David Hendrix Named To New Position

Tax Supervisor-Appraiser Appointed

C. David Hendrix of the Fork Community, Mocksville Rt. 3, has been appointed Davie County Tax Supervisor and Appraiser. He assumed his duties in this position Tuesday.

In announcing the appointment, H. R. Hendrix, Jr., chairman of the Davie County Board of Commissioners, said that Mrs. Eloise Stephens would continue to serve as County Accountant and County Treasurer.

Mr. Hendrix will supervise the entire tax department and be responsible for the listing, collecting and accounting for all the taxes of Davie County.

A lifelong native of Davie County, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Dalton Hendrix of Fork. He attended the Mocksville High School and has been associated with Martin Bros. as parts manager for the past 25 years. He is a member of the Fork Baptist Church and the Fork Civic Club.

He is married to the former Edna Cope. They have two children.

Local Rotarians Take "Passage To Bermuda"

Mocksville Rotarians forget momentarily about the inclement outside Tuesday and took a "Passage To Bermuda" by film.

The film depicted a typical vacation on this island including swimming, golfing, fishing boating, etc.

Dr. Bob Foster had charge of the program. President Bryan Sell presided.

Special guests included Harold Odum, Bill Myers, Dick Denson and Don Ruell from Milwaukee.

Fish Fry

The Mocksville Moose Lodge will sponsor a Fish Fry Saturday, February 5, beginning at 10 a. m. and continuing until 8 p. m. Boxes to take home will be filled.

Safety Inspection Program Effective Feb. 16

Auto Inspection Stations Approved

The statewide "Vehicle Safety Inspection Program," a major part of Governor Dan Moore's effort to curtail the surging traffic accident toll in North Carolina, will get underway on February 16.

Governor Moore said more than 2,400 service stations and garages throughout the state have been licensed to conduct the vehicle inspection.

The Safety Inspection Program, authorized by the 1965 General Assembly, is intended to rid the highways of unsafe vehicles. Defective safety equipment has been shown to be a frequent cause of traffic accidents.

The cost per inspection is $1.50. This fee does not include any adjustment or repair.

L. N. Gosselin, Inspector License and Safety Inspection Division of the N. C. Department of Motor Vehicles, has announced that the following

Tax Listing Extended

Due to the bad weather, the tax listing deadline for Davie County has been extended to February 15th.

All residents will have through this date to list their taxes without the risk of a penalty.

All who have not listed should contact their township lister to ascertain time and place for listing.

Republican Meeting

The Davie County Republican Executive Committee will meet in the courtroom of the Davie County Courthouse at 7 p. m. Monday night.

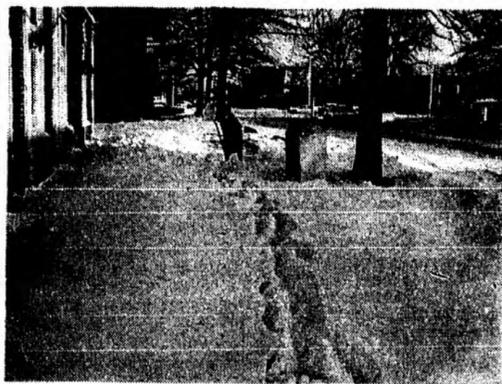

Davie County Heart Sunday Chairman

Appeals For Volunteers For Canvass

Volunteers now are being recruited for the Heart Sunday canvass which is to be conducted in Davie County as the high point of the 1966 Heart Fund Campaign here, it was announced today by Mrs. William E. Hall, Davie County Heart Sunday chairman. The volunteers, she said, will call on their neighbors on February 20.

"So that everyone in the community will have a chance to give, it is our hope to enlist the services of a number of men and women who can find time to call on about 20 neighbors to advance the most vital health crusade of our time," said Mrs. Hall. "The importance of our cause may be adjudged by the fact that the heart diseases are responsible for more than half of all deaths in this County, while on the average one of each nine citizens is afflicted.

"We are not asking very much —

Fourth Storm In Fifteen Day Period

Record Snow Disrupts Area Routine

School Make-up Days
Davie County schools, closed at least through Thursday, apparently have run out of make-up days.

Three days last week and at least four days this week . . . with the probability of more . . . made the original Saturday make-up schedule almost impossible.

Supt. James E. Everidge said that the make-up schedule naturally would be determined by the total number of days missed. Initial plans call for using some Saturdays, cutting back on the Easter vacation period, and adding on to the end of school if necessary.

For the fourth time in 15 days a blanket of snow sifted down over this area last Saturday. Measurements in this area ranged from 9 to 12 inches, and gave the area record of 24-inches in 15 days.

March of 1960 saw a cumulative record of 22 inches when, on three succeeding Wednesdays, 7-inches, 13-inches and 2-inches powdered down.

Three Saturdays ago this area got six inches. The next Saturday another inch; last Wednesday saw 8-inches; and the 9 to 12-inches last Saturday brought the total to between 24 and 27-inches.

Sunday was clear, but icy cold. The temperature was around 10 degrees. Sunday night the temperature dropped to around zero and shot up to around a 35-high, Monday.

Monday the area was trying to stagger back to some type of a schedule of operations, but the pace was slow.

All of the schools of the area were possibly they would remain closed for the remainder of the week.

Frozen and burst water pipes plagued households in many parts of the area; other residents depending on wells, had frozen water pumps.

Service stations did tremendous business in tire chains, snow tires and antifreeze; garage wreck vehicles were kept on the run around the clock.

There was a slowdown in the mail service . . . train service . . . and bus service in this area.

Oil trucks attempting to make deliveries became bogged down in the snow requiring wrecker service.

In Mocksville the 6-inch water line across the overhead bridge became frozen. Workmen tapped in on each side and diverted flow through another line.

The water tanks at the Farmington and Shady Grove Schools were frozen.

Several were injured in sledding accidents and from slipping on ice.

Great Decisions

You are invited to come to the New Davie County Public Library Building on North Main St., Mocksville, February 7, 7:30 P. M. to hear Sidney Fox, leader, discuss present conditions in Vietnam and the interest the United States has in developments there.

This is the first weekly meeting of Great Decisions — 1966, a discussion group held each year to keep us up to date on foreign policy. Attendees at the meetings in 1965 declared them very interesting and helpful. You may listen or participate, but do come!

ANNOUNCEMENT

This issue announces the retirement of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Bowman as publishers of the Davie County Enterprise-Record. These publishing and printing facilities have been acquired by the undersigned and his wife effective as of January 24, 1966.

No drastic changes are contemplated at the present in the format and overall operation of this newspaper. The same personnel are expected to continue in their present capacity, with perhaps additional personnel being employed in the near future as conditions warrant.

Mrs. Sue Short will serve as associate editor and assume other responsibilities in connection with the operation of this newspaper. Mrs. Short has served as assistant editor for the past ten years.

Mrs. Tomlinson will continue her duties as publisher of The Courier of Clemmons, which we began in 1960 and is printed at this office. We also contemplate some expansion of this newspaper in the near future.

Mrs. Bowman is retiring from almost 30 years of active association with the Enterprise-Record. It was on August 1, 1938 that the late Ollie McQuage and she purchased this operation from A. C. Inney of Albemarle. Following Mr. McQuage's death in March of 1949, she continued actively as publisher and was joined in this capacity by Eugene S. Bowman following their marriage in January of 1952.

The undersigned became editor of this newspaper in 1948 and has worked continuously in this capacity since that time.

In a statement appearing in the issue of August 4, 1938, the late O. C. McQuage as Editor-Publisher said:

"A liberal and progressive policy will be followed by the new management, seeking to advance the economic, civic, educational, religious and social opportunities in Davie County."

For the past 28 years an effort has been made to carry out this policy . . . and with this issue a pledge is being made by the new management group to renew this policy with even a more intense effort.

With sincere humility . . . and with the full and complete confidence in my associates . . . I accept the challenge that this change brings. The loyalty and devotion of many close friends is creating this opportunity and their help and inspiration will be the impetus for every effort towards success.

My gratitude and appreciation also goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Bowman for their consideration and understanding throughout our entire association . . . and for the opportunity to continue in the field in which I have invested more than 18-years of my life. I wish for them all the happiness and contentment that the world can bring.

A newspaper is nothing more than a mirror . . . reflecting the "going and comings" . . . and the life of a community and its people. It needs the full cooperation and understanding of all the people . . . and that as such is solicited. Whomever you are . . . or wherever you are . . . we want your news, we want your interest, we want your support.

—Gordon Tomlinson

In commenting on the sale transaction, Mr. and Mrs. Bowman said:

"We are very happy at our retirement to have the Enterprise continue under the leadership of one who has been with us so long, with his knowledge of what is required in its operation and the aid of his wife, Myrtle, who will be a help-mate in the combined ownership of this and the Clemmons Courier."

"We owe wholehearted thanks to the splendid organization that has been with the Enterprise and served faithfully and well, and we bespeak for Mr. and Mrs. Tomlinson, a continuation of the wholesome relationship we have enjoyed with all those in business who give us their cooperation and support over the years."

—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Bowman

Hammer For Clerk; Dwiggins For Sheriff

More Candidates File For Office

W. W. DWIGGINS
— for Sheriff —

GLENN HAMMER
— Clerk of Court

Two more filed notices of candidacy for political offices in Davie County during the past week.

Last Wednesday W. W. Dwiggins of 458 Maple Avenue, Mocksville, filed as candidate for Sheriff of Davie County subject to the Democratic Primary.

On Monday Glenn R. Hammer, incumbent Clerk of Superior Court, filed his notice of candidacy seeking re-election on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Dwiggins, age 58, is making his first bid for public office. A lifelong native of Davie County he was born in the Center Community, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dwiggins. He was raised on a farm and attended schools of the county. He worked at Cannon Mills for 25-years and for the past two years has operated a barbecue stand at County Line. He is a member of the Center

Methodist Church and is married to the former Mae Mabe.

Mr. Hammer was elected to his first term as Clerk of Superior Court in 1962. He was born in Alexander County on July 22, 1908. Educated at the Mocksville High School he served in the U. S. Army from Feb. 1942 to Oct. 1945. From January 1, 1947, until around 1960, he was in partnership with Robert L. Smith in the operation of the Davie Lumber Company.

He is a member of the American Legion, the Mocksville Masonic Lodge and the Mocksville Baptist Church. He is married to the former Louise Green.

Previously filing for the office of Sheriff on the Republican ticket were incumbent George Smith and Walter Coy Broadway of Mocksville.

Programs Rescheduled

Weather forced postponement of the Jaycee Distinguished Service Awards Banquet and the Ken Griffin Show, sponsored by the Lions Club last Thursday evening. Both have been rescheduled.

The Ken Griffin Show has been rescheduled for Tuesday evening, February 8th, at the Mocksville High School auditorium.

The Jaycee DSA Banquet will be held on Thursday February 10th at the Mocksville Rotary Hut.

Adult Classes To Be Taught

The Davie County Economic Development Committee and Rowan Technical Institute in association with the local school board are happy to announce the opening of Basic Adult Classes in Davie County. These classes are for adults who would like to learn to read and write or finish the eighth grade.

There will be absolutely no cost to the student except paper and pencils. All books are to be furnished free of charge. Anyone who is interested in attending one of these classes may enroll on February 8, 1966 between 7:00 and 9:00 p. m. at the Mocksville Elementary School or at the Central Davie School.

Anyone deserving further information about these classes should call Roy Marsh, Principal at the Mocksville Elementary School or C. K. Hargrave, Principal at Central Davie School.

Woodrow J. Wilson Has 18 Years Experience

Service Officer Aids Veterans

Woodrow J. Wilson of Mocksville is beginning his 18th year as the Veterans Service Officer of Davie County. He was first elected to this office by the veterans of Davie County. He was first elected to this office by the veterans of Davie County in February of 1949.

In time of service, Mrs. Wilson has the longest tenure of any veterans service officer in North Carolina. Most counties change service officers every two to four years.

As Veterans Service Officer, Mr. Wilson has filed claims for compensation, pensions, widow's pensions, pension for children, dependent parents, dental claims, hospital treatment and many other claims too numerous to mention. He also assists veterans in getting direct loans from the VA to purchase or build new homes.

"Those claims will run into the thousands of dollars," said Mr. Wilson.

From July 1st, 1964 to June 30th, 1965, the amount of money received by veterans, widows, dependent children and dependent parents in the county amounted to almost $400,000 for his period.

"Not just because I, myself am a veteran, but I got great pleasure in helping and assisting the veterans in their claims", he said. "Many veterans even consult me on matters not related to the veteran's work. I just like to help people."

Mr. Wilson has managed to work at this program along with operating the Lynn Haven Nursing Home, Inc., which he has done for more than 15 years.

A. B. Turington, District Service Officer with the N. C. Veterans Commission with offices in Nissen Building, Winston-Salem, comes over each Tuesday to assist Mr. Wilson in any matters that might arise.

Rotary Resolution Protests Unsatisfactory Service

Central Telephone To Improve Facilities In Area

The Central Telephone Company has announced plans to spend $5,121,000 to expand and improve facilities in North Carolina. Of this amount $78,500 will be spent in the Mocksville exchange.

C. J. Wilson, local representative, said that some of the projects for the Mocksville exchange will include the replacement of wire facilities with cable in the Southwest Mocksville area and the addition of 300 lines and 400 terminals to the central office equipment.

Telephones in the Mocksville exchange have increased from 418 to 1,022 in the past eleven years and these projects will provide facilities to serve 68 additional customers.

"The expenditure is anticipated in order for telephone service to keep abreast of North Carolina's increased industrial and residential growth during this year", Mr. Wilson said. The announcement by Central Telephone followed the adoption last week by the Mocksville Rotary Club of a resolution deploring what was termed as "unsatisfactory telephone service" in this area. Following its adoption on January 25th, the resolution was mailed to the central telephone company. The text of the resolution was as follows:

WHEREAS, it has been brought to the attention of the Mocksville Rotary Club that present telephone service in our community is not satisfactory, and

WHEREAS, it appears that service has deteriorated in recent months, and

WHEREAS, we feel that the following specific complaints should be listed as follows:

1. Almost continuous busy signal response when an attempt is made to call a number on one of the rural exchanges.
2. Frequent cases where a number is dialed and apparently because the exchange drops a digit, the call is never completed and no telephone rings.
3. Many cases where one is dialing and gets a new dial tone while he is half through dialing a number

4. Common delays of several minutes before getting response from the long distance operator after dialing O. (in some cases the caller has heard the signal ring more than 20 times)
5. Cases where a phone will ring constantly without interruption before it is answered, there is no party on the line when it is answered, and the continuous ring resumes when the phone is again placed on the receiver, and

WHEREAS, we believe that the reasonable and constructive first step to improve our telephone service is to call the aforementioned deficiencies to the attention of the Central Telephone Company.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mocksville Rotary Club make known the above complaints to the proper telephone company officials and request that company representatives meet with a subcommittee from our club for the purpose of taking constructive corrective action as may be possible.

Mocksville Savings and Loan Association Increases Dividends

The assets of the Mocksville Savings and Loan Association increased by $517,063.13 in 1965 reaching an all-time high figure of $6,964,290.26. Assets at the end of 1964 were $6,447,227.13.

It was reported that there was a net increase in savings of $34,624.11, bringing the total of savings in the association at the end of the year to $6,141,020.55.

"Because of our growth in total savings and the continued high return on the loans made by this association, we have once again distributed record total dividends to our savers in 1965," said M. B. Stone-street, president of the Mocksville Savings and Loan Association.

Dividend payments totaled $238,353.88 for 1965.

Effective January 1st, 1966, the dividend rate will be based on 4 1/2 percent and will be compounded quarterly.

During 1965, the association made a total of 221 mortgage loans in the amount of $1,200,000.00.

A Story Of Honesty!

This is a story of honesty. Cliff Hawkins of Concord was on his way to Mocksville to his job with the Wagoner Construction Company . . . which is constructing an addition to the new Ingersoll-Rand plant. Between Salisbury and Mocksville on US 601, Mr. Hawkins spied a billfold on the road. Stopping and picking it up, he brought it with him and turned it over to his foreman, S. E. Bronson who in turn gave it to Bob Lloyd of the Ingersoll-Rand Company who turned it over to the Mocksville Police Department.

Investigation by Mocksville Chief of Police Joe Foster revealed that the billfold had been lost by John Allen Bush of the U. S. Air Force, stationed at Shaw Air Force Base. It contained $28 in cash plus army identification and other valuable papers. Mr. Bush had lost his billfold between Salisbury and Mocksville, enroute to his home in Virginia.

Masonic Meeting

Mocksville Masonic Lodge No. 194 will meet Friday night at 7:30 p. m. District Deputy Crouse Jones will be here on an official visit. There will be work in the second degree.

FHIA Loan Program Is Assisting Farm Families

Credit to meet rising farm operating costs combined with assistance in farm and financial management is helping overcome a serious threat to the continued existence of many family farms in North Carolina, Melvin H. Hearn, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, said today in Raleigh.

FUNERALS

Funeral Services for Lonnie Lee Miller, 85, were held Monday, January 31, at 11 a. m. at Wesley Chapel Methodist Church. Burial was in the church cemetery.

He died at 7:50 a. m. Saturday at Lynn Haven Nursing Home.

He was born in Davie County to Luther and Mary Taylor Miller. He was a steward and trustee of Wesley Chapel Methodist Church and superintendent of the Sunday school. Mr. Miller was a charter member of the Pine community Grange and his farm was the first projected in soil conservation in Davie County. He was a member of the Davie County draft board during World War II.

Surviving are three sons, John E. Miller of Winston-Salem and Vernon and Gene Miller of Mocksville, Rt. 2; and three daughters, Mrs. Harmon McMahan of Mocksville, Rt. 2, Mrs. Mack Conrad of Pfafftown and Mrs. H. Lavern Shore of Yadkinville.

BURL R. LANIER
Funeral services for Burl Roosevelt (Robuck) Lanier, 59, of Advance, Rt. 2, were held at 2 p. m. Monday, January 31, at Eaton's Home. Burial was in Fulton Methodist Church cemetery.

Mr. Lanier died at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at Lynn Haven Nursing Home.

He was born in Davie County to Burl and Nola Harvey Lanier.

Surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Kate Creason of Cooleemee, Mrs. Mary Ellen Hendrix of Reaves, Mrs. Bessie Carter of Elkin and Mrs. C. G. Livengood of North Wilkesboro; and a brother, John Lanier of Advance, Rt. 2.

MRS. JAMES WARD
Funeral services for Mrs. Nancy Smith Ward, 77, wife of James L. Ward of Mocksville, Rt. 2, Farmington Community, were held at 2 p. m. Friday, January 28, at Eaton's Chapel. Burial was in Farmington cemetery.

Mrs. Ward died Wednesday at Baptist Hospital in Win-Jon-Salem.

Medicare Day To Be Held Here

Medicare Day will be observed in Davie County on February 18, according to Taft McCoy, Social Security Field Representative in Davie County. He said that representatives from the Social Security Office in Salisbury will be at the Court House from 1:00 p. m. to 1:45 p. m. to explain the new program and answer questions. The people present will then be given the opportunity to sign up for hospital and medical insurance under the medicare program.

Mr. McCoy said this meeting is extremely important because people who are now 65 years old must sign up for medicare by March 31, 1966, in order to qualify for the medical insurance portion of the "two-way" protection available. The hospital insurance is free to most citizens 65 years old or older. This protection allows a person to stay in the hospital for as many as 90 days for a total cost to him of as little as $40.00. Medical insurance costs only $3.00 per month each year. This insurance will pay up to eighty cents on each dollar in doctor bills after the insured has assumed responsibilities for the first $50.00.

Mr. McCoy said that many other health costs are covered by Medicare. He said if you are 65, approaching age 65, or have relatives in this age bracket, you may want to learn more about this valuable protection. The social security representatives hope you will be present to learn more about the program. Mr. McCoy closed by saying he hopes the citizens of Davie County will tell their neighbors, relatives and friends about this important meeting.

Central Davie Nips Dunbar

The fired up Mohawks quickly erased Dunbar's lead in the second half and romped to a 59-54 basketball victory.

Central Davie took the lead in the third quarter and the mighty Mohawks went on a shooting surge which gave them their 9th victory.

Senior George Scott led a Mohawk rally in the last half with 22 points, and the Mohawks pulled from an 11 point deficit into an 8 point lead.

Elliott Wilkes came through in the crucial period with a surge that gave him 15 points.

Senior William West repeatedly kept the Mohawks in the game by sweeping the back boards, he also dropped in 10 points.

Lewis Peebles had a great defensive night and scored 7 points.

Eric Hudson, the Mohawks back court ace was a standout with his tremendous passing, he scored 5 points.

The Mohawks and Mohawks are scheduled to play in Landis Friday night.

Piano Certification Through NCMTA

During the first two years of the North Carolina Music Teachers Association, Marian Cable and Stuart Pratt of Raleigh carefully studied certification plans pursued by various states. At the second convention at Queens College they discussed the various plans at an open forum panel. A committee was formed for further study and to recommend a plan for North Carolina with Stuart Pratt, chairman; Marian Cable; Lydia James, Chapel Hill; Hilde B. Kreutzer, Gastonia and Martha Worrell, Charlotte. The proposed plan was published in the October, 1961 Bulletin, The North Carolina Music Teacher.

At the third convention at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro in January, 1962, the plan was discussed again, revised and reworded. The membership voted acceptance of the plan. Since that time we have revised, modified and clarified the plan.

The Certification Plan of the NCMTA includes three phases of the teacher's professional life: training, experience and continued growth. It is based on the principle that performing ability and musical knowledge are prerequisites for good teaching, but that these alone do not guarantee the ability to teach. Therefore the requirements for the permanent certificate include not only training, but also proof of the skills and experience which assure efficient teaching.

There are four types of certificates.

1. The PROVISIONAL CERTIFICATE (Piano) recognizes the validity of the candidate's educational and professional training, and certifies that his preparation meets the NCMTA standards under the Certification Plan. This certificate is valid for not more than five years and is not renewable. To continue to be certified the holder of the Provisional Certificate must earn the Standard Certificate within five years of the issuance of the Provisional Certificate.

2. The STANDARD CERTIFICATE (Piano) recognizes the candidate's proficiency in both preparation and teaching, and requires a pupil demonstration before the Board of Examiners. This certificate is permanent.

3. The CERTIFICATE OF PROFESSIONAL ADVANCEMENT (Piano) requires the Master's degree or its equivalent, extensive experience as a piano teacher, and a distinctive achievement or contribution in the field of performance, composition, pedagogy or musicalology. This certificate is permanent.

The certification plan was adopted to encourage continued professional growth, to elevate and improve piano teaching. The fact that it is a voluntary acceptance for improvement by the teacher is a step in the right direction. Improvement is a self-accepted challenge, not a State-Department of Education requirement!

There are ninety certified teachers in North Carolina, fifteen within the Belmont, Charlotte, Gastonia, Lincolnton area; ten of whom are members of the Charlotte Piano Teachers Forum.

The pupil demonstration examination for Charlotte will be April 15 at Queens College. Information may be obtained from Mrs. Snyder Thompson, 1022 Brandon Road, Charlotte (chairman of the Certification Board of NCMTA) or Mrs. Marie J. Hargett, 223-North Dogter, E-5, Charlotte, District Chairman.

A recent survey showed that about 20,000,000 Americans are afflicted by the common cold on any given day. More than 20,000,000 Americans are afflicted by heart and blood vessel diseases, says the North Carolina Heart Association.

Scope of Sports

It hardly seems possible, but the various basketball tournaments, both high school and college, are now only a month or less away. And, in the Carolina Conference, the pace setting High Point Panthers suffered another personnel loss this past weekend that might be sorely felt by the time the league's post-season tournament rolls around on February 23 at the Lexington YMCA.

Missing from the High Point line-up for the rest of the season will be Guard Eugene Littles, the 6-4, 24 year old Negro freshman sensation from Washington, D. C. He suffered a severe hand injury last week in the Guilford game when he broke the fourth metacarpal on his right hand. Littles is now wearing the hand in a cast, and doctors predict that it will take five to six weeks to heal. He actually sustained the injury last Wednesday night in the first half of the Guilford game, but he played the entire contest and wound up with 28 points as the Panthers defeated the Quakers 79-71 to strengthen their hold on first place.

Everything good you may have heard about Littles is true. He's certainly one of the best we've ever seen in the Carolinas Conference, and he bows out averaging around 27 points a game. You just don't lose a guy like that and not feel the effects, and Coach Tom Quinn knows it. However, this is his second personnel loss this season. Back in December Co-Captain Steve Taigenhorst quit the squad for personal reasons and before the season began he was the only returning starter for the Panthers. Yet, Coach Quinn regrouped his forces and managed to keep moving down the opposition. But with Littles gone the regrouping job this time may be next to impossible.

One thing, however, in favor of High Point, at least up until Tournament time, is the schedule. Of their eight conference games left, starting this week, the Panthers will play five at home and three on the road. This can be a big help especially when you've already got a game and a half lead on the rest of the league.

But those four days in Lexington are like a different season altogether and nobody knows that better than Tom Quinn.

Basketball, ACC style, will be featured on Channel 2 Saturday afternoon at 2 when North Carolina meets Maryland. You sports fans also might want to catch the appearance of golfer Tony Lema on Ed Sullivan's show Sunday night at 8.

Funerals

Funeral Services for Lonnie Lee Miller, 85, were held Monday, January 31, at 11 a. m. at Wesley Chapel Methodist Church. Burial was in the church cemetery.

He died at 7:50 a. m. Saturday at Lynn Haven Nursing Home.

He was born in Davie County to Luther and Mary Taylor Miller. He was a steward and trustee of Wesley Chapel Methodist Church and superintendent of the Sunday school. Mr. Miller was a charter member of the Pine community Grange and his farm was the first projected in soil conservation in Davie County. He was a member of the Davie County draft board during World War II.

Surviving are three sons, John E. Miller of Winston-Salem and Vernon and Gene Miller of Mocksville, Rt. 2; and three daughters, Mrs. Harmon McMahan of Mocksville, Rt. 2, Mrs. Mack Conrad of Pfafftown and Mrs. H. Lavern Shore of Yadkinville.

BURL R. LANIER
Funeral services for Burl Roosevelt (Robuck) Lanier, 59, of Advance, Rt. 2, were held at 2 p. m. Monday, January 31, at Eaton's Home. Burial was in Fulton Methodist Church cemetery.

Mr. Lanier died at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at Lynn Haven Nursing Home.

He was born in Davie County to Burl and Nola Harvey Lanier.

Surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Kate Creason of Cooleemee, Mrs. Mary Ellen Hendrix of Reaves, Mrs. Bessie Carter of Elkin and Mrs. C. G. Livengood of North Wilkesboro; and a brother, John Lanier of Advance, Rt. 2.

MRS. JAMES WARD
Funeral services for Mrs. Nancy Smith Ward, 77, wife of James L. Ward of Mocksville, Rt. 2, Farmington Community, were held at 2 p. m. Friday, January 28, at Eaton's Chapel. Burial was in Farmington cemetery.

Mrs. Ward died Wednesday at Baptist Hospital in Win-Jon-Salem.

Medicare Day To Be Held Here

Medicare Day will be observed in Davie County on February 18, according to Taft McCoy, Social Security Field Representative in Davie County. He said that representatives from the Social Security Office in Salisbury will be at the Court House from 1:00 p. m. to 1:45 p. m. to explain the new program and answer questions. The people present will then be given the opportunity to sign up for hospital and medical insurance under the medicare program.

Mr. McCoy said this meeting is extremely important because people who are now 65 years old must sign up for medicare by March 31, 1966, in order to qualify for the medical insurance portion of the "two-way" protection available. The hospital insurance is free to most citizens 65 years old or older. This protection allows a person to stay in the hospital for as many as 90 days for a total cost to him of as little as $40.00. Medical insurance costs only $3.00 per month each year. This insurance will pay up to eighty cents on each dollar in doctor bills after the insured has assumed responsibilities for the first $50.00.

Mr. McCoy said that many other health costs are covered by Medicare. He said if you are 65, approaching age 65, or have relatives in this age bracket, you may want to learn more about this valuable protection. The social security representatives hope you will be present to learn more about the program. Mr. McCoy closed by saying he hopes the citizens of Davie County will tell their neighbors, relatives and friends about this important meeting.

MORE ABOUT Auto Inspection of every motorist in our State." Stations licensed to conduct vehicle safety inspections will be recognized by the green and white "Official North Carolina Safety Equipment Inspection Station" sign that will be prominently displayed at each licensed station. Authorized mechanics will inspect only those items necessary to the safe operation of the vehicle — brakes, lights, steering mechanism, horn, windshield wipers and directional signals.

"The Safety Inspection Program is geared to the convenience of the motorists," Governor Moore explained. "In most cases, the licensed station is a neighborhood firm where the motorist is already receiving service."

He said inspection of the six safety items will require only about 20 minutes. Defects may be corrected during the inspection, the governor said.

The date by which a vehicle must be inspected is determined by the last number on the vehicle's 1966 license plate. The schedule follows:

3 March 31, 1966
4 April 30, 1966
5 May 31, 1966
6 June 30, 1966
7 July 31, 1966
8 August 31, 1966
9 September 30, 1966
0 October 31, 1966
1 November 30, 1966
2 December 31, 1966

He pointed out that disapproved vehicles will be entitled to reinspection, free of charge, provided it is conducted by the initial inspection station and within 90 days of the initial inspection.

Folks and Fancies

By MARGARET A. LEGRAND

Mrs. Lela Hale of Spencer, Tennessee, spent the month of January here with her son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Savage on Stewart Street.

FLU PATIENT William E. Hall has been confined to his home on Mud Mill Road since last Thursday with an attack of flu. He hopes to be back in his office soon.

MOVE TO MOCKSVILLE Capt. and Mrs. James T. Campbell and children, Jimmy and Anne, moved to a home on Raymond Street on January 28. On Saturday, Jan. 29 their third child was born at Davie County Hospital. His name is Michael Andrew. Capt. Campbell expects to be sent to Viet Nam in a few weeks and his family will remain here while he is away. They moved here from Harrisburg, Pa. where he was stationed in New Cumberland Army Depot. Capt. Campbell is a son of Prentice Campbell and Mrs. Campbell.

VISITS IN RALEIGH Luther Long spent from Friday until Tuesday in Raleigh visiting friends. Mrs. William Long of Greensboro, spent Tuesday here with Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Long.

RENEW MARRIAGE VOWS Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Rodwell of Holyoke, Massachusetts, will renew their marriage vows at high mass on Monday, February 14 at 10 a. m. in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in Holyoke, Mass.

Father Albert Breton will be celebrant of the mass. Lt. Col. and Mrs. Edwin Mann of Springfield, Virginia will be attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodwell were married November 21, 1945 in Holyoke by the Justice of the Peace. This is why they wish to renew their vows in the church.

Mrs. Rodwell is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Gagne of Williamsett, Mass. Mr. Rodwell is the son of Mrs. J. W. Rodwell and the late, Dr. Rodwell. The couple has two daughters, Mrs. Donald William Ornelas of San Pedro, California, and Mrs. Edwin Mann of Springfield, Virginia.

LOCKED OUT IN COLD Mrs. W. A. Allison went out early Monday morning in the deep sleet snow to feed the hungry birds. In the rush, she slammed her door and was locked out of her house. She went shivering and excited to a neighbor's home for a key she had left there for such occasions. This happens so often to the women on the avenue that keys are distributed among them so the houses will not have to be broken into.

NEWS IS SCARCIE Newsy news is scarce this week because of the snow and ice. People are staying in looking at television and using their telephones. The women must be visiting and gossiping over the phone instead of, over the fence, as all of the lines have busy signals.

OFF TO GEORGIA Mrs. John P. LeGrand who had been trying to get off to Augusta, Georgia for weeks to visit her sisters, Misses Mae and Marguerite Johnson, left Friday morning for Greenville, S. C. where the sisters had planned to meet her. The snow came Saturday and Mrs. LeGrand seemed to be stranded in Greenville. She was lucky though to have another sister there with whom she was when last heard of Saturday night.

MR. PATNER INDISPOSED Joe Patner is indisposed this week at his home on South Main Street.

SALISBURY VISITORS Mr. and Mrs. Russell Barber and children, Jerry Lee, Annetie and Rusty of Route 1, Salisbury, spent Sunday here, the guests of Mrs. Barber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Martin on Maple Avenue.

RELEASED FROM HOSPITAL Mrs. James Hinkle who has been a patient at Davie County Hospital the past few weeks, returned to her home on Maple Avenue Friday.

HOSPITAL PATIENT Mrs. John Taylor who received back injuries in a fall two weeks ago, is receiving treatment at Davie County Hospital. Mrs. Taylor fell in the Erwin Mills Inc. parking lot at Coolemees.

VISITING DAUGHTER Mrs. H. C. Maroney is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Holthouser and husband on Maple Avenue.

GUESTS FROM INDIANA J. G. Sunday and Bill Nash of Mooresville, Indiana, visited Lee Iverly and Mrs. Iverly last Wednesday and Thursday.

WPCF-TV VISITORS Mr. and Mrs. Ludlow Cook of Shelbyville, Kentucky spent the weekend here with Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Collins and daughter, Sherry on North Main Street. Sherry is spending the semester break here with her parents. She is a student at UNC-G.

HERE FORM LUMBERTON Mrs. Frank McMillan of Lumberton is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. D. Brown and sisters, Misses Clayton and Kathryn Brown on North Main Street.

YADKIN VALLEY By MRS. JOE LANGSTON

The citizens of Yadkin Valley owe a debt of gratitude to the public employees who have worked long hours in the cold clearing the roads. The mail has been delivered on schedule and the Sunday paper was delivered. In this section the telephones have been in order. Many thanks to you all.

Batry Howell who is recuperating at the home of his son on Flatbow Road, is improving satisfactorily. Wilbur West was admitted to Davie County Hospital Saturday.

Mrs. Sattle Hauser is presently making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Henry McBride, Ted King visited them on Friday.

The community extends sympathy to Mrs. Effie Marshall and family in the recent death of her mother, Mrs. Jennie McKnight's condition remains the same. Mrs. Fred White is some better than last week.

The community has several shut-ins and older people who are kept in by the weather. Visit them if you possibly can.

Joe Langston returned to his work on Monday following an illness of a few days.

Well the weather is really all there is to write about. Our readers in Florida and western states will be interested to learn that we have at least 16 inches of snow on the ground and in some places more. This is accompanied by zero temperatures in some areas. Former Iowa residents say we now know what their weather is like. Most people say they have never seen such weather.

The bad weather has brought birds by the hundreds in search of food. Many of the birds are not usually seen. Mrs. A. C. Cheshire reports seeing purple finches around her feeder. I have seen brown Thrush and small red-breasted Blue birds that I do not recall ever seeing during the winter. Other species are also around. A Robin is a sure sign of spring here. Just before the storm, I saw one in my yard.

CARD OF THANKS We owe to our pastor, many friends and neighbors a deep debt of gratitude for their thoughtfulness of us during the illness and death of our husband and father, Jesse G. Zimmerman. We appreciate the many visits, cards of sympathy, flowers and other kind deeds during this time. We pray God's blessings on you all.

Mrs. Jesse G. Zimmerman and children.

MRS. GEORGE RYAN HAIRSTON

MARY CATHERINE MOWERY IS BRIDE OF GEORGE RYAN HAIRSTON SATURDAY

Miss Mary Catherine Mowery and George Ryan Hairston were married Saturday, January 29, in the First Presbyterian Church in Winston-Salem.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas Mowery of Forest Drive, Winston-Salem, the bride graduated from R. J. Reynolds High School, Winston-Salem. She attended Montreat-Anderson College, Black Mountain, and Winston-Salem Business College.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wilson Hairston of the Coolemees Plantation, Advance, attended Christ School in Arden; Governors School, Winston-Salem, and graduated at Davie County High School. He is now a student at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where he is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

The Reverend David H. Burr officiated at the half after four o'clock ceremony. A reception given by the bride's parents followed in Old Town Club, Winston-Salem.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white peau satin gown fashioned with a bell skirt and a detachable chapel train with Alencon lace motifs. She carried a nosegay of white phalaenopsis orchids, butterfly roses and freesias.

