Find the strength
for your life...

Does it seem to you sometimes that the world has gotten so crowded and complex that you just don't count at all in the grand scheme of things? It's not uncommon, that feeling. We feel helpless . . . unable to alter or even really to understand ourselves and the world we live in.

Faith is missing—and because of that, spiritual strength is.

But faith and spiritual strength can be found, nourished. Then they grow within you through regular worship. This week go to your church or synagogue. Start to build a fuller, more meaningful life. Cherish your faith and keep it strong so that it may strengthen you.

Regular Exercise Can Provide Both Physical and Mental Tonic, says AMA

ISOMETRIC EXERCISES — The following exercises do not involve movement, but rather muscular contractions. One of their advantages is that many can be done at times and places where normal exercise would be impossible, such as in the office. Hold each contraction forcefully for six seconds. Repeating is not necessary.

(1) Organ Grinder. Push hand against hand, then pull hand against hand.

(2) Thinker. Push forehead against palm, then push back of head against palm(s).

(3) Bird. Put back of hand against door jamb, then push palms in the same manner.

(4) Sampson. Push palms against door jamb, then straighten arms high against jamb and push again.

(5) Sista. Sitting with back against one door jamb, push feet against other side, then push other foot in same manner.

There's more to physical fitness than mere muscles, but you can't be truly healthy and a bundle of fat at the same time.

To be physically fit you must be both medically fit and dynamically fit. The two don't necessarily go hand in hand, points out Raymond L. White, M.D., director of Environmental Medicine and Medical Services for the American Medical Association.

"Medical fitness means body soundness. This can be determined only by a medical examination. Dynamic fitness or 'action capacity' is a measurement of strength, agility and endurance," he said.

"A person who shuns activity may get a 'clean bill of health' from his doctor but if he can't endure even slight exertion, he's hardly physically fit. On the other hand, neither is the athlete with a chronic or undetected health problem."

Concerned about strength and endurance in a push-button age.

But the fact is, the human body was not designed for push buttons but for work, said Dr. White. "The absence of dynamic fitness through lack of physical exertion is a detriment to health. Furthermore, muscle tone, or lack of it, can be a factor in your whole outlook on life."

Strength and endurance, developed through regular exercise, leads to skill and agility and adds to poise and grace. Not only do daily tasks become easier, you also look better and so feel more at ease in social situations.

Even more evident, however, are the benefits to physical health, Dr. White pointed out.

Since exercise is a factor in weight control, it indirectly aids in preventing degenerative diseases, such as diabetes and arthritis, which are more prevalent in the obese.

Evidence indicates that exercise also may help prevent heart and blood vessel diseases. Active people have fewer heart attacks and a better recovery rate when such attacks do occur.

The best exercise is enjoyable exercise. Activities such as hiking, swimming, skiing, tennis or gardening along with their physical benefits can provide relief from tension, thus serving as a safe, natural tranquilizer.

"When there is no opportunity for taking exercise in such form, however, a daily walk and series of callisthenics can provide much the same tonic.

Above are a few examples of scientifically sound exercises, taken from the AMA pamphlet, "Physical Fitness." Used daily, they will help to increase muscular strength, body suppleness and motor motion, and to improve circulation and other body functions.

Start out slowly, Dr. White warned, and gradually work up to the point where you can do all of those exercises quickly without stopping.

ACP Provides Effective Conservation Aid

Individual farmers, or groups of farmers, with conservation problems on their land would do well to discuss the matter with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, A. P. Hassell, Jr., Executive Director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee said today.

Many times, the cost-share assistance available under the Agricultural Conservation Program makes it possible to carry out projects that farmers cannot accomplish alone. And, many times, pooling their own resources and the available ACP assistance is the only way a group of farmers can solve a problem that extends beyond the boundaries of a single farm.

Mr. Hassell explained that, with the 1964 ACP well underway, work has already been started on formulating the 1965 program which will be in effect this fall and next year. ACP applies to farmland throughout the 50 states, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. It is especially effective since it is formulated by local people to deal scientifically with local—as well as national—conservation problems. Needed conservation measures are recommended by local farm leaders and technicians of several agencies and organizations.

Because requests for conservation assistance generally far outstrip the available program funds, priority is given to work that is needed most. In some areas the conservation of scarce water is absolutely necessary to the survival of farmers and ranchers as well as nonfarm people. In these cases, such ACP measures as water impoundments and preventing water waste in transit may be the answer to the water conservation problem. Soil erosion problems may be solved with some of the same practices.

Where land should be converted to trees or wildlife habitat, or where existing timber stands need to be improved, ACP may help through cost-sharing for tree planting practices or stand improvement on farms and woodland holdings.

In controlling erosion of farmland—the country's most extensive conservation problem—mechanical measures are important, and ACP has helped farmers terrace and install other erosion control structures on millions of acres. Vegetative cover, however, is the most widely used and adapted method of controlling erosion. ACP helps with about 20 million acres of vegetative cover establishment or improvement each year.

Broyhill Salute Dinner Planned

A special dinner arranged as a "Salute to Jim Broyhill" has been announced by Mrs. Waller Zachery of Yadkinville, District GOP Chairman, for Saturday, July 25, in Lenoir. The outdoor affair planned for the Lenoir Optimist Park will raise funds for the campaign to re-elect Congressman Broyhill to the House of Representatives from North Carolina's 9th District.

The dinner has been conceived by friends and supporters of Broyhill, according to Mrs. Zachery, as a "tribute to the fine and dedicated representation Congressman Broyhill has given the people of this District in Washington during his first term in office." "Many people in both political parties," she explained, "have asked how they can express their appreciation to Jim for a job well done. We hope that all of them will join their friends on July 25 to salute his efforts in their behalf."

A program of varied entertainment is planned and an outstanding nationally-known speaker will deliver the principal address of the evening. Congressman Charles Raper Jones of the 8th District of North Carolina has also accepted an invitation to participate in the program.

Tickets for the dinner are now available at $10 in all of the eleven counties of the Congressional District. Those from neighboring areas wishing to take part in "Salute to Broyhill" may obtain tickets by contacting Mrs. Zachery in Yadkinville.

Big Horse Show Set For Kernersville

The 20th Annual Kernersville Horse Show sponsored by the Kernersville Fourth of July Celebration, Inc. will be held on Friday evening, July 3 and all day on the 4th of July at Kernersville. The Friday night show will start at 8:30 p. m. with 20 classes being shown. The event is held each year at the Sutton Stadium on the grounds of the Kernersville School and everybody is invited.

Over $5,000 in money, trophies and ribbons will be awarded. Both the Friday evening show and the Saturday morning, afternoon and evening shows have been approved by the American Quarter Horse Association, The National Cutting Horse Association and the Carolina Quarter Horse Association.

Horses for the 20th Annual Kernersville Horse Show have been entered from as far away as Canada, Arizona, Texas, Pennsylvania and the southern horse show "has more entries now than any approved Q. H. show has ever had in the State of North Carolina. Three years ago Kernersville put on the first Quarter Horse Show, approved by the National Association, ever held in North Carolina.

On Saturday morning the festivities for the Fourth will open with a parade with 20 classes for prizes and awards. The parade includes horses, riders, ponies, clowns, floats, novelties, animal drawn floats, antique cars, a class for Model "As" and sports cars. These are just some of the sights you will see.

Aside from the show horses there will be barrel racing, pole bending contests, junior cutting, senior cutting and open cutting.

Lester Platt and Earl Scruggs will be at the Horse Show and will appear in a morning, afternoon and evening show with the Foggy Mountain Boys. Ray Pillow will be a special guest star at all the shows. The shows will be held at the school gymnasium adjacent to the show ring.

During the show on Saturday morning July 4th, the selection of the Saddle Queen and the Saddle King of North Carolina will take place. This feature of the show is always an enjoyable one and draws contestants from many horse loving sections of the State. It is a very colorful addition to the Show, each year, as all entrants must wear Western garb and ride a mount over 55 inches.

The Kernersville Horse Shows are designed to be entertaining to the entire family. There will be the English riding horses, pleasure horses, walking horses, ponies and other classes aside from Quarter Horse Division of the show.

The 4th of July Celebration, Inc., of Kernersville, has always drawn large crowds and hundreds of persons come year after year.

The churches of Kernersville will have food and refreshments, far beyond the quality and variety usually found at such occasions. So come spend the day and the evening with your friends and your family.

The only meal cooler to fix than the one you cook electrically!

