Couple Arrested Here Face Ohio Murder Charge

A man and woman was arrested in Davie County last Thursday, August 28th, will face charges of first degree murder in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The pair waived extradition and were returned over to officials of that city last Saturday.

Sheriff George Smith identified the pair as Walter Baker Walls, 36, and Miss Brenda B. (alias Shirley) Anders, 27. The pair was arrested last Thursday at the home of the woman's uncle, Fred Anders of Mocksville, Rt. 1, where they were living. The residence is just north of US 64 West, about three miles west of Mocksville near Center.

Sheriff Smith said the pair is wanted for the shooting of Walls estranged wife, Mrs. Anna B. Walls, 36, on January 17th of this year. Mrs. Walls was allegedly shot by a .38 caliber snub-nosed pistol in the front yard of her home in Cincinnati. She was the mother of nine children.

Sheriff Smith said Cincinnati police telegraphed him a description of the pair, and that he located them after several days of investigation.

Davie Allotted $118,000 For Secondary Roads

Davie County will get $118,000 for secondary road construction during the next year in the tentative budget of the State Highway Commission.

How much it will receive in other funds depends upon highway commissioner R. G. McNeil of Jonesville and upon how the full highway commission decides to spend federal and state money for primary and urban road projects.

McNeil was allocated $1,405,000 for secondary roads for his six counties, $308,000 in primary road construction funds and $241,000 in urban road construction funds.

The $1,405,000 in secondary road money is split among McNeil's six counties this way: Davie, $118,000; Forsyth, $194,000; Iredell, $272,000; Stokes, $295,000; Surry, $332,000; Yadkin,

The money was allocated on the basis of the number of miles of unpaved secondary roads in each county.

McNeil can spend the primary road allocation and the urban road allocation anywhere within his district as he pleases, but the secondary road money must be spent within the county as allocated.

McNeil, of course, will have the discretion to spend the amount in each county in any manner he decides within the broad policy of the commission itself.

The largest single allocation for secondary road construction went to Wilkes County, where its 677.80 miles of unpaved secondary roads—the highest in the state—entitled it to $434,000. The smallest allocation went to New Hanover County, which received only $18,000 for its 28.80 miles of unpaved roads.

Do You Remember?

Many of the Farmington-Pino Community may recall the above picture . . . made prior to World War II . . . the occasion and be able to identify themselves and others. We can identify many . . . but others we can't. If someone will furnish us with the identification and details about the picture, we will re-run it at a later date.

1-40 Paving Hits Top Speed

As construction of Interstate 40 across Davie County hit top speed, the State Highway Commission opened bids at Raleigh last week on more signs and guard rail for I-40.

Lee White Construction Company of Richmond, Virginia was apparent low bidder at $20,722 on the sign project.

This includes signs, sign lighting and guard rail for a section along the westbound lanes.

Meanwhile Rea Construction Co. of Charlotte, contractor on the $3.5 million interstate highway project between NC 801 and Mocksville, set some sort of record.

It finished the westbound lanes from its concrete plant in the center of the job to the present end of the route at NC 801 near the Yadkin River.

The company's paving machines laid about six miles of concrete pavement, double-laned, in 15 days—approximately one-fourth of the paving job. The paving has now begun from the concrete plant, moving west towards Mocksville.

The paving machines can lay more than a mile of double land highway in a day. They are limited largely by logistics—the amount of concrete which the truck fleet can move from the plant to the paving site.

West of Mocksville, Wright Contracting Company of Columbus, Ga., which holds a $4.3 million contract to build the 14.5 miles of highway between Mocksville and Statesville, moved in equipment and prepared to start paving.

The completion date will depend to a large extent upon the weather during the fall and winter. However, highway engineers have not promised completion before late 1970.

Tour Of Homes

The Mocksville Tour of Homes this year will include a log house, a pre-Civil War plantation house and a new story-and-a-half home.

The tour, sponsored by the Mocksville Woman's Club, will be held from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. Wednesday, Sept. 17. If it rains, the tour will take place the next day.

Houses open to the public will be homes of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Sprinkle, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hendrix, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Haire, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hall, and Coolemeem Plantation, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hairston.

Also included will be the Davie County Public Library, a contemporary building that houses interesting sculpture.

A two-story log house sheathed in clapboard said to date from the early 1800's, later enlarged and remodelled, is the home of the Sprinkle's. The original pine-paneled walls and broad board floors and ceilings are still intact and three of the five handsome old mantels lend their charm to the interior.

The second floor, with three of its four rooms on different levels and its up-and-down steps are characteristic of the late 18th and early 19th century homes in the South. The small balcony between the twin chimneys at the southern end of the house was used in days long gone for airing bed linens and shelters the terrace below.

The house was restored and enlarged in 1939 and later remodelled to make a glassed-in family room with Franklin fireplace when Dr. and Mrs. Sprinkle moved in 1967.

A story and a half Colonial home including 10 rooms is the new home of the Hendrix's. The large house, surrounded by tall pines is graced by tall white columns across the front porch. The foyer, which was Italian marble floors, contains a curved stairway to the second floor where there are large bedrooms and storage areas.

Of special interest is the large 15' by 45' glassed-in music room and summer den which has exposed beams and terrazzo floors. The house is furnished traditionally.

In 1964, the Haire's remodelled a 60 year old farmhouse in the New England Salt Box style, enhanced by the lovely spreading grounds and large trees. Dark-stained panelling is predominate throughout the house which contains many antiques refinished by the Haires as a hobby. A 109 inch long table in the dining room, a butcher block found in an old meat market in Eastern N. C., and the wicker furniture on the large porch are just a few of the many outstanding features to be seen.

The fireplace in the master bedroom centers a delightful private sitting area for winter evenings. The 10 rooms in the house are very spacious as the house was built around the core of the old house, and affords growing room for the Haires and their 3 children. Presently undergoing renovation is the old well house, which will be used as a guest house when finished.

As their children were growing up, the need for more room became apparent. In 1968, the Haires built a new brick house in Southwood Acres. Seven rooms on the first floor and 2 rooms on the top floor are contained in this story and a half home.

Decorated traditionally, the Hall's home is unique in that they designed it themselves to suit their own needs. Built-ins and step-saving ideas were incorporated in the plans.

The land for Coolee Plantation was bought by Capt. Peter Hairston in 1817, and the house was built 114 years ago. As described in a book on early architecture of North Carolina, "The plan of the house is that of a Greek cross with four equal wings radiating from the hall. Each wing is treated as a pedimented pavilion, having coupled, arched windows and low, colonnaded verandahs. In the hall is a fine spiral staircase which ascends in wide, sweeping curves to a high, glazed cupola on the roof."

The house is now, as it has been, a family residence where each generation has left its mark. The library still has the original "faux bois" painting of the woodwork. The furniture fall into three categories: the 18th and early 19th Century pieces; and says a member of the family, "the usual accumulation of things, some nondescript, some interesting," including Jugtown pottery. The paintings, drawings, and graphics reflect a special interest of the present family.

The Library was traditional furnishings by North Carolina manufacturers. A multipurpose room, decorated in black and white, is used for art exhibits and other events.

On the day of the tour, a bag lunch will be available at the Davie County Office Building on Main Street from 12:30 until 2 p. m. Tickets may be obtained in advance from Mrs. Ted L. Junker of Mocksville, or they may be purchased at any point on the tour. A map showing the route of the Tour will also be available.

Poem Written To Grandmother

Cindy Reavis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Reavis of Route 5, wrote the following poem for her grandmother's birthday present. Mrs. J. C. Jones is the recipient:

With pride and gladness,
I, these words say,

Cindy

To My Grandmother
On the day you were born,
God must have smiled,
And said to himself,
I'll bless this child.

And as you grew,
In heavenly grace,
A smile of beauty,
Outlined your face.

A gift of song,
And laughter too,
Became a steady,
Part of you.

With five children,
You were blest,
Of all mothers,
You were the best.

A kind heart,
Always ready,
A gentle hand,
Ever steady.

From my beginning,
You've always been,
My ideal,
And the dearest friend.

If only printed words,
Could tell,
The way your name,
Makes my heart swell.

Sports And Academics

Charlottesville is known as the home of the University of Virginia. The University has always been known for its stately grounds (not a campus), its first yearmen, second yearmen, etc., (not freshmen, sophomores, etc.), for its highly interperate party habits, and its head cracking scholastic requirements.

It is also justly proud of the fact that its founder, Thomas Jefferson, was a prime builder of the nation, and that among its illustrious graduates and accomplished boozers is Edgar Allen Poe.

Except for the Bill Dudley era, Virginia athletes have been about as dull as Elizabethan prose. There was always more noise in the fraternity houses on a fall weekend than in Scott Stadium where the Cavalier gridiron warriors went to take their regular beatings.

Things Are Getting Better

Basketball was no better, and continues to languish in the morass of extreme misery. But things are definitely different and better in the football arena. Following last year's sensational 7-3 season, they are beginning to think that George Blackburn may be a water walker after all.

Blackie, as most folks call him, is a quiet-spoken guy who likes to joke, parties in the true Virginia spirit, and is considered by many to be one of the most creative offensive football minds in the country.

When Paul Brown, former coach of the Cleveland Browns, and now with the Cincinnati Bengals, was asked a few years ago to name the brightest coaches in the college ranks, he named George Blackburn first. (He also named Paul Dietzel of South Carolina, which, if Brown knows what he's talking about speaks pretty well for the ACC.)

One thing for certain: Blackie is never beat as long as there is time on the clock.

"When you run a forward pass offense," he told me, "you are always in the game. It takes only as long as is required to throw a pass to score when you hit. We are always dangerous no matter how far behind we may be."

Crowds Are Growing Larger

The passing offense has paid off in two ways at Virginia. The Cavaliers are winning, and they are interesting. The crowds are larger, and some of the students are even showing up at the stadium sober. The newspapers in Virginia are taking kindly to the Blackburn system of public relations which is low key and informal in an old shoe sort of way.

Blackie is one of my favorite people because it is so much fun to watch him laugh. When he hears a good joke he laughs all over, and the tears brim up in his eyes. When he loses, he takes it in good grace, and never sheds any tears for the news media.

Virginia has found, along with Davidson and Princeton, that athletic strength is not mutually exclusive with academic excellence. This has come as a revelation to many, but it is certain to feed on itself and the power of Cavalier football may be expected to continue upward.

In any event, as long as Blackie is there, they will have something to talk about at Alumni Hall (the party headquarters) besides the day Jefferson planted the big tree on the grounds.

N. C. Outer Banks Filmed From Space

Ford To Offer New 12-Month Warranty

Ford Motor Company and its dealers will offer with 1970-model passenger cars and light trucks a simplified 12-month warranty which has no limitation on mileage or number of owners and provides adjustments and service without charge in virtually all cases during the first 90 days of the warranty period.

The new warranty also eliminates all requirements for validation of maintenance and presentation of Ownercards.

The company and the selling dealer jointly will warrant that the dealer will repair or replace, without charge to the customer, any part (except tires and tubes) of a new 1970 model Ford Motor Company passenger car or light truck in normal use in the U. S., Canada or Puerto Rico which is found to be defective in factory materials or workmanship within 12 months, without limitation as to mileage or ownership changes. Tires and tubes are warranted separately by their manufacturers.

In addition, during the first 90 days of the warranty period, virtually all adjustments and services other than scheduled periodic maintenance, will be performed without charge except in cases where the vehicle obviously has been damaged or abused.

This means that for a 90-day "break-in period," Ford buyers will not have to bear the cost of adjustments such as wheel and headlight alignments, wheel balancing and carburetor adjustment that in prior model years may have been charged to them.

For the Maverick, which was introduced earlier this year as a 1970 model with a 12-month/12,000-mile warranty, the new warranty terms take effect with cars sold today.

On all car lines except Maverick, the new warranty replaces a 12-month/12,000-mile basic warranty plus a 5-year/50,000-mile extended powertrain warranty for first owners (remaining warranty coverage was transferable to second owners beyond 12 months or 12,000 miles were subject to a deductible charge of $25 per incident). The prior warranty was also conditioned on use of an Ownercard, proof of performance of specified maintenance, and verification of odometer readings.

Both customers and dealers found it difficult to understand and apply the former warranty because of ownership changes, incomplete maintenance records, odometer repairs and mislaid Ownercards. Those factors will have no effect under the new warranty. The new warranty should contribute importantly to improving the warranty service relationship between dealers and their customers and between the company and its dealers by eliminating many of the conditions of coverage present in past warranties.

Drunk Suspects Must Take Test

Beginning this week, persons suspected of drunken driving in North Carolina will be required to take a breathalyzer or blood test under a law enacted by the 1969 General Assembly.

Refusal to submit to a test will result in suspension of the driver's license for 60 days. "This law is not designed to produce arrests," Motor Vehicles commissioner Joe Garrett said in a prepared statement. "It is a law designed by the legislature to make a significant contribution to highway safety, to help us rid our highways of the drinking driver."

The new implied consent law says that any person who operates a motor vehicle in North Carolina "shall be deemed to have given consent" to a breathalyzer or blood test if suspected of drunken driving.

Lt. Col. Edwin Guy, newly appointed commander of the State Highway Patrol, says when a person applies for a new driver's license in North Carolina or renews his license, the implied consent law is not pointed out to him specifically but it is in the driver's manual.

Under the new law, if a motorist refuses to take a test, he will have three days to request a hearing before the Department of Motor Vehicles to determine if his arrest was justified.

The accused person will be permitted to call an attorney and select a witness to view the test, providing the test is not delayed more than 30 minutes.

If a person is cleared of the drunk driving charge within 60 days, the Department of Motor Vehicles must immediately return the license.

The Proposed Merger

WHAT ABOUT IT?

By J. C. Jones

MANAGER

Davie Electric Membership Corporation

There seems to be a great deal of concern among the people of Mocksville and the surrounding trade area concerning the merger or consolidation of the Davie Electric Membership Corporation and the Cornelius Electric Membership Corporation, and I can very well understand this concern since the Davie Electric Membership Corporation has been here with you for the past thirty years. I have been asked, over the past few months, a great many questions which convinces me that there is considerable misunderstanding concerning this move by the two cooperatives.

This move has been carefully studied by the twenty directors of the two cooperatives over a period of more than two years, also by disinterested experts in this field, the North Carolina Rural Electrification Authority, and the National Rural Electrification Authority, and it is the unanimous opinion of all these groups that the Davie Electric Membership Corporation and the Cornelius Electric Membership Corporation should, for many reasons, be consolidated into one unit.

I am going to attempt to give you some of the reasons used in arriving at the decision:

Operating Area

The Davie Electric Membership Corporation presently has two operating areas being operated from the Mocksville Office and the Taylorsville Office. These two areas covers the greater part of six counties. With the ever increasing demands for adequate and continuous electric service, we are finding ourselves over extended. The Cornelius Cooperative is in a like position. With the consolidation, we hope to add an additional operating area which will include the Statesville area which is now maintained and operated out of the Cornelius, the Taylorsville, and the Mocksville Offices.

Availability Of Service

Your Mocksville Office will remain as it now is for all purposes with the possible exception of billing and central record keeping.

Economics Of Operation

Transportation is one of our larger operating costs. The wholesale purchase of electric power is by far our largest operating cost. The method of billing being used by each of the two cooperatives is fast becoming out of date and overly expensive. The maintenance of standby equipment owned by each of the cooperatives, and I could list numerous other things that, in our opinion, some economics can be effected in by the consolidation of the two cooperatives.

Needed Capital

Both the cooperatives are growing extremely fast and, of course, this involves additional capital investment. In my opinion within the not too distant future, we will be forced to go into the open money market for this capital. Will whoever attempts to secure this capital be talking about a fifteen million dollar business in which the owners have approximately 30% equity, or will they be talking about two smaller businesses in which the owners have approximately 30% equity? This will determine to a great extent the availability of capital and what it will cost.

After attempting to manage the Davie Electric Membership Corporation for the past thirty years, and after having given this matter a great deal of thought and study, I would like to say to the people of Mocksville and the surrounding area that, in my opinion, the consolidation of these two cooperatives will prove to be a great advantage to the entire operations.

4-H Council

The 4-H County Council and adult leaders met in the County Office Building Friday, August 22, at 7:30 p. m. The meeting was called to order by Ricky Hockaday, President, and devotions were given by Roberta Handlin.

The major item of new business was to plan the Annual 4-H and Youth Horse Show. The date set for the Horse Show is September 20th, with September 27th as rain date, beginning at 4:00 p. m. The show will be held at the Fork Recreation Center, on Hwy. No. 64. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for all students.

Hamburgers, hot dogs, homemade desserts, and drinks will be sold throughout the show. Each club is asked to secure sponsorship for two classes at $5.00 per class, and to donate homemade desserts.

Other business included the date Record Books are to be turned in, which is September 30. National 4-H Club Week was also discussed, along with the Annual Christmas Parade. Clubs were asked to start planning for these events.

Social Security

According to Robert Thomas, Manager of the Salisbury Social Security Office, many people in Davie County appear to be losing valuable social security protection. They are failing to get the full protection offered by Medicare as well as losing cash benefits. Benefits are lost when people do not apply for them on time.

To avoid this loss, a person nearing age 65 should get in touch with his social security office within the three months before his 65th birthday. By doing this he can be assured of receiving the full protection offered by the Medicare program. The earliest a person can qualify for Medicare is the month of his 65th birthday. So, to have protection at that time, an application must be filed before that month. If he waits until the month he reaches 65 or later, he may lose some or all protection afforded by the medical insurance portion of Medicare, Thomas added.

Cash benefits may also be lost by delaying an application. Changes in the Social Security Law have liberalized the retirement test, which now permits many people who continue working after age 65 to receive some benefits.

Mayview Manor To Live Again As Tweetsie Grand Hotel

The grand dame of Blue Ridge resort hotels is not dead. Mayview Manor, for decades the mountain mecca of aristocrats before a decline in recent years forced her into a lonely retirement in 1966, will be restored to the gay life in the summer of 1970.

She has been bought by Tweetsie Railroad from Henderson Belk Enterprises of Charlotte at an undisclosed price.

The Mayview will then become the Tweetsie Grand Hotel catering to families in the summer, skiers in the winter and conventions at other times.

"Nobody wanted to see the Mayview go," said Tweetsie Vice President Harry Robbins, "but nobody could figure out how to modernize her and make her dance again. We're sure we know the answer."

"There will be no modernizing in the aesthetic sense," he said. "Instead, we'll take advantage of the era to which she and Tweetsie originally belonged. We intend to utilize a decor of the 1890's through the early 1920's and currently we're talking to two or three of the country's top decorators about the project."

Robbins said the aim is to retain some of the nostalgia for those with a sentimental attachment to the Mayview but that "there will be a new identity with a wider appeal."

Nightly entertainment will be provided in the old ballroom where a visitor now leaves footprints in a film of dust and his voice echoes through the emptiness.

"Unfortunately," Robbins said, "somebody back there did away with the old furniture and installed something like Grand Rapids modern which just doesn't fit. Initially, we'll just try to antique it. The bathtubs with legs are priceless. We'll keep those."

The rambling, 138-room structure with a spectacular view of John's Gorge and the mountains beyond is "sound", he said, but some renovation will be required, especially to a deteriorating chestnut bark exterior and balconies.

The huge, high-ceilinged dining areas will offer "family style" food service and the great stone hearths with their Daniel Boone VI andirons will blaze again as centers of after-ski parties.

"We're thinking about acquiring a double-decker view bus for shuttling parties to Tweetsie and ski slopes," Robbins said, "any maybe some limousines of the Twenties for atmosphere."

Today, though, the heated swimming pool is empty and only the ghosts of white-haired ladies and black-tied men walk the parlor rooms, halls and lobbies. Here and there in leather chairs are yellowed copies of newspapers, open to the society or financial pages. Grand pianos are covered by blankets and their keys, touched timidly, are embarrassingly out of tune. The call bell at the desk rings to a thumping command but no bellhop replies and one wonders why a Mr. Dearmon never picked up his mail, a picture post card from somebody in Houston and a copy of THE CHRONICLE.

But all this is soon to change.

The mountains were never more alive with people who now find them to be year-round resorts.

"They'll be more alive," Robbins concluded, with the Tweetsie Grand Hotel, near Mayview Manor.

VA Explains Pay Increase

The Veterans Administration today explained the recent increase in the base pay of members of the Armed Forces brought an increase in dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) payments only to the 160,000 unremarried widows on the DIC rolls.

Dependent parents and children receiving DIC monthly payments from the VA did not receive an automatic increase in their payments as a result of the military pay raise.

Payments for these parents and children are fixed by the Congress. W. R. Phillips, Manager of the Winston-Salem VA Regional Office, explained.

Benefits for unremarried widows relate to military pay scales, with the formula for determining the amount of monthly payments calling for $120 a month, plus 12 percent of the monthly basic pay now being received by a serviceman whose rank and years of service are the same as those of the deceased veteran.

Thus a raise in military basic pay, such as that which went into effect on July 1, automatically increases DIC payments to eligible widows, Phillips said.

Eligibility For ASC Elections Explained

Ballots soon will be mailed to agricultural producers known to be eligible to vote in Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee elections, according to Davie County ASC Committee Chairman J. N. Smoot.

He said any resident of the county who is eligible to take part in a farm program administered by ASC is eligible to vote in the community committee elections to be held the third week in September. This applies without regard to sex, race, color, religion, or national origin.

"Our list of known eligible voters totals 2576 and I am hopeful that each will cast a ballot," the ASC Chairman said.

He pointed out there may be agricultural producers -- owners, operators, tenants, or sharecroppers -- who are eligible to vote but are not on the eligible voters' list. "We invite those who may be eligible voters to check at the Davie County ASC office, Mocksville, N. C. If they are eligible, we will add their names to the list and they will receive ballots. The list of known eligible voters is maintained at the ASC office and is available there for public inspection," Chairman Smoot said.

Almost every agricultural producer in the county is an eligible voter, according to the ASC Committee Chairman. "For instance, if he produced a crop eligible for price support, he is an eligible voter. He doesn't necessarily have to actually apply for price support, so long as he has a crop which was eligible for price support," said Mr. Smoot.

"If he has cropland in any of the various retirement or diversion programs of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, he is an eligible voter. Or if he could have participated in the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) for installing soil and water conservation practices, he is an eligible voter in the ASCS community committee elections. Again, I point out that participation in the programs is not the determining factor; what counts is whether a producer was eligible to participate in any ASCS program," he continued. If so, he or she is eligible to vote."

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service administers a acreage allotments, price support loans and payments, cropland retirement and diversion programs, the sugar program, wool and mohair incentive production program, wheat certificate program, the farm storage and drying equipment loan program and the Agricultural Conservation Program, a joint effort by landowners and the U. S. Department of Agriculture to preserve our Nation's land, water and timber resources. It offers price support on dairy products, feed grains, wheat, tobacco, peanuts, cotton, soybeans, flaxseed, honey, rice, sugar, wool and mohair, tung nuts, castor beans, and naval stores (turpentine and gum rosin).

SOCIAL SECURITY

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Anyone in Davie County having a question concerning Social Security may write in care of this newspaper and the question and answer will be included in a subsequent column).

Q - I have full Medicare coverage and have to take pills prescribed by my doctor three times daily for high blood pressure. Will Medicare help pay for these drugs?
 A - No, prescription drugs are not covered by Medicare.

Q - I plan to return to work soon and will hire a maid to come in two days each week. Will I have to report her wages for social security?
 A - Yes, if you pay her as much as $50, or ore, in cash wages in a calendar quarter. You should withhold 4.8 percent from her salary and add 4.8 percent to send to Internal Revenue Service the month following the end of the calendar quarter. The report for this quarter (July, August, September) is due in October. The proper form used to report this is furnished by Internal Revenue Service.

Q - My husband and I receive a social security check, but I never worked under social security. If he should die, will I continue to get my check?
 A - You will then receive a widow's benefit which is 82 1/2 percent of the amount your husband was entitled to at age 65.

Q - I have recently married and would like to have my social security card changed to my married name. How do I get this done, and will I get a new number?
 A - We have an application card used to correct or change your name. You can complete this card at our office or one can be mailed to you. The Post Office also has these applications. Your new card will show your married name but the number will be the same.

A Patio Of Tomatoes!

Rev. and Mrs. Joseph C. Phillips of Farmington have had almost enough tomatoes this year to supply the county! Mrs. Phillips is shown above with the vines that are located in planters on each side of the doorway to the Farmington Methodist Church parsonage. She is holding a pan full of the tomatoes that were picked at one time and it had been 3 days since the previous gathering. There are four plants (3 varieties - cherry plum, yellow pear shaped and long shaped red. The plants were given to the Phillips by their daughter, Mrs. Bill Matthews of Durham, who is a nurse at Duke Hospital. They were in a "punch and plant box" - in other words, the box was covered with plastic, filled with seeds, and holes were punched as the plants came up. After re-potting the plants, Mrs. Matthews brought them here to share with her parents, and, they, having no idea of the extent to which they would grow, planted the plants in the front planter in April of this year. The first fruits began to bear around the middle of June and Mrs. Phillips says she expects tomatoes until frost. "I have retied them about 20 times," she also said. You will notice the vines are higher the Mrs. Phillips' head. Actually 1 vine is under the eave of the house and had it been left to grow free it probably would extend over the house. We would like to report that the tomatoes are very tasty as the photographer was the recipient of a bag full!

Q - Dear Congressman Mizell: I am now studying the possibility of going into business for myself. I understand that there are Government loans available for this purpose and would like to know how to go about getting one. L. E. Stevens, Sparta, N. C.

A - Dear Mr. Stevens: Government business loans can be applied for through the Small Business Administration. The main SBA office is located at 1441 L Street in Washington, and the staff there will be more than happy to assist you in applying for a loan. I might add that the SBA has an additional service that may prove beneficial to you in the early stages of your business. The Small Business Administration has an extensive publication service which makes everything from booklets on Management to training manuals and guides for all types of businesses. The Washington office mentioned above has a list of these publications available to you upon the asking.

Q - Dear Congressman Mizell: I understand that the National Park Service plans to take over the operational control of the National Campgrounds. I am wondering if any charges will be made for the use of camping areas. G. W. Leonard, Winston-Salem, N. C.

A - Dear Mr. Leonard: The Secretary of the Interior Hickel announced on June 11, 1969 that campgrounds in the National Park System will hereafter be operated by the National Park Service. The only exceptions are the campgrounds at Cinnamon Bay Camp, Virgin Islands National Park, and the two campgrounds currently being operated under contract at Everglades National Park; the latter will continue to be operated by the concessioner only until the contract expires on December 31, 1969. As a general policy, the National Park Service will make a charge for camping, except for backpack camping. The fundamental concept in making this charge is that persons who derive special benefits from the use of the Federal recreation areas should support a part of the cost of providing those benefits. The amount to be charged will not be determined until a thorough study on this subject has been completed.

Q - Dear Congressman Mizell: Can you tell me when the examinations for the service academies will be held? J. D. Ramsey, Thomasville, N. C.

A - Dear Mr. Ramsey: The Civil Service Academy Qualifying examinations are scheduled to be given in Winston-Salem on October 4. The exact locations and times are not yet available but will be made public as soon as they are set. If you are interested in attending one of the service academies and haven't as yet sent for an application, you should do so as soon as possible. If you will write me and let me know your intentions, a member of my staff will be happy to work with you.

Chicks To Charm Children At Fair

The Chick Midway Carnival, now an established free entertainment feature at the Dixie Classic Fair, will return again this year October 7-11 to delight thousands of the young and the young at heart.

"We're pleased to announce that the Chick Midway can be found, as before, in the Coliseum during Fair Week," announce Neil Bolton, Fair Manager recently. "This popular attraction has been a 'must see' each year for parents with youngsters.

