24th Annual Meeting Of The Davie Electric Co-op Held

The six-county Davie Electric Membership Corporation was praised Saturday at the 24th annual meeting in Mocksville by a Rural Electrification Authority executive for the progress it has made since it started operating.

The speaker, William G. Callaway, cited the history of the local cooperative and pointed out that the organization has used more than $6 million in loans to serve its 8,450 members in the counties of Davie, Iredell, Yadkin, Wilkes, Alexander and Rowan.

Mr. Callaway, using audience participation, pointed out that it was one June 1, 1939 that the Davie Electric Membership Cooperative received its first loan. On September 28, 1939 the first lines were energized.

Termining electricity as the key to rural progress, Mr. Callaway praised the progress being made through the area served by the Davie Electric Membership Cooperative and praised this co-op for its sound business approach and sound engineering planning.

Rep. Hugh Q. Alexander, Congressman of the Ninth Congressional District and his Republican opponent in the November general election—James T. Broynhill of Lenoir—spoke briefly. Both praised the REA for its service to rural people.

Directors

The following were re-elected to the board of directors:

- C. C. Smoot, Davie
- E. R. Crater, Yadkin
- J. S. Dobson, Iredell
- R. L. Seaford, Davie
- W. L. Russell, Alexander
- T. N. Crawford, Iredell
- I. G. Roberts, Davie
- W. B. Renegar, Iredell
- G. L. Chatham, Alexander
- Conrad Eller, Wilkes
- W. F. Barnes, Rowan

In his annual report to the membership, J. C. Jones, Co-op Manager, cited the danger to the cooperatives from the expansion of cities into the rural areas served by the co-ops. Pointing out that the cities were served by private power companies and that under the present setup when the city expanded and took in more of the rural area, the co-op was losing some of its most valuable territory.

"If this is allowed to happen, the days of your service by an electric cooperative is numbered. I urge you to contact your representative and let's secure legislation that will protect us," said Mr. Jones.

C. C. Smoot, President of the Board of Directors, presided. The invocation was given by the Rev. Dewey James, pastor of the Blaise Baptist Church. E. R. Crater, Vice-President of the board of directors, gave the address of welcome.

R. L. Seaford, secretary, read the notice for the call of the annual meeting. J. S. Dobson, treasurer, gave the treasurer's report.

Joe Patner, assistant co-op manager, awarded more than $4,000 in valuable prizes throughout the day.

Mrs. Wyona Johnson, electrification advisor, awarded the lunch basket prizes.

Driver Of Pickup Dozes And Hits Wall

The driver of a pickup truck went to sleep while driving last Wednesday on the Liberty Church Road and struck a stone wall and turned over in the roadway.

Raleigh Taylor, Negro age 60, of Mocksville Rt. 1 suffered back injuries and was taken to the Davie County Hospital.

The accident occurred around 1:30 p.m., nine miles north of Mocksville on the Liberty Church Road near the Bear Creek Church Road.

Trooper W. G. Wright of the State Highway Patrol investigated the accident. No charges were preferred.

Wonderful Response By Many Subscribers Greatly Appreciated

The people of Davie County and Southwest Forsyth areas have responded in a spirit most gratifying to the publishers of The Enterprise and The Courier in the Big Subscription campaign which is now in progress.

Hundreds of friends and acquaintances of the candidates came forward with their subscriptions and renewals during the first period which ended Saturday, making that period a huge success from the standpoint of circulation and cash returns.

We appreciate the splendid effort put forth by our candidates in the campaign up to this time in covering a wide area on this special vote offer and feel sure that they will lose no time on the Extra $25.00 cash prize and the present offer of extra votes while they are still much higher than they will be next week. Any one of the many good workers have almost an even chance on the major awards at this time. The winner of the extra $25 prize will be announced at or before the close of the campaign.

Mocksville School Magazine Sale To Begin Sept. 7th

The annual magazine sale conducted by the Mocksville School will begin Friday, Sept. 7, and end on Monday, Sept. 17.

The Look Magazine plan offers a variety of 120 different magazines from which the subscribers may choose.

The school's share of the profits is 40 per cent of the total sales. Last year the gross sales amounted to $3063.09 with the school's part being a net of $947.69. This magazine sale is the only money raising project conducted annually by the school and the proceeds that the school realizes will go towards the instructional program.

The children will be instructed about salesmanship. "When they call on you, take time to listen to their sales talk and give them a chance to explain the program," urged Roy Marsh, principal of the school.

"It will take about ten weeks for the magazine to reach your home after the subscription is taken. Magazines make an excellent Christmas present that may be enjoyed throughout the year," continued Mr. Marsh.

The school faculty wants to encourage all parents and school patrons to provide good wholesome reading material for the children in each home. The best readers come from homes where the entire family reads.

A Total Of 3,913 Pupils In Early School Enrollment

A Total of 965 Are At Davie High

Early enrollment figures for the schools of Davie total 3,913 according to figures released this week by Supt. W. T. Bird.

Dr. Bird pointed out that the enrollment in each of the schools is expected to increase during the next few weeks as more and more children return to school. The enrollments at the end of the first week of school are as follows:

- Mocksville, 763
- Coolceemee, 609
- Wm. R. Davie, 151
- Farmington, 268
- Slady Grove, 402

THE 24TH ANNUAL MEETING . . . of the Davie Electric Membership Corporation held here last Saturday featured an address by William H. Callaway, Director of the Northeast Area of the National Rural Electrification Authority. Mr. Callaway is shown above at the left with I. G. Roberts of the Clarksville Community. Mr. Roberts has served on the board of directors of this co-op since its organization in 1939. J. C. Jones, manager of the co-op is at the right. Mr. Callaway, a native of Wilkes County, Ga., is a graduate of Young Harris College in Georgia and American University.

Watershed

Congressman Hugh Alexander announced from his office in Washington today that the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture has granted authorization to the North Carolina Soil Conservation Committee to provide planning assistance for making investigation and surveys as may be necessary to develop watershed work plans for Dutchman Creek Watershed consisting of 83,961 acres and Turner Creek Watershed consisting of 6,650 acres.

The Congressman stated that he had been assured by the Soil Conservation Service that surveys will be made as rapidly as facilities will permit.

New Members For Jaycees

The Board of Directors of the Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that the following men have been accepted for membership in the local club:

- Dickie Nall, Marshall Southern, Bill Collette, Joe Murphy, Gene Flowers, Dr. Jim Andrews, and John R. Williams.

Jaycee meetings are held on the 2nd and 4th Tuesday night of the month at the Rotary Hut.

Guitar Instruction Classes To Be Held

H. T. Meroney will begin classes of instruction in guitar, both straight and electric, at Edd's Radio and TV Service in Mocksville. Two classes will be held each Tuesday: 3:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Further information concerning these classes may be found in an advertisement in this issue.

Davie Rebels To Open Season At East Forsyth Friday Night

Davie County High School football team will open its 1962 season on Friday night at East Forsyth. The game will be played at the East Forsyth field with the kickoff set for 8 p.m.

Coach Jack Ward said that Davie's football hopes this year to a large extent will ride on quarterback Grimes Parker, who was out last year with an injured leg. Parker, who has not played football since his sophomore year, runs and passes well and, according to Coach Ward, "knows what plays to call and when to call them."

Parker, 6 feet 2 inches, 175-pounds, overcame his grid injury last year and was one of the top performers on the Davie basketball team.

The understudy to Grimes Parker is his brother, John, who is a sophomore. David Walker, a 150 pound junior, is also expected to see considerable action at this post.

In a rebuilding year, Davie only has two returning starters, end Jimmy Sheek and tackle, Jim Eaton. The top four guards, three of the top four tackles, three of the top four ends, and the starting center graduated. All of the starting backfield was lost via graduation.

Coach Ward is expected to choose his starting lineup from the following roster of players. "We will do a lot of experimenting in choosing our 11 team players," said Coach Ward.

Quarterbacks: Grimes Parker (Sr., 175 lbs.); John Parker (Soph., 170 lbs.); David Walker (Jr., 150 lbs.).

Halfbacks: Larry Travis (Sr., 155 lbs.); Glenn Gobbie (Jr., 150 lbs.); Jim Fuller (Sr., 138 lbs.); Bill Nesbit (Soph., 141 lbs.).

The Rebels will play their first home game here on Friday, Sept. 14, against Thomasville.

To East Forsyth

The directions given to this newspaper for getting to East Forsyth for the Rebels' opening football game Friday night are as follows:

Follow Interstate 40 through Winston-Salem, coming off on the old highway 421 exit on the east side of Winston-Salem (between Winston - Salem and Kernersville). Follow old highway 421 for about three miles to the school.

Mocksville Rotarians Taken On Tour Of Oahu

Mocksville Rotarians were taken on a pictorial tour of the Island of Oahu this past Tuesday as a feature of their regular meeting.

Miss Marie Johnson, who spent the summer as a student at the University of Hawaii, presented slides and discussed various points of interest on the Island. Miss Johnson also displayed a table of souvenirs which she brought back with her.

Phil Johnson had charge of the program and introduced his daughter, President T. J. Caudell presided. Special guests included Mrs. Robert McNeill and Will Erwin of Morganton.

Methodist Evangelistic Rally, Sept. 16

The annual Davie County Methodist Evangelistic Rally will be held at the Center Methodist Church Arbor on Sunday evening, Sept. 16, at 7:30 p.m.

Walter Anderson, Director of the State Bureau of Investigation, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Anderson, a native of Davie County, is very prominent as a layman of the Methodist Church.

Familiar hymns and "favorite hymns" of people are to be sung at this evangelistic rally. The music will be under the direction of the Rev. Jack B. Yarbrough, pastor of the Oak Grove Methodist Church in Davie County.

Each Methodist Church in Davie County has been requested to have members of their church interested in singing in the choir to meet with Mr. Yarbrough at the Oak Grove Church on Sunday, Sept. 9, at 4 p.m.

First Period Of Big Campaign Is Overwhelming Success; $25 "Extra" Cash Prize This Week

Gene Miller Appointed to Farmers Home Administration Committee

Lonnie Gene Miller of Route 2, Mocksville, has been appointed as a member of the three-man Davie County Farmers Home Administration committee, the agency's County Supervisor Clarence H. Slink announced this week. The appointment is for three years and began on July 1.

Mr. Miller succeeds Grady Myers whose three year term expired this year. The other two members serving with Mr. Miller are Paul H. Stroud and Robert L. Seaford.

The local Farmers Home Administration county committee reviews applications by farmers and other rural families for six different types of agricultural, housing and water loans made in Davie County. In addition, the committee advises with the county supervisor regarding the adapting of national loan policies to local conditions.

During the past fiscal year ended June 30, a total of $422,570 in FHA loans were made through the agency's local Davie and Rowan county offices. Each loan is accompanied to the extent necessary by technical farm and financial management assistance.

Mr. Miller has operated a Grade A dairy since 1952. He maintains a herd of around 50 head of cows and heifers with his milking herd averaging 35. Since returning to the farm after military service, County Supervisor Slink says that Mr. Miller's practical farming experience will enable him to make a real contribution to the county committee's actions when they review loan applications.

BOWLES REUNION

The Bowles reunion will be held Sunday, Sept. 9, at Oak Grove Methodist Church on Highway 158. Dinner will be served at 1 p.m. All relatives and friends are invited to attend.

A GOOD SUBSCRIPTION REPORT THIS IMPORTANT WEEK CAN ADD GREATLY TO YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING THAT $2,500 GRAND AWARD WHICH WILL BE PRESENTED IN A FEW SHORT WEEKS.

Entry Books Still Open For A Few New Workers Who Are Not Afraid Of A Little Competition—Come On In!

190,000 Extra Votes for every $20 worth of Subscriptions turned in by September 8th—Get your winning votes now!

A Quitter Never Wins Report Wednesday and Saturday

A $25.00 extra cash prize will be given in the Enterprise and the Courier "Campaign of Progress" to the worker who turns in the most money for subscriptions to The Enterprise and The Courier from Monday, September 3rd, to Saturday, September 8th, a period of six days. What could be nicer than winning this extra $25.00 in addition to any other prize on the list? And in the meantime be piling up those winning votes toward that big grand award a $2,500 Ford Galaxie Sedan that will be won in a few weeks work.

FIRST PERIOD SUCCESS

The close of the first period of the big subscription campaign last Saturday finds many, many workers in the line-up with an almost even chance for the bigger awards, however, the most important part now is just which one of the workers will make most of their chances from now to the close of the Campaign. Surely the workers themselves must realize that what they will win among the big awards, will depend on their own effort and determination to make every day of every week count to the fullest extent in getting results to help protect the good start they have obtained through their effort and the loyal supporters thus far in the campaign.

DO NOT WEAKEN

Really no one could deliberately slack in their efforts at this time and disappoint their friends and neighbors who have supported them with their votes with the greatest of confidence in their willingness to work and show "stick-ability" throughout the entire campaign. Think this over if you feel a "Sinking Spell" coming on and it will no doubt spur you on the supreme effort to win that New 1963 Ford or one of the bigger cash awards.

ANOTHER OFFER

Here is another offer given the willing workers in the campaign to further enhance their possibilities of winning one of the bigger awards. It will no doubt, be a pleasant surprise to each and everyone who is in the race to succeed, to know they will have another opportunity to further increase their vote totals this week. The new offer can be made the means of securing enough votes to carry on to victory.

It follows: 190,000 extra votes will be credited on each $20 Club of subscriptions this week. Subscriptions to the amount of $30 carry this extra bonus vote. New subscriptions and old subscriptions will count same votes. It is the very best Extra Vote offer that will be made from now on.

COUNT MORE VOTES NOW

Friends of the workers are again notified that all subscriptions given in these early weeks of the campaign will count for many more votes than those given later on, and they do not cost the subscriber one cent extra. Boost your favorite workers now, this week if possible because they will get more votes and also have a better chance to be the winner of the EXTRA $25 Cash Prize offered for the largest amount of money for subscriptions turned in this week.

GREAT AWARDS AT STAKE

Sufficient time is given new members to enter the race now and compete successfully, and those who are already listed will welcome competition. Additional competition would add zest and life to the whole atmosphere of the race. Send in your nomination today and determine to be among the winners of the bigger Awards when the race ends. You have plenty of time if you act quickly.

Fair Rally Set For September 6

Approximately 200 leaders from Northwest North Carolina will meet in Winston-Salem on Thursday, September 6, for the Dixie Classic Fair's annual Pre-Fair Rally. At that time plans for the Fair's showing October 9 - 13 will be discussed by Fair committee members, chairmen, and superintendents. In addition, newspaper, radio, television, and outdoor advertising representatives from the area, plus other special guests, will attend.

In announcing the Rally, Neil Bolton, Fair manager, stressed the importance of this planning session. "I urge all committee members especially to come and go over the plans for what looks like the biggest and most interesting array of exhibits we've ever welcomed at the Dixie Classic!"

Beginning at 3 P. M., the committee chairmen and superintendents will meet in the lower rear lobby at the Coliseum, with full committee meetings planned from 4 to 5:30 at various locations throughout the fairgrounds. Back in the lower rear lobby of the Coliseum from 5:30 to 6, the entire group will hear short reports from the chairmen, to be followed by an old-fashioned barbecue dinner and a string band for entertainment.

Misses Glenda Sue and Linda Lou Owings, twin sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. Their dresses were blue dacron and they carried orchid pom poms. Shelby Jean Owings, another sister, was junior bridesmaid.

Von Shelton was his brother's best man. Ushers included David Owings the bride's brother; Billy Shelton, Gray Laymon and Frankie Payne.

Announcement was made this week of two additional committee chairmen for the list of workers for the annual bazaar sponsored by the Hospital Auxiliary that will be held on Sept. 28 and 29 in the assembly room of the Davie County office building.

Mrs. H. R. Allen will serve as chairman of the canned goods committee, and Mrs. E. A. Eckerd will have charge of the town collections.

Items for the bazaar are being made and contributed by the people of the county. All proceeds will be applied to the purchase of items for Davie County Hospital which include: drapes for the lobby, wall covering for the halls, and a spectrophotometer.

Notice To Young Swimmers

Mrs. Norman B. Smith, Water Safety chairman for the Davie County chapter of the American Red Cross, announced this week the receipt of a letter from the office in Atlanta relative to Beginner Swimmers.

Several of the beginners, especially the 5, 6, and 7 year old children who took the instruction at Lake Hide-Away this summer, passed off all the requirements for a certificate except for one distance.

The following are excerpts from the letter Mrs. Smith received: "We are returning the Beginner Swimmer Skill sheets for the class conducted at Lake Hide-Away. We wish it was possible to issue certificates to this group of youngsters but they were not able to complete all requirements satisfactorily."

"We would suggest that recognition for their splendid work be given on the local level. For example, the instructor could commend the children for learning the skills and encourage them to continue working towards swimming the required distance so that next summer they may work towards getting a certificate since they have acquired the basic skills that will enable them to complete the distance requirement."

"With regard to comments, we commend you and Mrs. McCoy for upholding the minimum requirements. It is through the untiring efforts of our conscientious volunteers that we are able to maintain the high standards that are necessary if we are to help people protect their own lives as well as save those of others."

Miss Deal, Mr. York Wed At Enochville

At seven o'clock on Friday evening, August 31, Miss Loretta Jean Deal became the bride of Robert Paul York Jr. of Mocksville.

The vows were exchanged at St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Enochville.

The Rev. Harold H. Holtom officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ray Deal of Route 1, China Grove. Mr. York's parents live on Wilkesboro Street.

Miss Brenda Thomas, soloist and Mrs. Danny Deal, organist, presented the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of peau satin with a floral applique of Alencon lace, made with a scalloped Sabrina neckline, embroidered with seed pearls, and a bouffant skirt caught in the back with a cluster of satin roses that swept into a chapel train. The pointed bodice was fastened in the back with tiny self-covered buttons. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a sequin and pearl trimmed crown. She carried a cascade of white roses entwined with tiny pearl hearts on a white bride's Bible.

Miss Imogene Lowan of Valdese and Appalachian State Teachers College was maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of French blue peau de sole made with a fitted bodice and a bell-shaped skirt. Her headpiece was a circular veil with flowers that matched her dress. She carried a long-stemmed pink rose.

Bridesmaids were Miss Thelma Patterson of China Grove, and Mrs. John Kerr of Wytheville, Virginia, sister of the bridegroom.

Miss Paula Jean Karriker, cousin of the bride, and Miss Patricia Deal, sister of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. They wore powder blue dresses of peau de sole and carried long-stemmed pink roses.

Dana Deal wore powder blue as a flower girl.

Kelsy Mayea of Granite Quarry was ring bearer.

Larry Wayne Deal, brother of the bride, and David Holtom were acolytes.

The bridegroom had his father as best man.

Tony Deal, brother of the bride, and Fred Pierce of Cooleemee and Appalachian State Teachers College ushered.

The bride, a graduate of China Grove High School, and an Appalachian College senior, will begin her practice teaching at the Beaver Creek High School in Jefferson. She is a member of Alpha honorary scholastic fraternity.

Mr. York was graduated from Davidson County High School and is a senior at Appalachian State Teachers College where he is vice president of the class.

The bridal party received in the church vestibule following the ceremony.

For the wedding trip to Western North Carolina, the bride wore a two-piece blue ensemble with black and white accessories.

ter visiting their sister, Mrs. T. N. Chaffin, since last Thursday. These ladies, together with Mrs. Hattie McGuire, and Mrs. H. B. Ashley of Red Springs, spent the past Sunday in Albemarle.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nail spent Sunday in Greensboro visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Earl and the orchid from her prayer book.

Mr. and Mrs. York will be at home in Boone after September 5.

The bride's parents entertained at their home at a cake cutting following the wedding rehearsal on Thursday evening.

The bride's table covered in white, was centered with an arrangement of white flowers flanked by green candles in crystal candelabra.

Miss Deal wore a white eyelet dress trimmed in black velvet with a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Bobby Deal, Mrs. Carl Deal and Miss Ginny Smith assisted in the serving.

Don't Be A Litterbug! . . . "It May Be My Barbecue!"

This is a true story. Only the names have been withheld to preserve family relationships. The time, this past Sunday afternoon. The story begins with two Mocksville citizens dragging themselves to their car following 18 holes of golf during one of the hottest afternoons of the summer. Naturally cold drinks were in order as the two started from Salisbury to their homes in Mocksville.

In order not to be litterbugs, the containers and other debris were put into a paper bag and laid on the seat in the car.

"One of the men, having orders from home for a special type of barbecue, forgot this until the two men were well up the road. However, knowing better than to return home without it, turn around they did and backtrack into Salisbury.

As the one got out to get this barbecue, the other who was driving said: "Throw this trash into that can!" The reply was something like: "It's too far away . . . let's just wait!" However, while he was purchasing the barbecue . . . the one that was driving disposed of the bag of debris.

Purchasing a pound of barbecue with all the trimmings, the man returned to the car. The brown paper bag, containing the proposed evening meal was put on the seat between the two. Once again the two started for home.

Tired and hot, they turned on the car radio and soon were engrossed in the open house program at WSDC.

Suddenly as they were crossing the Yadkin River, the man reached down and picked up the brown paper bag containing the pound of barbecue.

"Wait . . ." uttered the driver realizing what was about to happen. But the words followed the brown paper bag which was then sailing out the window down into a thicket along the river bank.

. . . that was your barbecue!" said the driver. Suddenly snapping to life and looking at the empty site where the evening meal had rested a short second before, the man said: "D . . . if it wasn't. Stop the car!"

Just as soon as an appropriate place to turn around was found, the two went back to where they thought the barbecue had been tossed. Out in the hot afternoon sun again went the man seeking to retrieve his barbecue.

Well, the barbecue was never found. There was an old hound dog in the vicinity that didn't seem to like anyone tromping around in the thicket except him—and from the way it sounded—it could have had an interest in the barbecue by that time.

Soon giving up . . . the two once again started for home. Enroute they stopped at another place where more barbecue was purchased.

Arriving home the man told his wife that he just had forgotten to buy the special barbecue requested, but that he had purchased some other instead.

This man now has coined a slogan of his own. It goes something like this: "Don't be a litterbug! It may be my barbecue!"

Benny Merrell Named As Student Counselor

The appointment of Benny Merrell of Mocksville, N. C. as a student counselor in the Pfeiffer College freshman guidance program has been announced by the college's Dean of Students, Sterling Whitley.

A rising sophomore, Merrell is one of the seventeen upperclassmen selected for the counseling program in men's residence halls. Selection of students is based on their demonstrated interest in student affairs, leadership potential, and endorsement of Student Government Association leaders.

Each counselor in the program will share in a leadership seminar at the college prior to the week-long orientation program for new students which begins September 9. The seminar programs are designed to prepare the student counselors for their leadership roles.

Pfeiffer College in recent years has placed great stress on offering a high degree of personalized attention to all students, especially incoming freshmen. "We believe this program is an important factor in aiding freshmen achieve their full academic potential," Dean Whitley stated.

Merrell, a 1961 graduate of Davie County High School, is the son of Mrs. Wayne Merrell, Rt. 1, Mocksville. A dean's list honor student, he was vice-president of his freshman class and a leader in many freshman activities.

John R. Hauser Is Awarded Duke Fellowship

JOHN R. HAUSER

John R. Hauser, an employee of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, Inc., in the Weapon Direction Equipment Department at Winston-Salem, was recently awarded a James B. Duke Fellowship by Duke University.

Mr. Hauser attended Duke University on part time basis for the past two academic years under the sponsorship of the Bell Telephone Laboratories and obtained the degree of Master of Science of Electrical Engineering. His thesis for this degree was entitled "An Approximate Description of the Flux Reversal Process for Square - Loop Ferro-magnetic Cores with Current Pulse Excitation."

It was during this period that Mr. Hauser was awarded the James B. Duke Fellowship. This is awarded to outstanding graduate students and provides a grant of $3,000 which, in the case of Mr. Hauser, will allow on-campus residency for approximately one year to work full time toward a Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering. He has received a leave of absence from Bell Telephone Laboratories for this purpose.

Mr. Hauser attended Farmington Elementary School and Farmington high school. He was graduated from N. C. State with high honors in 1960, receiving the Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering degree. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Xi, Phi Kappa Phi, and the Institute of Radio Engineers.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reid R. Hauser of Route 1. Advance, and was recently married to Miss Ann Covington of Wadesboro.

Caudell Lumber To Give Ceiling Service

Caudell Lumber Company announces its "Decorate With Quiet" service to help homeowners and builders plan beautiful ceilings with decorative, acoustical fiberboard ceiling tile.

As part of 1962 National Home Quiet Month, the company offers assistance in planning modern and dramatic acoustical fiberboard tile ceilings which will absorb up to 70 per cent of the sound that strikes them.

T. J. Caudell, president said, "The dozens of new tile patterns and colors make it possible hundreds of decorator ceilings that will complement present furnishings or form the basis for decorating themes in new construction or remodeling."

Mr. Caudell points out that the fast tempo of modern living is causing people to seek tranquility and relaxation in their home. Paradoxically, due to open planning, larger families and the big increase in labor-saving and entertainment appliances, the America home has become the noisiest in history.

Installation of acoustical ceiling tile is often all that is required to turn a noisy kitchen, living, or other room into a restful room.

Rep. Lester Martin To Attend Conference

Lester P. Martin, Jr. of Mocksville, Democratic candidate for the N. C. House of Representatives, has been invited to attend the first Campaign Conference for candidates to be held in Raleigh on September 7.

In announcing the invitation, State Party Chairman Bert Bennett stated that the candidates will be briefed by state officials and department heads on various key subjects such as taxes, budget, revenue, education, roads, industrial and agricultural development. It is anticipated that each subject will be followed by a question and answer period.

Bennett stated that the session will begin at 9 A. M. and conclude around 4 P. M. The candidates have been invited to a luncheon at the Mansion by Governor Sanford.

In preparation for the session which will be held at the Hall of the House, Bennett has asked each candidate to return a questionnaire suggesting subjects and particular areas that should be discussed. He stated that each candidate will also be provided with a kit containing detailed factual information on subjects not planned for discussion as well as those to appear on the agenda. Basic information on statewide campaign plans will also be included.

"Many of our candidates are running for office for the first time," Bennett said, "and are not so familiar with the many facets of state government as the veteran legislators. It is felt that this conference, the first of its kind in North Carolina, will be very beneficial to the voters of the state in that key issues and state government operation will be brought directly to the citizens by their well-informed candidates."

Bennett stated that party headquarters is planning the details for the conference and that the full agenda will be announced as soon as finalized. Members of the press will be invited to the conference as observers.

Statesville YDC Rally To Boost Congressman

A state wide rally of Young Democratic Clubs, scheduled for Statesville Sept. 15, will highlight the candidacy of Democratic Congressman Hugh Q. Alexander of the Ninth Congressional District.

That announcement was made by L. F. Amburn, Jr., president of the Fredell YDC and chairman of the rally that is expected to draw over 600 persons. "It will be a 'Hugh Alexander Appreciation Rally,'" Amburn said—"not only an appreciation from the Ninth District but from Democrats across North Carolina."

The rally also is expected to develop into a major campaign forum as candidates for at least two state offices have announced plans to be here.

Amburn said support movements will begin to shape in the race between J. K. Sheron, Jr., of Raleigh, and Dave Reid of Greenville, for president of the YDC of North Carolina.

