Fighting Fires Becoming More Costly, Firefighters Hard To Find

Fund Raisers, Barbecues, Exhausting Firemen

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie County commissioners heard warnings Monday that volunteer firemen are getting harder to find and the 12 county fire departments face growing money problems.

Response times can be as long as 12 minutes. Daytime firemen are hard to find because most of them are at work, and firemen must count on other departments to help them answer routine calls.

The commissioners received a 70-page report prepared by the Emergency Services Consulting Group of Wilsonville, Ore.

The commissioners and firemen have struggled for years over the county's distribution of the fire tax revenue. The report calls for the county to end its long tradition of funding the departments equally.

One option the report cites is giving each department at least $56,000 a year, with more money going to the busier departments. Smith Grove, the busiest, would receive $112,000 under the proposal, enough to hire one paid fireman.

But the report also suggests that the county hire two firemen to stand by at the EMS station in Hillsdale with a quick-response vehicle.

The commissioners took the report without action. Board chairman Bobby Knight said the board would appoint a committee to make recommendations.

Commissioner Mike Allen noted that seven of the county's fire chiefs were on hand to present the report.

In 1998, the report found that Davie firemen responded to emergencies within nine minutes or less 90 percent of the time.

The group had surveyed the fire departments and rescue squad in the county and determined problems firemen are facing.

Not only do firemen have to train and maintain their equipment, they must also participate in a variety of fund-raising efforts.

The study's author, Richard Trexler of Colfax, said the county's present 4 cents tax rate designated for the fire departments didn't meet their needs.

"That system is no longer adequate," Trexler said. "The four-cent tax rate is unbelievable today. It's more normal to see an eight- to 10-cent tax."

Despite the problems, Trexler said he was impressed with the maintenance and care that firemen give to their equipment and their stations. "I've been very impressed with the people."

Four Areas Targeted In Undercover Drug Operation

Four areas were targeted in a five-month undercover drug sting that resulted in the arrest of 14 people on more than 60 felony drug charges.

On March 29, officers began arresting suspects who had been selling to an undercover ABC officer from another county.

"This investigation focused on areas in which the sheriff's office had received numerous citizen complaints," said Davie Sheriff Allen Whitaker. The areas included the Lakewood Motel, Jerusalem Avenue in North Cooleeemee, Dalton Road, and the Stoney Lane and Red Oak Trail area.

The undercover officer also purchased drugs from three people in the Advance area, Whitaker said.

"During the course of this investigation, officers were able to purchase cocaine and marijuana from several suspects," Whitaker said. "Many of the suspects have not been located at this time and several more arrests are anticipated."

The operation targeted street level drug dealers, Whitaker said.

All of the suspects are scheduled for first-appearance hearings Thursday in Davie District Court.

- Ricky Lewis Neely, 40, of 953 Hardison St., Mocksville, was charged March 30 with five counts each of selling and delivering cocaine and possession with intent to sell or deliver cocaine. Bond: $20,000.
- Chrystal Rogers Thomas, 27, of 136 Stoney Lane, Mocksville, was charged with sale and delivery of cocaine, possession with intent to sell or deliver cocaine and conspiracy to sell cocaine. Bond: $20,000.
- Eddie Lewis Neely Jr., 22, of 343 Montview Drive, Mocksville, was charged March 30 with possession with intent to sell or deliver cocaine and sale and delivery of cocaine. Bond: $20,000.
- Michael Lawrence Link, 41, of 147 Link Road, Mocksville, was charged March 29 with sale and delivery of cocaine, possession with intent to sell or deliver cocaine, and conspiracy to sell or deliver cocaine. Bond: $20,000.
- Ricky Donnell "Skunk" Cleveland, 40, of 160 Deadmon Road, Mocksville, was charged March 30 with possession with intent to sell or deliver cocaine, conspiracy to sell cocaine, and conspiracy to sell cocaine. Bond: $20,000.

Benchmark Complaints Continue

County Public Hearing Scheduled For Monday

Complaints about Benchmark Cable's television service in Davie County have been numerous recently, but County Manager Ken Windley said he had a new one Monday.

Benchmark listed a new toll-free hotline to report complaints with this month's billing.

Those who called the number have been shocked with the breathy voice of a woman in a recorded telephone sex solicitation. Windley said he had received calls from shocked cable subscribers who had called the number.

Benchmark has said one digit of the listed number was wrong, and it is quickly correcting its forms.

On Monday, the commissioners will hold a public hearing on Benchmark's service to determine if the county should renew its franchise agreement. The hearing will be at 7 p.m. in the district courtroom of the Davie County Courthouse.

It's Not Too Late To See 'Calamity Jane'

The Davie High School Fine Arts Department of Calamity Jane opened last weekend, and will present the final shows of "Calamity Jane" at 7:30 p.m. Friday, April 7 and 3 p.m. Sunday, April 9, at the Brock Performing Arts Center, North Main Street, Mocksville.

Tickets, available at the door, are $10 for adults and $8 for students.

Meet The Candidates For Education Board

Candidates for the Davie County Board of Education will be on hand for an open forum at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 11, in the Davie High Gym.

The event is sponsored by the school's leadership class, and students from across the county will be on hand to ask questions of the candidates.

Kansas Minister's Prayer Rattled Lawmakers

She was one of my Almost Moms when I was growing up. If my mother wasn't present, I listened to her. She had a powerful influence.

Her daughter and I attended Bible School together in diapers, and we were among the 18 munchkins in the first grade at Farmington Elementary School in 1959. She waved to me every morning on my way to school when I was a teenager. She's monitored me lovingly most of my life.

So when Lella N. Essic of Farmington sent me a newspaper clipping recently and suggested I reprint it, I naturally took the request as an order.

She found it in the Caswell Messenger in a letter by Frank B. Turberville Jr. Here it is:

"When minister Joe Wright was asked to open the new session of the Kansas Senate, everyone was expecting the usual generalities, but this is what they heard:

"Heavenly Father, we come before You today to ask Your forgiveness and seek Your direction and guidance. We know Your word says: 'Woe to those who call evil good,' but that is exactly what we have done. We have lost our spiritual equilibrium and reversed our values. We confess that. We have ridiculed the absolute truth of Your Word and called it pluralism. We have worshipped other gods and called it multiculturalism. We have endorsed perversion and called it alternative life style. We have exploited the poor and called it lottery. We have rewarded laziness and called it welfare. We have killed our unborn and called it choice. We have shot abortionists and called it justifiable. We have neglected to discipline our children and called it building self esteem. We have abused power and called it politics. We have coveted our neighbor's possessions and called it ambition. We have polluted the air with profanity and pornography and called it freedom of expression. We have ridiculed the time-honored values of our forefathers and called it enlightenment ...

"Search us, Oh God and know our hearts today. Cleanse us from every sin and set us free ... Guide and bless these men and women who have been sent to direct us, to the center of Your will ... we ask this in the name of Your Son the living Savior, Jesus Christ ... Amen!!"

"The response was immediate. A number of legislators walked out during the prayer in protest.

"In six short weeks, Central Christian Church, where Reverend Wright is pastor, logged more than 5,000 phone calls, with only 47 responding negatively. The church is now receiving international requests for copies of this prayer from India, Africa and Korea. Commentator Paul Harvey aired this prayer on 'The Rest of the Story' on the radio and received a larger response to this program than any he had ever aired.

"With the Lord's help may this prayer sweep over our nation and wholeheartedly become our desire so we can again truly be called 'One Nation Under God.'"

So there you are Mrs. Essic. Send my love to Anne and all your family.

—Dwight Sparks

Sexual Assault A Crime Of Violence, Anger And Control

The effects of sexual assault include physical effects such as injuries, infection, pregnancy, and infertility. Psychological effects may include guilt, shame, and self-blame, loss of self-esteem, poor body images, eating problems, self-harming, drug and alcohol dependence, depression, panic attacks, sleeplessness, nervousness, "acting out," violence towards others, anger, loss or blurring of boundaries, and flashbacks and nightmares. Social effects may include alienation from social networks, cultural groups, religious groups, interruptions to, or cessation of education; family split ups, homelessness, and increased risk-taking behavior.

Davie Domestic Violence Services and Rape Crisis Center has placed teal ribbons on the light poles in Mocksville, Cooleemee, and Advance in honor of the victims of sexual assault in Davie County. Staff members and volunteers will be handing out ribbons in several locations in Mocksville during the month of April. We are asking that you wear a ribbon to honor these victims.

If you are a victim of sexual assault and need someone with whom to talk, please call 751-HELIP. We have a 24-hour crisis line with trained staff and volunteers who will be happy to talk with you. Davie Domestic Violence Services and Rape Crisis Center, Martha McQueen, director.

Civitan's Celebrating In April

Civitan gives its members opportunities to develop new friendships and business acquaintances. Most importantly, people find in the organization an opportunity to give their time to make their communities a better place to live and work.

On April 8, the Mocksville Civitan Club will have a yard and bake sale in front of the Ben Franklin store, from 8 until 3 o'clock. We invite you to come and look over our "trash and treasures" and enjoy our delicious baked goods. Proceeds will be used for projects for the betterment of our community.

The club meets on the second and fourth Mondays of each month at Western Steer and we welcome new members. For more information, call 284-6310. Louise Stroud, Mocksville.

Ferebee Family Thankful For Compassion

To the editor: I'm writing to express my appreciation for the tremendous outpouring of empathy during the funeral of my father, Tom Ferebee, and for the kind words expressed in this newspaper. Such compassion made a very difficult time a little easier for the family.

My brothers and I spent several summers in Mocksville when we were children, visiting our grandparents and our many aunts, uncles, and cousins, many of whom still reside in or near Davie County. My memories of those summers are filled with a firm sense of community and of family history, which unfortunately is a rare commodity in today's mobile society. Watching the people who turned out for the funeral and who lined the roads leading to the cemetery, I was struck once again by that wonderful feeling of closeness that is common in your part of the county.

I am proud to say that my father chose to return to Davie County to rest next to his parents. Dad loved the community and he told me shortly before he died that he wanted a public funeral so that "every farmer and hunter in the county can attend, even if they have to sit in the trees." Your community meant a lot to him, and I want to thank everyone who attended and gave you my good wishes.

Ken White Recommended For County Board

To the editor: Two times in my life I have run for public office. I ran for the United States Senate and for the House of Representatives. This was after a challenge from one of my children who asked me what I was doing to make our community a better place to live. These were both spiritually enriching experiences. If nothing else, they enabled me to see candidates for who they truly are.

Occasionally a candidate files for office whose qualifications, character and history of community involvement are so well documented that his election to serve would truly be for the "greater good" of our county. Such a person is Ken White, who is a Republican candidate for County Commissioner. I could not give a higher personal endorsement.

Ken has touched many lives here in this county. I have watched him work with youth on the ball field. My own daughter was thrilled when she was placed on his team. He does not just instruct the girls how to play ball - more importantly he instructs them in values that will help them in life. I have observed him with our Boy Scouts. He has gone on overnight camps, helped them with merit badges, and no one is prouder than he when one reaches the Eagle rank. What makes this particular dedication to scouts so remarkable is Ken has three daughters. My church, Bethlehem United Methodist, has benefited from Ken White's leadership and service. If you ever sit through one of his Sunday School lessons, you quickly learn Ken is a Marine, a man who loves America and loves the Lord. He jokingly says his goal is to have more in his Sunday School class than Jimmy Carter has in his class. President Carter averages about 300 - Ken only has about 70 and I am fortunate enough to be one. As I said, he has touched many lives.

I could list more, but children, community and church are good starting points. There are many ways to define a man's success. Two that I always liked were: what does he do for the community and what kind of difference does he make in other people's lives. Ken scores high in both. I want what we all want in our elected officials: integrity, leadership, character and Christian values. Ken White has all of these. I sincerely urge all our citizens to consider Ken White.

Republicans Urged To Support Candidates

To the editor: On May 2, the Primary in Davie County will be of importance to all of the residents. I would like to appeal to the Republicans of Davie and the unaffiliated voters of Davie County who plan to vote Republican. The unaffiliated voters who plan to vote Republican, when entering the voting place, must tell the special judge which party they plan to vote for. The special judges cannot ask their intentions.

The primary is important to all of the Republican candidates. I would like for the Republicans and unaffiliated to support the following candidates of the State and District level:

Sen. Betsy L. Cochran is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor. She needs every vote she can get to help win the nomination. If elected in November, her work in the North Carolina House and Senate has given her the experience she needs to be a most efficient lieutenant governor.

As Betsy is vacating her seat in the North Carolina Senate, Davie County needs a voice in Raleigh. Andrew Brock well deserves to be nominated in the primary. It is my belief that Andrew will make every effort to see that Davie County is well represented. Andrew is a graduate of Western Carolina University, and a former employee in the North Carolina Republican Party Headquarters in Raleigh. This experience will give him knowledge to do the job well.

Our representative, Julia Howard, has represented Davie County well and during the sessions of 1995, 1997, when the Republicans had control of the State House, she served on some important committees. Since Julia has no opposition from the Democrat Party her election in the primary will assure her going to Raleigh in January 2001.

It is very important to send Republicans to Raleigh as these persons will have the task of drawing the new U.S. House, North Carolina Senate and North Carolina House Districts according to the 2000 census figures.

The Davie County Republicans have another important person in the Primary from Alexander County, named Dale Graham, for District Judge. We should support Alexander County as they supported Davie County candidates, so we can have two district judges. Alexander County does not have a district judge. It is very important that every county in the district have a judge. There are many times the Clerk of Court has important forms to be signed by the district judge and it is very inconvenient for the Clerk of Court to have to look for a judge in another county. Dale is an attorney in Taylorsville and is well-qualified to serve the district.

I hope these persons will be considered by the Republicans and the unaffiliated voters in Davie County. In my estimation, all of our Republican candidates are running a very clean campaign, and to date I have not heard any mudslinging. The polls will be open on May 2 from 6:30 a.m. until 7:30 p.m.

Persons who will be unable to vote at the polls on May 2, please check with the Davie County Board of Elections Supervisor for absentee voting information.

Booster Club Has Another Great Season

To the editor: The Davie High Athletic Booster club would like to thank the parents, teachers, coaches, Dr. Bost, the staff at the Davie County Enterprise, and our wonderful community for their great support during our 1999-2000 season. We would like to invite you to our next booster club meeting on Monday, April 17, at 7 p.m. in the classroom across from the gym. We are looking forward to another great year. Please come and get involved, it will be a great and rewarding time.

Community Service To Help Clear Litter

During April, offenders from local courts will be highly visible in the community as they clean litter from alongside the roadways of Davie County as part of a statewide emphasis by the Community Service Work Program, an agency of the North Carolina Department of Crime Control and Public Safety.

Reba J. Parker, coordinator of the Davie County Community Service office, has been assigning additional men and women to the trash collection project for April after they have been ordered by Judges to perform community service as part of their sentence for various law violations.

The project, part of Gov Jim Hunt's Clean NC 2000 initiative, is an aggressive statewide push that brings together local and state government leaders, private businesses, volunteers and community organizations to clean up the state's river, streams, lakes and roadsides.

Throughout Alexander, Burke, Caldwell, Catawba, Davidson, Davie and Iredell counties, the county coordinators will be out on the roads supervising additional litter clean-up activities, according to William H. Pennell of Statesville, the Judicial District Manager.

"This is one of the ways to increase the number of offenders on litter detail and will help our effort to cut down on unsightly trash on our state's roads," said Pennell.

"I want to thank each staff member for volunteering their weekends in April. It shows their commitment to control the litter epidemic."

In this area, Area A, coordinators have placed 2,746 offenders and they have removed 49,169 bags of roadside litter in the last six months.

"We are doing a lot of good things but it hasn't been enough," said Pennell. "The April campaign will expand upon those efforts."

In Davie County, the Department of Community Correction Division of Probation/Parole will be working with community service during April for Clean NC 2000. Litter eradication is a priority of the Community Service Work Program, which is part of the Victim and Justice Services division of the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety. It operates in all 100 counties of the state.

Chief Jailer Buster Smith Retires After 20 Years On The Job

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

In 1980, Stanley L. Smith was working as a bricklayer. But there wasn't a lot of work at that time.

Robert Cole, chief deputy for Davie Sheriff George Smith, told him about an opening as chief jailer at the county jail.

"But (bricklaying) work didn't pick up, I said, 'Robert, I won't guarantee you over a month.'"

Smith has been chief jailer ever since, and the man known as "Buster" doesn't regret the decision. He retired last week at the age of 65.

He remembers those early days well, making less than $10,000 a year and often working in the jail by himself. There were five jailers at the time. The emergency communications system was housed in the jail. Davie's is still one of few jails in the state that operate the DCI (computer, criminal information network) terminal, Smith said.

Back then, the jail averaged about three prisoners a day. Now, the jail, built to house 18, holds about 36 a day, not counting the juveniles and women that are housed in other counties.

Female prisoners were rare in the early 80s. Now, Smith has two drawers with cards of information on females arrested here.

Smith was only assaulted once, and said he tried to treat those in the jail as human beings.

"You'd be surprised at how many I would consider a friend," he said. "We try to treat them fairly, decent ... but we don't put up with no abuse." "I've really enjoyed my work here, working under three good sheriffs. I've had good people across the street (courthouse) to work with." Smith and wife Carrie live in Advance, and have two daughters, two sons and six grandchildren. Smith is looking forward to more time to catch up with chores around the house, but realizes he will miss the job and the people he works with.

Buster Smith has seen the number of people housed in the Davie County Jail go from an average of three per day to more than 36 each day.

"This place ain't like no factory job. You can't go home and forget about it. Most of the time when I'm off, I'll get a call about something. "But 20 years goes by in a hurry. I'll tell you that."

'Kids Night Out!' Final Show April 11 At The Brock

The Davie County Arts Council will present "The Red Rose" (The story of Beauty and the Beast) as their final 1999-2000 Season performance for the ever popular Kids' Night Out Series.

The classic Le Clanche Du Rand fairy tale will be brought to life on the stage at the Brock Performing Arts Center on Tuesday, April 11 at 7 p.m. and is sponsored by CCR's Cooleemee and Mocksville's Water Street and Boone Plaza branch offices.

The Red Rose is a gentle tale of love and beauty and, as the story has been told for hundreds of years, when a loving father places a forbidden rose for Beauty, his youngest daughter, he links her forever to the unsightly Beast who owns the rose bush. Over time, Beauty learns to look beyond the Beast's hideous exterior and to love the gentle soul within.

When her father becomes ill, she is faced with a difficult choice. Does she stay to care for her father or return to save the Beast, who will surely die without her love?

This performance is recommended for young audiences grades K-5 and everyone else who's young at heart.

In fairy tales, magic often happens in three, so as young audience members watch The Red Rose, they may want to look for the three gifts the fairy gives the Beast when he becomes enchanted. They may also watch for the changes the Beast undergoes in his appearance throughout the show and listen for new words like "Monsieur" which is French for "Mister," "mian chere" which is French for "my dear," "Noble" which means grand and of high birth, "hideous" which means very ugly and terrible, and "enchanted" which means put under a charm or spell.

It's time to once again enjoy a great story performed by the Tarradiddle Players, so bring your family, friends, school class, club members, and Sunday school class to see one of your favorite classic stories. The Arts Council hopes everyone that has enjoyed all of the Kids' Night Out! performances this season will come once again and bring a friend to enjoy another evening of fun, family entertainment.

Blaise Baptist Celebrates 40 Years As A Church

Blaise Baptist Church celebrated 40 years as a church on Sunday, April 2.

The charter members and their children that were at church that first Sunday were recognized during the 11 a.m. worship service, followed by a covered dish lunch in the church fellowship hall.

There was a movement called "30,000 more by '64" in the Southern Baptist Convention for building new churches. As a result of this movement, Blaise Baptist Church began as a mission of the First Baptist Church, Mocksville.

The first service at Mocksville Baptist Mission was held on April 3, 1960. It became a separate church and named Blaise Baptist Church on Oct. 2, 1960.

There were 66 charter members. Twenty-six of them were present Sunday.

Today, there are approximately 530 members. An average of over 350 attend worship service each Sunday morning. As a result, the church has now gone to two morning worship services, one at 9:45 a.m. and one at 11 a.m. There are Sunday Schools at these same hours. On Sunday night, there is a worship service at 7 p.m. and on Wednesday night, there is something for the entire family, such as Bible study, choir practice, and mission groups. Everyone is invited.

Charter members of Blaise Baptist Church of Mocksville celebrate their 40th anniversary last Sunday.

Children's Clothing Sale This Weekend At Macedonia Church

Are your children growing too fast? Do they need new clothes for the summer?

This Friday and Saturday, April 7 and 8, Macedonia Moravian Church on N.C. 801 North between Hillsdale and Farmington, will have a children's clothing sale.

The sale is put on by the Mothers of Preschoolers (MOPS), with a portion of all the proceeds going to fund the program. Items on sale will range from maternity all the way to children's size 14 clothing.

Clothing at the consignment sale will include items from Old Navy, Baby Gap, The Children's Place, Gymboree, Gap Kids, Land's End, and the Disney Store. There will also be infant carriers, a baby swing, Little Tyke toys, including a doll house, a infant genie and bath chairs and infant tubs.

At previous sales, children's toys, outdoor equipment and infant and toddler car seats have also been available. There is a rumor that a crib will be on sale this year, although because items won't be dropped off until the day before the sale, you never know what you will find.

Sale hours are 8 a.m.-noon and 5-7 p.m. on Friday, April 7, and 8 a.m.-noon on Saturday. For more information contact Melanie Cox at 940-2901.

Blaise To Host Seminar On Points That Prove Christianity

Dr. Norm Geisler and Frank Turek will explore the "12 Points that Prove Christianity" at an April 8 conference at Blaise Baptist Church.

The conference begins at 9 a.m. and ends at 4:30 p.m. Registration is $10 in advance, $12 at the door. For more information, call Ken Furches at Blaise, 751-3639 or 751-7120, or email, blaise134@mocksville.com.

The two speakers will lead attendees on discussions of such questions as: "Does God Exist?", "Are Miracles Possible?", "How Do We Know the Bible is True?", and "Is Jesus Really God?," Geisler is dean of Southern Evangelical Seminary in Charlotte. He earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Wheaton College, A.Th.B. from William Tyndale College and a Ph.D. from Loyola University.

He has been in full-time ministry for more than 45 years, and is co-author of more than 50 books, including: General Introduction to the Bible, Popular Survey of the Old Testament, When Critics Ask, and Baker Encyclopedia of Apologetics.

Mt. Olive Supper This Saturday

A country buffet supper is planned for Saturday, April 8, at Mt. Olive United Methodist Church from 5-7 p.m. In the church fellowship building.

Everyone is invited to attend for great food and fellowship. Cost of the supper is donations, and take-out boxes will be available.

Proceeds will benefit the nurture and outreach church ministries; this year's goal: assisting Mt. Olive participants in the Davie County Relay for Life walk. Anyone who is interested in joining Mt. Olive's relay team, contact Lettie Whitaker, 998-3402. The purpose of the walk is to raise money to help fund numerous local cancer programs as well as National cancer research.

Free Hearing Tests Set For Mocksville Area

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding words is welcome to have a free hearing test with modern electronic equipment.

Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who may have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test to find out if they are among the many a hearing aid will help.

It may surprise you to know that many people with hearing problems do not need hearing aids. But they do need a hearing test as a first step in finding out exactly what the trouble is. There's no charge for the test and absolutely no obligation.

The free hearing tests will be given by Beltone Hearing Aid Specialists at the Beltone Hearing Aid Service Center at 281 N. Main Street every Friday from 10:00 am to 1:00 pm. To avoid waiting call 723-5253 for an appointment for the free test at our office or in the privacy of your own home.

Memorials may be made to: First Baptist Church, 320 S. Central Ave., Locust, NC 28097; or Jerusalem Baptist Church Building Fund, U.S. 601 S., Mocksville.

Fire Departments Need More Money And Manpower

He said the county must cut down on the response times, possibly by keeping firemen at the stations during day-time hours.

"Something has to change, the report warns, or some departments will continue to lose volunteers and will not be able to respond in a timely manner if all to a call."

Here are some of the problems cited by the report:

- Access to some homes in the county is impeded by gates, and some of them are difficult to open.

- Firemen are being challenged by the larger homes being built in the county and need equipment that can deliver more water at faster rates.

- The county needs a capital improvement plan that will buy the sophisticated equipment needed to fight fires safer and more aggressively and more effectively. "The days of standing outside and lobbing water through the windows has long since been replaced with new technologies."

- Current prices for new equipment include $250,000 for a pumper, $150,000 for a water tanker, $100,000 for a rescue vehicle, $40,000 for a brush truck, and $25,000 for a command vehicle.

- The county fire departments plan $2 million in capital needs in the next three years, but this year's total budget for all the fire departments was only $750,000.

- Davie County has about 400 volunteer firemen.

- Thursday is the busiest day for firemen when they answer 18 percent of their calls. Wednesday is the second busiest. Sunday has the lowest number of calls.

- Fifty percent of the calls occur between 4 p.m. and midnight.

- Newcomers don't readily participate in the barbecues and stews sponsored by the firemen. "It has become much harder to receive donations and community participation as we once knew it with fund raisers," the report states. "The people moving into the area realize they pay a tax for services and sometimes grow tired of volunteers trying to sell tickets for a fund raiser." It recommends only one or two fund raisers a year by a department.

Trexler said many newcomers moving into the county are from areas that have well-trained, well-financed firemen, and they expect the same here — not fire departments on shoestring budgets that depend on barbecues to meet expenses.

Here are some of the recommendations made in the report:

- Fire departments should file a copy of their audit with the county fire marshal's office for public inspection.

- The county should consider giving the departments auditing services.

- The fire departments should conduct a countywide recruiting program to find new rescue squad members and firemen.

- The Rescue Squad should consider adding a second building in the eastern part of the county, possibly locating inside the Smith Grove Fire Department.

- The EMS station at Hillsdale should be expanded, possibly by adding a quick-response fire truck manned by two county employees to improve response times in that area.

- Each fire department should consider adding resident firemen to their stations, especially at night and weekends, to improve response times.

6th Inning Hit Leads The Way For Davie Girls

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

CLEMMONS - This was the kind of moment — a stroke of softball magic — that gives Davie County every reason to believe this, indeed, is its year.

The War Eagles found an unexpected hero when Kim Hilton crashed Marissa Mickey's season-long party with a game-winning hit in the sixth inning.

"It's that whole West-Davie thing," Coach Tammy Reavis said after Friday's scintillating 5-3 win in a showdown for first place in the Central Piedmont Conference. "They get pumped up for games like this."

In all likelihood, everything rested on Hilton's shoulders in the top of the sixth. With the bases loaded and two outs and West leading 5-3, up stepped an eighth-place batter to face Mickey.

And we're not talking Mickey Mouse. This Mickey struck out a 174 and walked just 26 in 155 innings on the way to a flashy 18-4 record as a junior. This Mickey struck out 58 and had a staggering 0.50 ERA and 9-0 record heading into last week. This is the acclaimed Mickey who throws consistently in the 60s.

"I was really nervous, but I just took a deep breath and tried to concentrate because I knew this was a big game for all of us," Hilton said. "I like a challenge."

Beating Mickey is always tough.

Wright On: West Can't Handle Davie's Rising Star

This gets better all the time.

After hammering the JV competition into submission and bursting into the varsity spotlight with wins over North Iredell, South Rowan and Reynolds, Davie County sophomore righthander Cody Wright passed the ultimate test Friday night at Mando Field, flogging West Forsyth 6-1 in a playoff-like atmosphere that decided first place at the midpoint of the Central Piedmont Conference race.

After throwing a five-hitter against the state's sixth-ranked 4-A team and leading Davie past its fiercest rival for the eighth time in 10 games, witnesses couldn't remember the last time a sophomore put up the type of numbers that have become routine for Wright, who is 4-0 with 22 strikeouts and six walks in 19 1/3 innings for a phenomenal 0.72 ERA. You might have to go back to the late 1980s to Denny Key.

"I'm starting to expect it from him now," catcher Drew Ridenhour said, "and he's not letting me down so far. Big game, Friday night, big crowd — and he comes out and shines."

No one imagined Davie riding Wright's shoulders in February, however. His mechanics were ragged and he couldn't hit the broad side of an activity bus with a varsity job on the line, leading to a JV assignment.

"Coach (Mike) Lovelace and I have worked really hard on some of his mechanics," Davie coach Mike Herndon said. "He was pausing his arm. Early in the year, I anticipated him being a varsity pitcher. But he was getting (his arm) up there and freezing, and he just couldn't find the plate. He pitched with us that first scrimmage game, and for lack of a better work, he wasn't very good."

The coaches smoothed Wright's rough edges. Pointed in the right direction, he responded with 13 scoreless JV innings, allowing one hit, striking out 32 and walking one in ridiculous dominance. Boredom was an infinitely bigger obstacle than any JV bat.

"I was really wanting to get moved up so I could have a little bit of a challenge," he said. The transition barely made Wright blink. If anyone harbored doubts about Wright's status, Friday night erased them. Nothing changed against Randy Pope's wallbangers, a high-octane machine that carried a 400-plus average into Rich Park, a team that features three prominent Mocksville-Davie American Legion players, including pro-prospect Steve LeFaivre.

Allison Howell Leads Soccer Team To 5-0 Win

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Sore ankle? What sore ankle?

Allison Howell, her ankle hurting since a taxing 3-0 loss to Mount Tabor on March 22, opened the scoring in the first half and added another goal to start the second as Davie County's varsity soccer team clubbed South Rowan 5-0 last week.

Foes might as well get used to Howell's haymakers. She is just a freshman.

"She developed at a very young age to be as skilled as she is," Coach Pete Gustafson said.

Not only does Howell have unusual knowledge and talent for someone not yet old enough to drive a car, she's as tough as a doorknob, as her two-goal performance on a bad wheel attest. That tenacity, Gustafson said, is what separates Howell — who leads 8-1 Davie with seven goals, one more than seniors Caroline Steed and Meredith Hendrix — from her peers.

"There's no doubt Allison is talented," he said. "She's well-rounded, she's intelligent and she's tough. She plays with pain. If you saw her ankle you'd have sit there and go: 'There ain't no way.' (JV coach Sean) Garnett has whiplashed it and we taped it up, so she's got the upstairs and she's got that old-fashioned stuff. That's family and that goes a long way. She's going to be a great asset to the team."

Landen Keeps Getting Better As War Eagle Golf Team Scores 1 Under Par

John Landen keeps getting better and the news keeps getting worse for April opponents.

Davie County's golf team was hard to beat when Landen was struggling early in the year. So you can imagine what the Central Piedmont Conference must be thinking after Landen rung up his second straight 34 last week in a 143-158 romp over North Davidson at Wilshtire.

Not only is Landen starting to cook, James Stewart's 36 represented his third straight round of even par or better, surging Shawn Brooks' 36 marked his third consecutive sub-40 showing and Greg Brooks added a 37, resulting in a relentless 1-under-par team score.

"I think the four of them are really pushing

G. Brooks S. Brooks Landen Stewart

each other," Coach Doug Illing said after Davie's final nonconference test-drive. "They are competing hard. That rivalry and competitiveness that they've got between them is helping all of them."

After a slow start that included a 38 and two 39s, No. 2 Landen is back where he belongs, pushing No. 1 Stewart and giving Davie a mighty 1-2 punch to combat West Forsyth, the defending state runner-up, and the CPC in this month's anticipated league race.

"I'm going to tell you what, Landen and Stewart are really competing and wanting to be the No. 1 player," Illing said. "That's the good thing. James I think was a little disappointed last year when he didn't finish up No. 1. John did and John kind of feels like he should be pushing to keep that No. 1 spot."

"He was struggling the early part of the season, but he's starting to put it together now."

Landen's turning point was quite simple. He benched his erratic driver for a reliable 3-wood. "He was trying out a new driver and switching back and forth," Illing said. "He put his driver in the bag and used a 3-wood all day, so he took a bad club out of his hand, put a good ball down the fairway every time and gave himself a good second shot. Whereas earlier in the year, he was a little erratic with his driver and put himself in some difficult situations to scramble for par."

Shawn Brooks has found his groove as well, following a 37 with a 36 after opening the season at 40, 41 and 39.

"He's working hard on his game, trying to get it down there because little brother is picking on him a little bit," Illing said, chuckling. "Instead of shooting 3-over par, he's trying to get it to even-par or 1-over consistently."

Notes: Aside from a mid-40 dud, sophomore Greg Brooks has shot 36, 39, 38 and 36. "He knows (Stewart, Landen and Shawn Brooks) are seniors and Greg is going to have his day in the limelight — but that doesn't mean he's backing down," Illing said. ... Sophomore Kellen Miller and junior Seth Correll, talented first-year players, had 39s. "That's the first opportunity in a match (for Correll) because he missed some time," Illing said. "He could be a late bloomer and somebody who could take that sixth spot and maybe even the fifth spot." ... Trent Clement had a 42 and Nick Luffman 45. ... Davie plays at Reynolds Park on April 5 in a conference match, then at Hillscrest April 6 in nonconference. The War Eagles return to Hillscrest on April 10 for a CPC match.

West Trips As War Eagles Win Baseball Showdown

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

As Bobby Knight has been known to say, winning is not about making great plays, but about eliminating mistakes.

Friday's Davie County-West Forsyth collision for first place at the midway point of the Central Piedmont Conference race was vintage Davie.

Struggling against southpaw Skip Crider and the state's sixth-ranked team in the 4-A baseball poll, the War Eagles only mustered one hit through three innings. But, leaning on the premise that defense wins championships, they didn't commit an error after the first inning, rode Cody Wright's clutch pitching and watched West (four errors) trip over its own feet, scoring four ugly runs in the fifth for a pretty awesome 6-1 victory Friday at Mando Field.

Davie improved to 8-6 overall and 4-0 in the CPC, while West fell to 10-2 and 3-1.

"This is a gutsy group," Davie coach Mike Herndon said. "We understand that we have to play as hard as we can and we've got to play every inning like it might be our last. We're not always the prettiest team, but we play hard."

After drawing a walk and scrambling to third when a pickoff throw sailed into foul territory behind first base, Ricky Bentley was ruled out for missing second with West nursing a 1-0 lead in the fourth. With suddenly two out and nobody on, that should have crushed Davie.

But this heart-over-talent Davie team has street-fighter traits, and the War Eagles — getting key hits from Chris Seaford and Jeremiah Creason — demonstrated their resiliency by scratching for a game-tying run on the heels of Bentley's tough-luck out. Then they parlayed three walks, two errors and a strikeout-passed ball into four backbreaking runs in the fifth.

Although the War Eagles are in the driver's seat at 4-0, last year they gradually faded under identical circumstances and thus settled for a share of the CPC crown instead of the whole thing for the first time since 1993.

"Last year we tied for the CPC and ended up staying home in May, and that is helping us to push and drive real hard because we want to be playing in May," said Herndon, whose team was bumped from the No. 2 state playoff berth when upstart West stole the conference tournament. "They know what the feeling was, they didn't like it and it's been a thorn in my side all year. Last year we were 5-0 at the turn, and then we went 2-3."

One big inning was more than enough for Wright, who unplugged West's electrifying lineup with an eye-popping five-hitter.

"When you face a team like West, you don't expect to hold them down to one run," Herndon said.

Improving to 4-0 and lowering his dental floss-thin ERA to 0.72, Wright displayed remarkable composure for a sophomore, escaping a first-and-second, one-out jam in the third and a bases-loaded predicament in the fifth and stranding nine runners.

"I was kind of concerned, but I thought he'd be able to handle them," Herndon said of the hard-throwing righthander. "I don't think West has seen that type of velocity. We didn't throw many curveballs at them. He just went in and out, up and down and hit his spots. He did a tremendous job, and I'm going to tell you what, that team right there is very, very good."

Notes: Andrew Daywalt, Drew Ridenhour and Brad Willard had Davie's other three hits. ... The crafty Crider ran out of gas in the fifth. "Skipp's a good pitcher," Herndon said. "You've got to be patient with him. I wouldn't turn him down if he was at Davie."

Right fielder Willard and center fielder Zeke Earle made some outstanding catches in support of Wright. ... The War Eagles play a nonconference game at East Forsyth on April 5 at 7 p.m. Resuming conference, they host South

Worth Noting ...

Grace Riddle's first-half goal decided the North Davie soccer team's 1-0 win over Mooresville.

Ted Randolph, a well-sculptured seventh grader with potential stardom, was hitting a torrid .625 (10-for-16) through five games for North Davie's baseball team.

Sarah Merlau and Sarah Williams had hat tricks in the Davie JV soccer team's 7-0 pasting of North Iredell. The big day gave Merlau 10 goals in nine matches.

John Landen became medalist for the first time this year with a scorching 2-under-par 34, leading Davie's golf team to its fifth straight win.

Emily Tierney won the Peevée Individual Cheer division at the USA Cheerleading Federation's National Championship in Charlotte last weekend.

Kim Hilton's a bases-loaded double clinched the Davie softball team's dramatic 5-3 win over Marissa Mickey and West Forsyth.

Sophomore sensation Cody Wright threw a five-hitter and lowered his amazing ERA to 0.72 as Davie's baseball team knocked off sixth-ranked West Forsyth 6-1.

Jr. Olympic Volleyball Team Clicking On All Cylinders

The Foothills Stingers, a local Junior Olympic volleyball team, picked an opportune time to come up with its best performance. Clicking on all cylinders, eliminating mistakes that led to a series of heartbreaking losses and peaking at the right time, the Stingers roared to an unexpected third place in the recent Carolina Region USA Volleyball Regional at Rutherfordton. "We were happy with that finish," Becky Miller, also the volleyball coach at South Davie, said after the nine-day tournament. "We hadn't finished in the top half (in four previous tournaments), so we were real excited."

Soccer Team Scores First CPC Win

Continued From Page B1 Hendrix scored off a dish from Steed, who closed the book on Davie's first win in Central Piedmont Conference play with a pair of high-quality goals off dead balls. "Caroline had two very nice shots," Gustafson said. "She was hitting the ball very well on dead-ball situations. We've been working on our dead balls, corner kicks and crosses, and I think it's paid off."

South And North Davie Compete In Season-Opening Track Meet

North Rowan's boys and Knox's girls were winners at last week's season-opening four-team track and field meet at North Davie. The Mavericks emerged in front with 64 points, beating Knox's 42, North Davie's 34 and South Davie's 18, while the Trojan girls triumphed with 65. North Davie and North Rowan tied at 41 and South Davie had 35. Kierston Kahrs of North Davie's girls established a new school record with an 81-6 first-place throw in the discus; Whitney Gough, Helene Amarsingh, Ashley Azmon and Britany Holman also placed for North's girls.

South Davie Hitting Still Hasn't Come To Life

South Davie's baseball team continues to have major problems at the plate. The Tigers were held to six hits in two games, losing 3-0 to Kannapolis and 6-2 to Corrier-Lipe last week. "We played defense and pitched well enough to win," Coach Todd Bumgarner said after South slipped to 1-4 overall and 0-3 in the Piedmont Middle School Conference. "We're just struggling at the plate right now. We're not getting any base runners. We're seeing some good pitching and good teams, and we're having a lot of trouble."

Tennis Team Downs South Rowan - Again

Davie County's boys tennis team certainly wouldn't mind playing South Rowan more than twice a year. The War Eagles, who are 0-8 against everybody else, beat the Raiders by an 8-0 score for the second time this year last week. "I was kind of worried whether they were going to play up to par because that would have been a letdown, of course, to lose that and be tied for last place," Coach Jaime Allison said after Davie improved to 2-8 overall and 2-3 in the Central Piedmont Conference.

JV Softball Teams Downs Ledford 15-5

Davie County's JV softball team jumped ahead 9-0 and rolled to a 15-5 nonconference victory over Ledford last week. "We played real good," Coach Bill Meadows said after Davie improved to 4-1. "They've got good pitching and they're a good team, but we just jumped on them."

JV Soccer Team Improves Early Play

Sean Garnett, searching for a way to goad his girls into throwing a quick knockout punch against flimsy competition, warned that another slow start would result in a dreaded Saturday morning practice. Mission accomplished. After several impermissible tight first halves - 0-0 against Mooresville and East Burke and a 1-0 lead against North Irredell - Davie County's JV soccer team came out swinging in Friday's nonconference rematch against North Irredell and buried the Raiders 7-0.

War Eagle Track Team Loses By 1 Point

Adrayus Arnold tried in vain to rescue Davie County's boys track team, but his courageous effort wasn't quite enough in the War Eagles' 73-72 loss to South Rowan last week. The Raider girls beat Davie 82-62. In the 1600 relay that decided the boys meet, South was in total control until Davie handed the baton to Arnold in the race's final phase. "When he got the baton, he was probably 40-50 yards down," Coach Devore Holman said, "and he closed within three feet. His split was $4.55, and that's after (three other events). So you talk about putting it on the line. If they would have had about another seven feet, Adrayus could have got him."

Softball Team Downs West Forsyth In CPC Showdown

Davie girls were celebrating, while the West girls were realizing the War Eagles would win.

 Beating Mickey when you're behind 0-2 in the count is roughly the equivalent of beating Dracula in the dark. But that's exactly the conditions Hilton overcame, smashing an 0-2 pitch into the left-center gap for a bases-clearing double that crushed a West team that jumped out to a 3-0 lead.

"We were depending on her and she pulled through," cleanup batter Ashley Sanders said of Hilton, a .360 hitter who drove in three runs with one memorable swing after driving in four in the previous 11 games. "She got that first strike on her and were all her fingers crossed. That was a lot of pressure. I'm glad I wasn't up to bat. We're all proud of her."

Inspired by Hilton's heroics, Shannon Handy promptly struck out the side in the last of the sixth and capped a complete-game performance that magnified the intangibles that make Davie's junior pitcher among the best in the business. Few pitchers could have weathered a first-inning storm in which West scored three times on four sharp hits and recovered to strike out 10 and walk two.

"Kim's big hit got me excited, and if it wasn't for her I don't think I would have done it," said Handy, who improved to 7-1, overshadowing Mickey's four-hit, seven-strikeout and one-walk complete game. "She got us on a roll. Everybody was talking all about (Mickey). It got me pumped up because I was expecting her to be all this and all that. She was good. She really was. I'll give her that. But she was hittable."

Hilton Reavis struck out the first three batters of the game and West staggered Handy immediately.

"I was so scared," Handy said of the classic matchup. "I didn't know how well I would do because they started off really good."

But West's suspect defense, a weakness that Coach Kevin Daily acknowledged coming in, committed two errors in the third that helped Davie cut the margin to 3-2, and the game ultimately came down to which pitcher would blink first, the CPC's reigning player of the year or the resilient Handy.

It's not hard to imagine West owning first place, and not Davie, if it weren't for sophomore Stacey Handy, who led off the decisive sixth with a frozen-rope single that whistled past West's center fielder for a two-base error. After Ember Spillman reached on a bunt and Ashley Quinn walked to load the bases, Mickey struck out the next batter for the second out, putting the spotlight on Hilton.

"I'm not surprised (at beating Mickey) because when I looked back at the book from last year, we played them three times and two of the games we had 11 hits and the other game we had eight," Reavis said. "So I knew that we were capable of hitting her."

"This is a very big win. Not just conference-wise, but this will help our confidence a lot."

The key moment for Handy was the third, when the fireballer extinguished a bases-loaded, one-out jam with back-to-back strikeouts. Although she only recorded two 1-2-3 innings, Handy faced just three above the minimum over the final four innings.

"She came through and proved herself," Reavis said of Handy, who has 47 Ks and 14 walks in 42 innings for a sparkling 0.83 ERA.

"I was nervous and I got scared (early), but I knew if I kept with my fastball and my offspeed stuff that I could do it," Handy said. "The (third inning) got me really pumped up, when we didn't let them score and the bases were loaded. That really got me going."

North Davidson 5, Davie 4
 For four and a half innings, the War Eagles could do no wrong. Travis Allen had a no-hitter going and Davie had a comfortable 4-0 lead over North Davidson in a nonconference game on March 29.

"For the first five innings, Travis was pretty much unhittable," Herndon said. "The word on them is they're a good-hitting team. They didn't swing the ball as well as we anticipated, and a lot of that had to do with Travis."

North, however, stormed back, breaking the no-hitter with an RBI double in the fifth and rallying in the seventh. The Black Knights chased Allen with a double, got two hits and a walk off reliever Ross Smith and scored three runs with no outs for a 5-4 win. "I felt bad about that loss because we were in control of the game and it got away from us," Herndon said. "We got a little too comfortable. We've got to play seven innings like it's 0-0. We can't relax. ... But it's a nonconference game."

Thadd Johnson had two hits and Davie got one each from Smith, Daywalt, Ridenhour, Allen and Earle.

Wright's Performance Called One Of The Best Ever By A Sophomore

0 for 12 against Wright. Leadoff man Zach Greene went 2 for 3, but the rest of the lineup sputtered to 3 for 23. Wright's memorable complete game excited Lovelace so much that he might have jumped to his feet if he had one more healthy foot and no crutches. He sustained a badly sprained ankle the night before in a rec basketball game. "He looked like he didn't even break a sweat, and that's a great hitting team he just faced," said Lovelace, the Davie assistant and head Legion man. "They had 39 hits in two (previous) games."

Wright

Wright eased Davie minds in the first inning when he sawed off LeFavre, who bounced weakly to first and later lined out to finish 0 for 2 after bringing a robust .666 average (20 for 30) to the park. Herndon could hardly believe what he was seeing. "His first test with LeFavre, that was just a good pitch against a very good hitter," Herndon said. "He's one of the top hitters I've ever seen. LeFavre is one of the best hitters in the state, if not the best hitter in the state. Cody just gutted it out and challenged him. He wasn't intimidated." The unassuming Wright shrugged and tipped his cap toward the defense.

"It was mainly defense. All my credit goes to the other eight people that were behind me," said Wright, who acknowledged pregame shivers. "I haven't been nervous before a game this year, but this game I was just so nervous. They are really awesome, especially that LeFavre. If I could shut him down, I felt like I could get all the rest of them." Wright, who often displayed noticeable frustration over calls and outcomes in the past, has developed a poker face, the requisite intangible for big-time pitchers. Last year's Wright probably wouldn't have withstood last Friday's pressure, the first-and-second, one-out jams in the third and fourth and the bases-loaded pinch in the fifth. He thwarted all three rallies, didn't allow a run after the first and threw 75 strikes to 41 balls. West's lone run was unearned. "We always knew he had a great arm, it was just a matter if we could get him to throwing strikes and get him out of some little things he was doing last year," Lovelace said. "Now he's got so much confidence he feels like he can beat anybody." "He looks a lot different than he did last year. He's just matured a lot as a person. Last year he showed emotions, and this year he's kept it all within, and he's just going to get better." Wright gives Davie a true ringer for three years, which might seem like 30 years for opponents. "It's one of the best performances by a sophomore I've ever seen," Herndon said. "I'm telling you, he can be really special."

Basketball Camp Set For June 12-16

Davie County High girls basketball coach Carol Cozart will hold a middle-school camp June 12-16 at the high school. The camp is for any girls who will be attending fifth, sixth, seventh or eighth grade for the 2000-01 school year. Camp will start at 8 a.m. and end at 1 p.m. each day. The cost is $55, which includes insurance and a T-shirt. The camp instructors will include coaches from South Davie, North Davie and the high school. For more information, contact Cozart at 751-5905.

Grace Riddle's First Goal Leads Win

Grace Riddle scored her first goal of the year in timely fashion as North Davie's soccer team bounced back from a sobering 8-0 loss to Summit with a 1-0 victory over Mooresville last week. "It was a lot of hard work on Grace's part," Coach John Marshall said. "She was our first goal." She won a 50-50 ball in the box. In an early crossroads match that tested North's resolve, the Wildcats ironed out the offensive flaws that led to the Summit meltdown and got back in the right direction. "My team did a much better job spreading things out compared to the way we played against Summit," Marshall said. "Against Summit we bunched a lot. This game we had a lot more opportunities by spreading the ball around a little bit more. "Had we played that same way against Summit, the score would have been much closer." Jenny Ferrell displayed significant improvement while recording her second shutout and the defensive backs and midfielders kept Mooresville bottled up as North improved to 2-1. "Jenny played much better," Marshall said. "She came off her line much stronger and more confidently. " (Backs) Jodie Draughn, Manly Lambe, Courtney Bates and Megan Pitts had very strong games, and Allison Schaffer and Sharon Woodard played very well in the midfield. My whole team played very well. I mean, you could name all of them. The Wildcats didn't have a chance against older and wiser Summit, which like most private schools features freshmen. "They are a much stronger team than us," Marshall said. "I think he played eight ninth graders, and you could tell the difference. They were much stronger and bigger than we were." North plays at Downtown on April 10 and at South Davie on April 11.

Wildcats Win Two Baseball Games

Another bad week might have knocked North Davie's baseball team into a hole that would have been fatal. Instead, Derek Comarizer, Ted Randolph and a recharged defense provided a lift after opening the season with a disappointing four-game losing streak. The Wildcats buried lightweight China Grove (14-2) and Knox (18-5) to revive their season last week. "Things are starting to come around," Coach Chris Callison said after North improved to 2-4 overall and 2-1 in the Piedmont Middle School Conference. "It was nice against China Grove to have 18 hits because it wasn't just 18 singles. We had about six doubles. We went from 16 strikeouts (in a 9-5 loss to North Rowan) to only one. That makes a big difference, and then we only struck out once (against Knox)." Comarizer's well-rounded play sparked a North team that had been outscored 41-19 during the head-banging skid. The southpaw threw a complete-game five-hitter against China Grove, along with getting five hits in the wins. "Derek is finally starting to hit the ball well, and he pitched well against China Grove," Callison said. Randolph, a dynamic seventh grader who has been a constant plus amid a trying year, continued to terrorize pitchers, getting three hits against Knox after entering the game with a phenomenal 10-for-16 .650 average. "He's the only one that's hit all the pitchers well," said Callison, who characterizes Randolph as fearless. "I mean, he hit the fast pitcher, he's hit pitchers with curveballs, he's hit every body. He just has a good mindset for hitting." Andrew Beck, another bright seventh grader, matched Randolph with

Davie Schools

Shady Grove Elementary Venezuela's Night is each Monday until the end of the year. You can eat or pick-up but there are no deliveries for the Shady Grove night. The PTA Executive Board held its meeting on Thursday, March 30. The board approved money for additional fencing around the front of the school and money to replant grass in front of the school. The general meeting was the following Tuesday, April 4, in the gym prior to the PTA program. The kindergarten through second grades performed.

Thursday, March 30, was sweets day for the staff. Staff members brought in many of their favorites. The teachers were glad to help out with eating the great sweets. The staff didn't even care about the extra calories. Friday was also the day for spring pictures and students dressed in their best for both a group picture and individual pictures. PE Club will head to The Rock for rock climbing. Thursday, April 6, will be the day for screening for next year's new kindergarten class. These new students are scheduled to meet with nurses, teachers and other school personnel for testing to find their strengths and weaknesses. The screening is at the Advance Methodist Church.

The jump rope and unicycle team is scheduled to perform at the Davie County YMCA on Saturday, April 8, at 10 a.m. In Mrs. Minor's room, bears are "beary" special. Students enjoy reading classic stories such as "Corduroy," "Ira Sleeps Over," and "The Biggest Bear." They wrote great paragraphs describing their special bears. They also did problem-solving with bears. Mrs. Oh's class began studying rocks this week. They spent time sorting them, weighing them, and measuring them. They also wrote descriptions of them for others.

The birthday party for those with April birthdays will be in the media center on Wednesday, April 12. Students with April birthdays and their parents are invited for lunch and cake. Thursday, April 13, the first grade will be going to visit Horizons in Salisbury. Also on this date there will be a reception in the media center to show appreciation for volunteers. Students of the week are Joey Turman, Dane Cook, Levie Armini, Leigh Snitley, Matt Mecker, Casey Lambeth, Ashley McIntyre, Josie Piper, Wendy Villatoro, Anna Marie Whitaker, Joey Ziglar, Wesley Martin, Travis Robertson, Shannon Triplett, Matthew Carter, Lindsay Bailey, Rachel Mackintosh, Heather Murphy, Erica Bly, Ross Davidson, Courtney Robertson, and Magi Aguiro.

Five Davie High Juniors have been selected to attend Governor's School: Aaron McClannan in math; Teague Monger in social science; Andrew Needs in math; Jon Overbey in natural science; and Rebecca Helfner in art. The following are junior marshals: Aaron McClannan, Teague Monger, Andrew Needs, Emily Morton, Rebecca Little, Kaitlin Cullahan, Katie Bernhardt, Erin Chaffin, Wesley Johnson, Jon Overbey, and Lauren Brogdon.

Central Davie Elementary March was poetry month in the media center due to an activity sponsored by the Reading Curriculum Committee. Students selected a favorite poem from a poetry book. They keyed this poem during computer lab time, inserting clip art to illustrate the poem. The poems were also illustrated in art class with original art to enhance the computer clip art. The poems were copied and bound into poetry books by Mary Evans and June Hyland. Each student in the school received a poetry book that included the poems selected by their classmates. The Reading Curriculum Committee is also creating students to a program of story-telling Thursday morning, March 30, by storyteller Carl Hales from Salisbury. This activity is the culmination of the March reading emphasis. On April 10, the Davie County Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting on campus. The Advisory Committee will present its annual report at this time. March Citizens of the Month were announced: Rense Joldersma, Jensen Sales, Lindsey Carter, Sonny Stanley, Whitney Wyatt, Meghan Collins, Taylor Randell, Kenny Rivers, Justin Thompson, Peggy Andrews, Amanda Blackwell, and Annette Livingston. Citizens of the Week for March 31 include: Jana Hughes, Amanda Bridges, Austin Wood, Jonathan Bryant, Cliff Sauerbrun, Justin Phillips, Michael Smith, Nate Lawrence, Bucky Sheppard, Amanda Sparks, Amanda Blackwell, and Annette Livingston.

Bus Riders of the month: Ayanna Leach. Nancy Terry's fourth grade science class has been studying about the solar system. Students had the opportunity to combine drawing skills with science to produce diagrams of eclipses and planet posters. During read-aloud, many students are identifying major differences between the book and the movie version of E.B. White's "Stuart Little." Students continue to write. They have put much thought into nominating folks from the community for kindergarten awards to be presented at the April PTA meeting. In addition, daily entries in individual writing journals provide a variety of topics for Mrs. Terry's reading enjoyment. The math class is completing the final lessons in the Saxon text. Hazel Winfree shows Cooleemee Elementary students how children used to have to help wash clothes as part of the Cooleemee Historical Association's "Discovering Our Heritage" program.

Children's Chores: First Graders Learn What Kids Had To Do In Old Cooleemee

COOLEEMEE - First graders here know what it's like to stop the hogs, hoe the garden and gather the eggs. They know how to lead a milk cow in from the pasture, and how to clean clothes on a washboard with water from a pot over a fire.

A school-wide collection effort produced a 50-year time capsule and a float in the Centennial Parade created by children, teachers and the PTA called "Education - Now and Then."

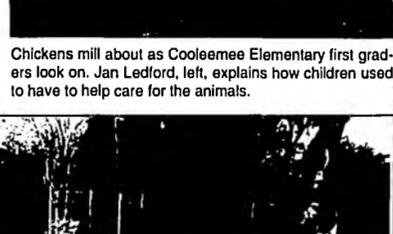

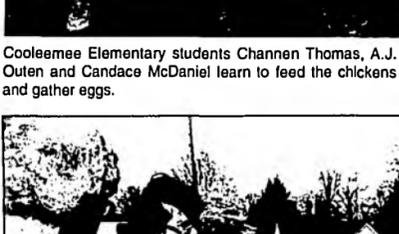

The 44 students last week took part in the "Children's Family Chores" program at the Zachary House. Sponsored by the Cooleemee Historical Association (CHA), it is part of the group's "Discovering Our Heritage" program.

A group of 12 young reenactors were trained and outfitted in period costumes to play the parts of their ancestors for school presentations and community events. In cooperation with the CHA and the local volunteer fire department, the three fifth grade classes built a permanent "Firefighters Museum" for the community.

Volunteer Tammy Barron said that each month, a different grade level learns something about life in old Cooleemee.

During that year, CHA began working with the elementary school's teaching staff to develop an ongoing social studies curriculum program for each grade level. Following the N.C. Standard Course of Study guidelines, each unit is developmentally appropriate for the children.

Each grade's activity is integrated with the goals which teachers have in mind for the unit they are teaching.

With hands-on and visual experiences, children learn about "Christmas in Old Cooleemee" (when life was considerably poorer), "Children's Family Chores" and at the old grist mill by the river, they learn about the Piedmont's economy - from barter to modern industry.

By the end of the fifth grade, students have explored topics such as child labor, racial segregation, traditional family and neighborhood practices, geography and other aspects of regional history.

In 1999, CHA was presented the Davie County Association of Educators' "Friend of Education" award.

The Discovering Our Heritage program has been conducted primarily by volunteers, Rumley said. To continue and further develop the quality, depth and outreach, staff support is necessary.

A coloring book, looking at Old Cooleemee through a child's eye, is on the drawing board. The work with South Davie eighth graders studying N.C. History needs to expand beyond a brief museum tour, Rumley said.

A small advisory board is being established for the Discovering Our Heritage program, and will meet about twice a year to evaluate programs and plan for the future. It will be composed of teachers, parents, community elders and museum staff.

Lynn Rumley talks to the children as they get ready to get some hands-on experience about a child's life in old Cooleemee.

strategies. Students are learning how to divide, multiply, and use fractions. Geometry is an important part of what they use on a daily basis.

For the next few weeks, they will help students write stories. The first story is about pets, and they have discovered numerous reasons to own them.

The reading program has just ended, and students are excited to be in second place. The class read over 400 books in the past month.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. McDaniel, and Mrs. Drigger's class performed in the kindergarten program at PTA on March 7. On March 22, they went to Very Special Arts at the Brock. They played hand bells, zibbers, learned a fun dance, and sang karaoke.

A highlight was eating lunch at the park. They have also been busy getting ready for Easter by making bunnies, chicks, and hats. They are learning Easter songs. On March 30 they visited the local vet to see how sick animals are taken care of, and saw puppies, cats, and an iguana.

The school's Battle of the Books team has spent numerous hours reading and practicing in preparation for the Davie County Battle of the Books competition April 5. Students must be able to recall specific details from 25 pieces of adolescent literature.

The book titles this year include "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" by Mark Twain, "The Hobbit" by J.R.R. Tolkien, "Where the Lilies Bloom" by Bill and Vera Cleaver, "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone" by J.K. Rowling, and many others.

The members of South Davie's competition team are Brandon Callaway, Linden Carner, Kara Deadmon, Matt Hauser, Reuben James, and Zach York. The Battle of the Books team that is victorious at the county level will compete at the regional competition in Wilkesboro on April 13.

Zach Yorkley, a seventh grader, qualified for the state level of the Geography Bee. He will be traveling to Raleigh in April for the statewide competition.

William R. Davie Elementary Bus, Car, and Van Riders of the Month for March were rewarded with a treat on Monday, March 27: Michael Potts, Logan Brown, Carlos Moreno-Luna, Christian Vilanueva, Jessica Alarcon, Sierra Doucette, Lindsay Sanders, Alex Dooley, Jeremy Thompson, Aleckha Gonzales, Matthew Busbee, Maren Ramon-Munoz, Tori Norris, Rosa Flores, Brittney Wagner, Crista Arroyo, Austin Brown, Jessica Blackburn, Sara Childress, Megan Medford, Luke Taylor, Casey Carter.

Stars of the week were: Thomas Bailey, Megan Brown, Paul Cassidy, Tristin Hood, Andre Hunter, Cody Hutchins, Kristen Karnes, Jacob Linhart, Brady Marrs, and Jeffrey McDonald.

South Davie Middle The Dolphins

Dolphin students in Teresa Santis' communications class completed book projects where they created a puppet or a doll of the main character from a book they recently read. Students have also completed a unit on nouns. Integrating math into their studies, Dolphins recently read short stories titled "The Road to Digitopolis" and "Life in Flatland." These stories focused on skills such as the author's point of view, purpose, and cause and effect relationships. Students will soon begin a unit on verbs and preparing for the next book project due April 19. In social studies, Dolphins are studying World War II. Along with this study, students will read the novel, "Number the Stars." This novel is historic fiction. It is set during the time of the Holocaust with many true events of this period.

Dolphin students in Steve Hamlin's math class have been learning about area and perimeter of various geometric shapes. Students have done hands-on activities to show relationships between area and perimeter and how they are found. Students have also been learning alternative methods to solving mathematical problems using fractions. The Dolphins recently performed math plays and skits that demonstrated math being used in the real world. In science class, the students are studying whales and are working on a unit that centers around the "Voyage of the Mimic," which integrates math and science.

The Spring Book Fair was a success. Thanks to all of the students, parents, and teachers who purchased items. With the money raised, more than 30 new books, 50 new Accelerated Reader tests, and some much-needed library supplies will be purchased.

Justin Cope, Paco Gama, Brittany Draughn, Salvador Romero, Blaney Rogel, Natasha Wilson, Nikki Myers, Nichole Reinhardt, Johnny Stephens, Shadia Griffin, Jose Barona, Brandon Warren, Nathan Hutchens, Charlie Boger, Sy Eastling, Jocelyn Martinez, Yosmi Nava-Teodoro, Mark Speer, Daisy Varona, Joel Barrette, Jordan Hendrix, Justin Whitaker, Rich Salmons, Renee Ratledge, and Missal Rogel.

Bus, Van and Car Riders of the Week of March 24 are Yismu Bava-Tendoro, Sierra Doucette, Johnny Stephens, Jordan Hendrix, Nathan Hutchens, Shadia Griffin, Charlie Boger, Casey Carter, Mose Barona, Crista Arroyo, Missal Rogel, and Tori Norris.

Students in second grade with perfect attendance for the third quarter are Spencer Lanning, C. Barneyeacelle, Brandy Carlton, Preciosa Curbelo, Hanna Hendrix, Sarah Hunt, Dylan Stumbo, Brandon Toney, and Brooke Wagener.

Third graders with perfect attendance were Azarely Benitez, Brandi Cockerham, Kaley Keaton, Ashley Peacock, Danielle Reinhardt, Alan Spry, Jonathan Stephens, Charles Boger, Oscar Flores, Nathan Hutchins, Mariah Lyons, Hannah Reaviv, Francisco Romero, Tiffany Vestal, and Ashley Woodie.

Those in fourth grade with perfect attendance were Jeremy Davis, Sarah Daywall, Patrick Harris, Dewayne King, Jennifer Romero, Caleb Anderson, Margaret Anderson, Bobby Gassett, Ashley Hendrix, Stephanie Hinson, and Daisy Varona.

Fifth graders with perfect attendance were Michael Beamon, Ashleigh Byrd, Holly Harris, Brittany Marshall, James Reavis, Heather Smith, Lea Tarleton, Shaun Baitly, Ben Hinson, Matthew Mock, Renee Ratledge, and Jennifer Whitaker.

Four Davie County teachers were presenters at the North Carolina Association for the Gifted and Talented conference in Winston-Salem, March 16-18.

The conference, attended by over 700 educators, offered sessions on higher level thinking, stress management, unique language arts teaching strategies, and much more.

Julie Marklin and Lynn Moore of South Davie Middle and Marie Ellis of Cooleemee Elementary offered a session "I See What You're Thinking: Thinking Maps" in which teachers learned the eight visual-verbal maps used to show what students are learning. The maps are being used throughout the Davie County system and more local staff training will be available next fall.

Other educators attending the conference from Davie were Judy Patton-Athey from Mocksville Elementary, Leigh Anne Davis and Cathy Hockaday from Pinebrook, and Lee Bailey from North Davie.

Lowes 'Foods To Go' Does Shopping For You

For harried moms with busy work schedules, soccer carpools and laundry waiting when they get home, Lowes Foods to Go is an answer to a prayer.

"It is used a lot by families with kids, who need every minute they can find in a day," said Dianne Blacato, Public Relations spokeswoman for Lowes Foods. The Lowes store in Clemmons is one of a number of Lowes grocery stores in North Carolina which now offer this convenient and popular service for customers.

Lowes Foods to Go features a menu of items which can be ordered by fax (888-441-4881), telephone (1-888-537-8848 or 1-888-LFS-TO-GO) or through the store's web site at www.lowesfoodstogo.com. Customers who enjoy fast internet service can order their groceries on-line, and pick them up after work. The website displays easy-to-use categories of fresh produce, seafood, dairy products, items from the special natural foods section, and health and beauty resources.

Customers like the "Quick Shop" option on-line, which remembers what items they have previously ordered. Ms. Blacato says that most people tend to shop for recurring products, and that this feature saves valuable time.

"Eighty to ninety percent of people buy the same items over and over. Customers can give us a grocery receipt from any store, and Lowes will fill your order with those items," she said.

