-3 technical fall at 125 and Brad Kropfleder won 7-2 at 130. The next three matches may have decided the verdict.

"I figured Ward would get a pin," Lowery said.

Lowery said he was hoping to split the matches at 135 and 145 but Lee Albarty was pinned at 135, something Lowery wasn't anticipating. Albarty was down only 1-0 going into the third period, but he got stuck in a cradle.

Lowery shrugged. Lowery didn't think his sophomore substitutes could handle Grimsley star William Cutler, so he moved 140-pounder Benji Frye up to 145 and allowed Cutler to get a forfeit at 140. But Frye was pinned at 145, giving Grimsley a commanding 33-8 lead.

Again, Davie fought back. Senior Chris Mann recorded a pin at 152 and Shane Mauldin won 10-2 at 160.

"Shane had the man on his back," Lowery said, "but the ref didn't call it."

When James Coulston received a forfeit at 171, Davie had crested to within 33-24 with two matches remaining.

But Brad Groce could manage only a 1-1 draw at 189 with 21-2 Tony Cleveland in another match Lowery didn't feel like he got the calls. But the win gave Grimsley a 35-26 lead and wrapped up the match. Jason Leone's 8-4 decision over Brian Boger was meaningless.

Lowery was asked how good he thought Grimsley was.

"They're good when we don't have everybody," he said. "I don't want to take anything away from them but if we have (Josh) Whitley at 112 and (Darren) Cook at 145, it's probably a different score."

"I thought we wrestled hard," he added. "It wasn't like we got blown out. I told the guys not to get down on themselves. We've still got some wrestling left."

Notes:

Davie fell to 12-1 overall and 6-1 in the CPC. Grimsley won the league title with a 7-0 record.

The finals of the dual tournament is Saturday.

North Davie Freshmen Winning With New Set Of Stars

North Davie's freshman boys basketball team lost some impressive talent from last year in Tyrone Martin and Company but Chestnut Grove coach Gerald Jones isn't surprised that North is back on top.

"It's no surprise," said Jones, whose team fell 76-59 last week to the Wildcats. "You usually lose everybody every year anyway."

The Wildcats have simply flooded with names like Lanier, Thompson and Wilson and have returned to the top of the North Piedmont Conference. They also defeated West Alexander 61-58 and Southeastern Stokes 71-63 last week and improved to 3-0 in the league.

How balanced is North Davie? In the three wins, the Wildcats had three different leading scorers.

"North Davie and South Rowan are the two best teams we've played," said Jones, who added that North probably had the upper hand when the tournament begins next week in Farmington.

"Having the tournament at their place is an advantage," he said.

Big First Half

North opened the week against West Alexander and grabbed a big lead early. Robert Thompson scored eight of his game-high 19 in the first period as North led 14-8.

North upped the margin to 27-19 at halftime but West came back, outscoring the Wildcats 24-18 in the third period to close within 45-43. Brock Patrick's six points in the quarter kept North in the lead.

Chad Lanier hit four three-pointers in the game and finished with 16. Patrick scored 13.

Lanier Explodes

Thanks to Lanier's three-point bombs and clutch free throw shooting, North held off a feisty Southeastern club, who cut a 45-24 halftime lead to 54-49 after three quarters, thanks to a 25-11 run in the third.

Lanier made sure Southeastern got no closer, scoring 12 of his 29 points in the fourth quarter, including two treys and four straight free throws.

Thompson scored 12 of his 14 points in a 23-10 first quarter. Fred Wilson hit 5-of-6 free throws in a 20-point second quarter.

Beating Chestnut

Behind Robert Thompson, North shot out to a quick 19-8 lead over Chestnut Grove in the first quarter but allowed the Trojans to score the first nine points of the second period.

That's when the Wildcat press began working. Time and again, Lanier and Eric Shook stripped the ball, which led to easy layups.

"Their press hurt," said Jones. "We didn't execute our press offense very well."

A 29-19 halftime lead was stretched to 60-41 after three quarters. Wilson led North with 22 points while Lanier added 15, Shook 11 and Thompson 10.

Notes:

- North is 8-2 overall.
- Rodney Peak scored eight points against Chestnut Grove.
- West Alexander shot 24 free throws to 10 for North.
- In the third quarter against Southeastern, North scored only three baskets, two by Lanier.
- North was 25-of-37 from the free throw line against Southeastern.

4 Scorers Lead South To Wins

Jerry Callison knew where to look for a turning point in his South Davie freshman girls' victories over Southeastern Stokes, 74-44 and Woodward, 62-56.

The third quarter.

Against Southeastern, South blew a close halftime score wide open with a 26-6 spurt. Against Woodward, a 12-6 run put the Tigers up 50-36.

Against Southeastern, we had good ideas in the first half, they just didn't work," Callison said. "In the third quarter, we did the things we were supposed to."

Beating Southeastern

South led Southeastern only 24-21 at halftime but Amanda Sigmon heated up in the third, scoring 11 of her game-high 21 points. Beth Wall and Brooke Sauter each finished with 13 and Elizabeth Greene 12.

"We played very poorly in the first half," Callison said, "but we have good balanced scoring and that's good to have."

Sweet Win

The win over Woodward was sweet, considering that team beat South earlier on a three-pointer at the buzzer. This time, South got off quick, scoring 21 first quarter points, behind Sauter, who had 10 of her 20.

"Sauter stole the ball a few times and got some easy layups," Callison said.

Greene took over in the second quarter, scoring nine of her 15. Sauter had six points in the third as South led 50-36 going into the final period.

Woodward came back, cutting the margin to four before Sauter hit two clutch free throws with 30 seconds remaining. Sigmon had five of her 15 points in the fourth.

Notes:

- South improved to 8-2 overall and 4-1 in the North Piedmont Conference.
- South had a 50-point second half against Southeastern.
- Wall scored seven of her 10 points against Woodward in the first half. "She had her best rebounding game, too," said Callison.
- South was 8-for-12 from the foul line against Woodward.
- South ends the regular season Thursday at South Rowan.

South Ready For Showdown

The South Davie freshman boys basketball team continued its march toward a first place showdown with North Davie by taking two wins last week.

The Tigers defeated Southeastern Stokes 75-41 and edged Woodward, 59-56.

Against Southeastern, South outscored the Warriors 24-6 in the first quarter and cruised from that point. Scott Van Hoy had eight and Josh Ward seven in the quarter.

After three quarters, Clyde Studevent's team led by 29, 68-29.

Van Hoy led South with 19 points, including four three-pointers. Ward added 15, Chevis Cuthrell 13 and Jonathan Vaughters 12.

South didn't have a good first quarter against Woodward, falling behind 13-5. But Ward's 11 points led a 21-10 charge in the second period and South grabbed a 26-23 halftime lead.

The lead remained at three the rest of the game. Five free throws in the final quarter helped sew up the victory.

Ward had 27 points, while Kevin Hinshaw scored 12 and Vaughters 10.

Notes:

- South is 8-2 overall.
- All 15 of Ward's points against Southeastern came in the first half.
- Cuthrell hit three three-pointers against Southeastern.
- Vaughters hit two threes against Woodward.
- South finishes the season at South Rowan Thursday.

ND Jayvee Teams Take 2 From South

North Davie's jayvee boys kept rolling toward its winningest season ever by defeating South Davie, 48-45 last week.

It was the Wildcats' fourth win of the season.

Behind Jason Murphy, who finished with 13 points, North jumped out to a 16-9 lead after one quarter and led 24-12 at halftime after holding South to only three points in the second period, all by Buddy Frogge.

North seemed in control, leading 36-22 going into the fourth quarter. But behind Jason Harbour and Derrick Dulin, the Tigers came within three points with seconds remaining.

With three seconds left, Jason Correll got a hand on a North Davie inbound pass, knocking it to three-point specialist Harbour for an off-balanced try to tie. It clanged off the rim and North had its win.

Harbour did hit several threes down the stretch and led all scorers with 23. Dulin had his best game, according to coach Barry Whitlock, scoring 11 and Correll added five.

Three North players followed Murphy with seven points apiece, including Carter, Rhamen Love-Lane and Timmy Gilbreath.

South Loses

South Davie lost two others games last week, 52-28 to Lexington and 60-48 against Northeast.

Whitlock was pleased despite the loss to high-powered Northeast.

"They beat us by 30 the first time," he said. "It was our best game of the year, even though Frogge was out sick. We beat them in every part of the game except rebounding."

Harbour scored 10 in the second quarter as South surprised Northeast with a 21-21 tie at halftime. He finished with 24 while Dulin had 16, mostly inside.

South was never in the game at Lexington, although Harbour hit three more three-pointers. Frogge added nine and Dulin and Bryan Huff four each.

"Their height killed us," Whitlock said. "Everything was a putback."

With South Davie's 5-11 Twin Towers Keisha Wagner and Carrie Brill hurting, North Davie's jayvee girls basketball team knew what to do in the fourth quarter to win its game with the Tigers last week.

Go inside to Tami Ramsey. Brill was out of the game with a twisted knee and Wagner was suffering from foul trouble. So Ramsey got free inside to score eight of her 11 points in the fourth quarter and helped lead North to a 27-17 victory. Added with a 55-52 loss to Ferndale, North entered this week with an 8-3 record.

After a promising start, South's girls have fallen on hard times. The Tigers defeated Northeast 34-31 but lost to North and Lexington 32-28. The Tigers are now 5-5.

County Clash

Nerves and the county's big rivalry had both teams struggling to score. Beth Campbell hit South's only basket of the first quarter but North managed only five points.

"We did a good job of blocking the passes inside to Keisha," said North coach Carol Cozart.

"Both teams played real tough defense," added South's Becky Miller. "They did get inside, where they hurt us last time."

With her height neutralized, Miller turned to Campbell, who led South with seven points, and Kelly Cozart, who had six.

"Beth's been steady all year and Kelly has really come on," Miller said.

With North up 19-10 going into the fourth, Ramsey scored all eight of the Wildcats' points in the final six minutes.

North Out Of It

Cozart admitted that her team's loss to Ferndale may have cost her team the title.

Although up 12 points early in the game, Ferndale fought back. In the final two minutes of the game, North missed four layups and four free throws, sealing its fate.

Cozart was disappointed her team couldn't hold a 29-21 halftime lead.

"We pulled ourselves out of contention with that loss," Cozart said. "We had them but couldn't pull it out."

Angela Mayers scored 20 against Ferndale while Ramsey finished with 16.

South Wins

South's only win was a three-point decision over Northeast. Wagner wasn't in foul trouble this time, scoring 10 points in the first quarter and seven more in the third. She finished with 19.

Tonya Hargrove and Brill each had six in the win.

Against Lexington, Hargrove, Brill and Cozart each had seven points. South trailed 25-13 going into the fourth quarter.

Hearing Tests Set For Mocksville

Free hearing tests are being offered in Mocksville, Friday, Feb. 7. Hearing Aid Specialists (licensed by the State of North Carolina) will perform the free tests at The Belton Hearing Care Center, 281 N. Main St. (at James Kelly's Nationwide Insurance Office). Call 1-800-331-9884 to arrange an appointment now.

Everyone who has trouble hearing is welcome to have a test using modern electronic equipment to determine if he has a correctable loss.

Parents, Educators Discuss What 'Alls' Schools

By Lynn Hall
Davie County Enterprise-Record

CLEMMONS — Too short a day is not what alls North Carolina schools, according to about 200 educators and parents from Forsyth, Davie, Randolph, Elkin, Surry and other counties, who gathered at Clemmons Elementary School last week.

The group was there to meet with Bob Etheridge, state superintendent of public instruction, and other state school officials. This was the 10th in a series of meetings the educators are having around the state to discuss the length of the school day, the school year, and other "time wasters" that rob teachers of instructional time.

At the opening of the meeting Dr. Sammie Campbell Parrish, assistant state superintendent, told the audience her assignment was to "stimulate your thinking about time." She said discussions about problems in education usually turn to resources, which is translated to mean money.

"Money is a necessary part of improving education, but time is as important as money. It must be as closely guarded and monitored, and as carefully spent as money."

Parrish said they feel strongly that the quality of time and quantity of time are important variables in learning. "There are other factors that affect education — parental income, parental involvement, things like that — but time is the only factor we can control."

Response from the audience was best summed up by Marianne Finger, a parent from Elkin, who said, "I do not want you to have my child for one additional moment." The mother said, while there are excellent teachers, not every one is a competent, efficient professional who loves children. "Will more dollars, more dollars to sheets make a difference? Will a longer day mean things that inspire critical thinking?"

Finger said instead, "spend my money on smaller classrooms, please spend it on carefully planned in-service training. Pay for someone to marshal volunteers who can be of valuable help. Spend my money to bring master teachers in and when brilliant teaching is going on, let others see it. Offer a course to teachers to let them all learn to recognize learning disabilities."

She concluded by telling the school officials not to overlook the parents as stimulators and motivators in a child's learning process.

Annette Beatty, a teacher at Southwest Elementary, said the question should be "are we teaching what we need to teach where it needs to be taught. I don't believe extending the day is the answer."

She said some parents look at school as a means of keeping students off the streets. "We don't exist to babysit and we must make that clear."

Lorraine Markland, an assistant principal in Davie County, said the answer to getting the most out of the school day at her school was "creative scheduling." She said they had been able to save seven hours a week of instructional time.

She said she was in favor, however, of extending the school year. "We lose valuable time during the summer, and have to spend a lot of time at the start of each new year doing remedial work."

One educator in the audience said she felt the problem wasn't the amount of time available in the classroom.

Other parents talked about the fact that many students are doing their homework while still in school. Others talked about making better use of parent volunteers in the schools. It was also suggested that while the elementary and middle school day is long enough, high school might benefit from an extra hour.

One parent, Amy Elliott, said her daughter is in honors classes and this does not allow time for electives. Others expressed their concern that such programs as physical education, music and art might be eliminated from the school day. Davie County's assistant principal Markland said, "I want to say thanks for the Basic Education Plan, for music, art, PE that my students are able to enjoy. Many come from homes where these experiences would never have been provided without this."

Teresa Nettles of Clemmons Elementary, also spoke on behalf of the value of physical education, pointing out that daily physical activity improves academic performance and also helps create good self-esteem. Linda Morris, executive director of the state's program for gifted and talented students, noted that "if North Carolina truly wants to improve educational needs for all, we must not neglect gifted students. We must provide high level, appropriately paced studies where students are allowed to go as far and as fast as they are able." John Smoot from the Career Center in Winston-Salem, said he had long been an advocate of longer days and longer years, "but that won't work now. What we've got to do instead is motivate kids," he said.

"What we need to do is pass that law about the number of hours a high school student can work each week. We need to tie a driver's license to a high school diploma. Until we get that proper place, you can forget about a longer day." The information and comments made at last week's meeting and those made by parents and educators in other parts of the state will be discussed and reviewed, and the results will be presented to the state board of education this spring.

Davie Split In Congressional Redistricting

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

If you live in Calahalan, Clarksville or Farmington townships, you'll have one U.S. Congressman.

If you live anywhere else in Davie County, you'll have another.

You can thank your state legislature and federal courts.

The new districts for Congress approved last week split Davie County right down the middle, although smaller one-member state house and senate districts seem to protect local incumbents.

Sen. Betsy Cochrane of Bermuda Run was on the redistricting committee. The Republican calls the job the most frustrating and embarrassing work she's done.

"This is a textbook example of gerrymandering to protect incumbents and punish counties that vote Republican," Cochrane said.

"I didn't know that something that nobody likes can be made into law. I am embarassed to be a part of the legislature that sent this to Washington.

To say the least, Cochrane voted against the district maps. Federal courts required North Carolina to carve out two districts that included a majority of black registered voters.

It could have been done on more compact maps, with less divisions of counties, had the Democratic controlled legislature hadn't been so bent on protecting districts of incumbent Democrats in eastern North Carolina, Cochrane said.

The willy shaped districts began to happen in the Piedmont and western areas of the School Board Race Begins 1st Day

Jeff Harrison brought in the supporting cast, wife Peggy, son Trent and daughter Britt to file for county board.

A race for two seats on the Davie County Board of Education began Monday in a half day of filing for local offices.

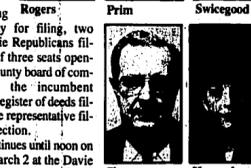

Also during the first day for filing, two eastern Davie Republicans filed for one of three seats opening on the county board of commissioners, the incumbent Republican register of deeds filed and a state representative filed for re-election.

Filing continues until noon on Monday, March 2 at the Davie County Board of Elections office in the county courthouse. The non-partisan board of education race for two seats will be decided on May 5.

The other races are subject to May 5 primaries, depending on how many candidates file in each political party. They will be elected in November.

Crofts Rogers challenged incumbents V.G. Prim and Jerry Swicegood on Monday for the education board.

No Parking: Mocksville To Enforce Ordinances

Watch where you park that car, you could end up with a pink slip from the police department.

Mocksville Police Chief Tom Foster said his officers are beginning to write tickets for vehicles parked in handicapped spaces and at fire lanes.

Handicapped parking signs have been erected on Main Street, and in the Squire Boone and Mocksville Marketplace shopping centers, he said.

yellow curbing and signs at the two shopping centers.

"There's going to be strict enforcement on parking in handicapped spaces and in fire zones," he said. Officers have been writing warning tickets for the past couple of weeks.

Court costs for violators of either parking law is $55, and fines could amount to $100. Failure to pay a parking ticket could result in the loss of driver's license, officers said.

Town Eyes Ways To Honor Mill Worker

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

COOLEEMEE — The old mill has been idle for years now, but it's not forgotten.

Neither is the way of life and personalities of the people who worked there.

Folks here are proud of their heritage — and they're ready to let everybody else know. Plans are being made for a fall festival in honor of mill workers. There's even talk about a museum honoring the mill worker.

But do they want to be known as "linheads"?

Jim Rumley, who helped form the Cooleemee Historical Association and is now helping organize the festival, ran into some opposition to when a group decided on the name "linhead" for the festival.

A term used for mill workers because of the lint that accumulated in their hair while working, Rumley said the term should be taken with pride, not shame.

"We were looking at the idea of the proud side of our heritage," Rumley told members of the town board Monday night.

The association will host a meeting at 7 p.m. Feb. 20 in town hall to discuss other ideas for the festival.

Later in the meeting, town resident

Mary Cranfill asked the town to make definite plans to refurbish the recreation center house, one of the last structures that still resembles "old Cooleemee," when life revolved around the mill.

Mayor Bill Gales said the town, which owns the property, had been putting money into the center when it could be found. He agreed that specific plans or goals are needed for the house.

"I would like to see a museum type of thing for textiles," he said. "I don't know of one any place in the South. Look at the town of Spencer and what they've done with the Spencer (railroad) Shops."

Fred Pierce said the board should consider money for the recreation center at budget time.

"We do need to set goals," Gales said. "If somebody has got ideas, let us know."

Mike Tyson Fails In His Test Of Human Decency

He might have been master of the ring, but Mike Tyson has never managed to beat another kind of challenge. Getting along with others. His conviction this week for raping an 18-year-old beauty contestant brings him to a new low.

He made millions with his fists, but he never learned to control himself with simple relationships. His marriage failed because of it. He now faces a prison sentence because of it.

Fortune and fame followed his rapid rise to the top of the boxing world. He received millions per fight. But a champ cannot always live in the ring. It was between fights that Tyson had his problems. Hooks and jabs are not the solutions to human relationships.

Tyson ventured into the real world with poor training, indeed.

Valentine Gift Idea: Give Her Conversation, Or Write A Poem

One more significant sign that the economy isn't all that it could be ...

The mail this week brought Valentine gift ideas for those of us with the recession blues.

Instead of chocolates or roses, why not talk to your true love? Just talk to her.

That's one of the shocking ideas of Jean Baldwin, family life and human development specialist at North Carolina A&T State University's Cooperative Extension Program.

"The gifts of your time, energy and creativity — saying and doing those things that mean 'I love you' — are priceless," she said.

She suggests writing a love letter or poem. Having an at-home date. And taking time to talk about your feelings, goals and concerns.

She must be a helpless romantic. Countless studies have found that couples only talk to each other 15 minutes a week or so.

Valentine's Day traces back to the pagan days. Mid-February was the time of the old Roman festival of Lupercalia — a fertility festival. Birds and animals were supposed to choose their mate on that day. The Christian church tried to reform the holiday by selecting Feb. 14 to honor two saints beheaded on the Flaminian Way in Rome.

The new name stuck, but Cupid — the winged Roman god of love — survived the reformation. Gifts and chocolates have been added.

If your Christmas bills haven't been paid, Baldwin makes another suggestion that doesn't involve writing poetry or opening your heart. Enter Valentine contests sponsored by radio stations or businesses. Win her something. Not everybody is a poet.

Hunters Help Manage Wildlife Areas

To the editor:

I'm writing in response to the letter condemning Mr. Taylor for taking a bobcat.

Firs of all, I have never met Mr. Taylor, but like him, I also enjoy hunting. Mr. Taylor didn't do anything illegal. The N.C. Wildlife Commission established a hunting season for the lawful taking of bobcats. And as hunters, we are required to purchase a hunting license. This money goes to support wildlife conservation, wildlife management, and for wildlife habitat.

Also, this person stated that they had seen a bobcat playing with a pine cone one time, and would their life be any better if they had reduced it to a rotting piece of flesh with glass eyes.

During '92 Elections, Let's Stick To The Real Issues

To the editor:

Decision '92 is fast approaching and in a few months voters from around the country will be going to the polls to choose our country's leaders for the next four years.

I hope that when the '88 candidates left off, that the '92 candidates don't pick up by hickering and backbiting their opponent, but rather concentrate on the real issues facing our country: the economy, unemployment, inflation, recessions, the list goes on.

The first primary has been held and history has already repeated itself, with a sex scandal against the front runner on the Democratic ticket, Arkansas' Governor Bill Clinton.

What has happened to the American voter's confidence is no surprise; no wonder there is a low voter turnout on election day with all the nit-picking the candidates do to each other, trying to bring down their opponent just to make themselves look better.

Let's leave Romeo and Juliet at home in the bedroom, where they belong, behind closed doors.

This election year let's look at the real issues facing our country and who's the better candidate to lift our country out of the jumble we are in.

After all, it's our children and our grandchildren's future that we are shaping today. Our country needs good solid leaders that can lead our country into prosperity, not leaders that act like kindergarten kids by playing tattletale everytime John Doe looks at Mary Ann.

Call 1-900-MR MIKE For Psychic Advice For A Fee

Telephones are taking over the world. Luckily, we still have rotary dial phones at our house. No touch tones.

That saves me $1 every time I watch a race on TV. I can't call the 900 number to enter the contest to win a new car.

That saves me from having to go through 17 messages when I reach one of those telephone computer things, the one that tells you to punch 1 for information on this, 2 for information on that, and so on. With no touch tone, I wait on the line until someone answers. It keeps jobs for people and makes it easier to take a stand. Ever tried arguing with a telephone computer?

Back to the 900 numbers.

There are even 900 numbers you can call to have sex with a buxom beauty, or so they say. It could be with a man with a feminine voice. The fun ends when you get your telephone bill.

There are 900 numbers you can call to hear the most intimate fantasies of lovely ladies. There are 900 numbers you can call to hear just about anything you want to hear from a woman, for a price, usually a couple of bucks a minute.

There's even numbers for women to call and learn what men are thinking. Like they don't already know. It seems that women are compelled to try every sick and degrading thing that men do. They call it equal rights. I call it dumb.

But the most interesting 900 number I've seen advertised on television lately is that for a psychic advisor. It's sort of like palm reading over the telephone. Your personal psychic advisor can tell you what to expect from your love life, your job, your future...

I'm thinking about starting my own 900 number. For $2 a minute, "Mr. Mike" will talk dirty to you, whisper sweet nothings into your ear, sell you an oceanfront condo in Arizona, even tell you what tomorrow will bring.

Examples of what you could expect:

"Hello, Mr. Mike. I really love my boyfriend, but he keeps beating on me. I want to marry him, but only if he keeps his promise never to beat me again. Mr. Mike, will my boyfriend keep that promise? I'm troubled in Turkeyfoot."

"Thank you for calling Mr. Mike. What is your credit card number? Thank you. Now about your boyfriend. If he says he won't beat you up anymore, there's no reason to doubt him. Go ahead and marry the saint. And remember to write down the 900 number for Mr. Mike's Advice to Battered Wives. Thank you for calling."

"Hello, Mr. Mike. I'm a county commissioner in Davie County. People are mad at me for raising water rates, when it's really not my fault. How can I make them understand that it was something I just had to do? I'm worried in wonderland."

"Thank you for calling Mr. Mike. What is your credit card number? Thank you. Now about your problem. People don't understand anything. If you'll give them Mr. Mike's 900 number for Advice for People Who Don't Understand Anything, for $2 a minute I'll tell them myself. Thank you for calling."

With all the television commercials about 900 numbers, they must be doing a booming business. We've come a long way from the string between two cans. It may be the wrong way.

Vote For Conservatives Amazed At Newspaper's Journalism

To the editor:

As expected, three lawyers, all Democratic, have filed. Don't they have any black businessmen to run in District 12. Black or white conservatives, that's who I will vote for. We have about 50 percent lawyers now in Congress mostly liberals. And the country has never been in worse condition.

Vote for conservatives — black or white.

Article Brought Response

To the editor:

I am amazed at your journalistic techniques. On New Year's Eve I received a ticket for the passenger in my car drinking a beer. This passenger was of the legal drinking age in North Carolina (21) and I, as the driver, was not drinking. While I was receiving this "citation", I saw one of your photographers taking pictures. I thought she would leave people out of her pictures. I was wrong. My picture was in the Enterprise while I was waiting to receive my ticket. It was on the same page as the pictures of the drug offenders and owners of weapons. This picture made me look guilty. This charge against me was dismissed in court, but nothing was heard about this. I was told by lawyers and a state trooper that it is not illegal for passengers to consume beer as long as they are not underage. I realize the purpose of this story was to scare underage drinkers. Was it necessary to ruin young people's character in the process? (I am not underage either.) In a town as small as Mocksville your staff needs to think before printing such things.

Proud Of DHS Cheerleaders

To the editor:

I would like to thank you, on behalf of Davie County's new parent support group, for printing the article we submitted to your office last month. We received responses from several parents who read the article.

Attached is another article written about our group with a slightly different message. Last month, we described the characteristics of ADD; this month, we would like to emphasize the effect this disorder has on the parents, and their need for support. It would be greatly appreciated if you could run this article in your Feb. 13 edition of The Enterprise Record. We feel it would benefit parents to have the extra notice and additional time to make arrangements to attend.

Again, thank you for your help and consideration of this matter.

Differences Between Citations, Tickets

Most everyone is familiar with or has knowledge of the citation form or "traffic ticket". This is the form a law enforcement officer issues to cite a person to account for some offense. It is important that people recognize that the use of a citation has uses other than traffic enforcement.

First of all, let us state some definitions. A felony is a crime which (1) is a felony at common law; (2) is or may be punishable by death; (3) is or may be punishable by imprisonment in a state prison; or (4) is denominated as a felony by statute.

Any other crime is a misdemeanor, and a misdemeanor may be punishable by a fine and/or confinement of up to two years. An infraction is a non-criminal violation of law not punishable by imprisonment.

When a person is arrested, they must be taken before a judicial official without unreasonable delay. Infractions do not require or justify an arrest and can be handled by a citation. A misdemeanor can also be handled by citation at the discretion of the officer thus avoiding the arrest and the necessity for a judicial official. It is not a requirement that an officer utilize the citation, it is his option. If the situation requires a physical arrest and the offense is detailed on a citation, the arrested person is taken before a judicial official and when the official signs the citation, it takes on the weight of a magistrate's order, which is issued following a warrantless arrest. In one sense, a citation is a courtesy to the offender in that it negates the time consuming arrest procedure. If the officer does not observe the offense, then a citation is not appropriate because there is no way to require the victim or actual observer to appear in court.

Some of the most frequently received complaints which an officer might decide to handle by citation are communicating threats, trespassing, some larcenies, the not-so-serious assaults. One thing that might cause an officer to arrest rather than to cite would be the attitude and demeanor of the individual being dealt with.

The use of a citation would appear highly appropriate in a lot more cases than is the current practice. The sheriff has indicated that he intends to encourage a more frequent utilization of the citation, especially in the cases of non-violent offenses and where circumstances exist that do not jeopardize the successful court conviction.

These articles are provided by the Davie County Sheriff's Department.

Coaches Deserve Support

To the editor:

An expression of gratitude is long overdue for those individuals who are willing to work with our young people in sports. Some of these coaches are volunteers, and others receive a small compensation. If we take into consideration the many hats that they must wear — teacher, psychologist, nurse, chauffeur — we can never repay them. We can, however, give them and their teams our support. It is not only important for the coach to have our support, but the teams members can focus on doing their part for the team with our support.

It is very easy to support a team that is on top. Children learn through sports whether winning or losing. They work harder and learn from their mistakes with the support of their fans.

Thank you coaches for leading our children and representing Davie County so well. Your conduct and that of your team members, whether winning or losing, is to be commended.

Vocational Education Works

To the editor:

This week, Feb. 9-15, is Vocational Education Week. The theme is "Vocational Education: Classroom of the Future." This theme is appropriate in the midst of our present educational reform movement. Vocational classrooms are changing to meet the needs of the future workforce. The curriculum is being affected in every program area from agriculture to home economics as course content and technology are updated. These changes will enable us to continue to offer our students the opportunity to prepare themselves for the future through a number of quality vocational programs.

Perhaps more than ever before, the future prosperity of our country depends upon the ability of the public schools to adequately prepare every child to be a productive, contributing member of society. The relevance of vocational programs to the real world coupled with traditional instructional methodologies (hands-on/applied approach) can be keys to unlocking the potential of segments of our student bodies which have been underrepresented in the past — strong vocational programs, planned and carried out by trained vocational educators, are vital to the future economic development of our country and the well-being of its citizens.

On behalf of vocational students and teachers, I would like to urge all citizens to become familiar with the services and benefits offered by the vocational education programs in this community and to support and participate in these programs whenever possible.

Food Lion's newest store, in the Mocksville Marketplace off U.S. 601 near Davie High, opens Friday.

Newest Food Lion Opens This Friday

If you're looking for something special to do on Friday, why not take your Valentine to lunch at the new Food Lion Deli.

Feb. 14 is the grand opening of Food Lion Store Number 932, located on U.S. 601 just south of Davie High School.

Aside from a bit more space and a full service deli,

Miller

Manager Randy Miller said the new store is "basically set up the same" as the Food Lion on Yadkinville Road. The new store is 29,000 square feet, about 5,000 square feet larger than the other Mocksville store.

Miller, who has been a Food Lion manager for about 4 1/2 years, lives north of Mocksville in the William R. Davie community.

Miller said the new store will be open from 8 a.m.-10 p.m. Monday-Saturday and on Sunday from 9 a.m.-9 p.m.

Food Lion will be open for a week or so before the store offers any grand opening specials, other than the "everyday low prices," Miller said.

"We want our customers to get used to the store and our employees to get a little experience before we start with the specials," Miller said. "Otherwise, things might get a little chaotic."

Miller said all openings at the store are filled, but if necessary, he will hire more employees at a later date.

Deli Bakery Merchandiser Beth Meadows said the deli will offer items such as fresh meats, cheeses and salads, special order cakes and sandwiches, party trays and hot plate specials. Meadows said the deli hot line will be open from 10:30 a.m.-7 p.m. every day.

"If you want it done, we can pretty much get it done," said Meadows.

state, home of the largest contingent of Republicans.

The 6th Congressional District, which will include Mocksville, Shady Grove, Fulton and Jerusalem townships in Davie County, also goes from Randolph to Guilford County.

But it is dissected by the 12th district, which includes portions of some precincts, Cochran said.

Cochran said she never got the answer she wanted as to how the district can be connected, since the 12th district (one of the ones with a majority of blacks) goes right through it, taking out urban areas in Greensboro and Winston-Salem. She figures the district must meet at a road overpass, with someone living on the bridge being in one district and someone living under it in another.

The 10th Congressional District, which includes Calhoun, Clarkville and Farmington townships in Davie County, meanders through the mountains, reaching the Tennessee line at one point.

Both the 10th and 6th Congressional Districts are currently represented by Republicans.

Cochran said Republicans could lose two or more congressmen as a result of the new maps, a change which she says doesn't reflect voting patterns of North Carolinians.

Cochran argued to no avail that the plan goes against the state's constitution, which says that counties will not be split. Although she realizes federal court orders override the state constitution, she doesn't see a need to keep it. "It is ludicrous we have anything in the Constitution that is null and void."

Computers are partly to blame for the districts, she said. When districts were made 10 years ago, computers weren't available, and there was between 2 1/2 and 5 percent variance in the number of voters a congressman would represent. Now, each congressman will represent almost the exact number of voters.