If cooking a simple meal makes your whole kitchen fry, take note of this . . . Actual tests prove cooking with a flameless electric range can keep your kitchen up to 16° cooler than any other way. Here's why:
Electric surface cooking is cooler and faster because it's more efficient. Heat transfers directly to the pan, not around it into the room. The kitchen stays cooler, and so does the cook!
Electric oven cooking helps keep you cooler, too. Heavy insulation on all six sides holds baking heat in, so you can fix any meal in unfrazzled comfort.

Extra coolness is only one of the reasons why you're smart to cook electrically. Discover the others at your favorite electric appliance dealer, or at Duke Power soon.

can you spare 9 minutes to read a message 19 centuries old?

The Sermon on the Mount is for everyone. Anyone who reads it will be happier today. Anyone who carries it in his heart will be happier forever. Read...re-read...and understand its words. No speech ever promised...or delivered...so much.

WHEN he saw the crowds of people he went up on the mountain. There he seated himself, and when his disciples had come up to him, he opened his lips to teach them. And he said:

★ Blessed are those who feel their spiritual need, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to them! Blessed are the mourners, for they will be consoled! Blessed are the humble-minded, for they will possess the land! Blessed are those who are hungry and thirsty for righteousness, for they will be satisfied! Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy! Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God! Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called God's sons! Blessed are those who have endured persecution for their uprightness, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to them! Blessed are you when people abuse you, and persecute you, and falsely say everything bad of you, on my account. Be glad and exult over it, for you will be richly rewarded in heaven, for that is the way they persecuted the prophets who went before you!

★ You are the salt of the earth! But if salt loses its strength, how can it be made salt again? It is good for nothing but to be thrown away and trampled underfoot! You are the light of the world! A city that is built upon a hill cannot be hidden. People do not light a lamp and put it under a peck-measure; they put it on its stand and it gives light to everyone in the house. Your light must burn in that way among men so that they will see the good you do, and praise your Father in heaven.

★ Do not suppose that I have come to do away with the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to do away with them but to fulfill them. For I tell you, as long as heaven and earth endure, not one dotting of an i or crossing of a t will be dropped from the Law until it is all observed. Anyone, therefore, who weakens one of the slightest of these commands, and teaches others to do so, will be ranked lowest in the Kingdom of Heaven; but anyone who observes them and teaches others to do so will be ranked high in the Kingdom of Heaven. For I tell you that unless your uprightness is far superior to that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never even enter the Kingdom of Heaven!

★ You have heard that men were told "You shall not commit adultery." But I tell you that anyone who strays from his marriage in thoughts of lust toward another has already committed adultery in his heart. But if your right eye makes you fall, get rid of it, throw it away, for you might better lose one part of your body than have it all thrown into the pit! If your right hand makes you fall, get rid of it, throw it away! For you might better lose one part of your body than have it all go down to the pit!

★ They were told, "Anyone who divorces his wife must give her a certificate of divorce." But I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife on any ground, except unfaithfulness, makes her commit adultery, and anyone who marries her after she is divorced commits adultery.

★ Again, you have heard that the men of old were told, "You shall not swear falsely, but you must fulfill your oaths to the Lord." But I tell you not to swear at all, either by heaven, for it is God's throne, or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great king. You must not swear by your own head, for you cannot make one single hair white or black. But your way of speaking must be "Yes" or "No." Anything that goes beyond that comes from the evil one.

★ You have heard that the men of old were told "You shall not murder," and "Whoever murders will have to answer to the court." But I tell you that anyone who gets angry with his brother will have to answer to the court, and anyone who speaks contemptuously to his brother will have to answer to the great council, and anyone who says to his brother, "You cursed fool!" will have to answer for it in the fiery pit! So when you are presenting your gift at the altar, if you remember that your brother has any grievance against you, leave your gift right there before the altar and go and make up with your brother; then come back and present your gift. Be quick and come to terms with your opponent while you are on the way to court with him, or he may hand you over to the judge, and the judge may hand you over to the officer, and you will be thrown into prison. I tell you, you will never get out again until you have paid the last penny!

★ You have heard that they were told, "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." But I tell you not to resist injury, but if anyone strikes you on your right cheek, turn the other to him too; and if anyone wants to sue you for your shirt, let him have your coat too. And if anyone forces you to go one mile, go two miles with him. If anyone begs from you, give to him, and when anyone wants to borrow from you, do not turn away.

★ You have heard that they were told, "You must love your neighbor and hate your enemy." But I tell you, love your enemies and pray for your persecutors, so that you may show yourselves true sons of your Father in heaven, for he makes his sun rise on bad and good alike, and makes the rain fall on the upright and the wrongdoers. For if you love only those who love you, what reward can you expect? Do not the very tax-collectors do that? And if you are polite to your brothers and no one else, what is there remarkable in that? Do not the very heathen do that? So you are to be perfect, as your heavenly Father is!

★ But take care not to do your good deeds in public for people to see, for if you do, you will get no reward from your Father in heaven. So when you are going to give to charity, do not blow a trumpet before yourself, as the hypocrites do, in the places of worship and the streets, to make people praise them. I tell you, that is all the reward they will get! But when you give to charity, your own left hand must not know what your right hand is doing, so that your charity may be secret, and your Father who sees what is secret will reward you.

★ When you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites, for they like to pray standing in the places of worship and in the corners of the squares, to let people see them. I tell you, that is the only reward they will get! But when you pray, go into your own room, and shut the door, and pray to your Father who is unseen, and your Father who sees what is secret will reward you. And when you pray, do not repeat empty phrases as the heathen do, for they imagine that their prayers will be heard if they use words enough. You must not be like them. For God, who is your Father, knows what you need before you ask him. This, therefore, is the way you are to pray:

*'Our Father in heaven,
Your name be revered!
Your kingdom come!
Your will be done on earth
as it is done in heaven!
Give us today bread for the day,
and forgive us our debts,
as we have forgiven our debtors,
and do not subject us to temptation,
but save us from the evil one.'*

For if you forgive others when they offend you, your heavenly Father will forgive you too. But if you do not forgive others when they offend you, your heavenly Father cannot forgive you for your offenses.

★ When you fast, do not put on a gloomy look, like the hypocrites, for they neglect their personal appearance to let people see that they are fasting. I tell you, that is all the reward they will get. But when you fast, perfume your hair and wash your face, so that no one may see that you are fasting, except your Father who is unseen, and your Father who sees what is secret, will reward you.

★ Do not store up your riches on earth, where moths and rust destroy them, and where thieves break in and steal them, but store up your riches in heaven, where moths and rust cannot destroy them, and where thieves cannot break in and steal them. For wherever your treasure is, your heart will be also. The eye is the lamp of the body. If then your eye is sound, your whole body will be light, but if your eye is unsound, your whole body will be dark. If, therefore, your very light is darkness, how deep the darkness will be! No slave can belong to two masters, for he will either hate one and love the other, or stand by one and make light of the other. You cannot serve God and money. Therefore, I tell you, do not worry about life, wondering what you will have to eat or drink, or about your body, wondering what you will have to wear. Is not life more important than food, and the body than clothes? Look at the wild birds. They do not sow or reap, or store their food in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more account than they? But which of you with all his worry can add a single hour to his life? Why should you worry about clothing? See how the wild flowers grow. They do not toil or spin, and yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his splendor was never dressed like one of them. But if God so beautifully dresses the wild grass, which is alive today and is thrown into the furnace tomorrow, will he not much more surely clothe you, you who have so little faith? So do not worry and say, "What shall we have to eat?" or "What shall we have to drink?" or

"What shall we have to wear?" For these are all things the heathen are in pursuit of, and your heavenly Father knows well that you need all this. But you must make his kingdom, and uprightness before him, your greatest care, and you will have all these other things besides. So do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will have worries of its own. Let each day be content with its own ill!

★ Pass no more judgments upon other people, so that you may not have judgment passed upon you. For you will be judged by the standard you judge by, and men will pay you back with the same measure you have used with them. Why do you keep looking at the speck in your brother's eye, and pay no attention to the beam that is in your own? How can you say to your brother, "Just let me get that speck out of your eye," when all the time there is a beam in your own? You hypocrite! First get the beam out of your own eye, and then you can see to get the speck out of your brother's eye.

★ Do not give what is sacred to dogs, and do not throw your pearls before pigs, or they will trample them under their feet and turn and tear you in pieces. Ask, and what you ask will be given you. Search, and you will find what you search for. Knock, and the door will open to you. For it is always the one who asks who receives, and the one who searches who finds, and the one who knocks to whom the door opens. Which of you men when his son asks him for some bread will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will he give him a snake? So if you, bad as you are, know enough to give your children what is good, how much more surely will your Father in heaven give what is good to those who ask him for it! Therefore, you must always treat other people as you would like to have them treat you, for this sums up the Law and the Prophets.