Also expected to further develop is a contest for national committeewoman between Joyce Lathan of Monroe and Carole Fleming of Asheville.

As Amburn disclosed the local billing, the rally was attracting widespread interest as numerous reservations were pouring into rally headquarters at the Vance Hotel in Statesville.

At the last YDC rally in Statesville — believed to be the biggest ever in the state — the 800 capacity hotel was overflowing with delegates.

"There is every indication to believe that next month's rally will be as big if not bigger than the gathering of Democrats from across the state in Statesville last January," Amburn said.

Despite the local twist for Rep. Alexander, the rally is a state-wide event to whip up enthusiasm for Democratic candidates everywhere in the fall elections.

Some of the state's top elected officials, including Gov. Terry Sanford, have been invited.

Amburn said Congressman Alexander is being singled out at the rally for recognition to "ten outstanding years as a representative of all the people in the Ninth District."

"The challenge was great when he succeeded the late and great farmer 'Bob' Doughton," Amburn said. "Having met that challenge, he deserves the thanks of all."

Parks Named To National Co-op Board

James M. Parks, Route 1, Union Grove, president of the Yadkin Valley Telephone Membership Corporation, has been appointed a member of the board of the National Telephone Cooperative Association.

The Smith Grove exchange is a member of this co-op. The Association office is located at Washington, and the company is a non-profit service organization which serves telephone cooperatives throughout the nation.

The association was organized to assist rural people in their efforts to obtain dependable service at reasonable rates by working with operating telephone cooperatives and pooling the efforts of rural people on a nationwide basis. It provides training service for directors, managers and employees of telephone cooperatives.

Many other services include group insurance programs, group purchasing programs, legislative advisory services and coordination of aid and assistance in case of disaster. The association also provides government statistical data for rural telephone needs.

Board members are elected annually and all candidates must be either managers or directors of telephone cooperative service companies.

Parks, a graduate of State College, Raleigh, played a major role in organizing the Yadkin co-op and has served as the chairman of the board directors since 1951—the date of incorporation.

He is a member of the Grange, chairman of the board of deacons at his church and is chairman of the West Yadkin School committee.

Parks will take office in late January of 1963 when the annual meeting of the national board of directors is held.

Davie Chapter FHA To Install Officers

The Davie County Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America will install officers for the 1962-63 school year on Thursday evening, 7:30-8:30, in the home economics department of the Davie County High School.

All members and parents are invited to attend.

Officers to be installed include: President: Shirley Hendrix Vice-President: JoAnn Peoples Secretary: Carol Nash Treasurer: Judy Hendrix Reporter: Ann Boger Parliamentarian: Ann Draughn Recreation Leader: Myrtle Gobble

The Davie-Rowan Council Representative is Linda Douthit.

Business College Graduates Listed

Among the 52 students graduated from Salisbury Business College Friday night, Aug. 31, were four from Davie County.

They include: Billy Leo Dwiggins and Jerry Foster Swicegood, who were awarded diplomas in Junior Accounting; and, Mary Lois Nichols and Shirley Ann York, diplomas in Stenography. The graduation exercises were held at St. John Lutheran Church. The Rev. A. James Laughlin, pastor of Haven Lutheran Church, made the address. Mrs. Leo Sowers awarded the diplomas.

ASCS News

Protecting Cotton Acreage Allotment

RALEIGH — ASCS regulations permit in some cases the retention of allotted acreage of cotton in cases where the farmer did not plant 75 per cent of the farm allotment. According to A. P. Hassell, Jr., Executive Director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, this is permissible when failure to plant at least 75 per cent of the allotment in 1962 was due to certain conditions beyond the control of the producer on the farm.

Hassell cautioned farmers that where failure to plant sufficient acreage in 1962 was beyond the control of the producer, he must file a written application for retention of this acreage by not later than Sept. 15 and furnish proof of the condition which made planting impossible.

Acceptable conditions under which prevented planting will be considered due to conditions beyond the control of the farmer include excessive rain, flood, hail or drought or illness of the farm operator or any other producer on the farm.

Where the farm operator makes application on or before Sept. 15 and submits adequate proof to the ASC county committee, the 1963 base acreage for the farm could be maintained by the committee without reduction. However, where this is not done and the farmer failed to plant at least 75 per cent of the farm allotment, the base acreage will be reduced, he said.

Election Time Nears For ASC Committees

Voting time for ASC committees to serve during the coming year started Aug. 31 and will run through Sept. 10, 1962. J. N. Smoot, chairman of the Davie ASCS office stated today. Ballots were mailed to all eligible voters on record, on Aug. 31st. Voters are being informed to vote for five (5) persons from the list of nominees who were selected by farmer petitions and present community committees and placed on the ballots.

The person receiving the most votes will be elected community committee chairman and delegate to the county convention, chairman Smoot said. The persons receiving the second and third highest number of votes will be vice-chairman and regular member, respectively, of the community committee and alternate delegates to the county convention. Following the community elections, Smoot continued, the chairmen of the newly elected community committees will meet at the county convention to be held Sept. 20 to elect the county committee for the coming year.

The county committee, which also consists of three members, and two alternates, serves as a "Board of Directors" for the county office and has general responsibility for administering the various agricultural programs enacted by Congress. These include the Agricultural Conservation Program, Production Adjustment, Price Support, Feed Grain and other programs. Since the Committeemen will assume important responsibilities, close consideration should be given in voting. If you like the committeemen now serving and they are eligible, give them a vote of confidence. If you don't help elect somebody else, That's Democracy. Help keep your rights by using them. All newly elected committeemen will take office Oct. 1.

Farmers Failing To Claim Tax Refund

Farm families in Davie County lost an estimated $5,861.00 last year by failing to apply for a tax refund on gasoline used for non-highway purposes.

Indications are that the loss will be equally as high this year, according to Fred Mangum, extension economist at North Carolina State College.

Farmers are permitted by law to receive a six-cent refund from the state and a four-cent refund from the federal government on each gallon of gasoline they use for non-highway purposes.

To receive this refund, however, a farmer must file an application with both the U. S. and N. C. Departments of Internal Revenue prior to Sept. 30 of each year.

Fred London of the N. C. Internal Revenue Department reports that 243 County farmers applied for only $12,662 of the $18,523 refund they were eligible to receive last year. Roughly $3,839 in state refunds, therefore, went unclaimed. Since eligibility for state and federal refunds are the same, unclaimed federal refunds were estimated at another $2,022.00.

Speedster Is Halted

Calvin Lamar Shuler, 18 of Robbinsville was charged with speeding in excess of 65 miles an hour early Monday morning on U.S. 158 while his father, former Graham County Sheriff Jack F. Shuler, was asleep on a rear seat.

Mocksville Policeman A. L. Rogers said a 1962 Pontiac driven by Shuler sped through Mocksville about 5 a.m. He gave chase to the machine. He said he followed the car at speeds up to 100 miles an hour over the 11 miles to Interstate 40. He said Shuler's car was moving at speeds from 100 to 110 miles per hour on dual lane I-40 from the Davie County line into Winston-Salem.

Meanwhile, Rogers said he had requested a roadblock of Winston-Salem officers by radio. The roadblock stopped young Shuler's car. Rogers said Shuler was cited to appear in Davie County Court here Sept. 18.

The former sheriff apparently was unaware of the high speed being made by his car. Rogers said. Rogers said the former officer, now a contractor, was en route to Yanceyville on business.

Two Cars Damaged In Wreck Saturday

Two cars were damaged last Saturday around 9:45 a.m. in a collision on U.S. 64, two miles west of Mocksville.

Trooper G. W. Howard of the State Highway Patrol said that his investigation showed that a 1959 Ford, being operated by Daniel A. Hinson, 67, of Oakboro, Rt. 1, was traveling west on U.S. 64 and collided with a 1962 Chevrolet, being operated by Bessie D. Turner, 52, of 512 Hendrick, High Point, that was stopped in traffic lane for traffic making a left turn.

There were no injuries. Damages to the Ford were estimated at $800 and to the Chevrolet, $500.

Editor of Davie County Enterprise-Record

Dear Editor: Please publish the following: Recently a lady and I went to the Davie County Hospital to visit a patient. On being told that all of the visiting cards for that patient were out, we were ushered into a little hole in the rear where there was nothing but a Coca Cola machine and a bench to wait our turn. We refused to sit.

The colored people of Davie County has made a large contribution to this hospital and we deserve better treatment. So I hope the board of directors will see that we will never be subjected to this inhuman treatment again.

FOOD COSTS LOWEST IN WORLD

An American housewife spends 20 percent of her family's net income for food. A Russian housewife spends 56 percent; an Italian 38 percent, Peruvian 40 percent and Nigerian 70 percent.

John Strohm cites these figures in a September Reader's Digest article, "Why Our Food Is a Bargain." The average American, he says, works just 38 hours a month to buy food for his family. A pound of butter costs him 21 minutes' work—as opposed to 193 minutes' work by the average Russian worker. The American works 5 minutes to earn a pound of rice; a Japanese, whose nation has the highest rice yield in the world, has to work 25 minutes for a pound.

"And lest you long for the 'good old days' when prime beef was 15 cents a pound and bread two loaves for a nickel, consider the real cost of food then and now," Mr. Strohm writes. "In 1912, Granddad's family earned $11 a week and spent 40 percent of it for food. His grandson's family earns more than $125 weekly, spends $25 for food—and buys more and better food."

"Researchers have bred more vitamin C into tomatoes, more protein into corn, more than lean meat into pork...Agricultural research has developed fertilizers that permit farmers to triple crop yields on 'worn-out' soil. Imaginative chemists have found ways to make apples hang on trees until ripe, to stimulate corn while killing weeds, to grow bug-resistant crops."

"Instant" and "heat-and-eat" foods, he writes, can reduce the housewife's daily food preparation work from 5 1/2 hours to 1 1/2 hours. He cites Agricultural Research Service figures saying that prepared meals that cost $8.70 for a family of four can be fixed by the housewife for $1.80 less; but should she work four hours at 45 cents an hour to save that money, or devote the extra time to children, to community activities and keeping up with the world?

Many instant foods, Strohm writes, save money. A pound of fresh frozen peas costs about 32 cents; bought fresh, they cost 70 cents. A devil's food cake, made from prepared mix and two eggs costs 41 cents; made from scratch, it costs 53 cents. Frozen concentrated orange juice costs only half as much as that squeezed at home from fresh oranges: the can of concentrate costs 2.7 cents more to prepare, but 3.7 cents less to transport and 8.5 cents less to merchandise.

Strohm is a past president of the American Agricultural Editors' Association and has studied food in 70 countries.

WATER USE IS RISING

Americans are using more water than ever to keep cool, clean, and occupied.

Water consumption by factories, farms, and homes has jumped more than 12 percent in the past six years. The United States gulps its liquid assets at the rate of 270,000 million gallons per day (mgd), says the National Geographic Society.

The greatest water glutton is not the hot tennis player or suburban gardener but American industry. Industrial cooling processes account for more than half the water consumed in this country. It takes 65,000 gallons of water to produce a ton of finished steel, 200,000 gallons for a ton of rayon, and no less than 600,000 gallons for a ton of synthetic rubber.

Irrigation farmers rank as second largest users of water, followed by individuals at work, play, and home.

Billions of gallons go down the drain annually from such modern conveniences as showers, sprinklers, swimming pools, dishwashers, laundromats, and garbage disposals.

Sheer waste takes a heavy toll. Even during New York's severe water shortage of 1949-50, engineers estimated that 200 million gallons a day dripped from leaky faucets and pipes alone.

Water-hungry America fortunately can draw on a nationwide rainfall averaging 30 inches a year, or ten million gallons for every man, woman, and child.

However, more than 70 percent is used by growing plants or returned to the atmosphere by evaporation and breathing. Storage lakes, reservoirs, and canals lose nearly half their water in vapor.

Moreover, water is not evenly distributed. Mountainous regions of Hawaii may be deluged with a foot of rain a week, yet Nevada averages only nine inches all year. Some areas which are flooded in the spring suffer drought by late summer.

The Herculean task of supplying water to arid zones and cities where demand exceeds supply is being approached in several ways: conservation measures, notably antipollution and the reuse of water; the sea.

Scientists have been experimenting with a chemical spray which blankets reservoirs and lakes with a film to cut evaporation losses.

Attempts to unscramble sea water are being intensified by governments and private industry. Success on a large and inexpensive scale could open up a vast new resource, for oceans cover almost three-quarters of the earth's surface.

The idea of desalting water is not new. In 49 B. C., during his siege of Alexandria, Egypt, Julius Caesar produced fresh water for his troops with solar evaporators. It is assumed that the condensing vapor was collected by oiled silk or fabric screens.

Editorial Briefs

The hoofs of an Arabian camel spread out like foam rubber when it is walking on sand. United States soil companies producing in deserts imitate the effect with special low-pressure sand tires for vehicles.

The Turkish equivalent of a county fair is the panayer, the National Geographic Magazine says. Like its American counterpart, the Turkish fair features horse races, livestock auctions, and soft-drink vendors.

The only rainfall in the Namib coastal desert of South-West Africa is a drizzle called molleen, or moth rain. Though it is too slight to be measured in a conventional rain gauge, filter-paper tests indicate the fall may amount to about 1.8 inches a year.

The world's largest body of fresh water is Lake Superior with an area of about 32,000 square miles. Lake Victoria, chief source of the Nile, is second with 27,000 square miles, the National Geographic Society says.

The Congo River and its tributaries drain the huge equatorial basin of central Africa and much of the surrounding plateaus. Total drainage area is 1,450,000 square miles, the National Geographic Society says.

Young albatrosses on sun-baked Midway keep cool by using their feet in an unusual manner. The birds balance on their heels with webbed feet outstretched in the shade of their bodies. Breezes thus can carry away more of the body's heat.

If the Indians of Manhattan Island had taken the $24 in cash instead of trinkets and invested it at 6 percent, compounded quarterly, theoretically their descendants today would be worth more than the assessed value—16 billion dollars—of Manhattan's land and buildings.

SO THIS IS NEW YORK

By NORTH CALLAHAN

Within the past few days, this city has been a prime example of: things are not what they seem. All too long, residents who foolishly move about at night in remote places where the police cannot possibly cover in depth, have been subject to muggings, robberies and other kinds of various assaults. After being warned, these people, particularly women, have nevertheless walked alone in ill-lighted parks and isolated sidewalks - with the logical results. Their cries have brought, of course, criticism of the law-enforcement agencies. At last, stung by this public outcry of the sob-sister type, the local police has determined to do something in reprisal. Dressed as women or a reasonable facsimile thereof, tough cops have paraded in the regions of the distressed, and being pounced upon, have turned out to be about as feminine as a section or harvest hand, and have yanked their assailants into jail. Local newspapers rarely identify fully these criminals because of perennial attacks by agencies intent on equality of treatment for all races and neighborhoods. But this recent treatment is making headway in spot-lighting hoodlums who try to make a fast buck.

Maybe she was just too good-looking or because the boss happened to be around, but the out-of-town woman tourist who kept talking to the young cop on 5th Avenue turned out to be hard luck for him. In her car, she eased up to the curb near the officer and motioned for him. Probably not averse to obeying this polite summons from a comely visitor, the copper went over, talked for about five minutes, turned away, but each time he did, she beckoned him to return. Diagonally across the street happened to be the older and less-romantic inspector of police; and after he had watched the performance of his junior representative repeat five times, he forthwith suspended the youthful cop; only to have the pretty young woman appear at headquarters later on and use her charms upon the presiding officer - and - yes - get the young policeman off free, with the exception of a lecture given by a twinkle-eyed old law man.

An indication of the national economy may be the report from the Seattle World's fair which is said to be the first profit-making one within 30 years. More visitors have attended the fair than were expected and the fascinating restaurant in the sky has helped to bring them. Too, many of our citizens have never been in that part of our country before and this is a good excuse to visit it. The sky restaurant, known as the Space Needle, is being imitated. A similar one will be built at Albuquerque, New Mexico by the same firm that built the Seattle one. This spinning restaurant will sit atop a mountain and will afford a spectacular view of surrounding massive mountains, with of course, a lodge and motel nearby.

The 61-year-old Rudy Vallee, star of a current Broadway hit, continues to impress me. Doubtless this is mainly because he was in musical flower when I was young, but then he still looks, at a reasonable distance at least, not over 41. Another thing about Rudy, he retains some of that Maine thriftiness acquired as a boy. Although he can well afford to patronize New York's best restaurants, he often lunches at an Automat near his theater. He also invested some of the considerable amount of money he has made through an eventful life, in annuities and life insurance, some of which has already begun to pay him a regular income.

Ran across an appealing piece of writing: "The felt or remembered peace of little country villages, of isolated farm where lights shine in darkness, of quiet waters; of stars spread wide above the plains; the satisfaction of a day's work done and another coming; the trust in the future of these will be with us, whatever say the counters of the votes and no matter how the dice of destiny roll."

POE BOOK... A writer whose name strikes a familiar note among thousands of North Carolina households is completing a book on the life of 80-year-old Dr. Clarence Poe, longtime editor of the South's favorite farm magazine, "The Progressive Farmer." That's all we can say about it now. But in time you will be reading it... or excerpts therefrom.

TOP TEN... The male advisors in my home tell me that Duke University is rated among the top ten football teams in the nation this year. Well, several years ago—when we saw more games than in recent times—we always enjoyed watching the Duke Blue Devils. They never seemed to be as up and down as our other teams in these parts. In other words, they usually came through about as expected. In the past 25 years, Duke rates among the top ten teams in the country in won and lost records.

TERCENTENARY... Bankers' Association Executive Harry Gatton, whom we always enjoy reading after, says in "The Tarheel Banker," has an interesting note in his current issue: "Next year is a significant milestone in our history. North Carolina will celebrate its 300th birthday in 1963. The Carolina Chautau Tercentenary Commission is busy with plans for the celebration. One of the most valuable plans announced to date is the publication of the Colonial Records series. If you have tried to locate a full set of these important volumes recently, you know the cost and scarcity. Tentative release for the first volume is January, 1963. The original Carolina Charter is in possession of the State's Hall of History in Raleigh, on display..."

TOPS... We see the fight continues on whether the U. S. National Park Service will be permitted to gouge a highway into beautiful Grandfather Mountain. Another hearing... and this may be the final one... will be held on the matter Sept. 12. Access to the mountain has been made at tremendous expense by Hugh Morton, owner. He happened to drive up there this summer on a little tour of the Boone-Morganton area. To our mind, Grandfather Mountain is the single most beautiful scenic attraction in the State. They have about 200,000 visitors a year.

FED UP... In the long battle between Mr. Morton and the Park Service people, the public seems to be very much on the side of Hugh Morton. Why interfere with, plunder, tear up, and fill with beer cans and paper cups what is regarded by many as our "top scenic attraction." Anyway, if Hugh Morton had not spent the money he has (hundreds of thousands, we would estimate) publicizing the beauties, the grandeur of Grandfather, Park Service would not be so interested in it for a "high level right-of-way."

Also, we are getting pretty well fed up at the high handed way the Government... from the county right on up to Uncle Sam

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS:

WASHINGTON—Foreign Aid, Trade, and Tax bills have made news this week in Congress. The House leadership has announced that the Foreign Aid Appropriations bill will not reach the House floor before September 19 crushing hopes for mid-September adjournment. Several state primary elections are scheduled for early September. It is understood that House leaders want a full membership present for consideration of this bill. Representative Passman, Chairman of the House Appropriations Sub-committee considering the bill, has promised to fight for a substantial cut in the $4.6 billion requested for military and economic programs in other countries. The measure, if approved in some form by the House, would then face the Senate Appropriations Committee before coming to the Senate floor late in September.

TRADE BILL—The Senate is scheduled to consider the Trade Expansion Bill for 1962 next. This is one of the major bills yet to be acted on. The Senate Finance Committee on August 16 concluded four weeks of hearings on the bill. Following this the Committee spent a number of days "marking up" the bill for presentation to the Senate. The bill passed the House on June 28. Opposition to the House version of the bill has centered over a provision which would aid firms and workers hurt by increased foreign competition by reason of future tariff concessions. Workers hurt by tariff concessions given other countries would get higher unemployment compensation amounts for longer periods than workers laid off because of non-tariff determined unemployment. Observers have pointed out that it would be difficult to determine when unemployment arose because of foreign imports and when it arose for other reasons.

TAX BILL—During the debate on the Tax Revision Bill, the so-called Revenue Act for 1962, the Senate rejected a move to reinstate the withholding of taxes on interest and dividends. The Senate Finance Committee earlier had deleted the provision from the bill. As I have previously stated, I do not favor withholding taxes on interest and dividends, because I am convinced that such taxes would impose grave hardships upon taxpayers dependent for their livelihood upon income from these sources and would impose intolerable record-keeping burdens upon both the government and private financial institutions. Consequently, I voted to keep this proposal out of the pending Revenue Act of 1962.

ALBERT COATES—On August 24 in the Senate, I called attention to the monumental work which Albert Coates, Director of the Institute of Government until September 1, has performed for local government in North Carolina. For close to 40 years the State of North Carolina has been blessed with one of the most progressive and enlightened systems of local government in the United States. This is due in considerable degree to the work Albert Coates performed through the Institute of Government which he created at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. August 25 marked the 66th birthday of Dr. Coates and September I marked his retirement as Director of the Institute he founded. Close to 85 percent of the public officials in the State of North Carolina know him as the person whose school first introduced them to their new offices, whose publications kept them informed of the most advanced methods of operation, and whose institute kept itself ready at all times to answer any questions that might arise during their terms of office. North Carolina is indebted to Albert Coates and his wife, Gladys, who have rendered lasting service to its people.

UNCLE DAVE FROM DAVIE SAYS:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: Zeke Grubb's preacher dropped by the country store for a spell Saturday night, said the progress, come Sunday morning, might have to declare his church a disaster area.

The trouble all started, he told the fella, when Ellie Sanders, who does the solo singing in the Choir, told him she aimed to do a special for Sunday, one of them new "Gospel Songs" that is sung grand opera style. He allowed as how, when Ellie gets on one of them pieces, she bellers and hollers like a calf lost on the range. The last time she done one of 'em, he said, it scared the hiccups out of little Susie Plumber. The doctors had been trying to cure her for three days. But it wasn't a net gain, he reported, on account of Susie has had to take them tranquilizer pills ever since.

Anyhow, said the good Parson, he got Ellie to run over the song fer him and he was plum floored at the first note and was still on the floor when she got through. He said it's got about the same tune as that song, "Mama Loves To Twist." He told the fella he liked that tune pritty good when he was out slopping out the hogs or feeding the chickens, but it was a little on the Judas Iscariot side for the church.

He reported he was dreading the results when Ellie cut loose with that thing Sunday morning. He predicted a few of the old folks would faint and the youngsters would start patting their feet. If preachers wasn't so scarce right now, he allowed, the Deacons would give him his walking papers. But he reckoned they would figger he was better than nothing.

But to give Ellie her due, he said, she was worth her weight in gold fer church weddings. At most of them affairs, he explained, they decorate the church and altar with bushes and flowers till they got the place looking like one of them Tarzan sets in the movies. He said he always got lost on or twit at ever wedding but Ellie's songs was coming in loud and clear and he followed 'em till he reached the piano—then he knowed where he was. He recollected one time when he was plum lost. A flash went off like lightning had struck the church. He jumped about two foot and his glasses fell off. He found out later that one of them photographers was hiding in the bushes and had took a picture.

The good Parson left a little early, said when Ellie put on one of her specials he always tried to git up a sermon to match. He claimed a preacher that didn't cooperate with the solo singer in his Choir wasn't long fer the clergy. The problem now, he said, was to find a short sermon that would match the tune of "Mama Loves To Twist."

Yours truly,
Uncle Dave

THEME: Your Bad Manners Gossip About You
TEXT: "Manners Makyth Man" - Motto New College, Oxford in 1380.

An elderly lady had been driving cars for 35 years. One day she had trouble parking. Not quite making it the first try she pulled out to start over when a young fellow waiting to pass, blew his horn and shouted, "Lady, do you know how to drive?"

"Yes," was the retort, "but I don't have time to teach you now."

Whether it is the age in which we live or the years which we have attained, we are not certain, however brash, bad manners in our young people appear more frequently or more obviously than ever. Young people seem to hold good manners in contempt and swagger arrogantly over anyone who is weak enough to be courteous.

Baptist Hospital Gets Grant For Kidney Stone Research

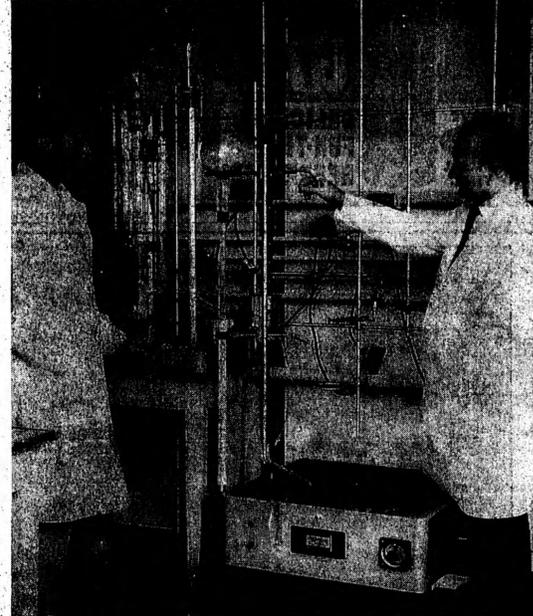

North Carolina Baptist Hospital's pioneer research program into the cause and prevention of kidney stones will be continued and broadened as the result of an additional grant of $180,540 from the John A. Hartford Foundation, Inc. of New York.

Announcement of the gift, which brings to $628,810 the amount the Foundation has contributed to finance the study of kidney diseases at the Hospital, was made jointly by Ralph W. Burger of New York, president of the Foundation, and John R. Knott of Charlotte, chairman of the Hospital's board of trustees.

With the added funds, Dr. William H. Boyce, member of the Hospital's medical staff and professor in the Department of Urology at the Bowman Gray School of Medicine, will be able to continue the work his research team began three years ago with a Hartford grant of $124,040. Other grants of $141,400 in 1959 and $180,860 in 1961 were for research directed by Dr. Ernest K. Yount, Jr., and Dr. John H. Felts of the Hospital staff and the Medical School faculty, who are working with the artificial kidney program.

In discussing the research done so far and his plans for the future, Dr. Boyce said it had been found that certain materials in the human kidney are capable of producing antibodies and that these will be studied. The research has broad application not only in the study of stone formation in the kidney but also in the transplantation of tissues from one body to another and in the problem of kidney cancer. He added that the first grant had made it possible to set up the study of the formation of stones and to obtain the equipment needed, both for the first three years of work and for the broader study which will be undertaken.

"It is impossible to really delve deeper into the problems of the cause and origin of kidney stones without at the same time working in the areas of renal transplantation and cancer of the kidney," Dr. Boyce said. "There may be implications in terms of both detection and therapy of cancer. I feel that considerable progress has been made in control by virtue of previous work."

Dr. William H. Boyce, right, and Dr. J. S. King of North Carolina Baptist Hospital at Winston-Salem inspect equipment used in separating the components of kidney stones. The apparatus is made up of parts obtained in Sweden, West Germany, and this country. A grant of $180,540 from the Hartford Foundation will permit Dr. Boyce's research team to continue and broaden studies of kidney stones which it began in 1959.

