Outline of the Duty and Responsibility of the Men of the Navy - The Speech of Dr. Winston.

Annapolis, Md., Special.-The special train conveying President Roose velt and party to Annapolis to attend the graduating exercises at the Naval Academy, arrived here over the Penn sylvania Railroad. As the President alighted from the train he was received by Superintendent Wainright aide, Lieutenant Seibmeier. A battalion of marines, under com mand of Captain Lucas, was drawn up at the station. The party proceeded in carriages to the Academy grounds. The President walked across the campus to where the cadets were lined up, and passing down the line looked each cadet squarely in the face. He was then presented to the officers of the Academy by Comman-der Wainwright. While this was goder Walment. While this was ging on, the shore batteries fired the President's salute of 21 guns. At the sound of the bugle blast the cadets stacked guns and marched by fours to the chapel, where benediction was pronounced by the chaplain. In the meantime, the President had been escorted down the aisle by Commander Wainwright, and was shown to his seat on the platform, the battalion of cadets, the officers and others, receiving the President standing.

Commander Wainwright then intro-duced Dr. George T. Winston, a member of the board of visitors, who delive ered a short address. He was loudly applauded when he referred to Dewey as the hero of Manila and Sampson the hero of Santiago, and at the conclusion of his femarks was congratu lated by the President. The graduating class discarded their guns and accontrements and advanced close to the platform. President Rooseveli then addressed them, his remarks be President Roosevelt ing frequently interrupted by ap-The President said in part:

"In receiving these diplomas you become men who above almost any others of the entire Union are to carry henceforth the ever-present sense of responsibility which must come with the knowledge that on some tremendous day it may depend upon your courage, your preparedness, your keen intelligence and knowledge of your intelligence and knowledge of your progression, whether or not the nation is again to write her name on the vorld's roll of honor, or to know the black shame of defeat. We all of us earnestly hope that the occasion for war may never come, but if it has to come, then this nation must win and over any foreign foe must of necessity be the United States navy. navy fails us then we are doomed to defeat, no matter what may be our material, wealth or the high average of our citizenship. Raleigh to Tidewater. At a meeting of business men held recently at Raleigh, N. C., $21,000 were subscribed for building the proposed Raleigh & Eastern North Carolina Railroad, to extend from Raleigh to Washington, N. C., via Wilson and Greenville. This line would be about with the subscript of the ninety miles long, and would provide a very direct route from Raleigh to tide-water on the Pamlico river. James II. Pou, E. B. Barbee and Josephus Dan-Pou, E. B. Barbee and Josephus Daniels are among the subscribers to the fund. It is estimated that the line can be constructed for $1,000,000, and the necessary shops can be built for $50,000. The line would, it was stated, traverse one of the richest and most fertile sections of North Carolina. Provided the necessary subscriptions are raised, bonds will be floated to build the read.

Fight Lives Lost in a Philadelphia Many Matters of General Interest In Cigar Factory.

OCCURRED AMONG GIRL WORKERS

Caused By Accident to Deaf and Dumb Elevator Boy-Somebody Cried "Fire,"

Philadelphia, Special.-An unfortunate accident to a deaf and dumb boy, Isador Baccus, was directly responsible for the death of eight girls and young woman, the fatal injury of three others and the serious injury of more than two score of girls employed in the cigar factory of Harburger, Homan & Co., a of the American Tobacco Com oany, located at Tenth street and Washington avenue.

The dead are: Mary Geneva, aged 15; Helen Tilini, aged 12; Elizabeth Tartine, aged 12; Annie Rosschneider, aged 18; Louisa DeSepi, aged 16; Id Green, aged 18; Annie Ford, aged 13; unidentified woman, about 25 years of age, whose body is at the morgue. Fatally injured; Mary Mesine, injured internally, skull fractured; Josephine injured O'Ronco, injured internally; unidenti-fied woman, fractured skull, unconscious. The injuries of the others consist mainly of bruses about the body and fractured limbs.

The building in which the disaster occurred is a five-story brick structure and covers an entire block. Twelve hundred people were at work at the time, 90 per cent. of whom were girls whose ages range from 12 years up-

The trouble began on the fourth floor of the structure. Baccus, who was jan itor of the building, started for the fifth floor for a ball of twine. The elevator was at the top of the shaft and Baccus pulled the rope to bring it down. He opened the door leading to the shaft and leaned forward to see where the carriage was. As he did so the elevator which was descending slowly struck him across the back of the neck, pinioning his head between the elevator and the floor. A stock boy released Baccus and cried for help. The oreman rushed from the building to call an ambulance and immediately there was a panic among the employes Some of the younger girls faited while others not being able to control their feelings cried fire. Instantly there was mad rush for the stairway leading into Tenth street. The girls rushed down the narrow staircase until they reached a bend in the exit between the econd and third floors. In their eagerness to escape the frightened Others immediately following tripped oved the struggling mass of humanity and in less than a minute there were hundreds of children and young women struggling in the pas-sageway. The shrieks and screams of the terro-stricken girls could be heard for a block or more. During the excitemen an alarm of fire was turned in but before the engines could reach the scene several of the occupants of the building had rushed to the windows and jumped to the street, a distance of ver 50 feet. Helen Tolini, one of those o jump, was almost instantly killed. When the firemen and policemen ar-rived every effort was made to quiet the terrorized girls. The firemen rushed up the stairway and begged the girls to be calm, telling them that there was absolutely no danger, but the sight of the firemen seemed only to add fuel firemen were endeavoring to quiet the girls on the stairway, ladders were ing run up on the outside buildeing and the employes who had clamored out onto the fire escapes and window ledges were quickly taken to the street. After a few minutes the men were able to check the awful crush stairway and then began work of rescuing those who had been trampled and crushed between the second and third floors. A call for ambulances had been turned in and as quickly as the dead and injured were carried from the building they were hurried to hospitals. The number of ambulances wagons were brought into use to carry the victims away. Agricultural Appropriation.

was entirely inadequate and patrol

Washington, Special.-The House Wednesday passed the agricultural appropriation bill, the last but two regular supply measures. By the terms of a special rule adopted before the District bill was taken up it will be in order to attach a rider to it to make operative the existing personal tax law of the District, which has been a dead letter for 20 years. Clemson Sophomores Rebel and Go

THE ENTIRE CLASS SELF-BANISHED Libraries offered Savannah, Ga., and

Demanded the Re-Instatement of Cadet Thornwell, Dismissed Because of Trouble With Prof. Brackett,

Spartanburg, S. C., Special.—For some time past there has been friction between the faculty of Clemson Colbetween the lacunty of clemson col-lege and the student body. The matter was precipitated Monday when there was a misunderstanding between Prof. Brackett, of the chemistry department, and Cadet Thornwell. On account of this the faculty held a meeting and the stident was suspended. The sophomore student was suspended. The sophomore class drew up articles demanding Thornwell's re-instatement. The faculty thereupon refused to .take cognizance of this action and emphatically replied to the effect that the student would not be allowed to receive A. would not be allowed to return. Another class meeting was held and the entire class withdrew as a body from the institution.

A large number of the class passed through the city en route to their homes. From these your correspondent htained the foregoing facts-the dents' side of the regrettable affair. The members of the other classes are in full sympathy with their self-dismissed fellow-students. One class—the seniors—has gone so far as to pass resolutions of approval and to threaten similar action to that taken by the sophomores. The other classes will likely follow suit.

The trouble is the outcome of several clashes that have occurred within the history of the college. As the student expressed it, the faculty has been imosing on the students for a long time Now the fight begins and will cease until harmony is secured. It may go so far as to demand of the board of trustees the resignation of certain prowho are now under the ban of The affair is much lamented by the people here, friends of the students and the college. It is hoped the matter will be settled satisfactorily for all concerned. The outcome will be watched with interest.

Charleston, S. C., Special.—Tuesday 69 of the 74 members of the sophomore class of Clemson (the State Agricultural College) on the site of Calhoun's home, quit and went home. Two of the remaining five obtained discharges and also left, and it is understood that the remaining three will leave tomorrow The action of the students in leav ing was the result of the action of the faculty in suspending Cadet Thorn-well, a grandson of the great Presby-terian theologian, a few days ago for taking four glass test tubes from the chemical labratory without premission. The members of the faculty say they have been troubled a great deal by the actions of this kind and notice was given that the next offender caught would be severely dealt with. The faculty refused the request of his fellow-students that Thornwell be re-instated and hence the exodus of the sophomores. The student body sympathizes with the rebels and loaned them money and exhausted the societies treasury to pay their railroad fares home. President Simpson, of the board of trustees, says: "It is simply a question as to who should run the college, the faculty or the students.

Letters From Hill and Bryan.

New York, Special.—Writing to the Democrats of the thirty-first assembly district, who held a Jefferson celebra-tion, Wm. J. Bryan said in part: "It is especially appropriate that the princioles of Jefferson should be remembered at this time, for they can be applied to every condition and will furnish a solution of every problem that now confronts us." Part of a letter from David B. Hill said: "The revival of interest at this time in Jeffersonian principles of Democracy is very encouraging. Now is the time to prepare for the next cam-paign. The Democracy is united for personal liberty, for home rule, for equal taxation, for the abolition of war form, for constitutional freedom wherever the American flag floats and for Whitener, a substantial citizen liberty laws everywhere."

Holiness Meeting at Greensboro is Drawing Crowds.

The Greensboro correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, writing of the Fire Baptized Holiness meeting in progress there says:

"The fire-baptized holiness people continue to excite a good deal of interest and curiosity here. Large crowds attend the continuous performances at the tent on South Elm street, and, with the tent on south min street, and, with the exception of those who are attrac-ted by curiosity, the hearers do not hesitate to give full vent to their fell-ings. There is no restraint. Everything is free and easy, and every men ber of the sanctified band is expected to give proof of his baptism by fire.

Throughout the day and the grater part of the night the sound of preachpart of the night the sound of preaching, praying, singing and shouting may be heard in the vicinity of the tent. Were it not for the pity of the thing, the performance would be as anusing as a circus or a ministrel. The preaching the preaching of the preaching the preaching and ridiers make all kinds of strange and ridiculous statements and the deluded followers do all kinds of strange things.
When a call is made for those who wish to receive the baptism of fire, there is a grand rush for the "mourn-er's bench," and, after a goodly crowd er's bench," and, after a goodly crowd has been corraled, the preachers set themselves to the task of "bringing the mourners through." Grabbing a mourning woman by the hands, one of the leaders will command her to look up and see the "light." If she is a litthe slow in catching a glimpse of glory, she is told to look higher and shout aloud. When she has been induced to make a few cjaculations, she may be embraced by the preacher, and led across the rostum in a kind of negro cakewalk to the accompaniment of foud and gleeful shouts on the part of the congregation. The excitement reached the climax Monday night when Rev. Thomas C. Hodgin cast a devil poor seeker lay on the ground, writh ing and moaning like one possessed, the preacher, with shouts akin to those indulged in by a crowd of boys on a rabbit hunt, chased the devil across the fellow's anatomy until it was finally located in his head. a glad cry of conquest, the Rev. Hodgin announced that he had the devil. For a brief moment he held the terrible monster above his head for the gaze of the awe-stricken congregation, after which he gleefully threw it upon the platform. It struck the loose boards with a dull thud of an ordinary stone, but, to the bewildered holiness frying to Pooh-Pooh the Efforts to Obtain the Comparative Export and Domestic Prices of the Same Articles—Beware of Free Trade Exaggerations.