★ Go in at the narrow gate. For the road that leads to destruction is broad and spacious, and there are many who go in by it. But the gate is narrow and the road is hard that leads to life, and there are few that find it.

★ Beware of the false prophets, who come to you disguised as sheep but are ravenous wolves underneath. You can tell them by their fruit. Do people pick grapes off thorns, or figs off thistles? Just so any sound tree bears good fruit, but a poor tree bears bad fruit. No sound tree can bear bad fruit, and no poor tree can bear good fruit. Any tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and burned. So you can tell them by their fruit. It is not everyone who says to me "Lord! Lord!", who will get into the Kingdom of Heaven, but only those who do the will of my Father in heaven. Many will say to me on that Day, "Lord! Lord! Was it not in your name that we prophesied, and by your name that we drove out demons, and by your name that we did many mighty acts?" Then I will say to them plainly, "I never knew you! Go away from me, you who do wrong!"

★ Everyone, therefore, who listens to this teaching of mine and acts upon it, will be like a sensible man who built his house on rock. And the rain fell, and the rivers rose, and the winds blew, and beat about that house, and it did not go down, for its foundations were on rock. And anyone who listens to this teaching of mine and does not act upon it, will be like a foolish man who built his house on sand. And the rain fell and the rivers rose, and the winds blew and beat about the house, and it went down, and its downfall was complete.

★ When Jesus had finished this discourse, the crowds were astounded at his teaching, for he taught them like one who had authority and not like their scribes.

County Farm Agent LEO F. WILLIAMS

TESTING SOILS FOR FAIL SEEDED CROPS

Do you want to do yourself a favor! If you do, take soil samples now from the fields you plan to seed in small grain, pastures and hay crops this fall says county extension chairman Leo F. Williams. Established pastures and other perennial crops such as alfalfa could be tested now he continued. There are several good reasons why you should take soil samples now explained Williams. First, it is just good business to plan ahead and make good use of the best guide available for fertilizing your crops, "a soil test". Second and perhaps most important, is to determine the soil pH or lime level. Your soil pH may be too low for best crop production. If lime is needed it should be applied 2 to 3 months prior to seeding for best results. However, if weather conditions prevent applying lime this far in advance put it on any time you can even if just prior to seeding. An adequately limed and fertilized crop always brings the most profit, says Williams. Most of our crop land in Davie County need lime, he adds. But the only means of knowing which fields need the lime and how much they need is to have your soil tested. Testing your soil now will give you information in adequate time for you to get the job done properly. So don't delay. Take your soil samples as soon as possible. Come in to office for soil sample boxes, information sheets says Williams.

Social Security In Davie County

"Some household workers in Davie County may lose out on social security checks because their employers don't report their cash wages for social security," stated Taft McCoy, social security field representative. "As many as half of all household workers are not getting the social security credits that are due them," he said. According to McCoy, a household employer must report all cash wages of $50 or more paid in a calendar quarter to a maid, cook, cleaning woman, gardener, or other household worker. The calendar quarters end with the months of March, June, September and December. The social security reports are filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue in Greensboro in the month after the end of each calendar quarter. For example, the report for the April, May, and June quarter is due in July. The employer sends a tax payment of 7-1/4 percent of cash wages with these reports. He holds out half of this amount from the wages paid to the worker. The report is very simple. It is an envelope form that can be filled out in a few minutes, and is available at any social security or Internal Revenue Office. "A worker's social security record is based on the reports his employer sends in," McCoy emphasized. "If this record is not correct, the worker will probably lose some or all of his monthly payments." McCoy urged employers to make the report on time to avoid paying penalty and interest. For information about reporting household employees, call 633-4512 or visit the social security office at 105 Corriher Avenue, Salisbury, N.C.

Sometimes we're tempted to try it!

When you're supplying a vital commodity like electricity, it's not just enough to meet the present needs of customers. We're looking ahead 5, 10, even 15 years from now . . . to a time when the power requirements of this area will be several times what they are today. This means planning, and lots of it. It means constant analyzing of potential new power sites. It means mountains of blueprints for future installations. It means experimenting with new power sources, like the nuclear station at Farr, S. C. . . In short, it means "reading the future" with every tool available. (Every scientist one that is!)

By looking ahead Duke Power continues to help you enjoy the highest standards of living at the lowest practical cost . . . through the modern magic of electricity.

Hassell Discusses Wheat Prices
Some wheat farmers are blaming the 1964 wheat program for the low price of wheat this year. In doing so they are not fully aware of the type of program that was available prior to passage of the 1964 wheat program according to A. P. Hassell, Jr., State Executive Director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee.

Hassell says we need to review the situation prior to the new legislation in April. Wheat farmers voted in May of 1963 against quotas for the 1964 wheat crop. This meant that wheat farmers could produce an unlimited amount of wheat without penalty. It also meant lower price supports. The price support national level would have been $1.26 per bushel for those farmers planting within their allotment. The commodity credit corporation is authorized to sell surplus wheat at 105 per cent of the basic support rate. With these low price supports and the selling of CCC owned wheat there was little doubt in the minds of the experts that the 1964 wheat crop would sell cheap.

The wheat program enacted in April of 1964 was an emergency measure. Its purpose was to give farmers an opportunity to get a better price for their wheat, if they participated in the program. The program provided for diversion payments for farmers and price support plus value of marketing certificates to be paid participating farmers. Even with the emergency program wheat farmers may get less for wheat than they received last year. Hassell is quick to point out that without the emergency program the loss of income would have been much greater.

Carnegie Course To Be Held In Cooleemee

Cooleemee Civic Clubs announced this week that the Dale Carnegie Course will be given in Cooleemee under the sponsorship of the Cooleemee Lions Club, the Cooleemee Jaycees and the Cooleemee American Legion Post.
A free demonstration-explanation meeting will be held at the Cooleemee School Auditorium, Monday, July 20, at 7:57 p. m.
There will be unusual memory demonstrations, graduates will speak, refreshments will be served and door prizes will be given.
Persons attending will hear discussed "Today's Number One Job Requirement." Every adult attending will receive a complimentary copy of Dale Carnegie's best seller, "How to Win Friends and Influence People".
The course is designed to help people gain additional courage and self confidence, learn to express themselves better in public and private conversations, develop human relations skills, which enable everyone to get along better with people, and learn to remember names, faces and facts.
"We are happy to render this community this service by bringing the Dale Carnegie Course to Cooleemee and everyone is invited to attend the Monday meeting without cost or obligation", it was stated jointly by V. G. Prim, President of the Lions Club; Flake Blackwood, President of the Jaycees; and Tom Vogler, Commander of the Legion.
The first Dale Carnegie Course was conducted in New York in 1912 and now has spread to most of the free countries around the world. More than one million men and women are graduates of the course.

Two Scouts Are Inducted Into Order of Arrow

CORKY COZART

MICHAEL HOLCOMB

Two Boy Scouts of Mocksville Troop 575 were tapped into the exclusive Order of the Arrow during the summer period of camp at Camp Uwharrie last week. This order recognizes those campers that best exemplify the Scout Oath and Law in their daily lives.
Michael Royal Holcomb, son of J. B. Holcomb and the late Mrs. Holcomb, and Dale "Corky" Cozart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cozart, of Mocksville, were tapped into this order whose purpose it is to recognize those campers . . . Scouts, Explorers, and Scouters, . . . who best exemplify the Scout oath and law in their daily lives.
The order of the Arrow exists primarily as a service organization and especially emphasizes the camping part of the program. The boys are elected to membership by the members of their own scout troop. In order for a boy to become a member he must have the following qualifications:
1. A Scout or Explorer camper must have 15 days and nights of camping, no more than seven of which can be at a long term camp.
2. Election to the Order is by the members of the home unit, and only if it has five or more members who meet the camping requirements stated above.
3. Every Scout or Explorer actively registered at the time of election is eligible to vote.
4. The number of candidates nominated in any unit shall be equal to at least twice the number to be elected.
5. To be inducted into the Order the candidate must participate in the Ordeal and ceremonies. The purpose of the Ordeal is to have the candidates meet the four tests expressed in the pre-Ordeal ceremony . . . that of sleeping apart, silence, work, and scarcity of food.