Customers can come into the store or shop on-line for delicious catered platters by Lowes. View the lowesfoodstogo.com website for tantalizing trays of steamed cocktail shrimp without shells, or fingerfood bites of crabmeat. Lowes' deli can prepare fluffy trays of muffins for a business breakfast, or miniature pastries and turnovers for a bridal or baby shower.

Elegant wedding, birthday and sheet cakes in all sizes and flavors can be ordered, with personalized decorations for that special occasion. Tiny fruit tarts, cupcake and cookie trays are just a few of the many desserts that Lowes can provide. Fresh vegetable platters and creamy dips, with colorful carrots, crisp celery, fat zucchini and red radishes are artfully arranged for your dining delight. Call Lowes Foods in Clemmons to take all the work out of your next family gathering or party preparation.

Flowers, in hanging baskets and for beds, are popular.

A Green Thumb Hobby Turns Into Business At Donnie's Greenhouses

By Mike Barnhardt
 Davie County Enterprise Record

Watching Donnie Beddington at work, and you would never know that it was her husband, Robert, who was the flower nut. She loves getting her hands dirty, planting tiny seeds, transplanting tiny flowers, and preparing them for sale.

But it was through marriage that got her started in the horticultural business, operating Donnie's Greenhouse off of Fairfield Road for the past 10 years.

"My husband, he's a flower nut. Then I got interested in it," she said.

Like many greenhouse operators, the Beddingtons started with a small greenhouse behind their home.

"It's a hobby that got out of hand, but I enjoy it because I can be at home," she said. "We try to have just a little bit of everything, just about anything anybody would need."

Trees, shrubs and a few perennials are also available.

Minister Sings, Tells Stories For Coolee Club

On March 27, the Coolee Senior Citizens met at the First Baptist Church. James "Doll" Foster had the prayer, following the opening of the meeting by President Reba Holl. The club sang "Jesus Loves Even Me," led by Hannah Jones. Jane Sneed played the piano. Pauline Hall, chaplain, had the devotions. She spoke about the beauty of trees and referred to the poem, "Trees," by Alfred Joyce Kilmer. She read 1 Samuel 16:7. "...for the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart." She said that character comes from the heart. The roll was called by Virginia Platt, substituting for Francis Miller. There were 26 members and four visitors present. Secretary Nancy Foster read the minutes of the last meeting. The thought for the day: "Blessed are the hard hearing, for they miss much of the small talk." The sunshine and treasury reports were given by Jones and Bettie Smith. Holl called for discussions and voting on the club's present by-laws. Barbara Thornton told of the many activities at the Senior Center. She said that the next Creative Scrapbooking session will be held on April 11 at 2 p.m. There will also be a Car Care Workshop on April 17. You will learn easy maintenance procedures, tips for saving you money, and tips on safety in case of a breakdown. (Please pre-register.) The program was given by Dorothy Naile. She invited the Rev. Floyd Wood to speak to the club, who sang and told hilarious stories. The meeting ended with the singing of the club song and prayer by Noah Platt. The next meeting will be held at the church on April 10.

Advance News

By Edith Zimmerman
Advance Correspondent
Edd Myers celebrated his 88th birthday on March 31. Children Kathy and Rommie Barney, Dale Myers and Marcia Goshorn visited, as well as grandchildren Tracy and Bill Zeiss of Raleigh, Dale Lee Myers and Eddie Goshorn, and great-grandchildren Brook and Morgan Myers; nephews Judge Jimmy Myers and Bobby Myers and Marzelle Beck were visitors. Edd received many cards and gifts. Among them was a pound cake made by Betty Myers. Also, many people called during the day. We are happy to say that Edd's health has improved and he thoroughly enjoyed his birthday. Another thing that made his birthday special was the good recovery of his wife Annalee's cataract surgery two weeks ago. Special friends and neighbors Joe and Barbara Morgan also visited, bringing a bird book as a gift since Edd is an avid bird watcher. Tom Hendrix of the Fork community is a patient at Forsyth Hospital and in critical condition. Our thoughts and prayers go out to the family. Margie Markland underwent cataract surgery last week at South Eastern Eye Center in Greensboro. She is recovering nicely. Betty Cornatzer is improving from recent surgery at Forsyth Hospital. Edith Zimmerman and Helen Talbert attended the funeral of their cousin and friend, John Frank Holder, last Friday afternoon at Hayworth Miller, Kinleton, funeral chapel. Entombment was in Westlawn Garden of Memory Mausoleum in Clemmons. Judy Barr and Ruth Hockaday were Sunday afternoon visitors of Lib Carter.

Parrish-Jordan Engagement Announced

Kelly Suzanne Parrish of Cleveland and Brian Daniel Jordan of Mocksville will be married May 20 at Concord United Methodist Church. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Todd Anthony of Cleveland. She is a 1998 graduate of West Rowan High School. A student at Rowan-Cabarrus Community College, she is employed by Freightliner. The groom-to-be is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whitt, all of Mocksville. He is a 1992 graduate of Davie High School. A student at Rowan-Cabarrus Community College, he is employed by United Plywood in Mocksville.

'Gospelfest 2000' Is April 15

In the gospel of St. Matthew 16:27, the Lord Jesus says that "For the Son of Man will come in the glory of his Father with His angels, and then He will reward each according to his works." TOT Sportbike Club is working to help those in the Davie County area who sometimes might not be able to help themselves. But, at this time, they are asking all those who can to come out and support their "Spring Gospelfest 2000" to be held on April 15 from noon-6 p.m.

The Clement Grove (Masonic) Picnic grounds, directly behind the B.C. Brock Performing Arts Center and Brack Gymnasium located on N. Main Street, will be the location of this event. Along with gospel music, there will be various ministers rendering God's word, food and fun for the whole family. The cost will be $3 per individual with children 5 and under getting in free. To all musicians, soloist, choirs and groups who would like to be a part of this program, call 336-492-2515 or 336-940-7540 and ask for Kerwyn. If no answer, leave a message. A portion of the proceeds will go to help feed those needy families throughout Davie County during the year.

Lone Hickory Sponsoring BBQ

There will be a Port-A-Pit barbecued chicken supper from 4-6:30 p.m. Saturday, April 8 at Lone Hickory Fire Department. Sponsored by the Lone Hickory Recreation, tickets for the $6 plates (take-out only) are available from any member of the recreation committee or at Doc Renegar's Store.

Greenhouses Keep Local Couple Busy

There's azaleas and rhododendrons, begonias and ferns, tomatoes and peppers. The list goes on and on. Ferns, more than 1,000 of them, hang from the roofs of the greenhouses that now line the property behind their home. The Beddingtons are pretty much self-taught horticulturists. "We read everything we could get a hold of, but you really learn by doing," she said. "You have to do it, get your hands in the dirt." Most plants are started from seed, others from cuttings. Occasionally, they buy plug trays from another grower. It's enough to keep them busy 13 months a year, 25 hours a day, Beddington said. They sell to individuals and wholesale dealers.

"I'm out here just about every day, but it's very therapeutic," she said. What's her favorite plant? "I don't really have a favorite. When my geraniums turn out, I'm really proud of them." Donnie's Greenhouse is open until 6 p.m. Mondays-Fridays, and until 5 p.m. on Saturdays. Don't be surprised if the first one you meet is Booger, the guard dog (he barks to let them know a customer is here) and official greeter. Donnie's is located on Fairfield Road. Take U.S. 601 South from Mocksville and turn left onto Fairfield in Ephesus, across from the Friendly Center shopping center. The drive to the greenhouse will be on your left. Follow the signs.

Rec Dept. Plans Trip To S.C. For Passion Play

The Choral Passion Play at First Baptist Church of North Spartenburg will be the Mocksville/Davie Parks & Recreation Department's Easter trip for seniors and adults. The trip to this production will be Sunday, April 16, departing the Recreation Dept. on North Main at 1 p.m. and returning from the 4 p.m. Matinee. The $25 fee includes transportation and admission. To reserve your space, call 751-2325.

Re-Elect

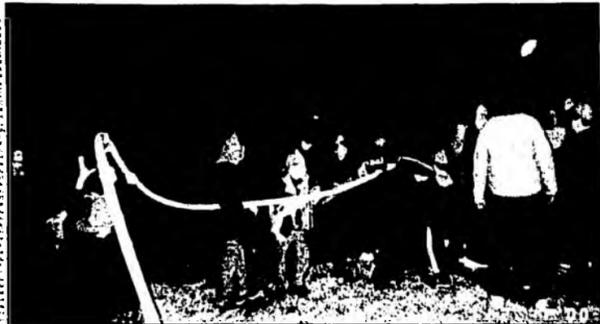

Carl Boon
Republican for Davie County Commissioner
179 Ivy Circle
Advance, NC 27006
998-8129

Dear Fellow Residents of Davie County:

In 1992 and again in 1996, you elected me a Davie County Commissioner. Since that time, I have strived to do what I believed was best for all of our citizens. Over the past eight years it has been my privilege to serve you to the best of my ability and to make myself available and accessible to all of you.

The experience I have gained while serving eight years as a Davie County Commissioner has prepared me to deal with new challenges our county government faces on a daily basis. I have lived in our county for 28 years and I am deeply committed to rendering public service for the greater common good of the citizens of our county. I again ask you for your support in the upcoming commissioner's election.

Sincerely,
Carl Boon

Wolf Cubs fighting a "grass fire" learn that it takes cooperation to handle a fire hose.

Cub Scouts Learn Fire Safety

No rabid wolves here - these were the Wolf Cubs from Cub Scout Pack 574.

Jerusalem Volunteer Fire Department hosted the pack's four Wolf Dens for a fire safety training session on Feb. 4. Over 20 Cubs attended, along with their parents and siblings. Special helmets were given to all those in attendance. Numerous educational materials were available for the participants as well.

The Cubs were instructed on basic fire safety, and shown the equipment that trained firefighters use to fight a fire. They got to see firefighters in turnout gear. Turnout gear helps protect firefighters from fire heat. A special guest appearance was made by "Sparky" the fire dog. Sparky is over six feet tall and knows a lot about keeping safe from fire. The Cubs went through a "smoke room." This is a special room that can be filled with smoke so participants could see how fire and firefighters - actually work. They explored the fire trucks, and they got to shoot water across the field at an imaginary grass fire which threatened to consume Greasy Corner.

Fearless leaders of these boys are: Janice Wombough and Sandra Autry (Den 1), Kim Haver and Amy Rose

The Cubs pose in front of Jerusalem Fire Department truck.

(Den 2), John Veach and Rhonda Brock (Den 3), and Annette Hempstead and Anthony Tilley (Den 4).

The Cubs and leaders wish to convey their appreciation to the members of Jerusalem Volunteer Fire Department. A special Cub Scout thank you is given to Larry Thies, fire education coordinator and volunteer firefighter with the department. He was even trained by the leaders in use of the "Wolf cars."

Pack 574 is home to more than 100 cub scouts.

Upcoming events include: the Scout Campore in Denton, April 29-30; Cub-Parent weekend at Woodfield Scout Preservation, May 5-7; Davie Daniel Days (scouting exhibit), May 13 from 10 a.m.-6 p.m., Salisbury Street, Mocksville; Cub Scout Day Camp, June 12-16 at Mocksville's Rich Park; and Webster's Resident Camp, June 25-29 at Woodfield Scout Preservation.

Contact any cub leader for information, or contact Cliff Edwards, cubmaster, at 751-2843.

Oak Valley To Host Red Cross Tourney

The NWNC Chapter of the American Red Cross is hosting its Fifth Annual Golf Tournament Wednesday, April 26, at the Arnold Palmer designed Oak Valley Golf Course. This year's special event will be played in two flights with double shotgun starts at 8:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Prizes will be given to the first through third place teams in both the morning and afternoon flights. Fantastic prizes, like gift certificates to local shops and awards to the winners of the nine hole contests - including closest to the pin and longest drive. Each player will receive a goody bag filled with prizes.

The tournament will conclude with an awards party and light dinner. Sub-way is donating lunch for all golfers; additionally, Pepsi, Village Tavern, R.H. Barringer, Harris Teeter, Krispy Kreme, and Mountain Fried Chicken are donating an assortment of food, drinks and refreshments.

A team may be purchased for $500 or individuals may play for $125. To register, call 724-0511 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Tee sponsors are still needed. It is a $200 donation and sponsors receive corporate signage on the tee box.

The money raised from the tournament will help the NWNC Chapter, a United Way funded agency, provide emergency, blood and health services in Davie, Forsyth, Stokes and Yadkin counties. The chapter hopes to raise $22,000 from this event.

Record Number Race At Farmington

A record turnout of racers and fans were on hand for IHRA Holey Sportsman Championship event this past weekend at Farmington Dragway.

Saturday's activities were completed, with 15 new IHRA records set on the 1/8th mile drag course. A total of 268 entries were on hand for this past weekend's IHRA HSC event, with competitors from as far away as Canada.

Ronnie Hood of Lenior in his "Barnaby Rye" Corvette ran a 4.13 ET at 177 MPH to edge out veteran racer Rickie Smith from King by just thousandths for the number one PRO MOD qualifying position. It also took a record 4.21 seconds just to get in the record Quick 8-PRO MOD field.

In the Saturday night TOP Eliminator race, veteran Farm racer Charlie Wagener from North Wilkesboro defeated Donald Wilson from Lenior for the $2,000 win. Wagener is his Chevrolet Corvair on a 5.93 ET at 116 MPH to hold off the quicker 5.18 ET at 136 MPH charge of Wilson's Dodge Daytona.

Ten-year-old Brian Baker of Asheboro won the special Street Machines Junior Dragster division in his "Intimidator" dragster. Baker ran a 9.39 ET at 66 MPH to stop the Dragster of Winston-Salem's Michelle Black. Sunday's racing activities were washed out and the eight IHRA categories will be returning Easter weekend on Saturday, April 22. The Quick 8-PRO MOD race will be rerun on Saturday, April 15.

Cruisin' Friday Night starts this Friday, April 7. Featured will be drag races for "street legal" cars and motorcycles. There will also be Gamblers racers for TOP and Sportsman competitors. Gates open at 5 p.m. and Racing starts at 8:30 p.m. Regular draft racing in TOP Eliminator, Sportsman, Pure Stock and Junior Dragster classes will return this Sunday, April 9. Gates open at 9 a.m. and racing starts at 2 p.m. For more information call 336-993-2982 or 766-5861.

Pinebrook's Odyssey of the Mind team will perform at the April 25 PTA meeting.

Pinebrook Odyssey of The Mind Team Fourth

Pinebrook Elementary School once again has an Odyssey of the Mind Team.

The team members are: Tiffany Booe, Lauren Brown, Cindy Kohlen, Natalie Martin, William Miner, Amanda and Jordan Reavis, and their coaches are Cindy Booe, Roberta Brown and Betty Kohlen.

The Odyssey of the Mind program promotes creative thinking by challenging teams to solve problems. Through working together in a team, participants learn cooperation, the appreciation and understanding of others, and that the group is a more powerful thinking force than an individual.

The team created an outstanding skit, scenery, costumes and props, including technical elements such as a working Ferris Wheel, a mechanical cable car, and a prize-winning pig that traveled across the stage.

The regional competition was held March 25 at Northwest High School. Pinebrook tied for fourth place out of 13 other schools in their division.

A special honor, the Ramona Fusca Creativity award, was bestowed upon William Miner for his exceptional creativity in designing the technical elements. There were approximately 600 participants and he was the individual recognized for this award.

The skit will be performed at the Pinebrook PTA Meeting April 25.

Hope: Children's Center Helps The Physically Handicapped

By Mike Britt
Special to the Enterprise

For almost 50 years, The Children's Center for the Physically Handicapped, a Davie County United Way agency, has been a hallway of hope for thousands of area children and their families.

Serving a population of birth to 11-year-old children with orthopedic or other chronic long-term health impairments, The Children's Center's purpose is to prepare these children for an independent, contributing, fulfilling life. Children have such disorders as Cerebral Palsy, Spina Bifida, Muscular Dystrophy, or any one of a number of rather unusual genetic disorders.

Having been for almost 50 years a private and United Way agency, in 1988 The Center became a unique collaboration between the Winston-Salem/Forsyth Schools and the United Ways of Forsyth, Davie and Yadkin counties.

The public perception of what happens at The Children's Center and the reality are quite different.

For one thing, people seem to feel the circumstances of our children would make the center a sad place to be every day. The reality is that the Children's Center is without question the happiest place that I have never been in my life. I've never even been in a church that has anywhere close to the spirit of love, cooperation, and mutual support that exists every day at The Children's Center.

Though the circumstances of the children may be difficult, what is happening for them on a daily basis is so remarkable that it fills all of us with a sense of joy and satisfaction.

Another inaccurate perception about The Children's Center is that basically all we can do is take care of these children ... in other words, we are little more than a glorified babysitting service.

The reality is quite different. Our focus is on physical disabilities. Though some of our children have accompanying cognitive delays, many are bright and just happen to be locked up in bodies that don't work as well as we might hope. These children have incredible abilities.

Rather than just taking care of children, we are changing children's lives in ways that the average person could barely even comprehend.

Miracles happen every day at The Children's center, due to the combined efforts of an incredibly professional and dedicated staff.

I have literally watched children walk for the first time, heard them say their first words, and seen them feed themselves for the first time. These things happen not just once in a while, but every day. I have the best job in the entire world.

Two specific stories give appropriate examples of the kind of progress children can and do make at The Children's Center.

Consider the case of Jeremy G. He was born at 25 weeks and weighed less than one pound at birth.

His diagnosis included prematurity, retinopathy of prematurity, osteomyelitis of both femoral heads, respiratory distress syndrome, aortic thrombosis, jaundice, chronic lung disease, and failed hearing screening. The situation worsened.

Several days after his birth, he was injected with medication, and the needle was not sterile. As a result of the infection that ensued, his hip joint disintegrated. Jeremy arrived at The Children's Center, and his condition was so severe that even our very positive staff established minimal goals for his first year: to raise his hands to the midline of his body, to prop himself on his elbows, and to react to faces and voices around him.

But children can surprise you. And miracles do happen.

Just one year later, the dedicated staff at The Children's Center had Jeremy pulling himself to a stand, walking behind push toys, putting rings on a stack toy in the proper order, finger feeding himself, using a cup appropriately, and developing a vocabulary of more than 20 words.

The news gets better.

Having initially walked in leg braces and with a walker, by his second year, both became unnecessary. He can, ride a tricycle, climb stairs and even dance with no assistance. There is every reason to assume that he will graduate from The Children's Center within the next year, go on to a regular classroom environment, and ultimately have a completely normal and productive life.

Then there is Jeremy I. He was born with CHARGE Syndrome, a highly unusual genetic disorder. Indications were that he would be deaf, blind, severely and profoundly mentally handicapped, and would most likely never walk.

Upon arrival at The Children's Center at the age of 20 months, he was blind in one eye, deaf in one ear, and had to be fed through a gastrostomy tube. He also had to be suctioned regularly due to congestion in his chest.

He was moving about rather than walking using his head as a fifth appendage. Having never left home, he was extremely reluctant to come to school. Yet in only one year at The Children's Center, Jeremy was walking normally, riding a tricycle, and feeding himself, and was so secure that he waved goodbye to his mother at the door.

Now 5 years old, he has developed great skill in sign language and the use of electronic devices to communicate effectively.

These are only two of many similar stories about children whose lives have been drastically improved, because of the support The Children's Center receives from the United Ways of three different counties.

I'm not sure that people always understand that when United Way uses the slogan, "Your Way to Change Lives," it's really true.

When you give your dollars to the United Way, thereby providing the resources to hire teachers and therapists for The Children's Center, it really is just as if you walked into the building and worked with a child to help them learn to walk, or speak, or read, or feed themselves.

You are changing lives every day through your support of United Way and its funded agencies.

Britt is executive director and principal at The Children's Center.

Program Director Mike Britt with Jeremy Isley, a 6-year-old student at The Children's Center, an agency partially funded by the United Way of Davie County.

Events Planned For Davie Senior Citizens

Sen. Betsy Cochrane will be the guest speaker at Lunch & Learn on Thursday, April 6, at noon at Wester Steer in Mocksville.

Everyone is invited to attend. Wester Steer will provide a free drink to all seniors - just ask for a coupon at the door. There is a drawing each month for a free meal.

The Davie County Stamp Club is open to collectors of all ages and interest levels. Meetings are held the first Tuesday of each month at 7 p.m. in the East Room of the Senior Center. The next meeting date will be Thursday, April 6.

April 15 is almost here. The Senior Center will be providing two more free Tax Aide Sessions for seniors of Davie County on Friday, April 7, and Friday, April 14, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. No appointment is necessary and clients are seen first come, first serve. Bring your '98 returns and any other relevant information.

The Senior Center needs volunteers to deliver the lunch meal to homebound seniors who are unable to cook for themselves. Volunteer Appreciation Week has been set aside to allow potential volunteers to try out the program. There will be no commitments and no strings - just come ride with an existing volunteer and see if this rewarding experience is for you. Call at 336-751-0611 by April 5 to let us know which day you would like to come in for your "test drive."

The next Day of Travel will journey to the Holy Land of Jerusalem. Come learn about this fascinating, ancient city that is home to three major religions. Our "travels" will begin at 10 a.m. and will include an authentic lunch. Cost for the day is $5. You must pre-register by calling 336-751-0611, as space is limited.

Learn fun tips to make your scrapbook albums come to life. The next meeting times for the scrapbooking craze is 2 p.m. on Tuesday, April 11. Bring your materials, as time is given to work on projects. Contact Barbara Thornton at 336-751-0611 for more details.

Rabies Project Underway

Rabies is a deadly viral disease that affects animals and people, and spread most commonly by skunks, raccoons, foxes, and bats.

More than 1,000 cases of rabies have been reported over the last three years in North Carolina alone.

This disease is spread by saliva from an infected animal and attacks the brain and central nervous system of the animal or person. Almost all animals infected by the rabies virus ultimately die.

While the virus is of major concern in dogs, cat, and wildlife, rabies can also infect people. If a person is bitten by a rabid animal and does not seek treatment the result is most likely death. A bite wound from an animal should be scrubbed vigorously, reported to Animal Control to capture the animal for rabies testing, and the person should seek medical attention. If the animal is found to be rabid, the person bitten will have to undergo a series of injections to avoid disease.

The public should be aware to never approach a raccoon, skunk, fox, or bat exhibiting unusual behavior. For example, raccoons are active usually at night and tend to shy away from people. If a raccoon is spotted in daylight and seems overly friendly or aggressive, the animal should be reported to animal control for possible capture.

In North Carolina, if a pet does not have a rabies shot and is exposed to a rabid animal, the pet must be euthanized or quarantined for six months at the owners expense. State law requires that all dogs and cats over four months of age receive rabies shots. To avoid losing a pet that may have been exposed to rabies, the public is urged to have their pets vaccinated. For less than $10, every pet-owner can have his/her pet protected against this deadly disease.

Gov. Jim Hunt is proclaiming April 15 as Rabies Awareness Day. To increase public awareness about this disease and the ease with which it can be prevented, many veterinarians across our state will be participating in a low cost rabies clinic to vaccinate as many pets as possible. Contact either your local veterinarian or animal control office to find out where these shots will be given and/or to get more information about rabies.

This project is being sponsored by the North Carolina Veterinary Medical Association, a non-profit association of veterinarians and animal medical professionals striving to advance veterinary medicine through education, lobbying and public recognition programs for its members.

Wood Finishes Add To Home Project

With the warmer weather upon us, Americans everywhere are using this time to start the home improvement, decorating and refinishing projects they've been planning all winter.

If you're looking for home decorating ideas that use the natural beauty of wood, Wood Beautiful Magazine, a free, 36-page color magazine is available at home centers to guide consumers through do-it-yourself wood finishing projects that illustrate the latest trends in decorating with wood.

From money-saving tips on salvaging furniture to advice on giving your bathroom a modern look, there's something of interest for every level of do-it-yourselfer.

With the right tools and some simple know-how, homeowners can turn a worn wooden floor, outdated kitchen cabinet or a battered piece of furniture into a work of beauty.

If you're seriously considering the look of wood to add beauty to floors, walls and furnishings, here are some tips from Minwax that may help: Limited space doesn't have to be an obstacle. If you're faced with the task of furnishing a bedroom, but you're short on space-why not consider furniture that's beautiful and functional. Add a Deacon's bench at the foot of the bed that serves as a storage chest, footboard and a seat for two. It is a perfect place to hide blankets, sheets and pillows, and at the same time brings classic style to your bedroom.

Thinking to refinish your wood floors? Think about creating patterns with different color wood finishes that enhance the size or change the feel of a room. Try alternating stripes along the width of a room's floor with a light and dark wood finish. Whether this is done on a wooden floor that you wish to refinish or on a new floor, the contrasting stains and alternating pattern will make any room appear wider than it really is.

Add resale value to your home by transforming your simple space into something spectacular. Take a bathroom, with just the basic fixtures and make it look traditional and up-to-date with wood accents.

Wainscoting and wooden panels skirting the tub joined by decorative moldings, prove to be a winning combination for a distinctive, designer look.

Try These Helpful Spring Cleaning Tips

Spring Cleaning giving you the "blahs"? It's that dreaded time of year again, but there is one versatile pantry staple that can help you freshen up your home from top to bottom - all-natural baking soda.

Here are some tips for getting your home ready for the warmer months, from the makers of Arm & Hammer® Baking Soda:

• Start by opening the windows around your home-let that warm spring air in.

• Head for the kitchen. Empty out your fridge and discard unrecognizable leftovers, old jars of condiments and perishables, like eggs, that are past their freshness dates.

• Before replacing the contents, wipe down the shelves and walls of the fridge with a solution of baking soda and water and then rinse well. Baking soda is a scratchless cleanser so it won't harm the finish.

• Make sure to replace the box of baking soda in the fridge to absorb odors and keep foods tasting fresher longer. Stick a box in the freezer too. It will keep your ice cream and ice cubes from getting that "funny" taste. Try Arm & Hammer's Cool Blue® Fridge-n-Freezer Freshener, which exposes twice the amount of baking soda through its no-spill flo-thru vents.

• After you've organized the fridge, tackle your countertops and appliances. Because baking soda is a scratchless and food-safe cleaner, it is great for cleaning and deodorizing cutting boards, stovetops, microwaves, countertops and anyplace else where you prepare and eat food. And when you're done, sprinkle some baking soda in your trash cans, down the sink drain and garbage disposal.

Baking soda can be used to bring springtime freshness to every room of the home:

• Remove scuff marks from floors by sprinkling baking soda on a damp sponge. Wipe and rinse well.

• Clean bathroom floors and porcelain with a solution of baking soda and water.

• It's time to pull out those spring clothes, beach towels and picnic blankets. Add 1/2 cup of baking soda to your favorite laundry detergent to boost your detergent's cleaning power and remove musty smells.

• Patio furniture is ready for action once it's been wiped down with a solution of baking soda and water to remove the dirt and cobwebs they collected during winter storage. For tough soils, sprinkle baking soda on a damp sponge and scrub. Rinse well.

Another Crop Of Master Gardeners Graduating

Six Davie gardeners have completed 40 hours of horticultural training and will receive the title of Master Gardener Volunteer after a graduation ceremony.

The Class of 2000 includes Meg Boswell, Judy Chandler, Eunice Gonzalez, Ralph Oliver, Becky Pitcher and Sarah Wood. The Master Gardener Volunteer program is conducted by NC Cooperative Extension.

According to Greg Hoover, Extension agent and coordinator of the program in Davie County, this is his second class of Master Gardener Volunteers. They will join last year's class by helping the cooperative Extension extend its horticulture education and outreach efforts in the community.

This group of volunteers is developing a landscape design plan for the Davie County Courthouse as part of their volunteer commitment. Hoover said this type of project reinforces the training they receive.

Volunteers receive instruction on a variety of topics and Hoover calls on others to help with training. Instructors included: District Conservationist Fred Alexander, Forest Ranger Chuck Nail, Soil Conservation Technician and rose grower, Don Redmond, Davie Extension Director Ronnie Thompson and Extension Agent Gary Bradley.

The group visited local gardener Hugh Larew, Jones Nursery, Hillcrest Farms and Green Acres Nursery.

For more information on horticultural topics or to get more information about becoming a Master Gardener Volunteer, contact the Davie Cooperative Extension Center at 751-6297.

Extension Agent Reflects On Two Years In Davie

By Greg Hoover
Cooperative Extension Agent

This July will mark the end of my second year as an Extension agent in Davie County. The time has gone by quickly as time usually does when there is plenty of work to do, people to meet, new things to learn and programs to complete.

The job has been special because of all the wonderful people I've met and gotten to know in Davie County. Some of the most special are my co-workers on the local Extension staff and my first two "crops" of Master Gardener Volunteers.

I spend most of my working time in commercial and consumer horticulture. Other assigned job responsibilities include: urban pests, forestry, wildlife, ponds and environmental sciences.

You can imagine that with so many areas to cover that they don't all receive a significant amount of my time.

A Passion For Gardening: Many Things Make Hobby Worthwhile

Davie Master Gardener Volunteer Lydia Grupinski in her new vegetable and herb garden.

By Lydia Grupinski
Master Gardener Volunteer

There are many reasons why Americans have developed a passion for gardening.

For some, it's creativity. Gardening is art.

For others, it may be the fascination with making things grow. After all, gardening is also science.

And, there's all that fresh air and great exercise.

Well, for myself, gardening is all these things and more, including an opportunity to give back to my community by helping others. Helping others? Giving back to the community? That's right. One of the most important aspects of gardening for me is my role as a Master Gardener Volunteer from the North Carolina Cooperative Extension.

About two years ago my family and I moved to Davie County after a long, two-year stint in a dismal part of the Midwest. Let me tell you, it sure was nice to leave the tundra and get back to the balmy Piedmont.

Being new to this county, I was eager to meet people and get involved with my new community. It was during a call to the local Horticultural Extension Agent Greg Hoover that I learned about the Master Gardener Volunteer program. Greg explained that he was starting up a program for Davie County and asked if I would be interested in joining.

It sounded great. This was an opportunity for me to learn more about horticulture (I had studied horticulture while in the tundra), to help others in the community in a way that I really loved, and a way to meet others who shared my passion for digging in the dirt.

Count me in, I said.

What is a Master Gardener Volunteer? Under the guidance of Mr. Hoover, Master Gardener Volunteers provide research-based information about gardening to the public. Here in Davie County, we have 14 volunteers (and growing) available to assist the home gardener with a variety of gardening questions and problems.

Everything from "what plants do I choose for a shady wet area?" to "why do I have dead spots on my lawn?" can be answered by your local Master Gardener Volunteer. We also provide educational programs on horticulture and the environment to local schools and civic groups. We assist with the Liter Sweep program to keep our local roads clean, and take on local beautification projects such as the woodland garden in front of the Davie County Library.

Volunteers receive 40 hours of training. A variety of horticultural topics are covered such as soils and fertility, turf selection and maintenance, woody ornamentals, plant insect and diseases, landscape maintenance, weeds and more.

There are volunteers who have studied horticulture and worked in the industry and others whose background is their love of gardening and desire to get involved.

The program is expanding. So, if you have a passion for things that grow, a desire to learn and a willingness to help the community, perhaps this program is for you.

As a Master Gardener Volunteer, I have met some wonderful people and made many great friends. I have never met a more committed and enthusiastic group of individuals. And, Greg Hoover does an excellent job of guiding us in getting the job done while making it fun.

So if you need answers to those tough gardening questions or would like a unique presentation for your school or organization, there is a new resource available: your local Master Gardener Volunteers.

For more information, contact Hoover at 751-6297.

Consider Surrounding Environment When Caring For Fescue Lawns

By Greg Hoover
Cooperative Extension Agent

When caring for your fescue lawn, it is important to take into consideration the surrounding environment.

Control erosion and pollutants. In North Carolina, soil sediment is our biggest water quality problem. To control soil erosion, bare spots in the lawn should be reseeded and garden and natural areas should be covered with some type of mulch.

Keep fertilizer off hard surfaces such as sidewalks, driveways and streets. Rain water can move directly into storm drains and dump directly into streams carrying fertilizer particles with it.

Fill spreaders on grass, garden or natural areas. After you spread fertilizer, sweep or blow any material off hard surfaces and into planted areas. The only thing that should go down storm drains is water.

If you choose to water your lawn, avoid runoff from irrigation. Apply the water slowly and wet the soil to a depth of 4 to 6 inches.

Watering in the early morning will increase water use efficiency and dry part of summer, allow an established lawn to go dormant, but apply water every 4 to 6 weeks to maintain plant health.

If you have irrigation and want a nondormant lawn, water when the grass looks blue-gray and a footprint is still evident after walking on the lawn. Lawns need one inch of water per week during the growing season. Keep a record of the rainfall amounts and adjust irrigation accordingly.

Be sure to avoid light, frequent watering. This encourages shallow rooted grasses that are unable to withstand drought and high temperatures.

Know your fertilizer. The three numbers on a fertilizer label are always in the same order and represent the nutrient amounts as a percentage by weight. The nutrients are: Nitrogen (N), Phosphorus (P), and Potassium (K). A 40-lb. bag of 10-10-10 fertilizer contains 4 lbs. of N (40 lbs. x 10%), 4 LBS. of P and 4 lbs. of K.

Fescue lawns need some nitrogen each year to remain dense and healthy. The maximum amount to apply each year is 2 and 1/2 to 3 lbs. per 1,000 square feet applied in three applications. Most lawns will do very well with only 1 or 2 pounds.

The three-application times are mid-February to mid-March, September and November. Apply no more than 1 lb. of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet at any one time.

A 40-lb. bag of 10-10-10 has 4 lbs of nitrogen and will treat 4,000 square feet or more. A 40 lb. bag of 26-3-4 has 10 lbs. of nitrogen and will treat 10,000 square feet or more.

Tall fescue should be mowed to a height of 2.5 to 3.5 inches. Cut grass when it reaches a height of no more than twice the desired mowing height. If the grass is taller than 6 inches tall, raise the mower and then come back and mow again at the proper setting in about two days.

Mowing fescue too low to the ground increases weed competition and can lead to a thin stand of grass. Dull mower blades reduce lawn quality by tearing instead of cutting the grass. Ragged leaf ends wither and bleach and are potential entry points for disease.

One frequent problem with fescue turf is lack of sunlight. Fescue needs sunlight and will not perform well in heavy shade.

Mowing fescue too low weakens fescue stands and leads to increased weed competition.

Lawns also need time to increase soil pH. Take a soil test every 2-3 years to be sure of the proper lime and fertilizer needs.

For more assistance, contact the NC Cooperative Extension in Davie at 751-6297. Extension information is available on the internet at <http://ces.ncsu.edu>. For turf information, refer to <http://www.ces.ncsu.edu/TurfFiles/index.html>.

Cooperative Extension Relies On The Public

Sometimes, we have to pick and choose where we concentrate our work. In Extension, we rely heavily on groups such as our Advisory Leadership Council to keep our focus on the problems and issues that are most important to the people of the county.

Many people get confused about Extension and other agricultural agencies. Extension has an educational mission and is supported mainly by the state through NCSU, NCA&TSU and by the counties agents work in. As an agent, I'm an employee of Davie County and a field faculty for N.C. State University.

Extension agents are here to help people with their problems and questions. More importantly, we're here to provide information and education that allow people to, as the Extension motto says, "Help People Put Knowledge To Work."

Telling someone how to fertilize a lawn is important, but teaching them how to do it is even better.

Spring is here and it brings on new growth, opportunities and challenges. Davie's NC Cooperative Extension staff is here to serve you and provide educational opportunities that help you improve your lives, your families and your communities.

'Handy' Websites Can Make It Easier To Complete Projects Around Home

Almost any time of year can be a season of renewal for homeowners. Taking a fresh look at your property usually leads to a list of home improvement projects.

Fortunately, by logging on to "handy" websites, such as Handyman Online, homeowners can find help with projects ranging from minor repairs to major remodeling.

Here, the experts at Handyman Online (www.handymanonline.com) list some of the top home improvement projects for nice weather:

- Chill out. Service air conditioning units and clean fans. Repair, replace and clean screen doors and windows.

- Repair winter wear and tear. Survey your home's foundation for any cracks or deterioration. Remove cracked or broken tree limbs. And make sure the sprinkler system is in good working order.

- Don't be a drip. Check the roof for leaks and loose boards or shingles. Remove moss and fungus. Clear rain gutters. On windows, replace caulk and add weather stripping. Consider replacing older windows with more energy-efficient units.

- Have some fun. Wouldn't a new deck be great? How about installing that pool the kids have been wanting? Let a little sunshine in by installing skylights, greenhouses and sunrooms.

- Take a broad stroke approach. More sunlight spotlights all of those places that need a fresh coat of paint or a little touching up.

- Safety sense. Remember to change the batteries in smoke alarms and carbon monoxide detectors. Check fire extinguishers. Repair uneven or cracked walkways and sidewalks that can be trip hazards.

For more helpful tips and project ideas, visit www.handymanonline.com or call 1-800-772-3220.

Wild Bluebird Population Suffering From Loss Of Habitat

Select locations. Beautiful views. Room to raise families. Responsible landlords.

Only bluebirds need apply. This is no flight of fancy. Wild Birds Unlimited announced its partnership with the North American Bluebird Society (NABS) to launch the Transcontinental Bluebird Trail (TBT) on May 20. In conjunction with the launch, Wild Birds Unlimited is sponsoring the trail's Adopt-A-Box program, which provides nest boxes on the trail specifically designed for bluebird families.

"During most of this century, the bluebird population has been dwindling," said Wild Birds Unlimited president Jim Carpenter. "The loss of their natural habitat, an increase in pesticide use and competition from other birds, particularly the sparrow, have contributed to a decline in the number of bluebirds in North America."

Bluebirds are cavity nesters, meaning they forage for refuge in old trees or fence posts. But nowadays, those natural shelters are few and far between. However, with the help of dedicated birders, these native North American treasures are showing signs of recovery.

The Transcontinental Bluebird Trail is a large network of bluebird trails that will eventually stretch across the U.S. and Canada, providing nest boxes for bluebirds and other native cavity-nesting species. A bluebird trail consists of five or more nest boxes placed at least 100 yards apart. Dedicated volunteers regularly monitor boxes on the TBT to ensure nesting success.

By adopting a nest box on the trail, families, nature lovers, birders and outdoor enthusiasts will help ensure that a successful future remains for these gentle, beautiful birds.

Besides giving a bluebird family a home, the $35 sponsorship provides an Adopt-A-Box Certificate; a $2 off coupon for participating Wild Birds Unlimited stores; a Web site page to follow trail and nesting activities; a nest box report for each nesting season; a one-year membership in the North American Bluebird Society and its quarterly journal Bluebird; and an invitation to attend the Annual NABS Convention.

To obtain an Adopt-A-Box sponsorship form, visit a Wild Birds Unlimited store. Call toll-free 1-800-326-4WBU or visit www.wbu.com to find the store nearest you.

Adopt-A-Box sponsorship forms can also be downloaded from the NABS Web site, www.nabluebirdsociety.org, and the Wild Birds Unlimited Web site, www.wbu.com.

Roses Now
Easier To Grow

Gardeners everywhere are pulling out the pruning shears and digging in the dirt in hopes of growing beautiful roses this spring.

In the past, treating against disease and damaging insects made growing healthy roses a thorn in your side. This season however, garden expert Lance Walheim, author of more than 40 books including Roses For Dummies, is offering some simple tips to create a beautiful rose garden without all the hassle.

"Planting beautiful roses has never been easier," said Walheim. "There are hundreds of easy-to-grow rose varieties available that create beautiful blooms all season long. There are also new, easy-to-use and highly effective products, which eliminate the hassle typically involved with feeding roses and protecting them from insects."

Walheim has teamed with Bayer Advanced to offer avid and first-time gardeners simple, effective tips for planting and caring for their roses.

Choosing the right variety of rose is the first step to creating a beautiful rose garden. According to Walheim, planting any one of the new disease-resistant rose shrub varieties or hybrid tea varieties can considerably reduce the amount of time gardeners spend treating and protecting against disease. To produce beautiful flowers all summer long, Walheim recommends asking your local garden retailer about disease-resistant rose varieties or any of the All American Rose Selection® winners for best new roses of 2000.

Roses require ample water and sunlight to continue looking beautiful all season long. Walheim recommends the following tips:

- Water regularly, applying at least one to two inches of water per week during dry season; and
 - Be sure roses receive at least six hours of sunlight each day.
- Just like people, roses require proper nourishment to grow and flourish. Roses are also susceptible to damage by insects such as aphids, thrips and white flies, which attack the leaves and buds, leaving behind misshapen and discolored roses. The following tips will help protect your roses against damaging insects and nourish them all season long:
- Be sure to properly identify insects and pests to treat them effectively;
 - Visit the diagnostic problem solver on bayeradvanced.com for a list of insects and photos to help identify these pests before they cause damage; and
 - Use sharp hedge shears for a clean cut while pruning rose shrubs;
 - Use by-pass pruners for a clean cut while pruning hybrid teas;
 - Prune roses back by about half during the winter season to promote full blooms and healthy growth; and

Extension Service Offers Month-By-Month Tips For Pruning

January

Shade Trees, Including Oaks, Hickory, Poplar, Gum, Beech, Ginkgo: Prune broken or damaged limbs. Thinning cuts can be made but require proper skills, knowledge and equipment. Do not top trees. Topping shortens a tree's life. Never prune trees when leaves have full color. Do not prune "bleeder" trees (see July).

February

Overgrown shrubbery: Ligustrum (privet), redtip photinia, holly, boxwood, cleyera, some Junipers, etc. Prune in February to the desired size. Prune no more and one third of the total plant in one year. It may take two to three years to get it back into the desired shape.

Boxwood: Prune before growth begins in spring, removing undesirable limbs. If overgrown, do server pruning over a two-year period, removing about one third the first year and complete shaping the second year. Shear mature new growth in June lightly for shaping.

Butterfly Bush (Duddelia): Flowers on new growth. May be best if pruned to the ground in the spring before new growth begins. Very durable and can withstand and needs heavy pruning.

Rhododendron: Prune to remove unsightly shoot growth on the upper part and outer fringes of the plant. Cut stems back well into the plant and new buds will form and fill in the gaps and promote a fuller, bushier form.

Holly (large): If properly placed in the landscape, large hollies only need pruning to keep them neat. Light pruning can be done anytime of the year. Late winter is best for severe pruning and to promote a good berry crop. Prune by removing individual branches to keep a natural shape and appearance.

Holly (small): Any severe pruning should be done in late winter. Light pruning to remove long shoots and to maintain a desired shape and form can be done anytime after new growth has formed.

Photinia (Redtip): Any severe pruning should be done in late winter. Summer tip pruning of mature green leaves will produce more red leaves. Cut individual branches rather than shear to maintain informal shape and form.

Camellias sasanqua: Pruning is generally not required. Remove any limbs that are rubbing, unsightly or diseased after flowering and no later than the first of July.

March

Gardenia: Requires little pruning. If the plant is too large for its location in the landscape, cut back just before growth starts in the spring. If plants are frozen back to the ground in winter, cut them at ground level and often new sprouts will form. Large, heavily pruned plants will benefit from frequent watering that will stimulate new growth and flowering.

Mandarin: Prune after berries have matured and been eaten by birds and before new Spring growth. Cut old growth to the ground. Prune young shoots at different heights to keep fullness and prevent legginess.

Spring Flowering Trees: Prune only as needed immediately after blooming.

April

Aucuba: Prune to remove diseased or dead branches and to keep a desired size and form.

Azaleas: Heavy pruning to shape and head back azaleas should be done immediately after flowering. Pruning will produce a more compact growth. Cut escaping limbs back inside the body of the plant. To induce branching, pinch out tips of new growth between flowering and the end of June. Never prune after the first of July.

Forsythia: Prune immediately after flowering just as blooms lose their color. Remove one-third to one-half of the top growth. Cut one-third of older mature stems at ground level each year to encourage new growth. Do not prune after the first of July.

May

Abelia: Cut tips and shoots during the summer growing season. May require heavy pruning near ground level every 3 or 4 years in late winter to limit size. Dwarf or spreading abelia may only require removal of dead wood and stray shoots. Always make top more narrow than the bottom.

Narrowleaf Evergreens: Cedars, Hemlock, Junipers, Arborvitae, Yew: If planted in the proper location, these plants shouldn't require much pruning. Severe pruning may kill them. Young growth can be tip pruned in the spring or early summer. Cut tips far enough into the canopy that the cut ends will be hidden by overlapping leaves and branches.

Rhododendron: Prune after flowering. Always prune to a whorl of leaves or the next branch. Do not prune after the first of July.

June

Boxwood: Mature, new growth may be sheared lightly for shaping.

White Pine: Shearing will stimulate production of buds and make the tree more dense and compact. Shearing should take place between the time the new leader completes its growth and before it hardens. The best date will vary, but generally June to early July is preferred.

Crape Myrtle: Basal and water sprouts are best removed in mid-summer as this will discourage this type of growth. Removing spent blooms during the flowering season will encourage additional flowering. Heavy pruning in the winter time promotes multiple shoot growth at the cut. If a multi-trunked tree is too large for its space, cut back to the ground during late winter. Select 3 to 5 new sprouts equidistant apart to begin anew.

July-August

Bleeder trees: Maple, Birch, Dogwood, Elm: Prune broken limbs. Thinning cuts can be made but require proper skills, knowledge and equipment. Do not top trees. Topping only serves to shorten the tree's life. Do not prune these trees during the dormant season. Never prune trees when leaves have full color.

Croton: Prune out watersprouts and any limbs out of shape. Includes fruit trees.

Leyland Cypress and Redcedar: Generally it is preferred to leave these trees unpruned. Light shearing can be performed late in the growing season. Stray branches can be tip pruned anytime.

Not Your 'Garden Variety' Tractor
Kubota's new sub-compact BX tractors are not your 'garden variety' tractor. They have the agility of a garden tractor... but, take a closer look. They are utility 'sub-compact' tractors built with the rare combination of brute strength and exceptional maneuverability ideal for demanding jobs around the home, farm, grounds or job sites.

The BX1800 (18 hp) and BX2200 (22 hp) feature Kubota's powerful 3-cylinder, liquid-cooled diesel engine—more than enough power for heavy-duty mowing even in long, thick wet grass. Kubota's unique 4WD design transfers optimum power to the front wheels in the tightest of turns. Standard features include a thick welded-steel frame, differential lock, 2-speed transmission, hydraulic power steering and an easy-to-operate hydraulic live, independent PTO clutch.

A three-blade mower and a variety of quick attach/detach implements such as loader, sweeper, snowblower, front blade, box scraper and more are available.

Routing Becoming Popular Among Do-It-Yourselfers

Among home improvement pastimes, routing is fast becoming a favorite with Do-It-Yourselfers (DIYers), especially women.

Routing offers an easy and inexpensive way to add decorative character to a variety of common items around the house - kitchen cabinets, panels, shelves and moldings to ornate cookie jars, coat racks and picture frames.

You'll need somewhere between $150-250 and a few weekends to become comfortable using the basic set of tools including: an inexpensive router; a small router table; and an assortment of router bits.

There are two main choices: plunge routers and fixed-base routers. Plunge routers retail for about $100 and allow you the flexibility to work in the middle of the wood at a variety of depths rather than just along the edges. A plunge router can go from a quarter-inch cut to a half-inch cut with just a flip of a lever. Fixed base routers are primarily used for edging. They retail for about $50 and are the more popular choice among DIYers due to their cost. Both come in a range of horsepower from 1 1/2 to 3 1/2. For DIYers, the most common router type is 1 1/2.

To convert your router into a real woodworking tool, mount it upside down to a router table. Among their benefits, router tables provide easier, straighter and more precise routing. Most router tables also feature a fence (guide) that helps push the wood across the top for more controlled speed and direction.

Vermont American Tool recommends purchasing a router table with a universal mounting plate which will accept any brand of router on the market. Other important features to look for include: an adjustable fence for added flexibility, a dust collection port and master power safety switch that controls both the router and shop vacuum. The average retail price for a tabletop router table is $100.

Beginners should start with an assortment of high-speed router bits, which are ideal for woodworking, weekend projects. Most high-speed sets retail for about $20. More complex projects demand the next level: carbide router bits which cost more but last up to 10 times longer. These bits allow you to cut easier and faster without burning the wood piece.

As for applications, router bits can be classified into three main families; decorative, straight and specialty bits. Decorative bits provide fancy edges that can duplicate even the most ornate millwork found on moldings and doors of older, antique homes. Straight bits accommodate performing dados or grooves in the wood and specialty bits are ideal for creating larger projects like kitchen cabinet doors or "fluting" on indoor or outdoor columns.

For information on Vermont American's complete line of router tables and accessories call 1-800-742-3869, or visit the website at www.vermontamerican.com.

Davie Sheriff's Sgt. Brian Diggs, Detective Chris Shuskey and N.C. Highway Patrol Sgt. M.D. Hayes check motorists at traffic stop on N.C. 801 at Farmington Road Friday evening. - Photos by Robin Fergusson

Sheriff's Deputy M.W. Crater escorts Jason Lee Garret to jail for driving while license revoked.

More Than 30 Cited At Traffic Check Point

More than 30 people were cited at traffic check points last Friday evening. Members of the Davie County Sheriff's Department and N.C. Highway Patrol operated the stops on N.C. 801 at Farmington Road, and on U.S. 158 in Mocksville.

The Highway Patrol issued 12 warning tickets, charged two with inspection violations, three with improper registration, two with driving without a license, one for DWI (she turned around and tried to avoid the check point), two for not having insurance on their vehicles, and one for driving while license revoked.

Among the sheriff's department citations and arrests were an Advance man for driving while license revoked and no insurance, a Mocksville woman for driving without a license, a Lincolnton woman for failing to stop at a stop sign, a Mocksville man for driving while license revoked, a Winston-Salem man for driving without a license, a Mocksville man for having an expired registration plate, a King man for having an expired registration plate, and a Mocksville man for failure to carry his driver's license.

Gregory Alan Cox, 34, of Yadkinville, was arrested on a warrant from Yadkin County for child neglect.

Novant On The Way Out

May 15 Public Hearing To Discuss Combining With Davis Of Statesville

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise Record

Novant Health is on the way out, and Davis Hospital of Statesville wants to take over management of Davie County Hospital.

Davie County commissioners have set a public hearing for May 15 on Davis' proposal to manage the local hospital.

The county had approached seven companies about managing the hospital, but it has only one concrete proposal for maintaining its full-time emergency room and some hospital care.

"It has been a long, drawn-out process," County Manager Ken Windley said. Please See Davis - Page 7

Stolen Dog Found Just In Time

People who steal dogs from the Davie County Animal Shelter aren't doing the animals any favors.

And they could be putting people's lives in jeopardy.

Recently, a young boy was bitten by a vicious Rottweiler. The dog didn't have any record of having rabies shots, and the owners didn't want it, so it was put in quarantine at the animal shelter.

The dog was stolen.

The boy's family faced the decision of deciding, with their doctor, whether to put the him through the series of rabies shots. That decision never had to be made.

The Road To Raleigh: Betsy Cochrane Ready To Be Lt. Governor

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

BERMUDA RUN - State Sen. Betsy Cochrane can list her qualifications for lieutenant governor quickly.

After nearly 20 years in state politics, she knows how things work.

She spent eight years in the N.C. House and is going on 12 in the N.C. Senate, so that makes her qualified to preside over the senate sessions. She's sat on the back row, and believes that Republicans, whether the majority or minority, deserve the right to be heard.

The lieutenant governor sits on the state board of education. Cochrane was a teacher before she ran for office. She's raised two children.

The lieutenant governor sits on the state board for community colleges. She has sat on the committee for community colleges for seven years, helping to bring a campus to Davie County.

The lieutenant governor is in charge of small business centers for the community colleges. Independent groups have rated Cochrane pro-business in her consistent voting record as a legislator, and the best in support of small businesses.

And although we don't like to think about it, the lieutenant governor is a heartbeat away from being governor.

"I'm as prepared as anybody to do the job," she said. "The things that are the primary job of the lieutenant governor, I am prepared to do."

Politics have become a natural for Cochrane, who volunteered to work for Ronald Reagan's North Carolina campaign soon after she moved to Davie County in 1973. Her political work actually began before that, when a personal friend, Jim Holshouser, ran for governor.

Cochrane helped organize Reagan's campaign. "And he carried North Carolina," she said.

In 1980, the Republican Party, looking to fill in one of their own on the N.C. House ballot, asked Cochrane to run.

"My issues were different than everybody else. I was talking about education, before education was cool. I was also talking about the elderly, and water... while the guys were talking about roads and the department of corrections," she said.

She ran for the N.C. Senate in 1988, and won, a seat she still holds today.

Cochrane's message is still much the same. But running for a statewide office is difficult. For one thing, it's a big state. She's visited 65 of the state's 100 counties, and put 27,000 miles on her car since the campaign began.

She's contacted key Republicans in all counties, and although only one person is working on her campaign staff, Please See 27,000 - Page 4

Behind The Plow: Board's Sweating Over Big Issues

Elections are wonderful things. They bring out the best in people.

Look at the impact a pending election has had on the Davie County Board of Commissioners. The board has been a whirlwind of activity.

In the past two months the commissioners have:

- Decided to convert the old state prison into the county's new jail, saving a couple million dollars over the projected cost of building a new jail.
- Conducted hearings this week on public opinions about Benchmark Cable television's performance in the county.
- Agreed to do away with the hated $20 recycling fee attached to homeowners' property taxes. That won't be on next year's tax bill.
- Lowered sewer rates for Oak Valley and Hidden Creek residents who complained about astronomical bills.
- Lined up another tenant for the Davie County Hospital that Novant is pulling out.

Wow.

That's a pretty good list of accomplishments for two months. They might have also sent Ambassador Ken Windley to bring peace in the Middle East, but something had to wait for next month.

Politics is in full swing. The signs littering the highways may be an eyesore. Candidates shaking hands at every public function can be bothersome. And the newspaper is full of letters of endorsement and advertisements from the candidates. All those things may be an inconvenience and disturb our routine. But they are vital to our system of government.

Nothing prompts politicians more than an election. Nothing springs them to action than an impending date with destiny. Voters have the power to make them do uncomfortable things. And elections are a politician's ultimate deadline.

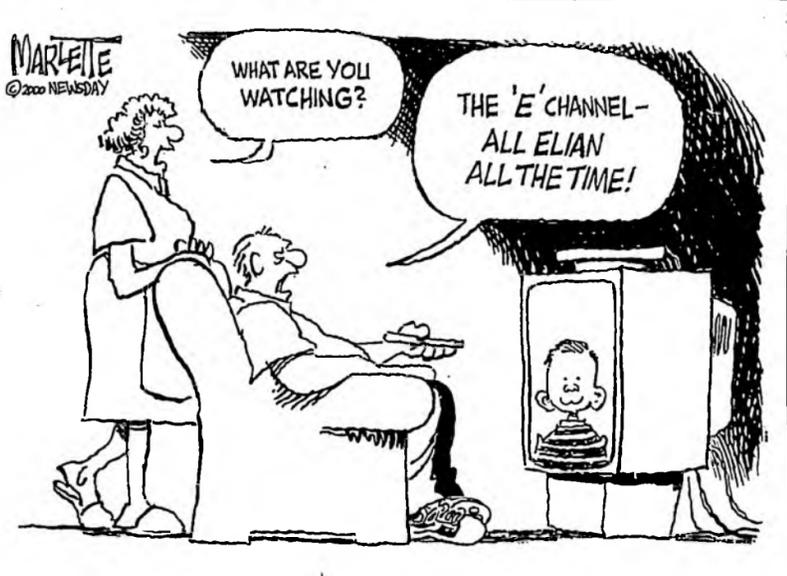

The county jail problem has been with us for more than eight years. The county will continue to need money to finance its recycling program, but the cost will now be hidden with the rest of the county's expenses. And there's little the county can do about its cable television provider. The county can encourage competition, and competition is slowly coming. But withdrawing the franchise from Benchmark would cost the county dearly in legal fees.

Yadkin Telephone is installing an alternative system in parts of the county. Time-Warner serves Bermuda Run. But getting rid of Benchmark, which owns miles and miles of cable and equipment in the county, would be nearly impossible.

Davis Hospital wants to take over management of our hospital, but even it promises a service greatly reduced from earlier years. We may have half a hospital, but at least it's a half.

The commissioners are working, and it's delightful to see them sweating behind the plow. No, they're not working just because of the pending election. They have been busy negotiating several of these deals for years. But their date with the voters is bringing out the best in them.

Volunteers The Backbone Of Storehouse For Jesus

To the editor:

In honor of Volunteer Appreciation Week I would like to recognize all those who volunteer at A Storehouse For Jesus. Last year we served families, churches and community agencies over 4,800 times - this service was provided completely by volunteers for there is no aid staff at the Storehouse.

Though our volunteers range in ages from school children to those in their 80s, come from all walks of life, and many denominations, they are all united in a single purpose - to serve our Lord Jesus Christ by serving those in our community who are in need and sharing His precious gospel.

We are so grateful for all who volunteer to help this ministry. Some of our volunteers come once or twice a month, some once a week, some work full time. Our volunteers come as individuals, as families, as church groups, and as school students. We currently have 65 volunteers who give of their time and energy to help the needy in our community by working at the Storehouse. They are dedicated, compassionate, hard working, and without a doubt the finest individuals I have ever been privileged to know. They are certainly a blessing to those in need, to this ministry, and to the community.

I would also like to thank those who volunteer outside the Storehouse doors. Some work in food drives, some in fund-raisers, some sew children's clothes at home, some prepare meals for chapel, some work within their own churches to help this ministry. Their names may not even be known, but they are there supporting this ministry and working behind the scenes in many different ways. Their support is also vitally important to the work that we do.

My heart is so full when I think of how much God has blessed this ministry in the last seven years. I would like to sincerely thank you, each of you, for your donations of food, clothing, and financial help, for your prayers and support.

We are always in need of additional volunteers - if you would like to be a part of the Storehouse family, please come and join us in our Lord's work. Volunteers, thank you for all you give and do. It is indeed an honor and a blessing to work with you. May God bless each of you abundantly as you so richly bless others.

Your servant in Christ,
Marie Collins

Resident Remembers Old Farmington

To the editor:

Last week's editorial got me to thinking about the early days in Farmington. I remember the year that Mrs. Vada Johnson's third grade class was in charge of the PTA meeting. Miss Vada had a doll show and all the little girls entered their favorite doll. I, being chief of the newly organized first department, was given the honor of being the judge for the doll show. All the little girls paraded across the stage carrying their favorite doll; all that, except one. One of the little Sparks girls was carrying her baby brother, Little Dwight.

After all the little girls had paraded across the stage, it became my task to judge the dolls. "How does one judge a doll?" I said. "Even the best doll is nothing more than a bit of cloth, a hank of hair, some sawdust, glue and paint. Total value, just a few pennies. But dolls are not judged in this manner, neither is man. A man is nothing more than a few pounds of fat, a little calcium, a little iron and a few other trace elements, sum value perhaps a dollar."

The worth of a man is determined by the way in which he serves his God and his fellow man. The worth of a doll is determined by the amount of love in the heart of the child for that doll. And who am I to say which little girl loves her doll best. So, therefore... I declared them all winners.

While all the dolls are now just a happy memory in the minds of some middle-aged ladies, Baby Dwight is still with us today.

Happy reminiscing.

Former Student Endorses David Owens For School Board

To the editor:

While I no longer live among you every day, I will always be connected to Davie County because it's where my roots grow deep. Since it is there I met Christ and began a relationship with Him that I long for all of you to have, I hope to shed some light on someone who helped me know and love Him more.

I entered my first year at Davie High in 1990 (then as a sophomore) with a flame flickering inside me. I had spent the summer before gallivanting around with a couple of college students who really love the Lord and encouraged me to do the same.

With a boldness I had not yet known in my journey of faith, I decided to try to round up as many Christian peers as I could find and meet with them to pray, study Scripture and do community service. A handful of students, a faithful teacher and I, often groggy-eyed from getting to Davie High from Four Corners even earlier than usual, met mornings before school for the three years I attended Davie. We called ourselves SWAT—Students With A Testimony.

That flickering flame grew into a strong blaze deep inside me. We did all share a testimony, and still do—that there is one God and the way to spend now and eternity with Him is through Jesus Christ. SWAT met in the school cafeteria, at homeless shelters to serve meals, in each other's homes to fuel that passion for showing Christ's love...

And the fire grew stronger. But another source of fuel—the one I want to highlight for you as you enter this very sacred time of choosing leaders, which is a God-given privilege—was an unspoken and unseen testimony-bearer who stood behind SWAT and uplifted us every step of the way—David Owens.

I had no legal trouble starting SWAT because I had researched what the constitution says for students wanting to take such a stand. David gave me the resources to do that.

I discussed the idea with our principal with the full endorsement of this school board member behind me. And when the principal overwhelmingly supported the idea too, David cheered us on.

Now I have the chance to be the cheerleader in David's behalf and to thank him for believing in SWAT, now a Christian legacy in place for all who enter Davie High. I still read the Enterprise all the way out here in Fort Worth, Texas, and I see that SWAT continues alive and well as it teams up with other Christian student groups to host

Family Appreciative

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who helped me and my family in our time of crisis. I am sorry I do not know all of those who assisted to thank them individually. A very special "thank you" to the lady who kept me calm by praying for me while I was being freed from the car. I could not see your face, and I don't remember if I heard your name, but God knows who you are. May God Bless each and every one of you.

27,000 Miles, 65 Counties And Counting: Cochrane Campaigning Statewide

 there are countless numbers of volunteers, including people she's served with in the house and senate. She's been to the Lincoln Day dinners, and to county conventions. She's called executive committee members.

When she first sought a seat in the state house, it was to fill the Republican ticket. "It never occurred to me that I would win," she said. She was running against Democrat incumbents. She was the only woman running, and was actually told to tell voters in a neighboring county precinct that it was her husband who was the candidate. She emphasizes her qualifications for the job. As chair of the commission on aging, she's been an advocate for senior citizens for years. "If the lieutenant governor uses the job properly, they could really be an advocate for groups that really need it... rather than use it as a stepping stone to be governor. "I've been very fortunate in the General Assembly in my committee assignments. I've gotten to know several people in different levels of government." As it was as a legislator, she sees the job as a way to help people. Constituents call with problems, and she tries to help cut through the government red tape to get them what they deserve. As examples, she helped a woman who was dying, whose son was in prison in Florida. He was moved to the Davie prison, where his mother could visit during her last days. She helped to get a hearing on development rules for High Rock Lake moved to Davidson County, where the effects would be felt. The government had planned the hearing for Washington, D.C. "I have found elective office one of the best means of public service of anything you can do. Everyone wants to do something to help their fellow man, and that's how I see this job." Cochrane is receiving more help from her family during this campaign. Husband Joe has made some appearances, and he or her daughter, Lisa Ling, make some of the long trips with her. She enjoys traveling, and her plants, which include several outdoors and some orchids now in bloom. She often stops there before coming home after leaving Raleigh. Cochrane says she's ready. And if she doesn't win, it won't be because she didn't work hard enough.

Man Arrested For Stealing Dog

 Mocksville Police Detective David Miller and Animal Control Officer Robert Cook located the animal on a Sunday night. Shannon Lynn Hartness, 18, of 1313 Ridge Road, Mocksville, was arrested for breaking and entering, and larceny of a dog. He was placed in the Davie County Jail in lieu of a $7,500 bond, pending an April 13 court appearance in Davie District Court. Warrants have been issued for another suspect, Cook said.

The incident proves that animals are in the shelter for a reason. Most are adoptable, but people need to go through the proper channels. "If they check with us, we'll do everything possible to see they get the dog they want," Cook said.

'One-Stop' Voting Available For May 2 Primary Election

The 14 polling locations in Davie County will be open Tuesday, May 2, 6:30 a.m.-7:30 p.m. for voters to cast their votes for their choice of primary candidates and to elect two school board members.

For persons who need to vote absentee but are unable to travel to the elections office, an application for ballots to be mailed to the voter may be made by a verifiable legal guardian or a member of their immediate family through Tuesday, April 25 at 5 p.m. The only exception would be for sickness or disability for whom application may be made until Monday, May 1, at 5 p.m.

All absentee ballots must be returned to the elections office by 5 p.m., Monday, May 1, properly signed and witnessed to be eligible for counting. The board of election members will be meeting Tuesday, April 18 and 25, and Monday, May 1, to review all absentee voting applications filed.

The election office will be closed Friday, April 21, for the Easter Holiday.

"One Stop" voting is available in the elections office for the convenience of voters who know they will be unable to go to the polls on Tuesday, May 2, to cast their ballots. Any voter who knows they will be out of the county the entire period that the polls will be open may apply and vote in the election office between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. through Friday, April 28. "One Stop" voting will be available for persons who will be unable to go to the polls due to a health or a disability in the elections office until 5 p.m. Monday, May 1.

