Four Face Drug Charges After Raid On Home

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Two women from Salisbury and a Davie man were found inside a local home after it was searched by officials for suspected drug activity.

Davie County Sheriff's Department Detective J.D. Hartman reported a search warrant was obtained March 23 for a residence at 122 Excalibur Lane, Mocksville.

After a surveillance of the location and receiving additional information from reliable informants, the search warrant was approved and served around 2:40 p.m. that day, Hartman said.

Multiple complaints had been received about the activity and traffic at the location in the last couple of months, Hartman said.

The home is the residence of 69-year-old George Washington Dulin and his son, Jerry Terrell Dulin, 33.

When officers executed the search they found three people inside the home. Ida Cornelia Morgan, 40, who has no permanent address listed, Tonia Renee Motley, 33, of Salisbury, and Jerry Dulin.

"We found basically what we expected," Hartman said, "It's a crack party house where people hang out, use, and a small amount is sold."

George Dulin drove by the home during the search and was later detained by authorities and voluntarily returned to his residence.

Authorities recovered several

I-40 Work Could Cause Delays

The N. C. Department of Transportation (NCDOT) has begun rehabilitating 2.5 miles of I-40 from west of N.C. 801 in Davie County to Harper Road in Forsyth County.

During construction, motorists can expect day and night lane closings and delays. Crews will be improving the shoulders and resurfacing the roadway.

To keep motorists informed, a Smart Work Zone will be activated in this area in late April. The Smart Work Zone will consist of real-time message boards that will alert motorists of alternate routes and delays. In the event of a delay, motorists will be directed to use the following alternate routes:

- Westbound motorists: I-40 to U.S. 421 to I-77 back to I-40.
- Eastbound motorists: I-40 to I-77 to U.S. 421 back to I-40.

The $1.5 million project has been awarded to Thompson Arthur Division of APAC-Atlantic, and is expected to be complete in fall 2004.

Motorists are subject to a $250 fine for exceeding the speed limit in the work zone.

The NCDOT reminds motorists to watch signs for construction information, stay alert, and obey the posted speed limit.

Man Faces Charges After Dropping Off Students

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

A Rowan man faces multiple charges after a sheriff's deputy spotted him dropping off two high school students from his vehicle.

Micah Dean Harris, 20, of Salisbury was arrested last weekend and charged with possession of cocaine, maintaining a vehicle for the sale of a controlled substance, possession of marijuana, and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

According to Davie Sheriff Allen Whitaker, the car Harris was driving was stopped by Sgt. Lee Whitesides after he saw two female juveniles exit the vehicle and walk to Davie High School.

"He (Whitesides) thought that was unusual," Whitaker said.

After stopping the car Whitesides questioned Harris, who also had a male passenger with him. According to Whitaker, Harris admitted to Whitesides "I have drugs in my pockets".

Whitesides searched Harris and found approximately 4 grams of powdered cocaine and 6 grams of marijuana in his pant's pockets.

Harris was placed in Davie Detention Center in lieu of a $15,000 secured bond. His first court appearance is scheduled today.

Advance BBQ This Friday

A beef and pork barbecue will be held Friday, April 2 at the Advance Volunteer Fire Department from 6 a.m.-midnight, or until sold out.

Cakes, pies and drinks will be served, as well as barbecue by the pound, plate and sandwich, eat-in or carry out. Call 998-8181.

Easy Access: Development Services Moving To New Offices

No more waiting for the elevator, and wondering if it's working.

No more walking up three flights of stairs.

Davie residents seeking building and zoning permits will soon have a more convenient place to do business.

Davie County purchased a former doctor's office at 172 Clement St. (at Water Street) and is remodeling the building to house the inspection department.

The move will also keep the nearby administration building cleaner. Inspectors and those doing business with the department often have muddy boots, and the mud was tracked throughout the building, said County Manager Terry Bralley.

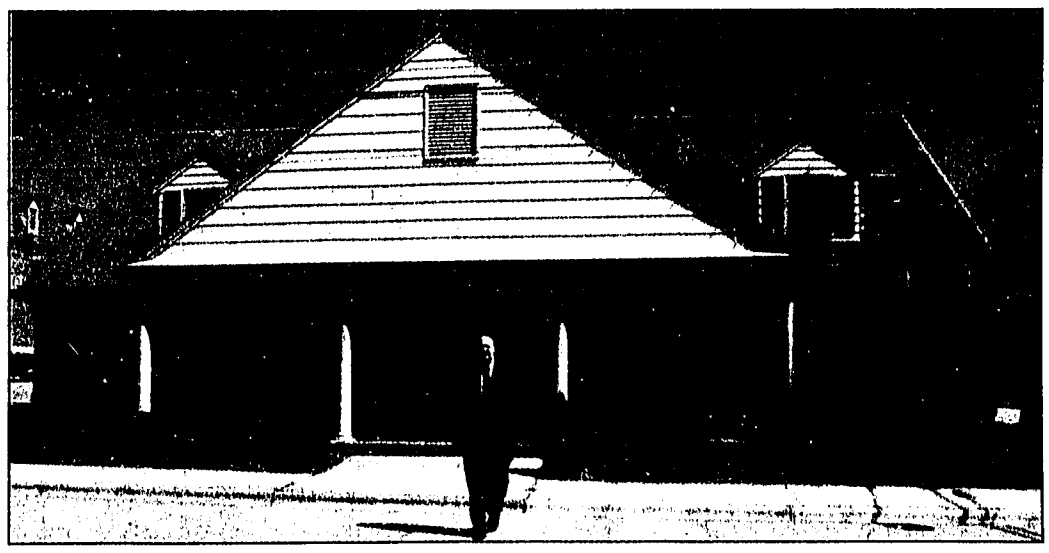

The entire Development Services Department will also be housed in the building - inspectors, GIS (Geographic Information System), planning and zoning, and the fire marshal.

Veterans Services will move from the county office building to the old board of elections office in the courthouse.

Domestic violence prevention services will likely move to the third floor of the administration building, being vacated by development services.

The moves should be complete in April, Bralley said.

"We bought the Clement Street property because there isn't any more property downtown," Bralley said. "Parking is a problem. We're going to move some people, including myself, and hope to have a few more public parking spaces."

My Thumbs Way, Way Up For Oklahoma!

Down in Savannah, Ga., last weekend, a mother was desperate to know what was happening in Mocksville.

How was the show?

She emailed me, wanting to know our review of Oklahoma!

Our theater critic was off that night, but I just happened to be at the opening performance.

I don't know much about theater, but I know what I like. And I liked Oklahoma! — the Davie County Arts Council's latest community theater production.

Here's my review: Funny, fast-paced, action-packed, two thumbs way, way up.

Community theater usually requires tolerance from the audience. Not here.

The voices are strong and on key. The actors are excellent. The set is good. The musicians are excellent. It may not be Broadway, but it's a delightful show — not just by Mocksville standards, but by any other town's ability to launch an ambitious performance with volunteers.

There's a huge cast, but director Megan Evans-White somehow brought them together.

Despite snow and icy weather problems during rehearsals, the show is very, very good.

Several Catawba College drama students contributed a lot of talent to the production, but there are many Davie High students and neighbors among the cast.

Knowing some of the actors made it even more enjoyable.

I should make a confession: My reason for going had nothing to do with my appreciation for theater.

One my son's teachers is in the show. A little classroom extra credit had been promised. Robert got his extra credit points, and I got a kick out of being there, too.

Who knew these folks were so talented?

The male lead, Brandon Allen, is an excellent singer. Lindsay Barr as Ado Annie, Christa Warise as Aunt Eller, Mike Orsillo as Jud were all wonderful.

Molly Harris plays the role of Gertie, and creates a new definition of laughter.

The show has it all — shooting, fighting, lovers' spats, singing and dancing.

Donna Youngblood, a Savannah teacher, is coming to watch her daughter's final performance this weekend. Megan Youngblood, a senior at Catawba College, has been acting since she was a little girl, and her mother has never missed a show.

"She has thoroughly enjoyed worked with the people of the Mocksville community, a refreshing change from always doing college theatre or having done community theatre here in Savannah, where she grew up," her mother wrote.

Megan plays Laurie, the female lead role and is an excellent singer.

She played a minor role in Oklahoma! at age 13 back in Savannah.

"She has worked hard singing and dancing most of her life, so I'm happy it's paying off so that she can entertain people .. She has fallen in love with Mocksville and with the people with whom she has worked at the theatre ... Think I've lost her to your beautiful Piedmont region up there," her mother wrote.

The Brock auditorium was almost full for the opening night.

There are two final performances this weekend.

If you meet a woman bursting with pride, it may be Mrs. Youngblood watching her daughter. "I'm excited about coming up there and bringing my husband to meet her new friends. I met many of them at one of the rehearsals several weeks ago. We could not come this past weekend for opening night because I teach both in high school and at the local private college, and my husband is a tour guide."

You might want to see the show with her.

There may be no classroom extra credit available for your children, but they would love the show. And so would you.

That is this critic's opinion.

Miss Vada And Farmington School

Miss Vada Johnson (1889-1977), taught third and fourth grade at Farmington School. This photograph is believed to have been made in 1925, and is provided by the estate of Lillian Joyce Allen (Carter). The daughter of James Millus Johnson of Farmington, she was a brother to George Wesley Johnson, the founder and patriarch of Farmington. Miss Vada taught at Farmington School about 40 years, was a leader in school and community activities and betterment. In 1916, she was teaching at the Bethlehem School in Redland, and came to the new school in Farmington in 1920 and taught until 1962 when she was age 72.

She was married in 1968, at age 79, to her childhood sweetheart, T. Herbert Nicholson (1888-1975). They lived in Knoxville, Tenn. In 1919, Mr. Nicholson was one of three members of the Farmington School Committee authorized by the school board to build the new brick school for Farmington.

A compilation of the history of the Farmington schools is under way (buildings, students, teachers, principals, etc.), which includes the following schools: Farmington Female Seminary (later called Farmington Academy), 1854-1882; Farmington Academy, 1882-1916; Farmington High School, 1916-1919, held in the Academy building; and Farmington High/Consolidated/Elementary School, 1919-1969. Information may be sent to Polly Lomax, 182 Pudding Ridge Road, Mocksville.

Rezoning Would Have Negative Effect On Hickory Hill Streets

To the editor:

It was interesting to read the article about the community concerns for U.S. 64 in the March 18 edition of the Davie County Enterprise Record. The article was in line with concerns residents of Hickory Hill have been expressing in regards to the proposed zoning change which would allow Burnfam Construction to build a new community of pocket homes, using the neighborhood roads of Hickory Hill to reach Rt. 64. The number of units in this proposed community is debatable and has changed with every estimate but the last number hovers at approximately 130 units. There are at present 64 homes in Hickory Hill. As you can see, the proposed community would triple the amount of traffic from this area coming and going onto an already strained highway.

Hickory Hill is an established, stable community. People live here because they appreciate the quiet, peaceful atmosphere of the community and, once here, they have a tendency to stay. Very few Hickory Hill residents move away. Burnfam Construction wants to build some homes and they want to make the quiet roads of Hickory Hill the means of access to these homes. This gives rise to several concerns for the homeowners of Hickory Hill:

It will turn the quiet streets of Hickory Hill into thoroughfares.

It provides only one means of access to the proposed new community, a hazard to them.

It puts a great increase in traffic onto Rt. 64, which is already a reason for concern due to the number and type of traffic. This is a connecting road between two interstates, carrying a higher than usual percentage of heavy truck traffic, trucks which having traveled for hours at interstate speeds find it difficult to lower speeds to the 55 mph which is posted for this road.

We hope, when making the decision on this proposed rezoning, the county commissioners will take into consideration the values of the established community of Hickory Hill which will be drastically changed if the rezoning is approved.

Transportation And Clothing Stories From Days Gone By

In the last few years that my father published The Davie Record almost half a century ago, he wrote a column headed "Good Old Days." I came across one of these columns that I thought was interesting. It said we were living in North Mocksville in the house later occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W.F. Robinson. Some of you may remember Prof. Robinson, who was the superintendent of public instruction at the time and his wife, Violet Allison Robinson, who taught fourth grade in our grammar school for some years. I was born in that house so what I'm about to write might just have taken place around 90 years ago.