WHO'S AFRAID OF FACTS

The News, of Dallas, Texas, notes with disapproval the cordial co-operation of the American Protective Tariff League in the efforts of the Industrial Commission to obtain reliable information from domestic manufacturers concerning the disparity (if any) between the prices they receive for arti cles for domestic consumption and those which are exported. The News looks upon the whole thing with sus-It does not believe that the League and the Industrial Commission are "ou the square" in this matter:

"The fact that the work of the commission is being done by the League, and the further fact that, according to this resolution, the conclusions of the commission are to be based upon the testimony of the 'protected,' would seem to make clear the farce by which it is sought to deceive the coun The very wording of the resolution, 'a full and frank statement cov ering the efforts made to extend consumption of products to foreign markets,' indicates a suspicious kindness and solicitude for the very 'pets' who are extorting high prices from their own people."

Particularly suspicious, in the opinion of the News, is the pledge that responses to the schedule of inquiries are to be treated as "confidential." Presumably the News imagines that the responses would be much more numerous and far more accurate if the business secrets thus disclosed be blazoned to the world. The thing could be done much better, says the News, if the Industrial Commission would ignore the manufacturer who knows all about the domestic and export prices which he receives for his own goods and consult the domestic onsumer, who knows absolutely nothing about expert prices except what and exaggerations of free trade news-

"In the meantime the citizen who pays for American manufactures more than the European or the Asiatic housands of miles away, is required to pay, must bear without light or hope the swollen body of this death, having the facts in his favor deliberately concealed from him by a Governmental commission which he is required to maintain. The very man who should be called upon to testify is left off the The very man who should know the facts is to be kept in the dark as to the facts. The very man who needs encouragement and relief is to be left out of an investigation, provided for apparently by unscrupulous politicians in the interest of the trust masters whom they are ready to serve and whose contributions they denequ send." From all of which it would appear that the free traders are getting neryors over the results of the inquiry concerning domestic and export prices and are discounting the Industrial Commission's report as partisan and antrustworthy. Obviously they do not enjoy the prospect. Facts are some-times ugly things, and the free traders seem to be unable to comprehend why It is that protectionist; not only do not fear the disclosure of the facts regarding domestic and export prices, but are actually doing all in their power to make the investigation as thorough and complete as possible.

Wild Hunt For New Markets. Now just watch those journals which are clinging to the crumbling edges of the free trade propaganda. It will not he long before they are heard denouncing this reciprocity convention as a delusion and a snare, from which no good can come. They will be mistaken, as a great deal of good may be expected from the deliberations of this de It will no doubt do much promote a reciprocity which is honest and beneficial, but not that sort which Mr. Robert, of Massachusetts, said "will open our markets to foreign competition and give us nothing in re-turn." It will not, to use the words of Senator Hale, of Maine, who was James G. Blaine's spokesman for reciprocity in the Senate, propose to "imperil present conditions by a wild hunt for new markets which have never had and never will have any trade or commerce at all to be com-pared with the vast trade and the immense exports from this country to our great rivals." The reciprocity will be aimed at is in such important trades as those with France, Germany, the British dependencies, and certain countries, especially in Southern America, which buy more of us than they sell to us. This is the reciprocity which Mr. Blaine proposed, which President McKinley meant in his great Buffalo speech, and which the Republican party has declared for and stands ready to favor .- Paterson (N. J.) Press.

Free Trade in Disguise.

Much of the reciprocity talk is free trade in disguise. Men who indulge in it are auxious to increase their importations and incidentally their profits or they do not understand the subject. No one can find fault with an importer for wishing to enlarge his business, but when he wants to curtail the business of a home manufacturer who employs home labor he is trying to increase his business to the detriment not only of the home manufacturer, but he is trying to do so in a manner that will injure a large number of wage earners. If it was a question of one man against another man the people could afford to say let them fight it out and may the best man win. but when one man represents himself and the other stands for a swarm of bread winners then the people do not hesitate. Their sympathies are immediately enlisted on the side of the men who would be thrown out of work. Reciprocity is a good thing so long as it takes from the foreigner things we do not produce and want, but when it is pushed far enough to take work

The South and the Tariff.

"After all,' 'says the Nashville Baner, "would it be very surprising if before many years had passed, to find the East urging free trade in opposit tion to the strong protection sentiment of the South?" While the Journal and Tribune does not claim to be a prohpet, or even the son of a prophet, that is just what it predicted more than ten years ago would come to pass. The South has a greater interest in the maintenance of the protective system than any other section of the Suntry

Here is that old reliable D' avocration stand by, the New Orleans Picayune, saying that of course the South must and will stand by Democracy, but that it must also favor protection. While it makes a mistake in magnifying the importance of the Democratic party to the South, its head is level on the tariff proposition. Other sections of the country took advantage of the tariff and profited by it, before the South was in a position to profit; now when the South is ready to reap some of the bountiful harvest and is doing it, there are those who say the time has come to abandon a protective tariff. Strange to say, there are Southern men whose natural shortsightedness, or because they are wedded to an old theory, leads them to give up protection just when the South is about to receive some of its benefits. It is a pleasure and an encouragement to know that an old. able and influential paper such as the New Orleans Picayune does not belong to that class .- Knoville (Tenn.) Tribnne.

A Question and a Reckoning. We already buy from Cuba nearly twice as much as we sell her. We shall buy still more under the schem of relief - reciprocity, and very likely the trade balance against us will remain and probably be larger than ever In any event, will the increased volume of our sales to Cuba operate as compensation to the domestic interests which are called upon to make all sacrifices? Will the American sugar and tobacco growers and the American clear makers he able to trace to their own pockets enough of the profits on increased Cuban trade to make good their direct losses through reduced tariff duties? This question is to be asked, this reckoning is going to be made. Is the Republican party ready with an answer that will meet this question? Is it provided with a solution that will satisfy the reckoning?

A Great Deal Doing.

"Something doing" becomes more than a mere slang phrase under Dingley law conditions. There is "son thing doing" for the hundreds of thousands of workmen who have continu ous employment in place of idleness: something doing" for the manufac turers, who see a balance on the right side of the ledger; "something doing" for the railroads and the employes of the railroads in the handling of many more tons of freight daily than ever before in their history; "something doing" for the farmers in performing the task of feeding the millions of prosperous, happy, clamorous industrial workers. In short, there is not only "something doing" in contrast to "nothing doing" in Wilson law days, but there is more than something; there is a very great deal doing all along the industrial line.

Hair Splitting. The free trade papers pronounce un constitutional the proposition to repay some of the duty charged on Cubar But they insist that it is per feetly proper to refrain from collecting the duty. The distinction as to effect between the two methods is not very marked .- Lowell Courier.

How to Satisfy Them.

Free traders are assailing the proposed concession of twenty per cent. on Cuban importations. The only way to satisfy the champions of a soup house tariff like that identified with the last Democratic Administration is to knock off the other eighty per cent. liso.—Tionesta (Pa.) Republican. Not a Good Reason.

That a big concern here and there has become independent of the tariff (perhaps only temporarily) is no reason for sweeping away protection from his weaker competitor or from manufacturers in other lines. A Soft Word.

Gum of Yucatan. The famous "chicle" chewing gum of Yucatan is gathered by bands of men called "chicleros," who go into the deep forest carrying heavy knives of special make, pails and ladles for the sap, and each has a strong rope, about eighty feet in length, to be used in climbing the tall sapota trees, from which the gum is obtained. The sap flows from gashes cut in the bark, and having been caught in the pails, it is boiled down to a gummy consistency The camp of the chicleros resembles in. many respects an American maple camp. After several months of work the men return from the forests, laden with blocks of the gum. The best quality of the gum is obtained from the fruit of the sapota tree, but this is seldom exported because it is too well liked at home.-Philadelphia

NORTH CAROLINA POLITICS.

A Lively Tilt Between Senators Simmons and P. itchard,

A lively debate was precipitated in the Senate Friday by Mr. Pritchard, of North Carolina, by some remarks he made on politics and political methods in that State, in the course of a discussion of the Philippine bill. He maintained that the pending measure delt simply with the administrative features of the Philippines and insisted that charges made against the American army that tortures and barbarities were practiced in the islands were not relevant to the discussion. He said that ought to be punished severely and un doubtedly would be. He suggested that some of the methods employed by the opponents of the bill in this country ought to be reformed and told of what is called the "sand cure" in North Car-olina, the victim having his face crushed into the sand to stifle his cries while he was being heaten to intimidate him politically. This drew the fire of Mr. Simmons, of North Carolina, who declared that he never heard of such a practice. The debate thus started covered a wide range of subjects concern ing North Carolina politics.

Mr. Pritchard declared that a majority of the people of North Carolina and of the South were in favor of the proposition of the majority of the Philippine committee and he quoted The Charlotte Observer as a leading Dem-ocratic paper of the South, in support of the retention of the Philippines

"Does not the Senator know," inter-rupted Mr. Simmons, "that the Char-lotte Observer opposed the election of Wm. J. Bryan to the presidency?"
"That is true," replied Mr. Pritchard,

"but the paper opposed him purely on the issue of free silver."

In response to another question by Mr. Simmons, Mr. Pritchard said he knew of nobody in the South—Republican or Democrat—who was in favor of "imperialism," but he asserted that a majority of the business men of the south were in favor of expansion.

He said that a Republican voter was taken from his home at night and beaten, his face being crushed into the sand to stifle his cries. Mr. Simmons declared that this was the first time he ever had heard of the 'sand cure." He said he did not believe the statement of the witness quoted by Mr. Pritchard and insisted that if it were true, the sand cure was not administered for political purposes. He said that for six years he had been the chairman of the Democratic executive committee of North Carolina, and he had never known of any cases of out-rage and violence for political pur-

Mr. Pritchard inquired if it were not a fact that organized bands of shirts" rode over the State of North Carolina for the purpose of terroizing Republican voters?

"That organization," (the red shirts), replied Mr. Simmons, "never had for its object any bellicose or belligerent ourpose toward any part of the voters of North Carolina. It is merely an or-ganization for the purpose of more ef-fectually organizing the voters of the State.

Mr. Pritchard discussed at considerable length the suffrage conditions and political situation in North Carolina, in the course of which he said that in the so-called "black belt" of the State Mr. Bryan had a majority of 6,000 at the last presidential election. "Either the colored voters were cheated out of their votes," said he, "or they voted the Democratic ticket. I don't say which." He recited what he denounced as "outrages" that had been perpetrated, he declared, by the Democrats of North Carolina, upon Republican voters, but he said he did not think a majority of the Democrats of the State approval of such outrages. He did not think, therefore, that the isolated cases of outrages and torture in the Philip-pines should be cited as arguments against the Republican policy in the islands. He expressed the hope that the punishment of offenders against the articles of war would be swift and sure as he believed it would be.

Mr. Simmons replied to some of the suggestions made by Mr. Pritchard as to North Carolina politics, in the course of which he justified the "white people in protecting themselves against irresponsible majorities."
"Does my colleague say." inquired

Mr. Pritchard, "that the red shirts did not ride through the State and terror-ze voters?"