March Came In Like A Lamb And Went Out Like A Lamb

March came in like a lamb, it went out like a lamb, and the middle was like a lamb as well.

By the end of the month. Believe it or not, but we have had a trace of snow as late April 26.

We ended the month close to normal with afternoon high temperatures mainly in the 60s. It was actually warmer at the beginning of the month than at the end. Nineteen of the 31 days of March were above normal. This makes every month this year above normal. January was just slightly above normal, while February was almost five degrees above the average. Looking back to 1999, every month was also above normal for temperatures. If you add them up, the last 15 months have each been warmer than the normal. One reason could be global warming or it maybe the La Nina weather pattern we have been under for the last two years. Meteorologists will know for sure when this pattern breaks by summer.

Many folks ask about dew point. What is it and what does it do? The dew point is the temperature you would have to cool the air to get 100 percent humidity. If the temperature is 70 and the dew point is 30, the humidity would be low. If the temperature is 70 and the dew point is 70 the humidity would be 100 percent and there would most likely be fog. The dew point is a good indication of how much moisture is in the air. The higher the dew point, the higher the amount of moisture there is in the air. During the summer months when the dew point is above 65 most people are uncomfortable and say its too muggy.

Have a great week.

If you have a weather question, write to the Enterprise Record, P.O. Box 99, Mocksville, or email to: ernews@rhdc.rhdc.com.

Now that we are into the second week of April, we can expect the average high temperatures to range from the upper 60s to the low 70s

Davis Makes Hospital Proposal

He said he was disappointed that Novant, which has managed the hospital for nine years, would not make a proposal to continue its service.

The commissioners required the new managers to maintain the emergency room around the clock as a condition of the contract.

Windley said Novant wants to bow out gracefully and has agreed to continue until July 1 while the county brings in new management.

"We are to the point of needing to work on this transition," Windley told the board.

County attorney Robert Price said Davis Hospital appears to be the only firm willing to guarantee the emergency room's full time operation.

Commissioner Joe Long, one of the board members on the hospital search committee, said the group had worked long and hard over the past 14 months trying to find a solution for the hospital.

"It seems, if you're sitting out there, we haven't been doing anything," he told the audience. "We've done all we can."

Some commissioners wanted to push the public hearing to this month, but Price said Davis had not had enough time to complete the details of its proposal.

"We want to make this hospital the public will use," commissioner Carl Boon said. "It looks like we will have a hospital."

Davie County Hospital has been under pressure for years as it has completed with surrounding metropolitan hospitals. It gave up local control nine years ago when it affiliated with Novant, which also manages Forsyth Hospital. The patient load at Davie slowly dwindled until Novant closed the beds last year, leaving only the emergency room and out-patient care.

Long commended hospital director Mike Kimmel, who was present at the meeting, and Novant for their work on the hospital.

The commissioners directed its hospital committee to lead the transition.

Cycle Group Opening Plant Here, Adding 25-30 Jobs

Cycle Group, Inc. has signed a 15-year lease on a 24,900 square foot building on 168 Industrial Blvd. in Mocksville.

"Their plans include up-fitting the building with $4.5 million worth of capital improvements," Kyle Swicegood said, making the announcement on behalf of William E. Hall and Jerry F. Swicegood.

Cycle Group produces a variety of commercial products, including cat litter, industrial absorbents and animal bedding. Five years after its establishment, Cycle Group's first plant in Israel processed recycled wood and other cellulose fibers to capture 30 percent of the market, supporting local as well as European demand through a marketing agreement with Nestle (under the brand name Friskies).

"We are very happy to welcome the Cycle Group to our industrial community," Swicegood said. "The will be adding 25-30 jobs to the local market place."

Operations should begin this summer.

Dan Barrett On The Issues: Supporting Our Schools

Davie County has an excellent school system. There is a commitment to our public schools throughout the County.

I share your commitment to our schools. I have a son, Daniel, 7, who is in the first grade at Shady Grove, and a daughter, Rebekah, 2, who will be in school soon.

My parents always stressed the importance of a quality education. My mom was a school teacher, and I worked part-time as a substitute teacher.

Our children are our future. Their education depends on our ability to retain and attract quality teachers. We must also continue to provide good school facilities. If I am elected your Commissioner, I will work closely with school officials and teachers to meet the needs of our children.

Keep Watching These Pages ... By May 2nd, You'll Know What I'm About.

If you think I'm on the right track, I'd appreciate your support and vote on May 2nd.

Rowan-Salisbury schools are getting better; don't stop now

No. 1: (This is not so much a budget cut as it is a change order.) Forget the school's request for expansion funds and just give Jim Neely a $3 million raise as commission chairman. Since he gives away his current commission pay in the form of scholarships, he would probably hand the $3 million over to the schools and apologize for not giving more. Problem solved.

Two Of Three GOP Candidates For Governor At Davie Meeting

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

If the primary were held tomorrow, Davie County Republicans at the Lincoln Day dinner Saturday night at Davie High School would elect Leo Daughtry as their candidate for governor.

They would also elect Betsy Cochrane as lieutenant governor, Andrew Brock to the state senate and Julia Howard to the state house.

The straw poll conducted by the Republicans was one of the highlights of a night filled with barbecue, speeches and some old-fashioned politicking.

Two candidates for governor - Daughtry and Chuck Neely - were there, as were candidates for state senate and house, lieutenant governor, commissioners of agriculture and labor.

There wasn't a shortage of local candidates, either. Eight Republicans are seeking the job of register of deeds, and eight want the two seats on the county board of commissioners. Many of the eight candidates for the two seats on the Davie County Board of Education were also there to shake hands, pass out souvenirs and information.

The Governor's Race
Neely and Daughtry were on hand, while Richard Vinroot was absent from the Davie meeting.

Neely started by talking about a woman he had met, who had been abandoned with children. The campaign is about people like her, he said.

"All across North Carolina and this country, we see the strains that have been placed on families," he said, adding that government shouldn't replace the family, but reduce the burden.

Neely supports choice for education, neighborhood schools, where parents are involved, where principals are in charge and where the teachers have discipline. Principals need more authority to fire bad teachers and give raises to good ones, and teachers don't need to be "shackled by rules and regulations" as they are now.

Vouchers, or educational opportunities, should be available to give parents choices for their children, Neely said.

To help families, Neely favors a repeal on the sales tax for children's clothing, baby items and computers.

He thinks the state should get rid of the property tax on automobiles, and that senior citizens who own their homes should have a $75,000 "homestead exemption" so as not to worry about not being able to pay property taxes.

Internet filters should be in every library and school, and available to every parent, to prevent their children from viewing pornography, and video poker, an "incredibly addictive" habit, is making a hold in North Carolina, Neely said. He opposes the lottery.

Neely wants tougher domestic violence and child support laws, going as far as to require pink or blue boots on cars of people who don't pay child support to get the scorn of the community.

"We're going to win this primary on a positive campaign of reform," he said.

Daughtry, who grew up on a Sampson County farm, said he likes coming to Davie County. "I like Davie County's people," he said.

He said his father taught him that in North Carolina, a man could dream a dream, and through hard work, make it come true. "He said that North Carolina is the land of promise and I believed him."

Daughtry still believes that North Carolina is and can remain a place of good families, good communities, a place for a good life and plenty of opportunities.

"If you work hard, you can make something of yourself."

Leo Daughtry: Government is too large.

of any economy, he said. "The jobs we create are jobs that come from private enterprises."

The government isn't good at creating jobs, and has grown too large, Daughtry said. "It spends too much. It regulates too much." Day care owners, farmers and homebuilders are the victims of overregulation, he said. "Government can't be everything to everybody."

He favors more choices for education. "We need more charter schools. They are nothing more than neighborhood schools. We need computers in every classroom, but more importantly, we need parents in every classroom."

Daughtry called the department of transportation the "most corrupt" of any in state government. Not only are needed new roads not being built, the older ones aren't being taken care of, he said.

Daughtry said that all violent criminals should be kept in prison, and that it's ridiculous to keep people on death row for 10-13 years as is done now.

Daughtry said he has the support to beat the Democratic nominee in November by getting the crossover vote from conservative Democrats.

Lieutenant Governor
Betsy Cochrane of Bermuda Run was the only lieutenant governor at Saturday's dinner.

"I'm running because I can do this job," she said. "I can be fair to Republicans for a change."

She said her work in the House and Senate with the elderly, community colleges, and her work as a teacher make her a perfect fit for the job. The lieutenant governor presides over the legislature, and sits on the boards of community colleges and education.

Her voting record for small business is among the best, and that's what keep an economy strong, she said.

"I can be there for this party in November, but this party has got to support me in May," she said. "If they beat me, it won't be because they've worked any harder."

State House
Julia Howard was the only state house of representative candidates at the dinner, and spent most of her time urging those in attendance to support long-time Republicans and to vote Republican because of redistricting.

"If a Democrat can't win as a Democrat, they're changing registration," she said. "Watch for that."

Meetings such as Lincoln Day dinners are attended by the core of the party, she said. "We can't do what we do without you. When it comes down to the nitty gritty, you're out there working at every election."

While visiting Washington, Howard said she saw a map of congressional districts that would pit Richard Burr and Howard Coble - two Republicans - against each other. The Democrats, if they remain in control, will take away every Republican seat they can.

State Senate
Four candidates for the state senate were on hand.

Stan Bingham said he had started several small businesses from scratch, and knows the importance they play in a strong economy.

Supporting businesses is important to the state's future, he said.

A former Davidson County commissioner, he saw firsthand the problem of the state making laws, and giving county commissioners who may disagree with them the responsibility of paying for and/or carrying them out. "It's disheartening to be put in that position."

He said he would vote for what the people want, even if it's not his opinion.

Andrew Brock said he had worked with many people, including Bill Cobey, Julia Howard, Lauch Faircloth and Betsy Cochrane. "They judged me by my conservative ideals and my work ethic," he said. "I want to work for you."

But he never thought he would run for office.

That changed when he saw the state senate in action, not giving equal time for opinions of Republican legislators. The eastern power center needs to change, he said.

Jim Neely, a former Rowan County commissioner, said that senior citizens shouldn't have to pay property taxes.

He talked about his attempt to get a hundred thousand or so dollars to expand a veteran's cemetery in Salisbury, and was turned down; while the federal government sent billions to foreign countries that were hostile towards the United States.

Lieutenant governor candidate Betsy Cochrane.

N.C. House Candidate Julia Howard.

He favors accountability among politicians. "There are too many broken promises. Something's wrong somewhere," Neely said.

Larry Potts, chairman of the Davidson County Board of Commissioners, also believes in accountability. If he doesn't do what he says, don't vote for him the next time, Potts said.

He said he was responsible for having the 10 Commandments posted in Davidson County, and for doing away with massage parlors there. He submitted a resolution for prayer in schools, and will do the same thing for the 38th senate district.

"As much government as possible needs to be on the local level, where people can be held accountable," Potts said.

State Auditor
Leslie Merritt, a CPA from Wake County, said he had been auditor for Wake county. An alarming fact is that the state budget has been growing faster than the federal budget. "Don't you want a state auditor who is a CPA, who is an auditor, who can find wasteful spending?"

Agriculture Commissioner
David Rouzer and a spokesman for Steve Troxler spoke for the nomination for commissioner of agriculture.

Rouzer said he is Jesse Helms' top aide for the U.S. Senate agriculture committee, and knows how to get things done for North Carolina. "Agriculture is in a crisis," he said. "Agriculture is vitally important to the future of this state and this county."

Zane Hedgecock of Lexington spoke for Troxler, who was not present. The job calls for someone who will stand up for the farm families, he said.

"Food doesn't come out of a can, it comes from a farmer," Hedgecock said. "People like Steve have had dust on their collar, sweat on their brow."

Commissioner of Labor
John Miller and Mac Weatherman spoke as candidates for state commissioner of labor.

A pastor and China Grove city council member, Miller said he is the man to make a change in the labor office. "The regulations that are pushed on the business people, our industry, are too harsh."

The commissioner, he said, should be sensitive to employees and employers.

Weatherman, a safety consultant from Winston-Salem, also said it's time for a change.

Problems with OSHA need to be recognized. The agency intimidates employers and employees, and is inconsistent in regulating its rules, Weatherman said.

The best way is to change is not to take away the standards, but in the approach to the public, he said. "We're going to bring professionalism to the department of labor."

Bill Seaford, going into his 35 year as secretary of the Davie County Republican Party, said that next year would be his last in that capacity. Several of the speakers praised his work.

"It's people like him who have made the Republican Party the majority party in Davie County," said Mark Jones.

County Doing Away With Recycling Fee, Lowers E. Davie Sewer Rates

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise Record

County commissioners cut prices Monday on two thorny issues that have provoked angry calls.

The board plans to abandon the $20 recycling fee. And it agreed to reduce sewer rates in eastern Davie County by 14 to 19 percent.

The recycling fee created a howl of protests when it was added to property tax bills last year. The fee, $20 per house, raised more than $200,000 to support the county's recycling program.

The board had earlier waived the fee for indigent residents, but the complaints have persisted.

"You have heard from a number of citizens who don't like it," County manager Ken Windley told the board. He asked if the board wants him to include revenue from the recycling fee as he prepares the budget for the next fiscal year.

"I've had a lot of calls," board member Joe Long said. "I would like to see us do away with it if there's any way."

Board member Michael Allen said everyone doesn't use the recycling service, but everyone is assessed the fee. The board voted unanimously to instruct Windley to prepare the next budget without including revenue from the fee.

The sewer fees shocked some Oak Valley area residents when the county took over the sewer system last year.

George Lane, a Hidden Creek resident, said the sewer operation was running up large surpluses and said the county had subsidize sewer lines to businesses.

He presented a video display of a pie chart of the county's sewer revenues that showed a $64,000 surplus, most of it collected since the county took over the Hidden Creek and Oak Valley systems about six months ago.

He said the county is charging homeowners for more gallons of sewerage than it pays Forsyth County to treat.

"That money piles up over time," he said. By his estimates, the county was making a 45 percent profit on the sewer business.

"Yes, some money needs to be set aside. I very much agree with that. This money is growing way too fast."

Windley said the county needs to collect enough money for the depreciation of the sewer system, valued at $4.5 million. That would be about $80,000 per year. The Coolemeec system, meanwhile, has set nothing aside for improvements, and now can't afford them.

He presented a video display of a pie chart of the county's sewer revenues that showed a $64,000 surplus,

He said the county had done nothing wrong when it extended a sewer line and pump station to Image Marts on Medical Drive. That had been part of the agreement when the company located there, and the county collected $32,000 from hookups from other businesses that connected to the line.

"He said we did something we shouldn't have, and that's not correct," Windley told the board.

He also said the sewer rate had been set initially without much experience about what the expenses would be.

He recommended reducing the minimum bill from current $42.36 for 7,800 gallons to $36.60 for a home with two residents. For a family of six producing 23,400 gallons, the rate would go down from $131.28 to $106.80. The minimum bill will be $15 for less than 3,000 gallons. The typical home uses 4,000 to 6,000 of water per month.

The new rate structure was devised by the Davis-Martin-Powell & Associates engineering firm of High Point.

The Winston-Salem/Forsyth County sewage treatment system charges Davie $2.19 per 1,000 gallons of sewage, twice its county rate. With the present agreement, the Davie system is limited to 350,000 gallons per day of wastewater.

The system expects to add 90 homes per year from Oak Valley, Bermuda Run West and Kinderton. There are currently 400 homes and businesses tapped onto the system.

Of the current users, 55 percent of them use between 10,000 and 20,000 gallons.

In other business, the commissioners approved a road paving schedule proposed by the N.C. Department of Transportation for the next fiscal year that would pave Old River Road, 1.8 miles, and Wilson Road, 0.7 mile; Reavis Road, 0.6 mile; Steelman Road, 1.1 mile, and Pete Foster Road, 0.5 mile. The combined expense for the paving would be $870,000.

Windley said the county was slowly running out of unpaved roads. He estimated there are 40 miles of unpaved roads left in the county, and three to four miles are being paved each year.

"Maybe within the next 10 years, we can get them all paved."

The board also:

- Reappointed Linda Barnett and Valerie Sligick to the Davie County Library Board of Trustees.
- Agreed to give two old computers to the Salvation Army and the Guardian ad Litem program in Davie County.
- Approved two new subdivisions — one by Michael Duffield for three lots in a proposed Oak Grove subdivision on 4.73 acres on Children's Home road west of U.S. 601, and eight lots in a subdivision proposed by Larry McDaniel for Oak Crest, Phase II on Davie Academy Road near Godbey Road.
- Set a public hearing for April 17 for a rezoning petition by Kyle Swicgood for 1.6 acres in Coolemeec across from the Legion Cemetery.
- Approved on a second vote solid waste franchises for two years for BFI, CDS, McKinney Disposal, Piedmont Disposal, Waste Management of the Piedmont and Wat Industries.
- Adopted a resolution declaring April to be Motorcycle Safety Month in Davie County. The resolution was requested by Bill Morrison of the Christian Motorcycle Association.

Heartbreakers Softball Team Wins Another Game With Late Inning Heroics

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie County's varsity softball team is getting comfortable at staging late heroics to win games. Maybe a bit too comfortable for Coach Tammy Reavis' taste.

"It was beginning to worry me," Reavis said of Friday's 4-2 win at South Rowan, the fourth Central Piedmont Conference victory by a two-run margin for Davie (12-2, 6-0 CPC).

"We only had five hits, and we just didn't have one of our better games."

Perhaps it was because Davie had beaten the Raiders seven times in a row. Perhaps it was the on-deck prom. Perhaps it was a hangover from big wins over West Forsyth (5-3) and Mount Tabor (13-0). Whatever the case, Davie needed a clutch hit from Ashley Sanders and slam-the-door relief from Shannon Handy to preserve its seventh consecutive victory.

"They just weren't in it," Reavis said. "There was too much going on I guess. Offensively, we did not hit like we did (against Tabor), and it's teams like (South Rowan) that will beat you."

Stacey Handy, who sparked the colossal win at West Forsyth with a leadoff single in the sixth, reached one out in the fifth by a hit by pitcher Ember Spillman's infield single put runners at first and second.

Then, one week after Kim Hilton's bases-loaded double punctured West Forsyth pitcher Marissa Mickey's aura of invincibility and rocked the softball world, Sanders cleared the bags with a tie-breaking, game-winning double as Davie staved off the pesky Raiders for the second time in three weeks.

"She came through," said a relieved Reavis. "It was a big one."

Scattering five hits and working around constant trouble, Jessica Whitley improved to 4-1 in four-plus innings. Shannon Handy picked up the save with two-plus scoreless innings.

"They hit Jessica to start with, and it worried me a little. They had two hits and a walk in the first inning," Reavis said. "But she got it done."

Davie got one hit from Brandi Cornatzer, Hilton and Tina Harkness.

Davie 13, Mount Tabor 0

This time there was no late-inning stand by Mount Tabor and no offensive meltdown for Davie.

This time there was no doubt, no question and no suspense.

Davie — which got upset twice by the Spartans last year and needed a big fourth inning to pull out a 2-0 win on March 17 — built a big lead, never let up, and belted Tabor by the 10-run mercy rule on April 4.

"I always expect a tight game with them," Reavis said. "That was a good surprise. They didn't play very good, and it was our best (hitting) all the way through. All but one person got a hit."

In a radical departure from the previous three meetings, when Tabor's ace pitcher gave Davie fits, Spillman and Amber Hamm produced two hits each — including three Hamm RBIs — and Handy threw four no-hit innings on the way to her eighth win against one defeat.

"For some reason we hit (Crowell)," Reavis said. "She didn't seem to pitch as many rise balls and we were on top of it. We hit off the pitching machine — it throws rise balls — so we worked on it."

Handy, who allowed one paltry base runner through four, gave up a leadoff double in the fifth, then blew away the next three batters to nail down her second one-hit of the year. The junior struck out eight and walked one.

Davie got one hit from Cornatzer, Stacey Quinn, Stacey Handy, Sanders, Ashley Quinn and Hilton.

The War Eagles play a nonconference doubleheader at North Davidson on April 19, then play a huge game against West Forsyth on April 25. Presumably, Davie will be seeking an outright CPC title, while West will be aiming for a share of first.

Worth Noting

Mary Graves set a new South Davie girls record in the 800 meters running a 2:54.65 for first place in a four-team track meet.

Sarah Merlau has racked up 14 goals and seven assists for Davie's JV soccer team.

Shawn Brooks collected the spotlight last week, firing an exacting performance in the first conference match and then a 2-under 34 for Davie's nonconference golf team.

Laurie Cornatzer put Davie's JV softball on her shoulders against Mt. Tabor, pitching a complete game, hitting three-run triple in the sixth and delivering the game-winning hit in the eighth.

Loonie Barnes and Josh Golding have fueled Davie's JV basketball team with smoking averages of 46.7 and 44.1, respectively.

Ashley Sanders of Davie's varsity softball team had the game-winning hit in a 4-2 win over South Rowan.

War Eagles Escape With 9-8 Win Over South

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie County's varsity baseball team reached deeper into its seemingly bottomless reservoir of resolve and escaped with a critical 9-8 victory over South Rowan Friday at Mando Field.

Davie didn't exactly set the world on fire as the War Eagles scored the game's final four runs without a single hit, but coming off an 8-2 stinker Thursday against Mount Tabor in which Davie committed seven errors and disgraced into the Bad News Bears, this one looked like a thing of beauty in the win column.

Coach Mike Herndon cringed when asked what a loss to South would have done to Davie's season.

"Tonight's game could have really sunk us," Herndon said after Davie (9-7, 5-1 Central Piedmont Conference) preserved its hopes of a second straight league title. "I believe this team has a lot of character, but they expected to win this one and this one would have crushed them."

Daywalt

Zeke Earle, the senior center fielder who knocked in a run, walked and stole a base, agreed that the War Eagles could have all but forgotten the first outright conference championship since 1993 if they wouldn't have staged their fifth comeback win in the CPC, where they're a mind-boggling 7-0 in one-run games the past two years.

"This game meant a whole lot," he said. "If we would have lost this, it could have put us out of contention for the championship. We knew we had to win, you can't depend on somebody else to lose."

Given the War Eagles' track record of 11th-hour rallies, it's no wonder they didn't panic when outnumbered to an 8-5 lead, even though South southpaw reliever Chris Morris retired the first eight batters he faced.

In a twist of deja vu — South walked eight straight and 15 total while blowing a 6-2 lead and losing 16-8 in the first meeting — Morris unraveled like an old sweater in the sixth, throwing 12 straight balls at one point. A walk, hit batter, error and fielder's choice by Brad Willard closed the gap to 8-7 heading into the seventh.

"They went on that walk-a-thon, the same as they did last time," Earle said.

Morris' collapse intensified in the seventh. With one out and nobody on, Chris Seaford and Earle coaxed walks and Thadd Johnson absorbed a hit by pitch, chasing Morris and loading the bases for Smith, who tied it with Davie's 11th walk of the game.

Soccer Team Extends Non-Conference Streak

Twenty-four straight nonconference victories have Davie County's varsity soccer team expecting only the best.

So nobody was surprised Friday that the War Eagles survived a tight encounter with West Rowan, 3-1.

"It's very important to them — very, very important," Coach Pete Gustafson said of the three-year nonconference stranglehold. "I believe the seniors haven't lost a game (outside the Central Piedmont Conference) except for High Point. They remember if very much, and it's definitely in their heart."

Their affection for the streak was glaringly evident down the stretch, when the War Eagles turned up the heat and foiled the Falcons' spoiler bid. The electrifying freshman, Allison Howell, settled the issue with her team-high 10th goal with just five minutes remaining, turning potential danger into Davie's ninth win in 11 matches.

"The last 15-20 minutes, we were working really, really hard," Gustafson said. "We really weren't dominating as well as I would have liked, but that last 15-20 minutes they really stepped it up, and we were putting it on them pretty good."

"We showed a lot of character because they're a good team. They gave us all we could handle."

Meredith Hendrix's early second-half goal proved to be the game-winner as Davie sustained a glorious march that started with the 1998 season opener.

Gustafson said there's no telling how long the streak would be if it weren't for that dead day at the end of '97, when High Point edged a huffing and puffing Davie team.

"We played three in a row," he recalled. "Probably on a given day, we would have been able to take them. We just had rubber legs, and we haven't played three in a row since then."

Tying Hendrix for second in goals at seven, Caroline Steed got Davie rolling off a pass from Howell. The 1-0 lead stood until West tied it shortly after halftime.

JV Girls Make Strong Statement, Beat Demons Convincingly

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

If Davie County's varsity soccer team can't end the dreadful losing streak to the Central Piedmont Conference's three giants this year, the JV War Eagles look like they will in due time.

Coach Sean Garnett's troops finally made the statement fans have been looking for last week. Not only did Davie beat the Reynolds Demons, it pounded them 5-1.

"They were very excited," Garnett said after his girls elevated their marks to 9-2 overall and 1-1 in the CPC. "It was 5-1 and they're easily the third-best team we've played (behind Mount Tabor and East Forsyth). Other than one goal, everything was legitimate."

After collapsing 6-0 to Tabor in March, it appeared that the War Eagles would follow the script of their predecessors, beating most everyone convincingly until the schedule doled out traditional CPC heavyweights Tabor, West Forsyth and Reynolds, which have not lost to Davie's varsity since 1996.

Garnett, though, believed all along. "I told them we were going to win," he said. "I knew we would. The girls are just good. They play so confidently and they're good."

Sarah Merlau led a multi-pronged attack with two goals and two assists, and Davie got one goal and two assists from Brittany Walker, one goal and one assist from Sarah Williams and Lindsay Smith and an assist from Jenny Bokeno.

"We didn't have very many breakdowns," Garnett said. "The one goal they scored, we left a girl unmarked."

After shocking Reynolds with a 3-0 first half, the determined War Eagles finished the job in style and started aiming toward heights that seemed almost insane in February, running what's left of the table and achieving revenge against Tabor and East Forsyth (if the nonconference match is made up).

"I think we can win out in the conference. I think we can beat Mount Tabor as long as we have April Ervin back there (as sweeper)," said Garnett, whose team sorely missed an absent Ervin in the first Tabor meeting. "I know they're going to come in here thinking it's going to be easy for them."

"We have forgotten about that (6-0) game. That game is not in our mind anymore."

Garnett identified Williams and Erika Ancuta as the keys to Reynolds' offensive ineptitude. They made sure

Community Service Workers Helping Clean Litter From Roads

Every Saturday in April, some Davie roads will be a needed cleaning of litter.

Reba Elliott, director of the community service programs in Davie and Iredell counties, with help from parole officers, is coordinating the effort, part of a statewide push to clean litter.

They will be supervising community service workers, people who have been sentenced in court to perform a certain number of community service hours. More such efforts could be made if there were volunteers to supervise workers on more occasions, she said.

The department of transportation helps by providing pickup sticks, bags and picking up the bags of trash. At left, Elliott and Parole Officer Sherri Cook stand at the work sign on U.S. 158, and below, they supervise the workers along the highway.

Coach Trying To Stay Positive

Coach Jaime Allison of Davie County's tennis team can live with losing against the cream of the Central Piedmont Conference, especially in a year in which the War Eagles have seven sophomores and five freshmen on their 14-man roster. She can not handle them throwing in the towel, however.

"Against Mount Tabor, I saw some effortless play, going out there and being beat before they even got out there," said Allison, whose team was shutout 9-0 by Mount Tabor and Reynolds last week, falling to 2-10 overall and 2-5 in the CPC.

"A couple of them I had to get on to. We want to just get better because (virtually) all of them are going to be back next year. But we're not making ourselves any better by going out there and giving up."

The outcome didn't change against Reynolds - Davie won fewer than two games for the eighth time in 12 matches and sophomore Luke Koontz was the only War Eagle to even manage a game off the raging Demons - but Allison found the effort that was generally missing against Tabor.

"Some of them did play a lot better in singles," she said. "I felt a little bit better about it. As long as we're getting better, that's OK."

Although the 10-1 score does little justice, Koontz gave his No. 1 opponent good fight.

"Luke was the only person who got a game, but nine out of his 11 games went to deuce," Allison said. "I mean, he played tough against their No. 1, he really did."

"The rest of them were just outskilled."

The War Eagles close the regular season April 12 against visiting West Forsyth. The CPC Tournament is scheduled for April 18-19.

Lauren Cornatzer Puts On A Show

Not only could Mount Tabor not stop Lauren Cornatzer, the Spartans couldn't even contain her.

In a magnificent all-around performance, the sophomore went 4-for-5 at the plate and tossed a complete game on the mound, carrying Davie County's JV softball team to a thrilling 8-7 win in eight innings last week.

Cornatzer

"She came through," Coach Bill Meadows said. "She did real well. We were pleased with her."

And rightfully so.

Cornatzer laced a bases-loaded triple in the bottom of the sixth inning to wipe out Tabor's 6-4 lead, and after the Spartans capitalized on a walk and error to force extra innings, Cornatzer provided a fitting end to her unforgettable day with a game-winning single in the eighth.

She also got the job done on the mound, going all the way in her first start of the year.

"We just wanted to give some different people playing time at different positions," Meadows said. "We beat them the first time 11-1, so we were going to try some different things."

In the sixth-inning comeback, Davie loaded the bases for Cornatzer on singles by Elizabeth Isley and Smith and Dawn Singleton's walk. After Tabor scratched out a game-tying run in the seventh, Emily Clodfelter reached on a strikeout-passed ball in the eighth and raced to third on the catcher's wild throw over first.

Then Cornatzer singled up the middle to clinch the third straight victory for Davie (5-1, 3-0 Central Piedmont Conference).

"We won the same way we lost three in a row - on throwing errors," Meadows said.

Overcoming a 4-1 deficit, Davie atoned for three painful one-run losses from earlier in the year, albeit barely. "We just were very sluggish," Meadows said. "We didn't play good, and Mount Tabor came out ready to play. They played a good game against us."

Smith and Ashley Desnoyers had two hits each, and Davie also got one apiece from Singleton, Sarah Earle and Kimberly Misenciemer.

Shawn Brooks Sparks Six-Stroke Win Over West Forsyth

After averaging nearly a 39 as a virtually forgotten man on Davie County's star-studded golf team, the four-year starter stole the show in the biggest match of the year, the first leg of the Central Piedmont Conference race.

The spotlight was on James Stewart, John Landen and all the other players with medalist track records. But Coach Doug Illing and the jolied CPC marveled at Brooks instead.

"Shawn has been on the team four years and all-conference for two years, but he's the No. 4 player because his brother (sophomore Greg) has been shooting a little better than him," Illing said after big Brooks' even-par 35 sparked a six-stroke victory over defending league champ West Forsyth.

"So he took a vengeance out on all of them. Nobody was talking about him, and he's showing them that he can still play and that he's a player, too."

It was almost as though Brooks was sandbagging during the warm-up matches, wobbling into the 40s in the first two exhibitions of the year. Picking up steam, he fired rounds of 39, 37 and 36, then came through with the timely 35 that staggered West (154), Mount Tabor (162), Reynolds (170) and South Rowan (173).

"Shawn's made some adjustments in his swing," Illing said. "Chipping and putting, he's getting it close to where he's not having those long puts. If he does have a long put, he's only two-putting."

"He's found a way to cut two or three strokes out of his game. He's feeling real confident right now and playing real relaxed. We could be really strong if he'll continue to do that."

If Brooks - who followed up the 35 with another medalist finish (2-under 34) in an exhibition later in the week - sustains last week's magic, and if brother Greg continues to play beyond his years, Davie might run and hide from the pack because you can almost always count on first-wave scores from stalwarts Stewart and Landen.

"(Opponents) are impressed that our three-four and five are playing so well," Illing said. "Your Nos. 1-2 are (typically) going to be your best players, and heck, our three and four shoot better than our one and two from time to time."

Stewart (36), Greg Brooks (38) and Kellen Miller (39) - a lethal No. 5 - complemented Shawn Brooks' 35 as resourceful Davie overcame Landen's uncharacteristic 44.

"They want to be conference champs," Illing said. "I challenged them to keep backing it up, keep improving and to not back off."

Notes: A smarming Landen responded with a two-under 34 in the exhibition at Hillcrest, sharing medalist honors with Shawn Brooks. "He was dejected and down and frustrated (after the 44)," Illing said. "He's a competitor. That wasn't a good showing for him, so he was on a mission. He bounced back to what he's capable of doing every day out." ... Also at Hillcrest, Stewart fired a 35, followed by Levi Browning at 38, Greg Brooks at 39 and Jonathan Greene at 40 as Davie (141) beat Reynolds (144), West Forsyth (162) and Mount Tabor (172) to remain unblemished. ... Browning, who had not come close to 30s in two previous appearances, adds yet another weapon to the Davie arsenal. "He said he did something over the weekend to work his swing out," Illing said. "He qualified (at practice) and proved himself. He can compete for that fifth and sixth spot." ... Davie plays at Pudding Ridge on April 12, then at Grandview on April 13.

Daywalt's Grounder Clinches Another Close Win

 "Morris was cruising, pitching great," South coach Dwayne Fink said. "It was almost deja vu of what happened when we played them last time. It's hard to understand baseball sometimes. Nobody even challenged (Morris in the third, fourth and fifth). I can't explain it."

"The game-ending play epitomized South's crumble down the stretch. A pure Daywalt grounded to third for what appeared to be a rather easy force out, but the fielder threw wildly to home as Earle came crashing in with the game-winning run."

"I'll take it, it's a win," said star Drew Ridenhour, who socked his first homer and drove in three runs. "I'd like to see us win in fashion, but whatever it takes."

"We were a little bit shocked because we didn't think we could do something like that (in the 8-2 loss to Tabor). But the sun came up today and it was a new day."

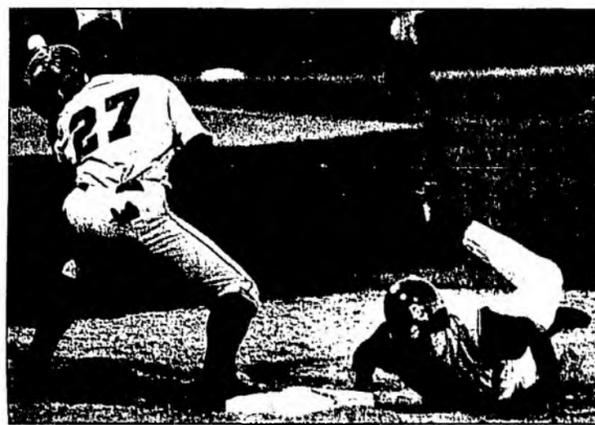

Herdon saluted Daywalt, the savvy sophomore shortstop, for finding a way to make something happen.

"We found a way again," he said. "The fans got their money's worth I guess. I wish it would have ended with a hit, that would have been more dramatic, but we'll take it."

Davie, which overcame two three-run deficits to beat South for the fourth time in a row, needs to beat West Forsyth for the ninth time in 11 games on April 25 to clinch at least a share of the title for the eighth time since 1987.

"It wasn't the prettiest thing in the world, but same old story," Herdon said. "We keep hanging in there and finding ways to win. When we got down 3-0, we could have folded. You definitely could fold when you go down 8-5."

Davie, which trailed 3-0 early on, converted Ridenhour's mammoth homer and Earle's infield single into a four-run third for a 5-3 lead.

Ridenhour, who hit nine homers in Legion last summer, finally connected after nearly 50 senior at-bats, sending an shot over the softball-field rest rooms.

"It hasn't seemed like forever, it has been forever," said Ridenhour, who leads Davie in hits (18), RBIs (20) and average (.360) despite a string of bad luck. "I've been hitting the ball hard and finally it happened. After that first one, you feel better because you know they are going to come. I was thinking about it, but as long as I was hitting the ball hard, I wasn't really worrying about it. (But) it feels good to finally get one."

After South charged ahead 8-5, Herdon pulled Travis Allen - who allowed four earned runs in six innings and remained 2-0 with a no-decision - in favor of Ross Smith, who retired the Raiders in order in the seventh to lower his ERA to 1.98 over 17 2/3.

"Ross kept them there and gave us a chance," Herdon said.

Notes: Daywalt - who scored two runs, doubled, walked, got hit by a pitch and stole a base - Seaford and Thad Johnson had three of Davie's five hits. ... Initially, Fink made a good call going to Morris. "His speeds were slow, slower and slower, and those guys are the ones that give you a fit," Herdon said. "You get impatient and can't sit back." ... Earle, who runs a 4.5 in the 40-yard dash, was the right man to represent the winning run at third. "He can run like a deer," Herdon said. ... Although he had one hit in four trips, Ridenhour hit it on the nose all right, particularly in the first when he lined out center. "Gosh, almighty that could have killed somebody," Herdon said. "I'm glad it went over the pitcher's head and not through him." ... Davie plays at Statesville on April 13, in the East tournament at Catawba on April 15 and at home against North Davidson on April 20.

Softball Tournament Set For April 29

A one-pitch, unlimited-home run tournament will be held at Rich Park on April 29.

The tournament is open to any team and teams can hit any ball they choose. The cost is $110 per team, and first- and second-place trophies will be awarded. There will also be a trophy for the most homers.

All proceeds go to Jerusalem Volunteer Fire Department. To enter, call 336-284-4116.

Girls Basketball Camp June 12-16

Davie County High girls basketball coach Carol Cozart will hold a middle-school camp June 12-16 at the high school.

The camp is for any girls who will be attending fifth, sixth, seventh or eighth grade for the 2000-01 school year. Camp will start at 8 a.m. and end at 1 p.m. each day. The cost is $55, which includes insurance and a T-shirt.

The camp instructors will include coaches from South Davie, North Davie and the high school.

Gentry Full Of Surprises For JV Baseball Team

By Brian Pitts
 Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie County's JV baseball team was supposed to depend on guys like Josh Golding, Lonnie Barnes, Doug Smith and McKenzie Willoughby this season. The War Eagles have gotten an unlikely boost from Brandon Gentry, who has burst out of obscurity with a .405 batting average to help Davie build a 9-5 record overall and 4-2 mark in the Central Piedmont Conference.

"Not bad for someone who didn't play school ball last year."

"The biggest surprise has been Gentry," Linville said of the sophomore outfielder, who had 15 hits in 37 at-bats heading into this week, including three straight multi-hit games. "He ran track last year and didn't even play baseball. I was told he could play in the outfield pretty well and I knew he could run because he played football for me, but I had no idea how well he could hit."

Gentry, who has struck out just six times in 40 plate appearances, had three hits in a 9-3 win over West Forsyth, two safeties in a 3-2 loss to Mount Tabor and a pair of singles and two stolen bases in Friday's 12-4 victory at South Rowan.

"To be honest with you, if you would have told me the first day of practice that he was going to hit .400, I would have said you were crazy," Linville said. "He has just improved tremendously since the first day we saw him."

Barnes has been the hottest hitter at .87 (14-for-30), followed by Golding at .41 (15-for-34) and Smith at .381 (16-for-42).

"Golding has struck out one time in 43 plate appearances," Linville said. "He's had a lot of line drives just right up the middle."

If this were the big leagues, Smith would be a strong candidate for Comeback Player of the Year. The sophomore catcher who missed all of last year with a bum back has bounced back with a vengeance, leading the team with 16 RBIs, including a homer and four RBIs in a 16-8 win over East Davidson on March 27.

"He missed the whole year, but he played with us during the summer on the Colt League team," Linville said of the blue-collar Smith. "Doug works on his hitting. I mean, he goes off on his own with his dad or gets with another guy and works."

Although Jacob Garner isn't among the batting leaders, he could easily be right up there if it weren't for bad breaks that often define the game. His persistence finally paid dividends against South Rowan, when he and Smith led the way with three hits each.

"He's been putting the ball in play and getting on base with walks and that kind of thing," Linville said. "He's just had a little bad luck and hit it right at people. You keep putting it in play, it's going to find some spots."

The brightest moment at South Rowan belonged to Nick Taylor, who tattooed a grand slam homer in the top of the sixth to turn a 5-4 game into a 9-4 cushion. Taylor, Willoughby, Barnes and Gentry finished with two hits each, while Chris Hauser added one.

"It was a shot," Linville said of Taylor's drive to left. "It blew the game wide open, and that was it."

Mount Tabor 3, Davie 2
 One day earlier with first place in the CPC on the line, the War Eagles lost in molar-grinding fashion that bore resemblance to their 6-4 loss to Tabor in mid-March.

Willoughby, who watched a lead-off walk in the seventh lead to the game-tying and extra innings, lost the leadoff man again in the eighth. The Spartan moved to second on a passed ball, advanced to third on a grounder and scored the clincher on another passed ball as Davie suffered its fifth loss by less than three runs.

"That's probably the most painful way you can lose a game, especially when you've got the hitter 1-2 (in the count)," Linville said. "So we were one strike from being out of the inning."

Aside from the free passes that came back to haunt at Tabor, Willoughby has been splendid. The freshman right-hander tossed a 10-strikeout, five-hit try at West Forsyth, then carried a shutout into the sixth at Tabor.

"He's pitched well," Linville said. "As long as he's throwing strikes, he's fine. He'll have an inning or two where he loses the strike zone, and that's usually when they get the runs on him. That's what happened (in the 3-2 loss)."

Dave Poplin - a power-hitting first baseman who was recently moved down from varsity to restore confidence - snapped a scoreless game with a two-run single in the fifth. Poplin - who homered and drove in three runs at West Forsyth - Barnes and Gentry had two hits apiece. Golding and Willoughby added one each.

Notes: Barnes, the starter at South Rowan, injured his hand covering home and left after two-plus innings. Relievers Nick Raby, Golding and Garner held South to one run over the final 4 1/3. ... Davie has been in contention in all 14 games. "That's an accomplishment," said Linville, whose team has lost five by a total of 10 runs. "That's a little bit disappointing but also encouraging." ... Willoughby is the fifth War Eagle over .300, 14-for-46 for .304. ... The War Eagles play Thursday at home at 7 p.m. against Statesville and host Salisbury Friday at 7 in the first round of an Easter tournament. They play at either 5 or 7 on Saturday, and at one of those times on Monday or Tuesday.

BB Williams Wins At Farmington

Kernersville's Brian "BB" Williams scored his first TOP Eliminator win of his racing career this past Sunday at Farmington Dragway.

Williams in his Race Tech Dragster defeated the Chevrolet Monza of Clemmons' David Phelps in the finals. The youngster Williams is a former Sportsman Rookie of the year at Farmington and finished 10th last year in the Quality Oil points series. The win was worth $1,500 to the second generation Williams, whose dad Larry was the '89 TOP Eliminator champion, and mom Sandi was one of four females to win TOP Eliminator races last year at Farmington.

1998 Sportsman champion Chris Platt of Winston-Salem picked up his first Farmington "foot brake" win of the year. The second generation drag racer Platt drove his "Cougar Daddy" Mercury to the $1,000 win over Michael Spough from Advance. The "Hit Man" Spough was the big opening Friday night Cruisin' winner in "foot brake" over Michael Dawkins from Thomasville.

The $30,000 Quality Oil Racing Series kicks off this Saturday night, April 15. Glenn Ferguson Jr. of Greensboro was the $5,000 TOP Eliminator winner last year and David Spough from Advance, was the $2,500 champion in Sportsman. Featured along with the Quality Oil Race Series TOP Eliminator, Sportsman, Pure Stock and Junior Dragster classes will be the rained out Quick 8-PRO MOD race from April 1.

Gates open at 11 a.m. Time runs start at 3 p.m. with final eliminations starting around 6 p.m. For more information call 336-993-2982 or 766-5881.

Rebuilding South Tennis Team Continues To Make Progress

Although South Davie's boys tennis team got off to a slow start, Coach Barry Whitlock can't complain about his rebuilding Tigers.

"They've made progress," he said after last week's 1-2 showing. "We've gotten better since the first day of practice. They're a great bunch of kids and I think we're going to be competitive."

The highlight was an 8-1 pounding of Corriher-Lipe. South got pummeled 9-0 by Mooresville, and Kannapolis squeaked out a 5-4 decision over South in the other match.

At No. 5 singles, Ryan Patrick has gotten off to the best start, going 2-1 with an 8-6 come-from-behind victory against Kannapolis. Patrick trailed 4-2 before reeling off six of the final eight games.

"That's two wins in a row for him," Whitlock said. "He played last year but he didn't ever break the top six. So he's really improved."

The other five singles players - Jason Overbey at No. 1, Robert Crews at two, Jeffrey Mighion at three, Chris Moxley at four and Curtis Bolter at six - all went 1-2. Overbey, however, only lost 8-5 to Mooresville and 8-4 to Kannapolis, which features "probably the best in the conference," Whitlock said.

Mighion and Moxley posted 8-0 wins against Kannapolis, which overcame Bolter's 5-1 lead at six.

Crews-Mighion and Patrick-Bolter won two of three doubles matches at Nos. 2-3, respectively, while No. 1 Moxley-Overbey suffered two defeats.

Notes: Joel Stewart is the seventh member of the team. "He's improving playing exhibitions," Whitlock said. ... Traveling to Mooresville was a rough way to open the season. "Mooresville is strong year in and year out," Whitlock said. "I kind of expected that (9-0 loss)." ... South hosts Erwin on April 13, then goes to West Rowan on April 25.

North Not On Top Of Their Game In 14-4 Baseball Loss To Erwin

The North Davie Wildcats showed up at Erwin for a big baseball game last week, but their game didn't.

"We didn't go down there and have a very good game," Coach Chris Callison said following a 14-4 six-inning loss that dropped North (2-5) to 2-3 in the Piedmont Middle School Conference. "We didn't play real smart."

A primary example of North's flawed performance was the second inning, when the Wildcats - with runners at first and second and nobody out - butchered an opportunity to seize command of a 2-2 game.

"The catcher dropped the ball, the guy at second base hesitated and then he finally decided to run and get thrown out," Callison said. "And then we got caught at third again trying to steal a base on a passed ball."

"So instead of having first and second and no outs, we've got nobody out and two outs."

The top of the first was equally frustrating for North. With runners at the corners and nobody out, a grounder gave the Wildcats a 2-0 lead. The fielder covering second for the force dropped the ball, apparently putting North on the verge for a big inning, but Erwin caught a huge break when the runner trotted off toward the dugout.

"The umpire called him out (at second on a 6-4 fielder's choice)," Callison said of the strange sequence. "While she's saying that, the second baseman dropped the ball. She's behind second base, my guy never sees (the umpire's reversal for safe) and he started walking to the dugout because all he had heard was 'You're out at second.'"

"Of course, they just pick up the ball and tag him."

Callison argued the umpire's quick trigger, to no avail. "She said: 'I know I missed that one, that's my fault,'" he said. "We could have been at first and second with no outs still up 2-0."

Callison, acknowledging that breaks are part of the game, said successful teams dismiss tough calls and move on. Instead of bouncing back, North took its dragging chin to the field, committing a lot of errors that helped Erwin explode for six runs in the second and sixth, when the 10-run rule ended the game.

"We've got to learn how to bounce back from that," he said. "We can't let that keep us from focusing on the rest of the game. We gave them six outs (in both six-run innings), and they should have been retired with nobody scoring (in the sixth)."

As a result, nemesis Erwin, which has owned the PMS since 1994, defeated the Wildcats for the fifth straight time, snapping their two-game winning streak in the process. Although this one was closer than the score indicated, it turned out much like the other four: 10-2, 16-2, 8-0 and 7-1.

"They're a solid team and they've got two really good pitchers that throw hard and have good curveballs," Callison said. "We've got to have more confidence against quality pitchers. If somebody just throws hard but straight, we're fine. But if somebody throws hard and has a curveball, we don't put it in play, and that's killing us right now."

The Wildcats must also shore up the other two facets before a top-four finish, a goal that's still plausible with a strong finish, slips away.

"We're still giving up two many walks," Callison said. "And we've got to do a better job with balls that are in the air. (The outfielders) aren't turning and finding the ball. We're trying to back pedal to everything, and it's costing us."

Notes: Ted Randolph carried a superior .630 average into Erwin, and Derek Comarizer is "coming alive now," said Callison, who also cited Andrew Beck's surging bat. "Beck has been hitting the ball really well. He had five hits in his last two games before the Erwin game." ... North, which hosted Mooresville on April 11, plays at Kannapolis on April 13.

Drew Ridenhour Signs With Western Carolina

Standing dazed about 15 hours later, Davie County baseball coach Mike Herndon still couldn't completely comprehend what happened to the War Eagles in Thursday's 8-2 fiasco against Mount Tabor.

After committing just one error in four Central Piedmont Conference games coming in, the War Eagles made seven defensive blunders against the Spartans, including five in Tabor's six-run seventh. The self-destruction cost Davie sole possession of first place, and sophomore sensation Cody Wright fell to 4-1 despite six strong innings in which he allowed five hits, struck out four and walked none. Wright was outduelled by offspeed specialist Brian Bach, who held Davie to 5-for-27 hitting.

"The floodgates just opened," Herndon said. "It was uncharacteristic of us. We just couldn't do anything right. It's hard to explain. I've seen a lot of baseball games, and I have never seen anybody play defense like we did early and then get to the seventh and play like that. I don't know if I've ever seen a half inning that bad in my entire life."

If the War Eagles would have responded casually to the debacle, Herndon probably would have taken his dugout rage to the postgame huddle, perhaps violently. But the players were genuinely tormented by the debacle, helping Herndon cope.

"It hurt us," he said. "We had kids crying and some kids upset. I showed my tail in the dugout, and that was enough. They know they didn't play good, I didn't need to tell them that. There wasn't any sense in crawling them. Sometimes you might say something that you really don't mean, so you've got to be careful what you say when something like that happens. ... That was a fluke thing."

Daywalt broke up Bach's no-hitter with an infield single in the fourth, and Davie led 2-1 heading into the sixth.

Drew Ridenhour, Davie's powerful catcher, fulfilled a childhood dream when he accepted a grant-in-aid to play at Western Carolina University next year.

"I'm excited about it," he said. "They've got a good program, and hopefully I get to step in and play. That had a lot to do with my decision."

Ridenhour settled his season-long tug-of-war between football or baseball last weekend when he visited the western mountains and Catawamp county.

"I liked what I saw, I liked the campus, I liked the players and I liked the atmosphere of ball," he said. "They were off this year (record-wise), but once the coach gets the players he wants, big things are going to happen."

"I don't think we're that bad really, but those teams are just ... I guess they just do play all the time," said the candid coach. "I don't know how they get that talent. How can one school have so much talent? It's amazing."

Trivia question: What Davie coach holds seniority behind 24-year wrestling coach Buddy Lowery?

The answer: Bill Meadows, the fun-loving coach who is in his 13th year with JV softball. The non-faculty coach, however, suggested recently that this could be his last go-round.

"I told them all along if one of the faculty wants it, like (varsity assistant) Debbie Evans, that would be fine," said Meadows, a modest and humble soul. "She is going to be on the teaching staff next year, and I told her if she wanted the JV team next year that she could gladly have it."

Illustrating his unbridled passion for the game, Meadows hasn't had a child involved in the program since daughter Robin graduated in 1991.

"I'm getting too old, anyway," he said. "(Evans) is young and Debbie knows softball. (Varsity coach) Tammy Reavis knows softball, too. If (Evans) wants to do the JV team, that would be fine. And if they want me to stay and help with the varsity or JV, I'd do that. I wouldn't gripe. I enjoy it."

Bus Breaks Down, Track Team Late, Coach Enraged

The question after Thursday's track meet: What was worse - the bus breaking down or having to face Mount Tabor and Reynolds?

Simply put, it wasn't a good day for Davie County.

A flustered Devore Holman became enraged when he discovered that the meet went on about its business without waiting for Davie, despite the fact that Davie phoned Tabor officials to reveal its dilemma. Davie runners missed the 3:00 event as it arrived 30 minutes late.

Tabor's boys won with 101 points, followed by Reynolds at 82. Davie at 57 and Forsyth Country Day at 28. Tabor's girls rolled with 131, beating Reynolds' 84, FCD's 36 and Davie's 19.

"They offered to let our kids run it, but that wasn't the principal," Coach Holman said. "The principal was with us who had gotten points."

Holman eventually cooled down. "(Tabor's coach) is a good one. He knew I was frustrated, we talked about it and things are OK."

"We just had a bad day from the get-go."

Nick Probst, though, never has a bad day. The jumping sensation won all three of his events (long jump, triple jump and high jump) despite a bad arm.

"He bruised the outer bone in his right arm, but he's getting along nicely," Holman said. "We took precautionary measures of taping him. I was worried about that mentally bothering him because it's so easy to use that as a crutch."

"But he came out of the shoots firing hard."

Jhockton Dalton and Adam Boger finished 1-2 in the discus, and Boger, Dalton and Neil Rice claimed the top spots in the shot put.

"Dalton has the potential to throw in the 150-range," Holman said, "and I think Boger has the potential to throw close to 140."

Adrayus Arnold accelerated his improvement, finishing third in the 400 and helping the 1600 relay team take third.

"He saw some of the best competition in the 400," Holman said. "The kid from Forsyth County Day is absolutely unreal. That field was real stiff."

"On his (1600) split, he ran a 53.4, so I'm proud of that. He's getting better, and our (400 relay) ran their best time."

For Davie's girls, Janel Darcy finished third in the 3200 and fifth in the 1600. Bridget Robertson finished second in the pole vault. Shari Melton finished fourth in the shot put, and Misty Daniel finished fifth in the discus.

Davie is competing in the CPC meet on April 11-12 at Tabor.

Gates open at 11 a.m. Time runs start at 3 p.m. with final eliminations starting around 6 p.m. For more information call 336-993-2982 or 766-5881.

George's Village Garage Advises Regular Maintenance For Your Car

Although it is no secret that cars give higher performance with regular servicing, George at George's Village Garage says that many people still fail to do it.

"When you don't regularly service your car, all kinds of problems can arise," said Pries, owner of the popular Clemmons' garage. "Head gaskets, hose problems, radiators, cooling systems that need to be flushed out are just a few." Pries noted that failing to service a car can result in large repair bills down the road.

"One car owner drove 32,000 miles in one year," said Pries. "When she brought her car in, the tires were shot. She had never rotated the tires."

George's Village Garage is equipped with state-of-the-art computer systems specific to many different makes of automobiles. George's five mechanics are experienced in not only the American brand cars, but Toyotas, Nissans, Mazdas, Porsches, Mercedes, and even the rare de Loreans. These quality professionals spend hours each year in seminars and training to be current on the latest in car performance.

George's computer diagnostic equipment allows customers to bring their cars in for an accurate and honest evaluation of both major and minor problems. George's Village Garage is well-known for their fair treatment of their customers.

"George is an honest, down-to-earth Christian," says Stuart Claassen of Clemmons. He has brought all four of his family's cars to George's for more than eight years, because of George's good reputation in the community.

"I have two daughters in college, and we do a lot of driving. I'm very comfortable sending my kids up there," said Claassen.

George's Village Garage, which began in a two-bay shop on Ramada Drive, has expanded to seven bays at its present location at 2570 Lewisville-Clemmons Road in Clemmons. Kevin Pries, George's son, oversees the garage's smooth operation as General Manager.

Tires are one item on a car that rapidly deteriorate. George's stocks a number of popular and sturdy brands, including Firestone, Michelin, Dunlop, Goodyear, Bridgestone and Hankook. See the trained professionals at George's, before you get stranded on the open highway with worn or punctured tires.

George Pries states that the coming hot weather is especially wearing on tires. George's Village Garage gives speedy service in their seven bays, and will have you back on the road quickly for optimum performance.

"Maintain your tire rotations," said Pries. "In this fast-paced world today, people are so busy running kids to soccer that they fail to follow their owner's manual for maintenance." He recommends regular servicing to prevent more expensive problems and longer life of your automobile.

Cars are a costly investment. Protect your investment with good service and expert care from the skilled professionals at George's. They will provide you with a straight-forward assessment of any repairs needed, and a fair estimate of what it will cost.

George's Village Garage is located behind Sagebrush Restaurant, at the corner of Lewisville-Clemmons and Old Glory Roads. Call 766-7862 for an appointment today.

Mocksville Elementary School
Students of the Week of April 3-7: Krista Webb, Alex Norman, Timothy Brown, Quameshia James, John Parker, Nancy Correa, Lacey Trivett, Chelsea Doullin, Lyndsey Blalock, Ashley Joyner, Micah Hicks, Perry Ferrell, Brad Galtner, Hannah Cartner, Brian Dillard, Kelsey Bryan, Benjamin Lagle, Michael MacFadyen, Nick Naylor, Brandie Viers, Emily Carter, Lyndsey Garrett, Blake Byrne, Tori Kennedy, T.J. Dillard, Jenny Robbins.

Students in Chris Kares' and Sonja Russell's classes have been learning about the Easter holiday. The students have been busy working with Mrs. Russell designing their Easter hats. The class is planning an Easter Parade for parents on April 13. Mrs. Flynn and Mrs. Cook's first graders are hopping down the bunny trail of good bunny books. Students are learning bunny songs like "Rockin' in the Rabbit Hole" and "Little Bonnie Bunny." They are making their room a special place for the parents for "Bunny Brunch Day." The window garden has sprouted and plants are everywhere.

Ramona Quimby, age 8, is "visiting" the third grade class of Mrs. Vogler and Mrs. Shuler. The students are enjoying reading about the adventures of a fellow third grader. They are working hard on comprehension skills and identifying the "when, where, who and what" parts of each chapter. In math, the students are continuing to learn the multiplication facts. The class is also learning new writing techniques when Mrs. Jakob comes to share ideas.

Cathy Beyer and Diane Joyner's third graders have been busy doing a variety of activities. They are reading "The Chocolate Touch" and learning how it would be to only have chocolate. They are learning how important it is to not be greedy. The class continues to get ready for the End-of-Grade test in May. They are aided by the help of Heather Henderson Farr. The class continues to learn proper ways to write as they are doing a unit on letter writing. The class is also learning new skills in math as they improve their addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division.

Shady Grove Elementary's Venezia's Night is each Monday until the end of the year. Gift certificates for pizzas are available.

The kindergarten, first, and second grade students performed the musical "One Big Happy Family" for the PTA's general meeting on Tuesday, April 4. Many hours of practice paid off when the parents enjoyed hearing such special tunes as "You're the Greatest Mom in the World" and "Great Oaks From Little Acorns Grow." The first and second grade unicycle and jump rope team members also performed for the meeting.

McDonald's Night was Tuesday night. There is only one more.

The birthday party for those with April birthdays was held in the media center on Wednesday, April 12. Students with April birthdays and their parents came for lunch and cake.

The fifth grade PE Club traveled to "The Roc" in Winston-Salem to learn novice rock climbing after school Thursday, April 6. Thirty-eight fifth graders were accompanied by three sponsors: Yvonne Frye, Sandra Smith and Karen Umberger. The final PE Club field trip will be Saturday, May 6. The club of over 150 third, fourth, and fifth graders will go canoeing on the New River.

The Bouncing Bullfrogs and the Sizzling Cyclers are participating in the YMCA Youth Day on Saturday, April 8. Each team will demonstrate their skills of rope jumping and unicycling as a demonstration of youth fitness and skills to enhance physical fitness.

On Thursday, April 13, the first grade will be going to visit Horizons in Salisbury. Mrs. Minor's class read non-fiction books in small groups and wrote "Bare Facts." They counted, added and subtracted bears in the family of eight and had fun eating their bear counters. They wrote color poems about nature and will use these with the word processor on the computer next week.

Also on this date there will be a reception in the media center to show appreciation for volunteers.

Students of the week are April Mabe, Richard Kelly, Matt Meeker, Olivia Robbins, Mark Graham, Tyler Thomas, Willie Brannon, Cody O'Mara, Kali Whitaker, Matthew Iles, Karis Riddle, Kerri Moren, Brian Bullins, Tiffany Carpenter, Rickey Bell, Michael Rowe, Devin Lambeth, Sydney Crawford, Gregory Longworth, Monika Zamarek, Jeremy Jones, Conrad Beauchamp, Alec Beauchamp, Matt Adderton, and Nicole Shaw.

Central Davie Elementary Students presented the annual Night of Kindness Awards program to family and friends Tuesday evening, April 11. The chorus, under the direction of Faynita Brannon, presented a program of music relating to the theme of kindness, honor, and good will. All students had previously written essays about people in the community who had extended special acts of kindness to others. One student from each homeroom was selected to share his/her essay with the audience and to present a Kindness Award. Emily Blauchamp and Rebecca Riddle from Faynita Brannon's class honored Karen and Mike Sain. Kalah Edgington from Mrs. Carothers' class honored Lisa McConnell. Peggy Andrews from Mrs. Courtemanche's class presented an award to Betty Monese. Amanda Blackwell in Mrs. King's class honored Frances Carter. Jamie Konitz represented Gina Smith's class and honored Tom Torpy. Margaret Buck's class chose Eden Cassidy to present an award to Rha Chandler. Kayla Tanum from Lori Culler's class honored Wyashia Rose. Larry Lanier received a Kindness Award from Matthew Van Hoy in Shella Gell's class. Elizabeth Crowe in Dawn Smith's class chose to honor M.A. Brewer. William James received an award from Justin Phillips in Sylvia Smith's class. Camille Kimbrough in Nancy Terry's class honored Dick Forbes.

The Davie County Board of Education met Monday, April 10, on the campus of Central Davie. The CDES Advisory Council presented its annual report to the board sharing accomplishments, success stories, and questions regarding the transition and relocation.

Students have donated snack money and spare change to help purchase accelerated reading books for Paitillo Elementary School in Edgecombe County. This recent project is part of an ongoing effort to assist Paitillo in replacing materials they lost in the fall floods. Students have learned the importance of community awareness and service to others.

Kathy Courtemanche's fifth grade class completed a unit on energy. They discussed the scientific definition of "work" and made pinwheels to simulate the way wind can do work. In social studies, the class is studying Canada. Students learned the location of 10 provinces and two territories in 25 minutes by making associations and using repetition. The students then

Rap, Rhythm & Rhyme

Consultant Brings Writing Program To Students

What is rap? Ask some elementary school students in Davie County, and you may get the answer - along with a little head bop and a twist or two.

"It's poetry with a beat," they'll say. They can also tell you what a synonym is, how a subject and a verb make a complete thought and about sentences and paragraphs.

They learned it on their own turf, using rap music, some exercise and discussions about things that interest them.

Erik Cork, a writing consultant from Houston, brought his "Rap, Rhythm & Rhyme: Rebuilding The Writing Foundation" program to area schools.

"Without a doubt, we must get each student's attention," Cork said. "Educators must consistently appeal to the genius buried within all students, including the bored, unfocused and 'at-risk' adolescent."

Cork's visit was designed not only to help students, but to inspire teachers.

Spanish, Inspections, Computer Classes Offered At Davie Campus

The Davie Campus of Davidson County Community College will offer the following continuing education classes beginning the week of April 24.

Who Moved My Cheese?
Based on the bestseller by the same title, this seminar helps participants find the tools and insights to deal positively with change. Workplaces have recognized the urgent need to upgrade business systems and computers. What businesses are just beginning to realize is that technological change is not enough... We need to help people get ready, too.

This book and seminar address the people side of change. Th, 6-9 p.m., April 27, Davie Campus, free, 3 hours. Instructor: Marilyn Taylor

Spanish for Business: Beginning
Designed for adults as a first-time foreign-language study, this course teaches elementary vocabulary, grammar and pronunciation. Participants will be able to understand basic Spanish communications, and gain knowledge of the customs, culture and lifestyles of Spanish speaking people. Th, 6-8 p.m., April 25-June 27, Davie Campus, $55, 20 hours; Instructor:

Rosario Rieckel. Textbook: Approx. $15 had an assignment to go home and teach the lesson to an adult. In math, Mrs. Courtemanche's students are making good progress in their Saxon math lessons, and expect to complete all lessons in the book by the end of the year. The following students enjoyed a pizza party for maintaining an average of 80 or better on their third quarter homework assignments: Christina Leubetter, Rachelle Beaver, Terah Nolan, Monica Randall, Grace Didenko, and Terrence Phifer.

Dates to remember: Friendship Club Meeting, Thursday, April 13; Spring Break, Wednesday-Friday, April 19-21; End of Grade Test, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 2-3.

Citizens of the week for April 7 Included: Caleb Cream, Mandy Mesemore, John Pfaff, Jamie Keegan, Camryn Smith, Amanda Stewart, Terah Nolan, Cassandra Tyler, Anitra Mock, Blake London, and Randall Fiole.

Bus students of the week were: Dustin Downing and Ashley Sales. Sylvia Smith's fourth grade class decorated a bulletin board with colorful maps they had created of the regions of North Carolina. The communications class is reading the novel, "Incredible Facts about the Ocean." Groups are researching and reporting information about creatures from the sunlight, twilight, and midnight zones of the ocean.

Mrs. Smith's students brainstormed a list of possible accelerated reading books they would like to purchase for Patillo Elementary School with the money collected by the class. The accelerated reading contest continues with Trey Archer being the class leader. Other students are working hard to gain points and narrow Trey's lead. Happy April Birthdays to Alex Appelt, Cameron Webb, and Luke Hatley.