The Chick Midway will include over 150 baby chicks riding miniature carnival rides. They learn to ride these dozen or so units because they are fed in tiny bends on each ride. Included in the Midway Carnival this year will be a miniature ferris wheel, merry-go-round, airplane swing, train, and other typical carnival rides.

"Children are delighted to see the chicks climb on the ferris wheel, for instance," Bolton added, "and ride blithely around. They balance on teeter-totters and scramble up a jungle gym. You sure can't call these chickens 'chicken'."

Leslie A. Renquist of Des Moines, Iowa, started this unusual attraction while employed by a feed company searching for a "crowd stopper." He added rides frequently, and then in 1962 decided that the Chick Midway Carnival would be appreciated by Fairgoers all over the country. The attraction has been shown in 35 states and four provinces in Canada.

News and Comment from our

BY ED RANKIN
North Carolina Citizens Assoc

RALEIGH -- State Government is the biggest enterprise in the city of Raleigh. This is often overlooked. State Government, through its many agencies, departments and institutions, provides more jobs and more payroll dollars here than any other employer.

The Governor is not only chief executive of the State of North Carolina, he is the largest employer in Raleigh. He controls, directly or indirectly, more jobs than any other person. So his influence as The Big Boss is felt more keenly and with more impact here than elsewhere in North Carolina.

CHANGING OF THE GUARD. Now that the General Assembly has adjourned, Governor Robert Scott and his Administration are busily engaged in the ancient well-established procedure of exerting the Governor's appointive and removal powers. While this exercise of power has a long history, such changes always bring fresh shock waves in Raleigh. Since State Government has no protective civil service for its employees, the question always arises over exactly what position is "appointive". For example, when a department head is fired, his secretary or administrative assistant may find themselves scrambling for another state job in a less vulnerable (and lower paying) status. At the moment, the question is: who will get the next "Dear John" letter?

WHO GETS APPOINTED? This depends entirely upon the Governor and his close political advisers. This is always one of the high points of every administration as they meet at the Executive Mansion to select their own team. The Governor is beset with conflicting recommendations from his many campaign lieutenants who have their own ideas, candidates and promises to promote. The shoving and tugging can be awesome to observe as choice appointments come up for consideration. The battle for highway commissioners is usually the grandest fight of all. Everyone thinks that highway commissioners have more political power, more money to spend and more local dividends to accrue than any other appointive job.

WHO GETS SACKED? This also depends entirely upon the Governor and his close political advisers. Since State Government has been in control of the Democrats for the past half century, it is obvious that administrative changes usually involve replacing one Democrat with a more acceptable Democrat. There can be many reasons for dismissal:

1. He didn't vote right in the first primary.
2. He didn't vote right in the second primary.
3. He didn't vote right in the fall election.
4. He was indifferent or inactive in one or all campaigns.
5. He is thought to be incompetent.
6. The job is needed (or promised) for another Democrat.

Actually the number of political dismissals is normally rather small when compared with the total state employment in Raleigh. But the shock waves are felt by state employees every four years when some heads begin to roll. How far will the Scott Administration go? Only time will tell. But the eventual need to heal intra-party wounds before the next gubernatorial election has a way of curbing political hatchet work.

The only certainty is that four years from now many of the Scott appointees will get the sack from the next Administration.

THE HONORABLES DO ENACT. The 1969 General Assembly was a record-breaker: the longest session in history (169 calendar days), the largest biennial budget ever enacted ($3.58 billion), the largest tax package ever voted ($200 million), and this session was the most expensive to operate ($2.3 million). In the closing days the legislators voted themselves a retroactive subsistence increase of $5 per day served. This amounted to some $700 each in additional income. Then, in an unprecedented action, the General Assembly passed a pension plan for legislators. The retroactive bonus and pension plan brought howls of editorial outrage from many newspaper editors.

Perhaps the Tar Heel legislators who voted for the bonus and pension bill have been reading about the General Assembly of California. The honorables there will receive $19,200 a year in 1971, with salaries being compounded at percent annually in the future. If this arrangement is left untouched, it has been computed they will receive annual salaries of $83,120 by 2001. Meanwhile, they now receive $25 per diem when in session (including weekends and holidays), are provided with an automobile, unrestricted credit cards for telephone and gasoline, and reimbursement for other travel costs. They are provided staff and offices in Sacramento and in their own district. Mothers, groom your sons for the legislature!

What makes the Piedmont great

John V. Stribling was a civil engineer with unusual mechanical skill, who lived in South Carolina's Oconee and Anderson Counties.

In the early 1880's, Stribling decided he needed a machine to carry material from the railroad to his mill. And since nothing available was satisfactory, he decided the only way to get what he wanted was to make it. So, he went to work.

In his small machine shop, Stribling developed a revolutionary gear arrangement which applied power from a steam engine to wheels of his carriage. The driving axle and differential gears were enclosed in a hollow shell. His invention was patented June 13, 1882.

Though rather crude in appearance, Stribling's horseless carriage rolled out of his shop and was put to work. Stribling was overjoyed. His uncle wasn't. "Johnny," he said, "the world is not ready for the horseless carriage; you are fifty years ahead of your time."

In a sense, his uncle was right. The cost of building steam-powered vehicles was too high, and it was to be several years before gasoline engines were applied to vehicles. And so, except for his own use, Stribling never benefited from his invention.

But, John Stribling's patented differential is basically the same design and principle in use in today's automobiles and trucks.

Stribling lived to see the modern automobile. But, he never owned one. Nevertheless, he was content with the fact that he had made a major contribution to the development of transportation.

The imagination and ingenuity of John Stribling helped make this area great. It is in that spirit that Duke Power is working for an even greater Piedmont.

A rope landing is made by Phillip (Pee Wee) Jones from his plane that landed in tall trees near the Twin Lakes Airport on Sunday. Jones, who is a stock car driver, first lowered his three young sons to safety before he abandoned the craft. (Photo by Ralph Miller.)

Airplane Lands Safely In Tree Tops

A well-known Bowman Gray stock car driver from Clemmons and his three young sons escaped injury Sunday when an airplane he was piloting belly-landed in the top of tall trees near the Twin Lakes Airport on the Fork-Bixby Road.

Rescued from the top of the trees after an hour long ordeal were Phillip (Pee Wee) Jones of Clemmons and his three sons, Timothy, 9; Michael, 5; and Stephen, 4.

The freak accident occurred around 12:15 p.m.

Jones went to the Twin Lakes Airport Sunday and rented a plane, a 1967 model 150 Cessna, and had made three previous landings at the airport that day.

However, on the fourth landing approach to the dirt strip, the plane engine failed and the plane landed in the top of tall trees across from the field.

The plane came to rest in the tree tops about 50 feet off the ground, almost directly behind the residence of "Scrip" Robertson.

Ray Tart of High Point, who had rented the same plane earlier in the day and who observed the craft when it went down, ran to the site about 200 yards from the end of the airfield. He said that it looked to him like it had too high a power and he started to go back up to make another approach.

"But the flaps were down and there wasn't enough air speed and it stalled out", Tart said.

Tart and four others quickly ran to the scene.

Tart said he yelled up and asked Pee Wee if anyone was hurt and received a negative reply.

"I told him to pitch the kids out if the plane caught fire and we would do our best to catch them", Tart said.

Tart said he reminded Jones to make sure all the switches were off and that he yelled down to him that all the switches had already been turned off.

The plane in the trees swayed slowly, slightly nose down, as the aviation fuel poured from the engine and soaked into the ground directly beneath the craft.

Davie County Rescue Squad personnel and the Fork Volunteer Fire Department members quickly arrived at the scene.

Volunteers climbed trees adjacent to the trees which held the craft perched at the precarious angle. Braided nylon ropes were tossed to Jones.

The rope was tied around each child and he was carefully lowered to the arms of the rescue workers.

Jones was the last to leave the craft. As he stepped outside the craft and prepared to be lowered the plane swayed dangerously. However, the supporting tree tops held as he was quickly lowered to the ground.

Many spectators flocked to the scene. State Highway Patrolmen blocked off the

School Construction Bids Run High

Bids on Davie school construction projects totaling $1,196,758 are being considered by the Davie County Board of Education.

The bids ... which cover construction of the new Farmington-Smith Grove Elementary School and construction at the William R. Davie School ... ran approximately 20% higher than local school officials anticipated.

Supt. James Everidge expressed concern that the high bids on these two projects might make it difficult to carry out all of the construction as proposed. In addition to the projects at Farmington-Smith Grove and William R. Davie, the county is faced with four more projects: Mocksville Elementary School, Mocksville Middle School, Shady Grove School and Coolemece School.

Hugh G. Strickland, Inc. of Winston-Salem was the low bidder for the general contract on the William R. Davie and Smith Grove-Farmington construction, submitting a bid of $690,000.

The low bid on the heating and air conditioning was also a combined bid for the two schools of $143,206 submitted by Floyd S. Pike Electrical Contractors of Winston-Salem.

A plumbing bid for the two schools was submitted by Southern Heating of Winston-Salem, $66,532.

Edman Electrical Company of Winston-Salem was the low bidder for the electrical contract at the William R. Davie School with a bid of $44,920. Floyd S. Pike Electrical Contractors of Winston-Salem submitted the low bid of $54,700 for the electrical work at the Farmington-Smith Grove School.

The Food Equipment Contract Company of Raleigh submitted a bid of $48,500 to provide the kitchen equipment for both schools.

The commissioners of Davie, Rowan and Iredell Counties passed resolutions last week which establishes the mental health facility as a tri-county unit.

Headquarters for the tri-county facility will be located in Rowan County with satellite clinics in Davie and Iredell.

The complex, about two years in the planning, will be directed by a board composed of three members from each county, with a member of the county commissioners from each county serving.

The mental health board of directors will be responsible for the mental health programs in the three counties and will establish administrative, professional personnel and operating policies.

Over a period of time, it is expected that current staffs will increase in size.

Davie Electric Membership And Cornelius Approve Merger

The Davie Electric Membership Corporation and the Cornelius Electric Membership have merged into the Crescent Membership Corporation.

Members of the Davie Cooperative gave overwhelming approval to the consolidation plan at their annual meeting last Saturday. The Cornelius Cooperative did likewise in their meeting Monday night.

The merger will become effective the first of the year.

The members in person at the Saturday meeting of the Davie Electric Membership Corporation voted 822 for the consolidation plan and 35 against. Over 6,000 proxies were recorded as voting for the plan. Total vote for the plan represented well over two-thirds of the entire Davie Electric Membership.

Four directors were elected at the 31st annual meeting. These include Paul H. Stroud of Davie County, W. B. Renegar of Iredell County, Larry Payne of Alexander County, and E. R. Crater of Yadkin County.

Gwyn B. Price of Raleigh, chairman of the North Carolina Rural Electrification Authority, was the principal speaker. He discussed the organization and purposes of various cooperatives from Benjamin Franklin's first fire insurance cooperative and wool buying cooperatives to the familiar telephone and electric cooperatives of the present time.

Price pointed out that the new Crescent corporation would be one with over $10 million dollars invested and with an annual operating revenue of 2.5 million dollars.

He estimated that this revenue would be over five million dollars ten years from now. The combined membership will be over 16,000 he reported.

"It is through strength that we do things", he explained, pointing out that joining together is the only way to achieve success.

He predicted that the new Crescent corporation would have 25,000 to 30,000 members within 15 years and a plant valued at 20 to 25 million dollars.

Price praised J. C. Jones, Davie Electric's manager for the past 30 years, and his dedication to the cause of rural electricity.

The new Crescent Electric Membership Corporation will serve more than 16,000 members with more than 2,800 miles of line in parts of 13 counties.

Operating Loans Help Farmers

Many farmers in Davie County are using operating loan credit from the Farmers Home Administration to develop their farms, according to Clarence H. Sink, County Supervisor for the agency.

"During the coming months we are going to place special emphasis on using this type of credit," Sink said, "to encourage and make it possible for farmers to develop their farm resources to the fullest."

Farmers Home Administration operating loans may be made to farmers who qualify to buy livestock and equipment, refinance debts, or to pay operating expenses. A Farmers Home Administration county supervisor helps farmers work out a farm and home plan to make the best use of resources available and to increase their incomes.

"This type of credit," Sink said, "helps curb the migration of farmers to the cities."

The interest rate on operating loans is 6 5/8%, with a repayment period of from 1-7 years.

Farmers Home Administration operating loans may also be used to finance recreational and other non-farm enterprises which will supplement farm income.

Further information is available at the Farmers Home Administration Office in the County Office Building next to the Court House in Mocksville.

At the Davie Electric Membership meeting Saturday in Mocksville, Gwyn B. and guidance from professional staff members, training, camping opportunities, including the maintenance and development of the Council's ten camp sites, and program helps. The volunteers and girls expect to receive these services, are dependant on them, and have faith that the community will see that they are continued. United Funds of which the Council is a member provide some two thirds of the budget, but residents of areas not served by United Funds are given the opportunity to participate.

In discussing the drive, Mr. Kelly also said, "I am impressed with the quality of the financial management which the Board of Directors provides. They are committed to the best stewardship of community money. Not only do they receive support from fourteen United Funds and four Girl Scout Fund Drives, but they also are helping themselves through an annual cookie sale, which provides valuable training for the girls."

The Goal for the Davie County Drive has been: "Give until it helps."

MY SINCERE THANKS!
Since I cannot see everyone personally, I would like to take this opportunity through the newspaper to thank all my friends and neighbors for all the wonderful things they did for me while I was in the hospital. The flowers, cards, candy, visits and all the other thoughtful things will always be remembered by me and my family.
I would also like to thank the personnel of the Davie County Hospital for the good nursing care I received and the delicious food they served.
I would especially like to thank Mr. Duke Wooten for furnishing telephone service to patients in the hospital. By having this service I was able to stay in contact with my business and give advice when needed.

Woman's Club Tour Of Homes Is Wednesday

The tour, sponsored by the Mocksville Woman's Club, will be held from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 17. If it rains, the tour will take place the next day.

Houses open to the public will be homes of Dr. and Mrs.

Henry Sprinkle, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hendrix, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Haire, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hall, and Cooleeemee Plantation, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hairston.

Also included will be the Davie County Public Library, a contemporary building that houses interesting sculpture.

On the day of the tour, a bag lunch will be available at the Davie County Office Building on Main Street from 12:30 until 2 p. m. Tickets may be obtained in advance from Mrs. Ted L. Junker of Mocksville, or they may be purchased at any point on the tour. A map showing the route of the Tour will also be available.

Patricia Hendrix is quite a musician as is her mother, Mrs. H. R. Hendrix, Jr., shown in the left inset, and also, Patricia is the drum major at the high school and she has just come from practice and school as shown in the right inset.

A story and a half Colonial home including 10 rooms is the new home of the Hendrix's. The large house, surrounded by tall pines is graced by tall white columns across the front porch. The foyer, which was Italian marble floors, contains a curved stairway to the second floor where there are large bedrooms and storage areas. Of special interest is the large 15' by 45' glassed-in music room and summer den which has exposed beams and terrazzo floors.

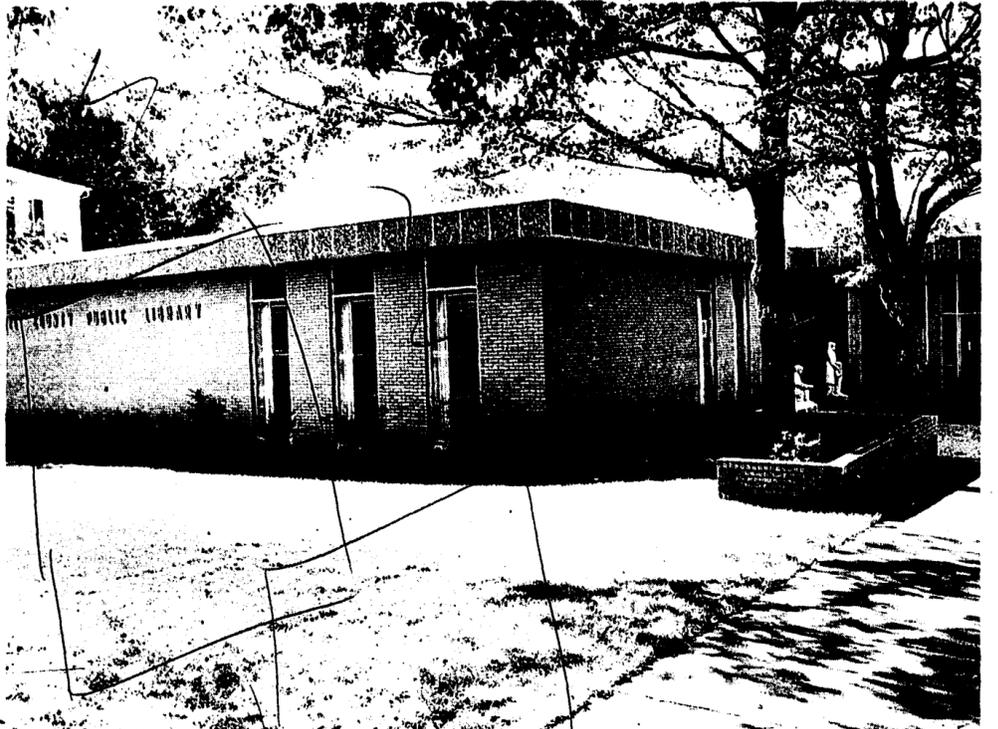

young Edgar Haire (inset at right) watches his mother, Mrs. George Haire, use an old salad bowl for chopping on an old table dating back a number of years, while the remodeled home shown at the top betrays the number of years it has been standing.

In 1964, the Haire's remodelled a 60 year old farmhouse in the New England Salt Box style, enhanced by panelling is predominate throughout the house which is refinished by the Haires as a hobby. Dark-stained wood contains many antiques and large trees.

Dr. and Mrs. Sprinkle pose in two photos of their home said to date from the early 1800's.

The Library was traditional furnishings by North Carolina manufacturers. A multipurpose room, decorated in black and white, is used for art exhibits and other events. . . . a building to be visited at all times.

The land for Cooleeemee Plantation was bought by Capt. Peter Hairston in 1817, and the house was built 114 years ago. As described in a book on early architecture of North Carolina, "The plan of the house is that of a Greek cross with four equal wings radiating from the hall. Each wing is treated as a pedimented pavilion, having coupled, arched windows and low, colonnaded verandahs. In the hall is a fine spiral staircase which ascends in wide, sweeping curves to a high, glazed cupola on the roof."

The house is now, as it has been, a family residence where each generation has left its mark. The library still has the original "faux bois" painting of the woodwork. The furniture fall into three categories: the 18th and early 19th Century pieces; and says a member of the family, "the usual accumulation of things, some nondescript, some interesting," including Jugtown pottery. The paintings, drawings, and graphics reflect a special interest of the present family.

As their children were growing up, the need for more room became apparent. In 1968, the Halls built a new brick house in Southwood Acres. Seven rooms on the first floor and 2 rooms on the top floor are contained in this story and a half home.

Decorated traditionally, the Hall's home is unique in that they designed it themselves to suit their own needs. Built-ins and step-saving ideas were incorporated in the plans.

Operation Football

This week 38 gentlemen, or at least human beings of the male persuasion, will embark from the Raleigh-Durham airport for what is euphemistically called "Operation Football". It is a breakneck tour via air and bus of the eight campuses of the Atlantic Coast Conference by newspaper, radio and television reporters of the league.

A more absolute compilation of ignorance would hardly be feasible. And when they have roared through all the training camps, they will display their abysmal lack of gridiron understanding by voting on the order of finish for the teams. This is done every year, but you never hear of it at the end of the season.

Memory fails me when I attempt to recall how many times I have been on the tour. Too many. We used to make it in four and a half days. Now they have extended it to seven, and it is still too much for old people like me. It's load and unload, hurry up and wait, and never go to bed for a week. Afterwards they could divide the group up for some intensive therapy at Wilmoth and Keeley Institute.

Pre-season coverage of football is 98 per cent hot air and two per cent conjecture. If it weren't for the fellowship and the fun, I wouldn't go.

There isn't a coach alive who knows or has any idea what sort of team he will field until it plays. Last year was an eon ago. The first game is in the future, and practice against one's own teammates is a poor way to judge proficiency, strength or desire.

Operation Has Great Value

Yet, Operation Football has great value. It brings the writers and broadcasters of the Atlantic Coast Conference area into personal contact with the coaching staffs and university officials.

In times like these, it is well for the sports writer to know the president of the school. When any football game may descend into a riot because of student militants, then pity a reporter who knows how to write only sports and fails in combat description.

Skeet Francis, the always efficient publicity man at Wake Forest, has moved into the number two position in the ACC office, and he will run the tour. His directive to the troops says, "You may not like your roommate, but you must love and respect him." He continues: "Only coffee, tea and milk will be served on the flights. We won't go into an explanation on that point."

Actually, some of the scribes and broadcasters arrived at a couple of schools too far in the bag to attend the cocktail party. So drinking in flight is out.

South Carolina Favored

Let me give you the essence of what we will learn about the upcoming race: South Carolina will be favored to win. Duke will be picked, probably second, but certainly the sleeper in the league. Wake Forest and Maryland, with new coaches, will be on the bottom, with the Terps likely lower than the Deacons.

North Carolina will be seen as considerably improved, and Virginia will be expected to fall below last year's 7-3 mark. Clemson and State always get a nodding of approval and voted near the top.

The writers have seen Frank Howard and Earl Edwards win too many to vote them anywhere out of the first division.

This will be the 14th Operation Football. It may be the last. Some of the guys are afraid they'll have a coronary in meeting the schedule. Others are having trouble convincing their bosses that they need to travel a week to write the same drivel they could have gleaned out of the press book in August.

But let's face it: It's a helluva lot of fun!

Rebels At North Stanly Friday Night

Nudged out in their opener last Friday night by Albemarle 14-12, the Davie High Rebels will play at North Stanly on Friday night in their first North Piedmont Conference game. North Stanly defeated West Stanly last Friday 14-7, but lost their opening game to Albemarle.

Quarterback Craig Ward fired a 75-yard pass to end "Jingles" Ijames in the second period to put Davie in the lead 6-0 as the extra point attempt was missed.

Albemarle scored with only six seconds remaining in the first half and made the extra point to take a 7-6 lead at halftime.

Coming back strong at the start of the second half, the Bulldogs took the kickoff and marched into pay dirt. Again they added the extra point and had a 14 to 6 lead.

The Rebels scored their second touchdown on the last play of the game as Quarterback Craig Ward sneaked over from the one.

Coach Jim Conger said he was disappointed over the game last week. "We looked good at times and bad in sports. We will have to improve in certain positions."

The starting lineup for the game this week will have

All participants must be members of the Hickory Hill Country Club and the Double entrants will be as a team.

James E. Everidge, chairman of the tennis committee of the Hickory Hill Club, said that the deadline for registering will be Sunday, September 21st.

Registration may be made on a sheet on the bulletin board at the swimming pool or by calling Jim Everidge at 634-5921. Mr. Everidge said that pairings would be made and mailed to all those who sign up along with the schedule and other rules and regulations.

Mr. Everidge pointed out that his committee was rushing in order to get a tournament in this season.

"If there is sufficient interest among players below age 16 we will try to arrange tournaments in these categories. However, as one knows, this younger competition must be fought by age brackets which right now would create a problem," said Mr. Everidge.

Road Tax Dollar To Be Spent Where It Will Do Most Good' Says McNeill

"I'll make you one promise. I promise that your tax dollar will be spent on roads in your county where it will do the most good for the most people", E. Gwyn McNeill, District Highway Commissioner, told members of the Mocksville Rotary Club, Tuesday.

In a talk to the local club, Mr. McNeill told the Rotarians that secondary road system was being re-evaluated. "We will establish priorities for paving on the basis of the number of houses on the road; school bus route; church and/or business location", said Mr. McNeill. He announced that Lester P. Martin and Broadus Melton would serve in a liaison capacity in this county. Mr. McNeill also said that he would assist in the finalization of the paving of I-40 across this county and predicted that property would double in value within ten miles of this highway in less than ten years. In discussing the gasoline tax, Mr. McNeill pointed out that the increase was mandatory if the state was to continue to participate in the road building program. "North Carolina has the largest highway system in the nation with 74,000 miles. We have no county road system, maintained from property tax. Our system is maintained entirely by the gasoline tax", he said.

"In neighboring Tennessee... that has only 10,000 miles in the state highway system... the tax was one-half cent more a gallon on gasoline than was ours before the recent increase... and we maintain 74,000", he said. "This state maintains 13,000 more miles of highways than that of South Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee combined." Bill Daniel had charge of the program and introduced Mr. McNeill. President Chester Blackwelder presided.

First, a Pre-College Night, meeting on Tuesday, September 16, will be held in the Mocksville Elementary School Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Arthur F. Jackson, Academic Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University at Greensboro; and, Robert Boyd, Dean of Students at Catawba College, will be the speakers and will answer questions at this meeting. Dr. Jackson and Mr. Boyd will conduct a discussion on the topic, "What Do College and the Business World Expect of the High School Student and How To Select the Right College or Other Training".

Second, College Night, will be held Wednesday, September 17, in the Davie County High School classrooms. Three times periods of 30 minutes each will be provided for students and parents who wish to visit some 50 college admission officers to ascertain facts regarding entrance to all colleges - junior, senior, technical schools, nursing, and other vocational schools.

This announcement is made from the Guidance office of J. R. Burn and Mrs. Sadye H. Barger, counselors at Davie County High School.

All parents of students, and, especially juniors and seniors, are invited to both night programs.

Barn Theatre

Featuring New Play

The Barn Dinner Theatre will introduce a new playwright, Marvin Sandberg, and a new play TAKE MY WIFE on September 10th. For the first time Greensboro audiences will have an opportunity to see a real pre-Broadway production on its way to Manhattan.

The play is about a maternity dress manufacturer and his wife and the direction they take when the romance in their life is just about dead. Pictures of each mother-in-law dominate a table in their living room. She says his mother looks like a cockeyed moose. He says her mother looks like a crocodile. She is so meticulous in her housekeeping that she keeps sheets on the furniture; makes her guests remove their shoes at the door; and allows smoking in the bathroom only. It all proves to be too much for the harried husband, so he moves in with their son, who has also moved out to avoid his mother's constant efforts to marry him off to a "nice Jewish girl". Add to this situation a blond widow and "a nice Jewish girl" with a divorce and two children and bedlam prevails.

TAKE MY WIFE sparkles with good humor and wit, something sorely lacking in the theatre today. It will warm your heart while it rolls you in the aisles.

Conley Jones, producer for Theatre Productions, Inc. (with eleven shows on the road) considers this to be the best show he has ever produced.

Car Goes Down An Embankment

How To Apply To Colleges

Instructions have been issued by J. R. Burn and Mrs. Sadye H. Barger, Guidance Counselors at Davie County High School, on how to apply to colleges for admission as a student. They are as follows:

- Colleges choose students by four factors: (not just total SAT score alone.)
- College Entrance Exam - SAT score. The average over the nation divided into Verbal (500) and Math (500)
- One's (student's seeking application) own grade average as it is ranked highest to lowest among one's own high school graduating class.
- The high school counselor's recommendation as compiled from the evaluations of the student's work and habits by teachers.
- One's tests scores of ability in school - as it compares with what grade-average rank he has been able to accomplish by his school work.

The student should first decide what he wants to do - train for and work at - what type of work.

Next, read the college catalogs of the colleges that offer studies in the area of his choice.

Find out which college, by location, size, standards, reputation, and other considerations first at which he can be accepted; then, which he prefers.

A high schooler should start as early as possible using this procedure to determine his best opportunity at college.

The student should then write a simple request for application forms to the one or two colleges of his choice addressed to the director of admissions office at each college.

A conference with his counselor, to determine which is his best chance for entrance, is essential at this time.