Louise Stroud

In this column, daddy said that he could remember when there were few buggies in Davie County. The young men used dog carts to take their girlfriends to church, the Masonic picnic and other places. He said there were many covered wagons but no automobiles. Daddy said around 1911 or so he carried some advertising for the Rock Hill Buggy Co. and took a buggy as payment for the advertising. He didn't have a horse or a stable to keep one. He want to see R.B. Sanford Sr., who was one of the owners of C.C. Sanford Sons Co. This store carried a line of Rock Hill buggies and were agents for Iver-Johnson bicycles. Daddy was walking nearly four miles a day to his office downtown on the square. He told Mr. Sanford that he had a brand new Rock Hill buggy which he would like to trade for a bicycle. Mr. Sanford said he would be glad to trade if daddy would swap even. The buggy was priced at $65 and the bicycle at $45, which included a headlight, coaster brakes and a horn. They made the trade and daddy used the bicycle for a year or more to get to his office before we moved downtown.

C.C. Sanford Sons Co., which was known to local people as Sanford's store, was in business for a long time. I can remember Mr. Roy Holthouser working there for 50 years. Everybody knew and liked Mr. Roy. His wife, known as Miss Ella, was head of the Ladies Ready to Wear for years. She made buying trips to New York regularly and hosted an annual fashion show upstairs at Sanford's store. Local ladies modeled the latest fashions at this event which was always well attended. Miss Ella and her sister, Mrs. Bailey Brown, also sold piece goods at the store. Mrs. Atwood (Bessie) Craven was the alterations lady with her workshop upstairs. Mrs. Stella Call did this work after Mrs. Craven retired.

For a long time Sanford's store was the only place ladies' apparel could be bought. Later, Blackwelder and Smoot opened on Wilkesboro Street and even later, the Fashion Shop opened in the building that now houses Miss Judy's Dolls. I think it is unfortunate that all of these stores, including B.C. Moore's and Belk's later, are no longer with us.

I remember when Mr. John Allen had a grocery store near Martin Brothers and he also had a blacksmith shop. I understand that at one time there were five blacksmith shops in Mocksville. My great-grandfather, William Stroud, and a great-uncle, A.M. Stroud, had blacksmith shops near County Line. My great-grandfather charged 20 cents to shoe a horse all around and that was 100 years ago. I'm told the cost 50 years ago, if you were lucky enough to find a blacksmith, would have been $3 to $4. We still have horses today, so I wonder what the present day rate is and where the blacksmiths really are.

I've been told that in 1900 there were three livery stables in Mocksville. South Grant owned a livery stable on Depot Street where the Mocksville Laundry used to be located. Ellis Swicegood had livery and trade stable and M.D. Brown and Son owned a livery stable just south of where Sanford Motor Co. used to be.

Daddy said he remembered when large crowds assembled every year on the first Sunday in September at the Center Arbor for at the annual Old Folks Singing. Among those he remembered best and who are all dead now were Gaston White, Peter Green, Jim Leach, Henry Tutterow, Luther Tutterow and Wilburn Stonestreet. I remember the last two and I knew of the others.

Herbert and Walter Clement lived with their sister, Mrs. Julia Heitman, and her daughter, Mary, in their two-story frame house located on N. Main St., across from First United Methodist Church, where the church offices are now located.

Mr. Herbert Clement spent many vacations at Atlantic Beach, N.J. Town residents seemed to know that there were two things he really enjoyed - eating cheese and smoking Virginia Cheroots. These small cigars were packed in a paper carton and sold for 15¢ a carton. My father said that he (daddy) had a bunch of circus tickets for Hagenback-Wallace shows for the next day in Salisbury. He asked Mr. Herbert if he would like to go along and he said he would. Daddy said he and two or three other fellows were hiring Mr. Tom Foster to take them down in his new Model T-Ford. Daddy said he offered Mr. Clement a good cigar on the way down. He thanked him and said if it was alright he would take it home and enjoy it after supper.

Everybody Must Work Together To Stop Pedophiles

To the editor:

In reference to the letter about the child abuse problem in the Catholic Church, I am sure all priests are not guilty of abuse. But as widespread as it was/is, it's hard to believe that the hierarchy wasn't aware. After transferring guilty priests from one parish to another and paying millions of dollars to hush it up, so much for that.

As for the Lord's intervention, the clergy of all denominations should be the first to speak out against child abuse. So far, no noticeable outcry from that side.

I've been accused of lumping God, preachers, priests and pedophiles all together.

I hope this satisfies Martin Kastner. I have separated them.

You can separate one from the other in speeches, letters or books, but you can't separate this problem in reality. So unless everybody starts working together, even a big-mouth truck driver, this problem will be with us another 50 plus years.

At least when I speak out, you know who I am and what I stand for.

Incidentally, Martin Kastner failed to mention he is the pastor of Advance First Baptist Church. An oversight, no doubt?

Where Did Writer Get Information?

To the editor:

After reading the letter from Adele Thanos in the Enterprise, I am anxious to know where she got her information concerning the president's election. I have read and studied the King James Bible, the one God intended for us to get what information we needed. Read Rev. 22:18-19; Mark 27:5-13. What could described our nation's condition better? Man didn't like God's advice, so he wrote his own. Has he learned it hasn't worked and won't? In the 1929 crash, we were promised a chicken in every pot. Alas, no chicken, no pot.

I know all about it and lived through it, learned a lesson the hard way. And you never forget it, my memory serves me well. My first school was in an old farmhouse, walking the two miles. In bad weather, my father carried us in a buggy. We later moved to another house and maybe after two years we moved up the road three miles, still walked until the weather went bad, went back to the buggy, but we were happy to be in a building built for school.

From there, I went by bus to Cooleemee. I was in fifth grade and we were timid at first, but soon had lots of friends, quite a change, but we were happy. My father helped build this school in 1919. I went here from fifth grade through 11. We only had 11 grades then. I graduated from there in May of 1932, a happy country girl who made it the hard way and gave my old dad credit, as my mother passed away several years before.

I latter married a nice and very good man. We raised five nice children by the rules and advice in King James Bible, Proverbs and Psalms mostly. When the youngest daughter was in her last year of high school, I went to work in the school cafeteria for six years which I enjoyed and again made many friends and still have them. Now comes major changes.

The main building of the school was torn down after they had built another, but smaller, since the upper grades went to Davie County High School. Nothing was left of the old building but the tall brick wall of the auditorium. We worked in the cafeteria that day and saw the last part of Cooleemee School fall in the dust and I cried, so many happy memories were gone.

My happy married life ended Easter Saturday after 47 years, four days, separated forever but we were blessed to have a good life and have five successful children, who have retired from many years of service. A job well done and we were so proud.

Most of my life was spent in a community between the North and South Yadkin rivers known as The Point. A small group of poor, good people, we all made our living and paid our bills from the good earth, for we had no other choice. I wish things had not changed to where we are today. When you have lived it both ways, only then can you understand you don't learn it from a book, and it cannot be taught, only from living it day by day and I can assure you will never forget it, believe me. It's well worth the effort.

God has been good to us for many years and I have tried to take His advice. And continue to do the same, and thank Him for all His blessings for which I am not worthy of.

Davie EMS The Best

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank Mark O'Mara and his professional staff (I'm sorry I don't know the other responders' names, including the 911 operator) for the way they handled a situation involving my mother on the morning of March 17. These men attended to her needs in a most expeditious, caring and professional manner. They went what my mother and I would consider to be above and beyond the call of duty and as my mother tried to express her appreciation to them, Mr. O'Mara's response to her was, 'Just doin' our job, ma'am."

I met the ambulance at the hospital that morning and as I waited for them to arrive I began to wonder if I would be able to answer all the questions the admissions persons would have for me concerning insurances, policy numbers, current prescription medications my mother was taking, etc. No problem. Mr. O'Mara had all that information ready and assisted me with the admission process. I also learned later that they made sure my mother's home was safe and secure before leaving it unattended.

These folks are absolute professionals. They know where to go, what to ask, what to do, and how to do it. I'm thankful to report that my mother's condition appears to be slowly improving and I credit this EMS team with beginning the healing process that morning.

So on behalf of my entire family, thanks to you all for just doin' your job. You are the best.

Say No To Hickory Hill Rezoning

To the editor:

These are some of the many reasons why I do not want the county commissioners to approve the zoning change from R-20 to R-12-S for the Hickory Hill Country Club project requested by Burnfam Limited Partnership.

The access route is directly in front of the home I have lived in the last 22 years. It is on a cul-de-sac on a dead end street.

The approval for rezoning to R-12-S will allow the developer to build smaller, lower priced homes and multi-family homes in close proximity to our higher priced development. This will lower our homes' values whether for resale or for our children's inheritance. This devaluation will lower tax dollars for the county. For every new home built there will be an average of 2.3 children added to an already overcrowded school system. The new Cornatzer Elementary School is full. How soon will we be looking at trailers again? Who will pay for the education of these new children? Davie County needs large businesses that will contribute to the tax base.

Allowing the developer to use Pine Valley Road to access Hwy. 64 will create excess traffic on Pine Valley Road: 180 cars in and out two or more times a day is the estimate. This is a curvy, hilly two lane road. There will be no place for visitors to park in front of our home.

The danger to children, grandchildren and residents will increase substantially. The added traffic from this development will severely limit our use of our roads to take walks, push strollers, or for our children to ride their bicycles.

The entrance to Hickory Hill is already dangerous. There have been many bad accidents. The Hickory Hill Neighbors' Association has been trying to get the state to put in a turn lane for several years without success.

The noise from the tree removal project has already interfered with our lives by awakening us before 7 a.m. and the construction noise is expected to continue for 10-11 years.

There has already been damage to our roads and mailboxes. This also is expected to go on for 10-11 years.

Davie County is overbuilt in terms of housing. Ask any Realtor and they will tell you we have an eight-month supply of homes on the market.

Of seven regular members of the planning board, only two voted in favor of this development. I think the job of county commissioners should be to improve the lives and property of the people who live in Davie County. They should look at the bigger picture and do what is best for the future of the county. How many voters will want a tax increase to pay for more or bigger schools?

Please ask our county commissioners to vote "no" and protect our quality of life and the safety of our streets. Would you want this traffic and noise for the next 10 years in front of your house? What is the benefit to the citizens of Davie County?

Woman Found Not Guilty After Confrontation At Care Home

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

A nursing assistant at a local elderly care facility was found not guilty after her case was heard in Davie District Court last week.

Kathy Cox, who works for Davie Place Residential Care, pleaded not guilty to a false imprisonment charge before Judge April C. Wood on March 25.

The complainant, Keli Mulder, accused Cox of holding her prisoner inside one of the offices at Davie Place and of having an affair with her husband.

She told Assistant District Attorney Scott Cranford she had gone to Davie Place on March 10 to pick up her last paycheck. Mulder also worked as a nursing assistant there.

Mulder said she entered the office and asked for her check. Davie Place Administrative Assistant Diane Neyer was in the office and gave Mulder her check.

Mulder then testified Cox entered the office and started accusing her of having an affair with her husband. "She started accusing me of messing around with her husband - paging him and calling his cell phone. I never had any contact with him outside of work," Mulder testified.

Mulder said as she tried to leave the office Cox stood in the doorway, held out her arms, and blocked her in.

Mulder testified she picked up the phone, called the police, and waited for their arrival.

Cranford asked Mulder if Cox threatened her. "She said you'll have (my husband) over my dead body."

Mulder testified she was in the office for approximately 15 minutes after she called the police.

Cox, who chose to represent herself, questioned Mulder. She asked her why she had filed charges. "They (the police) spoke to us separately," Mulder said. "They asked if I wanted to file charges and I said yes. I was told to go to the magistrate."

Cox said she had no intention of harming or touching Mulder.

Cox then took the stand and told her side of the story.

She said she and her husband had married Dec. 1, 2003. When Mulder began working first shift at Davie Place she followed her husband and touched him. "People began making comments," she said.

Cox testified one of Mulder's best friends came to Davie Place and told her Mulder had tried to call her husband to get him to come to Burlington.

"I knew she was coming to get her check," Cox said in reference to March 10. "I wanted to confront her. I did not hold her, I did not threaten her."

When Wood asked Cox why she didn't just leave the office she answered, "I just wanted her to tell me. I'm sorry she felt threatened. I'm sorry she felt imprisoned. All I wanted to know was yes or no."

Neyer, who had accompanied Cox as a witness, was next to testify.

She said Mulder was not held against her will and was never threatened.

"Is this appropriate behavior for the workplace?" Cranford asked Neyer. "No," she answered.

"If Miss Mulder said she wanted to leave why didn't you stop it?" he asked.

"Because I wanted to hear what she had to say," Neyer said.

After closing statements the judge said, "Miss Cox, there are people who thrive on breaking up marriages. Gossip is a nasty, nasty habit. It ruins people's lives."