"I state," declared Mr. Simmons, "upon my authority as a Senator and as chairman of the Democratic execu-tive committee that the stories of outrages committed by red shirts are ab-solutely and utterly without foundation. I know of no outrage that can be traced to that organization. Except for political purposes the organization of so-called red shirts never has been charged with being an unlawful and violent organization." He stated that not a single red shirt ever had been arraigned for a violation of law. Mr. Pritchard read a table indicating

Mr. Pritchard read a table indicating that Mr. Bryan had received a heavy majority in the "black belt" of North Carolina, "and yet," said he, "the Republican party is charged with being the negro party." He said it was impossible to discuss any subject in North Carolina without having the question of negro domination injected. He declared the situation would be ridiculously absured if it were not so sediculously absured if it were not so serious. As an instance of the political methods employed in North Carolina, Mr. Pritchard asserted that an emissary of the Democratic party in the State had approached him, promising that if he (Pritchard) would have entered a noile prosequi in certain cases of election frauds the proceedings of impeachment of Republican judges by the Democratic Legislature would be dropped. "It was proclaimed boldly in North Carolina," said he, "that these judges were to be impeached in order to get a Democratic bench to pass upon the 'grandfather clause' of the new constitution."

stitution." Mr. Pritchard indignantly declined the proposition and said that, subsequently, brave and patriotic members of the Legislature—Democrats and Re-publicans—by their votes had prevented the unjust impeachment of the

In reply, Mr. Simmons asserted that the man who approached Mr. Pritchard with the proposition to drop the im-peachment proceedings was not in the remotest way an emissary of the Democratic party. He had repudiated the charge publicly and he had said so. In explanation of the new State constituexplanation of the new State constitu-tion he said that while it, permitted educated negroes to vote it was adopted "expressly for the purpose of excluding the votes of irresponsible negroes. In the adoption of that constitution we were moved by a high desire to perplet-uate the Anglo-Saxon civilization in North Carolina."

The bill provides for 77 new building and sites, six buildings on sites already purchased, seventeen buildings on do nated sites, and 58 increases in appro priation for buildings already author-ized. It also provides for the purchase of 16 sites. The majority for the bill was so overwhelming that only nine and noes on the passage of the bill There was some criticism of the method by which it was proposed to pass the bill without opportunity for amendment, which Mr. Mercer, chair-man of the committee, answered by stating that if the bill had been subject to amendment the appropriations car-ried by it would have increased to $50,-000,000.

Mr. Richardson, of Tennesses, op-posed the adoption of the special or-der, saying this method of legislation could not be justified by any course of reasoning. Among those who spoke on the bill were Messrs. Bartlett, of Georgia, and Small, of North Carolina.

SENATE.

One hundred and third Day.-A pirited and at times heated discussion the Senate. It removed around the order alleged to have been issued by General Jacob A. Smith to make the island of Samar a howling wilderness and to kill all male inhabitants over the age of ten years. The debate took a wide range, however, and many points were

When the Philippine bill was laid before the Senate no Senator was pre-pared to deliver a set speech upon it Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, said he felt compelled to press it for considera-tion. His remarks drew the fire of Mr. Teler, of Colorado, who criticised the Republicans for not participating in the discussion. This precipitated the debate and for more than two hours it continued. During Mr. Teller's remarks Mr. Tillman, of South Carolina, said it was supposed that the government would be very polite to the warlike dattos of Mindanao and observed that consider ation was shown Mohammedans of that island, while cruel treatment was me ted out to the Christians of Samar.

Discussing the alleged order of Gen-eral Smith, Mr. Teller said he understood that General Smith had tried to stood that ceneral small had ried to justify his order by what is known as the "Tom Ewing order." During the civil war by its order the population of two counties in Miss.ouri was deport-ed and their property destroyed. He was proceeding to characterize the action of the Amarican army in the Philippics as most cruel and barbarous when he was interrupted by Mr. Spooner, of Wisconsin, with the inquiry:
"Does the Senator not remember

Fort Pillow?" "What does the Senator mean by his reference to Fort Pillow?" inquired Mr. Carmack, of Ternessee. "I had in mind," replied Mr. Spooner, of colored troops there."

Mr. Carmack insisted with some heat that there was no massacre of troops or killing of prisoners at Fort Pillo Mr. Teller was continuing his renarks about General Smith's when he was interrupted by Mr. Fair banks. "I do not undestand," said he eral Smith's alleged order. It has ordered a court-martial to try General Smith." Mr. Teller offered an amendment to the bill providing for a commission to be appointed by the President and to consist of not less than seven or more than fifteen persons to proceed to the Philippines and try to secure a lasting peace between the United States and the Philipinos, the United States to pay the commissioners salaries of $10.000 year each and all expenses.

Mr. Teler continued his discussion of General Smith's order, which he said had shocked the public mind in this country, regardless of party affilia-tions. He said he would despair of our government if the people should not repudiate such an order. "If," said he, "it be true that he issued such an order I believe the officer ought to be dismissed from the servise." He said he would despise himself if he did not enter his protest against such inhu-manity as was evidenced by the order of General Smith. "In the records of all the great wars since the Middle Ages," he said, "you cannot find such a disgraceful and wicked order as that issued by General Bell or by General Smith."

Mr. Lodge said nothing was known here of General Smith's order until it was pleaded by Major Waller as a de-fense for his action in Samar. As soon as Wallar had pleaded that order as his defense the President himself had di-rected General Smith be court-martialed. He said he did not know whether the order of General Smith was verbal or written.

Mr. Carmack, of Tennessee, insisted Mr. Carmack, of Tennessee, instacts that the evidence indicated that orders of a very extreme character issued in the Philippines were being suppressed, not, he believed, by the War Department, but by the military authorities in the Philippines.

In calling attention to the report the secretary of Batangas province that there had been so great mortality in the province as to reduce the popula-tion from 300,000 to about 200,000, the mortality being due to disease, Mr. Tillman inquired whether the Philip-pine committee had investigated that matter. When informed that it had not be exclaimed: "Well, how long are we going to hold on to this bag of cats? What benefit is it to the American leople to pursue this infamous policy?"

As the running colloquy continued, Mr. Culberson asked Mr. Lodge if he endorsed the order issued by General "No, replied Mr. Lodge. "I do not endorse cruelty in warfare. General Smith's order is one which every Amer-ican should regret. On the surface those orders seem to me to be revolt ing."

In explaining the great mortality among the inhabitants of Batangas, Mr. Bacon, of Georgia, expressed the belief that the disease among the natives had been caused by the laying waste of the provided by the laying waste of the control by the caping the series. province by war. He was an active and faithful member of Mocksville lodge No. 134 A. F. A. M. for nearly half a century and loved his brethren in Masonry as a father loves his child. His life was spent principally in farming in which occupation be was much interested and successful. He served through the civil war as a gallant confederate soldier. He spent much time in reading and kept himself well posted on all subjects, political, religious, and social. He was a very decided postive character, his chief characteristic being his modesty and his contempt for ev erything that was not open and

It was a great pleasure to his friends in his last days to hear him talk of events and things long past and gone. Thoroughly informing himself on all questions, he modestly but boldly spoke his opinion on any and all occasions. Changing not with the wind you could always tell on any question, when others doubted, where Bro Woodruff stood.

As a friend he was as true as steel. He lived an humble christian life. Though much suffering and sorrow was his, he bore it without a murmer or complaint. As he grew o der his life became beautitul and his faith seemed stronger, 'To his grave in a full age as a shock of corn cometh in his sea, son," so it was, we believe with our brother.

Just before he died he called his friends to his bedside and said that he thought the end was near and spoke to them words too tender and sacred to be written here. Then he quietly and peacefully passed away, his last audible words being "Come, Lord Jesus,

BOTH A MURDER AND A SUICIDE

Sad Tragedy That Resulted in the Literary Characters.

New York, Special.—Paul Leicester Ford, the novelist, was shot and killed Thursday by his brother, Malcom Webster Ford, writer and athlete, who immediately sent a bullet into his own breast, dying instantly. The shooting occurred at 10:20 a.m. in the hand some new mansion which Paul Leicester Ford had built at 37 East Seventy seventh street, and had occupied for one year. At the time of the shooting there were in the house besides the two hrothers, Mrs. Paul Leicester Ford miss Elizabeth R. Hall, the novelist's tecretary, and the servants. The novelist was sitting at his desk in one torner of his library; a large attractively appointed room at the back of the house on the company. Miss Elizabeth R. Hall, the novelist's the house on the second floor. It is sup-posed he was busily engaged at some literary task. Miss Hall was at her desk in another corner of the room about 30 feet from Mr. Ford, Mrs. Paul Leicester Ford was in her own room at the front of the house on the third

Malaam W Ford called as he often had done, and went to his brother at his desk. Words were exchanged in a tone so low that Miss Hall could not hear what was said, though she says that possibly she might have distin-guished the words if she had been pay-ing any attention to this particular meeting of the brothers. Suddenly there was a revolver shot and Miss Hall jumped up and darted from the room. Then, according to the state-ments of the police, Miss Hall said to herself that she must be more brave and re-enter the library. Meanwhile Malcom Ford had called her. As she turned towards him, he placed his revolver to his heart, fired and fell, dying nstantly. When Miss Hall turned to instantly. When Miss Hall turned to look at Paul, he was still standing at his desk, but rapidly losing strength. She helped him to a sofa and then ran t door for Paul Ford's physician, Emanuel Baruch. In less than five minutes Dr. Baruch arrived and the dying man, still conscious, was carried up to a room beside his wife's and placed on his bed. He spoke to his wife, and asked the doctor for his opinion, showing that he expected death and was going to meet it calmly and bravely. A few moments later, about 20 minutes after he was shot, Mr. Ford

Mr. Kidder refused to make any statement in regard to the shooting except a brief memorandum which was given to the police. in this it was said that the cause of the shooting could only be surmised. St. Thomas, D. W. I., By Cable.-British steamer Roddam, Captain Freeman, which left St. Lucia Wednesday for Martinique, returned there at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, bringing a report that the town of St. Pierre, Martinique, has been totally destroyed by volcanic disturbances in the island. Almost all the inhabitants of St. Pierre are said to have been killed. The Rod-dam reports that all the shipping in the port has also been destroyed.

A correspondent of the Boston Tran script, commenting caustically on the proposition to erect a statute of Benjamin F. Butler in Boston, says that the least we can do is to have a little ring of celebrities of this sort who have been conspicuous as malefactors standing up in the common." He adds "I shall be pleased to head a subscription list for this purpose. I will subscribe 255 feathers. scribe $25 for statute of Satan, $5 for Benedict Arnold, $10 for John Wilker Booth, 30 cents for Aaron Burr, $5 for Guieteau and $5 for Czolgosz. Communication Broken. Washington, Special.—United States Consul Ayme, has cabled the State Department from Guadauloupe, that great consternation prevails in that locality in consequence of earthquakes and vol canoes. Loud noises are heard continuously which are ascribed to volcanic action. Telegraphic communication with Martinique is broken in every direction. He says he is informed that many hundreds of poor have been killed in and about Martinique.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION

This convention is the largest of Sad Tragedy That Resulted in the Immediate Death of two Prominent States east of the Mississippi river and south of the Ohio; also in Mary land, the District of Columbia, Missouri, Arkansas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Texas, Mexico and Cuba. The convention is not a legislative, but an advisory body. Under the denominational teachings of the Church meet for co-operation in missionary and educational work. The meetings of several societies and bodies auxiliary to the general convention were held during the day. The main ques-tions for consideration by the convention will be education and home ar foreign missions. Both the home and foreign boards have increased their work greatly during the last year and will report free of debt. It is said the home board, of which Dr. McConnell of Atlanta, is secretary will repor a balance on hand of something like $5,000. The report of the foreign poard, the headquarters of which is

The delegates day afternoon. The immediate cause of his death was a severe cerebral hemorrnage. He had been in a semiconscious state for several days and this afternoon suffered a severe cerbral hemorrhage. At the bedside when the admiral breathed his last were Mrs. Sampson, Mrs. Lieutenant Cluver: ius, the admiral's two young sons, Rainh and Harold Sampson, Dr. Dixon and the attending physician and nurses and attendants. Mrs. Sampson had broken down under the severe strain, and was quite ill all during the day. But for the critical condition of the admiral she would have been confined to her bed.