A written note is necessary to be given to the guidance counselor's office at his home high school. This note from the student to the counselor should state:

- The student's name
- Grade
- Home room teacher's name
- School or college (s) to which the record is being requested to be sent
- The current date

It becomes a process in which the youngster himself begins to take his own responsibility and "look out" for his affairs in seeing, with proper advance notice, that the people concerned with preparing his college entrance can and do help him prepare to enter college.

If time and opportunity permits there should be a visit to the college (s) and a personal interview with the director of admissions or his representative on the campus or at the high school college night. College night conferences are very important for the proper placement of the student in after high school training.

MACEDONIA NEWS

The attendance at Macedonia was very good on Sunday for the Sunday school and the Church service. We feel that most of our people have had their vacations by now and we look forward to continued good attendance through the fall and winter months. We were happy to welcome several visitors to our services on Sunday. Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Salmon and their two daughters of Davie Gardens, also Mr. and Mrs. Michael Haigwood and daughter of Clemmons and Mr. Gray Haigwood of Winston-Salem. Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hayes were visitors also.

We were glad to have Mrs. Mae Harp back in church Sunday after having surgery in Davie hospital last week.

Our revival closed last Sunday evening after a week of wonderful services. The attendance was very good and all were blessed by the good preaching done by the evangelist, the Rev. Norwood Green, pastor of Pine Chapel Moravian Church in Winston-Salem. Some people seem to feel that revivals are out of date, but we here at Macedonia still believe in old fashioned revival meetings. We still believe that God will bless His people when they trust in Him for a blessing, because we had people saved and several came forward in rededication. We want to thank everyone that had a part in any way that caused the revival to be a success and mot of all we thank God for answering prayer. We especially thank the families that invited the ministers and their families into their homes for meals. These were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Cope and Mrs. Kate Riddle who had about 20 people including Mr. and Mrs. John Sparks, Rev. J. George Bruner and Mr. Claudus Ward. We also enjoyed wonderful meals in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Pink Hendrix, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Plyler and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Culler, also Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sapp. Our thanks also to the Martha Hall Sunday school class for the meal at Shearton restaurant.

We wish also to thank all the visitors who attended the revival to hear Brother Green present the Word of God for today.

We still have several sick people and request that all of them be remembered in prayer. Mrs. Pattie Hockaday has been a patient in the Davie Hospital but is now at home. Peggy Dunn has been a patient in Forsyth Hospital but is now at home at her mother's, Mrs. Travis Riddle. Mrs. Wanda Cope and son, Darrell, have been very sick at home but are improved. Mrs. Mattie Jones, mother of Mrs. Helen Butner is a patient in the Davie Hospital and underwent surgery on Tuesday morning.

Nancy Sparks left last Saturday for Appalachian College and more of our young people will be leaving for college in a few days. We wish for all of them much happiness and success.

Macedonia was the scene of a beautiful wedding last Friday evening at 8:00 when Miss Helen Sparks became the bride of Mr. Ronnie Seamon. After their honeymoon Helen will return to Pfeiffer College and Ronnie will enter the Air Force. We wish for them God's richest blessings and a long happy married life.

Mr. Charlie Sapp returned from a trip Sunday night after spending last week with friends at Shelbyville, Tenn. They were there attending the walking horse convention. Charlie is manager of Tanglewood Stables.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray Sheek and daughter, Debbie, enjoyed a few days vacation in the mountains this past weekend. We are happy that Gray and Debbie were able to make this trip after their recent illnesses.

We were happy to hear that the former Gail Platt and her husband Ken Walker are doing well in their new adventure as teachers in the Bethel, Alaska schools. They write that the people there are so friendly and that they have taken them in with open arms.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cope and Miss Libby Butner visited Kent Cope at Fort Bragg this past weekend. Kent appears to be adjusting to army life after a few weeks in the service.

Senator Sam Says

The latest Government statistics show another rise in textile imports, principally from Japan, and reveal that this trend has worsened our trade deficit. The textile industry has been the neglected child of our economy since 1957, the last year in which this country had a favorable balance of textile trade. Early in the Kennedy Administration, it became apparent that something had to be done to remedy this situation. The GATT control arrangements for cotton textiles were developed then as a partial solution to the unfair pressures our textile industry was under from foreign producers who benefit from lower wage costs, lesser taxes, and more favorable governmental policies. The 1961 arrangement dealt with the cotton imports and did not touch the wool and synthetic fiber import problems.

The new figures show that our 1968 deficit in textile trade amounted to about $1.1 billion. Cotton, wool, and synthetic fiber imports resulted in $800 million of this trade deficit. This deficit was $300 million larger than that incurred during the preceding year.

The problem has immense consequences for our State. The textile and apparel industries in North Carolina constitute about 40% of our industrial force. These industries have more than 1700 plants in our State. They employ more than 333,000 of our citizens with an annual payroll exceeding $1.5 billion. It has been estimated that more than 1.5 million North Carolinians are dependent on the textile and the garment industries for their livelihood.

The basic problem is that our textile producers are faced with greater costs than their overseas competitors who are flooding our domestic textile market. This condition affects the job security of thousands of North Carolinians and millions of Americans.

The problem has not been resolved because a battle has raged for years in this country between those who believe in reasonable protection for American textiles and those who favor free trade. Consequently, our Government has often been indecisive in its efforts to protect the domestic textile industry, and foreign nations have taken advantage of this situation.

It should be evident to any fair-minded person that we do not have the conditions present in this country which will permit our textile industry to thrive under a "free trade" policy. This is so because "free trade" cannot exist unless we are willing to let prices rise and fall with the demands of the market. Not only are we unwilling to do this, but we have also established controls over our domestic industry through minimum wages, taxes, and other governmental policies which interfere with a free market. In addition, the textile industry is at the mercy of overseas competitors who benefit from their national trade and investment policies. Thus the American textile industry is faced with serious problems unknown to its foreign competitor.

To remedy this problem, this nation must now establish reasonable restraints on wool, synthetic fibers, and blended textile goods coming into this country. The Secretary of Commerce has recently sought to conclude such an agreement with Asian and European nations. Thus far, he has met with little success. Unless such an agreement is concluded soon, I think Congress should enact measures to remedy this situation, and I expect to support such legislation.

Holly Farms Take Barbecue Pit To Neil Armstrong Day

To help celebrate Neil Armstrong Day, the world's largest portable barbecue pit has been hauled into its hometown of Wapakoneta, Ohio.

The barbecue pit is being supplied by Holly Farms, one of the country's largest processors of poultry-2.5 million birds per week-to help feed the huge crowds expected here to honor the first man to set foot on the moon.

The pit is housed on a 16 x 55 foot, self-contained trailer that travels some 35,000 miles per year throughout the U. S. A. Holly Farms estimates that it has dispensed well over a million meals of their famous barbecue chicken from this pit.

The pit itself is five feet wide, 40 feet long, and three feet deep. It slow barbecues 1,100 chickens at a time. The chickens simmer for an hour and a half in Holly Farms' special recipe barbecue sauce before they are fully cooked.

In addition, the pit has its own hot and cold water and its own disposal system for handling the grease which falls off the chickens into a 2-inch thick layer of volcanic pumice. The gas heating system has a potential capacity of over one million British thermal units.

Holly Farms has also brought in 8,000 chickens to feed the tremendous crowd expected to turn out for the Neil Armstrong Day parade, which was held in Wapakoneta on Saturday, September 6. Marsh Supermarkets, a well-known supermarket chain in Indiana and Ohio, placed the barbecue pit on its parking lot, next to the parade route.

Holly Farms Poultry Industries, Inc. is a fully integrated poultry complex. It is a wholly owned subsidiary of The Federal Company. Other operating subsidiaries of The Federal Company, headquartered in Memphis, Tennessee are: Dixie Portland Flour Mills, Inc., Cosby-Hodges Milling Company and Halberts, Inc., also a fully integrated poultry complex.

BASIC PROVISIONS OF THE 1970 WHEAT PROGRAM

A. National Wheat Allotment of 45.5 million acres. This is a 12 percent reduction from the 1969 national allotment of 51.6 million acres.

B. Cosmetic marketing certificates to be paid on 48 percent of the projected production on the allotted acres to producers on complying farms.

C. Required minimum diversion equal to 30.3 percent of the 1970 farm allotments.
This reflects each farm's proportionate share of the reduction in the national allotment below the old minimum of 55 million acres.
In making this computation, 3.3 million acres attributable to "small farms" are excluded.
Thus, the difference between 42.2 million acres and 55 million acres in 30.3 percent of the lesser figure. The required diversion is above the farm allotment.

D. Additional diversion up to one-half of the farm allotment. Small farms with allotments of 19.2 acres or less may divert the entire allotment for payment. The per-acre payment rate is 50 percent of the county loan rate times the farm projected yield.

E. Price support loans at the national average of $1.25 per bushel on the entire farm wheat production from complying farms.

F. Substitution between wheat and feed grains or substitution of wheat for oats and rye will be continued for 1970 on those farms enrolled and complying with both the feed grain and wheat programs.

Whether barley will be included in the feed grain program in 1970 will be determined and announced later. In either event wheat farmers have the option of substituting wheat in lieu of barley. The required diversion from the barley base or the oat-rye base will be identical to the qualifying minimum acreage diversion required for feed grain program participation.

Individual wheat allotments will be computed and mailed in the near future. To take part in the 1970 Wheat Program:

1. Sign up with the county
ASCs office during a sign-up period which will be announced later.

2. Have an acreage of wheat
no larger than your allotment

This was made many years ago. Do you remember where or when???

Raleigh Bureau—265 Overtin Rd.

ONE ITEM.....There is an outside chance that a special session of the Legislature will be held in an effort to clear up the bus mess as regards city school children.

But, if it comes, odds are-not until next year. And, if it is held then, you may be sure that the session will be set up to act on only the school bus item.

Right now, the people, the Governor—and the legislators themselves—have had a bellyful of the N. C. General Assembly for 1969.

TO RALEIGH.....While, as some writers say, the Governor is lucky to have Red Springs Legislator R. D. McMillan to head up the Division of Purchase and Contract, McMillan is lucky, too. He can begin a new life here—

For a year now now it has been known that he was not happy in Red Springs, wanted to move to Raleigh. This is the reason he did not accept consideration for Speakership in the 1971 Legislature. To do so would have meant his continuing to live in Red Springs and, moreover, to run again for re-election to the House. He was tired of the rat race....

An able man, solid and level-headed, a long-time Ford

Social Security:

Half a million 18-to-22-year-old students are learning that you don't have to be 65 before you can count on social security. Some of them live right here in Davie County.

In the up coming year,
benefits to these young people will amount to more than the scholarships at all colleges and universities, Robert Thomas, District Manager for social security, noted today. Some 500,000 students, he said, will get $490,000,000 in monthly benefits because of social security contributions paid over the years by a parent who is now disabled, retired or dead. That's an average of almost $1,000 per eligible student. Their parents earned the protection for them.
Nearly 15,000 young people in North Carolina are receiving these monthly benefits.

Thomas explained that the social security law was changed 4 years ago to continue a child's social security benefits past age 18 if he or she is attending school full time.
Students who qualify on the work record of a parent can continue to get checks until 22 if they stay in school and remain unmarried.

Even if the student works part-time or during the summer, he gets all his benefits if he earns $1,680 or less for the year, Thomas pointed out.
If his earnings exceed that, some or all benefits will not be payable, depending on how steadily he works and how much he makes.

Young people who feel they might qualify for benefits on the record of a retired, disabled, or deceased parent ought to check with the social security office, Thomas suggested.

The Salisbury office is located at 105 Corriher Avenue and is open from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Thursday and from 8:30 a. m. until 7:30 p. m. on Friday. The telephone number is 633-6470.

Member A. A. McMillan of Raleigh—is expected to become a permanent resident of Raleigh. Welcome!

ON 90TH.....Friends of W.
Capers White had planned a big birthday party for him to observe his 90th birthday on Saturday, September 6. But, alas, he fell desperately ill three weeks ago, has run a temperature as high as 106.

Head of the N. C.
Association for Wine Control and long-time assistant in the State Auditor's office, Capers White until his sickness was more active and alert than many a man half his age. He has been a close friend of many Governors over the past 60 years. During the 1960 decade he has brought a new appreciation of the wine industry to North Carolina.

N. C. FOREIGNS.....When you realize that the sale of foreign cars was in third position (behind only Ford and Chevrolet) this past July...as compared with 10th place in July five years ago, you can see why the big manufacturers are swinging to the little cars.

This past July, North Carolina new car sales showed Ford back in first position—thanks mainly to the tremendous success of Maverick—with 4,559 for the month. Next came Chevrolet with 4,375. Foreigns—about half of them Volkswagens—came up with 1,746. Ahead of Plymouth (1,493), Pontiac (1,417), Oldsmobile (1,373),
Buick (1,320), Dodge (876),
Mercury (659), Rambler (389), Chrysler (345), Cadillac (213), and the others.

JUST OUT.....The current issue of National Geographic magazine—thanks to somebody—has the most beautiful layout of North Carolina's Outer Banks ever seen in any publication anywhere at any time. No doubt about it.

Many-paged, many-colored,
and shot from every angle (including outer space), the feature word-pix required months of preparation. Its value to the State cannot be calculated. How much? Not less than a cool million dollars—and, possibly, much more.

Buy, beg, borrow a copy—and your Tar Heel heart will swell with gladness. Credit goes to somebody. Our choice:
State Publicist Bill Hensley.

TIME FLIES DEPT.....Hard to realize that Davetta Steed, for a long time one of the Capital City's most active and most popular women, has been head of the N. C. League of Municipalities for 35 years. But that is what it says in resolutions of thanks and appreciation being adopted by various city governing bodies about the State. Beautiful tributes.

She is retiring as executive director of the organization on November 1, will be succeeded by Raleigh Native Leigh Wilson, steady assistant for many moons now. But—35 years! Davetta Steed must have come on the job at a tender age indeed....seriously.

Few organizations have shown more solid growth in membership participation, influence, and general prestige.

The resolutions are in order....and past due. Wilson, mild-mannered and folksy, is also capable.

HELP!.....M. M. (Marley) Melvin is at it again. New address: Hotel Sir Walter.
Assignment: brighten up the cooking and serving packages.
More courtesy, higher morale....and push up the sanitation grade. Can he do it?
And just who is Marley Melvin? A long years inspector with the State Board of Health....now retired. He is a former director of the N. C.
Restaurant Association....and its most successful manager. He has tried to retire several times—but now is out of retirement once again.

FIVE CENTS.....Interesting thing about the new taxes on cigarettes and soft drinks coming on next month. It looks as if somebody stands to make a much bigger profit—okay here—on these items...per sale.

Here's how: cigarette machines on't mess with pennies. So...the two cents extra per pack will actually be a nickel. And soft drink machines now selling a 15-cent item won't play with 16 cents.
Thus the increase will be—you guessed it—a nickel. Dime machines up to 15 cents.

With the shortage of help (and profit) and the ever-increasing numbers of cigarette brands, dealers are daily swinging to machines.
Which means that the two-and-one cent heard in the recent Legislature now becomes—in most cases—five and five. This, brother, can cut sales.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Back in 1931 in an article in Esquire magazine, writer and big-game fisherman Ernest Hemingway, said that the sailfish seemed to him to be an early, unsuccessful model of the marlin.

To a marlin man like Hemingway,
the delicate, diminutive Atlantic sailfish no doubt seemed too much a catch to test an angler's true mettle. For one thing, marlin men catch most, if not all, of their sails on marlin tackle. The sail was designed to spar against more sophisticated equipment, the kind of tackle that didn't even exist in 1931.

Small though it may be (Atlantic sails average around 10 wounds in United States waters) the sailfish has charisma. Its bill lets it associate with the giant marlin and gives it a special glamor. Its huge dorsal fin, the purpose of which remains somewhat of a mystery, makes even lightweight specimens appear large.

But the most tantalizing aspect of sailfishing and the thing that keeps anglers panting after sails year after year is their behavior at the bait.
These fish are often difficult to find, and when located they are sometimes impossible to hook.
For some reason, a fish that is tough to hook almost always is guaranteed a spot on the top-ten popularity list.

According to Tom Paugh
Salt-Water Fishing Editor of SPORTS AFIELD Magazine, there are myriad how-to-hook-a-sailfish attack plans. One angler told Tom he always counts to four and then socks it to 'em. Another insisted the magic number was 15. A good fisherman Tom knows in sists that you should let the line run "and as soon as you feel a little shock, set the drag and hit." However, the more common feeling is that the time to hook your fish is when the line starts to move out rapidly, indicating the sail has felt the hook.

It's nice to have hooked enough sails to be classified as an experienced sailfisherman.
Then you too can have an opinion. But fishing for Atlantic sails is pretty spotty in most places. Pacific sailfishing is better. In the first place Pacific sails are bigger. The record Atlantic sail is 141 pounds, 1 ounce; the Pacific record is 221 pounds. A 90-pound fish is really good in the Atlantic; only average in the Pacific. As yet little evidence exists to indicate that sailfish from the two oceans are separate species. Pacific sails are caught in southern California and farther south.
Atlantic sails venture north to Hatteras in summer, but the rest of the year are found only from Florida south. The Gulf of Mexico provides excellent fishing for Atlantic sails.

Imperfect they may be, but sails are popular. They are exciting at the bait and famed for their gallant leaping fight.
Unless you intend to mount your fish or have good reason to believe that you have established a new record, your sail should be released. It sometimes seems hard to believe that a played-out sail, regurgitated stomach dangling from its mouth, will live even if released.
Hard evidence from various tagging programs reveals that they do indeed survive. They certainly deserve the chance.

Picture Identified

Dr. Elizabeth (Betty) McMahan with the Department of Zoology of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill writes:

"I enjoyed the old pre-World War II photograph carried on the first page of the Enterprise-Record, September 4th. In view of the group's makeup, I think it could only have been taken at one of the Pino Community Grange's Picnics - around 1940 or 1941. I don't recognize the setting, although it could have been at the D. J. Lybrook's home. The group in the foreground are as follows: First Row: Lois West (Mrs. Ray Deese), Nancy Furches (Mrs. John Blaylock), Mary Lee McMahan (Mrs. Ed Hoyle), Dorothy Leagans (not certain of married name), Jessie West (Mrs. Harold Guinert), Elizabeth West (Mrs. Fortney), myself, Edith McMahan (Mrs. R. N. Company, Sr.), and Libby Miller (Mrs. La Verne Shore). Second Row: the late Mrs. J. Frank Essic, Francis Essic, Cecil Leagans, Joe Leagans (deceased), Kenneth Murchison, Gene Miller, Luther West, James Essic and Willard Kimrey (Ass't. County Agent).

Proposed City-Co-Op Electric Plan Said To Be Tax Evasion Scheme

"A tax evasion scheme that in 15 years will cost the taxpayers over three hundred million dollars."

That was the charge leveled today by Duke Power Vice President, J. P. Lucas, Jr., at the massive statewide generating and transmission system being proposed by the state's municipal and co-op electric systems.

The state's cities which are in the power business and the electric cooperatives recently announced a plan whereby the cities would build large generating plants and the co-ops would build over 7,000 miles of transmission lines. Backers of the plan said that the work would begin in 1975 and be completed in 1990 at an estimated cost of $1.75 billion. Lucas noted that the $1.75 billion was in terms of present costs and the actual cost would be many millions more by 1990.

Engineers who submitted preliminary plans for the statewide system, which will be known as EPIC (Electric Power in Carolina), said that customers of the electricities and co-ops would save from $230 to $300 million in the 1975-1990 period.

"During the same period," stated Lucas, "EPIC would cause a loss in taxes of $310 million. This tax loss would be suffered by all taxpayers while only the limited number of North Carolinians who happen to be customers of EPIC would reap any benefits. The point is that the most optimistic savings by the EPIC system would not be enough to pay

Area Volunteers Sought To Tutor Low Income Youth

Mrs. Lorene Lowe of Elkin, Director of the four-county Youth Development Program administered by Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Inc., today announced the appointment of Allen Hughes of Stokes County as an assistant director, on a temporary basis, and at the same time issued a call for volunteers to help tutor low-income youth.

According to Mrs. Lowe, Hughes will work in both Surry and Stokes counties for the present time.

The program is aimed at development of young people of low-income families in the areas of education, recreation, and employment.

Mrs. Lowe and her aides are currently working on a calendar of events for the coming months, continuing the recreation program begun in the summer months, tutoring students at centers in the target areas, and recruiting volunteer workers to serve as tutors and in other capacities in the wide ranging program.

Volunteer buildings are being sought in Davie and Surry counties. Community Action centers and Satellite buildings are being used in Stokes and Yadkin.

"We are seeking retired teachers and others to serve in the target areas," Mrs. Lowe pointed out.

the taxes which would be paid by power companies selling the same power. This graphically demonstrates that EPIC is purely and simply a tax escaping device."

"Bear in mind," said Lucas, "that the $310 million in taxes evaded by EPIC in 15 years will have to be added to the already heavy burden being borne by other taxpayers."

The Duke official also said that the power companies from which the electricities and co-ops buy most of their electricity wholesale, had included growing demands of these wholesale customers in present and future expansion programs. The companies can meet these needs and pay full taxes at the same time, he added.

Lucas concluded by stating: "The only purpose of EPIC is to dodge taxes under the guise of cheaper electricity."

Tattle Tales by Gordon Tomlinson

It was strictly woman's talk among themselves. . . . but one could not help overhearing a become somewhat amused.

The topic was the relative merits of what was called an "18-hour girde".

I couldn't help but wonder: "Why would any woman want an 18-hour girde?" No matter how comfortable it is, 18-hours is a long, long time for any woman to be suppressed. And, if you even figure by modern math, a day has but 24-hours. During these hours it is conservatively estimated that a woman spends at least two hours dressing and undressing. . . . leaving 22 hours. Now if she is going to wear this girde for 18-hours out of the remaining 22. . . . she will either have to sleep in it or cut her bed time down to 4-hours. Any way you figure it an 18-hour "suppression" offers very little time for "expression".

A corn on his little toe interrupted the auctioneer chant of Buford York recently at a sale.

It seems that a woman near the platform where Buford was auctioning off various antiques and household items would reach over and squeeze his foot whenever she wanted to increase the bid. And as she bid on most every item offered with her squeeze, his corn got sorer and sorer.

Finally Buford turned the auctioning over to his son with the remark: "This auctioneering is too hard on corns!"

But no one doubts that Buford York is a good auctioneer . . . and salesman.

At this same sale, he sold 65-year-old Duke Sheek, who has never been married, a baby cradle.

Dr. Bob M. Foster of Mocksville and his partner Allen Snipes of Cooleemee was the second flight in the annual member guest golf tournament held at the Statesville Country Club during the past weekend. Dr. Vic Andrews and his partner Cash Register of Wilmington took second place in the fifth flight.

As winners they were allowed to select from an array of items on display. Although Bob and Allen won the honors, they came out second best when pitted against their wives.

Mrs. Foster selected a lamp and Mrs. Snipes picked out something which ended up being called a "I don't know".....this because every time Allen was asked what he had won he replied: "I don't know!"

And Mrs. Andrews also picked out a "I don't know".....but she admitted that it would make an interesting conversation piece.

ALONG THE SOUTHERN

INSTANT ANSWERS. When our freight customers want to know the location of a shipment on our railroad, we have a computer that can answer them—in seconds. But the main job of Southern Railway's computer complex—one of the largest in the country—is to help boost efficiency. Which means moving shipments faster and more reliably for our customers and saving them money.

LOW LIVING COSTS. Living costs are lower in Southern cities than in other urban areas, says a U.S. Department of Labor study. An average family of four can live for about 17% less in Atlanta than in New York City, for example. Southern Railway works hard to bring down the cost of transporting the things you buy—and that, in turn, helps lower your costs.

LOOK OUT FOR TUNNELS! On special freight cars (not quite like the one shown), we can stack autos three-deep. That means 12 standard-size autos or 15 compacts per freight car—resulting in lower costs for shippers and the public. With this innovation, railroads have reduced congestion on your highways by capturing more than half of the nation's vehicle-shipment activity. Shows you what cost-reducing innovations can do!

Senator Sam Ervin Says

Congress faces a crowded calendar of bills and resolved issues following its mid-summer recess. The lengthy agenda suggests the possibility that any interval between sessions of the 91st Congress may be brief.

Heading the agenda of legislative issues awaiting Senate action is the House-passes tax reform bill. This legislation is some 368 pages in length, and reports filed by the House Ways and Means Committee embrace another 369 pages. Twenty-seven major federal tax provisions would be revised if the bill is enacted in its present form. Its most controversial sections involve the schedule of tax reductions for low and middle income taxpayers, a decrease in the depletion allowance for the oil and gas industry, an increase in taxes on capital gains, and some taxation of income of organizations which are currently tax-exempt.

The Senate Finance Committee has opened hearings on this bill. Current indications are that the Committee will study its provisions in considerable detail before making its recommendations to the Senate. As passed by the House, the measure represents the most comprehensive reform income tax undertaken since the enactment of that law 50 years ago.

Along with the revenue bill, appropriations for fiscal 1970 have the highest legislative priority. On July 9th, Congress imposed a flexible $191.9 billion spending. Thirteen major appropriation bills are still in committees or in House-Senate conferences with final judgments on federal outlays yet to come.

Since the House-passed version of the tax reform bill proposes a net revenue reduction of about $2.4 billion annually, its passage in that form would necessitate a review of spending priorities if we are to balance the budget. Most taxpayers, given a choice, would urge a reduction in federal expenditures, provided they could choose the area of reductions. A problem arises, however, because lawmakers usually hear different voices when it comes to spending. Moreover, the philosophy has grown over the years to meet "needs" and worry about taxes later. Often, the cart goes before the horse when expenditures get priority over revenues.

Other measures awaiting Congressional action include: a proposed extension of the $2 billion anti-overly program, a major anti-crime control bill, the extension of farm programs, and reform of the postal system. New anti-pollution legislation may also come before the Senate soon. The Senate Public Works Committee reported out the Water Quality Improvement Act on August 7th. The bill would force owners of oil tankers and drilling rigs which spill oil into the nation's waters to pay the costs of cleanup.

The President's new proposal on family assistance may get early House Ways & Means Committee attention. On August 11th, Chairman Wilbur Mills of that Committee indicated that hearings on the Administration proposal could get underway shortly after he returned to Capitol Hill.

These are a few of the many issues on the legislative calendar which will receive Congressional attention in the months ahead.

Elegant Monte Carlo Coupe for 1970

A new concept of elegance is the distinctive Monte Carlo Sport Coupe. This newest addition to the Chevrolet line is characterized by smooth flowing lines and sculptured surfaces dramatically emphasized by the longest hood ever produced by Chevrolet. The plush interior includes a simulated wood burl accent on the instrument panel and extra-thick foam cushioned front and rear seats. The Monte Carlo will be at dealerships on September 18.

New 1970 Chevrolet Models On Display September 18th

The Monte Carlo -- a totally new personal luxury car -- headlines Chevrolet's new models for 1970. John Z. DeLorean, General Motors vice president and Chevrolet general manager, said,

"The 1970's will be an unparalleled decade of individual customer choice," DeLorean said. "Chevrolet will continue to set the industry pace with a variety of cars and options which allow each buyer to custom tailor his or her personal transportation. "Monte Carlo adds a new market dimension by offering to the youthful, sophisticated buyer a superb blend of individual, high fashion styling and intermediate-size handling and performance."

DeLorean said seven distinctive Chevrolet lines will be shown in dealerships on Announcement Day, September 18.

"The big Chevrolet has new styling and added power for 1970 and Chevelle has an all-new appearance," DeLorean said. "Improvements in these lines are incorporated in both sizes of Chevrolet station wagons. The fast-selling Nova has fresh appeal in its new models."