"They just cut things up to give everybody the same number," Cochran said. "I don't have a problem with a 2 1/2 to 5 percent variance in an effort to keep precincts whole — or to keep counties whole."

"It can't be done fairly in the walls of the legislative building."

— Rep. Julia Howard

Cochran says the new districts are not what the country needs at a time when voter apathy is high.

"The thing that upsets me is I think it will discourage people from voting, and we already have such a low turnout," she said.

State Senate, House

While Davie was split for U.S. Congress, it fared better in new districts for the state house and state senate.

All of the county is in the same district, and in both cases, in one-member districts now represented by Davie Republicans.

Davie will be in the 38th N.C. Senate district, that will include all of Davie, two Clemmonsville precincts in Forsyth County, 25 precincts in Davidson County, and 10 precincts in Rowan County.

The district snakes around Lexington and Salisbury. Cochran is the current senator for that district.

She said all residents of Davidson County will likely call her with requests, because they're used to her being their representative. She doesn't think she can tell someone to call another senator when she represents their neighbor.

Before redistricting, Davie was in a two member district that included Davidson and Rowan counties.

The new N.C. House district will include all of Davie County, and Davidson County precincts Arcadia, Hampton, Lexington 3, Welcome, Midway, Reedy Creek, Reeds and Yadkin College.

It is now represented by Julia Howard, a Mocksville Republican. Howard admits that she fared well, but doesn't like how other house members were treated, especially Republican Joe Hoge of Lexington, who was included in a mostly Democratic district. "You've got people with a lot of seniority who have been purposefully cut out," she said.

Davie had been in a three member district that included all of Davidson County and two Iredell County precincts.

"They (Democrats) kept some three member districts when it was advantageous," Howard said.

She thinks districts should be drawn by someone from out of state, that Republicans would likely be as guilty of gerrymandering if they controlled the state legislature.

"What I would like to see, in 10 years, get the maps and population figures, box them up and send it to Kansas or California or somewhere else, and say cut these districts.

"It can't be done fairly in the walls of the legislative building," Howard said. "The Republicans would do the same thing."

7 File For Local Offices First Day

"I've been involved in the school system for a long time," she said. "I saw some things that could be more efficiently done, not a whole lot, I'm basically pleased with the school system."

Rogers has been a school volunteer, bus driver, and has worked with gifted and special education students.

She said the school board needs more women. "The mother sees more, is in the school more to see what is going on," she said.

Rogers is area secretary for Woodmen of the World in Mocksville, where her husband of 24 years, Robert, also works. They have four sons.

Prim, 73, of Ruffin Street in Cooleemee, is seeking election to his third six-year term on the education board.

He is a retired school principal.

Prim said he's running for reelection to see some projects through that have been started. "We have some buildings to be done and I want to support it," he said, "to provide some better facilities for our teachers and students."

"I'm retired, I have the time to do the work and I enjoy it," he said.

Prim and wife Pauline have one son.

Swisegood, 49, of Irlich Church Road near Mocksville, is seeking election to his second six-year term on the board.

"While our school system is not all we would like for it to be, it is still head and shoulders above any system in the Piedmont area of North Carolina," he said.

Swisegood said he would serve the people to the best of his ability. He was a county commissioner from 1962-1968.

He and wife Judy have two sons.

Boon, 64, of Bermuda Run, is a retired executive vice president and buyer for Piece Goods Shop. He has lived in Davie County since 1972 with wife Helen. They have two married children.

A Republican, Boon said he hopes to bring a businessman's sense to the county board.

"I think government at every level needs to have the businessman approach," he said. "Every county in North Carolina is facing challenges every day... and with my background and my commitment, I would be qualified to handle the job."

Boon said he is willing to put in the time necessary to handle county business. "I'm retired. Time I've got," he said.

It is his first try at a public office.

Harrison, 34, of Greenwood Lakes in Advance, is another Republican political newcomer.

A former member of the Davie County Board of Elections, Harrison wants the county to place a greater emphasis on recruiting business and industry.

"I just feel like the county has gotten off track as far as economic development goes," he said. "I feel like I could help make a change."

An attorney, Harrison is president of Jeffco, a heavy sales furniture manufacturer in Hillsdale. Although he doesn't have a public law practice, he uses the skills for Jeffco, another family owned company and as a commercial real estate developer.

With wife Peggy, he has a son and a daughter.

Shore, 63, of Mocksville, a Republican, is seeking his second term as register of deeds.

"I've thoroughly enjoyed it," he said. "I have tried to run the office efficiently. I have made some changes on my own that have saved some money."

More changes will be needed in the next couple of years as the office goes to computer indexing, he said.

Howard, 48, of Mocksville, is seeking re-election to the N.C. House, but her first election to a new district that includes all of Davie and a portion of Davidson County.

She is a Republican.

"It's going to be a lot easier to be in closer contact with the people," she said. Howard had been in a three member district that included a larger area.

Firemen battle brush fire that scarred two acres Saturday morning off Georgia Road. — Photo by Dwight Sparks

Fire Burns Over Two Acres

A fire Saturday morning destroyed an old tobacco barn and about two acres of land in the Bear Creek community.

The fire was discovered by William R. Davie Fire Chief Charlie Whaley, the fire was located about a quarter of a mile down a private drive off of Georgia Road, a secondary gravel road that connects Bear Creek and Duke Whiner roads.

Whaley said the private drive led to the tobacco barn that burned down, as well as a house, large equipment barn, small shed and liquid petroleum tank, all owned by Milton Nokovich, of Winston-Salem.

The fire was discovered by Nokovich and his son on Feb. 8 around 10 a.m.

Whaley said William R. Davie and Sheffield-Calaham firemen responded to the call while Center, County Line and Farmington assisted with brush trucks and tankers.

The firefighters stayed at the site of the fire for about 3 1/2 hours to make sure the flames would not reignite, Whaley said.

Whaley said the old tobacco barn was the only structure that could not be saved. Nokovich estimated about a $500 loss for the barn and about a $200 loss for the contents, hay.

While no remnants were found, Whaley speculated the fire had been caused by a cigarette, because he said the fire had clearly started at the edge of the driveway, near the house.

Whaley suspected the fire had spread quickly because the grass was so dry and the wind was blowing strong.

New Chamber President Wants More Active Group

By Kara Kooker
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Wayne Webb of Farmington has been elected as the new president of the Mocksville-Davie Chamber of Commerce.

Webb has served on the board for two years and will serve as president until Dec. 31.

Board members are elected at the general membership annual meeting in October and Webb serve four-year terms.

Vernon Dull, executive director of the chamber, said he was pleased with Webb's election.

Since Eric Ennis of Mocksville served as president of the chamber last year, Dull said he was glad the board elected a president for 1992 from "the outskirts of the county."

"We try to spread the election of presidents around," said Dull, "because we're a countywide Chamber of Commerce and we want to represent all businesses in the county, not just those in Mocksville."

Webb was born and raised in the Triad. In 1974, he started Webb Heating and Air Conditioning. In 1978, Webb said he moved to Davie County and relocated his business to the Hillsdale area.

"I'm looking forward to a lot of things happening with the chamber this year," said Webb. "It will be a big responsibility, but I think we're a real asset to local businesses and the community as a whole."

Webb said the chamber has been a "somewhat quiet organization in the past," and he would like for the community to become more aware of its presence. He wants people to realize the chamber represents the entire county — not just Mocksville.

Webb said the chamber offers its members a number of benefits, such as insurance options and free educational opportunities.

Webb said the chamber is "working closely" with Davidson Community College to provide its members with a wide variety of free, business-related courses.

On a community level, Webb said the chamber is involved with The Crosby, local parades and a number of fund-raising projects. Webb said the chamber also tries to encourage "good, strong businesses that will be an asset to the community" to locate in Davie County.

North Davie Wins Regular Season Titles

Lanier Leads Wildcats To A 68-48 Blowout

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

South Davie's freshman boys coach Clyde Studevent watched an emotional home crowd work against him in a 68-48 loss to arch-rival North Davie last week.

The loss was South's second in the league as North wrapped up its second straight North Piedmont Conference championship. The Wildcats finished 10-2 overall.

The Wildcats exploded in the second quarter, outscoring South 28-9 and a 44-18 halftime deficit was too much for the Tigers to overcome.

Studevent said he wasn't sure whether he was watching North Davie or Duke in that second quarter.

"They didn't miss," he said with a shrug. "It was very frustrating and the coach suffers just as much as the players. I tried everybody I had. I was ready to try the custodian. I'd have gone out there myself if I could have."

The teams continued the same path later in the week. North defeated Woodward 67-53 while South lost to South Rowan, 63-61.

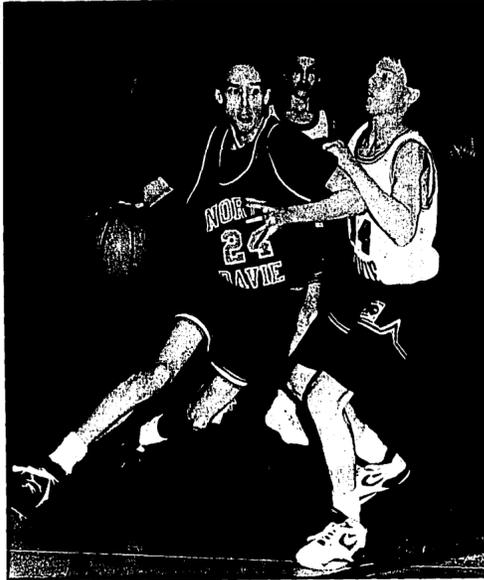

Big Crowd Tension

Studevent said the big home crowd may have had an adverse effect on his team.

"We had a pep rally at school and our players were out there dancing around," he said. "There was a lot of excitement, almost too much. I took them to the library during the girls game, trying to calm them down. But they were so excited, it took them out of sync. We never had that type of excitement before."

South stayed close in the first quarter as Josh Ward scored six of the team's nine points. But

Cassidy Gives Help To Williard, Newsome

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

South Davie freshmen girls basketball coach Jerry Callison knew he had to stop Jonette Williard and Maria Newsome if the Tigers had any chance of defeating North Davie last week at South.

But Callison got a surprise from the Wildcats' secret weapon Christina Cassidy.

The unheralded forward, who is almost always overlooked because of North's dynamic duo, burned South with 15 points and 12 rebounds as North clinched the North Piedmont Conference regular season championship with a 71-51 victory.

After defeating Woodward 72-55 later in the week, North finished 11-1 overall. The team fell to Woodward in the first game of the season and has won 11 straight since.

"They're the best team in the league," said Callison.

South finished 9-3 after defeating South Rowan 40-37 later in the week.

Cassidy A Key

Despite not scoring in the first quarter, Williard finished with 31 points in 20 minutes against South. Newsome had 14 points and 17 rebounds. But it was Cassidy's performance that stood out to North coach Ricky Hendrix.

"I felt the play of Christina would be a key against South," he said. "They knew what Jonette and Maria could do but Christina was like a secret weapon offensively. She has vastly improved her game this year and is really a threat inside, as she proved."

Callison said Cassidy got open because South

Davie Wrestlers Regroup For Midwest 4-A Regionals

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Davie County has won four of the last five Midwest 4-A regional wrestling titles and coach Buddy Lowery knows how his team can make it five out of six when it gets underway Friday at Watauga High School in Boone.

An attitude adjustment.

"We need to stop feeling sorry for ourselves," he said.

Grades took away two of Davie's top wrestlers three weeks ago and the War Eagles never recovered. Not only did they lose their first-ever Central Piedmont Conference match to Grimsley, but was also turned back by Gastonia Ashbrook in the first round of the 4-A dual team championships, 37-36. The losses dropped Davie from a Mat News state ranking of first all the way to sixth.

Considering how unbeatable Davie has been since entering the 4-A ranks seven years ago, Lowery said it has affected the mind-set of his wrestlers.

Lowery compared his team's state of mind with that of Florida State's football team, when it lost by a couple of points to Miami midway through the college season.

"For four weeks after that, they didn't play well," he said. "They acted like the season had ended because they were supposed to be number one in the country."

"That's the way we felt. Before we lost those boys to grades, we thought we could win the state championship. I told them to quit worrying about those dang rankings and losses."

"Now, if we go to Boone and wrestle like we're capable, we can win it again."

Ashbrook Win

As the War Eagles have over the last three weeks, they gave up 12 points to begin the match with fourth-ranked Ashbrook due to forfeits. But Matt Wilson was beaten 13-0 at 119.

"The guy that beat Wilson was built," Lowery whistled. "He was a little Jamie Caudle."

Jon Ward and Brad Kroppfelder earned pins but Davie lost three straight in the middle weights.

"They beat us the same place Grimsley did," Lowery sighed.

Chris Mann recorded a pin but Shane Mauldin was defeated 7-3. With the match already wrapped up, forfeits to James Coulston, Brad Groce and Brian Boger meant nothing.

"We could've won," Lowery said. "They

Foster Wins N.C. Wrestling Crown

Spry, Sain Also Champions

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

SALISBURY — North Davie freshman Wes Foster may have won a state junior high wrestling title Saturday but he began planning for it last year, according to his coach, Ron Kirk.

"Wesley had some disappointments as an eighth grader because he didn't win the conference championship and some of his buddies did," Kirk said.

"He came in this year real positive and worked real hard. I could tell he wanted it because he didn't get a taste of the pie last year."

First, Foster went undefeated for North and then traveled to Catawba College Saturday — along with several North teammates and South Davie wrestlers — for the North Carolina Junior High Wrestling Tournament. Along with Scotty Spry at 112 and Matt Sain at 125, the 140-pounder brought home a state championship.

It was a good test for the Wildcat wrestlers, who had practically no competition during a North Piedmont Conference season that saw them sweep everything.

"There were wrestlers here from Asheville to Cape Fear," Kirk said. "There's 315 wrestlers entered. We had some real tough matches but everybody wrestled well and had a good time doing it."

Foster won four of his six matches — by pin and won the other two by 8-5 and 11-4 decisions. He finished 22-0.

"I think Wesley can be a good wrestler at the high school," Kirk said. "He's built a lot like his father, Spurgeon, tall and strong. Being so lanky,

Jayvee Girls Move Into First Place

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

The Davie County jayvee girls basketball team needed its best game of the season last week when Dudley rolled into Mocksville and the War Eagles gave coach Sherrie Myers just that in a 58-40 victory over the Panthers.

"It couldn't have come at a better time," said the first-year coach. "We worked hard for this game. Our inside people did a good job and it opened things for the guards."

The loss was the first for Dudley this season and avenged Davie's only loss in the Central Piedmont Conference. The two teams are now tied at 8-1.

Davie improved to 13-2 overall by thumping Mount Tabor Friday, 39-20.

In jayvee boys play, Davie fell to 7-8 overall and 2-7 in the league by falling to Dudley, 77-70 and Mount Tabor 72-55.

Robbins Firepower

While Myers got her usual scoring from inside players Amy Whaley (13 points) and Anna Robertson (12), her outside shooters were doing the job. Brooke Holcomb scored 12 and Tracy Robbins had a surprising 10.

"Tracy's 10 points were very uplifting to the team," Myers said. "She's always played good defense but I've been telling her to shoot. With our inside game going well, the outside shots were there and Tracy and Brooke were making them."

Davie got off quickly, leading 19-7 after one quarter. Dudley closed to within 29-25 at halftime but was quickly snuffed out by an 12-5 Davie run in the third quarter. Six different players — Holcomb, Whaley, Robertson, Robbins, Amy Mason and Tracie Sechrest — had two points apiece.

Davie's box-and-one defense also kept Dudley's top scorer

Davie Boys Fall Short At Mount Tabor, 71-70

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

WINSTON-SALEM — Charles Crenshaw watched his Davie County boys basketball team lose its ninth straight game Friday night but the 71-70 defeat at Mount Tabor was a little easier to swallow than the previous few.

"After losing by routs in their previous two games, the War Eagles had a chance to win at the end. We played really well," said Crenshaw, whose team fell to 4-13 overall. "We did an awful lot of good things out there."

Davie led throughout the first half and after falling behind in the third quarter, actually had a chance to take the lead in the final seconds before falling.

Davie also fell to Dudley last week, 84-58. The War Eagles go to West Forsyth for a rematch of Yadkin River neighbors Friday night.

Losing To Spartans

Davie star Bubba Coleman did all he could to keep Davie in the lead during the first half. He hit three three-pointers and had 15 by halftime. Davie led 43-39 at the break.

"Bubba was awesome," Crenshaw said of his junior point guard who also had six rebounds, six steals and five assists. "I took him out once but we threw the ball away twice so I had to put him back in. We can't play without him."

Davie was hurt again by having the one bad quarter. Mount Tabor outscored the WarEagles 16-8 in the third and took a 55-51 lead into the fourth. With two minutes left, the Spartans led by eight.

But Davie fought back behind Paul Wondracek's three baskets in the fourth period. When Brad Van Hoy hit the first of two foul shots with 17 seconds left, Davie was within two, 69-67.

On the second free throw, Mount Tabor knocked the ball out of bounds, giving Davie possession with 15 seconds remaining.

After a timeout, Davie committed a turnover and fouled Clarence Hosh, who hit two freethrows for a 71-67 advantage.

Snyder got his first start and the junior responded with 11 points and 11 rebounds.

"Jason Rice had six points and three rebounds so we got 17 points and 14 rebounds from our center spot," said Crenshaw. "They had (Kip) Reese and (Carlos) Rucker inside and that's like playing against Charles Barkley. But they got only 10 between them."

Losing To Dudley

Earlier in the week, Crenshaw found out just how explosive Dudley's Panthers can be.

With a minute left in the first half, Davie trailed the CPC's first place team only 33-30. But the Panthers struck for the last seven points and their lead had careened to 40-30.

Davie bounced back in the second half, cutting the lead to six on baskets by Chip Carter, Tyrone Martin and Bubba Coleman. But again Dudley's quickness and defense were too much. By the end of the third quarter, it led by 20, 62-42.

"The pressed the entire game," Crenshaw said of the hectic play. "We'd either get a layup or throw it away and they'd get a layup."

For the second straight game, Crenshaw praised his reserves Bryan Johnson and Jason Phelps.

The 6-2 Martin had 16 points and 10 rebounds, Coleman shot only six times, but hit four, finishing with 11 points and five assists.

Notes:

• Davie fell to 0-9 in the conference.

• Martin took an elbow to the head early in the game and had to be taken to the hospital. In his place, junior Keith Kooztz scored 13 points and grabbed eight rebounds.

• Johnson had three steals against Dudley.

• Davie was 7-of-18 three-pointers against Mount Tabor. Coleman was 3-of-4.

26-Point Fourth Quarter Leads Girls Past Dudley

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

GREENSBORO — On most high school basketball teams, sophomores are supposed to be seen and not heard.

But last week, Angie Jarvis' sophomores could be heard loud and clear as Davie County upset Dudley, 57-56.

Sophomores made all the big plays for the War Eagles in a 26-point fourth quarter that saw Davie overcome a 15-point deficit.

Davie broke a six-game losing streak with the win. Coupled with a 33-43 loss to Mount Tabor Friday, Davie is now 2-7 in the Central Piedmont Conference and 5-12 overall.

Beating Dudley

Going into the fourth period against Dudley, Davie trailed 46-31, something Jarvis had seen before. In the first meeting between the teams, Davie fell way behind only to score 30 fourth quarter points. On that occasion, it wasn't enough.

The second time, 26 was plenty. "The first time we played, we tried to run with them and we just weren't fast enough," Jarvis said.

"This time, we tried a press in the fourth quarter and they had a hard time breaking it."

While Dudley's offense was held to 10 points over the last eight minutes, Davie's sophomores were bringing the War Eagles back.

Andrea Gentry scored 10 of her 24 points in the fourth period to bring Davie close. Then Kristin Hinshaw took over.

The sophomore forward tied the score at 52 and 54. After a Dudley turnover, sophomore Shannon Umberger hit one of two free throws for Davie's first lead, 55-54 with about a half-minute remaining.

She missed the second but Hinshaw was there for the rebound. She passed to Carrie Brown, another sophomore, for a layup and Davie had its first win since Jan. 10.

"Carrie, Andrea, Kristin and Shannon came through for us and hit some big shots," Jarvis said. "Kristin made some big plays — but everybody did."

Losing To Mt. Tabor

The story of Davie's 10-point loss to Mount Tabor Friday was due to fouls. Brown was in foul trouble and was ineffective and Mount Tabor made their foul shooting count.

Davie lost by 10 but there was a nine-point disparity at the line. Mount Tabor hit 21-of-35 while Davie was only 12-of-40.

Mount Tabor kept a workable margin throughout the game.

"They're a good team," said Jarvis of the CPC's second-ranked team. "We never were really close. What killed us was Britt Armentrout, who hit three threes in the third quarter."

White Brown was held to two points. Casey Jenkins and Gentry were scoring 10 apiece.

Notes:

• Davie has scored 50 points in two fourth quarters against Dudley this year.

• Davie was 16-of-24 from the free throw line while Dudley was only 1-of-5.

• The week doesn't get easier. First, Davie travels to West Forsyth Friday and hosts state-ranked South Rowan Tuesday.

Jayvee

under wraps and she eventually fouled out.

"This was by far our best game," Myers said.

Against Mount Tabor, Myers said the subs played quite a bit because the game was over early. "They were never there," she said of the Spartans.

"When we play weaker opponents, we play weak," Myers said. "We didn't play well but it was still enough."

Boys Lose

Mike Dinkins' team is still struggling, dropping two more games to fall to 2-7 in the CPC and 4-7-8 overall.

Against Mount Tabor Friday, Davie fell behind early, 22-4 but outscored the Spartans 19-6 in the second quarter.

The War Eagles pulled within 49-44 when a foul was called on Mount Tabor. A technical foul also was called and Davie hit three of four to pull within 49-47. But it couldn't convert on the out of bounds play, Mount Tabor scored on a three-pointer and the Spartans never looked back.

Gerald Roberts scored 13 to lead Davie while Marnic Lewis had 10 and Brent Cassidy and Corey Deese had nine each. Chad Alexander scored seven.

Davie led Dudley throughout the game but went scoreless in the final four minutes of the game.

Deese had his best game of the season, scoring 18 points. Cassidy had 16, Lewis 13 and Roberts 10.

"What really killed us was just before halftime," said Dinkins. "We were up 40-25 but was outscored 14-2 in the final two minutes. That gave them momentum."

Notes:

• Davie's boys are the defending CPC champions.

• Davie's boys led only 42-39 at halftime against Dudley.

• Eight of Lewis' 15 points against Dudley came in the second quarter.

it gives him a lot of leverage."

Spry and Sain also finished 22-0.

Spry faced off against 32 other contestants in the 112 class. He won six of his seven matches by pin.

He was state runner-up at 93 pounds last season.

Sain's 125-pound division had 31 wrestlers. In seven matches, he recorded four pins, a technical fall, a major decision and one decision.

Like Spry, he was state runner-up (at 112) last year.

Tony Nichols (160) and Kevin Caudle (189) finished state runner-up. Nichols lost in the finals 6-4 and finished 16-2. Caudle won by five pins until falling in the finals, 11-7 to the defending state champ at 171. He was 19-1.

Mike Hunter, a state runner-up last year, was third at 45 and finished 20.

Don Callahan (103 pounds), Neil Cornatzer (119) and Marj Mason were fifth. Callahan was 10-3 on the season. Mason 18-2 and Cornatzer 14-2. Callahan led to the eventual champion John Vance.

Chris Marelio, Mark McKnight, David Hall, Jeff Wilson, Justin Carter and Justin Jense were other Wildcats participating but not placing.

South Davie had four wrestlers in the tournament: Josh Nix, Chad Nichols, Donald Rash and Carl Grant. Nichols finished 1-1 in the top eight at 119 pounds.

Coleman, Brown Leaders

Bubba Coleman and Carrie Brown are the leading scorers for Davie County's varsity basketball teams.

Coleman is averaging 14.2, followed by Tyrone Martin's 12.7. Coleman also leads in assists, steals and three-pointers.

Almost every category in girls play is contested by sophomores. Brown, Andrea Gentry and Shannon Umberger each own the lead in two categories apiece. Brown leads in scoring and blocked shots. Gentry is tops in assists and three-pointers. Umberger has the lead in rebounding and steals. Casey Jenkins is also high in many of the statistics.

The Civil War: North vs. South

Fans from North and South Davie packed the South Davie gym last week for Davie County's freshmen doubleheader.

The Civil War: North vs. South

North-South Rivalry Is Davie County's Carolina-Duke

Why is the North Carolina-Duke rivalry so much fun?
Naturally, the two teams have a lot to do with it. But there is so much more. Everybody who is anybody is there. There's standing room only crowds. Intense players. Intense fans. Everyone is strained when they go home.
Sort of like the North Davie-South Davie rivalry, huh?
In a lesser sense of course, but if you attended the freshman doubleheader last week at South, you could make comparisons. Several people did.
"Carolina plays Duke tomorrow on TV," said one fan, wearing a Carolina ballcap. "This is Davie County's Carolina-Duke."
Duke and Carolina are eight miles apart. North and South are separated by six. All of the celebrities in the county were there. Former Davie High stars were in the stands. If they tried to pack in a few more fans, it might have been a fire hazard.
It was fun.
The best thing about working for a newspaper during the Carolina-Duke game is getting the opportunity to sit on press row, where you can hear the grunts, the pleading of the coaches and the trash talk.
Considering there were no seats left, the best thing about working for a newspaper during the North-South game is having the opportunity to stand under the basket and take photos. Being court-side, you see and hear everything.
This is what I noticed in "our" Carolina-Duke game:
The Stars Were Out: Against one wall was

Ronnie Gallagher

our education leaders Bill Steed (superintendent), Julius Sulter (South principal) and Dub Potts (North principal). Sulter was the one wearing the big smile. With between 5 and 600 fans at $2 a head, all of whom probably paid at least one visit to his concession stand, who could blame him?
In the stands, people were giving Cleveland Indian minor leaguer Denny Key babies to hold on his lap.
And even the greatest basketball player in Davie County history, Dwayne Grant, came up from his Charlotte home to watch.
Talking Trash: Once, a North Davie player was fouled and started bobbing his head up and down. "Uh-huh, uh-huh," he said, taunting the South player.
Doesn't this kid know they're going to be teammates next year?
That's one of the big differences between our rivalry and Carolina and Duke. Kevin Salvadori and Christian Laettner know they're never going to be teammates. They can talk all the trash they want. But our kids should stop it.

Everyone Loves The Intensity: Now, really, what sporting event during the winter months gives us as much intensity in this county as these freshman matchups?
Referee Joe Boyette, who has officiated hundreds of such games, admitted to being nervous, but added, "I love this."
Whenever Boyette or Carl Robertson called a foul, the accused wore an incredulous look. "I didn't touch him," was always the reply.
Only in crucial rivalries do players never foul. Many of the South Davie students who packed the gym had posters and stood much of the game. Loud cheers rang through the gym in both games — until the visitors from North finally ran out to so large a lead in both games, the South students finally decided to sit down.
But that's okay. Next year could be different and the Tiger teams might be the ones kicking butt.
That's another resemblance of our rivalry and Carolina-Duke.
For the loser, there's always next time.

Cassidy

was so aware of Newsome.
"She's a big, intimidating factor inside," he said of North's 6-2 center. "I told our girls not to go in the middle. We did pretty good job on her but our backside help didn't come. It left Cassidy some real open shots."
Although Williard scored no points in the first period, North led 19-7.
"We wanted to establish our inside game first," Hendrix said.
Behind Amanda Sigmon, South crew within 35-21 at halftime but Williard went wild in the third, the Sing North outscore the Tigers, 23-13 to take a 58-34 advantage in the final eight minutes.
"Jonette was unstoppable," Hendrix said. "And the really good part is, she's just an eighth grader playing in a freshman league."

Cassidy

Hendrix agreed with Callison that Newsome is valuable just by being in the middle.
"Even if she isn't rebounding, scoring or blocking shots, her presence on the court is intimidating to opponents," he said.
Callison is hoping for another shot at South in this week's North Piedmont Conference tournament at North.
"If we play them again, we'll try something different," he said.
Beating Woodward
Hendrix said his team didn't start its game against Woodward like it wanted revenge.
"We were flat," he said. "We led by eight to 10 points most of the first half and didn't really pull away until after the halftime sermon."
A nine-point halftime advantage climbed to 47-31 after three quarters. North then had a 25-point fourth period. North's biggest lead was 26.
Williard hit her average with 25 points, including 7-of-7 from the foul line. Newsome had 21 points and 20 rebounds. Cassidy scored 13, hauled down eight rebounds and blocked four shots.

South Beats South
South had to hold on against South Rowan in a 40-37 win.
"It was an ugly game," said Callison. "We didn't play well."
While Sigmon was held to only five points, Holly Snider took up the slack with 14.
Notes:
• North has won the last two NPC regular season championships.
• North is outscoring its opponents, 61-36.
• Williard led the league in scoring with a 25.2 average.
• Sigmon led South against North with 19 points.
• Hendrix praised the defense of Krissi Puck and Katie Desch, as well as the play of Callie Stanley and Amy Barney off the bench. Desch had six rebounds.
• Newsome blocked 10 shots against Woodward.
• North is a favorite to take the tournament at North this week because of its history in the building. The Wildcat girls haven't lost a home game since Jan. 25, 1990.

Lanier

behind Eric Shook's eight points (including two three-pointers), North led 16-9.
While South had trouble coping with the packed house, North seemed to lead off of the crowd's intensity in the second quarter.
"They didn't miss," Studevent said. "They were psyched up."
No one more so than Chad Lanier, who finished with 14 points in the quarter. Along with Brock Patrick, who scored six inside, North led by 26 at halftime. South hit only two baskets in the period.
Lanier broke the game open with three straight, high-arching three-pointers. He was 3-for-3 from the line and swished a driving layup during the quarter.
"We knew Lanier could shoot like that," Studevent said. "We thought we could offset him with the dunks. But we missed and they commanded the boards. When Lanier or somebody would miss, they got the rebounds."
Lanier, Robert Thompson and Fred Wilson all had four points in the third as North extended the lead to 61-20. By the time South woke up and outscored North's reserves 19-7 in the fourth quarter, it was too late.

"Our game was totally flat," said Studevent. "In the second quarter, frustration set in. We were just beaten badly."
Lanier's sweet jumpers led him to a 20-point afternoon. Patrick scored 12 and Shook 10. Thompson and Wilson each had nine.
Jonathan Vaughters scored 11 to lead South but leading scorer Ward added only four points after the first quarter and finished with 10. Kevin Hinshaw and David Howell each scored six.
Studevent faced the same scenario going into the league tournament last season. He had been beaten twice by North but gutted it up and eventually won the tournament.
"That's what we're hoping to do again," Studevent said of the tournament, which begins Thursday.
North Beats Woodward
North placed four in double figures against Woodward. Lanier had 19, including nine in the fourth quarter. He hit 6-of-8 free in the period and 9-of-12 for the game.
Wilson and Patrick added 16 each and Thompson 14. These four accounted for 65 of the team's 67 points. Shook had the other two.

South was still suffering over the North loss when it faced South Rowan later in the week. Again, the second quarter did the Tigers in. Outscored 22-7, they trailed 38-21 at halftime.
South still trailed 56-32 after three but awoke to outscore the Raiders, 24-7. Ward and Hinshaw led the comeback.
"We played in the first half like we did against North," said Studevent. "We missed layups and easy shots and made a lot of turnovers."
Ward scored 20 for South while Hinshaw and Van Hoy added 11 apiece. Howell scored 10.
Hinshaw and Howell really played well for us," said Studevent.
Notes:
• South's only two losses in the league were to North Davie.
• South finished 7-5 overall but two of the losses were to East Alexander, who Studevent says may well be the best team in the league. North didn't play East this year but the two may meet in the tournament this week at North.
• North also defeated Woodward last week.
• Ben Edwards scored five points for South in the fourth quarter.

North Davie JVs Enjoy Successful Season

The North Davie jayvee boys and girls both lost their final games of the season against Thomasville last week but both coaches were happy with the final records.

Carol Cozart's girls team lost a heartbreaker to the Bulldogs in overtime, 35-31 but still finished 8-4, only a game out of first place.

David Gilbreath's boys were defeated 70-32 but finished the best jayvee season since the school opened, finishing 6-6.

Girls Lose in OT

Little did Cozart know at the time but the Thomasville game was for first place.

Thomasville and Asheboro finished 9-3 while North was a game back. Had North defeated the Bulldogs, it would have tied Asheboro and taken the crown due to two previous wins over the Blue Comets.

North had its chances. Angela Meyers tied the game at 26 with a minute remaining. North regained possession with 16 seconds left but missed.

In overtime, the Wildcats scored first but were outscored 9-5 in the extra period.

"We did not do as well in overtime defensively," Cozart said. "We allowed them possessions and shots they shouldn't have had. We got behind and had to foul and Thomasville hit their free throws. We didn't."

