Greensboro, Sept. 24. — Headquarters of the South's largest civil organization—the Carolina Motor club—was jubilant today, its sixth anniversary, over a telegram from the American Automobile Association that said "your organization constitutes the largest A A A club in the South and as a matter of fact your growth has been the most phenomenal of any motor club in the United States."

Organized here September 15, 1922 with 22 members the roster today shows more than 17,000. In the club led the 1,005 A A A clubs in greatest percentage membership gain by securing 1,501 new and 605 renewal members, thereby winning the A A A membership acquisition merit award and in July the club requested 25,000. The late E. Sternberger, Greensboro, was the first president of the club. C. C. Armstrong, Greensboro, succeeded Mr. Sternberger and Charles S. Wallace, Morehead City, has been president since 1925. Waldo Porter, treasurer and Coleman W. Roberts, vice president have held their respective offices since the club's inception.

PLANT WINTER CROPS IN COTTON FIELDS

Raleigh, Sept. 24.—Winter cover crops for livestock grazing and for turning under next spring may be planted profitably in the cotton fields of North Carolina before the crop is picked.

"It is not advisable to wait until the cotton is all picked and the stalks out, to sow cover crops in the cotton fields. This would delay the planting until too late in the fall," says E. C. Blair, extension agronomist at State College. "Fall planting should be started while the cotton is still growing. Plant such crops as alfalfa, rye, barley, oats, vetch, crimson clover or combinations of these. Where the cotton stalks are small and the rows wide apart, the cover crops may be planted before the cotton begins to open. If the plants are large enough to lap in the middle of the rows, it is best to wait until after the first picking."

Mr. Blair states that the method of sowing is very simple. For rye, oats, barley or vetch, scatter the seed by hand and cover with an ordinary cultivator. For crimson clover, mix the seed with the cultivator before sowing the seed and either leave them without harrow or run a brush or light harrow over them. Running a brush over the cotton at this time will not injure the crop unless there are open bolls from which the cotton may be dragged.

In sowing the seed, it is not advisable to attempt seeding over three middle at a time. The cotton stalks may be cut and turned under with the cover crop next spring. It is not advisable to attempt cutting the crops for hay or for stock feed until the cotton is well picked.

Consistent growth of the club is reflected in the figures as of December 31 each year: 1922, 170; 1923, 1,819; 1924, 2,310; 1925, 4,980; 1926, 7,272; 1927, 12,028. This spring the club was forced to seek larger quarters and now occupies the 20 room B. MacKenzie building—a structure many times larger than the renovated contractors hut that served as club headquarters for two years. More than 30 members now are employed at headquarters, 73 in the field and 18

FROM THE WORLD'S BACK WINDOW

By Charles McSwain

Anybody who does not believe that red bugs know their meat, simply let them explore the same section of woods that I did a few days ago. I went out into the wild woods a few days ago with a man who was in search of a certain species of wild flower. We got lost and walked about five miles extra before we ever found our way out.

We found the flower that we were in search of, but the red bugs also found us. I felt them eating on me before I ever got back to town. They got so extremely cruel in their biting and eating that I was forced to make a hurried trip home and wash in a bath tub for several hours. All kinds of remedies were used before I ever got any relief. They were visited upon old King Pharaoh I have used every remedy known to the Doctors.

Don't tell me about these red bugs. I believe that they are one of the left-over plagues that were visited upon old King Pharaoh when the children of Israel were trying to make their escape to the Land of Promise.

A red bug is a brave animal. He is a mighty animal. He is a cruel animal. He is not afraid of anything under the sun. Here I am, ten million times larger than a red bug; but it is the red bug afraid of me? I'll say he is not. Take a man, for instance, who is afraid of another animal that is several times his size. The elephant, for instance. You will not see a man getting funny with an elephant. No; a man is afraid of an elephant just as a red bug is afraid of a man. Now why is it that a red bug does not have the same fears relative to a man? If he had sense he would fear a red bug just as much as a man would fear a red bug. But the red bug has no fear of poor little men.

As for wild flowers, I shall leave them alone in the future. Makes no difference to me how beautiful they may be, or what pleasure they might bring to some poor sick person. The sick person will have to do without any wild flowers in the future, if I am the fellow appointed to get them. No, I shall not get any more wild flowers for anybody. Should President Coolidge come here and ask me to hunt up a few wild flowers for him, telling me that Mrs. Coolidge was very ill, and therefore plining and yearning for some, I should simply say, "No, Mr. Coolidge. I am quite sorry to get not expose myself to the red bugs for any more wild flowers." That is exactly what I would say to Coolidge. I should refuse him freely.

A LIFE A DAY

Raleigh, Sept. 24.—A life a day, and more, is the toll being taken by automobiles in North Carolina as shown by the death certificates filed with the State Board of Health. To Aug. 1, a total of 270 deaths had been reported as resulting from automobile accidents. Deaths from this cause are exceeding month by month those resulting from typhoid fever and diphtheria. And month by month the number grows.

"For the next two months we may expect a heavy increase in automobile accidents, and resulting deaths," Dr. Chas. O'H. Laughlinhouse, State Health Officer, said today in discussing this terrific loss of life and property.

"Some of course, are unavoidable, but the many are due to carelessness or gross negligence. 'Right now one of the greatest hazards of the road is the unlighted carts and wagons. All over Eastern North Carolina tobacco growers are hauling tobacco to market, and a great number of them travel at night in order to have their tobacco ready to go on the warehouse floor in the morning. Hardly one in a thousand of the horse drawn vehicles on the roads carries a light. The result will be an increase of collision accidents throughout all the autumn months."

"The warehousemen of the State could render a valuable service to the State and to their patrons by urging upon each of their customers the necessity of carrying a light on their carts and wagons for their own protection, and to save their product from being ruined in a wreck."

"The last session of the General Assembly enacted legislation requiring that vehicles operated on the public roads between half hour before sunset and a half hour before sunrise must display a light on the left side of the vehicle visible to those approaching either from the front or the rear. A penalty of fine not to exceed fifty dollars was provided. The law has been in effect for more than a year but I have never heard of any person being prosecuted because of its violation. I do know from personal experience that practically no horse drawn vehicle has any light upon it."

"Entirely from the standpoint of conserving the lives of our people I urge that this gross carelessness and negligence be stopped. The man on the road at night with an unlighted vehicle endangers not only his life but that of all others traveling the same road. By carrying lights the awful toll of death from automobile accidents can be reduced."

MIGHT ADD COWS TO CROP FARMS

Raleigh, Sept. 24. — Sufficient feed to keep from five to ten good dairy cows could be profitably produced on thousands of cotton farms in North Carolina.

"Some of the most successful cream producers in the State are men who make cotton their principal cash crop, yet they grow the cotton in a rotation with legumes," says John A. Arrey, dairy extension specialist at State College. "These legumes, with cottonseed meal and other feed products may be marketed through cows at a good price and the plant food which they contain thus kept at home."

Mr. Arrey states that when properly fed and handled, a cream producing cow will produce each month in the year. On that farm where only one or two cash crops are produced, the income from cows is badly needed. A good average cow will produce over seven hundred pounds of milk containing 232 pounds of butterfat, he states, and if this milk is sold at 30 cents a gallon, a good wholesale price, a return of $180 is had. But the manure is worth $20 per year and the cow will produce crop farms need more manure. If a milk market is not available, there are many creameries which need butterfat. At 40 cents a pound of milk from such a cow will bring $92.80 and the skim milk left is worth at least $25 as a feed for the calves, the chickens and pigs.

Mr. Arrey states that the number of cows which may be kept with profit on the average tobacco or cotton farm depends of course on the available pasture, the roughage and the supply of labor. But any such farm could well afford to keep from five to ten animals. The income from these cows will usually take care of the operating expenses of the farm and thus make it possible for the owner to bank the returns from his cash crop rather than pay old debts with them. At present, the average farmer gets a cash income from less than one-half his acres. Using the dairy cow, will permit him to get a return from additional land.

All school children under 14 will be admitted free to the Fair Grounds Thursday, Sept. 27.

M. S. Rutledge continues to win renown as a good wheat grower. His final report is 1,207 bushels of grain on 40 acres of land. On one field where he had plowed under a clover sod, he produced an average of 40 bushels on 16 acres.

Land on which lespedeza has been grown will produce twice as much corn as where there was no lespedeza, according to J. D. Whitley of Oakboro in Stanley county.

CHEVROLET PASSES FIVE MILLIONTH MILESTONE

Marking the second time within eight months, the passing of a millionth milestone, the Chevrolet Motor Company announced today that the five millionth Chevrolet was produced at the Flint, Michigan, plant, Sept. 8. The four millionth car was built Jan. 11, following quickly on the spectacular nation-wide reception accorded the present "Biggor and Better" model.