The meeting, which was sponsored by the French Ministry of Health and the Vitel Society, was attended by urologists, biochemists, medical researchers, and other members of the medical profession from all over the world with the exception of the Iron Curtain and Asiatic countries.

Dr. Boyce and Dr. King presented papers on the studies they have made at Baptist Hospital and joined in discussions of research being conducted by other

Social Security In Davie County

Farm records are extremely important, Robert C. Thomas, Manager of the Salisbury District Office declared today. Another crop season is in full swing, but no farmer should put off his record keeping. Now is the time, last year some farmers kept only brief records or no records at all. As a consequence they had difficulty in preparing their Social Security taxes are liable for all of the taxes. Failure to file timely Social Security reports results in penalties and interest. Failure to keep adequate records of farm workers' wages could cause even more serious difficulties for the farmers since labor expenses reported by the farmer are subject to verification if challenged by the Internal Revenue Service of the Social Security Administration. Adequate records do not mean elaborate bookkeeping. Thomas said. Most farmers are able to use the simple farm record book available through his county agent. Entries of income and expenses reported by the farmer on a day-to-day basis provide the essential information.

Davie - Rowan Farmers Borrow $422,570 From FHA Last Year

The Farmers Home Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture loaned farm families and other rural people in Rowan and Davie counties a record total of $422,570 in fiscal 1962 which ended on June 30. Clarence H. Sink announced today.

The volume of loans in this area, largest during any 12 month period in the local office's history, was 101 per cent larger than the 1961 total of $210,320, and 130 per cent above the $183,410 loaned in 1960.

Nearly one-third of the total loaned during fiscal 1962 went for farm operating expenses, almost a half for the purchase, development or enlargement of family farms, and about a sixth went for the construction and improvement of houses and service buildings on farms and in rural communities.

Collections of principal and interest totaled $158,886 in 1962. None of the borrowers in the unit are delinquent on payments and a number of them pay ahead of schedule by making regular monthly payments. Loans outstanding on June 30 in the Rowan-Davie area amounted to $1,152,955.

Three recent improvements more adequately equipped the Farmers Home Administration to meet farm credit needs in 1962 according to Mr. Sink: A positive, vigorous policy toward the promotion and preservation of the family farm; broad expansion of the agency's programs by the Agricultural and Housing Acts of 1961; and an increase in the supply of appropriated and insured funds.

"Farmers are requiring larger amounts of credit each year," Mr. Sink said. "The upward trend in farmers' credit needs stems from the continuing rise in farm costs and the pressing need to make adjustments and improvements in farming methods to stay in business."

"I believe it is especially worthwhile to also note that our borrowers spend most of their money locally to acquire the resources they need. This spending in turn stimulates business activity in neighboring towns; helps the farm and other rural families and the communities of which they are a part make an important contribution to the strength of the national economy."

Farmers Home Administration loans are accompanied by technical farm and financial management advice to the extent necessary and are made only to applicants unable to obtain the credit they need from private and co-operative lenders. County Supervisor Sink estimated that he made 670 farm visits during the year and held 27 county committee meetings during which time applications for loans were reviewed.

Mr. Sink's county offices which service the Rowan - Davie area are located at the County Building in Mocksville, and the Farm and Health Center Building in Salisbury.

Fair Office Moves To "Little White House"

"Dixie Classic Fair," says the cheery voice at Park 3-7361 in Winston-Salem, but there's always a terrific temptation to add "Little White House Office," reports Fair manager Neil Bolton.

Each year about one month before the Fair opens, Bolton and his staff move from their offices in the Coliseum to a small, white, cottage-type house at the other end of the fairgrounds. Here the Fair people have their headquarters now and are preparing to ride the waves of the ever-increasing pre-opening day tempo—receiving exhibit entries right up to the very last minute (September 19 this year), answering the never-ending questions, and tending to the thousand and one other matters making up the minutiae of Dixie Classic Fair details.

And here they'll stay throughout the Fair's showing, October 9-13.

So, don't be surprised if you call the Fair and think you have the White House. You probably have — the one on the Dixie Classic fairgrounds!

Lt. Norman L. Carlton Serving In Germany

First Lt. Norman L. Carlton, a former Sergeant E-5 and resident of China Grove, Rt. 3, has been assigned as assistant S-4 (supply officer) with the 21st Replacement Battalion, Germany.

Lt. Carlton comes to the 21st from Weapons Department of the U. S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga., where he was an instructor. He was also a weapons instructor at the School prior to entering officer candidate school in 1958. He graduated in 1959.

Lt. Carlton is married to the former Betty Mock of Advance, Rt. 2. His wife is in Germany with him. Lt. Carlton's father, Eddie L. Carlton, resides at China Grove, Rt. 3.

The lieutenant attended China Grove High School. He wears the Combat Infantryman Badge and the Parachutist Badge.

A summer vacation is to be enjoyed. Don't strain yourself to impress others or to prove you're still the athlete you were at age 20. Participate in sports that match your physical fitness, cautions the North Carolina Heart Association.

LIBRARY NEWS

By MRS. I. H. HUSKE

On Saturday morning, Sept. 1, at 9:30, the Davie County Public Library was pleased to present Miss Theresa Foster, former student assistant in the library, broadcasting a children's story hour from Davie County's new Radio Station WSDC.

Miss Foster's program was the first one presented under the auspices of the library. Beginning on Sept. 12, however, your public library will offer a regular fifteen minute program, originating in the studios of WSDC each Wednesday at 1:45.

In addition to our Library News in this paper, we are glad to have this opportunity to serve the people of Davie County through station WSDC. We hope you'll "tie a string around your finger" and remember to tune in on Wednesday, Sept. 12 and each Wednesday thereafter at 1:45.

"It is a well known adage that one cannot serve two masters. An insurance agent who is a salaried employee of an insuring company cannot help but lean toward the company in making claim settlements. ### Davie Plays Thomasville Here On Friday Night At 8 P.M.

Rebels Lose Opener To East by 33 to 0

The Davie County High School Rebels will play Thomasville High School here on Friday night. Kickoff time is set for 8 p.m. at the Davie High School stadium.

New concrete bleachers with seating for approximately 1,000, have been erected on the Davie side of the field. The old bleachers have been moved across to the visitor's side. A steel tower has also been erected for the purpose of photographing the game with a movie camera and by the scorekeeper.

Coch Jack Ward's sophomore studded team bowed to a strong East Forsyth team in its opener last Friday night, 33-0.

Ground pounding East Forsyth led 13-0 at the half and added 20 points in the second half. They scored as follows:

Shouse on a 2 yard plunge; Hedgecock on a two yard plunge; Spivey on a 23 yard run; Shouse on a 95 yard run; and Warren on a 73 yard run.

Davie generated several drives but failed to push the ball across for a score.

Davie has 6 first downs, East had nine.

Davie had 108 yards rushing, East had 292.

Davie completed two out of six passes for 12 yards. East completed three of six passes for 35 yards. Neither team intercepted a pass.

Davie lost the ball three times on fumbles. East none.

Davie punted three times for an average of 20 yards a kick. East punted three times for an average of 27 yards.

Both teams were penalized a total of 35 yards each.

Merchants Hold Dinner Meeting

At a meeting of the Merchants Association held Tuesday night, the following were elected officers: Lester Blackwelder, president; Vernon Dull vice-president; and Jim McBride, Sect.-Treasurer.

It was voted to hold the next meeting the first Tuesday in October, and subsequent ones the first Tuesday of each quarter.

Duke Power Announces Farm Awards Program

Duke Power Company announced today a program designed to recognize its farm customers who achieve greater efficiency by means of all-electric operation.

E. E. Goodwin, Duke Power Manager of Mocksville Branch said the all-electric farm awards program will become effective September 12, 1962.

Awards to farmers who qualify include a customized, attractive metal outdoor farm sign and a framed certificate. In addition, the farmers will be honored at an awards banquet.

The banquet will be held early each year for farmers qualifying during the preceding year. Duke Power's agricultural engineers will inspect and determine if eligible applicants meet the program's specifications.

General requirements call for: the farm residence to qualify for Duke Power's all-electric rate, the farm wiring and lighting to meet prescribed standards, the farm water system to be adequate, and electricity to be used for all farm needs when practical.

In addition, there are some requirements covering specific types of farms.

Mr. Goodwin said complete details on the program may be obtained from any Duke Power office.

Building Permit

Local residents are reminded that according to the zoning ordinance of the Town of Mocksville, every person building or remodeling any building costing more than $50.00 must have a building permit and must comply with the zoning ordinance according to law.

Joe W. Foster, building inspector for the Town of Mocksville, has required the cooperation of the public in abiding by this law.

"Please get your permit before beginning any building. This may save you a lot of trouble later for this ordinance will be enforced", said Mr. Foster.

This permit may be obtained either from Mr. Foster or the Town Office.

Homecoming at Advance

Homecoming will be observed at Advance Methodist Church on Sunday, Sept. 16. The Rev. R. J. Stalling, a former pastor, will deliver the morning sermon. He is pastor of Wesley Memorial Church in Winston-Salem. Lunch on the church grounds will be held at 12:45 p.m. and at 2 p.m. a program of music will be presented.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

The $25 Extra Cash Award

The extra $25.00 cash prize offered last week proved very helpful to all who used extra effort. Many extra sales were made, many extra votes gained toward the regular awards and commission winners added more to their final winnings.

As announced last week the winner of this extra $25 prize will be announced on or before the close of campaign. All interest this week should be centered on the very important EXTRA vote offer ending this Saturday, September 15th.

NEW CONCRETE BLEACHERS . . . have been built on the home side of the Davie High School football stadium. These new seats will offer seating accommodations for approximately 1,000 on this side. The old bleachers have been moved to the visitor's side.

Religious Census

A religious census by Fork Baptist Church will be held Sunday, Sept. 16 at 2 p.m.

In the Fork and surrounding community—on U. S. 64 the territory covered will be from the Yackin River to Dutchman's Creek. On route 801 the territory will be from Dutchman's Creek to Marsland road south of Advance.

The pastor of the church will direct the census together with the assistant Sunday School Superintendent, Buddie Foster. Around 50 people have pledged to do the surveying, and an additional 30 cars will be furnished by others to transport the surveyors.

This will be a permanent census in that it will not have to be taken again. As long as a person lives in this area they will not be visited again in taking a census.

Car Wrecks On US 601 In Attempting To Pass

An 18 year old boy lost control when he attempted to pass another vehicle on wet pavement last Sunday and struck embankment and overturned.

Wayne E. Hamilton, 18, of Mocksville, Rt. 4, was cited by Trooper G. W. Howard of the State Highway Patrol for driving too fast for existing conditions.

Trooper Howard said that his investigation showed that Hamilton was operating a 1956 Ford on US 601, a half-mile north of Mocksville, near Joppa Cemetery. Hamilton attempted to pass a 1959 Ford being operated by Clay Harbin, 46, of Mocksville, striking this car in the right rear. Hamilton then skidded across the road, off left side, struck embankment and overturned.

Damage to the 1956 Ford was set at approximately $500. Approximately $50 damage was done to the 1959 Ford.

S. B. I. Chief To Speak At Methodist Rally Sunday Night

Anderson to Speak In Center Arbor

Walter F. Anderson, Director of the North Carolina Bureau of Investigation, will be the featured speaker at the annual Davie County Methodist Evangelistic Rally to be held at the Center Methodist Church Arbor on Sunday evening, Sept. 16, at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Anderson, a native of Davie County, is very prominent as a layman of the Methodist Church.

In addition to Mr. Anderson, familiar hymns and "favorite hymns" of the people are to be sung at this evangelistic rally. The music will be under the direction of the Rev. Jack B. Yarbrough, pastor of the Oak Grove Methodist Church.

Mr. Anderson was born in Davie County on Oct. 8, 1903, son of James Garfield and Tobitha Tutlerow Anderson. He married Miss Mary Elizabeth Powell. They have three children: Miss Mary Louise Anderson, Mrs. Nancy Janet Anderson Hollowell; and Mrs. Doris Foster Anderson Laster.

He received his education by attending Mocksville High School, Rutherford College, Institute of Government of the University of North Carolina, and the F. B. I. National Academy.

At the age of 22, Mr. Anderson entered law enforcement as a patrolman with the Winston-Salem Police Department on Oct. 8, 1925. He served through the ranks and was made Chief of the Department on Feb. 1, 1935. On Oct. 1, 1942, he resigned as Chief of Police in Winston-Salem to accept the appointment as Chief of Police for the City of Charlotte, where he served until April

WALTER F. ANDERSON

1, 1946, when he resigned to accept the position as Director of the State Bureau of Investigation.

Mr. Anderson holds life membership in the International Association of Chiefs of Police and was honored to serve as its president 1950-51. He served as President of the F. B. I. National Academy Associates from 1941 to 1947 and as a member of the instructional staff of the FBI National Academy.

An active layman in the Methodist Church, he is teacher of the Wesley Bible Class of the Fairmont Methodist Church of which he is a member. He is President of the Board of Evangelism for the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church; a member of the General Board of Evangelism of the Methodist Church; a delegate to the Southeastern Jurisdictional Conference and a delegate to the General Conference of the Methodist Church.

Biggest Drop In Votes Of The 'Entire' Campaign Comes After This Saturday September 15th

Many Subscriptions Will Be Sold This Week While They Count Most for Votes; Few Days Left of Big Offer; Only 21 Working Days Left in Which to Win or Lose $2,500.00 Ford

First and Second Awards in "Campaign Of Progress" Amount to $3,000 in Value; Your Opportunity to Win Is Just as Good as Your Competitors: Think This Over Seriously and Do Not Overlook Anything This Week on Last Call for "Biggest Extra Vote."

The results of The Enterprise and The Courier "Campaign of Progress" for circulation last week was most gratifying. With a few exceptions each candidate went "over the top" in great style and with colors flying turned in more than they predicted they would at the beginning of the week.

As the final call goes out for the end of the biggest extra vote on $20 "Clubs" of Progress" are combing their territory in an effort to obtain all possible subscriptions. Saturday night promises to see all records broken in the number of subscriptions turned in so far in the campaign. In fact, several of the members already have a nice business lined up to secure this week and those who haven't will do well to take heed and get busy in that last minutes rush for the big credits.

BIG VOTE OFFER
Beginning Monday, Sept. 10, and ending Saturday, Sept. 15, 176,000 extra votes will be given on each and every $20 worth of both new and old subscriptions turned in. This is the last of the three biggest extra vote offers that will be made for $20

"Clubs" of subscriptions, and the candidate who is ahead at the end of this vote offer will more than likely have a better side of the vote question at the end of the campaign.

CANNOT TRANSFER VOTES
Votes cannot be transferred by a worker who withdraws from campaign. All workers who work for a while and have votes earned and percentages shown to their credit, then stop for any reason will have all votes cancelled according to the rules of the campaign.

CHANGES TAKE PLACE
Candidates who have been slightly down on the list of standings are climbing to the top. This is apparently making those who had a few more votes to their credit realize that the margins of leadership are very narrow, and it's anybody's race for the big awards.

Saturday night ends the biggest extra vote offer to be made for $20 "Clubs" of subscriptions and the biggest and best offer of the campaign is narrowing down to a matter of only a few days. Soon — and almost before you know it — this big extra vote offer will be over. They go way down. By all means there is no time to be lost — every single moment is of vital importance and should be the means of pushing you that much further to success.

Hard Fight For "Lead" Now On As Biggest Drop In Votes Comes Saturday 15th

Candidates are waging a furious battle for the all-important subscriptions in The "Campaign of Progress" this week as the final offer of the biggest votes of $20 "Clubs" of subscriptions comes to a close Saturday night. All workers are busy this week. Saturday promises to show the best results of any week of the campaign so far.

It Can Be Win Or Lose This Week. Think - Figure - Act

The Candidates' Names And Addresses Only Are Shown In This Issue With All Interest Centered On This Important Extra Vote

Ellis - Brannon Vows Are Spoken

In an 11 o'clock ceremony on the morning of Sept. 8 at Macedonia Moravian Church...

The Rev. Taylor Loflin, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony assisted by the Rev. Robert S. Hawks of Lewisburg...

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Roy Ellis of Advance. She was graduated from Mocksville, and received her B.S. degree in French and English from Appalachian State Teacher's College in Boone...

The Rev. Mr. Brannon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Brannon of Raleigh. He was graduated from Needham Branch High School in Raleigh and Hampden-Sydney College in Hampden-Sydney, Va. He served for two years in the air branch of the United States Navy...

The bride's father gave his daughter in marriage. Her dress of white peau de soie and charming lace was designed by the bride and made by her mother. Her veil of illusion fell from a crown of lace and seed pearls and she carried a lace covered Bible topped with a single white orchid.

The bride's cousin, Mrs. Richard Everett Sheek of Clemmons, was matron of honor. She wore a dress of willow green satin with a matching green bandeau headpiece covered with net. She carried a single bronze chrysanthemum. Bridesmaids were Miss Jane Douglas of Charlotte, and Mrs. R. B. Kermer IV of Winston-Salem. They wore dresses of antique gold satin with matching gold bandeau headpieces covered with net. They, too, carried single bronze chrysanthemums.

10,000 All-Electric Homes On Duke Power

When the F. P. Stewarts of Charlotte bought their new home at 3801 Seaman Drive they were unaware of the special nature of the house. Today they found out that it is the 10,000th all-electric residence on the Duke Power system.

W. B. McGuire, Duke Power President, donned hard hat and safety equipment today and installed the gold-plated meter that signals this milestone. After the meter was in place, T. M. Patrick, Jr., Assistant Charlotte Branch Manager, presented the Stewarts with an electric clothes dryer.

The Stewart home was featured in the 1962 Charlotte Parade of Homes in which 26 of the 33 homes on display were all-electric. When Duke Power introduced its special low all-electric rate in 1958, there were 632 electrically heated homes on the system including the United States First Gold Medallion home located in Hickory. By 1959's end there were 1705; 1960 - 4008; 1961 - 7358. Through August the total has risen to 10,091. Currently, 100 new all-electric homes a week are being added to the company's lines. This is a 37% increase in the pace set last year for new homes, and a 68% increase in conversions from other forms of heating.

All-Time High Priced Guernsey Bull Sold To Curtiss Breeding Svc.

Mrs. Gertrude McNaught, owner of Rolling Acres Farm, Elgin, Ill., has announced the sale of their Gold Star Herd Sire, Norger, Royal Nance, to Curtiss Breeding Service, Inc., Gary, Ill. In announcing the sale, Mrs. McNaught also revealed that a new all time high for the Guernsey breed was established in the selling price of $60,000. She also commented that bid, were made to purchase Nance by several bull stars in the country, as well as a syndicate of breeders.

Nance has just been announced by the American Guernsey Cattle Club as the youngest Gold Star sire of the breed. In earning his Gold Star, his first 11 two-year-old daughters to complete records average 13,325 milk, 651 fat, which is one of the highest Gold Star awards ever made. In type classification his daughters average 86.4. This is also one of the high classification averages for the breed.

A. Curtiss he will be made available in its nationwide artificial breeding program through its organization of over 1300 representative in 47 states and several foreign countries. Eddie C. Newsome of Mocksville, Rt. 2, is the representative in this area.

Activity In Reynolds

Tobacco Building

[By GENE BOWMAN]

There is lots of activity going on out on Baltimore Road at the site of R. J. Reynolds tobacco processing plant building.

A large sign on the premises states that this is Project 3618, Davie Processing Plant. Bulldozers hum up and down an area that is now being leveled off, and the framework of one building is under way, fast to completion. The cement floor and ground work of a second building is also begun. Judging by the number of cars parked on the grounds, a large number of workmen are employed on this project. It can be envisioned that a mammoth plant will rest on the site when all building is completed.

FUNERALS

S. R. Latham, 80

Funeral services for Samuel Rowe Latham, 80, of Salisbury St., Mocksville, were held Monday afternoon at the Baton Funeral Chapel. The Rev. W. W. Blanton officiated. Burial was in the Wesley Chapel Methodist Church cemetery with Masonic rites.

Mr. Latham died Sunday at 6:20 a.m. at the Davie County Hospital. He had been in declining health several years.

He was born in Davie County to James and Nancy Ferebee Latham. He was a member of Mocksville Methodist Church and was a past member of the board of trustees.

Mr. Latham was a past master of the Mocksville Masonic Lodge and had served as a director of the Mocksville Savings and Loan Association. He taught school in the early 1900s in Davie County and was a retired rural mail carrier.

Surviving are his wife, the former Mrs. Bessie Beck; three sons, James Latham of Fayetteville, Sam Latham of Mocksville and Robert Latham of Dayton, Ohio; two daughters, Mrs. F. B. Shore of Mount Airy and Mrs. William H. Benson of Charlotte; and six grandchildren.

Two Cars Damaged In Wreck Saturday

Two cars were damaged in a collision Saturday around 7:30 p.m. on the Pine Ridge Road, 2 miles west of Cooleemee.

A 1961 Ford, being operated by William C. Phelps, Jr., was stopped in the road to make a left turn and was hit in the rear by a 1962 Dodge being operated by Fred C. Foster, 42, of Route 4, Mocksville.

Trooper G. W. Howard of the State Highway Patrol investigated the accident. Foster, 42, of Rt. 4, Mocksville, was charged with driving drunk.

Damage to the Dodge was estimated at $150, and to the Ford, $100.

Three Car Collision Occurs Here Tuesday

Two women suffered minor injuries early Tuesday morning in a three car collision at the intersection of Hospital and Wilkesboro Streets in Mocksville.

Mocksville Chief of Police Joe W. Foster said that his investigation showed that a 1960 Ford, being operated by Sue Sprinkle Eaton, 51, of Salisbury, failed to observe stop sign and came out into Wilkesboro Street in front of a 1957 Dodge being operated by Harold Franklin Lashmit, 28, of Rt. 1, Mocksville. The Dodge, traveling south on Wilkesboro Street, hit the Ford in the left side. The Ford spun around and struck a 1955 Pontiac which was heading north on Wilkesboro St., knocking the Pontiac into the ditch.

Damage to the Dodge was estimated at $700; to the Pontiac, $500; and the Ford was declared a total loss, being in excess of $1,000.

Elizabeth Blackwelder, a passenger in the 1955 Pontiac being operated by Paul Albert Blackwelder, suffered abrasions as did Mrs. Bert Carter, a passenger in the Ford.

Mrs. Eaton was charged with failure to stop for stop sign.

THE OLD SHOWBOAT ERA...

The flaming death of the old Goldenrod adds a nostalgic footnote to the wonderfully brassy era of the showboat.

A generation has passed, actually, since American river towns rang with the shrill cry, "Here comes the showboat!" Since the callope screeched and crowds tripped down to the landing to see such immortal offerings as "Lure of the City" and "Ten Nights in a Barroom."

When five recently destroyed the Goldenrod, it had been becalmed in St. Louis since 1937. The Majestic had left the Ohio having been bought by Indiana University as a summer theater for its drama students. Virtually all other old-time showboats are gone.

The floating theater was a long time dying, however, says the National Geographic Society. It was pure Americana, born of the frontier. After people of the hinterlands defected to Hollywood's silent films, a few sentimentalists tried to keep showboats going.

It was a losing battle. Modern audiences would accept only a travesty of the showboat's once serious and staple fare—mortgages, mustachioed villains, blue-eyed heroes, and unblemished ingenues who ever faced but never quite had to endure a fate worse than death.

Oddly, this uniquely American form of entertainment was founded by a British theatrical family—the Chapmans. Earlier, Noah Ludlow and his troupe had meandered down the Mississippi, but there is no evidence they ever gave a performance aboard their makeshift boat, Noah's Ark. London's William Chapman came to the United States in 1827. He was an actor of stature, who had played with the luminous Mrs. Siddons at Covent Garden. In Pittsburgh, a boat-building center, Chapman and his family became interested in the use of river boats to bring live theater to frontier towns on waterways. They bought a barge and embarked on a July evening in 1831.

The Chapmans drifted down the Ohio and Mississippi in summer and autumn, playing one-night stands at landings wherever an audience might gather. The price of a ticket was 50 cents (preferably), a peck of potatoes, two gallons of fruit, or a side of bacon. On reaching New Orleans, the Chapmans would sell the boat, make their way back to Pittsburgh, and acquire another for the coming season.

By 1836, the prospering family was able to buy a steamboat which could return upstream under its own power and venture into tributaries such as the Wabash, the Tennessee, and Yazoo.

It was perhaps prophetic of showboat drama's future when William Chapman, depicting the Ghost in "Hamlet," came onstage wearing his spectacles—as well as armor. His forgetfulness set off roars of laughter.

Frontier audiences were treated to a surprising amount of Shakespeare. Actors were then regarded as something less than pillars of society, so they often included the Bard to give themselves an air of respectability.

While the Chapmans were skilled professionals, other showboat troupes had a more difficult time with the classics. Billy Bryant one-time showboat king of the Ohio, remarked, "It's an awful think to talk for two hours and know not the true meaning of one blessed thing you have said." He added that the spectators looked "as if they had been gassed or something."

"Hamlet," in consequence, underwent considerable rewriting on American showboats.

A favorite version concluded with all the Danes dead and at rest in Ophelia's grave. A latter-day version of "Hamlet" featured such extraneous characters as "Harry the Bug" and "Red Light Annie."

Melodrama proved to be the best medium for showboats, and early audiences took it seriously. In Pittsburgh, a burly steelworker leaped onto the stage, grabbed the villain, and tossed him overboard. A Kentucky farmer could not be dissuaded from passing through the audience to take up a collection for the destitute wife (sobbing onstage) of a gambler.

Showboat actors may have known nothing of The Method, but methods they had in abundance. A musically gifted hero of "Kentucky Sue" contrived a memorable death scene for himself: He managed to fall partly into the wings with only his legs showing so he could play his own requiem on the violin. A gunman thought nothing of shouting "Bang! Bang! Bang!" if the offstage sound-effects man was dozing, fishing, or otherwise off cue.

With time out for the Civil War, showboats plied Mid-West waterways well into the 20th century. The James Adams Floating Theatre, visited by Edna Ferber in 1924 before she wrote her novel "Show Boat," played the Albemarle and Chesapeake regions.

Only one showboat ever went to sea. The Hippodrome was wallowing from the Mississippi Sound to Mobile Bay when it got caught in a storm that raged for 20 hours. The captain said he'd never seen such a praying bunch of actors.

To present-day theater lovers, the word "showboat" evokes scenes of gingerbread scrollwork and red plush, of candles flickering as footlights, of magnolia-scented towns and wharves piled high with cotton bales.

But showboat life probably was never very glamorous. Quarters were crowded and damp. Many a showboat came to grief in fire, flood, ice, or on hidden snags. Few entrepreneurs made fortunes. There was, in fact, an old river adage: "Unless you want to go broke too slowly, buy two showboats."

SO THIS IS NEW YORK . . .

One day riding on a 5th Avenue bus. I bumped into a genial man with wavy gray hair and learned that he was Charles Malik of Lebanon, President of the United Nations General Assembly. His smiling friendliness impressed me, and when his book, "Christ and Crisis" came to my desk recently, it held a special interest. The gist of the little volume is this: there are three unpardonable sins today: to be flippant or superficial in the analysis of the world situation; to live and act as if halfhearted measures would avail; and to lack the moral courage to rise to the historic occasion. Everybody has a role to play. There is little I can add, except to say that from my impression of Charles Malik, he is as sincere in stating this as a modern human being can be.