Miss Carol Marie Mowery was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Rita Ford Rice, Miss Virginia Lee Fletcher and Miss Jennie Mowery of Winston-Salem, and Miss Martha Hairston of Ann Arbor, Michigan. The attendants wore long dresses styled with blue crepe skirts and contrasting bodices. Their headresses were of matching blue and they carried nosegays of white daisies and yellow jonquils.

Michael John Waltrip of Winston-Salem was best man. Ushers included Robert Wesley Kulp and James McAllister Little of Winston-Salem; William Gordon of Fairbanks, Alaska; William Gleason of Indianapolis, Indiana, and Jack Belts of Greensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Hairston will make their home in Chapel Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wilson Hairston entertained Saturday at a wedding luncheon for their son, George Ryan Hairston, and Miss Mary Catherine Mowery, who were married that afternoon in First Presbyterian Church in Winston-Salem.

Peter W. Hairston Jr., a student at Asheville School, was host with his parents for the noon luncheon at their home, the Coolemees Plantation.

A chartered bus took the 50 guests from Winston-Salem - Salem to the home at Advance. Attending were members of the wedding party and families and a number of out-of-town guests.

Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. Nelson G. Hairston of Ann Arbor, Mich., and their daughter, Miss Martha Hairston; Dr. and Mrs. Richard L. Maaland and Boris Petroff of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Gavin H. Dortch and Mr. Dortch and Mr. Dortch's aunt, Miss Elizabeth Dortch; Mrs. Clarence A. Shore and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Henderson, all of Raleigh; Dr. Lyman A. Cotten of Chapel Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Polsky of Asheville.

North Carolina officials have no plans to extend the Feb. 15 deadline for 1966 auto license plates because of the bad weather.

"The law says Feb. 15," said Miss Foy Ingram, director of registration for the N. C. Department of Motor Vehicles. "No extension is foreseen."

"We still have two weeks left," she added.

North Carolina plate sales for the first three weeks were 9 per cent ahead of last year, she said - 698,776 compared with 640,120 at the same time in 1965.

But the heavy snows have almost halted the buying of plates in many areas during the past few days.

Local Residents Eligible For Business Courses At Wake Forest College

Residents of the Mocksville area are eligible to take two courses for management development and self-improvement which will begin in February under the sponsorship of the Management Institute of the School of Business Administration of Wake Forest College in Winston-Salem.

Dr. Raleigh C. Heath, director of the institute, said Wake Forest is now one of the colleges cooperating with the Industrial Relations Center of the University of Chicago. The affiliation makes it possible for the Management in Winston Salem to offer courses designed by the Chicago organization for management development.

Health said the classes are being offered "to provide a sound educational and development opportunity for supervisors in business and re-

Many Wrecks Are Reported

Snow, ice, slippery roads probably contributed to a rash of wrecks reported during the past week.

Last Thursday around 11:45 a. m. two cars collided on a rural road, six miles east of Mocksville. Involved was a 1963 Chevrolet operated by Walter Wayne Ferebee, 43, of Mocksville, and a 1962 Ford operated by William Thomas Nivens, 19, of Mocksville Rt. 3. State Highway Patrolman R. L. Hanson said that his investigation showed that Mr. Ferebee had just pulled out of a ditch when Nivens came over a hill, attempted to stop, but skidded into the front of the Chevrolet.

Also last Thursday around 3:30 p. m. a rural road, 5-miles southwest of Mocksville, was the scene of another wreck. Involved in this was a 1950 Chevrolet operated by Andrew Jackson Patterson, Jr., of Coolemees and a 1963 Ford operated by Charles Edgar Milholen, Jr., 42, of Coolemees. State Highway Patrolman R. L. Beane said that his investigation showed that the Milholen vehicle drove to the left of the center and struck the Patterson vehicle on the left side and went back to the right and struck a fence. Damage to each vehicle was estimated at $300. Milholen was charged with driving to the left of center.

Another wreck occurred last Thursday around 5:15 p. m. on US 64, 10-miles west of Mocksville. Involved in this was a 1951 Plymouth operated by Paul Boykin Kuykendall, 36, of Mocksville Rt. 1 and a 1965 International tractor-trailer operated by Stewart Roosevelt Staley, 25, of Lenoir Rt. 2. State Highway Patrolman R. L. Beane said that his investigation showed that both vehicles were going east on US 64 when Kuykendall pulled out to pass the truck. At the same time Staley pulled out to pass another vehicle. Kuykendall swerved to the left off embankment, struck fence and overturned. Kuykendall was treated at Davie County Hospital. Staley was charged with failure to see movement could be made safely.

Last Friday two cars collided in a mishap on a private parking lot when James David Keller driving a 1964 Ford backed into a 1965 Chevrolet being operated by Florence Bumgarner Watts of Taylorsville.

Last Saturday around 12:40 p. m. two cars were involved in a collision on US 601, 4-miles south of Mocksville. Involved were Charlie Edward Barnes, 54, of Mocksville Rt. 4 operating a 1954 Chevrolet and Robert Carter Harkey, 58, of Norwood, operating a 1965 Dodge. State Highway Patrolman R. L. Beane said that his investigation showed that both vehicles were going south on US 601 when Barnes slowed to make a right turn into a private driveway. Harkey was unable to get stopped and struck the Barnes vehicle in the rear. Damage to the Chevrolet was estimated at $100 and $200 to the Dodge.

Two cars collided last Saturday around 3 p. m. on N. C. 801, 6-miles south of Mocksville. Involved was a 1959 Chevrolet operated by June Carol Lagle, 17, of Coolemees and a 1956 Chevrolet operated by Bobby Lewis Wood, 36, of Woodleaf. State Highway Patrolman R. L. Beane said that his investigation showed that the Lagle vehicle entered NC 801 from a rural road and started north on NC 801, driving left of center. The Wood vehicle preceding south on NC 801 swerved right to avoid collision and the left rear of the Wood vehicle collided with the left front of the Lagle vehicle. Damage to the 1959 Chevrolet was estimated at $300. Miss Lagle was charged with driving left of center.

Rural Road No. 1100, 7-miles south of Mocksville, was the scene of an accident last Sunday afternoon around 4:15 p. m. Involved was a 1962 Ford operated by James Boyd Smith, 19, of Mocksville Rt. 4 and a 1958 Ford operated by Robert Franklin Foster, 20, of Mocksville Rt. 4. State Highway Patrolman R. L. Beane said that his investigation showed that the Smith vehicle was going north and the Foster vehicle was going south and both hit head-on. An estimated $200 was done to each vehicle. Smith was charged with driving to the left of center.

Also last Sunday at 5:10 p. m. on NC 801, 8-miles north of Mocksville, two cars collided in somewhat of a freak accident . . . almost head-on. It was freakish inasmuch as both were headed in the same direction when the front car skidded on ice, turning around in the road so that the head-on collision could occur. Also an oddity was that this collision involved two 1963 Falcons one operated by David Elburn Baily, 35, of Mocksville Rt. 5 and the other operated by James William Clune, Jr. of Mocksville Rt. 2. State Highway Patrolman R. L. Hanson investigated.

State Highway Patrolman John W. Pittman investigated an acci-

What is involved in efficient, economical milk production in North Carolina today? The answer to this question implies the type dairymen who will be operating the dairy farms in the future. To answer the question of what is involved in economical milk production, we should first take a look to see what is happening to dairy farms across the state. For one thing, the number of farms has rapidly declined from 5,200 Grade-A dairies in 1954 to slightly less than 3,000 in 1965. Yet more milk is now being produced from these remaining farms. This would indicate that dairy farmers have expanded the size of their dairy businesses in order to compete and remain in business.

A summary of 63 dairy farms that participated in the 1964 Dairy Farm Business Records Program showed that the average investment was $129,418. The average herd size was 56 cows. On a per-cow basis this would be an investment of $2,459 or $43,924 per man. These investment figures clearly show that dairying in North Carolina is more than a "way of life." It is a business; and, to be operated profitably, it must be managed as a business.

Other trends noted in the summary were (1) output per man on dairy farms is increasing as dairy farms become more specialized and mechanized, (2) average size of dairy farms as measured by investment, number of cows, acres of land, and volume of production is increasing.

The table below presents a summary of average cash costs per hundredweight of milk produced on twenty specialized dairy farms in North Carolina during 1964.

	High Cost Farms	Low Cost Farms	Average
Hired Labor	$.87	$.24	$.46
Purchased feed	1.53	1.45	1.49
Crop expenses	.59	.44	.51
Livestock expenses	.68	.72	.70
Machinery expenses	.52	.40	.46
General farm expenses	.72	.43	.57
Total cash operating expenses	$4.71	$3.68	$4.19
Interest on owned Capital	.85	.84	.85
Depreciation	.84	.83	.83
TOTAL	$6.40	$5.35	$5.87

There were differences in net operating income which cannot be attributed to size of the farm business alone. Indicating that the management factor greatly influence the financial success of the farm business, many farms with low net operating incomes are depleting their business resources. Large differences were evident in the cost of production per hundredweight of milk. Purchased feed, depreciation and labor were the largest individual cost items.

Factors involved in the management of a successful dairy business today are complex. In order to lower cost per unit of expenses, each segment of the business must be analyzed carefully.

dent last Friday that occurred round 3 p. m. on US 64, 7-miles east of Mocksville. Involved was a 1963 Oldsmobile operated by William Boyce Gowan, 62, of Asheboro and a 1966 Cadillac operated by Charles Norris Rabold, 63, of Coolemees. The accident occurred when the Gowan vehicle, going east, started to make a right turn onto NC 801 and the Rabold vehicle, going west, started to make a left turn hitting the Gowan vehicle in the left side. Rabold was charged with failing to see movement could be made in safety.

A 1964 Chevrolet skidded on ice Tuesday morning around 8:15 a. m. on US 601 at Greasy Corner and collided with a 1962 Chevrolet. State Highway Patrolman John W. Pittman said that Kenneth Gray Sales, 31, of Coolemees, operating the '64 Chevrolet and going east on NC 801 applied brakes at the intersection and skidded on ice hitting the '62 Chevrolet being operated by Cecilia Noraine McCleskey, 19, of Oak Street, Mocksville. Miss McCleskey was treated at the Davie County Hospital. Damage to the McCleskey car was estimated at $150 and $100 to the Sales car.

Ground Hog Day And The Heart Fund

It's mere coincidence that the ground hog makes his legendary appearance from hibernation one day after the opening of the Heart Fund — here and in 8500 other American communities.

Actually, Mister Ground Hog — that faint-hearted shadow dodger of weather folklore — is one of the most valuable Heart volunteers. He has already provided much information which is vital in delicate time-consuming human surgery, such as the open-heart operation.

The ground hog is one animal whose heart can be studied in normal state at a temperature as low as 10 to 15 degrees Centigrade and a slowed pulse rate as low as two beats per minute — conditions in which a non-hibernating animal's heart would stop beating. Only by mechanical means can science produce in the human body what the ground hog accomplishes naturally.

The ground hog's built-in heat-regulating mechanism brings its body temperature close to the environmental temperature and affords an opportunity to learn much about the human heart in this state as well as how it recovers after chilling.

So regardless of what happens on February 2 — whether he sees his shadow and retreats for another six weeks, or whether the absence of a shadow portends mild weather in the days ahead — hats off to the ground hog!

Hats off, also to your local Heart Association, and its continuing fight to bring under control heart attack, stroke and other cardiovascular diseases which are responsible for more than half of all deaths in this area.

Ringling Bros. Circus To Be At Greensboro

When Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus comes to Greensboro Coliseum for nine performances beginning Wednesday, February 9, through Sunday, February 13, and the full radiant colors of the season's most elaborate costumes unfold, circus fans will actually be watching a one-man wardrobe show. In a constant crescendo of color, beauty and breath-taking splendor this year's $250,000 investment in costumes is a tribute to the vision, ability and sheer genius of a busy little man named Max Weldy.

Max Weldy, who numbers among his former clients in the costume world, the top New York shows; the world-famous Folios Bergere in Paris and the world's most exclusive night club revues, was brought into the circus world by Ringling President John North in 1957—and in real tribute to his profession, Max Weldy has costumed the "Big Show" ever since.

Established in a modern, new building at Sarasota, Florida, where he can drop into circus Winter Quarters at nearby Venice within minutes of his cutting room. Max Weldy practices his craft in complete synchronization with circus staff officials. Meetings held early in the year, usually presided over by the show's chief executive, set the general theme for the following season's production numbers and the always colorful grand finale.

From these general outlines, Max Weldy begins his sketching. He must provide costumes for every size and shape, man, woman and animal. While the final fitting will be done at annual rehearsal time—months away—the start must be made early in order to have the gigantic task finished on time. Weldy, a true perfectionist, will not substitute on his wardrobe productions. Ostrich feathers must be ostrich feathers, even though he does have to fly to Paris to get them.

And while the circus goes here will marvel at the sheer brilliance and beauty of the full dress regalia they see in such glorious color, it is difficult to realize that only special, tough, long-lasting materials can be used. It is a testimony to the Weldy work that these costumes do so long endure.

Certainly worthy of commendation is the method employed by the men of the Blaise Baptist Church to supplement the building fund for their church.

Instead of following the frequently tried method of soliciting and begging funds . . . they take the more positive and may we say Christian approach of the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you". They work in this manner:

They utilize their tractors and farm equipment in all these snows to clear parking lots, driveways, etc. They make no charge for these services . . . leaving it entirely up to the person benefited to make a donation . . . if they so desire . . . to the building fund of the Blaise Baptist Church.

I do not know the amount they have received from such services . . . but I would bet it is substantially more than is raised by the same number of men just out soliciting . . . And, it is bringing to them something that no money can buy: That of good will and admiration.

The snows last weekend brought out the sledders . . . and also in Mocksville . . . some "skiers." Many persons in some of the residential areas of the town were startled to look out their window and see people on skis being pulled down the middle of the street.

One woman reportedly remarked: "Those crazy teenagers! What will they do next!" But what she didn't know was that these were not teenagers but some of the more prominent civic and business leaders of the town.

It was a frustrated bunch of Rotarians that stomped out into the snow from their regular meeting on Tuesday.

For around 30-minutes they had relaxed viewing sunbathing beauties in Bermuda; seeing water skiers, surf-boarders and sailboating; and just enjoying that sun-warmth paradise by film.

Then it was over and the forty men stomped out of the hut in boots and galoshes in the slushy snow.

HEALTH TIPS

FROM THE American Medical Association

Sight and Hearing
Bad eyesight plaques one out of every five children in the United States.

And one child in every 25 has hearing trouble.

Either of these difficulties could interfere with your child's success at school or with his social adjustment, says a new leaflet from the American Medical Association. If you recognize the clues, defective vision is easy to spot. Your child may blink frequently, rub his eyes, squint, frown or balk at doing close work.

Hearing troubles, too, show up in habits. Your child may cock his head to one side, misunderstand or ignore instructions, speak too softly or too loudly, or act inattentive and restless — all because he cannot understand the sounds around him.

If you are concerned about your child's vision or hearing, check with your family physician. After an examination, he may refer you to a physician who specializes in vision or hearing problems.

An ophthalmologist is a physician who specializes in the diagnosis and treatment of eye disease. He may use drugs, prescribe glasses and perform eye surgery. An ophthalmologist can tell when falling eyesight is related just to the lens system of the eye and when it has been caused by injury, disease or possible poisoning.

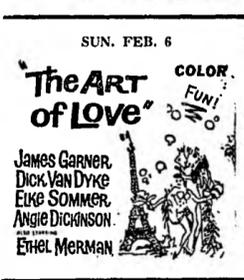

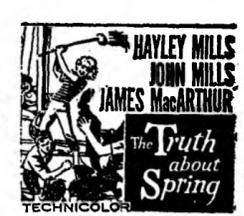

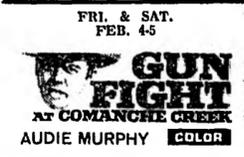

An otologist is also a medical doctor. He is trained to detect the type and extent of hearing loss and to decide if medical or surgical treatment is needed. The otologist can determine by a variety of tests whether loss of hearing is due to nerve damage or to an interference with the transmission of sound waves to the hearing organ. He may find that a child who is hard of hearing can be helped by something as simple as removing wax from the ears. In more serious conditions, a hearing aid or one of several operations may be recommended by the otologist.

It is highly important to your child's growth and development to be constantly alert to signs of defective vision or hearing, and to seek medical attention promptly.

Auto License Sets Inspection Date

Tag Buyers Should Check Last Digit

North Carolina motorists buying their 1966 auto license plates should be sure and check the last number.

The state's Motor Vehicle Inspection Law becomes effective this year and the last digit in the license plate is the key to when you must have yours checked.

If the last number is 3, then your auto must be inspected no later than March 31st; 4, by April 30; 5, by May 31; 6, by June 30; 7, July 31; 8, by August 31; 9, by September 30; 0, by Oct. 31; 1, by Nov. 30; and 2, Dec. 31.

Inspection will be handled by all qualified service stations displaying a certificate of approval issued by the state.

Here is what a motorist can expect when he drives in for an inspection.

First, he pays a fee of $1.50. Then a check is made of brakes, horn, windshield wipers, headlights, rear lights, steering mechanism and directional signals. If the car fails the test, the motorist can take it anywhere for repairs and then bring it back for re-inspection, free of charge.

If he thinks another inspection may be fairer, he can give it a try, but pay another $1.50.

A car may be rejected if the emergency brake is not working, regardless of the condition of the feet brakes.

Cracked headlight lens must be replaced; the steering wheel must have not more than three inches of play; windshield wipers must work; the front end can't sag; the turn signals must work; and the horn must honk.

If an individual purchases or trades for a car that does not have an inspection sticker, he will be given ten days from the date of purchase to have the auto checked.

Central Carolina Bank Reports Record Highs

Historic highs were set in assets, deposits, loans, and capital funds in 1965 by Central Carolina Bank and Trust Company.

Announcement of the bank's record-breaking performance was made by Charles F. Bahnsen, assistant vice president and COO, following the 62nd annual meeting of the bank's shareholders and directors in Durham on Thursday.

The bank's deposits, Bahnsen said, advanced during 1965 to $71.9 million an increase of $8 million. Loans were up by $21 to $41.1 million. Total assets of the bank jumped during the past year from $69.9 million to $78.2 million — a gain of 12%.

During the year, $766,650 was transferred from undivided profits to surplus. On December 31, surplus totaled $3,266,650. This figure, when added to capital of $1,483,350, resulted in an increase of the bank's lending limit (to any one borrower) to $500,000.

The shareholders approved certain changes in the bank's retirement plan. The changes have the effect of liberalizing and improving the retirement benefits, and include: A reduction from three years to one year of the waiting period before participation; increased pension credit for years worked prior to July 1, 1959.

Bahnsen singled out for particular attention deposit growth, in which every office of the bank showed a substantial gain. The increase for Cooleemee, based on averages, was 7.3% in 1965.

Commenting on the meetings, Bahnsen said, "The year 1965 was one of spectacular growth for us, but we believe it was healthy growth. While we do not expect each year increases of the kind we enjoyed in 1965, we do believe there will be steady, orderly growth for our area, and for our bank in the years ahead. We are proud to have a part in the development of the Central Carolina area, and we are confident that CCB will play an increasingly useful role in that development."

HOPE FOR HEARTS

HEART ATTACK CANDIDATE

Timothy Tarheel frequently asks, "What kind of person is most likely to have a heart attack?"

He is fat, he smokes more than a pack of cigarettes a day; his blood cholesterol level is above normal; he has high blood pressure.

This unfortunate fellow is an ideal candidate for a coronary heart attack.

It does not follow, of course, that a slim, non-smoking woman with low blood fats and no hypertension cannot have a heart attack, the North Carolina Heart Association says.

It does mean that each of the unfortunate factors listed for our fat friend is known to be associated with mankind's leading killer, and that the more factors present in one person, the higher his risk.

The basis for this sharply delineated portrait of the coronary-prone human is not the result of subjective guesswork. It is, instead, a statistically valid finding from an extraordinary study which has been under way since 1949 in Framingham, Massachusetts.

In that year 5,000 men and women were selected at random and given extremely thorough physical and psychological tests. They will be closely followed—with frequent re-examinations—for a total of 20 years.

While the picture is not yet complete, an analysis by the experts of the data collected over the years to date gives a pretty clear composite picture of those among the 5,000 who have had heart attacks.

Clearly the typical victim is that fat cigarette smoker with high cholesterol and hypertension.

It may seem strange that anyone should find these facts heartening, yet in a way they are. For it should be noted that, with one exception, all the factors which make our fat man such an ideal candidate for a coronary are either preventable, curable or treatable, according to the heart disease control agency.

Our candidate cannot, of course, help being a man. He is stuck with his sex, and statistics indicate unquestionably that men suffer coronaries much more frequently than women, at least until the latter reach the menopause.

But there is no reason under the sun why our candidate should remain obese. The weight of even the fattest man can be brought down to a healthy level and kept there. But it should be done only under the guidance of a physician. Starvation diets or other fad methods of losing weight, practiced on a do-it-yourself basis, can be dangerous.

A high cholesterol level presents a tougher problem. Despite earlier claims, no drug has yet been found which can safely and certainly reduce blood fats in all patients.

As to high blood pressure, in most people it can be lowered and controlled with medications. Here again it is important that the job be done under the supervision of a physician.

One final point is well worth noting: It is never too late to start.

Statistics seem to show that the excessive smoker who quits reduces his coronary risk down almost to the level of the man who never smoked; life insurance studies indicate that the former fat man is almost as safe as his brother who has always been lean; and the death rate from hypertension fell 44 percent between 1950 and 1960—thanks largely to the availability of anti-hypertensive drugs.

Hope for hearts isn't an abstraction, the state heart group says. Tarheels can take heart.

Guarding Your Own Heart

By Daniel T. Young, M. D. President, North Carolina Heart Association

This article by Dr. Daniel T. Young, of Chapel Hill, University of North Carolina heart specialist and North Carolina Heart Association president, is the third of a four-part series on "The Hearts You Save," distributed by the North Carolina Heart News Bureau. Earlier articles have been on guarding your husband's heart and your child's heart.

While coronary heart disease seems to afflict more men than women, other forms of cardiovascular disease affect both sexes about equally, or even in some instances, more women than men.

So, lest women lull themselves into a false sense of security by assuming that cardiovascular disease will automatically pass them by, now is a good time to sit up and take notice.

Hypertensive heart disease — a condition caused by high blood pressure — is more widely prevalent among women than among men. This form of heart disease, incidentally, is the one most often encountered among the adult population of the United States; in 1962, a government survey estimated 6.9 million more have high blood pressure without heart disease.

Women are substantially in the majority of those with hypertensive heart disease, outnumbering the men by nearly 1/2 million. They are on a 50-50 footing with men in two other categories: high blood pressure and rheumatic heart disease; in fact, they have a slight edge over men in both these categories.

The other side of the coin is brighter, however.

Research advances of the past two decades have scored the greatest advances in just these areas of cardiovascular disease, with women getting the lion's share of the dividends.

The death rate from hypertension and hypertensive heart disease for middle-aged women (45-64) went down 56 percent between 1950 and 1962; that for men dropped 50 percent in the same period.

Similarly, the death rate from strokes — sometimes related to hypertension — has declined steadily over the past 20 years, with the greatest decrease occurring among women in the 45-64 age group.

The decline in the death rate from rheumatic heart disease has been most pronounced — 85 percent — among children and young adults, aged 5-24, over the past 20 years.

The discovery of new pharmaceutical weapons to keep these scourges more children a chance to live and grow normally. As scientists learn more about the manner in which heart defects arise in the developing embryo, even the frontier of life before birth will be breached.

Medical research will one day find the answer to the big rheumatic fever question: how do streptococcal infection trigger an attack of rheumatic fever, why are only a small percentage susceptible, and what causes the heart damage rheumatic fever may leave in its wake? This knowledge can help us to consign rheumatic fever to medical limbo, along with such former scourges as smallpox and polio.

The American Heart Association and the North Carolina Heart Association have given important motive power propelling heart disease research in this county and state since the first Heart Fund campaign in 1949. The money given by North Carolinians, year after year, has been the sustaining power, making medical progress possible, and also making it possible for the Heart Association to translate this progress into life-saving educational and community service programs.

at bay is liberating millions from the threat of crippling disease and early death. High blood pressure can be brought down to normal levels, and kept down, with suitable treatment (including drugs and diet). Prompt penicillin treatment of "strep" infection can prevent first attacks of rheumatic fever; long-term prophylaxis with penicillin and sulfa drugs can bar repeat attacks for those who have had the disease.

The American Heart Association played a key role in research leading to better understanding of hypertension and in formulating strategy for the war on rheumatic fever. But knowledge is only half the battle. Making certain that knowledge is applied on behalf of those who can benefit by it is the other half — perhaps an even more vital half. This is why your Heart Association devotes so much effort to educational work among both the public and the health professions and seeks to develop community programs so that what has been learned through research may be utilized as widely as possible.

The North Carolina Heart Association's key message is: see your doctor regularly. Only your doctor can tell, for example, whether you have high blood pressure, and prescribe treatment to help keep it under control. And for the men, there's a bonus: additional insurance against heart attacks if high blood pressure is detected and treated early.

Social Security In Davie County

A special meeting was held Wednesday afternoon, January 18, at the Salisbury Social Security Office to coordinate plans for enrolling individuals 65 years of age or over in the new "Medicare" Program.

Representatives of four county Public Welfare Departments attended the meeting conducted by local Social Security officials.

Robert C. Thomas, District Manager of Social Security, and members of his staff discussed various phases of enrollment activities & explained what efforts have been made to reach the older people in this area. He expressed much concern over the lack of response to letters that have been sent out from his office. Within the past few weeks, special letters enclosing pamphlets and "Medicare" applications went out to all Welfare recipients, both old-age assistance and Medical Aid to the Aged, as well as all blind people, in this four county area. Rowan, Davie, Davidson, and Iredell.

Only one-third of the approximately 1,600 persons receiving letters have responded to date. This is considerably lower than what officials expected.

Welfare officials extended their support by offering to assist any of their recipients with completing applications. They encourage these people to contact their caseworkers for help when needed, and are urging them to enroll before the deadline of March 31, 1966.

Mr. Thomas made it very clear that the Hospital Insurance is free. The mere signing of the application entitles the person to this insurance. There is no premium due. He explained further that the "Medical Insurance" which will help pay doctor's bills is supplementary to the free hospital insurance. This added insurance will cost only $3.00 a month, and no premiums are due until July 1966. It cost nothing to enroll now.

The local office expects to handle this enrollment by mail to the extent possible. They urge persons who wish a member of the family, preferably, help complete the simple form provided, and to call their Welfare Case Worker when absolutely necessary.

Mr. Thomas also stated "Heavy workloads caused by 'Medicare' and other recent changes in the Social Security Law have compelled us to open our office to the public on Saturday mornings from 8 to 12 in addition to the regular weekday schedule of 8:45 to 3:00."

Representatives attending this special meeting were Mrs. Paul Donnelly, Rowan Director, Miss Doris Lopp, Davidson County Director, B. C. McMurray, Davie County Director.

To start this chain reaction, do nothing for freedom

Freedom didn't happen overnight. It took time; several thousand years, in fact, from the Code of Hammurabi to the Magna Carta to the American Bill of Rights. Centuries of study and struggle were necessary to man's even grasping the true value of individual rights. Millions of lives and untold suffering have led up to a government which makes these rights a matter of each man's birthright.

As Americans, it's only natural for us to take these freedoms for granted... to assume that they will be here forever, without any effort on our part. In fact, many of us never bother to read about them, or to help make them more meaningful for our children. In short, we do nothing for freedom — yet expect this precious heritage to go on working to protect us.

Sad to say, it doesn't work that way.

When you do nothing for freedom, you hasten the day when it will do nothing for you. When you fail to speak up for freedom—even when the victim is the "other fellow," you're forging a link in the chain that could strangle freedom.

Do something about freedom, so it's there when you or your children need it. We have a suggestion. Support Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa. Central Telephone To Improve Facilities

Complaints On Telephone Service In Area

The Mocksville Rotary Club has adopted a resolution in protest to what they term as "unsatisfactory telephone service in our community".

The resolution sets forth the complaints and requests that the proper officials of Central Telephone Company meet with a sub-committee from the Rotary Club "for the purpose of taking constructive corrective action as may be possible".

The specific complaints listed in the Rotary resolution is as follows:

1. Almost continuous busy signal response when an attempt is made to call a number on one of the rural exchanges.
1. Almost continuous busy signal response when an attempt is made to call a number on one of the rural exchanges.
2. Frequent cases where a number is dialed and apparently because the exchange drops a digit, the call in never completed and no telephone rings.
3. Many cases where one is dialing and gets a new dial tone while he is half through dialing a number.
4. Common delays of several minutes before getting response from the long distance operator after dialing O. (In many cases the caller has heard the signal ring more than 20 times).
5. Cases where a phone will ring constantly without interruption before it is answered, there is no party on the line when it is answered, and the continuous ring resumed when the phone is again placed on the receiver.

The above deficiencies were called to the attention of Central Telephone Company last week. This week the company announced plans to spend $5,121,000 to expand and improve facilities in North Carolina . . . of which $78,500 will be spent in the Mocksville exchange.

Some of the projects for the Mocksville exchange will include the replacement of wire facilities with cable in the Southwest Mocksville area and the addition of 300 lines and 400 terminals to the central office equipment. C. J. Wilson, local representative for the Central Telephone Company, said that this will correct many of the complaints listed above.

Mr. Wilson pointed out that telephones in the Mocksville exchange have increased from 818 to 1,822 in the past eleven years and that the proposed projects will provide facilities to serve an expected 88 additional customers.

We applaud the Mocksville Rotary Club for their move to secure better telephone service for this area and we equally commend the Central Telephone Company for their desire to put their telephone service abreast of the increased industrial and residential growth of this area . . .

Living Things Have Own System

Telling Time Without Clocks

Flowers, potatoes, bees, bats, and oysters are among living things that can tell time without a clock.

A flower placed in a dim room with unchanging temperature continues to open at sunrise, the National Geographic Society says. How the flower unfolds on schedule has become the subject of spirited debate among biologists.

Bees that find nectar on a flower may return the following day at the same time to pick up a new supply; they seem to know that a plant exudes nectar at fixed times of day.

A night-flying bat does not need to check the entrance of its cave every few minutes to see if evening has come. Instead the bat sleeps peacefully through the day, relying on a biological clock to wake it at the proper time.

An oyster taken from the Atlantic Ocean to a laboratory in Illinois continues for a time to open its shell to eat at the time of the Atlantic tides. Eventually the oyster resets its clock in accordance with the time a tide would occur if there were tides in Illinois. Scientists speculate that the oyster senses the gravitational pull of the moon, which creates tides.

Even the lowly potato absorbs oxygen according to a daily schedule. If a potato is placed in a hermetically sealed jar and removed from all apparent external influences, it goes right on observing a daily rhythm.

A trained biologist could keep track of time merely by observing the proper plants and animals in his laboratory. Some biological clocks are accurate within a minute or two.

Daily cycles of activity and inactivity during a 24-hour period have been discovered in plants and animals as far down the scale as microbes.

Experiments indicate that the main timing devices for living things are day-night changes in light intensity, temperature, and atmospheric pressure. But changes in certain weak forces, like the earth's magnetic field, gravity, and even background radiation, apparently can act as back-up systems, keeping the organism on time when the primary timers aren't available.

Biological clocks are constantly reset, biologists find. The buds of some plants do not open until the length of night shortens about eight hours, then a mysterious signal flashes to the buds and they burst into bloom. A plant's clock can sometimes be reset or upset by exposing the plant to a flash of light lasting less than a second.

Staying on time may be more than a convenience for an animal or plant. Some biologists believe that proper timekeeping is a matter of life or death. Hence, scientists are eager to learn what might happen to a plant or animal traveling far away from earthly influences.

Human cellular and glandular activity is also regulated by a biological clock, and some biologists fear that if men go to the moon they will be so far away from earth that their internal clocks will be thrown seriously out of commission, possibly with fatal results.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration may put potatoes aboard a spacecraft to test some of the theories about nature's biological clocks.

The wings of an owl have fringed edges to muffle noise so that it can fly as silently as a shadow, the National Geographic says. Owls depend on sound rather than sight to help them catch prey.

Ancient Greeks so admired the heroes in the Homeric poems that the legendary characters were officially ordained gods in 820 B. C.

The North Carolina Heart Association estimates that, over a ten-year period, one family in every ten in the state will be faced with the task of caring for a stroke sufferer.

Coronary heart disease (heart attack) is about twice as frequent in men as in women, at all ages, the North Carolina Heart Association says.

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM OUR RALEIGH BUREAU
2618 Oberlin Road

MIXUP . . . The man who has led the ticket every time he has run for office—in the Mecklenburg County Democratic Primary—is Irwin Belk.

He has served four terms in the Legislature—two in the House and two in the Senate—from one of the South's most populous counties. Belk, who will be 44 on April 4, is a man of many interests. This is shown by the fact that his biographical sketch in Thad Eure's State Manual runs over two pages. In this respect, he has no close competition among the 169 other members of the Legislature or the scores of other top State officials.

Ike Belk would like to run for political office this year, or in 1968, or both. But he has so many friends among other legislators eager for higher office that, whatever direction he goes in, political enemies are sure to be created.

Thus the mixup—or indecision—at this time.

PREBYTERIAN . . . Lewis Holding, banker whose ruckus with Good Friend Dan Moore has been overlaid by wishful thinkers here of late, is interested in running for Governor in 1968.

Holding and Belk—both wonderfully blessed with humble spirit and worldly goods—are very, very close friends.

No predestined Presbyterians are more devout than Ike Belk and Bob Scott, our Lieutenant-Governor. They do say that Scott might like to run for Governor in 1968.

None of the younger bucks in the State have meant more to the Presbyterian Church than the Belks and the Scotts.

This brings up the fact that Ike Belk might like to run for Lieutenant-Governor two years hence. Possible, opposition, if he does: Voit Gilmore, a leading Presbyterian, but with Catholic leanings (the father of five children).

Others mentioned: Gordon Greenwood of Black Mountain, newspaper publisher and a veteran of four regular terms in the Legislature; and Pat Taylor of Wadesboro, 1965 Speaker of the House. Both are Methodists.

WHITHER? . . . Melville Broughton, raised a Baptist, but now one of the leaders of Christ Episcopal Church here, is more and more being mentioned as a candidate for Governor in 1968.

Now in all the mentions foregoing, one thing is conspicuous by its absence. Baptists, where art thou?

When you consider the fact that Baptists are, in truth, as numerous in North Carolina as English sparrows, it is interesting to note that U. S. Sen. J. W. Bailey and Gov. J. M. Broughton (1941-45) were the last of this denomination to have top State positions.

RETIRED . . . It may well be that 90 per cent of the people who retire do not voluntarily do so.

A few years ago late one night this column received a telephone call from one of the top officials of the N. C. Revenue Dept. A party had been held that day for some half-dozen in the department who were retiring . . . and the caller was far from ready for bed . . . or retirement.

"Please let the people know", he said, "that we are not retiring. We are being retired. We don't want to quit. We got to. We have plenty of good years ahead of us."

And so he did. He's still very active.

Gov. Moore attempted a few days ago to make it easy on Brookes Peters and himself by saying that Peters was retiring February 1 as a member of the State Utilities Commission. But Peters would have none of it. He said he was being retired (he's 68) by Gov. Moore.

Incidentally, taking his place is fiftyish John W. McDevitt, who was himself "retired" by Gov. Terry Sanford in 1961 as State Personnel Director.

