Joshua Day Remembered As Everyone's Friend

Joshua Stacy Day was a friend to Pinebrook Elementary School.

The death of the 8-year-old third grader in a traffic accident on Aug. 23 was more than a shock to the young students, teachers and administrators.

They had lost one of their best friends.

"Joshua was one of those kids who was a friend to everybody," said counselor, Zollie Rogers. "He was a special kid who could interact with anybody."

Although he lost his life on a Randolph County road, Joshua's memory will remain at Pinebrook, and with his friends, forever.

Later in the week, the school named a new bridge across a creek on the nature trail "Joshua's bridge."

Planners Recommend Higher Density For Hillsdale Development

By Jeane Galther
Davie County Enterprise Record

The county planning board is recommending that Davie County utilize a provision approved by county commissioners earlier this year to allow increased development in a protected watershed.

The planning board voted Aug. 25, to recommend approval of a request by the Hillsdale Group to allocate the 10/70 rule to 137 acres in the Forsyth Yadkin watershed for a 300 acre development to be called Kinderton on U.S. 158.

In a designated WS-IV protected area, land owners are allowed to have impervious areas, such as parking lots and sidewalks, covering 24 percent of their property with curb and gutter or 36 percent without, according to Davie County Planning and Zoning Director John Gallimore.

With the 10/70 rule, county commissioners will allow 10 percent of the land in the protected watershed area to be covered up to 70 percent.

The Forsyth Yadkin watershed includes about 7,000 acres, Gallimore said. That means about 700 acres may be 70 percent impervious surfaces. County commissioners will decide how to allocate those 700 acres on a project by project basis.

The state established watershed rules to protect drinking water supplies but provided the 10/70 rule to allow counties and towns some flexibility, as economy and quality of life rely on development, Hank Van Hoy, attorney for the Hillsdale Group, told the planning board.

If this level of development was not OK, Van Hoy said, it would not have been put in the law.

Interpreting the ordinance, it was determined that the 167 acres of Kinderton that will be residential did not need to be included in the request, leaving only 137 acres for higher density development, he explained.

The effect on the environment from this will be minuscule with 500 yards of wet bottom land between it and the Yadkin River and 90 percent of runoff from the development draining into a pond, he said.

The development will increase the county's tax base dramatically, Van Hoy added.

If county commissioners choose to approve the 10/70 rule for the Kinderton development, the Hillsdale Group may cover up to 96 acres.

3 Football Players Suspended

Principal Amends Policy That Would Ban Eligibility

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Hours after a first-game loss, three Davie High football players were in a group stopped by police south of Mocksville.

They had been drinking.

According to school policy, the three had to be kicked off the team. School principal Linda Bost reconsidered that policy over the weekend and suspended the players for four games instead. There will be other punishment, but they will be allowed to play the five Central Piedmont Conference games.

The three were key players: the starting quarterback, place kicker and a fullback.

Planners Split On Changes To Mobile Home Regulations

By Jeane Galther
Davie County Enterprise Record

The Davie County planning board was divided in a vote Aug. 25 on proposed amendments to mobile home regulations in the county zoning ordinance.

Those opposing the changes cited the definition for a manufactured home park as their primary concern.

The current definition for a manufactured home park is "any tract of land set up and maintained as a parking place for three or more manufactured homes."

If approved by county commissioners, the amendments will reduce the number of mobile homes constituting a manufactured home park from three to two on a single tract of land, according to planning and zoning director John Gallimore.

Also considered a manufactured home park would be adjoining parcels of land owned by the same person, family, partnership or company, which has been planned or improved for the placement and rental of two or more mobile homes.

This would make regulations for mobile homes like those already in place for stick built homes, Gallimore said. The county ordinance allows one house per tract of land under single ownership except in a group development such as Bermuda Village.

Sheriff Kiger Served In Davie's Biggest Crisis

He was one of the nicest men we've ever elected as sheriff. But he served during a time when being a nice guy wasn't enough.

R.O. Kiger died last week, and a flood of memories of his term came rushing back.

He was elected when all we looked for in a sheriff was strength of character. Kiger was a good man. People liked him. His only experience was managing his corner grocery store on North Main Street.

That had always been experience enough.

But things changed drastically one night on Redland Road in 1975.

One of Kiger's deputies was gunned down while stopping a motorist. The man fled to Forsyth, and officers chased him back into Davie County, again to Redland Road. A Forsyth officer was gunned down there.

Morrey Joe Campbell fled into the night, and he was declared a public outlaw. He could have been shot on sight. Police officers flocked to the county by the hundreds. They took control of the search.

The events were national news, and a sleepy little county found itself in an uncomfortable spotlight.

Sheriff Kiger and the Davie County deputies were shuttled to the side by lawmen from other areas.

Davie's deputies lacked the experience, training, skill, and even the weapons to handle such a manhunt.

When it was all over, Davie County law enforcement was in shambles. After burying deputy Wayne Harold Gaitner, the rest of the deputies declared a strike. Davie only had 11 deputies, and Sheriff Kiger was left to run the department by himself.

Even though their methods were strange, the deputies had noble goals: They wanted a sheriff's department equipped for the modern age. They wanted more deputies, more patrol cars, better salaries, better pistols and weapons.

It was a difficult time.

Sheriff departments in little counties had concerned themselves with minor things such as occasional drunks and fights. But times changed here with an interstate highway cutting through the county and the arrival of the drug culture. The sheriff's department had to get with the times.

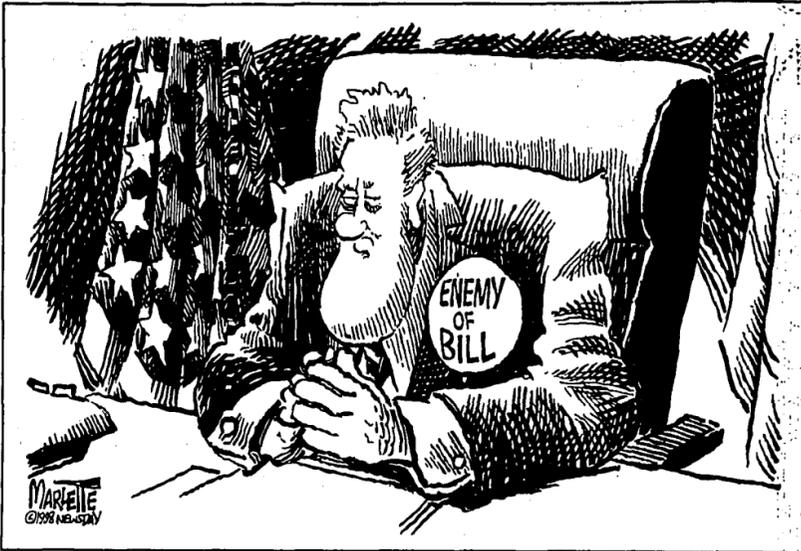

Sheriff Kiger and the deputies weathered a lot of storms, conflicts and ideas about how to improve the department.

Now that it's history, we can look back and marvel at the improvements. Training is no longer an option for deputies. We have skilled detectives. The job is a career for many officers. A newly-elected sheriff no longer fires all the deputies and hires his own friends. And deputies equipped with bullet proof vests and powerful weapons.

R.O. Kiger served during the most challenging time for any sheriff in Davie history. It was a job he relished and enjoyed. Even in his advanced years, he enjoyed being called "Sheriff." And he kept up with his old friends in law enforcement.

Sheriff Robert Odell Kiger died Aug. 26 at Autumn Care in Mocksville. His devoted wife, Maude, had died a couple of months earlier. He was buried at Oak Grove United Methodist Church cemetery.

In The Mail ... United Way Campaign To Begin Soon

To the editor: First a hearty thank you for finding space in our newspaper to insert the various United Way messages we provide and you run on an as-space-available basis.

Your readers should know these messages are run without cost as an expression by the newspaper of its community support of its United Way - the Davie County United Way.

The "united" way in which communities have come together to meet citizens' needs has over a 100 year history in our country. Campaigns have been called - Community Chest, Red Feather Fund, War Chest, War Fund, United Fund and, now, United Way. For it is "united" that we pool our donated dollars to maximize their effectiveness and minimize costs. It is the best way to have more dollars available to meet a community's health and human services needs.

The messages' listed telephone number - (800)411-UWAY - rings in our local United Way office, through arrangements with AT&T, if a call is made from a local telephone. This number, when seen in TV "spots" during NFL and ACC games, are spots donated by the sponsors. The annual dollar value exceeds $50 million. It is their way of recognizing the value a local United Way has in the community it serves.

Second we want to call to your readers' attention that the 9899 local campaign will begin next month. The goal will be announced at a gala "garden party" on the grounds of the historic Boxwood Lodge. Appreciation is expressed to its owner, Martha Hoffman, for making this possible. A very special goal has been invited.

The success of the campaign will depend largely upon our citizens who work in other counties remembering to write "Davie County" on their pledge forms. That is the only way their pledged dollars will "come back home" to benefit their neighbors, friends and, perhaps, themselves. Otherwise it will stay where pledged.

Again, thank you for our newspaper's support.

Real Teaching Needed

To the editor: What do schools and holidays have in common? They are money-making schemes. Lets see how much we can get parents to buy this year.

I hate the way the curriculums are set up ... Life Skills, Prime Time, ELPS ... why not just English, social studies, science, health & P.E. A plain t-shirt and black shorts should do for P.E. Why is a DHS logo needed? Don't the kids and teachers know where they are?

I know that it hits some families hard to provide all the supplies such as specific ring binders, paper, dividers and tabs, composition books, $5 agenda book, markers, colored pencils, Crayons, red pen, blue pen, school fees, P.E. uniforms, clothes.

I could continue, but you don't have enough space. Some teachers have some of the most idiotic ideas I've ever heard. Monday, one of my three kids forgot a pencil. For collateral of a 10-15 cent pencil, she took one of my child's shoes, a $30 shoe until class was over. I informed the school that I didn't pay $10 for good socks for her teacher to take her shoes in class. She can buy the next ones.

Last year, my other child in her life skills class had to pick out (I had to pay $7.50) and make a stuffed animal or pillow. She got an "F," and wasn't the only one. The project was useless. I have a bag of rags. Hopefully, my child's future won't be stuffing cotton up a toy's butt.

Let's get back to real teaching - and the fact is real teaching doesn't cost what it's costing us. A lot of parents agree with me 1,000 percent. Parents' input is mostly appreciated in the monetary form. And yes, I've volunteered many times at schools over the years.

Is Advance Haunted?

To the editor: As a reasonable responsible citizen of Advance and Davie County, I feel it is my duty to inform the general public about some things that are happening that may affect many people in this area.

I personally do not know all the history of Advance, but feel what is happening may have something to do with the past.

At sundown, things have started to change; I've seen bats flying and settle in one place. Wolves are howling, dogs are barking, cats are screaming. I've seen eyes and heard screams that seem to come from an area on 801 in Advance.

Could this be the haunting of a house in Advance? Please watch 801 - I feel something big is about to take place.

Pinehurst No. 2 Deceptively Not-So-Simple

It seemed like the perfect way to impress my golfing buddies and acquaintances.

Telling them about playing golf on Pinehurst No. 2, where golf, as we know it began, one of the top courses in the world, where the caddies are strong and knowledgeable, where the grass is lush and green, where just about everyone wants to play, but few get the opportunity.

I got the opportunity, and couldn't wait to tell my buddies.

As it turns out, golfers are mainly a jealous lot.

While telling my story, several of these so-called friends simply walked away, and I hadn't even got to the good parts. Others just nodded their heads and rolled their eyes, trying to make it look like they were thinking about something else.

Jealousy. Pure, green golf course envy.

To heck with those jealous people. I'm telling the world.

The ride down 220 to Pinehurst went quickly, maybe because I didn't want to be late for the 11:30 tee off of the tournament (No, it wasn't a qualifying tournament for the U.S. Open). I got there at 10. The tournament started at 11:30, I was to start at 1:50.

What an agonizing wait. I walked and rode all over Pinehurst, looking for other courses.

Then the time came. The famous Pinehurst No. 2. A trip to the driving range, and the balls were flying out of sight. A trip to the putting green was a different story. The ball wouldn't fall in the cup; Roll right past it. Roll way past it. The Pinehurst employees, one after the other, said the same thing. Don't be intimidated by the greens, known to be as slick as glass.

I was determined not to be intimidated.

The view off the first hole wasn't as impressive as what I had imagined for Pinehurst No. 2. There was a road to the left, pine trees to the right. I got used to that scenario before the day was over. Sometimes there was no road, but there were always pine trees.

My drive on the par 4 first hole was long and straight. The second shot landed on the green and stuck, about 10 feet from the hole. It was the only shot on the green among my playing partners. A sure par, maybe even a birdie. The last to putt, I watched the balls as they rolled this way and that. Confident, not intimidated, I stepped up to the ball. I steadied myself. And I putted. A soft stroke, because the greens at Pinehurst No. 2 are fast. It rolled slowly towards the hole, and veered to the right, almost stopping as it reached the hole. But it didn't stop, instead rolling 15 feet below the hole. No birdie. No par. But a bogey wasn't bad for the first hole.

That scene played out just about 18 times that day.

The course isn't spectacular. There's no water. The holes are generally straight. But the sand traps are strategically placed to catch balls. Coupled with slight elevation changes, it makes it difficult to judge the distances. And the greens. Not only are they fast, but almost impossible to read. Many of the holes are set on a ridge, meaning either you putt it in the hole or it's going off the green.

I went home proud of the 92 that I scored, even though a few days later when the gift certificate came in the mail because my team had finished second.

Still, if I could score a 92 at a Pinehurst No. 2, why would the PGA even consider holding the U.S. Open there. Not only is the course relatively easy, the roads in and around Pinehurst are about as wide as a sidewalk.

The caddie (He was hired by my rich playing partner) just laughed. The greens, he said, are usually faster. The roughs, he said, are usually rougher. The fairways, he said, are usually narrower. The tee boxes, he said, are usually further back.

Pinehurst officials aren't stupid. When the press comes into town for a tournament, they want us to feel like we're golf wizards. They want us to go back and tell the world that Pinehurst No. 2 is the one and only place to play golf.

It was a good idea, but sorry guys. Nobody wants to listen. Golfers are a jealous lot, indeed.

Pinebrook Dedicates Bridge

Joshua loved the outdoors and animals, and he loved sports.
"When you come here, you should think of Joshua," the Rev. Joel K. Boyles, a local minister and substitute teacher at Pinebrook, said at a memorial service, as fellow third graders and football players on the Pinebrook Trojan team gathered around in a meadow adjacent to the bridge.
"He was your friend. His death was tragic. But his death was nobody's fault," Boyles said. "It's OK to feel sad, to feel bad. It's OK to miss him."
As Boyles spoke, several students wiped tears from their eyes. Others looked toward the sky where a hawk was soaring above the trees.
"Joshua is still alive in your hearts and in your memories. As long as Joshua's love is in your minds and in your hearts, he will always be among us."
Principal Mel Fogg helped the students dedicate the day and the bridge in Joshua's memory, and read a poem written by the parent of the student. A framed copy was to be given to Joshua's parents, Andrew and Susan Price Day of Norma Lane, Advance.
The parents were to visit with Joshua's friends this week.

Annual Center Fair Planned

The smell of pork barbecue fills the air, as a crowd gathers around the displays of home-grown vegetables, hand-made quilts, cookies and cakes.
One of the few events of its kind, Center Fair takes visitors on a trip back in time as they walk through historic Center Arbor viewing the variety goods entered in the fair by area residents.
The cash prizes aren't big - usually $2 or $3. Instead it's the coveted Center Fair blue ribbons that bring competitors back year after year with canned goods, baked goods, paintings, drawings and crafts.
Whether their talents are gardening, sewing, embroidery, needlepoint, photography, basket weaving or wood carving, there is a category for just about everyone.
The annual Center Fair will be held at Center Arbor on U.S. 64 West near 1-40 Saturday, Sept. 12.
Barbecue plates, trays and sandwiches, barbecue by the pound, hot dogs and drinks will be sold Friday, Sept. 11 and during the fair Saturday.
Entries will be accepted 5-9 p.m. Friday and 7:30-9 a.m. Saturday. Perishable items should be entered Saturday morning. Judging will begin at 9:30 a.m. All entries must remain on exhibit throughout the fair.
Fair books are available at the Register of Deeds Office and N.C. Cooperative Extension Service Office for anyone interested in entering items in the fair.
A special fruit and vegetable decorating contest is being sponsored by Davie County 4-H and the Center Fair. Age categories for the contest are: under 5, 5-7, 8-9, 10-13, 14-19, adult and senior citizen. For more information, call 751-6297.
In addition to fair entries, tractors, engines and other machinery will be on display. Crafts and other items will be sold. Anyone interested in setting up a sales booth or display may call 336-492-7554 for information 7-9 p.m. daily.
Entertainment beginning at noon Saturday will include the Senior Citizens Rhythm Band, Erin Carter, Joshua Foster and a sneak preview of the Davie Theatre Company's upcoming production of "Nonsense."
Center Fair is sponsored by the Center Community Development Association.
Members of the 1998 fair committee are Alice Barnett, Shirley Barron, Peggy Evans, Carol Forrest, Jane Kimmer, Carolyn Lyerly, Ruby O'Neal, Gail Smith, Louise Tutterow, Lynn Tutterow, Nancy Tutterow, Sandra Vestal and Doris Williams.

County Considering Changes To Manufactured Home Ordinances

The problem with the present ordinance is there are people in the county who own what is a manufactured home park without having to meet the standards required of such a park, he said.
Requirements include that each home have a driveway within the park that is at least 20 feet in width and graded and surfaced with at least four inches of crushed stone and that homes are not located closer than 30 feet to the boundary of the park or a street right-of-way.
Proposed amendments are that the driveway be paved and that no homes are located closer than 50 feet to the boundary of the park.
The proposed changes will not effect the majority of manufactured home owners, Gallimore said.
It will not effect someone selling a lot for placement of a mobile home - only those renting the space.
The amendment will have no effect on the hardship variance, which allows residents to place a mobile home on their land due to a hardship such as a sick relative needing to be nearby. Hardship variances are temporary and must be applied for annually, he said.
Furnish with mobile homes for farm workers are also exempt.
The concern is about the farmer who wants to put trailers on his land for his kids," said Stacy Cornater.
"It doesn't seem fair that someone who has 20 acres of land and wants his children to put mobile homes there must have his land rezoned as a manufactured home park, said Allen Snipes.
He asked if the county is considering the change to make more money.
"If parents want to provide their children with a place to put a home, they should deed them the land, said William 'Wee' Brock.
"Something has to be done to stop people from cheating. The problem is determining where to draw the line, said Clint Junker.
Fred Ellis Jr. said he has heard several people talking about the proposed changes and believes a public hearing should be held before the planning board votes.
A lot of people shared their opinions at a public meeting held by the board earlier, Gallimore said.
Brock made a motion, seconded by Junker, to recommend approval of the proposed amendments by county commissioners. Sam Daywalt voted in favor of the motion.
Cornater, Ellis and Snipes voted against the changes. Chairman Gary "Tiny" Livengood was not present.
Other proposed changes include classifications of mobile homes, based on characteristics such as age, size, roof pitch and foundation.
No manufactured home constructed before July 1, 1976 may be brought into the county and set up for use as a dwelling.
All manufactured homes built after July 1, 1976 had to meet HUD standards. That has been a requirement of Mocksville's zoning ordinance since 1989, Gallimore explained.
The amendment will not effect owners of mobile homes built before that date which are already in use.
None of the proposed changes will effect any of the county's present mobile home parks - most of which don't meet requirements of the proposed or present ordinance, he said.
Some opposed to the changes have suggested that the county will be denying a percentage of its residents the American dream of owning their own homes, he said.
But Gallimore said this has nothing to do with home ownership. In the long run, he said he believes more manufactured home owners will be protected than are adversely affected.
"We have to try to find a way to be fair to everyone," he said.

Don't Get Burned!
You can be fined up to $10,000 for illegal open burning in NC.
Smokes from open burning can cause serious health problems and pollute the air. That's why the state regulates open burning. Only leaves, branches or other plant growth can be burned.
IT'S ILLEGAL TO BURN:
• Charcoal, paper and cardboard
• Tires and other rubber products
• Building materials, including lumber
• Wire, plastics, and synthetic materials
• Asphalt shingles and heavy oils
• Paints, household chemicals and agricultural products
Homeowners can burn yard trimmings - excluding logs and stumps - if it's allowed under local ordinances, no public pickup is available and it doesn't cause a public nuisance. Other allowable burning includes campfires, outdoor barbecues and bonfires for festive occasions. Landowners also can open burn vegetation to clear land or right-of-way, provided that:
• Prevailing winds are away from built up areas and roads
• Fires are at least 1,000 feet away from occupied buildings
• Burning is done between 8 am and 6 pm
Remember burn permits issued by the NC Division of Forest Resources, its agents or any local government do not exclude a person from following the state air quality rules. For more information contact:

Man Caught Shipping Drugs By UPS

A Mocksville man was arrested last Tuesday after accepting a package, containing 521 grams of marijuana from a Davie County Sheriff's detective disguised as a UPS employee.

Paul Franklin Ellis, 66, of 1866 U.S. 601 S., was charged with possession with intent to sell or deliver marijuana, maintaining a place to keep a controlled substance, possession of the drug Diazepam and possession of drug paraphernalia.

During a drug search of the UPS

Terminal on Park Plaza Drive in Winston-Salem by the Winston-Salem Police Department, a K-9 indicated a package addressed to Ellis contained drugs, according to Davie Sheriff Allen Whitaker.

After obtaining a search warrant, officers opened the package and contacted the sheriff's department, Whitaker said.

Driving a van and wearing a UPS uniform, Detective Tony Leftwich delivered the package to the Ellis residence, he said.

In a search of the house, officers found additional marijuana, drug paraphernalia and Diazepam.

Ellis admitted he had packaged the marijuana while in California and left it with someone to be sent to him by UPS delivery a few days later, reported Detective Chris Shuskey. He claimed the marijuana was all for his own use and not for sale.

Ellis was placed in the Davie County Jail under a $10,000 secured bond. He will make his first court appearance Sept. 24.

- Mary Frances Mason, 34, of 1849 U.S. 64 East, was driving a 1993 Mazda pickup that went off the road to the right before skidding off the road to the left, striking a fence, reported Trooper J.R. Allred. She told the trooper a dog had ran in front of the truck.

Juvenile In Wreck On 801

- An 18-year-old Mocksville teen was charged with aiding and abetting an unlicensed driver after a wreck on N.C. 801 at McGee Court at 4:45 p.m. Aug. 19.

Jonathan Glenn Greene of 759 Junction Road was a passenger in his 1987 Volkswagen driven by the 15-year-old juvenile, reported Trooper Terrance Denard Shaw. The juvenile failed to stop the car at the stop sign on McGee Court, hitting a 1989 Buick being driven on N.C. 801 by Ruth Howell, 55, of 114 Bramblewood Lane, Mocksville, the trooper reported.

Harmony Man Charged

- A Harmony man was charged with failure to stop at a stop sign and failure to register a vehicle after a wreck on N.C. 901 at County Line Road at 6:50 p.m. Aug. 21.

- John Henry Nicholson III, 42, failed to stop at the stop sign, causing the 1992 Dodge he was driving to collide with a 1986 Nissan driven by Cynthia Foster Turner, 33, of harmony, reported Trooper Terrance Denard Shaw.

Ar Hills Animal

- A Clemmons man wrecked the 1998 Ford he was driving on Cherry Hill Road while trying to avoid an animal at 6:30 a.m. Aug. 26.

- Jay Daniel Jordan, 29, swerved the car to the left, and it skidded off the road to the right, striking a drainage pipe, reported Trooper J.R. Allred.

Failure To Reduce Speed Charged

- A Yadkinville man was charged with failure to reduce speed after a wreck on U.S. 601 North at 3:09 p.m. Aug. 28.

- Lucio Tavera Granadero, 31, lived to stop the 1986 Buick he was using before it struck in the rear a 1997 Pontiac driven by Aaron Lee Juelin, 45, of Yadkinville, reported Trooper A.J. Farmer.

Cars Collide At Marketplace

- Two cars collided on U.S. 601 North at Mocksville Marketplace at 8:00 p.m. Aug. 28.

- Jessica Lynn Spillman, 20, of 1999 Wood Drive, Mocksville, drove 1995 Mazda from the shopping center into the path of a 1987 Chevrolet driven on U.S. 601 by Jennifer Leason Lane, 36, of 2659 U.S. 601 Mocksville, reported Trooper Terrance Denard Shaw. Spillman is charged with making an unsafe lane change.

Over Leaves Scene

- A Mocksville man was forced off Elmwood Road by a passing motorist in his lane of travel at 12:30 p.m. Aug. 28.

- Ernie W. Gragert, 39, of 333 Gore Road, said the passing motorist didn't stop. The 1976 Lincoln he was driving went off the road to the right, into a ditch.

Fire Truck Hit

- A Jerusalem Fire Department truck was struck by a passing motorist at 5 a.m. Aug. 29 on Willhoose Road.

The truck had been parked in front of a burning house when it was struck by a 1991 Oldsmobile driven by Christina M. Rodriguez, 21, of Rockford, Ill., reported Trooper A.J. Farmer. She reported the accident later in the afternoon, and was charged with failure to report an accident by the quickest possible means. Damage to the fire truck was estimated at $50.

Car Skids Across Bridge

- A Yadkinville man was cited after the car he was driving struck the Dutchmans Creek bridge on U.S. 601 North at 1 p.m. Aug. 30.

- George Lee Harrison Jr. 45, was driving a 1995 Pontiac that went off the road to the right, struck the bridge and skidded across the bridge, going off the road on the other side striking a utility pole, reported Trooper J.R. Allred. Harrison was charged with exceeding the posted speed limit. Allred estimated the speed at over 70 mph.

Leader Homes offers this 28x70 double wide for less than $309 per month

Leader Homes of Mocksville offers great values for new home buyers

When it comes to dealing with down-home folks, there's no place better than Leader Homes of Mocksville.

Nancy Moore has been fitting people with homes since 1994 from the Leader Homes office on U.S. 601 South of Mocksville near Davie County High School.

Leader Homes features both double-wide and single mobile homes with a wide variety of custom packages to meet every buyer's needs.

Right now, Leader Homes is featuring a 28x70 double-wide with more than 1,800 square feet, three bedrooms, two baths for less than $309 a month. Also, Leader has a single-wide 14x70, three bedroom, 2 baths for less than $200 a month.

Leader Homes also welcomes trade-ins and offers land-home packages. Mortgages and financing are available, even for buyers with a bad credit history.

"We're honest, down-home folks, and we try to give good service," Mrs. Moore said.

She and her husband, Henry own the business at 1102 Salisbury Road, Mocksville.

Their staff includes salesmen Anthony Tilley and Ted Hodgson and manager Tom Listy. Listy also handles the land-home set up packages.

Leader Homes also can provide a wide variety of rental lots for buyers, and land-home packages gives the buyers the opportunity of a turn-key service. "We do everything we can to get people in a home," Mrs. Moore said.

Leader Homes is a franchise of WJC Enterprises, which represents 44 manufactured homes sales outlets across North Carolina. That kind of backing allows Leader Homes to provide a wide selection of homes and ready availability, set-up and delivery.

Call or visit Leader Homes today and let them answer your questions about how you can be put in a home of your own at the most affordable prices.

Call Leader Homes, Nancy, Henry, Anthony, Ted and Tom at (336) 751-0503.

Grub Worm Plumbing & Electric: A Clemmons Institution Since 1972

It's an unusual, graphic name, Grub Worm Plumbing and Electrical Co.

But it seemed so fitting. And Robert Thompson of Clemmons has always enjoyed a good joke, even those on himself.

When he formed the company in 1972, the N.C. Secretary of State office refused to recognize his first choice for a company name, "R.L. Thompson."

That wasn't acceptable as a company name.

"Grub Worm" popped into his head, and that's what it has been ever since," said his son, Bob Thompson Jr. The unusual name has always been a topic of conversation for his customers. Thompson himself has long been a Clemmons institution — once proclaimed the Honorary Mayor of Clemmons by the Jaycees, long before the village incorporated.

Bob Jr. took over the company in 1996, and his father still helps him frequently on the work assignments.

And the Grub Worm company still has that distinguishing feature: A two-in-one company. Plumbing and electrical. They do both.

"That's a plus for the customer," Bob Jr. said. "If we go in for a plumbing leak, and the homeowner has a faulty electrical outlet, we can handle it all in one call."

Robert L. Thompson started the company in 1972, after serving as maintenance superintendent at Tanglewood Park for almost 20 years. Bob Jr. is a West Forsyth High School graduate in 1976. He studied electronics servicing at Forsyth Tech.

Last year he married the former Susan Reynolds of Winston-Salem.

Grub Worm can handle just about any call: Sewer hookups, adding a bath, kitchen remodeling, bathroom remodeling, replacing copper pipes with plastic, or removing rusted galvanized pipe, electrical service changes, rewiring.

Robert Thompson Jr., above, provides electrical and plumbing service with his Grub Worm company in Clemmons. Call him at 766-3999.

Thompson said Grub Worm has done about 350 sewer hookups in Clemmons since the village provided sewer service. "It's been an awfully good business."

Grub Worm is also one of the few companies that repairs well pumps. "There's not a lot of plumbers that do that any more," said Thompson.

Grub Worm is licensed, bonded and insured. Call Bob Thompson Jr. and Grub Worm Plumbing and Electrical Co. for your next plumbing and electrical problem in your home. The number is 766-3999.

Football Players Suspended For Drinking

The three were passengers in a vehicle stopped on U.S. 601 south near the high school in a joint license check by the Mocksville Police and Davie County Sheriff's Department between 1:30 and 3 a.m. Saturday. A 15-year-old was driving.

According to Mocksville Chief Richard Sink, two beers were found in the passenger area, and a cooler was in the back of a Jeep Cherokee. Davie High assistant coach Mike Lovelace, leaving a late night meeting after the game, stopped during the police's search.

The coaches said they were going to straighten these boys out and have a word of prayer with them," Sink said. The officers turned the boys over to the coaches.

The unidentified 15-year-old was initially cited, but that was withdrawn when officers realized he was a juvenile. A juvenile petition will be issued against him. Sink said all the boys could have been charged with possession of beer by a person under 21. The owner of the vehicle was Steve Ridenhour.

Before the season began, all athletes and their parents signed a contract with the school agreeing that the students would not be allowed to participate in sports if they were involved in drugs or alcohol use.

Bost said Monday that the contract will be reviewed and changed. "The first offense is a death penalty, so to speak," she said. "We're going to work on the policy."

"On any other disciplinary matter at school, there is room for discretion, room to look at mitigating factors, and we try to do that," Bost said she was changing the policy for several reasons.

"I have to weigh what is in the best interest of the boys. How is it that I can really help prevent this behavior? Sometimes what you do is give them the maximum consequence. But sometimes you have to realize they are teenagers, and they make decisions that can alter their lives. You have to go with what's in the best interest of the child, what's in the best interest of the team, and what's in the best interest of the school."

"The easiest thing would be to just say you're through, get out of here. I'm not just paid for that. I'm paid for my discretion and my judgment," Bost said she had taken the responsibility of the decision away from new head coach Doug Illing. "I told him I'm going to make this decision," she said. "We met with coaches, the students and the parents."

One thing she said she had to consider was what was best for the student — to throw him off the team or to keep him involved with influential coaches and the benefits of structured athletics.

She said others may question her decision.

"They can say whatever they want to say. I'm looking after a group of boys," she said. "Everybody wants to pass judgment on this thing."

Davie High lost Friday night 27-3, although it was favored to beat Mooresville.

Bost's action won support in a curious place — from Russell Stone, coach of rival West Forsyth High. "I don't like to cut somebody's throat for one mistake," he said. "The first time, we put them in drug counseling and alcohol counseling. The second time, we have to cut them loose."

"I hate for you to go through this because your program is so exciting right now," he said.

The three players will be eligible to return for the West Forsyth game.

Superintendent Bill Steed said Bost consulted him about the issue, but he let the decision to the high school staff.

"I know one of the things we have always tried to do is make the best decision for the student. You've got to think about, the school to think about. You have to do what's best for all concerned."

"So often, these are good students, good boys. They made a mistake. How do you handle it? We have to make these kinds of calls. I don't know what the best answer is. From what I know about these people, these staff people, I think the last thing they are thinking about is football."

"It's a hard call, one we're going to be criticized for regardless of the decision. What you do is make the best decision and move on."

Student athletes often get more punishment than others involved in the same offenses, he said.

"If these kids were not on the team, we wouldn't have anything we could do to them. But they represent the school."

Davie High School Athletic Policies

The following rules and regulations will apply for every athlete while attending Davie High School. Each of these regulations will be strictly adhered to and enforced by all coaches. Each individual sport may add rules, regulations, and guidelines that each coach may deem necessary for the success of his/her program.

Infraction of either of the following will bring about IMMEDIATE SUSPENSION from the team for the REMAINDER OF THE SEASON IN WHICH THE ATHLETE IS A PARTICIPANT.

- A. ALCOHOL: under the influence of any alcoholic beverage.
1. Drinking of an alcoholic beverage and/or being under the influence of an alcoholic beverage is prohibited.
 2. Drinking of an alcoholic beverage and/or being under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at any school-sponsored activity is prohibited.
 3. Possession of alcoholic beverages is prohibited.

- B. DRUGS: under the influence of drugs.
1. The use of drugs by any athlete is prohibited.
 2. The use of drugs at any school-sponsored activity is prohibited.
 3. Possession of drugs is prohibited.

NOTE: Suspension is enacted when the infraction is witnessed at any time or place by any member of the Athletic Department or Administration of Davie High School.

OFF SEASON VIOLATIONS WILL BE HANDLED BY ADMINISTRATION.

Senate Passes Bill To Protect Water Supply

Action to protect North Carolina's water supply took a step forward when the House Environment Committee unanimously passed Senate Bill 1299 regarding interbasin water transfers. The Senate has already passed the bill unanimously.

Sen. Betsy Cochrane (R-Davie), sponsor of the legislation, said, "We want an adequate, clean supply of water for our families and our children. By passing these amendments, we begin to connect the state's water status. We begin to incorporate interbasin transfer concerns into the existing statutory framework."

Cochrane's amendments bill updates the state's water policy that has not changed since 1963. The legislation offers a clear policy statement on water, which is lacking under current statutes. By streamlining data collection efforts, these amendments will enable to collect data on water usage of over 100,000 gallons a day. This is critical when we are faced with drought or any other water emergency.

Once these amendments become law, each holder of a transfer certificate will be required to provide a plan for any additional needs once their usage reaches 80 percent of their currently certified water transfer allotment. Once their usage reaches 90 percent, that new plan would be implemented.

These amendments would strengthen the interbasin transfer law and would stress the importance of good planning to meet water supply needs without damaging the environment. This bill keeps a balance of adequate water throughout a river basin.

It is critical for the health of our families and our children that we balance our water with the needs of our workplaces and our homes. But we must also pay special attention to the problems that can arise between upstream and downstream communities throughout our state and its river basins.

"The passage of these amendments will help North Carolina ensure that each of the water basins throughout the state is properly managed. The quality of our water must be the highest priority for those of us elected to a public trust. These amendments will show the people of our state that we are serious about strengthening our commitment to a clean, adequate water supply for our citizens and our families," Cochrane said.

War Eagle Girls Near Perfection In Four-Team Cross Country Meet

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Several running enthusiasts spent days building a first-class course at Pinebrook and Davie cross country coach Cary Powers thought it came tumbling down when Davie's girls blew away Salisbury, North Davidson and West Iredell last week.

"The first five girls came through and I thought maybe a bridge had broken or something," Powers said, "because there was such a gap from the rest of the pack."

Hotter than the August weather, Jerrine Peeler, Lauren Poplin, Janel Darcy, Stacey Joyner and Laurie Desch left the pack gasping in the woods, all finishing under 23 minutes and delivering a perfect score of 15 on the heels of a winning 18 against West Iredell, North Iredell and Forbush.

Davie populated the first five slots: Peeler (21:36), Poplin (22:07), Darcy (22:09), Joyner (22:30) and Desch (22:46). Salisbury finished with a 69, followed by West Iredell's 67 and North Davidson's 91.

"It was really hot. I mean, it was 95 with hardly any wind," Powers said. "It was really too hot to run, but they didn't complain. It shows that they have been working hard since we started practice. They were physically ready."

Led by Peeler and Poplin, Davie narrowly missed perfection with 18 points, breezing past Forbush (53), West Iredell (70) and North Iredell.

Peeler and Poplin posted November times, finishing 1-2 in 21:11 and 21:27 respectively and painting a brighter picture for the rest of the season. Darcy, Joyner and Desch checked in at fourth, fifth and sixth.

"Our girls hopefully will be a lot more competitive this year," Powers said. "Jerrine and Lauren had phenomenal times for this early in the year. You know, low to mid-21, I've been happy in the past if I had one girl that could run around that time. And now we've got two up there at the beginning of the year."

"Darcy, a little freshman, looks like she's going to be a super runner for us. Desch is consistent again this year."

After an impressive win over North Iredell, Forbush and West Iredell, when Davie rolled with 21 points, the male War Eagles collapsed against Salisbury.

Playmakers And Big Guys

Newcomers Helping South Davie Football

This was supposed to become the South Davie eighth-grade football team's first non-contending season since 1994, but the Tigers won't relinquish power without a fight, largely because mountain linemen and backfield playmakers bough Davie County homes in the off-season, making Coach Barry Whitlock smile.

As seventh graders last year, the Tigers squeezed out a winning record (4-3) because they routed North Davie 22-0 on the final day of the season, but no one advertised them as a championship contender this year because they were hammered by giants Kannapolis and Mooresville 94-32 in three games.

But newcomers Sam Stovall, Jeremy West, McKenzie Willoughby (originally from Davie County), Butter Dewalt and Curtis Matthews popped up in the school halls, making the Tigers more attractive than before.

Stovall, a lineman from Mooresville, weighs 240 pounds. Willoughby is a capable quarterback who moved to Kentucky and returned in a flash and West moved from Winston-Salem.

"I remember him last year," Willoughby said of Stovall. "He's a good player, but he's still learning our system and so forth. Willoughby's an athlete. He's smart, he knows where the play's going and he throws the ball well. We've put in a new passing series just for him."

Dewalt dominated the local youth league, leading W.R. Davie to the championship game his sixth-grade year, but then he fell off the sports planet, rarely attending North Davie practices. But he's apparently got his act together now.

"He was a superstar in the Little League program," Whitlock said. "He hasn't missed a day of school, his head's on right, and hopefully this will help him and help us."

"He's grown a lot taller since Little League. He's about 5-10, 5-11 maybe 160, and he's shown some speed. He's behind a little bit, but

Davie Overcomes Forbush

Coaches Pete Gustafson and Sean Garnett shuffled their soccer deck with the match on the line, and turned up Jeremy Howell and Sean Stevens.

With five minutes left in a 1-1 game last week against Forbush, Howell went up top, switching places with Mitchell Garner, and Stevens replaced J.R. McClamrock.

Moments later, Howell beat his one-on-one coverage, chipped a sand wedge to Stevens, who nailed down a 2-1 win 30 seconds after Garnett made the substitution.

After stumbling out of the gate with two losses and a tie, Davie needed a victory in the worst way, especially since the War Eagles have played inspiring ball every night only to come up short.

"I really feel good for the guys because there are a lot of things we need to work on but one of them isn't effort," Gustafson, the head coach, said. "When you're giving the effort, you want to see some reward, and they deserve it because they've been playing some good teams."

Stevens' clincher was merely the temporary solution to a major problem: The War Eagles haven't found consistent scoring from their strikers. The midfielders have kept Davie in the matches, the equivalent of a defense outscoring the offense in football.

Stunned Favored War Eagles Fall To Mooresville

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

MOORESVILLE - Imagine Mike Carter running a Steve Spurrier offense.

Something almost as strange took place in Mooresville Friday night, when a Carter-coached team passed for nearly 200 yards, disarmed Davie's vaunted running game and embarrassed the favored War Eagles 27-3 in the season-opening endowment football game.

During Mike Carter's eight years at Davie from 1981-88, Barry Whitlock completed a record nine passes against Trinity in 1981.

But Carter's conservative wishbone attack pierced Davie's young secondary with eight completions for 183 yards, a Davie ground game that averaged 235 yards a game last year sank to 53, and Davie's quarterback Drew Ridenhour, who threw only nine interceptions in 14 games as a sophomore, threw three interceptions.

Although Davie couldn't seem to do anything right, the Blue Devils - leading 7-3 late in the third after an Eric Kofke field goal - tried to give the game away, fumbling three times in a seven-minute span. But Davie blew every opportunity, turning the ball over six times, including two times that ruined drives inside the Mooresville 34-yard line.

Perhaps the most painful turnover occurred moments after linebacker J.J. Rice recovered Mooresville quarterback Richard Floy's fumble at the Mooresville 27 with 2:12 to go in the third quarter. Two plays later, safety George Parham picked off his second pass when Ridenhour went deep to receiver Kenny Collins on first down.

From there, Davie never got up as the Blue Devils began pouring it on with 20 fourth-quarter points, spoiling Coach Doug Biling's debut.

"I am stunned," Illing said, "because we played real well up through the third quarter. We had our opportunities down there and laid the ball down three times, threw an interception down deep, and that really blew our spirits. That let the air out of our bubble."

Davie Tennis Team Wins Four Straight

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

After enduring a season's worth of lopsided losses in two scrimmages and two regular-season matches, when heavyweights Salisbury and Statesville traded punches on Davie's inexperienced tennis team, the War Eagles regained their composure and vented their frustrations with four consecutive nonconference victories.

And Coach Carol Cozart couldn't keep her excitement in check.

"It's been a good week for our kids," she said. "They worked hard, and it's kind of nice to see it paying off. That says a lot about their character."

After failing to win a single match against Salisbury and Statesville, loaded teams that pounded Davie 9-0 and 8-0 respectively to begin the season, the War Eagles could have folded.

Instead, they took mental notes and got better, thrashing North Iredell and West Iredell 8-1 and 9-0 and prevailing 6-3 against Northwest Cabarrus and North Davidson last week.

This kind of match toughness (against Salisbury and Statesville) is hard to beat," Cozart said. "Just kept reinforcing them and we've got some tough kids, too. I just kept telling them: 'You've got to just keep hitting shots, take them as far as you can and get as much out of it as you can.'"

"I feel like those matches helped us because we showed some mental toughness (last week)."

Coaches always say tough nonconference schedules pay off in the end. And a team that would probably go undefeated against anyone in the classroom had enough court intelligence to keep fighting until the early storm passed.

"This is a scholar-athlete team we're talking about," Cozart said. "They are smart enough to know - even though it's difficult to deal with - this is going to help them down the road. I think

Worth Noting

Down 5-1 against a North Davidson opponent, Jeremy Viger of Davie's tennis team managed back to win an 11-10 win.

Sean Stevens' propelled Davie's tennis team to a 2-1 win over Forbush, scoring the go-ahead goal with five minutes left.

Justin Dyson of Davie's JV soccer team fueled a 4-0 run away over Forbush, scoring two second-half goals.

Davie cross country runner Jerrine Peeler and Lauren Poplin didn't find any competition last week, finishing 1-2 in two easy wins.

JV Soccer Coach Hoping Team Can Put Pieces Together

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

If there is to be a challenge to Forsyth County's supremacy in the Central Piedmont Conference, Davie JV soccer coach Sean Garnett feels like the War Eagles must take a half here and a half there and put it all together between now and late September.

"We're real small but we're real tough," he said of his 2-1-1 team. "They're listening to me. So as long as we have enough commitment and they continue to improve, yeah, we can have a real big season."

Garnett saw flashes of brilliance last week - in a 1-1 tie with Salisbury and in a 4-0 romp over Forbush - but the War Eagles haven't put 80 effective minutes together, giving Garnett plenty to talk about in team huddles.

"If we can put a first half like Salisbury and a second half like Forbush, we might can hang with some of those Forsyth County schools," he said.

A sluggish first half, when Josh Balsey scored the only goal of the half on a penalty kick, delayed the 4-0 rout against Forbush.

Davie had no such problems after the break, pulling away with a Hunter Macfarlane breakaway, a Stephen Williams-to-Justin Dyson connection and a Luke Kopitz-to-Dyson hookup.

"In the first half, we didn't look good at all," Garnett said. "They looked tired and weren't doing what I asked them to do."

Second half, they came out and probably fittingly for everyone, both Davie and Salisbury avoided a loss earlier last week. The match was that tight, as both teams dodged bullets around the goal.

"They were real talented. It was a good game. We had our opportunities and they had their opportunities," said

Runners Looking Good In Early Cross Country Meets

 Marshall Pitts won the first of two meets with a 17:30, one second better than his victorious meets two days earlier, but no one else climbed the top seven, rubbing the coach wrong.
 "I don't think mentally we were ready," he said. "We had that good meet Monday, and our guys expected to come in here and walk away with it."
 Salisbury compiled a 20, followed by Davie's 43, West Iredell's 81 and North Davidson's 105.
 "They beat us and beat us soundly," Powers said of Salisbury. "We got what we deserved for what we put into it."
 Kevin Ashley (19:04), Justin Pullen (19:08) and Travis Ervin (19:39) claimed the eighth, ninth and 11th spots in the loss.

Davie Falls To Salisbury

 "We're having trouble scoring up top," said Gustafson, whose team sorely missed striker Eric Kofke, the biggest offensive threat, last week because of a hamstring pull. "Up to that (Fotush) game, all goals except one have come from midfielders. You want your two strikers to be leading the team and you want your gravity from your midfielders. So we're working on that."
 David Woodridge put Davie ahead 1-0 on a gorgeous cross from McClamrock, who found Woodridge around the 7-yard line.
Salisbury Pulls Away Late
 What worked for 70 minutes didn't work for 10 as Salisbury erupted for two late goals to seal a 3-1 win over Davie earlier in the week.
 "It seems like we played a good 30 minutes (in the second half), then bang," Gustafson said.
 "We played a good team. They were pretty strong. We were attacking as much as they were attacking. They were a little stronger up from as far as shots (16-6)."
 After Ryan Barnes' late first-half score tied the match at 1-1, Davie's defense kept Salisbury under wraps. But the offense couldn't convert, hanging the post a couple of times and blowing one-on-one opportunities.
 "The defense played really, really well," Gustafson said. "They saved several shots. But you're not going to win many games scoring one goal."
 "It didn't look like 3-1. I thought it was just a good game of soccer."
 Injuries short-circuited Davie's offensive attack. Kofke is expected back this week, but Garth Regan could be out two more weeks with a ruptured muscle. "We didn't have our full attack or full defense, so I thought we were pretty good (last week)," Gustafson said. . . . Northwest Cabarrus beat Davie 1-0 in the season opener. Davie then tied North Davidson 3-3 behind two goals from Howell and one from Richard Broadway. . . . Davie hosts West Rowan on Sept. 9 and Northwest Cabarrus on Sept. 14.

 These two matches (victories over Northwest and North Davidson) in particular really brought that out to them. We did real well."
 Nancy Vogler showed her resiliency against North Davidson, rallying from a 5-1 deficit and pulling out a 11-10 win thanks to a 7-0 spurt in the tie-breaker.
 "Nancy has had really good matches this week," Cozart said. "She has come out hitting stronger, is more aggressive and more confident in her strokes."
 "All of those (comeback points) were like really close games. But the games that she needed, she kept coming back to get."
 The turning point for Lindsay Thomas and Meredith Harris in doubles stemmed from a 10-6 loss to Statesville. They grew from there, developing beautiful chemistry that helped deflect off three of four wins.
 "They have really come along," Cozart said. "They have really developed some good court movement together. Ironically, when they were beaten, it was like somebody turned a light bulb on. Meredith started hitting some really aggressive strokes. They have played excellent doubles since (the 10-6 loss)."
 Molly Koontz, hampered by a stubborn knee injury since last season, made a rousing return against North Davidson, teaming with an improving Kendra Armstrong for a 10-6 win.
 "Koontz just played terrifically," Cozart said. "I think Molly's experience along with Kendra being able to practice more helped me. I was really pleased. Molly was real excited because she has been flying to play."
 Armstrong has also been strong in singles, where she won three of four matches last week, including a 10-2 romp against North Davidson.
 "She had a real good game (against North)," Cozart said. "She was serving better, and the girth trouble returning her serves. It showed up in doubles as well."
 Koontz will play as long as she can stand the pain, then have surgery after the season. . . . Davie's winning scores against North Iredell: Thomas 10-0, Sarah Stein 10-3, Meredith Harris 10-1, Vogler 10-1, Armstrong 10-6, Andrea Harris 10-7, Thomas-Meredith Harris 10-1 and Stein-Vogler 10-6. . . . Against West Iredell: Thomas 10-1, Stein 10-3, Meredith Harris 10-0, Vogler 10-2, Armstrong 10-3, Katie Miller 10-3, Thomas-Meredith Harris 8-0, Stein-Vogler 8-0, Andrea Harris-Erin Chaffin 8-3. . . . Against Northwest Cabarrus: Stein 7-3, Meredith Harris 8-5, Vogler 8-6, Miller 8-5, Thomas-Meredith Harris 8-2 and Stein-Vogler 11-9, Vogler 11-10 (7-0), Armstrong 10-2, Miller 10-2, Thomas-Meredith Harris 10-3 and Armstrong-Koontz 10-6.

Reavis Named Softball Coach

Tammy Reavis will inherit perhaps the most talented collection of young athletes in the school when she succeeds Darrell Steele as Davie's varsity softball coach next spring.
 Steele resigned Aug. 21 to take teaching and coaching positions at Carver High in Winston-Salem.
 "There are some real strong athletes coming through and they're all young," Reavis said, mostly referring to a sophomore class that won a state championship over the summer in Little League. "They are going to be really strong and a good group to work with."
 Reavis, the varsity volleyball coach, has deep softball roots, helping Forbush to a state championship her senior year. An outfielder, she made all-conference her junior and seniors years, earning a scholarship to Louisiana State University before transferring to UNC-Clemson.
 Bill Meadows and John Williams will continue to coach Davie's junior varsity team, Reavis said, but parents Mark Whitley and Keith Handy will not return as varsity assistants. An assistant for Reavis has not been named.
 Steele led a successful softball program at North Davie Junior High throughout most of the 1980s, coaching ninth-grade boys basketball as well.
 In 1990, Steele replaced Denny Key as Davie's varsity softball coach, leading the War Eagle to nine straight winning seasons and then succeeded Charles Crenshaw as varsity boys basketball coach for the 1993 season.
 With the exception of a 14-13 play-off season in 1995, Steele had a rocky tenure as Davie's basketball coach, going 24-63 and resigning midway through the 1996-97 season after a 2-11 start.

Mooresville's quarterback is knocked to the ground, one of many hard falls he took Friday night.

War Eagles Prepare To Battle North Iredell Friday

Coming off a huge disappointment, a 27-3 season-opening loss to Mooresville, Davie's football team went back to the drawing board in preparation for Friday's 7:30 p.m. home opener against North Iredell.

"We'll go study the film," said Coach Doug Illing, following a debut loss that reeked of blown opportunities and costly mistakes. "We as coaches are going to evaluate personnel, and we're going to look at ourselves and see what we can do to make us better - play calling and situations." Instead of dwelling on the nasty defeat, Illing predicts that his players will bounce back this week. "I think the players are going to respond real well," he said. "They knew we should have beaten (Mooresville).

We had every opportunity in the world to beat them." The War Eagles pounded North 44-0 last year, improving their series lead to 17-8-1. North squeaked past West Davidson 13-12 in its opener.

West Forsyth Skunks JV Team In First Game Of Season

Davie's JV football team lost its first game last Thursday, 28-0 to West Forsyth at War Eagle Stadium. Despite the loss, the team along with head coach Doug Illing are confident. "We have a team very willing to learn and get better," said Illing. "West is very talented and has some good athletes." According to Illing there were some bright spots. "Cassidy McMahan, Tripp Hall and Mike Arnold had good games."

The turnovers seemed to keep Davie out of the game. Four turnovers kept them from scoring. Thursday they will face North Iredell, a team that has improved a lot. "North Iredell has gotten better since last year, so it should be a good game," said Illing. "The strong group of 21 seniors are setting a good example for the JV players. The seniors are setting the standard of excellence for the future to come," said Illing.

Ronald Gantt Wins Tough First Week Of Pigskin Prognosticating

In probably the toughest contest ever, Ronald Gantt somehow picked right (or guessed right) and won first place in the opening week of the football contest. Picking preseason NFL winners is like playing red or black in roulette, but Gantt - who guessed 18 of 29 correctly - got six of nine NFL games, avoiding a first-place shootout with four candidates who missed 12: Todd Howell, Jimmy and Sandra Moon and Susan Queen.

Jimmy Moon knew something no one else knew, nailing the Davie-Mooresville tie-breaker at 30 total points and escaping with the second-place $10. Mooresville

Backup Quarterback, Kicker To See Action Friday Night

Davie High's football team will have a drastically different look Friday night as it hosts North Iredell in its first home game. Due to disciplinary actions, three players will not be eligible to play.

"We had practice like usual, getting ready for North Iredell and correcting our mistakes from Mooresville," he said. Illing declined to elaborate on the disciplinary actions of the three players. "Details are going to remain in the family," he said.

Coach Doug Illing said back-up quarterback Michael Burton, a sophomore, will start the offense. Junior varsity kicker David Woodridge, a freshman, will handle extra points and field goals. Illing announced the changes Monday.

Coaches leaving a late-night review of the Mooresville game happened upon the license check where the players were stopped by police. Alcohol was found in the vehicle. "I spent the night here," Illing said.

Penalties, Offensive Breakdowns Doom Davie At Mooresville

linebackers devoured Mooresville's modest running game all night, Carter attributed the shocker to a Blue Devil offense that stayed on its feet against a potentially powerful defense. They held Davie to a miserable 14 yards of total offense.

"We had a tremendous defensive game," he said, following his 76th win in 102 games at Mooresville. "We played good on defense all night. Their running back (Ricky White) wasn't at full strength (with a knee injury), and that hurt them and obviously helped our defense. We made some plays on defense, made some interceptions and pressured the quarterback some."

The Blue Devils, a 2-A team in the Western Football Conference, forced Davie into the panic mode three minutes into the fourth when Floyd disguised a pass with shrewd fakes to the backs. He pulled back and hit tight end Kyle Desalvo, who was lonelier than a deprived child. Fifty-five yards later, Mooresville held a commanding 14-3 lead.

Carter despises going to air, but he had no other choice. "We had to throw the football," said Carter, whose team generated just 75 yards rushing until a big burst during garbage time pushed Mooresville's total to 148. "You're not going to pound it in there and gain a bunch. Basically, you're not going to run the ball on them a whole lot."

"All the passes that we hurt them with were play-action passes. They were jumping the run so hard that we were fortunate enough to get some open."

Mooresville's constant option game lulled Davie's secondary to sleep, creating ridiculously open receivers that decided the final scoring gap. Less than two minutes after Desalvo's solo race to the end zone, Floyd hit Ray Winford on third and goal for an 11-yard touchdown that gave Mooresville an insurmountable 20-3 lead (kicker Greg Hart missed the extra point).

"That's Coach Carter's style and he does a great job with the offense that he has," Illing said. "It's just drive, dive, dive, dive, double dive, double dive; option, option, option; and then they're going to throw that little pass. Our corners are coming up to get the pitch, the free safety's coming up, and that's what makes that offense tough."

With Davie's head-scratching fans reaching for their keys, halfback Tito Bowman broke free for a 73-yard touchdown. Mooresville's only substantial gain through the teeth of Davie's line, that culminated the scoring.

The War Eagles' offense lacked precision and leaked too much oil, especially in opening quarter when they failed to convert a first down, were knocked back for minus-five yards rushing and backed up 30 more because of silly penalties. Mooresville took advantage, going up for good on the first of Floyd's three TD passes, a 28-yarder to Winford, who caught a dump-off in the right flat and shook three tacklers. The 7-0 lead stood up until halftime.

