Another Missed Day: Students In School May 27

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

The snow has melted, and temperatures are reaching spring-like levels.

Officials with the Davie County School System hope it stays this way. Last Friday's missed day because of snow will be made up on May 27, at the end of the year. If another day is missed, the board of education will have a special meeting to discuss what to do.

At the same time, they're thinking about next year's calendar, and a statewide push to have all schools start after Labor Day has them concerned.

A preliminary school calendar for the 2004-2005 school year was presented by Assistant Superintendent of Human Resources, Curriculum, and Instruction, Jeff Albarty. It listed make-up days for next school year as Jan. 3, Dec. 20, Feb. 14, and May 23-26.

The calendar committee will meet March 9 to revisit those proposed make-up days and to address the ramifications of the Save Our Summers group, which proposes all public schools begin after Labor Day.

Albarty told board members he was unsure the Save Our Summers proposal would come into play for Davie. "But if it did, we'd want to be prepared for it and we'd want to go ahead and do some preliminary planning."

Board member Dr. Regina Graham-Hauser said that Save Our Summers was organized by parents in eastern North Carolina who wanted longer summers for their children and also wanted children to begin the school year during cooler weather.

The group is urging the governor and the General Assembly to enact legislation requiring local boards of education to schedule the first

A Hot Job

Live Fire Training Gives Volunteers Inside Look

Fire bellowed from underneath the roof, as volunteer firefighters inched their way forward, hose in hand, looking for any danger.

Could someone be inside?

Those firefighters put on heavy air tanks with masks, and entered the smoke-filled house, looking for signs of life.

The fire was real, the danger was real, but it was just an exercise.

Last Saturday, members of the William R. Davie Fire Department and other volunteers from across the county participated in "live burns" at dilapidated houses at Cana Road and U.S. 601 North.

The owner of the houses had donated them to the fire department, so firefighters could be trained in life-like situations.

"We've been fortunate to have these chances," said WRD Fire Chief Jerry Myers. "You can't beat actual training in an actual fire situation."

Don Crafford, a captain with the Thomasville Fire Department, was the live fire training instruction.

Funds For Stadium Renovation Sought

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

The Davie Board of Education unanimously approved to move forward on securing funds for renovations at Davie High School so the projects could be completed before next year's football season begins.

Dr. Van Johnson, assistant superintendent of operations and administration, presented an outline of the renovations Monday night. They include adding new bleachers to the football stadium, building new stadium bathrooms, renovating the current coaches office into a concession stand, and renovating and adding bathrooms inside the school.

"The problem we face is that we do not have access to funds provided by the November bond referendum until as late as May 18," Johnson said.

Bids are needed as soon as possible so contractors can finish construction by Aug. 1.

Johnson said the estimated cost of the projects (which does not include the science area improvements) was $864,000, plus an additional $20,000-$30,000 to begin

Receive Free Gunlock This Saturday

COOLEEMEE - Free gunlocks will be available to area residents from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Saturday in front of the post office in the shopping center here.

Obtained by the Cooleemee Police Department through the U.S. Department of Justice and the firearms industry in Project ChildSafe, the safety kits include a cable-style gunlock that should fit on most guns, and a safety curriculum.

The goal is to prevent a child or other unauthorized person from accessing a firearm in your home.

"Project ChildSafe is an important step forward in helping ensure that all firearm owners fully understand their responsibilities with respect to the safe handling and storage of firearms," said Police Chief Joey Reynolds.

Perfect Snow? Storm Left Us In Playland

The perfect snow? Unless you happened to dent your car on the way home Thursday evening, it could almost be described that way.

By our standards, it was a huge snow — 12 to 18 inches, depending on where you lived. And four days later, only a few traces remained.

The kids got to build the snowmen of their dreams, miss a day of school and enjoy a pleasant day Friday romping and diving into the deepest snow many of the small ones had ever seen.

Not too cold to enjoy. Not so warm that the snow melted before the creations could be constructed, admired and properly photographed.

For awhile, it seemed like we lived in Buffalo, NY, there was so much snow.

Yet, snow plows had an easy time. There was none of the usual sleet and ice this time. Road clearing work was accomplished in short order.

By Friday evening, just about all the roads were totally clear of snow.

There was no need for a two-week supply of rations from the grocery store.

There was no need for candles and emergency firewood. The electricity stayed on. We didn't have to shiver and shake through the night without heat.

The snow creations were wild. Forts, castles, igloos. Snowmen were quickly thrown up. The snow packed readily, and there was so much of it.

At our house, we didn't make one snowman. We made three — including the world's tallest — 12 feet.

With a ladder and pickup truck, my oldest son kept building until he couldn't reach any higher. The little guys in the neighborhood piled snow at the bottom as the Tower of Babel snowman got taller and taller.

I began worrying that the little boys would be crushed by an avalanche.

By Tuesday, the snow was mostly a memory.

The World's Tallest Snowman was reduced to two feet and melting fast as rain moved in. Only the biggest piles of snow around parking lots remained.

But the kids can store the Snow of 2004 into their memory banks, and when they grow up they can tell their children — like we tell ours — it never snows any more like it did when they were children.

It was a wonderful snow.

School Calendar

It just doesn't make sense, she told me. Why go to school in the middle of summer? Why does the school calendar have to be so confusing?

Nuclear physics may be easier to understand than the school calendar.

In other states, mostly up north, school doesn't start until Labor Day. Why not here?

With the advent of air conditioning, schools in the South can now start earlier, as Davie has done, now starting the first week of August.

One state legislator is proposing a bill which would require North Carolina schools to open later. He contends the early schedules hurt the state's important tourism industry. That was part of the point made by the woman who talked to me last week. Her out-of-state relatives don't get out of school until June. That leaves about six weeks to schedule visits.

Devising the calendar is dizzy work. Teacher work days must be included. The schools must leave room for snow days — a big problem in recent years. The schools now try to reach the halfway point by Christmas for high school students to take exams before the Christmas break.

Should we change? Some like the calendar, some don't. But don't ever expect to understand it.

Guns More Likely To Be Used For Protection

To the editor:

According to John R. Lott Jr., a resident scholar at the American Enterprise Institute, surveys were conducted on defensive gun use. One survey conducted for the book, "The Bias Against Guns", and three earlier academic surveys by researchers published in such journals as the "Journal of Criminal Justice", there are about two million defensive gun uses each year. Guns are used defensively to protect four times more frequently than they are to commit crimes.

Many people say they have never heard of an incident of defensive gun use. There is a good reason for their confusion. In 2001, the three major television networks – ABC, CBS, and NBC, ran 190,000 words worth of gun-crime stories on their morning and evening national news broadcasts. But they ran not a single story mentioning a citizen using a gun to stop a crime. The New York Times ran 50,745 words on gun crimes but only one 163 word story on a retired police officer who used his gun to stop a robbery. For USA Today, it was 5,660 words on gun crimes versus zero on defensive uses. There were 18 defensive gun uses found that were covered by newspapers around the country during the first 10 days of December.

If a news editor faces two stories, one with a dead body on the ground and another where a women pulls a gun and the attacker runs away, they will usually pick the first story. Between 1995 and 1999 only five to nine cases a year involved a child under 10 wounding or killing another child with a gun. Any death is tragic. But it should be noted that more children under 5 drown in bathtubs or plastic water buckets than from guns. The gun deaths are covered extensively as well as prominently with individual cases getting up to 88 separate news stories. In contrast, when children use guns to save lives, the event might, at most, get one brief mention in a small local paper. Yet these events do occur.

Award-winning survey research shows that each year in the United States, gun owners use firearms for protection as frequently as 2.5 million times. Discussing only the cost of guns and not their benefits poses the real threat to public safety.

Where Were The Planners?

To the editor:

Because I live on Pine Valley Road across from the proposed new development at Hickory Hill Golf Course, I was invited to attend the recent meetings of the Davie County Planning Board. At the first meeting, there were seven planning board members present. This meeting was for input from the public regarding the proposed zoning changes from R-20 to R-12. This allows the developer to build smaller and/or multi-family homes on the golf course. The meeting lasted from 7 p.m. until past 11.

At the next meeting, there were only four of the previous members present and one alternate who had not been present at the previous meeting to hear our objections. Only two of the members who heard our objections voted for the proposed change plus the alternate who was not present and did not hear the input from the public.

It is unbelievable in this time in our history when the government is scrutinizing corporations and sending people to jail, to see anything passed by a 2 of 7 vote. If the alternate had heard our voice I could say 3 of 7 but would not consider that to be a majority. If all 4 of the regular members had voted for it, I could have no objection. No excuses were made for the absent members. Why was the vote not postponed until more of the members could be present? Are the taxpayers paying the people to serve on this board?

Piano Lessons And Days Gone By

Sometimes I am asked questions regarding things that have happened in the past. One question I've been asked a numer of times is "At what age should a child start piano lessons?" Teachers do not agree on this. I think that the third grade in school is a good time. My main reason for this is because a child's mind develops faster than his or her little fingers grow. Children can soon play pieces that their fingers are not prepared to handle yet. Also, they retrain certain rules and signs much better than younger students. I remember teaching one extra smart little second grader who quickly reached a stage her fingers couldn't handle, so we had to stay on that level for about a year. Of course, there's no dearth of music, so she had quite a good repertoire.

There are exceptions to all rules. I started my first piano class when my little sister was 5 years old. She asked to stay in the room and listen. I gave her permission to do this if she would sit over in the corner in her little chair and not open her mouth and that's what she did. She soon asked why she could not take piano lessons. I decided to teach her 10 or 15 minutes a day. She did quite well and I assumed that when she started to school she would continue. However, she informed me that she would be too busy to take piano lessons but would let me know when she was ready to continue. Well, when she started fourth grade, she told me she was ready. We started again and she continued until she graduated from high school. She became an excellent pianist and I was proud of her. She played piano for Sunday School, worship service, and for Baptist Training Union (as it was called then) at our church and for other events.

Louise Stroud

It is interesting working with little children. They are so natural. I enjoyed writing the book about my years of teaching piano and I've since thought of so many things I wish I had included in my book, but I shall not write another.

Leaving the subject of piano teaching, sometime ago my sister and I were talking with our friends, Joe and Melba Ferebee of Misenheimer. If you don't remember Joe as a boy growing up in Davie County, I'm sure you have read of his many honors and awards as oustanding coach at Pfeiffer University. Anyway, we somehow got to talking about old time comic strip characters. I haven't read the comics in quite a few years now. The last I read was the Judge Parker strip and Mary Worth. We remembered Dick Tracy and his wrist radio. We talked about Mutt and Jeff, Bringing up Father (Maggie and Jiggs), the Katzenjammer kids, Little Orphan Annie and Daddy Warbucks and Tillie the Toiler. I don't suppose any of these are around anymore.

Joe told me that they had a service tree in their yard in Misenheimer. He said he knew of several in Davie County out in the woods. He told me the bloom on the tree is called Star Magnolia. I'd never heard that. I always thought the blooms resembled the floppy white blooms on the ash tree. These trees seem to grow in the woods so if they're found in town, they've probably been transplanted.

It's odd, sometimes, what one remembers from bygone days. Isn't it strange how one can forget important events and remember funny little things of no consequence? I recall that a highly respected Mocksville citizen, whose name I won't reveal, had driven a car for some years, but unfortunately, had never really learned to drive. One day he drove uptown and could not remember how to stop the car. He slowly drove round and round to park closest to what was then Sanford's store. Mr. Roy ran out and jumped on the running board (which cars had at that time) and told him how to stop the car.

Another incident I remember happened when a local man, a Greek scholar and a teacher, drove his car toward Lexington. He had just passed Fork Church (as the village was then called. Most just say Fork now) and was still almost in sight of a service station he had passed, when he ran out of gas. He then walked back to the station and asked if it would hurt the car to run it when it was out of gas. They told him it would not so he went back and tried to start the car. I'm assuming he went back for gas, but that's where the story ended when it was being told. Since I didn't witnness either of these incidents, I can't vouch for them really happening, but it was general knowledge at the time.

Thinking again about the comic strips, I do look at Dennis the Menace and Family Circus. I think it takes smart persons to come up with these ideas every day. I enjoy working the crossword puzzles, and I've learned quite a bit if I could just remember what I've learned. My sister helps me. I don't know if it keeps my brain working or wears it out.

Sometime ago a friend and I were discussing this world's goods, and I made a statement that I had everything I wanted. When she recovered from the initial shock, she said, "You surely can't mean that." I said, "I do. You see, I know what to want." And it's that simple.

Several of us were discussing our New Year's resolutions. Most said they had already broken at least one. I said that I made one resolution every year and thus far I had been able to keep it. I explained that every year I made a resolution not to make any resolutions because I knew I'd break them. So far, that's worked out fine.

Groundhog Day came and went on Feb. 2. The groundhog did see his shadow in Davie County, but I understand it depends on whether or not the groundhog sees his shadow in Pennsylvania. My father, who published The Davie Record for 49 years, used to appoint a groundhog committee every year. I'm not sure who was on the committee, but I'm pretty sure they were from the Sheffield community. This committee would meet on groundhog day and then they would send their report to daddy and he would print it in the next issue of the paper. During my long lifetime, I only remember a few groundhog days that the groundhog did not see his shadow and sure enough we would have an early spring.

After my last column, a subscriber to the newspaper wrote that next November or early December, rustycoat apples could be found at the Perry Low orchard on N.C. 16 a few miles north of Taylorsville. This was good to know and if you haven't tried them, you might like to see if you like them. We appreciate the input.

Woman Thankful For Christian Workers

To the editor,

Through the use of this good and informative newspaper, I'd like to share an experience which might be of some inteest to Davie County people.

Wednesday, Feb. 4, I had a horrible accident on North Main Street in which I was severely injured and traumatized. Cooleemee Chief of Police Joey Reynolds was the first officer on the scene. He was understanding, and soon the EMS squad arrived, and they took me to Davie County Hospital, where I was treated and sent to Forsyth Hospital.

Eddie Spry had a cross with him that I understand he is never without. He prayed a beautiful prayer for me on my behalf. This was impressive and appreciated, as I also carry a cross and a Bible that I'm never without. God is always with me, and regardless of what happens, I keep the faith as did the EMS employee.

Davie County should be proud to have Christians such as Eddie and his partner, Doug Peak, to help with the health problems of others. I appreciate the kindness and compassion of E.M. Parker, who is an officer that came to the hospital.

My thanks and grateful appreciation to each of you who were so helpful in seeing I was treated for my injuries. I'm also thankful to know that the police and EMS employees are Christians and so dedicated to the cause.

put out fires, watching the flames as they sprayed water on it from different directions. They learned to properly ventilate a burned or burning building, how to perform rescues and how to handle the firefighting equipment.

Myers thanked the family that donated the houses for the training.

Several more such training exercises are planned in the future, Myers said.

Johnson asked the board to consider accessing money from a Public School Building Capital Fund, a state fund which requires a $1 for $3 match. Davie County Schools has approximately $1.2 million in the Public School Building Fund. Johnson said a $216,000 match would be necessary to access the Public School fund. He proposed that $216,000 be taken from the schools budgeted capital outlay funds.

Marlene Shamel made a motion to move forward in securing the project funding. Marty Carter seconded and said, "If we wait until May 18 when the bond comes available, we'll have to play our first home games at North Davie or somewhere else, but we won't play them in Mocksville. We just can't get this project done in two months, and even starting now it's going to take all that Dr. Johnson can do to be ready for opening football season.

"We do it now or we wait on bond money and do it next year after football season is over. That's the decision we're faced with," Carter said.

With the school board's approval, the issue now goes before the county commissioners for approval at their meeting on March 15.

Davie High's graduation is scheduled May 28 at the school's stadium, but the ceremony will take place on the home side.

The ceremony is set for 7:30 p.m. on Friday, May 28. The graduates will face the current home stands, with additional seating and big-screen viewing will be available, Principal Larry Bridgewater said in a letter to parents. Saturday night will be the backup date in case of inclement weather Friday.

Last year, members of the education board decided not to set the graduation date at the beginning of the year, so that weather issues could be taken into account.

Albarty told members if Davie students fell under the Save Our Summers proposal, if it is adopted, the first day of school next year would be Sept. 7 and the ending school day would be June 15. The school calendar has classes beginning on Aug. 4 and ending on May 20 for the next school year.

The Knights of Columbus will hold a fish fry from 4-7 p.m. Friday, March 19 at St. Francis of Assisi Church, Yadkinville Road, Mocksville.

The $6 meal, eat-in or take-out, will include flounder, cole slaw, hushpuppies, potato salad and pound cake. Proceeds will benefit Knights' local projects.

Reflective Markers Available

It's a dark night. No moon, nothing. Just black.

You have an electrical problem, and you smell something burning.

You dial 911.

Or maybe your spouse has a heart attack, and you call 911.

The emergency responders are on the way, but they can't find your house.

The Smith Grove Volunteer Fire Department wants to help solve that problem. Members are selling reflective markers that can be mounted on mailboxes. When the headlights of an emergency vehicle hit them, the numbers shine bright and clear.

Up to five digits are available for $15, $25 installed.

For more information, call 998-3484.

Mocksville Briefs

Town Annexes Two Properties

Following public hearings where no one spoke in favor or against the proposed annexations, the town board approved annexing two properties.

The first is the Davie County Group Home on Sanford Avenue, which owners thought was already in the town limits. The board applied for the annexation so they would not have to change their address within the 911 system. Lash Sanford, a member of the home board, abstained from the vote.

The second property annexed is the Hugh A. Lagle Water Treatment Plant, also on Sanford Avenue. The water treatment plant is owned by the town of Mocksville, but the county property lines crosses the property. By annexing the property, the entire treatment plant is now on town property.

Martha Palmer Leaving Town

Martha Palmer will celebrate her 15th anniversary with the Town of Mocksville on Feb. 20. It will also be her last anniversary with the town; March 3 will be her last day. Palmer is moving back to Georgia to be closer to her two grandchildren. Beth Thompson is training to fill Palmer's position.

Auxiliary Police Ordinance Updated

The board repealed chapter 13 of the town ordinances regarding special police officers and replaced it with an updated version. The new version replaces "special officers" with "auxiliary police" and refers to time when off-duty police may be used for special events. The changes were required to allow the officers workers compensation coverage during the events.

Police Kept Busy in 2003

The Mocksville Police Department was busy in 2003. Police Chief Jack Keller presented the town board with a year-end report listing the number of issues the department responded to. In all, there were 663 driving citations handed out, and they responded to 180 accidents. They made 207 arrests, most for them for traffic violations, followed by shoplifting. There were 844 offenses that were investigated including larceny and drug violations.

"Everybody is very appreciative of the work the police department does," Mayor F.W. Slate told Keller at the board meeting. "I've heard only good comments on the work they do."

Guess Who Visited Davie Place
Mr. Snowman showed up for a visit last Friday, to the delight of our residents.
As Activity Director, Trudy provides a broad range of activites to engage and entertain our residents. Many of the activities are seasonal and, as Mr. Snowman shows, some are totally spontaneous!
All of our residents enjoyed seeing Mr. Snowman before he had to 'disappear' Friday night. We know they also enjoy the many other planned activities presented by Trudy and our staff.

Two Teens Arrested For ATV Thefts

Davie County Enterprise Record

Two Davie teens have been arrested in connection with the thefts of several ATVs in the county.

Andrew Keith Tesnar, 19, of 896 Pine Ridge Road, Mocksville and Christopher Daryl Crotts, 18, of 557 Cherry Hill Road, Mocksville were arrested March 1 and each face six counts of felony larceny.

Since Jan. 19 nine four-wheelers, one dirt bike, a loading ramp, and two trailers have been reported stolen from county residences.

Davie Sheriff's Detectives R.M. Trotter and J.S. Parker are heading the investigation and received information that led them to Tesnar's Pine Ridge Road residence on Monday afternoon.

Before approaching Tesnar, the detectives drove by his home and saw a trailer behind an outbuilding on the property.

When Tesnar was questioned he told detectives he had heard about the ATV thefts but none of the stolen items were at his home and he was not involved.

After he gave detectives permission to look around Trotter said Tesner then told them there was a four-wheeler on the property that belonged to his friend, Crotts.

Detectives found a Honda four-wheeler that matched the description of one stolen from Bear Creek Church Road in January. The ignition was missing and the vehicle had been hotwired, according to Trotter.

When asked about the trailer on the property, Tesnar told detectives it belonged to Crotts's father. The trailer matched one reported stolen from Underpass Road.

Trotter said Tesnar and Crotts were arrested and admitted taking a four-wheeler and dirt bike from Bear Creek Church Road. Both said they found the trailer abandoned in a ditch off N.C. 801.

Detectives next headed to a home on Potts Road, Advance after receiving a tip other four-wheelers could be found there.

Tesnar

Crotts

They were given consent to search the area and recovered one ATV that matched the description of one reported stolen.

Detectives returned to Potts Road the next day and recovered another four-wheeler reported stolen.

Tesnar and Crotts were placed in Davie County Jail in lieu of bonds of $30,000 each. Their first court appearances are scheduled March 11.

Both deny any involvement in the other thefts. "We as a sheriff's department investigation think the same people did all of it," Trotter said. "They're claiming they acted alone, but we'll see.".

The investigation is continuing and Trotter said more charges are pending.

Foundation Can Meet All Charitable Interests

Every individual, family, business, and organization has unique charitable interests and financial circumstances.

The Community Foundation of Davie County (CFDC) pro-vides personal service to each donor giving them a variety of options to meet their charitable goals.

"We can help you make the best of your unique circumstances," said Jane Simpson, president. "A variety of funds are available through the communi-ty foundation. You need only choose the one that is right for you."

Your gift can address ever-changing community needs - including future needs that often cannot be anticipated at the time your gift is made.

"We evaluate all aspects of community well-being - arts and culture, economic development, education, environment, health and human services, neighborhood revitalization, and more," she said. "The flexibility of your unrestricted gift enables your community foundation's pro-gram staff to respond to the community's most pressing needs, today and tomorrow."

The CFDC has a small unrestricted fund. Gifts to the community unrestricted fund may be made to the fund at any time, in any amount.

With Donor Advised Funds, you can have ongoing involve-ment in the use of the gift. Work with staff, identifying ways to use dollars from the fund you establish to address the issues and needs you care about most. Your recommendations are submitted to the local board for approval; and then grant dollars are distributed.

The CFDC has two donor advised funds which allow these donors to partner with the foundation and recommend grant recipients.

With Field of Interest Funds, you can target gifts to address needs in an important area of community life such as arts, AIDS, aging and at-risk youth. "You identify your personal interest area when making your gift; our board awards grants to community organizations and programs that are making a difference in the area you select," she said.

"You can invest your gift in our community's future and show students you care, all with the guidance and personal services of your community foundation. You help determine the criteria students must meet to receive the scholarship you establish. With your assistance, students achieve their academic and career-oriented goals.

The CFDC has two scholarship funds which will begin awarding grants in the near future. A community-wide campaign will be launched soon to create a $2 million endow-ment for scholarships to Davie County students.

You can direct your gift to a specific nonprofit organization or purpose. "Help provide ongoing funding for a senior center, museum, or virtually any nonprofit charitable organiza-tion," Simpson said.

Nonprofit organizations can use a designated fund through the community foundation to build an endowment and en-hance the ability to accept large and complex gifts. The CFDC manages the Abe Howard Humanitarian Fund designated to benefit the Storehouse for Jesus annually. Gifts of any size may be added to this fund at any time.

Organizations can establish a fund to benefit their organiza-tion. The endowment disburses regular income to the organiza-tion while allowing the fund to be professionally managed.

"The CFDC is pleased to manage the Textile Heritage Fund and the Rotary Club of Mocksville Endowment," Simpson said.

"Churches may find the community foundation to be a good partner for managing cemetery funds as well as church endowments."

With administrative funds, you can support the ongoing operations of the community foundation. Earningsbenefit the foundation operating budget.

The CFDC has an administrative fund established to benefit the ongoing operations of the community foundation. Gifts may be made to this fund in any amount, at any time.

With Acorn Funds, you can make an initial gift ($1,000) and allow it to grow through earnings and future gifts into a fund with the CFDC. All funds must grow to $5,000 to begin awarding grants, with the exception of Scholarship Funds which require an endowment of $25,000.

The CFDC has its first acorn fund and anticipates a number of funds will be established during 2004.

"Whatever your charitable goals, The Community Founda-tion of Davie County can assist you in establishing a fund in your name or anonymously," Simpson said. "Any of these funds can be established in your name, or in the name of your family, your business, your organization, or anyone you wish to honor.

"All grants distributed from the fund you establish - today and in the future - are then awarded to charities in the name of that fund. It's a great way to always be involved with, and remembered for, your community investment," she said.

The mission is to "advance philanthropy and pool donor assets for the benefit of our community." The foundation accepts gifts in any amount, at any time, toward its Community Unrestricted Fund. A variety of options for establishment of named funds in honor or memory of donors is also available.

Dull Earns Order Of The Long Leaf Pine

Here's to the land of the Long Leaf Pine, the summer land, where the sun doth shine. Where the weak grow strong and the strong grow great. Here's to down home the Old North State.

Vernon Dull knows the words well.

He's a North Carolina boy, a North Carolina man. He grew up in Davie County, and built his home here. Working in furniture sales, for Duke Power and for the Davie County Chamber of Commerce, Dull has spent a lifetime bettering himse - and his neighbors.

The current speaker of the N.C. Tar Heel Legislature, he's been a regular with that group since its inception.

At a Division of Aging presentation with the Northwest Piedmont Council of Governments meeting, Dull was surprised.

He was presented with the Order of the Long Leaf Pine, the highest award bestowed a civilian by the state of North Carolina.

It gives him "the rank of ambassador extraordinary privileged to enjoy fully all rights granted to members of this exalted order; among which is the special privilege to proprose the following North Carolina toast in select company anywhere in the free world."

Marine Takes Basic Training

Marine Corps Pvt. John M. Roberts, son of Judy M. Hall of Mocksville and Evan J. Roberts of Greer, S.C., recently completed 12 weeks of basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C., designed to challenge new Marine recruits physically and mentally.

Roberts and fellow recruits began their training at 5 a. m., by running three miles and performing calisthenics. In addition to the physical conditioning program, Roberts spent numerous hours in classroom and field assignments which included learning first aid, uniform regulations, combat water survival, marksmanship, hand-to-hand combat and assorted weapons training. They performed close order drill and operated as a small infantry unit during field training.

Roberts and other recruits received instruction on the Marine Corps' core values - honor, courage and commitment, and what the words mean in guiding personal and professional conduct.

Roberts and fellow recruits ended the training phase with The Crucible, a 54-hour, team evolution culminating in a ceremony in which recruits are presented the Marine Corps Emblem, and addressed as "Marines" for the first time.

Resident Complains About Ordinance

COOLEEMEE - Clarence Spillman thinks the town of Cooleemee should have had more public input before adopting a minimum housing ordinance.

He told town board members that last week.

His first complaint was that the town hadn't advertised that a copy of the code could be reviewed at town hall prior to the hearing.

After asking some questions about the language in the code, he said, "That takes me back to my point last time: why was there no committee set up? Did you feel you could not trust the community to do a fair job in presenting housing codes?"

In addition to wanting to know if the town had copies of the general statutes the document refers to, he also asked why the code didn't talk about funding repairs.

"To me, it should have had something in here about getting funds for remodeling some of these homes that are old," he said. "If we're talking about saving the Bullhole, we should be talking about saving our antique homes, too. I just wish the town people would have had an opportunity to input in this housing code."

Mayor John Chandler thanked Spillman for his comments and suggestions.

Town Clerk Dolly Urdanick said the general statutes are on the internet. "They change so much, we don't keep a copy."

Good News Campaign

Advance Post Office rural route carrier Dana Sheets and clerk Robert Nowak talk about the Good News Campaign launched by Advance and other post offices to spread the word about all the services your local post offices offer. "We're trying to get kids to understand how the postal service works," said Sheets. Advance's windows were decorated with colorful cutouts for Valentine's Day after children from Shady Grove took a tour, mailed their Valentines, and learned how letters get mailed (below). "You won't get better service than you do with the United States Postal Service," Sheets said.

War Eagles Eager To Put '03 Baseball Behind Them

Davie senior Andrew McClannon stretches before practice. He's expected to be the team's No. 1 pitcher

Davie County Enterprise Record

Was it really just two years ago when Davie's varsity baseball team was riding a record wave, a string of six winning seasons that established a new benchmark in Davie's storied history?

If it seems longer, there's a reason. Last year was a disaster. After finishing first or second in the Central Piedmont Conference over that strong six-year stretch, the War Eagles bottomed out at 4-15 and 2-8 in the CPC. It also marked the end of an amazing run for Coach Mike Herndon, who had finished first or second in all 11 of his head-coaching years (seven at Southwest Guilford, his first four at Davie) and had compiled a record of 164-93 that was spiced by a 1997 state championship at SWG.

Then came forgettable 2003, when Davie averaged 3.5 runs, hit .214 and gave up nearly a run per inning.

The trip back to respectability begins this season. Thanks to a merciless schedule, no one knows how long the trip will take or how many detours the War Eagles will face along the way. But

Please See Respect - Page B3

Ready To Roll

Davie Softball Should Make Plenty Of Noise

Davie's varsity softball team won't be satisfied with .500 ball this season. The War Eagles spent the past two years on that roller coaster, and this year they're loaded with experience.

The War Eagles, who went 9-11 and 5-5 in the Central Piedmont Conference in 2002 and 10-9 and 5-5 last year, have eight returning starters in Alyse Bowden, Hannah Tierney, Carrie Sain, Kaitlin Hall, Brittany Holt, Ashley Whitlock, Amy Alexander and Erin Whitaker.

They are bolstered more by the emergence of an exciting freshman - Whitney Williams, who also played varsity basketball in her first year of high school.

As far as problems go, the one facing third-year coach Janice Jackson is a nice one to have. She has three pitchers ready and able: Alexander, who worked 98 innings as a sophomore and posted a 3.64 ERA; Sain, who went 3-0 with a 1.55 ERA in 18 innings; and Williams, who will play third and the mound. Alexander will play third when Williams pitches.

Please See Freshman - Page B8

"Williams is a really good pitcher," Jackson said. "That's a good problem to have. We've got a lot of good pitchers. All three will be in the game, and Dana Woodward (the workhorse for last year's JV) gives us four pitchers.

"Williams is at a disadvantage because she hasn't even been out there because of basketball. But they've played a lot of tournament ball with Williams, and I don't think it will take her long to get ready. She works enough at home with her mother.

"Alexander's been working hard all winter. She looks like she's gotten a lot stronger. And Sain was really throwing the ball hard the other day."

Offensively, Davie has a formidable talent in Tierney, a leadoff speedster who put up flashy numbers as a freshman. She led in average (.324), runs (16), stolen bases (13) and walks (14). "She's fast as lightning," Jackson said.

Davie was a low-voltage offense last year, averaging five runs and hitting .215, but Jackson likes what she's seen from Alexander (.277), Hall and Whitlock. If the offense develops to go along with what could be a stifling defense, Davie could climb somewhere around 15 wins.

The problem is North Davidson and West Forsyth. They finished ahead of Davie last year and again will be difficult to overtake.

"Defensively and pitching, I think we'll do fine," Jackson said. "We had a solid defensive team last year, but our Worth Noting ...

Meisha Fowler scored 36 points in two S. Davie wins, Tekaira Gaither added 21 and Amanda Stewart hit the biggest shot of the season, a tiebreaking basket that gave South a 38-37 overtime win over Erwin.

Zach Proctor gave N. Davie a 62-59 overtime win over S. Davie with a last-second 3-pointer. North overcame a 21-2 deficit because Major Collier came out of nowhere with five 3s and 23 points that trumped 22 points and five 3s by South's Clint Howell. Another North hero was Danny Peele, who scored 15 points after the third quarter.

Allison Schafer led Davie's girls to a 71-50 state-playoff win over NW Guilford with 18 points and 9 rebounds. Alyson Walker had 15 points, Carly Booth 13 points, Nicole Maready 12 points and 10 boards and Andrea Dwiggins 8 assists.

Girls Crush Northwest, Crumble To N. Durham

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

No one ever knew what to expect from Davie's varsity girls basketball team. The latest surprise came in the first round of the Class 4-A West Sectional 1 playoffs last week against visiting Northwest Guilford of the Metro Conference.

The War Eagles had suffered two straight crucial losses to North Davidson - first with sole possession of second in the Central Piedmont Conference on the line, and then with the No. 2 seed for the playoffs up for grabs in the CPC Tournament semifinals, along with a golden chance to face last-place Reynolds in the tournament finals. They were frustrated by 73-49 and 63-55 defeats in Welcome and their season looked bound for a sour ending.

Then, in a picture-perfect turnaround, third-seeded Davie delivered one of its sharpest and most dominating performances by flooring the Vikings and their 6-4 center 71-50. Karen Stephens said enthusiastic defense was the key. The second-year Davie coach has emphasized intense defense since the day she arrived from Mitchell County, and Nicole Maready led the demonstration on how she wants defense played on a consistent basis. Davie's junior center bumped, banged and bothered Northwest's tower of power all game.

Later in the week in the sectional semifinals, powerful Northern Durham overwhelmed Davie in the playoffs for the second year in a row, winning 61-34 and closing Davie's record at 12-13.

"Defensively we've picked it up," Stephens said after beating Northwest. "We prepared really hard for North Davidson, even though the scores didn't look like it, and they worked hard the last three days of practice to get ready for this game. The last two weeks we've played defense like we're supposed to.

North Beats South With Miracle Rally

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Things can change quickly, almost instantly, sometimes. Just look at Major Collier of North Davie's eighth-grade boys basketball team. For 10 games the guard was getting only limited playing time, and entered last week's Mid-South Conference game at crosstown rival South Davie averaging about two points a game.

But Collier didn't quit or throw in the towel or put his head in the sand. He waited for his opportunity, and he got it while South was embarrassing North 21-2. North coach Matt McPherson was so disgusted with the nightmarish beginning he sent five subs into the game late in the first quarter.

The wholesale changes translated into a miracle. Collier, Jeffrey Loos, Quinton Faulkner, Nic O'Brien and Alex Williams - the five who came off the bench with South (3-7, 2-6 MSC) threatening to win by 100 - proved nothing's impossible, sparking a rally that culminated with Zach Proctor hitting a 3-pointer with a second left in overtime to give North (5-6, 4-4) a 62-59 win.

While Proctor provided the final drama in a breathtaking fourth quarter and OT, Collier authored a remarkable coming-out party that stole the thunder from South's Clint Howell (22 points), who staged a coming-out party of his own only to watch North outscore South 32-19 after the third quarter.

Collier's breakthrough was beyond a fairytale. It was inconceivable, 14 points with three 3-pointers in the second quarter and a total of 23 points and five 3s after a previous high of six points.

"It felt awesome," Collier said. "I just started not being afraid. The goal felt like it was as big as a trash can. I felt like I couldn't miss."

Meanwhile, the Tigers' collapse in the regular-season finale summed up

JV Baseball Has Wealth Of Talent

Davie baseball coach Mike Herndon is wearing a million-watt smile, and for good reason. His freshman and sophomore classes have everything a coach could dream of. The players who will be juniors and seniors in 2006 could be a collection of historic proportions.

"I've never seen young kids play like this," Herndon said of the JV team. "They can flat-out play. We've got some freshmen that could play varsity, without a doubt. You can tell they've played a lot of AAU ball."

Throw in varsity sophomores Zach Vogler, Brad Corriher and John McDaniel and freshman Whit Merrifield, and Davie could have the finest back-to-back group since the glory days of 1987-93, when it averaged 16 wins.

Herndon has Stewart in center field, Eder in right, Thompson at third base, Howard at shortstop, Boyd at second, Kuell at first and Allen at catcher. Lee, Joldersma and Gupton are battling in left. The top of the batting order will be Stewart, Boyd and Howard.

"Stewart came straight in from wrestling and played right field in a scrimmage," Herndon said. "They hit a deep ball over his head and he played it perfect. He opened up the right way, sprinted back and caught it in stride. You thought: 'Wow.'

"And Thompson is a player."

The ace on the mound is Kuell, a tall lefty who has all the tools to be a truly great pitcher. "He has great potential," Herndon said. "He's fluid and throws effortlessly. His ball kind of explodes on you at the plate because it's so effortless."

But the fate of the Davie's season might ride on Kuell's health. Pitching depth is the team's only issue, and Kuell suffered a setback with his surgically repaired back last week. Herndon has his fingers crossed.

"His back started aggravating him and he's going to have to sit out a week," he said. "His back kept him from playing football and basketball, and he's been rehabbing religiously. It tightened up, but it could be due to the cold weather.

"He umpired in a scrimmage and Salisbury's coach said: 'What grade's that boy in?' He couldn't believe he's just a freshman. He said: 'He's going to be something.'"

The pitchers behind Kuell are Hutchens and Brogdon. Even if they don't overpower opponents, Davie's hitting and defense could be enough to win consistently.

"All they've got to do is throw it across the plate because we can defend," he said.

Andrew Boswell is another solid piece. Herndon said the utility freshman's bat makes him worthy of playing time.

"We'll have to find a place for him to play," he said. "I like the way Boswell, Brogdon, Eder and Thompson swing the bat. All of them swing it well. (Catcher) Allen has only been out four days (due to wrestling), but he's go-

Davie's cleanup batter, junior first baseman Ted Randolph, loosens up for practice.

Baseball Team Loaded With Some Young Talent

there's plenty of reasons to believe they'll be much better than 2003. They return five starters and seven players who got significant playing time last year, including seniors Evan Beam and Andrew McClannon; juniors Ted Randolph, Foo Smith, Andrew Beck and Tim Erb; and sophomore Zach Vogler. The rest of the roster includes juniors David Weakley, Lance Emert and Matt Rich; sophomores Brad Corriher and John McDaniel; and freshman Whit Merrifield.

"I think Davie baseball is back. Last year we took our lumps, but I think we're back," Herndon said. "This is a whole different season. The atmosphere's different, the work ethic's different, it's just totally different.

"We're excited about our potential. Maybe we can give up three or four runs and still have a chance. They understand a lot of problems we had last year, and they've worked hard to make sure it doesn't happen again."

Davie's defensive lineup looks like this: Smith in left field, Vogler in center, Beam in right, Randolph at first, Merrifield at second, Emert at shortstop, McClannon at third and Rich at catcher. Corriher is a first baseman and possibility at DH. Beck is a DH who could play third when McClannon pitches. Weakley is a pitcher who plays third. Pratt is the backup catcher.

While there's no shortage of pitching arms, the question is whether Davie can produce enough runs to, at the very least, stay around .500. Beck's .270 hitting in 2003 is the best returning average. Davie needs big pop from Randolph, McClannon and Beck.

The batting order that Herndon will likely open with: Vogler, Beam, Smith and Randolph in the first four slots, followed by McClannon, Rich, Emert, Beck and Merrifield.

"Randolph, McClannon and Beck have got to hit for us to be successful," he said. "We've really been working on a different approach at the plate, and I think they're buying into it. This all came about because last year we didn't hit. We want them to be aggressive and not sit around waiting to draw a walk.

"Defensively, I think we're pretty daggone good."

Herndon has put Davie's middle-infield fortunes in the hands of two varsity newcomers, junior Emert at shortstop and freshman Merrifield at second. Merrifield has tremendous pedigree - father Bill had a hall-of-fame career at Wake Forest and smashed his way to Triple A as a professional infielder.

"They're going to be challenged to keep getting better because there's kids right behind them who could play there," Herndon said. "But I anticipate them coming on and playing well. Emert may not look like much, but he can play.

"I think Merrifield, or any of (our young promising infielders) would react well because they've played enough baseball. Baseball is baseball.

"It's fun just watching those four (Emert, Heath Boyd, Zach Howard and Merrifield) play the middle. You'll hit them 100 balls each, and they don't miss. It's poetry in motion."

Yes, the War Eagles should be worlds better than a year ago. But they'll still have their work cut out in a schedule that could be at times overwhelming.

"They should fire the person who made our schedule," Herndon said, looking in the mirror. "We're going to have to really play well to win early. We're not going to be able to make mistakes and win because the non-conference schedule is kind of overwhelming and our conference is going to be like ACC basketball.

"We're realistic enough to know it's going to be a tough road. We've got Alexander Central, who's got two Division I pitchers. One signed with N.C. State and one signed with Western Carolina. West Rowan's got Patrick Adams, who signed with Elon. He probably has the strongest arm in all of North Carolina. He throws 90-plus and 90-plus in the seventh inning. We're going to really have to believe in one another. It's got to mean something to us. If we play well, the other teams may play well, too."

Notes: The War Eagles opened March 2 against Mt. Tabor. They play at home to Alexander Central on March 3 at 4:30, at home to Forbush March 5 at 6:30 and at home to West Rowan March 8 at 4:30. ... The CPC schedule is different from CPC schedules in other sports. Teams will face off three times instead of twice. "The conference is loaded and we're playing each other more than in the past," Herndon said. "We're going to be a lot better, but is a lot better going to be good enough?"

WHO SAYS YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU?

FREE USE OF OUR LIGHTWEIGHT PORTABLE OXYGEN CONCENTRATOR FOR YOUR VACATION.
Vacations are always a problem for people dependent on oxygen. Because they either have to take a huge concentrator with them or make arrangements to have one available at the destination.
Not any more. Now there's a portable oxygen concentrator called LifeStyle that you can take with you wherever you go. So while you're having fun, it will be making and providing the oxygen you need. And here's the best news: If you're a Rowan Medical oxygen customer, you can borrow one from us. At no charge.
The unit measures about 7 inches x 16 inches, and operates on both AC and DC power (including your car's cigarette lighter), and a rechargeable battery pack. You can wear it with a shoulder strap or carry it along in a convenient cart.
So if you're one of our oxygen customers and planning to take a trip, call us at 1-800-347-0151 to make arrangements for taking LifeStyle with you. If you're not one of our customers, let us show you how easy it is to become one.
You don't have to buy the new LifeStyle concentrator; you don't even have to rent it. For as long as you're on vacation it's as free as the air you breathe.

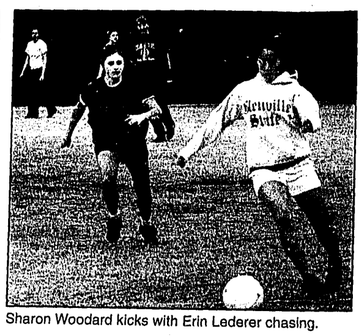
Coach Pete Gustafson and Assistant Coach Kiersten Plageman get the girls ready for the season opener.



Sharon Woodard kicks with Erin Lederer chasing.

Soccer Team Experiencing Makeover

Pete Gustafson faces uncertainties that make a coach cringe. Davie's varsity girls soccer team has all sorts of holes to fill and all sorts of questions to answer. That's how it can be when you're as young as the War Eagles, who opened the season March 2 against East Forsyth.

No one can replace Allison Howell, who led last year's team with 28 goals and 10 assists. She finished her four-year career with a record 83 goals. Davie's 14th-year coach faces the quandary of not only replacing the program's greatest player ever, but also Heather McDaniel, Sarah Williams and Jenny Broadway.

The War Eagles have posted eight winning records in the last nine years. They haven't experienced a losing overall record since 1994. Last year they matched the record for most wins, finishing 13-7 and 5-5 in the Central Piedmont Conference.

A major makeover will make living up to those standards difficult. Even Gustafson is realistic.

"You can't replace 12 seniors," he said. "We have to get better and play smarter. We played 120 minutes (in a pair of 1-0 scrimmage losses) and couldn't score a goal. Last year I could put in anybody anywhere. This year we're only going to have 15, 16 players and it's going to be tough."

Davie's status is even shakier because seven players couldn't report until Monday because of snowy weather and the two-game run in the basketball playoffs. Jackie Button leaves another serious hole. Last year as a freshman she was third with eight goals and added six assists. But she has decided to give up soccer to concentrate year-round on tennis.

"I've still got seven girls I haven't seen yet from basketball," Gustafson said Sunday night. "We've been trying to force the ball and not back pass. You don't always have to go forward. You should go backward as much as you go forward, and we're having a hard time getting that right now.

"But we've only had four or five practices and our whole team's not here yet."

One of the top returners is Alyson Walker, a junior who had four goals last year. Among the top prospects are Carly Booth, Annie Haftman, Sharon Woodard, Rebecca Peeler, Kami Simpson, Kelly Mitchell, Sally Lackey, Elyse Timmons and Erica Lane.

Gustafson called Haftman "Miss Dependable" and said Booth "will be the sweeper. She proved that last year." He said the main defensive clamps in holding two scrimmage opponents to two goals were Britt Harrison, Lackey, Justine Gamble, Lane and goalie Simpson.

Gamble and Harrison appear to be quick learners. Gamble looks like varsity material despite being a first-year sophomore, and Harrison has made the big jump as a freshman.

"Gamble did a very respectable job at marking back. She's a go-getter. She impressed me a lot," he said. "Harrison also helped out a lot at marking back."

Davie has three home games coming, up - East Burke on March 4, West Rowan March 8 and Asheboro March 9.

Gustafson gives pointers to Grace Didenko.

S. Davie Girls Accelerate Season With OT Win

Beth Carter should start using halftime tongue-lashing in pregame huddle, because uth Davie's eighth-grade girls sketball team has a habit of eping through the alarm clock.

The Tigers needed 12 minutes start looking like an upper-helon team in a signature 38-7 overtime upset of visiting Erwin, and in the second Mid-outh Conference game of last eek, they waited until the third uarter to roll over visiting North avie 29-22.

"I don't know what it is," the oach said. "It seems like every game at halftime I have to get hem out of a slump. I don't know what was wrong with us in the first half (vs. Erwin)."

Everything was wrong. The Tigers (7-3, 6-2 MSC) were in all kinds of trouble, allowing a 13-0 Erwin massacre in the second quarter and trailing 21-9. That's a massive hole against a team that entered 7-2 overall and 4-1 in the MSC. That's a serious uphill climb given South was 0-2 against Erwin in two years, losing 29-26 last year and 47-42 earlier this year.

So what changed in the second half? First of all, the Eagles had no answer for Meisha Fowler, who lit them up for 33 points in the first meeting and riddled every defense they tried in this one, banging four 3-pointers for 22 points. Her nine first-half points - or all of South's first-half points - was the only reason the game wasn't stopped at halftime.

"In the second quarter they overplayed her so much that she couldn't get a shot off. But she still had her game," Carter said. "They played a box-and-one the first time we played, and she scored 33. So they didn't do that this time. They played a 1-2-2 or 3-2 and overplayed the top."

Secondly, center Tekaira Gaither was unstoppable in the third quarter, scoring eight of her 10 points and keying a mesmerizing 17-2 run that gave South a 26-23 lead.

"We couldn't get Gaither the ball in the first half," Carter said. "Meisha can pass it. Meisha will get it to them. It was just a matter of Gaither catching it because she was wide open."

The wild game was tied at 33-33 at the end of regulation. That set the stage for Amanda Stewart's unexpected heroics. She hit the game's clinching shot - a basket that provided a 38-36 lead - in the final minute of the extra three-minute session.

"She stepped up with a huge shot. She also played great on defense and had a lot of steals," Carter said. "It was a big win. They're a talented team and we really wanted to beat Erwin."

Later in the week in the regular-season finale against North Davie (6-6, 4-4), Carter wore a look of despair at halftime as the Tigers trudged into the break with a surprisingly-slim 15-13 lead. They blasted North 44-17 in the first meeting.

"I really think they went into this game thinking about how we beat them pretty big in the first game, and I told them North's improved," Carter said.

The spark South needed to pull away came from Gaither, who scored most of her 11 points during a 12-2 spurt in the third. How much of a difference does it make when Gaither produces double figures to complement Fowler, who was held down in the game-turning third but still led the way with 14 points? Quite a lot. The Tigers are 4-0 when Gaither puts up 10 or more points. They were 3-0 last year when the big girl hit double figures. When she doesn't, they are 8-8 over two years.

While acknowledging Gaither's pivotal play, North coach Trish King pointed out two other things, Fowler's spirit-sapping 3 near the end of the first half to erase North's lead and 5-for-16 free-throw shooting.

"I felt real good about this game," she said. "We prepared very well for them, we knew who their weapons were, and we swapped off people on Fowler. Everything seemed to click, but Fowler's 3 with eight seconds to go in the first half kind of burst our bubble. And our foul shooting, that was the ballgame. We missed 11 and lost by seven."

North's Samantha Judd came out hot, scoring six of her nine points in the first quarter. Alicia Allen also kept North close for a while with nine points.

"Judd did what I've been trying to get her to do all season. She didn't hesitate," King said. "Chelsea Trull did a good job defensively."

Notes: The MSC Tournament was pushed back a week by snow. The eight-team tournament has been rescheduled for March 6, 8-10 at Southeast. ... Fowler is averaging 18.3 points, and Gaither's 21-point week lifted her to 8.1. ... The big week locked up at least third place for South.

• South Davie 38, Erwin 37 (OT) - Meisha Fowler 22, Tekaira Gaither 10, Amanda Stewart 6.

• South Davie 29 - Fowler 14, Gaither 11, Tyara Wagner 4.

Collier Erases Huge South Lead With Fabulous Flurry

heir season. Earlier in the week hey had an upset win over Erwin n their grasp heading into the ourth, but fell apart and lost 60-7 because Justin Vanderford ored 13 of his 26 points during Erwin's 26-12 game-ending r.

South's fourth straight loss to Erwin team that came in 6-3 3-2 in the MSC spoiled a trio double-figure efforts - 15 ints by Darius Hall, 11 by Matt n Hoy and 10 by Colby eaford.

"We can't put people away," Coach Brent Wall said in frustration.

After watching Erwin hit five 3s in the fourth, Wall stewed as South failed to step on North's neck. He had an easy time identifying why North overcame eficits of 21-2, 29-19 at halftime and 40-30 going into the fourth.

"We missed free throws and made silly turnovers down the stretch," he said. "We're snakebit. How many times have we been up or tied at halftime? Of all the games we've lost, maybe twice we've been down at halftime. In the fourth quarter there wasn't a reason for the turnovers. We got in a hurry."

Collier banked in a 3 at the halftime buzzer to draw North within 29-19, but South appeared to deflect North's comeback by trading baskets in the third and maintaining the 10-point advantage.

South could have put the game away, but it went 7-of-14 at the foul line in the fourth and OT. With South down two late in regulation, Howell launched a trey from another area code and nailed it. With North down three with 30 seconds left, Collier nailed his fourth triple. South held for one shot but missed to leave things at 54-54.

"We just got pumped up," Collier said. "I wasn't going to think we were going to lose. I never think we're going to lose."

South opened OT with a 3-pointer, but Collier answered with five points to put North up by one. With 10 seconds left, South split a pair of free throws to make it 59-59. That set up a finish that North - and especially Proctor - won't forget anytime soon.

"Coach McPherson set up a play for me for a 3 in the corner," Collier said. "I heard (South assistant coach) Germain (Mayfield) talking. I heard them say don't let me shoot."

With two Tigers stuck to Collier like chest hairs, he passed off to Zeb Cope, who swung it to the left side of the key to Proctor. With the clock nearing all zeroes, Proctor let it fly. It splashed through the net. Proctor's only 3 of the game won a memorable game.

Equally as incomprehensible as Collier's breakthrough was a spectacular fourth quarter and OT by Danny Peele, who scored all 15 of his points in the final nine minutes.

"We just freaked," Collier said of the ending. "Coach McPherson was jumping up and down like crazy, too."

Although it ended in defeat, Howell's breakout performance was equally impressive. After averaging 4.2 points for nine games, the guard scored 10 points in the first half, 12 in the second and pumped in five 3s. Seaford and Hall added 11 and nine points respectively for South, while Proctor finished with nine for North.

Notes: The MSC Tournament was pushed back a week by snow. The eight-team tournament has been rescheduled for March 6, 8-10 at Southeast. ... North's win avenged a 41-37 loss in the season opener. ... In two years North and South have split four games.

• Erwin 60, South Davie 47 - Darius Hall 15, Matt Van Hoy 11, Colby Seaford 10, Clint Howell 6, Eric Lowery 3, Sonny Stanley 2.

• North Davie 62 (OT) - Major Collier 23, Danny Peele 15, Zach Proctor 9, Brent Beam 5, Nic O'Brien 5, Haakon Krey 4.

hitting wasn't where it needed to be.

"Not many conferences have two teams like North Davidson and West Forsyth. I know North has a freshman pitcher who transferred from West. From what I've heard she's real good, along the lines (of West junior Mindy McKenzie, who can throw two-hit shutouts in her sleep).

"That'll be tough. But hopefully our pitching's going to make a difference."

Handy Steals The Show In DH Sweep

Shannon Handy of Catawba College's softball team had a day to remember in the Indians' last two games.

In the first game of a home doubleheader against St. Andrews, the junior powered Catawba with her bat in a 3-2 win, providing a 2-0 lead with a two-out, two-run double and adding another double. She did it with her arm in a 2-1, extra-inning win in game two, pitching five-hit ball for eight innings and lifting Catawba's record to 5-6.

Handy, the biggest star in Davie High's eight-year fast-pitch history, is everywhere among Catawba's leaders. The pitcher/outfielder has a 2-1 record with a 1.94 ERA in 18 innings. She is first in runs, doubles, walks, tied for first in total bases and has one of the team's four home runs. She is second in slugging percentage, on-base percentage and RBIs.

Sister Stacey Handy, a sophomore who plays shortstop, is also a consistent contributor. She is second in runs and tied for third in hits and doubles.

The sisters have been Catawba's team MVP the past two years, with Shannon winning the award in 2002 and Stacey taking it in 2003.

ANDREW DAYWALT, the former four-year varsity shortstop for Davie, is getting playing time for Catawba's baseball team. The sophomore has found a role at DH, starting eight of 12 games for the 11-8 Indians.

It's like we're understanding the system and what we're trying to do. Our fundamentals are starting to come together. We've waited two years to see kids adjust and understand man-to-man principles, and they're doing it now."

The War Eagles startled Northwest early. Allison Schafer, Alyson Walker and Maready staked them to a 17-10 lead. From there, they had momentum, confidence and never let up.

Davie converted 41 percent of its field goals in the first quarter, 42 percent in the third to extend a 29-21 halftime lead to 47-36, and 57 percent in the fourth. It went 23 for 28 at the foul line.

Schafer piled up 18 points and nine rebounds, but she wasn't the only star. Walker had 15 points, Carly Booth 13 and Maready had 12 points, 10 rebounds and held Northwest's big girl to 15 quiet points.

Schafer, Walker, Booth and Maready combined to shoot 21 for 40. Andrea Dwiggins also came up big. She hit 7 of 8 free throws and had eight assists against just two turnovers.

"And I think they were a good team," Stephens said. "They had big people and good guards. Maready fronted the 6-4 girl and got great backside help from Booth. She was so tall all she had to do was catch and turn. We were expecting her to get more points than she got. I was amazed. ... Booth played really strong. She went around the big girl a couple times and scored. She's getting better and better. Walker was smooth. She's getting better and better, too.

"But we really needed Maready's defense, and she came through."

Notes: Davie won a playoff game for the third straight year. ... It was Davie's third 70-point night.

Northern Durham 61, Davie 34

The War Eagles' frustration reappeared in the sectional semifinals in Durham. Chance Stewart (12 first-quarter points) came out on fire as the Knights (18-5) wowed Davie with leads of 10-0 and 25-6, a first quarter in which Davie went 2 of 13 from the floor and committed nine turnovers.

Everything continued to go downhill for Davie, which got 10 points from Schafer, seven from Maready and five from Dwiggins. While Davie shot 27 percent and got killed on the boards (41-18), the top seed from the Pac-6 Conference shot 43 percent and got 21 points from Stewart and 17 points and 11 rebounds from Utahya Drye. Nicole Allison, who has 1,500 points and 1,000 rebounds in her career, fueled a 15-4 run that made it 44-19 in the third.

"I don't think we were mentally ready," Stephens said of her on-and-off team. "When we saw their quickness, our kids got intimidated. Once we saw they were going to jump on us, we probably had flashbacks to last year."

Dwiggins, Schafer and Walker revived hope with a 9-3 run in the second quarter. That trimmed the deficit to 29-15, but Durham responded with the 15-4 spurt that bridged the second and third quarters.

It was Davie's lowest point total of the season.

"Inconsistent and no fire," Stephens said in summing up the season. "You can't just turn it on and off to be a winning team. Me and (assistant) Debbie (Evans) have talked about how do you build on this? Where do we go from here? We've got to find some kids that are willing to play with that killer instinct and be competitive all the time."

Notes: It was the final game for seniors Schafer, Alyse Bowden and Dwiggins. ... Walker's scoring total was an indicator all year. When the junior guard reached double figures, Davie went 8-1. ... Durham bolted to a 12-0 lead and ousted West Forsyth, the top seed from the CPC, 63-55 for its fifth consecutive sectional title.

Davie 71, Northwest Guilford 50 - Allison Schafer 18, Alyson Walker 15, Carly Booth 13, Nicole Maready 12, Andrea Dwiggins 7, Alyse Bowden 4, Whitney Williams 2.

Northern Durham 61, Davie 34 - Schafer 10, Maready 7, Dwiggins 5, Walker 3, Booth 3, Bowden 2, Ashley Cornatzer 2, Erin Whitaker 2.