Four Chosen For Roundup

Three Davie County Senior Girl Scouts have been chosen delegates and one Senior Girl Scout was alternate to attend the national Senior Girl Scout Roundup next July (1965) at Coeur d'Alene in Ferragut, Idaho.
This is an annual encampment for Girl Scouts from all over the United States and many sections of the world. It is one of the highest honors that a Girl Scout may attain.
Chosen as delegates from Davie County are: Elizabeth Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Evans, Rt. 1; Caroline Sanford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gailther Sanford of North Main Street; and Peggy Sanford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanford of South Main Street. Patricia Short, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Short, North Main Street, was chosen as an alternate.
There were 54 applicants for the Roundup. Of this number the Council's Selections Committee was charged with the responsibility of selecting 24 delegates and eight alternates. This summer the local girls spent four days at Friedburg Moravian Church grounds during the try-out encampment.
One of the basis for selection was on their answers to the following questions:
(1) Why do you want to go and how do you feel you are qualified?
(2) What was your most gratifying experience in Scouting thus far?
(3) How would you share your experiences with other troops after the Roundup?
In addition to this, each girl evaluated the others in her patrol.
During the tryouts adult judges observed at all times. The girls did not know what adults made up the committee who selected the girls.
Each girl from Davie County is a registered senior Scout, and have had more than eight years of scouting.
During the winter they will undergo special training directed towards better equipping them for participation in the Roundup which will be attended by more than 10,000 Girl Scouts.

Interstate 40 Link

erson, a registered nurse, to help communiting students and the Davie County Rescue Squad needing a quick access to I-40.
Other speakers included Paul Stroud, Bill Seaford, Mrs. Clay Tutterow, Lonnie Tutterow, Ben Powell, and Jason Branch. The interchange, in their opinions, is needed to serve the nearby Methodist assembly, farmers in the area, Center Fire Department in reaching fires quickly, general area development and local furniture manufacturers in transportation of their products.
Atty. William E. Hall, representing the group, said citizens of the Center community "were astonished" when the proposed route did not include an interchange in their area.
State Rep. Lester P. Martin, Jr., also a counsel for the group, said that the Center community is "the center of activity in name and fact" with between three thousand and 4,000 people looking to it for various religious and civic functions.
McGowan told the groups that highway officials were not in position at the meeting to tell them whether the additional interchange can be provided or not, but that the necessary studies would be made. He estimated the extra cost at $150,000.

Oppose Interchange

Opposing the requested interchange was George Clement, a Negro. He said, very briefly, "I wouldn't care for it. I live there". Another opponent was a relative, William Clement, who said: "I've lived there all my life. Every bit of that interchange would be on me".
Mrs. Annie Frost wanted to know exactly where the Highway 601 interchange would be because she plans to build a motor court.
Two Farmington leaders, J. E. Essie and Edward Newsome, requested the planned interchange on Farmington Road be retained as if another interchange should be necessary to serve their area, even built to serve Center community.

Ask Location Move

Two Iredell County groups presented petitions through Statesville attorney C. B. Wineberry. Over 50 persons asked that an additional access be provided west of the South Yadkin River. Wineberry said more than 8 miles exist between proposed interchanges at the Davie-Iredell line and the Statesville bypass to serve the area.
tion from the South Yadkin River asking that the highway location to the Clyde Anderson property west be located 300 to 500 yards farther south to avoid splitting open
At least 12 persons signed a petition with no access.
L. L. Browning, Jr. of Winstonsalem Rt. 8, asked that the highway be moved another 100 feet north of his lake near Farmington. He said the planned location will cause the highway fill to wash into his lake and run it.

Falcon Rolls Couple Of Times In Accident

A 1963 Falcon overturned around 9:25 a.m. Monday morning on Rural Road 1147, 3 miles southwest of Mocksville.
The driver, Gideon Taylor Motley, Jr., 20, of Linwood, N. C., was taken to a doctor's office, treated and released.
State Highway Patrolman K. N. Bolick said that Motley was heading east on the rural road, came into a curve to the right and skidded sideways across to the left side of the road and turned over a couple of times in a soybean field belonging to Paul Harpe, coming to rest on its wheels.
Damage to the Falcon was estimated at $700. Motley was charged with exceeding safe speed.

MORE ABOUT Capital Clipboard

looks a lot like his daddy. More and more as he gets older. He has had a lot of good, solid experience with this paper and that—including one of his own — about the State. He should make a worthy addition—and a much-needed one—to the business reporting staff of the News and Observer.

A BIG CUT . . . LeRoy Collins, who visited the state last week, took a cut of $50,000 a year salary (from $75,000 to $25,000) when he left the presidency of the National Association of Broadcasters to become President Johnson's trouble-shooter on civil rights. The July 6 issue of "Broadcasting" magazine (of which Rufus Crater, Elkin native, is editorial director) says editorially: "... We never felt that he really believed in commercial broadcasting or in most broadcasters." He takes his new job August 1.

We just hope he is not as hard on the South in his civil rights troubles as he was the broadcasters who paid his salary during the 40 rough months he was with them. Wonder if Collins left NAB voluntarily?

County Farm Agent
LEO F. WILLIAMS

Test 'New Grounds' Areas
For Lime And Fertilizer
Needs

All soils used for producing crops, turfs and other types of growth should be tested regularly to determine their lime and fertilizer needs, but it is essential that the soil in "new ground" areas be tested to determine lime and fertilizer needs, as the final step before preparing the land for planting, states Leo F. Williams, county agricultural agent of Davie County.

Soils that have been out of production for several years and those that have never been cultivated are generally very low in lime and fertility level. Why is it that our soils are naturally acid and low in fertility in their natural or uncultivated condition? According to Williams the relatively hot and humid climate of this part of the country has much to do with the development of this condition. Relatively high amounts of rainfall (60-65 inches per year) and mild temperatures favors the eventual loss of important plant nutrients such as nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, calcium and magnesium from our soils. Consequently it is necessary to aid these essential nutrients if satisfactory growth is to be obtained. Soil acidity must be reduced with lime to obtain good growth and to make the most efficient use of applied fertilizers containing nitrogen (N), phosphorus (P2O5) and potash (K2O). Also dolomitic lime is our cheapest source of calcium and magnesium.

Williams states that a soil test is necessary to determine the lime and fertilizer needs of new and "out of production" land. Soil boxes and instructions for sampling fields and soil areas can be obtained from the county agricultural agent's office and from other agricultural agencies in the county.

Face Flies

Flies carry Pink Eye - This is what many livestock men believe. This is probably not absolutely true, but it is a known fact that in herds that are free of flies there is seldom any Pink Eye disease.

Face flies that moved into our county a couple of years ago, and in very large numbers this year, are even worse than the other type flies for spreading the Pink Eye disease. This is true because they congregated on the face and particularly around the eyes. These flies are also more difficult to control. Livestock men should make a special effort to control these flies.

Grain Storage Insects

Care should be taken to make sure that stored small grain is not damaged by insects. This year's harvest should be fumigated about six weeks after harvest. There are several fumigants on the market that will do a good job.

The grain then should be inspected about every month to make sure that it is free of insects and, if necessary, re-fumigated.

Treating small grain with Malathion has recently been approved by the Pure Food and Drug Administration. Some farmers have used this treatment for the past couple of years. It appears to be superior to fumigants and preventing insect damage. The grain can be treated with the dust or liquid form of Malathion, and only the premium grade of liquid should be used, and only the specially prepared Malathion dust. This insecticide should be applied uniformly to the grain and is usually done during the transfer of grain from one storage bin, or storage area, to another. Some farmers treat it as it is urged into the bin. Another method of using this material is to treat the top of the grain while it is in the storage bins. This gives it a protection cap, but should be used in conjunction with other methods of control.

Fair Issues New Premium List—

Dixie Classic Catalog Ready Now

The Dixie Classic Fair's new 1964 Catalog and Premium List has just come off the press and is ready for distribution. It was announced this week by Nell Bolton, fair manager. "Again this year we have provided the catalog in several different sections," he added, "so that interested persons can have the part they want—the entire General Catalog or some special section." These sections cover livestock; poultry and pigeons; horticulture, agronomy, bees and honey, and forestry; flower shows; homemaking; youth activities, fine arts and crafts.

The fair is scheduled for five days, Oct. 6-10, in Winston-Salem. Closing date for all entries is Friday, Sept. 18 (except for entries in the horticulture classes of the Tuesday and Thursday Flower Shows). All entries should be made on the official entry blank for the right department. They will be accepted in order of receipt until all available space is filled.

Commenting on the advance planning, Bolton pointed out that the new special theme for this year's fair is "Symbols of Progress": "The Dixie Classic Fair is truly the showcase for our area, and we are delighted to have as our theme this year the symbols of the area's great

Tobacco Variety Work Begins

Tobacco variety identification work began in North Carolina the week of June 21. According to A. P. Hassell, Jr., Executive Director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, this will be the eighth year that this work has been done.

Hassell said further that this is a positive program to promote the growing of quality tobacco. He says that much has been said about cultural practices, fertilization, curing, and many other things that influence the quality of tobacco. This, however, is the only action program that is carried out in the field to promote the growth of acceptable quality tobacco.