The early arrival of the 5,000,000th car was in response to a continued demand that has kept Chevrolet plants on a day and night basis since the first of the year and has resulted in the setting of new monthly production records every month this year.

Production for the year promises to go well beyond the million mark and will show more than a 1,000 per cent increase over 1921 when 77,565 cars were built.

The special five millionth car was a standard coach and came off the line amid the cheers of a vast army of assembled mechanics who gathered momentarily to see the record making model glide off the line under its own power.

Following schedule requirements did not permit of any ceremonies and a few seconds later the five millionth car became history, when number 5,000,001 was driven away.

It was pointed out that, whereas it had required a little more than 10 years for Chevrolet to build its millionth car, the last four million were produced in a matter of more than five years, in indication of the spectacular growth that the Chevrolet Motor Company has made in recent years to attain its present position as the world's largest automobile manufacturer.

At the luncheon session, Louis Lipinsky, chairman of the finance committee of the New Bern county Chapter, will preside. Greece will be by the Rev. A. V. Joyner, chairman of the Canton Chapter. N. E. Wright, chairman of Junior Red Cross for Swain county Chapter, will introduce the speakers.

Dr. H. B. Wilson, national director of Junior Red Cross, in Washington, will speak on "The Twelfth Annual Roll Call." Mr. Dix will follow him with a talk on the roll call plan and Mrs. Randolph-Harper, chairman of the Caldwell county Chapter of Junior Red Cross, will speak on "Chapter Roll Call Plan."

Mrs. Louise Wallace Frye, general field representative and Miss Katherine Myers, nursing field representative for the Red Cross in North Carolina will attend the Asheville, New Bern and Rocky Mount conferences.

The conference in Rocky Mount will be held in the Ricks Hotel, opening at 10 o'clock, October 3, with J. P. Russell, chairman of the Rocky Mount Chapter, presiding. Rev. W. H. Craighill, pastor of the Episcopal church of Rocky Mount, will deliver the invocation. An address of welcome will be by L. L. Gravelly, mayor of Rocky Mount. "Opportunities and Responsibilities in Red Cross Service" will be the subject of an address by Walter Davidson, assistant manager of the eastern area of the Red Cross in Washington.

A luncheon session will follow with Major Marion W. W. chairman of the Durham County Chapter, presiding. The Twelfth Annual Roll Call will be given by Raymond Hunt, chairman of First Aid for Wilmington, will explain Red Cross first aid; Sergeant Adams of Fort Bragg, will explain The Life Saving program; Floyd Saunders, chairman Cumberland county Chapter, will talk on nutrition service; and three instructors in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick will discuss it. Mrs. Thomas B. Green, director of the Hall of Carotest county, and county superintendent of welfare, and Mrs. O. C. Daniels, of Oriental, Pamlico county.

The closing of the conference will be entertained at a luncheon at the country club, by the New Bern Chamber of Commerce. 17 Red Cross Chapters have been selected to send representatives to this conference.

PLANE ROUSES SLEEPERS: FAMILY ESCAPES FLAMES

Fountain Inn, S. C., Sept. 27.—A family of 14 negroes credited their lives today to a southbound mail flyer on the New York-Atlanta route who in the early morning hours aroused them in time to escape from their burning home near here.

The flyer, about 4 a. m., noticed the house, located on the A. G. Edwards farm, aflame and circled low over a neighboring home until members of the family were awakened and rushed to the burning house and warned the sleeping negroes in time for them to escape.

U. S. TAX COLLECTIONS IN N. C. INCREASE

Raleigh, Oct. 1.—Collections in North Carolina for the month of September were $562,212.37 above those for the same month last year, the collector of internal revenue announced today.

September 1928 collections were $22,008,071.02, while those for 1927 stood at $22,366,455.65.

Collections for the first nine months of this year increased $5,204,707.89 as compared with the same period in 1927.

State tax collections for the first quarter of the fiscal year were $2,635,703.26 as compared with $2,104,076.66 for the same period last year, Commissioner R. A. Davidson said.

For September the total collected was $557,620.89, an increase of $81,000 over the September 1927 collections.

Last month the State's revenue came from the following sources: Income $294,492.41; inheritance $121,679.29; licenses $22,500.97; franchise $42,001.94; insurance $6,548.48, and bus $20,388.70.

BIRTHDAY DINNER CELEBRATION

The relatives and friends of Mrs. O. H. Hartley gave her a birthday dinner last Sunday. One hundred eighty seven by actual count were there and three counties were represented—Davie, Davidson and Rowan.

A long table had been prepared and was filled with good things to eat. There was plenty for everybody and some left. One of the most popular dishes was that containing the barbecue. Undoubtedly they had an expert to cook the meat and of course there were plenty of other dishes.

There was a great deal of merry-making and the relatives for the first time in several years and friends met and then new acquaintances were made. Music was rendered by several of the boys and politics was of minor importance. Everybody went away thanking Mr. and Mrs. Hartley for the invitation to spend the day with them and wishing Mrs. Hartley many more birthdays.

THE FAIR

Davie County Fair went off in a number of ways last week, and all seemed more than satisfied with the exception of some of the "ball game operators" who fell short with their cash when the count was over. But the fair was a great success over every particular. The attendance was much more than that of last year, but this was to be expected due to the unusual season of the farmer this year. We hope to publish a full list of the prize winners just as soon as they can be obtained.

Everybody being laying plans now for the fair next year. Decide upon what you are going to do and do it. The fair altogether depends upon you.

MAX WOULD START OPPOSITION BLAZE

Morehead City, Oct. 2.—O. Max Gardner, Democratic gubernatorial nominee was delivering an address at the local high school today. The beauty of nature, of friendship, of sport, of dreams, of character—is lost to those who live by the clock and in the crowd. Much hurrying and hurrying may bring success, but they destroy the fruits of success. They make millionaires at forty who can think of nothing to do with their millions but seek more millions. They make worldly men who are shuddering at the thought of leisure or solitude. The time that is saved is used only in saving more time. The contacts that are made are used only in making more contacts until all contacts for individual living is destroyed.

There are times when every man needs to leave his clock or his crowd and to consult his immortal soul. When he is trying to get out of his automobile and walk; leave his bridge game and read books or listen to music; to drop his golf clubs and enjoy the beauty of the grass or the patterns of the sky; to forget the cares of getting things done and contemplate the glory of God; to forego the pleasure of enjoying things with friends in favor of the pleasure of enjoying friends for their own sakes, for their personalities, their conversations, their thoughts to stand on a mountaintop or sit at a seaside long enough to lose all thought that he is at home in the afternoon so as to make it easier for the canvassers in taking the census, and thereby please the Lord and his pastor.

SCHOOL CHILD NEEDS WELL BALANCED LUNCH

Raleigh, Sept. 25.—Folks are learning in North Carolina that the progress of child makes at school depends on his general health and that his health is greatly affected by the kind of food eaten.

"This makes the school lunch of great importance," says Miss Mary Thomas, nutrition specialist at State College. "About one-fourth of the food for a day should be in the lunch box and to balance this food so that the child will be well nourished some planning is necessary. The well planned lunch will contain milk in some form, a substantial food, usually in the form of sandwiches, some fruit or vegetables, a fat, preferably in the form of butter, and a sweet in the form of simple cakes or fruits."

Then when such a luncheon has been prepared, pack it well, suggests Miss Thomas. Often, she states, the best lunch is spoiled by careless packing. A metal box or bucket with holes for ventilation, or a good substantial basket makes the most desirable container. Oil paper for wrapping the food, paper napkins, a spoon, a bottle for the milk, a cup and a jelly glass with a tight fitting lid or a screw top jar for cooked fruits, salads or desserts will go far towards making the luncheon more attractive.

In packing the lunch, the heavier foods should be placed at the bottom of the container and as compactly as possible to prevent spillage. Those foods which are to be eaten first should be placed on top where possible.

Miss Thomas has prepared a number of very attractive menus to use for the school lunch. Just a few cold dishes left over from the breakfast table, for example, she states, and she will be glad to mail a copy of the menu to those parents who wish to have this information.

460,584 POUNDS TORRACO SOLD ON FIRST DAY

Winston-Salem Journal Oct. 3rd. The Winston-Salem tobacco market opened with light breaks yesterday and with prices which average exactly one cent a pound higher than the price paid on the opening day last year. A total of 460,584 pounds was sold yesterday for $70,782.86, or an average for the market of $15.35 a hundred pounds. The total sold last year on opening day was 1,033,340 and the average price paid was $14.34.