Davie People

Last week's snow was deep for short-legged dogs such as Sasha, running through her yard off Canter Circle.

Aubrey Shoffner, 2, enjoys his first big snow at his home off Cana Road.

Mounds of snow blanket this arbor - and everything around it - in western Davie County.

What A Snow!

The snow measured from 8-16 inches across Davie County.

It started mid-day Thursday, and by Friday morning, Davie County was covered with a blanket of wet, snow.

It was perfect for making snowmen, or snow balls, or snow forts. And the warm weather that quickly followed made it bearable.

The snow measured from 8 inches in western Davie, to nearly a foot in Mocksville, to upwards of 15 inches in northern Davie. Even some teenagers remarked that it was the biggest snow they had ever seen.

Luckily for motorists, the heavy snow melted quickly from area streets and highways, leaving picturesque scenes all across Davie County. - Photos by Robin Fergusson

Pharr-Hincher Engagement Announced

Robert H. Pharr and Holly W. Pharr of Mocksville announce the engagement of their daughter, Brittany Anne, to Michael Edward Hincher of Wilkesboro, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy D. Hincher of Wilkesboro.

The bride-to-be is a 2000 graduate of Davie High School. She earned an associate degree from Mitchell Community College in Wilkesboro. She is a teacher at LifeSpan Circle School in Statesville.

The groom-to-be is a 2000 graduate of Wilkes Central High School and a graduate of Wilkes Community College where he received an electronics engineering degree. He is employed by CompuCredit in Wilkesboro.

The couple plan to be married at 2 p.m. in Gatlinburg, Tenn. on Saturday, April 10.

Wilkinson-Barr Engagement Announced

Eddie and Vicki Wilkinson of Advance announce the engagement of their daughter, Erien Ashley Wilkinson to Tony Franklin Barr, son of Sam and Judy Barr, also of Advance.

The bride-to-be graduated from Davie High School and Forsyth Technical Community College, earning an associate degree in information systems. She is employed with RBC Centura in Clemmons.

The groom-to-be graduated from Davie High School and attended Forsyth Technical Community College. He is employed with Machine Specialities Inc. in Greensboro.

Bluegrass Fest Next Week At The Brock

The Brock Performing Arts Center will be haven for bluegrass lovers March 11-13 as six bands take the stage for the Davie County Arts Council and Bank of the Carolina's first annual Bluegrass Fest at the Brock.

The festival begins on Thursday, March 11 at 7 p.m. with a showcase of local talent: King Wilkie, Mel Jones & His Bag O' Bones and None of the Above.

According to Laura Ward, director of the DCAC, "This is a small, intimate festival but the talent is huge. Fans can see their favorite local performers; as well as some of the greatest performers in bluegrass today.

"The Davie County Arts Council is building a reputation for hosting quality bluegrass shows and this festival offers a weekend of amazing music, in an intimate venue where pickers can jam and children are welcome," Ward said.

Headlining the event on March 12 is one of the top bluegrass groups in the world - IIIrd Tyme Out. Winner of seven consecutive IBMA awards as Vocal Group of the Year - 1994, 1995, 1996, 1997,1998, 1999 and most recently 2000, they became a virtual overnight sensation after forming in 1991.

Founding members Ray Deaton and Russell Moore left Doyle Lawson and Quicksilver and created a new tradition in modern bluegrass music. Rounding out IIIrd Tyme Out are Wayne Benson, formerly of Livewire, Steve Dilling from the Lonesome River Band, Greg Luck formerly with JD Crowe & the New South, and their sound technician, Donnie Carver.

"Seeing IIIrd Tyme Out at the Brock will be a performance to remember for any bluegrass fan," Ward said. "With only 483 seats available, every seat is the best seat in the house."

The excitement continues on Saturday, March 13, as the Steep Canyon Rangers, winners of the Rockygrass Festival 2001, and Alleghany Moon, round out the festival's line-up. From mastering the traditional pieces to creating solid original tunes, both groups are fresh and talented - a perfect example of bluegrass for the young and old, she said.

A barbecue/fund raising dinner for DCAC will be held on March 12 at 5 with a pre-show performance by John Powell and friends, the Brock's house band. Pickers are invited to bring their instruments on Friday and jam in the lobby before the show. Dinner tickets are $7.50 and must be purchased in advance by calling 751-3112.

All Weekend 3-day Pass: $30. Tickets for Thursday night only: adults - $8; students/senior citizens - $6; groups of 15+ - $5. Tickets for Friday or Saturday night only: adults - $15; students/senior citizens - $13; Groups of 15+ - $12. Call the DCAC box office at 751-3000 between noon – 5 pm. Check out www.daviearts.org.

Learn Tai Chi March 26

Cancer Services has invited Mocksville Tai Chi instructor, Mike DePuew, to speak at the free "Let's Talk About It" program on Friday, March 26, from 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m. at the Davie County Public Library, North Main Street, Mocksville.

DePuew will offer participants an overview and introduction to Tai Chi, an ancient practice of breathing, stretching and slow movements. This practice may be used to ease the side affects of cancer treatments, strengthen muscles, improve poor balance, and reduce the risk of fractures.

The program is made possible by the Davie County United Way.

If interested, call Cancer Services at 760-9983. Space is limited and lunch will be provided.

Woman's Club Hears Singing Seniors

Woman Learn About Schools' Gifted Program

The GFWC-NC Mocksville Woman's Club met Feb. 11 at Bermuda Run Country Club.

The meeting was called to order by President Linda Sechrist. An inspirational on "love" was given by Phyllis Potter. Club hostesses were Jane Simpson, Evelyn Daniel, Sherril Schroder, and Lib Woodward. The tables were decorated with a Valentine's Day theme.

Donna Williams was inducted into the club as a new member and presented a rose.

Elette Owen reported that 120 of Sue Bogg's pen and ink drawings had been sold. This was the fall fundraiser for the club and it netted approximately $3,200.

The program was presented by the Education Department. Lauren Wanucha, junior at Davie High, was the 2003 HOBY Scholarship Winner. She spoke to the club about the leadership conference which is held at NCSU.

Education chair, Betty Shore, welcomed June Johnson, academically gifted specialist for Davie County.

She spoke on the characteristics of gifted students. A "Gifted Survey" was given to each club member to see how they rated.

Rachel Howell, fifth grader at Mocksville Elementary School, and a student of Mrs. Johnson's, was asked to present her essay that won the town speech contest in Mocksville.

At the conclusion of the meeting, "The Singing Seniors" presented a medley of songs keeping with the Valentine's Day theme. Following a blessing, approximately 42 guests and members enjoyed a sit down lunch.

Mocksville Civitans Honor Pastors

The Mocksville Civitan Club observed Clergy Appreciation Night with club members inviting their ministers and families to the dinner meeting Monday, Feb. 23 in the fellowship hall of First Presbyterian Church.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Karen Smith, and the Pledge of Allegiance was led by Josh Reinsvold, president of the Davie High Junior Civitan Club.

The invocation for the buffet dinner was given by the Rev. Steve Hedgecock, pastor of Rock Spring Baptist Church.

Members and guests were welcomed by the president, after which members introduced their pastors and families. Members of the clergy present were Stephen Blair, Neal Carter, Susie Davidson, Steve Hedgecock, Van Lankford, Dennis Marshall, Derrick Mock, Elizabeth Mock, Leland Richardson, Jim Sanders and Charles Walker.

Ruth Hoyle introduced the speaker, the Rev. Dennis Marshall, pastor of Hardison United Methodist Church.

Bob Snyder, sales and marketing, N.C. District West Civitan, inducted the follow new members: Cindy Beddard, Betty Sue Lashmit, Ann Williams, and Vickie Blackwelder. Two new members, Kerstain Plagemann and Cyndi Shrewsbury, were unable to attend and will be inducted later.

Names were drawn for door prizes, after which the Civitan Creed was read.

Approximately 50 members and guests attended.

Workshop Saturday

On Saturday, March 6 from 9 a.m-noon, get ready to get your family pictures in order and learn more about preserving special memories in new and exciting ways with the Davie County Arts Council's Scrapbook Workshop.

The Arts Council has joined with Senior services to bring the speaker, Suzanne Lakey, who will start off the morning by sharing her experience as a "scrapper."

Representatives from area businesses will be on hand to offer suggestions, provide samples, and answer questions. Supplies will be on hand. Bring pages you're proud of to put on display.

The registration fee is $5. There will be refreshments and door prizes. Call Senior Services 751-0611 or the arts council 751-3000 to sign up. The workshop will be held on stage at the Brock Performing Arts Center, 622 N. Main S., Mocksville.

Lions Who Care

Mocksville Club Honors Two Members

Two Mocksville Lions were honored by the club for long-standing continuous service to visually and hearing impaired persons in Davie County.

The highest award presented to a lion by the North Carolina Lions Foundation is the Jack Stickley Fellowship. Jack Stckley was the first of two North Carolinians to become president of Lions Clubs International, a service civic organization with 45,978 clubs in 192 countries and geographic areas.

The Mocksville Lions presented the award to Charles Crenshaw in recognition of his work with hearing and vision impairment in Davie County, and in recognition of his contributions to the mission of the Mockville Lions Club and the N.C. Lions Foundation.

The Melvin Jones Fellowship is the highest Lions Club International Award a club may present to its member for outstanding work with the visually and hearing impaired in the community. Melvin Jones was the founder of Lions Clubs. Jonathan Wishon was recipient of this award. He praised the club for its humanitarian services.

The families of Crenshaw and Wishon were present at a dinner meeting in which Lion Club President Dr. Ron Gantt spoke of the dedication and work of these honored Lions in caring for those in need of hearing and vision care.

Prior to the meeting, the club's board of directors approved the applications for assistance to five persons in such need.

For the first seven and one half months of the club year 2003-2004, 15 children and 13 adults have recieved vision care, and nine adults have recieved hearing aids through the Mocksville Lions Club.

Nominate A Volunteer

Davie County nominations are being accepted for the 2004 North Carolina Awards for Outstanding Volunteer Service.

This marks the 26th anniversary of the program that showcases North Carolina's most dedicated residents. Throughout the years, North Carolinians have proven their concern and compassion for their neighbors by volunteering in their local communities. Last year 344 awards were presented.

Each county may select five individuals, businesses, and/or groups to be recognized for their outstanding contributions to their communities. A local committee evaluates the nominations to be forwarded to Raleigh.

Nomination forms are available at the following locations: Bank of the Carolina's, 350 NC 801S., Advance; Davie County Extension Center, Room 210, 180 S. Main St., Mocksville; or you may request a nomination form be mailed by calling: Sue Valyer at the RSVP office 751-2187 ext. 30

Return the completed forms to RSVP, Attn.: Sue Valyer, 622 N. Main St., Mocksville no later than April 30.

New officers of the Bermuda Run Garden Club include Linda Ernst, Lois Price, Karen Coley and Bonnie Rockaway.

Bermuda Run Garden Club Planning 20th Anniversary

New officers of the Bermuda Run Garden Club were installed Wednesday, Feb. 4.

Phoebe Kirkman, president of the Winston-Salem Club Council, installed the new officers and presented them with fragrances representing the duties of each position: president, Linda Ernst; vice president, Lois Price; secretary, Karen Coley; and treasurer, Bonnie Rockaway.

Linda Ernst announced the new committee chairs and members were asked to sign up for hostess duties and on-going projects.

Plans include a 20th anniversary celebration on Sept. 1 at Bermuda Run Country Club. The event will feature a demonstration by Suzie Jackson and speaker Anne Brown, president of the Garden Club of North Carolina. There will be a silent auction, raffles, displays, lunch, and music from 10:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m.

Detect It Early

Mocksville Lions Plan Free Monthly Clinics For Diabetes Mellitus

At it's meeting Jan. 5, the board of directors of the Mocksville Lions Club approved the founding of a glucose (sugar) testing clinic for detection of diabetes mellitus.

The opening of the clinic is scheduled for the last Friday of each month beginning March 26.

The Storehouse for Jesus has provided space for the clinic. The clinic personnel will be members of the Lions club and other volunteers.

There will be no charge for the blood sugar test but donations to help cover clinic expenses will be accepted.

The clinic will be open to all, regardless of income. It is preferable that one fast for 6-8 hours prior to the test for best results.

Diabetes is a leading cause of blindness. Lions all over the world work to prevent blindness and to assist those who are blind.

Early detection of diabetes and continuous control of Diabetes reduces the risk of blindness.

Diabetes may be present for up to 10 years before symptoms develop. Therefore, it is recommended that adults have blood glucose tested at least every two years.

Although there may be no symptoms and signs of diabetes, there can be definite warnings, including frequent urination, unusual thirst, extreme hunger, unexplained weight loss, excessive fatigue, irritability, frequent infections, perigenital yeast infection, blurred vision, slowly healing wounds, headaches, tingling and/or numbness in hands and/or feet, bleeding gums, recurring bladder infections, itchiness, impotence, abdominal pain, and general weakness.

English, Spanish Dictionaries Donated

A free English-Spanish dictionary was given to each third grade student in the ESL (English as a Second Language) classes in six elementary school, students at two middle schools and 25 aduits at the Davie Campus of Davidson Community College.

Funds for the dictionaries were provided by the Mocksville Woman's Club.

This is part of a growing charity started in Charleston, S.C. by Mary French, alled "The Dictionary Project." The purpose is to encourage children to use a dictionary so they will be able to effectively use the English language.

The goal is to provide a personal dictionary to as many students as possible. The dictionaries were purchased through "The Dictionary Project".

If a club is interested in helping sponsor this program, contact Linda Sechrist, Woman's Club president, or Mike Hendrix, Davie County project coordinator.

Pet Corner

Hi, my name is Tess. While I was with the Humane Society, they called me Pinto. I was adopted from the Humane Society on Jan. 15, 2003 and that was the best day of my life. I now have an inside home that I share with four goofy Italian Greyhounds and my mom. We have lots of food, toys and a big yard to run and play in, and we even sleep in a king-sized bed, and we all fit. Sometimes the Iggies will even let me chew their legs like a toy. See, I told you they were goofy.

I first saw my mom when she was bringing some food to the animal shelter and she spotted me and came over to talk to me. She seemed like a nice lady and then she had to go and that made me sad. I thought I could go with her. The Humane Society rescued me from the shelter and I went to live in a foster home. You cannot believe how surprised I was when two weeks later, I saw the same lady come to my foster home to see me. It seems that she came back to the shelter but I was no longer there, so she looked for me and finally found me and boy, am I glad she did.

I will now get to live the rest of my life in comfort and with a lot of love. She says she should have called me Lickety Split, because I love to lick her all the time, but I guess she just doesn't know that I lick her because I'm so glad she's mine and I love her a lot.

Jam @ The Haus This Saturday

On Saturday, March 6, the Davie County Arts Council, in conjunction with The Gasthaus on the Square restaurant, will host Jam @ the Haus, an open mic night for musicians of all ages and types of music at 8 p.m.

Groups of musicians are invited to participate, as well as individuals. Whether you play solo or are looking for someone to play with, bring your instrument and jam along.

A PA system will be provided. A keyboard is available upon request. Each entry receives 20 minutes of play time. If time allows, musicians may have the opportunity to play again later in the evening.

Pre-registration guarantees the opportunity to play and provided time slots are open - musicians may register at the event. The Jam is located at Gasthaus on the Square, 101 N. Main St., Mocksville, upstairs in The Attic. Music starts around 8 p.m. Admission for participants, as well as audience members, is $3.

Direct all inquiries and registrations to Regan Jones at 751-3000 or send an email to rjones@daviearts.org.

County Line News

By Shirley Thorne
County Line Correspondent

Our County Line community enjoyed a beautiful snowfall of 12-13 inches last Thursday and Friday. Most of us stayed safely inside until Saturday morning. Then it was back to going places and planning special activities.

Calvary Baptist Church on Davie Academy Road will have a church-wide yard sale Friday morning, March 5. in the church fellowship hall and doors will open at 7.

Beginning at 6 the following Saturday evening, Calvary will have a poor man's supper which will include pintos, potatoes, cole slaw, cornbread, desserts and drinks. There will also be special live music. Eat all you want and make a donation. Proceeds will benefit future church projects.

Each Sunday night during March, Clarksbury United Methodist Church will have a special evangelistic service in observance of Lent. Each evening service will begin at 7 and will feature a special speaker. This Sunday night the speaker will be the Rev. Tony Bowman of Matton Grove United Methodist Church.

This past week the Clarksbury Youth enjoyed a skiing trip to Boone. They attended an inter-denominational youth rally at Diamond Hill Baptist Church of Statesville Sunday night. The Seniors were not outdone in that they enjoyed an outting to Mooresville to see Mel Gibson's movie, "The Passion of Christ." The Clarksbury Men will have a men's breakfast at 7:15 Sunday morning, March 7, in the church fellowship hall.

The Men's Choir of Piney Grove AME Zion Church will celebrate their sixth anniversary with a special singing Sunday afternoon, March 14. The service will begin at 3 and will feature several local singing groups. The public is invited to come and help the men celebrate with music and praise. The Missionary Department will sponsor a women's "morning out," March 13, beginning at 7:30 at the Golden Corral in Statesville. Other special activities for the women are being planned for the weekend of March 19 - 21.

Salem United Methodist Church enjoyed a well-attended first meeting of their new Sunday night Bible study/discussion group. Pastor Blair invites all interested residents to attend each Sunday night at 7:30. Jack Koontz has been in Jamaica the past week as a construction volunteer for the Western North Carolina United Methodist school building team.

The V-Point Ruritan Club is having a country ham breakfast Saturday morning, March 6, from 6-10 at the V-Point Building on Old Mocksville Road. The menu will include scrambled eggs, grits, saugage, ham, saugage gravy, red-eye gravy, baked apples, and drinks. Take-outs will be available. Eat as much as you like and make a donation.

If you like great pit-cooked barbecue pork and chicken pie, mark Saturday, March 27 on your calendars. Make plans now to help make County Line VFD supper a success whether it be helping prepare the food, bringing special foods and crafts for the bazaar table, serving the food, or just bringing your family to eat.

We send get-well wishes to J.C. Smoot and Virginia Daywalt who have been hospitalized. J. C. is in Iredell Memorial Hospital in Statesville and Virginia is in Forsyth Medical Center in Winston-Salem. Louise James continues to improve but remains in Davis Medical Center. Ray Poole and Harvey Beck are recuperating at home. Let's join in praying for the Lord's healing in their lives.

Record Field Expected For The Shamrock Run

Race Director Dave Salmon and Dr. George Kimberly - he's the medical director of A Storehouse for Jesus - expect a record turnout for St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church's 16th annual Shamrock Run/Walk on Saturday, March 13.

Part of their expectation is due to the growing public intrest in, well, growth - growth of body, growth of weight, growth of appetite. And they figure that one of the ways to control all those growth factors is to exercise.

And what better way to do it than in the Five Kilometer Run and Five Kilometer Walk which leaves the starting line at 8:15 a.m. - rain or shine - over a certified course which begins at St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church and finishes back at the church?

Also on tap that Saturday morning will be a 10-kilometer Run starting at 9 a.m. and a "Tots Trot," set for a 10 a.m. start.

All who register may pick up their registration packets starting at 7 a.m. on Race Day at St. Francis Church.

Age groups for the competition have been set for the following: 15 and under, 16-19, 20-24, 25-29, 30-34, 35-39, 40-44, 45-49, 50-54, 55-59, 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, 75-79, and 80 and over.

By registering for the competition, everyone who registers by March 11 (online at www.active. com) is assured a T-shirt in specified sizes, ranging from XXL to XL, L, M, S.

Preregistration by March 5 requires a registration fee of $17. Registration on the day of the race will cost $20; special price for the "Tots Trot" is $5.

Registration forms are available at the St. Francis Church office at 862 Yadkinville Road, Mocksville.

Overall winner awards, male and female, are planned. There also will be 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place awards for all age groups. Unique walk awards are also planned.

In previous years, scores of participants entered the race - and most finished it.

In the "Tots Trot," awards will be presented to the "Fastest Stroller" as well as the winner in the five-and-under group and in the 6-10 year group. All tots must be accompanied by an adult.

According to Dr. Kimberly, "Walking is one of our very best exercises, for it tones the muscles, reduces body weight, and keeps walkers fit and trim. All-in-all, it makes one feel better - and it makes one look better, too. As each one of us ages a bit, we need to do something to keep us trim. Walking or jogging can be very effective in that respect."

Salmon said that a portion of the proceeds from the annual Shamrock Run/Walk will be presented to the building fund for the new home for A Storehouse for Jesus on a site already aquired along Route 64 East in Mocksville, not far from its intersection with Depot Street.

Kimberly, in discussing the health aspects of walking, said that nearly one-fourth of Americans are overweight, and the rate of obesity in this country increases annually. A serious result is the increase in diabetes which is developing at an alarming rate.

A few decades ago, he said, diabetes was not considered a preventable disease. Now, he explained, "we know that diabetes, as a complication of overweight and obesity, can be prevented. It takes regular exercise to achieve significant weight loss. The most cheap, most safe, most dependable, and most easy exercise is walking. Almost everyone can do it."

Scoutmaster Cliff Edwards with Eagle Scouts Aaron Hursey and Clay Naylor.

Two Earn Rank Of Eagle Scout

Recently, Boy Scouts Aaron Hursey and Clay Naylor did something that less than two percent of all Scouts do, achieve the rank of Eagle Scout.

Aaron and Clay held a joint Eagle ceremony at First Baptist Church on Jan. 11, before family, friends, fellow Scouts and church members. Their work began four years ago when they entered Boy Scouts at age 14. Both considered the idea of obtaining Eagle before they turned 18 to be a difficult it not impossible task. Persistence, determination and the gentle push of parents and Scout leaders paid off however, as they dream became reality.

For their service projects, both chose worthwhile causes to benefit local organizations and the community. Aaron built 10 full-size bookcases used to store Scout supplies in the basement of the Methodist Church Annex. Clay raised the money for and helped build two large planters along Depot Street in front of the Storehouse for Jesus.

Aaron and Clay are members of First Baptist Church, the charter organization for local Boy Scout Troop 575.

Wesley Singers Here Friday

Singing, traveling and sharing their faith in Jesus Christ - that's exactly what a group of college students from Virginia Tech is doing these days.

The 40 students that make up the Wesley Singers will be at Hardison United Methodist Church, 1630 Jericho Church Road, Mocksville, at 8 p.m. Friday, March 5. A covered dish dinner will begin at 6:30. Call 751-5630.

The Wesley Singers, under the sponsorship of the Wesley Foundation, was organized in the fall of 1974 under the leadership of L. Glenn Tyndall, who serves as director of the Wesley Foundation and United Methodist campus minister at Virginia Tech. The singers travel throughout the Southeast during spring break. Students come from several states and denominations, with a variety of majors.

"That which draws the group together is their shared joy in celebrating the Christian faith and life, through music and worship," said Tyndall. No audition is required, and no class credit is received.

"A by-product of the singers outreach program is an opportunity for others to learn about the Wesley Foundation," Tyndall said. "The United Methodist Church engages in campus ministry at state-supported universities and colleges. This important ministry with higher education includes the development of student centers, the support of student and faculty programs, and assignment of campus ministers."

Springfest Friday At Belivers

There will be a community Springfest and open house from 3:15-7:30 p.m. Friday, March 5 at Believers Faith Center Christian Academy in Statesville.

There will be a treasure hunt, games, prizes, a clothing sale, hayrides, face painting, big slide, food and door prizes. The church is located at 336 Brookview Road (I-40 West, exit 154, Old Mocksville Road, a half mile from Davis Medical Center).

This is a community event and everyone is welcome, said Jennifer L. McGee of Mocksville.

Has the same thing happened to your faith?

Everyone struggles with their faith at times. Still, we encourage you to bring your doubts and questions with you. Even they're welcome in our church.

Students on the Pharaoh Team have been preparing for the N.C. Writing Test given March 2. Students wrote letters of proposal and worked with various prompts and scoring rubrics. Students in advanced language arts have been reading "Ulysses" and completed creative assessments on mythology.

To coordinate with the seventh grade study of China, students on the Pharaoh Team will go to Lotus Pier Chinese Restaurant in Statesville March 24 to enjoy the Chinese buffet.

Pharaoh student, Ethan Rector, was named a school winner in the literature category of the Reflections competition.

Several guest speakers have shared their experiences with Pharaoh social studies classes this quarter. Shirley Everhart brought her exotic birds from Africa and Australia, Bob Rauch spoke with Mrs. Jackson's social studies class about his trips to Ghana, and Mr. and Mrs. Godbey spoke with Mr. Burgess's class about Tazmania.

Titans

Becky Delaney's science classes are studying physics, particularly energy and forces. They are making roller coasters and propeller cars to learn about potential and kinetic energy.

Margaret Roland's language arts classes are reading excerpts from three Shakespeare plays: A Midsummer Night's Dream, Much Ado About Nothing, and Richard III. They will choose one of the three to study in more depth.

Students in Steve Rareshide's pre-algebra classes are concluding their study of two- and three-dimensional geometry. Those in algebra are in the midst of a unit on graphing equations.

All social studies classes are studying the Civil War and its effect on North Carolina. They will complete research projects on one of several Civil War topics.

In Prime Time, the theme is justice, including the civil rights movement of the 50s and 60s. Later in the month students will compete in the school-wide checkers tournament.

Parents are reminded that all beach trip money and forms are due March 26.

Cooleemee Elementary

Students in Mrs. Fleming's class are exploring geometry in math. In science, they are beginning a unit on the changing earth. Fifth grade students will go bowling March 5, a culmination of a unit in P.E.

Kindergarten classes have been studying about dental health. A hygenist from Dr. Gary Prillaman's office visited last week. Students visited Dr. Jeff Billings office this week. Students sat in the chair and saw the tools the dentist uses, and received a new toothbrush. Students are learning the letter "u", Uppy Umbrella. Dr. Prillaman's office visited first graders to talk about tooth decay and taking care of teeth. Students saw Colgate's Kid World, http://kids-world.colgate.com which has a lot of information for families about teeth and games for students to play to remind them of good dental habits. Students are learning all the addends to make the number 10.

Students in Mrs. Kistner's class are working on graphs and charts. They are exploring how to read them and why they are important. Fourth grade students are looking forward to going to the Brock on Monday, March 1 to see a play about the Wright Brothers. History, Heroes, Honor....three words to describe the activities and studying that the third grade students have been doing to celebrate Black History Month. One activity has included using the internet to study stamps, pictures, and biographical information on African American heroes.

The third graders have been studying types of whales and facts about them in reading class. Ms. Schwiebert's and Mrs. Linkous's classes went to Horizons and were able to visit the jungle and learn about the Native American way of life.

Second graders are in the process of learning how to re-group two-digit subtraction problems. Mrs. Wall's first graders in her combination class are adding sums of ten.

Student Council "Character Police" were ticketing in January and those students who were caught showing good character received a "ticket." On Feb. 20, "court" was held for these good students and their judgement came in the form of an ice cream party.

DHS Cheerleaders Win State Title - Again

They did it again.

The Davie High School Varsity Competition Cheerleading Squad took first place Saturday, Feb. 21 in the N.C. Cheerleading State Championship.

These students cheered, danced, tumbled, and performed stunts in the 4-A Super Large Division at the Cabarrus Arena in Concord.

Under the direction of Coach Angela Bickel, these 24 women beat out Eastern Wayne High School, which placed second, with third place going to South Rowan High School.

Not only were they awarded the first place trophy, but also each Davie Cheerleader recieved a state championship t-shirt.

Less than a month ago, Davie won first place and "Spirit of a Champion" trophy at Championships of the East Cheerleading Competition in Raleigh.

The Davie High Competition squad has held the state champion title in 1994, 1997,1998, 2001, 2002, and now, 2004.

The last competition for this season is March 19-21 at Myrtle Beach, S.C. The Cheer Limited CAN-AM is a national competition.

A silent auction is planned at the Davie High School Gymnasium for April 3 to help raise money. The auction proceeds will help defer some costs, since these athletes must pay to go to nationals.

Mocksville Student 'Dances' The Night Away At UNC

By Nora Warren
UNC-Chapel Hill

Editor's Note: This coverage is provided by a journalism student in the Carolina Community Media Project at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill School of Journalism and Mass Communication.

Nineteen year-old Becky Call of Mocksville has known the value of giving to others since she was a student at Davie High School. As a member of Students With A Testimony (SWAT) in high school, Call, the daughter of Perry and Linda Call of 260 Random Road, said she collected cans and donated clothes to Storehouse for Jesus, an organization that provides food and clothing to the needy.

"I've always enjoyed doing service projects," she said.

But Call did not stop giving back to her community when she started college at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Call, now a junior biology major, participated in the UNC Dance Marathon, the largest student-run fund-raiser at UNC, Feb. 20-21.

Volunteers spend months raising money to benefit the "For the Kids Fund" at the N.C. Children's Hospital, culminating in an event where students dance all night. All of the proceeds go toward alleviating the financial burdens of families of hospitalized children. The fund has paid electricity bills, helped families make car payments and once kept a family's trailer from being repossessed.

According to the UNC Dance Marathon mission statement, the marathon strives to unify the campus, demonstrate support for the needs of the children and families at the N.C. Children's Hospital and raise funds to address those needs.

Call said she volunteered for the event to make the children happy and to help them as much as possible.

"I've always loved kids," she said.

And Call has made a difference. She raised $75 from friends and family for the fund. But this weekend Call met the 24 hour physical challenge of the UNC Dance Marathon.

"I definitely think it's going to be hard," she said. "It's one of those things that you'll remember and be glad you've done."

On Friday, Feb. 20, Call stuffed T-shirts, extra pairs of shoes, a few toiletries and snacks into a bag and headed to Fetzer Gym, where she would spend the next day. She said she hoped a mixture of caffeine and visits from friends would help pass the time.

More than 600 students representing more than 200 campus organizations crowded the gym for the marathon. Colorful posters displaying messages of encouragement engulfed the usually dingy-white walls.

After 16 hours on her feet, Call said she felt surprisingly good.

"My legs are basically numb," she said, adding that she was trying to move around as much as possible.

Several campus groups performed songs and improvised routines for the dancers. Call said her favorite performance was the "Athletic Lip-Sync", in which varsity athletic teams put on dances to entertain marathon dancers.

"It breaks up the day some," Call said about the programs offered to amuse the dancers.

Marathon "moralers," student volunteers who act as informal cheerleaders, are also present to help the lift spirits of weary dancers. "Y'all are doing a great job," a moraler told Call and a group of her friends as they danced. "Keep it up, keep it up."

Call said the extra support was helpful. "They have a lot of energy and they help give you energy," she said.

By noon Saturday afternoon, 17 hours into the marathon, Call said she had changed shoes four times. Although her feet hurt, she said the pain was not as bad as she had expected.

"You always get a really big wind and that will last you a really long time," she said.

Call said she passed the time talking to her friends, listening to the music, dancing and watching the performances. Other students busied themselves with impromptu games of volleyball, hackey sack, snacking on candy and some even studied-all while remaining standing.

"I'll be ready to go home when it's all over," Call said. "I don't have any big plans tomorrow."

When the marathon neared the 24-hour mark, families aided by the "For the Kids Fund" came to share their stories with the dancers. They talked about how much the money helped them to forget about financial pressures and concentrate on their children.

Call said these testimonies put her situation at the marathon into perspective.

"It makes you realize why you're doing it," she said.

At 7 Saturday night, Call finally dropped to the ground. She survived the physical challenge staying true to the no sitting policy of the marathon right to the end.

Call said that standing for 24 hours helped her to identify with the pain of the hospitalized children. She said her fatigue was nothing compared to their daily struggles.

"These people go through so much more on a daily basis," she said.

The marathon raised $170,584 for the "For the Kids Fund." This added to the six previous marathons at UNC makes more than $670,500 donated to children and families at the N.C. Children's Hospital.

For Call, the marathon was a chance to raise money for a good cause and enjoy being with friends. "It was a lot fun. I'm really glad I did it."

lab time. Students were amazed at all of the different rooms in the White House. The class is finishing out the month by learning about dental health. The children known all about how to keep their teeth clean and healthy. Later in the week the class had a visit from Cherry from Dr. Prillaman's office to teach more about dental health.

Mrs. Stiller's class has read several novel this winter, "James and the Giant Peach," "The Whipping Boy," and are currently reading "Stone Fox." The students have enjoyed illustrating their favorite characters from the novels. Shannon Dillard from Mrs. Stiller's classws won the spelling bee at Cornatzer and represented our school in the countywide spelling bee.

The students have also been working very hard on the "Book It" reading program, earning their pizza coupons. The upcoming weeks are going to be very busy for the 4th grade. We are going on several field trips and will be getting ready for the writing test.

Students in Mrs. Shar Beck's Art Zone have been hard at work although it's taking students a bit longer to complete projects due to the holidays and snow days. Kinders were introduced to forms like sphere, cone, cube and cylinder. They were asked to make some of these forms by cutting, folding and gling paper and used them to create a house. After making a 3-D house, they had to draw their house showing a front and side on paper using various shapes and details. At present kinders are making a wiggle-nose puppet from a cone form.

First graders focused on patterns. One day they used various objects such as old markers, blocks, erasers, cardboard pieces and paintbrushes to dip in paint and stamp on their paper and create a pattern with color and shape. Next, they chose two colars and had to cut shapes from those colars and glue them down to make the pattern. Currently first graders are using warm colors, red, yellow and orange to make a picture.

Second graders also studied patterns and created a collage with repeated shapes and color. They are now using the cool color group, blue, purple and green combined with horizontal, vertical and oblique lines.

Third graders spent time discussing organic and geometric shapes along with complementary colors. As a result, they had to create their own organic shape and use it to make a pattern. Their color choice had to come form the completmenary color group, Now, third graders ne studying still lifes. They have been asked to pick an area in the room and draw it using as many details as possible.

Fourth graders made a wonderfu and colorful radial stain glass design. They folded a large circle many times and cut out small pieces. When the circle was unfolded, it had many openings, which the students covered with colored tissue papers. At this time, fourth graders have become architects and are designing their own dream homes with floor plans. Money is no object.

Fifth graders worked with patterns for a while. After comparing organic and geometric shapes, they had to create their own organic shape and trece them over and over to make a pattern. The pattern iden was continued throughout the artwork by repeating colors and lines. Fifth graders are focused on still lifes. They are using observation skills to draw what they see, not what they think they see.

The last Art Zone awards were given to Chase Sheets, Nicole Lusk, Renea Shrewsbury, Travis Davis, Sierra Doucette and Karina Ramirez. Bojangles in Mocksville will display work from some of the classes from time to time. "They are being a great support to the Art program. I will let your child's class know if theirs will be shown," said Mrs. Beck.

Central Davie

Developmental Day I Student of the Week, Feb. 23-27: Andrew Durham. This week we talked about transportation. We introduced buses, cars, planes, trains, boats and hot air balloons. We counted trucks and painted cars and trucks. We talked about which ones go on land, water and air. We made a truck for a snack. The kids made a train to hung up in the room. They used paper to make a truck of their own design. We read lots of books about transportation. We will start talking about March, lion and lamb and continue talking about transportation.

Developmental Day II students enjoyed a new room arrangement. With new areas to play, imaginations soared. Obstacle courses were built from wooden blocks for Matchbox cars to maneuver through. Zoos were constructed from Legos and tea parties were shared by friends. A new weaving project has sparked interest. The children are lerning the concept of over and under through weaving strips of cloth. We will hang the finished piece in our classroom. Josie Durham had a birthday.

We have almost completed another quarter in Pre-K. Our main focus right now is assessing the students for report cards that come out soon. We have been working on letters, numbers, opposites, rhyming and other things. We have been talking about weather, for example the different things the sun does for us and we have made lightning bolts and clouds. Our students are very successful and are a joy to teach.

South Davie

The Eagle Team finished its weather unit with projects displayed at the Academic Fair. Individual teams researched weather topics and presented information along with visual projects to the rest of the class.

In social studies, the team has begun its study of North Carolina. This unit will include the study and use of maps and graphs. Students will research resources and services available in Davie County.

Students continue to volunteer at Somerset Court and Storehouse for Jesus. In addition to providing community service, students are learning a variety of vocational skills.

Eighth graders have been participating in vocational awareness activities to be more aware of interests and opportunities available to them after graduntion. The activities helped in making choices in high school registration.

The team has been discussing the democratic process by following the Democratic Party primaries, preparing for the 2004 elections.

In order to better prepare the students for a career path and for high school, the Mountaineer Team has brought in a number of guest speakers who have shared their job skills and the educational level required for that field. These presentations will help Mountaineers to possibly find a career that interests them, and to set goals to help them get the education that is needed.

Mr. Callison's math classes have been working with measurement. Currently, they are working on converting units of measurement, including both the customary and metric systems. In Mr. Castronvici's science classes, students have been completing a science project. They are comparing the effects of different types of energy sources on communities. They have used research in class and on the internet to find out about several different types of energy sources. Then, they are sharing their findings with the class to determine the best possible source from a number of perspectives. Mr. Pitts' communications classes have been reading an interesting story about World War II. They are also concentrating on reading and grammar skills, especially ones that also are on the end-of-grade test. Finally, Mrs. Stoeppelwerth's social studies classes have begun their study of United States history. They just finished a unit on the Puritans and Pilgrims, which included an in-depth study of the causes and effects of the Salem witch trials.

Cornatzer Elementary

Cornatzer students are celebrating the anniversary of the birth of one of their favorite authors this week, Dr. Seuss. They have created special bookmarks, listened to guest readings of Seuss's most popular boos, celebrated his actual birthday on Tuesday with a cupcake and a screening of a Dr. Seuss movie, and on Friday they will wear crazy hats and socks to school.

Mrs. Ancuta and Mrs. Peeler's Pre-K class has had a busy winter season. The students have learned about snowmen, penguins, winter birds and animals that hibernate. One of the class's favorite books was Jan Brett's "The Mitten." The children had fun decorating their own mittens and putting the animals inside.

The class celebrated the 100th day of school by reading "100th Day Worries," putting 100 dots on crowns and decorating door hangers for the school. There were so many fun celebrations this month. The children had fun learning about the Chinese New Year. We read books, made dragon masks, looked at items from China and snacked on chicken lo mein and fortune cookies. Our class and Mrs. Deadmon's class enjoyed a Valentine's Day party together - a big thank you to all the parents who sent in "goodies." The children also painted big Hershey Kisses for a special bulletin board. On Feb. 24, the class made Mardi Gras masks, had a parade and enjoyed pancakes for a snack.

To help celebrated Multicultural Week, the children decorated figures of themselves at home. All the figures were put together to make a special display called "A Rainbow of Children."

Mrs. Brooks's class at Cornatzer Elementary has been working hard during the month of February. Students started the month off by becoming "poets." They wore alphabet poems, diamante poems and poems about themselves. They had a ball with this unit. The class then moved on to their unit on Presidents and Citizenship. The children really learned what being the president is all about. They took a virtual tour of the White House during computer

Odyssey Of The Mind

Pinebrook Team Competing In Regionals Saturday

A team from Pinebrook Elementary School will compete in the Division I level at the Northern Region Odyssey of the Mind tournament in Greensboro on Saturday, March 6.

Odyssey of the Mind is a problem-solving competition that teaches students to learn creative problem-solving methods.

The team began meeting last October as students selected a problem and created a solution over the months that followed. They will bring their solution to competition against other teams in their age and grade category. There will be more than 90 teams from 17 surrounding counties.

Pinebrook's problem, Fantastic Art, involves creating an original art as well as replicating art from artists in a given list, then developing a performance in which the works of art come alive and interact with each other.

The problem solutions are scored for creativity in categories specific to each problem and for meeting the detailed requirements of the problem. Teams must solve a spontaneous problem the day of the competition.

Adults Complete DCCC Programs

More than 100 adults completed the Adult High School Diploma (AHS) and the General Educational Development (GED) programs at Davidson County Community College during the 2003 fall semester.

The AHS program is designed for adults who did not complete their high school education through the public schools. The program provides students with the means to earn their Adult High School diploma by completing course work in English, math, science, and history.

The GED program is a means for adults to obtain a high school diploma. Individuals take the GED exams to demonstrate high school level competencies in English, social science, reading, and math.

Adult High School Diploma

from Advance - Josey Lane Cambron, Marian M. Hairston and Kelly R. Larimore; from Cooleemee - Teresa Gentry; and from Mocksville - Cris Robert Burch, Thomas A. Kennedy, Christopher Thurmond, Lauren U. Wilkins, Matthew G. Wilson.

GED Graduates

from Advance - Pamela Ann Bean, Jason D. Booie, Cynthia D. Walker; from Mocksville - Eric Shane Absher, Kimberly D. Anders, Petra Navarro, Lauren Elizabeth Peddycord, Kristina L. Raines, Michelle M. Snow, Eric W. Ward.

Anderson On Dean's List

Catina Anderson of Mocksville has been named to the dean's list for the fall semester at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Anderson, a 1995 graduate of Davie High, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Anderson. She is majoring in human development and family studies with a concentration in birth through kindergarten education. She plans to graduate in December 2004.

Taylor Completes Basic Training

Air Force Airman Nicholaus D. Taylor has graduated from basic military training at Luckland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization, and military customs and courtesies; performed drill and ceremony marches, and received physical training, rifle marksmanship, field training exercises, and special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Taylor is the son of James Taylor of Cana Road, Mocksville. He is a 2003 graduate of Davie High School.

BID NOTICE

Davie County is seeking bids for the Congregate and Home Delivered Meals Program for older adults funding under the Older Americans Act of 1965, as amended, and the Home and Community Care Block grant. This nutrition program will operate for a period of 12 months - July 1, 2004 - June 30, 2005. This will be a three-year contract, with the option to review for 12 months at a time, contingent upon the previous year's service satisfaction.

Bids to cater this nutrition program are being solicited for the congregate and/or home delivered meals operated by Davie County Senior Services.

Sealed bid proposals must be submitted to the Davie County Manager's Office, 123 South Main Street, Mocksville, North Carolina 27028 by 2:00 p.m. Monday, March 29, 2004 at which time the bids will be opened. A mandatory Bidder's conference will be held on Monday, March 15, 2004 at 2:00 p.m. at Davie County Senior Services, located at 622 North Main Street, Mocksville, North Carolina.

Davie County reserves the right to request additional information from the bidding agency, to accept or reject any or all bid proposals, in whole or in part, to waive irregularities not affecting substantial rights of the bidding agency, and to award contract(s) which in the opinion of the grantor, best services the interest of the program.

Details, including specifications, may be obtained beginning Monday, March 1, 2004 between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, by contacting Davie County Senior Services, 622 North Main Street, Mocksville, North Carolina 27028, (336) 751-0611.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
Amendment to Economic Incentive Investment,
Avgol America, Inc.

TAKE NOTICE THAT a Public Hearing will be held before the Board of Commissioners of Davie County at 7:00 p.m., Monday, March 15, 2004, in the Commissioners' Room of the Davie County Administration Building, 123 S. Main Street, Mocksville, North Carolina, pursuant to the provisions of NCGS §158-7.1 to consider appropriations for the purpose of aiding and encouraging industrial enterprises. The request is to amend and reduce a previously made and approved economic development agreement between the County of David, and Avgol America, Inc., or a subsidiary thereof (as successor to Unifi, Inc.).

TAKE FURTHER NOTICE, that the appropriations being considered are to the property described in Book 375, Page 506, of the Davie County Registry now owned by Avgol America, Inc. at an approximate total economic incentive investment of $112,500.00 for the County instead of the previously approved $180,000.00 economic incentive investment. The economic incentive investment will be conditioned and dependent upon he construction and completion by Avgol America, Inc. of a new 100,000 square foot Class A industrial facility addition to its existing plant having a cost of at least $25,000,000 and the addition of approximately 25 new jobs. The source of the funds will be from general revenues. It is expected that the investment will be returned to the County in tax revenue derived from the project within one (1) year.

TAKE FURTHER NOTICE, that the benefits to the public expected to be derived from the facility built as a result of the economic development incentives include: the enhancement of tax base of the county and the town and the anticipated creation of approximately 25 jobs.

Spotlight on Business

Douglas Powell of Accents Blinds, Shutters and Shades.

Accents Blinds, Shutters & Shades

Accents. They are the true beauty of any room.

Nobody understands this better than Douglas Powell–owner of Accents Blinds, Shutters and Shades, a Lewisville-based company that specializes in an assortment of window treatments. Keenly aware of the latest trends and styles, Douglas is an expert at enhancing the aesthetics of any home or office.

And his prices are terrific.

"Accents Blinds, Shutters and Shades was created with one simple idea in mind," explains Powell. "Give its customers the service and knowledge they deserve, and give it to them at prices they can afford. I decided to provide customers with a quality service company that uses only the best products in the market. And our products are installed by trained professionals."

Serving Forsyth, Davie, Yadkin and more

Serving the entire Triad area (including the counties of Yadkin and Davie), Powell emphasizes that his company also gives you the best value.

"With our company, you need to buy only once," he is quick to add.

Offers quality brands such as Hunter Douglas, Levolor, Skandia

Another bonus of working with Powell is the variety of products to choose from and the personal service. As an authorized dealer for most all major brands of window treatment manufacturers (like Hunter Douglas, Levolor, Skandia, Window Fashions and Alta Window Solution Specilists), all of Powell's products are factory direct and custom made in the USA to exact measurements.

"That means I don't need any inventory which, in turn, reduces my overhead," he noted. "And that lowered cost is passed on to the customer. I am a 100% Shop-At-Home service, so I need no storefront. And all of our products are installed by trained professionals."

Free measuring, in-home estimates, installation

Interested in seeing what Powell can add to your home? Give him a call at (336) 946-0227. His free services include measuring, in-home estimates and installation.

"Your home is more than just a place to live," he says. "It's a reflection of you and a showcase of your interests.

"It's also a statement of your own personal style. Decorating to match your family's taste and lifestyle also deserves your careful consideration. If quality, good prices and service are what you require, then call on me."

Customers love the "Accent" touch

John Byrd did. And as his recent testimonial to Powell shows, it was an extremely wise move.

"I was referred to Doug by his sister, Debbie Jarvis," says Byrd, an Edward Jones broker in Lewisville. "I was in need of some blinds for a window in my office. He came by the next day with his samples and measured the windows. He was very punctual and impressed me with his professionalism. I went with his recommendation of cherry wood blinds with decorative tapes that matched my desk and sofa. The blinds were installed in less than two weeks and I am very pleased with the product and the service that Doug provided. I highly recommend him to anyone who needs window treatments for their office or home."

Another local customer, Barry, agrees.

"My wife and I recently moved into the Clemmons area. One of our neighbors had used Accents and seemed very happy with them. We have 28 windows so I was concerned about cost, but also wanted quality.

"I had measured all the windows and shopped around. I was amazed that Accents was able to beat the prices of ordering the wood blinds through two large stores in Winston, an onlineordering company, and (Doug's) price included installation, something I was not looking forward to. The blinds were also a higher quality Kathy Ireland brand with decorative tapes.

"Doug and his older brother did a great job with the installation. They took great care not to scratch our wood floors. They also cleaned up after themselves, which really impressed my wife."

The best brands in the business, professional work and courteous service summarize are just three of the reasons Accent Blinds, Shutters and Shades will assuredly become the area's "go-to" source for window treatments.

So for your next redecorating project or new home purchase, be sure to spend some time with Doug by phone or through the Accent website at www.accentbss.com. His dedication to quality workmanship and outstanding customer service will bring out the beauty in any room.

'The wind was blowing so loud you couldn't hear nothing but swoosh ...'

Gust Front Makes Scary, Destructive Path Through Davie

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

There's an old saying about March coming in like a lion.

The first week was more like a lamb - a warm, fuzzy lamb.

But on Day 7, the lion roared. A train full of lions roared.

Without warning, winds pounded Davie County Sunday night about 7, toppling trees and putting people without electricity from one end of the county to the other.

It wasn't a tornado, but wind speeds were clocked at 72 mph and probably were higher than that in places, said local weather observer James George, who lives in the Sheffield community in western Davie.

"It's called a gust front, a freak of nature you can't predict," George said. "This time of the year, the cold

Mocksville firefighters can only watch a brush fire on Sunset Drive - live electrical wires prevented them from putting water on the blaze.

Town OKs Industry Incentive; County To Decide Next

No one spoke in favor or against an amendment to the economic incentive plan Mocksville used to have with Unifi during a public hearing at the March town board meeting.

The agreement was made with Unifi when they built a plant in Mocksville, which was later sold to Avgol America, Inc.

"Avgol acquired the rights in that agreement," town attorney Hank Van Hoy told the board. Avgol, producer of spunmelt nonwoven plastic roll materials, purchased the plant in 2001, and wants to expand.

The original agreement with Unifi called for an economic investment of $120,000, but Avgol doesn't require that much money. While the percentage of investment from the town would remain 40 percent, the total reimbursement incentive would drop to $75,000.

In order for Avgol to receive the reimbursements, they must build a $25 million facility. They anticipate the facility would create 25 new jobs, as well as increase the tax base by $25 million.

Vernon Thompson was concerned about the stability of the company and whether or not the town could somehow lose on the deal. Van Hoy said that wasn't possible because the town would see a return on its investment in one year because of the additional tax revenues.

"This is a big addition to your tax base when other communities are losing," said Van Hoy.

"Avgol is the single largest tax investment the county has ever recruited," said County Manager Terry Bralley. "They're a non-woven producer based in Israel. A lot of their business is here in the states, so they bought capacity here. Now they need to expand their capacity."

"This is another landmark in the economic development of Mocksville," said Mayor Francis Slate following a unanimous vote to approve the amendment. "We're all pleased that this has come about."

The county commissioners also have to approve the incentive amendments because the county would pay the additional 60 percent of the incentives, $112,500. They will hear the issue on March 15.

A Cause For Paws

Humane Society Hopes To Raise Awareness, Funds

Final preparations are being made for the eighth annual Humane Society of Davie County Cause for Paws banquet on Thursday, March 18 at the First United Methodist Church Family Life Center, 305 N. Main St., Mocksville.

The banquet will begin at 6 p.m. with a social hour, during which silent auction items can be previewed and bidded on.

"The silent auction always is a fun event and is made possible through the generous donations of local merchants and society members," said volunteer David McGonigle of Advance. "A local bluegrass musical group who are donating their talents and music for our enjoyment will provide live entertainment."

At 7 p.m., a chef prepared dinner buffet featuring carved roast beef, will begin. Immediately following the dinner, the guest emcee and society members will announce the silent auction winners, conduct a live auction, and complete the drawing for door prizes

Rich Park Could Soon Get Bicycle Trail System

By Kim Justen
Davie County Enterprise Record

Charles von Isenburg, owner of Mock Orange Bikes, appeared before the town board to propose a mountain bike trail system in Rich Park.

"It could connect to the proposed greenway system [if it is completed], but it is not required," said von Isenburg.

Von Isenburg wants to put the trails in the wooded land behind the ball fields.

"There could be two or three trails back there, at varying levels so that children could go out and ride with their families. We'd use Tanglewood Park as a model. Those trails are the number one attraction to the park. I think you could have the same sort of visitation to Rich Park with the same enticement.

"The proposal is basically asking for use of the land. I would take care of creating the trails. There is basically no cost to the town."

The trails would go along the back side of the park and wooded areas, as well as following a portion of the sewer easements.

"It's a great place for people to get out and enjoy that part of the park that isn't being used."

"We look at it as a win-win," said town manager Christine Sanders. "It's giving people something they haven't had. It can bring people into town that wouldn't otherwise have come in."

"My only concern is that I don't want the park to lose any of the charm," said Lash Sanford. "But from what I hear, we're branching into new areas and are not going to lose anything."

Sanford suggested having a combination of hilly and flat trails to meet the needs of all rider levels. He also asked for as many loops as possible so that people can ride many directions but always get back to the beginning easily.

Von Isenburg expects it would take about six weeks to complete two trails, one more challenging than the other. 'There's not a whole lot of streams, not a whole lot of places that would need to be built.

What's Cool? At N. Davie It's The Band

It's the band.

A whopping 45 percent of the students are in the band — and the numbers are still mushrooming.

The eighth grade has 70 members; seventh grade, 84; sixth grade, 145.

Just in the sixth grade, there are 61 clarinets, 26 trumpets and 24 flutes. In that grade, 58 percent of the 250 sixth graders play in the band.

On Sunday, the North Davie band performed its annual concert.

Those who came on time were ... too late. Too late to get themselves a seat.

I got there 30 minutes early to grab one of the quickly disappearing seats in the bleachers.

By showtime, parents, grandparents and children stood circling the gym floor, sometimes two and three deep.

Someone trying to count the crowd got to 800 and gave up.

The leader of the band craze is Jason Whitaker, 24, in the third year of his first full time job.

He is famous for his sappy jokes:

What kind of bone won't a dog eat?

A trombone.

He is the band director and responsible for this sudden student enthusiasm for music. He said his formula isn't complicated.

"I just try to be happy, smile and give the kids a place where they enjoy learning," he said.

It is working. The dropout rate is extremely low. Only 10 have left the band in two years from the present eighth grade section — most of them due to transferring to other schools.

North Davie once sent less than 10 new band students a year to the high school. This year it sent 25. In coming years, the high school band could balloon to record numbers. Whitaker expects at least 60 to move to the high school band next year.

And even more the next year. And even more the following year.

Davie High may need to expand the football field to make room for the state's largest high school band.

Whitaker grew up in Walnut Cove and played for the South Stokes High School band.

"Band won't be for every student in the world," he said. "But the thing I try to guarantee is that they enjoy being in there and have fun learning music. I want them to have fun. I want everyone to have fun."

Fun?

Gray-haired men and women stood Sunday and joined in the twisting hand motions and gyrations as the eighth grade band performed a rousing "Y-M-C-A." The clapped furiously and hooted and cheered loudly. Lusty cheering is heavily encouraged by the band director.

Someone on the way out complained to principal Candi Poplin that the school hadn't asked for donations as the crowd was leaving. After all, the band does need more music stands to handle all these huge numbers of students.

That's when you know you've got a crowd pleaser.

Mrs. Poplin and her two assistant principals have also been incorporated into the band. On Sunday, they played musical water glasses to accompany the 7th grade band. Whitaker said they had rehearsed for a week.

Few big-name performers — Britney Spears, Dolly Parton or Elvis — could have attracted a bigger audience at North Davie.

"I want them to enjoy it. It needs to be fun. It's fun for me," Whitaker said. But the success has been overwhelming.

"I'm trying to keep humble about it. I'm extremely blessed and lucky to be here. I'm blessed to have such good kids and good parents and good administrators."

He received his bachelor's degree from Appalachian State University and is working on a masters from UNC-Greensboro. And he is doing something else — turning North Davie into the band center of the earth.

Rezoning Would Destroy Neighborhood

To the editor:

As a Hickory Hill homeowner and president of the Hickory Hill Neighbors Association, I am extremely concerned about the Burnfam Limited Partnership proposal to build 90 patio homes and 40 duplex units on the Hickory Hill Country Club golf course. There are several reasons why I and my neighbors are concerned about this project. I also feel that some of our concerns may be reasons of concern for other tax-paying citizens of Davie County.

The increased traffic through our neighborhood is a major concern. Mr. Bill Burnett of Burnfam plans to funnel all traffic to the 90 patio homes through the streets of our development. To enter this new development, all traffic will bottleneck into one point of entry at the end of Pine Valley Road. Supposing there are only two adults in these homes with no children who drive, we are talking about 180 cars. Planning Director John Gallimore stated at a planning and zoning meeting that the average family makes approximately five to nine trips in and out each day. Do the math. If 180 cars make only five trips in and out each day, that translates into 900 cars added to our streets one way. Round trip, 1,800 additional cars would be added to our streets each day. We presently have only 64 houses in our entire development, and our streets are narrow and are not designed to handle this kind of traffic.

Mr. Burnett plans to phase in these houses over a 10-11 year period, which means we are going to be dealing with construction traffic and noise for the next 10 to 11 yers. Damage to our streets, driveways, and yards from construction vehicles, concrete trucks and heavy equipment will plague our streets for the next 11 years during construction. Several pieces of heavy construction equipment have already come down our streets. Pretty soon, our narrow streets will be broken and filled with potholes for the state to repair.

As a retired educator, I am genuinely concerned about the overcrowding of our schools. I am told that with the special programs that are housed at Cornatzer Elementary School, this new school is near capacity. Mr. Burnett told me that the 40 duplex units would be geared toward families with children and he could not guarantee that the 90 patio homes would not have children. I think this should be a real concern for all residents of Davie County.

Developers are building, building, and building all over this county. Who are buying these homes and why? Davie County used to be the best kept secret around, but the news is out. People come here to take advantage of our low tax rate and the excellent school system that we have. If this growth is not checked, these two reasons will no longer exist. We are going to have to build more schools to house these children and pay more taxes for added resources. This is not an inexpensive endeavor. I know, because I was director of student services and exceptional children's programs for the Davie County School System until I retired two and a half years ago.

We citizens need to wake up and see what is happening around us. Our taxes are going to be raised to pay for more schools, or worse yet, more mobile units for our children to use as classrooms. I sincerely hope our commissioners take a hard look at what is happening in Davie County. I think they can learn a lesson from the last bond referendum. I think it would be interesting to know just how much of the new bond revenue will be eaten up just to serve the children from all these new developments that are being added.

