County Fish Ponds To Be Inspected

Last week D. F. Ashton, entomologist with the malaria investigation and control unit of the State Board of Health, spent three days in Davie and Yadkin counties with the local sanitarian, Carl E. Shell, making inspections of fish ponds.

Only a small number of ponds in Davie were inspected at this time, but Mr. Ashton plans to return in a couple of weeks to complete the inspection. Most of the ponds inspected were in fairly good condition, and where recommendations of the soil conservation service had been followed were well constructed. Where possible to contact the owner, Mr. Ashton made recommendations for proper management of the pond to produce the maximum number of fish and to minimize mosquito growth.

At the present time there is practically no malaria in this part of the state; but if the large number of fish ponds now being constructed in this area are not properly maintained, a problem as bad or even worse than it is on the coast may arise.

However, there is no immediate cause for alarm. State Board of Health regulations require a steep shore-line to discourage vegetative growth and some means of fluctuating the water level and draining the pond if necessary. A fish pond properly constructed and properly maintained can be of considerable economic value and a great source of enjoyment.

A liberal use of good pasture and good roughage in growing out dairy heifers will greatly reduce their cost.

Veterans Advised

On Making Payments

Veterans were advised today against making payments to the Treasurer of the United States with Postal Notes unless complete identification of the sender is enclosed in the envelope with the Postal Note.

D. M. Linkous, finance officer of the Veterans Administration Regional Office at Winston-Salem, passed along this advice after a survey showed that a large number of Postal Notes are now in his office with no means of identifying the sender. All were remittances to liquidate subsistence overpayments.

Postal Notes do not provide a space for the name of the sender; therefore, unless the veteran includes a note giving his full name, VA claim number or service serial number, and current address, the money cannot be identified with any account.

Postmasters in the sending office also are unable to identify them.

Linkous further stated that Money Orders or personal checks afford identification means and less chance of the payment being applied to the wrong account. All type payments should bear the veteran's claim or service serial number and a current address for acknowledgment. This advice holds equally true for government insurance premium payments to the insurance service.

American prunes and other dried fruits are in high favor in most European countries, and American raisins are popular except in England where the lighter colored sorts are preferred.

Over-Fatigue Invites Polio in Summer Months

Strenuous exercise or games causing extreme fatigue should be avoided during the hot summer months as another precaution against polio, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, through its local chapter, stresses among six simple health rules that should be observed in combating the disease. Tests on laboratory animals carried out in experiments financed by March of Dimes funds, showed that where animals were strenuously exercised, twice as many of them exposed to the virus developed more severe forms of infantile paralysis than did those which had rested quietly in their cages. The studies indicate, the National Foundation points out, the wisdom of avoiding extreme fatigue is a worthwhile precaution in the polio danger months—June through September.

ADVICE GIVEN ON EGG PRODUCTION

As warm weather approaches, egg quality declines as well as egg production. Egg prices usually advance, and now eggs are selling for a very fair price. The returns being received by commercial egg producers is very encouraging. Farmers should take every precaution to conserve the quality of the eggs being produced on the farm.

Heat is the greatest enemy of egg quality. Many producers have a cellar, basement, or other suitable places on the farm whereby eggs may be kept satisfactorily. If such places do not exist, a farmer could well afford to provide an egg cellar. About all that is necessary is that the place be reasonably well ventilated, free from disagreeable odors, cool and moist. Eggs should be gathered at least twice a day and spread upon wire racks, or left in wire egg baskets and allowed to cool overnight. If the above program is followed, much improvement will be noted in the quality of the eggs sold and the flavor of the eggs when they are consumed. It is high time North Carolina farmers and poultrymen gave serious consideration to producing, conserving, and selling high quality eggs.

Pullets should be well developed before they are placed in the laying house. One of the best ways to have well developed and healthy pullets is to grow them on a good range. Tender green feed such as Ladino clover is palatable and highly relished by the birds. Soybeans and field peas will usually furnish green feed during the hot dry months. Move the range shelter and feed hoppers as needed to make better use of the green feed on the range.

Mash and water should be available at all times while the birds are on range. The mash should be kept in outdoor or covered hoppers to protect it from the rain and sun. Water fountains should be shaded to help keep the water cool.

When the pullets are removed from the range, they should be placed in cool laying quarters. Keep the ventilators and windows open to make the house cooler. The early pullets will not continue to gain in body weight and increase in egg production if the house is hot.

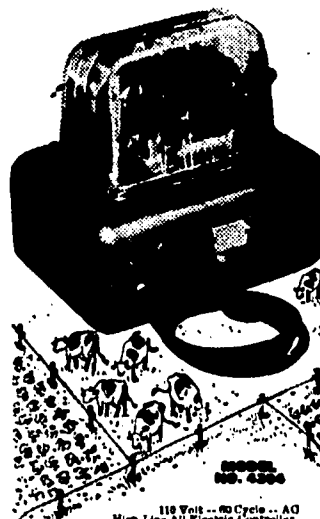

Check for lice and mites as warm weather is ideal for their presence. Dusting with sodium flouride or painting the roost poles with a roost paint late in the afternoon will control lice. Mites differ from lice in that they are sucking insects and feed on the birds at night, then hide in the roost poles in the daytime. Control lice and mites by a thorough application of equal parts of used motor oil and kerosene.

REVALUATION OF PROPERTY

Reports from neighboring Rowan County reveal that agitation has begun there by civic groups, business men, and the city council, urging the Rowan county commissioners to provide for the revaluation of property for 1950. Evidently the situation there is similar to that of Davie county, where there has been no revaluation of property in the past decade for the purpose of taxation.

Many tax inequalities have come about since the original property was valued and entered on the tax books many years ago. Some even question the method by which it was valued then. The GI home that has been built during the past few years cost as much as $10,000 in some cases and the same home could have been built in 1940 for as little as $3,500. Even with the decrease in the percentage of the cost allowed due to the present inflation of construction costs, the new home is being taxed considerably higher than the pre-1940 home.

Sooner or later, property in Davie county will be revalued for taxes, but not until those persons who have built homes and business buildings in the past 15 years wake up to the fact that they are paying more than their share of the taxes, due to the advantage of a 30 per cent horizontal cut in values enjoyed by those property owners who built prior to the Great Depression. All taxes should be levied fairly, and this is not the case in Davie County.

The obligation for providing for this revaluation must rest with the County Board of Commissioners, and the proposed budget and plans for the coming year should take that into consideration. While it might not be a popular move in the beginning among some people, we are satisfied that once the property has been revalued, the public generally will agree that it was a wise step. The reason there has been so much apathy about the matter thus far is due to the fact that the public does not know the actual situation.

Cake-Cutting Party Held At the Martin Home

Dr. and Mrs. L. P. Martin gave a rehearsal party Saturday evening at their home in honor of Miss Christine Hendricks and her fiancé, Charles William Woodruff.

In the entrance hall, living rooms and sun room were arrangements of sweetheart roses, sweet peas and an epergne of flesh carnations, white gladioli, gypsophyllia and yellow acacia. The dining room table was covered with a white linen cloth, and in the center was a bridal bouquet of gardenias, gypsophyllia and fern tied with white satin ribbon, and showered with valley lilies and fern. Silver candelabra with slender white tapers and a large silver tray with a three-tiered wedding cake, circled with gardenias and topped with a miniature bride and groom completed the table decorations. Other lovely arrangements were silver vases of magnolias.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall greeted the guests on the steps, Miss Hendricks, Mr. Woodruff and George Martin invited the guests to the dining room, where Mr. and Mrs. Knox Johnstone served the wedding cake. Dr. and Mrs. Martin directed the guests to the porch, where punch was served by Misses Sara Gaither, Flossie Martin, Margaret and Mary McMahon.

ADVICE GIVEN ON EGG PRODUCTION

As warm weather approaches, egg quality declines as well as egg production. Egg prices usually advance, and now eggs are selling for a very fair price. The returns being received by commercial egg producers is very encouraging. Farmers should take every precaution to conserve the quality of the eggs being produced on the farm.

Heat is the greatest enemy of egg quality. Many producers have a cellar, basement, or other suitable places on the farm whereby eggs may be kept satisfactorily. If such places do not exist, a farmer could well afford to provide an egg cellar. About all that is necessary is that the place be reasonably well ventilated, free from disagreeable odors, cool and moist. Eggs should be gathered at least twice a day and spread upon wire racks, or left in wire egg baskets and allowed to cool overnight. If the above program is followed, much improvement will be noted in the quality of the eggs sold and the flavor of the eggs when they are consumed. It is high time North Carolina farmers and poultrymen gave serious consideration to producing, conserving, and selling high quality eggs.

Pullets should be well developed before they are placed in the laying house. One of the best ways to have well developed and healthy pullets is to grow them on a good range. Tender green feed such as Ladino clover is palatable and highly relished by the birds. Soybeans and field peas will usually furnish green feed during the hot dry months. Move the range shelter and feed hoppers as needed to make better

CONGRATULATES 227 NEW CITIZENS

AT IMMIGRATION HEADQUARTERS in New York City, Federal Judge C. Murray Hulbert congratulates Anna Stern, who was born in Russia, one of 227 persons sworn in as new citizens. use of the green feed on the range. Mash and water should be available at all times while the birds are on range. The mash should be kept in outdoor or covered hoppers to protect it from the rain and sun. Water fountains should be shaded to help keep the water cool.

When the pullets are removed from the range, they should be placed in cool laying quarters. Keep the ventilators and windows open to make the house cooler. The early pullets will not continue to gain in body weight and increase in egg production if the house is hot.

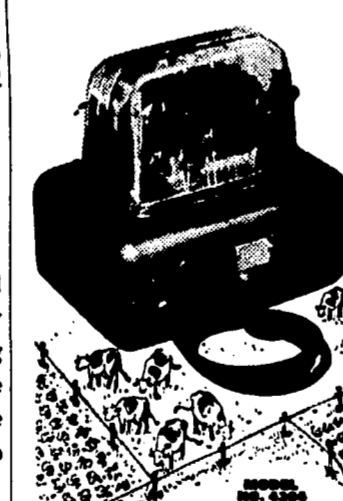

Check for lice and mites as warm weather is ideal for their presence. Dusting with sodium flouride or painting the roost poles with a roost paint late in the afternoon will control lice. Mites differ from lice in that they are sucking insects and feed on the birds at night, then hide in the roost poles in the daytime. Control lice and mites by a thorough application of equal parts of used motor oil and kerosene.

Know Your Federal Insurance

During the past months there has been much discussion of the present Social Security program over the radio, and many articles have appeared in newspapers and magazines all over the country. The reason is the Social Security Administration, as required by law, has made recommendations for changes in the existing law to the present Congress. In addition to articles on proposed expansion, the newspapers published in the five counties, serviced by the Winston-Salem, N. C., field office of the Social Security Administration, have carried news stories explaining the law in its present form so that the public will have authentic information and can protect their rights. As a result of this widespread publicity, the citizens of the area serviced by the Winston-Salem office have shown increased interest in this subject, according to a statement made today by Mrs. Ruth G. Duffy, manager of the Winston-Salem Office.

The question most frequently asked is, "What recommendations has the Social Security Administration made with respect to extending the coverage of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance?" according to Mrs. Duffy. This is the provision of the Social Security Act administered by the Winston-Salem Office.

Mrs. Duffy explained that the Social Security Administration has recommended change of the law to provide protection for all workers, regardless of occupation. When a farm or domestic worker, or an employee of any non-profit institution or self-employed person reaches age 65 and wishes to retire, he or she is faced with the fact that, under the present law, no Old-Age Insurance benefits can be expected. If one of them should die, there will be no insurance payments from the Government to his survivors.

New Hope Seen In War Against Polio

The conquest of infantile paralysis is now within sight, Alton L. Blakeslee, noted science writer, predicts in a pamphlet published today by the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., of New York.

"No one can predict just when the victory will come, or in what way," he adds, "but medical science is making such progress that there is real cause for optimism."

Such striking progress has been made in treatment during the past ten years that only about 15 to 25 per cent of polio victims are now "left more or less severely handicapped . . . Forty to 60 per cent of the children or adults who get the illness in recognizable form will recover completely, or almost completely, without any visible evidence of paralysis."

Although little is known about the way in which polio spreads, the pamphlet carries a number of tips for parents in the event that infantile paralysis breaks out in epidemic form in their neighborhood. Parents are urged to:

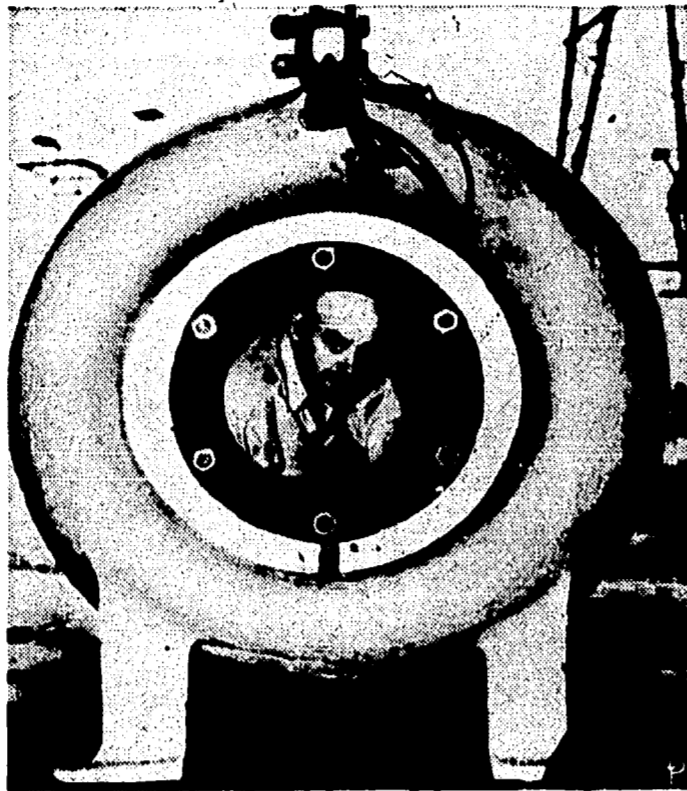

1. Watch for the symptoms that may be weathervanes of polio: a tired feeling, headache, nau-

The Social Security Administration thinks the law should be changed so that everyone who works long enough to justify social insurance payments may claim benefits at the appropriate time.

Another change recommended to the Congress by the Administration is that the present method of computing benefits be changed so that an increase in the amounts now payable can be made, Mrs. Duffy added.

A representative will be in Mocksville again on July 27 at the Courthouse, Second Floor, at 12:30 p.m. and in Cooleemee on the same date at the Erwin Cotton Mills Office at 11:00 a.m.

MRS. CHARLES WILLIAM WOODRUFF

Hendricks-Woodruff Vows Are Spoken

Miss Leola Christine Hendricks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Robert Hendricks, became the bride of Charles William Woodruff, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gaither Woodruff, at 5 p.m. Sunday, June 26, at the Mocksville Methodist church.

Rev. Robert M. Hardee officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. John N. Waters, organist, and Rev. Howard I. Chadwick, vocalist, of Winston-Salem, presented the wedding music. Mrs. Waters played "Always," "O Promise Me," and "Indian Love Call." Rev. Chadwick sang "Because," "I Love Thee," "I Love You Truly," and as the benediction "The Lord's Prayer." The Wedding March from "Lohengrin" was played for the processional, and the march from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" for the recessional.

