Bribery Works: Candy Lures Can Produce Hits

He had made silly faces during the team picture. He had cut up in the dugout. He had swung blindly at three pitches during his first at-bat.

His father gritted his teeth in silence — not wanting to be a rabid baseball dad. Not wanting to put undue pressure on his peewee player. Not wanting to make this baseball season into a conflict.

But then he called to me from the dugout. "Can I go to the concession stand?" "Of course not. You're in the middle of a game." "But the coach said I could. I'm the last batter."

No. "But I want a lollipop." These are moments when fathers earn their stripes. When they rise to the occasion. When they meet the challenge. Or their children run over them. I remembered the advice from another parent: Bribery works. Get a hit this inning, and I'll buy you a lollipop, I told him.

My young baseball player — 7 years old and 52 pounds — strode to the plate with an uncommon zeal. He displayed a confidence at the plate worthy of Mark McGuire.

The pitcher took the sign. He threw the ball. Whack. Straight up the middle, through the infield, under the gloves of three players.

Robert pulled up at first. His dad cheered. His grandparents — who had driven from Charlotte — cheered.

My second son has been a challenge on the baseball field. His older brother needed no bribes. He wanted to play. He never fanned wildly at a pitch. He always wanted to hit. To catch. And he did it with serious resolve.

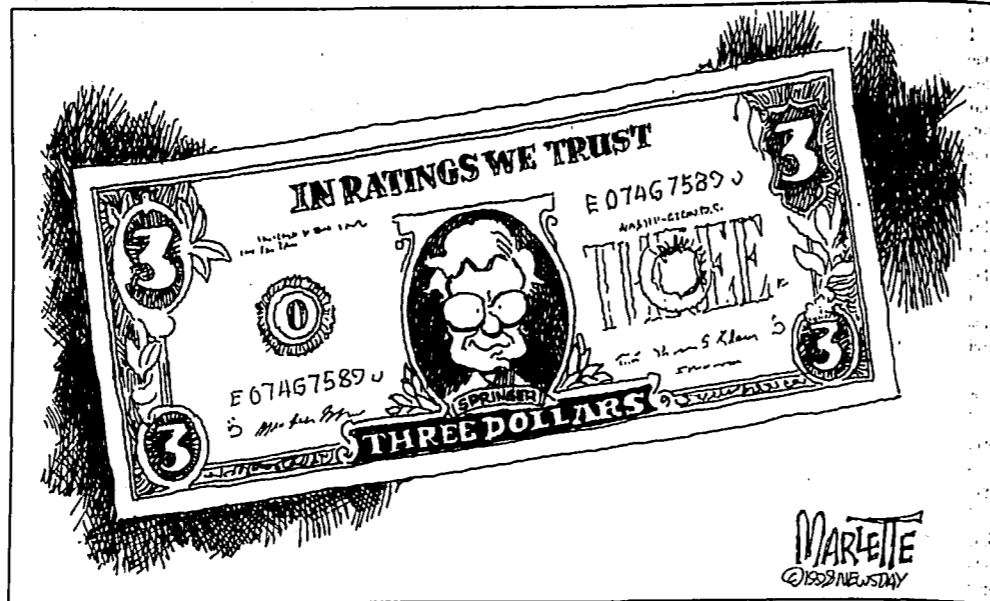

Robert is different. He wants to have ... fun. During batting practice, he will close his eyes to see if he can hit it. He turns around at the plate to hit it backwards. He drives me crazy. His father's baseball skills have slipped with age. During his brother's childhood, I never hit the batter. I've beaned Robert so many times this spring he doesn't want me to pitch to him.

I had been his coach two years ago, and that was a mistake. This year I'm staying on the other side of the fence. But that doesn't mean I have let go all the controls. On Saturday, Robert picked up the bat for his final turn at the plate, asking his coach to hold the soggy remains of his lollipop.

He came to the plate. I sat behind the fence with his grandfather, hoping for Robert to do well.

I seized the chance to add incentive. "Hit the ball, and I'll get you M&M's this time." First pitch ... Whack. Straight up the middle, through the infield, under the gloves of three players.

I've got another ballplayer. If I can afford the treats. — Dwight Sparks

Davie County Blessed With Caring People

To the editor: Davie County is blessed to have so many wonderful, caring people in its community. This was evident in the outpouring of concern, cards, prayers, and gifts we received after Kevin's plane crash.

The burdens of this difficult time have been made bearable by our wonderful church family at Macedonia Moravian Church, by our dedicated Red Cross volunteers, by individuals who we know through Red Cross association, and by people we were not even acquainted with in our community who gave of themselves to meet our needs.

We also feel fortunate our Emergency Medical Services and volunteer fire departments provide such a high standard of care to the citizens of Davie County. Their expert care and quick response played a major role in saving Kevin's life.

We thank each and every one who has supported us during this time. Our decision to move to Davie

County and raise our family here has certainly been reaffirmed. Your support is a testimony which will enable us to face the struggles during continued medical treatment in the upcoming months.

Looking back over the accident and what has taken place since then, God's hand in all of it is so very evident. Our hope is to continue serving this community as we have been served.

Kathie Streit Devoted To Senior Event

To the editor: Friday night a banquet was hosted for our seniors who participated in Senior Games at Silver Arts. This banquet celebrated, for some, many months of hard work and sacrifice. Our athletes trained for the competition. Artists spent many months on perfecting a painting, needlepointing a purse, fleshing out a story.

But there is another who spent many long hours of sacrifice and that is Kathie Streit, who hosts these productions for Parks and Rec. The hours of sacrifice were culminated in an elegant meal, one that Kathie insisted, "I want it to be nice for my Seniors." And indeed it was.

I watched Kathie clean up, caring to the van load after load of personal items like candlesticks, flowers, spices and even fresh butter that she had brought to make the dinner special. As I took my bouquet of flowers home, I wondered if the people of Davie County knew about this month long devotion Kathie Streit performs each year? Nancy Norton

Cooleemee Family Appreciates Help

To the editor: We would like to say thank you to the members and friends of First Baptist Church of Cooleemee, members of the Cooleemee Progressive Club, and residents of the Cooleemee community.

Everyone was such a blessing while our son David was hospitalized and recovering from surgery. Everything that you did during our son's illness will never be forgotten, from the prayers to the food, baby-sitting and monetary gifts, all of it meant so much to our family. But most of all we thank God for His grace and for placing us in a community of such wonderful people.

Mocksville Civitan Raffle Successful

To the editor: We wish to thank all of those who contributed to the recent raffle conducted by the Mocksville Civitan Club, to provide funds for community projects. I personally was impressed with the willingness of people to contribute many of whom expressed their pleasure in being able to help local worthy causes.

The drawing was held at the April 27th meeting of Civitan and the winner was Charisse Torbit of Winston-Salem. Again, we appreciate the contributions of our local community and surrounding areas.

Valuable Lessons To Newlyweds: Happy Couples Gain Weight

Three months. A milestone in a young marriage. It may not sound like much to all the couples measuring the happiness and success of their union in decades, but even couples who've celebrated a half century or more as husband and wife probably haven't forgotten the ups and downs of their first year together.

The first year of marriage is an educational experience for a couple. I know that after just three months because I've already learned some valuable lessons. Here are a few of them:

1. All the people who warned me that marriage would change everything were right.
2. No one visits newlyweds — not even your in-laws.
3. Marriage, if it's a happy one, causes both of you to gain weight.
4. When you have a big fight, you have nowhere to run. You live in the same house now.
5. As a responsible spouse, you should let your partner know where you are and when you expect to be home. This is a big adjustment if you've lived alone for several years before getting married, but the reward is knowing someone cares enough about you to worry.
6. It's easier to maintain one household than two, but there still isn't enough time to do all that needs to be done around the house.

7. Men, at least the one I married, don't have the knack that women do for recognizing the household chores that need doing. A smart wife will combat her husband's lazy tendencies with a "Honey Do" list, but instructions must be specific.

8. When all else fails, a little guilt will go a long way. Example: "While you were out riding your motorcycle, I was here sweeping, mopping, dusting and vacuuming. I cleaned the kitchen and bathroom, took out the trash, did four loads of laundry, started dinner and baked a pie to take to the lunch at your grandmother's tomorrow. The least you could do is take off those muddy boots before coming inside...put your drink on a coaster so it won't leave a ring on my clean coffee table...and throw your dirty clothes in the hamper instead of at the hamper."

9. Sometimes being a wife feels more like being a mother. (See numbers 7 and 8.)

10. A love note on the refrigerator will help most wives forget about a lot of the little things their husbands often forget to do.

11. No matter how big the bed, one of you will end up tethering on the edge with no covers and an elbow in your back. If my husband hadn't insisted we get a king size bed, I'd be sleeping on the floor.

12. Using all the hot water is almost unforgivable.

13. If you don't have to get up at the same time, separate alarm clocks come highly recommended.

14. Love really is blind. My husband thinks I look best first thing in the morning — except for the morning he used all the hot water.

15. Hearing your husband boast about your cooking sounds just as nice as him calling you the prettiest girl at the party.

16. The time that you have to just sit together and talk is time to be treasured.

17. There is no such thing as happily ever after, but being married is much better than being single — if you're married to the right person.

Civitan Appreciate Help

To the editor: Perhaps as you and other citizens of Davie County and Mocksville have visited various restaurants and other businesses around town, you have noticed blue plastic collection boxes filled with mints. These boxes are placed and maintained by the Mocksville Civitan Club. Money collected from these boxes is used in mental retardation research.

The main purpose of this letter is to express the club's deep appreciation to all those businesses who allowed us to place boxes in their establishments. Without them this project would be doomed. Also to every citizen who has ever dropped a penny, nickel, dime, quarter or even the occasional dollar bill into one of these boxes, a heartfelt "thank you". Every cent helps.

Mothers Deserve Recognition

To the Editor: This Sunday, May 10, all across America people will be honoring that special woman that has made a difference in their lives, their mothers.

This Sunday after honoring my wife, Reva, and my mother-in-law, Carol, and after making a trip to the grave site to place flowers on my mother's grave, I would like to honor yet another woman in my life, that has made a difference just as my wife, mother-in-law, and mother has and that woman is my sister, Sue Callison. The only daughter of James Marjorie Meadows out of five children, Sue has not only been there for my wife and I after we lost our son to a full-term still born nine years ago, she has also been there for my other three brothers as well; when the two older brothers Kermit and Donnie were in the hospital, there was Sue, when my brother next to me Ronnie, became a daddy, Sue was there.

And while being a career woman, a super wife, full-time mother, and a terrific grandmother, Sue has had to deal with the extra pressure of being the administrator of mom's estate.

Finally, after a very long year and a half of hard work, scraping for money to make Mom's house payment and the other bills left by mom, and being let down time and time again when the estate looked like it was ready to put to rest, Sue has hung in there like a pro; taking the hits, getting back up, not to quit (although she felt like it at times); but to try again.

I appreciate everything that Sue has done and I speak for my other three brothers when I say: We are honored to have Sue Callison for our sister, and that we probably couldn't have dealt with the job as well or handle the pressure like Sue did.

But, now that the estate has been settled earlier this year, there is good news to report. Sue and her family are now picking up the pieces of being a normal family again.

And, I personally want to say, thanks sis for your dedication and hard work on the estate, and I know both Dad and Mom are both smiling down at you. I love you very much; and Happy Mother's Day, Sis.

Thanks to volunteer efforts, some of Davie County's most special children are making new friends.

Mentally and physically disabled people are often limited in their opportunities for friendship but not their desire to have friends. Helping the disabled to feel a part of mainstream society is the goal of the Davie County Special Friends program which started about a year ago, according to volunteer coordinator Karen Deadmon.

The Davie Special Friends held their first social April 17, at the Brock Gym, with the first five special friends, volunteers and board members in attendance. The group enjoyed a meal of pizza and doughnuts and played basketball.

The social was planned to give volunteers and special friends a chance to get acquainted and match up for the coming year, Deadmon explained.

Last year, more than 30 bands from four states competed, in addition to bands and musicians from Davie and surrounding counties.

"We want to give you a special

Similar to the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program, volunteers spend time with their special friends at least once a month and talk with them at least once a week.

The first group of special friends is made up of students from the Davie County schools. As the program grows, Deadmon said it should be open to all ages.

Volunteers must complete a training program before being matched with a special friend.

The Special Friends Board of Directors meets each month. Members are Mike Garner, Tracy Poindexter, Kathy Erb, Jill Gaither, Dr. Nancy Dominique, Pam Jewell and Marlene Shamel.

For more information about the program, call the Mocksville-Davie Parks and Recreation Department at 336-751-2325 and ask for Karen Deadmon or Mike Garner.

'Giant' Bingo Friday For Pool Fund

New counter-tops and outdoor carpet are being installed at the swimming pool. Electrical work must be done at the bath house to remedy a dangerous situation, according to Town Commissioner Lynn Rumley.

The board unanimously approved an expenditure of $1,550 for the electrical work.

The Friends of the Pool will sponsor a giant bingo game at the VFV May 2. Raffle tickets are on sale for $1. First prize is a season pass to the pool or $100 cash. There are several other smaller cash prizes or passes to the pool also. A drawing will be held at the Bingo event, Rumley reported. The group hopes to raise enough money for a pool vacuum.

Opening day at the pool will be May 23.

Inmates Cleaning Up Park, Pool

The town has utilized 540 free man hours using inmates, according to Commissioner Jim Wishon. Projects include renovations at the park, tennis courts and pool. They have painted in all these areas and cleaned behind the shopping center.

So far about 100 gallons of paint and five loads of mulch have been used. For these supplies and equipment, the town has spent about $2,300 and has provided the workers with a meal each week, he said.

Bids Sought For Sidewalk Work

No bids had been received as of the meeting for repairs on town sidewalks. Wishon said he had asked for those bidding to give one bid for the entire project and another per square foot.

Centennial Committee Given $4,000

The board voted earlier to donate $5,000 to the centennial project of which $1,000 has already been earmarked to help pay for a mural to be painted on a wall at the mill.

The board approved a motion made by Commissioner John Chandler to give the remaining $4,000 to the Centennial Committee. Plans for the money include the purchase of 20 sets of pole hangers for lamp posts on the streets, which will become a permanent fixture; moving of the water wheel from the mill to the Zachary House lawn; purchase of historical marker signs and advertising.

New Radio For Police Car Approved

The board voted to purchase a police radio for a patrol car that will be purchased in the next fiscal year.

According to Police Chief Tim Wooten, a closeout sale will allow him to get a radio matching those in the other two cars for about $320 if he purchases it by April 30. They usually cost more than $700.

The radio will be purchased with drug forfeiture money, said Commissioner Bill Gibson.

Easter Egg Hunt Successful

The Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the town, which was held at the Zachary House April 11, was a success with the Easter Bunny coming up from the holler and 106 children participating, Rumley said.

Financial Report Approved

The town has $5,134.89 in checking; $199,595.72 in premium savings; and $80,915.97 in Powell Bill savings, according to Town Clerk Dolly Campbell. Her report was approved unanimously.

County Briefs

Waste Collection Franchises Awarded

The board voted unanimously to renew the one year contracts of solid waste collection franchises, Davie Sanitation Inc., Browning-Ferris Industries, Waste Industries of the Triad, Waste Management of the Piedmont and Benfield Sanitation Services. Conditions placed on the companies were that there would be no minimum or maximum rate, all garbage in unincorporated Davie County is disposed of at the solid waste facility on Dalton Road and franchises provide the county with a schedule of disposal dates.

Contract With EWR Is Approved

EWR has been handling the complete land application program of biosolids produced at the Cooleemee Sewage Treatment Plant for many years, according to County Manager Ken Windley, who recommended the contract be renewed.

Commissioners voted unanimously to renew EWR's contract for five years with a price per gallon increase based on the Consumer Price Index.

Advance Rezoning Request Denied

The board voted unanimously to deny a request by Jeff and Darryl Hayes to rezone a quarter acre on N.C. 801 in Advance near Peoples Creek Road from residential to highway business for an auto sales lot.

Several residents from the area spoke in opposition, saying the tract is surrounded by historical homes. There are many available spots more suitable for a car lot, said Elaine Strider. The petitioners did not attend the meeting to address the board.

Rezoning Request Back To Planners

A request by David and Carla Harmon to rezone 3.72 acres on N.C. 801 at Joe Road from residential-agricultural to highway business to operate a towing business and auto storage lot has been remanded to the Davie County Planning Board for further study.

Commissioner Richard Poindexter made the motion, telling David Harmon he would feel more comfortable if the request was for special use. Harmon said he did not want to make a special use request because he later hopes to open a small repair shop. The Harmon's live on the property.

Final Plats For Oak Valley Approved

The board voted unanimously to approve final plats for the Scottsdale subdivision, which includes 19 lots, and Broadmoor with 11 lots, in the Oak Valley development.

Chamber To Receive More Money

The board voted unanimously to split the room occupancy and tourism development funds equally with the Chamber of Commerce. Prior to this, the county was keeping two-thirds of these funds.

The Chamber will use the money primarily for advertising, according to County Finance Officer Jim Stockert.

Board Appointments Are Made

The board voted unanimously to make the following appointments:
• Wayne Boger was reappointed to a three year term of the Davie County Board of Adjustment.
• David Platt was reappointed to the Pilot View RC&D Board, which has no term limit.
• John Thomas of the Davie campus of Davidson County Community College was appointed to the Workforce Development Board as a community college representative.

County Budget Workshops Scheduled

Commissioners agreed to conduct budget workshops for next year's budget May 11 at 6 p.m., May 18 at 2 p.m., and May 20 at 6 p.m.

Sewer Connections To Be Discussed

Members of the Hidden Creek Home Owners Association hope to get the same sewer tap-on fees given to residents of Oak Valley. Chairman Joe Long said it should be included on the agenda at the May 4 meeting.

Clemmons Curb Market is ready for Mother's Day

Boston Ferns, Bougainvilleas, Cascading Petunias and New Guinea Impatiens are just a sampling of the hanging baskets Clemmons Curb Market has available for Mother's Day. If a hanging basket isn't what you have in mind for Mom, how about a floral wrapped geranium, fruit basket, or bedding plants in bloom. Where else can you buy a locally grown plant for a delightfully low price?

Owner Tom Miller and family grow most of the beautiful plants available at Clemmons Curb Market in their own greenhouses. Therefore, the Millers are able to offer their quality plants at prices much lower than other stores that buy plants from outside suppliers.

Located at 2690 Lewisville-Clemmons Road, Clemmons Curb Market has been in business for four years. The store is open from March through December and offers seasonal flowers and fresh produce for retail and wholesale sales. Mary Spough, the store manager, is always happy to answer questions and offer friendly advice about plant care. Tom Miller is also at the store in the evenings and on weekends to help customers.

During the summer, the Millers supply the market with homegrown fruits and vegetables such as cantaloupes, watermelons, tomatoes, cucumbers and squash from their own fields also located in Clemmons.

Fruit baskets are a specialty for Clemmons Curb Market. You can add a jar of honey, homemade jelly, including a "no sugar" variety, and sugarfree candy to any basket to make a great gift for any occasion.

Potting soil, flower and vegetable seeds, peat moss, straw and fertilizers are also available to customers as a great convenience in one-stop shopping for landscaping and beautifying their lawns.

Clemmons Curb Market is open seven days a week from 9 a.m. until. The telephone number is 766-3014.

The Millers welcome everyone to stop in and see the beautiful flowers and fresh produce. Customers can also visit the Millers on the weekends at Cook's Flea Markets I and II in Winston-Salem.

Congratulations
Bobby Knight (right) is congratulated on winning the county commissioner race by Kent and Marianna Mathewson of Bermuda Village. Knight, of Mocksville, carried all but one of the Davie precincts en route to a convincing victory from Davie voters Tuesday. Michael Allen was also elected to the board, defeating incumbent Larry Hayes, who finished third in the voting.

Carter Leads All Voters In Board Of Education Race

Carter, an Advance resident, was at the polls with his parents, his wife, and 5-year-old son Matthew.

"Daddy, did you know you won the election?" a proud Matthew asked his dad after the votes were counted.

Carter said he was anxious to get started. One of the most important decisions facing the board of education is the location for a new elementary school. Carter has advocated the Fork Church area to draw students away from the crowded schools in Mocksville, Shady Grove and Cooleemee.

"That seems like where it's got to go," he said. Carter surveyed the election results for other races and said he was amazed at the strength of the Farmington precinct, which voted heavily for him and incumbent Sheriff Allen Whitaker, a Farmington native.

"Farmington has come of age," he said. "It's the new center of Davie County politics. Farmington wanted their Farmington sheriff."

Whitaker Re-Elected As Sheriff

The Davie County sheriff's race was a race to the finish. Only when he'd heard the final tally of votes could Sheriff Allen Whitaker breathe a sigh of relief, as he narrowly edged out opponent, Andy Stokes, in the Republican primary Tuesday.

Trailing in votes until the results from the final three precincts were announced, the incumbent Whitaker claimed 50.9 percent of the vote with 2,131 votes over Stokes' 2,053.

Stokes carried the vote from six precincts, leading Whitaker by more than 200 in Mocksville and 100 in Cooleemee. Whitaker led in votes in eight precincts, defeating Stokes by 223 votes in Farmington.

Whitaker is excited to have another four years to serve the people of Davie County and appreciates their support, he said.

During the three years and five months he has served as sheriff, Whitaker said he has kept his promises. Standing outside the courthouse after the results were announced, opponent Andy Stokes thanked family and friends for their support.

"It was a privilege to run," Stokes said. "I have found out just how fine this county is."

The drug problem in Davie County was the focus of his campaign. If he has raised awareness about that problem, his campaign was a success, he said.

Whitaker will run unopposed in the general election in November.

General Assembly Expects $140 Million More In Revenues

N.C. General Assembly budget officials informed House Appropriations Chairman that they can expect an additional $140 million in revenues this year, and the number is expected to rise.

This comes as both good news and bad news. It sets the stage for a major philosophical debate between the Republican led House and the Democrat controlled Senate, said Rep. Julia C. Howard (R-Davie).

"This extra revenue further proves that we can and should provide tax relief to the citizens of North Carolina," said Howard. "It looks like there will be a fight between those of us who want to cut taxes and control growth of government, and the liberal big spenders who can't wait to get their hands on your money."

Earlier this year, the House has proposed increasing the Rainy Day Fund, a reserve for emergencies.

"Increasing the Rainy Day Fund is the fiscally responsible thing to do. We should set more money aside in order to prepare for future downturns in the economy. We cannot afford reckless and foolish spending just because the economy is good and the money is there," said Howard.

Pitchers Pave The Way For War Eagles; Playoffs Begin

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

If Ryan Desnoyers' masterpieces were the type that could be hung on a wall, the senior right-hander for Davie's baseball team would have enough to decorate a good-sized room.

On the heels of a one-hit shutout against Reynolds two weeks ago, Desnoyers completed a whirlwind eight-day mission last week by tossing a five-hitter in a 6-1 win over South Stokes and a four-hitter in a 13-0 romp over West Forsyth. Mixed in, and somewhat overshadowed, was a three-hit, complete-game gem by Victor Patti, who rediscovered his tilling fastball and pitched Davie to a 6-2 victory over West Forsyth.

Those brilliant outings paved the playoff road for Davie's sizzling baseball team, which cemented the No. 2 seed and a first-round bye for this week's Central Piedmont Conference Tournament at Rich Park. Davie (14-6 overall, 7-3 CPC) faced the West Forsyth-South Rowan winner at 5 p.m. in Wednesday's semifinals, with the survivor advancing to Friday's finals at 7 p.m. Unless the fourth, fifth or sixth team pulls off an improbable tournament title, Davie will host Crest, the Northwest Conference's second seed, in the first round of the state playoffs May 12 at 7 p.m.

Phillip Rogers graduated last spring, but Desnoyers is doing his best to imitate the pitcher who became a curveball and offspeed master. Desnoyers made quick work out of West Forsyth, facing only three batters above the minimum 18 in the six-inning slaughter.

"Ryan is our version of Rogers," Coach Jerry Walsler said of Desnoyers, who won his third game in eight days, improved to 6-1 and lowered his ERA to 2.54 over 41 1/3 innings. "We know that he could get people out. We had tried to keep his pitches down as much as possible so he would be fresh at the end."

"We can't ask much more from him. His last three appearances, he's been extremely sharp. He really understands how to pitch. He realizes that he needs to work hitters in different locations at different speeds."

Besides Rogers, Desnoyers also sees a mini-version of someone else, someone almost bigger than life.

"If you've got to make a comparison, Greg Maddux (of the Atlanta Braves) does the same thing," Walsler said. "That kind of opened up the floodgates a little bit, and maybe got their pitcher (Scottie Leftwich) down a little bit."