There are many more concerns that we have in hickory Hill, such as safety on our streets and at our entrances on Highway 64. I know many people feel that a person should have the right to do what he wants with his land, but when it comes as a detriment to an established neighborhood, the plan needs to be revisited. I call on our commissioners to take a hard look at what is already beginning to happen at Hickory Hill. We want to be good neighbors, but in turn, do not want our neighborhood and way of life to be destroyed in the process.

President Bush Definitely Not The Worst In History

To the editor:

I received the following and wanted to share it with your readers. Some claim President Bush should not have started this war. They complain about his prosecution of it. One person recently claimed Bush was the worst president in U.S. history. Let us clear up one point. We did not start the war on terror. Try remembering. It was started by terrorists on 9/11. Let's look at the worst presidents and mismanagement claims.

FDR led us into World War II. Germany never attacked us: Japan did. From 1941-1945, 450,000 lives were lost, an average of 112,500 per year.

Truman finished that war and started one in Korea. North Korea never attacked us. From 1950-1953, 55,000 lives were lost, an average of 18,333 per year.

John F. Kennedy started the Vietnam conflict in 1962. Vietnam never attacked us.

Johnson turned Vietnam into a quagmire. From 1965-1975, 58,000 lives were lost, an average of 5,800 per year.

Clinton went to war in Bosnia without UN or French consent. Bosnia never attacked us. He was offered Osama bin Laden's head on a platter three times by Sudan and did nothing. Osama has attacked us on multiple occasions.

In the two years since terrorists attacked us, President Bush has liberated two countries, crushed the Taliban, and crippled al-Qaida. He put nuclear inspectors in Lybia, Iran and North Korea without firing a shot, and captured a terrorist who slaughtered more than 300,000 of his own people.

We lost 600 soldiers, an average of 300 a year. Bush did all this abroad while not allowing another terrorist attacks at home.

Civil Contract For Gay Couples

To the editor:

I am against gay marriage as such, but I will give them the benefit of the doubt. If and when the union of two homosexuals produces a child, then I will reverse my thinking. Until then, let there be a civil contract granting them the financial advantages of marriage, but not the title.

There's No Justice For Dog That Was Shot

To the editor:

Recently my one-year-old beagle mix, Frisky, was shot near our home in Farmington. Luckily, we were able to respond quickly and get our dog to our veterinarian right away in order to save her life. Dr. Emily Roberson answered our call at Animal Hospital of East Davie late on a Saturday afternoon in February, with her two small children and her husband accompanying her, to operate on our beloved pet. Dr. Roberson stayed with Frisky until she was stable and awake before releasing her into our care. If she had not made the effort to respond to our phone call, then we would have lost our friend, Frisky. We are grateful for Dr. Roberson's services and dedication to all animals, big and small.

Although this was a happy ending for Frisky, it was no justice for what had been done to her. We contacted the police the night of the shooting and were told there was nothing we could do about this crime because we had not directly witnessed this. We didn't stop there, we contacted animal cruelty to investigate, but found a similar response. We do have a suspicion of the gunman, but without a human witness we cannot press charges. At this point, no justice has been received for our dog's suffering. We fear allowing our dogs to run and play because we are unsure if this crime may happen again. My family and I have done all we can to protect our pets, but when someone is allowed to shoot animals for no reason, then how can we protect them? I would like to call attention to this occurrence and hope that through awareness and kindness we can resolve these acts of cruelty.

Remember To Stop For School Buses

To the editor:

Immediately after Ana Maria Sola, 6, of Salisbury, was killed last November by a 17-year-old driver passing Sola's school bus, the Davie High Leadership class began a rather small campaign on school bus safety. However, a few weeks ago, a group of concerned parents of young children came to our class and shared with us their worries about bus safety. In the last two months, there have been five reports made to Cornatzer Elementary School of motorists passing stopped school buses, one of which occurred on the right side of the bus. That is only one out of six elementary schools in this county. I find it horrifying to know that I live in a county with people who apparently do not take extra caution around all children in our community and would go so far as to jeopardize their lives.

After the group of parents came to us with this issue, the Leadership II class decided to take the campaign to a greater level. We find it imperative that the word gets out and this campaign goes far. We will be holding a coin drive throughout Davie County to raise money for advertising to remind people to slow down around buses.

This absolutely has to end. It is totally unacceptable to have even one school bus stop arm ignored. Is it going to take killing a child for us to simply stop?

Catholic Religion Again Makes The Headlines

To the editor:

The Catholic Religion has made headlines again. Child abuse going back 50 years, probably more. They have payed out over a half billion dollars in legal fees, not counting the hush money. All of it's tithes or donations from their flock, a lot of it from the childrens' nickles and dimes, they were abusing.

If this happened anywhere else, other than the church, in a day care for example, they would have their license revoked in short order. The churches are the "third rail" untouchable, for reasons I don't understand.

The priest guilty of abuse should go to prison in the regular population, then they would find out what the saying "do unto others as you would have them do unto you" really means.

The priests and preachers I've come in contact with, over the years, most all claim they were called by God to deliver his message. A few thousand years ago the Lord parted the Red Sea to save the Jews from the Egyptians. When dispicable acts, such as the pedophiles, practice their dirty deeds in the church, the House of the Lord, it seems He, at least, could knock a few heads. It's something else that is hard to understand.

As I have said they are getting a lot of news, all bad. They claim only à 5 to 10 percent of the priests are guilty by comparison. Ten percent of a dollar is only 10 cents, small change. But 10 percent of a million dollars is a lot of money. Ten percent of thousands of priest makes for a lot of child abuse.

I could go on, but what's the point? One thing can be said for the clergy over the years they have done an exceptional job of "brain washing" a lot of people.

I caught a lot of flack from the last letter I wrote, so let it fly. I am all ears.

Student Says 'Thank You'

To the editor:

I believe a thank you is in order for the gift of the thesaurus to all sixth graders of Davie County, and especially from me. I think it was a very generous of you to collect money just to give us our own thesaurus.

I use it every day to look up words and find better words than our everyday wimpy words (as I call them): words such as good, bad, sad, or glad. Just the other day I was using my thesaurus to look up a different word for happy, and then it struck me like a building contractor hammering a nail into the side of an unfinished building. I was so insolent that you would go through all the trouble of this and for the generosity I give a second appreciation.

I am a sixth grader at South Davie Middle School and this letter is a letter describing my gratitude towards the matter. As I wrote this letter I used it a multiple of times as you probably could tell. In conclusion, I am glad to accept the offer you have given to us, but not unless I express how joyous I am to you for my useful thesaurus. Lastly, I also give thanks toward the dictionary I received last year.

Couple Concerned With Hickory Hill Rezoning

To the editor:

We are deeply concerned about the proposed development of Hickory Hill Country Club. We have lived in our house in Hickory Hill development for 30 years and have enjoyed seeing neighbors walking, running, children playing, people walking their dog, generally a quiet neighborhoood. Can you imagine construction trucks going in and out for 10 or 11 years? So much for a quiet neighborhood.

We are grateful to Mr. Peterson and Mr. Fuller of the planning board for their vote. We do not feel that this board should be made up of contractors, developers or anyone involved with construction. It is a conflict of interest. Also, why bring in an alternate who did not even hear our side? Why not table the rezoning issue until a later date when regular members could be present?

Mr. Burnett has said the patio homes and townhouses are primarily for retirees and empty-nesters. Of course, he cannot discriminate. What if the units do not sell? Do they become rental property? What if someone buys a unit for an investment - it becomes rental property. We have been told that this proposed development will increase our property value. How does rental property increase our property value?

Our community will never be the same if this rezoning is approved.

Surgeon Now Practicing At Davie County Hospital

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie County Hospital has a new surgeon.

He doesn't mind driving here from Winston-Salem, or from Yadkinville.

Driving is no big deal for the Baltimore, Md. area surgeon who moved to North Carolina in 2000 to practice surgery. He regularly got on the freeway in Baltimore to travel from hospital to hospital.

But in that big metropolitan area, the need for a general surgeon became less and less as the practices become more specialized.

Dr. Bruce R. Bolling is a general surgeon, and says Davie County Hospital is a good place to have many common surgeries.

"There's a lot of general surgery that we can do here fine," Bolling said. "The whole idea is to keep patients in Davie County Hospital."

Bolling also uses Medical Park Hospital and Forsyth Medical Center, but says Davie can provide services for the patient and doctor that can't be found in the big city.

The number one concern is quality. The surgery is the same, and doctors wouldn't try anything at Davie that would put a patient at risk, Bolling said.

The best thing about having surgery at Davie is convenience. It's easy to get to, and to leave. Patients are more likely to be treated on a personal level, by someone they know. It's easier for family to keep in touch.

"I think we will be real successful here. The equipment is superb. We're going to do whatever we can to do good, general surgery. I've worked at a lot of hospitals, and I know what can and can't be done.

"I think we can do good things in this hospital."

Bolling said that surgeries such as hernia, hemorroid, gall bladder, appendectomy, breast and colon are possible at Davie County Hospital. Many can be done as out-patient, and beds are available if needed.

He started at Hoots Memorial in Yadkinville as a branch from the main practice, and it worked. Moving on to Davie is a natural progression, Bolling said.

"The big city is good ... and they have real good hospitals and great facilities and it's natural for people to want to go there."

But at Davie, you not only get more personal care and convenience, the anesthesia is part of the hospital bill, Bolling said.

"We've been able to save a lot of people money by doing the surgeries in their hometown."

Insurance companies will work with the local hospital, and doctors will work with people with no insurance," Bolling said. "We're here to help the community and do what we can for them."

Even for surgeons, the larger hospitals can be troublesome as they wait for a surgical room, Bolling said.

Several doctors will refer patients for Davie County Hospital surgeries. The local clinic is full-time, headed by registered nurse Linda Hunt.

"People can come here, meet Linda and the doctor and will know up front what it will cost."

Bolling thinks if he is successful at Davie County Hospital, other surgeons will follow.

Davie County Hospital Administrator Lynn Doss sees it as another service for the community. "We're excited to have a general surgeon," she said. Referrals will also be made from the hospital's emergency room.

It will take the community's use of the service to make it work.

Bolling agreed.

"Everybody is supportive of the hospital. Everybody wants to see this hospital stay open," he said. "If you can keep the hospital open, that's jobs in Mocksville. Good jobs."

Bolling said the N.C. Baptist Hospital has shown through it's affiliation that it wants to keep Davie County Hospital open.

"The idea is not to see patients here and send them to Winston-Salem. If we think you'll be better served there, we'll send you there."

Bolling is convinced that area residents will be happy with what they see at the Mocksville facility.

"Once they see the facilities and people working here, they'll want to stay here."

Health care is important to a community, Doss said.

"If you don't have health care in a community, you lose your industry, your jobs."

Foundation May Allow Investment Managers

The board of directors of The Community Foundation of Davie County voted last month to allow other investment managers to continue to invest donor funds gifted to the foundation.

A minimum gift of $100,000 is required and the investment manager must meet specific criteria in order to continue as the fund manager.

The foundation offers a diversified investment portfolio option for most donors. This portfolio is actively managed, with strategic asset allocation decisions and manager selection carried out by the investment/finance committee.

In certain cases, donors wish to have their own investment manager continue to invest their funds. In the interests of flexibility and donor responsiveness, the foundation will consider the requests.

"The community foundation views this policy change as an opportunity to partner with a number of financial planners and investment managers to respond to Davie County donors," said Jane Simpson, president. "It will also expand on those working to build endowed assets for the Davie County community.

"One of the area bank vice presidents put it this way, 'I applaud your board's vision to expand the number of advocates for the Foundation'.

"We understand that many potential donors have a longstanding, trusted relationship with their investment manager. We don't want to break that trust. We want donors to have the opportunity to benefit their community while leaving their funds invested where they are – as long as the manager meets our criteria," said Simpson.

There are a couple of places where crossings would be built to protect the streams."

According to him, there is a Boy Scout troop that is interested in helping in the construction. Von Isenburg plans to use anti-erosion measures throughout the trails to protect the area, and said that no wood-cutting would take place unless it was to clear dead lumber.

"It's the consensus of the board that this is a very good thing," said Mayor Francis Slate. "It's something we've been thinking about for some time, but we didn't know where to put them or how to go about it. We appreciate what you've done. It's a very thorough plan."

With board consensus, von Isenburg was given the go ahead on the trail project.

"The society knows that this is a week-night evening with school and work the next day and plans to adjourn the banquet promptly at 9 p.m.," McGonigle said. "Please come to enjoy a fun-filled informative evening while, at the same time, support the Humane Society of Davie County."

The Humane Society's mission is the prevention of cruelty to animals, the relief of suffering among animals, the rescue of adoptable cats and dogs, and the promotion of spay and neuter education.

Proceeds will be designated for the foster care program and spay/neuter education activities throughout Davie County.

To obtain tickets, $20 per person or $35 per couple, or for more information, call Myra McGonigle at 940-6767.

Cooleemee F.D. Receives Grant

The Cooleemee Fire Department has been awarded a $75,324 grant from the federal government.

The grant will be used to purchase a generator, turnout gear, and a thermal imaging camera. It was awarded by the Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

"Firefighters play a critical role in keeping communities safe throughout North Carolina," said Congressman Richard Burr. "It is important that firefighters receive the necessary resources to ensure that they are prepared to respond to emergencies."

You might not be able to do everything at once, you can however do it all in one place.

Four Charged, 3 Found Guilty

By Jackie Seuboll
Davie County Enterprise Record

The four people charged with stealing baby formula appeared in Davie District Court last Thursday and three found guilty are awaiting transportation back to Honduras by immigration officials.

Nestor Javier Funes Martinez, 27, who listed Wallace as his address was arrested March 6 after a Mocksville police officer stopped him and found almost $2000 worth of baby formula inside the vehicle he was driving. The officer was responding to a reported shoplifting call from Food Lion.

The next day three of Martinez's acquaintances came to the jail to see about bailing him out. They were arrested after being identified by witnesses to the crime.

Ingris Janeth Pena Valle, 19, Rodriguez Darla Herrera, 23, and Digna Xiomara Mendoza, 41, were taken into custody. Each also listed Wallace as their address.

All appeared before Judge April C. Wood on March 4.

Herrera, Mendoza, and Valle each faced one charge of misdemeanor larceny. Herrera and Mendoza were found guilty and given 15 days in Davie Detention Center, with credit for 12 days served. Valle's charge was dismissed after it was determined she did not participate in the larceny.

Martinez faced one charge of misdemeanor possession of stolen goods. He was found guilty and given 15 days in Davie Detention Center, with credit for 13 days served. A charge of carrying a concealed weapon was dismissed. That charge resulted after two steak knives were found in the vehicle Martinez was driving the day of his arrest. The weapons were ordered destroyed by Wood.

"Apparently, this is a very popular crime right now," Wood said.

Wood also ordered all the confiscated baby formula was to be returned to Food Lion. If it was not able to be resold it was to be given to A Storehouse For Jesus.

Jay Helvey Ready For Challenge Of Congress

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise Record

He's the All American candidate — a small town boy who sharpened a keen mind to become a star in international banking.

Now he's back home for another challenge — Congress.

Other candidates consider him a goody two-shoes without credentials in good-old-boy politics and old time Republican circles. They say his star image was tarnished by the recent stock market collapse.

Jay Helvey's full-court pressure campaign is using some big-name endorsements, a lot of money and his one-of-us heritage.

He has overcome big odds before and plans to do it again.

He discounts lack of political experience as a liability.

"We have a lot of leaders in Washington that have a lot of experience, and we have a lot of problems. You do the math. We desperately need someone in Washington that has a lot of business experience. It's what we're missing. This election, given the crossroads where we are and this district, the experience we need is solid business experience. My business experience starts with earned success mowing yards, delivering newspapers and making barbecue to Wall Street. No one in this race matches that."

The small town boy grew up to crisscross the globe.

He started mowing lawns in the fourth grade, saving his money to buy a bicycle to grab a delivery route in the sixth grade for the Lexington Dispatch. As a teen, he worked as a curb hop at a Lexington barbecue restaurant.

That's before Jay Helvey became a Fulbright Scholar and an expert in international finance.

He says those childhood jobs served him well.

"My mom's a high school teacher and my dad was a minister. What drove my work ethic is that my mother had gone to Wake Forest and told me I had to earn my way."

Wayne Monk of Lexington Barbecue became one of his early benefactors." That was my big break into the business world," Helvey said.

Monk gave him $100 when he entered Wake Forest University — a send off.

"What's important about all of that is that I came out of a regular family. I have earned my success. I worked my way through college. I got scholarships. I know what it is like to work toward your goals and achieve your success. I think that's important when you decide who's going to represent this district."

Other candidates seek to claim purer conservative credentials in the race, but Helvey contends it isn't enough to just beat the drum for conservative principles.

"What matters to conservative voters is are you effective on a conservative agenda. I will be effective. They can depend on my having true conservative values when it comes to spending, cutting taxes and family values. I'm not sure what it does to pound the drum if you can't be effective when you get there. Take Social Security. We're going to have to solve that problem. We need someone who can make a difference"

Helvey, 45, is the son of Jim and Doris Helvey of Lexington. His in-laws, Dan and Emily Williamson, live in Bermuda Village.

He is one of a host of potential Republican candidates for the post being vacated by Rep. Richard Burr of Winston-Salem. The filing period begins in February, and the race may finally narrow as the candidates weigh their chances.

Helvey met his wife, Jane, while he was at Wake Forest. She was a Salem student. They have three sons, Cole, 13, Jed, 11, and Walker, 9. They are members of River Oaks Church of Lewisville.

He studied political science and German at Wake and earned a prestigious Fulbright Scholarship to study defense and foreign policy at the University of Cologne in Germany.

After school, he joined J.P. Morgan Bank, first in Tokyo and later in Frankfurt.

Fluent in German, Helvey recalled he had to translate for his wife and her German doctor and midwife during the birth of their second son.

He was later reassigned to New York to be vice president of Morgan's risk management. Many of those old banking associates have contributed heavily to his campaign.

He is a member of the Wake Forest board of visitors and returned here often over the years. "We came to see family during spring and see the azaleas blooming, eat Krispy Kreme doughnuts. We fell in love here, had family here, wanted to raise our kids here. We moved back in 1999.

> "We desperately need someone in Washington that has a lot of business experience. It's what we're missing."
> - Jay Helvey

"I want to do my part as a Congressman for this area making sure we do everything possible to make sure this remains the best place to live and raise a family in the Southeast. The future is bright for us but we need determination and focus to face the problems we're facing.

He hasn't succeeded at everything.

During the stock market boom, J.P. Morgan spun off Cygnifi, a high-finance risk management firm with Helvey as one of the leaders. The e-commerce venture, funded with $23 million, hit the skids when the technological bubble burst a few years ago. The firm was liquidated.

"The company went out of business like so many dot coms. It was just market conditions," Helvey said. "That experience helped me understand the importance of creating jobs, taking risks, and how our economy can create jobs and how they can go away. I've experienced both sides of that."

Helvey said no small investors were involved in Cygnifi.

The bankruptcy, however, is one of the knocks used against him in the campaign, and critics say his business acumen may not be as sharp as his resume.

Helvey had two friends die in the World Trade Center attacks, and that has figured prominently in his campaign message.

"The war on terror for me is very personal. When I think what President Bush is doing, I support him 100 percent. I think it's important to take the fight to the enemy. I think its good versus evil. I think of the folks running in this race, I am focused on representing this district and protecting this country.

"I could see people willing to serve in the military. This was a way for me to serve, to take advantage of my business and international skills to give back to the district."

He campaigns full time.

In his first six weeks, he raised a head-turning $460,000 — most of it from old banking friends across the nation.

"People I work with that understand my skills and also my values. This is a complex world we live in. We have all the advantages and disadvantages of a global economy. We have complex financial dealings at a national level, to understand spending, etc."

His young candidacy has been criticized for not being Republican enough, for having too many Democrats and wealthy out-of-state contributors as his supporters.

"That's a desperate accusation. I'm bringing a lot of Democrats who want to get me elected. I think that's good for the Republicans. George Bush and Ronald Reagan did that. Jesse Helms got Democrats to support him. It's good for the region and good for the party."

Most pointedly, his critics have mentioned his supporters Krispy Kreme president Scott Livengood and race car legend Junior Johnson as evidence of his less-than-pure Republican credentials.

"I'm certainly not embarrassed to have Scott Livengood and Junior Johnson supporting me. Both are successful businessmen who have created jobs and are national figures. That's good for the region," he said.

"People are slamming me because they think I'm going to win. There's nothing elitist about hopping curb at Wayne Monk's barbecue restaurant in Lexington. My success has been earned. Earned success is a North Carolina tradition and that represents North Carolina values. Whether you are a farmer, factory worker or corporate executive, I think they will relate to someone who has worked hard and pulled themselves up. My grandfather was a farmer and barber. My parents were a minister and high school teacher. That doesn't sound very elitist to me.

"We're going to file and we're going to win. That's why I'm doing this full time. We're going to raise however much money we need and win it. We are finding people responding to the message.

"I'm not running for my resume. I've had a good career. I'm running to be a servant leader."

Helvey cites a number of concerns he will emphasize in the campaign:

1. Job security. "There is a war on jobs here. You read some reports that our manufacturing is going overseas and we in America will no longer manufacture. I want to be a candidate who fights for saving jobs in manufacturing and stops job loss due to unfair trade practices. A lot of people miss the fact that we are losing jobs due to unfair trade. The examples are dumping in furniture, contraband shipments in textiles and the broader question of Chinese currency being way undervalued. I think I can be the most effective of all the candidates running to represent our interests. The role of our government in international trade has changed. We need to keep a level playing field and not let countries like China or India come in and take jobs unfairly. That's wrong and requires attention by the President and Congress to make sure that doesn't occur.

2. Opportunity. "The future is bright," Helvey said. "We're building our economy to create new opportunities in agriculture with the wine industry. FedEx. The beauty of region for tourism. We have a competitive advantage in medical research, medical technology and biotech. What I'm going to propose is a level playing field and domestic tax credits for people who create jobs, revalue Chinese money and enforce laws on the books.

"We need to have elected officials fighting to reduce red tape. This is the time we need to be going to Europe and bringing businesses here. We need to make sure we're tapping into capital to fund start-ups. I understand how you raise venture capital. I think I can make a difference there.

"We're in a complex world. This is a critical time for our region. We need to get somebody to follow Richard Burr with a vision to build a bright future."

4. Protecting Family Values. "Our family is under attack. I grew up in a Christian family. It's important we have strong values that recognize how important it is to protect the family, protect marriage, protect life. We were founded by people of faith taking risks to create this country. I think its appropriate that we have 'In God We Trust.'"

5. Iraq: "We have to get Iraq right. Faiture is not an option because the stakes are so high. I fully support the president and his fight to protect democracy. It will help our diplomacy in the Middle East and the fight to stop terrorism.

6. China. "China is the last great nation to industrialize with a five trillion dollar economy. We need to make sure we understand how to negotiate with China. We need leaders who understand the economic and national security implications of that."

Finally, Helvey says he's right for the job.

"I'm a North Carolina boy that's been to Wall Street, to the business capitals of the world but yet, someone who really values Judeo-Christian values. It's the right package at this point in time to offer to the district. I have those unique skills and talents to be the most effective.

"North Carolina is a state of banks. The capital is there. We need to make sure we have available space. That's often the key in recruiting new industry. We need manufacturing space, office space. Often, that ultimately determines what makes jobs.

"Companies want to come here. It's a great place to live. We have the mountains, the beach is not far away. We have great colleges and universities.

"This is about effective leadership. That's why it's important. We cannot risk our upside due to mediocre representation. We need superior representation.

"We have the right message. I was the first to say we've got to stop job loss due to unfair trade. It's the right message. We have the resources to win, ample time and ample money. We've got a great organization. It's helping us reach out into the various communities. Those are the critical success factors. Voters will look at me and say, 'What a deal. I get a true Republican conservative, a true tested and experience business person and someone who has consistently been an effective leader.' That's what we need. Message, vision, values. I think you show that to the voters and they will figure it out."

Officials Investigate Bathing Incident

The Davie County Health Department investigated a report involving individuals using a sink for bathing purposes at the Wendy's Restaurant in Hillsdale.

This investigation was a result of an incident report provided by the Davie County Sheriff's Office. Available information and evidence reviewed by the health department confirmed a misuse of the facility.

The health department has taken appropriate action by meeting with the store manager and discussing the information contained in the incident report, said Health Director Barry Bass. "Davie County Environmental Health staff reviewed with the store manager acceptable use of the facility and the standard operating procedures concerning cleaning and sanitizing within the establishment. The store manager assured health department staff that appropriate cleaning and sanitizing procedures have been, and will continue to be, followed."

"The store has been most cooperative in working with our staff and assured us this was an isolated incident and will not be repeated," said Joe Mando, environmental health director.

"Since the incident occurred at some previous point in time and was not directly observed by agency staff, any regulatory action is precluded," Bass said. "Based upon our investigation, we have no reason to suspect that any threat to the public's health existed as a result of this incident."

N.C. 801 between Cooleemee and Greasy Corner is blocked by fallen trees that made a tangled mess with electrical lines.

Gust Front Blows Destructive Path Across County

fronts are harder to predict. This could happen again, and it might not happen again for several more years."

Residents across the county saw first-hand how powerful Mother Nature can be, without warning.

Tammy Neely was cleaning up from a picnic at Rich Park. Most of the families had left, and she was busy putting supplies into her car.

The wind, she said, came out of nowhere.

"There was no warning. None," Neely said. "I had moved my car closer to get everything loaded."

That closer move put her car between some large trees. One big white pine was uprooted and torn apart, the largest part of the trunk crushing the trunk to her car.

"The only thing I said was, 'Oh, my God.' It didn't make no noise. It just fell. The wind was blowing so loud you couldn't hear nothing but swoosh ..."

Sheyvonne Arnold was sitting in a chair in her mobile home near Cooleemee.

"The wind sucked me out of the chair and the electricity went off," Arnold said. "I tried to call 911 but the line was busy."

Davie communications was swamped with calls as the front moved through, more than could be answered.

The wind had ripped the roof from Arnold's home.

"I crawled on my hands and knees all the way across the yard to the neighbor's," she said. "I thought a tree had fell on it or something. It was scary."

Arnold was busy Monday, with the help of friends, putting her belongings into boxes. They had put plastic over the top of the trailer where the roof had been, but it wasn't holding. The sun beat down on the inside of the home.

She doesn't own the trailer, and doesn't have insurance. Disabled, Arnold prides herself in not receiving Food Stamps or going to the Storehouse for help. She had stayed with a friend Sunday night, and was making plans to stay there again Monday night. She had checked on other places to rent earlier in the day, but the prices were higher than she was paying, for poorer living conditions.

"This is kind of rough," she said. "We're banding together and helping each other."

Roofs bore much of the damage during the storm. Countywide, there were reports of trees on cars, trees on houses and trees across power lines. Several of those electricity lines ended up across roads, and were still live. Volunteer firefighters manned blockades until power company crews could arrive.

Duke Power officials predicted Tuesday that it would be close to noon on Wednesday before electricity was restored to all customers in Davie County.

Luckily, no major injuries were reported during the storm.

Like many people, Kevin Hendrix gathered his family and headed for the basement of his Sunset Drive home. And like most, he was stunned at how quickly the storm hit.

Across the road from his house, a tree had fallen on a power line and sparked a fire - one that firefighters could only watch because the line remained live.

George said he was in his yard and heard the winds coming through the woods.

"When the clouds came to the ground, I knew what it was."

He went into the house and his equipment had the winds at 48 mph. It wasn't long before a gust of 72 mph was recorded. He watched the roof peel off from a neighbor's barn.

"It reminded me of when that hurricane came through," George said.

He explained how the cold front reacted with the warm air that remained over the area all day on Sunday to produce the winds. The situation was impossible to predict.

"Usually, they die out as they come across the mountains," he said.

The National Weather Service knew that the Wilkesboro area had high winds, and when they got George's report, they weren't sure what was happening.

"They didn't have time to issue warnings," he said.

His best advice, especially this time of year, is to be ready. As the temperatures change from winter- to spring-like, the atmosphere is more unstable. Severe thunderstorms with tornadoes are more likely. Gust fronts are more likely.

"The only one who knew what was going on was the Good Lord," George said.

Eddie Leagans Retires After 30 Years With Extension

As a boy, Eddie Leagans was heavily involved in 4-H, showing dairy cows in Davie County and going to summer camps.

As an adult, he ran the 4-H program for 24 years in Forsyth County.

He retired last week, ending a 30 year career with the Forsyth County Agriculture Extension Service.

He lives on Pudding Ridge Road in Farmington on the farm he worked with his father, the late Cecil Leagans. He had planned to be a teacher, graduating from Appalachian State University, but agriculture still had an influence over him.

The 4-H program has changed drastically since he was a boy.

"The numbers are probably as many as they have been over the years. The emphasis has changed. The rural emphasis in this area has changed because there isn't much rural any more," he said.

Now horses, wildlife and forestry projects dominate the youth interest in 4-H.

After stepping down from the 4-H position, Leagans served as the Extension Office's urban pest and wildlife authority, often being called about rabid raccoons.

Leagans and his wife, Patty, have two children, Lane, 24, and LeAnn, 21.

During his career, he served as president of Keep Winston-Salem Beautiful, president for three years of Sertoma West, president for two years of the Travelers Protective Association emphasizing bicycle safety, president for two years of the State 4-H Agents Association, receiving the group's distinguished service award in 1995.

Eddie Leagans is honored at a retirement party.

The breakfast at Wesley Chapel is Saturday, March 20 from 6:30-10 a.m. There will also be a bake sale sponsored by the UMW.

The UMW at Wesley Chapel met Wednesday, March 3 at the fellowship hall. Joan Barsdale presented the program. Those attended were hostess and president Dewilla Smith, Marlene Trivette, Marie Miller, Madelyn Gentry, Louise Dill, Inez McClannon, Toby Hawkins, Nora Latham, Kathy Ellis, Sara Eure and Betty West.

Pat and Kathy Miller spent last week in Daytona, Fla.

James and Lelia Essic have returned home after an extended stay at their home in Caswell County. They are enjoying having their son, Neal, and his wife, Brenda, stay with them while their house is being repaired due to fire.

Kenneth Murchison of Boston, Ma. had breakfast with Harmon and Nora Latham Thursday. After the visit, he visited Gene and Marie Miller.

Nick Rouse of Charlotte recently spent the weekend at home and attended the breakfast at Wesley Chapel.

The Sallie Sue Peebles/Mens Bible Class of the Methodist church will have the Lenten meal, soup and sandwiches, on Wednesday, March 10 at 6 p.m. at the fellowship hall.

A large crowd turned out Sunday afternoon for Norma Lee Vogler's 70th birthday reception at the Methodist fellowship hall. A beautiful cut flower arrangement was on the church altar Sunday in honor of Norma Lee. It was taken to the fellowship hall and used as a centerpiece on the refreshment table that afternoon. Flowers were given by Medford and Nancy Vogler Shoaf.

We were happy to see the Vestal family at church Sunday after a long absence. They were Don and Diana Vestal and daughter Dona Vestal and friend Zach Hartman.

The Methodist Youth went to see the movie Christs Passion play last week. Ken and Beth Potts accompanied the youth.

Mary Berridge and sister Rosiland Morris of Louisville, Ky. and their aunt Sadie Gross of Pfafftown were Thursday visitors of Edith Zimmerman.

Jeanette Cornatzer and her mother, Maybelle Orrell, Bet Barnhardt, Mamie Jean Hartman and Edith Zimmerman enjoyed a trip to Lexington Friday afternoon to the N.C. Quilts Exhibition, from Bob Timberlake's collection, sponsored by the Arts Council of Davidson County. Prior to going to Lexington the ladies were invited to Mamie Jean's home to see her "Wheel of Fortune" quilt which has autographs of Pat Sajach and Vana White in each of the four corners. She arranged to get the autographs by special mailing.

Edith Zimmerman visited her sister-in-law Erma Zimmerman in the Redland community Thursday afternoon.

Heith and Sandy LeRoy and their son Hunter visited Heith's parents in South Carolina over the weekend.

Lillie Vogler, who is one of our community shut-ins, was able to attend Norma Lee Vogler's birthday celebration on Sunday afternoon. This was Lillie's first time to see the new fellowship hall.

County Line News

By Shirley Thorne
County Line Correspondent

The past few weeks County Line has been blanketed several times with snow. This past Sunday night all of us were surprised with a sudden fast-moving cold front with over 70-mph winds at times. The roaring winds began around 7. When I opened the back door to see what was happening, the wind was blowing flower pots and yard furniture across the patio. Although most residents on Ridge Road had power, many residents west were without power for more than 10 hours.

Of the damage I saw while riding about in County Line Monday morning, perhaps the worst damage was at the Lewis home on Society Road. The Lewises had four downed trees in their yard, two in the front plus one in the back and one in the side. I felt we were very blessed that the damage in our community was not more severe.

This Sunday night, March 14, Clarksbury United Methodist Church will continue with evangelistic services in observance of Lent. The service will begin at 7 and will feature the Rev. Shane Page, pastor of Harmony United Methodist Church. The church invites everyone.

Final plans have been made for the special singing to celebrate the sixth anniversary of the Men's Choir of Piney Grove AME Zion Church. The singing will begin at 3 this Sunday afternoon and will feature several local singing groups. The Men's Choir invites everyone to come and help them celebrate and sing praises unto God. The women's morning out is planned for Saturday morning, March 13, beginning at 7:30 at the Golden Corral in Statesville.

Pleasant View Baptist Church will have a "Preachers' Fellowship" service at 6 Saturday night, March 13. The service will feature three visiting preachers and special singing. After the service, everyone is invited for refreshments in the fellowship hall.

The Methodist Women of Salem United Methodist Church will have their monthly meeting at 7 Wednesday evening, March 10, in the fellowship hall. At the Methodist Men's breakfast this past Sunday morning, Jack Koontz presented an update on the conference's school buiding projects in Jamaica. If you find the book of Ephesians interesting and challenging, be sure to attend the Bible study/discussion group this Sunday night at 7:30.

If you like good home-cooked food and would like recipes for such food, then you will want a copy of the cookbooks for sale by the Women on Mission of Society Baptist Church, filled with more than 500 recipes plus many cooking charts and tables. Call Imogene Stroud at (704) 546-7360 or Pauline Thorne at 492-5115. The cookbooks may be picked up at Miss Judy's Dolls on Court Square in Mocksville or at Diane's Diner at U.S. 64 West and Ridge Road.

Our community extends get-well wishes to several residents who have been hospitalized. Grant Dively of Society Road and Beulah Prather of Stroud Mill Road were hospitalized this past week at Iredell Memorial Hospital. Lorene Godbey and Ruth W. Greene, both of Ridge Road, and Betty Seamon Lowtharpe of Old Mocksville Road are recuperating at home after being hospitalized. Louise James, J.C. Smoot, and Virginia Daywalt remain hospitalized at Davis, Iredell Memorial, and Forsyth Medical Center, respectively. Please join us as we lift up Grant, Beulah, Lorene, Ruth, Betty, Louise, J.C., and Virginia in our prayers unto the Lord for His divine healing.

County Line VFD chicken pie and pork barbecue supper is March 27, just a little more than two weeks away. If you can help prepare chicken pies Thursday, March 11, or can help with the supper preparations and serving March 25 - 27, call Jack Koontz at 492-7116 or Brian Koontz at 492-5759.

Mocksville Woman's Club Sends 3 To Washington

The Mocksville Woman's Club recently sent three representatives to Washington, D.C. on a legislative trip to help lobby for two bills of concern to the national level of Woman's Clubs.

On the trip were Linda Sechrist, local president, Gail Kelley, a past president, and Myrna Harris, previous president. They joined 30 other N.C. club representatives and traveled by motor coach to D.C.

They met and lunched with Senator Elizabeth Dole, who discussed her plans for action on children's hunger.

They also met with all but three of the total representatives from N.C. discussing topics that included 'elderly abuse' and 'overweight trucking on N.C. highways'.

Representative Richard Burr spent time with the ladies and had pictures made on the Capitol steps with the group.

Pet Corner

Roxie goes everywhere with us. She loves to ride in the car and she goes with my husband on engineering job sites. Roxie has gone on trips to the mountains with us. She is also the mascot for my son's Boy Scout troop and goes backpacking with them. She even carries her own pack. At home, daughter Grace dressed her up and pampers her.

Thank you for a wonderful addition to our family.

That's A Lot Of Manure

When you have horses, you have manure.

Ellen James of HorseFeathers of NC, at Hidden Horse Farms, 681 Howardtown Circle, Mocksville, said there is manure to spare.

"We have about 20 horses, mini-horses and ponies that provide a therapeutic riding experience for impaired children and adults, and, these horses daily produce lots of manure that can be therapeutic for your garden," she said. "Helping us get rid of the manure and putting it to good use would be very welcome."

The manure can be removed any Saturday from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Bring your own bags, buckets, shovels. Call 751-3188 to let them know when you are coming.

HorseFeathers is a non-profit organization that depends on contributions of time, expertise and money to bring this service to people with disabilities in our community. Donations are tax deductible.

Bubba's Chili Is The Best

Mike "Bubba" Williams of Mocksville won the prize for cooking up the "best overall" chili at the First United Methodist Church's Family Life Center last Wednesday night during the church's "Second Annual Chili Cook-off" fundraiser for the new home for A Storehouse for Jesus along Route 6 East in Mocksville's Southeast section.

Thanks to Williams and the othe chili experts who participated in the "Cook-A-Roo," Building Fund Chairlady Sarah Wood anounced at the end of the evening that the event added $1,072.25 to the Storehouse's "building fund," but she explained, "It couldn't have been done without the support of the many cooks who provided their steaming pots of chili and the people who gave contributions for their evening meals. Everything - including the chili - was just perfect."

In addition to "Bubba" Williams' "best overall" chili, prizes were awarded by popular ballot in these various categories to:

Del McCullough for "hot and spicy;"

Shirley and John Cottle for "most original;"

Margaret Graves for "best chicken style;"

Barbara Laymon for "best vegetarian;"

Dennis Marshall for "mild, sweet and savory;" and

The kitchen and dining area "cleanup" crews left the Family Life Center ready for its next function. The Rev. Don Routh, pastor of First United Methodist Church, pitched in with the kitchen cleanup crew. During his invocation, Pastor Route paid tribute to the Storehouse's vitally important work in the Mocksville community. Dinner was scheduled for 5:30-7:30 p.m. and the first diners walked into the church's Family Life Center promptly at 5:30 p.m. Few, if any people, arrived after 7 p.m. By that time, many of the chili pots had been emptied and diners were handing for the dessert tables for "coffee and cake or pies and brownies" or back to the kitchen for more iced tea.

An architect's plan of the layout of the new Storehouse building was on display for all diners to view. It shows in the plan, designed by Fuller Architectural of 68 Court Square, Mocksvill, a "pantry" area of 2,000 square feet from which clients may obtain food for their own kitchens, a clothing display area of 4,660 square feet, a furniture display area of 2,580 square feet, and a warehouse of 7,983 square feet for processing incoming gifts.

The remainder of the building will consist of a pharmacy, patient interview and examination rooms for those Davie County residents - qualified by low income - who seek medical or dental care, client interview rooms, offices, a chapel, medical record storage facility, a boardroom, restrooms, children's area, adult waiting room, and a breakroom for the volunteers.

The entire staff is composed of volunteers, none of whom has ever been paid a single penny for what they do to help the Storehouse clients.

The new Storehouse's 27,650-square-foot building will be erected on a 5 1/2 acre site which has already been acquired near Depot Street on Route 64 West in Mocksville. Currently, the 11-year-old Storehouse organization - Executive Director Marie Collins established it in 1993 - occupies a building at 464 Depot Street in Mocksville.

Diners debate which chili is the best.

Annual Shamrock Run, Fitness Walk This Saturday

Race Director Dave Salmon and Dr. George Kimberly - he's the medical director of A Storehouse for Jesus - expect a record turnout for St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church's 16th annual Shamrock Run/Walk on Saturday, March 13.

Part of their expectation is due to the growing public intrest in, well, growth - growth of body, growth of weight, growth of appetite. And they figure that one of the ways to control all those growth factors is to exercise.

And what better way to do it than in the Five Kilometer Run and Five Kilometer Walk which leaves the starting line at 8:15 a.m. - rain or shine - over a certified course which begins at St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church and finishes back at the church?

Also on tap that Saturday morning will be a 10-kilometer Run starting at 9 a.m. and a "Tots Trot," set for a 10 a.m. start.

All who register may pick up their registration packets starting at 7 a.m. on Race Day at St. Francis Church.

Age groups for the competition have been set for the following: 15 and under, 16-19, 20-24, 25-29, 30-34, 35-39, 40-44, 45-49, 50-54, 55-59, 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, 75-79, and 80 and over.

By registering for the competition, everyone who registers by March 11 (online at www.active. com) is assured a T-shirt in specified sizes, ranging from XXL to XL, L, M, S.

Preregistration by March 5 requires a registration fee of $17. Registration on the day of the race will cost $20; special price for the "Tots Trot" is $5.

Registration forms are available at the St. Francis Church office at 862 Yadkinville Road, Mocksville.

Overall winner awards, male and female, are planned. There also will be 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place awards for all age groups. Unique walk awards are also planned.

In previous years, scores of participants entered the race - and most finished it.

In the "Tots Trot," awards will be presented to the "Fastest Stroller" as well as the winner in the five-and-under group and in the 6-10 year group. All tots must be accompanied by an adult.

According to Dr. Kimberly, "Walking is one of our very best exercises, for it tones the muscles, reduces body weight, and keeps walkers fit and trim. All-in-all, it makes one feel better - and it makes one look better, too. As each one of us ages a bit, we need to do something to keep us trim. Walking or jogging can be very effective in that respect."

Salmon said that a portion of the proceeds from the annual Shamrock Run/Walk will be presented to the building fund for the new home for A Storehouse for Jesus on a site already aquired along Route 64 East in Mocksville, not far from its intersection with Depot Street.

Kimberly, in discussing the health aspects of walking, said that nearly one-fourth of Americans are overweight, and the rate of obesity in this country increases annually. A serious result is the inorease in diabetes which is developing at an alarming rate.

A few decades ago, he said, diabetes was not considered a preventable disease. Now, he explained, "we know that diabetes, as a complication of overweight and obesity, can be prevented. It takes regular exercise to achieve significant weight loss. The most cheap, most safe, most dependable, and most easy exercise is walking. Almost everyone can do it."

Flanagan Completes Marine Basic Training

Marine Corps Pvt. Nicole D. Flanagan, a 2002 graduate of Davie High School, recently completed 12 weeks of basic training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C designed to challenge new Marine recruits physically and mentally.

Flanagan and fellow recruits began their training at 5 a. m., by running three miles and performing calisthenics. In addition to the physical conditioning program, Flanagan spent numerous hours in classroom and field assignments which included learning first aid, uniform regulations, combat water survival, marksmanship, hand-to-hand combat and assorted weapons training. They performed close order drill and operated as a small infantry unit during field training.

Flanagan and other recruits received instruction on the Marine Corps' core values - honor, courage and commitment, and what the words mean in guiding personal and professional conduct.

Flanagan and recruits ended the training phase with The Crucible, a 54-hour, team evolution culminating in a ceremony in which recruits are presented the Marine Corps Emblem, and addressed as "Marines" for the first time in their careers.

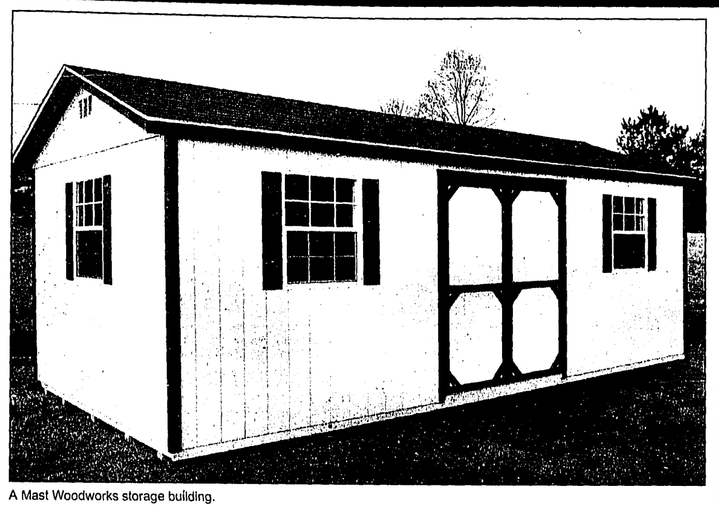
Spotlight on Business



A Mast Woodworks storage building.

Mast Woodworks storage buildings

Conveniently situated between Interstate 77 and Highway 421 in Yadkin County is a storage building construction business that provides a rare commodity these days—the highest quality craftsmanship at extremely affordable prices.

And as the owner of Mast Woodworks, Alvin Mast Jr. wouldn't have it any other way.

"If you are going to be in business there are three simple rules that I tell my boys. Satisfy the customer, do the best you can and do better than the competition," explains Mast.

A sole proprietor who insists on delivering work of the highest caliber, Mast is truly a "hands-on" type of guy.

"My boys and I personally build each storage unit from the ground up," he notes.

He says that the two items that make his business stand out from the rest are quality work and reliable service.

"I have been building storage buildings since 1989 and I know what it takes to build a good quality building," Mast says.

Top grade materials, turn-key custom work

The craftsmen at Mast Woodworks start each project with T-111 fur siding and top grade lumber. They then build virturally any size and style of storage building you could want, from 8' x 8' all the way up to 14' x 40'. Metal roofing is also available. "We can even do garages if that's what you're looking for," Alvin says.

Mast emphasizes that his company is fully capable of handling custom work. "We can customize any part of the building, from lofts to work benches to extra doors and so on. We can also handle the electrical work and on-site delivery. All the customer needs to do is provide the leveling material and we can haul, deliver and level up the building when we get there."

All deliveries are made by Hall's Delivery Service. Mast Woodworks has been working with Dale Hall for four years now and has been extremely happy with his work.

"Dale has done a wonderful job for us. We have not had one customer complaint," Mast comments.

'Handyman Special' features workshop and storage area

One popular style of building Mast Woodworks currently features is the Handyman Special. It features a storage area on one end and a workshop on the other.

Owner has spent his career in construction business

Mast, who has been in construction all of his life, says he got interested in building storage units so he could have a business close to home.

"I wanted to get off the road and stay home. Sometimes in construction I would have to travel 75 to 100 miles away. I was tired of morning and evening travel," explains Mast.

Free estimates available

"We are happy to give anyone free estimates and provide pictures of our work," he adds. "And we always encourage people to stop by and see one of our buildings in person."

Mast Woodworks is located 10 miles west of Yadkinville and six miles north of Union Grove at 5328 St. Paul Church Road in Hamptonville (Windsors Crossroads District.) For the convenience of their Clemmons customers, Mast Woodworks has opened a lot to showcase their buildings on Clemmons Road.

They can be reached at 468-1194 Monday through Saturday 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

R.J. Childress Sr.

Mr. R.J. (Robert Jackson) Childress Sr., 65, died Sunday, March 7, 2004, at Kate B. Reynolds Hospice Home in Winston-Salem.

Born Dec. 18, 1938, in Stokesdale, Mr. Childress was the second of four sons of Oscar and Primmie Kennedy Childress, both deceased. He was a member of the Disciple of Christ Church in Stokesdale and served for two years in the U.S. Army from which he was honorably discharged. He attended Chowan College. Mr. Childress' life's work included sales and marketing experience for many national companies such as Phillip Morris Tobacco, Bayer Aspirin and Ludens Candy companies. He enjoyed many years in state and local politics, including serving on the Winston-Salem/Forsyth County school board, Forsyth County transportation advisory board, Winston-Salem zoning board of adjustments, Greater Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce and the N.C. Department of Transportation for Forsyth County. He represented Forsyth County with a term in the N.C. House of Representatives where he served on many committees. He was owner of R.J. Childress Transmission Shops Inc. for 27 years. After a year of retirement, he welcomed an opportunity to promote the products of the Winston-Salem Industries for the Blind as director of bedding sales. His civic duties included a term as vice president of the N.C. Jaycees, Better Business Bureau board member, Retail Merchants Association board member, president of Triad Jaycees, Chowan College advisory board, Winston-Salem Sertoma Club and Bermuda Run Homeowners Association president for River Hill. Character Education Awards

Health Fair This Friday

The Health Wellness and Education Fair will be held March 12 at Central Davie Education Center. Exhibits and information will be available. Open to the public.

Nutrition Study Completed

A financial child nutrition consultant has finished a study of the child nutrition finances and had determined no increase in school lunch priced since the 1996-1997 school year. The consultants findings warranted no action by the school board. The staff will continue to monitor revenue vs. expenses.

Retirement Dinner

The Davie County Schools Retirement Dinner will be held at Bermuda Run Country Club on Thursday, May 20. It will begin at 7 p.m. and board members will arrive at 6:30.

Board Members Receive Credit

All members of the local board of education must receive a minimum of 12 hours of training annually. The board approved submitting a work session attended Feb. 12 to the North Carolina School Board Administration for training credit. The four hour session held at the Davie County Library was attended by board members Marty Carter, Regina Graham-Hafner, Carol Livengood, David Owens, Debbie Pullen, and Marlene Shamel.

Auburn Offers Football Scholarship To Davie Star

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Everyone in Davie County knew Cooter Arnold was a unique talent. Everyone knew the junior running back was fast, slick and strong.

Did we know how unique? Probably not.

Arnold is such a talent that he has a legitimate shot at playing for a major-college football program in 2005. He's not only fast, slick and strong - he's big-time. When the recruiting derby dies down next winter, Arnold will go down as one of the most talked-about Davie athletes in history.

Want substance to mix with the hype of a shake-and-bake runner who rewrote Davie's record book last fall? Auburn University of the Southeastern Conference wants Arnold.

That's not a misprint. Auburn - the home of 1985 Heisman Trophy winner Bo Jackson, a member of arguably the most prestigious conference in America - wants Arnold.

The Tigers offered Arnold a full ride last week.

"I sent out videos on a lot of our kids, and their recruiting coordinator called me," Davie coach Doug Illing said. "He said he watched the video, showed it to the running backs coach and the running backs coach was very impressed and wanted to offer him right away."

This is what Pop Warner, Youth League, sandlot kids and football teens all over dream about. This is Auburn, which entered last year ranked No. 1 in the country before an 8-5 disappointment.

Still, Arnold showed little emotion when he learned the news. For those who know Arnold, they weren't surprised he slipped into a shell. He runs from the limelight like he would run from a pack of linemen.

"It's kind of exciting, especially because it's so early and I've still got another year," Arnold said in typical low-key manner. "(Alabama) is a long way from home (Cooleemee). I'm not going to commit anytime soon. I'll wait and see what else I get."

Last year the 5-10, 175-pounder roared to unprecedented heights during Davie's drive to a share of the Central Piedmont Conference title, nine wins and the state 4-A quarterfinals. He rushed for 1,921 yards, averaged 6.7 yards a pop, scored 26 touchdowns and added 328 passing yards as he bounced between tailback and quarterback. He also picked off five passes while setting single-season school records for TDs, points and rushing yards. He set career records for TDs and points.

According to a handful of Davie coaches, the quiet Arnold is obsessed with N.C. State. He went to several home Wolfpack games last year and fantasizes about wearing red.

Arnold, though, is in the mold o Auburn star runner Carnell "Cadillac" Williams, who ranked third in the SEC last year with 1,307 rushing yards.

"N.C. State is looking for big, pow erful running backs, and Auburn ha Cadillac Williams, who is kind of like a Cooter," Illing said. "Williams is a cutback, a slasher with good vision That fits their scheme, and that's some thing they saw in Cooter.

"You're talking about the SEC, a $100,000 scholarship and a major na tional program. Cooter was embar rassed. He doesn't want that attention But his eyes lit up."

Baseball Team Downs Tabor

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie varsity baseball coach Mik Herndon knew going into the season that, even though the War Eagles ar probably already better than they wer at the end of last year, there would b plenty of ups and downs because of a tough schedule. So while they droppe two of three nonconference games las week, they still provided glimpses o why things look much brighter tha 2003.

The War Eagles lost the opener 5- at Alexander Central. They rallied to ti Mount Tabor in the seventh inning an pulled out an 8-6 road win in the eighth And they fell short 4-3 against visitin Forbush in a decision that wasn't de cided until the last inning.

Herndon credited the War Eagles fo the showing they made in a measuring stick game against Alexander Central They played on relatively even term after a rocky first, and AC is an excep tional team that features two college bound pitchers. One of them, Western Carolina signee Jordan Heffner, worke in relief.

"We played well," he said. "W pitched well, we hit with them and w played good defense. We hit into fou double plays, and we were hitting it har to do that. They made some great play up the middle."

Tim Erb's control hurt him in the firs inning. So did an error and a call at sec ond that went AC's way when Davi thought catcher Matt Rich's throw bea the base-stealing runner. The combina tion spelled a 3-0 hole.

Erb did something about his rough start, putting up zeroes in the next fou frames as AC outscored Davie 2-1 afte the first. Whit Merrifield had two hit and Erb only allowed three hits in 5 1/ as both teams finished with four hits.

"So I was real pleased with our ef fort," Herndon said. "We played a ver formidable opponent. They may be on

Softball Team Begins Journey With Solid Win

Coach Janice Jackson hopes her Davie varsity softball team's season-opening 4-1 win over visiting North Iredell last week was the first step in a long journey. It might not have been a jump - North outhit Davie 8-6 - but it was certainly a nice move forward into a season of big possibilities.

"I was very pleased," said Jackson, who was all smiles after Davie jumped on top 2-0 in the first inning, played outstanding defense and got a statement performance from pitcher/No. 3 hitter Amy Alexander. "We hit good, we had no errors and we made a couple good plays in the field.

"I have a feeling it's going to be a good year. We have too many good players to not be good. We play good teams, but I feel real confident with the pitching."

> "I have a feeling it's going to be a good year. We have too many good players to not be good."
> - DHS Softball Coach Janice Jackson

Leadoff batter Hannah Tierney, who is coming off a fabulous freshman year, got Davie going in the bottom of the first, singling, stealing second, moving to third on a passed ball and scoring on the first of two Alexander hits. Kaitlin Hall's single scored Alexander for a 2-0 lead.

Whitney Williams had a productive freshman debut. The third baseman walked twice and scored in the third to increase Davie's lead to 3-0. Williams scored again in the fifth as Davie pushed the margin to 4-0.

"We're solid with Williams at third base," Jackson said.

The outcome was never in doubt because of the pitching of Alexander, who racked up nine strikeouts and only walked two. She didn't dominate, allowing eight hits, but she overpowered North when she needed to.

After North rapped a pair of hits in the fourth, Alexander responded with back-to-back strikeouts to end the inning.

"She was kind of getting tired in the sixth because it was the first game she's pitched that long," Jackson said. "She only pitched two innings in the scrimmage."

Shortstop Ashley Whitlock and second baseman Brittany Holt made sparkling plays on grounders, and Alyse Bowden singled twice and stole a base

Offensive Woes Exposed In 0-2 Soccer Start

Davie's varsity soccer team is accustomed to doing the pushing and shoving in nonconference games, entering the season with a 60-8-3 nonconference record since 1995. But the War Eagles were in the unfamiliar position of being on the receiving end of the punishment last week, when East Forsyth dropped them 2-0 and East Burke won 3-1.

It doesn't look good for the offensively-challenged and paper-thin War Eagles, who wore down in the second half both times and allowed four of five goals in the final 18 minutes.

"We're not going to score a lot of goals," said Pete Gustafson, who started his 14th year at the helm. "We did pretty good for three subs. We can live with our defense."

Clouds started forming in two shutout losses in scrimmages, and a flat offense negated effective defense when the games counted. An Alyson Walker-to-Ashley Cornatzer connection breathed life into Davie in the first half against East Burke, but that was its only goal in 160 minutes.

"We didn't play well at all offensively (vs. E. Forsyth)," Gustafson said. "We had five shots and they had 26. After pounding them last year (3-0 and 2-0), it was hard. They're a solid team."

Gustafson's defense did everything he asked. Kourtney Hanrahan, Justine Gamble, Carly Booth, Sally Lackey and keeper Kami Simpson played tough, and Walker and Rebecca Peeler worked furiously at midfield. But East's much-longer bench eventually sapped Davie's energy, breaking the defensive standoff at the 62 and 70 minutes.

"They all worked as hard as they could," Gustafson said of the defense. "I felt sorry for Walker and Peeler. They are strong inside midfielders, and they were drenched. They worked so hard."

The E. Burke game was a mirror-image. The War Eagles played hard despite having even less depth - Sharon Woodward injured her knee in a nasty collision against E. Forsyth and didn't play - but ran out of steam as E. Burke broke the 1-1 tie at 63 minutes and iced the game with nine minutes left.

Besides Cornatzer's goal, about the only positives in the end were the play of Annie Haftman, who delivered some good crosses, and Sloan Smith, who acquitted herself well as a sophomore.

Notes: Davie doesn't have a senior. ... The roster includes juniors Cornatzer, Haftman, Hanrahan, Allison Mackintosh, Nicole Maready, Kelly Mitchell, Peeler, Meredith Phillips, Simpson, Walker and Woodward; sophomores Booth, Gamble, Erica Lane, Elyse Timmons, Lackey and Smith; and freshman Britt Harrison. ... It plays at N. Iredell March 11 and at home to S. Rowan March 17. South is the first Central Piedmont Conference game.