Numerous people expressed the opinion that the quality of tobacco sold yesterday was better than they had expected to see. Except for the unusual number of "tips" offered, good color dominated in most of the sales.

TO MEMBERS OF MOCCS VILLE BAPTIST CHURCH

As most of you already know the South Yadkin Association is putting on a Sunday school enlargement and revival campaign. Next Sunday is the day that has been appointed to begin the work. The director is to be with us next Sunday morning and talk to us about the work. I sincerely desire that you will all be present to hear him. The religious census is to be taken in the afternoon. It is very important that all the members of the church be present in order to receive instructions for their work.

Brothers and sisters, this is the Lord's work that we are trying to do. It is for our good individually, for the good of our church and for the betterment of our Sunday school, and therefore something that we all should be deeply interested in. Please don't let any community singing come in between you and your duty to God and to your church. The singing is not a comparison to the importance of this work. It is important to this work which we are to do. I earnestly intend all of you to be present at the service next Sunday morning, and then be at home in the afternoon so as to make it easier for the canvassers in taking the census, and thereby please the Lord and his pastor.

LARGEST IN THE SOUTH

Greensboro, Sept. 24. — Headquarters of the South's largest civil organization—the Carolina Motor club—was jubilant today. Its sixth anniversary, over a year of growth, was celebrated with a program from the American Automobile Association that said "the largest A. A. club in the South and as a matter of fact your growth has been the most phenomenal of any motor club in the United States."

Organized here September 15, 1922 with 22 members the roster today shows more than 17,000. In May the club led the 1,005 A. A. clubs in greatest percentage membership gain by securing 1,501 new and 595 renewal members, thereby winning the A. A. membership acquisition merit award and in July the club repeated with 1,251 new and 592 renewal memberships. Figures for August have not been announced.

The telegram from A. A. headquarters in full reads: "The calling that you are celebrating your sixth birthday anniversary headquarters takes this opportunity of congratulating the Carolina Motor club. Your organization constitutes the largest A. A. club in the South and as a matter of fact your growth has been the most phenomenal of any motor club in the United States. The progress made in the Carolinas has attracted attention of motor clubs the country over and your support of every motorist in the country the superb touring advantages of your states. It would seem to us that because of the work you are doing in the Carolinas that you will eventually win the support of every motorist in those states in carrying out your constructive, comprehensive program."

Nearly half a million—403,385 touring inquiries were received through club offices from September 15, 1922 through July 31, 1928. Maps, tour books and routings distributed totaled 1,841,380 while over 1,800,000 other literature were issued. Other pertinent figures covering activities include: 17,815 emergency road service calls; 1,776 legal cases; 644 cars recovered out of 566 stolen; 47 speed traps abolished; $1,670 paid in "hit and run" rewards; 2,826 members given legal advice; 20,785 places of literature distributed and 118,987 school children addressed on accident prevention; nearly 600,000 copies of Carolina Motorist printed; circulation of the club magazine having passed the 20,000 mark monthly as it also goes to members of the South Carolina Motor club.

Consistent growth of the club is reflected in the figures as of December 31 each year: 1922, 22; 1923, 1,819; 1924, 2,810; 1925, 4,930; 1926, 7,272; 1927, 10,101. This spring the club was forced to seek larger quarters and now occupies the 20 room B. ### PLANT WINTER CROPS

IN COTTON FIELDS

Raleigh, Sept. 24.—Winter cover crops for livestock grazing and for turning under next spring may be planted profitably in the cotton fields of North Carolina before the crop is picked. "It is not advisable to wait until the cotton is all picked and the stalks out, to sow cover crops in the cotton fields. This would delay the planting until too late in the fall," says E. C. Blair, extension agronomist at State College. "Fall planting should be started while the cotton is still growing. Plant such crops as Abruzzi rye, barley, oats, vetch, crimson clover or combinations of these. If the cotton stalks are small and the rows wide apart, the cover crops may be planted before the cotton begins to open. If the plants are large enough to lap in the middle of the rows, it is best to wait until after the picking."

Mr. Blair states that the method of sowing is very simple. For rye, oats, barley or vetch, scatter the seed by hand and cover with an ordinary cultivator. For crimson clover, sow the seed with the cultivator before sowing the cotton and either leave them without cover or run a brush or light harrow over them. Running a cultivator in the cotton at this time will not injure the crop unless there are open holes from which the cotton may be dragged. In sowing the seed, it is not advisable to attempt seeding over three middles at a time. The cotton stalks may be cut and turned under with the cover crop next spring. It is not advisable to attempt cutting the crops for hay as it would contain too much dry stalk material. In seeding, use four to six pecks of rye, two bushels of oats or barley, and 20 bushels of vetch and crimson clover per acre. Seed of the two legumes should be inoculated if planted for the first time in a field, states Mr. Blair.

As for wild flowers, I shall leave them alone in the future. Makes no difference to me how beautiful they may be, or what pleasure they might bring to some poor sick person. The sick person will have to do without any wild flowers in the future, if I am the fellow appointed to get them. No, I shall not get any more wild flowers for anybody. Should I permit sick people to come here and ask me to hunt up a few wild flowers for him, telling me that Mrs. Coolidge was very ill, and therefore pining and yearning for him? I should simply say: "No, No, Mr. Coolidge. I am quite sorry but I cannot expose myself to the red bugs for any more wild flowers." That is exactly what I would say to Coolidge. I should refuse him flatly.

A LIFE A DAY

Raleigh, Sept. 24.—A life a day, and more, is the toll being taken by automobiles in North Carolina as shown by the death certificates filed with the State Board of Health. To Aug. 1, a total of 270 deaths had been reported as resulting from automobile accidents. Deaths from this cause are exceeding month by month those resulting from typhoid fever and diphtheria. And month by month the number grows.

"For the next two months we may expect a heavy increase in automobile accidents, and resulting deaths," Dr. Olaus O. L. Loughlinhouse, State Health Officer, said today in discussing this terrible loss of life and property. "Some, of course, are unavoidable, but the most are due to carelessness or gross negligence. Right now one of the greatest hazards of the road is the unlighted carts and wagons. All over Eastern North Carolina tobacco growers are hauling their crops to market, and a great number of them travel at night in order to have their tobacco ready to go on the warehouse floor in the early morning. Hardly one in a thousand of the horse drawn vehicles on the roads carries a light. The results will be an increase of collision accidents throughout all the autumn months."

"The warehousemen of the State could render a valuable service to the State and to their patrons by urging upon each of their customers the necessity of carrying a light on their carts and wagons for their own protection, and to save their product from being ruined in a wreck. The last session of the General Assembly enacted legislation requiring that any vehicle operated on the public roads between a half hour after sunset and a half hour before sunrise must display a light on the left side of the vehicle visible to those approaching either from the front or the rear. A penalty of five dollars was provided. The law has been in effect for more than a year but I have never heard of any person being prosecuted because of its violation. I do know from personal experience that practically no horse drawn vehicle has any light upon it."

"Entirely from the standpoint of conserving the lives of our people I urge that this gross carelessness and negligence be stopped. The man on the road at night with an unlighted vehicle endangers not only his own life but that of all others traveling the same road. By carrying lights the awful toll of death from automobile accidents can be reduced."

MIGHT ADD COWS TO CROP FARMS

Raleigh, Sept. 24. — Sufficient feed to keep from five to ten good dairy cows could be profitably produced on the average of cotton and tobacco farms throughout North Carolina.

"Some of the most successful cream producers in the State are men who make cotton their principal cash crop, yet they grow dairy cattle in a rotation with legumes," says John A. Arey, dairy extension specialist at State College. "These legumes, with cottonseed meal and other feed products may be marketed through cows at a good price and the plant food which they contain thus kept at home."

Mr. Arey states that when properly fed and handled, a cream producing cow will return a profit of from five to ten dollars a year from each cow. The point that is most important is the father of speed. He explained that to make such a record possible it was necessary to adhere over more closely to precision manufacturing methods and to make the limitations over more exacting. The slightest inaccuracy in workmanship or inspection would increase costs and slow production, he pointed out. ### RED CROSS CHAPTERS TO HOLD THREE MEETINGS IN NORTH CAROLINA

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—Three conferences of Red Cross Chapters will be held in North Carolina, the first in Asheville, October 2, the second in Rocky Mount, October 3 and the third in New Bern, October 5, according to announcement here by the American Red Cross.