Defensive tackle Forrest Breedlove pounced on one of Mooresville's three fumbles six minutes into the third, setting up Kofke's field goal.

Tight end Paul Sparks made a nice catch over the middle for 17 yards, carrying Davie to the Mooresville 29, but the War Eagles bogged down and turned to Kofke, who drilled a career-best 40-yard field goal and turned the momentum, mainly because the Blue Devils couldn't regain comfortable field position on the ground.

"We felt real good," Illing said, whose club pinned Mooresville inside its 20 two times in the third. "Defensively, we played as well as I thought we could have played. The defense kept getting us the ball back, kept getting us field position and giving us opportunities after opportunities. They played their hearts out. I've got to tip my hat to our defense because they really laid it out on the line."

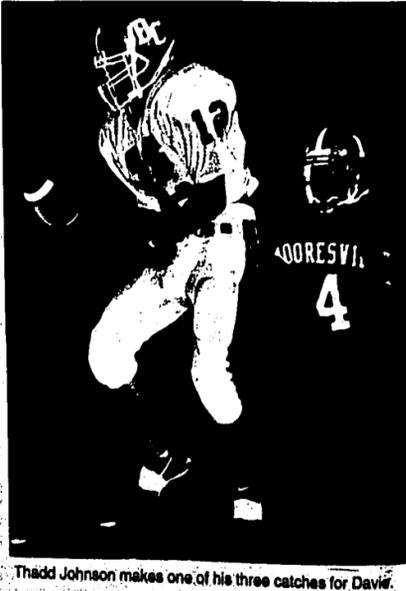

Mooresville outgained Davie 331-114. ... Davie was penalized during garbage time pushed Mooresville's total to 148. ... Floyd completed eight of 12 passes without an interception, while Ridenhour completed just two of his final 12 passes, finishing eight for 21 for 61 yards. ... Kenny White also recovered a fumble for Davie. ... Ricky White, who played sparingly because of the injured knee that kept him out of practice for most of two weeks, and Collins combined for just 56 yards on 22 carries.

Notes & Quotes

Who's No. 12? A Bright Spot On A Gloomy Night

If you didn't know Thadd Johnson at kickoff, you certainly knew him by halftime. In an otherwise messy performance by Davie's football team, the junior receiver evaded from an anonymous face in the crowd to a crowd-pleaser in two frantic minutes Friday in a 27-3 to Mooresville. Although the drive eventually bogged down, Johnson stole the show late in the second quarter, catching three nine-yard passes before you could say: "Who's No. 12?"

His first catch was incredible as he wrestled the ball away from a defender who appeared to have an interception. After a reception on a slant pattern, he showed some agility, spinning and falling to his left as he made the catch.

"We knew Thad was a possession receiver," Coach Doug Illing said. "He's not going to beat a lot of people deep, it's just a matter of us putting him in position to make a play and get what he can get out of it."

Worried about punt protection, Mooresville coach Mike Carter thought about calling Davie and telling the coaches to look for the fake punt, so the linemen would have fewer rushers to block. He changed his mind, though, and burned the War Eagles twice - a 28-yard pass in the first quarter and a 29-yard completion in the third, both to the same man.

"Quite honestly, I told somebody I've got a notion to tell them we're in a spread front so they'll cover them," Carter said. "Because, you know me, I'm so conservative I don't want to fake it."

"But if they don't cover that guy, you've got to have enough nerve to throw it to him. To be honest with you, the first one that we faked, I thought I was going to have a heart attack on the sideline. You're running a heck of a risk, but we got away with it both times."

Mooresville QB Richard Floyd butchered Davie with three touchdowns passes, but Carter insists that he's pass illiterate. "I'm not good at that," he said. "I don't know how to coach that to be honest with you."

Barry Whitlock, South Davie's football coach, and Illing have combed every shoe department within driving range and they can't find any cleats for Curtis Matthews, a 385-pound behemoth who wears size-17 canoes and plays middle-school football.

"I asked (Illing) for some 17s," Whitlock said. "We called everywhere and we can't find any. So if he's getting the job done in tennis shoes, that's fine. He's got to where them, he can't go barefooted."

Micha Garner won't become Jason Hogue overnight, but he's doing alright. Lacking the blazing speed that helped Hogue and QB Cody Wright become arguably the finest connection in South Davie history, Garner hurts defenses with solid routes and sure hands.

"We lost Cody and Hogue, who probably hold the record for most touchdowns caught and thrown here, but Micha can catch," Whitlock said. "Micha doesn't have the speed that Hogue's got, but Micha can catch the football and this is only his second year of playing football."

"He's got great hands. He reminds me of a Thad Johnson."

Volleyball Team Gearing Up For Conference Opener

Coming off two roller-coaster weeks, Coach Tammy Reavis said Davie's varsity volleyball team has a long way to go in the short time before the conference opener at Reynolds on Sept. 8.

"The War Eagles beat North Davidson (16-14, 15-13, 9-15, 15-9) and Salisbury (15-3, 15-12, 15-8) but were swept three games to none by Statesville (9-15, 13-15, 12-15) and twice by North Iredell (8-15, 5-15, 8-15; 5-15, 13-15, 8-15).

"At times, I'm disappointed," Reavis said. "We're up and down. At times during the games, we play really good. Then we have a really down time, so it's like we're either rock bottom or we're way on top." Davie's erratic serving mirrors the team's inconsistency. "Our serving's not so good at times, and then other times it's really good," Reavis said. "It's up and down, too. We didn't play real well (against North Iredell). Both times we were up and down. We could have just have easily have won the game."

The road doesn't get any smoother for the War Eagles, who will compete in a furious fight with Reynolds, Mt. Tabor, South Rowan and West Forsyth for one of two Central Piedmont playoff berths.

"The Central Piedmont's going to be tougher," Reavis said. "We haven't seen the best teams yet, so it's going to be tough. We're going to have to play really well in the conference because Reynolds beat West Forsyth in three games easily. South Rowan, they are always right there about four. I think they are going to be a little stronger this year than they have been in the past."

Abby Brickley has been Davie's steadiest contributor through five matches, and last week Brooke Gravatt knocked the ball down Salisbury's throat.

"Abby's playing really well, serving, defense and hitting," Reavis said. "She's really improved. She's doing a good job."

"Brooke played real well against Salisbury. She hit the ball really hard. She had three or four kills. I mean, hard kills."

Davie visits West Rowan on Thursday and Reynolds on Tuesday.

JV Team Shows Improvement

By Travis Peacock
Davie County Enterprise Record
Coach Leo Brunelli's JV volleyball team is improving. "When a girl misses a serve, the team drops to the floor and begins push-ups. This method seems to be working. Players are serving for more points and missing less serves, the coach said. The girls are 2-1 with wins against Statesville and North Iredell.

The match against North Davidson did not turn out as well. Davie split two games, which led to a deciding third game. Davie was defeated 10-15. "We got down early and fought back in game three," said Brunelli. "We are hitting and passing the ball real well as a team. We have been serving great and consistent. We did not miss one serve in game three of the North Iredell match." Kim Hilton has been giving opponents a hard time returning her serves. In the North Iredell match, Hilton served for a combined 18 points - 10 in the first game and eight in the third game. Both were Davie wins. "Kim has served extremely well," said Brunelli.

The team is looking to improve its 2-1 record with upcoming games against Reynolds and South Stokes.

A Lawyer who does House Calls?

"I enjoy talking to people in the more relaxed atmosphere of their home, hospital, retirement center or business and getting to know them. It is great to be able to help those who need to talk to a lawyer but either can't get out to a law office or don't choose to. I've practiced law for 26 years and the pace and variety of this way of delivering legal services suits me at this stage of my life. It means I'm not stuck in the same office everyday and not having to maintain a large base operation and staff means we can save our clients money."

Q&A Physician On Call

Important Facts About Immunizations

The following are some of the most common questions asked about child immunizations. If you have any questions or would like a complete list of immunizations, check with your family physician.

Q: What are immunizations and why are they important to my child?
A: Immunizations are vaccines (shots) that protect children against dangerous childhood illnesses such as measles, whooping cough, hepatitis and meningitis. Without immunizations, children can catch diseases that can cause severe symptoms. If prolonged, these symptoms may leave your child deaf, blind or paralyzed.

Q: Are vaccines safe?
A: Vaccines may cause reactions but they are usually mild. In rare cases, serious reactions may occur. However, the reactions are far less serious than the risk of potential disease.

Q: How do I know when to get my child immunized?
A: Vaccines should start when children are babies. In fact, most of the required vaccines should be completed by the time a child is two years old. Ask your family physician for guidance on when to have your child vaccinated.

Q: What immunizations are required?
A: The following immunizations are required for children. Check with your family physician for the appropriate age your child should receive each:
• MMR vaccine protects against measles mumps and rubella (German measles)
• IPV or OPV vaccine protects against polio
• DTap or DTP vaccine protects against diphtheria, lockjaw and whooping cough
• Hib vaccine protects against Haemophilus influenzae Type B (a major cause of spinal meningitis)
• HBV vaccine protects against hepatitis B which causes liver disease
• Varicella vaccine protects against chicken pox

South Davie Could Again Be A Contender With Crop Of New Players

we thudded the other day and he knocked about three guys on their tail just with his hands pads on."

Here's how you don't hear everyday. The left tackle and nose guard, Matthews, weighs 385 and wears size 17 shoes.

Matthews is a big kid, but he's got a long way to go. Whitlock said. "He's been out of football a couple years, he's got baby fat still on him, but he's just a big-boned guy. He's not going to play every day. He's going to help us maybe a little bit at nose guard and maybe some on the offensive line."

"As the season goes on, hopefully he'll progress to be able to play. He's not extremely fast, but he's strong for his age."

Whitlock has Kenny Grey, Ben Alfred, Michael Clement, Fredrick Harris, Larry Hudson, Stovall and Zach Miller in his wishbone stable. He identifies Thomas Parsley, Stovall, Chris Stutts, Jeremy West, Matthews and tight end Brandon Shore as starting offensive linemen, the biggest stud horses in Whitlock's 12 years.

"This is probably the biggest line I've ever had, including the ninth-grade teams," he said. "Our line is huge. I mean, there's only one guy (Parsley) under 200."

No one has made Whitlock forget Neil Rice, but depth and size could compensate for any shortcomings.

"We've got a lot of depth, we're strong and big, but we're not real fast," he said. "We're going to play a lot of players like we did last year on the eighth grade."

Whitlock can't visualize the 1998 highlights film just yet, but the new vintage point (five key transfers) altered his language.

"I look for us to be competitive with the top three teams - us, Kannapolis and Mooresville," he said. "We've got a lot of good athletes. It's going to be exciting. I'm looking for good things. I'm not predicting a championship or anything, but I think we can compete for one."

Racers Vie For Purse

More than 250 racers competed down at the Farm this past weekend for the posted $15,000 purse at the one eighth mile Davie County race track.

1997 Top Eliminator Rookie of the Year Brandon Hutchens of Yadkinville won the "Slick Seven" class Sunday. Brandon, the son of Top Eliminator racer Luke Hutchens, defeated Chad Whisnant of Dallas for the class win. This set up the Top Eliminator final four, with young Hutchens defeating Andy Beal of Thomasville in a Dragster. Brandon's semi-final win set up his first Top Eliminator final round appearance against Glenn Ferguson Jr. of Greensboro. Hutchens' time of a 7.08 ET at 96 mph wasn't enough to hold off the quicker 5.28 ET at 131 mph charge of Ferguson.

Darrell Kiger of Yadkinville drove his Plymouth GTX to the class win in Sportsman Sunday defeating veteran Noah Anderson of Earl. Kiger lost in the final four of Sportsman to David Spough of Advance, who went on to a runner-up finish. Spough in his "Indian Outlaw" Mercury lost in the finals to Jimmy Reeves of Sparta in a Ford.

Howie Adams of Pflaflown scored his second Top 8 win of the year Saturday night defeating Glenn Ferguson Jr. of Greensboro. 1996 Top Eliminator champion Mike Hawks of Yadkinville was a semi-finalist in his Longcar Motorsports dragster.

The most successful Doornlamers in the world, the 8-Pro Mods, will invade the track this Saturday night, Sept. 5. The 8-Pro Mods of Pflaflown leads the 8-Pro Mods standings in his Ford Pro Mod. A host of others will try to take the track record of a 4.19 ET.

Gates will start at noon. Time trials start at 1:00 p.m. and final eliminations begin at 2:00 p.m.

When Whitlock counted his seventh graders, he counted only seven heads with football experience, his darkest moment as a coach.

"When you've only got seven players that played last year, you don't have anything to start from," said Whitlock, who has 24 seventh graders compared to 43 eighth graders. "It's one of the - I don't want to say weakest - thinnest groups that I've had. Half of them didn't even know the name of positions. We've got to do the best we can do with what we've got. We ain't going to get anybody else."

Whitlock endorses Billy Riddle as a potentially great running back-linebacker.

"He's a good athlete," he said. "Billy is probably going to be one of the better linebackers and running backs in the conference."

He's not real big but he's tough." Fullback Mitchell Roberts, halfback Maurice Wilson and quarterback Andrew McClannan join Riddle as fixtures on both sides of the ball.

"Right there's my athletes," said Whitlock, who nominates Chris Blakley, Ben Gobble, Daniel Goodie, Jamon Jefferies, Will McDaniel, Paul Williams and Will Steele as two-way linemen.

This is a brick-by-brick building. The Tigers are extreme long shots for a break-even season, but weekly improvement would be enough to pacify the coach.

"We've got to control the tempo of the game, and we've got to keep our defense off the field," Whitlock said. "We've got to go four or five yards, move the chains and keep the clock moving. We want to shorten the game, and maybe at the end we'll have a chance. We're not very big and we're not very fast. I mean, it's just going to be one of those years that maybe they'll learn something and get a little better. If we win, it's going to be a plus."

It would be a bigger plus if someone could find Mt. Matthews some size-17 cleats so he doesn't have to imitate Fred Flintstone in front of all his classmates.

Life Spent On Point Road

By Jeanne Galther
Davie County Enterprise Record

A lot of things have changed on Point Road in the last 85 years.

Just ask Thelma Mauldin. She's been there to see them all, living on Point Road for all but one of her nearly 86 years.

When she was a child, she estimates there were 12 houses on the now sparsely populated road.

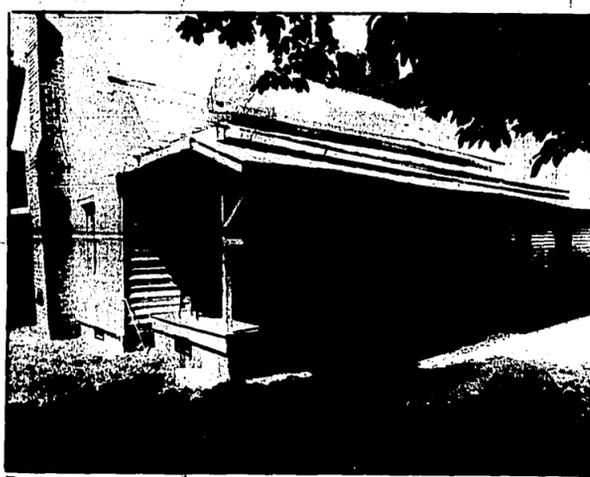

The children went to school in a little house down the road because there was nowhere else to go. Her aunt was the teacher one year. Another year they traveled nearly to the Rowan county line to go to school.

Later when they went to school at Cherry Hill, they had such a long walk home that they didn't get there till supper time, Thelma said.

When the weather was bad, her father would drive his buggy up there to take all the children and their teacher home.

On a recent visit to the doctor, he asked if her back bothers her. It hasn't. Please See Davie - Page C5

She watched much of the road work being done in front of her house from the porch.

Thelma Mauldin takes a walk on the road she has long hoped to see paved.

Mrs. Mauldin enjoys sitting in her rocking chair on the front porch.

Advance Correspondent

An ice cream social was greatly enjoyed by the Methodist congregation at the recreation center Sunday evening.

Dorothy Carter and sisters, Nannie Lou Sparks and Belinda Potts and Dot's sister-in-law, Peggy Rummage, enjoyed a trip west last weekend. Flying to Denver, Colorado, they had a tour there, also visiting Colorado Springs, Pikes Peak, Garden of the Gods, and Royal Gorge. They rode a tram across the Gorge. They drove to Trinidad, New Mexico, and Taos, New Mexico, and later, during the weekend, the ladies went to Cheyenne, Wyoming, where they had a walking tour of the historical district. They returned home late Wednesday, Aug. 26.

Visitors at the Methodist church Sunday were Pastor Dennis Marshall's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. David Marshall and son, Matthew, of Morganton. Another visitor was Mrs. Alma Kale of Winston-Salem who was visiting her daughter and son-in-law.

Joan and Doug Spry.

Dave and Cheryl Markland and daughter, Ashley, of Boone were weekend visitors of their parents, Frank and Margie Markland.

Sadie Griss of Pfafftown was a Monday luncheon guest of Edith Zimmerman. In the afternoon they visited their old high school classmates Maybelle Orrell, Mabel Bailey and Mattie Tucker. Mabel gave us a tour of her lovely 16-room house and its many antiques. Her daughter, Callie Bailey Terry from Winston-Salem, has moved in with her mother Mabel. Edith and Sadie also had a tour of the Branch River Ranch, the Jackson Zimmerman farm, the Marchmont Airport, and other interesting places in L.A. (Lower Advance), plus the new housing developments.

Tida Bailey was admitted to Forsyth Hospital for four days of observation and treatment last week.

Edith Zimmerman was a Saturday night visitor of Wiley and Charlotte Williams. They are not doing well. Get-well wishes go out to them.

Center Homemakers Visit The Vineyard

Thirteen members of the Center Homemakers Club and two guests spent an evening at The Vineyard at Reynolda Village in Winston-Salem on Tuesday, Aug. 18.

A private room was reserved for the dinner at the restored former heating plant that serviced the Reynolda Estate. Judy Swicegood lead the group in a prayer of thanksgiving for the meal.

The chef prepared a special hors d'oeuvre for the ladies. After eating the special treat and salads, the main courses were served. Some of the entrees chosen were Portobello Mushroom Sauté, BBQ Chicken Breast and Bourbon Street Baby Backs, Tenderloin Tips Bourguignon, and Cheese

Steak Lavash. A vegetable medley, potatoes and bread were also served. Pat Reilly, president of the club, made some announcements regarding upcoming events for Davie County Homemakers.

The next meeting of Center Homemakers will be on Tuesday, Sept. 15, at the Center Community Building at 7:30 p.m.

Homemakers Learn About Child Abuse

The Coolemeec Extension Homemakers Club met Aug. 26 in the Coolemeec Library with four members present.

The devotions were from Psalm 92:13-14 on growing old. "Those who are planted in the house of the Lord shall... still bear fruit in old age."

The program was "child abuse." The roll was answered with a memorable first day at school.

The minutes and treasurer's reports were given. Plans were made for filling a shoe box for Operation Christmas Child.

Dates to remember of future events were announced. The meeting adjourned with the club collect. The next meeting will be Sept. 28.

Dixon Appointed To Board

It is no surprise that when asked to serve as a local board member of the Selective Service System, David L. Dixon of Mocksville, readily agreed.

"I see it is my civic duty," he said, "a chance to give back to my community."

After being nominated by Governor, Dixon was selected by the national director of the Selective Service System, Gil Coronado, on behalf of President Bill Clinton.

During August, he joined newly appointed members from around the Southeast for two days of training in Marietta, Ga.

The Selective Service System's national director of operations, Col. Justo Gonzalez Jr., spoke to the group, "You all play a very, very critical role as the third tier of the nation's defense, after the active and reserve components" he told the new board members. "You all form the basis of the fairness and equity that would be in the system in the event of national defense emergency."

The board on which Dixon serves was commonly known as a "draft board" through the Vietnam era. The draft was discontinued in 1973.

By law, however, young men 18-25 are still required to register with the Selective Service System, which they can do at any post office. In the event of national emergency, Congress could reinstate a system for providing men to fill the needs of the Armed Forces.

In that case, Selective Service would conduct a birthday lottery to decide the order in which to call men, starting with 20-year-olds. Local boards would hear appeals for exemptions and postponements.

If young men are not registered before the age of 26, they forfeit eligibility for student loans and grants, most federal jobs and job training assistance.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an off-the-shoulder dress made of raw silk and antique lace, with a matching veil. She chose actress friend, Lisa Allen of Winston-Salem, as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Kimberly Bolton, the groom's sister of Carolina Beach.

Dennis Ramey, the bride's stepfather, was best man. Groomsman were Bruce and Scott Venable, cousins of the groom of Gastonia.

Music was provided by Patricia Lane on the baby grand piano, Chris Pfohl, a close friend, who sang "Through the Years" and Carol Cox, the bride's aunt, who sang "Ava Maria."

After a reception at the Kernersville Community House, the couple went on a seven-day cruise to the Virgin Islands. They will be at home in Winston-Salem.

Davie Woman Treasures Memories

since she quit picking cotton, she told him.

The young people of today would never be able to take care of themselves if they had to work and raise their own food as her generation did, she said.

Back then her father and the other farmers who lived there cared for the road.

They called it "the point" because of its location between two rivers.

To get to town in Salisbury they had to cross the South Yadkin by ferry. "You had to holler to let the man with the boat know you needed to cross," Thelma said.

When the mules pulling the wagon stepped onto that boat, she was always afraid it was going to turn over, but it never did, she said.

It took all day to get to Salisbury and back, she said.

Her name was still Thelma Motley when she finished school in 1932, but that soon changed as she married Maurice Mauldin from Rowan County the following year. The first of their five children was born in 1934.

The Mauldins bought the place Thelma still calls home in 1941 - just up the road from the house where she was raised. There was no need in a lot of moving around, she said.

Her family had to work hard, but she said, "We had a good time."

The only public job she ever held was in the cafeteria at Coolidge School the year her youngest daughter graduated from high school. Maurice worked at the mill in Coolidge until it closed in 1968. After that, he worked for a company making wrought iron furniture until suffering a heart attack. They both retired after his heart attack, but her husband continued to farm, drive his tractor and cut wood.

When he died in 1981, she said they had been married 47 years, six months and four days.

She continued to mow her own yard, and garden - even operating a tiller - until about three years ago when her health forced her to stop.

Thelma attributes her good health and longevity to raising her family and taking care of her own affairs at home, she said.

"I always tried to live right and treat people like I wanted to be treated," she said.

Having good neighbors has been a help over the years, she said. And Thelma is proud of her children and their families, but she believes her son and four daughters grew up in a better time than the children of today.

"There wasn't as much to get into - not all the drugs and sex business that's out there now," she said.

One of the things that has improved with time, however, is the road in front of her house.

She estimates it was more than 60 years ago when the state took over Point Road. That was an improvement, but the biggest change came to the road July 29, when paving was completed. Thelma watched most of the work being done from her front porch.

For at least 20 years, she said she has hoped the road would be paved. It's still a little dusty, but it has cut down on the dust considerably.

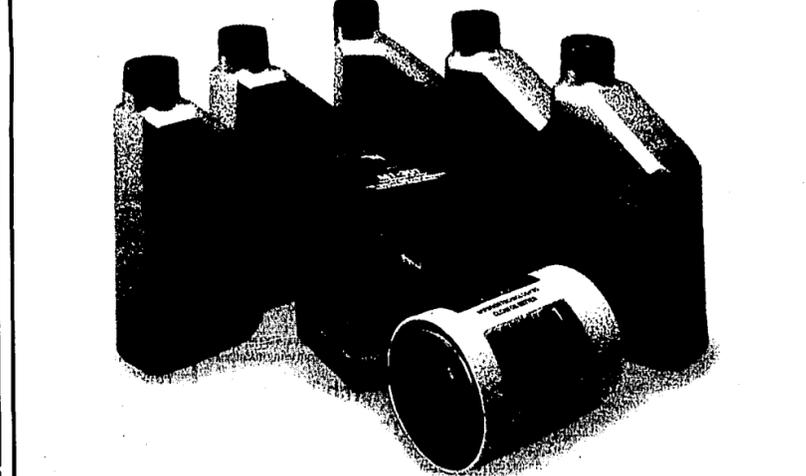

That makes her time on the porch more comfortable. Since she's not able to work the way she used to, sitting on the porch is one of her favorite things to do.

As she prepares to celebrate her 86th birthday, Thelma Mauldin is already thankful for the gift she received early - one she's spent 20 years wishing for.

Sandra Latta To Represent Textile Industry

The American Textile Manufacturers Institute (ATMI) has announced the appointment of Sandra E. Latta to be assistant director of government relations. She comes to ATMI after 14 years on the staff of Rep. Bill Hefner (D-N.C.). Latta joined ATMI on May 26.

At ATMI, Latta will represent the interests of the U.S. textile industry before Congress and the administration. She will focus primarily on issues affecting trade and the environment. Latta's responsibilities include working with the ATMI Environmental Preservation Committee's Water Subcommittee.

Latta joined Hefner's staff in 1984. During her tenure, she served as Hefner's press secretary as well as his principal policy advisor on trade, budget, taxes, telecommunications, government operations and foreign affairs. She represented Hefner at security conferences at the U.S. Southern Command Headquarters in Quarry Heights, Panama, and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) in Brussels, Belgium.

A native of Mocksville, Latta received her bachelor's degree in political science from North Carolina State University. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Edward Latta of Mocksville.

Owners and employees of a new day care center located at Madison and Evans Roads celebrate the upcoming opening of their business with Mocksville Town Manager Terry Bralley and Town Commissioner Buster Cleary.

New Child Care Center To Open In Mocksville

Construction is being completed on Davie Child Development Center, a new 92-child day care center at Madison and Evans roads in Mocksville.

Rudi and Gisela Faak, along with sons Michael and Ronald, are building the 3,000 square foot center, scheduled to open Sept. 21.

The Faaks decided to build the center as a buffer between a residential and industrial area, and at a time when another local day care center was having trouble finding a home. It was also at a time when leaders expressed a concern over the amount of quality day care available, Michael Faak said.

"We couldn't put a house in here, because the uses are changing," he said. "Since Davie County has been good to us, this would be one way to pay them back because this was needed. We need more day care in Davie County, nice facilities, too."

He called the reaction to building the center as positive.

Mandy Matlock has been hired as director, with Jenny Ashley, Michele Johnson and Mary Hart also on staff. More workers will be hired as the center grows, Matlock said.

The center will be open from 6 a.m.-6 p.m., with six employees including a cook. The children will be divided into separate rooms, from infants to toddlers to 2 year olds and other age or ability groups as needed, she said. The cost will be $90 for infants and toddlers, and $80 for children age 2 or older.

Sand covers the ground at an outdoor playground.

A larger room is suitable for all the children for activities, or for a parents night, Rudi Faak said.

He said the separate rooms with insulated walls will help the day care workers with the small groups of children. Each room has an exit to the main hall and to outside, in case of an emergency and to go to the playground. Each room will be under surveillance by a video camera, providing peace of mind for parents, as well as for workers who may be accused of something they didn't do, he said.

Davie Republican Party To Host Cookout In Cooleemee

The Davie County Republican party will meet at Cooleemee Recreation Center Sept. 15, rather than its usual meeting place at the Davie County Courthouse.

A free cookout will be held 6-7 p.m. during which members of the party can meet local candidates.

The Republican party meeting will be held after the meal. For more information, call 998-2341 or 492-5206.

David Carr Named Horn's Country Kitchen Manager

An expanded menu and daily lunch and dinner specials are among the changes at Horn's Country Kitchen in Mocksville since David Carr became manager in mid-March.

Food Masters operates 17 restaurants in North Carolina, Virginia and Pennsylvania, Carr said, including truck stop diners, stainless steel diners and traditional diners.

Horn's employs 35 area residents, 30 of which are full-time. The restaurant has children's menu and serves breakfast any time. Security is strict on certain nights, and Carr said the myth that truck stop restaurants are rough and rowdy isn't true, especially at Horn's.

A Salisbury native, Carr has been managing restaurants for eight years. He is a graduate of East Rowan High School and earned a degree in hospitality and hotel and restaurant management from Appalachian State University. He lives in Salisbury.

Big Sweep Set For Sept. 19

Davie residents will join those from across the state on Saturday, Sept. 19 for the N.C. Big Sweep clean-up of area waterways.

Coordinated by the Mocksville-Davie Recreation Department, volunteers who sign up by Sept. 10 will receive a free t-shirt. Call 751-2325 to register or for more information, or just show up at the U.S. 601 South access area to the South Yadkin River on Saturday morning at 9, Sept. 19. Local volunteers will also travel to the Bullhole to clean the area along the river there.

N.C. Big Sweep is a non-profit, public-private partnership that works year-round to reduce waterway debris and educate residents about aquatic pollution.

Last year, 55 residents volunteered in Davie County, cleaning debris from approximately 4.5 miles of waterways. In addition to the six tires recovered, they picked up 100 bags of trash weighing an estimated 2,120 pounds.

Electric Membership Corporations Merge To EnergyUnited

Members of Crescent Electric Membership Corporation and Davidson Electric Membership Corporation voted Saturday in separate annual meetings to consolidate the two EMCs into a single cooperative called EnergyUnited Electric Membership Corporation.

The new EnergyUnited EMC will be North Carolina's third-largest provider of residential electricity and seventh-largest electric membership cooperative among nearly 1,000 in the United States.

When the two cooperatives officially consolidate operations to form EnergyUnited later this year, the new EMC will serve nearly 100,000 customers in 18 North Carolina counties (Alexander, Cabarrus, Catawba, Davidson, Davie, Gaston, Guilford, Forsyth, Iredell, Lincoln, Mecklenburg, Montgomery, Randolph, Rockingham, Rowan, Stokes, Wilkes and Yadkin).

"Today, we are fulfilling a pledge to our member-customers with this consolidation to provide top-quality electric service at the lowest possible rate," said Crescent EMC Executive Vice President R.B. Sloan Jr., and Davidson EMC Executive Vice President, J. Wayne Wilkins.

On their boards of directors, discussing the possibility of consolidation, we said we would proceed only if it were in the best interests of our members," said Sloan Wilkins. "Studies - including a recent review by the National Electric Cooperative Association - showed there would be many benefits to customers, and today's vote demonstrates support from members for creating EnergyUnited."

"Crescent and Davidson electric cooperatives have served members in this area for more than half a century. We greatly value our cooperative members and take great pride in the reasonable rates and good service that we provide," said Jimmy R. Horton, President of Crescent EMC's board of directors. "Through intensive study and evaluation, however, we now know that we can do even better together as EnergyUnited."

N. Mack Shoaf, President of Davidson EMC's board of directors, said consolidating Crescent and Davidson into a single cooperative will save a projected $38 million for member-customers during the next 11 years.

The first benefit for EMC customers will come in the form of an immediate five-percent rate reduction after the consolidation takes place. Crescent and Davidson EMC's spearheaded a member information campaign leading up to the annual meetings in which the central points of "savings, service and strength" were relayed to customers.

"After talking to various cooperative members, the three areas of savings, service and strength emerged as central to the proposed consolidation," said Sloan and Wilkins. "First, there will be savings for our customers by spreading our operating costs, which already are lean, over a greater number of customers; second, we will maintain superior service through our local EMC offices; and third, we will be stronger together to face the new era of electric utility deregulation.

"The electric utility industry is being rapidly deregulated, which will force electric cooperatives to operate in a more competitive marketplace.

Myers Completes Training

Commander Jimmy L. Myers, U.S. Navy Reserve, completed his annual training for the 1998 Fiscal Year at the Marine Corps Air Station at Beaufort, and at the Marine Recruit Depot at Parris Island. This gave him the opportunity to minister to active duty Marines and Sailors, and new Marine recruits.

Myers serves with the Naval Hospital Reserve Center in Greenston, and has 13 years of service in the Navy.

He is a member of the Western North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church, and is the president of the Conference Chaplains Fellowship. He is also a District Court Judge in the 22nd Judicial District which includes Alexander, Davidson, Davie, and Iredell counties.

Tuttle Earns Masters Degree

Jennifer Diane Tuttle graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's masters of accounting program on May 29.

She also earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Tuttle will begin work on Sept. 14 in downtown Charlotte with Arthur Andersen, LLP, as a tax consultant.

The daughter of Dianna and Stan White and the late Bruce Tuttle, and granddaughter of Louise Smith Pierce, she lives in Huntersville.

On August 8, 1998, BreAnn Adair Joyner, daughter of Michael Puryear and blackberry Joyner, celebrated her 1st birthday at the home of Great Grandparents, Bill and Joe Livingsgood. There to help her celebrate was her Great-Great Grandfather, Jamie Livingsgood, Grandmother LuAnne Livingsgood, Aunt Jennie, and many other family and friends. We enjoyed a cookout on the back porch with cake and ice cream along with the many gifts BreAnn received. Also, on July 30, a party was held at the home of Aunt P. Dupree in Myrtle Beach. Helped her celebrate was BreAnn's Great Granddad, aunts, uncles, cousins and friends. BreAnn, along with her parents, would like to thank everyone for the many nice gifts she received.

Katelin Elizabeth Lanier, celebrated her 1st birthday. She is the daughter of Michael D. Lanier and Jenay D. Carter, born July 31, 1997. Katelin had a party on August 1 with her family and friends. She received lots of gifts, and they had ice cream and cake.

Healthy Carolinians Of Davie Educating Community About Drug Abuse

Marijuana is rapidly becoming the most widely used illegal substance in the nation, especially popular among adolescents and preteens, according to representatives for Healthy Carolinians of Davie County.

That's why the Healthy Carolinians substance abuse committee is taking an active role in education, prevention and treatment of abuses to substances like marijuana.

Marijuana, described as a green, brown or gray mixture of dried, shredded flowers and leaves of the hemp plant, may be harmful in a variety of ways.

The drug has the ability to hinder the user's short term memory and may cause trouble in handling complex tasks, while some types of marijuana make even the simplest tasks difficult. Marijuana's effects on perceptions, reaction time and its reducing of inhibitions suggest a strong link between drug use and unsafe sex and the spread of HIV, the virus that causes AIDS, the group reports.

While all of the long term effects of marijuana use are not known, studies show that an individual who smokes five joints per week may be taking in as many cancer causing chemicals as someone who smokes a pack of cigarettes every day.

Marijuana smokers tend to develop the same types of breathing problems common among cigarette smokers. They suffer frequent coughs, phlegm production, wheezing and tend to have more chest colds than non-users.

Heavy marijuana use has also been linked to problems with sexual characteristics and reproductive functions. Heavy use of the drug may delay the onset of puberty in young men and cause adverse effects on sperm production in men of all ages. In women, the drug can disrupt the normal monthly menstrual cycle and inhibit ovulation.

Use of marijuana may impair or reduce short-term memory and comprehension, alter sense of time and reduce ability to perform tasks requiring concentration and coordination, such as driving a car.

Some classic signs that an individual may have been using marijuana are: dizziness, difficulty walking and red or bloodshot eyes. They may seem silly and giggle for no reason and have a hard time remembering things that just happened.

The Healthy Carolinians of Davie County substance abuse committee urges parents to talk to their children about drugs and all residents to become involved.

To find out more information about marijuana and other drugs, contact health education specialists Wendi Selbe or Lowana Gardner at 336-751-8700.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blatt

Blatt Couple Celebrates 25th Wedding Anniversary

William and Norma Blatt of Mocksville celebrated their 25th anniversary on Saturday, Aug. 15, by reaffirming their vows and having a reception at Ryan's Steak House in Salisbury.

Hosting the event were the couples' children with their spouses. Also present were grandchildren and special friends, the Rev. and Mrs. Dave Rogers from Belmont.

The couple was married on Aug. 15, 1973 in Wise, Va. Norma Blatt was the former Norma Fields from Big Stone Gap, Va. She is employed by Horn Oil Company. Mr. Blatt, formerly of Parkersburg, W. Va., is a retired driver for Pilot Freight Carriers.

The meeting was called to order by the president. After prayer was said, the group sang "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder." The assistant chaplain had the devotions. His text was Psalm 91:1, "Happy estate of the Godly and their safety."

Band Entertains Senior Club

The Coolseemee Senior Citizens Club met Aug. 24 in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church.

The meeting was called to order by the president.

After prayer was said, the group sang "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder."

The assistant chaplain had the devotions. His text was Psalm 91:1, "Happy estate of the Godly and their safety."

The roll was answered by 29 members and six visitors.

The minutes were read, the sunshine and treasurer's reports given.

Club members discussed having a float in the Coolseemee centennial parade Sept. 26, and plans for the Senior Citizens Yard, Bake and Raffle Sale Sept. 11 and 12 at Ridenhour Arbor.

Activities taking place at the Brook Center were announced.

A band, Tommy Driver and The Lost Travelers, entertained. The group sang and played string instruments (fiddle, bass fiddle, guitar and banjo).

The group escaped to the dining area and had a lunch of salads, desserts and drinks.

The meeting adjourned with the group singing the club song, followed with prayer.

The next meeting will be Sept. 14.

Mother's Morning Out To Begin

On Wednesday, Sept. 9, Courtney Baptist Church will begin the third year of its Mother's Morning Out program.

This ministry is to benefit mothers who stay at home with their child(ren) or even grandmothers who keep their grandchildren during the day.

The biggest change will be the expansion to a two-day-per-week program, Monday and Wednesday mornings from 9-noon. If any parent prefers only one day per week, that option will be available.

Accepting children from 6 months through preschool, the program provides Bible lessons, games, crafts, music, snacks and structured activities.

The Mother's Morning Out program follows the Yadkin County School System calendar, meaning school vacations and holidays are observed. Monthly fees are $40 per child, $50 for two children in the same family, and $60 for three children in the same family.

For more information or registration, call Donna Carter at 336-463-2876 after 5 p.m. or the Courtney Baptist After School Program, asking for Kathy Comer at 336-463-3003.

Seedlings Available From Forest Service

The N.C. Forest Service has received its forest tree seedling applications for the 1998-99 planting season.

Persons wanting to order tree seedlings should order early as possible to be assured of receiving the species they desire. Applications must be received at the office of the Division of Forest Resources at least for weeks before shipment is desired if applicants delivery date is to be met. The first deliveries will start in December. This year, the Division of Forest Resources is offering special packages which include: conservation packs of Red Cedar, Loblolly Pine, Longleaf Pine, and White Pine. There are 50 seedlings in a conservation pack.

Also available are the Environmental Packs. These packs contain 100 seedlings of various species either from the eastern or western part of the state. Another pack that contains 100 trees is the Wildlife Pack. It is also various species of eastern or western trees. The last special pack is the Wetlands Pack of 100 trees.

There are many other species available such as: pine (loblolly, longleaf, pond, shortleaf, Virginia and white), cedar (Atlantic White, Eastern red), Fraser fir, and various hardwoods (blackgum, black cherry, black locust, black walnut, buttonwood, cherrybark oak, chestnut oak, green ash, hazel alder, northern red oak, overcup oak, paulownia, persimmon, red maple, live oak, river birch, roughleaf dogwood, sawtooth oak, southern waxmyrtle, sycamore, sweet gum, yellow poplar).

The seedling applications are available from the N.C. Forest Service, 755319, the Davie Soil and Water Conservation District, 751-5011, and the Cooperative Extension Service, 751-6297. All of these offices are located in the County Office Building, 188 Main St., Mocksville.

Couple Exchange Vows At Tanglewood

Mrs. Brian John Duggan

Rhonda Gail Campbell and Brian John Duggan, of Charlotte, were united in marriage at 4 p.m. Aug. 29 at The Arboretum, Tanglewood Park. The Rev. Ray O'Farrell officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Larry and Gail Campbell of Mocksville. She is a 1991 graduate of Davie High School and earned a nursing degree from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. She is a kidney and liver transplant nurse at Carolinas Medical Center, Charlotte.

The bridegroom is the son of Frank and Linda Duggan of Bordentown, N.J., and Sharon Caton of Charlotte. He is a 1988 graduate of Steiner High School, Hamilton Square, N.J., and earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. He is a systems developer with First Union National Bank, Charlotte.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose Deena Burris, her sister, as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were: Amanda Smith and Melissa Jackson, cousins of the bride; Stacy Duggan, sister of the groom; and Ashley Wood.

John Ramsey II was the groom's best man. Ushers were: Chris Burris, Mike Matisa, Tim O'Brien and David Brady.

Reader was Tracy Peck, and the guest register attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Blakley. The wedding was directed by Georgia Carpenter, aunt of the bride.

Flower girl was Kelsy McDaniel, and ring bearer was Joseph Powell.

A reception was held at the Old Barn at Tanglewood. Greeters were Kara McDaniel, cousin of the bride, and Amy Darnafol, step-sister of the groom.

The couple went on a wedding trip to Aruba. They will be at home in Charlotte.

Social Events

• A family shower hosted by the bride's grandparents was held June 13 at Rich Park.

• A miscellaneous shower hosted by friends and aunts of the bride was held July 26 at Dulin United Methodist Church.

• A bridesmaids luncheon hosted by aunts of the bride was held Aug. 29 at The Old Barn, Tanglewood Park.

• A rehearsal dinner hosted by the groom's parents was held Aug. 28 at Bermuda Run Country Club.

Friendly Chicken Finds Home In Mocksville

By Jeanne Galther
Davie County Enterprise Record

Andrew White thought he was imagining things when he looked up from his desk and saw a chicken wandering around on the lawn outside his office.

That chicken, which he named Hortense, now regularly appears at White's door to remind him it's time to feed her.

White believes Hortense escaped from one of the numerous trucks that pass by the log cabin at the corner of Lexington Road and Main Street in Mocksville where he lives and operates a law office.

He had decided to call Davie County Animal Control to see if an officer would pick up the chicken after she had been there about a week. But he noticed her leg had been injured, and his friends had been encouraging him to keep her.

His neighbor Hugh Larew called soon after the chicken arrived to see if he could bring her some water, he said. A few days later, White returned from a trip out of town to discover that Mocksville town board member Buster Cleary had dropped by with a bag of chicken feed.

As long as the chicken was at his house, Cleary told him he had to take care of her, White said.

It was Larew who suggested that Hortense would make the perfect name for the chicken after White told him about discovering the unique name in a file at the Register of Deeds while doing some legal work.

It wasn't long before just about everyone had something to say about his new pet.

One friend told White that her 4-year-old grandson had seen the chicken in his yard and said it's sad that the poor old man living in the cabin has to have a chicken for a pet because he can't afford a dog or cat.

A lot of the community's older folks are happy to see the chicken in his yard because it reminds them of the good old days, White said.

Having a chicken in the yard seems to fit well with the log cabin, he said.

Proud of the classic Thunderbird he bought recently, White said when people tell him they like his "new bird," he has to ask which one - the car or the chicken.

"Somebody told me if I brought fried chicken to the Masonic picnic, they weren't going to eat any," he said.

White has hasn't stopped eating chicken, White said he has no plans of eating Hortense.

In the weeks since he decided to keep her, the chicken has become a pet to him, he said. Unlike his other pets, however, she is not allowed inside the house.

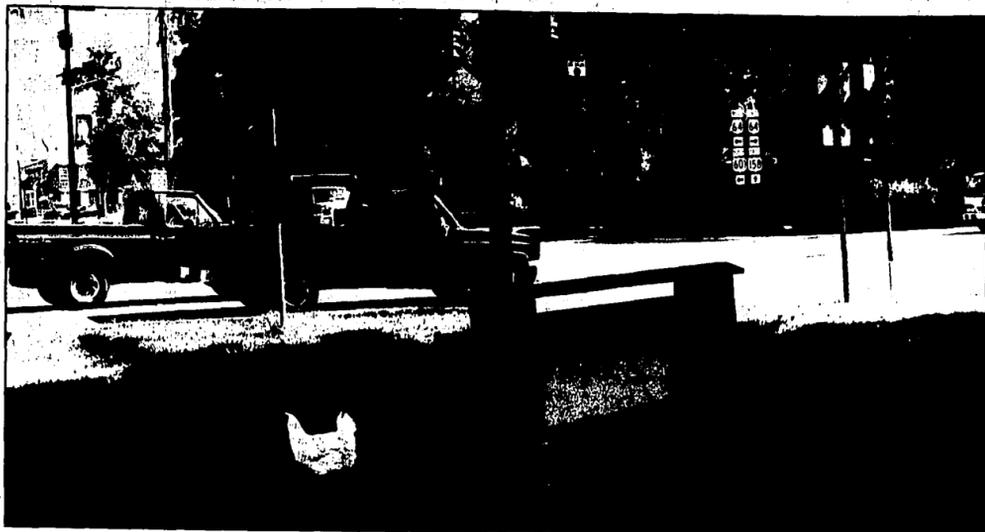

But Hortense doesn't seem to mind, roosting in the trees beside the cabin. Fortunately she hasn't yet wandered out of the yard since that home is near a busy intersection, he said.

"She's a hoot," White said. Although she's generally shy of people, she comes running - still limping slightly - when she hears him calling.

"She's the first chicken I've ever seen that will come when you call her," he said. She even eats out of his hand and lets him pet her.

It may seem strange to passersby the first time they spot White standing outside his office calling a chicken, but it won't take them long to see what has him clucking.

He has found a new friend in a chicken named Hortense, and she has found a home in Mocksville.

Davie High
The 1999 U.S. Senate Youth Program will be held in Washington, D.C. Feb. 27 - March, 1999. Eligible students must complete an application, type an essay, and take a short exam given by Connie Little. See Connie Little for further details.

North Carolina Job Ready has included Davie High Apprenticeship and Internship programs in a book titled Best Practices that will be available across North Carolina soon.

Job Bulletin 3 has been posted around campus for students who are looking for a part-time job.

Shading applications are available for juniors and seniors from Rex Hobson in the Student Services Office or in the guidance office.

Sept. 15 is the registration deadline for the Oct. 10 SAT. Register by this date to avoid late penalty fees.

Students who plan to pursue a degree in engineering may apply for one of several scholarships via one application - The SAE Engineering Scholarship Program. Completed applications, available from Diane Hobbs, must be postmarked by Dec. 1.

Visit the College Board On-line at www.collegeboard.org and learn about different careers, question of the day, register for the SAT, search for colleges that meet your interests, estimate college costs, look for scholarships, apply to colleges, look through the College Board store, and more.

Sept. 18 is the registration deadline for the Oct. 24 ACT.

Registration for the PSAT will be Sept. 28-Oct. 9. The test is free to 10th and 11th graders in geometry either semester, and 10th graders in Algebra II or higher. Students will be given registration materials in their math class or second period class on Monday, Sept. 28. Students must return registration notification sheet to guidance office by Oct. 9. Other students who wish to take the PSAT should drop by the guidance office for registration materials beginning Monday, Sept. 28. The cost for the PSAT is $12.

South Davie Middle
There are several new faces at the school this year. Maggie Crowell teaches 6th grade communications and social studies; Joe Ramstotham teaches 6th grade math and science; Jennifer Salyers teaches 8th grade math; Kathy McDonald teaches 8th grade math; Lisa McDonald teaches 8th grade math; and Todd Bungalow teaches health and P.E. Mary Johnson, Lorraine Johnson, Hilda Rutledge, and Rosaly Scott are teacher assistants.

Tiffany Hendricks and Brent Gaitner have been chosen as Cruisers of the Week of Aug. 31 because they are conscientious, responsible, and hard working.

Mrs. Crofts' and Mrs. Ellis' team have chosen a name, the Stingrays. Students have completed one center and are moving on to another in math. They will be working on graphing projects for the next few weeks. They have begun space exploration by making a space capsule and crew patches. They will continue exploration by creating probes and examining the planets. In communications terrific pop-up books have been created and are on display in the media center. In social studies, students are studying the five themes of geography. While practicing the use of the theme of location, they have tracked hurricanes. Students are planning a trip to the Billmore House on Dec. 17.

Seventh graders on the Tsunami team are working on novels in their communications classes. They are reading Swiss Family Robinson in one class and Where the Red Fern Grows in the other class. Students are also writing in journals and they are encouraged to work on the required reading for Accelerated Reader. They will begin working on spelling soon. In social studies classes, students are venturing into Africa through map labeling and other geography skills. They are studying African animals and works of art. In math, some classes are being introduced to geometric terms, adding and multiplying fractions, and rules of divisibility. Some students are preparing a special project in math advertising. Students are "selling" a particular math concept by creating a math poster to advertise their "product".

Pre-algebra classes are working with variables and writing expressions with variables, adding and multiplying variables, and reducing to lowest terms. This class is preparing to do a math play. Students are researching accomplishments and lives of famous mathematicians in order to write and perform their own play. Progress reports will be sent home next week.

Sixth grade Spanish students studied how to greet one another and some basic vocabulary such as the alphabet, numbers, and months of the year. They have also learned some Mexican geography and are learning more about the Mexican culture. Seventh grade Spanish students have completed review units of vocabulary. They have just completed writing and video-taping their own weather forecasts in Spanish. They cast Ana, a native Spanish-speaking student, as the anchor of the program so that she could show her native accent. Eighth grade Spanish students are almost finished with their review vocabulary units. They are beginning to research and create their individual "Passport" presentations - one student a day taking the class for 5 minutes to the Spanish-speaking country he/she has chosen to research. They will tell about the places of interest, music, food, customs, etc., in their countries. The two native students in the class, Ismael and Ronald, recently read to their classmates a traditional Mexican story in Spanish and Mrs. Katie Bogle, Spanish teacher, translated it. Their classmates read to them a children's story in English and Mrs. Bogle translated it.

Coolseemee Elementary
Kindergarten students of Nancy Harpe and Debbie Allison have been busy adapting to school. As a part of their "Me" unit, they read the story William's Time, drew their own face, and made a rainbow of their skin, hair, eyes, and favorite colors. During math time they have practiced sorting making graphs of bus, car, and YMCA riders, eye color, hair color, birthdays, and boys and girls. To learn the letter "W" they made a Wacky Walrus puppet and brought in things for the Ww bag. As practice of the letter "Oo" they heard the story of O.O. Octopus and made an orange octopus puppet. In science students discussed how animals change as they grow. Students also brought in baby pictures of themselves and used them to create a mystery picture for open house.

The PTA held their first meeting of the 1998-99 school year on Aug. 25. New officers were introduced and open house followed a business meeting.

William R. Davie Elementary
First graders have been doing many activities in preparation of a lifelong love of reading. Center activities and group involvement has centered around a transportation theme. Some of the activities included a Crayon resist project with Freight Train by Donald Crews and the construction of individual "Freight Train" books.

The first early release day was Aug. 26. Teachers and staff were presented with information on testing by Mike Hendrix, testing coordinator for Davie County. Members of the 74 team studied testing items and individual reports for future use. K-2 teachers were presented a new program of technology in the computer lab.

Sept. 11 will be Grandparent's Day. Join your grandchildren for lunch.

The Second Step Night will be Sept. 15 at Skateland, Clemmons.

Fourth graders of Melissa Brown and Judy White took their first field trip Aug. 27. Students visited Horizons Unlimited in Salisbury and "Old Seizer", a one-room school and the planetarium to learn more to enhance their study of "Space". After their programs, they ate a buffet luncheon. Dana Foster and Ellen Luff joined the group.

Bus Riders of the Week of Aug. 21 were Matthew Busbee, Heather Frye, Miranda Myers, Zach Doby, Craig Draughn, Ashley Cranfill, Tanner Bledsoe, and Samantha Contos. Bus Riders of the Week of Aug. 28 are Joshua Godbey, Ebony Jones, Matthew Dyson, Kayla Wilson, Jacob Draughn, Kerri Blevins, Christian Martinez, and Jessica Dalton. Bus Riders of the Week for the week of Aug. 19-28 were treated to an ice cream party Aug. 31. Participants were Zach Doby, Matthew Busbee, Heather Frye, Joshua Godbey, Miranda Myers, Matthew Dyson, Kerri Blevins, Austlan Doby, Tanner Bledsoe, Amber Currier, Ashley Cranfill, Jacob Draughn, Torri Rogers, Kasey Ireland, Luke Naylor, Christian Martinez, Jessica Dalton, Amber Wagner, Craig Draughn, Samantha Contos, Raymond DaVeiga, Chuck Metts, Ebony Jones, and Kayla Wilson.

Citizens of the Week of Aug. 28 are Zach Doby, Aaron Doby, Mary Beth Sherrill, Austlan Doby, Luke Naylor, Spencer Lanning, Maddie Hunt, Craig Draughn, Sy Easting, Jennifer Romero, Samuel Curtis, Justin Daywalt, Kaley Keaton, and Pedro Bartolo.

Citizens of the Weeks of Aug. 10-28 had a luncheon Sept. 2. Parents were invited. Participating were Tyler Robinson, Alex Dooley, Zach Doby, Sadie Lagle, Caitlyn Hyde, Aaron Doby, Phillip Freeman, Kelsey Tiff, Mary Beth Sherrill, Tanner Bledsoe, Jaleesa West, Austlan Doby, David Rodriguez, Megan Melford, Maddie Hunt, Kaley Keaton, Kaley Keaton, Spencer Lanning, Kasey Ireland, Colby Hempstead, Luke Naylor, J.C. Webb, Tiffany Short, Craig Draughn, Erin Reavis, Justin Keaton, Kaley Keaton, Justin Tillery, Sarah Daywalt, Daisy Easting, Frank Bracken, Daisi Varona, Jennifer Romero, Ashley Byrd, Jennifer Childress, Chuck Metts, Samuel Curtis, Austin Brown, Anyeli Romero, Pedro Bartolo, Dustin Harris, Britney Gunter, and Justin Daywalt.

Central Davie Elementary
The Friendship Club will meet Thursday, Sept. 3. Advisors will be Margaret Jo Brock, Sylvia Smith, Sheila Gelfi, Frances O'Neal, Debbie Archer, and Charly Ginn.

School pictures will be made Sept. 15.

The school fund-raiser is over. Merchandise will be available to be picked up in the student's conference day Oct. 12.

Morning Media helpers are Meghan Dyson and Matt Hauser. Plant caregivers this year are Bailey Mars and Jenna Hendricks.

Bus Riders of the Week are Danny Smith, Karla Woodward, Cody Frey, Vanessa Didenko, Nakota Ramsey, Alex Baldwin, Matt Sell, Evan Hall, and Melissa Moore.

Citizens of the Week are Bucky Sheppard, Rachelle Beaver, Allyson Reynolds, Rachelle-Goin, Ben Pawlik, Rebekah Brook, Clayton Edwards, Stephanie Leubetter, Maegan Cline, and Nicole Rote.

Fourth graders of Margaret Jo Brock are studying relative and absolute location in social studies. Latitude and longitude lines are becoming more meaningful to the students as they follow the paths of the hurricanes on their individual tracking charts. Updates from computers are checked every day. Students have begun to accumulate Accelerated Reader points in anticipation of earning pizza in the Book-It Program and competing in the Books and Beyond Program. Mrs. Brock is reading the Newberry Award winning book Shiloh to her class, and in reading class, students are enjoying The Kid in the Red Jacket.

Mocksville Elementary
Kindergarten students of Carrie Davis and Barbara Stewart are studying the letter "Oo". They made the letter "Oo" using O-shaped cereal. They also discussed opposites. Kindergarten students of Angela Spillman have been learning about position words while making their own book. Where is Teddy? They will continue this study in Wiggles Apple Book. The first of the week is "Hh". Students are making a list of words that begin with the letter "H". It is time to read about Johnny Appleseed and make Johnny Appleseed sandwiches.

First graders are starting the Sunshine Math program. Students become Sunshine Kids by completing 80% and returning their papers to the teacher. First graders in Suite 1 had a Teddy Bear Picnic. They ate until they felt like "stuffed bears". They also studied ABCs and alligators and feasted on alligator pie.

Second graders of Elizabeth Starnes competed their frog and toad focus. They learned the differences between amphibians. As an art project, a pond habitat was made for the wall. Fiction and non-fiction made this a fun and interesting unit of study.

Third graders of Judy Sherrill and Brenda Hoffield are busy looking for patterns in math and nature. The are searching for ways to be good citizens.

Courtney Romine's third graders have been working on animal stories which they are preparing to make into books. They enjoyed the book Side-way Stories From Wayside School, and are writing to the author. They are writing letters to each other and using the class post office. Students have begun a quilt which shows the kinds of work in the community as a part of social studies and character education.