Wood determined there was doubt as to whether Mulder could have left or not.

She found Cox not guilty.

Car Found In Yadkin River

It Had Been Reported Stolen Two Days Earlier In Burlington

Dallas Jones saw more than some white bass running up the Yadkin River last week.

On a fishing trip from the N.C. Wildlife Commission access off N.C. 801, Jones saw something white, but it wasn't a fish.

It was a car.

Lowell West releases a fish back into the river. He came upon the recovery effort as he ended a day on the river.

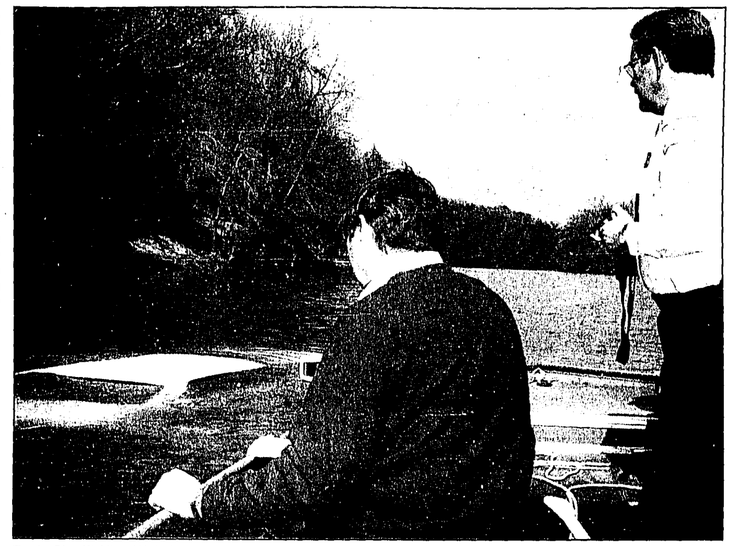

Maneuvering his boat about 100 yards south of the access ramp, he saw the top of a white BMW.

He called authorities, and it brought about hours of diving and checking to see what had happened.

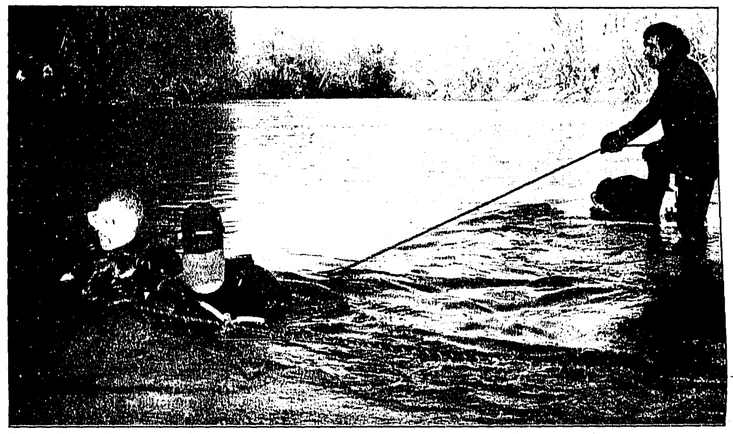

Crews and divers from the Davie Rescue Squad, the Davie EMS and sheriff's department worked the scene - checking the vehicle registration, making sure no one was inside - and the tough task of pulling the car from the river. Trees and brush had to be cut to clear a path for the wrecker to pull the car from the river.

The keys were in the ignition, and the car was in the drive gear. The radio had been removed, said Sheriff Allen Whitaker.

The car was found Wednesday, March 24. It had been reported stolen on Monday from Dung Van Nguyen of Burlington.

Gifts Of Real Estate Offer Tax Benefits

Over the last several decades, a significant amount of wealth in Davie County has been created through real estate appreciation.

Whether it is a residence, farmland, rental or investment property, commercial building or developable land, real estate is an often-overlooked resource for charitable giving. G

Gifts of real estate through The Community Foundation of Davie County (CFDC) offer the donor the opportunity to make large, meaningful charitable gifts and to enjoy substantial tax and financial benefits.

Charitable Gifts of Real Property may be made in a number of ways.

When an individual makes an outright gift of real estate to a public charity, the donor is able to take a charitable deduction of the fair market value of the property contributed. This amount may be taken up to 30 percent of the donor's adjusted gross income, and, if the amount is larger than the donor can use in one year, the surplus may be carried forward as a charitable deduction over the next five years. The donor avoids capital gains tax that may apply.

Under a life estate arrangement, the donor retains the right to live in or use the property for the remainder of their lifetime. Upon their death, the property is transferred to the CFDC, avoiding the delay and expense of probate. An income tax deduction is allowed for a life estate gift. This deductible amount is impacted by the value of the property, the age of the donor and interest rates. Life estates are often used to make a future gift of a house or property.

Gifts of property can be made through a Charitable Remainder Unitrust (CRUT) that pays an income for the donor's life or a term of years. By donating real estate to a CRUT, the donor can avoid capital gains tax liability when the property is subsequently sold by the trust. The trust can invest in a diversified portfolio of stocks, bonds and other investments. The donor receives an income tax charitable deduction based on the value of the remainder interest for charity.

The donor may transfer real estate to the CFDC by a gift through their will or living trust by designating the property as a bequest. While such a transfer does not generate any income tax savings, all bequests to charity from a will or living trust qualify for an unlimited estate tax charitable deduction.

Gifts of appreciated, long-term capital gain property such as real estate to private foundations are valued at the donor's basis only, rather than fair market value. For a donor who may have depreciated their interest in a property substantially over time, a gift of property to a private foundation offers little tax benefit.

A donor can, however, use a gift of real estate to create a family foundation at The Community Foundation of Davie County by establishing a Donor Advised Fund. This type of fund allows donors and family members to be involved in setting their family's philanthropic goals. Gifts to a Donor Advised Fund qualify for the maximum tax benefits allowed – and the valuation of assets contributed is at market value.

A gift of real estate requires careful planning. Key considerations include:

• Most outright gifts of real estate should be readily marketable so that the CFDC has the option of selling the property to achieve the charitable objectives of the contribution, whether for creating a charitable endowment or remainder trust.

• The IRS requires that a donor obtain a professional appraisal from a qualified appraiser to substantiate the value claimed as a donation. It is the donor's responsibility to procure and pay for the appraisal.

• Gifts of property require an inspection by a reputable firm. Certain real estate gifts may require a preliminary environmental review to assure that the property is not subject to unknown contamination (Phase I). A more in-depth review may be required if the initial report uncovers the need for further testing (Phase II). Environmental reviews costs are the responsibility of the donor.

• Costs associated with the contribution, management and sale of property gifts are borne by the charitable fund or trust created at the foundation. Examples of these costs include legal fees, broker fees, title insurance, inspection costs, property taxes, upkeep and maintenance.

• Donated property should generally be free of debts, liens, mortgages, and other encumbrances.

The Community Foundation of Davie County's focus is building a community trust of endowed funds. The CFDC administers 12 funds with a combined value of more than $1.8 million. Individual and organizational funds are growing in number and dollars as the CFDC board and staff enlightens the community about its ability to provide significant tax savings.

Donations of real estate are approved by the board of directors on a case by case basis. Donors considering a real estate donation should contact Jane Simpson at the CFDC Office. Additional questions about the foundation and its philanthropic services should also be directed to Simpson, president.

Easter Sunrise Service To Be Held At Joppa

An Easter Sunrise Service conducted by First Presbyterian Church of Mocksville will be held at Joppa Cemetery, Yadkinville Road, at 7 a.m. Sunday, April 11.

The church started at Joppa in the 1700s, after settlers began arriving in the area. After building a cabin and clearing land for crops, a meeting house was the next priority.

The first church was a community log structure which was later replaced by a frame building. The congregation became Presbyterian during these years and around 1834, the congregation left Joppa and established a church in town, which became First Presbyterian Church of Mocksville.

"We owe much to these faithful forebearers," said the pastor, the Rev. Neal Carter. "They paved the way for the church we know today. We are grateful for their determination and foresight and for our rich heritage."

Following the Easter Sunrise Service, breakfast will be served in the church fellowship hall. In case of inclement weather, the service will be held in the sanctuary.

George Hamilton To Be At New Union Easter Service

Make Easter special by joining with folks at New Union United Methodist Church in a celebration of "Easter in the Country." Country music singer George Hamilton IV will lead folks in this "resurrection celebration in story, song and spoken word" beginning at 10 a.m. New Union UMC is located at 1869 Sheffield Road. There is no charge, but a love offering will be received.

Hamilton

George Hamilton was at New Union in the summer of 2 003 to share in revival services and to lift up scouting. Some former band members were present and had a grand reunion. Hamilton shared about his early scouting experiences in Winston-Salem.

This time, learn about Hamilton's faith. Al Moir, staff writer for Britain's "Country Music People," wrote about George Hamilton IV ("The Man Behind the Music"). "On a chilly April morning at a hotel on the outskirts of Sheffield, England, we were able to sit together, undisturbed, for what turned out to be the longest and most candid interview I have ever conducted," said Moire. "I began with, 'At what point in your life did you make a conscious commitment to actively bear witness to Christ?' George answered honestly and frankly:

"I grew up in the Bible Belt of North Carolina. Almost everybody I knew called themselves Christians. I had made by commitment to the Christian life on Palm Sunday, 1948, but I'm sorry to say that I didn't really live it as I should have. My main commitment was to my music and I wasn't really committed to living up to what I professed to believe.

"In 1974, I was invited to Eastern Europe. My eyes were opened to the fact that I was, at best, a 'shallow Christian.' I suppose you could have called me a 'fairweather believer,' but in Eastern Europe I met up with people who were being persecuted and even sent to prison for their Christian beliefs. Young people were denied places at college or university simply because they had joined a Christian church. It embarrassed me. It rebuked me. It made me ask myself, 'Why are these young people giving all this up for something that I take for granted?

"I came to realize that I had the freedom to worship as I pleased, and I had let it all slide. There was a gradual awakening that there had to be more to being a Christian than just going to church and singing 'Amazing Grace,' dressing up in a nice suit and being a nice person.

"During the late 70s and early 80s, I returned to Eastern Europe many times and in countries like Poland and Czechoslovakia I met a lot of Christians who had a profound effect on me.

"I was invited to be a guest singer on a couple of Dr. Billy Graham's crusades during the early 80s, and a combination of all the things which I was experiencing gradually brought about a change in my life. I arrived at the point when I knew that after all these years of enjoying music and benefitting from it; of having it all my way; it was important to start putting something back; to use that music for more than my own enjoyment, my pride, my ego, my career or whatever.

"I still make my living as a country singer, but for whatever time I may have left on this earth, whenever I get the opportunity to share my faith and belief with people, I want to use my God given talent for that purpose. I am not a preacher. I'm a confessor, and I would like to thank that I can use my music as a vehicle to get the message of what I believe across without pontificating or pushing my faith and beliefs at people."

Make Easter special by being at New Union when George Hamilton shares his faith in story, song and word. Get to know the man behind the music and know what resurrection can mean and to do a confessing person, said New Union pastor, the Rev. Galen Hahn.

After McDaniel Silences South, Baseball Team Does A Nosedive

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie's varsity baseball team is driving Coach Mike Herndon nuts.

In the first of two Central Piedmont Conference games last week, the War Eagles came up with an impressive 5-0 win at South Rowan. John McDaniel pitched a complete-game shutout, and Ted Randolph and Lance Emert supplied clutch two-out hits as Davie snapped a three-game losing streak and evened its CPC record at 1-1.

But three days after creating renewed excitement, Davie seesawed back to a disappointment, losing to visiting Reynolds, 9-1, in ugly fashion.

"We can't play good one day and bad the next," Herndon said after Davie fell to 3-7 overall. "I wish there was a switch we could turn on with these guys."

Davie 5, S. Rowan 0

Davie, coming off a 9-7 CPC loss to West Forsyth in which it blew a 7-6 lead in the seventh inning, needed a win like a desert needs rain. And McDaniel massaged Davie's mental state with a memorable performance (five-hitter) in just his second career varsity start.

"It does a lot for our confidence and attitude," Herndon said after Davie ended a three-game losing streak in Landis. "We really preached attitude and putting a nail in the coffin. And our attitude was different."

A gang of South students started heckling McDaniel the moment he took the mound and never stopped. But McDaniel was undaunted and fearless.

That was actually no surprise. McDaniel always has a cool demeanor.