It had been suggested to Mrs. Sampson that the Naval Cemetery at Annapolis would be a proper place for the last resting place of the remains, while other friends have represented her that he be buried in Arlington Cemetery, near this city.

Mrs. Sampson suffered a slight accident four days ago while attending to the wants of the admiral and has been in bed since. She probably will not be able to attend the funeral services. A number of messages of condolence have been received at the house among them one from Secretary Moody.

Death of Congressman Salmon

Washington, Special.-Death claimed another victim on the Democratic side of the House Tuesday in the person of Joshua S. Salmon, making four on this side since the session opened. Claude Nitchin, a personal friend of the deceased member, was by Speaker Henderson designated as a member of the committee to attend the funeral. W. W. Kitchin is already absent from the city in attendance on the funeral of Renresentative Cummings. "The death of Representative Salmon seems peculiarly sad," said Representative Bellamy, today, who occupied a seat near to that of the late New Jersey Congressman. 'A few days ago Representative Gilbert made a speech in eulogy of the late Representative Stokes, of South Carolina, the speaker standing just in front of my desk. After Mr. Gilbert had concluded Mr. Salmon seemed affected by the talk, complimented Mr. Gilbert, and expressed the hope that Mr. Gilbert could say that much of him when he died. It seems a singuliar coincidence that Mr. Gilbert now has this opportunity."

Bret Hart Dead.

London, By Cable.-F. Bret Harte, the American author, died here Tuesday night. He was born in Albany, N. Y., on August 25, 1839. Mr. Harte died suddenly at the Red House, Camberley, near Aldershot, from hemorrhage caus ed by an affection of the throat. Mr. Harte had been suffering from swelled tonsils since December last, but he did not consider the attack to be serious. A week ago he went to visit friends at Camberley and was present at lunch as usual yesterday. He suddenly became ill in the afternoon, went to bed and died in a few hours. His end was peace-

Big fill Addition,

The Manufacturers' Record is au-The Manufacturers' Record is authoritatively informed that the proposed increase of capital of the Massachusetts Mills in Georgia has been fully subscribed. This is an increase of capital from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 for the purpose of erecting an additional plant. The new mill will contain a part of 1000 enoughles (not 50,000) tain about 41,000 spindles (not 50,00 as was previously stated), and its con-struction and equipment will be begun and pushed to completion as rapidly as is practicable. Messrs. Lockwood, Greene & Co., of Boston, Mass., have been appointed architects and en-gineers for the new addition. They will n have plans and specifications completed, and the necessary contracts will then be arranged.

The Manufacturers' Record of April 3 presented an outline of these enlarge-ments as confirmed in the foregoing. Massachusetts Cotton Mills, Lowell, Mass., operates the plant of the Georgia company under lease.

Greensboro's New Enterprise.

Greensboro, N. C., Special.—Business organizations here last week took action, which it is considered, will re-move all doubt of location in Greensboro of a $1,000,000 cotton mill which Messrs. Moses & Caeser Cone have had in mind for some time for either this place or Roanoke Rapids. The action taken by the organizations was to formally invite Messrs. Cone to locate the mill here. Resolutions were adop-ted pledging the associations to endeavor to cultivate throughout the country a sentiment in favor of ex-tending to corporations the same rights and privileges accorded to individuals. The proposed mill will be for the manufacture of colored goods. Options on a large part of the land necessary have already been secured.

Dispatches from Greensboro, N. C. during the week have stated that "it de reported, though not confirmed, that Mesers. Moses H. Cone and Caesar Cone of that city will build an immense cotton denim mill." However, mense cotton denim mill." However, the fact that the plant will be erected was definitely announced in the Manu-facturers' Record of April 3, in accordance with information submitted by Mr. Moses H. Cone. He wrote at the time that he intended to build a mill of 60,000 spindles and 2,000 looms for the manufacture of denims, but that the location of the plant was yet in doubt. It may be built at Greensboro but it is quite possible that Roanoke Rapids, N. C., will be selected as the location.

THE FOLLY OF 1892. Is History About to Repeat Itself in the

Shall history repeat itself in the matter of tariff revision? Is the country prepared to duplicate the folly of 18952? Congressman McCleary, of Minnesota, in a letter to some of his constituents answers these questions in a broad, comprehensive, clear and philosophical manner. Ten years ago the people of the United States were persuaded that prices were too high and that in order to bring about a general reduction in values the Ma Kinley tariff should be repealed. It was repealed, and prices fell mightily, Four years later the problem was, how shall prices be increased? This time the Democratic solution was, a fifty-cent dollar. McKinley pointed out a better way to restore the good prices that had been foolishly flung away in 1892. His plan was to open the mills instead of the mints. His plan was adopted. Prices revived up. der the workings of a Republican protective tariff. All prices revivedprices of things to be sold, prices of things to be bought, grices of labor. Tremendous prosperity resulted, great. er than any people in any period of human history had ever known. That prosperity has continued for nearly five years. There is no break in sight Once again, however, it is contended that prices are too high. Once again it is proposed to lower prices by tariff revision. It was done in that way eight years ago. It can be done again

Detailed Doings of Our National Lawmakers. HOUSE.

One hundred and sixth Day—Both the desks of the late Representative Otey, of Virginia, and Cummings, of New York, were draped in mourning Monday. Dr. Couden, the chaplain, in his invocation, dwelt upon the double affliction that had come upon the House and prayed for the family and friends of Mr. Otey.

Mr. Jones, of Virginia, announced the death of Mr. Otey, and offered the customary resolutions of regret. In accordance with the terms of the resolutions the Speaker announted resolutions the Speaker appointe following committee to attend funeral: Messrs. Jones, Swan the following the funeral: the funeral: Messrs. Jones, Swan son, Rixey, Hay, Lamb and Flood, of Virginia; Hepburn, of Iowa; Meyer of Louisiana; Jenkins, of Wisconsin; Lanham, of Texas; Olmstead, of Pennsylvania; DeArmond, of Mis souri, and McCall, of Massachusetts. Then, at 12:15, as a further mark of respect, the House adjourned.

SENATE.

One hundredth and sixth Day-In vindication of the administration's policy in the Philippines, Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, chairman of the Philippines pine committee, addressed the Senate Monday. Long before he began to speak the galleries were thronged with peo-ple and the attendance on the floor of the Senate was unusually large. Mrs Cowles, the President's sister, was an interested auditor. His review of the situation in the islands and the utterances of the minority in criticism of the condotion there was notably inter-esting, forceful and effective. He spoke with deep earnestness and at times be-came eloquent. Mr. Lodge warmly resented the imputations cast on the President, the Secretary of War and the army, for the alleged cruelties and atrocities said to have been practiced in the Philippines. He said every effort had been employed by the officials in authority to prevent such cruelties as had been referred to and measures had been taken to punish those guilty of them. Such things, however, were inthem. Such things, nowever, were incidents of every war and could not be prevented absolutely. He had no defense to make of any of the cases of torture which had been cited, but the men of the American army had been provoked almost beyond human endur-

He recited scores of instances o cruelties and tortures practiced by the Filipino insurgents on American prisoners. Men had had their ears cut off; had been disembowled; had been driven into streams, while drowning, shot to death; had been tied to trees and stoped doubt by recease and children stoped to death. stoned to death by women and children and buried alive. Others had been shot and boloed treacherously while suc-coring the wounded. In the face of these horrible atrocities, some of the American troops had been guilty of ad-ministering the "water cure," but the instances of this kind were isolated and no part of the general policy in the Philippines. He warmly defended General Chaffee for his conduct of military affairs in the islands and paid a bril-liant tribute to his heroism and patri-otism. As he concluded his defense of the Amarican army and the administration, drew applause from the galeries.

In a brief reply, Mr. Rawling, of Utah, declared the charges which had been made were not against General Chaffee or the American army, but against the Senator from Massachusetts. Mr. Lodge, and others who were responsible for the present Philippine

Mr. Lodge, in his address, expressed the hope that the time would come when measures in regard to the Philippines would be discussed with a view to getting the best legislation possible.
One of the objects of the Philippine bill, he said, was to help the develop-ment of the islands. The opponents of way to exploiters, syndicates and car-

He then told of three American sol-He then told of three American soldiers who were captured by the Filipinos. They were stripped naked and told that if they would cry "Long live the Filipino republic!" they might run away into the bush as they were. One of the men stood there naked, in the midst of that hostile band, and cried:
"Long live America!" The Filipinos tied him to a tree and the women and children stoned him to death. The other two lost heart and cried, "Long live the Filipina republic!" but, notwith-torture, but I cannot condemn human nature in an American soldier under such circumstances."

Men had been captured as prisoners of war and had had their ears cut off, their intestines cut out and their bodies otherwise horribly mutilated. Others had been driven into streams and while drowning had been shot. Still others had been buried alive. Statistics showed that the number of natives mutilated and assaulted for sympathizing with the Americans aggregated 442. fie pointed out that 67 municipal officers sassinated, and 40 had been assaulted and mutilated.

IS IT OLD FASHIONED?

CLAIM THAT PROTECTION HAS BE-COME OBSOLETE.

Has the Doctrine of Blaine, McKinley and Dingley Served Its Day and Out-lived Its Usefulness to American Industry and Labor? In its issue of March 24 the Pough-teepsie Eagle says: "The American Protective Tariff League asks us to join in protesting against any change in the Dingley tariff ia connection with the pending reciprocity treaties or reciprocity con-We respectfully decline. We believe with all our heart in protection, but we believe just as fully in reciprocity. The old-fashioned protection, which built up a wall around our country to keep foreign imports out has served its day and become obsolete. The protection of the future will take into consideration all American interests and will be as much concerned with bringing into the country things that we need, and in promoting the export of things which others need, as in keeping out articles which compete with our productions. The American Protective League has in time past done some very good service, but it wants to get out of its rut and take a broader yiew of things. Some of those who assume to speak for it are showing such a disposition to imitate the Democratic policy of organized negation that they are greatly reducing its reputation and Welcoming fair criticism and hones controversy concerning our aims and methods, we gladly print the above expression. It is typical of the view entertained by a very considerable number of important newspapers of Republican proclivities, newspapers which, like our Poughkeepsie neighbor, formerly believed unreservedly in the principle and policy of protection, but now are of the opinion that it "has served its day and become obso-The American Free Trade lete." League holds precisely this view, with the difference that it never held any other view; it always believed that there should be no wall around our country to keep foreign imports out. Free traders never did and do not now want to keep foreign imports out. They want them to come in without re-striction of any kind. On that line protectionists and free traders have divided ever since the organization of our Government. Is the line about to be obliterated?