The theme in Tracy Poindexter and Lynn Zoubek's class is frogs. Students will be reading stories about frogs including Frog, Frog, Frog. They will also go to see the play "The Frog Prince" at the Barn Dinner Theatre in Greensboro. After the play, they will have lunch at Bolton Park.

Students of the Week are Kelsey Niebauer, Wesley Vanhook, Rachel Thompson, Steven Jones, Ashley Brindle, Brannon Short, Hannah Bouchard, Will Rooney, Cameron Sheppard, Zeb Ramsbotham, Brittany Kall, Iasha Hairston, Ceciley Reynolds, Rebecca Hendrix, Brandon Lowe, Andrea Grant, Joshua Draughn, Maggie Keeble, Chad Lee, Sonney Stanley, Jensen Sales, Lee Cain, Amy Presley, Caleb Creason, David Pruitt, and Travis Myers.

Football Worship, Or Helping Boys With A Problem?

The Davie County High School administration discovered a heart last week at a most peculiar time. Parents of children who have transgressed in the past can rightfully wonder what took so long.

Davie High backedpedaled on its zero-tolerance policy for alcohol. The policy had been unforbearing. An athlete caught with alcohol would be dismissed from the team. No questions. No debate.

But the debate did begin in the wee hours of the morning after the opening football game.

Three key players were stopped by police in a vehicle near the school. They had been drinking. Coaches leaving the school recognized the vehicle and stopped. They convinced police to turn the boys — the quarterback, field goal kicker and a fullback — over to them. Two of them had shown promise for college scholarships. The bright prospects for the football team were seriously jeopardized.

Should one night's bad judgment force them off the team? In fact, it should not.

The school made the right decision. But its history of insensitivity open the school to the criticism of playing favorites and worshipping the football god.

Remember the cheerleader years back who was kicked off the squad? On the advice of a guidance counselor, she had dropped an insignificant class, not realizing it made her ineligible to cheer. Rules are rules, she was told.

Remember the baseball player with narcolepsy? He received a waiver to play from the state high school athletic association, but the school still wouldn't let him play. Rules are rules.

Remember all the trouble makers, bad boys and pranksters expelled over the years? The school ignored their parents' pleas for another chance, for understanding. If those parents don't appreciate last week's decision, who can blame them? Second chances shouldn't be reserved for good football players.

Davie High has marijuana and alcohol problems, not just among the football players. Can the school control the problems better now that it has a flexible punishment? It's time for the school to implement random urine testing for athletes to avoid the appearance of favoritism.

Stopping drugs and alcohol use is more important than our football team's record. A coach may be the person most able to influence the players, because he decides who plays. The chance to play consumes high school athletes. Depriving them of four games is dreadful punishment. Giving them a chance to play again could be a powerful incentive, if the school uses it correctly.

There is a danger to the high school in changing its policy. The school can't afford to be seen as going soft on alcohol. It should seize the opportunity to warn the students of the dangers of drinking and marijuana use. Strangely, that isn't happening. Principal Linda Bost has censored the school newspaper's attempt to write a story about the incident. If there was ever news at Davie High, this is it. Why not use the decision as a chance to warn students against drinking, to remind them that it could risk their safety, their health, even their aspirations of athletic success? Why not encourage a budding young reporter who dared to ask difficult questions, not reduce her to tears? Should the school find a brain, as well?

Rules Are Meant To Be Followed, Teach Lessons

To the editor: I generally encourage my children to read, but I will censor the Sept. 3 Enterprise-Record to exclude the article about the football players. I had difficulty reading it myself, and I don't want my children to learn the lessons taught there. Here are some personal thoughts.

My fourth grader is not playing football this year, because he had not finished paying restitution to us in time for sign-ups. His offense: he circled the answers in a search book that he knew was a gift for someone. It took 10 weeks for him to work off his debt, which he accomplished last week. It was a hard lesson, but we are very proud of him. He is proud of himself, and I'm confident he won't write in another book.

When I was 16 I drank alcohol at a summer party. When school started, someone told the cheerleading coach. Of the three varsity cheerleaders involved, I was the only one who did not lie to avoid getting in trouble. I was the only one who faced the consequences of the school athletic policy and was suspended for half of the season. My parents imposed their own justice, and I gave up my position permanently. Contrary to some predictions about the danger of imposing natural and obvious consequences (Principal Bost called this a "death penalty"), I did not threaten suicide or become an alcoholic, shamed and rejected by the system. I did learn that rules are meant to be followed, and that breaking rules causes shame and embarrassment. Although disappointed in all of us, my cheerleading coach respected me, and more important, I respected myself. I returned to cheering the next year, and by most standards I have continued to live a moral, successful life.

I teach my children to honor their promises. Contracts, written or verbal, fall within my definition of promise.

Our student athletes are supposed to be examples. The example here is loud and clear: if you're a "key player" in a sport that lots of people watch and like to win, you are above the rules.

The students were handed back to the "influential coaches and the benefits of structured athletics" because... why? Because they had such a positive, preventive influence during the pre-season? Don't get me wrong. Far from blaming the coaches, I believe it is not their responsibility to keep kids away from illegal activity. I do believe it is the coaches' responsibility to encourage positive characteristics like honesty, integrity, responsibility, and respect — for the laws, school policies, and self. Still trying to make sense of this story, I have a few questions. When did the law change to allow 15-year-olds to be designated drivers? What were 15 and 16 year olds doing driving around the county between 1:30 and 3 a.m.? I do not know these boys or their parents. This is not a personal vendetta. It is much bigger than that. It is a sad reflection on the current status that integrity and honesty hold in our schools and community.

I have other thoughts on this subject, but I'm afraid they will be lost to the chants and cheers of the football fans. After all, what's good for the team and good for the school must be good for the student.

Formal Apology Made

To the editor: Pursuant to the terms of the mediated settlement agreement dated June 6, this letter shall serve as a formal apology for my institution of criminal proceedings against Steve Seamon, Ruth Seamon, Mrs. Seamon's mother and sister, the Davie County Sheriff's Department and my former neighbors. I was wrong in bringing these charges as Steve and Ruth Seamon did nothing wrong. I regret any inconvenience that my actions may have caused.

Letters Welcomed

The Enterprise Record welcomes letters from its readers. The letters may be on topics of local, state, national or international issues. An effort will be made to print all letters provided they are not libelous, vulgar, or in poor taste. The editor reserves the right to edit letters for grammar and for space.

All letters should include the name and address of the writer, including a signature, a telephone number, not to be published, is also requested. Please have letters in the newspaper office by 4 p.m. Monday of the week to be published.

Decision Hard To Understand

To the editor: My sister and I are students at Davie High School, and we believe the decision Mrs. Bost made on the punishment of the football players was not thought out long enough. We think that they got a slap on the wrist and that she is not doing this for the boys but instead so we can win football games.

It's hard to understand how two of those three students who were drinking beer and the other one of them being 15 years old and driving without a licensed adult, could be let off so easily. What if the driver had wrecked and killed a car full of kids? Are you now saying if my sister or I play a sport and do something illegal we can get a slap on the wrist, too? Or does every student in the school get to be let off easily since those other three did? One of the things that gets us the most is that you said that they "represent the school," so do you want all other schools to think you could care less about what the football players do as long as they play football? There's something to think about.

Decision By Davie High Principal Was Wrong

To the editor: I've worked in Mocksville for the past nine years and lived in the area for half of those. I realize that what follows will not be well received by some readers but those who know me know I don't care. The decision by DHS principal Linda Bost was wrong and, if I may go a little further, just plain stupid. I love sports -- I think they build character and unity very well when properly developed. I read a lot of B.S. about "what is in the best interest..." Whatever happened to rules, standards, and consequences? What valuable lesson did you impart to these kids? I have read the article twice and see kids being given a pass on the whole deal. Would you have changed your policy had it been a drug like "crack," "coke," "meth-crank," or "pot"? All are illegal, as is alcohol for those under 21, and illegal to everyone with it in their vehicle. The best decision had been made prior to this incident. The policy was in place and should be enforced. If it needs to be reviewed or amended it should be done prior to the next school year. By the way, I noticed in the article that the policy was signed by students and their parents. I love and admire my father and, believe you me, he wouldn't need school policy to deal with this behavior. My season would have been finished and I would have had all season to think about what my stupidity had cost the team and myself.

But of course, my father is principled and has a backbone, two things apparently in short supply around here.

Children Should Learn Consequences

To the editor: The recent decision by Mrs. Bost to retract the consequences of the contract signed by all sports team members as well as their parents is of great concern. I respect the importance of giving our teenagers proper and appropriate guidance when they make a mistake in judgment and behavior. However, a far more important value we are responsible to teach our children is the respect for consequences and the honor of accepting these consequences when rules are broken.

Where are you, school board members? If this policy was important enough to implement and have all students and parents to sign, why are we allowing exceptions? I question how many other students in years past have been caught with drugs or alcohol while participating in team sports. If so, have these students been given the consequences of the policy - expulsion from the team? I believe Ms. Bost's decision to overrule the policy speaks more to consequences being modified for the benefit of the school (i.e., having a winning football season) and more to the unfortunate trend of applying situation ethics than to the need to train our children to accept the consequences of their actions. The message this decision sends to all other students, especially students playing less popular sports such as track, volleyball, tennis, is that if you are popular enough, society will accommodate your mistakes and you will receive special treatment.

I hope our school board members, Dr. Stead, and Ms. Bost reconsider the importance of standing behind a very significant school policy on drugs and alcohol abuse. The lesson learned by these students - by all students - will be valued for life.

Helpful Woman Was Angel To Bus Driver

To the editor: On Sept. 4 around 6:30 a.m., I was badly in need of help. My bus quit running on a bus stop on Hwy. 801 South. Workers at the bus garage were out on another emergency. Some other driver had a flat tire. I called several times to get someone at the school to let them know I was broke down but at that time of the morning there was no one there to get my message.

This kind lady, I don't know her name, stopped and asked me if she could help. She offered to carry my passenger to school. I told her no, but could she please go by the school and see if she could find someone. I gave her my bus number. On her way to North Davie, the lady found a bus mechanic. She came back and told me help was on the way. She also stayed with me, parked her car behind my bus, and also turned on the blinking lights to her car to help slow down vehicles so the bus mechanic could try to work safely without getting hurt himself. He got it running enough to move to a safe place and he and another mechanic who brought the part that was needed, quickly got me off and going again.

Once more, I and my passenger truly thank you. You are a God-sent Angel.

Policy Rewritten So Boys Can Play Football

To the editor: As a former student at Davie High, and as a mother whose children are likely to attend there, I feel I must write to strongly protest Mrs. Bost's handling of the problem of student-athletes caught with alcohol.

I believe school policies should be clear and that the punishment should reflect the seriousness of the infraction. I will not debate whether a four or nine game suspension is correct. I will take issue with Mrs. Bost rewriting the policy so these boys can play football.

She is paid to put good policies in place and to enforce them equally and fairly - not to rewrite them when she gets too much heat from coaches and players' parents. Would she have done the same thing if these were second string tennis or soccer players? I doubt it.

The policy appeared to be well-written and was clear. It would be interesting to know who developed it and when. Are we to believe that Mrs. Bost was unaware of it? What other important policies is she unaware of? What other important policies is this policy so bad why did all the players and their parents sign it? Why wasn't there a crowd of coaches, players and parents in her office before the season, refusing to support a harsh policy? I suspect it is because they agreed with the policy and support it -- until it had to be enforced.

People need to know that their actions have consequences. Her message to the students and the rest of us is as follows: "Our policies are flexible and enforcement depends upon who gets caught. Star athletes on money-making sports teams will get special consideration."

I want something better than that for my kids.

Relay For Life Was Big Success

To the editor: I would like to congratulate all the people who helped to make Davie County Relay for Life such a big success. I'm sorry to say I missed it.

I urge all the people and businesses of Davie County to buy and use breast cancer funds. The special stamp's purpose is to help raise funds for breast cancer research. You can get the stamps at your local post office. The cost of the stamp is 40 cents -- 32 cents for the U.S. Postal Service and 8 cents for breast cancer research. Your contributions are tax deductible.

National Center for Health Statistics show that more than 5,000 women will be diagnosed with breast cancer this year in North Carolina. Eighty percent of women who are diagnosed with breast cancer have no known risk factors for the disease. Each and every one of us will be affected by this disease sometime in our lifetime.

In honor of my sister, Jamie, I would like for us to fund the fight and find a cure for breast cancer. Please help. For more information about the stamp, call 1-888-304-CURE.

Volunteer Fire Service Appreciated

To the editor: I am writing in appreciation of the volunteer fire service in Davie County.

Aug. 31, I witnessed first hand what volunteer fire departments are all about. I was driving down Duke Whitaker Road when I noticed a cloud of black smoke towering above the trees. My first fear was it was someone's home. As I got closer, I saw it was a barn on fire behind a house. When I pulled in the driveway, the barn was fully involved; flames were shooting through the roof and no one was around. I tried to call 911, the cell phone wouldn't work. I ran to the house and beat on the door, no one came. I ran across the road to try to get help and no one was home. Finally, as I went to my van to try again, the owner came running out of his home. He said call 911, so I went to another house, made the call and returned to the scene. (Someone else had made the call also.) All this happened so quickly, thankfully, when I returned there was someone else there to help.

It couldn't have been much more than five minutes from the time I placed the call when the first fire truck arrived. Then, in no time flat, there were volunteer fire fighters there from all over the county. I saw trucks from Sheffield-Calahun, County Line, Wm. R. Davie and Center. I even saw a tag on the front of someone's truck from Advance. This fire occurred in the middle of the county while most of them were at work. Davie County ought to be proud of the fire service they have. Every fire department in our county is a volunteer department. We do not have a full-time station. These men and women who are serving you are doing it because they want to, not because they have to or because they are paid. I think that they did a tremendous job putting out the fire. Yes, the barn burned to the ground and there was a tremendous loss to the owners who raised hundreds of birds and other pets in it for their stores. But, thanks to the fire departments and all of the volunteers, their two pigs did not burn up; they did suffer some injuries. I haven't heard how they are today - I just hope they made it through the night and that they will be okay. They did not lose the building behind the barn and neither of the two houses that were right beside it caught on fire either. Their quick response time is what saved their homes.

These men and women put their lives on the line for you and I think all of us should show our appreciation and support to the fire departments of Davie County. They are there to help you no matter what the emergency.

Keep your eyes open to when they are having supper, car washes and other fund-raising events. Your support will lead to the continuing efforts of these men and women. When you see one of them is holding a fund-raising event, please pass the word on to everyone you know and go out and support it. And, not only is it for a good cause, but, if you go to a supper, it is some of the best eating you will find in Davie County.

Don't just express your appreciation in supporting fund-raising events. When you see these men and women, tell them how much you appreciate them. They deserve to know what they do is noticed. Please don't forget the junior fire fighters these boys and girls are there to help and protect you also. Just saw first-hand what a good fire service we have and I wanted to make sure everyone else had the opportunity to share in my experience.

'Little Friends' Subject Of Hours Of Worrying

Worry. Worry. Worry. It's a waste of time. But we, who are cursed to be worriers, don't know how to stop ourselves.

We ruin otherwise pleasant conversations by worrying that we said too much, said too little, said what we said all wrong or forgot to say what we really wanted to say.

We worry about doing the housework, mowing the lawn and buying groceries. We worry about our jobs. We worry about just about everything.

A confessed worrier, I devote a lot of my wasted hours of worrying on two of my best friends.

I worry that they'll wander into the road and be hit by a car. I worry that they don't get enough exercise when I have to work late. I worry that they never get enough attention.

Jeanne Galtner

They never complain and seem disappointed only when they hear that it's time to go back into their cage.

From inside the house with me, Thelma and Louise were forced out to their own house in a fenced-in backyard. When I moved from Mocksville to Union Grove, they moved again into a smaller house - a plastic one - which sits in a 10x10 cell. It broke my heart.

But this torment I brought on myself, according to my husband, who believes that dogs should be allowed to run free. If they get hit by a car, at least they'll be happy until it happens, he says.

Now there's a convincing argument. I knew there had to be a better way for my little darlings.

We decided to install an invisible fence. For those who don't know about them, these little gadgets keep your dog in the yard by giving him a jolt of electricity through a special collar when he tries to cross a wire buried underground.

We didn't want a cheap one because we were afraid it wouldn't work, but we quickly discovered we weren't prepared to invest in the top of the line model some of our friends have - uncertain how long it might be before we move.

We could take the fence with us - only needing to purchase more wire, but that was a lot of money to spend when our plans were to move to a dirt road where it's rare for more than five or six vehicles to pass in a day's time - courting us and the mailman.

We made phone calls, went to all the pet stores in the area and talked to every invisible fence owner we could find. We found our answer in a neighbor. She had a fence system that worked but didn't like it because she couldn't hear to see her dog shocked.

The only problem was it came with only one collar. She provided us with the information we needed to order a second collar and told us what kind of wire we needed to buy. The search for wire was a frustrating ordeal, but we had found what we needed by the time the new collar was delivered.

We laid the wire above ground where we planned to bury it later after making sure it worked and marked it with flags while waiting for the collar batteries to charge. Using myself as a guinea pig, I found that the old collar packed a powerful punch, and the new one was a dud.

We assumed it was the battery but had no way to test that theory, as the newer collar had been upgraded from the older version and used a different size battery. I called the company where we got the collar, but they didn't have any replacement batteries in stock. So came the quest for a new battery.

The dogs are supposed to be trained for several days not to go outside the set boundaries before getting their new collars, but we didn't want to bet training until we were certain we would be able to follow up with those collars.

I finally found a battery. The collar still didn't work. By the time the replacement collar arrived, we decided that we'd be moving so soon it wasn't worth putting Thelma, Louise or ourselves through the ordeal. In the meantime, the dogs have learned that going into the road is a no-no, overcome only by the temptation to chase little boys on bicycles.

Thelma and Louise still spend most of the day in puppy prison, and that dog lot and the plastic house inside it will go with us when we move. But maybe - just maybe - if we can teach them that a dirt road is just as much a road as the paved one where we live now, my little darlings can spend the rest of their days doing what they love most - playing in the woods and sleeping outside our door.

Don't Get Burned!

You can be fined up to $10,000 for illegal open burning in NC.

Smoke from open burning can cause serious health problems and pollute the air. That's why the state regulates open burning. Only leaves, branches or other plant growth can be burned.

IT'S ILLEGAL TO BURN:

- Garbage, paper and cardboard
- Tires and other rubber products
- Building materials, including lumber
- Wire, plastics, and synthetic materials
- Asphalt shingles and heavy oils
- Paints, household chemicals and agricultural products

Homeowners can burn yard trimmings - excluding logs and stumps - if it's allowed under local ordinances, no public pickup is available and it doesn't cause a public nuisance. Other allowable burning includes campfires, outdoor barbecues and bonfires for festive occasions. Landowners also can open burn vegetation to clear land or rights-of-way provided that:

- Prevailing winds are away from built up areas and roads
- Fires are at least 1,000 feet away from occupied buildings
- Burning is done between 8 am and 6 pm

Remember burn permits issued by the NC Division of Forest Resources, its agents or any local government do not exclude a person from following the state air quality rules. For more information contact:

Boy, Grandfather Help Save Banned Owl

The bird had apparently been blown out of its nest during one of the wind storms. "The mother bird hadn't abandoned it," Tullock explained, "because we found a dead rabbit and bird on the ground near the little owl."

However, the owl had been unable to eat and was near death.

"Owls usually make their nest in hollow trees or in crow or hawk nests," Tullock said. "My wife, Charlotte, wanted me to try and put the owl back up in a hollow tree."

However, there was no way to reach such a location.

"That's when I called Sun Works and they directed me to the Carolina Raptor Center."

The center is in Charlotte and is a nonprofit organization which provides public education about the importance of raptors to the environment. The group, composed largely of volunteers, takes in injured raptors (birds of prey) in an attempt to return them back to their natural environment once they are healed.

Someone from the Center came to collect the owl, which was identified as a Barred Owl.

Tullock said the tiny bird fit in a shoe box when it left the farm. He and his family stayed in touch with the Center to see if the owl survived.

"We were told that it was doing well, and were asked if we wanted it to be released here on the farm once it was ready."

Since Will had been there to find the owl, Tullock thought that it would be nice for his grandson to see the bird returned healthy and headed back where it belonged.

That day arrived recently. Larry Dickerson, one of the Carolina Raptor Center volunteers, arrived at the farm around 8 p.m., bringing the now full grown owl back in a large blue box.

Dickerson explained to the 6-year-old that the owl would no longer resemble the tiny bird that had left the farm nearly three and a half months earlier.

"The owl is a wild bird," Dickerson explained, kneeling on the ground beside the box as Will peered inside, anxious for a glimpse. "As wild as the day she was born and she will bite and claw so we have to be very careful."

As Will stood back beside his grandfather, Dickerson donned thick gloves and carefully drew the frightened owl from the box, and with a brief pause so that Will might get a good look, lifted his arm and set the owl free.

Will watched the large owl as it soared free, heading toward the tree line in the distance and then ran to pick up a single feather that had fluttered to the ground.

"Look," he said holding it lightly in his hand. "She left something for me."

This feather was all that remained after the Barred Owl Will Ramsey and his grandfather found near death in April in Davie County was released back into the wild. It was turned over to the Raptor Center in Charlotte where it was nursed back to health.

Roy Langston Remembered As 'A Good Old Soul'

He never made it past the sixth grade, but he could tell fellow church members how to pronounce any name in the Old Testament, according to Gilbreath. A religious man, Dull said Langston read his Bible regularly and had just come to his house two days before his death to use his VCR to watch a video taped sermon. "Though Langston didn't drive much at night anymore, he would if that's what it took to get to revival services, Gilbreath said.

He was known for his honesty. Langston once had a lease agreement with a farmer for the use of a portion of his land. They had on a price of $3,000 after the crops were harvested, but Langston later insisted he be paid $5,000, Gilbreath said. A few days later, Langston returned $2,000 to the man, telling him he didn't want to be dishonest.

"He was a good, old soul," Gilbreath said. "I'm not surprised at the way he died because that's the way he lived," Dull said.

But he's going to miss the friend who long ago helped him out while he courted his niece and visited him nearly every day in the later years of his life. "We'll all miss him," Gilbreath said.

Mocksville Man Seriously Injured In Motorcycle Accident In Downtown

A Mocksville man was seriously injured when he wrecked a motorcycle while trying to elude police. Roderick Tyrone Martin, 38, of 300 Mill St., was taken to N.C. Baptist Hospital for treatment of severe scrapes and bruises. Martin was driving the 1976 Honda in excess of 80 mph trying to elude police when the metal peg contacted pavement at North Main and Gaither streets, reported Mocksville Police Officer K.D. Hendrix. The vehicle skidded on its side, with Martin still holding on, for 170 feet. Martin was pinned between the pavement and the motorcycle, Hendrix said.

Martin was charged with DWI and driving while license revoked. An additional 13 charges are pending his release from the hospital, Hendrix said.

No One Could Argue Policy Was Unfair

To the editor: Davie High's policy regarding use of alcohol by its student athletes was both clear and reasonable: use of alcohol renders the student athlete ineligible to participate in its athletic program. "The administration knew what the policy provided, the coaches knew, and the student athletes and their parents not only knew the policy - they signed a contract which expressed their agreement to that policy. No one raised the issue as to whether the policy was too harsh, and it had apparently served the athletic program well.

Recently, three members of the football team were found to be in violation of the school's policy on alcohol use. They took a chance and were apprehended knowing all the while the penalty they would face if caught. Not only was school policy violated, the driver of the vehicle was not licensed to drive and there were open containers of beer in the vehicle in violation of state law. Most citizens of North Carolina would have been arrested and convicted, and yet these young men were turned over to their coaches for discipline and prayer. Following this event, Principal Bost responded by refusing to implement the policy that all concerned had agreed to. No one could argue that the policy was not known or unfair. If anyone did make that argument, it was after the fact. Obviously, she did not feel the policy was too harsh when she required parents and students to sign the agreement.

Superintendent Steed failed to take a stand in the matter, preferring to hide behind the skirts of Mrs. Bost, whom he supervises.

The police who stopped the car have definite responsibility where open containers of alcohol are in the vehicle, yet they failed to make these young offenders take responsibility for their reckless behavior. Of course they would prefer a few minutes of prayer to possible revocation of driver's license or heavy fine.

This event raises some serious questions. Are all school policies subject to retroactive change as this one was? Are outstanding members of the football team entitled to lesser penalty than would have been applied to others under the agreed policy? Should young people too young to drive or by cigarettes be allowed to avoid responsibility for drinking on the open highways? Are students to believe that the administration does not believe in strict enforcement of its policies?

Since those who violated the rules were outstanding white players on the football team, one wonders whether an African-American or Hispanic youth would have gotten the same preferential treatment... especially if she or he played second string on the volleyball team. If less prominent students do receive the discipline they deserve they might claim racial discrimination and institute a suit since the white students got less than the prescribed penalty for their infractions.

Mother Outraged With Policy Change

To the editor: I am outraged. I am a mother of three children in the Davie County schools. I attended Davie County schools myself. I have always been proud of what our schools stood for. That is, up until now. Mrs. Bost's decision to change the policy concerning drug and alcohol use makes me ashamed of our so-called outstanding, high-value school system. You can't tell me that it's not who you are and what you have to offer that matters the most. I have nothing personal against these football players involved. I do have something personal against school personnel who will under the pressure of coaches, parents, and sports fans who will be upset if the star players don't get to finish the season.

That's what is wrong with our society today. There are rules to follow and consequences for breaking those rules. But if you are the right person, these consequences don't apply to you. If you are a key player on the football team and you break the rules, don't worry about it. You can rest assured that the rules don't apply to you. At least not when the Central Piedmont Conference games start. Don't you think it's obvious that these boys are only being punished before the games that count are played? And Bill Steed says that the last thing the staff people are thinking about is football? Give me a break. If that were true, why do they get to play when the conference games start?

These students and their parents signed a contract at the beginning of the season agreeing to the rules and consequences of drug and alcohol use. They knew what was supposed to happen if they broke the rules. They might as well have signed the agreement on toilet paper and flushed it down the toilet. Mrs. Bost says this decision was based on what was best for the boys, the team, and the school. Is it best for these boys to know there are no major consequences for their actions? Is it best for the other team members to know that these three players are so important to the team that school officials are willing to look the other way just so they can play football? Is it best for the school to see that if you are good enough in sports, nothing else matters?

It's a good thing that these boys didn't kill anyone by driving while drinking. Mrs. Bost would have had a harder time finding a way to make sure these boys got to play in the conference games. She wants to know how to prevent this behavior. She could stick to the rules and maybe kids would at least think twice before breaking the rules. Why have any rules if the consequences are going to be changed once the rule is broken?

My son will be attending Davie High School next year. Now when I give him my speech about the consequences of drinking alcohol, I can't use the one about not being able to participate in sports. It's obvious that rule is out the window. But he might not be one of the key players, so the rule might still apply to him. I know that people make mistakes and regret things they have done. I don't know what my children will do when they get older. But I hope they remember what they have learned at home and in church and know that there are consequences to their actions. Surely you jest when you say these boys need to be under the leadership and influence of coaches. Most of these boys have been in sports since they could walk and the positive influence of the coaches hasn't rubbed off on them yet. There are some coaches who are looking out for the best interest of the players and want to help the child not only be a better player, but also a better person who has the skills to play a sport and the skills to help them in life. But when a coach says to stick to the rules until conference games start, it's obvious what is important to that coach.

My husband, my children, and I attend most of the Davie High football games. I want Davie to win like the rest of you. But I just don't see sacrificing morals to do it. The coaches said they were going to straighten these boys out and have a word of prayer with them. Maybe if the boys had had a word of prayer after losing the game instead of picking up a bottle of beer, none of this mess would have happened.

Mocksville Masons Honored

For 50 years, Bill Merrell, Graham Madison and George Martin have been Masons.

They were honored Sept. 1 at the Mocksville Masonic Lodge along with Jimmy Whittaker, Charles Evans and Henry Short who have been Masons for 25 years.

Merrell said, "It's a good life to live. [The Masons] do a lot of nice things for the handicapped." Merrell has been a Mason since he was 24.

Madison joined the Masons when he was 44. He said being a Mason broadened his outlook on life.

"It's given me an opportunity to do a worthwhile service through the money we raise," Madison said.

Evans said, "It's a very rewarding experience," he said. "I'm in it for the duration. It's my life."

Madison said that Masonry is a family tradition.

"Our churches teach us Salvation and Judio-Christian ethics and Massony compliments this by teaching us to apply these principles and beliefs to our lives," Martin said.

Henry Short and Jimmy Whittaker were among those honored Sept. 1 for 25 years as Masons.

"We should spread brotherly love; to walk uprightly before God; square our actions and to always remember that we all are on the same level."

"I consider these to be both valuable and worthwhile applications of Christianity and really can find no fault with Masonic principles," Martin said. "Masonry has been a very important and respected part of my life, and I am very proud of my 50 years of membership and for the eternal principles of the Order."

"I enjoy talking to people in the more relaxed atmosphere of their home, hospital, retirement center or business and getting to know them. It is great to be able to help those who need to talk to a lawyer but either can't get out to a law office or don't choose to. I've practiced law for 26 years and the pace and variety of this way of delivering legal services suits me at this stage of my life. It means I'm not stuck in the same office everyday and not having to maintain a large base operation and staff means we can save our clients money."

BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

Rehability Center opens in Clemmons

The Village of Clemmons has recently welcomed a new business that expands its growing reputation among the medical community. Rehabilitation Center, part of the national chain of American Rehabilitation Services, opened in June in the First Citizens Bank building on Lewisville-Clemmons Road.

Rehabilitation Center offers physical therapy treatment for all kinds of injuries—job-related injuries, car accidents, sports injuries and more. Chris Vetrone is manager and therapist, and Brenda Sanders is office manager at Rehabilitation Center.

The Clemmons office expands the company that already has two offices in Winston-Salem and has locations in High Point, Greensboro and Charlotte. American Rehabilitation Services, the parent company, is located at Brentwood, Tenn. and has more than 200 clinics nationwide.

"We see a lot of different kinds of patients," Vetrone said. He is licensed as a physical therapist assistant, and the clinic also has a physical therapist on staff. All the services are performed on an outpatient basis.

What does Rehabilitation Center treat? "Anything from knees to backs to necks, elbows, anything," said Vetrone. Patients don't have to be referred by a physician, but almost all of them are because of insurance reasons. Rehabilitation Center has a contract with Blue Cross/Blue Shield and is recognized by most other insurance companies.

On a patient's first appointment, Rehabilitation performs an evaluation and determines how many visits will be needed for rehabilitation. The patient's physician is also kept updated on progress.

Vetrone said the clinic also strives to keep the patient fully informed about the nature of the injury and the healing process.

The clinic is equipped by Cybex physical fitness machines, universal machines, an exercise bike, traction table and treatment tables.

Vetrone said the clinic maintains a comfortable atmosphere for patients. Rehabilitation Center is on the first floor, Suite 102 of the First Citizens Bank Building on Lewisville-Clemmons Road, Clemmons. The phone number is 778-2622.

"We're getting to know the people in Clemmons," Vetrone said. "We like it here."

Kidz Klub fills soon after opening new day care facility on Jonestown

Expansion will add more infant care

Tenley Gilmore opened Kidz Klub, a new day care facility six months ago. She's full now, with 30 children on the waiting list. There is a great demand for quality child care, and Gilmore said she wants to provide just that to her parents.

Kidz Klub serves children from infant age, 6 weeks old, to 12 years old.

"We're full right now, but will be expanding the infant program for babies," she said. In three months, the firm will open a Baby Barn facility that will expand the number of infants she can serve.

That will serve infants from 6 weeks to 1 year. That age seems to have a particularly high demand for child care because many facilities don't serve that age group.

Right now, Kidz Klub, has 35 children.

"We try to provide a family, home-style atmosphere," she said. "The kids all get to play together, and the teachers get to share the kids. We all work together."

This is her first venture into day care facilities. Gilmore had previously worked in home child care.

But the Clemmons native wanted to expand, and Kidz Klub lets her realize that dream.

"We have an objective. We just believe that children are gifts from God. We value their feelings, desires, thoughts and needs. Our purpose is to nurture the intellectual, social, emotional and physical development of the whole child," she said.

Gilmore is a 1987 graduate of West Forsyth High School and received her child care credentials from Forsyth Tech.

Kidz Klub has six employees.

Kidz Klub is located at 1398 Jonestown Road, Winston-Salem, beside Fox Creek Apartments and 1.5 miles off U.S. 421.

Along with bright, playground equipment and tasteful rooms, Kidz Klub also features computer programs for pre-schoolers.

Gilmore said she wants to foster self-esteem among the children. She has two children of her own, 8-year-old Tyler, and 5-year-old Emily.

Why did she choose day care for her career?

"It's what I like to do," she said. "I used to work at a bank, and I was miserable. This is much more fun."

Kidz Klub's motto is "Thank you for sharing your child with us."

That's exactly the philosophy Tenley Gilmore lives by. Call her or visit Kidz Klub to see if it's just what you've been looking for for your child. The number is 774-8582.

War Eagles Grind Out 27-7 Football Win Over North Iredell

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Coming off a somber week of fumbled footballs and fumbled jobs, Davie's coaches tossed the preseason playbook out the window.
 Facing four games without passer Drew Ridenhour, head coach Doug Illing and assistant Mike Herndon weeded out extraneous pressures for emergency starter Michael Burton and the green offensive line, resorting to John Madden football here Friday against North Iredell in a nonconference game.
 With quarterback Burton lacking game experience, the War Eagles reduced their attack to student-body sweeps and up-the-gut grunts to mow the Raiders 27-7.
 Runners Ricky White and Kenny Collins did virtually all the yard work, combining for 268 yards rushing and two touchdowns as Davie grounded 44 of its 51 plays.
 "Coach Herndon did a great job of saying just keep it simple and stupid, and that's the things we did," Illing said. "We limited the amount of plays, and we made sure we knew what we were doing in executing for Burton. We just rallied around him and kept it simple."
 The improving line sprang White and Collins loose for 44- and 31-yard TD runs, respectively, and shielded Burton from obvious passing downs.
 "The line stepped up big," Illing said. "We've challenged them hard this week that we're going to play smash-mouth football. We told them from the get-go it's going to be on their shoulders to carry us to a win."
 Feeling the early sting from the wounds of a 27-3 flop against Mooresville, the War Eagles saluted up their offensive set, avoiding fumbles and interceptions that butchered potential scoring drives in the season opener.

"The kids felt bad about it last week," Illing said. "Having the opportunities that we had and not cashing in on them, the kids felt bad enough. But we made sure they knew the importance of holding onto the ball and protecting that precious piece of gold. The defense keeps giving it to us, and we did a lot better job today protecting it."
 Defensive tackle Forrest Breedlove said the War Eagles were determined to make amends with their fans.
 "We were focused," said Breedlove, who recovered his second fumble of the year. "It was our first home game, and we wanted to step it up since our loss. We didn't look very good (against Mooresville). We just didn't want to lose at our home. We're a lot better. We stepped up our performance a whole lot."
 The line set the game's tone right off the bat, blocking for White, Collins and fullback Neil Wagstaff on 16 of Davie's first 17 plays.
 However, Davie's initial end-zone strike was triggered by a Jared Vaughters hit in the backfield, where he rocked the ball loose from North's Marquis White. Jeremy Shoffner recovered, setting Davie up at the North 18.
 After Collins, who averaged almost eight yards on 17 carries, moved Davie to the 4 on four consecutive runs, Burton rolled right on third and goal. Strangely enough, he found one-man gang J.J. Rice, who gathered the floater and scored his second career TD with 3:33 left in the first. Rice, a three-time all-conference nose guard, scored on a scooped fumble last year at Mt. Tabor.
 "When we get to short yardage or the goal line, we call that our hammer team," said Illing, whose club led 7-0 after the extra point by David Woodridge, who's filling in for suspended Eric Kotke. "We're doing one thing: We're coming right at you. That (pass) is something we got off of. That keeps balance."

War Eagle Runners Post Perfect Scores

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

It took Lauren Poplin years to discover cross country.
 It took her mere days to reach the top.
 With leader Jerrine Peeler out last week, Poplin stepped out of the leader's shadow, won first place in the third meet of her life and paced Davie's girls cross country team to its third perfect score in four meets, a 15-49 rout of North Davidson.
 "I was really excited," said Coach Cary Powers, whose boys followed up with a perfect score of its own. "Peeler was sick, so we didn't run her to rest her, and this gave Poplin the chance to get her first victory in cross country. So I was tickled for her and all the other girls."
 Poplin, a tennis player the previous three years, hasn't finished lower than second in three meets, strengthening the lineup considerably as Davie prepares for the Central Piedmont Conference's winding roads.
 "What can you say?" Powers said of the Poplin addition. "She's kind of that missing ingredient we've been looking for with the girls for the last couple years."
 "We've had some strong girls, but we haven't had quite that mix we need at the top. And I think she's going to provide that for us."
 Winning the league is a long shot for the War Eagles, but the dependable stopwatch has Davie looming close in the front runners' rear-view mirror.
 "Now, we're not able to compete with the Reynolds or the Tabors yet, but nobody will be able to just blow us off either," Powers said.
 Poplin, who cruised to the top in 23:42, was followed by teammates Laurie Desch (24:22), Janel Darcy (24:39), Caroline Steed (24:46), Stacy Joyner (25:19) and Meredith Hendrix (26:18), a six pack that enjoyed a sip of cold water before North Davidson crossed the finish line.
 "Laurie and Janel continued to run well," Powers said. "Caroline had a much better day this week than last week, so I'm encouraged by that. Stacy and Meredith are going to progress for everybody."
 "But we've got some talent this year, and we've got kids who are willing to work hard. And as long as you've got that, I think you've got a chance."
 The girls rolled through the non-conference schedule with seven consecutive wins while the boys went 6-1. ... Other girls who finished in the top 15: Megan Mick, Christie Robertson, Bridget Robertson and Elise Whitaker.

North Davie Eighth Graders Aiming High

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

For most of five years, North Davie football coach Ron Kirk has seen the Wildcats hounded and pounded, sliced and diced, and clubbed and drubbed.
 North's seventh-grade team stopped the bleeding last year, though, roaring to three straight wins that totaled 66-6, picking up a forfeit and taking a 4-0 record into the season's stretch drive. But injuries decimated North's key players and sapped the juice from a potential championship season as the Wildcats hobbled out with a 4-3 record, marking just the second winning record since 1993 for both of North's teams.
 Now, with the Wildcats regrouped and primed for one last ride through the Piedmont Middle School Conference, Kirk would like to see this eighth-grade class flex all its muscle and create a little carnage of its own.
 "It's really too much to ask?"
 "We're as good as we were at the beginning of last season when we started out 4-0," Kirk said. "We just have to keep everybody healthy and not have injuries like we did at the end of the year last year. We were third place last year, and we were running for first."

 Avoiding injuries, especially with most of the team's 24 players playing on both sides of the ball, could spell contention for the Wildcats, who will probably be favored to win their first three games, setting up dramatic action down the stretch.
 "We could easily finish in the top two. We're trying to go after the banner," said Kirk, hoping that the banner comes down between North and neighbor South Davie, the two-time defending eighth-grade champs. "Maybe we'll see us and South playing in another playoff game this year (South's seventh-graders won 22-0 last year, except maybe it will be on (championship) Saturday night."

Seventh Graders Build Around Offensive Line

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Football has not been thriving at North Davie, but it's alive and the promising offensive linemen will give the Wildcats a chance to get well.
 "We've got a good group of offensive linemen. I think that's going to be our strength," said seventh-grade coach George Newman, who's counting on the beefy boys to light the Wildcats' offensive flames.
 The primary blockers: centers William Whitaker and transfer Kyle Brown, guards Zach Jacob and Crayson Miller and tackles Matt Markland and Tommy Schambach.
 "When they practice, the offensive line is a group that likes to set the tempo from the very beginning," Newman said. "You tell a lot of what's going to happen the rest of practice. They are aggressive blockers."

 The linemen weigh an average of 180, solid poundage for 13-year-old boys, and possess the quickness to shield pursuing rushers from all angles, encouraging news for runners.
 "One thing that they do is move quick with their feet," Newman said. "This is a group of players who can actually pull excellently. They are good blockers and they maintain blocks."
 Newman will employ a conservative offensive attack because the backs lack good-by-speed to turn close games into routs. Fullbacks Brandon Paine and Justin Norsworthy and halfbacks Michael Simmons, Jacques Lyons, Zac Morton and Derek Comartz (also a possible starter at quarterback) along

Lauren Poplin finished first in just her third cross country meet, leading Davie to a perfect score.
 Matt Moser scored two goals and carried North Davie's soccer team to a 2-0 win over High Point Wesleyan.
 Davie's Kristen Powell and Molly Konantz, two injury-riddled tennis players, played remarkably well in their first doubles action since last year. They rolled 6-1, 6-0 against Northwest Cabarrus.
 Jeremy Howell has scored four of the Davie soccer team's eight goals.
 Davie's tailback tandem of Kenny Collins and Ricky White rushed for 135 and 133 yards, respectively, and safety Zeb Everts picked off two passes.

Josh Link of the Davie High JV soccer team attempts to score against West Rowan in the War Eagles' 2-0 victory.

JV Soccer Team On Winning Streak

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Often times, games are decided by breaks.

Davie's JV soccer team only needs marginal breaks to win. If the other team's going to kick the ball in the wrong net, the high-flying War Eagles may not lose again in short sleeves.

The conference race doesn't start until Sept. 29. Until then, Coach Sean Garnett's team has no plans of slowing down.

Last week, Davie slipped past North Davidson 2-1 and won 2-0 over West Rowan, which inadvertently booted in Davie's first goal.

"We're looking good," Garnett said. "I think our team overall is a lot better than last year's team. We haven't lost since the first game of the season."

(The West Rowan game was probably our best overall game. We didn't have a better half than any of those other two (wins against Salisbury and Forbush), but they played good throughout the whole game."

Luke Koonz was the nearest man to the ball when West put West down 1-0, forfeiting momentum in the process.

"It was kind of like West scored it," said Garnett. "The guy from West deflected it off his foot and it went in the net. But we still give Luke credit for it. It was pretty fluky. That was in the first five minutes. That was good because we got the momentum right off the bat."

Hunter Macfarlane's penalty kick made it 2-0, more than enough breathing room the way Davie's defense performed.

"Our defense played really good," Garnett said. "Derek Turner, Andrew Needs, Macfarlane, Nick Goughnour and Justin Simpson had good games."

And Monday's rematch with Northwest Cabarrus, which blanked Davie 3-0 on Aug. 18, should be a better game.

"I think we'll do better," Garnett said. "We've improved a lot. Our defense is a lot better, the effort's there now and everybody is working hard."

Koonz and Macfarlane were instrumental in the 2-1 win over North Davidson as well, with Koonz finishing a feed from Josh Balsey and Macfarlane finding Jay Smith for the decisive goal with 10 minutes to go.

Garnett insisted that the scoreboard made the final deceivingly close.

"We controlled them," said Garnett, whose club outshot the Black Knights 19-3. "We controlled the whole game. They just got a lucky goal early. We didn't mark up and they put one over (keeper) Ricky Bentley's head."

Davie's next two matches are at home: Sept. 9 against West Rowan and Sept. 14 against Northwest Cabarrus.

with Lyons) will seek time-consuming drives, getting three to five yards a pop and keeping the defense off the field.

"The offense is going to be patient," Newman said. "We're not going to try to gobble up yards. We're going to try to make the game short and try to get three and five yards per down. We don't have the speed to gobble up big yards."

The defense looked sharp and seems capable of keeping North in games, partly because new assistant David Boyles has advanced experience from playing small-college football in West Virginia.

"Our defense is ahead as far as our offense is concerned," Newman said, "because for one thing Boyles has done a good job. He's excellent with working with their technique. His skill and him translating that over here to the middle school, that's helped these kids a lot. Actually, that's part of why he's back there."

Some talent's back there as well, led by defensive backs Comarizer, Lyons and Simmons, linebacker Norsworthy, end Pane and tackle Jacob.

"They've all got good tackling skills," Newman said. "We've got some good defensive backs."

Players won't have the luxury of occasionally relaxing on the bench during games. There are only 19 players. "We are not deep and everybody's going to play both sides of the ball," Newman said. "... Cody Stephens and David Orsillo are solid tight ends. They have good blocking skills and good hands," Newman said. "... North anxiously awaited its opener at South Davie on Sept. 9. "We've been practicing it seems like for four or five weeks, and they are ready for their first game. They're ready to play," said Newman. "... Jason Boger and Darian Correll are also assistant coaches. ... South plays at Erwin on Sept. 17.

Wildcats Hope To Dominate

high-quality runners, but they'll be running in place if something happens to the linemen's fragile depth chart.

"Our biggest problem is going to be depth. Because with 24 kids, we don't have a half-dozen or so linemen," said Kirk, pointing to Trent Young, Kenny Craig, Justin Lanning, Armand Vonsiaty, Chris Riddle and Kevin Boger.

"We have ends and backs galore, the defensive secondary is not bad and we don't have a bad line. It's just that the big boys that we do have, it's going to be hard on them going both ways."

I think out of the 24 we've got, there's going to be close to 18 or 20 of them playing both ways."

Chris Hauser, Clint Stanley and Michael Dixon provide depth at running back and Colt Stanley and Nick Luffman are battling for starting quarterback. "We've got two good quarterbacks to choose from," Kirk said.

Before the injury bug bit North last year, the Wildcats held their first three opponents to an average of three points, dominance that could return to campus this year.

"We're going to be pretty strong (defensively)," Kirk said. "Our front eight—our ends, line and linebackers—are going to be hard to run against. The secondary is kind of small, but they're quick and we've got a little bit of speed back there."

Young, Raby, Craig and Brad Blackwelder are linemen; Dixon and Caleb Davis are ends; Colt Stanley, Boger, Goode and Matt Wilson are linebackers; and Sales, Josh Darnell, Luffman, Clint Stanley and Dustin Lawhorn are defensive backs.

North is seeking its first eighth-grade winning season. It finished 4-4 in 1994, when Thomas Hunter rushed for 1,129 yards, a school record since joining the FMS. ... North's teams are 21-51 over the past five years. ... North travels to South Davie on Sept. 9 and hosts Erwin on Sept. 16.

Kirk has a large staff, something he's lacked in recent years. Brent Wall and Brian Boger are helping Kirk and seventh-grade coach George Newman has three assistants, David Boyles, Jason Boger and Darian Correll. "One thing that's helped a lot this year is having more coaches. You've got seven running two teams instead of three running two teams. That makes it a lot easier," said Kirk, who laughed when asked where the help came from and what they were being paid. "They came out of the woodwork and I'm paying them no attention," he said, jokingly.

War Eagles Slip 4-1 To West Rowan

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

On the scoreboard, Davie's varsity soccer team trailed from start to finish in Wednesday's 4-1 loss at West Rowan.

But, on Coach Pete Gustafson's chalkboard, the War Eagles caught up. "They finally saw the light," he said. "Now they know what they're capable of, and you never know what somebody's capable of until you see it. I saw it and we expect it now."

After 40 minutes of one-on-the-world soccer—which led to turnovers, which led to a 3-0 deficit—the War

Eagles responded from the coach's forceful halftime lecture, constantly looking for the open man, dominating field position and tying West 1-1 over the final 40 minutes.

"We came out and, in my opinion, dominated," Gustafson said. "The ball was in our possession more than theirs, and that was our halftime talk. The name of the game in the second half was for everybody to touch the ball, make them run to the ball and let's basically play keep away."

"And within a minute, we scored. It was a clearly, totally different team," Jeremy Howell, suddenly the team's foremost scorer with veteran Eric Kofke serving a lengthy suspension for violating a school rule, scored his team-leading fourth goal to cut West's lead to 3-1. Later, the Falcons added a penalty kick.

If the War Eagles are to stop a losing trend—they're 1-3-2 in nonconference heading into this week—they must continue to share offensive glory and cut down on damaging turnovers. "After the game, they all said that they felt like they were a new team after that second half," Gustafson said, "and I'm really looking forward to see how that develops."

"Up to the second half of West Rowan, we're just killing ourselves. We're having to go 70-80 yard sprints from one end of the field to the other end of the field because we're turning it over so much. We didn't have the confidence to pass to a person and build it up like a fast break. We were too predictable."

In a coin-toss battle with North Davidson earlier in the week, Howell provided a 1-0 lead on an assist from Tim Kokoski but North's penalty kick forced the second tie between the evenly-matched teams.

"It could have been anybody's game as far as that's concerned," Gustafson said. "I thought the defense played pretty well."

If Howell keeps averaging nearly a goal a game, his days at midfielder could be numbered. Gustafson moved him to striker just in time to avoid a loss.

"Howell was playing midfield," he said. "We subbed him up to striker, and within five seconds he had a goal on a one-on-one."

Davie's low-voltage offense has managed just eight goals in six matches and four have come from Howell, a junior who seems to be playing the best soccer of his life.

"I've switched him around a little bit. I put him up on top some more," said Gustafson, who has been missing three starters (Garth Regan, J.R. McClamrock and Kofke) for sometime. "And he's very skilled, a very intelligent young man, and playing really well."

Keeper T.J. Potts and backups Chris Stein and Ricky Bentley, who are alternating between JV and varsity, have held varsity opponents to 13 goals, sufficient enough to win if the offense heats up. "Potts has stepped in there and done a great job," Gustafson said. "... Davie's next two matches are at home: Sept. 9 against West Rowan and Sept. 14 against Northwest Cabarrus.

War Eagles Lose Key Player

Davie's JV volleyball team lost a key player last week when Mary Beth Dinkins transferred to Mt. Tabor. Ontop of that, Coach Tammy Reavis promoted sophomore Sue Reichel to the varsity. Now it's back to the drawing board for Brunelli.

"We have our work cut out," said Brunelli, whose club beat Northwest Cabarrus 2-0 and lost 2-1 to North Davidson last week. "Reichel is probably going to play varsity the rest of the year, so I'm going to be with five freshmen and a couple sophomores. When you lose two key players like that, there's not much you can do about it." Losing two main guns opens the playing-time door for several players, particularly Mindy Seamon and Lyndsay Smith.

"Dinkins is a good player," Brunelli said. "She played middle litter and Sue played outside litter. We moved Seamon into the middle, and Smith is going to have to step in at outside litter. We'll do a lot more shuffling than we normally did, a lot of front-row, back-row situations. And I told them, this should make more playing time for the rest of the kids." Davie hit on all cylinders in a 15-13, 15-4 victory over Northwest, then ran into a buzz saw, losing to a tough North Davidson team.

"It was probably the best volleyball we've played as a team," Brunelli said of the win. "They played great team ball."

(North's) strong. They're probably one of the strongest teams in the area. We lost the momentum in game two, and it's tough to come back. I wish we had North one more time."

North Opens Season With Win

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Ian MacBryde erected a wall of defense around the goal, turning back several sizzling shots, and rated no better than second mention. That's how good Matt Moser was.

"Moser's going to be the key to our offense all year," North Davie soccer coach Dane Perry said of Moser, who scored two goals that carried North's soccer team to a 2-0 season-opening victory over High Point Wesleyan last week in Farmington.

"He's the center-midfielder and pretty much the center of the attack. If he's not scoring, he's going to be dishing them off. So he's going to be the focal point of the offense most of the year."

High Point had its share of high-percentage shots, but the stingy MacBryde slammed the door every time, allowing Moser's offense to be the difference.

"(MacBryde) had an excellent game," Perry said. "There were probably eight to 10 bullets in some rainy weather. That's not easy."

Last year, in Perry's first year, the Wildcats concocted a memorable run after finishing the regular season 9-3-1, winning Calvary's Fourth Annual Cougar Invitational Tournament.

Wildcats Claim Season Opener

North Davie's volleyball team opened the season with a victory over High Point Wesleyan.

The Wildcats blasted High Point 15-1 in game one, then squeaked out a 17-15 decision to seal the victory.

North isn't home again until Sept. 22, when Calvary visits Farmington.

Volleyball Team Wins Two, Shows Improvement

Leo Brunelli senses that something big is about to happen to Davie's varsity volleyball team.

He believes, on the doorstep of the Central Piedmont Conference race, a strong surge is imminent for the War Eagles, who rebounded from a tough, five-game loss to North Davidson by pouncing Northwest Cabarrus 3-1 and West Rowan 3-0.

"It looked like we're ready to jump in the conference," said Brunelli, the second-year junior varsity coach. "They played outstanding compared to the last couple (weeks)."

"If we tie some loose ends, the varsity is going to be in good shape." The War Eagles, who opened the league Tuesday at Reynolds, entertain South Stokes this Thursday at home.

If the victory over Northwest is any indication, the War Eagles—4-4 after dropping four of their first six—are peaking at the right time.

"The team played outstanding," Brunelli said. "I'm sure (varsity coach Tammy) Reavis was very pleased. We hit the ball, passed, everything. We played as close to a perfect game as you can."

Senior Dana Smith smashed some violent winners, while senior Natalie Foster continued her strong inside play. "Smith has really killed the ball," Brunelli said. "She really was smashing the ball straight down. Foster is playing well in the middle."

Reavis was out of town and unavailable for comment.

Lookabill Takes Prize In Football Contest

Jimmy Lookabill came through like Jeff Gordon, pulling away and winning the football contest with two games to spare.

The five games he missed looked like likely winners before kickoff: Wake Forest, Michigan, UNC, the Carolina Panthers and Washington. Lookabill can talk all day about how he should have won the big bonus, but he's settling for $25.

Eight players missed eight: Billy Hendrix Jr., Dillard Moody, Bryan Davis, Jimmy Moon, Nick Kistler, Maria Myers, Bryan Eagle and Julie Lookabill.

Stephen Jakeb, Tim Elmore, Bill White, Timothy Erb and Renee Jackson missed seven each, throwing the second-place $10 up in the air.

The Davie-North Irredell tie-breaker was 34 points, exactly what Jackson predicted. She takes the $10 after edging Megan and Jackson, who guessed 35.

Kenny Collins, Ricky White Lead Davie To First Win

Moments later, the War Eagles generated their finest drive yet. Collins triggered an eight-play, 58-yard march by cutting and spinning for runs of 19, 11 and 13 yards. White converted a fourth and one, churning 6 yards to the 3, where Wagstaff carried a tackler into the end zone with 11:03 left in the second. Collins' two-point conversion run pushed the lead to 15-0.

Hunt made an adjustment down close to the goal line that shut it off. So that was a good job on our defensive coaches' part.

Ridenhour, Kofke and fullback David Nail will miss three more games because they violated a school rule. . . . Davie beat North for the 18th time in 27 meetings (one tie). . . . Shoffner recovered two fumbles and offensive tackle Westley Melton had one. . . . Adam Boger had a sack that resulted in a 6-yard loss. . . . Collins nearly took a punt return all the way, going 47 yards. . . . Salisbury (0-3) comes to town Friday. The Hornets lead the all-time series 8-5.

North gained 198 yards in the second half, 156 on the ground, and tailback White torched the interior linemen seven times for 106 yards in the second half alone.

"You get a quarterback that rolls out and scrambles like that, that's the most dangerous play in football," Iling said. "Somebody got caught up chasing somebody across the middle, and we lost our backside support."

"They found a little weak spot in our defense and started utilizing it," Collins' 31-yard run made it 27-7 and the outcome remained in the blow-out category because North fumbled at the Davie 22 and threw an interception from the Davie 7.

Under pressure on third down, Dalton fired into the end zone and was picked off for the second time by Zeke Earle. The importance of that stop did not escape Iling.

"I was really wanting to shut the water off," Iling said. "I didn't want to let them stick it in there just for confidence. (Defensive coordinator David)

JV Team Working Hard After Big Loss

By Brian Pitts

Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie rolled up its sleeves and got busy after facing a varsity-like beast on the junior-varsity field.

Davie's JV team was hammered 28-0 on Aug. 27 by a superior West Forsyth team.