This city has many people for whom the night becomes the day. One of these is Charles Frake, repairman for street lights. His route is from 50th to 125th Street across the width of Manhattan, and during the summer, he has had plenty of company. Children from hot tenement houses surround his truck, asking for a ride or anything to relieve the nocturnal monotony of heat which will not let them sleep. Charles has to see that a yellow light glows brightly over each

"The grandest operations, both in nature and grace, are the most silent and imperceptible. The shallow brook bubbles in its passage and is heard by everyone; but the coming on of the seasons is silent, and unseen. . . . The storm rages and alarms, but its fury is soon exhausted, and its effects are but partial and soon remedied; but the dew, though gentle and unheard, is immense in quantity, and is the very life of large portions of the earth. . . . Cecil Samuel Rowe Latham led a relatively quiet and useful life in this community. As a school teacher in the early 1900's he performed the useful task of teaching the youth. Then as a rural mail carrier he made friends up and down the road as he braved the elements to carry the mail through. As a member of the Masonic Lodge for the major portion of his adult life, Mr. Latham rendered great service to this organization and his fellowman in serving in the various offices, including that of Master. He was a devoted family man and a member of the Mocksville Methodist Church. He was a man that enjoyed living quietly as he served others.

Uncle Dave From Davie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: I reckon we had what them Congressmen would call a filibuster at the country store Saturday night. Ed Doolittle took the him to set down that it is to git Senator Morse to shut up.

First off, Ed was upset over reading in the papers where Senator Gruening of Alaska got up in the Senate the other day and give a commercial for his new state. He announced that men in Alaska by 22,587 as of now and advised wimmen to hurry to Alaska where the gap closed.

Clem Webster allowed a show they used the Senate fer everting else and he didn't see nothing wrong with Senator Gruening trying to git rid of the bachelors in Alaska. He recollected onct when Senator Byrd of Virginia got up in the Senate and give a recipe for apple pie, advising that nothing but Virginia apples was fitten fer the best pies. Farthermore, claimed Clem, Senator Byrd even had the recipe printed in the Congressional Record. Anyhow, allowed Clem, bachelors ain't noted fer raising large families and we got to keep large families coming along to meet the tax load. Come to think about it, said Clem: it was a mighty patriotic thing fer Senator Gruening to git up in the Senate and advertise the shortage of wimmen in Alaska.

Bug Hookum was lamenting it was a great pity them Senators didn't spend more time on items like the shortage of wimmen in Alaska and apple pie in Virginia and less time on stockpiling and foreign aid. Bug said it would save the taxpayers billions.

Zeke Grubb, who is a authority on wimmen, put he lid on this subject by claiming it was a dead issue by now anyhow. Zeke reckoned that 24 hours after the Senator's announcement, Alaska was stampeding with wimmen.

Another item Ed claimed upset him a bit was that piece in our latest pamphlet from the department of Agriculture announcing some college was gitting watermelon vines that would grow six or eight melons to the vine like tomatto vines. Ed claimed the country was already overstocked with watermelons and afore we knew it the taxpayers would be paying millions fer storing the surplus.

All the fillers was agreed that folks would have more peace of mind if the Department of Agriculture would quit putting out any more pamphlets till we git the New Frontier better explored. Fer instant, Ed claimed he was reading a piece about a Canibal Chief in Laos setting alongside a pot where he was gitting a victim ready fer dinner. Ed allowed as how the piece said the Chief was reading a U. S. Department of Agriculture pamphlet titled, "100 Ways To Serve Man-kind."

Theme: You Must Give To Get

TEXT: "Serve and thou shalt be served" - Emerson.

A roughly appearing man strode into a sea-side restaurant and snapped,

"Do you serve crabs here?"

"Yes," replied the Waitress. "We serve anyone. Just sit down."

Some businesses simply render service. The restaurant is one; laundrers and dry cleaners are others.

they must serve to gain lasting they must serve to gain lasting satisfaction from living. In our churches, civic clubs and charities we become the servants of others. We give our time, our money, our skills, without pay, to help someone in need; to better our communities, not for ourselves, but for those who come after us. This is a good thing we do for those we would serve and for ourselves. As the grain of wheat which must die before it can grow into a multi-grain-bearing stalk so a part of us must be given away before we can attain our full growth.

Shakespeare wrote, "Service is no heritage." It is not something which someone can give for us. Only as we, personally, serve others can we know the fullness of living. "Remember," said Albert Schweitzer, "you do not live in a world of your own. Your brothers are here, too."

HODGES BOOK . . . The word merchants of the State — writers, reporters, and radioators, that is — will be like chickens over a bread crumb when Luther Hodges' book "Businessman in the Statehouse," makes its formal appearance on Oct. 6.

A goodly sprinkling of advance copies began falling on fertile soil around Raleigh last week. No review of the book can be written before publication date, but you can talk about it as much as you want to. And that's what they were doing around Capitol Square.

The book is published by the University of North Carolina Press. Anybody interested very much in North Carolina politics as it, or they, ebbed and flowed during the 50's will want to read, and own, a copy of Commerce Secretary Hodges' literary effort. Enough said—until Oct. 6.

W. O. SAUNDERS . . . If you are 40 or over, you should know and remember some things about the late W. O. Saunders, Elizabeth City newspaperman and nationally known author. Several national magazines ran his writings.

Down in Perquimans County, where we were brought up, people just could not get through a week without a good dose of W. O. via his very, very readable newspaper, "The Independent." There was nothing weak about that weekly. Mr. W. O. did not miss much that was going on in his home town and surrounding neighborhood. W. O. Saunders was a character.

His son, Keith Saunders, worked on the Raleigh Times here for a time. Keith later went to the Baltimore Sun. While there he became a close friend of Glen L. Martin, and this led to his becoming a sociate with American Aviation Publication in 1957. Now editor of Air Travel Magazine, Keith has taken time out to write a most interesting book, "The Independent Man." It is about his father, went on sale Sept. 7.

ON THE MANTLE . . . W. O. Saunders believed in Northeastern North Carolina. When he died ten route from Norfolk to Elizabeth City in his car a little over 20 years ago, he was one of the leaders of a new organization to promote the Albemarle Sound area. But this was long after his hay-day.

Saunders and his paper were instrumental at one time, we recall, in putting on the train for outward bound—a one way ticket—a visiting minister who had become too familiar with certain flapperish female members of his flock.

At one stage of his colorful career, Mr. W. O. maintained that men should begin to dress as comfortably as women. Forthwith, he began parading hither and yon in pajamas. Although he was wearing more clothing than most women, he was arrested for parading in such undress and made headlines in the big papers in the 20's. He was a natural for that age!

Since I was not yet in my teens, I was never allowed to see "The Independent." It has always placed carefully on the mantel. But rook, bridge, and the weather ran poor seconds to the Independent when it was in high gear.

NOT FUNNY . . . The backhouse edition, which appeared near the tail end of the Saunders era, was dedicated to the determined efforts of the State Board of Health to bring all good Tar Heels out of the woods. In the Roanoke - Chowan area you can still find carefully laid away copies of that classic.

Incidentally, we remember well the backhouse building program. This proved a boon for carpenters in 1925-30. The State had rigid specifications, the cost was $20 and C. O'Laughinghouse was head of the State Board of Health. Backhouses went up by decree like dirt doobers' nests all over North Carolina. We know one man who owned 120 small renter houses. He had to build 120 backhouses; and it nearly ruined him back when a dollar was worth four of these today.

O'Laughinghouse brought no laughter.

The Saunders book, will written, will help you to turn back the pages of time to what we sometimes refer to as "the good old days."

CANCER . . . Lynn Nisbet, Raleigh newspaperman down with caner, made news twice in recent days. He was an honorary member of the Robeson County Bar Association. He was rushed to Rex Hospital last week when he came near dying with a coughing spell.

Nisbet, who has almost literally worn a pipe during the 20 years we have known him, had a lung removed about four years ago. For several years he was one of Good Shepherd's (Episcopal) most popular Sunday School teachers. He brought new stature, during the approximately two decades he served it, to the Association of Afternoon Datties here.

PATRON . . . In looking over the literature of the Debutante Ball held here last week, we noted that one of the honorable patrons was Dr. Harold Tribble, president of Wake Forest College.

Not that it would make any difference, but we would wage dollars to doughnuts he did not know he was being so honored. There is no nicer affair held in Raleigh and we hope his patronage, will not mean trouble for Tribble among no-dancing deacons.

NO STANDOUTS . . . The clan of the Democratic Party gathered here last week in steam gathering for the forthcoming battle with the Republicans.

And, looking over the list, meeting them on Fayetteville St., and speaking to one here and there in the Sir Walter Lobby, we could see no sign pointing to the Democratic standard bearer for Governor a scant year from next spring.

Oh, odd, odd situation indeed. Is nobody running for the office . . . or everybody.

Senator Jordan Reports:

By Sen. B. Everette Jordan

WASHINGTON — The Tariff Commission has dealt a very serious blow to the efforts being made to prevent the further destruction of the textile industry in the United States.

The Commission announcement that it would not eliminate the export subsidy on cotton sold to foreign textile mills means that the textile industry in the United States must continue to pay 8.5 cents per pound more for American cotton than foreign competitors.

The American textile mills are at a serious disadvantage in trying to compete with foreign mills when they are forced to pay 8.5 cents a pound more for cotton than their foreign competitors. It is impossible for me to see anything fair about such an arrangement, but the Tariff Commission has refused to correct it.

Immediately after the Commission announced its decision, President Kennedy issued a statement in which he said he plans to ask Congress to pass legislation to correct the problem.

Under the present program, a foreign manufacturer gets cotton at about 8.5 cents a pound below what domestic mills are required to pay. In effect, the U. S. government pick up the tab between world market prices and domestic prices on overseas shipments.

Under the proposal the Tariff Commission rejected, foreign mills shipping cotton textiles into the United States would have been required to pay a fee representing the 8.5 cents per pound differential.

To me, this was a simple and fair proposition that would have corrected a distinct disadvantage that domestic mills are now forced to work under.

It is impossible to tell at this time what President Kennedy has in mind about corrective legislation. There is no doubt that a "correction" is long overdue. However, in working out a solution we must avoid forcing farmers who produce cotton to carry the burden the textile mills are now carrying. I think it is wrong to shift this burden to the cotton farmers. If it is the policy of this government to continue to give preferential price treatment to foreign mills over domestic mills, then some equitable program must be found to protect our textile mills and the farmers who produce the cotton they use.

BICYCLES AID THE HEART

"We have one of the unhealthiest countries in the world", Dr. Paul Dudley White, the famous heart specialist, told a group in Washington the other day, "because of our abuse of our prosperity".

Almost equally famous as a cyclist and an exponent of the bicycle for health, Dr. White noted that nowadays coronary disease had its beginnings among teen-agers and that arteriosclerosis is striking down people in their 40's and 50's, which he said, is "perfectly ridiculous".

What is needed, said Dr. White, is "vigorous use of the leg muscles"; and for this his prescription is the bicycle.

He says he sees far too few bicycles in his travels, but still, the word is getting around. At last count there were some 50 million pedal pushers in America, and judging from the number of improvised handlebar seats, another one is born every minute. In fact, the "tandem" two-passenger bike of the gay nineties is reported in strong demand, and ingenious adaptations by skilled do-it-yourselfers have produced bicycles accommodating as many as five passengers.

A couple who say they stopped counting birthdays at 70 and are more interested in staying young, leap into their saddles on the slightest provocation. A cycle club of grandmothers in Sarasota, Florida, which ranges far and wide over the Sunshine State is equipped with police whistles to stop traffic at intersections—although these might seem superfluous.

Also there are more bikes on the campus today than in the gaslight era.

As for the children, the bicycle remains a prime necessity and beginners, it seems, are getting younger all the time. The two-wheeler remains unassailable as the priority request in letters to Santa Claus. Teen-agers, once inclined to snoot the bike as "kid stuff", are now very much impressed with the pedaling enthusiasm of the campus set.

And through the streets of this town there are many riding to and from their work and their office on a bicycle.

We doubt, somehow, that the bicycle renaissance is the result of a sudden, nationwide, cradle-to-the-grave urge for health and self-improvement. A more likely explanation is the rediscovery of the elemental fact that riding a bike is fun. If this remains so, we may not need a depression to restore the vim and vigor and pliable arteries that Dr. White signs for....

September 19 Deadline Nears For Fair Entries

Neil Bolton, manager of the Dixie Classic Fair for Northwest North Carolina, today reminded exhibitors that they have only a short time left to submit their official entries.

Wednesday, September 19, is the deadline for entering exhibits in livestock, girls' work, leisure time activities for youth, the Junior flower show, fine arts, crafts, and many other categories at the Fair.

All Home Demonstration booths have been filled, reports Bolton. Space is allotted on a first-come first-served basis. Premiums total $740 in this department.

All spaces for Community Development booths have also been spoken for. Because of space limitations, only 14 applications could be accepted. Awards of $1-200 are offered in this division.

Although pens and stalls are available for beef and dairy cattle, sheep and swine, Bolton reported that he expects a last-minute rush of livestock entries. "Last year we had to turn down some entries," he said. "So if you have some championship animals to show you'd better enter them soon." The Livestock Exposition is offering $22,514 in premium awards.

Bolton also reported a flurry of interest in the Youth Activities, including the Junior dairy shows; the 4-H, FFA, and FHA educational booths; the 4-H and FFA Club field crops exhibit; girls' work; the popular leisure time activities category; the Junior flower show; and the tractor pulling contest. "The young people of Northwest North Carolina can well be proud to say with us, 'I live here,'" Bolton said. "They are indicating their intentions to display their skills and talents at their own Dixie Classic Fair." For complete information, rules, premium lists, and the official entry forms, write Neil Bolton, Manager, Dixie Classic Fair, P. O. Box 7525 (Rynolda Station), Winston-Salem, N. C.

Davie County Soil Conservation Supervisors wish to recognize the fine work accomplished in the teaching of soil and water conservation in the Davie County school system during the 1961-62 school years. C. W. Phillips stated that Mrs. George Shutt's 6th grade submitted to the supervisors essays written on soil conservation. All essays were well written and four were selected for the best content on soil conservation. The four selected were written by: Dickie James, David Cecil, Shirley Wall and Diana Sain. The following is the essay written by Dickie James:

"Our soil is very important to us. We use it every day directly or indirectly. You might say that soil is the most important thing in our lives.

"Many years ago our soil was formed. It takes from 500 to 1,000 years for one inch of soil to form. It was formed by moving water and wind blowing sand against rocks; wearing them away, glaciers making soil by grinding and breaking loose rocks. Water that is running with the help of sand and gravel and water freezing and expanding in cracks of rocks.

"There are many kinds of soil in the world. They have been given many scientific names. Some of these names for these soils are Humus, Loess, and Alluvium. We have been unfair to our soil in many ways. Wearing out our rich soil is a problem almost everywhere today. In many ways we can not help it. We have worn out our soil by neglecting our farms from which plowed and uncovered soil is washed and blown away. When we have no cover crop over 3,000 pounds of soil is washed away per acre in one year. Also when not using fertilizer every year, more and more minerals are taken from the soil and very soon all of the minerals are gone and no crops can be grown on this land. By cutting trees in areas in which there is good soil, rain washes the soil away and makes gullies. When erosion takes hold these gullies may get too big and in this case may have to be filled up.

"Restoring our worn out soil is another one of our problems, and one of the largest ones we have with our soil. By putting back the elements that were lost by means of fertilizer is one way. Also by putting organic matter such as dead plants on the soil. We can conserve our soil against further waste; but it is up to almost every living person. By contouring farming and dams for flood control where there is good land so that the water will not wear the land away. It is up to

Social Security In Davie County

October 31, 1962, is the deadline for employers to mail social security tax reports to the Internal Revenue Service, for wages paid their employees during July, August, and September, 1962, according to Robert C. Thomas, District Manager of the Salisbury Social Security Office.

Every employee engaged in a trade or business is required by law to file a quarterly earnings report even though he had only one employee, or total wages are small.

us today to help our Soil Conservation groups to keep our soil for those of the future."

Household workers such as a maid, cook, laundress, who work in or about an employer's home who were paid cash wages of $50 or more in the 3-month period ending September 30, must also be reported.

Proper reporting means that workers are building family protection toward retirement, disability, or death.

Mr. Thomas urges employers who have any question about their social security tax liability to call the Internal Revenue Office. A convenient self-sealing envelope type tax return is available to household employers for reporting household workers earnings. For social security information call at the local social security office.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM

HAS THE RIGHT CAR

...WHATEVER THE FREIGHT!

OUR artist is highly imaginative, but he is on the right track. You don't see cars like these on the Southern today, but don't bet that you never will. If enough of our customers ever want them, we'll furnish them — just as we are supplying right now an ever-increasing number and variety of special-purpose freight cars custom-designed to meet specific shipping needs.

Here are some "for instances":
Our "BIG JOHN" lightweight aluminum-body covered hopper car, of 5,000 cubic-foot capacity, that can carry a load of 100-tons-plus.

Our easy-load, easy-unload "all-door" freight car with roll-up sides that extend the length of the car.

Our high-capacity, lightweight wood-chip car that can handle more than twice the volume of chips as the formerly used standard hopper car.

Our "Super-Cushion" box car with a special hydraulic shock absorption device that "soaks up" damage-producing shocks.

Our multi-level automobile carriers that haul as many as 12 standard cars or 18 "compacts" from automobile assembly plants to distribution points on the railroad.

Our largest-in-the-world, jumbo box car, so big (10,000 cubic feet) that skylights are provided in the roof to illuminate the car's interior.

Our special container-carrying car in Rail-Highway Service, offering the best of both rail and highway transportation in one package.

Our open-type, lumber-hauling "chain car" that eliminates as much as 80% of manual loading costs, one shipper said.

Most of these special-purpose cars were designed by Southern in our never-ending effort to increase our usefulness to our customers, and to the South. Many new types of freight cars have been introduced by Southern Railway in recent years. Many more are coming. We are breaking with tradition to lower our customers' packaging, handling and transportation costs.

Like we said, don't bet on the future. The fact that something has "never been done" means to us that maybe it's time to do it! Especially, if it will help us increase our usefulness to the territory we serve. All in the South benefit!

THERE IS A BIG DIFFERENCE IN THE VALUE OF FIRST AWARD AND THIRD AWARD. WHAT WILL YOU DO ABOUT IT?

Resale Subscriptions Count More Votes But They Must Be Properly Marked When Turned In. Get Your Share of Resales.

THOSE WHO WISH TO WIN

Figure it out yourself—it takes votes to win in this campaign. It takes the most votes to win the 1963 Ford. Now is the time to figure on getting the winning votes turned in. Look what 15 of those $20 "Clubs" of subscriptions would mean to you in votes. It's up to workers themselves. So get your share of the big votes by Saturday. After that they go DOWN, DOWN.

BIG VOTE DROP

The biggest drop in votes of the entire campaign comes after Saturday, September 15th. Get your share of the biggest "20 Club" votes while they last. $20 Club votes will win the NEW 1963 FORD FIRST AWARD. Now is the time to win.

ASK US ABOUT THE BIG "PRIZE VOTE BALLOT" OFFER. YOUR WORK NOW APPLIES ON IT.

CAMPAIGN FACTS

Important

The majority of the workers in the campaign now realize the importance of getting those winning votes in this week by Saturday, September 15th.

Now Is The Time

Those many, many promised subscriptions, renewals, and resales should be given to your favorite workers this week before Saturday, as that is the end of the three biggest Extra Vote Offers ever to be made on $20 Clubs of subscriptions.

Resale Subscriptions

A Re-Sale subscription is an additional payment or an added sale after the subscriber has already taken one or more years earlier in this campaign. The name of the worker who sold the previous subscription must be shown at top of the subscription blank on the resale subscription when it is turned in. You may sell resales over your own sales or any other worker in the campaign. Resales count for extra votes if properly marked when turned in.

Ask Us More About Re-Sales DO YOU KNOW?

That the increased interest shown in The Enterprise-Record and The Courier of Clemmons and Progressive Newspapers to serve the people of Davie County, Southwest Forsyth County and all nearby areas as most gratifying to the publishers of these newspapers and that it gives the entire staff reason for a determined effort to give The Enterprise and the Courier readers the very best newspapers possible. The Enterprise-Record and The Courier of Clemmons are definitely a part of the business growth of these progressive areas. We unhesitatingly predict that no persons who subscribe to The Enterprise-Record and The Courier of Clemmons will ever have cause to regret the small $3.00 or $5.00 investment in the fastest growing newspapers in this entire area.

To Those Who Have Promised

To those people who plan to subscribe to The Enterprise or The Courier or give a renewal subscription to one of the energetic Campaign of Progress workers, we wish to point out here that the earlier you give your favorite worker the subscription the more votes it will get for those who are striving to build up the necessary winning points. This week is the last of the THREE BIGGEST Extra vote offers of the entire campaign and your subscription will not cost one penny more now than later in the campaign. The Enterprise-Record and The Courier of Clemmons are the BIGGEST Newspaper Bargains in this entire area. Subscribe at your earliest convenience.

Work Hard Now

Campaign workers are urged to make every effort to make this their biggest and best week, as those who finish this week in the top brackets in votes will have the better chance to stay up there until the campaign ends, and be among the better award winners, on October 6th.

LEO F. WILLIAMS
Davie County Farm Agent

"EXTRA PHOSPHATE IS IMPORTANT ON SOILS LOW IN PHOSPHORUS"

Are you seeding small grains, permanent pastures or hay crops on your farm this fall, asks Leo Williams, County Agricultural Agent for Davie County? If so, do you know whether or not your soils are low in phosphorus? Where soils are low in this nutrient it is generally advisable to broadcast "extra" superphosphate and disk it into the soil in addition to the regular fertilization at seeding. Williams points out at least two reasons why this has been proven to be a good practice. First, the phosphorus in fertilizers does not move far from the point where it was applied. Therefore, broadcasting and mixing throughout the plow layer is needed in order to maintain an adequate supply of available phosphorus in the soil. Mixing can only be accomplished prior to seeding pasture and hay crops which remain in the same field for several years.

A second reason for broadcasting "extra" fertilizer phosphorus is related to the capacity of soils to "fix" phosphorus. "Fixing" means changing the phosphorus into forms which are not immediately available to plants. Soils high in iron and/or aluminum usually have a large capacity to "fix" phosphorus. A red color is an indication of the presence of iron. Acidity is another important factor affecting fixation. This is due to the increased solubility of iron and aluminum in acid soils, especially where the pH is below 5.5. Therefore, phosphorus fixation can be reduced by liming acid soils, states Williams.

To determine the phosphorus level and degree of acidity in your soil Williams advises a soil test. Free testing is available from the North Carolina Department of Agriculture's Soil Testing Laboratory. For more information about the procedure for collecting samples Williams suggests that you contact his office.

$100 Extra Prize To Be Won This Week

Town Of Mocksville Awarded $12,492.98 In Powell Bill Funds

An allocation of $12,492.98 in Powell Bill funds to the Town of Mocksville has been announced by the State Highway Commission.

The funds are distributed annually to qualified cities and towns for use in non-highway street work within their corporate limits. Mocksville is one of 413 participating municipalities in this program this year.

Checks to the individual municipalities will be mailed from Raleigh the latter part of this month in order that they will reach municipalities by Oct. 1.

Powell Bill allocations are based on a formula using the population and street mileage in the municipalities and the total allocation this year represents an increase over 1961 of $273,746.82. The allocation to Mocksville was based on the population census of 1960 which showed 2,370 residents, and 16.79 certified non-system miles.

The largest allocation this year went to Charlotte, $689,938.79. The smallest went to Falkland in Pitt County, $302.47. In the 12 years of Powell Bill allocations, a total of $73,788,948.84 has been distributed, and the group of participating municipalities has grown from 386 to 413 with five additional municipalities still under consideration.

The Powell Bill funds are allocated in compliance with Chapter 136 (Section 41.2-41.3) of the General Statutes of North Carolina which requires that a sum equal to the amount produced by one-half cent of the regular six cents per gallon State motor fuel tax be allocated annually to active and qualifying North Carolina municipalities. The allocation is proportioned among the eligible and qualifying municipalities on the basis of relative non-State system local street mileage and relative population, as required by statutes. Each municipality furnishes its own certified local street mileage, along with certified qualifying data.

Cities and towns establish their eligibility by submitting qualifying data concerning their municipal elections, ad valorem tax rates, and other sources of income. There are some legally incorporated towns in North Carolina which do not perform those municipal functions necessary to qualify for an allocation under the statute.

Rear View Mirrors Collide in Accident

Outside rear view mirrors on 2 vehicles collided in a freak accident Tuesday morning around 8 o'clock on the Farmington Road, half-mile out of Farmington.

A 1957 two-ton Chevrolet truck and a 1959 pickup truck met in passing on a 17 foot wide bridge and sideswiped each other with outside rear view mirrors. The glass in the left door of both trucks was broken as were the rear view mirrors.

Harley Andrew Harwood, 41, of Rockwell, N. C., was operating the 2-ton truck and Delmas Glenn Blevins, 35, of Elkin, N. C., was operating the pickup.

Trooper L. E. Woods of the State Highway Patrol investigated the accident. There were no charges.

Episcopal Bishop To Visit Fork Church

The Right Rev. Richard H. Baker, D.D., Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of North Carolina, will make his annual visitation to the Fork Episcopal Church of the Ascension on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 23.

He will preach at the 3 o'clock service, celebrate the Holy Communion, and confirm candidates presented by the Rev. Down C. Splitter, II, Priest in Charge.

No Gas...Stops Theft

Efforts to steal a car from Buster Phillips' Used Car Lot were thwarted this past week end when the Oldsmobile ran out of gasoline and was abandoned on North Main Street.

Revival Services At Church at Ephesus

Revival services at the Church of God of Prophecy, located at Ephesus, will be held Sept. 23-30th. Services will be each evening at 7:30.

Evangelist Lloyd Strickland will do the preaching.

There will be special singing each evening.

The pastor, the Rev. Melvin Waller, issued an invitation to the public to attend.

Rotary Guest Becomes The Featured Speaker

"The Man Who Came To Dinner" found himself to be the featured speaker at the regular Rotary meeting Tuesday.

Lou Dowling of Greensboro attended the Rotary luncheon as a guest with John E. Durham. However, upon arrival Mr. Durham found that he was scheduled for the program... and had none.

He prevailed upon Mr. Dowling, who responded off the cuff as the featured speaker for the event.

Mr. Dowling, who is with the United Security Company of Greensboro, discussed insurance stock. He pointed out that more insurance stock is owned in Mocksville than in any other city of its size in North Carolina.

T. J. Caudell presided. Special guest included Johnny Holton of Greensboro and Gene Junker of Salisbury.

Boyce Whitener Heads Davie Ministerial Assn.

The Rev. Boyce Whitener

The Rev. Boyce Whitener, pastor of the Holy Cross Lutheran Church, has been named president of the Davie County Ministerial Association for the year 1962-63.

The Rev. Kenneth Pollock, Pastor of the Bixby Presbyterian Church, was named as Vice-President and program chairman.