This program is carried out by lowering the price support on certain varieties of tobacco. These are the varieties that lack the quality features making them desirable for either domestic or export use. The varieties that are "discounted" are announced well ahead of time so that farmers may select acceptable varieties. Hassell said that the farmers are then asked to sign certifications as to the type tobacco they plant. This certification is then followed up with visits by the variety identification specialist.

Hassell said that even though some farmers object to having certain varieties of tobacco on the discount list, they feel that the overall program has benefited the tobacco farmer. It is just one feature that assures us that our flue-cured tobacco will remain the best in the world.

Wheat And Feed Grain
To insure the greatest amount of flexibility in farm operations, substitution between wheat and feed grains are authorized under the 1965 programs. According to A. P. Hassell, Jr. Executive Director for the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, this is a reminder for wheat growers who also grow grain.

The law provides for such substitution in the '65 wheat program, but it could not be put into effect for the '64 crop because of the short time involved after the new was passed by Congress.

Hassell said that the substitution applies on farms only if the farm has a feed grain or oat-rye base and a wheat allotment. The substitution provisions can be used by farmers who take part in both programs and make at least the minimum diversion for both wheat and feed grains.

As with this year's program marketing certificates will be issued to wheat farmers taking part. But the number of certificates allotted to a farm will not be increased because of the wheat-substitution. Certificates will be provided for the smaller of (1) the normal production of the wheat acreage allotment multiplied by the domestic and export allocation percentages, and (2) the wheat acreage planted for harvest multiplied by the normal yield.

The total wheat production of farmers who carry out wheat program provisions will be eligible for price-support loans, even though the wheat acreage is in excess of the allotment, because of the substitution provisions.

Hassell indicated that more details will be available at the time the wheat program sign-up takes place later in the summer.

The case of the windblown wife

Once there was a wife who dreaded summer cooking. She had a choice: open the windows and create a draft, or shut them and swelter. Hers was not a flameless electric range. But one day her husband took pity on her and bought her one! And because the surface heat went straight to the pans and the oven heat stayed right there in that heavily insulated oven, her kitchen was cooler. Up to 16 degrees cooler! Now the moral is this: if your wife cooks in an overheated kitchen, visit your favorite electric appliance dealer or Duke Power and buy her a flameless electric range. After all, wives are people, too.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Congressman James T. Broyles

Unfinished Business
Eighteen years ago in the Legislative Reorganization Act, Congress imposed upon itself a provision that it should complete its work each year and adjourn by the last day of July. It has failed to meet this deadline in sixteen of the last eighteen years and the 1964 session will be no exception. In fact, it appears that this session will continue through the summer and possibly into the autumn.

Congress has recessed for the first of our two major political party conventions. The Republican Convention will be completing its work in San Francisco as you read this. Another recess may be necessary late in August as the Democratic Party Convention is held in Atlantic City.

Actually, there is a great deal of unfinished work for the Congress to do before it packs up to hit the campaign trail in this Presidential election year. In fact, a number of the bills the White House has earmarked as priority legislation are still to be considered. Other have only recently been passed.

The President had placed the highest priority on his Civil Rights bill which was finally passed a short time ago after many months of controversy. Another bill high on the President's list would finance with Federal funds the local transportation systems in our cities. In recent days, this bill was also placed on his desk for signature.

Still another proposal that has had high priority is the bill to increase Federal pay, including the salaries of Members of Congress and the Senate. This bill has been passed in differing versions by the two Houses. The resolution of the difference now remains before it can be sent to the White House.

Farther back in the legislative process is President Johnson's poverty bill. Although this proposal is awaiting action by the House Rules Committee, it is being pressed into the Senate schedule. Apparently, the strategy is to bring it forward in the Senate first in an effort to bypass and decrease the effect of opposition to the bill which has developed in the House.

The program for assistance to the Appalachian area is still under study at the Committee level and it seems that it will be some time before it is ready for consideration on either side of the Capitol.

There is also considerable discussion of veterans pension legislation this year and the House Veterans Affairs Committee is working on such a bill after considering more than 100 proposals will be still undetermined, but there is strong sentiment for revision of the present pension program even though the White House has not requested such legislation.

Closer to final action is a bill to increase Social Security benefits for twenty million older persons and seriously disabled Americans now receiving payments from the Social Security Fund. This bill does not contain the controversial medical care for the aged proposal that had been requested, although it makes a number of changes in the Social Security program including the extension of the base income on which Social Security taxes are assessed. The legislation should be debated by House this month and will be discussed in detail in this column soon.

Two major bills which have been of interest to conservationists and those desiring greater development for recreation purposes in our national forests and parks are also ready for House debate after prolonged consideration in Congressional Committees. The first is the so called "Wilderness Bill" which would set aside large tracts of undeveloped areas to be preserved in their natural state. The Land and Water Conservation Fund bill is intended to meet the present and future outdoor recreation needs of the American people. Briefly, it would allow for a charge for the use of recreation facilities in our national forests and parks. With the money collected, a fund would be established to be used for new and additional facilities for public use throughout the country.

These are only a few of the thirty proposals which President Johnson has urged the Congress to pass. If they are all considered, it will mean busy weeks ahead. This backs up the prediction that Congress will be around Washington for some time before the gavel finally falls signalling the end of the 88th Congress.

During the business much interest was displayed concerning the older records of the church and other records which have been used there during its life of eighty two years. Those who have any such items are requested to make them available for the Historian of the Church to use in compiling the history of the Farmington Church.

Professor and Mrs. Wesley Williams of Durham were guests of Mrs. J. W. Williams most of last week. While here that attended the funeral of Mrs. William's aunt.

can you spare 9 minutes to read a message 19 centuries old?

The Sermon on the Mount is for everyone. Anyone who reads it will be happier today. Anyone who carries it in his heart will be happier forever. Read...re-read...and understand its words. No speech ever promised...or delivered...so much.

WHEN he saw the crowds of people he went up on the mountain. There he seated himself, and when his disciples had come up to him, he opened his lips to teach them. And he said:

★ Blessed are those who feel their spiritual need, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to them! Blessed are the mourners, for they will be consoled! Blessed are the humble-minded, for they will possess the land! Blessed are those who are hungry and thirsty for uprightness, for they will be satisfied! Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy! Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God! Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called God's sons! Blessed are those who have endured persecution for their uprightness, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to them! Blessed are you when people abuse you, and persecute you, and falsely say everything bad of you, on my account. Be glad and exult over it, for you will be richly rewarded in heaven, for that is the way they persecuted the prophets who went before you.

★ You are the salt of the earth! But if salt loses its strength, how can it be made salt again? It is good for nothing but to be thrown away and trodden underfoot. You are the light of the world! A city that is built upon a hill cannot be hidden. People do not light a lamp and put it under a peck-measure; they put it on its stand and it gives light to everyone in the house. Your light must burn in that way among men so that they will see the good you do, and praise your Father in heaven.

★ Do not suppose that I have come to do away with the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to do away with them but to fulfill them. For I tell you, as long as heaven and earth endure, not one dotting of an i or crossing of a t will be dropped from the Law until it is all observed. Anyone, therefore, who weakens one of the slightest of these commands, and teaches others to do so, will be ranked lowest in the Kingdom of Heaven; but anyone who observes them and teaches others to do so will be ranked high in the Kingdom of Heaven. For I tell you that unless your uprightness is far superior to that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never even enter the Kingdom of Heaven!

★ You have heard that men were told "You shall not commit adultery." But I tell you that anyone who strays from his marriage in thoughts of lust toward another has already committed adultery in his heart. But if your right eye makes you fall, get rid of it, throw it away, for you might better lose one part of your body than have it all thrown into the pit! If your right hand makes you fall, get rid of it, throw it away! For you might better lose one part of your body than have it all go down to the pit!

★ They were told, "Anyone who divorces his wife must give her a certificate of divorce." But I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife on any ground, except unfaithfulness, makes her commit adultery, and anyone who marries her after she is divorced commits adultery.

★ Again, you have heard that the men of old were told, "You shall not swear falsely, but you must fulfill your oaths to the Lord." But I tell you not to swear at all, either by heaven, for it is God's throne, or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great king. You must not swear by your own head, for you cannot make one single hair white or black. But your way of speaking must be "Yes" or "No." Anything that goes beyond that comes from the evil one.