Current models of the popular Chevrolet Corvette and Camaro will be continue to the end of this year with new models in each line scheduled for introduction later in the model year. DeLorean said that among important 1970 engine changes, the base V-8 of the big Chevrolet is increased to 350 cubic inches from 327 cubic inches in 1969 to give added power for options such as air conditioning that continue to grow in customer popularity.

The base six cylinder engine of Chevelle is also increased -- 250 cubic inches in 1970 compared with 230 cubic inches in 1969.

There is extended use of variable-ratio power steering which gives more responsive maneuverability in turns and parking. It is now available on all 1970 models except station wagons and Nova models with four-cylinder engines.

Longer life, fiberglass-belted tires are standard on all 1970 Chevrolet models.

Every 1970 model has extensive safety features for occupant protection, accident prevention and anti-theft (see full list.)

New for 1970 among Chevrolet's more than 400 options and accessories are improved electric door locks, replacing vacuum locks.

With the electric door locks is a new automatic front seat back release for coupes which unlatches when either front door is opened, for easier access to the rear seat. The latch re-locks securely when

Also new is an electric rear deck lid release operated from inside the glove box.

A new Headlight Delay option reminds the driver with a warning buzzer if he opens his door without turning off his headlights. After the lights are off, he may push a timer button on the instrument panel and lights will turn on for about two minutes to provide illumination after he leaves the car.

Radio antennas contained within the windshield glass will be factory installed when radios are ordered on all 1970 Chevrolets. They replace outside mast antennas used previously and are not subject to being broken or bent. A new highly compact combination AM or AM-FM stereo radio and tape player unit fits snugly in the instrument panel.

Also available is a broader than ever variety of trailering, towing and recreational vehicle accessories.

Chevrolet offers 15 colors, most of them new, for 1970. There are up to seven two-tone combinations, five vinyl top colors and two convertible top colors.

Reading The Bean Field

Did you make it? Of course you remember--how you planned to make 80 bushels of soybeans and 200 bushels of corn. Well, if you still don't know, now is the time to find out. According to Leo F. Williams, County Extension Agent, a better chance will be hard to come. The crops are still in the field and you don't have to wonder how they grew -- you can look.

"The plants are a perfect blueprint of the way soil affected the plants," says Williams. "You don't have to know the absolute yield to detect differences in the way the plants grew. And, if differences can be found now, you know your yield would be higher if the worst plants were as good as the best."

This would suggest that we could start out now to improve our lot in life next year. Why not cruise the farm and take note of those bad areas that serve only to separate the good ones.

Williams noted that a systematic inventory would include an assessment of the fertility. This can be gotten simply by submitting soil samples to the laboratory of the Soil Testing Division of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture. Complete information about this service as well as the necessary supplies can be had at the Extension office or from the laboratory.

Plant starvation may be quite evident now in soybeans. "Some of the symptoms may be familiar but whether they are symptoms of toxicity or starvation is unimportant," says Williams. "It's too late to salvage this crop. The important thing is to find out why the whole field doesn't look alike. Then do something about it. Let's read those bean fields now."

Plant Flower Bulbs in Clumps
When in bloom, Spring-flowering bulbs look best in clumps of twelve, twenty-four or more. Bulbs of one kind should be planted in a group so that a "mass" picture is obtained. In Holland, the favorite way of planting is in entire beds of the same variety. Avoid planting in single rows.

ASC ELECTION BALLOTS MUST BE CERTIFIED

Farmers are receiving all mail the official ballots of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation community committee election, according to Davie County ASC Committee Chairman, J. N. Smoot.

He reminded farm voters that two envelopes accompany each ballot. After a voter has marked his ballot he should fold it and seal it in the plain envelope. The plain envelope should not be signed by the voter because its purpose is to insure secrecy of the ballot.

After sealing the ballot in the plain envelope the voter then should put the plain envelope into the second envelope which is addressed to the Davie County ASCS Office and seal it. He should immediately sign his name on the back of this envelope on the line indicated; fill in the date; then mail the envelope.

With his signature the voter certifies he voted his ballot personally without undue influence of others, explained the SC Committee Chairman. Without the certifying signature the ballot will not be counted, he said.

If the voter signs the envelope with an "X" mark, the signature of a witness is required.

When the certified envelopes are received in the county office they are immediately placed in a sealed ballot box until September 19, 1969 at 9:00 a.m., Chairman Smoot said. Ballot counting is open to the public. After certifications are checked, the sealed plain envelopes are removed from the certified outer envelopes and shuffled together before being opened and the votes counted. "Ballot secrecy is completely preserved," said Mr. Smoot.

"Signing the outer envelope in no way affects the voter's right to a secret ballot."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Anyone in Davie County having a question concerning Social Security may write in care of this newspaper and the question and answer will be included in a subsequent column).

Q - How old must a disabled widow be before she can get benefits on her deceased husband's social security record?

A - A disabled widow must be between 50 and 60. After 60 she can get widow's benefits even if not disabled, however, her widow's benefits would be reduced between age 60 and 62.

Q - Why doesn't social security pay a person for the first six months after he becomes disabled?

A - After the month your disability begins, there is a waiting period of 6 full calendar months before benefit payments may start. Benefits may not be payable for any month during the six-month waiting period. The social security program is not designed to pay people with temporary disabilities.

Q - My doctor has given me a receipt each time that I've paid him. Are these sufficient for filing a medicare claim?

A - If the receipts are itemized, that is, they show who was treated, date of treatment, what the treatment was for, where the treatment was provided, type treatment provided, who did the treating, and the charges for the services, the receipts are sufficient.

Q - Why are the social security taxes raised from time to time?

A - Social security taxes are raised from time to time to finance increased benefit amounts and other improvements in the program. Naturally, when benefits increase and new types of benefits are added, costs increase and social security taxes must be raised accordingly.

Dixie Classic Fair Features Rides

When the Dixie Classic Fair opens its gates October 7 for a 5-day showing, fairgoers will find the James E. Strates Shows back with a wide array of new rides and old favorites.

One of the world's largest traveling shows, it comprises a mile-long private railwaytrain and utilizes a working force of approximately a thousand employees. The show is like a city unto itself, carrying its own power plant, generators, blacksmiths, welders, sound technicians, sign painters, and most importantly top-notch entertainers. The generators are big enough to light a city the size of Erie, Pennsylvania.

At night the carnival is bright with gaily lighted wheels and other giant rides dominating the horizon. The shows include "Club Paradise," with a rock-and-roll tempo of fast dancers; the "Motordome," where motorcyclists roar around vertical walls within its ring; and "From Broadway to Hollywood," a variety show with girls from all over the country.

The entire carnival is under the direction of E. James Strates, son of the founder. He travels with the show 6 months of every year and spends the other 6 months in the leading cities of Europe and America looking for new rides and attractions.

A great number of the rides are of a nature that the passenger can control the motion of the car. Strates feels this fact accounts in large part for the tremendous popularity of his carnival - the customer participates in the action.

Advance Wins Church Tournament

Advance defeated Fulton in two straight games to win the Church softball tournament. This was after Advance played a tough Oak Grove team in a 13 inning game of the semi-finals.

Advance won both games by a score of 6 to 2. Fulton took a 2 to 0 lead after one inning of play of the first game as Jane Young hit a sharp line drive over second base which took a bad hop and went for a home run. Sandra Phelps was on base with a single.

Advance came to life with four runs in the third inning to sew up the game on the hitting of Margie Cook and Paul Barnhardt.

Advance actually won the game with superb defense as Fulton was allowed no hits after the second inning.

In the second game, defense again told the story of the game as no player to more than one hit in the game.

Advance led by a score of only 3 to 2 until they came up with 3 runs in the bottom of the sixth inning, mainly on the hitting of back to back singles of Janice Markland, Norma Vogler, Louise Potts and Debbie Smiley.

DAVIE COUNTY ENTERPRISE RECORD

VCIII THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1969 $4.00 PER YEAR—SINGLE COPY 10 CENTS No. 7

Davie Proceeds With School Construction Projects

Slightly revised plans have enabled Davie County to go ahead with their proposed school construction program. Davie County School Superintendent said this week that by accepting a few alternates and substitutes through negotiation with the contractors enabled the construction costs to be brought more in line with what was originally anticipated. "I want to emphasize, however, that no structural changes were affected. Just the acceptance of some alternates and substitutes in non-critical areas", said Mr. Everidge. The revised bids on the construction projects total $1,155,000. This covers the construction of the new Farmington-Smith Grove Elementary School, construction at the William R. Davie School and the utilities for Farmington-Smith Grove, William R. Davie and Shady Grove.

Mr. Everidge pointed out that the Davie County Board of Education and the architects, on the basis of the construction bids on these projects, have adjusted their estimate for the remaining projects accordingly. It is estimated that the remaining projects will now total around $1,668,000. This includes the construction of a new Mocksville Elementary School with 24 classrooms; minor renovations and a new kitchen at the Mocksville Middle School; a 16-room addition at the Shady Grove School; and $200,000 to be spent on the Cooleemee Elementary School.

Mr. Everidge said that the board of education has given letters of intent to the low bidders on the projects at Farmington-Smith Grove; William R. Davie, and the utilities at three schools. These were as follows: Hugh G. Strickland, Inc. of Winston-Salem, the general contract for the William R. Davie and Smith Grove - Farmington construction, and also the utilities for the two schools plus Shady Grove. Floyd S. Pike Electrical Company of Winston-Salem the combined heating and air conditioning bid for the two schools.

Southern Heating of Winston-Salem the plumbing contract for the two schools. The electrical bid has not been awarded pending a study by the board of education as to whether to award a combination bid or individual bids. The Food Equipment Contract Company of Raleigh to provide the kitchen equipment for both schools. Mr. Everidge said that the official contracts with the firms would be signed early in October following approval by the State Board of Education, with construction beginning immediately thereafter. "We are hopeful that we can use these facilities by the 1970 school term", said Mr. Everidge. Mr. Everidge said that bids for the construction at Shady Grove would be called for around October 21st; and the Mocksville Elementary School in January or February; and the others as plans are completed. The total revised construction costs now amount to $2,823,000. Davie County has sold school bonds amounting to $2,495,000 and the money is now drawing interest at the maximum rate, according to Mr. Everidge. The balance of the money for the construction projects will come from the county's share of the 1963 State School Bond issue and from the school capital outlay reserve fund.

Leo Williams Gets National Citation

Leo F. Williams, county extension chairman in Davie County, has been cited for outstanding service by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents. Williams is one of seven North Carolina county agents to receive the 1969 award for "outstanding achievement in agricultural extension work." The award was made Thursday (Sept. 18) at the association's annual convention in Atlantic City, N. J. The association cited Williams, who has been extension work 20 years, for his leadership ability in organizing and developing programs in a total county community development organization. "His work has been organized and participating in a planned program," the citation said. It added, "His leadership ability also is shown in the area of livestock marketing." Williams, a 1946 graduate of

Leo Williams

Clemson University, was instrumental in organizing and developing the Area Beef Feeder Calf Marketing Association which has done much to promote the growth of beef production in the county and area. He also has played a big role in leading the change in the county from cotton and other crops to beef and dairy cattle. Other North Carolina agents receiving the National Association's award at Atlantic City were John Stacy, Union County; Clyde Peedin, Halifax; Robert L. Love, McDowell; C. W. Tarlton, Johnston; Lloyd L. Peace, Vance; and Ralph Sasser, Bladen.

Mocksville Receives $16,742 From Powell Bill

The Town of Mocksville will receive an allocation of $16,742 for street aid this year under the provisions of the Powell Bill. Mocksville was among the 425 North Carolina towns and cities receiving proportional cash allotments. Mocksville will receive the $16,742 based on population

Funds equal to the amount produced by one-half cent of the regular tax levied by the state on motor fuel are returned annually to participating municipalities in proportional shares based on relative non-state system street mileage and on the relative non-state system street mileage and on the relative populations of each of the municipalities. Towns and cities qualifying for participation do so by submitting detailed information each year to the Highway Commission concerning ad valorem taxes, other sources of revenue, budget ordinances and local elections. CONTINUED P-5

By William Friday, President University of North Carolina

Urban problems, it has been said, have been thrust upon America's cities during the past decade with alarming regularity and intensity. As a result, many educational geographers are broadening their programs to include studies in both urban and regional planning.

The educators hope that their efforts will result in more and better planning—planning that will meet the needs of cities before those needs become problems.

At the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, the Department of Geography, headed by Dr. Craig L. Dozier, is now offering a formal program in urban and regional planning studies. It is designed to train students interested in planning careers and to provide a solid foundation for later graduate studies in this field.

"In the past 10 years or so, since urban problems have become more and more critical, the trend has been toward formal programs of planning studies," said Dr. Dozier. "The geography graduate, because he has studied the spatial arrangement of cultural and physical phenomena as well as their relationships, is well qualified to work in planning."

URBAN PLANNING

For the first time last year, UNC-G offered a formal program in the planning field, although planning courses have been included in the Department of Geography curriculum for several years.

The program is helping to fill a definite need for trained planners. The American Society of Planning Officials (ASPO) lists 900 new urban planning jobs annually, and 400 of these remain unfilled because of a lack of qualified personnel.

Physicists do not have the personal and professional needs of regional planners. They are concerned with retail concerns or manufacturing companies, all of which use planners.

"Increased emphasis on solving urban and regional problems has created a demand for planners," Dr. Dozier said.

"This demand is constantly increasing, and our program is designed to help meet that demand. Three of our geography majors over the past two years took the planning courses and were placed into the jobs they wanted."

Salaries for planners are attractive. The three UNC-G graduates started at monthly salaries of $500, $550 and $580. According to Dr. Dozier, a planner with a B.A. and five years' experience can expect to earn $8,000 to $11,000 per year; a planner with a Master's degree and five years' experience, $10,000 to $14,000.

GOOD LOCATION

UNC-G's location in the center of piedmont North Carolina enhances the planning program's effectiveness, Dr. Dozier stated.

"Greensboro is in the center of a strong urban triad complex—three cities growing and planning at the same time. There is no other such location in the State, and we feel our location is a most advantageous one," Professor Dozier explained.

He added: "Another factor is the availability of summer and permanent jobs for planning students. In this area, our students have found that they can complete their research, find summer work as data gatherers and thus gain practical experience and still reach the large cities at either end of the piedmont crescent, such as Raleigh and Charlotte."

In addition to geography-planning courses, students in planning studies at UNC-G elect courses from other departments, including political science (state and local government), economics (taxation and statistics), sociology (courses dealing with community interaction) and anthropology (courses comparing societies and analyzing underdeveloped areas).

Required geography courses for planning students include the following: Physical Geography; Physiography of the United States; Geography of Anglo-American; Population Geography; Fundamentals of Economic Geography; Cartography; Urban Geography and Field Course in Urban Geography.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

FUTURE HOLDS MANY QUESTIONS FOR MENTAL HEALTH RESEARCH

Modern advances against mental illness in patient care and treatment, in manpower training, and in research have been extensive. Yet they come at a point when our times seem to be sharply changing and the scope of mental health problems is enlarging drastically.

Thus, it may well be asked, "Where do we go from here?"

In some areas, the answers are relatively simple. We anticipate, for example, that the number of patients residing in State and local mental hospitals will continue to decline.

By the end of the 20th century, not far off now, we should have less than 50,000 such patients. Large residential mental hospitals will not be needed.

There are other issues and directions, however, that are not so neatly packaged. The control of emotional disturbances with drugs is still in its scientific infancy. What will drug research uncover in the next generation?

What of the promises and dangers of electrode implantation? Through such devices we can already stop bulls in full charge, have cats cover in fear of a tiny mouse. What are the prospects for emotional control? By brain stimulation or drug treatments will we erase depression and calm mania?

There are other concerns, equally compelling if not as dramatic. Consider, for example, the mental health implications of air and water pollution, of choked highways and crowded cities, of urban sprawl and sonic boom.

Faced with an expanding population, we must learn—and we are learning—how to intervene at the places of stress and the times of crisis.

We have learned from studies of the effects of overcrowding on otherwise well-fed and cared-for rats. It is clear that overcrowding—in and of itself—is a major stress leading to a variety of physical and social disorders such as infant mortality, homosexuality, violent aggressive and psychotic behavior as well as death.

Certainly, rats are not people. But these research findings do have implications and warnings for humans. By the year 2000, one-fourth of the world's population will be massed in cities and urban complexes. What will this mean in terms of values, family structure, jobs, politics, and other aspects of life?

What of privacy, group problem solving, and expressions of aggression?

These are some of the questions that the near future holds in prospect for mental health research. How widely and well, and with what resources, we seek the answers is surely a matter of mental health significance to each and all of us.

PARENTS AND CHILDREN CAN HAVE HAPPY RELATIONS

By Bertram S. Brown, M.D. Deputy Director National Institute of Mental Health

We hear so much these days about parents and children being on opposite sides of everything that we sometimes wonder if anything ever goes right between them.

Indeed it does! Fortunately, most parents have good instincts and most children have a hardy capacity to grow and flourish. In general, if we hope the best for our children and can relax and raise them with some humor through the hardships of growing up, they will turn out to be quite mature and happy citizens.

The human being is a marvelous combination of strength and weakness. He is loving and hateful, angry and warm, selfish and considerate, happy and troubled, eager, timid, and bold. He is careful and impulsive, foolish and wise.

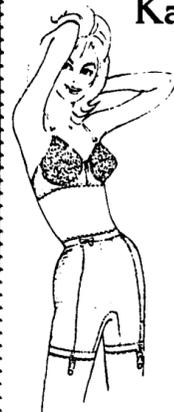

To the degree that he does not suffer from lack of love and nurturing, maternal deprivation, neglect or smothering, parental conflict and neuroses, or sudden loss and separation, he is able to achieve stability.

We know that the young do not thrive under neglect, abuse, rejection (open or implied), inordinate demands, hate, overprotection or exploitation. Some elements of healthy rearing such as these can be learned and applied, to be sure.

Woman's Club Hears Of S. S. 'Hope'

Mrs. John Johnstone of Mocksville, a registered nurse, who made two voyages with the ship "HOPE", spoke to members of the Salisbury Woman's Club, following a 12:15 luncheon Wednesday at the clubhouse. Mrs. Cress Cauble, the club's first vice president, introduced the speaker who said project "HOPE" is the principal activity of the People-to-People Health Foundation, an independent, non-profit corporation formed by the American people for the purpose of carrying out a program of cooperation in the field of health between people in the United States and those in developing nations of the world.

"Project, HOPE brings the skills and techniques developed by the American medical, dental and paramedical professions to the people of other nations in their own environments, adapted specifically to their needs and their way of life. The services of the Foundation are rendered by the people of the United States in a unique, challenging and heart-warming endeavor.

"The S. S. HOPE, on loan to the Foundation by the U. S. Government, is a typical American hospital . . . a self-sufficient floating medical center, a complete town in herself. She houses at any given time approximately 100 teachers in all fields of medicine, dentistry, nursing and the paramedical fields. She has her own complete medical library, movie, churches, dining and recreation facilities, equipment repair shop, ham radio and ship-to-ship shore radio equipment. She has 230 beds, her own blood bank, pharmacy, an auditorium type classroom equipped with closed circuit television, language laboratories and the latest in audiovisual teaching techniques. She is proud of her complete dental teaching unit including its facilities for doing dental prostheses; outpatient clinics in every specialty; a physical therapy unit and complete radiological diagnostic facilities. Foremost, she carries the best America can offer in people—the men and women of the S. S. HOPE.

Volunteer teams of physicians working without pay are flown to the ship on a rotating basis for tours of from two to four months. Over 2,500 medical personnel from newly developing nations have served with their American counterparts.

"The medical staff is headed by Dr. William B. Walsh, Medical Director of the Foundation and also its Founder and President."

Mrs. Johnstone showed slides of her two voyages on the S. S. HOPE and in closing she said "project HOPE needs the continuing support of more Americans who believe in the importance of passing on a legacy of our nation's medical knowledge, friendship, compassion and good will." Mrs. Douglas Fritz had the devotions.

Except to fill out this Payroll Savings Card where you work.

After that, just sit back and be lazy. Each payday part of your pay will be automatically set aside for U.S. Savings Bonds.

And that can mean big money for you in the years to come. For a new home, for education, or for retirement.

It means big money for your country, too. The kind it takes to put men on the moon, build highways, and keep the nation strong.

And the government believes in safeguarding your investment in it. Bonds are guaranteed. And the U.S. Treasury will replace them—free—if they are lost, stolen, or destroyed.

There's a bonus, too. Each Bond you buy entitles you to buy a Freedom Share of the same denomination. Freedom Shares pay a higher rate of interest than Bonds, and mature in just four and one-half years.

Now doesn't that sound like easy handiwork?

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em.

An interesting program on Mental Health was presented at the September 10th meeting of the Mocksville Woman's Club. Robert Hoyle and Melvin Martin, speakers, were introduced by Mrs. J. E. Kelly, Jr.

Mr. Hoyle told the Club that the many people who need psychiatric help, marriage counseling, etc., will now have a place to turn for help. It had not been available in Davie County before, but the county is now a part of the Tri-County Mental Health Authority. The Commissioners of Rowan, Davie and Iredell counties passed resolutions recently which established the Mental Health Tri-County unit. Headquarters will be in Rowan County with smaller clinics in Davie and Iredell. A psychologist and psychiatrist will be in Mocksville one day a week for consultations with patients. A site for the new clinic has not yet been located, but an announcement will be made soon.

Mr. Martin elaborated upon the great need for such a clinic in this area and cited the many functions of a Mental Health Clinic such as: Help with minor mental disorders, help at schools and industry with drop-out problems, marriage counseling and alcoholism.

There were 38 members of the club present with 5 guests, Mrs. Blake Denniston, Mrs. Howard Hanes, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Barnes Daniels and Mrs. Roy Newman.

In addition to being an artist, commentator and lecturer, Mr. MacFarland is also a writer. He is the author of a book on decorating and has written numerous articles and columns for publication.

Throughout the United States and Canada, Mr. MacFarland is famous within the floral industry for lecturing and his participation in programs and conventions.

In addition to his many artistic talents, Mr. MacFarland is also a well known television and radio personality.

Upon completion of the course, Jackie Morton commented, "This school has given me more pleasure and confidence than I ever dreamed I would have in learning how to arrange flowers."

Jackie was also pleased to learn that the quality of work being done by Ridenhour's Florist under the previous owners, was completely in line with the standards taught by the famous Mr. MacFarland. For this reason she is doubly proud to retain the part-time help of Peggy Ridenhour and Hazel Parker.

QUIETER CHRYSLER — Engineering improvements in the 1970 Chrysler line significantly reduce transmission to the body of road noise and vibration through the use of rubber insulators. Main styling changes center on front and rear and body side ornamentation.

All interiors are upgraded in the 1970 Chrysler line, which includes five series: Newport, Newport Custom, 300, New Yorker, and Town & Country station wagons. Rear track has been widened for better stability and appearance. Pictured is the Newport Custom.

New Chrysler Line For 1970 Features Major Improvements

The 1970 line of Chrysler cars feature major improvements to the suspension system which significantly reduce road noise and vibration. The 15-model line goes on sale September 23.

The completely new styling which appeared on the 1969 Chrysler has been refined with changes centering mainly on the front and rear of the cars and new body-side ornamentation which is distinctive for each of the five series: Newport, Newport Custom, 300, New Yorker, and Town & Country wagons.

"We have accentuated the basic good looks of Chrysler through styling refinements and have further developed mechanical aspects which make the car quieter and more luxurious," Glenn E. White, Chrysler-Plymouth Division General Manager, said.

The reduction in road noise and vibration has been accomplished through the installation of rubber insulators in the suspension system to eliminate continuous metallic paths for the transmission of noise and vibration to the body. The insulators separate the front frame structure from the passenger compartment and mount the rear axle and springs in a rubber "sandwich."

Working in conjunction with these changes are forward body reinforcements to insure a shake-free feel, a rubber coupling added to the steering column to prevent transmission of vibration to the steering wheel, and additional sound insulation to the rear seat and shelf panel area to further reduce noise in the passenger compartment.

The noise and vibration insulation system is standard on all models except convertibles and station wagons.

New grilles, a new full loop rear bumper, rear deck, and associated body panels significantly update front and rear end appearance. The massive full loop front bumper is retained.

A new wider rear track provides increased stability and further enhances appearance. Revised full-width tail lights for the 300 and the New Yorker provide continuity of rear end identity for these models, and the 300 again has concealed headlights. Newport and Newport Custom models continue the use of unique taillights. Revised wood grain body side treatment on the luxurious, popular Town & Country wagon gives the appearance of even greater over-all length.

All interiors are upgraded throughout the 1970 Chrysler line. Selected seat and door trim combinations offer highly styled full bench seats, individual bucket seats, and the three-in-one bench seat option.

The 383 cubic-inch two-barrel engine, which uses regular gasoline, is standard in Newport, Custom Newport and Town & Country. The powerful 440 cubic-inch single exhaust four-barrel is optional in Newport, Custom Newport, and Town & Country, while the 440 cubic-inch dual exhaust four-barrel is also optional in Town & Country. The potent High Performance 440 cubic-inch four-barrel TNT engine is optional in 300, New Yorker, and Town & Country.

Other new features on 1970 Chryslers include: dual rear speaker system available on Town & Country wagons; long-wearing fiberglass belted tires standard; new larger L84 x 15 inch tires standard on New Yorker; locking steering column with column-mounted ignition key, and warning buzzer; positive action glove box latch; new steering wheel-rim actuated horn switch operated by squeezing a soft strip on the inside of the steering wheel rim; new chrome plated stamped steel road wheels available; new speed-shift gate for automatic transmission shift linkage; new bucket seat console; new low fuel warning light; new deluxe seat belts; new Cleaner Air System improvements.

Tattle Tales by Gordon Tomlinson

Wayne Draughn may be the fire control officer for the forestry service but he does have trouble controlling the fire alarm at Farmington.

Recently Wayne and Carter Payne, assistant county agent, were in Farmington. At the fire station, Wayne pushed a button that he thought would open the door.....and it eventually did but not before it opened up all of Farmington.

You see Wayne pushed the button that set off the fire siren. Before it had wailed many time, volunteer firemen came "digging" to the station from all directions. Wayne was so stunned by it all that he couldn't turn the "dam thing" off. And Carter was so embarrassed that he "crawled down in the floorboard of the car.

And that's not all!

Anytime the fire alarm sounds in Farmington it is an automatic fire drill at the Farmington School. So in a short time, Wayne's button-pushing had brought all the children out of the building into the yard.

Of course the natural question for all those rushing to the fire station was:

"Where's the fire?"

And it didn't take someone long to crack:

"It's in Wayne's face!".....pointing to a blushing and apologetic Wayne Draughn.

Rebels At East Rowan Friday

Davie hopes to rebound Friday night when they take on the strong undefeated East Rowan Mustangs. Kickoff is set for 8 p. m. at the East Stadium.

Last Friday was one of those nights that everything went wrong for the Rebels and North Stanly did little wrong as the Comets trounced the Rebels 34 to 0.

Coach Jim Conger expressed disappointment in the Rebels performance saying: "I guess we just weren't ready mentally!"

Davie's big threat for a touchdown came in the first period after Richard Crofts recovered a fumble at the North Stanly 42. Quarterback Craig Ward mixed runs with short passes to drive the Rebels to a first and ten at the 11-yard line. However, North Stanly intercepted a pass on the five, returned it to the twenty, from where they launched a drive that ended with a 7-0 first quarter lead for North Stanly.

Following North Stanly's score, Davie's captain and injured 202-pound fullback Steve Zimmerman returned the kickoff to the 37 and was re-injured on the play, his only appearance in the game. Ward and Bryant Smith led Davie to the Comets 36 before David Poplin kicked dead on the North Stanly one yard line.