"If you've got to make a comparison, Greg Maddux does the same thing. He puts his pitches where he wants them at the speed he wants them, and that's what Ryan (Desnoyers) is doing."

- Coach Jerry Walsler

Seldom in a yawning rout does one hit stand above the others, but Steven Nail's clutch, bases-loaded hit in the third is an exception. With Davie clinging to a 1-0 lead and two out, Nail slapped a two-run single to right-center that triggered the blowout.

"There's no question about it, that was the big hit of the game," Walsler said. "That kind of opened up the floodgates a little bit, and maybe got their pitcher (Scottie Leftwich) down a little bit."

Nail's hit made it 3-0 and it was 13-0 before West could say "Our prom was last night."

Charles Miller's SAC fly and Drew Ridenhour's double increased the margin to 5-0 in the fourth. Desnoyers' groundball single made it 6-0 in the fifth, and the War Eagles pounded the Titans into submission in the sixth, sending 13 men to the plate and tacking on seven more runs.

As it turned out, Brian Campbell provided the only run that was required to beat a reeling Titan team. He lined a solo homer over the left-center field fence in the second inning, his first hit in a 3-for-4 day that included a line-drive double.

"Brian is a fabulous athlete," Walsler said. "I don't think people realize how good an athlete he is, not to mention a pretty good baseball player. His home run kind of got everything rolling a little bit."

Davie got two hits from Ridenhour and Desnoyers and one each from Jeremy Helton, Scott Cornatzer and Jonathan Creason.

Taking Matters Into His Own Hands
Desnoyers did everything but drag the field against South Stokes, striking a three-run homer and striking out eight in a complete-game five-hitter. Davie won 6-1.

After Nail's single and Campbell's double, the free swinging Desnoyers, who's hitting .429, cranked his first homer of the year.

"One of the best things about Ryan is he's so relaxed and so confident in himself," Walsler said. "He hit some home runs this past summer and in the fall, I knew he had some of that ability, and finally he's getting enough at-bats where he can do those things."

Then he went back to devastating the Sauras with his trademark junk. Walsler and pitching coach Mike Lovelace decided that junk was best after rallying for a 7-5 win at South in early April.

"They are a good hitting team," Walsler said. "As soon as we pulled one out over there, the first thing Lovelace and I said was: 'Next time we play them, Ryan is the person that needs to pitch against them.' He's just the type of pitcher that they do not hit very well. He is the perfect medicine for a team that swings the bat like South does. Just like I think he's probably the perfect medicine to get us out."

Desnoyers lost his bid for a third shutout in the seventh, when he and catcher Campbell got crossed up on the signs, resulting in a wild pitch that allowed South to score from third.

Softball Team Nearly Foils Unbeaten Foe

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

After a lackluster 13-3 loss to South Stokes in early April, most folks probably assumed that Davie's varsity softball team would fold like a cheap suit in last week's rematch at Rich Park.

Instead of folding, the War Eagles nearly foiled the Sauras' unbeaten record in the Central Piedmont Conference. South needed a fourth-inning rally to upend improved Davie 5-2 and prevent the War Eagles from possibly grabbing a share of the regular-season title. Instead of folding, the War Eagles continued their rise. Coach Darrell Steele's young, but immensely talented, girls took a step in the right direction when they hammered 3-A powerhouse North Davidson 12-0 five weeks ago.

Although they lost, they may have taken a bigger step last week. "South Stokes is probably one of the top three teams in the state," Steele said, "but they know we're coming. Overall, you couldn't ask for more right now, being 7-2 and 11-5. The program's really getting better."

The program's getting deeper, too. Steele has several qualified assistants and staple of future stars on Bill Meadows' lethal JV team.

"I've got some good help or a continuation of good help with Jim Sanders, Mark Whiteley and Keith Handy, and I've got some young girls that can play this game," Steele said. "The JV team (13-1) is also pretty loaded, so they'll be for the next five or six years that we're going to be pretty good."

The Sauras are extremely good, but more than anything, they had luck on their side against Davie. Ahead 2-0 with two outs in the fourth, a bloop hit essentially spoiled Davie's upset plans.

"A little ole blooper fell in the shallow outfield," Steele said. "Ashley Sanders made a heck of a play to get to it. They ball hit her glove, then hit her knee and dropped. They scored two runs and that tied it up."

Davie Soccer Team Ties Tabor

Reynolds' soccer team was pushed by Davie last week, and pushed hard. Reynolds dominated Davie 4-0 in the first meeting, but this time the Demons fell to the War Eagles coming. (The difference) is very clear," said Coach Pete Gustafson. "Our team was very physical. We weren't getting pushed around. We were doing some of the pushing, legally. We were being very aggressive."

Gustafson gushed with pride following Davie's recent 0-0 tie with Tabor, but he witnessed an even guster exhibition with Reynolds.

"We had a lot of heart," he said. "Tabor was a great performance, but this one was even better. It was just the hardest fought game that I can remember and very exciting. It was just wonderful. I've seen many a college game that wasn't as good as this one. It was just a good game up and down the field."

Reynolds jumped Davie right off the bat, scoring in the opening minute of the game, and padded the margin to 2-0 at the 12-minute mark.

"I'm fully convinced that if that game was a few minutes longer, we would have tied them," said Gustafson, whose club fired 23 shots to Reynolds' 24. "These were valuable lessons to these girls, to know that if we can play to that magnitude that we can open that door to the playoffs."

After seizing a commanding first-half lead against South Rowan, Davie basically went through the motions in a 3-0 victory that preceded the much-anticipated date with Reynolds.

Gustafson concluded that the War Eagles played South thought about Reynolds.

"I don't know what the deal was, whether it was South Rowan or us?" he said. "I thought in the second half we relaxed a little bit. I think at that point, mentally they were getting prepared for Reynolds the next night. We were up 3-0 and kind of just breezed through it."

Hannah Woodward, Sarah Jackson and Beckerman provided the goals for Davie, which outshot South 40-3.

Girls Track Team Puts On Gutsy Performance

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

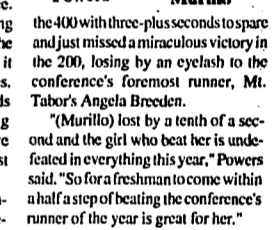

In the aftermath of the Davie girls track team's gutsy performance in last week's Central Piedmont Conference meet, Coach Cary Powers reflected back with a big smile on his face and peace in his heart.

"Going into the meet, we calculated that we were supposed to finish fifth," said Powers, whose upstart girls finished just 4.5 points out of third place. "Third would have been outstanding but I'm pleased. The girls just had the best meet they've had all year. I think it was just heart over ability a lot of times. We just wanted it more and the kids just gave all they had. I've got nothing to complain about. Everybody have 100 percent. As a coach, you just dream of that."

Samantha Murillo exhibited high-level skills that have lifted her to immediate stardom as a freshman. She won the 400 with three-plus seconds to spare and just missed a miraculous victory in the 200, losing by an eyelash to the conference's foremost runner, Mt. Tabor's Angela Breeden.

"(Murillo) lost by a tenth of a second and the girl who beat her is undefeated in everything this year," Powers said. "So for a freshman to come within a half a step of beating the conference's runner of the year is great for her."

Davie Tracksters Heading To Regionals At Mt. Tabor

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

The Davie boys track team's undefeated season is over, but the season is long from over. The War Eagles, coming off a heartbreaking 167-158 loss to Mt. Tabor in last week's Central Piedmont Conference meet, will take the largest group in recent memory to Saturday's regionals at Tabor.

"I like our chances in the regionals if we do what we're supposed to do. That's the key," Coach Scott Young said. "We've got a shot to be competitive. We're taking the largest crowd that we've ever taken before. We could take as many as 17."

Proving that an early-season upset of Tabor wasn't a fluke, a few War Eagles turned in uncharacteristically low scores and Davie was still able to take the Spartans down to the wire.

"I was disappointed and a number of our boys were disappointed," Young said. "We felt we could have run a little bit better, performed a little better, and maybe have won it."

"We had a couple guys that had some bad days and it ended up hurting the whole team. But that's the whole idea of the team concept. Any kind of team sport, when you're competing together as a team, if one of you has a bad day the team can have a bad day and that's what happened."

Young watched a different race this time. In years past, Tabor has turned the CPC's main event into a repetitive joke. Young's troops stopped the recent trend.

cause every year I've been here it's been Mt. Tabor winning it and it's been a two-to-four team race for second place. And we've been in that two-to-four team race for so long," he said.

Please See Boys - Page B7

Who's Hot ...

South Davie's Andrew Daywalt took a robust .621 batting average into the final regular-season game.

Davie's boys track team swept two of the CPC's three awards, with Scott Young being named coach of the year and Garick Hill being named runner of the year.

Jessica Whitely threw a two-hitter and guided Davie's softball team to pivotal 6-2 victory over West Forsyth.

Davie pitcher Ryan Desnoyers, who picked up three wins in eight days, hasn't allowed an earned run in three starts and Victor Patti led Davie to a huge win over West Forsyth, throwing a three-hitter and striking three hits.

Freshman Samantha Murillo of Davie's girls track team became conference champion in the 400 and came within a tenth of a second from winning the 200.

Davie Golfers In Battle For Berth

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie's golf team has met last year's conference championship standards, but you wouldn't know it by looking at the Central Piedmont Conference's scoreboard.

"Our scoring average is the same as it was last year, 39.65," said Coach David Rondstedt, whose team needed to overcome a 10-stroke deficit this week to nail down the third and final regional berth. "Our scoring average is good, it just shows you the kind of caliber of kids that are in this conference."

Mt. Tabor has hid from the pack, leading second-place South Stokes by 20 shots heading into last Tuesday's 18-hole CPC showdown at Advance's Oak Valley. Meanwhile, three teams—South Stokes, West Forsyth and Davie—are fighting for two regional spots.

If someone would have told Rondstedt before the year that Davie's young team would match last year's performance level, he would have expected nothing less than a full-blown battle for the league title. That's not the case in the one of the state's strongest leagues.

"I figured it would be a little closer than this," Rondstedt said. "I just didn't count on the fact that Mt. Tabor would have some kids to shoot consistently under par. That just shows you that there are very, very strong golfers, and that's not any discredit to our kids. The Central Piedmont just happens to be probably the toughest conference in the state."

When Rondstedt looks for an explanation, he looks at Tabor. The War Eagles, particularly sophomore Shawn Brooks, have performed beyond their years.

"I mean, our kids are shooting well," he said. "You'd normally think that any team shooting under 40 for a scoring average is going to be right in the hunt. Brooks is playing phenomenal. He's solid and hanging right in there. Kyle Keepers is playing good golf again."

Inconsistency has hurt the scores of freshman Josh Lackey and sophomore James Stewart, who would be right in the mix with leader Brooks if he could wipe out a hole or two.

"Josh has been playing good golf but has had a bad hole here or there," Rondstedt said. "So has James. He's been struggling with like 39, 40, 41. If he can eliminate a few bad holes, he'll be in good shape."

Davie played nine holes at Pilot Knob on Monday and 18 at Oak Valley on Tuesday, make-or-break shootouts that settled big issues.

"That's 27 holes of golf, which can make up for a lot of shots," said Rondstedt, who all but conceded the CPC crown to Tabor. "They'd really have to fall apart in the next two matches. But, you know, that's not unheard of either."

Rain Dance: Wildcats Slog To Third Victory

When you play about one game every 12 days, any win feels good. North Davie's soccer team was just glad to be out there, even if it meant slipping and sliding to a 2-0 waterlogged victory against Mooresville last week.

"We've been practicing for two months and played five games. That's frustrating," said Coach Sean Garnett, whose boredom-struck team improved to 3-2.

On an unpredictable day, North's players dressed according to the warm morning weather. By game time that afternoon, the weather had turned to messy, winter-like conditions.

"It was a good win just because it started raining," Garnett said. "Earlier in the day, it was real warm so none of the girls brought any warm stuff to wear. It must have been 40 degrees out there and raining. It was freezing cold, so it was real tough conditions to play under."

And as a result, the Wildcats slipped in some areas, a somewhat flawed, but yet acceptable, outing that Garnett saw coming.

"We played all right," he said. "We kind of had some downfalls against a lesser-skilled team, which happens a lot."

drowned Mooresville, scoring the only goal required 20 minutes into the match. Slacey Handy scored later for good measure.

"Allison got hurt 15 minutes into the game, then went back into the game and hit a really good shot," Garnett said. "She had a lot of power behind it, a nice goal."

"We controlled most of the game. They may have had three or four shots. Weather permitting, the Wildcats will play seven more matches, a stretch that started with a three-game week. They visited Forsyth Country Day and hosted Calvary in a makeup game earlier this week. They'll travel to Calvary this Thursday.

Wildcat Baseball Team Extends Losing Streak To Seven, Falls In Three

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

The first two games of a three-game week epitomized the entire season for North Davie's softball team: "The Wildcats can't play a game without ruining everything with one horrid inning."

Senger Defeated In Tennis Finals

Russell Senger of Davie's tennis team expected nothing less than a march into the finals of the Central Piedmont Conference Tournament. He expected, however, to finish more positively. Mt. Tabor's Justin Roberson, a nemesis who is responsible for three of Senger's five losses, pounded the Davie senior 10-2 in the finals.

"I knew I'd make it to the finals. I was just hoping I'd play better in the finals," he said. "Roberson's pretty good. He's a better player than me, but I think I could get him sometime."

After a first-round bye, Senger (8-5 record) put feisty Jason Whitler of Tabor away 10-4 in the semifinals. Whitler's backhand strategy tested Senger's patience.

"I should have beaten him a little bit worse," he said. "He was a guy that just hits it back every time. Most of the time (those type of players) give me trouble."

Senger qualified him for this weekend's regionals at UNC-Greensboro. ... Doubles team Jon Rowe and Charlie Schaefer squeaked past their first-round opponents 10-8, but they were defeated in the next round and then ousted in the loser's bracket.

They suffered three more losses that stretched their losing streak to a depressing seven games, but Coach Jim Brunelli found a positive spin in an otherwise messy month.

"One thing I am proud of: Every game they've been improving," he said after North lost 9-7 to West Rowan, 11-

5 to Kannapolis and 8-0 to Erwin. North would like to do something about the seventh inning with West Rowan. The game was tied 6-6 after six, but the Bulldogs took over during crunch time, scoring three times in the top of the seventh and making the Wildcats pay on a bang-bang play at the plate in the bottom half.

With runners at second and third and one out, a North runner tried to score from third on a wild pitch. But a slight hesitation from the instant the ball squirted past the catcher proved fatal. "He hesitated and ended up getting thrown out at the plate," Brunelli said. "A split second. A split second here or there and we would have had it.

North played the decisive seventh, Outside of the decisive seventh, North played respectable ball behind Brad Blackwelder's adequate outing on the mound.

Dan Sullivan shined at the plate, going 3 for 4. Doug Smith and Josh Golding contributed two hits apiece and Donnie Vestal and Colt Stanley added one each.

A couple of rough innings haunted North against Kannapolis, which rallied from a 5-2 deficit with four game-

Davie Residents Perform Well At Park

Davie County residents continue to perform well at Concord Motorsports Park.

A.J. Sanders finished third, Archie Sanders finished fourth, Brad Smith finished fifth, and Glenn Mixon finished 18th after being involved in an accident in the Mini-Stock division. Robbie Thies finished 24th after suffering mechanical problems in the Late Model division on April 25.

The First Annual Davie Law and Lawyer Softball Tournament will be held May 9 at Rich Park.

swinging runs in the fifth and five clinching runs in the sixth. Starter Nick Raby had everything under control until he unleashed a mistake pitch that was parked over the fence for a three-run, game-tying homer in the fifth. Later in the inning, the Blue Devils moved ahead 6-5 and never looked back.

Justin Danson led with two hits and Vestal and Brandon Gentry added one each.

First-place Erwin's outstanding starting pitcher prevented North from blowing the game in the blink of an eye. In a soaked five-inning affair that was stopped prematurely because of a steady downpour, the pitcher tossed a no-hitter and recorded 10 of the 15 outs courtesy of the strikeout. It's no fun to play in the rain. It's downright miserable losing in the rain, especially when making contact becomes a daunting task.

In the season finale last Tuesday, the Wildcats (3-7) hosted High-Point Wesleyan, one of three teams that they've managed to defeat. Brunelli hoped to see the type of progress that North showed in the early innings against West Rowan and Kannapolis.

"I told everybody at the beginning of the year that I'd like to win, but at this level it's all about learning and I think they've learned a lot this year," he said. "At least I'm hoping they did. Sometimes they show it, sometimes they don't, but we've improved a lot since day one."

Rich Park Hosting CPC Softball, Baseball Tournament This Week

Rich Park is the Central Piedmont Conference's tournament host for baseball and fast-pitch softball games that are being played throughout this week.

Tigers Shoot For Playoffs

Now that they've been eliminated from the conference championship chase, the South Davie Tigers still had another target to shoot for in their final regular-season game of the year.

"We're probably going to have to beat West Rowan to get in (the Piedmont Middle School Conference playoffs)," said South Davie baseball coach Grimes Parker, whose club squandered an early lead and slipped 13-5 to frontrunner Erwin last week, creating a crucial contest with West Rowan that quite possibly decided the final slots in the four-team postseason tournament.

"I don't know how many of the other teams have lost, but after Mooresville and Erwin, every team's lost about three or four. We've still got a good chance (to qualify) I think."

The opening round of the PMSC tournament is scheduled for May 12 at host Erwin.

The Tigers flirted with a major upset for three innings, leading perennial power Erwin 3-0, but the Eagles figured out pitcher Andrew Daywalt and wounded South with seven fourth-inning runs that changed the game's tone for good.

"Well, they hit the ball," Parker said. "They started hitting Andrew and he walked a few." The Tigers (5-3 record) closed to 7-4 but they forfeited their comeback chances by stranding runners. But Parker acknowledged that Erwin's performance level probably contributed to that shortcoming.

The finals for both tournaments are scheduled for Friday at 7 p.m. Davie High Athletic Director Buddy Lowery and Assistant AD David Hunt are permitted to only accept passes from the state and CPC.

"We just couldn't hit with people on base," he said. "We've got to be more consistent with men on base and try to get them around better."

"And they're a good team. Their pitcher threw strikes and that's what he needed to do."

JV Team Holds On For Win Over West

The Davie JV baseball team's final two games adequately described the War Eagles' wild season.

Fitcher J.C. Willard had a two-hitter through four innings against South Stokes, but trailed 3-4 and eventually took the loss in an 11-4 decision. Davie and West Forsyth combined for 13 runs in the first two and a half innings. But, oddly enough, neither team scored the rest of the way as Davie held on for a 7-6 win, improving the War Eagles' one-run record to 7-2, including 5-2 in the Central Piedmont Conference.

Davie and West Forsyth were set to meet again last Monday but the game was cancelled because of Sunday's rain, ending Davie's entertaining season at 10-8 overall and 6-3 in the CPC.

Willard and the War Eagles led South Stokes 4-2 after three and a half innings, when the Saura pitcher took over with the bat. He stroked leading homers in the fourth and fifth, fueling a comeback win that was littered with Davie errors.

"The errors are what killed us more than anything," Coach Lee Linville said. "We were up, then the bottom fell out. We kicked a couple of balls around at the wrong time. We just didn't make the plays we had to make."

Jeremiah Creason had two hits and Brad Willard, Clint Bailey, Russ Smith and Willard had one apiece.

The Titans stung starter Creason with six runs over the first two innings to take a 6-1 lead, but Linville stuck with his ace and watched the War Eagles respond with three third-inning runs that proved to be the difference.

"The second inning is when I had my doubts (about Creason)," he said. "He gave up five hits in the first two innings but only one the rest of the way. After the second, he looked real good."

His varsity future also looks good. "I think he's going to help the varsity pitching-wise," Linville said. "He throws a heavy baseball, a heavy sinker. He works real hard and makes the batters work to put it in play."

Davie took a 2-0 lead in the top of the first on Zeke Earle's two-run home run. After West answered with two of its own, Bailey, Matt Dalton and David Nail delivered hits that resulted in two runs for a 4-2 lead.

Davie finished off the Titans in the third. Andrew Jones singled, Chad Johnson reached on an infield error and Creason loaded the bases with an infield hit. Then Bailey tied the game with a two-run single and Dalton polished off West with a run-scoring single.

Baseball School Planned

The Doyle Baseball School will hold a camp for ages 7 and older from June 8-12 at the Davie County Youth Park from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. each day.

Early tuition is $185 per player.

There will be a baseball camp at Rich Park from July 13-17.

Mocksville-Davie American Legion baseball coach George Daywalt, Davie's Jerry Walsler and Glenn's Dale James, among others, will instruct the camp. The camp, which costs $50 and is offered to ages 9-15, will run from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. each day.

The registration deadline is June 26. There are limited spaces available. Call the Mocksville-Davie Parks and Recreation Department (751-2325) to register.

Patti Leads Davie To 6-2 Victory

Starting catcher Ridenhour threw two runners trying to steal.

Sometime after hurling an eye-catching three-hitter against Mt. Tabor in late March, Patti's precious pitching and hot hitting disappeared mysteriously.

He returned mysteriously as he left, throwing a three-hitter and rapping three hits in a 6-2 victory over West Forsyth. Patti's rousing comeback had everything to do with movement on his pitches.

"Victor does not throw exceptionally hard and does not have an exceptional breaking pitch. But on his fastball, he's got a lot of run," Walsler said. "For some reason, in his last couple of appearances, he didn't have a lot of run. Tonight it was running. That was the difference and that's what I said to Lovelace in the second inning. I said: 'The run is back and it's great that he's got a confidence builder going into the end." Patti improved to 2-3, lowered his ERA to 4.33, and started to repair his fading batting average. His 3-for-3 night, which included a double and two RBIs, lifted his mark to .391. Walsler wasn't surprised that everything came together at once. "Most of the time in a young high-school player, you're going to find that if the bat is there the field will be there," he said. "If the field is there, the bat will be there. It's hard for these guys to separate the difference between the two and the fact that you've got to do both."

Creason murdered the ball in the ninth slot, scoring a single in the third and a run-scoring triple in the fourth. His only out was a screaming line drive to the shortstop. Shane Allen, Ridenhour and Nail also had hits.

War Eagles Beat West, Take Control Of Second

Steele said, "We probably played the best defense that we've played all year. Sanders made some good catches. Ashley Bracken made a good play at second, and Leann Spillman probably played the best defensive game of her life at shortstop. . . . We kept them off the bases, but (South's) experience just took over." Davie struck first in the first on a two-out infield hit by Melinda Ritchie that followed hits by Dana Smith and Sanders. Davie did some two-out damage in the fourth. Spillman singled and later scored on Handy's hit to left. But South's potent pitcher only allowed one runner to reach — on an error in the seventh — over the final three innings. Later in the week in a crucial second-place showdown with West Forsyth, Whitley pitched the War Eagles to a 6-2 victory. Davie, however, needed to defeat West on Tuesday in a makeup game to nail down the No. 2 seed for this week's CPC Tournament, which is being played at Rich Park. Whitley was overpowering with a two-hit, complete-game gem and Bracken was a terror at the plate, going 3 for 4 with three runs, a double and a triple. Dawn Williamson went 2 for 3 and Smith, Sanders and Kim Reich added one hit each.

Lack Of Firepower Forces JV Soccer To Settle For Tie

Davie's JV soccer team was without two starters against South Rowan, and as a result, without the necessary firepower to defeat the Raiders.

The War Eagles reluctantly settled for a 0-0 tie. "Those (Kristen Clement and Sam Pullen) are two starters," Coach Jeremy Byrds said. "Sara is hurt and Clement was out of town. I feel like we would have beaten them had we had a full team."

On top of that, starter Kaitlin Callahan wasn't her usual self. "Kaitlin came to the game but she just didn't feel good at all, so she had a real tough game," Byrds said. "We didn't play the kind of ball that we can play."

The War Eagles (3-5-1) were closer to full strength later in the week, but it didn't make much difference against a Reynolds team that pulled out a 1-0 victory.

"We played decent," Byrds said. "The girls played well, but again we were missing Sara."

Byrds went to the drawing board and devised a defensive plan that kept Davie in contention. The War Eagles, though, couldn't penetrate the Raiders' sticky defense often enough to generate a serious threat.

"I shuffled things up a little bit and tried to play a real defensive game for a long time," he said. "I pulled Hollie Potts up to midfield and it worked for a while."

Reynolds scored at the 15-minute mark, then dodged a Tanya Berghorn bullet.

"Tanya had a shot that hit the cross bar," Byrds said. "I mean just a real powerful shot. It was a one-on-one with the goalie, but we couldn't pull off a goal."