"They were calling me chicken noodle arm, rag arm and all that stuff," said McDaniel, who lowered his ERA from 6.56 to 3.96 and won his first decision while out-dueling South veteran Daniel Moore. "It was kind of funny. I just kind of laughed at it."

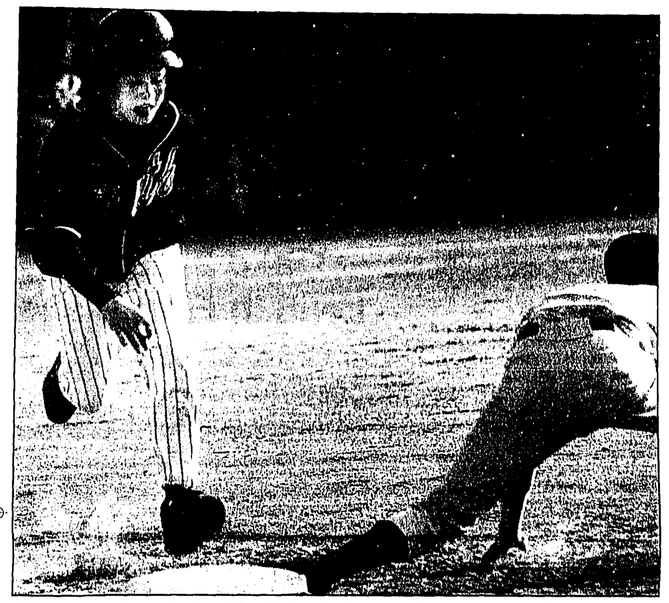

"They weren't nice to him and he never cracked a smile," Herndon said. "He was pretty awesome. He probably threw better than what his numbers were."

Randolph jump started Davie with a two-out double in the top of the first. His smash to left-center scored Vogler, who walked and moved to second on Whit Merrifield's bunt.

In the sixth, with the game still very much in doubt, Emert provided critical icing, driving a two-run single between third and short and making it 4-0. Randolph ignited the three-run inning with his second double.

Randolph assumed the No. 1 average at .347. Foo Smith, who tacked on the final run with a two-out RBI double

Davie Drops Third Straight Despite Sensational Pitching

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie varsity softball coach Janice Jackson said she would know more about her team after its three-game stretch with juggernauts East Rowan and West Rowan and strong North Forsyth.

Alexander

When the demanding stretch was over, Jackson was feeling pretty low. Davie's offense failed all three tests. After losing 4-0 and 7-2 to East and West, respectively, Amy Alexander lost a battle of three-hitters with North pitcher Amanda Redding last week as Davie gave up three sixth-inning runs to lose 3-0 to the 3-1 Vikings.

"We've played good teams," Jackson said. "But still it's frustrating for them as much as it is for us (coaches)."

The War Eagles hit a healthy .320 in a 2-0 start. But their bats have been overmatched in the three-game skid: 13 for 73 (.178) with two runs in 21 innings.

"(Redding's) speed wasn't it," Jackson said. "We were hitting it, but it was going behind us. I bet we fouled off a 1,000 balls. Amy pitched good. We just couldn't get hits."

Sophomore Alexander pitched the game of her two-year varsity life. All she did was face the minimum through five innings and twirl a no-hitter for 5 2/3.

But it didn't matter because Davie's offense is struggling more than Jackson ever envisioned. Whitney Williams got a one-out single in the fifth to break up Redding's no-hitter, but Williams was thrown out stealing. The caught stealing haunted Davie when Carrie Sain followed with a single.

Alyse Bowden led off the sixth with a hit and Hannah Tierney bunted her over. But Davie's next two batters grounded out.

That was as close as Davie came to touching Redding, who achieved a three-hitter in unusual fashion: one strikeout.

"We hit so many right to their second baseman," Jackson said. "It was unreal."

Davie's scoreless effort ruined what could have been a memorable day for Alexander, who absorbed a hardluck loss if there ever was one. She was brilliant until allowing a two-out triple in the sixth. North's first hit of the game was the difference, scoring a Viking who reached on an error.

For good measure, North added a single and double to make it 3-0. Alexander's three-hitter included six Ks, one walk and three unearned runs. The triple to North's No. 1 batter was the worst way to lose a no-hitter. Not only did it decide the game, it happened during a breakdown in communication. Jackson and assistant Chris Callison wanted an intentional walk, but the message didn't reach Alexander in time.

"We were telling her to walk her, and she didn't understand what we were saying," Jackson said. "Next time we'll call timeout and let her know what we're doing."

Notes: There was a little consolation in the loss. "West Forsyth's coach said he was picking North Forsyth to win the Metro Conference," Jackson said. ... Only two War Eagles are hitting .300 or higher, Alexander at .454 (5 for 11) and Kaitlin Hall at .333 (5 for 15). Davie's team average has plummeted to .238. ... Davie's JV team was outmanned against N. Forsyth, losing 11-0. North's pitcher no-hit Davie in five innings. ... The War Eagles' schedule heats up this week. They play at home to North Forsyth on March 31 at 4:30. They play at doubleheader at Mount Tabor April 1 at 4:30. They play at home to West Rowan April 5. And they play at home to East Forsyth April 7 at 4:30.

Walker Puts Life In Soccer Team

Davie's varsity soccer team was madder than a starving wolf going into last week's nonconference game at North Forsyth. Davie was averaging less than a goal a game and was 0-5-1 with the rugged Central Piedmont Conference approaching.

Walker

The War Eagles got a pregame ear full from Coach Pete Gustafson, then vented their frustrations on the Vikings, exploding to a quick 3-0 and winning by the same margin.

"That's a great win," Gustafson said. "We talked a lot before the game about needing to turn things around. Now we have to keep the pace going. Our goal (this) week is to be out of this slump and be 3-5-1. And then we'll deal with the next segment. We're going game to game. We want to get to .500."

The win did more than break an 0-9-1 drought dating to last year. It showed that Davie can score. The offense turned a corner behind junior striker/midfielder Alyson Walker, who torched North Forsyth three times, scoring on a left-footed shot five minutes into the game, assisting sweeper Carly Booth's header at 10 minutes and scoring off a right-footed blast at 22 minutes. Kourtney Hanrahan got the assist on Walker's second score.

"We didn't try to throw it down their throat," Gustafson said. "We tried to make a conscious effort to attack down the sides, and you get more opportunities when you do that. I was real proud of them."

While the Walker-stirred offense piled up 22 shots, North managed just two. Sharon Woodward dominated at inside midfielder, and Justine Gamble, Hanrahan and Sally Lackey were impressive as defenders.

"Woodward did a nice job," Gustafson said. "Gamble, Hanrahan and Lackey challenged, kept the ball out and didn't let them get toward the goal."

The War Eagles suffered two losses earlier in the week. They played pretty good in a 3-2 loss at Asheboro. They gave everything they had in a 7-0 loss to Forsyth Country Day, which had an obvious edge in talent level.

"We couldn't keep up," Gustafson said of FCD. "They're fast and they looked like giants compared to us. They were tall and huge."

Notes: The Asheboro game was 2-2 before Davie gave up the winning goal. Gustafson was sick and unable to make the trip. "I'd like to thank (boys coaches) Jeremy Byrd and Huge Lee for filling in for me," he said. "That was very nice. They kept us from missing the game." ... Davie plays at Reynolds April 1 at 7 p.m. It hosts East Forsyth April 5 at 4:30 at the Davie YMCA.

Benge Pitches North To Two Wins

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

The way Garrett Benge pitched last week showed his value to North Davie's baseball team.

The tall, lanky eighth grader with pinpoint control fanned eight, walked two and held host Thomasville to two hits in four innings in a 9-1 win that was abbreviated by brutally cold winds and looming darkness. In a 5-3 win over visiting China Grove, Benge overcame 10 hits by staying cool, calm and collected and walking one in seven innings.

"Garrett throws three or four pitches for strikes," Coach Danny Allard said after North ran its nonconference record to 3-0. "He throws a cutter, a curveball and a changeup. He works in and out, hits his spots and you know he's going to throw strikes. (Thirteen strikeouts to three walks in 11 innings.) you can't ask for anymore than that."

The Thomasville game didn't go according to plan. The Wildcats breezed past Thomasville 11-6 in the season opener - and the first of back-to-back meetings - but didn't scratch from the second through the fourth innings and found themselves in a 1-1 tie going into the fifth.

That's when Zack Russell-Myers and Zeb Cope gave North a shot in the arm, starting the fifth with back-to-back singles. Brent Beam broke the tie with a double and Benge and Trent Brooks followed with a single and triple, respectively, as North grabbed the game by the throat with five straight hits.

"Their pitcher's curveball got us offbalanced, and it took us awhile to figure out how to hit him," Allard said. "We thought he was just going to throw fastballs like he did the first game, and we had to make some adjustments."

N. Davie 5, China Grove 3

The test with China Grove was a day of missed chances. Not only did the Wildcats leave 10 runners on base, they left four at third base. Not only did they strand four at third, they stranded them after getting there with less than two outs.

But here's the thing: It didn't matter. The Wildcats prevailed on a day when they were begging for defeat.

Worth Noting ...

Alyson Walker of Davie's varsity soccer had two goals and an assist in a 3-0 win over N. Forsyth.

Sophomore Amy Alexander of Davie's varsity softball no-hit N. Forsyth for 5 2/3 innings. Yet it wasn't enough in a 3-0 loss.

Sophomore John McDaniel pitched a five-hit shutout to lead Davie's varsity baseball team past S. Rowan 5-0.

Saxon Pratt had three hits and five RBIs in the Davie JV baseball team's 18-3 drubbing of Reynolds. Pratt and Zach Howard combined for nine RBIs.

Susanna McFarlane and Hannah Stroupe combined for four goals as N. Davie's soccer team rocked S. Davie 6-1.

Jessa Ren's breakaway goal gave S. Davie a 1-0 win over Concord.

The hero of S. Davie's 5-2 season-opening win over W. Rowan was 7th grader Ryan Carter, who put South ahead to stay with a two-out, two-run single and then pitched three hitless innings for a save.

Garrett Benge pitched complete games in two N. Davie baseball wins, 9-1 over Thomasville and 5-3 over China Grove. With North and Thomasville tied at 1-1, Zack Russell-Myers and Zeb Cope ignited an eight-run fifth with singles.

Jared Nelms is Davie's No. 2 golfer as a freshman.

Freshman Golfer A Key Ingredient

While it's become a given that senior Ben Boger will shoot the Davie golf team's best score week in and week out, a freshman has shown plenty of promise in recent weeks.

Boger led Davie for the fourth straight time with a 5-over 41 last week at Oak Valley, but Jared Nelms tied him to become the first War Eagle to catch Boger.

Reynolds rolled over Davie in the nonconference meet, finishing at 13-over 157 and winning by 14 strokes.

Nelms has been Davie's second-steadiest player in the last three outings, shooting between 40 and 42 at home courses Pudding Ridge and Oak Valley. At Oak Valley he played the first seven holes at 1-over before closing with consecutive double bogeys.

"He's a real consistent player, and he's got an all-around game," Coach Doug Illing said of the freshman. "He's got a good, long swing and manages his game real well. He's got a bright future."

Notes: Davie's scores included Derrick Foster's 43, Travis Howell's 45 and Nathan Crowe's 46. ... The Central Piedmont Conference race begins April 5. Davie will be the host.

Statesville Hands Davie First Tennis Loss

Statesville cooled off Davie's red-hot tennis team last week by pulling out a 5-4 decision in doubles. The War Eagles held a 4-0 nonconference record before dropping two of three matches in doubles.

Later in the week, Davie answered with an exclamation mark, putting away West Rowan in singles and settling for a 5-4 win.

"On that day Statesville was the better team," Coach Steven Lingard said. "Their top four seeds are very strong, and our top three did not produce their best games. They were pretty disappointed with themselves."

Phillip Hursey, Jason Overbey and Kurt Bivins - Davie's Nos. 4-6 seeds - came through with wins that allowed Davie to enter doubles with the verdict up for grabs. But Statesville (6-0) protected its undefeated record by dispatching Davie's one and two doubles teams. Hursey-Bivins won 8-4 at No. 3.

Davie (5-1) bounced off the floor against West Rowan, jumping ahead by an insurmountable 5-1 in singles. With the win in the bag, Lingard gave backups a chance to play in doubles. West won all three to make the score close.

"They definitely came out wanting to improve on the previous day's work," Lingard said.

Davie was sensational in singles. Chris Moxley won 10-3 at No. 1, No. 3 Matt Hauser and No. 4 Hursey posted 10-2 wins and No. 5 Overbey and No. 6 Bivins recorded 10-1 wipeouts.