"I'd say that will be the best team we'll face all year," Coach Doug Iling said. "Mt. Tabor and Reynolds will put a lot of speed out there, but I'm not sure they'll have the size that West Forsyth's JVs have."

"I think our JVs see now what the competition's going to be like, how competitive it's going to be, and their work ethic in practice has risen a little bit and the expectations are a little bit higher of themselves to be able to be competitive and have a chance to win."

Iling said the blowout had infinitely more to do with West's highly-skilled players, who seemed to be playing on the wrong night. Varsity-caliber players usually suit up on Friday.

"It's a large freshmen class, the largest they've had," said Iling, estimating why such talent is being held down. "West was bigger than our varsity. They were big and very talented. I mean, they could challenge their varsity, they were that talented."

"But I thought our JVs did a great job keeping the score down. We hung tough."

Trailing 16-0 at the half, the War Eagles (1-0) had chances to make it a game, but fumbles ultimately prevented them from scoring.

"We did move it but we got down there and turned the ball over four times, which really hurts," Iling said. "We had some nice drives going, and then we'd turn it over just on a quarterback-running back exchange. We shot ourselves in the foot."

• Sophomore tailback Mike Arnold provided most of the rushing yardage, and freshman Danny Sullivan did the quarterbacking. "Mike really did a good job for us," said Iling. . . . Cassidy McMahan and Paul Roland played well defensively. "McMahan played out at linebacker and really did a good job for us," Iling said. "Roland had some nice hits at linebacker. . . ."

The raw offensive line showed progress last week in practice. "The line is starting to come along real good," Iling said of Tommy Lagle, Josh Walker, Chris Nichols, Adam Barber and Derrick Forbes. "They're a young bunch—a big young bunch—but they're getting a lot better." . . . Thursday's game at North Iredell was rained out and rescheduled for Sept. 7.

Davie Represented On College Football Scene

Davie High is being well-represented on the college-football scene.

Deryl Wilson and Jonathon Vaughners, two 1995 graduates, are starting on Winston-Salem State's defense and Neil Conzatter, a 1996 grad, made a rousing fullback debut in Saturday's 28-19 win over Liberty, rushing for 89 yards on 14 carries, a 6.4 average.

Conzatter had never taken a high school or college handoff before last weekend. "I was really pleased with Neil," Coach Jerry Moore said. "I thought he played exceptionally well."

Three Players Step Up To Starting Roles In Midst Of Trying Times

The Davie War Eagles arrived in Mooreville with visions of playoff footballs dancing in their heads, but the secondary demonstrated a curious inability to cover receivers, the offense disintegrated and the War Eagles got knocked between the eyes 27-3.

Brian Pitts

Then three main cogs misbehaved and were banished from the lineup for four games, opening the window of unexpected opportunity for quarterback Michael Burton, fullback Neil Wagstaff and kicker David Woodridge, three wide-eyed players that had never thrown, ran or kicked a ball in a varsity game before Friday's 27-7 win over North Iredell.

After a winding journey through the foggy maze, Burton, a five-year backup to Drew Ridenhour, finally reached the destination of starter. "It's just an opportunity that I needed," he said. "I didn't want to get the opportunity that way, but it was an opportunity that came up and I had to step up."

Bulldogs in the fourth and fifth grade, underwent a hernia operation at the beginning of the next season and found his return to the spotlight blocked by the rocket-armed Ridenhour, who held the job until last week.

Changing positions seemed like the logical move, since both QBs are in the same class, but Burton kept working and waiting for his chance.

"Quarterback was what I wanted to do," he said. "I was kind of disappointed because I was second string. It made me mad a little bit, but what could I do? I just kept working at it."

As the understudy on the JV in 1996 and this season, Burton masked his feelings and supported Ridenhour, who broke the single-season school record for passing yardage (1,000-plus) and touchdowns (13) last season.

"Me and Drew have been the best of friends since kindergarten, first grade," Burton said. "I mean, if he's happy, I'm happy." In the glow of victory, Burton could joke about his mistakes on a 2-for-7 night. He threw a 4-yard TD pass to J.J. Rice, but he dwelled on the overthrows. "I guess it was getting a little carried away and getting rushed," he said. "I should have settled down and sat in the pocket a little more instead of rushing it. I was trying to put the ball where it shouldn't have been put."

Davie's early spark came from an unlikely source, Wagstaff, a senior who has broken through as the main fullback in his first year. He provided assertive bulk, converting two fourth downs and scoring the touchdown that put Davie ahead 15-0.

Wagstaff shrugged. "I just came out here to have fun," he said after supplying 30 yards on seven totes. "My hope was to be an asset to the team, and that's what I'm striving for. I'm just trying to have some fun my senior year."

Coach Doug Illing's eyes have followed Wagstaff's rapid acclimation. "He's got to be the biggest surprise that we've seen," he said. "Boy, it's a shame not to be able to have him for three years."

Casual fans needed a program to confirm little No. 8's existence amid the swarming orange horde. When Rice scored the first touchdown of the season, out trotted Woodridge, the freshman kicker who almost came down with ulcers during the nervous hours.

"At first, I was like I really don't want to do this," said Woodridge, who made his first PAT. "I was like sick in the stomach, but I figured out that it wasn't as hard as I thought. I think it's a good experience for next year." In the wake of the unfortunate suspensions in week one, Illing held a team session and talked about fighting back together and overcoming life's bumps.

"It was a tough week for us as a family," he said. "You know, things happen and how you adjust and how you handle adversity is character that you'll develop as a team. And I think we developed a lot of character this week. We talked about family and how families are going to endure some adversity throughout life. The important thing is that we pull together as a family and not point fingers, but to come together as a steel chain and each link be very strong and stay together. We've taken the job on as coaches to teach them right and wrong, to teach them discipline, to teach them character, and we've grown a lot this week."

The desperate players turned up the practice volume, tightened some secondary and O-line screws and wiped the horrid opener out of their mind. "We had a good week of practice," offensive tackle Wesley Melton said. "The defense's intensity was real high this week. I mean, we were going at each other the whole week. Those were probably some of the best practices we've had all year."

The win reminded defensive tackle Forrest Breedlove of the good old days of 1996-97, when Davie thrived on emotion and camaraderie. "This helps us a lot," he said. "The morale was kind of low coming into this game, and I feel that it's tripled since this. We're really pulling together because we're missing a couple key guys, and that just puts more on team unity instead of superstars."

After a week that seemed longer than the Hundred Years War, Illing could finally relax. He soaked up his first victory as a head coach and sighed. "This was a big win for the program because of the timing," he said. "We're tremendously better. I mean, mentally I think we're a lot stronger. We're starting to really come together. So I'm looking for great strides next week."

After intercepting two passes, Zeko Earle announced that he's out to shatter Scott Comaraz's school record of 10 INTs. "We had a shot to put our goals, my goal was 13 interceptions, and I'm working on it," he said. "I just want to go out there and make a name for myself and make a name for Davie High." North Davie seventh-grade football coach George Newman has a big ... Ryan Proctor," Newman said. "He's every bit of maybe 5-3 and maybe 90 pounds wet, but the kid is probably one of the peakiest players around. He just continuously strives to get better day after day. He creates a lot of problems for anybody on the offensive line because of his short stature. But he's so quick off the ball." If Davie's soccer team is going to reach its goal, it must start finding some goals. An average of 1.3 goals a match won't cut it. "When you look at it - one goal here, one goal here, two goals here, one goal here - you can see the trend," Coach Pete Gustafson said. "We're only scoring a goal a game. Northwest Stuns Davie In Tennis Rematch

The War Eagles, buried 6-0 in singles and dropped to 4-3 on the year, got their only wins in doubles, where No. 3 Kristen Powell-Molly Koonz dominated 6-1, 6-0 and No. 2 Sarah Stein-Nancy Vogler rolled 6-1, 6-4. Powell, seeing her first action since last season, and Koonz, who returned from the inactive list just a week earlier, performed beautifully. They nailed down winners with a dancer's timing and October smoothness. "They looked really good," Cozart said. "They were impressive looking, they really were. When you see really good doubles, it's pretty in terms of moving on the court. When they know the shots to hit, it's really pretty." Molly and Kristen will make a formidable doubles team if we can keep them together and healthy enough. Cozart, who drove a quiet bus home, urged the girls to look ahead instead of dwelling on the disappointment. They better because conference heavyweights Mt. Tabor and Reynolds awaited Davie's arrival this week in the Central Piedmont Conference's opening serves. "The match is gone now," she said. "We can't change the score, all we can do is benefit from it and see why in the world we went down and let that team do that to us." Meredith Harris nearly pulled off a miraculous comeback, turning a 4-1 deficit into a tie score only to lose 8-6 in the tie-breaker. ... Powell's back tightened after the match, evidence that she'll not be able to withstand singles and doubles matches in the same afternoon, and Koonz will also concentrate entirely on doubles. "Molly is actually No. 5 on the challenge ladder, but it's difficult for her to play singles and doubles," Cozart said. ... Last week's match with North Davidson was rained out and will be made up Sept. 24 at Davie.

Working With Watercolor Local Artists Find Painting Rewarding And Relaxing

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Watercolor can be a tricky medium. The shades of light are hard to capture, and once the artist puts the paint to the paper, it's soon dry. There's no room for mistakes, only chances to turn the mistakes into part of the art.

So why would an artist choose to paint in watercolor? "Because it's rewarding, and relaxing, and enjoyable," said Faye Self and Sue Boggs. "I just go in here and paint," she said of her makeshift studio on the second floor of the home she shares with her husband, George. "Even if I end up tearing it up, it's very relaxing."

Self gets her ideas for subjects from looking at a flower, or from seeing something in real life, or in a book or magazine. Her favorite work is a magnolia blossom, just as was on a tree in her family's yard. She's trying painting with acrylic, and oil, but prefers watercolor. "I keep going back to watercolor. It's difficult, because once you put something down, it's hard to change it." Paintings can take from a few hours to weeks to complete, she said. Having her work on exhibit is exciting, although it has the chance to be ego-bruising, she said. Boggs, who paints in a studio overlooking the back yard of her Dulin Road home, is also a lifelong artist who took a hiatus from painting to raise her family. In the few years, she's been helping her husband with his construction business. And she's been painting.

"When I hit 40, I realized I'm not getting any younger. If you're going to go anywhere with this, now is the time," Boggs said.

She had gotten hooked on art through a high school teacher, and in more recent years taken classes at the Sawtooth Center in Winston-Salem. Bonnie Rhoades-Williams, founder of The Art Group, asked her to participate in the show at The Brock.

"I really haven't tried to promote my art," Boggs said. "But I've developed to the point that I feel fairly comfortable with allowing it to be seen."

Her favorite painting is one of clothespins on a line, hanging between two posts of the front porch of a beach house. The idea came from a trip to the beach with her family. Everything was perfect that week. The title: "Hanging On."

That, and a few other pieces, are done by spraying the paint onto the paper with quick puffs of air blown into the brush. She isn't afraid to try other new techniques, either. Boggs also paints by splattering the paint on the paper, and then studying it to find the subject, and work from there.

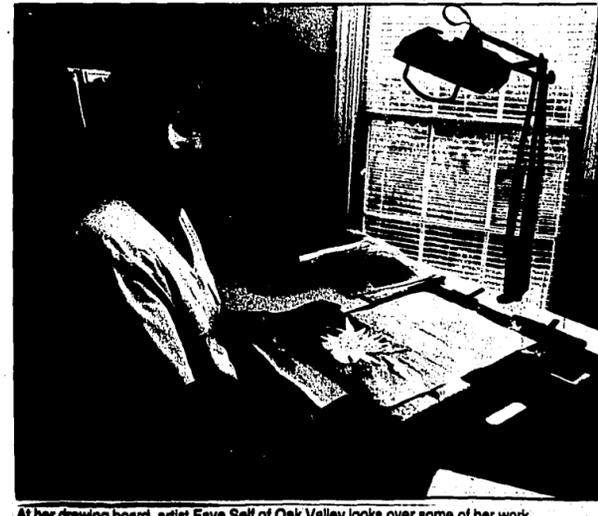

Starting with splattered paint, local artist Sue Boggs created this experimental piece of art.

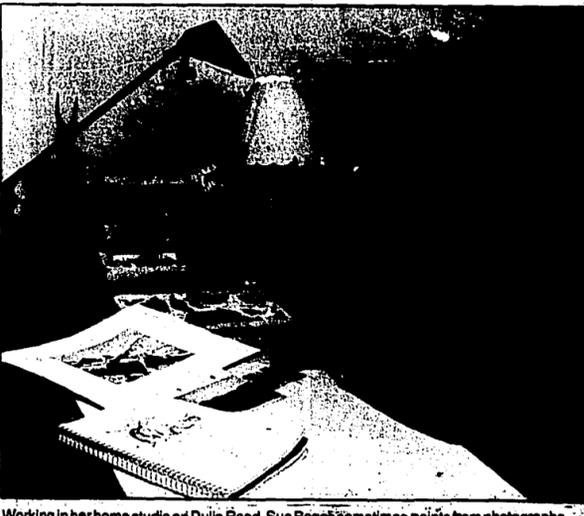

Faye Self looks at her favorite painting she did based on the magnolia tree in the yard where she grew up.

Marks-Ferguson Couple Wed In Annapolis

Erin Lowry Marks of Arlington, Va., and Lt. Kenneth Lee Ferguson, U.S. Navy of Rota, Spain, were united in marriage at 4 p.m. Saturday, May 30 at the United States Naval Academy Chapel in Annapolis, Md.

The bride is the daughter of Ceane Tierney Marks and the late John Allan Marks of Arlington, Va. She is the granddaughter of Florence Duggan Tierney and the late Dr. Gerald Miles Tierney of Arlington, Va., and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Powell Marks. The bride is a 1990 graduate of Georgetown Visitation Preparatory School in Washington, D.C., and earned a bachelor's degree in poultry science in 1994 and a master's degree in poultry nutrition in 1996 from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ferguson of Advance. He is the grandson of Annie Dorsett and the late Lester Dorsett of Asheboro, and of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ferguson of Millers Creek. The groom is a 1989 graduate of North Carolina School of Science and Math, and earned a bachelor's degree in physics from the United States Naval Academy in 1993.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Joseph W. Marks of Arlington, Va., the bride wore an on-the-shoulder short sleeved gown of white Irish linen. The low scooped front neckline and Basque waistline were adorned with Venetian lace appliques in the shape of hydrangeas. The full skirt and chapel length train were decorated with matching lace.

She carried a bouquet of blue hydrangea, white and oceania roses and pink lisianthus.

The bride chose Melanie Dean of Arlington, Va., to be her maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Elizabeth Sheridan of Fairfax, Va., Marsha Wells of Hampton, Va., and Melanie Marks (cousin of the bride) of Arlington, Va. The groom chose his father to be his best man. Groomsmen were Jeffrey Ferguson (brother of the groom) of Advance, John A. Marks, Jr. (brother of the bride) of Arlington, Va., and Chip Stovall of Wauwatosa, Wis.

Daniel Sweet, of Falls Church, Va., college friend of the bride, read the Old Testament passage. John A. Marks Jr. read the responsorial Psalm. Karla Guerra, of Washington, D.C., high school friend of the bride, read the New Testament passage. The Gospel was read and a homily given by Father Mark Gruber, OSB, friend of the bride. Father Mark Wenzinger, OSB, friend of the bride and her family witnessed the sacrament of marriage.

Following the ceremony, the bride's mother hosted a dinner reception at Loews Annapolis Hotel in Annapolis, Md.

After a honeymoon cruise to the Amalfi Coast of Italy, the couple will be at home in Rota, Spain.

Handy Participates In Naval Exercise

Navy Fireman Larry W. Handy, son of Gary and Laura Patridge of 148 Valley Oaks Drive, Advance, recently participated in a multinational exercise while on a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea and Arabian Gulf aboard the destroyer USS Stump.

Handy participated in Sharem 125, seven-day exercise held in the central Mediterranean Sea. Sharem is a Chief of Naval Operations program established in 1969 to improve the quality of undersea warfare.

Specifically, operations were conducted to test and evaluate undersea warfare tactics, weapons, sensors and procedures. In addition to Handy's ship, 10 ships and 30 aircraft from Canada, Great Britain, Greece, Italy, Spain and the U.S. participated.

In addition to the exercise, Handy and fellow crew members participated in a community relations project, during a port visit to Palma de Mallorca, Spain. Sailors from USS Stump cleaned and painted a local orphanage, and afterwards they hosted daily tours of the ship for the local community.

Destroyers, like Handy's ship, have traditionally been the workhorses of the U.S. Navy, defending battle groups against threats from air, land, above and below the sea. Equipped with Tomahawk cruise missiles, Harpoon anti-ship missiles and Sea Sparrow Missiles, USS Stump is capable of hitting enemy targets hundreds of miles away.

The 1997 graduate of Davie High School joined the Navy in July 1997.

Fork Fifty Plus Club Plays Coverall Bingo

By Margaret Potts
Club Reporter

Fork Fifty Plus Club met Aug. 26 with 21 members and six visitors.

P. M. Johnson returned thanks before a meal at 11:30. The president called the meeting to order and Oneida Merrill had charge of devotions, reading from Proverbs 4:25. Oneida and Bill Merrill sang a duet, "Eye Upon the Sparrow."

The secretary checked the roll and read minutes of the last meeting. Maxine Caudle gave the sunshine report. Sis Jarvis gave the treasurer's report. Door prizes were won by Sis Jarvis and Bill Gobbie. Ruth Barney's name was drawn to bring next month's coverall bingo prize.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to Treva Spillman, Ruth Barney, P. M. Johnson, Ivy Young, Jean Bailey, and Kemp Barnhardt.

Members played the coverall bingo, with Oneida Merrill the winner. Margaret Potts read the information about happenings at the Brock Center. Entertainment was provided by Shirley and Carl Whicker.

Youth To Present Play

The musical play "Living on the Edge" will be presented by the Sandy Spring Singers and Youth on Sunday night, Sept. 13, at 7 p.m.

The play tells the story of a group of high school students who decide to try to do what Jesus would do for one week. Oliver Grigsby, one of the students, has to choose between his promise to God and trying to avoid a physical confrontation with Jack Pendleton, the school bully.

The musical features songs by contemporary Christian composer Michael W. Smith, including "I Will Be Here for You."

For more information, call Devin Biechler at 751-4199.

Wesley Chapel UMW met in the fellowship hall last Wednesday with Louise Dill as hostess. President Dewilla Smith presided. Kathy Ellis had the program on Brazilian children using 1 Kings 3:16-26. Eight members were present.

There will be a meeting of the administrative council at Wesley Chapel on Sunday, Sept. 27 at noon. At 11:30, immediately following Sunday School, there will be a covered dish lunch.

The guest registrar was kept by Lisa Thurlow, cousin of the bride.

The wedding was directed by Velma Burton, aunt of the bride.

Acolytes were mothers of the couple. A single candle was lit during the ceremony in memory of the bride's grandmother, Mary E. Nothstine.

The 7 p.m. ceremony was followed by a reception on the lawn. Reception attendant was Melissa Long. Servers were Alicia Crots and Pat Ward. The wedding cake was designed and created by Margie Burton, aunt of the bride.

Following the reception the couple stayed at the Manor House Bed and Breakfast in Tanglewood.

A bridal party was held on Aug. 22, hosted by Doris Barnes and Jane Stanley, aunts of the bride.

Of North Carolina's Seven Accredited Sleep Programs, Our Medical Director Started Three Of Them.

In addition to the Sleep Medicine Center of Salisbury, Dr. Dennis Hill was also instrumental in starting two other accredited sleep centers in North Carolina.

The level of experience he brings to the Sleep Medicine Center of Salisbury simply cannot be matched anywhere else.

Doctors have discovered at least 84 different sleeping disorders. These include:

- problems falling or staying asleep,
- difficulties staying awake,
- adhering to a consistent sleep/wake schedule, loud snoring, sleepwalking and talking,
- bed-wetting, nightmares, Restless Legs Syndrome, and others.

At the Sleep Medicine Center of Salisbury at Rowan Regional Medical Center, we treat all of these disorders and more.

So if you have a problem sleeping, call us for an appointment. Because the only good reason to stay up all night is because you want to.

We're One Of Only Seven Accredited Sleep Programs In The State.

Accreditation by the American Sleep Disorders Association means you can come to us to see board-certified specialists knowledgeable in the latest sleep medicine techniques. It means that you can count on state-of-the-art equipment and that meticulous attention is paid to safety, comfort and treatment efficiency.

But even with all this, there's still one other distinct advantage the Sleep Medicine Center of Salisbury offers: Dr. Dennis Hill, one of the premier sleep medicine specialists in this part of the country, is our Medical Director.

We welcomed "Skip" and Pat Carpenter as new members to the Methodist Church Sunday.

David and Carol Folmar and children, Bailey, Paul III, and Page Elizabeth Folmar of Kernersville, were weekend visitors of their parents Paul and Sue Folmar on Baltimore Road and Brack and Judy Bailey of Clemmons. The Folmar family were visitors at church. Another visitor was Janna Watson of Purlear who was with her mother, Mary Nell Jones.

Christine Palladino of Norristown, Pa., and her fiancé, Mark Dylinski, also from Pennsylvania, were weekend guests of Brent and Carolyn Shoaf and attended church Sunday with the Shoafs. Arthur and Christine were close friends who grew up together in Norristown.

Naylor Vogler celebrated his 79th birthday Friday, Sept. 4. His children treated him to an out-of-town dinner Friday night. Florence Sides also celebrated her birthday Sept. 4. Her sister and niece took her out to lunch in Clemmons Friday. Symphathy is expressed to Maybelle Orrell and R. J. Markland in the death of their sister, Lillian Markland Kooztz.

Betty "Gray" Potts is recuperating from her recent heart attack and was able to attend church Sunday for worship service.

Tori Bolding celebrated her 17th birthday Friday, Sept. 4. She was given a party Friday night at her parents' home with the Rev. and Mrs. Dennis Marshall and many friends attending. Margie Patton of Morganton was a Sunday visitor of her daughter and son-in-law, LaRue and Rev. Dennis Marshall. She attended church services.

Edith Zimmerman, Ruth Collette, and Mahala West attended a family gathering of Eugene and Bess Bennett Sunday afternoon at 5 p.m. They met at the home of Cynthia Bennett Summers in Mocksville. Among the 19 people enjoying the cook-out and all the trimmings, were the Bennetts' three children, 5 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren. Many family pictures were made during the evening, both video and still shots.

Advance VFW Scholarship Contest Beginning

Commander Norman L. Carlton of VFW Post 8719, Advance, announced the start of this year's Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary "Voice of Democracy Scholarship Contest."

Students in this area have the opportunity to compete in the 52nd annual audio essay contest and win scholarships and awards. According to the local VFW Post commander, the students can earn much more than just scholarships and awards when they participate in "Voice of Democracy."

Additional benefits for students include: increased self-confidence and poise, experience in polishing communication skills, and the opportunity for self-expression. Students that advance to become their state's first place winner are given the opportunity to expand their knowledge of our nation's capital city during a full five-day tour of Washington, D.C., plus the chance to meet and befriend students from every state.

During the many years that the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary have been involved with Voice of Democracy, more than 7 million high school students have participated. Interested students need only write and then record a three to five minute audio essay while expressing their view of the patriotic theme "My Service to America." All state winners receive at least a $1,000 National Scholarship... but could win the $20,000 first place award. A total of $128,500 in National Scholarships are awarded to student national finalists. The deadline date for student entry is November 1, 1998.

"Young people who participate in the contest benefit by gaining a better understanding of their country, their freedoms and their obligation to America," Carlton said.

Watercolor Paintings On Exhibit

"One of the things I really try to do in watercolor is try to capture the light. That's the thing watercolor is all about. You get that glow back from the paper you don't get with oil or acrylics."

Boggs gets her subjects from life experiences. She's painted scenes from trips West or to tropical islands, and from simple doors to buildings in downtown Mocksville and another with the flowers in a planter downtown.

"There's so much to learn," Boggs said. "Right now, I'm just enjoying it so much. It makes me happy. Just working with the different pigments, how they interact, it's interesting. I would like to be able to develop it to the point where I sell some pieces."

"I thought that if I started now, maybe by the time I'm 80, I'll be good at it," Boggs said.

Sue Boggs used a new technique to create this watercolor called "Hanging On."

Teachers Getting Reading Room

Davie High School's PTSA has allotted $5,000 to create a reading room for teachers.

"It will be a place for teachers to sit and read in the few spare moments they have," said Donna Lamonds, PTSA President. The room will be a portion of the existing library set aside for faculty use only, overlooking the school's memorial garden.

"The room will be a place for teachers to keep up on periodicals and other reading materials. It will actually be education for them," said Lamonds.

Youth Revival To Be Held

A youth revival will be held at Boxwood Baptist Church Wednesday-Friday nights at 7:30.

Minister Marcus J. Barber, associate pastor of Holiness Church of God in Statesville, will be the guest speaker.

Barber graduated from West Rowan High School and was issued a license to preach the gospel on Sept. 14, 1996, from Bishop Woodrow Turner, overseer of the Holiness Church of God.

He also holds a diploma in business management and business administration from Davidson County Community College.

"We are in the process of getting professional publications so teachers can catch up on the newest teaching methods and current issues," said Principal Linda Bost.

Bost said the area will be furnished with a couch, a few lamps, and chairs. Lamonds said the $5,000 is a starting point. The PTSA hopes to receive donations of a coffee table, a couch, a few lamps and wing backed chairs for the room.

"Students will not be allowed to sit on the couch or chairs. It's just not a place for them," said Bost.

"The PTSA has always taken real care of us. The room will give us a more pleasant place to grade papers. A few plants would be a nice touch," said Betsy Ramsbotham, teacher.

"It will provide a positively quiet and refreshing setting to read, study and prepare lessons," said Gayle Windley, who teaches at Davie High.

Bost hopes the reading area will be finished by spring. "The sooner, the better," she said.

Dry Summer Creates Brilliant Fall Colors

CULLOWHEE -- Leaf-lookers headed to the mountains of Western North Carolina this autumn should be treated to some of the most brilliant fall colors seen in the past few years, thanks in part to a hot, dry summer.

That's the word from Western Carolina University biology professor J. Dan Pittillo, a specialist in Appalachian plant ecology, who has become one of the Southeast's most sought-after sources for expert opinion on the intensity and quality of the coming fall color season in WNC.

Pittillo bases his prediction on a variety of factors, including the amount of rainfall received during the warm-weather months. The best color is typically seen after summers with below-average rainfall, when plant growth is stunted by a lack of sufficient water, Pittillo said.

"Although we had heavy rains in late winter and early spring, we've experienced very low rainfall this summer. That means a general reduced growth during the summer and subsequent improved leaf color," he said.

"By late August, many locations have been reporting very low rainfall and hot weather during the month. If this pattern continues through the month of September, we should see brighter colors this year than last year."

The biological process that results in the brightly colored foliage of fall is already at work. Cooler night temperatures and the change in intensity of sunlight as summer gives way to autumn combine to induce the decomposition of chlorophyll, the chemical that gives leaves their green color in spring and summer. As chlorophyll breaks down, other pigments -- always present in the foliage but masked by the green of chlorophyll -- are revealed. In fact, in areas with shallow soils, especially near rock outcroppings, there are some plants already turning color, sometimes brown, Pittillo said.

The fall color season typically begins in the WNC mountains in late September at higher elevations and lingers as late as Thanksgiving in the lower elevations and foothills. Some of the earliest species to change color are the birches, quickly followed by mountain ash, serviceberry, mountain maples, sugar maples, red maples, and, finally, beeches and northern red oak, he said.

The most common question asked by leaf-lookers is, "When can we expect 'peak color'?" Well, that's a difficult call to make, Pittillo said.

"The second week of October typically is the more colorful period, but early light frost will result in good color by the first week of October," he said. "On the other hand, a deep freeze (below 25 degrees Fahrenheit) or continued lack of any rain could produce poor color."

Pittillo suggests leaf-lookers venture along the many trails crisscrossing the region for a close-up viewing experience. "Western North Carolina is blessed with one of the highest diversities of flowering plants of any deciduous forest in the world," he said. "For this reason, we have a patchwork of colors, rather than the extensive masses that characterize western states' mountains. A path that follows the borders of forests, through meadows, along stream banks, and near rock outcroppings provides the greatest diversity."

And, Pittillo says, don't overlook the shrubs -- including sumac, spice-bush and blueberry bush -- and fall wildflowers, such as the goldenrod of high meadows, the azure or sapphire blue gentian of the grassy balds, the deep royal blue of the monkshood in shady spots, and the bright blue lobelia, scarlet cardinal flowers and royal purple ironweed along lower-elevation streams.

Pittillo's top viewing suggestions include the always-popular Blue Ridge Parkway; the nearly completed Mountain-to-Sea-Trail, now extending from Balsam Gap west of Waynesville to the Winston-Salem region; the Bartram Trail, near Highlands; the numerous trails of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park; the Appalachian Trail from Standing Indian Mountain at the Georgia line north to the Mount Rogers area in Virginia; and the Pisgah and Nantahala national forests.

Horse Liniment Eases Arthritis Pains
OCALA, FL -- An ingredient derived from hot peppers that decreases inflammation in racehorses' legs, is now recognized as safe and effective for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx and comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips Gulf Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more. Although the mechanism by which ARTH-Rx works to relieve pain is not totally clear, scientists suggest that pain is relieved because ARTH-Rx intercepts the messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain. ARTH-Rx is available in a convenient roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, due to the overwhelming demand for ARTH-Rx, supplies are sometimes limited. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8446. © 1997 NCC

In the room of her Coolseemee home where she has done most of her work, costume designer Randi Harris reaches for a pattern as re-enactment participants Meg Boswell and Daniel Barney watch. — Photos by Robin Fergusson

Mother and daughter Meg and Ashley Boswell will portray Maggie Gobble and daughter Margaret Gobble in 1922.

Harris makes the finishing touches to one of the costumes she created for Coolseemee's Centennial Celebration.

Historical Characters Coming To Life

By Jeanne Galther
Davie County Enterprise Record

History will come to life at Coolseemee's centennial celebration Sept. 26, as some of the town's best known characters share their stories about the good old days. Those attending the celebration may learn what it was like to teach the children of Coolseemee in 1922 from school mistress Rosa Tatum or wonder at how the practice of medicine has changed since Doc Byerly made house calls in 1924.

For that day a small group made up of children and adults will take on the roles of their ancestors. "We will greet people that day as if we are those people," explained Meg Boswell.

Boswell will portray her great grandmother Maggie Gobble in 1922.

Maggie's husband A.B., who will be played by Meg's husband Gary, worked in the office at the textile mill.

"Our roots are very important," she said. Having lost all her ancestors, Boswell said it is important to her to keep the older generation and the Coolseemee community alive. After living away from the town where she grew up for 22 years, Boswell said she moved from Richmond, Va. with her family about a year ago to get back to the lifestyle they have in Coolseemee.

The historical re-enactment will be a family affair for the Boswells. Meg's 12-year-old daughter Ashley will play her great aunt Margaret Gobble, who was 12 in 1922. Her son Shane will portray her grandfather Hubert Eaton, who was a billing clerk at the mill in 1924.

Most of the participants in the project are playing their own ancestors, according to Randi Harris, who is making most of the costumes for them. One of the greatest challenges will be making Christy Taylor, 12, look the part of Eliza Harris Taylor, the 55-year-old mother of 11, Harris said.

Daniel Barney will portray his grandfather Fuzzy Foster, who worked at the mill, as a boy in 1920. He plans to wear shoes that his family has kept from that era. School mistress Rosa Tatum will be played by Jamie Durham. Lynn Rurnley will portray Rosa's mother. Other participants are Danielle O'Neal, Courtney Gibson, Bryson Brown and Todd Ellis. O'Neal will play her grandmother Lezora Williams as a 14-year-old in 1920. Williams was a spinner at the mill. Also playing an ancestor, Gibson will be mill worker Lula Creed as a 14-year-old in 1900.

She was able to find several companies that offer period patterns on which she could base several of her designs and was able to make two costumes by altering dresses bought at consignment shops, Harris explained.

She is making a vest to look like the one worn by Doc Byerly, which can be seen at the Zachary House. All of the costumes have been sewn on her 1910 Singer treadle sewing machine, she added.

Harris, who studied costuming at the School of the Arts, has lived in Coolseemee about four years. She said she was happy to have been asked to make the costumes for the centennial celebration. For those who want to get a sneak preview, the actors will appear in costume at a community church service to be held on the grounds of the Zachary House Sunday, Sept. 20, and at a dedication of the mural, which has been painted on a wall at the mill as part of the centennial celebration, Friday, Sept. 25.

They will also visit Coolseemee Elementary School and South Davie Middle School to share a bit of their town's history with students.

New Doctor's Office Opened In Mocksville

Davie County got a new doctor when Piedmont HealthCare opened an office on Wilkesboro Street in Mocksville recently.

Specializing in internal medicine, Dr. Melissa Champe-Seagle, 29, is a graduate of Wake Forest, Bowman Gray School of Medicine and completed her residency at N.C. Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem. A resident of Advance for the past four years, Seagle said she urged Piedmont HealthCare to let her stay in the area.

"Living in Oak Valley with her husband, Scott, both originally from Hudson, and their 4-month-old daughter Madeline, she said Davie County has become home to them.

"We've thought the people here are so nice. They've welcomed us," she said. So far she has only seen a few patients, but she's confident that number will grow as the news gets out about Mocksville's newest doctor.

Seagle will see patients of any age but prefers for children to have a pediatrician. An internist typically sees patients starting at about age 14, she explained.

The concentration of her training was in the diagnosis and treatment of diabetes, hypertension, high cholesterol, thyroid problems and heart and lung disease as well as preventive medicine by performing pap and pelvic exams and screening for breast, colon and prostate cancer, Seagle said.

Piedmont HealthCare's Mocksville Internal Medicine office is located beside Dr. Ronald Gantt's office on Wilkesboro Street and is open 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Monday - Thursday and 8 a.m. - noon on Friday. Medicaid, Medicare, worker's compensation are accepted, and walk-in patients are welcome.

"We don't turn anyone away," Seagle said, "even if they don't have insurance."

The Mocksville office will admit patients to Davie County Hospital or in Iredell County - Iredell Memorial Hospital, Columbia Davis Hospital of Lake Norman Regional Medical Center.

The doctor is assisted at the Mocksville office by Mary Rhyne, office manager, and registered nurse Tammy Beck. Seagle said she is looking forward to seeing more patients. She has always wanted to practice medicine in a small community where she would have a chance to better know her patients and their families, she said.

Mocks Bazaar Saturday

A bazaar complete with gospel music, two meals and auction is planned for Saturday, Sept. 12 at Mocks Methodist Church, off N.C. 801 South in Advance.

A country ham, tenderloin, sausage and gravy, egg, grits and biscuit breakfast will be held from 7-10 a.m., with hamburgers, hotdogs, french fries, pinto beans, break, and fried pies for lunch from 11 a.m.-1 p.m.

Gospel music will start at 11 a.m., and an auction will begin at 1 p.m.

Beginning at 9 a.m., a yard sale which also will feature crafts, Beanie Babies, produce, bake sale and household items, will be held. Children's games will also begin at 9 a.m.

Proceeds will go toward the purchase of a new organ for the church. For more information, call 998-5518 or 998-4407.

DHS Soccer Player Arrested

Davie High soccer player arrested for marijuana possession will join three football players on the sidelines for four weeks.

The soccer player was arrested by the Davie County Sheriff's Department on Fairfield Road at 1:28 p.m. Sept. 2. Deputy W.L. Whitesides found a baggie of marijuana.

Crimestoppers Reward Offered

Davie Crimestoppers is offering a cash reward for information leading to the arrest of Yusuf "Yo Yo" Handy, who is wanted for skipping bail.

That makes the second soccer player lost to disciplinary reasons. One of the football players disciplined last week also played soccer.

Armed Robber Holds Up Store

The Davie County Sheriff's Department is seeking information that might lead to the arrest of the man responsible for the armed robbery of a local convenience store last week.

He ordered the only customer in the store at the time to the rear of the store and told the cashier to empty the cash drawer. He fled on foot.

Which of These Costly Homeseller Mistakes Will You Make When You Sell Your Home?

Winston-Salem - A new report has just been released which reveals 7 costly mistakes that most homeowners make when selling their home, and a 9 Step System that can help you sell your home fast and for the most amount of money.

In answer to this issue, industry insiders have prepared a free special report entitled "The 9 Step System to Get Your Home Sold Fast and For Top Dollar".

As this report uncovers, most homeowners make 7 deadly mistakes that cost them literally thousands of dollars. The good news is that each and every one of these mistakes is entirely preventable.

To hear a brief recorded message about how to order your free copy of this report, call 1-888-858-2095 and enter ID# 530. You can call anytime, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

This industry report shows clearly how the traditional ways of selling homes have become increasingly less and less effective in today's market. The fact of the matter is that fully three quarters of homesellers don't get what they want for their home and become disillusioned and - worse - financially disadvantaged when they put their home on the market.

Call NOW to find out how you can get the most money for your home.

Notice To Public Of No Significant Impact On The Environment

Town of Mocksville

171 Clement Street
Mocksville, NORTH CAROLINA 27028-2335
PHONE: 336-751-2252

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS AND PERSONS:

The above named Town proposes to request the North Carolina Department of Commerce to release Federal funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (PL 93-383) for the following project:

Town of Mocksville CDBG Economic Development Project

Project Description:

- 2,555 lf of 8" sewer line
- Upgrade of sewer pump station
- 1,180 lf of gravel access road to Sewer Pump Station
- 1,475 lf of 12" waer line

Total Project Cost $430,000 Total CDBG Cost $320,000. CDBG/Total Percent 74.4%. Project Location: Town of Mocksville, North Carolina.

Finding of No Significant Impact

It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and accordingly the above named Town has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environment Policy Act of 1969 (PL 91-190). The reasons for such decision not to prepare such Statement are as follows:

- No adverse effects are anticipated beyond the short-term construction noise and dust.
- The proposed project is not located in a flood plain and does not involve wetlands.
- The proposed project will have no detrimental effects on air or water quality and will cause no adverse effects on natural, ecological, cultural or scenic resources.
- No environmentally sensitive areas are involved.

An Environmental Review Record respecting the within project has been made by the above named Town which documents the environmental review of the project and more fully sets forth the reasons why such Statement is not required. This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying upon request at the Mocksville Town Hall between the hours of 8:00 AM and 5:00 PM.

No further environmental review of such project is proposed to be conducted prior to the request for release of Federal funds.

Public Comments on Finding

All interested agencies, groups and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the Town to the address specified on or before September 25, 1998. All such comments so received will be considered and the Town will not request the release of Federal funds or take any administrative action on the within project prior to the date specified in the preceding sentence.

Bogus $50 Bills Seized During Search For Drugs

By Jeanne Galthier
Davie County Enterprise Record

Counterfeit money has been found in Davie County. While examining the more than $13,000 seized during a drug bust Aug. 21, which also included the confiscation of approximately 145 pounds of marijuana, sheriff's officers noticed 31 new $50 bills - all bearing one of two serial numbers, according to Detective Chris Shuskey.

It is believed that Mexican immigrants are passing these counterfeit bills for money transfers to Mexico, he said.

The money was seized from a mobile home on Pineville Road where the large quantity of marijuana was discovered and a vehicle believed to be connected to that residence, the detective said.

Three men were arrested at the mobile home, which officers discovered after one of them stopped his vehicle and turned around to avoid passing through a driver's license checkpoint on Farmington Road.

Officers pursued Samuel Gaspar Hernandez, 16, to 132 Pineville Road, and obtained a search warrant for the mobile home after seeing drug paraphernalia through the window.

Hernandez and two other residents of that address, Elias Sanchez Gaspareno, 24, and Fortino Garcia Gaspareno, 32, were charged with trafficking in marijuana and conspiracy to traffic in marijuana. All three are illegal aliens, according to Shuskey.

Officers seized about $3,000 cash from the residence and $10,000 from the vehicle, he said.

Since the discovery, the Secret Service has become involved in the investigation along with U.S. Customs, U.S. Immigration and the SBI, Shuskey said.

Schools Consider Drug Testing, New Policy For Alcohol

Members of the Davie County Board of Education want to send a clear message to students: drinking and using drugs will not be tolerated in Davie Schools, and it's not the right way to act anywhere.

But they want to help students who make a wrong decision to experiment with alcohol and drugs.

Mark Jones told fellow board members last week a drug and alcohol policy needs immediate attention. Previously, students at Davie High caught with alcohol or drugs were banned from extracurricular activities for that semester. Principal Linda Bost amended that policy after three football players were caught with alcohol.

Jones said the school needs to consider random drug testing for students in all extracurricular activities. After one offense, the student needs to be offered counseling to help them deal with their problems. After the second offense, the punishment should be more severe.

Dr. Bill Steed, superintendent, said the policy should apply to all students, not just those who participate in athletics or other extracurricular activities.

"We have to stand up for right and wrong and consequences," said board member, Janie Garnett. "Parents and administrators alike must stand together."

"We've got to work hard to show our students that's not the way to act," said board chairman, Luther Potts.

The issue will be studied by the board's policy committee, and board attorney Wade Leonard will check into legal issues involving drug testing before the board makes its decision.

School Enrollment Continues To Climb

There are more and more students in Davie Schools, and the increases aren't in one particular area of the county as in years past.

After the first 10 days of school this year, there were 5,347 students enrolled, more than 200 more than at the same time last year, and more than 600 over the past three years.

All schools had a higher number of students except for North Davie Middle, which had 19 fewer students; Pinebrook Elementary, which had the same number as last year; and South Davie Middle, which had four fewer students.

SAT Scores Higher Than State, Lower Than National Average

School officials say it isn't fair to compare SAT scores, but some members of the Davie Board of Education say comparing scores with previous years, and with other systems, gives them an idea of how Davie is preparing students for college.

And colleges use the SAT to compare one student to another, said board member Marty Carter.

Janie Garnett said there is a correlation between classes offered at Davie High and student scores. "We need to do everything we can to boost those SAT scores," the board member said. "We need to do those things that increase abilities ... increase opportunities."

Carter said he couldn't understand why Davie's scores were lower than the national average by 21 points. The average of 996 was 14 points above the state average, and higher than all but one of surrounding systems. It was the 26th best out of 117 school systems in the state. It was the lowest score for Davie County in three years.

Superintendent Dr. Bill Steed cautioned board members against making comparisons. "This is an indication. I think we've made progress."

Director of Instruction Patsy Crenshaw, the test isn't designed to be compared, it's designed to show how a student will do during their first year of high school.

Festival On The Square: Arts And Crafts, Food And A Street Dance

The streets of Mocksville will be filled with the sound of familiar tunes and mouth-watering aromas of a variety of foods as Historic Davie presents Festival On The Square.

Entertainment will begin at 9:45 a.m. with the Davie High School marching band and end at 10 p.m. following a street dance featuring beach music by the Part Time Party Time Band, according to volunteer Linda Mace.

Throughout the day, festival goers can check out a large number of classic cars expected to be on display and browse the craft booths that will include pottery, wood crafts, paintings and flower arrangements.

The Mocksville-Davie Jaycees will also be sponsoring a rummage sale throughout the day.

This year's festival welcomes more food vendors than ever before, Mace said.

Many downtown restaurants and shops will also remain open for those attending the festival, she said.

The festival will offer plenty for the kids, with games sponsored by Mocksville-Davie Parks and Recreation Department and Davie County 4-H.

Children will also have a chance to enjoy Moon Bounce, and their parents may want to join them in the fun at the dunking booth where they will find several prominent members of the community waiting to be dunked.

According to Mace, children and adults alike may don a Velcro suit and find out how it feels to stick to the Velcro Wall, which comes to Mocksville for the first time this year.

There will be a number of prizes given away that day, she said. Special contests will include a downtown treasure hunt 2-3 p.m. and a classic car scavenger hunt 3-4 p.m.

Other entertainment will include True Believers Gospel Singers, Rockin' Ray and His Oldies, Carunes, Elvis, Southland String Band and Good Timers Square Dancers.

The first year Mocksville will have just one festival, Mace said she hopes that organizations within the community will work together to make the festival a success and see it grow.

Dad's New Duty: Explaining Clinton's Sins To Children

"What did the President do wrong?" It was bedtime, and my 7-year-old had heard too much of a conversation. He wasn't ready to say good night. I had anticipated the question. "He broke his marriage vows, and he told a lie. Now go to sleep."

That was enough of an explanation, perhaps, to satisfy his curiosity. Enough to shock him. Enough to ... ruin his opinion of the President.

When I was a boy, we talked about President Eisenhower's golf game. Caroline and John-John were the delights of the Kennedy White House. The most brazen thing LBJ did was show us his scar after surgery.

Our children must hear about a President's sins. A President who has trouble saying he's sorry. A President who did things that shock our senses.

We don't watch television news at our house. I've tucked away some newspaper front pages just so Robert wouldn't see them. But still the news crept through.

Little boys are supposed to respect the President. To children, the President is supposed to be a good guy.

That's not the case with this President. He has disappointed us about the very fundamental purpose of a president. To be good, someone we can respect.

We've always believed that the United States of America was on the side of good. And the President represented what was right.

Sure, President Clinton has been investigated like no other occupant of the White House. Certainly, he has been accused of everything from murder to theft. But his lustful instincts — not Whitewater, not Travelgate, not the other accusations that fed Kenneth Starr's investigation — have been his undoing. He's a cad.

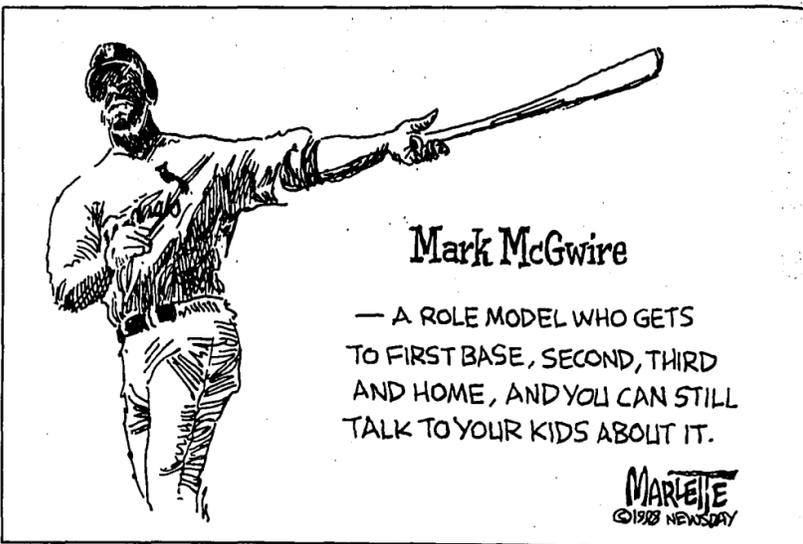

He has become our great embarrassment — morally unfit for the office. Each successive lie that is unveiled, every new detail about his relationship with Monica Lewinsky, adds to the evidence.

Congress must go ahead with the impeachment. It's time to take a stand against a President who has embarrassed us all. What are we supposed to tell our children?

It's hard to shield their ears from television reporters talking about oral sex, an Oval Office rendezvous, and an intern who provided free sexual services to our President. Many have criticized the media for telling too much. But this is our President. If he did it, it's news. And it has taken him nine months and a stack of lies to finally admit to the truth. There's no getting away from this thing.

President Clinton should be impeached. These weren't white lies. He committed perjury. He has proven himself unfit for the office.

What a sad end to a promising administration. Who can believe him now? Who can give their allegiance to such a con artist? If Republicans have been rough on him, just wait until his own Democratic Party gets through with him. They had believed him. He told them it wasn't true. He told us. — Dwight Sparks

Revision Sends Message Winning Most Important

To the editor:

Once again I find myself writing to you concerning politics in the school system. The recent problems swirling around the Davie High School football program are a disturbing state of affairs.

Yes, the actions of the three football players were unacceptable, giving this county and its athletic programs a black eye. However, these actions are forgivable as long as the players can display the proper remorse to their teammates, to their coaches, and especially to their parents. It is unfortunate that the players did break some laws, and decisions regarding those laws must find their way through this county's judicial system.

Yet, the actions of these children are not as detrimental to the school system and the county as the response by the school's administration. Like almost everyone, I agree that the expulsion of the players from the team is slightly overboard. I find myself in support of the West Forsyth coach, Russell Stone, in stating that alcohol counseling is a better first step, especially if the action is a first offense.

DHS Fan Will Be Cheering From Home

To the editor:

I am writing to inform Linda Bost that I will not be attending any Davie games this year due to her decision on those boys caught drinking beer. We, as adults should set an example for younger generations to follow. I was planning to cheer for Davie in

Youth Football League Off To Good Start

To the editor:

On behalf of the Davie County Youth Football Association, I would like to thank everyone who attended the football games on Saturday at South Davie Middle School. A special appreciation goes out to Jerry Callison, the athletic director of South Davie Middle School, and South Davie Middle School for being so accommodating. I would also

However, the high school's policy on this subject matter is apparently not one discovered in the back of some old high school policy book. It is one which the administration endorsed and the players and their parents understood and signed just weeks prior to this season. Though it does need some revision, the revision cannot prompt itself in saving the star football player from not participating for the year. That does nothing but send the message that winning in sports is more important than educating the students.

Yet, after cutting through the principal's heart-warming response in the Sept. 3rd issue of the Davie County Enterprise Record, this is clearly the message that is being sent to the student body and the other schools around the state, leaving many to wonder if the situation occurred with third string players instead of starting players would the same situation handle itself differently? Sadly, no matter how those involved answer this question, no one will really ever know without a doubt what the true answer would be, hence affecting the person this year, but I have to do it from a distance now. I was a second string football player at Davie High, a member of the Class of 1986.

Decision Disappointing

To the editor:

I was disappointed in the decision Ms. Bost made to reduce the punishment of the Davie High football players caught with open beer in a vehicle and an unlicensed driver at the wheel.

The police department, the coaches, parents and school officials have all treated these boys with preferential treatment because of who they are.

Now, a soccer player has been caught with marijuana and the same minimal punishment was given. When rules have no strength, why follow them?

Ms. Bost should resign. We need a principal capable of following through with the required punishment. We don't need a principal who is more concerned with winning athletic events than about the examples given to the entire student body.

School System Fees Are Not Excessive

To the editor:

I would like to respond to the letter by Larr Frank, published in the Sept. 3 edition of the Enterprise.

I too have a child in the Davie County School System. I do not feel the fees are excessive - nor do I think the supplies are unnecessary. The educational fees are $10 a year - less than 6¢ a day. This provides classroom supplies which our children need. The list of supplies given to children and their parents at the beginning of the school year is designed to help organize and supply our children for the year. I have never received one of these lists that didn't state, "if any items are a problem or a hardship please contact the school or teacher."

Frank erroneously stated that P.E. uniforms had to be purchased when in fact, dark shorts and a white t-shirt are perfectly acceptable and many children choose this option.

The variety of classes offered in the Davie County curriculum provide our children with many options and opportunities to develop interests and skills necessary in adulthood. The Life Skills class is just one of many. With all due respect, Frank needs to realize grades are earned - not given. How many times have we as parents heard, "I made an A" or "the teacher gave me an F?"

I appreciate the teachers and staff of the Davie County School System and feel they should be supported for the excellent job they do.

School System Devaluing Children's Integrity

To the editor:

I enter my fourth year of home schooling, somewhat weary of the constant question "But what about socialization?" My answer, "That's precisely why we home school," is usually met with a puzzled look.

I plan to laminate last week's column, "3 Football Players Suspended (Principal Amends Policy That Would Ban Eligibility)" so that I can hand it out as a simple answer.

Just what is socialization? Arguably, it is the process whereby our children learn and internalize the mores of the group of people with whom they live. The football issue of the Enterprise, published on Aug. 27, appalled me with its flamboyant image of football players as hoods/gang members/bikers/outlaws; this is the image we would like our young children to emulate? Just what are the mores of our society when some of those same players are excused from responsibility after violating a contract of athletic policies the next week? Perhaps our amusement at the photograph was interpreted by the young men as our tacit approval of outlaw behavior?

My personal thanks go to Principal Linda Bost for her gift of a rare, crystal-clear insight into the soul of the government schools. Integrity, accountability, and strong moral values are some of the main reasons I home school my three children. I don't expect the schools to teach these values, but neither should they undermine them, as they have this past week. A contract is a contract, and consequences are consequences.

The same school system that has grossly manipulated the school calendar to achieve higher overall test scores is now devaluing your children's integrity in service of a winning football season. Kids are smart. They quickly learn which values are important to adults. This is called "socialization." What are your children learning this week?

Players Didn't Ask For Special Treatment

To the editor:

Football players do get special treatment. They always have and they always will. It's a fact of life and you had better learn to deal with it. Football is the sport in high school, in this nation. It's bigger than volleyball, bigger than tennis and bigger than soccer, considered the most popular sport in the world. Football has lots of fans and they love the game. It gives them a sense of pride in their cities, like in Charlotte (Go Panthers). And in the case of high school football, makes them proud of their communities, like in Davie (Go Eagles... "Send me in coach, I'm ready").

Like it or not, football is the big money sport. Lots of fans mean lots of money. Pro football generates a lot of money to pay their players, coaches and owners. High school football generates a lot of money also, but not to pay the players and coaches. High school football, like no other sport, generates money and the environment that supports all the other sports and activities at the school: volleyball, tennis, soccer, cheerleading, the band.

Because it's football, pro football players, college football players and yes, even our high school football players, do get special treatment. Sometimes the special treatment is of a positive nature (atta boy, you the man) other times as in this current case, it's of a negative nature, as in let's kick these prima donna football players while they are down. The three boys from our school that were suspended for four games recently, one of which was my son, did get, are getting, and will continue to get for a long time to come, that secondary type of special treatment, because it's football, the premier sport of the school. They didn't ask for special treatment, it was just given to them by the nature of the game they play.

And who gives football players special treatment? Just about everybody. Thousands of fans cheer them at every game, the Spirit Club, the band, all who come to the football games but you won't see them at the cross country meets or any other sport. The TV stations give them special treatment; heck, they even have a special show just for football ... ever watch Football Friday Night?

The Davie County Enterprise gave the three football players that were suspended real special treatment of the secondary type, put the story right on the front page, while in the next issue, a senior soccer player arrested and suspended for marijuana was reported on the back page in a very small article. Did the football players get special treatment? You bet they did, because it was football, not soccer, not tennis, not volleyball, it was football. Also giving them special treatment was the Winston-Salem Journal, the Salisbury Post (thanks, Ron), The Clemmons Courier, WKII-TV channel 12, and top honors for special treatment goes to Fox channel 8 who not only reported the story but showed the young men's picture right there on TV for friends, family, grandparents, everyone to see. It's always been said that if you do the crime you do the time. Contrary to what everybody thinks, these boys did not just receive a slap on the wrist.

But the real controversy that has sparked all of the media attention and that has generated all of the letters in last week's Enterprise was focused on Davie High principal, Linda Bost, who has been charged with giving the players special treatment and changing a policy that had been on the books. I hear, for 23 years, although never enforced or tested until this year. This was a tough decision for Ms. Bost. I was in the meeting with her and I can tell you she did not want to go against the policy that stated that the students should be kicked off the team. She did not want all of this attention. She was not pressured by anyone to go against the policy. But when she had three key football players sitting in front of her, and because football players are special, because the whole game of football is special, it brought to light a policy, unused and untested, that now appeared unduly harsh and ineffective, because (1) it does not allow for a second chance, and (2) it does not deter drinking by the players.

Do the players deserve a punishment? Of course. How about a second chance? Everyone deserves a second chance. Put yourself in that position, you made a mistake ... banishment from something you loved ... you'd want a second chance ... don't tell me you wouldn't. Everybody deserves a second chance. We all fall short of the glory of the Lord and He gives us all a second chance plus thirds, fourths and I'm sure for some of us, an endless array of chances. But you say "Rules are rules ... Period." Tell that to the judge that lets a whole page full of speeders, as reported every week in the Davie Enterprise, get their 85 mph in a 55 mph zone reduced to improper equipment. If rules are rules, then we would have no need for judges that routinely give speeders a second chance.