AT 60 . . . Those State officials—appointed and elected—who are now 60 and over, and there are literally scores of them, should feel lucky.

The great J. C. Penny Co., one of the top five mercantile firms of the world, requires retirement from each manager of a store when he reaches 60. They think this is a certain way to keep the company ever awake, alive, vigorous, and on the ball. Retirement . . . with good pay.

NO BLOCKS . . . The N. C. Heart Association will no longer participate in, or permit, fund solicitors to stop your car at highway intersections, etc., for donations. This has been done in a place or two in the past.

But no more . . . and except for a very few connishers here and there, we will have no on-the-counter collections in the heart drive in North Carolina. Nevertheless, funds are needed—and deserved—more than ever before.

CARS IN '65 . . . Figures just out show that Ford led Chevrolet in new car sales in this State last year, 49,239 to 48,233. But in the U. S. as a whole, Ford still trails Chevy.

Total new car sales in N. C. in 1965 were 191,229 to 165,316 for 1964. After you leave Ford and Chevrolet in this State, you take a big step downward to third position. This went to Plymouth in 1965 with 16,327. Next came Pontiac at 15,697 (Pontiac was third in 1964).

Others, in this order: Buick, 10,590; Oldsmobile, 10,442; Dodge, 8,481; Volkswagen, 7,593; Mercury, 7,365; Rambler, 7,220; Chrysler, 3,378; Cadillac, 2,238; Lincoln, 456; Imperial, 196; Studebaker, 181; Willys, 143.

SO THIS IS NEW YORK

By NORTH CALLAHAN

People who judge New York by standards which they apply to other American cities are overlooking history. This is more of an international settlement than an American town; and it has been that way since the beginning. First the Dutch were here, some 300 years ago when they obtained a questionable bargain in buying Manhattan for $24. Then the English took over. They had taking ways in those early days, instead of losing their empire, they were building it into the greatest that ever existed. How we came along and removed the 13 colonies from their hands is a familiar and fascinating story. But the people of New York did not, for the most part, even want a Revolution. They were largely for the king, or indifferent much like they are today, with several different interests. This is a melting pot here and when it boils, as James Otis said, "the scum will rise." There is a large, good side to the city too, although sometimes it is hard to see.

A sheriff in the interestingly-named town of Paradise, California recently received a pamphlet in the mail which stated, "Now your town can have a professional riot. Name your cause. We will demonstrate." It was offered by an organization calling itself "Demonstrators, Inc." and added some advice about the offer for instant riot: "Ninety days advance notice will be needed to guarantee spontaneity."

An old and sentimental but worthy passage may well be needed by us all in these eventful times is this: "Love is the only bow on life's dark cloud. It is the morning and the evening star. It shines upon the cradle of the babe, and sheds its radiance upon the silent tomb. It is the mother of art; the inspirer of poet, patriot and philosopher. It is the air and light of every heart, the builder of every home, kinder of every fire on every hearth. It was the first dream of immortality. It fills the world with music, for music is the voice of love."

A frustrated motorist had been trying to pass a huge truck for miles here in the recent great traffic jam. Every time the motorist tried to go around, the truck driver would increase his speed or swerve his big truck toward the middle of the road. Finally at a stop sign, the motorist pulled alongside the truck driver's window. "Well, whatta you want?" growled the driver of the truck. "Nothing important," was the reply. "I know what you are - I merely wanted to see what one looked like!"

The idea that fathers and daughters are not close together is not carried out in the case of Polly Bergen who appears at the Plaza Hotel here as a singer. Polly was born in Knoxville, Tennessee and came by singing easy because her father, although an engineer, had a hobby of folk songs. So she joined him and made her part a professional one, latter doing recordings entitled "Polly and Her Pop". She also lived for a time in Richmond, Indiana and calls that good state home too. Pretty and appealing to large audiences. She has succeeded in radio and television as well.

William Dean Howells first used the term, "installment plan" in 1886. "Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition" was not first used in World War II as the song would indicate but was expressed by Cervantes in "Don Quixote" published in the early 16th century. William Graham Sumner spoke of "the forgotten man" in 1883, and Mark Twain used the term "New Deal" in the "Connecticut Yankee" in 1889.

Senator Jordan Reports:

By SEN. B. EVERETT JORDAN

WASHINGTON — The efforts our government has made to bring about an end to the fighting in Vietnam should show once again that our purpose in that involvement is — as it has been all along — a peaceful settlement based on an end to communist aggression.

Although the aggressors have shown no indication of really wanting peace, our government has made very clear our position and our desire to end the war provided the communists end their invasion.

There is a wide range of opinion throughout the world — just as there is among our own people — about their wisest course to take in dealing with such a situation.

On the one hand, there are many people who feel we should not have become involved in the first place. Some of them even believe that we should withdraw and come home. If we did this, no ally in the Free World could ever depend on our word again.

On the other hand, there are many people who feel we should go all out and wipe the communists off the map with whatever it takes, including nuclear attacks on Communist China. If we recklessly pursued this course, we could bring on World War III and nuclear retaliation on our own people.

The position we have taken is the middle ground between these alternatives, and it is a position we have maintained since the communist guerrillas started their attacks and infiltration into South Vietnam over ten years ago.

I am hopeful that our continuing efforts to spell out our position and our desire for an honorable settlement will bring about a way to peace.

On our initiative, we curtailed systematic bombings. On our own initiative, we have repeatedly told the communists that we want peace and a peaceful settlement. All the communists have to do is let their neighbors alone, and peace can be a reality in Southeast Asia.

I think the biggest contribution our recent peace offensive can make is to demonstrate to the communists that we are not fighting in Vietnam just for the sake of fighting. We have demonstrated that have sufficient military power — and are willing to use it in whatever amount is necessary — to burn back their attacks. But most important of all,

Uncle Dave From Davie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I wasn't paying no attention last Wednesday to the weather but it wouldn't surprise me none if the Groundhog went back in his hole whether he saw his shadow or not. He probable stuck his head out and took a quick look around at some of the goings on and decided to hibernate for the duration. If a newspaper blowed over his hole and he took a look at some of the items I've been reading, he probable packed up Mama Grounding and all the littleuns and headed for the South Seas.

I bring this items up at the country store Saturday night and Clem Webster said he had quit worrying about the Groundhog and had started worrying about wimmen. He reported his old lady announced her Ladies Aid Society had elected a "statistician" at their last meeting. He said fer the life of him he couldn't figger what they wanted with one of them things. He said the only two places he ever knowed they had these varnents was on the payroll of insurance companies and the Government. Leastwise, he allowed, them two was ferever giving out figgers on how many people was getting killed, ways they was libel to get killed, while the Government was using the same figgers to show how many millions was libel to need public aid.

Zeke Grubb broke in to say these figgerheads was marvels. He pointed out they could toll how long you was going to live, how much a baby owed in taxes afore it was borned, and how much taxes it was libel to pay, afore it died.

None of the fellers, Mister Editor, could figger out what a "statistician" would do at a Ladies Aid Society meeting. Ed Doolittle final figgered it out that she would control the static at the discussion about money and projects. If they was anything, allowed Ed, that keeps wimmen raising static it was money, how to get it, and how to spend it.

Bug Hookum was of the opinion they probable added a "statistician" so's everybody would have a title. He claimed wimmen would work a heap harder if they had a title to go with the job. He reported since his old lady was made secretary of her club she ain't been home more'n one day a week.

Personal, Mister Editor, they-ain't no different from the menfolks in this matter. I was reading in the papers where the city manager of some place reported they had been a improvement in the morale of his sanitation department on account of a new listing on the payroll. Everybody, he said, knowed that "maintenance and custodial personnel" gits a heap more work done than plain janitors.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dave

60 Second Sermon

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "Kindness is hard to give away — it keeps coming back to you" — Thomas.

A vegetable peddler smiled happily at the thought his mule was getting a free feed.

"You are a good little girl to be so kind to a dumb animal," he said. "That's all right," said the little girl brightly, "I took the vegetables from the back of your wagon."

We all carry kindness in our own wagons, but too seldom offer it to others. Kindness seems natural to some people and foreign to others. Kind people are poised and unselfish. They are the ones we like and cooperate with. Unkind people are unsure, hurried and selfish. We can and do get along without them.

It is important to realize that anyone who wants to be, can be kind and well-liked. It just means reaching back in the wagon and distributing little gifts of kindness which are waiting there to be used. Being kind is not waiting until one can perform some over-whelming act that creates headlines. Kindness is countless and continual little unselfish acts to strangers, to people in trouble, to those who least expect it. Kindness is a way of life which anyone can attain if he determines to spend more of it than he earns. Try it.

We are demonstrating that we will have peace when the communists want peace and stop their aggressions.

On many occasions, I have stated that history shows very clearly that whatever the conflicts between men and nations may be, sooner or later they must be reconciled and settled by people sitting down together at the conference table. The sooner the communists realize this, the sooner we will have peace.

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

At the regular January meeting of the Davie Soil & Water Conservation District a resolution was adopted to amend the boundary of the district to include town and village lots and government owned or controlled land. This was done in response to requests from landowners and the "Town of Mocksville" who were excluded from the district.

The Resolution adopted "That these excluded lands are affected by the Davie Soil & Water District program in the management and development of the natural resources of the area for the conservation of flood resources, prevention of erosion, flood prevention, disposal of water and the development of water resources. The supervisors respectfully request that the boundary description be rewritten to include all the lands within the bounds of Davie County."

There has been considerable misunderstanding for sometime concerning just who can receive and benefit from the technical services provided by the local Soil & Water Conservation District. The following services are available from various sources, through the District: FARM and RECREATION PLANNING, SOILS MAPPING, SOIL & SITE SELECTION, EROSION CONTROL, DRAINAGE, WATER MANAGEMENT, FORESTRY MANAGEMENT, WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT, CONSULTIVE SERVICE, AND OTHER SERVICES DEALING WITH LAND USE.

The Supervisors adopted an order of priority by which the public will be served as follows: 1st priority . . . farmers, 2nd priority . . . schools, churches, community development, and units of local and State Government, and 4th priority city and urban home or property owners.

In establishing this order of priority, Clay Hunter, Chairman of the board, pointed out that a 4th priority would look mighty fruitless to a city home or property owner. On the other hand during the summer season, a 4th priority could be advanced to a 2nd or 1st priority. All applications to the District are considered. To date all applications have been or are in the process of being serviced.

Glenn Hammer, Clerk of Superior Court gave the oath of office to the following Supervisors: C. W. Phillips; R. F. Blackwelder, Jr., and Hubert A. Bailey. The Term of office is for three years. H. A. Bailey was elected to Board in Regular election. Three members are elected and two are appointed.

Pvt. Ronnie Hellard Assigned To Lejeune

Marine Private Ronnie D. Hellard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny W. Hellard of Route 4, Mocksville, N. C., has graduated from Marine recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot Parris Island, S. C.

During his eight weeks of intensive field recruit under veteran noncommissioned officer Drill Instructors, he learned small arms marksmanship, bayonet fighting, and methods of self-protection, as well as receiving instruction in military drill, history and traditions of the Marine Corps, and other academic subjects.

He has been assigned to Camp Lejeune, N. C. for four weeks of individual combat training and four weeks of basic specialist training in his military occupational field.

Davie and N. C. Exceed Savings Bond Quota

North Carolinians increased their purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds in December by nearly 9 percent over December, 1964.

This brought Bond sales for 1965 to $51,982,87, which was the highest volume of combined Series E and H Bond sales in the past 10 years.

Series E Bond sale totaled $49,981,387 for the year, which was the highest sales for this series since 1947.

While the state was establishing these new records in the sale of U. S. Savings Bonds, it fell short of its 1965 quota of $53,100,000. Sales amounted to nearly 98 percent of the state's quota for last year.

"We are highly pleased with the Savings Bonds sales volume in North Carolina in 1965 and we feel that it is a particularly outstanding record since we were in a most competitive market for the savings dollar," said D. W. Andrews, Jr., Volunteer State Chairman.

"The Savings Bonds Program achieved 100 percent of all its other assignments for last year. In Payroll Savings Plan, and our state continues to be a leader in the amount of support devoted to the Savings Bonds promotion by news and advertising media. Its volunteers are highly regarded by the U. S. Treasury for their dedication and efficiency," Andrews continued.

There were 66 counties which made 100 percent of their annual goal for 1965. Many others came close to 100 percent performance. Mecklenburg County led the state with sales of $6,065,888, followed by Guilford County with $4,407,158 and Forsyth with $4,047,747. In all, there were 12 counties which produced Bond sales in excess of $30,000,000.

Sales in Davie County for December amounted to $21,337, bringing the County's Bond sales total for the year to $279,562, which is 122.4 percent of its annual quota of $228,330.

"It has been a privilege to have been a Bond Chairman for our country and the citizens of Davie county have rallied each year in buying over 100 percent of our annual quota. Let me take this opportunity to say Thank you and I am sure we will do even better in the coming year when our country needs our help even more," said Knox Johnstone, Volunteer Chairman of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program in Davie County.

Library News

New things to report are slightly limited this week because of all that beautiful snow, but work progresses anyway.

More furniture has arrived, much of it for the children's area, and most attractive it is! Chairs to fit the younger children, a wonderful slope top table to hold their books easily while they read, and two benches to go with the table. The smaller children will find it convenient to choose their picture books and remove from the shelves without trouble because of specially designed, low shelves with closely spaced dividers accessible without having a long row of books fall over when one is removed!

More furniture has been placed in the Young Adults' grouping, also. All the bronze memorial plaques are prepared and in place to record donors to the Library Building Fund, thanks to many, many hours of patient and painstaking work given by Mrs. Lester P. Martin, Sr. Mrs. Martin was in touch with each donor to be listed in order to have the plaques expressed exactly according to their wishes. She worked with Mr. Tom Rice, of Advance, in securing and installing the plaques, and they were uniformly located to the right of all areas.

This was an important part of library planning and the library is grateful to Mrs. Martin for this as well as the many other services she renders so willingly.

Insured loans repayable over 33 years are now available from the Farmers Home Administration to build or repair homes.

The colder it gets, the more electricity you use. And the bigger bargain you get.

• It gets dark sooner during winter, so you use more electricity to light your home.

• Your water's colder, so you use more electricity to heat it.

• You use more electricity to warm your home.

• You probably cook more, so you use more electricity in the kitchen.

• And, you use more electricity for your home entertainment.

Though you're buying more electric service for your home, you're paying less for what you get. That's because the more you use, the lower the average cost per kilowatt hour. What's more, this average cost of electricity has decreased 33% in the last twenty years, while the cost of most everything else has reached an all-time high. That's why you get such a bargain with electricity. And an even bigger one in winter.

Ijames Cross Roads

All services at Ijames Cross Roads were again canceled last Sunday. The stork shower for Mrs. W. H. Blackwelder which was to have been held last Saturday night has been canceled. Mrs. Blackwelder invites everyone to visit her when the weather improves. The stork and the weather are running a close race and as of now, it is anyone's guess as to which will be the winner. Mrs. Agnes White spent one day last week at the Doctor's Building in Charlotte undergoing more allergy tests.

Ronnie Galther is spending the week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Chaffin. Miss Shirley Prevette and Leander Privette of Fork, visited Miss Cynthia Prevette Sunday. Cynthia is still improving from a tonsillotomy. Visiting Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Goble last week were: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Goble, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Goble, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goble and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Rice, all of Clemmons. Mrs. Goble is still improving and is able to be up a few hours each day.

G. I. Loan Privilege To Expire In 1967

World War II veterans have just a year and a half left to obtain GI guaranteed or insured loans. H. W. Johnson, Acting Manager of the North Carolina VA Regional Office, pointed out today.

Deadline for World War II eligibility is July 25, 1967, he said. Eligibility has been expiring for World War II veterans according to a formula that adds ten years to the date of their last discharge from active wartime service plus one year for each 90 days of that service. The date reached by this formula is the individual deadline date for each veteran.

This eligibility has already expired for many World War II veterans but the July 25, 1967, deadline terminates the program for all of them, even though the formula would give a longer period of eligibility. Johnson said veterans who were discharged for a service-connected disability will be eligible until the final termination date of July 25, 1967; this also applies to widows of veterans who died of service-connected disabilities.

Those eligible may obtain a guaranteed loan to purchase a home, a farm or to buy or start a business. The formula for determining the length of time Korean Conflict veterans will be eligible for GI loans is the same as for World War II veterans. However, Korean Conflict entitlement did not begin to expire until January 31, 1965, and the final deadline date is January 31, 1975.

Korean Conflict veterans discharged for service-connected disabilities and widows of Korean Conflict veterans who died from such disabilities may take advantage of the final 175 deadline, Johnson said. He pointed out that a veteran's loan cannot be guaranteed unless the loan application is received by the VA before the veteran's eligibility expires.

Loan applications are ordinarily sent to the VA by lenders. The veteran, therefore, should see that his loan application reaches the VA before his entitlement expires. An application for a Certificate of Eligibility is not a loan application, Johnson warned.

Assistance Offered To Displaced Persons

I-40 Construction In 3 Projects

The State Highway Commission has prepared plans for the construction of Interstate 40 through Davie County.

Three advertisement notices appear in this issue of the Enterprise-Record concerning assistance to persons that may be displaced as a result of the location of the highway.

A portion of these notices state: "In acquiring right of way it is anticipated that some families will be displaced by the demolition or removal of buildings. The Commission as a public service is prepared to give relocation advisory assistance to the families so displaced."

"All families affected by construction of this project will be mailed notices and personally contacted regarding information on relocation, advisory assistance, and reimbursement for the moving of personal property. Business concerns will be contacted regarding the reimbursement of moving expenses."

The State Highway Commission Relocation Advisory Office is located at 2125 Cloverdale Avenue, Winston-Salem and is open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily.

The proposed construction for I-40 is in three projects:

1. From the intersection of I-40 and US 64 in Iredell County east to the Iredell-Davie line.
2. Southwest of State Road 1147, northeast 7.15 miles to a point northeast of US 601.
3. A route east of US 601, north of Mocksville, northeast connecting with I-40 at Hillsdale.

Dyson Named Dog Warden

R. Clyde Dyson of Mocksville has been named as Dog Warden for Davie County.

The appointment of Mr. Dyson to this position was announced this week by H. R. Hendrix, Jr., chairman of the board of county commissioners. Mr. Dyson will assume his duties as of July 1st this year.

The Town of Mocksville will construct a dog pound and the County of Davie will maintain and operate the program.

Mr. Hendrix announced that full details on the program are now being worked out and will be announced later.

Seized Copper Stills Are Sold For Scrap

Davie County was richer this week.

Six copper stills which have been confiscated by the Davie County Sheriff's Department over a period of time were chopped to pieces Monday.

The stills had been in storage in the basement at the county jail. The chopped-up stills were hauled off to a local scrap dealer this morning and proceeds are to be turned back into the county's treasurer.

Impediments Have Been Overcome

Broyhill Sees Watershed Approval

Commenting in Washington on the Dutchman's Creek Watershed Project, Congressman James T. Broyhill expressed optimism that the flood-control project long sought for Davie County is about to receive final consideration.

According to the Ninth District Congressman, impediments that have blocked final action by the Federal government have been overcome and the project is "back on the track." All Federal agencies whose approval must be obtained have given their concurrence, Broyhill said, and the question now rests with the Bureau of the Budget and the Agriculture Committee of the House of Representatives and the Senate. The prospects for final approval are regarded as excellent.

"The delay," Congressman Broyhill explained, "resulted from unexpected action by the Army's Corps of Engineers in 1964 whereby the Corps withheld its approval until the long term study of water developments in the Yadkin-Pee Dee basin

Mocksville Value Days!

Open House At Fire Station

The Mocksville Volunteer Fire Department held open house Sunday afternoon for its new fire station on Sanford Avenue in Mocksville. Approximately 250 people attended, took the conducted tours and enjoyed doughnuts and coffee.

The new fire station, designed for the future, houses two fire trucks and all the equipment. A two story building, it contains facilities for sleeping quarters, a classroom, kitchen, shower and toilet facilities, office for chief and secretary and large storage areas.

Mocksville Volunteer Firemen conducted the visits through the building and the children enjoyed a slide down the pole from the upper story to the bottom floor.

Mayor Mando welcomed the guest and members of the town board participated in the proceedings.

Andrew Lagle is Fire Chief. There are 25 members of the local department.

Rotarians Given Hospital Report

An operational report on the Davie County Hospital was given to members of the Mocksville Rotary Club on Tuesday by Paul Neil, Jr., Administrator.

Mr. Neil told the Rotarians that the American Appraisal Company, that appraises hospitals for 13 states, termed the local institution as "one of the best equipped hospitals we have ever seen". They appraised the equipment for the local hospital at $360 per bed when normally $300 is considered very good.

"The overall appraisal value for the hospital was more than the actual cost", said Mr. Neil.

Mr. Neil told the Rotarians that in increasing from 30 to 59 beds, the full-time employees at the hospital increased from 63 to 83. Of this number, only ten are from without the county, seven of whom are registered nurses.

The payroll for 1964-65 was $232,000, with total expenditures being $373,000.

"The charity load during the past year has also doubled", said Mr. Neil.

Mr. Neil said that 31.7 percent of the patients entering the hospital had Blue Cross insurance; 30.6 had other commercial insurance; and 5.2% were classified as government welfare patients.

Ted Junker presided in the absence of President Bryan Sell. Special guests included Gene Junker of Salisbury and Ben Baxter of Columbia, S. C.

Smith Grove P. T. A.

Smith Grove P. T. A. will meet Tuesday, February 15 at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium. Guest speaker will be Bill Hall. Members are urged to attend this meeting.

The Discount House To Open In Mocksville

Opening within the next week will be the Discount House at 137 A, Salisbury Street, in Mocksville.

This new store, to be operated by R. C. Smith, Jr., will carry ladies' apparel, men's apparel, children's apparel, infants wear, toys, dinnerware, houseware, and a large assortment of dress fabric and sewing accessories. The store will be open six days a week, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. each day except Saturday, closing at 6 p. m. on that day.

Mr. Smith said that other items and departments will be added later. The store will be in the building formerly occupied by Junker Bros. Furniture Company next to Mocksville Home and auto supply.

Mr. Smith said that an advertisement proclaiming the opening and setting out various values would appear in next week's issue of this newspaper.

Mr. Smith will continue to be associated with the S & L Drapery Company.

License Deadline

The deadline for display of 1966 North Carolina license plates will be at midnight next Tuesday, February 15th.

Independent Companies Serving Area

Telephone Agencies Plan Expansion

North Carolina's 30 independent telephone companies plan expansion programs totaling more than $55 million during 1966, Robert Strouse, president of the state's Independent Telephone Association said today.

The proposed amount exceed last year's investments by $10 million, he added. In 1965 the privately operated firms invested $45 million for plant additions and expansions.

Strouse said the expansion programs "are in keeping with the rapid industrialization and business development of the geographical areas served by our members." Members of the Independent Telephone Association are companies whose operations are confined to North Carolina.

Strouse pointed out that the independent companies now serve the majority of North Carolinians. He said 54.7 per cent of the state's population were served by independent firms in 1965.

In summarizing 1965's developments, Strouse said:

—Independent telephone companies covered 77.8 per cent of the state's area.

—The 30 firms operated 45.3 per cent of the telephones in North Carolina. That amounted to 697,837 telephones.

—Operating revenues were more than $80 million.

—Payrolls for the 5,703 persons employed were nearly $28.7 million. The independent firms paid $16.4 million in taxes during 1964. State and local taxes amounted to $6.8 million while federal taxes were $9.6 million.

—Telephones in the areas served by independent companies increased 406 per cent between 1950 and 1965. The number of exchanges served increased 20.5 per cent during the same period, Strouse said.

The independent telephone industry's construction programs in 1966 are expected to include: Barnardsville Telephone Co., Barnardsville, $6,500; Carolina Telephone & Telegraph Co., Tarboro, $7,000,000; Central Telephone Co., Hickory, $5,123,000; Citizens Telephone Co., Breward, $350,000; Concord Telephone Co., Concord, $1,750,000; Cooleemee Telephone Co., Cooleemee, $25,000; Denton Telephone Co., Denton, $50,000; Eastern Rowan

Davie Schools Are Toured

The Davie County Citizens Committee for Better Schools toured the county's schools on Wednesday in a first-hand inspection. The committee was formed on January 20th. The 41-member committee was authorized by the Davie County Board of Education to investigate and counsel the board on school building needs and supplementary salaries for teachers.

Knox Johnstone was elected chairman during the committee's organizational meeting last month at which time it was decided to tour the county's schools so members could become familiar with each plant.

Not The Same Man

Fred L. Foster of 512 E. Maple Avenue, Mocksville has requested that we announce that he is not the Fred Foster whose name has been appearing in the Davie County Court docket.

Saturday School

Davie County students have five more days to makeup due to days lost because of the recent snows. Superintendent James Everidge said that county students missed six days of school but one day was made up last Saturday, leaving five additional days.

These days will be made up by attending two future Saturday sessions, one day during the Easter holidays, and two days at the end of school.

Easter holidays previously were scheduled for a Friday and Monday. The superintendent said today that students will attend classes on Friday to make up one day, still taking off Easter Monday. However, students will make up one day on the Saturday following Easter Monday giving them still a five-day school week.

School previously was scheduled to be dismissed for the summer on May 25. Two days will have to be made up at the end of the year, throwing dismissal date to May 27.

Project Request For $84,385.07 Is Funded

Elementary School Project Approved

Davie County Schools received notice of approval of a project submitted under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

The project was entitled "An Instructional Improvement Program for the Economically and Educationally Deprived Children of the Davie County Schools".

The project request for $84,385.07 has been funded and will be used to provide additional personnel, increase instructional supplies, and secure more audio-visual equipment and materials for schools qualifying under this Title.

Federal guidelines required that schools be qualified on the basis of both number and percentage of economically deprived children attending the school. Schools qualified under this project are: Central Davie Elementary, Cooleemee, North Cooleemee, Farmington, Mocksville, and William R. Davie.

Open notification of approval of the project, Superintendent James E. Everidge commented:

"The approval of this project will mean a tremendous boost to our elementary school programs. It will provide us with needed personnel, equipment, and materials. As an example we can now increase our supply of educational films for these students from 7 to 200. We can provide some secretarial assistance and teacher aides for our elementary schools."

Arthur M. Upshaw has been elected as chairman of the board of trustees of the Davie County Hospital. He succeeds Graham R. Madison who has resigned after serving for six years in this position. Mr. Madison will remain on the board of trustees.

Mr. Upshaw was elected to this position by the board of trustees in a meeting held Monday evening. Other officers elected were as follows:

C. D. Jamerson, vice-chairman
Ted L. Junker, treasurer.
Mrs. Helen Wilson, secretary.

Other members of the board of trustees include: Eugene Vogler of Advance; James E. Essie of Advance Rt. 1; Claude Cartner of Mocksville Rt. 1; Herman Brewer of Mocksville Rt. 2; Mrs. Brook Martin of Mocksville; V. G. Prim of Cooleemee; C. F. Barnhardt of Fork.

Mr. Upshaw, assistant general manager of the Mocksville Feed Mills, Inc., has been on the board of trustees for the past three years and has served in the position of vice-chairman. A native of Guilford County, Mr. Upshaw and family moved to Mocksville in 1955 when he joined the Mocksville Feed Mills as sales manager.

He is a member of the First Methodist Church and is charge lay-leader. He has formerly served as chairman of the board of stewards and chairman of the commission on education. He is a member of the Mocksville Rotary Club and has served on the Mocksville Recreation Commission.

Car Inspection Stations Listed

The statewide vehicle safety inspection program will go into effect on February 16th.

Service stations and garages in Davie County that have been licensed to conduct the vehicle inspection are as follows:

- Carter's Sinclair Service
- Shorty York Sinclair Service
- Pennington Chevrolet Company
- Reavis Motor Company
- Furches Motor Company
- Mocksville Chrysler-Plymouth
- Harold's Shell Service

Several Wrecks Occur In County

Wrecks investigated over last weekend by the State Highway Patrol were as follows:

Two cars collided on US 158 last Friday around 3:45 p. m. Involved was a 1965 Ford operated by Wilburn Ernest Newsome, 55, of Winston-Salem, and a 1964 Rambler operated by John David Ralledge, 26, of Mocksville Rt. 2. State Highway Patrolman R. L. Hanson said that his investigation showed that Ralledge had stopped behind a line of cars and a school bus. Newsome came over the crest of a hill and skidded 35-feet and struck the Ralledge car in the rear, sliding sideways into a ditch.

There was an accident around 9:10 a. m. last Saturday on US 601 South just outside the town limits of Mocksville. State Highway Patrolman R. L. Hanson said that Walter Lee Roberts, 46, of Salisbury was operating a 1953 Ford and was heading south. The vehicle swerved to the left across the highway, into a ditch and overturned.

A 1963 Pontiac sideswiped a 1964 Oldsmobile around 9:50 a. m. last Saturday on US 153, 9-miles north of Mocksville. Harold William Hartley, 42, of Lenoir was operating the Olds, and Charles Junior Hepler, 64, of Mocksville Rt. 3, was operating the Pontiac. State Highway Patrolman R. L. Hanson said that his investigation showed that the car operated by Hepler was heading south on US 153, crossed into the left lane, sideswiped the Hartley car, and went sideways into the right ditch. Damage to the Oldsmobile was estimated at $200 and to the Pontiac $400.

Knox Dillard, Jr. was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and driving while license was revoked following a wreck last Saturday around 7:45 a. m. on the Campbell Road, a quarter of a mile out of Mocksville. Also involved was a 1965 Mustang operated by Julius Edward Sullter, 23, of Mocksville. State Highway Patrolman R. L. Hanson said that his investigation showed that Dillard, operating a 1968 Chevrolet was heading towards Mocksville on the Boeotown Road. Dillard swerved his car onto the right shoulder, then went across to the left shoulder and struck two parked cars. Dillard then allegedly jumped out and ran leaving the scene of the accident. He was apprehended 30-minutes later. Damage to the Dillard vehicle was estimated at $400; to the Sullter vehicle was $300; and to a 1963 Chevrolet owned by William Carter Packer, Jr., $50.

A 1965 Volkswagen rolled last Sunday around 12 noon on US 601, 6-miles north of Mocksville. The car was operated by Jack Randall Cave, 26, of Mocksville Rt. 3. State Highway Patrolman R. L. Hanson said that Cave passed another vehicle, pulled back to the right lane and ran off on soft shoulder with rear wheel, swerving to the left and overturned in roadway, landing back ditch striking mailbox, damage to the car was estimated at $1600.

Two persons were injured and were treated at the Davie County Hospital last Saturday following a wreck on US 158, 8-miles east of Mocksville, around 8 p. m. Injured were James Brian Marlowe, age 7-months and Alice Faye Marlowe, age 18, both of Kernersville. The wreck involved a collision between a 1962 Pontiac operated by Dean Lewtharpe Rash, 24, of Statesville Rt. 4, and a 1960 Ford operated by Wade Rex Marlowe, 22, of Kernersville Rt. 2. State Highway Patrolman John Pittman said that Rash was heading west and the Marlowe vehicle was going east. Patrolman Pittman said that his investigation showed that Rash pulled out to pass a vehicle and was meeting the Marlowe vehicle. Marlowe seeing the approaching car pulled off the road to the right. Rash applied brakes and went into a skid with the left rear of his car hitting the other car in the right front. Damage to the 1962 Pontiac was estimated at $200. Damage to the 1960 Ford was estimated at $400. Rash was charged with improper passing.

Conservation Beautiful

by RAY E. HOLLOWELL

As a result of current emphasis on beautification from the National, state, and local levels, all Americans are becoming more conscious of a form of beauty, which we can all share, and this is the beauty of the nation's landscape. We are also becoming acutely aware of the fact that much ugliness exists because we have often been careless in the use of land. In fact, we have been guilty of much outright abuse. This abuse has resulted in complete destruction of much good land and major damage to a lot more. To tell the truth, we are still at it.

The fact is, with careful planning, much of this could have been, and in the future, must be avoided. Also, much of the ugliness already existing can be treated so that instead of bare, eroded, muddy and silt-producing land, we could enjoy the beauty of a blanket of green grass, attractive shrubs, trees or even flowers. Lakes and streams, now polluted with silt, would be clear where good conservation treatment is applied.

Although they had not thought much about it before, conservationists have always realized that the treatment of land to prevent erosion also resulted in its being pretty to look at. They now realize that this is like having your cake and eating it, too. We save the soil for future use while making it a thing of beauty for all to enjoy at the same time.

Clay Hawter, J. L. Smith, C. W. Phillips, B. F. Blackwelder and H. A. Bailey, Supervisor of the Davie Soil and Water Conservation District, are very proud of what the District cooperators in their District have accomplished in soil and water conservation and beautification already this fiscal year.

As of January 15, 1966, 5000 feet of grass field border strips have been planted, 4 acres of grassed waterways (sometimes called meadow strips) have been established, 90 acres of strip cropping have been established, and 520 acres of pastures have been planted. These are only a few of the conservation practices that have been done in this District so far this year.

In addition to practices applied, 16 District Cooperators have developed complete plans to carry out conservation measures on their farms. Fourteen landowners have signed application and agreements requesting technical assistance in developing plans for their farms. These applications are considered by the Board of Supervisors at their regular monthly meetings. If approved, these landowners become cooperators with the District, and technicians from the Soil Conservation Service will assist them with the development of conservation plans tailored to fit the needs of the land and the man. 258 Landowners received service in the first half of the fiscal year.

During the past 6 months 89,660 acres of waterways, 700 acres of strip cropping, and 3400 acres of pastures have been established on District Cooperators' farms in Area Three of Soil Conservation Service, which includes Alamance, Caswell, Davidson, Davie, Forsyth, Guilford, Randolph, Rockingham, Rowan, and Stokes counties. Also, 230 new conservation plans have been written and 240 new cooperators approved. This represents a lot of conservation in this northern piedmont area, but not nearly enough.

Albert McDowell, breaking and entering, be confined to jail, to be released for work Monday through Friday until he pays $10 damage and cost.

John Chambers, failure to cause children to attend school, prayer for judgment continued.

Car Crosses Three Yards, Stops On Front Porch

A car ran amuck Monday afternoon on Wakesboro Street and ran across three yards, coming to rest on the front porch of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fowler.

Mocksville Chief of Police described the accident as happening this way: Mrs. Emily Blackwood, 47, of 421 Salisbury Street was driving a 1962 Chevrolet owned by her employer, Dr. Victor L. Andrews. She had been to the drug store for several cups of fountain drinks which were on the seat beside her.

Heading west, returning to the office, she was following a truck which suddenly slowed down. Mrs. Blackwood applied brakes and when he did the drinks fell to the floor. Reaching to pickup the drinks, the car strayed across the road, hit a hole on the side of the road. Mrs. Blackwood made a stab with her foot to hit the brakes but her foot hit the accelerator and the car jumped into overdrive and shot across the yards.

Crossing the yard of C. H. Tomlinson the car sideswiped a small tree, it then crossed the yard of Henry Poplin doing some damage to the shrubbery, then across driveway, through a fence, coming to a stop on the front porch of Mr. and Mrs. Fowler. The car was out of control for 234 feet after leaving pavement.

Mrs. Blackwood was not injured. The damage to the car was extensive and there was some damage to the yards and property.

Retarded Children Meeting Is Thursday

Davie County Association for Retarded children will meet Thursday evening, February 10, at 7:30 in the county office building. Charles J. Wells, County Supervisor for Davie County Schools will be present to talk informally and answer questions about the county school board plans for giving all retarded children an opportunity for as much education and training as they are able to assimilate. At present there are only two special education classes in the county for educable retarded.

The Association, through its president, Mrs. Emer Zimmerman wishes to thank all the citizens of the county who contributed over four hundred and fifty dollars during their November fund drive. The County Association was able to pay their state assessment in addition to regular dues and to contribute twenty-five dollars to each of the special education classes through the school principals, and to buy a regulation kindergarten table and chairs for the supervised playschool being conducted at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jones in Advance.