Davie High
Tonya Hill of Advance is looking for a student who is 16 or older to babysit her three sons, ages 6 and twin that are 5, for the summer for $100/week. Interested students should call her at 998-1069. This would be an excellent job for a student who wants to be an elementary teacher or a child care teacher.

Hall & Vogler (lawyers) are looking for a senior to start work full-time this summer. They want someone who has good computer and word processing skills and want to work in an office environment. This is a career position, not temporary. Interested students should apply by Hall & Vogler's office in Mocksville and complete an application. There might also be a possibility of working part-time this spring.

Lentz Transfer and Storage Company in Clemmons is looking for moving helpers for the summer. If interested, call 766-7331.

Juniors and seniors who are interested in taking the fire protection technology class next year through DCCC Davie Campus can still sign up with Mr. Hobson.

All seniors looking for part-time or full-time employment will be invited to a Job Fair on May 9 from 9:15-9:50 a.m. to talk with employers from Davie County. Those who want to attend will be required to complete a resume and have it ready to hand out to employers. More details will follow.

Jo Ann Mintz (998-2197) is looking for someone to work through the summer and all next year. Job responsibilities include mowing, landscaping, repairing and maintaining lawn equipment. She is needing someone who is dependable and responsible.

The first grade classes attended a soil and water conservation program in the media center. Chris Clover from the 4-H and Smokey the Bear were there. There are lots of green things growing in classrooms and bright flowers in windows. Students are busy getting ready for Family Fun Night on Thursday, April 13.

The fourth grade students of Bettina Miller, Jennifer Godbey, Lisa Dressler and Beth Wall are working diligently on their performance of "Mary Poppins" for Family Fun Night. The students will be singing "Supercalifragilisticexpialidocious" and dancing to "Step in Time." With brooms in hand, they will sweep the crowd away while posing as chimney sweeps.

Second graders of Tara Lowery, Ellen McDaniel, Mary Shouse, and Anne Brown are hard at work on a "Jungle Book" performance for Family Fun Night. The songs they are performing are "Bare Necessities" and "I Wanna Be Like You." They are also continuing to count money: quarters, dimes, nickels, and pennies.

Kinderergarten classes of Tammy Clogdo, Nancy Harpe, Penny Johnson and Janell Yount have finished up a study on the changes between winter and spring. They are busy studying animals, especially zoo animals, and went to the N.C. Zoo on Monday, April 10. Students are busy getting ready for Family Fun Night. They will be performing the Mickey Mouse Club theme song with rhythm sticks. Several are home with the chicken pox.

Third graders in Donna Henderson, Janet Jones, Joan King and Brent Wall's classes are waiting to become surrogate parents for their chicks. They have been checking incubators and the chicks should start to hatch soon.

presentation in PowerPoint and then share these with the class. In sixth grade we are starting to learn about the uses and functions of a database. Seventh grade keyboarding is practicing typing skills.

Students from North and South will perform together for the Annual Band Day at Davie High on Saturday, May 6. 1 p.m., eighth grade band; 2:30 p.m., seventh grade band; 4 p.m., sixth grade band; 5:30 p.m., high school concert band; and Jazz Ensemble. Chicken pie dinners may be purchased at the concerts from 11 a.m.-6 p.m. All performances will be held in the Davie High School Cafeteria.

Sixth grade students are learning notation (whole notes, half notes, etc.) and will soon begin a study of music history. Seventh grade music students are constructing major scales using sharps and flats as needed. Eighth grade music students are busy preparing their Spring Musical "Little Luncheonette of Terror." All grade levels sing daily.

Sixth grade students are learning to use a computer, copy and paste, and other computer ethics. The students worked very hard with this and did a great job. During the next six weeks they will be learning about spreadsheets and databases.

In Career Decisions I, the students are doing surveys to determine their interests, goals, attitudes, learning styles and aptitudes. As they learn more about themselves, they will be more able to determine what types of careers are of interest to them. Within the next two weeks the class will begin their sewing projects. During this time they will have supervisors, quality control workers, custodians, workers and others - thereby simulating a factory setting.

In eighth grade Life Skills, the students just completed their sewing projects. They made anything from stuffed dolls to parrots. The next unit is on childcare. After the childcare unit they will be working with foods and nutrition. They will also be visiting a daycare and a nursing home.

Drama students are hard at work on many spring projects. Sixth grade students are working on pantomime and improvisation. Seventh grade students are preparing a music video performance for May 19. They are fast at work on discovering "The Music of the Movies." Eighth grade students are busy with the annual Spring Musical, "Little Luncheonette of Terror," will premier for the public on Friday, May 5 at 7 p.m. in the theatre. Tickets are $2 for adults, and $1 for students.

Sixth grade Spanish students just began the new rotation with a study of the Spanish-speaking countries and an introduction to tongue twisters. Seventh grade students have presented three poems and are working on the unit of classroom articles. Eighth grade students are studying the differences of ser and estar.

Science students are drawing types of tissues by using microscopes. Students are constructing perpendicular and parallel lines using math instruments.

In social studies students are studying China concentrating on the areas of government, history, geography, and culture.

William R. Davie Elementary Kindergarten classes are excited about upcoming Easter activities. During the weeks of April 3-11, Linda Drye, Violet Cain (who is substituting for Lori Latham), and Joanna Haire's classes will be making Easter bonnets and derby hats, and going on an Easter Parade for the school. They will be doing activities with bunnies, jelly beans, Easter chicks and Easter Eggs. They look forward to dyeing Easter eggs and finishing up their Easter activities with an egg hunt before beginning spring break.

Citizens of the Week for the week of March 27-30 were Jordan Toney, Dillon Dalton, Daniel Portillo, Esmeralda Hernandez, Iris Navatolo, Samantha Conroy, Vasikka Millo, Jenny Snyder, Ashley Buelin, Gabby Menzies, and Jennifer Childers. Easter and Citizenship Luncheon will be held on Thursday, April 13.

Slate Night will be Tuesday, April 18 from 6:30-8:30 at Skateland in Clemmons. Admission is $3.50.

Spring Break will be Wednesday-Friday, April 19-21. Students will come back to school on April 24.

25th Birthday Luncheon will be April 25. Parents are invited.

End-of-Year Testing is scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, May 2 and 3, for third through fifth grade students. Be on time, well-rested and have a good breakfast on those days.

The last day of school is now Monday, May 22.

Pinebrook Elementary
Second graders in Cindy Stephenson, Sandy Hendrix, and Pam Harpe's classes took a trip to the N.C. Transportation Museum in Spencer. The students spent the day discovering that there have been many types of transportation in the country's history for industry and private use.

Children visited many exhibits including the "Roundhouse," where they experienced the history of riding the rails. There were freight trains and private train cars, steam and locomotive engines, mail cars, and cabooses.

Another exhibit called "The Spencer Worker" detailed the workers and their jobs. They saw a century's worth of automobiles in the "Bumper to Bumper" exhibit. The students particularly enjoyed the "Wagons, Wheels, and Wings" exhibit where they saw a history of North Carolina transportation from Indian canoes to airplanes.

Students took a ride on the "Turntable" which was used to move the trains from the "Roundhouse" to the tracks they would be traveling. They also enjoyed an narrated train ride around the museum's grounds.

All the classes had a picnic lunch on the grounds then visited the gift shop before returning to school in the afternoon.

Third graders in Cindy Orsillo; Karen Myers, Vickie Potts, and Marie Steed's classes are looking forward to a class follow-up field trip. They are going to the Heritage Theater in Winston-Salem.

This field trip will let the students become part of the folk and fairy tales they have been studying over the past weeks in class. They will get to act out parts in these stories. They are eagerly awaiting the chance to show off for their teachers, and bring the knowledge they have about these stories to life.

New Millennium Great Writers Awards this week were given to: Josh Chesnee, Sean Rouse, Logan Dellart, Joseph Powell, Zach Bivens, Sarah Webb, Emily Tierney, Spencer Lagan, Bretly Kirk, Cayla Simms, Amanda Robinson, Jay Whiteheart, Kirston Wilson, and Evan Fleming.

STARS of the week were: Kirk Allen, Bryan Armsworth, Bryan Atkins, Wesley Blake, Kristin Boger, Briana Boone, Ryan Carter, Josh Chesnee, Jonathan Cobb, Jeremy Edwards, Justin Flood, Dylan Kennedy, Jackie Kohlen, Stephen Livengood, Peyton Murray, Courtney Pardue, Austin Smith, and Laura Tierney.

STAR of the week was: Pam Renegar's second grade class.

Bus, Van and Car Riders for the Week of March 24 were Ysami Navatolo, Sierra Doucette, Johnny Steophens, Jordan Hendrix, Nathan Hutchens, Shadia Griffin, Charlie Boger, Casey Carter, Jose Barona, Crista Arroyo, Miscal Rogel, and Tori Norris.

Bus, Van and Car Riders for the Week of March 31 were Pero Bartillo, Chastity Spry, Coby Boger, Brandi Carlton, Dillon Dalton, Allison Sherrill, Craig Draughn, Mary Beth Sherrill, Jose Diaz, Adilene Ruano, Gabriela Ignacio, and Richard Kimbrell.

Alyce Bagshaw, Pam Renegar, and Angela Spillman, Wanda Dalton, and Brenda Glasscock's second grade class had a "Dinomite" time at Sci-Works on Thursday, March 30. The students saw models of Stegosaurus, Protoceratops, Chasmosaurus, Tyrannosaurus, Apatosaurus, and Pteranodon. They saw fossils, went on a fossil dig and made rubbings of dinosaurs. After viewing the dinosaurs, the students saw the planetarium program

Couple Married At First Baptist

Jennifer Roberson Pilcher of Mocksville, and Jack E. Dehring Jr. of Statesville were married March 4, at The First Baptist Church in Mocksville. The Rev. Jimmy Lancaster officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Carol Creason Roberson of Mocksville and Larry Moore Roberson of Asheboro. Her maternal grandparents are Dorothy Lakey Walker and the late Johnny Walker of Mocksville. Her paternal grandparents are Betty Chaffin and the late Holland Chaffin of Mocksville. The bride graduated from Davie High School. She works at Central Carolina Bank in Mocksville.

The groom is the son of Sharon and Jack Dehring of Statesville. His maternal grandparents are Alice Pagles and the late Fredrick Pagles of St. Joseph, Michigan. His paternal grandparents are Mamye and Karl Dehring of Buchanan, Michigan. The groom graduated from North Iredell High School. He works at Freightliner in Cleveland.

The bride was escorted by her father. The bride wore an ivory stain gown. The skirt extended into a chapel length train. The matching headpiece was long and lined with pearls. She carried a silk bouquet of ivory roses which she made and designed herself.

The maid of honor was her sister, Michelle Roberson of Mocksville. The bridesmaids were the groom's sisters, Sarah Dehring, Lissa Dehring, and Stiny Josey of Statesville, and Pam Roberson, cousin of the bride of Mocksville.

The groom's father was best man. The groomsmen were the groom's brother-in-law, Andy Josey of Statesville, Jason Lord of Michigan, Mike Carter and Todd Hauser of Statesville.

The flower girl was the groom's niece, Heather Josey of Statesville. The ring bearer was the bride's cousin, Justin Roberson of Mocksville. The ushers were Dale Roberson, cousin of the bride and Bradley Josey, nephew of the groom.

Angie Roberson, cousin of the bride, attended the guest register. Brandi Beck, cousin of the bride, handed out programs. The photographer was Kristine Kwoski and the video taping was done by Matthew Johnson. Music was by Dr. Carolyn Beaver and Ann Allen directed the wedding.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Church fellowship hall. The wedding cake was made and decorated by Tina Dyson and Nancy Daily. The food for the reception was prepared by Lissa Dehring, sister of the groom, and friends. The decorations for the wedding and reception were made by the bride, family and friends. The three silk arrangements that decorated the pulpit were designed and made by R. Wayne Harp.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at their home in Statesville. Out-of-town guests attended the dinner. The meal consisted of bar-b-que chicken, slaw, baked beans, rolls and chocolate cake.

A shower was given by the employees of Central Carolina Bank at Western Steer. The bride received many nice gifts.

After a honeymoon trip to Gallinberg, Tenn., the couple will live in Mocksville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Dehring Jr.

6 Attend State Extension Meeting

Frances Beck, Jo Cheek, Miti Foster, Marie Miller, Ann White, and Phyllis Williams represented Davie County at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Extension and Community Association, Inc. State Council held at the Hilton/Greenville in Greenville on April 3-5.

The meeting was hosted by the Southeast District. Jo Cheek, County Council President, served as a voting delegate.

The theme for this year's meeting was "NCECA: Reaching Beyond the Millennium." The 2000 State Council Meeting was a historical one, as the organization has a new name. Under the name of N.C. Extension and Community Association, the association will move into a new century with a new look but with the same mission to strengthen families through education, leadership development, and community outreach.

In addition to conducting the business of the association State Council is an opportunity to celebrate the achievements of the members of the organization. Awards were presented for Volunteer Extension Education Program (VEEP); Leadership, Education Programs and Certified Volunteer Units (CVU). Those members achieving 25 and 50 years of membership were also recognized. Carol Ann Tucker, director, ECU Training Center, Greenville, was the keynote speaker for the opening luncheon. Mt. Olive College Singers entertained at the banquet. Mac Craven from Wilmington was the speaker at the closing luncheon.

Dear Fellow Residents of Davie County:

The upcoming election presents an opportunity for you to play a role in the decision-making processes that affect each of us. Once again it is time to choose the leadership who will have the opportunity to continue to move this county forward responsibly and successfully.

Over the past years I've had the pleasure of working with many concerned citizens in striving for the betterment of our county. I am proud of our County and our accomplishments. With your support, I will continue to address the important needs and concerns of all citizens of our county, and will work hard to strengthen our sense of COMMUNITY and will make every effort to see its continued improvement.

Sincerely,
Carl Boon

Dan Barrett On The Issues: Supporting Our Schools

Davie County has an excellent school system. There is a commitment to our public schools throughout the County.

I share your commitment to our schools. I have a son, Daniel, 7, who is in the first grade at Shady Grove, and a daughter, Rebekah, 2, who will be in school soon.

My parents always stressed the importance of a quality education. My mom was a school teacher, and I worked part-time as a substitute teacher.

Our children are our future. Their education depends on our ability to retain and attract quality teachers. We must also continue to provide good school facilities. If I am elected your Commissioner, I will work closely with school officials and teachers to meet the needs of our children.

Keep Watching These Pages ... By May 2nd, You'll Know What I'm About.

If you think I'm on the right track, I'd appreciate your support and vote on May 2nd.

District Superintendent Dr. Mike Leatherwood preached at the Methodist church Sunday morning. Following the worship service, he baptized David Logan Childers, the infant son of the Rev. and Mrs. David Childers. Visitors present for the service and baptism were David's parents, Jack and Beatrice Childers, David's brother and family Mark and Pam Childers and sons Ryan and Matthew, David's aunt and cousin, Helen Collins and daughter, Melanie, and Sharon Childers' parents, Tommy and Gerie Hartsell, all from Mooresville. Afterwards a conference was held, conducted by Dr. Leatherwood, for a vote by the congregation on the new parsonage plans. A luncheon followed at the fellowship hall. Altar flowers Sunday were a lovely arrangement of roses in honor of Lindsay Jackson in appreciation for her

Wednesday night choir work of keeping the nursery.

We were happy to see the Rev. Lanny Atkins out in the community conversing with friends. He is pastor of Advance First Baptist church and is recuperating from recent heart surgery.

Betty Cornatzer came home from Forsyth Hospital last Thursday. She is slowly recuperating from major surgery. A speedy recovery is wished for Andrea Hendrix of Myrtle Beach, S.C., spent last week with her mother and sister, Janie Hendrix and Meredith Hendrix. Andrea came especially to be with her grandfather, Tom Hendrix, a patient at Forsyth hospital in critical condition. Andrea was a Thursday and Friday luncheon guest of her grandmother, Edith Zimmerman.

Senior Events Planned

A meeting of the Alzheimer's Support Group is held the second Thursday of each month at 7 p.m. in the East Room of the Senior Center. The group is open to all interested persons, regardless of age.

Next meeting date: April 13, sponsored by the Davie County Senior Center and affiliated with the Alzheimer's Association.

On April 14 at 4 p.m., Randy Templeton, Davie High School's auto mechanics instructor, will be at the Nutrition Site to teach the basics of car care including: How to check the oil; how to change a flat tire; how to check fluids; and other easy maintenance procedures.

Keep your car on the road instead of broken down on the side. Learning simple tips can save you money and keep you safe in case of a breakdown. This workshop is perfect for women but open to everyone. Pre-register by April 14 at 751-0611.

All you ever wanted to know about gardening will be at this party. There will be displays, demonstrations, a chance to ask questions of expert gardeners, and much more. Refreshments will be served in the courtyard. The party will conclude with a performance by the Davie County Singing Seniors. Pre-register by calling 751-0611.

The party is April 20, 2 p.m., at Mocksville Elementary School.

Pino News

By Nora Latham Pino Correspondent

Our breakfast at Wesley Chapel is again this Saturday, April 15, 6:30-10 a.m. - ham and sausage with all the trimmings.

Our revival was held last weekend. We were very pleased with our visiting preachers, the Revs. Gary Foster and Billy Rintz. They both gave very inspirational messages. So did our own preacher, Dianne Marsden. We enjoyed all of them.

Christy Gentry of Charlotte spent the weekend at home with her parents, Pete and Madelyn Gentry.

Ervin and Peggy Angell of Manteo spent last week at their home in Mocksville. While they were here they visited and had a meal with her sister, Nora Latham and husband Harmon.

Daka Thomas and her sister from Virginia, and her daughter, Ryan of State College, all spent the weekend in Wilmington with her other daughter, Lindsay, who is a student at UNC Wilmington.

Mrs. Judy Hoffman of Greensboro, her daughter Allison, and Ethan Boger spent Saturday with Bob and Kathy Ellis.

Our Easter service begin on April 20, 7:30 p.m. with Maundy Thursday at Wesley Chapel. On April 21, 7:30, the Good Friday Service will be at Farmington UM Church. The Easter morning service will begin at 8 a.m. at Wesley Chapel followed by a breakfast. Sunday School is at 10 a.m.

Habitat Seeking Applications

Habitat for Humanity of Davie County is seeking applicants.

On May 13 and June 3, members of the family selection committee will be available at the Davie County Library from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Family Selection Committee members will assist low-income families in the completion of applications for affordable, adequate housing.

If you living in inadequate living conditions perhaps you could qualify for a Habitat home. If you live in an overcrowded home in a multi-family situation, a home that is beyond repair, or in a home in an unsafe environment, maybe you should complete an application.

Habitat offers families a "hand up" - a means for families to help themselves. Families must be employed - a 20-year, no-interest home mortgage becomes the responsibility of the family upon completion of the home. "Sweat Equity" hours must be worked by the family - on their personal home and other homes. Families must pay a

Coolleemee Seniors Hear 'Funny' Stories From Preacher

On March 27, the Coolleemee Senior Citizens met at the First Baptist Church.

James "Doll" Foster had the prayer, following the opening of the meeting by President Reba Holt.

The club sang "Jesus Loves Even Me," led by Hannah Jones. Jane Sneed played the piano.

Pauline Hall, chaplain, had the devotions. She spoke about the beauty of trees and referred to the poem, "Trees," by Alfred Joyce Kilmer. She read 1

Samuel 16:7. "...for the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart." She said that character comes from the heart.

The roll was called by Virginia Plot, substituting for Francis Miller. There were 26 members and four visitors present.

Secretary Nancy Foster read the minutes of the last meeting. The thought for the day: "Blessed are the hard of hearing, for they miss much of the small talk." The sunshine and treasury reports were given by Jones and Bette Smith. Holt called for discussions and voting on the club's present by-laws. Barbara Thornton told of the many activities at the Senior Center. She said that the next Creative Scrapbooking session will be held on April 11 at 2 p.m. There will also be a Car Care Workshop on April 17. You will learn easy maintenance procedures, tips for saving you money, and tips on safety in case of a breakdown. (Please pre-register.) The program was given by Dorothy Nalle. She invited the Rev. Floyd Wood to speak to the club, who sang and told hilarious stories. The meeting ended with the singing of the club song and prayer by Noah Platt. The next meeting will be held at the church on April 10.

Easter Bunny Coming To Coolleemee

The Easter Bunny is hopping to Coolleemee for the annual Easter Egg hunt. Area youngsters from toddlers to age 10 are invited on Saturday, April 22, at 1 p.m., at the Zachary House. Prizes will be awarded in age groups. Bring your own camera to take photographs. The event is sponsored by the Town of Coolleemee.

Courtney Musical April 16

The Adult Choir of Courtney Baptist Church will present its annual Easter Musical on Sunday, April 16, at 7 p.m., in the church sanctuary.

The musical is titled "Room At The Cross" and focuses on the compassion of Jesus during His earthly ministry. The musical features soloist, along with great choral selections and some dramatization.

The choir is under the direction of the Rev. Barry A. Dodson, minister of music.

Pastor John T. Brown says that the public is invited. Tickets are available through the church office (463-2681) and they are free. A second performance of this musical will be presented on Wednesday evening, April 19, at 7, and tickets are available for this performance as well.

Lizzy Swett Wins At Modeling Pageant

Hannah Elizabeth "Lizzy" Swett was a contestant in the Glamour Modeling Pageant at the Charlotte Marriott City Center Downtown's ballroom.

On March 5 she was awarded a princess crown and trophy for best advertisement for modeling in the "trendy" round.

She also received a medalion, certificate, modeling portfolio and glamour model t-shirt.

She is the daughter of Angela Swett and sister of Matheu.

Gospel Sing To Benefit Mission Trip

A gospel sing is planned for Faith Baptist Church, Statesville, for 7 p.m. Sunday, April 16.

Proceeds will go to the church's fifth mission trip June 14-30 to the Soviet Union, of which Jerry and Linda Harmon of Mocksville have attended. Keith and Ginger Mason are scheduled to make this year's trip.

They will visit a farming village, where Faith established a church in an old building.

Many Bibles have been given out, and activities for the children are always a big part of the trips. Mrs. Harmon said.

Used eyeglasses are being collected for the children.

This year, the Harmon's received a Christmas card from a 17-year-old girl they had worked with more than two years ago. She wrote about enjoying Bible School with them.

On Bended Knee will perform at the gospel sing. The church is on Barry Oak Road, the third road on the right past Food Lion going into Statesville on U.S. 64.

Holy Cross Continues With Lenten, Holy Week Services

Holy Cross Lutheran Church will complete this year's Lenten series, "The Way," on Wednesday, April 12, at 7:30 p.m. The guest preacher will be the Rev. William Bateman, pastor of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church in Salisbury. His sermon theme will be "Condemnation on the Way."

Bateman is a graduate of Pacific Lutheran University and Harvard Divinity School. After serving New Covenant Lutheran Church in Archdale, Bateman served several Lutheran Churches in Virginia. In addition to his pastoral duties, he has taught at local colleges and community colleges.

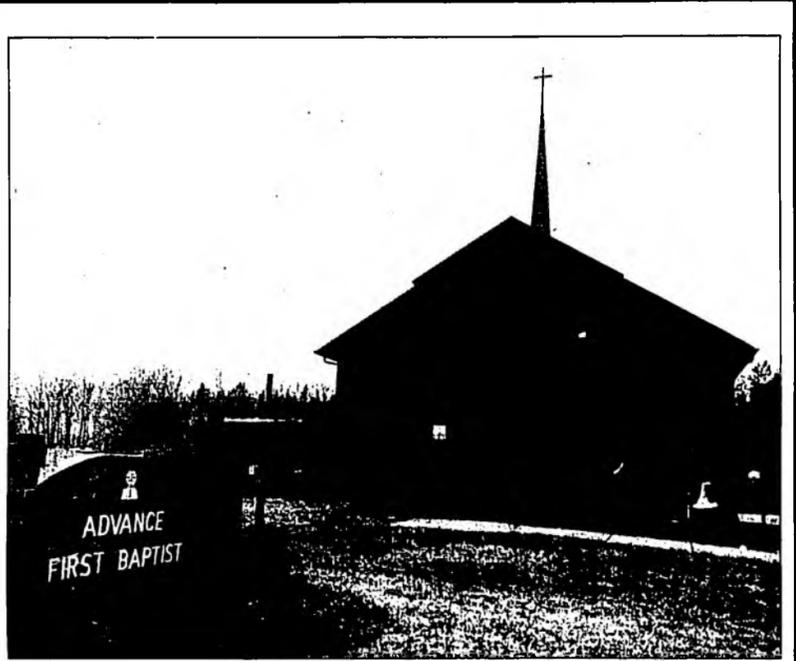

Holy Cross is located at 1913 U.S. 601 S. The community is invited to the April 12 service, and to celebrate Holy Week and Easter at Holy Cross.

Weather permitting, the congregation will gather in front of Holy Cross for a Procession with Palms to begin the Palm Sunday Service at 10:30 a.m. on April 16. The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated on April 16 and again on Maundy Thursday, April 20, and Easter Sunday, Worship services on Maundy Thursday and Good Friday, April 21, will be held at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Glynn Bell, pastor of Holy Cross, will be the preacher and presider at all Holy Week and Easter services.

A resurrection Service will be held on Easter Sunday, April 23, at 8:30 a.m. This will be followed by a breakfast prepared by the Holy Cross Lutheran Men in Mission at 9 a.m. A Festival Service of Holy Communion will take place at the congregation's regularly scheduled worship time of 10:30 a.m. on Easter.

Col. Eliot Vail Parker

Col. Eliot Vail (E.V.) Parker Jr., 62, of Mocksville, died early Saturday morning, April 8, 2000 from the complications of a recent illness.

He was born in Morristown, N.J. on June 8, 1937. Parker graduated from the U.S. Military Academy in 1960 and entered the U.S. Army as an armored cavalry officer.

He served his nation in four armed conflicts including a campaign in the Dominican Republic, two tours in Vietnam and a final campaign in Grenada. As an Airborne Ranger he served a tour of duty in Vietnam with a Special Forces Unit and spent two tours of duty with the 82nd Airborne Division. His commands included serving as XO Officer of an infantry battalion during his second tour in Vietnam and as Battalion Commander of an armored battalion at Fort Carson, Colo.

He spent three years teaching at West Point after receiving his master's degree from the University of Wisconsin. A long list of distinguished awards includes a Silver Star for valor in combat, five Bronze Stars for valor, two Purple Hearts and the Legion of Merit. Col. Parker retired from the U.S. Army at Fort Bragg in 1985, where he had served as the XVIII Airborne Corps Civil/Military Affairs Officer and Commander of the U.S. forces during the military operations in Grenada.

He spent 10 years teaching Junior ROTC at Davie High School and last year serving as the Davie County Veteran Affairs Officer and State Vice Commander of the Purple Heart Association.

Survivors include: his wife of 39 years, Adelheid; 4 children, Dawn Howell and husband David of Fort Worth, Texas, Helene Bryant and husband Dee of Oklahoma City; Eliot V. Parker III and wife Kathy of Houston, Texas; Charles Parker and wife Amanda of Indianapolis, Ind.; and 11 grandchildren.

A memorial service will be Wednesday, April 12 at 4 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Mocksville.

The family requests in lieu of flowers, to send donations to: American Legion Unit 74, c/o Mel Reynolds, P.O. Box 724, Mocksville; or VFW Post 4024, c/o Harold Frank, 137 Ralph Road, Mocksville.

He is survived by: 2 sons, Booker Mitchell Summers Jr. of Harmony, and Solomon W. Summers of Statesville; 3 daughters, Irene (Dallas) Steele and Claudine (Ray) Lewis, both of Harmony, Willene (James) Carson of Corona, N.Y.; 2 brothers, Tommy Summers of Washington, D.C.; a large number of grandchildren and other relatives.

Service and arrangements will be conducted by Graham Funeral Directors.

Alice M. Templeton

Alice McDowell Templeton, affectionately known as "Mama T," died April 7, 2000, in the Bermuda Village Health Care Center after a battle with stroke, parathyroid disease and cancer.

Born Nov. 29, 1919, in Asheville, she was the youngest child of Ernest and Clare Wallace McDowell. She graduated from Women's College, Greensboro, in 1940 and in 1942 married George S. Templeton, a pharmacist in Mooresville. She reared her children in Gastonia, where she was active in PTA and Holy Trinity Lutheran Church. After her husband's retirement, the family moved to Greensboro, where she "adopted" many who were a part of the First Lutheran Church ministry to UNC-G students. After her husband's death, she returned to Asheville. There she was owner/manager of an apartment quadruplex, a Welcome Wagon representative and active member of the Pilot Club and St. Mark's Lutheran Church. She moved to Bermuda Village in 1987.

She is survived by: her children, George McDowell Templeton, Kathy Norris and Marie Lingle and their spouses; 5 grandchildren; 4 great-grandchildren; and a sister, Clare McDowell.

A private graveside service was conducted by Pastor Phillip Squire of King of Glory Lutheran Church, Clemmons. A memorial service was conducted at 3 p.m. Wednesday, April 12 at Bermuda Village. The family will receive friends in the atrium after the service.

The family requests memorials be made to the School of Music, UNC-G, P.O. Box 26167, Greensboro, 27402 or Smith McDowell House Museum, 283 Victoria Road, Asheville, 28801-4817.

Funeral services were at 2 p.m. Tuesday, April 11 at Turrentine Baptist Church with the Revs. Joe Smith and Billy Sloop officiating. Burial was in Rowan Memorial Park in Salisbury.

Mrs. Champ was born in Davie County on Aug. 11, 1933, to the late Thomas Lee and Ruby Riddle Webb and was a retiree of Lexington Furniture Co. She was a member of the Senior Citizens of Coolleemee and a member of Turrentine Baptist Church.

She was preceded in death by 2 daughters, Patricia K. Champ and nieces and nephews.

Thank You

May loving memories of one who meant so much to us bring peace and comfort to our hearts and ease our sorrow too... For the memories we cherish, though they sometimes bring a tear, will help us feel that our dear one's love is always very near.

Please accept our heartfelt thanks for all of your expressions of kindness and sympathy during the loss of our loved one, Mrs. Lucy Joyce Tatum.

Your kindness, your generosity and your prayers meant more than you can know.

Eating In: This Cook Brings Her Skills To Your Home

By Jeanne Galtner
Davie County Enterprise Record

cook dinner can be difficult. In many households, sitting down to a home cooked meal has become a special occasion. For those too busy to cook but tired of take-out dinners, a local chef may have the answer. Recently opening a personal chef business called Eating In, Kathy Needs of Advance strives to make dining in the comfort of one's own home an effortless and healthy experience for her busy clients.

Though fairly new to this area, the personal chef business is one of the fastest growing businesses in the country, according to Needs. On a typical cooking day, after dropping her youngest son off at school, Needs goes to the client's home, carrying her utensils, cookware and spices and the groceries she's purchased for the meal. She spends the next several hours cooking selected entrees and appropriate side dishes.

She usually prepares about three entrees and doesn't like to prepare more than five at once. After the meals are prepared, Needs usually ices them before putting them in the freezer with labels and heating instructions.

Trying new recipes all the time, her daughter Allison, a senior at N.C. State, regularly takes several dishes back to school with her to help determine if heating instructions are correct.

Almost everything can be frozen, Needs explained. By quick chilling her meals, she ensures they are frozen at peak flavor. Clients are then instructed to gently heat the dinners. If a customer prefers, she will leave all dishes in the refrigerator.

When she's finished, she leaves the kitchen just as she found it, she said.

In addition to the time she spends cooking, Needs spends several hours each week grocery shopping.

"I use everything as healthy and fresh as I can get it. I'm trying to give them healthy food," she said. Those to whom the new chef service appeals include busy professionals, weight and health-conscious people, chemotherapy patients and their families, new parents, heart patients, diabetics, the elderly and the culinarily challenged, according to Needs.

The cost per entree, which will feed four to eight, is about $40 plus groceries, depending on number of entrees per session and number of sessions.

Eating In also offers a special introductory offer of two entrees and appropriate side dishes with groceries included for $125.

Pricing includes a consultation with clients and planning time. Because Needs said she likes to do an in-depth interview to determine their likes and dislikes before preparing them a meal.

Whether it's a gourmet dish or meatloaf and mashed potatoes, she said, "I do whatever they want."

"I enjoy customizing the menus and service for each of my clients. No two are ever alike," she said.

She's also dedicated to meeting any special health needs of her clients. Belonging to the National Personal Chef Association, Needs said she has access to a network of chefs with expertise in a number of areas. She also has a computer program she uses to manipulate the ingredients in recipes to achieve the desired effect, such as reducing the sodium level or fat quantity.

Her meat dish menu includes 33 entrees, ranging from such basics as pot roast, meatloaf, beef stew and lasagna to the more exotic veal marsala, Greek lamb stew and boeuf bourguignon.

Among the 19 choices on Needs' poultry menu are chicken cacciatore, chicken divan, chicken with capers and olives and turkey tetrazzini.

For the seafood lover, Needs' menu features 18 items from which to choose, including baked, grilled and broiled fish and several varieties of stew and chowder. Her specialties also include a number of vegetarian dishes and salads, and a client may ask to have anything they would like added to the menu.

A self-taught chef, Needs has a degree in food science from N.C. State University and worked as a staff scientist and assistant brand manager for R.J. Reynolds Foods and Tobacco Companies for 16 years in the areas of new product development, sensory testing, food microbiology and quality assurance.

After leaving R.J.R., she worked for two years as assistant editor of The Journal of Essential Oil Research, a publication dealing with the science of herbs and spices.

Always interested in international foods, she has had her own herb garden

for some time and has long enjoyed trying new recipes. Much of what she knows about cooking she learned from watching others. She has long been a fan of the chef on television and has also learned a lot from her own family, she said. One of her clients thinks she's not, unable to understand how anyone could enjoy doing this job, but Needs said she has always liked to cook. Though she'll gladly do it for her clients, she prefers a culinary challenge to the routine stuff. When she decided to go back to work after her youngest son finished kindergarten last summer, she said, "I picked something that I would enjoy doing and have a passion about." Family Protects More Land In The S. Yadkin Area From Development

Dr. and Mrs. Donald H. Lomax of Salisbury have donated a conservation easement to The Land Trust for Central North Carolina on 139 acres they own along Second Creek, U.S. 601 and Potneck Road in Rowan County just north of Salisbury. The property includes the historic Henry Connor Bost house and farmstead, as well as remnants of the old "Salisbury to Mocksville" wagon road. The conservation easement will maintain the property's significant open space character by reducing the number and location of new houses that can be built there. It also limits the scope of future timber harvesting, assuring a relatively natural habitat for wildlife and helping to protect the water quality of the Second Creek watershed. The property is located just 1-1/2 miles "up stream" from the recently-acquired 300-acre Catawba College South Yadkin Wildlife Refuge, and is another step in efforts by The Land Trust and Catawba College to preserve additional acreage along the river corridor. The historic Henry Connor Bost house will be protected along with the land as part of the conservation easement. According to David Furd Hoad's book, "The Architecture of Rowan County," it is "one of the few houses built in Rowan County immediately following the Civil War." Mr. Bost served in Company F of the Ninth Regiment Cavalry of the Confederate Army, and was later elected to the N.C. Legislature as a representative serving Rowan County. Because of his historic and architectural significance, the house was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1982. Also of historic importance are the remains of the old "Salisbury to Mocksville" wagon road, which is still quite visible across the property. This historic market road dates back to at least the early 19th century, and perhaps even the 18th century. Early maps of the region show the road linking the Town of Salisbury with the historic Monacan community of Bethania, near Salem. "Once again, a family in Rowan County has stepped forward and provided the leadership to protect one of our more important historic resources," states Ed Clement, President of The Land Trust. "What is exciting for those of us who have been working on preservation issues in this community is that people are beginning to see the connection between historic preservation and the conservation of our rural landscapes. Dr. and Mrs. Lomax are to be commended for their generosity and foresight in seeing that the Henry Connor Bost Farm is preserved for future generations to enjoy." Dr. John Wear, Director of Catawba College's Center for the Environment adds: "We're deeply indebted to the Lomaxes for setting a precedent for other private landowners near our South Yadkin Wildlife Refuge. We hope that their gift of this conservation easement will lead other landowners in the area to work with Catawba College and The Land Trust to protect a significant wildlife corridor near the confluence of Second Creek and the South Yadkin River." For the Lomaxes, the conservation easement on their land is just the latest chapter in what has become a labor of love in preserving the Henry Connor Bost Farm. Several years ago, they completed a sensitive restoration of the historic house as their primary residence, and have beautifully maintained the rural character of the grounds, including the old market road. "When you are given an opportunity to be stewards of a place like this, you want to do what you can to ensure its preservation for the future," notes Dr. Lomax.

Advance Man Drowns Trying To Retrieve Boat

A fishing trip between an Advance man and his grandson turned tragic Sunday afternoon when he drowned trying to retrieve his runaway boat.

Jesse Lee "J.L." Singleton Jr., 60, died in the accident on the Yadkin River just after 3 p.m.

According to N.C. Wildlife Commission Officer K.D. Osborne Jr., Singleton and his juvenile grandson were going fishing, probably for striped bass.

As he was backing his boat into the water, he had tied a rope from the trailer to the boat to keep it near shore.

The rope snapped.

Singleton put the truck in park, jumped out and ran to catch the boat, a fairly new 20-foot Sea Arc, Osborne said.

The boat had gone too far, and Singleton jumped into the water.

After realizing he could not reach the boat, he started back for shore. He had almost made it, and reached for an overhanging branch, and went under, Osborne said. He surfaced once before going under again.

The grandson did the right thing, immediately running up the hill to the nearest house to ask them to call 911, Osborne said.

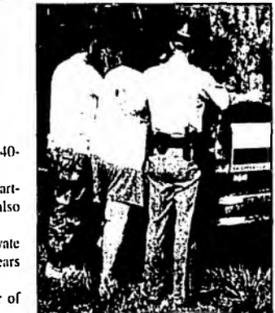

Members of the Davie County Rescue Squad searched the river for about three hours, before recovering the body about 100 feet downstream.

The river was muddy and swollen from recent rains. Depth and water temperature were estimated at five feet and 40-50°.

Members of the Davie Sheriff's Department and Advance Fire Department also helped in the search.

Singleton and others had built the private ramp, off Zimmerman Road, several years ago, Osborne said.

Singleton was owner and operator of Singleton Grading, which he operated from his nearby home on N.C. 801 South in Advance.

Officers comfort family members at the scene.

Name That Gym Group Asks That Former Coach Be Honored At Central Davie

By Kim Justen
 Davie County Enterprise Record

Last year, Elvania Crews made a request to the Davie County Board of Education that the Central Davie gymnasium be named in honor of Clyde Studevent Jr.

Last week, she again asked for the honor for Studevent, a teacher and coach at Central Davie High School before consolidation, and later at Davie High and South Davie Middle.

After the initial request was made last year, a committee was created by the board to review other school districts' policies.

Dr. William Steed, school superintendent, reported that the information had recently been gathered, and ran the gamut from districts that do not do honorary namings all the way to complex processes.

More Than A Pound Of Cocaine Seized; Two Olin Men Arrested

Two Olin men were arrested in Davie County last week and more than a pound of cocaine was seized.

Pedro Ferretiz Pina, 29, and Fausto Ferretiz Pina, 28, were arrested by the Davie County Sheriff's Department after an investigation that also included Iredell Sheriff's Rowan ABC, SBI, and Mocksville Police officers.

Pedro Pina was charged with four counts of trafficking in cocaine. Fausto Pina was charged with two counts of trafficking in cocaine and maintaining a vehicle to keep cocaine. Both were arrested last week.

Mocksville Man Is Arrested For Sexual Abuse Of 6-Year-Old Boy

A Mocksville man was arrested last week for committing sex acts with a 6-year-old boy.

Ronald Rodney Link, 27, of 148 Harding St., was charged by Mocksville Police Detective David Miller with felony sexual child abuse.

He was placed in the Davie County Jail in lieu of a $100,000 bond, pending an April 27 first-appearance hearing in Davie District Court.

Miller reported that the offenses occurred last December.

One Moment Please: Benchmark Customers Lash Out At Public Hearing

By Dwight Sparks
 Davie County Enterprise-Record

Davie County commissioners heard a chorus of complaints last week about cable television service in the county.

Even some of the commissioners said they had trouble with their cable reception.

"I get this picture that says, 'Be patient, we'll be back in a little while,'" said Bruce Ridenhour of Deadman Road. "The service has deteriorated, and the price has gone up."

Tom Bailey of Advance said the service provided by Benchmark Cable is terrible, but he has no option but to stick with the company. "If I treated my customers the way I've been treated, I wouldn't have any customers. We're captive. I'm addicted to my TV just like everybody else in this room."

About 100 people attended a public hearing the commissioners called to hear comments about Benchmark's service. The commissioners are considering whether to renew the company's franchise in the county.

The subscribers echoed a list of complaints.

"Very poor. Very poor," said Joyce Teague.

Laura Martin said her bill changes from month to month and she doesn't like the programs offered.

"I think everybody ought to go with the dish (satellite)," one woman said.

Commissioner Michael Allen said the complaints were many — from reception problems, to poor repair service and slow response.

He said the problems weren't limited to one part of the county. "It seems like it's all over."

He criticized Benchmark for not having local telephone numbers for making complaints, as the company had earlier promised.

Commissioner Joe Long said his Andy Nilsson presents his letter to Bermuda Run guard J.B. Mendenhall on Tuesday.

Sen. Betsy Cochrane's Achilles Heel Is Her Home?

Bermuda Run's fence is still driving people wild. On Tuesday, Andy Nilsson marched up to the guardhouse and issued a warning that he would cut off state funds to Bermuda Run if he is elected lieutenant governor.

Behind the gate is the home of his opponent, State Sen. Betsy Cochrane.

He said Bermuda Run receives public money, but the public can't visit there. Sen. Cochrane can campaign in his town, but a guard stops him at the gate to her town.

"It's fundamentally unfair," he said. "Think about putting a wall around Winston-Salem. That's ludicrous. But that's what they have done."

Nilsson, part owner of a lamp shade manufacturer, is from Winston-Salem.

Bermuda Run may strangely be Sen. Cochrane's Achilles Heel. It's the only bad thing her opponent has found to say about her — that she lives in a gated community. But Nilsson's political shenanigans may only be a taste of what's to come.

Sen. Cochrane is the easy favorite to win the Republican nomination. Nilsson, her Republican opponent, observed Ronald Reagan's 11th Commandment — thou shalt say nothing bad about a fellow Republican — until two weeks before the primary. The Democratic opponent may not be as kind.

Nilsson presented to the Bermuda Run guard a letter addressed to the mayor and town council. If he is elected, he warned them that he would seek to cut off any state funds the town receives. Nilsson called for Bermuda Run to take down the gates and guardhouses.

It was a clever political trick, designed more to attract news cameras than to rebuke Bermuda Run. It won't damage Sen. Cochrane much in the GOP primary. But we may be in for a fall campaign in which Bermuda Run's gate becomes an easy target for other desperate politicians.

Davie High School Arts Production A Delight

To the editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to the Davie High School Arts Department for providing to the community a most enjoyable musical experience. "Calamity Jane" was presented at the Brock Auditorium this month and it was truly a captivating production.

My congratulations extend to Mr. Patillo, Mrs. Short, and Ms. Griffen, all faculty members of the talented musical department. It is quite obvious from the caliber of student performers that each one of these individuals is dedicated to their craft and devoted to their students' progress. It was apparent that high goals were set for these students and their guidance enabled each and every performer to shine. The hours of rehearsal gave way to a polished and professional musical that was entertaining to all.

We are fortunate to have these hard-working teachers and students available for our enjoyment. They give to the community a special opportunity to see fine art at its highest quality. It is a pleasure watching these young people strive to attain their dreams while learning skills that will carry each one of them on the road to success. Musical theater is an art that is much needed in our community and it is gratifying to see that it is supported by our school system. I look forward with much anticipation to next year's performance and suggest to everyone to plan to attend - you will have a most memorable evening.

Relay Teams Need Support

To the editor:
Please allow our Relay for Life Team, "Two by Two," to publicly thank the whole Davie County Community for their support of our recent fish fry. Because of their commitment to this cause it was a great success. We believe that the people of our county have worked harder than any other its size. Our paper contributes to the efforts of the teams by advertising upcoming fund-raisers. When a team has an event, please support it, if possible.

If you or your family has not been touched by this disease, thank God. We cannot be certain that we will not encounter cancer in the future; however, we can make a difference by helping to find a cure.

We would also like to thank the businesses that donated items to our team.

Again, thank you Davie County Citizens for supporting our fund-raising efforts. Together we can beat this dreaded disease. May God bless each of you for your generosity.

Graham A Good Judge Choice

To the editor:
On Tuesday, May 2, voters all over our great state will be going to the polls to make a choice. Voters of the 22nd Judicial District, Davie, Davidson, Iredell and Alexander counties, have an opportunity to elect another qualified judge for the 22nd Judicial District - Dale Graham from Alexander County.

Dale Graham is a lifelong Republican with 16 years of experience in the District, Superior and Appeals courts of North Carolina. Voters, this is a real opportunity - let's take advantage.

The choices we make on May 2 will effect our state and district for the next 10 years or more. After the 2000 Census is completed the redistricting will begin. In order to keep our districts intact to continue to elect dedicated people, we need experience. We certainly have that experience in Rep. Julia Howard. Julia has not only represented the 74th district, but has always worked for what was best for all the state since 1989.

Andrew Brock, who is seeking the 37th District Senate Seat being vacated by Senator Betsy Cochrane, also has the experience we need. Andrew has worked under the leadership of Senator Cochrane in Raleigh for some time. As we have heard for some months now, Andrew needs no on-the-job training.

Writer Judges Candidates By Past Service

To the editor:
With the days getting longer, the grass turning greener and the dogwoods and azaleas beginning to bloom, the season of spring is keeping its promise. There is another season which is also upon us, the "political season." Yard signs have popped up at every intersection and business cards and brochures of the various candidates can be found at many stores like mine.

All of the candidates promise us they will work hard for our community, our schools, will support our fire and rescue departments and make Davie County a better place. All of us have a different yardstick to measure people by. Mine is a very simple one: What have you been doing for our community before you decided to seek office?

Now, during the political season, our church breakfasts and suppers are full and our fire department fundraisers are attended. We should look hard at each candidate when they make their promises for the future, perhaps we should look at their past community service records. Have they been community-minded for years or only the last few months? Will they continue to be so if they are elected? Public service requires dedication, time and sacrifice. You do not have to be elected to be a public servant. If a candidate has no history of public service or community involvement, then we only have their promise. What will change in the future? As the old saying goes, "They can talk the talk but can they walk the walk?" Those that have a record of community service hold the same credibility with me as does the promise of spring. I know it will come every year.

On Easter Monday night, the Advance community will give everyone an opportunity to meet the candidates for register of deeds, county commissioner and school board. This will be held at the Shady Grove School gym beginning at 6:30 p.m. There will be a social mix from 6:30-7, candidate speeches from 7-8:30 and an opportunity to mix with the candidates from 8:30-9.

Hope to see you Easter Monday night.

Debbie Pullen Has Right Qualities For School Board

To the editor:
We have a great school system in Davie County, and as we look towards voting for our school board candidates, we should continue to have great expectations for our school system.

In considering our choices, would it be too much to expect a candidate to have grown up in Davie County, and to have graduated from Davie High in the top 10 of her class? Would it be a fair expectation to desire a candidate with children in the Davie school system, and with years of experience with children at the elementary, middle, and high school levels in Davie County? Should we expect a person who has volunteered in the Davie County Schools and has taught creative writing to elementary students? Someone who is also a free-lance writer and playwright, whose plays have been published and performed in North Carolina? Could we expect a candidate who has the ability to get along with others, and will be a team player in handling issues before the school board. Who, while representing Davie County as "Miss Mocksville" in 1972, was voted "Miss Congeniality" in the "Miss North Carolina" pageant? Could it be helpful for a candidate to have been raised in a family tradition of service to Davie County, as the daughter of State Sen. Donald Bingham and the late Sarah Bingham, both school board members? Would it be a valid expectation to want a candidate who is compassionate, with a unique ability to make children feel special, and to believe that they can achieve their highest dreams?

If these qualifications meet or exceed your expectation for school board, then Debbie Bingham Pullen stands out as an exceptional school board candidate. We have been close friends for over 20 years, and we stand by Debbie's integrity, compassion and leadership. We invite you to join us in voting for Debbie Bingham Pullen for school board on May 2.

Ken White Endorsed For Board Of County Commissioners

To the editor:
Thank you for this opportunity to encourage the people of Davie County to choose a very good man, Kennon (Ken) White, as one of their county commissioners.

We first met Ken about 14 years ago when he, his wife Karen (a school teacher at Shady Grove Elementary School), and their daughters joined our church, Bethlehem United Methodist Church on the Redland Road. Ken became a church leader almost immediately. An intelligent man with a keen wit, people liked him from the start. A dedicated servant of God, soon he was teaching his Sunday school class, and still teaches it to this day. Then he became the president of the United Methodist Men. He was one of the guiding stars for the establishment of our Good Neighbor Fund - a fund which distributes money to our neighbors in need.

This fund has distributed over $20,000 in less than 10 years to those in our neighborhood who need a helping hand.

His leadership in the Bethlehem United Methodist Men got him recognition on the District level, and a couple of years ago he was elected Lexington District President of the United Methodist Men, and in this role he will be on the program of the Western North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Men when it meets the last weekend of this month at Lake Junaluska.

When it came time to choose the chairman for our Building Committee for our new million dollar fellowship hall, Ken was the natural choice. He is carefully guiding us through this enormous project for our growing country congregation.

In the fall of 1996, we nearly lost Ken when he developed a deadly infection. One night, when it looked the darkest for Ken's survival, several in the church spent the night in prayer seeking God to spare his life. God did. Ken's work on earth was not over. Now he is offering himself to the people of Davie County as one of its leaders on the county commission. We are convinced that Ken will take his "can do" attitude that he has brought to our church to the County Commission. He will be committed to making Davie County an even better place to live, just as he has been committed to making our church the best that it can be. We will be making a wise choice if we elect Ken White County Commissioner.

The Myths And Facts Concerning Domestic Violence

To the editor:
As you are probably aware, April is National Sexual Assault Awareness Month.

Throughout the month, Davie Domestic Violence Services & Rape Crisis Center (a United Way Agency) has sponsored several events in order to educate the community about sexual assault. Ribbons have been placed on light poles in Mocksville, Cooleemee, and Advance in honor of the victims of sexual assault in Davie County. Our open house and various education events at local schools are to help promote awareness of what sexual assault is and to let people know that anyone can be a victim.

We would also like for people to be aware of our services and to know that we are here if you need us. We are just beginning to understand the tremendous impact sexual assault has on its victims.

Let me share with you some of the myths still prevalent about this terrible crime.

Myth: "Nice girls" don't get raped. Fact: Anyone can be raped regardless of age, sex, class, education level, attitude, or reputation.

Myth: Most assaults are committed by strangers. Fact: Approximately 85 percent of sexual assault victims know their attacker.

Myth: Men cannot rape their wives. Fact: Marriage does not mean ownership. If a husband forces his wife to have sex against her will, he is raping her.

Myth: Boys and men cannot be sexually assaulted. Fact: One in nine men will be sexually assaulted by age 18.

Myth: Victims who used drugs or alcohol before an assault were asking to be sexually assaulted. Fact: Being vulnerable to drugs or alcohol does not imply consent.

Myth: Date rape only happens to people that just met or don't know each other well. Fact: Rape has nothing to do with how well the person knows the assailant. It is not uncommon for a person to be raped by someone she or he has been dating for a long time, a former lover, or a spouse.

Myth: There are many false reports of rape.

especially date rape. Fact: Less than one percent of reported rapes have been found to be false reports. Nine out of 10 incidents of rape are never reported.

Myth: Women can easily avoid situations that can lead to rape. Fact: Most women who have been raped were in an environment they considered safe and were raped by someone they thought they could trust.

Myth: White women are more likely to be raped by black men than by white men. Fact: Only 13 percent of reported rapes are interracial, and of those that are, the majority involved white men raping black women.

All events and services that we offer would be difficult to give without the help of our volunteers. Our volunteers give freely of their time, energy and resources in order to help prevent domestic violence and sexual assault. Our volunteers are trained to help clients and to operate our 24-hour crisis line, among many other things. It takes a very special person to volunteer, as you will see if you meet any of our volunteers.

There is so much work that needs to be done to help reduce the numbers of domestic violence and sexual assault cases in Davie County. We can always use volunteers. If you are interested in volunteering please call 751-3450.

If you need help, please call our 24-hour crisis line at 751-HELP.

DEBBIE BINGHAM PULLEN

FOR SCHOOL BOARD

I grew up here in Davie County, the daughter of Donald and the late Sarah Bingham of the Smith Grove Community. I graduated from Davie High in 1971. My husband Tom and I are proud of our son Justin, 19, who graduated from Davie High in 1999; and is in his first year at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

Our daughter Sarah, 17, is a junior at Davie High. Our son Tommy, 13, is a seventh-grader at North Davie Middle School. Our schools are doing a good job for them as well.

As a writer, I have taught in all of our elementary schools, helping prepare students for the state writing test. I have seen some of the pressures that teachers face. I have experienced the pressures parents and children face. I will be a dedicated advocate for you.

I would really like to be your representative on the Davie Board of Education. Please vote May 2.

Dogs Used To Search Davie High

By Kim Justen
Davie County Enterprise Record

"We want to send a clear message. The dogs are meant to show students that we want drugs kept away from the school."

Dr. Linda Bost
Davie High Principal

It was the first time in Davie County that a planned school search was instituted. And in the end, two students were arrested on Friday morning.

Eric Dean Beal, 16, of Mocksville was charged with possession of drug paraphernalia and possession of a weapon on school property, both of which were found in his backpack.

Jonathan Robert Rowe, 17, also of Mocksville, was arrested for possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia, making three drug arrests at the school in as many days. Rowe was arrested after a search of his vehicle.

When students are found with drugs or paraphernalia, the school follows the Davie County Drug and Alcohol Substance Abuse Policy, adopted by the board of education, which includes a 10-day suspension, as well as offering help to the student. If the student agrees to counseling with a Centerpoint counselor, the school will work with the student regarding the suspension, and the counselor will come to the school.

The school administration and the sheriff's department had long talked about doing a search.

"We want to send a clear message," said Dr. Linda Bost, Davie High School principal. "The dogs are meant to show students that we want drugs kept away from the school. We don't want you to have them, but if you do, don't bring them here."

Only recently did Davie County acquire a dog trained to find drugs. Last year the department hired Officer Vicki Fields, the dog's handler. "It took about six months to get the paperwork finalized for us to get the dog approved," said Sheriff Allen Whitaker.

But a project of this size was not one that Kilo, the county's 7-year-old drug-sniffing German Shepherd could have conveniently handled on his own. It took a lot of planning.

Schedules were juggled to allow for the availability of enough personnel, and requests were made from other

Rainbows In Late Afternoon Likely Means Rain Over, In The Morning, More To Come

It's nice to see the sun return this week after the cloudy gloomy rainy period last week. The clouds moved in late Wednesday and didn't leave until Sunday morning. It turned out to be 75 hours with clouds.

During the past week, we have seen a few showers and even a thundershower. They have come later in the day, so as the rain passed to the east and the skies cleared in the west we have seen a few rainbows. If you see a rainbow in the late afternoon or early evening it usually means the rain is done for the day. If the rainbow forms in the morning, more rain is yet to come.

Rainbows form as light from the sun passes through raindrops. The light is made of different colors. Think of the light as all the different colors mixed together. As that mix of colors pass through a raindrop, the colors get separated. Different colors will bend at different angles.

That is why we see the red, orange and yellow in a rainbow. An example would be, light passing through a prism.

I read story last week I would like to pass on. Two years ago, a tornado hit a small town in Alabama killing a few people and causing much damage. A clothes dryer was found almost 300 feet from the destroyed house. Rescue workers found a 3-year-old girl inside that dryer. It seems her parents placed her in there just as the tornado hit. The child survived but unfortunately the parents did not. I would not recommend taking this course of action. It is also safer to go to the lowest level of the home away from windows.

Student Caught With Wine, Beer, Marijuana

Eric Travis Peacock, 18, of Mocksville, was arrested on Wednesday, April 12 for possession of beer and fortified wine on school property, as well as possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia. At 3:10 p.m. on Wednesday, Davie High principal Dr. Linda Bost filed a report with the Davie Sheriff's department. Soon after, Peacock, a student at the school, was arrested. Deputy Darren Ireland seized two bottles of beer, three fortified wine bottles, less than a half ounce of marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

While the school is not permitted to speak about individual cases, Bost said that in most cases, because students are under adult supervision, strange behavior becomes apparent. Peacock was released into the custody of his parents pending trial, May 11 in Davie District Court.

I Corinthians 13:4-7

Love is patient and kind, love is not jealous or boastful or proud or rude. Love does not demand its own way. Love is not irritable, and it keeps no record of when it has been wronged. It is never glad about injustice but rejoices whenever the truth wins out. Love never gives up, never loses faith, is always hopeful, and endures through every circumstance.

Through this scripture and the past year, I have learned not to take for granted the love Christ has blessed us with. Of all things we own and cherish they will not last forever except for our love. Because we have accepted Christ and love Him, He will never let our love fail us as long as we keep our trust and faith in Him.

Shannon if you would not have stepped back into my life when you did, I would not be where I am today with the relationship I have with you and Christ! For this I thank you for being my best friend & companion for life, and sticking to the promise we made to one another and to God on the 23rd of April, 1999. Like Pastor Lancaster said, "Make Christ our foundation and trust in Him, our love will never fade, but if Christ is not our foundation everything will fade."

Our love has not faded but grown stronger and still continues to grow stronger everyday. Happy First Anniversary!

Love Always, Darby

Expansion Of Student Art Programs Is Goal

The Davie County Arts Council recently received a grant for the Arts Education Community Partnerships Project, a collaborative effort of the Southern Arts Federation, the N.C. Arts Council, and the GE Fund.

The purpose is to provide skills training and guided planning experiences for teams of community leaders in education and the arts, and to develop strategic plans that will make the arts a basic part of education for children pre-kindergarten through teens in 12th grade.

A two day retreat was held in March at the Brock Performing Arts Center to bring community organizations and educators interested in the arts together to discuss and evaluate the current status of arts education in Davie County and to plan for the future of arts education throughout the community.

Organizations attending the retreat included the Davie County Arts Council, Davie Schools, Davie Home Schools, Davie Family YMCA, Davie Theatre Co., Mocksville-Davie Parks and Recreation, The Art Group, and free-lance writer and educator Donna Jakob.

These organizations represent the founding team of the Davie County Arts Education Partnership and will continually be expanding the Partnership to include more of the community's leaders, organizations, businesses, artists, and educators that will help accomplish the vision of the future of the arts in the county.

The Partnership wants to ensure that Davie County becomes a county that celebrates the arts by providing all of its residents the opportunities to participate in, learn, and experience the arts; by providing generous public and private support for the arts and arts education; and by providing a daily arts experience to students in the county and home schools.

The Arts Education Community Partnership's project also included the opportunity for the Partnership to apply for a grant from the N.C. Arts Council to plan and implement an arts education project for the 2000-2001 school year.

A project was created between the Davie Arts Council, Davie County Schools, Davie Family YMCA, and Mocksville-Davie Parks and Recreation, The Art Group and Donna Jakob to develop and offer in-school and after-school artists' residencies and student study guides in collaboration with the Arts Council's Kid's Night Out! series.

Next season, the series will offer school matinees in addition to the evening performances and that will create opportunities for more of the county's residents to come and see live performances for young audiences at the Brock Performing Arts Center.

Hands-on residencies will be developed for students to learn more about how plays are created, classic stories, writing, puppetry, and African-American history, dance, and music.

The Davie County Arts Education Partnership invites all interested individuals and organizations to an introductory meeting on Tuesday, April 25 to hear more about the Partnership. The meeting will be held at the YMCA on Cemetery Street from 7-8 p.m. and will showcase a few of Davie County's performing arts students from the elementary and middle schools. A reception will follow.

Whodunnit?

No charges were filed after drivers gave conflicting stories about what happened in a wreck on South Main Street at Lexington Road at 12:53 p.m. last Thursday. The drivers, Luther Albert Jones, 30, of Lexington, and Kenneth Eugene White Jr., 19, of 141 Marconi St., each claimed the other ran a red light before entering the intersection, reported Mocksville Police Officer R.A. Donathan. There were no witnesses.

Habitat For Humanity To Accept New Applicants

The family selection committee of the Davie County Chapter of Habitat for Humanity will accept applications for a Habitat house on Saturday, May 13, at the Davie County Public Library in Mocksville from 9 a.m. - 3 p.m.

Applications will also be accepted Saturday, June 3, from 9 a.m. - 3 p.m. at the library.

To be considered for a Habitat house, the family or individual must meet the following qualifications:

- be willing to partner with Habitat to build their house as well as other houses;
- be in a certain income bracket;
- have an acceptable credit line;

and

- produce a statement of weekly or monthly income for themselves and spouse, if married.

Committee members will be available to help applicants fill out forms and to answer questions.

Habitat for Humanity is a Christian organization dedicated to helping people who live in sub-standard housing to obtain more livable and comfortable housing. It is not a hand out, but a hand up.

Volunteers are always welcome to serve on committees, build houses, or make monetary or material contributions. The Davie chapter will soon complete its fourth house.

Census Workers Still Needed In Davie County

Lib Woodward doesn't understand why more Davie residents aren't applying for jobs with the Census.

Pay ranges from $8.50 to $12.75 per hour. Workers could easily fit the 20 or so hours expected a week into the own schedules, on evenings and weekends. "They could pretty much set their own hours," the Davie County recruiting assistant said.

Workers are paid weekly. Office workers earn $8.50 per hour, enumerators (Census takers) make $11.25 and crew leaders make $12.75. Enumerators (the greatest need in Davie) and crew leaders also receive 32.5 cents per mile for use of their personal vehicles.

To qualify, applicants must fill out an application and other paper work, and take a written test of basic skills. A driver's license and Social Security card must be brought to the test, with the next one scheduled for April 26. The process takes 1.5-2 hours.

The U.S. Constitution mandates the Census, and it's not too late for residents to return forms. It costs $35 for an enumerator to retrieve the information, $3 when the form is returned by mail.

The Census, Woodward said, determines how many seats North Carolina will get in the U.S. House of Representatives. The date is also used to allocate billions of dollars of federal, state and local funds for community services and programs, including education, housing, community development, health care for the elderly and job training.

The task of sending workers to retrieve information will begin in a few weeks.

"To remain fully staffed throughout Census 2000 operations, we must constantly recruit people - even after field work begins," Woodward said. "We're looking for people who can schedule Census jobs around their current employment, as well as retirees, participants in government programs and people who are not currently employed."

"We strive to have people work within the neighborhoods in which they live. We need a representative work force, reflective of the community," she said.

To learn more or to schedule a test time, call 659-1149 or toll free, 1-888-325-7733.

Woodson Foundation Donates $50,000 For Bullhole

COOLEEMEE—Efforts to acquire land and develop a nature park on the South Yadkin River here gained a large boost with the announcement of a $50,000 donation by the Salisbury-based Margaret C. Woodson Foundation.

A long-time philanthropist and resident of Davie County, Woodson enjoyed close ties to Coolee, a former cotton mill village. The foundation continues her support for a wide range of charitable projects, such as the Brock Performing Arts Center in Mocksville, Jerusalem Volunteer Fire Department, Coolee Swimming Pool, Davie County Public Library and numerous programs in Rowan County.

The foundation's contribution will help match a grant requested by the Town of Coolee from the N.C. Parks & Recreation Trust Fund for $250,000. One of the RiverParks two large picnic shelters will be dedicated to Margaret C. Woodson. A campaign is underway to raise a total of $1.1 million for Phase I of the planned nature park, which will include land acquisition, a river outfitter facility and park office, a canoe portage, as well as picnic shelters on both the Rowan and Davie sides of the property.

Over 600 park supporters attended a rally on March 25 at the town's historic cotton mill to kick off the campaign to build RiverPark at Coolee Falls, "The Bullhole."

Health Dept. Promoting Child Immunizations

Chickenpox is thought of as a childhood disease, according to Melody McCune, RN, health department child health nurse, because most cases occur in children 5 to 9 years of age.

This disease can be spread through the air when an infected person coughs or sneezes. After a child becomes infected, it usually takes about two to three weeks before symptoms start. This period of time is referred to as the "incubation period."