★ You have heard that the men of old were told "You shall not murder," and "Whoever murders will have to answer to the court." But I tell you that anyone who gets angry with his brother will have to answer to the court, and anyone who speaks contemptuously to his brother will have to answer to the great council, and anyone who says to his brother "You cursed fool!" will have to answer for it in the fiery pit! So when you are presenting your gift at the altar, if you remember that your brother has any grievance against you, leave your gift right there before the altar and go and make up with your brother; then come back and present your gift. Be quick and come to terms with your opponent while you are on the way to court with him, or he may hand you over to the judge, and the judge may hand you over to the officer, and you will be thrown into prison. I tell you, you will never get out again until you have paid the last penny!

★ You have heard that they were told, "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." But I tell you not to resist injury, but if anyone strikes you on your right cheek, turn the other to him too; and if anyone wants to sue you for your shirt, let him have your coat too. And if anyone forces you to go one mile, go two miles with him. If anyone begs from you, give to him, and when anyone wants to borrow from you, do not turn away.

★ You have heard that they were told, "You must love your neighbor and hate your enemy." But I tell you, love your enemies and pray for your persecutors, so that you may show yourselves true sons of your Father in heaven, for he makes his sun rise on bad and good alike, and makes the rain fall on the upright and the wrongdoers. For if you love only those who love you, what reward can you expect? Do not the very tax-collectors do that? And if you are polite to your brothers and no one else, what is there remarkable in that? Do not the very heathen do that? So you are to be perfect, as your heavenly Father is!

★ But take care not to do your good deeds in public for people to see, for, if you do, you will get no reward from your Father in heaven. So when you are going to give to charity, do not blow a trumpet before yourself, as the hypocrites do, in the places of worship and the streets, to make people praise them. I tell you, that is all the reward they will get! But when you give to charity, your own left hand must not know what your right hand is doing, so that your charity may be secret, and your Father who sees what is secret will reward you.

★ When you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites, for they like to pray standing in the places of worship and in the corners of the squares, to let people see them. I tell you, that is the only reward they will get! But when you pray, go into your own room, and shut the door, and pray to your Father, who is unseen, and your Father who sees what is secret will reward you. And when you pray, do not repeat empty phrases as the heathen do, for they imagine that their prayers will be heard if they use words enough. You must not be like them. For God, who is your Father, knows what you need before you ask him. This, therefore, is the way you are to pray:

*'Our Father in heaven,
Your name be revered!
Your kingdom come!
Your will be done on earth
as it is done in heaven!
Give us today bread for the day,
And forgive us our debts,
as we have forgiven our debtors.
And do not subject us to temptation,
But save us from the evil one.'*

For if you forgive others when they offend you, your heavenly Father will forgive you too. But if you do not forgive others when they offend you, your heavenly Father cannot forgive you for your offenses.

★ When you fast, do not put on a gloomy look, like the hypocrites, for they neglect their personal appearance to let people see that they are fasting. I tell you, that is all the reward they will get. But when you fast, perfume your hair and wash your face, so that no one may see that you are fasting, except your Father who is unseen, and your Father who sees what is secret, will reward you.

★ Do not store up your riches on earth, where moths and rust destroy them, and where thieves break in and steal them, but store up your riches in heaven, where moths and rust cannot destroy them, and where thieves cannot break in and steal them. For wherever your treasure is, your heart will be also. The eye is the lamp of the body. If then your eye is sound, your whole body will be light, but if your eye is unsound, your

whole body will be dark. If, therefore, your very light is darkness, how deep the darkness will be! No slave can belong to two masters, for he will either hate one and love the other, or stand by one and make light of the other. You cannot serve God and money. Therefore, I tell you, do not worry about life, wondering what you will have to eat or drink, or about your body, wondering what you will have to wear. Is not life more important than food, and the body than clothes? Look at the wild birds. They do not sow or reap, or store their food in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more account than they? But which of you with all his worry can add a single hour to his life? Why should you worry about clothing? See how the wild flowers grow. They do not toil or spin, and yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his splendor was never dressed like one of them. But if God so beautifully dresses the wild grass, which is alive today and is thrown into the furnace tomorrow, will he not much more surely clothe you, you who have so little faith? So do not worry and say, "What shall we have to eat?" or "What shall we have to drink?" or

"What shall we have to wear?" For these are all things the heathen are in pursuit of, and your heavenly Father knows well that you need all this. But you must make his kingdom, and uprightness before him, your greatest care, and you will have all these other things besides. So do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will have worries of its own. Let each day be content with its own ill!

★ Pass no more judgments upon other people, so that you may not have judgment passed upon you. For you will be judged by the standard you judge by, and men will pay you back with the same measure you have used with them. Why do you keep looking at the speck in your brother's eye, and pay no attention to the beam that is in your own? How can you say to your brother, "Just let me get that speck out of your eye," when all the time there is a beam in your own? You hypocrite! First get the beam out of your own eye, and then you can see to get the speck out of your brother's eye.

★ Do not give what is sacred to dogs, and do not throw your pearls before pigs, or they will trample them under their feet and turn and tear you in pieces. Ask, and what you ask will be given you. Search, and you will find what you search for. Knock, and the door will open to you. For it is always the one who asks who receives, and the one who searches who finds, and the one who knocks to whom the door opens. Which of you men when his son asks him for some bread will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a snake, will he give him a snake? So if you, bad as you are, know enough to give your children what is good, how much more surely will your Father in heaven give what is good to those who ask him for it! Therefore, you must always treat other people as you would like to have them treat you, for this sums up the Law and the Prophets.

★ Go in at the narrow gate. For the road that leads to destruction is broad and spacious, and there are many who go in by it. But the gate is narrow and the road is hard that leads to life, and there are few that find it.

★ Beware of the false prophets, who come to you disguised as sheep but are ravenous wolves underneath. You can tell them by their fruit. Do people pick grapes off thorns, or figs off thistles? Just so any sound tree bears good fruit, but a poor tree bears bad fruit. No sound tree can bear bad fruit, and no poor tree can bear good fruit. Any tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and burned. So you can tell them by their fruit. It is not everyone who says to me "Lord! Lord!", who will get into the Kingdom of Heaven, but only those who do the will of my Father in heaven. Many will say to me on that Day, "Lord! Lord! Was it not in your name that we prophesied, and by your name that we drove out demons, and by your name that we did many mighty acts?" Then I will say to them plainly, "I never knew you! Go away from me, you who do wrong!"

★ Everyone, therefore, who listens to this teaching of mine and acts upon it, will be like a sensible man who built his house on rock. And the rain fell, and the rivers rose, and the winds blew, and beat about that house, and it did not go down, for its foundations were on rock. And anyone who listens to this teaching of mine and does not act upon it, will be like a foolish man who built his house on sand. And the rain fell and the rivers rose, and the winds blew and beat about the house, and it went down, and its downfall was complete.

★ When Jesus had finished this discourse, the crowds were astounded at his teaching, for he taught them like one who had authority and not like their scribes.

"Blue Angels" Jet Air Team To Perform In Winston-Salem Area

Winston-Salem and Northwest North Carolina residents will be treated to one of the most fascinating demonstrations of jet aviation ever offered in this area. Jim Vogel, Chairman of the Winston-Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce's 1964 Air Fair Committee announces the first appearance of the Navy's precision flight team, The Blue Angels to the Winston-Salem area.

Their performance will be one of the highlights of the 1964 Air Fair to be held at the Smith Reynolds Airport on October 11. The Air Fair is free to the public.

The Jaycee's purpose in presenting an exhibition of this nature is to help in its way to further the education of the general public to the field of aviation. On static display will be many types of aircraft, both civilian and military along with personnel to explain their uses, capabilities, and answer questions the inquisitive might ask.

The Blue Angels will be bringing to Winston-Salem eight pilots and fifty enlisted men. Social Security In Davie County
During the past few months the Salisbury Social Security Office has had several inquiries from unemployed persons regarding their periods of unemployment in relation to their future social security benefits. Mr. Taft McCoy, Social Security Field Representative for Davie County said that people are asking, "What effect will it have on the amount I will get if I am out of work for a long time and can't find another job?"

This question has been coming from people in the 55 to 60 age group. Mr. McCoy says that generally being unemployed for a prolonged period of time may reduce the amount a person will receive at retirement. The extent of the loss will depend upon his past earnings, length of time he will be out of work, and how near he is to retirement age.

Cotton Payment Applications
The North Carolina ASCS State Office has announced that all cotton farmers who plant cotton and do not exceed their domestic allotments, are eligible for the 3 1/2¢ per pound price support payment. The payment is made only to those producers who apply for it.

Cotton producers received their 1964 acreage allotments last Fall before the marketing quota referendum was held.

Shortly after the cotton legislation was signed by the President on April 11, the county ASCS office notified each cotton farmer of his domestic allotment acreage.