The Rev. C. E. Crawford, Pastor of the Advance Baptist Church, was named as secretary-treasurer.

The election took place at a meeting held on September 5th at the First Methodist Church in Mocksville. In other business, the association discussed regulations and recommendations concerning the morning devotional period over radio station WSDC, Monday through Friday, 9:00-9:15 a.m.

Hospital Bazaar To Be Next Week

The annual bazaar, sponsored by members of the Davie County Hospital Auxiliary, will be held Friday and Saturday, Sept. 28 and 29, in the Assembly Room of the Davie County Office Building.

The bazaar will be held all day Friday and half a day on Saturday. Items for the bazaar are being made and contributed by the people of the county. These contributors are urged to get their items in to their community chairman or to the county office building by Thursday afternoon, Sept. 27. This is with the exception of all perishable items such as cakes and pies, etc., that can be brought in on Friday morning.

All proceeds from the bazaar will be applied to the purchase of items for the hospital which include: drapes for the lobby, wall covering for the halls, and a spectrophotometer.

The following is a list of the general chairman: Mrs. Lester Martin, Jr., aprons; Mrs. James Boger, arts and crafts; Mrs. R. S. McNeill, cakes; Mrs. C. C. Chapman, cookies, pies, breads, candies, etc.; Mrs. H. R. Allen, canned goods; Mrs. E. A. Eckerd, donations (merchants and professionals); Mrs. Cecil Little and Mrs. Roy Harris, donations (manufacturers); Misses Daisy and Nell Holthouser, miscellaneous; Mrs. Gaither Sanford, sewing; Mrs. W. T. Spencer, toys; Mrs. A. W. Ferebee, used clothing; Mrs. Bryan Sell, cashier; Mrs. George Hendricks, supplies and materials; and Mrs. Jeff Caudell, Mrs. Graham Madison and Mrs. Glenn Hammer, arrangements.

Mrs. R. F. Kemp is in charge of contacting the people in Mocksville for contributions, and Miss Mary Foster and Mrs. Armond Smith are in charge of contacting people in the county for contributions.

The Sub-District Methodist Youth Fellowship will have a 'cook-out' on Saturday, Sept. 22, at the Mocksville School Cafeteria.

Hamburgers, hot dogs, and all the trimmings will be served from 12 noon to 8 p.m.

There will be no charge, but each person attending may contribute an offering.

Winner Of $100.00 Extra Prize Will More Than Likely Be The Winner Of 'First Grand Award'

The $100 Extra Cash Prize Which Is For This One Week Only Is 'Spurring' The Real Workers To Greater Effort Toward The $2,500 Ford: This Is Last Extra Cash Prize

Rep. Alexander Asks President To Use Monroe Doctrine on Cuba

Representative Hugh Alexander introduced a resolution Wednesday, Sept. 19, in the House calling on the President to invoke the provision of the Monroe Doctrine in dealing with the situation in Cuba.

Alexander's resolution states that, quote - "that it is the sense of the Congress that the President should take all necessary steps to implement the Monroe Doctrine with respect to the current situation in Cuba."

In a speech made in the House on the introduction of the resolution, Congressman Alexander stated that the Congress should let the President know it supports his efforts to preserve the peace and political integrity of the "Western Hemisphere."

The North Carolina Congressman said that it was his feeling that the President and the Congress should make it abundantly clear that the United States has no intention of permitting a communist threat to exist in our backyard.

For this week only — $100 Extra cash prize will be awarded to the campaign worker who turns in the largest amount of money for subscriptions in the Enterprise - Record and The Courier Campaign of Progress from Monday, Sept. 17, through Saturday, Sept. 22nd. The worker having hopes of winning the new Ford Galaxie first award better make every effort to win this "Extra Cash Prize."

NEW INTEREST AROUSED Members who, up to a week or so ago, had displayed only casual interest in the race realized that their chances of winning the big awards are as good as any other member. The fact that just the subscriptions that are turned in this present week count to apply on the $100 extra prize offered for this week only, gives each and every member on the list exactly the same opportunity to win it. This in itself is creating unbounded enthusiasm.

"Till the day is done they are fighting the battle courageously keeping busy at it in order that the tide will sweep toward them.

Such stirring scenes, with eager campaign members and their friends as well, thrilling with the sport of conquest, seldom have had their equal in the history of the newspaper campaigns in this section of the state.

EXTRA "CLUB" VOTES Beginning Monday, September 17th, and continuing through Saturday, Sept. 22nd, the following extra vote offer will be in effect: Twenty dollars worth of subscriptions entitles the candidate to 144,000 Extra votes. Therefore those who are now working for one of the biggest awards cannot afford to lose any time during this present week. Two $20 "Clubs" this week will pile up 288,000 extra votes. Ten "clubs" this week would earn 1,440,000 extra votes, etc. There will be another drop in votes next week.

RESALE SUBSCRIPTIONS A resale subscription is a further payment by anyone who has already subscribed or renewed their subscriptions for a definite length of time during some previous period of the campaign, and will carry extra votes which amount to more votes than a first subscription payment collected at this time, thus allowing a big advantage in votes to apply on the winning of the bigger and more valuable awards and each member is advised to get as many "resale" subscriptions as possible.

NOTE—IMPORTANT Candidates are requested to mark Resale when they turn in subscriptions, otherwise the campaign department will not be responsible for the additional votes that resale subscriptions carry.

NEW DETERMINATIONS It may be truly said that the real campaign is just beginning judging by the enthusiasm being demonstrated by the campaign workers lately. One and all are more determined now to finish higher in the list than ever before. Again the public is lending its support in a commendable way, and urging the workers on to greater achievement. This increased activity indicates an exceptionally active week in each of the sections. The "alert" members will "bear down" as never before and win the $100 Extra Cash Prize, and then go on to win the New Ford Galaxie Sedan First Grand Award at the end.

Davie Defeats Thomasville; Mooresville Here Friday Night

Rebels Display Hard Running Attack In Win

Davie County High Rebels launched a potent running attack last Friday night that produced with the chips down to defeat Thomasville 13-0 in a non-conference game.

On Friday night the Rebels will begin play in the North Piedmont Conference when they tackle the strong Mooresville team which won the championship last year. The game will be played at the Davie High School stadium with kickoff at 8 p.m.

Ronnie McClamrock led the hard running Rebel crew that racked up a total of 220 yards on the ground last Friday night. McClamrock personally accounted for 91 yards rushing.

The Rebels produced with their backs to the wall on both scoring runs. They tallied on fourth down plays in the second and third quarters.

Tim Travis set up the first score as he raced 30 yards to the 10 yard line. Grimes Parker circled left end for the score and McClamrock ran the extra point. The final tally came in the third period when Travis plunged over from the one after a sustained drive on 65 yards.

A stout Rebel defense held Thomasville to only 72 yards on the ground. Coach Jack Ward paid tribute to his entire defensive unit for an outstanding game.

The victory was the first of the season for the Rebels and evens their record at 1-1.

Wedding Vows Spoken In Macedonia Church

Miss Disa Ann Hurt became the bride of John Francis Wishon in a candlelight ceremony solemnized at 7:30 p.m. Friday, September 14, at the Macedonia Baptist Church. The Rev. Lloyd J. Pardue, officiated using the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hurt of Ronda. Mr. Wishon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Moman Wishon of Farmington.

A program of wedding music was presented by J. Jay Anderson of North Wilkesboro.

The altar of the church was arranged with a background of palms and white pine interspersed with white gladioli and mums and lighted tapers in seven branched candelabra.

Mr. Hurt gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of silk organza over peau de sole with lace appliques, on the front of the skirt which ended in a short train and featured a large bow in the back giving a bustle effect. Her bouffant veil was caught to a crown of seed pearls and crystals. She carried a bouquet of white mums and ivy.

Mrs. Bobby Poplin was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a green brocade sheath dress with a silk organza overskirt and a matching bandeau of organza. She carried bouquet of white mums.

Miss Alana Settle of Mebane, cousin of the bride, was Junior bridesmaid. She wore a dress and bandeau identical to that of the honor attendant.

John Settle of Mebane, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. Vance Link of North Wilkesboro was best man. Ushers were Thomas and Bill Hurt of Ronda, brothers of the bride, Bobby Poplin of Ronda, brother-in-law of the bride, Lee W. Settle, Jr., of Mebane was a junior usher and lighted the candles.

Following the ceremony, the couple left on a trip to unannounced points. For traveling, the bride wore a beige ensemble with matching accessories.

Mrs. Wishon is a graduate of East High School, Ronda and Catawba College. She is a member of the faculty at Pleasant Hill School in Wilkes County.

Mr. Wishon is a graduate of Farmington High School. He is employed by the North Carolina Wildlife Commission as protector in Alleghany County.

Upon returning from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wishon will reside at Sparta.

Mrs. Harry Keever Stroud

Adams-Stroud Vows Are Spoken In Virginia

Miss Irene Garnett Adams of Route 3, Danville, Virginia, and Harry Keever Stroud, were married Saturday, September 15 in Kentuck Baptist Church at Ringgold, Virginia. The Reverend C. M. Shelton officiated at the 8 p. m. ceremony.

The bride wore a two piece dress of rayon acetate with which she used black accessories and a white orchid.

Mrs. Stroud is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sanford Adams of Route 3, Danville, Virginia. She is a graduate of Dan River High School and The Memorial Hospital School of X-Ray Technician. She has worked as x-ray technician the past year at Suffolk, Va.

Association For Retarded Children Meets Thursday

The Davie County chapter of the Association for Retarded Children will meet on Thursday night, Sept. 20, at 8 p.m. in the Davie County Office Building.

The program for this meeting will be given by three children from the county who spent a week at Camp Pamlico this summer. They were sponsored by the local chapter.

Mrs. W. M. Long, secretary of the local chapter, has reported attending the 10th annual convention of the N. C. Association for Retarded Children held at the Sheraton Hotel in High Point Sept. 14, 15, and 16. Slides were shown at the convention of activities at Camp Pamlico.

The N. C. Association was organized in High Point in June of 1953 at a meeting attended by statewide interested persons and Taylor Kennerly of High Point was the first president.

The convention last week had as its theme, "The Total Program," and consisted of addresses and seminars on the various phases of the problem of mental retardation. A featured address was by Dr. Henderson Hardsman, professor of Education at the University of North Carolina. There were also panel discussions on subjects relating to Institutions for the Retarded, Residential Homes, Workshops, and Religious Education for the Retarded. Features of the convention were a luncheon on Saturday, a Past Presidents' banquet on Saturday night, and a meeting of the Executive committee on Sunday afternoon. All sessions were open to the public. Archie Talley of Winston-Salem is president and there are more than 6,000 paid members to date.

Two Cars Damaged In Collision Sunday

Two cars were damaged in a collision Sunday around 3:20 p.m. on US 601, seven miles south of Mocksville. A 1949 Oldsmobile was declared a total loss and damages to a 1958 Chevrolet were estimated at $450.

Trooper L. E. Woods of the State Highway Patrol said that his investigation showed that the Oldsmobile was being operated by James Carl Wood of 314 Lloyd St., Salisbury, and came out of the Boxwood Church Road, stopped at the stop sign, then pulled out in front of a 1958 Chevrolet being operated by Oscar R. Morris, 35, of Lewisville, Rt. 1, which was going north on US 601 at approximately 55 miles per hour.

Trooper Woods said that Morris told him that he swerved left to miss the Oldsmobile and struck this car in the right front end with the right front end of the Chevrolet. The Chevrolet then went across US 601 to the left side and up into a field, coming to rest pointed east in the field. The Oldsmobile came to rest in the middle of US 601.

Trooper Woods pointed out that the accident occurred with the road wet and it raining hard. James Carl Wood was charged with failing to yield right of way.

Sgt. Everett Sain Receives Commendation

SGT. EVERETT G. SAIN

Sgt. Everett G. Sain of Mocksville has been commended for outstanding performance of duty in Thailand.

Major General Briard P. Johnson wrote the following letter to Sgt. Sain:

"1. Upon my departure from Thailand I wish to commend you for your outstanding performance of duty as Operations NCO in the Operations Center during the period 23 October 1961 through 6 August 1962. Your outstanding professional competence, attention to duty and dedications to your job during this period assisted this Joint United States Military Advisory Group in successfully accomplishing its assigned mission.

"2. Your performance of duty reflects credit upon yourself, this JUSMAG, and the United States Army.

"3. I wish you continued success in your military career."

Signed Briard P. Johnson, Major General, U. S. Army, Chief, Sgt. Sain is with the U. S. Army in Bangkok, Thailand.

Driver Charged In Wreck On Monday

A 1957 Ford went out of control and overturned around 6:30 p.m., Monday on N. C. 801, just out of Advance.

Trooper L. E. Woods of the State Highway Patrol, said that his investigation disclosed that Johnny Wayne Willard, 21, of Advance, Rt. 2, was operating the Ford and was going south on U. C. 801. Just out of Advance, he entered a sharp right hand curve at a high rate of speed. He lost control of the vehicle in the curve and skidded 180 feet over across the center line and ran a north-bound vehicle into a side ditch to miss a head-on collision. The Ford then shot across to the right side of NC 801 and off onto the shoulder and then back across to the left side of the highway and struck embankment and rolled over on its top, coming to rest 210 feet from where it came back onto the roadway from the right edge. The vehicle traveled a total of some 400 feet out of control.

Damages to the Ford were estimated at $650. There were no injuries. Willard was charged with reckless driving.

Girl Scout News

On Monday night, Sept. 24, from 9 to 10 p.m. over the CBS television network, a program will be presented entitled "The Road to Button Bay."

This will be sponsored by General Foods and is produced by the Robert Drew Associates.

The program will be a new interpretation of Senior Scouting and is about the Roundup that was held this past July in Vermont.

A report from Girl Scouts in the Pilot Area that attended the Roundup at Button Bay will be given in Mocksville on Saturday, Sept. 22, from 10:30 to 2:30 at the V. F. W. Hut on Sanford Ave. Mary Ann Fulton of Winston-Salem, a patrol leader, will be in charge of the program. The girls will be setting up their patrol areas (tents, stoves, dishwashing facilities), doing demonstrations, discussing swaps, answering questions, and telling those attending about the Roundup.

Passenger Pickup Is Cause of Wreck Tuesday Morning

Two cars were damaged in a wreck around 7:30 a.m. Tuesday on US 601, half-mile south of Mocksville near the school bus garage.

Trooper L. E. Woods of the State Highway Patrol said that his investigation disclosed that a 1953 Chevrolet, operated by Ralph Martin, 47, of Mocksville, was going south on US 601 out of Mocksville at approximately 35-40 miles per hour. A 1951 Chevrolet, operated by Joe Ecstace Daniels, 46, of Mocksville, Rt. 4, was going north into Mocksville at approximately 35-40 miles per hour. A car stopped on the edge of the highway in front of Daniels to pickup some riders. Daniels told Trooper Woods that he never saw a signal until too late and ran off shoulder on right side and then back into roadway and across to left side, a distance of 120 feet, and struck the car being operated by Mr. Martin in the left front with Mr. Daniels' car coming to rest in the ditch on the left side.

Damages to the 1953 Chevrolet were estimated at $150, and to the 1951 Chevrolet at $75. Mr. Daniels was cited for failing to reduce speed when a hazard exists on the highway. "Motorists stopping in early morning or late evening work traffic to pickup or discharge passengers should get completely off traveled portion of roadway," said Trooper Woods. "Too often, as in this case, the motorist who helped cause this accident was not directly involved and drove off leaving the victims of the accident in the side ditch," he said.

Damages to the Ford were estimated at $650. There were no injuries. Willard was charged with reckless driving.

Car Hits Embankment After Highway Skid

A 1962 Ford was damaged around $300 Sunday afternoon when it hit an embankment eight near the intersection of the Redland Road.

Trooper L. E. Woods of the State Highway Patrol said that his investigation showed that the 1962 Ford was being operated by James Roy Sofley, 17, of Rt. 1, Advance. Sofley was heading east on U.S. 158 at approximately 55-60 miles per hour on a wet road when a car in front made a left turn. Sofley applied brakes and went into a skid to the right side of the roadway, struck embankment with front end and spun around, coming to rest pointing east, with left side of car against bank, 150 feet from where he first left the highway on the right side and 40 feet from point of impact with embankment. Damages to the Ford were estimated at $300. Sofley was charged with driving too fast for conditions [wet road and heavy traffic].

Presbyterian Men At Supper Meeting

Keasey graduated from Gettysburg College and Seminary and received his Master of Arts degree from New York University. He has served churches in Pasadena, California and New York City and Pittsburgh. While a pastor in New York, he taught Psychology at Wittenberg University.

The local pastor, The Rev. Boyce D. Whitner, stated that the services would begin on Sunday, September 23 at the eleven o'clock service and continue each evening at 7:30 thru Thursday.

Slick Tires Contribute To Wreck On Slick Road

Slick tires were cited as contributing to an accident around 6:45 a.m., Monday on U.S. 601, two miles north of Mocksville.

A 1956 Chevrolet, being operated by Samuel Paul Ireland, 38, of Mocksville, Rt. 5, ran off the roadway and overturned in a corn field. Mr. Ireland was carried to the hospital by a passerby and was treated and released.

Trooper Woods of the State Highway Patrol said that his investigation showed that Mr. Ireland was traveling south on US 601 at approximately 55-60 miles per hour and the car went into a skid coming out of right hand curve and ran off the roadway on the right side. The Chevrolet then went 260 feet out into corn field, overturning once, coming to rest on wheels.

FUNERALS

Joab D. Collette, 86. Funeral services for Joab D. Collette, 86, of Mocksville, Rt. 2, were held Friday afternoon at the Eaton Baptist Church. The Rev. H. W. Hutchens officiated. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Collette died Thursday at 3 a.m. at the Davie County Hospital. He had been in declining health several months.

He was born in Davie County to Joseph and Elizabeth James Collette and was a retired farmer.

Surviving are his wife, the former Miss Ester Richie, a daughter, Mrs. J. E. Latham of Mocksville, Rt. 2; two grandchildren; a great-grandchild; and two sisters, Mrs. E. W. Harpe of Mocksville, Rt. 2, and Mrs. Cleo Davis of Raleigh.

Letter From Missionary

Dear Gene;

Most people have more reservations about the dentist's chair than Archie, Jr. who fell asleep while having his tooth filled. There is a considerable amount of "fixing" and "filling" going on in our denomination these days; it is not a time for falling asleep.

When you receive this letter our [your] new church building provided by Lottie Moon funds will be finished. Thank you from the depths of our hearts. Did we thank you for the car? For a year and a half we all rode in the one seat of the Volkswagen pick-up. Thank you for the new Peugeot automobile.

The first city-wide revival in the history of Guayaquil finished with 800 decisions. Many of the persons who have made profession of faith during the city-wide campaign have re-affirmed their decisions in the churches. The other Sunday morning a young man came forward saying he just wanted everyone to know that he had accepted Christ as his Savior and Lord. Two weeks ago a young engineer and his wife came profitable quotes

Cutting down on advertising to save money is like stopping the clock to save time.

The urge to trim operating expenses when sales drop off is certainly understandable. But slashing an ad budget can rob a retailer of valuable sales help just at a time when he needs it the most.

The true value of advertising is in its cumulative effect. Consistency in advertising is more important than the size of any one advertisement. There is a lot of truth in the old adage: "There are two good times to advertise—when business is good and when business is bad."

Tough new '63 Chevrolet Trucks are here!

...THE ONES THAT WHIPPED THE BAJA RUN...TOUGHEST UNDER THE SUN... TO SHOW THE WORTH OF NEW ENGINES, FRAMES AND SUSPENSIONS!

Round trip from Detroit to the end of the Baja Peninsula is over 8,000 miles.

Millions of years ago nature fashioned a proving ground for trucks that man can never duplicate. Today it is known as the Baja (bah' hah) California Peninsula, Mexico.

These pictures give you only a bare idea of the place. The road is fine for 140 miles below the U.S. border. Then the beating begins. Rocks and hard-baked ruts bang, jab and jerk the trucks from stem to stern. Loose sand makes them struggle and strain. Dust chokes them. Heat roasts them. Rivers drench them.

The Baja Run took this Chevrolet truck caravan 17 days to go the 1,066 miles. All the trucks performed magnificently. Not one was forced to drop out because of mechanical difficulty.

Trucks that can take this kind of beating can take on your toughest truck jobs. Come in now and see tough quality-built '63 Chevrolet trucks with all their new improvements.

CAMPAIGN FACTS

Something Worth Thinking About...

The winner of the EXTRA $100 Cash Award will more than likely be the winner of the 1963 Ford Galaxie Sedan. Workers have been urged to make this their biggest week.

Time Growing Short

There are only 15 working days left in which to get those winning votes either to do a bit of climbing in the vote line-up or to protect those good votes if you are already in the "Top Running" group.

Good Group Of Workers

We are happy to state again at this time that there are some wonderful workers in the race and since the competition is close at this time among several, we urge all workers to make every possible moment count now, to hold the good positions gained up to this time or to make the small margins of gain that might be needed to get in the "Top Running."

The Extra $100 Prize

The offer of the extra $100 Cash Prize at this time can be the means of helping every worker to gain more votes, or help a small worker to climb nearer to the top. $100 Extra won will also go a long way toward covering traveling, postage, and other costs incurred in making a successful canvass of the wide areas in which the Enterprise-Record and The Courier of Clemmons are popular and saleable.

Do Not Weaken Now

Surely no one of the good workers should show any signs of weakening at this crucial period of the campaign. You owe it to yourself and your friends to keep diligently on the job, in whatever time you can use in getting more votes to carry you on to victory.

Mister Subscriber:

To all who now are regular readers of The Enterprise-Record and The Courier we are striving to give you GOOD newspapers, we hope that you like them and we will welcome an additional year or so added if you feel that you will be enjoying the type of newspapers we publish, and a second payment will add greatly to your favorite worker's votes.

HUNTING SAFETY

The fall hunting season is here again and millions of Americans of all ages and both sexes are taking to the woods and fields, gun in hand, bent on bringing back a loaded game bag.

Firearms, from a single-shot .22 calibre rifle to a heavy big game weapon to a fast-shooting automatic scattergun, are designed to kill birds and animals. They also can kill or wound humans.

Each fall several hundred hunters don't return alive and thousands of others return with a load of bird shot or a rifle bullet to be dug out. Behind almost every hunting accident is one cause: carelessness.

Before you pull the trigger, know what you're firing at, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association. The hunter who blazes away at everything that moves runs a big risk of bagging a fellow hunter.

Never cross over or through a fence or climb a tree with a loaded gun. It might fall and discharge. Unload first and reload after crossing. Don't shoot at a hard, flat surface. Ricocheting bullets can carry long distances with killing power.

Keep guns away from children. Never leave a weapon unattended without unloading it. Store guns and ammunition beyond the reach of youngsters, preferably under lock and key.

Always carry a gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble. Keep the safety catch on until ready to shoot. Always sure the barrel is clear of obstructions. A barrel clogged with mud or snow may burst.

Guns and alcohol don't mix at all. If you like a nip around camp, wait until you're through hunting for the day and all weapons are unloaded and in cases.

Treat guns with respect a tail times. They may be loaded, despite all precautions. Thus never point a weapon at something unless you plan to shoot it.

Theme: Experience Can Trap As Well As Teach

TEXT: "The man who feels he has arrived is starting to slip"—Walt Whitman.

A rich man was interviewing an applicant for a job as his personal valet. "You may have trouble with me," said the rich man. "I have a wooden leg, an artificial arm, a toupee, a glass eye and false teeth."

"That won't bother me," said the applicant. "I have had experience on an airplane assembly line."

There is much to be said for experience. Without it, costly mistakes are made. However, experience can be over-rated.

A management consulting firm making a survey of business executives found that, in most instances, men with five years experience were more effective than men with ten years of experience. Experience alone, is not enough. Blunders by men who assumed they were right because they had "experience" are more costly than most executives realize.

Experience can trap as well as teach. Experienced man become self satisfied and blind to change. Too often they do not grasp that our world is changing; yesterday's patterns do not fit today's, nor today's fit tomorrow's.

Do not worship blindly at the shrine of experience. Respect experience. Use it, but do not be bound by it. It can be a direct path to the sidelines.

It's not too late for another week end respite at the beach prior to the setting in of nature's autumn chill. My family and I decided to take advantage of this fact the past week end and combined beaching fun with a tour of our famed port city on the southeasterly coast.

In addition to the enjoyability of another visit to the Wilmington - Wrightsville Beach area, we reaped two additional dividends. Since we are now in what is considered the post vacation period, the beach and tourist attractions are less than crowded and off-season rates prevail.

Those who have visited this section (and this undoubtedly includes many of the readers) are cognizant of the fact that the nicest beach cottages and motels available anywhere are to be found right here. Local restaurants boast of the finest of foods—and rightly so. Seafood, of course, is the specialty. We tried the Marina down Wrightsville Beach way and found it worth a repeat performance. And, needless to say, we found the ocean waters as soothing and relaxing as at the peak of summer.

Our sightseeing, due to time limitations, permitted visits to relatively few of the many historical attractions in the Greater Wilmington section. But even though brief, this tour proved most rewarding. We first visited the City Hall (erected in 1856) a fine building of stately proportions with impressive Corinthian columns. In this building is the Thalian Hall, playhouse of the Thalian Association, America's oldest Little Theater group, founded in 1788 and still active. Hanging in place is the curtain which rose on the opening night performance at the Hall.

We then proceeded to the Governor Dudley Mansion, originally the home of Edward B. Dudley, first elected Governor of the State (1834-41), and participant in the now-famous "It's a long time between drinks"—story. The Mansion is the current home of the local Elks group. We also viewed the First Presbyterian Church at the corner of Third and Orange Streets. This edifice, of national renown, is a splendid example of pure Gothic architecture. Incidentally, on this site once stood the old church of which the father of Woodrow Wilson was pastor, and in which the former President worshipped during his youth. The old Bible

GUIDE TO N. C. . . . Some interesting facts about Tar Heels in this autumn of 1962 are:

There are 4,556,155 of us [a few more since these are 1960 census figures]. One out of four of us is non-white. Our average age is 25 years and five months. By "average" here, we mean "median." In other words, we have about the same number of people over 25 as under 25.

Sex and Age
These data are from a study made for "Printer's Ink," the marketing magazine, and just released. The survey shows that 38.9 percent of our residents of North Carolina are under 18 years of age! In the 18 to 24 bracket is found 54.2 percent of our people. In other words, again, 6.9 percent of our citizens are 65 and over. In Florida, by contrast, more than 11 per cent of the people are in that age group.

We have a few more women than men, 50.7 to 49.3 per cent for the males.

Annual Income
There are 1,204,715 households in North Carolina. Average income per household in North Carolina is nearly $4,000 per year. Only 6.9 per cent of our households pull in over $10,000 annually. In Raleigh, this figure jumps to more than 11 per cent of the households.

In the big cities of the State—Asheville, Charlotte, Durham, Greensboro, High Point, Raleigh, and Winston - Salem — a little better than 10 per cent of the households have total incomes running over $10,000 per year.

Education
Looking at our North Carolina residents 25 years of age and over, we find that 32.3 — not quite one-third of our population — have completed high school.

However, Mr. Average Tar Heel has only about a ninth grade education, according to the "Guide To Marketing for 1963."