Miss Jane Mooney, cousin of the bride of Occoquan, Va., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Glenda Madison, also cousin of the bride, Miss Grace Quinn of Beaulaville, Miss Mary Black McBryde of Greensboro, and Miss Isabel McDonald of Wadesboro. All the attendants wore identical hyacinth blue gowns. They wore matching headdresses caught with rose bows. The dresses were fashioned of marquisette over taffeta with a shawl collar. The skirts were caught at the back to form a bustle and then fell into a slight train.

The bridesmaids carried colonial nosegays of mixed Summer flowers tied with pink ribbon, and the maid of honor's, with deep purple ribbon.

Tom Bailey Woodruff was his brother's best man. Ushers were Woody Patterson, nephew of the groom, of Taylorsville, Roy C. Walker, Jr., cousin of the bride, of Winston-Salem, Robert D. Cherryholmes of Charleston, W. Va., and George W. Martin.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of candlelight satin with a curved neckline outlined with seed pearls, and gathered skirt ending in a train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and gypsophyllia centered with a white orchid.

The bride's only ornament was a string of pearls, which was a gift of the bridegroom.

The couple left after the reception for an unannounced wedding trip. For travel the bride wore an off-white palm beach suit with brown and white accessories, and her hat was of milan straw with brown nylon veiling.

The couple will be at home in the Loyd apartments on their return.

Mrs. Woodruff was graduated from Mocksville High school and from the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro. For the past year she has been a member of the Central High school faculty in Mooresville.

Mr. Woodruff attended the Mocksville schools and was graduated from Reynolds High school, Winston-Salem. He served three years in the U. S. army, and at present he is connected with the Wilkins Drug company.

Reception

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks, parents of the bride, entertained with a reception at their home. White flowers and greenery were combined to make a pretty setting for the affair.

The dining table was centered with a crystal bowl of white carnations, feverfew and gypsophyllia, showered with white satin ribbon.

Mr. Roy Walker of Winston-Salem greeted guests and presented them to the receiving line, which included Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks and members of the wedding party, Mrs. G. R. Madison received in the dining room, Mrs. M. H. Murray in the gift room and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Shutt said good-bye to the guests. MRS. JAMES HOUSTON THOMPSON, Jr.

Miss Marion Whirlow Weds J. H. Thompson, Jr.

The marriage of Miss Marion Elizabeth Whirlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junius Zed Whirlow, and James Houston Thompson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson of Mocksville, was an interesting event of Saturday, June 25. The ceremony was held at 5 o'clock at the First Evangelical and Reformed church, and was performed by uncles of the couple, the Rev. Ralph B. Shumaker of Charleston, S. C., and the Rev. Dr. H. C. Sprinkle, of Mocksville.

Mrs. Herbert W. Coble, organist of the First Evangelical and Reformed church at Burlington, played the music, and Miss Mildred Crowder, minister of music at Wesley Memorial Methodist church, High Point, was soloist. Their selections were Traumerai, Concerto in B flat minor, Tschalkowsky; Liebestraum, Clair de Lune, To a Wild Rose and the Wagner and Mendelssohn wedding marches.

Miss Whirlow's father gave her in marriage, and she had as attendants her sister, Mrs. Richard A. Faust of Falls Church, Va., as matron of honor; Mrs. Robert Suber, sister of the bridegroom, of Cary, Miss Peggy Jane White, of Winston-Salem, as bridesmaids; Margaret Suber, Cary, and Patricia Toomey, Salisbury, as junior bridesmaids.

Miss Whirlow was gowned in white duchess satin, featuring a sweetheart neckline and white marquisette yoke outlined with Chantilly. Long sleeves were fitted at the wrists and the skirt had panel lace ruffles which extended the length of the train. Orange held on her fingertip veil. Miss Whirlow held a white prayer book with an orchid on it.

The honor attendant and junior bridesmaids wore dresses of Nile green marquisette over taffeta, with flowers in their hair and held nosegays of yellow roses and carnations. Bridesmaids wore mauve marquisette over taffeta and held yellow carnation nosegays with matching flowers in their hair. All the attendants wore pearls, gifts of the bride.

The bride's mother wore aqua crepe and pink flowered maline hat with an orchid at her shoulder. The bridegroom's mother was gowned in blue and wore an orchid also.

Mr. and Mrs. Whirlow gave a reception on the terraced lawn at their home at 318 Corriher avenue for the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson departed during the evening for a Southern trip of two weeks, after which they will be at home July 10 at Norwood Court apartments, High Point. Mrs. Thompson traveled in a light green summer suit with brown and white accessories, and wore an orchid.

Mrs. Thompson is the youngest daughter of her parents. A native of Salisbury, she was graduated from Boyden High school and Catawba college before going to the University of North Carolina for graduate study. She taught for several years at Burlington school and more recently at High Point.

Mr. Thompson is the only son of his parents. He was graduated from Mocksville High school and Davidson college, where he joined Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. He studied also at the University of North Carolina and is now a certified public accountant at High Point.

Dr. D. E. Earnhardt, pastor of the bride, heard the vows, using the double ring ceremony. Mrs. W. S. Love, organist, rendered the wedding music. Miss Rose Elmer sang "All for You" and "Through the Years." Miss Betty McKenzie sang "Prayer Perfect." The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bridegroom was attended by his father. Know Your Federal Insurance

During the past months there has been much discussion of the present Social Security program over the radio, and many articles have appeared in newspapers and magazines all over the country. The reason is the Social Security Administration, as required by law, has made recommendations for changes in the existing law to the present Congress. In addition to articles on proposed expansion, the newspapers published in the five counties, serviced by the Winston-Salem, N. C., field office of the Social Security Administration, have carried news stories explaining the law in its present form so that the public will have authentic information and can protect their rights. As a result of this widespread publicity, the citizens of the area serviced by the Winston-Salem office have shown increased interest in this subject, according to a statement made today by Mrs. Ruth G. Duffy, manager of the Winston-Salem Office.

The question most frequently asked is, "What recommendations has the Social Security Administration made with respect to extending the coverage of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance?" according to Mrs. Duffy. This is the provision of the Social Security Act administered by the Winston-Salem Office.

Mrs. Duffy explained that the Social Security Administration has recommended change of the law to provide protection for all workers, regardless of occupation. When a farm or domestic worker, or an employee of any non-profit institution or self-employed person reaches age 65 and wishes to retire, he or she is faced with the fact that, under the present law, no Old-Age Insurance benefits can be expected. If one of them should die, there will be no insurance payments from the Government to his survivors.

New Hope Seen In War Against Polio

The conquest of infantile paralysis is now within sight, Alton L. Blakeslee, noted science writer, predicts in a pamphlet published today by the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., of New York.

"No one can predict just when the victory will come, or in what way," he adds, "but medical science is making such progress that there is real cause for optimism." Such striking progress has been made in treatment during the past ten years that only about 15 to 25 per cent of polio victims are now "left more or less severely handicapped . . . Forty to 60 per cent of the children or adults who get the illness in recognizable form will recover completely, or almost completely, without any visible evidence of paralysis."

Although little is known about the way in which polio spreads, the pamphlet carries a number of tips for parents in the event that infantile paralysis breaks out in epidemic form in their neighborhood. Parents are urged to:

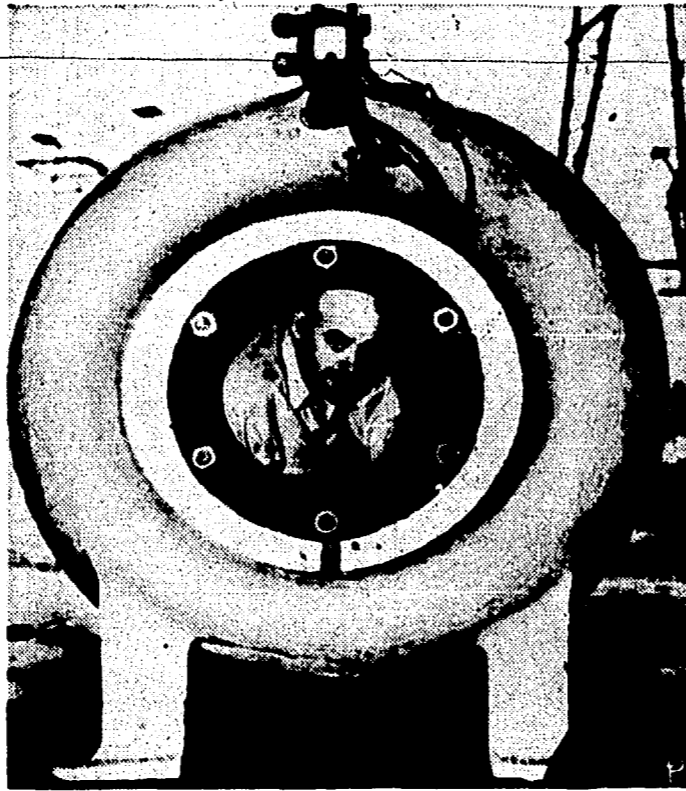

1. Watch for the symptoms that may be weathervanes of polio: a tired feeling, headache, nau-

The Social Security Administration thinks the law should be changed so that everyone who works long enough to justify social insurance payments may claim benefits at the appropriate time.

Another change recommended to the Congress by the Administration is that the present method of computing benefits be changed so that an increase in the amounts now payable can be made, Mrs. Duffy added.

A representative will be in Mocksville again on July 27 at the Courthouse, Second Floor, at 12:30 p.m. and in Cooleemee on the same date at the Erwin Cotton Mills Office at 11:00 a.m.

PREPARING TO SURVEY the ocean floor at a depth of 6,000 feet, famed undersea explorer Otis Barton peers through the port of his "benthoscope" after shallow water tests at Long Beach, Calif. The hollow ball is capable of withstanding terrific pressure.

2. Avoid crowds. There is no way of telling who has the virus, who is becoming sick, or who is a healthy, unaffected carrier.
3. Keep children from becoming overtired or chilled.

4. Do not let children swim in polluted waters. Attacks of polio have followed after such experiences.

5. Keep clean. Make sure that the children wash their hands before eating.
6. Keep garbage covered and screen the house against flies.

coming year and pledged his continued support to the local Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Reid Staton, godfather of the local club, presided over the installation ceremony that saw the following officers installed for the coming year: D. J. Mando, president; J. K. Sheek, Jr., executive vice president; C. G. Tomlinson, vice president in charge of projects; Dexter Byerly, vice president in charge of internal affairs; Bill Daniels, secretary; James F. Stonestreet, treasurer; Edward L. Short, state director. The following directors were installed: C. F. Leach, J. A. Craven, W. A. Murray and Leo Cozart.

Mando, in accepting the post as president, stated that he was nervous for the first time in his life before a group of people after realizing the importance of this position and the responsibility that went with it. He praised the work of Past President Raymond Siler and the retiring officers for their outstanding work and said he hoped, with cooperation, to carry on the fine work.

Graduation services were held for two Jaycees who became the victims of the 36-year-old mark. R. B. Sanford, Jr., and Leon Beck became the charter members of the Mocksville Jaycee "Crackpot" club. The Jaycee trio, composed of Gene Smith, Tiny Young and Worth Hendrix, serenaded the two boys with a rendition of appropriate words set to the music of "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Beck and Sanford were seated in two rocking chairs and the entire membership of the club passed by, shook their hands, and expressed sympathy over their ages. Immediately following this ceremony the crackpots elected officers that resulted in a two-way tie, Sanford and Beck having one vote each. For the next year the Mocksville Crackpots will have co-presidents, unless some other member is added that can break the tie.

FARM QUESTIONS ARE ANSWERED

Question: Is it necessary to fence turkeys in while on range?

Answer: Fencing is advisable for protection, and in some cases, for keeping the birds from roaming. The whole field to be used for the year may be fenced, or a temporary fence may be placed around the small area and this fence moved each week or two when the range shelters are moved. Steel fence posts are the easiest to put down and take up and the best to use for temporary fencing unless wood posts are very cheap. Fencing 32 inches to 48 inches high is satisfactory; in fact, a 3-foot fence will hold well fed turkey flocks just as well as a 10-foot fence. Where birds fly over the fence, it might be well to clip the feathers on one wing.

Question: What causes common scours in dairy calves and how can this be treated?

Answer: Scours is usually caused by improper feeding, such as overfeeding, feeding out of dirty dairy pails or boxes, irregular feeding or feeding milk too rich in fat. It is easier to prevent this trouble than to cure it.

When the first symptoms appear, the calf should be isolated and its milk feed reduced at least one-half. If legume hay is being fed, it should be replaced with grass hay until the trouble disappears. A dose of one to three tablespoonfuls of castor oil, depending upon the age of the calf, mixed with a pint of fresh milk, should be given. This will remove the irritating material from the calf's digestive system. Following the action of the oil, give a tablespoonful of a mixture composed of one part salt and two parts each of subnitrate of bismuth and bicarbonate of soda. If the first dose does not give relief, it can be repeated at intervals of about six hours until the diarrhea is stopped.

More than 274,000 farm families were influenced by some phase of the Extension Service in 1948.

Saturday, July 23, has been set as the date for holding a flue-cured tobacco marketing quota referendum for the 1950 crop, according to D. B. Miller, chairman of the Davie County PMA committee.

Quotas will be in effect only when approved by two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum. When voting the question will be whether or not growers favor quotas for the three-year period—1950, 1951 and 1952; for 1950 only; or, opposed to quotas. The present price support program on tobacco (90 per cent of parity) will not be in effect unless quotas are approved. All present quotas are in the 1949 crop of flue-cured tobacco as owner, share-cropper, or tenant are eligible to vote.

A meeting has been scheduled at 8 p.m. Thursday, July 14, in the courthouse. The purpose of the meeting is to organize these persons interested in tobacco into a group that will take the responsibility for seeing that every farmer eligible to vote in the referendum has knowledge of the voting place, and to see that he casts his ballot on July 23.

CASTING FOR TOMORROW

A father teaches his son the thrill of fishing. And one day this son will teach his own son. Thus the world moves on. And whether it be the thrill of fishing, or the art of noble living, one generation teaches the next.

Many a great lesson of life is learned in such a humble setting as this one. For the foundation of education and growth is the "man to man" fellowship of father and son.

But Dad's free time is limited—these fishing trips are few and far between. Where else can this boy get the help he needs?

School and college will provide many of the resources for a successful career. And the Church School will instill the spiritual understanding from which noble living springs.

Wise is the father who gives the Church opportunity to help mold the life of his son—yes, and his own life as well.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

Social Security Symbolizes Independence

"Independence Day has just been celebrated all over our country. Since the Declaration of Independence was signed back in 1776, we have all cherished that feeling of independence and security." This statement was made today by Mrs. Ruth G. Duffy, manager of the Social Security Administration in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Mrs. Duffy further stated that the men and women who first settled America did not run the same kind of risks as we do today. In colonial times the great mass of people were farmers and owned their own land. In their homes they produced virtually everything they needed. With their own hands they literally made their own living. Food, clothing, shelter, medicines, everything from the baby's cradle to grandfather's pipe was made on the place. They made their own security.

In case the father of the family died, the family was not left destitute for he was not always the only breadwinner. In those days everybody but the baby was a breadwinner. Thus the father's death did not always mean economic disaster. Nor was old age the risk to security that it is today. On the farm the old folks generally continued to earn their living until they died.

Today our way of life has changed. Since the industrial revolution, since the time, that is, when the machines began to beckon, men, women, boys and girls left farms and little shops and streamed into mills and factories. Farming is no longer the basic pattern of American life. The only security most of us know today is in our job for no longer can it be said of us that we make our living. We have become a nation of wage earners. We earn money and exchange it for a living.