On fourth down, Roger Honeycutt of the Comets boomed a punt out of his end zone. Safety man Bryant Smith backed, turned and ran to catch the ball. He attempted an over the shoulder catch, but the ball hit his face mask and caromed deep into Davie territory where the Comets recovered on the 28. North Stanly went on to score and make it 14 to 0.

This touchdown forced Davie out of its game plan of a mixed attack, featuring short passes, into an all-or-nothing passing game. The Comets were ready. The double-teamed sprinter Jingle James with such a success that he didn't catch a pass all night. He was cut down at the line and the deep men for the Comets took him over when he got up.

North Stanly scored again in the waning seconds of the first half for a 21-0 halftime lead. Thirteen more points were added in the third quarter to complete the scoring.

Richard Hendrix of Route 2, Advance, shown here with a 9 1/2 lb. catfish he caught recently in the Yadkin River was hesitant to tell just what bait he used to make such a fine catch. "I've been living on the river all my life and fishing, but, this is the biggest fish I have ever caught," he did say. It took him 45 minutes to land the fish and he used a 10 lb. test line.

Automatic Focusing Is Latest Still Photography Breakthrough

If you're one of those camera buffs whose photos never turn out quite right no matter how much you fiddle with controls or study how-to-do-it books on photography, you'll be glad to learn that automatic focusing has come at last to still cameras. This means everyone in the family—from children to senior citizens—can take a razor-sharp photo indoors or out at a finger's touch. More experienced photographers will find that automatic focusing adds a new dimension to their skill and also increases the speed with which they can react to outstanding picture possibilities.

The new push-button Focus-Matic feature, available on a new line of instant-load and 35mm. cameras, was first introduced last year on super 8 movie cameras by Bell & Howell, the same company which developed the electric eye exposure control for movie photography over 10 years ago.

Application of automatic focusing to still cameras was announced by C. G. Schreyer, president of the Bell & Howell Photo Sales Company, who pointed out that Focus-Matic is proving particularly valuable for indoor work with flashcubes, where precise focusing is necessary for good results.

Family photographers can choose from three Autoload camera outfits priced from $37.50 to $87.50 and two 35mm. models priced at $69.50 and $159.50.

MICRO-MESSAGES FOR THE MOON from 74 heads of state plus four U.S. documents are contained on this 1 1/2 inch diameter silicon wafer in a Time Capsule left on the moon by the Apollo 11 astronauts.

The messages were reduced to 1/200th of their original size by a new information technology process developed by the Sprague Electric Company Semiconductor Division, Worcester, Mass.

By etching the micro-messages in an ultra-thin, 4-millionths of an inch, quartz (silicon dioxide) coating on the silicon wafer, a record able to withstand the extreme conditions of space will remain permanently on the moon to signify the historic event.

The Sprague process allows the pin-head sized messages to withstand temperatures over 1800°F indefinitely, something far beyond the abilities of microfilm and other previous micro-reproduction techniques.

Clean Reactors

To maintain high purity in the waters used in nuclear power reactors, nickel alloys are specified for all water-contacting equipment. Each of the two steam generators being constructed for a nuclear power plant in Virginia contains some 39 miles of high-nickel alloy tubing. Pure water circulating through the tubes is heated to a very high temperature in the reactor, and turns water flowing outside the tubes to steam to drive the power station's generators.

Superstack
As an environmental control measure, International Nickel is erecting in Canada the world's tallest chimney—1,250 feet high—at Copper Cliff, Ontario. The chimney's base will be 100 feet in diameter; the top, 40 feet.

The Important Metal
Nickel is a light, gray, tough, ductile, and magnetic metal that belongs to the iron-cobalt family. It melts at 2656 F and has an atomic weight of 58.69. Next to chromium, it is considered the most important steel alloying metal.

See-Through Stainless
Perforated nickel stainless steel strip, with up to 40 per cent open area, can be easily penetrated by light but not water. Applications will include noise abatement, filtering, architectural and decorative uses.

Is TV Killing Sports?

Sometimes I wonder if the prototype of the American male at rest hasn't been grossly overpromoted until now the very people who conceived of this unlikely creature actually believe he exists.

You know the type I'm talking about. The guy with about a three-day growth of beard, sitting in front of his television set with beer cans strewn about on the floor. He is in a slightly dirty undershirt, about two-thirds in the bag, and glued to the tube because there is a ball game in progress.

Frankly, I think the guy is a myth, and there are entirely too many sports events on television and that sooner or later they are going to be playing to a rapidly diminishing audience.

Perhaps I am the odd in the crowd, but for the life of me, I cannot imagine spending an afternoon looking at a professional football double header.

A double header of any kind would be tedious, but unless one happens to live in a city closely adjacent to one of the teams involved in a game, or unless the game has particular interest, (like maybe a Super Bowl) two games makes one too many.

Golf Almost As Bad

Golf is almost as bad. When Arnold Palmer was making his famous charges and scrambling to championship after championship, his exposure on television made the game attractive to the public and made golf what it is today. Many of those who flock to the fairways on the weekends don't know a golf club from a lightning rod, but they all recognize a hero-type star.

Palmer, however, is out, at least for the time being, and there is no other star. Orville Moody? Dave Hill? Ray Floyd? No hope! Now there is too much golf and no leader, and people are not going to watch anything without color for very long.

A curtain of charity ought to be thrown about baseball. The games are slow, and except for the Mets, pretty nearly without flash. The good players are busy with their lawyers and agents, and the ones who have any appeal can't play.

That's the trouble with Lee Trevino. He could be Palmer's successor, but he's a runner-up player. He wins a lot of money, but he doesn't win the tournaments.

Namath Getting Tiresome

Joe Namath is getting tiresome. His broads and booze are too crude to capture the average guy's admiration. Any clod can get stupid drunk with dignity and get into attractive scrapes.

Namath is a great player, and he is now drawing crowds, but he lacks class. Read his so-called biography — it smells. And as far as this is concerned, to me he has exhibited the utmost effrontery to assume that anyone would give a tinker's dam about his life story.

Frankly, I think the American male at rest is reasonably sober and most likely to be clean, and probably has something better to do than watch second-rate sports on television.

The seasons are all overlapping because the promoters are trying to milk as much money out of TV as they can. Soon the selectivity of the viewer is going to drive some of the junk off the screens, and we'll be seeing only the premiere events with class athletes.

Remember when you used to watch Kukla, Fran and Ollie every day just because you had bought the set? Well, the sports fan is going to tire of the overload soon, and those networks with long-term multi-million dollar sports broadcast contracts are going to choke to death on some of the uninteresting garbage they have bought.

Scope Of Sports

A two-point conversion pass Saturday night at Raleigh's Carter Stadium may have thrown the 1969 Atlantic Coast Conference football championship up for grabs.

The big scoreboard clock on the stadium's south bank showed 0:05 left to play when Wake Forest sophomore Steve Bowden of Liberty dived over from the one to put the upset minded Deacons within one point of Defending ACC Champion N. C. State at 20-21. There was no hesitation on the part of new Wake Forest Head Coach Cal Stoll as the former Michigan State assistant signaled his charges to go for two and the win. Redshirt sophomore quarterback Larry Russell sprinted to his left, spotted Buz Leavitt, and flipped a left handed strike to him that gave Wake Forest a 22-21 win.

The Deacons were overjoyed. They jumped, they shouted, they threw their helmets into the air, they mobbed Coach Stoll and his sideline assistants.

The Wolfpack couldn't believe it. Earlier in the second half they had been leading by 21-7 and the offense was running at will. The team and its supporters stood shocked, stunned, disbelieving.

Also among the unbelievers were the twenty-seven sportswriters and sportscasters who had toured the eight ACC schools last week on the fifteenth annual flying junker better known as "Operation ACC Football."

When the tour ended Friday afternoon at Duke after starting the previous Sunday at Raleigh I handed in a pre-season ballot along with the rest of the guys and like thirteen others I picked the Wolfpack to successfully defend its championship.

In one of the closest ballots in ACC history N. C. State nosed out South Carolina by three points. With eight points for a predicted first place finish, seven for second, and so forth, I had also picked Paul Dietzel's Gamecocks a strong second.

I went with Clemson third and Duke fourth. North Carolina was my fifth place choice—just like the final ballot—and I finished with Virginia, Wake Forest, and Maryland in that order.

Clemson was the only team other than State and South Carolina to earn a first place vote, and the Tigers collected two.

Despite the loss to Wake Forest Earle Edwards' Wolfpack still stands a good chance of taking the title, if for no other reason than they do not play Clemson this year, and the Tigers have beaten them the last two times out.

I would think the only change caused by Saturday's outcome would be a little more respect for Wake Forest. The Deacons look as if they could push themselves to the top of the second division.

You'll get a closer look at the ACC's Big Four Friday at 7 p. m. on Channel 2, and the 30-minute special will also include my own prediction regarding this year's ACC race.

MACEDONIA NEWS

The chilly weather we have been enjoying the past week has been wonderful and very refreshing to us. It tells us that fall is just around the corner and we are looking forward to it.

The Post High Sunday School class, taught by Ronnie Hendrix, enjoyed a cookout Saturday night in the church pavilion. Ronnie proved himself to be a good cook.

Several more of our young people left for college this past week. They include Edwin Sparks to North Carolina State University, Donnie Wike to Eastern Carolina, Patsy Dull to Brevard and Nancy Platt to U. N. C. at Greensboro. These young people have been faithful in attending the services of the church and they will be sorely missed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cope and Libby Butler attended the graduation exercise at Fort Bragg on Friday. We were sorry to hear that Kent was sent so far away from home after his graduation. He called home to report that he took a jet to Fort Knox, Kentucky arriving there in one hour and ten minutes.

Lawrence and Lillie Dull's son-in-law, Tommy Brucaker, Jr. has been sent to Fort Sill, Oklahoma. Their other son-in-law, Ronnie Bowles is still at Fort Bragg. His wife Gail visited him this past weekend. We request that all of you remember the boys and men in service for our country in your prayers.

Wilson and Kathy Sparks have been vacationing this past week. They visited Vicksburg, Mississippi and came back through Memphis, Tennessee. The Primary department superintendent, Mrs. Hilda Beauchamp met with the Leaders of the Primary department last week and they enjoyed a cookout in the Pavilion. After the meal they had a business meeting and rearranged some of the class rooms in the department. She reported that every teacher was present and this was a good record. This displays a wonderful spirit of cooperation and we commend them for doing a very good job in this department.

Mrs. Nera Godbey spent several days in Charlotte last week with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nahary. Mrs. Nahary is the daughter of Mrs. Grace Call.

We still have several on the sick list and we request prayer for these; Mrs. Grace Call has had surgery in the hospital in Charlottesville, Va. She is at home doing fine now. Mrs. Patti Hockaday is a patient at Forsyth Memorial Hospital; Mr. Luffin's sister, Mrs. Rosa Isaacs has been very sick in Forsyth Memorial hospital and Mrs. Mattie Jones is still a patient at Davie County Hospital. Mrs. Mary Cook is sick. She suffered a fall in her home last week. All of these would appreciate cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Seamon and daughter were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Sparks Sunday. The Seamon's are Helen's new in-laws.

As I was reading in the devotion book, Our Daily Bread this passage seemed to strike a note: "Are you perchance not speaking to another brother or sister in Christ? What are you gaining by prolonging the feud? Start with a smile and follow it with some gentle, kind remark, and then, forgetting your hurt feelings be friends again."

O do not hold a grudge my friend
It's not the way to live!
But heed Christ's blessed words of peace,
"Forgive as I forgive."
Thought: "They seldom seek pardon who commit the wrong." (Dryden)

SLIM—Tucked cotton in the palest shade of lemon turns up in a lightweight coat that's ideal for spring, come rain or shine. Bold brass buttons and a stand-away collar are stylish details of this design by Tuxter of Texas.

Clarksville Club Has Meeting

The Clarksville Homemakers Club met at the William R. Davie Fire Department Friday night, September 12. Mrs. Stacy Beck presided. Mrs. Walter Howell led the song and Mrs. Jimmy Eaton read a poem.

After a brief business discussion, Mrs. Ostine West, County Home Economics Agent, showed a movie by Bell Telephone bringing out the many points of good telephone manners and how one may improve by being more careful dialing numbers, etc.

This was most interesting to all present. The group adjourned by repeating together the Club Collect.

Mrs. L. G. Wallace, hostess, served doughnuts, coffee and cake to the following: Mrs. Walter Howell, Mrs. Brenda Eaton, Mrs. Era Latham, Mrs. Joe Harpe, Mrs. Morris Anderson, Mrs. Margie Ratledge, Mrs. Billy Shelton, Mrs. West and Mrs. Beck. Children present were Marsha Anderson, Jonathan Howell and Derie Eaton.

Chicken Stew

There will be an old fashioned Chicken Stew at Ijames Community Building Saturday, September 20, beginning at 5 p. m.

The menu will include chicken stew, crackers or home-made rolls, hamburgers, hot dogs, desserts of all kinds and drinks.

Proceeds from the meal will go toward the improvement fund of the Community Building.

World's Largest Heater

The "Calrod" heating elements of a 4-million-watt, 9-ton heater to evaporate water from radioactive waste stored at a nuclear complex used over four miles of Nickel Alloy 600 as sheathing and the same length of nickel-chromium resistance wire.

Earth's First Defense Against Moon Germs

A commonly used antiseptic will be mankind's first line of defense against any organisms that Apollo 11 astronauts might bring back from the moon.

The decontaminant is Betadine antiseptic, prepared from a chemical complex of polyvinylpyrrolidone-iodine made by GAF Corporation for The Purdue Frederick Company and affiliates. Betadine, one of the most potent antiseptic microbicides known to science and medicine and widely used as a surgical antiseptic, was selected by NASA for the initial decontamination of the capsule and its astronauts. It provides rapid, broad-spectrum germicidal action against micro organisms causing infections in man, lower animals and plants.

Frogmen will leap into the Pacific to secure the return capsule. When the spacecraft hatch is opened, the frogmen will give the astronauts biological isolation garments, which they will don, and the Betadine antiseptic. The same antiseptic that has been used as a spray for skin irritations and wounds and in skin diseases and mouthwash gargles will be used by the astronauts on their entire bodies and over their special garments.

As the astronauts then enter a life raft, the frogmen will spray Betadine over the raft, the spacecraft hatch, the astronauts and themselves in the hope of eliminating any germs that may have returned with the first men on the moon.

Giant Trailer

A giant trailer to haul heavy construction equipment has been designed with 240 wheels. It weighs 200 tons when empty and is more than 120 yards long. In order to reduce the trailer's empty weight, a high-strength, low-alloy, nickel-containing steel was used in its fabrication.

New Use For Nectarines

Fresh nectarines, green pepper and water chestnuts (or celery) go into this tasty main dish meat pie. It's made with ground beef, so it's economical, but the nectarines give it gourmet flavor. You'll find good supplies of nectarines from California in local markets. The quality this year is excellent.

Beef Pie Nectarine
 2 1/2 cups flour
 1 1/4 teaspoons salt
 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 2 tablespoons cold milk
 3 or 4 fresh nectarines
 1 lb. ground beef
 1 or 2 tablespoons margarine
 1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed beef consommé
 2 tablespoons vinegar
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1/2 cup green pepper squares
 1/2 cup sliced water chestnuts or celery

Mix 2 cups flour and 1 teaspoon salt; cut in mayonnaise until mixture is crumbly. Mix in milk to form soft dough; roll 3/8" and fit into 9 inch pie pan. Prick edges. Roll remaining dough into 10 x 3 inch rectangle; cut into 8 strips. Slice nectarines to measure 2 cups. Brown beef in margarine in big skillet. Mix in remaining flour. Combine consommé, vinegar, sugar and remaining salt; pour into skillet. Cook, stirring, until mixture thickens and boils; boil 5 minutes. Mix in nectarines, green pepper and water chestnuts. Turn into pastry shell. Arrange pastry strips on top. Bake on lowest shelf in 375 degree oven about 30 minutes. Cool 10 minutes before serving. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Yolles, M.D.
 Director
 National Institute of Mental Health

READERS WRITE ABOUT STIGMA AND MENTAL ILLNESS

Are we still casting stigma upon those who have or have had a mental illness?

Readers' letters and comments are most helpful in preparation of these articles for Mental Health Matters because they forcefully call to attention specific human problems which may too often be overlooked. One of these is the matter of attaching stigma and shame to a past or present victim of mental disorders.

A reader writes of difficulties a member of the family suffered. As a consequence of having been stricken with mental illness while in high school, he was looked down on and jobs were denied him. He finally moved to another town, where he obtained and successfully held down a good job.

Expressing the heartfelt wish that the stigma of mental illness could be done away with and that "everyone would accept it as any other disease," our reader correctly says that most of the mentally ill get well or can be greatly helped.

"If society doesn't treat them right and let them work as other individuals who have been sick and got well, we will always be in the dark ages," the reader adds.

Writing of the interest in these articles, another reader tells of the history of mental illness in a family and some of the many problems that beset them.

While pointing out the difficulties in finding solutions to individual cases, such as getting job rehabilitation services, the writer was emphatic in the viewpoint that we are not going backward, but forward.

"Thank God for the progress made in helping the mentally ill," the writer said.

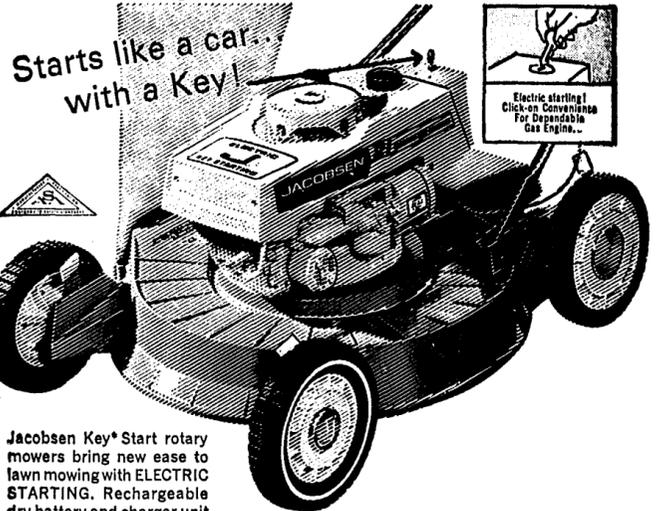

Although there is, unfortunately, still some stigmatizing associated with mental illness, progress is also being made against it; and attitudes and opinions are changing for the better.

By William Friday, President University of North Carolina

The New York Times recently assigned one of its veteran reporters, Joseph G. Herzberg, to visit and report significant developments on two campuses of the University of North Carolina — North Carolina State University at Raleigh and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Among the projects at North Carolina State which claimed Mr. Herzberg's attention were research activities in two important areas — (1) application of engineering principles to garment manufacturing in the School of Engineering and (2) the Southeastern Cooperative Tree Improvement Program in the School of Forest Resources. These scientific investigations offer great promise to industrial and forestry progress throughout North Carolina, across the Southern Region, and into many other parts of the nation as well.

GARMENT STUDY

In the garment study, some of the same engineering principles that make cars run and space ships orbit are being used at North Carolina State to put a better shirt on a man's back.

Dr. Carl F. Zorowski, associate head of the Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering, is conducting research to apply engineering principles to garment manufacturing — traditionally a hand-operated industry dependent on the skills of individual workers.

Dr. Zorowski's research is being supported by a grant of $27,228 to N. C. State by the Apparel Research Foundation, an organization financed by the garment manufacturing industry.

The potential for such research on North Carolina's economy is pointed up by the fact that garment manufacturing has been one of the most rapidly expanding industries in this State since the end of

According to State Department of Labor statistics, some 60,000 "fat heels" are currently employed in the "needle trades."

"The creation of a garment consists of fastening together irregular pieces of material followed by shaping operations so as to give the user a feeling of comfort, confidence and aesthetic appeal," Professor Zorowski noted.

INDUSTRY HELP

Such a process, he added, "does not lend itself easily to modern advances of technology which have influenced so many other industries."

Despite the difficulties, Dr. Zorowski continued, "manufacturers have recognized in recent years the desirability and necessity of availing themselves of developments in scientific and technical engineering knowledge."

Professor Zorowski's two-year study will be concentrated on seam puckering.

William J. Black of Washington, D. C., president of the Apparel Research Foundation, cited the importance of the NCSU research project:

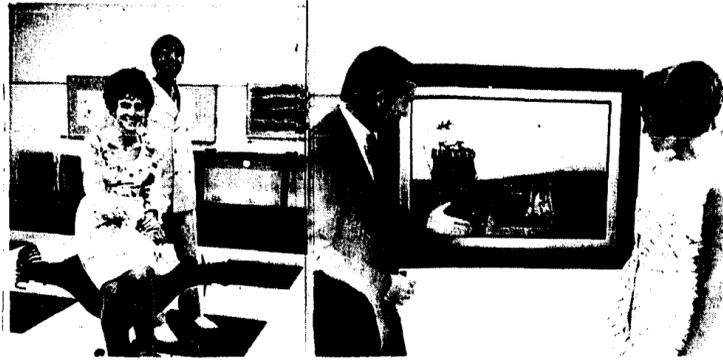

"The successful appearance and continuing utility of a finished garment depends heavily on the manufacturer to form seams which will remain flat, functional and contribute to the drape and shape in the garment even after repeated wear and laundering."

Dr. Zorowski noted that bad seams in men shirts, and in other garments, sometimes do not show up until after they have been worn and washed.

The research project at N. C. State is designed to avoid such faults at the source — in the shop where the garments are made.

The first year of the project will be devoted to an analytical study and during the second year, Professor Zorowski will conduct experimental work.

"We hope that eventually this project will play a role in establishing an automated garment manufacturing industry, which is still in the preliminary stages," Zorowski concluded.

Art Exhibit

FORESTRY PROGRAM

With the support of forest related industries throughout the Southeast, N. C. State's Tree Improvement Program already is providing better trees. The implications of this project for furniture, pulp and paper, and other forest related industries are obvious.

The program, headed by Dr. Bruce Zobel, currently involves 21 separate industrial units and reaches into 13 South-eastern states.

In a future column, I hope to discuss this project in detail along with comprehensive reports on laboratory studies in fertility control underway in the Population Center at Chapel Hill and hemophilia research in the School of Medicine at Chapel Hill — two other important research undertakings which also claimed attention of Reporter Herzberg and The New York Times.

Elizabeth Ann Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Evans of Route 1, Mocksville, is now doing student teaching at Fairview Elementary School, Winston-Salem.

Miss Evans is taking part during the Fall quarter, Sept. 10 through Nov. 26 in the student teaching program of Appalachian State University, Boone, North Carolina. In this program students devote approximately twelve weeks to student teaching in the field for which they have been preparing.

Miss Evans is teaching Sixth under the supervision of Mrs. Doris Brown. As part of the student teaching program, the Appalachian student usually lives in the community near the school and participates in community activities as well as in school activities. The student devotes full time in the school and gradually takes over the full teaching load, always under the supervision of the supervising teacher and the principal. The local school's participation with Appalachian's student teaching program is a valuable asset to the general education program of North Carolina.

Elizabeth Evans graduated from Davie County High School in 1966.

BB&T To Build New Home Office

At its regular monthly meeting held last Tuesday, the Board of Directors of the Branch Banking and Trust Company approved the design and authorized the letting of contracts for the construction of the new Home Office Building which is to be erected on West Nash Street in Wilson.

An architectural rendering of the new building reveals a dramatic and powerful yet simple design. It incorporates contemporary concepts in both architecture and building technology with the result that the new building will be one of the most advanced in design of any structure in the State.

A vertical expression is created by white stone columns and bronze metal window frames. The building will be situated 30 feet from the Nash Street property line and the ground floor will be recessed an additional ten feet. Bronze reflective glass on the upper floors will mirror images of the surrounding area. The design throughout depicts "solidarity while" at the same time creating its own inviting atmosphere. Landscape architects plans to utilize existing plantings where possible.

The seven story structure will include twin service towers to house electronically controlled, high speed elevators, stairs, storage and other service areas.

Ample drive-in facilities will be adjacent to the tower side of the building as well as a parking area with space for more than 110 cars. The building may be entered from Nash Street or through a covered entrance from the parking area. Entrances and drives have been arranged to provide ease of access for pedestrian and vehicular traffic.

The building will be constructed in a manner requiring no interior columns. This clear expanse and feeling of openness will be particularly evident on the ground floor with its 18' ceiling height and walls of clear glass.

Heating and air conditioning, a complete heat-reclaim system, feed through the exterior columns into cellular floors at each level and are distributed to individually controlled outlets to give utmost flexibility and adaptability.

The acoustical ceiling is integrated with the heating, air conditioning and lighting systems and the unique fixtures can be moved along with the partitions, making the physical space within the building adaptable to any future changes.

In addition to the lobby, on the first floor will be the Commercial and Installment Loan Departments, and the main vault.

The feeling of spaciousness which pervades the ground floor is accentuated by a large central well in the ceiling which results in a mezzanine on the second floor. This floor will house the executive offices for the system. The Board Room will also be situated on this floor as well as offices for the Credit Department and for the Bond Department.

Other floors will contain offices for the Trust Department, Data Processing, Marketing and Advertising, and other systemwide departments.

A community meeting room with a capacity of 400, smaller conference rooms, other departments, and an employees' lounge will occupy portions of the top floor.

Estimated completion date is January

Scope Of Sports

by Woody Durham

Both on the field and off Joe Namath is something else. "Broadway Joe," "Joe Willie," "Super Joe," whatever label you like the man himself made his North Carolina debut last weekend in Winston-Salem when the New York Jets - label them World Champions - flew into Groves Stadium and promptly halted the Minnesota Vikings unbeaten win streak at three games.

The final score was 24-21 and as the overflow crowd of 31,500 filed out at game's end almost everyone was discussing Namath's passing ability. If they weren't, they they probably didn't watch much of the game.

Namath played three quarters, one more than expected, and his statistics showed him with 13 of 24 pass completions for 219 yards and two touchdowns.

It's no secret how I feel about Namath off the field. Like a New York policeman said when his apartment and restaurant or lounge were being watched recently, "Take him off a football field and he's a dummy."

I still believe Pete Rozelle was right when he ordered him to unload "Bachelors III," and someday Namath might see the light. When he inked that $400,000 five years ago he assumed a certain obligation to keep his hands clean. Even if they are still clean they won't be for long if he keeps them dipped in dirty water. He also became public property when he signed that contract.

This is the guy the kids of our country are looking up to, and I think he could do a little better than showing up with another Fu Manchu mustache. Oh, he'll probably shave it off if he gets another $10,000 offer. I asked one 17-year-old what he thought of Namath, and without batting an eye the answer was fired back, "I think he's cool as hell."

Well, put Joe Namath in a football uniform and he is pretty cool. Friday night he responded cordially to four requests for individual TV interviews. Jets Head Coach Weeb Ewbank was being interviewed or was about to be by one announcer when Joe came out of the dressing room. For some reason the announcer never got back to Ewbank.

While Namath was working his way through the interviews Ewbank hustled the rest of the team out onto the field for kicking practice, but he told Joe to take his time. He did and he was nice doing it.

When asked about his bad knees he laughed, "I'm still playing." He doesn't feel there's any pressure on the team or him after last year's success, but he's ready to start the season right now.

Seeing him in person on the field for the first time the following night it was easier to see than on TV the passing sense which he possesses. The quick release, the way he picks out his receivers, just his overall football skill comes across better in real life.

And, when he left the game Namath was a cheerleader on the sidelines for sub quarterback Al Woodall, the former Duke star, who preserved the win by eating up the final nine and a half minutes on the clock.

Yes, Joe Namath is a cool football player, but the Jets are also a cool team. And, being that loose they will again be tough to beat.