STATEHOUSE . . . The new legislative building here is being referred to around Raleigh as "the new Statehouse" to differentiate it from "the old capitol."

The Lord only knows exactly the real architecture of the new building. As it nears completion on the outside, one is impressed, riding by, as follows:

—Its size. It spreads away out and looks very, very imposing in contrast to the old modest little homes on three sides of it.

—The glass. Hundreds and hundreds of square feet all around it, which will call for thousands of square feet of tapestry on the walls of the interior. A nightmarish outing for a rowdy boy with a slingshot. If, since it is a legislative hall, is the glass bullet proof? In this day away from windows, etc., because of air conditioning — we note huge buildings with all windows blocked in, or out—the amount of glass in the Legislative Building is surprising.

—The peculiar, tent looking porticoes or sort of superstructures — some four or five of them—which overlace the building and give it something of an oriental look. Taj Mahalish, we would say.

—Effect on the area. The new building will brighten up old Halifax Street for three blocks north of the Capitol and eventually . . . as other State buildings are erected . . . right on northward to Peace Street. This has been the sorriest looking section in that part of Raleigh. The building is bringing beauty to an area of downtown much in need of it. And, while the State has already acquired most of the property adjacent to the Legislative Building, a lot of it is still privately owned and has gone sky high in price. Desirable locations for lobbying groups wanting to cozy up to the legislators.

—The glaringly white marble. More white than light gray. The white building in this section of the State. You may not like the new building at first glance. But its over all appearance becomes more pleasing each time you see it.

STANDING AROUND . . . Linda Well in the current issue of Reader's Digest tells of what happened to her father in a Winston-Salem department store.

He is rather distinguished looking. White he was waiting for his wife to complete her shopping, an elderly lady came up and asked hurriedly where she could find a certain household item. Mr. Well explained that he was not the floor walker and didn't know.

Annoyed, the lady said curtly: "Then why are you standing around looking so intelligent?"

MOTOR VEHICLE GOALS?
They aren't saying much about it yet, but a lot of departments of motor vehicles across the nation are shooting for most, if not all, of these goals. Will the N. C. Dept. of Motor Vehicles do likewise?

1. Raise to 18 the age limit for new drivers, except possibly youths of 16 who pass a Certified high school driver education course. N. C. is 16.

2. Set more realistic speed limits — now often too low — but toughen enforcement and penalties. Our speed limits are, generally, 55 and 60.

3. Require State inspection of all cars — something we must come to sooner or later in N. C. It is thought—twice a year to make sure vital parts are in working order.

4. Pass uniform motor laws in all states so that rules of the road, signs, and signals are the same all over.

5. Stiffen requirement to get a driver's license — including a medical examination. Too much dizziness, blood pressure, and too many heart attacks under the wheel.

6. Lower the level of alcohol a driver must consume before he is legally presumed to be drunk — with severe penalties for those who drive while drunk.

WARS VS AUTOS . . . Killed in all U. S. wars: 1,125,000. Killed on highway of U. S. through '61: 1,375,000. Wars - wounded: 1,275,000. Auto wrecks: 48 million.

For The People

By BERNADETTE W. HOYLE
Public Information Officer
N. C. State Board of Public Welfare

"Public welfare in North Carolina helps people too young to work, too old to work, or too disabled to work." — Dr. Ellen Winston, Commissioner.

Seven years ago Mrs. X., widow of a sharecropper, visited the county department of public welfare. Mr. X., who died of lung cancer, had not paid Social Security and the family was not eligible for a Social Security payment. There were three school age children and no means of support. There was no work available for the mother in the rural community where the family lived except seasonal farm labor.

The aid to dependent children program provides for a money payment for needy dependent children who have been deprived of parental care and support because of the death, physical or mental incapacity of one or both parents. Mrs. X. and her children were eligible for such a payment.

The oldest child May was able to finish high school and ranked fifth in her class. During the summer months and during holidays she worked in the local country store. Later she married a substantial young business man who was in partnership with his brother. They now have a young son.

The second child, Jane, was valedictorian of her class. With some financial help from her older sister, and the encouragement of the caseworker in the county department of public welfare, Jane secured a small scholarship which enabled her to take a busi-ness course. Upon graduation she was able to get a good job as a stenographer and not only was self-supporting, but contributed to her mother's support and that of her younger brother.

The youngest child, Joe, is now completing his fourth year in college, where he is majoring in education for a career as a teacher. He has part time work which pays for his room and board during the summers he has earned enough to pay for his tuition at college.

Mrs. X. now that the children are away from home, earns money as a baby sitter, and with contributions from the two girls, is no longer in need of assistance from public welfare.

Because of aid to dependent children, this family was able to become self sufficient. The children were kept in school and instead of becoming liabilities to society, all are now self supporting, tax paying citizens. For a few years they received help from tax money; but for many years they themselves will be able to pay taxes many times over what they received.

ASIAN FLU EXPECTED TO STRIKE AGAIN

Nationwide outbreaks of Asian flu will probably hit the United States again this fall and winter, according to warnings issued by the State Board of Health and the U. S. Public Health Service.

Asian flu raised havoc in 1957 and again in 1960, causing widespread illness and many deaths, especially among babies, young children and the aged.

Influenza vaccination is recommended for all young children and persons over 45 years old, as well as expectant mothers and persons of any age who suffer from chronic debilitating diseases. These authorities also recommend "that serious consideration be given to immunizing those in medical and health services, public safety, public utilities, transportation, education, and communication fields. In industries and large institutions where absenteeism is of particular concern, large-scale immunization programs are to be encouraged."

Vaccination is the recommended effective method of preventing the disease. Shots should be obtained beginning in September, because some, especially children, may need more than one shot and the shots have to be spaced.

Children of school age are attacked by flu more than any other group. Frequently they come in contact with the virus at school and bring it home with them, where it spreads through the family and beyond. It would be wise, these authorities say, to see your doctor as soon as possible and take his advice as to which members of your family should be vaccinated. Flu can be prevented and so can the misery that goes with it.

VEGETABLES FOR PROCESSING

A problem of procurement is one of the handicaps under which the food processing industry in the Southeastern states is operating, according to a study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The study revealed that processors are experiencing difficulty in assembling adequate quantities of vegetables for processing because of the changes in production.

Many farmers with small acreages have ceased vegetable production, the report said. Also it was noted that density of production has shifted from one area to another, and that the number of acres harvested has declined.

This has been offset somewhat by increased acreage on some farms and increased yields through new varieties, improved disease and insect controls and the adoption of new production techniques.

It also pointed out that there were some instances where the processors are producing vegetables on land owned or leased by themselves.

Agricultural adjustments taking place in the Southeast are influencing the availability of vegetables for the fresh market and for processing, the survey stated.

Several recognized changes are: (1) a reduction in cropland; (2) increase in livestock production; (3) reduction in the number of commercial farms; (4) an increase in the number of noncommercial farms (part-time and residential farms).

These changes have affected the availability of supplies of vegetables.

Figures gathered in the survey indicate the change in procurement methods. For instance, in the years 1945, '50 and '55, seven North Carolina processors surveyed acquired all of their raw vegetables within a radius of 99 miles of their plants.

However, in 1960 the figures showed that 2 per cent was acquired from a radius of 100-199 miles and 9 per cent from 200 miles and over. These figures were low in comparison with those of some of the other states in the Southeast area.

The study also showed that a relatively small percentage of raw vegetables acquired by processors were contracted for with the producer. The processors complained that producers under contracts many times sold what they could on the fresh market and the remainder was all the processors received.

The industry outlook indicates that the managers are generally optimistic about the future of processing in the Southeast. They indicated a need for research aimed at increasing yields of vegetable crops and reducing disease.

More uniform quality and increased demand for convenience foods are other important factors encouraging production of vegetables for processing, it was noted.

Editorial Briefs

Jericho, conquered by Joshua in the Bible, is the most ancient walled town in the world, the National Geographic Magazine says. Built about 8,000 years ago, some of the oldest parts have been uncovered in recent excavations.

Tribesmen in Dutch New Guinea have a fetish for ancestral skulls, the National Geographic Magazine says. They sleep with skulls, fondle them, and carry them on food-gathering expeditions.

The greatest recorded flood disaster occurred in 1887 when China's Yellow River overflowed, killing an estimated 900,000 people.

The early Teutons, from whose vocabulary comes the word bed, slept in shallow chests lined with animal skins.

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS:

WASHINGTON — The Senate has approved the President's request for stand-by authority to call up 150,000 military reservists if he deems it necessary. The Senate acted with war time speed to strengthen the President in dealing with the serious international situation confronting the nation. Russia has the affrontery to tell the United States that the Monroe Doctrine is dead. The Communist military build up in Cuba constitutes the most direct security threat to this Hemisphere in the 20th century. Several years ago when Cuba started receiving arms from Russia, the United States ought to have told Russia that that was a clear violation of the Monroe Doctrine. Our nation should have demanded at this time that Russia stop shipping arms to Cuba.

Mankind has spent a large part of its time and energy and given of its blood and treasure in fighting wars. The United States has taken part in three major wars in the span of half a century. Our nation has appropriated more than $932 billion for national defense for World War II, the Korean War, and the cold war, 1947-1961. America must be prepared to continue her national security arsenal for the foreseeable future. Twice in this century following world wars, we let our army practically disband in the expectation that the world was going to be at peace. History records tragically that the Kaiser and Hitler began wars when they were convinced that the Western Powers had become soft and would not stand firm against aggression.

There are no easy or speedy solutions to the international crises which we face. In my judgment, however, it is essential for us to manifest our resoluteness to defend ourselves. I do not think that you strengthen your position or make peace more secure by appearing to appease aggressors. I think that we must endeavor always to convince Russia that the United States fully intends to protect the security of this Hemisphere and that no aggressor nation shall be permitted to violate that security.

Congressional Calendar
As of Sept. 14, of 16 major appropriation bills to be acted on at this session, six had been cleared for Presidential action, four others had passed the Senate and House but awaited conference action to iron out differences, and six remained to be acted on by the Senate. On that date the Senate had yet to act on appropriations for Foreign Aid, Public Works, the Peace Corps, the Atomic Energy Commission, the District of Columbia, and the Departments of State, Justice, Commerce, and the Judiciary.

This week the House is scheduled to take up the Foreign Aid appropriations bill, and the Senate may begin debate on the Trade Bill which is being "marked up" by the Senate Finance Committee at the time this column is written. Both bills may cause lengthy debate in the Senate. This year, Congress has been requested to appropriate $4.7 billion for new Foreign Aid commitments. I have advocated for many sessions that Congress adopt a more sensible and prudent approach on Foreign Aid appropriations. Economic troubles, diminishing U. S. gold reserves, and the ineffectiveness of many foreign aid programs justify again this year a hard look at this appropriation bill. Even long time supporters of these programs are conceding that a substantial cut will be made in these funds this time. Whether that will happen or not is uncertain, but Congressional speeches are voicing more and more dissatisfaction with the accomplishments of current foreign aid programs. All the evidence indicates that they should.

Uncle Dave From Davie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: The Russians is talking louder the young'uns has gone back to school, and the November raffle for Congressmen is around the corner. It could be that folks is in for another hard winter.

We was discussing these items at the county store Saturday night and Ed Doolittle allowed as how we could handle the Russians and he claimed the young'uns and them Congressmen was a cause for major worry. For instance, he said he was reading a piece where they give a bunch of young'uns in the sixth grade a test and four of 'em couldn't spell their middle name. And in another piece, he claimed he saw where Johnny was spending more fer comic books than he was fer clothes.

Clem Webster said things wasn't as bad as they looked. In the first place, he claimed middle names was going out of style, and comic books might be good fer Johnny, maybe better'n clothes.

Zeke Grubb agreed with Clem, said he wasn't going to worry no more about the young'uns. He figured if a feller didn't worry he'd go to the pore house and if he did worry he'd go to the insane asylum, so he was taking the middle of the road and trying to stay out of both places.

I reckon, Mister Editor, Zeke is right. When things git too bad, I always recite that little jingle that was going around when I was a boy: "The worried cow would have lived till now, if she'd only saved her breath. She was afraid the hay, wouldn't last all day, so she worried herself to death."

But all the fellers was agreed that picking the right candidates in November to send to Washington was a problem. Ed clombed ever Congress passed about 100 new laws and it would be a blessing fer the country if we could close the place down till about 1964. Ed said we needed a system like the ancient Greeks used. He told the fellers he was reading where, in the old Greek Senate, when a member got up to offer a new law, he done it standing on a platform with a rope around his neck. If the other Senators thought it was a good law, they removed the rope. If they thought it was a bad law, they removed the platform.

Zeke allowed as how he'd have to vote again using that Greek system in this country, claimed in two weeks they wouldn't have enough Congressmen left in Washington for a quorum.

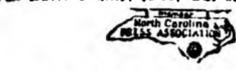

And, personal, Mister Editor, I got troubles at home. Sunday morning when me and my old lady was going to church, I was admiring her pretty hat. It was the same one, she snorted, I was poking fun at last Easter, said she had just turned back side to the front. How does a feller git out of one like that?

Yours truly,
Uncle Dave

Woman's Club Tour Of Homes Will Be Conducted October 5th

The Mocksville Woman's Club will sponsor a "Tour of Homes" on Friday, Oct. 5, from 2 to 6 p. m. in the afternoon.

Tickets for the tour may be secured from any member of the Woman's Club or from Mrs. Henry Blair and Mrs. S. W. Brown, Jr., co-chairmen of the ticket committee.

The homes may be toured in any order, and any of all may be visited. Anyone who does not have a ticket prior to the appointed hours may secure a ticket at the door of the homes to be toured.

The Tour of Homes will include: the Coolee Plantation, the George Martin home, the Woodrow Wilson home, the home of Mrs. J. Frank Clement and Mrs. E. W. Crow, the S. W. Brown, Jr., home, the Francis Slate home and the Arthur Upshaw, Jr., home.

In order to acquaint those not too familiar with the homes to be visited, a series of articles written by the owners will appear in this newspaper for the next several weeks describing them.

The following are two of such articles:

THE "HANES PLACE" By MRS. J. FRANK CLEMENT

The so-called "Hanes Place" was originally the Martin Alexander Booe Place. Mr. Booe was the grandfather of the present owners. Mrs. Blanche Hanes Clement and Mrs. Mary Hanes Crow, Mr. Booe always referred to his home as "Heidelberg," as his ancestors came from there.

The Booe house was torn down in 1901 and the present one built on part of the foundation. There are sills in the basement, 10 x 10, that were hewn out with an ax and put together with wooden pegs. This original house was built in approximately 1857.

All of the wood in the new house was cut on the old Hanes farm in the Fork Church township, and hauled to Lexington in wagons, across a ferry, to be dressed.

The enclosed stairs from the first floor to the attic have been a source of joy for many generations who have shivered and trembled at the mystery of the "secret stairs."

Large fireplaces in every room bear silent tribute to the time when wood was plentiful and able bodied men available.

This house has been the scene of births, baptisms, weddings, funerals and the gathering place for countless near and distant connections, the large double front doors standing open to welcome all.

Two apartments have been made for the sisters who occupy the house at the present time.

The furniture in the house, no museum pieces, but is cherished as having belonged to Crow, Clement, Booe and Hanes ancestors. (Editor's note: A great amount of these pieces have been refinished by the writer of this article.)

Some of the old buildings in the yard include: the white, commonly known office, which was in fact the office of Martin Booe. Mr. Booe had a tobacco factory across the road where Miss Willie Miller (another grandchild) lives, but he kept office in the yard of his home; the old log crib with huge bins for wheat and rye in the middle section, the side rooms for corn, cider press, and a stair to the left, which was the resting place for practically everything; the tool shed was the outdoor kitchen, reminiscent of the times when fires were prevalent and no protection; the ivy covered lattice frame, the well house, and the servant house where "Tobe" lives. The ice house, smoke house, sheep barn, and large barn all made of huge logs have long since disappeared when their usefulness was past.

Phillip Hanes built his home for his large family, including his wife, who was Sallie Clement Booe; her sister, Miss Ruth Booe, and for his seven children: Sadie (Mrs. R. D. W. Connor); Spencer Booe Hanes, Phillip Frank Hanes; Sarah Hanes Stone, John Clement Hanes, Mary Hanes Crow, and Blanche Hanes Clement. There have been no changes in architecture as Mr. Hanes planned it in 1901.

THE UPSHAW HOME By Mrs. Arthur M. Upshaw, Jr.

"We wanted a colonial style home, but the contour of our lot called for a split level. After looking through countless books of house plans we finally found a split level with a colonial appearance. I took a lot of revising to accept it to our family.

It called for four bedrooms upstairs, all small. We wanted a townhouse bedroom, so we changed the upstairs level to three larger rooms. The plan showed a two car garage, a work shop and a small den on the lower level. We eliminated the garage and used this space for a larger family room, a bedroom and a back entry foyer.

This family room, which measures 16' x 30', is the center of the family's activities and has ample room for the piano, TV, desk, sewing machine, two sofas, etc.

The middle level containing living room, dining room, and kitchen was left virtually unchanged except for replacing a brick planter with a simple stair rail.

A carport added to rear of the house completed the changes and gave us a home which the architect might not recognize — but which we enjoy.

MOCKS

Several from this community attended homecoming service Sunday at Advance Methodist Church.

Mrs. Wade Wyatt and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carter of Fork visited Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Craver Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carter visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Foster at Dulin Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Cornatzer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hutchens, Mr. and Mrs. James Hutchens of Winston-Salem visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cornatzer Saturday.

Mrs. John Carr Phelps and son spent Saturday with her mother, Mrs. Sherrill Rupard, of Lewisville.

Mrs. Henry Miller and children spent Saturday with her mother, Mrs. G. O. Carrigan, of Troutman.

Bailey's Chapel

Mrs. Edith Liveness will be host to the WSCS of Bailey's Chapel Church on Friday night, Sept. 21. This is an important meeting and we urge all the members to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson spent the week end at the coast. Mrs. Betty Myers was host to a Stanley Party on Friday night. It was a big success.

Mrs. Carolyn Barnes is sick and confined at her home. Our community extends our thoughts to George Spry in the passing of his brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Green Barnes and girls visited Mr. and Mrs. Allen Howard on Sunday afternoon. Joe Howard returned to their home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McCarter spent Sunday in our community.

Yadkin Valley

The Rev. A. C. Cheshire, pastor of Yadkin Valley Church, will broadcast over the Mocksville radio station, WSDC, Saturday from 11 to 11:15 a. m.

A meeting will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Boyer on Valley Road, near Yadkin Valley Church. 4-H Club work in this area will be organized. All interested in this work are urged to attend this meeting.

Jim Hauser of State Center, Iowa, and Mrs. Emma Mitchell of Marshalltown, Iowa, are visiting relatives and friends in this area. A family dinner was given for them Tuesday p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Settle Hauser.

Joe Langston attended the Professional Photographers Guild supper and meeting held in Winston-Salem last Tuesday p. m.

MORE ABOUT Vacationland

In the sanctuary was stolen by a Union soldier during the War Between the States and was returned in 1928.

Also of extreme interest is the Cornwallis House, built in 1771. Lord Cornwallis maintained his headquarters here in 1781. The basement rooms served as a prison and the original floor boards bear marks repeatedly made by British muskets.

Another famous Wilmington landmark, seemingly impervious to nature, stands proudly at the northeast corner of Market Street and Fifth. This is the Bellamy Mason, a beautiful antebellum home erected in 1859. During the Union occupation period, the Federal troops maintained offices here. The handsome draperies, carpets and furniture in the "double" parlor with twin marble carved fireplaces, are original with the home.

At this point the hands on the clock told us it was time to move on. But a few weeks hence we plan to continue our sightseeing adventure in the area originally known as New Liverpool. There may be differences of opinion as to whether "Wilmington" is preferable to the original name; however, among those who have been here, the opinion is unanimous that this city is steeped in history and beauty and is one of "Variety Vacationland's" stellar attractions.

About This Question

"My cattle thought the grass was greener on the other side of the fence. My neighbor won't sue, but I think he should be compensated for the damage to his crops. Will my Farm Liability insurance cover this situation?"

For the answer to this, and all your insurance questions, consult the Morris - Lare Insurance Agency, Inc.

As trouble-free as a sundial — that's electric comfort heating!

(The secret: no moving parts)

With flameless electric comfort heating, the only moving parts are in the thermostats (one in every room). No maintenance required...you can forget that fall check-up! No wonder so many Carolinians are switching from their present systems to flameless electricity.

"Electric comfort heating has many advantages... there will be little or no cost of upkeep."

Mrs. Howard P. Deal, CHARLOTTE, N. C.

"We enjoy trouble-free operation. No motors to oil, no filters to replace, no bills for cleaning and repairing."

Mr. David B. Dempsey, SPARTANBURG, S. C.

Talk to your Residential or Commercial Representative at Duke Power. He'll give you helpful information, even though Duke Power neither sells nor installs flameless electric comfort heating.

I AM THE CHURCH . . .

I am the Church.

Established by the hand of God and operated and maintained by the hand of man. I provide a means whereby mankind may grow spiritually, as well as bodily and mentally, and thus be blessed by a more abundant life.

I am more than just a place for confirmation of the children, a place for taking the marriage vows or for conferring the last rites of the dead. I provide a means whereby man may know God's will and may live in harmony with His plan, walk in the light of His design and image with courage and without fear. I am a means of furnishing close contact between God and man, if man will but avail himself of the services I offer.

In short, I am a source of knowledge and training that will gain for man, when his course is finished, the eternal welcome—"Well done, good and faithful servant."

With the aim of fostering that which is good in family and community spirit this message is contributed to the religious life of Davie County by the following:

Annual Hospital Bazaar To Be Held Here On Saturday

Event To Be Held In Office Building

The annual bazaar, sponsored by members of the Davie County Hospital Auxiliary, will be held Friday and Saturday, Sept. 28 and 29, in the Assembly room of the Davie County Office Building. The bazaar will be held all day Friday and half a day on Saturday. Items for the bazaar are being made and contributed by the people of the county. These contributors are urged to get their items in to their community chairman or to the county office building by Thursday afternoon, Sept. 27. This is with the exception of all perishable items such as cakes and pies, etc., that can be brought in on Friday morning. All proceeds from the bazaar will be applied to the purchase of items for the hospital which include: drapes for the lobby, wall covering for the halls and a spectrophotometer.

New Minister For Local Presbyterian Ch.

REV. JAMES E. RATCHFORD

The Reverend James E. Ratchford, of Charlotte, is the new Minister coming to the First Presbyterian Church, preaching his first sermon here on Sunday morning October 7. He comes from the West Avenue Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, and succeeds the Rev. Wm. F. Long who resigned early in the Spring to go to a church in Gastonia. Mr. Ratchford is a native of Union County. The 49 year old minister was graduated from Presbyterian College at Clinton, S. C. and Union Theological Seminary in Richmond. He is married to the former Mary Davis Harper, and they have three children; James Edward Ratchford Jr. is a graduate of Davidson College and is now an Army officer serving in Germany. Martha Jane will enter Mary Baldwin at Staunton, Va. this fall as a freshman, and Robert Harper is a high school student. Mr. Ratchford has held pastorates in South Carolina, at Robinson and Madison, N. C. and Big Stone Gap, Virginia.

Safety Program Is Given At Lions Club

Patrolman G. W. Howard gave the program for the regular meeting of the Mocksville Lions Club on Thursday night, Sept. 20, using the topic of "Highway Safety." After brief remarks concerning the subject, Patrolman Howard showed a film featuring Evangelist Billy Graham on "A Christian Concern For Highway Safety." J. C. (Buster) Celary, chairman of the Safety Committee, was in charge of the program. Lt. Eddie Waters was a visitor at the meeting. President R. L. Whitaker, Jr., presided.

Mocksville School Nets $1,036.45 In Magazine Sale

The Mocksville Elementary School has just ended its most successful magazine sale. The gross sales were $3,048.48. The Educational Reader's Service share was $1,865.26, which left a gross to the school of $1,183.22. Total expenses of the sale were $146.77, which left a net to the school of $1,036.45.

High salesman was Tut Sanford with a sales of $143.81 and she received a portable tape recorder. The 2nd high salesman was Hope Hall with sales of $81.32. She received a flash camera set. Third high winner was Alton Carter who sold a total of $62.48 and received a clock radio.

The following students sold over $25 worth of subscriptions and will receive a citation from Educational Reader Service: Jimmy Allen, Kathy Shore, Rita Boser, Annette Marsh, Lu Young, Mark Wilson, Katie Glascock, Eddie Hendrix, Patricia McClamrock, Charles Sheek, Michael Seamon, Hope Hall, J. D. Purvis, Jr., Billy Eld, David Smith, Sandra Barnes, Eddie Tomlinson, Judy Anderson, Alton Carter, Rickey Bailey, Ralph Naylor, Cynthia Glascock, Jane Towell, Patricia Short, Tut Sanford, Mary Ann Meyer, Vicki Hendricks, Craig Freeman, and Steve Walker.

The rooms that reached their goal of $200 were the following: Mrs. Bird's, Mrs. Warwick's, Mrs. Durham's, Miss Reavis' Mrs. Chaffin's, Mrs. Shutt's, Mrs. Brown's, and Mr. Cox's. Roy Marsh, principal of the school said, "I would like to thank all school patrons for their splendid cooperation during the sale. The money will be applied in the instructional program to purchase items of need that the state does not furnish the schools."

Merchants To Meet

There will be an important meeting of all the merchants and businessmen on Tuesday night, October 2, at 7 p.m. in the Rotary Hut.

To Friends Of The Candidates

Your Favorite Gets 40,000 and 75,000 Votes For Resale. Subscribers and their friends who have already given their favorite candidates a subscription during some previous period of The Enterprise and The Courier "Campaign of Progress," can do a great service and help wonderfully in that member's work by giving another $3.00 or $5.00 payment. Such $3.00 payments entitle members an additional 40,000 votes while a $5.00 payment will earn an additional 75,000 additional votes. A 5 year resale will count for 245,000 votes for any campaign worker and with the race so close among several workers it may be these extra votes that decide the winner of that 1963 Ford First Award. Please bear in mind that this is not an increase in vote values, this is the same vote value resales have had throughout the entire campaign. Help those who are helping themselves - give your favorite candidate a call and show her or him you are a real friend by giving another subscription. They are all working hard - Your encouragement may be just the incentive needed to win the new 1963 Ford or one of those Valuable Cash awards. Hurry, for vote values drop every week. The campaign ends soon.

everyone in Davie County during the campaign which will last until Oct. 23. "If through some oversight you are missed and would like to make your contribution please call one of the men listed above," said Mr. Sell. "We know that each community in the county will want to do its share so that our boys may receive Scouting. Scouting is a program for boys from 8 through 17 years of age. It was established more than 50 years ago for the purpose of building character, giving citizenship training, and developing physical fitness in our boys. "Let us remember, the boys of today are the men of tomorrow. The time, effort and money we spend on them today will pay off in a better community tomorrow." WHAT ARE THE BOYS IN YOUR COMMUNITY WORTH? IT'S UP TO YOU.