It is now time to renew membership in the association and dues for 1966 are being collected. Dues are $2.00 a year and may be paid by mail. Mrs. C. M. Anderson of Rt. 2, Advance is treasurer and the association's box number is 163, Mocksville.

The last time they met, which was a week ago last Saturday, North Carolina State carried Duke, the nation's Number One team, right down to the wire before finally giving up an 84-77 victory. That game was played in Durham. Duke had been out of action for two weeks prior to the game because of exams, and State had played poorly three days before in losing to Tennessee. So poorly, in fact, had the Wolfpack played that Head Coach Press Maravich found it necessary to shake-up his starting lineup, and I thought football coaches were the only ones driven to doing things like that. Whatever the reason, it almost paid off as state's pressing defense forced the Blue Devils into numerous errors. But down the stretch, Duke toughened up, especially Jack Marin whose outside shooting defies description, and the Blue Devils were able to pull out the victory which both maintained their high national ranking and protected their ACC leadership.

Now they meet again. The date is

Thursday night, and the site is Reynolds Coliseum in Raleigh. The place is complete sellout, but regional television cameras will be there thus allowing a lot more folks to see what should be a "thriller." Pretty much the same situation existed last year only Duke was not Number One. Between now and Thursday Duke has to play at West Virginia against former Duke Assistant Bucky Waters, but barring any disasters such as an upset or a change of heart by the nation's best. Last year after losing by ten at Durham the Wolfpack lost by eleven at Raleigh, but Coach Press Maravich hopes to dissolve any similarity between last year and this week's game. A lot of folks agree that the wolfpack stands an excellent chance of helping Kentucky become the nation's Number One team by this time next week. Thursday night will tell the tale. The game will be telecast "live" on Channel Two, starting at 8:00 p. m.

Mose ACC basketball on Channel 2 this weekend finds South Carolina facing Wake Forest Saturday at 2:00.

Miss Upshaw Will Try For Scholarship

Miss Susan Upshaw is among the 212 candidates nominated by their high schools throughout the state, 12 young women will be chosen on March 4 and 5 at University of North Carolina at Greensboro for the Katharine Smith Reynolds Scholarships, each with a $4,000 four-year value.

The scholarship central committee met at UNC-G Wednesday with district chairmen to receive the information folders on the nominees. The nominees will now be screened to select two from each district for interviews at the March meeting of the central committee.

Miss Sadye Dunn, UNC-G dean of women, is chairman of the central committee.

In addition to the 11 district scholars to be chosen, one will be a chemistry scholar from Forsyth, Stokes, or Surry county.

The scholarships were established in 1962 by the Zachary Smith Reynolds Foundation of Winston-Salem in honor of the wife of the founder for the Reynolds Tobacco Company. Mrs. Reynolds was an alumna of Woman's College, predecessor to UNC-G.

Each scholarship is for $1,200 annually and is renewable. Davis is included in District 9.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED . . . Mr. and Mrs. Claude M. Boger announce the engagement of their daughter, Claudia Dale, to Jerry Lynn Arrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Arrington of Winston-Salem. A Davie County High School graduate, Miss Boger is employed by the Hosiery Division of Hanes Corporation. Mr. Arrington, a North Forsyth High School graduate, is undergoing basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. A summer wedding is planned at Liberty Methodist Church.

The scene is at the Mocksville Police Station. The telephone rings. Chief of Police Joe Foster answers and a voice says: "Will you come down here. A woman just ran across my front porch . . . this is Mrs. Fowler!"

Chief Foster hangs up the phone and is immediately on his way. However, it is not until he is on his way that he realizes he doesn't know what to expect. Mrs. Fowler had just said: "A woman ran across my front porch!"

On arrival he found that Mrs. Fowler's description was literally true . . . A woman in a car had run across her front porch!

Mrs. Gladys Allison is active in the Woman's Society of Christian Service . . . more often referred to as WSCS.

However, she shocked some friends recently when telling of something she had seen on WSCS television she came out with: "I saw that on WSCS!"

Members of the Mocksville Town Board could be seen sliding down the firemen's pole at the new fire station Sunday afternoon . . . that is all but one. Gilmer Hartley could not be persuaded by his colleagues that it was the thing to do and so stood back and watched as Roy Collette, Dr. Clyde Young, Ed Latta, O. K. Pope and Mayor Mando took their turns with their legs wrapped around the pole.

They tell this on a minister who is also an avid golfer. Playing back before the bad weather set in this "man of the cloth" and one of his members were having a "pretty good game". However, according to his partner, his pastor was having more than his share of just plain old luck.

On one hole . . . the minister hit a good chip shot towards the green and stood with rapt enchantment following the ball in flight. A hard-shell terrapin was crossing right in front of the green and balled on this hard shell . . . bounded towards the flagstick and dropped in the hole.

This caused the minister to look skyward as he intoned: "Please . . . Lord! I'd rather do it myself!"

Then there was the local store manager that was telling one of his associates about a lunch he had just enjoyed: "I ate a big bowl of pinto beans full of chopped onions," he said. "Mmmm . . . sounds good!" said the listener.

Students Are Cited For School Work

Three Davie County students at North Carolina State University are among the students there that have been cited for outstanding academic work. Chancellor John T. Caldwell has announced.

Chancellor Caldwell said the students have been named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the fall semester for obtaining a "B" or better average for all their coursework.

The students are: Harold D. Blackwelder, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Blackwelder, Route No. 2, Herbert M. Jacobs, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Jacobs, Coolemece and Karen M. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smith, Route No. 1, Mocksville.

FARM AND RURAL

The Farm and Rural 4-H Club had its monthly meeting January 28 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crofts.

President, Vickie Crofts, called the meeting to order. We had the pledges and songs and then the roll call with 18 members and 1 visitor.

For new business we decided to appoint certain people to have the refreshments and devotions for the following months of the year; February 3, the County Council Meeting; long-time record books; different show and contest; and we appointed Nan Sue Angell to keep a 4-H Scrapbook.

Old business consisted of seeing who got their record books and who hadn't.

Pam Crofts had the program on "Manners and How To Make Friends". The meeting was then adjourned and everyone enjoyed an enjoyable games and refreshments.

BAILEY'S CHAPEL

The Bailey's Chapel 4-H Club held its regular monthly meeting January 10, 1966 at 7:00 p. m. The meeting was called to order by Faith Barnes. The devotions and pledges were led by Jimmy Wilson. The song "Into My Heart" was led by Cathy Barnes. The new business was on our new projects. Mr. Ervin Hepler came and gave a program on Gun Safety. He told us how dangerous a gun could be and how they could be helpful if you could handle the gun. He showed us several kinds of guns and how they were used. The refreshments were cookies and kool-aid served by Brenda and Sue Barnes.

Hyperbaric Chamber Treatment Of Heart Attack Described

CHAPEL HILL — The horror of President Kennedy's assassination overshadowed the tragic death a few months earlier of his newborn son, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy.

Yet many will remember that featured in the fight to save that baby's life was a so-called hyperbaric chamber, a large steel cylinder in which attempts were made to force pressurized oxygen past the membrane that encased his lungs.

This marked the first public awareness of the hyperbaric chamber, yet within medical research circles there has been a growing excitement and belief that such chambers may soon come to play a major role in the treatment of heart ailments.

The Third International Conference on Hyperbaric Oxygenation, held at Duke University Medical Center a few weeks ago under joint auspices of the National Heart Institute and the North Carolina Heart Association, further aroused interest of North Carolinians in hyperbaric chambers.

What is a hyperbaric chamber? How does it work? Why does it help the heart after an attack or during surgery?

A typical unit large enough to hold a human patient and his attendants (there are perhaps a dozen such no win experimental use, including one at Duke University Medical Center, at Durham) somewhat resembles a cross between a steam boiler and a submarine.

It is built to withstand tremendous internal pressures—up to 100 pounds per square inch, seven times the normal atmospheric pressure at sea level, and equal to the pressure on a submarine's hull 225 feet below the surface of the sea.

For medical use, the pressure within the chamber would be raised to three atmospheres—45 pounds per square inch.

This is sufficient to increase the oxygen-carrying capacity of the blood and to force so much oxygen into solution in the body's fluids and tissues that the patient would become literally super-saturated with the life-sustaining gas.

The usefulness of hyperbaric chambers in heart attacks now become clearer.

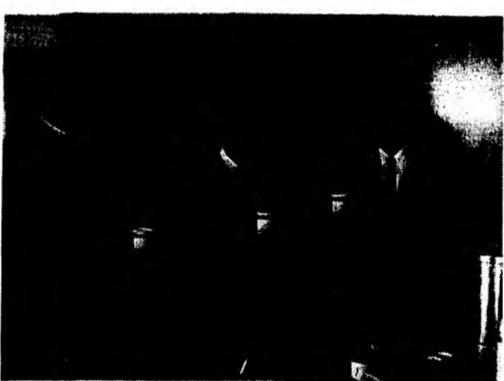

Such an attack results from the damming off of a coronary artery that supplies blood to the heart muscle. All too often a large section of the muscle beyond the dam—deprived of its blood-carried oxygen—dies, and the victim either expires or is seriously crippled.

The best hope such a patient has is that the smaller vessels supplying the deprived area of muscle with lesser quantities of blood will expand sufficiently to keep the tissues alive.

The thought is—an animal experiment has proved it sound—that the coronary victim would be rushed inside a pressure chamber as quickly as possible after the attack.

There the pressure would be raised three-fold and he would be given 100 per cent oxygen to breathe. The dying muscle tissue would be saturated with the oxygen and—hopefully, another life would be saved.

Research surgeons at the San Francisco Veterans Administration Hospital, basing their predictions on the hyperbaric treatment of animals, have estimated that the technique would increase five-fold the individual's chance of surviving an attack. Duke University Medical Center has actually used its chamber successfully on a human heart attack victim.

Other research groups expect that the chamber, turned into a high-pressure operating room, will permit surgeons to perform much more intricate and longer procedures on the open heart.

The super-saturation of the tissues will permit the blood supply to be cut off for extended periods while surgery on a bloodless heart is in progress. Even more effective would be a combination of high oxygen pressure and hypothermia (cooling of the patient's body), which slows cellular metabolism, and hence the use of oxygen.

The development of these chambers represents further evidence that, while the search for the cause and cure of heart diseases goes on unabated, heart researchers have not forgotten those who may not be able to wait.

Church Activities

FIRST BAPTIST

Rev. Fred D. Barnes and several members of the church attended the State Evangelistic Conference held in Greensboro, February 7-9 in the War Memorial Coliseum there.

custodial care. Extended care could be given in a separate wing of a hospital or in a specialized nursing home.

The hospital insurance plan will pay for 100 days of care in an extended care facility during a spell of illness. The program will pay all the costs for the first 20 days and all but $5 a day for the next 80 days.

After the patient returns home, he can obtain up to 100 post-hospital home health visits by physical therapists, visiting nurses, or other home health aides.

People who have questions about Medicare or who want more information should write or phone the Salisbury social security office at 105 Corriher Avenue. The telephone number is 633-6470. In addition to regular weekday hours, that office is also open on Saturday mornings from 8:00 to 12:00 during February and March.

Farmington PTA Has Regular Meeting

The Farmington P. T. A. met Monday night Feb. 7 at 7:30 in the school auditorium with the president Mrs. Johnny Sparks presiding. Rev. Taylor Loflin, pastor of Macedonia Moravian church gave a very interesting devotion.

For the program James Everidge, Supt. of Davie Co. Schools, spoke on what we are doing in our schools in the county and also the new proposed program for our schools, he also reminded us that 7 of the 11 school buildings in the county were over 40 years old.

Room count was won by Mrs. Woodrow Howell's room.

Refreshments were served in the lunch room at the close of the meeting.

SO THIS IS NEW YORK By NORTH CALLAHAN

Just 180 years ago, we did not even have title to New York City and there are those today who would have the burg revert to its early status. General George Washington had up and scurried his ragged and nondescript army down from Boston where he had scared off the British with captured artillery lugged mightily from Ticonderoga by sturdy Henry Knox and his men. But the battle for New York was of a different color. British General Billy Howe may have been more fond of women than war but he managed to bring up the largest band of red coats in history, who proceeded to scare the Americans. These latter must have been the original Brooklyn dodgers, for they fled from Howe and company, across Manhattan in utter fright, with Washington so raving mad at their cowardice that he was himself almost killed from exposing himself so much to the enemy. The patriots ran like rabbits and did not stop until they reached Harlem Heights. And then if Billy Howe had not stopped to dally at a lady's house for tea, he could have won the war right there. But as we know, the great American leader went on to win in New Jersey and later in the Carolinas and Virginia and then went on to become the greatest figure in our history, for whom our beautiful national capital is named. Even so, he remembered New York now and then—as does LBJ.

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM OUR RALEIGH BUREAU
2615 Oberlin Road

TO THE SHELTER! . . . The recent report here of exciting goings-on deep in the bowels of the new State Building under construction near the Legislative Building attracted right much attention.

For one thing, it develops that the Governor's Mansion has had—though not much has been said about it—a bomb shelter in the deepest parts of its underground since Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hodges lived there.

Matters being as they are in certain quarters, Gov. Dan Moore no doubt feels he should take up permanent residence in his bomb shelter.

But, even then, no doubt there would be complaints. No peace wanted.

BETTER ACQUAINTED . . . There were lifted eyebrows all over the place last year when Gov. Dan Moore appointed able Wayne Corpening of Winston-Salem as his special assistant in farm affairs.

With a walking-talking farmer, Jim Graham, as new Agriculture Commissioner, and more agricultural experts out over the State already than you could shake a stick at, the feeling was that Gov. Moore had been sold the wrong bill of goods on Graham.

It was felt in Raleigh that somebody somewhere—and the finger pointed at a big institution in Winston-Salem—had it in for the hard-working, conscientious Agriculture Commissioner. Mainly, because he doesn't kowtow to anybody. We were unable to check out the Winston-Salem rumor . . . Anyhow, as Corpening went about his work, doing the best job possible, Agriculture Commissioner Graham—although a 1964 Terry Sanford appointee—got in good licks for Governor Moore where he could. Reports are that Graham has been of tremendous help to the Governor, particularly in Council of State meetings.

This assistance probably came as a pleasant surprise to Gov. Moore. He and Graham have hit it off very, very well.

And the bit of dark cloud which hung over their new friendship disappeared a few days ago when Wayne Corpening was promoted to another post. . . . This new position will work to coordinate the operations of the Department of Administration with Conservation and Development and one or two other agencies.

It is an important assignment—with tremendous possibilities . . . for Corpening.

JUST HIS NOSE . . . On two or three occasions, news reporters and some other close friends of Dr. Henry Jordan have urged him to run for high public office.

The Scott crowd in 1952 came within an inch of peeringing Dr. Jordan, who was Kerr Scott's Highway Commission Chairman to run for Governor. He has come fairly close to making the race a time or two since then. But—he hasn't been in the most robust health; and so each time has decided against it.

Back in January, when he came to Raleigh when his brother U. S. Sen. Everett Jordan, filed for reelection, one of the reporters saw him at the State Board of Elections office. He was asked if he was going to run for something.

You know how it has been in this cold weather . . . can't keep your nose or eyes dry. Dr. Jordan replied, giving his face a good swipe with his handkerchief: "The only thing running about me is my nose."

Which reminded bystanders of the title to an utterly non-sensical hill-billy tune in the top ten of its class: "May the Bird of Paradise Fly Up Your Nose".

ON THE CIRCUIT . . . You people who have been following—"reading after" is the term used hereabouts—Chub Seawell of Carthage all these years since he fell out with the GOP will be glad to know he has now become a professional after-dinner speaker. Apparently much in demand, too.

He and WRAL commentator, Jesse Helms, and one or two others, are being booked by David Witherspoon, Witherspoon, active in musical and theatrical circles here for a long time, is a native of Harmony, in Iredell County—as, also, is Harry Galton, who is doing such a wonderful job for the N. C. Bankers Association. It is indeed nice that these men are from such an appropriate place, for David sings in it; and Harry walks in it—with everybody.

PLENTY ALREADY . . . No foot-wear coming out in recent years has been better advertised than Hush Puppies. But to many a good Southerner hush puppies are nothing more, or less, than delicious morsels of cornbread to be eaten piping hot right out of the deep fat.

This Raleigh lady went by Hudson-Belk's a few weeks ago and ordered a special pair of Hush Puppies.

Last Friday afternoon, the store called their customer's home. The lady's mother-in-law answered the phone. Said the store: "Please tell Mrs. Jones her Hush Puppies are here."

Said the mother-in-law: "Well, I'll tell her—but I don't know what she wants with them. We've got two platters full . . . already . . . Good-bye!"

HARD TO GET . . . Look for a report soon on this: it is becoming impossibly expensive—and almost impossible to buy—fire insurance on rural tenant property and any kind of protection for a teen-aged male motorist.

YOUR OPEN WINDOW ON THE WORLD is your newspaper!

Your newspaper is like a window . . . with a view as wide as the world, and as far into the future as the mind of man can be projected. It is the kind of a window that gives you a close-up look at the most distant events and developments . . . a window that extends the horizons of your knowledge even into the realm of outer space, now at long last revealing its secrets.

Some of the things that you see through your newspaper "window" are on the lighter side . . . amusing, entertaining. Others bear directly on your day-to-day life and on the future of yourself and your family. Both sides of the news are presented promptly, accurately and completely in your newspaper. Both sharpen your awareness of the world in which you live.

Your newspaper is all things to all men and all women. In its pages, each can find the latest information on what interests him most. It covers the community, county, state, nation and world. It deals with the economy, politics, finance . . . education and science . . . fashions and sports. It may be read at any hour of the day or night that suits you . . . may be read and reread . . . referred back to . . . clipped or saved. The window that it opens on your world is always open!

National Boy Scout Week Being Observed

Scouting Makes A Difference In A Boy

Each year, during this week of February 7-13, individual boys, patrols, dens, crews, Cub Scout, Boy Scout, and Explorer units . . . as well as districts and councils . . . take part in the nationwide celebration of Boy Scout Week.

Boy Scout Week was early set aside "for the purpose of bringing more definitely to the attention of each community, the value of Scouting as a program for work with boys and young men, for the development of character and training for citizenship".

This is not only a time of rededication and stock taking, but also a period that provides dramatic opportunity for Scouts and leaders to interpret scouting values to the general public.

The scouting program, from its beginning more than 55 years ago, has had as its objective the encouraging of boys to build useful lives. While the scouting program is based on action and doing, the objectives of these activities of this program are the building of character, citizenship, and personal fitness in the boy.

Scouting's procedures are different from those of school and other social agencies. The responsibility for a boy's growth and achievement is placed largely on the Boy himself. Each boy advances at his own rate and goes as far as he chooses.

Soon after he becomes a Scout, the boy begins to realize that he is a responsible citizen in his Scouting world. He is more than a mere member . . . he is an active participant. He learns concern for other people through practice of his scouting ideals and through group projects which involve helping other people.

The Scout Oath is as follows:

"On my honor I will do my best — to do my duty to God and my country — and to obey the Scout Law; To help other people at all times; To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

Scouting makes a difference in the life of a boy and on this observance of National Boy Scout Week we salute all the Scouts and their leaders.

Has 15-Year Performance Record

The Heart Fund Is Worthy

In the opinion of this newspaper, the 15-year performance record of the Heart Association in the fight against heart and blood vessel disease has established it as being worthy of our community's fullest support.

This fact speaks for itself: Since the onset of massive cardiovascular research in 1950, triggered by the first Heart Fund Campaign in 1949, there has been a decline of 15 percent in the cardiovascular death rate for Americans under 65.

The improved mortality picture grows chiefly out of a dramatic reduction in the toll due to hypertension and hypertensive heart disease, and to stroke. It is an overall improvement. It has taken place despite a worsening of the death rate due to heart attack, the number one killer of all time. Yet let no one assume that victory is close at hand. Heart and blood vessel disease, at all ages, is responsible for about 54 percent of all deaths in the United States. Those who read this paper's obituaries will note continuing references to the death toll taken by cardiovascular diseases in this community.

Your Heart Association has won the confidence, respect and gratitude not only of the medical profession but of the public at large. It has channeled more than 110 million Heart Fund dollars into research — research that is now paying off. Its work in the field of education and community service is bringing the benefits of new knowledge to every citizen. So be generous. Give — so more will live.

Our Mocksville Neighbors

More than in many states, perhaps, the newspaper men and women in North Carolina have long enjoyed a close, friendly relationship with one another. So the news that Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Bowman of Mocksville are retiring from active newspaper work has been received with regret throughout the state, especially in this area.

It is nevertheless good to know that they are turning over the ownership of the Mocksville Enterprise-Record to our old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tomlinson. Both of the Tomlinsons have been active, popular members of North Carolina's newspaper fraternity for a number of years.

We wish them well in their broader responsibilities. All good wishes, too, to the Bowmans in their well-earned retirement.

To Permit State Voters To Apportion House

Congress May Face Proposed Amendment

If Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) has his way, the newly-convened second session of the 89th Congress will have to consider a proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Dirksen is chairman of a group — the Committee for Government of the People — which favors an amendment that would permit state voters to apportion one house of a state legislature on other than a one-man, one-vote basis.

The Supreme Court ruled in June, 1964, that states must apportion both houses of their legislatures on the basis of equal population. Chief Justice Earl Warren, writing for the court's majority, rejected the analogy of the U. S. Senate as inappropriate to state governments, which never had been composed of independent sovereign units.

Dirksen's proposed amendment would supersede the court's decision. His measure may be called up in the Senate late in February.

Constitutional amendments may be proposed in either of two ways, according to World Book Encyclopedia. One way is for the legislatures of two-thirds of the states to propose a constitutional convention. The other way is for the proposed amendment to be approved by two-thirds of each of the houses of Congress. In either event, the proposed amendment then would have to be approved by the legislatures of three-quarters of the states, or by conventions in three-quarters of the states.

It seems virtually certain that not enough state legislatures will propose a constitutional convention, though a few have taken such action. However, Dirksen has promised to start action in Congress.

Whether he will succeed is doubtful. World Book points out that about 6,300 constitutional amendments have been proposed, but only 32 have been passed by Congress and submitted to the states, of these, only 24 have been ratified.

In just one year the number of Americans who die of heart and blood vessel diseases exceeds the number killed in all the wars of our country's history — from the Revolutionary War down through the war in Viet Nam, the North Carolina Heart Association reminds.

Uncle Dave From Davie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: On account of Abe Lincoln's birthday coming up, the feller that runs the country store presented Ed Doolittle with a big picture of Abe at the session Saturday night. Ed, like I told you, that still bows toward Abe's tomb when he says his prayers and keeps a copy of the Gettysburg Address in his family Bible, was mighty well pleased with this honor. He told the fellers he was keeping two pumpkins on his front porch permanent for Thanksgiving, a Christmas wreath hanging in the window, a July Fourth flag on the mantleboard, and when he pasted this picture of Abe on the front door he would be decorated for all the year-round events that was worth celebrating. Personal, Mister Editor, I got a sneaky feeling that Ed gits history confused a little bit. He's always rattling off quotations from Lincoln when, a heap of times, I recollect they was from Jefferson, Patrick Henry, or from Shakespeare. But I don't say nothing on account of not wanting to git Ed upset too much. He's already practical a bed patient from suffering from the Great Society. Ed told the fellers Saturday night the Democratic Party was the greatest benefit o mankind since the discovery of hot water. He allowed as how the beauty of the Democratic Party was they had a answer fer everything whether they knowed it or not. He said it made him recollect the story about the boy that a.k his Pa how they made the holes in macaroni. His Pa thought fer a minute and told the boy they made the holes first and then wrapped the macaroni around 'em. That was a good Democratic answer, allowed Ed.

On account of this being a sorter "Ed Doolittle night," all the fellers give Ed the floor and didn't say nothing. Even Clem Webster, charter, charter member in the Great Society, grinded his teeth and made like he was listening.

Ed went on to report he had saw where Lyndon and his posse of Great Society advisers was worried sick about the "affluent gap." Ed claimed this was another way of saying that no matter what new giveaway Lyndon cooks up, the rich git richer and the pore git poorer. It looks to him, said Ed, like the Government "wants" everybody to look alike, and share alike. In the Great Society, according to Ed, we was cows following the loudest bell. He allowed as how, when Lyndon announced from the LBJ Ranch that he was "rolling up his sleeves" to git to work on America's problems, you either "rolled" or didn't git no benefits. Next Saturday night, Mister Editor, we was holding a benefit for Clem Webster and the Democrats. I'll give you the details.

Yours truly, Uncle Dave

Senator Jordan Reports:

WASHINGTON — A great many school officials and parents have become greatly concerned over President Johnson's proposed drastic reduction in the national school lunch and special school milk programs. It is too early at the moment to tell in exact figures the effect the President's proposals will have, but it is already clear that if his budget proposals are approved by the Congress it will cut North Carolina's participation in the programs to only a fraction of what it is today. I am strongly opposed to cutbacks in these programs because I feel they have played an essential role in the basic health of our school children. They have also been of tremendous value in developing healthy eating habits and patterns for school-age children.

From the best information I can get, the proposals provide that those who were found to be needy, or welfare cases, would receive free lunches and free milk. The remainder of the school children would pay full prices for both milk and hot lunches at school.

There is a basic fallacy in such a proposal at this. For many years both the school lunch & school milk programs have been operated on the theory that it is wise and sound public policy to provide milk and hot lunches to school children at the lowest possible cost to them. It may be entirely true that many of our children could pay 60 or 70 cents for lunch and 10 or 15 cents for a glass of milk. But more important than this, endless thousands of children would be sent to school each day without lunch money if the present prices are doubled or tripled.

I have always felt that we should make every effort to cut the frills out of government expenditures, but in my way of thinking a hot lunch and glass of milk for a school child is a far cry from a frill or luxury, and I certainly intend to do everything I can to preserve the school lunch and school milk programs as they have operated so successfully and so constructively in the past.

A new loan program now makes it possible for rural families in Davie County to build new homes or repair their present homes. Contact the Farmers Home Administration County Office located in the County Building next to the Court House in Mocksville, N. C.

Senator SAM ERVIN Says:

WASHINGTON — The Vietnam War has moved into a new phase. This has caused an examination of our position there, and even raised doubts in Congress as to the best course of action that our President should pursue.

Even while the debate is in progress, however, the question of whether or not the United States should engage in a war in Southeast Asia is becoming more and more an academic one. We are already engaged in a war there. Our men are being killed and wounded daily in this war. We are confronted by a condition and not a theory. What has been largely unrealized by the nation is the extent of our commitment there.

Now we must face certain stern realities about Vietnam and our position there. There are only three courses of action open to the United States. The first is to settle the war by negotiation; the second is to fight the war with a will to win it; and the third is to withdraw our forces from South Vietnam. The third course simply means that we would surrender Southeast Asia to the Viet Cong who are Communist agents.

The President has attempted to reach a settlement by negotiation. Despite the entreaties of virtually the civilized world, he only nations which can negotiate a settlement, i. e., North Vietnam and China, have contemptuously rejected the President's offer to negotiate.

Negotiation, at this stage of the war, has degenerated into an empty dream. This leaves two courses of pursue. One of these courses is to fight to compel North Vietnam to stop fighting and come to the conference table. This requires a military victory. The other course is to withdraw our forces and surrender our position in South Vietnam.

Surrender of South Vietnam poses a problem of immense importance to all of Asia. It would lead to a serious weakening of our position in the free world. India, and a host of other Asian nations, would be subjected to Red Chinese domination. Surrender would have a vast influence on the freedom of Malaysia, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, and even the United States itself. All of mankind's experience demonstrates, too, that surrender whets the appetite of the aggressor to attempt more conquests.

The issue of whether or not we should have chosen to fight in Vietnam raises a military and strategic question that has been amply discussed by General Ridgeway and others. I have said many times that if the original decision had been mine, I would not have put troops in Vietnam. But, since we have committed our troops to a war there, surrender is not the solution to this grave situation.

Standing firm and fighting in South Vietnam is certainly preferable to surrender. Ask Ipling once counseled England: "No easy hope or lies shall bring us to our goal . . ." The reality of this day is that we must win a military victory and defeat our enemy or force him to the conference table. No other course of action is open to us in the precarious world in which we live.

60 Second Sermon

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "Lose money, lose much; lose a friend lose more; lose faith, lose all."

Unknown. The story is told of the devout old woman who cleaned offices at night in London. One night during a bombing raid, when all the offices were darkened, a watchman came upon the old lady sound asleep between her mop and bucket. He asked her how she could sleep at such a time and she replied quietly.

"The good Lord says. He stays awake and watches over His own. There is no use of both of us bein' awake."

What is faith? Some ridicule it as a head-in-the-sand bull-headedness that refuses to face facts. But they aren't talking about faith. Faith is belief in action. The faith that made this a great republic was not passive stupidity. It was demonstrated courage that survived unbelievable hardships because of faith in an idea and an ideal. Genuine faith is never resigned. It is visible proof of an inner belief.

As long as you have faith in yourself, your work, your fellowmen, your God, your destination, no matter how dark the day or night, success awaits you. Believe the motto of the Brighton, England sun-dial which bears these hopeful words: "This always morning somewhere in the world."

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Congressman James T. Broyhill

SMALL BUSINESS

One of the trends in this country has been the growth of giantism in government, organized labor, and in business. In most aspects of our productive economy, we see the influences of great corporate enterprises. There is certainly nothing wrong with bigness in business so long as we are careful to build in safety devices to assure that fairness & that equitable competition exists. Our anti-trust laws are written with that in mind to make certain that the strong do not devour the weak & that the law of the jungle does not prevail in our economic life.

I feel that if we are to preserve the free enterprise system in this country, we must do everything possible to create a climate whereby small businesses have a decent and fair chance to grow and prosper. It is well to remember that very few of the giants of industry started big. They, too, had small beginnings. They struggled for survival and, step by step, they have grown larger. Today, however, the problems for a small business are growing greater and I feel we must keep a watchful eye on whether the door to opportunity for them is being slowly closed. The Federal government has a legitimate responsibility in helping to create this kind of economic climate.

Back in 1953, the Congress passed the Small Business Act. There were a number of purposes to this legislation. The legislation established the Small Business Administration, an independent agency, which would operate within the Federal government as the spokesman for the nation's small businesses and provide "one-stop service to small companies in their dealings with Washington. There is a growing concern among many of us in and out of Washington that this agency is being systematically dismantled.

There were several specific responsibilities that Congress assigned the Small Business Administration which are of particular importance. One responsibility was the authority to lend money to small businesses when it could be shown that there was a reasonable assurance of repayment and that funds were not available from private banks and lending institutions. The second important responsibility was a program to assure that small manufacturers received a fair share of government contracts to counter the favoritism of Federal purchasing officers to deal with large firms.

Today, the Small Business Administration is and has been for some time without an Administrator. This situation has left the agency without leadership and its role as a force in the economic life of the nation has been reduced. To many of us, the handwriting is on the wall that the SBA is being phased out although the Congress has not changed the Small Business Act and has given no indication that it intends to do so. On the contrary, Congressional support for the SBA program, properly operated without political overtones, is as strong today as it has ever been.

The SBA loan program is at a standstill. Although Congress has provided the funds it requested, excuses are given that no money is available for business loans because available funds have been used for disaster relief loans in Alaska and along the Gulf Coast following hurricane Betsy. Applications, we understand, are not being taken and there is no indication when the moratorium will be lifted, if ever.

Only recently, the procurement program also was put on the skids. This program has worked well to see that small companies get a fair break in the tens of billions of dollars of Federal purchases. SBA has withdrawn its representatives in Federal procurement offices despite strong opposition from the Congress and the entire small business community. The direct liaison between contracting offices and the small business community has been broken.

A number of us have lodged strong protests of this action with the President. We hope that this is not a calculated and determined plan to destroy this independent agency of government. There have been in the past, and there are now, voices in Washington who have said that SBA should be neatly tucked away in the Department of Commerce. Certainly, I would grant that this all looks plausible on paper. However, the Department of Commerce has never been able to provide the dynamic and effective service that American small business requires and it was precisely for that reason that the SBA was established as an independent agency. I feel strongly that the SBA must not become a casualty of "big" government. It is my intention to continue the fight to see that a vigorous and effective voice on behalf of small business is not silenced in the councils of government in Washington.

Showboat Theatre To Have Mystery-Comedy

A chiller-diller mystery laced with laughter, "Catch Me If You Can," will open Wednesday, Feb. 9, at the Showboat Dinner Theater near the Greensboro-High Point-Winston-Salem Airport.

Directed in New York by John Bazarini, "Catch Me If You Can" concerns the disappearance of a beautiful bride. A young woman appears, insisting she is the missing person. The groom, however, claims he has never seen her face. Sudden deaths and funny twists are in store before the mystery is hilariously solved.

Appearing in leading roles are Jay Bonnel as the groom, Linda Selman as the "bride" and Harold Herman as the inspector who tries to straighten out the strange carryings-on.

Rounding out the all-professional cast are Del Hinkley as Father Kelleher, Joseph R. Sicari as Sidney, Sandy Quarles as Mrs. Parker and Leon Benedict as Everett Parker.

Bonnel's acting experience covers the full theatrical range. He has played both comedy and drama on stage and TV and appeared in a featured comedy role with Peter Sellars in "The World of Henry Orient," a motion picture.

Bonnel has appeared with the American Shakespeare Festival in Stratford, Conn., the New York and black bird, also purple Finches by the dozen.

Shavians and West End Productions. His TV appearances include "The Defenders," "The Nurses" and "The Jackie Gleason Show."

Herman is making a return visit to Showboat, where he made a hit with audiences as Ross in "Marriage-Go-Round." He has appeared with such stars as Mennasha Skulnik, Ann B. Davis, Jill Corey and Alan Case. "The Patty Duke Show" and "The Doctors" are two of the many TV shows on which he has appeared.

Miss Selman is an accomplished dancer as well as actress. She last appeared off-Broadway in "Bus Stop" and has performed on such TV shows as "Spotlight on Youth" and "The American Musical Theater" with Earl Wrightson.

Sicari is a triple-threat man, a singer-dancer-actor. He has shared stages with Patrice Munsel, Viveca Lindfors and William Prince, and he completed the leading role in off-Broadway's "The Parasite" a few weeks before beginning rehearsals for "Catch Me If You Can" in New York.

A two-year professional although a longtime performer, Del Hinkley won a Variety Club Encore Award as Best Male Singer for his portrayal of Curly in "Oklahoma!"

In real life, Miss Quarles is Mrs. Bernard Y. Cockrell, wife of the general manager of Showboat Dinner Theater, located just off Highway 68 about 2½ miles south of the airport at Friendship. A member of Equity, she had four seasons of stock at Flat Rock near Hendersonville and has done other stage and TV work.

Benedict has appeared with Ethel Merman in "Gypsy" on Broadway, in such movies as "All the Way Home" and "Lilith" and in such TV shows as "Trials of O'Brien" and "Naked City."

"Catch Me If You Can" will continue nightly except Mondays through March 6 at Showboat. Buffet open at 8:45 p. m. The mystery-comedy, in which Dan Dalley starred on Broadway, begins at 8:30 p. m.

Social Security In Davie County

"If you have reached 65 and are not receiving social security or railroad retirement benefits, and have not signed up for Medicare, now is the time for action," Robert C. Thomas, social security district manager in Salisbury, stated today.

He explained that almost every older person in the nation is eligible for health insurance under the new law passed by Congress last year.

"The major part of hospital charges and doctor bills will be paid for those people 65 or older who sign up for the health protection," Mr. Thomas said.

"We are especially trying to reach two groups of people right now. One group includes those over 65 who have not applied for social security retirement benefits because their earnings are too high to permit cash payments. These people will have Medicare protection by applying for it.