Hursey and Overbey improved to 6-0 on the season, while Bivins moved to 5-0. Moxley is 3-3 despite playing the strongest competition at top seed.

"Moxley comes up against very good players with big serves," Lingard said. "Big hitters have an edge on him, but he's really consistent and keeps the ball in play. He's calm under pressure and concentrates on his own game."

Notes: The War Eagles opened last week with a second straight 7-2 rout of North Iredell. No. 2 Collin Ferebee and Overbey were 10-0 winners, Hursey and Bivins won 10-1 and Moxley won 10-3. Davie grabbed two doubles by 8-3 scores - Seth Spry-Jeremiah Worrell at No. 2 and Jeff Mighion-Tanner Manship at No. 3. ... Davie plays at West Forsyth on March 31, at home to North Davidson April 1, at home to South Rowan April 5 and at Reynolds April 7.

Doby, Peeler Highlight Girls' Track

Davie's track and field teams finished second in a three-team meet against Central Piedmont Conference rivals last week, losing to West Forsyth and beating North Davidson in both meets.

West won the boys' side with 80 points. Davie took second by edging North 50-48. West's girls slipped past Davie 67-63. North was a close third at 57.

Crystal Doby (100 hurdles, 300 hurdles) and Rebecca Peeler (one mile, two mile) led Davie's girls with two individual wins each. Davie also got first places from Shanika Brown (shot put), Kierston Kahrs (discus) and Marie Robertson (pole vault). Brown and Kahrs added runner-ups in the discus and shot put, respectively.

"The girls are excited, knowing we are going to be competitive in the conference," Coach Daric Beiter said. "(Brown and Kahrs in) the shot put and discus were big, and they've been big the last couple of years. (Coach Tilden) Carter does a good job with them, and Brown and Kahrs bring us a bunch of points.

"The other thing I was impressed with was Peeler's 12:40 in the two mile. She qualified for regionals (one week after qualifying in the mile)."

Brittany Rowe (triple jump), Danielle O'Neal (400) and Hannah Thompson (800) contributed second places. Davie also claimed second in two relays - the 1600 with Brooke Harris, Thompson, Leslie McBride and O'Neal and the 3200 with Peeler, Thompson, Savannah Kowalski and McBride.

Corey Doub and Jaspen Gray led Davie's boys with first-place times in the 1600 and 200, respectively. Michael Beck, Anthony Gadson, Daniel Gough and Gray had Davie's other win in the 1600 relay.

"Doub's a great kid," Coach Devore Holman said of his 1600 winner. "He's run for us for three years and he's improved each year. He's a leader and he's a competitor. He'll go down swinging. I mean he'll compete until the end, and he's helped us out tremendously."

Davie nosed out North by collecting eight second places, including Chris Goode in the shot put, Jamar Howell in the long jump, Cooter Arnold in the high jump, Billy Riddle in the 100, Gadson in the 400, Greg Simpson in the 300 hurdles, Beck in the 800 and Beck, Ben Holmes, Andrew Minor and Doub in the 800 relay.

"We ran well. I was real pleased," Holman said. "We still need more numbers, but we have some athletes."

After Takedown Of South, Davie's Momentum Dies

in the seventh, had two hits. David Weakley and Evan Beam walked twice each. Vogler reached twice (walk, HPB).

"(Two-out hits are) what we've been looking for all year," Herndon said. "It was Randolph's best defensive game (at first) and he had good, quality at-bats. Foo was big. We've been looking for him to hit like that all year. We know he's going to hit it, and we've got to have it now."

But it was Emert who knocked South out and enabled Davie to finally put somebody away. Since starting the season 0 for 6, he is 5 for 12.

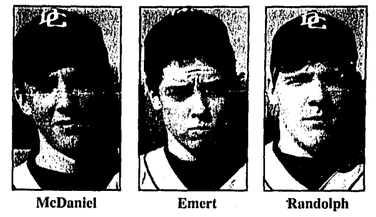

"I've always had a lot of confidence in him," Herndon said. "He's one that's not going to strikeout a lot, and he's been big the last couple of games. In the second we had runners on and he smashed it right at 'em (for a double play). And he made two good plays at shortstop."

"It felt good to win and sit on that bus coming home thinking: 'Wow, we really did something tonight,' " Emert said. "This was the first game we didn't have to scratch from behind. We were actually ahead the whole game."

McDaniel kept Davie's nervous fans guessing all the way, recording just one 1-2-3 inning. But he wasn't the least big intimidated when South put two runners on in the first, third and fourth.

"He pitched extremely well," Herndon said. "I went out there with runners on first and second and one out and said: 'Daggone it, Johnny, you've got to want this. He said: 'Coach, I want it.' I said: 'OK.'

"He located that fastball about where he wanted to, today he threw his offspeed well and then he mixed in that knuckler a couple times."

Reynolds 9, Davie 1

Everything turned sour for the War Eagles (3-7, 1-2 CPC) in a setback that epitomized their season. After beating Mount Tabor 8-6, they lost 4-3 loss to Forbush. After beating East Forsyth 6-5, they lost 9-7 to Page. After beating South Rowan, they followed a win with a backward step for the third time.

It was especially disturbing because they never challenged Reynolds. It was virtually over by the second inning, when the Demons had staked ace pitcher Hampton Foushee to a 5-0 lead.

Foushee, a junior lefty, finished with a four-hitter and 10 strikeouts. After each of Davie's hits - one apiece from Merrifield, Vogler, Smith and Emert - Foushee responded with a strikeout. Davie's lone run came on a throwing error.

"He's got really, really good control," Coach Doug Welch said after Reynolds improved to 5-0. "Earlier that was in question, and now he's in a groove. We've got a pretty solid defense and we're hitting around .320. We made a lot of hard outs."

Herndon fretted and fumed. It wasn't losing that bothered him so much. What bothered him was the way Davie lost, the way Davie played. Reynolds produced runs in five of its at-bats. In three of them, Davie committed an error. Davie didn't make an error in the sixth, but it helped Reynolds with a walk and hit batter.

Miscues in the first, second and fifth gave Reynolds four unearned runs off Ryan McClannon, who slipped to 2-3 despite a 2.83 ERA.

"Foushee pitched well, but we've got to make adjustments," Herndon said. "We've got to come to the park mentally prepared to play, and we weren't mentally prepared. We were going through the motions instead of being focussed and ready to play. I told them: 'Guys, you can be replaced. We're going to find nine guys who want to play. We're going to play the best ones whether you like it or not.' We told people to take until they get a strike in the seventh inning, and a guy swings at the first strike. If they're not going to listen, they can sit."

Notes: Davie has lost five straight to the Demons, who were a punching bag when Welch took over in the late 1990s. ... Vogler extended his hitting streak to four. ... Davie only has four .300 hitters: Randolph (.320), Matt Rich (.310), Emert (.300) and Vogler (.300). ... Davie's next three games are at home: Concord on April 1, West Forsyth on April 6 and South Rowan on April 8. All three start at 7 p.m.

JVs Rips Reynolds After Blowing Lead Against South

Now, after back-to-back wild and wacky games against West Forsyth and South Rowan, Davie JV baseball coach Tim McKnight has experienced just about everything.

At the end of a game two weeks ago at West Forsyth that the War Eagles couldn't possibly win, they used errors, walks and a two-out hit by Jon Hutchens to score four game-tying runs in the seventh inning. Davie eventually prevailed in nine innings, 13-9.

At the end of a game last week at South Rowan that the War Eagles couldn't possibly lose, they lived the other extreme in a Grand-Canyon sized turnaround, letting an 8-2 seventh-inning lead get away as South used four walks, a hit batter and an error to score seven runs for a 9-8 win.

The War Eagles were poised for their fifth win in six games - and a 2-0 Central Piedmont Conference record - after scoring two runs in the top of the seventh for the 8-2 lead. But their best pitching option - Hutchens, who has drawn plenty of raves all season whether at the plate or on the mound - collapsed with the game all but over. McKnight frowned at himself for failing to jerk Hutchens long before South had closed to 8-7.

"We gave one away and I'll take the majority of the blame," he said. "We try to get as much out of Hutches as we can, and I stayed with him too long."

Justin Thompson's two-run double highlighted a six-run third, and Jeremy Gupton and Brandon Stewart produced back-to-back RBI singles as Davie pushed the margin to 8-2 over the unbeaten Raiders. Stewart, Heath Boyd, Thompson and Gupton all had two hits, and Stewart pitched four strong innings before giving way to Hutchens.

The bottom of the seventh was a Davie disaster from the start. Hutchens walked the first two batters, then beaned the third one. One out later, South blooped an infield hit. Then came a single, error and walk.

McKnight turned to Bryan King with the lead whittled to 8-7, and South capped the seven-run inning with a two-run double.

Davie was absolutely bewildered. McKnight wore the look of a man who had just seen a ghost. The worst part was Davie helped itself lose.

"(After Hutchens got a strikeout with the score 8-2), I said: 'Well, maybe we can get through this,' " McKnight said. "I blame myself a lot. Hutchens obviously didn't have it, and I put King in a real tough situation. Hutchens has been the ace of our staff and I just kept thinking he would get us out of it. He's entitled to an off day and he had it. Hindsight's 20-20. Up to this point, I think I've made pretty good choices with the pitching. This wasn't one of them."

Davie 18, Reynolds 3

The War Eagles responded from the staggering collapse with a 17-hit tidal wave. They needed only two innings to bury Reynolds and improve to 6-4 overall and 2-1 in the CPC.

"They needed to bounce back, put South Rowan behind them and get a big win," McKnight said after the five-inning joyride. "You never know how a team's going to respond after a loss like that, and I got on them pretty hard. But after (a shaky first inning in which Reynolds led 1-0), our bats cranked up and we played extremely well."

In a nine-run second, Zach Howard doubled, Saxon Pratt knocked in two runs with a single and the monster rout was on. Pratt singled again in an inning in which Davie sent up 13 batters and produced eight hits.

"Sometimes when you start switching a lot of people, you lose some intensity," McKnight said. "But 1-15 we played very well. It didn't matter who we switched."

Tom Kuell and Howard handled the pitching. Neither issued a walk. They got sparkling defensive help from Stewart, King and Andrew Boswell.

"Stewart had an outstanding catch in center field. He caught it just shy of the wall, as good a defensive play as you'll see. When we moved Stewart from center to shortstop, he made a couple plays that weren't easy," McKnight said. "King had an excellent play in center, and Boswell caught a line drive at third and turned it into a double play."

The offensive leaders were Pratt (3 for 4, five RBIs), Howard (2 for 2, four RBIs), Thompson (2 for 2, three RBIs) and Logan Joldersma (2 for 2, two RBIs). Pratt did his damage from the seven hole.

"Pratt started with the varsity as a bullpen catcher," McKnight said. "They took Timmy Allen up to varsity, brought Saxon down, and he's done an extremely good job behind the plate."

Howard's return to the JV (he spent a week with varsity) gives Davie a slick glove at short and much-needed depth at pitching.

"He gives us a lot of versatility," said McKnight, who also praised Joldersma and Thompson. "When given an opportunity, Joldersma makes the best of it. He reminds me of Boyd: He's not going to strikeout very often. Thompson is starting to feel it. He's solid at third, but he got off to a slow start at the plate. He's made a couple adjustments and he's starting to hit it."

Notes: Davie plays home CPC games against West Forsyth on April 6 and South Rowan on April 8. Both start at 4:30 p.m.

Wins Revolve Around Benge's Arm

They stared a no-one-to-blame-but-ourselves loss in the face and high-stepped away with their perfect record intact.

"China Grove was a very good opponent," Allard said. "The only disappointment I had was we had a lot of runners in scoring position that we didn't push across. There's no reason why we shouldn't have scored 10-plus runs. For us to get where we want to be, we're going to have to take advantage of those opportunities."

For four innings, it was all Benge and North. In a three-run third, a CG error put North on the board and singles by Benge and Brooks produced a 3-0 lead.

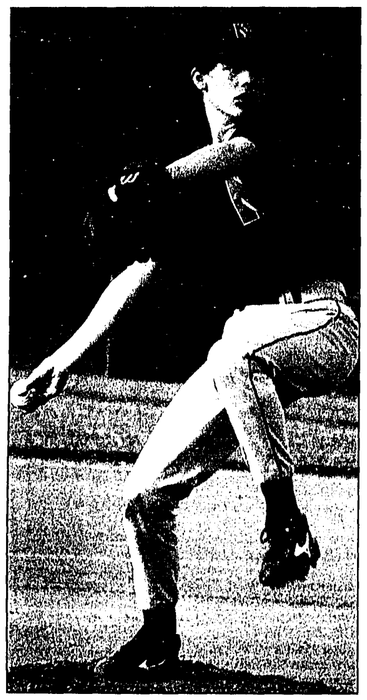

China Grove countered with three tying runs in the fifth, but the Wildcats nosed back ahead in its half of the fifth. And they did it without a hit. Brooks walked and scored the decisive run on a wild pitch. Nic O'Brien walked and scored the insurance run on Brett Schneggenburger's ground out.