At the end of the "incubation period," a child may feel as if they are itching the flu. They may have a fever and will come down with a rash - the "pox" of chickenpox. The pox normally starts as little red spots, as a rash on the chest, stomach, back, or face. Some children may only have a few spots, clusters of spots, or even hundreds of spots over a 3-5 day period. Eventually, the spots will change into clear blisters filled with fluid. These blisters will become cloudy, break open, and form a scab. Scratching the scabs may lead to infection and to possible permanent scarring of the skin.

"A child with chickenpox is contagious and can infect others for about two days before the rash develops and until all the pox have crusted over," McCune said.

Nearly 4 million Americans get chickenpox each year. Most of the cases reported occur in children between 1 and 14 years of age, with the highest infection rates in children ages

5 to 9. Even though most children get over chickenpox without having complications, this disease can be much more serious in adults. Adults are 5 to 10 times more likely to have complications, and these complications are 14 to 18 times more likely to lead to hospitalization. According to the North Carolina recommendations immunization schedule, says McCune, "Varicella (Chickenpox) vaccination is given at 12 months of age."

"In recognition of National Immunization Week," says Barry Bass, health director, "The Davie County Health Department will be joining with other colleagues in communities nationwide to help boost childhood Varicella immunization levels."

April 17-28, the health department will be sponsoring a coloring contest to promote childhood immunizations, especially Varicella (Chickenpox). For more information about the Varicella (Chickenpox) vaccination, contact the Davie County Health Department at (336) 751-8700.

Vision & Values

Elect: Kennon A. "Ken" White
Davie County Commissioner

Conservative & Responsive: An elected leader has to be accountable to all citizens. I pledge to invest our County resources so that they will maximize and protect our Quality of Life in Davie County. We must keep our Hospital, insure the best fire and police protection and provide for recreation.

Implement "Smart Growth" Strategies: Promote planned growth and avoid negative impact on our roads, schools and county services. Encourage the preservation of our rural heritage, our farmlands, our streams and environment.

Keep our property taxes low: Focus on industrial recruitment; the right kinds of industry that will provide our citizens with good paying jobs and expand our tax base.

Maintain our Quality Education Programs: We have excellent schools. We must work closely with our elected School Board to make sure our students and teachers have the tools and resources they need in the classroom.

Water, Sewer and Public Utilities: I would recommend the study of establishing a Utilities Commission, take politics out of the operation and development of public utilities. Form a non-partisan commission that would create a working partnership between the County, Mocksville, Coolee and Bermuda Run that would enable all of the citizens to realize the savings generated by a larger operating entity.

County Planning Board Scheduled To Hear Five Requests April 25

There will be a meeting of the Davie County Planning Board on Tuesday, April 25, at 7 p.m. in the Commissioners Room of the Davie County Administration Building, Mocksville.

Merrill Watts has applied to rezone approximately 1.27 acres of land from Industrial (I-1) and Residential (R-20) to Highway Business Special Use (H-B-S) for an auto sales and manufacturing home sales lot. This property is located off the east side of U.S. 601 N. just south of Bowman Road and is Parcel 52.03 and a 3/10 acre portion of Parcel 52.01 of Davie County Tax Map B-3.

Earl and Glenda Doby have applied to rezone approximately 5.04 acres of land from Residential (R-20) to Residential Manufactured Home (R-M). This property is near the end of Myers Road, S.R. 1457, and is Parcels 45, 49, 50, 51, and 51.01 of Davie County Tax Map C-6.

Sherry McCulloch has applied to rezone approximately 0.876 acres of land from Residential Agricultural (R-A) to Highway Business Special Use (H-B-S) for a business office. This property is located off the west side of Oak Grove Church Road, approximately 1/4 mile north of Sain Road, and is a portion of Parcel 31.03 of Davie County Tax Map H-5.

David Black and Countrytime Custom Homes has submitted for sketch approval a 12 lot single family residential subdivision located off the west side of Baltimore Road across from Beauchamp Road. This 11 acre property is Parcel 111 of Davie County Tax Map E-7.

The Planning Board will review a request to change the name of a portion of Gunter Lane to Paps Way. The road name change is due to Gunter Lane being impassable at the terminus. Upon approval of the road name change, residents along Gunter Lane in the affected portion, will be re-addressed with a new house number and the new road name.

The county's zoning map will be discussed.

All parties and interested citizens are invited to be heard in favor of, or in opposition to the proposals. Prior to the meeting, all persons interested may obtain any additional information or ask any questions by visiting the planning department on weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. or by telephone at (336) 751-3340.

what they need to be focusing on, because we could win them by a lot more."

The other team that Davie has presumably overlooked but survived was South Rowan in 5-3 and 4-2 scares. Nonetheless, Davie has turned it up when it matters, beating powers North Davidson and West Forsyth and taking an unbeaten league record in the final CPC game, April 25 at home against West Forsyth.

Whitley came through, as she and Shannon Handy (8-1) have all year, but Reavis is afraid that walking a tightrope week in and week out will come back to haunt the War Eagles, who stomped Reynolds 54-11 in four games the previous two years.

"I think the girls just walked in and thought they were going to walk all over Reynolds," Reavis said. "They take those games lightly and don't focus on by Stacey Handy and Hilton.

Still, Reavis was less than impressed.

"We had five other situations where we could have scored with the bunt and did not put the bunt down," she said. "So the past couple days we've been working on bunting. It wasn't one of our better games."

Meanwhile, Whitley resumed her damage-control brilliance, giving up frequent hits but finding a way to nail down the staff's sixth shutout.

"She did real good," Reavis said. "Like usual they hit her, but they weren't his with people in scoring position. They got a runner on third one time with two outs. That was the only runner they got past second base."

Notes: Whitley has surrendered two runs over her last 12 innings, becoming the perfect complement to Shannon Handy. "We have that luxury of keeping the other teams guessing on who's going to pitch," Reavis said. "Although Reavis would prefer

The Man: Ross Smith Has Coming Out Party

Fans cherish flame-throwing pitchers, students adore home-run gorillas and little kids will take flash over substance any day. But coaches wouldn't take anything for a gritty, gutsy gamer.

Drew Ridenhour leads Davie County in three important offensive categories, and runners haven't bothered to merely bluff a steal on the rifle catcher. Brad Willard clinched two stirring comebacks in the Central Piedmont Conference with seventh-inning hits. Sophomore Cody Wright shocked the baseball world with four straight wins, including a complete-game culling of high-powered West Forsyth.

But the War Eagles would probably not be knocking on the CPC championship door if it weren't for Ross Smith, the left fielder-leadoff man who exhibits all the traits associated with a gamer.

A prime example was last week at Reynolds when Davie (10-7, 6-1 CPC) rode Smith's biggest day to another dramatic one-run win. After Reynolds carried a 3-0 lead into the seventh inning, Smith slapped a game-tying double and threw three scoreless relief innings as Davie stabbed Reynolds - which coughed up a 5-1 seventh-inning lead in the first meeting - in the gut for the second time this year, 4-3.

Coach Mike Herndon described Smith's spirited attitude and will to win.

"Ross has done an outstanding job, not only the things he does on the field but Ross is a team leader emotionally," Davie's second-year coach said. "If somebody doesn't do something, he's the first one to jump on them. He'll tell you right away: 'You need to make a play.'"

"He's been a big key to our success in the conference. He always comes through. I don't know where we'd be without him," Smith deflated the Demons in two stages.

He stepped to the plate with the bases full, two outs and Reynolds and Will Jones, who came two outs from a no-hitter, nursing a 3-1 lead. But Smith held up under 1-2 stress, poking a two-run double the other way. Smith wasn't finished. For the third straight inning, he stranded the leadoff runner, coaxing a grounder and fly ball with the tying run at second.

"I love being in that situation," he said after picking up his third win.

Smith has won fans' hearts. He has a 1.69 ERA in 20 2/3 innings. He leads the team in runs (17) and doubles (seven) and is hitting a cool .314. And he hasn't committed a single error in left. The shocking development has stunned Smith as much as teammates.

"It's been a lot more than I expected," he said. "I expected to have a good year, but not quite as good as it has been. I'm just glad I've come through in situations for the team because we've worked hard all year and we deserve it."

Seth Correll Latest To Add His Name To Golf Team's Heroics

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

An off-day from two top-four players is almost a certain recipe for doom for most high-school golf teams.

Davie County, though, is not your ordinary golf team.

Week after week, an off-day by one of the stalwarts has become someone else's opportunity to shine, and Seth Correll was the latest to seize the chance in a Central Piedmont Conference match last week at Pudding Ridge.

Shawn Brooks was the obvious hero, firing a 3-under-par 33, yet Correll was the man of the moment when he stroled into the clubhouse waving his 38 scorecard for everyone to see.

Greg Brooks and John Landen, the Nos. 3-4 seeds, struggled by their standards at 39 and 44, respectively, but the War Eagles got a huge lift from an unexpected source as Correll mounted a top-four charge in just the third start of his career. Not bad for someone who played baseball as a freshman and sophomore.

"Seth came up big," Coach Doug Illing said after the junior helped Davie retain its eight-stroke lead over West Forsyth at the halfway point of the CPC race. Davie tied West at 145, followed by Reynolds at 147, Mount Tabor at 151 and South Rowan at 169.

"When you No. 6 shoots 2-over, you're up on everybody else's No. 6. Most people's No. 4 is going to bring in a 38 or 39, so that really helped us out. That was a big score, that was the difference in us being able to tie."

Shawn Brooks, who has only needed 138 strokes to finish his last four rounds, sustained his incredible tear by tying teammate James Stewart for the best round of the year (33) and becoming medalist for the third time in four matches. West Forsyth's Jason Harris shared medalist honors, although the Tennessee signee has yet to record a win outright.

"Right now he's in a zone," Illing said of senior Brooks, who has flourished with the CPC chips down. "He feels it. He's very confident playing No. 1 right now and he's backing it up. He's proving to everybody that he's not been forgotten."

Stewart finished at 35 as the War Eagles, who won the first eight matches outright, preserved their 438-446 lead over West without their top game. With 36 holes remaining in the CPC, Reynolds is 20 back at 458, Tabor at 464 and South Rowan at 494.

"If we're tying people playing our best golf, then I would kind of be concerned," Illing said. "But I feel pretty good that we didn't play our best and we're still in first place."

Although he's been overshadowed recently by Shawn Brooks, Stewart continues to display remarkable consistency, shooting between 33 and 38 in all nine matches, including a 35-34-35 the past three rounds.

Comeback Kids Strike Once Again

War Eagle Baseball Team Scores Four Runs In Final At-Bat For Win

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

WINSTON-SALEM - Davie County's varsity baseball team has perfected all the comeback tricks, especially the one where someone rescues the gonered-to-the-railroad tracks just before the train arrives.

The War Eagles, who have six come-from-behind victories in the Central Piedmont Conference, came back from the grave again on April 18, scoring four runs in the last inning for a 4-3 victory at Reynolds, the second time this year Davie has staged a miraculous rally over the snake-bitten Demons.

The waves of drama leave Coach Mike Herndon shaking his head. How can a team that is batting a mediocre .258, including a woeful .225 the past seven games, and failed to get a hit through 6 1/3 against Will Jones keep winning the close ones? How can a team look dead for six innings, go 0-for-its-first-19 at the plate and still escape?

"(Jones) threw real well," said Herndon, whose club visits West Forsyth on April 25 to determine the CPC regular-season championship. "We were not sharp with the bat and we Bentley never hit anything hard. But the thing about us is, we just hung in there.

"I think their coach every game is to see how mad the coach can get before they start playing."

Nothing worked for Davie for six innings. Not even Davie's ace, Cody Wright, had an answer for Reynolds in the early stages, as the Demons took advantage of two leadoff walks to methodically build a 3-0 lead.

Meanwhile, Jones relied on control and induced ground ball after ground ball. Topgun Drew Ridenhour bounced into a double play in the first, Jones retired the side the next three frames and shrugged off walks in the fifth and sixth, carrying an astonishing no-hitter into the seventh.

Duane Phillips Picked To Play In All-Star Game

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

The constant smile on Duane Phillips' face reinforces the obvious. Life is good. In most ways, it couldn't be better.

After becoming a big name as a junior, Phillips established himself among the premier players in the state last winter. He became the school's first 1,000-point scorer in over 20 years, averaged 24.9 points, 4.5 rebounds and 4.3 assists and led Davie County to the winningest season since the school originated in 1956.

Last week, mere days after being named to the all-Northwest team for the second straight year and making the Associated Press' second-team all-state, it only got better. Phillips was nominated to play in the East-West All-Star Game on July 18 at the Greensboro Coliseum, the first Davie male named to the elite squad since Dwayne Grant in the late 1970s.

"When (Coach Jim Young) came up to me, I thought he was congratulating me on making (all-state)," said Phillips, a member of the West. "I wasn't expecting it at all, so I liked it."

Worth Noting ...

Mitchell Roberts and Amanda Cudd of South Davie's track team added their names to the school record book with winning performances in the shot put and 600 run, respectively.

Emily Clodfelter clouted two home runs and Davie's senior and Aubrey Demoyers also connected for long balls as Davie's JV softball team decimated Reynolds 23-0. Amanda Slink threw three innings.

Jessica Whitley of Davie's varsity softball team landed a complete game shutout in a 2-0 win over Reynolds.

Duane Phillips became the first Davie male selected for the East-West All-Star Game since Dwayne Grant in the late 1970s.

Senior Ross Smith delivered a game-tying hit and pitched scoreless innings in relief as Davie wiped out a 3-0 deficit and beat Reynolds 4-3.

Errors Continue To Plague South's Tigers

It's been the same story all season long for South Davie's baseball team.

Andrew McClannons is a good enough pitcher to beat a lot of teams in the Piedmont Middle School Conference, but the Tigers haven't been good enough defensively to complement their right-hander.

That was the case again last week as North Rowan turned two throwing errors into seven-run first inning, dubbing South 13-2.

McClannan, a control pitcher who relies on his fielders to make plays, enticed ground balls from the first two batters of the game. But both plays were botched by South's porous defense, and a strikeout of the third batter was the first out instead of the third. The mistakes only mounted as South sank to 1-6 overall and 0-5 in the PMSC.

"I didn't think that North was as good as some of the other teams we've played, and we should have been able to play a little closer to them. But we just made a bunch of errors, gave them way too many outs and cost ourselves the game," said Coach Todd Bumgarner, who contended that the Tigers could have played competitively had they been able to make routine plays and avoid the disastrous first inning.

"It should have been 1-2-3. We had E-5, E-6 and a strikeout. We pretty much gave it to them in the first inning, and we never recovered."

As a result, the Tigers absorbed their second straight defeat by the 10-run rule in five innings, getting outscored 38-2 the past two games, including 25-1 by West Rowan the previous week.

The only sign of improvement was six hits, a season high for the low-voltage Tigers. Matthew Sparks led with two hits, while McClannan, Tim Erb, Billy Riddle and Greg Cox added one apiece.

"We did better at the plate than we had been doing," Bumgarner said. "We fouled some pitches off, we worked the count in our favor and we did a lot of things we hadn't been doing all year. But unfortunately we just couldn't catch it."

Consequently, McClannan's record has suffered severely. Bumgarner, who has raved all year about McClannan's improvement from 1999, expressed considerable empathy for the fallen pitcher.

"What can you say?" he said. "McClannan has done a great job all year. His record won't show it. He's just had some lousy luck. He's run into some good teams, he's kept some good teams down and I'm proud of the way Andrew's pitched."

"Just like that first inning: He gets two ground balls and a strikeout. What more can you ask out of a pitcher? There's nothing else you can ask from anybody. You're not going to expect anybody to go out there and strike them all out. Obviously, he's not going to do that, but he does get ground balls and pops, and we're just not making the plays behind him."

"I know it's frustrating for him, and I've talked to him about it. I told him to just keep his head up, keep playing, keep doing what he's doing and hopefully we can turn things around in the last four games."

South plays at Knox on April 25, then at home against Erwin on April 27.

North Davie, which has struggled most of the year as well, lost 9-6 to Mooresville last week. The setback dropped the Wildcats to 2-6 overall and 2-3 in the PMSC. They play visiting Corriher-Lipe on April 25, then at West Rowan on April 27. North and South have their rematch May 1 at North, which lost their first meeting 4-3.

South Davie Tennis Team Drops 6-3 Decision To Erwin

Mooresville and Erwin are considered among the elite in the Piedmont Middle School Conference, and no one knows that better than South Davie.

"They're one of the top teams in the league, them and Mooresville," Coach Barry Whitlock said after the Tigers, who lost 9-0 to Mooresville earlier in the year, were defeated 6-3 by Erwin last week. "They have a real good team."

The Eagles seized five of six singles duels to clinch the match early. Jason Overbey, the Tigers' top player, was South's only winner in singles.

"The bright spot was Jason winning at No. 1," Whitlock said. "He's been a surprise. The matches he's gotten beat have been 8-4 and 8-5 to some real good people."

South won two of three in doubles, however. Overbey teamed with Chris Moxley for a victory at No. 1, and Jeffrey Mighion and Ryan Patrick triumphed at No. 2.

"I'm pleased with them," said Whitlock, whose team is 3-3 thanks to forfeits to China Grove and Knox. "We've done what I kind of expected. Kannapolis (a 5-4 loss), we should have won that match, but I figured we could play with Corriher-Lipe (an 8-1 loser to South). And the next two matches are teams that are about equal to us, so we've got a chance to beat North Rowan and West Rowan if we play like we've been playing." Whitlock likes the way Moxley, a seventh grader from North Davie, has been playing.

"I still think our boys are improving and making progress," said Whitlock, whose team plays at West Rowan on April 25. "Chris has been playing real good. He's been improving."

Two More South Track Records Fall

Records continue to fall like rain for South Davie's track and field team, which competed at Kannapolis last week.

Mitchell Roberts and Amanda Cudd were the latest to etch their names in the Tigers' record book. Roberts, who was third in the discus, won the shot put with a throw of 42-9, breaking Neil Rice's 40-8 set in 1999. Cudd had a 2:08 in the 600, a record-setting first-place run.

South had two other first-place performances, Bridget Laitimore in the shot put and Tiffany Turner in the triple jump.

Steven Allison, Tyler Lowe and Dewayne Collins also placed for South's boys. Lowe was third in the 200, fourth in the 400 and fifth in the triple jump; Allison was second in the long jump and fourth in the 200; and Collins was fifth in the high jump.

Adding points for South's girls were Andrea Dwiggins (second in high jump and fourth in 200), 400-runner Alyse Bowden (third in 400), Christy Sparks (fifth in shot), Jennifer Leonard (fifth in discus), Victoria Harris (second in 600), Miranda Koonz (third in 600), Melissa Folds (fourth in 600) and Kelsey Dyson (fifth in 600).

South will host a meet on April 25. The regular season closes April 27 at North Davie.

North Soccer Team Beats South - Again

North Davie's soccer team thought that beating South Davie once was a great thing. So you can imagine how good they felt after beating the Tigers a second time.

"It makes it a worthwhile season with them being our archrivals," Coach John Marshall said after last week's 2-1 victory. "That's kind of how we look at our season, how we do against them. So it helps to be able to beat them twice this year."

The Wildcats, who have been outscored 13-1 by their three other opponents, have saved their best stuff for the cross-town foe, smothering South 3-0 in the season opener and jumping out to a 2-0 lead in the rematch.

And two seventh graders paved the road to the comfortable lead. Ashley Cornatzer fed Annie Haftman for a 1-0 advantage, and then Cornatzer drilled a long shot that all but sealed the deal.

"Ashley played a nice ball through, and Annie ran on it and beat the keeper one on one," Marshall said of the first goal. "Ashley scored on a nice goal just outside the 18 (for 2-0)."

Thensweeper Courtney Bates, stopper Many Lambe and outside midfielders Megan Pitts and Jodie Draughn took care of the rest, keeping the Tigers under wraps after they revived suspense by cutting the margin in half.

"My defense is playing really well," Marshall said. "They really forced the pressure and were able to keep (the ball) on (South's) end most of the time." Contrary to the first meeting, little came easy for a North team that was taken to the wire. "They came back and put some pressure on us," Marshall said of South. "They've improved since the last time we played them."

Earlier in the week, the Wildcats were pasted 5-0 by a Calvary team that ranks up there with Summit, which throttled North 8-0 on March 28. North (3-2) edged Mooresville 1-0 on March 29 for its other win.

"Calvary is real strong this year," Marshall said. "We played without three of our starters, but they were just better than us."

The Wildcats play Trinity twice next week, at home on April 26 and on the road on April 28.

21st Century PC Offers Expert Computer Help To Its Customers

Has your hard drive crashed? Can't get that new software to perform all those promised functions? Do you ever feel like throwing your computer against the wall?

Consumers who have endured computer hardware and software dilemmas will want to call on the professional assistance of "Buddy" Black, owner/operator of 21st Century PC. Buddy has more than 12 years' experience in this field, having worked as Senior Network Engineer at Forsyth Hospital, and as Project Lead at Bayer Pharmaceuticals and Culp, Inc. In developing their Y2K compliance program, Buddy also has worked with Microsoft and Comforce; and has conducted training sessions for Paul Wiles, CEO of the current Novant Health, and dozens of senior-level management at Forsyth Medical Center.

"I have always enjoyed sitting down and teaching someone," he said of his new company's goal to instruct and help users. 21st Century PC provides detailed instruction and repairs for individual and business computer operators.

21st Century PC offers service to small and medium businesses, setting up corporate email systems, networking, or maintaining current systems. Buddy Black worked extensively on Y2K compliance for a number of large industries. He has also done insurance estimates on lightning damage, and can advise owners of the best options for repair or replacement of computer systems.

Both private and corporate computer users struggle with the expanding base of software applications. 21st Century PC evaluates the needs of a home or business; gives options on where to purchase appropriate software; and can install the new software. Buddy Black estimates that an hour of his time teaching someone how to use a new program could save them weeks of frustration.

"There are a lot of things available on the Internet, but you have to know where to get them, and how to use them," said Buddy. He subscribes to Microsoft, Technet and other groups which detail the latest fixes and enhancements in the software programs.

Each program has different functionalities, default fonts and other specifics which can greatly aid a user in creating newsletters, office mail or spread sheets. A-to-Z Pet Services Provides Pets With Comforts Of Home

Don and Margaret Mosley have always loved pets and children. But when their 11 grandchildren moved away, they began a new business 7 1/2 years ago, taking care of other people's pets.

"We were doing pet-sitting, transportation, and boarding in our home overnight," said Don Mosley, who had bought a home in Winston-Salem after he retired. Their business expanded so much that the Mosleys sold their retirement home for a bigger house with 15 acres, just to accommodate the exuberant animals who loved the open outdoors.

A-to-Z Pet Services is a unique boarding opportunity for people who abhor leaving their pets confined in tight metal cages while they are away. The Mosleys have a huge 1900 square-foot basement which is climate controlled, in which the animals can play. Access doors lead to a series of six large fenced-in areas behind their house, where each pet can run outside. Six-foot fences and two separate gates allow larger and smaller pets to be separated, as they enjoy their outdoor freedom.

The Mosleys' business, which began because they could not find anywhere to leave their pets, is built around an understanding of a pet's need for both freedom and protection.

"Our numbers are based on the type of animals we have," said Don. "Our boarding is booked two months in advance because we don't compromise the care customers expect with their pets." The Mosleys interview each prospective applicant to ensure that each pet has the required shots, and that no overly aggressive animals are brought in. Pets are fed with the food they eat at home. A to Z employs three to four employees who feed the animals separately in shifts, provide fresh water and even play with them during the day.

Dr. Mitchell Spindel is the veterinarian on call, and a number of vets in the area refer their clients to A-to-Z Pet Services. While dogs and cats are boarded on-site, the Mosleys also pet-sit birds, horses, exotic animals, hermit crabs, everything from "alligators to zebras" in their own homes.

A-to-Z features a brand new grooming shop on the premises as well. Groomer Erica Dorsey has eight years' experience, and offers specialty cuts for poodles, terriers, Westies, Maltese and many other types of animals. A-to-Z will transport your animal to the grooming shop, bathe, clip nails and hair, and deliver your pet home. A-to-Z is currently offering a special with this ad: 25% off the first grooming, OR free pick-up and delivery if you bring a copy of this Spotlight.

A-to-Z runs a pet daycare service with all the comforts and freedom of home. The love and care the Mosleys give to each animal shows in the chairs and sofas they have for pets upon which to sit, and in the Easter Bunch held Saturday, April 15, for eager dogs.

"I love having animals to pet, rock and sing to," said Margaret Mosley. A-to-Z sponsors pet birthday and Christmas parties, and homemade baked treats from Salem's Barkery in Advance.

Do you love your pet? Pamper your animal with a fresh grooming or the expert daycare and boarding services of A-to-Z. A-to-Z is bonded and insured. Call Don or Margaret Mosley at (336) 784-0737 for more information today.

An Easter party for pets? That's what Don and Margaret Mosley staged for their A-to-Z Pet Services clients. Above, standing, Don Mosley, Ronda Sharpe, Erica Dorsey; seated, Corey Church, Margaret Mosley, Mary Smith and pets Libby, Hobo and Salem.

lost. We could easily be undefeated, but a loss once in a while keeps you on your toes and makes them realize that teams can beat them. So I think it's been a very good season. ... Davie can clinch the CPC title outright with a win over West, which is seeking a share of the crown, on Tuesday. ... Davie plays in a tournament at Wilmington on April 28-29.

Tina Harkness stretches at first base to easily put out the Reynolds runner.

JV Softball Still Perfect In CPC

Davie County's JV softball team remained perfect in the Central Piedmont Conference with a 23-0 trashing of Reynolds last week.

Pitcher Amanda Sink led the three-inning rout with three hitless innings and three hits, including a double and triple, as Davie banged out 17 hits and played errorless defense on the way to its fourth straight league win.

"They've played good," said Coach Bill Meadows, whose team whipped the Demons 39-1 in two games, playing a total of seven innings because of the mercy rule. "It was Reynolds—they weren't strong as you know."

Dawn Singleton, who homered, and Emily Clodfelter, who doubled and slammed two homers, joined Sink with three hits, while Davie got two from Ashley Desnoyers, Lauren Comar and Wendy Griffin. Ashley Williams went 1 for 1 and Amanda Lagle 1 for 2. Davie left the door cracked for an inning, then went about its blowout business, exploding for 10 runs in the second and 13 more in the third. Desnoyers' hits included a triple and home run. "We didn't even score the first inning," Meadows said. "The first three batters got out, but then we hit the ball well."

Davie, 6-4 overall, closes its season next Monday in a tournament at North Davidson, which eked out a 6-5 extra-inning win over the War Eagles on March 9.

Christina Relak, back after missing a few matches, couldn't have staged a better return, staking Davie to a 1-0 halftime lead off a double-assist from

Notes: Ryanne McDaniel, the stingy keeper, punctuated the landmark win with a dazzling last-minute save. "It was going in the right corner, and she just barely got a fingertip on it," Garnett explained. "It hit the post and stayed out. That was by far the best save of the season." ... Davie plays at South Rowan on April 25, at Reynolds on April 27 and at home against Mount Tabor in a makeup match on April 28.

JV Soccer Team Wraps Up Another Big Win Over West

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Coach Sean Garnett didn't want Davie County's JV soccer team to be a one-hit wonder after the War Eagles shocked Reynolds 5-1 two weeks ago.

Mission accomplished. With its 2-0 victory over West Forsyth last week, Davie has wins over two teams that have had the War Eagles' number since the program's creation in the early 1990s.

"It was great," Garnett said. "As far as I know, it's the first win for Davie soccer - whether boys, girls, JV or varsity - against West Forsyth. So that says it all right there."

For forever and a day, the school has been trying to solve the Forsyth County hex and overcome the mystique of Mount Tabor, Reynolds and West. While the varsity continues to struggle across the river, the JV, as the past two weeks attest, is determined to alter the program's image.

Although drawing conclusions from JV matches is sometimes delusive, Garnett's crew is no flash in the pan. Davie whipped Reynolds and West by a combined score of 7-1, and it has ripped opponents 51-8 on the way to records of 10-2 overall and 2-1 in the Central Piedmont Conference.

"It's just an awesome team," he said. "We have eight goals scored on us and six of those were against Tabor in one game. And we're not playing sorry teams."

"They're all real excited, their confidence is way up and I think that's really good for the program, because hopefully they're going to continue that. Half of beating Forsyth County teams is mental, and they know they can do it now. I think they're figuring out what it takes to beat West Forsyth, Reynolds and hopefully Tabor."

Christina Relak, back after missing a few matches, couldn't have staged a better return, staking Davie to a 1-0 halftime lead off a double-assist from

Notes: Ryanne McDaniel, the stingy keeper, punctuated the landmark win with a dazzling last-minute save. "It was going in the right corner, and she just barely got a fingertip on it," Garnett explained. "It hit the post and stayed out. That was by far the best save of the season." ... Davie plays at South Rowan on April 25, at Reynolds on April 27 and at home against Mount Tabor in a makeup match on April 28.

Brittany Walker and Sarah Williams.

"It was a big goal because she's just coming off an injury," Garnett said of Relak, who contributed at forward in the first half and at midfielder in the second. "This was her first game back and she played real good. It was nice for her to get a big-game goal."

Fittingly, it was ringleaders Sarah Merlau and Walker who iced the victory, with Walker hitting Merlau for the insurance goal. Merlau, who has 15 goals and seven assists, and Walker, who has seven and 11, have accounted for 45 percent of the offense with 40 of the team's 88 points.

"That's amazing," Garnett said. "Brittany takes our corner kicks, and we have about five goals off corner kicks, so she's got a good foot to be able to put it in there. Plus, she's really skilled at passing. She sees the field good. Basketball probably helps her, seeing the court, and it helps her on the soccer field, too."

Merlau can change the game at an instant, having showcased kicking range of 50 yards. "She's got the best foot in probably the conference," Garnett said.

Davie's fierce defense reflected the team's hunger down the stretch, preserving the ninth shutout and exhibiting a lion's heart in the process.

"We had to really dig deep down and work real hard because they were pounding on us in the second half," Garnett said. "Everybody was dead tired midway through the second half, but I guess everybody wanted to win real hard and they didn't give up."

"I had to sub Whitney Lutz, Kristen Miller and Nicole Miller at marking back, and they had to work really hard. April Ervin was tired, Erika Ancuta was tired, my inside midfielders were tired - but we just hung together."

Notes: Ryanne McDaniel, the stingy keeper, punctuated the landmark win with a dazzling last-minute save. "It was going in the right corner, and she just barely got a fingertip on it," Garnett explained. "It hit the post and stayed out. That was by far the best save of the season." ... Davie plays at South Rowan on April 25, at Reynolds on April 27 and at home against Mount Tabor in a makeup match on April 28.

Notes: Keepers Rebecca Stockert (10) and Kathryn Phillips (six) turned back 16 West shots. "Erin Baldwin and the keepers played hard, West was just getting in on Kathryn too much," Gustafson said. "We're taking nothing away from West Forsyth. They're a strong team, they're certainly not unbeatable, though." ... Davie plays at South Rowan on April 25, at Reynolds on April 27 and at home against Mount Tabor in a makeup match on April 28.

Vote TUTTEROW

★ Ray C. Tutterow for Davie County Register of Deeds ★

The Register of Deeds office is such an important office in many ways. This office is entrusted as the caretaker of a great deal of important documents. At an early age I was taught the importance of these documents. My mother, Nancy Tutterow, worked in the office for forty-five years before her retirement. Obviously the office has changed tremendously over the years. Here we are in 2000 talking about the possibility of computerizing this office. During my mother's early days in the office the biggest technological advancement was to put in a telephone. Before that time they had to go across the hall to another office to use the phone. Many of the Register of Deeds offices in other counties have now put the records on computer files. Before Davie County goes this route I feel we should take a close look at the way the other counties have approached this issue and look at the problems they have encountered.

Our Register of Deeds office has always had a great reputation for service. If I am elected I hope to continue that tradition of service to you, the people of Davie County.

Your vote in the May 2nd Primary will be greatly appreciated

Rec Sponsoring Six Summer Camps

The Mocksville-Davie Recreation Department will sponsor six camps this summer.

The baseball camp—conducted by Davie County coach Mike Herndon, Glenn's Dale James and Asheboro's Jerry Walser—will take place July 10-14 at Mando Field in Rich Park. James, a Davie native, is a former coach of Mocksville-Davie American Legion, and Walser was Davie's varsity coach for the 1997-98 seasons.

The time is 10 a.m.-12:30 p.m. each day, the ages are 8-15 and the cost is $65. Register by July 3.

Coaches Buddy Lowery of Davie, Ron Kirk of North Davie and Howard Riddle of South Davie will lead the wrestling camp from July 10-14 at North Davie.

The time is 4-6 p.m. each day and cost $35. This camp is for rising third-through sixth graders. Register by July 3.

The boys basketball camp, for rising third-sixth, will be June 12-16 at the Brock Gym.

The time is 10 a.m.-noon each day and cost $35. Davie freshman coach Derek Kurnitsky will be the instructor. Register by June 5.

South Davie's Tim Kenney will instruct the girls' third-sixth camp from June 19-23 at the Brock Gym.

The time is 12:30 p.m.-2:30 and the cost is $35. Register by June 12.

Davie's Sean Garnett and South Davie's Jim Henderson will handle the first-sixth soccer camp from June 26-29 at Pinebrook Elementary.

The time is 5-7 p.m. each day, the cost is $30 and you must register by June 19.

And Davie's Tammy Reavis will direct the softball camp from June 26-30 at Rich Park. Age 6 through rising eighth graders can participate. The time is 10 a.m.-noon each day and the cost is $35. Register by June 19.

Call Joe Boyette at 751-2325 to inquire about any of the camps.

Daddies, Daughters Share Special Moments On Their Special Night

By Vicki Robinson
Special to the Enterprise

The excitement had been building for months.

Amanda Robinson of Advance suggested to her daddy they practice their dance routine in preparation for the big night. Last year, daddy taught her how to dip, and she could barely wait for the fun this year.

Mitchell Miles of Woodridge, N.J., had to adjust his schedule for the trip to North Carolina. For the last two years he wouldn't miss escorting his little girl, Molly Miles of Mocksville, on their special night together.

It was the chatter among the girls at school to see who was going this year, how were they fixing their hair and what would their dress look like.

As the days grew closer, florists began getting calls for corsages. The day of the big dance, they were swamped with calls for balloons and pretty flowers.

As the hour approached, with their prettiest dancing dresses on and their hair styled in curls and bows, they helped daddy adjust his tie. Then each daughter held her daddy's arm as she was escorted on this special evening created just for them.

Gary and Kirsten Hatley (right) of Mocksville are joined in a dance by Kelly Sexton.

It was April 1, the third annual Daddy-Daughter Date Night dance, sponsored by the Mocksville/Davie Parks & Recreation Department, with help from area businesses.

More than 250 daddies and daughters from across the Triad made memories that last a lifetime. It was daddy's opportunity for bonding time with his daughter, and his chance to show her how a real gentleman treats a lady - and to expect no less.

The Brock Gym was transformed into a fantasy, prom-like atmosphere with balloon bouquets, twinkling lights and candles. Limousines lined the parking lot as chauffeurs opened the doors and couples sporting tuxedos and frilly dresses stepped out for red carpet treatment.

Each couple began their magical night by posing for a complimentary photograph. Appetizers, many donated by area businesses, were available. Candlelit tables were there for relaxing between dances.

But there wasn't much rest. The dance floor was full all evening as couples danced to everything from the Electric Slide, to the Macarena, and Daddy's Little Girl. Door prizes were awarded to everyone, offering more opportunities for bonding.

Some couples were grandfather/granddaughter, uncle/niece, and father figure/daughter figure.

Next year, the dance is scheduled for March 31. Register early, the event was sold out this year. There's even talk about a Mother/Son dance. Call 751-2325 if interested in attending.

The couples wait anxiously as winners of door prizes are announced.

Musselman, Page Honored By Mocksville Woman's Club

The Mocksville Woman's Club observed Federation Day on Wednesday, April 12 at Bermuda Run Country Club. The club was organized and federated in 1962. From the beginning, the club has promoted educational, civic, cultural, domestic and social betterment for the community.

Special guests included Emily Sprouse, 2000 Sally Southall Cotton scholarship winner, Stacie Winters and Amanda Bailey, 2000 Community College scholarship winners.

The theme of the celebration was the 1960 era, to correspond with when the Mocksville Club was organized. Members wore gloves, hats and tea dresses. Upon arrival, they were greeted with music from that time period including "Blue Moon," "Why Do Fools Fall In Love," and "Duke of Earl."

Members and guests enjoyed a display of books, household items and clothing from the 1960s. An exhibit of Federation Day items including the 1962 club charter, scrapbooks, photos and other memorabilia was shown.

The celebration began with Marlene Shamel, president, ringing the Federation Day Bell. After a call to order and special greeting, Pauline Bosnian presented an inspirational thought titled "The Betterment of Womankind," an excerpt from a 1962 Sunshine Magazine.

Hettie Maize led the club in the pledge to the flags. "A Collect For Clubwomen" was read by Peggy Page.

Sheila Tutterow, Federation Day Chairperson, presented an introduction to the program, a video titled "Volunteerism In Action." The video provided historical and current information about the Federation at the local, state, and national levels.

Club president Marlene Shamel shared remembrances of the past from former club presidents and charter members. Virginia Evans, Betty Hall, Margie Taylor-Smith, Carroll Johnson and Dorothy Horn were recognized as charter members. Doris Carman presented each member with a Mocksville Woman's Club History 1962-1999 Booklet which she had compiled.

The Club Litany, a responsive reading, was led by Marjorie Atwell. And, "The Clubwoman's Hymn" was sung by Gail Kelly, Lydia Shore, Doris Carman, and Peggy Tutterow.

Perce Musselman was named local Citizen of the Year for 2000 by Mocksville Woman's Club. He is the first male recipient of the award. The award is given annually to an individual in Davie County. Musselman was recognized for total community involvement, especially in the field of fundraising.

Peggy Page was named Clubwoman of the Year for 2000. She was recognized for her tireless work within the club, work within her church, and her community service work.

To conclude the observance, Pauline Bosnian gave a blessing of dedication and then adjourned for lunch.

A sit-down luncheon reminiscent of the early 1960s was served featuring congealed frosted emerald salad, a Hotel Robert E. Lee Sandwich, and chocolate mousse with fresh whipped cream. Original 1960 paper doll party favours were arranged at each place setting, a memento of the celebration day. Centerpieces of canella leaves, spirea and scotch broom in silver bowls centered each table. Love songs from the 1960s decade provided background music.

Forty-two members and guests attended the luncheon. Club hostesses for the event were Belle Boger, Annie Lois Grant, Peggy Tutterow, Lydia Shore, Pauline Bosnian, and Sheila Tutterow.

East Davie Club Makes Plans

The East Davie Extension and Community Club met on April 11 at the home of Grace Parrish.

The program for the month was "Special Projects," presented by Clynes Smith. The club made plans on how they could help their community for the year 2000.

The next meeting will be on May 16 at the home of Shelby Gregory with Joyce Myers as co-hostess. Anyone who is interested in helping their community is invited.

Kindergartner Cares

Hannah Whittington, a kindergartner at W.R. Davie, wants to help the Earth.

She, along with her family, will be giving the elementary schools an Earth Week gift.

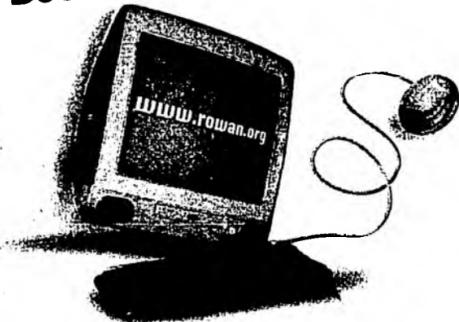

"We'd like to share our Earth Day mission with everyone," she said. "Kids can make a difference - beginning young is the place to start. Together, young and old, we can make a difference for today and tomorrow."

The gift (a special notebook) has information on problems faced in schools, businesses and homes. It also contains ideas on what people can do together to help the Earth live.

Hannah and her brothers love nature and the outdoors, so it's only natural that they are concerned about the environment.

The wedding is planned for Aug. 26 at Calvary Baptist Church.

Silver Eagles Visit Schiele Museum

Wednesday, April 12, the Silver Eagles Seniors visited the Schiele Museum of Natural History and Planetarium in Gastonia.

Spring flowers were blooming along the sidewalk that led to the entrance of the museum. As they entered, on a table sat a large basket of colored Easter eggs. Yellow and red onion skins, purple cabbage, marigold blossoms or broom sage can be used to color eggs.

In the Planetarium Cinema, the group enjoyed "More Than Meets the Eyes." This star show featured constellations, planets and other sights visible to the naked eye, views through a microscope and other high-powered instruments.

Next was the museum, with many galleries, North American habitats and wildlife, Native American, North Carolina Hall and Bob Cat's Den.

A walk through one of the many trails, they saw wild spring flowers in bloom, an old mill and the creek that runs through the 16 acres of Piedmont Forest. On April 30, back country folk will be busy at shearing the sheep.

Lunch was at Red Lobster.

The rest stop on I-77 was the place for a break and short business meeting.

Rose Caudle gave devotions, reading Romans 8:28. Leaving the thoughts, "God is so good to us, and we are so fortunate to receive so many blessings each day." The meeting closed with prayer. Each member got a fortune cookie. The treasurer's report was given.

Senior Doings dates, times and places were announced. Call and register for any programs you can attend. They welcomed Davis Leonard as a new member.

Sherrill Schroeder thanked the group for cards and gifts during her surgery.

The Trauma Of Rape: Center Helps Victims

By Pam Blake
Sr. Administrative Support Specialist
Davie Domestic Violence Services

Davie Domestic Violence Services and Rape Crisis Center, a United Way agency, serves victims of domestic violence and sexual assault.

April is National Sexual Assault Awareness Month. For most people, rape is the most serious life crisis they will have to face, with a few exceptions. It is a time of overwhelming turmoil, confusion, and disorganization.

"The person may be concerned about the way he or she is feeling in response to the rape. The emotions felt may be extreme and conflicting - fear, rage, panic attacks, or worthlessness. One may even be afraid he or she is "going crazy" or will never recover and be able to go on with life again, as it was..."

But the victim will.

What the rape victim is experiencing is normal after a very serious life crisis. Dealing with the pain is the first step in the process of recovery. The worst is over.

The following was written by a volunteer with DDVS and the Rape Crisis Center.

Sexual assault is not about how hard I fought when I tried desperately to stop my assailant. Sexual assault is not about being as still as death while I waited for the silence to fall. Sexual assault is not the timeframes of confusion, fear and doubt cultivated by my assailant for a season.

Sexual assault is not about the feeling of shame given to me by my assailant, leaving me their guilt to carry as if I were to blame.

Sexual assault is not about the wounds inflicted upon my body and soul because I had to do what I was told.

Sexual assault is not about the feeling of filthiness and of anguish, that my tears could not wash away at times, given to me by my assailant's assault or denial.

Sexual assault is that I survived and able to call someone for help! I am living because God brought me from there to here.

If you or someone you know has been raped, contact Davie Domestic Violence Services and Rape Crisis Center at 751-HELP. We are here for you.

Clarksville Community Club To Help Needy Children

The April meeting of the Clarksville Cooperative Community Club met with Sadie Hall Taylor on Friday night, April 7.

In the absence of the president, Jeannie Gilbreath, Nola Rich, vice president, conducted the business meeting. Members were urged to make a Christmas shoebox for underprivileged children, to be collected at the September training session at Camp Caraway. They will be distributed through the Franklin Graham ministry.

Pan Beck reported on the recent state meeting in Greenville, with good attendance, approximately 350 women from across the state. It was the first meeting since leaving the national organization.

Pan Beck, as family issues leader, brought a program patterned after the area meeting. "Who will get Grandma's yellow plate." She urged club members to record the history of prized items handed down from previous generations. She also gave tips on how to care for things such as property transfers, health papers, insurance and other important items. The program was presented at the area meeting by Nita S. Royal.

The meeting closed with the club collect.

Cake with strawberries and spring refreshments were served by Sadie Taylor and daughter, Sallie Thompson, to new member, Melissa Walker Brown, and to Patricia Shelton, Pauline Harpe, Mary Nell Richie, Harriett Downey, Frances Gough, Sherrill Schroeder, Nola Rich and Pan Beck. Heart sister gifts were exchanged for Easter and birthdays.

SUPPORT QUALITY CHILDCARE AND ENHANCE THE DEVELOPMENT OF FUTURE GENERATIONS IN DAVIE COUNTY!

Help Turn Dreams into Reality . . . by Turning Bricks into the Helen C. Gantt Child Development Center

The Center is fast approaching completion in August 2000 at the Davie Campus of the Davidson County Community College. This state-of-the-art facility will

- Support education and training of current and future childcare providers;
- Create a positive "home-like" learning atmosphere to serve as a model for parents and providers;
- Serve up to 60 children while providing a hands-on learning site for current and prospective childcare providers; and
- Work with local agencies to ensure availability of high quality and affordable childcare for families who need it.

DID YOU KNOW?

- More mothers are employed outside the home in Davie County (84%) than the state (74%) and national (62%) rates.
- Less than 25% of children under six live in homes where one parent stays at home.
- Over 600 people registered for Early Childhood Education curriculum courses and/or continuing education workshops at Davidson County Community College in 1998-99.

The late Helen Cline Gantt's dream was to support local childcare providers in their efforts to enhance the quality of childcare throughout Davie County. The dollars spent for early childcare and education are an investment in the future of this community. The Committee for Early Childhood Development requests your help in making Helen's dream a reality.

ELECT PAT MOORE FOR REGISTER OF DEEDS

Paid for by Pat Moore, Candidate

Vision & Values

Elect Kennon A. "Ken" White Davie County Commissioner

Conservative & Responsive: An elected leader has to be accountable to all citizens. I pledge to invest our County resources so that they will maximize and protect our Quality of Life in Davie County. We must keep our Hospital, insure the best fire and police protection and provide for recreation.

Implement "Smart Growth" Strategies: Promote planned growth and avoid negative impact on our roads, schools and county services. Encourage the preservation of our rural heritage, our farmlands, our streams and environment.

Keep our property taxes low: Focus on industrial recruitment; the right kinds of industry that will provide our citizens with good paying jobs and expand our tax base.

Maintain our Quality Education Programs: We have excellent schools. We must work closely with our elected School Board to make sure our students and teachers have the tools and resources they need in the classroom.

Water, Sewer and Public Utilities: I would recommend the study of establishing a Utilities Commission, take politics out of the operation and development of public utilities. Form a non-partisan commission that would create a working partnership between the County, Mocksville, Coolee and Bermuda Run that would enable all of the citizens to realize the savings generated by a larger operating entity.

Paid for by the committee to Elect Ken White Davie County Commissioner

Re-Elect

Carl Boon
Republican for Davie County Commissioner
179 Ivy Circle
Advance, NC 27006

Dear Fellow Residents of Davie County:

In 1992 and again in 1996, you elected me a Davie County Commissioner. Since that time, I have strived to do what I believed was best for all of our citizens. Over the past eight years it has been my privilege to serve you to the best of my ability and to make myself available and accessible to all of you.

The experience I have gained while serving eight years as a Davie County Commissioner has prepared me to deal with new challenges our county government faces on a daily basis. I have lived in our county for 28 years and I am deeply committed to rendering public service for the greater common good of the citizens of our county. I again ask you for your support in the upcoming commissioner's election.

Sincerely,

Carl Boon

Mark, Pauline Thorne Celebrate 60th Anniversary

Mark and Pauline Gibson Thorne of Mocksville recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary with relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Thorne were honored with a dinner party March 25 at the Western Steer in Mocksville. A short slide presentation of the couple's beginnings in marriage and life together was given.

A tiered anniversary cake was designed and decorated especially for them by their daughter.

On Sunday, March 26, they were also honored with a luncheon at the Society Baptist Church Fellowship Hall immediately following the worship service.

Hosts of the celebrations were the couple's daughter, Shirley Thorne of Winston-Salem, and the couple's daughter and son-in-law, Mary Elizabeth and Johnny Nantz of Harmony.

Mr. Thorne is retired from Ingersoll-Rand of Mocksville. Mrs. Thorne worked for Burlington Industries. Both are life-long residents of Davie County.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorne were married March 23, 1940 by the late Dr. James P. McCabe in First Baptist Church in Martinsville, Va. They were attended by their brother and sister-in-law, the late Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gibson of North Coolemees.

Mark and Pauline Gibson Thorne

On April 20, Maundy Thursday will be at Wesley Chapel with Holy Communion. Friday, April 21, the Good Friday service will be at Farmington UM Church. The Rev. Dianne Marsden will conduct both services. The Easter morning service at Wesley Chapel will begin at 8 a.m., followed by breakfast at 9. Sunday School will begin at 10 a.m.
Last week I failed to mention that the Mount Olive Choir came and sang at our Revival. Many thanks. We enjoyed them very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dill, along with several members of the Eastern Star from all over the state, met in Dillsboro, N.C. and took a train ride across the mountains.
James and Lella Essic spent the weekend at their home in Caswell County. They returned home on Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hoffman and daughter, Allison, of Greensboro, were dinner guests of Bob and Kathy Ellis and Ethan Boger on Saturday evening. Stefan and Meredith Hoffman joined them later.

Jim, Chinnera, and Kendra Latham of Newport News, Va., and Audra Latham of Charleston, S.C., spent the weekend with their parents, Harmon and Nora Latham. They came especially to attend a shower, given for Allison Hoffman and Ethan Boger. Tom and Toni Horton spent their vacation last week in Florida.

First Presbyterian Plans Services

On Thursday, April 20, the office of Tenebrae will be observed at Mocksville First Presbyterian Church.
The church will be dimly lit throughout the silent service. A gradual extinguishing of candles is symbolic of the fading loyalty of the disciples and friends of Jesus, as well as the fading of the Light of the World as Jesus died.
The service is ordered from words of Scripture without exposition. The music will reflect and remind us of the awesome act of Jesus' death on the cross. Communion will be observed during this service.

Come as a part of this special Holy Week service. The church is at 261 S. Main St. (parking is behind the church). 751-2507.

Courtney Sunrise Service Set

Courtney Baptist Church is having an Easter Sunrise Service starting at 6:30 a.m.
There will be special music and Pastor John Brown will lead the brief sermon. The service will be held outside on the church grounds, weather permitting. In case of foul weather it will be held inside the church building.
Courtney Baptist Church is located just off U.S. 601, south of Yadkinville. There are signs on 601 south that can guide you to the church.

Cornatzer Homecoming Sunday

Cornatzer United Methodist Church will hold its annual homecoming on Sunday, May 7, during the regular 11 a.m. worship service.
The Rev. Kermit Shoaf will be the guest speaker. Shoaf was raised in the Cornatzer community with Cornatzer United Methodist being his home church. The Davie Family and Lonna McDaniel will provide special music.

A covered dish meal will be held in the fellowship hall following the service. Everyone is invited.

Revival Starts Sunday, May 7

Cornatzer United Methodist Church will hold its annual revival starting Sunday, May 7, at 7:30 p.m.
The Rev. Bobby Swaim will be the revival preacher. Swaim is pastor of the Fairview United Methodist Church in Trinity. He was pastor of the Dulin-Smith Grove United Methodist Circuit from 196-1992.
Special music will be provided on Sunday night by the "Glory Street Quartet" from Sedge Garden United Methodist Church near Kernersville.

Monday night will feature the "Sounds of Faith" from Davie County and Tuesday night "The Gospel Light Quartet" from Davie County.
The community is invited.

Jerusalem Baptist To Celebrate The Resurrection

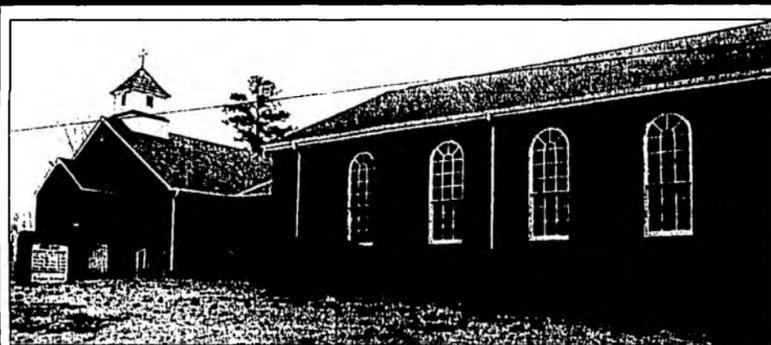

The congregation of Jerusalem Baptist Church, U.S. 601 South, invites everyone to their Resurrection Celebration this Easter Sunday beginning at 10 a.m.
The focus of this special service will be to exalt the Risen Christ.
There will be a nursery provided for children. It promises to be an experience filled with inspiration. For further information, call 284-2328.

1st Presbyterian Sunrise Service

The First Presbyterian Church Sunrise service will be on Sunday, April 23, at 7 a.m. in front of the church (in case of inclement weather, the service will be in the sanctuary) with a breakfast in the fellowship hall to follow the service.
The Easter Service will be held at the regular service hour - 11 a.m.

Good Friday Service Set

First and Second Presbyterian churches invite the community to a midday Good Friday service, Friday, April 21 at 10 noon, at Second Presbyterian Church, 400 Pine St., Mocksville.

Obituaries

Jesse Lee Singleton

Mr. Jesse Lee Singleton Jr., 60, of N.C. 801 South, Advance, died Sunday, April 16, 2000, as the result of a boating accident.

Funeral services were Wednesday, April 19 at 2 p.m. at Eaton Funeral Chapel with the Revs. Jack Wallace and Bruce Gwyn officiating. Burial was in the Elkhaville United Methodist Church Cemetery.

The family requests memorials be considered for Davie County Rescue Squad, c/o Sandra Lipscomb, 1718 U.S. 64 E., Mocksville, or to a charity of the donor's choice.

Mr. Singleton was born Dec. 29, 1939 in Davie County to the late Wilma Motley Singleton of Mocksville and the late J.L. Singleton Sr. He worked for the DOT for 12 years before becoming owner and operator of Singleton Grading. He graduated from Davie High School in 1958 and collected toy tractors and excavating machinery.

Survivors include: his wife, Connie Tucker Singleton of the home; 2 sons and daughters in law, Timmy and Mary Brown Singleton, and Michael and Debbie Lankford Singleton, all of Advance; 2 grandchildren; and a brother, John A. Singleton of Mocksville.

Virginia Myers Jones

Mrs. Virginia Myers Jones, 77, of Greensboro, died Sunday, April 16, 2000, at the Masonic and Eastern Star Home.

Funeral services will be Thursday, April 20 at 2 p.m. at Mocks United Methodist Church with the Revs. Bruce Gwynn and Gregg Little officiating. The body will be placed in the church 30 minutes prior to the service. The family was to be at Eaton Funeral Home Wednesday from 7-9 p.m.

The family requests memorials be considered for the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, 700 S. Holden Rd., Greensboro, 27401.

Mrs. Jones was born July 25, 1922 in Davie County to the late George Z. and Fannie Phelps Myers and was retired from R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. with over 20 years of service. She was a life-time member of Mocks United Methodist Church where she taught Sunday School in the Primary Department. She was a member of the Eastern Star and a volunteer at the Eastern Star Home and enjoyed crocheting.

Mrs. Jones was preceded in death by her husband, Paul William Jones on Feb. 22, 1980, and by 2 sisters and 5 brothers.

Survivors: a daughter, Lyndia Cornater of Advance; a son, Keith L. Jones of Mocksville; 5 grandchildren; 2 great-grandchildren; 3 brothers, Herman (Sleepy) Myers, Bill Myers, and J.T. Myers, all of Advance.

Summer Camp Offered For Children Without Own Horses

The Summer Horse Camp with the Mocksville/Davie Parks & Recreation Department is perfect for children ages 9-15 who wish they had a horse of their own.

Throughout each week at camp, each child will adopt a horse of their own to groom, tack up and ride. Children will have western riding lessons daily, as well as instruction in the fundamentals of safety and handling, proper grooming, hoof care, nutrition, saddling and bridling, and even barn chores.

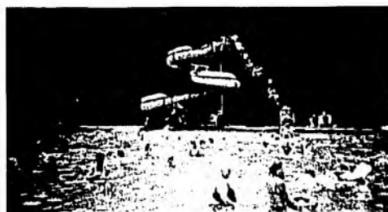

They will spend the mornings with the horses, and the afternoon by the pool. They'll cool down, then have more fun learning about horses with games, quizzes and prizes.

At the week's end, each child will participate in the Horse Beautiful Show & Obstacle Course Challenge. Campers will receive a certificate of accomplishments, awards, and even a picture of their equine friend.

Space is limited to 14 participants per week, ages 9-15. Camp is $150 per week, per child. This includes a $50 nonrefundable deposit due by May 15. The camp will run 7 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday. Weeks available are June 5-9, June 12-16 and July 10-14.

For more information, call Vicki Robinson at 751-2325. Deadline to register is May 15.

Campers cool off at the pool after morning lessons.

The horse camp trail ride includes a scenic view of Pilot Mountain.

2000 Healthy Kids Day Held At Davie YMCA

An event devoted to making health and fitness fun was held on April 8 at the Davie Family YMCA.

The event featured activities such as parent child cardio kickbox class, a timed and poker fun run/walk sponsored by the Davie County Health Department, an informational booth, face painting, an Easter Egg Hunt, and more. Entertainment was provided by the Shady Grove Elementary School Jump Rope Club and Unicycle Club.

"For the YMCA, good health isn't just for the body. It involves the spirit and mind, too," said Michele Shaver, health enhancement director. "The YMCA is dedicated to providing the resources with which children can develop into healthy adults - this takes more than just eating right and getting exercise."

"2000 Healthy Kids Day was celebrated by Ys across the country to call attention to the importance of improving the health of children, their families and their communities.

Studies have indicated that parents are powerful role models for their children in developing good health habits and good values. Just as children whose parents get regular exercise are more likely to do the same, children whose parents treat them with respect are more likely to treat others that way.

"We work to help strengthen families and nurture the healthy development of children all year long," said Shaver. "In everything we do, we try to help build values like caring, honesty, respect and responsibility."

For more information on these and other programs offered by the YMCA, call the Davie YMCA at 751-9622.

Port-A-Pit Barbecue Chicken To Benefit Special Olympics

Special Olympics Davie is taking orders for plates for its May 4 fundraiser.

The last day to order will be Friday, April 28. All dinners must be pre-ordered. Dinners are $6 a plate, which includes 1/2 chicken, baked beans, slaw, roll, and dessert. The hours are 11 a.m.-6 p.m. at the First Methodist Church on North Main St., Mocksville.

Students have been "busy bunnies" in Mrs. Wirth's first grade class. They have made all of the Easter crafts for the bunny brunch. There are three new students.

Kerr Wall and Gloria Pruitt's third graders have read "Sarah, Plain and Tall." They look forward to reading the sequel, "Skylark." In social studies, the students have been studying economics. They have learned about scarcity, opportunity cost, consumers, producers, and interdependence.

Shady Grove Elementary
The PTA meeting was held in the gym on Tuesday, April 4. The program began with the first and second grade unicyclers and jump ropers performing. Keith Turman, from Hillsdale United Methodist Church, gave the invocation and a short talk about the importance of family and parenting. The kindergarten through second graders then performed short skits and songs about family. Officers for PTA next year were installed: president, Pam Keiser; vice president, Shawn Duncan; treasurer, Loretta Bean; and secretary, Cindy Whitaker.

A reception honoring volunteers was held on Thursday, April 13, in the media center. Mrs. Baugh's and Mrs. Walker's kindergarten classes sang to the volunteers. Special awards were given to Cindy Buchanan, "Volunteer of the Year," and to Bermuda Village, "Business Partner of the Year. Thursday was Cindy's 30th (7) birthday, so she was able to enjoy a Happy Birthday song from all of the volunteers and staff who attended the reception.

McDonald's Night was Tuesday, April 11, at the Clemmons McDonald's. Several children won Happy Meals when their names were drawn from the sign-in box. May 9 will be the last McDonald's Night for the year. Be sure to sign in at the door for prizes. Skate Night is Tuesday, April 25. It will be the last Skate Night of the year. Children cannot be dropped off. They must be with a parent or responsible adult.

Venezia's Night is each Monday until the end of the year. You can eat in or pick-up but there are no deliveries for the Shady Grove night.

A special birthday party for all students with April birthdays was held in

THE NEW Davie Place RESIDENTIAL CARE

Davie Place's Resident of the Week

Evelyn Sallye Ferebee was born November 11, 1926. She is a native of Davie County. Mrs. Ferebee was raised on the Twin Brook Farm where her father was a herdsman. Evelyn married John Ferebee on October 23, 1944. She and her husband ran a dairy farm on Rainbow Road until 1978. At which time they moved to Angel Road where Mr. Ferebee and their one son John still reside with their grandson and three great grandchildren. Mrs. Ferebee is a member of Eaton's Baptist Church. Evelyn invites all of her friends to visit her at Davie Place where she has been a resident since April 30, 1997.

Mocksville Elementary School Students of the Week of April 10-14: Jeremy Doss, Nicolas Benites, Ashlyn Byerly, Elizabeth Santis, Heather Cartner, Ashleigh Davis, Joel Shaler, Echo Dugofator, Cailyn Brake, Jessica Stanley, Sarah Dunlap, Brannon Shortt, Sharee Knight, Ben Bates, Leasha Hairston, Shayna Dillard, Raheem Alexander, Rachel Creason, Tyler Sanford, Anna Smith, Heath Hoover, Leah Booe, Adam McKnight, Brandi Capps, Cady Brown, and Kevin Sides.

All Hall the Sharks. After four weeks of reading and writing, the Sharks in Jeremy Brooks' second grade class have defeated the Whales. All the children worked hard. They are getting ready for end-of-the-year events. After visiting Mother's Day Tea projects and finishing up ocean studies. Students continue to learn and use new math concepts. The children are subtracting wizards. They have made two digit subtracting look easy to Ben Bates and Bart Sandy who were students of the week. Nora Crow was the student of the month.

The second grade class of Shirley McMillan and Debbie Brown are doing a unit on fairy tales. The class is discussing character, plot, and sequence. The class will later rewrite their own story by using a different character and plot.

Students of the week are Jason Gallimore, Haley McKnight, Anthony Ressa, Tracie Thomas, Cassidy Holt, Jordan Neal, Cody O'Mara, Jacie Hillbourn, Tyler Shelton, Kaycee Dixon, Kerr Moore, Jennifer Mithem, Sara Handy, Brian Bullins, Lauren Lloyd, Stefan Mock, Kelsey Shipman, Gregory Longworth, Monika Zakamarek, Chantle Kellogg, Carly Comatzer, Mary Beth Godley, Paris Laughlin, and Matthew Sawicki-Johnson.

Students have been studying and using formulas in math classes. Language arts classes are studying poetry and preparing poetry booklets. In science, students are studying genetics. They are designing family trees to show inherited traits. On April 12, Dr. Tamisen Jewitt from Wake Forest/Bowman Gray School of Medicine presented a program on genetic disorders. In social studies, Parashah students are continuing the study of Asia, focusing on China and Korea.

Students of the Month for March were: Kevin Robinson, Michelle Lester, Read Plot, Becky Howard, Austin MacFarlane, Corey Peoples, Britany Folds, and Jamar Bratcher.

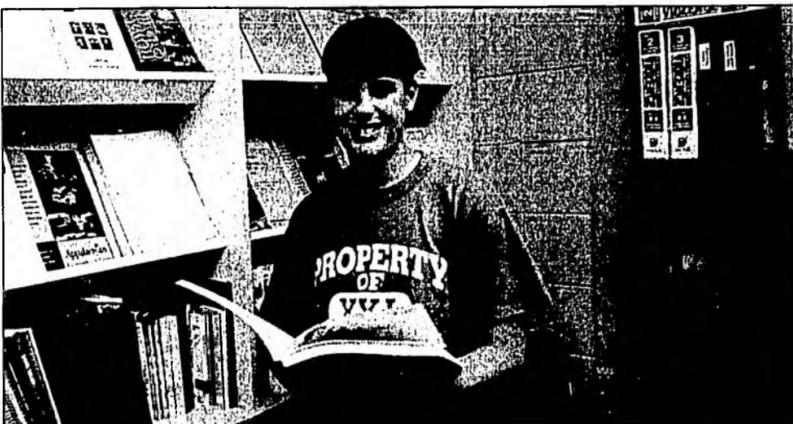

On April 5, students took their last field trip of the year when they visited SciWorks in Winston-Salem. The team had a visit to the planetarium for programs on conservation and on light and sound. The students are reading the novel, "Mrs. Frisby and the Rats of NIMH," during science time as they study an integrated unit on ecology. Social Studies classes are doing research on Eastern Europe. They look forward to Russian Day on May 12.

Language arts classes are studying poetry as they learn about rhyme patterns, figures of speech, imagery, and difference types of poems. Math classes about to take the "SAT" test in May. Davie County Crosby Scholars will be getting extra coaching. Scholars are offered the chance to spend an hour after school receiving advice on how to improve their test scores.