Boy Scout Finance Campaign Underway In Davie County

The Davie District of Uwharrie Council, Boy Scouts of America, held its annual finance kickoff at the First Methodist Church on Tuesday night, Sept. 25. Stock Exchange Story Is Presented Rotarians

The story of the stock exchange was presented to the members of the Mocksville Rotary Club at their regular meeting, Tuesday. Joe Jones of the brokerage firm of Merrell-Lynch-Pierce-Fenner-Smith presented a film that depicted the history of the organization of the Wall Street stock market center. Dr. Francis Slate had charge of the program and introduced Mr. Jones. President Jeff Caudell presided. Special guests included Bob Smoot of Salisbury; H. H. Thorne of Wilmington, Ohio; and Charles D. Jamerson of Coolmeem. Advertisement PARTS for all Electric Shavers. FOSTER'S WATCH SHOP, N. Main Street, Mocksville N. C.

Local YMCA?

Public interest is being aroused as to the possibility of the formation of a YMCA in Davie County. Anyone interested is asked to write a card to Mrs. Charles E. McCoy, P. O. Box 607, Mocksville.

Should enough interest be shown, a survey committee from the interstate office of the YMCA in Charlotte will come to survey the needs in the county.

Gospel Singing To Be At Bear Creek Baptist

The Bear Creek Baptist Church will hold its regular fifth Sunday night singing on Sunday, September 30th, at 7 p.m. All singers are invited to attend. Visitors will be welcome.

Advance Cub Scouts Hold Den Meeting

Advance Cub Scout Pack, Den 2, met last week at the home of Mrs. Ethel Robertson. Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Betty Potts, the den mothers, had a very interesting hour planned for the Cubs.

They made space machines. The type made were limited only by the imagination. All the machines were made from articles such as milk cartons, paper cones, cardboard circles from inside paper towels, discarded plastic bleach and soap bottles, and wire. The machines were all sprayed with silver paint.

Two of the boys passed part of an achievement... the way to fold the United States Flag. In closing, the Cub Scouts sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Good Night, Cub Scouts."

Hardest Fight Of The Entire Campaign Is Now On To Win 3,000,000 Free Votes

Excitement runs high in The Enterprise and Courier "Campaign of Progress" as the great Special "Prize Vote" Ballot offer of 3,000,000 Free Votes comes to a close this Saturday. Only nine working days and a big drop in votes after Saturday. Business turned in by Saturday night will likely decide who has the best opportunity of winning that new 1963 Ford and Best Cash Awards. All sincere workers are busy this week.

Those Big Awards Have Not Been Won Yet, And Anyone Weakening At This Crucial Time May Regret It—Real Fighting Is Important Now This Week's Reports Promise To Show Best Results of Any Week In Big Campaign Since The Start

List Of Candidates In Campaign And Percentage Votes Accepted For Publication

Table with columns: NAME, TOWN, VOTES. Lists candidates like Miss Mary Lois Wilson, Mrs. Robert Glinther, etc.

SPECIAL REMINDER—All workers who turn in twelve or more subscriptions and are not prize winners will be paid a commission. Be sure to have in at least twelve. The winners of the "Prize Vote" ballots will have the better chance of the three major awards. Candidates who expect to win big prizes will work every hour possible from now to the end of the campaign. Campaign Ends Saturday, Oct. 6th. Only Nine Working Days Left Where Will You Finish?

Last week was a big week in the "Campaign of Progress." Each and every member, with a few exceptions, made a determined effort to win the extra $100 cash prize that was offered to the best result-getters for the six-day period.

Great strides were made by most of the members on this extra prize and it was the means of helping many on further toward the winning goal. It may well be said that the race so far is a most even one among several of the members and a sprint on the part of any one of those would change the entire complexion of the lineup.

The real workers in the race are now presented with an extra offer whereby they may annex hundreds of thousands of votes to their totals. The greatest inducement for subscriptions were offered first and candidates were advised to get as many subscriptions as possible while the great premium was placed upon them. Those who have closely followed the advice of the campaign department have much to be thankful for how as the offer this week will have a strong appeal to them and give them better possibilities of winning the big "Special Prize Vote Ballots" this week.

PRIZE VOTE BALLOTS The first Prize Ballot of 1,000,000 votes will be awarded to the candidate having to his or her credit the largest number of votes for both new and renewal subscriptions turned in from the beginning of the campaign to and including Saturday, Sept. 29.

The second Prize Vote Ballot of 1,000,000 votes will be awarded to the candidate having to his or her credit the 2nd largest number of votes for both new and renewal subscriptions, turned in from the beginning to and including Saturday, Sept. 29.

The third Prize Vote Ballot of 1,000,000 votes will be awarded to the candidate having to his or her credit the 3rd largest number of votes for both new and renewal subscriptions, turned in from the beginning to and including Saturday, Sept. 29.

Thus, no one loses the advantage of a single subscription which has heretofore been turned in. Every subscription a candidate has to his or her credit automatically counts on the BIG PRIZE VOTE BALLOTS.

$20 CLUB VOTE 128,000 Extra Votes will be credited on each and every $20 Club of Subscriptions this week. This extra Vote offer will end Saturday, Sept. 29. There is no limit to the number of $20 Clubs you may secure.

YOUR BIG CHANCE Any sincere worker will readily see that the three workers who fight to the top by the end of this present week will be in the best position to win the New 1963 Ford Sedan, the $500 and the $250 Cash. THOSE BIG AWARDS HAVE NOT BEEN WON YET.

SPECIAL NOTICE There will be no Extra Cash Prizes during the remainder of this campaign, but there will be a big drop in votes next week, the last week of the campaign; therefore, candidates are advised to turn in all subscriptions possible this week as they will count on the Three "Special" Prize Vote Ballots and on all regular awards. Candidates are also notified that the campaign will close Saturday, Oct. 6.

Boy Scout Finance Campaign Underway In Davie County

The Davie District of Uwharrie Council, Boy Scouts of America, held its annual finance kickoff at the First Methodist Church on Tuesday night, Sept. 25.

The Uwharrie Council Budget for 1963 is $67,207.41. Davie District's share of this is $3,226.98. Bryan Sell of Mocksville is the Finance Chairman. He and his committee have divided the District Goal into Community Goals which are as listed below:

Bill Ward, Advance, Phone 543-2638, goal $135; Wade Dyson, Center, 543-3486, goal $135; Charlie Jamerson, Cooleemee, phone 2531, goal $1,000; Weldon Allen and Bill Shoaf, Cornatar, 4-2013, goal $135; John H. Caudle, Farmington, 634-2370, $135; Bryan Sell, Mocksville, 634-2372, goal $1,169.66; Lemme McCullah, Oak Grove, 634-2995, goal $135; and Elmer Hendrix, Smith Grove, 513-2933, goal $135.

Mr. Sell and his community chairman will endeavor to contact everyone in Davie County during the campaign which will last until Oct. 23. "If through some oversight you are missed and would like to make your contribution please call one of the men listed above," said Mr. Sell.

"We know that each community in the county will want to do its share so that our boys may receive Scouting. Scouting is a program for boys from 8 through 17 years of age. It was established more than 50 years ago for the purpose of building character, giving citizenship training, and developing physical fitness in our boys.

"Let us remember, the boys of today are the men of tomorrow. The time, effort and money we spend on them today will pay off in a better community tomorrow."

WHAT ARE THE BOYS IN YOUR COMMUNITY WORTH? IT'S UP TO YOU.

Last week was a big week in the "Campaign of Progress." Each and every member, with a few exceptions, made a determined effort to win the extra $100 cash prize that was offered to the best result-getters for the six-day period.

Great strides were made by most of the members on this extra prize and it was the means of helping many on further toward the winning goal. It may well be said that the race so far is a most even one among several of the members and a sprint on the part of any one of those would change the entire complexion of the lineup.

The real workers in the race are now presented with an extra offer whereby they may annex hundreds of thousands of votes to their totals. The greatest inducement for subscriptions were offered first and candidates were advised to get as many subscriptions as possible while the great premium was placed upon them. Those who have closely followed the advice of the campaign department have much to be thankful for how as the offer this week will have a strong appeal to them and give them better possibilities of winning the big "Special Prize Vote Ballots" this week.

PRIZE VOTE BALLOTS

The first Prize Ballot of 1,000,000 votes will be awarded to the candidate having to his or her credit the largest number of votes for both new and renewal subscriptions, turned in from the beginning to and including Saturday, Sept. 29.

The second Prize Vote Ballot of 1,000,000 votes will be awarded to the candidate having to his or her credit the 2nd largest number of votes for both new and renewal subscriptions, turned in from the beginning to and including Saturday, Sept. 29.

The third Prize Vote Ballot of 1,000,000 votes will be awarded to the candidate having to his or her credit the 3rd largest number of votes for both new and renewal subscriptions, turned in from the beginning of the campaign to and including Saturday, Sept. 29.

Thus, no one loses the advantage of a single subscription which has heretofore been turned in. Every subscription a candidate has to his or her credit automatically counts on the BIG PRIZE VOTE BALLOTS.

$20 CLUB VOTE

128,000 Extra Votes will be credited on each and every $20 Club of Subscriptions this week. This extra Vote offer will end Saturday, Sept. 29. There is no limit to the number of $20 Clubs you may secure.

YOUR BIG CHANCE

Any sincere worker will readily see that the three workers who fight to the top by the end of this present week will be in the best position to win the New 1963 Ford Sedan, the $500 and the $250 Cash.

THOSE BIG AWARDS HAVE NOT BEEN WON YET.

SPECIAL NOTICE

There will be no Extra Cash Prizes during the remainder of this campaign, but there will be a big drop in votes next week, the last week of the campaign; therefore, candidates are advised to turn in all subscriptions possible this week as they will count on the Three "Special" Prize Vote Ballots, and on all regular awards. Candidates are also notified that the campaign will close Saturday, Oct. 6.

Rebels Upset Mooresville 14-7 To Take Conference Lead

Davie At Monroe In Tough Game Friday Night

Halfback Larry Gobble scored both touchdowns for Davie County last Friday night as the Rebels pinned a feather in their football helmets by stunning favored Mooresville 14-7 in the North Piedmont Conference at the Davie Stadium.

On Friday night, the Rebels will play the strong Monroe team at Monroe. Last week East Rowan upset Monroe, who was rated in pre-season polls as perhaps the strongest contender for the North Piedmont Conference crown. However, Monroe had several players injured and out of the lineup who are expected to be ready for Davie.

A capacity crowd of more than 2,000 saw Gobble race 15 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter and then jaunt 80 yards in the final period for the deciding marker. The extra points were added by runs from scrimmage by Travis and McClamrock.

Only a sophomore, Gobble gained 137 yards at rushing, pacing the Rebels to their second victory against a single defeat. Davie now shares first place in the NPC with East Rowan, both owning 1-0 records.

A fumble of a kick by Mooresville and a Davie County recovery at the Blue Devils' 40 set up the first Rebel score. Gobble clinaxed the opportunity with a 15-yard run around right end. Gobble almost didn't make it on his 80 yards jaunt. He was hit by a Mooresville tackler at mid-field and started to the ground. But another Mooresville player rammed into Gobble from the front side and seemed to straighten him up and he then broke into the clear to score.

Mooresville got its TD in the fourth quarter when Roger Sweezy rammed up the middle from four yards out. The Rebels now have a 1-2 overall record and stand 1-1 in the conference.

Defensive laurels for Davie went to Jim Eaton, Robert Lanier and Robert Hornstein.

Statistics
Davie county had 11 first downs to 7 for Mooresville.
Davie gained 236 yards rushing to 157 for Mooresville.
Davie completed one out of 4 passes for 34 yards. Mooresville completed one out of four passes for 13 yards. Each team had one pass intercepted.

ROBERT HORNSTEIN outstanding on defense

LARRY GOBBLE scores twice

Mooresville lost the ball three times on fumbles. Davie lost the ball five times on fumbles.

Mooresville kicked four times for an average of 20 yards per kick. Davie kicked four times for an average of 22 yards per kick. Mooresville was penalized a total of 35 yards. The Rebels were penalized a total of 60 yards.

Lawrence Reavis Is Certified As Graduate Of Marketing Institute

Lawrence Reavis, sales manager of Reavis Autos, Inc., Mocksville, has been certified as a used vehicle merchandising graduate at Ford Motor Company's Atlanta Marketing Institute.

Certification of course completion was announced by L. C. Brock, director of the Ford Institute. The course is one of several taught at the Institute to dealers, their personnel and Ford Motor Company employees by a staff of nine professional, full-time instructors.

Subjects range from management and merchandising courses for dealers and their department managers to salesmanship and specialized workshops for staff members. In addition, the school of automotive business administration conducts training programs for selected Ford Motor Company personnel.

Classes utilize the most effective management methods currently being used by outstanding automobile dealerships. Mr. Brock said the Institute combines the latest teaching techniques with a wide variety of audio-visual equipment in all school's of the programs. Group participation in simulated selling or management situations is a primary part of each course.

The Atlanta Marketing Institute opened in October, 1961, and expects annually to enroll 2,500 sales specialists of Ford Motor Company products from a ten-state area.

Society W. M. S. Held Oct. 15

The Woman's Missionary Society of Society Baptist Church met Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Mark Thorne. The meeting opened with the group singing "We've A Story To Tell." Devotions were given by Mrs. Henry Lewis and the program entitled "International Students—the Way of Life," was presented by a group of members.

During the business session, plans were made for a special prayer service to be held the fifth Sunday night at the church. Closing prayer was led by Mrs. C. W. Bryan.

At the conclusion of the program, the hostess served open-face sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, cake squares and raspberry sherbet to 15 members and one visitor.

Smith Grove Plans For P.T.A. Carnival

The Smith Grove School PTA met on Tuesday evening, Sept. 18, with a large crowd attending. President J. H. Platt, Jr., presided. The Rev. Dwight Mashburn gave the devotionals for the evening.

John T. Jones, Principal, introduced the teachers. A corsage was presented to each of the three new teachers in special recognition.

In the business session, Mr. Jones reported that the play area had been cemented during the summer. This was a project of the PTA. It was also announced that the building had been painted inside and venetian blinds put at the windows.

A new project for the coming year was discussed. It was decided to work towards getting a new stage curtain.

At the close of the meeting, the Rev. Dwight Mashburn began taking pledges and before the evening was over, almost the total amount had been pledged.

Committees for the annual Halloween Carnival were named. Joe Helsabeck was named chairman of the carnival and Mrs. Elmer Hendrix, supper committee chairman.

Open House was observed with refreshments being served to approximately 175 people.

Two Cars Collide In Wreck Sunday

Two cars collided in an accident Sunday around 9:20 p.m. on the Gladstone Road near the Coolidge Legion Hut.

Trooper L. E. Woods of the State Highway Patrol said that his investigation indicated the accident happened as follows:

Alphonso Holt, 17, of Salisbury, Rt. 4, was operating a 1955 Ford and was heading south on the Gladstone Road. Holt slowed down to 15-20 mph to turn left into dirt road that runs beside the Legion Hut. A 1956 Ford, being operated by Lester Leroy Cranfill, 20, of Mocksville, Rt. 3, was going north at approximately 50-55 mph. Holt turned left in front of Cranfill whose car skidded 50 feet and struck the Holt car in the right side.

Two passengers in the Holt car were taken to the Davie County Hospital where they were treated and released.

Damages to the 1955 Ford were estimated at $350. Damages to the 1956 Ford were estimated at $400.

Holt was charged with failure to yield right of way.

J. B. WHITAKER TO CONDUCT GOSPEL MEETING

The North Main Street Church of Christ invites you to hear J. B. Whitaker, now of Rockingham, N. C., and former minister of the North Main Church, in a series of lessons September 30 - October 7, at 7:30 p. m.

Many of you remember Mr. Whitaker, as he was here during the construction of the building in which the church now meets. After leaving Mocksville, he went to Nashville, Tennessee, where he worked on his Ph. D. degree at Peabody College. Later he returned to North Carolina, accepting the work in Rockingham, where the church under his leadership has increased numerically and developmentally, and they too have a new building in one of the growing areas of the city.

The North Main Church of Christ takes this opportunity to invite you to hear their radio program over the local station each Sunday morning at 9:30, conducted by the minister, Willard Conchin.

Mrs. Billy Wyatt Honored At Shower

Mrs. Charlie McClamrock and Mrs. Leonard Shelton entertained with a pink and blue shower Friday evening in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church, honoring Mrs. Billy Wyatt.

The centerpiece for the white lace covered refreshment table was a triangle base of frilled pink paper from which hung a pair of pink and blue booties. The base was entwined with ivy.

Cake squares with pink and blue holly decorations, mints and nuts in diaper cups pinned with safety pins, and iced Coca-Colas were served in paper plates and cups carrying the party theme to approximately 25 friends of the honoree who showered her with gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Stroud Have Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Stroud were honored on Saturday evening, Sept. 22, at a dinner in the Trophy Room in the Manor House at Tanglewood Park when their children entertained for their Golden Wedding Anniversary observance.

Dinner was served at a U-shaped table. Gold candles were used in the table decorations, and the honorees' place was marked with an arrangement of yellow roses, asters and snapdragons. The place cards and nappkis were marked in gold. The anniversary cake, decorated in gold, completed the motif.

After dinner was served, those attending presented gifts to the couple. Included at the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Stroud; Dr. and Mrs. D. B. Stroud, Jr. of Rocky Mount and children, Steve, Stuart, Susan and Bill; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Honeycutt and son, Robbie, of Greenville, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. D. H. New 1963 Fords To Go On Display Here Friday

The new 1963 Fords will go on display Friday and Saturday of this week at Reavis Autos, Inc., in Mocksville.

Described as "America's liveliest, most carefree cars" the new 1963 Fords will be featured in four classes with a total of 44 new models.

Reavis Autos, Inc., will be open on Friday and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. for this official showing. There will be free refreshments and favors for all.

The new Fords have amazing new service saving features that reduce service stops to twice a year or every 6,000 miles.

The new 1963 Ford Galaxie features completely new styling, a new high economy V8 engine, new 36,000 mile major lubrication interval and a new, $10-million soft riding "compliance-link" suspension.

The Ford Falcon for 1963 emphasizes sports appeal with five new models, new styling and a host of new features. The Falcon will offer 17 model choices for 1963, including a four door sedan and two convertibles.

Two completely new hardtops and three new station wagons feature Ford's pace setting middle weight line of Fairlane cars for 1963. The two new hardtop models capture the Thunderbird spirit with a lower profile, sleek thin roofline, rakish windshield angle and smartly styled overall appearance.

Thunderbird for 1963 incorporates more than 2,500 engineering and design changes readied over the last 18 months.

"The Thunderbird is the most changed car we are offering for 1963," said Lee A. Iacocca, Ford Motor Co. Vice President and Ford Division general manager.

"Yet, for most part, the changes are inside the vehicle."

Study Course Begins Here On Sunday Night

The study course "On Asia's Rise" will begin on Sunday night, Sept. 30, at 7:30 p.m. at First Methodist Church, and the course will continue through Wednesday, Oct. 3.

Mrs. Turnipseed, of Statesville, will teach the first session on "Hong Kong" Sunday night. She will use slides to illustrate her talk.

Other sessions on Monday and Tuesday will be conducted by members of the local WSCS, and the concluding session on Wednesday night will be a movie.

Mrs. Charles Woodruff, chairman of Missionary Education for First Methodist, has issued an invitation to all other WSCS members in the county to attend this study course.

New 1963 Chevrolets Go On Display Friday

Four distinctive lines of 1963 Chevrolet automobiles will go on sale in Chevrolet dealerships across the nation this Friday, September 28th.

Pennington Chevrolet Company of Mocksville will hold their official showing on Friday of this week. Refreshments will be served, favors given. A door prize of 300-gallons of gasoline will be given.

Offering 33 models in four separate categories—each aimed at a specific segment of the market—the 1963 Chevrolets represent faith in a continued strong national economy by Chevrolet, which is already on its way to setting an all-time industry sales record for 1962.

There are significant styling changes in the regular Chevrolets, a continuation of their unique automotive personalities by the Chevy II and the Corvair, and two entirely new bodies and a new chassis for the Corvette sports car. All models have significant mechanical improvements.

The traditional big car emphasis upon luxurious transportation is continued in the 1963 regular Chevrolets, offered in 13 models in the Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne series.

There is a sleek, longer look with all-new styling. Straight windshield pillars improve access for driver and passengers. The new front grille of anodized aluminum extends the full width of the vehicle, while a depressed center area adds new interest to the broad rear deck lid.

On all 1963 Chevrolet passenger cars, engine oil change is recommended at 6,000 miles or 60-days and chassis lubrication is recommended at 6,000 miles or six months.

Also, all 1963 models have amber front turn signals instead of white turn signals as in previous years.

Providing fun for the whole family, and individuality for Mom and Dad, the top offering in Ford's 1963 station wagon line, the Country Squire, will have optional bucket seats. A nine-passenger car, the Squire has the only forward-facing third seat in the industry—more than 50 inches.

Described as "the most service free standard-size American car ever produced," the 1963 Ford Galaxie features complete re-styling, a new 200-cubic-inch Challenger V-8 engine, 36,000-mile major lubrication intervals and 6,000-mile minor lubrication intervals, and "cushion link" suspension. Through use of improved lubricants, a complete "run-in" of each engine while it is being electronically analyzed, and an engine flush procedure, Ford has been able to eliminate the historic 1,000-mile inspection on all of its 1963 cars, except the three van-type vehicles in the Falcon line.

The 4-door hardtop (bottom), is one of the 14 models in the 1963 Galaxie line that will be introduced in dealer showrooms on Friday, September 28.

Davie Bond Sales Now Total $118,250 For Year

Davie County has raised 58.7% of its quota in the sale of U. S. Savings Bonds, according to Knox Johnstone, Volunteer County Chairman.

Bond sales in Davie for the year totaled $118,250.

The cumulative sales of U. S. Savings Bonds this year in North Carolina amount to $33,232,016. This is 3% higher than sales for the January-August period of 1961.

For the first month in over a year both Series E and H Savings Bonds fell during August. E Bond sales for the month were off 12% while Series H Bonds were off nearly 39%. The combined sales dropped 14% below sales of August last year.

Through August, North Carolina has achieved 64% of its quota for this year of $51,600,000.

In Driving — Don't Show Off
BE ONE OF THE CROWD

"Listen here, Mac. I'm a citizen and a citizen's got rights. This is a free country and nobody's gonna order me around. I don't go for this business where everybody's gotta be like everybody else. I'm an individual."

Sound familiar? It is to our state troopers. They hear fellows like this every day. And they get pretty tired of telling them that driving in traffic is no place to assert their individuality.

Prima donnas simply can't be tolerated because the even, pleasant flow of traffic depends on the cooperation of every motorist. If one car gets too much out of step you have a potential traffic crash.

A "share the road" policy, as recommended by the State Department of Motor Vehicles, is a very realistic one insofar as preventing traffic tangles is concerned.

A good example is going from the Interstate system to country roads or city streets. It takes a completely different kind of driving technique in each situation. This is where it is important to become "one of the crowd" just as quickly as you can. You haven't got much time to get the "feel" of the new traffic situation you're heading into. That's why it's important to stay alert all the time, so you can fall in step with the new situation quickly.

According to the traffic experts, you must pace your speed to that of the traffic around you. You should be going no faster—or slower—than the cars in front, behind and on the sides of your own car. You should always keep plenty of space between you and the car ahead. Bumper chasers are asking for a rear end collision.

Stay in your own lane. Pass only when you have ample time and space, so you won't have to cut in and out sharply. Signal your lane changes. All of these things help you to keep in step with traffic—and to stay out of traffic crashes. Share the road driving is simple and safe. We can appreciate every person's right to be an individual, but traffic is no place to overdo it. In traffic, the safe way is to follow the crowd—not the showoffs.

SUMMER GIVES WAY TO FALL

The Northern Hemisphere spins into autumn at 7:35 a.m. eastern standard time Sunday, September 23.

Summer ends when the sun crosses the Equator. Or to put it more accurately, the earth reaches the point in its orbit where it axis is aimed neither away from nor toward the sun.

A perpetual tilt in the axis gives the earth its changes of season, the National Geographic Society says.

The tilt amounts to 23 1/2 degrees from an imaginary perpendicular. It always slants in the same direction, thus the North Pole leans toward the sun during part of the earth's journey and away from it during another part. The moment when the North Pole leans most directly toward the sun is the summer solstice which, in 1962, occurred on June 21.

Six months later, when our spinning planet is halfway around its elliptical trail, the North Pole reaches its farthest point from the sun to herald the beginning of winter.

At points on the orbit midway between the solstices, the autumnal and vernal equinoxes mark fall and spring. A few days before the vernal equinox and a few days after the autumnal equinox, day equals night.

The autumnal equinox is a reminder that changes are in the air. Birds wing south, their formations tracing dark, wavering tendrils against the sky. People made sluggish by a summer of wading through high humidity suddenly show a little more bounce in their step.

Life in general seems to quicken as children troop to and from school. The chatter of football announcers sets the pace for leaf-raking chores. The holiday season is just a couple of calendar pages away.

Autumn also brings a special brand of weather. Scientists explain that during the season's still, dry, lengthening nights, fewer cloud layers linger above the earth to contain its warmth.

Dew glistens as vapor condenses on surfaces quick-cooled by rapid dissipation of heat into the atmosphere. Fog forms in lowlands; streams and lakes send plumes of steam into the dry air.

It is a time for poets to dust off words describing bountiful harvests and tinkling-mornings. John Donne observed:

"No spring, nor summer beauty hath such grace.

As I have seen in one autumnal face."

Of course, different people react to the season in different ways. William Cullen Bryant had this greeting for autumn: "The melancholy days are come, the saddest of the year."

By December 22, autumn will all be over. The earth will have traveled another quarter of the way around the sun, and winter will be officially upon us.

Editorial Briefs

N. S. Savannah, the world's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, could cruise 14 times around the earth at speeds up to 23 knots without refueling, says the National Geographic Magazine. Costing almost $47 million, Savannah can accommodate 60 passengers and stow 10,000 tons of cargo.

Delicate, wispy cirrus clouds are ice crystals floating from four to seven miles above earth. Because of the great altitude, cirrus clouds often brilliantly reflect red and yellow hues before sunrise and after sunset.

The bull-horn acacia tree in Mexico sustains armies of fierce ants that protect its foliage. The slender biting ants live in the hollow thorns of the tree and feed on the nectarlike secretion. They fight off leaf-eating insects and browsing cattle.

A barbershop in Tahiti provides guitars rather than magazines so customers can play while waiting, the National Geographic Magazine says.

The Conestoga wagon, which carried freight in the East and pioneers in the West, was named for the place where it was first made in Pennsylvania, says the National Geographic Magazine. Heavy, slow, and exceedingly strong, the Conestoga was drawn by four or six horses and could carry five tons.

Scientists build satellites under sterile conditions that suggest a hospital operating room, says the National Geographic Magazine. Before assembling the electronic messengers, they scrub hands like doctors and vacuum clean their shoes. Even a smudgy thumbprint on a vital part of a satellite could cause contamination and weaken its resistance to the hazards of space.

Animism—the belief that all things have a spirit—persists in parts of Indonesia despite the rise of Hinduism and Islam, the National Geographic Magazine says. Rocks are revered as the source of the soul.

ACADEMY'S WAY? They are not saying anything for the press yet, but officials and supporters — and the thousands of alumni — of the little schools like Chowan, Wingate, Campbell, Louisburg, Atlantic Christian, etc. — are very, very much worried about North Carolina's plan to build 15 State supported junior colleges. Which the 1963 Legislature on this one!