The accomplishments of the Red Cross in the nation and in the community will be discussed by speakers, some from Washington, and others from North Carolina. Twenty-eight Red Cross Chapters have been invited to send representatives to the conference which will open in Asheville in the Battery Park Hotel at 10 a. m., Tuesday, October 2. Miss Rachel Howland, chairman of the Buncombe County Chapter, will preside at the morning session. Dr. O. J. Chandler of the Asbury Memorial Methodist church, will deliver the invocation and the address of welcome will be by Robert Lathan, editor of the "Asheville Citizen," with response by Mr. West, Twelfth Annual roll call chairman of Hickory Chapter. Roll call of Chapters will follow. R. L. Woodard, chairman of the Black Mountain Chapter, will speak on "The Red Cross in Our State" and Miss Violet Henry, chairman of the Junior Red Cross Committee of the Buncombe County Chapter, will talk in "The Junior Red Cross."

Everett Dix, assistant to the manager of the eastern area of the Red Cross in Washington, will speak on "Opportunities and Responsibilities in Red Cross Service." At the luncheon session, Louis Lipinsky, chairman of the finance committee of the Buncombe County Chapter, will preside. Grace will be by the Rev. A. V. Joyner, chairman of the Canton Chapter. N. E. Wright, chairman of Junior Red Cross for Swain county, will introduce the speakers. Dr. H. B. Wilson, national director of Junior Red Cross, in Washington, will speak on "The Twelfth Annual Roll Call." Mr. Dix will follow him with a talk on the red cross roll call. Mr. Randolph-Harper, chairman of the Caldwell county Chapter of Lenoir, will speak on "Chapter Roll Call Plan."

Mrs. Louise Wallace Frye, general field representative at Mocksville, Myers, nursing field representative for the Red Cross in North Carolina will attend the Asheville, New Bern and Rocky Mount conferences. The conference in Rocky Mount will be held in the River Hotel, opening at 10 o'clock, October 3, with T. J. Pearsall, acting chairman of the Rocky Mount Chapter, presiding. Rev. V. H. O'raighill, pastor of the Episcopal church of Rocky Mount, will deliver the invocation. An address of welcome will be by L. L. Gravelly, mayor of Rocky Mount. "Opportunities and Responsibilities in Red Cross Service" will be the subject of an address by Walter Davidson, assistant manager of the eastern area of the Red Cross in Washington, and Miss Dorothy Bell, a Junior Red Cross member of Southport, also will discuss Junior activities.

A luncheon session will follow with Major Marion G. Gardner, chairman of the Durham County Chapter, presiding. The address will be by the Rev. W. W. Kinchee, minister of the Baptist church. "The Challenge of the Twelfth Roll Call" will be the subject of an address by Dr. Thomas E. Green, director of the Red Cross Speaking division in Washington, and Mr. Davidson will follow with a talk on the roll call plan.

School children members of the Junior Red Cross will speak at the afternoon session, following a talk on Junior Red Cross by Miss Daphne Carraway. Mrs. Anna Kay Parker, chairman of the Junior Red Cross of Southport, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Bell, a Junior Red Cross member of Southport, also will discuss Junior activities.

Representatives of various types of Red Cross service will be given. Raymond Hunt, chairman of First Aid for Wilmington, will explain Red Cross first aid; Sergeant Albert D. Ford of Red Cross, will discuss the Life Saving program; Floyd Souders, chairman Cumberland county Chapter, will talk on nutrition service; and three instructors in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick will discuss it. Mrs. D. E. Ford of New Bern, Miss Ida Hall of Carteret county, and county superintendent of welfare, and Mrs. O. C. Daniels of Oriental, Pamlico county.

Those attending the conference will be entertained at a tea at the country club, at the close of the afternoon session, by the New Bern Chamber of Commerce. 17 Red Cross Chapters have been invited to send representatives to this conference. Thirty Chapters are expected to

Fountain Inn, S. C., Sept. 27.—A family of 14 negroes credited their lives today to a southbound mailer on the New York-Atlanta route who in the early morning hours aroused them in time to escape from their burning home near here. The fire, about 4 a. m., noticed the house, located on the A. G. Edwards farm, a frame and circled low over a neighboring home until members of the family awoke and rushed to the burning house and warned the sleeping negroes in time for them to escape.

The conference in New Bern will be held in the Community Room of the Methodist church, Friday, October 5, beginning at 10 a. m., with Miss Pauline Barrington, chairman of the New Bern Chapter, presiding. The invocation will be by the Rev. Dr. Wilson, pastor of the New Bern Baptist church, and the address of welcome will be by the Mayor of New Bern. Following a roll call of chapters present, Dr. Cyrus Thompson, chairman of Onslow county Chapter, will speak on "The Challenge of the Twelfth Annual Roll Call." Mr. Davidson will follow with a talk on the red cross roll call. Mr. Randolph-Harper, chairman of the Caldwell county Chapter of Lenoir, will speak on "Chapter Roll Call Plan."

Mrs. Louise Wallace Frye, general field representative at Mocksville, Myers, nursing field representative for the Red Cross in North Carolina will attend the Asheville, New Bern and Rocky Mount conferences. THE FAIR
Davie County Fair went off in a number one manner last week, and all seemed more than satisfied with the exception of the 12 "ball game operators" who fell short with their cash when the count was over. But the Fair was a great success in every particular. The attendance was smaller than that of last year, but this was to be expected due to the unusual season of the summer this year. We hope to publish a full list of the prize winners just as soon as they can be ascertained. Everybody began laying plans now for the fair next year. Decide upon what you are going to do and do it. The fair altogether depends upon you.

COURT IS CROWDED AT 'LOVE POWDER' CASE
Charlotte, Oct. 2.—A crowded courtroom waited selection of a jury today in the first "love powder" case to come to trial after a series of sensational investigations into the advice to the love-line activities of Sam W. Daniel, alias Professor Brandorine. Daniel and Mrs. Enesley F. Preslar are charged with poisoning to death L. M. Leckamy. Mrs. Preslar's first husband, the woman admitted to police when arrested several months ago that she had given Leckamy "love powder" but said they were in love, is believed to have died of the effects of the drug. The case is expected to be tried in the afternoon.

Four cars of hogs have been shipped from Beaufort county and others are on the way.

SCHOOL CHILD NEEDS WELL-BALANCED LUNCH

Raleigh, Sept. 25.—Folks are learning in North Carolina that the progress a child makes at school depends on his general health and that his health is greatly affected by the kind of food eaten.

"This makes the school lunch of great importance," says Miss Mary Thomas, nutrition specialist at State College. "About one-fourth of the food for a day should be in the lunch box and to balance this food so that the child will be well nourished, some of the food should be in the lunch box. The lunch should contain milk in some form, a substantial food, usually in the form of sandwiches, some fruit or vegetables, a fat, preferably in the form of butter, and a sweet in the form of simple cakes or fruits."

Then when such a luncheon has been prepared, pack it well, suggests Miss Thomas. Often, she states, the lunch is spoiled by careless packing. A metal box or bucket with holes for ventilation, or a good substantial basket makes the most desirable container. Oil paper for wrapping the food, paper napkins, a spoon, a bottle for the milk, a cup and a jelly glass with a tight fitting lid or a screw top jar for cooked fruits, salads or desserts will go far towards making the luncheon more attractive.

In packing the lunch, the heavier foods should be placed at the bottom of the container and as compactly as possible to prevent spilling. These foods which are to be eaten first should be placed on top where possible. Miss Thomas has prepared a number of very attractive menus to use for the school lunch. Just a few collections left over from the breakfast table will do the trick, she states, and also will be glad to mail a copy of her suggestions to those parents who wish to have this information.

460,584 POUNDS TOBACCO SOLD ON FIRST DAY
Winston-Salem Journal Oct. 3rd. The Winston-Salem leaf tobacco market opened with light breaks yesterday and with prices which average exactly one cent a pound higher than the prices paid for the small leaf tobacco. A total of 460,584 pounds was sold yesterday for $7,782.86, an average for the market of $15.35 a hundred pounds. The poundage last year on opening day was 3,083,340 and the average price paid was $14.84.

MEMBERS OF MOCCS VILLE BAPTIST CHURCH
As most of you already know the South Yafkin Association is putting on a Sunday school enlargement and revival campaign. Next Sunday is the day that has been appointed to begin the work. The director is to be with us next Sunday morning and talk to us about the work. I sincerely desire that you will all be present to hear him. The religious census is to be taken in the afternoon. It is very important that all the members of the church be present in order to receive instructions for their work.

Brother and sister, this is the Lord's work that we are trying to do. It is for our good individually, for the good of our church and for the betterment of our Sunday school, and therefore, some of the things that we are doing are very interesting. Please don't let any community singing come in between you and your duty to God and to your church. The singing hours are a comparison in importance to the work of the Lord which we are doing. I earnestly treat all of you to be present at the service next Sunday morning, and then be at home in the afternoon to receive the census, and thereby please the Lord and your pastor.