Hilton, Carter Help Secure Win Over South Stokes

Davie's JV softball team meant it this time and no one meant more than pitcher Kim Hilton, who stymied previously-unbeaten South Stokes by throwing four-hit ball and delivering three hits as the War Eagles fended a late charge and turned back South 6-5. "They wanted the game because it meant (a share) of the conference championship," said Coach Bill Meadows, whose dynamic team avenged an earlier loss to South and improved its records to 13-1 overall and 6-1 in the Central Piedmont Conference. "We hit the ball better (than the first meeting) and came on the field ready to play. We played better defense." Davie's seemingly safe 6-1 lead evaporated in the seventh, when South used three Davie errors to score four runs and close the gap to one run. But outfielder Amber Carter helped seal South's fate with several clutch catches that caught the opposing coach's attention.

"Amber made some outstanding catches, some game-saving catches," Meadows said. "After the game, the other coach said: 'Where is that outfielder? He went up and told her that she played a heck of a game.' Carter also hurt South at the plate, going 2 for 4. Stacy Queen and Brandy Comatzer added one hit apiece. Earlier in the week, Davie dispatched West Forsyth 11-5 in a three-inning, rain-shortened game. West's coach told Meadows to not bother finishing the game at a later date; just take the win. Hilton's hot week started with a 3-for-3 performance and Ember Spillman went 2 for 3. Davie got one hit each from Amanda Bailey, Comatzer, Jerri Ann Angell and Heather Lanning.

Get the 12-Gauge: Creason's On The Loose

Chad McBride and Billy Jones exemplified what teamwork over individualism is all about during the Davie track team's second-place finish in the Central Piedmont Conference meet.

With Davie in the thick of things against eventual winner Mt. Tabor, McBride and Jones unselfishly stepped aside for Kenny Collins and Matt James, who teamed with Clifton Redmon and Ryan Barnes on the victorious 1600 relay team. "McBride and Jones are also apart of that team," Coach Scott Young said. "They knew that those other guys I had available were perhaps a little bit quicker. They've really got the concept of team before self, and I really respect those young men for that. They said: 'Coach, we've got a shot at this thing so let's let Kenny run for me, let's let Matt run for me, and let's try to win this thing.'"

The track team's strong showing, just nine points off Tabor's pace, was all the more impressive considering the competition. "We've got a pretty good track league," Young said. "We're not as strong as maybe some of those leagues in Durham and Charlotte, but in our immediate vicinity we've got probably one of the premier track conferences around. I was real happy with our finish. I just wish we would have had it all clicking, and we would have won the whole thing."

When the chips were down, Davie's baseball team played all the right cards, making in four consecutive wins in the final week of the regular season and securing second place. "We played our cards the way we had to play them," Coach Jerry Walsler said. "We didn't end up winning the regular-season championship, but we came closer than we did last year."

And more cards are coming, possibly many more if the War Eagles march deep into the state playoffs. "This segment of our season has been a success, we're getting ready to go into another segment of our season and we need to be successful in that part — and yet there's even another segment after that," Walsler said. "Really, as far as I look at it, we're about halfway through our season. We've made some tremendous strides in everything that we've done, but I still want to get to where we can be a little bit more consistent."

For whatever reason, the War Eagles smell blood when West Forsyth rolls around. They've defeated Coach Brian Holt's Titans five straight times dating back to last year. "I don't know why but our kids are really, really focussed when we play West Forsyth," Walsler said. "They enjoy the rivalry that's there and enjoy playing against some of the kids that they play with during the summers. It's a lot of things that get our kids' attention and they really enjoy playing them."

During last week's stretch run, starters Ryan Desnoyers and Victor Patti eliminated closers Charles Miller and Drew Ridenhour from the pitching plans. Both freshmen possess great stuff, but the starters, particularly Desnoyers, have finished what they've started every time out. "The thing that's bothering me is Victor and Ryan are pitching so well, and we've got two pretty good closers and we can't get them any work," Walsler said. "If they're out there cruising, why would I (remove them)? Let them go on, get the shutout and be done with it. . . . We've just got to figure out a way to get Miller and Ridenhour some work."

Third baseman Steven Nail is perhaps the quietest cog on Davie's team. He doesn't hit for power, but he's hitting .263 with only four strikeouts in 62 plate appearances. He seldom makes highlight-material plays in the field, but he's incredibly turned every opportunity but one into an out, giving him a team-high fielding average of .977. "Steven handles the bat extremely well," Walsler said. "Whether you're talking about offensively or defensively, Steven isn't anything fancy, he's just solid. He may be as good a contact hitter as we have on our team, so I've been real pleased with Steven. He made an error (Saturday) and it was his first error of the year."

His father, Jim, announced that it was his second error. "By our book, it was his first," Walsler said. "And even if it's two, if you can play 20 games and make two errors I'll take it."

Jonathon Creason ran a stop sign in the first run-in with West Forsyth. On a ball hit into the gap, Creason ignored Walsler's red light and kept coming for third, just beating the throw for the team's second triple of the year. Someone in the stands yelled at Walsler and informed him that it was going to take more than a raised hand to slow the deceptively fast Creason. "Bird (Allred) hollered and told me to get a 12-gauge," Walsler said. "But, you know, I'd miss him."

If you blink, you'll miss Creason darting down the line. "What makes him a better hitter is he can run," Walsler said of his .345 ninth-place hitter. "The average groundballs he can beat out. He can bunt for a hit and that just makes him even more dangerous."

Davie Misses Third Narrowly

Murillo touched off a winning mission by helping Susan Delancy, Tiffany Peoples and Stacy Joyner become conference champions in the 1600 relay.

Mt. Tabor ran away with 154 points. Reynolds was next with 119.5. West Forsyth with 73. Davie with 68.5. South Stokes with 68 and South Rowan with 38.

Powers' only regret: Brooke Gravatt — a long, triple and high jumper — was unable to compete. With a healthy Gravatt, it's likely that Davie would have hurred West Forsyth. "Gravatt has been out sick for two weeks and that was points," he said. "If we would have had Brooke, we would have finished third — no question."

"I'm pleased. I don't like to lose and I would have liked to have finished a little higher, but we exceeded our expectations. This is going to be a team that is going to be with the Tabor and the Reynolds."

Several War Eagles turned in extraordinary scores. "Carrie Shamel, who was ranked 11th going into the discus, ended up in the top seven," Powers said. "Same thing with Abby Brickey, who was 11th in the triple

CPC Honors Hill, Young

Young Hill

One of Scott Young's happiest moments as Davie's track coach had nothing to do with being named the Central Piedmont Conference's coach of the year and everything to do with senior Garick Hill, who was given a runner-of-the-year honor that had been a long time coming.

"I'm honored but that's no big deal to me, and it should be no big deal to anyone," said Young, whose team finished a close second to Mt. Tabor in last week's heated conference meet. "I mean, I'm honored that my peers recognized me, but (Hill's reward) is a lot more pleasing than any award that I might win."

Young campaigned hard for a thoroughbred that needed little campaigning. Hill was never threatened, much less beaten, in the 1600 and 3200 races. But Young fought for his main man anyway, mainly because he felt Hill was snubbed last year.

"I thought he was a shot-in last year, so I lobbied for him," Young said. "He rightfully deserved it. He earned it when you start talking about unbeaten in both events this year and only once-

Boys Claim Seven Events

"Hey, this year we went over and completed for the whole championship. One time they'd announced the score, Tabor would be up. Then they'd announced we were up. So it was back and forth, back and forth."

Davie fielded conference champions in seven events. Garick Hill and Kenny Collins capped dream seasons, finishing unbeaten in two events each. Hill wasn't even challenged in the 1600 and 3200 and Collins ruled the 110 and 300 hurdles. Darian Brown won the 400 dash, Nick Propst took the triple jump and Matt James, Clifton Redmon, Ryan Barnes and Collins captured the 1600 relay. Young believes Propst took the first step toward possible stardom. "Propst is a freshman so we're looking for good things out of him not only in the regionals but for years to come," he said.

Kenny White (second in the discus), J.J. Rice (fourth, discus) Michael Chunn (second, long jump) and Marshall Pitts (fifth, 1600; fifth, 3200) played big roles as well.

Reynolds finished third with 73 points, followed by South Rowan's 63, West Forsyth's 50 and South Stokes' 42.

Davie Teen To Perform At Carowinds Entertainment Show

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

ADVANCE - There will be a bit of Davie County at Carowinds this year.

Jason Barney, a junior at Davie High School, will be singing and dancing and performing at one of the entertainment shows at the theme park. It's something Barney is looking forward to, and something that could lead to a career in the entertainment industry.

"I've never really considered anything like that for a job, but it's coming into a priority for a career," he said. "I like Broadway (songs) the most, and when you mix theater with it, I really like that. I might want to do that later on."

The son of Tommy and Veronica Barney of Major Road, his mother noticed a natural talent in her son at church.

"When he would get up in church and sing, I could see he could carry a tune and wasn't afraid to be in front of people," she said.

They enrolled him with Julie Campbell, a voice teacher in Clemmons.

He's been with her since, going to competitions as well as entertaining at various conventions and other events.

"The first couple of years, I did a lot of competitions," he said. "I started winning and it boosted my confidence a lot. My voice teacher took us around to churches and other little things people asked us to do."

He sang Broadway songs, country music and gospel. He's sang at events as far away as West Virginia and as close as churches just up the road from his home.

It was the voice teacher that told Barney about the auditions for Carowinds. Paramount held the auditions nationwide for all the theme parks.

After missing the local try-out, Barney went to Richmond, Va., along with about 30 or so other contestants. They ranged in age from 16 to 40.

It was just like the movies, Barney said. Contestants stood in front of the judges and began singing. If you didn't pass their standards, you were cut off in the middle of singing and told to leave the stage.

"They made you go in there and sing one minute of a fast song and a ballad. If you qualified for a singing part, you go into acting ... and then to a small choreographed dance part."

Throughout these tests, contestants were asked to leave.

Barney, a member of the forensics team and theater class at Davie High, has performed in local productions of Oliver!, South Pacific and The Music Man.

He sees the Carowinds job as an opportunity, one he's confident he can handle.

"I like to perform. I don't have to like the music, it's acting. People will never know the difference."

Barney cites his family, his parents and sister as his inspirations.

After all, singing is good for you, according to his father. If you go to work and feel bad or under pressure, just start singing and you'll feel better, he said.

It's worked for his son.

Jason Barney is no stranger to performing. He has performed for competitions, in churches and in several Davie High theatrical productions.

Supportive parents, Veronica and Tommy Barney, recognized their son's talent as a singer and enrolled him in voice classes with a teacher in Clemmons.

Barney said trying out for the job at Carowinds was just like try-outs are portrayed in the movies.

What a great service we had on Sunday at Hillsdale. We were treated to some wonderful music and a great sermon. In the absence of our music director Barry Dodson, Brent Helton led our choir and he and his family sang a special song for us. Also, Srieta, who is from Belarus, treated us to a mini concert which was excellent. She truly has a beautiful voice. Srieta is staying in Fayetteville for a while to attend college, she is majoring in music.

Happy Birthday to Pam Parrish, Beverly Dodson, and Jack Barkley. This Sunday on Mother's Day, there will be a baby dedication service during our 10:30 service. Several of our members have been blessed with new babies and we would like to take this opportunity to honor them.

Group Date Results In Marriages; Couples Reunited After 50 Years

They were Verious and Ervin Angell and Lester and Leslie Blackwelder. Today, they are all married to those same girls.

This was the first time that Ervin had dated Peggy Cline. Various was dating Betty Whitaker, and she, being a close friend of Peggy's, arranged their date. Exactly two years later, Lester was married to Ruby Jean Sheets on April 10, 1950. Leslie was married in 1949 to Betty Wyatt who was a friend and neighbor to Ruby Jean. The Angell twin were married in a double ceremony in December 1950.

Davie Seniors Compete For Gold In Local Games

When "Yesterdays Kids" of Davie County are competing in the Senior Games, they don't have their parents (in most cases) or grandparents present to yell for them or criticize them as today's kids have.

They do have the other seniors and their own age group competitors rooting for them on the side-line. Today's kids have been coached and know what they are supposed to do. In some cases, it is the first time a senior has competed in whatever they are doing - but they learn and find out it's lots of fun.

One of the most important things Yesterdays Kids can do is laugh at themselves. And laughter, as well as exercise, is good for their health.

There are so many skilled senior citizens in Davie County and many of them will not take the time to enter their lovely and unusual things in the Silver Arts. There are many others that do and their items are on display for about two weeks for all to see. Many that cannot do the games any more due to poor health use their skills to stay active in creating some type of handy work. These seniors as well as the senior games participants receive medals and ribbons for their work.

There were 58 participants, an increase over last year. As people learn more about the games there should be many more in the years ahead.

Hollis Smith, one of the Senior Ambassadors for the Senior Games, said "We can be proud of the seniors in Davie County. Some go to the State Games in Raleigh and come home with medals in the games and ribbons in Silver Arts. We pay our way by having Port of Pitt barbecue chicken twice a year. We appreciate all the support the people have given us to help make the Senior Games a great event for the senior citizens of the county."

The 3-on-3 basketball team made up of senior women in their late 50s and early 60s have so much fun and are at the present time North Carolina State Champions. The team is coached by another senior, Ernest Seamon. Yes.....these women have had previous experience, having played on their high school team.

On Friday night, April 24, the participants in the Senior Games and Silver Arts and their guests enjoyed a banquet in their honor at Blaise Baptist Church fellowship hall. After a meal, medals were presented to the following winners:

GAMES COMPETITION

Public Health Month Celebrated In Davie

Throughout April, Davie County Health Department has joined with the rest of the nation in celebration of Public Health Month. "Public Health Month is a time for us to look back and realize what public health means and the many facts of everyday life in Davie County that is improved by public health," said Dennis E. Harrington, MPH, health director, Davie County Health Department and Home Health Agency.

The Davie County Health Department was first established in 1938 as part of a four county district (Davie, Forsyth, Stokes and Yadkin counties) with Dr. J. Roy Hoge of Winston-Salem as the first director. The health department was reorganized as a three county district (Davie, Stokes, and Yadkin counties) in 1945 with Dr. Alfred Mordcaai, U.S. Army colonel, retired, as health director. In 1950, Stokes County withdrew and the Davie-Yadkin District was organized. Then in April of 1976, Yadkin withdrew leaving the Davie County Health Department as an independent health department.

Through the years, public health served the citizens of Davie County in numerous ways.

As the needs of the county changed, the health department grew and redirected its services to meet those needs. Looking back at the old archives paints an interesting portrait of life in Davie County, and also the role the health department played in protecting the lives of its citizens - ranging from combating whooping cough and scarlet fever in 1945 to testing milk sold in Davie County in 1953.

Though the services have changed with the advances in science and medicine, one thing remains the same, the vital role of public health and its ability to address and solve problems of the time.

Articles in 1955 report of the health department administering polio vaccines to 593 children in Davie County. According to the article, "the vaccines were termed safe, effective and potent...there can be no doubt now that children can be inoculated successfully against polio."

In 1945 the rise in cancer rates among females and the belief in early diagnosis and treatment caused the health department to open clinics for women. As the article notes, "special clinics for expectant mothers and women in need of medical observations for female troubles are being held in Mocksville..."

The health department was also turning its attention to the cleanliness of eating establishments in 1945. "When employees of eating establishments are seen handling cash money one moment and placing ice in drinks with their bare hands the next moment or making sandwiches, it would be wise to refuse such drinks and eat," warned the district health officer.

Also in September of 1953, stray dog control was an issue so Davie County developed and initiated program plans to control strays. "Every community should have a program to control stray dogs. This is for the sake of the dogs as well as the general public," stated the Mocksville Enterprise.

Though different in degree and scope, each of these concerns through the years were public health issues. From ensuring the cleanliness of our restaurants to aiding in the prevention of disease, public health has been at the helm.

"In the broadest sense public health is the sum total of individual health. It has many components each focused on ensuring the health, safety, and wellness of our citizens," said Harrington.

What is public health? It is health education - giving citizens the information they need to live health lives. It is disease prevention including not only immunizations but health clinics offering wellness programs, nutritional counseling, screening and testing services including laboratory services. It's women's preventive health services including: family planning, prenatal care, maternity care coordination and childbirth classes. It's child health. It's home health providing home care for the home bound.

Public health is also environmental health - keeping our water clean, ensuring the cleanliness of restaurants and food services, school lunchrooms, hotels, motels, rest homes, public pools and day care facilities. It's solid and hazardous waste management. It's animal control and rabies prevention.

The Davie County Health Department offers more than 30 public health programs and is the actual provider of local public health services.

"Our philosophy is that we believe that every citizen of Davie County has the right to receive high quality public health services which include the promotion of health, prevention of disease and care of the sick," said Harrington.

Senior Volunteers Recognized

The Retired and Senior Volunteer Program of Davie, Surry, and Yadkin counties held its annual Volunteer Recognition Celebration on April 25 at the Yadkin Valley Senior Community Center in Jonesville. 178 senior volunteers attended the afternoon event which honored them for their service to their communities.

RSPV Coordinator Fred G. Mock Jr. commended the three counties' 650 volunteers who contribute their time and energies to home delivered meals for the shut-in elderly, nursing home visitation, elderly nutrition sites, Hospice care, telephone reassurance to provide outreach for elders who live alone, tutoring programs for school children and developmentally disabled adults, local hospitals, transportation for those unable to drive to their medical appointments, food pantries and other poverty relief efforts, and the sewing bees which fashion bonnets and aprons for RSPV's fund-raiser to help defray volunteers' travel cost.

Mock invited participants in each of these categories of volunteer service to stand for applause.

Mock awarded certificates to select individual volunteers on the basis of the number of hours of reported volunteer service they had provided between February 1997 and February 1998. Davie County volunteers honored in this manner were Calvin L. Jones of Mocksville, with 2,421 hours, Elmer Wooten of Mocksville with 2,124 hours, and Ethel Myers of Mocksville with 1,866 hours. Mock also presented certificates to the longest-serving volunteer in each county. Margaret Seamon of Mocksville received this award in Davie County in recognition of her 17 years of volunteer service.

The Davie County Senior Rhythm Band and County Records recording artists Kirk and Lisa Sulphin of Walkertown provided entertainment. Davie County's 16-member Senior Rhythm Band performed a set of gospel and country and Western standards on piano and bass guitar complemented by a variety of percussion instruments. Fiddler and banjoist Kirk Sulphin and guitarist Lisa Sulphin regaled the crowd with old-time fiddle tunes associated with Surry County and other Western Piedmont and Appalachian locales. The celebration drew to a close with the awarding of door prizes.

Mock thanked the Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Inc. and Cathy Strahl and her assistants who oversee the Davie County Special Olympics for providing vans and drivers to transport non-driving seniors to the event.

Anyone aged 55 or older who is interested in the service opportunities available through RSPV should contact Jo McClamrock at 751-2187 or Fred G. Mock Jr. (336) 367-7251.

The Retired and Senior Volunteer Program is an agency of the Davie County United Way.

RSPV Coordinator Fred G. Mock Jr. honors Calvin L. Jones of Mocksville for 2,421 hours of volunteer service during the 12 months that ended Feb. 28.

Howard Supports RITE Care Plan For Health Care

The federal government has made $79.9 million available to North Carolina, provided the state puts forth a $27.7 million match for health care for uninsured children of working families.

The General Assembly convened for a Special Session at noon Tuesday, March 24, to discuss how to do that.

The administration has spent several weeks developing the Governor's health insurance plan, which was introduced in the Senate Chamber as Senate Bill 2.

"The House of Representatives has presented an alternate plan I feel will serve all North Carolinians. 'RITE Care,' provides accountability and calls for personal responsibility," said Rep. Julia C. Howard (R-Davie).

RITE Care will provide health insurance for every child that qualifies. The governor's plan is first-come, first served.

"RITE Care is very balanced because it provided tax credits to those who buy their own insurance," Howard said. "Families of any income who pay for their own insurance will receive a refundable tax credit of one-third of their premiums. We don't want people to drop their present coverage; we want them to continue to be responsible and keep their children covered. These families should not be penalized for being responsible parents."

RITE Care includes graduated premiums to help families based on their need level.

The plan also provided a 15 percent tax credit (capped at $350 per year) for long-term insurance. This is important for middle-aged and older adults. It also addresses other issues such as fraud prevention, legislative oversight, and outreach.

"I am doing my best in Raleigh to prevent a 'quick-fix' to children's health care," Howard said.

Torpy Speaks To Seniors

The Cootaness Senior Citizens Club met April 27 with 32 members and one visitor present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, "Happy Birthday" was sung to one of the visitors. Prayer was said. The group said "Jesus Is Tenderly Calling."

The chaplain gave the devotions. Her text was from St. Luke: 10:37, "The good samaritan."

The minutes were read. The sunshine and treasurer's reports given. The club had several winners in the senior games.

The speaker was the Rev. Tom Torpy from the Jericho Church of Christ.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of the club song followed with prayer.

The next meeting will be May 11.

Howard Receives 'Helping Hands Award'

Rep. Julia Howard (R-Davie) was chosen to receive the 1998 "Helping Hands Award" by the N.C. Chapter of the United Council on Welfare Fraud (UCOWF).

Howard introduced and helped pass legislation that will have a major impact on fraud control in all public assistance programs administered by the Divisions of Social Services and Medical Assistance.

Howard introduced legislation that created an Office of Inspector General to coordinate fraud control activities in N.C.; provide training to local fraud investigators and provide local law enforcement tool to investigate food stamp trafficking.

Other legislation introduced by Howard allows county departments of social services to keep a portion of overpayment collections to enhance and improve fraud control activities; mandates the state to implement a biometric system to uniquely identify individuals and prevent duplicate assistance; appropriated $2.5 million for counties to hire new fraud investigators or enhance their current fraud control efforts and allows for garnishment of wages for overpayments in public assistance programs when all administrative methods have been exhausted.

Howard was recognized by UCOWF in 1997, also.

Davie Schools

Davie High
Awards Night will be May 28 at 7 p.m. Local scholarships are still available for seniors. Students should check the last scholarship bulletin.

The last Career Cruise of the year was May 6. Cindy Trippen spoke on criminal justice. The Davie Arts Council Scholarship applications are available in the guidance office. Contact Connie Little if you are interested in attending art related summer camps or workshops. The deadline for submitting applications is May 30.

National Library Week took center stage April 20-24 with the concurrent celebration of International Frog Month. The library chose the theme "1500 Friends of Frogs". Students were asked to sign petitions pledging to keep the environment clean and green. The school was inundated with paper frogs to remind students of both celebrations and to give students an opportunity to win edible prizes should they find the right frogs. Of special interest was "Croaker", the talkative frog that stood guard over the library's circulation desk for the week. He also directed the distribution of the prizes. Using "Hop To It" as the slogan, Media Specialists Wayne Harp, Suzanne Thomason, Kristine Kokoski, and Media Aide Carol Roberson made arrangements and scheduled daily announcements. Student announcements were Ray Spain, Jeremy Byerly, Krystal Pope, B.J. Coley, and Brandon Johnson. Each day featured a discussion on the problems frogs face as the environment is polluted.

Students took part in Amnesty Day on Friday which allowed them to return any overdue library materials without paying fines. Wednesday, April 23, the faculty had a tea with frog cake, frog mints, and foaming swamp water punch. The week-long celebration ended as the frogs gathered informally in the parking lot having selected the principal's car as their convention center.

North Davie Middle

The following students were treated to lunch at McDonald's because of their exemplary behavior on the school bus: Brad Blackweider, Emily Hunter, Mandy Litton, Amanda Beauchamp, Jason Shrewsbury, Tabitha Mills, Eluid Barolo, Juan Barolo, Michael Simmons, Lauren Curry, Drew Frost, Brandon Gentry, Lane Cambron, T.J. Jones, Bethany Atkins, Evan Tysinger, John Boger, Courtney Springer, Kasey Robinson, and Adam Hanes.

On Friday, April 24, eighth grade teams participated in a Civil War re-enactment on the lawn. Artifacts were viewed and used by students. Max Veneble and Jerry Byerly took time to provide the experience for students.

The Stars Team will take a trip to Raleigh and the N.C. coast on May 6, 7 and 8. While in Raleigh, they will visit the N.C. Museum of History, the Natural History Museum, the Legislative Building, and the State Capitol. They will travel to Fort Caswell, a historic Civil War era fort owned by the N.C. Baptist Assembly. They will tour Fort Fisher, the N.C. Aquarium, and Masonboro Island where they will gain a first hand knowledge of marine biology.