War Eagle Tennis Opens Promising Season In Style

Davie's boys tennis team has struggled every year since 1998. Though the six-year malaise has included five losing records, the pushover days ended in 2002 when the War Eagles went 8-7 and finished third in the Central Piedmont Conference at 5-4. They showed resistance last year, going 7-8 and 4-6.

Now the standards are higher. They're high enough that staying around .500 will mean disappointment. With four of six starters back from 2003, the possibility for a breakout season looks promising.

Davie's nucleus is so solid that last year's No. 1 player - junior Chris Moxley, who was good enough to qualify for regionals as a freshman - started the season at No. 3. That illustrates Davie's potential for a big year.

"We've got some good talent," first-year coach Steven Lingard said after last week's season-opening 7-2 win over West Rowan. "My main-seeded players are Matt Hauser, Collin Ferebee, Moxley and Jason Overbey. They're going to dominate the top six."

Davie's lineup at West was sophomore Hauser at one, sophomore Ferebee at two, junior Moxley at three, sophomore Phillip Hursey at four, senior Overbey at five and sophomore Matt Morris at six. The Nos. 2-6 players all won convincingly, with the wins ranging from Moxley's 10-1 score to 10-6.

Davie had two dominating wins in doubles, as Moxley-Overbey won 8-2 at No. 2 and Hursey-Morris rolled 8-3 at three.

Lingard marks Davie's seventh coach in eight years. The England native moved to Davie County in July through a teaching agency called Visiting International Faculty. Through the program that places international teachers in American schools, he has made stops in Charlotte and Denver, Colorado. He figures he'll call Davie home for three years.

"I used to be a member of a local tennis team in England, and I coached high-school tennis for two years," the 29-year-old said.

Notes: The rest of Davie's roster includes seniors Tyler Lowe and Jeff Mighion; juniors Kurt Bivins and Tanner Manship; and sophomores Jeremiah Worrell and Seth Spry. ... The War Eagles play at home to East Rowan on March 10, at Southwest Randolph March 11, at home to Statesville March 15 and at home to North Iredell March 17.

Men's Softball Tournament To Benefit Mocksville Rams

A men's softball tournament to benefit the Mocksville Rams football team is scheduled for March 27 at Rich Park. The entry fee is $125. There will be a five-home run limit. To register a team, call Kerwyn Wilson at (336) 391-1628 or Jeff Scott at (336) 575-5175.

Boger Strong In Golf Loss

Davie's golf team finished third in a season-opening tri-meet last week. Hickory won with an even-par 144 and host Statesville was second at 150. Davie shot a 20-over 164 despite a 2-over 38 from Ben Boger.

Davie's other scores included a 40 from Travis Howell, 42 from Andrew Darcy and 43s from Nathan Crowe and Michael Gravatt.

Coach Doug Illing's War Eagles host nonconference matches against West Rowan on March 11 at Pudding Ridge and Statesville on March 15 at Bermuda Run.

Notes & Quotes

Seasoned Senior, Unknown Freshman Excel In First Week

• Andrew McClannon and Whit Merrifield of Davie's varsity baseball team excelled in the first week of the season. But while Davie expected senior McClannon to contribute on the mound and with the bat as a senior leader, Merrifield's emergence was unlikely.

McClannon

Merrifield

In his Davie debut at Alexander Central, the freshman second baseman went 2-for-3. Coach Mike Herndon moved him from ninth in the order to second against Mount Tabor, and Merrifield validated the decision with a single, double, stolen base and a memorable seventh inning.

In the top of the seventh, with Davie down 6-5, Merrifield led off with a double and came around to score the tying run. In the bottom of the seventh - with runners at the corners, one out and Tabor 90 feet from winning the game - Merrifield scooped up a hot grounder that deflected off Davie's first baseman and fired home to catcher Matt Rich for an out that saved the game. Davie prevailed 8-6 as David Weakley opened the eighth with a tiebreaking homer.

Even when Merrifield (4-for-11) went hitless in a 4-3 loss to Forbush, he was a factor. He helped Davie take a 2-0 lead with a sac bunt that was errored, he reached on another error and stole his second base.

McClannon's senior season is off to a sensational start. Against Tabor, his second RBI tied it in the seventh and he pitched three shutout innings in relief to get the win. His two-run single gave Davie the 2-0 lead against Forbush.

Overall McClannon is 4-for-9 with four RBIs. He's given up one unearned run in six innings, striking out seven and walking two.

Zach Vogler, the sophomore leadoff batter, hasn't been bad, either, going 4-for-11.

• Although Davie's new JV baseball coach had worked in Stokes County for the last 10 years, Tim McKnight was commuting from Advance from the time he began coaching at Chestnut Grove Middle and then West Stokes High.

McKnight obviously likes the considerably shorter miles to and from work. He also likes his new surroundings.

"I enjoyed where I was at, but I'm really happy to be at Davie High," the guidance counselor said. "I've got two little boys (ages 2 and 4) and my wife (Sherry Bailey McKnight) has been in Davie County since she was 5-years-old. She went through Shady Grove and North Davie.

"It was funny how I got to know Herndon. I was trying to get our (West Stokes) JV team in their JV Easter tournament, and we got to talking. I told him I was in Davie County and he started mentioning his vacancies. I told him if something came open counseling-wise to let me know, and it fell into place."

Pitching A Big Question For JVs

Davie's JV baseball team has plenty of talent. In fact, varsity coach Mike Herndon has said over and over the array of talent is staggering.

But pitching, pitching and pitching is the key to winning. Pitching depth was a concern before the season, and it's a big concern now that No.1 hurler Tom Kuell's availability is uncertain and No. 2 arm Chris Brogdon is finished for the season after suffering an injury in the opener.

A shortage of pitching is why the War Eagles needed a loud seventh inning to outlast Alexander Central 13-8 in the opener, and that's why they lost 9-6 to Mount Tabor and 11-5 to Forbush in the other two nonconference games last week.

Kuell's absence was felt in a busy week that pushed Davie's arms to the limit.

"Kuell's going to be on and off all year with his back," said McKnight, a new coach who came over from West Stokes' JV. "His doctor said it's something that's not really going to improve. He had to sit out (last) week. They said go ahead and play, until it hurts to the point that he can't do anything."

Also, Davie was clearly affected by the loss of Brogdon, who fractured a bone in his elbow shortly after appearing in relief against Alexander Central.

"It popped and he went straight to the ground," Herndon said. "I hate that for him because he was really doing a lot of good things."

McKnight reported that while Brogdon, who was also expected to contribute at second base and catcher, is done for the season, his long-term prognosis is good. He's wearing a cast for four-to-six weeks and should be fully recovered by summer ball.

Davie 13, Alexander Central 8

The War Eagles scored four runs in the sixth and six more in the seventh to surge ahead 13-5. The offense was keyed by Heath Boyd, Justin Thompson and Zach Howard. The Nos. 2-4 batters all had two hits, led by Thompson's 3-for-5 day.

Jon Hutchens, who was supposed to be the No. 3 pitcher before suddenly finding himself in the hot seat, gave Davie six innings. After reliever Brogdon went down, Bryan King foiled AC's seventh-inning rally by striking out the top two batters in the Cougars' order, an exclamation mark that amazed McKnight.

"That was a big performance," he said. "They were rallying and their No. 1 hitter had killed us all day."

Mt. Tabor 9, Davie 6

Josh Eder gave Davie a 4-0 lead in the fourth with a two-out, three-run double. The freshman went 3-for-3 with two doubles and four RBIs, and King shut out Tabor for three innings.

But King ran out of magic in the fourth, when Tabor cut into Davie's lead with two runs, and hit the wall in the fifth, when Tabor took control with seven runs for a 9-4 lead.

It was a case of Tabor taking advantage of Davie's short staff.

"We got good pitching through five. Then we ran out of pitching," McKnight said. "That's going to be a tough spot. We are very thin in that area and it caught up with us.

"I probably went with King a little longer than I should have. I stayed with him as long as I could because I knew he would throw strikes."

Forbush 11, Davie 5

After Forbush poured across four runs in the top of the first, Davie answered with three in the bottom half. The offenses cooled off as the game entered the seventh tied at 5-5.

In the top of the seventh, Forbush loaded the bases with one out. It grounded to third for what could have been an inning-ending double play. But Davie errored the ball, then let the game get away as six Forbush runs crossed.

Zach Howard only allowed three earned runs in 5 1/3.

"Howard did everything he could do," McKnight said. "There was a double-play ball that our third baseman makes nine out of 10 times. If he makes that play, tagging third and throwing to first, we get out of the inning. Then the floodgates opened.

"Those things happen. (Reliever Brandon) Stewart didn't throw bad, but he didn't have a whole lot to show for it. We played better than we did in the first two games, but they made more plays than we did."

Davie left the door open in the bottom of the sixth, failing to score after putting runners at second and third with one out. Stewart paced the offense at 2 for-4.

Schedule: Davie plays at East Forsyth on March 11 at 3 p.m., at Page March 12 at 4:30 and at home to Alexander Central March 17 at 4:30.

Merrifield, Weakley Provide Heroics In Thrilling Win

of the best that we face all year long, and the thing is I believe we can beat them."

It was an eye-catching debut for Merrifield, who started at second as a freshman.

"Not only did he have two hits, he made every play in the field," Herndon said. "He played like a champ."

Randolph

Weakley

Davie 8, Mt. Tabor 6 (8)

This thriller had it all - a great plot pitting Mocksville Legion coach Mike Lovelace against the team he assisted for seven years, back-and-forth momentum swings, late-inning drama, an unbelievable homer by Ted Randolph and heroic moments from Merrifield, David Weakley and Andrew McClannon.

"It was a weird feeling (facing Lovelace), but it was good to win and good the way we won," Herndon said.

"It was a real emotional high because we battled back the whole game," said Weakley, who clinched it with an eighth-inning homer. "And to win in extra innings like that, especially against Lovelace, that made it sweeter."

McClannon was on top of his game in his first pitching appearance, taking over with Davie down 6-5 in the sixth and delivering three shutout innings.

"I was surprised because I wasn't really supposed to pitch," McClannon said. "(Herndon) wanted that one. It was real emotional. I was worried about how our young guys would do, but they are real mature, a lot more than most young guys."

Davie scored in the top of the first, but Tabor tied it in its first at-bat. Davie grabbed a 3-1 lead in the third as leadoff man Zach Vogler singled and doubled in his first two at-bats. But Tabor got one of them back in the fourth.

It was like a fist fight. Nobody wanted to go down and stay down. Tabor punched Davie with four runs in the fifth, but the team that went away standing was Davie, which cut a 6-3 deficit to 6-5 in the sixth when Randolph sent an outside fastball over the right-center fence that looked as if it was never going to land.

"I've never seen one launched that far," Herndon said. "When it was hit, I thought 'Holy cow.' It went over the football grandstands and landed on the 30-yard line on the football field. The lacrosse team came up the stands to see who hit the ball that far."

The tape-measure shot snapped Randolph out of a funk. He was 0-for-2 with two Ks for the game, 0-for-6 for the season.

"It was alright," Randolph said, before breaking into a grin. "I expect that out of myself. We needed it. We have the talent to win a lot of games."

Davie had a committee of players involved in the verdict. Vogler, Merrifield, Evan Beam, Foo Smith and Rich all had two hits, McClannon drove in two runs and John McDaniel had one of Davie's five doubles.

But Davie wouldn't have been in position for Weakley's eighth-inning homer and McClannon's door-closing pitching without the rookie who is merely a year removed from the China Groves, Corriher-Lipes and Erwins.

Merrifield was so unnerved by the pressure of playing varsity at age 14 that he led off the seventh with a double off the right-field fence and scored the tying run after Beam bunted him to third and McClannon pushed him home with a sac fly.

Merrifield never blinked when a hard grounder bounced off Randolph's chest and ricocheted to him with runners at the corners and one out in the bottom of the seventh. He scooped and fired home in one motion, nailing the game-winning runner by two steps. "He's going to be special," Herndon said.

Herndon said in preseason that he's got a roster full of interchangeable parts, and Weakley supported that sentiment while leading off the eighth. After entering the game in the sixth, he rode a 2-0 fastball the other way, clearing the fence in right for a 7-6 lead. Rich provided insurance, doubling, moving to third on Lance Emert's bunt and scoring on Vogler's sac fly.

"I was thinking fastball all the way, and he threw it right down the middle," Weakley said. "It was awesome. I tried to make the most of my opportunity."

"When you have somebody that can come off the bench and hit like that, and step up in a key situation, that's always big," McClannon said. "That was a big win because we don't have any kind of freebies."

"I've watched Weakley hit jacks before," Randolph said. "I guess the situation was surprising, but not that he hit it."

Davie's starter, McDaniel, pitched four solid innings before giving way to McClannon. Tabor had two hits through four before chasing the sophomore with four hits in the fifth. McDaniel piled up eight strikeouts against two walks, and "was better than his numbers (four earned runs, six hits)," Herndon said. "McDaniel probably should have struck out 12."

Forbush 4, Davie 3

The War Eagles might have been emotionally drained from playing their third game in three days. They didn't display the fire that helped them steal one from Tabor and took a backward step in a loss that to a team that has players who helped Mocksville's Junior Legion boast a 29-8 record last summer.

"I don't think we played bad, we just didn't play hard," Herndon said. "I think we had dead legs. When we got up 2-0, we just kind of relaxed."

One of the friends-turned-enemies was Forbush pitcher Corey Martin, who struck out 7and walked none in a complete game.

"We played Legion with them and I really wanted to beat them," Vogler said. "Corey pitched good. They were talking before the game about Corey was pitching and we weren't going to beat them. We came out swinging the bat good, we just couldn't keep it going."

Vogler greeted Martin with a single, Merrifield laid down a sac bunt and reached on an error, and McClannon brought both home with a single. Davie didn't touch Martin again until the sixth.

"I was too pumped up at the beginning," Martin said. "I was trying to strike them out instead of getting groundballs."

Forbush inched back in the third and fourth and took a 3-2 lead in the fifth. Davie tied it in the sixth. McClannon and Andrew Beck, both of whom had two hits, singled and McClannon scored when Brad Corriher reached on an error.

Davie gave the gift back in the seventh. Forbush's first batter reached when a routine grounder was thrown away. He moved up on a passed ball and scored on an infield hit to shortstop Emert.

"It was an 0-2 pitch and he just stuck his bat out," Herndon said of the infield hit. "It was one of those things. There was nothing Emert could do about it. Derek Jeter couldn't have done anything about it."

Martin finished with a flourish, striking out two and retiring Davie 1-2-3 in the seventh. After the final out, he strutted off the mound and shook his head at Davie's dugout.

"Our pitching was good," Herndon said of starter Corriher and relievers Beck and McClannon. "Corriher is much improved. He threw well, he just got tired. Beck came in and threw strikes.

"It was a tough loss. I don't know those kids, but our kids know them."

Notes: The finish ruined another strong effort by McClannon, who gave up one unearned run in three innings. ... Davie has three nonconference home games over the next week - East Forsyth on March 11 at 5 p.m., Page on March 12 at 4:30 and Alexander Central on March 17 at 4:30.

Davie running back Cooter Arnold has received a football offer from Auburn University.

Arnold Gets Auburn Offer

Illing said Auburn's offer should open plenty of eyes at other Division-I schools.

"I don't think you commit right away unless that's the school you've been wanting to go to all your life," he said. "This can only lead to bigger and better things. Other schools will see that Auburn's offered him this early, and that will make them be aggressive, too. Auburn will be trying to get Cooter to come down and visit the campus.

"By no means has his work ended. He's got to make the grades, SAT score and continue to get bigger, faster and stronger."

AUBURN'S COACHES also spoke highly of junior tight end Ted Randolph. While they didn't put a scholarship on the table, they marveled at the 6-4, 245-pounder's potential.

"They weren't ready to offer him, but they're real interested in him," Illing said. "They want to see him in person and see how he runs. They like his grades and like the way he moves. They're a little concerned about his speed. Ted wants to play tight end, but he knows speed might determine that he moves to tackle. He's got the body to put on 50 pounds easy."

North Iredell Pounds JV Softball

The Davie JV softball team's season opener was a dreadful 16-5 loss to North Iredell last week at Rich Park.

Although it was ugly from the start - North led 10-0 going into the bottom of the fifth inning - the good news for Davie was it didn't give up, avoiding the 10-run mercy rule with three runs in the fifth and closing to 10-5 in the sixth before North began scoring again.

"Their pitcher threw pretty good," first-year coach Jonette Poole said. "We started hitting her after we saw her a couple times. We didn't quit. We could have got 10-run-ruled if we didn't score in the fifth. So I was proud of them for that."

Davie's offensive leader was Samantha Hobson, who went 2-for-3.

The War Eagles play at home to East Rowan on March 11 at 4 p.m. and at Mount Tabor on March 16 at 4:30.

JV Soccer Gets Off To Slow Start

East Forsyth and East Burke spoiled Kerstin Plagemann's first week as Davie's JV soccer coach, handing the War Eagles a pair of 2-0 defeats last week.

Still, Plagemann remained upbeat in the face of a slow start.

"For not a lot of practice, we did well. I can't complain," she said. "I was really impressed with the first game. We played really hard. For a team as tough as East Forsyth, we did well."

Brock, a center midfielder, and keeper V. Didenko did their part in the losses.

"Brock is an all-around athlete. She's a good leader anywhere I put her," Plagemann said. "I've been really impressed with Vanessa."

Plagemann is a new teacher at Davie, having moved from Wyoming to Mocksville, where she has a brother (David Plagemann).

"I like the small-town atmosphere, and it's not too far from the city," she said. "I played soccer growing up for 13 years. I've coached younger teams but this is my year coaching high school."

Davie has a nonconference game at North Iredell on March 11 before opening Central Piedmont Conference play against visiting South Rowan on March 17.

Cokie Jones Inducted Into Conservation Hall Of Fame

At the North Carolina Association of Soil and Water Conservation District's Annual Statewide Meeting held in Raleigh, Irvin H. "Cokie" Jones of Advance was inducted into the Conservation Hall of Fame.

The NCASWCD recognizes district supervisors and other conservation leaders with the Hall of Fame Award for superior contributions and outstanding leadership in promoting soil and water conservation in their home community, the state, and elsewhere.

Jones was elected to the Davie Board of Soil and Water Conservation Supervisors in 1969 and has served as secretary, chair of the education committee, vice chair, and since 1978 has been chair of the board of supervisors.

Through his leadership the Davie Soil and Water Conservation District has been recognized several times for getting conservation off the ground.

The district received first place in N.C. in the Goodyear Conservation Award Program in 1970 and 1980. In 1987, it was recognized by the Take Pride in America Awards Program at the state and national levels for "Meritorious Stewardship of Americas Natural and Cultural Resources."

In 1971 Jones was chosen to represent the Board of Supervisors in assisting the Davie County Planning Board in adopting a land use plan. As a result the county wide zoning was adopted in 1972 and made Davie County one of the first rural agricultural counties in the state to have zoning protections. This has helped the county keep a viable agricultural land base.

Jones was instrumental in the adoption and completion of the Dutchman Creek PL-566 Watershed Project. The project consisted of nine floodwater retarding structures as well as over 40 miles of stream channel improvements.

Jones did much of the groundwork with landowners in securing support for the project and obtaining easements. He was appointed contracting officer for the project in 1977.

A very important part of the project was accelerated land treatment measures within the watershed, which resulted in erosion problems being treated on many acres of agricultural land.

For his efforts, Jones received the State Association "Watershed Person of the Year" award in 1993. He continues today to stay active and involved with the operation and maintenance of the project, and participates each year when the annual operation and maintenance inspections are completed.

In 1970 Jones was appointed Chairman of the District's Conservative Education Committee. The poster and essay contests were begun that year in the schools, followed by the public speaking contest in 1974. These contests have been held every year since and continue to this day.

The Davie District has been recognized numerous times for its accomplishments in conservative education. It received the National Association of Conservation Districts Allis Chalmers State Award for Environmental Conservation Education in 1979, 1981, and 1983. Also in 1983 it received the National Second Place Education Award from the NACD and Allis Chalmers.

In April 2001 the District received an award for special recognition and service to the Davie County Schools due to its long standing conservation education programs. Each year Jones participates in the District's Conservation Field Days for all fourth graders and has promoted Soil and Water Stewardship Week activities. In 1988 Jones recruited local Boy Scouts to adopt a stream through the N.C. Streamwatch program.

Additionally, Jones has been extremely involved in the N.C. State Association activities, having served on the Water Resources Committee of the Association, first as Vice-Chairman and then as Chairman in 1997.

He has also served on the Associations' Hall of Fame Selection committee for several years. At the National Association he has represented N.C. on the Water Resources Committee and has carried the concern from N.C. that federal help was needed for rehabilitation of older PL-566 structures. This recently became a reality when Congress took action to authorize this assistance.

Jones has served as District Supervisor for 34 years and has received a number of honors. Among those awards are: Goodyear Soil Conservation Merit Award (1970), Resource Conservation Merit Award (1977), Distinguished Service Award as Chairman of Davie SWCD (1980), Woodmen of the World Conservation Award (1986), Certificate of Appreciation from the Extension Advisory Council and 4H (1987), and NCASWCD Watershed Person of the Year Award (1994). He was a member of the Davie County Community Development Association (1968-70), and a member of the Davie Agricultural Extension Advisory Leadership Council.

Jones is a member of Advance United Methodist Church and has served as Lay Speaker, Sunday School teacher, and as a member of the Cemetery Committee.

Jones is a veteran of the U.S. Army and served in Korea. He is a life member of the Disabled American Veterans, a member of the Korean War Veterans Association, a life member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and served as Adjutant and Boy Scout Sponsor through the VFW. He was a member of the VFW Honor Guard and has over 3400 hours of voluntary service.

He is also a member of the Advance Masonic Lodge 710 and serves as its chaplain, a member of Scottish Rite of Free Masonry 32nd degree, and a member of the Winston-Salem Shriner's Club. Jones was a member of the Advance Volunteer Fire Department for over 20 years and in 1979 was recognized as Fireman of the Year.

In introducing Jones at the convention of the North Carolina Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, Russell Angell, member of the Davie Soil and Water Conservation District stated, "Cokie has been committed to Soil and Water Conservation and Natural Resources. His love for the land, desire to educate the public, and support conservation has set an example and given Davie County a sound foundation. He has been a friend to everyone and his positive influence will carry on to many generations."

Attending the convention awards banquet, in addition to his family, were the following members of the Davie Soil and Water District: John Peeler, Jim McBride, staff members Fred Alexander, Marie Wall, and Jonathan Creason.

Jones was born in Petersburg, Virginia on July 21, 1930 and lives in Advance. He and wife, Pat, have been married 50 years and are the parents of three children, Lynn J. Howard, Lisa J. parks, and Chris Jones. He has four grandchildren.

The Hall of Fame plaque, depicting Jones' picture, is displayed in the Hall of Fame Room, Governor Kerr Scott Building, on the N.C. State Fairgrounds, and also in the Davie Soil and Water Conservation District Office, County Office Building, Mocksville.

Senator Part Of Motorsports Meeting

Buoyed by a grant to study motorsports' impact on the state and the success of a university motorsports engineering program, several motorsports executives vowed Jan. 16 to keep and grow motorsports in its home in North Carolina.

Several members of the North Carolina Motorsports Association (NCMA) and North Carolina Motorsports Caucus comprised of a bi-partisan Senate and House membership, met Jan. 16 for a luncheon at Lowe's Motor Speedway in Concord to discuss the status of the industry and potential competition from outside of North Carolina.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte, in cooperation with the NCMA, has recently received a grant to study the business of motorsports in North Carolina.

"Other states are using economic incentives to entice motorsports business", something Jim Hannigan, vice president of Petty Enterprises and a NCMA board member, said can be stopped.

The study should provide the basis for growing the business here, he said.

The Golden Leaf Foundation has granted $100,000 to fund an economic impact study. Rep. Karen Ray, chair of the 40-member Motorsports Caucus, discussed this grant and the positive feedback motorsports has received in Raleigh.

"It is really exciting, the response we've received from legislators and from constituents who support motorsports and understand its impact on our state," Ray said.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte (UNCC) created a motorsports engineering program in 1998.

"Motorsports in North Carolina provides thousands of jobs, small business operations, large business operations and millions of dollars in revenues to our state," said State Sen. Andrew Brock of Farmington.

"The roots of motorsports are in North Carolina and I am committed to work to grow an economic engine that calls North Carolina home and protect the investment we already have in motorsports. Motorsports is thriving in our state. It is important that we not take this for granted and do all that we can to protect the jobs and revenues created through this industry," Brock said.

"I consider the opportunity to grow and protect jobs and revenues created through motorsports important to our state and I am committed to continued efforts to protect our homegrown industry," Brock said.

Davie Schools

Pinebrook Elementary

Tied for the weekly Box Tops Champion are Mrs. Harpe's second grade and Mrs. Orsillo's third grade. These students will receive box tops stickers and pencils and Mrs. Orsillo will receive a t-shirt.

The winners in Mrs. Harpe's second grade include: Meredith Bowles, Will Bracken, R.C. Brunstetter, Brittany Foster, Hailee Frank, Nathan Gordon, Allie Maine, Luke Martin, Jadan McGill, Keith McKay, Robert Montgomery, Amber Myers, Sara Rampersad, Michael Stamper, Clay Thompson, Ellen Tutterow, and Jessica White.

The winners in Mrs. Orsillo's third grade include: Taylor Anderson, Megan Bradsher, James Carter, Casey Cranfill, Matthew Ellis, Raven Foltz, Royal Howell, Robert Jackson, Stephanie Jones, Kari Koty, Daniel Lyerly, Dylan McDaniel, Robert Murray, Luke Naylor, Brook Neely, Gypsie Nelson, Samuel Newman, Grace Riendeau, Eric Thornsberry, Darbe Tolar, Luke Walker, Amber Whisenhunt, Austin Whitaker, C.G. Whittington, and Marissa Williams.

So far this year, the school has raised $1,899 for books for the media center. The Box Tops committee must send another shipment by the end of March, so if you have saved box tops, please send them in by Tuesday, March 30.

William R. Davie Elementary

Citizens of the Week were Jaylee Miller, Brian Espinoza, Summer Bivens, Brian Espinoza, Peyton Brooks, Mariana Moreno, Courtney Draughn, Allyson Edwards, Matthew Scarlett, Kendall Lanier, Jessie Ramirez, Shelton Lanning, Shelby Mast, Derek Scherer, Lauren Outen, Brandon Gammons, Tyler Lee, and Caitlyn Hyde. The Citizenship Luncheon will be held March 31.

Jen Dwiggins and students thank the Mocksville Woman's Club for donating a Spanish-English dictionary to each Spanish speaking family as well as a dictionary for each third grade student. They enjoyed learning dictionary skills and look forward to sharing their dictionaries and their new knowledge with their family.

Due to the snow, the end of grade tests have been moved to May 11, 12, and 13.

The final Partners in Print was held March 8.

Early Release will be March 11. Students will have a vacation day on March 12. Teachers will have a workday. The Countywide Health Fair will be held on March 12. May 24, 25, 26, and 27 are now school days. March 15 will be a student school day due to the snow. It is a make up day.

Billy Jonas will perform for the K-1 on March 17. The statewide tornado drill will be held on March 17. Spring pictures will be made on March 18.

Sandra Dyson, SIMS secretary, has been out sick.

The Basket Raffle has been a great success. Thanks to all who donated items, prepared items for display and those who purchased tickets.

The construction project continues to creep along. The snow and ice have kept the ground so wet that getting the grading work done has been impossible. Several projects necessary to get building under way, such as moving drain lines, sewer lines, and water lines, have been completed.

Some 60 youngsters were signed up at kindergarten registration. If you know of other children who will be starting kindergarten, encourage their parents to contact the school.

Fourth grade students in Jen Meagher, Diane Ireland and Judy White's classes attended a musical at the Brock Auditorium o March 1 to see "First in Flight," a play about the Wright Brothers.

The second Spelling Raffle for the year was held in Judy White's fourth grade class. Students attended an ice cream sundae/bingo party after school March 3. They enjoyed ice cream and played games of bingo for prizes. Those winning the raffle were Zachary Lawrence, Deyanira Oliva, Haley Caudle, Megan Beck, Scotty Stumbo, Teresa Shrewsbury, Payton Kelly, and Brittany Gobble. Each time a students made 100 on a spelling test, his or her name would be placed into the raffle. Students are earning homework passes during the month of March when they have all work completed on time. Each Friday passes are awarded. The passes were designed by class Vice President, Megan Beck. Most improved students chosen by the class were Alex Britt and Nichole Sizemore. Coming in April will be the class Easter Newsletter. Zachary Lawrence and Sadie Lagle will edit the newsletter.

Cooleemee Elementary

The Good Citizenship Program called "Cool Cooleemee Citizens" has a specific character trait that is focused upon each month. The classroom teachers choose one individual from each class who has exhibited that character trait. The kindergarten, first and second grade classes have a party as a reward for achieving this honor. The Cooleemee PTA and individual volunteers provide the food for the party. The third, fourth and fifth grade classes receive a trip to McDonalds on Yadkinville Road, Mocksville, which provides Happy Meals for these children.

The character trait for February was justice. The following children were chosen as Cool Cooleemee Citizens of the Month: Haley Foster, Lily Ingram, Allison Carter, Nicole Miller, Chace Lagle, William Beck, Kaitlyn Johnson, Kayla Church, Dalton Trawitz, Zach Osborne, Corbin West, Nicholas Endicott, Jordan Boone, Monika Daye, Kasey Goodin, Jacob Horne, Jonathan West, Shelby Stephens, Jansen McDaniel, Nicole Ebright, Marcos Valdiva-Lorenzo, Shane Jacobs, James Blake, Chelsen Hamilton.

Fifth grade students in Mrs. Wilcox's class are beginning work in Reading Couch and Math Coach. This will serve as a review and reinforcement of the EOG skills needed on the test in May. The students enjoyed a program by the NorthwestAHEC group that is affiliated with Wake Forest Baptist Hospital. They learned about possible health careers. Several students decided they had aspirations to work in the medical field when they grow up. The students are looking forward to rescheduling their trip to Heritage Theater in Winston-Salem.

First grade students have been adding the magic "e" to all sorts of words an looking for the vowel. Mr. A the Apron Man, Mr. E the magic man, Mr. I the Ice Cream man, Mr. O the Old man, and Mr. U the Uniform man are showing up all over the place. Students are busy measuring, filling in the missing numbers to add up to 10, and making congruent shapes on our geoboards.

Kindergarten students spent February learning about dental health and healthy habits. They listened to a presentation by Cherry Frye from Dr. Gary Prillaman's office.

Third grade students have been reading Lon Po Po. They learned about judgments and decisions as well as using story clues to figure out the meaning of new words. They created arrays in mathematics to help solve multiplication and area problems. Mrs. Linkous and Ms. Schwiebert's classes are reading about American heroes, monuments and memorials. Mrs. Fisher's class is learning about plants with Mrs. Maurer. Mrs. Maurer's class has been studying about the types of soil with Mrs. Fisher.

Fourth grade classes recently attended a play about the Wright Brothers at the Brock. Mrs. Culler's class concluded a study of electricity and magnetism. Students conducted several hands-on activities, such as building circuits and electromagnets. The class is also reading The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe by C.S. Lewis.

Miss Brown's second graders celebrated Dr. Seuss' birthday by reading some of his books, including Hooray for Diffendoofer Day. The students drew and wrote about their dream school. Second graders are celebrating the arrival of spring by studying the life cycle of butterflies. They will be "raising" butterflies. Through the use of mallow plant food, they will be able to watch caterpillars develop into butterflies.

Mrs. Wall's combination class of first and second graders has been studying weather by discussing and observing clouds. They have drawn clouds and written about them.

The PE Club participated in Jump Rope for Heart Feb. 5. The 3rd-5th graders collected $1,986.60 for the American Heart Association. Fifth grader Shane Carter in Mrs. Carter's class was the top collector with a total of $208. Thanks to all that collected money and participated in the Jump Rope for Heart. Students have been working on a unit of bowling in PE for two weeks. The fifth graders ended their unit of bowling by taking a field trip to Woodleaf Bowling Lanes in Salisbury on Friday, March 5.

Kindergarten students enjoyed a puppet show in the media center Monday. A representative from the Northwest AHEC brought an interesting presentation about careers in the health professions. Children saw a video and learned about the health professionals that take care of people who are hurt or sick. Each student received a coloring book featuring a healthy behaviors game. The weather has sparked their interest in taking nature walks to investigate the signs of spring that are appearing all around the school campus.

Students in Mrs. Stein's and Mrs. Seamon's class are completing teddy bear math week. Students had fun putting their bears in order from largest to smallest. They guessed how much their teddy bears weighed, how tall they were and how wide they were around their middles. Then, in math centers, they went to work weighing and measuring to see if their estimations were accurate. The children were pleased with the results. Bears were also used to sort, classify and graph according to color and other attributes.

Shady Grove Elementary

The following students have been chosen as students of the week: Zac Smith, Ryan Harrison, Tori Franklin, Kelly Clack, Justin Mallard, Jordan Boger, Renee Bryant, Gabby Macaione, Bo Walters, Davis Whitney, Isidro Aguero, Brooke Ziglar, Brea Correll, Ryan Dunn, Landon Whitaker, Matthew Wilkinson, Brett Dodson, Molly Fields, Britani Peterson, Taylor Moore, Kasey Alston, Ryan Trudeau, and Anthony Philpott.

PTA fundraisers are important. Send in General Mills box tops before March 26. Each box top is worth 10 cents and last fall the school raised $926.50. The top five students who collected the most box tops in the fall were Leah Gryder, Heather Mitchem, Harrison Weaver, Jessica Ritter, and Nick Peedin. The children in Ms. Hobson's third grade class won an ice cream party for collecting the most in the school. Another fundraiser is sponsored by Venezia's Italian Restaurant, where on Monday nights, a percentage goes to the school. Write the name of your child's teacher on the back of the card and drop it in the box. The PTA is sponsoring a competition through April 12 for the class with the most entries who will win a pizza party.

Kindergarteners in Ms. Martin and Ms. Burford's class have been studying dental health, community helpers, George Washington and Abe Lincoln. In conjunction with the continued study of community helpers, parents are encouraged to come share their career and job responsibilities. Olivia Sheets' mother conducted a tour of her workplace (Advance Post Office).

Ms. Rogers and Ms. Tester's first graders enjoyed a trip to Horizons in Salisbury. The boys and girls enjoyed learning about animals from local fields and forests. The children visited the planetarium and learned about the stars and planets. Ms. Minor and Ms. Cranfill's first grade class enjoyed viewing each room in the White House during computer lab. In math, the students have worked on problem solving with math riddles, reviewing plane geometric shapes, and practicing addition and subtraction.

All first grade classes will be reading some Dr. Seuss books this month in celebration of what would have been his 100th birthday.

Everyone enjoyed the recent PTA program with all of the second grade classes performing. The children wore red, white and blue and sang patriotic songs. Second graders on the jump rope and unicycle teams performed routines to patriotic music. Under the direction of the physical education staff of Ms. Umberger and Ms. Smith, the second graders showed their athletic ability and coordination during several synchronized performances.

Ms. Dixon and Ms. Walton's second grade class has been working on differentiating between fact and opinion. It can be a confusing concept to learn and parents are encouraged to work with their children to help them understand the differences. Ms. Spach's second graders started a unit called Discovering Our Past and discussed people traveling to America. In science, the class studied about measuring matter and learning about solids, liquids, and gases. The second graders in Ms. Kauff and Ms. Boswell's class read the book First Flight, a story about the Wright Brothers based around Kitty Hawk. In math, the children worked on lengths using inches and how to identify corners and congruent figures. In computer lab the boys and girls collected data and made a bar graph based on everyone's favorite food. Ms. Hill and Ms. Carter's second graders continue to work on number facts with two digit addition and subtraction, problem solving and place value. Also, students are working on tally tables and graphs in the classroom and in the computer lab.

Ms. Hendrix and Ms. Plyler's third graders read a tall tale written in drama form and acted out the play. In social studies, the children learned about the economy and making good money choices while learning vocabulary words such as income, profit, and expenses. The third graders in Ms. Ohr and Ms. Norman's class started learning about narrative writing and using a thinking map to prepare their first draft. In math the students have been learning about the concept of probability.

The fourth grade State Fair which will be held Saturday, March 22. The setup for State Fair is on Friday, March 21 at 1. All parents are encouraged to help with the and to bring your fourth grader and come to the fair.

Ms. Redmond's fourth graders studied about the many challenges the early colonists who lived on the North Carolina coast faced-unfair taxes, Indian attacks, pirates attacking from the sea and the struggle to settle the land. Also, North Carolina scrapbooks have only two letters left before completion. The fourth graders in Ms. Martin's class are building a lighthouse in class and when they study electrical circuits in science they will wire them for light. Students built airplanes giving them a hands-on experience with the scientific method of study and measurement.

North Davie Middle

Kelley Walton and Chase Macaione qualified for the state level of the Reader's Digest Word Power Challenge. The competition was cancelled due to weather, but a written test was completed and returned by email.

Jacob Dunn qualified for the state level of the National Geographic Bee. He will travel to Raleigh on April 2 for the competition.

Star scientists have been looking at the Earth and how the geology and life on earth has changed over time. They investigated various time periods through out Earth's 4 billion year history. Students are investigating earthquakes in North America.

In Social Studies, students have been working their way through the history of North Carolina, and are in the middle of the Civil War. Students have been learning about the Civil War in North Carolina and in the rest of the nation. Students have been researching areas of the Civil War such as medical practices, food, entertainment and various battles.

In Prime Time the Stars Team has completed its annual checkers tournament for the school competition and is beginning new "Interest Groups" this week. The service project for March will be the Davie County Humane Society.

The Stars Math students have been working on various topics. The algebra class has been applying fractions to real world problems along with looking at proportions and percents. The pre-algebra classes have been investigating situations using ratios, proportions, and percents. One class has even had to do some grocery shopping; taking a shopping list with items reduced by different percents and calculating the total bill. They will be busy in the coming months as they work through the world of geometry and graphing.

Stars language arts classes have covered a variety of literature, from the cases of Sherlock Holmes to the adventures of Civil War soldiers in the works of Ambrose Bierce. The Advanced Language Arts class is studying the work of William Shakespeare and his comedy "A Midsummer Night's Dream".

South Davie

The Adelante Class (bilingual education) is working on numerous projects as the year moves on. The focus of our class is English and math. The purpose of the program is to improve the student skills so that they could move into the regular classroom and have ESL support. Besides our main focus, we've been working on geography, with the goal of knowing the major countries of the world by the end of the year. Our great volunteer, Julie Whitaker, has led an incredible project with the book "Stony Fox." She lead the class in reading the book and they are now working in individual groups setting up the story line using different props. As you can tell, we are very busy especially since we acquired four new students. We still continue to strive for our main goal, which is to help non-English speaking students to continue to strive in our school system and be productive citizens in our community.

The Cruiser students completed their Davie High School registration process during February. As a part of this program led by Cathy Hughes, our guidance counselor, students took a trip to the Lexington campus of Davidson County Community College to explore possible educational and career options.

Ms. McClamrock's science students have completed a unit on the earth's natural resources and are currently studying the role of water in the earth's changing surface.

Mrs. Gaither's advanced and pre-algebra math classes have completed a study of linear equations including graphing these on the coordinate plane and problem solving applications. Her general math students have completed a study of geometry including making three-dimensional figures to study their surface area and volume.

Mrs. Brannan's communications classes have read "Flowers for Algernon," a science fiction story (on which the movie Charly was based). It was about a mentally handicapped man who undergoes experimental surgery in order to become a genius. They have also done a biography unit with stories of Harriet Tubman, Mark Twain and Maya Angelou. Some classes are beginning a poetry unit. All continue to work on test taking, writing and grammar skills.

Mr. Crenshaw's 8th grade social studies classes have just finished Black History Month projects. They are now studying World War II.

Cornatzer Elementary

Mrs. Smith's fifth grade class has been enjoying the snow days coupled with working extra hard on their schoolwork to prepare for the end-of-grade tests. In communications, students have just finished reading a story about a girl who excelled at school, but was not good at sports. She showed great courage and endurance and was able to conquer and be successful in a sport. Students tied this story into Cornatzer's character tract of courage and perseverance. The class is thoroughly enjoying its DARE classes and is learning a great deal from Officer Campbell. Students are preparing to write their essays, which are necessary to graduate from the program. In math, students continue to work hard on fractions, geometric solids and standard metric measures.

The developmental class of Mrs. Deadmon has been enjoying the winter season. They have had fun talking about snow and making cottonball snowmen, polar bears, paper plate snow scenes, snow angels and snowy pine trees. Some of their favorite circle time books about winter included The Mitten and Brown Bear, Brown Bear, What Do You See? The children made special booklets with colored sheets for each animal they read about. In February, the class enjoyed celebrating and studying about the presidents. They made pictures of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln to display in their hallway. The children especially enjoyed Valentine's Day and were delighted to receive so many cards and messages from their Cornatzer friends. Mrs. Deadmon's students were delighted to be invited to join in Valentine's Day celebrations with their friends in Mrs. Ancuta's Pre-K class.

March 1-5 was Dr. Seuss Anniversary Week. Students received a celebration cupcake March 2 in the cafeteria. Crazy Hat and Sock Day was celebrated March 5. Students learned about Dr. Seuss throughout the week and enjoyed his books. Mrs. Archer read the story "Wacky Wednesday" during the WCZE broadcast on Wednesday. The students also heard a Dr. Seuss style weather report that was created by Mrs. Hyland.

Cougars of the Week: Shawn Daniels, Crickett Hayes, Xavier Rodriguez, Savanna Thomas, Casey Wyatt, Karina Ramirez, Josh Barney, Yesenia Cristobal, Ashley Ibarra, Andrea Easter, Kelley Howard, Rubi Mendoza-Garcia, Stephen Dalton, Melia Sheets.

Cougars of the Month, February: Drue Parker, Anitria McLelland, Samantha Allred, Roberto Hernandez, Erika Baltazar, Zenith Moore, Morgan Smith, Michaela Draughan, Jose Chapa-Teran, Tanner Junker, Zachary Robertson, Catherine Joyce, Chris Gobble, Elizabeth Howard, Daniel Martinez, Dennis Argueta, Denise Ramirez, Bethany Bradshaw, Walter Varna, Erin Deadmon, Logan Sheets.

Reminder to parents: Tuesday, March 16, 23, 31 - Venezia Night; Early Release Day - Thursday, March 11; No School - Friday, March 12; Snow Makeup Days - Monday, March 15, Friday, April 9, Monday-Thursday, May 24-27.

Central Davie

Developmental Day I Student of the Month: Erin Cartner. February is gone and March is in. We are talking about March coming in like a lion and going out like a lamb. We have been busy making kites and lions and lambs. It was nice enough for us to go outside and fly our kites. They enjoyed going outside. The class talked about wind. We are looking forward to spring.

Developmental Day II students have spent as much time as possible outside. The playground was a new learning center. The rice table and easel were moved outside. We will add more items to our outdoor fun in weeks to come. A new display has been completed inside our classroom and now hangs on our wall. Every child completed a quilt square to form our classroom quilt. It is a very special piece of art and we are all proud of it.

Mocksville Elementary

The kindergartners in Mrs. Kaye Vandiver and Miss Jodi Walker's class have had a lot of fun in the snow lately, and this fun has helped the youngsters understand more about winter weather and how it affects people and animals. Now we are concentrating on other types of weather as we approach the spring season. The children have been conducting various science experiments, enjoying stories and doing a lot of art projects about different types of weather. And very soon, the leprechaun will help us learn more about rainbows, how they are made, and what is hidden there.

Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Knight's first graders just finished learning about their five senses. To end the week, the students made cute Mr. Potato Heads which displayed the five senses. They also did a great job of writing "senses" poems about spring. Forget winter, we are ready for spring. The students have also enjoyed learning about proper dental hygiene and nutrition.

In math, the students have been shopping at Bell-Mart. While purchasing different toys, the girls and boys practiced adding dimes and pennies with double-digit numbers.

Mrs. Flynn and Mrs. Cook's first graders are counting down the days until spring...less than 30 to go. We have been studying about our country and learning what it takes to be a president. Eight presidents were named James, and four were named William. We love our country and have enjoyed learning about its symbols...our favorite was the Statue of Liberty.

Mrs. Starnes and Ms. Zoubeck's second graders completed some things this week. They had their last day of swimming at the YMCA on Tuesday. They are really going to miss walking over on Tuesdays for these fun and informative lessons. On Friday, students said good-bye to the two chicks that hatched on Monday. The class really enjoyed learning about their life cycles, holding them, and hearing Chatterbox and Chirpy talk daily. The class is looking forward to our field trip to Horizons during our short week next week.

Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Pruitt's class, in cooperation with the 4H Club, has been busy raising chicken eggs. We have 21 eggs, and they live in a nice warm incubator. The children turn the eggs three times a day, just like the mom would. Our eggs will hatch in 21 days, and we will keep them for three days. We are learning the life cycle of our chicks and our anxiously waiting for them to be born.

Mrs. Strickland's third grade class is getting ready to take the writing test and mock end-of-grade tests. We are preparing for the real end-of-grade which will be in May. Also, we have finished reading a biography about Jackie Robinson and other African American baseball players. Our class has been working on maps and identifying the different types.

The fifth grade chorus joined with other students from art, P.E., English, media and AIG to present "Children are the Hope of the World" a the February PTA meeting. From the urban streets and farmlands of America, through Africa, France, India, Japan and Mexico, the performers took the audience on a cultural spin around the globe. With music, art, dance and skits, we explored other countries, and ended our journey back in the "Heart of America." All the students involved did a wonderful job and should be very proud of their performance.

Mrs. Wilson's kindergarten and first grade music students have been tapping and clapping to the books, Crocodile Beat and Possum Came-a- Knockin. Using instruments and their own bodies, they turned the books into a musical experience.

Are the beats grouped in 2's or 3's? Ask any second or third grader, and they will tell you how the music moves. If you're lucky, maybe they will show you.

The fourth graders have taken a trip down the yellow brick road. Using songs from "The Wizard of Oz," they sang, played and listened to steps, leaps and repeats in their study of melodic direction.

Fifth grade music students are in the middle of a unit on choral singing. Following a musical score, staggered breathing, and using a clear singing tone are just a few of the ideas they are practicing. In March, they will sing some of the songs they have practiced with other students around the world when they join the World's Largest Concert, a celebration of Music in Our Schools Month.

Appliance Showroom Opens In Advance

G&B Energy opened a 2,000 square-foot gas appliance showroom March 1 at 1101 N.C. 801 N., Advance.

The move allows G&B to expand product line and provide a more central location for customers. The company sells and installs propane and natural gas appliances, propane delivery, heating oil, K-1 kerosene, above ground or underground tanks, a gas piping service and free estimates.

"Customer satisfaction and an increased service area were driving factors in the decision to add an additional showroom in the Greater Winston-Salem market," said Kirk Bailey, vice president of sales and marketing.

Make A Profit From Grassland Operations

During the late winter season, grassland is producing limited growth and most livestock producers are still feeding hay.

But now is a good time to do a few simple practices that could have a major impact on the profitability of your operation, said Phil Rucker, Cooperative Extension agent.

Apply fertilizer and lime to produce the most cost effective growth. A soil test is the best tool to determine the amount and formulation of fertilizer and lime needed for your specific crop. If you have not taken a soil sample, contact the Davie Extension Center for basic recommendations and directions. Without a soil test, grasses can be shortchanged and the yield is less than expected. You could also apply more than is needed resulting in unnecessary spending that reduces profit potential.

The goal is to provide the proper fertilizer, in the proper amounts that will provide optimum growth of the grass.

Control buttercup and thistle. These weeds are becoming a problem in Davie County as well as across the state.

"The good news is they are easy to control,"Rucker said.

Seed clovers into pastures. Adding clovers can help in numerous ways. They decrease the nitrogen fertilizer requirement. They improve the protein and energy content of the forage. And some clovers will lengthen the grazing season for pastures.

"With a few management practices, pastures and haylands can be very productive, providing abundant nutritious forages to our livestock," Rucker said. "Isn't that what we all want?"

Kindergarten Screening Next Week At C. Davie

Davie County Schools Preschool Services will coordinate kindergarten screenings at the Central Davie Education Center, Campbell Road, Mocksville, March 18, 19 and 20 for all children entering kindergarten.

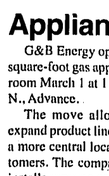
Children turning 5 on or before Oct. 16 are eligible to attend kindergarten in the fall. Each family should register their child at their home school and call Central Davie to register for kindergarten screening.

The home school will have each family complete registration forms, confirm Social Security identification, and review original birth certificates, proof of residency in Davie County, and vaccination shot records.

For more information about your child entering the public school system, call Peggy D. Nuckolls, preschool coordinator, at 751-7704.

Mooney Vice Chair Of Action Group

Coner P. Mooney, a Davidson College sophomore from Advance, has been elected vice chair for the college's United community Action community service organization by the student body.



Mooney

He is the son of Peter and Danielle Mooney of Burton Road, and is a 2002 graduate of Westchester Academy.

United Community Action at Davidson is an umbrella organization for coordination of about two dozen separate community service initiatives. The United Community Action vice chair attends all Council on Campus and Religious Life meetings as the service representative.

He works as a partner to the chair when selecting, training and maintaining the support of new coordinators, and works closely with service officers to maintain the goals and standards set forth by Davidson College.

The chair and vice chair conduct interviews to select new coordinators for all new positions, plan training and facilitate the development of these coordinators.

Coner is an English and Spanish major. He holds a Bonner Scholarship for community service, and serves as co-chair of the student Habitat for Humanity volunteer effort. Coner tutors children enrolled in the Ada Jenkins Community Center after school program, and the YMCA English as a Second Language program.

He participates in the Campus Outreach religious organization, as well as a Davidson United Methodist Church Hope Team. Conor is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, and serves as president of the club-level tennis team.

Cooleemee Briefs

Mayor Authorized For Condemnations

Following an executive session during the regular Feb. 17 town board meeting, the board voted to give Mayor John Chandler the authority to execute all documents necessary to resolve the issues pending with the condemnation of 6.92 acres of land in Rowan County. He would be able to do so after documents were reviewed and approved by town attorney Brinn Williams.

Guard At Cooleemee Elementary

The board approved allowing Police Chief Joey Reynolds to hire a part-time school crossing guard.

Scholarship Committee Formed

PUBLIC NOTICES

NORTH CAROLINA
DAVIE COUNTY
BID NOTICE

Davie County is seeking bids for the Congregate and Home Delivered Meals Program for older adults funding under the Older Americans Act of 1965, as amended, and the Home and Community Care Block grant. This nutrition program will operate for a period of 12 months - July 1, 2004 - June 30, 2005. This will be a three-year contract, with the option to review for 12 months at a time, contingent upon the previous year's service satisfaction.

Bids to cater this nutrition program are being solicited for the congregate and/or home delivered meals operated by Davie County Senior Services.

Sealed bid proposals must be submitted to the Davie County Manager's Office, 123 South Main Street, Mocksville, North Carolina 27028 by 2:00 p.m. Monday, March 29, 2004 at which time the bids will be opened. A mandatory Bidder's conference will be held on Monday, March 15, 2004 at 2:00 p.m. at Davie County Senior Services, located at 622 North Main Street, Mocksville, North Carolina.

Davie County reserves the right to request additional information from the bidding agency, to accept or reject any or all bid proposals, in whole or in part, to waive irregularities not affecting substantial rights of the bidding agency, and to award contract(s) which in the opinion of the grantor, best services the interest of the program.

Details, including specifications, may be obtained beginning Monday, March 1, 2004 between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, by contacting Davie County Senior Services, 622 North Main Street, Mocksville, North Carolina 27028, (336) 751-0811.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
Amendment to Economic Incentive Investment, Avgol America, Inc.

TAKE NOTICE THAT a Public Hearing will be held before the Board of Commissioners of Davie County at 7:00 p.m., Monday, March 15, 2004, in the Commissioners' Room of the Davie County Administration Building, 123 S. Main Street, Mocksville, North Carolina, pursuant to the provisions of NCGS §158-7.1 to consider appropriations for the purpose of aiding and encouraging industrial enterprises. The request is to amend and reduce a previously made and approved economic development agreement between the County of David, and Avgol America, Inc., or a subsidiary thereof (as successor to Uniti, Inc.).

TAKE FURTHER NOTICE, that the appropriations being considered are to the property described in Book 375, Page 506, of the Davie County Registry now owned by Avgol America, Inc. at an approximate total economic incentive investment of $112,500.00 for the County instead of the previously approved $180,000.00 economic incentive investment. The economic incentive investment will be conditioned and dependent upon he construction and completion by Avgol America, Inc. of a new 100,000 square foot Class A industrial facility addition to its existing plant having a cost of at least $25,000,000 and the addition of approximately 25 new jobs. The source of the funds will be from general revenues. It is expected that the investment will be returned to the County in tax revenue derived from the project within one (1) year.

TAKE FURTHER NOTICE, that the benefits to the public expected to be derived from the facility built as a result of the economic development incentives include: the enhancement of tax base of the county and the town and the anticipated creation of approximately 25 jobs.

Pinebrook's Odyssey Of The Mind Team Wins Competition

Pinebrook Elementary's team took first place on Saturday, March 6 for their problem category in the Division I level at the Northern Region Odyssey of the Mind tournament in Greensboro.

The win over teams in 17 county regions sends Pinebrook to the state finals in Boone on Saturday, April 16. It was the first competition in Odyssey of the Mind for the third, fourth, and fifth graders.

The team's day began with an early morning performance of the long-term problem solution they created over the past several months. Afterwards, they got to relax for a short time and watch some of the other teams perform.

Shortly after lunch the students were back to work on a spontaneous portion that challenged their abilities to quickly work together as a team in solving a new problem.

Later that afternoon, over 90 teams and their families enjoyed music and entertainment followed by the awards ceremony.

Prior to announcing the team awards, team member Matthew Ellis received the OMER award for outstanding individual performance in the tournament.

It was an exciting time. The first place awards were given last so teams had to wait until the end to learn who had won. Pinebrook's team finished their day receiving first place medals and will move on to the state finals.

Wall Completes Realtors Course

Janet Masters Wall in the Davie Branch of Coldwell Banker Triad Realtors recently earned the nationally recognized E-PRO certification, currently held by less than one percent of real estate professionals nationwide.

E-Pro is the official technology certification program of the National Association of Realtors. The program instructs participants in the professional use of e-mail, the development of an interactive Web site, and the use of online research and marketing tools.

Wall has been associated with Coldwell Banker Triad Realtors since its beginning in 1997 and has been in the real estate business for 10 years. A consistent multi-million dollar producer, she is a graduate of the Realtors Institute (GRI), a certified new home specialist, holds an accredited buyers agent certification, and is a Cendant Mobility certified relocation specialist.

Call her at the Davie Branch at 998-1182 or visit her website at www.cbtriad.com/janet.

Sheriff's Department To Owe Back Pay

Changes Made To Methods Of Keeping Time

Employees of the Davie County Sheriff's Department could be receiving some back pay soon.

How much is yet to be determined.

Sheriff Allen Whitaker said last week that he is cooperating with investigators from the N.C. Department of Labor, who have been looking into discrepancies in officer's time sheets and communication logs of their time worked.

While the department still won't pay officers for traveling to and from work, officers will no longer check on via radio with communications until they arrive at the office unless there is an emergency or they are en route to a call, Whitaker said.

"They (the labor board) agree we don't pay travel time to and from work," Whitaker said. "I think we're going to be all right. I think we will owe employees some money ...I don't know how much."

Pay periods will be recorded in 15-minute increments. For instance, if an officer checks on at 7 minutes before noon, his pay period will start at noon. If they check on at 8 minutes before noon, it would start at 11:45 a.m.

The labor department will likely be back to audit in 6-8 months to be sure they are in compliance, he said.

Chief Deputy Mark Howell is now reviewing all time sheets, comparing them to radio logs. No changes or corrections will be made without the officer's knowledge and signature, Whitaker said.

"We've had corrective action. want to be in compliance."

US 64 Part Of Major Corridor Planning

Anyone who lives on or who has ever driven on U.S. 64 between I-40 and the Davidson County line knows it.

Traffic can be dangerous.

County Commissioner Chairman Richard Poindexter knows it, and estimates that one of every six vehicles on that stretch of highway is a big truck.

U.S. 64 is part of a new strategic corridors study being implemented by the N.C. Department of Transportation, a corridor that stretches from Raleigh to I-77 in Statesville.

The study also includes N.C. 49, which travels from Raleigh to Charlotte, and includes 200 miles of roadway.

The goal, according to David Wasserman, project manager, is to improve the transportation network while maintaining local objectives.

"U.S. 64 and N.C. 49 are distinctive in character, serving as a 'Main Line' as well as a 'Main Street'. Preserving, protecting and improving the essence of the corridor while planning for future mobility is central to the study."

DOT officials have interviewed motorists using the highways, and is working with local governments and groups. By the end of the year, it hopes to identify corridor alternatives and make public presentations.