SHADY GROVE SCHOOL HAS MOST SUCCESSFUL OPENING

The school opened with a large enrollment in all the grades, especially in the high school department. The students entered our school with a quickened step and cheerful countenance which are indicative of a desire on their part to fully cooperate with the faculty in maintaining our high educational standard. Students who live outside the district are driving ten or twelve miles to our school. Practically all of our high school graduates for the past four years have entered college and are now students in colleges, teachers, or trained nurses. We are glad that our students are ambitious not only to finish school here, but to enter college and go out into the world of affairs to be the standard bearers of truth, righteousness and intelligence.

We have the ablest faculty ever to enter the Shady Grove school. About half the teachers are college graduates and the others are well trained in the best colleges of North Carolina. No member of the faculty holds a certificate lower than a Primary or Grammar grade. The teachers are not only well prepared educationally, but have tact, character and good judgment. They are eager to put across the best year's work ever done in the Shady Grove school.

The faculty and students have agreed on one common aim and that is to build up this community intellectually, morally and religiously. Instead of ignorance, drunkenness, confusion and incompetency, there is an eager desire on the part of the school board, teachers and students, to have intelligence, peace, equity and friendship reign in the hearts and minds of our people. As a faculty, students and parents, encouraged by our local school board the county board of Education and county Supt., let us ever strive that this community may remain a community into which parents will be glad to move in order that their children may avail themselves of the best scholastic advantages possible.

Below are the names and addresses of the members of the faculty and the grade taught:

"GRANDPA" SAYS

"I don't care what these Anti-Semites say about it, I am supporting the best man for president, and I shore ain't Mr. Hoover either."

Some believe the democratic candidate for the Presidency is growing in favor with Davie voters, and a few are predicting that he will lead the Democratic ticket at the coming election. They figure it that while there will be democrats who will never vote for Smith, yet there are numerous republicans who like Hoover still less, and that for about every democrat who scratches Smith there will be a republican who will scratch Hoover. However, at this distance it is a bit hard to guess just where the situation is headed.

A. L. Brooks, prominent Greensboro lawyer and public speaker who has been in Craven county, home county of Senator Simmons, says that county will vote a majority for Smith for president. Mr. Brooks said:

"I talked to numerous people who know the situation in Craven county, including A. D. Ward, former law partner of Senator Simmons, Larry Moore, and others, and all of them are confident that Craven county will vote for the entire Democratic ticket, with but few exceptions."

Of course, this from November the 6th, it is hard to make a safe guess, but somehow we can't get in the attitude of believing that North Carolina is to give a majority vote for a republican president. True, Henry's straw vote puts this as the only southern state in the republican ranks, but we believe when it comes to the showdown the Old North State will cast a majority of its votes for the democratic ticket as well as for the state ticket.

WAS IT RETRIBUTION

Dr. J. W. Penick, who a few years ago shot to death a Thomasville policeman in cold blood, but who escaped the clutches of the law under a plot of insanity, was killed in an automobile wreck in California.

Possibly it was not a matter of retribution, but if one will watch the final end of most men who take the life of their fellows it will be found that many, if not most of them come to some tragic end. The case of Dr. Penick may have been a more accidental like thousands of other automobile accidents which occur every year, but it is an awful thing for one to take the life of a human mortal, and they do say, "There is retribution in history." Anyhow, men should go slow in this matter of taking human lives without ample justification, and even then, with fear and trembling.

Reasoning that it is a matter of principle at stake, President Alderman, of the University of Virginia, a native North Carolinian and decidedly one of the country's leading educators, does not feel disposed to forsake the great party that has always been the popular friend of the South and go after something vague and uncertain. Speaking of the present political situation, Dr. Alderman said:

"I do not agree with Governor Smith's suggestion, as to the control of the liquor traffic, though I respect his motives and admire his open-mindedness, but I certainly do not propose to accept Mr. Hoover's vague and amiable position, after eight futile years of a republican responsibility, as a sufficient reason why I should desert a great party historically sympathetic and loyal to the South and its peculiar difficulties and problems, and a brave, high-minded leader of that party, representing liberalism in thought and justice in action."

That's putting it in a very few words, but what a breadth of territory the great Southern educator covered in those few words. Moreover, one reading the statement has no trouble in understanding what Dr. Alderman was driving at, or what he started out to say.

The Sophomore Class at the State University seems to have determined that hazing of freshmen shall cease. They prefer to act as hosts to the new students who so much need their sympathy and encouragement. The idea of the 1928-29 University sophomore is that it is much better to be of some service to the new comers than to hamper them by brutal and ungentlemanly hazing. And so we can see after generations and generations of breeding and culture we are at last reaching the point where our young men are civilized enough to begin to put their practices what the world's great Teacher advocated or rather commanded two thousand years ago when he said, "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

How far ahead of this modern generation Jesus was in becoming more and more evident as culture affects our actions and as intelligence opens our eyes. But it was even then. All great men have lived in advance of their times. For did not Tennyson pull back the curtains of the future and see the airplane more than half a century in advance? And have our great poets been far ahead of the average in thought, in vision, in feeling and in nearly every way. It was Byron who saw a pale cripple sympathized with him and went to him with the assurance "If any fellow bullies you, tell me and I'll thrash him," it being the rule in those days for the bully to light onto the weakling who could not defend himself.

Now any young man would consider it a disgrace to bully a cripple. Rather the modern thinking and many young men would take the part of the cripple or who is unable to take his own part. But back a century ago and a little over only the great were far enough advanced to take the position which the average fellow will now take.

We are climbing upwards, folks, lawlessness and modern weakness, to the contrary notwithstanding.

BLAIN DESERTS HOOVER
United States Senator John J. Blain, of Wisconsin, who owes his office to the republican party has deserted Herbert Hoover. He made public his stand a day or two ago in a statement given out for publication in which he said: "No Republican over my political allegiance to Mr. Hoover as Presidential nominee. In the Congressional campaign of 1928, he urged the election of a Democratic Congress. He said, 'I am for President Wilson's leadership not only in the conduct of the war but also in the negotiations of peace and afterwards in America's burden in the rehabilitation of the world.'"

"Mr. Hoover in 1920 sought, and was willing to accept the nomination for President on the Democratic ticket. After he received the nomination he could not receive the Democratic nomination, he declared, 'I must vote for the party that stands for the League of Nations.'"

"Eight years ago when he assumed President Wilson's policies were popular, he was willing to capitalize those policies if the Democratic Party would nominate him."

"Mr. Hoover was a part of President Wilson's Administration. He served as President Wilson's food administrator and as a member of his war trade council. During the war Mr. Hoover was chairman of the United States Grain Corporation that beat down the price of the farmers' wheat. He was also chairman of the United States sugar equalization board, which boosted the price of sugar."

"I pointed out the fact in proof of his close association with President Wilson which no doubt led Mr. Hoover to believe he was the logical successor to the President as Democratic nominee for President."

deserting the democratic party, with Ohio and New York, Wisconsin, South Dakota, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Nevada, Kansas, Connecticut and Massachusetts, usually republican states, predicted by straw vote as almost sure to go for Smith, and North Carolina listed by the same authority as certain to go for Hoover, with local democrats all divided, and split—who would have thought it, and who can predict with any reasonable certainty as to who will be the next president of the United States.

TRAITORS VS. DESERTERS

(by J. F. Leach)

Professor John D. Hodges has an article in this issue of the Enterprise, headed: "Traitors! Who Are They?"

We regret that Mr. Hodges called on us to print this item, for we had hoped that we would be able to "squeeze" through this campaign without having to use our space for this kind of scolding matter. We know that our readers had much rather have something better than this How Doodling stuff pushed at them. We did not want the Smith supporters to ask us for the space to say their things about their fellow Democrats, but as we have been asked to print this, we will be forced to accept those from the Smith supporters who want to reply to Mr. Hodges' letter.

It would be much better for all Democrats to lay aside this bitter feeling, and resolve to fight the republican party nominees and all that they stand for from now until the election day instead of wasting their time as some are now doing.

Just what relief these anti-Semites hope to get from the republican administration we can't see, but still we give all the right to say do and vote just as they please. From our observation, we have promises from the republican party for hundreds of years and they have never FILLED A SINGLE ONE OF THEM. And this should convince any one that there is no use to turn from the Democratic party on account of some nominees that all do not approve of. Any of them will do better than the best of the republicans will do.

TRAITORS! WHO ARE THEY?