In 1889, a gasoline-powered automobile made the 900-mile trip from Kokomo, Indiana, to New York without an axle failure—a notable achievement at that time. The car was equipped with one of the first axles of tough, strong nickel steel.

1970 Fords Have Many Features

Ford Division passenger cars for 1970 are highlighted by all-new Torino and Thunderbird lines, a new ultra-luxurious LTD Brougham series, a new mid-range engine, premium quality tires standard on most car lines and more comfort, convenience, safety and security features.

"The 1970 model year may become the first year in which the sales of intermediate-size cars catch, or surpass, sales in the standard-size market," said John Naughton, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager.

"This may be the 'year of the intermediates', and Torino is our most dramatically redesigned car. Torino is longer, lower and wider with aerodynamic styling, hot performance engines and options, and our first intermediate-size four-door hardtop models," he said.

"Thunderbird also has an all-new look with a bold front-end design with longer, lower hood, a forward-thrusting grille and exposed headlamps.

"More quiet-car luxury is offered in the standard-size Ford. The entire Ford line presents a more formal appearance with new grilles, ornamentation and rear-end design.

"Mustang comes on stronger and sportier than ever with design changes, hotter engines, bright 'Grabber' colors, and interiors with upbeat stripes and houndstooth checks.

"Maverick, introduced in April as the first car of the Seventies, will remain our 'simple machines' with very few changes. Mavericks produced after September 30 will have side marker lights which flash with the turn signals, and a three-way locking steering column.

"Falcon moves into the 1970 market with the proven features of fuel economy, roomy interior and durable performance," Mr. Naughton said.

New Features

Several new security, comfort, convenience and performance features are included in Ford Division's 51 models for 1970.

Standard tires on Fords, Torinos, Mustangs and Thunderbirds will last longer, have greater resistance to puncture and provide better traction. Radial-ply tires will be installed on all 1970 Thunderbirds, and fiberglass belted bias-ply tires will be standard on all Ford, Torinos and Mustangs.

An all-new 351-cubic-inch-displacement V-8 engine,

New Law On Stopping For School Bus

North Carolina motorists were advised today that state law requiring drivers to exercise extreme caution in the presence of school buses was strengthened by the 1969 General Assembly to require additional caution during the school year now beginning.

According to David Pruitt, driver education representative, the primary change in the law will require motorists to stop at the first visual indication that a school bus is in the process of stopping to discharge or receive passengers. In the past, the law had specified that vehicles approaching or following a school bus must stop when the bus is "stopped" and in the process of receiving or discharging passengers.

The new alteration in the law expands the regulation to require that motorists stop "at any time while such bus is displaying its mechanical stop signal."

"The new regulation," Pruitt said, "is being interpreted to mean that even though the school bus may be in motion, either stopping or starting, it cannot be passed in either direction as long as the mechanical stop signal is displayed." He added that school bus drivers are being instructed to use the mechanical signal with discretion and only when definitely stopping to receive or discharge passengers.

The law also applies to privately-owned buses transporting children to and from school, church, or Sunday school. It does not apply to vehicles on four lane streets and highways "that has separated into two roadways by intervening space or a physical barrier."

Built for quiet inside and out, Ford's luxurious new 1970 LTD Brougham is offered in four-door hardtop (top), two-door hardtop (bottom) and four-door sedan models. The 1970 Fords all feature new rear and side ornamentation, new exterior colors, plus new, more formal grilles.

developed with the latest computerized technology and assembled on the auto industry's most advanced production line, will be offered on 1970 Mustangs and Torinos. The engine is compact, relatively lightweight and delivers excellent performance and economy.

All bucket seats offered on Ford Division cars are of high-back design. The higher seat backs incorporate integral head restraints and provide added comfort.

For the performance bus, all optional four-speed manual transmissions feature the competition Hurst Shifter, known for fast, smooth shifting.

An automatic release for the two-door safety latch is available on Ford, Torino, Mustang and Thunderbird models. Both front seat-back latches are automatically released when either door is opened, thereby making it easier to get into and out of the back seat.

New steering wheels on Ford, Torino, Mustang and Thunderbird models are semi-oval in design for easier driver entry and exit and better visibility of the instrument cluster.

On all models except Falcon, odometers are tamper-resistant and non-reversing.

A three-way locking steering column on all models except

Falcon is designed to deter car thefts by locking the ignition, the transmission linkage and the steering wheel with the ignition switch.

A new three-point Uni-Lock Safety Harness lap and shoulder belt system - available on all models except Mavericks, Falcons and convertibles - permits outboard front seat occupants to "buckle-up" faster. The separate buckle for the shoulder belt has been eliminated and the three remaining front seat buckles are only half the previous size. The result - a neater, more convenient, more comfortable system that is as safe as ever.

Externally adjustable headlamps on Ford, Torino, Mustang, Maverick and Thunderbird make it unnecessary to remove the headlamp rims to adjust the beams.

On the same models, standard front and rear side marker lamps - amber in front and red in the rear - flash with the turn signals to provide side visibility of the driver's intention to turn.

All cars manufactured for delivery in the state of California will be equipped with an evaporative emission control system.

Lengthy Tunnels
Underground tunnels in the Canadian mining operations of International Nickel total some 750 miles.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Anyone in Davie County having a question concerning Social Security may write in care of this newspaper and the question and answer will be included in a subsequent column).

Q - If a student receiving social security gets married, will his check stop if he plans to continue in school as a full time student?

A - Yes, marriage would terminate his checks.

Q - I am age 64 and plan to retire on my 65th birthday. When should I apply for social security payments and what will I need when I apply?

A - You should file two or three months before your 65th birthday. Take your social security number and a record of your age. The best record of your age is one made early in your life. If you do not have an original birth certificate (North Carolina did not start recording births until 1913) an old baptismal record showing when you were born or an old family Bible with your age recorded early in your life may be sufficient. Other documents often used are school records, marriage certificates, census records, and insurance policies. Just remember the oldest record is usually the best record.

Q - Is the Social Security Office in Salisbury open on Saturday?

A - No. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 8:30 a.m. until 7:30 p.m. on Friday.

Q - I will be 72 in November and plan to continue working full time. I understand I will be entitled to Social Security checks beginning with November no matter how much I earn. Do I still have to pay social security taxes on my earnings?

A - Yes. Regardless of your age, you will continue to pay social security tax on your earnings.

Raleigh Bureau - PDS Charles P.

BY
Eula N. Greenwood

DID HE LOSE? .....The recent vacation visit of Hubert Humphrey to Nags Head-in the company of Good Friend Terry Sanford- brought up conversation as to how he is getting along now that he is no longer Vice President of the United States.

The answer: very, very well, thank you.

A contact with the booking agency which sets up his speaking engagements shows that his standard speaking fee is a minimum of $2,500 and expenses. He is said to be averaging one speech per week.

He also writes a weekly newspaper column and lectures at two Minnesota Universities. However, Mr. Humphrey's biggest salary is estimated to run between $50,000 and $60,000 annually as chairman of the Board of Consultants of Encyclopedia Britannica.

All in all, friends estimate he is making a total of around $200,000 per year (same salary as the President), with no heavy responsibilities. Good Democrat Hubert Humphrey seems to be getting along fine.

As Vice President, Hubert Humphrey received $43,000 per year and $10,000 expenses. His income as U. S. Senator was $30,000.

Now how about the man who was top dog when Hubert Humphrey was No. 2?

Here's what Time Magazine for Sept. 2 reported: "But the Lyndon Johnson who was frenetically visible in Washington has all but disappeared among the squat oak trees in the empty vastness of Pedernales country. He is only a fleeting presence, a blurred picture, a voiceless phantom. He has granted only one interview, a session with CBS Walter Cronkite before the Apollo 11 launch, reportedly for a five figure fee."

And Jim Gardner, defeated for Governor a year ago, seems to be thriving on the loss. He's started a new restaurant chain-plus basketball.

ON THE MOVE.....Whether to escape local entanglements or to go to greener pastures is not known-but about 25 heads of public school systems in North Carolina have moved to other localities this year.

At least one of them, Allen D. Bucklew, took a big jump: from the flatlands of North Carolina to mountainous West Virginia. His new position: superintendent of Tucker County Schools.

The job he left: head of Hyde County Schools. Mr. Bucklew may have his troubles in Tucker County-but hardly the same kind that faced him in Hyde.

WALKER.....That erect gentleman with the slight limp you see each morning taking it easy on the long mile from his home here to his office is an old associate and trainer of William Rogers, Secretary of State. He is also a former Secretary of the Army, himself.

His name is Kenneth Royall, Sr., about 80.

When Drew Pearson, who died of a heart attack a few days ago, was here for a speech in May, he renewed old acquaintances with Mr. Royall. They had known each other well, and favorably, in Washington many years ago. Royall was about 10 years Pearson's senior.

After a handshake, some renewing of memories in May, they parted. Said Pearson: "I'm a little worried about my old friend, Kenneth. He has aged a lot, seems thinner-and I don't think he looks well....."

EXTRA BLESSING.....Members of Good Shepherd, Episcopal Church here one block from the Capitol, received last week a blessing they weren't expecting when they joined up.

Out from the church office to each member went decals for their cars. This particular church has a nice parking lot for the use of its members-if their cars have the decals-for the Sunday School and other church services. But also they can use the lot-if they don't abuse the privilege-for downtown errands during the week.

But without decals, it may cost you some shekels to get your towed car back.

OMEN? .....It isn't often that a Governor leaves his office to pay a call on an aging (and ailing) Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court.

When he does, it's news.

Chief Justice Hunt Parker, 78 and the best dressed man-including the Governor himself-in Raleigh, has not been well for many months. It has been rumored from time to time that he might decide to retire, leaving the place open for an appointment from Gov. Scott.

So, when Messrs. Scott and Parker talked briefly last week, tongues began wagging again.

The call was apparently only a social visit from a young man who has tremendous admiration for an old and stolid soldier in the Democratic army. That, and nothing more...for now.

ANOTHER.....The Governor, only a few days back from the National Governors Conference, is off again. This time to Williamsburg, Va., and Southern Governors...As with the conclave in Colorado, Gov. Scott is taking with him certain key members of his staff. Like everybody else, Bob Scott enjoys some trips more than others. He is said, however, to be looking forward to a visit to the Orient around the last of October.

BIG PROJECT.....The recently revised N. C. Department of Conservation and Development has authorized the spending of $32,500 for a new film on North Carolina. Since it will present State attractions in all seasons of the year, it will not be ready until next spring. It will run around 28 minutes, with many prints, and be shown all over the world.

Davie Blue Cross Benefits Total More Than $178,553 Last Year

Davie County subscribers of North Carolina Blue Cross and Blue Shield, Inc., received hospital benefits totaling more than $178,553 in 1968, according to the annual report of the voluntary health service plan.

This amount covers regular Blue Cross hospital payments and payments for Medicare and other programs handled by North Carolina Blue Cross and Blue Shield for the Federal and State governments.

It does not include payment to Davie County physicians or other professionals for their services covered by Blue Shield.

Larry R. Bozeman, manager of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Salisbury District Office, said the Davie County payments were part of $150 million in total benefits paid by Blue Cross and Blue Shield to North Carolina hospitals and doctors for regular and government programs during the year. Of this amount, $62,050,298 was in regular Blue Cross and Blue Shield benefits, and $59,838,362 was for Medicare and military dependents programs administered by Blue Cross and Blue Shield. In addition, the State Administrative Unit processed claims for State Assistance programs amounting to an estimated $17 million, and $11,038,579 was paid out in other programs such as national accounts, the military dependents program, major medical and extended benefits, and special accounts.

The Salisbury District Office serves the counties of Iredell, Davie, Rowan, Cabarrus, Stanly, Montgomery, Richmond, Anson, Union.

North Carolina Blue Cross and Blue Shield paid over one million claims during 1968, its 14th largest Blue Cross Plan and the 12th largest Blue Shield Plan in the nation.

He was apprehended early Thursday night when Deputy Sheriff James C. Roberson noticed that Anthony's car had no license plate. Upon investigating, Roberson said he found that Anthony had no driver's license, insurance or registration.

Anthony was arrested at the intersection of US 158 and Sain Road, about two miles east of Mocksville.

Roberson said that when he stopped the car two men fled, including Anthony. The other man was not apprehended.

Six gallons of liquor were found in the car, Roberson said.

Bond has been set at $1,000. Anthony is scheduled to appear in Davie County Criminal Court October 7th.

FLUE-CURED TOBACCO MARKETING

Flue-cured tobacco harvest is nearing completion in North Carolina. Markets are open on all belts and the marketing of the 1969 crop is now in full swing.

Though prices have been favorable thus far, we know that expenses have gone up a great deal in recent years. No doubt farmers will be hard put to show any increase in their net profit from flue-cured tobacco this year.

As the selling season progresses it is important to each farmer to assure himself that he is using correct procedures in marketing his tobacco. This should allow each farmer to get the maximum return from each sale.

It is also very important to get all tobacco identified correctly. By doing this, each farmer assures himself of getting his share of the quota and, of course, can avoid costly loss of time or even penalty.

We suggest the following simple check to assure correct usage of all flue-cured marketing cards:

1. Upon receiving the card examine it carefully to see that it is correct. Check to see that the name, address, farm serial number, and quota is correct. (The poundage will be 110 percent of the 1969 quota adjusted for under or overmarketings in previous years.)

2. Take the card to the warehouse when tobacco is to be weighed in. The card is to be left with the warehouseman until the check is issued to the farmer. Do not leave the card at the warehouse or with a trucker between sales.

3. After each sale check the card carefully to see that the entries for that sale agree with the sale bill. Also check to see that the balance is correct.

4. Report any error immediately to the marketing recorder at the warehouse or to the county ASCS office. The farmer is subject to penalty on any tobacco sold over 110 percent of his quota. It is his responsibility to see that any error is corrected so that his balance is correct.

5. Do not allow tobacco from another farm to be sold on your card. This will result in a penalty to you.

By following the above suggestions a farmer can be sure of getting his tobacco marketed properly and be assured of not being subject to penalties. Any farmer with further questions is invited to visit his local ASCS office.

ECONOMICAL LUXURY—The 1970 Dodge Polara has the look of a high priced luxury car yet features a low price tag. Hood has been lengthened, rear deck shortened for longer, lower look. New Torsion-Quiet suspension system gives better ride. Nine models go on display in Dealer showrooms September 25th.

Dodge Polara And Monaco Offer Added Luxury For 1970

Higher appearance and comfort levels with added accent on customer value strengthen Dodge Division's position in the standard-sized, medium-priced segment of the car market in 1970.

"Polara and Monaco interior and exterior styling improvements, upgrading of basic features, including a quieter, easier ride, provide the luxury car buyer with an even greater return on his investment," said Robert B. McCurry, Dodge general manager.

"Appearance and engineering features are significantly upgraded," McCurry said. "Polara and Monaco, which go on display in dealer showrooms September 25, are the most competitive, medium-priced cars we have ever brought to what has become the fastest growing part of the automotive market."

The front end of Polara and Monaco for 1970 has been lengthened three inches and the rear end shortened four inches, giving the cars a new proportion, and a longer, lower "go ahead" look.

Overall length will be 220 inches - an inch less than 1969 models. The wheelbase remains at 122 inches, while the rear track is given a wider stance at 63.4 inches compared to last year's 60.7 for added stability and huskier appearance.

Styling - Exterior

Front and rear ends have been completely restyled for 1970. Massive loop bumpers surround the grille and taillights. On Monaco, backup lights are located behind vertical slots in the ends of the fenders. Side marker lights are set in the ends of the bumpers.

Standard appearance items on Polara include color-keyed vinyl insert side moldings, which protect the body surface from dents and scratches in tight parking places, bright moldings at wheel opening, (sill on hardtops, door uppers on sedans and wagons) and drain trough.

Room To Ramble

Roominess is a key to comfort in Polara and Monaco, which offer more leg, knee, shoulder and head room than any car in its class.

Instrument panels have wood-grain inserts to enhance the luxury look. Standard Polara cloth and vinyl seat and door trim panels are plushier this year. On Monaco, front seat center arm rests become standard.

The same high style trim in all vinyl is also used on Monaco two-door hardtops and wagons. Cloth and vinyl upholstery is also available on the two-door hardtop at no extra cost.

Door trim panels have been enriched by the use of plus padding and wood-grain inserts that are keyed with the new instrument panel.

A 50-50 split bench which provides easy-chair comfort for both driver and passenger will be offered on Monaco four-door hardtop and sedans as part of a plus plushness of a special Brougham decor package.

To meet increasing demands, more cloth seats are available than ever before in all models.

Soft, Quiet Ride

With the high-style exteriors and roomy, lounge-type interiors, goes a better, quieter ride made possible by a new noise and vibration isolation package.

Labeled "Torsion-Quiet Ride," the ride improvement comes from isolated front and rear suspensions, rubber mounting cushions for the stub frame and a rubber coupling between steering gear and steering wheel. This is similar to the suspension used on the Imperial.

Polara Custom Model Added

Fourteen models will go on sale in dealer showrooms September 25 including a Polara Custom series - a "step-up" vehicle, halfway between Polara and Monaco.

The 1970 model lineup lists: POLARA: two and four-door hardtops, convertible, four-door sedan, and two and three-seat wagons; POLARA CUSTOM: two-door hardtop, four-door hardtop and four-door sedan; MONACO: two and four-door hardtops, four-door sedan, and two and three-seat station wagons.

Many Features

Super-Lite, the auxiliary light innovation introduced in U. S. passenger cars last year in Polara and Monaco, is continued as an option in 1970.

Installed in more than 11 per cent of Polara and Monaco cars in 1969, Super-Lite was designed to bridge the gap between conventional high and low beam lights in providing an intense, controlled beam of light without causing excessive glare to oncoming cars.

Larger tires replace the 8.25 x 15's of 1969. H78 x 15 polyglas tires are standard on all Polara and Monaco models with the exception of wagons, which will have J78 x 15 polyglas tires.

Polara and Monaco station wagons have optional rear seat speakers in 1970.

New Manual Transmission

A new three-speed manual transmission incorporates the latest engineering developments including synchronization on all forward speeds, and strut type synchronizers with slotless synchronizer rings. Constant mesh gears are used on all speeds including reverse.

This is the first U. S. passenger car transmission to use the more durable slotless synchronizer rings.

The new transmission offers clash-free shifting in all speeds as a result of adding a synchronizer to low speed and also because all gears are in constant mesh.

Free And Reduced Cost School Lunch Policy Revisions

The School Lunch Act stipulates that "meals shall be served without cost or at a reduced cost to children who are determined by local school authorities to be unable to pay the full cost of the lunch . . . No physical segregation of or other discrimination against any child shall be made by the school because of his inability to pay."

Our first objective in School Food Service is to make available daily to every boy and girl in Davie County an attractive, well prepared and nutritionally adequate lunch without cost or at a reduced price to all children who are determined by local school authorities to be unable to pay the full price.

Regulations state that on each succeeding year after a Free and Reduced Policy is completed for a school, this policy shall be examined to assure that the policies are still applicable to times and conditions. This is the revised Free and Reduced Lunch Chart as adopted by the Davie County Board of Education for the 1969-70 school year.

WHERE YOU BUY YOUR NEXT CAR IS YOUR BUSINESS. OURS IS TELLING YOU HOW TO BUY IT FOR LESS.

Whether you buy the wild beast of the road or the tame highway-hugger, there are several ways to buy any car for less.

THE CAR --

Don't be misled by big trade-in offers. The real price is the NET CASH PRICE after trade-in. Also, be sure of the dealer's reputation. Will he stand behind your new car? Does he have a good service department?

THE INSURANCE --

Make sure you have adequate insurance protection. It may save you hundreds or even thousands of dollars in case of accidents. Liability insurance is required by the State of North Carolina. Collision and Comprehensive protects your investment. Often insurance package plans cover all your insurance needs.

THE FINANCING --

Too many people get a bargain car buy and then miss out on bargain financing. Shop around. Compare charges to find not only a low-cost auto loan, but also one with monthly payments to fit your pocketbook.

- Compare. Then see if you can beat this combination:
- The NET CASH PRICE of a reputable dealer.
  - A PACKAGE INSURANCE plan by a reputable local insurance agent.
  - A CENTRAL CAROLINA BANK AUTO LOAN — the lowest cost loan in town.

Senator Sam Ervin Says

The Senate Commerce Committee has been engaged for some weeks in the process of considering what policy Congress should adopt with respect to the controversial questions about smoking and health.

On June 18th, the House passed the Public Health Cigarette Smoking Act of 1969, which extended for six years the provision prohibiting any governmental agency from requiring health-hazard warnings in cigarette advertising, other than the cautionary notice which this Act requires to be placed on all cigarette packages. This bill's fate in the Senate has not yet been determined.

A key issue was injected into this battle recently when THE NEW YORK TIMES decided that it would require health warnings to be included in all cigarette advertising appearing on its pages. The TIMES went further and editorialized that there should also be a federal law requiring newspapers and periodicals to ban cigarette advertising unless it carried a health warning. Quickly the tobacco industry responded by cancelling its advertisements in the TIMES. Both parties, whatever one's views may be on this subject, were exercising a right under our free enterprise system.

My concern is not with the TIMES advertising policy in respect to cigarettes. I am concerned about its editorial proposing that the Senate ought to enact a law to regulate cigarette advertising in newspapers. A newspaper is neither a common carrier nor a public utility. It may do whatever it can afford to do to continue publication. Freedom of the press is vital to our democratic form of government.

If Congress enacts a law to prohibit newspapers from taking cigarette advertising unless there is also a disparaging statement contained in the body of the advertisement, our government would open the door to Federal regulation over the press. Apart from all of the conjectures about the possible relationship between smoking and health, the TIMES seems to have forgotten this essential point.

For generations now, we have drawn the line tightly to forbid encroachments over freedom of the press. When the Federal Government begins to tamper with the advertising of lawful products, let no one be deluded about the power it will exercise in respect to the fate of the newspapers. Who knows, the government might be tempted to tamper with editorial and news items next. One need only look about today to see how an erosion of individual liberty can end up with expanded Federal power to direct our decisions.

I have therefore urged the Senate to foreclose any effort, State or Federal, to restrict or qualify the truthful advertising of any lawful product in newspapers and periodicals. I hope that my advice will prevail.

Chevrolet's newest entry is the Elegant Monte Carlo Coupe for 1970

A new concept of elegance is the distinctive Monte Carlo Sport Coupe. This newest addition to the Chevrolet line is characterized by smooth flowing lines and sculptured surfaces dramatically emphasized by the longest hood ever produced by Chevrolet. The plush interior includes a simulated wood burl accent on the instrument panel and extra-thick foam cushioned front and rear seats. The Monte Carlo will be at dealerships on September 18.

The Monte Carlo Headlines Chevrolet's New Models For 1970

The Monte Carlo - a totally new personal luxury car - headlines Chevrolet's new models for 1970, John Z. DeLorean, General Motors vice president and Chevrolet general manager, said today.

"The 1970's will be an unparalleled decade of individual customer choice," DeLorean said. "Chevrolet will continue to set the industry pace with a variety of cars and options which allow each buyer to custom tailor his or her personal transportation."

Monte Carlo adds a new market dimension by offering to the youthful, sophisticated buyers a superb blend of individual, high fashion styling and intermediate-size handling and performance."

DeLorean said seven distinctive Chevrolet lines will be shown in dealerships on Announcement Day, September 18.

"The big Chevrolet has new styling and added power for 1970 and Chevelle has an all-new appearance," DeLorean said. "Improvements in these lines are incorporated in both sizes of Chevrolet station wagons. The fast-selling Nova has fresh appeal in its new models."

Current models of the popular Chevrolet Corvett and Camaro will be continued to the end of this year with new models in each line scheduled for introduction later in the model year.

DeLorean said that among important 1970 engine changes, the base V-8 of the big Chevrolet is increased to 350 cubic inches from 327 cubic inches in 1969 to give added power for options such as air conditioning that continue to grow in customer popularity.

The base six cylinder engine of Chevelle is also increased - 250 cubic inches in 1970 compared with 230 cubic inches in 1969.

"A smooth running new 400 cubic inch V-8 that burns regular fuel is introduced as an option on the big Chevrolet and also is available on Monte Carlo," DeLorean said.

"Two new high torque 454 cubic inch V-8's replace 427 cubic inch engines offered on the big Chevrolet in 1969."

He said mechanical improvements include smoother engine acceleration through the use of a transmission controlled vacuum spark advance.

belted tires are standard on all 1970 Chevrolet models.

Every 1970 model has extensive safety features for occupant protection, accident prevention and anti-theft (see full list.)

New for 1970 among Chevrolet's more than 400 options and accessories are improved electric door locks, replacing vacuum locks.

With the electric door locks is a new automatic front seat back release for coupes which unlatches when either front door is opened, for easier access to the rear seat. The latch re-locks securely when the door is closed.

Also new is an electric rear deck lid release operated from inside the glove box.

A new Headlight Delay option reminds the driver with a warning buzzer if he opens his door without turning off his headlights. After the lights are off, he may push a timer button on the instrument panel and lights will turn on for about two minutes to provide illumination after he leaves the car.

Radio antennas contained within the windshield glass will be factory installed when radios are ordered on all 1970 Chevrolets. They replace outside mast antennas used previously and are not subject to being broken or bent. A new highly compact combination AM or AM-FM stereo radio and tape player unit fits snugly in the instrument panel.

Also available is a broader than ever variety of trailering, towing and recreational vehicle accessories.

Here are additional details by car line:

Monte Carlo - This totally new Chevrolet blends action and elegance in a sporty personal luxury car. There is one model - a 2-door hardtop coupe.

It has the longest hood of any car in Chevrolet history - a full six feet from grille to concealed windshield wipers.

The distinctive front has a die cast plated metal grille which gives precise detail and brilliance. New single-unit headlights are up to 14 per cent brighter than other single lamp systems.

Body side panels have smooth, flowing lines accented by a low, full length bright molding and brushed chrome wheel covers. Roof styling is formal. The deck is short and trim. Vertical taillights complete the image of an all-new car from Chevrolet.

Monte Carlos is built on an easy handling 116-inch wheel base. Compared to an Impala Coupe, it is 9 inches shorter in overall length, more than one inch lower and is four inches less in width.

The interior is finely tailored in keeping with the car's luxury concept. The distinctive instrument panel - which groups precision-faced gauges and controls in a wide cluster - has the look of rich burl grain elm, as does the steering wheel.

Conventional seats are standard with buckets and floor console optional. Besides a wide selection of options, all advanced features of other Chevrolet models are incorporated in Monte Carlo. There is Astro Ventilation, full door-glass styling, complete and sound insulation and corrosion-resistant fiberglass inner fenders.

Both body and chassis construction emphasize a smooth, quiet ride and nimble handling. There is a new separate perimeter-type frame and full coil suspension.

Five V-8 engines give the buyer a wide choice in Monte Carlo performance. The base V-8 is the same 250 horsepower 350 cubic inch engine standard on the 1970 big Chevrolet. There are also 400 cubic inch engines and exclusive on the Monte Carlo SS is a 454 cubic inch V-8 developing 360 horsepower.

Four transmissions include Powerglide and Turbo Hydra-Matic automatics.

Regular Chevrolet - The industry's top selling car has a new front end appearance in 1970 with a richer looking fine mesh grille and more prominent headlights.

The exclusive Caprice and Impala Custom Coupe roofline with full-width rear window continues in 1970. This is the largest selling single body style among regular-sized cars in the industry.

There are a total of six engines with a horsepower range from 155 to 390. The base six cylinder engine is 250 cubic inches. Five V-8's range from the new base 350 cubic inch engine to the new 454 cubic inch engines.

Q - Dear Congressman: I am studying about the Capitol in school. Could you tell me a little about the history of that building? S. R. Winston-Salem.