Shall we now tear down the wall and let in the foreign imports? Is that what the Poughkeepsie Eagle means when it avows its acceptance of the new doctrine of "reciprocity" and its rejection of "the old-fa'shioned pro-tection which built up a wall," etc.? It it does not mean that, what, then, does it mean? "Reciprocity," as now advocated by many newspapers of Republican proclivities, either con-templates a larger importation of competitive articles and an equivalent displacement of domestic production, or it amounts to nothing. Reciprocity "in articles which we do not ourselves produce," and which will not lessen the sum total of employment and wages in this country, would be of relatively little value to foreign pro-ducers. That kind of reciprocity we already have. With "the things we need," we are amply supplied, and they are nearly all on the free list. A trifle less than half of the total bulk of our imports are non-dutiable. We are liberal buyers of "the things we need," and there is no tariff on those things. Reciprocity takes no account of articles of this kind. They are wholly excluded from the scheme. What it aims at and insists upon is that we shall tear down the wall and let in a lot of things which we do not need. If we don't do that, we don't "reciprothe bill had charged that it opened the cate." That is the situation in a nutshell, and we are indebted to the Poughkeepsie Eagle for presenting the issue in a shape so practical and tangible. It has assisted in the plain presentment of the question, Has the old-fashioned protection "served its 'day," and is it "obsolete?" The Rewho is making money, and was the only one of their principles that was old-fashioned protection "served its carried out with complete success due" day," and is it "obsolete?" The Reding their last tenure of power. There wrestling with that problem in conwas suppressed laughter in the gallerles when he said that few Americans at that time made money.

Mr. Lodfe, referring to the charges of torture in the Philippines, said it was a source of bitter regret to him that lete" and has "served its day."

Should Be Careful.

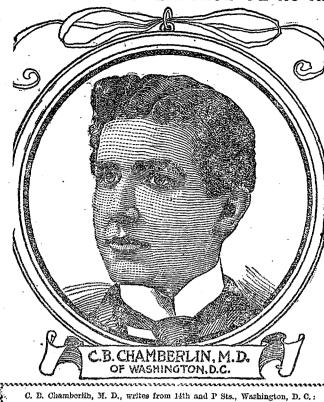

No tariff is perfect, even for the time at which it is framed. Every tariff act, like legislation of many other sorts, is a compromise among diverse interests. It satisfies no one entirely, and it grows, in spots, less and less satisfactory as time alters conditions. But there is always a chance that when any revision at all of a tariff is when any revision at an or a tarm is attempted, the whole system is taken up for discussion. In every instance when tariff changes have been started the changes have affected more artiwith bolos. After that, said he, it is no wonder the comrades of those men went into battle with cries of vengeance.

"I am not here to excuse crueity and as a consequence enterprise is and as a consequence enterprise is blighted for the time.

Senator Lodge declared that only half of the story of crueity and torture in the Philippines had been told and he desired to tell the other half he he desired to tell the other half be-cause the honor of the American name a Presidential term are apt to hamper was deeply concerned. On the other hand, the Democrats in 1894, in the middle of President Cleveland's second term, and the Republicans in 1890, half-way in the service of President Harrison, met a disastrous defeat, which was a presage of the overpointed out that 67 municipal officers throw, in each case, of these parties friendly to the Americans had been as at the polls in the Presidential canvass two years later.—Oyster Bay (N. Assisted by CUTICURA ONTMENT, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruf, and the stopping of falling heir, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes, itchings, and chafings, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Millions of Women use CUTICURA SOAP in the form of baths for annoying irritations, inflammations, and excoriations, for too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and for many antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women and mothers. CUTICURA SOAP combines delicate emollient properties derived from CUTICURA, the great skin cure, with the gest themselves to women and mothers. CUTICUIA SOAP combines delicate emollient properties derived from CUTICUIA, the great skin cure, with the purest of cleansing ingredients, and the most refreshing of flower odours. No other medicated soap is to be compared with it for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair, and lands. No other foreign or domestic toitet soap, however expensive, is to be compared with it for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Thus it combines, in ONE SOAP at ONE PRICE, the BEST skin and complexion soap, and the BEST toilet and baby soap in the world.

Admiral Sampson died last week, thus passed away the Commander of the squadron which destroyed the Spanish fleet off Santiago, Cuba. From all accounts he died a heart-broken man. While he was not present when the battle was fought he no doubt plann-led the battle, and those woo have tried to rob him of the honors rightfully belonging to him can now cease from troubling.

Mocksville affords a ready market for sawed lumber and logs, and it's a great benefit this year to our country friends, who are short in their crops. They can put a log on their wagon and come to town teaching the graded school at Piand sell it for cash and get supplies, thus aiding them materially in making their crops. Prosperi-ty, mills running and others going up are a great blessing to all of our people, and especially to the working classes and farmers.

A WHOLE CITY SWEPT BY FIRE

That Belched Forth From Mt. Pelee, On the Island of Martinique, in the West Indies-Graphic Description of Awful Catastrophe.

St. Pierre, Island of Martinique, was last week the scene of the most destructive volcanic eruption recorded in the world's history. The town was one of about 30,000 population, composed of natives, French and other foreigners. It was nestled close to the side of Mt. Pelee, which though known to have been in time past an active volcano, was thought to be extinct. Though the mountain had recently shown evidences of activity, the inhabitants of the city and surrounding country refused to believe that danger lurked in its hidden fires, and with strange fatality remained passively at their employment until the stream of fire and molten earth rushed down and overwhelmed them. Of the entire population of the teeming city, less than a dozen persons escaped. The vessels in the harbor with their crews fared no better. One only escaped to relate the graphic story of the catastrophe.

The property loss is gigantic; the loss of life appalling. The following cable dispatches tell the horrible story:

Tour of Wrecked City. Fort de France, Martinique, By Cable—It is now generally estimated that about 30,000 persons lost their lives at St. Pierre as a result of the outbreak of the Mount Pelee volcano last Thursday. low many perished in smaller towns nd on plantations is not known.

The United States Consul at Guade

lope, Col. Louis H. Ayme, has made a tour of the desolate site where St. Pierre stood. From an interview with Col. Ayme, who is a trained American newspaper man, formerly of Chicago, the following facts are learned:

Thursday morning the inhabitants of the city awoke to find heavy clouds shrouding the Mount Pelee crater. All day Wednesday horrid detonations had been heard. These were echoed from St. Thomas, on the north, to Barbados, on the south. The cannonading ceased Wednesday night and fine ashes fell like rain on St. Pierre. The inhabitants were alarmed, but Governor Mouttet, who had arrived at St. Pierre the evening before, did everything possible to allay the panic.

The British steamer Roraima reached St. Pierre Thursday with 10 passengers, among whom were Mrs. Stokes and her three children, and Mrs. H. J. Ince. They were watching the rain of ashes, when, with a frightful roar and terrific electric discharge, a vast mass of fire, mud and steam swept down from the crater over city and bay, sweeping all before it and destroying the fleet of vessels at anchor off the Thirty thousand corpses are now strewn about, buried in the ruins of St. Pierre or else floating, gnawed by sharps, in the surrounding seas. Twenty-eight charred, half dead survivors from the scene have been brought here Sixteen of them are already dead, and of the whole number only four are expected to recover.

Enormous quantities of the wreckage of large and small ships and houses now strew the surface of the sea. Huge trees and many bodies, with flocks of sea gulls soaring above and hideous sharks fighting about them, are floating here and there. From behind the volcanic veil come blasts of hot wind min-ashes resembling dirty snow. Furious blasts of fire, ashes and mud sweep over the ruins of St. Pierre, which stretch nearly two miles along the water front and half a mile back to a cliff at the base of the volcano.

The still smoking volcano towers above the ash-covered hills. The ruins ourning in many places and frightful odors of burned flesh fill the air

Every vestige of clothing was burned away from the charred bodies, and in many cases the abdomens had been urst open by the intense heat. In one place a group of nine children were found locked in each other's arms.

Three hours' exploration of the ruins of St. Pierre resulted in the finding of no trace of the American consulate. Consul Thomas T. Prentiss, his wife and two daughters are undoubtedly and two daugnters are unmontedry dead. The quarter of the city is still a vast mass of blazing ruins. Nor has any trace been found of James Japp, the British consul. Mr. Japp had a large family at St. Pierre.

northward. Famine now threatens to add its horrors to the situation. Food has already become scarce everywhere in Martinique. Terrible suffering can be averted only by the arrival of proision ships. St. Pierre has served as the storehouse of the entire island. Reserve supplies were kept there, and with the estruction of that city starvation became an immediate menace. Fort-de-France, with a population of about 12, 000, has been little more than a military fort, so that it is now unable to give more than shelter to the refugees. Showers of hot mud and cinders have served to keep the people of Fort-de-France in constant terror, though no actual damage is known to have been

An Eye Witness.

Ellery S. Scott, first officer of the steamer Roraima, who was rescued from the wreck of that ship in St.

Pierre harbor says:
"It was about daylight on the morning of May 8 when we sighted Martinique. We had run through a thunderstorm and we steamed ahead for St. Pierre. At 6 o'clock we were at an-chorage off the Place Bertin landing. "When the agent, with lighters and stevedores, came alongside, they told us that Mount Pelee had been acting ugly ever since the previous Saturday, and that there had been a heavy fall of hot cinders over St. Pierre itself. However, the volcano seemed to have quieted down, and we got the steve-dores to work smartly. "Twenty vessels were anchored in the harbor. One of them was the Tamaya, a bark from the French port of Nantes. There were four other large sailing vessels. Roddam put into the berth next to ours and let drop her anchor.

"Then something happened. There was a shaking in the air, so that we felt as if someone had jostled us. "A man near us cried out:

'My God, look at that!' "He was looking at Pelee, and every soul on board looked, too. I can't describe what I saw, of course, but my first thought was that the end of the world would look just like that.

"It was just as if the mountain had been blown up by all the dynamite in the world. First of all, a great pillar of flame rushed straight up in the air, then it opened out wider than the mountain itself and came roaring down out of the sky upon us. Some of us rushed to the forecastle head to heave the anchor. I saw the captain shout-ing orders and I saw Foster, the engineer, drop below.
"As we reached the ship's head the fiery cloud was upon us. Rough stones scalding mud and red splashes of flame dropped and scattered all over the "Ships were swallowed up by a enormous wave.

"There was another roar, and with it all the water in the harbor seemed to get up and rush upon the shipping. Every craft heeled over to the great tidal wave and seemed to sink. "When the wave struck us it flooded gled with others ice-cold.

"There was a ventilator at hand, and stevedores pulled me out of the ventilator and dragged me into the steerage There I remained, half dead, for quite a time, during which the ship rolled and the fire and rocks battered the decks.

"Now and then a charred and shrieking sailor rolled down the hatchway and died as he came, so that a pile of corpses lay over me. Someone pulled me from under these. I clambered to the deck and began turning a hand to-ward saving the injured who were ly-ing all about, though even then small red-hot stones and mud were falling. "Captain Muggah, of our ship, was burned almost beyond recognition. "As I was about this work Captain

Described By Young Lady.

A cablegram to the Chicago Chronicle from Point-a-Pitre, Guadelope, says that Harvira da Igfrile, a native girl, who is one of the 30 survivors of St. Pierre taken to Point-a-Pietre by the French cruiser Suchet, gives the following account:

"I was going to vespers at the Cathedral, when mother asked me to go up to my aunt's, who keeps a small pastry shop near the cemetery, to deliver her a message. The cemetery, you see, is half up the mountain, just where it turns below what we girls used to call the 'corkscrew,' an old crater which had a winding path, down which we used to lead visitors to the island.

"The other girls who were with me did not want to go because they thought I could not run up there and thought i could not run up there and be down at the Cathedral in time, but I hurried. When I got to the 'corkscrew' I saw some puffs of smoke coming out of it, and thinking it was only some old negro lighting a fire I did not go to look.

to look.
"I had hardly gone more than three steps farther when I felt a hot wind from the 'corkscrew.' Thinking that somethink must be on fire, I ran to the top of the path and there I saw the somethink must be on fire, I ran to the top of the path and there I saw the bottom of the pit all red, boiling, with little blue flames shooting up from it. There were two guides leading a woman up the path and hurrying as fast as they could run. I saw a puff of blue smoke seem to hit the party and they fell as if killed.

fell as if killed.