Cozart thought her team could have taken control in the first quarter. North held Thomasville scoreless but could manage only four themselves — on a Meyers three-pointer and a free throw by Tami Ramsey.

Laura Moyer had North's only basket in the second quarter and the Wildcats trailed 11-6 at halftime.

North was still down 20-14 going into the fourth quarter but outscored Thomasville 12-6 to force the overtime. Ramsey and Roxanne Steele combined for five of the points.

Cozart praised the play of Janis Barney and Moyer.

"Barney did a good job under the boards," she said. "She's been steady all season. And Laura did a lot of things that didn't show up in the points. She made all the inbounds passes as well as put pressure on the inbounds pass. She had a good eye for the open player and scrapped for rebounds."

Steele led North with nine points while Meyers scored seven and Barney six.

Boys Routed

Gilbreath didn't have much to say about the Thomasville rout — but he did talk about his team's play this season. Gilbreath is a local minister who took over the team after Tom Ralledge got another job.

"I found it very satisfying," Gilbreath said of his coaching. "We had a good all-around team. We had interchangeable parts. Several could hit the three-pointers on a consistent basis."

Gilbreath pointed to his two leaders: point guard Timmy Gilbreath and inside power Jason Murphy.

"Timmy kept everybody's head in the game," Gilbreath said. "Jason was our inspirational leader."

Murphy led North against Thomasville with 10 points. Adam Niles scored five, Rhamen Love-Lane four and Chris Dinkins and Josh Barnhardt three each.

"There were games we played over our heads," Gilbreath said. "When we beat Lexington and Ferndale, those were athletic teams. But I wanted the boys to know that at this age, they had a chance against everybody."

North captured one of its biggest wins Jan. 28 when it defeated Ferndale, 50-46.

North trailed after the first three quarters but outscored Ferndale 16-8 in the fourth.

Murphy finished with 19 points while Brandon Mills added eight, Clay Jones seven and Timmy Gilbreath six.

Notes:

- Murphy led the boys in scoring and rebounding. He scored at an 11 ppg clip.
- Steele and Meyers had three steals apiece.
- Ralledge is now the assistant principal at Forbush High School.
- Scoring two apiece against Ferndale for the boys were Chris Dinkins, Drew Carter, Love-Lane, Eric Kistler and Jason Boger.

South JV Teams Lose Finale

The South Davie seventh and eighth grade basketball teams ended their season on a losing note last week.

The jayvee boys fell to North Piedmont Conference power Griffin 74-43 while the girls lost 37-33. The girls lost five of their last six games.

Boys Game

South coach Barry Whitlock knew Griffin was one of the better teams in the NPC, so he experimented for much of the game.

"There were times we had five seventh graders in there at one time," he said. "They need the experience. It's a big difference going from Brock ball (little league) to junior high. But we had four seventh graders who saw valuable time this year."

One seventh grader, Jamie Lyons, scored 12 points to lead the team.

"That's his best game scoring-wise," Whitlock said. "I hope it carries over."

Whitlock said he did feel bad for star shooting guard Jason Harbour, who practically carried the team on his shoulders for much of the year. Harbour, an eighth grader, averaged 15 points per game. He hit 34 of the team's 49 three-pointers.

"If I had just one more player who could score consistently, Jason would have averaged 20," Whitlock said. "He still had an excellent year. He was probably one of our leading rebounders too. Still, having to do so much offensively helped him."

Girls Game

What a change from the first half of the season and the last for Becky Miller's jayvee girls.

At one time, the Tigers were 4-1, riding the shoulders of 5-11 Twin Towers Keleha Wagner and Carrie Brill. But after that, the team was only 1-6.

"Other teams improved and played us tougher inside," said Miller.

Turnovers and free throw shooting hurt South against Griffin. The Tigers led for much of the game.

"We just started throwing the ball away," she said. "Our free throw shooting was pitiful too. It's the worst we've shot."

South led 9-4 after one quarter behind Brill, who had five, and 18-15 at halftime. South trailed going into the fourth period, 26-24. Griffin won at the free throw line. While it hit 8-of-17, South was going 3-for-23.

Wagner led South with 11 points while Brill finished with nine. Beth Campbell scored four, Tonya Hargrove three and Kelly Cozart, Josi Spillman and Ericka Summers two each.

"We really struggled the last half," Miller said. "We couldn't get our fast break going. Other teams were just quicker than we were."

"But we learned. I was glad to see Summers and Spillman play well. Our seventh graders are coming along."

Notes:

• South's boys finished 1-11.

• The girls were 5-7.

• The boys lost four games by a total of 12 points. "We were very close to being respectable," Whitlock said.

• Eight of Lyons' 12 points came in the third quarter.

• Buddy Frogge scored seven points against Griffin. Jason Correll and Derrick Dulin had four apiece.

Regionals

were't that much better than us. But those forfeits hurt. We're used to winning early and everything snowballing. It's hard to do that now."

Regional Strategy

"Lowery is still optimistic his team can win the regionals, which is scheduled to end Saturday night.

In individual tournaments, four or five — and sometimes even three — wrestlers can carry a team.

With Ward, who is 20-1 at 125 pounds leading the way, Davie has a good shot at retaining its title.

"Ward, Kroffelder and Mann are going to score points," he said. "So is Matt Wilson. Shane Mauldin can score some. Shoot, we have the potential in a lot of the classes. We just have to go out there and do it."

Now, it's up to Lowery to be not only a coach but motivator as well. "Look, those boys who aren't with us anymore won a lot of matches for us," he said. "But I told our guys, they're not with us. We can't help it. Let's quit feeling sorry for ourselves and wrestle."

Lowery would like to leave the regionals Saturday night like he has four of the last five years.

Carrying the first place trophy — and feeling sorry for everybody else.

Notes:

• East Gaston won the 4-A state dual championship.

• High Point Andrews won the dual team title in 3-A and Dixon won the 1-A/2-A crown.

• The regionals will start Friday at 3 p.m. and Saturday's wrestling will begin around 10 a.m.

Rec Dept. Plans Trips

The Mockville/Davie Parks and Recreation Department has organized three trips to Charlotte to see the Hornets play. A fee of $15 will include ticket and transportation.

The games are:
• March 30: Hornets vs. Orlando.
• April 15: Hornets vs. Cleveland.

Donald Hursey of Mocksville works on a seascape at his home. He has been painting for years.

"I don't really think a person has to be gifted to paint. You can do anything you set your mind to."

— Donald Hursey

Preserving The Art

By Kara Kooker

Davie County Enterprise-Record

For those of you who don't know, Donald Hursey, of Mocksville, has been painting in Davie County for 20 years.

Until recently, Hursey would paint a picture, sell it and it would be gone forever.

Now, after being cajoled by his friends and family, the artist is making prints of his once-in-a-lifetime paintings.

"I've had no trouble selling my individual works," said Hursey, "but selling prints is something all artists strive for."

While he has always been interested in "realistic art," Hursey said he never really considered painting until his son received a watercolor set about 20 years ago. Hursey said his first picture turned out so well, he's been painting ever since.

Hursey decided to take some art classes from Glenda Beard. He said she was a big help to him and she taught him how to improve his technique. He began to experiment with oil and said he was fortunate to sell almost every painting he did.

"I really don't think a person has to be gifted to paint," said Hursey. "You can do anything you set your mind to."

Hursey paints scenes on his own and on commission. He said many people in Mocksville have asked him to paint their old homes.

Hursey said he especially enjoys painting old barns and houses, but he also paints trees, seascapes, landscapes, people and animals.

Hursey said he donated a picture of Daniel Boone visiting his parents' grave at Joppa Cemetery to the Davie County Library and a picture of the Old Martin Barn to the Town Hall.

Hursey said he has also exhibited his paintings at Art's Alive since the festival started several years ago and has won the People's Choice Award "almost every year."

Not too long ago, Hursey took up watercolor again, because he feels the quality is better than oil. He keeps the paint thick so that it won't "flake" the way it does in most watercolors.

While he doesn't particularly want to "stay with birds," Hursey recently painted pictures of a blue jay in a holly bush and a cardinal in a pine tree. He took the paintings to Statesville where he had 500 limited edition laser prints made of each original.

The prints are on display at The Art Connection, Daniel's Furniture, Cinderella Beauty Shop, Branch Banking and Trust and Betty Potts Realty. They can also be obtained from Hursey. The larger prints sell for about $65, ready to hang.

Hursey said he spends about 80 hours on each painting. He said he paints whenever he can, but would like to paint more often once he retires.

"I like to paint because it's a challenge," said Hursey. "If you do a good one and people brag on you, it makes you feel good."

Old barns and houses are favorite subjects of Mocksville artist Donald Hursey.

Hursey has prints made of his blue jay painting.

Hursey has made paintings of several types of birds. He says his originals are easy to sell.

Contests Open For Best Beef Recipes

By Babe Wilkinson
N.C. Department of Agriculture

If you like to cook with beef, now is the time to pull out the best and enter them in the North Carolina Beef Cook-Off. All amateur chefs (18 years of age or older) are invited to enter their original beef recipes by March 1. There are two categories — Indoor and Outdoor Barbecue in which to compete.

All recipes will be judged on their taste, ease of preparation, appeal and appearance. Recipes should be by your own creation. Prizes include $400 cash plus an all-expense-paid trip to the national competition for the first place winners. Second place is $200 and third place is $100 for each category. This year's contest will be held April 26 in Raleigh at the Southern Women's Show.

To enter your recipes into this cook-off, or receive more information, send to: N.C. Beef Cook-Off, P.O. Box 25756, Raleigh, NC 27611.

Remember, recipes must be postmarked by March 1.

Spring is not too far away and neither is the 1992 Main-Dish Egg Cooking Contest. To enter your winning recipe in this contest, all you have to do is find and/or develop an egg recipe suited for a main dish.

You may enter as many recipes as you like, but each one should be on a separate eight by eleven and a half piece of paper, with your name, address, phone number, and print adult or student division at the top of your page along with the title of your recipe.

Here's how to enter your winning recipe. First, decide which age division you are in. There are two divisions to choose from: the student division, which requires you to be 18 years old or younger and the adult division, where you enter if you are 19 or older.

Each entry must be a main dish which contains 1 egg per serving, not including the garnish. The eggs may be used in any form (fried, poached, scrambled, baked, etc.). Entries must be postmarked by March 30, 1992. Place your entry/entries on an 8 x 11 1/2 piece of paper along with the required information (form above) and mail to: Egg Cooking Contest, 1213 Ridge Road, Raleigh, NC 27607.

There will be five recipes chosen from each division. These five finalists (from each division) will compete for top honors at the Southern Women's Show in Raleigh on April 25, 1992. Monies include five hundred dollars for first place.

Americans Healthy Eating Is More Than Talk Than Practice

Americans talk a good game when it comes to healthful eating, but most have an inadequate diet, according to food consumption surveys done by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In general, most adults are not eating a variety of foods from the major food groups. They are getting less fiber and more fat, sodium and sugar than recommended. Specifically:

- Most women eat only three servings of fruits and vegetables each day. At least five servings are recommended.
- Most Americans get more than enough sugar. Candy and soda consumption have increased by about 10 percent over the past decade.
- Most women need more low-fat milk and milk products to ensure that they get enough calcium.
- Most Americans get too much fat. No more than 30 percent of the calories in the diet should come from fat.

To find out if your diet is properly balanced, contact the home economics agent at the North Carolina Cooperative Extension Service center in your county.

Storytelling Club
Greetings from the Storytelling 4-H Club. Members met at the Public Library Jan. 2. All but three were present.

Tonya Pierce called the meeting to order and members said the pledges. Mrs. VanHoy showed a video about Sharon Underwood's mother who also tells stories and draws pictures with her story or shows them during the story. Mrs. Carter had learned this story when she was a little girl and it had been passed down from generation to generation so she made a video.

After the movie was over, Mrs. VanHoy and Mrs. Vance taught club members how to play life stories.

If you have a child who loves to read and tell stories, have them join the club.

The storytelling club meets every first Thursday of the month from 3-4 p.m.

Three Buy Local Firm

The new owners of Moxvil Manufacturing hope to expand and improve the textile plant off Eaton Road in Mocksville.

Henry Hunt Jr., Nancy Brooks and Gary Opdahl purchased the plant Feb. 1 from the Frank and Marguerite Fox estate.

Hunt has worked with the company since he was 16, Brooks since 1963. Opdahl, a principal with Long John shirts, had been doing business with the company and has moved to North Carolina from California.

The company, in business since 1955, has 92 employees with plans to hire more.
"We specialize in contract work, in knits and fleece," Hunt said. Employee incentive programs will begin soon.

Opdahl said Moxvil Manufacturing hopes to begin packaging the items it makes, offering a finished product to sell. A factory outlet store could follow, he said.
"We hope to improve a lot of things around here that haven't been done over the years," Hunt said.

How has the company avoided problems associated with other textile firms? There hasn't been a layoff in five years.
"Diversification," Hunt said. "We try to keep a good working relationship with our contractors."

The company has the potential of having 150 employees. It is negotiating to buy 16 machines, which will mean about 16 more jobs in mid-March. Employee work days were changed to four 9-hour days and a 4-hour day.
"We are increasing our piece rate, base rate," Opdahl said. "The employees across the board are going to receive a wage increase."

"LET THIS BE A WITNESS!"

WITH THESE WORDS MANY A BIBLICAL PERSON WOULD SEAL A CONTRACT OR A COVENANT, OR A BUSINESS PROMISE BY SOME TANGIBLE TOKEN AS A HEAP OF STONES, OR A MONUMENT WITH A CHISELED MARK OF AGREEMENT ON THE STONE (GEN. 31:44-52). SOMETIMES IT WAS BY A WRITTEN DOCUMENT SUCH AS A DEED OR A LETTER OF DIVORCE (DEUT. 24:1, 3; JER. 32:10). BUT THE MOST POPULAR METHOD WAS BY CALLING MEN TO WITNESS THE EVENT IN QUESTION. THIS CONCURRENT TESTIMONY OF AT LEAST TWO WITNESSES WAS REQUIRED UNDER THE MOSAIC LAW—ESPECIALLY IF IT WAS TO ESTABLISH GUILT OR A CAPITAL CRIME (NUM. 35:30). THIS PRINCIPLE WAS A GENERAL RULE IN ALL JUDICIAL PROCEDURE (DEUT. 19:15). ALL WITNESSES, BEFORE THE TESTIMONY WAS GIVEN, WERE CAUTIONED TO TELL NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH...

AND TO CONCEAL NOTHING THAT WAS PERTINENT TO THE CASE. IT WAS A SIN FOR A WITNESS TO WITHHOLD EVIDENCE IN HIS POSSESSION (LEV. 5:1; PROV. 29:24). FALSE WITNESS BEARING WAS DENOUNCED IN THE DECALOGUE (EX. 20:16) AND WHEN DETECTED, DREW THE SAME PENALTY UPON THE FALSE WITNESS THAT HE HAD ATTEMPTED TO GET IMPOSED ON THE ACCUSED—THESE ANCIENT JUDGES DID NOT FOOL AROUND!!

Students Learn To Recycle

ADVANCE — What would you tell President Bush if you had the chance?
"He needs to make recycling a law worldwide."
Similar answers came from Shady Grove Elementary School students after an environmental quiz bowl recently.

"I didn't really know that much about recycling, but now I do," said Garth Regan.

"It was about telling people to recycle and what it does to the earth if we don't," said Chris Woodridge.

The quiz bowl was part of the Mobius program provided the school by BFI to teach fifth graders.

"It's to get children involved with their responsibility to the earth, to make them aware of the seriousness of the situation," said Jane Blackwell, BFI recycling coordinator. "We know that taking things to the landfill is not the answer."

BFI's Jane Blackwell conducts Shady Grove environmental quiz bowl recently.

The quiz bowl, she said, is a "positive way for kids to let people know what they have learned."

Fatima Amor Lobo is attending classes at Davie High School this year, an ASSE exchange student from Spain. "I love it here," she said. — Photos by James Barringer

From Spain To Carolina

Exchange Student Is Enjoying Life In Davie

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

When Fatima Amor Lobo reached the United States from Spain, she wasn't happy.

The exchange student was picked up at the airport by her host family, Glen and Debra Stanley of Mocksville. Fatima made it from Spain, but her luggage was somewhere else.

They stopped at a restaurant on the way home. Fatima went into the bathroom and cried.

She reached Mocksville and called her mother — and cried some more.

"She couldn't even talk to her mother she was crying so hard," Mrs. Stanley said.

"It was the worst day of my life," Fatima said.

But things got better.

Now, if it wasn't for her family in Spain, she might decide to stay in the United States. "I love it here," she said. "I don't want to go back to Spain, but I miss my family."

When she does go back, the luggage had better make it — because included will be Food Lion brand macaroni and cheese, one of the few foods she has found to her liking here. "I'm going to take a really big box," she said.

Don't even bother asking her about making cupcakes. She won't tell you about the coffee filters, although her host family is quick to fill in the details. Luckily, Stanley is a Mocksville fireman. "She can't make them any more here," he said. "She's banned."

Fatima is taking classes at Davie High School, which she enjoys, although different from her native Spain. She likes the principal here, Robert Landry. "I love him because he talks Spanish," she said.

On one conversation, Landry spoke to her in Spanish and she talked to him in English, a language she has struggled with but has become quite well at speaking.

She came with a book that translated words from Spanish to English. "The first three weeks, she wore the pages out," Stanley said. "We don't see it anymore. She doesn't need it."

At Davie High, she is on the swim team, and plans to graduate with the Class of '92 this spring.

Her favorite American activity is "cruising," and she has a date for the prom with another exchange student.

Nothing serious, she still has a boyfriend in Spain. "But he's in big trouble," she said. "He's not calling me." Stanley said there's a reason. The boyfriend's first telephone bill after Fatima came to Mocksville was $170.

Being from a large city in Spain, where teenagers go to discos, Fatima does experience some boredom in Mocksville. "Here, if you don't have a car, you don't have anything to do," she said. "That's why I'm getting fat."

Life in Mocksville is much safer than in Spain, where her family's country house has been broken into 15 times. "I like the people here. They are so nice," she said. "You cannot find that in Spain. Robbers everywhere."

Fatima is the second in her family to come to the area on the ASSE student exchange program. Her sister stayed in Clemmons and recommended the program.

She wears two watches, one with the time in Spain and one with local time.

The Stanleys decided to host a student after learning of the program through Davie schools, Mrs. Stanley said. They thought it would be a good experience for their children, daughters Lisa and Jessie and son Sonny.

After being approved by ASSE, they looked through a book of potential students and picked Fatima.

Anyone interested in hosting an ASSE student can contact area representative Vanessa Barber at (704) 278-9544 or call 1-800-333-3802.

ADD Support Group To Hold 2nd Local Meeting

Davie County's new support group for parents of children with Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD) will meet on Thursday, Feb. 20, at 7 p.m. in the Mocksville Middle School Library off Campbell Road.

ADD is a disorder that affects not only the diagnosed child, but the whole family. Parents, in particular, carry much of the burden, having to constantly run interference for their ADD child with people who do not understand the disorder. This results in stress that manifests itself in such forms as fear, anxiety, anger, or feelings of isolation and helplessness.

This new support group is designed to provide help for parents through the sharing of ideas, literature, and experiences.

There will be no cost, and although child care will be available on premises, space is limited. Parents capable of making other arrangements for child care are encouraged to do so, while those without alternative child care are encouraged to attend and make use of the child care provided.

Davie High Drafting Students Design Auditorium

Joey Hare, Marc Wondracsek, Joe Strelka, Matthew Draughn and Mike Brewer looked more like businessmen than high school students.

With charts and notes in hand, they went before the Davie County Board of Education last week, asking that an auditorium be included in expansion plans.

"They pretty much did it the way they thought it should be," said Matt Wilson, architectural drafting teacher.

The charts didn't just happen. The students met with school officials to determine costs, studied local ordinances, measured classrooms, measured the grounds where they thought the proposed auditorium should be built.

"Their first plan cost $5 million. They were told it was too costly.

The students went back to work, and proposed a $2.2 million auditorium. If that's too much, the schools could consider soliciting donations from groups that would use the building and from civic minded businesses and individuals, the students suggested.

That idea seemed like a good one to education board member Jerry Swiggood, who said the schools have less than $2 million to build necessary classrooms at Mocksville elementary and Davie High. "We're going to have to be looking to raise money wherever we can get it," Swiggood said. "We're not a poor county."

Whether the auditorium is built or not, the work was good for the students, Wilson said. "It was real good practice for them," the teacher said. "It gives them a true feel of architectural work."

The presentation also made a good opening act for Davie schools' vocational director Neal Esic, who told the students that most people get paid for what they had done.

Esic handed out a news release on the benefits of vocational education. Vocational education must change to meet the workplace needs, a change that is taking place in Davie County, Esic said.

Using Tech Prep as a launching pad, several changes are taking place, including: added emphasis on academic content of vocational courses; higher thinking skills, problem solving techniques, team work and leadership; knowledge of new technology; and a solid foundation in the basics — reading, writing, math and science.

"Expectations are being raised as more students are challenged to continue their educations beyond high school so that they may qualify for the excellent technical careers which require one or two years beyond high school," Esic said.

"Our goal is for at least 85 percent of our students to continue their educations beyond high school. The day when a high school diploma was a ticket to a good paying job and middle class standard of living is almost gone. Non-skilled and semi-skilled jobs are giving way to jobs which require education beyond high school, and this is what the Tech Prep program is designed to encourage."

Among the changes in Davie County:

- In agriculture, a new greenhouse and horticulture class has been added.
- The business department has a new course in entrepreneurship and more computer applications classes.
- Six business labs have new furniture and computers.
- In auto technology, a diagnostic machine has been added which will enable students to work on vehicles with on-board computers and also to test exhaust emissions.

- In drafting, four computers and a plotter have been added so students may learn computer aided drafting techniques.
- A service bench has been added to stimulate working conditions.
- A computerized guidance information system has been added in secondary schools which will help students plan high school programs of study, and an industry/education coordinator has been added at Davie High to work with Tech Prep and vocational students.

"There is an increased emphasis in all vocational programs on serving the needs of potential dropouts and high-risk students who need a little extra help in order to be successful," Esic said.

"All these changes and others will ultimately result in a better prepared high school graduate with the necessary skills to help return America to her past leadership position in the world marketplace and economy."

Esic credited vocational teachers for making the programs successful in Davie County.

Collision Injures 3
One Critical As Truck, Car Hit Head-On

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Two men were seriously injured Saturday afternoon when a car and pickup truck collided head-on in Mocksville.

William Robert Trail, 40, of Hiwassee, Va., was trapped inside the car he was driving on Lexington Road near Mill Street.

He was listed in critical condition in an intensive care unit at N.C. Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem on Monday morning, suffering from head injuries, broken face bones, a broken arm and a broken leg. Treatment of the driver of a pickup truck that collided with Trail's car has left a local family with bitter feelings toward Davie County Hospital.

Route 8, Mocksville, was treated for cuts and bruises and released from Davie County Hospital.

The next morning, family members took him to Baptist Hospital where he was admitted and listed in satisfactory condition on Monday with stable vital signs. He underwent surgery for a blood clot to the brain on Tuesday morning.

A passenger in his truck, Loy Garza, 25, also of Route 8, Mocksville, also was treated and released from Davie County Hospital.

Dixon's family said the teen shouldn't have been released from Davie County Hospital in the first place. And they didn't like the fact that he was released with blood on his face.

"Davie County Hospital didn't even clean my brother

Mother, Son Escape From Burning Home

By Kara Kookan
Davie County Enterprise-Record

A Route 2, Mocksville woman and her son escaped an early morning fire Feb. 14 that destroyed the mobile home they were living in.

The 1979 double-wide home in Farmington Road 1-40 Trailer Park burned to the ground.

According to Davie County Fire Marshal George Frye, the fire was reported at approximately 6 a.m.

Patricia A. Scott, 39, of Route 2, Mocksville, and her son, Eric, 17, were awakened by the fire and managed to escape from the burning trailer.

Scott told Farmington Fire Chief Charles Pilcher that a bright light from the back of the trailer woke her. Scott said she thought it was a night-light but quickly realized the trailer was on fire.

Scott told Frye she had a Please See Family's — Page 4

Two More File For County Commission

Two Republicans filed for county commissioner and a fourth candidate filed for the Davie County Board of Education last week.

Incumbent Bert Bahson of Route 6, Advance and challenger John Barber of Bermuda Run filed for the Republican nomination for one of three county commission seats to be decided by county voters this year. They will join Jeff Harrison and Carl Boon in the GOP primary May 5.

Marlene Boger Shamel of Mocksville joined Creola Rogers, V.G. Prim and Jerry Swicegood in the non-partisan race for two Davie Board of Education seats.

'92 ELECTIONS

Also last week, State Sen. Betsey Cochrane of Bermuda Run filed for re-election.

Bahson, 45, who lives off Yadkin Valley Road, said he has found county government interesting and wants to be involved in the property revaluation process that will take place in the next four years.

"The growth, I'm real tickled with the first four years," he said. "The zoning hearings that

Governor Candidate Losing Underdog Role

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Lacy Thornburg thinks he will be North Carolina's next governor.

In Mocksville last week, the state's attorney general and Democratic candidate for governor said he's no longer an underdog to former Gov. James B. Hunt.

"We tend to be cast as the underdog by the media, but I think that is changing somewhat," he said.

"They're telling me they want a change. They don't want North Carolina as a budget deficit state. They want new leadership."

— Lacy Thornburg, Democratic candidate for governor

"We're beginning to catch on now. We've squelched the rumors that we weren't going to file (Rumors he said were started by the Hunt campaign). They didn't want me in there."

"At his candidacy filing address in Raleigh on Feb. 10, Thornburg compared his race against Hunt to basketball games: N.C. State wasn't supposed to beat Carolina... Carolina wasn't supposed to beat Duke ... There was an electrifying enthusiasm out there — and it's just the beginning," Thornburg said.

Why all the enthusiasm? Thornburg hopes it's because North Carolinians are ready for the type of change he offers.

He said Hunt's campaign is financed by a few big money contributors, while his is financed by twice as many smaller contributors.

"The money doesn't elect candidates, people do," he said.

Thornburg has canvassed the state since announcing his candidacy last October.

"They're telling me they want a change," he said. "They don't want North Carolina as a budget deficit state. They want new leadership — a new direction."

Newest Political Catch Phrase: Economic Growth

The politicians are back — this time with a different message. Gone are the days when they worried about Davie County being overrun by growth. Gone are the days when they thought we could casually select which type of business and industry we would allow to locate here. Those were the days when we thought prosperity would last forever.

We've had a reality check. The boom-boom days of the 1980s have not carried over into the present decade. The nationwide business downturn has hit too close to home. Real estate markets have been hurt here, too. It looks like we will indeed make it to the year 2000 with more than a few undeveloped acres to spare.

Four years ago the fashionable slogan in political races was "quality of life."

This time it will be "economic growth." The last few years have put us back in touch with just how difficult — and important — it is to continue to add to our industrial and commercial base. And we have discovered just how fragile it is. Events far beyond our borders often have more influence than any of our own devices to stimulate growth.

Gov. Jim Martin's search in our area for a hazardous waste incinerator site frightened potential home buyers. Congress' 1986 tax reforms were devastating to development. The national savings and loan scandal caused credit to tighten. President Bush's loss of resolve about no tax increases added to the economic difficulties. The buyouts of RJR Nabisco and Piedmont Airlines have dampened the demand for high-ticket homes in the country.

The county commissioners didn't have a thing to do with any of those factors. Yet, we've been heavily affected by them all.

But the commissioners have done some things to counter those events. Despite the short-term consequences, they have built a new water plant. It means higher rates, but the county voters had indicated emphatically that they didn't want to buy water from Winston-Salem. Even if it was cheaper. We're independent, and proud of it. The new water plant will solve the low-pressure problems in Advance, but we need more thirsty consumers to pay for it. If we get the Unifi factory...

The county also no longer has Davie County Hospital posing as a financial drain. Credit commissioners Bert Bahnon and Diane Foster for the legwork on that, along with Kent Mathewson. The hospital's losses could have continued to rob the county of revenue it needed to spend elsewhere.

The county has also extended sewer to Farmington Road at Interstate 40. That helps expand the Hanes Printables plant, and it opens that important area to more growth.

There's still more room for cooperation with Mocksville and Cooleemee for a united effort for industrial recruitment. Jobs are the cornerstone of any economy. We have the highways, sewer, water, rail and utilities in place to provide for growth. But we have to sell ourselves, and not wait for growth to find us.

The jokes have disappeared about blowing up the Yadkin River bridges and living to ourselves. The rapid growth we worried about has stopped. We appreciate it better now.

Community Reaction Like A Family

To the editor:
In the course of living our lives from day to day, we many times take for granted the blessings that we have. One of those blessings is friends and the common bond of the community in which we live. We have recently been overwhelmingly reminded of the warmth and caring of this community in the way that everyone responded to our family in the death of our precious daughter, Elizabeth.
There are no words that can express our gratitude to everyone for such caring concern. We were lifted up physically by the help at home, by people bringing in food and answering the phone and helping with anything we needed. We were lifted up spiritually, through cards, letters and prayers for our strength. We were cared for emotionally by loving hugs and kisses and people who were just willing to cry with us. We were cared for financially by those who wanted to help out by giving money to help pay the hospital and funeral expenses. We are blessed beyond what we ever could have imagined by living in such a wonderful town and county. We wouldn't want to live anywhere else because we know that we are living among some of the most caring and loving people in the world right here.

The EMS personnel and law enforcement officers were wonderful. The doctors and hospital staff were efficient and professional, yet all were tender and caring in their concern for our whole family. Thank you just doesn't seem adequate, but it is all we can say.
As we try to settle back into some sort of normal life, we do so with a greater appreciation for everyone around us. We are deeply grateful. Elizabeth knew and loved many people here, and enjoyed her short life in Mocksville. Even though we miss her greatly, you have made us feel like "family" and have eased our burden with your love.
We know that because of her love for Jesus, that she is in His care now, but we who are left here have also felt His care through all of you. Thank you so much.

Not A Good Neighbor

To the editor:
For several years, we have endured the dust, noise and general nuisance of construction activities in Bermuda Run and their use of the road in front of our house. We are aware this is a public road. Taxpayers have already had to pay for expensive repairs to the road due to damage caused by these construction vehicles.
At one point, we had agreement with Roger Harris, owner of Bermuda Run, that our road would not be used for Bermuda construction. He later stated he felt that agreement was not binding.
Bermuda Run is not a good neighbor. It protects its residents to the dismay of its neighbors. There is access to their construction sites via their security gate on Highway 801. They used this for some time until their residents complained. They then repaired their damaged street and redirected construction to our road. Their obvious position: No concern for neighbors and certainly the position that it is more desirable for the taxpayers to pay for road construction.
The sign at the entrance to Lybrook Drive from Highway 801 states "No Outlet." That is true for all but Bermuda Run. They unlock their gates to allow their construction traffic on our road. The signs on their gates in contrast acknowledge only their people have access to Bermuda Run.
Any relief from authorities will be appreciated.

Bobcat Taking Not Like Food

To the editor:
I didn't know Mr. Cutler intended to eat the bobcat that Mr. Taylor killed, that is the only logical way to comparing it to steak, seafood, or even cornflakes. As for hunting trophies, the only ones I have ever been impressed by were cars, taken when hunter and hanted had equal ability to kill.

'Support That Head' Creates A Fear Of Babies

There's a saying in the newspaper business about photographs. If you're running short on ideas, just find some young children or babies. Not only do they make great photos, but people love to see them as well.

Turn to section D, and you'll find plenty of photographs of young children in the Enterprise Record's first "baby section."

One father told us he was afraid of babies until he had his own. He didn't like to hold babies, afraid he might break them.

It brought back memories of my family.

Being the baby myself, I was never around young children much while growing up. Then my older brothers and sisters started getting married.

My mother, being the kind soul she is, decided it was time for some grandchildren. The problem was, my older brothers and sisters apparently weren't ready for children.

Is there a subtle way for a potential grandmother to drop a hint? Should she just tell them to hurry it up? Should she sabotage the birth control?

Mom was too smooth for any of that. At Christmas one year, each of her children, except the bachelor (Whew! Did I luck out) received a baby doll from Santa Claus. Baby dolls are common Christmas presents, but not for grown, married children such as hers. Could it be she was dropping a hint?

You betcha.

They took the hint, too.

Call it a race, of sorts. Who could make momma a nanny first?

My oldest sister won. She's no dummy, either. Not only did she catch the baby doll hint, she named the first grandchild Mary. That also happens to be mom's name.

I was proud of Mary, too. I liked the sound of "Uncle Mike." The first few times my sister brought Mary over, there weren't any problems. You couldn't pry the baby from nanny's arms with a crowbar.

Then one day after the new had worn off, someone said

it. "Hey Uncle Mike, don't you want to hold Mary?"