The current policy does not stop student athletes from drinking.

Even though the students had signed the policy and were aware of the policy, it did not deter them from drinking. You may rest assured that these three are not the only players on the current team that were drinking that night. Half the football team had been at the party that night. Half the football team had been at the party that night. These three were the only ones that got caught. Will the old policy or this new policy keep other players from drinking or using drugs? Obviously not, as seen recently by the arrest of the soccer player. It's a fact of life, since a large percentage of teenagers, both athletic and non-athletic, are going to experiment with alcohol and drugs, regardless of how we as parents raise them, and no matter what type of policies we write to discourage them.

The only way to stop athletes from drinking would be mandatory and random alcohol and drug testing done on a weekly basis. Example: Every week during the season, five players names are randomly drawn out of a hat and they must then report to a health office for testing. Failure to report or failure of the test results in a severe punishment of some sort, just short of banishment. A second failure, or refusal to take the test, would result in banishment. Would this approach stop the drinking? If the student is a serious athlete and loves his sport, you bet it would. I am an airline pilot, and random drug and alcohol testing was implemented several years ago when there was a drinking problem in our industry. Every day at our airline, 20 to 30 crews are randomly picked and met in the jetway at the end of their trip, escorted by security personnel, and taken to an area at the airport where medical personnel take urine samples from all crew members. Since testing began, I'm sure you're all glad to hear that not one pilot has tested positive. They have too much to lose. These same results could be achieved with our athletes, whose love of the sport would be too much to lose.

As part of their punishment, for the rest of the season, the three athletes in question, must submit to random drug and alcohol testing, a failure of that test will result in their being kicked off the team permanently. Davie County Enterprise, Ms. Bost, teachers, coaches, all of you righteous people who wrote letters last week, or were interviewed on TV, you can rest assured that these three players are the only players that you can be confident of, will not be drinking for the remainder of the season, and hopefully beyond.

Someone brought up the fact that if the athletes had been second string volleyball players or from some other less popular sport, Ms. Bost would not have changed the policy. That is probably correct. What also is correct is that because the sport is a less popular sport, the policy would not have been followed at all and the student athlete would have only received a one or two game suspension and remained on the team, as has happened quietly on several occasions at Davie High in the past. However, if volleyball was the sport of choice, and thousands attended and cheered our team every week and the bands played and the cheerleaders cheered, the dancing boots danced and the newspaper ran big articles (send me in coach ... I'm ready!), and the school made tens of thousands of dollars every week to the benefit of all sports, and we were contenders in the state playoffs, and then our key spiker was caught drinking and was subject to be completely thrown off the team, I believe Ms. Bost would have made the same decision she made several weeks ago. Because volleyball was special and meant so much in so many intangible ways to so many people, it would have brought to focus a policy that had never been tested, a policy that was inherently ineffective and would be devastating to the athlete, the school, and the community.

Yes, our policy should have been more thoroughly thought out before being implemented, should have been more in line with other high schools that provide a second chance. When this situation arose, after having been brought into the spotlight by "The Sport," Ms. Bost, as the current leader of our high school students, made what is in essence, a battlefield decision in the best interest of all concerned; and for that, I applaud and thank her.

Don't Get Burned!

You can be fined up to $10,000 for illegal open burning in NC.

Smoke from open burning can cause serious health problems and pollute the air. That's why the state regulates open burning. Only leaves, branches or other plant growth can be burned.

IT'S ILLEGAL TO BURN:

- Garbage, paper and cardboard
- Tires and other rubber products
- Building materials, including lumber
- Wire, plastics, and synthetic materials
- Asphalt shingles and heavy oils
- Paints, household chemicals and agricultural products

Homeowners can burn yard trimmings - including logs and stumps - if it's allowed under local ordinances, no public pickup is available and it doesn't cause a public nuisance. Other allowable burning includes campfires, outdoor barbecues and bonfires for festive occasions. Landowners also can open burn vegetation to clear land or rights-of-way, provided that:

- Prevailing winds are away from built up areas and roads
- Fires are at least 1,000 feet away from occupied buildings
- Burning is done between 8 am and 6 pm

Remember burn permits issued by the NC Division of Forest Resources, its agents or any local government do not exclude a person from following the state air quality rules. For more information contact:

Man Sentenced To Prison For Assaulting Wife, Officers

A Mocksville man who led Davie law enforcement officers on a high speed chase after allegedly holding his wife at gunpoint and attempting to run over a deputy sheriff July 15 was sentenced to two years in prison last week in Davie Superior Court.
Harry Edward "Eddie" Moore, 44, pled guilty to two counts of misdemeanor assault with a deadly weapon reduced from felony assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, two counts of second degree burglary, two counts of assault with a deadly weapon on a government official and fleeing to evade arrest.

Moore had apparently broken into the home of his estranged wife, Chris Moore, between midnight and 2 a.m. July 12, threatening to kill her with a handgun.
He had returned July 14, broke into his wife's house and held a gun to her head. Officers were able to get his wife out of the residence to safety that night.
When deputies tried to place him under arrest the next day, Moore refused to go with them. He walked to his truck and laid two guns on the dashboard. When a deputy attempted to take him into custody, Moore backed up and attempted to run over the officer, according to sheriff's department reports.
Moore wrecked his truck during a chase that ensued. He fired a gun at the ground several times when officers attempted to approach him but soon gave up.
Moore faced a maximum sentence of nearly 20 years in prison, according to Judge Howard R. Greeson Jr., but was sentenced to 24 to 29 months in prison with work release recommended.
Moore was also sentenced to 19 to 23 months in prison, but that sentence was suspended five years with supervised probation during which he is not to contact his wife, own dogs or possess any kind of weapon.
Greeson ordered him to receive counseling recommended by his probation or parole officer, pay court costs and $250 in court appointed attorney fees.

On September 12, 1998, Kirsten Abigail Hall, daughter of Kenneth and Sylvia Hall, celebrated her 1st birthday at Rich Park in Mocksville. We enjoyed a cookout, a teddy bear and rocking horse cake, along with many gifts. There to celebrate with her were her grandparents, Sheila L. Tritt and Jerald and Sue Driver, and many other family and friends. Abigail was born on September 14, 1997.

Elizabeth Meyer will celebrate her 14th birthday with family and friends on September 15th in Channahaus, Ma. Elizabeth is the daughter of Janice and Larry Meyer. Mrs. Walter Meyer of Marengo, Wisconsin, is her great-grandmother. Her grandparents are Mrs. Florida Greene of St. Petersburg, Florida, the late Calvin Meyer and Ruth and Cecil Cartner of Mocksville.

In The Mail ...

Elders Are Supposed To Be Role Models

My family and I moved to Davie County 19 years ago, being originally from Forsyth County. I was told by many that Davie County schools far exceeded the schools in Forsyth and I believed that. I am proud to say I had two children graduate from Davie High.
My question to Mrs. Bost is that if we make a rule and don't stick to it, how can we expect a child to do any different? I thought we as elders were supposed to be examples or role models. This last example set by the school is an outrage. As I read the article in last week's Enterprise and watched Fox TV Friday night, this outrage grew. I saw pictures of the boys who were involved in the alcohol and under-age drinking incident. Mrs. Bost's comment was "it's time to move on." Maybe it's time for her to move on. If this had been an incident involving the water boy and part of the second string of football players instead of the "star players," would the same policy have been broken? Or does the social status of these boys play a part in this? A lot of questions haven't been answered, and I don't think the school wants to start. Not to get too deep into this latest mess, here is something that is really troubling me.

I know a child who missed so many days of school they failed, not because of illness. The next year they were promoted to the next grade. They missed over 100 days of that school year. This year they are still not in school and will not be 16 years old until after the first of January. My question is to anyone with authority, how can this be? When I went to school 46 years ago, you went until you were 16, or your parents went to jail. I am a firm believer in education. Maybe instead of wasting money on the front of Davie High, they should have built a building and made these little children go to school.

Community Members Have High Ideals

I was impressed at the number of "letters to the editor" in last week's issue of the Davie County Enterprise addressing the issue of Davie County athletes and the decision made over their drinking. I am proud to be a Davie County resident, to know that our community members have high ideals and expectations for their children and the laws made. I, too, believe the high school administration made an error in allowing these students the right to continue representing their school after meeting their four-week penalty. They broke the law; they were caught and should face the consequences. These students have a history with their peers and this was not a first-time experience with alcohol; it was the first time they were caught. The decision made in the matter by the administration is but one of two issues.
The second issue, which irritates me even more, is the legal issue. What right did the law enforcement officers have in excusing this behavior and not filing charges against these students? These boys broke the law, were caught and should have been held accountable for their offense. Under the influence of alcohol while under the age of 21 is against the law. Opened alcoholic containers in a vehicle is against the law. Taking the breathalyzer test and blowing a .095 (.08 is legally drunk) is against the law. My children broke the law of driving too fast and received speeding tickets. They were cited, appeared in court and were fined for their misdeed. They learned a lesson and were held accountable for breaking the law. What is our law enforcement telling us? What about the DARE program? Is it also a farce?

A soccer player was caught in possession of an illegal substance, was cited, arrested, and will appear in court for his offense. He was an athlete but his coach didn't appear on the scene, so his misconduct will be prosecuted by the law and the system.

This whole situation has gotten out of hand. My child is already concerned about what our conference opponents will say and do. We are already the Davie County Hicks, now we will be toyed with as the "drunken Hicks." I believe the student body of Davie High should be allowed to vote on this issue. We were beginning to develop a high level of school pride in our programs but now our students have been violated; not so much because of the decision made to drink by our athletes but the decision made to excuse their behavior and to sweep it under the carpet, both by our school administration and our Davie County law enforcement.

Police Decided What Laws To Enforce

I was absolutely outraged when I read your story about the three suspended football players in the Sept. 3 printing of your paper. I would first like to make it clear that the fact that football players at Davie High School drink beer does not surprise or outrage me. What has me so mad will soon be clear.
The initial question is how many non-starting players signed this contract in past years were caught in violation and removed from the team? I do not know the answer, but I am sure it has happened. This is tragedy number one. Next we have taught a lesson to the entire student body that if your superiors feel they need you for a winning team you can do as you like because they will cut you a break. I read very clearly that we must feel sorry for these students - we must feel their pain, they know it was wrong but we need them on our team so we must forgive them. There is a national slogan that says "Don't let the bullies win." He has a name.

for the dozen or so people who have let us all down - the principal, the superintendent, the coaches, the board of education, and the parents of the boy - they are "egg sucking liberals." If you want to change the contract that the student athletes sign in the future, fine; but the contract that is in place now should be enforced. I wonder if someone who is on the third string it caught smoking marijuana in the next few weeks will the school forgive that student also?
The real scandal is the fact that both the Mocksville police and Davie County Sheriff's Department aided and abetted in a serious crime. The crime is the possession of alcohol by a person under 21. Your report states that the three minors were released to an assistant football coach who just happened by. Also you reported that Chief Slink said that "all of the boys could have been charged with possession of beer by a person under 21." The key words are "could have been charged." It appears we have police who use their own judgment as to what laws to enforce, and that local and county officials allow this to take place. Another interesting thing to me is where does the law state that after a juvenile is detained they can be released to a football coach? I spoke to a N.C. Highway patrolman and he told me from the facts given in your paper that we in Davie County have a serious problem with our police, both local and county. I wonder what the reaction would be if the police let Paul Franklin Ellis go after finding 521 grams of marijuana in his possession. Oh, I forgot, he is not a football starter so that did not happen. I also wonder what all the other people who were charged with something after going through the license check that night think. If I was one of them, I would wish that I played football, and I would be sure that my lawyer knew about the selective law enforcement that went on that night.

Highway Patrol

The following traffic wrecks were investigated in Davie County by the N.C. Highway Patrol:

- Lenoir Man Seriously Hurt
A Lenoir man was seriously injured when he was thrown from his motorcycle into a creek off Farmington Road at 6:55 p.m. Sunday.
George Michael Dixon Jr., 28, was taken to Forsyth Hospital for treatment of injuries.
He was driving a 1994 Honda motorcycle at a speed estimated in excess of 60 mph. The motorcycle went off the road to the left, and went airborne, striking a creek bank. Dixon fell backward into the creek, reported Trooper C.D. Jones.
- Improper Passing Charged
A Mocksville teen was charged with improper passing after a wreck on Deadman Road at 7:55 p.m. Sept. 9.
Thomas Channing Poplin, 18, of 564 Frank Short Road, was passing a dump truck in a 1988 Ford and failed to yield for an oncoming 1983 Datsun pickup truck driven by Kenneth Lee Hardy, 19, of 213 Mumford Drive, Mocksville, causing the two to collide, reported Trooper C.D. Jones. Poplin's car went into a ditch, and Hardy's truck struck a mailbox and overturned onto its left side.
- Car Overtures On U.S. 601
A Salisbury woman was injured when the car she was driving overtook on U.S. 601 South at 7:25 a.m. Sept. 9.
Terri Ann Brown, 33, was driving a 1994 Toyota that went off the road to the right. While attempting to bring the car back onto the road, it struck completely off the road to the right and struck an embankment and overturned, reported Trooper Terrence Denard Shaw.
Vehicles Wreck At Intersection
Two vehicles collided at U.S. 64 East and N.C. 801 at 4:10 p.m. Sept. 10.
Joe Jasper Peebles, 71, of 3037 N.C. 801 S., Advance, drove a 1974 Chevrolet pickup on N.C. 801, and while crossing U.S. 64, struck a 1994 Nissan driven by Jose Ivan Lucero, 19, of Lexington, reported Trooper J.R. Alfred. Peebles was charged with making an unsafe traffic movement.
- Unsafe Movement Charged
A Salisbury man was charged with making an unsafe traffic movement after a wreck on Junction Road at 3:10 p.m. Sept. 10.
Frank Patrick Garrett, 36, attempted to turn left in a 1983 Honda while it was being passed in a passing zone by Carrie Jo Carter, 20, of 5137 U.S. 158, Advance, who was driving a 1996 Ford pickup, reported Trooper T.S. Kennedy.
- Lexington Man Cited
A Lexington man was cited for making an unsafe traffic movement after an accident in the Bermuda Quay Shopping Center in Hillsdale at 2:50 p.m. Sept. 8.
Jeffery Scott McMahan, 33,

Myers Receives Military Medal

Judge Jimmy Myers of Advance, a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserves, has received the Military Outstanding Volunteer Service Medal for his service with the Lions Club.

The medal was presented by the Secretary of the Navy, John Dalton, on the field at Groves Stadium at the Navy vs. Wake Forest football game Sept. 10. He also presented Myers with a commemorative coin.

The Secretary of the Navy was on hand for the nationally televised game. He had spent the day in Winston-Salem, and earlier had spoken at Salem College.

The Military Outstanding Service Medal is awarded to military personnel who serve in a leadership capacity in a civic organization that assists those in need.

It was Lions Club night at the ball game, and Myers, a Wake Forest alumnus, was cited for his 20 years of service with the Lions Club.

He had served the Churchland Lions Club in 1981-82 as president, and was recognized particularly for his service with the Mocksville Lions Club. He has served as White Cane Chairman, second vice president, vice president, and president.

The Mocksville Lions, though only 27 members strong, in the last three years have raised nearly $90,000 for international, national, state, and local projects that assist visually and hearing impaired persons, and provide eye clinics at major medical centers. They also assist Davie County students with scholarships and helped remodel the Brock auditorium. Myers serves the Winston-Salem and Mocksville clubs as zone chairman.

Myers is a District Court Judge in the 22nd Judicial District that includes Davie, Davidson, Iredell and Alexander counties. He is a chaplain with the Naval Reserve Naval Hospital unit that drills at the Triad Armed Forces Reserve Center in Greensboro.

Man Injured Fleeing Police On Motorcycle

A Mocksville man injured when he wrecked his motorcycle trying to elude police faces an additional eight charges.

Roderick Tyrone Martin, 38, of 300 Mill St., was charged Sept. 9 by Mocksville police with two counts of speeding to elude arrest, possession of cocaine, possession of drug paraphernalia, reckless driving, failure to stop for blue light and siren, having an expired tag on a vehicle and having an altered registration.

He was placed in the Davie County Jail in lieu of a $10,000 bond, pending an Oct. 2 appearance in Davie District Court.

- Driver Faces Two Charges
An Advance man faces two charges after a wreck on U.S. 158 at 6:10 p.m. Sept. 3.
Charles Justin Sheets, 21, of 144 Parsonage Drive, lost control of the 1988 Toyota he was driving, causing it to skid off the road to the left, striking a street sign, reported Trooper A.A. Justice. He was cited for exceeding a safe speed and having unsafe tires.
- Failure To Reduce Speed Charged
A Yadkinville man was charged with failure to reduce speed after a wreck on N.C. 801 at 3:15 p.m. Sept. 3.
Terry Dwayne Brown, 21, was driving a 1988 International pickup truck, attempting to make a left turn. When making the turn, it struck a 1993 Oldsmobile which was passing to the left, driven by Carla Jo Harmon, 29, of 1091 Joe Road, Advance, reported Trooper A.A. Justice.
- Man Charged With DWI
A Mocksville man was charged with DWI after a wreck on U.S. 601 North at 9 p.m. Sept. 3.
Efrain Barona Delgado, 28, of 139 Cabana Lane, was driving a 1979 Buick that went off the road to the right and struck a telephone utility box, according to the highway patrol report.
- Car Wrecks On Godbey Road
The driver of a 1983 Datsun said he was trying to avoid a deer on Godbey Road at 9:25 a.m. Sept. 6.
Robert Wade Mathens, 28, of 153 Godbey Road, was driving a 1983 Datsun that went off the road to the right and overturned down an embankment, reported Trooper M.W. Whitener.
- Car Hits Deer On Angell Road
Thomas Charles McCallie, 17, of Winston-Salem, was driving a 1996 Dodge on Angell Road at 5:30 a.m. Sept. 6 when a deer crossed his path, reported Trooper M.W. Whitener.
- Exceeding Safe Speed Charged
A Mocksville woman was charged with exceeding a safe speed after a wreck on Bear Creek Church Road at 7:30 a.m. Sept. 4.

County Briefs

Board Supports Town's Grant Application

Commissioners voted unanimously to support the town of Mocksville's grant application to the N.C. Department of Commerce Finance Center for financial support to build water and sewer improvements to support an industrial expansion project that should create new jobs.

County To Accept Pudding Ridge Water Line

The board voted to take over operation and maintenance of the water system on Pudding Ridge Road, Cornwallis Drive and Greene Court, which was built by the developers of Pudding Ridge subdivision.

Commissioners Approve Purchase Orders

Required to approve purchase orders for amounts more than $20,000, commissioners voted to approve $21,500 for repairs to a loader at the solid waste transfer station and $21,320 for OB-GYN service for the health department.

Classification, Pay Study Proposal Chosen

The board voted to hire Management and Personnel Services of Cary to perform a comprehensive classification and pay study for the county for $12,800 at the recommendation of county manager Ken Windley. The other bid for the project came from DMG Maximus of Raleigh for $20,915.

Board Agrees To Renew ESC Space Lease

Commissioners voted to extend the county's lease with Piedmont Land Company for the 1,200 square foot space at Mocksville Marketplace on U.S. 601 where the Employment Security Commission has been located since 1994 for another five years. The county will pay $900 per month for the first year, $950 per month for the following two years and $1,000 per month for the fourth and fifth years.

The county originally negotiated with Piedmont Land Company to rent the space for $800 and now pays $850 per month, according to Windley.

Solid Waste Hauling Contract Awarded

The contract for hauling solid waste from the transfer station in Davie to Forsyth County was awarded to Davie Truckers of Advance for an average of $146.43 per haul for the next four years. Davie Truckers provided the lowest bid of three and will begin hauling for the county Oct. 1.

Addition Made To County Water Line Policy

Commissioners voted to make an addition to the county water line policy which will require a fire hydrant to be installed for every 1,000 feet of line six inches or larger on new water line construction so that no house will be further than 500 feet from a hydrant at the request of fire marshal George Frye.

County Employee Health Insurance Selected

County employees will be switching from Blue Cross Blue Shield to Partners health insurance. Commissioners voted unanimously to accept a proposal presented by Partners at the recommendation of Windley, county financial officer Jim Stockert and health insurance consultant Leon Daniels.

Partners presented the best overall proposal, provides coverage and is within the county's budget, according to Windley.

Co-insurance drops from 10 percent to 20 percent, but the balance of the plan is solid, he said.

Commissioners also voted to provide $20,000 of term life insurance for employees through Shenandoah Life and Advance Insurance Company for $5.53 per month per employee.

Appointments Made To Adult Care Committee

Commissioners voted to reappoint Marie Miller, Jean Shaffer and Beth Ann Holcombe to the Nursing-Adult Care Home Community Advisory Committee. They also voted to appoint Kay Ann Mixon to replace Louise Dill, who did not

Jury Convicts Davie Man

A jury found a Davie County man guilty of obtaining a controlled substance by fraud and possession of hydrocodone last week in Superior Court.

Jeffrey Larry Roth, 28, was accused of making up his own prescription for hydrocodone and obtaining the drug from Foster-Rauch Drug of Mocksville.

Roth claimed that he hid Miranda rights had not been explained to him at the time of his arrest.

Planning Board To Meet

There will be a meeting of the Davie County Planning Board on Tuesday, Sept. 22, at 7 p.m. in the commissioners room of the Davie County Administration Building, Mocksville.

Roger Spillman has submitted a request to rezone approximately 2.2 acres from Residential (R-20) to Residential (R-12). This property is located off the south side of Neely Road, approximately 200 feet west of Hickory Street and is further described as being Parcel D-9 of Davie County Tax Map M-5-16.

Bahnson Farms has submitted a request to rezone approximately 22 acres from WS-IV-P (Yadkin-Forsyth Watershed IV-Protected) to WS-IV-P-S (Yadkin-Forsyth Watershed IV-Protected Special Use) for an allocation of acreage in the Forsyth Yadkin Watershed District. This property is located off the north side of N.C. 801 North and I-40, and is further described as being Parcel 230 of Davie County Tax Map D-7.

Roger Spillman has submitted for final review a two lot single family residential subdivision titled Perry Heights. This property is located off the south side of Crawford Road approximately 300 feet west of Nolley Road and is further described as being a portion of Parcel 66 of Davie County Tax Map M-4.

Westview Development Company has submitted for preliminary review a twenty-two (22) lot single family residential subdivision titled Windermere Farms. This property is located off the west side of Beauchamp Road approximately 700 feet north of Mocks Church Road and is further described as being a 22 acre portion of Parcel 7 of Davie County Tax Map F-8.

Platinum Construction Company has submitted for preliminary review a 155 lot single family residential subdivision titled Oak Ridge. This 103 acre property is located off the north side of U.S. Hwy 158 and the west side of Boger Road, and is further described as being Parcels 39, 49, and 50.01 of Davie County Tax Map F-6.

All parties and interested citizens are invited to attend said meeting at which time they shall have an opportunity to be heard in favor of, or in opposition to the foregoing changes. Prior to the meeting, all persons interested may obtain any additional information on a proposal or ask any questions they may have by visiting the Planning Department on weekdays between 8:30 and 5 p.m., or by telephone at (336) 751-3340.

Inspiration Coach's Halftime Speech Wakes Up Sleepy Defense

The possibility of a depression dawned on Davie linebacker J.J. Rice during the longest halftime of the season.

"We were lucky to be down by three points," said Rice, feeling the sharp sting of a 10-7 halftime deficit to Salisbury. "We pretty much played sorry in the first half. We weren't adjusting to some of the formations, and a lot of times the linebackers weren't getting (to the run). The way we were playing the trap, the linemen couldn't get there. And what was killing us was the little inside trap."

Davie staggered through the first half and looked ripe for implosion. Assistant coach Devore Holman could see it in the downcast eyes on the bench.

"I wasn't happy at all," he said. "In the first half, they took it to us and we were kind of dragging around. I was upset."

The first-half horn sounded and David Hunt's frustrations boiled over. The Just Wasn't Our Night theory fit the category of irrelevant speculation. Hunt, the veteran assistant, felt compelled to vent what amounts to a 50-year-old coach's scream.

He took the locker-room floor, performed his version of amateur psychology and made the players whiff the stench of a major choke job. The emotional lecture made Holman's hairs stand up. He would have given up a week's worth of meals for a helmet.

"Coach Hunt proceeded to give one of the most inspirational speeches that I've ever heard," he said. "It was very motivating. When he starts getting to that point... it was something we all needed. I mean, I had hairs on the back of my neck standing up. He doesn't do that often. He's the quiet one of the bunch. He had me to the point where I was wishing I was snapping up the helmet again."

Hunt smiled. "I felt like it was time to say

War Eagles Hold On For 11th Straight Home Win

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Fortwo quarters here Friday, underdog Salisbury's perception evolved from a winless nobody to a potential giant killer.

But the Hornets blew several tires right after halftime and the Davie War Eagles did not offer them a jack, rallying from three points down at the break to take a 28-16 nonconference victory and extending their record string of home wins to 11. No one has won in War Eagle Stadium since October of 1996, when Mt. Tabor romped 36-13.

After Salisbury silenced the crowd with a surprising 10-7 halftime lead, Davie's defense took over much like the gang of 1996 did during that breakthrough year - forcing a fumble, four three-and-out possessions and an interception in the first six possessions of the second half.

"The defense really bowed their neck in the second half," said Coach Doug Illing, whose club improved to 2-1. "Bless their hearts, they played their guts out. The defense made adjustments, picked up our slack, and that's what good defensive teams do."

Good defenses usually make game-winning plays, like safety Jeremy Shoffner's hit on Salisbury back Antoine Blakeley, who coughed up the ball with Salisbury leading by three and knocking on the door at the Davie 22.

Zeke Earle scooped the ball after one unsuccessful try, immediately broke a tackle and did his best imitation of Kenny Collins, racing 67 yards for the touchdown that gave Davie the lead for good. David Woodridge's second of four successful extra points gave Davie a 14-10 lead with 9:10 left in the third quarter.

"Without a doubt, it changed the momentum and gave us the lead - just what we were looking for," Illing said.

A Salisbury offense that produced 151 yards and nine first downs in the first half abruptly died in the second half, when Davie limited the runners to 19 defeat you.

"I don't know if it's the thing that they've always beaten us and that's in the back of our minds or what? But for some reason, they seem to spoil our record every year."

South Davis seventh grader Billy Riddle scored two TDs against North Davie in a scrimmage. He had a 30-yard run and caught a long pass from halfback Maurice Wilson.

Zeke Earle's 67-yard fumble return for a TD sparked Davie to a 28-16 victory over Salisbury.

Wildcats Hang On To Win 3-2

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

After getting pounded for 75 minutes, Chestnut Grove recovered to give North Davie's soccer team a big scare last week.

The Wildcats won 3-2 but had to hang on after bursting ahead 3-0. The tight finish didn't concern Coach Dane Perry, who was just happy to aboard the bus with a win.

"It was partially a letdown and part of it was there's some places that are just hard to play," he said. "Not to hang on the officiating, but there are hard places to play."

If the Wildcats, who improved to 2-0, expect to challenge powerful Mocksville - which handed North all three defeats last year - they must continue to get better. They can start by figuring out what happened in the final five minutes, when Chestnut Grove prevented North's second shutout by capitalizing on a penalty kick and finishing a breakthrough.

"We were happy to win, but we know we've got to do a lot better if we're going to take care of Mocksville (which visited North Sept. 14)," Perry said. "We led the whole way, but as a team we kind of struggled. We didn't play real well and the guys understood

Matt Mowser's two second-half goals propelled North Davie's soccer team to a 3-2 win over Chestnut Grove.

Shawn Smith of North Davie did it in a dramatic 10-11 win over Erwin, pitching a complete game and going 3 for 3 with four RBIs.

Marshall Pitts and Jerrin Peeler led Davie's cross country teams to another victory, finishing first in 17:05 and 20:55, respectively.

South Davis seventh grader Billy Riddle scored two TDs against North Davie in a scrimmage. He had a 30-yard run and caught a long pass from halfback Maurice Wilson.

Zeke Earle's 67-yard fumble return for a TD sparked Davie to a 28-16 victory over Salisbury.

Middle School Coaches Encouraged With Scrimmage Performance

Big Foot: After Wednesday's North Davie-South Davie eighth-grade scrimmage, South coach Barry Whitlock asked North's Ron Kirk why he didn't exploit the gut of the Tigers' defense.

Kirk's reaction said it all: The only way North was going to run near 385-pound Curtis Matthew was if Kirk and assistant coach Brian Boger had become eligible blockers.

"They are pretty big," Kirk said. "Bary said: 'You ought to utilize your fullback a little bit more in one set.' I said: 'Well, we do normally. But when you've got a 400-pound nose guard sitting in front of you, the fullback isn't going to be able to get into the backfield.'"

Goode Play: Down to the final 40 seconds and needing a touchdown to salvage an unofficial tie, North's staff made a good call on fourth and 10, a reverse to Jon Goode, who raced 45 yards for a TD.

"We didn't have anything to lose and we went for it," Kirk said. "Jon lined up in the left-wing position, we had the flow going left, went back right and kind of suckered (South) to the play."

The big play capped a successful day for the Wildcats, who are trying to recapture the early-season magic from last year, when they roared to a 4-0 start before taking an injury-plagued nose dive.

"We were pleased with everything we saw," Kirk said. "We've just got a few things to work on. Brian said something about the linemen didn't block as well as he thought they should have. (The scrimmage) is a good situation to look at things and be ready for (this) week. I think we can play with about anybody in our division if we stay healthy."

Cleaving Attacks: Although they only had two possessions in two quarters, the Tigers' vaunted wishbone was as good as advertised, whipping through the Wildcats' hesitant defense on the first possession.

On the fourth play, halfback Michael Clement slashed through the right side for a 20-yard TD run, then caught the two-point conversion pass from QB McKenzie Willoughby. "We ran the ball well," Whitlock said. "I thought McKenzie did a good job at quarterback running the offense. Mike Mike ran the ball good and Ben Alfred had some good runs. The offensive line overall did a pretty good job."

Stacy D: Outside of some inexcusable penalties, South's defense performed exceptionally well, penetrating the Wildcats' line and shaking up runner Nick Raby.

"The first-string defense played pretty well," Whitlock said. "Then we started substituting a lot and looking at different people. I'm going to try to play as many people as I can because we've got good athletes. They've got potential, but we've got to cut down on the penalties."

Kirk attributed Raby's slow start to South's monstrous physique, which astonishingly resembles a high school height-weight chart.

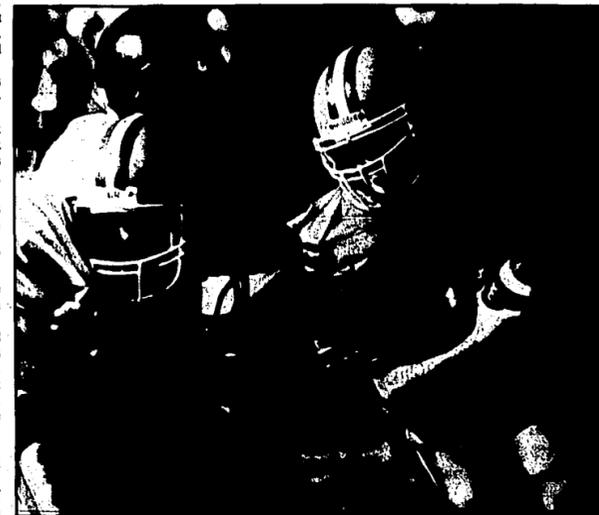

"Nick wasn't running as hard as I thought he could have," Kirk said. "He might have been intimidated by their size."

"But I was pretty pleased with the way we played. We saw a lot of good things as far as who we've got at certain positions."

Exclamation Point: South's seventh graders whipped up a dose of trickery on the scrimmage's final play, when Maurice Wilson threaded the needle on a halfback pass. Amazingly, he whistled the ball between four Wildcat hands, workhorse Billy Riddle secured it and left the pack, scoring his second TD and leaving Whitlock stunned by the execution under pressure.

"The thing about the seventh graders, they haven't really been in that situation yet and to come up with a big play at the end of the game..." Whitlock said.

North assistant David Boyles winced, knowing one of his secondary players should have foiled the play and taken it the other way.

Offensive Woes Continue For DHS Soccer Team

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

The defense did its part to help Davie's varsity soccer team snap out of a season-long drought. The offense didn't.

As a result, the War Eagles need goals like desert need the rain.

"As far as the back eight (defenders and midfielders), I felt Davie High whopped up on them," said Coach Pete Gustafson.

Summers, whose team lost 3-1 to West Rowan and dropped to 1-4-2 on the year. "We hung with them all the way down the line and, at times, dominated. They may have passed 50 times. If they passed 50 times, we completed 200 passes. We moved the ball very well, but not very well into the net.

"We just have a severe problem scoring goals."

In the second half, Nick Summers launched a 40-yard rocket to tie the match at 1-1, but the War Eagles continued to struggle from point-blank range.

Summers' impressive game-tying goal, his first of the year, rattled the Falcons. But the War Eagles forfeited momentum when a player lost his cool on a tough call, provoking an ejection and reviving the Falcons, who scored two goals in the final 10 minutes to knock the last breath out of Davie's sails.

"The momentum was really on our side," Gustafson said. "You can tell because the other team started fusing, arguing a little bit, and one controversial call from a ref (turned the match). Then we have to play a man down and with three subs.

"We lost our head for about 10 minutes, and that's what cost us the game. We lost our composure, then they scored. We basically have our style down, but now if we can get our heads and style together I think the wins will start coming. They are playing much better, but now they've got to include their heads in it."

Summers' violent shot would make any highlight reel. "Summers had an awesome 40-yard shot," Gustafson said. "It was kind of a little deflection, he stepped up and absolutely hammered one, and it deflected off a defender.

"It was his so hard, (the keeper) had to dive. It was going that fast. It was a very well-struck ball."

"The loss overshadowed outstanding performances by Greg Lanier and Jeremy Howell," Lanier played a great game," he said. "He had two or three good shots, and Howell played very, very well." ... Gustafson bemoaned the absence of three starters: Eric Kofke, J.R. McClamrock and Garth Regan, who have been out of action because of injuries and suspensions. "Probably the most frustrating part is we still haven't had what I consider a starting lineup," he said. ... Davie plays at North Iredell on Sept. 17 and at Elkin on Sept. 23.

Rural Hall Man Takes Race Title

Mark "The Kid" Jones of Rural Hall officially wrapped up 1998 TOPEliminator championship Saturday night at Farmington Dragway.

Jones took his four-second Oldsmobile to two wins and four runner-up finishes in scoring his first ever Farm championship. He was also victorious Saturday night in the non-points "Slugfest II" race. "The Kid" turned a winning 5.10 ET at 141 mph down the 1/8th mile drag course to defeat Gary Ward of Haw River. Mark "Luke" Hutchens of Yadkinville finished a close third in "Slugfest" action in his Plymouth.

In the Sportsman "foot brake" division, points leader Chris Platt of Winston-Salem holds a 78 point lead over number two man David Smith of Walnut Cove, while in the Street Machines/Junior Dragster division Saturday night runner-up T.O. Paschal of Pleasant Garden had took over the points lead. Paschal now holds a 14 point lead over Saturday night's winner Jake Woodring from Taylorsville.

Mark "Pork" Jones of East Bend scored back-to-back wins this past weekend at Farmington in his dragster. Friday night, Jones defeated Glenn Ferguson Jr. of Greensboro in the special "All PRO Tree" race. Then Saturday night he defeated Tommy Platt of Winston-Salem for his first TOPEliminator win in over two years. Jones turned in a winning ET of a 5.39 at 128 mph to collect the $1,500 paycheck.

Steve Lundy of Winston-Salem drove his Dodge to his first Sportsman division win of the year. Lundy ran a 9.43 ET at 72 mph to defeat two time Sportsman champion Keith Kiger of Yadkinville in a Dodge.

This coming weekend is the final race of the $25,000 Farm Points Series at Farmington. Up for grabs in the TOP Eliminator division is $3,000 to win and $1,500 will be on the line in "foot brake" Sportsman. Gates open Saturday at noon. Time runs start at 2 p.m. and final eliminations begin at 6:30 p.m.

North Claims Second Straight that ... But, in the end, they stepped up and got it done."

After Ian MacBryde staked North to a 1-0 halftime lead, Moser provided the cushion, scoring twice in the early minutes of the second half to give him four team-leading goals on the year.

Perry, though, cited Andrew Scott—who moved to keeper as MacBryde roamed the field—as the unsung hero. Scott won all the realistic battles around and got it done."

"Scott did a real good job in goal," Perry said. "The penalty kick, there's nothing you can do about that, and then the breakthrough is pretty much a defensive letdown and not his fault. So he had a really good game."

Striker Chris Jones' contributions aren't reflected in the box score, but the coach noticed his intangibles, particularly when North needed a spark amid Chestnut Grove's comeback attempt.

"Chris is a real workhorse up front," Perry said. "He tried to create opportunities late in the second half when we were struggling to get back on track."

North travels to Mt. Airy this Thursday, then hosts Calvary Sept. 22.

Defense Responds To Emotional Speech

something," he said. "I'm an old man, I'm not supposed to be doing these things. That's for the young guys to do."

Hunt pleaded for defensive stops, playing head games in the process.

"We weren't playing with a lot of aggression, we were kind of sitting and catching, and got a little bit passive," he said. "They were confused a little with (Salisbury's) formations. We simplified a little bit and tried to get a little pressure on the quarterback."

"We were already getting some junked talked, a couple other things, and we just challenged their manhood a little bit."

Properly motivated, the War Eagles interrupted Salisbury's upset bid with something approaching vengeance.

Safety Jeremy Shoffner stoked the comeback fire, slamming runner Antoine Blakeley and forcing a fumble. Earle picked up the loose change, powered through an arm tackle and shifted gears, reviving Davie with a 67-yard touchdown.

"I saw it rolling around and I kicked the ball," Earle said. "I picked it up and took off. Everybody else said I just turned my jets on, I don't know. I haven't had one of them since the eighth grade. I knew that Salisbury was real fast, and I was worried about them just walking me down."

Earle's rescue awoke the crowd, regenerated the offense and created pressure that enveloped Salisbury like a free baseball ticket to St. Louis or Chicago.

"That's what you call play-making. Then that momentum shifted and now we're rolling again," Holman said of Shoffner-Earle combination. "That was a big determining point in this game because if we hadn't (gone ahead), they could have kept their confidence going and the momentum on their side."

While Davie's inspired defense kept disrupting quarterback Michael Blount's flow, Davie QB Michael Burton—Drew Knochen's relief pitcher—knocked the last breaths from Salisbury's lungs with one masterful stroke.

On fourth down with Davie clinging to a 14-10 lead late in the third, Burton delivered a beauty to receiver Kenny Collins, who froze defenders with an out fake, turned toward the end zone and mashed on his Barry Sanders peddle to reel in a 24-yard rainbow. That crusher lifted Davie to the comfort zone at 21-10.

"I really thought it was over-throwing," Collins said. "I said to myself: 'Dang. I thought it was going out of bounds, but I just hustled and caught it. I had to turn it on. He threw it pretty, right there in the end zone."

Burton sensed that his seventh varsity completion, his first deep one, erased some doubt from coaches.

"It built my confidence up a lot," he said after starting his second game. "I knew I could do it, but I just had to prove it. I wanted to let the coaches see that I could throw the ball. I don't think they had too much confidence in the long ball, but I hope they see a little bit different now."

The defense responded to Hunt's halftime prodding, correcting early mistakes and playing with vital emotion. More than anything, they never quit trying.

"We bent some, but the bottom line is we didn't break," Holman said. "We're going to be ready for Central Davidson because my grandfather used to say: 'You dag gone kill a gnat with a sledgehammer.' We're going to get after it real hard."

Holman looked up at the sky. "I said thank you God because I think the football gods were looking after us, because (Salisbury) hit the tight end in the end zone and he dropped it," he said. "So the football gods looked after us tonight."

Wildcats Pull Off Wild Win

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

North Davie's softball team blew a 9-3 lead, the Wildcats committed several errors and pitcher Sheena Smith gave up 11 runs. Still, the Wildcats pulled it out.

"It was a good win because Erwin usually is a tough team," said Coach Jamie Lysterly, whose team rallied from a two-run deficit in the final inning to win 14-11 in the season opener. "We always have a close game with them."

Smith was the straw that stirred the victory, going 3 for 3 at the plate and showing some serious resiliency in a complete-game performance.

Her five walks coupled with errors fueled Erwin's eight-run bottom of the sixth, when the Eagles stormed ahead 11-9 after trailing 9-3.

North, however, refused to die, answering with five decisive runs in the top of the seventh as Smith fought back to extinguish the Eagles' flames in the seventh, striking out the final batter for her fourth K of the game.

Smith made sure it was her game. "She did real good," Lysterly said. "She was getting tired in the sixth inning. I started warming Laura Riddle up in the sixth, and she saw how her arm was doing and she said it was hurting a little bit but she would go ahead and try to pitch. If she was throwing a lot of balls or if her arm started hurting worse (in the seventh), she said she would let me know."

It appears that Smith holds the key to success for North, which will rely on Smith's pitching and Dawn Singleton's big bat in the cleanup spot to get it done.

"She's the hardest throwing one I've got," Lysterly said of Smith. "She's probably going to pitch the most, Laura can pitch pretty good, Jessica Dyson can come, and Britany Hol's been working on it."

North maintained precarious leads until a three-run sixth lifted the Wildcats to a seemingly safe 9-3 margin. But Erwin came alive, making Lysterly reflect on some missed opportunities, especially when Singleton couldn't take advantage of her home-run power with runners on. Lysterly doesn't think Singleton, who delivered two singles and two RBIs on an ordinary night, will be so generous the next time.

"There were about three or four times with the bases loaded, and she could have just cleared the fence," Lysterly said. "We played on a smaller field, but she walked and flied out."

"She got a double her last time up, but nobody else really got anything other than a single."

Karen McDaniel contributed two hits, Kelli Lawhon and Crystal Bivens had hit each and Smith and Bivens drove in four runs each. ... North hosts Knox on Sept. 16 and travels to West Rowan and Kannapolis on Sept. 21 and 28.

yards and harassed quarterback Michael Blount into 19 incompletions on 28 throws.

"(The defense) knew we were in a dogfight at halftime," Illing said. "We told them we were really going to have to pick up the tempo, try to get three-and-outs and three-and-outs and get the offense the ball as much as we could. And they did that."

Salisbury's first-year coach, Glen Padgett, sensed the upset gates closing the instant Earle secured the loose ball and broke free.

"We played great for two quarters, we have a breakdown and we lose our focus for a little bit," said Padgett, whose club fell to 0-4. "Right after that fumble return for a TD, we lost our focus for six to eight minutes and that was the difference in the game. We really thought if we do some things right, we win the game."

Moments later, Davie quarterback Michael Burton hit Kenny Collins for a 24-yard touchdown on fourth and 3. The six-minute blitz - Earle's full return and Collins' catch - extended the lead to 21-10 and left Salisbury ruins.

Ironically, Woodridge would be attempted a 36-yard field goal if Davie wouldn't have committed a 5-yard penalty before the snap. Backed up to 24 and out of Woodridge's limiting range, Illing went for the jugular. Burton lofted a moonball, hitting Collins on the dead run in the right side of the end zone.

"We went for all or nothing," Illing said. "We knew they were coming up tight on the run, so we decided to let him throw it deep one time and see if Kenny could run underneath it. We've told him all week to get it over the top, outside shoulder and let him run underneath it. And by gosh if he didn't do it."

Burton completed five of seven passes, but none of them amounted to substantial gains until the fourth-down dagger.

"That did a lot of good for Burton's pass confidence, that's for sure," Illing said. "That's something that we can take advantage of two weeks from now (against Central Davidson)."

In control, Davie probably would have pounded Salisbury into submission with clock-consuming runs, but in a 10-minute span Burton fumbled twice on broken plays - once at Salisbury 19 - and fullback Johnny Days coughed it up with 3 minutes left in the game.

Collins, however, added an insurance TD with 6:27 left, stopping on a dime, coasting 4 yards around the left end and culminating the scoring.

"If we could have just held onto it, we could have probably put them on the back burner and shut them out," Illing said.

The Hornets announced their arrival as a competitive team right off the line when Chris Phillips took the opening kickoff 94 yards for a 7-0 lead. Phillips wasn't touched.

"I don't know what to say," Illing said. "You get the kids pumped up, about filling lanes, and dog gone if he doesn't break it to the side and just toss it."

icky White, who gained 109 yards on rushes, fueled a 9-play, 79-yard scoring march - gaining 36 on the first fouls from scrimmage - and gritty Day finished it with a 9-yard burst.

From there, Salisbury had Davie's revamped playbook down, stagg the line and begging Burton to stop top. Davie only gained 31 yards the rest of the half, and Patrick May 12-yard field goal early in the second quarter gave Salisbury the half-time edge.

"I moved the ball the opening drive to we thought we could, but they rized that we weren't going to throw the ball that much, put nine guys in the line and started shutting our run down. Ad penalties (10 for 75 yards) just kill us. We'd have to punt it and our defae stayed on the field a long time in the first half."

Collins boomed five punts for nearly 4 yards. Fullback Neil Wagstaff produced again, averaging over six yds on seven carries. With Collins and Rod Tenor helping in the secondary, Blount only completed 14 of 37 passes, getting intercepted by Collins and Earle. Kenny White recovered his second fumble. After an 8-week, Central Davidson will be Davie's homecoming opponent on Sept. 25.

Defensive coordinator David Hunt offers words of encouragement to J.J. Rice and Jeremy Shoffner as John Bullins looks on.

Davie's success program took a big step in the right direction when Coach Pete Gustafson moved up from North Davie to take over the junior varsity. Coach Pete Gustafson said, "Oh, it's great. I learn a little something from him all the time. He's doing very well. I think he's very confident and a very, very good coach. He's helping out a lot. We need to keep him here."

Therein lies the rub. "He could be a head (varsity) coach right now," Gustafson said.

Gradually working his way up the coaching ladder will benefit Gustafson best, of course. He's only 25. "I'm telling him to be more vocal," Gustafson said. "I'm asking him to step in on our halftime (huddles). That's how much I respect him - to put his input in and constantly talk to each other." Gustafson coached Gustafson in his first year, 1991, when the senior set a boys record with 20 goals.

Although the Wildcats lack intimidating hitters that can knock teams on their heels, volleyball coach Trish King contends that this team will extend North Davie's winning tradition at least another year. "We have a lot of potential," she said. "This team is not as powerful as some other teams I've had in the past, but there's a lot more overall natural ability on this team. You won't see a lot of power hits or power serves, but you'll see a lot more consistency as far as passing goes."

JV Football Team Punishing Opponents

By Travis Peacock
Davie County Enterprise Record

After the loss to West Forsyth, Davie's JV football team has been punishing opponents. Last week, Davie shredded through defenses, outscoring opponents 75-6.

In a make-up game on Sept. 7, Davie ripped through North Iredell 42-6. North Iredell's lone points came on the first play of the game. From there, Davie's defense has been shutting down the competition.

Thursday, Davie visited Salisbury and gave them a 33-0 spanking. The defense was the story again. Freshman Patrick Lowrey kept the quarterback on the run all night, getting several sacks to his credit.

"Patrick did a great job. The whole defense did a good job," said Coach Doug Illing. "They played outstanding, and our special teams gave us good field position all night."

The offensive line is really stepping up and blocking for Mike Arnold and Doug Smith. Against Salisbury, the line cleared the way for two Smith touchdowns. Arnold also broke loose for a touchdown.

Not only is the offensive line block-

They didn't get it - Tabor and Reynolds rolled 9-0 - but they did give the coach everything she could ask.

"I was pleased with the fact that they worked hard, they didn't give up and they didn't get frustrated," Cozart said. "Again, I felt like our girls kept their composure, they kept working at it, we just kept making one little error when we didn't need to."

"Obviously, their experience is going to show through when you get to deuce and that kind of stuff, and we still struggled with that."

If Tabor is great, Reynolds is phenomenal, a defending 4-A state champion having trouble playing returning starters. That's unheard-of in any sport.

"Of course Tabor's tough, but Reynolds is in a class by themselves," Cozart said. "They're stout all the way through. Two of the people that played in the top six last year when they won the state dual title aren't even in the top six this year."

"They're just an awesome team. I don't think anybody around here has the depth all the way from top to bottom that Reynolds has."

Davie's brightest moments were a pair of close losses: Doubles partners Sarah Stein-Nancy Vogler and Kristen Powell-Molly Koontz both absorbed 8-6 setbacks.

Stein and Vogler clawed back to a 6-6 tie, faded with the match on the line, but Cozart liked the effort.

"They did a real good job," she said. "I was real pleased with that (comeback)."

Powell and Koontz, who also demonstrated some staying power, couldn't take advantage of their opponent's mistakes, making the loss considerably more painful.

"They had their chances to win that match," Cozart said. "They were real frustrated because they knew they had their chances to win, and they just hit a few shots (wide). Some of that is range of motion because they're still nursing injuries. But they are still just as fiery and competitive as ever."

Peeler, Pitts Lead Davie To First Place

Jerrine Peeler and Marshall Pitts are still looking for competition. Once again, they rolled to first-place finishes, leading Davie's cross country teams to blowout victories over South Rowan and South Stokes last week.

Pitts covered the course in 17:05 and Peeler edged teammate Lauren Poplin by 18 seconds (20:55 to 21:13) in the girls race.

Janel Darcy and Stacy Joyner took the third and fourth spots and Laurie Desch finished sixth as the girls dominated with 16 points, just one shy of another perfect score, to South Stokes' 48 and South Rowan's 62.

Behind Travis Ervin's fourth-place time were Justin Pullen, Kevin Ashley and John Cleverger - who finished sixth, seventh and ninth - as the boys prevailed 27-36 over South Stokes. South Rowan had 64.

Caroline Steed (13th), Meredith Hendrix (14), Elise Whitaker (17) and Anna Mackintosh (20) gave the girls nine of the top 20 finishes and Andy Boger and Cody Angell finished 19th and 20th for the boys.

Davie runs at Mt. Tabor on Sept. 16, then competes in the Tanglewood Invitational on Saturday.

 "The free safety and cornerback ran into each other," he said. "They were right there. I don't think either one saw that the other one was there, and ran into each other."
Batted Drive: The Wildcats mounted a sustained drive right off the bat, but a fumble put a sour taste in the Wildcats' mouths.
 "We were driving, got real close (to the end zone) and fumbled the ball," Boyley said. "So that hurt us. The way we were driving the ball, we would have scored. The offense moved the ball real well, the guys were running the ball hard and the line was making some good holes."

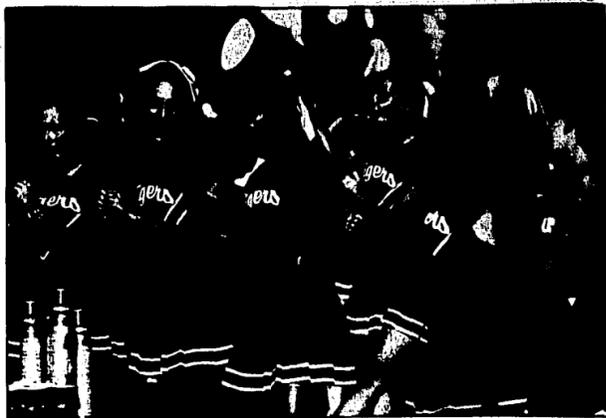

The missed opportunities, the near interception on the Riddle TD reception and the red-zone fumble, didn't darken Boyley's outlook.
 "We're really talented," he said. "We only have like 20 kids, but the ones we do have are quality athletes."
Not So Red After All: Whitlock expected the worst when only seven players arrived at the first practice with playing experience.
 But sometimes things aren't as bad as they seem.
 "Overall, I was pleased with them," said Whitlock, whose team got off and running with a 30-yard run from Riddle. "We're low on numbers, we're low on athletes, but they played hard. They gave me 110-percent effort, and that's

Davie Volleyball Defeats South Stokes

By Brian Pitts
 Davie County Enterprise Record

By Davie standards, it's hardly been a season to remember for the varsity volleyball team, although Dana Smith is making it a season to remember for herself.

Smith, an outside hitter who can hurt opponents with either hand, has been driving home balls with McGwire-like ferocity, leading the War Eagles past South Stokes 3-1 last week.

"Dana played real well," Coach Tammy Reavis said. "She hit everything hard and down. She served real good."

Smith's returns are equivalent to all-or-nothing hitters. She usually puts it down with such force that no one has a chance or she strikes out, hitting it wildly. But more times than not, Smith has blistered the ball between the lines.

"She's coming along real strong," Reavis said. "She hits it hard every time she hits it. She either hits it hard and down or she hits it in the net. I mean, if she hits it over the net, they don't usually play it."

Smith is a solid left-handed hitter in softball, but primarily plays volleyball the other way, although she has the ability to convert difficult shots with the left, versatility that Smith and Tisa Campbell have showcased regularly.

"Most of the time, (Smith's) been swinging right-handed," Reavis said. "But if the set's set real far out, she can swing left-handed. Tisa can do it, too, but those two are the only ones I've got that can."

Since South Stokes took perennial power West Forsyth to the wire, Reavis envisioned a fight. But the War Eagles romped, confusing Reavis, who has come to expect the unexpected from this rebuilding team (5-5 overall and 1-1 in the Central Piedmont Conference).

"The Central Piedmont Conference, so I was real concerned about them, whether they were going to be strong or not. South didn't play that good against us, and I don't know if they just played bad (against us) or West is not as good as they usually are."

With two state playoff berths available, every CPC team has basically one mulligan. The War Eagles used theirs in the 3-0 loss to Reynolds, forcing them into a do-or-die dilemma the rest of the way - unless front runners Reynolds and West slip unexpectedly against one of the second-wave teams (Davie, South Rowan, South Stokes).

"We're going to have to win the games like South Stokes, South Rowan and Mt. Tabor because West and Reynolds are always going to be at the top and we can't afford to drop a game," Reavis said. "We're going to have to beat West both times (to have a realistic shot at the playoffs)."

The flameout against Reynolds typified Davie's see-saw season. The War Eagles bolted to a 7-1 game-one lead, started struggling something awful and never recovered.

"We started off real good, they came back on us and beat us in three," Reavis said. "We can play with them. They are not as strong as they usually are. They are kind of like we are: They're up and down. They started off real shaky, but then they picked it up a notch."

Reavis praised the serving of Ember Spillman and Heather Schlepner in the win over South Stokes. ... Davie hosts Mt. Tabor on Thursday, plays at West Iredell on Sept. 21 and hosts South Rowan on Sept. 22.

JV Volleyball Team Coming Together For Wins

By Travis Pescock
 Davie County Enterprise Record

Coach Leo Brunelli's Davie JV volleyball team added two wins to its record last week against Reynolds and South Stokes, winning both.

In game one of the match against Reynolds, Davie got in trouble, losing the first 15-3. In the second game, sophomore Kim Hilton picked up the slack by scoring seven points in the 15-7 Davie win. The deciding third game was a lot closer with freshman Layne Groat stepping up with five points. It was Davie's first conference match. "We played well as a team. We made a great comeback after losing the first game," said Brunelli.

Two days later, the girls played South Stokes. The first game, all eyes were on Randi Moore as she scored six points to lead Davie to a victory 15-13.

Davie would not be so fortunate the second game, losing 15-8. The third and final game was another close game with Davie winning 15-12. Sophomores Tara Young and Kim Hilton led the team with a combined effort of 13 points.
 "We were down 12-8 in game three, and Tara Young served the final seven points for the victory," said Brunelli. "The girls are coming together as a team. Each member is playing a key role."

Tigers Win First Match

Kim Crofts won her coaching debut Thursday as South Davie's tennis team beat Mooresville 6-3.

Winners in singles matches were Sarah Williams, Carly Balsey, Allison Bowles and Stephanie Worsdarski and Ashley Prevette-Balsley and Bowles-Worsdarski triumphed in doubles.