A Mocksville bypass on U.S. 64 East has already been approved by the DOT, although a specific route has not been announced.

Fish Fry Friday

A fish fry sponsored by the Knights of Columbus will be held Friday, March 19 from 4-7 p.m. at St. Francis of Assisi Church, Yadkinville Road, Mocksville.

The $6 plate will include fried flounder, cole slaw, hushpuppies, potato salad and pound cake. Eat-in and take-out plates will be available.

County Working With Developer At Hickory Hill

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

After a brief presentation a Monday's county commissioners meeting on the proposed Hickory Hill rezoning request more than a dozen people in attendance quietly left after the issue was turned over to staff for further review.

Burnham Limited Partnership has applied to rezone approximately 75 acres within Hickory Hill Country Club, off the end of Pine Valley Road and the east side of Cornatzer Road, from Residential (R-20) to Residential Suburban Special Use (R-12-S) for a planned unit development consisting of 40 two-unit attached homes and 90 detached patio home.

After the planning board recommended the rezoning request last month in a 3-2 vote it was being presented for approval by commissioners.

"This is a special use request," Davie Planning Director John Gallimore told commissioners, "this board can place conditions."

Those conditions can be the number of homes built, square footage of the homes, and access to the development.

Gallimore addressed the fact that the proposed development will be in Hickory Hill's residential area and there have been a number of concerns about traffic.

Commissioner Ken White asked Gallimore if the board could impose architectural conditions on the developer.

Gallimore told White few counties put architectural conditions on developers, unless the petitioner agrees or volunteers to build a certain type of home.

Gallimore said sometimes in a special use rezoning a permit is issued, and once rezoning is approved developers come back and present a design for approval. But most developers will not spend money for architectural design until they receive rezoning approval.

"If the developer isn't willing to spend money to get a design done how can this board be asked to approve?" Chairman Richard Poindexter asked.

Advance Bath Prank Makes National News

Sitting in church Sunday in Charlotte, the woman next to me discovered I was a visitor.

Trying to be friendly to the lost and unwashed, she asked where I was from.

"Advance, North Carolina."

She digested that information and returned a puzzled look.

Where is that?

"Did you see Jay Leno the other night?" I asked.

Advance is where boys took a bath in the sink at Wendy's. You may have read or heard something about that.

Indeed she had.

So had a little old woman sitting in front of me, who nodded her head rapidly. She darted her eyes around enough to get a glimpse of a real Advancian.

"That's where I'm from," I said with a measure of pride. I wanted to brag that I am a former Advance parade grand marshal, but that was more information than I could relate before the next hymn.

I took the older boys to see their grandparents Sunday. We went with them to church, Myers Park United Methodist Church. It is huge — capacity crowds for three services Sunday morning.

A very accomplished violinist performed, impressing me mightily.

I asked my pew neighbor if the violinist was a church member, and she told me he was.

"We don't have that back in Advance," I told her.

"We don't have a Wendy's like yours," she quipped.

It has been that kind of week.

"AD-vance" was mispronounced across America on Wednesday. Every newspaper, every radio talk jock, even comedian Jay Leno picked up the story about two boys taking a prank bath in a restaurant sink. And taking pictures of themselves.

Maybe it was a slow news day. Maybe every editor in America was looking for a little humor on a humorless day. The Wendy's story got national play.

The Enterprise-Record played the story on Page 7 — without humorous commentary.

No crime committed. Nobody sick. Nobody hurt. Just a dumb prank that prompted a health department inspection and visit by deputies.

The real story about Wendy's was the media frenzy. My internet search found scores of newspaper, TV, internet blogs and even porn websites posting the Associated Press version of the story. Court TV.com, the Houston Chronicle. Boston Globe, Fox News and many more. Most of the newspapers included the story under a listing of weird news of the day.

Some juiced up the headline: "Rub-a-dub-grub," said the Dayton Daily News. "Hygiene Hijinks," said another. "Wendy's Sink Jacuzzi." "Bath time at fast food restaurant." "Splish, Splash."

Some websites, including WXII, hosted a poll about the story. The poll showed 38,162 had voted — 67 percent of the total — that they would be less likely to eat there.

Could they even find it?

Not even Shakespeare could have imagined the scope of this much ado about nothing.

Across the street, barber Larry Campbell said he had to feel sorry for the owners of the Wendy's franchise restaurant. He ate there for lunch that day as his vote of confidence. "People will forget and forgive," he predicted.

At the Shell station, Eddie Conner said it was time to let the issue drop. "Everybody's picked on them enough. They've had a rough week."

Owned by Carlisle Co. of Greensboro, the store was mighty quiet on Thursday and Friday. Company brass came and went. Nobody wanted to say anything. Damage control — more than French fries — was the order of the day.

The boys had been fired. The restaurant was spotless. End of story.

This week, cars and eaters are back.

But for a crazy day, "Ad-VANCE" was talked about across America, and we were the butt of a lot of jokes.

Letter On Catholicism Unnecessary, Inaccurate

To the editor:

I picked up my family's copy of the paper and read through the letters to the editor as I sporadically do from time to time. I fell upon the piece written by Swede Jurgensen on Catholicism. While I agree that the child molestation is an atrocity and that the offenders should be punished harshly and swiftly, I'm not quite sure what the letter was attempting to accomplish. It seemed no more than a slam on the Catholic Church. And a proposal for what, I'm not quite sure .. .a ban on the denomination? (Which is absolutely ludicrous and uncalled for.)

The letter was vague, but spoke of the molestation and brainwashing. I was jolted and disturbed that the letter would be printed in this day and age, it had no valid point other than to bash on the denomination. It is simple ignorance to lump the entire history of clergy into the scum bags the media chooses to highlight for ratings, just as it would be ignorant to lump every black male as a criminal because of those portrayed in the press or every white collar employee an embezzler, swindler, or thief.

The media will put it's spin on anything it can and has. Many Priests are doing great things everywhere, but they do not choose to show that. I have had the good fortune to know many great men in the profession, men who are role models and completely innocent of this scandal, men of honor and integrity such as Father Draper of St. Francis of Assisi in Mocksville, where I have grown up Catholic. It's a shame that for every one step we take forward, we are shoved back two steps in the minds of people, despite so many great things that the church does.

The letter was unnecessary, unappreciated, disrespectful, and inaccurate.

South Davie Band Just As Worthy Of Praise

To the editor:

I completely agree with you concerning the band at North Davie. However, please note that the South Davie Middle School band is wonderful, also. Mrs. Kathy Ferebee has done a marvelous job with her students for many years and deserves much praise and many pats on the back. Her music program has done much to enrich our school family. Her love of music and her encouragement of her students has done more than furnish students for Davie High. She quite probably has been responsible for some students staying in school and going on to do well in other areas of education. So, please give equal time. Come and hear our students sometime.

It's Wake-Up Time: Start Praying For The Upcoming Elections

To the editor:

I most certainly want to commend Diane Robertson of Mocksville on her letter to the editor dated March 11, titled "President Bush Definitely Not The Worst In History". Believe it or not voters, he's one of the best.

Ms. Robertson wrote an excellent and true article as well as most enlightening (here is some history for you all), and it should be enlightening to those who are displeased with our blessed and chosen president chosen by our Almighty God who is in total control of all things in the world. In the past election, the people did not choose the president - our Father put George Bush in office and not Al Gore. Our president has confessed his faith in Christ Jesus on the Christian radio station FM 106.9, in the newspapers and on television with no shame for his Savior and Redeemer.

People have a tendency to forget that God is in control and that His biblical standards are a necessity for this nation and have priority over any president put in office as far as what they may feel, think or do. Too many people vote according to their political affiliation and not by God's standards. Too many people say "I'm a staunch Democrat" because that's how my family voted and/or "I'm a staunch Republican" because of their families voting record. Our Father knows and does what is best for His nation and puts in the best person who will lead and run this nation according to His biblical standards. Unfortunately, not all presidents chosen by the people, not God, have followed biblical standards but man's standards. Look at the record.

Try to remember that this nation was founded under God and He is displeased with the evil in this nation/world: This nation has been desensitized and says "whatever feels good, do it"; accepting marriages between man and man - woman and woman (come on now - let's wake up); liberal life-styles; Hollywood now sets the example for our young teens and adults; a governor in California (Arnold Schwarzenegger - The Terminator) who does not even know what he's talking about and was only elected because of his family connections with the Kennedys and their fortune.

Wake up people, money talks. Morals have gone out the window and too many people want their so-called rights or else.

I commend President Bush for taking a stand against terrorism, gay marriages, coming against Iraq and it's mentally sick and evil Saddam Hussein and I most definitely agree with all that Ms. Robertson wrote. Too many of the Democrats running for president and now, unfortunately, it's John Kerry from Massachusetts, do not want to give their comments on gay marriages; they say leave it up to the state and not the people. Wrong. At least President Bush is speaking out and is taking action about keeping the sanctity of the marriage between man and woman (this is scriptural). It is evident that some people are not aware of that fact, especially the liberal Rosie O'Donnell and her lesbian wife. This person, or whatever, made the comment on television that she hated what our president said about gay marriages and got married only to defy the president's statement made on television about keeping the sanctity of marriages between man and woman only.

Worst president in history? Definitely not so. You could ask yourself why Clinton and Gore did nothing against terrorism and Saddam Hussein of Iraq, knowing exactly what was going on in Iraq and the evil Osama bin Laden and so forth.

This is wake-up time. Check your history and Bible. Start praying for the upcoming election and let Him lead you as to how to vote.

Slow Down For Horses Near Roads

To the editor:

When will people learn horses are prey animals, they spook very easily, especially when they are only 22 months old.

My husband had our young filly out on our front lawn grazing March 11 when someone drove by and honked his horn. The filly ran right over him knocking him down trying to get away from this monster. The car behind the one which honked, saw what happened and stopped to see if my husband was alright. He wasn't. He ended up with four stitches in his chin and a swollen foot and bruise on his leg where the filly stepped on him as she went over him.

Please people, when you see someone riding a horse on the side of the road, (since most of our trails are disappearing to development) slow down and do not honk. Even supposedly bombproof horses can, and will, spook. This filly is only 750 pounds, and look what she did to my husband. Imagine what a 1,000 pound horse can do if it spooks. Just remember they could damage your car, too. They are unpredictable when they spook.

To the man who stopped to help my husband find his glasses and see if he was all right, thank you so much.

Support Voter Paper Trail

To the editor:

Is there anything more sacred to Americans than the right to vote - even when they do not exercise that right?

The right to vote is sacred whether you are a Republican, Democrat, Green, Independent, conservative or liberal because that vote gives expression to your beliefs. For all these many years we have voted by our own hand and have deposited those ballots ourselves. Recounts were done, when needed and however tediously, by hand with tangible ballots.

Now, because of the fiasco in Florida in 2000, we have been upgraded to electronic voting. Technology is fine, to a point, but anyone who has or uses a computer knows the unreliability of the machines. In order to maintain the integrity of the voting process, a verifiable paper trail must accompany each and every vote.

You demand that your bank confirms your deposits with paper receipts because if one of your deposits is eliminated from your account, you have that paper to confirm that you indeed gave them your money to place in your account. I doubt that anyone of us would just shrug and walk away from regaining their hard-earned money. We keep our business records for at least seven years to have proof of paying our taxes and proof of all our other transactions. The law demands written proof of transactions - no one's word is legal proof against documentation in a dispute.

It is the same with your vote. Our freedom is hard-earned and when we cast a ballot, we have a right to see it verified. Unfortunately, that right to a secure vote is not guaranteed. There are two bills in Congress to remedy that oversight. HR 2239 would require that all voting machines produce a voter-verified paper trail.

As of March 4, our congressman, Mr. Richard Burr, would not support this bill; and as of March 8, Sen. Elizabeth Dole was undecided; and Sen. John Edwards is co-sponsoring a separate bill.

How can any American not support a bill that guarantees the sanctity of our individual vote? This is not the issue of any party; rather, it is an issue of every American.

I ask each of you to fight for your freedom and your right to vote and call our congressman and senators and demand that they vote to keep our votes verifiable. You can call Congress toll free: 1-800-839-5276. Tell them you want your vote to be protected with a paper trail, tell them that you want them to support HR 2239.

Difficult To Understand

To the editor:

Is the Davie County court being overwhelmed by the population increase? Latest U.S. census figures show an increase of one person every 12 seconds. Davie County has seen a much faster increase of population due to immigration from other states and countries, more than most other areas of the U.S.,and no wonder. It is a beautiful place to be in many ways.

Now that we have returned to trickle down economy, local governments all over the country are feeling the financial pinch in many ways. Recent events in the Advance area illustrate the need for more thorough law enforcement.

The whole world knows about the bathing incident in the restaurant sink. It was found not to be illegal in Davie County. This is perfectly understandable; after all, who would have ever thought to pass a law banning such an act. However, the health department's decision that it posed no problem is a bit harder to understand.

The Feb.27 Oak Valley involving theft, dragging the victim with an auto and leaving the scene is harder to understand. That peaceful neighborhood will never be the same after this terrorist-type attack. The police report stated that the dragging was not a crime because the driver (when called back to the scene, minus snow board and person who ran off with it) stated that she meant no harm. That's hard to believe as the crowd of people yelled for her to stop and the passengers in the car screamed for the victim to let go of the door handle where they could easily see his glove was stuck. After some 100 feet of dragging and his head was about to become entangled by the rear wheel, his hand pulled free. As for the person who disappeared with the snow board, police report (no crime committed because driver stated that perpetrator was a minor under 16). The victim suffered the trauma, has doctor bills, clothes shredded to bits and is out an expensive snow board.

What kind of a message was this for the witness and the perpetrators? One can not help but believe if it had been a purse containing several hundreds of dollars in cash (equal to the loss to victim) that was stolen and the vicim's dog had gone to retrieve it, became entangled in the door and was dragged as was the young lad, charges would have been filed. Whether it be political connections or the lack of funding for the court system,it behooves all of us to do our part in preserving the peace and tranquility of this great county.

Human Interest Stories Appreciated

To the editor:

I an writing in regards to one of the articles in your paper. I love the human interest stories written by Kathy Chaffin, and I haven't seen them in the paper the past few weeks. I am relatively new to Mocksville (six years), and do not know a lot of people who live here. I truly enjoyed reading the stories written by Kathy. It made me feel like I actually knew the people she was writing about. Her stories are uplifting and she never had anything bad to say about anyone. When 90 percent of our headlines contain death and destruction, I was always happy to leaf through the pages until I got to her story, usually the first thing I read, and when I was too busy to sit down and read the whole paper right then, it was the only thing I read. Please tell me she is just on vacation and not ill or has quit. How long until she is back in print?

Thanks For Reminder, Mr. Jurgensen

To the editor:

First, I want to thank you for the wonderful article about the North Davie band. It was so wonderfully true. Next, I want to thank Swede Jurgensen. As a Catholic, I want to thank you for reminding us of the cross we have been given to bear. Sometimes we put it aside and with it our many opportunities for the blessings that come from taking it up. Jesus tells to take up our cross and follow Him.

As He carried the weight of our sins, yours and mine, Mr. Jurgensen, He fell; and, while down, the opportunists would slide in to kick, revile and rebuke Him. As Catholics, we have been asked to bear the cross weighed with our sins and the sins of our brothers. We may try to turn from the burden we've been called to bear; but for you and others like you, Mr. Jurgensen, we would miss the opportunity to share in Christ's humiliation on His walk. Our faith is only strengthened by our trials; and, our rebukers only draw us closer to our Lord. Thank you, Mr. Jurgensen, for the reminder. But, be wary, sir, for it is written "Judge not lest you be judged. For in the way you judge, you will be judged ..." Matthew 7:1-2.

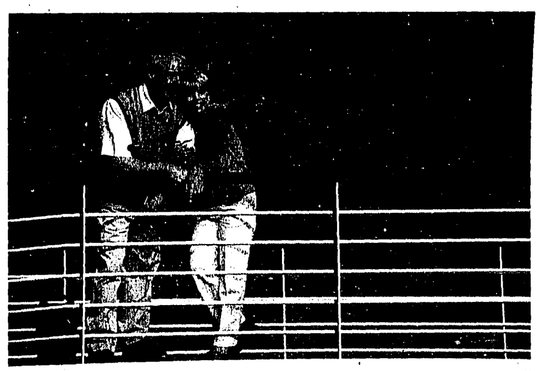
WHO SAYS YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU?



FREE USE OF OUR LIGHTWEIGHT PORTABLE OXYGEN CONCENTRATOR FOR YOUR VACATION.

Vacations are always a problem for people dependent on oxygen. Because they either have to take a huge concentrator with them or make arrangements to have one available at the destination.

Not any more. Now there's a portable oxygen concentrator called LifeStyle that you can take with you wherever you go. So while you're having fun, it will be making and providing the oxygen you need. And here's the best news: If you're a Rowan Medical oxygen customer, you can borrow one from us. At no charge.

The unit measures about 7 inches x 16 inches, and operates on both AC and DC power (including your car's cigarette lighter), and a rechargeable battery pack. You can wear it with a shoulder strap or carry it along in a convenient cart.

So if you're one of our oxygen customers and planning to take a trip, call us at 1-800-347-0151 to make arrangements for taking LifeStyle with you. If you're not one of our customers, let us show you how easy it is to become one.

You don't have to buy the new LifeStyle concentrator; you don't even have to rent it. For as long as you're on vacation it's as free as the air you breathe.

Autumn Care administrator Ed Perrun with Janet Hogue, one of the North Carolina Health Care Association's "Fabulous 50."

Janet Hogue In 'Fabulous 50'

Janet Hogue, certified nursing assistant, received the North Carolina Health Care Association's Fabulous 50 award.

This event provides the opportunity to acknowledge 50 front-line unlicensed personnel who have demonstrated outstanding achievements in the long-term health care profession.

The Fabulous 50 awards program honors individuals who are the backbone of the facilities because of the care they provide residents.

A panel of judges from the education and programs committee selected 10 nominees from the thousands submitted. One was selected from each of 10 North Carolina districts.

Each was honored at a dinner in their district, Hogue at a banquet at Rock Barn Country Club in Conover on Jan. 12.

Hogue was nominated by Autumn Care of Mocksville, where she has been employed since 1990. The nomination described her as dependable, flexible, pleasant, a team player and role model for all CNAs.

Hogue is a mentor to new employees.

Eight Cited For Underage Drinking

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Eight teens at a party were cited for underage drinking and more charges are pending as the investigation continues.

According to Davie Sheriff's Office Chief of Enforcement Lt. J.W. Phipps, deputies were dispatched to 160 Oakmont Court, Advance, Sunday at midnight.

A call of a fight in progress had been received and when deputies arrived at the Oak Valley home they found a large gathering of young people. Deputy Robert Jackson estimated 100 people, according an investigation report he filed.

Most ran when the deputies arrived, and a large number of alcohol containers and beer bottles were found at the home. According to Phipps, no illegal drugs were found.

The person in charge of the party told deputies "she wanted to have a small party but it got out of hand", Phipps reported. The girl's parent was on vacation and was not home at the time.

The girl's name is being withheld due to the pending charges, said Phipps.

The following individuals were given a citation March 14 for consuming alcohol while under 21 years of age and released to their parents: Joshua Stephen Cookson of 236 Cookson Lane, Mocksville; Brandon Michael O'Brien of 222 Lakewood Drive, Mocksville; Colt Brandon Stanley of 120 Monarch Court, Advance; Houska Cathryn Elizabeth of Clemmons; Lisa Marie Baker of Clemmons; Emeredith Elise Lackey of Lewisville; Katherine Marie Barnes of Winston-Salem; and Christine Ross Doolittle of Lewisville.

Foundation Has Options For Charitable Giving

What types of gifts can be given through The Community Foundation of Davie County?

To offer personalized service, the foundation offers a variety of giving methods tailored to the unique situations of community donors. Each individual, family, or organization we work with has unique charitable interests - and unique financial circumstances.

"We help you make the most of both, so you receive the greatest return on your community investment," said Jane Simpson, president.

Outright Gift. You can make a gift of cash, stocks, bonds, real estate, or other assets. Your gift qualifies for maximum charitable benefit under state and federal law. Gifts may be made anonymously, to establish your own fund, or to benefit the community unrestricted or community scholarship fund.

General community funds may serve county philanthropists for memorials or honorariums in the name of a special person. Gifts of real estate and unique assets must be pre-approved by the foundation board of directors.

Bequest. A bequest is a simple way to make a lasting gift to the community. You can designate a dollar gift or a portion of your estate to your community foundation and, in some cases, receive a substantial reduction in federal gift and estate taxes. Bequests may be made to establish a special named fund, becoming your personal legacy of giving, or to benefit the community unrestricted or scholarship fund.

If every adult in Davie County made a $1,000 bequest to benefit the community, the endowment would grow to more than $27 million in the next 60 years.

Charitable Remainder Trust. This allows you to receive income for the rest of your life, knowing that whatever remains will benefit your community. You can place cash or property in a trust that pays an annual income to you (or another named beneficiary) for life. After your death, the remainder of the trust transfers to your community foundation, and is placed in a charitable fund you've selected. You receive income tax benefits the year you establish your trust.

Charitable Lead Trust. This helps you build a charitable fund with your community foundation during the trust's term. You can place cash or property in a trust that pays a fixed amount to your community foundation for the number of years you select. When the trust terminates, the assets held by the trust are transferred to the beneficiaries you name. In some cases, you receive a substantial reduction in federal gift and estate taxes.

"The Community Foundation of Davie County is happy to meet with community members to answer questions or to discuss the various giving methods," Simpson said.

County Negotiating With Hickory Hill Developers

commissioners the planning board had carefully looked at the issue of a board imposing conditions. "There is a limit what this board can impose on a developer," he said.

Poindexter asked if the board approved the rezoning request as it is written was there anything to stop Burnfam from building a high-rise.

Price said the underlying zoning conditions would not allow that.

Gallimore suggested imposing a height limit on the buildings as a way to prevent any such occurrence.

"All of these questions could be averted if the developer presented a plan," Poindexter said.

White pointed out the people in attendance and their concern about the proposed development. "We have two choices, we can simply not agree to rezone or we let Burnfam sit down with our staff and discuss the concerns and issues."

"I recommend the staff sit down and distill some of those issues in a format where we can get a better idea," White said.

The board unanimously agreed with White's suggestion.

Center BBQ Friday, Saturday

The Center BBQ will be held Friday and Saturday, March 19 and 20.

Pork barbecue will be sold all day on Friday and Saturday, by the sandwich, tray, plate and pound. Hushpuppies, fries and hotdogs will also be sold.

Crafts people and vendors will set up their wares on Saturday. Call 407-2744 to reserve a space.

The event is sponsored by the Center Volunteer Fire Department and Center Community Development Association, and is located on U.S. 64 West, Mocksville, at I-40 (Exit 168).

Man Takes Money From Register

Last Thursday evening, a man walked into the Pier 601 take-out room and ordered food. When the cashier went to the kitchen to turn in the order, he grabbed money from the cash register and ran, according to a Mocksville police report.

The man, who gave the name Turner, is described as a black male about 6-feet tall, with medium build. He left heading north on Yadkinville Road in a beige Pontiac Lemans, 70s model, with a vinyl top and rust around the rear fender.

Squad Plans Free Health Classes

To show appreciation for support of Davie residents, the Davie County Rescue Squad has planned free health classes at the new facility off County Home Road.

Each class will be held from 7-9 p.m.

Monday, March 29: infant and child CPR/choking;

Monday, April 26: National Child Safety Seat Association with Davie County Health Department and N.C. Highway Patrol;

Monday, May 17: EMS week, bring children ages 4-12;

Monday, July 19: swimming pool and water safety;

Monday, Aug. 30: signs and symptoms of heart attack and stroke; and

FSA Farm Loans Available

The North Carolina Farm Service Agency (FSA) announced the availability of over $12.4 million in funds for Socially Disadvantaged (SDA) individuals who want to purchase or operate a family-size farm in fiscal year 2004.

"This special financing is for people who have been subjected to racial, ethnic or gender inequality without regard to their individual qualities. SDA members include women, African American, American Indians, Hispanics, Asian and Pacific Islanders and Alaskan Natives," said Ed Hall, FSA farm loan program manager.

The SDA program provides direct and guaranteed assistance in the form of farm operation and farm ownership loans. Direct loans are made to applicants from FSA. Guaranteed loans are issued by lending institution, but typically 90 or 95 percent of the loan is guaranteed by FSA.

Operating loans maybe used to purchase livestock, equipment, feed, seed and other business related expenses. Repayment terms run one to seven years.

Ownership loans provide capital to purchase or enlarge a farm, construct or improve buildings, promote soil and water conservation and pay closing costs. Direct ownership loan terms are up to 40 years. Guaranteed loan terms are established by the lender.

Contact the Davidson-Davie FSA County Office at 1-800-524-3389 for more information.

Cooleemee Briefs

Mayor Authorized For Condemnations

Following an executive session during the regular Feb. 17 town board meeting, the board voted to give Mayor John Chandler the authority to execute all documents necessary to resolve the issues pending with the condemnation of 6.92 acres of land in Rowan County. He would be able to do so after documents were reviewed and approved by town attorney Brian Williams.

Guard At Cooleemee Elementary

The board approved allowing Police Chief Joey Reynolds to hire a part-time school crossing guard.

Scholarship Committee Formed

The board approved forming a William R. Gales Scholarship committee, made up of Tammy O'Neal, Jack Jerome, George Calhoun and Ricky Whitley.

The BIG GUY working the web

Chad Forrest is the service writer on staff at Formac Automotive, the full service auto repair shop at 1484 US Highway 64 West of Mocksville. He's the "big guy" usually working at the computer or answering the phone & scheduling apppointments.

Chad is an ASE certified service consultant and parts specialist. With his training and experience and his love of technology, he puts the computer to work to compile information about your car that will help the automotive technician get to the problem and have any parts needed on the way. Chad has received AC Delco training in use of their system which makes their inventory of parts available to Formac by a specialized computer system.

He is Formac's version of Spiderman. He uses "the web" to be sure any work done to your car will not jeopardize any warranty agreements you may have. He can check to see if your problem is one that has been consistent in the particular make and model you drive. For past customers, he can give you a history of repairs and service work done. Chad can give you an estimate of the costs of repairs and before any expensive work is done, he'll get your approval. He is also the guy who will listen to your complaints, thank you for your compliments, give you your bill and collect your payment. He ain't there just to eat nabs and drink Pepsi.

A God-Given Gift

Crotts Brothers Help Build Concord Parsonage

What happens when two brothers, in their 70s and 80s, decide that their talents can still be used, and the group they replace for an hour includes one of their former students?

On a recent day, Homer Crotts and his younger brother Henry decided that they would like to donate some of their time and sweat equity to help build their church parsonage at Concord United Methodist.

The Crotts brothers are known for their skills as brick masons.

Henry, the younger, got out of service in World War II, and went to work as did a lot of local folks, in the mill at Cooleemee. His post war salary was 35 cents an hour.

But Henry decided he needed to use his GI Bill benefits to seek another profession. He enrolled in a program to learn how to lay brick.

"It came to me so easy. It seems that the trowel was designed to go in my left hand."

Within a year, his salary matched the one at the mill, and in less than one year, it had doubled. Then he made the $1 an hour plateau, and he decided that he was indeed wealthy.

His brother Homer learned his skills from H.K. Neil in Winston-Salem, and worked for him for five years.

Then Homer joined together with Henry and formed a company, the Crotts Brothers, to lay brick. It was successful.

Homer had some skills with accounting, so he did the billing and buying, while Henry just wanted to lay the block and brick. This was successful until Homer had some disc problems in his back, and Homer finally sold his half of the business to Henry.

Soon after that, Davie High School came with a proposal to teach bricklaying to students.

Henry accepted.

And though Davie was one of the first schools in the state to teach the skill, it was not hesitant to compete with the post secondary trade schools.

In 1976 at the Dixie Classic Fair, Davie won first, second and sixth places. The sixth place was won by Richard "Dickey" Hendrix, a promising young student, 30 years younger than his teacher.

Which brings us back to February 2004.

The pastor, Dr. John Andrews who had taken a bricklaying class at Atlanta Technical College in 1973, wondered if Homer and Henry would like to lay a few bricks when the Concord parsonage was being built. Both agreed that they would indeed like to help complete the project.

He persuaded both men to come and be a part of the experience. "I told them to bring their trowels and we would see what we could accomplish together."

The two senior brothers took to the work like ducks to water. They compared their tools with Dickey's. Except for the shiny ferrule of "Student Dickey," the tools of the masters were okayed. Henry, being left handed, started in the more comfortable right side of the garage and bedroom wall working his way to the left. Homer, the "righty," worked the opposite way. When the course of about 30 bricks met in the middle, the connecting brick called "the completer" fit perfectly.

They began another course.

The bricklaying crew they were replacing sat over on a trailer with smiles on their faces. Their work was easy, and they joked and laughed at the fun. A second course was begun, and completed. Dickey was proud to see these two still possessed the gift.

Then the third and fourth courses were laid.

Finally, the audience was grateful as they rose up and cheered. Dickey approached the wall, and was asked, "Are you going to inspect?"

"No," the student foreman said. "These two have forgotten more than I will ever know."

The work was inspected. It was excellent. Time had only added a bit more deliberate attention to detail. There was a poetry of motion and a bit more as the muscles shifted the antiques trowels in and out of the mud, and lifted the heavier brick. There would be a little stiffness in the arms and back tomorrow morning. The pride of the two brothers was never greater.

The parsonage wall had four new courses of brick, and the time honored gifts implanted by a magnificent God again would use these hands to create a building of beauty and grace.

One can only wonder how many bricks Henry and Homer have laid in a lifetime of their profession.

The talented right hand of Henry Crotts puts a completer brick in the first course.

The Dickey Hendrix crew of bricklayers cheer their elders in appreciation of the time-honored profession.

Tough Tests

Softball Team Faces Two Scary Opponents

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Beating North Iredell and East Forsyth was a nice way for Davie's varsity softball team to come out of the chute. The easy wins gave the War Eagles confidence and allowed them to get comfortable in a season in which they plan on approaching the neighborhood of 15 or so wins.

But they could have played subpar ball and gotten past N. Iredell and E. Forsyth. What will really prepare the War Eagles for a tough conference race is playing strong nonconference competition, and the only way they could have faced tougher competition last week is if they would have invited Freddy Krueger and Jason Voorhees to the ballpark.

Last week's opponents were downright scary. After battering E. Forsyth 8-2 in the first of three road games, they lost 4-0 to East Rowan and 7-2 to West Rowan. East returned the core of a team that went 19-5 last year, and four of those losses came from W. Rowan. East reached the final eight of the 3-A playoffs, and the pitcher that handcuffed Davie on six hits was senior Candice Hurlocker, who was an all-state performer and won the North Piedmont Conference's player-of-the-year award as a junior.

The Mustangs are one heck of a team, and yet they're still not in the class of West, which is loaded with Escalades, Benzes and Porshes. Just listen to the Falcons' resume: They're two-time defending state champions, their six fourth-year starters have won 72 of 84 games and they feature a two-time state MVP in pitcher Devon Williams and an all-state shortstop in Lyndsey Gay. That's just the beginning of West's stur-studded lineup. Third baseman Jac White was the 2002 Rowan County player of the year, and center fielder Blair Harkey has signed with N.C. State.

How scary is West's one-of-a-kind senior class? When its seniors were

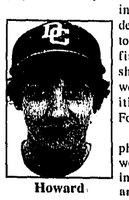
Freshmen Fever

Howard, Merrifield Spark Comeback For 6-5 Win

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie has fielded a varsity baseball team for nearly 50 years, but it might play another 50 years without producing a freshman debut to compare to Zach Howard's first game at shortstop last week against visiting East Forsyth.



Howard

It was that phenomenal. It went like a script in some movie, and Howard's tag-team partner was a fellow freshman, second baseman Whit Merrifield. The undaunted duo was smack dab in the middle of everything in a game that ended with Davie winning 6-5 by scoring the tiebreaking run in the bottom of the seventh inning after trailing 5-1.

The War Eagles (2-4) lost last week's other two nonconference games, 16-4 to unbeaten West Rowan and 9-7 to a sound Page team.

But how unlikely was this in the dramatic E. Forsyth win? Howard and Merrifield produced four of Davie's seven hits. You knew something was up when they stirred a four-run fifth that turned a 5-1 deficit into a tie. And they sealed the deal in the seventh, when Howard laid down a sacrifice bunt to put Ted Randolph in scoring position and Merrifield followed with a game-winning single.

It was one of the most amazing things Herndon's seen in 13 years of coaching.

"We were forced to give Howard that opportunity (because Lance Emert got in trouble at school and couldn't make his fifth start at shortstop), and it's going to be hard not to leave him at short," Herndon said. "He made every play defensively, he goes 2 for 2 with a double and triple and gets a sac bunt in the bottom of the seventh."

Howard was as cool as Evel Knievel at the throttle of a Harley. Not only did he put Davie on the board with a third-inning triple in his first at-bat and spark the game-turning fifth with a double, he gobbled up all four grounders and saved a run by securing a misguided throw with a runner on third.

"I had no idea until about 12:30," Howard said of the varsity assignment. "I was a tad bit nervous. I've played so many baseball games, but this was big. Varsity's big. It was perfect. I don't see how it could get any better. I hope I can keep it going."

The War Eagles' hopes of avoiding a third straight loss looked bleak in the fourth. After greeting Andrew McClannon with three first-inning runs, East pushed the margin to 5-1 in the fourth.

"That's when I challenged the kids," Herndon said. "I said: 'We've talked about the potential we have, let's start showing the potential and let's find a way to scratch and win.' But it wasn't looking good."

After Randolph - who singled, walked twice and scored three runs - opened the fifth with a walk, Howard doubled. After an East error, Merrifield made it 5-3 with a single. Then McClannon gave Davie new life with a game-tying, two-run rope up the middle.

McClannon finished the day with a .428 season average and nine of Davie's 22 RBIs.

"He came through again," Herndon said. "Last year McClannon never hit unless there were runners on second and third and two outs."

Lost in the joy of the freshmen theatrics was a character-building performance by pitcher McClannon, who had allowed one earned run in three previous appearances but gave up four hits in East's three-run first and three hits in East's two-run fourth.

Although he was hardly artistic, he showed tremendous courage and determination while going the distance. The senior righty retired the side in the fifth, dodged a one-out double in the sixth and induced three straight ground outs after giving up a leadoff single in the seventh.

"I've seen him have better stuff, but he competed, battled and kept grinding it out," Herndon said. "When McClannon steps on the mound, he's going to give you everything he has. He's our best pitcher, he's a senior, he's a leader."

McClannon improved to 2-1. He has 16 Ks to three walks in 13 1/3 innings.

"Every year we've played East Forsyth they've whupped us," he said. "They've got most of their guys back from last year, so this is a pretty big win."

Randolph started the seventh just like he started the four-run fifth - with a walk. After Howard bunted him over - with two strikes, no less - East intentionally walked leadoff man Zach Vogler. With that, Merrifield found himself front and center in the spotlight.

Worth Noting ...

Davie's hottest golfer is junior Ben Boger, who has shot 38, 39 and 39 in the first three meets.

Collin Ferebee of Davie's tennis team won 9-7 after trailing 7-4, and doubles partners Chris Moxley and Matt Hauser won 8-6 after trailing 5-2 as Davie defeated SW Randolph 6-3.

Samantha Hobson's bases-loaded, three-run double for a 3-2 lead helped Davie's JV softball team to an eventual 5-4 win over E. Rowan.

Jon Hutchens had an unbelievable week in three Davie JV baseball wins. Not only did he collect six hits, he struck out 19 and gave up one unearned run in 8 2/3 innings to earn two wins and a save. Timmy Allen went 4 for 4 with two homers against W. Rowan, and Josh Eder beat Page with a two-run, go-ahead triple in the seventh inning.

Kaitlin Hall of Davie's varsity softball went 3 for 4 and Carrie Sain pitched a two-hitter in an 8-2 win over E. Forsyth. Amy Alexander went 2 for 3 and raised her average to .555 in a 7-2 loss to two-time defending state champion W. Rowan.

Andrew McClannon of Davie's varsity baseball extended his torrid start, going 4 for 8 with seven RBIs in three games. In a 6-5 win over E. Forsyth, freshman Zach Howard debuted at shortstop with a double, triple and a sac bunt that set up freshman Whit Merrifield's game-winning hit.

Hutchens One-Man Wrecking Crew In 3 JV Wins

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

So much for all the questions about the Davie JV baseball team's pitching.

Hutchens

Jon Hutchens, Bryan King and Brandon Stewart - who started the season behind No. 1 hurler Tom Kuell, who is nursing a bad back, and No. 2 Chris Brogdon, who suffered a season-ending injury in the opening game - had ample answers for everything West Rowan, East Forsyth and Page offered in leading the War Eagles (4-2) to three nonconference road wins in five days last week.

The pitching performances were stunning. Hutchens, King and Stewart gave up one earned run in 19 innings as Davie mashed West Rowan 14-1, handled East Forsyth 6-3 and rallied past Page 7-3.

"Our big issue was pitching depth," Coach Tim McKnight said. "With a three-game week, I thought we would run into trouble. But pitching was a big surprise, and we're going to ride King, Hutchens and Stewart as far as we can ride them."

McKnight found something spectacular in Hutchens, who seized the ace role by giving up one unearned run and striking out 10 in five innings against West, striking out four of seven batters in two innings of hitless relief against East and striking out five in 1 2/3 of hitless relief against Page.

As a result of that razor-sharp precision, Hutchens picked up two wins and a save.

"He throws pretty hard and his breaking ball is working," McKnight said. "He has got his head right, and we have a chance to win every time he goes out there."

As if Hutchens' pitching wasn't enough, he produced two hits against West, two doubles against East and a single and double against Page. If that's not the definition of an unstoppable week, then the dictionary needs to be rewritten.

"I'll tell you what, he was the man last week," McKnight said. "All three days he had at least two hits and he's become our No. 1 pitcher very quickly."

Davie, in fact, got headline displays from several guys. Timmy Allen went 4 for 4 with two homers, a double and four RBIs against West; Zach Howard went 3 for 4 with a double and homer against West in his last game before getting promoted to varsity; King held East to three unearned runs in five innings; and Josh Eder went 5 for 10 for the week, including a game-winning, seventh-inning, two-run triple against Page.

"We lost a key player (shortstop Howard), but this team has jelled. We're not missing a beat," McKnight said.

Eder and Justin Thompson had four of Davie's 17 hits in the rout of West. "We couldn't have hit any better," he said. "And every run we scored was earned."

Against East, Stewart, Eder and Hutchens all went 2 for 4 as Davie led from the fourth inning until the end.

The third game was definitely a team victory.

Bumgarner Must Rebuild South Baseball Team

Todd Bumgarner is understandably proud of what his South Davie baseball team has accomplished since 2001. The Tigers finished third out of nine teams in 2001 and 2002 and second last year while piecing together three winning records. They have won 20 of 26 games in two years.

But now comes the tricky part - sustaining the run of success.

"We've played some good ball the last few years, but we've got our work cut out this year," Bumgarner said.

The sixth-year coach has a Herculean task. His standards will probably drop a bit because he lost his ace pitcher, his entire infield with the exception of catcher and one outfielder from last year's 9-3 team. All told, that's six key players South is trying to replace.

The only returning starters are Colby Seaford, who will pitch, play shortstop and maybe outfield; Clint Howell, who will pitch, play center field and maybe some infield; and Ryan Hellard, the catcher.

The good news is South has plenty of pitchers - including Hellard, Ryan Carter, Shelton Howard, Matt Oswell and Jeff Nuckols - who can throw strikes. The bad news is there are too many unknowns to predict a fourth straight winning season.

"We're going to have to execute - hit and run, get the bunt down, play well in the field, throw strikes and not beat ourselves," Bumgarner said. "We lost a lot of firepower, so we're just going to try to get better and see how things go. We don't have any goals. We're just going to go out and play."

Notes

- The Tigers open at home against West Rowan on March 18. They host Lexington on March 23.
- There are six returners, including Patrick Shore (shortstop or second), Jordan Brown (DH, first base or third) and Oswell (outfield).
- The roster: Eighth graders Howell, Seaford, Hellard, Brown, Oswell, Justin Burton, Shore and Nuckols and seventh graders Jess Cartner, Carter, Zach Illing, Chad Lee, Brandon Walls, Howard and Alex Beal.
- Bumgarner said he loves Illing's glove at third base.
- Tim Devericks and Mike "Topcat" Seaford are back as Bumgarner's assistants. He said he couldn't have better help. "Devericks is as good an assistant as you'd ever want," he said. "Topcat comes when he's able. He throws batting practice, hits grounders and does whatever you need him to do. He's super."

Margaret Hagerty, 80, finishes first in the 10K race in her age group.

Shamrock Still Popular Among Road Racers

Margaret Hagerty has never missed a Shamrock Run in its 16-year history.

It's not surprising, though, that she's running. The 80-year-old woman has run in 70 marathons (26.2 miles) in 16 years, so the 10K Shamrock Run was a short distance for her. She's featured in the AARP magazine this month.

Her friend, Richard Hamilton, 82, has also competed in every run sponsored by St. Francis of Assisi Church in Mocksville.

Runners cite the friendliness of the people as their reasons for coming back year after year.

Susan Moore of Woodleaf has run 14 times in the Shamrock Run, this year winning in the 5K and 10k runs.

"This is the best run," Moore said. "It's the most fun. Everyone is so nice, and I'll be back."

A total of 182 people participated in the 10K and 5K runs and walk, and the "Tot Trot."

Winners in the 10K run were Adam Stewart and Gezelle Macon, with times of 36:48 and 47:29. The 5K winners were Matthew Quirk in 16:48 and Allison Peters in 20:56.

"As usual, the Shamrock offered opportunities and fun for all ages," said George Kimberly. The 5K runners ranged in age from 10-83, 10K runners from 15-80, 5K walkers from 7-75 and Tot Trotters from 3-9.

Twenty-four were from Davie County, others from surrounding counties and some from other states.

Allard Hopes Climb Continues For North Baseball

It wasn't long ago that North Davie's baseball team was looking for traction, year after year.

Things are different these days. After suffering five straight losing records, Coach Danny Allard's team regained respectability with a 7-7 finish in 2002, and it rose to 9-3 and third place in the nine-team Mid-South Conference last spring.

Allard is counting on Garrett Benge and a plethora of eighth graders to keep the Wildcats on the upswing in 2004. Their experience is vast - 11 eighth graders on the 15-man roster.

"To have this many eighth graders is a luxury," Allard said. "It's something I haven't had since I've been here."

Thanks to Benge and a pitching staff that shouldn't ever run dry of capable arms, Allard likes his chances for back-to-back winning seasons. Benge, who was one of the most prolific passing-running quarterbacks in North history last fall, is the ace. Last year he pitched every other game and had a lot to do with North posting its most wins since 1996.

Allard can turn to Adam Ridenhour, Brent Beam, Danny Peele, Ben Sink and Zack Russell-Myers. "We've got options as far as pitching goes," he said.

Benge, Peele, Zeb Cope and Beam were everyday starters last year. Russell-Myers was a part-time starter. Beam (shortstop) and Russell-Myers (catcher) will fill two important positions.

With five starters back, and with the pitching and defense appearing to have few weaknesses, Allard thinks he has the makings of a nice team. One of his few concerns is the need to develop reliable hitting to complement the pitching and defense.

"We've got the potential to have a pretty decent team," he said. "We'll be alright pitching-wise and we'll be alright defensively. It depends on how we hit it. We don't have power hitters.

"We're optimistic. But at the same time we have to replace Brandon Stewart and Whit Merrifield, and those two were the leaders last year. The strength of this team is we're loaded with eighth graders, and that's creating good competition for playing time."

Notes: The roster: Eighth graders Russell-Myers, Brett Schneggenburger, Beam, Cope, Ben Dillon, Zach Proctor, Trent Brooks, Peele, Nic O'Brien Benge and Ridenhour; and sev enth graders Rusty O'Connor Bret Peterson, Brandon Squie and Sink. ... The assistan coaches are Jamey Holt and An drew Jones. ... The Wildcat opened March 12 with a win ove Thomasville. They played Lex ington on March 16. They play at Knox March 18 and at Tho masville March 22.

Carolina Cardinals Win Tournament

The North Carolina Cardinals' 12-under baseball team started the season by going 3-0 in pool play and then winning the championship game in Hickory

The coaches were very pleased. Every player contributed to a great weekend that started with an 8-3 win over the Caldwell Cobras out of Hudson. Arthur Kennerly pitched 2 1/3 innings with Tanner Holden in middle relief and Ryan Carter closing.

The second game was against the USSSA 12-under defending state champion McDowell Battlecats. Evan Orenstein and Shelton Howard pitched three innings each and combined on a no-hitter. It ended in the bottom of the sixth on Holden's game-winning single.

Those wins gave the Cardinals the top seed in their pool and put them against the Carolina Outlaws from Hickory in the semifinals. The Outlaws played scrappy and never let the Cardinals get comfortable. But the Cardinals battled their way to a 6-2 win. Again the pitching of Kennerly, with help from Huston Harrington and Holden, held down the Outlaws.

The McDowell Battlecats overcame the Blue Ridge Rangers 7-4 in their semifinal to earn the right to play the Cardinals in the championship.

Once again, the Cardinals went to Orenstein and Howard to get the 1-0 win. The Cardinal coaches agreed that the Battlecats played like a state championship team. In both games their defense and pitching were repeatedly able to get them out of innings with Cardinal runners in scoring position.

Neither team's defense nor pitcher cracked under pressure. Finally a walk and then a hit led to Orenstein's single that drove in Mark Parsells with the winning run in the bottom of the sixth.

Mock, Cook Lead South To Opening Soccer Win

The first goal was scored by Lauren Mock, with help from Jessa Ren, Amanda Cook and Liz Wright. The ball kept getting pushed out and back into a crowd of defensive players. It finally was redirected and kicked by Mock into the far left corner of the goal.

The second goal was scored when Cook beautifully crossed the ball in front of the goal from the front left side of the field. The ball made contact with one of Statesville's players and went into the goal.

"It was so exciting to win our first game," Coach Christie Ruff said. "Many of my players are new to this sport and we had lost a great amount of valuable practice time due to the weather."

South plays host to North Davie on March 18 at 4 p.m.

Tiger Girls Lose In OT; Barely Miss Title Game

South Davie's eighth-grade girls basketball team lost 44-39 in overtime to Knox in the semifinals of the Mid-South Conference Tournament on March 9 at host Southeast.

Tekaira Gaither and Meisha Fowler led South with 13 and 12 points, respectively, but Shane Knox scored all five of Knox's points in OT and finished with 21 as the third-seeded Trojans ended No. 2 South's season at 8-4. Kwameisha Hicks backed Shane Knox with 20 points.

Still, the Tigers had to feel good about themselves after losing to Knox 42-25 in the regular season.

West Rowan routed Knox (9-4) in the finals, 47-27. West went 17-0 this season and 30-0 in two years. In the boys final, No. 2 W. Rowan beat No. 5 Erwin 66-51.

South Davie's girls got 17 points from Fowler and advanced to the semifinals with a 43-29 win over No. 7 North Rowan.

Davie County's other three teams bowed out in the first round. No. 3 North Rowan's boys beat No. 6 North Davie 46-29, West Rowan's boys beat No. 7 South Davie 60-29. And Knox's girls beat No. 6 North Davie 38-29. North Davie's boys closed with a 5-7 record, South Davie's boys finished 3-8 and North Davie's girls finished 6-7.

Appalachian State University
Special Education and Middle Grades Education at the Yadkin Center of Surry Community College
Appalachian State University is proposing to begin in Fall 2004 two BS degree-completion programs: Special Education/K-12 and Middle Grades/6-9 Education, each with teacher licensure. Both programs would begin August 2004 and classes would be offered at the Yadkin Center of SCC (located in Yadkinville on Hwy 601, approximately 3 mi. north of Hwy 421). Interested individuals are encouraged to attend an information session on:
Special Education Meeting
Tuesday, March 23, 2004, 6:30 pm, Room 204 of the Yadkin Center of SCC
Middle Grades Education Meeting
Thursday, March 25, 2004, 6:30 pm, Room 202 of the Yadkin Center of SCC
Appalachian faculty and administrative staff members will discuss how a college transfer student with the freshmen and sophomore years of coursework (included in an Associate of Arts or an Associate of Science degree offerings) may complete the junior and senior years leading to the B.S. degree in Special Education/K-12 or the B.S. degree in Middle Grades/6-9 Education at the Yadkin Center of Surry Community College. Courses in Appalachian's off-campus programs are typically taught two nights per week (an average of 6 semester hours per term), and the off-campus undergraduate tuition/fees for the current year are $57.50 per credit hour for an in-state student.

Golfer Boger Still Under 40

Last year Ben Boger broke 40 one time for Davie High's golf team. This year he's turned up his game about three or four notches.

In a pair of nonconference meets at Mocksville's Pudding Ridge last week, the junior achieved medalist honors with identical three-over-par 39s. North Forsyth squeaked by Davie 169-170 in the first meet of the week, and Davie downed West Rowan 167-174.

Boger, who opened the season with a 2-over 38 at Statesville Country Club, has posted Davie's best score in all three nine-hole meets.

"He's our Mr. Consistency," Coach Doug Illing said. "He doesn't shoot the high number. He keeps it simple. Where the rest of us are having a 6 or 7 on a hole, he's in the fairway and around the green. Then it's just a matter of how close he is to the pin."

Jared Nelms, Davie's strong freshman, had a fine week, following Boger with a 40 against North Forsyth and finishing third for Davie with a 42 against West Rowan.

Freshman Alec Beauchamp was third against N. Forsyth with a 45, while Travis Howell was second against W. Rowan with a 41. Michael Gravatt and Sean Wagoner had 45s against West.

Morton Lowery

All Davie Wrestlers Make All CPC

Davie's wrestling team dominated the All-Central Piedmont Conference team. Fourteen - that's right, all 14 starters - made the squad.

The list includes Russell Hilton, Adam McIlwain, Dusty Johnson, Zac Morton, Aaron Hollifield, Craig Brown, Timmy Allen, Jeremiah Raby, Brandon Stewart, Josh Barnes, Brock Flowers, Billy Riddle, Ryan Boehm and Garrett Parks.

If that's not enough black-and-orange flavor for you, Morton won the wrestler-of-the-year award in the low weights and Buddy Lowery was named coach of the year.

Davie's girls basketball team placed three on the All-CPC team. Allison Schafer, Andrea Dwiggins and Carly Booth were selected from Davie, while West Forsyth grabbed player of the year (Dione Eccles) and coach of the year (David Sands).

Davie's boys had one All-CPC winner, Cliff Burns. Isaac Rose of West Forsyth won player of the year and Howard West of Reynolds won coach of the year.

Davie Track Teams Get Off To Fast Start

Davie's track teams dusted East Davidson and West Davidson in a season-opening nonconference meet last week. Davie's boys put up 99 points to East's 58 and West's 28, while the War Eagle girls rolled with 88 to East's 73 and West's 18.

Davie's boys claimed 11 events, led by quadruple-winner Jaspen Gray, who won the triple jump and 200 and helped two relay teams take first. Gray joined Michael Beck, Dontay Rivers and Anthony Gadson in the 1600 relay, and he teamed with Cooter Arnold, Dontay Rivers and Jamar Howell in the 800 relay.

Other winners included Billy Riddle (100), Howell (long jump), Rivers (high jump), Arnold (high jump), Andrew Allen (300 hurdles) and Greg Simpson (110 hurdles). Riddle, Chris Goode, Arnold and Rivers grabbed the 400 relay.

Three War Eagle girls were double winners in individual events - Shanika Brown (400, long jump) and Rebecca Peeler (one mile, two mile).

"A lot of the times and distances are already better than last year's personal bests," Coach Daric Beiter said. "Corey Doub's 5:05 in the mile is better than last year at the end, Allen's time is better by two seconds in the 300 hurdles, and Brooke Harris is better than last year in the 400."

Davie's girls rolled up 14 first places. The list included Hannah Thompson (800), Rebecca West (200) and Marie Robertson (pole vault). All four relays went to Davie, with Thompson, Savannah Kowalski, Leslie McBride and Peeler winning the 3200; West, Amber Harris, Brooke Harris and Danielle O'Neal winning the 800; West, Brittany Holman, Sarah Frazier and Amber Harris winning the 400; and Thompson, O'Neal, McBride and Brooke Harris winning the 1600.

"It was amazing," Beiter said. "We know the competition wasn't (Central Piedmont Conference power) Reynolds, but we looked real good. Last year the girls were third (in the CPC), and hopefully we can move up to second. The boys were fifth, but we think second is realistic."

Soccer Teams Looking For First Win

If Davie High's soccer teams don't start finding a way to put the ball in the net, it could be a long, long year.

Davie's varsity opened last week with a 1-0 loss to West Rowan (3-0). The Falcons broke a scoreless game three minutes into the second half and dropped Davie to 0-3.

Davie's winless streak came to an end later in the week at North Iredell (1-2-1), but not until 12 minutes remained. That's when Ashley Cornatzer salvaged a 1-1 tie with her second - and Davie's second - goal of the season. Both times she was assisted by Alyson Walker.

Davie's JV is having offensive problems of its own, falling behind 2-0 and losing 2-1 to West Rowan. Brittany Gaither scored the War Eagles' first goal of the season but couldn't prevent them from stumbling to 0-3.

"It wasn't our best game," Coach Kerstin Plagemann said. "I was proud we got a goal."

The JV standouts were right defender Emily Teague, sweeper Grace Didenko and keeper Vanessa Didenko. "Teague and Grace did a great job on defense," Plagemann said. "As always our keeper did a great job."

Tennis Team Slips Past SW

Thanks to two amazing comebacks, Davie's tennis team slipped past host Southwest Randolph 6-3 in a nonconference match last week.

The War Eagles owe their 2-0 record to Collin Ferebee, the No. 3 singles player, and Chris Moxley and Matt Hauser, the No. 2 doubles team. They turned duds into gems with big rallies. And in the end, that was the difference.

Ferebee found himself in a 7-4 hole. No problem. He ripped off the next five games to win 9-7 and help Davie forge a 4-2 lead going into doubles.

"He showed a lot of character to come back from that deficit," Coach Steven Lingard said.

The same can be said for doubles partners Moxley and Hauser. They didn't start to click until trailing 5-2. Then they won six of the last seven games to prevail 8-6.

"They started having more movement around the court, started jelling and played to their opponents' weaknesses," Lingard said.

Davie's other singles winners were No. 4 Jason Overbey (8-4), No. 5 Phillip Hursey (8-4) and No. 6 Kurt Bivins (8-6). The clinching win came from No. 3 doubles Hursey-Bivins, who mounted a comeback of their own to win 8-6.

"We were losing all three doubles at one stage, and it looked as though we were going to lose the match," Lingard said. "Hursey and Bivins sealed it because they won first, and the other guys were losing bad. And then Moxley and Hauser did their amazing comeback."

Notes: Moxley and Hauser moved to the top of Davie's singles ladder. ... Davie's No. 1 doubles is Ferebee-Overbey. ... The War Eagles play at home to North Iredell on March 17, at home to Southwest Randolph March 18, at North Iredell March 22 and at Statesville March 24.

Freshman Howard Produces Incredible Debut

Merrifield proved he didn't produce his 4-for-8 numbers in the first two games with smoke and mirrors. He capped a 2-for-4, two-RBI night with the walk-off hit, slapping a sharp grounder through the right side and raising his average to .375.

"It was just an unbelievable feeling. It's great being a freshman and everything, but I can't take all the credit," Merrifield said. "Because Ted got a huge walk and Zach got a clutch two-strike bunt. I feel bad for Vogler because he (was intentionally walked) and didn't get a chance to do that. I feel great for Howard, too. He got an opportunity and he capitalized on it. It feels good not being the only freshman."

Merrifield has blossomed like a flower after struggling to hit the ball with authority in two years at North Davie Middle.

"I was about 5-foot my seventh-grade year, and I'm about 5-10 now," he said. "I'm not too surprised with my (reliable) fielding. I always work on fielding. When I was younger my dad (Bill, a Wake Forest baseball hall of famer and former pro) told me I had a good swing, I just wasn't strong enough to produce. And finally I'm catching up and growing into it.

"(At North Davie) mostly I was a bunter and hit groundballs. But this year I'm hitting more line drives. Like at Mount Tabor I hit it over the center fielder's head. I can't even remember the last time I hit a double. I was pulling everything at the beginning and my dad kept talking to me."

W. Rowan 16, Davie 4

Everything went wrong for the War Eagles in the first game of the week. They made seven errors, three Davie pitchers gave up 16 hits and they were cannon fodder on a day when they needed to play over their heads just to keep it respectable.

"It was a combination," Herndon said. "They were really good, we were really bad and it didn't make for a pretty picture."

Davie actually led 4-2 in the first, when McClannon socked an opposite-field, three-run homer to left and Randolph added an RBI single. But this West team is a sight to behold. The Falcons went 21-4 last year and have 11 seniors. After whipping Davie, they drilled South Rowan 8-0, giving them 68 runs in five games and a .396 batting average. And they've posted a five-run inning in every game.

"West is better than us," Herndon said. "There's no question they're better than us. I was hoping we'd stay close and have a chance at the end."