No way. My sister had finally given my mother her first grandchild. I wasn't about to ruin everything and break it.

They insisted. I resisted. They insisted some more. They told me there was nothing to it, that I couldn't break Mary, just to be sure to hold her head up. I had a vision of forgetting to support the baby's head and it plopping right off her shoulders onto the floor. The spit-ups and other fluids babies let go didn't bother me half as much as worrying about making my niece headless. Nope, ya'll go ahead and hold her. I'll just stand back and watch.

They insisted some more, and finally I gave in, but on my own terms. I sat on the sofa, made a cradle with my arms and they placed Mary into the cradle. Man, I was stiff as a statue. I didn't move an inch, just looked down at little Mary and smiled. The whole family paraded in to look at me holding the baby. They laughed, but I didn't care. I was holding my niece. They took a picture, but I didn't care.

I just looked at Mary and smiled, but I didn't dare move. Her head was too cute.

Two Are Glad Davie Has New EMS Station

To the editor:

Christy True and Alison Davis, along with their families, would like to thank all of the kindhearted people who stopped and/or assisted with the car wreck on the night of Jan. 31. We wish to also thank the Davie County EMS. The EMS responded to the site of the wreck on Baltimore Road, near Cornatzer Road, in six minutes. They were able to do this by way of a satellite station which is located in Hillsdale. The station helps them cut their response time by a little over half. Before the station, the EMS responded to an emergency from Mocksville; however, with the station they now have better coverage of the county. Thank you.

U.S. Needs To Go To Flat Rate Taxing

To the editor:

It has been stated by numerous news sources that only 30 percent of the people in America pay taxes.

The working class of America are supporting the other 70 percent when it comes to paying taxes.

Now that we know what the problem is, it seems a simple solution would solve this one problem.

What we need is a fair tax structure for the people of America. Why not a flat rate for everyone, with no loopholes, no special rates or considerations for anyone.

President Bush has proposed his ideas, but it seems congress is not going to cooperate to make themselves look good in the voters' eyes. What we are seeing in Washington is called fleeing the flock, the flock being the 30 percent of Americans who pay all the taxes to support all of America's give-away programs.

I would much rather see a flat rate tax structure put into our society than to see a huge backlash of the working class of America against the rich.

Common sense should be used to help solve the problem of a fair tax structure. To be truly fair to everyone in America, the flat rate is the only way to go.

Celebrating Important Birthdays

To the editor:

This past weekend we celebrated the birthdays of two of our favorite presidents; President George Washington and President Abraham Lincoln, and although these two great men were famous for shaping our lives, we soon forget that behind every great man is a woman.

This weekend just like last weekend, I will be celebrating the birthday of one of the greatest women to ever come into my life.

Some of you may have had the privilege of getting to know her in her short six years of residence in Mocksville. Others may not know her at all. To those of you who do know her, you know what I mean when I say she is the best woman God has ever put on the face of this earth. And to those of you who don't know her, it would be a blessing to you to do your utmost best to get acquainted with this special woman.

To some, she is known as "Granny," to others she is known as "The 4 M's," but to me she is known as My Mother, Marjorie M. Meadows.

I just would like to say publicly "Happy 70th birthday Mom, I love you very much, and look forward to you being around another 70 years. May you have a great day and may the sunshine of heaven rain upon you. You are very special to me and my life and without you and Reva, I wouldn't make it."

Bail Bonds Are Not Punishment

Any person arrested for an offense is entitled to pretrial release under conditions set by the appropriate judicial official, with one exception. That exception applies only to a person who has escaped from or whose absence is unauthorized from a mental health facility.

The four conditions of pretrial release are: (1) written promise to appear or; (2) unsecured appearance bond in an amount specified by the judicial official or; (3) release the defendant into the custody of a designated person or organization agreeing to supervise the defendant or; (4) execution of an appearance bond in a specified amount secured by a cash deposit of the full amount, or by a mortgage pursuant to General Statute 109-25, or by at least one solvent surety.

We will discuss the fourth condition, relating to the posting of an appearance bond. The judicial official involved is going to consider many factors in arriving at an amount for the bond. In no event can a bond be set as punishment, a bond is only to assure the defendant will appear for his assigned court date. Some of the factors considered are the nature and circumstances of the offense, the defendant's family ties, employment, financial resources, character, mental condition, length of residence in the community.

Once a bond has been set, it can be posted in full with cash. It can also be posted by a property bond; that is, a person owning real property with an equity sufficient to equal or better the bond can post a property bond once the ownership and equity has been verified. If the property is outside the county where bond is required, the verification requires a certified deed from the clerk of court in the county where the property is located. A property bond for $5,001 and greater will require a promissory note and deed of trust and this will require the assistance of an attorney.

Another method of posting bond is to utilize the services of a professional bondsman. If the bondsman agrees to handle the bond for a defendant, his fee is 15 percent of the bond paid in advance. This amounts to $15 per hundred, therefore a $5,000 bond will require the payment to the bondsman of $750 up front.

If a person who has posted a bond for another wants to get off the bond, it is necessary that the defendant be surrendered to the facility from which he was bonded. A bail bond posted is generally effective and binding upon the obligor throughout all stages of proceeding in the trial division of the General Court of Justice until the entry of judgment.

A bail bond may be declared forfeited if the defendant does not comply with the conditions of the bail bond, or if the defendant does not appear before the court. This brief review of the forfeiture is general and it takes time to complete a forfeiture and anyone faced with this probably needs an attorney.

If arrested, a person can make bond, but must recognize the constraints and consequences of failing to appear.

have come to us are for special uses. At least they've (developers) got a plan ... for this or that type of business. I think I've had something to do with that.

"The growth we have had has been good growth — good stuff and good people."

Johnson, who operates the family Win-Mock Farm, said he has raised questions on the board that wouldn't have been raised had he not been there.

His wife is Susan, and he has two sons and a daughter.

Barber, 66, a retired Davie County manager, said working with management in four counties gave him an insight into how to positively get things done.

"After spending 21 years in local government as a manager, I still have strong feelings for what makes local government go," he said. "When you retire, you don't want to sit down. I would much rather be participating in what's going on."

He said he will try to bring environmentally safe industries to Davie County to provide jobs for local people.

"I don't think anyone can say we're going to have a no-growth policy. That has never worked," he said. "I think it's important we plan for growth. I'm a great believer in teamwork."

Before entering county work, Barber was a planning manager at Edwin Mills and then Burlington Industries, both in Cooleenace.

Barber and wife Hazelanne have two grown children.

Shamel, 44, who lives off Deadman Road, said she is ready to put some of the knowledge she has gained volunteering in schools to work on the school board.

"I'm very interested in the schools. I've been a volunteer there for nine years. I'm a professional volunteer, that's what my husband calls me."

"I feel very strongly about parental involvement — a must for every child's education."

Strengthening the parental involvement in schools would help the students, the schools and the community, Shamel said.

A volunteer of the year award recipient from three Davie schools, Shamel said she volunteers at least two days a week at three schools. She helps husband Joe on a cattle farm. They have three daughters in public schools.

Cochrane, 56, is seeking reelection of sorts. She's in the new 38th District, which includes Davie County, which she represents now. The new district includes a portion of Clemmons as well as part of Davidson and Rowan counties.

Cochrane, a Republican, served four terms in the N.C. House, and was House Minority leader for two terms. She is completing her second term in the N.C. Senate.

A teacher for 11 years and the mother of a son and daughter, Cochrane is an advocate for educational reform and improved teacher training.

"I successfully proposed legislation in 1991 that toughens the penalties and increases the fine for anyone carrying a weapon on school property," she said.

She is an advocate for in-home services for the elderly and for clean water. Her legislation changed the law on permitting for sewage package plants so that local input is required before the bureaucracy in Raleigh issues a permit.

Cochrane is serving her second term as co-chair of the Commission on Aging. She serves on the Governor's Advisory Budget Commission, the Southern Regional Education Board, the Public School Forum of North Carolina, and the Legislative Services Commission, as well as many study commissions.

She just completed a year as chair of the Joint Legislative Ethics Committee for the General Assembly.

Filing Still Open

Filing for these offices, as well as the N.C. House and county register of deeds, continues until noon on Monday, March 2, at the board of elections, county courthouse.

up. They just told him to go home and take a hot shower, you'll be all right," his sister said.

They fear permanent brain damage or worse, and are considering legal action against the Davie hospital, she said.

Davie hospital administrator Mike Kimel said emergency room staff apparently did the job they were supposed to do.

They checked Dixon's bruises, and put stitches in a cut. They treated all injuries that were apparent, Kimel said.

Because it was a head injury, Kimel said the emergency room staff gave Dixon a written list of symptoms and told him to return to the emergency room if any of those symptoms occurred. "Apparently, he had some of those symptoms and decided to go to Baptist instead of return here," Kimel said.

Kimel said patients visiting the emergency room aren't cleaned before they are released. "They would clean a wound, but if there's blood dried up somewhere else on the body, no, they wouldn't clean them up," he said.

Both Dixon and Garza were thrown from the truck during the accident. Neither was wearing a seat belt, reported Mocksville Police Officer K.L. Hunter.

Garza went more than 40 feet, landing on Mill Street at the Lexington Highway intersection, Hunter said. Dixon landed near a ditch and the car driven by Trail.

The car and truck were each traveling at an estimated 45 mph when they collided on the wet road, Hunter reported.

Dixon was driving the truck east, lost control of it coming out of a curve, crossing the center line into the path of Trail's car, Hunter said. There were no skid marks on the highway, he said.

Charges are pending. Both vehicles were a total loss.

Family's Home Burns To Ground

smoke detector in the trailer, but said the alarm was probably not working. Scott said she did not know how the fire had started.

Frye said the fire was "fully involved" when Farmington Fire Department arrived. Smith Grove assisted. Fire fighters remained on the scene until about 10:30 a.m.

Scott told Frye she and her son were planning to stay with her sister in Statesville.

Frye said officials from Red Cross spoke with Scott about obtaining any essential items she and her son might need. Frye estimated Scott's total loss to be about $20,000 — $10,000 for the mobile home and $10,000 for the contents.

Frye said investigators are uncertain as to what caused the fire. The fire was the second mobile home fire to occur in less than a week in Davie County.

Tom Rasmussen, fire and arson SBI agent for the northwestern district of the state, said he has "probably investigated at least 200 mobile home fires" since 1971.

Rasmussen said there are several factors that contribute to the frequency of mobile home fires.

In a regular house fire, Rasmussen said the roof will serve as a ventilator for the smoke and heat. But in a mobile home fire, Rasmussen said the heat has virtually no way to escape. Instead, the metal walls and ceiling of the mobile home reflect the heat and contain it within the trailer.

"We call it the baked potato effect," Rasmussen said. "The mobile home reacts like an oven."

Because trailer homes are built to be mobile, Rasmussen said their construction is generally not as solid as a regular home. For this reason, Rasmussen said people living in mobile homes need to be aware that vibration can wear the insulation off of electric wires.

Frye said occupants must be especially careful when using kerosene heaters in mobile homes. Frye said the heaters require at least three feet of clearance, all the way around, from anything combustible, and many mobile homes do not allow for enough space.

In addition to these factors, Rasmussen said low ceilings and long, narrow hallways tend to make mobile homes burn more readily than regular houses. Rasmussen said the "narrow hallway functions as a horizontal chimney," pulling the fire through the home, and the low ceiling allows the heat to "peak quicker."

Most modern mobile homes are equipped with fire-resistant, sheet rock paneling, Rasmussen said, but the walls of older models are covered with "Ivan paneling, a very thin wood product that will burn just like a piece of paper."

In 14 minutes, Rasmussen said an "average" house fire could be contained to two rooms, while a mobile home would probably have already burned to the ground.

Even though the construction of mobile homes has "improved greatly," Rasmussen said occupants still need to be cautious.

Rasmussen and Frye agreed that two of the best precautions people can take against fires are smoke detectors and escape plans.

"Get smoke detectors and practice EDITH (Exit Drills in the Home)," Rasmussen said, "and if you do have a fire in your home, get out fast and call 911."

Thornburg: 'Education First'

care, the environment — that will be on the platforms of all candidates.

Thornburg said the state can't wait for the federal government to do something about health care. He suggests a cooperative effort between business, insurance companies, hospitals and doctors.

On crime, he said the state needs to expand its prison system more quickly, as authorized by the voters. Abandoned schools and military bases are alternative sites to new prisons that should be considered.

"We can't tolerate someone spending 10 months in prison on a 10-year sentence," he said. "We need to put prisoners to work. I think we do need to afford them training opportunities, but we can do it after hours."

Long term solutions to the crime problem would be continued support for the DARE, Community Watch, CrimeStoppers and similar programs. Churches, schools and communities need to be involved. "We've got to get our families beefed up."

The state has been adopting the budget backward, Thornburg said, suggesting that priorities be put in the right order. "Up front, you fund your education programs and your law enforcement programs ... and then move on down the table ..."

He is an advocate of more day care for underprivileged preschoolers, so all students will be on a more even level when they start school.

He wants students to advance through school based on achievement, not grade levels.

"Those things can turn around the poor SAT dilemma, and you get these youngsters available for the jobs," he said, adding that most jobs require two years training after high school.

"The obvious is — you don't have a lot of educated people in prison. You don't have a lot of educated people unemployed."

He is an advocate of offering more incentives for businesses already in the state to expand, rather than putting most economic development funds into recruiting new industry. State industries need to more aggressively pursue overseas markets.

He said the idea for an air cargo complex is good, but he questions the need for such a big airport. "We first should explore existing opportunities that are at the three major facilities (airports) we already have. All three have vacant space available ... and are anxious to work with existing or new industries."

Thornburg opposes a hazardous waste incinerator and landfill as it is being proposed. It is too large, and there are no guarantees that North Carolina's wastes would be handled there, nor are there guarantees that hazardous waste wouldn't be accepted from anywhere.

He said North Carolina shouldn't feel obligated to dispose of hazardous wastes from neighboring states, when N.C. industries pay well for services they contract with now in South Carolina, Alabama and other states.

Because industry is becoming more responsible and producing less hazardous wastes, a $0,000 ton facility as proposed is too big, Thornburg said.

"We should make a decision as to whether we really need a hazardous waste treatment facility."

Sentence Is Suspended In Child Assault

Randy D. James, 26, of Route 4, Mocksville, was given a two-year suspended sentence in Davie District Court last week after pleading guilty to assault on a child under age 12. James was in court on a first degree sex offense with a child, but under a plea arrangement worked out between his attorney, Hank Van Hoy, and the assistant district attorneys James Mock and Mary Hedrick, he was allowed to plead to the lesser offense.

Marcheta Williams with the Davie County Department of Social Services told Judge Robert W. Johnson, that the department was informed that James' 3-year-old daughter had been sexually abused on Oct. 8.

Van Hoy said his client denied hurting the girl, but alcohol was involved and that was the reason for his guilty plea. "We want him to get the family counseling and alcohol counseling he needs."

James had been living away from home since the incident.

Judge Johnson ordered that the defendant be placed on probation for five years, attend abuse counseling, obtain a substance abuse assessment and comply with recommendations of assessing agency, not be in the presence of his daughter without another adult and pay a $300 fine and court costs.

Town Waits On Building Inspector

Town officials decided last week to wait on possible condemnation proceedings on a house off Hickory Street before taking action.

Penny Tysinger, code enforcement officer from Benchmark, told town board members the house owner, Mildred James Pfeiffer, had made some improvements to the property but it still didn't meet the town ordinance. Pfeiffer didn't attend the last two hearings concerning violations on the property, Tysinger said.

Town board members could have the property cleaned and bill Pfeiffer, but delayed such action until the county building inspector has a hearing on whether to condemn the building.

Town In Chamber Of Commerce

Cooleemee Town Board members unanimously agreed last week to pay the $96 dues to remain a member of the Mocksville-Davie Chamber of Commerce. "Hopefully, they'll help us with some industry," said Mayor Bill Gales.

Speed Limit To Change At School

The speed limit on Marginal Street in front of Cooleemee Elementary School will likely change from 35 mph to 25 mph from 30 minutes before school starts until 30 minutes after school lets out.

Town board members last week voted to request that the N.C. Department of Transportation make the change.

'Moonlighting' Policy Approved

The number of hours police officers can work while off duty, things such as serving as security guards at the auto auction, will be limited now that a moonlighting policy has been adopted by the town board.

The purpose is to protect the town. The policy states the town will not be liable for any problems or injuries the officer could face while working off duty.

Board member Bill Cranfill asked if officers working security for private business should be allowed to wear their town uniforms while doing so. "No," said Town Attorney Hank VanHoy. Mayor Bill Gales said officers weren't wearing uniforms while working off duty.

Rec Center Walking Track Eyed

Mayor Bill Gales wants the town to maintain a walking track around the inside of the fence at the recreation center.

He made the suggestion while the board was hearing a list of planned landscaping improvements, which also include new gravel for the drive, sand for play areas, new grass and stump removals.

Gales said the walking track should be well lit. "We do have a lot of our people who like to walk and this may be a good place for them," he said. "And they wouldn't have to worry about the dogs," said board member Bill Cranfill.

Watt St., 801 Improvements OK'd

Improvements will be made to an overgrown area at Watt Street and N.C. 801, despite worries by one town commissioner that the work is being approved without a set price.

The town agreed to have the N.C. Department of Transportation clean, grade and seed the area with grass. It will be paid for by town Powell Bill (street) funds.

"Are we going to get a figure before they do the work," asked board member Bob Jordan. "I would like to have some kind of idea of what we're going to spend. I'm not against doing it."

Mayor Bill Gales said the town normally pays DOT by the hour, and the costs weren't out of line on past jobs. He urged approval of the project. "When you cross the river coming into town, that's one of the first areas you see," he said.

Jordan and Grimes Parker were asked to negotiate a price with DOT, and proceed if they think the price is reasonable.

Davie Woman Hurt In Fire

By Kara Kooker
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Doris J. Boulding, 55, of Route 7, Mocksville, was taken to Davie County Hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation after a fire damaged her mobile home off of Junction Road Monday, Feb. 10.

According to Davie County Fire Marshall George Frye, the fire was reported at 2:48 p.m. Both Cooleemee and Jewellville fire departments were called.

Frye said Boulding was alone at the time of the accident, and she told him she was in the kitchen area when she first smelled the smoke.

After speaking with Boulding from her hospital room, Friday, Feb. 14, Boulding said she does not remember what happened. She thought she may have been asleep when the fire started, and said the smell of the smoke woke her.

Frye said he is not certain what caused the fire, but believes some "smoking material, possibly a cigarette," located near a couch in the living room, started the fire. Frye said remnants of an ashtray were found near the couch.

Boulding said she has smoked, but did not know what caused the fire. Frye said officials from the fire departments remained at the scene for about an hour and a half. Fire damage to the living room and smoke damage to the rest of the trailer was estimated at $6,500, Frye said.

Boulding said she lost a Siamese cat and a Cockatiel in the fire. Frye said the cat, which appeared to have died of smoke inhalation, was found, but the bird never was.

Boulding, a diabetic, was taken to Davie County Hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation.

"I already had a problem with my lungs and sugar," Boulding said.

Boulding was scheduled to be released from the hospital Friday afternoon after the Monday fire.

Perun Is Autumn Care Head

Edmond L. Perun has been hired as the new administrator at Autumn Care nursing home in Mocksville.

Perun, of Charlotte, said he hopes to continue with the quality care at the nursing home and is looking forward to being on-board for renovations and an expansion expected to take place soon.

"We'll maintain good resident care by good staffing, good food and concern for the patient," he said.

Perun, with more than 15 years experience in hospital administration, said he is lucky to get a job with a company with Autumn Care's reputation.

"I was amazed," he said. "I wish I wish I could a job with Autumn Care and then I did. They needed a person here."

Perun is planning to move to Davie County with his wife, Shirley. They have two grown sons.

A Rotarian, Perun also hopes to get involved in community activities, something he missed while serving as administrator at a hospital in Saudi Arabia recently.

"The one thing I missed the most was community contact," he said. "You had people contact — not community involvement."

Local Farmers Do Well In Contest

State and regional winners of the 1991 corn, soybean and wheat yield contest were announced Jan. 16 at the joint annual meeting of the N.C. Small Grain, Corn, and Soybean Producers Associations in Raleigh.

Henry Walker, of the Davie Academy Community, broke the state soybean yield record that was set in 1970, but ended up in second place in state yield competition with a 73.1 bushels per acre certified yield. Walker's yield was surpassed by a 74.4 bushels per acre yield recorded in nearby Rowan County by the Knox Hill Farm.

These two yields represent the two highest ever certified in North Carolina. Walker also certified two other yields in excess of 60 bu/acre.

Spurgeon Foster Jr., of Davie County took first place and statewide honors in the maximum efficiency yield contest, which recognizes yields produced at the lowest cost. Foster had a 65 bu/acre yield in Davidson County for which per bushel cost was $2.12. Foster also recorded two 60 bu/acre or more in Randolph County.

Charles Lee of Route 1, Mocksville also recorded two yields in excess of 60 bu/acre. This high yield achievement is recognized by induction into the N.C. 60 Bushel Yield Club. Lee, Foster and Walker were all inducted into the prestigious 60 Bushel Yield Club.

"Henry Walker and Charles Lee are a lot of things tight — fields limited, good plant population stands, adequate weed control, etc. — and when the good Lord saw fit to provide an excellent growing season, some very high yields resulted," said Ronnie W. Thompson, County Extension Director. "Some people might say it's luck, and certainly we have to accept whatever type growing season comes, but these soybean producers had worked hard to do things right, and the weather just made it possible for their efforts to reach full potential."

"Davie County is blessed with a sizeable number of progressive agricultural producers, and the Cooperative Extension Service is proud to be able to conduct the yield contest and use the results as an educational tool, and at the same time provide a tool for deserving people to get recognition for their professional efforts."

The purpose of the state corn, soybean and small grain yield contests is to encourage corn producers to use all available environmentally-sound production practices to produce a profitable crop; to determine which combined management and production practices are producing the highest yields for a given region; and to recognize those growers who do an outstanding job of producing one or more of these crops.

Hotpoint Honors Daniel Furniture

Daniel Furniture and Electric of Mocksville has been named the 1991 Hotpoint "Dealer of the Year" for the Triad region.

Owner Johnny Marklin accepted the award from area salesman Steve Weller.

"It's based on performance, support for the line," Weller said. "Usually, at the end of the year, we look at which dealers have been helpful to us with information."

Daniel Furniture and Electric was chosen for the award from about 60 accounts, Weller said.

Safety Council Honors Fire Marshal

The Davie County Fire Marshal's Office received an award from the National Fire Safety Council, a federally sanctioned, non-profit organization dedicated to the fire safety education of children.

This program consists of fire safety manuals, junior fireman badges, posters and other fire prevention materials geared to each child's age level. This program is done in grades K-5 with the cooperation of the Davie County Schools.

The program is made possible by contributions from the Davie County business and industrial community whose names appear on the back covers of the workbooks as sponsors of the program.

Ralph Larsen, state fire safety coordinator for the NFSC, presented the plaque to George Frye Jr., Davie County Fire Marshal; 1992 will be the second year Davie County children will receive the materials. About 2,400 children and teachers are involved.

School Briefs

Community Involved In Schools

Decisions concerning Davie schools aren't all made by top administrators and school board members. Dr. Bill Steed, superintendent, told board of education members last week that Davie is ahead of many other schools in teacher and community involvement in decision making. Such involvement was discussed at a regional meeting with top state school officials. "While we get very frustrated at times, I came away from that meeting feeling very good about the system in Davie County," Steed said. "We give our employees and citizens an input on what we do on a regular basis."

All Can Help Improve Schools

While educators are looking for ways to improve student performance, they can't do the job alone, said Davie schools superintendent, Dr. Bill Steed. Steed recited the six national goals for education by the year 2000: that all children come to school ready to learn; that 90 percent will graduate from high school; that students are competent in all subjects, making them life learners and productive citizens and workers; that math and science be emphasized; that 100 percent be literate; and that schools not have drugs and violence. "There's got to be a change in society for these goals to happen," Steed said. "We have got to pull together to realize these goals."

Calendar Committee Approved

The following were approved by the Davie County Board of Education last week to serve on a committee to plan the 1992-93 school calendar: education board members V.G. Prim and Luther Potts, principals W.G. Potts and Bill Campbell, teachers Barbara Hattaway and Gladys Scott, parents Cathy Hage and Jane Simpson, and students Brock Patrick, Keri Draughn and Beth Wall.

New Policy Results In Less Tardies

Davie High School Assistant Principal Melvin Fogg told board of education members last week that a new attendance policy has resulted in fewer tardies. Fogg said, however, that the policy shouldn't get the credit for the greatly reduced number of class tardies. "Policy is not what gets the people here — it's programs and the people involved," he said. Among the statistics he presented for the first semester: 78 percent of students who have been tardy have been so twice or less; 48 percent of students have no tardies; 65 percent of total tardies were to school and first period.

Dr. Bill Steed, superintendent, said the board shouldn't apologize for the policy, that students should be expected to be on class on time.

The policy was praised by Dr. Herman Eure, school advisory council president. "We're trying to develop a sense of responsibility among the students," Eure said. "The responsibility is theirs to do the best job they can."

DHS Advisory Chairman Has Goals

Dr. Herman Eure, chairman of the Davie High School Advisory Council, told board of education members last week of the group's, and his goals for the school, which include: An academic boosters club. "These kids who do well academically never get recognized."

More money for the library, for coaches and for all employees. An emphasis on different learning styles. Teachers must be able to adapt to the needs of students, he said.

Steps should be taken to be sure athletes don't fall through the seams, that they receive help in academics to keep them competing.

That more efficient use of funds be made. He noted that a state study showed Davie was 16th in its ability to pay for schools but was 96th in what was actually spent.

That an auditorium be built. "It's not a luxury," he said. "It's an integral part of the cultural aspect we need at Davie High School."

Learning Natural To All Children

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Don't even think about telling Dr. William Purkey that a child doesn't want to learn.

He'll start ranting and raving about blue (positive) and orange (negative) cards (influences), saying that if a child isn't learning in school it is the teacher's and school's fault — not because the child isn't able or doesn't want to learn.

"Doesn't want to learn? That is impossible," Purkey told a group of Davie educators and parents at Mocksville Elementary Schools "Wings of Discovery" workshop last week.

"That is the most human thing about us — we're nosy. How many of you slow down for an accident? You're nosy from the day you're born to the day you die."

Purkey talked about the role of schools and teachers. They must make school an inviting place for children. He announced that Mocksville Elementary had been named an invitational school by the International Alliance for Invitational Education.

"The heart of education is education with a heart," Purkey said. "They don't care how much we know until they know how much we care."

"Teaching is nothing more than getting a child to fall in love with things. Education is an attitude."

He told the story of the Wizard of Oz, about the scarecrow with no brain who kept having brilliant ideas, about the tin man with no heart who kept crying, about the lion with no courage who kept doing brave things — and about the wizard who gave them awards for the skills they had.

"That's what good teachers do every day," Purkey said. "It isn't the techniques. It's the people in the process that make a difference."

"When you were born, you had a magnificent computer located between your ears. Every single person has the ability to store 20 billion data cards. That's what you can do in a lifetime, what your child can do in a lifetime."

"Every child is magnificently built, if you can invite them to use it."

Children are born to learn, Purkey said. "You could close every school in the United States and a 6 year old child would still learn about eight new words a day."

He said everything someone learns is either positive or negative, that there are no neutral things.

"Everything you do, everything you teach a child has a context."

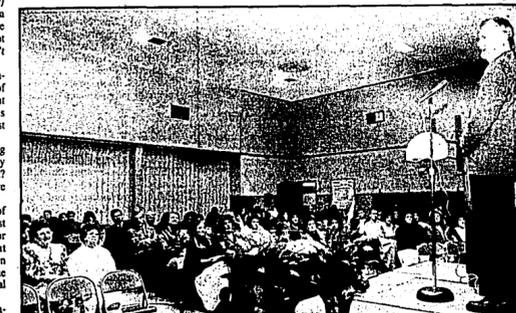

He told another story of a third grader visiting her teacher with her father. Excited, the girl told her teacher her mother had just had a baby. The teacher turned to the father and asked if it was a boy or girl. The father said, "Ask Tracie."

"Thank heaven there are fathers out there like Tracie's," Purkey said. "She lit up, and told the teacher everything there was to know about her new baby brother."

It's a lesson schools can use, Purkey said.

"Whatever school is, it should not be a place where children think very early this is not a place for me. It happens before the third grade, you can spot a potential dropout then."

Class Project Creates Friendship

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Last year, Todd Bailey wrote a letter to "any soldier" serving in the War in the Gulf.

It was part of a class project at South Davie Junior High School.

Michael Czalowski got one of those letters. It started a friendship that has lasted.

Czalowski recently drove from his home in Kentucky to visit the Davie teen-ager who took time to write him.

"The mail we got was just addressed to any soldier," Czalowski said. "I picked a few out and his happened to be one of them. We've corresponded ever since I got his first letter."

"I would give him a call every now and then and he calls me," Bailey said the soldier in the Persian Gulf, and later Germany, became his friend.

"I would tell him my personal problems," Bailey said. "I just felt close to him after writing a few times, like I had known him for a while."

Czalowski said the friendship was mutual.

"Some of the guys got that any soldier mail, read it and then tossed it," he said. "I usually tried to get a letter from close to home. You correspond to somebody and you hear from them once or twice, and you don't hear from them again. Except for this one here."

"If he took the time to write, I could take the time to write and come and visit him."

Bailey's mother, Sharon Parsell, helped her son to write some of the letters. "You never hear tell of people who write letters like this to meet each other," she said.

While visiting, Czalowski ran around with Bailey, playing basketball at friends' houses and lifting weights at the Davie Family YMCA.

And shopping, mostly at an Army surplus store. "He's spoiling him rotten," Bailey's mother said.

Czalowski also has advice for Bailey, a Davie High sophomore and ROTC student who hopes to become a Navy Seal.

MES An Inviting School

Micksville Elementary School has been awarded the Inviting School Award presented by the Alliance for Invitational Education, an international organization of professional educators, as announced by Dr. William W. Purkey, co-founder of the Alliance, during Mocksville Elementary School's annual parent education seminar, Wings of Discovery, Thursday evening.

The purpose of the Inviting School Award is to identify and call attention to schools throughout the world who exhibit the philosophy of invitational education. This philosophy is centered of five propositions: (1) that people are able, valuable, and responsible and should be treated accordingly, (2) that education should be a cooperative activity, (3) that process is as important as product, (4) that people possess untapped potential in all areas of human development, and (5) that this potential can best be realized by places, policies, and programs that are specifically designed to invite development, and by people who are intentionally inviting to themselves and others personally and professionally.

For a school to receive the Inviting School Award a member of the Alliance of Invitational Education submits a letter of nomination, explaining the reasons why the award should be made. On the basis of the nominating letter the Alliance sends a questionnaire to the school to be completed by a representative group of parents, teachers, students, and the administrator. On the basis of the questionnaire, approximately 120 schools internationally have been identified for the Inviting School Award.

Mocksville Elementary School was nominated for the Inviting School Award in October 1991. A committee of students Diana Bahson, Katie Bernhard, Luis Soto; parents Vicki Balsley, Rachel James, Marlene Shamel; teachers Anike Fuller, Shirley McMillan, Darlene Tuterey; and principal Jeff Alberty met in November to complete the Inviting Schools questionnaire. Micksville Elementary will receive a special award decal for public display, will be listed in the Honor Roll of Inviting Schools, and will be highlighted in the Alliance for Invitational Education Newsletter, which is mailed regularly to over 500 members from throughout the United States, Canada and overseas.

Davie High HO Students Get Awards

Twelve students from Kate Wilson's occupational health class at Davie High School won awards at the Health Occupations Students of America District Competition Jan. 30.

Five were first place winners. In years past, Wilson said her students had returned from the competition with as many as 12 trophies, but she said 1992 is the first year she's had five first place winners.

The competition was held at Wilkes Community College with an additional five students placing in the top ten. The 12 first, second, third and fourth place winners will attend the state competition in Winston-Salem April 5-7.

First place winners were: Melissa Hendrix, medical terminology; Amy James, medical math; Marcia Wilson, job seeking skills; Keri Draughn, research paper and speech; and Anessa Atkins, informative speech.

Second place winners were: Amy Boyce, medical terminology spelling; and Ginger Allen, dental terminology.

Third place winners were: Christie Joyner, medical math; Holly Covington, medical terminology; and Christa Rucker, dental terminology.

Fourth place winners were: Tamara Williams, informative speech; and April Oliphant, medical terminology.

Students who placed in the top 10 were: Denise Burton, nursing assisting; Angela Wall, medical terminology; Meresa Jones, dental terminology; Dawn Johnson, informative speech; and Heather Welch, extemporaneous speech.