China Grove finished with four more hits than North, but Benge refused to buckle with runners on. He was nerveless during a second-and-third, one-out jam in the first, getting a crucial strikeout for the second out.

He was also the recipient of stellar defense.

"Our defense made some tough plays," Allard said. "(Shortstop) Beam turned a double play by himself in the fifth to shut down their rally. Cope played real well at second. And I'm real pleased with the outfield. (Russell-Myers in left, Danny Peele in center and Zach Proctor in right) run down everything."

North Soccer Team Shreds South

After getting torn apart by Calvary in its season opener, North Davie's soccer team responded with a vengeance, shredding host South Davie 6-1 last week.

North raced to a 3-0 lead in the first 15 minutes and never looked back. Susanna McFarlane and Hannah Stroupe scored two goals each and Chelsea Trull and Cassie Barnes added one apiece as North led 4-0 at halftime and 6-0 before South avoided the shutout late in the second half.

"We played real well," North coach John Marshall said. "One of the things that's nice is McFarlane, Stroupe and Barnes are all seventh graders. So they're already starting to make an impact. Coty Lee and Stroupe really controlled the midfield."

Marshall also threw praise at stout backs Rebecca Gerdon, Hannah Jakob, Whitney Bokeno and Meagan Brookman, who was ferocious in winning "every 50-50 ball," he said.

"We shortened the field and kept South in our half."

The Tigers, thanks to Jessa Ren's goal, bounced back to beat Concord 1-0 in a hard-fought game that impressed South coach Christie Ruff.

Forwards Amanda Cook, Lauren Mock and Ren passed it around adroitly and kept Concord's players guessing where the ball would end up, Ruff said. Midfielder Liz Wright's powerful throw-ins and strong footwork gave forwards Mock, Ren and Cook many scoring opportunities. TheTigers took several shots on goal that were caught by Concord's goalkeeper.

Ren scored the game's lone goal on a breakaway in which Concord's players could only play chase. Seventh-grade stopper Kelly Truett played a pivotal role in keeping Concord scoreless, Ruff said. Every time the ball got through the defensive line, Truett was there to kick the ball out of scoring position. Goalkeepers Kaitlin Dodd and Alexis Freeman made great saves that kept the home crowd cheering.

"They executed the passing skills we have been practicing and played tough," Ruff said. "When you have so many new players (15 of South's 20 players are seventh graders) it is hard to predict how players will act and react during the game. It's obvious the girls enjoy playing and will keep on improving their skills and game strategy."

Notes: North plays home games against Summit on April 5 and Mooresville April 7. South plays at Kannapolis April 1 and at Harris Road April 6. ... South's roster includes eighth graders Amanda Cook, Lauren Stephens, Dinsy Varona, Liz Wright and Magan Doss, and seventh graders Carrie Brewer, Kaitlin Dodd, Alexis Freeman, Alhondra Gutierrez, Bianca Holcomb, Lauren Mock, Yuli Nava, Jesu Ren, Brandie Viers, Tina Williams, Brittany Dyson, Azarely Benitez, Apiffany Gaither, Sarah Dinkins and Kelly Truett.

Allegacy Helps Vogler Family Profit

Jonathan and Michelle Vogler's relationship with Allegacy Federal Credit Union is older than their marriage – by one year. Michelle, who works for a large healthcare provider, joined back in 1990.

Initially, I was attracted by the convenience," said Michelle. "The locations are great. There's a branch right at work that opens at 7:15 in the morning, which is wonderful! I work night shifts, so I can go by the branch on my way home. There are not a lot of businesses that are open at that hour."

Jonathan also joined in 1990, but for a different reason. "My parents are members, and my mom encouraged me to join and to take advantage of the great interest rates and the membership bonuses," said Jonathan. "We travel a lot and as Allegacy members we get discounts for different places like the Biltmore Estate and Tweetsie Railroad. They really make a difference."

Since the 1990's, the Voglers' lives have evolved (they now have two children, Holly and Benjamin), and so has their relationship with Allegacy Federal Credit Union.

Right now, we have a number of services, including our auto loan, with Allegacy," said Michelle. "The automatic auto loan payment is wonderful because I can make bi-weekly payments rather than a larger monthly payment."

As the Voglers discuss Allegacy's many benefits and features, the list keeps growing.

"Allegacy also provides free checking, with no minimum balance and no monthly service fee, a Visa and Visa check card at no additional charge," adds Jonathan. "Plus, don't forget about all of the membership discounts and the free Auto Buying Service."

Two years ago, Michelle was in the market for a new car. She knew exactly what make and model she wanted and all of the other important details, such as color and extra features. "I used Allegacy's free Auto Buying Service," said Michelle. "It was wonderful. I knew what vehicle I wanted, a Honda CR-V, and went to Allegacy to get pre-approved. I was given a phone number to call. I told them (Allegacy's Auto Buying Service) exactly what I wanted: the color, model and options. The very next day, I received a call and learned that they found it in Georgia. Allegacy delivered it to my home with a full tank of gas. And, they beat the local price by $900! I will definitely use it when I'm shopping for my next car."

Holly, the Voglers' 12-year-old daughter is also thrilled with the end result. "It will be mine in four years," she said with a grin.

"Allegacy made the entire car-buying experience easier," said Jonathan. "When we got my auto loan from Renee, a branch manager, she explained all of the details about the car loan and purchasing it. She gave me honest answers. She wasn't selling the car and had nothing to gain. Sometimes you don't get the whole truth from the car salesman. It was nice to have someone like her to ask questions and to get straight answers."

When asked to describe Allegacy in one word, Michelle responds with 'personal.'

"It still has that hometown feeling," said Michelle. "You come in and people are friendly. I know it's big, but it has that small community bank feel."

South gets an out as Jeff Cartner makes the catch at first base.

Colby Seaford pitched well in two games for South.

Carter Makes Thunderous Debut

How about this for a middle-school debut.

South Davie's baseball team opened the season with a 5-2 victory over visiting West Rowan, and seventh-grader Ryan Carter keyed it all. The No. 5 batter provided what proved to be the game-winning hit in the third inning, and in relief of winning pitcher Colby Seaford, he earned a save by hurling three hitless innings.

The Tigers split their other two nonconference games last week, annihilating Lexington in less than three innings and losing a hard-fought game to Southeast by a deceiving 9-2.

The 2-1 week started with a heroic performance by Carter, who knocked in two runs with a sharp two-out single that gave South a 3-2 lead. Although he walked four on the mound, he combined with Seaford to blank West over the final five innings.

"I have a lot of confidence in Carter, and he gained some of my confidence," Coach Todd Bumgarner said. "I never hesitated in going to him, and he did a fantastic job."

Seaford and another seventh grader, Jess Cartner, helped shoulder the load. Seaford pitched two-hit ball for four innings and held West to two runs (one earned), while Cartner supplied insurance with South's second clutch hit. With two outs in the sixth and South clinging to the 3-2 lead, Cartner rapped a hard grounder through the infield to make it 5-2.

"I couldn't ask for a better opener," Bumgarner said. "West is not as strong as they have been, but it's always a good win when you can beat West."

The Tigers trashed Lexington in two and a half innings. It seemed like their offensive merry-go-round would never end. By the time it did, it was nearly dark.Seaford paced a 10-hit attack with three hits. Clint Howell and Ryan Hellard had two each. Howell got the win in two innings of work.

Southeast 9, S. Davie 2

If the Tigers continue to play like they did last week, they'll win their share of games. But as has been said thousands of times, sometimes you have to be lucky to win. The Tigers got unlucky at Southeast.

Despite the final margin, they played well enough to win until the bottom of the sixth.

"Matt Oswell hit it hard all three times and only had one hit to show for it," Bumgarner said. "We hit numerous balls on the nose, we just couldn't find a hole. We could have easily scored several more runs."

Southeast jumped ahead 2-0 in the first, but South finally tied it in the top of the sixth. Howell started things with a bunt hit. Jeff Nuckols and Seaford followed with hits as South drew even.

Then, after absorbing frustrating outs throughout the game, South's lousy luck extended to Southeast's first batter in the sixth. He reached on a slow roller that dribbled by the pitcher into no-man's land. A throwing error pushed the tiebreaking runner to second. After a walk, the floodgates opened as Southeast blew it open with one hit after another.

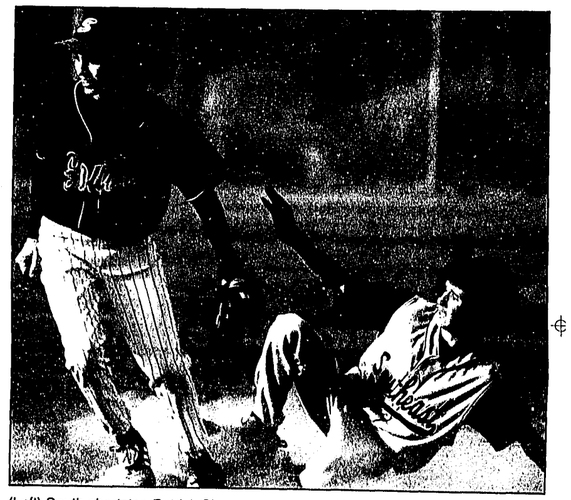

When the dust settled, Southeast had seven runs and a 9-2 lead.

"We beat on the ball all day, and they get on base on something like that," Bumgarner said of Southeast's infield hit in the sixth. "The two innings they scored we missed routine plays that cost us. It was a tough inning for an inexperienced team to go through. It just unraveled on us.

"A couple plays here and here, we're not only in the game, we win the game. But they've got a good team. They didn't walk anybody and they caught everything."

South got hits from Howell, Seaford, Carter, Oswell, Cartner and Kuckols.

Notes: South plays at Lexington on April 1 and at home to North Davie April 6. ... Seaford and Carter pitched strong in the middle innings, facing the minimum in the second, third and fourth and facing four batters in the fifth.

Tigers Set Four Records In Opening Track Meet

South Davie's boys and girls track & field teams came out breathing fire, breaking four school records in last week's victorious season-opening meet.

Coach Brenda Holmes' boys scored 75.5 points to blow away Southeast (49) and China Grove (41.5). Coach Becky Miller's girls tallied 59.5 to beat China Grove (51) and Southeast (45.5).

The Tiger boys set three new records: Cameron Webb, James Mayfield, Shyteek Brown and Perry James ran the 400 relay in 48.58 seconds; Floyd Collins, Brian Fuentes, Brown and Jesse Cousins ran the 800 relay in 1:51.30; and Webb established a new benchmark with an 11.57 in the 100 dash.

Webb won the long jump, Brown the triple jump and Cousins the 400 and 200 on their way to three-win days. Collins, who also won the 100 hurdles, was a double winner.

"This team looks like the best one in years," Holmes said. "They have great potential and a good work ethic."

The Tiger girls were led by Tyara Wagner, who broke the school record with a 13.07 in the 100 and added wins in the long jump and 400 relay, and by Laura Vanhoy, who captured first in the high jump, 200 and 800 relay.

"We did really well," Miller said. "We won 9 of 15 events."

Stephanie Jarvis contributed two wins (400, 400 relay). Other South winners were Tekaira Gaither (shot put), Shalitha Cleveland (400 relay), Sarah Moore (400 relay), Sarah Miller (800 relay), Tonesha Turner (800 relay) and Keri Robertson (800 relay).

"And we were without (injured) Ayanna Leach, who (last year) was the conference champion in the 100 and set a new conference record," Miller said. "We really looked good. So we're pretty excited."

Travis Sutterlin is aiming for the Junior Olympics after finishing sixth in the N.C. Men's Gymnastics Championships.

9-Year-Old Gymnast Finishes 6th In State

Why are we hearing from a 9-year-old named Travis Sutterlin? He finished sixth in the North Carolina Men's Gymnastics Championships on March 14 while racking up seven medals.

Making Sutterlin's accomplishment all the more impressive, the competition was fierce - 46 competed in his age division.