"The second group we need to get in touch with may have had little or no work under social security," Mr. Thomas explained. "If they are 65 or over, they can get the health protection by enrolling for it. This group also includes aliens who have had at least 5 years of permanent residence in this country."

Mr. Thomas said that health insurance benefits begin next July. "I cannot overemphasize the importance of prompt action by all those who are eligible," he said. "This applies to several thousand persons in this area."

Further information can be obtained in person, by mail, or by telephone from the social security office in Salisbury, located at 103 Corvher Avenue. The telephone number is 633-6470. For the public's convenience, that office will be open on Saturday mornings from 8:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon during February and March. Weekday office hours are from 8:45 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

SCOUTING TRAIL
Davie County Boy Scouts are planning a demonstration of scoutcraft skills Saturday, February 12 from 2 to 4 in the afternoon in the Mocksville Elementary School gym.

The public is invited to come by and view the different stations set up showing the various skills. There will be scouts and leaders present to discuss the skills.

This event is being planned as part of the observance of the 56th Anniversary of Boy Scouting in America.

Vernon Whitaker and Harry Monsees are coordinators of this event.

Each and every Scouter is urged to attend the top Scouting event of 1966. The Council Leadership Training Committee will hold a University of Scouting at Davidson County Community College on February 19th from 8:30 a. m. until 5:30 p. m. The following schedule will be followed and all courses will start promptly on time.

The Cub Scout Leaders Training are as follows: From 9:00 a. m. to 10:50 a. m., the subject, "Cub Scouting for your Boy" by instructor George W. King, 11:00 a. m. to 12:50 p. m., "Planning the Cub Scout Program" by instructor Gentry Brewer; 1:30 p. m. to 3:20 p. m., "The Pack Meeting" by instructor Fred Jordan; 3:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m., "Pack Management" by instructor L. E. Lingle and "Den Mother-Den Chief Relationships" by instructors Mrs. Dot Hicks and Mrs. Dot Ingram.

The Boy Scout Leaders Training are as follows: From 9:00 a. m. to 10:50 a. m. the subject, "The Boy Scout Program" by instructor John Jeffreys; 11:00 a. m. to 12:50 p. m., "Advancement and Troop Financing" by James Northcutt; 1:30 p. m. to 3:20 p. m., "Program Planning" by Calvin Rice; 3:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m., "Boy Behavior" by instructors Mark Sumner and George King. This is the first time that the New Boy Scout Leaders Training courses have been conducted in the Uwharrie Council. Registration for these sessions will begin promptly at 8:30 a. m. to 9:00 a. m. There will be vending machines handy to secure sandwiches, soup, coffee, etc. for lunch.

The Davidson County Community College is located just off Interstate Highway 85 about midway between Lexington and Thomasville.

MOCKS

The W. S. C. S. held their February meeting Friday evening in the assembly room of the church. There were ten members present. Clarksville Homemakers Elect New Leaders

The Clarksville Homemaker's Club met at the home of Mrs. A. W. Ferebee, Friday evening, February 7, for their regular monthly meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Ms. Stacy Beck in the absence of the club president, Mrs. Joe Harpe. For devotionals, a poem titled "Love" was given and the song, "America" was sung by the members.

Minutes of the January meeting were read and approved and new club books were filled in.

Leaders for the year are as follows: Food and Nutrition — Mrs. Gene Ellis, Home Furnishings — Mrs. Bill Merrell, Home Management — Mrs. Stacy Beck, Family Life — Mrs. Leonard Wallace, Home Beautification — Mrs. A. W. Ferebee, Clothing — Mrs. W. A. Beck.

Crafts — Miss Jean Harpe, Community Service Chairman — Mrs. Bessie Ferebee, Health — Mrs. Eva Latham, Safety — Mrs. Frances Gough, Education — Mrs. Shirley Rollins, Citizenship — Mrs. O. E. Driver, Jr., Music — Mrs. B. C. McMurray, Public Relations — Mrs. Joe Harpe, Recreation — Mrs. Homer Latham, Loan Funds — Mrs. D. S. Ralledge and 4H leader — Mrs. Cecil Cranfill.

Mrs. Luther West gave a very helpful lesson on the use of all attachments on the sewing machine. She also demonstrated how to take care of the machine. Announcements were made that the work shops to be held in March and April would be on the study of patterns and the making of a muslin garment to fit.

HOPE FOR HEARTS

MOUTH BREATHING

Mouth breathing can affect your child's dental and physical health. Parents generally realize that some oral habits, such as thumb-sucking, when carried on too far in the child's age, affect the teeth in such a way to push them into abnormal positions. Thumb-sucking is only one of the so-called "bad" oral habits. Mouth breathing can also be detrimental to the child's health. It is often overlooked and undetected.

The importance of proper attention for mouth breathers is stressed this winter during the 18th National Children's Dental Health Week, sponsored Feb. 6-12 by the American Dental Association.

Mouth breathing means that the individual has a habit of breathing through the mouth. When this occurs continuously, the gum tissues are irritated through the drying effects of the air. The tissues become inflamed, sometimes swollen and even painful.

Mouth breathing can contribute to a different kind of tooth decay pattern than usually seen. The typical mouth breather shows large whitish soft spots around the gum line of the front teeth, the result of drying of the foreign material that collects about the necks of the teeth. A continual mouth breather often develops a change in the position of the teeth, or in other terms, may also develop a malocclusion.

When the child continually holds his mouth open, the muscular support of the tongue and lower lip are lost to the upper teeth. The teeth collapse toward the inside of the mouth, thereby narrowing the dental arch. Often the front teeth will begin to protrude.

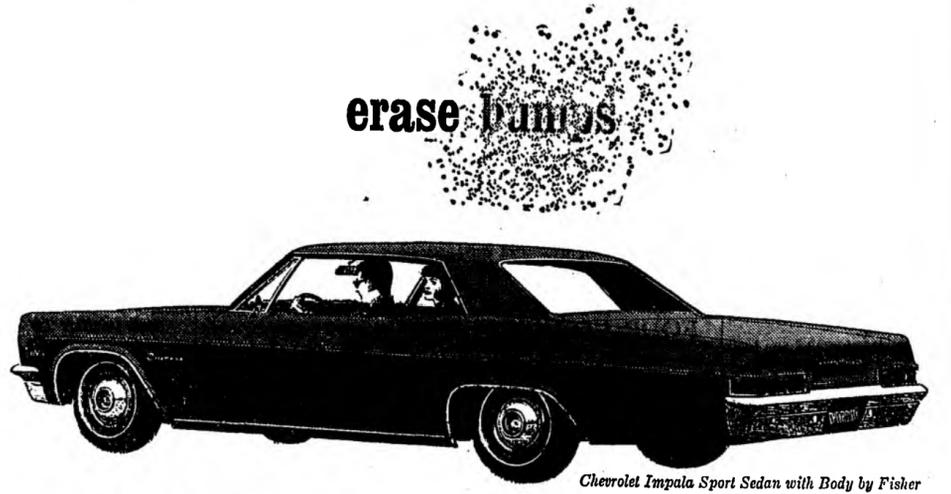

When a child continually breathes through his mouth, the air does not pass through the nose, missing the important function that the nose plays in preparing the air for the lungs. As dry, dirty, cold air from the outside passes through the nose, the air is filtered by the hairs in the nose; it is warmed by the large mass of blood vessels that are inside the nose, and is humidified by the moisture that the nose contains. Mouth breathing usually will result in an increase in upper respiratory infections. The child will have more colds, or even suffer a more serious lung problem.

through his mouth should be considered a mouth breather, for many children have short upper lips and will keep their mouths open while breathing through their nose. Who then, becomes a mouth breather? Children with narrow faces have a tendency to have narrow airways or noses, easily closed off because of a minor cold. Some children will have enlarged adenoid or tonsil tissue, which normally grows in excess up to about 10 years of age and then diminishes in size. During this period, the airway may be obstructed by the tonsils. The child is forced to breathe through his mouth until he outgrows his enlarged tonsils. He develops a breathing habit not easily corrected.

Mouth breathing is very common between the ages of 4-12 and easily diagnosed by your physician or dentist. It should be corrected to prevent harmful dental and physical effects.

JET-SMOOTHER THE CHEVROLET WAY

We added new bushings and softened body-to-frame mounts to smooth Chevrolet's ride. We put in soft-acting shock absorbers and soft-working coil springs at every wheel. By soft, though, we don't mean mushy. Chevrolet's Way makes for a smooth, solid ride. Very steady on curves. A bump jumps from the supple springs and shocks—and pffft! It all but disappears.

Large Electric Bills Predicted For January

In addition to slippery streets, frozen pipes, frigid noses and high fuel use, January's icy blasts will be reflected in generally larger electric bills.

This prediction was made by a Duke Power spokesman after watching the company's generators whirl at a record-breaking pace the past three weeks.

G. G. Mattison, senior vice president in charge of production and transmission, said that the recent period of bitter cold kept furnace fan motors and fuel pumps running almost continuously. He also explained that low temperatures had penetrated the ground and that water entering water heaters was much colder than usual — requiring more energy to bring it to the desired temperatures.

These and other factors relating to the unusually cold weather brought consumption of electricity by Duke customers to over a half billion kilowatt-hours a week for the final three weeks of January the first time in the company's history that this mark had been reached.

Duke customers used 18.2 per cent more electricity during January, 1966, than they did in January, 1965 — an increase of 338 million kilowatt-hours.

"In fact," said Mattison, "Duke Power established records in every phase of total production during January — with new hourly, daily, weekly, and monthly marks being set."

Library News

Moving time draws near at the Davie County Public Library, and the results of the task undertaken by the Interior Furnishings Committee are showing the days of thought, planning and hard work they have contributed in past months.

Charles Morrison Grier and Associates, Architects, were extremely helpful with their suggestions; also the professional services of Carl Barnes, Interiors, Winston-Salem and Dan Davis, Interiors, Fork, proved invaluable.

The aim of the committee was to retain a traditional flavor, while planning carefully for smooth functioning of the library. Whatever success may have been attained in their effort must be attributed in large degree to the co-operation of local people, and firms with local connections.

In addition to Mr. Hairston, those serving on the Interior Furnishings Committee were: Mrs. Peter Hairston, Mrs. Knox Kohn tone, Mrs. Queen Bess Kernen and Ms. I. H. Huske.

ing luncheon, with the opportunity to exchange ideas and formulate plans both before and after the meal. This turned into a profitable "Spend the day" party and was a real treat for all!

Beautiful outside the library has not been forgotten, as Mrs. Queen Bess Kernen has accepted the responsibility of heading a committee for landscaping the grounds.

The sculpture being executed by Ogden Deal, North Carolina artist from McLeansville, is of special interest since it was originally provided for in the plans by the architect.

And now the re-organ for it all-the BOOKS-are coming in and being prepared and placed on the shelves, ready for that Day. There are boxes of them arriving and more on order, and on a trusty volunteer worker, Mrs. James Ratchford, is working faithfully to help us with the most important Interior Furnishings of all-these colorful, tantalizing, tempting BOOKS. We'll be so happy when you are free to share them-and it won't be long, now!

Cub Scouts

Dens 1, 2 and 3 of Cub Scout Pack 574 inspected Glenn Howard's Trucking terminal at Redland last month. This trip was made as part of the study of "Transportation", which was the theme for the month of January.

The regular Pack meeting was held Tue-day night, January 25th, in the auditorium of the Mocksville Elementary School. Frank Cox, cubmaster, showed a film on "Transportation."

A word game was played between the boys and their parents. The boys had name plates with words on them, the parents had definitions to match up with the word. All terms used were those familiar to truckers.

The fourth Quarterly Conference of Sheffield charge will be held Sunday, February 13 at 7:30 p. m. at Chestnut Grove Methodist Church. The District Superintendent, Dr. Nicholson will bring the message.

TOPDRESS SMALL GRAINS EARLY

Now is the time to topdress fall seeded small grains reminds Mr. Leo F. Williams, County Extension Chairman. Anytime from now until March 15, as soon as weather and soil conditions permit, small grains should be topdressed with nitrogen providing extra nitrogen was not applied last fall at planting time.

Small grains growing on the heavier soils should receive 30 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre as soon as conditions permit. If a mixed fertilizer was not applied at planting time and you suspect that the potassium level may be low a 1-0-1 fertilizer such as 14-0-14 or 20-0-20 should be used instead of just nitrogen. Here again the rate should be such so that 30 to 60 pounds of nitrogen is supplied per acre. On light sandy soils the rate can be increased somewhat.

Topdressing small grain encourages tillering which in effect increases the number of shoots per plant. The earlier nitrogen can be applied in the spring the better, as the tillering stage is essentially completed by the middle of March, thus topdressing after this date is not nearly as effective as that applied earlier; however, it still may give some increase in yield says Mr. Williams.

Make plans now to topdress your small grains as soon as weather and soil conditions permit. You'll be glad you did when harvest time rolls around.

$820,000 Granted To Expand Facilities

Davie Electric Co-Op Gets Loan

E. R. Crater, President of the Board of Directors of the Davie Electric Membership Corporation, has been notified by the Rural Electrification Administration that a loan in the amount of $820,000 has been approved for the Davie Electric Membership Corporation.

To heavy up and increase the capacity in existing distribution lines to meet the increased demand for power by the members presently being served.

To install a new point of delivery of power from the Duke Power Company in the southwestern section of Alexander County.

To construct 9 miles of 44 KV transmission lines around the western side of Mocksville to serve an additional substation south of Mocksville and to increase the Cooperative's power supply in its present 44 KV line on Highway 601, north of Mocksville.

To date, including this loan, the Davie Electric Membership Corporation has received, through the Rural Electrification Administration, loans in the amounts of $6,360,000 for the construction of 53 miles of 44 KV transmission lines and 1,955 miles of distribution line to serve 11,062 members. Of the $6,360,000 that has been loaned the Davie Electric Membership Corporation, $1,635,275 has been repaid in addition to which the Davie Electric Membership Corporation has paid $911,708 interest. $239,000 has been repaid upon the principal amount of these loans ahead of due date, this being approximately two years principal repayment upon these loans.

The Davie Electric Membership Corporation is a non-profit business furnishing electric service to its members at absolute cost. In addition to the $1,635,275 that is has repaid to the Federal Government upon the principal amount of these loans, it has returned to its members all capital furnished by them through 1959 amounting to approximately $325,000, and to the estates of all deceased members all capital credits up-to-date.

G. O. P. Convention

The Republican County Convention for Davie County will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. at the county

John Alexander, GOP leader of Statesville, will be the featured speaker.

Main business will consist of the election of officers for the next two years and the naming of delegates to attend the district and state GOP conventions.

Hospital To Receive $903

The Duke Endowment is distributing this week $1,404,392 to help hospitals and child care institutions in North Carolina and South Carolina finance their charity services.

Davie County Hospital has been appropriated $903 based on 35 beds available for this purpose last year.

The hospital contributions are based on $1 a day for each free day of care in the fiscal year which ended September 30, 1965. In these institutions free days amounted to 17.9 per cent of the total days of care, approximately the same percentage as in the previous year. Other interesting statistical information included in the applications is that the institutions had 4,935,773 days of care, averaged 12,557 patients per day (excluding newborn), and had 16,158 beds in use. There were 596 more patients per day than in the 1964 fiscal year.

Value Days

Many Mocksville merchants are participating in a "value day" trade promotion that begins this week and runs through next.

Several advertisements concerning this promotion appear this week. Others will appear next week.

Davie Farm Service Now In New Building

The Davie Farm Service, owned and operated by Ed Latta and Frank S. Brown, has moved into a new building on Wilkesboro Street.

The new building will provide more room for merchandising their regular lines of feed, seed and farm supplies. Mr. Latta said in addition they planned to add new items in the hardware line.

The insurance offices of J. E. Kelly and Jim Kelly, Jr. are also included in the building.

The Davie Farm Service opened in May of 1952 in the old building which now has been completely torn away and the area is being used for parking.

The new Davie County Library will open to the public on Monday, February 21, at 2 p. m.

The library will be closed for the remainder of the week in preparation for the move.

Beginning Monday the following schedule will be observed at the new library:

Monday: 2 p. m. to 9 p. m. Tuesday through Friday: 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday: 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

The opening feature in the vestibule exhibit case is a display planned to remind Davie County folks of one of their most colorful early citizens, Daniel Boone . . . Lie famous pioneer. The display features a mounted fox, "all bright-eyed and bushy-tailed", keeping a watchful eye on a wood duck and a hungry squirrel sitting on a stump with an acorn.

There is also an old musket, powderhorn and leather bag, as well as a picture of Daniel Boone, the hunter. There is also the coonskin cap and an axe sticking in a log.

One of the most interesting things in the whole display is the hand-drawn reproduction of the inscription on the Boone Trail marker which stands on the square near the courthouse. This reproduction was done by Mrs. Rufus Sanford, Jr. It was a surprise to all to find that the word "soldier" had been spelled without the "e". It is reproduced in the same fashion.

There is a large display in the Children's Section of the Library that depicts the creation of the new library. This theme is "Davie County Puts Its Shoulder To The Wheel . . . And Now We Have A New Library Opening Many Doors".

This display has a large plywood map of Davie County made to look like a quaint-smiling figure pushing a huge old wheel towards an easily-seen architect's drawing of the new building. The words, "opening many doors", lead the eye to a colorful grouping of new books for children. These cover one whole end of the area and entice the children to come in and look. The figure of Davie County was built by Roger Funderburke and was painted by Mrs. Jack Jerome, both of Coolemeec.

The Davie County Library staff acknowledges the generous and willing help given by all who are approached for the loan of possessions to be used in carrying out the idea of a display. Without this assistance the library could not offer the exhibits which seem to interest so many people.

"This is another example of the cooperation received from the entire county in the new library venture. The list is just too long to name all the individuals who had some part in assembling these two displays, but it includes at least 15 individuals and two business firms who helped with "props" and wished the library well. No wonder our staff appreciates all this so much", said Mrs. Paul Blackwelder, Librarian.

Spry To Play In All-Star Tilt

RONNIE SPRY —to play at Greensboro—

Ronnie Spry has been selected to play in the 1966 All-Star game sponsored by the North Carolina Coaches Association. The game will be played on August 21st at Greensboro.

Ronnie will play for the West against a team selected from the East.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Spry of Center Street Extension in Coolemeec, was co-captain of the 1965 Rebels. He has been a two-year regular and a three-year letterman.

Ronnie was selected on the North Piedmont All-Conference team.

Mocksville "Young Man Of The Year"

Benny Naylor Is DSA Winner

Benny Naylor is "Mocksville's Young Man Of The Year".

Mr. Naylor was presented with the Distinguished Service Award by the Mocksville Jaycees at the annual DSA banquet last Thursday night at the Rotary Hut.

Henry Bernhardt, Executive Vice-President of the Salisbury-Rowan Merchants Association and a former State Jaycee Official, was the principal speaker. John Long, DSA Chairman, presided over the banquet that was attended by the Jaycees, their wives, and special guests.

The award, an engraved plaque, was presented to Mr. Naylor by Mayor D. J. Mando.

Mr. Naylor is the head of the feed division of the J. P. Green Milling Company of Mocksville. In 1960, when The Cub Scout program was about to be dropped for the lack of leadership, Mr. Naylor stepped in and assumed the position of Cubmaster. Through his efforts the program was reorganized and provided 92 boys with active Cub Scout experience. Two years ago Mr. Naylor relinquished this position to help out, as assistant scoutmaster, with the Boy Scout program.

He is a deacon in the First Baptist Church; teaches a boys' Sunday School Class; director of 13-16-year old training union; a member of Mens' Mission organization; a member of the choir; Past-Superintendent of the Baptist Training Union; Past Superintendent of the Adult Division of Sunday School; and past Brotherhood officer.

He is married to the former Nan Bowden. They have four children.

Mr. Bernhardt discussed the qualifications of a DSA winner . . . pointing out that such a man would: (1) Put people ahead of self; (2) Be devoted to his family, church and community; and (3) Be willing to give of his time and service for the benefit of others.

Heart Sunday Time Is Here

The annual house to house canvass for funds for the Heart Fund Campaign will be made in Davie County Sunday, February 20. Volunteers will call at local residences for contributions.

In addition, local Girl Scouts will be selling balloons on the streets with the money collected being added to the Fund Campaign.

The heart and blood vessel disease are now costing this nation about 1,000,000 lives yearly. They account for about 54 percent of all deaths. Latest statistics indicate that about 14,600,000 adult Americans suffer from heart disease, and an additional 6,900,000 are victims of hypertension. In addition to the 14,600,000 persons with definite heart disease, there are 13,000,000 persons with suspect heart disease.

Is the outlook hopeless? Not at all. For those aged below 65, the tide has seemingly begun to turn. Since the onset of massive cardiovascular research programs in 1950 there has been a 15 percent decline in the death rate from heart and blood vessel disease among men and women aged below 65. For men aged 45-64 the overall decline was 7 1/2 percent, 1950-1962, despite an actual increase in the death rate due to heart attack.

Now is the time to remember that this life-or-death fight has one central, spearheading force — your Heart Association. It has been in the thick of the battle since the first Heart Fund Campaign in 1949. It has the support, confidence and direction of 30,000 physicians and scientists — men and women who represent the most authoritative body of opinion on heart disease in the United States.

Now also is the time to remember that you have a very definite stake in this fight, since hearts come only one to a customer. So be generous. When your Heart Sunday volunteer calls at your home, give her a warm welcome. Open your heart, and your pocketbook. Give — so more will live.

Three Cars Involved In Wreck On US 64

Three cars were involved in an accident last Sunday afternoon on US 64. The accident occurred 9-miles west of Mocksville around 3:55 p. m.

Involved was a 1963 Ford operated by Reid Glenn Brown, 16, of Waynesville; a 1959 Pontiac operated by William Norman Hyler, 24, of Newton; and a 1966 Pontiac operated by Melvin Erastus Burns, 61, of Valdese.

Slate Highway Patrolman K. N. Bolick said that the accident occurred when the car operated by Burns hit the rear of the Hyler car, knocking it into the Brown car. Burns was charged with following too close.

Damage to the Brown car was $200; to the Hyler car, $700; and to the Burns car, $700.

Rebelettes Are Undefeated

The undefeated Davie High Rebelettes have almost clinched the North Piedmont Conference crown.

With a record of 11 wins and no losses, the Rebelettes have only three games remaining: East Rowan, Mooresville and Troutman. All three of these teams now stand in the bottom half of the conference.

The Rebels with a record of 5-6 in the conference appear to have but a slight chance of making the Piedmont tournament which will be held at East Rowan.

Thursday night East Rowan will play here in a makeup game. Friday night Troutman will be here. Tuesday night Davie will play at Mooresville.

Tuesday night the Rebelettes rolled over North Rowan 58 to 16 while the Rebels were bowing by one point 64-65.

Audrey Wagner with 22 points paced the Davie lassies; Bailey, 4; Zimmerman, 4; Shelton, 10; Hartman, 1; Allred, 1. Jordan, 6; Chaffin, 6; Spry, 4.

For the Rebels, Randall Ward had 16; Whitaker, 12; Deadmon, 6; Carter, 6; Hendrix, 15; Brubaker, 8.

Last Friday night the Rebelettes downed the West Rowan Falconettes 39 to 26. Audrey Wagner had 14 points and Ruth Shelton, 13, to lead the Davie attack. Other scoring saw Bailey with 6; Zimmerman, 4; and Chaffin, 2.

The Rebels were defeated by West 69 to 54. Ward and Carter had 14 points each to pace the Davie attack; Whitaker, 5; Deadmon, 2; Hendricks, 8; Campbell, 5; Frye, 6.

Three Rebels Sign With Apps

Three Davie County High School football stars have signed grant-in-aid agreements with Appalachian State Teachers College.

Ronald Foster, an All-State end who played in the Charlotte Shrine Bowl game, heads the threesome. Foster is considered a good defensive end and according to ASTC coaches is expected to add to the future Mountaineer forward wall.

Quarterback Earl Shoaf and fullback Nayrex Branhardt also signed with Appalachian. Shoaf directed Davie to an unbeaten season and into the playoffs against Asheboro. He is considered an outstanding field general.

Barnhardt suffered a broken arm in the second game of the season during his senior year and missed most of what should have been his most outstanding year. At 6-ft. 2-inches, 110-pounds, he has good speed and power.

Tattle - Tattle - by Gordon Tomlinson

Suspicious-looking boxes were moved out of the basement of the Davie County Office Building last week.

One box in hold letters proclaimed the products of the Schenley Distilleries; another was labeled "Old Crow"; there was another, "Four Roses"; and on and on.

Supervising the operation were members of the Mocksville Woman's Club and each box was carefully labeled and marked to see that it reached its destination intact and the contents put on display on the proper shelf.

Several mouth-watering individuals watched the operation before they realized that the contents of the boxes might be a little "drier" than the labels were indicating.

For it was moving day for the Davie County Library . . . and the ladies involved were using large boxes to transport the books . . . and were in no way concerned whether the box read "Clorox" . . . "Vodka" or . . . "Bourbon".

A woman in Costa Rica greeted her mother and sister in Mocksville via short-wave radio, recently.

Miss Ana Cordero, Spanish teacher at the Davie County High School, and her mother, Mrs. Celina de Cordero have an apartment at the Elbert Smith home on Duke Street. Recently Mr. Smith put a short-wave radio receiver in their room so that the two could keep up with news of their country in which an important election was taking place.

Then one night the announcer broke into the middle of a news broadcast and greeted the two women on behalf of their Ana Isabel Cordero de Vives of San Jose . . . extending personal greetings and telling them "all is well!"

Mrs. Cordero and her daughter were so happy . . . they cried!

A tragedy of the times: The snow piled up on the square . . . which many were predicting would be here this summer . . . is now all gone . . . with the rain. And so went the igloo built by several boys at the home of Charlie Brown on Garner St. Sorry . . . we failed to get the picture.

For many, many years a Boone Trail marker in front of the Davie County Courthouse has stood with an inscription in iron concerning Daniel Boone . . . describing him among other things as a "soldier". Recently when Mrs. Rufus Sanford was making a reproduction of this inscription it was discovered that "soldier" was spelled in this inscription . . . "soldier."

It just goes to show that you can't get away with any mistake forever. If its printed . . . somebody will find it somehow . . . some day.

Services To Be Observed WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

The World Day of Prayer, observed each year on the first Friday in Lent, will be held Friday, February 25 at Holy Cross Lutheran Church at 7:30 p. m.

World Day of Prayer is truly world-wide in character. Basically, the same service is used by groups in all the countries and areas of the world. This provides an extraordinary opportunity for fellowship at a deep level and the experience of Christian unity in prayer with Christians all over the world.

When it is true to its original purpose and meaning, the World Day of Prayer observance has five elements:

Central Davie FFA Plans Observance

The G. V. McCallum Chapter of Future Farmers of America held its regular meeting on February 8, in the Vocational Agriculture classroom with the President, William West, presiding.

After the opening ceremony the chapter proceeded to discuss the Father-Son and Mother-Daughter Banquet. The group set a tentative date for the affair (April 1, 1966), decided on the choice of music and the attire.

The chapter then proceeded to make plans for the National FFA Week Program which begins February 19th and extends through February 26th. The chapter will present daily morning programs at Central Davie High School to express the importance of FFA Week to the students and faculty. The climax of the FFA Week program will include a special program to be held in the Central Davie High School Auditorium on Thursday February 24th at 1:30 p. m.

Following the discussion of these business items, the meeting was adjourned. John Goolsby, Reporter William West, President

Come in and take on a tiger! The only thing that looks low-priced on a Pontiac Tempest is its price sticker. And that's removable. Take it off, and there's just a pure, unabridged Pontiac: crisp, Wide-Track style and handling. A handsome interior. Plus the effervescent performance of a new, overhead cam 6 engine that puts out with all the spunk of an 8, yet saves like the traditional 6. And of course, being a Pontiac, Tempest allows you the luxury of choice—with options in engines, transmissions, suspensions, practically everywhere. And like all Pontiacs, Tempest also has a standard safety package with items like seat belts to buckle—front and rear. (That ought to do for now, We'll tell you the rest when you get here.) Girl Scout News

Thinking Day

A "Thinking Day" program will be held in the auditorium of the Mocksville Elementary School Monday night, Feb. 22, at 7 p. m. Parents and the general public are invited. "Times for Daisy" contributions will be taken.

February 22 is the birthday of both Lord and Lady Baden-Powell and, since 1926, has been set aside as "Thinking Day." International Friendship goes on every day of the year. However, February is the month that Girl Scouts and Girl Guides set aside for special emphasis on this part of their program. Thinking Day reminds us of the friendship that exists among the countries that have Scouts and Guides. On this day, members of the movement sent their greetings to other members all over the world.

This is the time when troops in the Pilot Area Council are encouraged to join in a special event for the collection of the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund, or the "Times for Daisy". The individual donation may be small - but they add up until they support the Girl Scouts' unique exchange of girls and adults from all parts of this country and all areas of the free world. The exchange of persons begins with the donations.

In 1964, the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund provided international opportunities for 378 Guides and Girl Scouts; 153 from the USA, and 223 from fifty-two countries around the world.

Entries from local Girl Scout Troop No. 266 were judged Tuesday afternoon, February 8, for the spring Craft Festival, to be held by Pilot Area Girl Scout Council in Winston-Salem.

Hebe Hall's needlework framed picture was awarded a ribbon for first place. Other winners were Dobbie Brown, for a sweater she had knitted, and Ritz Ann Lyons, whose entry was a framed picture made of bits of crushed bottles glued in design on burlap.

Honorable mention were given to other girl scouts who participated in the Craft Festival, for their exhibits.

FUNERALS

WILLIAM E. PLOWMAN
William Ellis Plowman, 62, of Advance, Rt. 1, died at 4:30 a. m. Monday at Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem. He was born in Davie County to J. S. and Emma Foster Plowman.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Annie Fox Plowman; five daughters, Misses Annie Ruth Katie Lee, Josephine, Marilyn Elizabeth, and Cathy Dianne Plowman of the home; 5 sons, Billie Gray, William, David, Larry, and Danny Plowman of the home; his mother of Mocksville, Rt. 4; two brothers, Sanford Lee Plowman of Clemmons and John S. Plowman of Advance, Rt. 1; four sisters, Mrs. Bertha Gregory of Mocksville, Rt. 4, Mrs. Luther Trivette of Mocksville, Mrs. Rad Bailey of Mocksville, Rt. 3, and Mrs. Grady Wilhelm of Re'mont.

The funeral was held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Bethlehem Methodist Church. Burial was in the church cemetery.

IRIE NORRIS FRYE

Irie Norris Frye, 46, of Mocksville died at 6:23 a. m. Sunday at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Salisbury after a five-month illness. He was born in Davie County to Rufus L. and Mattie Cartwright Frye.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Laura H. Davies Frye; a daughter, Miss Rosemary Frye of the home; a son, David Frye of the home; his mother of Salisbury and two brothers Ralph Frye of Salisbury and James Frye of Coolidge.

The funeral was held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at Eaton's Chapel. Burial was in Jepia Cemetery.

The United States had 21 million horses in 1915, but the number dwindled as automobiles became popular. Horses numbered 12 million in 1953 and two million in 1960.

Wind Storm Damages Area

Gusts of wind up to 55 miles an hour raked across this area Sunday knocking down power lines, uprooting trees, blowing television aerials off roofs, blowing off roofs of barns, etc.

However, no major damage was reported in this area.

Power service was interrupted in several spots throughout the county and many were without power for various periods of time. Both Duke Power and the Davie Electric Membership Corporation had crews out working throughout most of the days.

Most of the broken lines were caused by limbs being blown off trees onto the lines & trees falling across lines. A tree fell across the lines on South Main Street and the south Mocksville area was without power until after noon Sunday.

Some of the other damage reported was as follows:

The smokestack at Heritage was blown down; trees blown down at the homes of C. F. Meroney, E. C. Morris, and the R. P. Anderson homeplace.

Chimney was blown down at the R. L. Soffley home on North Main Street.

A tree was blown across the highway (US 64) near Center disrupting traffic for a brief spell.

There was a basement cave-in at the Buster Cleary home on Avon Street damaging a new 1966 Chevrolet.

Several broken plate glass windows were reported.

Rotary Is Entertained By Accordion Artist

The Mocksville Rotary Club was entertained Tuesday by an artist of the accordion, Mrs. Ed Cox.

Mrs. Cox told the story of her experience with the accordion, playing certain selections to illustrate the era she was describing.

Mrs. Cox told the Rotarians that her father was in the construction business and therefore the family moved from city to city with his business. Her father, being very musically inclined, encouraged his two daughters to take up music and inasmuch they moved about so often, the accordion became the instrument.

"Portable music in a box", was the way she described it.

She told of taking her first lesson in New York and played several of the first pieces she was taught . . . one of which was "London Bridge".

"And I literally played my way through college", said Mrs. Cox describing how she played the accordion and sang for banquets, parties, and other gatherings, making money to be applied to her college education.

Mrs. Cox continued the story of her experience which included several professional appearances on radio and with entertainment troupes in theatres throughout the country. She interspersed her story with selections of famous accordion numbers, popular songs, and hymns.

Ed Cox had charge of the program and introduced his wife. President Bryan Sell presided.

Quail Hunting Season Extended To Feb. 26.

Tom B. Woodruff, Wildlife (protector) of Davie County, said the Wildlife Resources Commission has extended the season on bobwhite quail from Tuesday, February 15, through Saturday, February 26. Mr. Woodruff said this will give Tarheel bird hunters an extra ten days of shooting, including two Saturdays.

The Commission's action was taken after a survey by field personnel disclosed that there is a harvestable supply of birds still available, and an extended hunting season would not endanger brood stock for producing next fall's crop of birds.

Rotary Marks Anniversary

This week the Rotary Club of Mocksville will observe the 61st anniversary of the founding of Rotary on February 23, 1905, in Chicago, Illinois. The local club's plans for making the milestone include honoring the charter members of the club.

Bryan Sells, president of the local Rotary club, in announcing the anniversary meeting, said, "The celebration of this occasion is global in scope, for there are more than 12,200 Rotary clubs and 581,500 Rotarians in 131 countries. Thus, Rotary meetings marking this occasion will be held in many languages, including Arabic, Buimese, Flemish, Gaelic, Korean, Japanese, and Persian."

The Rotary Club of Mocksville, organized in 1945, has 52 members, each a business or professional man of this community. Since membership of the club is composed of one man from each business or professional activity, the local club represents a cross-section of the city's business life. This basic for membership began with the first club & has continued through the years to become a major characteristic of the Rotary organization.

The program of Rotary in each community is determined by the local club itself. Here in Mocksville the Rotary Club has sponsored Boy Scout Troop No. 375 for years; co-sponsored local boys to Boys' State; held annual "Farmers' Night"; & many other projects.

The local club is grouped with 35 other clubs in this area to form a Rotary district.

Benny Naylor—Non-Jaycees Recipient

The 1966 DSA Award—Service Above Self

There are many young men in Mocksville deserving of the annual Distinguished Service Award presented by the Jaycees. There were many this year to whom it could have been awarded.

This award is presented annually by the Jaycees to the young man between the ages of 21 and 35 who in the opinion of a board of judges provided unselfish and distinguished service over and above the call of duty.

This year the award went to Floyd Benson Naylor, known to so many by the nickname, "Benny".

This award has been presented annually for the past 17 years and this is the first time it has ever gone to a non-Jaycee. Benny Naylor is not a member of the Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce. The fact that Benny was picked over several most-outstanding Jaycees is highly complimentary not only for Benny, but for the Mocksville Jaycee organization as well. For the Jaycee organization is composed of energetic and active young men . . . always on the go . . . always donating time and effort towards improving their community. But . . . the Jaycees can also recognize service without their organization and by doing this perhaps did more to promote the spirit of Jayceism than by any other act.