"Deanna Shamel also played very close singles and doubles matches," Crofts said.

Ashley Boyd, Hollie Roberts and Jessica Flannagan won exhibition matches. "Ashley Powell and Brittany Crofts played a great exhibition match," Crofts said.

If She Pre-Qualifies For A Mortgage At CCB, She Could Upgrade To A Size 12D.

You may think pre-qualifying for a mortgage quickly and without any hassles was, well, as unbelievable as an elderly woman residing in a CCB shoe. But at Central Carolina Bank, happy endings are our specialty.

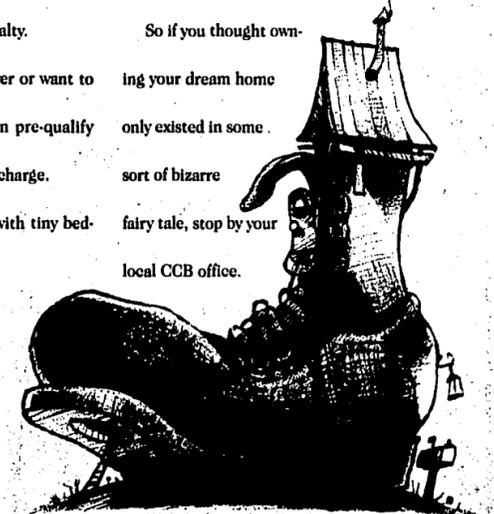

Whether you're a first-time buyer or want to upgrade to a larger home, we can pre-qualify you for a loan, quickly and free of charge.

If you're into oversized boots with tiny bedrooms, that's fine with us. But you should know that we can also help you purchase a real house. With considerably more room to boot. And you'll find we offer fully competitive rates.

In addition to a variety of financing options, just pre-qualify over the phone or in person and you'll be prepared up-front with all the information you need to close the loan. So if you thought owning your dream home only existed in some sort of bizarre fairy tale, stop by your local CCB office.

Varsity Redskins Defeat Bulldogs 24-0

The Cooleemee Redskins varsity football team defeated the Shady Grove Bulldogs 24-0 in Saturday's season opener.

Shady Grove coach Mike Seaford said: "Our boys obviously had some first-game jitters, but I felt we did play better in the second half. We gave a good effort and we hope to improve each week."

"I need to commend Cooleemee. They are a good team and played an excellent game. Right now, we want to put this loss behind us and keep the kids' spirits up. We just need to work hard to get ready for our next game."

Shady Grove JV Team Beats Redskins

It had been five years since the Shady Grove Bulldogs JV football team had won against the Cooleemee Redskins. But that all changed Saturday as the Bulldogs beat the Redskins 28-8 in the season opener.

Coach Maxie Melton credited the strong showing by the defense, particularly in the second half, as the key to the win. He was especially happy with the performance of Brad Stark, "who led the defense, setting the tone early in the game," Melton said. He had words of praise for the offense, saying it was hard to single out one player, because "they all did a great job."

The Bulldogs used most of the first quarter to march down the field and scored on a touchdown pass to Zack Myers. The Redskins tied the score at 8-0 at halftime. But in the second half, it was all Bulldogs as Shady Grove scored three rushing touchdowns—two by Josh Miller and one by Quinton Faulkner.

Standout players for Cooleemee were Christopher Brogden and Eric Lowery.

Freshman, Rookie Take Home The Football Money

Is this a changing of the guard? Have the veterans lost a step? Davie freshman Sara Erb and rookie player Wayne Mock nailed 32 of 39 football games each and swiped the spotlight from the contest's long-time experts. Erb emerged as the $25 winner by coming closer to the Davie-Salisbury tie-breaker (44 total points). Erb predicted 42 while Mock, who settles for $10, guessed 34.

Meanwhile, the Erbs had it going on. Sara's brother, Timothy, picked 31 of 39 for third place.

Jimmy Moon deserves a standing ovation. He marked out Florida State and went out on a fragile limb, picking the N.C. State Wolfpack, the 26-point dog who pulled off an upset for the ages. Moon, who missed nine, was the lone NCSU believer among the contenders.

Eight others hung around with nine misses: David Smith, Edwin Robertson, John Martin, S.B. Siddon Jr., Steve Frye, Mozelle Thompson, Will Junker and Bryan Eagle.

A Lot Of Nunsense Davie Theater Company Opening Season With Musical Comedy

There's a group of nuns on the loose in Davie County, spreading plenty of dance and song, laughter and general nonsense. They're members of the Davie Theater Company, getting ready for the production of "Nunsense" next week at the Brock Performing Arts Center, North Main Street, Mocksville.

"Also, some very gifted members of the community will make up the not-so-fortunate sisters who will dine on the deadly vichyssoise," Freda Ramsey said. "There's a lot of audience interaction. You don't have to be Catholic to enjoy the nonsense of Nunsense," she said. "It's been amazing to watch our choreographer work with the non-dancers. You will be amazed at the dances these ladies pull off."

What: Nunsense
When: Sept. 22, 24, 25, 26, 27
Where: Brock Performing Arts Center

This wacky and outrageous production features the little sisters of Hoboken who are putting on a fund-raiser to gain enough money to bury sisters accidentally poisoned by the convent cook," said director, Freda Ramsey. "With its hysterical anything goes sense of fun, this musical hit is bound to be a crowd pleaser."

The show will open Tuesday, Sept. 22 at 7:30 p.m. Evening performances are also scheduled for Sept. 24, 25 and 26. The last performance will be a 3 p.m. matinee on Sunday, Sept. 27. Admission is $10 for adults and $8 for senior citizens and children.

Janet Ball will portray Sister Mary Leo, Adriene Bridgewater will be Sister Mary Luke, Mary Carter will be Sister Mary Regina, Tammy Griffin will be Sister Robert Anne, Cheryl Halver will be Sister Mary Hubert, and Kimberleigh Ramsey will portray Sister Mary Amnesia.

Season tickets for the three productions - "A Tuna Christmas" in December and "The Miracle Worker" in March - are $25 for adults and $20 for senior citizens and children. Season ticket holders will receive priority seating, newsletters and be invited to opening night receptions. For more information, call 336-492-7806.

There will be a cameo appearance by Jason Jannas, a young dancer.

Nunsense promises to be fun, with plenty of singing and dancing for the audience to enjoy.

The talent - singing, dancing and acting - for Nunsense is among Davie County's best.

The all female cast of "Nunsense" has been working hard to make the first theater production of the season a success.

Director Freda Ramsey (That's her on the left.) is hoping to build community support for the theater company.

Homecoming will be Sunday, Sept. 20, at the Methodist church with dinner on the grounds following the worship service. There will be singing in the evening as a Revival Kick-off, featuring a special quartet. Revival services are on Monday and Tuesday nights with the Rev. Harold Zimmerman as guest speaker.

The young adult S.S. Class honored the Senior Citizens with a cookout Sunday night at the recreation center. Edith Zimmerman and Betty Comatz were Wednesday visitors of Edith's sister and Betty's schoolmate, Ruth Collette, in Winston-Salem. Ruth treated the ladies to lunch at the R&W Cafeteria on Healy Drive.

Our community expresses sympathy to Lib Carter and Jack Carter in the death of their husband and father, Milton "Bub" Carter. Also sympathy to the Minor family in the death of Vanda Merrell Minor.

Edith Zimmerman's grandson, Christopher Farley, arrived late Sunday afternoon to spend the night with her. Christopher was enroute to Atlanta from Virginia. He has been employed in Atlanta for the past several weeks at CNN as a free lancer SI (Sports Illustrator) and an assistant to the sportscaster, and helps sponsor shows, the highlights of news and sports. He visited with his grandmother until mid-morning Monday.

Mental Health Counselor Opens Practice In Davie

Davie County has a new mental health counselor with the opening of a private practice by Marc L. Williams, M.S., off James Church Road, north of Mocksville. Williams has 17 years of clinical experience treating children, adolescents and adults.

Williams, a licensed professional counselor, treats a wide range of problems, including depression, anxiety and panic disorders, marital problems, emotional and behavioral problems in children and teen-agers as well as adult survivors of physical and sexual abuse. He offers both short and long-term treatment, using individual, marital and family therapy. The needs of each client are unique, and Williams works with clients to develop personalized treatment goals that are realistic and achievable.

Williams obtained a master's degree in clinical psychology from Eastern Kentucky University in 1980. He has worked in a variety of professional settings, including several community mental health centers, Bowman Gray School of Medicine in Winston-Salem as well as in previous solo and group private practice. He is licensed in North Carolina and Virginia.

Williams sees clients in Mocksville on Tuesdays and Thursdays. He also has an office in downtown Salisbury on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Evening appointments are available in both offices. Fees are either covered by medical insurance or paid out of pocket, depending on personal circumstances.

A native of Virginia Beach, Williams has lived in Davie County for the past two years, having previously lived in Pflafltown in Forsyth County. "My wife and I have lived in Mocksville, and I'm excited to be able to practice my profession here," said Williams. "I look forward to using my skills and experience to serve the people of Davie County."

For further information about his practice, call Williams at 492-5065.

Mrs. Stephen Gregory Grimes

Couple Married At First Baptist Church

Jo Ann Murchison and Stephen Gregory Grimes of Siler City were married at the First Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 30, in a small private family wedding. The Rev. Brian Reynolds officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murchison of Goldston, and the granddaughter of Margaret Murchison of Goldston and Mary and Warren Fields of Annapolis, Md.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grimes of Siler City, and the grandson of Virginia Grimes of Coolemore and Ruth T. Budd of Siler City. The groom is employed at Budd Tire Company in Siler City and races professionally in the Late Model Stock division of NASCAR.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin sleeveless sheath, featuring a lace and jeweled neckline with subtle champagne threaded highlights. The chapel-length train was attached with a multi-layer bow. Her headpiece was a silk halo with oval cutouts accented with starbursts attached to a double-ring veil.

She carried a bouquet of white bridal roses and stephanotis, tied with satin and organza ribbon streamers.

Angela Talley of Southern Pines served as her sister's matron of honor. John Thomas Grimes, brother of the bride, rang a hand-bell to announce the beginning of the 3 p.m. service. Niece of the bride, Melissa Talley, and niece of the groom, Alaina Budd Grimes, were also present.

The wedding was followed by a dinner at the Governors Club in Chatham County.

Following a honeymoon trip to Cancun, Mexico, the couple will reside at 612 W. Sixth St., Siler City.

Storehouse Cuts Hours

Because of a shortage of volunteers, A Storehouse for Jesus has cut back on the hours they are open.

The new hours are: Monday 9 a.m.-noon; Tuesday 9 a.m.-noon; Wednesday 2:30-5:30 p.m.; Thursday 9 a.m.-noon; 3rd Saturday 9 a.m.-noon.

Monday night Bible study is at 7 and Thursday night chapel service is at 7.

"The Storehouse regrets any inconvenience this causes and wishes to thank you for your patience when they have to change. It is their hope that they will, at some point, be able to again increase the hours they are open. They express their sincere gratitude for your support and partnership in this ministry as they work to help the needy in our community and to share the gospel of Jesus Christ," said Marie Collins.

If interested in volunteering at the Storehouse, call Collins at 336-751-1060. There are opportunities for volunteers to work in addition to the hours the Storehouse is open.

The wedding is planned for Sept. 19 at Knollwood Baptist Church.

BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

Wayne Collins Is Your Personal Electrician

Electrical wiring is something anybody can do, right? Any fireman will tell you definitely, "No!" That's why smart homeowners turn to the services of a professional for electrical wiring and changes in their circuitry.

When you have a licensed electrician doing your jobs — small or large — you should always keep in mind that you have a professional installing your work, a person who has been schooled and properly trained in this work.

That's why homeowners have turned to Wayne Collins Electric for professional installation and the security that comes in dealing with a licensed pro.

Wayne Collins' slogan is "your best friend" in time of any electrical work.

Electrical work should not be done by hobbyists. Collins has been an electrician for 21 years. He formed his own company, Wayne Collins Electric, four years ago on a full-time basis. Collins holds an electrical degree from Forsyth Tech. A native of Winston-Salem, he is married to the former Patricia Foy. Her dad, J.B. Foy, is a retired policeman, and her mom, Jo, is a retired bank manager. The couple met at Parkland High School.

His wife, Patty, helps him in the business, routing the calls and scheduling his work. Their business philosophy is "The personal touch for your every electrical needs."

"It is sincerely meant," Patty said. "Our customers are of the utmost importance to us. We thank them for allowing us to meet their electrical needs and we strive to maintain those needs on a timely basis and with a caring attitude."

"We really enjoy the Clemmons area and the friendly people. Now is an excellent time to upgrade your service for heating time. Wayne does all types of wiring for heating, including baseboard. He also does basement remodeling, room additions, hot tubs and spas as well as plugs, light switches, bathroom exhaust fans, ceiling fans and light fixtures."

Call Wayne Collins Electric at 785-4873.

Collins cautioned homeowners about two things to be careful about with their electrical service:

- Homeowners should upgrade their electrical service. Older homes should convert to a breaker box from a fuse box for adequate service, especially if you are remodeling or adding on to your home. People use more electricity these days, overworking the old fuse system.
- Some times homeowners ask for a professional opinion and price from electricians and then let an unlicensed person do the job. Electrical work is too important for that.

- When ceiling fans or chandeliers are being installed, those heavy items have to be braced properly to avoid problems.

The next time you have an electrical need, call Wayne Collins Electric at 785-4873. Leave a message on the answering machine, and we will get back to you that evening or early the next morning. Remember, he's Your Best Friend in time of any electrical need.

Williams Chiropractic to host 'Kids Day' festival on Saturday

On September 19, 1998, chiropractic offices nationwide will be participating in "Kids Day America/International", a Health, Safety and Environmental Awareness Day. Dr. Paul W. Williams will be sponsoring the event locally at his office from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. at 2850 Middlebrook Drive in Clemmons.

Dr. Williams will be providing essential information on CRIME PREVENTION, CHILD SAFETY and ENVIRONMENTAL AWARENESS. Child ID cards will be donated by the doctor, and the Forsyth County Sheriff's Department will be on hand to provide FREE finger printing of all children.

There will be a special appearance by "McGruff" the Crime Dog, along with Sparky the Fire Dog. The Fire Department is bringing their fire truck and will be teaching fire safety tips for children.

Dr. Williams will be offering FREE spinal exams and scoliosis screenings as well as information on disease prevention and health promotion. "Free balloons, snacks, giveaways and prize drawings will occur every half hour."

We will also be receiving donations for the 1999 Special Olympics World Summer Games Host Town Program.

"Clemmons is hosting athletes from Macau next year, and we hope to raise additional funds to help make our Host program a success," said Dr. Williams. "My staff and I invite all of our friends and neighbors to join us at this FREE, fun-filled day for our community!"

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Shawn Dunn

Martin-Dunn Couple Wed In Mocksville

Charlene Renee Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Martin of Mocksville, and Tracy Shawn Dunn of Mocksville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunn of Clemmons, were united in marriage Friday, Sept. 4 at 2 p.m. in Mocksville.

The bride-elect attended Davie High School and is employed by Hayward Industries of Clemmons.

The bridegroom is a graduate of West Forsyth High School in Clemmons and is employed by Kertech. Out-of-town guests were Doyle Dunn of Florida, brother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin of Cheyenne, Wyo., brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Hepatitis B Vaccinations Recommended

The national Advisory Committee on Immunizations Practices voted to make new recommendations calling for all 11-12-year-olds to be vaccinated against hepatitis B and urging school health professionals to implement Hepatitis B programs in their schools. More than one third of the 300,000 Americans infected each year with Hepatitis B are between the ages of 15 and 39.

Beginning Sept. 29, the Davie County Health Department, in conjunction with the Davie County Schools, will offer Hepatitis B immunizations at no charge to sixth-graders attending North and South Davie Middle Schools. Hepatitis B shots protect children from being infected with Hepatitis B, a dangerous and sometimes cancer-causing liver disease.

"Our Sixth-Grade School-Site Hepatitis B Immunization Initiative is a convenient way to protect kids who didn't get the vaccine as infants," Joseph B. Bass, health director for Davie County Health Department said. "Since more than a third of the cases occur in 15 to 39-year-olds, it is especially important that we reach this age group."

MMR (red measles, mumps, and rubella) and TD (tetanus/diphtheria) vaccines will also be available to participating students, since these shots are recommended for adolescents who are not up-to-date with these immunizations. Hepatitis B is spread through contact with the blood or body fluids of infected individuals. More than 25 percent of reported cases have no identified means of transmission. In 1997 alone, there were approximately 900 reported cases of Hepatitis B infection in North Carolina.

Children should receive three Hepatitis B shots over a six-month period to be protected. Local health and school officials believe that offering the three-shot series in school will ensure that more children will be protected against the disease in the long run.

"We strongly encourage parents to take advantage of this opportunity to immunize their children against this deadly disease," Dr. William P. Speed, superintendent of Davie County Schools said. "This is a chance to save parents some time and do something that will continue to benefit our students long after they finish school."

If you are the parent of a 6th grade student at North or South Davie Middle School and have not received information in the mail about the Hepatitis B immunization program, please call the School Health Office at 751-7704. For more information about the vaccines, please contact the Davie County Health Department at 751-8700 or the School Health Office at 751-7704.

Class Of 1950 Holds 48th Year Reunion At Elbaville Church

Class members of the class of 1950 met Sept. 12 at Elbaville United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall for their 48th class reunion.

Barbara Waldrop and Betty Carlton welcomed the 10 members and their spouses. A memorial prayer was said by Tommy Comatzer for two of our deceased class members, Lee Seaford and Ailey Allen.

After reminiscing about old times, a meal was prepared by the ladies UMW of Elbaville United Methodist Church. Following the dinner, door prizes were presented by Betty Carlton. Gag gifts were also presented to all in attendance by Leona McCulloch. A poem she had written about Senior Citizens Medicare was read. Plans were discussed about the 49th reunion for next year.

Those in attendance were Barbara and George Waldrop, Betty and Larry Carlton, Gladys and Claude McNeil, Frankie and Don Ewerhart, Ella and Norman Smith, Leona McCulloch, Bet Barnhardt, Nancy Zimmerman, Betty Cope Fine, Shirley and Tammy Comatzer, Sarah Seaford, Marilyn Potts and granddaughter, Jessica Barnhardt.

Those not in attendance were: Avalon Potts, Bob Burton, Charles T. Hupp, Dot Hayes and Lavell Howard.

Seminar Planned

A seminar "Dealing With Traumatic Death: Murder, Accident and Suicide" will be held from 6:30-8:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 17 at the Davie County Senior Center, North Main Street, Mocksville.

Sponsored by Eaton Funeral Service, the seminar is open to the public and free.

Revival Scheduled

Shiloh Baptist Church at 544 E. Depot St. in Mocksville will celebrate its annual homecoming on Sunday at 3 p.m. Dinner will be served at 1:30.

The Rev. Norman C. Dudley and his congregation from Mount Nebo Baptist Church in Harmony will conduct the service.

Revival services will begin at Shiloh on Monday and continue throughout the week, beginning each night at 7:30. The Rev. B. J. Milton, the pastor of Boxwood Baptist Church in Mocksville, will be the evangelist for the week.

Pastor Donald Ray Jenkins of Shiloh invites the public.

Orange-striped Oakworm Causes Defoliation Of Hardwoods In Late Summer

The orange-striped oakworm is sometimes abundant on oaks in late August and September.

They occasionally feed on other hardwoods as well. The moth is brown with a white spot and a dark stripe on each forewing.

The moths emerge in June and July and deposit their eggs in clusters of several hundred on the underside of oak leaves. The eggs hatch in about a week or so.

The tiny, greenish caterpillars eventually grow into attractive black caterpillars with yellow or orange stripes running lengthwise along their bodies.

These caterpillars have a prominent pair of spines or slender horns sticking up behind the head. Young caterpillars feed in groups whereas older caterpillars tend to be solitary, although there may be thousands of caterpillars on a single tree.

Small trees are sometimes defoliated completely by midsummer. Even mature oaks may be defoliated to the point that there may be twig dieback due to sun scald or other factors.

As the caterpillars mature, they are often seen crawling along sidewalks, driveways and yards. These caterpillars may wander for a considerable distance while searching for a place to pupate. They dig into the soil three or four inches and pupate there. There is usually one generation per year, and the caterpillars overwinter as a pupae in the soil.

Control is complicated by the size of many of the infested trees. Most people do not have sprayers that can reach up high into shade trees, and by the time the caterpillars descend and crawl about the soil, they are extremely resistant to pesticides.

Fortunately, late summer defoliation is much less damaging to the health of trees than early spring defoliation. In most cases, it is probably better to rely on birds, diseases and parasites to lower the population next year.

If you have a question about this or any other pest, call the N.C. Forest Service at 751-5319 or the Davie County Extension Service at 751-6297 on any weekday.

William Joyner holds some of the large tomatoes he raised in his garden.

Davie Man Raises Big Vegetables

It had been a long time since he thought about raising a garden, but when William Joyner decided to try out his gardening skills this year, he wasn't disappointed.

Using only natural fertilizer and watering his garden about once a week, Joyner turned out a 15 pound cantaloupe and several tomatoes, weighing up to one and half pounds.

He chose Giant tomatoes and said he believes they taste better than other varieties he's had as well as growing to be so large.

Unable to work due to a disability called RSD, which is a weakness of the muscles caused by an earlier injury, Joyner said he decided to plant a garden to have something to do and take his mind off the pain he suffers in his hands and one of his knees. He is only able to work about three hours a day, he said.

In addition to the tomatoes and cantaloupes, Joyner's garden included squash, watermelon, bell and chili peppers.

In a smaller garden planted more recently, he has turnips, spinach, cauliflower and some tomatoes and peppers he hopes will start producing about the time those planted in the spring stop.

Joyner raised everything in his garden from seeds, he said.

A few of his plants have died, but that's to be expected, Joyner said.

He has enjoyed his gardening venture so much this year that he's already making plans for next year and feels confident that garden will be even better.

Book To Be Published

The Yadkin County Historical Society is preparing to publish The Heritage of Yadkin County, Volume II. Everyone with Yadkin County roots is invited to submit a family history article and photographs for this book. The Courtney Community Committee will host a workshop on Tuesday, Sept. 29, at the Courtney Elementary School on Courtney-Huntsville Road in the library. The workshop will begin at 6:30 p.m. For more information call Alice Brumfield at 679-7140 or Brenda Puckett at 679-3135 or 679-2467.

An antique truck show will be held in Spencer Saturday.

Truck Show To Be Held

The 11th Annual Antique Truck Show sponsored by the Piedmont Carolina Chapter of the N.C. Transportation Museum will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 19 at the museum on Hwy. 29/70, just off I-85 in Spencer.

Former Davie resident Lester J. Brown is coordinating the event, and local residents participate, he said.

The registration fee is $5, and dash plaques will be awarded to the first 100 entries.

A sampling of Corbiit trucks, built in Henderson from 1910-1953, will be of special interest. A highlight will be the slowest truck race.

Members of the American Truck Historical Society can register their vehicles by contacting Brown at 704-636-5384. Brown is chairman of the Piedmont Carolina Chapter of ATHS and as secretary on the board of directors of the NCTM Foundation, a non-profit support group of the museum.

For event information, contact Larry Neal at 704-636-2889. Admission will be $1.

'Tongues Of Fire' To Be Performed In Mocksville

When she was a little girl, North Carolina writer Leo Smith gave a tea party for God. In her story "Tongues of Fire" she stretches that offering into a literary feast of story about a teenager's coming of age.

An original adaptation of this story will be performed by the Touring Theatre Ensemble of North Carolina at the Brock Performing Arts Center in Mocksville on Oct. 9 at 8 p.m. as part of a weekend of southern fiction adapted for the stage. The event, "southern fiction Revival," Oct. 9-11, will include three plays, workshops for writers, film and children's theatre.

"This is a celebration of the literary arts using performance art in theatre and film" said Nancy Norton, executive director. "We have filmmakers from the School of the Arts, professional actors from Winston-Salem and High Point, as well as local talent included in this weekend production. It is an extraordinary event, one not to be missed.

For a brochure and ticket information on the "southern fiction Revival" call 336-751-3112 or write to the Davie County Arts Council, 622 N. Main St., Mocksville, NC 27028; Fax 336-751-3479.

The adaptation of "Tongues of Fire" features North Carolina actress Sarah Kelly as the young Karen, a teenager whose antics and outspoken opinions about herself and those around her are brought to life in this incredibly funny production. The production also features Susan McMullen as the adult Karen, and Deborah Kintzing as Mama.

Brenda P. Schleunes, adapter and director of the production, says, "Narrative fiction, when written in the first person, is a story that is filtered through the lens of memory. Some of the voices in the story, as they are recalled by the narrator, are more vivid than others; some events loom larger than others. It is upon this concept of memory that we have built this production."

Lee Smith's prose is so rich that there would be many ways in which to stage "Tongues of Fire," this is but one. Lee Smith has said about the production, "What a fabulous show you have wrought...I couldn't be more pleased."

Report From Washington: What A Mess

By Dwight Sparks
 Davie County Enterprise Record

WASHINGTON, D.C. — You've heard about the mess in Washington. Perhaps you've even read some of the pornography oozing from the Capitol.

Your intrepid editor traveled there Friday to find out what's going on.

Not invited to the President's prayer breakfast, I went to the Capitol where Congress was voting 363 to 63 to release the Kenneth Starr report.

Talk about being in the right place at the right time... "You have to be in bullpen," a Congressional guard barked at me.

Me? "Photographers have to stand in the bullpen." Just like that, I joined the Congressional press corps at the steps of the Capitol.

"Where ya from?" one asked. North Carolina. "What do they think about the President in North Carolina?"

He's a goner, I told him. Then the parade started. Slowly, slowly, the congressmen started leaving the House chambers at noon after their break. They left a few at a time, descending the steps slowly, deliberately.

"Congressmen, may we have a word?" the reporters shouted.

There is no sweeter phrase to a Congressman's ear. Like the Siren's call, drawn like a moth to the flame, they come closer. They always have a word for a row of cameras.

Republican congressmen spoke gravely about the seriousness of impeachment. They don't want to do it, but... we have no choice but to go forward. Duty demands it. Democratic congressmen urged restraint.

"Let's not rush to judgment," they echoed. "We haven't yet heard the President's side of this."

But they were universally shocked, dismayed by all the talk of sex in the White House. The Starr report is enough to make anybody blush.

Where's the Whitewater stuff? the Democrats asked. Where's all the details about the Arkansas land deal that provoked Kenneth Starr's investigation four years ago?

One northern Virginia congressman, Democrat James P. Moran Jr., tried to stand by the President, tried to hang on to the hope that the truth wasn't as bad as the report said. President Clinton should have been able to review the Starr report in advance, he said, predicting a major Internet crash that afternoon caused by everyone trying to get the report.

Sen. Arlen Specter of Pennsylvania said the impeachment proceedings would be slow and deliberate. In an impeachment hearing, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court presides over Congress, he said, and that would help guarantee the process would not be partisan.

Republican congressmen tried not to look smug. Democratic congressmen tried not to look bewildered and lost. But some must have feared it was time to contact a Beltway real estate agent. Their election is less than two months away, and Democrats in close races may lose because of Clinton's misdeeds.

Across town, President Clinton had finished his prayer breakfast with ministers, rabbis, priests and shamans from across the country. He all but put on King David's sackcloth and ashes to beg forgiveness.

Congress wasn't in a forgiving mood. They were too busy reading the steamy details in the Starr report.

I was having a great time, living out my long-ago dreams of being a Washington correspondent. I didn't go to Washington for this. I had accompanied my wife on the trip for her business. But I had Friday to myself. I boarded the Metro and headed for the Capitol with camera in hand. Big things were happening.

I looked long and hard for our North Carolina guys, Cass Ballenger, Richard Burr and the rest. I would have said they were so busy they skipped lunch that day. But then I learned the secret to finding your congressman.

All the other reporters had cell phones and were busy calling the congressmen's offices to say there were cameras waiting outside. Those congressmen weren't casually drifting down the steps. They had a date with a camera.

I watched the parade go by and discovered several things about congressmen.

They're just like you and me, except they dress better. They have better barbers. They have good tans. And they're glib.

And some of them are even celebrities. "There's Congressman Kennedy!"

Rep. Kennedy, D-Mass., attracted a mob of reporters and tourists when he descended, tracking him across the parking lot on his way to lunch.

A bearded, unwashed and smelly protester berated the crowds waiting in line to tour the Capitol with his own interpretation of events. He seemed to have direct contact with several ex-Presidents who told him — personally — they had done the same thing.

The Washington Post on Friday printed several humorous ideas about how parents should talk to their children when they ask about Clinton's problems.

Here's three of the Post's suggested techniques: "The Diversionary Approach: 'Honey, President Clinton had what we grown-ups call an 'affair,' and by the way, you are adopted...'"

"The Elliptical Approach: 'Sometimes, when a man and a woman love each other very, very, very much, the man is impeached by Congress.'"

"The Ourght Lie: 'You may have noticed a great deal of news in the last few days. You may be wondering what it is all about. It is about extreme fluctuations in the stock market, which you wouldn't understand...'"

The Baltimore Sun retraced Monica Lewinsky's steps last week. She bought the blue dress at The Gap, but no one there would talk. No one would talk to the reporter at the restaurant where Linda Tripp turned her over to the FBI. But the reporter did find a talkative ex-hair dresser who said Monica blabbed to him about everything... but President Clinton.

So, how are things in Washington? Confused.

At one minute, everybody is convinced President Clinton is going to be impeached. The next minute, people argue the Republicans enjoy his misery so much they don't want to get rid of him. He's helped elect so many of them to Congress. When Clinton was first elected in 1992, there were 102 more Democrats than Republicans in the House. Now, there are 20 more Republicans than Democrats, and that gap is expected to widen in November. In the Senate, there were 14 more Democrats than Republicans in 1992. Now, there are 10 more Republicans than Democrats.

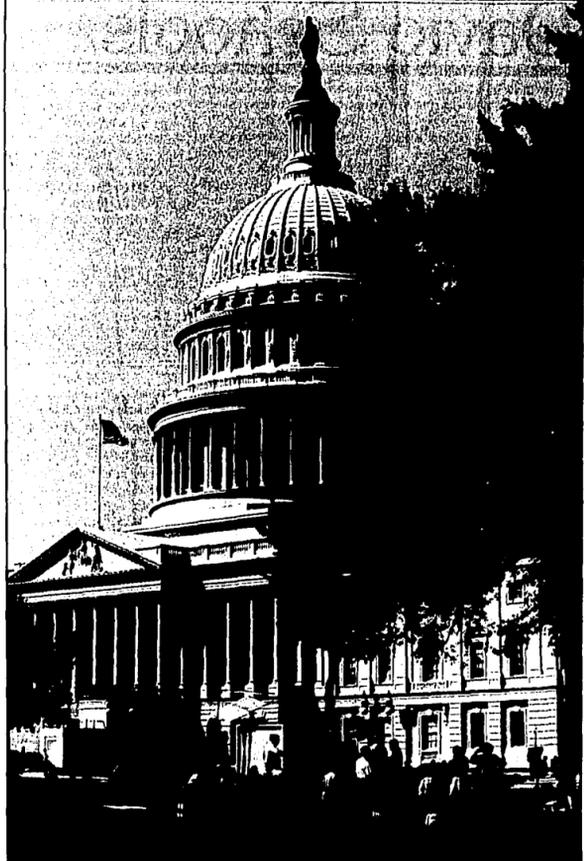

Two women in a jewelry store in Virginia on Saturday were mad about the Starr report's vivid details.

They felt sorry for Hillary Clinton, for Chelsea. All that stuff didn't have to be in there, they said.

Many newspapers across the country have published the complete Starr report, sparing none of the details, none of the abundant sex talk.

Back home again Monday, I got the local point-of-view.

One of the customers at York's Exxon lamented the loss of morals, the loss of decency, the loss of shame. "They're not going to do nothing," he said. He may be right.

Davie JobReady Partnership Receives Funding

The Davie JobReady Partnership received notification recently from the N.C. Dept. of Commerce that their continuation grant application has been accepted and funded. The partnership is a group of approximately 30 local people from business, education, and government who are working together to improve the system of career preparation for students. The Partnership received a $100,000 grant last school year, and the continuation grant for this school year will bring another $70,000 to the county.

Job Ready News

Several JobReady activities were conducted over the summer in anticipation of another year of funding.

Five educators attended a model schools conference to pick up ideas for local use. Ten educators toured three local businesses to learn about employment opportunities in Davie County.

Someone of the things that the JobReady Partnership is working on include a comprehensive career guidance program, expansion of work-based learning, increased opportunities for educators to acquire local labor market information for use with students, development of a "functional curriculum" for selected exceptional children, and elimination of barriers to employment and post-secondary education.

High School for counselors and administrators on new software which will be used for registration and information management. A careers unit of instruction in the Freshman Success course at Davie High was revised. Three counselors continued work on the elementary guidance program. Dozens of students participated in work-based learning experiences of various types.

JobReady funds are federal dollars which are made available to states through the School-to-Work Opportunities Act of 1994. Davie County could potentially receive a third year of funding after this year. When grant funds end, other resources will have to be used to sustain local efforts.

Training was conducted at Davie

for an abused and neglected child

For the approximately 47 abused and neglected children brought into protective custody in Davie County each year, the future is uncertain. In each case, a volunteer advocate is needed to investigate and recommend a safe place and services for the child. Could you step in and represent the best interest of such a child?

If so, you can become a Guardian Ad Litem.

Guardian ad Litem are everyday people who care about the well being of children. They have time to volunteer and the commitment to work in building a better future for an abused and neglected child. You can be someone who makes a difference in a child's life.

Call Susan B. Scott, program supervisor, at 336-751-0177. Volunteer training begins in October at the Davie County Public Library.

Davie High Asks Ministers To Help Influence Students

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Last Wednesday, hundreds of Davie students went to school early. To pray. It wasn't a school function. It was something they wanted to do.

Before every football game at Davie High School, they have an invocation.

Dr. Bill Steed, Davie Schools superintendent, said that while the separation of church and state is a fine line, the community standards in Davie County make it OK to pray. "We do that because our community wants us to do that. I've had people from other communities say they appreciate that."

Students are given the option of saying a prayer at graduation, and each class has chosen to include prayer as part of their graduation ceremony, Steed said.

Last week, Steed and Davie High's principals met with a group of area ministers, asking for their help in steering young people in the right direction. The meeting was the result of another, which focused primarily on young people who get in trouble. One of the suggestions was ways to involve churches and other positive people in the community.

"You are always welcome at our schools," Steed said. "Anyone on your staff is welcome."

School board member David Owens said the First Amendment is often misunderstood. Some places, even schools, are hostile to people of faith.

"This is a joint effort of us working together," Owens said. "We all care about young people very deeply. There are a lot of positive things going on here. Our young people need all of our help, support and prayers."

Owens said it "did my heart good" to see the young people show up before school "pouring their hearts out to the Lord." "Hopefully, they can reach out and bring other young people in," Owens said.

Mark Jones said that excuses for problems among young people are just that. "Until we get institutions of faith involved on a daily basis, you're not going to see a

High School Drug Testing? Most Students Say Proposed Policy Would Be Unfair

By Jessie Burris
Davie County Enterprise Record

Students have widely differing opinions about whether or not drug tests should be administered to students at Davie High School as the board of education is considering.

A large percentage of those questioned believe drug testing would be an invasion of privacy and unfair to students.

"What we do on weekends is our problem," said one student.

Senior Tracy Baker agrees that drug testing is the wrong action to take.

"Not only is [drug testing] invading our privacy, but it is unfair to those who are not suspected of doing such. Giving the drug test is like saying as teenagers we have to watch what we do outside the classroom just to satisfy the school system," Baker said.

"I think that drug testing interferes with search without probable cause. If they suspect drug use, then give a test. But what's the point if there are no signs? It would be a waste of money," said Tiffany Worden, a sophomore.

"School has nothing to do with what students do on the weekend," said sophomore Jennifer Whaley. "If [the school board] makes [students] take it without just cause, they should make the administration."

Erin Smith, a sophomore, said, "I don't believe that the cost of school-wide drug testing justifies the invasion of privacy."

But some students believe that drugs are a problem at Davie High and that testing for drugs could reduce that problem.

"I think that the drug testing is a good idea because, if they're not using drugs, [students] have nothing to worry about. But if they are,

Mocksville Planners Say No To Apartments - Again

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Last March, Rudi Faak asked Mocksville to rezone land he owns off Madison Road for apartments.

The town's planning board, after hearing complaints from neighbors, recommended against the rezoning request. Faak withdrew the request before it made it to the town board.

Last week, the developer again took his plans to the planners, and again it was recommended for denial.

The episode left Lash Sanford, a new member of the board, asking a simple question. "Why are we back? What are you doing that is different?" Faak's attorney, Warren Casper, said the reason was just as simple. Apartments make a good transition between the single-family residences along Madison and industrial land just rezoned by the town along I-40. "This is consistent with the town's master plans," he said.

Just as in March, the town hall was filled with neighbors opposing the plan. Several spoke on their own, and an attorney spoke on their behalf as well. Almost all of those residents, the ones who bought homes from Faak, testified that he promised him that the land behind their homes would be developed in a single-family style.

"We were shown a map of the subdivision," said Rachel Joyce. "Our first question was what's going behind us? We were

Company May Move To Mocksville, Bringing 120 Jobs, Adding 40 More

Precision Concepts may be bringing its operations to Mocksville.

If plans go as envisioned, 40 more jobs would be added to the company's work force of 120, most of which would benefit low and moderate income area residents.

The Mocksville Town Board this month approved applying for $320,000 economic development grant, with the town paying $110,000, to extend water and sewer services to the site off U.S. 601 North near Horn's Truck Stop.

The idea didn't sit well with Wade Dyson, who said he is concerned about the town's rapid growth. Davie County has taken the lead to reduce personal welfare, and should do the same with businesses, he said.

"This is corporate welfare," Dyson said. A company in good financial condition should be able to afford to pay its own way.

The contract will require Precision Concepts to hire the additional 40 employees to its work force, said Steve Davenport, a senior planner with Benchmark, the company making the application for the town. "They have to make a commitment to do what they say they will do ... to actually create the jobs and bring the number of people they say they are going to bring," Davenport said.

The town board unanimously adopted a resolution to apply for the grant.

In last week's Enterprise, the CVS circular was inserted on the wrong week. We regret any inconvenience this may have caused.

School Board's Testing For Wrong Substance

When it gets in trouble, count on the Davie County Board of Education to overreact. That's what the board is doing now with its decision to adopt a new drug testing policy.

The board is considering urine tests to determine if athletes are using drugs.

Instead of testing athletes, school superintendent Bill Steed wants to test everybody. There's some major constitutional reasons preventing that. It's illegal.

School board members have talked about testing students who participate in extracurricular activities — athletes, band members, debate club, Students Against Drunk Driving, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the Spanish Club ... That should do wonders for participation.

Students at Davie High must be asking why they are under a cloud of suspicion as drug users. Will teachers, already burdened with paper work, now have to balance dozens of vials of urine in the classroom? Will we have to raise taxes to pay for 1,600 drug tests? What about lawsuits for invasion of privacy, false test results and switched urine?

All the ideas have been hatched since Davie High School reversed its zero-tolerance policy for alcohol and drugs to keep three players eligible for the football team. None of the solutions offered, however, address the cause of the controversy: alcohol. Urine testing is for marijuana, not alcohol.

To test for alcohol, students might have to submit to a breathalyzer during school. Constitutional issues. Urine tests. Breathalyzers. Lawsuits. Maybe that old policy wasn't so bad. It was simple and direct. Violators were excused from the team.

The only problem was enforcement. To do that, the school should have been submitting superintendents and principals to another test: for backbones.

Pink Flamingos Testing Davie's European Village

What good are laws and regulations if no one enforces them? That's what Bert Bahnsen wants to know.

He's selling pink flamingos at his corner of N.C. 801 and Interstate 40 in Hillsdale. A mobile marquee proclaims his "Kindertown Pink Flamingo Sale." Last week, the first batch of lawn ornaments had sold at $10 each.

Bahnsen knows he's violating Davie County's sign ordinance. His sign — complete with colorful banners — is expressly prohibited by zoning regulations.

But he's not worried. Davie County doesn't seem to enforce its rules any more, Bahnsen says. He says one of his neighbors, the new Kinderton development on the old Win-Mock Farm, has an illegal sign, too. It's right across from commissioner Carl Boon's house. If Kinderton doesn't have to follow the rules, why should Bahnsen? His sign is actually bait, just waiting for the first zoning officer to come along. But enforcement is lax.

Bahnsen is playing a cultural war with his neighbor. Pink flamingos are supposed to be the tackiest sort of yard art. The affluent Kinderton will be styled after a European village.

Commissioners have approved more than 552 homes on the property. Bahnsen's farm is next door, and he's worried that Stratford-On-Yadkin denizens won't like their country neighbor.

In The Mail ...

Harsher Sentence Would Have Been Accepted

To the editor: We are students at Western Carolina University, and members of the '98 graduating class of Davie High School. We were also teammates of all the involved parties in the infamous "Football Drinking Incident." We were told about the events shortly after they took place and were disappointed with the players' actions. Then the ensuing conflict was even more disappointing to us.

First, let us make it clear that we are not writing solely to criticize the punishment; we are embarrassed at the whole situation. It is understood that we teenagers are going to make mistakes but, at the same time, we know the consequences of being caught. Guys, we signed the same paper as you all and we knew what would happen if we were caught. It was obviously bad judgment on your part. As for Mrs. Bost, we were also somewhat disappointed with your judgment. But that wasn't our decision to make, realizing the stress involved. As stated, we signed the same agreement and understood the consequences. We were very appreciative of your and the entire administration's involvement with the program. Yet rules are rules, precedent or not. It would never be easy to have football taken away, but an all-conference soccer player has now had that taken away. To Mr. Larew, we feel it would have been the same no matter what races were involved. Mrs. Bost has never been biased to race.

DHS Band Not Underwritten By Football

To the editor: As president of the Davie Band Boosters, I feel compelled to correct a misleading statement in the letter from Robert Kofke which appeared in last week's Enterprise. Mr. Kofke implied that since football is the biggest money-generating sport at the high school, it supports all other sports and activities — including the marching band. This is simply not the case.

Now, the question: can the county get over what was done? Whether you agree or not, what is done is done. Now it is time to move on and remember the team's accomplishments, not scoff at a few players. Once again, we are not criticizing the decision alone. We are very disappointed at our friends' actions, driver and passengers. Just so it is clear, we would have wanted the same mercy but knowing the consequences, would have accepted a harsher sentence.

Students Committed A Serious Crime

To the editor: This whole paradox would be quite laughable if it weren't so very sad, with so many negative implications.

less when the designated driver is an unlicensed 15-year-old.

On page 1 of the Sept. 17 issue of the Enterprise, we learn that "members of the Davie County Board of Education want to send a clear message to students: drinking and using drugs will not be tolerated in Davie County Schools, and it's not the right way to act anywhere."

Ten years ago, my parents were killed when their truck was hit head on by a young man who had just a few beers. I know first-hand the devastation that occurs when you mix alcohol with a 2,000 lb. vehicle. I'm very thankful that the night of the season opener didn't end in grave tragedy.

Rest assured, members of the board and Ms. Bost, your message has been made both loud and clear to all Davie residents, especially students.

On second thought, maybe it did. But, like Robert Kofke so aptly put in his letter to the editor last week, "Football players do get special treatment. They always have and they always will."

The many reasons why this predicament is so absurd have already been adequately stated. The fact is, these three boys committed a serious crime that had nothing to do with football. Driving with open alcohol in the vehicle is against the law, much

I'll bet the players involved in this incident were glad they chose football over tennis or volleyball. Come to think of it, I'll bet O. J. Simpson was glad he chose football as well.

If Policy Won't Stop Drinking, Maybe Punishment Would

To the editor: I am writing in response to Mr. Robert Kofke's letter printed in the Sept. 17 edition of the Davie County Enterprise. Mr. Kofke said football was "the premier sport of the school" and that football players get special treatment from everyone although they didn't ask for it. These two statements are true, but I don't believe that the boys caught drinking deserve special treatment.

harsh and so ineffective, why did you allow your son to sign the paper stating he agreed to follow the policies? Also, it seems odd that you didn't say anything against the policy until it should have been put into effect.

Everyone does deserve a second chance... next year. Obviously, these boys didn't have too much to lose, otherwise they wouldn't have put their love of football in danger by getting drunk. They knew the consequences.

I have a question for you, Mr. Kofke. You wrote that the punishment for being caught drinking was harsh and ineffective. If the punishment was so

Mr. Kofke wrote, "The current policy does not stop student athletes from drinking." He also wrote that the policy had been in effect for 23 years and had not been enforced until now. So, this policy had stopped students from drinking for 23 years. If the policy didn't work, does anyone really believe lightening the punishment would? Although knowing the policy may not have stopped the athletes from drinking, maybe the punishment would have.

First Show At Performing Arts Center Successful

To the editor: The first art show at the new Performing Arts Center was a huge success. A major part of the credit goes to the Davie Enterprise. A few weeks ago I received an envelope with flyers on art shows from Nancy Norton, executive director for The Davie County Arts Council. It included a note asking me if I could find time to coordinate an art show for The Performing Arts Center. Sounds like fun! I thought, then I looked at the first date, September. My first reaction was, no way, artists plan their shows way in advance, needing time to paint and be at the mercy of their framer's schedules. In addition, there would be no time for me to put up posters, write press releases. My second thought was that it would be fun, and within a few minutes, I was on the phone calling artists. Sue Boggs and Faye Self had work ready and framed. Sue, excitedly said "Don't worry, I'll help hang the show. What do you need?" Within a few days I'd dashed off a fast note to the Davie Enterprise and within hours the newspaper was on the phone calling Sue and Faye, setting up interviews. I know how long it takes to get pictures developed and an article written. The Enterprise made a special effort to get the article in before the reception. We had a great crowd turn out; the hors d'oeuvres, provided by the art council, were wonderful and everyone was impressed with the artwork. The next art show will be hung in the gallery on the first of November and will hang until Dec. 20. This show will feature several artists, working in different media. The art will be for sale. A multi-artist spring show is also planned and will be open to all residents of Davie County. Thank you, Davie Enterprise for the big part you play in bringing and promoting the visual arts in Davie County.

Don't Take Privacy From Youth, Responsibility From Parents

To the editor: Leave us our privacy and our responsibility. After reading all the letters to the editor in the last two issues of the Enterprise, I have been persuaded both ways, for and against rules and mercy. Please read as I have tried to settle this issue in my mind. One scripture keeps coming to my mind: "Those among you who are without sin, cast the first stone." And let's get real. Who in this world told any of us that life is fair. While we are all created equal, we are not all destined to be equal. Some become football players, some become great football players, not because we're necessarily born that way, but because we find in ourselves a passion for a certain something, and that in itself is a great determiner. We are all predestined to one purpose, and that is to become like Jesus.

Who needs a lie detector test anymore? Please don't take our youths' privacy and the chance to be responsible away from them or the parents. If schools do drug tests, even with positive reinforcement, it would only serve to separate the weeds from the wheat. I hope we don't want to determine this by a drug test. I would sincerely hope that this is not the only intelligent way of discerning who is or isn't "good" enough to play sports, get a scholarship, or who will succeed at our standards. A drug test wouldn't have revealed all of President Clinton's sins.

We give the evils of this world too much power to destroy us. We are the evils of this world to make children live with our standards. The reason I have had such a hard time settling this issue in my mind is, believe it or not, I'm not perfect. I just thank God for His first showing me where I'm wrong, and then thank Him for His mercy and grace, and love Him more. I repent from some things, and try to do better, with His help, in others. That is all we can ask of our children. If they refuse to live by this grace and mercy, then they choose to be delivered to the law.

Being a teenager means experiencing adulthood, a beginner who will make mistakes. Allow them their mistakes, make them responsible, and let them learn from their mistakes, and if they are really smart, they will, and if they are genius, they will learn from each other's mistakes. Let's just hope they don't make it to the presidency without having learned something.

My deepest concern is not what has transpired and who will or will not be punished, if that punishment meets the crime or not, but who is to do the punishing. My fear is that we are becoming a police state. While schools should have policies to guard against disruptions to the academic procedures and potential mental growth of each student, the schools and employers, for that matter, are way out of their realm of authority when it comes to people's private lives. Drug testing, if the community feels it is necessary, should only be used for positive reinforcement, counseling services, rehabilitative services, educational services. A forewarning should be given to taxpayers though that any governmental preventative program only has 5 percent success rate while a Christ centered program such as Teen Challenge has an 86 percent success rate.

I've read time and time again that the majority of people behind bars are there as repeat offenders. They failed to learn the lesson the first time, so they circulate back through the system as our expense. I'd go forward with my proposition to bring back public court square hangings (as in raising the bar of punishment for serious crimes back where it should be), but that's another session in front of the keyboard entirely. When rules are made, someone should stand by them.

Integrity Is Real Issue For County

To the editor: I am a 1996 graduate of Davie High School, stationed with the Navy in Charleston, S.C. The recent hot topic on the editorial page struck a chord with me, in particular Mr. Robert Kofke's letter dated Sept. 17. I could not care less about how big football is as a sport. Davie High School does not exist to provide athletic exhibitions for the community. It exists to provide a young teenager with skills needed to go off to work or college after four years and live a successful life. After-school sports are supposed to be fun and nothing more.

What happens when we turn our backs on anyone who breaks a rule? Why are we struggling as a nation to keep criminals behind the walls of prisons that are full to the brim? We didn't set the example with every individual that broke a rule. We let murderers go after serving 15 years of a life sentence, so that a double murderer can have his rack. I've read time and time again that the majority of people behind bars are there as repeat offenders. They failed to learn the lesson the first time, so they circulate back through the system as our expense. I'd go forward with my proposition to bring back public court square hangings (as in raising the bar of punishment for serious crimes back where it should be), but that's another session in front of the keyboard entirely. When rules are made, someone should stand by them.

I have personally witnessed at least one instance in which a top athlete "back in my day" had his schedule shuffled around so that he would have at least a prayer of getting grades good enough to continue football and wrestling. I can't begin to describe to you, the reader, how much that irked me then and how much it disturbs me now in the wake of a similar instance.

Mr. Kofke, who is going to have any sympathy for the "points" raised in your editorial when a drunken teenager slams into somebody's car, and snuffs out a life? I'll agree with you. Kids are going to experiment. Now they just have a little respect for the severity of any consequences that they may or may not have to face when they get caught. Gives me all kinds of warm fuzzies.

I can also remember a myriad of tales of students snickering and bragging in class about sneaking alcohol at their parents' houses while they were away. Stories of happenings at events that parents were told were "sleep-overs" or "camping trips" came up a lot as well. These tales usually involved alcohol and (cover the kids' eyes) sex. I was in classes that consisted largely of football, basketball, and baseball players. Add the cheerleaders to mix as well. Go figure.

The program under which I serve in the Navy is built on integrity. The American Heritage Dictionary refers to integrity as "steadfast adherence to a strict moral or ethical code" and I feel as though it's obvious that Davie County has an integrity issue here. It's school system didn't stand by what it said. In my job, if my superiors ever feel as though I have an integrity problem, I go from running a nuclear reactor to chipping paint. A kid's job back in Davie County is not to play football. It's to earn the grades and I don't understand how in the world it can be looked upon as any different.

Parents, read carefully. Have times really changed that much since you and I were in school? Have you checked your liquor cabinet lately? When was the last time your kid came in from a full night away from your house and just went straight to bed, avoiding you like the plague? Are memories of your high school days coming back? Things you used to do? Kids are going to drink. Kids are going to drive fast. Kids are going to steal.

In closing, whether your child is of the mold of Joe Montana or Bill Gates, leaving the rod spoils the child.

Coolseeme Maintains A Way Of Life That Is Worth Preserving

In an age of decaying downtowns and abandoned strip malls, sometimes it seems there's no place for those of us who believe the past is worth preserving and that newer doesn't always mean better.

It's little wonder Coolseeme has won the hearts of newcomers and held a special place in the memories of all who once called it home, for it is a rare place where the past lives in harmony with the present.

Joanne Galtner

The people of Coolseeme take pride in their heritage and strive to preserve it. Many of them live in houses that once belonged to their parents or their parents' parents.

The textile mill around which their town grew ceased to operate long ago, but they have fought to maintain the mill village way of life.

They've had a mural of the old downtown painted on a wall at that mill, turned the house that was once home to the mill manager into a first-rate museum and keep the pool where children have been swimming for 50 years in shipshape for the latest generation.

The children of Coolseeme can describe the jobs their grandparents performed at the mill decades ago and are among the most enthusiastic volunteers preparing for Coolseeme's centennial celebration to be held Saturday.

Of course, in Coolseeme there's never a shortage of volunteers for worthwhile causes like renovating their aging public swimming pool or making repairs after a fire damaged classrooms at their elementary school.

They volunteer to help children learn to read, to get out of bed in the middle of the night because a neighbor's fire alarm sounded and to clear out the overgrown hollow where their grandparents used to play to create a new nature park.

Coolseeme is a place where neighbors are still neighborly, rushing to the aid of anyone in the community who has a need. They provide yard work, rides to the grocery store and doctor's office and deliver the mail for their neighbors.

Many a crime has been prevented by neighbors watching out for neighbors, and they find a way to make sure that every child in town has a present to open on Christmas morning.

Receiving virtually no compensation, Coolseeme's elected officials and their families devote hours of every week to the betterment of their town. They are truly servants of the public, and I'll bet there is no other board meeting in the county where a commissioner would bring vegetables from his garden to share with everyone in attendance — even the newspaper reporters.

To live in a place with folks who still care about their neighbors is a blessing. Coolseeme is the kind of hometown just about everyone would like to have — one blessed with a century of hard-working, hospitable people. Happy birthday, Coolseeme. And many more.

change. Young people are hungry for truth and there's only so much government can do."

The ministers and other church workers are welcome to volunteer just as anyone else does, said Davie High Principal Linda Bost. "There's not one aspect of our school that does not need your involvement."

Just having ministers visible on campus would be a great benefit. Word gets out quickly among students, she said, and they could go to the ministers if they have a problem. "You would be in a position that students can opt to come talk to you."

Being at school during lunch would be a good chance for ministers to meet with students, she said.

There are several clubs with a Christian focus, and a Bible history class is offered, Bost said.

From kindergarten through high school, there are character building classes and activities, teaching right from wrong, morals, Steed said. "Hopefully, as we bring them up from kindergarten through high school, this will make a difference."

Bost urged the ministers to consider starting programs for young people at their churches, such as after-school tutoring, maybe even peer tutoring. "Students who are a member of a church would influence those who are not, she said."

Parents should pay close attention to the lyrics of music their children listen to, and to what they watch on television. Last year, Marilyn Manson t-shirts and other paraphernalia were banned from the high school.

Minister David Powell asked the teaching that we are descendants of monkeys. Even part of the religious community is buying into that, he said.

"Those ideas are having an impact on character," Powell said. "How can we go about teaching that supports The Creation? And we have evidence, and the evidence is overwhelming. How can we get equal ground?"

Superintendent Dr. Bill Steed, assistant principal Danny Cartner and principal Linda Bost listen to comments during the meeting. — Photos by Robin Ferguson

Bost said one way would be to change the laws. Contact legislators.

Steed said that evolution is taught as a theory. "I would hope that our people are not trying to lead anyone in any direction... this is a theory."

Powell said those who believe in The Creation should have equal ground to present their theory.

Lanny Atkins, a minister who taught biology for 17 years, said he taught as a theory and told students it was a theory. And it's something they need to know to be prepared for college.

Joel Boyles, minister, said there are certain things the schools can't do, just as there are things churches can't do. Parents are the key, he said.

"Public schools can't take the responsibility of correcting society," he said. "We have to be very careful on what we tell a parent how to run their lives. Our job is to see what we can do together."

School secretary Shirley Cottle said her son was greatly influenced by Leland Richardson, a minister who went to football practices, and attended the games.