"Horror-stricken, I stayed a minute or two until I saw the boiling stuff creep up the side of the 'corkscrew.' I got frightened then and ran down the oad as fast as I could, screaming all the way. I was too frightened to stop and tell anybody. "Just as I got to the main street of St. Pierre I saw the boiling stuff burst from the top of the 'corkscrew' and run down the side of the hill. It folrun down the side of the nill. It followed the road first, but then, as the stream got bigger, it are up the houses on both sides of the road. Then I saw that a boiling red river was coming from another part of the hill and cutting off the escape of the people who were running out of the bouses. "I ran as hard as I could to the beach and saw my brother's boat with sail set close to the stone wharf where he always kept it. I jumped into it and just as I did so I saw him run down toward me. But he was too late and I heard him scream as the stream first touched and then swallowed him

"Then I cut the rope that held the boat and went to an old cave about a quarter of a mile away, where we girls used to play pirates. Before I got there I looked back and the whole side of the mountain which was near the town seemed to open and boil down on the screaming thousands. I was burned a ood deal by stones and ashes that came flying about the boat, but I got into the cave.

"I remember hearing an awful hiss as the boiling stuff struck the sea. The cave, which was generally dry, filled up to the top with water and I do not remember any more until they picked me up two miles at sea and I found my-self on the big steamer."

The officers of the Suchet say the girl was found unconscious in the sailing boat ,which was badly charred and drifting helplessly, the mast and sail having been snapped off. It is thought the boat was too light to be swamped by the tidal wave.

EMILE LOUBET. forfeited their ball at Savannah, Ga., early in March, and fled to Canada, were placed under arrest by officers Wiesbaden, Germany, May 12.—Emperor William has telegraphed to President Loubet, in French, as follows: connected with the United States Secret Service and Chief Carpenter, of "Profoundly moved by the news of the terrible catastrophe which has just overtaken St. Pierre and which has the Montreal detective force, Thursday. The arrests were made on warrants issued in Montreal, Chief Wilkie's cost the lives of nearly as many persons as perished at Pompeii, I hasten men assisting the Canadian officers to to offer France my most sincere sym-pathy. May the Almighty comfort the make the arrests. The men were hurried on board a swift little tug which hearts of those who weep for their irre-parable losses. My Ambassador will had been kept in waiting at the wharf. Ten minutes after Greene and Gaynor were safely on board, the boat steamed hearts of those who were hearts of those who were stated to your Excellency the sum of 10,000 marks in my behalf as a contribution for the relief of the afflicted."

President Loubet replied:

"Am greatly touched by the mark of sympathy which, in this terrible misfortune that has fallen on France, your Majesty has deigned to convey to me. I beg you to accept my warm thanks and also the gratitude of the victims Mrs. Gaynor at once consulted Mr. Tachereau, her husband's attorney. A tug was chartered and an attempt was made to overtake the boat on which whom you propose to succor."

It is noted that Emperor William has gotten some of his facts wrong, as Gaynor and Greene were being carried away. After a short chase it was seen by those on board the pursuing tug that nct over 2,000 persons perished at Pompeii and not over 5,000 at both it would be impossible to overtake the detective boat, the Spray, one of the swiftest tugs on the St. Lawrence, and the pursuit was abandoned. On return-ing to the city it was decided to charter. a special train and attempt to head of Paris, May 12.-The Czar has telegraphed to President Loubet expressing the sincere sympathy of himself and a special train and attempt to head on the Spray at some point between this city and Monereal.

The arrest of Greene and Gaynor and the manner in which it was accomplishrance the sorrow caused by the terrible West Indian catastrophe.

King Edward has sent 25,000 france ed caused considerable excitement in (about $5,000) as his contribution to the the city, where both men have become well known. When the two Americans first arrived in Quebec they were folfund being raised here for the relief of lowed by two men, also from the United States, who registered at the Chacau Frontenac. Their movements led the hotel employes to believe that they moned the French Ambassador to the Vatican, M. Nisard, and expressed to him keen sorrow on hearing of the St. Pierre disaster. The Pontiff requested were detectives sent here to watch Greene and Gaynor. It now developes that one of these men is Detective Burke, of Florida. Thursday morning that he he kent informed regarding the Mr. McAlester, a prominent lawyer of Montreal, who, it is rumored, is en-Castries, St. Lucia, B. W. At 10:30 a well-dressed man engaged cabman by the hour and instructed him to wait near the postoffice. Soon afterwards Burke, with another cab, ar-rived. Burke and two other men who came up, walked toward the Chateau came up, walked toward Frontenac, which is near by. In In the meantime, Mr. Greene, who had en-tered the postoffice, as was his daily custom, came out of the main door wo strangers who had been in waiting in a store near by, crossed the stre and one of them placing his hand on Greene's shoulder, pulled a document from his pocket and asked him to en-ter the first cab. Greene was heard to say: "Walt a minute, until I see a riend." but this was denied him, and the three detectives and Green entered the cab and were driven to the wharf. While the arrest of Greene was being accomplished, Burke and the other detectives went to the Chateau Frontenac. Colonel Gaynor was standing at the clerk's desk when they entered. three detectives walked up to Gaynor one taking hold of his right arm and the other his left, while Burke produced

Colonel Gaynor asked permission to get his overcoat, but he was not permitted to do so and the four hurried out to the cab and started for the wharf at a rapid pace. onel Gaynor's counsel of what had occurred. The Attorney General's depart. ment and Judge Chauveau were notified and they in turn asked the police to in-vestigate the matter. Half an hour after the departure of the Spray, anber will never be known. Managers other tug was engaged by Mrs. Gay-and overseers of the estates, with the families and several of the better class tive Walsh. The pursuit of the Spray was given up at Cape Rouge, 8 miles from the city. The Spray was then almost out of sight down the river. Upon the return of Mrs. Gaynor to the city, the lawyers in the case had a short consultation with her, and immediately two petitions for haonly six of this number will recover.

"The details of the disaster are too harrowing for description. I got to St. Lucla on a coasting steamer, which is running up and down the leeward coast, with water and provisions. Twenty-two hundred have received relief. All the neighboring British colonies are assisting generously. Every efbeas corpus, ordering the return of Gaynor and Greene to this city, were prepared, and two orders were signed to that effect by Judge Andrews, in the Superior Court. In the meantime four members of the provincial police left by the 1:15 Canadian Pacific Railroad train for Three Rivers, with orders to secure a tug there and try to intercept the Spray. The latter town is 90 miles from Quebec and just half way betitions were sworn to by Mrs. Gay-nor, who alleges that her husband nor, who alleges that her husband and Greene were taken away against their consent and without giving them time to see counsel or take legal measures to prevent their ar-rest. While the petitions were being prepared a special train was or-dered over the Canadian Pacific rail-road and at 3:50 the chase began. On the train are Messrs. Cannon and Chauveau, attorneys in the case, who are bearers of the petition; High Constable Gale and eight detectives.

CHRONIC TARIFF RIPPERS

UNEASY SPIRITS ALWAYS HACKING AWAY AT THE SCHEDULES.

Cople Wise in Their Own Concett Even Seeking in Some Way to Modify Any Law Which Embodies the Protective Principle-Tariff Revision Unwise,

There is a class of persons, wise in their own conceit, always seeking to modify in some way every tariff that embodies the protective principle. It may fairly be said of these individuals that no protective tariff yet devised has ever pleased them or subdued their desire to rip it up at some point. When once the work of alteration is begun no one can tell where it will stop. Behind these uneasy persons are massed the whole forces of the free trade army, eagerly urging them forward and ready to add their votes, to every movement whose object is disintegration. The tariff law now in force in the United States had for its authors some of the ablest tariff students of their time. Its chief architect and spokesman was Nelson Dingley. He had the full concurrence of President McKinley, who signed the law, without objections to any of its provisions or doubt as to its practical results. These two men have passed away while in the faithful service of th people. The law they largely molded has worked well. It is identified with a period of high prosperity succeeding one of great depression. It has yielded revenue to an adequate extent, and that includes the repeal of the war taxes. In the course of future years there ple are wise it will be conducted by the party of judicious protection. But that time has not yet arrived. The general business of the United States is at high tide. So remarkable has been the expansion of American activities since 1896 that the attention of other nations is centered on this country, and they are sending special representatives to look into our financial and industrial conditions and This situation and Repub lican politics are identified with each other. Democratic organs deny that they are related as to cause and effect. But the people know that prosperity and the Dingley tariff, with sound finance, stand together as an accomplished fact in our political history. Nevertheless, the tariff tinkers insist that if they can alter a few schedules they can improve matters forgetting that if allowed to have their way other tinkers would follow in their wake with fresh theories, for a few more touches here and there.

will be tariff revision, and if the peo-

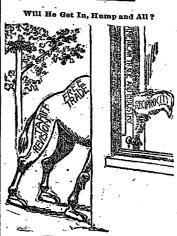

Business men do not want the tariff disturbed at this time. A feeling of confidence prevails, and, encouraged by the prospect of stability, the most enterprising class is branching out, Manufacturers can closely calculate margins of profit and afford to risk much if the foundation is secure. But let the tariff tinkers get in their work, and what must happen? A change in one schedule creates a demand to rip up others, and in the end the whole fabric would probably be involved, consuming the time of Congress that could be much better applied to other purposes. Meanwhile, business would halt because of the element of uncer tainty introduced. Foreign commerce would be thrown out of balance by an ticipated reductions. Is it wise to let well enough alone? Undoubtedly, the ousiness interests of the United States think the rule a good one.-St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Of Southern Presbyterian Church in Session

WEALTHY COLLEGES CHRISTLESS.

Said the Retiring Moderator in His Sermon on the Opening Day of the Assembly,

Jackson, Miss., Special.-The fortysecond session of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States was opened promptly at 11 o'clock Thursday morning in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church, Full delegations from the various churches were Dr. S. H. Chester, secretary of the foreign missions board, read the Scripture lesson, which was followed by prayer led by Dr. R. P. Morris. Rev. Leander M. Woods, the retiring moderator of the Assembly, preached the opening sermon, which was unique and masterful, the idea being drawn from First Samuel, 1:13-19-22 heing. "The Smithies Under Philis tine Control, or Christian Schools the Crying Need of Our Time." Of all the issues that are facing the Christian intelligence of today none is of such ranscendent importance. Dr. Woods thinks that the church should own and control its own smithies; that is, own agencies for forging the weapons which she must use to live. Pagan schools are wrecking the church.