West's lineup is so stacked Patrick Adams, who is a home run waiting to happen, bats sixth. Three different pitchers shut Davie out from the second through the fifth and final inning.

Add a key hit, subtract a couple errors and Davie might have put together back-to-back wins in the third home game of the week.

Instead, growing pains cost the War Eagles, who contributed to their own demise with five errors in the second, third and fourth innings. In that span, Page turned a 1-0 Davie lead into a 6-1 Page lead.

"We just didn't play defense," Herndon said. "What's so disappointing is to play so well one night and come back the next night and have a letdown. We're not good enough to put it on cruise control. We can't rely on our pitchers to strike 12, 13 people out. It's just not going to happen. We've got to be able to make routine plays.

"Up and down. That's part of growing up."

It looked gloomy at 6-2. But in the fifth the War Eagles almost did to Page what they had done to E. Forsyth. Davie sandwiched three walks and a hit batter around a McClannon double, and suddenly it was 6-4 with the bases loaded and one out. But Page's 12-to-6 curveball pitcher coaxed a 6-4-3 double play to end the inning.

Despite being down 9-4 in the seventh, Davie wouldn't go away. Evan Beam and McClannon drew no-out walks, and one out later Matt Rich rode a pitch over the left-center fence for a three-run homer. After Emert punched a single to center, Davie was one swing from tying it as slugger Randolph, who hit one to the moon in the first week of the season at Mount Tabor, stepped to the plate.

But on a full-count curveball in the dirt, the umpire said Randolph failed to check his swing. Davie's next batter also struck out, ending the game.

"I was proud of the way we gutted it out. We had our chances," Herndon said. "That was a questionable call (on Randolph). I don't think he went, but the umpire said he did."

Vogler singled twice to push his average to .315. Merrifield and Beam went hitless but reached base twice each. McClannon remained torrid, doubling, singling, driving in two runs and lifting his mark to .470 with 11 RBIs. Rich (.368) had a sharp single to go with the homer. And Randolph had two doubles that lifted him to .333.

"It's still early. I like this team. We could have folded when we were down 9-4," Herndon said.

Notes: Sophomore lefty Brad Corriher was effective in relief against Page, getting four outs without allowing a run. ... The War Eagles are better than their 2-4 record. Their losses have come against Alexander Central, which has two Division I pitchers and a very good supporting cast; Forbush, which is 4-0; West Rowan, which has beaten everyone by at least six runs; and Page, which is 4-1. ... They play at home to Alexander Central on March 17, at West Forsyth in the Central Piedmont Conference opener March 19 and at South Rowan in the second CPC game March 23. All three begin at 4:30 p.m.

JV Softball Team Benefits From Error For First Win

Davie's JV softball team got into the win column by scoring two go-ahead runs in the sixth inning for a 5-4 win over visiting East Rowan last week. The rally gave Davie its first win in three nonconference games.

Davie trailed 4-3 with two outs and two on in the bottom of the sixth. East appeared to get out of the inning when Tammy Jones hit a routine fly to right field, but the ball popped out of the Mustang outfielder's glove as two decisive runs scored.

The error gave the win to Lauren Parker, who worked all seven innings on the mound.

"We needed a good win," first-year coach Jonette Poole said. "I was excited. They played better and they were more focussed. So it was an improvement on how they had been playing. We only made one error."

Davie would have remained winless if it weren't for Samantha Hobson, who knocked in three runs with a third-inning double that turned a 2-0 deficit into a Davie lead. The only other hits came from Megan Williams and Janna Seamon.

East mounted a series of scoring threats against Parker, but the freshman pitcher refused to back down. The key was Parker didn't hurt herself with walks, limiting free passes to two.

"She'd give up two hits and have runners on, and then they'd pop up or hit it right back to her," Poole said. "She'd hold the runner at third and throw it to first. It just worked out like that every time."

Notes: The War Eagles lost the first and third games of last week, including 15-8 to East Forsyth. The hitting leaders in that one were Brittany Hill (3 for 4) and Brittany Reynolds (2 for 2). ... After edging East Rowan, Davie fell to West Rowan. ... Davie (1-3) plays at home to West Rowan on March 19 and at North Forsyth March 23.

Hutchens Unstoppable As Pitcher, Hitter

Page to three runs (one earned) in 5 1/3 innings. After Page broke a 2-2 tie with a seeing-eye single in the bottom of the sixth, Hutchens came in and kept the deficit at 3-2.

In the top of the seventh, Eder dug into the box with one out and runners at first and second. He blasted a gapper to right-center and sped all the way to third with a two-run triple that vaulted Davie in front 4-3. For good measure, Hutchens - who else? - followed with an RBI double. After Thompson reached on an error, Jeremy Gupton capped the five-run outburst with a run-scoring single.

Hutchens gained the win by recording the final three outs.

"We got a good performance out of Stewart," McKnight said of his starting pitcher. "He made them put the ball in play. He did everything we could basically ask him to do."

As good as Hutchens was last week, as crucial as Allen, Eder, King and Stewart were to Davie bouncing back from back-to-back losses, the third win in a row was partly due to the ninth batter in the order, freshman Andrew Boswell. He opened the seventh at Page with a single, moved to second on Stewart's bunt hit and earned the game ball for setting the winning rally in motion.

"I was talking to him before the inning about what we would do if he got on," McKnight said. "He looked at me just dead serious and said: 'When I get on ...' He said: 'I will reach.' I could have easily given the game ball to Eder. But when a kid looks at you with that kind of confidence ... He started it."

Schedule: The War Eagles play at home to Alexander Central on March 17, at West Forsyth March 19 and at South Rowan March 23. All three start at 4:30 p.m. The West and South games are the Central Piedmont Conference openers.

Wicked Competition Should Benefit Davie Softball Team Down The Road

freshmen in 2001, it handed Shannon Handy and Davie its lone regular-season loss.

The War Eagles took a two-day course in the school of hard knocks and got knocked off convincingly. But they didn't get embarrassed. Avoiding the 10-run rule against the likes of East and West is an accomplishment for most anybody, and Davie was a timely hit away from making things interesting against East. The process of a Davie team that fields four juniors, four sophomores and one freshman getting to the level of an East or West can't be short and easy. It requires experiences such as last week, and Davie should be prepared for anything the rest of this season and beyond.

"We hit good (against East) and that was their best pitcher (Hurlocker). Even the ones that made outs hit the ball," Coach Janice Jackson said. "(The West loss) wasn't too bad. It can't do anything but help us. I told them after the game: 'You just played two of the best teams in the state.' We lost by four and five. We could have scheduled teams we knew we could have beaten, but that wouldn't have done us any good. We need good competition to see where we stand. Even though we lost, we saw we can compete against good teams, and eventually we're going to be a good team."

Davie 8, E. Forsyth 2

E. Forsyth was no match for Carrie Sain and the Kaitlin Hall-led offense.

Sain pitched a two-hitter in her 2004 mound debut, and Hall highlighted an 11-hit attack with three hits and two RBIs. Ashley Whitlock had two hits; Hannah Tierney and Alyse Bowden knocked in two runs each; Whitney Williams rapped a beautiful double; and Tierney had three of Davie's five stolen bases.

Meanwhile, East went 2 for 25 against Sain, who shrugged off six walks.

"And if you notice, we didn't even have (No. 3 batter) Amy Alexander," Jackson said. "She was sick and didn't go."

Brittany Holt would have joined Hall and Whitlock with multiple hits, but "she hit it so hard (in the fifth) that the right fielder threw her out going to first," Jackson said.

E. Rowan 4, Davie 0

East settled the issue with a three-run third, using a hit batter, walk, single, two errors and two unearned runs to spoil freshman Williams' high-school debut on the mound.

"Williams was a little nervous, and she still hasn't gotten her stamina up and pitching as hard as she can," Jackson said.

Although the War Eagles didn't get a hit off Hurlocker, who added insult to injury by going 3 for 3 at the plate, until Alexander's fourth-inning single, they tried to make a game of it in the fifth. Singles by Sain, Holt and Whitlock loaded the bases with two outs, but Hurlocker fanned the next batter to preserve the shutout.

Hall had been so hot that a 1-for-3 day dropped her average to .555.

W. Rowan 7, Davie 2

The Falcons never looked back after parlaying four hits and an error into four third-inning runs. Nothing symbolized their superiority over an up-and-coming team like Davie more than their savvy base running.

"You can tell they've all played before," Jackson said. "One time we lobbed it back to (pitcher Alexander), and they took off for second because nobody was watching. One time there was a girl on third and they got a walk. The girl kept on running all the way to second. We tried to get her out, and the girl on third scored.

"They've played together so long, they've got that mindset that they're going to win. Ours haven't gotten that far yet. Ours are saying: 'We hope we win.' They expect to win when they go on the field."

Alexander accounted for two of Davie's four hits. Her single and double raised her clip to .555. Williams' double and Alexander's single keyed a two-run fourth that trimmed the deficit to 5-2.

Davie's other hit came from Bowden, who also made a fine catch in left field.

Notes: The War Eagles gave everything they had despite the fact they were well below 100 percent. Catcher Erin Whitaker pulled a groin muscle against East and staggered through the West game. Table-setter and speedster Tierney suffered a stinger in her neck while sliding against E. Forsyth, didn't play against E. Rowan and played hurt against W. Rowan. And Bowden (stomach bug) felt terrible against E. Rowan. "We want to play East Rowan again with everybody healthy," Jackson said. "The doctor told Tierney it's up to her (if she can play). The doctor told Whitaker the same thing - she would have to let pain be her guide." ... Davie plays at home to W. Rowan on March 19 at 4:30, and at North Forsyth March 23 at 4:30.

Meta Johnson's hands are the critical element in her massage therapy that she uses to help her clients.

'A Divine Touch'

Meta Johnson Uses Massage As Ministry

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise-Record

She's a small woman with a powerful grip.

Someone told her she would have been good at milking cows.

Instead, she gives massages.

Meta Johnson has operated A Divine Touch massage on the Court Square in Mocksville for four years, but she said it isn't just a job to her.

"I do it because it's my heart and my passion. I wanted to do something that helped people and made a difference in a positive way.

"Massage is something I always wanted to do. I didn't think you could make any money with it."

She spent 20 years working for a paper supply company before studying massage. She is certified by the N.C. Board of Massage and Bodywork Therapy and the National Certification Board of Therapeutic Massage and Bodywork.

She said there is a growing awareness of the value of massage.

"Massage affects you mentally, physically, emotionally and spiritually," she said. "It's like a hour's vacation. You get away from work, from the computer, from the phone."

Bill Wikel of Mocksville became a client when he was facing back and hip surgery.

"Meta helped me get prepared for that," he said. "I've had a lot of massages in the past, but she's special."

Betty Schaller gets massages to help with her Parkinsons Disease. "She's good — I've been to about five," she said. Best of all, she said the massage has been helpful.

Johnson said touch is powerful, and people need it. And massage can help in many ways.

"We are fearfully and wonderfully made. We are connected from our feet to our head, and you can't touch one part without affecting the others."

As the name of her business implies, Johnson says massage is also a ministry.

"It is an opportunity for me to show God's love in a very personal way. My words can do it, but I can show His love through my hands," she said. "I wanted very much to bring this wonderful gift to Mocksville. I knew it would be challenging because some people don't recognize the benefits of massage."

But massage has enjoyed a nationwide growing interest.

Her rates are $55 an hour and $35 for a half hour.

"It's worth it," Schaller said.

Her handshake hints at the strength needed for massage therapists.

"I've always been strong for my size," she said.

Parent's Revenge

Cotillion Forces Young People To Learn Good Manners

By Dwight Sparks
The Clemmons Courier

For a night, the girls were princesses and debutantes.

For a night, the boys traded their jeans and tennis shoes for tuxedoes, bow ties and shined shoes.

For a night, they knew which fork to use for the salad, which fork for the entree.

For a night, the boys actually danced instead of becoming part of the wallpaper.

Two months of lessons were finally put to work. More than 20 North Davie Middle School students are now graduates of the Floretta Baylin Cotillion. Predictions of snow didn't come true last week. The boys and girls — most of them 12 and 13 — danced in their long gowns, white gloves and tuxedoes.

In a denim world, Floretta Baylin Cotillions still convinces parents that their children need manners and culture.

Now in her 61st year of teaching manners, Mrs. Baylin, 93, presided over the ball once again at Forsyth Country Club.

Some came in stretch limousines. Parents gathered outside for photos. And the children twittered in their elegant clothes.

I hadn't forced my oldest son to do cotillion. He finally learned his manners from a federal military academy — which had slightly different educational methods than those used by Mrs. Baylin.

But when the middle child came of age, I had to do it. A parent's revenge.

He learned to dance. To hold the door. Which fork to use. And all the other cultural refinements.

Will he remember them next week?

Maybe not. But for one night, he danced with seven different girls — following a pre-arranged dance card. He helped his "date" — a girl also in the class — hold the umbrella to protect her from the rain and help her into the car.

For a night, he was a gentleman.

For one night, he saw more silverware than he has ever seen. Mrs. Baylin guided them through a six-course meal, complete with finger bowls.

We don't do that at home.

He ate what was served — or tried to. Never a dancer, he learned all the different dances. Never comfortable with girls, he asked one of the students to be his partner.

I only had to force him inside the studio once — the first lesson.

Now there's a trained gentleman in the house.

County Line News

By Shirley Thorne
County Line Correspondent

The County Line community has been busy planning special church services and fundraising breakfasts and suppers.

Sunday morning, March 21, Clarksbury United Methodist Church will have a special worship service in observance of the 135th anniversary of the United Methodist Women. The service will feature works of the Methodist Women through the years. A covered dish dinner in the church fellowship hall will follow the service. The church will continue with the special Lent evangelistic services at 7 that night. The special speaker will be the Rev. Nathan Kirkpatrick of Yadkinville.

Piney Grove AME Zion Church will have a women's conference this March 19 - 21. The theme is "Restore in 2004." On Friday night, March 19, a worship service will begin at 7 with three speakers from area churches. The conference will begin Saturday morning with a continental breakfast at 8 followed by workshops for married, single, and youth at 9:30. The Davie High Steppers will perform at the youth workshop. Lunch will be provided at noon. Saturday afternoon a "Women in Worship" concert will begin at 5 followed by refreshments and fellowship. The conference will conclude Sunday morning, March 21, with the Rev. Cassandra Fisher conducting the morning worship service at 11. The church invites everyone to attend as many of the sessions as possible.

The V-Point Ruritan Club will have a benefit breakfast for Carol Wooten Holton on April 3 at the V-Point Building on Old Mocksville Road.

Our community extends get-well wishes to several residents who have been hospitalized. Salley Cartner Comer of Society Church was hospitalized at Davis Medical Center in Statesville after she suffered a stroke. Charles Gamble of Piney Grove was injured when he fell off a ladder and is at Davis. Grant Dively and Louise James both remain hospitalized at Iredell Memorial and Davis, respectively. Virginia Daywalt, Beulah Prather, and J.C. Smoot are recuperating at home. Join as we pray for the Lord's divine healing in their lives.

Shirley Thorne and her dad Mark Thorne (deceased) use a tractor to pull a car out of the snow in March, 1960.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the family of Kaye Messick Adam, who recently died unexpectedly at Forsyth Medical Center. Kaye spent part of her early years in County Line and was a daughter of the late Hazel Koontz Messick and granddaughter of the late Sam and Maude Koontz.

The County Line VFD thanks all who helped with supper preparations this past Thursday. Much help is needed March 25-27. Call Jack Koontz at 492-7116 or Brian Koontz at 492-5759 if you can help in any way. Many desserts for both serving and the craft sale table are needed. If you like delicious pit-cooked barbecued pork and chicken pie, be sure to mark March 27 on your calendar.

Just in case you think the warmer weather means winter has passed, remember some of our biggest snows have come in March. Many remember the deep snows of the 40s, 60s, and 80s.

No one could forget March 1960 when it snowed over 10 inches on Wednesday, March 2, followed by temperatures in the 10s and 20s, then snowed another 10 inches or so the next Wednesday followed by freezing temperatures, and then snowed again the next Wednesday. At Cool Spring School we were dismissed each Wednesday morning at 10 or 10:30. Snowdrifts stayed at two feet or more, icicles on roofs grew to four feet, many water pipes froze, and many residents used tractors to pull their cars in and out of their driveways. Food was airlifted to some mountain areas.

Many senior citizens, including Beulah Prather, remembered the knee-deep snow on Easter Sunday, March 24, 1940. Beulah, now 88, remembers her sister Naomi Stroud and husband Carl spending the weekend with her parents, Etta and Perce Cartner. Naomi had bought a new spring Easter outfit, including sandals. Carl thought she should take some warm clothes, but she laughingly said she was wearing those shoes even if it snowed. It snowed big and she never bought another Easter outfit.

Mary Ellen Walker (also 88), whose mother Fannie Stroud Walker was reared on Davie Academy Road, shared memories of the snows of the 40s and playing at her Grandpa Dick Stroud's store in the V of Davie Academy and Godbey roads when she was growing up. My mother, Clara West, and Mary Seamon Howell remember the deep snow with "blizzard-like winds" of January 1948. My parents and J.C. Seamon tried to get home from their 2nd shift jobs at Cooleemee but had to walk the last 1/2 mile in the snow and wind at midnight. J.C. was anxious to spend his first night in his parents' new home and walked another 1/2 mile down the road. Clara remembers J.C.'s mother Etta saying he was so cold she had to take off his shoes and socks, and my mother has said many times that is the coldest she has ever been.

Imogene and Jim Stroud shared memories of the wedding of their older daughter Pam on Feb. 18, 1989, at Society Baptist Church when it snowed about 18 inches or so. After a week of warm weather the snow began the morning before and continued until about an hour after the 2 p.m. ceremony. That Saturday morning Pam's brothers and father, pastor, and neighbors worked diligently to clear enough parking spaces and sidewalks for the guests. The Stroud home became a refuge for stranded guests. Pam was destined for memorable snows since her first winter included the snows of 1960.

David Lee Johnson met his first big 8-inch snow at age 1 in February 1984 and needed plastic bags to keep dry while playing in the snow. David Stroud enjoyed a new snow suit in March 1965.

David Stroud shows off his new snow suit in march, 1965,

"In Memory of Ezra Shore"

I've lost another customer and friend,
He was faithful to the very end.
You never heard him complain,
And I'm sure he suffered a lot of pain.
He loved the Lord and served him with love.
And I'm sure he is at peace in heaven above.
To his family I would like to say,
I thank God for sending him my way.

Love in Christ,
Marie S. White

MOPS Clothing, Equipment Sale Set

Throughout Davie County, moms are pulling out the Rubbermaid tubs full of too-small children's clothes from last summer.

Kids are groaning as they're asked to try on yet another pair of shorts that don't fit. Tags are being filled out and safety pinned to clean, slightly-used clothes, neatly hung on hangers.

It's time for the MOPS Children's Clothing and Equipment Sale. Held in the fall and spring, it's a chance to find clothing for children at a fraction of the retail price, such as Easter dresses for $5. It's not unusual to find some clothes that still have store tags.

Need a carseat for a bundle of joy that's on the way?

Cribs, bedding, strollers and double strollers show up regularly. Toys, stuffed animals, board games, Blue's Clues and Clifford videos, books, I

Last fall, the leaders of the sale had to borrow additional racks because there was so much to choose from. Additional nursery furniture and larger toys lined the hallway outside the Fellowship Hall of Macedonia Moravian Church.

Moms, are you currently staring at a pile of clothes your youngsters can't wear? Why not earn some money for them? It doesn't take long to tag the clothes, and you still have over a week before the sale. The more you bring, the more you make but only spring/summer clothes sizes 0-14 will be accepted, as well as maternity wear. (Hold the rest for the fall sale.) If you're willing to volunteer for a two-hour shift during the sale your proceeds get bigger.

The sale is on Saturday March 27, 8 a.m.-2 p.m., at Macedonia Moravian Church 700 N.C. 801 N., Advance. A preview sale will be held for volunteers and consignors Friday March 26.

If interested in consigning or volunteering, call Laura at 751-6181.

TIRS Celebrating Third Anniversary

TIRS - the Triad Information Reading Service - will hold its third anniversary celebration on Saturday, April 3, on the second floor of the I.S. Building at Wake Forest University.

Brunch will be served from 10 a.m.-noon. Come, learn more about this valuable service and meet volunteers.

TIRs brings news and entertainment to thousands of visually impaired residents in the Triad. TIRS broadcasts seven days a week from the Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem via a sub-carrier frequency of WFDD radio.

Many volunteers read local news and the Davie County Enterprise Record is among community newspapers read on a daily basis.

Cooleemee Seniors To Wear Easter Hats

The Cooleemee Senior Citizens Club held its regular monthly meeting on Monday, March 8 at the First Baptist Church.

The meeting was called to order by the president, and was opened by prayer and singing a song.

The chaplain gave the devotions, using Psalm 21. The roll was called with 12 members present. The sunshine and treasury reports were given and announcements made from Senior Services.

The program consisted of show-and-tell. A small demonstration was given on the making of silk-dyed eggs and how to knit.

The meeting adjourned with the club singing "Pine Trees."

The next meeting will be on Easter Monday, April 12. Club members are invited to wear their Easter hats.

Cedar Rock Assisted Living of Mocksville

Earl Naylor

Here at Cedar Rock we think all our residents are special people. They make coming to work a pleasure and not just a job! One of our special people is Earl Naylor. Mr. Earl has lived with us since June, 2003. Mr. Earl is a joy to be around, he can be found visiting with the staff and the residents, and always wearing his sweet smile. He is quite the cut up and keeps us on our toes. You can always count on Earl to lift your spirits and brighten your day. Before retiring, Mr. Earl was a truck driver and has seen much of our United States. He entertains us with his stories. Mr. Earl says the things he likes about living here, are "my friends and the staff", you can't beat them he says! He also enjoys the church services, the bands and all the singing groups that visit! The staff of Cedar Rock would like to thank him for choosing us as his home!

Bermuda Mini's Self Storage

Out of storage space in your home or office? Or maybe there is some seasonal furniture or equipment that you don't want to have cluttering your garage.

In any case, Bermuda Mini's, located on U.S. 158 in Advance, can help. It's the place to store all of your excess business or personal property. Just call 998-9661.

With 296 storage units, including 63 that are climate-controlled, the community has excellent options when they need to store belongings.

"The business is doing very well," said Jessica Denzendorf, who owns the business along with her husband, Ladd, and Lorin and Doris Wood. "People seem to have a real need for it. We're very clean and have a secure facility. We get very positive responses from our tenants."

Bermuda Mini's are used for a wide variety of reasons. The staff has even seen neighbors join together to rent space. Christmas decorations, outdoor furniture, tools and other things that clutter a home are just a few of the reasons people obtain a rental space.

"We're very proud of our facility and we've tried to construct a place where our customers will feel safe and secure," notes Jessica.

Bermuda Mini's has a double pass coded gate. Customers must enter their pass code to get in and out of the facility.

"Our computer system records the date, time and unit number for every entry into the key pad," Jessica explains.

Sandy Scholl, now a manager at Bermuda Mini's Self Storage, originally came to the facility as a customer.

"We moved here from Pennsylvania and looked at all the storage facilities before renting at Bermuda Mini's," she explains. "They were just the best."

The Scholls rented with Bermuda Mini's for seven months while their new home was being built. She was so impressed with the professional attitude and friendliness of the owners that she came on board as an employee and has now been there for seven years.

"We go out of our way to make arrangements for customers," Sandy adds.

Clients are able to use a trailer to move items into their storage unit at no cost (call for more details.) Free security round locks are given to tenants if they are staying for more than a month.

Monthly rent reminders are e-mailed to tenants. For those who do not have e-mail, a courtesy phone call is made. Convenient payment envelopes are provided for those who request them.

The newest service at Bermuda Mini's is the acceptance of credit cards. Now tenants can have their rent automatically paid on a monthly basis.

Cleanliness, attractiveness and friendly service are what you will find at Bermuda Mini's Self Storage. Empty units are cleaned and sprayed regularly. The entire area is lighted with spotlights.

So if you're tired of all that clutter stacked up in your home, call the efficient, courteous staff at Bermuda Mini's Self Storage at 998-9661 today. Better yet, drop by Bermuda Mini's located at 146 Commerce Drive in Advance behind A Cleaner World and next to Bermuda Quay Shopping Center on U.S. 158.

You can also visit them on the web at www.bermudaminis.com or contact them by e-mail at bermudaminis@yadtel.net.

Traffic Jam?

Kids Rike Bikes For St. Judes Benefit At A Child's World

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise-Record

Traffic was bumper to bumper. All the vehicles were directed into one-way traffic, and there were frequent rear-end collisions.

Jack rabbit drivers crowded behind the slow vehicles, hoping for a chance to pass.

It was stop and go for everyone.

For a little while Friday, the bicycle and tricycle riders at A Child's World Learning Center in Advance got a taste of their parent's commute to work.

Kiva Goad

They brought bikes from home to join in the effort.

Traffic attendants directed the children and wiped noses as needed. They towed a few stray bicycles and gave a push to others.

There was even an occasional road rage incident.

Parents joined in the bike-a-thon.

There were two-wheelers, three-wheelers, bikes with horns, bikes with streamers, pink bikes, blue bikes — depending on the tastes of the rider.

Chelsey and Summer Orr made street signs for the children to follow.

"The kids love it. It's fun for them," said Kiva Goad, director of the day care. One class decorated t-shirts for the occasion. Others spent the week getting ready for the event by learning about St. Judes and coloring pictures.

"There are sick children in this world, and there are a few things we can do to help."

Children learned about bike safety and received stickers and prizes for participating.

A Child's World collected more than a thousand dollars to give to St. Judes.

'There are sick children in this world, and there are a few things we can do to help.'

William R. Davie Elementary

Linda Drye, Peggy Evans, Lori Collins, Wanda Dalton, Karen Prince, Maribel Martinez, Angela Spillman and Sue Ireland took their kindergarten classes to the Brock Performing Arts Center to see Mouse Tales. They heard poems, rhymes, songs, and stories about mice. The children participated in the play by learning a song and dancing.They went on a lion hunt. The teachers were proud of the students during the surprise fire drill at the Brock. The students exited the building and stayed calm.

School spring pictures will be on March 18. Class pictures will be prepaid; individual pictures will be made with proofs coming home.

Shady Grove Elementary

Report cards will be coming out March 24 for the third quarter grading period. Makeup days are April 9 and May 24-27.

Send in your General Mills box tops before March 26. Each box top is worth 10 cents and last fall the school raised more than $900 from this fundraiser. The class with the most box tops collected will win an ice cream party. Monday is Shady Grove Night at Venezia's. Write the name of your child's teacher on the back of the card and drop it in the box. The PTA is sponsoring a competition through April 12 for the class with the most entries who will win a pizza party.

The kindergarteners in Ms. Martin and Ms. Burford's class have been learning about the weather and St. Patrick's Day. The children are learning about careers and job responsibilities. Danielle Sanders mother, Cindy Saunders, spoke to the class about her career as a nurse. Mr. Lanier, the principal, gave them a tour of his office and told the children about his profession and the responsibilities that go with being a principal. In math the students have been working on patterns and graphing and will soon graph their favorite ice cream flavors.

Ms. Spach's second graders read Arthur's Loose Tooth. Arthur and his sister enjoyed eating s'mores. Ms. Spach asked parents to send in all the ingredients and the class ate s'mores while they read the book. The children wrote kite tales with some writing poems and others stories. Second graders in Ms. Kauff and Ms. Boswell's class read the book Keep the Lights Burning Abbie, a true story about a little girl, Abbie Burgess, who had to single-handedly keep the lighthouse lamps burning during a storm in 1856. In math, some children measured in centimeters and decimeters while others learned lines of symmetry.

The third graders in Ms. Ohr and Ms. Norman's class started reading Charlotte's Web. The past few weeks the students have been learning to use circle maps and flow maps to brainstorm and organize writing. The students have enjoyed using colored pencils to better organize their paragraphs. Ms. Hobson's third graders brought home cabbage plants to plant in their yards. The plants can grow to be huge and should help the children learn about plants and gardening.

The Fourth Grade State Fair will be held Saturday, March 22. The setup for State Fair is on Friday, March 21 at 1. More exhibitors are needed who can set up an informational booth or exhibit. Parents are encouraged to help with the setup and to bring their fourth grader to the fair.

Ms. Redmond's fourth graders started a unit on standard measurement learning about linear, capacity, and weight measurement. Students measured items on the playground for length, width, and height. The fourth graders in Ms. Martin's class are working on the state fair projects and monies are needed for food for the concession stand.

The following have been chosen as students of the week: Brent Quillin, Lexie Armini, Mary Tellup, Cole Brandon, Ethan Krey, and

South Davie Middle

The 8th grade Lighthouse team has been busy since Christmas. High school registration took place in February. In connection with this, students visited Davidson Count Community College to learn about offerings. In communications, they have read biographies of famous black Americans and famous women. They have read the play "The Miracle Worker." Students have been diagramming sentences to review sentence parts. They have also been working on Study Island in reading, an EOG review program, on Internet.

In social studies, the students completed a unit on colonialism by making a quilt with the theme of "First in Flight." They have also been studying federal, state and local government, famous black Americans and famous women. They have done research projects on these topics. In science, the students have been studying natural resources. The students wrote essays for the Davie County Soil and Water office on conserving soil and water.

The Lighthouse team had a winner at the county level, Abe Dreschler, in the speech contest associated with these essays. In math, the students have been studying polynominals, factoring and geometry. They did geometry drawings in class. All students have been encouraged to use Study Island on Internet as a tool for reviewing for EOG coming up in May. The big event coming up in the near future is the NC Outer Banks trip coming up April 21-23. The team will be doing a big unit of study on the NC coast as a preliminary to this trip. All students are being encouraged to prepare for NC end-of-grade tests coming up in May since 8th grade is a Gateway Year, meaning students need to make a passing score to pass 8th grade.

The Media Center's Spring Book Fair was a huge success. The profits will be used to purchase new books, equipment, videos and DVDs for our school. The following class projects are currently on display in the media center: the Otters' "boxed" book reports, Stingrays' solar system models, the Adelante class's Stone Fox projects, and Mrs. Lucas' students' ceramic pieces. Please come by and take a look.

Cornatzer Elementary

Mrs. Dalton and Mrs. Steelman's first graders spent the month of February learning about dental health, poetry, Valentine's Day, chocolate and presidents. During their poetry unit, students read lots of poetry by the famous author Shel Silverstein. Also different poets were introduced to the students. To get hands-on experience with poetry, they wrote their own diamonte, cinquain and acrostic poems.

The chocolate unit was a lot of fun. Students learned that chocolate begins with a tiny little seed called a cacao pod. They also researched Milton S. Hershey, who played a vital part in the chocolate invention. The class presidents' study consisted of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and current president George W. Bush. Students took a tour of the White House on the Internet. The tour was given by Spotty, the president's dog. A lot was learned about the role of a president and vice-president and how important their jobs are in guiding the country.

The first week in March, Mrs. Dalton's class celebrated Dr. Seuss' 100th birthday. Students also studied maps and learned how to read a map using a simple compass. They identified the seven continents and were able to recognize North America as the continent in which they live. Lots of reading and writing are continued to take place. The students are participating in the school's reading program "50 Books in 50 Days." This is a great way to reinforce reading skills. We are very proud of our students and want each one to always do their best. Second grade is just around the corner; keep up the good work class," said Mrs. Dalton.

In the ESL classes, Ms. Rosas's kindergarten students have been looking for words that rhyme. They will use these words to write short poems about the spring and will create a nice picture for their poem. First graders have been learning the names of different household items that they have at home. They will use this new vocabulary to write a composition about their favorite room in their house. Second graders are celebrating the Women's Heritage Month by learning about famous women who once were ESL students and now are successful citizens in USA. They also chose a woman in the school or family who they admire and interviewed here. They will talk about their experience in class.

Mrs. Bullins's class has been busy learning about government. Her second graders read Arthur Meets the President. They have learned about the president's job and the other branches of government. Her third graders have studied various presidents in depth. Each student chose a president and used their computer skills to prepare a power point presentation to share with the class. They were guided and helped by Mrs. Archer, the school's media specialist. Parents were invited to school to enjoy the special presentation. In addition to their power point presentation, students also shared biographies they had written about their presidents.

In music, fifth grade chorus students are busy getting in tune for their big concert at the Brock Auditorium on April 25. The concert will involve students from all of Davie County's elementary schools. Second and third graders presented a very successful PTO program on Feb. 10 to celebrate Valentine's Day and to demonstrate what it means to be a true friend. They were given a standing ovation from their audience. Kindergarten and first grade students are busy rehearsing for their PTO program on April 6. Third, fourth and fifth graders have all been learning an end of grade song to help them be successful in the testing. Music teacher Mrs. Hembree is also very proud of the progress being made by her fifth grade with their recorders.

Cougars of the Week: Jay Clary, Lindsday Santiago, Sierra Purkey, Manuel Roman-Munoz, Eli Kurfees, Ashley Lambeth, Austin McClannon, Holden Peeler, Luis Chapa-Teran, Dylan Andrade, Alex Abbott, Gisselle Hernandez, Charity Ingram, Omar Enriquez, Kelley Howard, Dillon Lambe, Chelsea Doulin; Alyssa Godbey, Zachary Spaugh.

Reminder to parents: Tuesday, March 23, 30 - Venezia Night; Snow Makeup Days - Monday, March 15, Friday, April 9, Monday-Thursday, May 24-27.

Mrs. Wyatt and Mrs. Fulton's kindergarten students have had a very busy week. We have studied the letter V and learned about how violent the weather can be in March. Making lions and lambs helped to illustrate how different the weather can be throughout the month.

Wind was also a big topic of discussion after the damaging winds came on Sunday night. We read a book about wind and talked about a variety of things that can happen because of the wind. Making kits helped show one of the fun things that can be enjoyed during windy weather.

Miss Hutchens, Mrs. Beaver and Mrs. Melton's class has been talking about dental health and nutrition. We had a special visitor from Dr. Prillaman's office come to our classroom to talk about dental health. We will be talking about elephants and some spring time themes over the next few weeks. We just completed a four-week Reading Round Up Read-A-Thon program and we will have a square dance to celebrate. Congratulations to all the children who reached their goal, and thank you to all the parents who listened to their child read and sent in monetary contributions to the PTA.

Mrs. Wall Smith and Mrs. Pruitt's second grade started Project Groundhog on Feb. 2. The children observed and documented the weather for six weeks to determine if the groundhog legent is a good predictor of our weather. They measured temperature, wind speed, wind direction and observed precipitation each morning. The Internet has a Project Groundhog site where we checked the weather in other US cities.

Ms. Vogler and Mrs. Brown's third graders were very successful during the school reading incentive program. On Friday, March 19, those students who read at least 280 pages will get to go to the "Hoe Down," a cowboy celebration in the gym sponsored by the PTA. The class has also studied fables and is beginning a unit on fairy tales. In math they are continuing to learn their multiplication facts as well as other math concepts. March is the last month to earn Pizza Hut coupons by reading and taking AR tests. Miss Laura Beth Galliher will complete her student teaching with the class in April.

Students have been busy in the MES Media Center. Kinergarten-3rd grade have been listening to nominees for this year's North Carolina Children's Book Award. The rules state that children must have read at least seven of the nominees before they can vote. Our "elections" will take place the last week of March complete with campaign posters and students entering our voting booths to cast their ballot. The statewide winner will be announced in April.

Fourth grade students have been working with the World Almanac and have discovered the ways to find information in this reference book that contains over a million facts.

Fifth grade has been enjoying many of our new nonfiction books as well as reviewing their library knowledge through games such as Dewey Decimal Bingo and Library Basketball.

Cooleemee Elementary

Students celebrated reading accomplishments with an Accelerated Reader breakfast in the media center. 25 POINT CLUB: Diana Rodriguez, Denetra Clement, Justin Matlock, Jesica Perkins, Shane Carter, Tony Diaz, Mitchell Blake, Josh Key, Osmayda Acevedo-Gama, Andrae Jones, Michelle Deal, Will Cartner, Tamrin Livingston, Alex Anderson, Jacob Horne, Kenyon Redmon, James Osborne, Chasity Miller, Nicole Scott, Morgan Dragon, Caleb Carter, Megan Szabocsan, Cody Martin, and Emma West. 50 POINT CLUB: Nick Endicott, Desirae Downs, Rebecca Mickalowski, Josh Smyers, Becca West, Drew Lewallen, Nicole Ebright, Sierra Ferrell, Ben Watlington, Lauren Robbins, and Krystal Jacobs. 75 POINT CLUB: Jonathan Truett, Janira Hernandez, Tyler Bush, Karen Boger, and Colleen Hembree. 100 POINT CLUB: Elizabeth Tucker, Jake Whitley, Jansen McDaniel, and Shelby Stephens. 125 POINT CLUB: Carlos Moreno. Students received specially designed certificates in their classroom. Students, also, signed the lighthouse point clubs in the media center.

Second graders are busy in math, measuring feet and inches, estimating sums, and identifying geometric solids. They are involved in math reading and writing as well as studying matter.

Mrs. Wall's combination class of first and second graders has been learning the truth of the statement. "There is strength in numbers." The second graders presented the play, "The Breman Town Musicians" for the first graders in their class.

Fourth grade students in Mrs. Culler's class are studying European colonization of North Carolina. Students are analyzing the impact of the colonies upon the Native Americans. Students are also working on the math concepts of average, median, mode, and range. First Graders having been following the trail of Johnny Appleseed learning about caring for the environmnet and how apples grow. They will plant a garden in the next few weeks to continue these studies.

I had been looking at vacant land for over a month, had dealt with three different real estate offices, and had met with frustration and a lack of success. Upon calling PREMIER CAROLINA PROPERTIES about one of their listings, I was fortunate enough to reach Briggett Ferrell. My husband and I both loved the property, and Briggett wrote up an offer for me that was accepted and processed immediately. I had numerous questions and Briggett was delightful in being not only thorough, but also responded incredibly fast to everyone. When it comes time to put our house on the market, I will definitely request Briggett handle the listing. In addition, everyone in the office was very professional, yet maintained an atmosphere of open friendliness and a sincere welcome. It is always a pleasure to be greeted by warmth and a smile, especially when real estate can be a large purchase and leave you feeling more than a little nervous.
Thank you all very much!

Matt Kuhn Awarded Catawba Scholarship

Matt Kuhn, son of Ken and Marie Kuhn of Mocksville, has been awarded a First Family Scholarship to Catawba College in Salisbury.

Kuhn

He is a senior at North Hills Christian School in Salisbury.

The scholarship is valued at $17,600 per year, and includes everying except room and board. Kuhn was selected based on his grades, SAT score, leadership abilities, and service to his community.

Kuhn, 18, said he plans to major in chemistry and pre-law, and hopes to eventually attend law school. The scholarship will help him realize his dream of becoming a lawyer.

He has already made an "A" in a general chemistry course at Catawba, communiting there from North Hills. He scored in the 99th percentile of the American Chemistry Society's college-level general chemistry exam. His work was compared to college students from Duke, Harvard and Columbia.

At North Hills, Kuhn is president of the student council, captain of the cross country team, and a member of the National Honor Society and the Spanish National Honor Society. He was chosen homecoming king.

He's attended North Hills for the past three years, and said his stay there has been instrumental in his success.

"I've been challenged to think and write critically," he told the Salisbury Post.

The scholarship, one of the most prestigous at Catawba, is awarded to 3 students annually.

Help Available For Land Conservation

Technical help and cost-sharing assistance is available through the USDA Environmental Quality Incentives Program(EQIP) to assist livestock and agricultural producers in implementing conservation measures on farmland.

EQIP is administered by the USDA's Natural Resources Conservation Service, NRCS, through local soil and water conservation districts. File applications now to be considered for funding for 2004.

EQIP is the primary means by which USDA funds are made available to producers with conservation work. In 2003, just over $70,000 to implement conservation mea-sures was made available to Davie County farmers.

This voluntary program addresses local natural resource needs and national resource priorities. Assistance is available for installing conservation practices to improve soil erosion and sediment control, improve the management of animal wastes, improve grazing lands and provide alternative watering systems for livestock, improve water management and water quality, and other resource concerns.

To participate, persons must have a conservation plan for the farm. This plan serves as the basis for the EQIP contract. Applications to participate in EQIP are accepted throughout the year. However, the ranking and selection of applications occurs periodically during designated "batching" periods. The evaluation of applications is competitive. Applications providing the most environmental benefits will receive priority for funding.

Persons interested are encouraged to file applications by the close of business April 1, the deadline for the first designated batching period.

Contact the NRCS in the Davie Soil and Water Conservation District Office, Room 313 of the County Office Building, 180 S. Main St., Mocksville. They can be reached by phone at 751-5011.

Local Teachers Attend Seminars At Cullowhee Center

Bethany W. Carter of Mocksville, fifth-grade teacher at Cooleemee Elementary School, participated in "Support Seminar for Teachers Pursuing National Board Certification" Nov. 3-7, conducted by Mary Kay Cooley, center fellow.

Donald P. Tabat, eighth-grade science teacher at North Davie Middle School, participated in "Science's Time Machine: How Scientists and Writers Tell the Story of Life," Nov. 17-21, conducted by Renee Coward, center fellow.

Loretta G. Tucker of Advance, grades 6-8 mathematics and science teacher at South Davie Middle School, participated in "Support Seminar for Teachers Pursuing National Board Certification," Dec. 1-5, conducted by Greg Johnson, center fellow.

NCCAT was created by the state legislature in 1985 to advance the art and profession of teaching in North Carolina. The center's main focus is a year-round series of residential seminars in the arts, humanities, sciences, technology, communications and health and fitness for pre-kindergarten through twelfth-grade teachers. NCCAT's emphasis is on teacher renewal which directly impacts retention, professional growth and competence. The center's research-based programming is designed to renew teachers' vitality and enthusiasm for the teaching profession and to equip them with new knowledge for the classroom.

Mocksville Students Take Part In Lipscomb University Production

Ashley Boyd 196, McAllister Road, Mocksville, art;

Meghan Godbey, 239 Tower Road, Mocksville, management and human resource management; and Elizabeth Kittrell, 471 Bing Crosby Blvd., Advance, French teaching, Delta Sigma.

The Red, White and Who? cast won the overall Singarama Sweepstakes competition, the top honors awarded to participating casts. They also won the music and staging competitions.

This years Singarama theme was "Home for the Holidays," and casts presented music, choreography and drama related to Valentine's Day, Thanksgiving or July 4. Other casts were "We Go Together" and "St. Valentine's Day Massacre."

This year's program marked the 41st anniversary for the extravaganza and involved more than 300 Lipscomb student.

NOTICE OF SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S FORECLOSURE SALE OF REAL PROPERTY
04-SP-20

UNDER AND BY VIRTUE of the power and authority contained in that certain Deed of Trust executed and delivered by Tiffany R. Howell and Michael Ryan Forelich, dated November 27, 2001 and Recorded on December 3, 2001 in Book 397 at Page 777 in the Office of the Register of Deeds of Davie County, North Carolina; and because of default in the payment of the indebtedness secured thereby and failure to carry out and perform the stipulations and agreements contained therein and, pursuant to demand of the owner and holder of the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust, the undersigned Substitute Trustee will place for sale, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash at the usual place of sale at the Davie County Courthouse, in Mocksville, North Carolina on Tuesday, March 30, 2004 at 10:00 A.M. that parcel of land, including improvements thereon, situated, lying and being in the City of Mocksville, County of Davie, State of North Carolina, and being more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point, an iron lying in the Southern right of way of U.S. Highway 64, said point lying 586 feet West of SR 1151 (Powell Road), and said point being the Northwest corner of Lot #4 and the Northeast corner of the within described tract; thence from said POINT AND PLACE OF BEGINNING South 33 deg. 33 min. 15 sec. West 210.44 feet to an iron, the Southeast corner of the within described tract; thence North 54 deg. 32 min. 45 sec. West 100 feet to an iron, the Southwest corner of the within described tract; thence North 33 deg. 32 min. 20 sec. East 207.04 feet to an iron lying the Southern right of way of U.S. Highway 64, said point being the Northeast corner of Lot #2 and the Northwest corner of the within described tract; thence with the Southern right of way of U.S. Highway 64 South 56 deg. 29 min. 45 sec. East 100 feet to the POINT AND PLACE OF BEGINNING, and being all of Lot #3 of the Greene Willows Subdivision as shown in Plat Book 5, Page 10, Davie County Registry, and as taken from a survey of C. Ray Cates, RLS, dated 10/3/94.

Address of property: 2197 US Highway 64 W, Mocksville, NC 27028

Present Record Owners: Tiffany Renee Howell and Michael Ryan Forelich.

The terms of the sale are that the real property hereinbefore described will be sold for cash to the highest bidder. The Substitute Trustee reserves the right to require a cash deposit or a certified check not to exceed the greater of five percent (5%) of the amount of the bid or Seven Hundred Fifty Dollars ($750.00). In the event that the Owner and Holder is exempt from paying the same, the successful bidder may also be required to pay revenue stamps on the Trustee's Deed, any Land Transfer Tax, and the tax required by N.C.G.S. Section 7A-308(a)(1).

The real property hereinabove described is being offered for sale "AS IS, WHERE IS" and will be sold subject to all superior liens, unpaid taxes, and special assessments. Other conditions will be announced at the sale. The sale will be held open for ten (10) days for upset bids as by law required.

If the Trustee is unable to convey title to this property for any reason, the sole remedy of the purchaser is the return of the deposit. Reasons of such inability to convey include, but are not limited to, the filing of a bankruptcy petition prior to the sale and reinstatement of the loan without the knowledge of the Trustee. If the validity of the sale is challenged by any party, the Trustee, in their sole discretion, if they believe the challenge to have merit, may declare the sale to be void and return the deposit. The purchaser will have not further remedy.

This the 2nd day of March, 2004.

Former Deputy Fire Marshal Is Arrested

A former deputy fire marshal in Davie County is facing charges of impersonating an officer.

Terry Michael Knotts, 42, of King, was arrested March 4 by the Davie County Sheriff's Department.

Sheriff Allen Whitaker said his department started an investigation after Shannon Aaron Owens came to request that his shotgun be recovered after it was confiscated on Jan. 7.

"We made every effort to locate it, but no one had any knowledge of the gun or the incident," Whitaker said.

Deputy Mark Crater started the investigation.

Owens told Crater that he was hunting off U.S. 601 South, across from the Lakewood Motel, when he was approached by a man who flashed a badge and told him he would either charge him with trespassing and hunting without a license, or he could allow his gun to be seized.

Owens turned the gun over to what he thought was a sheriff's department officer.

Whitaker said his officers don't make deals with suspects in crimes. "We would seize the property for evidence, but we don't make deals," Whitaker said. "We've never given a choice of charges."

Owens said the officer was driving a white 1990s Ford Crown Victoria. He could see a marked patrol car at the Lakewood Motel.

Whitaker said the sheriff's department has no vehicle and officer matching the description given by Owens.

They discovered that Knotts, a part-time deputy fire marshal for the past three years, matched the description.

County To Change How EMS Employees Scheduled

Davie County will have to change the way EMS employees work.

A recent investigation by the N.C. Department of Labor revealed that the current way EMS workers are paid - 72 hours for three days on duty, including time for eating and sleeping - can't be done.

EMS employees should work regular 40-hour weeks, County Manager Terry Bralley said.

"The employees enjoyed working a 24-72 hour shift," Bralley said. "It's unfortunate we don't meet the test."

The investigation came as the labor department was looking into time records at the Davie County Sheriff's Department. It is not unusual for the labor department to look into two departments in a county when they investigate one, Bralley said.

"We weren't aware of any problems at the EMS. The issue is how we count time worked and overtime. We had classified EMS like we would law enforcement officers or firefighters. But that's not what they are. EMS is like any other 40-hour week employee with a flexible

Minister In Alienation Of Affection Suit Ready To Tell His Side - In Court

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise Record

A Davie County minister, his two churches, and the United Methodist Church in Western North Carolina are being sued by a Mocksville man for alienation of affection.

The lawsuit was filed last week in Davie County District Court.

Wayne A. Despres makes 13 claims in the lawsuit and seeks compensation of more than $10,000 for each.

The minister, Dr. John F. Andrews, said he hopes the issue can be resolved quickly.

"My only response is there is two sides to it, and I was examined by the district committee and the conference committee two years ago when this came to light, and they found no evidence of the charges," he said Monday.

"I am trusting the system to work."

Andrews, 59, has been pastor of Liberty and Concord United Methodist churches for three years. A Davie County native, this is his first assignment in his home county during his career. He has also been an Army chaplain.

The lawsuit claims Despres' former wife, Holly Jean, went to Andrews for counseling about her marriage and abuse during childhood. The suit says the minister was "counseling her that God wanted her to leave the plaintiff (Despres), that God wanted her to engage in an adulterous affair with him, buying her gifts and writing her letters and taking her out on dates..."

"I don't cross that boundary," Andrews said. "This is just ... I just don't want to comment. I will have my day. I can show you plenty of evidence to the contrary. It's hard to comment about this. Things just blow my mind. There's nothing you can do until you get to court. I have 39 years of ministry and 25 years in the military, both reserve and active duty, and this is the first time I've ever had anything like this.

"I didn't do marriage counseling with either person," he said. "People get pretty ugly in this stuff. I've seen this happen before when somebody gets hurt.

Storehouse Near Deadline For Church Challenge Grant

The Storehouse for Jesus on Depot Street in Mocksville was issued a fund-raising challenge by The Community Foundation of Davie County last fall to raise needed funds for its building project.

The Storehouse was challenged to raise $90,000 from Davie County churches by March 31 to receive a $30,000 award from the Community Foundation.

According to Cherrie Monsees, Storehouse treasurer, the churches had raised just over $80,000 of the challenge in mid-March - leaving less than $10,000 to be raised by March 31.

"We have received many pledges in addition to the cash donations from the churches. They have definitely responded to the challenge and the need for the new facility," Monsees said. "We are confident we will reach the $90,000 goal by March 31."

In addition to the challenge from the foundation, Storehouse volunteers have been working to make final a sizeable grant application submitted to the Kate B. Reynolds Foundation. County grant writer, Kim Harris, guided the volunteers in putting the proposal together.

According to Harris, Max Cranfill, retired industrial engineering and automation director from Unifi, has volunteered to serve as the project manager.

Violins Have Found Advance

It's always the little stuff that sinks my ship. Take last week, for example.

In my column about the national attention given to the bathing incident at Wendy's of Advance, I related a conversation with a woman at a church I visited in Charlotte.

Charmed by the talented violinist at the church, I told my neighbor in the pew we didn't have such as that back in little old Advance.

I was wrong.

We do have at least one church violinist in the increasingly sophisticated Advance. At my church.

If my attendance weren't so spotty, I would have known it.

On top of that, the violinist is my neighbor and friend.

(We are still friends, aren't we, Amy?)

Amy Duffner gave up the violin in favor of children 10 years ago. With her children now beautiful, charming and well above average, she has started playing again. At church.

She often plays just before the 11 a.m. service.

I, of course, usually arrive at 11:05, and they don't wait for me to start.

She has played a lot, I have now learned. I have heard her once.

She was very good. On reflection, she was probably much better than that Charlotte violinist. A lot better. And more personable, too. And if he has children, they aren't nearly as charming and well-mannered as Amy's pair — Zane and Jillian. Wonderful children — always welcome at my home.

So, class, what have we learned?

First, Advance has everything Charlotte has, including traffic jams and violinists and churches. Two, go to church more often and on time and I won't have to eat so much crow. Three, don't chat it up with the woman in the pew beside you when you should be listening to the sermon. Four, not everything that pops into my head should find its way onto newsprint. Five, a violinist has feelings, too, and a little quip like that could send her career into a downward spiral, and it would be all my fault.

So if you want a good violinist with your sermon, you can go to Charlotte, or you can come to my church. But don't be late.

Spitting out our arugula

We eat spinach at my house. Lots of spinach. I don't call it that. I tell the 4-year-old it's rabbit food. Cowboys eat it.

No ice cream until we eat lots of rabbit food.

I stuff it in his mouth, if necessary. I even feed the neighbor kids spinach before they get junk food — part of my "Popeye" cartoon fixation from youth. I serve it raw, never cooked. I can't stand it cooked.

At the grocery store, I stocked up on two large packages Monday.

I thought it was spinach. It looked like spinach. It was in the spinach spot.

I fed it to the boys for dinner — their appetizer.

Both spit it out, yucked loudly and washed out their mouths, coughing and spitting.

Try it yourself, dad, my 13-year-old protested. Something's wrong with it.

So I did. At first it tasted okay. Then terrible. Then worse. Much worse. Determined to swallow it, I did, but the awful taste didn't quit.

That wasn't spinach, I quickly discovered. It was arugula. Organic arugula. I must have bought the store's entire annual supply.

It should be illegal. Our government worries about cigarettes and carcinogens and cholesterol but does nothing to keep arugula off the grocery shelves.

Arugula, I have now discovered, dates back to the Roman days, but it has only recently been cultivated in any quantity. It is generously labeled as a "tart, pungent, aromatic salad green."

That means it tastes and smells bad.

It tastes so bad it must be good for you. Unlike my use, discerning people mix only a little arugula with their other salad greens. A little research has found the only reason it is slightly more popular than dandelions and has survived as a table food: the Romans considered it an aphrodisiac. Those arugula farmers 2,000 years ago sure were clever at creating demand for a product they could never have sold otherwise.

Macedonia Does Have A Violinist - A Good One

To the editor:

Cousin Dwight, I hope I can have a couple of minutes to correct you on a thing or two. I know you probably never made a mistake before but you made a bummer this time and it is an embarrassment to the whole family.

In your little article about Advance you thought it was a joke about those innocent boys at Wendy's who were just having fun with a camera while cleaning up. Then you said your church didn't have a violinist. You have been missing out on some things while you were gallivanting around to the big cities. We at Macedonia are lucky enough to have Amy Duffner play with our band. One occasion, when the well-known Charles Smith was playing with her, he made a remark. He said, we were just fiddling but she is a real violinist. She got her training at a high priced school up north, he said.

One time after she played I saw her in the parking lot and I stopped and told her I really enjoyed her playing. She said, "thank you". She also said "I was so nervous". I told her she had no reason to be nervous.

Dwight, I know you will want to repent for what you did. I just hope you don't lose your job. I know God and Amy will forgive you. You be at church next Sunday.

Owners Responsible For Dogs

To the editor:

Regarding Ms. Stevens' letter last week (There's No Justice For Dog That Was Shot, 3/11/04), I empathize with the writer from the perspective of having to deal with the injury of a family pet. As a pet owner myself and a part-time cattle rancher, I would like to make a few general observations about responsibility.

Since my familiarity with Ms. Stevens' event is limited solely to that which she wrote in her letter, my remarks are in no way directed at the Stevens family nor are they intended to place fault with anyone. It is nice living in an area that does not have a leash law; however, the absence of a leash law does not give pet owners the right to let their animals run and play free in an uncontrolled or unsupervised manner.

Just as we livestock ranchers do not allow our cows or horses to roam free, for fear of damage and/or bodily harm they may cause others, pet owners must also bear the same level of responsibility when it comes to free-ranging their favorite dog or cat.

I have experienced firsthand the malicious attacks and slow death of a newborn calf by roaming dogs, as I expect many others have, too. I rescued my neighbor's favorite pet (Corgi) dog as it was attacked and pinned down helplessly by 3-4 other dogs from the area (all of which were wearing collars and tags). I do not condone killing domestic animals for sports, yet if any of my children, pets or livestock were in imminent danger at the expense of a stray dog or dogs while on my property, I would not hesitate to shoot the attacking animals with the intent to kill them.

Should one of my dogs or cows get loose and cause damage to someone else's property or bodily harm to another person, I would fully support their decision to dispatch the animal and I would bear full responsibility for any damage caused. This is indeed the only responsible action to take. The surest way to lose many of the freedoms or privileges we often take for granted is to use them irresponsibly.

Reader Wants Kathy Chaffin Back

To the editor:

I'm confused, Mr. Editor. Where is Kathy Chaffin? I miss her articles. They were so good. It gave us an insight into the folks from Davie, just what a hometown newspaper is supposed to do. Being able to read her stories was one of the reasons I bought the Enterprise. If she is not going to be having her stories printed in the paper, I will just scan the web page and save my 50 cents. I wonder how many others agree with me?

Bring her back.

This Life Not The Final Chapter

To the editor:

In a recent editorial by a man who claims to be all ears but who seems to have a generous portion of mouth as well, priests, clergy, the church, the Catholics and God seemed to be all lumped together in the same group with pedophiles.

The problem that our friend has is that there appears to be a lack of accountability for those who have violated the very moral code that they profess to uphold. There is no doubt that if you look around you can easily find many gross injustices in every corner of our world.

I would like to offer a view of this issue from a Biblical perspective. What people who are aganist God seem to ignore is that the story is not over yet. This life is not the final chapter, nor is it forgotten by the One who commands us to love one another, instead of hurting each other and ourselves. The same God who loves man so much that He has made a way to be forgiven, also hates evil so much that He will never let it go unpunished.