"There are so many places you can just pass through and let them see you,"

Cottle said. "The high school is valuable, and you can make an impression on their lives before they go out into the world."

then there should be some type of punishment for those who use drugs," said Junior Meredith Cornatzer. Holly Cook, also a junior, agrees told more single-family homes. That is why we made the decision to buy this home. We took Mr. Faak at his word."

N.C. Highway Patrol Trooper Pat Henneley also lives on Madison Road, and said it isn't designed to handle the traffic now, much less the hundreds of vehicles that would be added with apartments. The road feeds to a busy U.S. 601, with no stoplight, and to U.S. 64 at a blind hill. Henneley said accidents are common at those intersections.

James Davis, the attorney, said the town's zoning of industrial land to the west and north was inappropriate at the time. He asked those who opposed the request to stand and look the board members in the eyes.

Planner Lawrence Ray Carter said he didn't see much difference in the proposal, and again made the motion to recommend denial of the request. It passed unanimously.

The town board, which makes the final decision, is expected to discuss the matter on Oct. 6.

Student National Merit Semifinalist

A former Davie High School student attending the North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics has been named a semifinalist in the 1998-99 competition for merit scholarships.

Bryson West Finklea is among 48 at the school to be named semifinalists.

More than 15,000 high school seniors nationwide are competing for 7,000 National Merit scholarships worth about $27 million. The semifinalists make up less than half of one percent of each state's high school seniors.

John Friedrich, executive director of NCSM, says NCSM officials "appreciate each of the home high schools which have prepared these semifinalists so well. We have attracted these students to provide them further opportunity to build upon this potential. We congratulate them for their achievement."

Wooldridge Earns Scholarship

Appalachian State University student Melissa Marie Wooldridge, daughter of Darrell and Nancy Wooldridge of Advance, has been awarded a $5000 Independent Insurance Agents of North Carolina Scholarship for the 1998-99 academic year.

In 1995 the North Carolina insurance group committed to fund scholarships for students majoring in risk and insurance at Appalachian. The IANCS scholarships are the largest awarded by the Walker College to juniors and senior students. The Walker College maintains ongoing contact with the insurance industry through programs of the Richard S. Bramley Risk and Insurance Center.

Wooldridge is a junior risk and insurance management major at the John A. Walker College of Business.

Eight Arrested At Checkpoints

Two driver's license checkpoints resulted in eight arrests by the Davie County Sheriff's Department Friday. The first checkpoint was set up on Sheffield Road at Turkeyfoot about 3 p.m., according to Detective Chris Shuskey. There officers made the following arrests:

- Bobby Ray Tompkins Jr., 23, 1904 Sheffield Road, Harmony, open container, alcohol in passenger area, no inspection sticker and improper equipment.
- Bradley Franklin O'Neal, 29, 165 James Church Road, Mocksville, open container after consuming alcohol.
- George Carl Shaffer Jr., 26, of Hamptonville, driving while license revoked and misdemeanor marijuana possession.
- Pedro Benedicto Guevara, 29, 134 Cabana Lane, Mocksville, no operator's license.
- Timothy Macy Wagner, 28, of 881 Liberty Church Road, Mocksville, revoked license.

From there the sheriff's department moved its checkpoint to Turrentine Church Road at Deadmon Road about 6 p.m. At that stop, they arrested the following:

- Jonathan David Reeves, 22, of 1488 County Line Road, Harmony, misdemeanor possession marijuana and possession drug paraphernalia.
- George Larry Burger, 59, of Salisbury, open container.
- William Franklin Miller, 40, of 205 Turrentine Church Road, Mocksville, no operator's license.

Sheriff Allen Whitaker watches as Detective Chris Shuskey searches a vehicle and Detective Tony Leftwich talks to the driver Timothy Wagner.

Voter Registration Deadline Set

Are you a new resident in Davie County, or are you a resident that has moved within the county and forgot to register to vote? Have you moved out of the county and forgot to register in your new address? If your answer is "yes" to either of these questions you should contact the Board of Elections office located in Room 103 of the courthouse. The deadline for registering or filing changes is Friday, Oct. 9 for the Nov. 3 general elections.

Forms are available in the elections office, the public library, the guidance office at Davie High, and other county offices. You may pick up forms for yourself, family, friends, anyone that you know needs to register or file an update. You may also register for voting, or make corrections when applying for a driver's license, with Social Services, WIC Assistance, or with the Employment Security Commission.

Upon receipt of either, a new registration or an update by the elections office will verify the receipt with an updated voter identification card.

If you are properly registered and know you are going to be out of the county, or that you will be unable to travel to the polls due to health or disability the thirteen hours that the polls will be open, you may apply for absentee voting by mail. These applications may be filed beginning Friday, Oct. 2, and ends at 5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 2.

This application may be filed by the voter in person, or on their behalf by an immediate family member. The only exception to this deadline will be for sickness or disability, for which application may be made up until 5 p.m. Monday, Nov. 2. All voted absentee ballots must be back in the election office no later than 5 p.m., Monday, Nov. 2 to be eligible for counting.

If you qualify for absentee voting, the easiest way to cast your ballot is by going directly to the elections office, apply, and vote "one stop." This may be done between Monday, Oct. 12 and Friday, Oct. 30.

The election office is open Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Call 751-2027.

House Approves Pay Raise For State Employees

Last week, the N.C. House of Representatives passed legislation to give raises to teachers and state employees. The current budget stalemate the State Senate has prevented the raises from being issued.

Rep. Julia Howard (R-Davie) and colleagues in the House voted to give these pay raises immediately instead of waiting for unrelated details of the budget to be worked out.

"The details of teacher and state employee pay raises were worked out between the House and the Senate earlier this session. There is no reason to keep these hard-working individuals waiting any longer," Howard said.

Pay increases are effective at the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1, so pay increases will be retroactive to that date. Cost of living adjustments for state retirees pensions were also included in this legislation.

"It is taking longer than we anticipated to come to an agreement with the Senate on budget adjustments. House Republicans feel we still have important business to do in Raleigh, such as repealing the Inheritance Tax," added Howard. "We want to take care of the state's responsibilities to teachers, state employees and retirees while we continue to negotiate the budget."

This legislation has gone to the Senate for consideration.

Rabies Clinic Scheduled

Rabies clinics will be held at Valley Animal Clinic, 1230 Yadkinville Road, Mocksville, Monday-Thursday, Sept. 28-Oct. 1, 8 a.m.-noon and 2-5 p.m.

Law requires all dogs and cats over 4 months of age to be vaccinated for rabies. Animals vaccinated for the first time in 1997 should be revaccinated in 1998. All other animals not vaccinated since 1995 should be vaccinated in 1998. Approved vaccines will be used on these clinics. All vaccines will be administered by a veterinarian. Rabies requirements for cats will be the same as dogs.

There will be a charge of $5 for each animal vaccinated at these clinics.

Beef Producers Meeting Planned

Attention Beef Cattle Producers. If interested in improving management skills, producing a high quality product and increasing income potential, attend the First Foothills Beef Exposition Saturday, Oct. 3, at Tracy Hayes' stocker operation, in Surry County.

This event has been put together by NC Cooperative Extension Agents Bryan Cave (Surry) and Phil Rucker (Davie & Yadkin) with the progressive beef producer in mind. A demonstration, involving four major products, was completed and the results will be discussed during the exposition.

Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. with the educational program to begin at 10 a.m. Topics to be covered will be: beef quality assurance (The NC Cattlemen displays will be used, last-time displays will be in this area for awhile), Fencing Demonstration, Calf Grading Demonstration, Results of the Deteriorating Trial, Trade Show and sponsored lunch.

Directions to the exposition: From Hwy 601: Take 601 North to Dobson exit, turn left and go to stoplight and turn right, at next stoplight turn left onto Zephyr Rd., and follow for about eight (8) miles (turns into Poplar Springs Rd.), cross Mitchell River and continue to Burcham Road, turn left and farm is about 1/2 mile on left. Watch for signs.

Call in your reservations by Thursday, Oct. 1, so proper meal arrangements can be made. Call the Extension Office in Davie at 336/751-6297 for reservations or more information.

Coolleemee Briefs

Streets To Be Closed For Celebration

The town board voted unanimously to close Duke and Church streets 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sept. 26, for the town's centennial celebration.

Residents there signed petitions to have these streets closed with the understanding that each household will receive one vehicle pass for minimum exit and entrance, according to Commissioner John Chandler.

Power Co. To Perform Demonstration

There was to be a water flow demonstration at the dam in Coolleemee by South Yadkin River Power Company Sept. 19, at 9 a.m., according to Rumley. Members of the river task force were to be there on both sides of the river to see if a compromise could be reached about minimum water flow. Town board members and county commissioners were invited, she said.

Town To Use Truck For Maintenance

A pickup truck acquired by the town two years ago from the U.S. Department of Defense has been painted and fixed up at a cost of $450, Mayor Grady Spry said. As soon as the title work has been completed to get proper registration, town board members, police and other town employees will be able to use the truck for town business. The town seal will be put on both doors, Spry said.

Board Votes To Sponsor Blood Drive

The board voted to sponsor a Red Cross blood drive with the VFW and other interested community organizations at Town Hall Nov. 12, 4-8 p.m.

Commissioner Lynn Rumley said she will send letters to area churches and organizations. At least 40 donors must be signed up to have the event.

Town To Build New Basketball Court

The town has signed a contract with the Davie County Schools for the lease of a small tract of land at the corner of Hickory and Neely Streets for $20/year to build a basketball court for the children of that community.

Commissioners voted to have a basketball court. Asphalt and cement bids will be sought.

Imagination Station Provides Child Care To Davie Families

As a working parent, Amy Gholson realized the importance of a good, quality child care facility. Rather than transferring to New Jersey with RJR Nabisco, Gholson decided a year ago to open a day care center north of Mocksville, serving an area that lacked such a facility, she said.

Now, Imagination Station Child Care provides service to area families and jobs for seven people. "I felt like Davie County needed a good, quality child care ... especially in this area," Gholson said.

White working, she brought children to Mocksville. Most of the children who go to her child care center off Danner Road north of Mocksville are from the William R. Davie area.

Although licensed for 50 children, Imagination Station will not accept more than 40 full time, Gholson said. There are openings for two toddlers, two 2 year olds and 12-15 slots for 3-5 year olds.

Other employees include: Angela Anderson, director; Sandy Craven, 3-5 year olds; Misty Shell, 2 year olds; Christina Talley, toddlers; Julie Reavis, infants and assistant manager; and Shirley Scanlon and Sorja Sherrill, substitutes and assistants.

The center is open from 6:30 a.m.-6 p.m., and fees are $80 per week. The telephone number is 492-2158.

Children at Imagination Station are taught in a Christian environment, Gholson said.

"We have a quiet time with Bible study and devotions in the morning, and we talk about problems the children may be having," she said. "We talk about morals. We say the blessing ... but we're not fanatically religious."

Employees are certified, and the day care follows state standards, Gholson said. It has been recognized by the N.C. Department of Labor for having a strong apprenticeship program for adults and high school students.

The goal, she said, is to get the children ready for school.

"We try to get them to where they can tie their shoes, recognize shapes and colors and count. Art and science and nature are the exciting things, and they love bugs."

Basketball League To Be Organized In Smith Grove

The Smith Grove Community Center will hold a meeting Monday, Sept. 28 at 7 p.m. in the gym to organize a non-profit youth basketball league for the 1998-1999 basketball season.

Anyone interested in becoming involved with organizing, coaching, or having their child play basketball at the Smith Grove Community Center should attend. This meeting will be the deciding factor as to whether there will be youth basketball games at the Smith Grove Community Center this year.

Golf Tourney Planned

The first annual Davie County Caddy's Tour is scheduled at Hickory Hill Country Club, on Wednesday, Sept. 30, in Mocksville. Team captains consist of caddies from The Vantage Championship, an official PGA Senior Tour event at Tanglewood, Oct. 2-4. A shotgun start is scheduled at 1:47 p.m. for this "Caddy's Choice" format.

"Not only did we want to offer a quality event for the Davie County golfing community, but we also wanted to honor the caddies' roles in making The Vantage such a success for this area," stated chamber president, Jean Creech, owner of Creech Environmental Consultants. "The idea has been well received, and we hope golfers throughout the area will participate and hear first-hand a caddy's perspective on the tour."

Each team will be comprised of one caddy and five amateurs.

Proceeds from the Caddy's Tour will benefit the Davie County Senior Center. "We are delighted to have an opportunity to help support special programs which address the need for our senior community, a growing segment of Davie County's population," continued Creech. "The special events, meal programs, health and wellness activities and outreach efforts are just a few of the benefits available through the center's efforts."

Golfers interested in playing in the event may call the Davie Chamber of Commerce at 336-751-3304 for more details. Cost for individual players is $100 per golfer and includes golf fees, cart, range balls, golf bag, box lunch and barbecue dinner.

Pino News

By Nora Latham
 Pino Correspondent

Next Sunday, Sept. 27, at Wesley Chapel, there will be a meeting of the administrative council. The purpose of this meeting is to approve reports and nominations before a charge conference for the year 1999. Prior to the meeting, immediately following Sunday School, there will be a covered dish lunch.

On Wednesday, Sept. 30, the Farmington charge conference meeting will be at Farmington UMC. There will be a covered dish dinner in the fellowship hall at 6:30. We are asked to answer the question "How has our church been a servant of Christ?" Everyone from Wesley Chapel and Farmington UMC are invited to attend. District Superintendent Bob Rawls will be present.

Christie Gentry spent the day at home with her mother, Mackelyn Gentry, last Sunday. It was nice to see her in church Sunday morning.

The Pino-Farmington Homemakers held their annual family picnic last Tuesday. Five couples met at the Farmington Recreation Center to enjoy a delicious picnic supper together. Those attending were Gene and Marie Miller, James and Lelia Essic, Odell and Carolyn Boger, Harmon and Nora Latham, and guests Bob and Kathy Ellis.

Clyde and Virginia Murray celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last Sunday at Harmon Lodge in Courtney. It was lovingly hosted by their son, Darrell and his family.

Vernon Dull and Ruth Davis, along with Vernon's daughter, Tina and son-in-law, Brent Goble, and their children, Brittany and Alex, spent last weekend in Myrtle Beach.

Roland West and his wife, Betty, spent last week at the beach where he recuperated from surgery the Tuesday before. We are glad he is doing so well.

Tom Horton is recovering at home after having surgery last Tuesday. He is in our prayers.

Jim Latham from Newport News, Va., arrived last Wednesday to spend a few days with his parents, Harmon and Nora Latham. His wife, China, arrived on Friday, and his daughter, Audra from Charleston, S.C., arrived on Saturday. They came especially to attend the Potts-Haneline wedding on Saturday afternoon at Courtney Baptist Church.

James and Lelia Essic had as their guests over the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sizemore and boys, David and Michael, from Albany, Ga. Mrs. Sizemore is the former Marilyn Richardson, daughter of Odell Richardson, cousin of James. They came especially for the Essic reunion held at Sagebrush in Clemmons on Saturday night. Saturday morning James and his guest attended the air show in Winston-Salem. Sunday afternoon they attended the Forsyth Mineral Club Show and Sale.

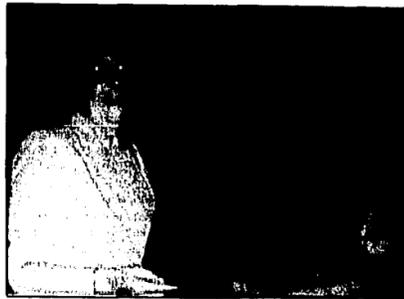

FSA Making Loan Deficiency Payments

Due to low market prices, Farm Service Agency (FSA) has been making payments, called loan deficiency payments or LDPs, on this year's crop of wheat, barley oats, corn, grain sorghum and soybeans that were harvested as grain.

LDPs are authorized to be made on commodities harvested for other than grain, such as corn harvested for silage.

Producers who have or will harvest an eligible commodity for other than grain should call the Davidson-Davie FSA office at 1-800-524-3389 for additional details.

LDPs are payment due producers since market prices have dropped below the county loan rate. LDPs are not loans and do not have to be repaid.

Davie Schools

Davie High
Scholarships ($5000/year) to one of the 12 public or 2 private NC institutions of higher learning that participate in this program are available. Students must pursue studies as a full-time student in programs leading to certification to work in NC public schools. Obtain an application from Vicki Hendricks in the guidance office. Deadline to apply is Oct. 30.

A guide to colleges and careers, Key Senior 98, is available free in the guidance office. Included are topics such as SAT/ACT testing, campus visits, and admissions essays as an opportunity to win a $2000 scholarship.

Students interested in attending a college open house should check by the guidance office and see Hazel Simco.

Eagle Echoes Publication 5 & 6 are available in the guidance office. Students should pick up these publications to learn more about special programs and scholarships.

The PSAT will be given at the school on Saturday, Oct. 17. The cost for students who are required to pay to take the test is $12. Sign up in the guidance office Sept. 28-Oct. 9.

The Apprenticeship Program has the following openings: preschool teacher at New Horizons Childcare in Clemmons, machinist at Haywood Industries in Clemmons, and electronic servicing at Executive Business Machines in Winston-Salem. See Joey Kennedy in the student services building before school or during Channel 1.

Sophomores may pick up shadowing applications from Rex Hobson, career development coordinator, in the student services office in "B" building.

Students in Paula Allen's Allied Health Sciences II class completed requirements to become certified vision screeners Sept. 18 by Val Atkinson, a certification trainer with Prevent Blindness North Carolina.

Rocket team students are doing an integrated unit of science and language arts on space. They designed NASA missions. After reading the science fiction novel "The Cosmic Book," they designed their own rockets. They are studying geometry and have designed three-dimensional figures. On Tuesday, Sept. 15, they had their first team rally.

Student council candidates presented their speeches. Rocket team members running for election are Jodie Draughn, Jackie Johnson, Carrie Sain, and Lauren Wanucha.

Citizenship awards were presented to Jodie Draughn and Stephanie Wendel for showing good respect and responsibility.

Academic awards were presented to Katy Russell, Sarah Frazier, Tiffany Wooten, Britany Folds, and Haley Hunt in science; Stephanie Wendel, Kelly Mitchell, Josh Bright, and Tamra Beroth in language arts; T.A. Steele, Meredith Phillips, Megan Stephenson, Erin Lederer, Russ Powell, and Laura Williams in math; and Margie Ann Jackson, Matt Smith, Annie Huffman, Marie Robertson, Molly McKee, and Brita Smith in social studies.

ACES candidates for the student council are Jenny Bokros, Briana Foster, Sara Miller, Andrea Whitley, Jonathan Greene, and Tyler Kauff. The election will be Sept. 22.

ACES team students in Susan Starn's language arts classes are reading novels. One group is reading "The Hobbit" and has made presentations using multiple intelligence. These projects range from conversations among the main characters to posters on display representing scenes from the book.

ACES team students in Steve Reinhardt's math classes are working on the Pythagorean theorem. Each student is assigned a number and must calculate that number using a 1, 9, 9, and 8 and the order of operations.

On Sept. 10, the ACES team and the Stars team held a miniature Olympics using the metric system. Classes from each team were sent outside to explore the metric system in a new way. With each class the number of students were added together then divided by the total number of students participating to determine an average. They were given seven major events in all.

ACES students were allowed to choose the order in which they would visit each station. At the paper plate station, students had to estimate the distance they could throw the paper plate. After throwing the plate, the distance was measured in meters and subtracted from the estimate to determine the difference. The object of the station was to get the lowest possible difference.

At the paper straw javelin and the cotton ball stations, students threw these items as far as they could, then measured the distance in meters.

In the right-handed marble grab students had to grab as many marbles as possible with their right hand and calculate the total weight of the marbles.

In the left-handed sponge squeeze, students measured in milliliters the amount of water they could squeeze from a wet sponge using only their left hand and getting only one squeeze.

The last event was the big hand contest. Students traced their hands onto graph paper and then counted the number of squares showing the size of their handprint.

South Davie Middle
Dolphin students of Teresa Santis and Steve Hamlin are concluding an integrated study of Ancient Greece. They read several myths such as Pandora and Demeter and Persephone during their communications class. They studied the historical background and contributions of Ancient Greece during social studies classes. They studied the constellations and how they relate to Greek and Roman mythology as a part of their science class. While experimenting with their study of astronomy they completed a lab demonstration to show what happens to a drop of liquid when it's released in outer space.

In math, students are participating in a version of Greek Olympics incorporating a variety of math skills within each event. Also, students have analyzed attendance figures of Major League Baseball parks and constructed bar graphs of their favorite teams' attendance figures over a three-year period.

Students explored place value and how it is useful in the real world. Students were given a list of bills and a budget along with a mock checkbook. They wrote checks to pay bills and balanced their checkbooks. Pharaoh team teachers rewarded students who met their behavior goals for the first 22 days of school with a movie and a PopSicle on Friday. Students in Ms. Salyer's math classes are working on projects that show how math relates to real life.

Students in Mrs. Anderson's social studies classes completed their map and globe projects and have placed them on display in the classroom and the media center.

Students in Mr. Adams' science classes worked hard on tracking Hurricane Bonnie. Mrs. Harden's communication students are completing their first book reports and working on individual reading goals. Third and fourth period students are making scrapbooks and sixth and seventh period students are making story maps.

Eighth graders in Ms. McClamrock's science classes are studying the physical geology of the earth and geological time. Students are plotting earthquakes, studying N.C. geological features, making fossil molds and casts, and identifying fossils including those from the coast.

Media assistant Sandra Vance helped students make salsa from vegetables harvested from the school's garden. Students ate chips with their salsa.

Candance Ferrell and Ryanne McDaniel have been chosen as Cruisers of the Week of Sept. 14 because they are conscientious, responsible, and hard working.

Central Davie Elementary
Sylvia Smith has been selected as the school's Teacher of the Year. Mrs. Smith teacher fourth grade.

McDonald's Night will be Oct. 6 from 5-7 p.m.

Conference day will be Oct. 12. Parents will be able to pick up fundraiser merchandise this day.

A new program at the school is called Safety Patrol. The following students have been chosen for Patrol duty: Jamie Kooz, Kenyon Hollis, Jennifer Hernandez, Elisha Peebles, Allyson Reynolds, Michael Crandell, Andy Ramsbotham, Jonathan Slins, Nate Lawrence, David Stovall, and Justin Morgan.

The Friendship Club meeting will be held Oct. 8 in the media center. Bus Riders of the Week are Josh Fields, Nathaniel Moody, Lauren Myers, Michael Crandell, Bryce Anderson, Jack Wombough, David Stovall, and Garrett Parks.

Citizens of the Week are Melia Sheets, Gustavo Martinez, Alisia Parks, Zachary Eaton, Kenny Rivers, Jenna Hendricks, Nakoda Ramsey, Ashley Whitlock, Candace Overton, and Neely Alexander.

Fifth graders went to the Emerald Hollow Gym Mine in Hidenite Sept. 11. They participated in surface mining, creek mining, sluicing, and a discussion about types of rocks. Students collected specimens of quartz, amethyst, ammonite, Jasper, emerald, and several other types of rocks.

A major focus of Charity Giron's developmentally delayed class is using switches to communicate. Aswitch is a device that is pressed or moved to activate electronic appliances such as recorded messages or a blender. Class reading has been Brown Bear, Brown Bear, What Do You See?, Yecenia Montoya, Melia Sheets, and Jana Hughes pushed a red switch to say the color of a featured animal. Rense Joldersma pressed a toggle switch with his head to make a recording work. Rense Joldersma is learning to use the toggle switch to greet people and to express a desire such as "let's go outside". Students used switches to activate toys and a blender to make a milkshake.

Students in Nancy Mitchell Title I class have been practicing for the writing assessment. They went outside and wrote down everything they saw and heard. They created a story map and spent the rest of the week writing a story about being shrunk down to the size of an acorn. Next week they will edit their story and type the final copy on the computer. These stories will be displayed for others to read.

Shady Grove Elementary
Kindergarten students of Marilyn Ellis, Pat Johnson, Sandy Rogers, Sue Tucker, and Cammie Walker went to Dan Nicholas Park in Salisbury Sept. 15. They saw many animals. They particularly enjoyed the program and touching the box turtle, snake, and alligator. They also enjoyed the petting farm.

The five kindergarten teachers at tended the N.C. Association of Educators of Young Children Convention in Greensboro Sept. 17-19. They enjoyed the sessions on new ideas and the educational exhibits.

First graders have studied "Me" by participating in many fun centers and writing stories in order to get to know one another. Color activities designed to facilitate learning to read color words have also been fun. Students are reading poems about color monsters, and books such as Freight Train, To Town, and Purple, Green, and Yellow. MAM math and Skittles math provided lots of estimating, sorting, and patterning activities. Students will be working on apple units and learning about rocks soon.

Second graders spend a day exploring dinosaurs and making fossil replicas at Tanglewood Park in September. Some classes are learning about various types of animals. Many grandparents joined their students for lunch Sept. 15 and were entertained with poems, songs, and cards.

Confidence Day will be Oct. 12. Parents will be able to pick up fundraiser merchandise this day.

The five kindergarten teachers at had five chrysalis and are looking forward to watching the butterflies hatch soon.

Kindergarten students of Kaye Vandiver and Jodi Walker are getting ready for the fall. The class caterpillar, Tommy, will soon be spinning his chrysalis as he prepares to change from a black and yellow caterpillar into a monarch butterfly. Students have been learning about friends and families. Parents will be helping to create Family Banners. Students are learning the letter "Hh" with hippos, houses, hair, and hats. They wrapped their study on Friday by wearing their favorite hats, eating hot dogs, and graphing hair colors.

First graders in Suite 2 recently visited Spencer Shops. They rode the train and looked at the old vehicles in the transportation museum.

Second graders of Sandra Robinson and Maria Knight are becoming dinosaur experts. They have read the books: Dinosaur Days, Danny and the Dinosaur, Dinosaur Time, and Big Little Dinosaur. They wrote their own book about their "adventures with a dinosaur."

On Sept. 14, they participated in the Dynamic Dinosaurs Program at Tanglewood Park Environmental Education Center. They learned dinosaur facts, saw fossils, made fossils, and used yarn to make a life-sized Apatosaurus. After returning to school they wrote "options for the pictures they had taken on the field trip and printed a class newspaper. Each student received a copy of the newspaper to take home. Students are watching a "dinosaur egg" and recording their observations each day. They will conclude this unit on Sept. 25, with "dinosaur lunch." The menu will include dinosaur sandwiches, stegosaurus bony plates, dinosaur eggs, tyrannosaurus reptiles, prehistoric trees, swamp juice, fossils, and volcanoes. On the class day students will get to experience the tasks of a paleontologist as they dig for fossils in plaster molds.

Second graders of Vicki Baisley and Linda Giles are studying dinosaurs, also. They have written stories about what it would be like to live with dinosaurs. They became paleontologists and dug for chips in chocolate chip cookies. Second graders of Julie Fletcher are studying the ocean habitat. They began their unit on sharks by reading Hungry, Hungry, Sharks and by designing a pop-up shark story. While studying whales they read Whales, the Gentle Giants and watched the video Humphrey the Lost Whale. They wrote a story about The Mysterious Shrinking Whale. The last unit was on dolphins. They read Diving with Dolphins and made pop-up books that included the blue whale, orca, starfish, seashore, crab, hammerhead shark, and blue shark. Each student designed an ocean scene on the computer and displayed their artwork. They completed the unit on ocean habitat with the movie Free Willie.

Second graders of Wanda Leagans and Diane Joyner are culminating their dinosaur unit with two special events. On Sept. 10, students went to Tanglewood Park for a program on Dynamic Dinosaurs. On Sept. 11, students had a dinosaur dinner. Students enjoyed eating dino eggs, dino teeth, stegosaurus bony plates, prehistoric trees, dino sandwiches, volcanoes, and fossils. The dinosaurs are now extinct in their classroom.

South Opens Season With 34-0 Win Over Northwest Cabarrus

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

If Michael Clement is the thoroughbred of South Davie's eighth-grade backfield, then Kenny Gray, Frederic Harris, Sam Stovall, Quincy Redmon and Larry Hudson comprise a pretty impressive herd.

Coach Barry Whitlock threw his interchangeable darts at Northwest Cabarrus and severely wounded the Warriors 34-0 in a flawless season-opening performance last week.

Clement did most of the damage, rushing for 91 yards and scoring two touchdowns, and Harris (six carries, 34 yards), Gray (8-31), Redmon (3-29), Stovall (3-17) and Hudson (3-15) helped South amass 225 yards on the ground.

"They couldn't key on anybody because we had a lot of people running the football," Whitlock said.

The second half was vintage wishbone, as the Tigers wore down the Warriors with two outrageously effective drives that milked virtually all the clock and limited Northwest to only six second-half plays.

Gray's 1-yard run capped a 13-play march that consumed all but 30 seconds of the third quarter and increased South's lead to 28-0. The fullback gung hurt Northwest with repeated belly dives.

"That's what you want," Whitlock said of the picture-perfect drive. "You can't ask for anything else. We established the fullback. I ran four different fullbacks - Sam, Kenny, Zach Miller and Redmon - and then we run the off-tackle play where we fake it to the fullback."

Then, after South's assertive defense shut down Northwest once again, South mounted a 10-play drive that ended with a Redmon 4-yard plunge.

The Tigers demonstrated a killer instinct that characterizes good teams, pounding the Warriors into submission with short-yardage jabs.

"When you get a lead, that's what you want," Whitlock said. "It wasn't anything big. We were knocking off five yards, four yards, six yards, three yards, four yards."

After the defense set the game's tone on the Warriors' first possession, when they punted four plays into the game, Clement sped 19 yards. Gray powered 2 for the first of two TDs and quarterback McKenzie Willoughby delivered a beautiful lob to Clement on a backdoor pass for a 46-yard strike, pushing the lead to 22-0.

"McKenzie made a good pass," Whitlock said. "The defender was back there, but he lobbed it over his head and Mike Mike caught it in stride. McKenzie did a good job running the offense and the offensive line played well, with Thomas Parsley, Joey Davis, Jeremy West, Chris Stuts, Stovall and tight end Brandon Shore opening up the holes."

Parsley contributed two quarterback sacks for a defense that owned the line of scrimmage.

"Our defensive line (Gray, Stovall, Curtis Matthews, Charles Hill and Miller) put pressure on the quarterback, and we had receivers covered," Whitlock said.

"The win was all the more impressive considering South had three starters missing: Halfback Ben Allred (slightly separated shoulder), linebacker Butter Dewalt (disciplinary reasons) and Brian Hunter (flu). . . . Jeremy Cody intercepted a pass and Stovall recovered a fumble. . . . South couldn't go wrong, committing just one penalty, having no turnovers and facing just one fourth-down situation. . . . South hosts Concord on Sept. 23.

Tuning Up For The CPC

DHS Football Team Gradually Improving

Davie's football team has two tune-up games to tie up its loose ends and brace for a storm that presumably will determine the inside track for one of the Central Piedmont Conference's two playoff tickets.

Nonconference obstacles Central Davidson and North Davidson are mere appetizers for the meaty dish on Oct. 9, when perennial power West Forsyth swaggers to War Eagle Stadium for the CPC opener.

By Brian Pitts

The War Eagles weren't in any shape to confront West in late August, when Mooresville brought Davie down to earth, 27-3. But since then, the War Eagles have been striving and clawing back behind a basic offense that seldom leaves the ground, an unplanned development because of three suspensions that will conclude after Friday's homecoming game.

Without QB Drew Ridenhour's strong arm, Illing decided to lighten up and rely on powerful Ricky White, speedster Kenny Collins and surging fullback Neil Wagstaff, a formula that worked in wins over North Iredell and Salisbury.

"We're just trying to work on executing up front, and offensively we're a lot better than we were that night (in Mooresville) because of the simplicity that we've put into the offense. We're able to pound and just take three or four yards, sweep it every once in a while and throw it every once in a while."

The White-Collins train has averaged over five yards a carry behind an inconsistent line, mainly because they only need a crack to bust loose.

"Ricky and Kenny are both just tremendous running backs, and that's really helping our offensive line out and making it easy on them," Illing said. "They don't need to create big holes. They are making their job easy up front."

But Salisbury isn't West Forsyth. Can a suspect line impede the Titans' high-powered assault? Illing is optimistic, especially if the bodies stop cracking and the runners stop handling the ball loosely. Davie has fumbled 12 times in three games, losing seven, and tackles Adam Bailey and Wesley Melton and guard Jhockton Dalton are hurting, an area where Davie has slim margin for error on the depth scale. Bailey (chipped bone in elbow) has one fully functional arm. Melton is wearing a knee brace for a strained tendon and Dalton has a bum knee.

"If we can just hold onto the ball, and if we can just keep them healthy, I think we'll be a tough team to stop," Illing said. "Keeping postgame analysis wiped away two long touchdowns. Clipping penalties spoiled Jon Goode's 58-yard run and Michael Dixon's 60-yarder, but the Wildcats let off more than enough offensive fireworks to light up the Eagles.

Goode churned for 81 yards on 13 rushes, Dixon piled up 60 on just four totes and Nick Raby hauled in three passes from Colt Stanley for 101 yards, including 35- and 38-yard scores.

"We caught their secondary in a defense that was sucking in a lot, and started passing on them and getting a lot of yardage out of that," Kirk said. "We just ran the ball good."

Kirk patted every helmet.

"It was a big team effort here," he said. "We just played pretty balanced. Overall, it was a great game to start the season with."

At the half, Kirk bemoaned the penalties that short-circuited North's half-time lead, 12-0. A long Eagle run cut the margin in half, but North's offense accelerated soon after and put the outcome on ice.

"The defense did play good," Kirk said. "They gave up that one touchdown, and that was really just a series of missed tackles and the kid ran about 55 yards. But we started driving the lead on route to a 30-8 victory.

"We just didn't get off the bus, Coach George Newman said. "There was a lot of standing around, there wasn't anything going on."

"The opposing coaching staff knew it and took advantage wherever they could - sweeps, passing. We just fell apart on both sides of the ball."

The Wildcats partially repaired the damage, ending the drought on Brandon Pane's 55-yard eruption and holding the Eagles scoreless in the second half, a turnaround that brightened a mostly gloomy ride home.

"Isaid (at half time) we're not here to win this game now, we're here to win a half," Newman said.

Following Pane's TD, quarterback Derek Comstater added the two points on a bootleg. . . . Pane, thanks to the long TD and two runs around 20 yards, neared 100 yards.

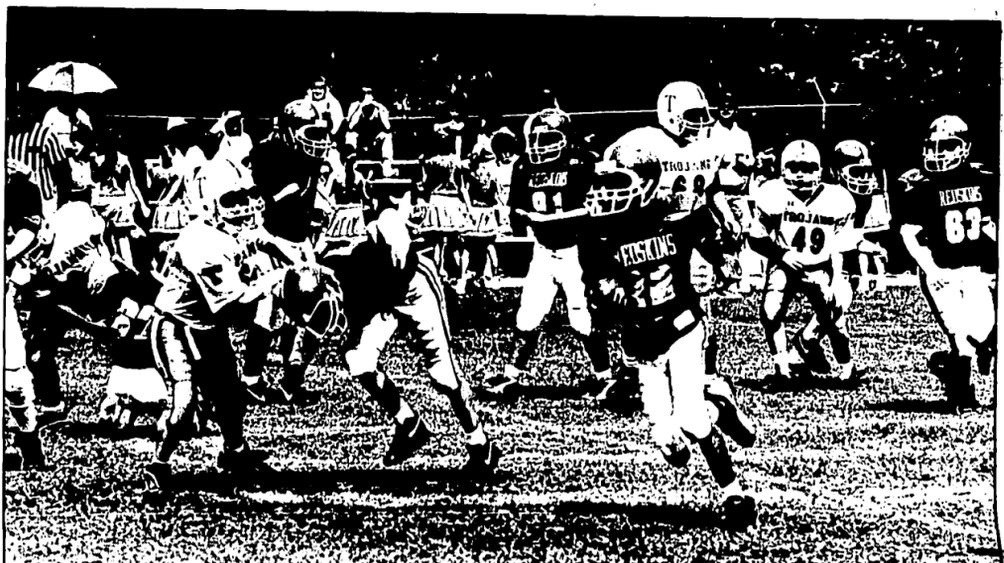

North's eighth graders host Chisam Grove on Sept. 23 while the seventh graders travel to Chisam Grove.

"Greg Lanier, Billy Smith and Summers played very well and Jason Winters had an excellent game."

Gustafson senses the pieces coming together at the right time. Regan has recovered from an injury, Joey Bass comes off a two-game suspension this week and Eric Kofke is returning from a four-game suspension. Those returning components are helping Davie recapture its optimism.

"The light at the end of the tunnel is certainly getting closer," Gustafson said.

"Having to work overtime because of suspensions and injuries, the players were gasping when the horn sounded at North Iredell." They were hating at the end of the game," Gustafson said. "Ninety percent of the team played 80 minutes without a timeout. That's tough." . . . Earlier in the week, Northwest Cabarrus downed Davie for the second time, 3-1. Ryan Barnes scored his second goal on an assist from Richard Broadway and Potts recorded eight saves. . . . Davie plays at Reynolds on Sept. 29 and at South Stokes on Oct. 1.

Eighth Grade Wildcats Open Season With Romp

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

North Davie didn't play perfect football all the time in last week's season opener against Erwin, but you wouldn't know it by looking at the scoreboard.

"We made some very costly mental errors at times, but we made up for them," said eighth-grade coach Ron Kirk, whose team roared out of the gate with a 32-6 romp. "If we would have played more to an error-free game, we could have put 45-50 points on the board easily."

The mistakes that tempered Kirk's

Soccer Team Ends Skid With 1-0 Win

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

In the field of rough-and-tumble soccer, Davie coach Pete Gustafson has figured it out: a victory, even one that wasn't pretty, is a victory.

"I'm proud of them," said Gustafson, whose team snapped a three-game losing streak with last week's 1-0 victory over North Iredell. "They got the win. You're not going to win many games 1-0, but they did that one."

The victory improved Davie's falling record to 2-5-2, but Gustafson insists that the boys are reaching their potential, that wins are expensive and records are deceiving with today's parity.

"It's not that these guys are playing bad," he said. "I've been a coach for a long time and they are not playing bad. They are playing very good teams."

Jeremy Howell was again the man, finishing a pinpoint pass from Garth Regan and scoring his fifth goal three minutes into the second half.

"It was basically a finishing shot to gorgeous pass," Gustafson said. "Regan won a 50-50 ball, dribbled up, made a pass between (two defenders) and just hit Jeremy in stride. It was just a very pretty goal."

Marking backs Justin Long and Nick Summers, sweeper David Woodriddle and keeper T.J. Potts (nine saves) made the goal stand up, denying the Raiders twice when they had golden opportunities to force a tie.

"They played very well," Gustafson said. "We had what amounted to a couple goal-line stands, and T.J. was awesome. He just did wonderful.

receptions with four.

Defensively, safety Zeke Earle has three interceptions and Forrest Breedlove, Jeremy Shoffner and Kenny White have each recovered two fumbles.

Collins is averaging 43.3 yards per punt. Kicker David Woodriddle made all four extra points against Salisbury.

Homecoming Friday Against Central Davidson

Central Davidson will be Davie High's homecoming opponent Friday night at 7:30 in a nonconference football game at War Eagle Stadium. The clubs have met four times in 43 years, with Davie leading the series 2-1-1 thanks to last year's 34-0 win.

The Spartans, of the Tri-County 3-A Conference, have doubled last year's wins. They beat Lexington 21-9 last week for their second win in five games. Davie (2-1) is coming off a bye.

Tallbacks Ricky White (50 carries, 274 yards) and Kenny Collins (39-209) have carried Davie offensively. The sleeper is fullback Neil Wagstaff, who is averaging 5.2 yards on 14 carries. Thad Johnson leads the team in War Eagles Rally To 3-2 Win Over Mt. Tabor

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Back to the wall. Not tomorrow. Do or die.
Davie's varsity volleyball team defied the clichés and Mt. Tabor last week, rallying for a 3-2 victory over the Spartans that kept the War Eagles' playoff dreams on life support.
"If we had lost to Tabor, that probably would have knocked us out of the playoffs or a chance for the playoffs," said assistant coach Leo Brunelli. "It was probably one of the better matches of the season."
To swipe one of the two berths, the War Eagles must run the tables on South Stokes and South Rowan and find a way to upset Reynolds or West Forsyth.

Rallying against Tabor seemed harder. After a 15-4 rout put Davie ahead in the best-of-five series, the Spartans came back with a vengeance, winning two games and pushing the War Eagles to the verge of playoff elimination.
"We had our backs in the corner," said Brunelli, who envisioned an early supper after cruising in game one. "We really thought we could beat them in three. It should have been but Tabor has a nice team. (Coach Denny Key, a former Davie basketball and volleyball coach) does a great job there."
"We weren't playing very well in games two-three, and they played extremely well. And, of course, you're not going to win those games."

The War Eagles survived a game-four tightrope, a 16-14 win that sapped Tabor, and punctuated the stirring rally with a 15-1 exclamation mark in the deciding fifth game.
"That (game four squeaker) just burst their bubble and we capitalized," Brunelli said. "A couple of key swings and serves got the momentum back going our way, and we completely dominated (game five). Just about everyone played some key role."
Two unlikely sources, Junior Tisa Campbell and sophomore Sue Reichel, played the leading roles in the comeback.
"Tisa did a great job on the back row," Brunelli said. "She was all over the floor. Reichel came in and did a nice job on the back row, too. Those two really did a nice job."

West Forsyth manhandled Davie 3-1 earlier in the week. Avoiding a shutout was somewhat of a moral victory for Davie, which bolted to a 6-1 lead in game one before drowning under a Titan tidal wave. "It was like someone pulled a cover over our eyes. It was over," Brunelli said. "We were very fortunate that we took a game. West has a great program. ... Head coach Tammy Reavis was out of town and unavailable for comment. ... Davie (6-6, 2-2 CPC) hosts Reynolds this Thursday and West (redell in a non-conference match on Sept. 28.

JV Volleyball Team On A Roll, Win Two

By Travis Peacock
Davie County Enterprise Record

Coach Leo Brunelli's JV volleyball team is on a roll. Last week they defeated conference rivals West Forsyth and Mount Tabor.
Wednesday, the War Eagles faced West Forsyth, winning the first two games and the match. In the first game, freshman Lindsay Smith showed off her abilities by serving six points. Christina Gajewski and Randi

Moore contributed three points apiece. The girls won the first game 15-8. "We started out playing flat," said Brunelli.
In game two, Layne Groat once again stepped up big. She served six points, while Natalie Hunkler and Christina Gajewski combined for eight points.
"Lindsay Smith and Layne Groat served the ball really well, and Christina Gajewski was very consistent in both games," said Brunelli.

This was the team's third victory in the conference. Davie improved to 6-3 overall.
The next test was against Mount Tabor. In game one, Davie ran off with a 15-4 win. Randi Moore and Kim Hilton scored 10 points in a combined effort. "We played a great game one. We only missed two serves," said Brunelli.
In game two, Davie wasn't so fortunate. Due to a sloppy performance, it dropped the second game 15-11. Kim Hilton had another good game, scoring five points, and Layne Groat also had a good game, scoring three points in a losing effort.

Davie would step up in the third and deciding game. Moore and Hilton took charge and led the team to a 15-11 victory. Kim Hilton and Randi Moore served 13 and 10 points, respectively.
"Games two and three were not pretty, but a win is a win," Brunelli said. "We are a very good team when we do not make mental errors."

Red Imps End Unbeaten Streak For Wildcats

No team spoils the North Davie soccer team's fun more than Mooresville.
The Red Imps beat North three times last year, blocking the Wildcats from an undefeated season, and they stung the previously-unbeaten Wildcats again last week, 5-1.

North (3-1) rebounded with a 5-2 win over Mt. Airy.
Matt Moser, who scored North's lone goal against Mooresville, added his sixth and seventh goals of the year and Pete Ramsey, Patrick Law and Charlie Lester scored one each.

North's next home match is Oct. 1 against Chestnut Grove.

Davie Preparing For Conference Action

them healthy is the big thing. They are getting banged up quite a bit."
The defense has been the team's backbone. They took a giant step forward against Salisbury, reversing the momentum in the early moments of the third quarter.
"The defense is still carrying its weight," Illing said. "They are what is keeping us in games. Their bend-but-don't-break philosophy has been real strong."
Davie has received a jolt from safety Zeke Earle, who has three interceptions and a fumble recovery for a crucial TD.
"Earle has been real big in the secondary," Illing said. "We knew he was going to be good, it was just a matter of getting him in the right position. We thought he'd be a lot better strong safety, but he's done a super job for us."
One-man gang J.J. Rice is the unit's glue at linebacker, matching all the expectations that accompany a three-time all-CPC pick.
"Again his leadership ability has been tremendous, keeping guys' heads in the game," Illing said.
"He's a man among boys out there."
If headhunter Kenny White stops running red lights, the defense could become a finely-tuned machine.
"If we could just slow Kenny White down a little bit ...," Illing said. "He's overrunning a lot of plays because he's in a hurry to get there. With his speed and with J.J.'s technique and leadership, when those two get on the same page we are going to be a tough defense."
Ronnie Blackburn continues to anchor at nose; Adam Boger is doing a good job at the four tackle; Jared Vaughters is working at nose and tackle; and Forrest Bredlow is always anchoring that five-technique, doing a super job on the outside. And then you've got Bradford Ivey at the end. They are just doing a tremendous job."

Enthusiasts wonder about pass coverage against CPC powers.
Illing is polishing the secondary with Collins and Rod Tenor.
"Rod and Kenny are going to give us some speed at the corners," said Illing, who plans to utilize suspended David Nail in some capacity of the secondary. "James Blakley and Brad Kokoski have been doing a super job at corner, it's just they are lacking a little bit of speed. When we start playing the West Forsyth, the Reynolds and the Mt. Tabor, that speed is going to really help us. That will give us three quick guys (along with Earle) to cover deep and still have the front guys that have been playing real solid."
Starting Friday, the schedule gets harder and the dings harder to overcome. Central Davidson is improving, unbeaten North Davidson has buried four teams 82-20 and then comes the Eagles.
But the War Eagles seem to be gathering momentum, and Ridenhour, a vital player, will give Davie plenty of dangerous offensive options when he returns next week.

In other words, Davie is stepping forward in the long march back from Mooresville.
"We're getting where we need to be at this time," Illing said. "I don't want to look too far ahead to West, we're just trying to get our feet in a row right now to get ready for that conference. It's all pulling together and going in the right direction for where we want it to be come conference time."
Come Oct. 9, skeptics believe that West Forsyth might roll again, but optimistic folks argue otherwise. In 1996, Davie lost four of Benjie Brown's first seven games, but took the town by its tail the last time West Forsyth visited Mooresville.

Like A Drum Wildcat Softball Team Beats Knox

North Davie's softball team beat Knox like a drum, but West Rowan and Kannapolis differ in the most substantial way: They know the fundamentals of the game and usually make the routine plays.
Since Knox struggles to make any play, the Wildcats discovered that it's hard to improve when your constantly yawning.
"It was hard for the girls to be in the game because of the pitching and fielding by Knox," Coach Jamie Lyerly said, "and we have to get prepared and ready for West Rowan and Kannapolis."
"Knox's pitching was very slow, and it messed our timing up bad. The girls were swinging way ahead of the ball because it's hard to adjust to different speeds when you've been hitting off the pitching machine at fast speeds. We played Erwin (in the opener) with a fast pitcher and West Rowan will have a fast pitcher."

North's bats finally disciplined themselves and showed patience in the fourth inning, when the Wildcats erupted for 11 runs that cut the game short because of the 10-run rule after five.
Dawn Singleton, Kelli Lawhon and Jenny Ferrell were dialed in from the beginning. Singleton went 3 for 4 with a homer, double and four RBIs, and Ferrell was 2 for 2 with four RBIs and a three-run home run. Lawhon also had three hits.
"Dawn's home run went to the fence," Lyerly said. "It was a hard line drive."
Laura Riddle had a command performance, despite having the debut jitters that usually accompany seventh graders. In five innings, she struck out eight and overcame a rocky second.

"She was a little nervous because it was our first home game," Lyerly said. "She kept pitching under control and did a great job. She did not get rattled when she walked four in the second. She had only one more walk."
Riddle faced the minimum in the first, third and fifth innings. ... In the noisy fourth, North sent 14 batters to the plate as Ferrell and Singleton cranked back-to-back homers. ... Sheena Smith contributed two hits and North got one each from Crystal Bivens, Riddle, Jessica Dyson, Amanda Whicker and Jenna Groce. ... North travels to Kannapolis on Sept. 28 and hosts China Grove on the 30th.

Tigers Thrash Kannapolis

"This isn't what Kannapolis had in mind."
"Kannapolis is starting a new program. This is their first fast-pitch (softball) team," said South Davie coach Melanie Linville, who club rudely welcomed the Blue Devils with a 28-5 thrashing. "They had a hard time pitching. They went through three pitchers, and a lot of their problems were walks."
Emily Clodfelter and Ryanne McDaniel highlighted a South hitting exhibition with inside-the-park homers.
"Emily's was one bounce from the fence," Linville said. "It was close to going over."
Kirsten Durham recovered from a rocky opener, when J.N. Fries floored the Tigers 16-6, by going the distance and keeping the Blue Devils a country drive from catching the Tigers.

"She set a personal record with seven strikeouts," Linville said. "She did good this game. She did real well. She pitched a lot of strikes. She was struggling in the first game."
Linville believes the Tigers have the tools to become a contender long before the Piedmont Middle School Conference race heats up.
"Once they get started, I think they'll be pretty good," she said. "They still have the butterflies."
Heather McDaniel probably felt the jitters more than anyone else, especially since she had never worn the catching equipment until last week. But she's rapidly developing into an effective backstop, something the Tigers desperately lacked coming into the season.
"We had no catcher," Linville said. "We basically had to teach her the position, but she's doing good. She missed a few the first game, but this last game she didn't miss more than one or two. So she did good."

Kimberly Milenheimer stroked a two-run triple against Kannapolis. ... Linville said Alyse Bowden is looking good at second base, despite being the lone seventh-grade starter.
"Teams must play flawlessly to expect to hang around the Fries Knights, who have superior pitching, so an error-littered day all but forfeited South's hopes. "J.N. Fries is a real good team," Linville said. "I imagine they'll probably win the conference. They probably have as good of pitching this year as they had last year. We just made so many errors in the field. That was what cost us the game. ... Linville said first baseman Ryanne McDaniel and shortstop Brittany Walker performed well in defeat.

South Davie Defeats Kannapolis, West Rowan To Remain Unbeaten

South Davie's tennis team remained undefeated with a pair of 7-2 victories over Kannapolis and West Rowan. Deanna Shamel, Sarah Williams, Ashlee Prevette, Carly Balsley, Allison Bowles and Stephanie Wodarski won both their singles matches for the week. Tara Jones and Tim Phommaviah

Tennis Team Falls To West Forsyth 6-3

By Brian Pitts Davie County Enterprise Record The Davie tennis team's tortuous stretch through the rugged Central Piedmont Conference continued last week, when the War Eagles absorbed more losses from West Forsyth in a 6-3 loss. Coach Carol Cozart hopes the hard knocks will fuel a Stein rise, that Davie will stand on the sunny side of the net one day. "They were tough, we expected them to be tough, and we just learned and worked hard," she said. "I hope this makes us do better so that when we run into South Rowan and North Davidson (this week), we will be tougher for it. What are your options?" West took all six singles matches to secure the victory, then toyed with different combinations in doubles, where the War Eagles found their only bright moments. Lindsay Thomas-Meredith Harris and Sarah Stein-Nancy Vogler rolled to 8-3 victories and Kristen Powell-Molly Kooztz breezed 8-0. West's vast changes in doubles shouldn't take away from Davie's efforts, Cozart said. "He did substitute some of the doubles, but I thought the girls played well," she said. "Our doubles team have been playing together pretty well." Stein showed the most staying power in singles, recovering from an 8-2 hole before losing 10-6. West's wicked serves took its toll down the stretch. "Stein was the one that made it more of a difficult match for her oppo-

JV Redskins Fall To Trojans 12-0

Coach Ron Bivens' young Cooleemee JV football team lost a hard-fought battle to the Pinebrook Trojans, 12-0. "The team played well, but several mistakes really cost them," Bivens said. Daniel Cough of Pinebrook scored on runs of 57 and 11 yards. Billy Wall's Cooleemee varsity team again dominated as they rolled to a 20-

Shady Grove Defeats Mocksville

The Shady Grove Bulldogs varsity football team defeated the Mocksville Rams on Saturday, 8-6. Justin Brown scored the only touchdown for the Bulldogs on a 5-yard run, and Jonathan Mayfield scored the two-point conversion. Brown had 75 yards rushing and led the defensive charge with eight tackles. Mayfield came up with a key interception late in the fourth quarter. Coach Mike Seaford was highly complimentary of the offensive line. He also felt the defense played well, particularly in the second half. "I want to praise the whole team for such a good effort," he said. "We were down at the half, but the kids did not give up. They played hard and finished strong."

JV Bulldogs Improve Record To 2-0

The Shady Grove Bulldogs JV football team advanced its record to 2-0 with a 20-0 win over the Mocksville Rams on Saturday. Coach Maxie Melton said: "The win was truly a team effort with excellent play on both sides of the ball. I believe these boys played the best game they could." Once again, a strong showing by the defense, which didn't allow a single Mocksville first down, was instrumental in the win. Controlling the ball and the clock, the Shady Grove offense scored twice in the second quarter on rushing touchdowns by Trent Brooks and Whit Merrifield and led 14-0 at the half. The Bulldogs scored again in the third as Merrifield received the handoff and then threw a TD pass to Zack Myers. Melton recognized the contributions of Nick Schambach, James Hill, Blane Thompson and Zachary Gentry, saying "they stepped up on key plays and did what they had to do."

Cross Country Team Overcomes Mt. Tabor

By Brian Pitts Davie County Enterprise Record Davie's girls cross country team is going to make things interesting in the race for runner-up in the Central Piedmont Conference. On a day that belonged to Reynolds, the War Eagles blew past Mt. Tabor and cleared a mental hurdle in the process. In five years at the helm, Coach Gay Powers had never looked down on Tabor until last week. "I knew we had the talent, but I didn't know mentally if we could," said Powers, following Reynolds' 34 points, Davie's 41 and Tabor's 48. "So it was a surprise to me - not that we couldn't beat Tabor but that we were able to do this early in the season. But Tabor's tough and they'll be right back. It could be anybody's meet the next time." Behind Jerrine Peeler's fourth-place performance, Davie ignored the Tabor mystique, exorcised the demons of the past and competed on relatively even terms with two high-profile programs. "I thought we ran with a lot of courage, a lot of intensity," Powers said. "I mean, Reynolds and Tabor are two of the better teams you'll find in the state. "Our girls didn't give up, they weren't intimidated, and it paid off. This is the first time we've beaten Tabor in girls, and anytime something like that can happen, it's good. That's kind of a big step." Lauren Poplin and Lane Darcy captured the sixth and seventh places. Stacy Joyner finished 10th and Laurie Desch and Caroline Steed claimed 14th and 15th. Darcy flinched with Peeler and the leaders for awhile, surprising Powers, "Darcy was a real pleasant surprise," he said. "She ran up front with Jerrine for most of the race, was injured on the course and got back up and kept going.

So I'm really pleased with her. "Poplin is continuing to run well, and Desch and Steed were steady as always." Powers doesn't expect anyone to threaten West Forsyth. "West is probably the toughest so this will probably be a battle for second on down (between Reynolds, Davie and Tabor)," he said. "I don't know if anyone has anything for West or not." Boys Falter The Davie boys' dominance against weak nonconference competition presumably created false hopes as the War Eagles expended too much early energy and failed to pace themselves. Tabor rolled with 26 points, followed by Reynolds' 43 and Davie's 62. "I think we went out a little quick," Powers said. "We haven't faced enough real tough competition early in the season and Marshall Pitts, Greg Lanier and the others went out a little quick. "We're used to going out quick and people being mentally beaten by that - kind of falling by the wayside - and that's not going to happen with this level of competition. I think we saw the two toughest teams in the conference." Pitts slipped to sixth and Lanier took ninth. No other Davie runner cracked the top 15 as Kevin Ashley, Nick Summers and John Clevenger finished 16th, 17th and 22nd. Pitts, who owned the non-league competition, took a philosophical approach to his first setback of the year. "Marshall took it real well," Powers said. "Like me, he was disappointed but he understood some mistakes he made in the race."