Dr. Woods defines a Christian school as a school taugh thy Christians, one whose curriculum is in harmony with revealed truth. Of the eighteen million youths at school sixteen millions are in State schools. Dr. Woods' estimate of their religious condition was not flattering. "These State institutions are with only the rarest exceptions absolutely devoid of every feature of evangeli cal religion. In their class rooms the Bible is never taught or even read. in them the voice of prayer is never heard. They are almost as Christless so far as respects their curricula as the schools of the Jewish rabbis or the schools of the Jewish rabbis or the great Mohammedan University of Cairo and even more godless, for in the latter the Supreme Being is at least recognized and His claim to worship and service pressed home upon the hearts of the students. The public schools of our country, indeed, do possess the advantage of having in them a great many teachers who are lovely Christians and are compacted with all the restrictions conditions. passed with all the restraining and helpful influences of a Christian pubic sentiment, but the public schools themselves do next to nothing to enhance the spiritual welfare of their resepective communities. They are simply kept from utter demolarizasimply kept from uter demonstrates tion by the Christian atmosphere, which exists in spite of them. Only a-few years ago Prof. Andrews, then at the head of the public schools of Chicago, forbade the reading therein of Rudyard Kipling's Recessional hymn, because in it mention is made of "The Lord God of Hosts." Of the remaining two million students in the United States few are in distinctively Christian schools. Of the $147,000,000 invested in institutional endowments. $106,000,000, or more than 73 per cent., are owned by the 13 wealthiest universities of our country, and of these thirteen universities not a church whatever. All of them are by their own rating what is called 'non-sectarian' schools; and bear in mind these millions do not include the buildings, libraries, museums, etc., but only the income as producing capital. Among these thirteen princely schools are included Leland Stanford, Girard, Harvard, Columbia, Carnegie, Chicago, Cornell and othe relatio religion are well understood. These thirteen schools have on their rolls from two to five thousand students sembly plans which shall look to-wards the founding of at least one finely endowed university, amply equipped, which shall abide for all time as a monument to the Southern Presbyterian church?"

from two to five thousand students each, among whom are mututudes or the men who are to rule America for the next generation." Dr. Woods laid the magnificent proposition before the Assembly of the founding of a great Southern University. "I feel like crying out," said he, "why cannot we set in motion at this Assembly along which shall lead to the care of the same than the same that the same than the same

Hit His Wife With An Axe.

Charlotte, Special.—Lee Gabriel, colred, who drives a baggage wagon for J. W. Wadsworth's Sons, struck his wife, Pauline, three times with an axe Tuesday afternoon, and she will die from the wounds. He says she nagged him and attacked him and he struck her in self-defense. Pauline is uncon-scious and will probably die without telling anything. The tragedy occurred at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon on East Third street, at the home of Gab-riel, who is betted as "Molly Darlin," a soubriquet given him by Charlotte negroes upon his arrival here from Statesville some years ago. Colored people who live close to the house heard the sound of quarreling and then of a struggle, heard the wild sobbing of a little negro girl. There was silence for a few minutes, and then Gabrial came from the hause with a valise in came from the hause with a value in his hand and hurriedly walked away. After his departure the neighbors entered Gabriel's house and found Pauline lying behind the kitchen stove, covered with blood. Her four-year-old child was lying half under her and between her body and the wall. Evidently she hald topned over on the child efter she had toppled over on the child after been stricken. An investigation showed that Pauline had bee ed that Pauline had been hit three times with an axe, which lay close to her body. With each blow the point of the axe penetrated the skull on the top of the head, and the woman's brains came out of each wound.

Smallpox in Union. Monroe, Special.—Smallpox was dis-covered on the farm of Mr. Henry Frank Williams, near Wingate. Mr. John G. Bass, who had been sick for several days, sent for Dr. Armfield, of Nashville. After diagnosing the case the doctor pronounced it smallpox and sent to Monroe for Dr. J. M. Blair, the County hysician. Investigation recounty physician. Investigation revealed the fact that not only Mr. Bas have the smallpox but that other members of his family had had it and were almost well without ever having had a physician. It was further found that two negro families on the same farm had the disease but were convalescent. There were 14 cases in all, Mr. Bass being the last to get sick and having the most serious case. It seems that none of them had been very sick and thought they only had chicken-pox or thought they only had chicken-pox or some slight cruption and never thought it necessary to send for a doctor. All the cases were properly quarantined and everything possible done to present of the disease, vent a further spread of the disease, but there is no telling how many may have been exposed to the contagion. There are now three cases, all negroes, near Waxhaw, but no new ones are ex

Man in a Street Car.

People are so busy nowadays they have often not time to be polite, and a considerate act at once attracts atten-There was such an occurrence a few days ago in a 4th avenue car.

Among the passengers was a blind negro. His clothes were the veriest rags and were held to his emaciated frame with pieces of wire and bits of string. A broom handle served as a cane. Over one shoulder was suspended a gunny sack, giving him the anpearance of a cotton picker.

He continually picked at one hand with the fingers of the other, as though he were playing the hanio. humming softly to himself the while and patting his foot. As his face was wreathed in smiles-not a grin-all eyes were turned in his direction Many of the passengers looked at him regretfully when the car reached Stanon street and he arose and made his way toward the door.

The hour was a busy one on the Bowery. People wondered whether the old man would reach the sidewalk in safety. A young man standing on the rear platform did more than wonder however, for he alighted and guided the negro safely to the sidewalk. He then as rapidly as possible ran after the car, which was disappearing down

Several of the passengers who had noticed the incident called on the conductor to stop the car, but as he did not do so one of them rang the bell violently, and the motorman reversed the lever and brought the car to a sudden ston.

As the young man climbed on the platform, says the New York Times, many smiles of approbation were cast in his direction. But he seemed to be almost ashamed of what he had done. and he pulled his hat down over his eyes and continued his ride in silence.

Do Your CHILDREN QUESTIONS?

Of course they do. It is their way of learning and it is your du to answer. You may need a die tionary to aid you. It won't answer every question, but there are thousands to which it will give you true, clear and definite answer not about words only, but about things, the sun, machiners, men, places, stories and the like. Then, too, the children can find their own answers. Some of our greatest men have ascribed their power to study of the dictionary. Of course you want the hest die tionary. ERUPTIONS OF MT. PELEE.

The volcano of Mont Pelee was last in eruption during the month of August, 1851. Prèvious to that, in 1767, shout 1600 neonle were killed by an earthquake in Martinique. In 1839, the then capital, Fort Royal, now Fore de France, was visited by an earthquake which destroyed about half the town, caused great damage throughout the island and killed about seven hundred persons. Mont Pelee is the loftiest mountain on Martinique and is 4,450 feet high. When it was in eruption in 1851 flames and volumes of black smoke and fine ashes burst suddenly from the crater and threw the people of St. Pierre into a panic. They fied from the place, many taking refuge on the ships in the roadstead. The eruption on this occasion was not serious only covering some

The terrible volcanic storm in which ages age Mont Pelee was uplifted crumpled her summit and rent and fissured her sides, and sent her foothills snrawling all over the northern end of sprawling all over the northern end of the island of Martinique, less, perhaps, by her enormous bulk than by her pyramid summetry of her outlines. "The Bald Mountain," she was called, but never was adjective so misapplied, for La Pelee was fully clothed from the edge of the sea to the very summit in the most extravagant luxuriance of > Interesting Facts About St. Pierre. The part of St. Pierre on the slope was known as the "upper town" and was clean and well built. The lower town situated along the roadstead front was dirty and unhealthy. The town was divided into two parts by a small river over which there was a handsome bridge.

Five newspapers were published in St. Pierre. They were Las Antilles, founded in 1842; Les Colonies, founded in 1878; La Defense, founded in 1881; Le Propagateur, founded in 1852 and L'Union, founded in 1891. The principal commerce of St. Pierre was the exportation of sugar, rum, sof-

fee and cocoa. Remarkably fine co-logne water was manufactured in St. Pierre and exported to France. France took most of the exportations. The importations of St. Pierre were fabrics, grain, flour, wine, oil and reef cattle.

The climate has been described as very fine and healthful, resembling that of Lower California to a remark-able degree. An abundance of clear, sparkling water from the mountains helped keep the town in a fine sanitary condition

One traveller, writing of St. Pierre, said:
"The visite" to the island is remind-"The visito: to the island is reminded on every corner that the Empress Josephine was born in Martinique, at Trois Islets, enar Fort de France. I went to see both her birthplace and the statue which Napoleon III. crected to her menaory in the public square in Fort de France; but it is no reminder of Josephine that is uppermost when I think of Martinique. It is one of the most beautiful and quiet spots in the world that presents itself.

Some idea of the formation of the island of Martinique may be obtained from the fact that, although it is not quite forty-five miles long and only about nineten miles wide, it has 400 mountains, at least six of which, including Mont Pelee, are volcanoes. Most of the mountains are so heavy Most of the mountains are so heaving wooded that their ruggedness is hidden beneath the verdure, but is filled with deep ravines, and in the mountains ar high precipices, canyons and similar formations, showing the volcanic for-mation of the island.

People Who Braved the Original Disaster Now Driven to Flight By the Recent Outbreak.

Fort-de-France, Island of Martinique, By Cable.—Tuesday's eruption, from Mount Peles was violent in the extreme. Colossal columns of volcanic matter were ejected from the volcano, which rained huge red-hot boulders, many feet in diameter, on the ruins of St. Plerre and the country near it, from an enormous elevation and with fearful velocity. The volcanic clouds advanced until they reached Fort-de-France.

The spectacle was appalling and sublime beyond all description. The whole population of Fort-de-France was thrown into a frenzy of panic, during which soldiers, police, men and women, all terrified, frantic, weeping and praying, rushed through the streets while overhead the glowing fiery clouds rolled relentlessly and rained down stones, still hot, amid the swirling ashes.

A hundred persons sought refuge on the United States cruiser Cincinnati and the Potomac. At 10 o'clock the Potomac went to investigate matters and all reports agree that Lieutenant Benj. B. McCormick, the commander of the steamer, did good work. He went in close to St. Pierre and found that city had been bombarded with enormous had been bombarded with enormous stones from the volcano and that the ruins left standing after the great dis-aster had been nearly razed. Millions of tons of ashes then covered the runed city. Further south smaller stones had destroyed the house of the brave villagers who had stuck to their homes. Lieutenant McCormick took on board the Potomac 180 refugres, the oldest of whom was 72 years, and the youngest three days old. The lieutenant fed them and brought the party to Fort-de-France, This work of rescue was dif-ficult and dangerous. It is reported that the whole population of the island is fleeing towards Fort-de-France. The consternation pre-valling is indescribable. Mont Pelee is still active.

The French cruiser Suchet went on tour around the island and did not take part in the rescue work.

Kingstown, Island of St. Vincent, By Cable.—Another great eruption of the St. Soufriere volcano occurred Wednesday night. Throughout Sunday the adjoining districts trembled and some of the shocks were felt here. Some issued from the craters and fissures of the mountain, and the atmosphere throughout the island of St. Vincent was exceedingly hot. While the wor-shippers were returning from church at 8:30 p. m., an alarming, luminous cloud suddenly ascended many miles high in the north end of the island. Incessant lightning fell on the mountain and one severe flash seemed to strike about three miles from Kingstown. Thunderous rumblings in craters lasted for two hours and then diminished until they became mere murmurings. The remainder of the night was clear. Ashes fell from 10 o'clock to midnight. The inhabitants were frenzied with fear at the time of the outbreak dreading a repetition of the catastrophe which caused such terrible loss of life on this island. They ran into the open country, crying and praying for preservation from another calamity. No one slept that night. Re-ports received here from the districts in the vicinity say the rumbling of the craters were appalling and that streams of lava flowed down the moun-

Shock Felt in Florida.

St. Augustine, Fla., Special.-Almos continuous shocks, presumably of an earthquake, were felt here from 9 until midnight Wednesday night. The earth quake was accompanied by a succession of short but decisive reports like distant cannonading, seemingly from far out at sea. The sounds were unlike thunder, having no reverbrating roll and were accompanied by decided tre-mors, while the sky in the southeast was suffused with a glow. The reports came at intervals of perhaps three min-utes and persons who remember the earthquake at Charleston say the noises were very similar to the subterrane-an noises accompanying that occur-rence. The sound traveled from the south to the southeast. The night was perfectly clear. A number of citizens gathered on the sea wall and timed the ntervals between the reports.