Joey Kennedy Named To State Technical Committee

A Davie High School industrial cooperative training (ICT) teacher had been named to a state technical committee designed to strengthen trade and industrial programs in North Carolina schools.

Joey Kennedy of Mocksville is scheduled to attend the group's first meeting on Feb. 19 in Raleigh, when they will talk about the role of a technical committee, hear an overview of ICT and industrial maintenance programs, look at curriculum designs and a summer vocational education workshop.

The committee functions as a liaison between schools and business, to see what skills students should possess to obtain jobs and how to best educate them to achieve those skills.

Kennedy has also been elected vice president of the N.C. Industrial Cooperative Training Coordinator's Association.

Wrestlers Win Fifth Title In Six Years

Wrestlers' Message: 'We're Baaaaaack'

BOONE — The Davie County wrestlers didn't need a van to bring them home from Boone Saturday night.

They could have leaped off the mountain and still landed on their feet.

That's how perfect their day was in winning the Midwest 4-A regional tournament at Watauga High School. They could do no wrong.

And their message all the way down the mountain?

"We're baaaaaack."

After stunning the wrestling community a couple of weeks earlier by losing two straight dual matches, the once invincible War Eagles also got the program back on its feet and squelched the rumor that Davie wrestling wasn't up to par this year.

Around 9:30 a.m. Saturday morning, the semifinals were still an hour away from starting. No one was stirring inside the Watauga gym except a few statisticians, as well as several mothers cooking food in the hospital-tyroom. Lowery was there, walking around alone, contemplating his team's 10-point deficit to Grimsley after the opening day.

"We've got five in the semifinals," he said, "and we can score at least 10 points for every win. This is the most important round. We can win all five matches too. We just have to go out there and do it."

That's pretty much what he had told his wrestlers earlier that morning. He sat them down in the lobby of the High Country Inn and discussed the possibilities.

"They were more relaxed than I was," he admitted.

The first match of the semifinals pitted Jon Ward against South Stokes' Eddie Linster, the Metro Conference Wrestler of the Year.

That's going to be the toughest match he has," Lowery worried.

It wasn't. Ward stunned the crowd and the 28-1 Linster by pinning him in the second period.

After that, one could sense that Davie's five wrestlers were going to have some kind of day. Everything seemed to snowball. Brad Kropfelder, Chris Mann and Shane Mauldin

Six Wrestlers Qualify For State Tournament

BOONE — Davie County wrestling coach Buddy Lowery was very prophetic last week when he said, "When Jon Ward wins, we win."

Davie's 125-pounder won two big Saturday matches in leading the War Eagles to their fifth Midwest 4-A Regional wrestling title in the last six years. Davie finished with 119½ points, 14 more than Central Piedmont Conference rival Grimsley.

Ward, the second seed at 125 pounds, defeated South Stokes' Eddie Linster, the Metro Conference Wrestler of the Year, by pin in the semifinals and then dominated top-seeded Robert Nance of Hickory in the championship round, winning a major decision, 16-3.

His win in the finals wrapped up the team championship. For his efforts, he was named Most Valuable Wrestler.

Ward, 25-1, was one of five Davie wrestlers to make the finals, held Saturday night at Watauga High School. Shane Mauldin was Davie's other champion at 160, pinning South Caldwell's Jason Mashburn. Brad Kropfelder (130 pounds), Chris Mann (152) and James Coulston (171) finished second.

The top four wrestlers qualified for the state tournament, which will be held Friday and Saturday at the Greensboro Coliseum. Davie's 135-pounder Lee Albarty will join the group. He won the consolation finals and finished third.

Davie Girls Passing Tests In Second Half

Brown, Jenkins Hit Late Baskets To Beat West Forsyth, Demons

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

CLEMMONS — In the first half of the season, Davie County's sophomore-laden varsity girls basketball team had to learn to play on a different — and higher — level.

Four games into the second half, the Davie youngsters have obviously taken notes. Thanks to late baskets by Carrie Brown and Casey Jenkins last week, the War Eagles are now passing their tests with flying colors.

Davie won its second straight game in the final seconds Friday night, defeating West Forsyth 53-52. Coupled with a 29-27 victory over Reynolds earlier in the week, the War Eagles have now won three of their last four games.

"This feels so good," exclaimed coach Angie Jarvis. "Every win is more confidence for these girls. We lost some tough games in the first half so winning games like we did this week really helps."

Against Reynolds, Brown hit a 10-footer at the buzzer for a two-point win.

Against West, Jenkins rebounded a missed shot and scored with 17 seconds left for what proved to be the winning points.

"It's even better because both of those teams beat us earlier in the year," Jarvis said. "Davie finished the week at 7-12 overall."

Beating West After falling behind 15-10 at the end of the first quarter against West, Davie reeled off 11 straight points. Sophomores Kristin Hinshaw, Shannon Umberger and Brown scored the first nine and Jenkins, a junior, scored off of a steal for a 21-15 lead.

West came back but Sandra Gallier's bucket just before halftime gave Davie a 27-26 lead.

Davie forged ahead after three quarters, 37-34 but Jarvis thought she was seeing a replay of the season's first half when the Titans forged ahead 48-41 with only 2:23 remaining.

That's when Davie grew up as a basketball team, making the clutch plays down the stretch.

Led by three-point shooters Brown and Andrea Gentry, Davie was within 50-49 in the span of 60 seconds.

Umberger was fouled with 59 seconds left but

Jayvee Boys Average 102 Points

By Ronnie Gallagher

Before Davie County's jayvee boys battle with West Forsyth Friday, War Eagle coach Mike Dinkins overheard a Titan player say something about playing the "farmboys from Davie."

So he told his team what he wanted as a Valentine's Day present.

"The first time we played West, we were behind 29-9 after one quarter," he said. "So I told them to show me they loved me by turning it around this time."

Amazingly, that's exactly what Davie did. The farmboys planted the basketball into the basket enough times to outscore West 32-13 in the first quarter on the way to a resounding 97-80 victory.

South Finally Defeats Wildcat Girls, 64-61

Tiger Girls Win Tournament Crown

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

North Davie's seemingly-unbeatable freshman girls basketball team wouldn't take what South Davie gave it Saturday and as a result, fell to the Tigers in the North Piedmont Conference tournament finals, 64-61.

What the Tigers gave North was plenty of free throw opportunities — 34 to be exact. But the Wildcats could hit only 18.

"They hit more than we attempted and missed as many as we attempted," said an elated South coach Jerry Callison, whose team was 10-of-17 from the stripe. "All year I have preached, 'Free throws win games.'" North coach Ricky Hendrix said. "You can't win against a hungry team if you miss 18 foul shots."

South led by as many as five points but when Jonette Williard popped in a three-pointer with a minute left, North was within 62-59.

South's Beth Wall was intentionally fouled and hit one free throw. South retained possession and Amanda Sigmund hit one of two, for a 64-59 advantage, wrapping up the victory.

The Tigers mobbed each other afterward and with good reason. North had already beaten South decisively twice this season.

North Piedmont Conference Tournament

Lanier Leads North Freshmen Boys To NPC Title

By Ronnie Gallagher
Dave County Enterprise-Record

"For much of East Alexander's game with North Davie Saturday afternoon in the finals of the North Piedmont Conference basketball tournament, Coach Richard Smith's team watched Chad Lanier put on a three-point shooting clinic.

Problem was, they couldn't match it.

East missed two three-pointers in the final seconds and lost the boys title game to the host Wildcats, 62-59.

"It ended a splendid season for North's freshman boys, who won both regular season and tournament trophies. The

Lanier

Wildcats finished 12-2 overall and 6-0 in the NPC.

"North has a good-looking team," said Smith, whose team wasn't too shabby itself, finishing 11-3.

"That Lanier kid is a pretty good shooter and I thought (Fred) Wilson played a good game against us."

It was the second nail-biter for North, which advanced to the finals by exploding in overtime to take a 74-65 semifinal victory over Woodward.

One Last Try

North led by as much as 10 points in the first half, forcing East to play catchup throughout. But with 15 seconds left, Smith's team stole an inbounds pass and called time out, down three. While wanted to set up a play for his star — and all-tournament selection — Jeremy Fortner, who had scored 25 in a semifinal victory over Chestnut Grove.

With seven seconds remaining, Fortner launched a three-pointer but it hit the rim and bounced out to the free throw line. Fortner recovered the rebound and tried again from the top of the key. While the packed house held its breath, the tray hit the front of the rim and fell off as the buzzer sounded.

While Fortner couldn't hit late, Lanier was making his mark early in the game with his three-point shooting. He had nine in the first quarter to keep North tied at 20-20. His seven points in the second period led a 17-7 spurt that saw North up 37-27 at halftime.

Lanier's 16 points were the difference, according to Smith.

"When a player shoots that far out, sometimes you can't out there to cover him," Smith said. "We tried to keep a hand in his face but he's just a good shooter."

Lanier finished with 25 and carried home the Most Valuable Player trophy. He was helped by Wilson with 11, Robert Thompson with 10 and Brock Patrick with nine.

Fortner led East with 12, while Frankie Millsaps had nine, Jerome Poole six and Doug Fox five.

"It was an exciting finish," Smith said. "They were a little bigger than us and we were a little quicker. It was a good game."

Win In OT

The tournament's only overtime contest came in the semifinals when North defeated Woodward.

Thompson led the Wildcats with 22 points, while Lanier had 17 and Patrick 15. Wilson finished with 10.

Notes:

- The all-tournament team consisted of North's Lanier (MVP), Wilson and Patrick, Fortner and Jason White of East and Chad Cook of Chestnut Grove.
- The win made up for last year when North won the regular season and lost in the tournament.
- Lanier finished with four three-pointers.

North Girls Avoid Stalling Tactics

Before meeting in the finals of the North Piedmont Conference girls tournament, North Davie and South Davie met formidable foes in the semifinals of the freshman girls tournament.

North Davie saw its first all-out stall before finally beating Chestnut Grove, 43-28. South played one of its best games of the season in defeating Woodward, 53-45.

North's Offense 'Stalled'

If North Davie had one of its lowest scoring outputs of the season against Chestnut Grove, there was a reason.

Despite being down at halftime, 28-18, Gerald Jones and his Trojan team decided to stall during the third period. While Chestnut Grove stood with the ball near halfcourt, coach Ricky Hendrix ordered his team to fall back in a zone and wait.

It was no surprise that neither team scored in the third quarter.

"It was a simple point of shortening the game," Jones said of his strategy. "They had blown us out by 30 twice this year. I felt if I could go into the fourth quarter down only eight or 10, we'd be in good shape. I was hoping we'd hold it until about 30 seconds were left and go for the basket, score and be down eight."

"Ricky did the right thing in staying back."

Once the fourth quarter began, the tempo picked back up and just like Jones expected, North began scoring. Chestnut Grove was outscored in the final quarter, 15-10.

Hendrix was all for the stall. His leading scorer, Jonette Willard was suffering from a stomach virus. She still led all scorers with 14 points, Maria Newsome had 13 points and 15 rebounds. Christina Cassidy scored seven points and had another double-figure rebounding game with 10.

over each other," Callison said. "They enjoyed themselves and I'm real pleased."

South finished the season 11-3 while North's 12-game winning streak was broken.

Inside Strength

How could South defeat North after suffering two one-sided losses? The answer, Callison said, was the addition of 5-11 eighth grader Keisha Wagner and Carrie Brill, both called up from the jayvee team. While North's 6-2 tower Maria Newsome still scored 20 points and grabbed 14 rebounds, she was mired in foul trouble.

Meanwhile, Wagner was scoring 16 points and Brill helped control the boards.

"We couldn't have done it without them," Callison said. "They kept Maria off the boards and she didn't get as many put-backs."

Wagner's offense was an added plus.

"They played a 1-2-2 zone," Callison explained. "We'd throw to Elizabeth Greene and she'd feed Keisha for some easy baskets."

The lead see-sawed back and forth throughout the game with South leading by two after one and North taking a 31-30 advantage into halftime. South then regained the lead at 42-41 going into the fourth.

The final quarter was hotly-contested as South outscored North in the last eight minutes, 22-20. Wagner and Newsome offset each other inside with eight apiece but Newsome fouled out.

"I was proud of Maria," Newsome said. "She gave all she had. When she fouled out, the game changed. The addition of Wagner and Brill gave them the inside strength they needed."

Brooke Suiter and Greene each scored 12 points, making the all-tournament team. Sigmon and Wall each chipped in with nine.

"I was impressed with Suiter and especially Greene," Hendrix said. "They really played well."

The 5-10 Greene was named Most Valuable Player for her all-around play.

"Elizabeth played three different positions against North," Callison said. "This final game showed what she has been working on. I think she can play guard in high school."

A key to the victory, Callison said, was keeping Willard in check. Averaging 25 points per game, the NPC's leading scorer managed only 18 "and it was a quiet 18," Callison said.

The loss couldn't take away from one of the best seasons in school history, according to Hendrix.

"We had a great season and I'm extremely proud of our accomplishments," he said. "But today, South Davie wanted it more than we did."

Notes:

- The all-tournament team consisted of Greene (MVP) and Suiter of South, Willard and Newsome of North, Rebecca Smoot of Chestnut Grove and Erin Underwood of Woodward.
- Since taking over as ninth grade coach, Hendrix is 44-14.
- Holly Snider scored four and Brill two for South.

The North Davie defense took it easy during the third quarter of its semifinal game with Chestnut Grove as the Trojans stalled.

continued from P. 18 followed with victories. At 171, James Coulston scored a point for an escape with nine seconds left and he won too. Davie had scored a whopping 63 points in the round and soared past Grimsley into first place, where they stayed for the remainder of the tournament.

After every semifinal match, the wrestlers would meet and give each other high-fives. They could feel it. A large Davie following could feel it. Lowery could feel it. "Everyone was as excited after the semifinals as I've ever seen," said Lowery, obviously the most enthusiastic of all.

Davie so dominated the semifinal round that Lowery was at his charismatic best. He and his wrestlers actually laughed their way right through it.

Linster was put in a move that he could not get out of early in the second period of his 125-pound match with Ward. But the referee laid there and wouldn't call the pin.

"Jon, ask him what you have to do to get a pin!" bellowed Lowery. "Ask him what you have to do!"

When the ref made no move,

Lowery forgot about Ward and asked the official himself. "What does he have to do?" The ref turned toward Lowery and laughed. Ward laughed. Lowery laughed. Ward finally got the pin.

Afterward, the ref told Lowery that Linster's shoulders were still about an inch from the mat and therefore, no pin was called.

"Shoot, you couldn't have gotten a dustball under there," Lowery told him. They laughed.

In the 160 semifinals, Mauldin rolled his opponent over and was riding it out. It was just a matter of when he would get the shoulders down on the mat completely.

Mauldin was only a few feet from Lowery's chair. Lowery pleaded with him to do this and do that. Mauldin put a hand up as if to say, "Calm down coach. I've got him."

The same ref turned around and laughed again. Mauldin was laughing. And yes, Lowery was laughing. Mauldin eventually got his pin.

With four wins in the bag, Lowery turned his attention to Coulston, who was embroiled in a methodical, low-scoring affair at 171.

"Just stay with him," Lowery pleaded. "We're going to win it in the third period. We're going to win it in the third period."

Sure enough, with the score knotted at 2-2, Coulston got the escape with nine seconds left in the third period for a 3-2 victory and another Davie County berth in the finals had been secured.

"I told you we were going to win it in the third period," said the now cocksure Lowery.

Lowery was happy for his seniors Kropfelder, Mann and Mauldin. Like everyone else, they never expected losing a regular season dual match during their careers.

"After we lost to Grimsley, they were some sad boys," he said. "It hurt them. I wasn't too hard on them then. But when we lost to Gastonia Ashbrook in the dual tournament, I wasn't quite as nice. We had two weeks before the individual tournament and they were going to be ready."

Lowery wanted no distractions for those two weeks. In fact, he wouldn't even let his own son into practice.

Perhaps Lowery knew his team was destined to bounce back when it won a match before the tournament over started.

Lowery didn't just take his top wrestlers to Boone. He rewarded everyone who had wrestled a varsity match, even sophomore Chris Cornater, who had to wrestle a preliminary (called a pigtail) match to get into the tournament. Cornater won.

"I said, 'Chris, that's a good start,'" said Lowery with a smile. "I thought something good might happen."

Lowery smiled a lot Saturday, especially after another senior, Lee Albarty, snaked through the consolation rounds and became the sixth Davie County wrestler to qualify for the state tournament this weekend at the Greensboro Coliseum.

Lowery said, "There were people out there saying, 'Aw, Davie's lost a couple, they're not as good. So this was fun. This was a lot of fun. We proved we ain't too bad.'"

Davie was back on its feet doing what it does best — walking all over the competition. And as Lowery will attest, there's nothing more fun than that.

Ward

continued from P. 18 "This tournament was like three years ago when we had Kendall Chaffin and Eric Blankenship," Lowery said. "We were down after the first day but came back to win on Saturday. When Ward won that first match Saturday, everyone followed with good matches. We won it in the semifinals. I was real happy."

Davie recorded 63 semifinal points to soar ahead of the field. It had entered Saturday in fourth place with 34 points, 10 behind leader Grimsley.

Ward was expected to have his toughest match against the 28-1-1 Linster. But he hooked Linster's leg in a spudle and Linster was stuck.

"I use it a lot," Ward said of his favorite move. "I knew he was good on takedowns."

While Ward's win stunned most South Stokes fans, Saura coach Rick Williams knew what his wrestler was up against. When asked if he was surprised, Williams said, "Not really. (Ward's) a class kid. He put a beautiful move on (Linster) and that was it."

Ward then had no trouble in the finals against Nance. "He killed him," said Lowery.

Kropfelder didn't allow a point in a 5-0 semifinal victory over East Burke's Jason Smith.

"Brad wrestled smart and didn't give up anything cheap," said Lowery. "He's more aggressive now than he's been in a long time. Even at the end of the match, he was working hard."

Kropfelder fell in the finals to Freedom's Kelly Franklin in overtime.

At 152, Mann defeated Freedom's John Crowe for the second straight year, 7-2 in the semifinals. He was helped by four penalty points. But he fell in the championship match 3-0 to East Forsyth's David Griffin.

"(Griffin) wrestled well, he didn't make any mistakes," Lowery said.

Mauldin was the only War Eagle to have pins in both the semifinals and finals. He defeated Hickory's Scott Brown in the semi and Mashburn in the finals, making his first state championship rounds.

"It means a lot," the senior said. Mauldin also had the most exciting final, due to some high scoring.

"It was 10-10 after one period," said Lowery. "The fans liked it because they were scoring so much so fast. There would be a switch and then reversal, reversal, reversal."

Coulston's semifinal match was exciting as he edged Greensboro Smith's Dan Jablonski, 3-2.

Coulston got an escape with nine seconds left in the match to win it.

"He was close to being out of bounds," said Lowery. "I waited him to stay close, make no mistakes and then go crazy in the last 15 seconds. That's what happened."

Those five wrestlers qualified for the state tournament after winning in the semifinals. But Lowery had to wait for Lee Albarty and Brad Groce to come through the consolation rounds.

Albarty received a forfeit in the consolation finals from Reynolds' Mark Brown, who suffered a shoulder injury.

Notes:

• Ward and Mann will be making their second straight trip to the state tournament. The other five will make their first.

• Grimsley was second with 105 1/2 points. Freedom, McDowell, East Burke, East Forsyth, South Stokes, Hickory, North Forsyth and South Caldwell rounded out the top 10.

• Friday's state tournament begins at 9 a.m. and Saturday's action also begins at 9 a.m.

West Wins Over Subs, 51-48

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

CLEMMONS — There were plenty of guys plays in West Forsyth's 51-48 victory over West Forsyth Friday night. But the gutsiest play of all came when Charles Crenshaw benched his starters in favor of a new starting lineup.

A starting lineup that averaged a combined total of eight points.

The starters included:

• Jason Rice, who was averaging 3.6 points coming into the game.

• Paul Wondracek who was averaging 2.8.

• Brad Mecham, whose average was 1.3.

• Mark Wondracek, who averaged 0.8.

• Bryan Johnson, whose average stood at 0.7.

Not an intimidating lineup to say the least, but when the game had ended, all five shared in the praise from both coaches and the fans.

In fact, only a missed three-pointer at the end of regulation prevented Davie from taking the game into overtime.

Crenshaw said he wanted to try a new approach to see if he could wake up his team.

"We were 0-10 in the conference so why not try something different," he said afterward. "These boys work hard in practice every day and wanted a chance. I told them as long as we were in the game, play on."

was better than his record and added, "There was a feeling that this would be an unusual game. Their boys did a good job."

Davie dropped to 4-15 and 0-11 in the Central Piedmont Conference. It also lost to Reynolds, 69-56 earlier in the week.

Leading scorers Bubba Coleman (14.2) and Tyrone Martin (12.7) watching from the bench. Crenshaw knew the first few minutes of the game with West Friday would be crucial.

And after one period, Davie led 10-9. Brad Mecham scored six of the points.

"When it was 4-4, I realized we had a shot at winning the game," said Crenshaw.

By halftime, Davie had hit only 6-of-21 field goals but was still tied, 18-18. The War Eagles successfully kept the West crowd out of the game and stifled Key's offense. Star J.J. Oliver had only four points.

"Dave worked hard to stop J.J.," Key said, "but this is the kind of game we usually play, low-scoring and close."

That ended up working in Davie's advantage. The War Eagles suffered only one lapse, coming at the end of the third quarter and start of the fourth.

Mecham's free throw with 1:35 left in the third gave the War Eagles their last lead at 29-28.

By the time Mecham hit another free throw with 4:34 remaining in the game, West had shot ahead, 38-30.

West coach Denny Key said Davie

JV Girls Split Two

The Davie County jaycee girls basketball team's stay in first place lasted less than a week.

After playing its best game of the year in handing Dudley its first loss of the season, the War Eagles turned around four days later and played their worst game, losing to Grimsley, 26-24.

The War Eagles did recover and beat West Forsyth Friday. The split left Davie with a 9-2 in the Central Piedmont Conference. Davie's record is now 14-3.

of five one-and-one opportunities in the final minutes and Davie started crawling back.

Rice scored four points in a 7-2 run to bring Davie within 41-37. Coleman and Brad Van Hoy were inserted into the game and came through with the last 11 Davie points. Van Hoy hit a three-pointer and a 16-footer, Coleman was fouled on a three-pointer and swished all three free throws. When he drained a running, 20-footer, Davie trailed 51-48 with 14 seconds left.

John Taylor missed a free throw with 12 seconds left and Coleman raced upcourt and fired from long range. It banged off the backboard but Coleman hustled for the rebound. As he tried to throw it back outside for another three, the ball was batted around as the buzzer sounded.

What saved West were offensive rebounds after the missed free throws. Three times, the Titans captured the rebound, were fouled again and scored.

"Our guys played with a lot of intensity," said Crenshaw. "If we could've gotten some rebounds off their missed free throws, we might have won."

Mecham led Davie with 12 points while Rice had 10 and six rebounds. Notes:

• It was the first double figure scoring game for the 6-6 Rice.

• Leading scorers Coleman and Martin combined for only eight points, six by Coleman.

• West improved to 6-5 in the CPC and 11-9 overall.

• Mark Wondracek had six points.

• Davie was 13-of-16 from the free throw line.

• Coleman had 14 and Keith Kooz 11 against Reynolds.

• Davie suffered its 11th straight defeat.

• Davie travels to Grimsley Friday night and comes home for the regular season finale Feb. 25 against Parkland.

Cassidy

 [And that win was nothing compared to what the War Eagles accomplished three days earlier against Reynolds. Setting a single-game scoring record, Davie defeated the Demons, 108-92.
 "This time, it was Brent Cassidy who received the present. Celebrating his 16th birthday, he doubled his age with 32 points.
 "It was an unbelievable week," said an ecstatic Dinkins. "It was the two biggest wins we've had. We've struggled with losses to grades so without the height, we're returning more. My goal was to win 10 games and to do that we have to play better-keller. Our players now have a 10-second clock in their brain — and I love it."

100-Plus Game
 Dinkins was left a little dizzy in the Reynolds game after the teams combined for 210 points. "I almost passed out watching," he said.
 So did his team — from exhaustion — after the record-setting performance.
 Even with the fireworks, Davie allowed a 24-point lead in the fourth quarter to dwindle to two, 94-92 with four minutes left. But thanks to free throw shooting, the War Eagles outscored the Demons 14-0 in the last three minutes.
 "It was one of those games coaches dream about," Dinkins said.
 Davie's 100-point plus effort against Reynolds is even more impressive, Dinkins said, "when you realize we didn't score for a 5 1/2 minute period of the second half."

 Davie's lowest point total in any quarter was 24 (in the second and fourth). The War Eagles scored 28 in the first and exploded for 32 in the third.
 Cassidy scored nine and Parra Wilson five in the first period but Davie led only 28-25.
 Marnie Lewis and Gerald Roberts combined for 12 points in the second quarter as Davie took a 52-42 lead into halftime.
 Cassidy then scored 21 second half points, including 14 of 16 free throws. He was 8-of-9 in the third and 6-of-6 in the fourth.
 "That was Brent's best game," Dinkins said. "He showed what he is capable of. A lot of his baskets came after he got rebounds. He hit all types of shots."

 Jason Tutterow scored nine of his 12 points in the 32-point third quarter that saw Davie extend its lead to 88-69. But by the four-minute mark, Reynolds trailed only by two.
 "We went into a stall and they had to foul," Dinkins said. "We did a good job hitting our free throws."
 In fact, free throw shooting was the key to the victory. Davie finished with a sparkling 27-of-32 for the game while Reynolds was only 15-of-45. The Demons were 0-of-19 in the first half.
 "I know from the first time we played that they shot free throws poorly," Dinkins said. "We felt we could be aggressive and put them on the line. We didn't mind that at all."

 Five players hit double figures for Davie. Helping Cassidy were Lewis and Chad Alexander with 14 points apiece. Tutterow and Roberts each had 12.
 Cassidy kept up his offensive output against West, scoring 22 points. He was 12-of-14 from the free throw line.
 Corey Deese had his best game of the year with 17 points and was one of five War Eagles in double figures. Roberts and Lewis each had 16 and Chad Alexander 10.
 Still, Dinkins pointed to 6-5 center Jason Smith, who had only seven, as the key contributor. "He gets the game ball," said Dinkins. "He tapped several rebounds out that we got when the score was close. He made the big plays even though he didn't score much."

Notes:
 • Davie improved to 9-8 overall and 4-7 in the Central Piedmont Conference.
 • There were 67 foul shots taken in the Reynolds-Davie game.
 • Nine different players scored in the first quarter of the Reynolds game.
 • Cassidy had 10 rebounds against Reynolds. For the week, he was 26-of-30 from the line.
 • The jayvees will be home again Friday at 4 p.m. against Grimsley.

Girls

 missed both free throws. Hinshaw baited for the rebound, which ended up in Brown's hands. She hit a layup for a 51-50 Davie lead.
 Hinshaw then made a steal and Brown was fouled with 21 seconds left. She missed but Jenkins was there for the putback and a 53-50 advantage with 17 seconds showing. Jill Madison hit two free throws with two seconds left but it wasn't enough.

 "I am so proud of the girls," beamed Jarvis. "It's been a long season. Earlier, we were making turnovers because we were tired. We're not now. We deserved these wins. We worked really hard."

 Brown led the way with 20 points and Gentry 10. Brandi Blackwood had 18 for West.
Another Heartstopper
 The finish of the Reynolds game was just as heartstopping. After a lackluster performance by both teams, Brown made up for it in the final seconds.

 With the score tied at 27, Reynolds took over with 20 seconds left. The Demons missed a shot at the 13-second mark and Brown headed downcourt with seven seconds remaining. She dribbled the length of the court and pulled up for a 10-footer. With three defenders clinging to her, she swished the game-winning jumper.

 "Carrie Brown ... what can I say?" said Jarvis with a big grin.

"It was not a good game," she said. "Reynolds played slowdown. I bet they passed at least 20 times on each possession before they shot. But we won and that's all that matters."
Notes:
 • Davie moved into sixth place.

Davie Man Makes Music To Help Less Fortunate

By Kara Kooker
Davie County Enterprise-Record

FARMINGTON — A product of missionaries and a devout Moravian, it's easy to understand why Steve Gray has such a fervent desire to help the less fortunate.

Gray recently recorded two of his own songs at a recording studio in King. All proceeds from the tapes are used for "God's work with the poor and underprivileged of Davie County."

Gray was born in Nicaragua where his parents were missionaries for the Moravian Church. Gray, who has a brother and three sisters, also lived in Honduras.

"My family is very musically oriented," said Gray, "and my brother was instrumental in getting my sisters and I to sing for people."

Gray said they would often sing for congregations when his parents would return to the states every two to three years to give updates on the work they were doing abroad.

When Gray was a teenager, he moved back to the states and lived with a family in Winston-Salem. Although he was not sure he wanted to continue with his education, Gray decided to attend Davidson College where he majored in voice. He graduated in 1982.

In order to graduate, Gray said he merely had to prove he was "proficient" on the piano. As a result, he simply learned to play one song on the piano to fulfill his requirement.

Since he does not really know how to play an instrument, Gray writes songs according to theory, and a "little bit by ear." He plays chord progressions on the piano as if he's actually picking or playing rhythm on a guitar.

Until recently, Gray, who is the choir director at Macedonia Moravian Church in Advance, also served on the board of trustees. During that time, the trustees and elders of the church came up with about 20 goals for the church to pursue.

As trustee and choir director, Gray decided he would like to "serve the poor and underprivileged." Each sponsor was then asked to make a presentation about how to attain their goal at a stewardship dinner.

Gray, who doesn't like to speak in front of large groups, chose to sing a song he had written titled, "Serve His Children."

"I don't have any problem singing in front of people," said Gray, "but I'm terrible at talking."

Gray's musical message was simple: "God is calling us to serve His children. To share with them the things that we've been given. For the Lord wants us to live lives of compassion. What we do for them, we have done for Him."

Everyone at the dinner was so impressed with Gray's song that they convinced him to have it recorded.

Gray found a studio in King where he was able to record "Serve His Children" and "Jesus My Lord," another song he had written.

In an effort to help the less privileged, Gray and his wife, Pam, were willing to invest their own money, up front, to pay for the hefty studio costs.

Gray did all the music on his own. The studio had a specially equipped keyboard that Gray used for every sound from piano to drums. The harmonies were created by overdubbing with his own voice.

Gray recorded the tape, titled "Serve His Children," at the end of November. He had 100 copies made and has sold about 85 tapes at $5 a piece. If demand for the tape continues, Gray said he will have more copies made.

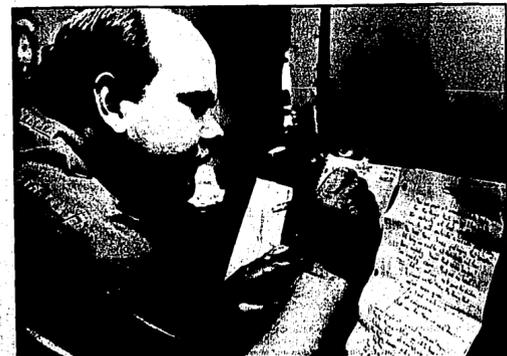

"I have gotten up and being a salesman," said Gray. "I like to call it a $5 donation."

Gray said the money is used to buy basic goods such as shampoo, toothpaste and soap. The merchandise is then distributed at the Davie County Department of Social Services and local nursing homes. "We can use the money however we see fit," said Pam Gray, "but all of it will be used for people in Davie County."

Gray is donating money from the sale of these tapes.

Steve, Stephanie and Pam Gray talk about the music from their Farmington home.

Pastor Collapses during Sunday Service

By Kara Kooken
Davie County Enterprise-Record

The pastor of Holy Cross Lutheran Church collapsed during the worship service Sunday, Feb. 16 and later died in the emergency room of Davie County Hospital.

Moments before he was to give a sermon on death and resurrection, the Rev. John Arthur Johnson, 60, announced out loud that he was having a heart attack. Several members of the congregation tried unsuccessfully to administer CPR.

A native of Pennsylvania, Johnson, of Route 4, Mocksville, had been the pastor of Holy Cross Lutheran Church on U.S. 601 south of Mocksville since 1986.

Holy Cross Choir Director Edward Foll said the congregation was deeply shocked by the reverend's sudden death.

"He had just sat down at the altar and a lay reader was speaking," Foll said. "He wasn't visible from where I was sitting, but I heard him say, loudly enough for the congregation to hear, 'I'm having a heart attack.'"

Foll said Johnson spoke in a plain voice, but said it was clearly a "voice in pain."

Radiologist Judith McBride said Lay Reader Jim Anderson, who was reading a lesson at the time, was startled by the noises the reverend was making and turned around to see if he was okay.

McBride said Anderson immediately picked Johnson up out of a chair and laid him on the floor. Meanwhile, McBride and several other members of the congregation began CPR.