The Social Security Act of 1935 grew out of these changes in American life. It brought together our past experience in meeting insecurity. It is a foundation on which all of us, working together, have begun to build security against risks which very few of us can meet alone. The Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act provide that needed feeling of independence and security. Old-Age Insurance benefits are available for 65 year olds who have to retire from covered employment, and the Survivors Insurance benefits are available for a family in case of the wage earner's death.

The Winston-Salem Office of the Social Security Administration is located at 437 Nissen Bldg. Office hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

A representative is in Mocksville again on July 27 at the Courthouse, Second Floor, at 12:30 p.m., and in Cooleemee on the same date at the Erwin Cotton Mills Office at 11:00 a.m.

Fatalities Take Downward Turn

Raleigh—For the first time since January, fatalities on highways of North Carolina took a downward turn during May, the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles reported today.

A total of 48 persons were killed during the month as compared with 62 persons killed during May of 1948, representing a 23 per cent decrease.

The department attributed the decrease to less traffic on the highways because of seasonal occupations.

May's figure brought to 303 the persons killed during the first five months of the year.

The annual round of visits to North Carolina tobacco experiment stations and farms got underway last week, according to R. R. Bennett, tobacco specialist for the State College extension service.

Field days were held Thursday at the Lower Coastal Plain farm near Greenville, and Friday at the Upper Coastal Plain Branch Experiment Station, near Rocky Mount. A similar event was scheduled for Monday, June 27, at the Soil Conservation farm and at McCullers Experiment station, both near Raleigh.

The following dates have been set aside for visits to the Oxford Branch station: June 28, 29 and 30 and July 1, 5, 6, 7 and 8. July 18 will be open house at the Piedmont Tobacco Research farm near Rural Hall. Bennett says the events are scheduled to give all interested persons a chance to learn of research work in progress. Here are some of the special lines of investigation being pursued at each location: At Whiteville, fertilizer placement, breeding for Granville and Fusarium wilt resistance and sucker control; Greenville, Granville wilt resistance, black shank resistance, and curing work; Rocky Mount, fertilizer tests for seven different elements, wireworm control and source of nitrogen tests; McCullers, root knot control, crop rotation and insect control.

HIGHLIGHTS OF NORTH CAROLINA PRESS MEETING

The 77th annual convention of the North Carolina Press Association was held last week at the beautiful Carolinian Hotel at Nags Head, North Carolina. Most of the NCPA membership of 140 daily and weekly newspapers were represented for the three-day session.

Frank A. Daniels, president of the NCPA, presided over the opening session and delivered the annual presidential address in which he warned the publishers to look into their operating costs as they may be operating on a "boom basis." He also urged the publishers to "look out for your obligations of freedom of the press" by giving the people the necessary information to properly govern themselves. Frank Daniels is the youngest son of the late Joesphus Daniels, and is the present general manager of the Raleigh News and Observer.

Thomas L. Stokes, national columnist and Washington correspondent, delivered the principal address at the dinner meeting on Thursday night. Stokes related the difficulties many governors, elected on State platforms similar to President Truman's national program, are having with their legislatures in attempting to put across those programs. He warned states that they had better exercise the rights they now have if they are going to talk about states' rights. "Unless the States fix their own houses," he predicted, "they will lose the rights they have at the present time. Many things are done in Washington today because the States can't get them done." Stokes suggested better pay for the State legislators might result in better men seeking office and bring about an improvement in State government. He also discussed the effectiveness of lobbyists on State Legislatures and suggested state lobby legislation might be valuable. Mr. Stokes had recently attended the governors' conference in Colorado and also visited a number of State capitals.

Leslie Thompson, publisher of the Whiteville News-Reporter, presided over a group meeting for weekly publishers held Friday morning. O. L. Moore, veteran publisher of the Laurinburg Exchange, made the principal address, declaring that newspaper publishers should consider their papers a public institution and should make their primary purpose that of rendering service to the community. Moore added that "we should talk more about the integrity of the press rather than freedom of the press."

Both the daily and weekly groups endorsed a proposal by the North Carolina Press Photographers Association for the establishment of a short course in press photography at the University of North Carolina.

A proposal to improve editorial writing was endorsed by the weeklies. The program sponsored by the University of Missouri School of Journalism was presented by H. D. Cullen, of the Bertie Ledger-Advance of Windsor.

Friday afternoon a guided tour of the historic points of interest was conducted. Interesting points visited included: Kill Devil Hill and the Wright Brothers' Monument, scene of the first airplane flight. Fort Raleigh, scene of the first English settlement in North America, and Mother Vineyard, a large scuppernon gape vineyard, said to have been planted by Armadas and Barlow during one of their early visits.

Friday night the newspaper representatives were special guests at the dress rehearsal performance of Paul Green's "Lost Colony."

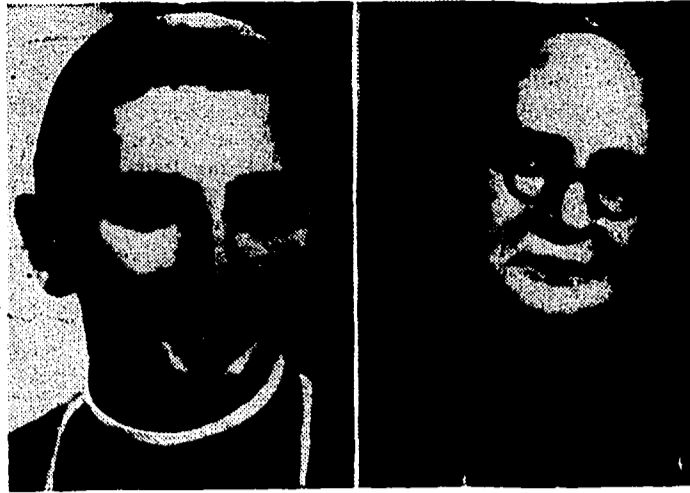

At the breakfast meeting on Saturday morning, Inglis Fletcher of Edenton, perhaps the most distinguished resident of Albemarle and one of America's most famous authors, made the principal address. Mrs. Fletcher told of her love and interest in the Albemarle section of North Carolina, and of many incidents experienced by her in gathering materials for her famous novels. Several of Mrs. Fletcher's historical novels included the well known "Raleigh's Eden," "Men of Albemarle," "Lusty Wind for Caroline" and "Toil of the Brave," have ranked as best sellers.

A brief memorial period honoring deceased members was held prior to breakfast adjournment with memorials presented for inclusion in the proceedings.

The memorial to the late O. C. McQuage was presented by E. A. Resch of Siler City.

At the concluding business session Saturday morning, the NCPA moved to activate its journalism foundation and set a fund raising goal at $100,000. The money will be used to further journalism education in the State. Only earnings from the money will be used by trustees of the fund. Election of officers for the coming year concluded

HOLIDAY WEEK END TOOK MANY LIVES

Monday, July 4, Americans celebrated the 173rd anniversary of independence.

The fact that the holiday came at the end of a week end period made it all the more dangerous from the standpoint of accident hazards.

Millions of Americans during the week end took motor trips, and hundreds of them never returned to their homes alive.

If all drivers during the coming week end would contemplate the dangers involved, the accident toll could be held to a minimum. Every driver should resolve to drive more cautiously than ever before, because of the increased hazards, and should make certain as far as humanly possible that he will not cause an accident.

Because of the heavy traffic, drivers should lower their speed and drive as if every other driver on the road were crazy.

There can be no excuse for driving while drinking. About half the holiday accident toll was caused, as usual, by drivers under the influence of intoxicants. If you are going to drink, even lightly, stay out from under a steering wheel and make sure that the person driving the vehicle in which you are riding has not been drinking.

Each year there are warnings for a "Safe and Sane Fourth," and each year the accident toll goes up needlessly. Use of more common sense and caution will eliminate the unnecessary slaughter on the highways.

HIGHER ADVERTISING PERCENTAGES SUGGESTED TO OFFSET BUSINESS DROP

Merchants Shouldn't Expect Easy Times Of '46, Speaker Says

Business men, accustomed to easy wartime sales, are shedding crocodile tears for a new kind of "good old days" when war and postwar competition did not exist according to a statement by Howard P. Abrahams, manager of the sales Promotion Division of the National Dry Goods Association.

In a speech before the Syracuse Advertising Club, Mr. Abrahams asserted that merchants are allowing store and industry controllers to booby trap them into thinking they can obtain 1949's buyers' market sales volume with 1946's sellers' market advertising percentage expenditures.

He attacked the gloomy crystal bowl guessers and the Calamity Jane business men, who, having become accustomed to easy wartime sales, find the going tough and refuses to believe that a serious business slump can be averted.

"I feel," said Mr. Abrahams, "that an immediate 10 per cent increase over current advertising appropriations is needed to meet today's business conditions and maintain current volume levels."

Admitting that retail sales, which skyrocketed during the war years, are in a "visible leveling off period," Mr. Abrahams submitted figures which set the total retail sales volumes at 130 billion dollars for 1948. "Yet," continued Mr. Abrahams, "today's plateau is only 3 per cent under the amazing all-time high retail sales volume performance." The problem of the business man, according to Mr. Abrahams, is the problem of harder selling in a highly competitive typical American market.

These conditions can be met, Mr. Abrahams continued, if retailers and manufacturers realize that they cannot coast along on the skimpy war and post war advertising appropriations. He cited for an example stores in the two to five million dollar sales volume class. In 1943, these stores spent 3.45 per cent of their sales. In 1946, 4.01 per cent and in 1947, 4.19 per cent. According to available figures, stores spending $200,500 in 1946 for promotional expense, used in 1939, $255,000, or actually, 20 per cent more. And said Mr. Abraham, these stores were glad to spend that amount in order to secure their five million dollar volume.

Since a buyers market exists new, a condition similar to that of 1939, advertising budgets should be set up using that year as a basis for planning. And stores in the two to five million dollar bracket, Mr. Abraham continued, required over twenty-five per cent more advertising expenditure in pre-war 1939 than post-war 1946.

Mr. Abrahams said that more and more alert stores are orienting their plans to meet this new, highly competitive market. Some are increasing their advertising appropriations more than the suggested ten per cent and all are putting more emphasis on making their advertising dollar, promotion planning and store merchandising produce volume.

The vegetable garden should be given a definite and prominent place in the farm enterprise, as it serves the double purpose of providing a health insurance policy and a savings account for the farm family.

L AND M DRIVERS MAY NOW OBTAIN THEIR LICENSES

Men and women, both young and old, and boys and girls over sixteen, whose surnames begin with the letters L or M can learn a very valuable lesson from some of their fellow citizens whose names begin with H, I, J, or K, for many of them stood in line for several hours in recent weeks in order to secure licenses to drive motor vehicles.

The L and M drivers can begin to get their licenses now, for the examination period begins July 1 and runs through December 31. The H, I, J, and K period began the first day of January of this year and ended Thursday night, June 30.

During the early part of the year the examiners were not busy, and appeals seemed to make no difference to those who felt that they had plenty of time. But time slipped up on many of them, and many hot, unpleasant hours were spent before their turn came in these last days.

L and M drivers are being urged to start at once, and not wait until the Christmas holidays to stand the examinations.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON TOBACCO REFERENDUM JULY 23

Q. What is the authority for the flue-cured tobacco referendum?

A. The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, requires the secretary of agriculture to proclaim marketing quotas on flue-cured tobacco for the marketing year beginning July 1, 1950, if he finds that the total supply of flue-cured tobacco as of July 1, 1949, exceeds the reserve supply level as defined in the act. The law provides that the quotas will be in effect only if approved by growers. A referendum in which growers of flue-cured tobacco will vote will be held Saturday, July 23.

Q. Who is eligible to vote in the referendum?

A. Any person who has an interest in the 1949 crop of flue-cured tobacco as owner, tenant or share cropper, is eligible to vote in this referendum.

Q. May a person who has more than one farm producing flue-cured tobacco vote for each farm?

A. No. No producer, whether as individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other legal title, will be entitled to more than one vote.

Q. How many voters must approve quotas to make them effective?

A. At least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum must favor quotas before they can be in effect.

Q. What growers are eligible to vote in the referendum?

A. County Agricultural Conservation committees now are compiling lists intended to include all persons who grow flue-cured tobacco. However, a person may cast a ballot whether or not he is on the list of eligible voters. Ballots of unregistered voters may be challenged, but will be counted if it is determined the voter is eligible to vote.

Q. What will happen if quotas are voted into effect by growers?

A. If two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum approve quotas, then quotas will be in effect on all flue-cured tobacco grown in the United States during the quota period (three years or one year, as the case may be).

Q. If quotas are voted into ef-

C. S. BOGER DIES NEAR MOCKSVILLE

Charlie S. Boger, 68, died at his home, Mocksville, Route 2, at 3:30 a.m. Tuesday.

He was a son of Dewitt and Sallie Bowles Boger and a lifetime resident of Davie County.

Surviving are the wife, Mrs. Amanda Miller Boger; three sons, John H. Boger of Mocksville, Route 3, Clarence Boger of China Grove and Grady Boger of Mocksville, Route 3; three daughters, Mrs. Roy White of Mocksville, Route 3, and Miss Lois Boger of the home; two grandchildren; one brother, N. A. Boger of Mocksville, Route 2, and three sisters, Mrs. Dave Jordan of Mocksville, Route 2, Mrs. Frank Latham of Cana, Route 2, and Mrs. Marion Taylor of Rowan.

Funeral services were held at Bethel Methodist Church near Mocksville at 11 a.m. Thursday. Rev. Foster Loflin, Rev. Wade Hutchens and Rev. J. B. Fitzgerald officiated. Burial was in the church cemetery.

fact, what is the acreage allotment likely to be for the individual farm?

A. The allotment for any farm in 1950 will be about the same as the 1949 allotment, provided the acreage grown on the farm in at least one of the past three years was as much as 75 per cent of the allotment.

Q. Can 1950 allotments established under the quota program be increased?

A. Yes, if the secretary of agriculture finds that an increase is needed to meet market demands.

Q. How will the quota affect tobacco loans?

A. If quotas are approved, price support loans will be available on the 1950 crop at 90 percent of the parity price as of July 1, 1950. Loans at 90 percent of parity will be available on the 1949 crop regardless of whether quotas are approved for 1950 or for three years beginning in 1950. Loans afford a real protection to growers against drastic price declines. The loan program affords growers the opportunity of obtaining loans based on grades. If all the tobacco of any single crop under the loan is sold above the loan and expenses, the farmer participates in any net gains which may be realized. Loans furnish a protection that eliminates some of the risks from tobacco growing.

Q. If quotas are disapproved will they affect the payment of penalties on overplanted acreage in 1949?

A. No. Penalty payments for excess flue-cured tobacco in 1949 will have to be paid whether quotas are approved or disapproved in this referendum.

GLAD TO SEE YOU!

... But you don't need your bucket. You can't carry electricity home in a bucket, of course. Better still, you don't need to—for 45 years the Duke Power Company has been planning ahead, estimating your needs, and building facilities to meet them.

Lately, keeping ahead of your needs has been some job! Because—

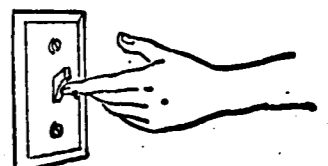

Our customers in the growing Piedmont Carolinas are increasing in number faster than ever before.

You are requiring on an average more than twice as much electricity as you used just ten years ago.

Important units in our expansion program . . . begun while materials were still extremely scarce . . . are already in "on the line," and work is going ahead steadily on other large steam generating units.