A - The cornerstone for the original Capitol building was laid in 1793. Since that time, there has been reconstruction, renovation, additions to and modernization of, the historic structure. The original House and Senate wings were completed and occupied in 1807. At that time there was no dome, and the two Houses were connected by a wooden walkway. On June 18, 1812, the United States declared war against Great Britain. After a successful invasion, British troops entered Washington on August 24, 1814. On that day, under orders, the British set fire to public buildings including the Capitol. Their orders read, "Set fire and lay waste." The Capitol was racked by devastation, and all government proceedings were moved to a large brick home while rebuilding took place. The brick home was located where the Supreme Court Chamber is presently situated. The Capitol was rebuilt during the years 1815-1819. The new Capitol consisted of the two House wings and a central rotunda covered by a large copper-sheathed dome. The dome was designed by Boston-born architect Charles Bulfinch and for years was known as Bulfinch's Dome. The Capitol didn't really begin to take the appearance we know so well today until 1851 when the third cornerstone-laying took place. Congress had approved the building of "ample accommodations for the two Houses of Congress." This enlargement reduced the Capitol's original wings to the role of links between the new additions and the central rotunda. Neither of the two wings were completed when the House and Senate moved in. The House held its first session in the new South Building in December of 1857, and the Senate in the North Building in January of 1859. Construction continued slowly during the Civil War years. The dome as we know it today was constructed during that troubled time. President Abraham Lincoln viewed this as an example showing, "We intend the Union shall go on." The twin-shelled iron dome weighing more than nine million pounds replaced the smaller "Bulfinch Dome". The great bronze goddess which crowns the Capitol Dome was designed by American sculptor Thomas Crawford. He called her, "Armed Liberty." She is a classically robed woman with one hand on a sword, the other holding a wreath. At the appointed time of 12:00 noon on December 2, 1863, the 19 1/2 foot statue was bolted into place. The Capitol was crowned, but not yet complete. It wasn't until 1916 that the final touches were added on the House section. Today, the Capitol enjoys still another addition, the new East Front, approved by Congress in 1955 and completed for the inauguration of President John Kennedy in January of 1961. The Capitol now offers more than two and one half acres of space spread over five floors. There are more than 102 rooms which house offices, committee rooms, dining rooms, reception rooms, kitchens, and, of course, the two Houses of Congress. Already more additions are planned including a four-level, 1900-car garage to be located under the Capitol Plaza. There are those who say the Capitol will never be finished, and this may be true. Finished or not, the Capitol building is one of the most interesting structures in the world. If you plan a trip to Washington, let me know when you are coming, and I will arrange passes for you so you may tour the Capitol building.

Bonneville

(We take the fun of driving seriously.)

This is the way it's going to be.
Pontiac's 70's

Surprised that Pontiac's setting the style for the umpteenth straight year? Of course not.

But you may be a bit dazzled to find out that Pontiac finally outdid Pontiac.

Take Bonneville. From the strong new bumper grille to the standard 455 under the hood, it's a rouser.

Inside, instant limousine. So luxurious some of the traditional p.p. boys are already screaming.

One of the nicest things we could have done for Grand Prix's luxury was to leave it alone. We did. But we popped in a 455 V-8 for you to order. It's an old Pontiac proverb that luxury

Enter LeMans Sport. A brand-new series in the Pontiac stable. Wait'll competition sees it pull the new 400-cubes-under-the-hood trick. We'll show you that one if you check the right box on the order form.

By now, you've spotted our 70 GTO. But maybe you haven't heard it. A sound so tough we've thrown modesty to the wind and dubbed GTO "The Humber".

This is Pontiac '70. And we figure this is the way driving's going to be. So why wait?

It's at your Pontiac dealer's now.

Social Security

Robert Thomas, manager of the Salisbury Social Security Office, stated that recent questions received in the local office indicate some confusion about the benefits which may be payable to individuals, often adults, who were disabled at birth or who became disabled in childhood.

There are a few conditions that must be met before individuals can be entitled to these childhood disability benefits, he said. The unmarried applicant must be the son or daughter of someone who is entitled to a social security or disability benefit, or who died after working under social security. The disability (mental or physical) must have occurred before age eighteen, must still exist, and must prevent the person from doing any substantial work.

Thomas stated that continuous efforts are being made to reach these individuals, or to alert others who may know of them to get in touch with the Social Security Office.

He added that the parent should not try to determine whether the child is disabled according to social security requirements. The proper and safest course of action to take is to call or visit the Social Security Office. The people there will be glad to help in any way possible. The office is located at 105 Corriher Avenue, Salisbury, and is open Monday through Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and until 7:30 p.m. on Friday. The telephone number is 633-6470.

President Cancels November-December Draft Calls!

Davie To Send 12 For Induction Oct. 6

Davie County Board of Selective Service will send 12 men for induction into the armed forces on October 6th unless orders are received from higher authority to the contrary.

Mrs. Emily Cartmell, Clerk to the local selective service board, said that orders notifying the individuals of the time and place of induction went into the mail this week.

Last Friday President Nixon announced he was cancelling planned draft calls totaling 5,000 men in November and December. Defense Secretary Melvin Laird said that because of troop withdrawals from Vietnam and cutbacks in the overall planned strength of the armed forces, the government would not carry out its intention of drafting 32,000 men in November and 18,000 men in December.

Instead, the draft call for 29,000 men in October would be spread over the last three months of the year—probably 10,000 in October, 10,000 in November, and 9,000 in December.

In making the announcement, President Nixon said that he would order his own draft reforms effective January 1st if Congress fails to approve selection by lottery.

Mrs. Cartmell said the Davie Board had not yet received any orders for physical examinations for the remainder of the year.

Bill Merrell and Lindsay Merrell returned Saturday, September 20, from a Caribbean cruise which was awarded by Walker Martin, of Raleigh, distributor for General Electric

The Merrells earned the trip as a reward for being a "top salesman" of General Electric televisions and appliances.

Uwharrie Scout-O-Rama Will Be Held Saturday

The exhibits will be held at the Davidson County Community College which is located on I-85 on 29-70 East of Lexington approximately 4 1/2 miles.

Two thousand Cubs and Scouts involved will have a number of very interesting exhibits of many crafts and skills of Scouting which will be located in an arena with display booths throughout. There will also be other exhibits including one from NASA as well as trailers with police exhibits and fire prevention exhibits.

A special feature will be some military exhibits as well as wild life exhibits, boating exhibits, and camping equipment exhibits including camping trailers and many other sporting exhibits including Trail Pak food (a new frozen dehydrated food which is used when camping).

There will be a continual show on the National Jamboree as well as auto safety.

The general public is encouraged to come. There will be a donation of $1.00 for all individuals over twelve years of age. The proceeds of this exhibit will be used in the local troops throughout the Council as well as Camp Bunn Hackney, the Council's main camp.

Davie Farmers Urged To Study Wheat Program

Farmers in North Carolina who will soon be planting their 1970 wheat crop should consider carefully the diversion features of the 1970 wheat program before they plant, according to H. O. Carter, State Executive Director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

"Producers should take a good look at one of the program's features—the provision that allows them to divert up to 50 percent of their wheat allotment to a conserving use and still earn diversion payments," Carter explained. He went on to say that producers having allotments of 19.2 acres or less may divert the entire allotment for payment.

This provision, which provides for a diversion payment based on 50 percent of the county loan rate times the farm's projected yield, is aimed at avoiding production of 80 to 90 million bushels of unneeded wheat.

In view of mounting wheat surpluses in the world's major exporting nations because of large wheat crops in recent years, the U. S. cannot afford to continue producing excessive quantities of wheat, Mr. Carter said.

"It seems to me this extra diversion provision again, in the 1970 program, is a good way for our farmers to make a contribution to improving the wheat situation and still maintain their income," Carter said.

Signup for the 1970 program will be announced later. However, detailed program information is available at county ASCS offices.

The Rev. Alvis C. Cheshire has been called by the Blaise Baptist Church to be their full-time pastor.

Mr. Cheshire, a native of Mocksville, has been serving as interim pastor at Blaise since June 1st when the former pastor, the Rev. Pat Kelly, left to take up new duties at Wilson.

Mr. Cheshire has served Baptist Churches for the past 25-years in Iredell, Yadkin and Davie Counties. His most recent pastorate has been the Green Meadows Baptist Church.

For the past 18-years, Mr. Cheshire has been an employee of the Heritage Division of Drexel Enterprises in Mocksville.

Here And There

Several visitors were seen in the audience at Green Meadows on Sunday morning. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Macemore, Mrs. James Nester, Sr., Mrs. Johnny Harpe and sons, and Fred White. A beautiful floral arrangement had been placed in the church by the White Family as a memorial on the birthday anniversary of the late Mrs. Fred White.

A group of the Green Meadows people met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Craig Carter Jr. on Sunday afternoon for a picnic supper with the Rev. and Mrs. Hubert Middleton, as the weather was not suitable for an ice cream social as planned. One interesting feature of the meal, some Chilean food "pinatas" brought by the "Middletons", this food being a must in that country, as they celebrate their Independence there and last week happened to be that time. The food proved to be very good too! The Rev. Middleton preached his farewell message at the evening worship hour, and what a great message everyone missed who did not hear this sermon. The main theme was the true work of God's Church. The Middletons expect to return Chile the first of October.

The Rev. and Mrs. Walter Warford journeyed to Siler City on Sunday afternoon to visit his mother at Chatham Hospital. She is a patient there following a fall at her home.

Brakes Fail On Truck Last Week

An accident occurred on US 601 6 miles north of the Mocksville Wednesday, September 17, at 9 a.m. when a 1965 Chevrolet truck being operated by Grady Kimber Boger and owned by J. P. Green Milling Company of Mocksville had brakes to fail causing the truck to strike a 1969 Ford being operated by Margaret Morris Floyd of Rt. 7, Lexington.

The Ford had slowed down for a Farm Tractor and Trailer being operated by R. D. Langston of Route 5. These three vehicles were going north.

A 1961 vehicle being operated by Billie Eugene Staley of Wilkesboro, going south, swerved right into a ditch to avoid a collision. The truck being operated by Boger struck the tractor in the rear, then the truck went off the roadway and overturned.

Mrs. Nannie Bartley, of Lexington, a passenger in the Floyd car, and Boger were taken to Davie County Hospital, treated and released. Mr. Langston was admitted to the Hospital with his injuries. State Trooper R. L. Beane investigated.

Damages were estimated at $2,000 to the J. P. Green truck, $800 to the Ford, $600 to the tractor-trailer, and $400 to the other vehicle.

Scope Of Sports

When it comes to racing—the automobile variety, that is—you'll find just about anything that suits your taste in the area this weekend.

The Old Dominion 500 Grand National stock car race is set for Sunday at the Martinsville, Virginia, Speedway and despite the furor that seems to be brewing in the NASCAR ranks, most of the "name" drivers will be there to compete, and President Bill France will be there to watch. Whether or not he'll have his pockets stuffed with the new entry blanks remains to be seen.

A few miles away at Milton, N. C., or eleven miles east of Dancille off U. S. Highway 58, the National Championship Sports Car Race will be run at the Virginia International Raceway. The qualifying is scheduled Saturday, and the various class winners will be decided on Sunday. The VIR layout includes a 3.2 mile track consisting of twelve major turns, two straight-aways, upgrades and downgrades.

The newest racing event is set for the asphalt of the new Rockingham International Dragway which is being completed this week and the U. S. Open National Drag Championships is expected to draw most of the country's top dragsters on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Heading the Super Stock entries is the heralded team of Sox and Martin from Burlington. Ronnie Sox's Super Stock Eliminator win at the Summational over the Labor Day weekend made him the first super stock driver in National Hot Rod Association history to win the triple crown. "The final run was an easy one at Indianapolis," Sox reflected, "because Dave Wren broke. The one I was worried about was against Ron Mancini's (SSDA) Dodge.

This weekend at Rockingham Sox and Martin will again have their work cut out.

So if you like racing—stock car, sports car or drag—you can see it all this weekend.

France Vs. The Drivers

Mouth Of The South

Every dog has his day and every cat his night. These are well known principles, and it is equally well known that sooner or later all the top dogs become as little puppies again. Nobody gets so big that he doesn't sooner or later get his come-uppance.

The question before the house today is whether or not this is the time when NASCAR President Bill France gets his.

Last week his big-name, factory-backed drivers refused to drive on France's new Talladega track in Alabama. They said it was dangerous, and that no tires existed tough enough to endure the rough paving and high speeds. France said it wasn't so, and they could drive at whatever speeds were consistent with safety and winning. They refused and left the premises.

Changes Tone

The race, with nearly 70,000 people on hand, was run with a makeshift lineup of independents and GT drivers and the more than $120,000 in prize money was scattered amongst folks who usually get little or nothing.

At first France said the drivers would be subject to no reprisals. Later he talked tougher. What made him tough was the big turnout of fans, and the way the race was received.

Of course, it was the first race in Alabama, and the fans are not used to the big names. But France proved, at least to himself, that he doesn't need the big names to draw a crowd. He is a tough and vindictive man, and now that he feels he can beat the drivers, he can be jolly-well certain to try.

France Is Tough

Curtis Turner, who was about as big in his day as anybody now running, bucked France and wound up barred from NAS-

CAR for so many years that when France finally relented, Curtis was too old to make much of a splash any more.

Personally I thought the drivers had France right where they wanted him, but now I am not so certain. Track owners and operators are going to be very slow to cross NASCAR. They have been too many others broken when they tried to cross swords with Bill France.

It may be that the glamour of the big name drivers is an exaggeration. Maybe the race fan will get just as much thrill out of seeing Richard Brickhouse win as he does out of watching Cale or Lee Roy or Petty.

What's more, not many drivers are rich and famous enough just to sit down and not run, and there is a great temptation for some of the lesser lights to plunge into the thick of things and skim off some of the money while the getting is good and the stars are on strike. Frankly, I doubt if the Professional Drivers Association is, or will be strong enough to deter enough drivers to break NASCAR.

Gut Fighter

There must be an accommodation reached. The drivers have their side and much of what they contend has merit. But as one who has known and watched Bill France for nearly 30 years, I can tell them he doesn't scare, and he's a gut fighter when challenged.

If all the drivers were to dethrone France (a most unlikely possibility) the net result would be to set racing back a decade.

Reason with him. Persuade him. Treat him with undue respect and make him feel important. Then you can handle Bill France. But don't fling down the gauntlet.

The years of racing are littered with the economic bones of those who have tried him and wound up vanquished.

Driver Charged On Hwy. 158 Accident

An accident occurred Friday, September 19, at 1:30 p.m. on US 158 3 miles east of Mocksville.

Diane Elizabeth McLean, 16, of Statesville, driving a 1969 Dodge was traveling east on US 158, lost control and struck a 1954 Ford being operated by Lee Roy Driver, 19, of Route 5, Mocksville, in the left side.

Driver was taken to Davie County Hospital. Miss McLean was charged with driving too fast for conditions.

Damages were estimated at $250 to the Dodge and $100 to the Ford.

State Trooper H. M. Kendall investigated.

The match between Benson and Benson and Shoaf-Daywalt was very close and exciting. On the first hole Daywalt had an eagle to nullify Robin Benson's bird and put his team one up. Daywalt and Robin Benson both birdied the second hole. Robin Benson had his third consecutive bird on No. 3 to put the match back even. Bob Benson birdied No. 4 to go one up, and Shoaf came back to birdy No. 5 and put the match back even. Bob Benson then won the sixth hole to put his team one up, and Daywalt birdies No. 7 to even the match again. No. 8 was halved. Robin Benson birdied No. 10 and his team was 2 up; Daywalt and Shoaf won No. 11 to cut the margin to one; No. 12 was halved. No. 15 was won by Daywalt and Shoaf to cut the margin to one down. The remaining three holes were halved to give the Benson-Benson team their slim margin of victory.

The Benson and Benson team had a best ball score of 64 for the low score of the week. Daywalt and Shoaf had a 65 best ball score.

Davie Rebs Face Central Davidson Here In Game Friday Night At 8.00 P.M.

Mustangs Sock Rebels

By JASON LESLEY

East Rowan Quarterback C. M. Yates checked off the injured list for the first time this season three scoring passes to split end Johnny Yarbrough to lead the Mustangs to a 43-14 rout of Davie at the East Stadium Monday night. The game was postponed from Friday night because of rain. The Rebels will play Central Davidson at the Davie Field on Friday night. Kickoff is set for 8 p.m.

Yates missed East's first three games while he was recovering from an injury he received during the American Legion Southeastern Regional baseball playoffs in West Palm Beach, Fla., but he passed for 185 yards and three scores and led the Mustang rushing game with 48 yards in five carries.

The passing combination of Yates to Yarbrough clicked on touchdown bombs of 49, 51, and 21 yards against the Rebs. Running backs Randy Sheffield, Jerry Sifford and Donnie Bassinger each capped Mustang marches with short touchdown bursts.

The passing combination of Craig Ward to James Ijames accounted for both of Davie's scores. Ward hit Ijames with an arching five-yard touchdown pass in the first half, and they combined on a 70-yard scoring play in the final stanza.

The win was the fourth straight for the Mustangs, defending champs of the North Piedmont Conference. The win was the eighth straight at home for East and its 13th in its last 15 starts. Davie saw its record sink to 0-3 overall and 0-2 in the North Piedmont.

'BEST TEAM EFFORT'

"This was the best team effort we have had," said East coach W. A. Cline. "C. M. threw 13 times and he had plenty of time on every play. Our line did an outstanding job of blocking and Yates and Yarbrough did what they were supposed to do."

East charged into the lead in the opening stanza when it marched 49 yards for a score with 3:42 left. Danny Shepherd returned a Davie punt 17 yards to the Rebel 49. East was forced to punt three plays later, but a Davie penalty kept the Mustang drive going. Sheffield later broke two Davie tackles and bolted 19 yards to the five-yard line. The big East fullback covered the final five yards in two thrusts to put the Mustangs on top. Yates added the conversion for a 7-0 East lead.

PASSBOOK

With just 20 seconds left in the first quarter Yates found Yarbrough open on a 51-yard scoring pass play. Yarbrough appeared to be trapped at the five-yard line by Ijames, but he eluded the Davie tackler for the score. Yates boomed the PAT and East led, 14-0.

Defensive tackle Robert Cecil recovered a Davie County fumble to set up East's third touchdown drive. Yates found Yarbrough on 12 and 11 yard passes in the 34-yard drive. Sifford skirted left end on a fourth and goal situation and scored from one yard out. Yates again converted for a commanding 21-0 lead.

A 20-yard run by Ward spurred Davie to a 60-yard touchdown march in the fading minutes of the second quarter. With a third and goal situation at the five-yard line, Ward rolled out to his left and hit Ijames with a pass in the end zone for Davie's first score. Ward threw to Eddie Jones for a two-point conversion to cut East's lead to 21-8 with 2:16 left.

East charged right back with Yates finding Yarbrough on passes of 16 and 49 yards in the final six yards in three tries and Mike Bernhardt added two points on a bootleg run for a 43-8 East lead.

On a fourth-and-15 situation Ward hit Ijames with a perfect strike, and the 6-5 split end outdistanced the Mustang secondary on a 70-yard touchdown play. Ward attempted to pass for the two-point conversion, but Lowe lowered the boom on the Davie quarterback as he set up for the throw.

Neither team could muster an offensive surge in the third quarter, but Yates hit slotback Danny Shepherd with a 25-yard pass and then drilled a 21-yard strike

A 28-yard dash by Yates down the sidelines featured the Mustangs' final touchdown drive. Fullback Bassinger went the final six yards in three tries and Mike Bernhardt added two points on a bootleg run for a 43-8 East lead.

On a fourth-and-15 situation Ward hit Ijames with a perfect strike, and the 6-5 split end outdistanced the Mustang secondary on a 70-yard touchdown play. Ward attempted to pass for the two-point conversion, but Lowe lowered the boom on the Davie quarterback as he set up for the throw.

Golf Courses Increase In N.C.

A recent survey, which shows the Tar Heel Golf industry to be one of the fastest growing in the country, backs up North Carolina's claim to being "Golf State USA."

During the past three decades the number of Tar Heel golf facilities has increased by 251 per cent. This is the fourth largest gain in the country and is the largest increase of any of the nation's dozen most populous states.

According to a study completed this summer by the National Golf Foundation, North Carolina's golf facilities have grown from 83 in 1931 to 292 last year. These figures represent the earliest and latest golf statistics that are available.

The major increase in golf facilities for North Carolina (and for the entire country) came in the area of semi-private courses. Nationwide, the number of semi-private courses jumped from 700 to 4,110 during the span of the study. This was a boost of almost 500 per cent.

North Carolina's semi-private courses increased from seven to 125 (1700 per cent) during the same period.

The overall 251 per cent increase of North Carolina golf facilities is substantially higher than the nationwide increase of 68 per cent.

The three states which had a higher percentage of increase were Utah (460 per cent), Nevada (300 per cent) and South Carolina (280 per cent). However, each of these states gained considerably fewer facilities. Their large increase is explained by the fact that each state had only a few golf courses to begin with.

For example during the 27-year period the number of golf courses in Utah increased from 10 to 56. Nevada's golf facilities increased from seven to 28 and South Carolina's gain was from 38 to 148.

North Carolina, with 292 courses, has more golf facilities than any other southern state except Florida which has 337 courses.

Only nine states in the country have more golf courses than North Carolina. They are: California 653, New York 634, Pennsylvania 557, Ohio 527, Texas 461, Illinois 459, Michigan 445, Florida 337 and Massachusetts 297.

North Carolina has a golf course for each 17,500 people which is the highest ratio of any of the country's dozen most populous states.

The golf industry in North Carolina represented an estimated $183 million capital investment last year. Approximately $27 million was spent in maintenance costs and 13 million rounds were played.

Several reasons are offered for the consistent growth in Tar Heel Golf. As the nation's Variety Vacationland, North Carolina offers a wide choice of sports and leisure attractions among which golf figures prominently.

The state's moderate climate permits the sport to be played year-round, and its contrasting topography varies from the sea level dunes at the coast to the mile-high courses in the mountains provides a variety of challenges.

More than 73,000 miles of the toll-free highways provide easy access to the state's golf courses. The high ratio of facilities to population enables golfing enthusiasts to enjoy a round almost anywhere with a minimum of waiting time.

MACEDONIA NEWS

Sunday was a good day for us at Macedonia and we thank the Lord for his goodness to us. Our attendance is holding up well in the Sunday school and church services. We appreciate the faithfulness of our people who support the services of the church.

Our hearts were made to rejoice to see Debbie Sheek in the service without her crutches. She has been unable to walk without crutches since her leg surgery early in the summer. She has gone through a long hard struggle, but we know the Lord is able to perform miracles if we will only trust in Him.

The Junior Sunday school class enjoyed a class meeting and social time Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Plyler. Mrs. Plyler, Martha, is the teacher of this class.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harp, Mrs. Charlotte Smith, Mrs. Lucy Parks and Mrs. Eunice Cope attended a meeting last Monday night in Winston-Salem conducted by the Rev. Rex Humbard.

We are always happy to welcome our college students home for the weekend. Those home for the past weekend were: Patsy Dull and Helen Sparks Seamon.

Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Gray Haigwood and daughter of Winston-Salem, also Mrs. Haigwood's step-father, Mr. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Haigwood of Clemmons whose infant daughter was received in infant baptism. These individuals have been friends of Rev. and Mrs. Lofin for many years. They were members of a former church served by the Rev. Lofin.

The Primary department teachers will have their next meeting at the home of Mrs. Elaine Foster on Friday night, October 3. These teachers are asked to remember and reserve the date.

The Young Adult class of the Sunday school, taught by Elmer Beauchamp, will have a chicken stew in the Fellowship Hall of the church on Saturday night at 6:30 p. m. Members are urged to be present for this time of Christian fellowship.

The Macedonia prayer meeting group attended the revival services at Yadkin Valley Baptist Church on Wednesday night. The churches in the community have long been cooperating with each other in this way.

The Women of the Church held their general meeting Tuesday night at the church. Mrs. Nera Godbey is president of the Women's Fellowship this year.

Our hearts were saddened on last Friday to learn that one of our faithful members, Mrs. Ada Douthit Isley had suffered a heart attack early that morning. She is a patient at Forsyth Memorial Hospital in Winston-Salem. She is not allowed to have visitors at this time. Ada has been one of the most faithful members of the Women's Fellowship work. We pray that if it is the will of the Lord that He will restore her to her usual health.

Several others remain on our sick list but these are doing fine. Mrs. Grace Call, Mrs. Pattie Hockaday and Mrs. Grace Smith who is still a patient in Forsyth Memorial hospital. Mr. Kenneth Butler entered Forsyth Memorial hospital on Monday for surgery. Please remember all of these dear friends in your prayers.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sapp and sons, Lane and Lee spent the weekend in Raleigh this past weekend. Charlie is the superintendent of the adult department of the Sunday School.

From the pages of our Daily Bread: "Be sure when you talk about others that you do not become a false witness because you have not kept things in balance. By God's grace try to see both faces." Go talk to God of other's faults.

Don't criticize your brothers; We've all so much we should improve; Just show Christ's love to others.

Thought: The man who looks down on his neighbor is probably living on a bluff!

Congressman Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" MIZELL'S ACTION LINE

Q: Dear Congressman Mizell: I am an employee of a small trucking firm, and I am interested in House bill 11870 which concerns changing regulations as to the size limitations on trucks. Could you please tell me the status on this legislation? W. D. Winston-Salem.

A: Hearings on this bill (HR 11870) were completed earlier this month, but no executive session of the Public Works Committee, at which committee members would make a decision on the bill, has been scheduled as yet. The bill prohibits the authorization of Federal-Aid Highway Act funds to any state in which trucks longer than 70 feet are permitted on Interstate Highways. The act would widen the limit from 8 to 8 1/2 feet and would increase the weight limit through a formula which utilizes the length, number of axles and length between axles. During recent hearings on this measure, Federal Highway Administration officials opposed the measure. This bill applies only to Interstate Highways.

Q: I am planning to return to college soon, but will be unable to do so unless the emergency student loan authorization is passed. Do you know when this will come up before the House? R. L. Z. Mocksville.

A: By a vote of 92-1 on August 12, the Senate passed the Emergency Insured Student Loan Act of 1969, which will authorize Federal incentive payments to lenders with respect to insured student loans. The bill is scheduled for interested in the proposal to make the Post Office Department a corporation. I understand the employees will lose their civil service seniority and benefits. Has any action been taken on this bill? D. L. A., Boonville.

A: Hearings on several similar bills were completed on August 13 by the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee. The committee must next meet in executive session to approve the bills and the first of these sessions is tentatively scheduled for September 18. The bill would then be reported to the House as either approved or unapproved. Under the provisions of several of the Postal Reform Act: vills, the present compensation and benefits of postal employees would be retained under the new system. The law specifically provides that no change can be made which "on the whole is less favorable to the employees." Should the bill be enacted, employees of the Post Office Department would become employees of the Postal Service and would be covered by the civil service retirement program.

Send your questions to MIZELL'S ACTION LINE, 1228 Longworth House Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515.

Senator Sam Ervin Says

The six-week Senate debate on military procurement policies aired most of the criticisms about our weapons systems before the 1970 authorizations bill was cleared last week.

The debate, which began on July 8th, ranged over most of our military hardware, including the anti-ballistic missile system, the nuclear-powered air craft carrier, and the F-14 fighter and C-54 troop transport planes. On final passage, most of the Senate Armed Services Committee recommendations authorizing these weapons were intact, but the debate made it likely that military programs will receive a more critical review than in the immediate past.

Much of the criticism of the military spending requests stems from a deep concern over the progress of the Vietnam War and our failure to conclude that conflict. This is understandable, for most Americans would like nothing better than find some way to reduce defense costs. In the debate over this bill, however, this frustration was translated into many amendments which, if they had been accepted, would have scrapped some of the best weapons our research has developed. Fortunately, this did not happen.