North Davie Squeezes Past First Assembly For 16-14 Win

By Brian Pitts Davie County Enterprise Record Not so fast, First Assembly. North Davie's volleyball team scrambled back in the decisive third game of an electrified match and survived a 16-14 thriller. "The momentum was going their way," said King, whose team trailed 11-7 in game three. "They were playing better than we were, we were messing up and the kids were getting frustrated. "And their coach was thinking that he had the match set up because they were beating us. A North timeout broke First Assembly's rhythm and the Wildcats roared back for a win that punctured First Assembly's unbeaten bubble and triggered an emotional postgame scene. King, who can't remember North playing any better than this, was moved by the delirium and agony. "After we finally won, you would have thought we just won the conference championship," he said. "It was such an intense match. It was very emotional because it was probably their best and our best match. I was really proud of the effort of the whole team. I thought that was the best we've played this season. "Their team was crying after the match, that's how emotional it was. For us to beat them kind of burst their bubble and pumped our girls up. First Assembly kicked off the hour-and-a-half match with a 19-17 win, but North's strong serving fueled a 15-10 win and forced a third game.

"They had a team that bumped, set and spiked just like we're used to doing in practice," King said. "We were just serving good and they weren't (in game two). In middle-school volleyball, if you're not serving well it ruins your whole game. "Candice James did very well serving. "The defense has been playing real well," said Iling, whose club is 2-1 heading into Thursday's game at Central Davidson. "They're really getting after it. The defense has been putting us in some good situations. "The offense is in substantial debt to the defense, mainly because Salisbury and the War Eagles haven't given up a touchdown in seven quarters. "Against Salisbury, we only had to move the ball 30-40 yards at max," Iling said. "The defense is making it easy for the offense. "The offense has revolved around tailback Mikey Arnold and receiver Jason Hogue, who has found an effective rhythm with quarterback Dan Sullivan. "We're running the ball real well and we're able to hit some passes, get the ball in Hogue's hands outside and allow him to run with it," Iling said. "That opens up the running game when you can get the ball outside." Davie's immense improvement since the flawed opener, when West rolled 28-0, means the rematch on Oct. 9 will be the proper measuring stick for the War Eagles, who were beaten in every facet of the game. Iling, for one, envisions a closer game. "I think we'll have something ready for West Forsyth when we get to that game," he said of the conference opener. "I think it'll be a lot different outcome." Iling said Doug Smith has complemented Arnold well at fullback, and tight end Dave Poplin has been a reliable target over the middle.

New Dragway Champions Crowned

Farmington Dragway crowned three new track champions this past Saturday night in the $25,000 Farm Race Series. Mark "the Kid" Jones of Rural Hill locked up his first Top Eliminator championship last weekend. Chris Plott, 19, of Winston-Salem, captured his first ever championship title in the Sportsman "Foot Brake" division. The closest race was in the Street Machines Junior Dragster division as T.G. Paschal of Pleasant Garden came from behind to win his first title. Young Austin Higgins of Yadkinville couldn't stop the charge of T.G. Paschal in the battle for the Junior Dragster championship. Higgins, who had led the division two weeks ago, finished third - some fifty points back of Paschal. Austin finished second for the fifth time this season to Paschal in the final Junior Dragster racing action. The final points race win in Top Eliminator went to Michael Woodring of Taylorsville, in a Chevrolet Camaro. Woodring picked up his first Farmington win by defeating six-time Farmington race winner Glenn Ferguson of Greensboro in a dragster. Woodring ran a 5.99 ET at 115 mph to pick up his first $3,000 win at the Farm. His son, Jake, finished a close second in the Junior Dragster points competition taking four wins during the year. Newly crowned Sportsman champion Chris Plott scored his fifth victory of the year defeating Doug Smith of Mt. Airy. Plott drove his "Cougar Daddy" Mercury to an 8.01 ET at 85 mph to win over Smith in his Plymouth GTX. Smith also won his third "Foot Brake" Gambler win Friday night at Farmington. A special "Foot Brake" race for Sportsman racers will be featured this coming Saturday night, Sept. 26, at Farmington. The Mopars vs. the World will feature 16 top Mopars vs. 16 other car makes. Regular racing action in Top Eliminator, Sportsman, Pure Stock and Junior Dragsters classes will also be competing. Gates open Saturday at noon. Time runs start at 2 p.m. and final eliminations begin at 6:30 p.m. For more information call (336) 993-2982 or 766-0910.

JV Team Thrashes Opponents 75-6

After the West Forsyth loss, Davie football coach Doug Iling got under the JV team's hood and came out with motor oil under his nails. "We got people moved around over there, got people in the right positions, and of course repetitions with them practicing with the varsity (has helped)," said Iling. The tweaking worked. The War Eagles thrashed North Iredell and Salisbury by a combined score of 75-6, mainly behind a suffocating defense that performed room-service scoring opportunities for the improving offense. "The defense has been playing real well," said Iling, whose club is 2-1 heading into Thursday's game at Central Davidson. "They're really getting after it. The defense has been putting us in some good situations. "The offense is in substantial debt to the defense, mainly because Salisbury and the War Eagles haven't given up a touchdown in seven quarters. JV Team Scores 1-1 Tie

By Travis Peacock Davie County Enterprise Record Davie's JV soccer team got a little revenge Monday, tying Northwest Iredell 0-0. A penalty kick would have given North Iredell the win, but the wall, Chris Stein, blocked the shot. "That's it, 35 of 39, and she takes home $25. Jason Murphy appeared to have the inside track on first place with seven misses and 70 total points in the Duke-Florida State tie-breaker (75), but Serfass surfaced from the bottom of the box and kept Murphy to settle for $10. Justin Dotson, Steve Frye, Mosaic Thompson and Sandra Moon stalked Murphy with seven misses, and the fringe contenders with eight misses were Conrad, Chappell, Tim Boggs, Jamie Stanley, Robert Duggan and "The Big Bad" Nick Kleider. The JV team consist of 13 freshmen on the 20-man roster. "We have a really good class this year," said Garnett. "A broken finger is out of both games with a broken finger. He is expected to miss several games. "We have improved a lot, and I am really proud of them. We are moving the ball around real well, we just need to start finishing."

Notes & Quotes

Coach Likes Offensive Line
Davie football coach Doug Iling delivered the ultimate complement to his offensive line. "I wouldn't trade any of them for anybody," he said. "They're hard workers and they take pride in being offensive linemen. As they gain experience, they are going to get better." "They've been getting better out of dire necessity. Without QB Drew Richardson for three games, Davie has turned the offense into three yards and a cloud of dust, an impromptu approach that has helped the blockers develop their skills. "It's good that we've put this much emphasis on the running game," Iling said. "It's something we probably needed to do anyway because you've got to be physical and strong (when you run)." "If someone David Woodriddle ever comes up for adoption (he won't, of course), there's a taker: Davie soccer coach Pete Gustafson. "He's a pretty good kid," Gustafson said. "It all depends on how he plays, but he seems like a good kid. He's enjoyable to be around. He seems to have a pretty good head on his shoulders." "He also has game. Woodriddle had one his finest performances in last week's 1-0 win over North Iredell. "Woodriddle did just great job, he played like a champion." "I'm excited to see when Davie's star linebacker, J.J. Rice, comes back from his injury. Moments later, the rock got up and soon after that, Rice's head was back on his shoulders. "I'm excited to see when Davie's star linebacker, J.J. Rice, comes back from his injury. Moments later, the rock got up and soon after that, Rice's head was back on his shoulders."

Crystal Wins

Four games separated Crystal Serfass from $1,000. N.C. State and South Carolina were favored to win. Both flopped. Other misses, Forbush and North Rowan, were underdogs. "That's it, 35 of 39, and she takes home $25. BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

Paula's Country Kitchen features mouth-watering meals, desserts

Country-fried steak with white gravy. Chicken and dumplings. Creamy macaroni and cheese. Sweet potato casserole. All these and more are served daily at Clemmons' newest family-owned restaurant. Paula's Country Kitchen, owned by Matthew Lamar III, features the art of Southern-style cooking. Matt Lamar says it is the kind of place that makes you feel at home. "We specialize in old Southern recipes, good home-cooked meals that have you licking your fingers and enjoying the food."

Welcome to Clemmons Paula's Country Kitchen, including Matt Lamar, Paula Lamar and Vanessa Doolley.

Buffalo wings, long a prized menu item in the Piedmont, are served whole at Paula's. We serve the whole buffalo wing, not a piece or a drumette," Lamar says. "People cannot finish the plate." Paula's Country Kitchen opened August 3, 1998, and customers are already traveling from around the Triad to dine on their favorite entrees at Paula's. "I have a group of ladies from Kernersville who come regularly to eat with us," Lamar says.

Customers who do not spot their favorites on the menu will find Vanessa Doolley, kitchen manager, cooking special requests for them. Matthew Lamar knows the value of customer satisfaction. If we have it in the building, we will cook it for you," he states.

Such Southern favorites as chicken livers, turkey and dressing, and baby back ribs from Denmark are also popular orders at Paula's. The ribs are in such demand that Paula's will sponsor an upcoming Rib Festival September 28 - October 3, 1998. During the festival, a full rack of ribs will sell for $12.95.

Fried chicken, catfish, seafood combos are also mouth-watering selections. A unique offering is the half-roasted chicken, cooked in an old-fashioned broiler over a live hickory fire. The roasted chicken salad and sandwich are also made from this flavor-enhancing style.

Lamar, who oversaw the Village Tavern Restaurant kitchen when it opened in Winston-Salem, has twenty-six years' experience in restaurants and management. His wife Paula and eleven-year old daughter Siobhan combine their talents to create the warm family atmosphere found at Paula's.

"The all-fresh dishes include black-eyed peas, pinto beans, hand-snapped green beans, collards, mashed potatoes, corn on cob, okra, rice and gravy, and fried green tomatoes.

And what about dessert? Join the growing numbers of Paula's customers who regularly order the grilled chocolate pound cake. This delicious dessert is cooked, then buttered and browned on the grill, and served with a scoop of ice cream. Along with the homemade apple pie and hummingbird cake, the desserts at Paula's are being talked about all around town. "We have customers that we bake whole pies and cakes for," Lamar says. Take-out orders are available on all of the menu items for those special occasions, or just a relaxing dinner at home after a long day.

Paula's serves steaming hot corn bread muffins along with each entree. Their unique recipe was developed after two and one-half weeks of testing ingredients, and features real corn in the corn bread mix. It is obvious that the Lamar family takes great pride in offering the finest in Southern cooking for every meal they serve.

During the week of September 28-October 3, 1998, Paula's will give 10 percent off for customers wearing the school colors of Appalachian State, Winston-Salem State, Fayetteville State or Wake Forest University. This will be an excellent opportunity for new customers to sample the delicious Southern cooking at Paula's.

Paula's is located at 3260 South Stratford Road (3.5 miles west of Circuit City), just east of Clemmons on Highway 158.

BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

Let Solution Associates Protect Your Home & Business From Fire

Have you ever gone to bed at night, hoping that no fire will break out while you sleep? NOW you can treat the fabrics and wood in your home or business with the latest in flame retardant chemicals and technology. Senior Chemist Stephen N. Davis has spent more than twenty years developing sprays and coatings that will slow the deadly spread of fire.

Products such as wall coverings, draperies, vertical blinds, pleated shades, fabrics, automotive backcoatings, adhesives and sealants can now be treated with the special flame retardant chemicals developed by Mr. Davis. Businesses that sell fiberglass, paper, wood, plastic blends, fibers, corrugated materials will be extremely interested in the versatile intumescent fire retardants available through Solution Associates. These coatings have a special self-extinguishing feature that adds a huge margin of safety in the event of a dangerous outbreak of fire. They come in a wide variety of adhesives, emulsions, dispersions, or additives; and can be tailored to a particular business manufacturing needs.

Solution Associates markets the products of Mr. Davis' company, Key Polymer Corporation, of Cleveland, N. C.

Homeowners who live in mobile homes will be delighted at the additional safety element offered through Solution Associates. Materials treated with these flame retardant chemicals could provide the extra minutes that make the difference between life and death, for a mobile home owner.

For both residential and business use, the wood and fabric spray is very valuable, especially in areas more vulnerable to fire, such as the garage or kitchen. Even if a fire breaks out, fabrics and wood treated with these chemicals control the spread of fire, and increase the amount of time the fire department has to respond and to fight the blaze.

Christmas does not have to be a dangerous time in your home, either. Mr. Davis has also developed a Christmas tree spray which limits the danger of fire amidst those twinkling electrical lights during the holiday season. Spray your tree and safeguard your home from a tragic accident due to a dry tree.

Solution Associates also offers Fire-Chek Caulk, which not only prevents rapid air drafts from room to room or from the exterior, but is specially formulated for greater hindrance to fire in the event of an accident. If you are building a home, or re-caulking your home or business, consider this added element of safety with Fire-Chek Caulk.

Do you have hard-to-clean bathrooms and kitchens? Does your business require heavy duty natural cleaner/degreasers for engines or machinery? Citrus Degreaser was particularly designed for difficult, stubborn industrial and residential stains. A water soluble cleaner, Citrus Degreaser will clean any water-safe surface, including exhaust fans, ovens, baked enamel, steel, and desks. It may be sprayed on by hand, or with pressure equipment, and steamed, mopped, brushed or wiped on any surface. Then the surface is rinsed with clear water. Citrus Degreaser includes a deodorizer as well.

One gallon of Citrus Degreaser (96 ounces) is only $4. Five gallons are $22.50. Try some and test the results for yourself. Free samples are available from Solution Associates at (704) 278-9922 (phone/fax). Or email Stephen Davis at: sai@allsbury.net. Is it worth it to go to sleep at night, knowing your family and business has added protection from fire? Solution Associates offers products that will greatly enhance your business sales, and your family's safety.

Seventh Grade Tigers Impress Coaches With 28-6 Victory

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Before the season, South Davie's coaches would have taken a win - any win - from the seventh-grade football team since only seven players had ever suited up before last week.

So no wonder Todd Bumgarner, who called the shots on offense as head coach Barry Whitlock traveled with the eighth graders, walked with a certain spring in his step in the aftermath of the Tigers' impressive 28-6 drubbing of Northwest Cabarrus.

"It really tickled me," said Bumgarner, a first-year coach. "I wasn't expecting to go out there and control the game like we did. I attribute all that to the hard work that we've done for the month and a half getting our team ready to play."

"They were really happy. A lot of those guys have never been on a team, and it was real nice. I was real happy for them."

The Tigers dismissed their vast inexperience, relying on precise execution and a winning attitude to dominate the Warriors in every aspect of the game.

"It was a total team effort," Bumgarner said. "The team executed real well. We played real well for our first game having so few of players that have ever played football before."

"They listen, they're real cooperative and they always do what they're told. They're just a great group to work with."

Whitlock introduced horse Billy Riddle, the halfback-linebacker, as one of the league's sharpest weapons before the season, and he didn't disappoint, carrying the Tigers to a 20-0 halftime lead.

He scored on runs of 3 and 12 yards, returned an interception 50 yards and accounted for all 20 first-half points - not to mention his 32-yard reception and steady play on defense.

"Riddle had a good game," Bumgarner said. "He ran the ball real effectively (eight carries, 62 yards), and had a good game on defense along with our ends Derrick Foster and Ben Gobble. He was really a spark for us."

After Northwest closed within 20-6, Gobble applied the finishing touches, racing 23 yards and adding the two-point conversion.

On the game's first play from scrimmage, Maurice Wilson caught the Warriors off-guard with a 32-yard halfback pass to Riddle, who later scored. ... Wilson also gained 27 yards on eight rushes. ... Mitchell Roberts, who picked off a pass, netted 28 yards on five carries. ... Bumgarner praised Andrew McClannan's leadership. "Andrew did a good job running the offense for his first game at quarterback," he said. "He did real well setting the pace for the game." ... South visits Concord on Sept. 23.

Coed Volleyball League Starting

The Mocksville-Davie Parks and Recreation Department's coed volleyball league will start Oct. 11 and continue each Sunday afternoon.

Four men and two women play, and teams will referee their own matches. The deadline for registration is Oct. 2. Call the rec at 751-2325 to register.

Benson Sinks Hole-in-one

Bob "Big Daddy" Benson made one of the biggest shots of his life last week when he drained a hole-in-one on No. 11 at Twin Cedars.

It was the first official hole-in-one for Benson, who will turn 71 in November.

Benson used a 9-wood on the par-3, 150-yard hole. Jerry Rallegde also watched as the ball disappeared into the cup.

Former Players Invited To Game

The Davie High School Athletic Booster Club invites all previous football players from Davie to come to the homecoming game Sept. 25 and form two lines for the team to run through.

If you have played football for Davie, come and cheer the team on. You will need to be at the stadium no later than 7:10 p.m. Come by the concession stand to check in when you get to the stadium.

If you have questions, call Yvonne or Tiny Livengood at 998-4440.

Dinkins Punting For Catawba

One of Catawba's biggest concerns coming into the season: Who is going to punt the ball on fourth down?

Chris Dinkins has supplied the answer. In fact, the 1996 Davie High graduate has all but locked up the job. He's third in the South Atlantic Conference with 34-yard average and has punted four of nine punts inside the 20-yard line.

A case of pneumonia sidelined Dinkins during the preseason, making the job a wide-open race. But now it's Dinkins' job to lose, according to Coach David Bennett of the Indians, who are 2-1 following their 41-21 victory over Mars Hill.

Journeys Planned

The Davie Black Merchants will hold a fund-raiser and men's open softball tournament this weekend at Rich Park.

The tournaments will be double round-robin unless there are four or less teams. If that's the case, the format will be round-robin.

In case, the home-run limit is two. Men's open, five homers will be allowed.

Tickets will be given for first place, $100; second place, $50; and third place, $25. The entry fee is $125.

Stronger than ever. Ready for the future.

How so?

The logo-ectomy made us a single company with the strength, power and capability of two.

People tell us that "Alltel" was great just the way it was. "The product was good, the service was excellent, why change?"

In communication you can't rest on your laurels, you build on it. When people see the new word and what it represents we have planned, they'll be happy we came together to become ALLTEL.

Any last words?

They tuned. "This is just the beginning..."

Davie People

Woman's Club Opens Season

The GFWC-NC Mocksville Women's Club opened their fall season with a luncheon meeting at Bermuda Run Country Club on Sept. 9.

President Peggy Page welcomed members and guests, and presented goals for the new year. She also shared the state president's theme for the '98-2000 term: "A time to remember the past, and a time to plan for the future."

Phyllis Potter gave a devotional message.

Marlene Shamel announced the date for the annual Arts Festival and encouraged members to begin preparing their entries. Judging will be held on Dec. 10 at the Davie County Public Library. Middle and High School students interested in entering the literature, arts and music categories should contact their teachers and register to participate.

Sheila Tutterow, home life department chairman, commended the club for its support of the Relay For Life/Cancer Fund Drive held at Davie High School in August. Two members participated in the Survivors' Walk, and several members walked during the overnight event.

International Affairs Co-chairmen Eva Jurgensen and Thelma Duggins prepared a brochure on Chile for those attending. Jurgensen introduced June Steele, a teacher-nurse at Baptist Hospital, who spoke about her medical missions trip to Chile in 1996. She went to Chile with three others from First Baptist Church who were part of a team from Tennessee sponsored by the International Baptist Missions. They served in several communities, ministering to those who might otherwise have to go without proper medical treatment. The group plans to return to Chile in October 1998.

Extending the "international" emphasis, the club welcomed Elke Albrecht's sister Ute, who was visiting from Germany.

Hostesses included Doris Carman, Virginia Evans, Stella Fisher, Phyllis Potter and Jean Schooler. Luncheon was served to 38 members and guests.

Oak Grove School Reunion Planned

The Oak Grove School Student Reunion will be held Saturday, Oct. 3 at the Oak Grove United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall on U.S. 158, approximately three miles east of Mocksville.

The reunion is for former students and their spouses. The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. with a picnic lunch at noon. Bring a picnic lunch. Plates, cups, napkins, and eating utensils will be provided.

The original schoolhouse was a two-room building with three grades being taught in one room, and four grades being taught in the other room. The last year that the school was open was the school year 1938-1939. The building was then used for church suppers and miscellaneous member functions.

Church To Host Birthday Celebration

COOLEEMEE - In honor of Cooleemee's 100th birthday, the First Baptist Church of Cooleemee will be hosting a special birthday celebration on Saturday, Sept. 26, from 1-3:30 p.m.

This free event will be held on the front lawn of the church at 204 Marginal St.

Mayor Grady Spry will begin the celebration, which will continue with the serving of free drinks, cake and ice cream. There will be games children played throughout the century conducted on the left side of the church. At least one game from each decade will be featured.

There will be door prizes awarded every 30 minutes for adults as well as children.

The main attraction will be a performance by "The Parables," a part of The Creative Ministries Team of Northwest Baptist Church in Winston-Salem, at 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. This team consists of "Juggles" and "Doodles," gospel clowns who are sure to delight all ages.

There will also be face painting, balloons, and treat bags for the kids. The event is the church's gift to the residents and friends of Cooleemee.

For more information, call the Rev. Pennington at 284-2626 or 284-2598.

Center Club Supports Samaritan's Purse

Center Homemakers met on Tuesday night, Sept. 15, at the Center Community Building.

President Pat Reilly called the meeting to order and led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, after which she recognized the birthdays of members recently celebrated or to be celebrated in the remainder of September.

Ruby O'Neal had the devotional thoughts. She began by reading from 1 John 4 about "love." Then she gave a reading from her favorite book "Don't Sweat The Small Things," titled "Start the Day with Love, Live the Day with Love, End the Day with Love." Judy Swicegood concluded the devotional period with a prayer.

Secretary Gail Smith called the roll. The 14 members answered with their favorite teacher's name. She then read the minutes which were approved.

Louise Tutterow gave the treasury report.

Frances O'Neal urged everyone to contact the school board members with their thoughts about the discussion of drug testing in the schools.

Gail Smith gave the nominating committee report which was approved. Officers for the upcoming year will be: president, Frances O'Neal; vice-president, Ruby O'Neal; secretary, Brenda Jean Rutherford; and treasurer, Louise Tutterow. Issues chairs will be environmental, Ella Phillips; global, Pearlene Seaford; special projects, Lena Mae Allen; marketing, Ann White; and family, Pat Reilly.

A secret ballot vote was taken for club member of the year and program chair of the year. The winner will be announced at the Achievement night program in October.

Pat Reilly, Ann White and Pearlene Seaford were recognized for donating cakes for Special Olympics.

Reilly reported that the club had sent 295 bottles to South India and had received a thank-you note. The bottles are used for medicine for people who come to clinics.

Fourteen members paid dues of $7.50 each. Issue reports were completed by the members.

The meeting concluded with the recitation of the Club Collet. Following the meeting the members filled shoe boxes to be sent to a foreign country. This project is done in conjunction with the Samaritan's Purse organization. Samaritan's Purse is a non-denominational evangelical Christian organization which provides spiritual and physical aid to hurting people around the world. Some of the places are Bosnia, Romania, Sudan, Lebanon, and India. Every member brought items such as small toys, school supplies, hygiene items, T-shirts, socks, books, candy and gum to fill the boxes. Enough items were collected to fill nine large shoe boxes. These boxes will be taken to the State Council meeting and will be presented along with others from across the state to a representative of Samaritan's Purse on Oct. 5.

Hostess Pearlene Seaford and Louise Tutterow served Red Velvet Cake, party mix, and punch. Doris Williams won the door prize and Lena Mae Allen purchased the Friendship Box for $1.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday, Oct. 20 at Center community building.

Shouting To The Deaf Southern Fiction Revival Scheduled

"To the hard of hearing you shout and to the almost blind you draw large and startling figures," was the favorite quote that Flannery O'Connor used to describe her own writing.

O'Connor felt that her calling was to "wake up a world that had gone complacent; to write for the intelligentsia who had no need for God. Flannery O'Connor is one of Southern fiction's most esteemed authors. From her 'backwoods prophets and fundamentalist preachers' she brings southern manners to a new level of grace. And indeed one commonality in all of her writing is the divine offer of redemption always near the end.

Large startling figures are exactly what you will see at the performance of a newly written play, Flannery O'Connor: Shouting to the Deaf. Director and co-author of the work, John Rushion, has heightened the tension in O'Connor's seemingly mundane life. Stark contrasts arise when one compares her illness to the stories that came from her mind and emotions. "One strength I wanted to show was how this meek, mild, crippled woman could produce stories that grab you like the last 'smelling salt' of conviction," describes Rushion. Flannery O'Connor: Shouting to the Deaf is part of a weekend of southern fiction adapted for the stage. The event, "southern fiction REVIVAL," Oct. 9-11 will include three plays, workshops for writers, film adaptations and children's theatre.

"The literary arts are rich in the South. By producing the fiction in a visual art format, using theatre and film, we hope to enlighten our community about this rich art form," explains Nancy Norton, executive director. "We have filmmakers from the School of the Arts, professional actors from Winston-Salem and High Point as well as local talent included in this weekend production."

A subtle yet keen interest is forming around this extraordinary event, she said.

For a brochure and ticket information on "southern fiction REVIVAL" call 336-751-3112 or write to the Davie County Arts Council, 622 N. Main St., Mocksville, NC 27028. FAX 336-751-3479.

The play is decidedly non-traditional with larger-than-life video images projected through an open window. O'Connor's muse, played by Frank Joyner, gives voice to her thoughts and schemes in the character of a southern-Negro-lawn stannary. "I am excited about this character, because it is so different from what I've worked on in the past," admits Joyner. "At the end, the audience will be challenged to read and reflect on a great literary artist."

Southern Fiction REVIVAL is produced by the Davie County Arts Council and is sponsored in part by a grant from the Margaret Woodson Foundation, Central Carolina Bank and the N.C. Arts Council.

Johnson-Dodson Couple Exchange Vows

Lori Wyn Johnson and James Manley "Jay" Dodson IV were united in marriage on Sept. 19 at 5 p.m. at First United Methodist Church, Mocksville. The Rev. Edward Biggers officiated the double-ring ceremony.

Traditional wedding music with selected songs was presented by First United Methodist Choir, directed by Barbara Basham; organist, Mike Hendrix; and Charles Crabb, trumpeter.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a formal gown of white satin with pearls and sequins on alencon lace. The bodice was sleeveless with a modified sweetheart neckline. The A-line skirt was enhanced with a chapel train and a wide hem of alencon lace embellished with beads and sequins. The bride's headpiece was a single band of pearls in a cascading chapel length, lined in satin.

She carried a cascading bouquet of Gardenias, Lilies and Stephanotis.

Matron of honor was Joanna Johnson Haire of Mocksville, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Jennifer J. Johnson of Raleigh, cousin of the bride; Amy Beth Johnson, cousin of the bride; and Amy E. Dodson, sister of the groom, both of Greensboro; Brooke Hall of Pitman, N.J.; Christie C. LeBlanc of Fernandina Beach, Fla.; Renee Luffman Bradshaw and Holly Andrews Sinopoli, both of Morristown; and Jean Nichols Ward of Clemmons.

Honorary attendants were Lisa Mullen of North Potomac, Md., and Lara J. Wilson of Raleigh.

Best man was James Manley Dodson III, father of the groom. Groomsmen were Michael A. Beale of Chapel Hill; Art G. Dornik of Richmond, Va.; Eric S. Hayes of Greensboro; Ryan E. Lantz of Charlotte; J. T. Puckett of Humboldt, Tenn.; John L. Soderberg, Virginia Beach, Va.; Todd E. Martineau of Atlanta, Ga.; and Scott McQueen of Suwanee, Ga.

The flower girl was Bethany R. Bradshaw of Mocksville. Gail Kelly of

Mrs. James Manley "Jay" Dodson IV

Mocksville directed the wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Wyn Johnson of James Way, Advance. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Monroe Groonsmen were Michael A. Beale of Chapel Hill; Art G. Dornik of Richmond, Va.; Eric S. Hayes of Greensboro; Ryan E. Lantz of Charlotte; J. T. Puckett of Humboldt, Tenn.; John L. Soderberg, Virginia Beach, Va.; Todd E. Martineau of Atlanta, Ga.; and Scott McQueen of Suwanee, Ga.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Manley Dodson III of Jamesstown. He is the grandson of Elizabeth Beason of High Point and the late Joseph Everett Beason, and the late Mr. and Mrs. James Manley Dodson II. He is a graduate of Ragsdale High School, Jamestown, and Elon College. He is a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity, and is employed as a sales representative for Carolina Industrial Systems in Greensboro.

After a honeymoon trip to Negrill, Jamaica, the couple will reside in Greensboro.

Reception

Following the ceremony, a tent reception was held at James Way, Bermuda Run. Greeters were Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Strider, Helen Gantt, and Jim Hicks of Advance.

A four-tiered wedding cake with basket-weave design and cascading flowers was served.

Rehearsal Dinner

On Friday night, Sept. 18, following the rehearsal, the groom's parents hosted a dinner at Bermuda Run Country Club for the wedding party, family and friends.

Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sweetman of Greensboro.

Social Events

The couple was honored with a cocktail on June 13 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Brown. Co-hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Forrest.

On June 20, the groom's parents hosted a BBQ in honor of the couple's engagement.

A Christmas shower was given on July 30 at Bermuda Run Country Club. Co-hosts were Elaine Strider and Helen Gantt.

On Aug. 16, the bride-elect was honored with a recipe and kitchen shower at The Village House in Clemmons, hosted by Jacque, Amy Beth and Jennifer Johnson.

On Aug. 29, Brownie Troop 443 hosted a miscellaneous shower at Macedonia Lutheran Church.

The couple was honored with an entertainment shower on Aug. 29 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Haire of Mocksville. Co-hosts were Amy Dodson and F. J. Carney.

The bride's co-workers honored the couple with a dinner party at Nick's in Burlington on Sept. 11.

A bridesmaid luncheon was held on Sept. 19 at Bermuda Run Country Club, hosted by Shelby Nichols, Bobbie Andrews, Jean Ward, Holly Sinopoli and Lena Haire. The bride chose this occasion to present gifts to her attendants.

Mrs. Stephen Tulos Hannah

Couple Pledge Vows

Traci Alyce Wennerberg and Stephen Tulos Hannah, both of Edina, Minn., were married at 2 p.m. Sept. 12 in St. Leo the Great Catholic Church in Winston-Salem. The Rev. Dean Cesa officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Kathleen Schack Wennerberg of Advance and Richard Allen Wennerberg of Hopkinton, N.H. She graduated from Davie High School and is a territory account manager for Dey Laboratories.

The groom is the son of Joyce Hinds of Gallinburg, Tenn., and William Hannah of Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. He graduated from Gallinburg Pittman High School and is the regional sales manager of Reliance Standard Life.

The couple graduated from Western Carolina University in Cullowhee.

Sleep deprivation is a factor in over 1500 traffic fatalities each year. And it can lead to serious health problems, including life-threatening disorders.

Yet, more than 100 million Americans have about as much chance for a good night's sleep as Count Dracula. If you're one of them, you need to know about the Sleep Medicine Center of Salisbury.

We're One Of Only Seven Accredited Sleep Programs In The State.

Accreditation by the American Sleep Disorders Association means you can come to us to see board-certified specialists knowledgeable in the latest sleep medicine techniques. It means that you can count on state-of-the-art equipment and that meticulous attention is paid to safety, comfort and treatment efficiency.

But even with all this, there's still one other distinct advantage the Sleep Medicine Center of Salisbury offers: Dr. Dennis Hill, one of the premier sleep medicine specialists in this part of the country, is our Medical Director.

Some People Have A Good Reason To Stay Up All Night. You Don't.

Of North Carolina's Seven Accredited Sleep Programs, Our Medical Director Started Three Of Them.

In addition to the Sleep Medicine Center of Salisbury, Dr. Dennis Hill was also instrumental in starting two other accredited sleep centers in North Carolina. The level of experience he brings to the Sleep Medicine Center of Salisbury simply cannot be matched anywhere else.

Good Days Start With Good Nights. Good Nights Start Here. Doctors have discovered at least 84 different sleeping disorders. These include problems falling or staying asleep, difficulties staying awake, adhering to a consistent sleep/wake schedule, loud snoring, sleepwalking and talking, bed-wetting, nightmares, Restless Legs Syndrome, and others.

At the Sleep Medicine Center of Salisbury at Rowan Regional Medical Center, we treat all of these disorders and more.

So if you have a problem sleeping, call us for an appointment. Because the only good reason to stay up all night is because you want to.

Collette To Speak At Senior Lunch Program

Learn something new at the Davie County Senior Center's Lunch & Learn. The next program will be at the Mocksville Western Store on Thursday, Oct. 1, at 12 noon.

Nancy Collette from Collette Art and Framing will be the guest speaker to discuss "Art for Everyday Living." All seniors are welcome and will receive a free drink. Ask for your coupon at the door.

Lunch & Learn is offered the first Thursday of each month. A variety of speakers are offered, presenting information on a fun and informative topic. For more information call the Davie County Senior Center at 751-0611.

Due to popular demand, the Davie County Senior Center will host another Senior Lunch on Saturday, Sept. 26, from 7-10 p.m. at the Mocksville Elementary School gym.

There will be a DJ playing a variety of music for all kinds of dancing. Even if you don't dance, come out for the fellowship and refreshments. Admission is $3 and the dance is open to seniors in Davie and surrounding counties. Whether you haven't danced since the Twist, the Charleston, or the Mambo, you're sure to have a great time. No alcoholic beverages permitted, and smoking is not permitted inside the building. Do not wear boots or other hard-soled shoes that may damage the gym floor.

Call the Senior Center at 336-751-0611 for more information.

East Davie Homemakers Elect New Officers

East Davie Extension Homemakers met Sept. 8 at Josephine Ellis' home with Lois Stephens as co-hostess.

President Jo Cheek welcomed members and the speaker, Osline West introduced Phil Suggs of the Dept. of Transportation of Winston-Salem. He showed slides of flowers along the major highways that DOT had planted.

He said they use seeds instead of plants because they do not water anything. They use many hundreds of pounds of seed. He gave each one a booklet on wildflowers and a N.C. road map.

Club officers were elected for the next two years. New by-laws were adopted.

Plans were made for refreshments for achievement night, Oct. 15, at the Library.

Six members had made cakes for Special Olympics.

Donations were made to American Heart Association, Hospice of Davie County and Samaritans Purse.

Three members plan to go on the New England Fall Cranberry Tour in October. The club made plans for an angel workshop for members.

Davie County Extension Homemakers have a display at the library. East Davie has their quilt on display. Tickets are for sale for a $11 donation from any member.

After lunch, there was a workshop to make gift bags and instructions on how to make lap robes for a rest home.

Church Plans Homecoming

COOLEEMEE - On Sunday, Sept. 27, at 11 a.m., First Baptist Church Cooleemee will celebrate its annual homecoming. The church will celebrate its 75th anniversary. The Rev. Jeff Pennington describes the church as one that is "standing on the past and building for the future."

Special guest speaker for the day will be the Rev. Robert Tenery of Mocksville, a retired clinical chaplain from the C.A. Dillon Training School in Butler. He is a graduate of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary with a master of divinity degree.

The church is located at 204 Marginal St., Cooleemee. For more information, call (336) 284-2626. Everyone is invited.

Don't Get Burned!

You can be fined up to $10,000 for illegal open burning in NC.

Smoke from open burning can cause serious health problems and pollute the air. That's why the state regulates open burning. Only leaves, branches or other plant growth can be burned.

IT'S ILLEGAL TO BURN:

- Garbage, paper and cardboard
- Tires and other rubber products
- Building materials, including lumber
- Wires, plastics, and synthetic materials
- Asphalt shingles and heavy oils
- Paints, household chemicals and agricultural products

Homeowners can burn yard trimmings - excluding logs and stumps - if it's allowed under local ordinances. No public pickup is available and it doesn't cause a public nuisance. Other allowable burning includes campfires, outdoor barbecues and bonfires for festive occasions. Landowners also can open burn vegetation to clear land or rights-of-way, provided that:

- Prevailing winds are away from built up areas and roads
- Flare are at least 1,000 feet away from occupied buildings
- Burning is done between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Remember burn permits issued by the NC Division of Forest Resources, its agents or any local government do not exclude a person from following the state air quality rules. For more information contact:

Division of Air Quality
NC Department of Environment and Natural Resources
Phone: 336-771-4600

Homecoming Service Planned

Former Mocksville Pastor, Ray Thomas, is the special guest speaker scheduled for homecoming Sunday, Sept. 27, at The Wesleyan Church, 307 Hospital St., Mocksville.

There will be special music. Sunday School starts at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11, and a covered dish picnic just after noon.

Pastor George Troyer and the congregation invite the public.

Former Pastor To Speak At Holy Cross Lutheran

Holy Cross Lutheran Church will celebrate homecoming Sunday, Sept. 27 at 10:30 a.m.

The guest preacher will be the Rev. Dr. Boyce D. Whitener, Sr., who was the first pastor and mission developer of Holy Cross.

Whitener is a graduate of Lenoir-Rhyne College and the Lutheran Theological Southern Seminary. He served as pastor for other Lutheran parishes in Vale; Florence, Ala.; Alhambra; and Hickory. Whitener is serving as the executive director of the N.C. Lutheran Men in Mission after retiring from the position of mission director for the Division for Outreach of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

Whitener is married to Joyce Amick Whitener. They are the parents of two children and have two grandchildren.

The community is invited to join the Holy Cross congregation for worship and for an old-fashioned outdoor covered dish meal following the service. Holy Cross is located at 1913 U.S. 601 S., Mocksville.

Day Three At Calvary

Day Three will be performing at Calvary Baptist Church, Davie Academy Road, at the 11 a.m. service on Sunday, Sept. 27. The public is invited. A love offering will be taken. The Rev. Jerry Baker is pastor.

Children's Clothing Sale Planned

MOPS will hold a children's clothing sale at Macphologia Moravian Church on N.C. 801 in Advance Friday, Sept. 25 and Saturday, Sept. 26.

Hours will be 9 a.m.-noon and 4-8 p.m. on Friday and 9 a.m. - noon on Saturday.

In addition to clothing, baby equipment, toys, books and other children's items will be available.

Funds from the sale will provide scholarships for mothers interested in MOPS (Mothers of Preschoolers), who need financial assistance, and help pay teachers and buy supplies for the MOP-PETS program.

MOPS is an outreach program to meet the needs of mothers of preschoolers. The group meets at Macphologia Moravian Church the first and third Friday of each month 9:30-11:30 a.m. and is open to all mothers of preschoolers.

Children participate in MOP-PETS while their mothers are meeting. For more information about MOPS or to make a donation of children's items for the sale, call 940-2901.

Anything that is left over will be donated to A Storehouse for Jesus.

Pain may be eliminated for millions

(SPECIAL) - A drug that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itis," and is being called a "Medical Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscle aches, joint aches, simple backache, bruises, and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itis, relieves pain by first selectively attracting, and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itis, is available immediately without a prescription in an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream or new roll-on lotion form. Arthur Itis, is guaranteed to work or your money back.

Continuing Education Classes To Be Offered At DCCC

The Davie Campus of Davidson County Community College will offer the following Continuing Education classes beginning the week of Sept. 29.

Spanish for Business: Advanced course is an intermediate level of Spanish designed for employees who have had some exposure to Spanish or basic knowledge of the language. This course enables participants to develop communication competence with real life business situations presented in today's Spanish format and on-the-job conversation. (Tuesdays, Sept. 29-Dec. 8, 5:30-7:30 p.m., $35 fee plus approximately $15 for textbook.)

Using the Internet course teaches the history and potential of the Internet as well as navigation and communication skills. Students will be taught e-mail, Netscape, Explorer, newsgroups, gopher, FTP, IRC, and telnet. Each student will have individual terminal access to the Internet for the duration of the class. The content of this course specifically teaches the technology competencies required of all public school certified personnel. This is a self-supporting class. Fees are designed to underwrite the cost of instruction and will be charged to all students. (Tuesdays, Sept. 29-Nov. 3, 1-3 p.m., $35 fee plus approximately $25 for textbook and a $5 materials fee, TRCs: 1,2.)

Introduction to Machining Course will introduce the exciting trade of machining. This course provides an introduction to lathes, milling machines, use of measuring instruments, and information on how to get employing exam for level III, level II or level I. Volumes I and I-C needed. (Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Oct. 2-10, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., $35 fee.)

I Know Nothing About Computers Course is for individuals... users the opportunity to learn basic computer operations and functions. Students will create, print, and save simple documents, manipulate a mouse, and learn basic Windows manipulation.

This course is a pre-requisite for all software classes. Students need a 3-1/2 inch high density disk. (Mondays, Sept. 28-Oct. 19, 5:30-8:30 p.m., $35 fee plus a $5 materials fee, TRCs: 1,2.)

DCCC offers comprehensive educational opportunities for all adults in the community. For more information about programs or courses, contact DCCC Davie Campus at 336-751-2885.

Coolermee Centennial

DAVIE COUNTY ENTERPRISE RECORD

The boat that once brought the mail into Coolermee also regularly transported passengers on the river from the train to the town of Coolermee.

In this photograph on display at the history museum in the Zachary House, children gather in front of Coolermee's old wood school.

Coolermee historians have been unable to find anyone who could identify the Coolermee resident in this old photo.

The man who cared for Coolermee residents for years, Doc Byerly and his family have loaded up in the family car for a drive. The picture is believed to have been taken around 1911.

Cooleemee's Beginnings: Wilderness To Industrial Town

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

COOLEEMEE - Some 100 years ago, this area along The Shoals on the South Yadkin River in southern Davie County was described as a wilderness.

And it was.
But Benjamin and James Duke had another idea.

They envisioned a huge textile mill, the largest in North Carolina. Quietly at first, they went about their business.

"They had turned their attention to textile mills as billboards for their use of hydroelectric power," said Jim Rumley, president of the Cooleemee Historical Association. He's also completing a book on the town's

The site in Cooleemee was picked by William Erwin, B. Frank and George Mebane and engineers. Work began, and the railroad was being completed to the area.

What was Cooleemee like 100 years ago?

"You would have seen very little," Rumley said. "William Erwin called this place a wilderness. There were a lot of trees being cut down. There were a few houses, and there were engineers going up and down the river."

One of the first residents to move into town was Samuel Jesse Tatum, who moved his sawmill there from Jerusalem.

The land had been owned by the Hairstons, owners of the Cooleemee Plantation. The name Cooleemee, although there are several theories, was derived from an Alabama Indian tribe familiar to the Hairstons.

For the first couple of years, Cooleemee's workers came from a couple of miles around the site, and lived in shacks as they cut the trees and

More Than History: Festival A Big Homecoming

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

It's a big family reunion, and you're invited. In fact, everyone's invited as Cooleemee celebrates its 100th anniversary this weekend.

It all starts Friday night when the kiddie rides will be operated at Marginal Street and N.C. 801 on the school grounds, and will include a dedication of the "Old Square" mural on the mill (Stokes Yarn) building facing Main Street at 7 p.m.

Saturday's festivities begin at 10 a.m. with a parade featuring nearly 60 entries, including several floats, the Davie High School marching band, and groups and units from across town. The best place to view the parade will be along Marginal Street.

Arts and crafts and music and food booths will operate throughout the day at the Zachary House grounds, where opening ceremonies will begin at 11. There will be boat rides on the Yadkin River, starting at the Junction Road access site. Shuttle service will be available.

Churches, the school and town hall will host open houses during the day, and tours of the mill will be held. Old cars, old-timey demonstrations and other scenes from Cooleemee's past will be re-created.

Several town residents will dress, and act, as characters from the town's past. The day will end with a concert by The Main Event and a fireworks display at dark.

But most of all, the Textile Heritage Festival, and the town's Centennial Celebration, is a homecoming.

People who grew up in Cooleemee come back to visit. There are several Cooleemee School class reunions planned for the weekend. People whose ancestors worked at the mill will return.

"My husband was in textiles, and we realized it was a story that hadn't been told."

- Bonnie Byerly
Festival Chair

And, of course, there will be those who like festivals, and who are interested in cotton mill life in a culture that is quickly fading away.

They can tour the Textile Heritage Museum in the Zachary House, and learn about their past.

"We're really going all out this year," said Jim Rusley, president of the Cooleemee Historical Association. "Lots and lots of folk are coming back. We're putting out a lot of permanent improvements. We're going to have a lot more historical presence."

Improvements are being made to the shopping center, which replaced the town square when it was torn down. Homeowners have been sprucing up their property, wanting to put the best foot forward for visitors to the town. Historical markers are noting where the old wooden school stood, where the old Riverside Hotel was located, where the old square was at, and where the brick school was located.

A mural on the mill wall facing Main Street, across from where the square stood, has been painted.

Centennial celebration efforts have been headed by Bonnie Byerly, whose husband Don is a grandson of Cooleemee's Doc Byerly.

She got involved by accident, when the historical association held the first festival. "Don and I had heard there was going to be a festival, the first festival," she said.

"He said let's go down there for real. We were a week early."

But they found volunteers busy planning for that festival. "I realized we had all kinds of artifacts from Don's grandfather. My husband was in textiles, and we realized it was a story that hadn't been told," Byerly said.

Now, she can spout the importance of textiles to the country, especially to the South.

"It was every bit as important to the development of North Carolina as tobacco or anything else," she said.

She kept volunteering, and when the centennial festival needed a chairman, she agreed to put her talents to use for Cooleemee.

The festival will include the display of artifacts, including a Model A owned by Mr. Zachary, the mill manager for many years. A sunny, as used in transportation even earlier days, will also be on display.

The Mill Built Cooleemee; The People Made It Home

worked on building the mill and houses for the workers. By June of 1899, about a fifth of the housing was completed, Rumley said. There are few records detailing those houses.

It took more than three years to build the mill, but by 1903 it was in full production. Workers came from Davie, Rowan, Iredell, Yadkin and Davidson counties and settled in their new homes, and into their new jobs as part of the South's industrial evolution.

Chaplines were being built, and most were completed by 1905.

Cooleemee's mill and town were bustling when the flu struck in 1918, claiming thousands of lives.

While the houses built by the mill for the workers' families were often three or four stories high on Marginal Street, they specifically for superintendent's and other high-ranking officials.

In the 1920s and 30s, more than 2,000 people called Cooleemee home. Hundreds never lived in neighboring communities such as Jerusalem and Lenoir, Rumley said.

The mill changed hands a couple of times, but remained in professional hands for several years. Stokes Yarn is the newest tenant.

One thing that hasn't changed that makes it the people. Cooleemee folk always take care of each other. It's a community, and that's what the centennial celebration is all about, Rumley said.

"A lot of what we've worked on is to make sure we're not just a mill town, but a place where the people can live. That's what we're all about."

Life In Cotton Mill Village Documented At Museum

COOLEEMEE - The Zachary House, built in the 1920s for the mill manager, now houses the Cooleemee Historical Association and the first museum in North Carolina dedicated to documenting and interpreting the life of Southern cotton mill people.

Every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, people can catch a glimpse of this unique culture. Usually, a volunteer will be on hand to offer their own view of what it's like to live in the town.

Cooleemee was one of hundreds of mill hills that dotted the Carolina Piedmont, and construction began 100 years ago. Much of the work on the mill, and workers in the mill was done by residents of Davie and surrounding counties.

There is no doubt that Cooleemee grew up around the cotton mill - first called The Cooleemee Cotton Mill, then Erwin Mills No. 3. Mill work was central to its people's lives, yet Cooleemee cannot be understood solely by its working life.

The character of Cooleemee was determined by its inhabitants, and it was simple a densely populated country neighborhood. Cooleemee's pioneers spanned several generations, and included a number of Civil War veterans and one resident born during the presidency of Madison. There were children who had never seen a store.

This is one of many displays in the state's first museum dedicated to documenting the life of Southern cotton mill people. The museum is located in the Zachary House. The house built in the 1920s for the mill manager is also home to the Cooleemee Historical Association.

Until World War II, most Cooleemee families were self-sufficient in food - raising gardens, chickens, cows and hogs. Although all were affected by their new industrial setting, cotton mill people stubbornly retained many of their country ways.

Almost since its beginning, Cooleemee residents consider themselves one big family.

Depending on one another got them through calamities such as the 1908 mill fire, the 1918 flu epidemic, and Cooleemee's occupation by the National Guard in 1934. There were plenty of conflicts, but neighbors helped neighbors. Families stuck together and no one was afraid to go out at night.

Cooleemee's Mill Village Museum conveys the story of a hard-working people and how they survived. With the traditional values stressed, this story has meaning for us today.

Visit the museum, and walk through old Cooleemee. When you leave, you will better appreciate the people who helped create so much of modern North Carolina's wealth... but never lost their humility.

The museum is located at the Zachary House on Church Street, just off Marginal Street. The town's park, playground and police department are also on the site. Hours are 9 a.m.-noon on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and Saturdays from 11 a.m.-2 p.m.

Appointments for special tours can be made. Call 336-284-6040.

People who grew up in Cooleemee have ensured their ancestors will not be forgotten by donating old photographs and copies of photographs to the town's historical museum.

Much like the pieces which support the train trestle, it is the people who have worked together to support and uphold the town of Cooleemee for the past one-hundred years.

Congratulations Cooleemee On Your Centennial Anniversary

Julie Koontz of the Cooleemee Historical Association looks over a sample for an engraved marker that will be placed on the site of Cooleemee's old wood school. Four such historical markers are being placed in the town, designating the historic downtown, the old hotel and the old brick schoolhouse.

These memorial bricks will be placed in the sidewalk leading into the Zachary House.

Something To Remember
There Are Plenty Of Low-Cost Souvenirs That Reflect Town's Centennial Celebration

Want a good recipe for cornbread? That and hundreds of other dishes from Coolesmee's past will be featured in the Coolesmee Centennial Cookbook, which will be sold during this weekend's festival.

In addition to a veterans book listing all veterans from Coolesmee and when they served and in what war, centennial souvenir possibilities are endless. The cookbooks will sell for $10. The recipes all come from Coolesmee cooks.

Color prints of the mural, which has been painted on the wall of the mill, now Stokes Yarn, numbered and signed, will sell for $40. Artists Jeremy Sam and Phil Christman were chosen by a panel of local artists last March to create the mural. The Davie Arts Council awarded the Coolesmee Historical Association a $1,500 grant for the mural. "We want to show our appreciation for this permanent display of art and history," said Nancy Norton, arts council director.

An afghan featuring historic Coolesmee scenes will also sell for $40.

Centennial logo sweatshirts will sell for $17, XXL, and $15 for large and extra large. Centennial logo t-shirts go for $8.

Miniature cotton bales, Erwin Mills, will sell for $10.

Tote bags will go for $8 and baseball caps with a color logo will sell for $7.

Series mugs of the Erwin Cotton Mills sell for $6.

Frisbees will be sold for $2 each, and several items will sell for $1, including: stadium cups, Bullhole tattoos; centennial envelopes stamped with a commemorative U.S. Postal cancellation; mural postcards, stamped and cancelled.

Selling for 50 cents each will be mural postcards, buttons and pencils.

And for those who only have a quarter, wooden nickles will be sold for 25 cents each.

Every family in Coolesmee was invited to make a panel for a community quilt being made for the centennial. Some created elaborate designs while others simply made panels with their names. More than 150 families participated, resulting in five quilts, which were put together by a quilting club that volunteered to help. Working on a quilt are Rozelle Owen, Ezzie Graham, Margaret Royster, Edith Chappell, Genevieve Martin, Alice Godbey and Edna Finkston. Photos by Mike Barnhardt

Clues Sought To Shooting At Campbell Road Residence

By Jeanne Gaither
Davie County Enterprise Record

The Davie County Sheriff's Department is seeking information about a shooting into a house on Campbell Road early Saturday morning.

An elderly couple living in the house reported hearing four gunshots at about 5:10 a.m., according to Detective Sgt. Robert Trotter.

The shooter was firing 3.00 buckshot from a 12 gauge shotgun, Trotter said. Fourteen rounds struck the side of the residence, some entering the den and causing considerable damage.

Three shotgun shells were found nearby — at least two of which are believed to have been fired at the residence, Trotter said.

It is unknown if the shooter meant to hit the residence, the detective said. The victims of the shooting have no idea who might have done something like this, said Trotter, who suspects this may have been a random act of violence.

Planning Board Recommends New Subdivision

By Jeanne Gaither
Davie County Enterprise Record

The Davie County planning board is recommending preliminary approval of a 155 lot subdivision on 103 acres on U.S. 158 north of Boger Road.

Several months ago the land was rezoned to residential agricultural because the owner Tim Smith said he wanted the property to remain a farm and place a cellular communications tower on it, according to planning and zoning director John Gallimore.

The property has since gone on the market, and Platinum Construction Company has submitted a subdivision called Oak Valley for preliminary review.

Platinum is trying to plan a subdivision that will be an asset to the county, George Wilson of Prudential Carolinas Realty told the board.

Everything the company has ever done has been nice, he said. Platinum's intention is to offer affordable housing with homes priced around $100,000 and lots at $25,000.

Watershed Allowance Sought On 22 Acres

By Jeanne Gaither
Davie County Enterprise Record

Bert Bahnsen has received preliminary approval for rezoning of 22 acres from protected to protected special use to apply the 10-70 rule recently adopted by county commissioners.

He told members of the Davie Planning Board he is trying to keep up with the law that the land meet its highest and best use. It is located off N.C. 801, and is in the Yadkin River watershed.

"To my regret, the area is growing," Bahnsen said. He hopes to keep the family farm operating for another generation, but likely that corner of the property will be developed.

The Hillsdale Group's project recently approved for application of the 10-70 rule is located between Bahnsen's and the Yadkin River.

Two Lexington Men Die When Car Collides With Truck

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Two Lexington men died late Thursday when the car they were in collided head-on with a tractor trailer on U.S. 64 East.

Juan Carlos Hernandez-Ruiz, 25, and Raul Dionicio, 44, were pronounced dead at the scene of the 11:35 p.m. accident near the entrance to Thousand Trails.

N.C. Highway Patrol Trooper Terrance Denard Shaw reported that the 1992 Toyota driven by Hernandez-Ruiz was traveling at an estimated 70 mph when it crossed the center line and struck the tractor trailer head on. The truck, driven by John James Jordan of Tennessee, was traveling at an estimated 45 mph, Shaw reported.

The 10-70 rule permits up to 10 percent of the land in the watershed to be developed or covered with impervious surfaces up to 70 percent, allowing for higher density development. Without that rule, only 24 percent of the surface may be covered in areas with curb and gutter and 36 percent in areas without curb and gutter.

Assisted Living Facility, Park OK'd North Main, Walnut Streets

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

The developer is counting on being able to connect to water and sewer lines and plans to invest $350,000 to $500,000 for lines and a pump station, Wilson said.

He said he has been assured the sewer lines in place are capable of handling a much larger capacity. This development would seek 30,000 to 40,000 gallons of that capacity, he explained.

The technical review committee had a number of concerns about the proposed development, including water and sewer, size and design of lots, buffer strips and street names, according to Gallimore.

The project is being built behind the old Duke Power building at North Main and Walnut streets. The Duke Power building is being renovated for the Mocksville Police Department, and the area between that building and Horn Oil will be developed into a small park.

Mocksville commissioners earlier this month agreed to allow the assisted living project developers to issue revenue bonds. It will not require any money or obligation from the town, said Town Manager Terry Bralley. Public hearings on the issue will be held at the board's Oct. 6 meeting.

Bill Benton, who is helping develop the project, said that assisted living is a new name for a rest home, "but we've advanced beyond the old rest home. We will build as nice a facility as the upscale facilities. This is truly an ideal location for what we're trying to do."

The facility will be for low to moderate income elderly residents. Each will have a private room in a single, enclosed facility. It will include three meals a day.