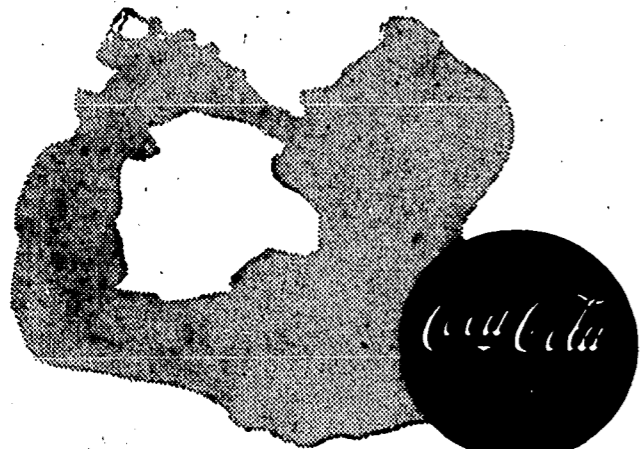

So, Little Girl, or Businessman, Factory Man, or Farmer, we are backing up our words with action when we say—

MORE ABOUT Librarian's Report

When it is remembered that the figures for "books loaned" mean that many books loaned to persons from library or bookmobile, and cannot mean "books read," every one must know that the actual figures are just an approximation of the reading being done in this county. Your librarian and bookmobile driver hear every day, "every member of my family has read that book, we want more like it." It is time for the compiling of annual figures, and the next news from the library will have more figures to gladden the hearts of the sponsors.

Reading is some what of a seasonal thing, which is very evident by the choice of books. For instance, just now baseball stories, recreational books and travel books are away out in front and your library has many of this type to offer.

Books can help you travel, see and understand a game, enjoy sports actually or from a comfortable chair on a cool porch. If you like to read about places near home, Blue Ridge Country by Jean Thomas is a dandy to begin with, also Jack Tales and Grandfather Tales by Richard Chase. In all three of these books the legends, religious customs, feuds, traditions and superstitions are dealt with.

Among the library's newest books are: The Fortunate Islands, by Walter Karig. This book is about the Micronesian, the Solomon Islands, the islands in the Pacific which are the United States trust territory. The author tells in a humorous, chatty, sincere way of the people, customs, economics, pleasures and tragedies. Also, in no uncertain terms, he places our responsibility to them squarely on our shoulders. It is profusely illustrated.

But if that region is too hot for you, physically or emotionally, you are invited to Alaska through the eyes of a government school teacher in her book, "Arctic Mold." Eva Alvey Richards tells of her multiple duties and joys in the village of Wainwright and in such a stimulating way that it does read like a novel—if that is a selling point. "Walking on a whale was like walking on a wet rubber mattress with very pliant springs."

And then, of course, there is the "Look at America" series. One of our subscribers came in and borrowed one, later she came in and at the desk with several more under her arm, she said, "I don't want to be selfish and take all of them, but my husband and I enjoyed the other one so much he told me to bring a lot back."

Ask your librarian to suggest other books, if these do not appeal to you, or if you have read them. Tell her what you would like to have; this is your library and its aim is to help you enjoy good reading.

Bill Collette, Jr., has given to the library, "God Is My Pilot: Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo."

had given it in preparation for accepting the presidency, it would certainly be a great club. He pointed out that he saw room for enlarging the club and making it even greater than it is today. He praised the local club for what it has accomplished in the past and what it plans for the future. Visitors for the program included: Lonnie Lanier of Birmingham, Ala., and Jack Yarbough, of Wilmington.

LINKS JINKS

A jewelry maker has come up with an idea which should prove a good fun-provoker as well as a versatile dress accessory. He has just introduced cuff links, tie clasps and shirt studs with stones that change color at the flick of a finger. Besides looking smart in them, a capricious wearer could send many a tippler to the water wagon or eye doctor by changing their colors between drinks. With other men's fashion novelties, they're reviewed in the Dress Rehearsal columns of Cosmopolitan magazine.

A. C. CHAFFIN DIES AT 69

Abner Columbus Chaffin, 69, widely known member of a pioneer Davie county family, died at 12:15 p.m. Monday, two hours after being admitted to Davis hospital in Statesville. Mr. Chaffin had suffered at heart attack Sunday afternoon. He had been in ill health for some time as the result of a previous attack.

A native of Davie county, he was born on January 17, 1880, a son of James L. and Corina Richardson Chaffin.

He attended Wake Forest college and for more than 20 years taught in the Davie county schools and in eastern North Carolina. While teaching in eastern North Carolina, he acted as pastor of several Baptist churches in the area.

He retired from active teaching and the ministry 15 years ago and engaged in farming in the Ijames Crossroads community of his native Davie. Ill health forced his retirement from active farming about one year ago.

On August 15, 1906, he married Miss Annie Shaw of Davie county, who survives.

Other survivors include three daughters, Mrs. J. S. Holland and Mrs. W. B. Collins, both of Charlotte, and Mrs. F. Sherman of Winston-Salem; one brother, Jno. A. Chaffin of Union Grove, and eight grandchildren.

Tobacco Referendum Set For July 23

Marketing quotas furnish growers with a method of adjusting supply to demand and help obtain fair prices for them for the tobacco they produce.

The act of Congress under which the referendum is being held Saturday, July 23, also provides for price support loans at 90 percent of parity on flue-cured tobacco, provided growers do not disapprove quotas, Mr. Miller explained. Regardless of the outcome of the referendum, price support loans at 90 percent of parity will be available on the 1949 crop of flue-cured tobacco as a protection to growers.

Highway Center Stripe Checks Head-On Wrecks

Head-on collisions, the deadliest and most gruesome of all traffic accidents are averted many times a day by a simple line of paint on a highway pavement, Charles M. Upham, engineer-director of the American Road Builders' Association pointed out today, in discussing safety measures in connection with the opening of the 1949 touring season. He stressed the psychological effect of the center strip in saving thousands of lives by keeping motorists in their proper lane.

BUILDING PERMIT

A building permit was issued to Robert W. Lyerly, for a dwelling estimated to cost $3,000, located on South Main street.

Record Year In Both Revenue and Disbursements

The town of Mocksville closed out the 1948-1949 fiscal year in the best financial status in many years, according to the report of the town clerk and treasurer, S. M. Call, made the last week to the town commissioners. Receipts for the fiscal year reached a new high of $59,150.93. Disbursements for the year totaled $61,035.34, which includes $9,015.51 payment of the debt incurred in the extension of the ten-inch water main from North Main street to the Heritage Furniture company. Had it not been the desire of the retiring board of commissioners to discharge this debt during their term of office, the town would have shown considerable surplus for the year. This debt for the extension of the water main was not due until 1950. The $2,623.88 spent on the streets of Mocksville exceeded the amount spent in almost any two years of previous history. The bulk of this expense was the rock and gravel placed on streets. Two new stop lights and a caution light were installed during the past year, adding around $800 to the expense of the street light department.

Bank balance in the Bank of Davie as of July 1, 1949, was $3,500.85, as compared with the balance at the start of the year July 1, 1948, of $5,385.26.

Total receipts for the town of Mocksville revealed in Mr. Call's report to the town commissioners were $59,150.93, which were broken down as follows: Sale of water: $14,118.78; collection of taxes, $34,124.27; sale of automobile license plates, $439; privilege taxes, $2,000.70; discount and penalties, $40.48; parking meters, $4,759.82; intangible tax, $1,944.61; wine and beer taxes, $1,414.77; sale of cemetery lots, $60; fines, parking meters, $49.35; miscellaneous revenue, $199.25.

Total disbursements for the year 1948-49 totaled $61,035.34, which were broken down as follows: mayor's salary, $400; clerk and treasurer's salary, $900; tax collector's salary, $1,750; water and street superintendent, $2,875; water plant operator's salary, $2,275; salary of two policemen, $3,815; wages of other employees (four), $4,723; maintenance of water department, $4,567.88; maintenance of fire department, including $300 for fire chief, $1,130.81; repair trucks (2), $130.02; gas and oil, $784.38; attorney fees, $255; auditing, $200; advertising and printing, $251.96; listing taxes, $250; office rent, $169; office expense, $22.44; street lights, $2,629.98; water power, $1,335.22; bonds paid current year, $7,000; interest on bonds, $7,065.26; commissioners' fees, $300; fire insurance and surety bonds, $718.92; contribution to public library, $600; provision for sinking fund, $1,500; N. C. State water tax, $64; extensions of water mains, $9,015.51; police department, $121.22; dues N. C. League of Municipalities, $32.57; support of National Guard, $300; payment on

THE ANNUAL BUDGETS

About this time each year tentative budgets for both the county and town are filed for public inspection prior to adoption. This is required under North Carolina statutes, G. S. 153-119, which also requires that publication in a local newspaper prior to official adoption. This is done so as to give the people an opportunity to see how their tax money is to be spent the coming year, and give them an opportunity to have a voice in it if they so desire. Too often this opportunity is overlooked by the people, whether it be from a lack of interest, or the ignorance of this privilege, it is not definite. However, the business carried on by either a municipality or a county is big, and is one of which each taxpayer is a stockholder. For this reason they should be interested in seeing why they are paying a certain amount of money for taxes, and just where this money is going. Also they should be interested in seeing the other sources of revenue that the county or towns have, sources which if abolished must be transferred elsewhere. The importance of these things was realized when the steps for formulating and adopting a budget were outlined. They weren't effected without a reason.

In a few weeks perhaps some announcement will be made concerning the proposed budgets for the coming year. This paper will do its part towards passing along this information as soon as it is turned over to us by the proper authorities. We believe that an informed public is always more cooperative and understanding than an uninformed one.

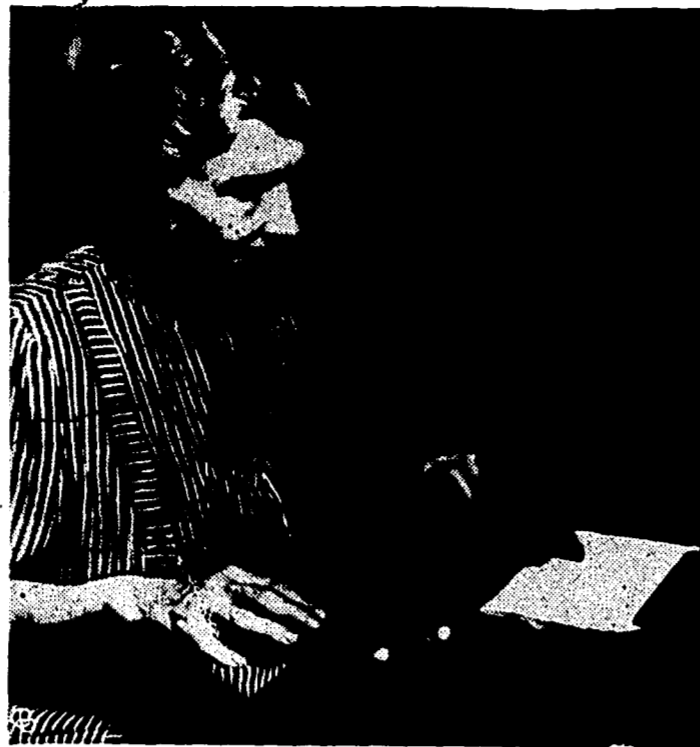

UNION MAN LEADS IN WHEAT CONTEST

A Union County farmer, Cam T. Cook, of Route 5, Monroe, currently is leading in a contest to determine the 1949 wheat-growing champion of North Carolina, according to Dr. E. R. Collins, in charge of the agronomy extension at State College. Cook produced 128.5 bushels of the new Atlas wheat on four acres of land, his average yield being 34.1 bushels per acre or approximately double the State average.

Any farmer in the State is eligible to enter the contest, Dr. Collins said. Growers should ask county agents to have their yields checked, so that all records may be completed and forwarded to

State College by July 15. Although no prize has been set up for the State champion, township winners in each county will be given first chance to buy six bushels of Atlas 50 or Atlas 60 wheat recently released by the Agricultural Experiment Station. Cook obtained Atlas seed for his crop from the North Carolina Crop Improvement Association and sowed it October 15. The wheat followed cotton which had been heavily fertilized and which had been preceded by a heavy crop of crimson clover turned under. Truman Asks States To Adopt Stricter Driving Regulations

President Truman said the systems for examining auto drivers in many parts of the country are "scandalous."

Deploing the "frightful slaughter" on the nation's streets and highways, he said that driver licensing laws in "too many cases are pitifully weak." "States and local governments," he declared, "have a duty to deny the privilege of using public highways to the irresponsible, the unfit, and the chronic lawbreakers."

Mr. Truman spoke to the President's Conference on Highway Safety, which he set up three years ago to make highways safer. Mr. Truman said safety programs in the last year saved almost 11,000 lives and prevented injury to nearly 400,000 persons.

But, he added, the "frightful slaughter" continued with 32,000 killed and more than 1,000,000 injured in traffic accidents in 1948. "To put it another way, he said, "more than twice as many Americans were killed last year on the streets and highways of this country as were killed in all the American forces during six weeks of the Normandy campaign in 1944. No nation can afford this needless peacetime waste of the lives of its citizens in traffic accidents."

He asked that the highway safety program be expanded and intensified.

He told the conference that he was "particularly disappointed at the failure of many states to establish driver licensing systems worthy of the name."

Calling for the improvement, he said the people are "ready at all times to support and cooperate with sensible regulations, capably administered, which are essential to the protection of life and property."

Among the "gratifying" gains in safety, he listed the growth in the number of high schools offering driver training courses.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I am going to vote against the sale of wine and beer in Davie county on September 3 for the following reasons:

1. Davie county has the finest young people that can be found anywhere. We do not want these young people ever to be beer drinkers.

2. Beer and wine help break up homes and destroy the character of those who drink it.

3. No good parent would advocate beer and wine for family use. It is a roadside drink for the wild and reckless. The advertisers of beer and wine never show or tell the truth of its consequences. They never picture the results of their drink. They advertise its appeal and not its consequences.

4. Beer and wine cause wrecks on our highways and endanger the lives of innocent people. Over 4,000 have been injured in North Carolina during this year. Over 300 deaths have occurred on the highways of our State. A few bottles of beer make a reckless driver and a danger to public safety.

5. To make the sale of wine and beer illegal is to educate the truth of its immoral qualities.

6. The good people in this county will join the voters in over 20 counties that have voted beer and wine out within the past 12 months in North Carolina.

7. The Legislature has not given the people a chance to vote on this issue on a State-wide ballot. The beer and wine dealers know they would lose the election.

8. It is just as much an evil for the county and State to be in the business by issuing licenses, as it is for bootleggers to sell it. Both systems are wrong—one is as evil as the other.

9. Beer and wine dealers are in the business purely for the profit made on sales of their product. They sell it at the expense of the weakness of human nature. They help to make habitual drinkers and drunkards out of thousands and thousands of men and women across the nation.

Habitual drinkers sooner or later lose their jobs and end up at the expense of the taxpayers. 10. Millions and millions of dollars are being wasted for beer and wine in our nation at the expense of milk, food and other necessary things of life.

12. It is better to lose taxes than it is to lose young people. ROBERT M. HARDEE

QUARTERLY SOCIAL SECURITY TAX RETURN NOW DUE

Employers of the North Carolina Internal Revenue collection district have now received Form SS-1a for the quarter ended June 30, 1949. In accordance with applicable laws and to avoid penalties, this return must be filed with the collector of internal revenue, Greensboro, N. C., on or before July 31, 1949. C. H. Robertson, the collector, stated further that these returns must be filed by all employers of one or more persons in such businesses as factories, mills, mines, shops, stores and offices as well as many other type of industrial and commercial establishments.