As far as he knew, Foll said the reverend had been neither recently ill nor hospitalized, but he had been taking medicine for high blood pressure.

Johnson was born July 9, 1931 in Erie, Pa. He was a son of the late Arthur Severin and Loreta Miller Johnson.

Johnson earned a bachelor's degree in chemistry and physics from Thiel College in Greenville, Pa., and a master's degree in sacred theology from Lutheran Seminary in Philadelphia.

He had served as pastor of several churches in Pennsylvania until he and his wife, Dona Adamson Johnson, decided to move south for a milder climate.

Johnson and his wife moved to Lumberton in 1985 where he served as pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, and in 1986, he became the pastor of Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Mocksville.

Both Foll and McBride said Johnson was known for being highly intelligent and well-educated.

Ruth Hockaday Selected As Davie Sertoman Of The Year

Ruth Hockaday of Advance has been named "Sertoman of the Year" for 1991 by the Davie Sertoma Club. A charter member of the club, Hockaday was elected vice president of sponsorship at the permanent organizational meeting in 1988. She has held that position since then. She works with the Ronald McDonald House in Winston-Salem, one of the first sponsorships of the Davie Sertoma Club. She was also instrumental in the club's sponsorship of Davie teen Brian Andrade in his search for a liver transplant. That project raised more than $15,000. More recently, she recruited four new members into the club, including a deaf man for whom she worked to raise money for a hearing ear dog. In 1990 and 1991, Hockaday made fruit baskets for sick club members, arranged flowers and delivered them. She rang the bell for the Salvation Army, bought presents for the local Angel Tree project, baked cakes for the bake sale, and went to Camp Sertoma 4-H to help speech and hearing impaired children and their families on arrival day. Hockaday has been a member of Mocks United Methodist Church for 55 years, having taught Sunday School for more than 30 years. She has been to Mexico and Jamaica as a member of the church building team, and went to West Virginia and South Carolina during the floods and tornadoes. She works with prison ministry, children's home and crisis control — in addition to being a good neighbor. Last year, she befriended a local family — arranging them to fly to England for a father's funeral, finding them a place to live, giving them a car. After retiring from Hanes after 36 years, Hockaday has maintained a catering business, traded grand-children, and kept busy helping others. According to her minister, "Her sacrificial and caring service to other people and worthwhile projects and her commitment is what makes this old world of ours a much better place in which to live."

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

RABSHAKEH, A TITLE—NOT A NAME

RABSHAKEH WAS A TITLE THAT WAS GIVEN TO A HEAD OFFICER OF THE KING'S COURT, LIKE THE CHIEF CUPBEARER OR, YET AGAIN, A HEAD GENERAL IN THE ARMIES. ITS USE IS NOTED IN II KINGS CHAPTER 18, WHERE THE ASSYRIAN GENERAL IS NOT NAMED THROUGHOUT THE ACCOUNT BUT IS ONLY CALLED "RABSHAKEH." THAT THIS PARTICULAR GENERAL WAS OF HIGH STANDING IN THE ASSYRIAN KING'S COURT IS TAKEN FOR GRANTED BECAUSE HE WAS SENT TO JERUSALEM TO TELL THE CITY AND KING HEZEKIAH THAT THEY HAD TO SURRENDER TO THE ASSYRIAN FORCES OR BE COMPLETELY DESTROYED. THIS PARTICULAR "RABSHAKEH" SEEMED TO HAVE SOME DIPLOMATIC QUALITIES IN THAT BEFORE ISSUING HIS ULTIMATUM ON THE ENTIRE DESTRUCTION OF JERUSALEM, HE PROMISED A GIFT OF TWO THOUSAND HORSES IF KING HEZEKIAH WOULD COME AND SIDE WITH THE ASSYRIANS AGAINST EGYPT (II KINGS 18:25)—IT WAS NOT ACCEPTED AND SO THE "RABSHAKEH" PASSED ON TO HIS USUAL THREATS AND DIRE PREDICTIONS OF THE AWFUL THINGS THAT LAY IN WAIT FOR THOSE WHO DID NOT ACQUIESCE TO ASSYRIA'S WILL!

Newman Gets Nursery Honor

An Advance woman has been named a "certified plantsman" by the N.C. Association of Nurserymen.

Susan Newman of Triple H Landscaping in Advance received the award.

It is given after a person experienced with plants passes an intensive testing program, said William W. Wilder Jr., executive director.

The certified plantsman program is designed to identify horticulturists qualified to assist with gardeners' questions, and those with the award should be able to provide answers on plant identification and culture. They should also be familiar with plant disease and insect problems.

DAVIE COUNTY ENTERPRISE RECORD, THURSDAY, Feb. 26, 1992-1D

We ♥ Babies!

Discovering Motherhood On My Own

By Beth Cassidy
Davie County Enterprise-Record

I don't know nothing 'bout birthing no babies. That's what flashed through my mind as I was wheeled into the delivery room about 9:10 p.m. Jan. 29. Sixteen minutes later, my son, Samuel Reid, was placed on my stomach, and I got my first glimpse at my new responsibility.

When the nurse brought Sam to my room early the next morning, she laughed when I told her I didn't know how to feed him, bathe him, change him, or hold him.

"Honey, you'll learn," she said. She was right.

Many people had offered advice about pregnancy, but no one told me about that first week at home. Labor had been long (almost 22 hours) and painful (lots of stitches), so getting around the house wasn't as easy as it had once been.

Todd and I were both worried about that first night alone with our son, and our fears did not go unfounded. We made the mistake of letting Sam sleep all afternoon and evening, and when he still seemed tired at bedtime, we were relieved.

An hour later, when we heard his screams, we were shocked.

Two hours later, when he woke up again, we couldn't believe it. Did the hospital nursery send the wrong child home with us? He'd slept all night in the hospital. Wouldn't he do the same at home?

We were determined the next night would be better, and it was. Sam slept for nearly five straight hours and has ever since.

Lesson No. 1: Keep the baby awake from 7-10 p.m., pump some formula into him, and put him down. Works like a charm.

The rest of the weekend went well, and I looked forward to Monday and having my son all to myself.

Wrong.

The phone didn't stop ringing. I had calls from grandparents, friends, neighbors, a company in New York trying to sell me baby magazines. One sweet caller asked about the baby, how labor had been, how I was doing, how much the baby weighed. Who in the heck is this? I wondered. Near the end of the call, I figured it out.

I tried to be polite to everyone who called and came by, but my already limited patience soon vanished, and I found myself faced with Lesson No. 2: Lock the doors and turn on the answering machine. (And for all of you who left messages — I promise, I will get back to you.)

As the week went on, motherhood became scarier and harder, and the postpartum depression

I'd heard and read about set in. When Sam cried, and I knew I had done all for him I could, I agonized that maybe I wasn't cut out for motherhood. Desperate late one afternoon, I left Sam, crying, in his bassinet and walked out to the mailbox, just to get away from the noise. When I got back, he was fast asleep.

Lesson No. 3: It's OK to let them cry once in a while. After all, adults cry sometimes too.

By the time Sam was 2 weeks old (and I was 2 weeks stir crazy), I decided we both needed an outing. The mall seemed like a safe place, and after what seemed like hours of trying to get Sam in his car seat (you try strapping something that wiggles like a Catalpa worm into something that's about 10 sizes too big for him, following directions that say "insert tab A into slot B, being careful..."), we were off.

Hours later and mall-weary, I carried my sleeping baby to the car. As soon as I put him in the car seat, he woke up and began screaming.

Passerby looked into the car, and I worked hard to get him quiet. I took his pacifier out of the diaper bag, then decided to give him his bottle instead.

A few ounces later, Sam was again asleep and ready to head home.

Lesson No. 4: Don't ever put anything on the roof of the car while your baby is crying, because you'll be so frazzled, you'll forget it. (My sister said she knows someone who knows someone who put their baby, in its carrier, on top of the car, then drove off. Really.)

Luckily, it wasn't Sam, but his Nuk (pacifier) that ended up first on top of the car, then somewhere in the Hanes Mall parking lot, as his idiot mother drove off. Oh well.

Many people offered their invaluable (and unsolicited) advice during my pregnancy.

They said having a baby would change my life, and it has.

They said labor and delivery were painful (an understatement), and they were.

They said it was an experience I will never forget, and I won't.

But what they didn't tell me was how complete and peaceful I would feel when I looked in my baby's eyes.

They didn't tell me how easily I would cry at the sight of his beautiful and perfect body.

They didn't tell me how fantastic it would be to be a family, instead of a couple, and that the baby wouldn't come between us, but would make us stronger and happier.

They didn't tell me how overwhelmingly wonderful motherhood would be.

I guess those things they just wanted me to discover on my own.

Planned Pregnancies Mean Healthier Babies

Planned pregnancies is the goal of family planning section of the Davie County Health Department.

"It's always better to plan your pregnancies," said Kathy Cornatzer, family planning nurse.

"You need to be healthy before you get pregnant."

Family planning includes birth control methods and advice on how to use them. In some cases, it means more, especially with the younger clients.

Cornatzer said all age women attend the family planning clinic and class, with the youngest she can remember being age 12.

"It's the younger ones that get more attention."

"I talk to the younger ones individually and try to stress abstinence," she said. "We don't pressure them, we try to educate them (about such things as sexually transmitted diseases)."

Cornatzer said the clinic doesn't promote teen sex. "Studies have shown that by the time people come here, they have been sexually active for at least nine months.

"We get referrals from people who have been here before, from school health. We try to do it in order to prevent unwanted teen pregnancies, so they can learn to plan their pregnancies."

Information on clinic clients is confidential, she said.

Daddy's Girls: Brothers In Law Enjoy Daughters

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Little girls have a way of wrapping themselves around daddy's little finger, so to speak.

Just ask Lynn Marrs of Mocksville or Lori Jones of Advance. The sisters gave birth to baby girls, who became the darlings of their husbands, Bill Marrs and Alan Jones.

"Four or five minutes after she was born, she was in daddy's arms — and that was all she wrote," Alan said. "We went and got weighed, went to the nursery — then we came back to check on mommy."

Lori said she rarely gets jealous of the time spent between Alan and Julie Marie, age 8½ months.

"Da da, da da, it's practically the only thing she will say," Lori said. Alan had never been around babies much, and had no idea he would fall in love like he did.

"I liked kids but I was intimidated by them," he said. "I was scared, like they would break. But it just comes natural. There's nothing to be afraid of. She's an ideal baby."

The couple takes Julie everywhere. She's been to the beach, to the mountains. "She's 8 months old and she's spent two nights away," Lori said.

What's daddy's favorite part about Julie?

"The most enjoyable moment is getting her up in the morning — or picking her up from the babysitter — and seeing her face," he said. "She smiles, claps her hands and goes wild. It's a feeling you can't describe."

"I'd like to freeze her just the way she is now," he said. "She's a lot of responsibility, but I'm really enjoying her. I've had a ball."

Things are a little different for Alan's brother-in-law, Bill Marrs. Bill's girl, Bailey Elizabeth, is 4 years old. The new addition to the family is William Hudson Marrs, age 4 months.

"Bailey's a daddy's girl and he's a momma's boy," said Lynn, the mother.

But they try not to play favorites.

"The hardest part is trying to divide my attention," Bill said. "Because he demands so much attention as a little one, you've got to give it to him, but find the time for Bailey."

Bill said he likes children at age 2 the best. "They're old enough to be funny, but they're not old enough to pass you."

Like most parents, he wants the best for his little girl and little boy.

"I would like for both of them to do well in school, stay involved in church and be able to do the things they want — within reason," Bill said.

When the two families get together, it's obvious these men enjoy being fathers.

Alan is trying to get Julie to talk. "Say, 'I'm a daddy's girl.'"

More Visit Pre-Natal Clinic

With insurance costs going higher and higher, the Davie County Health Department is seeing more and more clients in its prenatal clinic.

Carolyn Moore, clinic coordinator, said the clinic is open to Davie residents without private insurance. Although most clients are Medicaid eligible, the income limits for prenatal clinic services are higher than for Medicaid.

Teens are automatically eligible. The health department has an agreement with Reynolds Health Clinic in Winston-Salem, where the patients see a doctor at least three times during their pregnancy. They see a doctor more if there are problems.

"They get a lot of education ... basically following the well being of them and their baby," Moore said. "The patients really get good care. We investigate all of their complaints, especially since we don't have a doctor here."

The normal schedule would be: an initial visit to the health department and then to Reynolds to see a doctor; visit the health department every three weeks until the 28th week, when another doctor's visit to Reynolds would be scheduled. After that, the patient would go to the health department every two weeks, and at 36 weeks, visit the doctor again. Weekly health department visits follow. Deliveries are at Forsyth Memorial Hospital.

At the health department, clinic patients see either a nurse or physician's assistant. They receive services such as urine screening, blood pressure check, weight, temperature, pulse, fetal heart rate.

The patients are also asked a lot of questions. Moore said the clinic staffers follow up on all complaints. Any pregnant women considered "high risk" because of age, lifestyle or any other reason, are automatically sent to Reynolds for regular care from a doctor, Moore said.

Car Safety Seat Rentals Possible

It's the law: All children under age 4 or 50 pounds or less must be restrained in a vehicle safety seat while traveling on North Carolina roads.

If you don't want to buy your own, the Davie County Health Department rents the seats for $25 a year, which can be reimbursed if returned in good condition. Call 634-5985 for more information.

WIC Helps With Nutrition Needs

One of the things you have to do to have a healthy baby is to eat the right kinds of foods. And for that baby to remain healthy, he or she must have a proper diet as well. WIC could help.

WIC stands for Women Infants and Children, a federal program administered through the Davie County Health Department. It provides proper food for pregnant women, infants and children up to age 5.

"These foods provide nutrients that are important during periods of rapid growth such as pregnant women or infants," said Heidi Priest, Davie WIC director and health department nutritionist.

To be eligible, the women or children must live in Davie County and have a financial, medical or nutritional need, Priest said.

"We've gone up a lot in the past year," she said. "The economy has a lot to do with it and people are more aware of the program."

Although women can join the program at any time, the sooner they join, the better chance they will have of having a healthy baby. The program also includes nutrition counseling.

To apply, contact the health department.

WIC Director Heidi Priest (right) talks to Tracy Pettiford and children Michael and Gregory.

Program Is Designed To Help Children

Identifying and helping children with special needs is the goal of the new child service coordination efforts at the Davie County Health Department.

"It is a program that provides services for children who have or are at risk for developmental delays, chronic illnesses or social or emotional disorders," said Christie Honeycutt, health department social worker.

"We should respond to the needs of the family and the children."

The goal is to have one person for each family to call to link that family with needed services, she said.

There are no income guidelines. The program is free to any family that qualifies. "Either they have a disability or are at risk for a problem," Honeycutt said.

Interested families should contact the health department.

The program has grown to include about 35 children in about a year. There are an average of four referrals a month, Honeycutt said. Families volunteer children for the program.

The child service coordinator follows a child, with home visits if necessary, from birth up to age 3, and to age 5 if there is a problem, she said.

Lamaze Most Popular Method

Lamaze — It's the most popular childbirth preparation method in the United States.

"Women are trained to control and deflect pain of labor through conditioned responses such as learned breathing patterns, special eye focusing exercises and relaxation," said Carolyn Moore, Davie County Health Department clinic coordinator and ASPO certified childbirth educator.

Moore

Moore teaches Lamaze classes, which are open to any pregnant woman and partner in Davie County, at the health department. They are held in conjunction with parenting classes.

"Ideally, you would start the classes about your 28th week of pregnancy," she said.

In addition to techniques used during labor, the classes teach what women could expect through all phases of pregnancy.

The main thing is they've got the knowledge and can deal with it.

"They stress relaxation more than anything else — if you can relax and have a baby at the same time."

Immunizations Are Important

When does your child need immunizations?

What immunizations are needed or required? The shots are available at the Davie County Health Department, free to all children. They include vaccinations for polio, whooping cough, tetanus, diphtheria, meningitis, measles, mumps and rubella. Call the health department at 634-5985.

Couple More Relaxed With Youngest Child

By Mike Bernhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Hank and Polly Van Hoy of Mocksville have a vision of what their life will be like in the year 2000, at the turn of the century. "There we'll be, us, Brad, Scott, our grandchildren ... and our 9 year old," Van Hoy said.

That 9 year old is Matthew Alexander Van Hoy, now age 22 months. He's a "welcome surprise," the newest addition to the household, which also includes Brad, 17, and Scott, 14.

"He starts kindergarten the same year Scott will go to college," Van Hoy said.

Despite the differences in age, the couple says the transition to having a little one around is going well. Matthew has become the center of attention.

"He sort of dominates them (older brothers), tells them what to do,"

Van Hoy said. "He takes over Brad's girlfriend."

"Because he is the little one, he gets a lot of attention. He seems to like people, he's very outgoing."

"He's real close to Brad and Scott," Mrs. Van Hoy said. "They really love him."

The biggest difference about having a child when reaching middle age is the attitude, the couple said.

"You really want to enjoy every little thing," Mrs. Van Hoy said. "Because of the older boys, we realize how quickly they grow up. We haven't changed that much in the way we care for them. The products have changed, but I'm old fashioned. I still use cloth diapers," she said.

"When you're having a child in late life, you're more relaxed about him," Van Hoy said. "This kid is so much fun — he's just fun."

Van Hoy has "grown up" with the older boys, taking them to play tennis and basketball. He hopes to be able to do the same with Matthew. "Polly says I've been more of a brother to them than a father, although we've tried to be strong disciplinarians," he said.

"They've always enjoyed sports, but it's been a struggle. They just did what I did. If I did woodworking, they probably would too."

"Academics, I give the credit to Polly, because of her gene pool and she's here and works with them. She's the one who read to them, helped them with their homework. If they have success, we haven't put pressure on them," he said. "We encourage them to do their best. We want them to learn as much as they can because that's so important. Just satisfy yourself."

"There's so much stress and pressure on kids we don't need to add to it," he said.

It's that "relaxed" attitude the Van Hoy's hope will produce another fine young man.

'Baby Love' Goal: Reduce Infant Mortality

Baby Love. It's an important part of North Carolina's battle to reduce the high infant mortality rate (the number of babies who die before age 1).

Laticia Sain, a maternity care coordinator at the Davie County Health Department, explained the three components of the state's "Baby Love" program.

Sain
It's main function is find women who need the service and provide what they need. The maternity care coordination is one of those aspects. "to have someone to help these women find out what services are available," Sain said. "They may have a variety of problems, housing, transportation, employment, lack of food in the home ... a lack of basic needs."

"The whole idea is to lead them in the right direction and hopefully, this will improve their pregnancy outcome," she said. "Baby Love is North Carolina's main initiative to combat the infant mortality rate."

"Pregnant women who have had maternity care coordination ... the pregnancy outcome is better. It's helping. Slowly but surely, it's helping."

North Carolina's infant mortality rate was 11.5 in 1989, down from 12.6 in 1988.

The third aspect of maternity care coordination is the parenting and lactation classes, held at the same time at the health department.

"The parenting part is basic information on how to take care of a newborn baby, on child development," she said.

It includes lessons on breastfeeding, safety, nutrition, how to properly use car seats and other things.

A layette program has assisted in getting clients for the classes, Sain said. They include items a new mother will need, such as bottles and diapers, funded by donations and a grant.

"It's an incentive to get our prenatal to come in our classes, Sain said. "It really does encourage them to come in and in turn get a lot out of the classes."

More On Infant Mortality
"Not only is infant mortality a tragedy for the families who lose babies, but it has also become a financial burden on the state," Sain said, "referring to the enormous cost of special newborn care for these babies."

"A major factor is low birth weight babies (less than 5 1/2 pounds). These babies are the result of women not getting early and adequate prenatal care. These babies are the result of women who continue to use alcohol and drugs during their pregnancy," she said.

...The low birth weight babies are 40 times more likely to die during their first month. They are twice as likely to suffer from chronic health problems, such as mental retardation, cerebral palsy, blindness, deafness and delayed speech.

"Studies show that the Baby Love program is working to reduce infant mortality. Pregnant women who did not receive services through Baby Love had higher rates of low birth weight babies."

"I came back from Rowan Memorial with a beautiful baby girl and lots of wonderful memories."

Elizabeth Ruth gave birth to her first child in the Women's Health Center at Rowan Memorial. She had a baby girl named Elizabeth Berrien Ruth. Mrs. Ruth, a 6th grade teacher at Hurley Elementary, has fond memories of the entire experience. She and her husband, George, had attended birthing classes at Rowan Memorial and both felt prepared.

Elizabeth and her husband were impressed with the professional and compassionate attitude of the entire staff. Elizabeth says, "The nurses were really there for me, all the time. One nurse stayed with me all the way...I'll never forget that. They even had an electronic monitor on me so that someone was watching me all the time. Once, I accidentally knocked one of the electronic leads off my body and everybody came flying down the hall to see what was wrong. They were great."

Elizabeth and her husband, who was present during the delivery, were also impressed with the facilities. She says, "You feel at home in the birthing suite. You don't get shuffled from one room to another. It was the perfect place for such a wonderful experience."

If you're expecting, call Rowan Memorial's Women's Health Center at 638-1040 and schedule a tour. You'll see we have everything you expect.

Keeping Kids At Work

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

There's no room at the daycare center.

Barry and Barbara McBride took their children to work.

For them, daycare wasn't even a consideration.

"It never really entered my mind," Mrs. McBride said. "I just wanted to keep them myself. Daycares are OK, but you miss a lot of little day to day things."

In a back room at Davie Jewelers in Squire Boone Plaza, Mocksville, you can see testaments to these little things. Notes on a file cabinet talk about Lesley's first steps, Lesley's first words.

Lesley Ann, age 3, used to be Davie Jeweler's youngest "employee." Then came younger brother, Daniel Ryan, now age 14 months. And there's another one one the way.

McBride is already teaching his children how to repair jewelry. Isn't this a skilled craft?

"She's an apprentice," McBride said with a smile.

Lesley knows how to greet customers, how to ask them if they want any earrings today. Some customers ask to see the children, McBride said.

"Sometimes we'll be out and people will see Lesley and say 'I know you, you work at the jewelry store,'" Mrs. McBride said.

Ask Lesley where she works, and she'll say, "Davie Jewelers."

The McBrides get help with the children from other employees.

"They have to be good babysitters to sell jewelry," Mrs. McBride said.

"Lesley has taken up with all of them."

"It's a lot of headaches trying to take care of kids and get your work done," she said. "Lesley was good. She took two or three naps here a day so I could work, but he (Daniel) doesn't. He wants to be up and see what's going on."

Mrs. McBride thinks that being around adults has helped her children to develop faster.

"Being up here meeting so many people, they've progressed as far as speech goes ... because they get so much attention. Everybody who comes in here wants to talk to them."

Is being with the children at work and at home too much?

"I get tired of them because there's never a free moment," she said, "but when I'm away from them, I miss them."

Mrs. McBride plans to work until it's time to go to the hospital to have her third baby. "Then I'll take a couple of days off," she said.

Bank Robber Arrested

CCB cameras show a robbery in progress Monday. The robber was recognized, leading to an arrest.

Suspect Recognized In Salisbury

It didn't take long for someone to recognize the man who had robbed the CCB at Squire Boone Plaza in Mocksville Monday morning.

An FBI agent had just taken a photograph taken by bank cameras during the robbery to the Salisbury Police Department early Monday night when someone said, "I know him," said Mocksville Police Detective Wayne Stoneman.

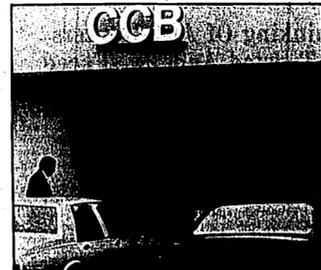

They went to the man's house. Webb confessed to the robbery, Stoneman said.

A couple of hours later, just before midnight, Stoneman had charged Jack Wallace Webb Jr., 54, of Salisbury, with bank robbery. A few minutes after that, Webb, who had heart surgery in the past, began suffering what Stoneman thought might be a heart attack.

He took Webb to Davie County Hospital, where he was admitted. Stoneman spent the night in Webb's room. On Tuesday, he was turned over to federal authorities.

The suspect walked into the bank at about 10:45 a.m. Monday, produced a small handgun and demanded money. He was given the money, while bank cameras recorded the robbery. There were three tellers in the bank, and no other customers, Stoneman said.

The man left in a car without a license tag. "He had already gone before we got the call," Stoneman said.

FBI Agent Cliff Basham goes into CCB after robbery.

Officers wouldn't say how much money was taken. Stoneman said part of it was recovered, and part of it had been spent. He said Webb had lived in the Salisbury area all his life and was self-employed.

Officer Fired; SBI Looking At Theft Reports

A Mocksville police officer was fired last week in the midst of an investigation over stolen items.

K. D. "Kim" Thompson was fired by Mocksville Town Manager Terry Bralley just before he was to begin his 8 p.m.-4 a.m. shift last Thursday.

Thompson was dismissed for not following police procedures. "I can't say any more because I could put the town in jeopardy and put the case in jeopardy," Bralley said.

Thompson

At least part of the investigation is centered on a radio reportedly stolen in Mocksville that Thompson apparently tried to sell to the Rockwell police chief. Thompson, who lives in Rockwell, is an auxiliary officer there.

"We're pursuing and have pursued a lot of leads that have come up, and that is one of them," said Joe Momier, area SBI supervisor.

Momier said an arrest is expected, and the investigation is into more than one incident.

"It's to the point I can't say anything else," he said. "This is a sensitive matter when it involves an officer."

5th Candidate Files For County Board

A fifth Republican has filed for the county board of commissioners, the only candidate to file for local office last week.

Filing ends at noon Monday, March 2 at the county board of elections office in the county courthouse.

Larry C. Hayes, 36, of Route 4, Mocksville, joined the race for one of three county commission seats, with incumbent Bert Bahson, and challengers John Barber, Jeff Harrison and Carl Boon, all of Advance.

No Democrats have filed for local office as of last week.

Hayes, who lives off U.S. 601 south of Mocksville, is making his first try at an elected office.

County Delays Rezoning Decision For Chrome Plating

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

The developer of a proposed chrome plating business in Davie County says he doesn't want to open the plant if the neighbors don't want it. The neighbors — and county commissioners — aren't sure.

The county board last week delayed until March 16 a decision on whether to rezone 9.5 acres at Bracken Road and U.S. 601 north of Mocksville for Carolina Hydraulics.

"This is serious business, changing zoning. I hope we'll be protected by our county commissioners."

— Vern Anderson, zoning change neighbor

Company President Tom Prince said he will bring an expert to that meeting who could answer some of the county's environmental concerns. The county is also going to consult the fire marshal to see if potential accidents could be handled by local fire departments.

"I understand their (neighbors) concerns," Prince said. "I want them satisfied or I don't want to be there."

Several of the neighbors attended the meeting, something they have gotten used to over the past 10 years as several companies have used the site and left — never fulfilling promises to neighbors.

Vern Anderson, who lives across Bracken Road from the site, said the intelligence of county commissioners has been insulted with past rezonings.

N.C. Missing Fun Of Presidential Political Race

North Carolina has missed out on the fun of presidential politics again. We don't get to vote until May. By then, the Democrats and Republicans will have effectively decided who the party nominees will be.

We could have heard Pat Buchanan berate "King George." We could have learned to spell Tsongas. We could have wondered about Bill Clinton's status as a family man.

Now, we're just sitting on the sidelines waiting for the presidential parade to go to all the other states before getting to us.

North Carolina has been influential in other campaigns. We pulled Ronald Reagan from the brink of disaster in 1976. President Ford had beaten him badly in the prior races, but North Carolina's early primary revived the sagging Reagan campaign. He still lost the nomination, but we helped establish him as a serious threat.

Most Southern states will have their primaries in the next two weeks. Twenty-seven states will have held primaries or caucuses by March 11.

North Carolina missed its chance to influence the outcome.

There must have been some frustration in the Milwaukee courtroom during the Jeffrey Dahmer murder trial.

Wisconsin doesn't have a death penalty, so there was no chance that Dahmer could receive a death sentence.

The calculated cost of keeping him in prison for the rest of his life is well over a million dollars.

There is a bright side. Jeffrey Dahmer may become the biggest crime deterrent the state has ever had. Who would risk going to prison knowing that Dahmer is there?

Imagine the sleepless nights his cellmates will experience.

Good things continue to come to those with a little imagination.

Sasha Kazachkova, a 20-year-old Russian emigre, came to America unable to speak the language and unskilled. But she has found a job in one of New York's ultra-trendy nightspots, Laura Belles. She talked the management into creating the job just for her. It's the same job she had in Moscow.

She is an attendant in one of Laura Belles' restrooms. The men's.

In the old Soviet Union, grandmotherly types guard the urinals in upscale places. Sasha Kazachkova, who is anything but matronly, suggested the same for Laura Belles. If it's good enough for Moscow ...

The New York Times reported that some patrons hurriedly rush out of the men's room. Others linger indecently. Sasha's job is to keep the restroom spotless and hand towels to customers.

The men respond with generous tips. Some have even asked if there is a similar job opening for the women's room.

Thinking Of Anti-Hunters Is Twisted And Two-Faced

To the editor:
In response to the latest anti-hunting letter in your paper, I am trying to understand Mr. Hodgson's way of thinking. It seems to me that Mr. Hodgson believes that it is okay to kill and eat an animal or even kill another human being as long as he derives enjoyment from it or collects a trophy that impresses him, which in this case seems to be cars. Some people may not know what Mr. Hodgson is referring to when he says that cars are trophies. In war, particularly Vietnam, soldiers would cut the ears off of enemy soldiers that they had killed and wear them on a string around their neck as a trophy and as a way of keeping count of how many men they had killed. I cannot believe that Mr. Hodgson condones this brutality and then condemns Mr. Taylor for partaking in an activity, hunting, that is ethical and legal. This is another prime example of the twisted, two faced thinking of all anti-hunters. Mr. Hodgson feels that it was wrong for Mr. Taylor to kill the bobcat because he did not eat it. Mr. Hodgson states that the only trophies he is impressed by are cars. I would like to ask Mr. Hodgson, are cars better stewed or fried?

No Sense In Hunting Remark

To the editor:
In my last letter I wrote that hunting is a legal and ethical sport. I said nothing about eating a bobcat or cornflakes. Mr. Hodgson wrote as if a trip to the steak house was for survival. I don't think so. We could all have peanut butter sandwiches for supper, but we choose to enjoy a steak, seafood, or chicken. And we choose to wear leather shoes, leather coats, and other things made from animals, such as snakeskin boots, suede and perfumes. People who say that hunting is wrong, and then use some of the latter products are hypocrites. They think it's alright to put what's left of Ole' Bossie the Cow's haunches on to go out, but if you mount a bobcat you're an out-cast. Is a mounted bobcat anymore ornamental than a leather coat? Sure you wear a coat, but wouldn't a polyester coat keep you just as warm? One of the greatest things about our nation is the right to choose. As for the hunting trophy remark, it doesn't make much sense. Does this mean the next time a nice 8 pointer comes by my stand, I'm supposed to hang up my bow and jump out onto the deer, and get his ears? If that's the way this fellow chooses to hunt then fine, I'll be the first to congratulate him on his first successful hunt. As for me, I'd rather have my bow or gun.

Police Practice Just Stopped

To the editor:
In last week's Enterprise Record Mayor Gales of Cooleemee was quoted as saying that officers (police) weren't wearing uniforms while working off duty.
This is just another harboring of the truth or he doesn't know what's going on — and I don't know which is worse. They've been doing it for years, and have just stopped within the past few weeks.
Not everybody is snowed by twisting of the truth.

Hugh Larew A Model Citizen

To the editor:
Often, it's the smaller things that make a difference. How much can one man give? Many of us know how much Hugh Larew has already given to this community, but to further show his model citizenship, on his way to the post office he stops to pick up trash on the street and a vacant parking lot. This is truly an all American citizen, one this community is forever indebted to.
He is an example of what a small community is all about, pride, hard-work, and caring.
A sincere thanks from the entire community for the example.

Does Unifi Really Have An Olympic Team?

Finally, the Winter Olympics are over. No more Petrina Petrovlich (Or something like that) spinning around on ice about a million times a second.

How do those ice skaters keep from getting dizzy? One thing is for sure, if they would take those razor blades off the bottoms of their shoes and put some rubber there instead, they wouldn't have to worry about spinning out of control.

Every time you turned on the television, there was an ice skater, or ice dancer, or ice ballet, or ice ... Sorry folks, although entertaining, ice dancing ain't a sport, which is what the Olympics are all about, right? Send them to the Ice Capades and let them dress like Mickey Mouse or Fred Flintstone, but get them out of the Olympics. The next thing you know ballroom dancing will be in the summer Olympics. Give me a break.