Sutterlin is the son of George and Sharon Sutterlin. He attends Mocksville Elementary School with twin sister Hope Sutterlin, who is also a gymnast. The state championships were hosted by Cabarrus County Gymnastics.

Travis Sutterlin scored at least an 8.4 in all six events to place sixth overall. He scored 9.3 in floor, 8.4 in pommel horse, 9.325 in still rings, 9.2 in vault, 9.3 in parallel bars and 8.4 in high bar.

To qualify for the state championships, the competitors were required to compete in all the meets during the season and post a certain score. Sutterlin spends three or four days a week- or 9-12 hours - training at American Stars in Salisbury. So does sister Hope, who is currently in her offseason.

Travis doesn't want to stop here. With sixth in the state creating a wind at his back, he hopes to keep climbing. Now he's aiming for next year's Jr. Olympic regionals.

Partnerships In Parenting

Nine Of Davie's New Foster Parents Earn Certificates

Nine new foster parents received certificates last week for completing the required course "Model Approach to Partnerships in Parenting" or MAPP.

The certificates were awarded at a dinner honoring the graduates at Hardison United Methodist Church. The graduates are: Bob and Lori Dewitt, Robbie and Charity Hullette, Shaun and Crystal Sherrill, Wesley and Michelle Burton, and Daryl Shuping.

Gail McCuiston, who recruits and licenses foster homes for Davie County Social Services said, "MAPP training guides foster parent applicants through the complex issues they will face. Through the planned activities, parents see firsthand the challenges of fostering. Using both group and individual processes, we help parents decide if their expectations and abilities match the realities of foster parenting.

"Our goal is to give the foster parents enough tools to work with so they can better understand the needs of the children and their birth families. Partnerships in parenting become partnerships for permanence. Every child deserves a permanent home."

Honoring the new foster parents were Davie County's foster parents who already been serving the community. Members of the community such as attorneys, social workers, counselors and children's advocates were invited.

After dinner there was a panel discussion with Cindy Justice, children's services supervisor; Sally Smith, attorney for Social Services; Lori Hamilton-Dewitt, foster parent and former Guardian ad Litem attorney; Bob Dewitt, foster parent and former Guardian ad Litem volunteer; Robin Foster, foster mother and former N.C. Foster Parents Association board member; and Diane Price, foster mother who has fostered about 30 children in the past five years.

Sally Smith talked about the importance of the foster parents being a part of the court process with the children. "It is easier for the foster parents to understand what happens in court if they are actively involved in the process," Smith said.

The group had several questions about the court process and Smith encouraged all foster parents to come to court to become more familiar with juvenile law and how it affects the children and the families.

Bob and Lori Dewitt became involved in the foster care program through their work as guardians. They explained to the group that every child who is adjudicated neglected or abused is assigned a guardian ad litem through the court system. The guardian ad litem volunteer looks out for the child's best interests by doing their own investigation into the child's needs and makes recommendations to the court.

"Social Services works with the whole family and must try to reunify the family when a child comes into care. The guardian looks at what is best for just that child. Most of the time social services and the guardian concur regarding the recommendations to the court," Mr. Dewitt said.

"My wife and I both enjoyed working with children as their guardian but now we want to foster and according to the law we cannot do both."

"Davie County needs more foster parents," said Cindy Justice. "It's a tough job but so rewarding. We are seeing an increase in child abuse and neglect in our county and an increase in a need for more families willing to open their hearts and their homes to our county's most precious resource, our children."

Robin Foster and Diane Price talked about the rewards and challenges of foster parenting. Both have had children with serious emotional needs in their homes. They spoke of the importance of documenting what their concerns regarding the children and also the triumphs and plateaus they reach with the kids.

"It's so important to let the social worker and the guardian ad litem know what's going on with the children in my home," Price said. "The workers don't know there is a problem or concern unless we let them know. We also want to report the milestones."

Price said she prepares "Life Books' for the children in her home. It is a scrapbook with pictures and mementos the children can carry with them throughout their lives.

After the meeting the foster children who had been entertained in another room were able to come in a join the group.

"Everyone had a great time and learned something new to take with them. The community is really beginning to share its resources to benefit our foster children. The Storehouse for Jesus allowed us use its facility to hold the MAPP training meetings. Hardison Methodist provided the use of this beautiful room tonight. May is Foster Care Recognition month and we will be having more community events stressing the importance of community involvement in," McCuiston said.

Davie County's nine newest foster parents are, from left: Daryl Shuping, Robbie Hullette, Charity Hullette, Michelle Burton, Wesley Burton, Crystal Sherrill, Shaun Sherrill, Lori DeWitt and Bob DeWitt.

A Good Start

Lawyer Credits Family, Davie High For Successful Career

Recognized as one of the top labor lawyers in Charlotte, attorney Scott Humphrey credits his youthful days in Davie County for launching his career.

Humphrey, 39, is the son of Beth and Carl Humphrey of Mocksville and was featured recently by the Charlotte Observer.

He switched to the huge Kilpatrick Stockton law firm recently, taking nearly 50 business clients with him, including The Fresh Market grocery chain.

His interest in labor law started as a 17-year-old working at a Hanes distribution plant in Davie County. His dad was head of distribution for Hanes Knitware.

The summer before he went to UNC-Chapel Hill, the Teamsters attempted to organize the Hanes plant.

Humphrey watched the campaign unfold.

"It was fascinating to see it from both sides," he said last week.

He received a business degree from UNC and a law degree from Wake Forest.

Humphrey

His first job was with Ogletree Deakins, the Greenville, S.C., law firm that battled the Teamsters in the Hanes plant.

He has helped companies combat more than 30 union organizing campaigns, losing only once.

He only represents employers.

He credits his father with influencing his views on unions.

"It has been good, a lot of fun," he said of his career choice. "I get to try to solve business problems and keep business going forward. It has been fascinating."

He and his wife Cindy have a son, Matthew, and daughter, Hannah.

His advice for those trying to decide on a career: "Find something you love doing and build a career from there."

He was a member of the Davie High Class of 1982 and has fond memories of Mocksville.

"It was a wonderful place to grow up."

"I look at the high school years fondly. A lot of people influenced me. I thoroughly enjoyed the people in high school, Friday night football games, tennis."

He especially credited the school's debate team as a lasting help. "I still use the skill they taught me there," he said, mentioning the late teachers Larry Jones and Freddi Murphy.

Three From Davie Selected For All Northwest District Bands

Three Davie County band students were selected for the Northwest North Carolina All District bands.

Two were named to the all district band for middle schools - South Davie student David Pruitt and North Davie student Jordan Reavis.

The son of Richard and Gloria Pruitt of Mocksville, David is a percussionist in the South Davie band, directed by Kathy Ferebee. He was named second chair snare drummer.

Jordan is the daughter of James and Iona Reavis of Mocksville, and played clarinet in the all district band. North band teacher is Jason Whitaker.

The middle school students participated in a clinic and concert at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem on Feb. 6-7.

Matthew Rich, a junior at Davie High School, is the third chair trombonist for the All-District High School Symphonic Band. He is eligible to audition for the N.C. High School All-State Honor Band.

The son of Stephen and Nola Rich of Mocksville, Rich studies trombone with Dr. Randy Kohlenberg at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

He was a soloist with the 2003 Davie War Eagle Marching Band, directed by Marc Schaub. He traveled to Boone Feb. 20-22 for a clinic and concert at the Broyhill Music Center at Appalachian State University.

The students were selected from among hundreds who auditioned at Central Davidson high and middle schools Jan 24. The Northwest District of North Carolina Bandmasters Association includes counties between Davidson and Watauga and most of the counties bordering that aren, including Forsyth, Iredell and Yadkin.

Lancaster Named Y's Top Volunteer

The Rev. Jimmy Lancaster, known for going "above and beyond" expectations in his volunteer work for the Davie Family YMCA, has been named the organization's Volunteer of the Year for 2003.

Lancaster

Tom Looby, president and chief executive officer of Northwest North Carolina, presented the award to Lancaster at the YMCA annual meeting Feb. 17 at Bridger Field House on the Wake Forest University campus.

"Jimmy has served on the Davie Family Board of Management for five years, during which time he has given his time, talents and treasure – not only to the YMCA, but to the whole community," Looby said.

"For the past several years Jimmy has been the chairman of the Community Committee, helping the YMCA connect to the community in a special Christian way. As pastor of a local church, Jimmy's passion is to see people come to know Christ in a personal way. He has provided leadership to our Community Prayer Breakfast, YMCA church teen nights and the 5th quarter football Friday nights. He is a consistent encourager to YMCA staff, to YMCA members and to the community."

Lancaster is chair of the Davie Y's 2004 Partner With Youth fundraising campaign.

The Davie Family YMCA, located on Cemetery Street in Mocksville, offers a wide range of services for residents of Davie County. It is one of 11 branches of the YMCA of Northwest North Carolina, which serves 26,000 members in Forsyth, Davie, Stokes, Yadkin and Wilkes Counties.

In 2003, the YMCA of Northwest North Carolina (then known as the YMCA of Greater Winston-Salem) served more than 100,000 youth, teens, adults and seniors. Its programs include summer camping, youth sports, wellness, parent-child activities, literacy/ESL tutoring, arthritis aquatics exercise, and Bible study.

The YMCA of Northwest North Carolina, which marked its 115th anniversary in 2003, continues to honor its policy of never turning away anyone due to an inability to pay a program or membership fee. YMCA branches supported this promise in 2003 by granting $1.8 million in charitable assistance, much of it raised by volunteers.

"We are able in large part to honor this promise because of the hard work and dedication of our volunteers such as Jimmy, who allow us to carry out our mission far beyond what we could do only with paid staff," said Ed Barron, executive director of the Davie Family YMCA.

For information about volunteering at the YMCA, call 751-9622.

Lindsay Jackson shows the Youth Leadership Award she earned through volunteering at the Davie Family YMCA.

Lindsay Jackson Earns YMCA Youth Leadership Award

For Lindsay Jackson, the YMCA is much more than a place to have fun.

In large part because of her success in recruiting other volunteers for the Davie Family YMCA, Lindsay received the Youth Leadership Award for 2003.

Tom Looby, president and chief executive officer of the YMCA of Northwest North Carolina, presented the award to Jackson at the YMCA annual meeting Feb. 17 at the Bridger Field House on the Wake Forest University campus.

"Lindsay has been not only a volunteer, but a leader of volunteers," Looby said. "She has been an evangelist for volunteerism among her peers. Using e-mail and the power of personal contact, she has successfully recruited many youth to volunteer for service opportunities at the YMCA."

Jackson, who attends Davie High School, has assisted with many events such as Parent's Night Out, Family Nights, Breakfast with Santa, the Resolution Run and Middle School Mania, as well as serving as President of the Youth & Government organization.

Hi, my name is Hanon Dobbins. My teacher wanted me to tell you a story about an animal for the humane society. So, here is the story about a dog my aunt Pat and I got. My aunt Pat owns a kennel and I am her assistant. And this dog, you see, got dropped off by some people. Then some other people got the dog and took it to the vet. His name was Dr. Beeson. He gave it shots and checked it out to make sure it was OK. The people came and got the dog and they called my Aunt Pat to see if she could keep it so it would have not have to go to the pound. She said she would keep it for a few weeks. The dog's name was Lucy. She came up to my waist. She was black and liked to lick a lot. She liked to jump, too. I helped feed her and water her and play with her.

My aunt Pat called a friend of hers whose dog had died a couple of months ago. She told her friend to come see the dog. She and her son came to see the dog and they liked her. She was very playful and lickful. They wanted her so they went home and put up a fence and got things ready. They came back and got Lucy and she jumped a lot and they liked her.

Now Lucy has a good home and they have a good dog and she did not have to go to the dog pound and be put to sleep.

These band and choral students at Davie High are charter members of the school's Tri-M Music Honor Society.

DHS Organizes Music Honor Society

The Tri-M Music Honor Society, the music honor society for secondary school students, announces the chartering of a new chapter at Davie High School under the leadership of chapter advisors Elaine Snow, choral director, and Marc Schaub, director of bands.

The formation of this chapter signifies the school's recognition of the importance of the arts in the development of a comprehensive educational program.

The Tri-M Music Honor Society provides a means of recognizing the efforts and achievements of music students who volunteer their time and share their musical talent with others. Since 1952, more than 4,100 Tri-M chapters have been chartered in the United States and abroad, and membership exceeds 24,000 students.

The goal is to foster greater interest in band and choral performance and to provide more opportunities for personal musical expression. Students are selected on the basis of musicianship, scholarship, character, leadership and service to their school and community.