Mr. Robertson and Mrs. Ruth G. Duffy, manager of the Winston-Salem Social Security Administration field office, emphasized the necessity that the reports be both accurate and complete. Wages reported for each employee are credited by the Social Security administration to his individual wage account which has been set up under his name and account number as they appear on his Social Security Account Number Card. To insure, therefore, that each employee's wages can be properly posted, the employer must report his wages with his name and account number exactly as they appear on his account number card.

When an employer does not report an employee's name and account number correctly, it causes both the employer and the government unnecessary trouble and expense in correcting the mistake. Benefits to a wage earner or to his survivors are based directly on the wages posted to his account, and consequently any instances of final inability to post his wages because of incorrect reporting may reduce the amount of the benefits and in some cases even prevent the payment of any benefits.

Information and assistance in filing the returns are available from local Deputy Collectors who may be contacted through your local post offices. Assistance in matters pertaining to Social Security Account Numbers and claims will be furnished through any field office of the Social Security Administration. The address of your nearest Social Security field office is 437 Nissen Building, Winston-Salem. Office hours are from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Friday. A representative of that office is in Yadkinville again on July 21 at the post office at 3 p. m., and in Elkin on the same date at the city hall, second floor, at 12:30 p. m. The Beautiful Chrysler | Silver Anniversary Model

Beauty In Appearance! Every clean, lovely line has purpose and meaning. Beauty that is useful is the Chrysler idea. Behind each detail of Chrysler design there's a story of common sense and imagination in engineering.

Beauty In Comfort! A chair at home is beautiful if fine design gives it grace and comfort. Chrysler chair-height seats have this kind of beauty, too. Perfectly proportioned for comfort, they seat you at the proper height to see the road and to enjoy your drive. Comfort that has beauty through fine design—that's the secret of Chrysler engineering and the relaxing pleasure of driving a Chrysler.

Beauty In Performance! You know what we mean the moment you feel the smooth response of the great Spitfire High Compression engine. With Prestomatic Fluid Drive Transmission, driving is wonderfully easy. Start in third, a slight lift of your toe takes you into cruising range. You rarely touch the gear shift lever. PAUL GREEN'S SYMPHONIC DRAMA, "LOST COLONY," SHOWING Manteo—These are scenes from The Lost Colony, Paul Green's internationally famous symphonic drama, built up around the greatest mystery of all history. The ninth season opening of the show, which had its premiere in 1937, was held on Saturday night, July 2, in the Waterside theatre at Fort Raleigh near Manteo on Roanoke Island. There are shows nightly, five days each week, Wednesday through Sunday. There will be no performances on Monday and Tuesday of each week. There have been a few changes made in the script. A new scene has been added in Act II, one which shows relatives of the colonists, praying for their safety on the high sea which they are sailing across to establish a settlement in the New World. A dramatic innovation this year will be the Lost Colony chorus, under the direction of Theos Cronk, leaving the choir stall to become singing actors on the stage in certain scenes. Some of the familiar scenes of the famous production are shown here.

At top the picture shows the gala and colorful English court scene where Queen Elizabeth is hostess to her subjects, some of whom are bringing news of Roanoke Island in a land which she names Virginia, in honor of herself, the virgin queen. At right is beautiful Barbara Edwards, first North Carolina native to play the female lead of Eleanor Dare. Up-powoc, the Indian medicine man, is shown in one of his sensational dances at left.

MAN BITES GISMO

Devices have been developed for measuring the maximum tolerable biting force and also the movability of individual teeth—and this has nothing to do with wrestlers or prize fighters. According to the "What's New in Medicine" column of Cosmopolitan magazine, the machines use electronic records for measuring the factors. These records will determine the extent to which orthodontia may be used for straightening or moving teeth.

NOTICE TO ALL DOG OWNERS
LAST CHANCE

I have tried hard to give everyone plenty of time and chance to have their dogs vaccinated. Some of you pay no attention, and to you I am warning unless you bring your dogs and have them vaccinated we will have to serve papers and you face the judge. Take your choice. I have several names and this law will absolutely be enforced, so don't blame me as you have had plenty time and chance.

I thank all you good people for your cooperation. Davie County has a record—please help me keep this record—not one mad dog in several years. The law only requires me to make one round. I have done that. Now then we are serving papers, maybe you next. I am warning you.

State College Answers
Timely Farm Questions

Question: Please give me some information on planting Christmas trees as a cash crop in Duplin County.

Answer: You are being mailed a copy of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Bulletin No. 1664, "Christmas Trees as a Cash Crop for the Farm." However, none of the species mentioned in this bulletin, except red cedar, are suitable for planting in your section of the State. Spruces and firs would not do well and probably would not survive for more than two or three growing seasons. Red cedar is the best species for you to grow, and seedlings of this species may be obtained at a very reasonable price from the State nurseries.

Arrange to plant the seedlings during January or February. Prepare the area to be planted just as if you were getting ready to plant an annual crop. Plant the trees in rows seven feet wide and space the trees at six-foot intervals within the row. With this spacing, 1,000 trees will plant an acre.

The seedlings should be cultivated, and this can be done by planting a row of soybeans between the rows of trees and then fertilizing the soybeans. Do NOT fertilize the trees. Cultivation may be discontinued after the second or third growing season.

Question: Last year we lost most of our Irish potato crop because of little worms which went through the potatoes after they were dug. We hate to dig again this year not knowing any way to prevent this.

Answer: The little worms probably are potato tuberworms. The adults lay their eggs usually on the exposed tubers either prior to or during harvest, when the potatoes are left exposed overnight. During growth, the potaatoes should be kept well cultivated and deeply hilled so that no potatoes are exposed for the adults to attack. At harvest time, to prevent the caterpillar from migrating from the wilting vines to the tubers, infested vines should be cut or burned or removed from the field a few days before digging. The vines should NEVER be piled over dug potatoes.

The potatoes should never be left exposed to the egg-laying moths during late afternoon or overnight, as this is the time when the adults are most active. When potatoes are dug, they should be removed from the field immediately to storage. Harvest

Tobacco Growers Invited

Tubers infested in storage may be saved by fumigating with Methyl Bromide. See your county agent for details.

some of ours. Some of the experiments being conducted are: Varieties, disease resistance, fertilizer, spacing, topping and cultivation.

The county agent urges all tobacco growers to go to this field day. You will learn a great deal in a short while.

Those planning to leave from the county agent's office at 1:00 Monday afternoon, states F. E. Peebles, county agent.

Please Read This Ad

We, with the help of those who buy homesites in Arden Village at the crossroads (The upper part of the S. Clay Williams farm), are going to try to make this village attractive and much worthwhile to live in.

THE SALE IS TO BE SATURDAY AFTERNOON, JULY 16, 2:30 P. M.

We invite you to attend this sale. The property will be sold at absolute auction which means the last bid will buy the property offered and it will not be sold subject to confirmation or a raised bid.

This neighborhood is as fine as there is anywhere. About the only thing we know about real estate is that good neighborhoods make real estate values. We will not sell less than 100 foot frontage and the buyer may add as many more lots as he wants to that number. We are not going to build homes in the village ourselves. They will be built by the buyers at whatever time they want to build them.

The restrictions on the property will insure uniform building lines and the minimum cost of the home will be $3500.

This development lies about half way between Mocksville and Winston-Salem, and isn't very far from Farmington and Advance.

Included in these towns and the neighborhood between them and Arden Village, let us repeat again, are as fine and substantial people as can be found anywhere.

A number of the lots have beautiful trees on them and three homes facing on the Mocksville Highway containing about six rooms each will also be sold.

A beautiful seven cubic foot refrigerator and other prizes will be given away.

Sincerely yours,

J. W. Ferrell Co.

State College Hints

To Farm Homemakers

By RUTH CURRENT

State Home Demonstration Agent Dry sunny summer weather is the time many housewives choose for washing blankets and bedspreads. When doing this job, textile specialists suggest care in brushing up the nap or fluffy surface of cotton chenille spreads and wool blankets.

The nap on chenille spreads may be fluffed by shaking them occasionally as they dry on the line and rubbing briskly with the hand or a soft brush. Give them a final rub after they are dry. Never use a stiff brush because it is likely to pull out some of the chenille.

To raise the nap on wool blankets, however, a clean, stiff whisk broom is recommended, but the brushing must be done after the blanket is thoroughly dry. Wool is weak when wet and must be handled carefully. When dry, brushing will not damage the blanket, and fluffing the surface will add much to its warmth.

Chintz curtains can so easily delight the eye for color that no one can resist them. They are washable but don't have to be laundered often as their shiny surface sheds dirt well. But here we emphasize, read your labels, for there is chintz and chintz. The best buy is permanent glaze chintz which has a durable finish unhurt by washing. Never soak this chintz. Wash in lukewarm water and mild soap or detergent. Dry in the shade. Iron on the glazed side while still slightly damp with a moderate iron. There is also chintz that is not permanently glazed. It has a glazed finish when purchased but when washed this glaze disappears. But in time, it does have to be washed despite the loss of glaze, so again do not soak, use lukewarm water for wash and rinse, and mild soap or detergent.

FARMERS HEAR VAN JOHNSON DISCUSS TOBACCO REFERENDUM

Approximately 75 farmers and business men attended the tobacco meeting, which was held in the courthouse July 14.

Van H. Johnson, fieldman, of the Production and Marketing administration, was in charge of the meeting, and discussed the flue-cured tobacco referendum which is to be held Saturday, July 23.

Mr. Johnson explained that the Agricultural Adjustment act of 1938, as amended, requires the secretary of agriculture to proclaim marketing quotas on flue-cured tobacco for the marketing year beginning July, 1950, if he finds that the total supply of tobacco as of July 1, 1949, exceeds the reserve supply level as defined in the act. The law provides that quotas will be in effect only if approved by two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum.

"Farmers can vote for quotas for three years (1950, 1951 and 1952), quotas for one year (1950) only, or against quotas."

"Any person who has an interest in the 1949 crop of flue-cured tobacco..."

Mocksville Plays Here Thurs. & Sat.

The Mocksville baseball entry in the Yadkin Valley league will meet China Grove here Thursday night at 8 o'clock and will play Rockwell here Saturday night.

Last week rain limited the local team to two games. They dropped a close 3 to 1 game to Cooleemee on Tuesday and defeated the fourth place Spencer team 2 to 0 at Spencer on Saturday. Martin pitched one of the best games of the season, limiting Spencer to four hits, striking out 12, and walking only two.

The local club stands in sixth place at the present time, only a few games behind the fifth place Rockwell team, and the fourth place Spencer team.

Veterans' Pensions Are Explained

North Carolina veterans of World War I or II who are unable to follow a gainful occupation because of disability may be entitled to a pension even though the disability is not a result of a military service.

The North Carolina Veterans' commission announced that pension laws for non-service connected disabilities have been liberalized, thus affording older veterans an opportunity to qualify for total disability despite the fact that the specific degree of disability may not be total. Many veterans who have been denied total disability in the past are eligible to apply again.

Single veterans whose income annually is $1,000 or more, or veterans with dependents whose income is over $2,500, cannot qualify.

Veterans whose employment is limited because of a disability should contact the nearest office of the North Carolina Veterans' commission immediately. Service officers are familiar with the requirements to be met and are ready to assist veterans in making proper application.

The commission office serving Davie county is located at 134 South Main street, in Mocksville, and veterans of all wars and their dependents are asked to call on Fred R. Leagans, the Davie county service officer, or his secretary, Mrs. Maxalene Matthews, for any assistance or information. The services are free and the office is open daily from 8 until 5.

Miss Ruth Booe Rotary Honor Guest

Miss Ruth Booe, who is a living example of the motto of Rotary international, "Service Above Self," was the guest of honor at the local club on Tuesday of this week.

Sheek paid tribute to Miss Ruth, telling of her spirit and influence in the early days when the local club was struggling to get organized, and also of what she had meant to the town of Mocksville and the local Rotary club during the past years and termed her the most outstanding Rotary Anne and moved that she be adopted as the sweetheart of the local club.

The Rotary club presented Miss Ruth a gift in recognition of the esteem in which she is held by the members.

Miss Ruth expressed her appreciation for the kindness and consideration shown her by the Rotary club, and stated that this club had done more for Mocksville than any other organization in history.

Mrs. George Rowland, president of the local chapter of the Woman's club was present as a guest.

Bill Harden of Salisbury, district Rotary governor, was also present for the meeting. Other guests included George Martin and Francis Huneycutt, pianist.

Plans Revealed For Davie Road Program

Mark Goforth, highway commissioner for the 8th district, told local Rotarians that his sole ambition as highway commissioner was to establish a reputation as a builder of good roads.

He stated that as commissioner he was charged with the duty and responsibility of serving the people through the building of the best roads possible. That his door was always open to anyone regardless of race, color or creed, rich or poor, that had a request or a problem concerning the roads.

Mr. Goforth stated that he hoped the good road program would get started by early fall.

"To do this, however," stated Mr. Goforth, "will require the change of some of the present policies, and the early sale of $50,000,000 worth of bonds." If the road program cannot be started this fall, Mr. Goforth proposed that it would work to the advantage of all concerned to wait until next spring. "There will be no advantage of tearing up existing roads during the bad weather winter months," said Mr. Goforth.

Mr. Goforth revealed that Davie county now has approximately 70 miles of paved roads, and this should be doubled during the next four year period.

Plans for the building of roads require sticking to the old bed of the road as closely as possible. However, there will be some straightening and widening to do. Mr. Goforth stated that under this program they did not anticipate paying for any right of way that might be required to build the road. This right of way is expected to be donated by the owner free of any claim. If an owner insists on a claim it will delay the construction of that road for some time, if not permanently. Mr. Goforth stated that authority to pay for a right of way would require the approval of every highway commissioner in North Carolina, and this 100% approval would be almost impossible to secure. Mr. Goforth stated: "The road bond money will be used for building roads and not for purchasing rights of way."

Mr. Goforth was accompanied by the division highway engineer, John Walker, who made a few brief remarks concerning the proposed road program. He revealed that the result of a recent survey showed that there were around 16,000 bridges in this state needing repair. Mr. Walker stated that the highway commission had hopes that some of the federal aid money might be used in the improving of these bridges.

In reply to a question proposed by D. J. Mando, Mr. Goforth and Mr. Walker replied that they knew of no existing plans for the widening of the bridges or correcting the wrongly elevated curves on the Mocksville - Winston - Salem highway.

J. H. Eidson had charge of the program and presented Mr. Goforth, who is also a Rotarian at Lenoir.

DAVIE COUNTY SCHOOLS WILL OPEN SEPTEMBER 1

The Davie County Board of Education has set September 1 as opening date for all the schools in the county, according to Superintendent Curtis Price. This is the approximate date schools opened last year. There will be two days for Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays will begin approximately December 21.

Mr. Price states that Davie county gained three white elementary teachers and one colored elementary teacher based on last year's average daily attendance.

This year the agriculture department at Shady Grove will open for the first time since before the war. J. C. Barber of Barber, has been employed as agriculture teacher at Shady Grove, and started his work July 7. Agriculture teachers are paid one-third by the federal government; one-third by the State and one-third by the county.

The county board of education has approved opening the Shady Grove home economics department this year. Mr. Price states that Miss Julia Ann Speas has been elected to fill this position, which runs for nine months. Salary is paid wholly from county funds.

Miss Catherine Dennis informed the Superintendent Monday that Mocksville High school is now being placed on the vocational list for the 1949-1950 term.