William R. Davie Elementary

Kindergarten students of Stacy Brunelli, Linda Dreye, and Lori Latham have learned about plants. They planted marigold seed, lima beans, radish seeds, and a popcorn plant. They have learned that plants grow from seeds and have completed many activities with various types of seeds. They have sorted, graphed, and measured seeds. Students wrote a book about plants. Their favorite was The Sunflower That Went Flop! They also used art skills to make some flowers from wallpaper and had lots of fun finger painting a sunflower.

Fifth graders of Melissa Brown have been studying Mexico and Central America. They

They haven't yet completed the set for the enchanted forest, but the fairies were already dancing about preparing for their production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream".

Students Prepare For Production

Welcome to the enchanted forest. See the romance and the comedy. Enter a fantasy world.

The Brock Performing Arts Center, North Main Street, Mocksville, is being transformed into that enchanted forest as drama students at Davie High School prepare for a production of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Performances will be Fridays and Saturdays, May 8 and 9, 15 and 16 at 7:30 p.m., and on Sunday, May 17 at 2:30 p.m. Admission is $5 for adults and $3 for students.

"It's a magical set. It's really pretty. Everything is very gold and sparkly and magical," said drama teacher, Teresa Huffstetter.

"This means a lot to these students. They're giving their all, and I really hope the community comes and supports them. They deserve it."

A total of 39 students are in the cast, with 20 or more helping to design sets and do other "behind-the-scenes" work.

"The kids are working very, very hard and they're so excited because they're in the Brock," Huffstetter said. "This is the best group of young people I've ever worked with."

The play is set in an enchanted forest near Athens, and includes a

May 15 Deadline For Reporting Crops To FSA

The Davidson-Davie County FSA Office is accepting reports of fall and spring seeded small grain crops.

Crop reports are required on farms if fruits and vegetables are planted on farms participating in the 7 year AMTA program, on farms that will request price support commodity loans or loan deficiency payments, on farms with a flue-cured tobacco allotment, on farms that plant cotton, and on farms that have a 10-year Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) contract.

Accurate and timely reporting is essential for insuring compliance with FSA programs and determining eligibility for USDA benefits.

Tanglewood, 4-H To Offer Youth Camping Adventure

Both the 4-H program and Tanglewood Park have offered many opportunities for area families over the years.

This summer, they are working together to offer an overnight camping adventure for youth.

Campers will have the chance to experience all that Tanglewood and the 4-H program have to offer by staying in cabins on the park grounds and taking part in many adventures.

Participants will experience the call of the wild on nature hikes, night prowls, wolf walks and frog calls at the wetlands.

Arts and craft projects will be done in conjunction with science and environmental activities providing campers with creative learning experience.

Campers will fall hook, line, and sinker for fishing at Tanglewood's Maltard and Skiptop lakes and have western style riding lessons.

For more information and registration materials, call the 4-H program at the N.C. Cooperative Extension Service, Davie County Center at 751-6297.

Internship Helps Narrow Choices

By Stephanie Myers
Davie High Senior

An internship at Davie High provides just one way to narrow your career choices. An internship is a non-paid opportunity to work in a career of your interest.

There are three types of internships offered at Davie High: career, service, and teaching internships. To apply you must fill out an application during registration and return all forms to Mr. Joey Kennedy (Internship/Apprenticeship Coordinator). There are a few minor requirements such as providing your own transportation, keeping a journal, and completing the semester reports required. Mr. Kennedy checks on his students randomly to be sure that supervisors are satisfied with the job being performed.

As a senior at Davie High I can assure you that choosing a career isn't easy, it is probably one of the biggest choices a student will make during his/her school career.

I learned of the internship program during the registration for eleventh grade and decided to intern with the Davie County Sheriff's Department during the summer. I was allowed to ride with the officers and see how they handled their daily interactions with many types of people. I learned there is more to what an officer does than just driving in our all day. An assortment of people are behind the scenes; working hard to make the officers job a little easier.

There are so many options as a job may seem, there are many details to consider. It's better to try a few options before you jump into the first career you come to. As I entered my senior year, I decided to look into another field of law enforcement. This time it was a service provider to the sheriff department, Davie Domestic Violence. I had first become aware of their office through the sheriff's department and decided I would like to learn what happens to a victim of domestic violence. After several weeks I decided that wasn't the career I had been looking for.

I feel that it is just as important to find out what I don't like as it is to find out what I do like.

With the help of Mr. Kennedy, I finished an internship through the Pretrial Release/and Day Reporting Center. Through their office I saw that there was a way to make a difference in a defendants/offenders life by helping him/her make the correct life choices to succeed, and become crime free. Though inspiring, the experience was not easy. After 260 hours of a career internship, I am now an employee of Pretrial and Day Reporting. I had proved to my sponsor during my internship that I was a responsible young adult willing to learn more about the Pretrial Release/and Day Reporting Center. And to an 18-year-old high school student it is a true compliment to have the honor of becoming an employee through an internship.

Parents and underclassmen need to realize the excellent opportunities Davie High offers in School-to-Work programs. Please contact either Rex Hobson for shadowing or Mr. Kennedy for internship opportunities. Good luck in all your career choices.

Gregory Death Sentence Upheld

By Jeanne Gailther
Davie County Enterprise Record

The sentence of death imposed against Chris Gregory in 1996 for the murder of his ex-girlfriend Evette Howell in Davie County in 1992 has been upheld by the N.C. Supreme Court.

A Davidson County jury convicted Gregory of first degree murder, felonious breaking and entering and assault with a deadly weapon inflicting serious injury with intent to kill for breaking into the home of Marsha and Olanda Howell near Mocksville, murdering their 17-year-old daughter Evette and shooting her 15-year-old brother Fonzie. The jury returned a recommendation that Gregory be sentenced to death Nov. 7, 1996.

This was Gregory's second trial. He had been convicted and sentenced to death in August 1994 by a Davie County jury. That verdict and recommendation were overturned by the State Supreme Court and sent back for a new trial due to errors made by the judge.

In findings released May 8, Chief Justice Burley B. Mitchell Jr. said the court found that Gregory's latest trial and sentencing hearing had been free of prejudicial error.

The verdict and sentence of death entered against Gregory must be and are left undisturbed, he said.

Schools Request 14.2% Increase In County Funds

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Funding for a new elementary school highlights the budget request for Davie County Schools, which also includes a request for 14.24 percent increase in county funding for the current expense budget.

Although school officials haven't disclosed the location of the new K-5 elementary school, they have estimated the cost at $7.8 million. An additional $2.6 million would be needed from the county. Population growth, especially among school-age children, created the need for the new elementary school, and for several of the increases in the current expense fund, said Dr. Bill Steed, superintendent.

"People are not interested in moving here unless we have a good school system," Steed said. "We're going to continue to grow."

No Tax Increase: County Budget Includes $3.6 Million For A Jail

By Jeanne Gailther
Davie County Enterprise Record

In the budget proposal presented to county commissioners for the 1998-99 fiscal year, County Manager Ken Windley is recommending no tax increase.

Residents receiving county water and sewer service may expect a three percent rate increase in January, according to Windley.

A new jail remains a priority with a budget of more than $3.6 million, but that figure includes funds that have already been spent for acquisition of land at the originally proposed jail site behind the county courthouse and demolition of the old jail. Funds have also been spent for consultants.

A feasibility study is under way to determine if the abandoned prison in Davie County can be converted into a jail and the most cost effective means of doing that. Sheriff Allen Whitaker has requested four new patrol deputies, one additional detective and two jailers and $330,000 worth of new equipment, but Windley's proposal would cut the equipment budget to $154,425 and provide funding for two new patrol deputies and two jailers.

Windley is suggesting the county spend about $75,000 to replace the siding that is falling off the office building portion of the B.C. Brock Center with brick.

Proposed in the water and sewer department is an expenditure of $450,000 to increase line sizes in the Hillsdale area. This is part of a

Main Street To Be Focus Of Meeting

The future of Mocksville's Main Street will be discussed at a public meeting at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, May 21 in the county commissioner's room, second floor, county administration building.
The meeting was organized for the purpose to discuss growth of the town and how it will affect downtown development and Linda Mince, director of Historic Davie.
David Smith of Design Consortium, and former Main Street coordinator for South Carolina, James Tyson, will be among the guest speakers.

Mocksville Police Department Moving To North Main

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Thanks to the generosity of a local couple, the Mocksville Police Department will be moving to North Main Street.

Ken and Betty Dwiggins announced at a town board meeting last week that they are donating the old Duke Power building at North Main and Walnut streets for the town to use as a police department.

Town Manager Terry Bralley called the gift the most generous act he has seen in his 19 years on the job.

The deal came about when Town Board member asked Dwiggins if he could give the town a deal on the property.

Dwiggins and his wife lived in Mocksville until 1957, and only recently moved back to Davie County.

They have owned the property for some time, leasing it to Duke Power. They have turned down several offers since Duke Power left Mocksville because Dwiggins said the uses weren't appropriate for Main Street in Mocksville.

"I would encourage other people to consider this type of thing - donating useful property to the town and county, to the extent that it can be used."

"If there is a need for the property and a legitimate use... we would be willing to donate it," he said.
The building has been maintained, Dwiggins said. "I think it could be utilized immediately."
"We're happy to do this. Both of us grew up in this town, but we've been away for a long time. We want to give something to the community." Bralley and board members thanked the couple for the donation. The town manager said minor renovations would be needed to get the building ready for the police department, which occupies cramped quarters in the basement of the town hall.

"It's overwhelming," said the town's mayor, Dr. F.W. Slate.

"I thank you for keeping the community's interest," Bralley said. "That sets a high standard for our downtown. We're proud of our downtown."

Dwiggins also hopes it sets a high standard for community service.

"I would encourage other people to consider this type of thing - donating useful property to the town and county, to the extent that it can be used," Dwiggins said.

Sheriff's Race Divided Loyalties Among Voters

It was a difficult choice for Republican voters — a decision that pulled at the heartstrings. Who did they want for sheriff? The incumbent was acknowledged as an all-around good guy. He had grown up through the ranks of the sheriff's department. He was a quiet, hard working sheriff. In four years, not a single negative word had been uttered about his character. Crimes had been solved. The crime index was down. The sheriff's department had run smoothly, with only minor complaints.

But the other candidate was just as attractive. That candidate had spent a career in Davie County on the Highway Patrol. He had given almost all of us a traffic ticket at some point. But he was universally respected as a tough-as-nails cop. When some of us were younger, Andy Stokes was about all the law enforcement Davie County could count on. In those years, the sheriff's department was pitiful. The small unit of deputies had little training. If there was real trouble, we called Andy Stokes.

That was the difficulty voters faced last week. The incumbent, Sheriff Allen Whitaker, had done a good job. There was no reason to vote against him. But Andy Stokes had given his heart and soul to protect Davie County. He had risked fire, knives and gunshots. He had battled thugs and banded it and drunks for us. He will always wear the scars from his work. In any short list of the best lawmen ever to serve Davie County, Andy Stokes would be on it.

We didn't want either candidate to lose.

That explains the tight race last week between Whitaker and Stokes. About 80 votes separated them. The race had seemed to seaway from week to week. Whitaker had seemed like an easy winner at first. He was the incumbent, respected by the Republican establishment. But Stokes had the advantage of knowing and working in Davie County for 30 years — both in the Highway Patrol and as a magistrate.

Seldom have the voters been able to pick a sheriff from two more qualified candidates.

The letters to the editor reflected that mental turmoil. One week, Cindi Wilson wrote to endorse Andy Stokes, recalling his years of excellent service to the county. He was the most qualified, she said. The next week, her father, Jim Wilson, wrote to endorse Whitaker. The incumbent, he argued, is the only one with experience ... as sheriff.

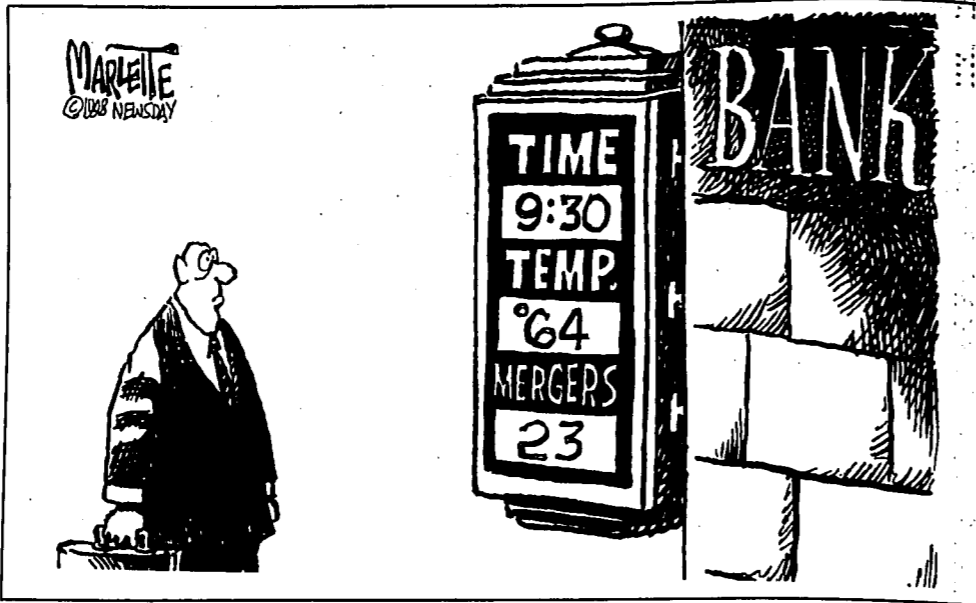

Election officials said Democrats came to the polls wanting to vote in the sheriff's primary, too. There is no Democratic candidate.

When the votes were counted, Stokes took the lead. Only the first-time use of computer voting machines in the county kept the tension from growing too thick in the courthouse. The computers allowed the results to come in quickly.

Whitaker's home Farmington precinct tilted the race. Farmington precinct gave Whitaker a huge bump, much like it did four years ago when he faced former FBI agent Giff Basham.

It was an exciting, difficult race between two people capable of being excellent sheriffs. They are both good men who have served the county well.

Crescent Grant Taken From Members' Money

To the editor:

In reference to the $16,700 grant from Crescent Electric Membership Corporation, it is membership money paying for site preparation.

Article VIII, Section 8.02 of the bylaws requires Crescent EMC to place in a capital account for each member any amount in excess of operating costs and expenses. The $16,700 is not operating costs or expense, it is a gift that belonged to over 52,200 members.

Spreading operating costs over a greater number of consumers results in lower rates for members? No way. As director of economic development for Crescent, I suppose Mr. David Barnes' definition for the title of his job is to overcharge the 52,200 members, then give our money away.

Paying $11.74 a month for a meter that is not used every month is a rip off. I suggest to David Barnes to come up with a plan to economize their building system.

Carolina Container should have sufficient funds to clean their own site and build their own building. If they are not that financially sound, then Davie County doesn't need them. It could be the making of another Musgrave; better said, a container grave.

Mr. Barnes' idea of attracting new business, means more jobs and an increased tax base. More jobs means more people, that brings on more law enforcement, more schools, more expenses. It's a never ending cycle, like a dog chasing its tail.

I don't recall ever hearing any of the county's farmers speak of any funds for sites preparation for a new barn or shop of any kind, or to grow beans, corn or potatoes.

At the fast pace businesses are building on 601 North, the Bread of Life Baptist Church in 10-15 years will be changing its name to North Mocksville Baptist Church. The city limits of Mocksville will be at the Yadkin-Davie county line.

To my farmer friends, we are an endangered species, soon to be devoured by the monstrous development of industrial parks, houses and container companies. Carolina Container will be manufacturing our boxes soon. I'd like to make one request to managing director Mr. Gene Ingle. When you make my box, give it some extra reinforcement and make it water proof. I don't like getting wet.

One other thing to consider is William R. Davie School. Will that sound OK inside the city limits of Mocksville?

Democrats Have No Say In Election Of Davie County Sheriff

To the editor:

After watching the polls of the Davie County Sheriff election, I began to think I have heard that there will be no main election for sheriff, because both individuals were on the Republican ticket, and whoever won in the primary would be the sheriff.

I served this country for 21 years in the Armed Forces, and one of the reason for that was to assure that everyone had the right, no the constitutional right to vote.

I may be looking at this differently than others, but what I see is that Mr. Whitaker received 51% of the Republican vote and Mr. Stokes received 49% of the Republican vote. What about the other people of Davie County, the Democrats and the Independents?

Our Constitution assures that everyone has the right to vote, and to have an elected official be put into office by only 1/4 of the voting people of this county smells of Watergate or Whitewater.

If the Democrats and the Independents had no one to run for the office, then Mr. Whitaker and Mr. Stokes should be placed on the main election so that everyone in the county can say who they want for their law enforcement of Davie County.

I know who I would like to see in the office, but the people, all the people of Davie should have a word in this, and the word is vote.

I ask that the people of Davie County not to let the time I served nor the time that our men and women are serving be in vain. Contact the voting officials of Davie County and have both men put on the main election so everyone of Davie County can vote.

Hmmm ... If It Ain't Meat Cake, Maybe It Could Be Supper

Steve Martin called it meat cake. I bet if you opened the door of the old Kenmore, you might find some too.

Remember that pot roast you made April 12? You put the leftovers into a Rubbermaid container and stuck it on the third shelf.

And then someone made some Jello on April 15 and put that container in front of the roast, and after you did your grocery shopping on April 19, you put several containers of yogurt in front of the Jello.

It's now April 23. And do you know what you've got?

Meat cake. It's the stuff that's not quite meat and not quite cake, and it's in that Rubbermaid container at the back of the third shelf.

Go ahead. Open it up. I'll wait.

Yeah. It's, well, it's a really interesting color, kind of Nuclear Green.

P...U... Don't even bother to try to wash the container. Just throw the whole thing out.

I bet this doesn't happen in your house, but it happens in mine. When I was young and living at home, my dad threw out some old chocolate pudding once. But he thought he'd be clever and dispose of it by chucking it in the commode.

Scared my mother out of her wits.

We just throw our meat cake into the trash, unless it's really bad, and then my husband takes it on a walk to the woods, where some poor possum probably has it for dinner and dies the next day.

Did you see the news program last week about leftovers? About how long things can really be stored for consumption?

It was shocking.

Pasta - how long would you think? Three days? Five days? Nope, 2 days. Same for rice.

I should be turned in to Social Services. I make a vat of rice for Katie and she eats on it for days. Probably as much as five days, when it is covered with dangerous bacteria.

Who knew?

It's white, it looks clean, it doesn't smell. I thought it was okay.

Pot roast. How long do you eat on it? Two days, three days, five days?

One to 2 days is tops for meat with gravy. No longer.

Some of the other things they tested were 5-day-old alfalfa sprouts. Killing.

Four-day-old Chinese take-out. Murderous.

One-year-old mustard. Don't even attempt it.

The day after the broadcast, I cleaned out my refrigerator.

I threw out some old Jello, rice, chicken drumettes, no wait, I ate those. Some old sliced ham, a jar of hot sauce (I don't eat that stuff anyway) and some slimy cucumbers.

But the kalamata olives, I love those things. I just couldn't bear to part with them, even though the brine looked like swamp sludge.

And the tub of cream cheese vegetable-flavored spread I ordered just before Christmas, hmmm, it would go great with that beef log I ordered at the same time, I thought. It's still in the meat bin. I better hang on to it just a little longer.

It ain't meat cake yet.

Stormy Thursday

Northeastern Davie County went through the storm that devastated Clemmons neighborhoods last week, but thankfully, the damage here wasn't nearly as serious. There were reports of trees down, and power outages, but no major damage. The tree above narrowly missed falling on a house in the Creekwood neighborhood. Marty Glasgo rakes leaves and limbs from his yard. "We were lucky. It sounds like Davie County was lucky," he said. The rain gauge tells the story - nearly four inches of rain fell that evening.

Proposed Budget Includes Funding For New Positions

Continued From Page 1 The proposed budget calls for an increase in local funding for mental health services to prevent a decrease in service or loss of programs. Windley is suggesting the county spend about $6 per capita, which is about half what is spent on mental health services in Forsyth and Stokes counties. Windley is recommending the county help finance a new full-time position at the Davie County Senior Center and a part-time assistant to the fire marshal. Commissioners will consider a possible contribution of $84,000 to assist with the new track to be built at Davie Family YMCA and placement of $10,000 into a reserve fund that may be used for building or assisting with building of a new animal shelter in the future. The proposed budget increases the county's annual recreation reserve of $50,000 to $75,000. Windley said the county will need more recreation facilities in the near future. Funds have been budgeted for property tax revaluation, which is scheduled to begin during the next fiscal year.

School Board Seeks Funds For New Elementary School

Continued From Page 1 We're expected every day to improve on what we're doing." School officials outlined the expansion items for the current expense budget with county commissioners on Monday night: $42,835 for the Title I program for teachers' salaries at Coolemece, Central Davie and Mocksville elementary. Federal funds have been consistently diminishing over the past five years. Federal money goes to poverty areas, Steed said. $43,650 for two teachers' salaries in the First Steps program. That would maintain the program as is, said Tammy Naylor, finance director. $77,804 for teacher supplements, rising the supplement to 3 percent of the salary. It's needed to be more competitive in recruiting and retaining good teachers, Naylor said. $2,132 for coaching supplements for ninth grade basketball and middle school golf. $2,000 to maintain base programs at William R. Davie and Central Davie. Because of their small size, per pupil allotments aren't enough to fund basic programs. $26,036 for a maintenance worker. The schools have added 85,506 square feet and 625 students since the last new employee was hired. $2,500 to recruit teachers, concentrating in states where there is an excess of teachers. $3,000, a one-time cost, to help input data into a new Human Resources Management System provided by the state. $5,404 to school media centers. $4,053 for telephone services. County Offers Hidden Creek Reduced Sewer Tap-on Fee

Section two of Hidden Creek now uses a package treatment plant, which the state Utilities Commission recommends be closed. Residents should be able to tie on to lines run for the additional residences and club house being built at Bermuda Village. When property owners in Hidden Creek purchased their property, they paid for a waste collection system, Amy Duffman said. "We have suffered," she told commissioners. "We shouldn't have to pay any more than we already have." The sewer system installed in Hidden Creek will be decided to the county as was the Oak Valley system, according to Andy Lee of the Utilities Commission. Commissioner Diane Foster made a motion to allow residents in Hidden Creek section two to connect to county sewer for $500, which is what property owners in Oak Valley are paying. The only reason any fees have been adjusted is because of donations made to the county, she explained. Oak Valley is giving its system to the county, installing a force main up Smith Creek to U.S. 158 and paying any cost of the pumping station at U.S. 158 over $265,000, according to County Manager Ken Windley. In return, he said the county had agreed to a $400 capital fee per lot, plus a $750 discount on the $850 sewer tap provided the developer or owner installs the connection. Commissioner Larry Hayes said he would support a free connection for existing homes in this section of Hidden Creek.

Supreme Court Upholds Death Sentence in Chris Gregory Case

Continued From Page 1 Shortly after Evette and Fonzie Howell were shot, Gregory's grandmother drove him to the Davie County Sheriff's Department where he admitted to Sheriff Allen Whitaker, then a detective, that he shot them. Defense attorneys argued that any statement Gregory made before being advised of his Miranda rights should not have been allowed into evidence, but Mitchell said Gregory went to the officer and, without any questioning, stated he had just shot two people. Other claims on Gregory's behalf were that jurors should have been questioned one at a time outside the presence of other potential jurors and that Judge William Freeman should have intervened during District Attorney Gene Morris' closing arguments to the jury when he made improper statements. The Supreme Court found no evidence that jurors should have been questioned individually and nothing

Postal Service Encourages Mailbox Improvement

The mailbox. It's something most people depend on, but sometimes neglect.

The U.S. Postal Service is encouraging customers to improve the appearance of their mailboxes.

"Neat, attractive mailboxes make a significant contribution to the appearance of the countryside, especially in the town of Mocksville and rural Davie County," said Craig Mock of the Mocksville Post Office.

Mailbox Improvement Week, May 18-23, calls attention to the need for providing mailboxes that are:

- designed to protect the mail from weather;
- 38-42 inches from ground to the bottom of the box;
- supported on posts firmly placed in the ground;
- numbered according to 911 addressing and numbers placed on both sides of box at least two inches high;
- conveniently located;
- neat in appearance.

"Mailboxes that meet these six important requirements help delivery and collection operations and improve service to the entire Mocksville area," Mock said. "Thank you for helping us to assist you in all of your mail delivery."

The Mocksville, Advance and Cooleenoe Post Office will join more than 30,000 postal facilities across the nation flying the POW/MIA flag on Armed Forces Day, Saturday, May 16 in remembrance of those captured and missing in military action.