The Jaycees were the original sponsors of the Cub Scouts in Mocksville and down through the years have had many distinguished Cubmasters. In May 1960 Benny Naylor registered as the Cubmaster of Pack 574. At that time there was a total of 38 Cub Scouts. Due to his effort of operating a good scouting program and recruiting den mothers, the Pack grew to a total of 50 Cub Scouts by May 1964. At this time, Benny resigned as Cubmaster to become Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 575. Through his efforts, a total of 92 different boys in Mocksville were able to receive the Cub Scout program during these four years. Also, today he is continuing to render the same unselfish service as assistant scoutmaster.

In addition to his work with the scouts, Benny is active in all phases of activity at the First Baptist Church.

The activities of Benny Naylor were not inspired by a club or an organization of which he was a part. His activities came only from a personal desire to use his time and energies for the benefit of others. The fact that he did so . . . without plaudits . . . without recognition . . . and continued year-in and year-out to do a good job . . . bespeaks most highly of this young man.

The terminating lines of the Jaycee Creed: "That service to humanity is the greatest work in life" . . . summarizes this DSA award . . . not only for Benny Naylor . . . but for the Jaycees as well. This is the exemplification of: "Service above self".

First Club Founded 61 Years Ago

Rotary Marks Milestone

Rotarians of Mocksville this week are observing the 61st anniversary of the founding of the first Rotary club. Within the next few days, more than 581,500 Rotarians who belong to 12,000 clubs in 131 countries will have celebrated this occasion.

Rotary began in Chicago on February 23, 1905, when four business associates came together to lessen the loneliness in their lives and to test the founder's belief that business relations could — and should — foster friendly relations. Business practices, thought the founder, need not be a barrier to friendship.

Since those early days, Rotary has become a prime mover in community-betterment work, youth activities, helping the crippled and the handicapped, raising the standards of business and professional practices, and in forming friendly personal ties among men that have contributed to better international understanding.

It has long been our observation that Rotarians believe in practicing rather than preaching. They are more concerned with finding new opportunities for service than with patting themselves on the back for past achievements.

The Rotary club of this community, as do other Rotary clubs in their communities, helps in many ways to make Mocksville a better place to live and to work and to raise happy, healthy families.

Our congratulations to Rotarians of this community on this anniversary. We wish for the Rotary clubs of the world continued success in rendering the kind of creative service to humanity for which Rotary is especially suited.

Loans Total More Than $31 Million First Year

Rural People Helped By Loan Program

In the first full year of operation, Economic Opportunity loans advanced by the Farmers Home Administration helped nearly 125,000 low-income rural people increase their incomes & raise their standard of living, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced today.

In 1965, more than 18,000 rural families received individual loans totaling nearly $31 million. The money was used to establish small business and service enterprises and to improve small farm operations. About 42 percent of the individual loans were to rural nonfarm people.

An additional $3.5 million in Economic Opportunity loans went to 261 cooperatives made up mostly of low-income farm families. About 90 percent of these loans were used to purchase farm machinery that could be jointly used by the co-op members to make their farming operations more efficient and profitable.

"For many rural families," Secretary Freeman said, "this loan program is a dignified and effective means to combat poverty. It provides low-income people with the financial and technical assistance they need to develop skills and experience to improve their incomes."

In 1965, a total of 45,000 applications for individual Economic Opportunity loans and 700 applications for cooperative loans were received in the county offices of the Farmers Home Administration. Puerto Rico had the greatest lending activity during the 12-month period. Leading states were Mississippi, Georgia, Florida, Arkansas, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia. Sixty percent of the loans were made in the South and 20 percent in the Midwest.

A study of the first 5,000 Economic Opportunity individual rural borrowers shows that 81 percent had less than $2,000 a year available for family living in 1964. Thirty-five percent had less than $1,000. Borrower families average more than 5 members each, and 80 percent are headed by persons 40 years of age or more.

In the first 6 months of the program 44 percent of all individual loans made in the South went to Negro borrowers. Negroes participated in more than half of cooperatives financed.

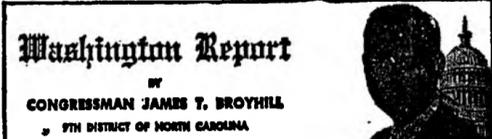

Individual loans are used to establish a great variety of business and service enterprises: radio and television repair, roadside market stands, auto repair, carpentry, painting, trucking, barbershops — in all, almost 300 different types of enterprises.

Economic Opportunity loans to individuals may be repaid over periods up to 15 years at 4-1/8 percent interest. Loans to cooperatives are for periods of up to 30 years at the same interest rate. All borrowers receive management advice and guidance from local county supervisors of the Farmers Home Administration.

Do You Remember This Around The Year 1910??

This Livery Stable of R. M. James was located on Depot Street in Mocksville near where Hartman Electric Company now stands. The son of R. M. James, Herman C. James, who now lives on Maple Avenue made possible identification of the people in the above picture as Milton B. Brown, former Fire-Chief in Winston-Salem (now retired) and June Woodruff. Perhaps some of our readers can shed more light on this.

Washington Report
BY CONGRESSMAN JAMES T. BROYHILL
7TH DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA

COLD WAR G. I. BILL
It is rare, indeed, when 381 people, representing widely differing viewpoints, see eye-to-eye or any major legislative proposal. One of those rare occasions came last week as every member of the House of Representatives present and voting favored a bill to extend special benefits to veterans with military service during the "cold war." The bill recognizes a fact of life that legislation, long overdue in my opinion, recognizes a fact of life that has been ignored, at least in the legal sense, for the last ten years. In the past, we have had special programs popularly called the "G. I. Bill of Rights" for veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict. The philosophy of these programs was based upon the belief that those young men who defend their country in time of peril are entitled to consideration by a grateful nation. These old programs assisted war veterans with education, home loans, job counseling and placement, and in a number of other ways. There are few American families that have not been affected by the programs in some way. In fact, I feel that most Americans believe that the G. I. Bill of Rights was a very sound investment and that it has contributed to a stronger nation.

Benefits from the program expired for men whose military service occurred after January 31, 1955. On this point, a serious issue arose. Our veterans laws are based upon concepts of definable periods of war and peace. This worked well enough until after World War II. Peacetime armies were small and involved only professional volunteers. However, the national interest requires different concepts today. I think that we must consider the sacrifices many of our young men have been called upon to make. The defense of the country has required a large standing Army, Navy and Air Force. We have been compelled to continue involuntary military service. But whether service is voluntary or involuntary, the fact remains that many thousands of young men have put on the uniform of their country requiring them to disrupt their normal civilian lives. Still, the so-called universal military service has not been "universal." In years past, many of those fully qualified for military service have not been drafted since the draft quotas were low. The question now involves what consideration should be given our young veterans.

Single or married, in college or just about to enter, whatever one's status, compulsory military service results in one losing his status in civilian life. It is time lost in a career. The period of readjustment following the service is often difficult and sometimes long. Briefly, the new legislation, which is now on its way to the White House for consideration by the President, provides help for men who have served in the Armed Forces since January 31, 1955. Educational benefits will assist many of our veterans to return to school to complete educations that were interrupted or to provide training for men who might not otherwise have had the opportunity for more education. This would apply not only to the high school or college level, but also in trade, vocational, and technical schools. Under the bill a veteran can compute his eligibility on the basis of one month of training for each month of military service up to 36 months. In addition, the guaranteed direct home loans familiar under the old G. I. Bills will be made a part of the new program. Our "cold war" veterans will also be provided with medical care in veterans hospitals to a degree which has not been possible before under former laws. I will furnish a full explanation of the bill's provisions to anyone requesting it.

Certainly, the years of the "cold war" have not been years of peace as we look back over the threats and sacrifices of a series of military crises in Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Taiwan-Matua, Lebanon, Berlin, Laos, and Viet-Nam. The perpetual cold war condition, with its cries, compulsory military service, and expanded overseas commitments, makes this bill necessary if our servicemen during this tense period of history, are to receive equitable treatment.

Senator Jordan Reports:
By SEN. B. EVERETT JORDAN

WASHINGTON — Congress has approved legislation which will be of tremendous benefit to veterans who have served in the Armed Forces since the Korean War. The new "GI Benefits Bill" will make all the persons who have served in the Armed Forces on active duty since February 1, 1965, for a period of 180 days or more eligible for benefits under the program.

The program is not limited to servicemen who have served or are serving in Vietnam or other areas of combat. Instead it covers all of these servicemen plus any others who have been on active duty in any of our armed services. The primary purpose of the program is to encourage and promote the education of servicemen and veterans in institutions of higher learning. The new law provides that educational assistance will be provided for up to 36 calendar months of school or training. The assistance rates for full-time training or education are $100 per month for a single veteran, $125 for a veteran with one dependent, and $150 for a veteran with more than one dependent. Proportionately lower rates for less than full-time training or education are also provided.

Another key part of the new program is a GI home loan program which was so popular and beneficial among veterans of World War II and the Korean War. Under the new program, the Veterans Administration may guarantee as much as $7,500 of a loan made by a private lender for a veteran's home.

The new program also provides for non-service-connected medical care for veterans in V. A. hospitals and preference will be given to veterans in obtaining employment with the federal government. There are many, many thousands of veterans who have served since the Korean War who will be eligible for the first time to obtain benefits under the new program, and more detailed information will be available in the near future from the various V. A. offices and veterans service office located throughout the Nation.

Senator SAM ERVIN Says:

WASHINGTON — Repeal of Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, which authorizes the States to enact right-to-work laws, is dead for this session. Defeat came when the Senate split almost evenly, 50-49, on whether debate should be shut-off. To the problems involved in waging Congressional attention now turns the Vietnam War with measures coming up on supplemental appropriations and taxes.

Clearing the Senate calendar of this issue means that employees in 19 right-to-work states can continue to decide whether they will join or refrain from joining a union and pay or refrain from paying union dues. Had Section 14 (b) been repealed, a basic right would have been taken away from the American worker.

The discussion is over for the time being, but it is foreseeable that the fight will be renewed in the future. For this reason, I think it is important that employees be aware of a major fallacy inherent in the arguments advanced for repeal of right-to-work laws. When all is said, the repeal proposal begins and ends as a call for compulsory unionism. Foremost among the argument advanced is the union contention that workers should pay for benefits of bargaining and no one should be a "free rider."

Stripped to its barest essentials, the so-called free rider argument affords no justification for compulsory unionism. In a sense all of us are free riders. We receive the heritage of the past without paying anything for it. Other voluntary associations carry on activities which benefit a great many of us who do not contribute any financial or other support to them. It is absurd for any particular voluntary organization which may happen to benefit any group of people to demand that such people be compelled to support it against their will. Yet, this is essentially what unions do when they demand compulsory unionism.

One of the great friends of unions of by-gone days, the late Justice Brandeis, said that unions hindered on the power to draft unwilling men into unions. He said that to compel people to join any organization against their will is unconstitutional and is in irreconcilable conflict with the fundamental principles for which this country was established.

I think that unions insult themselves when they say that they cannot get members to support them without having the power to draft men into membership. Any worthwhile organization, the most of the unions fall within this category, can obtain sufficient members by peaceful, voluntary persuasion. The churches have thrived upon this principle, and unions can, too. The retention of Section 14 (b) as part of our labor-management law simply means that workers will still have freedom of choice, a most precious possession, in right-to-work states.

Ponce de Leon named Florida after the beautiful wildflowers growing there in abundance.

Mrs. W. Kerr Scott, of Haw River, wife of the late Governor, and Franklin Teague, of Elon College, president of the North Carolina Dairy Association, are 1966 Co-Chairmen of Farmers-for-Heart in North Carolina. They will lead rural and farm leaders in support of the North Carolina Heart Association's year-round programs.

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM OUR RALEIGH BUREAU
2615 Oberlin Road

MOVING IN . . . Armed with an expanded force and endless funds, the U. S. Department of Labor in January began rigid, no-holds-barred enforcement of the Federal wage-hour law . . . in Southern states.

Word reaches us that several large firms in the central areas of North Carolina are now on the carpet. Back pay for one of these companies to its employees may run to $100,000.

Several very, very small firms—some with fewer than 15 employees—will be hit for upwards of $5,000. Sharp government auditors are moving in.

The noose is being tightened. Uncle Sam is going back two years—the maximum time under this law—and making employers whose firms are in interstate commerce tote fair with their workers. What is "fair"?

These employees should have been paid at least $1.25 an hour, and time-and-a-half for each hour worked weekly over 40 hours.

The government is going to each employee to determine whether he has been underpaid. And if so how much. A few employees stand to get over $1,000 each in back pay. If you are connected with a firm other than retailing that sells across state lines — into Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, for example—then you are on the receiving end or the paying end of a minimum of $1.25 an hour. You are in interstate commerce.

If you are an employee of such a firm, you are certainly interested. Employers in such companies should go back to their records at once. Get the evidence. Should employees have to go into court, they can get exactly double the amount originally due them.

If the firm is engaged in manufacturing, processing, printing, etc., odds are it is—and has been—under the Federal wage-hour law.

SANFORD FRIENDS . . . It is too early to predict how it will shape up, but we note here and there that good, long-time friends of former Gov. Terry Sanford are announcing for the Legislature.

And some who have not yet announced are clearing the way to do so.

With reapportionment drastically reducing the number of legislators from the coastal and mountain counties, former Gov. Sanford could come up with as many supporters as Gov. Moore in the 1967 General Assembly.

SECOND TERM? . . . The rumor still persists that T. Sanford will run for Governor again in 1968. But, even if he should, it seems extremely doubtful at this time that he could defeat Lt. Gov. Bob Scott.

Young Scott could still slub his toe, however. And don't make the mistake of thinking that Sanford doesn't have literally thousands of people out there who would rather have his Governor than anybody else on the face of this earth. Bob Scott knows this, too.

MISTAKE . . . Some children were writing about "Governor Moore's Broom". They were getting after the Governor for not reappointing more of Sanford's appointees.

In this editorial they said, apparently seriously: ". . . Terry Sanford accepted Luther Hodges' appointments. William Umstead accepted Kerr Scott's. And as far as we know, new governors have always done likewise, simply because it's the only way to preserve the stability and continuity of state government."

Wow! Well, anybody who has kept up with North Carolina "state government" for any length of time knows just how far, far off-base the editorial is. Some of these days—and it won't be long—a list of new appointments by Governors Scott, Umstead, Hodges, and Sanford will be published. And it will be as long as your arm, too.

J. McDEVITT . . . So, when it was noted that Brookes Peters was not reappointed to the State Utilities Commission (because of age), this column said Peters was being replaced by John W. McDevitt "who was himself 'retired' by Gov. Terry Sanford in 1961 as State Personnel Director."

But the column was wrong, dead wrong. McDevitt, good man, was not kicked out by Gov. Sanford, as we had long thought. We were sure he was—so sure we didn't even check on it. No he left of his own accord, joining a Durham insurance firm, during Gov. Sanford's first year in office.

He was replaced by Ed Lanier, who left the personnel post to become Insurance Commissioner. Hugh Cannon, who is associated with Terry Sanford in the practice of law, set us straight. Cannon was State budget officer and director of the Department of Administration under Gov. Sanford.

Mr. Cannon's letter begins, "I notified in your column the other day" . . . and he takes off from there. Mr. McDevitt left of his own accord for a better-paying job, and his departure came as a surprise to the Sanford administration.

McDevitt had assurances from the Sanford people that he had their support for they felt he had done a good job—as he will as a member of the State Utilities Commission. This column was a little unfair to Gov. Sanford, and to Mr. McDevitt, and are glad to set the record straight.

TWENTY-FIFTH . . . The N. C. Citizens Association will hold its 25th annual meeting here on March 16. The speaker will be Stuart Sanders, chairman of the board of Pennsylvania Railroad.

60 Second Sermon
By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "O, Lord . . . give me one thing more — a grateful heart."

— George Herbert

A little boy was asked by his Sunday School teacher to make a list of the things for which he was thankful, and tell why. He wrote:

"I am thankful that I have to wear glasses. They keep the big boys from fighting me and the little girls from kissing me."

It seems trite to repeat that we all have so much for which to be thankful. Yet we forget to be grateful for our many blessings.

A year ago an American family, disgruntled over conditions in the United States, took up residence in Russia. Recently, the family returned, grateful that it could, and completely disillusioned. They found Russia highly over-rated, a hoax, an impossible place for a family that had been accustomed to freedom, conveniences, varieties of food and clothing, and free worshiping and working conditions.

If we are never thankful for anything else, let's be thankful that we live in the United States and are free to think and speak as we please; where we may have a job of our choosing and may worship God wherever and whenever we please. Being thankful for what you have will pave the way for even greater blessings.

HEALTH TIPS FROM THE American Medical Association

SPORTS FOR ADULTS
"C'mon, be a sport," your friend challenges. Almost before you know it, you're an athlete — member of the local athletic association, the church league, or the neighborhood hunting group.

A new leaflet from the American Medical Association cautions that before rigorous activity begins, shape up — arrange for a health examination, check your diet, plan for sufficient sleep, then begin your conditioning program.

A medical examination, usually required for high school athletes, is recommended for sports-minded adults, too — although athletic organizations may not request it. Before beginning sports activity, says the AMA, see your physician for a thorough checkup with emphasis on your heart, circulatory and respiratory systems and reflexes.

Athletes need the same food as spectators — but more of it. A daily diet should include nutrients found in the four basic food groups: meat and meat substitutes, milk and milk products, vegetables and fruits, breads and cereals. As you become more active, your appetite and food consumption will probably increase. Endurance sports call for stepped-up (but not excessive) amounts of carbohydrates. No single health food will make you a star performer.

The more active you are, the more sleep you will need. Even if your sport is not a vigorous one, your need for rest will increase slightly. Rest, however, will be more beneficial and easier to come by as a result of greater muscular activity.

The shift from spectator to sportsman must be gradual. Athletes recognize this and practice for two to three weeks before the first game of the season and earlier, train individually. Players should warm up before every practice, and so should the adult sportsman. After a medical checkup, begin your conditioning with brisk walking, mild running, or skipping rope — activities which work up an athletic sweat and increase endurance. Plan ahead and put yourself in training. You — and your performance, too — will be shaped up.

Mohawks Are Ready For Tournament

Seniors Lead Central Davie

By HENRY CROTA

The mighty Mohawks jumped into a quick lead and never relinquished it, as they hit the Rockets of Catawba High School with a tremendous offensive attack and all but swept them off the court in scoring a 71-50 home-court victory.

The Mohawks caught fire in the opening of the game by putting on a fabulous shooting and ball-handling exhibition.

The win not only gave Central High its 11th victory, but also kept alive their undefeated home court record.

Seniors William West and George Scott led the Mohawks fire-powering attack by pouring in 20 points each respectively.

West ignited his spark in the first half with his soft-touch jump shot and his audacious top-ins. He also collected the most rebounds and led the fast-break on several occasions.

Scott, blazing hot in the second half kept the fire going by shooting his variety of judicious shots. At one instant he jumped in eight consecutive points from the outside. His torrid shooting ending any hopes that the Rockets might have had.

Eric Hudson posted 10 points in the Central Davie attack and was the key to just about every important move the Mohawks made.

Lewis Peebles was second in the rebound production and scored 9 points.

Elliott Wilkes great on defense stole a lot of passes and scored 8 points.

Robert Holman and Edward Johnson scored 1 each. Henry West scored 2 points.

The mighty Mohawks went on the war-path in a revenge riot and ripped the Indians of J. J. Jones High 50-50.

The game see-sawed until the second quarter when the Mohawks constructed a 9 point lead.

In the third quarter the Indians went on a sprint that put them in the lead by 1 point.

The Mohawks then put on a shooting show of its own which shot them past the Indians by 16 points.

Senior William West led the Mohawks torrid shooting attack with his outside shooting and tremendous follow throughs scored 17 points.

Senior George Scott repeatedly kept the Mohawks in the game with a combination of out-sideshooting and under the board layups, dropped in 15 points.

Eric Hudson, using his fancy ball handlings an advantage drove all over the Indians in the crucial periods and gathered 13 points.

Elliott Wilkes moving the ball with tremendous speed and passing with deadly accuracy was the play-maker of the night with 7 points.

Lewis Peebles great on defense grabbed the most rebounds and scored 6 points. David who came in the game in the last quarter scored 2 points.

The Mohawkets were victorious with a 24-17 win. Carol Gaither was top scorer with 12 points. Flora Wilkes 7, Alice Isaac 2, Patricia Dillard 2, and Annie James 1.

Our next home game will be February 17, when the Mohawks will open their first round of the N. D. A. Conference by playing the Indians of J. J. Jones High School.

The Mohawks are scheduled to play in Landis Monday night, February 14.

On The Home Front

When making juicy pies, cut lower crust half inch larger than top. Fold over like a ham and juices will not leak out readily.

Do not mix salads until ready to use.

Cook and fry eggs at low temperature to prevent them from becoming tough.

To stretch salad dressing or mayonnaise, add pickle juice. It gives a good flavor.

Fix Ahead Meal

1 stewing chicken
1 can chicken or mushroom soup or 2 cups chicken stock.

Cooked rice for 6.
3 dozen biscuits

Stew chicken and remove bones. Put cooked rice in casserole. Place chicken on top. Pour over the soup or broth. Set aside. About thirty minutes before serving, top with biscuits and cook until brown. This dish can be frozen nicely, but leave off the biscuits.

Yum Yum Salad

1 box lime jello
1 can crushed pineapple
1 can condensed milk chilled
1/2 cup sugar, juice of 1/2 lemon.
1/2 cup grated cheese.

Bring pineapple and lemon juice and sugar to a boil. Dissolve jello with one cup boiling water. Let cool, then add the cooled boiled mixture, fold in grated cheese and whipped milk. Chill in refrigerator.

FARM TOUR

Forty Davie and Catawba County farmers toured Wake County on February 8 and visited the farms of P. R. Nipper and Walt Thomas. The group had lunch at the Faculty Club at North Carolina State University. In Raleigh, Don Pardue, Farm Management Specialist, talked to the group on the importance of record keeping.

Don't Bushwhack Your Trees
Watch out! This is the season for bushwhacking trees. Stop, look, think, and you won't top your trees. Why? Here are four reasons:

1. Heavy cutting back of trees removes the limbs on which the leaves grow. The leaves make food for the tree; therefore, reducing the leaves reduces the food. The tree in desperation, puts out new limbs, but this isn't enough to support a large trunk and root system. The roots and trunk begin to decay and in a few years the trees die or is blown down.

2. Topping trees destroys their natural shape. Prune young trees when transplanted to offset loss of roots, but after that little pruning will be necessary. When planting, if the tree has a central leader such as sycamore or Pin Oak, don't cut the top. Remove some of the side branches and shorten the others back. Leave the lower branches the first year to protect the trunk from sun scald. Then, as tree grows, gradually remove the limbs (before they exceed one inch of diameter) until the lowest limb is 10 to 12 feet high. Watch for "Y" shaped crotches; remove one of the branches to avoid a possible split in the trunk later on. Little further pruning will be necessary except to cut out dead wood.

3. Cutting off limbs will make a tree compact. But most trees are top compact; they may need thinning cut to let more sun in. Also, more sun is needed on the grass underneath.

4. Unless large limbs are properly removed and the wound kept covered with special tree paint (water asphalt will do), decay will set in and you have a diseased tree.

If you need to remove large limbs for safety or because of utility wires (don't plant a tall growing tree under wires) have an expert do it. Any man that comes around wanting to top your trees doesn't know the first thing about tree pruning. Consult your county agricultural agent for a list of reputable tree surgeons.

Around The Old Well
By JOAN PAGE

CHAPEL HILL — "Student political action" and "academic freedom" are subjects attracting a lot of attention these days. They are making headlines throughout the United States, as well as in North Carolina.

Academic deans from over the nation considered these topics at length during a six-day institute just concluded on the University of North Carolina campus.

In an address, the Dean of Student Affairs at the University of Wisconsin said there is no factual basis for assuming there is widespread student political activism or widespread denial of the freedom of such political activism.

"It is not the majority causing most of our difficulty on campuses," Dean Joseph F. Kauffman stressed. He admitted, however, that it does not take a majority to upset or challenge a system—educational or political.

Kauffman discussed the current "student mood" and cited developments that have led to the present situation on university campuses.

Effectiveness of nonviolent, but militant, civil rights protests has brought to the campus a new appreciation of tactics, techniques and commitment he observed.

Young political activities of the civil rights movement have brought with them a zeal for organizing and demonstrating. They have unleashed a sense of unused power that students now possess to organize, resist and defy authorities if necessary.

"They have seen laws changed, rules altered, practices discarded and myths crumbled by resistance and defiance," Kauffman illustrated. He warned his fellow deans not to underestimate the identification of some college students with the "underdog" who has had to keep "his place" and learn to live with the system.

"The assembly line to college, myths about the satisfaction of a college experience, the totally limited alternatives to going to college, and now the draft—all compose a picture of considerable ambivalence for the student," Kauffman explained "Not all see it as golden opportunity."

A high degree of student participation and "successful" social and political activity can be seen, he continued, in the seemingly successful student involvement in the fight for cessation of nuclear testing in the atmosphere, civil rights legislation, the concept of volunteerism and service personified by the Peace Corps, VISTA and tutoring projects.

"Unfortunately, I must add to this some recent anti Viet Nam activity and the loudness of the 'radical Left' or 'new Left'. This seriously confuses a trend I had personally welcomed and felt contained much educational ferment & hopefulness. We sorely need an atmosphere of hopefulness on campus."

Not enough students feel they can do anything to shape the future of the world, Kauffman added, and too many refrain from any part in molding life in their own community.

He further observed that student political life is today approaching a "low ebb," whereas it once held promise of playing a significant role in the educational fabric of the country. Two reasons were cited for this development.

First, he listed the recent failure of the Republican party to be a real opposition party, leaving a "consensus" politics that fails to interest most students.

Secondly, he pointed to Left and Right extremism which has "stilled the voice of the center" and those who wish to pose rational solutions to specific issues rather than deal with ideological approaches to society as a whole. Irresponsible behavior of splinter groups, who have personal satisfaction or a special view of society priority over the political and moral issues involved, have severely injured many substantial movements on campuses, he noted. Many student groups have found themselves embarrassed by commitment of their "movement" to political ends with which they do not identify.

As to the relationship between student political action and the principles of academic freedom, Kauffman warned that it is easy to confuse rights of the citizen in representative government with rights of the student in an institution.

"Students are not the legal source of power in a college, with officials serving their will," he stated. "Legally, as well as morally, citizens of the civil community authorize colleges and universities and delegate to specific bodies and agents the responsibility and authority for institutional control, including control of students." He added that prudent and wise use of that authority should include wide participation and consultation of students.

Five freedoms for which students are revolting were cited. They are freedom to discuss issues and problems of students' own choosing; to editorialize in student press; to become one's potentialities regardless of race, color or creed; and to participate in decision-making.

In conclusion, Kauffman acknowledged those who think college students should not commit themselves to anything political; that the reason for their being in college is to study and learn.

It would be a tragic mistake if we were to flee from problems caused by student political activity and attempt to achieve the 'quiet campus,' he declared. "We have to nourish and even facilitate political activity and social action for these are precious ingredients in the higher education experience."

He called on deans to help students define the "burning issues," to get the faculty to respond, and to show students how to properly advocate, express indignation, argue and disagree.

Ways need to be found, he suggested, to build upon experiences of those politically involved and feed those experiences back into the campus to illuminate the men-talities of those who have no commitment and to lend more meaning in the activism of those engaged in controversy.

"The faculty must not merely tolerate student political activity and social action, it should assume full responsibility for the climate of freedom that exists and for the understanding both inside and outside the classroom of the purposes for which freedom is to be used.

stated Kauffman. "The discriminating selection of those purposes for which human passion, energy and wisdom is expected should be one of the significant criteria used in validating the worth of the higher learning we offer."

Pfc. Gary Jones Is Serving In Germany

Army Pfc. Gary V. Jones, son of Mrs. Clyde Jones, Route 4, Box 238, Mocksville, N. C., participated in Exercise MARNE MAULER, an 11-day field training exercise conducted by the 3d Infantry Division in Germany Jan. 29-Feb. 7.

The exercise provided training in tactics against an aggressor force, and trained the division to support itself logistically.

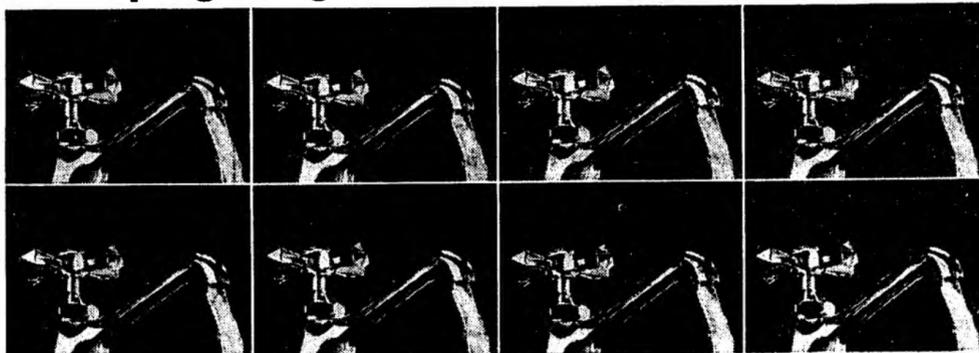

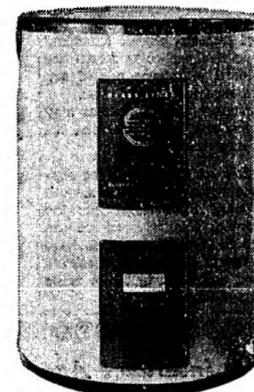

French, German and U. S. air and ground forces took part as friendly and aggressor forces.

MARNE MOULER was part of a year-round program to maintain combat proficiency.

Jones, a cannoneer in Battery C, 1st Battalion of the division's 10th Artillery near Schweinfurt, Germany, entered the Army in April 1964 and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

He attended Davie County High School.

A Quick-Recovery flameless electric water heater can get monotonous. It keeps giving hot water all day long.

And that's all it gives, because a "Quick-Recovery" unit provides hot water faster than the average family can use it. Because this water heater is flameless, no flue or chimney is needed. So it doesn't get in your way, goes anywhere you

HOPE FOR HEARTS

JOURNEY FROM DEATH
A young man sat in the waiting room of his doctor's office one afternoon. Suddenly he moaned and toppled off his chair.

His heart had stopped. Technically, he was dead.

The doctor rushed out, took one look at his patient — who had been waiting for a routine physical check-up — and with the help of his nurse, rolled him on his back, undid his collar, tilted his head back and started to work.

As the nurse breathed through the patient's mouth, forcing air in and out of his lungs, ten to twelve times a minute, the doctor put his hands at the base of the breastbone and began to pump rhythmically, sixty times a minute.

While the stunned people in the waiting room watched, the team continued to pump oxygenated blood through the man's body to keep up the artificial circulation until his heart could take over.

Eventually, his heart did begin to beat again, as it often does in such cases, and the young man recovered — literally brought back from the dead by the quick action of the doctor and his nurse.

The doctor later discovered through tests given at the hospital that a mild heart attack caused this "sudden death." There are other possible causes for sudden stoppage of the heart, according to the North Carolina Heart Association. It is something that occasionally happens during an operation or in drowning, electrical shock, suffocation, blood loss and severe drug reactions.

The victim of "sudden death" can recover fully — provided trained help is available immediately. Speed is essential. If circulation stops for as little as four minutes, the delicate tissues of the brain can suffer irreparable damage from a shortage of oxygen.

For many years the only practical place to revive a stopped heart was the operating room because he only successful way to keep blood circulating was to massage the heart by hand, and that involved opening the chest cavity.

In 1960 the picture changed. A team from Johns Hopkins Medical School devised and perfected the technique for closed-chest massage used later by the young man's doctor.

As closed-chest compression has gained wide acceptance, more and more people likely to be confronted with heart arrest are being trained when to use close-chest massage and how to do it properly, and a statewide training program by the North Carolina Heart Association and its local heart groups is now underway. Simple as the technique is, even a physician needs special training to avoid damage to the heart, lungs, liver and ribs.

THE BLAISE BAPTIST CHURCH PARSONAGE . . . will hold open house this Sunday afternoon from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. The new parsonage, located on County Lane, was built by members of the church. In the above picture Leslie Blackweider, Doug Collins and Lester Blackweider are three of many young men of the church that participated recently in "Operation Snow Removal" to boost the building fund for this new $19,000 parsonage. Others from the team not pictured included Ervin, Verious and Charlie C. Angell, Roger and Jimmy Whitaker, Howard Sherill, Harry Lee Howell, Lloyd Blackweider and the pastor, P. A. Kelly. (Photo by Mrs. Wyona Johnson).

In some cases of "sudden death" the heart will not resume normal beating and becomes a mass of twitching, quivering fibers — its usually well-coordinated electrical system gone awry.

In such a case, the quivering heart is unable to pump and will not begin beating of its own accord.

Electronics have come to the rescue and with devices known as defibrillators, a jolt of electricity is given to the heart to halt the quivering. Then the electrical system can begin to work as it should and the beat resumes.

Defibrillators have recently become standard emergency equipment in hospitals.

Advances in reversing "sudden deaths" have been so dramatic in the past few years that some physicians are dreaming of even bigger and better rescue techniques.

One such dream is that circulation can be maintained mechanically after "death" for hours, or even days, while physicians attempt to correct the cause of death.

Several machines to handle artificial pumping have already been designed and the biggest stumbling blocks to this particular dream are the medical techniques needed actually to reverse a fatal illness.

But visionary as such dreams may seem, one can never tell what the future may hold.

Certainly at the turn of the century, the hopes of reviving stopped hearts must have fallen into the same dream category, and we can all take heart that physicians have these dreams — and the perseverance and dedication to try to make them come true.

Library News

It is Thursday Morning, February the tenth. Yesterday the "Closed for Moving" signs went up on the old library doors, the radio and press apprised the public of the fact and everything was going full steam all day! We had to be ready for the movers to arrive bright and early this morning. There are always last minute things to be done.

Now we are in the new library awaiting the first van load of our possessions, and then the action will really start. Perhaps a better word would be Turnroll, with a capital T.

For despite having everything as orderly as possible, even to having book ends distributed on shelves, sections for various kinds of books marked with signs, and a few new books already on the shelves, we will still taste of bedlam before we can open the doors to the public!

We are grateful for several volunteer workers who are helping us hold the fort — they are just wonderful and enough cannot be said for their patience and fortitude!

Later — The van is here! So until later, friends — Operating date will be announced!

Scope of Sports

By Woody Durham

Lo and behold! Before our weekly column ever reached your local paper last week the two things we had been a bit leery about in our writing had already happened. I'm referring, of course, to Kentucky replacing Duke as the nation's Number One collegiate basketball team in the various national polls, and then that same evening, the Blue Devils being upset by West Virginia 94-90. So Duke did not go into the State game on Thursday night as the country's best as we had thought it would. Nevertheless Coach Vic Bubas is still unbowed. He says, "Being Number One in that last poll is the only one that really counts." Seems to me that if Kentucky had played the same schedule that Duke has then "Rupp's Runts" would not be undefeated at this point. The best team on the Wildcats' schedule has been Vanderbilt, but then again, Kentucky has beaten the Commodore rather soundly on two different occasions and one of those times was on Vandy's home court in Nashville which is a full day's work within itself.

However, it's an old argument as to which team is the best. The real determining factor would be a match between the two somewhere along that long winding path that leads to the NCAA Championship. How about the finals? Well, don't know if that's possible because I don't know what the various regional pairings will be. Could be that they might meet before the finals. Anyway, if it does come about, the battle between Duke and Kentucky would be a real dilly.

Although he was already committed to Merlin Olsen of Allied Chemical, it now appears rather doubtful that Tony Lema will make it to this year's Greater Greensboro Open Tournament which starts on March 31st. Champagne Tony withdrew from the Phoenix Open late last week and headed back to his Dallas, Texas, home where he says he will undergo surgery on an ailing right elbow. The surgery is expected to keep him sidelined for about six to eight weeks, and the GGO tees off in seven. Tony's major concern is getting ready for the Masters the first full week in April. That's a shame because everyone has been looking forward to the possibility of Champagne on the final day of the GGO.