Speed skating, on the other hand, is a sport. Those skates must have even thinner blades than the ice dancers. But one wonders about the sanity of someone who puts legs the size of tree trunks into tights the size of toothpicks and then bends over in front of millions on worldwide television. Those aren't the craziest winter Olympic competitors. What about the ones who strap boards to their shoes, put on those same silly undersized tights and head down a snow covered mountain — a steep snow covered mountain.

What do they have to look forward to? Some of them had to dodge poles someone had stuck up all the way down the mountain. Others had bumps to contend with on the mountain.

And still others should have checked the course out before starting. Their mountains ended, and they went flying over cliffs a hundred feet in the air. It's a good thing the television didn't have microphones on these guys, or the little kiddies watching at home would have heard the "Oh" as the mountain dropped out from under the skiers' feet.

Yet other parts of the Olympics make even less sense. Take the luge, for instance. Isn't that something that comes out of your nose? It looked more like about half a Volkswagen hood, and someone would lay on their back and be sent down an icy track, feet first, riding that car hood. This event isn't for fat people or pregnant women. They couldn't see over their bellies. Not that it appears to matter. It looked like that darn piece of metal was going where it was going no matter what and there wasn't a darn thing that poor darn fool on his back could do about it.

The same thing goes for the bobsled (Not to be confused with the sled you got for Christmas one year). It goes where it goes. To say the least, the Americans weren't very good at these sledding events. Even Hershel Walker couldn't win a medal for the red, white and blue. All winners were white, blond, with permanent frostbite of the brain.

The ice hockey is usually worth watching. At least us dumb southern rednecks can understand the fights that always take place between brief bouts of hockey. But it was confusing when the good old U.S. of A. played the Unified Team. Could it be that Unifi, that big company with plans for building a multi-million dollar yarn plant in Davie County or Yadkin County, had its own Olympic team. And then they said the Unified Team used to be the Russians. Whew. We're lucky they picked Yadkin County.

Mall Shooting Turns Pleasant Night To Horror

Saturday night at the mall.

An hour wait at our favorite rib restaurant. We decided to kill some time sitting on a bench and people watching.

What were we talking about? It's hard to remember.

What is easy to remember is how loud the gunshot was and what the next 15 minutes were like.

I enjoy target shooting and know the sound of a pistol. When I heard it, I grabbed our 3 week old son, who had been laying in his carrier between us, and crouched against the concrete wall of the escalator, shielding his small body with mine. My husband and I watched the chaos that ensued, following the gunshot.

Several people instinctively hit the floor, many screaming. Those who ran for the exit doors were pushed by the boys who had been shot, as they chased the gunman into the parking lot.

I couldn't believe what I was seeing.

I was in Hanes Mall, hungry for my favorite baby back ribs, talking with my husband and watching my newborn watch me.

I wasn't in the slums of New York or on the mean streets of Los Angeles.

My eyes traveled down to the baby in the carrier beneath me. Innocent, unafraid, he looked up at his father and me, and it was then that the reality of the moment hit me.

We could have been killed.

Hot, angry tears stung my eyes. It was Saturday night at the mall. All around us were parents with children, elderly people, pregnant women, teens holding hands. Not one of us expected to hear the crack of gunfire that night, but like ducks in a shooting gallery, we were all, suddenly, made vulnerable.

When did the world become so mean?

When did we all begin to lock our doors at night and look in the back seat of our cars before getting in?

When did we quit respecting others? Where did the trust in our fellow man go?

I am neither for, nor against, gun control. A fence sitter by nature, I see both sides of the issue. A friend of mine joined the National Rifle Association just last week.

"I like what they stand for," he said.

What they stand for is simply stated in the United States Constitution.

"A well-regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of the free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed."

And does that right pertain to young men in a crowded shopping mall? According to the Constitution, it does.

Maybe it's time the far-reaching tentacles of right were trimmed back a bit.

It scares me.

I looked down into the sweet face of my young son, and I apologized to him. I've brought you into a crazy world, I said.

My heart goes out to the families of the victims in the Michael Charles Hayes incident. How angry they must be. Those bullets found their mark, and four innocent people were killed, others injured.

We were lucky.

We're here today to think about the events of Saturday night. To think about the injustice, the cruelty, the hate, and the fear we all share.

I envision the day when there won't be malls. When every home will have bars across the windows and doors. When no one will go out, for fear of being gunned down.

What a shame.

Held Hostage: Woman On TV

By Kara Kooker
Davie County Enterprise-Record

She may not be the first person from Mocksville to make national television, but she's the first to be on the Oprah Winfrey Show.

Less than a week before a segment on "Extraordinary Rescues" was to be taped, Tamra Smith Wood, 26, said a producer called and asked if she would be interested in doing the show.

The next thing she knew, Wood and her husband, the Rev. Curtis E. Wood, were on their way to Chicago. They arrived Tuesday evening, Jan. 28, taped the show Wednesday morning and were back in Mocksville by Wednesday night.

The two-day jaunt was over in a flash, but then again, once-in-a-lifetime experiences seem to happen that way for Tamra Wood.

On May 17, 1990, Wood was taken hostage by Gregory Lewis Charles while she was working as a teller at Home Savings and Loan Association in Thomasville.

Wood, who had been working at the bank for six years, was supposed to get married in three weeks and move to Mocksville, where her husband is the minister at Cornerstone Church on U.S. 64.

For several hours, it looked as if Wood might not ever be a bride. Wood said there are times today when it seems like the whole experience was just a dream.

"I was relieved and drained when it was all over," Wood said, "but it's almost like it never even happened."

Wood said it was about 12:30 p.m. Thursday when Gregory Charles, a man whom she had never seen before, came into the bank and asked to cash a check. Wood denied his request because he did not have an account there.

Wood said Charles, who seemed a bit agitated, mumbled something to her she could not understand, and then pulled a gun out from inside his shirt. Unprepared for the shock, Wood said it took her a few minutes to even realize what the man's intentions were.

Everything happened so quickly and Wood was afraid the other employees did not know Charles was trying to rob the bank. She removed the money from her drawer, and speaking loudly enough for the others to hear, she told them she needed a bag.

While Charles was distracted by a customer at the drive-through window, Wood pushed the silent alarm. Fortunately, the Thomasville Police Station was just a block away.

Sometime during the robbery, Charles must have decided he needed a hostage in order to make a safe getaway. He ordered Wood to go with him, and while she tried to convince Charles that he had everything he needed — $20,580 in cash — there was no changing his mind.

As they walked outside to his car, Charles told Wood to get in and drive. Suddenly, Charles and Wood were surrounded by armed police officers. Panicked, Charles grabbed Wood and aimed the gun at her head.

Wood said the police officers yelled to her not to get in the car with Charles, but she felt she had no choice. Charles got in on the driver's side and pulled Wood in on top of him.

For the next hour and a half, Wood said she sat on Charles' lap, facing the steering wheel, while he held the cocked pistol to her head.

Wood said sharpshooters had surrounded the car, and Thomasville Police Capt. Ronald Bratton, the only person with whom Charles would speak, attempted to negotiate with the robber.

Throughout the ordeal, Wood said she tried to remain calm and understanding. Wood said she was scared and upset, but she was "clear-headed" and "praying the whole time."

Charles, who worked at a furniture plant in town, told Wood he was married and desperate for money. He told her he and his wife were going to be thrown out of their apartment if they didn't pay their rent immediately.

"It was pitiful," Wood said, "but I told him Jesus could help him."

Wood said Charles continued to assure her that he had no intentions of hurting her, and for "some reason," she believed him.

"When he told me he wasn't going to hurt me, I felt a peace that's beyond understanding," Wood said. "I knew God was with me, and even though I didn't want to die, I was ready."

Wood said Charles, tired of holding the gun to her head, kept moving it from side to side. As time wore on, Wood said she became increasingly frightened and her predicament grew more tense. Wood said she was afraid someone might fire a shot, Charles would panic and shoot her in return.

Charles let the gun slip and Bratton managed to grab the assailant's arm and shake the gun out of his hand. Several police officers reached into the car from the other side and pulled the distraught hostage from the vehicle.

Charles pleaded guilty and received a 15-year sentence in federal prison without parole.

Wood said the theme of the Oprah Winfrey Show, which was scheduled to air Wednesday, Feb. 26, was all about victims and the people who had rescued them. Both she and Capt. Bratton appeared on the show — victims on one side, their rescuers on the other.

Wood said the show was the first time she had spoken to Bratton since the robbery. She told Oprah she had seen him in a restaurant in Thomasville but he left before she had a chance to speak to him.

Quick to get a laugh, Oprah exclaimed, "I do believe I would have bought that man a burger."

Wood said they started taping Wednesday morning and finished about noon. She said she was "total nervous," because the people on the show don't get to rehearse their answers and her segment was the first to be taped.

"I didn't get a chance to say a whole lot of anything," Wood said. "It all went so fast."

It went so fast, Wood said she could hardly even remember what Oprah had asked her. As for the way a national talk show operates behind the scenes, Wood said everyone was "very nice."

Wood was disappointed she couldn't take a camera to the studio and get her picture taken with Oprah, but her make-up was done for her while she was waiting to be taped, and she said she "loved that."

Wood said Oprah was "at times, a little bit intimidating," but she was funny and cordial. When they finished taping, Wood said she shook hands with everyone who had been on the show.

If nothing else, the Woods had a grand time living the high life for two days, especially since every bit of it was charged to Oprah Winfrey.

They stayed at the Hotel Nikko Chicago on Riverfront Park, dined in all three of the hotel's restaurants and were chauffeured around town in a private limousine.

A free luxury vacation may not be worth a near death experience, but at least Tamra Wood can tell the folks back home in Mocksville that it really did happen — she was on the Oprah Winfrey Show.

Board Delays Rezoning Decision

The site has been used as a John Deere dealership, a trucking company and a landscape equipment assembly company.

"You've been lied to and things have been twisted," Anderson said. "This is serious business, changing zoning. I hope we'll be protected by our county commissioners."

Anderson and Fred McCloud said they are concerned for the environment with the chrome plating operation.

Prince said the business would use a "state of the art" closed loop system to put chrome plating on hydraulic cylinders and parts. The system uses chromic and sulfuric acids which is recycled into the system, he said.

"We feel like it can be done safely," he said, adding that the company is regulated by the EPA and plans an additional $20,000 subliner not required by regulations. "We want to be good neighbors."

Hank Van Hoy, who represented Carolina Hydraulics at the meeting, said there will be no discharge of wastewater from the process. "There's no emission of odors, no emission of pollutants into the air," Van Hoy said.

McCloud said the county needed more information on the acids, and asked if the local fire departments could handle an accident.

Anderson said the acids are dangerous. "It is acid and it's going into the atmosphere," he said. "It just amounts to money, and money doesn't mean a darn thing when you're whole living environment is destroyed."

Anderson questioned the reasoning for the company wanting to locate in the community, near William R. Davis.

"Why do they want it here? We're not a bunch of hick farmers. Why do they want to move from where they are now to out to where they can do what they want to do."

"Right is right and it's not funny," Anderson said. "We've got it pretty darn nice out there."

Ronnie Bernette also questioned the move, asking why Prince, the mayor of Kernersville, would take jobs away from his city.

Prince said the company isn't taking jobs away from any place. The business would be a new one. Currently, the company sends parts to West Virginia twice a week for hard chrome plating.

Van Hoy said the local site is ideal because the building there could easily be adapted to hard chrome plating, and because it is located near I-40 and I-77.

He said the company would expand the building by 2,000 to 2,500 square feet, and hire from 15-20 local employees at hourly wages of $7-$15 and hour.

"We think this is a reasonable and logical use," Van Hoy said.

County commissioner Bert Bahnsen suggested that Prince talk with the fire marshal and provide more information about the plating process.

Prince said he could bring someone to the March 16 meeting who knew more about the system proposed for use here.

County commissioner Diane Foster agreed that more information is needed before a decision is made, but told the neighbors that this proposal appears to be better than what they've seen.

"Based on the history of that site ... these folks may be a lot better neighbors than what you've had in the past," she said.

Officer Fired In Theft Probe

Foster was out of town when Thompson was fired, but said the investigation "came to a head when he attempted to sell a radio to Chief Box."

Bratley said the SBI and DA's office are helping investigate the situation. District Attorney H.W. "Butch" Zimmerman would not comment.

Thompson, an officer here since April of 1989, said he started the investigation.

"I called them. They didn't call me to investigate anything," he said. "An incident happened and unofficially, I'm caught in the middle of it. It's cost me my career and 12 1/2 years in law enforcement."

Thompson was an officer in Spencer, East Spencer and Rowan County before coming to Mocksville.

Thompson said he was given no reason for his dismissal other than failing to follow procedure. "That's all they told me," he said.

On the advice of an attorney, Thompson would not comment on the incident involving the stolen radio. He said he had talked to the SBI and other investigators about just one incident.

David County, to try to get the water rates down by getting some good business here," Hayes said. "I want to work it to where we can pay for the new system and not be a tax burden to the county."

Hayes says county departments need to work together more closely.

"I want to be a commissioner for the people. I feel like the middle class people need to be represented. It's not what I want. I want the people to have a say," he said.

Hayes' family owns Mocksville Automotive, and he is also a building contractor. He and wife Kathy have a 8-month-old girl.

The board of education race will be decided on May 5, with Republicans and Democrats choosing their candidates in the other races.

Accident Victim Dies; Charges Are Still Pending

A Virginia man injured in a traffic accident in Mocksville Feb. 15 died four days later.

William Robert Trail, 40, of Hiwassee, Va., died Wednesday, Feb. 19 at N.C. Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem, where he had been in an intensive care unit suffering from severe head wounds and broken bones.

Mocksville Police Officer K.L. Huiter said the car driven by Trail was hit head-on by a pickup truck which had crossed the center line.

The truck was driven by Mark Anthony Dixon, 17, of Route 8, Mocksville.

Dixon was also injured, and was treated for a blood clot to the brain last week at Baptist Hospital. He was released from the hospital Friday.

Charges are pending. Huiter said he wants to talk to Dixon before filing any charges.

Death By Vehicle Charge Dismissed At Family Request

By Lynn Hall

David County Enterprise-Record

Upon the request of the family of the young woman who died, the charge of death by vehicle was dismissed, and Clarissa Jean Simmons, 28, of Ironville was allowed to plead guilty to failure to stop for a stop sign in Davie District Court last week.

Dora L. Driver, 30, of Yadkinville, was a passenger in the 1988 Ford driven by Simmons on July 27 of last year. She was killed when Simmons failed to stop for the stop sign at Howards Road and U.S. 158.

According to N.C. Highway Patrol Trooper K.B. Soen, Simmons was traveling north on Howards Road at 5:50 a.m. He said the roads were dry, but there was some fog. Simmons apparently did not see the stop sign and proceeding out on to 158 where the passenger's side of her vehicle was struck by an oncoming vehicle driven by Robin Annasta Davis, 26, of Route 1, Mocksville.

was unable to avoid the other vehicle, Soen reported.

Driver was taken to Baptist Hospital where she died a short time later.

According to the letter from Driver's sister, the family did not want to have to go through the ordeal of coming to court and wanted the criminal charge reduced.

Simmons' attorney, Lewis Alexander, said his client and Driver were close friends and this was simply a terrible accident. "The lesser charge appears to be minor, but the circumstances are tragic. This young lady, because of carelessness, misadventure and a stop sign, as a result lost her best friend. She was injured too, but they will heal. What won't heal is the fact that she was responsible for the death of her friend."

Alexander said the victim's family had been supportive, and that while one life had been lost, he hoped this "will not end her (Simmons') ability to go on with her life."

Judge George T. Fuller, based on the lesser charge, ordered the Simmons pay a $50 fine and court costs.

Headed by the Rev. Robert C. Peurifoy, pastor of Bethlehem United Methodist Church in Davie County, western North Carolina is leading the way in food donations going to residents of the former Soviet Union.

"Over the last year, we have seen the deterioration and collapse of the Soviet Union," Peurifoy said. "We celebrate with the people of this nation in their new found freedom."

"An immediate need is food. The media has captured pictures of long lines for scarce supplies. Then it can only be purchased at highly inflated prices," he said. "For the elderly, the handicapped, pregnant mothers and others — just getting in line to make a purchase is difficult."

Unlike other programs, the food being collected is going to people who really need it, Peurifoy said. It is being distributed by the Russian Orthodox Church to a specific list of people.

"It's going to people who can't stand in line for three hours to get a loaf of bread," Peurifoy said.

The boxes of food include a simple message: "Greetings from Christians in the United States."

Peurifoy said 120 boxes have been collected in Davie County, 2,400 from western North Carolina. Food will be accepted here through February.

Only exact amounts of certain items are accepted: 5 lbs. of either flour, sugar, powdered milk, pasta, rice, canned meat (12, 6 oz. cans), a pound of dehydrated soup, two pound cans of cooking oil or shortening (no plastic bottles), a pound of tea, a pound of Vitamin C enriched dehydrated packets of fruit juice, and pound chocolate bars. Each of the above ingredients is packed into a box for shipment to Moscow.

A missionary in Moscow will help coordinate the delivery of the boxes.

From across the country, the Methodists hope to send 40,000 boxes of food to Moscow.

Peurifoy is proud that western North Carolina is doing so well.

"Western North Carolina is leading the way," he said. "I'm getting telephone calls from all over the country saying, 'Tell us how you did it.'"

Peurifoy did it with a lot of help. Locally church members volunteered to load transfer trucks, donated by T&L Trucking, just up Rodland Road from the church.

Bethlehem youth members made two banners to accompany the food parcels to Moscow.

The banners were designed on bright yellow paper, one with a giant heart and the second with a map of America and one of Russia.

"Both are decorated to express the feeling of love and support that we have for the Russian people in this time of great need," Peurifoy said.

Kevin Smith, Bethlehem's youth director, said he hopes the banners will show the concern the youth have for what the Russian people are going through.

"Since the youth did not participate in gathering food parcels, we thought this would be our way of contributing to the relief efforts," Smith said.

"It is my hope that these banners will make it to a place where thousands in Moscow can see the banners. I am really proud of our youth for taking the time and making the effort to want to reach out and help the Russian people," Smith said.

"I hope that these will make a difference for the Russian people. I think it has already made a difference for those of us who have been involved with this project."

The Rev. Robert Peurifoy (right) coordinated food drive for Russia, and received help loading truck from Bethlehem church members Gene Lanier and James Howard.

County Looking For Better Market For Wood Chips

Davie County has entered the wood chip hauling business.

County commissioners last week approved buying two trailers for an estimated $11,000 and renting a truck from T & L Trucking, owned by board chairman Glenn Howard's son.

Junior Barbee, director of the Davie County Landfill, said he had been selling the chips, made from pallets and other wood brought to the landfill, for $7.50 a ton to Abbitt, a company about 60 miles from Davie County.

"The company had been hauling the chips, but won't pick them up any more," Barbee said. The company will still buy the chips, but for a lower price, $6.88 a ton, if the county can get them there.

Barbee said the county generates about 18 truckloads of chips a month, and under the new proposal, expenses will be about $1,000 a month more than revenue — not counting the savings on landfill space if the chips weren't sold.

Commissioner Spurgeon Foster Jr. said the county should be able to save money by selling the chips to Corn Products in Winston-Salem. Corn refuses Davie's chips because they are too large and contain too much metal.

Magnets and different methods of chipping the wood should solve those problems, Foster said.

Corn Products pays $14 a ton for wood chips.

"I think we can solve the problem," Foster said. "If we can get 14 dollars a ton instead of $6 a ton, and haul it 20 miles instead of 60, then we could pay for a truck."

Check It Out Library Seeks Help During Renovations

By Mike Bernhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Check some books out from the Davie County Public Library — some big books — a lot of books. And don't worry about bringing them back for about two months. You don't even have to read the books, just store them in a dry place. Beginning in mid-March, the main library off North Main Street in Mocksville will be renovated. Books will be moved into an addition, but that part will not hold the library's stock of books.

What isn't checked out and can't be fit into the new section will be put in storage during the renovation, which is expected to last until mid-May, said Ruth Hoyle, library director.

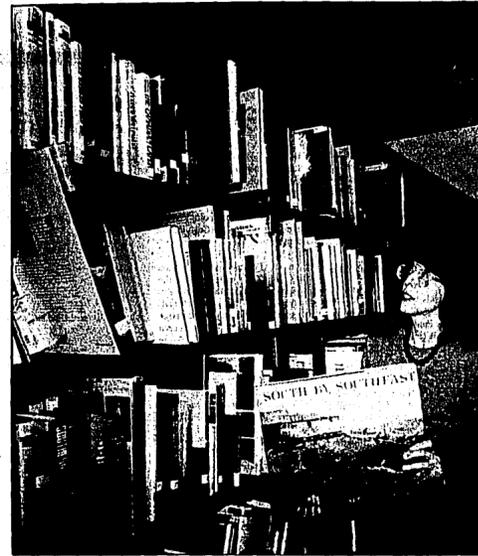

"What we don't move, we'll store," Hoyle said. "By them (library patrons) taking them home, it will lessen the amount we have to store."

"What is stored is totally inaccessible, so if they know of something they want, they will need, they need to come in and check it out in the first week of March," she said.

There will be no overdue charges during the renovation period.

The library will operate in the new section, using the future multipurpose room for the circulating collections and the future history room for the history room, reference, and current periodical collections.

Library hours will continue on the regular schedule.

Davie Library Director Ruth Hoyle says patrons can help by storing large books for about two months. — Photos by Robin Ferguson

Hoyle has been pleased with the new construction — and the fact that the library has remained open.

"It's been better than I thought it would," she said. "We've stayed open. It's just not as quiet as usual."

When complete, the front entrance of the library will face the parking lot on North Main Street across from the Baptist church.

The current front entrance, and the courtyard, will be enclosed, Hoyle said.

A pitched roof is being added to the current building, as well as the addition.

"With the way everything is going together, it's going to look like one building," she said. "Library officials appreciate the support given by the citizens of Davie County," Hoyle said.

"The library has been able to remain open and will close only when necessary. Library staff and construction workers have tried to keep inconveniences to a minimum."

"Please continue to bear with us in this effort to provide improved library services," she said.

Rezoning Will Allow Davie Oil Propane Tank

Davie Oil Co. will be moving to 5.2 acres at Cornatzer and Howardtown roads.

Allowed on the site by a special use rezoning approved by county commissioners last week are a warehouse and office and a 30,000 gallon above ground propane tank.

The decision came despite protests by several members of a local family with homes or relatives living near the site.

"They have a very good business reputation in our community," said Mocksville attorney Grady McClamrock Jr., speaking on behalf of Davie Oil.

McClamrock said the site is ideal for business. It is bordered by Howardtown and Cornatzer roads and railroad tracks. Sam Lee has a plant across from the site on the other side of Cornatzer Road. There is an 11,200 gallon propane tank there.

Currently, Davie Oil rents warehouse space less than a mile away, at Fork-Bixby and Cornatzer roads. It also has tanks on property it owns in the area, but there isn't room for expansion, McClamrock said.

Frances Watson, whose mother lives adjacent to the site, suggested that the entire property be fenced in, not just the propane tank.

She also fears an accident with a Davie Oil truck and Sara Lee employees when they leave work.

McClamrock said the company had moved the proposed tank location to where it couldn't be hit in an accident from Howardtown Road. It will be enclosed in a locked fence.

The risk of an accident with a Davie Oil truck and another vehicle on the road wouldn't be any greater than it is now, he said.

McClamrock said the property wouldn't look as nice entirely fenced in, but the company would build the fence if instructed to do so by the county commissioners.

Glen Howard, chairman of the county commissioners, said if propane was so dangerous, why do people stand next to their homes grilling steaks with propane gas.

Leroy Nivens said no fire department in Davie County is capable of fighting a propane fire. Even fires on small propane tanks are difficult to put out, Nivens said.

"I have a hard time believing this tank is going to pose more danger than already exists," said Diane Foster, county commissioner.

"There are numerous tanks already in the area."

Davie Oil plans to build a 5,700 square-foot metal building for an office and warehouse, with drives from Cornatzer and Howardtown roads and a parking lot. Smaller, empty propane tanks will be stored on the property, and as rezoned, only the one filled propane tank will be allowed.

Kermit Smith Is Named To Elections Bd.

Kermit Smith of Mocksville attended the seminar in Research Triangle Park near Raleigh.

Smith was appointed to the board earlier this year by the N.C. Board of Elections. He was recommended for the job by the Davie County Republican Party.

Smith, former register of deeds before his retirement, replaces Jeff Harrison on the elections board. Harrison, of Advance, resigned last year to run for the county board of commissioners.

Convention should attend their precinct meetings.

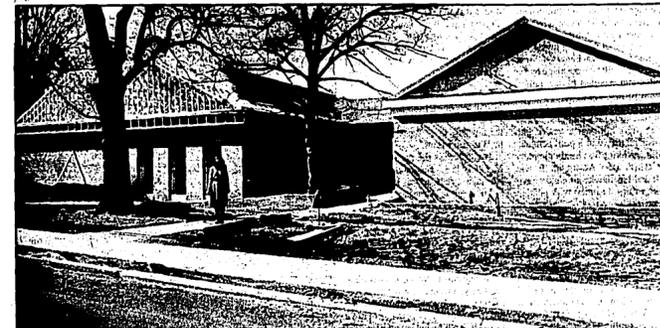

"The precinct level is also where all policy making of the party begins," she said. "The more that people get involved in precinct meetings, the better the party can represent the views of all Democrats."

At the precinct meetings Democrats will elect delegates to the April 4 county convention and have a chance to pass resolutions on party policy.

Gather said this is the first step in the State Party's National Delegate selection. Persons that are interested in becoming delegates to the National Constitution should attend their precinct meetings.

At the precinct meetings Democrats will elect delegates to the April 4 county convention and have a chance to pass resolutions on party policy.

Hoyle said the library has continued operations with few interruptions since construction of addition began.

Judge Says Teen Is 'Luckiest' He's Seen

His attorney said he was fortunate. But Judge George T. Fuller told 16-year-old Braxton Michael Beal that he was "the luckiest man I've seen in court."

Beal, of Sanford Avenue in Mocksville, was in Davie District Court last week charged with reckless driving to endanger lives, and Judge Fuller was referring to the fact that Beal had struck the back end of a school bus hard enough to run his vehicle up under the bus all the way to the windshield.

"You were just a couple miles shy of having your head cut off," Fuller said. "You are lucky in that you've learned something that will serve you well if you let it."

The accident occurred Oct. 4 of last year on U.S. 601 north of Mocksville, near Bole's Store. Neither Beal nor anyone on the bus was injured.

The charge was reduced and Beal was allowed to plead guilty to unsafe traffic movement. Judge Fuller ordered that the defendant pay a $50 fine and court costs and surrender his license for 30 days.

Students Get Lecture From Judge

A Davie High School student may have gotten off light as far as sentencing goes, but he and a large group of his fellow classmates didn't escape without a good tongue-lashing from District Court Judge George T. Fuller last week.

Jason Keaton of Route 8, Mocksville, was in Davie District Court on a charge of simple assault. The complaint was filed by another Davie High student, Larry Blevins, after the two fought in school.

After a lengthy parade of witnesses, Judge Fuller asked both young men how many people had stayed out of school all day because of this case, and after a quick head count, they settled on 14.

"This behavior is absolutely ridiculous," Fuller told them. "There is no reason for 14 people to miss a day of school over something like this."

Fuller said that since Blevins had not been charged with anything, there was nothing he could do to him, "but I want both of you to see if you can't learn something from this. You have no business being up here in this courtroom."

Church Celebrates Everybody's B-Day

The fellowship hall of James Church was decorated with a "Happy Birthday" sign, all colors of balloons, and all kinds of decorations. There were 12 tables and 12 birthday cakes.

Why such a celebration and who was it for? Sunday, Feb. 23, was "Everybody's Birthday." This was a churchwide birthday party for every member of the church plus any visitors who attended.

A table for each month was set up and decorated according to the theme of the month, including a birthday cake and name plates for all the members born in that particular month.

The youth of the church decorated the fellowship hall and tables and also planned the menu, which consisted of soup, stew, homemade rolls and cakes.

The special guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Bill Creason. Creason brought a message at 11 a.m. prior to the noon birthday party.

In Memory Of Larry Martin Spencer
Written By His Brother, Terry Spencer

I want to share this poem with you in hopes if there is someone who has thought of suicide, or tried it, they will be touched by these beautiful and deep feelings. Our whole family's life has been seriously wounded by Larry's suicide. As a survivor of suicide, I really had no choice when my loved one died. It was out of my control, but I do have a choice in healing myself. It's the hardest task I will ever have to perform.

I guess there asked "Why did God let this happen?" God is compassionate and caring, but He allows us to make our own choices. God understands the person who is confused and thinks that he can no longer carry his internal and external problems. God loves us unconditionally.

When looking at suicide, we confront a mystery. Only God knows just what goes on in the mind and heart of a person before suicide. I share my grief with God.

"We are children of God not because of what we do ... but because He loves us."

May God Bless You
Gail S. Spencer

LAMENTATIONS

What do you tell a brother when he is gone
How do you tell him about the things that went wrong
Is there something you could have done to give him hope
That would have changed his mind when he was at the end of his rope

What thoughts went through his mind at the very last
That gave him the resolve to take his life with a rifle blast
Did he think about those he would leave behind
And the thoughts and guilt left in their minds.

We cannot know the suffering he went through
Only look back and search for some clue
Of something that should have let us know
That he had decided it was time to go

Weep not for his spirit now for it has gone
To a place of peace and rest in the world beyond
A place where there is no sorrow or pain
Those feelings are here for us who remain.

Yes, the suffering and weeping we must do
Before our lives are through Each day built on a ray of hope
Enough so that we may be able to cope.

That was the thing not in my brother's sight
When he decided to end it that night.

If he had had that one small thing
Death would not have been able to bring Those final thoughts, none but despair
Blocking out even those for whom he did care.

Those who could have held him to this earth
Some who had loved him for years, some from birth.

O Lord, how I cry in my mind
For some peace that I might find
Bring us an answer for this sorrow and pain
So we might not go through this, again and again.

Each day we wonder what fate will bring
Too fearful to rejoice, too sad to sing
That we might be lifted to Heaven's Gate
Is our dream, before it is too late.

That Grace will abound with us now
That we will not look back while pushing the plow
Each row straight, nothing to lead us astray
Ever forward to our own Judgment Day.

What makes us so different from he
Why was he in darkness while we can see
Did God desert him and leave him alone
Or just call him early to his heavenly home.

Are we doing any better than he tried to do
Is there really something there to guide us through.

Or is life just all a matter of chance
Is it better to just sing and dance
And not worry about a destiny, a dream
Rain falls on the evil and the just, it seems

But how can we forget that heavenly touch
That changed our lives so much
It was so wonderful, but so long ago

Time marches on, but change comes slow.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHT

A MESSAGE WITH GOOD-BAD TIDINGS!

AHIMAAZ WAS A SON OF ZADOK, THE HIGH PRIEST, IN KING DAVID'S REIGN. HE AND JONATHAN, THE SON OF THE OTHER HIGH PRIEST, ABITHAR, HAD BEEN MAINTAINING COMMUNICATION BETWEEN KING DAVID'S LOYAL FORCES IN JERUSALEM AND PRINCE ABSALOM'S REBEL FORCES, ENSCONCED DEEP WITHIN THE FORESTS OF EBRAIM (1 SAM. 15:27, 36; 17:20). WHEN ABSALOM'S POORLY DISCIPLINED AND BADLY LED TROOPS WENT DOWN IN A ROUT BEFORE KING DAVID'S SKILLFUL VETERANS AND ABSALOM, HIMSELF WAS KILLED. AHIMAAZ BEGGED JOAB, DAVID'S COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, FOR THE HONOR OF RUNNING AHEAD OF THE RETURNING VICTORIOUS TROOPS TO TELL THE KING OF THE VICTORY. (1 SAM. 18:19) BUT JOAB REFUSED AHIMAAZ BECAUSE KING DAVID'S SON WAS KILLED IN THE BATTLE! INSTEAD, JOAB TOLD AN ETHIOPIAN TO RUN AND "...TELL THE KING WHAT THOU HAST SEEN". PERHAPS JOAB, A WISE VETERAN, KNEW THAT BEARERS OF BAD TIDINGS WERE OFTEN KILLED ON THE SPOT—AND AHIMAAZ WAS THE SON OF THE HIGH PRIEST, WHEREAS THE ETHIOPIAN WAS A NOBODY SO...! NEVERTHELESS AHIMAAZ WAS THE FASTER OF THE TWO, BECAUSE AFTER PESTERING JOAB UNTIL HE GOT HIS PERMISSION TO RUN, AHIMAAZ STILL GOT THERE FIRST! BUT HE ONLY TOLD KING DAVID OF THE VICTORY—LEAVING IT TO THE ETHIOPIAN TO TELL THE BAD NEWS! (1 SAM. 18:32)

LATER IN HIS CAREER, AHIMAAZ WAS THE TAX COLLECTOR FOR KING SOLOMON AND MARRIED ONE OF SOLOMON'S DAUGHTERS, BASMATH. (1 KINGS 4:16)

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE ETHIOPIAN RUNNER—OR "THE CUSHITE"—A SLANG EXPRESSION USED TO DENOTE AN ETHIOPIAN IN THOSE DAYS—THE BIBLE DOES NOT RECORD!!