The board of education has been conscious of the need for vocational training in the schools and has taken steps to provide vocational departments in each high school.

Mr. Price states that three vocational agriculture departments have been reopened during the past few years and one new home economics department added. It is true that additional expense is incurred by these additions, but at the same time needed services to the children of the county is being provided. Every high school now has the vocational courses added to its course of study. It is a step toward better high schools in Davie county.

AMERICAN LEGION TO ASSIST VETS IN APPLYING FOR INSURANCE DIVIDENDS

The American Legion will assist all North Carolina veterans in applying for their National Service Life Insurance dividends.

This was announced today by R. C. Godwin of New Bern, department commander of the American Legion.

"Our local posts throughout the State will have the necessary applications which veterans will have to make to the VA to get their NSLI dividends," Commander Godwin said. "Every veteran who held his NSLI policy for 90 days or more will have a refund coming to him. The VA expects to pay out approximately $2,800,000,000 in these refunds. Payments per veteran are expected to average about $175 according to the VA. On this basis North Carolina's 400,000 World War II veterans will receive $70,000,000 in cash refunds."

VA has advised that special application forms are now being prepared and should be in the hands of Legion posts sometime in August. Information required for applying for the dividends includes name, address, service number and insurance policy number. Commander Godwin said that applications should be filed as quickly as possible because it will take weeks and months for a veteran to get his refund check.

Responsibility Of Employer For Deducting Tax

What are "wages" as defined by the Social Security act? Every employer should make sure that he knows the answer to this question, for it is his responsibility to deduct from each of his employee's "wages" the employee's share of the Social Security tax, according to Mrs. Ruth G. Duffy, manager of the Winston-Salem field office of the Social Security administration. The employee's share of the Social Security tax at present is 1% and should be deducted from the employee's pay each pay period.

(However, the tax applies only to the first $3,000 in wages paid an employe by each employer during any one calendar year.)

"Social Security "wages" include not only payments in cash, but payments in kind, such as meals, lodging, rent, or other goods or services. It, of course, includes salaries, bonuses, back pay, and pay by the hour, day, or week. It includes payments made to one or more employes, either full time or part time. It includes payments made for casual labor if such labor is in the course of the employer's trade or business. It includes payments made to employes regardless of age—there is no "age limit" for Social Security coverage, except in the case of a child under the age of 21 performing services for his mother or father. Such services are not covered. Another category of family employment which is not covered includes services performed by an individual in the employ of his son, daughter, or spouse.

Mrs. Duffy urged that any employe who has reason to believe that he has not been given proper credit for all of his wages, whether they be wages in cash or in kind, should contact the Winston-Salem Social Security office at 377 Nissen building. Someone there will help him fill in a post card form requesting a statement of wages credited to his account. The Social Security office is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

POLICY ON PUBLIC INFORMATION

Mayor John E. Durham and the new board of aldermen are to be congratulated for their plan to take the public into full partnership in the matter of town business. These officials have announced that their meetings, records and transactions are open for public inspection at any time, and have pledged their cooperation to the endeavor of keeping the people fully informed of the same. An invitation has been issued to this newspaper to have a representative sit in on their meetings and report to the people. We have accepted this invitation and will strive to improve our service to the community by keeping them fully informed of the status quo of the town.

Officials of the town have announced that the budget for the coming year is now in the making, and that upon completion and prior to adoption, the complete budget estimate will be published in the newspaper, and a copy filed for public inspection in the town office. This will enable the citizens of the town to see beforehand how their tax money will be spent. Also it will offer them the chance to make any complaint they might have concerning the provisions of the budget, or lack of such, at a time which will allow consideration. After the budget is adopted and the tax rate set, it is too late for corrected action. However, we believe that the people are not so much concerned with the actual contents of the budget as they are with the willingness of the commissioners to share the information with the people. That is as it should be.

All in all, it would appear that we are entering upon a new era of public enlightenment. It is something that we have been looking forward to for years. The town board can be assured that the people will welcome this new approach—and that their interest in the affairs of government will continue to be manifested—not only in a clearer understanding of the problems the governing body faces, but also in a ready willingness to go along, without complaint, on the manifold services which must be developed as Mocksville continues to grow and prosper.

CITY PLANNING

Some are wondering if perhaps it would not be a good idea for the new town board to look further into the plan of zoning and city planning inaugurated by their predecessors.

No one questions the importance of planning in any sort of venture. As the situation now stands the town of Mocksville is without a zoned section of any sort, save perhaps the section around the square that is zoned business for the matter of fire protection. At the present time the town cannot legally restrain the erection of a building of any description on any site selected by the owner, as long as it conforms to the provisions of the State building code. In other words, a service station, general store, or what have you, can legally be built in the front yard of any residence on North Main, or any other street, if the owner so elects. This does not offer fair protection to the property owners, either business or residential.

Sooner or later this county is going to have to revalue the property at a fair and equal rate for all her people. It would probably work to the advantage of all concerned if the town was zoned into business and residential sections, when this takes place.

Since we have had no zoning laws in the past, this town now has business establishments located in residential sections, and vice versa. These cannot be changed, and it would not be fair to attempt to force this change were a zoning law enacted. Heretofore, a property owner has had the legal right to erect on his land any lawful establishment of his choice. He was in the right then, and he is in the right now when he demands protection of his establishment or business that the town permitted him to build and sanctioned by accepting his taxes or issuing the privilege license to operate.

Mocksville needs to grow according to a definite pattern. It is the duty of the governing officials to see that this pattern is conceived and formulated into a working code. Each week new establishments are being erected in this growing town. Each erection increases the need for city planning.

Mr. Mayor and Aldermen, we believe that you would not go wrong if you took as one of your first official steps this project of planning for the orderly growth of the Town of Mocksville.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I was asked to make a statement, giving reasons why I am against beverage alcohol. There are many reasons, but I venture three:

I am against legalized beverage alcohol because it is morally wrong for our government to be in this kind of business. It is ethically wrong for our government to make liquor, give it the protection of our laws, put in places of respectability on our street corners, and entice our citizens to drink. "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that putteth thy bottle to him, and maketh him drunken also that thou mayest look on their nakedness." Hab. 2:15. Our national government should outlaw the liquor business, and prosecute the violators thereof.

I am against legalized beverage alcohol because it is economically unsound. No nation has ever been able to drink itself into prosperity, or to lower its taxes by the sale thereof, or to build better schools by the revenue therefrom, or even to reduce the amount of bootlegging by the so-called control thereof. "That which is morally wrong cannot be economically sound." "Woe unto him that buildeth a town with blood, and establisheth a city by iniquity." Hab. 2:12.

I am against beverage alcohol because the use of it is destructive to human character. We are in the business of trying to get our sons and daughters, our citizens of Davie county to build strong Christian characters. Beverage alcohol is one of our strongest enemies in this program. It destroys brain cells, debilitates the will, enslaves the body, wrecks manhood, and brings grievous conditions in the home life of our people.

Therefore, I shall wield my influence, my prayers, my work, my vote against the sale of legalized beverage alcohol in Davie county, in the State and the nation whenever the opportunity is mine. J. P. DAVIS cured tobacco as owner, tenant, or share-cropper, is eligible to vote in the referendum."

Mr. Johnson pointed out that 841 or 76% of the eligible voters in Davie county went to the polls in 1946 and voted. Out of this number 99% voted in favor of quotas. "In 1939 we were sure nothing would happen to the tobacco program, but it did. As a result we increased our tobacco acreages, and prices went down. We did not care for quotas that year. We had all the tobacco we wanted, but we couldn't do anything with it. If quotas are voted down there will be no support price on the tobacco crop for 1950."

"We don't care how you vote," Mr. Johnson said, "but by all means vote. Most all of the farmers want to retain quotas. We think it will carry, but we want a good percentage of votes. The outcome of this referendum will probably set a pattern for other programs that are to come."

Voting places in each of the 15 communities was named by the community chairman and county committee. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The following publicity committee was named: J. B. Cain, L. W. West, D. N. Ijames, C. G. Long and R. R. Hauser.

F. E. Peebles, county agent, explained the Tobacco Associates program, which is holding their referendum on the same date, the same place and time as the Tobacco Marketing Quota referendum; however, separate ballot boxes will be provided.

"All persons eligible to vote in the Tobacco Referendum will also be eligible to vote on this program." This is the same thing farmers voted for two years ago, according to Mr. Peebles.

"Farmers will vote on whether they are for or against an annual assessment of 10 cents an acre on the tobacco acreage planted for a three-year period (1950, 1951 and 1952). This assessment is to support an organization for maintaining, developing and expanding export outlets for flue-cured tobacco." Mr. Peebles urges each eligible voter to go to the polls July 23 and vote.

APPEAL TO FARMERS TO VOTE IN FLUE-CURED TOBACCO REFERENDUM

Tobacco Associates Referendum July 23

Farm Bureau and Grange leaders from North and South Carolina have called on flue-cured tobacco growers to "register a 100 percent vote on Saturday, July 23; in the referendum on Tobacco Associates and Marketing Quotas" to protect their export program and stabilized prices.

Tobacco Associates—financed through your 10-cents an acre self-assessment—works to keep foreign buyers on the tobacco market. Your vote Saturday, July 23; for Tobacco Associates will help to protect your tobacco income.

The appeal has come from: R. Flake Shaw, Greensboro, N. C., executive vice president of the North Carolina Farm Bureau; Harold B. Caldwell, Greensboro, North Carolina State Grange Master; E. H. Agnew, Anderson, S. C., president of the South Carolina Farm Bureau, and B. A. Graham, Olanta, S. C., chairman of the South Carolina State Grange Tobacco committee.

"Tobacco Associates has been helpful in many ways," Shaw said. "Shortly after it was organized, there was a House Finance subcommittee hearing on a proposed $800,000 deficiency appropriation for the tobacco program. Chairman Everett Dirksen of Illinois was so impressed with the growers' self-assessment to help themselves that he made me recite the exact processes by which Tobacco Associates was organized.

"Commending the export promotion program, he asked why other commodity groups had not taken similar action. He then fully agreed that farmers who did that much to help themselves were entitled to liberal consideration for government funds they needed. The appropriation was approved without delay when it later came up for a vote.

"Farm Bureau urges every grower to vote to continue Tobacco Associates—one of the most essential, aggressive, business-like programs I have ever known."

Employers Urged To Allow Soldiers' Leave For Encampment

Major Wm. M. Long, commander of Medical Company, 120th infantry unit of the North Carolina National Guard, today appealed to employers to release their men who are members of the company for period of National Guard encampment to be held at Fort Jackson, S. C., during the period of August 14-23.

Major Long cited the following item from the current issue of the National Guardsman, official publication of the National Guard Association of the United States:

Just about the time this issue of the National Guardsman reaches you, some thousands of our fellow-citizens will have begun a sudden transformation. They will have abandoned their daily routine in preparation for the National Guard's annual field training period.

That two weeks is the climax of a whole year of two-hour, once-a-week drills back home. In their armories, the troops have done their classroom and drill floor work. But that is only the first step, comparable to the football team "skull sessions." It is only in the field training that they can run through their various plays and learn to function—and to fight, if it ever becomes necessary again—as a team.

You—the boss—have problems. Each one of your workers has specific duties to perform, or you wouldn't have hired him.

"Vote your own way, but by all means vote," was the final appeal made today to flue-cured tobacco growers of Davie county by D. B. Miller, chairman of the County Agricultural Conservation committee, in urging farmers to participate in the flue-cured tobacco referendum on Saturday, July 23.

"Congress has made it possible for farmers to decide whether or not they want marketing quotas on tobacco for 1950 and also for 1951 and 1952. It is up to us to go to the polls and state our preference. Marketing quotas furnish growers with a method of adjusting supply to demand and can help secure fair prices for the tobacco they produce," he said.

If quotas are approved, individual farm acreage allotments for 1950 will be about the same as the 1949 allotment for any farm which has produced up to 75 percent of its allotted acreage in any one of the past three years. There will be a small acreage for adjustment of old farm allotments, and for establishing allotments on farms on which no tobacco has been grown in the past five years. If the supply and demand situation warrants, the secretary of agriculture can increase allotments any time up to March 1.

Every person who has an interest in the 1949 crop of flue-cured tobacco as owner, tenant, or share cropper is entitled to vote in the referendum, but no person is entitled to more than one vote even though he produces tobacco in two or more communities, counties or States.

Mr. Miller said, "I believe it is up to us to show our interest by going to the polls and voting one way or the other. This is the democratic way of deciding this important issue, and I urge that every flue-cured tobacco grower in the county go to his community voting place on Saturday, July 23, and vote in this referendum." Polls will be open from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Community voting places are as follows:

North Calahain, Center; South Calahain, Smoot's store; East Clarksville, William R. Davie school; West Clarksville, Bear Creek church; North Farmington, E. C. Hendrix's store; South Farmington, Smith Grove school; West Farmington, Clyde James' store; North Fulton, Community building; South Fulton, Community building; North Jerusalem, Greasy Corner; South Jerusalem, Greasy Corner; North Mocksville, Courthouse; South Mocksville, Courthouse; East Shady Grove, Community building; West Shady Grove, J. H. Robertson's store.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

And when he's on vacation, someone else has to take up the slack. And if, on top of that, he's going to be let off for 15 days of field training, it's that much more of a problem.

The National Guard is asking that you exert that extra effort, to make that additional adjustment.

Whether you are an industrial magnate, a merchant prince, or the proprietor of a three-man shop, it is important that you back up the men who are sacrificing much of their own time in the interest of preparedness. You can do this by letting them go to camp at no sacrifice of earnings or vacation rights.

It will mean that much more of contribution to the safety of your home, your family, your business, and your country.

Production of more home food supplies has been set as the No. 1 objective of a long-range agricultural program formulated by Bertie County farmers and their leaders.

4-H CLUB WEEK PROGRAM LISTED

Governor Scott, Senator Frank P. Graham, and Dr. J. H. Hilton, dean of agriculture at State College, are among speakers slated to address some 1400 North Carolina boys and girls during State 4-H Club Week, August 1-5, according to L. R. Harrill, State club leader.

The event will be held on the State College campus in Raleigh. Representatives from all counties will attend.

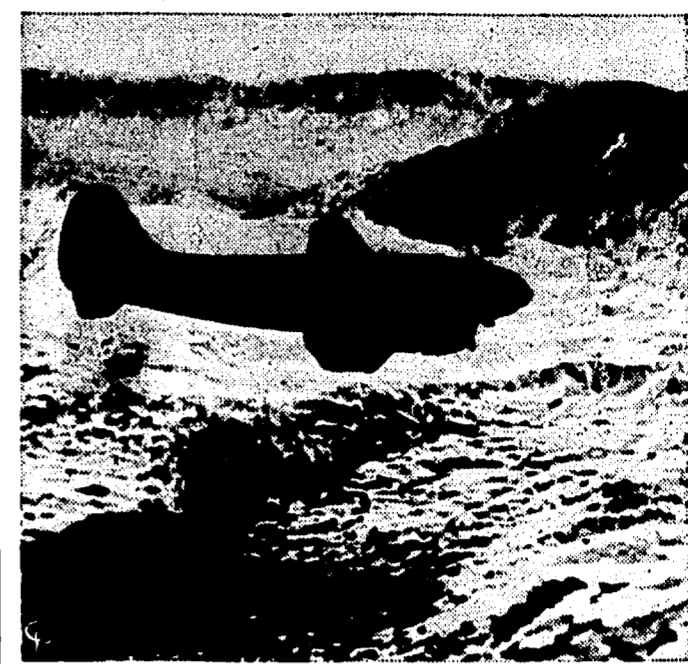

As the clubsters arrive on the campus they will be divided into four large groups known as Head, Heart, Hands and Health. Each group will see one of the following demonstrations each morning: "Boy Dates Girl," sponsored by Wayne County; "My Spokesman: My Records!" led by Miss Emmie Nelson of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work; song leadership under the direction of Dr. Frederick S. Smith of Christ Episcopal Church in Raleigh; and "Home Is What You Make It," led by teams from Northampton, Nash, and Hyde Counties.