Facilitator Kristine Kokoski predicts that students attending the workshop will increase their scores significantly. As well as assessing academic development, the results from SAT tests, along with the Preliminary SAT, are often used to access scholarship money from many sources.

South Davie seventh grader Zach Yokley finished among the top 10 in the state in Geography Bee competition. - Photo by Robln Fergusson

South Seventh Grader Knows Geography

Zach Yokley has the answer for boredom. "If I get bored, I just pick up an encyclopedia," the South Davie Middle School seventh grader said.

That love of knowledge placed him in the top 10 in North Carolina in recent Geography Bee competition.

"I've loved it all my life," he said. "I've been reading atlases and encyclopedias since I could read. I love to study." Sponsored by the National Geographic Society, the Geography Bee is in its 12th year for students in grades 4-8.

Zach, the son of Dale and Lynn Yokley of Mocksville, won his school bee in January, and placed in the top 100 in the state on a written test.

He competed in the state competition in Raleigh on April 7. He got the right answer in eight of nine rounds. He's already thinking about competing again next year.

In addition to reading encyclopedias and atlases, for the state bee, he wrote down all the answers to geography questions in a Trivial Pursuit game.

His parents, to say the least, are proud. "They think I should carry this and math, what I'm good at, into college and a career, he said.

Board Of Education Briefs

May School Board Meeting

The May meeting of the Davie County Board of Education has been scheduled for May 1 at 7 p.m. at South Davie Middle.

Teacher Reassignments Coming

Dr. William Steed, superintendent, stated that teachers who are being effected by the closing of Central Davie and the opening next fall of Comatzer Elementary should know their new school assignments by the end of the school year.

Policy Revisions Considered

The School Board is reviewing possible revisions to the Grading and Reports and Standards and Accountability policies, and plans to vote at the May meeting. The Standards and Accountability policy would replace the Student Progression and Placement policy. The changes to the standards and grading policies would bring Davie County schools into compliance with the state's new policies on promoting students to the next grade. Gateways into the next grade would be set up in third, fifth and eighth grades. In order for students to pass into the next grade, they would be required to pass end of the year testing with a level three score or better. In addition to meeting the state and local graduation requirements, high school students would be required to pass an Exit Exam of Essential Skills (beginning with the graduating class of 2003), and a passing score on a computer skills test (beginning with the class of 2001).

Field Trip Policy Revised

The changes to the Parties, Field Trips and Other Extracurricular Activities policy allows the superintendent to approve upcoming activities on behalf of the board. The board requested the proposed changes after several field trips were approved after the fact. In those cases, such as teams going to state competitions with little advance notice, the teams received approval from the superintendent and attended the event.

Field Trips Approved

A field trip to Erwin, Tenn. has been approved for JROTC students to participate in adventure training exercises April 19-21.

Also approved is a field trip for the high school softball team April 28-30, for a tournament in Wilmington.

HVAC Bid Approved

After receiving three bids meeting the budget and bidder qualifications for the replacement of HVAC equipment at Shady Grove and Pinebrook, the board awarded the project to Logan Heating and Air Conditioning.

Board Selects A New Audit Firm

After reviewing a comparison of audit bids, the Board voted to hire a new auditing firm, Dixon Odom, for a one year contract. The previous firm, Turlington and Company, had presented a bid significantly higher than the others being considered, reported Tammy Naylor, presumably because of the additional classes needed to handle government entities. The Davie County school system was the only governmental group being handled by the firm. Dixon Odom handles several other school systems in the area.

Budget Amendments Passed

The following budget amendments were approved: an increase of $7,854 for additional substitute pay fund, interest on technology and transportation; an increase of $7,176 additional fuel allotment; an increase of $79,488 for the budget for Kindercamp; a $4.23 decrease due to overages in the Peer Coaching grant.

New Dental Insurance Program

The board approved joining the dental insurance program offered by Colonial Life. The benefits will become effective July 1. The new plan will cover preventative and basic dental needs, but will not cover orthodontics. Previously, the dental insurance reimbursement program was maintained by the Davie County Schools main office, however the program ceased working at the end of 1999.

Student Reassignments Approved

The board approved 180 requests for students to be reassigned to other schools. This included two requests received after the March 31 deadline. Steed reported that most of the requests were due to child care issues, and stressed that parents were responsible for transportation of reassigned students. The main office is in the process of sending written notification to all the parents who made requests.

Crosby Scholars, Parents Focus On College Applications

Davie County Crosby Scholars and their parents recently attended a workshop to focus on college application.

Led by Davie High graduate, Clay Alexander - now with the Admissions Office of Greensboro College, the group considered criteria for choosing a college and put themselves into the role of having to select candidates from a set of application papers. The workshop is repeated twice each year since scholars must attend before making college applications as seniors.

With students all over the country about to take the "SAT" test in May, Davie County Crosby Scholars will be getting extra coaching. Scholars are offered the chance to spend an hour after school receiving advice on how to improve their test scores. Facilitator Kristine Kokoski predicts that students attending the workshop will increase their scores significantly. As well as assessing academic development, the results from SAT tests, along with the Preliminary SAT, are often used to access scholarship money from many sources.

As a competitive dancer and choreographer, she has little spare time, but saw the advantage of being a Crosby Scholar at the start of her junior year.

Her academic performance, commitment to a drug-free lifestyle, community service, and active participation in school make her an excellent role model for other Crosby Scholars, who must aspire to all these goals. Program Director Alan Hyland hopes that Langdon will continue her Crosby pledge of "giving back to the community" by returning to her high school from time to time to share her experiences at state with other scholars.

Langdon will receive her award from Dan Angell at Davie High's Awards Night on May 4.

The Davie County Crosby Scholars Program is just finishing its third year of growth. There will be two more before it comes of age. With almost 900 Davie County students enrolled as Crosby Scholars, a significant number of local teens have committed to a regime of long term planning: a focus on continuing education and academic development; community service; active participation in school; and a drug-free lifestyle.

Scholars receive regular rewards of recognition to maintain their motivation. Middle School Scholars will soon attend Bowling and Skating Parties, watch in-school movies, and enjoy free ice creams. High School Scholars recently had free admission to a semi-formal dance. All Scholars are offered advice and encouragement to work towards ongoing education and meeting graduation requirements.

The fifth grade students are reviewing for End of Grade tests after finishing a unit on probability.

On March 28, the team had an awards rally. Respect and Responsibility Awards were presented to Brian Ballard, Amber Blake, Kaitlin Hall, Jordan Michael, Brittany Rowe, and Ariane Vargas for good citizenship. Awards for most Accelerated Reading points were given to Rachel Humphries, Drew Mossman, Lauren Pastewka, Brittany Rowe, and Lance Stout. Highest averages were recognized in the following subjects: Math - Kena Gentry, Diego Fernandez Brandi Ray, and Michael Smith; Science - Rachel Humphries, Lauren Pastewka, Kara Seaford, and Lance Stout; Social Studies - George Holder, Jake Lloyd, Amanda Sloan, and Jennifer Spillman; and in Language Arts - Brittany Cooper, Abby Riddle, Kara Seaford, and Ariane Vargas.

Prime Time activities are focusing on conflict resolution as the students complete a book called "A Peaceable Place." The annual checkers tournament is underway and each prime time has sent a student to the semifinals and final rounds. A winner will be announced soon.

Rocket students look forward to the Academic Award night on April 28, the end of the year Rocket Award breakfast on May 16, and Field Day on May 17.

Coolee Elementary

The fifth grade students of Susie Wilcox, Lou Suptin, and Karen Fleming have worked hard on their biography units. They have completed all eight Thinking Maps to go along with the person they read about in their chosen biography. They also completed a Person Book and will give a speech to their fellow students about their person. They have learned much about a person that they were unfamiliar with just as a short time ago. The students have also received their mid-term reports. They have suddenly realized that school is almost over. The thoughts of middle school now begin to form in their minds.

The fifth graders also participated in Family Fun Night. They performed two songs from "Tarzan," using instruments - some homemade - to accompany one song, and learned dances to go along with both songs. They made the audience feel like they were among the jungle creatures with Tarzan swinging from the vines.

The third grade classes of Brent Wall, Joan King, Donna Henderson and Janet Jones have been doing a unit on embryology. Each class was given around 20 eggs and the children were in charge of taking care of them. They were also getting ready for Family Fun Night in which we sang some songs from the movie, "The Lion King." They are only a few weeks away from end of grade testing so they will be reviewing hard the next few weeks.

The kindergarten classes visited the N.C. Zoological Park on Monday, April 10, and saw many of the animals they have only read about or seen pictures of before. Volunteers helped; without them such field trips would be impossible. The children have worked to learn the words and motions for the "Mickey Mouse Club March" and "Zipdee Do Dah." They gave an outstanding performance at Family Fun Night on Thursday, April 13.

The second graders of Anne Brown, Tara Lowery, Ellen McDaniel and Mary Shouse performed "Bare Necessities" and "I Wanna Be Like You" for Family Fun Night. They also made large torn paper art figures of Shere Khan, Baloo, Kan, and Bagheera.

Jennifer Godbey, Lisa Dressler, Beth Wall, and De'ima Miller's fourth grade students performed songs from "Mary Poppins." Using brooms, students created a chimney sweep scene. They danced, tossed their brooms, and built small pyramids. They are proud of their diligent preparation as well as their final effort.

The first graders of Beverly Stewart, Dawn Ludwick, Ramonda Shelton, and Amy Garnett performed songs from the movie "The Little Mermaid." All of the girls wore mermaid tails and the boys all wore tie-dyed t-shirts. The students and teachers sang "Part of Your World" and danced to the music of "Under the Sea."

The students and staff joined together on center stage singing and moving to "Zipdee Do Dah." With the audience singing along. It was a grand finale to a great program.

Spanish students this quarter are studying many aspects of the Spanish language and Hispanic culture. Sixth graders are studying per-graders are learning basic vocabulary and studying Mexico and Spain. Students in the sixth rotation are learning about the Easter celebrations in Spain and Mexico and about the background of Cinco De Mayo (Fifth of May) in Mexico. The classes will make their own versions of mosaics from Spain and an Ojo de Dios (God's Eye), a Mexican art form.

Seventh graders have reviewed basic vocabulary and also have done units on weather (complete with their own videotaped weather forecasts in Spanish) classroom objects and adjectives. They will soon study animals and sports. They have studied Central and South America and the Easter customs for several Spanish-speaking countries. They have made their own Guatemalan "Worry Dolls" and will make their own pinatas, read a Spanish-language magazine, listen to selections of Hispanic music, and play Spanish Pictionary with vocabulary words.

Eighth graders finished an in-depth study of the basics of Spanish grammar. In the process, they have illustrated and labeled their own family trees and made posters on the computer describing themselves. We have held a weekly in-class contest to see who could guess the "Secret Teacher" from the clues given in Spanish. Following a food vocabulary unit, they took a trip to Monterrey's Mexican Restaurant in Salisbury and ordered their food in Spanish. Their final project is to make a video that would teach to someone else about one of the concepts they have learned this semester, but they have to write the script themselves and use no English. A final "Quiz Bowl" (complete with buzzers) will be held on the last day to see which of the two classes remembered the most vocabulary over the course of the semester, watch "El Rey Leon" ("The Lion King"), and play Spanish Pictionary with vocabulary words.

Mrs. Leonard and the Lighthouse team made the new quilt in the media center.

The Endangered Species Club has adopted three manatees. Their names are Ariel, Star, and Amanda. They live at Homosassa State Park in Florida. They have also adopted a loggerhead Sea Turtle named Destiny.

Belinda Garner and Scarlet Hollman's team of Sea Otters has been submerged in several units over the past month. Such units are space, Eastern Europe and a poetry study. Students are beginning a research project involving a wax museum in social studies. To wrap up poetry study, students created a poetry book with their original poems and recreated a 60s coffeehouse to share them. Internet sites have been a basis of study for the space unit.

Brad Cornher was South Davie and Davie County's Spelling Bee winner. Brad went on to the regionals and came in the top 10.

Matt Hauser and Brandon Calloway were part of the Battle of the Books Club that won the county championship last week. This week they compete in the regional competition in Wilkesboro.

Sea Otters Annual Spring Social is April 14. Kim Young has been conducting a month-long manners/etiquette class in preparation.

Sixth grade art students are weaving small bags this week after finishing their Marian Landscapes. Seventh graders have finished their weaving and are starting the unit on drawing starting with their own hands. Eighth graders have been busy in the computer lab writing Children's Books about famous artists.

Central Davie Elementary Students are enjoying spring break. Snow days earlier in the school year shortened spring break for Davie County students. School will resume Monday, April 24.

Students of the Week for April 14 included: Colin Bohannon, Eden Cassidy, Cindy Cook, Josh Elder, Rose Goodrich, Kristin McMillan, James Mighion, Keri Robertson, Stephen Serfass, Zachary Spough, Matt Van Hoy, and Jack Wombough.

Bus Student of the Week was Cassandra Tilley.

Dates to remember: Monday, April 24, classes resume; Tuesday, May 2, McDonald's Night; Tuesday and Wednesday, May 2-3, End of Grade Testing.

William R. Davie Elementary Citizenship/Easter Luncheon was held on April 13. Students participating were Raychel Sims, Jordan Toney, Callie Vega, Jennifer Jordan, Dillon Dalton, Haley Caudle, Courtney Moore, Carlos Moreno-Luna, Krystal Caudle, Megan Beck, Daniel Portillo, Alice Hoskins, Josh Potts, Esmeralda Hernandez, Zach Rogers, Diana Rodriguez, Iris Nava-Teodoro, Tyler Lee, Austin Gobbie, Chastity Spry.

Citizens of the Week for April 10-13 were Alex Pupok, Austin Hill, Tyler Hixson, Raleigh Wesley, Jose Diaz, Taylor Anderson, Kelsey Tift, Megan Melford, John Weatherman, Amber Carrion, Brandon Sowers, Francisco Romero, Kris Grannaman, Pjrick Harris, Josh Griffith, and Victor Mendez.

Kindergarten screening was held April 5.

Fourth grade students in Judy White's class held their final spelling raffle for the year. Winners were Patrick Jarris, Dewayne King, Sy Easing, Ashley Herring, Sarah Daywalt, Casey Keaton, Kayla Plumley, and Jocelyn Speight. Students enjoyed a hot dog luncheon during lunch period in the class. Each time a student made 100 spelling, his/her name was placed in the raffle. Each grading period students were chosen to participate in a fun activity. Ann Appel helped with spelling activities. Students recently made baskets under the leadership of Ann Appel, class volunteer.

Fourth graders are preparing for their Raleigh trip on May 11.

Lori Latham kindergarten teacher, has a new baby boy, fifth grade teacher, Jen Meagher, recently gave birth to a son, Jenny Pence, is first grade teacher, was married, and is Jenny James.

Pinebrook Elementary The "Let's Do Lunch" program was a success. During March 267 parents and other guests visited classrooms and explained to students what they did for a living. The students got to learn about a wide variety of occupations. The top three classes with the most participation were Ms. Brown's first grade with 45 guests, Mrs. Harpe's second grade with 27 guests and Mrs. Itlan's first grade with 18 guests.

First graders in Wendy Brown's class went on a field trip to reinforce the lessons they had learned in class about nutrition. The students took a tour behind the scenes at Lowes Foods in Clemmons. They saw where the groceries are delivered to the store and the process they go through before they are put out into stock. They also went in the large freezer case that holds all the perishable goods, and received supplies of healthy snacks. The class then went out for lunch at Venera's Italian Family restaurant in Advance. They watched their pizza being baked tossed before being placed in the ovens. They returned to school with full stomachs and a new understanding of how the food service industry and retail food chains work.

The fifth grade science classes completed the study of chemical and physical weathering with a trip to the Olive Grove Cemetery. Students observed and recorded the two types of weathering on the stones, gates and fences. The engraved stones hold a record of the past and were used for numerous math problems.

The following students attained the required point levels in the Accelerated Reader Program and were treated to ice cream at Kristi's Ice Cream & Coffee Shoppe in Advance: Third grade, Samantha James, Adam McCallister, Katie Bond, Hailey Bowman, Dianna Green, Avery Lutz, Joshua Parks, Jordan Schultz, Hannah Campbell, Zachary Stephenson, Ashton York, Vincent Gioce, Cooper Hinman, Trevor Reece, and Jacob Schueter. Fourth grade, Amanda Nichols, Jordan Reavls, Hannah Speight, Erika Wentz, Rebecca Church, Kayla Newsom, Micah Womble, Ryan Davis, Bryce Hauser, Katelyn Mansplie, C.J. Dwiggins, Ryan Hutchinson, Austin Smith, Danielle Smith, Justine Solomon, Sarah Sexton, Brad Ellison, and Sarah Sexton. Fifth grade, Amber Harris, Erica Maine, Kelsey McDaniel, Lauren Brown, Jeffrey McDonald, Grant Miller, Ellen Carter, Wesley Potts, Kaylin Stansberry, Britany Wharton, Whitney Williams, and Chris Whantuch.

New Millennium Great Writer Awards this week went to: Jasmine Lyons, Tommy Greer, Will Beeson, Jesse Gunning, Tony Donald, Patrick Whaley, Sheryl Johnson, Brandon Chandler, Jordan Farmer, Katelyn Reed, Bridgette Hooks, Chelsea Parish, Cody Blake, Julie Stampfer, Amanda Riddle, Jaclyn Woodward, and Tabitha Witt.

STARS of the week were: Jerry Little, Chris Brown, Daniel Gough, Ellen Carter, Nicholas Boone, Rebecca Beck, Erika Wentz, Jenni Church, Britany Billips, Steven Potts, Joseph Powell, Kathryn Lowery, Jessica Durks, R.C. Lewis, Kelly Culliff, Neil Zarbwck, Matt Carter, Kirk Allen, Sharina Scott, and Britany Hepler.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BEFORE THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the Board of County Commissioners of Davie County will hold a Public Hearing in the Commissioners Room of the Davie County Administration Building, Mocksville, NC on Monday, May 15, 2000 at 8:00 p.m.
The purpose of the hearing is to receive public comment on the proposed Davie County Land Development Plan prior to adoption by the Board of Commissioners. The Plan is a result of a year long process of study and work by the citizens Land Use Planning Committee appointed by the Board of Commissioners in January 1999. The Plan incorporates a vision for future development practices in Davie County and recommended policies to achieve that vision. The purpose of the Plan is to guide development in a way that will accomplish the general goals set out by the citizens committee. These goals include preserving open space, maintaining the rural character of Davie County, encouraging high quality growth, offering more housing choices, and promoting flexibility in development regulations. Once the Plan is adopted, the County will begin the process to change its development regulations (zoning and subdivision ordinances). The Davie County Planning Board approved the final draft of the Plan on February 22, 2000. A copy of the Plan is on file in the Planning Department.
All parties and interested citizens are invited to attend the hearing at which time they shall have an opportunity to be heard regarding the proposed Land Development Plan. Prior to the hearing, all persons interested may obtain additional information, review the Plan, or ask questions by visiting the Planning Department on weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. or by telephone at (336) 751-3340.

STATE OF WISCONSIN KENOSHA COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT
CASE NO. 00-CV-00004
STATE FARM MUTUAL AUTOMOBILE INS. CO., a foreign corporation, One State Farm Plaza, Bloomington, IL 61710, Plaintiff, vs.
SEAN M. GENACK, 138 Harding Street, Mocksville, NC 27028, Defendant.
SUMMONS
THE STATE OF WISCONSIN TO EACH PERSON NAMED ABOVE AS A DEFENDANT:
YOU ARE HEREBY notified that the plaintiff named above has filed a lawsuit or other legal action against you, the complaint, which is also served on you, states the nature and basis of the legal action.
Within 45 days after the 6th day of April, 2000, you must respond with a written answer, as that term is used in chapter 802 of the Wisconsin statutes, to the complaint. The court may reject or disregard an answer that does not follow the requirements of the statutes. The answer must be sent or delivered to the court, which is located at Kenosha County Courthouse, 912 56th Street, Kenosha, Wisconsin, and to MUELLER, GOSS & POSSI, S.C., plaintiff's attorneys, whose address is 744 North Fourth Street, Suite 500, Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53202-2177. You may have an attorney or represent yourself.
If you do not provide a proper answer within 45 days, the court may grant judgment against you for the award of money or other legal action requested in the complaint, and you may lose your right to object to anything that is or may be incorrect in the complaint. A judgment may be enforced as provided by law. A judgment awarding money may be a lien against any real estate you own now or in the future, and may also be enforced by garnishment of property.

Hi! I'm Michael Harrison Sparks, and I celebrated my 1st birthday on April 1. I'm walking and talking some. Getting into lots of mischief. I had a Winnie-the-Pooh birthday, and I barely missed grabbing the candle's flame. My proud parents are Robert and Paul. Grandparents are John and Madeleine Sparks of Farmington and Dr. and Mrs. Harold E. Jervey Jr. of Columbia, S.C. Godparents are the Rev. and Mrs. Hall Hunt of Orange Park, Fla.

'Clean Up 2000' Program Comes To Davie

By Greg Hoover
Agricultural Extension Agent

What are you doing for your environment?

April is Environmental Awareness Month and April 19 is Earth Day. Litter is a growing problem in our society and now is the time for each of us to do something about it.

"Clean NC 2000" is a program to clean up North Carolina. The goal is for all our rivers, lakes, roadways and streams to be free of litter by the end of the year, giving a sense of pride in the beauty of the state.

There are opportunities to help and do your part. Adopt-A-Highway is coordinated by the N.C. Dept of Transportation (NCDOT). Groups agree to pick up litter on a two mile or more section of roadway four times per year.

NCDOT provides orange vests and trash bags and has special signs for the adopted stretch of road.

If you can't commit to such a long term project, help by participating in "Litter Sweep" during April. Contact NCDOT to get the orange bags and vests, then, after the clean up effort call them to arrange for pick up of the trash.

For more information contact the Litter Sweep Hotline at 1-800-331-5864 or on the Web at <http://www.dot.state.nc.us/beautification>.

The NCDOT program, "Swat-A-Litterbug" is designed to get people to quit littering. You can report a motorist for littering. NCDOT will identify the person from their license plate number and send them a letter to let them know they've done wrong and others have noticed.

NC Cooperative Extension and Keep America Beautiful are two other groups that support litter prevention and promote litter clean up and recycling activities through education. For more information contact the Davie County Extension Center at 751-6297.

Dog Obedience Class To Be Taught Here

The Mocksville/Davie Parks & Recreation Department is sponsoring professional, basic on-leash obedience classes instructed by certified trainer, Tony Grimley of Contain-A-Pet Underground Pet Fencing, at the Farmington Community Center on Wednesday evenings from 6:30-7:45. The registration for this 8-week course is $80 per dog and will cover verbal and nonverbal commands including: come, sit, stay, heel, down, place, automatic sit and heel, plus hand signals. Registration is taking place at the Rec. Dept. Participant numbers are limited to ensure personal attention.

To register, the following requirements must be met: no aggressive dogs are allowed. Dogs must be at least 6 months or older. Participants without parents must be at least 15 years old. Must show proof of current vaccinations. Training leash and collar are required, and are provided by trainer at first class for $25. To sign up for the dog obedience classes, stop by the Parks & Rec. Dept. or call Vicki Robinson at 751-2325.

Allison Little In Two Honor Societies

Allison Dare Little, a senior at North Carolina State University, has been honored with membership in two academic honor societies.

She was inducted into the NCSU chapter of Golden Key National Honor Society March 21 at a ceremony held in the Stewart Theater of the Talley Student Center on campus. Dr. Marye Anne Fox, NCSU chancellor, was the keynote speaker at the induction ceremony.

Golden Key recognizes the highest achieving juniors and seniors in all fields of study at 285 leading universities throughout the world. Lifetime membership, by invitation only, is extended to those students who are in the top 15 percent of their junior or senior class.

Little was also recently inducted into the Phi Alpha Theta Honor Society. Phi Alpha Theta recognizes top history majors students at affiliated universities.

She is a 1997 graduate of Davie High School and is a senior at NCSU with a double major in history and women's gender studies. She is pursuing study in the honors programs of both curriculums.

Little is the daughter of Randy and Deanie Little of 261 Holly Lane, Mocksville.

Davie Voters Have Plenty Of Choices In Tuesday Election

Look at the signs on the roads. Go to a church breakfast. Read the newspaper.

It's political season in Davie County, and on Tuesday, May 2, voters will go to the polls to choose their candidates for local, state and national offices.

Highlights are the local offices, with eight seeking the register of deeds job, eight seeking three seats on the board of county commissioners in the Republican primary, and eight seeking the two spots in the non-partisan race for the Davie County Board of Education. Candidates must receive 40 percent of the votes to be elected without the possibility of a second primary, which would be held May 30.

The 14 polling places in the county and the board of elections office will be open from 6:30 a.m.-7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Candidate Surveys Sample Ballots Section C

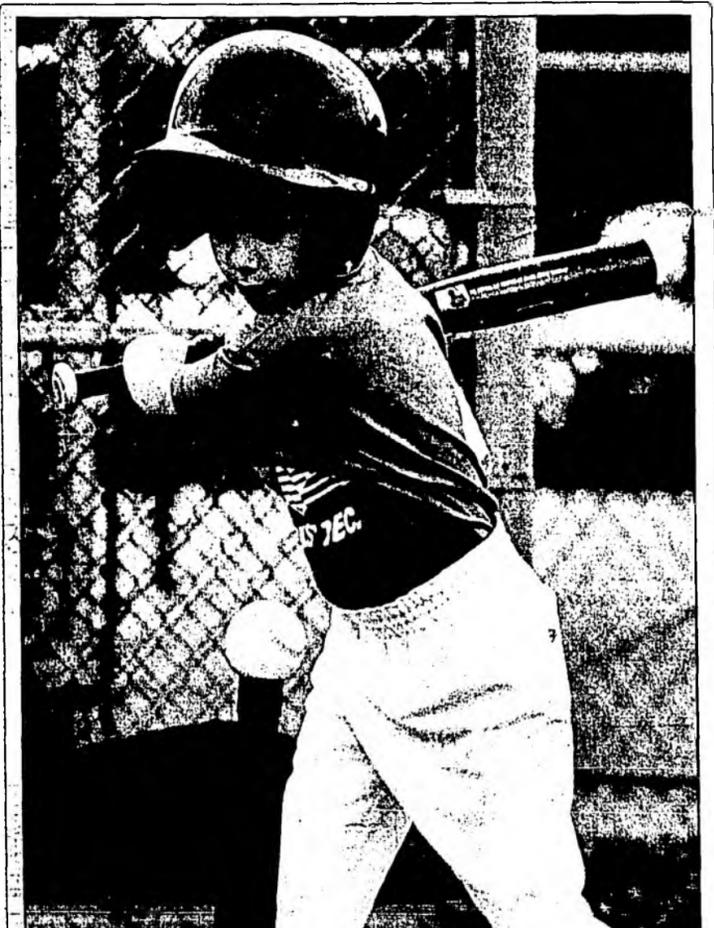

Curbside voting will be available for voters able to travel to the polling facilities, but are unable to leave their mode of transportation due to health or disability may vote curbside during the time polls are open.

A voter who has moved from within the boundaries of the voting precinct that they are registered in for more than 30 days, may return to their old precinct, request an election day transfer form, then go to the election office, make the necessary change, and cast their ballots while there. The alternative is to vote a provisional ballot at either their old precinct or the new.

"One Stop" absentee voting will be available for any voter who plans to be out of the county Tuesday, May 2, until 5 p.m. Friday, April 28.

"One Stop" voting will be available in the election office for any voter who due to health or disability may cast their ballot in the election office until 5 p.m. Monday, May 1. Application for absentee ballot for the sick or disabled may Please See Voting - Page 4

Local Man Under $1 Million Bond On Sex, Drug Charges

Pornographic Materials, Marijuana, Computer Seized In Raid On His Home In Rural Davie

A Mocksville man has been arrested on a number of child sex and drug charges.

Clyde Allen Sheets, 36, of 362 Cana Road, was arrested on April 18 and charged with 2 counts of taking indecent liberties with a child and first degree sexual offense, crime against nature, possession with intent to sell and distribute marijuana, and maintaining a place to keep a controlled substance.

After receiving information about possible abuses, the Davie County Sheriff's Department, in conjunction with the Department of Social Services, began investigating Sheets.

A search of his residence turned up 31 separate bags of marijuana throughout the house, drug paraphernalia, unbagged marijuana and $5,000 cash.

Also confiscated in the search were pornographic photographs and magazines and Sheets' computer. At this time it is not known if Sheets was selling pornographic materials over the internet or not, said Sheriff's Detective

John Stephens. Of the last four years Sheets acted as a coach and an assistant coach for a girls' little league softball team. The children accosted ranged in age from 5 to 12 years. His own two children are in the custody of Social Services and have been placed in foster homes.

Sheets is accused of offenses against three girls. "The investigation is continuing," stated Stephens. "He has already been charged with another offense." After the initial charges were made and the investigation began, an additional girl came forward with information and the sexual offense charge was added.

Sheets is being held in the Davie County Jail in lieu of a $1 million bond. A request by his attorney to lower the bond amount was rejected last Friday. A preliminary hearing is set for April 27 in Davie District Court. These are the first charges of this nature against Sheets, Stephens said.

Anyone with information about Sheets that could aid in the investigation are urged to call Stephens at the Davie County Detective Division, 336-751-5547.

Sheets

Charges Added Against Man In Child Pornography Crimes

More charges have been filed against a Mocksville man for child sex offenses.

Ronald Howard Link, 27, of 148 Harding St., was charged by Mocksville Police Detective David Miller with four counts of first-degree sex offense on a child and with disseminating pornography to a child.

He had been charged a week earlier with a first-degree statutory sexual offense.

Link's computer was seized, and SBI experts have been called to help determine how it was obtained and disseminate pornography.

His $100,000 bond on the original charge was increased to $500,000, pending an April 27 first appearance hearing in Davie District Court.

Daniel Boone Was Here: Celebration To Have Frontier Theme

Celebrate the frontier days when Daniel and Rebecca Boone lived in Davie County at the first annual Davie Daniel Days, The Boone Frontier.

A week of activities from May 6-13 are planned to highlight Daniel Boone and frontier times.

"This is a truly unique heritage that Davie County will celebrate," said Jane Simpson, events coordinator with the Davie Chamber of Commerce. "Daniel and Rebecca Boone not only lived here, but Daniel's parents, Squire and Sarah Boone, are also buried at Joppa Cemetery in Mocksville."

"This is an event planned to help people remember this time in America's past. We hope adults and children of all ages will both learn from and enjoy the events of the week."

Graveyard Tour: Visiting Old Friends From Childhood

I attended two family reunions over the weekend, one with the living set of relatives and one with the dead.

I took Robert around the graveyard introducing him again to his dead relatives. We washed his mother's headstone and left flowers. But we also have five generations in the Macedonia Moravian Church graveyard. Robert's great-grandfather, great-great-grandfather. Great aunts and great uncles and more.

My son has heard me recite the family history many times as we tour the graveyard: This one was killed in the war. This one was kicked in the head by a plow horse when he was only 2, dashing up to see his father coming in from the fields. This one died after eight days — lots of babies died in those days. This cousin was killed in a car crash. And various uncles and aunts ... all here.

Robert bears the name of his great-grandfather who is buried at the Bear Creek Baptist Church cemetery, along with the relatives on my mother's side. Visiting the graves is genealogy in motion.

I can revisit much of my childhood by wandering about the Macedonia graveyard.

All the stellar figures of the church and community that shaped my childhood are there — the tall, quiet men who dressed so neatly every Sunday and attended so faithfully, and the white-haired women who anchored an exact pew with their flock of children. Sunday School teachers, members of the choir ... I remember which pew many of them claimed.

Easter rekindles those memories. But there were other graves of people I didn't know.

Harry Hall "of color" is buried there beneath the cedars. He died in his 90's and had been a former slave who operated the Hall Ferry over the Yadkin River. I could imagine him ferrying the preacher across the river every Sunday morning.

There was a grave for a German baby, only 3 months old, who had been born in Germany but died here during World War II. How had she been brought here, and had the trip killed her?

It is both desperately sad and warmly comforting to go there.

I often remember the graveyard scenes in Thornton Wilder's play, Our Town. That's how I imagine the graveyard residents, too.

Our church refers to them as our "saints" and regards them as still very much a part of the congregation. On Easter Sunday, the Moravians march out to the graveyard to visit them.

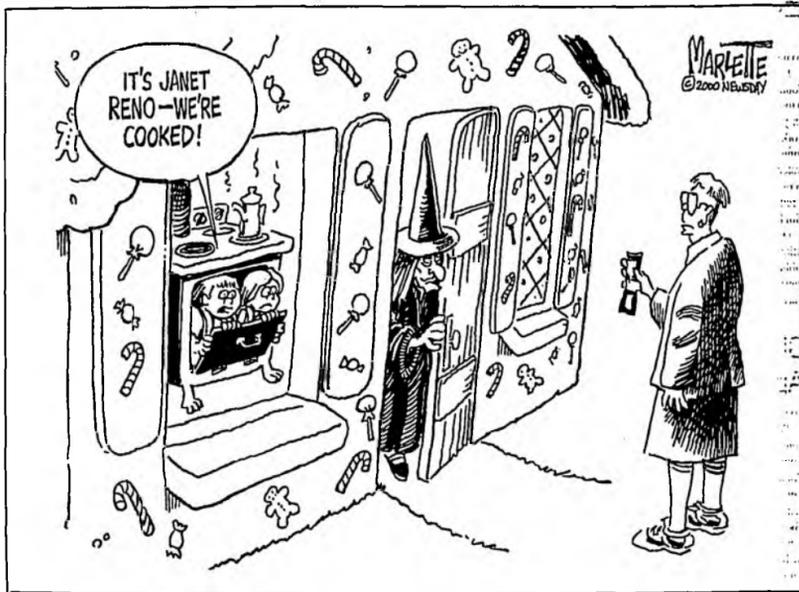

That evening, I returned to pick up the flowers off Mary's grave.

Kent Cope and his family were there for the same purpose. We both grew up among these people.

"It's like visiting friends," I told him.

"Only they can't talk to us now," he said.

At the moment, they were talking to me plenty. — Dwight Sparks

Benchmark Cable Needs To Offer Some Positive Signs

To the editor: The only recourse for poor Benchmark Cable television service is either cancellation or pay what I think the service is worth.

We continue to experience problems with our cable service. We have had virtually every problem mentioned at the April county commission meeting. Just this morning we were without nine regular channels, six premium channels, and interference in many others. These problems come and go; however, not a day passes without these types of problems. If we were to call you with each problem, we would be on the phone to you daily and sometimes several times a day. The problems occur at all hours. These issues are magnified since we are paying 80 percent more over our previous service, and seem to be getting poorer quality now. We may be getting more channels (most of which we don't care for) but the delivery quality is consistently not as good.

All we ask is to receive what we are expected to pay for. These issues are not life altering nor are they the end of the world; however, they are a constant nuisance and source of irritation in our lives.

Please offer up some positive signs to us rather than make us feel like Benchmark's own cash cow. Tom and Linda Bailey Advance

Andy Nilsson Circus Caused Inconvenience

To the editor: On Tuesday I was attempting to return to my home in Bermuda Run via the 158 entrance when traffic was stopped by what appeared to be a group of unruly looking people. From your editorial I learned that it was a candidate for lieutenant governor, Andy Nilsson.

They neither apologized or made eye contact with any of the people that they were inconveniencing. I was happy to see that you don't give Mr. Nilsson much of a chance of winning.

Cable Television Quality Terrible

To the editor: I am sending this letter because of the quality of service that I get on cable. I pay for service and the channels are off, or they fade in and out. I pay for a service and I expect to get it. Ever since Benchmark took over I have had nothing but trouble out of reception. Even on a clear day. Rates go up but I cannot get what I pay for. When I am late you threaten to cut the cable off, well are you going to credit customers when they do not receive the service they pay for? Regular cable was better. I have singleline and Bonus channel pack and you added channel 48 to boot; how is this possible? Raise rates and get worse service. Is this the way of Benchmark? We do not like it. Something needs to be done and now. I am forwarding this to the FCC and newspapers, as well as senators for North Carolina. Somebody needs to make a stand.

Forbush Principal Endorses Brent Shoaf

To the editor: As the principal of Forbush High School I have had the pleasure to work with many talented young professionals. Few can hold a candle to the young man running for Register of Deeds in Davie County, Mr. Brent Shoaf. Mr. Shoaf is one of the most people-oriented individuals I know. No one is as kind to him and he treats all co-workers and acquaintances as family. Mr. Shoaf's competencies include precise record keeping, a desire to do a professional job regardless of the task at hand or the time required to complete, and a compassionate demeanor when dealing with the most difficult of situations.

Mr. Shoaf is a fine Christian father and a native of Davie County. Residents can count on him to do the job of Register of Deeds in an efficient and professional manner. He will provide the county with the technological expertise necessary to deal with the 21st century of automation while preserving the down home southern hospitality we have all grown so accustomed to receiving.

It is without reservation that I endorse Brent Shoaf for Register of Deeds. He will provide Davie County with the solid professional service that Davie residents deserve.

Education Board Member Endorses Debbie Pullen

To the editor: I would like to thank the citizens of Davie County for allowing me to serve you as a member of the Davie County Board of Education for the past six years. It has been an honor and a pleasure to work with the students, parents, teachers and administrators who make this the best public school system in North Carolina. I would also like to recommend the candidate who I think is best prepared to replace me on the board. She is Debbie Bingham Pullen.

Debbie has a strong commitment to public education. She is a product of 12 years of Davie County public education. She is a graduate of one of our finest state universities, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Her son, Justin, is a graduate of Davie High School, and is a freshman at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. Her daughter, Sarah, is now a junior at Davie High, and her son, Tommy, is in the seventh grade at North Davie Middle School. The roots of Debbie's commitment to service run long and deep. Her mother, Sarah Bingham, served as a member of the Davie County Board of Education, and her father, Donald Bingham, served Davie County as State Senator for many years. Debbie has spent many hours of service volunteering in our schools. Debbie also served as Artist in Residence, teaching creative writing to all fourth and fifth grades in the Davie County Schools. Debbie is committed as a board member to support and continue the history of academic excellence in our schools. Her history as a volunteer and teacher will aid her in making decisions that are good for all children and their families.

I have known Debbie for more than 10 years. She is a person of tremendous compassion. She loves all children. She wants to see all children reach their dreams and aspirations in life. Debbie has a humble spirit, she is a great listener and will bring no hidden agendas to her work on the board. Debbie will come to the board as an independent thinker with an open mind. Debbie's goal is to serve all citizens of Davie County and to make sure that our children get the best possible education in a safe and uplifting environment.

Debbie has been married to her husband, Tom, for 22 years. Together they have built a business and raised a family based on the truths found in God's word. The first and greatest commandment says to love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind, and the second greatest commandment says to love your neighbor as you love yourself. Debbie's life embodies these two great commandments. Her life embodies the values that make Davie County a great place to raise a family. I can think of no one better to work with David Owens and the other members of the Davie County Board of Education than Debbie Bingham Pullen. I encourage you to vote for Debbie on May 2.

Singleton Family Appreciates Support

To the editor: We would like to extend our heartfelt appreciation to the Davie County Rescue Squad, Davie County EMS, Advance Fire Department, Davie County Sheriff's Department and all of the volunteers for their quickness and concern for our well-being during the tragically our family has suffered. The many cards, visits, phone calls, food and prayers were so overwhelming to us. The love and support we have received during this time will be etched in our hearts forever.

EMS, Farmington Volunteers Great

To the editor: We are grateful for Davie County's wonderful dedicated EMS people, especially Erin Dinkins and Jerry Myers, and other Farmington volunteers who responded to my 911 call on March 30.

When sorrow was overwhelming us, they responded in minutes and relieved us of the routine calls that had to be made. This kind of sympathetic caring service comes from real dedicated and special people.

We know not how to thank each of you, some whose names we do not know; however, we hope this expresses our sincere gratitude to you. We are indeed blessed to have these people who show much concern and comfort in Davie County.

Again, many thanks. Norma H. Charles, for the family of Carl S. Charles

Trash Pickups Help Appearance

To the editor: ... Saturday morning, April 8, as we were going toward Mocksville, we beheld a most refreshing sight on Sain Road at 158 — an enterprising group of teenagers near our home. We were so impressed that we felt a public expression of heartfelt thanks to you. They were picking up trash, paper, bottles, and cans, that never should have been thrown there in the first place. "Cleanliness is next to godliness." We've never seen Sain Road and 158 look so beautiful and clean. Let's help them keep it that way.

Thanks to you parents who have brought your children up right and you school teachers who are such good role models for our kids by precept and example. Let us all practice the Golden Rule — "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," and "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

May God bless everyone of you. Thanks kids, for your good deeds. Pastor Archer and Anne Livengood Mocksville

Advance Man Backs Ken White

To the editor: I feel very strongly about Ken White and his campaign. I have had the pleasure of getting to know Ken over the past five or six years through church and business avenues. Not only have I been a close friend but also I have witnessed and seen the innate ability to take charge of projects and see them through to a positive conclusion. Ken is instrumental in making things happen. He is completely loyal to his family, church, business, and community and enjoys strong, loyal support from his two daughters and many friends and associates. I imagine many projects in our community have benefited from Ken's participation with the public's knowledge. He is not one to back in the face of adversity. Ken White stands at the front of the class! I am confident that Ken will have a most beneficial impact on the county if he is given this opportunity to serve us all. Thank you.

Flag Protests Are Misdirected

To the editor: Just what is cool? Them people want that there flag taken down flying over the Capitol of South Carolina. The politicians joined them for votes. How come there is no protest because of flying the flag of Cuba in Miami? This is the flag of Castro, who so many hate. I have never seen anyone in Florida burning the Cuban flag. People do burn the American flag and say it's legal. I don't think this is cool.

Teacher Backs David Owens

To the editor: The people of Davie County have several candidates running for the two seats on the Board of Education. One of those candidates is David Owens. I have known David for many years. First, I knew him as a diligent student in my English class in 1971. He was an outstanding student, always striving to learn and cooperative with both the other students in class and with me. More recently, I have worked side by side with David as we and other interested community leaders developed the Davie Youth Park and worked with Little League. David also became president of the Little League. He has strived to be involved with our youth throughout most of his adult life.

For the past 12 years David has served us on the Board of Education with distinction. He believes that our children are our most cherished resource and that their education is of utmost importance. His sacrifice of personal time to youth exemplifies his dedication to society. He has a vision, independence of thought, and the courage to make the tough decisions facing our board. His experience will be invaluable in working with the other board members and the community at large as the issues come up.

If you do not know David, give him a call and talk to him. I know that you will also conclude that David Owens is one of the candidates who should be elected on May 2 for the Davie County Board of Education.

David Owens Gets Endorsement

To the editor: On May 2, voters in Davie County will have the opportunity to cast their ballots to determine the leadership for Davie County. I would like to urge you to cast your vote for a highly qualified and capable individual, David Owens, for school board member. I have known Mr. Owens for the past 12 years and have admired his dedication as a board member, his high moral standards, and his obvious concern for the students in our Davie County School system.

As the former director of School Health Services for the Davie County schools, I had the privilege of working with Mr. Owens on a variety of projects and policies, which impacted positively on the health and lives of our school children. He has served as chairman of the school health advisory council, an organization of which he has been a member for the past 10 years. He was instrumental in helping develop policies and procedures for our Can-Stop and Community Based Alternative programs as well as many other health-related issues which impact learning. We respected his knowledge and experience and appreciated his willingness to make himself available as needed for the effective implementation of our school health program.

Mr. Owens has the qualifications and expertise needed to maintain the high standards our school system enjoys as well as guide the schools in developing a viable plan to address the expected growth and technological needs of the future.

Please join me in voting for David Owens in the May primary. Betty Griffith Advance

Stan Bingham Recommended For Senate

To the editor: A couple of years ago Stan Bingham talked about running for State Senate if and when Betsy gave up the seat. He asked me then if I would support him. I've known Stan all of his life - I know his character and qualifications, so I immediately promised to do all I could to help. We certainly need people of his integrity and ability in Raleigh.

His education comes not only from his school, but life experiences. He has political experience from being a county commissioner for which he has served as chairman. His contributions to his community are too numerous to list them all. A few of these include: being a member of Denton Methodist Church, teaching a Jr. Achievement class at his high school, working with the Children's Home, the Girl Scout Board, volunteering with the Denton Fire Department and EMS, and chairing the Economic Development Board of Davidson County.

He has been the recipient of many citizenship awards in Denton, Thomasville and Lexington, one of these being from The Denton Ladies Civic Club (to see other accomplishments take time to look at one of his brochures or listen to his ad).

One noteworthy commitment Stan has made is to refuse to accept any Political Action Committee money. This leaves him free to represent all the people, not just those of special interest groups.

In order not to be obligated to any individual or business, he has limited contributions to $200 each.

He has experience in business, he is owner and founder of Bingham Lumber of Denton. The Denton Orator and others give him a solid foundation and understanding of our economic system. His conservative business approach is what convinces him that dollars could be saved by privatizing some state programs.

Improving our education system both academically and safety-wise are a priority. Having a teacher as his wife and being involved heavily with the high school affords him an inside track on needs and problems. He believes in a better discipline system, but achieving this by more of a partnership between teachers and parents, not putting the sole burden of this on teachers.

Stan is also a strong supporter of our constitution and an advocate of the Second Amendment in particular. He definitely thinks we need more efficiency in our court system. Perhaps that could be a crime deterrent, as well as saving tax dollars.

All these reasons and more are why I believe Stan Bingham would be the best State Senator to follow in Betsy's footsteps.

First Davie Daniel Days Next Month

Cloggers from Charlotte, will begin the week with a show at the Brock Performing Arts Center on Saturday, May 6 at 7:30 p.m.

The Davie Theatre Co. will offer performances of "A Wanderer Born," a play about Boone's early life, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 11-13.

Square dancing will fill the square in downtown Mocksville on Friday evening, May 12 at 8 p.m. Music will be provided by Four Oaks Revue and Southland String Band while "The Good Times" demonstrate and teach Appalachian square dance.

On Saturday, May 13, festival day, the Mocksville-Davie Parks & Recreation will sponsor the South Yadkin River canoe Race.

The festival itself begins at 10 a.m. with the arrival of the Boone Family from "Horn in the West."

"The Davie Daniel Days will offer something for the frontiersman in everyone," Simpson said.

Festival events will begin with a "Mornin' Holler" by the 1999 National Hollerin' Champion, Tony Clement from Peacock, just southwest of Spivey's Corner.

Music, arts, crafts, frontier and primitive living demonstrations, and food will be available throughout the day. Folks may participate in contests such as hollerin', horseshoe tossin', tobacco spittin', and pie eatin'.

Entertainment highlights will include three shows of the Scheer's Lumberjack Show from Hayward, Wisc. The lumberjacks will compete in log rolling, axe throwing, speed chopping, hot sawing and pole climbing.

Music highlights on the stage include the Roan Mountain Hilltoppers from Roan Mountain, Tenn., the Cagle Family from Elftand, Four Oaks Revue and WDSL Bluegrass Band from Mocksville, and North-South, featuring the fiddle playing of Tommy Malboeuf. "Tommy is one of the best fiddlers in the state," said WDSL's Roy Jurney.

"Because of the generous support and contributions from the business community, the square dance and Saturday festival, including the Scheer's Lumberjack Show, will be complimentary to the public," Simpson said. "We hope, in turn, that everyone will plan to bring a chair, spend the day and enjoy the adventure."

Following the festival, visitors may enjoy the Mocksville Lion's Club Seventh Annual Old Time Fiddlers' and Bluegrass Convention at Clement Grove picnic grounds. Young musicians will begin at 6 p.m. with the competition getting under way at 7.

Questions about the week's events may be directed to the Davie Chamber of Commerce at 751-3304.

Vote TUTTEROW

★ Ray C. Tutterow for Davie County Register of Deeds ★

The Register of Deeds office is such an important office in many ways. This office is entrusted as the caretaker of a great deal of important documents. At an early age I was taught the importance of these documents. My mother, Nancy Tutterow, worked in the office for forty-five years before her retirement. Obviously the office has changed tremendously over the years. Here we are in 2000 talking about the possibility of computerizing this office. During my mother's early days in the office the biggest technological advancement was to put in a telephone. Before that time they had to go across the hall to another office to use the phone. Many of the Register of Deeds offices in other counties have now put the records on computer files. Before Davie County goes this route I feel we should take a close look at the way the other counties have approached this issue and look at the problems they have encountered.

Our Register of Deeds office has always had a great reputation for service. If I am elected I hope to continue that tradition of service to you, the people of Davie County.

Your vote in the May 2nd Primary will be greatly appreciated

Highway Patrol

The following traffic wrecks were investigated by the N.C. Highway Patrol in Davie County.

Cable Wire Causes Accident

Jeffery Monroe Davis, 34, of Connelly Springs was traveling south on Country Lane near U.S. 158 on April 17 around 4:15 p.m. when he struck a low hanging Benchmark cable wire.

The braking of the cable wire caused damage to a Duke Power transformer, according to Trooper Eric T. Phillips.

Exceeding Safe Speed Charged

Joseph Donald Littlejohn, 58, of Crouse, was charged with exceeding a safe speed after colliding with a guardrail on I-40 on April 17.

According to Trooper M.W. Whiten, Littlejohn, who was driving a 1991 Oldsmobile, was traveling east on 40 when his vehicle started to hydroplane on the wet pavement. The car went off the left side of the road and struck the guardrail around 7:20 p.m.

Suspect Flees Wreck

The driver of a stolen vehicle fled the scene after a wreck on N.C. 801 April 17 around 11 p.m.

According to Trooper M.W. Whiten, the vehicle went off the right side of the road and struck a culvert near the entrance to Bermuda Run. The suspect continued southward and struck a fence.

The 1991 Chevrolet had been reported stolen to the Davidson County Sheriff's Office by the owner, David Bentley of Lexington.

Driver Hits Deer

Travis Chad Peninger, 29, was driving his 1984 Chevrolet west on Gladstone Road around 11:20 p.m. last Monday when he struck a deer, reported Trooper M.W. Whiten.

Failure to Yield Charged

A Mocksville woman was charged with failure to yield after she attempted to make a left turn onto Junction Road on April 20 at around 6:30 a.m. and struck another vehicle.

Rose Harris Gadsdon, 27, of 4040 U.S. 601 S., was leaving the Jockey plant when she struck a 1992 Ford driven by Richard Dale McCrary, also of Mocksville, according to Trooper Eric T. Phillips.

No Charges Filed

Mary Kathryn Kenny, 17, of Advance, was traveling west on Redland Road on April 17 around 7:30 a.m., when her car went off the right side of the road and struck a telephone box and pole.

Kenny told Trooper A. J. Farmer that she looked down to the passenger's seat for a moment and then ran off the road in a 1986 Honda.

Many Factors Are Considered In Predictions For Hurricane Season

By John Wendel

Special to the Enterprise

Last week, New Orleans hosted the 2000 National Hurricane Conference. Emergency managers and weather forecasters got together to hear what the experts are forecasting for the upcoming hurricane season. The season starts June 1, and lasts until the end of November. The peak of the hurricane season is late August to early October.

One important piece of information to come out of the conference was that we are beginning a period of active weather in the Atlantic. In the last five years there have been 60 named storms and this trend is expected to continue. The experts are forecasting this season to be a bit less active than last year but still slightly above normal. The forecast is for 11 named storms, 7 of which will become hurricanes and 3 intense storms. That is compared to last years 12 named storms and 8 hurricanes.

But what do these experts look for in forecasting hurricane seasons and how good are they? Last year's forecast was right on target but the year before was missed because they under estimated the power and effects of the strong El Nino in the Pacific. These forecaster look at several elements when they make their predictions. Rainfall over Africa shows the strength of the storms and frequency. Water temperature in the Pacific Ocean indicates to them if it is a La Nina or El Nino year. Atlantic sea surface water temperatures are important in the development of these storms. The strength of the high pressure over the Azores is important in telling the forecasters how strong the trade winds will be this year.

These are just a few of the parameters that the experts look for, but one I found interesting was, how much salinity is there to the water in the Atlantic? When the water has a higher to the north and possibility moves storm a little farther to the north.

There is much information for the scientist to look over. Let's hope the forecast for an active hurricane season is off and storms that do form stay off shore.

Timmy Abell Concert May 6 At The Brock

The Davie County Arts Council will present Timmy Abell in concert on Saturday, May 6 at 7:30 p.m. at the Brock Performing Arts Center.

This Family Delights! production will be the opening concert for Davie Daniel Days: The Boone Frontier Festival and will also be the final, fun-filled, family entertainment performance presented for the Arts Council's 1999-2000 season.

The evening's events will feature a high-spirited performance by the Piedmont Traveler Cloggers on stage from 7:30-8 p.m. and lobby displays will include heritage art exhibitions by Davie County's own Quilters' Guild and wood carver, Jim Bailey.

Abell is returning to Davie County by popular demand from audience members that attended his Appalachian Christmas Concert with Laura Boosinger last December.

He is a national concert performer, storyteller, and recording artist whose performances feature music, strong values and mostly, fun. His reputation as a songwriter and entertainer of families and young folks has been garnered from 20 years of touring in 17 states at countless festivals, schools, and concert halls, where even senior citizens and the coolest middle-schoolers have been known to give rave reviews.

Abell plays hammered dulcimer, English concertina, bowed psaltery, lap dulcimer, penny whistle, guitar and banjo. Of his songwriting, Tom Paxton said: "Timmy, you are the real deal...and I hope you guard and nurture that truth."

Abell's recordings have received the highest national award for children's music from the American Library Association and "Parent's Choice". North Carolina Public Television features his original songs regularly on their "Celebration Series", and in a one hour special program and home video, "Timmy and Friends".

As a duo, Abell and Boosinger have been hosted by The National Theater in Washington, D.C., the JFK Library in Boston, the Merle Watson Memorial Festival in Wilkesboro, The Peace Center in Greenville, and in numerous other communities throughout the Southeast.

Their family concert was featured as part of North Carolina Public Television's 40th Anniversary Celebration, and has been broadcast repeatedly throughout the state.

The Arts Council is looking for heritage arts craftspeople to exhibit the crafts of spinning, weaving, and basketry in the lobby before the concert. If anyone would be interested in exhibiting any of these crafts, call Kay Tilley at 751-3112 by Tuesday, May 2.

Tickets are on sale at the Brock Box Office at 622 N. Main St., Mocksville. Tickets are $12 for adults and $10 for children, students, and seniors. For groups of 15 or more people, tickets are $9 for all

In The Mail ... Students' Rights Were Violated

To the editor:
Friday, April 14 was a dark, dark day in Davie County history. Drug dogs were brought to the hallowed halls of our Davie High School.

Over 1500 students were found to be drug free. One, only one, was arrested for possessing drugs. The parents and citizens of Davie County, should be having a congratulations party on the courthouse square for the students to celebrate the intelligence they show at our (99.9%) almost drug free high school. When is that party and where will it be held? I want to attend.

I am just one adult who graduated from Davie High School, class of 66, but I publicly apologize to all of the students at Davie High School for the actions of our education officials. I am sorry for the way you were treated. None of us want drugs on the Davie High School campus. In fact, none of us want you doing drugs at all. However, it was wrong for the Board of Education (the board) and the high school administration (the administration) to do what they did. What they did was ask our sheriff to bring 15 uniformed law officers, 10 police cruisers and 5 drug dogs from 3 law enforcement agencies to violate our young adults' civil rights.

What kind of society sics dogs on the rights of its own children?
Only an ill society would do that. What kinds of parents sit by and let this occur and say nothing? None, I hope.

Our Board and Administration obviously feel it is just fine to bring in cops with guns and dogs to violate the rights, feelings, self-esteem and intelligence of 1,500 innocent young adults to try to catch them with marijuana. I can only assume that the Board and Administration felt they would reap such a great harvest of illegal drug activity that violating the trust and civil rights of 1,500 students would seem to be justified to the public. If so, with only one possession arrest, the Board and the Administration are obviously clueless of what is going on in our school system of which we have placed them in charge.

If it were true that there is a drug problem at Davie High of such magnitude that these Fascist/Nazi tactics should be applied, then the school is totally out of control. The Board and the Administration have by their own deeds admitted that they think the school is totally out of control. If it is truly out of control, it got that way under their watch.

Even if this injustice is legal, the end just does not justify the means. The fact of the matter is simple. The Board and Administration have obviously lost all respect and sense of common decency toward the Davie County High School students. They have clearly lost sight of their mission. And, on the way to losing sight of their mission, you might say that they have replaced old fashion discipline and common sense with walls, barbed wire, uniformed police, surveillance cameras and now with drug dogs.

Permanent damage is done. One student told me that the lesson learned Friday was "I now know for sure that the authorities can do whatever they want, whenever they want and there is nothing I can do about it". Another one said that she could begin to understand how rape victims feel. "Helpless, to be violated by a person with a gun". What wonderful lessons these are, for bright young minds to be learning at any age. Are these the lessons we want our children to be learning at school? I certainly do not think so.

People of Davie County, these are our brightest. These are our children. These children are our hope for the next generation. These children will bear our grandchildren. A child should feel safe at home, at church and at school. The people that we elected and hired to protect our children while we work and they learn have just treated 1,500 of our friends; our neighbors, our loved ones and the future of Davie County with less respect than we treat suspected criminals.

1,500 Innocent students were actually incarcerated in their own classrooms. They were locked in, and forbidden to leave for almost two hours. 1,500 Innocent students were placed in a make shift jail at the whim of the Board and the Administration. There was no due process. No rights were read. There were no warrants. If being a public school student means that a citizen gives up all rights when they enter that school, then we must find them places to go to school where their rights will be protected. We must build a private school in Davie County so our students can have an option. Or, we must find people to run our public schools that will respect and protect individual rights granted every citizen under our Constitution and our Bill of Rights. Each board member takes an oath to uphold The Constitution of the United States. Part of the Constitution is the Fourth Amendment, which reads:

"The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation and particularly describing the places to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized."

If for one, expect the Board of Education to uphold its oath. They are the ones, after all that we have put in charge of our children's education. They each swore to this oath on a Bible. And speaking of Bibles, on April 14, if Billy Graham had brought 10 carloads of ministers armed with Bibles to pray for our students, the student's rights would have been protected. Billy Graham would have been turned away.

Now picture this scenario, there have been rumors of drinking and drugs at football games. In response, the school administration has the stadium gates locked during the next game. 100 police surround the football stadium. Each person there is searched; drug dogs sniff each individual. Each ladies purse is searched; each gentleman's pockets are searched. All cars in the parking lot are searched. There are no warrants. No probable cause except for belief on the part of the administration that there very well could be illegal substances at the game. Have your rights been violated? Yes they have. Are you coming to more football games? I doubt it. As an adult, are you going to take this? No. You are going to see these people in court for violating your fourth amendment rights.

If the constitutional rights of American citizens can be abridged to obtain every noble cause that comes along then we are all vulnerable to random searches for any cause that can be sold as noble. All you people who presently own legal pistols, rifles and shotguns who are applauding this type action, don't be too quick to cheer. You are next. It is totally scary that mass hysteria can be used by officials to wipe out the constitutional rights of a total group of citizens.

But this is happening and will continue to happen unless we speak up. This is the reason I have had to write this letter.

It is a weak group of adults that pick on the young and defenseless just because they can. These students have not yet learned or have not yet been given the right to stand up to adults and fight as equals. These students do not yet know their rights as citizens. And these students are captives in that most of them are not free to come and go. They cannot tell the proprietor of the establishment that they are not coming back because of bad service. As adults, we can leave, we are free to speak our peace, we can scream, we can curse, we can quit, we can divorce and we can move if we are unhappy with our situation. The laws make the students go to school and the students are supposed to shut up, hold still while the police and drug dog comes by, smile and be happy about it. Maybe we can now begin to understand why over 30% of our own freshman do not graduate from Davie High School. That is right, one in three of our students give Davie High School and the Administration the famous one finger salute and vote with their feet sometime between the turning of the age of 16 and the time they should have graduated with their classmates. If civil rights violations and 30+ % of our students not graduating from Davie High are typical of what we can expect in the future from our public schools, then public schools have outlived their usefulness as education facilities in Davie County.

The reason we have schools in the first place is to make responsible adults of our children. We do not have these schools so that over zealous, hysterical, "my way or the highway" administrators can experiment with our children's rights as Americans. The citizens of Davie County must take back control of our schools.

If anyone else in the county has similar concerns and would like to get together to discuss these issues and help plan solutions, I have reserved the meeting room at the Davie County Library for Sunday night, April 30 at 7 p.m. Meet me there.

Ashley Sanders Gets RBI Double In 1-0 Win Over North Davidson

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

With Shannon Handy and Belle Fowler trading punches for five innings in a classic pitcher's duel, Ashley Sanders landed an impromptu roundhouse from left field that sparked Davie County's 1-0 victory over North Davidson in a fierce war between nonconference softball rivals last week in Welcome.

In the scorebook, Sanders was 1-for-2 when she took center stage in the top of the sixth inning. But in Sanders' mental book, she was 0-for-Wednesday, a day that started with the War Eagles getting no-hit by Woodbridge, Va., in a 3-0 loss that snapped their eight-game winning streak.

"I hadn't hit all day," said the cleanup hitter, who dismissed a swinging bunt for a hit early against Fowler, craving something bigger, something louder. "I don't know what was wrong with my bat, but it wasn't working."

Sanders' broken bat transformed into a magical wand in timely fashion, driving a fat Fowler offering into the right-center field gap for an RBI double, the game-winning hit on a day that got down on its knees and begged for an offensive hero.

"I finally got a (clean) hit and it was at the perfect time," said Sanders, who brought Stacey Handy all the way around from first with one out. "It finally worked the third time."

Sanders, who clinched the 4-2 win over South Rowan on April 7 with a two-run double, had two of the five hits off Fowler as Davie pierced Coach Mike Lambros' tradition-steeped Black Knights (15-4) for the second time this year.

"That was great because they're one of our rivals," she said. "We weren't really as focused in the Virginia game because we were looking forward to North Davidson. We were focused, but it wasn't one of those where it was like life or death."

Once again Shannon Handy sentenced North's bats to death. After throwing a four-hitter in a 6-1 win on March 9, Handy responded with a three-hit complete-game that raised her record to 9-1.

"It means a lot because they're really good team," Handy said. "And anytime you beat a good team, it helps you out a lot. It means a lot to us because they're tough and it takes a lot to beat them."

It took incredible poise, huge breaks and superior defensive support for Handy to escape the late stages unscathed.

North put runners on first and third with one out in the sixth and on first and second with no outs in the seventh, and still wound up falling for the first time in nine games.

A controversial call against Davie put runners at the corners in the sixth. Handy fielded a come-backer and threw to third for an apparent routine force out.

"(Third baseman) Sanders tagged her and the guy in the field called her out," Coach Tammy Reavis said. "But the guy behind the plate said it was interference, that Sanders blocked the bag. I was pretty ill."

Then with runners at first and third with one out, catcher Stacey Queen made everything right by gunning down the girl at third on a wicked snap throw, preserving the 1-0 lead into the seventh.

"The very next pitch, Stacy nails the girl," Reavis said. "The girl never even got close to the bag. Sometimes she throws when she doesn't need to, but she's usually pretty smart about it."

Davie foiled another North threat in the seventh. With the tying run at third and the winning run at second and one out, North ran into the critical second out on a botched squeeze play. Despite the fact that Handy was trying to pitch-out and intentionally load the bases, North bunted just in front of home and Davie tagged out the runner from third. After intentionally walking the next batter to load the bases, Handy slammed the door on a grounder to first.

"(Lambros) had the article from the last time we played them posted in their locker room so they could read it every day and get them pumped up," said Handy, who in 54 innings has given up just 27 hits and five earned runs for a phenomenal 0.64 ERA. "Yeah, they were pretty pumped up to beat us. They started one of their best pitchers, so they really did want to beat us, but everything worked out pretty good."

Notes: They might still be playing if it weren't for Stacey Handy reaching on an error and Sanders coming through with the clothes-line double. "I have to thank her a lot," Shannon Handy said of Sanders. "I about died, I was so happy. We were all beating on Stacey when she walked in the dugout." ... Davie tried to seal first place outright in the Central Piedmont Conference on April 25 at home against West Forsyth, which could have forced a tie with a win. Davie rallied in the sixth to win the first meeting 5-3. ... The War Eagles play at Wilmington in a tournament on April 28-29.

Woodbridge 3, Davie 0
Jessica Whitley deserved better - much better.

The senior hurler threw a two-hitter at one of the top teams in Virginia but still suffered the loss as Woodbridge capitalized on four Davie errors for three unearned runs.

"She pitched a really good game," Reavis said.

Although the War Eagles only mustered one base runner against Woodbridge's potent pitcher, they had little trouble recovering in time for the main event.