On Nov. 18 President Clinton signed into law the Defense Authorization

Bill. As part of this legislation the U.S. Postal Service, plus other selected government agencies, are now required to fly the POW/MIA flag on six designated days each year. These days are:

- Armed Forces Day, the third Saturday in May;
- Memorial Day, the last Monday in May;
- Flag Day, June 14;
- Independence Day, July 4;
- National POW/MIA Recognition Day;
- Veterans Day, November 11.

The Postal Service first recognized the POW-MIA issue by creating and producing a 6-cent commemorative stamp in 1970.

War Eagle Softball Proves It Belongs Among The Best

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Even mighty South Stokes needs some luck now and then.

Never before has the length of shortstop Leann Spillman's glove become such an issue. Never before has Spillman's height become the topic of discussion. But, after Saturday's bang-bang conference championship game, there's no doubt about this measurement: Davie's softball team fits up there with the best.

The Sauras, a serious contender for the 4-A state title, needed a clutch, two-out hit in the bottom of the sixth inning to squeak over Davie 3-2 in the Central Piedmont Conference title game at Rich Park.

Trailing 2-1 against starter Shannon Handy, South's cleanup batter drilled a liner toward Spillman, who leaped for a third-out catch that probably would have been the equivalent of sticking a pin through a hot-air balloon. The ball, though, glanced off her glove and into the grass for a game-tying hit. South pushed another run across, taking a 3-2 lead, and avoided one of the biggest upsets in Coach Darrell Steele's long career.

"Leann made a valiant effort to get the ball," he said. "She jumped as high as she could. It was a shot, Leann went up and it tipped her glove. If she would have had a longer glove or been an inch or two taller, we would have gotten out of that inning with nothing. That would have killed them right there."

Steele promised that his championship beauty will stand the test of time.

"Saturday was a great day for them," said Steele, whose surging team thrashed West Forsyth 13-3 in the semifinals. "That will probably be a day they'll never forget because they played their hearts out. It wasn't an error-prone game, it was a real good 3-2 ball game."

"They are a good ball club. We are a good ball club and we are coming. I think (South Stokes) realizes that Davie is pretty legit."

South's starter, Jennifer Long, kept Davie from mounting a seventh-inning rally, coaxing the War Eagles into a pop up and two ground outs. Steele, however, argued that pinch-hitter Amber Carter should have represented the tying run out for first with one out. "I thought she was safe (at first)," he said, "but the umpire called her out."

Davie rallied for a 2-1 lead in the fifth, when leadoff batter Melinda Richie singled to right to break up Long's no-hitter, stole second and scored on Spillman's single to left. After Dawn Williamson's hit, Handy's infield hit provided the 2-1 edge.

Davie, the CPC's No. 2 seed, hosted Shelby Crest Tuesday in a first-round playoff game, with the winner taking on the Northwest Guilford-West Forsyth winner this Friday.

If the present pattern holds up, Davie (12-7) will postpone season's end for some time. "If we play like we did against South Stokes, North Davidson and West Forsyth the last ball game, we are going to be a team to be reckoned with," he said.

* Ashley Sanders, a freshman who adopted a closer role and recorded six saves in 28 1/3 innings, is out for the year with a badly sprained ankle. ... Sophomore Jessica Whitley (7-4 in 58 1/3 Innings), freshman Handy (4-3) and Sanders have formed a formidable pitching staff that could lead the War Eagles to prominence long before they exhaust their eligibility. "All three pitchers have done a real good job," Steele said. "I've got three good pitchers and a couple coming next year. Really, we've probably got one of the strongest pitching staffs in the conference."

* Davie's leading hitters: Sanders, .422 (27-64); Williamson, .417 (20-48); Dana Smith, .387 (24-62); Richie, .358 (19-53); Ashley Bracken, .355 (22-62); Natalie Foster, .349

(22-63); Kim Reich, .333 (14-42); Spillman, .319 (15-47); and Whitley, .313 (10-32).

War Eagles Get Revenge

After West Forsyth forged a second-place tie with a 6-3 win over Davie in the final regular-season game, the Titans launched into a familiar sirenade: West is best.

West was a mess in the semifinals of the CPC Tournament. The War Eagles, who won a coin toss to avoid a first-round bye, got revenge to the tune of 13-3.

"After the game, you know, West always says 'West is best,'" Steele said. "So we said: 'We'll see you again.'"

The Titans saw too much of Whitley and Sanders, who combined to hold West to single runs in the first, fourth and fifth innings while the War Eagles' offense turned a much-anticipated game into a rout. Smith and Foster did most of the damage with three hits each.

"The girls were pumped. They played well," Steele said.

Track Team Third In Regionals

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie's boys track team nipped on Mt. Tabor's heels throughout the Central Piedmont Conference season. When Tabor turned around Saturday, there were the War Eagles, tying Lumberton for third place and announcing a message that has become a tired message: Davie means business.

"We did pretty good," said Coach Scott Young, whose on-the-rise team finished just 15 points out of second behind perennial power Mt. Tabor in last weekend's Midwest Regional. "I was hoping we would have gotten second, but I'm pleased with how the whole season has gone. ... We had a chance. We went over there and competed real well and I'm proud of my guys."

Pinecrest was a convincing winner with 107 points, followed by Tabor's 80 and 65 by Davie and Lumberton. Seventeen teams competed.

"Pinecrest was very, very tough," Young said. "They were the class of the field, no doubts. They've got a great, quality program."

Young has his share of quality. Seven performers finished in the top three of their respective events, thus qualifying for Thursday's state championships at UNC-Charlotte. Kenny Collins won the 110 hurdles, Darien Brown took the 200 dash and Garick Hill, Nick Probst and Kenny White were second-place finishers in the 3200, triple jump and discus, respectively. Truman Kiser (pole vault) and J.J. Rice (discus) joined the state field, taking third.

Controversial Call Propels Mt. Tabor Over Davie

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie Ridenhour claimed he didn't. Coach Jerry Walser knew he didn't. The fans screamed he didn't. The umpire ruled he did it.

Friday night's Davie-Mt. Tabor Central Piedmont Conference Tournament championship game at Rich Park was reduced to one inning, one slow-motion moment in the third, when Tabor's Travis Scott bounced to pitcher Ryan Desnoyers with the bases loaded, nobody out and Davie clinging to a 1-0 lead. Desnoyers threw home to catcher Ridenhour for an apparent out, but the home-plate umpire accused Ridenhour of pulling off the plate prematurely, tying the game and opening the floodgates that triggered a 4-1 Tabor triumph.

The controversial call became magnified considerably when the next batter, Ryan Lile, grounded into a 6-4-3 double play that would have ended the inning but instead gave the Spartans the lead for good. Nathan Ernst's stinking single in front of a diving Scott Costanzo in center field padded the lead to 3-1, concluding the third-inning uproar.

All told, Tabor generated those runs off two errors, two bloop hits and one clean single by Curtis Moncus. No one needed to remind Walser.

"Right there we gave them everything they got," he said. "From the get-go, we talked about every time you

In the end, it was a matter of who would blink first.

Tied 4-4 in the match and tied 7-7 in the final game, Chris Stein and Josh Balsley, the South Davie tennis team's No. 3 doubles team, were standing eye ball-to-eye ball with Mooresville last week with the Piedmont Middle School Conference championship hanging in the air like a high job.

But Mooresville was just a little better, surviving 8-7 in the deciding match and pulling out a 5-4 victory that disbanded the league king.

Coach Barry Whitlock turned out to be more accurate than most weather men. He predicted the South-Mooresville showdown weeks ago. He would have preferred a different ending, of course, but he accepted tough defeat gracefully.

"I knew it was going to come down between us and Mooresville."

- Coach Barry Whitlock

"Us two were the best teams," said Whitlock, whose Tigers were the crown last year and finished 7-1 this year. "We could beat them on any given day and they could beat us. It was a good tennis match and it was a good season. We had a lot of eighth graders, so we expected to do pretty good. Like I told you before, I knew it was going to come down between us and Mooresville. It just so happened that it was the last match of the season. ... Overall, it was a good bunch of boys and we had fun."

The Tigers, ironically, dominated their seven previous opponents so thoroughly that it came back to haunt them against an equally-strong Mooresville team. During all those wipeouts, Whitlock concentrated mainly on getting everyone playing time, disrupting the doubles teams' chemistry in the process. The teams were knotted at 3-3 after singles, but the Red Imps swiped two of three doubles matches to seal the deal.

"The thing that hurt us at doubles was I didn't get to play those guys together that much against competition because he had everybody beat," Whitlock said. "You want to get everybody playing time, and that may have had something to do with it."

"We played real good singles but our doubles was kind of so-so, and you blame that on not getting to play. But when you're beating somebody 6-0, you don't want to play your No. 1 guys in doubles."

North Davie was responsible for much of South's success. The Tigers' top three singles players - Conor Mooney, Austin Powell and Steven Chambers - are North Davie products. All three went undefeated.

"That's pretty good," Whitlock said. "Usually I'm strong at 4-6, but the guys from North Davie really helped out a lot. Without them, who knows what I'd be?"

Stein, a first-year player, finished 6-2 in singles and Austin McCarthy went undefeated in limited time at doubles.

Who's Hot

Doug Smith, one of North Davie's offensive leaders, finished with a sparkling .529 batting average.

Conor Mooney, Austin Powell and Steven Chambers - three players from North Davie who posted 8-0 records in singles - helped South Davie's tennis team to an impressive 7-1 record and runner-up finish in the PMS.

Brittany Walker pulled South Davie's soccer team over the hump for the second time, scoring the game's only goal in a 1-0 win over North Davie.

Kenny Collins (110 hurdles) and Darien Brown (200 dash) became Midwest Regional champions for Davie's track team.

Davie's Victor Paul came within four outs of recording his first varsity no-hitter. He ended up with a complete game one-hitter as Davie pounded West Forsyth 13-play a game the other team has 21 outs. You can't give the other team extra outs. You are going to get beat if you do that."

The instant the umpire signaled safe on the blown force play at the plate, Walsler raced to the plate and became acquainted with the official.

"I know his foot was on it, there's not a question of that," said Walsler, who partly blamed Desnoyers' high throw for making Ridenhour readjust his footing. "I don't mean to say anything derogatory about the umpire because we've practiced that situation every day, and we didn't execute like we should. We've got to do our part. If we do our part, it's not even close and the umpire's not part of the equation."

Wes Miller became a prominent part of the equation soon after, crushing a no-doubt-about-it homer in the fifth for a 4-1 lead and putting out raging fire in the top of the seventh, when the War Eagles mounted their only serious threat off Tabor's skilled craftsman, starter Scott.

After surrendering a first-inning run, Scott held Davie to three harmless hits over the next five innings. Then, out of nowhere, Scott lost it in the seventh, giving up a smashing, 370-foot double to Comatzner and two walks to load the bases with one out.

"He might have tired out a little bit," said Tabor pitching coach Bobby Wood. "He was throwing with all heart. There were a few calls on that last batter (pinch-hitter Victor Patti) that could have gone either way and they didn't go our way, so we felt it was time to bring in Miller."

Miller, a strong candidate for CPC player of the year, took off his catching gear and calmly quieted Davie's bats, striking out Jonathon Creason and retiring Shane Allen on a fly ball that closed the book on Tabor's fourth straight CPC Tournament title.

"Miller is another one of those guys that really wants to be there when the game's on the line," Wood said. "Even in a situation that's big as this - there's a lot of fans and this is Davie's park - he's going to stay within his game."

Walsler is a believer in Miller and his mates. "Miller is a tremendous player," he said. "He may be the best player in our league. He caught, threw a guy out at second, pitched and I think he drove the bus. He did a little bit of everything to win the ball game. They are a veteran team, they've been here before, and they understand what it takes."

Scott was out of sync early, hitting Allen with the game's first pitch. Allen eventually moved to third on an error and scored the game's first run on Charles Miller's deep SAC to center. "We knew that one run wasn't going to win this game," Tabor coach Ed Weiss said.

Wood figured Davie was through against Scott, who fanned eight and walked just two in 6 1/3 innings.

"Because he's a senior, he has a good deal of poise," Wood said. "He really carries the team on his back. We knew that he wasn't going to give up more than one run. He really gets himself in a groove. He throws with guts. I've never seen anybody who has as much heart as he does."

In what has become a routine day at the office, starter Desnoyers (6-2) possessed the stuff to win most nights. In six innings, he gave up eight hits and three runs (all unearned) while striking out five and walking just one. He dropped to 6-2 but dropped his ERA to 2.36.

"I told him: 'Son, you pitched a good game except for that home run. That's the only one you're responsible for,'" Walsler said.

Despite the loss, it's evident that the War Eagles are on the move.

"Our program is coming along and it's going to continue to come along because we're going to work hard," Walsler said. "Now we've got to figure out how to climb the next rung on the ladder. The kids battled, that's the way they are. They're going to battle, they've worked too hard not to battle. ... I'm proud of these kids and I love them to death."

Titans Go Down ... Again

A one-hitter blended with two three-run homers equalled an 8-0 wipeout for West Forsyth, which lost to the sixth straight time, third time in two weeks, to Davie in the semifinals of the CPC Tournament.

Patti approached perfection while improving to 3-3 and lowering his ERA to 3.55. West's lonely hit came in the sixth with two outs, when big Adam MacIntosh lined a single to center.

"I believe it is (my best outing ever)," Patti said. "I was hitting my spots real well and keeping the ball down. The defense helped a lot, too. They made a bunch of good plays behind me."

Patti was mainly pointing to shortstop Miller, who preserved the no-hitter in the fourth with two dazzling plays in the hole that sometimes result in infield hits.

Walsler winced when Patti's no-hitter evaporated on an O-2 changeup down the pipe.

"I didn't like the fact that he lost his no-hitter over a stupid pitch, but he's going to make mistakes. All our kids make mistakes," he said. "If the sets that hit up the way he did the rest of them, he's got a no-hitter in his pocket."

Creason and Comatzner rubbed in the win with loud long balls in the fourth and fifth. Ahead 2-0, Creason ignited his team with a line-drive homer to left. A late-season surge has boosted his average into the .350 neighborhood.

"It was about time I came around and started getting a few (big hits)," he said. "It didn't look good for a while, I know that. I just started relaxing and concentrating on seeing the ball and not worrying about trying to hit it hard."

Comatzner's fifth-inning blast to dead center awoken his dead bat. After his first homer since midway through the year, he feels he's back - along with everyone else.

"I hadn't been hitting it too good," he said. "I didn't know what a home run was for a while. I got in a little slump; the last couple of weeks, but I'm trying to dig out of it a little bit. We all kind of went in a slump for a little while, but we're picking it back up at the right time."

Davie's Brian Campbell slides into second.

First baseman Jeremy Helton waits for the throw.

Creason's crusher couldn't have come at a better time.

"That was the biggest hit of the game, probably the biggest hit we've had all year, because we were down and we didn't come ready to play," Comatzner said. "That just gave us a lift to get over the edge."

Davie hosted Alexander Central - the same team that Davie drilled 10-0 in the season opener - May 12 in the first round of the state playoffs. The winner will play the East Forsyth-West Forsyth winner on the road Friday at 7 p.m.

Pitcher Ryan Desnoyers follows through on a pitch in his second loss.

Girls Sending Five To State Meet, Finish 11th In Midwest Regionals

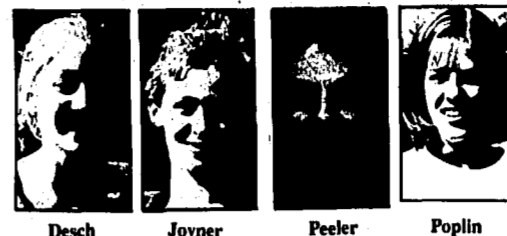

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie's girls track team scored just 16 points in last weekend's Midwest Regional at Mt. Tabor. The War Eagles, though, scored infinitely more on Coach Cary Powers' inner-strength scoreboard.

"My girls did what they have done all year. They ran their hearts out," he said, following Davie's 11th-place finish out of 17 teams. "We've got five going to (Thursday's state championships at UNC-Charlotte). I'd like to have a few more, but that's about what I expected. We had a couple of places where I would have liked to have done a little better, but we had a couple of surprises."

Davie's 3200 relay team (Lauren Poplin, Jerrine Peeler, Laurie Desch and Stacy Joyner) are full of surprises. They shaved 20 seconds off their personal-best time at the Central Piedmont Conference meet, then chopped 20 more off at the regional. Their quantum leap lifted them to fourth, two spots above the early projections, and certified a trip to this week's states.

"We're talking about in two weeks, that's almost five seconds a girl per lap," Powers said of the 40-second improvement. "That's pure hard work and, of course, three of those girls (Poplin, Peeler and Desch) have competed in the states before. But we were missing that fourth and Joyner's filled in real well for us." Samantha Murillo climbed the highest plateau for Davie, finishing second in the 400, but she envisioned going one step higher. Going in, she was the regional's lone runner to break 60 seconds, but Tracy McLean of North Forsyth rose to a shocking 58.7, nipping Murillo by a hair.

"I was disappointed but not displeased," Powers said of Murillo, who will seek redemption at the states. "She's young and I think she went out maybe a little too strong in her preliminary 400. I hated it for her, and I know she was disappointed, but she gave a heck of an effort. She's only a freshman and she'll have a lot more races to improve her ability."

Davie's 3200 relay team will face tall odds this week. "I'm hoping they'll run their best time, but I don't know that they'll be competitive," said Powers, who foresees Murillo making her usual mark among the finest runners in the state. "They're a couple girls from Charlotte that have run incredible times. I don't know that Sam's got anything for them this year, but she's got a chance to finish up there in the top group."

Davie placed reasonably high in five other events: Tiffany Peoples placed fifth in the high jump, tying her best jump of five feet; Raynika Gregory was sixth in the shot put; Peoples, Murillo, Joyner and Susan Delaney finished sixth in the 1600 relay; Murillo settled for seventh in the 200; and Sarah West claimed eighth in the 300 hurdles.

"(The 1600 relay team) ran their best time ever, but the level of competition wasn't too much for us," Powers said. "West ran an outstanding time in the 300 hurdles. She ended up eighth and she was ranked 12th going in. Sam ran a decent race in the 200, but that's a lot of races when you put the relay in with it."

Seven To Represent Boys Track

"He had some problems early in the season with his knee injury, and things were coming up that were keeping him from putting the time into track like he needed to," Young said. "And here of late, he's really been working hard and getting better."

The most surprising, and disappointing, development was Hill's absence from the top of the 3200 chart. He trained until there was nothing left in the tank, slipping to second and losing a 3200 race for the first time this year. "I think in Garick's case, he may have overtrained a little bit last week," Young said. "I think he had tired legs and we're going to ease up. I'm going to have to make him ease up on himself going into the state meet. He pushes himself every day."

Probst, runner-up in the triple jump, achieved a rare feat: He's joining the state's elite as a freshman. But Probst was headed the wrong way until Young pulled him aside and offered reinforcing encouragement.

"I said: 'Look, you're a freshman but you've got to understand that you've got the ability to go to the states. Don't make an excuse because you're a freshman. You're not having any fun,'" Young said. "He was worried, and putting himself, mad at himself, and putting too much pressure on himself. I said: 'Hey, Nick, relax and have fun. That's what it's about. Go compete.'"

Truman Kiser, third in the pole vault, will be a different family representative at the states, replacing brother B.J. "B.J. went last year but he's had some troubles here lately, and Truman stepped up to the challenge and took up the slack," Young said. "I'm real pleased with how he did."

Davie took second, third and fourth in the discus. While (second) and Rice (third) improved their personal-best throws by eight feet and Brown claimed fourth. "That was by far our best event," Young said.

Young doesn't expect the seven War Eagles to become obscure figures at the states. He expects some noise, despite the tough task ahead.

"I expect us to score some points," he said. "The competition will be the cream of the crop, so it will be a challenge for us. But the good news is Collins and White are going to compete in just one event. So this week, they won't have to practice four different events, and I expect us to make improvements."

Davie Softball Team Shakes Up South Stokes

Davie's softball team had South Stokes all shook up. (Their coach) was worried," said Davie coach Darrell Steele, "I've got good support family-wise," said Steele. "I've got good guys to help me. (Assistants Mark Whiteley, Keith Handy and Jim Sanders) have taught me a whole lot. They have been around fast-pitch a little bit longer than I have. I've learned more this year than when I went to clinics."

Steele's staff is one of a kind, better than any kind of clinic. "We've got good support family-wise," said Steele. "I've got good guys to help me. (Assistants Mark Whiteley, Keith Handy and Jim Sanders) have taught me a whole lot. They have been around fast-pitch a little bit longer than I have. I've learned more this year than when I went to clinics."

Davie track coach Cary Powers spotted interference against his 1600 relay team in last weekend's Midwest Regional. The rules committee saw nothing worth addressing, despite flinging elbows and forearm shivers.

"There was some interference and I don't think we got the right call," said Powers, following the sixth-place finish by Tiffany Peoples, Samantha Murillo, Stacy Joyner and Susan Delaney. "I would hate to have gotten in (the states) on a technicality but there was some interference, some pushing and shoving. It was a physical meet. Sometimes you get the breaks and sometimes you don't."

Davie golf coach David Rondstedt appreciates Davie golf. "I can't thank enough the various courses in Davie County that have offered us golf and use of their facilities," he said. "From Hickory Hill, Pudding Ridge, Bermuda Run and Oak Valley, it's been a real advantage that a lot of the other schools just don't have."

If only he could have said what he wanted to say? Catcher Drew Ridenhour zipped his lips after the umpire ruled safe on a critical force play at the plate during Mt. Tabor's 4-1 win over Davie in the conference championship game. "I knew I was on (the plate)," said Ridenhour, who stayed back while Coach Jerry Walser discussed the play openly. "I was going to let Coach Walser handle it. . . I'd love to have said something to him, but it wouldn't have been nice."

Tabor ended up scoring three runs. Trailing 4-1 in the sixth inning and representing the tying run at the plate, Ridenhour nearly turned the tables, roping one of the hardest hit balls of the night. But the one-bopper resulted in an inning-ending, 6-4-3 double play.

"If I would have gotten under that ball, I think I would have gone crazy because I believe it would have gone out," he said. "It felt good. That was the hardest ball I've hit (late). I wish I would have gotten it up."

Mt. Tabor pitching coach Bobby Wood characterizes pitchers two ways, throwers and pitchers. Davie's Ryan Desnoyers, for one, is a pitcher. "He was a very good pitcher instead of a thrower," Wood said after Desnoyers went six innings without allowing an earned run. "On the high-school level, you see more throwers than you do pitchers, and he was a pitcher."

Wood knew Desnoyers long before Friday night, and he almost lived to regret it. "I've actually had the pleasure of coaching him at camps," Wood said. "I was hoping he didn't come back to hurt us. He's a really good guy. He had a lot of heart as well (as Tabor starter Travis Scott). He never gave up. He was always staying within his game plan and never let the situations affect him."

"I have a lot of respect for him and the Davie team in general. They've fought hard. They've always given us tough battles, games that could have gone either way. It's enjoyable to play a team like Davie."

High Scoring Not Enough To Boost Golf Team In Ranks

Although it lacked experience coming off a league title, Davie's golf team found a way to top last year's overall scoring average in the Central Piedmont Conference.

But it really didn't make much of a difference. Against an unusually stout field from head to toe, the War Eagles tumbled to fifth place in the final CPC standings, falling 60 strokes back of leader Mt. Tabor and 21 shots out of the running for one of the three Midwest Regional berths. The final tallies: Mt. Tabor 1,197, South Stokes 1,210, Reynolds 1,236, West Forsyth 1,251, Davie 1,257 and South Rowan 1,438.

"We actually shot just a hair better than last year. It was unreal," said Coach David Rondstedt, whose club wrapped up the regular season at Advance's Oak Valley on May 5. "We played really, really well, but it seemed like when we did well everybody else did as well or maybe a shot better here or there."

The hot topic in the aftermath of the 18-hole finale at Oak Valley was about how so many talented golfers were missed at last Monday's regional in Greensboro.

"It's just a shame," said Rondstedt, who carried just two golfers, Josh Lackey and James Stewart, to the regional. "All the coaches made the comment that this will be a region where there will be a lot of good golfers sitting at home while the rest of the kids are playing."

The CPC allowed the top four individuals that weren't members of either Tabor, South Stokes and Reynolds to advance to the regional. Lackey shot well enough to avoid a logjam, where teammates Stewart, Gary Bialobrzeki and Shawn Brooks bumped carts. In a bizarre conclusion, those Davie players had to let the entire season rest on one playoff hole. Stewart emerged as Davie's second representative. Rondstedt thought of other ways to settle the issue.