The very popular, current movie that so graphically shows the suffering of God the Son, must be understood in light of just how much God does hate sin and cannot let it go unpunished. Christ suffered and died as a substitute for all those who regret their sins and who are turning away from sin to Christ. Those who refuse to turn away from sin and accept Christ's forgiveness will, without exception, suffer the same punishment that is reserved for the devil himself.

Throughout His word, God tells us that payday is coming and that no liar or religious impostor will be forgotten, and no dark deed will be overlooked. Only those who truly accept Jesus Christ as both Savior and Lord can escape the hell that must be paid for sin. I know that this view is not a popular view in our time, but it is God's view, the only view that really counts.

Who Is The Real Israel

I can rightfully assume on an adamant stand that the contents of this article will not only generate envy, strife, and contention among the Jews, but also among the various Christian denominations as well. It seems that many Christians have used the word "Jew, interchangeably with Christianity in such a way as to identify God's chosen people as fleshly descendants of Abraham, instead of spiritual descendants of Christ. The word "Jew" is therefore an oxymoron found on the lips of many Christian people today who fail to realize that they are the real Israel, the spiritual Israel, instead of the fleshly physical Israel who claim to be the chosen of God.

The problem lies in two parts. The first part being that the physical Jew fails to understand that the Abrahamic Covenant was a symbolic covenant that was to be later perfected by Christ, but was closed up under the law which was imposed upon sinners until the seed should come to whom the promise was made and that promise being to those who come to God by faith through grace and not by the flesh, nor by the works of the law.

The second part being that the real Israel, (born again people by the blood of Jesus), have failed to recognize that they are the real Israel. Only until we understand the symbolic nature of the Abrahamic Covenant can we began to understand just who the real Israel really is.

Abraham:

There can be no doubt as to Abraham's role in the creation of the physical Jewish race. God told Abraham in Genesis 12:1-3, "Now the Lord said unto Abram, get thee out of thy country and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will show thee. And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great, and thou shalt be a blessing. And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee, and in thee shall all of the nations of the earth be blessed".

The physical Jews state their claim as being the chosen of God because of their ancestral heritage from Abraham. But a careful scrutiny of Genesis 12:1-3 reveals quite the opposite.

"I will make of thee a great nation". There can be no doubt as to the existence of the nation of Israel. But when you compare that to the fact that God said, "I will bless thee, and make thy name great, and thou shalt be a blessing", you can only conclude that the nation in question is not a physical one but a spiritual one. This can be proven by the type of blessing that Abraham received from God.

The Bible says in Genesis 14:17-19, "And the king of Sodom went out to meet him (Abraham) after his return from the slaughter of Chedorlaomer, and of the kings that were with him of the Valley Shaveh which is the king's dale. And Melchizedek King of Salem brought fourth BREAD AND WINE, and he was the priest of the most high God, and he blessed him". Friend, the blessing that God gave to Abraham was the blessing of BREAD AND WINE. This was symbolic of the offering of Christ. Jesus said in Mathew 26:26 " And as they were eating Jesus took BREAD and blessed it and break it and gave it to his disciples, and said, take eat this is my body. And he took the cup and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, drink ye all of it. For this is my blood of the New Testament which is shed for many for the remission of sins". The reason that God chose Abraham to offer this blessing to was because that Abraham believed in the promise of God that God would give him a son while as of yet it seemed impossible. And because of his faith God counted it unto him as righteousness. And those who bare the same faith of Abraham have their faith accounted unto them for righteousness when they believe on the Lord Jesus Christ. Abraham was the father of the spiritual believer. The blessing of God proves this.

God also told Abraham "in thee shall all of the nations of the earth be blessed". It had to be a spiritual blessing because all of the nations of the earth are not physical Jews. The only reason that God chose the children of Israel as his people was because that they were descendants of Abraham. And Abraham was considered as their father. Abraham believed in an almighty and all-powerful God and because of this his faith was credited unto him as righteousness. So therefore the seed of Abraham had to bare the same type of righteousness in order to be the children of Abraham. Since the children of Abraham were fleshly descendents known as the children of Israel then the law was imposed upon them for the purpose of controlling sin. But the law was weak through the flesh and instead of controlling sin it promoted sin. So Jesus came in the flesh to condemn sin in the flesh by putting to death his own flesh. Please understand that the motions of sin are through the flesh so his flesh took on our sins and he died for us. And he came to his own Pews) and they received him not. Instead they took hold of the law as a means of being self righteousness not understanding that the law was a shadow of what was to be fulfilled in Christ. Christ perfected the law. Had the Jew been made perfect by the law then there would have been no further need for a continual sacrifice of the law. It was so important to God that he have his own people under the Old Testament, and these people were the children of Israel. These were the ones that received the law of Moses. God was even married to them through the law. But God is a spirit. So in order to be a child of God you must be his son in the spirit and not in the deeds of the law. So the word was made flesh and the word was the very spirit of God himself. And it was the flesh that had to die to destroy the marriage of God to Israel through the law thus making the new marriage one in the spirit by faith through grace to who so ever would only believe. It was offered to the Jews first but they refused it. Thus Christ fulfilled the Abrahamic Covenant where as Abraham was a representation of the Father, Isaac the sacrificial lamb, and Jacob the church. Christ perfected the covenant by abolishing the law for justification. The Bible says in Galatians 3:26-29, "For ye are all children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. For as many of you have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male or female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. And if ye be Christ's then ye are Abraham's seed and heirs according to the promise". It is time that all the born again believers across America and the world to stand up and let the world know just who the real Israel is. It is time that we put a stop to the Devil's crowd pretending to be the chosen of God. I say this in hopes of spreading the truth, not to condemn or put down my fellow man. But we must all learn to never compromise with the truth. And we must also learn to use the truth to uplift those who are wrong. The following is New Testament scripture for all Christians to use in converting the physical Jew into the kingdom of God.

It is very important my friends that we, as a people, seeking for the truth, understanding, and unity of the brethren understand that being chosen of God for the purpose of bearing his name rest solely on the election of grace by faith in Jesus Christ.

The Bible says in Galatians 3:26-29, For ye are all children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. There is neither Jew, nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. And if ye be Christ, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

My friend let me ask you a question. Are you an heir according to the promise? Are you Abraham's seed? If you are an heir according to the promise of God then you are the seed of Abraham. And if you are Abraham's seed then you are of Christ.

Of course there are those who are natural born Jews who claim their heritage of being God's elect because of the fact that they are fleshly descendants of Abraham. We can trace their precarious reasoning back to the scriptures. In Genesis 12:1-3 God said to Abraham, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house unto a land that I will shew thee. And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great and thou shalt be a blessing. And I will bless them that bless thee and curse him that curseth thee, and in thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed. The Bible goes on to say in Genesis 17:4, Behold my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of many nations. This my friends was the beginning of the Jewish race.

Now please understand this friend. It is impossible for the seed of Abraham to be the children of God through their fleshly ancestry. Listen to what the Apostle Paul said in Romans 2:28 concerning the real identity of a Jew. For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly, neither is that circumcism which is outward in the flesh. Friend what the Apostle Paul is saying here is that a real Jew is not a Jew outwardly in his natural flesh. In other words his physical birth doesn't make him a real Jew. Neither does the circumcism in his flesh constitute righteousness toward God. Friend you must understand that under the first covenant a Jew was a Jew by his birthright through his flesh. But the commandments of God could not be fulfilled by his people through the flesh because that the law was weak through the flesh, (Romans 8:3). The first covenant had fault. The first covenant was through the law and was handed down to the descendants of Abraham. Under the first covenant a Jew was a physical Jew. But now the Apostle Paul says that a real Jew is not a physical one, but a spiritual one. Romans 2:29 says But he is a Jew which is one inwardly, and circumcism is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter, whose praise is not of man, but of God. What Paul is saying here is that since the first covenant was abolished then the method of the election was changed from a physical birth right to being saved by grace through faith. The seed to whom the promises were made was the seed of Abraham. The seed of Abraham was a spiritual one and not a physical one. Galatians 3:6-7 says Even as Abraham believed God and it was accounted unto him for righteousness, know ye therefore that they which are of faith the same are the children of Abraham. Just as the covenants changed so did the manner in which the election was carried out. It changed from those who were given the law (physical Israel), to those who are not under the law (spiritual Israel). The old covenant was through the letter, which brought death. Now the new covenant is through the spirit, which brings forth life. Now we can see that the physical Jews are not the real Israel, but the spiritual ones are. Being born of God is not a physical thing but a spiritual thing. The two covenants, one governed by the law and the other by the spirit cannot coexist. The Bible says in Galatians 4:22 that Abraham had two sons. One by a bondmaid, and the other by a free woman. He that was after the bondmaid was after the flesh. But he of the free woman was by promise. These represent the two covenants. The one after the flesh was physical, but that after the spirit was by faith (spiritual). The Bible says that in Isaac shall thy seed be called. Now Isaac was by promise, which was by faith. We are saved by faith and not by works. The real Israel are the ones who come through the bloodline of Christ. And friends that makes the chosen people of God to be WHO SO EVER WILL. It isn't a fleshly thing anymore it is all spiritual now, and that being by the blood of Jesus. The chosen people of God are the ones who were hid in Christ from the foundation of the world. Until Christ could come and purchase our redemption from the law then those who were under the law were counted as the seed of Abraham according to the flesh. But when Christ came and died for us he died in the flesh to make the seed of Abraham a spiritual seed and not a fleshly one. The only reason that God had a people in the Old Testament was because of the fact that when the created son of God (Adam) sinned then death passed upon all men. So therefore the law was instituted among a people who were symbolic of what the New Testament saints would represent In the spirit. The law could only be given to those who were under the law. The law is for the disobedient and the ungodly. But the New Testament Jew is the one who comes to God through faith in Jesus Christ, thus fulfilling the covenant that God made with Abraham saying in thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed. The Bible makes it very clear that the seed of Abraham was meant to be a spiritual seed and not a fleshly one. God word says in Genesis 15:4, And behold, the word of the Lord came unto him saying, this shall not be thine heir, but he that shall come forth out of thine own bowels shall be thine heir. And this was referring to Isaac. Isaac was the child promised to Abraham by faith. And friend we are called in Isaac. We are the children of promise by faith in Jesus Christ.

To all of the Jews out there who reject Jesus Christ as your Lord and savior think about this. If Abraham were your father then wouldn't that make you children of Abraham by the flesh? And that still doesn't negate the fact that Abraham came forth out of Adam. The same God that told Adam that in the day that he ate of the tree of knowledge of good and evil he would die was still the same God that told Abraham that he would be the father of many nations. Now knowing that Abraham came forth from Adam through a period of time and that death had passed from Adam to every man how can you be the sons of Abraham in the flesh and claim to be the chosen people of God without the spirit? The seed of Abraham therefore had to be a seed of faith. And Abraham was the father of the believers because he believed the promises of God.

Have you ever wondered why that in the Old Testament God was the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob? Abraham was a symbolic figure of the Father. Isaac was a symbolic figure of the sacrificial lamb. And Jacob represents the church. Actually friends when God made the covenant with Abraham he was making a covenant that he had already made with himself, because he was and still is the Father. Abraham was just a symbolic figure of what was to justify the New Testament saint.

Cooleemee Board Wants Own Zoning Ordinance

By Kim Justen
Davie County Enterprise Record

The Cooleemee Town Board wants the town to have its own zoning ordinances.

And on March 18, during the continuation of their regular meeting, they voted to enter into agreement with CMR Services to reach that goal.

"Trying to develop it on our own through personal resources, was time consuming to say the least," said commissioner Michael Barron. That led to a conversation with CMR, "to see what was available for zoning ordinances."

The cost of the ordinances is a flat fee of $7,750, to be made in five payments. "It includes all meetings, hearings, development and tweaking of the ordinance until it's to our liking."

It does not include maps, but the county has offered to do that through an intergovernmental agreement.

CMR was formerly Benchmark, the same company that created the nuisance ordinances and minimum housing ordinance. They anticipate the process will take six months, but the time frame can be extended. "They'll work in any kind of time frame we like, so we can stretch it out for our cash flow."

Fran Parker made the second to Barron's motion to accept the contract, contingent on verifying the costs (there was a typo on one page) and review by the town attorney. She was in favor of starting soon because it would allow some of the costs to come out the current year's budget.

"We put some money in this year's budget for long range planning," she said. "We could go into it [the agreement] this year and use some of this money to cover the cost… and at least get one payment out of this year's budget."

As they discussed the zoning ordinance, board members determined it was most likely that in the beginning, they would be the zoning board. "I think right now, while we're going through the motions, it would be beneficial for us to do it at the onset, then hand it off eventually," said Barron, pointing out that the new board would need to be trained before responsibilities could be handed off.

Cooleemee's zoning is defined by the county ordinances and its overlay district.

"The county has been very good to work with," said Barron, "they try to work with us every chance they get. But we love here, this is our town, and it's our responsibility.

"To have a very well written ordinance, that's representative of our community, we need to have our own zoning with our own input. We feel like it's one of the fundamental responsibilities of the town."

Barron said there will be committees in the process, and they will include community representatives. No committee has been created.

Former Deputy Fire Marshal Faces Charges

Detective Stuart Parker interviewed Knotts, who denied involvement in the crime. He refused an offer to take a polygraph test. The gun has not been recovered.

He is scheduled to face charges of larceny of a firearm and impersonating an officer May 6 in Davie District Court.

County Manager Terry Bralley said that Knotts last day of work for the county was Feb. 17. He would not say whether Knotts was fired or resigned, or why.

work schedule."

The labor department checked time records for the past two years, and the county will likely have to pay some back money to employees, although the amount hasn't been decided, Bralley said.

"We have negotiated with the department of labor hard, and we will do exactly what they say."

Man Charged With Kidnapping Girlfriend

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

A local man has been charged with kidnapping after being accused of holding his girlfriend at knifepoint for hours then forcing her to leave her home.

Fowler

Mark Jerome Fowler, 35, of 168 Hickory Street, Cooleemee was arrested March 17 and charged with felonious second degree trespassing, first degree burglary, assault on a female, and communicating threats.

According to Davie Sheriff Allen Whitaker, around 12:45 a.m. last Wednesday Fowler allegedly went to the home of his girlfriend, Melinda Jean Lowery, 26, who lives at 1071 Ridge Road, Mocksville.

Fowler began beating on the front door. Lowery went to the door because she was afraid the noise would wake her parents, who live nearby.

Fowler forced open the door, pushed Lowery out of the way, and entered her home. Fowler then pulled a knife and held it to Lowery's throat, Whitaker reported.

Fowler hit Lowery with the handle of the knife and told her if she tried to get a warrant he'd kill her family, Whitaker said.

When Lowery attempted to call her father Fowler took the phone. Fowler was told to leave, but refused, Whitaker reported.

Whitaker reported Fowler held Lowery down on the bed for approximately two hours, refusing to let her up and not allowing her to leave.

Fowler then forced Lowery outside to her car and told her to drive to his house. Fowler followed in his vehicle and attempted to run Lowery's vehicle off the road several times, according to Whitaker.

While driving Lowery approached a friend's home and pulled her vehicle into the driveway. The friend heard the disturbance and came outside. That's when Fowler left.

Fowler returned to his residence and was arrested there by officers around 3 a.m. He was secured in Davie Detention Center in lieu of a $30,000 secured bond but was released the next day after posting bond.

Lowery suffered minor injuries and was treated at Davie Hospital for bruises, according to Whitaker.

No drugs or alcohol were involved in the incident, according to an investigation report by Sheriff's Deputy David Miller.

Fowler's criminal record includes offenses dating back to the late 1980's. He has been charged with probation violation, communicating threats, assault with a deadly weapon, assault on a government official, common law robbery, second degree trespassing, and several driving infractions.

His first court appearance is scheduled today.

Minister Says He Wants To Keep 'Good Ministry'

"If you're going to be a minister of God, you've got to follow the rules, and that's what I've tried to do."

Based on the suit, the Despres couple was married 18 years and have a daughter, 18. The woman left her husband March 25, 2002.

Holly Jean Despres joined the church in 1998.

"I was just a friend," Andrews said.

"We believe in celibacy and fidelity in marriage, but I am a friendly person and try to help others. I have a good ministry and don't want to see it ruined by this. I don't think it will be. Attendance is up. There are some good people here, a lot of them I went to high school with.

"I feel God has given me a great ministry here, and I hope to continue this ministry. I'm hoping this will resolve itself quickly."

Together, Concord and Liberty churches have 500 members.

Neither Andrews, the churches, or the United Methodist denomination have filed a formal reply to the lawsuit.

Despres claims he has suffered emotional distress and has been diagnosed with depression and great pain and suffering because of Andrews' conduct. The lawsuit says the minister and Mrs. Despres arranged clandestine meetings at the beach, the mountains, hotels, restaurants in North Carolina and out of state.

The lawsuit accuses the minister of telling Despres to accept his wife's leaving him "as God's will".

The suit claims the minister and Mrs. Despres lived together as husband and wife after March 25, 2002 and at least once occupied a hotel room together.

The lawsuit claims the Western Conference of the United Methodist Church condoned and ratified its minister's actions and should also be held liable. It also says the local church's board of elders refused to meet with Despres.

The lawsuit says Despres met with a Western Conference official, Dr. Michael Leatherwood, and received a promise that the identity of his witness would not be divulged. The witness was Despres' daughter, and her name was divulged. The lawsuit claims that is the reason Mrs. Despres terminated her relationship with her daughter.

Challenge Grant Ends March 31

"Max has a wealth of knowledge about facilities, having supervised projects in North Carolina and internationally," Monsees said. "We are so fortunate that he has chosen to become active in this project and work closely with Marie Collins and the board of directors. Max will oversee all aspects of the building, attending to every detail. We feel truly blessed to have him."

Anyone interested in making a gift toward the Community Foundation challenge is asked to:

- make a donation through their church by March 31; or
- mail a donation by March 31 to the Storehouse for Jesus, PO Box 216, Mocksville, with the name of their church noted on the check.

Cooleemee Briefs

Crossing Guard Providing Safety

It didn't take long for Police Chief Joey Reynolds to find a crossing guard for Cooleemee Elementary School. Jimmy Hampton has taken the job, and according to Reynolds, school officials are happy to have him there. The first few days were rocky, but traffic is moving smoothly now. "We don't have the congestion on Marginal Street that we did have before, so everything's looking good."

Littersweep To Be April 3

Cooleemee will be participating in Littersweep on April 3 from 10-11:30 a.m. Davie County's master gardeners are planning this year's event, in which community volunteers don orange vests and collect trash from the roadways. The board approved refreshment expenses of up to $100. The organizers asked the town if anyone had a grill they could borrow to cook hot dogs. The town decided it was time to have a grill for several of the annual functions and approved the purchase of a grill at a price not to exceed $100.

Those interested in participating in Littersweep can meet at Cooleemee Park at 10 a.m. on April 3. Refreshments will be served after the sweep.

Officer's Hours Transferred

The board approved transferring Mark Weiner's sick time to Mecklenburg County, where he is employed.

Police Department Improvements

A new sign. Paint. Some doors. The board and police chief were in agreement that the police department needed some improvements. The question was, how much money to dedicate to capital improvements there, and who should be in charge?

"There's new doors, fixtures, blinds, that kind of thing, some insulation is needed in the outside room, some light fixtures and stuff," said commissioner Michael Barron. "I think it would be wise to allow Joey to spend up to a limit… My feeling is he's there. If he wants to get the painting, the carpet cleaned, that's up to him."

The board agreed with Barron and approved letting Reynolds set the improvement priorities. In addition, they transferred $2,000 from general capital outlay to police department capital outlay, giving Reynolds a total of $3,754 to spend on improvements.

Board Considers Sidewalk Grant

Commissioner Carl Smith presented information about a sidewalk grant from the N.C. Department of Transportation. The grant had a deadline of April 2. Although they set a date for a tentative workshop on the subject in the hopes of being able to apply this year, the workshop was cancelled because of the timeframe.

Cleanup Set

Spring Cleanup has been set for May 17-19, following the regular schedule. For more information, contact town hall. The town is researching whether or not limb pickup could be part of the program this year.

Davie High Students Charged With Selling Counterfeit Drugs

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Powdered aspirin allegedly sold as narcotics has resulted in felony charges against two local high school students.

The students' names are being withheld since both are juveniles.

According to Davie Sheriff Allen Whitaker, the incident occurred at Davie High last Thursday around 11 a.m. outside the school's gym.

Whitaker reported the school's Student Resource Officer, Scott Kimel, conducted an investigation after receiving information of the activity.

According to Whitaker, the purchaser informed Kimel he had a plastic bag in his book pack that contained what he thought was "meth," or crystal amphetamine, a powerful stimulant.

Whitaker reported a small amount of white powder inside a small Ziploc bag was recovered from the student's bag.

The purchaser told Kimel the item was being sold outside the gym for $20 but he did not have that amount. He had purchased the product for $3 instead.

Kimel performed a field test on the substance to detect evidence of cocaine and/or methamphetamines, but the results were negative.

When Kimel confronted the seller about the test results, the seller told him the substance was two Goody's headache powders. "He said he only meant it as a joke and wanted to see what the other student would tell him later," Whitaker reported.

Both students were released to their parent's custody by the school. Juvenile petitions have been submitted charging each with felonious sell or delivery of counterfeit narcotics and both have been suspended from Davie High for 10 days.

Clarksbury Seniors Make Bluebird Houses

During March, the environmental committee of the V-Point Ruritan Club provided 50 bluebird house kits to Cub Scouts and Weblos from Harmony Troop 378 and to the Senior group at Clarksbury United Methodist Church.

Distributed with each of the kits were brochures from the N.C. Cooperative Extension Service titled "Managing Backyards and Other Urban Habitats for Birds." Allen Bolick and Tim Gaither made the project a success.

Estate Planning Seminar April 1

The Community Foundation of Davie County will sponsor its first estate planning seminar on Thursday, April 1, at 7 p.m. at the Clubhouse of Bermuda Run Country Club.

Robert C. Vaughn, attorney with Vaughn, Perkinson, Ehlinger, Moxley, & Stogner, will conduct the seminar.

"We asked Bob Vaughn to conduct the seminar because of his vast experience in creating charitable trusts," said Jane Simpson, president of the foundation. "Bob specializes in estate planning and understands the intricacies of creating trusts that benefit the donor and the community. We are hopeful that community members will attend to learn more about the options that exist to benefit donors through tax savings and the community through charitable gifts."

Vaughn will discuss a variety of charitable giving vehicles ranging from bequests, to gifts of life insurance, to charitable remainder trusts that allow the donor to receive an income and ultimately benefit the community with the remainder.

Vaughn has worked closely with the Winston-Salem Foundation for a number of years, serving a term as chair of the foundation committee. He was president of the NC Bar Association in 1985-1986, is a fellow of the American College of Trusts and Estates Council, and of the American College of Tax Counsel. He has been a member of a number of boards and committees of community and educational organizations.

The mission of The Community Foundation of Davie County is to "advance philanthropy and pool donor assets for the benefit of our community."

The foundation accepts gifts in any amount, at any time, toward the Community Unrestricted Fund or the Community Scholarship Fund. A variety of options for establishment of named funds in honor or memory of donors is available.

To learn more, contact Simpson at 936-0045; email jsimpson@daviefoundation.org or visit the foundation web-site at www.daviefoundation.org.

Advance Fire Department Barbecue Is Next Friday

The Advance Fire Department semi-annual beef and pork barbecue will be held from 6 a.m. until sold out on Friday, April 2.

Planning Board Seeks Public Input On Land Development Plan

The Davie County Planning Board has scheduled a public workshop to solicit comments about proposed changes to Davie County's Land Development Plan.

Three workshops were held in November 2003.

The next workshop will be Thursday, April 8 from 6-8 p.m. at the Davie County Public Library, 371 N. Main St., Mocksville.

"The turnout at the November workshops was very good," said John Gallimore, Davie County planning director. "The planning board has considered the comments from those workshops and would like to give additional time for the public to review the changes and meet with the board prior to any formal meetings or recommendations."

The Land Development Plan establishes a general policy regarding growth and development and sets specific actions the county will take to implement this policy.

Workshops are the easiest way for the public to review the plan and any changes being considered by the planning board, Gallimore said.

Copies of the plan and proposed changes, along with a comment form, are available from the county. Copies of the draft plan are also available on the county's website.

For more information, to obtain copies or to submit comments, contact the: Davie Development Services Department, 123 S. Main St., Mocksville, 751-3340.

Historian Presents Town With Symbol Explanations

Jim Rumley, Cooleemee's town historian, presented the town board with a framed explanation of the items in the Cooleemee Centennial Symbol.

The symbol was voted on by more than 1,000 people in 1994, and was designed by Joanne Pierce Roberts.

The symbology was given to the town after Carl Smith, board member, incorporated the symbol into the town's flag.

The wagon wheel surrounding the seal represents the Great Wagon Road that many of Cooleemee's settlers used to come from Pennsylvania, as well as the horse-drawn wagons they used to get here.

The Old Wood School was built in 1903 and was Davie County's first graded school.

The arrowhead, ax and feather represent the native Americans who originally lived in the area.

The White Oak represents Jesse Pearson. His father once owned the land around Cooleemee, and the town, originally named Cooleemee Falls, was named after his plantation. The oak was chosen to represent Pearson because he accepted the surrender of the Kulami tribe of Creek Indians in Alabama. Their name means "where the white oak grows."

The spinning wheel represents the spirit of self-reliance.

And the dam represents the river and all the commerce it brought to the area from before the American Revolution.

Town Learns About Plans For Shelters During Emergencies

By Kim Justen
Davie County Enterprise Record

Just one week after sheer winds struck the area, Cooleemee board members listened to a presentation from Dwayne Smith, Davie County Director of Emergency Services.

The talk also came during North Carolina's severe weather awareness week.

Smith said there are three designated emergency shelters in Davie County that can be opened: the VFW in Cooleemee, Brock Center gym in Mocksville and the Ruritan building across from the Smith Grove fire department.

But if one or all need to be opened, it may not be the one closest to you. For instance, if a tornado hit Cooleemee and the VFW was considered unsafe, residents could be sent to one of the other two.

Two radio stations are designated to carry Davie County's emergency information WTQR (104.1FM) and WDSL (1520AM).

"If the shelters are opened, they'll say so," said Smith. The shelters were last opened during the ice storm of 1996.

"It's just a matter of cranking up the generator. Now, it's not going to be a paradise. There will be cold meals, and bathroom facilities with running water."

Many people won't take advantage once they find out they can't bring their pets, Smith said. Animals that provide medical assistance, such as hearing/seeing-eye dogs are exempt.

Smith presented the town with a weather alert radio that will only go off if there is a weather alert for Davie County. Although the town cannot send out an alarm, it will allow representatives to answer questions about whether or not the town is under and advisory or warning.

"Ideally, every home should have one," said Smith. He said they are available at certain electronics stores and can run off batteries or electric power.

He also dropped off a stack of Family Preparedness Guidelines, which list all the things you need for a home disaster plan. "The pamphlet tells everything you're going to need on hand. It also lists some things people can do for themselves." The guidelines are available in the town hall.

Smith said some people assume that if the fire whistle goes off during bad weather, it is some sort of warning. "The fire whistle is not a tornado warning. They're being called out to block roads where power lines or limbs have fallen," or to deal with other emergencies.

There are no weather sirens in Davie County. This is true of most areas in the country.

"In our case, the weather sirens are too closely toned to the fire department sirens and can't be distinguished. Another problem is that depending on the direction of the wind at the time, the sirens can't be heard by some people as little as a half a mile away."

Smith points to the weather radios and the local radio stations as the best way to know if bad weather is approaching.

Cattle Farmers Should Beware Of Poor Nutrition

State agriculture officials are urging cattle farmers to monitor the quality of their feed following a recent increase in cattle deaths due to accidental starvation.

"The N.C. Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services' veterinary staff have performed at least two dozen necropsies on cattle that died from starvation due to poor feed quality," said Agriculture Commissioner Britt Cobb. "In addition, we have seen similar cases in llamas, sheep and goats. We want farmers to be aware of this potentially life-threatening situation in order to avoid more accidental deaths."

According to State Veterinarian Dr. David Marshall, this is a critical time of year nutritionally for cattle, because most herds are calving in the spring and the animals' nutritional needs increase significantly prior to giving birth and in the two to three months following calf births.

"Roughage fed to cattle during calving season needs to have enough energy and protein content to allow the calf to develop properly, allow for the production of milk, and allow the cow to recover from calving, which is stressful and requires tremendous amounts of energy," said Dr. Pete Moisan, with the Animal Disease Diagnostic Laboratory System. The metabolic needs of cattle is greater in the cool, damp weather of fall, winter and early spring when they expend more energy to maintain body temperature. Meeting the cattle's increased metabolic needs requires quality feed and a plan. Most hay fed early in the fall and winter is quality roughage, but as the winter wears on, the hay can be rained on, exposed to sunlight and frozen. By the time spring comes, this type of exposure can reduce the quality of hay, precisely when cows most need additional protein and energy.

Accidental starvation due to poor feed can occur in cattle at any age. Cattle that are two to three years old are particularly susceptible to poor feed problems, because they are still growing and are less aggressive when feeding at a trough or hay rack, Moisan said. Older cows with no front teeth and cattle with a heavy parasite infestation are especially susceptible.

Poor quality feed is a threat to pregnant cows, which may not abort calves until near death. Cattle may be found dead with no warning signs, but in most cases cows lie down and live for a day or a few days after going down. Often, the animal's appetite does not decrease until close to death.

Farmers will want to consult with their veterinarian and local extension agent to develop an effective and nutritionally balanced feeding plan for the fall, winter and spring months. As part of their plan, producers should supplement grain to cattle daily to boost the nutrition of hay.

In North Carolina, most hay does not contain enough energy or acceptable levels of protein to maintain a cow. An energy source in the form of grain, and protein in the form of soybean meal or other protein supplement are recommended, Marshall, the state veterinarian, said.

Protein blocks and lick tanks should not be used as the sole protein source for cattle. Talking to your veterinarian and extension agent will help. Balancing of the ration is critical in order to get the right mix.

Even though the feed may look the same as previous years, it can be tremendously lower in nutrient quality. The N.C. Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services Food and Drug Protection Division tests non-commercial feed for nutritional content to help farmers make the best feed decisions for their herds for optimal production. Feed samples and a $10 check for each sample should be sent to NCDA&CS Constable Laboratory, Food and Drug Protection Division, 1070 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, 27699-1070.

For more information on forming an adequate feeding plan, feed testing or to get a sample submission form, contact Phil Rucker, Extension agent, at 751-6297.

Pet Talk

Jessie and Callie are terriers who live with Myrna and Roger Harris. "We didn't set out to have terriers," says Mrs. Harris. "It just happened." As much fun and entertainment as they are, terriers are not for everyone. Racing through the house trailing a constantly squeaking toy, they can be a source of joy. Barking at a post for two solid hours can be a source of irritation. This action is completely incomprehensible to humans.

Jessie and Callie's favorite activity (other than barking at posts) is going on vacation in the Airstream. Packing up cannot be accomplished without their notice. Being in a small, cozy space with one's human is pure heaven for a dog. The terriers have seen most of the South and look forward to much more travel, especially the West. They are hoping the dry weather of the west does not inhibit scent. The drawing is by artist, Sue Boggs.

Public Hearing On Proposed Concrete Business April 17

April 17 is the date a public hearing will be held by county commissioners on a proposed concrete business being built in Farmington.

The petitioners, HiLo Enterprises, want to rezone approximately 2.26 acres from Residential (R-20) and Highway Business (H-B) to Highway Business Special Use (H-B-S) for a concrete and landscaping contracting business.

The property is located at 1295 N.C. 801 North in Farmington across from McKnight Road.

A small portion of the property, approximately 9,000 feet, that is zoned Highway Business has contained an antique shop in the past, according to neighbors who live in the area.

There are a few commercially zoned properties in the area, as well as one industrial property, but the neighborhood is predominately residential.

No development, other than a few single family homes, has taken place in the immediate neighborhood in recent years.

Last month Davie's Planning Board heard the request and was given a lengthy presentation by HiLo and numerous property owners in the neighborhood who oppose the rezoning.

The planning board recommended to deny the petition by a 4-2 vote. Board members Summers and Anderson opposed.

HiLo's request states they want to build a 5,000 square foot building, parking area, and fenced outdoor storage area for equipment and materials.

Though the business performs concrete work and retaining walls for residential and commercial customers, the majority of the materials will be delivered directly to construction sites.

Traffic counts along 801 average 4,400 vehicles per day at McKnight Road. Roadway capacity along this section of 801 is 9,300 vehicles per day. The proposed business is expected to generate small amounts of traffic, according to a report by Davie Development Services.

Fewer than five employees are expected to remain on site during the 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. business hours.

HiLo wrote in a rezoning request dated Feb. 10 that they "purchased this property because of the existing commercially zoned area within the property and had assumed that it would be substantially cheaper than land/property already zoned commercial."

Opposed residents want to know why other properties on 801 already zoned for highway business and not being used couldn't have served HiLo's purpose.

The public hearing will be at 7 p.m. in the commissioner's room on the second floor of the county building.

Another Bitter Ending

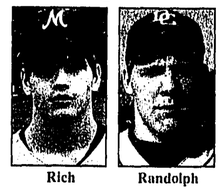
War Eagle Baseball Team Has Hard Time Digesting Last-Inning Loss To Archrival

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

How a team negotiates the turns and twists of close games can spell the difference between success and heartbreak, happiness and despair.

Davie's varsity baseball team has been in position to win six of its eight games, but the War Eagles haven't learned how to close the deal. And for a team desperately seeking an antidote for a slump that is threatening to unravel the season, Friday's 9-7 loss at West Forsyth in the Central Piedmont Conference opener was a particularly bitter pill for them to swallow.

The War Eagles, who have lost three straight and five of six, took a 7-6 lead into the bottom of the seventh. It was the fourth time in two weeks they were ahead or tied in the final two innings. But for the third time, the game ended in agony as West's Austin Smith socked a two-run, walk-off homer after the Titans tied it on a squeeze play.



Rich

Randolph

The excruciating turn of events was made worse because, to this point, it was the biggest game of the season, and it was the fourth time in a row Davie (2-6, 0-1 CPC) has lost to archrival West.

"That one hurt a lot more than the rest of them," Coach Mike Herndon said. "We just need to do some soul-searching."

Although West had its ace - Dan Poindexter, who baffled Legion batters last summer while going 5-2 for Mocksville - on the hill, Davie got Poindexter shook up, chased him in the fifth and gave West (5-2, 2-0) everything it could handle.

After West used a hit batter, walk, error and one hit to take a 2-0 first-inning lead on Davie's No. 1 hurler (Andrew McClannon), the War Eagles grabbed the lead in the second on the first of two three-run homers. With Ted Randolph and Evan Beam aboard, catcher Matt Rich blasted one over the left-field fence.

Two walks helped West tie it in the third, but Davie countered with singles by Lance Emert and Zach Vogler, who tied it at 4-4.

The drama was only beginning.

West capitalized on two errors to score three runs in the fifth. But in the top of the sixth, Davie wiped out the 6-4 deficit with one swing. Vogler and McClannon walked to set up a three-run shot by Randolph, who rode a hanging curveball over the right-center wall for the 7-6 lead.

Davie Comes Close To Knocking Off Unbeaten Foe

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

For most of the way in a nonconference varsity baseball game against visiting Alexander Central on March 17, everything was clicking for Davie pitcher Brad Corriher, who had an undefeated power on its heels and a win to tell his grandkids about in his grasp.

Since the powerful Cougars were 5-0, and since they're regarded as a serious state-championship contender, no one gave Davie much of a chance. But Corriher, a sophomore southpaw, didn't look like a pitcher who entered with a mere 5 1/3 innings under his varsity belt. Through five innings, he displayed the grit and determination of an unflappable senior.

Zach Vogler provided vital support with a two-run homer. With a 3-1 lead going into the top of the sixth, Davie was close to pulling off a major surprise behind two sophomores.

"That would have gone down as one of Davie's biggest wins (in recent years)," Corriher reported.

Maybe it was too much to ask against a senior-laden team that is so deeply talented that there's not enough room on the lineup card for all of AC's lethal weapons. After Corriher contained the Cougars with four-hit ball for five innings, Davie's air went out, and it went out in a hurry.

AC put together four consecutive hits in the sixth. Just like that - seemingly in the blink of an underdog's eye - AC was up 4-3. And that was that.

"Just an inning and 2/3s more," Corriher said after AC tacked on four runs in the seventh to win by a deceiving 8-3. "I did all I could do. I had them right where I wanted them, and I don't know what happened. Everything just fell apart."

The culprit was shaky defense. The War Eagles needed a supreme effort from the leather, and they got it until the final two innings, when they failed to come up with balls that could have made Corriher's marvelous pitching stand.

"We had opportunities to make plays and just didn't make them," Coach Mike Herndon said. "That's been the story all year. When we have opportunities to make plays, we've got to take pressure off our pitchers."

After Foo Smith, who broke loose with two of Davie's three hits, singled with the game scoreless in the third, Vogler whacked an 0-2 curveball over the left-center fence for a shocking 2-0 lead.

"That was my first home run since Little League. That was my first one on the big field," the leadoff batter said. "I was thinking curveball and he threw me a curveball and hung it. I didn't even know I had hit it out. I thought it had hit off the wall, and then I saw everybody coming out of the dugout. I was like: 'Man, I hit it out. We've got a shot at winning this game.' "

In the end, though, the less-experienced War Eagles were unable to make critical plays on sharply-struck groundballs, and AC consequently defeated Davie for the second time this month.

Corriher

Vogler

Still, the War Eagles' staying power against another fierce opponent on the mother of beefy schedules made them feel pretty good about themselves.

Handy Sisters Invaluable At Catawba

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Remember Shannon Handy as a high-school hitter? She was as weak a stick as she was a wicked pitcher. Her Davie coaches and fans didn't even care if Handy made contact because she pitched three-hitters on her bad days.

Things are so different three years later.

Handy, a junior left fielder/pitcher, has become the signature of Catawba College's softball team. She is perhaps the most dominating presence on what is likely the Indians' best team in 10 years. Not only is she still a top-notch pitcher, she is equally dazzling with the bat, ranking among Catawba's leaders in virtually every category.

The offensive evolution from easy out to oh-my has stemmed from an inexhaustible work ethic.

"Our coaches have us lifting weights three days a week, and we've been working with a trainer from Arizona who works with major league athletes, and he's designed our workouts," said Shannon, whose sister, sophomore Stacey Handy, has also been an everyday starter throughout her career. "It's made a big difference in me in the last year. It's a noticeable difference in my hitting, throwing, pitching, everything."

Through March 10, there wasn't much more Shannon could have done for a 12-12 team that has played a incredibly tough schedule. Offensively she was No. 1 in average (.309), on-base percentage, runs, hits, home runs and total bases, and she was among the top five in slugging percentage, RBIs,

Amazing Escape

JVs Pull Out Wild And Crazy Nine-Inning Game

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Holy moly. Here's what Davie's JV baseball team did in last week's Central Piedmont Conference opener at West Forsyth: The War Eagles won 13-9 in nine innings after trailing 8-4 going into the seventh. With the game tied in the bottom of the seventh, they escaped a bases-loaded, no-out jam. They committed seven errors - running their two-game total to 13 - but survived because winning pitcher Bryan King was amazing and Justin Thompson, Matt Lee and Jon Hutchens came up with clutch hits on a day when Brandon Stewart went 4 for 6.

Earlier in the week in a nonconference game, Davie's three-game winning streak ended with a real stinker, a 12-3 loss to Alexander Central.

But Davie bounced back in a wild, crazy and entertaining CPC clash in Clemmons. Coach Tim McKnight was in disbelief at what he saw as Davie improved its overall record to 5-3.

"It was an ugly game, but it was an exciting game," he said after Davie and West combined for 11 errors and West's pitchers walked or hit 13 batters. "We have really struggled on defense. We didn't play sharp at all in the field. We've got to tighten up the defense. We're going to score runs and our pitching's doing all it can do.

"But we're doing a lot more good things than we are bad. You've got to give our guys credit. They battled back."

In the listless loss to visiting Alexander Central, the Cougars avenged a 13-8 defeat in the season opener by rushing to a 9-0 lead, including a six-spot in the third. AC nearly doubled Davie in hits (11-6) and played error-free defense while Davie kicked it six times.

After giving up three unearned runs in the second for a 3-0 hole, "it was just downhill from there," McKnight said. "We didn't play well and they played good. (Starting pitcher) King got behind, got the ball up and got hit. But you've got to give credit where credit was due. They hit the ball. We may be the only team that's beaten them."

Davie 13, West 9 (9 Innings)

Davie staggered West right off the bat, using a Heath Boyd double and Jeremy Gupton single to stake unbeaten Hutchens to a 4-0 first-inning lead.

But Davie's horrid defense erased the edge as West poured across two runs in the first, four in the second and two in the third. Hutchens racked up 10 strikeouts against two walks and allowed just six hits in six innings, but he was still on the short end of an 8-4 score as the game entered the final inning.

"Hutchens wasn't real sharp," McKnight said, citing four wild pitches and a hit batter. "But in fairness to him, he didn't get backed really well. We had errors at crucial times."

The War Eagles missed scoring opportunities in the fifth, when they

Pesky Defense Keeping Soccer Team In Games

Davie's varsity soccer team has played outstanding defense in four nonconference games. Unfortunately for the War Eagles, their opponents' defense has been even better.

While Carly Booth, Kourtney Hanrahan, Justine Gamble, keeper Kami Simpson and the defense have limited opponents to seven goals in four games, their progress has been offset by an offense that has managed two goals all season.

Davie opened with a 2-0 loss to East Forsyth. That was followed by 3-1 and 1-0 setbacks to East Burke and West Rowan, respectively. When an offense is struggling as mightily as Davie's, there can't be any defensive slippage. And just when it seemed the War Eagles, who were trailing North Iredell 1-0 late in the second half, were headed to an 0-4 record, their defense kept them alive long enough for Ashley Cornatzer to cash in a pass from Alyson Walker and salvage a 1-1 tie.

When asked about the key performers who stepped forward and made sure Davie's losing streak ended, Coach Pete Gustafson called out the names of Walker, Simpson, Sloan Smith, Booth, Hanrahan, Gamble, Meredith Phillips, Allison Mackintosh and Kelly Mitchell.

"Gamble is getting to be a very dependable marking back," he said. "Phillips did a great job at defending. This is (the junior's) first year playing for us and she's stepping up. Defensively they trust Booth, maybe even too much and don't help out enough. (Sophomore midfielder) Smith can knock it pretty good with both feet, so she's been a plus.

"Rebecca Peeler wasn't with us (vs. N. Iredell) and she's our strong midfielder. So that's an even better sign."

Even though the attack is still miles from where Gustafson wants it, in the late stages against N. Iredell the offense did all the things it failed to do in the first three games. Cornatzer, who scored Davie's first goal in the second game of the season, did it again with just 12 minutes to play. And Davie kept coming and kept threatening to steal the win as the clock wound down.

Walker has delivered the assist on both Cornatzer scores.

"Walker sparked it. She was moving it well," Gustafson said. "At the end momentum was growing and growing and growing. If there had been any more time, it felt like we were going to get two or three more goals.

"Our defense is not doing too bad. We need to mark closer. We can make it better, but we've got to score, too. Our main objective is to get more offensive and counter attack. (Against W. Rowan) we weren't back passing, weren't switching fields, were trying to force the ball up the middle and couldn't make any ground. (Late vs. N. Iredell) we were back passing, sending long balls up to the attackers and switching fields.

"We hope that will continue."

Schedule: The War Eagles play at home to North Forsyth on March 25 at 4:30 p.m. and at North Forsyth March 29 at 7. Their Central Piedmont Conference opener is March 30 against visiting South Rowan at 4:30.

doubles, walks, sacrifice bunts and stolen bases.

The biggest shock of all is her spectacular improvement in power, homering for the third time two weeks ago.

"Two of her home runs were hit off a slap - showing bunt, pulling back and hitting the ball," Catawba's 22nd-year coach, Nan Whitley, said.

"I never even thought about batting - never (at Davie)," said Shannon, who went 15-1 with an 0.59 ERA as a 2001 senior. "They always had me concentrate on pitching at practice and I never had to worry about batting. So to be one of the leading batters is definitely a change for me. Stepping up my hitting has helped me become an all-around player and not just a pitcher."

Shannon has been her usual dominating self on the mound, posting a 1.17 ERA through her first 36 innings and leading the staff in ERA and opposing batting average.

"Her speed has increased since high school," said Whitley, who clocked her around 57-58 mph in preseason from a rubber that measures 43 feet from home, or three feet behind the high-school distance. "And she's got a great screwball and changeup. She throws a wicked screwball."

Only three Indians started the first 24 games, and the Handy sisters were two of them. Stacey is an invaluable cog at shortstop and leadoff batter, ranking among the leaders in batting average, on-base percentage, runs, hits, doubles, walks and stolen bases. Out of 82 chances at the most stressful position outside of pitcher, she's only made nine errors for a solid .890 fielding percentage.

"She's been our leadoff most of the year because she can put the ball down, she's quick and she's good on the bases," Whitley said. "Her defense has come a long way since high school. Her range has grown tremendously in two years."

While it's nothing new for Stacey to cause offensive havoc, Shannon conceded that her batting expectations never remotely approached this.

"She's always hit and I used to think: 'How in the world is she doing this?' " Shannon said of Stacey. "And now it's really weird because I'm hitting with Stacey. It's incredible to me because she's been a great hitter her entire life. Hitting just came natural to her.

"And to think I have another season after this is even more incredible to me. I think I can step it up even more after this season."

The Indians' 17-18 record through Monday might not blow you away, but they've turned 180 degrees since Shannon's freshman year, when they went 14-40-1 with a boatload of freshmen. Considering the nonconference competition, they've performed admirably, and they're primed for their first winning record since going 18-15 in 1994.

"We played a 35-0 team two times, a 29-2 team two times, a top-25 team three times and a Florida team that has only two losses three times," Whitley said.

"We've played seven nationally-ranked teams," added Shannon. "One of them we got run-ruled. We played them again (last) weekend and they only beat us 5-2. Our record doesn't sound hot, but we've played a lot tougher competition this year. We were invited to come down to Florida where there were regionally and nationally ranked teams. Last year we had 20 wins and 21 is the school record for fastpitch softball. We should win our next (two) and that would put us at 19 without even starting conference.

"We're getting stronger each year. My freshman year we had 16 freshmen. We knew by the time we turned juniors and seniors we should play well. I think we'll be in the top three (in the SAC), if not first or second."

Notes: The Handy girls' father, Keith Handy, is in his third year as a volunteer assistant coach who works primarily with pitchers. "He's loving every minute of it," Whitley said. "He eats it up."

Shannon Handy takes a cut. After years of being known only as a powerful pitcher, now she's a deadly hitter.

Tennis Team Enjoying Strong Start

The preseason optimism appears to be justified. Davie's tennis team, through three nonconference matches, has proved every bit as good as its advanced billing.

Last week the War Eagles trounced visiting North Iredell 7-2 for their first 3-0 start since 1997, the last year they reached double-figure wins. That year they finished 10-5 overall and 8-4 in the Central Piedmont Conference.

When first-year coach Steven Lingard was asked how long he thought the unbeaten streak could last, he said "until we play some of the better teams, like Reynolds."

While the War Eagles are rolling behind Collin Ferebee, Jason Overbey and Phillip Hursey, they know difficult days are ahead against tradition-steeped Reynolds and the CPC.

"Our true test will be when we play against the more successful teams," he said. "All the guys tell me Reynolds has got some good players. But we're just taking each game as it comes along."

Davie made quick work of N. Iredell. Ferebee drilled his No. 3 opponent 10-0 to improve to 3-0. Overbey, Hursey and Kurt Bivins posted 10-1 romps at Nos. 4-6. And Matt Hauser won 10-4 at No. 2.

As a result, the verdict was in the bag before doubles play.

"Ferebee is going from strength to strength," Lingard said. "He's growing as a player and becoming more confident."

Overbey and Hursey have kept pace with Ferebee with 3-0 records, while Bivins is 2-0.

"I'm also seeing a lot of progress in Bivins," Lingard said of the junior. "This is his first season on the team, and he's already established himself at No. 6. Of course Hursey and Overbey are producing week in and week out.

"I'm pleased with the way my top six is competing."

Lingard gave some backups a chance to shine in doubles, and Davie padded the margin with two of three wins. Jeff Mighion and Tyler Lowe won 9-7 at No. 2, and Tanner Manship and Matt Morris won 8-4 at No. 3.

Notes: Davie's top player, Chris Moxley, lost 10-6. "Their No. 1 player was very good," Lingard said. ... In nonconference action, Davie plays at Statesville on March 24, at home to West Rowan March 25 and at North Forsyth March 29. The CPC opener is March 31 at West Forsyth.

Davie Track Succumbs To South

Davie's boys and girls track teams finished second in a three-team meet last week. South Rowan eked out a 69-68 decision over Davie's boys, and West Rowan was third at 48. South was an easy winner on the girls side, rolling up 92 points to Davie's 45 and West's 43.

"It was windy and cold and everybody's times were off," Davie boys coach Devore Holman said. "If we learned anything, we've got to do a better job of warming up. As a whole, I still like the direction the program's going in."

Jaspen Gray drove the Davie boys. He was apart of three of Davie's seven wins, claiming the 400 and helping the 800 and 1600 relays to victory. Gray's 800 teammates were Dontay Rivers, Cooter Arnold and Jamar Howell, and his 1600 teammates were Daniel Gough, Anthony Gadsen and Josh Aiken.

"Gray's the dominating force," Holman said. "He ran 55 seconds in the 400. He's a machine for us right now, and he's a good kid, too."

The other winners for Davie were Chris Goode (shot put), Greg Simpson (110 hurdles), Ryan Boehm (discus) and Andrew Allen (300 hurdles).

"We've got kids who want to be out there and hate to lose," Holman said. "They want to win and contribute anyway they can."

Davie's girls rode the backs of Crystal Doby and Rebecca Peeler past West and into second place. They picked up one first place and one runner-up each, with Doby winning the 300 hurdles and placing second in the 100 hurdles and with Peeler winning the 3200 and placing second in the 1600.

"Peeler qualified for regionals in the 1600," Coach Darie Beiter said. "Even though she was second, there was a benefit. Her time (5:55) is promising for possibly placing at regionals."

Doby and Peeler delivered the only wins in 18 events.

"Doby is a tough athlete," Beiter said. "She would be willing to do any event, and the 300 hurdles is one of the toughest events in track. She's a great competitor."

Now Davie's girls are looking to rebound from a slow day.

"South has a strong team and we didn't do as well as we can," Beiter said. "We didn't have Brooke Harris and Amber Harris. They could have made it a closer meet, and the others just didn't have their best days."

Two weeks ago Brittany Rowe triumphed in the triple jump. Her performance was inadvertently omitted in the story.

North Prepares For Brutal Soccer Schedule

North Davie's girls soccer team faces a tough road, but not one that's too tough for the Wildcats to navigate.

Last week they opened the season with a 6-0 loss to Calvary, but North coach John Marshall didn't fret about the margin. Calvary is a perennial juggernaut who feasted on a day when Marshall emptied his bench early and often and experimented with all kinds of combinations. North's schedule is littered with stiff competition, but Marshall thinks enough of his roster that he believes a winning record is possible.

"I pretty much played Calvary like a preseason game," he said. "I gave all my players equal time just to see what I have. We hadn't had a chance to really get out and play (because of wet weather), and we tried to see what chemistry we have.

"Calvary's a very strong team. I'm sure we'll struggle again with them, but we'll attack it a little differently next time."

Although finding a go-to scorer could slow down progress, Marshall is happy with what he has. There are eight returners from last year - all of whom have club-ball experience - that are mixed with several promising seventh graders.

The Wildcats appear to be a decent team. But with the schedule they're facing, they could be pretty decent without having a record that reflects it.

"We have a very, very tough schedule," he said. "This is one of the toughest schedules we've ever had. We play Mooresville three times, Calvary twice, Forsyth Country Day twice and Summit twice. From what I hear South Davie has some good players and they're going to be very competitive. So we will not have any easy weeks. Every game is going to be a battle."

The roster includes Cassie Barnes, Hannah Stroupe, Brooke Padgett, Amber Parrish, Kelsey Shipman, Hannah Jakob, Meagan Brookman, Jaclyn Woodward, Samantha Maready, Chelsea Trull, Rebecca Gerdon, Samantha Judd, Chelsea Swyers, Sarah Harvel, Coty Lee, Whitney Bokeno and Susanna McFarlane.

Marshall's captains are eighth graders Jakob and Lee and seventh grader Stroupe. Lee and Stroupe anchor the midfield, while Jakob figures to be one of the best players in the back. Marshall said he's also counting on leadership from Bokeno.

"I don't have a superstar, not like in the past when I had an Allison Howell or Jackie Button or Carly Booth, where you say: 'OK, get the ball to them and let's work off them,' " he said. "This is going to be a team effort. I mean if we're going to win games; it's going to take everybody on that field to do it.

"And I'd much rather have it that way. We're more balanced than we've been in the past."

North's next two games are at home - Mooresville on March 29 at 4 p.m. and Summit on April 5 at 4:30.

North Comes Out Swinging

North Davie baseball coach Danny Allard said before the season he was confident in his defense and pitching, but hitting was one cause for concern.

In the March 12 season opener against visiting Thomasville, North's offense was anything but a weakness. It was, for a day at least, potent as North pounded its way to an 11-6 victory.

"We were real pleased with the way we hit the ball," Allard said after North collected 14 hits. "And Thomasville is not a bad team. I knew we were capable, but being early in the season it's hard to tell how they're going to react to live pitching. We only struck out four times, and that was with everybody getting a chance to hit."

Who was North's offensive player of the game? The choices were many. Zeb Cope, Brent Beam and Danny Peele - the Nos. 2-4 batters - went 2-for-2, 2-for-2 and 1-for-2, respectively, as North carved out an 11-3 lead by the third inning on the strength of an eight-run second. Trent Brooks, Nic O'Brien and Zack Russell-Myers - the five, six and nine batters - all went 2-for-3. Cope, Beam, Brooks, O'Brien and Russell-Myers had two RBIs each, and Brooks doubled by sending one over the right fielder's head.

Other than a couple defensive lapses that allowed Thomasville to narrow the gap late in the game, Allard had no complaints. Adam Ridenhour started on the mound and pitched three innings. Russell-Myers relieved in the fourth and got the other nine outs.

"Ridenhour threw strikes, and that's all we're going to ask him to do. Russell-Myers threw real well," Allard said. "Peele had a real nice catch in center field. He ran down a ball in the left-center gap."

W. Forsyth Burns Davie With 7th Inning Home Run

Zach Vogler connects on a homer that put Davie on top of Alexander Central.

Vogler (.320), Randolph (.300) and Rich, who is tied with Randolph at two homers and tied with McClannon with a team-high .347 average, all reached base three times. Emert had two of Davie's six hits, including a double.

While Rich and Randolph did the heavy lifting on offense, McClannon rose to the occasion on the mound, holding West to four hits in 6 1/3 innings. But defensive mistakes (four errors) undermined McClannon's fine work.

Only five of West's nine runs were earned, leaving Herndon - who already had a bad taste in his mouth from two days earlier when Davie collapsed with a 3-1 lead over Alexander Central and lost 8-3 - exasperated.

"Our kids have got to outwork people," he said. "We've got to buy into what we're doing, and we can't give people four or five outs an inning."

The seventh started well for Davie as McClannon retired the first batter on a grounder. From there, however, everything went West's way.

Poindexter might have wobbled on the mound (four runs and three hit batsmen in 4 1/3), but he burned Davie at the plate, turning an 0-2 curveball into a one-out single. Poindexter stole second and moved to third on a wild pitch. A walk to the next batter ended it for McClannon, who wound up allowing eight runs but only four earned.

"I really wanted to leave him in because he's a senior and he threw well," Herndon said. "But he was running out of gas."

Reliever Tim Erb inherited runners at the corners, and West greeted him with a game-tying squeeze bunt. The next batter, Smith, homered to left, igniting a celebration on one side and stinging dejection on the other.

"They seem to be hurt," Herndon said of his players. "Monday (March 22) we're just going to take a whole different attitude to practice. We're going to pull up our sleeves and try to outwork people, so when those situations come it's going to mean a lot to us and find a way to win.

"Even though we're young, we've got to do a better job of making routine plays. I don't care how young you are, baseball is baseball. You catch it and throw 'em out."

Notes: Despite their continued defensive woes, the War Eagles turned two double plays. David Weakley, who got the nod at a revolving-door third base, started a 5-3-6 double play, and Emert, who regained his job at shortstop, started a 6-4-3 DP. Weakley made two good plays, once on a slow roller and then on a diving stop. ... West's prize freshman, Greg Holt, earned the win, fanning three in 1 1/3 of hitless relief. ... Davie plays at home to Reynolds on March 26 at 7 p.m. and at North Davidson March 30 at 7.

Corriher Sparkles For 5 Innings Before Collapse

"We played good up until the sixth. We've just got to make plays when we get in those situations," Vogler said. "We gained a lot of confidence. They're a real good team and we hung with them."

"I'd love to have another shot at them, I know that," Corriher said. "We can beat them if we get another shot at them."

After the Cougars' first two batters of the game reached, Corriher got an 8-6-4 double play on a flyout and his finesse gave them fits over the next four innings.