The argument was made time and again during this debate that there ought to be a cheaper way to defend ourselves. The fact is that the Senate Armed Services Committee, of which I am a member, reduced the original authorization request by $3 billion, and concluded that the weapons it recommended were essential to the national security of the nation.

While we may long for lessened military expenditures, our nation faces the reality that we have agreed to defend most of the free world in the two decades since World War II. We have signed treaties to defend some 42 nations, and we have made agreements whereby we maintain military installations in 30 other nations. As a consequence, we now maintain 429 major bases and 2,972 minor bases throughout the free world.

The military hardware authorized by the defense procurement bill is in response to these commitments. I think that there is need for us to undertake a review of our military position throughout the world and to judge our ability to defend ourselves as conditions change. Some of our military obligations were incurred during a time when particular nations had few resources and were practically defenseless. Now many of these same nations have a strong economy and are able to assume more of the obligation to defend themselves. This is particularly true with respect to Western Europe.

Likewise, in Asia, once we have concluded the Vietnam War, we shall have to decide what our defense needs should be to protect our vital interests in that area.

The Senate, the House, and the Administration will be considering these complex military matters for some time to come. They involve greater issues than the fiscal 1970 military authorization bill. They indicate too that we shall need reasoned judgments on our national security and the price we must pay for it.

As this review proceeds, we should keep in mind that freedom never comes cheaply, either in lives or dollars. Military spending must not be excessive, but it must be sufficient to provide the weapons that we shall need to preserve our freedom in a perilous world.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Yolles, M.D., Director National Institute of Mental Health

Without a great deal of national fanfare and publicity, a program now in its fifth year of growth has been quietly benefiting many thousands of mentally ill all around the country.

This is the Hospital Improvement Program of the National Institute of Mental Health. To help bring better care to mental patients, Federal funds are awarded to State mental hospitals to make immediate improvements in hospital services through specific projects.

All kinds of mental hospital patients have been benefited: long-term patients, elderly ones, children, alcoholics, hospitalized illiterates, and maximum security ward patients.

They include people like these three:

One mental patient, after 45 years in Boston State Hospital, was able to move out to a family-care program. This took place after he was drawn into special discussion groups to prepare patients to return to the community. He then went to work in a sheltered workshop program.

Another patient is now manager of an automobile salvage business. Formerly, he was described as "incurable" and having been "rocking around the wards for at least 10 years."

A man who had been hospitalized for 13 years improved greatly under more intensive care made possible by a hospital improvement project. He was able to rejoin his family.

Now he manages his own household and cares for an invalid wife.

Nearly 70,000 patients who have received improved services through the program have been discharged from hospitals and are living at home, in nursing homes, or in other community facilities.

The projects have also, of course, aided many other patients. Some 50,000 additional patients have been helped to more fruitful and less "vegetative" living while still in mental hospitals.

Nearly two-thirds of the Nation's 300 State mental hospitals have received grants for improvement projects since the program started in 1963.

The program is the only major nationwide activity for helping mental hospitals to undertake, under their own administration and jurisdiction, projects which they otherwise could not carry out to improve services, treatment, and other aspects of their care and management of patients.

In the long run, this kind of activity can help improve all our mental hospitals.

On the basis of the program's five years of experience, there is almost no limit to the useful kinds of projects that could be initiated to help hospitalized mental patients.

POWDERS, TOO ... Most everybody knows now that beginning October 1—the cost of soft drinks will be hiked. This is due to the Soft Drink Tax Act passed by the Legislature last summer when it decided against five cents-per-pack cigarettes tax. They came up with two-and-one-two for cigarettes and one cent each soft drink—bottled or unbottled, mixed or unmixed.

A lot of people are going to be surprised at what a big "soft drinks tax" they are soon to be shouldering. Bottled, canned, and fountain drinks are only a part of the picture.

Included are the powders you buy in little envelopes—sold by the millions each summer now—at grocery stores. The tax on each envelope or package is at least one cent. You see, they make soft drinks.

EXEMPTIONS ... But coffee and tea are exempt from the tax...whether liquid, powder, or natural. Not included under the tax are "all natural liquid milk drinks produced by farmers or dairies."

They may not admit it for publication, but N. C. Department of Revenue officials say the law—with its many ins and outs—will be "exceedingly difficult to administer."

ENFORCEMENT ... The levy is much, much broader than a regular "crown" tax. The bottlers are no doubt delighted to see it hit powders, etc., for herein lies hot competition. But, on the other hand, the tax is so big, will mean so much to the State Treasury, it may be difficult to dislodge.

Natural fruit juices—pure apple juice, for example—do not come under the tax. Neither does pure orange juice—or orange juice concentrate. However, it does include all sorts of "fruit drinks." While the public and tax collectors will have a problem...so will the sellers.

COMBINATION ... Speaking at a gathering of his faculty members a few days ago, State University Chancellor John T. Caldwell, openly worried about the parking problem which confuses and confounds this 16,000 student institution.

When he became head of the school, he reported, a leading alumnus advised he would be a success if he could achieve three things:

1. Sex for the students;
2. A winning football team for the alumni;
- and 3. Parking for the faculty.

With a gleam in his eye, Chancellor Caldwell said he had made the first hurdle, bringing co-eds to State. The second objective had also been attained. But the third—well, he admitted to some shortcomings—and promised little hope for the future.

Now he is being considered for the presidency of Duke University.

STILL UP ... Although Raleigh real estate moves as well as the average—perhaps some better—the larger homes sometimes stay on the market for a long time. These are usually in the $40,000 - $75,000 range.

This is the way with Roy Clogston's beautiful place here just across the street from Carolina Country Club on Glenwood Avenue. Few places in Raleigh are as pretty.

After many years as one of the nation's most successful directors of athletics, Clogston retired here last spring. Tiring of looking at the scenery in the mountains, he acceded to requests and is now assisting Appalachian State University at Boone with their athletic programs. Of course, Roy and Mrs. Clogston are living there. Meantime, his home—which went on the market soon after he left town—is still for sale. It's a mouth-watering morsel, but high on the tree.

S. C. TOPS ? ... Sports Illustrated, the weekly sportster put out by the Time, Inc., reports that the University of South Carolina "has the season's best outfit" in the Atlantic Coast Conference football picture. Sports Illustrated seems to rate N. C. State in second place with Duke, Clemson and Carolina about in that order—and then Virginia.

The prediction says this in conclusion: "Maryland and Wake Forest have no depth, no passer, no defense no hope."

HIGHER TAXES ... With a two-cent increase in the State gas tax, a two-cent tax going on cigarettes in a few days—and a new "soft drinks tax" coming on scores of items October 1, North Carolina citizens are most tax-conscious. And are cussing about it—as we face another tax vote Nov. 4.

We are apparently no different from millions of other Americans this fall, however.

Only 12 of the 47 legislatures that met this year failed to raise taxes. In Illinois, reports the reputable Tax Foundation, tax income next year will be about 48 per cent higher than this year.

And the Pennsylvania lawmakers are still in session—in death grip over a $500 million increase in taxes.

NORTH CAROLINA CRAFTS are plentiful in the Village of Yesteryear a popular attraction at the State Fair, October 17-25. The works of the State's top craftsmen are on display during the nine days.

BE CAREFUL! ... Now that all the schools are in operation, kids are all over the place. Be careful on the highway—for a lot of them are driving cars.

AGAIN? ... It is no secret here that at least two former Governors—Terry Sanford and Dan K. Moore (both practicing law in Raleigh)—would like to plow that row once more. Again last week Mr. Moore's name was brought into 1972 Governor's race discussion. That April he will become 66, if he lives—and the oldest man ever to seek the office, if he does. Oldest to date—Clyde R. Hoey, at age 59... in 1936.

DAVIE 4-H

Farmington 4-H Club

The Farmington 4-H Club met on September 16, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Handlin. The president, Pat Miller, called the meeting to order. Flag pledges were said and Penny Handlin then had the devotions. Next came the roll call and minutes by the secretary, George Leagans. There were eighteen members, of which three were new, and three adults present. The minutes approved as read.

Old business consisted of dressing fair dolls, record books, and a window display for National 4-H Club Week, a club Christmas float, and making some craft article at the next meeting.

Our song leader, Cindy Boger, then led us in a few favorite songs.

Start School Day With Adequate Breakfast

It's the smart mother who gets behind the September Better Breakfast Month drive. Skipping on breakfast is a health hazard to many children and teens. A nutrition study revealed that those who dash off to school without an adequate morning meal do not make up their nutritional needs later in the day.

Breakfast should supply a quarter of the day's essential nutrients. An acceptable breakfast to nutritionists may consist of fruit, cereal with milk, buttered toast and a glass of milk. There is always leeway for variety with this basic pattern. How about a hot bread, occasionally, such as English Oat Scones? They've been modernized with biscuit mix and uncooked oatmeal.

English Oat Scones

|-----------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 2 cups prepared biscuit mix                   | 1/2 cup currants or seedless raisins |
| 1/2 cup sugar                                 | 1 egg, slightly beaten               |
| 1 teaspoon cinnamon                           | 1/2 cup milk                         |
| 1/2 cup butter or margarine                   | 1 cup light molasses                 |
| 1 cup rolled oats, quick or regular, uncooked |                                      |

Combine biscuit mix, sugar and cinnamon in mixing bowl; mix. Cut butter or margarine into dry ingredients with pastry blender until mixture resembles fine meal. Stir in oats and currants or raisins. Add egg, milk and molasses; stir until dry ingredients are moistened. Spread evenly over bottom of a well-greased 8-inch round cake pan. Mark into 8 even wedges with floured knife. Bake in hot oven (400°F) until done, about 25 minutes. Cool in pan 5 minutes before turning out. Serve hot or cold with butter or margarine. Yield: 8 servings.

Social Security

Have you put off filing for payment of your doctor bills under Medicare because you didn't know just what steps to take? According to Robert C. Thomas, Manager of the Social Security Office in Salisbury, many people in Davie County have.

Mr. Thomas stated that payment can be requested by you or your doctor. If your doctor will accept assignment all you need to do is sign a Request for Payment Form, SSA-1490, and the doctor will do the rest.

If you wish to file a claim yourself, you first need to get an itemized bill from your doctor. Second, complete the Request for Payment Form (SSA-1490). This form is in the Medicare Handbook that was mailed to Medicare enrollees. It is important to enter your name and claim number as ### 1970 Hemi-Cuda.

This year, there are 10 new Barracudas. And we've changed the looks substantially. (We've packed a 426 Hemi engine under a "Shaker" hood on one of them and called it the Hemi-Cuda.)

However you look at it, our Barracuda is all-new. We've moved it two inches closer to the ground. Pushed the wheels farther apart on our standard torsion-bar suspension. Put a tough optional bumper on the front that comes in most paint colors. And given the interior the design and comfort of a jet cockpit.

If you want a car that makes it... Plymouth makes it.

1970 Sport Fury Brougham.

Here's our luxury model. (One of 28 Fury models with a new wide stance.) It's big enough inside to carry six adults in comfort. It's plush. But the price is still Plymouth. With a front seat that has individual adjustments for the driver and passenger, center armrests, and a reclining back on the passenger's side.

Of course, the carpeting is thick, the headlights are hidden, and the price is still Plymouth.

Old Schools

In 1885 there were 54 schools in Davie County .... 38 white school and 16 colored schools .... with a total enrollment of 2551 pupils. The school term lasted from 13 to 14 weeks. There were 100 white teachers with a salary of $25.50 per month, and 38 colored teachers with a salary of $21 per month.

The school census for that year (1885) showed that there were 4,113 children of school age in the county with only 2,551 enrolled .... and 1,562 not enrolled.

J. T. Alderman was county superintendent at that time. The county board included Mr. Alderman, Professor J. D. Hodges and Charlie Sheets.

Down through the years the school consolidation process merged these schools until we finally evolved in our system of today.

Because of their historical significance, beginning this week we will run pictures of many of these old schools. These pictures were made in 1938 and as can be seen, most of the buildings were not being used at the time.

Farm Debt Increases On Real Estate

Non-real estate farm debts owed by farmers in the United States reached a record high of 24.9 million on January 1, 1969, according to W. R. Dellinger, General Manager of Ideal Production Credit Association.

Non-real estate farm debt accounts for nearly half of all debts owed by farmers which also includes farm real estate mortgage debt according to figures released by the Farm Credit Administration in Washington. On January 1, 1969, farmers' total debts amounted to $52.1 billion, an increase of $3.1 billion over a year earlier.

Dellinger said non-real estate farm debt is held by institutional lenders (PCAs, commercial banks and Farmers

On January 1, 1969, the Ideal PCA was serving farmers, growers and ranchers with 67.2 percent of the total non-real estate farm debt held by institutional lenders in its territory of operations which is comprised of 11 counties. The Association currently has $11.5 million outstanding to 1500 borrowers.

Production Credit Association in the Third Farm Credit District which is composed of the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida held 54.6 percent of the total non-real estate farm debt held by institutional lenders on January 1, 1969, an increase of 1.8 percent over a year earlier.

County Agent NEWS

Did you know that eggs can substitute for meat? A person can be well fed at low cost says Leo F. Williams, Extension Agent, Davie County. Having meatless meals is not new but it is one way of holding down the cost of living.

Here are some of the reasons for substituting eggs for meat:

1. Eggs are a wonderful food. They are delicious and nutritious.
2. Eggs rank in first place as a protein food. They are tops in quality and the protein is complete.
3. The amino acids are in good proportion to each other. This is one reason why eggs help build and maintain strong bodies.
4. Eggs are low in cost. Two eggs only cost a dime when the price is only 60 cents a dozen. 5. Eggs are a good source of vitamins except vitamin C. Also, they are a rich source of minerals, including iron and phosphorus which are essential for building strong bones and teeth. 6. Eggs are one of our most important foods. Their high nutritional value, versatility in cooking, and easy to digest makes eggs unique among foods.

Williams says serve eggs often and you will find they are a good meat substitute. Using eggs in breads, salads, soups, cakes, pies, and other foods adds to the variety of meatless meals. Eggs may be served in hundred of ways for the morning, noon or night meals.

WALK AND BE HEALTHY

Podiatrists Present Research On Athlete's Foot, Cancer

Research into athlete's foot—a common but universally distressing ailment—and studies in cancer research made from virus infections which cause warts on the human foot—were two of many important foot health subjects discussed at the 57th Annual Meeting of the American Podiatry Association in Washington recently.

Dr. Paul Kasdan, podiatrist of Niles, Illinois, presented findings which show that many over-the-counter remedies sold to correct athlete's foot do not effect a total cure.

He told the gathering of podiatrists that many anti-fungal remedies which prove effective at room temperature often do not work when used inside the shoe, due to the higher temperature.

He also discussed changes that occur in the fungus during self treatment. In many cases, the fungus infection, instead of being destroyed, actually changes into a mutant spore which is resistant to treatment.

"When treatment is stopped, the spores produce infective fungus once again, and the condition re-occurs," said Dr. Kasdan. He said it is wise to have a podiatrist examine the foot before such remedies are applied. In this way, professional care can lessen the chance of the condition returning after home treatment is stopped.

Dr. Carl Abramson, Director of Basic Science at the Pennsylvania College of Podiatric Medicine, said that continued

He presented a paper which documented the study of a cancerous tumor which grew smaller after being exposed to viruses which cause warts in humans.

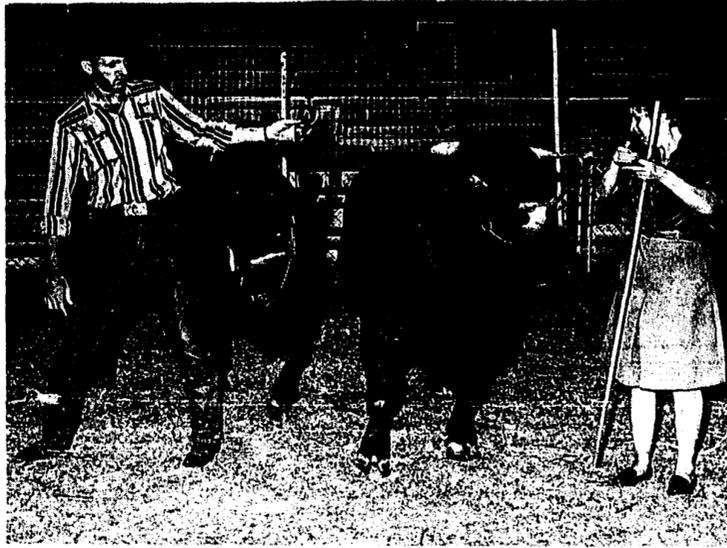

"Total cure did not occur," said Dr. Abramson. "But the fact that local interference did result indicates an activity by the wart, and dictates the necessity for further investigation."

In his presentation, Dr. Abramson reviewed the history of nearly 40 recorded cures for warts, including the planar wart of the foot on which the cancer studies were based. He said that there is evidence that warts are transmitted from one person to another, both directly by contact with wart tissues, and indirectly by contact with virus-contaminated material.

Regarding cures, he said that a recent study indicated that the power of suggestion often stimulates powerful regenerative processes in the health tissue surrounding the wart, leading to an eventual cure.

He called for further study of the wart in order to fully explore the potentialities of this only isolated and known tumor virus of man.

"This study may provide a model system for the investigation of such abnormal growths," he said, "and unlock the answer to tumor formation, and from this, possibly the cure for cancer."

Nature's Display Of Fall Colors About Ready

Mother Nature is about to begin her annual coloring of leaves in much of North America.

Fall foliage in an area broadly ranging from Canada's Maritime Provinces to the Ozarks and from the Great Smokies to the Rockies creates a spectacular color display unparalleled anywhere in the world.

The annual leaf-changing show is a virtuoso performance that only Nature could produce, the National Geographic Society says. CONDITIONS MUST BE RIGHT This eye-catching pageant in full color is at its best in portions of the United States and Canada because those areas have just the right combination of tree types, climate, and weather.

An essential ingredient is a great variety of deciduous trees, the kind whose broad leaves turn color and drop in autumn. The majority of these are hardwoods, and they are most abundant in North America.

The coloration process works best where there is real Indian summer—clear, bright days and moderately cool nights in proper proportion.

Reduced daylight hours, not drops in temperature, set off the changes in leaves. The shortening of the days signals a tree to slow down its growth and enter a dormant period.

The roots respond by curtailing the flow of sap—a combination of water and nutrients—to the leaves, which slowly lose their firm connection with the twigs and branches.

At the same times, things begin happening to chlorophyll, the green pigment in leaves. No longer renewed by the tree's circulation, it begins to decompose and bleach away.

Color patterns change almost daily as autumn progresses. Reds and purples turn to bronzes as bright pigments blend with the browns of dying leaves.

Finally, most of the leaves reach the ground, either falling of their own weight or losing their slight hold in a breeze.

In most areas they either remain on the ground and decay or are hauled off. In others, field and laboratory tests by U. S. Geological Survey scientists suggest, leaves may create a localized water pollution problem when they fall into drinking-water sources and decompose.

Barley Will Be Included in 1970 Feed Grain Program

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that barley will be included in the 1970 feed grain program. The decision to include barley in the program follows the September 10 crop report which indicates a record new national average yield of 44.4 bushels per acre.

Until 1960, annual barley yields since 1866 had averaged less than 30 bushels per acre. In 1960, the crop average was 30.9; in 1965, it was 35.1; in 1967, 40.6; and this year 44.4. Although harvested acreage has been declining, the larger yields have resulted in production increases.

Currently, the 1969 crop of barley is indicated to be 416 million bushels. Carryover as of July 1 this year was 198 million bushels—up about 60 million bushels over a year earlier. The total supply would be 624 million bushels for 1969-70. Total utilization in 1968 was 368 million bushels. It appears a further increase in carryover is probable as of July 1, 1970.

Other provisions of the 1970 feed grain program will be announced in the near future.

YOU AND THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

By William Friday, President University of North Carolina

The New York Times recently assigned one of its veteran reporters, Joseph G. Herzberg, to visit and report significant developments on two campuses of the University of North Carolina — North Carolina State University at Raleigh and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Among the projects at North Carolina State which claimed Mr. Herzberg's attention were research activities in two important areas — (1) application of engineering principles to garment manufacturing in the School of Engineering and (2) the Southeastern Cooperative Tree Improvement Program in the School of Forest Resources. These scientific investigations offer great promise to industrial and forestry progress throughout North Carolina, across the Southern Region, and into many other parts of the nation as well.

GARMENT STUDY

In the garment study, some of the same engineering principles that make cars run and space ships orbit are being used at North Carolina State to put a better shirt on a man's back.

Dr. Carl F. Zorowski, associate head of the Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering, is conducting research to apply engineering principles to garment manufacturing — traditionally a hand-operated industry dependent on the skills of individual workers.

Dr. Zorowski's research is being supported by a grant of $27,228 to N. C. State by the Apparel Research Foundation, an organization financed by the garment manufacturing industry.

The potential for such research on North Carolina's economy is pointed up by the fact that garment manufacturing has been one of the most rapidly expanding industries in this State since the end of World War II.

According to State Department of Labor statistics, some 60,000 Tar Heels are currently employed in the "needle trades."

"The creation of a garment consists of fastening together irregular pieces of material followed by shaping operations so as to give the user a feeling of comfort, confidence and aesthetic appeal," Professor Zorowski noted.

INDUSTRY HELP

Despite the difficulties, Dr. Zorowski continued, "manufacturers have recognized in recent years the desirability and necessity of availing themselves of developments in scientific and technical engineering knowledge."

Professor Zorowski's two-year study will be concentrated on seam puckering.

William J. Black of Washington, D. C., president of the Apparel Research Foundation, cited the importance of the NCSU research project: "The successful appearance and continuing utility of a finished garment depends heavily on the manufacturer to form seams which will remain flat, functional and contribute to the drape and shape in the garment even after repeated wear and laundering."

Dr. Zorowski noted that bad seams in men shirts, and in other garments, sometimes do not show up until after they have been worn and washed.

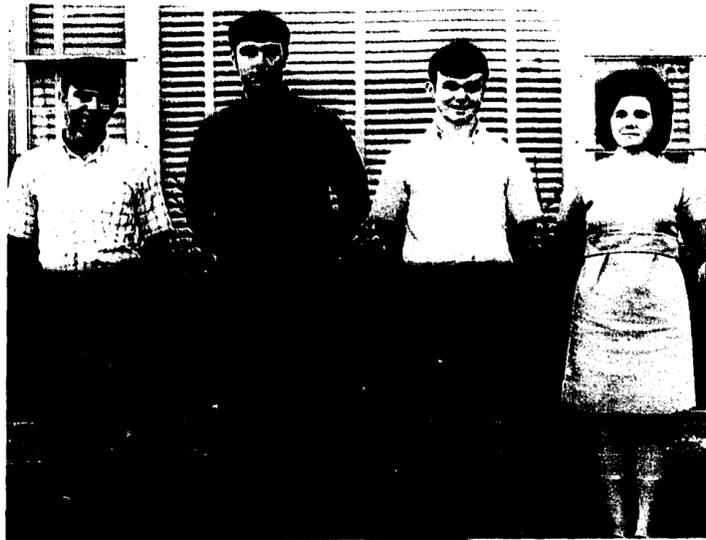

The research project at N. C. State is designed to avoid such faults at the source — in the shop where the garments are made.

The first year of the project will be devoted to an analytical study and during the second year, Professor Zorowski will conduct experimental work.

"We hope that eventually this project will play a role in establishing an automated garment manufacturing industry, which is still in the preliminary stages," Zorowski concluded.

FORESTRY PROGRAM

With the support of forest products industries throughout the Southeast, N. C. State's Tree Improvement Program already is providing better trees. The implications of this project for furniture, pulp and paper, and other forest related industries are obvious.

SOCIAL SECURITY

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Anyone in Davie County having a question concerning Social Security may write in care of this newspaper and the question and answer will be included in a subsequent column).

Q. Can a woman draw her disability social security for herself and her children even though her husband has a full time job?

A. Yes. A disabled woman worker can draw disability payments on her own social security record and her children can also be paid on her record. Her husband may be fully employed at a high income. Your need is not a consideration in social security payments.

Q. Where do I mail my claim for medicare payment?

A. The Prudential Insurance Company of America, Medicare "B" Division, P. O. Box 1482, High Point, N. C. 27261. (This is a new address.)

Q. I am 15 years old and starting my first job. Is it only part-time work after school. Do I have to get a social security number?

A. Yes. Your employer is required to report your wages for social security purposes. You must have a social security number and show it to him so that you get credit for your earnings.

Q. Will medicare pay for me to have my eyes examined?

A. Routine eye examinations are not covered, and medicare does not pay for this type of service. Medicare does not pay for eye refractions.

Personalized License Plate Deadline Oct. 15

Are you a "Grand-Ma" or "Grand-Pa"? Or perhaps you like to "Travel", "Ski", "Golf", or "Surf".

These are just a few of the personalized license plates that you'll be seeing in 1970.

Tar Heel motorists have until October 15 for submitting applications for "personalized" 1970 auto license plates. This is an extension of the original deadline.

Personalized license plates were approved by the 1967 General Assembly to provide additional revenue for highway beautification and state advertising.

The program allows motorists to select the characters which will appear on their 1970 license plate. The plate may consist of not less than three or more than six characters, including one dash (-). Words or letter combinations considered offensive, suggestive, or otherwise not in good taste will be rejected. The 1970 license plates will have red letters on white.

Many drivers who have applied for the unique plates have chosen humorous messages such as the "Push-Me" registered to one driver who owns a small, foreign-made vehicle.

Applications may be obtained through the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles or any of its 96 branches offices throughout the State. The plate cost $10.00 each in addition to the normal registration fee.

Golf Courses Rated Among Most Difficult

Four North Carolina golf courses have been rated among the nation's 100 most difficult courses by Golf Digest Magazine.

The number two course at Pinehurst Country Club, a 7,052-yard, par 72 facility finished in the top 10 along with other such notable golf layouts as the Augusta National Golf Club and courses in Florida, California, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Other Tar Heel golf courses to be rated among the country's most testing facilities were: The Country Club of North Carolina at Pinehurst (top 20), Red Fox Country Club at Tryon (top 70), and Cedar Rock Country Club at Lenoir (top 80).

The selection was made by a panel of 17 golfing authorities in conjunction with the editors of GOLF Digest and 148 regionally located golf professionals and amateurs. Research for the selection began five years ago and the actual selection process involved about two years of evaluation and study.

Gondola Ride Provides View

A free gondola ride to the summit of Beech Mountain, one of the highest peaks in the Blue Ridge range, will provide a new and spectacular platform for viewing the autumn color parade in North Carolina's highlands this year.

The Italian-designed gondola lift, which traverses the mountain nearly 4,000 feet to its summit, will operate from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., October 4-5 and 11-12.

"People who come to the mountains to enjoy the fall color usually can see only what happens to be along the highways," declared Grover C. Robbins, Jr., president of Carolina Caribbean Corporation. The company is developing Beech Mountain as Eastern America's highest golf and ski resort.

"We want to give them an opportunity to see the color from the best vantage point - the pinnacles of Beech Mountain."

The autumn pilgrimage to the North Carolina mountains, perhaps the country's most spectacular area for fall color, is expected to begin in early October. Already, bright hues of red and yellow are beginning to dot the landscape in sharp contrast to the lush summer growth.

The gondola lift is accessible from the Bavarian-style Beech Tree Village, center of the development's activities. Food service facilities in Beech Tree Inn will be available to those who do not bring picnic lunches.

Fast Freight

The hoist at International Nickel's Creighton No. 9 mine shaft can lift 15-ton ore skips from the loading area, 6,800 feet deep, to the surface at 40 miles per hour.