Who are the "traitors" and "deserters" of the democratic party? Men and women who yesterday today and forever stand for the time honored principles of the party? Or are they those who prize loyalty to a party name and to a party better? Who are the "deserted armies" of the party? Those who would desert and annul the constitution? Or, are they those who would honor, reverse and preserve it? What sort of a democrat is this New York Governor, who bolts the democratic platform and "bravely" announces that, if made president, he would violate his oath of office and seek to destroy the 18th Amendment? It is said that the Governor, during his four terms in office never attended a "bushwhacker" school together. Do Southern democrats want that sort of a president? When the Governor got round to select his closest personal adviser—his prime minister, he could find no democrat good enough. He selected one Rascob, a life long republican—what sort of a democrat is that? Who ever heard anything like that before, a president candidate of one party selecting as his chief advisor, a member of the opposing party?

This same Rascob exultingly announced that he was happy, as a republican, to have the opportunity to cooperate with Governor Smith in an effort to rid the country of "this damnable heresy of prohibition." Can a good sober, Southern Democrat support such a candidate without making some sort of an excuse for it? "Rather yes, but etc."

When the Governor decided to make his canvassing tour of the North West, he could find no Democrat he could trust in the executive office as acting Governor. He had to select a republican to select a Republican for this important place. What do sober Southern Democrats of the Jacksonian type think of that brand of Democracy? Jackson turned the rascals out, but Governor Smith turns "the rascals" in.

Cotton - Cotton

The price of cotton this season is lower than a year ago, but as the season advances we hope to see higher prices.

We want to see the farmer get the very highest price possible for his products, for the prosperity of Davie county is dependent upon the farmers of this county.

We are prepared to buy and gin your cotton for the coming season, and we stand ready to cooperate with the farmer in every way possible.

When you get ready to sell your cotton come to see us. We strive to please.

REV. O. R. OSMAN

Many are attending the Tabernacle Tent meetings conducted by Evangelist O. R. Osman in Mocksville, N. C. last Sunday night the Evangelist gave the key note how to understand the Bible in this confused age, the key note was John 7:7. If any man will do his will (Gods will) he shall know of the doctrine whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. To do Gods will is the Bible way. John 8:32. And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. Those that are willing to do the Bible way are learning the Bible truth, and those that are not willing to do the Bible way are not learning the truth, so declared the Evangelist at the Tabernacle Tent.

This week will be some stirring sermons every night and at 3 p. m. Sundays. Come to every one. Hear the Evangelist O. R. Osman.

364 New Locomotives

31,000 New Freight Cars

266 New Passenger Train Cars

$80,000,000 for New Equipment

NEW engines and cars purchased by the Southern Railway System since 1920 have cost $80,000,000. The 364 new locomotives, 31,000 new freight cars, 266 new passenger train cars, which have been added to Southern equipment during the past eight years are an indication of the extent of the improvement program that has been carried on steadily for years.

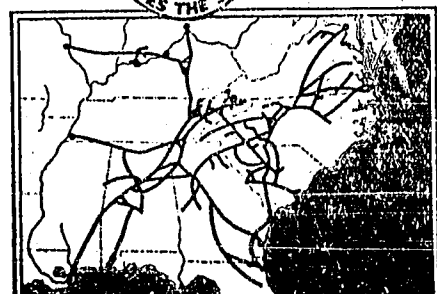

The Southern, as a consequence of such large investments, is equipped to handle the great increases in Southern commerce which are coming with the progress of Southern agriculture and industry.

And as the South's growth continues, the Southern is constantly anticipating the needs of tomorrow by planning ahead today.

The millions of dollars spent in the South each year by the Southern for materials, supplies, and new equipment provide a strong stimulus to Southern prosperity.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM

Laid in a network across the South, linking together nearly every important Southern community, the Southern serves that territory east of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio and Potomac as perhaps no other area of equal extent is served by any single railroad system.

THE SOUTHERN SERVES THE

THE VOGLER POLICY

"TO LOOK UP, AND NOT DOWN—TO LOOK FORWARD AND NOT BACK" is the spirit of the Vogler organization.

For more than seventy years this has been the one big thought back of Vogler Service.

Voglers and their associates do not, however, view their record of more than seventy years of service to their community, as a reward for a task well performed—as an obligation fulfilled, but rather as a starting point for the bigger, broader service of the future.

Constantly increasing patronage has enabled the Vogler institution, the same as any other large organization, to effect marked savings in the purchase of furnishings and supplies. The advantage of these savings goes to the Vogler Patron.

Whether the requirements of a Vogler patron be large or small—the savings are in proper proportion.

Whether requirements demand the expenditure of much or little—the same careful, considerate and dependable Vogler Service carries on to conclusion.

The Vogler Policy says to each patron—

"Here is a complete line of dependable furnishings from the most inexpensive to the finest obtainable, and—whether you spend much or little—Vogler Service is always the same."

This is the Vogler Policy which for three generations has never been violated, and you can depend on it today.

John E. Vogler

COIN FLIPPING SAVES BUNCOMBE BIG COURT COST

Asheville, Oct. 12.—Flipping a coin saved Buncombe county $200 in court expenses yesterday when Judge H. Hoyle Sink, presiding over one of the two civil divisions of the Superior court, quickly informed two attorneys within $25 of a settlement of their case that the best way to end the argument was to "match" it out.

The case would have taken several days to try and the attorneys informed the court that it looked much like they would have to try it because they couldn't get together on the settlement amount.

After conferring with the court however, they agreed to take its advice on flipping the coins. Outside the court room on the marble floor of the corridor the jingle tournament was held. One side conceded the $25 because Lady Luck wasn't with them and the settlement was reached without trial and further expense.

Heavy rains in North Carolina this year have caused the control of soil erosion to become a grave problem. Mangum terraces, properly constructed, will prevent the waste of rich soil.

COMING NEXT MONTH

The first number of the Piedmont Bureau's Lyceum attractions; Mr. J. A. Daniel has signed up as sole guarantor for the numbers which will be played in the Princess Theatre instead of school auditorium, as heretofore.

The regular feature picture will be run also. Mr. Daniel states he isn't expecting to make any money out of it, but feels that the town and community should be sufficiently interested in this high class entertainment to support to the extent of its cost which will be one hundred dollars, each performance. The Melody Mads is the first number, and below are some of the press reports on this attraction.

"The outstanding feature was the singing of Miss Esther Kennedy whose rich, deep contralto voice captivated all who had the pleasure of hearing her."—Broadhead (Wis.) Evening News.

"Miss Harriet Barnum captivated the audience with her beautiful rendition of Myrskylä's 'Maurer' and her sympathetic and splendid interpretation of Schubert's 'Ave Maria'."—Potosky (Mich.) News.

"Miss Raymond sings charmingly and with feeling. Her voice is rich in tone quality and of wide range."—Musical Leader.

O. R. OSMANN

There are but few that have a complete Bible in Mocksville, so decided the Evangelist O. R. Osmann to a large audience at the Tabernacle Tent in Mocksville last week. The Evangelist made a canvas and found two complete Bibles in this city.

One of those found at the home of Rev. Waff, it was one of the good old tiny Bibles, ninety-nine years old and it is the old King James Translation, it has seven books more than our King James has to-day, those seven books have been omitted by some unknown Protestant powers, the last twenty-five and hundred years these seven books should not be omitted, as they are a great search light upon the New and Old Testament. In these seven books we learn where the Ten Commandments is that son wrote with his own finger. Jeremiah was warned of God to hide them in a cave and the Tabernacle the early Church until the Lord gather his people the Jews back to Mercy. Then will the cloud appear above the cave and the hidden Ark it will be a cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night, it will be a day of rejoicing for all that teach and keep the Commandments and it will be a sad day for those that are rejecting them and breaking them and a day of disappointment. We may hide and omit and destroy part of the Bible or all of the Bible but we can not hide or omit or destroy the pillar of cloud and the pillar of fire that is soon to appear above the Ten Commandments. The Evangelist urged that everyone would search their old tiny Bible for these hidden books and learn of the great truth that has been hid for years. Don't fail to attend the tent meeting at Mocksville every night at 7:30. Sundays, 8:00 p. m. Come enjoy free country and free religion and hear Evangelist O. R. Osmann.