The chilling fear is that these privately endowed, church supported colleges cannot compete with the new, modern as tomorrow, tax supported institutions.

Most of us have heard our parents speak of the old academies situated here and there at the turn of the century. In fact, many fine citizens still with us got their early training — all their formal education sometimes — in these schools.

Then came the State with mass education, the assembly line approach. Is there a single academy alive today?

BIG ONES, TOO... The big crop of war babies (1940-46) is now in full bloom and all colleges are bursting at the seams with the flood of students.

Within the next five years, say the experts, this vast tidal wave will subside. And at the same time — if the Board of Higher Education has its way — the State supported junior colleges will begin to function. Also in the works is a plan for further expansion, local units for day students, of the big State supported four year colleges.

The new St. Andrews College in Laurinburg, the still aborning Methodist College of Fayetteville — even long established Campbell and Mars Hill — could become dust in time under the crunching judgment of Government. Taxes are compulsory. Contributions to colleges are not. And the more you have of the former, the less available of the latter.

ROUGH ALL OVER... The annual Debutante Ball held here has never been what you would call a dance of the May. However since the last event it is again being referred to around these parts as the Debutante Brawl.

It was rough, not doubt about it, due mainly to the heavy drinking of unattached young males entirely free of restrictions and parental guidance.

And the same old college spirits brought a near riot after the Carolina-State game. They tell you in private out State College way Coach Earle Edwards has already had a successful season. No love lost.

TIGHTENING UP... The N. C. Revenue Department usually goes into the Legislature with more ideas for law changes than all the rest of the State department.

The Davie Co. ENTERPRISE RECORD is your BEST advertising medium in this territory.

ments rolled into one. This time will be no exception. Revenue Commissioner W. A. Johnson is a mild mannered man, a Harnett County attorney noted for his liberalism and solid support for Terry Sanford.

He had just gone in as top man with the money gatherers when the 1961 Legislature came to bat. Nevertheless, Johnson played no small part in wiping out the long list of petty, and often times confusing exemptions to the sales tax.

Now they are predicting that he will go into the next session of the General Assembly with a surplus in the General Fund of approximately 75 million dollars — give or take a few million. In relatively short time, Johnson has become a master at bringing in the sheaves. But he isn't satisfied. He is now turning his attention to the State Income Tax Law, we hear by grapevine. If he gets his way, certain "mistakes" in form filling out and filing which are now a misdemeanor will become a felony and carry a prison sentence in the revision.

NEW CAR SALES... The vigorous economy North Carolina is showing may be seen in new car sales: 11,226 for this August as compared with 8,991 for Aug. of 1961.

Here is the way they rank in sales for the year so far: Chevrolet, Ford, Pontiac, Falcon, Buick, Oldsmobile, Rambler, Corvair, Dodge, Comet, Plymouth, Mercury, Valiant, Chrysler, Cadillac, Studebaker, Lincoln, Imperial, and Willys.

Of the 3,842 foreign cars sold through August this year, 2,223 have been Volkswagens.

STILL PUSHING... We were present at the recent Benson Mule Day festivities for the Johnston County community observing its 75th birthday.

One of the most interesting aspects of Dr. I. Beverly Lake's appearance as principal speaker was not the speech itself — good as it was — but a half dozen young men who moved about among the crowd while the address was in progress.

They were loaded with car bumper banners reading "Democrats Need Lake '64." We would label them Very Young Democrats unable certainly to vote before 1964, if then. Certainly equal to the oft quoted "endurance of the man who sells insurance" is the persistence of the Lake supporters. For them, there seems to be no off season. They will have a booth at the State Fair. Whether Dr. Lake himself will be among the exhibits, we have not heard.

THE LEAST... Nothing has increased as little in cost over the years as your newspaper. We were recently looking over in the State Library newspapers — the New York Herald and the New York Tribune among them — published during the Civil War 100 years ago. Their cost, per copy: four cents... in about the same price range you pay for a newspaper today.

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS:

WASHINGTON — Congress is prepared to conclude its work for this session. Senate action on the much talked about Trade Bill, and House action on the Farm and Foreign Aid Bills have paved the way for adjournment. As this week began, the Senate and House had yet to act on a number of conference reports and legislative bills, but quick action could come on most of them. These included Senate consideration of the Farm, Foreign Aid, and Postal Revision — Employee's Pay Bills.

Trade Bills Last week the Senate passed the Trade Bill by a 78 to 8 vote. I voted for a number of amendments to the bill which were defeated. I regarded these provisions as necessary protections for American workers and industries. On final passage I voted for the bill, because I am convinced that trade is the lifeblood of commerce between nations. Under the bill the President

For The People By BERNADETTE W. HOYLE Public Information Officer North Carolina State Board

"It is cheaper to meet the needs of children during a few crucial years than it is to have them grow up without education and training, to perpetuate the problems of their family into the next generation." - Dr. Ellen Winston, Commissioner

The "K" family lived a turbulent, unsettled life. Both father and mother worked as domestic servants and their four small sons were cared for by two elderly relatives, both in ill health. Mr. K., an alcoholic, was out of a job frequently and was abusive to his wife and negligent of his family. His drunken bouts culminated in a court record of 24 arrests on charges that ranged from disorderly conduct and gambling, to assault with a deadly weapon on his wife, nonsupport, and finally, abandonment.

The grandmother and elderly aunt suffered from diabetes and high blood pressure and were unable to care for the children properly. All were undernourished. And the mother, weary from responsibility, became ill and was unable to work.

The family was reported to the county department of public welfare. With the help of the caseworker, the family was given both moral support and financial help. An aid to dependent children grant was obtained to help them meet the minimum needs of daily living.

The caseworker visited the home frequently and encouraged the children to make the most of their opportunities, pointing out that they could do much to improve their situation themselves. By the time the oldest son was 15 he was earning sufficient money to pay school fees, lunches, and personal necessities. He was graduated from high school at the age of 18. Then, with the help of a scholarship, he entered college and completed four years. He now holds a responsible position with a business firm.

The second son completed high school, attended college and later studied interior decoration in New York. He is now employed with an interior decorating company there and has recently married.

The third son completed high school, attended college for two years and is employed in a large industrial plant.

The youngest son completed one year in college and is employed as a salesman with an advertising firm. He is married and is buying a home.

None of the sons has ever been in difficulty for violation of the law. As each son outgrew his teenage job and entered college, he passed his job on to the next brother. Each son made a small contribution of his earnings towards helping with the maintenance of the home, and took care of his own educational fees and personal needs.

"I cannot say enough in favor of the aid to dependent children program," declared their mother. "I discussed the welfare payments with the boys even when they were young and made them understand the value and purpose of the money. I explained that if the welfare department helped us, we should try to help ourselves. We all tried." A few years of aid to dependent children help — but many years ahead during which these boys, now tax-paying citizens, are contributing members of the society that helped them.

receives authority to cut our tariffs as much as 50 percent over the next five years. It allows the President to cut tariffs further on products which the United States and Western Europe account for practically all of the world market. It empowers tariff negotiators to bargain on groups of commodities whereas heretofore they have bargained on an item by item basis. The bill grants certain loans to eligible import affected industries, and unemployment benefits to workers who lose their jobs by reason of import competition. This provision was highly controversial because it could prove extremely difficult to determine when an industry has unemployment by reason of imports and when the unemployment arises for other reasons.

The success or failure of the Trade Act of 1962 will depend upon how it is administered. If the administrators are unrealistic in their approach, if they do not fight for American trade outlets, if they do not drive good bargains for American industries, the bill could create more problems than it solves. Properly administered the Act can help American trade.

The Trade Act of 1962 like any trade bill has many limitations. It cannot take the place of wise tax policies, nor prudent governmental operation within federal budgets, nor cooperation by labor and management to allow American products to compete with foreign goods. The attitude that develops in these related policies certainly will affect American trade also in the years to come.

Higher Education Bill On Sept. 20, the House voted to recommit the Higher Education Bill to a Senate-House conference. This probably means that no further action will be taken on this bill at this session of Congress. House debate indicates that the House took this action because a substantial percentage of its members are convinced that the bill violates "the establishment of religion clause" of the First Amendment in that it authorizes loans and grants to church owned and church controlled institutions of higher learning.

When this bill was before the Senate some months ago, I anticipated that it would probably meet this fate if its proponents insisted on keeping in the bill the provisions extending the benefit of federal tax monies to church-owned and church controlled institutions of higher learning. It was for this reason that I fought in vain at that time to persuade the Senate to adopt an amendment which would have restricted aid of this character to publicly owned and publicly controlled universities and colleges.

60 Second Sermons By FRED DODGE

Tomorrow's Vacuum TEXT: "Waste of time is the most extravagant of all expenses" - Theophrastus.

Mrs. Newcomer employed a gardener. She supervised his work closely, continually giving directions until the gardener began to be annoyed.

One day after giving detailed instructions, she exclaimed impatiently, "John, in the time it takes me to tell you what to do, I could do it myself!"

The gardener removed his pipe from his mouth and nodded his head gravely. "Yes ma'am," he replied, "and in the time it takes me to listen, so could I."

The historian of art, Bernard Berenson, at 88 said, "I wish I could stand on a busy street corner, hat in hand, and beg people to throw me all their wasted hours." A man in the sun-down of his life appreciates more than others the value of time and the tremendous waste of it everywhere. Those things that are to come in our lives and in the world are determined not only by what has happened, but by our every action or failure to act now — today. That is the tragedy of wasted time. Tomorrow becomes a less important day because we wasted time today.

Uncle Dave From Davie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: Zeke Grubb's preacher come by the country store Saturday night, said it felt mighty good to set and rest for a spell. He told the fellers everybody in his congregation has had a summer vacation but him and he was as wore out as a peg-leg man working in a swamp.

He said a heap of his members figured he didn't work but a couple hours ever Sunday and didn't need no vacation. And he reported he had took the matter up with three of his Deacons and they claimed the Devil worked seven days a week and he ought to do the same.

He allowed as how he didn't mind going day and night as long as it was doing some good, but about half his going, he claimed, wasn't serving the Lord none a little bit. For instance, he pointed out, he had to call ever day to see how Katie Hightower was getting along from having a in-grown toe nail removed, and they had a meeting set up Monday night for the Kitchen Committee to decide on what color to paint the new garbage cans. He explained he had to attend all Committee meetings on account of him having to open 'em with prayer.

The good Parson said he never figured when he was going through the preaching Seminary that part of his time would be took up with in-grown toe nails and garbage cans. Fact is, he said, he wondered sometimes why they ever studied the Good Book in schools for preachers. His main job, he reported, was raising money and getting more members. He said ever Sunday right after the service Rufe Zinder rushes up and says, "How many did we have today?" And afore he can give Rufe the official count, Ezekiah Adams is waiting for the report on the collection plate.

Actual, he told the fellers, he would've made a better preacher if he had took salesmanship instead of the Bible at the Seminary. He claimed that the main thing folks wants now in a preacher is personality. He says a preacher has got to bubble over like alkey seltzer to be a big success. He told about one woman in his congregation telling him once about the best preacher they ever had at her church. She said this preacher helped her husband unload a wagon full of manure the very first time he ever come calling. The good Parson said he reckoned as long as a preacher is handy with fertilizer it don't make no difference how handy he is with theology.

He told the fellers he shore needed a little vacation to git back to normal, said he would like to take a trip to Africa to visit a Missionary friend of his. It would be mighty interesting, he allowed, to see if the work load with preachers was as steady in Africa as it was at home.

Yours truly, Uncle Dave

Social Security In Davie County

Newly installed electronic data processing equipment at the social security central record-keeping headquarters near Baltimore, Maryland, has made it possible to search through the records for the name of 365,000 people who are eligible for social security benefits but are not presently receiving them.

Robert G. Thomas, social security district manager in Salisbury, says, "These records show that some of these people may be living right here in the Davie County area. We are trying to get in touch with these people now."

Thomas went on to say that the electronic machine selected the names of all persons in social security records who are over 65 but have not yet applied for benefits. These people are being written to at the address given on their application for a social security card.

Since in most cases this application was filled out many years ago, a good number of these people have probably changed their addresses since then. The only people for whom the Social Security Administration keeps current home addresses are the 17 million people who receive benefit checks each month. Obviously, it could not undertake to keep current addresses for all the other 140 million people for whom social security accounts have been set up over the past 25 years.

So if you have worked under social security and are over 65 years old, but have not yet applied for payments, your best bet might be to check with your social security office now instead of waiting for your letter — especially if you have moved around since you got your social security card.

USE OF GRANULATED HEPTACHLOR AND HEPTACHLOR-IMPREGNATED FERTILIZER FOR ALFALFA WEEVIL CONTROL
W. V. Campbell
Associate Professor
R. L. ROBERTSON
Extension Entomologist

Alfalfa is one of the major crops capable of boasting the income of North Carolina farmers and help them reach the slogan goal "1.6 in '66". Unless the alfalfa weevil is effectively controlled, the anticipated increase in production and yield will be impossible.

Research conducted in North Carolina has shown that granulated heptachlor when applied in the fall will give excellent control of the alfalfa weevil without insecticide residues at harvest. Another formulation of heptachlor, heptachlor impregnated fertilizer, while not as good as granulated heptachlor, will also give satisfactory control and will be available for grower use in the fall, 1962. Information is presented to aid the grower in selecting a heptachlor formulation and to call attention to the advantages and disadvantages of fertilizer containing heptachlor for weevil control.

The N. C. Department of Agriculture advises that only fertilizer which has been impregnated with heptachlor may be registered for weevil control. Heptachlor granules physically mixed with fertilizer has given poor to erratic control of the weevil, therefore, this type of mix will not be registered for sale in North Carolina.

The following fertilizer grade and rate of heptachlor is allowed by the N. C. Dept. of Agriculture for alfalfa as a fall treatment:

Fertilizer Grade	Fertilizer Rate Lb./Acre	Heptachlor Lb.-Acre

Heptachlor impregnated onto fertilizer is less stable than the 2 1/2% granular heptachlor which is recommended and which has proved so effective against the weevil. Forty per cent of the heptachlor in the impregnated fertilizer is lost during three months storage. This suggests that the fertilizer-insecticide should be prepared and used within one month; preferably it should be prepared on an order basis. If the material were held over until the next growing season, it would be ineffective against the weevil.

Heptachlor impregnated fertilizer, when formulated correctly and applied at suggested rates uniformly over the entire field of alfalfa between October 15 and November 15, will give very good control of the weevil. The 1 lb. per acre of heptachlor in fertilizer, however, is slightly inferior for weevil control to the presently recommended 3/4 lb. 130 lb. 2 1/2% straight granular heptachlor.

There are advantages and disadvantages in the use of heptachlor-fertilizer treatment such as:

Advantages

1. Grower familiarity with applying fertilizer.
2. Color and quantity of material may enable the grower to apply the material more uniformly without skips.

Disadvantages

1. One pound per acre actual heptachlor in the fertilizer formulation is slightly inferior to 3/4 lb. per acre applied as a 2 1/2% granular formulation for weevil control.
2. Restricts the grower to a fixed amount and grade of fertilizer since the exact amount of fertilizer must be used to apply the required 1 lb. per acre heptachlor.

Summary of Practices for Alfalfa Weevil Control in the Fall Should

1. Make application between October 15 and November 15. Elevations above 2,500 feet apply October 1-15.
2. Calibrate and use good application equipment to apply the correct amount of heptachlor.
3. Apply 30 lb. 2 1/2% heptachlor granules per acre.

550 lb. 0-9-27 fertilizer containing 3.0 lb. heptachlor per ton or 800 lb. containing 2.5 lb. heptachlor per ton.

Should Not

1. Heptachlor should not be applied before or after the recommended dates.
2. Heptachlor granules or heptachlor impregnated fertilizer should not be applied at planting time.
3. Heptachlor should not be scratched into the soil.
4. Fertilizer containing heptachlor should not be prepared or purchased far in advance of anticipated use.
5. Excess heptachlor-fertilizer should not be held over and used the following season for weevil control.
6. Alfalfa treated with heptachlor should not be grazed or fed until normal first-crop cutting the following year.

Woman's Club Tour Of Homes Will Be Conducted October 5th

The Mocksville Woman's Club will sponsor a "Tour of Homes" on Friday, Oct. 5, from 2 to 6 p. m. in the afternoon.

Tickets for the tour may be secured from any member of the Woman's Club or from Mrs. Henry Blair and Mrs. S. W. Brown, Jr., co-chairmen of the ticket committee.

The homes may be toured in any order, and any or all may be visited. Anyone who does not have a ticket prior to the appointed hours may secure a ticket at the door of the homes to be toured.

The Tour of Homes will include: the Coolceme Plantation, the George Martin home, the Woodrow Wilson home, the home of Mrs. J. Frank Clement and Mrs. E. W. Crow, the S. W. Brown, Jr., home, the Francis Slate home and the Arthur Upshaw, Jr., home.

In order to acquaint those not too familiar with the homes to be visited, a series of articles written by the owners will appear in this newspaper for the next several weeks describing them.

The following are three of such articles:

The Wilson Home

Our desire for a wide open interior that retained privacy yet made the most of the outdoors seemed to be contradictory, but the results we have achieved tell a different story.

From the living room, there is an uninterrupted view to the family room, dining room, and to the rear patio and yard beyond. Open planning in the living area and kitchen contributes to an informal atmosphere. The study bedrooms and baths are isolated from the living area affording complete privacy.

The ample garage and basement provide adequate storage space, and a utility room and half bath separating the garage and kitchen is a most convenient feature.

The house is constructed of brick and would be considered of contemporary design.

Taynuilt

Residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin

Taynuilt received its name from the little village in the Scottish highlands where we were engaged to be married. Written about by the poet Burns, it translates from Gaelic as "home by the stream".

Although we began consulting an architect, Mr. William Sprinkle of Durham in 1956, a basic conflict between modern and traditional appeared early and delayed any concrete plans or ideas. At last we compromised on the architecture known as "Monterey" and Taynuilt was designed along this line. This type of architecture provides for spacious windows and simple lines while preserving a traditional quality.

In 1958 the plans for Taynuilt were completed and Mr. W. R. Davis agreed to build it for us. Originally staked out in April, Taynuilt was ready for us to move into on Washington's birthday in 1959.

Our plan calls for two construction projects in addition to the original house. One of these, a garage was added to the north end of the house in 1961, while the other, which provides for a study, bathroom and downstairs bedroom, remains to be added to the south end of the house.

The house is built on a 40-acre tract of land which is as yet largely undeveloped. Although a minimum amount of landscaping has been done, our plans call for a small fishing pond in front of the house and a tennis court to the side of the house.

We enjoy gardening and raising animals and we are looking forward to developing our home and property.

THE SLATE HOME

By Mrs. Francis W. Slate

Our home, which we have occupied for a year now, was built by H. R. Hendrix, Jr., of Mocksville. Our lot was part of the Hanes Estate.

Home building is exciting—clipping ideas from newspapers and magazines, mental pictures of other homes visited and building manuals. This we have been doing for 12 years. The year prior to building was spent sorting out, discarding some, and putting others together.

Our ranch style home is white rock face brick with Carolina stone from Mt. Airy. There are several built-in features, including a "fall-out shelter" (not complete), which we hope never to use.

We did our own interior decorating which is contemporary in design.

In short, we have a liveable home which we plan never to have to "add on" to.

JERUSALEM

MRS. O. H. HARTLEY

Mrs. Charlie Beck who suffered a slight heart attack last Tuesday, is a patient at Rowan Memorial Hospital, Salisbury.

Olle Hartley and Miss Elizabeth H. Alexander attended the funeral of James R. Dwiggins Tuesday afternoon held at Walnut Cove Baptist Church. Mr. Dwiggins was killed in an auto accident in Tampa, Fla. Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Frye attended services at Bethlehem Methodist Church Sunday in Redland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Whisnant visited Mr. and Mrs. Dave Beck Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Olle Hartley visited her father, Jim Potts Wednesday afternoon at Hill Top Rest Home. Mr. Potts who has been ill for a few days, is improving.

Mrs. Fay Cove attended a Seminar at Bethlehem Methodist Church last Thursday.

The Bill Seaford family held their annual family reunion Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie W. Beck.

CEDAR CREEK

By MRS. W. H. EATON

The Rev. H. W. Wiley's theme for the worship service Sunday held at the National Convention in Chicago, Ill. was, "Sight Seeing in Heaven".

Ambrose Brock who has been sick the past week, is able to be out again.

Miss Lou Francis Eaton was at home for the weekend.

Jacob Blackwell of Redland was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Brock Sunday. George Foote and Will Eaton made a business trip to Harmony Friday night.

Alta Eaton has returned home from Duke Hospital in Durham. Bernardine and Cathy Eaton's guest the past weekend was Miss Adren Goina of Mocksville.

Thomas Eaton, Mrs. Ann Campbell of Winston-Salem, and Mr. and Mrs. Odell Eaton of Redland, brought a lunch Sunday to the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Eaton for a picnic. Mrs. Lucy Tatum was a guest. Denise, Michael and Albert Clay Daryl and Kenneth Eaton were guests of Donnie Eaton Sunday.

Mrs. Cora Bailey of Winston-Salem visited her brothers here Saturday.

Fifth Award

$100

REMEMBER

These special "Prize Vote Ballots" apply on the Big Awards and the winners of these big bonus vote ballots will have the better opportunity of winning the best awards on the list.

CANDIDATES WARNING

Do not underestimate the amount of business necessary to win. Real results will be realized by the big winners on this "Special Prize Vote" ballot offer.

ARE YOU IN TO WIN?

WIN BY RE-SALES

Re-Sale subscriptions count 14,000 Extra Votes on each dollar collected instead of the period vote. That is, each $3.00 subscription turned in bearing the name of the candidate who sold the first subscription, carries 30,000 extra or re-sale votes, in addition to the 10,000 regular votes. A 5-year re-sale subscription would earn 125,000 extra votes. Fifteen 5-year re-sale subscriptions would pile up including the regular vote 3,675,000 votes. All votes that you secure this week will apply on winning one of the "Special Prize" Vote Ballots which will help determine the big winners.

Notice From Campaign Headquarters

There Will Be No Extra Prizes Of Any Nature During The Remainder of the Campaign
BUT THERE WILL BE A DROP IN VOTES AFTER SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 29TH FOR LAST PERIOD OF CAMPAIGN
THEREFORE, all candidates are advised to turn in all subscriptions possible this week as they will count more extra votes, and also apply on the Special "PRIZE VOTE BALLOTS." Candidates are notified that the campaign will close on Saturday, October 6th.

MAKE EVERY HOUR COUNT

All candidates realize the vital importance of working with might and main these few days left.
Plan a working schedule for yourself this week—decide upon the number of subscriptions you would like to get each day—then go out and get them. That is the spirit that wins.

CAMPAIGN FACTS

Time Is Growing Short: Win Or?

With the time growing ever shorter for the big announcement of the campaign winners no doubt every worker who hopes to be among the better prize winners fully realizes that a lot depends on just how hard they work and what results they obtain. There is no time to lose if you are planning to be a big award winner. That FREE million votes to be won by Saturday of this week can play an important part in the size award you will win. Win a MILLION FREE VOTES and win one of the larger awards.

Something To Think About

Here is something for the workers and best vote-getters in The "Campaign of Progress" to give some serious thought to and make some real calculations. There is a great difference in the value of the big awards and the smaller ones. It is always very possible for some good workers who have been striving for the bigger awards to slacken their effort at this critical stage of the campaign. This could cause them to lose the great values which they might have won had they kept diligently at work until the finish line is reached. There is a $2,000 value difference between the First Award and the Second Award. There is a $2,250 value difference between the first and third award. Candidates should realize that this difference can be gained or lost in the last weeks of the campaign.

If You Plan To Win Big Awards

The three 1,000,000 free Prize Vote Ballots which will be won by the end of this present week will play a very definite part in the winning of the three major awards offered in The Enterprise and The Courier Campaign of Progress. 1,000,000 free votes will be awarded to each of the three workers who have earned the three largest numbers of votes for the entire first five periods of the campaign. The fifth period ends this Saturday, September 29th. With the close running between several of the leading workers it will be a "Nip and Tuck" race this week to see who the lucky three will be. All votes gained from the very beginning of the campaign and those obtained during this entire week will count on the winning of the Free Prize Vote Ballots of 1,000,000 votes each.

IMPORTANT

We urge those who have hopes of being a big award winner to lose no time this present week as these extra votes will apply directly on the winning of the better awards.

Friends and boosters of the campaign workers who plan to give a subscription or Re-Sale to their favorite candidate should by all means give it this week before Saturday, September 29th. These subscriptions will count for more votes to apply on winning a million free votes and on winning the 1963 Ford Galaxie Sedan

Tomorrow-GO JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLET for '63

Cover this car's price tag and you might think it cost a thousand dollars more. It offers luxurious styling, extremely comfortable, spacious and silent interiors... plus ways to keep it looking and running like new when a lot of others have started to sag and sigh: a new way to flush and dry rocker panels under the doors of its Body by Fisher to guard against rusting... self-adjusting brakes... Delcotron generator for longer battery life. If you ever wondered why Chevrolet leads its field, a drive in this '63 should answer all your questions.

GO CHEVY II for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

Hard as it may be to believe, this year's Chevy II is better, better than last year's and better than anything in its class. It combines the new easy-care features of the big Chevrolet with its own wonderful attributes of parkable size, four- or six-cylinder fuel economy and interiors that would do justice to cars that cost twice as much.

GO CORVAIR for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

Change it? Calm yourself, nobody's going to mess with a winner like this one! We did add self-adjusting brakes and a fully aluminized muffler; interiors are refined a bit, and you'll notice some trim changes, but the rest is pure untampered-with Corvair. Oh yes, we changed the taillights so all those people you pass will know you're driving a '63.

LIBRARY NEWS

By MRS. I. H. HUSKE

The Great Books Discussion Group will meet Oct. 4 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Davie County Public Library. Selections from "The Federalist" and "The Constitution of the United States" will be discussed. Come and join this group.

Mrs. R. B. Sanford, Jr., is working on a Directory of Clubs and Organizations in Davie County. She would like to know the name, address, and telephone number of each president of this group of organizations. She is also asking for information as to the time and place of meeting of each club. This directory is being compiled and sponsored by the Davie County Public Library for the convenience of Davie County residents, and Mrs. Sanford is contributing her services as a volunteer worker on this project. Please call her at 634-2390 or call the library so that your organization will not be left out of this directory.

This week is National Dog Week, and since there are so many dog lovers in our county, we are reminding them that they can find several excellent books on dogs, their care and training, in the library. If you are interested in these, why not come in and ask for: "The American Kennel Club's The Complete Dog Book; The History and Standard of Breeds Admitted to AKC Registration; And The Training, Feeding Care, and Handling of Pure Breed Dogs, or Arthur Leiber's Companion Dogs. How to Choose, Train and Care for Them, or Leiber's book called How To Raise And Train A Pedigreed or Mixed Breed Puppy. In addition, you will find numbers of entertaining stories about dogs, such as Smith's "Famous Dogs of Famous People," and some of Albert Payson Terhune's dog stories. After reading these, you'll enjoy and love your dog even more.

Davie County Public Library. Open 9 to 5, Monday through Friday; 9 to 12 Saturday.

Coolseemee Branch: Open 9 to 11 and 2 to 5 Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday; 9 to 12 Saturday.