In the Senate Friday Mr. McLaurin Mississippi, continued his speech in opposition to the Philippine govern ment bill. Mr. Deboe, Kentucky, supported the bill in a speech in which supported the bill in a speech which he said that it was a continuation of the wise and patriotic policy of President McKiniey. Mr. Lodge, Massachusetts, endeavored to have a day fixed for votting on the bill, but falled Mr. Dubois, Idaho, said the minority was not seeking for delay, but wished the discussion should be exhausted before the vote was taken.

The debate in the House Friday, while the naval appropriation bill was said that it was a continuation of under consideration, was by turns amusing and bitter. Mr. Cannon, Illinois, called attention to the numer-ous naval establishments centered at Newport. Although he admired our navy and supported the building of new ships, Mr. Cannon said one of the dangers of our navy was in the fact that one-third of the 1,700 officers were not on salt water, but on dry land. Mr. Williams, Mississippi, made Mr. Williams, Mississiph, made a sai-castic speech at the expense of Rear Admiral Crowninshield. With mock gravity he read a poem, beginning "Who is Crowninshield, papa?" The concluding lines of the poem were "Great Crowninshield, the greatest tar that ever stayed ashore." The House passed the bill turning over to Porto Rico all public lands of the island ceded to the United States by Spain, except sites designated by the President for naval and coaling sta tions, military posts and other United States purposes. The bill re-funding the tax on legacies paid under the war revenue act by religious, charitable, art and educational institutions, was passed. The motion to instruct the conferees against including the Selfridgo board awards in the omnibus claims bills was passed.

No Money for Maclay History. The Schley-Sampson controversy came up in the House Saturday, when Mr. Mudd, Maryland, offered an amendment to the naval appropria-tion bill that no portion of the appropriation shall be expended for Maclay's history of the Spanish War. Walker, and Charles R. Thomas was confirmed in the seat for the Third North Carolina district, contested by John E. Fowler.

A notable contribution to the discussion of the Philippine question was made in the Senate Thursday by Mr. Hoar, of Massachusetts. His views on the subject are well understood, but his expression of them was profoundly interesting and even impressive. When Ar the venerable Senator began to speak, every Senator at the capitol was in his seat and for two hours and a half his address consumed he was accorded the most careful attention, not only by his colleagues on the floor, but also by the people in the thronged galleries.

Mr. Hoar confined himself closely to his manuscript. He denounced the attitude of the government in the Philippines as one of the most wicked and foolish chapters in American history. He urged that the United States should withdraw from the islands and permit the people there to erect their own government, as had been done in Cuba. He sharpiy arraigned General Funston for the methods he pursued in the capture of Aguinaldo, and intimated strongly that had the Senate been aware of the facts Funston might not have been confirmed in his recent promotion. He hoped that, as the irrevocable step had not been taken by the United States, better counsels yet would prevail and

Close of the Long Struggle in South Africa Thought to Be in Sight.

TERMS NOT PUBLICLY ANNOUNCED

It is Eelieved in London That Boers By Great Britain,

London, By Cable .-- The Associated Press has every reason to believe peace in South Africa is practically secured. How soon it will be announced depends apparently more upon the convenience of the Boer government. The private and official advices received Friday night in London from South Africa all point to the same conclusion. The delay is technical, and to end the long war seems to be the desire of both sides. The Boers, however, are unable to convince all their followers of the wisdom of acquiescing to the demands of peace. If the Boers were a thorough disciplined force, dependent upon the action of general officers, peace would probably be proclaimed at once, but Botha, Dewet and other generals themselves seem unable to positively guarantee the degree to which their example will be followed.

The British public is still quite ignorant of the course of events in South Africa and there are no demonstrations on the streets, although on all sides the question asked is "Is it peace?" On the other hand the stock exchange Friday was a seething mass of brokers who eagerly bought South African shares while long after the closing of the exchange nearly 1,000 brokers crowded Throckmorton street and did a frantic curb business on the strength of the peace outlook. The appearance of Mr. Brodick, the Secretary of State for War, at the volunteer service dinner was watched eagerly in the hope of gaining an inkling of the government frame-of mind. Mr. Brodrick's listeners had to be content with one brief, adroitly turned reference to the present situation. Responding to the toast, "The Imperial Forces," the the toast, "The Imperial Forces," the War Secretary said: "I would go beyond my duty should I enter into details of the communications which are THE LINE OF MARCH. now passing and which prelude, as we all hope, the surrencer of the Boers."

Greater public interest was manifested in the day's meeting of the cabinet than has been the case in any meeting since the early stages of the war. The ministers reached Downing street from all parts of the country and were greeted by hundreds of people anxious for some sign of the probable trend of af-fairs. The cabinet meeting adjourned at 5:10 p. m. The Associated Press has ascertained that the government regards the war as practically ended.

Advices received by the War Office indicate that whatever decision the Verneening conference may arrive at most, if not all, of the Boer leaders vho went to Pretoria will not continue the fight. The present negotiations were merely for the puropse of enabling the Boer leaders to "save their faces."

aces."
After they learn the results of the day's meeting of the cabinet the Boer leaders are expected to announce their reluctant acquiescence with the Boer terms. The War Office does not expect my serious defections of the rank and file from the line taken up by Generals Botha and Dewet. Every precaution is being taken in Downing street to prevent premature public elation over the possibility that a portion of the delegates may bolt and continue the struggle without their leaders. Privately, however, confidence is expressed in official circles that everything is over but the shouting.

The Stock exchange has fully made up its mind how things are going and declares that the basis of peace was signed at Pretoria. Interesting references to peace are contained in a letter from Klerksdorp, southwestern Transvaal, dated April 25. It says:

"Seventy thousand to 80,000 British troops are here waiting for General Delirey's alswer from the peace conference and every hour we are expecting ence and every hour we are expecting them (the Boers) to march in and surrender. We have actually sent out wagon-loads of clothes to enable them to come in tidy, for there is every prospect of peace. Lord Kitchener comes here from Pretoria every other day, and seems to be in particularly good spirits. He actually smiles, and that's a thing he not often does. We attach great importance to those smiles, in regard to peace."

Long before the exercises began the thoroughfares were crowded for several blocks in every direction from the square with a good natured multitude that patiently waited for the line of march to appear. Seldom has the city contained a larger gala day throng; though the place was devoid of decora-tion or other insignia of celebration. SOUTHERN INDUSTRIAL

Cotton Picking By Machinery,

Manufacturers' Record. For several years an inventor of a cotton-picking machine has been trying developments of his invention in the Mississippi Delta. Two years ago the inventor, Mr. Angus Campbell and his backer, Mr. F. R. Morris, used the machine to pick cotton in such a way as to impress the spectators with its success. The two gentlemen, however, were not satisfied with the machine in every respect, and since then they have been remedying what they thought to be its weak points. Having perfected the machine, they signed last month contracts for five machines to pick 2,000 acres of cotton in the Delta next fall. In a letter to the Manufacturers' Record Mr. J. S. Weiss of Greenville, Miss., writes: I have watched very closely for the past five years the cotton-picking ma-chine patented by Mr. Angus Camp-bell, which is owned and operated by the American Cotton Picking Co. of Pittsburg, Pa.

I am perfectly satisfied, beyond any question of a doubt, that Mr. Campbell has solved the question of picking cotton with his machine, and it does even better work than is claimed for it.

On the 15th day of last October I saw the machine in operation at Col-onel Morgan's place at Sheppards-town. Leftore county, Mississippi, and saw the machine pick 93.7 per cent, of cotton that was open on the row, without destroying the leaves, bolls or stalks in any shape or manner. I have also seen the machine at work before frost, never a green leaf, boll, bloom or square being hurt.

One could not tell that the machine had been in the field, except-ing that the lint was missing. Strange as it may seem, the machine only takes the lint, but of course if there happens to be a piece of a dead leaf on an open boll it takes it along just as one does picking it by hand, which of course, is cleaned before the cotton is ginned.

I think I am safe in saying that the farmers of this great Delta only harvested about 75 per cent. of their crop this season, and I think it is a question of a very short time when Mr. Campbell will have his machine at a point where he will get 100 per

As I before stated that the machine picked 93.7 per cent., however, the other 6.3 per cent. does not go to waste, as the planter can gather it if he so chooses. I don't think the machine will work in very hilly land; but it does the work to perfection in flat and low

The machine will pick at least three bales per day, and has already picked as high as five. Every planter with whom I have talked and who has seen the machine work is more than the machine work is more man pleased with it.

In my estimation the cotton farm-ers of the South are about to receive their greatest boon. It goes without saying, as, to my mind, the question has been solved regarding the harvest-ing of cotton has been solved regarding the harvesting of cotton.

The signing of the contract indicates a faith in the efficiency of the machine, which, if realized, means almost a revolution in agriculture and industry in the South within the next few years. The substitution of machinery for man in gathering the cotton cron bas lower been a dream with ton crop has long been a dream, with most substantial reasons why it should become a fact. Again and again an invention to that end has been aunounced, only to bring disap-pointment without destroying the hope. The success of the Campbell picker must result in an enormous economy in bringing the cotton the gin, one estimate being that it will nearly halve the expense, in the encouragement of more scientific methods in cultivating cotton, there-by permitting a greater area of land and greater human energy to be employed in the raising of other crops Of especial importance, though, is the promise in the invention of the release from the cotton fields of a great mass of labor into other lines of industry required for the full de-velopment of Southern resources, ceased to be a crowd only at the point where good view or hearing was not obtainable.

The sea of faces was representative of the best in this county, and comprised prominent folk from all parts of South Carolina. Their presence, alone, was seemly tribute to the occasion. There was mute idea that the white-clothed granite told valor that stood for pride universal.

Col. E. A. Osborne made the opening prayer. The address was delivered by Col. J. P. Thomas, of Columbia, S. C., and was attentively listened to. The exercises were impressive and well results. change f tract fleeded help from manufacturing undertakings.

This balancing of labor conditions is likely to be accompanied by a bablancing of agricultural ones. The use of cotton-picking machines must tend to limit cotton-growing to sections where great areas of land, devoted principally to cotton, may be under one management, as the use of such a machine by the cultivator of one acre or ten acres would hardly of one acre or ten acres would hardly be economical, if possible. Hence might be expected in cotton-growing a radical change similar to that ina radical change similar to that induced by the adoption of machinery in the wide stretching wheat fields of the West. This change, though, would injure no small cultivator ready to adapt himself to it. He might lose if he should attempt to compete with hand against the machine. But if he should recognize and take advantage of the wider market take advantage of the wider market for foodstuffs and other products created by the conversion of cotton-pickers into miners, lumbermen, operatives and mechanics, he would better himself considerably.

Coffee Touches Up Different Spots.

Frequently coffee sets up rheumatism when it is not busy with some other part of the body. A St. Mo. man P. V. Wise, says "About two years ago my knees began to stiffen and my feet and legs swell, so that I was scarcely able to walk, and then only with the greatest difficulty, for I was in constant pain,

I consulted Dr. Barnes, one of the most prominent physicians here, and he diagnosed the case and inquired, Do you drink cof-fee? 'Yes, You must quit using it at once,' he replied. I did so and commenced drinking Postum in its place.

The swelling in my feet and ankles and the rheumatic pains subsided quickly, and during the past 18 months I have enjoyed most excellent health, and al-though I have passed the 68th Old mile post I have never enjoyed

Good health brings heaven to us here, I krow of many cases wonderful stomach and heart trouble have been made by simply throwing away coffee and using Postum.