REV. O. R. OSMAN

Are you a protestant? And do you take the Bible and the Bible only as your rule of Faith. Bible is the only sound foundation that the gates of hell shall not prevail against. Every Protestant should examine their foundation and compare it with the Bible. It is the only sure remedy for unity so declares the Evangelist at the Tabernacle Tent in Mocksville. Which day do you keep and why? Are you keeping Sunday because the World is? and because it has been a custom for years? Do you know that the word Sunday is not in the Sacred writings of the Bible? and do you know that we have no command to keep the first day commonly called Sunday? the only command we have for keeping Sunday originated in the Catholic church. Do you know we have no scripture for Christ resurrection on the first day of the week? See Matt. 28. Matt. 16, Luke 24, St. John 20, all four of the Gospels agree together that they found an empty tomb, and a live angel telling He was risen. They also found that the stone was rolled away on the first day of the week, but we find in Matt. 28 that He appeared first to the two Marys in the end of the Sabbath, and late on the Sabbath, Matt. 28:9 as they were on their way to tell the Disciples the glad tidings, late on the Sabbath, and in the end of the Sabbath is not Sunday morning, but in the end of the Seventh Day commonly called Saturday. Jesus appeared secondly the first day of the week to Mary Magdalene, Mark 16:9, but the stone was rolled away, and the tomb was empty, but the guardsmen struck down as dead men, and the earth quaked late on the evening before in the end of the Sabbath Matt. 28. So declared the Evangelist to a large audience in the Tabernacle Tent.

—By Evangelist O. R. Osman.

In Mocksville last week. First day, Sunday keeping is a sandy foundation, if we want to honor the resurrection of Christ, keep the Sabbath Day the Seventh Day. If you want to obey Jesus commandment keep the Seventh Day. But if you want to obey the Catholic church, keep Sunday. Don't fail to attend the tent meeting in Mocksville, N. C., and learn the wonderful truth that God is revealing each night at 7:30.

Next Sunday, October 28th will be a young peoples speaking contest 2:30 p. m., and special singing. COME to the Tent in Mocksville.

—By Evangelist O. R. Osman.

To the 5000 who daily become owners of the new Ford car

THE service obligation of the Ford Motor Company and its dealer organization is now growing at the rate of 50 36 cars a day. It is to these new car owners that this message is addressed.

The new Ford is a remarkably fine car for one that costs so little. It is simple in design, constructed of the finest materials, and built to unusually close measurements.

These are the reasons it performs so wonderfully. These are also the reasons its service requirements are so few and the up-keep cost so low.

When you receive your new car, the dealer will explain the simple little things that should be attended to at regular intervals to insure the best performance. He will also tell you something of its own facilities for doing this work promptly and at small cost.

With the purchase of your car, you are entitled to Free Inspection Service by your dealer at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. This service is due you and we urge you to take full advantage of it. Proper care during this breaking-in period means a great deal to the life of your car.

IS KILLED WHEN PLANE FALLS ON CAR

Hattiesburg, Miss., Oct. 22.—Ray Rogers, 16, was dead here today when a biplane crashed into the top of the home of Harry Kline, tax collector, and threatened two detectives who had been charged with using violence in arresting Mrs. Michael Daderko, mother of eight children, because of her alleged failure to pay taxes for 1926 and 1927.

The woman finally was freed and was removed to her home in a highly nervous condition, suffering from shock and injuries.

The detectives have been engaged in collecting delinquent taxes from women and where they meet with refusal have caused arrests. The community has protested the methods of enforcing collection because in a majority of cases the husbands are unemployed.

PA. MOH OF 500 THREATEN LIVES OF TAX COLLECTORS

Lansford, Pa., Oct. 22.—State police were called to Summ. Hill late today to suppress a crowd of 500 men and women who gathered in front of the home of Harry Kline, tax collector, and threatened two detectives who had been charged with using violence in arresting Mrs. Michael Daderko, mother of eight children, because of her alleged failure to pay taxes for 1926 and 1927.

The woman finally was freed and was removed to her home in a highly nervous condition, suffering from shock and injuries.

THE service obligation of the Ford Motor Company and its dealer organization is now growing at the rate of 50 36 cars a day. It is to these new car owners that this message is addressed.

THE new Ford is a remarkably fine car for one that costs so little. It is simple in design, constructed of the finest materials, and built to unusually close measurements.

These are the reasons it performs so wonderfully. These are also the reasons its service requirements are so few and the up-keep cost so low.

When you receive your new car, the dealer will explain the simple little things that should be attended to at regular intervals to insure the best performance. He will also tell you something of its own facilities for doing this work promptly and at small cost.

With the purchase of your car, you are entitled to Free Inspection Service by your dealer at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. This service is due you and we urge you to take full advantage of it. Proper care during this breaking-in period means a great deal to the life of your car.

GRANDFA SAYS—

"It won't be long now—Tom Caudell will soon go to Raleigh as representative of Davie County."

ONLY ONE NOT A HYPOCRITE?

Senator Simmons says that the democratic party is waging a campaign of hypocrisy. Well, that is just his private opinion. He may be right, but as the Charlotte News believes, it may be just as reasonable to believe that such political leaders as Max Gardner, former Governor Morrison, John William Bailey, Clyde R. Hoey, Joseph Daniels, and others who are standing loyally to the democratic party, are right and the senator wrong. Is it possible that all other great patriotic leaders of the democratic party who are now standing loyally by the ticket, county, state and national, are all hypocrites and that Senator Simmons is the only one who has not bowed the knee to Baal? We hardly think so.

The truth of the matter is that the senator is possibly just a bit too loyal to the power companies of this country. Indeed, indications are that he is more loyal to his power friends than he is to the great party that has made him what he is today.

A SAD REFLECTION

Clarence Saunders, chain grocery store wizard, who started with nothing, and in a few years gained his millions, then lost and again has become a millionaire, must now face a divorce suit brought by the wife who started on life's journey with him when poor, and who has worked and suffered and struggled side by side with him during the years of his poverty and his success. Mrs. Saunders makes charges that her chain grocery store husband has become so mean that he makes life burdensome for her and she asks that she be freed from him. One of the saddest things in this life is to see a man and woman start life in poverty, see them live happily together until the man has reached prominence or acquired riches, and then have such a serious breach that they can't enjoy the fame or wealth which they won while working faithfully and harmoniously together. But such things do often happen, and usually both parties are to blame. The successful husband becomes proud, domineering and the wife grows jealous and then peace and happiness flee out at the back door. They say that "when poverty enters at the front door, love goes out at the rear door," but as between poverty and wealth, we would sooner bet on love remaining in the home with poverty than with wealth and prominence. The wise old Hebrew knew whereof he spoke when he prayed: "Give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me; lest I be full and deny thee, and say, 'Who is the Lord?' or lest I be poor and steal, and take the name of my God in vain."

When will men and women learn that true happiness is not the necessary handmaiden of riches or prominence? And when will people learn to travel the path of the meek and lowly Jesus, who have been that way declare safe and free from pitfalls?

CHARLES EVANS HUGHES SAID:

In view of the fact that some have circulated the statements that Governor Alfred Smith, democratic candidate for the presidency, is an uneducated man and incapable of serving as president of the United States with efficiency, those wondering whether or not they should cast their vote for him might be interested in the following statement made by Hon. Charles Evans Hughes, once republican nominee for the presidency, and admitted to be one of the ablest lawyers and profoundest scholars in America, in introducing the New York governor before a distinguished audience in New York, prior to his becoming a national figure. Said Mr. Hughes in that presentation address: "Today we have a peculiar privilege—welcoming one who comes to us not only with the distinction of high office, the highest office in the State, but one who represents to us the expert in government and the expert in the science of politics."

"When I recall the time, so many years ago, when I knew him as a member of the Legislature, I am reminded of the lines which apply to an individual of that large stature and of that large intellect: 'Here comes the young fellow of excellent pith; Fate tried to conceal him by naming him Smith.'"

"But even fate did not achieve such a hopeless undertaking. 'He has not the advantage of the study of books, the multitude of the actual law which we find in so much of the actual law that encumbers our lives, while we always go haltingly and with much study, he leads his path with perfect familiarity, for to him the administration of government is not a study but a life."

"If we had the customs of other lands, he would have long ago been elevated to the peerage. We would have started him perhaps as 'Baron Oliver.' Then later we would have made him 'The Earl of Manhattan,' and finally, 'The Duke of Albany.'"

"But we do better than that. 'He long ago became a member of the high distinction in the aristocracy of public service—the American peerage.'"

"We have watched him, some of us carefully, all with fascination. 'The title that he holds is the proudest title that any American can hold because it is the title to the esteem and affection of his fellow-citizens—Governor Smith!'"

Hon. Charles O. McMichael Makes Stirring Address At Smith Grove School House

Raps Republican Administration's Record for Last Seven Years

Taking a fling at the republican failure to enact a single measure of benefit to the people of the Nation within the past seven years, and bearing down with mighty pressure on the record of the unparalleled corruption established by the Harding and Coolidge administrations, Hon. Charles O. McMichael, prominent attorney of Winston-Salem, charmed an attentive audience of his powers in the fullness of his generation, the greatest leader of his generation, yet he shall not hold public office unless he renounce the religious faith to which he has been born. "No, I say, a thousand times, No."