Measurement is now taking place on farmland where cotton was planted. And, if the producer has complied with his domestic allotment, then he is eligible for the support payment. The payment is figured at 3 1/2 cents a pound on the farm normal cotton yield on the acres planted for harvest within the domestic allotment for the farm.

Cotton growers who are found to have planted more acres of cotton than their domestic allotment have an opportunity to adjust the acreage down to the allotment.

The Executive Director and the State Committee stress and emphasize very strongly that the 3 1/2 cent price support payment is not made unless the producer applies for it. Farmers in Davie County will be notified when payments are ready to be made.

Employees To Attend Meeting
Area ASCS meetings have been scheduled throughout the State during the month of July, according to J. N. Smoot, Chairman of the Davie County ASC Committee.

According to Smoot, Davie County, along with seven other counties in the District, and the nine counties in District 9, will meet at the Sheraton Barringer Hotel in Charlotte for a two day meeting on July 20 and 21.

Discussions at this meeting will include payment procedure for feed grain, wheat diversion and cotton programs; the wheat sign-up which is scheduled to begin in August; the current status of Agricultural problems; and others.

A member of the County Committee, County Office Manager, Chief clerk, and two other office employees will attend this meeting.

Joe Harding Studies At Governor's School

Joseph Henry Harding, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Harding of Mocksville, Rt. 2, is one of the 54 students in the Natural Science group of the Governor's School now learning of recent developments in LASER and spectrography. The science students, juniors and seniors from North Carolina high schools, are taking five field trips during the 8-week summer session in addition to classes and laboratory work on the Salem College campus.

This week, the students, selected for their special achievement and aptitude in the field of science, spent a morning at the Western Electric plant where George White, in development engineering, gave a presentation on LASER—Light Amplification by Stimulated Emission of Radiation—and Robert Snow, Western Electric chemist, demonstrated and lectured on emission and X-ray spectrographs.

The field trips have been arranged to acquaint the students with practical research situations and to introduce them to people who are engaged in research, according to J. Norfleet Jarrell of the Governor's School faculty. They have visited R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.'s research laboratories and have heard Allen Rogman on Chemical Bonding and Marjorie Nowell and Dick Hafele on Radio Isotopes. Later this month they will hear lectures on chromatography and biochemical research.

Jarrell and Donald McLeod of Winston-Salem and James Blanton of Washington, instructors in Natural Science at the Governor's School, accompany the students on the field trips.

The North Carolina Governor's School is being held for the second year of the three-year experimental period, sponsored by the Carnegie Corporation of New York and by Winston-Salem Industries and Foundations, on the Salem College campus. From 95 of North Carolina's 100 counties, 400 students from over 3,000 applicants were invited to participate in the summer program which includes studies in Social Science as well as Natural Science, English, French, Mathematics, Art, Choral and Instrumental Music, Drama, and Dance.

Duke Power Company
1325 N. Main St.
Salisbury, North Carolina

Gentlemen:
Since installing electric heat in our home a year ago our family has been entirely pleased. We find this draft-free heat maintains a constant, even temperature of our selection in each room. Due to the fact that the temperature is so constant and even, we were able to eliminate the water heater for our tropical fish and they are doing excellent.

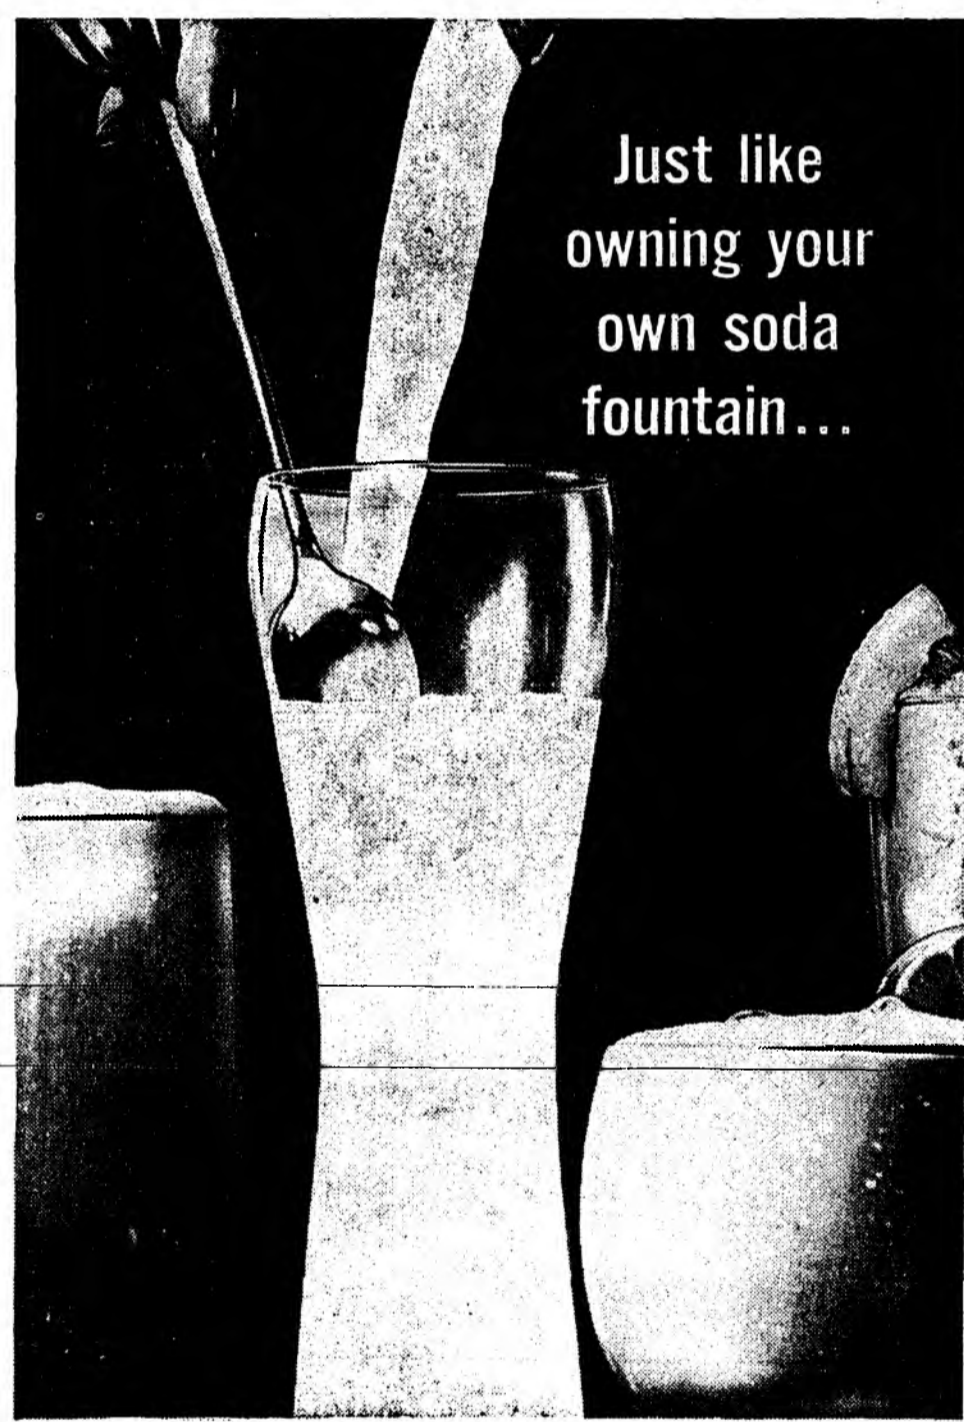

Best of all is the low cost of heating with Electric Comfort Heating. Our total electric bill for a full year was only $277.00 for all appliances, lighting and heating. This was less than we had been paying previously for electricity and heating.

Two of the outstanding features of Electric Comfort Heating that we have enjoyed, in addition to temperature control in each room, are space savings and the cleanliness of our drapes, walls and ceilings which stay cleaner and free from grime.

After using electric heat we would not be happy or satisfied using any other kind.

'Come Back Little Sheba' Now Playing At— Tanglewood Barn Theatre

"A taut, stirring drama" - "Come Back Little Sheba" opened Wednesday at Tanglewood Barn Theatre.

"Come Back Little Sheba" is more than a first-rate drama. When it opened in New York and became the first successful Broadway show by William Inge, the critics recognized the extent of this young man's talent. William Hawkins of THE NEW YORK WORLD TELEGRAM declared that "Come Back Little Sheba" was "a delicate, unusual structure which makes no compromise toward flamboyant artifice", and Brooks Atkinson of THE NEW YORK TIMES termed it "straightforward and unhackneyed".