"The kids kind of thought, 'Wow, what are we having a playoff with our own team for?'" he said. "I wish we could have gone with the top four even if some of them played. It's more fair to the kids when we played all season. When it's decided on one hole, that's kind of harsh I think. But the kids are OK with it. They were fine."

Davie could reclaim its seat atop the CPC ladder next year. Bialobrzeki is the only regular graduating from Davie, while this year's leaders will be next year's rebuilders.

"Everybody else graduates. We don't," Rondstedt said. "We are all back, so I think we are going to be real strong if we can shoot that scoring average that we had this year."

* In a nine-hole CPC match at Pilot Knob on May 4, Brooks and Bialobrzeki fired even-par 36 as Davie finished fourth at 4-over 148 and just seven strokes behind winner South Stokes. Lackey shot a 37 and John Landen had a 39.

The racers take May 16 off for "The Winston" being held at the Charlotte Motor Speedway.

The next race for the Late Model division is a 50 lap event May 23, in combination with "The Hooters Cup Pro Cup 250" lap event. The Mini-Stock division will be back in action May 30.

Taking the TOP MOPAR division honors was Allen Walker of Reidsville in his 65 Plymouth over David Smith from Walnut Cove in a Plymouth Duster. Walker ran a 6.86 ET at 95 mph to collect his second TOP Mopar title at this event. Smith, a former Farmington champion, turned in a 7.43 ET at 92 mph to come up second best.

Walter Temple of Winston-Salem finished third in his Plymouth Duster. Five-time Farmington Sportsman champion Donald Thomas took home to Mt. Airy the Modified MOPAR Division title in his Plymouth Satellite. Thomas ran a 9.28 ET at 76 mph to hold off a quicker Mike Howell in his Dodge Demon. Howell of Walnut Cove ran a losing 6.55 ET at 105 mph to come in a close second. Donald's dad Arvil Thomas of Mt. Airy finished third in his Dodge and Eddie Price of Winston-Salem finished fourth driving a Dodge.

Steve Lundy of Winston-Salem captured the MOPAR Street Trophy class defeating Donald House of Franklinton.

North, South Trail Mooresville At Track Meet

Mooresville was a double winner in a three-team track meet at North Davie last week.

Mooresville's boys dominated with 111 points, far ahead of South Davie's 25 and North Davie's 20. Mooresville's girls had a tougher time, compiling 61 points to South Davie's 51 and North Davie's 41.

Sara Erb of South Davie's girls was the county's most successful performer, winning two events. She won the shot put and 600 run.

South's Anna Macintosh took the triple jump and teamed with Stephanie Wlodarski, Angelina Zamora and Holly Ledford on the victorious 1600 relay team. Other winners for South's girls were Misty Daniel (discus), Kristin Raynor (high jump) and Zamora (400). Michael Clement triumphed in the 200 for South Davie's boys and Julia Pruitt (100 dash), Andrea Whitley (1600) and Holly Marsden (800) turned in first-place times for North Davie's girls.

The Piedmont Middle School Conference will hold the boys meet May 13 at North Rowan and the girls competition May 14 at Erwin.

(1600) and Holly Marsden (800) turned in first-place times for North Davie's girls.

The Carolina team defeated Wake Forest 76-71 in a closely contested game. Members of the Carolina team included Van Hoy, Lanier, Lucas, Linan (South Stokes High), Isaac Welker (McMichael High), David Peters (Maryland) and Craig Weston (Michigan). Wake Forest had several members from the football team competing in the tournament. They were Jimmy Caldwell (Coach Caldwell's son) and Desmond Clark, and outstanding receiver for the Demon Deacons.

Walker, McDaniel Keys In South Davie Win

South Davie's girls soccer team needed every bit of defense and hustle to slip past North Davie 1-0 last week. But, more than anything, the Tigers needed luck.

"We were lucky because they got a handling call near the end," said South coach Jim Henderson, whose team cashed in on the fatal mistake with only two minutes remaining.

The call set up a penalty kick for Britany Walker, who delivered her second game-winner of the year for South.

"It was a real team effort. That was the key to it," Henderson said. "It was a well-played game by both teams."

Walker's shot was the final dagger, but keeper Ryanne McDaniel was perhaps the biggest reason South survived. The Wildcats could never close the deal, largely because they had to go through McDaniel. "She made several real nice saves," Henderson said.

North coach Sean Garnett said: "We controlled most of the game, but their keeper made some great saves to keep them in it. We have to work on finishing. We can't rely on Allison Howell to do all of the scoring. We played extremely hard and gave 100 percent, but we just got a little tired. South is a highly skilled team and a well-coached team."

Garnett praised Chrystal White and Ashley Ellis.

"White played very good in goal, and Ellis picked up her play and got a little more aggressive, which is what I want," said Garnett, whose team missed Christina Relak severely in the closing minutes.

"We only had 11 players and then Relak went down injured with about 15 minutes left in the second half."

South, which beat Trinity 1-0 on a Walker goal, improved to 2-2-1. South is home this week, hosting Asheboro on May 13 and North Davie on May 15.

Howell, North Break Calvary Jinx Howell opened the door with a hat trick (three goals) and April Ervin and Erika Ancuta slammed it as the Wildcats beat Calvary for the first time since 1996, 3-2.

"In the second half, Ervin and Ancuta shut down one of their key players, and that was the key to winning," Garnett said. "Sarah Merlau and Meredith Bridgewater also had good games."

Calvary tied the score at 2-2 just before the half on a questionable foul in the box that resulted in a penalty kick. But Howell completed her spectacular offensive fireworks show in the second half and left the rest to the defense, which also included Whitney Lutz, Ashley Williams, Victoria Moore and Ancuta.

"We had great play out of our back four," Garnett said. "Our team played extremely aggressive and it was a fun game to watch."

In the first of three games last week, Forsyth County Day capitalized on North's defensive downfalls and

Wildcats End Year On High Note

North got one hit each from Adam Sain, Dull, Raby, Nick Taylor, Colt Stanley, Dominic Vestal and Brandon Gentry.

Smith ended the last half of the season on a hitting tear, finishing among the team leaders with a .529 average (18-for-34).

"He was a guy you could count on," Brunelli said. "He got on the ball whether it was an out or a hit. He drove it and put it in play probably 90 percent of the time. He only struck out three times, which is pretty good at this level."

"A picture is worth a thousand words."

George's Village Garage: Your Car's Best Friend

Everyone knows that man's best friend is not his dog. It's his mechanic.
 Maybe that explains why George Pries is one of the most popular men in Clemmons.
 Since opening his George's Village garage seven years ago in Clemmons, he has become a trusted friend of hundreds of car and truck owners.
 It was a quiet beginning—a little shop on Ramada Drive where he planned to live out his dream of owning his own garage. "I got tired of working for people and decided to do it for myself," he said.
 He soon encountered one big problem. "We outgrew that shop in six months." He was flooded with customers. "It has been tremendous," he said. "The growth has been fabulous. It was something that was needed in this town. One or two shops just couldn't handle it, and I just couldn't see the money going elsewhere. In Clemmons, let's keep the business at home."
 Pries moved the store to Old Glory Road to a massive seven-bay garage with the latest equipment.
 "We do a little bit of everything," Pries said. "We have a quick tube. We do tires. The only thing we don't do is wash and wax cars."
 George's Village Garage has five mechanics.
 "We try to satisfy everybody, which is impossible, but we try," he said. "The people appreciate that. That's why we have grown as much as we have."
 George's Village Garage sells all the popular brands of tires — Firestone, Bridgestone, Michelin, Dunlop, Hankook, Lee — and other brands can be ordered.
 George's Village Garage can be reached at 766-7862.

Twin Lakes Aviation offers special chance to learn the joys of flying

Since that first caveman developed a foot ache, man has wanted to fly. The birds get around so gracefully. If we could only strap on feathered wings, couldn't we do it too?
 The lure of the skies has been calling us since time began, but now we can finally do something about it. We can fly.
 And Twin Lakes Aviation wants to put you in the driver's seat. Over the years, Twin Lakes has taught thousands of people to fly. The Davie County airport is now offering a special chance to introduce you to the thrill of flying.
 Rick Holland, manager of Twin Lakes Aviation & Advance Aircraft, said the flight trainers are offering a $19.95 introductory flight lesson. For a half hour, beginners will be given their first flight lesson. With an instructor, they will take off and land the airplane. The instructor takes the beginner through pre-flight inspections, general instruction, radio communications and the works.
 "It's a half hour of instruction," Holland said. "You get a good idea of what flight instruction is all about."
 Twin Lakes is a full maintenance airport, with tie-downs, flight instruction and aircraft rental. More than 85 planes are based there. The landing strip is 3,000 feet.
 Why do people fly?
 "It's fun," Holland said. "It's primarily recreation, but a few people use the airstrip for business." Being able to fly opens whole new avenues for recreation. Like to golf? Myrtle Beach is only an hour and 20 minutes in the air. Suddenly, scores of new golf courses are available to you by the air.
 Twin Lakes has been the outlet for hobby pilots for more than a generation. The strip was paved in 1973, opening it to flights from all over.
 Twin Lakes been here a long time. It was paved in 1973.
 "Flying is a hobby you can share with the whole family," Holland said.
 Who files? "We've got a 15-year-old we're teaching and a 75-year-old retiree. The gamut is wide and varied," Holland said. "From CEOs down to poor boys like myself." The flight school has three Cessna 172s, three Cessna 152s and a Cessna 172RG that it uses for instruction.

 Twin Lakes has a top quality maintenance shop. Most of the mechanics are A&P and IA certified.
 "These guys are certified aircraft inspectors," Holland said. "It's full service, we do everything from oil changes to a complete overhaul. We do annual inspections, 100 hour inspections, everything."
 To get to Twin Lakes, take U.S. 158 in Davie County to Baltimore Road. Turn left at Cornatzer Road and then right on Fork-Bly Road. The airstrip is 1.5 miles. The phone number is 336-998-9101.

Natural Selections' Glenda Bradley creates outdoor beauty for your home

Spring is in the air. Early flowering selections of trees and shrubs are either in full bloom or are about to burst forth in a riot of color. Crocus and daffodils dot the landscape. Seems like everyone's yards are starting to glow with the beauty that only spring can bring to the South. Everyone's, that is, except yours?
If that's the case, then you need to call Natural Selections, a landscaping company owned and operated by Glenda Bradley. Glenda is what you might call an exterior designer. She is a licensed landscaping contractor and a certified plantsman with 11 years of landscaping experience.
Glenda, at Natural Selections, can make that transition from house to garden appealing not only to the eyes, but to the other senses as well. She can turn your yard into a showcase where you can entertain or just sit and relax.
Let Glenda turn your yard into a perennial garden that you can enjoy all summer long. Try an all white garden — cooling to the eye during those hot summer days, beautiful at night under a full moon. Or maybe you would rather have your garden done in your favorite color.

English gardens, which are more formal, are very nice. Gardens can also be designed to attract hummingbirds or butterflies.
If you live in a cluster home with only a small courtyard to work with, don't worry. Glenda can design a garden to suit you. People are often surprised at the amount of plants, even trees, that will fit into such a small area.
Natural Selections can help apartment and townhouse dwellers have gardens with year-round container gardening. Glenda can help you turn your deck or patio into a plant haven or a private outdoor room by using trees, shrubs and flowers in different sized containers.
Choose from a wide variety of furniture and accessories at Natural Selections to make your outdoor living area complete.
Contact Glenda Bradley at Natural Selections today for an appointment or more information. Call (336) 778-2616. If the answering machine picks up, please leave a message and Glenda will return your call as soon as possible.

On Saturday, May 16, the following organizations will be sponsoring the 1998 Davie County Health Fair from 9 a.m.-2 p.m.: Davie County Health Department, Davie County Hospital (Novant Health Inc., affiliate), PARTNERS Medicare Choice, BlueCross & BlueShield of North Carolina, Mocksville/Davie Parks & Recreation Department, N.C. The location for the health fair will be the Brock Gym on North Main Street in Mocksville. Parking will be available behind the Brock Auditorium.
The theme is "Building Healthy Lives." Approximately 60 exhibits and displays for children, teens, and adults will be represented.
Various health screenings will be available such as blood pressure, blood sugar (diabetes), body fat analysis, bone density ($10), colo-rectal, dental, lipid profile (HDL and LDL for $5.50), skin, stroke risks, and vision.
Also, the following displays and/or events have been planned:

• 10 a.m. - 11 a.m. Pet Show - Kids bring your pets. (Prizes given to the winners.)

For The Pets: Rabies Vaccination, Pet Show Part Of '98 Fair

Farmland Veterinary Service (Dr. Robin Brock) will be providing rabies vaccinations at their health fair exhibit booth from 12:30-2 p.m.

Brock's exhibit area will be located in the conference room of the Mocksville/Davie Parks and Recreation Department on North Main Street in Mocksville (outside of Brock Gym).

All animals can be brought inside the building through a side entrance.

The Davie County Humane Society exhibit will be located at the entrance to the rabies clinic.

The Davie County Humane Society will be sponsoring a Pet Show to begin at 10 a.m. Everyone is invited to bring their pets and enter them in the pet show, and at the same time get their rabies vaccination. Prizes will be presented to the winning pets.

North Carolina law requires all dogs and cats over 4 months of age to be vaccinated for rabies. Animals vaccinated for the first time in 1997 should be revaccinated in 1998. All other animals not vaccinated since 1995 should be vaccinated in 1998. Approved vaccines will be administered by a qualified veterinarian. Rabies vaccination requirements for cats are the same for dogs.

There will be a charge of $7 for each animal vaccinated against rabies at the Health Fair. Two dollars of the seven will be donated to the Davie County Animal Shelter Fund. Other vaccines will be available at a reduced rate. For more information, contact Farmland Veterinary at 492-7148 or the Davie Health Department, Environmental Health, at (336) 751-8760.

Put Your Mind at Ease

When my doctor first suggested MRI, I was nervous. Sure, I wanted them to do everything they could to help me. But, I've always found closed in or confined spaces difficult to tolerate. All I could picture was a conventional, tube-like scanner.

Then, she told me about open MRI. I could see freely all around me. Plenty of room to stretch out and breathe. That described Signa Profile open MRI, exactly. Comfortable and even kind of comforting.

If you think traditional, closed MRI may be difficult and uncomfortable for you. Ask your doctor about a referral to:

Golf Tournament Raises Money For Drug Closet

On Tuesday, April 21, the Rotary Club of Mocksville held its annual golf tournament at Hickory Hill Golf & Country Club.

The winning team was sponsored by Larew-Wood-Johnson: Steve Johnson, David Summers, Eddie McBride, and Ron Morgan. The Rotarians made the decision this year to donate all proceeds from the golf tournament to the Davie County Emergency Assistance Drug Closet.

According to Dennis E. Harrington, Health Director, "The concept of an emergency assistance drug closet for needy residents is not novel. In fact, many communities have provided such for their citizens.

"The concern in Davie County was triggered by health providers (public and private) encountering patients with limited incomes, for whatever the reason, taking partial amounts of their medications during a month because they could not afford to obtain a full prescription. For example, an elderly person on social security (who does not qualify for Medicaid/Medicare benefits may find income determining which medication they take, not what their physician has ordered.

"Within the next few months, the Davie County Emergency Assistance Drug Closet will be operational. Eligibility for the drug closet will be handled by the Davie County Department of Social Services. The administration will be handled through the Davie County Health Department's Pharmacy. All funds raised through the 1998 Mocksville Rotarians Golf Tournament will be used to purchase bulk medications for the drug closet."

Bill Johnson, tournament organizer, said: "The Rotary Club of Mocksville is very grateful to the 87 golfers who participated in this year's event. The Rotarians are very proud to have sponsored this worthwhile and successful

Early Detection Of Breast Cancer Helps

In the United States, about one in nine women develops breast cancer. Left untreated or treated in its advanced stages, breast cancer can cause death. When it is diagnosed early and treated before it spreads, the outlook for a full recovery is good.

Researchers are uncertain as to the causes breast cancer, but they know some factors may increase a woman's risk for the disease, including:

- a family history of breast cancer (one or more relatives, such as your mother or sister);
- age (Breast Cancer research studies have shown that females in the 40s and 50s develop breast cancer more often than women of other ages.);
- started menstruating before 11 years of age;
- never giving birth;
- started menopause late in life (at about age 55 or older);
- obesity; and
- race.

- lack of regular exercise;
- drinking more than one alcoholic beverage a day;
- taking oral contraceptives (the Pill); and
- taking hormone replacement therapy.

Early detection of breast cancer means a better chance for successful treatment. Mammography is the best

• Ages 50+, screening mammogram every year.

• There is no known cure for advanced breast cancer.

• Approximately 80% of the breast cancers occur in women 50 years and older.

• Detection of breast cancer at an early stage provides a greater chance of cure and more treatment options. It has been shown that the cure rate for breast cancer can be as high as 90% in women who have a tumor that is smaller than half an inch in diameter. When the disease is confined to the breast, the 5-year survival rate is 93%.

• Cancer that develops in the cervix is called cervical cancer. Cervical cancer is one of the most common cancers. Six percent of all cancers in women are cervical cancers.

• In some women, the cells in the cervix may go through a series of changes. Normal healthy cells may become abnormal (a condition known as dysplasia). Dysplasia is not cancer, although it can develop into early cancer of the cervix. Dysplasia is classified as mild, moderate, or severe, depending older women. Invasive cervical cancer is cancer that has spread deeper into the cervix and/or to nearby tissues or organs. It occurs most often in females between the ages of 40.

Most cases of invasive cervical cancer could be prevented if all women had yearly pelvic exams and Pap tests. Research has shown that some women are more likely than others to develop abnormal cervical cells. These women are said to be "at risk."

Though the exact reason is uncertain, women who began having sexual intercourse before age 18 and women who have had many sexual partners have an increased risk of developing cervical cancer.

On Wednesday, May 20, the Davie County Health Department, Breast Clinic (Novant Health affiliate), will sponsor a Breast and Cervical Cancer Screening Clinic.

Call the Davie County Health Department at (336) 751-8700 (Monday-Friday, 9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.) to make an appointment to attend the screening on Wednesday, May 20, 9 a.m.-3 p.m., Davie Health Department, 210 Hospital St. in Mocksville. According to Dennis Harrington, Health Director, "All women regardless of your income, will be eligible for a free pap smear, breast exam, and information on self-breast exam."

"Women 40+ years old, who have not had a pap smear, breast exam, or a mammogram within the past 12 months and their family income falls within the following ranges, may be eligible for low cost or no cost tests through the state Breast and Cervical Cancer Control Program (BCCCP)."

Otherwise, the charge for a mammogram will be $60. The Breast Clinic from Winston-Salem will bill Medicare, Medicaid, and third party insurance for the cost of a mammogram.

For more information about breast and/or cervical cancer and to make an appointment for May 20, call the health department at 751-8700.

Family Day will be observed Sunday, May 17 at the Methodist church. Services will be in the grove with a covered dish lunch.

Mother's Day was observed Sunday with a large crowd attending worship service at church. The Men's Bible class presented gifts, baskets of fresh flowers, to the oldest mother, Mary Lathia Robertson, age 85 and to the youngest mother, Susan Hackett, age 22. During the children's time at worship, Matthew Mills sang a very inspiring, "Matthew is the son of Robbie and Darlene Mills."

Lori Jones Sunday School class of children came into the Sallie Sue Peables ladies class Sunday to wish everyone a Happy Mother's Day and to give each lady a big hug.

Mary Nell Jones had all her children home for Mother's Day and at church. They were Jay and Ann Weatherman and daughters Jennifer Anne, Halley Lynn and Shelby Elizabeth of Palm Bay, Florida, Janna Watson and son Alan Michael of Purfear.

Many from this community enjoyed a Royal Tours bus trip to Abingdon, Virginia last Thursday. There were 55 people on the trip which was under the direction of Cleo Carter Bertini of the Elvaville Senior Citizens. We enjoyed a tour of the Martha Washington Inn and a delicious lunch in the dining room. Later we went to the Barter Theatre where we saw a play "All I Really Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten". A stop for shopping was at the Dixie Pottery on our way home. Jerri James and Jimmy Blakley won the door prize on the bus which were beautiful watches.

Bill Mock of Fredericksburg, Va. was a Saturday visitor of Doris Mock. Joe and Helen Talbert and Edith Zimmerman.

Mildred Spry and Betty B. Potts have returned from a 14 day trip to the mid-west. They traveled with the Christian Tours and toured eight states. In Dallas, Texas, they saw the Kennedy Memorial, they went to El Paso then crossed the border to Kuerz, Old Mexico. In Arizona, they saw the Grand Canyon and in Flagstaff, they were in a snow storm with a 4 inch accumulation.

In New Mexico a tour of the Carlsbad Caverns was exciting. In Nevada they went to Las Vegas and Hoover Dam. While in Vegas they sat in their motel room and watched the demolition of the Aladin Motel which was the place that Elvis and Priscilla were married. In Oklahoma City, they saw the place of the bombing, and also the Capital which is surrounded with oak wells. Also in Oklahoma, they saw the John Wayne National Cowboy Hall of Fame. Thirty-eight people were on this trip and one of the most interesting things they reported seeing was the deserts with the Saguaro cactus. Returning home through Arkansas, they toured the capital grounds at Little Rock.

Luella Potts and daughter Belinda Potts were among those present for dinner last Tuesday night at the home of Dorothy Carter along with the daughters of the late Mrs. Sallie Carter.

Edith Zimmerman was treated to a Mother's Day lunch at the Village Tavern in Winston-Salem on Sunday. Those attending were daughter Janice Hendrix and her daughters Melissa and Meredith Hendrix and Melissa's friend Glenn Taylor.

Rockaway Revue To Appear At Brock Performing Arts Center

Those famous entertainers, The Rockaway Revue, from Jamaica, N.Y. are returning to the Brock Performing Arts Center, May 22, at 7 p.m.

"Le Jour des Femmes Club is so excited and making preparations for this event. We are so thrilled to be able to show off the Brock Performing Arts Center. In the past we have had to run around renting air conditioners, fans, etc., to make them comfortable. Now all we need do is plan enjoy this group and sell our tickets," said Willie Marie Studevent, president.

"These wonderful people are celebrating their 26th year of entertaining as they travel up and down the east coast.

"From an entertainment standpoint, there are many pluses to give this group merit: the colorful costumes, the memory evoking music, the cohesiveness of their performers, and the staging, but there is a much deeper, more universal appeal of the show, that sends the message of hope and joy, that they convey to all who see them."

"This show brings to the consciousness of people of all ages a deeper meaning of the aging factor and its capacities. Our youth and college students should see this show to enhance their awareness of the living process - its abilities, and its needs."

"The will prove to all that life does not have to stop when one gets to be a senior. There is still much to accomplish, and much to enjoy," Studevent said.

The theme for the show is "Unforgettable," a variety show that depicts through songs, music, dances and costumes, that everything old is new again.

All those hours, days, weeks of preparation are history. They've begun their southern tour and headed to Mocksville Friday, May 22. We feel so fortunate to have them come to Mocksville.

Cana News

By John "Cain" Godwin
Cana Correspondent

OK. Let me update you on what has been happening in Cana since last news. It rained, it rained, and it rained again. Other than that, the wind just blew a lot. Did you notice what day the storm happened on? The National Day of Prayer. A few too many prayers for the devil if you ask me.

Lots of blooming blackberries out there. I wonder if we could get the prison inmates to pick blackberries? Congratulations to Sheriff Alan Whitaker. Living in the Cana area was big plus for the Sheriff. In fact I think Cana is what put him over the top. OK Sheriff you can pay back those votes at this year's Cana Home Makers Bazaar. There will be a lot of cakes and pies for you to buy. You had better be there with a pocket full of money to buy cakes and a empty belly to eat them. I can help you on the eating part. Don't skip out on like last year.

I have been studying all of these politicians signs. Some of these candidates use thin wimpy sticks and some use strong 2x2 posts. I thought the guy who used those big thick tomato stakes to post up his signs had character. After all, the size of that stake showed he was a solid man who could be counted on. A friend of mine told that a politician who would use a stake that big could be just another tax and spend big money spender. I am still trying to get to the bottom of that. One of the politicians even used wood screws to fasten their signs to the stakes. Is that what is meant when they say a politician will screw up everything they touch? As for me, I would be happy if a politician would just plant a tomato beside these stakes if they are going to leave them up.

Gail Godwin and Jessica Ray were pinned Friday night at the University. This is an exciting Pin Jam talking about. Not a pin by the War Eagle wrestling team. They still have some more tests, but you have to be proud of them.