It was shown by the speaker that during his four terms as governor of the great State of New York, Governor Smith has consistently recognized, and given preference to Protestants in the matter of his official appointments; that his selections were made, however, by reason of his appointees' capacity to do the job to which they were chosen rather than because of their religious beliefs.

Mr. McMichael's address, hour in length, was a masterful argument in favor of Democracy and a terrific arraignment of republican practices. It was received most enthusiastically, the gathering assembled to a distinguished speaker and doubt won many votes to cause of Governor Smith.

IF YOU VOTE FOR HOOVER BECAUSE HE IS "DRY," FOR WHOM ARE YOU GOING TO VOTE FOR REPRESENTATIVE OF DAVIE COUNTY.

Hoover fed the hungry—How?

Mr. Grant took pains at Smith Grove Saturday night to tell that Mr. Hoover fed starving people of Europe. Well who in the dickens couldn't feed starving people when the other fellow pays the bill? Believe that Mr. Grant himself could spend the public's money—the tax payers money—pretty freely if he had a chance to do so. In fact I know that he could. So, I see no reason why Hoover should be elected for president of the United States because he distributed free food that the tax payers paid for.

I went to France myself, but I did not get too much food, and I can not ask the people to elect me because I helped to starve food across France in order to guarantee its safe delivery to the various camps so that Mr. Hoover could have it distributed to the needy.

John LeGrand was a mass sergeant in his company during the world war, and fed hungry men every day, but it was only because the food was given him by the U. S. Army that he was in the position to give it to the third, hungry, fighting men, and he is not asking you to elect him because he fed hungry soldiers, Mr. Hoover should have more than this to elect him.

I am kindly surprised at Mr. Grant's speeches. He ought to realize that any one could give away stuff that did not cost him a penny, and at the same time draw pay from the government to help him give it away.

Mr. Grant says "You know who my men will vote for for president, I don't see anything to be proud about this. I simply would not wish for anyone to know that I was going to vote for Mr. Hoover, especially because he is the same Mr. Hoover, the Mr. Hoover that fed the starving people of the nation, also kept the people in Davie county at that time from having sugar for their coffee and forced them to eat corn bread in order that he might have the stuff to give to the people of the foreign lands. Now what do you think of this? Why not vote for Mr. Smith because 'Hoover' would not let me have sugar for my coffee and made me eat corn bread?"

One is just as reasonable as the other.

Now good people, I do not give a rap for whom you cast your vote for president, but I certainly want to ask you not to vote down a man like Tom Caudell for the legislature and send a man like his opponent to represent our country.

Mr. Caudell will tell this place with honor, and you very well know how it has been filled in the past.

Yes, vote the entire Citizen ticket. Mr. Grant says "don't swap for the other, vote straight." And that is exactly what I ask. Vote straight for the Citizen ticket and put a set of men into office who are capable of transacting the affairs of Davie county in a business like manner.

Mr. Marshall Click, who has held a position in Concord for the past four years was in this city Tuesday shaking hands with friends.

As to the fundamental principles of the Socialist party, it is inconceivable that a minority party duly constituted and legally organized should be deprived of its right to express its views as long as it has honestly, by lawful means, secured the support of a majority of the electorate. The proper methods of education and propaganda are the only means of securing the cooperation of the masses of the population, unless the chosen representatives are unfit as 'individuals.' Our faith in American democracy is confirmed not only by its results, but by its methods and organs of free expression. Why are the subversive forces of the country not being more vigorously recommended, and the Legionnaires passed, three bills which the Congress voted. Of one, providing for special facilities for espionage, he said: "The traditional abhorrence of the people of this country of the use of secret police is violated. Of the other two bills the rank and file of the thought of teachers, he said: 'The teachers are the teaching staff of the public schools and the teachers of the schools to those only who lack the erage or the mind to exercise their ight to just criticism of exist-institutions." Not only did he the bills. He called a special session to enable the people to send the representatives of whom a Legislature had dedered them.

the same unfrightened belief. In freedom breathed in his release of tical prisoners, and in his pardons theoretical cranks such as James McKin and Benjamin Gitlow. His condition of the range of freedom has dly been that enunciated in cent cases by Justice Holmes and dundels. Watching the workings of Governor's mind, President Willard said: "I believe he feels in an unusual degree the impulses and emotions of the nation's and the world's affairs."

It is because he can sit down and in a friendly way discuss anything, whether it comes from Wall street, from an incoming secretary from the War Department, from the Trades Union or from a labor organization, under them, never intimidated by them but always interested in any just point they have, that this most liberal Governor has nevertheless the confidence of big conservative business men—confidence such as they seldom give anybody except their own associates and political servants.

People who attack the Governor's character, from the beginning of his rise the way down through Congress—Mills and the second Theodore Roosevelt to William Allen White and John Rauch Stratton, invariably with their knuckles; for while America is tolerant of differences of opinion, he is never in the frame of mind to be charged with immorality. Hearst papers asserted that Newkirk had a dangerously bad milk sweat. Smith not only swept to defeat all who took part in this charge, he remembered it when the party was trying to induce him to continue in office, at a time when he was inclined to devote himself to business, and thus protect his family and his

ago. Strong pressure from party leaders and personal friends was brought to bear on him to run either Governor or Senator, with Hearst at the other position, and thus to heal the party feud. Smith remembered that his old mother in her last delirium cried out: "My boy did not do it. He was a poor boy. He loves children. He would not feed them poison." Smith was like flint. He was infuriated without Hearst, and it is difficult to find anybody, in either party, who does not respect him for his untiring loyalty to his affectionate but self-respect.

Lincoln often solidified deep right into short and racy expressions. The rather boastful young sevent said: "We put up men can deliver the goods." The ples-sons of Daugherty, Fall, Allen Prop-Custodian Miller, and Forbes of Veterans' Bureau rose before the of Smith, and he replied: "This the largest mouthful that the Recan candidate has said in his to course of his campaign. . . .
us look over the goods for a moment. Let us see just what goods are delivered, and to 'whom they delivered."

Congressman Mills said that if elect-Governor he would not agree with

Legislature like a cooling dove. "The people of New York," Smith declared, "want clear-headed, strong, fighting men at the head of government, and not doves. Let doves roost in the caves of the Capitol, not in the Executive Chamber. Much for the doves; let us pass this up."

back bit his head and bit up his hands in his pockets, jangling his coins and keys.

"Brennan wanted to see me," the undertaker said, "putting on his gloves he wore when driving."

"So did I Abner," Simon Judd said, "and the girl said she would be a 'bachelor' wanting to have a good old talk with you ever since we shook hands last night."

"You shook hands with other, ain't it?" The little undertaker showed no surprise, he attempted no evasions. "Since we went over to see you."

Simon Judd's words; his only expression was of worry and weariness. He looked at the undertaker and scented himself and motioned Simon Judd to sit near him. He motioned to the girl to sit down.

"I detest that woman. She struts around with that husband of hers as if they own this town. She always holds her head so high. I heard that she was up to her neck in debt."

Judd: "Just what you mean when you say that your husband was a 'bachelor' wanting to have a good old talk with you."

"Well, he expected me to wear last fall's tail and a smile at the same time."

The following article from the Charlotte-Observer-as follows:-
To the Editor of The Observer
I am attaching hereto a clipping from The Memphis Commercial-Appeal, which I trust you will give space to in the Open Forum. The author, Rev. Mr. Steel, states the case admirably, & with meticulous accuracy as to the facts of history, and maybe there is at least one Methodist preacher in all of North Carolina who may have the moral courage to admit that he can not be delivered, even by Bolting Bishops, into the camp of the ancient enemy of the south and everything southern, if the call is made in the name of morality.

and has lived up to its original purpose in the program. In the beginning it spit on the constitution, denounced it as a "covenant with death" and an agreement with hell, and publicly burned it on the Boston Common; it treated the constitution as a mere "scrap of paper," called for northern troops to invade the south and conducted the war with ruthless disregard of "the humane rules of civilized war"; its chief, Lincoln, congratulated Schidhain for the ruin he wrought in the valley of Virginia; and Sherman, on the reverse, the and after having the whole machinery of government under his control for eight years has made a colossal failure of law enforcement! I say nothing against Mr. Hoover, but it is little less than an insult to expect me to march under the banner of the republican party, no matter who the leader may be. All the bishops of Christendom cast stamped me into the camp of the traditional enemies of our southland, and denounce as a slander against me good name that I would 'help along' slavery.