For the afternoon demonstrations the boys and girls will be separated but will still remain with their large group. Demonstrations for the boys will be dairy production, poultry, soil conservation, and farm management. For the girls there will be demonstrations on dairy foods, wear-care of clothing, news-writing and floor sanding.

A recreation program consisting of sharpshooting, swimming, folk dancing, softball, and baseball has been arranged for late each afternoon, and several special events have been lined up for the evening program. Among these will be a band concert, State 4-H dress revue, the 4-H honor program, a candlelighting ceremony, and a health festival.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Windy Sure "Stopped The Show"!

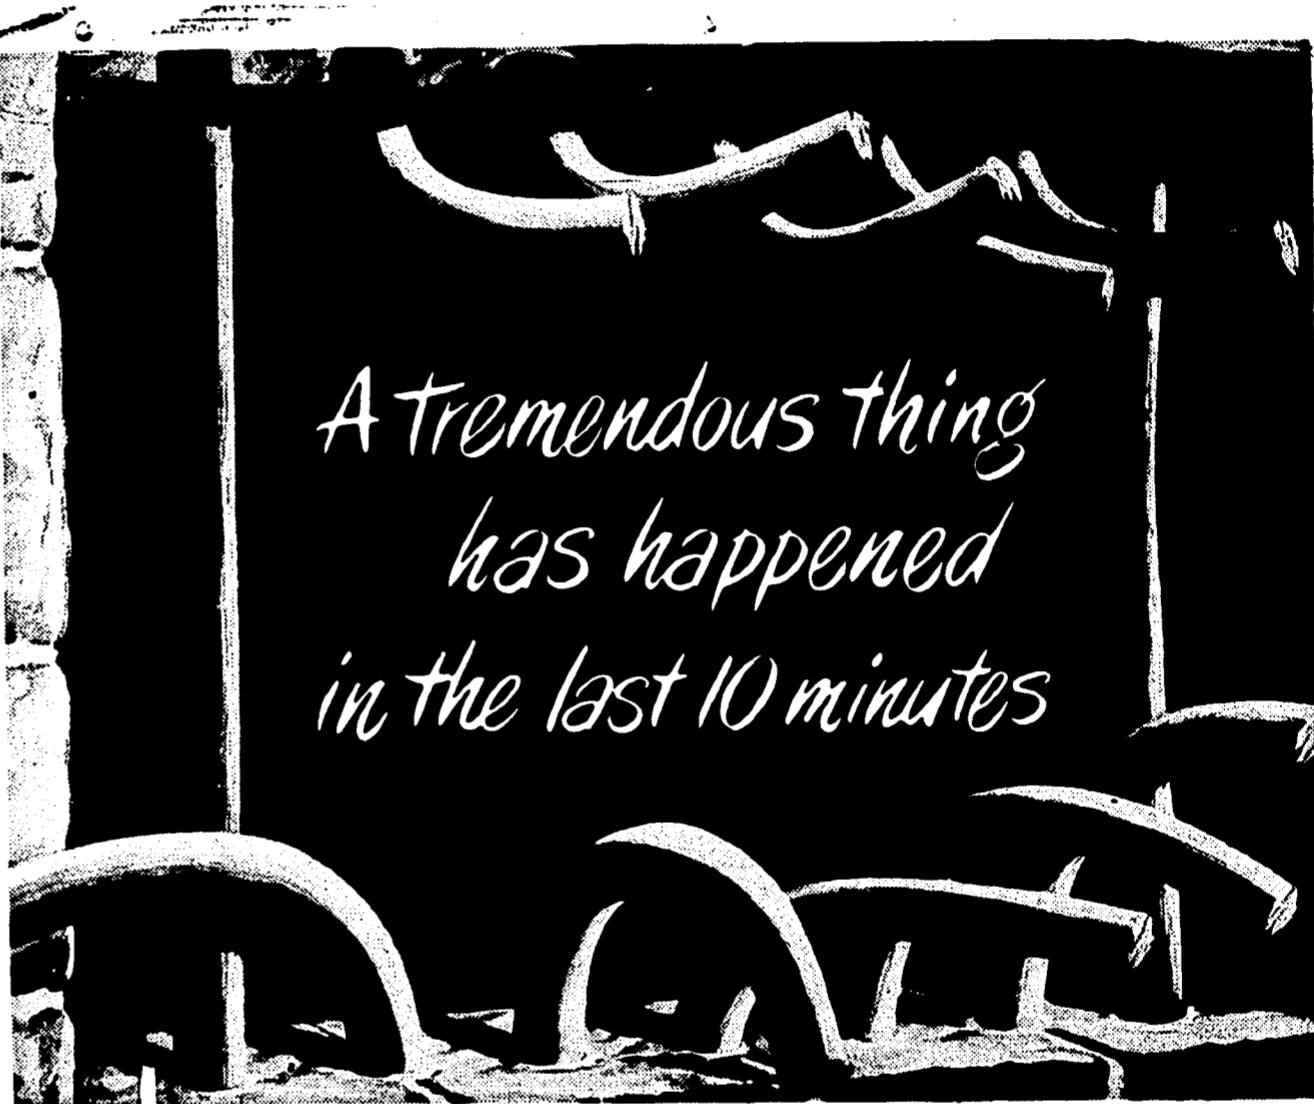

The other night a bunch of us were over at Judge Cunningham's watching a swell vaudeville program on his new television set. It came in fine, but just once, the screen got a little streaky.

Before the Judge could touch the knob to bring it into focus, old Windy Taylor starts fooling around with the antenna connection. "I can fix that!" he says.

Windy fixed it all right. He "stopped the show" for us, and Buzz Ellis had to come over and do a $20 repair job. I understand Windy feels so bad, that he's paying the bill and has apologized to the Judge for acting so smart. From where I sit, it pays to practice a little restraint whenever we get the urge to meddle. Whether it's television or a person's right to enjoy a temperate glass of sparkling beer now and then—let's get a good clear "picture" of the real situation before we cause more harm than good.

Joe Marsh

They say dictatorships are new and revolutionary . . . Actually, they're as old as time itself!

For thousands of years, most of the human beings who have peopled the earth have lived as the slaves or subjects of someone else.

The thing that is new and revolutionary and yours, is freedom.

Freedom to choose your job, knowing that in America there's no ceiling on advancement.

Freedom to invent new machines . . . and new ways to make them productive.

Freedom to invest money in new ideas . . . to own things . . . to manage our own affairs.

Compared to the record of all civilization, this free way of ours is ten minutes old!

We can make it better still. We can eliminate the faults which remain. We can level off the sharp ups and downs of prices and jobs. We can keep up the battle against poverty.

There's nothing you can't do when you're ambitious and industrious. That's the free, dynamic, American way. It's not rigid and static, but flexible and constantly changing.

Today, the world is depending on us because we have depended on ourselves. Let's show the world how our system works!

Local Breeders To Use Proved Holstein

Davie Cooperative Breeding Association, Inc., announced today that semen from the desirably proved sire, Huff Sir Maude Wayne, a registered Holstein of the Southeastern Artificial Breeding association, will be available to all customers and dairymen in the county.

This fine big Holstein, whose daughters' records show that he is proved to be an outstanding transmitter of production and acceptable type, has an American index on an 8 dam-daughter-comparison of 13,160 pounds of milk, 3.80% test, and 500 pounds but-terfat, based on 2X milking, 305 day mature equivalent.

"Huffie's" daughters are big, hard-working heifers—the kind that continues to fill a farmer's cans with generous quantities of high testing milk.

Service Life Insurance Dividend Authorized

Payment of a $2,800,000.00 special National Service Life Insurance dividend on approximately 20,000,000 policies has been authorized by Carl H. Gray, Jr., administrator of Veterans affairs.

About 16,000,000 veterans who took out insurance during World War II will be eligible to receive the dividends. The amounts individual veterans will receive are not yet known, as individual calculations have not been completed.

The veterans' administration hopes that distribution of the checks can be started sometime in January, 1950, and be substantially completed during the first half of 1950.

Special application blanks for the use of policyholders are now being prepared. If their printing can be completed, they will be available sometime in August of this year in post offices, veterans service organizations and VA offices. On these forms the veteran is to record his full name, service number, insurance policy numbers and his present address and mail to the VA.

Veterans are urged not to write letters at the present time to the VA about their dividends, as answering letters will delay the calculations that must be made by Veterans Administration employees.

BISHOP HOWARD RONDTHALER SPEAKS TO LOCAL ROTARY

Bishop Howard C. Rondthaler, former president of Salem college and himself a Rotarian, told local Rotarians to read between the lines to determine what Rotary really means. Dr. Rondthaler outlined these items between the lines of Rotary as being eating together, which he pointed out was the very essence of fellowship and enabled one to become closer acquainted with his friends and neighbors. Dr. Rondthaler revealed that around 33 per cent of the utterances of Jesus were said at or near an eating together.

The absence of secrecy was another important item in the importance of Rotary reviewed by Dr. Rondthaler. He stated that many people predicted the failure of Rotary because of the absence of this secrecy and pomp that heretofore characterized any organization of men.

Dr. Rondthaler explained the Rotary symbol of the cog wheel. The cog wheel dates back to Archimedes, the great philosopher and scientist of his day, who predicted that with a lever long enough, and with a fulcrum together with a place to plant his feet on something solid, he could move the universe. "Such is the cog wheel," continued Dr. Rondthaler, "it is a lever. It performs silent, useful service, receiving, transmitting and passing on in the way similar to which Rotary functions in a community."

Dr. Rondthaler also dwelt some length on the practice of Rotary of using first names in addressing fellow members. He stated that this practice increased friendship and brought individuals closer together. He told the story of finding his father one day in his study, with his head on his arms, and a telegram before him. Upon his asking his father his trouble, his father, Bishop Edward Rondthaler, told him he had just received a telegram notifying him of the death of a dear friend and former class mate. "Howard," he was quoted as saying, "this was the last person in the world, besides your mother, who called me by my first name. Now your mother is the only one left in this world to call me Edward, and I feel so lonely." Dr. Rondthaler urged the individuals to allow the boy in them to grow by being a Rotarian and practicing the rules of Rotary, both written and unwritten.

Dr. Rondthaler was very humorous and entertaining in his address, which was deemed as one of the most enjoyable and inspiring of the season. G. R. Madison had charge of the program. Dr. H. C. Sprinkle of Mocksville introduced Dr. Rondthaler.

Town Commissioners Hold Weekly Meeting

The Mocksville town commissioners at a meeting last week discussed plans for repairing the curbing and sidewalks around the square in Mocksville. The project was turned over to the street committee for investigation as to the expense of the project.

Also plans were discussed for the maintenance of the dirt sidewalks of the town and Rose cemetery.

The board also voted to include in the proposed budget for 1949-50 the sum of $300 for the local National Guard unit. Dr. W. M. Long appeared before the board and explained that the local unit had to rely solely on appropriations from the county and municipality for operating expenses. That State and federal funds provided for the payment of salaries, purchase of original equipment, but that current supplies and maintenance expense came from the county and town resources. Members of the board complimented Major Long and the local unit for their progress, and pledged their continued cooperation in enabling it to maintain its present record as one of the top units in the State.

Carl Shell appeared before the board in regard to sewer and water connections both within and just out of the city limits. No action was required by the board on this matter and it was left in the hands of Mr. Shell of the local health department.

The board also approved at an earlier meeting a vacation with pay for any town employee with a minimum of a year's service, and provided that no two employees of the same department be off at the same time.

DRY FORCES SPEAKER

Hon. L. A. Martin, representative from Davidson county, will speak at the rally of the dry forces of Davie county on the wine and beer election of September 3. This rally will be held in the Mocksville courthouse Sunday night, July 31, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Martin is the lawyer for the Allied Church League, Inc., of North Carolina and is editor of the publication, "Tomorrow," which is published monthly by the same organization.

Added Features For Ball Game Tuesday

Baseball fans who attend the important Spencer and Mocksville baseball game here next Tuesday night will be treated to additional entertainment, it was announced today by G. H. C. Shutt, president of the Davie Memorial association.

Plans have been announced for holding the sack race between Heritage Furniture, Inc., and the Mocksville Flour mills. Who challenged who is not known. However, the feeling is high and both sides will go all the way to capture the stakes when Capt. Abie Short leads his charges against those of Capt. Harry Murray.

Also a greased wild pig will be turned loose in the park for anyone who can catch it and carry it the required number of steps.

The above entertainment features will take place immediately preceding the game between Mocksville and Spencer teams of the Yadkin Valley league at the local field next Tuesday night, August 2. This will be an important game, as Mocksville is fighting to overtake the fourth place Spencer team.

The lineup for the sack race will be as follows:

Heritage: Ed Short, Clarence Hartman, Leon Beck, Dexter Byerly, Everett McDaniel. Mocksville Flour Mills: M. H. Murray, C. F. Arndt, Jim Latham, Gilmer Brewer, Wade Wyatt, Jr.

B.S. Court of Honor To Be Held Friday

The Davie County Boy Scout Court of Honor will be held in the Coolesme Methodist church at 7:30 p.m. Friday, July 29, 1949. The technicolor picture entitled "The Years In Between" will be shown for the first time in this community, it was announced by Mr. Gaskins, Boy Scout councilor for this area.

Claude Horn, Jr., has completed the requirements for the award of eagle scout, and will be presented this award sometime this fall.

APPROVED ON BASIS 92¢ RATE

Davie county's budget of $179,879.50 for the fiscal year of 1949-50, based on the increased tax rate of .92 cents per $100 valuation has been officially adopted by the board of commissioners.

The ten-cent increase in the tax rate over last year is the result of the school bond issue voted last year by Davie county.

Figures released by the board revealed that the property valuation for Davie county for the fiscal year has been set at $16,457,801, a jump of $1,229,053 over the 1948 valuation of $15,228,748.

The budget of $136,939.76 last year, which at that time was the highest in the history of Davie county, falls short of the figure set up for this fiscal year.

General fund expenditures for the coming year will be $48,628.50 compared with $40,787.50 for 1948-49.

The board also set aside $40,381 for the county school fund as compared with $35,360 adopted last year.

The debt service fund for 1949-50 was adopted at $50,950 against $30,374 last year.

The revenue will be raised in the following manner: $145,579.50 on ad valorem taxes; $4,000 on poll and dog taxes; $25,200 from miscellaneous fees and other receipts; $5,100 from federal and State pro rata administrative and State equalizing fund.

It was pointed out that this budget included the revenue derived by the county from the sale of wine and beer. If wine and beer are voted out in September probably some adjustment will have to be made to offset this deficit.

TAX SUMMARY

The tax rate summary, as set up by the board, follows: General fund, .15; debt service fund .32; S. S. and poor fund, .21½; school fund 23½; for the total tax rate of .92 cents per $100 valuation.

Funds appropriated for the various departments in the county are:

Board of county commissioners, $2,770, an increase of $200 over last year. This money is expended for salaries of the board members and other incidental expenses incurred by the board in performance of duties. County accountant, $2,545, a decrease of $40 from last year. County financial agent, $570, against $500 last year.