Ward Third In 125-Class

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

GREENSBORO — Of the 624 wrestlers who qualified for the state wrestling individual championships in Greensboro last week, many wrestled only twice, losing both and going home disappointed after a year of hard work.

Davie County's Jon Ward won four consecutive matches — and still went home disappointed.

His four victories came after a stunning first round loss, dropping him out of the race for the 125-pound title. But he gutted it up through the consolation rounds and finished third.

It was the second year in a row that Davie had a wrestler place third. Jamie Caudle did it last year. Davie entered the 4-A tournament with high expectations. Coach Buddy Lowery's team won the Midwest Regionals in Boone a week earlier and qualified six. But due to some close losses, the War Eagles didn't finish in the top 10.

Ward

"I feel sorry for Ward — and all the rest of them," said Lowery. "But there aren't any weasels or squirrels here. We're stunned — and disappointed."

Early Loss

Davie actually won four of its six first round matches. Brad Kropfelder (130 pounds) Chris Mann (152), Shane Mauldin (160) and James Coulston all advanced to the quarterfinals.

But those victories were overshadowed by Ward's 10-6 loss to Pinecrest's Andy McMillen.

"That one really shook everybody," Lowery said before Saturday's action got underway. "Jon thought he was going to win the whole thing." It was only Ward's second loss of the year.

Yadkin County Gets Unifi, We Get Campy

Unifi may have passed up a chance at coming to Davie County but in a couple of months, we'll steal Yadkin County's other precious commodity: Campy Walker.

In other words, Mocksville Legion baseball fans should prepare themselves for "Brocke II."

Just having Campy Walker on the Legion team will be enough to bring back fond memories of his brother. In 1989, Brocke Walker came over from Yadkin County. We heard of his reputation as a three-sport star at Siamount High. We heard he was a hero in Yadkin County.

He then proved it to us by helping the Legion to 38 victories and a berth in the state championship series. Along with names like McDaniel, Fowler and Key, he became a hero here. Kids, as well as their parents, stayed after games and had him sign autographs. Girls oogled over him.

Now, three years later, it's Campy's turn. It's not that Campy doesn't know about the Legion. In the July 20, 1989 edition of the Enterprise-Record, Brocke's picture was on the front sports page for leading the Legion to a victory over Asheboro during a playoff series.

On page two, there was a picture of Campy, sitting on the famous right field hill known as "Mocksville Mountain" eating a hot dog.

In 1992, the pictures may be reversed. Brocke will be the one sitting on the hill, and coach Dale James hopes Campy will be on the front page, revered for some type of heroics.

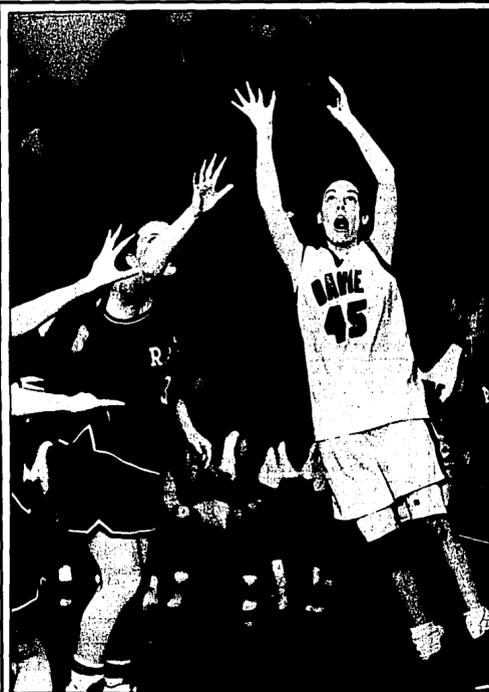

Currently, Campy is taking up right where Brocke left off. He is the glamour boy of Yadkin County sports and the Northwest 2-A Conference's most publicized athlete.

He has already been named the league's Defensive Player of the Year in football and has signed a scholarship with Western Carolina University.

Friday, Siamount's first place basketball team traveled to Surry Central for another ho-hum win. During the girls game, he sat in the stands with his buddy, Carlos King, the school's all-time leading scorer and a future running back at N.C. State.

Just the way Campy walked to the locker room before his game made you think there was something different about him. Something special. He walked with the hero's swagger. And like his brother three years ago, he should have no trouble fitting in with the Legion fanatics in Davie County.

Mistaken Identity Helps South Rowan Avoid Upset

Free Throws Do In War Eagle Girls, 50-49

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

A case of mistaken identity helped prevent Davie County's varsity girls basketball team from recording the biggest upset in the Central Piedmont Conference this season.

After coming from 19 points down, Davie watched the referees allow the wrong player to shoot the winning free throw in a 50-49 South Rowan victory over the War Eagles.

Losing to the state's third-ranked 4-A team in that fashion left Davie coach Angie Jarvis livid.

"I never like to blame a loss on the referees," she said, "but they made a critical mistake at a crucial time. We had a chance to win. Even with the officiating blunder, Davie still had a final shot to win. But Casey Jenkins' three-pointer at the buzzer just missed.

The streaking War Eagles did win their fourth game in last six tries by avenging an earlier loss to Grimsley Friday night, taking a 49-38 victory over the Whirlies.

The wins left Davie with a 8-13 overall and 5-8 in the conference.

South Connor-less
South Rowan coach Perry Bradshaw may have seen the future in the second half of his game with Davie.

Osborne, Tribble Qualify

Diver, Swimmer Will Perform In Chapel Hill

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Coolleemee has produced several all-stars in football and baseball and now, the town can claim a championship diver.

Matt Osborne, in his first year diving for the first-year Davie County swim team, won the Central Piedmont Conference diving championship recently at Grimsley High School and then won a berth in the state swim meet.

Osborne, only a sophomore, placed ninth in the 4-A regionals, held Friday at Davidson College. The state meet will be held in Chapel Hill at the University of North Carolina.

Brian Tribble will accompany Osborne. The junior swimmer qualified for the state meet by placing twice in the regionals, placing fourth in the 50 freestyle and fifth in the 100 backstroke.

Davie finished in 16th place with 42 points.

Osborne Is Champ
Davie swim coach Karen Umberger is proud of Osborne, considering the lack of time he put into the event before the school began its program.

"Matt is a gymnast," she said. "I think he dove one summer for Bermuda Run. But he's a natural because of gymnastics. He just needs to work. And he has the drive and ambition."

Osborne went undefeated in the Central Piedmont Conference this season. His only losses came to a Greensboro Page swimmer in a non-conference meet.

The top 12 divers at the regionals qualified for the state meet. Umberger said Osborne's ninth place finish could have been much better had he not botched one of his dives. He received no points for that one.

"He was ninth out of 16 but if he could have hit that one dive, he could have easily been fifth or sixth," she said.

"The quality was apparent for those who have worked at diving for years," she said of the other competitors.

Osborne is getting special attention from Paula Woodruff, the diving coach for all of Forsyth County Schools. The Lewisville resident has now taken Osborne under her wing.

"If Matt hits his dives at the state meet, he can place in the top 10, I think," Umberger said.

Tribble has been one of the top swimmers in the CPC all season and will now take his talents to Chapel Hill as well. He swam in the regionals, held at the Mocklenburg Aquatic Center.

"In conference, there were four swimmers in each event," Umberger said. "There were about 50 to 60 in the regionals. There will be 24 in each event in the state."

Coaches Talk Football, Realignment

Randall Ward joined hundreds of high school football coaches from across the state recently in Greensboro to discuss possible changes.

Among the discussed were ways to cut the season shorter, from 16 to 15 weeks and also the playoffs from five to four weeks.

Moving the Shrine Bowl to the third Saturday in December was also discussed. The date will not be changed, however.

Coaches are preparing also for the next realignment, which is set to begin in the 1993-94 school year.

The coaches' vote was 176-30 to shorten the season to 10 games in 10 weeks. NCHSAA official Dick Knox said that if that were to happen and the same number of teams were to be kept, the state may have to go back to the subdivided playoffs. A few years ago, the state had a Division II playoffs for second place clubs.

Ward said he went with the flow and says he's all for cutting the open date out to help trim the regular season to 10 weeks if everyone else agrees to it.

But he still likes the same number of teams (64) in the playoffs.

"Take East Rowan for instance," he said. "They went 6-4 last year and made it to the third round of the (5-A) playoffs. In the old format, East Rowan may not have even made the playoffs."

Cutting out the open date will ruin Ward's efforts regarding his own schedule. He changed it so he would have an open date between his last nonconference game and his first Central Piedmont contest.

Ward said cutting out the open date could have an effect on a losing team. He used the South Rowan-Kanawha game as an example.

"That's a big money, emotional game. I wouldn't want to lose that game and then go straight into the conference."

Considering Davie's enrollment is ranked 55th in the state (and out of 80 4-A schools) with 978 students, he'd like to see the 4-A playoffs possibly split up.

"Personally, I'd like to see teams of the same size play," he said. "I'd like to see a Lower 16 and an Upper 16 play for championships in 4-A," he said. "It's not fair to have a school with 950 play a school with 2,000 kids, like Richmond County. It takes away from the state championship."

"All you want is for your kids to have a chance," Ward said. Richmond County is the state's second largest school, according to NCHSAA figures, released last week, with 1,620. West Charlotte is the largest at 1,650.

Enrollments are based on grades

Notebook

10 through 12. Davie is actually the third largest school in the Central Piedmont Conference at 978. Grimsley is the only league school over 1,000, with 1,007. West Forsyth is second at 992 and Davie third.

Other schools' enrollment: Reynolds (951), Mount Taber (908), South Rowan (902), Dudley (808) and Parkland (693).

Dudley and Parkland are set to go down to 3-A when the next realignment takes shape after next year.

Another team ended its season Tuesday night when Davie hosted Parkland in the regular season finale.

The Dancing Boots, otherwise known as the Dance Ensemble, was also discussed. The date will not be changed, however.

For 21 years, the Boots have performed during games and with the band. For 20 of those years, Susan Wall has been the coach.

Wall said she didn't know if her dance ensemble could be considered a sport but added, "We work as a team and give that team effort. It's like the band. They're a team."

And as usual, the Boots and the Band were as much as a part of Davie athletics as those "other" sports teams. The Jazz Ensemble and Boots performed at halftime of football and basketball games.

Wall was especially pleased with this year's group, which included six seniors. Three of them, Shea Markland, Teresa Koonz and Jennifer Crofts are three-year veterans.

Other seniors are Lisa Sanders, Vonetta Cody and Karolyn Deese. Underclassmen include Penny Young, Tina Bailey, Shanna Brewer, Crispy Plot, Sanni Tucker and Ronda Swaim.

"I'm extremely pleased with their performance," Wall said. "It was a real joy being with girls who are so dedicated. They got along with each other so well. They had a real good attitude."

And whether a sport or not, the key to a winning team is team unity and attitude — something the Dancing Boots have had for 20 years.

Connor Injured

After his team's 50-49 win over Davie County last week, South Rowan's girls coach Perry Bradshaw sat outside his locker room with his head bowed.

"He got a preview when Connor sprained her ankle in the third quarter and never returned. While she was absent, so was the South offense, losing a 19-point lead and just hanging on."

Connor, who has already signed with Wake Forest, is not only one of the Central Piedmont Conference's best players but one of the most popular as well. Before the game she was seen talking with Bradshaw said Connor was injured on an inbounds pass.

"She came down on someone's foot," Bradshaw said. "She usually bounces back from injuries. We'll keep her off it for a couple of days and see."

Connor didn't play Friday and South lost to Mount Tabor.

While South is struggling without Connor, Davie's fortunes are looking better with every game.

"The first time they blew us out by 30 and this time, it was one," said Davie coach Angie Jarvis. "We're going to be a team to be reckoned with in the next couple of years."

Wake Celebrity

When Reynolds came to Davie County recently, Wake Forest fans from the area got a chance to see Deason basketball coach Dave Odom, whose son, Ryan, starts for Howard West's club.

When jayvee boys coach Mike Dinkins got back from his game, Odom overheard him tell Reynolds' Stan Elrod about scoring 108 points.

Davie Drops In Poll

Davie, which spent much of the season in first, dropped to sixth after losing to Grimsley. Even after winning the regional, the War Eagles found themselves in seventh.

East Gaston was the new number one, replacing Cary, which (last) recently, Hillsborough Orange with second in 4-A, followed by Northem Durham, Wilmington Lapeer, Gastonia Ashbrook and Grimsley.

Cary followed Davie in eighth position with Jacksonville and Anson County rounding out the top 10.

Laney, who was the preseason number one, may move back in after winning the individual tournament last week.

Shrine Bowl Coach

A familiar face to Davie County football fans will coach in the 1992 Shrine Bowl.

Dudley's Willie Young, who has never lost to Davie, will represent the Central Piedmont Conference in the game. He will join North Carolina head coach Carroll Wright of Pisgah.

No hit and lie here. He wore a t-shirt, sneakers and a ballcap.
We like country boys.
At the free throw line, he even dribbled the basketball in a certain way that made you think special thoughts.
But what really set him apart were the kids. While he was warming up, they came by and gave him some high (in this case) low fives.
Starmount started slowly but Campy, nor King, (nor coach Danny Anderson for that matter) ever flinched. Campy put a rebound back in. He converted a three-point play. He slanted to the basket and dished to King. When it was over, an early Surry Central lead was a 13-point loss.
A small boy ran up to Walker afterward, huffing. "Carlos had 30, you had 20."
Campy looked down at the boy and smiled. The boy's eyes sparkled.
The young boy had to wait before talking to Walker, however. Campy was too busy working out a problem at center court.

school athletics is that people from opposing schools like to talk trash, trying to rattle the hero. But they should realize heroes don't rattle.
During the fourth quarter, Campy blocked a shot and took some verbal abuse from a hefty Surry Central student on the front row. After the game, he challenged the fan, taunting him, getting up in his face.
The fan walked away. When it comes down to brass tacks, no one wants to mess with a hero.
Campy pulled his jersey off as he headed for the locker room. Despite having a football scholarship and another basketball victory in his back pocket, he wanted to talk about Legion baseball.
"I'm planning on playing," he said. "Everyone is telling me not to pass it up."
Brother Brocke has told him. And when he visited Western Carolina, his host was a football player who knows a little about being a Yadkin County high school hero and Legion baseball star in Davie County.
Forbush's Chad Greene was Walker's host.
"Chad said if I had a chance to play Legion, do it," said Campy, a senior at Starmount who has two years of Legion eligibility left. "Chad said last summer was the greatest summer of his life. And Brocke wants me to play. He loved it."

had their way with the War Eagles throughout the first half, leading 31-14 at intermission.
But she turned her ankle early in the third quarter and Davie immediately began coming back. South's lead was only 45-38 with 1:51 remaining.
Andrea Gentry's three-pointer put Davie within 46-43 and the game suddenly became very interesting.
Jenkins' 10-footer made it 48-45 and after a Shannon Umberger steal, Kristin Hinshaw hit a free throw, cutting it to two.
Davie kept fouling Kees Beaver and the strategy worked, as she was only 2-of-7 for the game. With 20 seconds left, she was fouled again.
But Leisa Seaford slipped to the foul line instead.
Jarvis said it appeared Beaver was telling the referees she was supposed to shoot. Jarvis and her players were screaming at the officials that Beaver was supposed to shoot. The crowd screamed that Beaver was supposed to shoot.
But the officials left Seaford on the line, where she drained two straight for a 50-46 lead.
"We had been fouling Beaver all night," complained Jarvis. "The refs wouldn't even talk to me about it. Beaver was even telling them she was supposed to shoot. He (Bradshaw) knew it too. That was some cheap garbage."
Little did she know the game was far from over.
After a Davie miss, Beaver was fouled again and this time did go to the line, where she missed at the 12-second mark.
Gentry raced downcourt and missed a three-pointer but was fouled with only two seconds left. She hit the first two free throws for a 50-48 deficit and Bradshaw called a timeout, planning strategy if Gentry hit the third.
"I wanted the inbound pass to go past halfcourt," he said.
It never made it. Jenkins intercepted, took a dribble and fired from 22 feet. The ball went in the basket and rimmed out as the home crowd gasped.
Bradshaw knew he had dodged a bullet.
"They played well," he said of Davie. "They did what they had to do."
"I'm real proud of the girls," said Jarvis, calming down. "We do not give up. We haven't all year. We have some real go-getters. We should've won this game."

Wrestling

"Jon didn't crack a smile yesterday," Lowery continued. "Some wrestlers expect to do well and he was one of them. You put a year's time into it, and then have your balloon popped and it hurts."
But the 125-pound junior didn't let the loss stop him. He began Saturday's consolation with a 6-2 win over South Stokes' Eddie Lister. He pinned Raleigh Enloe's Cary Nordan in the consolation quarterfinals and recorded a technical fall over West Mecklenburg's Josh Goodwin in the semifinals.
In the consolation finals, he whipped Anson County's Anthony Smith, 9-2.
"He got a third this year and next year, hopefully, he can get a first," Lowery sighed.
Making the Semifinals
Coulston, another junior, was the only Davie wrestler to make it through Friday undefeated. He received a forfeit in the first round and pinned Rocky Mount's Barry Sears in the quarterfinals.
But he ran up against eventual champion Dennis Stanley of Cary in the semifinals and was defeated 12-2. That threw him into the consolation semifinals, where he lost to West Mecklenburg's Tim Johnson, 19-3.
Coulston will aggravate a wrestler to death the way he wrestles," Lowery said. "He has a low center of gravity. He's getting stronger and he'll do better next year too."

Same Old Story

Boys Lose Another Close One

By Ronnie Gallagher
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Davie County varsity boys basketball coach Charles Crenshaw heard the same old thing last week after his team lost a 76-73 overtime decision to South Rowan.

"We knew we would be in for a tough time," South coach Bob Parker told reporters. "We also knew that Davie County, which has probably lost more close games in the 4-A classification than any team in the state, was due a win."

Needless to say, Crenshaw is tired of hearing that. He's wondering what his team has to do to pull out a Central Piedmont Conference victory.

"We played hard and had our chances," he said. "That's something else he's tired of hearing. Friday night, Davie ran into the league's top team in Grimsley and fell 77-48. It dropped Davie to 0-13 in the league."

Almost... Davie appeared as if the basketball gods would finally smile down on Davie in the final seconds of regulation and help give the War Eagles their first conference win of the season. Jason Phelps took a feed from Bubba Coleman and nailed a three-pointer with 15 seconds left for a 59-57 lead.

Crenshaw then ordered a 2-3 zone, knowing the Raiders would try and get the ball to 6-6 center Carmichael Reid.

"They got it to him anyway," Crenshaw said.

Reid was fouled going to the basket with four seconds left. He hit the first but missed the second, forcing overtime.

David Snyder took a pass from Coleman and scored the first points of the overtime but Davie managed only three more points as South grabbed a 76-71 lead with only 36 seconds remaining.

"We were hurt by free throw shooting, although it wasn't that bad," Crenshaw said of the 14-of-22 performance. "But we missed the front end of four one-and-ones."

Crenshaw was pleased with Davie's second half comeback. At one time, the War Eagles were down 29-50 but Chip Carter and Coleman led Davie back. Coleman's free throw with just over a minute left tied the game at 63.

Coleman had one of his better games, scoring 21 points, dishing out 11 assists, grabbing six rebounds and coming up with three steals. Carter and Keith Koozitz had 16 points each and Jason Rice nine and six rebounds.

"Davie County played hard and didn't quit," Parker said. "They are a lot better than their record would indicate."

That's true — but boy, is Crenshaw tired of hearing it. Losing to Grimsley Grimsley outscored Davie in every quarter and walked to an easy victory Friday night in Greensboro.

The first place Whitties improved to 12-1 in the league and 16-6 overall. After outscoring the War Eagles 15-10 in the first quarter, they ran off a 26-16 second quarter and a 22-10 third.

The key was holding down Coleman, who finished with only four. Tyronne Martin led the way with 14 and Carter 10.

Notes:

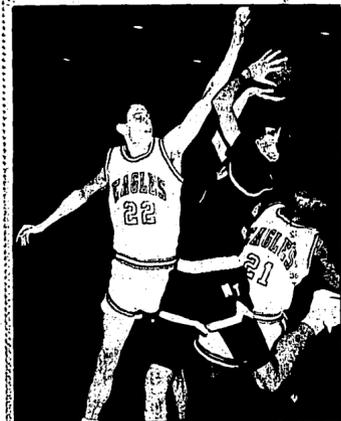

- Davie fell to 4-17 overall.
- Davie started the season 3-0 but has been 1-16 since.
- Rice was 4-of-6 from the field against South. "He's played a lot better the last two games," Crenshaw said of his 6-6 junior center. Carter had nine rebounds and Koozitz eight against South.

Against South, Coleman was 6-of-9 from the field but the other guards were a combined 2-of-19. Davie has lost to Grimsley by 23 and 29 points this season.

Martin didn't play against South. The sophomore was sick and missed school.

Jayvee Boys On Hot Streak; JV Girls Win

A losing streak at the beginning of the Central Piedmont Conference schedule dented Davie County's jayvee boys title hopes but right now, there isn't a hotter team.

After losing five straight, the War Eagles have now won four in a row, including two wins last week.

Davie edged South Rowan 65-64 and then hopped Grimsley 83-65, running its record to 11-5 overall.

Coach Mike Dinkins said after losing five players to grades and the varsity, it took a while for his team to mesh together. Now, the boys have gotten used to a new offense.

"The group I have left is really playing well together," he said. "And having Corey Deese come down from the varsity has helped the rebounding." Davie trailed South Rowan throughout the first three quarters before outscoring the Raiders 20-11 in the last eight minutes.

Reserves Parris Wilson and Charlie Markland hit big baskets to give Davie the momentum, according to Dinkins.

Davie was 4-of-4 from the foul line in the fourth quarter, with Marlic Lewis going 3-for-3.

Brent Cassidy, who finished with 13, hit the winning free throw with one second remaining. He and Gerald Roberts (also 13 points) followed Deese, who had 15.

"Since we went to our new run and gun offense, that 65 points is one second remaining. He and Gerald Roberts (also 13 points) followed Deese, who had 15.

After leading the Whitties 35-29 at halftime, Davie exploded for 30 third quarter points and led 65-43 after three.

Dinkins said his second five sparked the team. Wilson, Markland, Scott and Jason Tutterow and Jack Hall got Davie going.

Several players had a hand in the 30-point quarter. Roberts scored seven and Deese five, while Chad Alexander, Cassidy, Jason Smith and Wilson had four each.

Cassidy scored 17 to lead Davie, while Roberts had 15 and Wilson 10.

"If the other boys were still with us, Parris wouldn't be getting any playing time," said Dinkins. "But now, he's making some big shots in every game." Girls Win Two Over South, Grimsley

Sherrie Myers tried to find out if her jayvee girls basketball team was in first place in the Central Piedmont Conference last week by calling Dudley, who she thinks is battling her War Eagles for the top spot.

"They didn't know their own record," she marvelled. "So we're at least in second."

Davie beat South Rowan 46-33 and won against Grimsley Friday, but Davie at 11-2 in the Central Piedmont Conference.

Myers laughs at her team's motivation. They don't have it until she gives them a lecture at halftime.

Against South, the team trailed 22-17 at halftime, after being outscored 15-8 in the second quarter.

"We had a little discussion," she said, "and we came out and played well."

"In the first half, we made too many turnovers and didn't block out. But South got tired in the second half and we outlasted them."

Led by Amy Mason's six points, Davie led by 24-22 after three quarters and then quitted in the final eight minutes.

Brooke Holcomb led Davie with 14 points and Stacy Whaley scored 12. Mason finished with eight.

Myers described her win over Grimsley by saying, "It was pretty bad. It was the same old thing. We rebounded well and our defense was just great. We've been really awesome on defense lately. That has been the key."

Notes:

• Davie is 11-2 in the CPC.

• Davie outscored South 17-7 in the third quarter.

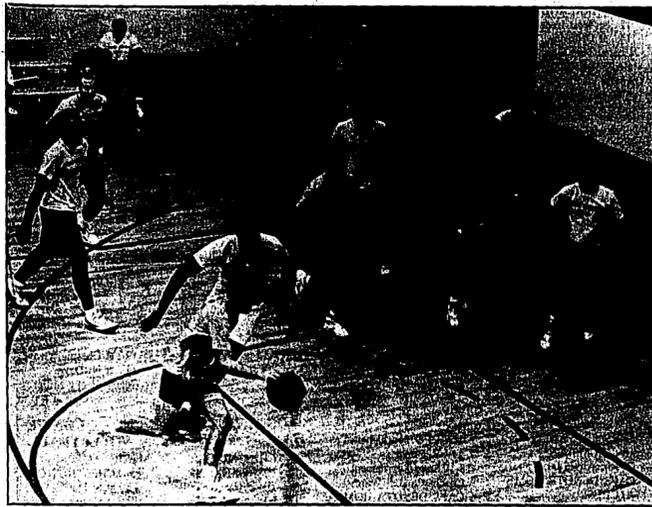

• Davie finished the season Tuesday at Parkland.

• Davie is 6-7 in the CPC.

• In the South game, the team changed hands four times in the final 30 seconds.

• Cassidy is the team's leading scorer.

Students Learn TV Journalism

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Denise Franklin had all the right qualities to be a good reporter. She did well in English. And she watched and listened to things around her.

In other words, she's nosy. Anchor for WXII TV-12 news, Franklin talked to sixth graders in the advisor-advisee program at Mocksville Middle School last week. "I've always read a lot," she said. "Books are very good friends."

"I was always one of those children who said, 'But why?' But if you go into broadcast journalism, they pay you to ask why."

"I read a lot, I talked a lot and I always did well in English."

A lot of hard work in school, hard work on the job while in school, and Franklin landed the anchor job at WXII.

In the advisor-advisee program, students talk about careers.

Franklin told them that broadcast journalists could make from $10,000 to $1 million a year.

Franklin said in school, she first wanted to be a lawyer. When she changed, she started looking at her assets to see what career suited her best.

"I've always been extremely nosy — downright nosy," she said.

At Wichita State University, she got a chance at a job at a local radio station. She was paraded before man after man wearing a suit.

There, she learned poise. "You always have to maintain your cool, your calmness. Don't be intimidated by people with self-esteem problems."

She later learned she had attracted so much attention because she was the first black female to apply for a job on the news team.

She told the students not to wait until they're older to prepare for a career. Although they don't have to have a career in mind now, things they learn now will become more and more important.

"Things that are happening to you now will be important when you look for employment," Franklin said.

"Hang on to what you're learning now."

She called journalism a service industry.

"You serve your community by exposing and enlightening. Journalists can't change things. They expose problems, but the people have to get behind an issue to make a change," she said.

Mocksville Middle guidance counselor Rosemary Routsong started the advisor-advisee program.

It breaks up sixth graders into small groups of eight or nine students, who meet regularly with an advisor (teacher, assistant or parent).

"The purpose is to have an adult they can get close to, spend some time with," she said. "The students have a small group they get close with."

"They've talked about responsibility, careers, school success types of things," Routsong said.

Franklin: "I've always been extremely nosy."

Beginning Typing will provide experience in the typewriter keyboard including figures and special characters, skillful proofreading, spacing, punctuation, syllabication, placement of business letters on the page, and centering titles. Participants who want to earn 4.8 teacher renewal credits must attend all sessions. (Mondays and Wednesdays beginning March 2, 5-7:15 p.m.; Davie High School, Mocksville; 12 weeks, $30 fee plus $20 typewriter fee)

Decorative Painting will provide instruction in working with acrylic paint and preparing an object to be painted. No freehand work is required, since patterns are traced onto objects which are being painted. Participants will also make a color chart and review colors. (Two sessions: Tuesdays beginning March 3, 9 a.m.-noon; Brock Building, Mocksville; 13 weeks, $30 fee; Tuesdays beginning March 3, 6:30-9 p.m.; South Davie Jr. High School, Mocksville; 12 weeks, $30 fee)

Introduction to WordPerfect is designed to acquaint the participant with the popular word processing software package, WordPerfect (version 5.0). In using WordPerfect, one can compose, edit, rewrite and rearrange words prior to the actual "printing"

Lap Quilting will familiarize participants with a process that combines small fabric pieces to form individual blocks or squares which can then be quilted and joined to form a quilt or adapted to make items such as pillows, placemats, tote bags, or wall hangings. This process eliminates the need for quilting frames, thereby making the process less cumbersome and confining than traditional quilting. (Tuesdays beginning March 3, 9 a.m.-noon; Brock Building, Mocksville; 13 weeks, $30 fee)

Ceramics and Fused Figurines will provide instruction in the proper techniques for cleaning and preparing greenware for firing. (Fridays beginning March 6,

1-4 p.m.; Davie Village, Crestview Drive, Mocksville; 13 weeks, $30 fee)

Woodcarving will focus on the basic woodworking techniques using primarily the tools everyone has around the home. Villagers Rock For Heart Group

Davie Village residents got out their rocking chairs on Valentine's Day. It was for a good cause. A total of $350 was raised for the American Heart Association by 29 residents at Davie Village, "the home with a heart."

Della Trivette, co-administrator and activities director, said the residents look forward to the rock-a-thon for the heart association. Iva Bottoms, Davie Village resident since 1989, said the rock-a-thon missed one thing — music. "We need music," she said. "If you've got rhythm, you get moving. It's dull without some music."

"We're rocking our blues away," she said.

Featherlite Provides Mocksville Connection

There's a little bit of Davie County traveling the NASCAR circuit this year. Dale Earnhardt, for Davy Allison, for Rusty Wallace, for Kyle Petty. The list goes on and on. Ride by Featherlite of the East Coast off Salisbury Street in Mocksville, and you may catch a glimpse of one of these trailers.

Bill and Will Junker own Featherlite of the East Coast, and offer a full line of car and animal trailers, featuring custom interiors. Albert Tkach, owner of As-Fab, adjacent to the company, complements the business with aluminum fabrication. The Junker shop is in the process of building two 50-foot semi-trailers — one for the Dale Earnhardt Busch series team and one for NASCAR officials to use as a headquarters at Winston Cup races.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BACTERIOLOGICAL MONITORING FAILURE
 The water serving your home failed to meet the bacteriological monitoring requirements as they appear in the "Rules Governing Public Water Systems." During each month, your water system is required to have water samples analyzed for bacterial contamination. In July, August and October, 1991, the correct number of samples were not analyzed. Therefore, the "Rules Governing Public Water Systems" require that the consumers be notified of the violation.
 This failure to meet monitoring requirements does not imply that the water is contaminated. However, in order to better protect your health, we will conduct adequate monitoring in the future.

Unpaid Taxes To Be Published In Paper

Have you paid your county property taxes? If not, you can expect to see your name in the Enterprise Record soon. County commissioners last week gave tax collector Mary Nell Richie permission to advertise the names of people who failed to pay the taxes. Whatever the method, the tax collector's office must be doing something right. From 1981-1989, more than 99 percent of property taxes were collected.

Davie Planners To Hear 2 Rezoning Requests

There will be a meeting of the Davie County Planning Board on Thursday, March 5, at 7 p.m. in the commissioners room of the Administration Building. Glenda K. Willard submitted a request to rezone property from Residential R-20 to Residential R-8 Multi-family Special Use Zoning. This property is located on the east side of N.C. 801 across from Spillman's Auto Parts in Cooleenoe. The property is further described as being parcel A-5 of Davie County Tax Map M-3-15.

Ballenger Seeking Re-Election

Congressman Cass Ballenger said Feb. 13 he will seek re-election to the 10th congressional district before the end of February. "I am less than happy with the manner in which the people in our area were treated by the Democrats in Raleigh who drew the new congressional plan," Ballenger said. "However, you often must play with the cards dealt to you." Under the Democratic plan, 11 of the 17 counties in the 10th district were split. "On a brighter note, I do look forward to the challenge of serving the new 10th district," Ballenger said.

HANDLES ANYTHING THAT CROPS UP.
Kubota M-Series farm tractors are built for any kind of work. They crop up, and with Kubota's drive, they easily pull loads.
You'd expect to find Kubota in a much larger tractor. But Kubota's M-Series farm tractors are built with strong, heavy-duty steel. With 44-HP 770 horsepower, Kubota's M-Series farm tractors are built to last. A turbo-charged diesel engine provides plenty of power. A narrow rear wheel works better in close quarters.
Although a Kubota is built to take on work, it doesn't come with the big fuel bill or other operating expenses of many larger tractors.
Before you plan, call, or see, or look, take one look at the Kubota M-Series. It handles any work that crops up.
Kubota.