ACC Basketball on Channel 2 this Saturday will have Duke pitted against Maryland at College Park. Then on Sunday at 1 p. m., WFMY-TV will again be host for the annual drawing for pairings in the Carolinas Conference Basketball Tournament which starts on Wednesday, February 23, at the Lexington YMCA. Pro golf returns at 5 p. m. with the final round of Tucson Open.

Tobacco Meeting To Be Held On February 25th

L. T. Weeks, General Manager of Blue-Cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation, and the Cooperative's Director from District No. 9, W. H. Knight of Madison, announced today the 8th annual Stabilization district meeting for tobacco growers in District No. 9. The district includes the following counties from the Old Belt of North Carolina: Stokes, Surry, Rockingham, Caswell, Per-son, Gaston, Yadkin, Forsyth, Guilford, Iredell, Davie, Davidson, Randolph, Rowan, Catawba, Cabarrus, Mecklenburg, Wilkes, Alamance, Cleveland, Caldwell, and Alexander. The meeting will be held in the Wentworth High School Auditorium, Wentworth, N. C., on February 25, beginning at 2:00 p. m.

Both Weeks and Knight stated that the meeting is being held solely for the benefit of tobacco growers and others interested in tobacco. An informative program has been planned, highlighted by an optimistic report from Stabilization's staff concerning the previous year's operations and the outlook for the future.

John D. Palmer, President of Tobacco Associates, Inc., or his representative, will discuss the recent activities of that organization's efforts to promote increased exports of blue-cured tobacco. W. H. W. (Bill) Anderson, Executive Secretary of Tobacco Growers' Information Committee, will discuss current problems confronting the industry, including comments on tobacco taxation and the health issue.

Stabilization's members elect annually at the district meetings an Advisory Committee from each county in the district. The committee members serve the vital function of helping to disseminate information regarding Stabilization's operations to other tobacco growers in their area as well as to the general public.

Both Weeks and Knight pointed out that this meeting offers an excellent opportunity for every grower in the district to learn more about the tobacco program. They encourage all growers to be in

CEDAR CREEK

January brought snow that made our feet and fingers glow. Now February has brought the rain and thawed the frozen lakes again. In the warm sunny spots, the jonquills are unfolding their sleepy heads.

Everyone around here was glad to be able to attend church service Sunday. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Warner Hay. Mrs. Hay accompanied him here.

Rev. L. R. Howell conducted worship services at Shilo Baptist Church in Mocksville, the first Sunday, in the absence of Rev. G. W. Campbell who is home sick. The people of this community are praying for his quick recovery. Rev. Campbell is a former pastor of the Cedar Creek Baptist Church. W. P. Naylor was a recent visitor in the community.

Henry Eaton of Albemarle visited his mother, Mrs. William Eaton, Sunday.

Mrs. Cora Bailey of Winston-Salem visited recently at the home of her brother, E. I. Eaton. While here they visited Alta Eaton, who is a patient in the V. A. Hospital in Salisbury.

Recent callers at the E. K. Eaton home were Ambrose Brock, Roosevelt Sitzer and Arthur Scott.

Mrs. William Truesdale is sick at her home in Four Corners.

Sympathy is not just a word. It is a deep feeling that flows from one's heart for friend and anybody that has misfortune in any way. So our community and friends still extends deepest sympathy to the Studevant family.

Miss Pearl Eaton of Winston-Salem spent the week-end here with her mother, Mrs. Mary Eaton and sister, Margaret.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Campbell of Winston-Salem called at the William Eaton home, Sunday evening.

Wentworth, at the Wentworth High School Auditorium, on February 25, at 2:00 p. m., to participate in this meeting.

Uncle Dave From Davie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was general agreed that the world of today was hurting all over more'n it was hurting in any one place. You don't git deep thinking like this, Mister Editor, from our State Department, and it ain't often you git such grass roots filophy from the Congress.

What brung this matter up was one of the fellers — and I ain't calling his name at this time — reported he was taking next Tuesday for a holiday on account of it being George Washington's birthday. He allowed as how that was one day out of 365 every year when he took off complete. Personal, I never heard tell of him hitting a lick at a blacksnake on the other 364 but I didn't say nothing.

But this got Ed Doolittle to wondering what Washington would think if he could take a quick look today at the country he was the father of, Ed, that has took to crutches since the Great Society got in full swing, was of the opinion ole George would ask the Lord to fergive him fer ever starting this mess.

Zeke Grubb was agreed with Ed, claimed we was going round in circles and gitting no place fast. Fer instant, said Zeke, we got machines that can take ocean water and make it fit to drink, but we was poisoning our rivers with all kinds of chemics faster than we can treat the water hack like it was. And we got pills for everything that can git wrong with us, pills to slow us down, speed us up, make us sleepy, keep us awake, and just about everything that keeps us from feeling natural.

Furthermore, allowed Zeke, they was putting more safety gadgets on cars but was making 'em bigger and faster and ever year we set a new record for folks gitting killed on fancy highways. We was gitting telephones, reported Zeke, that show you who you was talking to, but we live so fast in them big cities a feller don't even know his next door neighbor.

This was a pritty long speech fer Zeke and some of the fellers give him a round of applause. Bug Hookum was agreed with Ed and Zeke, said he had saw a piece in the papers where we got more television sets in this country than we got inside toilets. Bug reported he didn't have neither & the figgered ole Gorge would be on his side. We was better off, claimed Bug, in George's time when all we knowed about science was that when you thumped a watermelon and it went "plunk" it was ripe, and if it went "plink" it was green.

I admit, Mister Editor, they was two sides to this matter, that maybe we ain't making the best of things, but I'd rather be here now than in George's time, even if they was calling garbage collectors "garbologists" in Washington.

Ijames Cross Roads

Almost everyone in the community suffered damages of some kind from last Sunday's wind storm. Shingles and sheets of metal were blown off roofs, and trees and limbs blown down. Fence posts in Elmer Allen's pasture were completely covered by the flood waters of Bear Creek. Some people were mud-bound, while others were troubled with flooded basements.

Mrs. W. V. Gobble is improving and is able to walk with a walker. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Rice and children of Clemmons spent the week-end with them and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Anderson were Sunday guests.

Miss Margaret Beck spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Beck in Lexington. Sunday luncheon guests of the Walt Beck's were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tommy Chalfin.

Due to weather conditions, the James Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Morgan Chaffin, February 8. It was decided at that meeting to have a country store later in the spring and sell homemade items. Mrs. Luther Mrs. Mildred Hege and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gurwood were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Mae Markland at Fork Church.

ELBAVILLE

Mrs. Clara Hartman has returned home from a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman. Mrs. Lena Myers spent Monday with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Hedgecock.

Mr. and Mrs. E. McKnight and children of Clemmons visited Mrs. Della Essex, Sunday afternoon. She accompanied them home for supper.

Mrs. Martin Soffey of Redland visited Mrs. Della Essex, Thursday.

Mrs. Annie Hall spent Saturday visiting her children at Kernersville.

West gave a demonstration on sewing machine attachments. Valentine cake, candy, pickles and punch were served to the nine members present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. White and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Allen visited Mr. and Mrs. Milton Tutterow, Friday night.

YADKIN VALLEY

By MRS. JOE LANGSTON

The Yadkin Valley W. M. S. will meet Monday night, February 21, with Mrs. Joe Langston at her home. All members are urged to attend. Visitors are welcomed.

The Training Union has extended an invitation to Rev. Marvin Garrison to speak at Yadkin Valley on Sunday evening, February 20, at seven-thirty. Mr. Garrison is a student at the Wake Forest Seminary and this message should be of special interest to the young people of the community. The Training Union extends an invitation to all young people, as well as others in the community.

Sunday luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reid Hauser were Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Chesire.

Mrs. Willis Riddle spent the day last Wednesday with Mrs. Gene and Bessie Lee.

Kathy and Ricky Hendrix spent the week-end in Winston-Salem with their grandmother, Mrs. Mattie Hendrix.

Kim McKnight is recuperating from a severe case of chicken pox.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knight and family visited Mrs. Nannie Foster Sunday at the Fran Ray Nursing Home in Mocksville.

Point visited Mr. and Mrs. Rommie McKnight on Sunday.

Children often come up with questions that adults have trouble answering. Last week, Gene Riddle had one for his father; he asked, "Daddy, why is it sometimes a mouse is a mou e, and sometimes a mouse a rat? I'm sure his dad is still recalling having such strong winds. Clint Wilson and Tom Turrentine

Two More File For County Sheriff

Two more Democrats filed during the past week for the office of Sheriff of Davie County.

D. C. (Clint) Wilson of Mocksville R. 4 and Tom Turrentine of Mocksville both paid filing fees and announced their candidacy for this position subject to the Democratic Primary in May.

Clint Wilson has been employed in the beaching department of Erwin Mill for the past 14 years. He is a member of the Jericho Church of Christ and formerly served as registrar of the Mocksville Precinct.

Tom Turrentine, age 50, is a life-long native of Davie County. At sixteen years of age he joined the late E. P. Foster in operating a cotton gin.

He is a member of the Oak Grove Methodist Church. He is a veteran of World War II, seeing combat duty with the Army in the Pacific Theatre of Operations.

Builders Supply Co. To Build Warehouse

Construction began this week on a new 9,000 sq. ft. warehouse for Mocksville Builder's Supply on South Main Street.

Marshall Southern, Manager, said that the new warehouse would be enclosed with metal siding and would be used for the storage of lumber and building supplies.

"We plan to do away with most of the older buildings and consolidate the storage of our materials under one roof," said Mr. Southern.

To Play In Tournament On Monday

Rebelettes Win Conference Title

The Davie County High girls' basketball team wrapped up the championship in the North Piedmont Conference last Friday night by blasting Troutman 41-21.

The win was the 18th in a row for the Davie team against no losses. They are now 12-0 in conference action. They will closeout their regular season play at East Rowan on Friday night.

On Monday night they will participate in the Piedmont Conference Tournament to be held at East Rowan, playing the fourth place team of the South Piedmont Conference.

Last Friday night Coach Bill Peeler's team jumped off to a 17-2 lead at the end of the first quarter, and after that it was clear sailing for the champion sextet. Davie outscored Troutman by one point in the second period, and six in the third. Troutman outpointed the Davie team by two, 9-7, in the final eight minutes.

Craft and Bake Sale

Mocksville Woman's Club will sponsor a Craft and Bake Sale, Friday, March 4, at the Davie County Office Building. Mrs. W. M. Long, Chairman of Ways and Means, says the sale will begin at 10:30 a. m. and continue through the day.

New Feature

What will be a weekly feature of this newspaper henceforth appears in the upper left-hand corner of the front page . . . known in newspaper slang as the left "dog ear".

This will be a boxscore of the motor vehicle accidents occurring in Davie County during this year and will include the number of accidents . . . the number of injuries . . . and the number of fatalities.

Medicare Day Response Here Is Excellent

"The response to Medicare Day in Mocksville was excellent," said Mr. Robert C. Thomas, Social Security District Manager in Salisbury. Thirty-five people in Davie County signed up for the benefits offered by this new program.

"The success of this meeting was made possible by the combined efforts of many civic minded citizens of Davie County and I would like to say "Thanks for a job well done," said Mr. Thomas.

He added that there are still some people in Davie County 65 years old or older who have not yet signed up for Medicare. They will have to sign up by March 31, 1966, to get the full protection of this new law.

The Social Security Office at 105 Corriher Avenue in Salisbury will remain open on Saturdays from 8:00 a. m. until 12 noon until the end of March for the convenience of the people who still need to file their claim or who have questions on Medicare.

Women's GOP Club To Meet Monday

The regular monthly meeting of the Davie County Republican Women's Club will be held at the Davie County Courthouse Monday February 28 at 7:30 p. m. All former and present members are urged to attend. Plans are to be made concerning the Lincoln Day Dinner to be held on March 4.

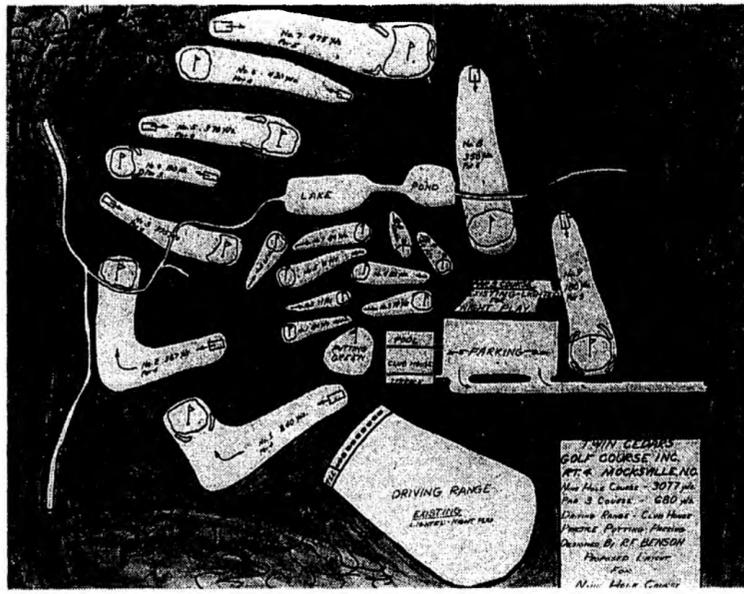

Hat Sale At Advance

The Advance Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary Club will sponsor a spring hat sale on Friday and Saturday p. m., March 4 and 5. The sale will be held in Advance School Cafeteria for the benefit of the Fire Department.

No Paper Drives

The Mocksville Jaycees have discontinued their project of collecting old newspaper and magazines.

Dr. James Andrews, President, expressed thanks on behalf of the club to the people for their past support and interest but said that local collections and the market for this paper no longer make these paper drives feasible.

Twin Cedar Golf Course To Expand New 9-Hole Golf Course Underway

Proposed construction of a nine-hole regulation golf course has been announced by Twin Cedar Golf Course, Inc., located just south of Mocksville off US 601.

The Twin Cedar Golf Course, Inc., formerly known as the Ponderosa Golf Course, was begun in the summer of 1962, with the opening of a driving range, lighted for night play. In July of 1965 the owners of the Ponderosa Golf Course . . . namely Bob (Boss) Benson, Woodrow (Little Joe) Mabey and Reber (Adam) Allen . . . opened the nine-hole par 3 course.

The rough grading for the fairways is almost complete. As soon as the weather permits final grading and seeding will be completed and the building of greens and tees will be started. Plans are to use Tifton 328 on the greens.

"Due to the overwhelming response to the Par 3 course and driving range, the owners decided to go ahead with the construction of a regular nine-hole course," said Mr. Benson.

In order to incorporate the course, the name was changed from Ponderosa to "Twin Cedar Golf Course, Inc."

Fish Fry

The Mocksville Moose Lodge will sponsor a Fish Fry Saturday, March 5, beginning at 10 a. m. and continuing until 8 p. m. Boxes to take home will be filled.

Industrial Engineer Joins Heritage Plant

DONALD GRAY COOK

Mr. Donald Cook has joined the local Table Plant of Heritage Furniture Company as a Plant Industrial Engineer. He formerly held this title at the company's Upholstery Plant in High Point where he has been employed since May of 1964.

Mr. Cook has had approximately fifteen years of experience in industrial work. His prior work experience has been in furniture and electronics.

He lives in Winston-Salem with his wife and two children. At present, his plans are to commute to Mocksville.

A world War II veteran, Mr. Cook served in the U. S. Air Force from January, 1943 to October, 1945. He served in Africa, Italy, and Cor.ica for twenty-two months and was awarded a Presidential Citation, Good Conduct Medal and four Battle Stars.

Stephen Pope Cited For Wax Sculpture

Stephen Pope, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Pope of Mocksville, has been cited for his wax sculpture exhibit in Richmond, Virginia. Pope is working on his master's degree at the Richmond Professional Institute.

A recent edition of the Richmond Times-Di patch termed the new "Sculpture 1966" exhibition as "most outstanding". Speaking of Stephen Pope's work the article said:

"If the exhibition were to be subjected to a jury, Stephen Pope's wax 'Boy With Bird' would be a vigorous contender for the grand prize with the boy's coarse, flawed figure acting as a foil for his intensely sensitive face."

L. P. N's TO MEET Area 10 of the Licensed Practical Nurses' Association will meet Tuesday evening, March 1, at seven thirty, at Davie County Office Building. Dr. B. G. Weathers will be the speaker. All members are urged to attend.

Additional 40,000 Sq Ft. Is Planned

Heritage Plans Major Expansion

A mural of nature . . . described as "adding beauty and warmth" to the corridor . . . has been painted around the nursery window at the Davie County Hospital.

The mural, depicting birds, trees, flowers, butterflies, etc., was painted by Mrs. Gailther Sanford, Jr. and Mrs. Bill Sell. Provisions for the mural were made through the Hospital Auxiliary following a request by Paul Nell, Hospital Administrator.

The two local artists created their own ideas for their work and used a washable type of paint.

Both Mrs. Sanford and Mrs. Sell attended art classes at the Hanes Community Center in Winston-Salem two years ago. Mrs. Sell had a private showing there. Mrs. Sanford continued her studies in Colorado Springs, Colorado and has shown paintings in connection with the Colorado Springs Art Guild.

Rotarians View Film On Communications

Mocksville Rotarians viewed a film Tuesday entitled: 'Beyond All Barriers'. The film was presented by Ray Rogers, an engineer of Western Electric Company and dealt with the correlation between the development of society and man's ability to communicate.

Chester Blackwelder had charge of the program. President Bryan Sell presided.

John Frank Garwood Is Honored By Company

John Frank Garwood, special representative of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company in Mocksville, has qualified as a member of "The 500 Club".

Membership in this Honor Club is earned by Jefferson Standard representatives who distinguish themselves by producing $500,000 or more in life insurance sales during the preceding calendar year.

Heritage Furniture Company (a Division of Drexel Enterprises, Inc.) announces plans for a major expansion of its Table Plant at Mocksville.

An addition of 40,000 square feet of space is planned. Boiler and dry kiln capacity for the plant will be more than doubled and space will be provided for veneer preparation and furniture plywood production.

The result will be increased versatility and production efficiency for the Mocksville Plant. The added facility will be under the direction of Jason Branch, Plant Manager and Ed Short, Superintendent.

It is expected that the addition will provide a significant number of additional jobs in the company's local operations.

Grading for the new addition has been completed, and the company hopes to commence construction in the spring of this year. Operation should commence by the end of 1966.

Bowens Heads County G.O.P.

Garland Bowens of Mocksville Rt. 3 was elected chairman of the Davie County Republican Executive Committee at the GOP County Convention held Saturday afternoon at the courthouse.

Also elected were Mrs. Gilbert Lee Boger of Advance Rt. 1, vice-chairman; Bill Seaford of Mocksville Rt. 1, Secretary; and Donald Bingham of Advance Rt. 1, treasurer and finance chairman.

Plans were announced for the district Republican convention to be held Saturday, March 5th, in Yadkinville. Delegates and alternates from each precinct will be named. John Alexander, Republican leader from Statesville, was the featured speaker.

William E. Hall and H. R. Hendrix were elected to State Executive Committee.

Three Republicans Seek Two Positions

Three File For County Commissioner Offices

ALBERT HOWARD

Three Republicans, including one woman, filed during the past week for the two positions of County Commissioner.

The seats now held by B. T. Brewer and Albert Howard are up for election this year under the system adopted four years ago when the membership was increased from three to five. Two years from now two other terms of the present board will expire.

Albert Howard of the Smith Grove community has filed seeking re-election, subject to the Republican Primary in May. Mr. Howard has served in the capacity for the past six years.

Local Jaycees To Be Honored

The Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that John Fletcher Long and Joe Murphy have been selected for inclusion in the 1966 edition of OUTSTANDING YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA. These men were nominated earlier this year by the Jaycee Chapter and have been selected by a thirteen man National Board of Editors for the publication.

Doug Blankenship, Past U. S. Jaycee President (1962-63) who is serving as chairman of the Board stated that men were selected between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-six who "had distinguished themselves in one or more fields of endeavor to the point of being outstanding."

Outstanding Young Men of America is an annual biographical compilation of approximately 10,000 young men of outstanding rank throughout the country. Nominees for the book come from many sources. However, the majority of the nominations are made by Junior Chamber of Commerce Chapters & College Alumni Associations.

"This book," states Henry Ford, II, "serves as more than a tribute to those it is meant to honor. It calls attention to the great capabilities of our young men and their capacity for getting things done."

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has long been active in the recognition of outstanding achievement among America's young men. Each year since 1938 the U. S. Jaycees have selected the Ten Outstanding Young Men of America. Among past TOYM winners are such famous personalities as John F. Kennedy (1946); Nelson Rockefeller (1941); Dr. Tom Dooley (1956); and Henry Ford, II (1945). The publication Outstanding Young Men of America will feature the 1966 TOYM winners. President Lyndon B. Johnson will write the foreword for the 1966 edition.

The book is 7" x 10" in size and will contain approximately 896 pages. The binding is blue with gold embossing. Publication date is approximately July 1, 1966.

On The Home Front

Freezing tip: When preparing dishes that will freeze, double recipe and freeze one half for a busy day. Some items that freeze well are: meat loaf, salmon loaf, cream cheese base salad, meat balls, biscuits, rolls, cream puffs and casseroles. Always use within a few weeks for top quality.

Have you ever heard of boiled cookies? You might try this. 2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 stick margarine, 3 tablespoons cocoa, 3 cups quick cook oatmeal, 1/2 cup peanut butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup chopped nuts.

Mix sugar, milk margarine and cocoa in saucepan. Bring to a boil and cook for one minute. Remove from heat and add oatmeal, peanut butter, vanilla and nuts. Stir well. Drop by teaspoonful on wax paper. Let stand a half hour or until dry. For a morning cup of coffee, how about trying butter delights?

1/4 cup margarine, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg yolk, 2 cups flour, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.

Cream margarine and sugar well, then beat in one egg yolk and vanilla. To this add the flour. The batter will be very stiff. Make dough into balls size of marbles and place on a slightly greased cookie sheet. Dent middle of each cookie and fill with 1/4 teaspoon of any good jelly. A pecan half may be used on top of jelly if desired.

Some helpful hints you might like to try sometimes are: Add a pinch of soda to water when soaking dry beans.

It takes six eggs to a quart of milk to make a perfect custard. For better flavored onions, try soaking them in milk for a while.

Miss Marty Roberts Is Party Honoree

Miss Marty Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Roberts of Mocksville, Rt. 3, was honored with a birthday party, Saturday night, February 19, at the Rotary Hut. Host and hostesses were: Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Nash and daughter, Susie, Robert Cook and Miss Gay Roberts.

Burglars Sought In Safe Robbery

Mocksville Police and State Bureau of Investigation agents were still searching this week for the safe robbers who ripped open the safe at Heffner's Land of Food and escaped with about $2,800.

The safe was ripped open sometime after closing time last Thursday. It was found when the store opened for business on Friday morning.

Mocksville Chief of Police Joe Foster said tracks indicate three or four persons probably were involved. They climbed the side of the building, cut a hole in the roof and dropped down into the store. A small, light-weight safe was rolled out of the office and ripped open. The $2,800 in currency was taken. About $300 in silver was left. No merchandise was reported taken.

It was the second safe job in the county during the week.

Burglars broke into the Duke Power Company office at Advance last Monday night and ripped open a safe in the same fashion as the grocery store safe robbery. Nothing was taken from the power company safe.

Central Davie Wins Second

By HENRY SCOTT

The mighty Mohawks opened the first round of the NDAC tournament Thursday night by defeating J. J. Jones High 52-50.

Friday night they traveled to Mt. Airy and won the second round by defeating Yadkin High 70-62.

In the championship play-off Saturday night, the Mohawks fell to the Eagles of Charles Drew High School.

In the game Thursday night, the powerful Mohawks went on the war path and blasted the Indians of J. J. Jones High School out of the NDAC tournament by winning their 9th straight home court victory. Their overall record is 14-6.

Senior George Scott led the hot-shooting Mohawks in the first round with his torrid out-side shooting scoring 18 points.

Eric Hudson, the Mohawks' back court ace, pumped in 12 points.

Senior William West, working from under the boards, scored 10 points.

Lewis Peebles, using his height as an advantage, pulled down the most rebounds and scored 8 points.

Senior Henry West and guard Elliott Wilkes, both moving the ball with tremendous speed and passing with accuracy, scored 2 points each.

The tremendous Mohawks shot round by putting on a fantastic exhibition of shooting in the second half.

Elliott Wilkes was no. 1 in the point production as he netted his all time high of 25 points.

William West was second with 16 points, Eric Hudson had 13, Lewis Peebles 5, George Scott 4, David Dason 4, and Henry West 1.

In the championship play-off, George Scott topped all Mohawks scorers by dropping in 15 points.

William West and Elliott Wilkes scored 7 a piece.

Eric Hudson had 6, Lewis Peebles, Henry West and Hubert West all scored 2 points.

Robert Holman 3, and David Dalton had 1 point.

The top three NDAC tournament winners are: No. 1, Charles Drew High School of Madison; No. 2, Central Davie of Mocksville; and, No. 3, Yadkin High School of Booneville.

Outside of tournament action the Mohawks defeated Landis Aggrey Memorial, Monday night.

Central Davie fighting from behind widdled down a 10 point deficit into a lead of its own and romped to a 61-57 victory.

George Scott and Elliott Wilkes paced the Mohawks to victory by scoring 19 points each.

William West hauled down the most rebounds and scored 8 points.

Eric Studevent, Jr. said he was very proud of his team and what they have accomplished. He also stated that they had a good season due to the fact that they started the season with a completely new team except for two returning players.

The mighty Mohawks will be seeking action Tuesday night as they will go out to triumph over Mooresville in a snowed out regular season game.

Central Davie is looking forward to the District tournament March 2, where the Mohawks will be defending their District Championship.

Accidents Reported

Two cars were involved in an accident Thursday afternoon, February 17, about one o'clock, near Edgewood Circle Drive, a private road just off N. C. 801.

Involved was a 1966 Mustang, operated by Clyde Eugene Vickers, 20, of Rt. 1, Mocksville, and a 1956 Chevrolet operated by Clifford Franklin Wagner, 57, of Rt. 4, Mocksville.

State Highway Patrolman K. N. Bolick said that the accident occurred when the car operated by Vickers struck the left rear of Wagner's car. Vickers was charged with following too close.

Damages to Wagner's car was $200, and to the Vicker's car, $300.

CAR WRECKS

Marshall Everette Glasscock, 27, of Mocksville, Rt. 1, lost control of his 1963 Chevrolet Friday evening, February 18, when he was driving south on rural paved road No. 1306. He was rounding a curve when the left wheel broke causing him to lose control and run off to the right in a field. No other car was involved.

Mr. Glasscock was taken to Davie County Hospital where he received treatment for injuries.

Damage to Mr. Glasscock's car was $900. Patrolman J. W. Pittman was investigating officer.

MAILBOX HIT

George Edwin Massey, 45, of Statesville, operating a 1961 Cadillac Saturday at 3 a. m. on US 64 3 miles west of Mocksville ran off the roadway on the right and struck a mail box at the home of D. A. Shuler and J. G. Anderson on Rt. 1. The car went to the left side of the roadway and struck an embankment and fence.

Damage to the car was estimated at $500. Damage to the car was estimated at $500. Damage to the mailbox and the fence was estimated at $25.

CARS SIDESWIPE

An accident on Highway 601 Saturday, February 19, at 4:15 p. m. involved three cars.

Trooper Bolick, who investigated the accident, reported that William Henry Breedlove, Jr., 20, of Rt. 1, Salisbury, driving a 1966 Comet, pulled over into the left lane and sideswiped a 1957 Buick being operated by George Adrain Trexler, 50, of Winter Park, Fla. The Breedlove car then struck a 1963 Ford being operated by Marga Viola Allen, 16, of Rt. 4, Mocksville.

Breedlove was charged with driving on the wrong side of the road.

Damage to the Breedlove vehicle was estimated at $1,000, to the Trexler car, $400, and to the Allen car, $200.

RUNS STOP SIGN

Eugene Jones, Jr., 37, of Rt. 4, driving a 1956 Ford Sunday, February 20, at 2:20 p. m. on RPR 1110 5 miles southwest of Mocksville ran a stop sign at the intersection of RPR 1107 and struck a car being operated by Melvin Eugene Wagstaff, 42, of Coolemeec.

Jones was charged by Trooper Beane with failure to yield right of way.

Damage to the Jones car was estimated at $250 and to the Wagstaff car, $400.

ACCIDENT SUNDAY

Two cars were involved in an accident Sunday evening, February 20, about seven o'clock, on N. C. 801 toward rural paved road No. 1328, approximately eight miles from town.

Involved was a 1965 Dodge operated by Glineford Linville, 28, Rt. 5, and a 1953 Plymouth operated by Buddy Capes Bledsoe, 29, of Rt. 5, State Highway Patrolman J. W. Pittman said the accident occurred when Linville's car was pulling out of a private drive; he applied the brakes and skidded into Bledsoe's car. Bledsoe was charged with failure to see that movement could be made in safety.

Damages to Linville's car was $100, and damages to Bledsoe's car

was $100.

Ettle - Elizabeth - by Gordon Tomlinson

Last week Wachovia Bank was hosts to members of the press in a tour of their new building in Winston-Salem.

This building is 30-stories high and towers 410 feet above Winston-Salem. From the observation deck on the 27th floor you can literally look down on the Reynolds Building. Also from this deck you can see the cities of High Point and Greensboro.

This new building, modern in every way, is an architecturally fascinating giant of structure.

On Sunday the N. C. Paraplegia Association held their meeting in this new building.

This giant of a building was designed and built as to eliminate all barriers for those in wheel chairs and otherwise handicapped. There are few steps . . . and instead ramps. The doors and toilet facilities are also arranged so that they can be utilized by the handicapped.

This is what the N. C. Paraplegia Association is seeking to get across to all architects and builders . . . and it is having its effect. The new Davie County Library building is also accessible to wheel chairs.

It is only too easy to misspell a word. Most of the time you can do this and not even try.

However, try as I could last week I just couldn't misspell the word "soldier".

I am referring of course to the "tattle-tale" item about the word "soldier" being misspelled on a Boone marker at the courthouse. I wrote:

"Instead of being spelled 'soldier' it was spelled 'soldir'. In the process it was corrected two or three times to get this word spelled incorrectly. However, when it was finally printed this word was spelled right . . . but some others were spelled wrong.

I just couldn't win!

Charles Shaughnessy, President of Heritage Furniture, had "double trouble" last week in attempting to recognize one of his employees.

Leslie (Tommy) Blackwelder has been associated with the Mocksville plant of Heritage for a long number of years. His twin brother, Lester, is manager of the Mocksville Department Store.

Last week on a visit to High Point Lester shook hands with Mr. Shaughnessy who remarked: "How are you, Tommy?"

"Now don't kid me. I know you, Tommy", said Mr. Shaughnessy. Then someone intervened and explained the situation.

And speaking of High Point . . . others from that fair city caused quite a commotion in downtown Mocksville last Saturday afternoon.

A bus from the Presbyterian Home at High Point stopped on the square. However, instead of containing people from the home it contained a group of rabid High Point College basketball fans on their way to a game at Lenoir Rhyne.

As they poured off the bus, Sue Short, spotted her brother-in-law, Dick Short, and many other old friends. Nothing could stop the indomitable Sue as she pulled daughter, "Gigi" through the honking traffic to welcome those old friends to Mocksville.

Many years ago a young man left Coolemeec on his way to California. When he arrived in Kansas City he had only fifteen cents in his pocket. There he took a dish-washing job to make some money . . . and as the result stayed on there to make his life.

This man was Jack H. Byerly. Recently Bryan Sell was in Kansas City to visit his daughter. Enroute he had broken his partial plate and was in need of dental treatment.

The first night there he decided to get in touch with Jack Byerly with whom he had been in high school. Finding his name in the telephone directory he called and when Jack came to the phone said: "I don't know whether you remember me or not . . . this is Bryan Sell".

"Bryan Sell of Coolemeec", came back Jack.

Well to shorten the story the two old friends got together. And guess what

Nominations Sought For State Mothers

Mrs. George W. Rowland, Mocksville, N. C., Davie County's Chairman of the North Carolina State Mothers Association, announces that nomination blanks are now available for nominating a qualified mother for State Mother of the Year. For the first time the nominations are being conducted on a district level. Rowan, Davie and Tredegg have been grouped as a District.

A district selection committee representing each county within the district is being appointed and will screen the nominations and select one of them as a district nominee to go to Raleigh April 15 and 16, 1966 for the selection of the State Mother of the Year.

All nominees within each district will be honored in the district in which they live. This will be more convenient for the nominees as well as enable more of their husbands to attend the recognition luncheon honoring them. The recognition is being arranged by Mr. Wade Hendricks, in Statesville on March 15 with the Northwestern Bank of Statesville as the sponsor.

A nominee for State Mother must be nominated by a recognized organization. Nominations by individuals are not accepted. The current 1966 blanks that contain the rules for nomination as well as the qualification for the selection of the State Mother must be used. Not only must the 1966 State Mother be a woman of achievement herself through her service in civic, religious, cultural and educational activities, her children too must show achievements as reflected in the care and nurture by their mother. Her youngest child, therefore, must be over 15 years of age. All races and creeds are eligible for nomination and recognition.

March 10, 1966 is the deadline for nominations with all supporting district chairman. Blanks may be secured from Mrs. A. E. Hendley, Route 1, Statesville, N. C. or from the other members of her committee. They are:

- Mrs. George W. Rowland, Mocksville, N. C. Davie County Mrs. J. H. Hewitt, Jr., Route 2, Cleveland, N. C. Rowan County

Local Girls Belong To Student Union

Misses Ann Essex, Carol Jean and Judy Creason are members for the current term of the Baptist Student Union at Appalachian State Teachers College in Boone.

The Baptist Student Union is the connecting link between Baptist students and the local Baptist Church. When a student joins a Sunday School class, the Training Union, Mission Forum, Y. W. A., or the church, he or she is automatically a member of the B. S. U. The local B. S. U. is active in the state conventions and publishes The Trail during the school year.

Miss Essex is the daughter of Mrs. C. J. Essex, Rt. 2, Advance, and is a 1964 graduate of Davie County High School. She is a sophomore at the college.

Survey Compares 1958-1965 Period

Youth Today Are More Physically Fit

American youth in the age 10-17 group are more physically fit today than they were in 1958.

That conclusion is based on a survey recently released by the University of Michigan which includes research conducted by Appalachian State Teachers College.

The study is entitled "A Survey and Comparison of Youth Fitness, 1958-1965."

Tests were conducted throughout the United States in a scattergram of 1,900 schools among youth of ages 10-17. Centers were picked which sociologists said met the criterion of the social and cultural norm of the nation, based on a geographical, climatological, economic, racial and vocational across section.

The survey included pullups, to measure arm strength; situps, to indicate abdominal strength; the shuttle run, for speed and agility; the standing broad jump, for leg strength; the 50-yard dash for speed; the softball throw to measure co-ordination; and the 600-yard run to indicate endurance.

American girls and boys rated higher at every age level in 1965 than in 1958.

"The over-simplified general conclusion that we may draw," said Marshall Walters, chairman of the department of health, physical education and recreation at Appalachian, "is that our kids, age 10-17, today have more neuro-muscular fitness today than in 1958."

The Appalachian tests were based on school children from high schools in Watauga County.

According to Walters, American interest in physical fitness reached national prominence in 1953 as a result of the Kraus-Weber Test. Using youngsters in Austria, Italy and Switzerland, the report purported to show that American youngsters were vastly inferior to European youngsters.

As a result of the report, President Eisenhower appointed a Youth Fitness Council.