Larry Gilbreath graduated from the Citadel last week. Just as his father and grandfather did. Way to go. The Citadel is not an easy school. The Citadel produces educated southern gentlemen.

Eaton Baptist Church celebrated Mother's Day. The oldest mother present was Helen Eaton, the mother with the youngest child is Melonie Linville, and the mother with the most children present was Elanor Eaton. This Sunday will be Youth Sunday at Eatons and May 24 will be graduate recognition Sunday.

This Saturday will be Armed Forces Day so put out the flag.

How lucky our residents are for sustaining no serious injury during last Thursday's storm. We can all be grateful everyone was OK. We all need to be remembering those in Forsyth County whose homes sustained such major damage. Also all of our neighbors in Iredell County that experienced such major damage.

The baby dedication service at Hillsdale has been rescheduled for next Sunday due to several of our babies being sick.

I hope everyone had a wonderful Mother's Day. After the completion of our worship service, each mother in our congregation was given a pink carnation.

I had a Winnie the Pooh & Tigger cake along with chips, drinks, hot dogs, hamburgers and ice cream. I would like to thank my family and friends who came to my party. Special thanks to my grandmother Shirley Gray who put forth so much effort so I could enjoy my birthday party. Thanks again.

Happy 2nd Birthday to our beautiful daughter, Brenda Ann (Bre) Spry. Bre is the daughter of Jeff and Sherri Spry of Spartanburg, S.C. and the granddaughter of Ann Spry; also Robert and Elaine Spry of Cooleman, N.C.; and Bobby and Brenda West of Spartanburg, S.C. Bre also has three wonderful great-grandmothers; one of which lives right here in Cooleman, Mrs. Margaret (Ma-Maw) Leffer. Bre is also very happy that her "Uncle Kevin" and Chantay are a part of her life.

Zoning Changes Could Allow Multiple Uses ... In A Better Setting

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Bill Johnson brought a rezoning request to the town of Mocksville. He wants to develop 39 acres of land off of Valley Road.

That wasn't an uncommon request, he needed his land rezoned to build as he sees fit. What was uncommon was the fact that Johnson also asked the town to raise its standards, to require more of himself and other developers in the area.

The town didn't waste any time working on that request. Already in the midst of re-writing zoning ordinances, they sought the help of David E. Smith, a Davie resident and owner of Design Consortium.

Johnson, and others in town, could soon see the benefits of a new way of looking at zoning, said Town Manager Terry Bralley. "It's an opportunity to make a great community even better," he said.

Planning Director John Gallimore said that current laws encourage patterns that officials don't like, with developers thinking about their property only. "We don't want projects that are short-minded and concerned only with a small area," he said.

The new ideas would include developments that are pedestrian, rather than automobile, friendly. Buildings would be smaller and closer to the street, with side and back parking. Multiple uses (such as residences, offices, restaurants and even some industries) could work in the same neighborhood.

Smith envisions a community where someone could live, go to work, go up the street for groceries or to a restaurant, and never have to get into an automobile.

The emphasis in zoning would not be what was being done on the property. "I'm not worried about what it looks like, and what type of building it is," Smith said.

He also emphasized tree-line streets, and buildings with landscaping with parking to the side and rear. "That becomes another Main Street," Smith said. "Those trees on court square weren't there 75 years ago."

Change is inevitable in Mocksville, but the town can continue with the growth in the U.S. 601/U.S. 641-40 corridor.

Company Withdraws Request For Rezoning

A local garbage collection firm has backed away from plans to move operations to a site on Bethel Church Road.

Lee Barber of Davie Sanitation withdrew the company's request to rezone the land, even though town planners unanimously recommended that he town board approve the request.

The company bought the land thinking it was zoned industrial, Barber told town planners. They applied for the rezoning after being told they were operating

Community In Crisis

Mocksville Cited For Problems With Industry

Mocksville has been recognized as a community in crisis in a report released recently by the Clean Water Fund of N.C.

Mocksville was selected for the report, which documents the struggles of communities with industries they believe have continually disregarded their well-being, because of the battle of the Rev. Donald Ray Jenkins and Shiloh Baptist Church with United Plywood Industries.

Living in the parsonage across the street from United Plywood, Jenkins has fought the plant's dust releases for five years. The congregation of Shiloh Baptist has fought the problem even longer.

Members of the community have contacted the Department of Environment and Natural Resources in Winston-Salem several times to complain.

According to the CWFNC report, inspectors visiting the site have found the plant in violation of its permit at least six times since 1992 and asked to address the concerns of the community.

A problem at the plant March 19, 1997 left a thick layer of dust around the plant, covering the street in front of it and Jenkins' home. DENR fined United Plywood $1,500.

The company made promises and has since made several cosmetic changes but has failed to install a proposed cleaning system, according to the report.

DENR regulators looked at the problem and were courteous, but no concrete change resulted, according to Jenkins.

One of the Clean Water Fund's goals with the report is to improve enforcement of environmental laws by DENR, according to Angie Newsome of CWFNC.

Furniture Company Eyes Land Town Agrees To Price Subject To Upset Bid

Mocksville town board members agreed Monday morning to sell four acres of land that could bring a new industry to town.

MTP of Thomasville wants to build a 42,000 square foot building on the site on Industrial Boulevard, off Milling Road. The town accepted an offer of $12,500 per acre. That offer is subject to being upset. Additional bids must be five percent higher than MTP's offer.

Bryan Mise, MTP vice president, said construction would begin immediately after the sale is final, with an initial investment here of about $1 million. He hopes to open the factory, with 20-30 employees, within 120 days, he told town board members Monday morning.

MTP makes furniture components. A major customer in this area is nearby Thomason Crown Wood, Mise said. This would be a new factory for MTP, not moving a factory from one location to another.

Town board member Buster Cleary asked about noise, saying neighbors had complained about other factories in the area. Mise said his equipment was state-of-the-art, and noise shouldn't be a problem.

The town has owned the land for about three and a half years, said Town Manager Terry Bralley. It was a gift from the developer of the industrial park for the town's participation in providing services.

The town originally offered the land to MTP for $15,000 and acre, and they came back with a $10,000 offer. Mise and town board members took little time Monday in "splitting" the difference with the $12,500 price.

Sheriff: Davie Is Growing, Department Needs Four More Deputies

Davie County Sheriff Allen Whitaker presented his department budget request to county commissioners Monday.

With officers responding to 30 percent more calls last year and making 35 percent more arrests than the previous year, Whitaker asked for four new patrol deputies to provide effective service.

He requested one additional detective to meet a growing case load and two new jailers to help meet the volume of work at the jail and be prepared for the expansion of the jail in the future.

He requested 10 new patrol cars to replace older ones plus new cars for any additional deputies approved by commissioners. A mini-van is needed for transporting meals for prisoners at the jail, Whitaker said.

The jail also needs new cameras and monitors. With the equipment now used for monitoring prisoners, it is difficult to distinguish details on the screens, he explained.

The jail also needs a heavy duty washer and dryer for laundering prisoners' jumpsuits and a refrigerator, which is needed to provide items required by state law, he told commissioners.

Whitaker asked for $105,000 for video cameras for patrol cars like those used by the N.C. Highway Patrol. Other agencies using them have found the cameras to be an effective tool. Situations are often defused when people realize their actions are being recorded.

Changing Times: Some Funerals Held At Night

Add funeral services to the long list of things that are changing these days. It's an interesting change — one that lets people go to funerals again.

Some funerals are being held at night. Families are skipping the tradition of having a night reception at the funeral home, followed by a funeral the next day.

The night receptions allowed people who couldn't get away from their jobs to contact the family. But the process is often brutal — to the families and to the visitors. The visitors often must shuffle through a line that snakes through the funeral home. The bereaved family is forced to stand through the process.

Night funerals change all that. Two recent night funerals were held for prominent area residents — James Nance and S.W. Brown Jr. I did a double-take when read what time the funerals would be held.

It hasn't reached the status of a trend, but funeral directors say they are doing more and more night services. Some ministers give their best sermons at funerals. Some of the most spiritual messages — some of the best songs — are at funerals. You get to know somebody by attending his funeral.

But funerals are usually poorly attended because of their timing. People can't get off work to go.

Both the Nance and Brown funerals were packed. Instead of standing in line for hours, people got to hear a sermon, sing the songs and worship. They got to hear the comments about the men, to hear the minister's remarks.

The Nance funeral was held at Macedonia Moravian Church in Advance, and it was packed. Some sat in the choir loft, some watched by closed circuit television.

Mike Flynn, general manager of Vogler's Funeral Home, took more than a passing interest in S.W. Brown Jr.'s funeral. Brown, the popular wholesaler murdered by a robber, was his father-in-law. Flynn said the family liked the service. When another family member died last week, Roxie Brown, the family again had a night service. That one worked even better, he said, because the crowd was smaller.

"People like them because they can attend at night, but at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, they can't go," he said. "Most companies have strict policies on what you can get off for."

The night time funeral services are followed by the next day by a graveside burial service for the family.

Ron Dixon, funeral director at Eaton's Funeral Home, said the Nance funeral allowed everyone to attend without the discomfort of standing in a greeting line.

"It was a worship service," he said.

A trend? It doesn't approach that yet. But attending a funeral is a demonstration of respect and love. If night services make it easier for the family and the visitors, it might catch on.

Anger Murderers' Words Should Be Reassuring To Jurors

It was a scene that struck anger in the hearts of just about everyone who witnessed it.

When the judge in a Fayetteville courtroom gave the men sentenced to death for the murder of two law enforcement officers a chance to speak last week at the close of their trial, their words added to the pain they had already brought upon the families of the slain officers.

They lashed out at jurors, making themselves into victims with threats of Biblical retribution and raising issues of racism.

Had I been a juror, I think the words of the Golphin brothers, Tilmon, 19, and Kevin, 18, would have been reassuring that I had made the right decision in recommending the death penalty.

Turning to the families of the victims, the younger Golphin brother said he was sorry for them until he found out they wanted him to die for what he had done.

"I know what I done. That still don't mean that I have to die, and a life is as precious as another one," he said.

Tilmon Golphin showed more compassion for the families, apologizing for their sorrow, but chastised the jury, invoking Biblical scripture: "Judge ye not for you would be judged one day. And from what measurement that ye judge, it will be measured unto you again."

"You vote life, you get life. You vote death, you get death," he said.

If that's what he believes, why is he complaining? It appears that's exactly what he got.

The Golphins were convicted of murdering N.C. Highway Patrol Trooper Ed Lowry and Cumberland County Sheriff's Deputy David Hathcock on Interstate 95 Sept. 23.

Tilmon Golphin shot the officers with an SKS rifle as Lowry attempted to handcuff Kevin Golphin, who then took the trooper's gun and shot both men at pointblank range as they lay wounded and bleeding, according to prosecutors. Lowry had stopped them in a stolen car, and Hathcock had arrived at the scene to provide assistance.

Was Tilmon Golphin worried about the retribution of God, as he fired a rifle at two innocent men?

Where was Kevin Golphin's concern for the value of a human life as he took Lowry's gun and put an end to two lives? Jurors spent hours deliberating the fate of these convicted murderers. Yet it took the Golphin brothers only seconds to take the lives of Hathcock and Lowry — two innocent men just doing their jobs.

In an instant, the Golphins created a lifetime of sorrow and anguish for the families and friends of those men.

Jurors in this case, as in any capital murder case, had a duty no one envies. Even the arguments by prosecutors that this was a case of pure evil could not make the decision between life and death an easy one. They know that, no matter what they have done, each of the defendants is someone's son, someone's grandson and someone's brother. They know that each, might someday have been someone's husband or someone's father. They know, too, that the victims are now all those things only in the memories of the families they left behind.

Before the judge could stop him, Kevin Golphin singled out the lone black juror. Calling her by name, he said he was disappointed in her and that all eyes are on her.

Was he implying that this case had something to do with race? The victims were white and the Golphins are black, but that has no bearing on the facts. The victims were law enforcement officers, but that's not what this case is about. It's about the brutal murder of two men. Nothing more.

Outrage at the words of the Golphin brothers is outrage at their hypocrisy and the added pain it caused two families, who have already experienced immeasurable suffering.

Feeling angry at the Golphins has nothing to do with one's stance on capital punishment or opinion of the legal system. Media coverage of this event wasn't just a chance for those, who would like to see hangings on the square and lynchings in front of the courthouse, to climb upon their soapboxes.

Our legal system isn't always fair, but I am glad to live in a country where the accused are considered innocent until proven guilty. I'm thankful to have laws that permit the convicted a chance to speak after sentence has been pronounced.

I just wish the Golphins had used that opportunity to say "I'm sorry."

In The Mail ... Food Drive A Success

To the editor:
The Help Stamp Out Hunger Food Drive on May 9 was a tremendous success. The Mocksville Post Office collected more than 4,200 pounds of canned and non-perishable food. The food drive was sponsored by the National Association of Letter Carriers in conjunction with the U.S. Postal Service. It was given to help families in need in Davie County.

All items collected were donated to the Storehouse for Jesus.

Thank you for all those who participated.

Schools Work For Family

To the editor:
We started our family in Davie County primarily because of the good reputation of the school system. My son, Josh, started kindergarten at Shady Grove last fall and has had Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Nestor. My son looks forward each morning to going to school. I am amazed at what he has learned in one year. In church, I was taught to give a person roses before it's too late; meaning, don't wait too late to give praise. Since the school year is about to end, I believe we should all give our teachers the roses they so deserve for a job very well done.

Josh has said he wished Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Nestor could move up with him next year when he enters the first grade. His mother and I do also, but hope that all his teachers are as special to him as Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Nestor have been.

Davie County Residents Participate In National Day Of Prayer

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie County residents joined others nationwide on May 7 to offer a prayer for their country, for their state, for their county and their towns.

In groups at the Brock Performing Arts Center in Mocksville and at the Cooleemee Town Hall, and at individuals everywhere, they took part in the annual National Day of Prayer.

In Mocksville, local ministers, attorneys, officials and a school principal offered prayers and words of advice.

Julius Suiter, Mocksville Elementary School principal, gave a message for young people and families.

"I look at these children who are 5 years old to 8 or 9, and they are a happy bunch," Suiter said. "They enter that door and are happy. They hug you and they tell you things... because they are full of themselves.

"They enjoy life, as God prescribed," Suiter said.

He has taught and worked with young people of all ages. They, too, are happy, he said. Sometimes they're skeptical or cynical, but they're basically good.

"There are families in Davie County who support their children. They take them to church, not send them or drop them off."

Suiter said that news reports of children doing bad things shouldn't be reason to indict an entire generation.

"We have good kids," he said. "And there should be a day for a glorious celebration that we have an opportunity here in America to pray... to share our good times and our bad times with our Lord."

The Rev. Glynn Bell offered the prayer for youth and family. "The challenges that families, youth and children face overwhelm us," he said. "Teach us the value of living and being family. Teach and guide us... so we can make a difference in the lives of our children."

Other speakers at the Mocksville observance included: Dr. S.B. Warner, the Rev. Perry D. Griffin, Hank Van Hoy, the Rev. Jamie Pharr, Ken Windley, Bill Hall, and the Rev. Ed Biggers.

The Davie Ecumenical Choir led those attending the observance in singing. Selections included "God of the Ages" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Wooten encourages residents to become involved in fighting crime by joining in community watch efforts and the new program to share concerns with the district attorney's office.

"Quick apprehension and strong sentencing will send a positive message," he said.

The meeting was the first of its kind, Morris said, but he would like to have more like it in other areas of his district, which covers Davie, Davidson, Iredell and Alexander Counties.

Cooleemee Residents Meet District Attorney

COOLEEMEE - Residents here recently got a lesson on how the court system works.

Members of the Cooleemee Court Watch group met April 28, with District Attorney Gene Morris, members of his staff and officers from the Cooleemee Police Department to discuss concerns.

Morris explained structured sentencing, types of evidence, what makes a case strong or weak and when plea agreements should be accepted.

A lot of people don't understand why individuals receive the sentences they do until structured sentencing has been explained to them, he said.

At the meeting, Police Chief Tim Wooten shared information about problems his department had caused prosecutors when he first took over as chief and was unfamiliar with the district attorney's procedures.

The meeting also gave residents an opportunity to ask questions and share their concerns.

Through the new cooperative effort, residents are invited to provide feedback to the district attorney's office about the impact a crime has made on the community such as the creation of insecurity among senior citizens, Wooten said.

Members of the community often know a lot about the people charged, according to Morris.

This information can give prosecutors more insight about appropriate punishments to recommend to the judge, Wooten said.

At the meeting, residents had a chance to call Morris' attention to several repeat offenders who cause problems in Cooleemee, he said.

Wooten encourages residents to become involved in fighting crime by joining in community watch efforts and the new program to share concerns with the district attorney's office.

"Quick apprehension and strong sentencing will send a positive message," he said.

The meeting was the first of its kind, Morris said, but he would like to have more like it in other areas of his district, which covers Davie, Davidson, Iredell and Alexander Counties.

Fork Man Enjoys Drawing

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

FORK - Alvin Howard remembers coming to Mocksville on Saturday afternoons as a boy.

The destination: The Princess Theater.

He and his sister would come to town from the Dullin community to see the latest Western movie, or serial movie that was showing at the time.

"Saturday evening at The Princess, The Great Escape," he said. "Everybody would go into town on Saturdays and catch the latest Western."

"If we didn't make it, we were really disappointed."

A few years ago, Howard, a retired Celanese employee who lives on Fork-Bixby Road, decided to put his two hobbies - old westerns and drawing - onto paper.

Going by memory, he drew a picture of the old Princess Theater. Mr. Fowler is in the picture, as is Frank Stroud, who ran the newspaper at the time and would walk up and down the streets looking for tidbits of news. Of course, Howard and his sister, Ruth, are standing outside the theater.

"I have fond memories of those days," Howard said. He's still a buff of the old westerns, and travels across the state and to other states to film fairs.

Howard has made numerous drawings, many from memory, others from looking at photographs or other drawings. He draws old and new movie stars, presidents, advertisements, special projects for friends and old houses and buildings.

He's always liked to draw, but only in more recent years as he began to draw a lot. He first draws his piece in pencil, then colors it in. He makes copies when needed.

Howard admits he's not a professional. "I just draw for fun. If anybody wants one, I just tell them to take it on," he said.

Howard said that he first started drawing in school. "That's why I couldn't learn anything, because I wanted to draw all the time."

He likes his drawings of Norman Rockwell prints, and of a Bull Durham advertisement.

Some of his work has more sentimental value, like a drawing of his grandfather poking a fire in January of 1940. He drew himself beside the fire, reading a book. "January of 1940 was the coldest winter we've had here. We liked to have froze to death that year," he said. "Grandpa (the late Luther Howard), boy he poked that fire a lot that winter."

Howard has an area in the basement of house where he draws.

"I draw when I'm in the mood," he said, "which is pretty often these days. I don't play golf."

Alvin Howard of the Fork community enjoys drawing famous people. He's especially fond of old western movie stars and presidents.

Howard: "Saturday evening at The Princess. Everybody would go into town and catch the latest Western."

Howard drew a picture of this little girl who goes to his church.

President Clinton was drawn as a joke for a Republican friend.

The Princess Theater drawing was made from memory. It includes Howard and his sister.

In conjunction with VFW Post 1119, Ladies Auxiliary, and American Legion Post 54, the Cooleemee Historical Association plans to publish a book of veterans who served their country, to be printed and ready for Cooleemee's Centennial celebrations on Sept. 26.

The Cooleemee veterans book will list those who served their country including: those who lived here during the last century, those who attended Cooleemee School, and those who worked at the cotton mill. After several months of work, there are 918 names on the list and several hundred photos.

Volunteers are still searching for names, information and photos, so that as many veterans as possible may be included.

The latest list will be available to the public for the next two weeks at the following locations: Davie Discount Drugs, True Value Hardware, the Zachary House and Town Hall in Cooleemee. A copy will also be available at the Davie County Public Library History Room in Mocksville.

"Stop by any of these locations to see if we are missing you, someone in your family, a work or a school mate," said Peggy W. Hellard. "If so, please bring information immediately to our offices at 14 Church St. in Cooleemee on Tuesdays & Thursdays 9 a.m.-noon and Saturdays from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. The deadline is June 1.

The 9th Annual Memorial Day Service of Cooleemee V.F.W. Post 1119 will be held this Sunday at Cooleemee Presbyterian Church at 147 Watts St., beginning at 11 a.m. in the church sanctuary.

Commander Jerry Spry will open the service followed by Robert Creason with the invocation. Bud McClamrock will lead the pledge of allegiance and former mayor of Cooleemee and new chaplain of local 1119, Bill Gales, will have the morning prayer.

Special music by Pat and Beth Campbell will set the stage for their favorite speaker, Bill Campbell, South Davie Middle School principal. Following Campbell's memorial message, there will be a ritual of remembrance followed by taps.

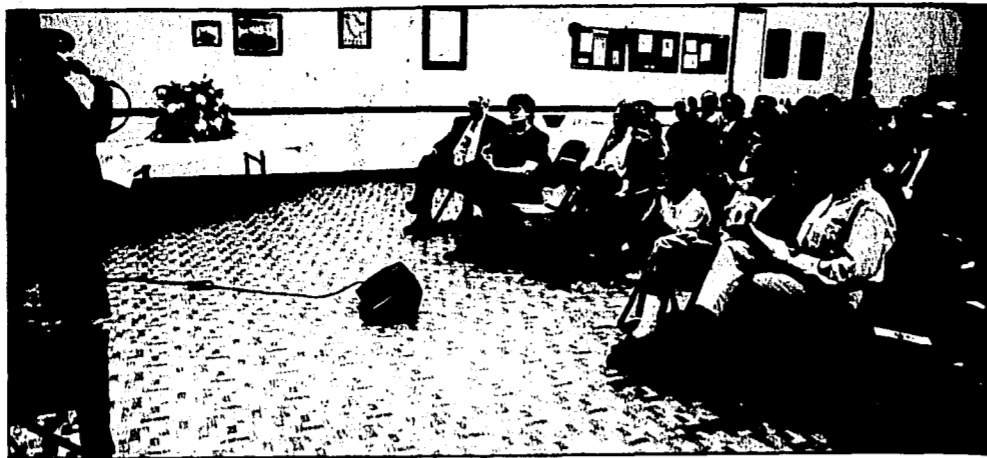

The service will be led by veterans of Post 1119, but all veterans and the spouses and widows of veterans are encouraged to attend.

For more information call the Rev. Robert Goforth at 336-284-4811 or 336-284-4243 or Cooleemee Presbyterian Church, P.O. Box 27, Cooleemee, N.C. 27014.

Ceremony Recognizes Cooleemee Volunteers

COOLEEMEE-They put up smoke detectors in the homes of the elderly, buy groceries for their neighbors in times of need and are dedicated to the improvement of their community.

They are fire fighters, friends of the pool, members of the Cooleemee Historical Association and the VFW. They spend hours volunteering for their churches, at the school and in nursing homes.

They are the volunteers of Cooleemee, and a number of them were honored April 27, at the first annual Volunteer Recognition Night sponsored by the town. The theme for the event was "Because They Care".

After hearing comments from Mayor Grady Spry and Cooleemee Elementary School Principal Jeff Albarty, 31 volunteers were presented with recognition pins donated by the town.

Honored volunteers were nominated by other members of the Cooleemee community, she said.

Silver Eagles Tour Teen Challenge Facility

The Silver Eagle Seniors met at the Farmington Baptist church May 14, and went to the Teen Challenge home near Harmony.

As they arrived, the group was greeted by Michelle Bryant. She invited them to use the Bible Class room to have a short business meeting. Jo Cheek called the meeting to order and welcomed each member. Rose Caudle had devotions, reading a Mother's Day poem. She gave each a miniature sunflower to wear and read an article from The Upper Room: "The Sunflower".

The thought for the day is "Each new day is a wonderful gift from God."

Sympathy was extended to grace Parrish and Harold Stephen at the loss of loved ones.

At the Senior games, Harold Stephen, Jo Cheek and Grace Parrish were metal winners. The Silver Arts will stay on display through May.

Cheek gave dates and times of the opportunities in the next few weeks. Plans are being made for a exercise and walking program at Smith Grove gym.

The meeting adjourned.

Then, Bryant told the group about the home, located on six acres, that provides a well-rounded family environment. It opened in 1979 because of the vision and leadership of Brook Marlin, who wanted to extend the kingdom of God by providing a place of shelter and refuge for broken women.

The home is the only female adult home in N.C. It is a charitable, non-profit program for women age 18-39. The home has a capacity for 12. The women can stay one year.

The Seniors toured the home. Here, the students have daily chores and maintain the property.

The group had lunch with the women and was able to visit and share time with them. Each woman chooses to attend the program to renew and transform her life from the pain of her past.