"If we had to lose one, I'd rather it had been that one," Reavis said.

Shannon Handy added: "I would rather beat North Davidson than I would that Virginia team. It didn't take very long for us to get that game out of our head."

Propst, Dalton Make A Mark At CPC Track Meet

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Nick Propst has some bad news for other track teams: He wasn't at his best and was still a runaway winner for the Central Piedmont Conference's field athlete of the year in last week's league meet at Mount Tabor.

The really bad news is that Davie County's star jumper is only a junior.

"Nobody jumped good that day," Coach Devore Holman said of Propst, who seized first place in the long jump and triple jump and settled for second in his best event, the high jump, with an uncharacteristic 6-2, leading Davie to an impressive third place in the team standings. "The previous week he jumped 6-8. He had a letdown in the high jump, but still that's all-conference."

It's one thing to be outstanding in one or two events, but it's something entirely different to be a superstar in three events. Holman acknowledged Propst's uncanny juggling act.

"A lot of times, they start the long jump while they're making first and second calls on high jump," he said. "So a lot of times before his last long jump, he's got pass on a certain height, go over and check in and get a jump in at the high jump. So it takes something mentally because you're talking about concentrating on three different things."

"I put him up there with some of the best, and we've had some good ones. All the other coaches said without a doubt Nick Propst is the man."

Jhockton Dalton wasn't too bad, either. The junior triumphed in the discus, his foremost event, and charged to a surprising second in the shot put. Holman said there's no reason for Dalton to stop now, that he can become Davie's second serious contender - along with Propst, of course - at Saturday's Midwest Regional at Mount Tabor.

"He's got a real good opportunity to win (the discus), I really do," Holman said.

Propst Dalton

Just looking at other throws in the state, I think he's got a golden opportunity. I'm going to get the camera on him and film him, and we'll go back, study it up and try to fine-tune some things."

Eddie Barrier (third in pole vault), Adam Boger (third in shot put), Adryus Arnold (second in 400) and Jason Hogue (third in 300 hurdles) also placed individually for Davie, which got a second-place performance from the 800 relay team of Jason Crowley, Hogue, Arnold and Scottie Crump.

Reynolds (152) and Mount Tabor (144) dominated the meet, followed by Davie (99), South Rowan (83) and West Forsyth (63).

"A couple people probably thought we were going to finish lower than that," Holman said. "I told them people think we're going to finish fourth or fifth so let's surprise some people and finish third."

"West Forsyth beat us at our place, so that was nice."

Besides the Propst-Dalton highlights, other bright spots for Davie included Neil Rice's fourth-place showing in the shot put and Barrier's 10-0, third-place soar in the pole vault.

"He scored a point once before, but this was big to score a point here," Holman said of sophomore Barrier. "He hadn't ever been 10 feet. The most he had gotten was 9-6. It had always been a mental thing."

DHS Varsity Baseball Team Falls To Providence

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

GRANITE QUARRY - Providence never had to worry about one of Davie County's signature late-inning comebacks.

The Panthers wiped out an early 2-0 deficit, battered three Davie pitchers for 13 hits and ran and hid with a 10-2 fourth-inning lead in their 11-4 win in the first round of the fifth-annual Cliff Peeler Baseball Classic Saturday at East Rowan's Station Field.

"I have to say they are probably the best team we've played," Davie coach Mike Herndon said of the 17-3 Panthers, who are vying for their sixth straight Southwestern Conference championship. "They didn't have one weak spot hitting-wise, and defensively they were solid. So I think that answers everybody's question around here about baseball in Charlotte. I think it's pretty dang good. Everybody says: What kind of competition are they playing? They are pretty good."

Davie's 2-0 lead hardly fazed a team of the Panthers' credentials. They have no starter hitting below .300, they've had a streak of 11 straight wins, their all nine matches heading into last week, suffered 9-0 over 149 disappointment.

"You think kids are shooting their best golf," Coach Doug Illing said. "You're afraid to jinx them because you know everybody is going to have a bad day, but you don't know when that bad day is coming."

West's turnaround had been in the making. After losing by six strokes to Davie in the CPC opener at Reynolds Park on April 5, the Titans lost by two at Hillcrest and then tied Davie at Pudding Ridge. They left The Warrior with a 586-587 lead over Davie, followed by Reynolds at 616, Mount Tabor at 618, and South Rowan at 649.

'Bad Day' Puts Golfers At One-Stroke Disadvantage

Davie County's golf team threw darts at West Forsyth for seven consecutive matches, including three Central Piedmont Conference matchups that resulted in victories of six and two strokes and a tie.

But it was a different story on April 17 at The Warrior in China Grove.

"I think the kids learned a lot from it because mentally I don't think we were ready to play. They were questioning the (overcast) weather and this and that. They didn't have their minds on going out, competing and shooting a good score to keep the lead. They were more concerned about the weather and (possibly) travelling down there, turning around and coming back. So I let them know about that."

John Landen, who fired a 1-under 34, was the only War Eagle with hot clubs. Shawn Brooks, who averaged a 34.5 over the previous four meets, slipped to 3-over. James Stewart, who had shot between 33-and South Rowan at 649.

JV Softball Team Wins 5th Straight

Amanda Sink hurled four hitless innings and Emily Clodfelter went 2-for-2 as Davie County's JV softball team won its fifth straight game with an 11-3 pounding of Ledford last week. The game was called after six innings because of thunder and rain.

Sink ran her streak of hitless innings to seven, and Clodfelter raised her team-leading average to .514.

"I knew she could hit the ball," Coach Bill Meadows said of the freshman, who is a scorching 18-for-35 for the year. "She's just a good solid kid. She plays good ball and she can hit it."

Sink has been superb as well. The sophomore southpaw struck out 10 in seven innings against Alexander Central, threw a five-inning 3-hitter against Ledford in the first meeting and tossed three no-hit frames against Reynolds in her previous outing.

"She's done a real good job," Meadows said. "We're very pleased with her. She's coming along real good."

Ashley Desnoyers, Dawn Singleton, Ashley Williams, Lauren Cornatzer, Tracy Allen and Sheena Smith also had hits as Davie scored in every inning but the first, taking a 9-1 lead into the sixth.

Cornatzer (17-35, .486) - who pitched the fifth and sixth against Ledford - Singleton (14-35, .400), Sink (13-35, .371) and Desnoyers (10-28, .357) are also among the team's top hitters.

Davie (7-4, 4-0 Central Piedmont Conference) wrapped up its season in a tournament at North Davidson on April 24.

over the boys meeting expectations to the assistants. "Coach (Ted) Kiser has been working with our pole vaulters, and my hat's off to him because he's taken Barriar, Matt McAnally, James Carter and Bridget Robertson and really gotten something out of them. (Girls coach Dave) Markland has done a splendid job with those throwers. Also, Coach Darie Belter and Coach Howard and Coach Howard's husband have done a great job with our runners. They've done a heckuva job to take what we've got and finish third in the conference." ... Dalton, Boger and Rice represented the 2-4 spots in the shot put. "I was tickled to death for that," said Holman, who had long conceded first to South Rowan's Joe Finney. "I knew we weren't going to get first because of the 'o' boy from South. It seems like he's been at South for 27 years. If he gets one just right, he'll throw in the high 50s." ... Amy Campbell, who took third in the high jump, was the lone top-three performer for the female War Eagles (20), who finished well behind Tabor (175), Reynolds (153), West (117) and South (79).

36 the previous six meets, wobbled to 40, Greg Brooks (38) and Kellen Miller (39) helped Davie stay within one stroke of the high-as-a-kite Titans.

"We beat (West) the first match by six strokes, and I think that was kind of a wake-up call to them, that we were going to come to play this year and compete for the No. 1 spot," Illing said. "So their coach has challenged them to make up a little bit every match. Hey, give their kids credit. They shot a good round at a tough course, and our kids struggled."

"We're fortunate to be down just one right now."

The best news for Davie was the prospect that Lenden, last year's No. 1 seed, has finally overcome a stretch of inconsistency that included 44-34-44 results in the first three CPC matches. He trailed only Harris with last week's 4-4.

"His problem is he's a senior and he's mentally been pressuring himself too much," Illing said. "We had a talk about just going out, relaxing and playing his best golf. He was trying to hit every shot perfect, and in golf you can't do that. That's the result of a 4-4."

"(Last week) he went out, relaxed and played the golf he's capable of playing."

The other good news for Davie is that a one-stroke deficit with 27 holes to go is the baseball equivalent of trailing 1-0 in the first inning. After all, West showed how quickly an eight-hole lead can evaporate.

"Anything can happen," Illing said. "We're in a good spot. West Forsyth is probably feeling pretty good right now because they made up nine strokes in one day, but it's like I told my kids: We've beaten them by six strokes and by two strokes in conference matches, and we've beaten them by more than that in other matches. It's not a lack of talent, we've just got to improve our mental preparation and play our best golf."

Rec Dept. Sponsoring 6 Summer Camps

The Mocksville-Davie Recreation Department will sponsor six camps this summer.

The baseball camp - conducted by Davie County coach Mike Herndon, Glenn's Dale James and Ashboro's Jerry Walsor - will take place July 10-14 at Mando Field in Rich Park. James, a Davie native, is a former coach of Mocksville-Davie American Legion and Walsor was Davie's varsity coach for the 1997-98 seasons.

The time is 10 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. each day, the ages are 8-15 and the cost is $65. Register by July 3.

Coaches Buddy Lowery of Davie, Ron Kirk of North Davie and Howard

Riddle of South Davie will lead the wrestling camp from July 10-14 at North Davie.

The time is 4-6 p.m. each day and cost $35. This camp is for rising third-eight graders. Register by July 3.

The boys basketball camp, for rising third-sixth, will be June 12-16 at the Bruck Gym.

The time is 10 a.m. - noon each day and cost $35. Davie freshman coach Derek Kurnitsky will be the instructor. Register by June 5.

South Davie's Tim Kenney will instruct the girls' third-sixth camp from June 19-23 at the Brock Gym.

The time is 12:30 p.m. - 2:30 and the cost is $35. Register by June 12.

Davie's Sean Garnett and South Davie's Jim Henderson will handle the first-sixth soccer camp from June 26-29 at Pinebrook Elementary.

The time is 5-7 p.m. each day, the cost is $30 and you must register by June 19.

And Davie's Tammy Reavis will direct the softball camp from June 26-30 at Rich Park. Age 6 through rising eighth graders can participate. The time is 10 a.m. - noon each day and the cost is $35. Register by June 19.

Call Joe Boyette at 751-2325 to inquire about any of the camps.

War Eagles Come From Behind One More Time

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Although North Davidson cruised into the fifth inning with a 5-0 lead, there was no cause for concern. After all, the more adversity Davie County faces, the better it gets.

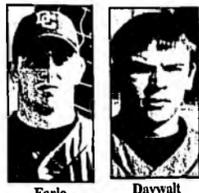

Concocting what seems like its zillionth storybook rally, Davie—which has stormed from behind in all six Central Piedmont Conference victories, including a four-run seventh to stun Reynolds in its previous game—scored four in the fifth and two in the sixth to pull yet another one out of the fire, 6-5 on April 20 at Mando Field in a nonconference game.

It was just another day at the office, right Mike Herndon?

"I pulled them together and said: 'Alright boys, it's late in the game, it's time to go.' The increasingly gray War Eagle skipper said, 'When we get down, we just feel like we're capable of coming back against anybody anytime. I just wish we would get ahead one time 6-0 or 7-0.'

A Davie team that had just one hit through four innings—Ricky Bentley's groundball single—generated four hits in the fifth alone. Chris Seaford's single and an error led to run-scoring smacks by Zeke Earle, Thad Johnson and Ross Smith as Davie pulled within 5-4.

"At 5-4, I sat down. I felt good," Herndon said. "I said: 'Hey, we've got them right where we want them.'"

Earle Daywalt

Earle became the hero in the decisive sixth, murdering a game-tying double, moving up on Johnson's drug-bunt single and scoring the clincher on a throwing error.

"It was the same old thing," Herndon said. "We wait until the sixth inning and then we start playing a little bit."

The memory of four previous wins in the final at-bat spurred Davie down the stretch. Herndon is now 12-5 in one-run games since last year.

"It helps us in a lot of ways because our kids believe," he said. "I just wish they would turn it on a little sooner. We're down five runs and feel like we're going to come back."

Andrew Daywalt, the hero on the mound with three-plus innings of no-hit ball, speculated about what might happen if Davie started every game pretending it's the seventh.

"Finally later in the game, we realize we've got to do something or we're going to lose," the sophomore shortstop said. "We need to start at the beginning of the game, though. If we did it every inning, we'd score about 20 runs."

There wouldn't have been an electrifying about-face, a sea of high-fives or a somber Black Knight dugout if it weren't for Daywalt, who relieved an erratic Cody Wright in the fourth and absolutely overwhelmed North in 3 1/3 of work.

Daywalt had thrown exactly two innings through 17 games before turning the Knights into frozen pizza.

"I didn't think I would be able to do it," the modest Daywalt said. "I've been throwing bullpen, like once a week, but that's about it. I didn't think (Herndon) would throw me."

Striking out four and walking one in a dazzling no-hit stint, Daywalt retired the first five he faced, then escaped a jam in the seventh. North put the tying run at third with one out. Daywalt got an infield popup for the second out, but the lead was in jeopardy moments later, when a pitch in the dirt went to the backstop.

But Ridenhour bounced back quickly and threw a strike to Daywalt, who applied the tag. "We made it interesting," Herndon said.

"He's a competitor. I have all kinds of confidence, and I knew he was a competitor. I have all kinds of confidence, and I knew he was a competitor."

JV Baseball Team Has A 'Roller Coaster' Week

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Coach Lee Linville, frustrated, confessed on the brink of insanity after losing three of four dramatic games, looked like he had driven through a car wash with the windows down by the end of last week's Easter Tournament at Mando Field.

Davie County's JV baseball team led Glenn 6-4 in the fifth before losing 13-6, it led East Rowan 10-4 in the sixth before losing 16-11 and it lost 3-2 to West Rowan's lollipop lefty. Mixed in was a 7-6 squeaker over North Davidson.

"It was just a roller-coaster ride this week," an exasperated Linville said. "You'd be up and think everything is going pretty good, and then the bottom falls out. It was up and down. Hopefully we'll do a little better this week."

The slide left Davie at 12-8, but Linville could easily make a case for 20-0 had the War Eagles averted several late-inning meltdowns. The flip side: Davie has been in contention from February's first pitch to last week's bitter end.

"I feel like in every game we've had a chance to win, and the teams we've lost to have been pretty good. Two of the games this week, if we could have just thrown strikes for one more inning, we win."

East's sixth-seventh fireworks was far more than Linville could stomach. "When we did throw strikes, they looked like beach balls I guess," he said. "East didn't hit anything for five innings, and then all of a sudden we can't get them out. I don't know how else to explain it."

Dalton and Barnes led with two hits, and Davie got one from Smith, Poplin, Allred and Brandon Gentry. West Rowan 3, Davie 2.

Although Barnes and Gentry launched home runs, both were solo shots and West's offspeed hurler scattered seven hits as Davie suffered its third tough loss of the week.

"They had a little left-handed guy that couldn't hardly break glass," Linville said. "We were out in front of everything."

It was a rough day for Golding, who lost despite pitching a solid complete game and struck out with the tying run at second in the seventh.

"Golding has been putting the bat on the ball all year," Linville said of Golding, who had delivered time and again, carrying an average in the neighborhood of .450 into last week. "He had a rough day all day hitting-wise, but as well as he had been hitting it, the law of average is going to even out sometime."

Nick Taylor and Gentry led with two hits, while Poplin and Garner had one apiece.

hitting. East Rowan 16, Davie 11.

In the wackiest game of all, Raby pitched five shutout innings and Davie owned an 8-0 lead in the fifth. But Raby came unhinged, giving up four in the sixth to trim Davie's lead to 10-4, and the Mustangs exploded for 12 off two relievers in the seventh.

"(Raby) cruised for five innings," Linville said. "He did great for five innings. I think he just got tired. I might should have pulled him quicker than I did."

Dalton and Barnes led with two hits, and Davie got one from Smith, Poplin, Allred and Brandon Gentry. West Rowan 3, Davie 2.

18th Century Militia Encampment at Fort Dobbs

A company of provincial rangers commanded by Hugh Waddell constructed Fort Dobbs in 1756. It was located in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains and named in honor of royal governor Arthur Dobbs.

On the night of February 27, 1760 a raiding party of Cherokee Indians made the only direct attack ever attempted against Fort Dobbs.

The signing of the Treaty of Paris in 1763 ended the French and Indian War and gave the British control over North America.

On Saturday, April 29 from 1-5pm and Sunday April 30 from 1-4pm, Fort Dobbs will once more host the Guilford, Locke's and Johnston County militia groups.

The militia encampment will be set up in the style when Fort Dobbs was an outpost on the North Carolina frontier and the only NC fort built during the F & I War. The encampment will feature military drills, small arms and artillery demonstrations and activities on the role of women and children. Also, Indian activities will be demonstrated.

Admission is FREE. Picnic facilities are available.

The STATESVILLE BRICK COMPANY and the NC Dept. of Cultural Resources, Historic Sites Section, sponsor this event.

Fort Dobbs is located on Fort Dobbs Rd. off US 21 N. between Interstates 40 and 77 in Statesville. For more information call (704) 873-5866.

Providence Hands Davie High Baseball Team A Loss

three losses have totaled four runs and they're ranked No. 7 in 4-A by Baseball America, returning eight starters and the entire staff from last year's team.

"I think the conference we play in is probably, if not the strongest, certainly one of the strongest in the state," Panther skipper J.D. Colquitt said. "We've got ourselves, Butler and South Mecklenburg who are all very much powerhouses, and East Mecklenburg is knocking on the door to make the playoffs. Probably in anybody else's league they could finish first or second, so I think we've got a very tough conference."

Ripping a Davie team that is one win from securing its second straight Central Piedmont Conference title, the Panthers pounded out five runs (four earned) in three innings against starter Travis Allen, who came in 2-0 with a 3.09 ERA. Then they shelled Jeremiah Creason for five runs (four earned) in one long inning, establishing the 10-2 lead.

In credit to Allen and Creason, most everyone struggles against Providence, which features Mark Schleicher (.423, 6 HR, 24 RBI), Scott Barton (.490, 5 HR, 15 RBI) and Josh Hester (.500, 5 HR, 26 RBI).

"We are certainly very good," Colquitt said. "We've got the possibilities of doing every bit as much as other clubs have in the past. I've got five or six guys that can do a very good job pitching. I've got five guys who have driven in 20-25 runs and we've stolen 65 bases (by contrast, Davie has 15).

"It's just a talent from 1-22. There are no gimmies. I've got guys on the bench who could be starters in other programs."

Creason lined a hit to right and Thad Johnson roped an RBI double as Davie raced to the 2-0 lead. Ross Smith singled and Brad Willard hit a SAC fly in the fifth, and Zeke Earle hit a 380-foot homer in the sixth, his team-high third of the year. But Davie did little else against two college-bound pitchers—starter Brad Verhaeghe, who has signed with UNC-Pembroke, and Joe Mitcham, who has committed to Western Carolina. The duo combined for a five-hitter.

Herndon immediately turned the page, however, casting his gaze on last Tuesday's faceoff at West Forsyth for the CPC title. The winner seized the No. 1 seed for next week's league tournament at Mando Field.

"I like facing them knowing we don't have anything to lose," Herndon said. "West Forsyth is what we're gearing up for. To be honest with you, it might be a blessing in disguise that we didn't win this one so we don't have to come back and maybe play two on (April 24). We would have called it a practice, so I don't know if I would have wanted to play two games before I have to go to West Forsyth. It might turn out for the best."

Notes: Ridenhour snapped an 0-for-7 funk with an infield single off Mitcham, a future teammate at WCU. "Drew won that battle," Herndon said. "Earle, who had not pitched through 18 games, mopped up, giving up a run in two innings. "We are trying to save everybody for (West Forsyth)," Herndon said. "We even put Allen on a pitch count in case we need him. Our conference games are what's important." ... Providence stole a base off Ridenhour, one of the few times an opponent has tested the cannon. "Actually we knew that he was very good," Colquitt said. "I told our guys that he was very good, but that's part of our philosophy."

"We had a chance to win and we just gave it to them," said Linville, whose team lost the first meeting 8-5. "Both times we've been in position where we could have won."

Davie 7, North Davidson 6

In a week filled with 11th-hour collapses, this one was the exception for the War Eagles, who got a key lift from Ben Allred.

Allred, who entered the lineup in the sixth, beat out an infield grounder, stole second and third and scored a big seventh-inning insurance run when the second baseman dropped a two-out popup, giving Davie a 7-5 lead.

"The shortstop didn't have a chance at throwing Ben out," Linville said of the freshman's hit. "He can run pretty good. There's a huge difference between a one-run game and a two-run game."

North reached second with two outs off closer Garner and made it 7-6 on a single, but Garner sealed a win for starter Barnes and a save for himself when he cut down the batter trying to stretch the RBI single into a double.

"He hadn't gone behind the plate to back up the throw," Linville said. "He happened to be in the right place at the right time (up the third-base line), or I should say in the wrong place at the right time."

Dalton had a run-scoring double and Smith laced a two-run double during a four-run second that provided a 5-0 lead. North roared back to close within 6-5, but middle relievers Raby and Golding threw one perfect inning each and Garner got the job done in the seventh.

It is important for the future that we not let an "us against them" attitude develop. We must realize that we are all neighbors and that we are all in this together.

If your neighbor's tractor runs into the ditch, you don't ask where he was born or where he lives; you just help him get his tractor out of the ditch. We have "tractors in the ditch" all across Davie County. We need to work together as neighbors to pull these tractors out, one by one. North Baseball Team Improving

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Let's not count out North Davie's baseball team just yet.

Although the Wildcats fell short against Mooresville, they generated three runs in the bottom of the seventh inning before losing 8-5. Then they scored two in the bottom of the seventh to steal a 5-4 nonconference victory from Forsyth County Day.

The never-say-die attitude that North (3-6, 2-3 Piedmont Conference) adopted last week revived optimism about winning the last three league games and squeaking into the four-team playoff picture.

"One thing we were real positive about is the last two games we have made last-inning comebacks and put some rallies together," said Coach Danny Allard said. "Granted, you don't want to put yourself in that situation, but that just shows that the guys aren't giving up. That Mooresville game, they had to bring in their ace pitcher to finish the game because they got a little nervous."

With Corbier-Lipe (April 25), West Rowan (April 27) and South Davie (May 1) remaining in conference play, Allard is hoping for a three-game surge and 5-3 finish, which would put North in position for the fourth and final playoff berth. That best-case scenario would require an upset of a West Rowan team that bombed South Davie 25-1.

"We've got a big two weeks," he said. "What we need to happen is some teams start beating up on each other, and hopefully no one runs away."

Matt Markland was the hero of the FCD rally. His seventh-inning double, which followed walks by Andrew Beck and Ted Randolph, tied the game at 4-4. Then, after Evan Bean drew the third walk of the inning, David Weakley's slow roller to second easily scored the winning run.

After Cody Stephens delivered five effective innings, Derek Comatzler threw two innings, including a scoreless seventh, for the win.

"Cody pitched five strong innings," Allard said. "We could tell Cody was losing a little bit velocity-wise. So we brought in Derek, and he closed the door and did a good job."

Randolph, the overnight star, had an RBI ground out in the first and a hit in North's two-run third for a 3-0 lead. Josh Parrish's walk sparked the third-inning uprising, and Beck added a single.

"We're slowly getting better," said Allard, whose club has won three of five. "At the beginning of the season, one game we wouldn't play defense very well, one game we wouldn't hit and one game we wouldn't pitch real well. But we seem to be getting everything together now."

North fans harbored doubts late in the game, however. FCD scored four runs in the seventh and suddenly carried a 4-3 lead into North's final at-bat.

"We played a real good game, we just kept hitting the ball at them," Allard said. "We hit the ball well but they had a real good shortstop, and it seemed like every time we hit the ball, we hit it to him and he made the plays."

Randolph, the big first baseman, continues to hit as though he's facing underhand pitching. The five-star seventh grader has 17 hits in 27 ABs for a staggering .629 average, and "he's got seven doubles out of his 17 hits," Allard said. "I've been telling people that (Davie High coach Mike) Herndon is going to enjoy him when he gets up there because I see no reason why he won't be playing varsity his freshman year."

Although Randolph has wallowed in the spotlight since the beginning, another seventh grader, third baseman Beck, has been the most compelling development recently. After spending the first four games in oblivion, Beck is 6-for-13 since bursting into the lineup on March 28 against China Grove.

"At the beginning of the year, we were trying to find out where we were going to put everybody," Allard said, "and Andrew wasn't getting a chance to play. The first time we got a true picture of Andrew playing was the China Grove game where we won real big (14-2) and he got four hits.

"And he's been there ever since. He's just doing a real good job."

Notes: Zac Morton, Comatzler, Beam and Michael Simmons also had hits against FCD. ... Comatzler stole two bases and Beck went 1-for-1 with three walks. ... Comatzler is still hitting at .370 (10-for-27), while lead-off man Morton is at .259 (7-for-27). ... If North's last-gasp attempt at finishing fourth fails, the Wildcats can take solace in the fact that half the 16-man roster returns next year. "You don't want to look toward next year or anything, but one good thing about our team is they're half seventh graders," Allard said. "Against FCD we had three seventh graders in the starting lineup at key positions, and by the end of the game we had two more. So we've got a well-balanced team with a lot of depth. We feel like everybody can do the job, which is a very good luxury to have—better than what we've had in the past."

Notes & Quotes

Sanders And The War Eagles Love Pressure Situations

• Davie County's varsity softball team doesn't mind nail-biting pressure. In fact, it thrives in it.

The first-place War Eagles are an amazing 6-1 in games decided by two runs or less, including 2-0 over Mount Tabor, 5-3 and 4-2 over South Rowan, 5-3 over West Forsyth, 2-0 over Reynolds and 1-0 over North Davidson.

"I like the close games better than I do the blowouts," said third baseman Ashley Sanders, who has delivered two game-winning hits in four games. "We know we have to do it or we won't win, so we end up pulling through and it makes everybody look like they accomplished more."

In the 1-0 win at North Davidson on April 19, Sanders slashed an RBI double in the sixth that ruined Belle Fowler's five-hitter and made Shannon Handy's three-hitter stand up. Coach Tammy Reavis wasn't kidding when she said Davie loves playing possum.

"It's almost like they don't put out any more effort than they have to," she said.

• Davie's baseball team has an ordinary offensive lineup, two players (Drew Ridenhour and Ross Smith) are batting over .300 and the War Eagles are hitting .259 in the Central Piedmont Conference.

But they're 6-1 in the CPC. Either Coach Mike Herndon is the greatest manager in the world or there's a hoarsehoe hidden in the dugout. Truth be told, Herndon is a great coach (and you can't forget assistant Mike Lovelace) and his players ooze Pete Rose, never-say-die traits.

"Everybody says we're no good, but good gosh we're 11-7, 6-1 in the conference and you can say what you want to," he said after Davie's dramatic 6-5 win over North Davidson, which blew a 5-0 lead. "If we aren't any good, we'll dang battle you and we've beaten a lot of good teams."

Davie has overcome deficits in all six CPC wins, including 5-1 and 3-0 to Reynolds and 6-2 and 8-5 to South Rowan.

"I don't understand why somebody can say we're not any good when we're winning," Herndon said. "We play hard, do the little things and find ways to win. Isn't that what you're supposed to do?"

• It tormented Davie boys track coach Devore Holman to watch all those football players help Reynolds (152 points) and Mount Tabor (144) blitz the other three teams in last week's CPC meet. Davie (99), South Rowan (83) and West Forsyth (63) were not even in the leaders' area code.

"Reynolds has got a lot of their football players involved," he said. "They are dang tough. And Mount Tabor's dang distance program is unbelievable."

Holman's solution sounds simple, although it was hardly the case this year.

"What we've got to do is somehow get our skill people out on that track that aren't doing anything else," he said. "We've got to get basketball players involved, people that can run. They've got to understand that track can't do anything but make you better for your sport. ... It beats sitting around the house drinking Kool-Aid, eating potato chips and looking at Jerry Springer."

• Davie JV baseball coach Lee Linville found himself in the opposite dugout of a familiar face last week. David Hunt spent more than two decades at Davie before moving to West Rowan last fall. His Falcons edged Davie 3-2.

"That was kind of odd coaching against somebody that I played for," Linville said.

• Ross Smith, the left fielder-pitcher who is battling a second-best .311 with a team-high 1.69 ERA through 2023 IP, will likely wind up at Lenoir Rhyne next year.

"The third or fourth year I think he's got the capability -- once he fills out a little bit -- of being an all-SAC player," Herndon said. "(Coach) Frank Pait is about as good as you're going to find."

Pait won't find a better left fielder. "He's going to make all the routine plays," Herndon said. "He's smart out there. He knows when to throw behind runners and he knows when to take a chance at the plate. He throws a strike every time."

Smith often baits the hook for aggressive runners. "He tries to entice you to run," Herndon said. "I've seen him do it 25 times -- knock on wood -- and never seen him throw one away."

Basketball Camp Scheduled May 30-June 3

Coach Jim Young, who led the War Eagles to the winningest season in school history last season, will hold his annual Davie County Basketball Camp May 30-June 3 at the high school.

Rising fourth through eighth graders will be in the new gym, while rising ninth through 12th will be in the old gym. The camp will start each day at 8:30 a.m., ending at 3 p.m. There will be competitions, tournaments and awards given out. The coaching staff will include high school and college coaches and star Duane Phillips, who was recently selected for the prestigious East-West All-Star game in July.

The cost is $110 per player, which includes a camp shirt. For more information, contact Young at 751-5905 extension 124.

NDMS Soccer Team Has Good Half

North Davie's soccer team played a strong second half last week against Mooresville. But by the time the Wildcats reached the second half, there was no match left to be played.

Allison Schafer suffocated Mooresville's principal shooter in North's 1-0 victory on March 29, but Coach John Marshall needed Schafer at goal in the rematch and Mooresville's ace took advantage, pouring in a goal and three assists as the Red Imps raced to a 3-0 halftime lead in a shocking 4-0 North collapse.

"We did not play very well in the first half," Marshall said after North slipped to 3-3. "No. 5 just destroyed us. She played into every single goal that they had. Since Schafer was in goal, we just didn't have anybody that we could afford to put on her one-on-one to neutralize her. Allison is probably one of my best marking players."

Despite the lineup shake-up, Marshall never foresaw his defense yielding so many goals to a team it shut out earlier in the year. But a great defensive effort probably wouldn't have mattered, though, since the offense failed to scratch for the third time in six matches.

"Even with Schafer starting in goal, I thought we had a good chance if not winning, then drawing," Marshall said. "We just didn't play well. We get them again next week."

Although they were hardly enough, Ashley Cornatzer and Sharon Woodard brought their game faces.

"Ashley had a great game as one of my outside midfielders, and Sharon helped keep the midfield intact," Marshall said. "We played a much stronger second half. The girls really picked it up."

Notes: Marshall said Schafer tried mightily to slow down the Mooresville assault. "She did a great job for us. She gave 200 percent," he said. ... Emily Evans missed the match with a sickness and Erica Scherle, who is expected back this week, sat out a third straight match with an injured toe. ... North plays Trinity at home on April 26, then at Trinity on April 28 before traveling to Mooresville in the regular-season finale on May 1.

Jake Miller pins his opponent in April 1 Judo tournament.

Jake Miller Participates In Two Events At Judo Competition

Waynesville: Three students from Catawba College competed in the Waynesville Kodokan Judo "Spring Fling" Tournament April 1. The students are members of the Catawba College Judo Club.

Tara LaRosa, a senior physical education major from Woodstown, N.J., placed first in the Women's Open Division. LaRosa won four matches by points and one match by decision. Unundefeated, LaRosa is ranked as a brown belt and received a trophy at the awards ceremony.

Cliff Bittle, also a member of the CCJC from Salisbury, is ranked as a green belt and also won first place in the 155 lb. Division. Bittle defeated three out of three opponents and also received the first place trophy at the awards ceremony.

Jake Miller, a sophomore business major from Mocksville, participated in two divisions. Miller holds a yellow belt and competed in 10 matches. Miller was undefeated and placed first in the 165-179 lb. weight class and received a trophy at the awards ceremony.

Catawba College professor, freshman advisor and Judo instructor, Dr. Carl Girelli, was proud of his students at the annual "Spring Fling" and invites members of the community who are interested in opportunities such as this to participate in the Community Student Program. Information is available by contacting the Catawba College Athletic Department.

320 Drivers At Farmington

More than 320 drivers were on hand for the rain-delayed IHRA Holley Sportsman Championship series event held at Farmington Dragway this past weekend.

Local drivers picking up Holley championship wins was Ralph Manuel from Winston-Salem in the Super Rod division, and Glenn Ferguson Jr. of Greensboro in the Hot Rod division. Manuel, driving his 27-T Roadster, ran a 6.40 ET at 112 MPH to defeat the Ford Marked of Glenn Ferguson Jr. This marked the first time the 40-year-old Manuel had secured a major IHRA event win with his Chevy powered altered entry. Ferguson, the defending Farmington TOP Eliminator champion, also drove his dad's family Ford Fairlane to the Hot Rod division win. Glenn Jr., the defending Hot Rod winner from last year at the HSC Farmington event had to beat out 73 other heads up 7.00 index racers for this year's title. The former IHRA world champion ran a 7.01 ET at 96 MPH to defeat Mike Rayano from Charlotte for his second consecutive win.

Ten-year-old David Zimmerman from Clemmons won the Street Machines Junior Dragster division over Brian Baker from Asheboro.

In other IHRA Holley Championship action, Scotty Stillings from Brownsburg, Ind., won TOP Dragster, Sandy Wilkins from Raleigh won TOP Sportsman, Tony Stephenson won Modified, Gil Carty of Wytheville, Va., captured Super Stock, John Furr of Oakboro won Quick Rod, and Myron Peake of Holly Hill, Fla., defeated Gene Jordan of Reidsville for the Stock title.

The $30,000 Quality Oil Race Series gets kicked off Saturday night, April 29, with $4,000 up for grabs in TOP Eliminator and $2,000 to win in the Sportsman "foot brake" division. The defending Quality Oil champions are Glenn Ferguson Jr. of Greensboro, and David Spough of Advance, both having been victorious in 2000 at the 1/8 mile Davie County drag strip. Gates open at 11 a.m. Time runs start at 3 p.m., and final eliminations begin at 6:30 p.m. For more information call 336-993-2982 or 766-5861.

Rotary Club Golf Tourney Benefits Charities

The Rotary Club of Mocksville will hold its seventh annual golf tournament at Hickory Hill Country Club on Tuesday, May 16.

The captain's choice tournament will begin with lunch at noon followed by a 1 p.m. shotgun start and a barbecue dinner following play.

Each year, the Rotary Club identifies a cause(s) to which the proceeds of its tournament will benefit. This year the club decided to support two local agencies -- the newly established Davie County branch of Big Brothers/Big Sisters Services, Inc. and Cancer Services, Inc.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters Services, Inc. matches adult volunteer Big Brothers/Big Sisters and Big Couples with children from single parent families. Volunteers simply need a willingness to listen, gently guide and spend small amounts of time with a child. The goal of Big Brothers/Big Sisters is to make a difference, one child at a time.

A national study of the mentoring services they provide showed that children matched with a volunteer for eight months were:

- 51 percent less likely to start using drugs;
- 27 percent less likely to start using alcohol;
- 47 percent less likely to skip school; and
- 1/3 less likely to hit someone when compared to unmatched peers.

If you are interested in making a big difference in the life of a child, contact the Big Brothers/Big Sisters office at 751-9906.

Cancer Services, Inc. is a non-profit organization dedicated to patient services and community education. This unparalleled commitment to patient services and education is easily identified when you review their annual expenditures and realize that 94 cents out of every dollar given to the organization is used to meet their objectives in these two areas. Their mission is to enhance the quality of life for those living with cancer and to provide the gift of life through education.

"Their staff and volunteers provide a caring personal response and offer such free-of-charge services as:

- Financial assistance with cancer medications;
 - Support groups and counseling;
 - Home health equipment and personal care supplies;
 - Peer visitations through the Pink Bruonstuck Support Program;
 - Education to individuals about cancer prevention, early detection and other cancers and related topics; and
 - Transportation to radiation therapy.
- During the calendar year of 1999, Cancer Services, Inc. served a total of 2,172 people in Davie County. With national statistics stating one in three of us will be diagnosed with cancer in our lifetime, the need for these services continue to increase.

This year's tournament will recognize both team and individual efforts. Prizes include but are not limited to: a 3-day, 2-night vacation, furniture, free rounds of golf, a wireless headphone set, and a buy-one-get-one-free coupon.

Anyone interested in supporting the cause by playing, making a donation, sponsoring a team or a hole, should contact Scott Gant at 751-4268 or Jim Cloufelter at 998-8746.

PUBLIC NOTICE NOTICE OF HEARING

The Surry County Housing Consortium (SCHC), serving DAVIE, STOKES, SURRY and YADKIN Counties, has presented its 5-year Consolidated Plan for public review since April 5. The Consolidated Plan, a requirement of the US Department of Housing and Urban Development, outlines how funding will be allocated to address the housing needs of low income people in the region.

There will be a Public Hearing in each county to receive citizen comments on housing needs.

Monday, May 1	Mocksville Public Library 622 Main Street Yadkin Senior Center 207 E. Hemlock St., Yadkinville	5-6:30pm Conference Room 5:30-6:30pm
Tuesday, May 2	Walnut Cove Public Library Main Street	5:00-6:00pm
Wednesday, May 3	Mt. Airy Public Library 145 Rockford Road	5:00-6:00 pm Multi-Purpose Room

Anyone requiring accommodation for a disability or translation services for the hearing must contact Rebecca Kassner at (336) 761-2111 the day before the scheduled hearing.

The draft Consolidated Plan is available in each County and Municipal Government office and all public libraries in the four-county area. The public is invited to submit comments to the Housing Consortium, c/o NWPCCO, 400 West Fourth Street, Suite 400, Winston-Salem, NC 27101 - (336) 761-2111, TDD (336) 761-2110, FAX (336) 761-2112, or e-mail at region@nwpcco.dst.nc.us.

Benefit Golf Tournament May 19 At Hickory Hill

A Chris Stuts Benefit Golf Tournament will take place May 19 at Hickory Hill at 3 p.m.

The 15-year-old Davie County freshman was recently diagnosed with cancer and is currently undergoing treatments. All proceeds from the tournament will go to Chris, a starting offensive lineman on the JV team last fall, and his family to help him tackle this disease. The cost to play in the fundraiser is $40 per player or $160 per team. To sign up, call South Davie coach Barry Whitlock (751-5941 at work, 751-5704 at home) or Davie coach Doug Illing (751-2341 at work, 764-5924 at home).

Meet The War Eagles

James Stewart

Sport: Golf
What did you want to be when you were little and grew up?: A shoe salesman.

If you could be in a certain actor in a movie, who would it be and in what movie?: Bob Barker in H a p p y Gilmore.

Favorite vacation spot: Audrey's house. I would like to go out for a night on the town with: Payne Stewart and the rest of the Ryder Cup Team.

Funniest golf story: Sacking Levi at Bermuda Run. I'd like to switch places for a day with: Al Bundy or any girl to see exactly how they think.

Favorite class in high school, and why?: Individual and team sports, because it's an active class and it is fun.

Biggest athletic thrill: Making a hole-in-one in the U.S. Junior Amateur qualifying to qualify for the tournament.

Interesting facts about myself: I am ranked fifth in the state for golf. No one knows how much I dislike Tiger Woods.

My favorite thing about playing golf is playing in tournaments around the state and country and making new friends.

When I played golf as a little kid, I pretended I was Dave King.

Legion Baseball Meeting April 29

Coach Mike Lovelace will hold a meeting for Mocksville-Davie American Legion baseball on April 29.

All interested players should report at 6 p.m. at Rich Park. Players born on or after Aug. 1, 1981 are eligible. Any one born before

Davie Players In College Game Here

Mandu Field will be the site of a college baseball game on April 26.

Wilkes Community College and Lenoir will meet at 4 p.m. Wilkes features three former Davie County standouts -- Brian Campbell, Shane Allen and Tim Norman.

Lenoir has the great Ralph Robens, who starred at Cherryville before getting selected in the Major League draft. Robens, however, turned down the money and hopes to attend North Carolina. The gate admission will be $2.

Davie Schools

North Davie Middle
 Aces Time students are reviewing their eighth grade year and their lives as middle school students over the past three years. They are also preparing for End-of-Grade tests on May 2 and 3.
 Aces students will be going on the Coastal Adventure on Wednesday-Friday, May 10-12. The students will visit the Cape Fear area with stops at Fort Caswell and Fort Fisher, the USS North Carolina Battleship, the Carolina Beach Marina, and a trip with Carolina Ocean Studies to Masonboro Island.
 Social Studies students of Ricky Hendrix have completed a study of the American Civil War, the Lincoln Assassination, and the Reconstruction Period. Students are now reading a novel called "Soldier's Heart" by Gary Paulsen.
 Algebra students have been studying systems of equations and inequalities, while the Pre-Algebra classes have learned how to use slope and intercepts to graph linear equations. All students have completed a project connected with the NCAA basketball tournament and are reviewing for the end-of-grade tests.
 Mrs. Stuart's classes have been reading the following books: "High King" and "Black Cauldron," both by Lloyd Alexander. They have also read "Cheaper by the Dozen," "Prince and Pauper," and "Across Five Aprils." In addition to this they have been completing skill sheets on literary terms.
 The Battle of the Books team members were required to read 25 books from a selected North Carolina Battle of the Books list. They practiced answering questions about the books

Davie High VICA Students Win At State Competition

The eight Davie High School VICA students who competed in State SkillsUSA events in Hickory were all winners.
 They competed against 1,200 students from across the state.
 Sheryl Eagle earned first place in job skill demonstration by showing how a nurse take universal precautions in dealing with body fluids. Teacher Paula Allen worked with her. Eagle qualified for national competition this summer in Kansas City, Mo.
 James Taylor earned first place in carpentry. He built a project from a blue print that took six hours. He also qualified for national competition.
 Alaina Blackwelder earned second place in nursing assisting, demonstrating a variety of nursing skills before a panel of judges.
 Erin Baily earned third place in prepared speech, giving a 5-7 minute speech on "Quality at Work." Kristine Kokoski worked with her.
 Jill Seamon earned fourth place in ICT/Apprenticeship Competency with a notebook and presentation on her job as a legal assistant.
 Jeremy Miller was fifth in ICT/Apprenticeship Competency with his notebook and presentation on his job as a diesel mechanic.
 Aimee Taylor was fifth in spelling.
 Jennifer Vaughn was seventh in job interview, one of the most competitive events. Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Cottle, Mr. Kennedy and Mrs. Parker worked with her.

BUSINESS 2000

Whitney Flooring Has New Styles In Easy-Care Laminate Flooring

Floors are like people: It's what's inside that counts. Perhaps that explains the phenomenal success and increased usage of laminate flooring by U.S. consumers. Over the last several years, purchases of laminate floor systems have far exceeded even the optimistic projections of manufacturers.
 Why?
 Frankly, it's because laminate floors install easily, fitting together squarely and snugly, providing the customer with a low maintenance, impact-resistant surface. With realistic woodgrain patterns and tile designs, laminate floors blend with a customer's particular taste, furnishings and lifestyle. This is why Whitney Flooring in Clemmons has gone to great lengths to offer the most distinctive choices in laminate flooring today.
 Choose from offerings by Formica, Wilsonart, Mannington and Armstrong, the four strongest and highest quality manufacturers of the industry. All of these companies have many years of experience in flooring. Both Formica and Mannington have won design awards for their products.
 With so many laminate manufacturers producing so many laminate floors, it's nice to know that someone like Whitney Flooring helps weed out a lot of pretenders in the selection process. Specializing in professional installation of laminate flooring, Whitney's is proud to unveil the newest spring patterns and is offering store-wide savings on all their laminate floors.
 Choose from wood grain planks that include the exciting and rare look of antique woods reclaimed from historic structures. Customers will delight in the realistic Heart Pine, Knotty Heart Pine, Antique Barn Oak, and Historic American Chestnut Patterns from Formica and Mannington. Be sure to see Whitney's selection of exotic wood looks in Australian Cypress, Mahogany, Brazilian Cherry and Maple as well as various stains in American Oak. Don't miss the newest tile and block designs on display as well.
 Floors have a huge impact on the look of a room. Create an impression that lasts with new laminate floors from Whitney Flooring in Clemmons. Tougher and easier to clean than hardwood floors, laminate floors can be damp mopped.
 Much more resistant to fading, staining, burns, scratches, tears and wear than vinyl, laminates are the natural choice for kitchens and high traffic areas.

Drop by today to see what's new in laminate floors at Whitney Flooring, located at 5919-C James Street of Highway 158 in Clemmons, beside the Clemmons Fire Department. Showroom hours are Monday-Friday 10-6, and Saturday, 10-2. Call 766-0733 today to schedule an appointment for a free in-home consultation.

SUPPORT QUALITY CHILDCARE AND ENHANCE THE DEVELOPMENT OF FUTURE GENERATIONS IN DAVIE COUNTY!
 Help Turn Dreams into Reality . . . by Turning Bricks into the Helen C. Gantt Child Development Center
 The Center is fast approaching completion in August 2000 at the Davie Campus of the Davidson County Community College. This state-of-the-art facility will
 • Support education and training of current and future childcare providers;
 • Create a positive "home-like" learning atmosphere to serve as a model for parents and providers;
 • Serve up to 60 children while providing a hands-on learning site for current and prospective childcare providers; and
 • Work with local agencies to ensure availability of high quality and affordable childcare for families who need it.

DID YOU KNOW?
 • More mothers are employed outside the home in Davie County (84%) than the state (74%) and national (62%) rates.
 • Less than 25% of children under six live in homes where one parent stays at home.
 • Over 600 people registered for Early Childhood Education curriculum courses and/or continuing education workshops at Davidson County Community College in 1998-99.
 The late Helen Cline Gantt's dream was to support local childcare providers in their efforts to enhance the quality of childcare throughout Davie County. The dollars spent for early childcare and education are an investment in the future of this community. The Committee for Early Childhood Development requests your help in making Helen's dream a reality.

• March of Dimes volunteer
• Davie Republican Party, treasurer
• Past president, Davie Young Republicans
• Local Coordinator, Reagan-Bush campaign
What do you like most about Davie County?
Shoaf: Davie County has people who have a strong sense of community. People are warm, caring, pleasant and extremely civic-minded. People in Davie County genuinely care about their local as well as global community. Furthermore, Davie County is a safe, wonderful place to raise a family.

Brent Shoaf: 11 Year-Educator Brings A Long List Of Attributes

What qualifications do you have to be register of deeds?
Shoaf: I have eleven years of experience as an educator. My primary duties of teaching, counseling and coaching prepare me to serve the citizens of Davie County as register of deeds. Being an educator is a profession where people skills are of paramount importance. In addition to the counseling aspect of my job, I have served as a test coordinator, performed all aspects of scheduling, and dealt daily with record keeping. The aforementioned duties have all required problem solving skills.

computer savvy and meticulous attention to details to successfully complete these tasks.

Should the register of deeds office be more automated?
Shoaf: Currently, the register of deeds office has a computer indexing system. The next goal is to acquire a computer imaging system for the purpose of scanning documents. To achieve this goal, I would first research a considerable amount of time with the current register of deeds. Mr. Shore, in order to assess our needs and to find potential vendors that can provide an appropriate cost-effective imaging system. Furthermore, I would research what other counties of relative size were utilizing in their offices. After thoroughly researching this matter, the office would begin preparation for the transition.

Pat Moore: Real Estate, Tax Office Experience A Plus

What qualifications do you have to be register of deeds?
Moore: I have worked with the Register of Deeds office for years, first being in real estate and later working in the Tax Office, which works closely with the Register of Deeds office. For several years I did the Sales-Ratio Study for the Dept. of Revenue in the Deeds office, comparing the Deeds & Deeds of Trust to see if the sale could be considered a good sale. This determines how much money our Davie County will receive each year from the Public Utilities. I am a Notary Public and also know that phase of the office. When the office needs updating, I feel I have the computer skills to help make this transition.

If elected I would try to see that our Register of Deeds office is carried out in the most professional and efficient way. I would want you to feel that it is your office, and that the entire staff would assist you in any way.

Should the register of deeds office be more automated?
Moore: There is no question, due to space and with the surrounding counties going computerized to better serve the public, I see it needs to be updated in Davie County in the near future. The further we get behind it will take more time and money to update. If elected I would visit other counties to study their systems and the "pros and cons" of each program. I would also listen to our attorneys and others using the office each day. Then with help try to pick the best system for Davie County and all using the Deeds office.

• Past president, member, Davie Republican Women
• Past president, member, Central Piedmont Business Personal Property Appraisers Assoc.
• ARC of Davie County
What do you like most about Davie County?
Moore: In Davie County I like the People most of all. I am a "People Person" and Davie County is a place of friendly, warm hearted and loving people. We have a good school system. I am from the rural part of the county and there is not a better place to live. Having been born here and never living elsewhere I do not know what living in a different county is like.

John Stephens: Paper Work Should Be Handled Precisely

What qualifications do you have to be register of deeds?
Stephens: The Register of Deeds Office is the custodian of property recordings. This requires precise and timely management of submitted paperwork. For the past twenty years working in Law Enforcement, my law enforcement and military experiences have taught me the value of discipline and have also given the ability to develop and institute policies and procedures. As Register of Deeds, my goal would be to use the management and leadership skills that I have learned during my twenty-three years of government service for the people of Davie County.

Should the register of deeds office be more automated?
Stephens: The obvious answer is yes. The concern I have, however, is the cost involved to the taxpayer. First, I would ask Mr. Shore for his recommendations and solicit his guidance. Second, I would get input from several Register of Deeds Offices in counties with needs similar to Davie County. I would analyze what the cost of implementing of an automated Register of Deeds Office. Check with professional software technicians in regards to matching our needs with the proper application.

What do you like most about Davie County?
Stephens: The people have treated me as part of the family. Folks I did not know reached out and helped me get a fresh start. You feel as if you have known a person for years, only minutes after having met them. Also, the close-knit community gives you a real sense of comfort. Davie County is always ready with a helping hand, whether it is from one of the many churches, fire departments, civic organizations or the many good neighbors within the community. Our schools are some of the finest in the state. By participating in Leadership of Davie County, and learning more about Davie County, my continued desire to serve and assist the citizens of the County has enforced my willingness to lead my community.

Occupation

In The Community
• Salem United Methodist Church, United Methodist Men
• Past member, former secretary, Mocksville Lions Club
• Relay for Life
• Storehouse for Jesus
What do you like most about Davie County?
Brown: The things I like most about Davie County are the little things we all tend to take for granted once in awhile. I like sitting on the front porch reading a book and listening to the birds in the trees. I like the smell in the air just before a summer rainstorm. I like to take a slow walk down a country road and wave to the passerby who without fail will return the gesture in kind. I like sitting in the woods on the opening morning of wild turkey season, waiting for the sun to rise and listening to the sounds of day approaching. I like the feeling of community I sense in every corner of our county. I like the fact that friends and family still gather in the summertime for fellowship over a bucket of homemade ice cream. I like Homecoming Sunday at church each spring when we renew our relationships with those whom we see all too infrequently and remember those we now have only in our memories. I am proud to live in a county where there are those who give of themselves freely for the benefit of others. I suppose it's obvious there is no one thing I like most about Davie County but rather a myriad of small events, fond memories and promises of great days ahead that make this the best place I can imagine to live and raise a family.

What qualifications do you have to be register of deeds?
Brown: For the past 23 years, I have been the Senior Land Records Specialist (formerly known as mapper) for Davie County. Every sub-division that was built, every farm that was divided up, every change in peoples real estate (land), I put on the County's maps (by hand until 1991 when everything was put on computer). This has involved using Register of Deeds research nearly every day. Knowing the history of much of the County's land development can many times give people information for the job they're doing - lawyers/paralegals doing title searches, genealogy projects, and just helping people locate property. I have an excellent working relationship with all the attorneys and surveyors in Davie County and many in surrounding counties.

Probably the biggest issue ahead in the Register of Deeds office is the automation of records. About 1991 we put all the Counties maps on computer and that was a huge and complex project. There are so many facets you have to deal with - hardware and software, compatibility, technical support, consultants, etc. Having been through a project of that magnitude...

Jim Brown: Work For Attorney Among Qualifications For Job

What qualifications do you have to be register of deeds?
Brown: For the three years preceding my filing as a candidate for the office of Register of Deeds, I worked for a local attorney. Among my responsibilities there, I had occasion to work on literally hundreds of real estate transactions. I became intimately acquainted with the inner workings of the Register of Deeds office and its procedures. I hardly a week passed when I did not perform some task in the Register. I believe my experience working with the staff of the Register of Deeds office over the past six years, my knowledge as a Notary Public and my experience interacting with the general public will serve me well as your Register of Deeds. One of the primary daily tasks facing whoever you elect will be to help the public in their quest for information regarding their land and their family history. You should also elect someone who has a good working relationship with all our local attorneys because they more than any other segment of our community use the Register of Deeds office on a regular basis. You should elect a person with practical experience in the office who will be able to hit the ground running and make the transition as seamless as possible. I believe I have the necessary experience to do just that.

Should the register of deeds office be more automated?
Brown: The question of whether the Register of deeds office should be more automated is, in my opinion, the central issue facing your Register of Deeds. The constraints of storage space and the inevitable march of time dictate that we must now take a very serious look at automation. I believe there is a great opportunity here for us to learn from the experiences of surrounding counties who have already undertaken the change to a computerized system and avoid the same mistakes they encountered. As Register of Deeds, I would solicit the opinions of our local attorneys and members of the community who frequently utilize the Register of Deeds office as well as the staff of the Registry and incorporate their suggestions into any system we implement. Above all, the system we choose must fit the needs of Davie County and its citizens. The format we choose must be not only economical and have a proven track record, but be user-friendly as well. We must never make anyone feel they are excluded from the Register of Deeds office because in the final analysis, the Register of Deeds office is for the public's use. Any changes we make must keep this ideal at the forefront. I believe it would be wise to elect a Register of Deeds with practical experience with will be more able to understand what is needed in the area of automation in order to avoid costly mistakes and unnecessary disruptions.

• Leadership Davie graduate
What do you like most about Davie County?
Prim: The general friendliness and helpfulness of people, and having "my hometown" feel and atmosphere like Cooleemee, Mocksville, Sheffield, Advance and others.

What qualifications do you have to be register of deeds?
Powell: Yes, but with careful consideration. I have observed for many years the excellent operation of the Register of Deeds office by Kermit Smith and Henry Shore and their efficient and helpful staff. I am a conservative person, and I subscribe to the theory, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." However, Davie County is a growing county and the number of filings increases substantially each year. In my work as a legal assistant, I have had an opportunity to visit the Register of Deeds' offices in several counties; most of which are computerized. My work experience has provided me with an appreciation of the value of computerization. Care should be given to determine if computerization is in the best interest of the citizens of Davie County before a decision is made. These are: 1) it is an improvement to the efficient operation of the Register of Deeds office, 2) it is cost effective, and 3) it would not increase the tax burden to our citizen. If computerization is desirable, then the most important consideration for selection of the computer system will be to select a system which can be utilized by not only by staff, attorneys and paralegals, but by the citizens and property owners of Davie County. Citizens and property owners should be able to access their property records without the aid of an attorney.

Other Issues
Powell: I would consider it an honor and a privilege to serve the citizens of Davie County as their Register of Deeds. I would regard it as an opportunity to give something back to this wonderful county that has been so good to me, my husband, and our family for so many years.

Ray C. Tutterow

What qualifications do you have to be register of deeds?
Tutterow: Since my first regular job I have been serving people. First as a service station attendant (full-service) in high school, then in retail sales at B.C. Moores Dept. Store in Mocksville. For the past eleven years I have worked in advertising for the Davie Co. Enterprise Record. In my present job I am responsible for planning special advertising projects. I deal with many local and national accounts including agencies from coast to coast. This includes approval and filing of advertising orders, maintaining ads for future use and dealing with billing problems. I work with a computer on a daily basis and have been working and taking classes on computers since high school. I also handle the ordering of many of the office supplies at the newspaper. Should the register of deeds office be more automated?
Tutterow: Automation is certainly something that should be looked at. I understand there are vendors who specialize in computerizing the files for the Register of Deeds offices. I would like to see some of the ways other counties have computerized this office and find out the problems they encountered. I realize some people are very cautious about the security of computer files and believe everything possible should be done to insure the security of these precious documents.

What do you like most about Davie County?
Powell: What I like most about Davie County is its people. They are Davie County's biggest asset. The primary reason I like Davie County is the warm feelings and the general neighborliness of the wonderful people of the community. Progress can be a good thing but I sincerely hope that Davie County never grows to a point that it loses its small town and rural identity and its farms, woodlands, and "green spots." Let us strive to keep life in Davie County simple enough that neighbors are always there to other neighbors in time of need.

What qualifications do you have to be register of deeds?
Moore: I have worked with the Register of Deeds office for years, first being in real estate and later working in the Tax Office, which works closely with the Register of Deeds office. For several years I did the Sales-Ratio Study for the Dept. of Revenue in the Deeds office, comparing the Deeds & Deeds of Trust to see if the sale could be considered a good sale. This determines how much money our Davie County will receive each year from the Public Utilities. I am a Notary Public and also know that phase of the office. When the office needs updating, I feel I have the computer skills to help make this transition.

Ray C. Tutterow

What qualifications do you have to be register of deeds?
Tutterow: Since my first regular job I have been serving people. First as a service station attendant (full-service) in high school, then in retail sales at B.C. Moores Dept. Store in Mocksville. For the past eleven years I have worked in advertising for the Davie Co. Enterprise Record. In my present job I am responsible for planning special advertising projects. I deal with many local and national accounts including agencies from coast to coast. This includes approval and filing of advertising orders, maintaining ads for future use and dealing with billing problems. I work with a computer on a daily basis and have been working and taking classes on computers since high school. I also handle the ordering of many of the office supplies at the newspaper. Luther Potts: Experience In Real Estate And Insurance

What qualifications do you have to be register of deeds?
Potts: My experience in real estate and insurance makes me the best candidate for Register of Deeds. Both are very precise, accurate, error free businesses and require a great deal of detail, research, and filing. Also my experience as a notary, as well as, teaching the notary classes at the Davie Campus of Davie County Community College would be an asset. The Register of Deeds is responsible for all the notaries in the county. I think the best service I have to offer is my experience in government, having served 22 years on the Davie County Board of Education. This has given me insight on government operations as well as the budget process. My experiences in government and business gives me the skills I need to serve the taxpayers and office personnel as the Davie County Register of Deeds. Should the register of deeds office be more automated?
Potts: Yes. First I would ask Mr. Shore and the support staff for their assessment and input on the current office operations and needed changes. They have the knowledge and insight on what's needed because of their many years of experience. Second I would consult Neal Smith and Butch Rooney. Their knowledge and expertise of the county and school computer system would be a valuable asset in determining the type of service needed for the Register of Deeds office. Third I would visit other counties with computerized systems currently in use to learn the pros and cons of their operations. Fourth I would consult computer vendors to ensure the purchase and installation of the best system suited for the needs of Davie County register of Deeds office based on the funds available.

Other Issues
Potts: A project I would like to undertake if I'm elected Davie County Register of Deeds would be to get every single individual in Davie County that has served in the military to file their DD and 214 and discharge in the Register of Deeds Office. Many times veterans and/or their families need a copy of their military records to get much needed and deserved assistance from the government, but can't find proper documents for help. I would accomplish this by working with the VFW, DAV, American Legion, AMVETS organizations, Davie County Veterans Service Officer, veterans, their families and friends. When veterans or their families need these documents to get help, they would have access at the Davie County Register of Deeds office.

Larry Hayes: People, Schools Make Davie County Great

What is the best option for Davie County Hospital?

Hayes: The county needs a First Class Emergency Room with Doctors to handle all cases that come in. We need beds to help people with non-emergency cases. We need to work with area Doctors and Hospitals to have outpatient service at Hospital.

What is the most pressing need (other than growth and the hospital) in Davie County?

Hayes: We need to look at adding staff to EMS to have more services available.

The County needs to look very hard at the Fire departments to see how they can help with funding.

We need to work with the Sheriff to see what help he needs.

From the complaints I've heard about cable TV we need a new company to handle cable TV.

Hayes: The county needs to do a land use study along with a 20 yr. growth plan. They are people with the state that can help a Citizen Task Force do a complete study of this.

We need to look at all zoning requests to see how it affects the services of the County. Work very close with Economic Development to recruit new high tech industry to Davie County.

We have a school system that is second to none. Our school administrators and teachers care about our children and the community.

What do you like most about Davie County?

Poindexter: The rural atmosphere where people are kind, friendly, caring, helpful, compassionate, considerate, good hearted, warm and cordial.

Davie County is blessed with people always willing to lend a hand to their neighbors, where everyone pitches into work for the good of their communities and county.

This is a county where people give of themselves and their time to worthy causes; for example, before the call went out for help for the flood victims Down East, tractor trailers were already being loaded here to be sent there. We never want to lose the rural atmosphere that has always been a part of our lives in Davie County.

That is going to be the key to the ultimate success or failure of the hospital. The doctors, businesses and citizens of Davie County must use the hospital to keep it alive.

What is the most pressing need (other than growth and the hospital) in Davie County?

Poindexter: This is a very difficult question to answer since almost all of our needs as a county are tied to either directly or indirectly to growth.

One of the most important issues facing us every day is the need to provide all the necessary services for the citizens of Davie County and at the same time to keep our taxes as low as possible. A good way to do

Richard Poindexter: Vote For Fairness

What is the best option for using Davie County Hospital?

Poindexter: To keep a fully operational and functional hospital is obviously the best option. Davie County should have a good emergency room and all other services that the county can support through its doctors and patients. The present board and staff have worked for just that. The hospital committee, working with representatives of Davie Hospital, have put together a plan that can not only save the hospital, but can make it a successful hospital if the citizens of Davie County will use it.

As I stated previously, almost all of our present needs in this county are tied either directly or indirectly to growth, which places tremendous burdens on the resources of the county and residents.

A good way to control growth is by limiting access to the sewer system, thus preventing high density development in the future, unless it is beneficial to the county.

Our local ordinances must be tightened to prevent undesirable development from happening and the citizens of Davie County must vote this is to attract "quality" businesses and industry to our county. Not only does this provide us with good jobs, these businesses and industries also pay large amounts of taxes which help to pay for our children's schooling and other necessary services while at the same time keeping our residential taxes as low as possible.

Talk about growth.

Poindexter: Growth is necessary to provide jobs and economic stability. However, unmanaged growth can be worse than no growth at all.

Growth in Davie County has occurred in cycles. A burst of growth has usually been followed by a period of leveling off until the next big burst occurs.

I would prefer to see a more gradual, managed growth. This would help eliminate the severe impact of our school system, fire departments, EMS, law enforcement, jail, transportation, highways, water/sewer system, health department, department of social services, etc., etc.

The commissioners are your representatives to the county government. Each commissioner has only one vote on the board of commissioners. You can be sure that my vote on the board will always be cast for what is right, what is fair and what is good for the people of Davie County.

to be on the committees that will formulate the ordinances to insure that their views and opinions will be heard.

The best way to manage growth is by electing county commissioners that understand the needs of the people who live in every part of our county and will stand up for what is right and what is good for Davie County.

Other Issues

Poindexter: We are all fortunate to live in Davie County where most people know each other by their first names, where friendships extend countywide. This is part of the rural charm that is Davie County. We enjoy freedoms here that are not possible in big cities and suburban developments. We must preserve the quality of life that has made our county such a wonderful place to live, work and raise our families.

One of the key ingredients of our high quality of life is good government. It is important that our government always remember that it works for the citizens of Davie County. It is equally important that government officials know when they should not interfere in the private lives of citizens. We must always demand truth, fairness, respect and accountability from our government.

The commissioners are your representatives to the county government. Each commissioner has only one vote on the board of commissioners. You can be sure that my vote on the board will always be cast for what is right, what is fair and what is good for the people of Davie County.

County Commissioners 8 Candidates, Vote For 3

Wayne Webb: Positive Leadership Needed

What is the best option for using Davie County Hospital?

Webb: We need to reconstruct the entire function of our hospital. There is a need to maintain a 24 hour, 7 day a week emergency room that must be well staffed. We could utilize part of the hospital as an acute bed facility. We must work with the local doctors and community to gain support of our current facility. I understand a lot of these needs may be costly to realize now. I think we must continue to strive to elevate the quality of service the citizens of Davie County receive. At the same time, the citizens must use doctors that will support our hospital so we can continue to provide these services for many years to come.