The Kraus-Weber Test was based on skeletal strengths - pushups, pullups and situps, and did not include other important items that go to make up a physically fit body, said Walters. "Fitness," he said, "involves total dynamic health, fit to live and fit to live with. It is that degree of fitness that lets you live and have fun."

Great Britain conducted similar tests in 1965. British youngsters characteristically rated better at ages 10-11, and United States youth were better at ages 14-17. British girls showed improvement at each age level. There was practically no improvement for American girls from ages 10-17.

Out of various recent studies on physical fitness and the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Walters believes, has come a campaign to emphasize physical fitness as a part of the educational process.

"It could be," said Walters, "that the American public responds to campaigning. Due to an awareness of educators and administrators, the American public is beginning to see the importance of providing elementary school training to improve the childhood skills of our youth and enable them to be normal children and play. We are beginning to understand more what we can do to improve living."

The increases awareness in physical fitness has made possible the improvement of the Appalachian curriculum in physical fitness education and training.

These objectives are being emphasized particularly for future elementary school teachers in order to furnish America's younger children with a better foundation for healthful living, increased body skills and the enjoyment of leisure time.

'But What About The People' Is Title Terry Sanford Authors New Book

Because of the state's revolutionary educational program, prison populations in North Carolina have decreased steadily for several years with fewer and fewer inmates returning.

So says Terry Sanford, former governor of the state, in a new book, "But What About The People?" published by Harper & Row.

Mr. Sanford attributes the lowered crime rate largely to the stepped-up education program launched throughout North Carolina in 1960. Geared to individual needs, it has kept youths interested in learning instead of drifting into trouble, has straightened out delinquents already in correctional institutions, and has reached into the prisons to train criminals in new vocations.

By law, any prisoner unable to read or write must attend the prison school.

"Even the rudimentary skill of learning to sign one's name is a substantial step toward correcting the maladjustment that led to prison," Governor Sanford states.

Women prisoners, he points out, afford a particularly heartening example of the effectiveness of such schools.

"The impact of earning a high school diploma on these women who have failed in so many ways is hard to imagine," the former governor writes. "Even those released before graduation return to take part in the ceremonies. They have finally 'made good' at something, and they are rightfully proud."

"One girl came back by bus all the way from New York to participate in her graduation exercise and reception," he recalls.

As to the effectiveness of education in the correctional institutions for juveniles, records show that 94 percent of the youngsters in such institutions in North Carolina never get into criminal trouble again, he says.

The desire to improve the educational system in North Carolina prompted him to run for governor, writes Governor Sanford in his book. In his campaign speeches, he emphasized that taxes must be increased to realize this aim, and, to his surprise, he was cheered by his audiences.

"Nobody likes taxes," he says. "But we are learning that ignorance is the most oppressive tax of all. Education develops human resources. Human resources, in turn, make a nation whatever it is to be."

During his four-year term of office which began in 1960, teachers received salary raises averaging 22%. Sizes of classes were reduced by the addition of 3,000 teachers.

In his book, Governor Sanford describes many of the unusual educational programs put into effect in North Carolina without federal initiative or assistance:

The new North Carolina Advancement School - Planned to "reach the wellspring of motivation" of bright students uninterested in learning.

The Learning Institute of North Carolina - A center for exchange of new teaching methods which formerly never reached beyond the rooms of the teachers who devised them; a link between research in educational methods and application in North Carolina schools.

The North Carolina School of the Arts - The first state-supported school of the arts in America.

Special programs for exceptionally talented children - Opportunities for them to "unleash their minds" in an unlimited academic atmosphere.

A "new look" for institutions for the mentally retarded - A "technicolor dream" of bright colors in furnishings to provide a bright and happy atmosphere; rehabilitation and training programs emphasized to enable them to become self-supporting in routine jobs when possible.

Operation Second Chance - Industrial education courses offered as an experimental approach to educate dropouts.

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM OUR RALEIGH BUREAU 2815 Oberlin Road

BAD WEATHER MAY REDUCE SCHOOL DAYS INTO SUMMER . . .

Although the State requires 180 days of school - nine months, 20 days per month each term, some systems fear they may not make it this year.

Scattered schools, mostly from Wilkes County west, have been closed for about 20 days, or a solid month. Reports reaching Raleigh are that a few have missed more than a month.

So, knee-deep into June they go - and Saturdays, too in an effort to get in the required time. But we have snows and bad weather on Saturday, too, so don't be surprised if we come up lacking here and there on 180 Full days.

BABY BOOM SUBSIDIES . . . A few years ago it appeared this State would never be able to have sufficient classroom space for the ever-swelling school population.

In 1961, for example, there was seven per cent more students enrolled in North Carolina public schools than in the previous year. In 1962, we had nearly seven-and-a-half per cent more than in 1961.

But now we are running less than one per cent gain over last year.

VIETNAM . . . Note: Educators tell you off the record to keep an eye out for another good increase in school population about 1971-73.

How and why? Additional marriages and babies in 1965 and 1966 to avoid the Vietnam draft. These children will go marching off to school some five and six years hence.

AND VOTE DRY . . . Raleigh does not rank anywhere near the national capital on per person drinking, but for a lowly State seat it never has taken a back seat.

There are many parties here, not all of them Democratic, and cocktails are served before the big dinners. And, increasingly we note, various types of wines are being served at some of the meals.

At the receptions now, also, we see beer available for those who do not choose the whiskey route. Well, Will Rogers remarked about North Carolina some 35 years ago that we would vote dry as long as we could stagger to the polls.

But we seem to be voting wetter and staggering less. At least we are certainly getting wetter, with about 70 per cent of us only a few blocks or a few miles from a whiskey store.

THE RECIPE . . . Now for people, agencies, or other groups having cocktail parties, the experts tell you just how to determine the amount of whiskey to buy. They say to figure on three drinks per person, as an average. Some will have four; a few will have two; and you might have about one out of 25 who is a teetotaler. You can get, it says here, 18 drinks per fifth.

So, if you have 100 people for a one-hour reception before dinner, you can figure on 300 drinks. Say 18 into this, and you come up with the necessity for about 17 fifths of whiskey. Some will drink Scotch and some bourbon. The cost will average $5 per fifth, or a total cost of about $85 for the dinner. And this doesn't include peanuts, popcorn, and potato chips.

HARDEST PART . . . We hear from up in the hill country that Evangelist Billy Graham, despite some little bouts with bad health last year, is continuing his vigorous exercise routines - every day and Sundays, too.

He has been advised that this is the best way to combat heart trouble. The Rev. Mr. Graham warms up for 15 minutes, and then really goes at it for two miles, much of it in a trot.

Do you know what part of this daily program has given him the most trouble? Not the knee-bends, or the hills, or the push-ups.

"The hardest part," he recently told friends, "was getting used to being stared at."

And that, coming from a man who has probably been "stared at" more than any other man living, is quite a mouthful.

AT YOUR SERVICE! . . . If you happen to go to the Hotel Sir Walter in Raleigh this spring and want sudden service from all directions, stop for a second, put your hands to your mouth and holler: "Williams!"

Say it loud enough and eight people will suddenly appear from various directions.

There are eight Williamses now on the Sir Walter payroll.

There is John. He is the new owner. Tony Williams is handling conventions. Bill is in charge of sales. Bob is the chef. Bernard is in charge of parking.

Then there are Rom and Jim and Tom . . . some white, one or two non-white, as they say, but all named Williams.

The other day Bern took Bill's car for a trip. He had a wreck . . . with a fellow named Williams.

LICENSE PHOTOS? . . . Calling on State officials and others in Raleigh last week was one V. H. Kellermeyer of Toledo, Ohio, representing the DEK Process, Inc., specialists in photographic identification.

Nine states, including South Carolina and Georgia this year, now have owners' colored photos on all drivers' licenses. Some other states: Michigan, Colorado, Idaho - and some other Western states.

The cost: approximately 40 cents per license, according to how the bids run from various firms interested.

Senator Sam Ervin Says:

WASHINGTON - Reapportionment of State legislative bodies continues to arouse Congressional feelings which began in 1962 when the Supreme Court broke the long upheld precedent against Federal involvement in representation problems.

Since then Senate debate has been recurring with major Court implementations of the original decree. In 1964, following the party national conventions, the Mansfield-Dirksen reapportionment rider was offered to the foreign aid bill. That effort to halt court orders on reapportionment ran into a Senate filibuster and no action was taken. Subsequently, Senator Dirksen and others introduced S. J. Res. 103 on August 13, 1965, and that bill is presently on the Senate calendar after another filibuster stalemated it last fall. The Dirksen proposal would amend the Constitution to permit the States to apportion one legislative house on a non-population basis, subject to approval or rejection by a vote of the people in a state-wide referendum.

The battle over reapportionment will probably be a major legislative issue again this session. There is a general feeling that the Court went too far in setting up its "one-man, one-vote" rule for State reapportionment problems, and that the Federal courts have fulfilled the prophesy of Justice Frankfurter. In his dissenting opinion in the Baker Case, Frankfurter said that once the courts attempted to determine such matters they would enter a "political thicket". The people of our State have recently learned that the Justice was imminently correct.

Even so, as a practical matter the passage of a Constitutional Amendment overruling the court's opinion on reapportionment is a slow and frustrating task. The actions of the Congress and the President are constantly criticized and reviewed, but the same objectivity does not always extend to decisions of the Supreme Court. There is a considerable body of opinion that the Court's opinions are sacrosanct. Reapportionment presents the most crucial questions of Constitutional government and representative democracy. There can be no doubt as to the general proposition that legislative bodies should be representative. How to achieve this form of government becomes the real question. The implementation of court decrees to achieve Court doctrines on the subject of representation thrusts the judiciary into the thick of political decisions. At the same time, the "model State legislature" now must run counter to the Federal plan for Congress. The State are no longer permitted to pattern their legislative bodies after Congress, i. e., one house elected on the basis of population and the other house elected on the basis of geographical units. A bicameral State legislature must conform entirely to the "one-man, one-vote" theory.

Indeed, the idea of "one-man, one-vote" itself was challenged in a dissenting opinion by Justice Harlan in the Gray decision. He said that the idea has "never been the universally accepted political philosophy of England, the American colonies or the United States". He commented that this concept overlooks the need of rural areas to have a voice in government.

When all is said, however, other problems confronting Congress are likely to work against Congressional action on reapportionment. Considering all the factors involved,

Uncle Dave From Davie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: I see by the papers where we was still making a little headway in this war the Great Society was putting on agin poverty. Congressman Richard Roudebush of Indiana has reported we just paid $23,700 to a group of our fine citizens for studying the "life cycle and behavior of the African ostrich."

Congressman Roudebush was of the opinion it was mighty fine to git the latest data on how the ostriches was behaving in Africa and to git this $23,700 put in circulation on the poverty circuit, but he was a little alarmed, he said, that maybe them Government agencies was overdoing the matter. Fer instant, he had took note where the Department of Agriculture had just granted a perferer at the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, New York, $42,000 to "study the sex life of cabbages."

Personal, Mister Editor, everybody already knows the ostrich buries his head in the sand when he sees trouble coming and I figure that's about all we need to know in this field. Actual, the African ostrich and them Government agencies was a heap alike when they see trouble coming. One sticks his head in the sand and the other sticks his paws in the tax bucket.

And I'm agin this $42,000 cabbage deal for personal reasons. The Government has already admitted they was tapping phone lines and hiding them "bug" contraptions around trying to git information about certain citizens and taxpayers. When we git to spending $42,000 to study the sex life of the pore old cabbages, it looks like we was invading to the last straw the right to privacy give us in the Constitution.

I brung this matter up at the county store Saturday night and Zeke Grubb claimed we was faking one step frontwards and two steps backwards in a heap of these poverty programs. Fer instant, he reported he had saw in the papers where the Revenue agents had went all out to git the moonshiners in Georgia.

The agents, said Zeke, claimed them self employed fellers in Georgia was cheating the Government out of $20 million a year in liquor taxes, so they clamped down on the bootleggers so hard they was shutting off the main line of supply to Atlanta and the legal liquor stores was suffering a shortage.

They figured by blowing up the stills they would git $20 million more in taxes, pervided everybody kept on drinking liquor at the same rate, and they could use the money to help pay for the war on poverty. But the disemployed moonshiners has come out of the woods and has put in for all the poverty program benefits. The fellers was agreed, Mister Editor, that in a heap of cases we was burning down the barn to git the rats.

Yours truly, Uncle Dave

A Tribute

By REV. E. M. AVETT

The Rev. G. W. Fink

In the year 1910, a young man attended the District Conference of the Salisbury District and was licensed to preach. That young man was G. W. Fink.

Mr. Fink did evangelistic work for four years. In 1914 he was admitted on trial for two years, serving a pastorate in Roadhiss. Following this he was ordained a deacon. Upon completing four years of Theological studies, he was ordained an Elder.

Rev. Fink served as a pastor in the Conference, thirty-nine years. During this time he received hundreds into the church. He lived with his people, shared their joys and their sorrows, spoke out on civil matters and was never a seeker of favors in appointments. He was a seeker of souls and not of self.

More need not be said, for his life is a rich heritage to his family and to the world in which he lived.

ed, it is difficult to believe that any Constitutional Amendment in this field will pass at this session.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Congressman James T. Broyhill

TAXES

One of the important parts of the President's State of the Union Message this year involved changes in the tax laws. In effect, the President said that if the tax legislation were not enacted, the budget deficit would be a good deal more than the $1.8 billion he predicted. Now the Congress is preparing to face the music in the badly strained Budget document and assess the so called "economics" the Budget contains.

Among the big surprises in the fine print of the Budget was the President's request to cut sizeable funds from the special milk and school lunch programs. This certainly will affect most schools in North Carolina and hundreds of thousands of parents and children. Actually, the value of this program is so generally recognized that the recommended cut in funds was a genuine shock.

I am receiving a large volume of mail on this question from people whose reactions range from dismay to anger. Frankly, it seems to me that the milk and school lunch programs are poor places to start economizing - particularly when the Budget is so full of requests for very large sums of money for questionable or demonstrably wasteful programs. There is little chance that Congress will cut back these 2 programs. However, the debate about them and some of the other "economics" in the Budget is building up to a tug of war between the White House and Capitol Hill. Congress seems to have some ideas of its own about where the cuts ought to be made and its list is likely to be very different from what the White House has in mind.

There has been little public attention given to the tax legislation I mentioned earlier. However, the House Ways and Means Committee has given it first priority. A bill has now been written and submitted to the House and before this week is over, action will have been completed.

In the last several years, we have become used to tax cuts. There was an individual income tax reduction in 1963. Only last year, most of the old wartime excise taxes were allowed to die. Now, spending and debt requires a scramble for money and large tax increases are being avoided.

Since there has been so little want to point out its major public discussion of this bill. The purpose of it is to increase revenues. The government is spending more on the war in Viet Nam and more on its domestic programs. Additional money is plainly needed if we do not go deeper and deeper into the red.

What the new bill would do is clear enough. It would increase revenues between now and July by $1.2 billion and by $4.8 billion between July of this year and July, 1967. In all of this, the excise tax on telephone service and new automobiles will contribute $60 million. Because Congress had repealed these taxes last year we can say this action is a tax increase or, to put it another way, we can call it the shortest tax cut in history.

Probably the biggest effect on the individual citizen in this bill comes in its provisions relating to the withholding tax. Many people may not understand how the tax deductions are taken out of their paychecks. Briefly, the present law requires that 14%, a flat rate, be withheld by employers and paid to the Federal government for income taxes.

Under this new proposal, the rate would increase. Depending on the salary received, the rate would be graduated in six steps, running from 14% up to 30%. This would not mean that anyone would be paying more income taxes. But it would certainly mean that Uncle Sam would be taking essentially his whole tax bite through the withholding tax so that he would not have to wait until April 15 of the next year to be paid the taxes owed. Many people favoring the bill say that it would make things easier for the taxpayer although I personally doubt that anyone is going to invent a way to make the paying of taxes easier. On the other side of the argument, people say that if the tax is not really due until April 15 of the next year, does the government have the right to deny the taxpayer the use of his money until payment is due.

This tax legislation and the increasingly sharp arguments over spending are illustrating the urgent need to establish priorities. Practical necessities may answer the question of "guns or butter" for us.

CEDAR CREEK

White reading a very old preacher's text book on common sense and religious thoughts, I found Mother Shipton's Prophecy. This was predicted in the fifteenth century and is as follows:

Carriages without horses shall go, And accidents fill the world with woe.

Around the world, thoughts shall fly.

In the twinkling of an eye, Water, shall yet more wonders do now strange, yet shall be true. The world upside down shall be and gold be found at the root of a tree.

Through hills, man shall ride and no horse nor ass at his side. Under water man shall walk, shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk. In the air, men shall be seen, in white, black and green.

Iron on water shall float as easy as a wooden boat. Gold shall be found under stone, in a land that is yet unknown. Fire and water, shall wonders do. England shall at last admit a Jew.

And this world to an end will come in eighteen hundred and eighty-one.

Think for yourself and see if any of this came to pass.

60 Second Sermon By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "... a reader ... needs no introduction to the greatest." - Harrison.

Two mothers whose sons were in college compared notes after reading their son's letters.

"Henry's letters always send me to the dictionary," said one mother.

"You're lucky," replied the other. "John's letters always send me to the bank."

Reading, whether it be letters, books or anything else, creates man's greatest possibilities. Not only does reading provide a life-long, warm and varied companionship, but, as James Russell Lowell wrote, reading is "... the key which admits us to the whole world of thought and fancy and imagination; to the company of saint and sage, of the wisest and witliest at their wisest and witliest moment ... it enables us to see with the keenest eyes, hear with the finest ears and listen to the sweetest voices of all time."

What imp perverts a mind that says, "I don't like to read" or "I don't have time to read"? One who does not read is in danger of stagnation and increasing ignorance in a world that is growing by knowing.

Cultivate the habit of reading, not only for what you will learn,

Basic Economics Course To Begin On Monday

Residents of the Mocksville area can still enroll in the night course on "Basic Economics" which will open Monday, Feb. 21, on the campus of Wake Forest College in Winston-Salem.

The course is being sponsored by the Management Institute of the School of Business Administration of Wake Forest College in conjunction with the Industrial Relations Center of the University of Chicago.

Dr. Ralph C. Heath, Institute director, said openings still remain for the economics course which will meet at 7 p. m. Mondays and Wednesdays through April 6. It will be taught by J. Van Wagstaff and Hugh K. Himan, both assistant professors of economics at Wake Forest.

The class will be limited to 30 students and will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Tuition is $70. Enrollment can be completed through the institute at Wake Forest at Box 7285, Winston-Salem.

A course on "Building Effective Communications," scheduled to open Feb. 22, is already filled, Heath said, indicating the popularity of learning more about improving business communications.

He said that due to demand the course on communications will be given again starting on the night of April 12. Applications for that course already are being accepted.

Heath said the institute is offering educational and development opportunity for supervisors in business and related organizations.

but to gain an interesting, exciting, learned, wise and witty companion that will accompany you through all your years.

REDLAND

The Redland 4-H Club met February 10 at the home of Mrs. J. K. McCulloch, Jr. As each member arrived they placed a valentine which they had made in a valentine basket which was put on display later. These valentines were judged and later all of them were taken to the Mocksville Rest Home.

The meeting was called to order by president, Twila Handlin. Pledges were then given. Roberta Handlin led us in some songs.

Devotions were given by Christa Howell and Sharon Hendrix. Christa Petticoat then called the roll. Sixteen members responded by telling if they were their 4-H uniform. A new member, Daphne Armsworthy, was recognized. Minutes were read and approved; old business was a report of the County Council meeting by Donald Sparks. The members who sold the most doughnuts last month were recognized and given prizes. These winners were Terri and Sherri Potts, Cathy Howell, and Lynn McCulloch.

New business was discussion of the Club Talent Show which will be at our next meeting.

A program committee was then selected for our Radio Program as follows: Christa Petticoat, Twila Handlin, and Debbie Bingham.

Our educational program was by Roberta Handlin on "Bird Aid". She gave an interesting talk on "The Feeding and Housing of a Bird". She also showed us how to construct a birdhouse.

Karen Cook then gave a very interesting demonstration on clothing. She showed us how to put in a zipper.

Refreshments were then served by Mrs. McCulloch. The club was adjourned while each member was working on a lamp which we will finish at our next meeting.

called Vina'amour, Secretary, Judy Carter, called the roll and everyone answered by telling what they had done on their projects. We had our business. It consisted of selling fruit cakes and light bulbs, the radio program, a report on the turkey school, and we gave out the programs for the coming year. After we divided into two groups, the girls in one and the boys in another, Mrs. Jane Street gave the girls a program on sewing and Mr. Hepler and Mr. Woodruff gave the boys a program on Gun Safety. Ginger and Larry Stanley had the refreshments and were then adjourned.

DAVIE ACADEMY

The Davie Academy 4-H Club held its regular meeting Monday, February 7 at 7:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Mary Blanche Morrison. The meeting was called to order by the president then he led us in the pledges of allegiance and the pledge to the flags. The minutes were read by the secretary, Bobby Kooz. He also called the roll. There were 15 members present and 1 new member. There were 4 visitors and 2 leaders present. Then we had devotions by Jolette Morrison.

We then discussed record books and talked about turning the books in in March. Also about the classes on filling out long-time record books which we also have to turn in in March were discussed.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. R. C. Handlin who gave us a very interesting lesson on how to give a demonstration. After this Mrs. Morrison served refreshments. Everyone enjoyed them.

U. N. C. — Around The Old Well — By JOAN PAGE

CHAPEL HILL — Is undergraduate education really suffering from over-emphasis on research? Are classroom instruction, faculty loyalties and academic fields with traditions of excellence being threatened by federal funds? A University of North Carolina economist and president of the Southern Economic Association has an answer to each of these changes. Prof. Ralph W. Pfouts believes many changes hurred at federal research programs arise from a misunderstanding of the nature of higher education and the educational process.

clearly the responsibility of local university administrators," Pfouts believes. Advancement in one area may serve to stimulate research in another area. In any case, he feels it is certainly possible to enhance fields eligible for research funds without damaging fields in which there are traditions of excellence. The UNC economist warns that money for research and fellowships is not sufficient to promote a center of excellence. Acquisition of outstanding faculty members is a slow and difficult process, and a center of excellence cannot be founded without a good faculty. Pfouts has an answer for those who suspect a shift of loyalty among faculty members away from their universities to federal agencies supplying research funds.

LIBRARY FILMS CATER TO MAN'S TASTE Five new films catering to masculine interests have been added to the North Carolina Adult Film Project and are now available from the Davie County Public Library. Any group may use these sixteen millimeter films at no charge other than postage upon two weeks or more prior request at the library. Films from this state-wide library collection may not be used in elementary and secondary schools nor may they be used where an admission is charged. The new films are: SKI-WAYS TO SAFETY — (thirteen minutes in color) — shows the techniques and necessary safety precautions in water skiing. INTRODUCTION TO FOREST ADVENTURING — (twenty-six minutes in color) — instructs the viewer in safety precautions to be observed when camping and hiking. It also shows how to read a compass and how to act when lost. SMOKING AND YOU — (eleven minutes in color) — is an exaggerated but effective film on possible health problems that could develop from the habit of smoking. SCOTT'S LAST JOURNEY — (one hour in black and white) — is a chronicle of the ill-fated Antarctic Expedition on which Sir Robert Falcon Scott and four others perished on their return from the South Pole. ANTARCTIC CROSSING — (fifty minutes in color) — shows the Hillary-Fuchs Trans-Antarctic Expedition made during the International Geophysical Year. A number of regional dialects have been identified by linguists in the United States. What New Yorkers call a bag may be termed a sack in Kansas and a poke in Alabama.

and the rows of strawberries and other crops are very carefully laid out on the contour. Grass waterways are provided as safe outlets for the rows and terraces and the fertility of the land is maintained with crop rotations. Mr. McClellan states that the careful contouring pays off not only in saving the soil but in the quality of produce as well. He says that particularly with strawberries he gets a uniform growth through the entire length of the rows and that the crop is not affected by drought as quickly as it would be if the rows were straight. Owners of small tracts of farmland and those who have gardens on city lots would do well to follow his example. The responsibility for the care of the land rests with the small as well as the large landowner.

CONSERVING SOIL Former Work Unit Conservationist of Davie County is still conserving soil. Guy McClellan who lives on the Guilford-Jamestown Road has a long record of conscientious care of the land. He once worked as an employee of the Soil Conservation Service at several locations in the State. His last assignment was in Davie County and ended just after World War II. Since then he has installed hundreds of acres of pasture, strip cropping and other soil conserving practices during a period of time when he was employed as farm manager of the Forsyth County Farm and Reedy Fork Ranch. He is now retired and raises strawberries and truck crops on a small tract of land at his home. Mr. McClellan did not forget the care of the land when he moved from the big farms to his small home tract. Every acre of cultivated land on this tract is terraced

Winners Announced For Betty Crocker

Winners of 1966 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow awards in high schools here have been announced as follows: Edith H. Hancock—Central Davie High School. Annie D. Foster — Davie County High School. Each scored highest in her school in a written knowledge and attitude examination administered to more than a half million senior girls throughout the country on Dec. 7. She remains in contention for scholarship grants ranging from $500 to $5,000. Test papers of all school Homemakers of Tomorrow in the state are being judged competitively. From them, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named. She will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the annual Betty Crocker Search. Her school will be awarded a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica from Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc. The second-ranking girl in the state will receive a $500 educational grant. Following her selection, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow, together with a school advisor, will join winners and advisors from each of the 49 other states and the District of Columbia in a nexpense paid educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D. C. Climax of the trip will be the naming of the 1966 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Chosen from the state winners on the basis of her original test score, plus personal observation and interviews during the tour, she will receive a scholarship increased to $5,000. Grants to second, third, and fourth-ranking girls in the nation will be raised to $4,000.

FARMINGTON

By NELL H. LASHLEY Mr. and Mrs. John Hartman are happy to announce the arrival of a baby girl, Peggy Jean, to their family February 19th at the Davie County Hospital. Both mother and baby are doing well. The Hartman children, Charles, Wanda, Benny and Ruth spent several days this week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Riddell on Advance Rt. 1. Mrs. Richard Conrad and two children of Lewisville visited Mrs. Lottie Brook and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Miller Friday. Saturday visitors of Mrs. Queen Bess Kennen were her brother, George Sheek, and her nephew, George Sheek Jr. of Winston-Salem. Sunday visitors of Mrs. Nell Lashley were Mr. and Mrs. William Scholtes of Winston-Salem and Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman of Mocksville. Miss Carolyn Boger and Charles Wray Boger were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Taylor and Bradley Taylor of Chapel Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Seats and Mr. and Mrs. Beal Smith were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Burton Seats. Mrs. Kenneth Taylor spent the week end with her son, W. A. Taylor in Winston-Salem. Robins returning from their winter vacation in warmer climate are beginning to appear on the rain and snow soaked lawns and fields. They greedily yank the defenseless fishing worm from its watery hole and go bob, bobbing along. The crocus are blooming, the daffodils have sent up greenleaves two or three inches out of the ground. Can Spring be far behind?

BIXBY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Potts and baby spent the week-end with Mr. Pott's father, N. C. Potts and sister, Mrs. Jimmy Dillon and Mrs. Dillon. Mr. and Mrs. Louise Boal visited Jerry Beal Sunday. He is a patient at a hospital in Raleigh. Mrs. Sallie Nivens honored her son, Bill with a going away dinner, Sunday. Bill enters the U. S. Army Wednesday. Those enjoying the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Elverhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Redding and son, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Keaton and children. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robertson and baby, all of Winston-Salem, Mrs. Karleen Cope and children, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Robertson and children, Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchens and Miss Edith Lash. Mrs. Opal Howard visited her mother, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Harding Swisher and baby visited Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Robertson, Friday night. Randy Robertson spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robertson in Winston-Salem. Sallie Nivens visited Mrs. Lilly and Mrs. Nancy for awhile, Thursday evening. The muddy waters of the Missouri River meet the clearer Mississippi north of St. Louis, but each river retains its identity for more than 35 miles before blending into a uniform color, the National Geographic says.

East Rowan Awarded Piedmont Cage Tourney

East Rowan High will host the Piedmont Conference basketball tournament which is scheduled to run from Feb. 28 to March 5. It will be the first time East has been the site of the bi-conference tournament. The decision was made at a meeting of the Western North Carolina High School Activities Association at Mooresville last night. East was the only school which submitted a bid for the Piedmont event. W. C. Clary, executive secretary of the WNCCHSAA, also said this morning that Belmont would be the site of the Western Conference tournament. This will also be Belmont's first time as host school for the Northwestern and Southwestern Conference teams. The Piedmont event will bring 18 teams to East — the top four teams, boys and girls, in both the North Piedmont and South Piedmont Conferences.

Inspection Of Autos Underway

The first day of official inspection of motor vehicles was Wednesday. Each vehicle must undergo a six-point safety inspection at an authorized station. Rowan stations and the sites previously have been published in The Post. To be checked will be brakes, steering, light, horn, signal lights and windshield wipers. Inspectors are not required to adjust any mechanical items to bring the vehicle up to standards. The motorist is required to pay a $1.50 inspection fee when the vehicle is inspected whether it "passes" or not. If it does not pass, the motorist has a maximum of 90 days in which to have the vehicle inspected for a second time. There will be no additional cost for the second inspection if a vehicle fails the first time around. Last digit in this year's license plate determines the month in which the deadline passes for inspection of the particular vehicle. A vehicle can be inspected at any time, at any approved station, deadline set by the last digit.

The officially approved inspection stations in Davie County are as follows:

- Carter's Sinclair Service
Shorty York Sinclair Service
Pennington Chevrolet Company
Reavis Motor Company
Furches Motor Company
Mocksville Chrysler-Plymouth
Harold's Shell Service
Ken-American Amoco
Zeb Cook's Garage
West Davie Motor Co.

YADKIN VALLEY

By MRS. JOE LANGSTON
Rev. Mervyn Garrison and Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Cheshire were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Gray Matthews.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Smith and Mrs. Mattie Smith are in Florida. They expect to do a lot of sight-seeing and attend the car races at Daytona Beach during the weekend.

Robin Draway of Winston-Salem spent the past weekend with Nancy Langston.

Dorris York of Gardner Webb College spent the weekend with her parents. Roy Anderson of Rock Springs attended church with her at Yadkin Valley Church Sunday.

Mr. Anderson is a student at N. C. State University at Raleigh.

Wayne and Kermit Smith are in Daytona Beach, Florida making preparations to participate in the races there this week.

Mrs. Wilbur West is still a patient at a Davie County Hospital Sunday for observation.

Mrs. Nannie Foster who has been in Fran-Ray Rest Home, returned to her home Sunday.

Rev. C. E. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Willard, Ronda and Mark Willard, Nancy Langston, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Langston, David Smith, Mrs. Alice Clontz, and the Bethlehem Quartet, visited the Eastern Star Home in Greensboro Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Crawford was speaker for the occasion and the quartet gave a program of music in the chapel. Following the program, an informal session of singing was held with everyone participating.

A special number from the quartet was sung for a blind lady who was celebrating her birthday anniversary. Another lady in her 80's sang alto with the quartet and one 92 played the organ for the group to sing. All of the residents there seemed so happy.

The group that presented the program represented the Advance Chapter of the O. E. S.

MACEDONIA

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ellis had their new baby at church Sunday. Sharon Cope and Ken Boger were at home for the weekend and attended church together Sunday.

Allison Smith, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Smith, celebrated her birthday anniversary at her home Saturday. Here for the occasion were Mrs. Charlie Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hogan and son of Portsmouth, Virginia.

Miss Creola Gobble visited Judy Ellis the past weekend.

Miss Lena Potts has retired from P. H. Hanes Knitting Company after working there for thirty eight years.

On Sunday, February 27 at 7:30 p. m. John Frank Fry will be ordained a deacon in the Moravian Church. Everyone is invited to attend the service.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sparks were luncheon guests of the Rev. J. George Bruner Friday. Also visiting him Friday was the Rev. Norwood Green. They also visited Grover Bowden who has returned home from the hospital, and Julie Beauchamp, Mrs. Nannie Foster and Mrs. Isley at Lynn Haven Nursing Home.

NOTICE OF SALE Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain deed of trust executed by Charlie W. Cope and Evalina Cope, his wife, to Peter W. Hairston, Trustee, dated the 21st day of March, 1958, and duly recorded in the Office of the Register of Deeds for Davie County in Book 50, at page 469, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured, and the said deed of trust being by the terms thereof subject to foreclosure, the undersigned trustee will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash at the Courthouse door in Mocksville, North Carolina, at noon on the 12th day of March, 1966, the property conveyed in said deed of trust, the same lying and being in Fulton Township, Davie County, North Carolina, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

TRACT NO. 1: Being Lot No. 4 as shown on the map or plat of the lands of Mary F. Carter, deceased, as surveyed and platted by S. L. Tabbert, County Surveyor, August 1946, which map or plat is recorded in Book No. 30, page 139, Register's Office of Davie County, N. C., to which reference is hereby made for a more particular description. This lot contains 5 acres, more or less.

TRACT NO. 2: Beginning at a stake South of and near the road, Mrs. Mamie Carter's Corner; thence North 85 1/2 deg. West 69 poles to a stone; thence North 85 deg. West 25 poles to a stake; thence North 25 deg. West 40 poles to a persimmon; thence South 89 deg. West 18 poles to a stake in the branch; thence North 3 deg. East 29 poles to a stone; thence South 84 1/2 deg. East 10 poles to a stone; thence South 3 deg. West 62 poles to a stake the beginning corner.

This land is subject to life estate in J. M. Cope and Lila Cope and also to the conditions of a certain deed from J. M. Cope and wife to Charlie W. Cope and Evalina Cope, his wife.

This the 8th day of February, 1966. PETER W. HAIRSTON, Trustee

NOTICE NORTH CAROLINA DAVIE COUNTY UNDER AND BY VIRTUE OF THE POWER OF SALE contained in the will of C. C. Smoot recorded in Will Book 5, page 245, office of the Clerk of Superior Court of Davie County, the undersigned, Executor of the estate of C. C. Smoot will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash at the Courthouse door in Mocksville at noon on the 5th day of March, 1966, the following described real property:

TRACT ONE (1): BEGIN at a white oak on South side of the Public Road near Dyson's mill and run North 6.10 chs. to a stake, Dyson corner; thence East 6.50 chs. to a stake, Dyson's corner; thence N. 8.25 chs. to a Post Oak, Foster's corner; thence E. 3 deg. var. 12.75 chs. to a stake; thence S. 17.10 chs. to a stake in Dyson's line; thence S. 43 degs. W. 3 degs. var. 29.30 chs. to a stake in an old schoolhouse place; thence S. 7. 90 to a W. Oak on the North side of the public road; thence with the road 13.50 TO THE BEGINNING, containing 38-1/4 acres, more or less.

TRACT TWO (2): BEGIN at a dogwood in Foster's line, corner of Lot No. 1 and runs East 3 degs. var. 14.93; thence South 31.00 to a stake in Dyson's line; thence South 45 degs. W. 3 degs. var. 11. 03 to a stake in said line; thence South 17.10 with the line of No. 1 TO THE BEGINNING, containing 35-3/4 acres, more or less.

THE HOMEPLACE of the late C. C. Smoot consisting of a brick house and approximately three (3) acres of land, more or less, and being a portion of "Tract One" described above will first be offered separately. Tracts "One" and "Two" will then be offered as a unit, minus the homeplace. Finally, Tracts "One" and "Two" together with the homeplace will be lumped together and offered as a unit. The method which realizes the highest bid or bids will constitute the acceptable bid or bids. All sales will be made subject to confirmation and will remain open ten (10) days for upset bids.

Prospective purchasers may at any time inspect the said property by application to the undersigned. This 1st day of February, 1966. MARY ELLEN DEADMON 2 3 5fn