"He's had three opportunities, and he gets people out," Herndon said. "That's what pitching's all about. It doesn't matter if you throw 88 or 78 as long as you get people out."

"I just changed speeds because I'm not going to throw it by anybody. I've accepted that," Corriher said. "Ever since my shoulder injury (in football in 2002) I've become more of a pitcher instead of a thrower like I was in middle school. I've got to hit the corners and change speeds, and I kind of kept them offbalance."

The Cougars solved Corriher in the sixth with a boom-boom-boom explosion, and scored three unearned runs off Andrew Beck in the seventh. The fact that Davie had come so close to a huge win was little consolation to Herndon.

"It was disappointing," he said. "For five innings we knew we could play with them, but we can't be satisfied with that. We've got to start putting together seven innings and start getting some wins."

As frustrated as Herndon was, he conceded that the experience should serve Davie well in the Central Piedmont Conference race.

"I don't mean any disrespect to our conference, but I think things have got to get a little easier," he said. "They've got about seven arms. I mean they're so deep pitching I don't know how you get them all some work. That group of seniors went 20-0 (in 2001) as freshmen on the JV team."

Notes: Corriher is determined to make a name for himself. "I've been running a lot on weekends, and I think that helped my stamina," he said. ... Smith singled, stole second and scored on a wild pitch in the fifth, pushing Davie's lead to 3-1. But Davie didn't do anything late as AC retired eight of its last nine batters.

Although Thompson singled, Saxon Pratt and Gupton reached on errors and Lee dumped a single over the infield in the seventh, West had an 8-5 lead with two outs when Boyd came to the plate with the bases loaded. But Boyd was beaned for one run and Josh Eder walked to bring in another and make it 8-7.

Then it was up to Hutchens. As he's done all season, whether on the mound or with the bat, Hutchens made it happen, tying the game with an infield hit.

"They opened the door for us and we took advantage," McKnight said. "Both teams hurt themselves. They played good until the seventh, and then they self-destructed."

There was still so much yet to happen. Nobody knew yet, but the bottom of the seventh was just as dramatically wild as the top half.

King was operating on a tightrope without the safety net when West's first batter walked and the next one reached on an error. After the runners moved up, McKnight ordered an intentional pass to load the bases.

Bases loaded, 8-8 score, no outs. That was the pressure facing King, but King refused to quit, responding with a strikeout and turning a double play on a failed squeeze bunt. King caught the popup and threw to third to complete the inning-ending twin killer.

After getting rocked by AC, King erased the horror story from his memory with three magnificent innings. He gave up one hit, one unearned run and fanned six to square his record at 2-2.

"He painted the outside corner and kept the ball down," McKnight said. "He was as different as night and day."

After a West double play extinguished Davie's two-on threat in the eighth, the War Eagles finally settled the hair-pulling, head-banging, gut-wrenching suspense in the ninth. Boyd and Eder followed a Stewart single with walks. Thompson drew a bases-loaded walk, then two runs scored on Pratt's fielder's choice. Gupton and Matt Pennington knocked home runs with singles.

Leadoff Stewart capped his four-hit evening with a double, and Gupton contributed two hits from the seventh spot.

"Stewart hit the ball hard all day long," McKnight said. "Gupton is aggressive and he give everything he's got. The hits he's gotten have been shots. He's having a real good year (offensively). Pennington is quietly having a good year, too. He puts the ball in play. He's hitting pretty well."

Notes: Hutchens got a no-decision to remain 3-0. ... Davie's thin staff hopes to get bolstered by the return of lefty Tom Kuell, who worked three innings in relief against AC and threw in the bullpen at West. "Hopefully we can get (his back) healthy," McKnight said. ... Davie opens Central Piedmont Conference play at home to Reynolds on March 26 at 4:30 p.m. It plays a CPC game at North Davidson March 30 at 4:30.

Former Davie Starts Put Up Impressive Numbers

Three former Davie County athletes - Layne Grout, Chad Boone and Steve LeFaivre - are producing on the college level.

• Grout, who graduated from Davie High in 2002, pitched seven shutout innings in relief and picked up wins in both games as Wingate's softball team swept Queens in a nonconference doubleheader on March 13.

In a 10-3 win in game one, the lefthanded Grout gave up only two hits in the last four innings. In game two, the sophomore combined with one other pitcher on a three-hitter as Wingate won 2-0.

Through 20 games, Grout had a 4-4 record with a 3.36 ERA.

• Freshman Boone of Guilford's baseball team had an RBI double in a 12-3 win over Vassar. Boone, who graduated from West Forsyth last year but played for the Mocksville American Legion, has hit .345 in eight games.

• Wake Forest right fielder LeFaivre, a 2000 West Forsyth grad who is one of the best Mocksville Legion hitters of all-time, went 3 for 4 with two home runs and five RBIs in a 15-2 rout of Virginia Tech. After hitting a solo homer, the lefty hitter swatted his second grand slam of the season.

Heading into last weekend's series against Georgia Tech, LeFaivre was hitting .290 with four homers and 17 RBIs.

Davie Sports News From March, 1989

Old School: Davie Sports News From March 1989

• In the Davie varsity baseball team's 6-4 win over East Rowan, Michael McDaniel and Denny Key combined for 10 strikeouts in five innings and Richard Bowles worked two hitless innings. Anslo Fowler paced the offense with two hits and two RBIs.

• The college basketball career of Bermuda Run's Jeff West came to an end when North Carolina-Charlotte lost to Connecticut 67-62 in the first round of the NIT. West was UNCC's No. 3 scorer with eight points.

• The midget girls of the Mocksville-Davie Recreation Department advanced to the championship of the Statewide Activities Tournament and finished second after losing to Alamance County 38-26. Mocksville played well after digging a 16-3 hole in the first quarter.

Amanda Sigmon led Mocksville with seven points, Beth Wall had five and Leslie Scott four.

• Davie linebacker Andre Frost was named to the West squad for the East-West All-Star Football Game. Frost was Davie's first all-star since Chris Jacobs in 1984. A West assistant was Mike Carter, who was Davie's coach until becoming Mooresville's head man shortly after the 1988 season.

Rick Silver At Tile Rite Of Clemmons

Rick Silver

Rain Rain go away, come again—after the basement's been tiled! And who better to do the job than Tile Rite of Clemmons.

"With the abundance of rain we have had this past year in North Carolina, we have seen a lot of flooded basements," notes Rick Silver, owner and operator of Tile Rite. "Because of that we have tiled more basement floors than ever before."

"Why ceramic tile" you ask? Ceramic tile doesn't absorb water like carpet or rot wood and cause mold and mildew growth and bad odors in your home.

"Other floor coverings such as carpet, hardwood and linoleum just don't hold up under excessive amounts of water. Ceramic tile, however, does. And that makes it the most logical choice and most cost effective way to finish a basement floor," Rick explains.

Tile Rite is a family-owned business that has been installing tile for over 16 years and brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to every job.

Special offer – Ridgeview Tile $4.29 per square foot

For a limited time, Tile Rite is running a basement special that includes DAL 12x12 Ridgeview Tile (a very sturdy, attractive tile) in your choice of six different colors and installed for $4.29 per square foot. There is a 100 square foot minimum, standard straight lay installation on concrete included. Diagonal layout, borders and insert installation will be extra. Tear out of some types of flooring and leveling may also be extra.

Trouble free flooring

"Ceramic and porcelain tile will enhance the appearance and increase the value of your home more than any other type of flooring product. It will give you a trouble free floor that won't have to be worried about when the weather gets bad," says Rick.

Tile Rite can also install tile for all types of projects including showers, kitchens, counters, fireplaces, patios and any type of flooring needs.

Huge selection

"We have a huge selection of tiles from local tile distributors' showrooms that we can bring to the customer or they may visit the showrooms to see the vast array of decorative add-ons that are also available," Rick suggests.

So when you think of tile, think Tile Rite. Call 813-TILE (8453) for a free, no hassle estimate. You'll be glad you did!

Oklahoma!

Community Theater Production Next Two Weekends At Brock Arts Center

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise Record

Brandon Allen as Curly and Molly Harris as Gertie Cummings rehearse for Oklahoma!, with Tamara McCorkle-Smoot, an ensemble member, in the back. - Photos by Robin Fergusson

Kyle Warlse as Fred, Dustin Reavis as Skidmore get orders from Christa Warlse as Aunt Eller.

Cowboys, farmers and girls – fighting, fussing and loving – will storm Brock Performing Arts Center this weekend with the Davie Arts Council's production of Oklahoma.

The show is directed by Megan Evans-White, with a cast of 35 actors who have been in rehearsal since mid-January.

This is one to see, she promised.

"There is a huge fight scene – farmers and cowmen – a big brawl, maybe 17 fights happening at the same time on stage. That's something difficult to make happen. It's supposed to look real and yet be choreographed. We have guys fighting guys, girls fighting girls. This was back in the time when people would fight because they liked it."

Oklahoma hit Broadway in 1943 and set a record for the longest running show at five years. The Rodgers and Hammerstein show has become a theatrical classic.

Show dates are Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m, Sunday at 2:30 p.m. and April 2-3 at 7:30 p.m.

Oklahoma is set in the old Indian territory at the turn of the 20th century, with farmers and cowboys competing for land. Curly, a handsome cowboy, falls for Laurey, a farm girl. Their romance doesn't progress smoothly.

Will the show be better than the movie version?

"It will be even better because it's live, right in front of the audience," the director said. "We literally go through the audience, where anything can happen."

Evans-White is directing her second show for the Davie Arts Council. She directed "Quilters" earlier with an eight-woman cast.

By comparison, this show is huge, with 20 working backstage.

A native of Wichita, Kan., Evans-White, 28, lives in Davie County and works as membership services coordinator at SECCA in Winston-Salem. Her husband, Arthur White, is pursuing his doctorate in saxophone at UNC-Greensboro.

She holds bachelor and masters degrees in theater arts.

"I have acted and directed professionally. That's what I wanted to do my whole life," she said. "It's a passion of mine. I do it because I love it, not because it pays well, because it doesn't."

Wayne and Mary Eaton of Mocksville will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday, March 27. The children, Clay and Linda Eaton, Duncan and Teresa Maysilles, Glen and Mary Lynne Baysinger and Walter and Lou Wilson will host a family dinner in the couple's honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Eaton were married on March 27, 1954. Mr. Eaton served the community for more than 50 years as owner of Eaton's Funeral Home. Mrs. Eaton is a homemaker. Both remain active members of their community, especially through their church, First Baptist, Mocksville.

The Eatons have 17 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chadwick Hall

Hall-Stokes Couple Married On February 20

Joseph Chadwick Hall of Yadkinville and Kristen Elizabeth Stokes of Boonville were united in marriage on Friday, Feb. 20 during a private ceremony.

The groom is a graduate of Davie High School and is employed by FirmLogic in Winston-Salem. She is the daughter of Robert and Ann H. Stokes of Boonville.

The couple will reside in Yadkinville.

The bride is a graduate of Starmount High School, Boonville and Forsyth Technical Community College with an associate degree in paralegal technology. She is employed by Rental Uniform Service of Statesville. He is the son of Eugene and Carolyn Potts of Mocksville and Timmy and Robin Hall of Yadkinville.

Leatherman Couple To Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Paul Fredrick and Geraldine Shoaf Leatherman of Woodleaf will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on March 27 with a dinner at the Woodleaf Fire Department Recreation Building.

Mr. Leatherman is retired from drywall work, and Mrs. Leatherman is retired from Pillow Tex in China Grove. They were married on March 29, 1954 in Chesterfield, S.C.

The Leathermans have five children, all of Woodleaf: Paul Jr. and wife Debbie, Darrell and wife Robin, Linn and wife Sherry, Chris and wife Angie, and Freda L. and husband Bill Crotts.

They have 10 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. John Charles Morris Jr.

Miller-Morris Couple Married

Amanda JoWyn (Mandy) Miller and John Charles Morris Jr. were married Saturday, Jan. 31 at Mt. Calvary Free Will Baptist Church in Hookerton. The Revs. Fred Carraway Harry Bryan officiated at the 4 p.m. double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Miller of Snow Hill. She is the granddaughter of Edna Miller and the late Henry Miller of Snow Hill and Mr. and Mrs. C. Ray Cress of Advance. She is the great-granddaughter of Martha Todd May of Winston-Salem. She graduated from Mount Calvary Christian Academy and earned her degree in environmental science from Lenoir Community College. She is employed with the City of New Bern.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Morris Sr. of Canton. He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. John F. Morris, and Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Ipock. He graduated from West Craven High School and received his degree in mechanical engineering from Craven Community College. He is employed with the State of North Carolina Department of Transportation.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She wore a white satin gown with a sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves. The gown had a fitted bodice and A-line skirt with a cathedral train, which was embellished with crystal beading, seed pearls and appliqued lace. Her multi-layered veil was edged in satin and held in place by a crystal and pearl tiara.

Ashley Miller, the bride's sister, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Penny Williams, the groom's sister; Amy Miller and Kelly Barrow, the bride's cousins; and Jessica Bryan.

Alyssa Bryan was the flower girl.

The groom's father served as best man. Groomsmen were Tom Ipock Sr., the groom's uncle; Tom Ipock, Jr., the groom's cousin; David Williams, the groom's brother-in-law; and Darren Cayton, the groom's cousin. Ushers were Paul Anderson, Jonathan Ipock, Matthew Ipock and Cameron Barrow.

Nathan Williams, the groom's nephew, was the ring bearer.

Amber Miller attended the registry and Brittany Salmons handed out programs.

Connie Miller was the wedding director. A program of wedding music was provided by Trevor and Kelly Thompson and Sarai Fulcher.

A reception at the Hookerton Community Building followed the ceremony. Connie Sauld and Betty Jo Fields directed the reception. Lilly Heath made and served the wedding cake. Family and friends of the couple provided refreshments.

The wedding party and families were honored with a rehearsal dinner at the Rainbow Community Building hosted by the groom's parents and given by their families and friends.

The couple was honored with a miscellaneous shower Oct. 26, given by family and friends of the bride.

Family and friends of the groom gave a miscellaneous shower on Nov. 16 at the New Haven Church Fellowship Hall.

After a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, S.C., the couple will live in Ernul.

Saturday Horse Show To Benefit Christian Youth Ranch

Saturday, March 27, the girls of Hidden Meadows Christian Youth Ranch will host the 3rd annual Spring Fever Benefit Horse Show, a fun event for participants and spectators.

This is an open-schooling show featuring halter, English, jumping, Western, game, and speed classes for adults and youth.

There is a Blindfolded Easter Egg Hunt class, an Easter Egg & Spoon Relay, and a special class to showcase your horse for sale.

Participants win trophies, ribbons (first-fifth place), and Easter prizes.

The registration fee to show a horse is $5 per class, or you can sign up for 10 classes for $35 (same horse and rider). Spectators are admitted free.

The gate opens at 7:30 a.m. and the show starts at 9 a.m. All horses must have proof of negative coggins to enter the gate.

Roger Moore is the officiating judge.

Concessions will be available for breakfast through lunch.

Proceeds from this fund raiser will be used to fund programs at the ranch that uses horses to heal hearts. Hidden Meadows Christian Youth Ranch is a 501c3 nonprofit organization that provides programs to empower youth ages 10-17 through a Christ Centered Ministry, Equine Experiential Alternative Learning (HEAL), Riding for Emotional Growth, and Equine Assisted Psychotherapy (EAP), regardless of ability to pay.

Applications are being accepted for the full "HEAL program for Girls" available to qualifying girls ages 10-17. The ranch is accepting registration for the "Summer Life Enrichment Program", "Riding for Emotional Growth", and "Horsemanship for Homeschoolers", all available to boys and girls ages 10-15. Hidden Meadows offers private EAP counseling sessions for individuals, groups, and families.

For more information about the Spring Fever show, to receive an application to one of the youth ranch programs, to learn how to sponsor a needy child or ranch animal or would like a brochure about Hidden Meadows, contact Vicki Robinson at 492-2308.

Easter Bunny Making An Early Visit To Cooleemee April 3

COOLEEMEE - Finding Easter Eggs can be hard work, especially since you don't usually have a lot of time to practice.

But this year, the Easter Bunny is coming early to Cooleemee.

The annual town Easter egg hunt is scheduled for Saturday, April 3 at 10 a.m. on the Zachary House grounds (rain date: April 10). Bring your own basket.

The hunt is sponsored by the town, and presented by the Cooleemee Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary. With the prizes and eggs in hand, the volunteers are helping the big bunny get the eggs ready for the big day.

"They chose to do the hunt earlier this year because so many events are scheduled the Saturday before Easter," town clerk Dolly Urdanick told the board. "They felt more children could come down if it was held earlier."

Gail Kelly (right) presents Elette Owen with the District 4 award for volunteerism.

Dr. Regina Graham-Hauser, Big Brothers/Big Sisters director with Jenny Turner, home life chair.

Rec, Library Teaming Up For Easter Bunny Fun

Mocksville/Davie Parks and Recreation and Davie County Public Library are working together again this year to provide the children of the county with fun, quality Easter programs.

Storytime with the Easter Bunny will be at the Mocksville library on Tuesday, March 30 from 11 a.m.-noon, and at the Cooleemee library on Thursday, April 1 from 10:30-11:30 a.m.

The Easter Bunny Breakfast will be at the Mocksville Library on Saturday, April 3 from 9-11:30 a.m. The $5 registration fee includes refreshments for one child and one adult. Additional children are $3 each with a maximum of three children per adult. The bunny will be available for pictures. Theme crafts and games will complete the activities.

The main event is, of course, the Annual Mocksville Easter Egg Hunt at Shelter No. 2 Rich Park, Saturday, April 10 at 2 p.m. There will be areas for 2 & under, 3 & 4 year olds, 5 & 6 year olds, 7 & 8 year olds, and 9-12 year olds. Everyone needs to bring their own basket, bucket, or bag. This is a children's event and adults or older children may not assist participants. Eggs should be recycled.

For more information on any of these programs call Kathie Streit at 751-2325

Woman's Club Donates To Charities

The GFWC-NC Mocksville Women's Club met on March 10 at Bermuda Run Country Club.

Club hostesses for the day were Hettie Mazie, Pat Cranfill, and Sabrina Meadows.

The tables were decorated in a St. Patrick's Day theme, with fresh potted shamrocks. Table favors were tiny 'pots of gold'.

The meeting was called to order by President Linda Sechrist. Lelia Essie presented a devotional on 'patience'. All guests were welcomed.

A report was given on a GFWC-NC trip to Washington D.C. Gail Kelly, Linda Sechrist, and Myrna Harris attended from the Mocksville Club. They went as a legislative team to support the passage of two bills which are considered important to the GFWC.

Tickets were available from club members for the Humane Society's Cause For Paws dinner, the Davie Arts Council Mad Hatter's Garden Club Luncheon/Fashion Show, and the Mocksville Garden Club Tour of Homes. Many club members are involved with the three events.

The Conservative Department reported on an international project that has begun which is the adoption of a bison called 'Prairie Star' through the Nature Conservancy. The bison will help to restore and protect the tall grass prairies. The club will support this project with funding.

The Education Department announced the delivery of 225 ESL dictionaries to all school children in ESL programs in the Davie County school system.

International Affairs Department will support Taylor Randall, a Davie County student, on her 'People To People' trip to four provinces in France this summer. She will speak to the club upon her return.

The club will begin 'flocking yards' with pink flamingos in support of the American Cancer Society and Relay For Life. If anyone would like to send a flock of birds to someone, the contact number will be Vickie Smitherman at 699-3799.

Gail Kelly presented Elette Owen with the District-4 GFWC-NC Minnie Lou Parker Creech Award. The award is in recognition of her local club and community volunteerism.

Jenny Turner, Home Life Department Chair, introduced Dr. Regina Graham-Hauser, who is with Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Davie County. She told of the many programs and opportunities associated with Big Brothers/Big Sisters. She reported that mentoring a child was a great way for a person to give back to the community.

Following a blessing, approximately 45 members and guests enjoyed a sit-down luncheon.

Nominees Sought For Top Senior Citizen

It's time to nominate senior citizens for the annual Davie County Senior Citizen of the Year Award.

The Senior Citizen of the Year for Davie County will be announced on May 26. This recognition is sponsored by the Davie County Health Department and Home Health Agency in collaboration with the Davie County Senior Center.

The Senior Citizen Award recognizes and honors Davie County Senior Citizens who have contributed to the community with their time, energy, and commitment.

Nominees are judged on volunteerism, contributions to the community, and time commitment.

All nominees must be residents of Davie County and be 60 years of age or older. Nomination forms may be obtained at the Davie County Home Health Agency at 158 Hospital St., Mocksville. All nominations must be submitted by May 7.

The recipient, as well as nominees, will be recognized on May 16 at the Davie County Senior Center. The Senior of the Year will be honored by the addition of his/her name on the Senior of the Year Plaque displayed at the Senior Center.

County Line residents preparing food include Mildred Benfield, Pauline Thorne, Peggy Winfrey and Priscilla Correia.

The County Line Volunteer Fire Department semi-annual pork barbecue and chicken pie supper is Saturday, March 27, a buffet of barbecue, chicken pie, assorted vegetables and desserts, and coffee and tea. Serving lines for the supper will begin at 4 p.m. Beginning at 9 that morning, barbecue sandwiches will be available and whole chicken pies will also be sold on a first-come/first-served basis for $8 (small) and $14 (large). Please come and enjoy the great food and fellowship.

Many community residents are needed to prepare food and set up tables on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Residents are requested to bring desserts to the fire department Friday or Saturday morning. Many whole cakes, pies, and other baked goods are needed for the bazaar table.

Clarksbury United Methodist Church will have the last of its special Lent evangelistic services at 7 Sunday night, March 28. This will be a joint service with Piney Grove AME Zion Church, and Pastor Lester Fisher of Piney Grove will be the featured speaker.

This past Sunday the Clarksbury Youth went to see the movie "The Passion of Christ." The group which included the youth leaders numbered 29.

On Saturday morning, March 27, Clarksbury will have a ham breakfast from 6-10 a.m. The menu will include country ham, sausage (from Jones Grocery), eggs, grits, red-eye gravy, sawmill gravy, baked apples, biscuits, and drinks. Eat all you want and just make a donation. All proceeds will benefit the Men's Building Team.

Pleasant View Baptist Church will have a special "Ladies Meeting" at 7 Tuesday evening, March 30. Program agenda will include preparation for Easter and other upcoming special projects and events.

The "Women's Conference" held this past weekend at Piney Grove AME Zion Church was a great success. Approximately 150 people across the Piedmont, including 50 youth, attended the conference. Youth workshop topics included domestic violence and date rape, and adult workshops centered on financial management and marriage enrichment.

We extend get-well wishes to Virginia Daywalt, who returned to Forsyth Medical Center this past week. Sallie Comer and Louise James remain hospitalized at Davis Medical Center. Grant Dively and Charles Gamble are recuperating at their respective homes. Pastor Stephen Blair of Salem United Methodist Church has been sick with the flu the past week and was unable to conduct services this past Sunday.

Join us as we pray for the Lord's healing in the lives of these residents.

Be sure to dine out all day Saturday - breakfast at Clarksbury and then a noon sandwich and evening supper at the County Line VFD.

Thanks to everyone who attended the breakfast at Wesley Chapel last Saturday and to everyone who worked. It was a big success.

Last Sunday was Friendship Sunday at Wesley Chapel. Several friends attended. They were Russell Smith, Sherry Reavis, Sloan Smith, Gene Smith, Ruth Davis, Joyce Parrish, Dale Latham, Suzanne and Bryan Lakey, Ted and Mindy Williams, Ellen Tutterow, Samantha Taylor and April Williams of Huntersville.

Mack Eure was back in church after having surgery. Harmon Latham was there after being absent for several months. Johnsie Shelton and Inez McClannon also attended.

There was a gospel singing at Wesley Chapel on Sunday night. Tommy Drifer and the Lost Travelers and Kelly Walls from Hamptonville performed. Approximately 40 guests enjoyed the good music and good food.

Please continue to pray for Margaret Dixon and Virginia and Roscoe Leftwich.

Bob and Kathy Ellis spent last week in Florida. In Jacksonville, they visited Bob's daughter and her family, Amy, Danny, Daniel and Dalton. They attended a Days Inns summit in Fort Lauderdale and visited Harry and Ellen Rawlings in West Palm Beach.

Happy birthday to Jesse Gentry and Paul Barsdale.

Ellen Tutterow thanks everyone who bought Girl Scout cookies from her. She also wants to thank you for your continued support with the collection of box tops. It has helped her school .

Craig Hanes Celebrates 80th Birthday!

In Manila Today

Craig Hanes attended a Birthday Bash in his honor on Friday night March 19th, 2004. The event was held in the fellowship hall of Smith Grove United Methodist Church with approximately 120 guests attending. The event was catered by Deano's serving barbeque and all the fixings. Several spoke of funny incidents and stories from over the years and a congratulatory letter was read as received from the Governor of NC in honor of his 80th milestone. The family would like to thank all who attended for sharing this very special occasion. Additionaly, we would like to thank Kim, Luke & Dylan Harris, Linda Gregory and Sis Hendrix for helping put the event together.

Happy Birthday and many more — we love you!

The children, grandchildren, their families and Catia!

Second Graders Learn Water Safety

All second graders in Davie County learned water safety in a cooperative program between the schools and the Davie Family YMCA.

The students spent several hours at the YMCA, where they completed a water safety class, and then went into the swimming pool, where they were divided into ability levels.

"I've learned to wear a life jacket and not to dive in shallow water," said Lee Fortescue, 8. "Stay close to where a lifeguard is, and tell somebody if you're going out to the ocean."

Breanna Sweat enjoyed the day at the pool. She's been a swimmer for a couple of years. "My parents taught me," she said.

Taught by YMCA aquatics director Karen Jackson, Terry Freeman and others, the program expanded from last year's successful project with Cornatzer Elementary students.

"The kids really look forward to this," said Mike Rominger, Pinebrook Elementary physical education teacher.

The second graders use "noodles" to help them stay afloat.

She likes the Brock and the quality of acting talent.

There were 87 people who auditioned, including some from surrounding counties.

"One thing about Davie County is that everyone here has an amazing amount of heart and passion for it. They may be community members with day jobs, but they are professional actors and take it seriously. The quality is professional, which is unusual in community theater. I think people will be surprised by what they see.

"They certainly have stepped up and taken the challenge of the show farther than I thought we could go. They are good people. It's nice to work with people who don't throw fits as professional actors sometimes do."

She calls on the community to support the show in a big way.

"This is important to people, important that they have it in their community. They need to come see it, be a part of it, or it could go away as arts funding is being cut," she said.

She likes the Brock. "It's a beautiful little theater. It's a nice place to see a show. It's intimate, but yet has a big theater feel."

The cast has been rehearsing three nights a week and on Saturday. There have been endless meetings to iron out production issues.

"If anyone has ever done theater, they can understand that on opening night, it's all got to be there. It's a great training ground for life."

Joseph Harding Jordan

Mr. Joseph Harding "Joe" Jordan, 92, of Eatons Church Road, Mocksville, died Sunday, March 21, 2004 at Forsyth Medical Center.

A funeral service was held Wednesday, March 24 at 11 a.m. at Eaton Funeral Chapel with the Revs. Marvin Blackburn and R.C. Redman officiating. Burial was in Eatons Baptist Church Cemetery.

Mr. Jordan was born March 30, 1911 in Davie County to the late Hector Alexander and Sarah Stanley Jordan and was a tobacco farmer. He was a lifelong member of Eatons Baptist Church.

Mr. Jordan was preceded in death by his wife, Pauline Owings Jordan on Aug. 24, 1998, a daughter, Janie Jordan; a son, Ricky Jordan; 3 sisters and a brother.

Survivors: 2 daughters, Linda Jordan of Mocksville, Peggy (Paige) Norman of East Bend; 3 sons, Lance Jordan, Ronnie (Judy) Jordan and Gale Jordan, all of Mocksville; and 3 granddaughters.

Gladys May Colley

Mrs. Gladys May Colley, 90, of Shutt Road, Advance, died Thursday, March 18, 2004, at Wake Forest University Baptist Medical Center.

Mrs. Colley was born Feb. 9, 1914, in Davie County to Lee and Cora Whitlock Wilson. She was a member of the VFW's ladies auxiliary and was active with the Ortonville Senior Center.

Survivors: 2 sons, Norman L. Carlton and wife Betty of Advance and T.W. "Buck" Carlton and wife Jackie of Winston-Salem; a sister, Ethel Sides of Cornelius; 4 grandchildren; and 5 great-grandchildren.

A funeral service was held at 4 p.m. Saturday, March 20, at Welch Funeral Home, with the Rev. Donnie Durham officiating. Burial was at 1 p.m. Wednesday, March 24, at Ortonville Cemetery in Groveland, Mich.

Memorials: Shriner Children's Hospital, c/o Oasis Shrine Temple, 604 Doug Mayes Place, Charlotte, 28262.

Katherine Hilton Latham

Mrs. Kathrene Hilton "Kay" Latham, 77, of Angell Road, Mocksville, died Friday afternoon, March 19, 2004, at Forsyth Medical Center in Winston-Salem.

Mrs. Latham was born in Davie County, April 16, 1926, to the late Roland Alexander and Sallie McCullough Hilton and was retired from Davie County Hospital as a dietician. She had been a dietician at William R. Davie School and had also worked at Hanes Knitting. She was a graduate of the Shady Grove High School, Class of 1943. She was a former member of the Bixby Presbyterian Church and later became a member of the Eatons Baptist Church.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Oscar E. Latham; 3 brothers, Robert, Everette and Cecil; and 5 sisters, Vada, Dot, Ruby, Ollie and Ethel.

Surviving: 2 sons, Keith Latham and Tracy Latham, both of Mocksville; a grandson; 2 sisters, Pat Hilton Coppley of Lexington and Helen H. Howard of Mocksville; a brother Ernest M. Hilton and wife Marvelle of Oxford; and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral service was conducted 2 p.m. Monday, March 22, in Eatons Baptist Church, with Dr. David Gilbreath, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Maurine Todd Ward

Mrs. Maurine Todd Ward, 90, formerly of Smith Grove, died Saturday, March 20, 2004, at Forsyth Medical Center.

She was born Oct. 9, 1913, in Forsyth County to Lewie Albert and Bertha Harper Todd. Mrs. Ward attended Reynolda School in Winston-Salem, graduated from Smith Grove High School and attended Davidson Community College. She was a member of Smith Grove United Methodist Church, where she taught Sunday school and served for more than 30 years as church treasurer. She was employed by the Davie County Hospital, Shady Grove and Pinebrook elementary schools and after retirement, did volunteer work for the Davie County Schools.

Surviving: a daughter, Judith Lee and husband Leon of Young Harris, Ga.; a son, Maurice Ward and wife Christine of Mocksville; a daughter-in-law, Lou Ward Martin of Kernersville; 8 grandchildren; and 5 great-grandchildren.

The funeral service was conducted at 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 23, at Smith Grove United Methodist Church by the Revs. Chris Clontz and Ronnie Craddock. A graveside service was held at 10 a.m. Wednesday, March 24, in the church cemetery.

Memorials: Smith Grove Methodist Fellowship Hall Building Fund, 3492 U.S. 158, Mocksville.

Mocksville First Presbyterian Part Of Technology Study

A Mocksville pastor is among a group from this area who has studied how technology can help his ministry.

Applications are being accepted through April 23 for participation in Columbia Theological Seminary's S3 Project. Funded with a $1.3 million grant from the Lilly Endowment, the project offers opportunities for pastors of all denominations, working in small groups, to develop models for sustaining excellence in the practice of ministry. For the two-year program, participants receive approximately $1,000 each per year to fund self-directed group work that focuses on aspects of Sabbath, study, and service. Each participant also receives up to $300 in need-based aid for travel to the program orientation and subsequent annual meetings, which are held each August.

One group of North Carolina pastors accepted to the S3 Project's inaugural year is focusing its efforts on how technology can effectively be harnessed by administrators, educators, and worship leaders in ministry. Four pastors—Kevin Conley of Covenant Presbyterian Church in Winston-Salem; Lucy Turner of Shallowford Presbyterian in Lewisville; Neal Carter of First Presbyterian in Mocksville; and Bill Hoyle of Clemmons Presbyterian in Clemmons—formed their group to investigate how pastors and smaller churches might take advantage of the vast and ever-changing market of technological resources. Expanding their knowledge of technological resources, evaluating software, and passing on their knowledge to colleagues are just several objectives the pastors have lined up for themselves.

"We believe that a more effective use of technology [will] enhance our own personal ministries as well as the ministry of our presbytery as a whole," they said. After evaluating products for database maintenance, website development, public presentations, digital photography, and computer hardware, the pastors hope to implement a number of technological resources in their own practices of ministry.

Mocksville Elementary Students Celebrate Reading Successes

They learned to rope wild horses and be cowboys on Friday. Mocksville Elementary School expanded its curriculum for the day.

Students square danced around bales of straw and do-se-doed across the gym floor.

Outside, the children took lassoes and roped horses — rocking horses. They competed in sack races and celebrated the conclusion of a reading contest.

The school's annual reading celebration was a cowboy festival and hoedown.

Mickey Ferrell, PTA president, said the month-long celebration had helped support a regular reading habit for students.

"The main mission is to take reading outside the school and make it fun," he said. "A teacher came to me several years ago and said some of her boys thought reading was for girls. They only saw their mother, their teacher, their librarian reading. All women. There may not have been a man in the home, but that has always stuck with me. We wanted to change that."

To qualify for the celebration, students had to read.

Students competed for top individual and classroom honors.

"Most important, they're having fun," Ferrell said as he was mobbed by 10 kids.

Top readers by class include:

• Kindergarten, Nicholas Webb, Jann Yount, Benjamin Juarez, Courtney Prevette, Devin Goss, Valerie Digloria, Carols Morcino, Sarah Plaske.

• First grade, Kayla Raisbeck, Daniel Forrest, Jessica Rebbe, William Canter, Seth Jones, Tatum Edwards, Amanda Peacock, Donnie James.

• Second grade, Elizabeth Holland, Lazaro Sanchez, Alex Frye, Ashton Brown, Cynthia Reyes, Mallory Williams, Cameron Cassady.

• Third grade, Barry Etchason, Ashlyn Blass, Stephen Daniel, Hayley Lambert, Arturo Moure, Sharina Scott, Robert Daniel, Alli Dyer.

• Fourth grade, Brandon Gonzales, Kacy Yount, John Parker, Bianca Alverenga, Paige Smart, Collin Caupson, Montana Noel, Jose Sanchez.

• Fifth grade, Daniel Mock, Lyndsy Blalock, Stephanie Collins, Edgardo Torres, Joel Shuler, Stephanie Parker, Alicia Urastequi and Will Jones.

The PTA also used the event to raise money.

Top student fund raisers by class were:

• Kindergarten, Kaitlyn Miller, McKenzie Club, Devin Goss, Taylor Gant.

• First grade, Kayla Raisbeck, Connor Henley, Zachary Frye, Ethan McCoy.

Shady Grove Elementary

The 7th annual golf outing for technology will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 22 to raise money for new technology materials. Business sponsorship information and entry forms can be picked up at the school, from a student, or at the Advance Post Office. There is room for 30 teams. The deadline for entries and sponsorships is April 23.

Send in General Mills box tops by March 26. The box tops are worth 10 cents each and last fall the school raised more than $900. The class with the most collected will win an ice cream party. When you eat at Venezia's on Monday nights, 10 percent goes to the school. Be sure to write the name of your child's teacher on the back of the card and drop it in the box. The PTA is sponsoring a competition through April 12 for the class with the most entries which will win a pizza party.

The kindergartners in Ms. Ellis and Ms. Booth's class have been practicing a sight word list. The kindergarten teachers feel these are words each child needs to be able to read before going to first grade. This past week has been Severe Weather Week with a state tornado drill. Parents should plan and practice at home what to do if an emergency occurs. The class needs the following gardening items: flower and vegetable seeds, potting soil, a green house planting set, and degradable plant pots.

The second graders in Ms. Kauff and Ms. Boswell's class read the book The Pony Express, a story about Johnny Frye, the first rider in the Pony Express. It tells of the mail service journey about carrying the mail and how it was delivered across the country from Missouri to California. In math, some groups of children measured in inches while others measured in cups and pints. In science the children are learning about flossing and tooth decay.

In Ms. Hill and Ms. Carter's second grade class the children worked on retelling or summarizing a story. In science, they learned about water cycles, clouds, and rainbows. In math, the boys and girls studied graphs, tallies, data and predictions.

The third graders in Ms. Hendrix and Ms. Plyler's class started reading the novel, Charlie and the Chocolate Factory. The students brought in their favorite types of chocolate and created pictographs and bar graphs of the candies. They measured the perimeter of the candy bars and determined the total amount of calories. The boys and girls wrote and edited their own stories about the previous wind storm.

Pinebrook Elementary

Muffins for Moms and doughnuts for dads is Tuesday, March 30 and Wednesday March 31.

PTA meeting Tuesday, April 6.

Rex Allen was named the assistant principal of the year for Davie County. The staff honored him with a luncheon Feb 12. Special guests were Jeff Albarty, Dr. Lina Bost, Rex's wife, Louisa, his son, Brock and Rex's mom, Sue Allen.

This week's Box Tops Champion is Ms. Hicks' fourth grade class with 540 box tops. Winners include: Kirk Allen, Sarah Battles, Amanda Bell, Taylor Chandler, Victoria Clontz, Bridgette Evans, Taylor Frank, Dixon Gomez, Busy Gonzalez, Thomas Greer, Jesse Gunning, Jacob Holland, Benjamin Horner, Hallie Humphries, Sara Johnson, Wilson Land, Jacob Love, Courtney McAndrews, Haley McCune, Brehesner Montoya, Travis Myers, Kelsey Redd, Victoria Stanley, Jessica Vaughn, and Rachel Woodell. Each student will receive a Box Tops sticker and pencil. Ms. Hicks will receive a Box Tops t-shirt. Pinebrook has collected 21,175 box tops totaling $2,117.50 toward books for the media center. There are seven classes which have each collected over 1,000 box tops. Those classes in order highest to lowest are: Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Bradford, Miss Fuller, Ms. Hicks, Mrs. Blank, Mrs. Miller, and Mrs. Cope. An ice cream sundae party will go to the class who has collected the most by the end of the year.

The third grades went to watch the play Charlotte's Web put on by Classic Productions of Winston-Salem. Students have been reading the book in class in preparation for the play. Mrs. Bradford's and Mrs. Howard's classes went to Art Quest in Greensboro and Mrs. Orsillo's and Mrs. Myer's classes will go in May. They have been preparing for the End Of Grade test by practicing reading and math strategies. In addition, some students are attending SOAR to Success classes for additional reading practice. They have been learning multiplication tables up to tens.

Developmental Day I Student of the Week: Alexis Regenthal. Leprechauns have been busy playing tricks on our class. We have a pot of gold they want to keep hiding on us. The kids made shamrock shakes and painted shamrocks. To circle time we counted leprechauns and shamrocks and learned some songs. Next week will be a very fun week. Special greens snacks will be planned and we might even have a visit from our little friend, the leprechaun. The class really enjoyed making their shamrock person with our friend Hannah.

Developmental Day II and the Pre-K class had a great week. A field trip on Tuesday to see Mouse Tales was enjoyed by everyone. The children were able to participate by singing and dancing along with the performers. In the classroom, the children were introduced to Ms. G. We read all about homes and made our own homes from construction paper. Another group art project was added to the wall outside our classroom. All of the children helped to create a giant mural of roller art.

Student of the Week, March 15-19: Morgan Taylor, Courtney Prevette, Gregory Jones, Korbin Smith, Cory Turner, Autumn Stewart, Quientin Joyner, Ceferino Hernandez, Shelby Potts, Zachery Jenkins, Andrew Charles, Bianka Alvarenga, Bryant Midgett, Kenyatta Brand, Cara Hendricks, Ryan Dyson.

Nicholas Starnes' name was incorrectly spelled on the Student of the Month for February list.

Ms. Garner and Mrs. Russell's kindergarten class is excited about spring. The students have been learning the characteristics of spring and writing about their favorite spring-time activities. The children are really enjoying their study of insects including bees, ladybugs and butterflies. Ms. Garner's class is sad to see the end of the Reading Roundup Read-a-thon. The students worked really hard and enjoyed reading, reading, reading in hopes of earning a swim party at the YMCA. Over the course of four weeks the children read 1,533 books. We are so proud of their hard work and great reading.

Everyone is Mrs. Whitaker and Mrs. Shuler's first grade met their read-a-thon goal and attended the Hoe-down celebration. They have been reading and writing about bunnies. In math, they have been counting dimes, nickels and pennies.

Mrs. Julie Fletcher and Ms. Lynn Zoubeck's second grade are studying about friendship. We have studied about what makes a good friend. The class the Walt Disney movie "The Fox and the Hound" to discuss how friends can be different, but still remain good friends no matter what. The class enjoyed watching the video and reading the novel. Each student made a "me bag" from home, where they brought in items that tell about themselves: such as their favorite color, hobby, picture of their family, special place they visited or something that is very special to them. Each student shared their "all about me bags" with the class. It was lots of fun finding out neat things about each student.

Mrs. Lankford and Mrs. Brown's third graders have finished the biography about the life of Helen Keller. The children wrote sentences in braille and glued split peas to them so we could feel the braille letters. We are continuing to work on word problems in math and memorizing our multiplication and division facts. We have learned to count change from $1.00 and to measure the quarter inch.

Miss Swain's fourth grade class had a great time to day at the Rodeo Reading Roundup. This was a celebration for all the students who met their reading goals during the read-a-thon. I believe the biggest hit was the line dance, which was called by Ms. Adams. Thank you to all the parents and PTA volunteers who made this possible. As the year winds down, we are beginning the big push toward the end-of-grade tests, which will be here before we know it.

Cooleemee Elementary

Second graders are observing the life cycle of a butterfly from the egg to the adult stage. Live caterpillars will develop into beautiful butterflies. The students have also enjoyed learning about the origin of St. Patrick's Day and participated in related activities.

First graders are getting excited about the changing of the seasons. We are investigating all the all the different kinds of weather we have throughout the year. Comparing how they are alike and different and categorizing them by seasons. We all learned about recycling and taking care of our earth when Billy Jonas came for a presentation funded by the Davie Arts council. Students joined his bucket brigade.

The fourth graders in Mrs. Kistner's class are working hard to get ready for the end of the year. In social studies we have started a new chapter about the Piedmont region. We will be comparing and contrasting the Piedmont region and we are busy reviewing what was on them. In math we are continuing to build on what we have been learning and adding in new material such as graphs and more word problems.

The third graders celebrated St. Patrick's Day with a Lucky Charms graphing activity. They have been learning to subtract by borrowing and comparing fractions. Miss Schwiebert and Mrs. Linkous's classes are studying about inventors as well as producers and consumers. Mrs. Maurer's class has been busy studying about animals and will be giving reports on their habitats, appearance and food. Mrs. Fisher's class has been reviewing EOG information from the practice EOG test that all of the third graders took last week.

The fifth graders in Mrs. Fleming's class enjoyed their field trip to Heritage Theatre in Winston-Salem. They learned a lot about American history by doing Readers' Theatre and portraying characters from different events of our history. The students are also learning about geometry in math and the changing earth in science.

Cornatzer Elementary

Students in Mrs. Moore's second grade class have been having a great time learning about the rainforest and now they have turned their attention to Australia. Last week, they read the book The Great Kapok Tree. While reading this book, they learned about different animals in the rainforest, and why the world's rainforests are being destroyed. The students learned the three main layers of the rainforest and which animals live in each, and also had the chance to write a story about a trip to the rainforest. This week the students have had fun reading the books McBungle Down Under and The One in the Middle is the Green Kangaroo. They have enjoyed reading these books and have had the chance to go "down under" and discover some animals that live in the outback. While learning all of this fun stuff, the class also had the opportunity to visit the YMCA four days this week for swimming lessons. That was definitely the highlight of each day.

Karen King's fifth grade communications class has enjoyed learning about the Alaskan wildlife and wilderness through reading the novel Kayik: the Wolf Dog. Map activities and various writings have extended students' knowledge of the geographical study of the Last Frontier. Students made a survival list that enabled them to predict how to travel across Alaska as a participant in the Iditarod Sled Dog Race. Everyone had the chance to select two mushers from this year's Iditarod Alaskan Race and to track them using the Internet.

In science, the class focused their study on energy concepts. The students were surprised to discover their "potential energy" and discussed other forms of kinetic and gravitational energy.

All fifth graders have enjoyed the two field trips in which the students participated toward reenactment scenes of American historical events while visiting Heritage Theater. Students also had the opportunity to attend the Brock's performance of the Wright Brothers' 100-year celebration, which gave everyone an insight to the invention of aviation.

This nine weeks Cornatzer students will be exploring various topics during their classroom guidance lessons. Third grade lessons will focus on social skills and anger management. Fourth grade lessons will center on self-esteem and peer pressure. Fifth graders will learn more about conflict resolution, stress and middle school transition.

If your child experiences any symptoms of test anxiety as the state testing approaches, please contact Cornatzer counselor Mrs. Jenny McPhearson. She will be more than happy to offer suggestions and guidance to reduce test anxiety.

Central Davie

Developmental Day I Student of the Week: Aaron Rothrock. The leprechauns found our pot of gold and hid it. We found leprechauns hiding all over the room. They had left their fingerprints all on the floor and on our tables. We found our pot of gold and put it away for our next year. For snacks, we had green jello, green Rice Krispy treats, green juice and lime sherbet. We reviewed our shapes and colors and will begin our unit on monkeys. We will read lots of books and learn songs.

Developmental Day II and Pre-K students were introduced to Ms. T this week. We painted tire tracks with matchbox cars and even had a tornado drill. The students also painted colorful kites complete with paper chain tails. These will create a colorful display in our classroom to welcome spring. Our class is looking forward to the new season with hopes of many fun outdoor activities.

Applicants Needed For First Gales Scholarship

As of March 16, no one had applied for the William R. Gales Scholarship. This is the first year the scholarship for Cooleemee residents has existed, and the April 1 deadline is fast approaching.

"We are very pleased to offer to our town, the William R. Gales Scholarship, in memory of the town's first mayor," said Mayor John Chandler, who was active in creating the scholarship. "There are more things to a town than lights and police protection. We're always thinking of ways to better our town, and education came up. We just wanted to provide an opportunity that someone may not have due to financial obligations."

The $1,000 scholarship will be awarded, based on merit and financial need, to one Cooleemee resident who has graduated high school and has been accepted at an accredited college, university, technical or community college. A minimum 2.0 grade average is required, which can be used for tuition, fees and books during the school year.

This year the town is funding the entire $1,000, but the hope is that in the future others would contribute donations. It's not clear what will happen to the funds if no one applies. Since it is just a budget item and not in a fund of some sort, the money would default back to the general town coffers.

"I would just hate for someone to miss out on this, just by not getting in an application," said Chandler.

Information is available at town hall and through the high school guidance counselors for current students.

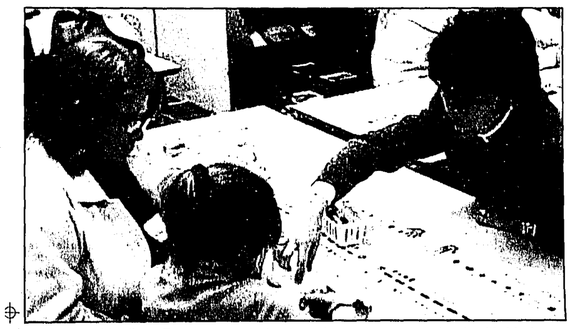
Partners In Print: Parents Practice Reading Strategies



Brianna and Melissa Brewer use photos from home to create a book with Marianne Stein.

Cooleemee Elementary School celebrated its third Partners in Print workshop on March 4.

Partners in Print consists of workshops in which teachers model reading strategies. Parents can practice the new strategy with their child while the teacher provides feedback and assistance.

The program targets kindergarten and first grade students and their families. Teachers and other staff members from all areas of the school lead the workshops.

The total attendance for all three workshops was 330.

"This is an excellent example of the positive force that occurs when schools and families come together," said Principal Bill Campbell.

"Numerous individuals contributed to the success of Partners in Print. Our staff members who put in extra hours to implement this program, area businesses which made contributions for our suppers, and the families who participated made this program a tremendous success. We look forward to continuing Partners in Print next year."

Over the past year, parents have had to opportunity to learn about using environmental print to promote their child's literacy, asking questions to improve comprehension, and praising their children's efforts.

They have learned about authors and the value of reading aloud to children. The children have recorded stories on tape, and they have made their own books.

All these activities occurred in a warm atmosphere with lots of smiles and laughter, said Assistant Principal Carol Cozart.

"We realize how busy families are today," Cozart said. "Our goal was to make Partners in Print as family-friendly as possible, from extending multiple invitations, to providing supper before each workshop, to offering child care for older and younger siblings.

"Learning to read is a crucial skill in a child's education. "Here at Cooleemee Elementary, we want to do whatever we can to ensure that every child is successful in learning to read and loving it," Cozart said.

Autumn Care Regional Director of Operations Thom Koontz with Janet Hogue, one of the North Carolina Health Care Association's "Fabulous 50."

Janet Hogue In 'Fabulous 50'

Janet Hogue, certified nursing assistant, received the North Carolina Health Care Association's Fabulous 50 award.

This event provides the opportunity to acknowledge 50 front-line unlicensed personnel who have demonstrated outstanding achievements in the long-term health care profession.

The Fabulous 50 awards program honors individuals who are the backbone of the facilities because of the care they provide residents.

A panel of judges from the education and programs committee selected 10 nominees from the thousands submitted. One was selected from each of 10 North Carolina districts.

Each was honored at a dinner in their district, Hogue at a banquet at Rock Barn Country Club in Conover on Jan. 12.

Hogue was nominated by Autumn Care of Mocksville, where she has been employed since 1990. The nomination described her as dependable, flexible, pleasant, a team player and role model for all CNAs.

Hogue is a mentor to new employees.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed Single Prime Bids will be received by Davie County Schools, in the Board Meeting Room at Central Davie Education Center, 220 Campbell Road, Mocksville, NC, on April 27, 2004 until 3:00pm at which time Bids will be opened and read publicly for the combined construction of the following Projects:

Cooleemee Elementary School Renovations and Additions
Cooleemee, North Carolina and Mocksville Elementary School Renovations and Additions
Mocksville, North Carolina

Bids will be received for both Projects Single-Prime only and their bids will include general construction, plumbing, HVAC, electrical, and all work indicated by the Bidding Documents.

Cooleemee Elementary School and Mocksville Elementary School Bidding Documents may be examined after March 28, 2004 in the office of Walter Robbs Callahan & Pierce Architects PA, 305 West Fourth Street, Winston-Salem, North Carolina 27101 (336-725-1371), in the Charlotte office of F.W. Dodge Corporation, in the Triad and Charlotte offices of the Associated General Contractors of America, and at Reed Construction Data in Charlotte.

The Cooleemee Elementary School consists of construction of a new one-story classroom addition. The addition will include approximately 22,000 square feet. Also included is the interior renovation of approximately 4,600 square feet in one of the two existing buildings. The structure is steel with open web joists, metal decking and masonry bearing walls. Exterior walls include face brick with CMU backup, hollow metal frames and doors and aluminum windows. Roofing is approximately 20% adhered single-ply membrane and 80% pre-finished standing seam metal. The building includes classrooms, renovated classroom space, toilets, administrative space, and other support spaces. Site work includes asphalt paving, utility work, grassing and landscaping. HVAC system will consist of split system heat pumps.

The Mocksville Elementary School consists of construction of a new one-story classroom addition. The addition will include approximately 17,000 square feet. Also included is the interior renovation of approximately 5,800 square feet in the existing building. The structure is steel with open web joists, metal decking and masonry bearing walls. Exterior walls include face brick with CMU backup, hollow metal frames and doors and aluminum windows. Roofing is approximately 90% adhered single-ply membrane and 10% pre-finished standing seam metal. The building includes classrooms, new gym, renovated administrative and dining areas, toilets, and other support spaces. Site work includes asphalt paving, utility work, grassing and landscaping. HVAC system will consist of split system heat pumps.

As part of the pre-bid, an open meeting will be held for all interested bidders and vendors at 2:00pm on April 12, 2004 at Cooleemee Elementary School (a site visit to Mocksville Elementary will be conducted after the meeting) to identify preferred brand alternates and their performance standards that the owner will consider for approval on this project. The following are the preferred alternates:

1. Sargent locks, closers, and exit devices.
2. Invensys HVAC Controls.

All Contractors must have proper license in accordance with General Statutes of North Carolina Chapter 87. General Statutes of North Carolina Chapter 87 will be observed in receiving and awarding all Contracts.

Qualified General Contractors may obtain two copies of the Cooleemee Elementary School Bidding Documents and two copies of the Mocksville Elementary School Bidding Documents from the Architect upon separate deposits of $200.00 per set for each Project. Partial sets of documents will not be issued. The full deposit will be returned to all Bidders upon return of the Bidding Documents in good usable condition within 10 days after the date set for receipt of Bids. After 10 days, the Bidder's deposit will be forfeited. Additional copies of the Bidding Documents or individual sheets or Specification sections may be obtained directly from the Sharpe Company. The purchase price from the Sharpe Company is non-refundable. Refundable deposit is applicable to General Contractors only. All others will be required to purchase any documents that they request.

Bidders shall use complete sets of both Bidding Documents in preparing Bids; neither the Owner nor Architect assumes responsibility for errors or misinterpretations resulting from the use of incomplete sets of Bidding Documents.

Contractors are hereby notified that the Davie County Board of Education has a verifiable Ten Percent (10%) goal for participation by minority businesses in the total value of work for which a contract or contracts are awarded pursuant to N.C.G.S. Section 143-128. Minority percentages will not be the basis for determining the low bidder. All minority businesses are encouraged to participate in bidding this project.

Each proposal shall be accompanied by two Bid Guarantees of five percent (5%) of the bid for each project in cash, certified check or a fully executed Bid Bond. The deposit shall be retained by the Owner if the successful bidder fails to execute the contract within ten (10) days after award or fails to give satisfactory surety as required herein. (General Statutes of North Carolina, Chapter 143, Article 8 Section 129.)

A Payment and Performance Bond for each project will be required each in the sum equal to 100% of the cost of each project.

No Bidder may withdraw his Bid within 30 days after the scheduled closing time for the receipt of bids.

The Owner reserves the right to accept or reject any or all Bids, and to waive informalities.

Should the property be purchased by a third party, that person must pay the tax of Forty-Five Cents ($0.45) per One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) required by NCGS §7A-308(a)(1).

The property to be offered pursuant to this notice of sale is being offered for sale, transfer and conveyance "AS IS, WHERE IS." Neither the Trustee nor the holder of the note secured by the deed of trust/security agreement, or both, being foreclosed, nor the officers, directors, attorneys, employees, agents or authorized representative of either the Trustee or the holder of the note make any representation or warranty relating to the title or any physical, environmental, health or safety conditions existing in, on, at or relating to the property being offered for sale, and any and all responsibilities or liabilities arising out of or in any way relating to any such condition expressly are disclaimed. Also, this property is being sold subject to all taxes, special assessments, and prior liens or encumbrances of record and any recorded releases.

A cash deposit or cashier's check (no personal checks) of five percent (5%) of the purchase price, or seven hundred fifty dollars ($750.00), whichever is greater, will be required at the time of the sale.

This 17th day of March, 2004.

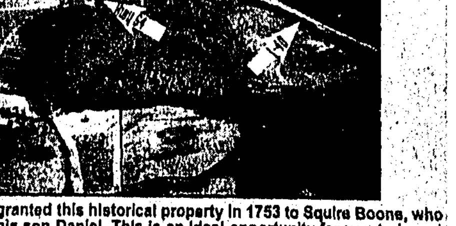
ABSOLUTE AUCTION
PRIME REAL ESTATE
SATURDAY MARCH 27, 2004 - 11:00 AM
Selling by Current Survey 56.311 Acres
Located at the intersection of Interstate I-40 and U.S. Hwy. 64, Mocksville, NC
(Adjacent to 1570 US Hwy. 64W approx. 3 miles west of Mocksville)


Lord Granville granted this historical property in 1753 to Squire Boone, who later sold it to his son Daniel. This is an ideal opportunity for you to invest in historical property.
It is rare indeed for property with such multi-purpose potential combined with strategic location to be available. Property zoned as residential / agricultural favorable for commercial/industrial zoning. City sewer adjacent to property. County water along right of way. Property is situated just hundreds of feet from I-40. The North Carolina Department of Transportation has released four proposed corridor bypasses one of which incorporates Hwy. 64 expansion around Mocksville intersecting with I-40 exit 168. This is your opportunity to capitalize on a tremendous investment property with virtually unlimited potential.
TERMS AND CONDITIONS: Bidder MUST have letter of credit or be pre-qualified to bid. You cannot bid contingent upon loan approval. A 10% deposit is required immediately following the sale. Cash or bank-guaranteed funds, accompanied by letter of credit unless previously qualified. Balance due upon delivery of deed not to exceed 30 days. All inspections and financial arrangements that constitute a condition of sale must be completed by day of sale. Property sells "as is." Property of Clarence Forrest. Sale conducted for the heirs.