What is the most pressing need (other than growth and the hospital) in Davie County?

Webb: Leadership! We need people in leadership positions that can and will lead us in a positive direction to gain the things all of us desire. We need leadership to take a stand on unpopular issues, make clear and decisive choices, not just popular ones. Many times the easy road is not always the best road. We must require our leaders to stand firm on policy. We need leaders with a broad vision of what can and cannot work for the betterment of Davie County.

Talk about growth.

Webb: Growth is necessary for Davie County, as it is for anyone or any place. We need to plan for growth. We need not only to build businesses and houses but first we must plan for these developments. We must build roads, sewer and water for growth before we build houses and businesses. We are doing a good job but I feel the citizens deserve better. We should inform everyone what our needs and plans are. We need to solicit the talent we have in the community to help in making these plans and follow through with a strong commitment of enforcement of standards that are the same for everyone.

Ken White: Utilities Commission, Grant Writer Among Goals For County Government

What is the best option for using the Davie County Hospital?

White: First, we must maintain the facility. This is important to our community and to attracting new industry. The question is what do you do with an 88 bed facility that is less than 5% utilized. Doctors must be made comfortable with the facility and encouraged to refer patients. Emergency room services are essential. It saves lives. We are fortunate to be in close proximity to excellent large hospitals for critical medical care such as Open Heart Surgery, Organ Transplants and severe trauma. All rural hospitals are struggling with costs since the Balance Budget Amendment, Insurance Companies and Managed Care started controlling medical costs. We need to think outside of the box. Push to get a certificate of need, and then convert a portion of the facility to a nursing home. When those patients need acute care, move them into the portion that is reserved for acute care. Develop a wellness center, secure care for our elderly where older patients could be worked with during the day to allow sons and daughters to not have their work schedule interrupted. This would generate revenue, allow employees to not miss work and allow companies to be more productive because of less time loss. Increase the use of the kitchen and cafeteria in the preparation and serving of meals to jail inmates, staff and assisted living and acute care patients. Apply for a share of the Tobacco settlement monies. A part of these monies are supposed to be dedicated to Health care. Why shouldn't the rural counties, where the tobacco farms and farmers, live not be a recipient of these funds?

What is the most pressing need in Davie County (other than growth and the hospital)?

White: Keeping our taxes low while supporting our infrastructure, therefore, it would be Economic Development. The top 10 industrial taxpayers in the County, Ingersoll-Rand, Jockey, Lee, R. J. Reynolds etc., give us a tax base of over $180 million. To duplicate that we would have to build 1,800 homes with a value of $100,000 each. Our rapid growth, has strained our essential services, EMS, Police and Fire Protection. This does not even take into consideration the mandated services we must provide like education, social services, garbage, water and sewer, court administration and other county services. We have many senior citizens and retired farmers on fixed incomes. If we do not get industry and commercial development, we will have two choices, raise taxes on property owners or cut services. Neither are appealing. As a conservative I believe in smaller and more efficient government. Costs are going to rise with the population growth which demands more services, but we must work to keep the burden of paying for it off of the homeowner, senior citizens and farmers. City and County and Regional leaders must focus on economic development, not just recruit industry with 500 jobs. It is important we grow and support the businesses which are here. I like small and medium companies as well. 10 Companies with 50 employees will give us 500 jobs too. This will increase our tax base, allow us to keep our property taxes low and create job opportunities for our citizens.

Talk about growth.

White: We all know that Davie County and its municipalities are facing serious growth challenges. Having just served 13 months on the Davie County Land Use Planning Committee, I know first hand how taxed our county infrastructure is. It will be worse if we fail to take a "proactive" approach to land development. A phrase we hear mentioned frequently is "Smart Growth". The NC population has grown by a million people in the last decade and we have had our share. North Carolina between 1992 and 1997 saw the development of 781,000 acres of forest and farmland. Only four states developed faster. I do not want Raleigh telling us how to grow. Growth is important to a community. It creates a vibrant and healthy community. The question is how to manage the growth. Land is our most precious resource, we must use it responsibly and wisely. No more can be made. We developed a plan to control growth, preserve our rural heritage, and our farmlands. We must have good zoning and enforce it. We must urban sprawl, and checkerboard development. We must protect and preserve farmlands or "green-ways" and we must protect our rivers, creeks and air and prevent erosion. We recommended the development of connected communities, not isolated pockets.

We should have a "common sense", balanced approach. We should require that the basic infrastructure is in place. We cannot afford negative impacts to schools, roads and emergency services. Growth planning needs to be ongoing and continuous. I want to keep our citizens involved. I would like to keep a "Steering Committee" in place. We must be smart in the allocation of resources. I want public and private input on decisions, let development absorb some of the cost and do not impact our Quality of Life in a negative way.

Other Issues

White: I would like to study establishing a Utilities Commission, take politics out of the operation and development of public utilities. Form a non-partisan commission that would create a working partnership between the County, Mocksville, Cooleemee and Bermuda Run to enable all citizens to realize savings in water and sewer rates generated by a larger operating entity. This would let us get water and sewer services to other parts of the county.

As one of your elected leaders, I would want to develop a Rural County Initiative. There are over 7 million people living in North Carolina. We have just over 32,000 in Davie County. That is less than 1/2 of 1%. We need to build a working coalition with all of the rural counties in our state. This could give us a single voice in Raleigh of several million voters. Otherwise, major metropolitan areas will continue to get disproportionate shares of funds.

We must use our resources wisely and eliminate inefficiency. I will strive to make our County government efficient, decrease overheads where possible, utilize technology and maximize every dollar spent.

I would recommend the formation of a Public Safety Commission. This commission would coordinate and work with our essential services EMS, Volunteer Fire Departments and Rescue Squad to study issues they face. Then develop action plans to address critical needs such as funding, Ambulance stations and crews, daytime fire protection, capital replacement, central purchasing, financial audit assistance, interest free loans, and manpower assessment.

We need a Comprehensive, County-wide Transportation Plan. Then we could work closely with DOT engineers to enact the plan.

We need to have more working meetings between the elected School Board and The Board of Commissioners. With close to 60% of our total taxes supporting schools, we must make sure that these two boards have the best communication and working relationship.

We must insure an accurate census count. Every person we miss will cost us $300 per year in matching State and Federal funds. If we miss just 100 people, we will lose $30,000 per year, over the next 10 years to the next census we will lose $300,000. That is 30 computers for schools, an ambulance or a fire truck.

One of the county's best investments might be for a quality grant writer. There are millions of dollars dispersed every year. Even if they only helped us with grants totaling $250,000 a year, the position would pay for itself and leave more dollars for elected leaders and post a County newsletter. I would like to see more town meetings and forums to keep in touch with the citizens we serve.

Jack Snow: Elect Reliable, Responsible People

What is the best option for using Davie County Hospital?

Snow: I have talked with a considerable amount of people in regards to our hospital. Opinions are varied: some say close it, while others rally for it to remain open at all costs. In my opinion, I see no reason why, through existing channels combined with outside sources, we should not provide emergency care for our residents. This care would provide immediate life support in emergency situations only, until the patient could be transported to a better-equipped facility. Therefore, by providing emergency life support treatment only, it would require much less hospital space enabling us to negotiate the unused space to satellite doctors, dentists and specialists offices while expanding the tax base, jobs and services provided to our citizens.

What is the most pressing (other than growth and the hospital) need in Davie County?

Snow: An immediate concern of mine is to provide programs to guide our youth and supply the needed services for our elderly. Davie County is in need of more volunteers for our schools, after school youth programs and elderly assistance.

Teachers and education professionals need our time and energy to assist them with the guidance of our youth from elementary to high school. Some surrounding communities have men and women assist their teachers on a regular basis. This has been proven to be an asset to the children as well as teachers. It is known throughout North Carolina that Davie County has an outstanding ing school system. It is vital to our children that we keep up the good work. Volunteers are also needed for many supportive programs like Big Brothers/Big Sisters and Crime/Drug Prevention to mention a few.

In short, not only do we need to volunteer our time and services, but we also need to encourage and promote the building of facilities to help develop our youth and care for our elderly.

Talk about growth.

Snow: If asked the question, "Is the growth in Davie County enough, too much, not enough?" my answer would be YES to all three. Certainly in parts of Davie County the growth is adequate and balanced, such as the Advance community and other surrounding developments throughout the Advance/Comarater area. The new Cornet Middle School, which was much needed, is a tremendous facility and asset. However, the Hillsdale area including Bermuda Run, Oak Valley, Kinderon and the Bermuda Quay Shopping Center may be growing too fast, without adequate planning. For the past two years, traffic from 7 a.m.-9 a.m. during the work week has been backed up on Hwy. 158 and Hwy. 801. The county must feasibly provide services to this growing area. If growth is not monitored, problems will arise and expensive solutions will be the answer.

On the other hand, the initial industrial development in Davie County needs growth to broaden the tax base, provide stable jobs and financial security for the residents of our county. This increased tax base will create a greater revenue flow to our county, enabling us to extensively support the Sheriff's Department, Utilities, New Schools, Hospital, Volunteer Fire Department and other public services.

Other areas such as Farmington, Shady Grove Township and like ar-rounding the last five years have also seen tremendous growth and will continue to do so. It is imperative that our county maintains our standard of living. Just plain good folks. Likewise it is mandatory that we protect and preserve our farmland and rural areas. As a boy, I hunted and fished where now downtown Clemmons is located. If we do not take appropriate measures in the years, soon you will put up your hunting and fishing equipment as well.

Lets continue to plan and control the growth of our county to increase property value in areas where it is needed. Lets broaden our tax base, increase jobs and provide good services while maintaining the traditions and heritage of our county.

What do you like most about Davie County?

Snow: The greatest attribute of Davie County is certainly its people. As a business man I have traveled throughout the entire United States and the people who reside in Davie County are by far the best folks that I have ever met. There is always a person close at hand who enjoys nothing more than helping out a neighbor or being a friend. Where else can a total stranger in North Carolina, or the United States for that matter, walk into a business establishment like BJ's, Miller's, Andy's Grocery, Farmington Road Exxon and other great businesses and be greeted with a friendly handshake, smile and kind word or helping hand?

Davie County possesses from 4-Corners to Cooleemee to Hillsdale the most gorgeous farmlands, communities and developments that I have ever seen.

Combine the great people along with the beautiful landscape ... that's why I live in Davie County.

County Commissioners

Dan Barrett: Bring Communities Together To Solve Problems

What is the best option for using Davie County Hospital?

Barrett: Davie County needs a good hospital. A good hospital saves lives and provides necessary medical care. A healthy hospital also reduces the strain on our emergency medical services and attracts good industry to the county.

The key to saving the hospital is attracting and retaining good doctors who will work and live in this community and who will admit patients to the hospital. We already are blessed with some doctors who will admit patients to the hospital and who are committed to its future; we need to find and recruit more doctors who will commit themselves to our County and its hospital.

In approaching the problem, we have to recognize our limitations. No one is suggesting that we perform specialized services such as open heart surgery at the hospital; those services are provided in other larger hospitals. Also, the changing face of medicine suggests that there will be more use of outpatient procedures and fewer overnight stays in our hospital. Finally, we must find a viable business plan for the hospital to make it relatively self-sustaining. We cannot allow the hospital to become a "black-hole" for taxpayer dollars.

Finally, and perhaps most importantly, we cannot allow the hospital to be managed by anyone who is not committed to its long-term viability. We need to be careful and prudent in dealing with any outside group who offers to manage our hospital, because their long-term interests may not be the same as ours.

What is the most pressing need (other than the hospital and growth) in Davie County?

Barrett: Another pressing need in Davie County is to provide adequate support for essential services, namely emergency medical services, and fire and police protection. We currently only have two ambulances staffed and available for the entire County, and often both are required to be out of the County. Our fire departments have received the same level of support from the County, despite tremendous population growth. Our Sheriff's Department often has only three patrolmen on duty for late-night hours and its staffing has not kept up with population growth. I am committed to working to ensure that we provide these essential services. Talk about growth.

Barrett: Controlling and managing growth is critical to the future of Davie County. Unless we plan carefully, growth will run amok, threatening the very qualities which make Davie County such a great place to live.

Right now, we can see the effects of uncontrolled growth across this County. We have traffic congestion at the 158-801 intersection and other parts of the County, and the prospect of hundreds (or thousands) of new commuters emptying onto the roads in the years to come. With an increased population comes a strain on all of the County's infrastructure, including our schools, emergency medical services, and fire and police protection. In addition, unless we plan for the future, we face the prospect of skyrocketing taxes to cover the cost of additional infrastructure. Finally, unplanned residential growth threatens to use up all the farmland and woodland in the County, destroying the very character of the County we all enjoy.

On the other hand, growth, like death and taxes, is inevitable. Properly planned, growth can create higher paying jobs for County residents and improve our quality of life. With the proper balance of industrial/commercial and residential growth, we can keep our tax rate low. It also cannot be forgotten that, with certain limitations, land owners should have the right use or sell their land as they see fit.

My view on growth going forward is that it must pay for itself, it must be in the best interest of County residents, and it must be done in such a way to preserve the qualities that make Davie County a great place to live. We have the tools to make this happen, including control of placement of water and sewer, zoning, and insuring that developers "pay their own way."

I applaud the efforts that have already been made to plan for controlling future growth, but that is only the first step. We need leaders with the ability to listen, plan carefully, and make tough decisions. If elected, I will keep an open mind, listen to and carefully consider all points of view and ultimately vote my conscience based on what I believe to be in the best interests of Davie County.

Barrett: Also critical is to provide the support needed for our schools. We have excellent schools and teachers, but we must plan ahead to meet future needs. My mom was a school teacher and I was a substitute teacher. I have a son at Shady Grove (and a daughter who will be there soon). I am committed to working with school teachers and officials to make sure we support our excellent schools. To provide support for schools and other needs of the County, we have to run government efficiently and create a better balance between industrial/commercial growth and residential growth. In this way, we can increase our tax base and provide for the needs of our citizens, while keeping our tax rate low.

There are also a lot of "local" issues facing different parts of the County. Regardless of where we live, the job of the County Commissioners is to represent the whole County and to be sensitive to the needs of the entire County. In this regard, we cannot allow an "us/against them" attitude to develop in this County. In traveling around the County, I have, on a few occasions heard negative and destructive things said about others based on where they were born or where they live. We have to recognize that we are all in this together. Only by working together can we solve the problems that face the County. Cooleemee's problems must be Farmington's and so on. If your neighbor's tractor is in the ditch, you don't ask where he was born or where he lives, you just help him get his tractor out of the ditch. We have tractors in the ditch all across this County. We need to work together as neighbors to pull these tractors out, one by one. Working together as neighbors, we can solve the issues facing this County.

What is the best option for using Davie County Hospital?

Williams: Keep the hospital and use it for emergency. And for patients with very little or not very serious health problems. What is the most pressing need (other than growth and the hospital) in Davie County?
Williams: Improving the highways systems: Improving the schools systems. Talk about growth.
Williams: Growing is enough: It has to grow smart: There are improvements that need to be made: History is becoming one of the things that people are becoming more interested in. Need to preserve more historical sites in the county: Need more computers in the schools systems.

John Nelms: Reducing Dropout Rate Would Be Major Priority

What can be done to attract and retain more quality teachers?

Nelms: Obviously, one of the main problems is the teachers pay. While the teachers base pay is the same throughout the state, our county's supplement is only 3.7%, which is lower than most. We need to ask for more monies from the county and raise the supplement. We also need to make sure our facilities are kept up to date and keep up with the growth, that way our teacher to student ratios don't get too large. Do Davie schools receive a fair share of the county tax funds?

Nelms: I am sure the county commissioners feel they are allocating an ample share of county tax funds to the schools, but I am sure there must be ways to work out a larger allotment. Maybe with the school board working with the commissioners, we can trim some of the excess somewhere else and raise the school allotment.

What is the most pressing need in Davie schools?
Nelms: Very soon, with the blossoming of our county population, we are going to need a new high school. In the eastern part of the county. Right now there are around 1500 students at the high school. Studies and estimates show that by the year 2010, there will be close to 2500. We can't wait until it is too late! That would put us behind the "8 ball" and scrambling to catch up. We also need to make sure our other facilities at the other grade levels keep up. Very soon, we are going to have to have a bond referendum to help raise these funds.

How should the Central Davie campus be used?
Nelms: The Central Davie campus now houses the 4th & 5th grade and when Cornzart Elementary opens this fall, Central Davie will be empty. There are some sections of the building that are not structurally sound and those parts need to be bulldozed down.

The remaining good sections should be used to house Northwest Child Development and solve the need for space alternative education programs for the discipline problem students, drug problem students and others that can't be taught within the regular flow of students.

Other Issues
Nelms: I feel like Davie County has a major problem with the dropout rate in the high school age group. Somewhere around 450 students from this year's Class of 2000 entered the 9th grade together at Davie High. There are less than 300 remaining in the senior class. We need to not only find out where these students are going but also WHY they are leaving. While we have good vocational programs for the non-college bound students, we need to keep as many students as possible progressing toward their high school degrees.

Andrew White: Ten Year Strategic Plan Is Needed

Andrew White

What can be done to attract and retain more quality teachers?
White: Our teachers need our support. That doesn't just mean more money. That means more moral support and encouragement from our entire community. That means listening to the needs of the teachers, and responding to their needs - such as greater volunteering in the schools, day care facilities, expanded classroom facilities so that teachers can have their own classrooms instead of sharing with other teachers, continuing to focus on school safety, and compensation that matches their contribution to our children! The turnover among our teachers is alarming. Why do they leave? Often it is because they can make several thousand dollars a year more teaching in nearby counties, and substantially more money in non-teaching jobs. The future of our children and our community is in their hands - they spend more time with our children than we do, and they have a more direct role in educating and guiding our children than many parents do today. We need to be there for them, too!

Do Davie schools receive a fair share of the county tax funds?

White: The Davie County Schools received nearly 6 million dollars out of about 11 million dollars in ad valorem taxes paid by Davie taxpayers this year, as well as over a million dollars more out of local taxes. In addition, the County Commissioners are putting another half-million dollars over the next five years into a reserve fund for technology needs in the schools. Especially at a time when our fire departments and other essential services in Davie County need more funding, the increased allocation of tax funds to our schools is an issue which needs to be carefully studied. We know that we need to pay our teachers and other school staff more. We know that we are outgrowing our current school facilities and that we will need to find a way to accommodate possibly another 1,000 high school students, not to mention elementary school and middle school students, within the next ten years. We know that our schools need more funds to meet the requirements of our English Second Language Program, to provide more teacher assistant support, to provide more tutorial support for students, and to provide more technology support in our schools. Much of the money for this comes from State and Federal sources. Before we start increasing our local taxes and taking money away from other essential services, however, we also need to make sure money allocated to our schools is being spent wisely, and that grant money and other sources have been fully utilized. What is the most pressing need in Davie schools?

White: After visiting all six Davie County elementary schools, both middle schools and the high school, and after discussing many issues with administrators, principals, teachers, staff and countless parents and students, the most pressing concern I hear repeatedly is that we need to do a better job of planning for the next ten years. According to administrators, during the next ten years our schools will face the most difficult issues since 1956! These issues will involve long-range planning for new facilities throughout the county (Kindergarten will add more than 700 new families to Davie County), hiring and keeping the best quality teachers, alternative teaching methods for slower students, a growing ESL program, and major technological needs in our schools. Our School Board needs to have a ten-year strategic plan to address these issues, with significant input by the County Commission, Town Board members from Mocksville, Cooleemee and Bermuda Run, Planning Board members, and outside consultants studying various growth and planning issues in Davie County. Most important, we need more input from parents and teachers: as the saying goes, "the people closest to the problem are usually the people closest to the solution." Whether we like it or not, Davie County is growing quickly and changing in many ways. We cannot stop the growth, but we can plan around it and control its impact on our schools. That is probably the most important job for which citizens of Davie County elect their School Board.

How should the Central Davie campus be used?

White: The most obvious use for the Central Davie campus is the establishment of an alternative high school. The current School Board has recently approved the establishment of an alternative school to serve Davie County students whose needs cannot be met in the regular classroom, including especially at-risk students and potential drop-outs. In addition, the School Board has appointed an Alternative School Task Force which is studying the need of an alternative school in Davie County. Similar programs exist in other communities, including one nearby in Hickory. These programs appear to be successful in achieving the ultimate goal of providing a quality education for all of our children and preparing them to become responsible and productive citizens. While we like to think that we don't have a drop-out problem in Davie County, if we have even one student who drops out of school, then we have a problem. (In fact, we had 95 students who left the Davie County schools last year, for reasons ranging from pregnancy to jail.) In addition to the establishment of an alternative school, the need for a centralized day care facility is crucial to the Davie County schools. Establishment of such a facility at the central Davie campus could serve two goals: first, provide quality day care for teachers and school staff who are unable to obtain or afford it elsewhere in Davie County and, second, provide quality day-care for students who would otherwise be forced to drop out of school to care for a child.

What do you most like about Davie County?
White: The people. I was raised in a rural county and I moved to Davie County and established my law practice here because of the kindness and goodness of the people of this community. It was a thoughtful and prayerful decision. From Cooleemee to Center, from Farmington to Fork, this is a community where people still look out for and care about each other. Although we are a rapidly growing community and many things are changing in Davie County, we are retaining and preserving certain core values, including a tradition of educating our children to the highest standards and preparing them to be successful as parents, community leaders, and in their careers. I look forward to building on that tradition. Education is one of the few things we can give our children that will remain with them throughout their lives.

Debbie Pullen: Create Safe, Stimulating Learning Environment

What can be done to attract and retain more quality teachers?

Pullen: We need to work together to create an incentive package that will give our staff greater bargaining power to recruit. When Dr. Johnson goes to a job fair, and a Forsyth County recruiter waves an extra $5,000 under a college graduate's nose, our people are at a distinct disadvantage. I believe that we could obtain the support of the Davie business people who have been so generous already, to put together possible YMCA memberships, waiving apartment deposits, subsidizing travel expenses, restaurant coupons, hair salon appointments - these are tax-free benefits that could be used as a signing bonus. To retain quality teachers, I would like to encourage a greater recognition of the outstanding service that our staff is already giving. I would like to see the Central Office increase their honoring specific and valuable contributions of individual teachers and principals at their regular meetings. Being appreciated for the work you do goes a long way in being loyal to your job. We already have teachers who live in Winston-

Salem driving to Davie to teach, because of the favorable work environment. We know we are a smaller school system, but we need to get the secret out that we are a whole lot better.

We desperately need more minority teachers. Statistically, fewer college students are going into teaching as a profession. Many minority teachers are choosing the better-paying school systems. We are losing Julius Suiter to retirement this year, and his leadership will leave big shoes to fill as a role model. I would like to work with the African American community in Davie County to seek their advice for ways we can bridge this gap.

I favor the "Grow-Your-Own" teaching program advocated by the Strategic Planning Commission, and would like to see us find grants or other funding to implement it. Do Davie schools receive fair share of county tax funds?
Pullen: Davie County ranks 36th out of 117 school systems in county per pupil appropriation (as of 1997-1998). In our county budget, schools received 54% of the ad valorem tax received. The county commissioners have been responsive to our growing school population, as evidenced by then Governor Elementary opening this fall. But our unprecedented growth brings some challenges.

Although we are eighth in the state in per capita personal income, one in every four school children in Davie County receives a free or reduced lunch. One principal told me that he has children who come to school in the morning, who slept in their parent's car the night before. These children, and ESL children who are struggling with the English language, walk into classrooms with particular obstacles to overcome.

Along with our pressing curriculum needs, we must develop a ten-year plan for projected new schools. I intend to work closely with our county leaders in planning and implementing the best strategy to meet our growing enrollment. What is the most pressing need in Davie schools?

Pullen: The most pressing need in Davie schools is how to continue to create and maintain safe, uncrowded, stimulating learning environments for our children in which they can excel. Many people I know have moved to Davie County specifically for our excellent school system. We must tap the brainpower of our skilled business, government and education experts to plan for our burgeoning school population. We must assess projected growth, and discuss the feasibility of another high school, another elementary school. Whatever we decide, I want to see us united as a county, not divided.

While I am thrilled with our rising test scores, I am very concerned about the amount of mandated testing that is coming from the federal and state levels. The new "Gateways" end of grade testing for third, fifth and eighth graders goes into effect spring, 2001. This puts enormous pressure on these teachers. While the program is intended to keep students from being passed without knowing the material, it may also mean that underperforming students will bear a stigma of remediation the next year, as well as having to retake the test.

As I taught a "Creative Writing" class this year in several fourth and fifth grades in Davie and Iredell counties, I talked with teachers who planned, instructed, tutored the entire school year to prepare for the statewide writing test given March 7. The merit bonuses paid to teachers by the state if a school attains "Exemplary" status is based on standardized test scores. While I think we need good guidelines, I am not in favor of someone in Raleigh or Washington labeling a child because of poor test scores, and not allowing some flexibility on the part of the teaching staff who knows each child, and what might be best for him. Children are intuitive; if adults put a lot of emphasis on test results, they will, too. If we have more than one instrument for testing and promotion, we may give our children hope for achievement, and prevent the discouragement that has led to dropouts at the high school level. Let's give them more chances to succeed, than to fail.

We need to continue to prepare our students to compete with the best students in the country. Our son Justin graduated from Davie High in 1999, and was one of 1,100 students selected for the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. When I asked him last fall how he was making it in his classes, he said: "Mom, because of Mr. Hoyle's English class, I can keep up."

I advocate having successful Davie High graduates come and speak to classes. Some of my 1971 graduating class has done very well in business. Some have begun companies that are prospering. Not everyone has to go to college. We must inspire the dreams and hopes of every student.

How should the Central Davie campus be used?
Pullen: The campus can become a rich resource for new and existing programs. Its proximity to Central Office makes it a good location for the present Student Services staff housed there. It may also be an appropriate site for the proposed alternative school being considered, for students whose needs cannot be met in a regular classroom. This is currently under study by our school system.

The location, right in the heart of the county, could also give us more options if our schools continue to swell in size. My sister, Betsy Bingham, attended that campus in 1969, when classes were being held there as a middle school for academically gifted students (then called Mocksville Middle School). It could be used as a K-2 school. If we needed more classrooms for these traditionally larger grades.

Other Issues
Pullen: Our Exceptional Children have special needs. I commend Carlene Cope and the members of the Association of Retarded Citizens for all that they have done to supplement our children's education in Davie County. We need to continue to work to see that individual children do not get lost in the system. I am very supportive of the Character Education being taught in Davie County. As a writer, I am working on a high school history supplement to textbooks, that would give dramatic accounts of historical figures, based on the character qualities of responsibility, honesty, courage, compassion, and others. Recognizing good character traits and integrating them into existing fields of literature, history and social science will complete our children's development into adults of integrity.

I commend the Davie County pastors and ministers for the supportive work they are doing in sponsoring prayer breakfasts, baccalaureate services and the proposed youth center, in conjunction with Parks & Recreation. I also appreciate the selfless work of the Gideons, who underwrite the cost of free Bibles for students who want them. I will work to continue these efforts.

I have been a mother for almost 20 years. I have spent 15 years packing school lunches and going to PTA meetings, parent/teacher conferences and sports banquets. I have volunteered in the schools; and I have taught in every elementary school in the county as a professional writer. I have taught writing workshops for classroom teachers. I am also a product of the Davie County school system; and have greatly benefited from the caring teachers who shaped my adolescent years.

I am the daughter of Donald and Sarah Bingham, both of whom have served on the Davie County Board of Education. Mother was so proud to be elected. It turned out to be the last civic responsibility she ever held; she died before completing her term in 1984.

I would very much like to finish the work that she started.

What do you most like about Davie County?
Pullen: What I Like Most About Davie County is without a doubt, the people. As a child growing up here, I took for granted the kindness people showed me at Bethlehem Methodist Church, the Jaycees like Ken Sales who supported me as "Miss Mocksville," my drama teacher Joyce Hart at Davie High. Now, as a mother with three teenagers, I notice volunteers like Edward Theurer, who spends every day reading to Coolemees Elementary students, or Lola and Jimmy Hillard, who are selling raffle tickets for an expensive go-cart they donated to the Relay for Life cancer fundraiser. Jane Simpson helped raise over a million dollars to refurbish Brock Auditorium. Willie Studevent's women's group, Les Jour des Femmes, gives a scholarship to a senior every year. There are so many more. We have a lot of challenges ahead in Davie County, and we have a lot of needs. But I am confident that our greatest resource is the caring folks who live here.

What do you most like about Davie County?
Howell: Rural areas, small communities. People in Davie work well together in times of need.

Renee Howell: 'Your Child's Education Is Their Future'

What can be done to attract and retain more quality teachers?

Howell: Offer a sign on bonus - offer scholarships to students that are pursuing teaching to get them to come back to Davie Co.
- make sure there are good benefits & retirement
- try to lower the number of students in each class for less work load. What is the most pressing need in Davie schools?

Howell: Biggest concern for Davie Co Schools are the growth of Davie Co. The schools are getting too crowded - especially the high school. This is affecting the dropout rate. It is increasing dramatically. Too many students per teacher. If a new high school is looked into for the next few years then some of the growth problem in school could be solved. With having 2 high schools then the teachers should have more time for students and the dropout rates should decrease.

How should the Central Davie campus be used?
Howell: Use it for some continuing education for troubled students. Have teachers there for classes for these students so that they won't dropout and can finish with their class at the end of the year. This could lower the dropout rate. This campus could also be used as a daycare for school employees' children.

Janet Boger: Represent All Children In School System

What can be done to attract and retain more quality teachers?

Boger: In believe a sign-on bonus for teachers would work well in attracting and hiring the best teachers. Also a percentage bonus at the end of the year based on years of service and salary.
Do Davie schools receive a fair share of the county tax funds?

Boger: Yes, but where and how these are distributed could be better spent in other areas.
What is the most pressing need in Davie schools?

Boger: There are several needs right now in the schools that need to be addressed. Our classrooms are crowded not just by students but by square feet. More volunteers are needed to help out in the classroom and special events. Parents, guardians, and step-parents need to spend a day in the life of their child at school. That way they will have a better understanding of what and how the curriculum is being taught. How should the Central Davie campus be used?

Boger: If elected I would do my best to represent all children and individuals in the school system. Having two children in the school system I feel I have a vested interest in the system that is involved in their future. I would appreciate your vote on May 2nd and I hope to see you at the polls.

Jeanne Anderson: Recruit More Teachers Of Color; Support Arts

What can be done to attract and retain more quality teachers?

Anderson: Local salary supplement is important in attracting and retaining teachers. North Carolina is very close to the national salary average. The local supplement must be competitive. Children of teachers should be allowed to attend the school in which their parent teaches if it is out-of-district.
Real site-based management helps to retain teachers because they have a voice and are treated as professionals. Administrators play a key role. A major reason for transfers is the effectiveness of administrators. Quality staff development, as well as funds allocated for it, keeps teachers informed, up-to-date and prepared to teach.
Do Davie schools receive a fair share of the county tax funds?
Anderson: Davie County Schools receive 54% of the total county tax funds. Our current property tax rate is 63¢ per $100 of evaluated property. I believe that is a fair share; however, as the population increases, demand on services increase. This demand has already affected the schools. To say Davie County property is valuable is an understatement. So are our children. Perhaps the tax needs to increase to cover the demands and expectations Davie citizens have regarding schools and other county services.
What is the most pressing need in Davie schools?
Anderson: The most pressing need is adequate space and facilities. Students are crowded into classrooms and mobile units that do not have enough space for instruction and interaction. Several Davie High teachers do not have their own classrooms. Sometimes this is also the case at the middle schools. Teachers cannot present information and conduct class as they would like or should be able when they must move (materials) about the campus. Boards of Education and Commissioners need to work together to devise a definite plan to accommodate present and future students. This is obviously past due.

How should the Central Davie campus be used?
Anderson: Some of the exceptional children's programs are housed at Central Davie and could continue to be there. Perhaps some of the ones at other schools could be moved there. It could be the site for a much needed alternative school. Some of the administration on Cherry Street might benefit from being located at Central Davie. This campus could serve as a faculty/staff center for workshops, a supplementary materials center, a meeting place and the like.

Other Issues
Anderson: As a board of education member, I will seek to recruit and retain teachers of color. The minority communities deserve more representation to reflect and serve as role models for our diverse population. I am willing to make sure our students are receiving the best quality breakfast and lunch available.
As an arts educator I am more aware than most parents about the unequal or non-existent distribution of music, art and physical education among our children. I intend to assure that all kindergarten through grade 5 students receive enough time with these specialists.
I will seek win-win solutions to the problems and questions presented to the Davie County Board of Education.

Anderson: I like the small geographical size of Davie County. This small size enables a greater sense of community because we are more likely to know our neighbors. Our children get to know each other better. This also greatly contributes to the continued achievement of Davie County students. While the geographical size cannot increase, we must all realize that the growing population has and will continue to affect the schools Board of education members must face this reality with a definite plan for the future.

David Barnes: Speak For The Value Of Education

What can be done to attract and retain more quality teachers?

Barnes: Our staffing challenge is real. We lose teachers to retirement, to other schools, to higher pay and to careers with less stress. The schools are Davie County's largest employer, and they face stiff competition for quality people. Businesses look at our staff (and potential staff) and see the employees they need to succeed: trained professionals who work well with people, manage multiple tasks and have strong computer or technical skills.
First, let's stop the bleeding. North Carolina loses 1/3 of all new teachers in the first three years. Stronger mentoring could retain quality teachers by assigning new teachers to 50% of their time teaching, 25% preparing and 25% working with a veteran/mentor. We should consider matching other schools in supplements and new benefits such as relocation bonuses or childcare. The State Employees Credit Union, lateral transfers, low taxes, school discipline and the county, and I respect the teamwork that each school uses to set their budget priorities. I support measurable spending objectives and annual evaluations of our education investments. Analyzing our budget requires experience with complicated finances and government regulations. I offer those skills. I will work closely with the other board members, staff and county to advocate the proper levels of school funding and to help insure that our money is well spent. What is the most pressing need in Davie schools?

Barnes: Ten years ago Oak Valley was a rolling pasture. The next ten years will bring even more developments placing tremendous pressure on our schools in every part of the county. As a planner, I am uniquely qualified to help our schools manage this growth. My masters degree in planning provides practical skills, and my experience with industrial construction prepares me to help meet our future expansion needs. Community input, partnerships and planning are critical to managing growth and minimizing costs. In 25 years, I will still have kids in the schools. I will work hard to help our schools stay prepared... both in 2000 and in 2025. Today's students also face pressing career needs. As an economic developer, I see what students need to succeed in today's changing economy. Technology and growth will increase opportunities for all our students - the at-risk, average and accelerated students alike. Dropouts can decrease. Job skill training can increase. Access to college-bound electives is virtually unlimited. Each child deserves every opportunity (that we can afford) to succeed in their own way.

How should the Central Davie campus be used?
Barnes: A combination of alternative schooling, teacher training, community use, childcare and continued central services (such as nursing) will be considered with input from the community, parents and staff. We will find the best opportunities for this valuable asset.
Other Issues
Barnes: As Natalie and I start our family, continued school quality is a concern. I am proud of Davie County's schools and will work hard to "make our good schools even better." David Owens: Promotes Character Building, Integrity-Based Educational System

What can be done to attract and retain more quality teachers?

Owens: 1. The local supplement should continue to improve. We have come a long way over the past 10 years, from a yearly amount based on years of service (about $250) to the present 3.7% of salary. Our average is $951 compared to a state average of $1078. More importantly, we must compete with larger systems that border us.

2. We could do more with local businesses to provide benefits, such as memberships to the YMCA. There is a committee looking at some type of child care relief for employees, possibly through the private sector.

3. We should do more to communicate about the quality of life we have in Davie County at the job fairs.

4. We could offer a signing bonus to new teachers.

5. We could offer a signing bonus to new teachers.

6. We could work with our commissioners to offer a scholarship to teachers who would return here to teach after college.

Do Davie schools receive a fair share of the county tax funds?

Owens: I feel this question deserves more than a yes or no answer. I think that the county commissioners do a good job with the money they have available. As the county has grown, the demand for services and the number of agencies that require funding have increased. While revenue has risen, the percentage of the county budget which the schools receive is down to 58% from 65% six years ago. Over the same period of time more funding of the total school budget has been shifted from the federal and state level to the local level. The reason is that we rank 8th of 100 counties in per capita income and more of the money is going to "low wealth" counties. Our per student local expenditure is $1215 compared to the NC average of $1268.

With us maintaining a top 10 school system in performance, I feel that Davie County continues to get good value for their educational dollar. The allocation will improve as education continues to be a top priority for both the school board and the county commissioners. We must work together to provide all we can for the children of Davie County. What is the most pressing need in Davie schools?

Owens: I think the most pressing need at the present time is addressing the rapid growth we have experienced over the past few years. We have increased by 1000 students since 1992!

In 1994 a much needed $2.5 million renovation was completed at Davie High School. In 1995 a $7.6 million bond package was passed which allowed the high growth areas to be addressed. Also $2 Million of the package was used to start a five year technology plan titled "A Blueprint for the Future". Three years ago a "redistricting" task force was assigned to develop a plan to best utilize our present facilities and to help plan for future growth. The new Cortner Elementary school will be opened for the 2000-2001 school year and the new plan will go into effect.

While some areas have grown more quickly than others, the entire county is now experiencing growth. I think the next phase of building would include adding onto the smaller schools that have seen no "bricks and mortar" in the past few years. This would probably be followed by more schools as the numbers demand. The long range plan is being revisited this year as we continue to utilize all the planning tools available to us.

How should the Central Davie campus be used?

Owens: The Central Davie campus has a long tradition and was built in several different phases. The oldest part is dated in 1927 and the newest in the 1970's. Approximately 15% of the facility is from the 1927's and is no longer useable. Some of our student services, school nurse program, and social workers staff are housed in the older part and could utilize part of the remaining campus. The gymnasium could be used by the community for various events. One of the goals of the strategic plan titled "Connecting to our Future" calls for an alternative school to serve students whose needs cannot be met in the regular classroom. Part of the Central Davie campus could be used for that project. Part of the campus could be used to work more in the pre-school program. Staff development could also be done at that facility.

What do you like most about Davie County?

Owens: The thing I like most about Davie County is the great people and the way they still take care of each other. My family did not have a lot of material things when I grew up but we had the love of our parents and the good neighbors around us who would not let us fall. We still have the attitude today of practicing the traditional values that our country was founded on, that of openly practicing our faith and letting it affect our public life. Not only do many families care about their own children but care about those less fortunate.

During the 12 years I have served on the school board, I have seen first hand that these great people cause our schools to be great! There is a spirit of cooperation between the schools and the community. Volunteerism is at an all time high with children getting a lot of the love, attention and extra help they need to be successful in school and life. These things result in a great quality of life in Davie County.

Mrs. Mark William McConnell III

McKee-McConnell Couple Married In Winston-Salem

Summer Neal McKee and Mark William McConnell III, both of Dallas, Texas, were married Saturday, April 29 at First Presbyterian Church in Winston-Salem.

The Rev. Dr. Russ H. Richee Jr., officiated at the 5 p.m. ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Rebecca Carter McKee of Bermuda Run. She is a graduate of Davie High School and earned a bachelor's degree in hospital-ity management from Western Carolina University, where she was a member of Omega Honor Society and the founder and president of the Hospitality Management Association. She is employed as a senior hospitality account executive with Millsport, LLC, where her responsibilities include hospitality at the Final Four, Fiesta Bowl, Ryder Cup and NASCAR races with Jeff Gordon.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. William McConnell Jr., of Portland, Ore. He graduated from Mater Dei High School and earned a degree in marketing from St. Edward's University in Austin, Texas, where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He is employed as a financial consultant with Merrill Lynch.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her uncle, Robert Handley. Wendy Joyce Terry was her matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Kristin Markham, Elizabeth McConnell, Amy McConnell and Ashley Wiles.

The groom's brother, Michael McConnell, served as best man. Groomsmen were Braden Harmon, Matthew McKee, Ky Chaffin and Steven Williams.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Bermuda Run Country Club.

A reception at Graylyn followed the wedding ceremony.

After a wedding trip to the island of Maui and Kauai, the couple will reside in Dallas.

Coolmeemee Seniors Vote For Trip To Mt. Airy

The Coolmeemee Senior Citizens met in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church on Monday, April 10.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Reba Holt. She opened the meeting by asking Noah Platt to lead the club in prayer.

Hannah Jones led the club in singing "He Leadeth Me," and Jane Sneed accompanied by playing the piano.

The devotions were given by Assistant Chaplain James "Doll" Foster. Here are a few of his comments: "To You From The Boss." It read: "I am God. Today I will be handling all of your problems. Please remember that I do not need your help. If life happens to deliver a situation to you that you cannot handle, do not attempt to resolve it. Kindly put it in the SFGTD (something for God to do) box."

It gave ways to re-evaluate your problems. Several examples were: Should you have a bad day at work - think of the man who has been out of work for years. Should you despair over a relationship gone bad - think of the person who has never known what it's like to love and be loved. Should your car break down, leaving you miles away from assistance - think of the paraplegic who would love the opportunity to take that walk.

Francis Miller called the roll. There were 26 members present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Nancy Foster, secretary. The thought for the day: "When you walk with God, you will always get to your destination."

Jones and Bettie Smith gave the sunrise and treasury reports.

Barbara Thornton said that the tour committee had decided on a trip to Mt. Airy. A vote was called for by Holt. Thornton told of the activities to be held at the Senior Center. A balance improvement and fall prevention seminar will be held on Tuesday, May 2 at 11 a.m. A Tai Chi exercise demonstration will be held Wednesday, May 17 at 11 a.m. Tai Chi helps older adults improve balance and reduce stress.

The program was given by Bobbie Daniel. She entertained the club by relating several amusing anecdotes. Prizes were then awarded to those who could recall the most words to the song "Easter Parade."

Holt adjourned the meeting following the singing of the club song and prayer by Elizabeth Shepherd.

The next meeting will be held at the First Baptist Church on April 24

There were several visitors at Wesley Chapel for Easter Services, including Bryan and Suzanne Lakey of Boone, Robert and Barbara Ellis and Josh, Albert Greer of Mocksville, Christy Gentry, Ron Garner, and Heath Brown of Charlotte, Andrea Gentry of Phillippe, W.Va., and Ray, Rian and Lindsay Thomas of Pino.

Bob and Louise Dill enjoyed having Easter lunch with all their children and grandchildren at their home.

Bob and Kathy Ellis entertained at their home for Easter lunch. Those attending were son, Robert and his family, Barbara, Albert and Josh, son Ethan Boger and fiancée, Allison Hoffman, Bob's brother, Richard of Jonesville, and his family, Cathy, Lauren, Lindsay and Carter, and Harmon and Nora Latham. After lunch all the children enjoyed an Easter egg hunt in the backyard.

All the children and grandchildren of Gene and Marie Miller had Easter lunch together at Gene and Marie's.

Joining Pete and Maudelyn Gentry for Easter lunch Sunday were their daughters, Christie and Andrea and nephews, Ron Garner and Heath Brown. Also joining them were Pete's mother of Winston-Salem, Lena Call, and Maudelyn's mother, Mattie Ward of Pino.

Lindsay and Rian Thomas are home from school for the Easter Holiday.

Jaycees Sponsor Egg Hunt; Meet Twice A Month

The Mocksville-Davie Jaycees, in conjunction with the Mocksville/Davie Parks and Recreation Department, hosted an Easter Egg Hunt on Saturday, April 22, at 2 p.m. at Rich Park.

Several hundred children of all ages attended. More than 7,000 eggs were hidden for the children to find, and inside the eggs were small prizes and candy.

In addition to the Easter Egg Hunt, the Mocksville-Davie Jaycees held their spring raffle, with proceeds benefiting their operational fund.

The Jaycees would like to thank Kathy Sirell, Mike Garner, the Mocksville/Davie Parks and Recreation Department, and all who purchased tickets or attended the Easter Egg Hunt for making our Spring Fund Raiser a big success," said John Gallimore, Jaycee president.

The Mocksville-Davie Jaycees are a community service-oriented, leadership training organization for men and women ages 21-39. They meet every first and third Thursday at Samuel's on Main Street at 6:30. If interested, attend a meeting. For more information, contact Gallimore at 940-5713, or Will Duggins, membership vice president, at 942-7525.

Barnes-Green Engagement Announced

Jimmy Barnes and Ann Barnes, both of Mocksville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Michelle Barnes to Mitchell Burris Green, the son of Kenneth Green of Mocksville and Naomi Minton of Hamptonville.

The bride-elect graduated from Davie High School and works in accounts receivable/customer service with Sheffield Financial in Clemmons.

Her fiancé is also a graduate of Davie High School and is employed with Fuller Welding and Fabricators in Mocksville.

The couple will wed June 30 at Hardison United Methodist Church.

Jerusalem Starts Early Worship

The congregation of Jerusalem Baptist Church, U.S. 601 South, Mocksville, invites everyone to the beginning of a second worship service.

The new service will begin Sunday, April 30, at 8:15 a.m. It will have a "Praise and Worship" theme. There will be lots of singing with contemporary choruses... a time of giving... and an inspirational message which will share practical insight from God's Word for the challenges of everyday life.

As an added bonus, attendance at the program enters all attendees in a drawing to win a $100 gift certificate, compliments of the Davie County Commissioners.

This event is free and open to the public.

Piano Recital Scheduled Sunday

A piano recital featuring the students of Heather Blank, Regina Chandler, and Lisa Matthews, will be held on Sunday afternoon, April 30, 2000, at 3, at the Davie County Public Library in Mocksville.

Students performing include: Samantha James, Megan Stephenson, Katelyn and Megan Jacobs, Molly and Martha Harris, Rebecca Riddle, Rusty Angell, Katrina Hollar, Valerie Frye, Kristin McMillan, Meghan Matthews, Jessica Roache, and Stephanie Wodanski.

Brandon Callaway (student of Shawna Callaway) will also be performing.

The church is located at 1994 U.S. 158, just east of Mocksville.

Oak Grove Breakfast Saturday

Oak Grove United Methodist Church will sponsor a breakfast from 6-10 a.m. Saturday, April 29 with eggs, sausage, country ham and grits.

Proceeds go to the Relay For Life. The church is located at 1994 U.S. 158, just east of Mocksville.

Heart-To-Heart Program Set

On Thursday, May 4, the Healthy Carolinians of Davie County Chronic Disease Committee will be sponsoring a Heart-To-Heart program at the Davie County Public Library.

This program is designed to educate anyone whose life may be affected by heart disease including those diagnosed with the disease, their family and friends. The program is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. Dr. Earl Watts, cardiologist with Baptist Hospital, Jim Bodie, pharmacist with Eckerd Drug, Kevin Sharpe, exercise physiologist with Davie Medical Center, Sister Susie Dandison of St. Francis Church, Community Outreach worker, and Shannon Hunt, heart disease spokesperson, will be on hand for questions and comments.

As an added bonus, attendance at the program enters all attendees in a drawing to win a $100 gift certificate, compliments of the Davie County Commissioners.

This event is free and open to the public.

Senior Art Show Saturday

Senior Artists of Davie will put their talents on display at the Brock Performing Arts Center as they compete to represent their community in the State Finals in Raleigh in October.

Both Visual and Heritage Arts will be represented including everything from wood carving to photography. The winner from each sub category will be eligible to advance to State Finals.

The reception honoring them will be at 7 p.m. and will be followed immediately by the performing arts competition. Both are free and open to the public at the Brock Performing Arts Center, Friday, April 28.

Other 50 percent is designated to the Arts Council's programs.

In the past, organizations such as the Davie County Senior Center, Le Jour des Femmes, Coolmeemee Historic Association, Historic Davie, Davie County High School Fine Arts Department, United Methodist Women, Very Special Arts, Silver Arts, and the Davie Theatre Company have received funding support from the Grassroots Arts Program.

Typical authorized subgrantees include arts organizations, schools, libraries, historical societies, civic service agencies, recreation departments, churches, sororities and fraternities, health care institutions, community and downtown development corporations, community colleges, and technical institutions. Priority will be given to organizations with non-profit status.

All qualified applicants receive equal consideration. No organization receives predetermined percentages of award monies or automatic "renewable" awards. Each year the slate is wiped clean and each organization must be judged again as if it was their first application.

Applications for Grassroots Arts Programs are available from the Davie County Arts Council and may be picked up at the Brock Performing Arts Center.

Arts Council Accepting Applications For Grassroots Grants

The Davie County Arts Council is accepting applications for Grassroots Subgrant arts projects for 2000-2001.

The N.C. Arts Council awards all of the state's counties with Grassroots funding for the arts, and each county receives their allotment based on their population. Fifty percent of the total award is required to be designated to support organizations throughout Davie County that produce arts programs for the general public, and the other 50 percent is designated to the Arts Council's programs.

Advance News

By Edith Zimmerman
Advance Correspondent

A Community Revival, hosted by the Methodist church, will be April 30 through May 5 with services each evening. Churches participating in the services will be Pine Grove Methodist-Sunday, Advance Methodist-Monday, Advance Baptist-Tuesday, Mt. Zion A.M.E. Wednesday, Mecks Methodist Thursday, and Elbaville-Fulton Methodist on Friday night. Everyone is invited.

Visitors at the Methodist church Sunday were Dr. Tim Vogler, wife

Maria, and daughter Lauren of Wilmington. They spent the Easter weekend with his parents, Ed and Elsie Vogler. Other visitors were the families of Leonard and Mary Nell Jones, Anne Weatherman and daughters Jennifer Anne, Halley Lynne and Shalby Elizabeth Weatherman of Salt Lake City, Utah; Janna Jones Watson and son Alan Michael Watson of Purlcar; Dave and Cheryl Markland and daughter Ashley of Hickory; Ruth Collette of Winston-Salem; Elizabeth Crouse Jordan and her granddaughter, Susan Jordan.

A lovely arrangement of pink roses was on the altar at church Sunday in honor of Abby Vogler, given by her grandmother Norma Lee Vogler.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Thomas Hendrix of the Fork community.

Adrian Farley and Kristen Wychoff of Arlington, Va., spent Saturday afternoon and night with Adrian's mother, Edith Zimmerman. They had driven down to Durham where they had attended an ACC Track Meet for daughter Denise Farley, a participating student a UVA, Charlottesville, Va. Saturday night Adrian treated her mother and Kristen to dinner at Dockside Restaurant in Clemmons, plus a tour of the area admiring the Easter decorations.

Andrea Hendrix of Myrtle Beach, S.C., visited her grandmother, Edith Zimmerman Monday afternoon and also on Tuesday.

Those in our community celebrating birthdays last Wednesday, April 19, were Lib Carter, Mary Nell Jones, George Barnhardt, Dot Carter and Dana Cooke.

Coldwell's Janet Masters Earns ABR Designation

ADVANCE—Janet R. Masters with Coldwell Banker Triad Realtors has been awarded the Accredited Buyer Representation (ABR) designation by the Real Estate Buyer's Agent Council, Inc., of the National Association of Realtors.

Today's real estate brokers and agents want to provide a full menu of services for their clients, whether they are buyers or sellers," said Terrence M. McDermott, president and CEO of REBAC. "The ABR designation, the benchmark of excellence in buyer agency service, demonstrates to clients that the agent has taken steps to continue their education in the field of buyer representation, and has the proven experience and training to deliver ethical and professional service to real estate buyers." Masters joins more than 18,000 real estate professionals in North America who have earned the designation. Requirements include a comprehensive two-day course in buyer representation, a written examination on legal and practical aspects of client representation, and practical experience in the field of buyer representation.

Couple Plans Wedding

Nicole Moore and Robert Price, both of Mocksville, plan to be married on Sunday, April 30, at the Coolemece Presbyterian Church in Coolemece, with the Rev. Robert Goforth officiating, at noon, or immediately following the Sunday morning worship, which begins at 11 a.m.

Engagement Announced

Johnny and Myrtle Holloway of Raleigh announce the engagement of their daughter, Ginger Leigh Holloway to Jason Earl Tomberlin of Raleigh, the son of Gerald and Debbie Tomberlin of U.S. 158, Mocksville.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Garner High School and earned a bachelor's degree in biology from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1997. She is a research associate with Glaxo Wellcome.

The groom-to-be is a graduate of Davie High School and earned a bachelor's degree in history in 1997 from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He is working on a master's degree in public history at N.C. State University, and is employed as an archivist with the State Division of Archives and History.

The wedding is planned for June 10 at Hayes Barton Baptist Church in Raleigh.

Cheerleading Camp June 20-23

The cheerleading squads of Davie High School will hold their annual cheerleader camp at Davie High School June 20-23 from 6-8:30 p.m. The camp is open to all girls who will be in kindergarten through eighth grade for the 2000-2001 school year.

The cost for the four-day camp is $40. Campers will receive basic instruction in cheers, chants and stunts. Awards will be presented and an all-star squad will be chosen to appear at a Davie High School home football game.

Registration forms can be picked up at the office of each elementary school, North and South Davie middle schools, and Davie High School.

For questions or further information call Coach Lynn Ray at 751-5905.

Special Olympics Rescheduled

Special Olympics Davie's Summer Games Thursday, April 13, was rained out, calling for a rain date. No problem - a rain date, April 25, is already scheduled; but what about a rain date for the rain date? This week's weather proved that Mother Nature could make waste of even the best laid plans.

Thanks to Davie High's athletic department, JROTC and administration, plus the magic of the bus garage pulling activity buses from the thin, if wet, air and a huge helping of good luck in availability, we have a rain date for the rain date.

Monday, May 1, the athletes of Davie will take to the competitive field in track and field, tennis, bocce, powerlifting, motor activities and Challenge Lead Up. The parade of athletes will start at 9 a.m. followed by opening ceremonies featuring a welcoming by Principal Linda Best and then the games themselves.

A total of 175 athletes from six schools, five group homes, two day programs, and several independents will be competing. The Games are open to the public.

Cedar Grove Plans Homecoming

The Cedar Grove Baptist Church (Pork Community) will celebrate their annual homecoming services on Sunday, May 7, at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The 11 a.m. speaker will be Bishop Milton A. Williams of Washington, Md. Williams resides over the 5th District of the A.M.E. Zion churches. He is a former resident of Mocksville and the son of the late Booker T. and Lillian Williams.

The 3 p.m. service will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Sir Walter Mack Jr., pastor of Union Baptist Church, Winston-Salem, accompanied by his choir and congregation. Lunch will be served at 1:30 p.m. (church fellowship hall). The Rev. Kevin C. Ingram is the pastor.

Message to the Citizens

Over the past few months I have talked to you, the citizens of Davie County about Values and Values. By Vision, I am talking about the ability to foresee problems and act before a problem becomes a crisis.

By Values, I mean making decisions as a commissioner based on the beliefs that our community is built upon: Decency, Honor, Responsibility.

Having tried to live my life based on these values, I believe I am a person who can be trusted. Trust is not a word normally related to politics. I am not a career politician. I am, however, a citizen who is concerned about the direction our county is taking.

If you elect me as a commissioner, my pledge to you, the voters is to:

- Base my decisions on Values ---- not politics
- Plan, evaluate, educate ---- before I act
- Actively address issues ---- no "back burner" philosophy because of politics
- Explain to the citizens the reason I voted a certain way

I believe these are the traits you want in a commissioner. If you believe our county needs commissioners we can trust, if you believe you can trust a person with these beliefs,

Please vote for Ken White - May 2

An Open Letter in Support of Andrew White for School Board

There is a common denominator to education: children. Our school board focuses on the welfare of our children. By design, we don't choose school board members because they are Democrats or Republicans, because they are black or white, or because they are rich or poor. We choose people that are best qualified to take responsibility for this critical part of our community: our children.

Educating our children in a safe and positive environment is a major task. Voting citizens can make a worthy contribution to the current and future welfare of Davie County by electing competent officials to the School Board who advocate high standards with no provisions for alcohol, drugs, or violence in our educational system.

These are a few of the reasons why we encourage you to support Andrew White for the Davie County Board of Education on May 2nd.

Boy Scouts Host Webelos Cubs

Boy Scout Troop 525 hosted Webelos Scouts from three of the four Webelos dens of Cub Scout Pack 574 on Monday, April 3.
The Cubs and their families toured the Scout Hut. There were various displays of wood samples, knot tying, and rope splicing, badge displays, and item pots. The various ceiling and wall hangings were enjoyed.
One scoutmaster gave a brief history of "Robeson's Rogues" to a participating member of the commemorative wall hangings. The pride of the Boy Scouts as they conducted the program they planned was obvious, and served as inspiration to the Cub Scouts attending.

Hill, Matt Johnson, Jordan Howell, Ryan "Fred" Montgomery, Kevin Kirkpatrick, and Bryon Kirkpatrick. Cubs were: Michael Hastings, Zachary Smith, Caleb Creason, Luke Ray, John Parker, Will Byerly, and Jordan Courtemanche.
Upcoming scouting events include the Old North State Camporee April 28-30 in Denton. To join, contact Old North State Council at 1-800-367-9166, and ask for more information.

Senior patrol leader Kelly Hill led the boys in the opening. Then the boys were divided into two groups for exploration and study. After a fun time of instruction in scouting skills, Scoutmasters Edwin Owens and Michael Kirkpatrick served a snack of barbecued chicken and cherry cobbler, cooked the "old fashioned" way, to the Cubs and others.
After closing, the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts conducted a special service project called "Locate the Keys" and really helped one fortunate mom out of an embarrassing situation.

Obituaries

Thomas A. Hendrix

Thomas Anderson Hendrix, 83, of Park, died Wednesday morning, April 19, 2000, at the Kate B. Reynolds Hospice House in Winston-Salem.
Mr. Hendrix was born Sept. 7, 1916, the son of Charlie Anderson and Myrtle Sain Hendrix. On Oct. 26, 1940, he was married to Pauline Beane. Living in Davie County all of their lives, they had shared over 59 years together. Funeral services were at 11 a.m. on Friday, April 21, at Park Baptist Church. Burial followed in the church cemetery.

Mr. Hendrix retired from Hanes Corporation on May 4, 1981, after 45 years of service as a technician/developer. He served in the community as president of Fork Fire Department for 25 years and as a founding member of Fork Civic Club. He was a member of Park Baptist Church, having served many years as Sunday School Superintendent, Deacon, and in many other capacities.

He is survived by 5 children: Barbara Montgomery of Winston-Salem, Tommy and Tiny Hendrix of Advance, Glenda and Ron Beard of Salisbury, Jerry and Connie Hendrix of Laurinburg, and Betty and Stacy Comar of Advance; 10 grandsons; 5 granddaughters; 2 great-grandsons; many nieces and nephews; his brother, Richard and Bill of Advance.
Three brothers, Odell, Paul, and Frank, preceded him in death.

Ken White, Richard Poindexter, Dan Barrett For County Commission

Incumbent Boon Loses Seat On County Board

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie County Republicans nominated two newcomers - Ken White and Dan Barrett - and incumbent Richard Poindexter to the county commissioners Tuesday.

Eight-year incumbent Carl Boon lost narrowly, finishing fourth in a field of eight candidates.

Boon was in third place during the counting until the final precincts were posted.
"It happens," Boon said after the votes were counted in the Davie County Courthouse. "It hurts. You don't run to lose. I was a good campaign. The county has elected the three best candidates."

Ken White finished first with 2,063 votes; Poindexter, 2,027; Barrett, 1,684; Boon, 1,599; Wayne Webb, 1,496; Larry Hayes, 1,398; Jack Snow, 1,070; and Charles O. Williams, 650.

White was among the crowd in the courtroom straining their eyes to read the results.

Ken Harpe nudged him and told him not only had he won, he had led the ticket.

"It's one of the most humbling things that's happened in my life," White said. "Now is when the challenge starts. My responsibility is to all the people of the county."

Brent Shoaf Leads Race For Register Of Deeds

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Brent Shoaf rode a strong showing in eastern Davie to lead the ticket in the race for the Republican nomination for Davie County Register of Deeds.

Shoaf won the Fulton, East and West Shady Grove, Smith Grove and Hillsdale precincts, and gained a total of 954 votes, beating Luther Potts, the runner up with 799 votes.

With eight candidates spreading out the number of votes, Shoaf fell short of getting the 40 percent to win the election outright. Potts has until next Tuesday to call for a runoff, or a second primary. There are no Democrat candidates for the office, although an unaffiliated candidate is trying to get enough signatures to be on the ballot in November.

Potts said that he will study the results in every precinct before deciding whether to call for the runoff. "There were a lot in the race and I know it

Pullen, Owens Take School Board Seats

By Jeanne Gailther
Davie County Enterprise Record

Political newcomer Debbie Pullen of Advance led the race for one of two seats in Davie's nonpartisan school board election Tuesday by 162 votes, followed by incumbent David Owens, who received 2,693 votes.

"I want to be an advocate for our children, parents and teachers," Pullen said. That has been her promise to voters throughout her campaign.
The school board is a wonderful bridge between school system professionals and the parents and children of the community. To meet the needs of the county, these groups need each other. Among her greatest concerns is meeting the challenge of growth within the county, Pullen said.

As an elected official, she promises that her door will always be open to her constituents.

Pullen said she will do everything she can to support teachers and school personnel.

Through her service on the board, Pullen said she hopes to honor her father and her late mother, Donald and Sarah Pullen. Please See Pullen - Page 4

Town Rezones Land Beside Davie High For Business

By Jeanne Gailther
Davie County Enterprise Record

The Mocksville Town Board voted to rezone a 2.6 acre tract of land beside Davie High School on Salisbury Road for highway commercial use following a public hearing April 18.

The property, which was zoned for campus institutional use, had been offered to the school board and Davidson County Community College, but neither expressed an interest, Diane Foster told the board during the hearing.

Though the property is located beside the school, it is also adjacent to commercial property, Foster said.

According to Bill Hall, one of the owners of the property, it is the only undeveloped tract between Deadman Road and the town limits which is not zoned for highway business.

To leave the land zoned for school use with the school system and college uninterested in it is like taking it from the property owners without any compensation. It's just not fair, said Hall.
Several residents of Southwood

Acres, which is located behind the property, expressed concerns about what type of business might be located on the site. Bill Campbell presented a petition with about 60 signatures of residents from the housing development asking that the property not be rezoned.

The main concern of most residents is that they might become trapped in the case of a hazardous situation because there are only two ways in and out of Southwood Acres, said Campbell.

Doris Ruby, a resident of Southwood Acres, said she no longer feels the security she felt in her neighborhood when she moved there 22 years ago.

Residents ought to know what kind of business is going to be located on the property, she said.

The board has denied previous requests by the owners to rezone the property, concerned about the impact a business there might have on the high school, Commissioner Steve Walker explained.

Walker said he is disappointed the school system doesn't want the property and believes it is making a mistake. He made a motion to rezone the property.

No Room In School Elementary Sites Already Facing Space Limitations

By Kim Justen
Davie County Enterprise Record

Eight additional elementary student transfers were approved for the 2000 school year at Monday's Davie Board of Education meeting.

While all the requests fell within the guidelines of the policy, they were received well after the March 31 deadline set by the board. The approval brought much debate among board members as they grappled with how to handle the problem of schools at capacities.

"The task force on redistricting tried to bring some balance to our schools, trying to keep them all at 90 percent, knowing that we were going to grow in this county," stated Superintendent Dr. William Steed. "At what point do we stop? Steed stressed his need to know what to tell. Please See Elementary - Page 10

Former Highway Patrol Captain Hired As Mocksville Police Chief

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

A retired N.C. Highway Patrol captain has been hired as Mocksville's newest police chief.

Jack Keller, a resident of the Hickory Hill community, will start work Monday. He was chosen from nearly 35 applicants.

Keller was raised in the Sheffield community of Davie County, and graduated from Davie High School in 1966. He began his Highway Patrol career as a trooper in 1971, and ended it more than 27 years later as a captain in Asheville, in charge of 17 counties.

"From everything I've heard and seen, I think the department has some good personnel," Keller said, praising the abilities of former chief, Richard Sink, who died in a truck wreck.

"I'm going to try to use some common sense. I would hope to keep an open line between the town's officers and the board, also communicate and cooperate with other law enforcement agencies and judicial departments. That's a top priority," he said.

He hopes to run a professional department that works well and meets the needs of town residents.

Town Manager Terry Bralley said there were many qualified applicants.

He thinks Keller and Assistant Chief Wayne Stoneman bring experience and quality for a strong police department.

"I like the philosophy of an open-door policy, for officers and citizens," Bralley said.

Keller, who was in the U.S. Army from 1968-1970, attended John Wesley College in Greensboro, and earned an associate degree in criminal justice from Gaston College. He completed the administrative officers management program through N.C. State University.

He and wife Mildred Cooke Keller have two children, Tammy Renee Keller and Anthony Todd Keller. Their son is a Highway Patrol Trooper in Iredell County.

The final decision to hire Keller was made by Bralley Monday night, and officers were told of the decision on Tuesday.

Keller