They were correct. Since then, Inge has written the award winning "Dark At THE TOP OF THE STAIRS", "Picnic" and "Bustop". "Come Back Little Sheba" is the dramatic creation of two lost and lonely people - two people living in the ever-present past, wandering in the maze of their memories. It is the tale of plain people, people who seem like everyone else, and yet who hide behind the prosaic mask of their lives.

When "Come Back Little Sheba" opened on Broadway it starred Shirley Booth as Lola and Sidney Blackmer as Doc. Each received awards for best acting performances of the year. In the Barn Theatre's production Martha Nell Hardy and William M. Hardy will play the lead roles. Diane Linders is cast as Marie, their young boarder. Also appearing will be: Robert Shea, Jim Lawless, Don Sobolik, Joanne Akalitis, John Rosenthal, Bob Hall and Gene Johnson.

Directing "Come Back Little Sheba" is William M. Hardy. Mr. Hardy directed Tanglewood's opener "A Thurber Carnival". Staff Designer Tom Behrens will handle the technical production.

"Come Back Little Sheba" will be presented on the regular Tanglewood schedule through Sunday each evening at 8:15 p. m. The box office is open daily for reservations.

Soil Conservation Service Announces Personnel Changes

J. P. Kuykendall, State Conservationist, has announced an important personnel change in the Soil Conservation Service in North Carolina. This affects Soil Conservation Service work in a ten-county area including Rowan, Davie, Davidson, Forsyth, Stokes, Rockingham, Guilford, Randolph, Alamance and Caswell Counties.

H. N. Kelly is retiring from the position to Area Conservationist at Salisbury at the end of July. Ray E. Hollowell who is now headquartered at the State Office in Raleigh is being transferred to Salisbury on July 20 and will fill the Area Conservationist position there.

Mr. Kelly has served in this position since 1953. He began his career in SCS at High Point in 1935 and served as a District Conservationist in Wadesboro from 1939 until 1953. According to Mr. Kuykendall, Mr. Kelly has served with distinction and has made an excellent contribution to the soil and water conservation program in the state.

Mr. Hollowell began his duties with SCS in 1948 under the Student Trainee program. He became a full-time employee after receiving his degree in Agronomy from North Carolina State in 1950. Before his assignment in Raleigh as an Agronomy Specialist he served as Work Unit Conservationist at Camden, North Carolina. Mr. Kuykendall stated that Mr. Hollowell will direct SCS personnel assigned to assist each of the ten soil and water conservation districts in the area.

MRS. C. W. LEE

Residents of the community are very grateful to the Lord for the showers of rain received over the past few days. Late crops will certainly be greatly helped.

The new sanctuary at Macedonia Moravian church will soon be completed. The builder is now erecting the steeple. Most of the interior work has been completed and an opening date will be announced soon. The congregation plans to have a consecration service for the new building in the near future. Davie Horseshoe Pitchers To Vie At Dixie Classic

The Dixie Classic Fair's Horseshoe Pitching Contest, held last year for the first time, has proved so popular that it has been scheduled again for this year. It was reported this week by Nell Bolton, fair manager. "Our Northwest people have displayed a wealth of talent and interest in this activity," he said. "We were very gratified at the number of entries last year. It seems that people still like to pitch horseshoes, despite the newer recreational attractions of today!

Davie County residents, along with those from Stokes and Forsyth, will pitch on Tuesday, October 6, at 5:30 p. m. Each contestant will pitch in a tournament for his county championship. County winners will then compete for the Grand Championship.

Any resident of the eleven Northwest North Carolina Development Association counties are eligible to participate. All pitching will take place on six lighted, specially built courts next to the Community Building, between the Dairy Cattle Barn and the Grandstand. These new courts were built to the exacting standards of the professional horseshoe pitching association. Joe White of the Winston-Salem Recreation Department will supervise the events.

Residents from Alexander and Wilkes counties are scheduled to compete on Wednesday, October 7; from Yadkin, Surry, and Alleghany on Thursday, October 8; from Watauga, Caldwell, and Ashe on Friday, October 9.

In announcing this popular event, Nell Bolton urged all pitchers to write for their entry blanks. "Although you will compete at the fair on the afternoon designated for your county, you must be entered in the competition in advance," he said, pointing out that accommodation must be made for the crowds expected.

There is no entry fee, but entries must be made on an official entry blank obtained from the fair or from the Winston-Salem Recreation Department. Deadline for returning entries is Friday, September 18. Contestants will be required to furnish their own shoes, which must come within regulations.

The tournament will be conducted by the Winston-Salem Horseshoe Pitchers Association, Randall Jones, president; and by members of the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association, who are well qualified in the operation of tournaments. A trophy will be awarded to each county champion and to the Grand Champion. There will also be several exhibitions of horseshoe pitching by prominent pitchers and well-known civic leaders.

New Nitrogen Fertilizer Being Offered For Area

A new nitrogen fertilizer designed especially for soils and crops in this area is being offered by Howard Boger in Mocksville.

The product, a non-pressure nitrogen solution containing urea and ammonium nitrate, is particularly suited to top-dressing pastures, small grains and row crops using high capacity spray type application equipment.

The company recently assumed dealership for International Minerals and Chemical Corporation's new liquid nitrogen fertilizer products, newest members of the Rainbow family of premium plant food nutrients.

To insure adequate supplies of both products during the peak season, Howard Boger has installed a 12,000 gallon storage tank and a complete fleet of mobile delivery and application equipment according to Bryan J. Rogers, District Sales Manager.

IMC, which supplies Howard Boger with its new "Pot o' Gold" nitrogen fertilizer, is the world's largest independent miner and re- and the only supplier basic in all three traditional fertilizer materials nitrogen, phosphate and potash.

Fair Offers $1,309 To Flower Show Entries

Many green thumbs are busy these days, growing and practicing arranging the lovely entries in the Dixie Classic Fair's three flower shows this fall. Neil Bolton, fair manager, extended a cordial welcome to all green thumb owners and their friends in announcing this week the dates and locations of his shows.

"When our fair opens its gates in Winston-Salem on October 6 for its five-day showing, there'll be a world of beauty in the Coliseum balcony, where our two Standard Flower Shows will be held," he said. He also added that the popular Junior Flower Show, another highlight on the Fair's agenda, will be held this year in the building displaying the Leisure Time Activities of the Youth Division.

The Tuesday Flower Show will be held on the Fair's opening day. Judging for this event will begin at 11 o'clock that morning. Mrs. James W. Fulton is chairman. Thursday's show, planned for October 8, will also be judged at 11 o'clock that morning. Mrs. Francis P. Kimel is chairman.

The Junior Flower Show, for young people 9 through 17 years of age by entry date, will be judged on Monday, October 5. Entries must be brought to the Community Building (next to Homemaking) between 12 noon and 5 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 3.

Bolton also announced that General Chairman for the Floriculture Division is Mrs. Edward B. Hampton, Jr. General Co-Chairman is Mrs. Russell O. Pratt. Chairman for Tuesday's Flower Show is Mrs. James W. Fulton; for Thursday's Mrs. Francis P. Kimel. Chairman for Tuesday arrangements is Mrs. James W. Mitchell; for Thursday's, Mrs. Loyde M. Burgess. Miss Mary Kate Dixon is Horticulture Chairman. Mrs. M. V. Roessler is Superintendent.

Judges for the Junior Flower

Show are Mrs. Paul Essex and Mrs. Carl Pratt.

The Dixie Classic Fair Flower Shows are presented through the cooperation of the Winston-Salem Show Judges' Club and other members of Federated Garden Clubs. Both the Tuesday and Thursday Shows will be Standard Shows complying with all known requirements of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, including those in the January, 1962, directive.

These shows are for amateurs only. The classes are not open to commercial growers or professionals, and exhibitors need not be garden club members. Bolton added, "Entries are invited from everyone 18 years of age or older. Those nine through 17 may enter the Junior Flower Show."

The theme for the Artistic Arrangement classes for both Tuesday and Thursday shows is "Symbols of Progress." This is also the general theme for the fair this year. Special attention is being called to Rules 13 and 14 pertaining to entries in Horticulture classes. These deal with correctly identifying exhibits and using correct containers. The entry clerks will not accept any entry not in proper containers or any entry not labeled and ready to enter as specified.

All rules and regulations, plus entry blanks, are available in the new catalog and premium list now available from the fair office. Advance registration on official entry blanks is required for house plants, for dried materials, and for artistic arrangements in the Tuesday and Thursday shows, plus all entries in the Junior Flower Show. Entries in these classes close Sept. 18. Other horticulture entries do not require pre-entry and may be brought on the morning of each flower show. For complete information write or call the Dixie Classic Fair, P. O. Box 7525 Reynolda Station, Winston-Salem. Telephone 723-7361.