Tax listing department, $1,810, against $1,700 last year. Election expense, $2,120, against $1,715 last year.

Courthouse and grounds, $3,638, against $3,700 last year. County jail, $3,035, against $2,485 last year.

Superior court, $2,000, against $1,500 last year. Clerk of superior court, $5,113.50, against $4,336 last year.

Register of deeds, $4,788, against $3,951 last year. County sheriff, $5,422, against $3,159 last year.

County coroner, $70, against $96 last year.

7,227,444 Service Life Insurance Policies in Force in Late Spring

About 7,227,000 National Service Life Insurance policies, held by World War II veterans, were in force in late Spring, Veterans Administration said. The policies represented $41.6 billion of insurance protection.

Less than one-fourth of the World War II veterans holding National Service Life Insurance have converted their policies from term insurance to one or more of the half-dozen available permanent plans, Veterans' Administration disclosed. More than 202,000 World War I veterans by June 11 had either exhausted their entitlement to G. I. bill training, or had completed their Public Law 16 training and were declared rehabilitated, Veterans Administration said.

The number of World War II veterans training on-the-job under the G. I. Bill and Public Law 16 dropped to 403,135 on June 1—a 45 percent decrease from the 720,510 peak reached in January, 1947.

Confused About Appliance Prices?

THIS MESSAGE MAY HELP YOU

In terms of quality and new work-saving conveniences, leading electric appliances like our own Hotpoint Refrigerators, Ranges, Dishwashers and other products are far superior to pre-war models.

But that's only the half of it! In terms of today's cost of living and the price increases of other commodities such as automobiles and houses, our 1949 Hotpoint Appliances actually cost a lot less than the corresponding models of 10 years ago.

For example, you can buy a new Hotpoint Refrigerator now for just $189.75—only $10 more than the comparable 1939 model, which gave you far fewer advantages. When you stop to think that the dollar today is worth only .60 percent of what it was ten years ago, you can readily see how low appliance prices really are now.

The appliance industry has done a great job of building new and better products, while still maintaining the low prices you want. Hotpoint, for example, has accomplished this by careful planning —having completed the industry's greatest postwar expansion program to provide far more efficient facilities.

Because you get record quality at such low cost, we can say sincerely that now is the time to buy an appliance. In making your selection, however, be sure to look them all over, compare values and ask your friends who know from experience.

We think you'll choose Hotpoint, because we honestly believe that these appliances are as fine as technical facilities and human skill can produce—and priced as low as any other make of comparable quality.

We invite you to inspect the latest models and see why we say you can "Look to Hotpoint for the Finest—First"—why you can get the greatest dollar-for-dollar values ever offered—right now!

For The Ladies: A Diet That Really Works

We went out visiting the other night and the ladies were talking away about weight-reducing diets. One of them had a special "15-day Hollywood diet" guaranteed to slim her down fifteen pounds' worth. Another was living on bananas and skim milk!

I might have known the missus would get the bug, too, and sure enough the other day she asks me, "Joe, what kind of a diet do you think I ought to go on?"

"Mother," I says, "the only diet I would ever recommend to anyone is simply moderation. I wouldn't trust any of those get-thin-quick diets. Simply cut down on desserts, bread, butter, sweets and fats—but when you do, even do your cutting down moderately."

From where I sit, moderation is the watchword. Moderation with food, with smoking or with the enjoyment of a friendly glass of temperate beer or ale. Actually, moderation adds to the enjoyment of just about anything.

N. C. TEACHERS ARE GRANTED 28.17 PER CENT BOOST IN SALARY

Raleigh—North Carolina's public school teachers last week were granted an overall salary boost of 28.17 per cent for the next school year.

The State Board of Education at its regular monthly session approved the recommendations of its finance committee in adopting its budget for the 1949-50 school year.

Teacher pay increases of about 28 per cent were provided for by the last General Assembly, but exact salary schedules were left to the discretion of the board.

The average teacher salary, under the new schedule, will be increased from $1,945 to an estimated $2,494 for the 1949-50 year.

The average will climb for the 1950-51 year to an estimated $2,511.

A pay boost of 23.38 per cent was granted principals, giving them an average salary for next year of $4,021. For 1950-51, the average principal salary will be slightly lower to $4,014.

The combined number of principals and teachers for the next term was boosted to 27,244 — an increase of 1,584 over the past year.

In other actions, the board approved:

1. Employment of 300 supervisors and 25 special education teachers.

2. An increase in pay for substitute teachers from $5 a day to $6.

3. A health grant of 50c per pupil based on average daily attendance in schools in each county and an additional donation of $1,000 to each county.

4. A cut of two cents per meal in the appropriation for lunch-room meals.

Included in the salary scales set by the board were:

Class A certificate teachers — $2,091 for beginners up to $2,745 for those with 11 years' experience.

Graduate certificate teachers — $2,322 for those with two years' experience up to $3,069 for those with 12 years' experience.

The old scale for A certificate teachers was $2,620 to $2,169, and for graduate certificate teachers $1,827 to $2,412.

The 300 supervisors and 25 special education teachers approved by the board will constitute a new feature in state education. To be selected from the present rolls of principals and teachers these employees will have the job of supervising educational practices and programs in the 1,072 units in the State.

They will be paid on the basis of their number of years experience and the class certificates they hold.

The 1949 Legislature appropriated $550,000 to the department of public instruction for public health work in the schools. This money will be added to the $326,211 granted by the Legislature to the State Board of Public Health for the same purpose.

The public health program in the schools will be administered jointly by these two State boards.

Among the salary scales for the vocational teachers, for 10, 11 or 12 months work, according to the position held, were included: Class A-certificate teachers —

MISS RUTH BOOE: A LIFE OF SERVICE

"I never was one to dwell much in the past," answered Miss Ruth Booe when queried by the author to reveal something of her past life that has been spent serving others. "I always live for the future and in the present. Whatever little I was able to do in the past was always repaid by the personal enjoyment I received from it. It has been a great pleasure for me to live and work in Mocksville, and it is with deep regret that I leave. However, I feel myself lucky in securing residence at the Methodist Home in Charlotte and feel that I must avail myself of the security and companionship it offers women of my age. I certainly appreciate the interest shown by the people of this community, and all of the nice things they have said and done. I am certain that nowhere can one find any better people than the people of Mocksville and Davie county."

Miss Ruth, modest as she is, was very reluctant to talk of herself. She admitted that she always preferred to work in the dark and shun publicity. However, the saying that a good light will shine out under almost any cover is very true in this case. Most everyone in Mocksville is familiar with the ever cheerful service Miss Ruth rendered in almost every field. The numerous drives and projects that continually occur year after year, requiring individual time and service, were always somewhat relieved and pushed to a successful conclusion because Miss Ruth put her shoulder to the wheel. In the Mocksville Methodist church, as long as this author can remember, Miss Ruth has been superintendent of the primary department of the Sunday school and loyally served the church in every function it undertook. Although never married herself, Miss Ruth assisted many other couples in Mocksville in taking the fateful step by decorating with the skill of an artist, churches and homes for the ceremony, and did it absolutely free of charge. Miss Ruth revealed that her first wedding to decorate for was the wedding of Miss Mary Sanford and John Larew in the local Presbyterian church. And that the last wedding she decorated for was Frances Stroud-Robert Huneycutt ceremony in the local Methodist church. Miss Ruth excused herself from giving the dates of the above, but indicated that she had decorated for many, many weddings in between the first and last.

Miss Ruth Booe was born in the house where she now lives on December 17, 1869. Daughter of Alexander Booe and Sarah Clement Booe, and was the youngest of five children: Philip Henry Booe of Walkertown, Mrs. Philip Hanes of Winston-Salem, Mrs. William Miller and Mrs. William Woodruff of Mocksville.

She is of German ancestry, her great grandfather being one of the original settlers of Davie county at the Heidelberg settlement on Dutchman's Creek. The name was originally spelled Buhe. Philip Booe, her grandfather, was a farmer owning and occupying a place near the old Dutch Meeting House, where he and his wife, Caroline, both died. Alexander Booe, her father, was born five miles South of Mocksville near the Old Dutch Meeting House in 1821. When he was a boy his father died and he went to live with his uncle, Ben March, on Dutchman's Creek. He learned to make tobacco and after his marriage became a tobacco manufacturer at Mocksville. This factory was located on the site now occupied by the residence of Miss Willie Miller. This factory specialized in plug tobacco and smoking tobacco, selling directly to the stores and from wagons that ran over prescribed routes. This business was continued until after the War Between the States and then at Salisbury for a number of years. Alexander Booe finally sold his business and devoted his time to the management of his farm on Dutchman's Creek, though his home was in Mocksville. In 1843 Alexander Booe married Sarah Clement, daughter of Henry Clement, Jr., and Rosa Sain Clement.

Miss Ruth grew up in Mocksville and went to school to Miss Mattie Eaton. There were no public schools in Davie county at that time. She attended the Wesleyan Female college in Staunton, Va. For a great number of years she was bookkeeper for the Mocksville Wholesale Grocery company. She has served as county librarian both in the present locality and when the library was located in the community building of the old courthouse. For the past ten years she has been active in the Home Demonstration club work of Davie county, assisting the agent, Miss Florence Mackie, in her many duties. She has served as president of the Mocksville Home Demonstration club, recrea-

The meeting opened with a song, "The Star Spangled Banner." The roll call was answered with "My Most Useful Kitchen Tool."

In the absence of Miss Florence Mackie, Mrs. Zollie Anderson gave the demonstration on "Using Modern Kitchen Tools."

Refreshments were served to 12 members and one visitor.

Nine Korean agricultural specialists have recently arrived in the United States to observe techniques developed or endorsed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

national chairman, community service chairman and county council treasurer of the Home Demonstration clubs. According to Miss Florence Mackie, county home demonstration agent, the service of Miss Ruth in this line has been of great value.

Through both World War I and the last war, Miss Ruth has served unselfishly on the home front in almost every capacity. During the first World War she served as county chairman of the surgical dressing work conducted in this county, and during the last war served cooperatively with Miss Mackie in making Red Cross kits, filling kits, etc. For a great number of years Miss Ruth has been superintendent of the primary department and treasurer of the local Methodist Sunday school.

Although she says she does not live in the past, nevertheless her eyes get a twinkle when she recalls some of the mischief and adventure of her youth. Such as the time she, Dick Woodruff, Daisy Hampton and Ed Morris went boat riding at Shoals (Cooleemee). According to Miss Ruth, Mr. Morris was the navigator and was supposed to know the river. However, for some reason they got too near the dam and were swept over it, nearly drowning them all. She stated she went under twice before a man who was fishing nearby there pulled her out.

Miss Ruth also tells of the time when she was 18 or 19 years old, about driving her father's oxen hitched to the "New Top Buggy" and taking her friends to ride down main street and all over Mocksville, creating great excitement even in those days. It seems that Miss Ruth asked her father for a horse, but as all of the horses were in use her father mischievously suggested the oxen, and Miss Ruth not to be denied took him up on it.

She stated that she was into all the mischief of her day, but would not elaborate further.

Miss Ruth attended the Masonic Picnic when it was held at the Shoals, and has only missed about three picnics in the years since. In the early days, stated Miss Ruth, the Masonic Picnic and Christmas were the only things the children had to look forward to.

Miss Ruth stated that she had seen Mocksville grow by leaps and bounds from the time she used to go horseback riding and fox hunting with her father. Then she said the Town of Mocksville had a population of less than 500 people, and the limits extended less than a half mile either way.

Although Miss Ruth Booe is leaving Mocksville in a few days to take up residence at the Methodist Home in Charlotte, she cannot take all. She will leave behind her, in the memoirs of her friends, the people of Mocksville, the many remembrances of her kindness, thoughtfulness and unselfish devotion to the service of others. And neither will Miss Ruth be away from Mocksville in her thoughts and memories, because I believe that anyone with a past so pleasant as the one she has experienced, cannot help but be relived during fleeting moments.

It was very appropriate when the local Rotary club recently adopted Miss Ruth as their "sweetheart." She is a living example of her motto, "Service above self."

Social Security Benefits Must Be Applied For

Old-Age Insurance monthly benefits are not paid automatically, Mrs. Ruth G. Duffy, Manager of the Winston-Salem, N. C., office of the Social Security Administration, pointed out today. In order for benefits to be paid, it is necessary for the person or persons who will be paid to file an application.

Only recently, Mrs. Duffy said, a letter was received from a claimant that stated in part, "I have not received any notice, or paper to be filled out. I was 65 in March 1948, and I thought as they had records, I would be receiving checks before this time." Investigation disclosed that the worker was fully insured and could have been drawing benefits for each month beginning with March, if he had promptly filed a claim.

The Social Security Act provides that monthly benefits can be paid for only three months before the month in which a person files his claim. As this person put off visiting the Social Security office, or writing to that office, his application was filed in July, 1949—the month in which he did first contact the office. Therefore, the Social Security Administration was able to begin paying him in April, 1949. He lost payments from March 1948 through March 1949 because he neither went in to ask about his case nor wrote the Social Security office when he became 65.

The Social Security Administration does not keep a record of the current addresses of all the people who have Social Security Account Number Cards, according to Mrs. Duffy, who emphasized that every person who has one should go to the nearest Social Security field office when he or she reaches 65. It is of the utmost importance for the survivors of a deceased holder of a Social Security card to check with their Social Security Office.

The field office for this area is located in Room 437 Nissen Building, Winston-Salem, N. C. A representative of that office is in Mocksville on August 24 at the Courthouse, second floor, at 12:30 p.m., and in Cooleemee on the same date at the Erwin Cotton Mills Office at 11:00 a.m.

"It's not our hat!"

The Southern Railway doesn't pass the hat for your tax dollars.

Other forms of commercial transportation use highways, airports and waterways that are built and maintained with your tax dollars—and ours.

But railroads are strictly on their own. Every penny they spend to build and maintain their own steel "highways" comes right out of the railroads' pockets—not yours.

We're glad we are not in the "hat-passing" class. We prefer to stand on our own financial feet in the old-fashioned American way. And we believe that if there were no hat-passers in the transportation business it would be better for you and for all America.

FACTS

From the Census of Manufactures

● The U. S. Census of Manufactures supplies what is probably the most authoritative index of an industry's place in the national economy.

Preliminary reports for 1947, the first business census since 1939, are now being released by the Government. They show that the brewing industry makes a valuable contribution to the nation's welfare and economy.

The Government report shows that in 1947, the brewing industry paid out $292,000,000 in both wages and salaries, spent $508,000,000 for materials, supplies, containers, fuel and contract work, and another $111,000,000 for new plants and equipment—making a total of approximately $912,000,000.

The brewing industry employed 82,524 persons—63,668 of them being engaged in production and other related operations. This latter group averaged $3,300 per year per worker—one of the highest wage averages to be found in any American industry.

For three centuries beer and ale have contributed to moderation and temperance in America. The Census report confirms that economically, too, beer's legal sale and manufacture is an American asset worth preserving.

WHICH ROAD WILL YOUR PULLETS TAKE?
AFTER 2 LBS OF STARTENA

SEE THE DIFFERENCE GROWING PULLETS RIGHT MAKES . . .

The above diagram shows the results of Purina Research Pullet Growing tests. They prove time and again that well-fed pullets are larger and better-developed — start laying earlier, lay more eggs and make more money in the fall high-egg-price months — than pullets that are poorly fed.

This year put your pullets on the straight road to early fall eggs, big fall eggs, lots of fall eggs. After Purina Chick Startena change to Purina Growena, complete ration or Purina Growing Chow, to balance grain!