Before they departed, the women sang some songs.

On the way back to the church, the group made a stop at Jim's Market.

YMCA Plans Expansion

The Davie Family YMCA is planning a million dollar expansion that would add 8,000 square feet, as well as a par course, soccer field and walking track to the facilities off Cemetery Street in Mocksville.

The YMCA is asking for $250,000 each from the town of Mocksville and Davie County to help pay for the expansion.

Half of the building will be for child care facilities. Sara Wood told town board members last week that the YMCA is the largest licensed child care provider in the county, with 260 in before and after school programs and 130 already enrolled for the summer day camp.

"The Davie Family YMCA continues to meet pressing community needs," said Director Joe Hennigan. "We continue to believe the prevention and positive Christian values development are important investments for our future."

Financial Help For Wealthy?

Coolseeme Board Questions Block Grant Policies

COOLEEMEE - Town commissioners agreed to accept the lowest bids received for fixing up homes in an area targeted for rehabilitation through a community block development grant.

But several board members were upset that landlords can also receive financial assistance.

Home owners earning below a set minimum amount (about $26,000 for two people) will be the first to have their homes repaired. Those above minimum income may also receive assistance, paying only a percentage of the cost, on a first come first serve basis, according to F.E. Isenhour.

Several commissioners commented on the unfairness of grant funds being used to rehabilitate a rental property for an owner, who earns well above the specified income but has applied for grant assistance.

That property owner will pay 30 percent of the cost and must agree to rent the residence to low income tenants, Isenhour said.

Davie History Would Be Preserved With Building Of Museum

Davie County has a rich heritage, and piece by piece, that heritage is being given away or sold to other counties.

That's why two groups are working to start a Davie County museum, hoping to provide a permanent home for historic artifacts.

Members of the Davie Historical and Genealogical Society met last week to discuss the idea, and learned that Historic Davie is also kicking the idea around.

"Several of our things have been given to Rowan, or to Raleigh," said Frances "Pam" Beck. "I think it's time we had something to preserve our Davie County heritage."

Jack Pennington, a local collector, agreed. "There are a lot of artifacts lying in homesteads and houses that I would like to see preserved," he said. "A museum is a big undertaking... but it seems that an awful lot of crossroads in this country have a museum." Historian Jim Wall said that while Davie County is one of the oldest in the Piedmont with adequate written histories, it is lacking in a place for things. "There's a great deal of interest in tourism," he said. "This is a part of it and we need to get busy."

The group decided to get help from museum experts in Raleigh, and from organizers of the successful textile history museum in Cooleemee.

"We need to start preserving these things," said Karen Smith. "So many things are leaving the county and that disturbs me. We need to work hard at this."

"We need to know where we're going, and for those children who are growing up here... they need to know where we've been," Smith said.

unveil plans to change the zoning laws, and to get help from those business and property owners.

The town is considering a design based plan to zoning, where uses such as business and residences can be co-mingled. The idea worked in downtowns everywhere before zoning was invented, Bralley said.

"We had all of that without zoning," he said. "As the world goes by, we find out that old ideas weren't so bad after all."

David Smith, a consultant helping the town to come up with the new zoning rules, said downtown businesses and property owners will be involved in more detailed workshops in the near future.

While the focus on growth has been on eastern Davie, Smith said that Mocksville needs to be prepared for increasing residential and business growth.

Record Breaking Season? McGwire Batting For 62

Every morning I check the baseball box scores with one question. Did Mark McGwire hit another homerun? Something incredible is happening.

McGwire has already hit 25 homeruns — through Monday. And it's still May.

There's more than 100 games to go this summer in his bid to break the record for homeruns in the Major Leagues. Can he break the record of 61? Statisticians have figured McGwire — if he continues this torrid pace — can hit 83. Talk about breaking a record ...

For baseball fans, this is a thing of romance, an incredible wonder, a performance that defies explanation.

It can become one of those legendary seasons. That's why I search the sports pages at the breakfast table with my 7-year-old Robert. I want him to remember the year of the record.

McGwire is so strong that his homeruns don't just clear the fence, they hit the upper decks of the ballpark.

But we can't bestow the homerun crown on McGwire just yet. The homerun record has stood at Roger Marris' 61 for more than 35 years for a good reason. Babe Ruth's record of 60 stood for a generation for the same reason.

Hitting homeruns is difficult.

As the season wears on, the pitchers will find weaknesses in McGwire's swing. The heat of summer will test his concentration. As he approaches the record, the thrill and pressure will try to distract him.

But for now, McGwire has the perfect swing. He's hitting a homerun in every other game. Moving to the St. Louis Cardinals last season didn't slow him down. He has hit 30 homeruns in 49 games in that stadium.

This season can turn into one for the ages. Who cares whether the Yankees or Braves win? The World Series will be a sideshow compared to McGwire's challenge on one of the game's lasting records.

Of course it's early. Twenty-five homers is a long way from 61. But this is May. September is 100 games away.

Style Over Substance In D.C.

President Clinton has a staff of them. Monica Lewinsky has hired one. Paula Jones had one.

Now Kenneth Starr has one, too.

A public relations agent.

At government expense.

Why does a prosecutor need a public relations agent?

Why does a prosecutor care whether the public loves him or hates him? He's not up for re-election.

That's the way it is in Washington, D.C., where style is more important than substance. Where it's not whether you're right or wrong, but what the polling figures say.

The public opinion polls have given Starr extremely low marks. He had said he didn't need a public relations agent, but that has changed. The agent has now tried to dress up the prosecutor's image. He advised him to stop giving impromptu interviews while taking out the garbage at his home. It didn't look proper.

And we're paying for this.

North Davie Awards Night Was A Success

To the editor:

On behalf of the Academic Booster Club at North Davie Middle School, I would like to express appreciation to those who made our May 9 awards night a success. The 176 honor roll students from the six teams in grades 6, 7 and 8 have distinguished themselves academically through hard work and a recognition that a sound education is the foundation for the future. They have learned to balance classwork, homework and extra-curricular activities, have evolved into good time managers, and are learning to identify priorities.

Parents all deserved awards for "supporting roles," as they continue to promote the "be all that you can be" development of their children in school and in society. Pride at each banquet helps as each student received a certificate for attaining honor roll status. We give special thanks to the teachers, who inspire their students to reach new levels of learning. Teachers who arrive early and stay late to tutor students requiring extra attention; teachers who grade papers at home; teachers who meet with parents to offer suggestions; teachers who believe in their profession and our children's futures; teachers who mentor student organizations, stay late to type programs and the 176 honor roll certificates, and guide our youth in school and on field trips.

Michelle Warren, Miss North Carolina, was given a basket of items representative of Davie County in appreciation for her making our banquet meaningful. There's something about a student speaking to students that adds significance to the message.

We thank all the volunteers who check homework, copy papers, answer telephones, attend field trips, plan special functions, pull weeds and plant flowers, and generally walk through life with their hand raised to offer help whenever it's needed.

And we thank every business that contributes items for our schools, to include savings bonds, starter bank accounts, food and beverages, prizes, and passes to educational and recreational destinations. We are especially grateful to the Smith Grove Fire Department and Smith Grove Rurians for lending us their tables and chairs. The equinox for academic success includes all of the above (students, parents, teachers and staff, volunteers and businesses), plus the media, for making everyone aware that "the right stuff" is out there, and it's working at North Davie.

My trip to Australia and New Zealand is going to be wonderful. We were able to raise all of the fund needed. I leave June 22 and will be gone for 21 days.

Golf Tournament Named For Ann Frye

To the editor:

The Davie County Law Enforcement Association has held an annual golf tournament in Mocksville for nine years. The late Ann S. Frye, Davie County Magistrate, was an extremely active member of the association and was instrumental in organizing the first golf tournament. Magistrate Frye assisted with the tournament every year but was not a golfer.

She found great joy in seeing the outcome of that project. The proceeds from every tournament are used to fund a Christmas shopping spree for needy children. The DCLEA has named the annual golf tournament The Ann S. Frye Memorial Golf Tournament in honor of all her dedication and contributions.

The DCLEA appreciates all the sponsors, contributors and players who helped make the first Ann S. Frye Memorial Golf Tournament so successful. We hope we can count on your continued support next year.

Soccer Team Ends Battle With South Randolph In Tie

On paper, it had all the makings of a runaway.

But Southwest Randolph made South Davie's soccer team work overtime to merely salvage a 1-1 tie.

"I don't think we played quite as well as we could have," said Coach Jim Henderson, whose club rallied past Trinity 2-1 earlier in the week. "I think the weather was a factor - it was real hot - and I don't think we were on our game."

The Tigers' minds were on the first game, when they spanked Southwest 3-0, and they arrived the second time with swelled heads.

"We need to stay focussed on playing every game," Henderson said. "The problem was we went in a little over confident because the last time we beat them (easily)."

The Tigers, who trailed 1-0 until Jaclyn Barney's game-tying score with 15 minutes remaining, came dangerously close to tasting defeat. "It could have easily been a loss," Henderson said.

Against Trinity, Carly Peeler tied the score at 1-1 and Carrie Worrell provided the game-winning goal in a second half that saw the Tigers overcome a halftime deficit for the second time in a week.

"That was a good win," Henderson said. "We played real hard."

The season came to a close last Tuesday, when South visited neighbor North Davie.

Leading scorer Allison Howell drives the ball down field for North Davie.

Jenny Bokeno and Coach Sean Garnett watch from the sidelines during North Davie's win over Trinity.

North Davie Soccer Team Powers Past Trinity 4-0

A second-half surge powered North Davie's soccer team past Trinity 4-0 and to its third win in a row.

Holding a precarious 1-0 halftime lead, Stacy Handy, Sarah Merlau and Christina Relak broke loose after halftime as North improved its record to 7-4 heading into last Tuesday's season finale at home against South Davie.

"We stepped up in the second half," Coach Sean Garnett said. "Handy scored pretty early, we stayed wide and moved the ball real good and really looked good. It was probably one of the best games we've played all year."

Handy's first of two goals accounted for the only first-half scoring. "It was still a ball game then, even though we dominated," Garnett said.

Allison Howell, Ashlee Ellis and Meredith Bridgewater had assists and Nicole Miller continued her late-season surge.

"Miller played really good," Garnett said. "She has stepped up recently and is improving even more and more. She's doing a good job."

Stacy Handy controls the ball as teammates Ashley Williams and Whitley Lutz look on.

A Bundle Of Joy Couple Plans Life - And Baby Is An Addition - Not A Change

By Jeanne Gaither
Davie County Enterprise Record

John and Anike Fuller had a plan for their life together.

The first step was a house, then the establishment of John's own architecture business.

And, finally, a child. What they couldn't plan for was the joy that their daughter Morgan would bring them.

While some couples talk about the big changes having a baby makes in their lives, the Fullers believe life hasn't changed as much as it has been added to since Morgan's birth Feb. 22, 1997.

Probably the biggest change for Anike has been the opportunity to stay at home with her child. As it was John's dream to have his own business, she said it was her dream to stay home with her children - at least for a while.

She took a leave of absence from her job as a teacher at the development pre-school in Mocksville this year and recently resigned to have more time at home with Morgan. She plans to return to teaching later but is content for now with just being a mother there to see her daughter growing.

"Every day is new and exciting," Anike said. "It's fun to see her learn. I'll say, 'How did you learn that? I don't remember teaching you that.'"

It's also nice to have the time at home to do all the things that need doing. With Morgan's help, that can take quite a while, according to her mother.

"I knew I couldn't plan any big projects, but some days I'm lucky if I get anything done," Anike said.

People can do whatever they want if they plan, according to John.

For the Fullers, everything has been done in sequence. They got married, moved an old log cabin to their land on Cherry Hill Road at the old college. They rebuilt the cabin behind the college and added a little to it, planning to live there until they can restore the college building and make it into a home.

Just as much careful planning went into the birth of their daughter.

Feeling anxious at the stories she'd heard about hospital deliveries with drugs and doctors who appear just in time to catch the baby as it enters the world, Anike was interested in having a more natural birth experience but didn't want to take any unnecessary chances having the baby at home.

"It felt right to me to just have her," she said.

She discovered Carolina Birth Center in High Point where deliveries are performed by midwives. Located directly across from High Point Regional Hospital, she would have been rushed to the hospital if complications made it necessary.

Anike said she was a little concerned about traveling an hour to the center but was reassured that she would have plenty of time. She went there for all her prenatal care.

The couple also attended a class every Friday night in Yadkinville for 12 weeks to prepare for the experience. That was valuable in letting both know what to expect, she said.

On the day of Morgan's birth, Anike began to experience contractions around noon. Within a couple hours,

Davie Couple Pleased With Midwife ... Overjoyed With Life With Baby

The pain had become severe enough that she had to stop what she was doing. While she tried to get comfortable on the couch, she said John did the nesting normally attributed to mothers just before birth - vacuuming and cleaning.

They headed for the birth center about 6 p.m. A midwife and nurse remained in the room with the Fullers until Morgan was born at 9:22 p.m. A friend of Anike's also came to the center to help.

"It was the best experience I could ever imagine for having a baby," John said.

If they had been in a hospital, he said he's sure his wife would have been cut and had to spend several days in the hospital.

As it turned out, she and the baby were able to come home that night just hours after the birth.

Morgan has been going with the flow ever since, according to her father.

She loves cats and dogs - playing with her parents' cat and her grandparents' dogs.

The Fullers consider it a blessing to have grandparents from both sides of the family in Davie County. Morgan's maternal grandmother is Loree Tromp. Paternal grandparents are Harold and Betty Fuller.

Morgan celebrated her first birthday by taking her first steps.

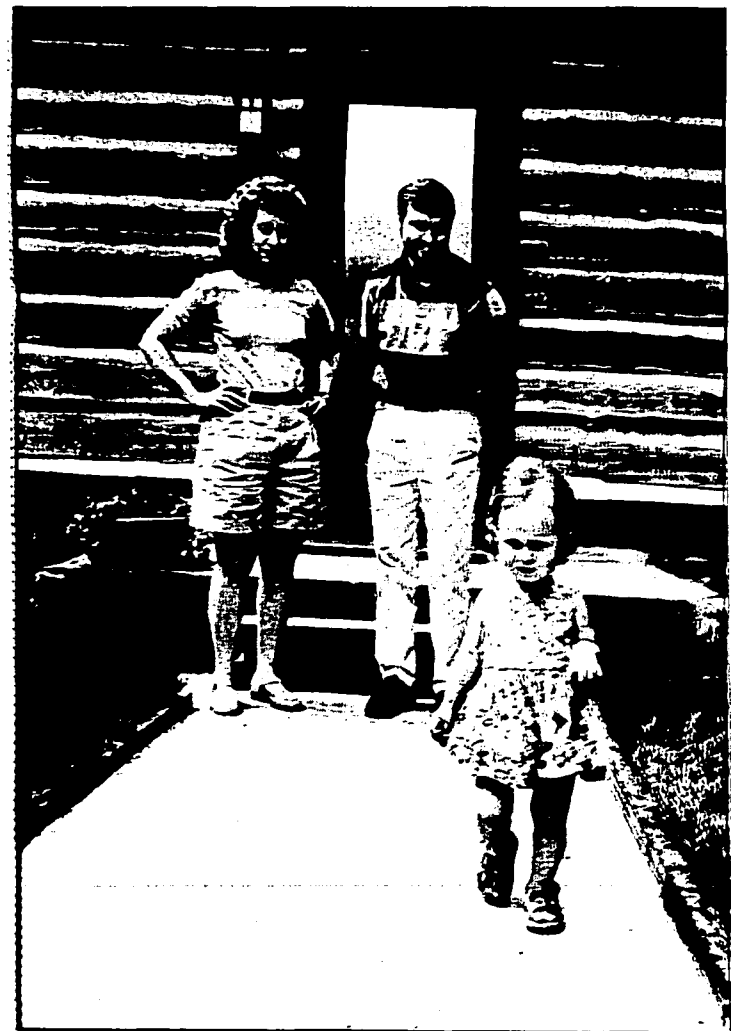

John said. Three months later, she's about to travel to Germany with her parents and maternal grandmother to visit relatives. She even has her own passport.

Young minds are inquisitive, by nature. Here, 15-month-old Morgan Fuller looks at a book, and enjoys the flowers with her father, John. Photos by Robin Fergusson

John and Anike Fuller of Mocksville feel their lives have been enriched with the addition of Morgan.

We Love Babies!

Bedtime Can Be A Problem

Trying to get children to take naps and to get plenty of sleep can be frustrating for the children and their parents.

- Bedtime can be a nurturing time for families, but not if a lot of arguing and tension exists.
- Children can have trouble getting to sleep for various reasons, many of them related to their stage of development.
- Infants' crying problems during the night can often be traced to hunger - a problem which will be solved by feeding the baby. The belief that paying attention to a crying baby will only reinforce crying is, to some extent, a myth.
- If the only time that you pay attention to the baby is when he cries, then perhaps he needs to cry to get your attention. Experts say that what you pay attention to is what you get more of. If you pay a lot of attention to the child when he is not crying, he stands a better chance of feeling secure and trusting.
- Young children may feel separation anxiety and their fear of being left alone may make it difficult for them to go to sleep. They may cry excessively or have temper tantrums. Reassuring them with kind words and a gentle touch can help.
- Children age 3 and older may have nighttime fears and nightmares which are real for them. They are afraid and insecure and talking about their fears may help. With these problems, as with others, growing older is the best cure for most children.

BEDTIME TIPS FOR TIRED PARENTS

- * Experts say that there are three attributes that will make a bedtime routine work: Consistency-Consistency-Consistency!
- 1. Start quiet activities about an hour before bedtime.
- 2. A warm bath may help your child relax.
- * 3. Set a routine - perhaps a favorite book, a drink of water and a good night kiss.
- 4. Set limits - one story, one drink of water, one kiss.

This may not solve all problems, but it is a good first step.

Well Beings.

Your baby is beautiful. And may be the picture of health. But there's also a one in four chance he or she isn't up-to-date with immunizations. One in four.

Your child needs more than 12 shots over the course of five visits, before the age of two.

So never assume your baby is on schedule. Ask your doctor at every visit.

That way, you'll be certain you're giving your child a fair shot. And that's the most beautiful thing of all.

For more information, please call the National Immunization Information Hotline at 1-800-232-2522.

Words Of Praise Can Go Long Way In Raising A Child

This complaint is heard as often from children as it is from parents. Teaching a child to communicate helps him to develop confidence, feelings of self-worth and skill in relating to others.

You can teach a child to listen by gently touching the child before you talk. If you speak in a quiet voice or whisper, the child will learn to focus on what you are saying. If you look the child in the eye and bend down to become her size, she will understand that you have focused all of your attention on her.

Experts suggest using "door openers" to invite children to say more...statements like, "I see," "Tell me more," "No kidding," and "Say that again. I want to be sure I understand you." Remember that praise builds confidence. Catch your children being good - for doing the little things that are so easy to take for granted.

Childbirth And Parenting Health Department Classes Help Area Parents

The Davie County Health Department offers childbirth and parenting classes on Wednesdays in the Conference Room from 5:30-8 p.m. The class sessions are scheduled for seven weeks. Fees are based on family income and size. Medicaid is accepted.

According to Andrea Collins, maternal and child care coordinator (MCC) social worker and coordinator of the health department's childbirth and parenting classes, "The Childbirth and Parenting Classes are taught by trained health professionals. The instructors utilize various teaching methods and instruments (e.g., classroom demonstrations, videos, handouts, and group discussions)."

The following parenting classes are taught by Health Department and community agency staff:

- Expecting A Baby (Instructor: Andrea Collins)
- Preparing For Baby's Arrival (Instructor: Andrea Collins)
- Basic Baby Care (Instructor: Julie Coleman)
- Baby's First Year: Growth, Development & Health Care (Instructor: Julie Coleman)
- Nutrition and Feeding (Instructors: Hope Smith & Vickie Frye)
- Childhood Safety & Injury Prevention (Instructor: Susan Hockaday)
- Fathers As Parents (Instructor: Carol Goin)
- Domestic Violence (Instructors: Davie County Domestic Violence Services)

Words of Praise

Way to go. Super. Awesome. Outstanding. Goodtry. Looking good. Nice work. Well done. You're fantastic. Great discovery. What an imagination. You are a great listener. You are fun. Great sharing. I trust you. You're important to me. You brighten my day. You make me laugh. You're a real trooper. You look beautiful. I love you.

The next time everyday pressures build up and you feel like lashing out. Try one of these simple alternatives.

- You'll feel better...and so will your child.
- Take a deep breath. And another. Remember that you are the adult.
- Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child is about to hear.
- Press your lips together and count to 10. Or better yet, to 20.
- Put your child in time-out. Give one time-out minute for each year of age.
- Put yourself in time-out. Think about why you're angry. Are you truly angry at your child. Or is your child the target for your anger at someone else?
- Phone a friend.
- If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a walk.
- Take a hot bath or splash cold water on your face.
- Hug a pillow.
- Turn on some music. Maybe even sing along.
- Pick up a pencil and write out your negative feelings.
- Call 1-800-354-KIDS for someone near you who can help.

Pinebrook Elementary

Seven students did well in the state final competition of Odyssey of the Mind at Elon College May 2. These students received a third place trophy out of the 16 teams which competed from across North Carolina. Although Pinebrook has had several teams to go to the state finals, this is the first team that has been recognized at the awards ceremony. Team members were: Lea Scott, Lauren Wanucha, Jared Shrewsbury, Phillip Scott, Kristen Fromal, Ashley Sells, and Jessica McCallister. They were coached by Linda Scott, Kathy Scott, Margaret Rogers and Ian Scott. The team began working on October on a problem called "Marvelous Mentor". They had to act as an advertising agency and develop a product and a television commercial. They had to select a historical figure to serve as a mentor to help the agency solve the problem. They also had to compose their own music. The team also had to participate in a "Spontaneous" problem. They were given a problem that they had never seen before and were judged on their creative brainstorming ability. This team placed first in this part of the competition. A highlight of the event was the presence at Elon College of Dr. Sam Micklus, founder of the Odyssey of the Mind program.

Davie High Band Students Superior In Regional Event

Davie students performed well at the Northwest District Solo and Ensemble Festival Saturday, May 2 at Appalachian State University. Davie High School students winning awards were:

- Chris Strong, percussion solo, superior rating;
- Leslie Norman, flute solo, superior rating;
- Dustin Keaton, alto saxophone solo, superior rating;
- Meredith Comatz and Doug Markland, clarinet duet, superior rating.

It was the first time Davie scored all superiors at the festival.

Alex Evans of South Davie Middle School participated in the French horn solo competition.

The event was judged by an Appalachian professor, who grades and rates the performances either superior, the best possible rating, or excellent, average, fair or poor. The performance graded based on tone quality, musical technique, interpretation of the music and playing in tune.

"I was very pleased with the results and proud of all the students who performed," said Band Director Kathy Ferrebee. She noted that the competition was the same day as the prom; hoping that the two will not coincide next year so that more students can participate.

Local Author's Book Published On Internet

The internet makes it possible for authors to reach a vast world wide audience at the push of a button. Local author Doris Hall, recently had her book, called "Teardrops And Laughter," published on the World Wide Web, through an international online library called IStBooks.

Once a reader has bought her book, IStBooks, will transmit it directly into their computer. From there, the reader can print it out or simply read it from their computer screen.

She said down in the meadow where the wildflowers grow and the grass is so green. It's the prettiest place for a house I've ever seen. They all worked so hard here on the farm. He was going to build her that big house, but first a bigger barn. It seemed it was always one thing or another. I'll never get that big house he heard her tell her mother. He started on it the very next day. And she was happy as the sunshine in May. She loved picking out the colors, the carpet, the drapes. She'd smile and wave as he'd go by on his old John Deere tractor. She thought he was more handsome than any Hollywood actor. They couldn't believe when the wedding was over.

doctors said she didn't have long to live. She tried so hard to fight but she'd give all she had to give. She had left while her house was still smelling new. Their years together had seemed so few. And he still feels her here in their house somehow. He walks through the house feeling her presence in every room. Sometimes he can smell her perfume. And today it seemed he heard her whisper. Soon Very Soon.

Unlike conventional books, "Virtual books" are not printed on paper. Instead, they are available in a variety of electronic formats, which can be downloaded directly to a reader's computer anywhere in the world, from the following web location: WWW.Istbooks.com.

Doris Hall resides in Harmony, with her husband Jay Hall. They have five daughters who live throughout the area here.

She has been writing songs and poetry since she was a child living in a little town called Bassett, Va. Her book is a variety of country and gospel songs, poems and short stories.

The family attends Mocksville Church of God.