The organization's standards challenge students to greater effort and achievement and to encourage them in the pursuit of excellence.

In addition to several new student members, superintendent W.G. Potts, Davie curriculum coordinator Patsy Crenshaw and Davie High School principal Larry Bridgewater were inducted as honorary members. The chapter plans to initiate service projects immediately, as well as providing support for the music ensembles at Davie High.

Shady Grove Elementary

It is time for the Annual Spring Basket Raffle. Each classroom is assigned a theme for a basket. Children from that classroom are asked to bring in donations of anything pertaining to that particular category to go into the basket by Friday, April 2. Monetary donations will be accepted and the Basket Raffle Committee will make purchases. After the baskets are assembled, they will be on display in the media center and the tickets will be sold for $1 each. At 7 p.m. April 27 during the first graders' PTA program, the winners of each basket will be announced.

The 7th Annual Golf Outing for Technology will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 22 to raise money for new technology materials. Business sponsorship information and entry forms can be picked up at the school, from a student, or at the Advance Post Office. There is room for 30 teams. The deadline for entries and sponsorships is April 23.

Thank you for the recent donations made to the "Pennies for Patients" fundraiser. The school collected almost $2,000 for a worthy cause. Ms. Ellis's kindergarten, Ms. Hendrix's third grade, and Ms. Ale's fifth grade classes donated over $160 each. They earned an ice cream party.

Eat in or take out from Venezia's on Monday nights, and be sure to write the name of your child's teacher on the back of the card and drop it in the box. The PTA is sponsoring a competition through April 12 for the class with the most entries who will win a pizza party.

The first graders in Ms. Roger's class have math homework each day. Students have studied adding and subtracting with real objects, touch math, and number lines. The children understand the concepts and are ready to memorize math flashcards. The children will be given a timed test to see when they have mastered these math facts. It is important for the children to study the flashcards every night and practice what they have learned.

Second graders in Ms. Spach's class have been busy working on telling time, counting money, completing science experiments and talking about earlier days in our country. They read the non-fiction book, Zipping, Zapping, Zooming Bats. While, the second graders in Ms.Kauff and Ms. Boswell's class read the book, Miss Nelson is Missing, a story about a teacher who was missing. The children had all kinds of ideas about why Miss Nelson was missing. Finally, the children were relieved when Miss Nelson came back and they realized how much they missed her. In social studies, the students discussed the difference between wants and needs and why parents have to work to make money to buy things. The students in Ms. Hill and Ms. Carter's second grade class collected data, made predictions and worked with certain and impossible. They, especially, enjoyed reading the funny book, Cloudy with a Chance of Meatballs.

The third graders in Ms. Hendrix and Ms. Plyler's class worked with calculators, pattern blocks and connecting cubes to discover various math skills. They read many stories with great beginnings and wrote their own beginnings to a story. Students in Ms. Johnson's third grade have been doing research and oral reports.

Cooleemee Elementary

The fifth grade students in Mrs. Wilcox's class enjoyed a trip to Heritage Theater in Winston-Salem. In a few short skits they retained many US history facts. The class completed the Practice EOG test for reading and math. Students are going over the test and celebrating what they did well on and continuing to work on weaker areas. Students have started a new science unit on the Changing Earth.

The kindergarten classes have been continuing a study of transportation. They love the sights, sounds and movements of the various vehicles. Each class has enjoyed hands-on science concepts. Mrs. Saville's class enjoyed a lesson about racing cars down an incline and got into a discussion about gravity. The children in Mrs. Robinson's class pretended to ride a bus and made up addition stories to relate in math. The classes met the last letter person this week - Zig-Zag Zebra.

Third graders have each been given a cabbage plant to take home as part of a science unit on plants and soil. These plants were donated by Bonnie. They visited the Zachary House for a tour of the museum and to learn how to make cloth. This is the beginning of several trips to learn about Cooleemee's history as a mill town. Last week, third graders also had a fabulous time at Heritage Theatre. Students expanded on information they already knew about folktales by doing puppet shows.

First graders are measuring up a storm- comparing whether things are longer or shorter. They are using estimating skills to predict how long they think something is before measuring, then they check the guess. Students are working with the many letter combinations that are in words like: st, fl, br, ing ...

Miss Brown's second graders are learning how to multiply by 1 and 100, measuring perimeter, telling time to the minute, as well as recognizing parallel lines. They are reading Possils Tell of Long Ago. Other second grade classes are enjoying observing the Painted Lady butterfly's life cycle as they transform from the egg to the chrysalis, and then emerge into a butterfly.

Fourth graders in Mrs. Cutler's class are reading Bright Freedom's Song by Gloria Houston. The novel is about the Underground Railroad that ran through the Appalachian Mountains of North Carolina. The students are excited about the fact the author grew up in North Carolina. The historical fiction novel is a way for students to learn about the history of North Carolina.

South Davie

Dolphin sixth graders are taking part in a field research project investigating if math performance can be improved by starting a session off with music.

Recent brain research has been publicized through connections that suggest Mozart's music might help with cognitive development and brain efficiency. It's not that students get smarter, just that they make more of their brains' potential.

The Dolphins, who volunteered to represent their grade level, will listen to music of a variety of styles, from J.S. Bach to Chet Atkins, Pachelbel to Andrew Lloyd-Webber. They will then attempt a batch of number facts in a timed manner.

It remains to be seen if any particular style of music will work best, or if performance is at all improved. Maybe some students work better after folk or bluegrass, while others need classical music. The extra practice with number facts won't do any harm and the project's discoveries might be a sign of things to come.

The action based research arises from a county-wide program to train teachers for the gifted, and is led by Dennis Carroll, High Point University Dean of Education.

Mocksville Elementary

Student of the Week, March 22-26: Leslie James, Hailey Dirk, Kaitlin Fletcher, Autumn Murphy, McKenzie Hall, Ivonne Garcia, Brock Allen, Andrew Leftwich, Amber Short, Kelly Viers, Josh Brown, Ashley Drake, Jaquelin Barron, Corbin Scott, Elizabeth Santis, Jeremy Doss, Christina Griffin, Tony Donati, Cynore James, Matthew Hursey, Perry Farrell.

Ms. Langer and Mrs. Dyson's kindergartners are studying the season of spring. They are enjoying learning about bees, bugs and butterflies. To wrap up the unit, the children will plant flowers. They will learn responsibility by taking care of their flower.

Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Pruitt's class has been reading and writing about dinosaurs and their fossil remains. We will do research through the media center's books as well as our computer. We will learn as many facts as we can. We will download photographs of fossil remains and we will complete both an oral and written report to share with the class.

Mrs. Flynn and Mrs. Cook's first graders had a "yee-haw," good ole time at the country-western square dance hoedown. We celebrated our reading by dancing, eating, lassoing some cows and horses and just having a ball. Thank you to all the parents and PTA who helped with this special day. We are busy reading Easter books and making bunny decorations for spring and Easter in our room.

Ms. Smith's fifth grade is looking forward to spring break. They have just enjoyed a trip to Horizons. They are starting their study of Middle America in social studies. In the Read-a-thon our class read 22,509 pages. Good job, class. The school enjoyed a hoedown in the gym for meeting their goal in the reading program. Ashley Joyner had a birthday in March.

Cornatzer Elementary

It may be only April, but Cornatzer students have already headed off to camp. This year's spring reading incentive program invites all students to join in the fun at Camp Read-A-Lot. Supported by Cornatzer staff, endorsed by the PTO and sponsored by CCB of Mocksville, the reading program is designed to emphasize the importance of reading one-on-one with children at home as well as at school. The program will also raise money to purchase additional reading and technology materials. This year part of the proceeds will be used to give each individual student a personal book to keep. The students are competing in camps: the K-1 Camp Little Critters, the 2-3 Camp Busy Beavers, and the 4-5 Camp Wise Owls. Each classroom will have an individual cabin name. The cabin in each camp earning the most points for reading, and the cabin that raises the most money, will win a swim party at the YMCA. Students will be striving to meet weekly reading goals. Kindergartners and first graders are being asked to read or have read to them at least seven books every week. Second and third graders will be aiming to earn a minimum of two accelerated reading points or pass two AR tests. Fourth and fifth graders will be asked to earn three AR points or pass three tests. Students meeting their goals will be rewarded with weekly camping treats. Students are being encouraged to raise money in the form of sponsorship for their reading from family and friends.

Reporting for Mrs. Baisley's third grade class are Amanda and Brent Hill. Our class has been busy reading Charlotte's Web. It is a good story about a pig and more farm animals. Mr. Zuckerman is planning to kill the pig and his friends are trying to help him out. We made triaramas showing the settings in the book.

Our class has been working on multiplying by 4. We are still trying to earn ice cream scoops for our multiplication sundaes. We are also working on writing numbers into the thousands.

On St. Patrick's Day we wrote about "how to catch a leprechaun." We all wish we would catch a real leprechaun.

The students in Mrs. Terry's fifth grade class continue to keep busy schedules. Most of her students begin the day serving as one of the following: a safety patrol, a morning buddy or on the news show staff. This work takes place prior to a full day of classes.

After reading an article about performing magic tricks, students in Mrs. Terry's communications class recently entertained each other with a variety of magic tricks. David Copperfield may soon have serious competition.

After studying about energy in science class and learning more during a field trip to Sci-Works in Winston-Salem, students are studying Canada in social studies. Learning the provinces and territories seems like a breeze after having learned all 50 states.

Mrs. Terry's math students are showing proficiency in using fractions and decimals in all four operations in problem-solving. They have learned the importance of reading problems and questions carefully.

April brings the annual school reading competition with students working on strategies to win a swim party. They're looking to friends and families to support their efforts.

During the third quarter, students in June Johnson's class began a unit on oral communication skills. Students learned the qualities of being good listeners as well as good speakers. Part of their study emphasized proper telephone manners for both personal and business calls. In addition, students had several opportunities to make short oral presentations which prepared them for the grand finale of a five-minute speech. Several students participated in the annual speech contest sponsored by the Town of Mocksville. Fifth graders Chan Archer, Kali Davis, Erin Deadmon and Conner Jewell did an outstanding job.

Raised Bed Is A Gardening Option

A raised bed is simply a planting area that is higher than the surrounding soil level. Beds should receive at least six hours of full sun each day to grow sun loving flowers or vegetables. Most gardeners choose to frame or enclose their beds with pressure treated lumber, redwood or even cinder blocks. Pressure treated lumber, treated with chromated cooper arsenate or ammoniated copper arsenate, is safe for gardens due to their very low tendency to leach into the soil. Creosote treated lumber and railway ties should be avoided, because the creosote can leach into the soil and kill plants.

Raised beds can be any size or height, the options are limitless. However, it is best to keep a bed small enough to work without stepping or walking in it to avoid compaction. A good size to begin with is 4 feet wide by 8 feet long and 8 inches high. A width of 4 feet to ideal to work without stepping in, but if a wider bed is desired consider subdividing it into sections accessible by planks or stepping stones.

An extra source of soil will be needed to fill the raised bed. At least one third of the fill should be existing soil and one third should be organic matter, such as compost or manure. The remaining one third can be existing soil, if drainage is adequate, or try a soil conditioner of ground, aged pine bark to improve drainage. Fertilizer and lime should also be applied as recommended by a soil test.

So why use a raised bed garden as opposed to the typical backyard garden? The most important reason to use a raised bed is increased productivity. Raised beds do not require usual row spacing because no walking is done in the beds, so one can expect to double conventional yields with raised beds. The bed will also warm up quicker in spring than the ground, so a cold frame can be used to begin the season early.

Compaction, drainage and other soil problems can be alleviated with raised beds. There are no tractors, tillers for feet wondering through the garden to compact the soil. The soil mix can be easily adjusted or amended to improve the pH, fertility or drainage. The gardener no longer has to settle with their low lying, wet, heavy, clay soils or bending over to pick a cucumber or tomato, just raise it up.

Sewingly Yours offers sewing classes

Start the spring season off right at Sewingly Yours. In fact, their goal is to literally leave you in stitches.

Whether you're looking for embroidery, sergers or anything sewing or quilting related, expect three things when you walk through their doors – terrific prices, expert advice and friendly service.

Nobody knows more or cares as much about the art of sewing. That's why their staff motto is "Sharing the joys of sewing."

"Sewing has truly become an art form," says Ann Michel, co-owner of Sewingly Yours and a lifetime seamstress.

Together with fellow owners Teresa Lupole and Wannitta Brown, Ann has helped make sewing a fun thing to do. And the environment at Sewingly Yours reflects it.

"We have decorated our store in a very feminine and attractive way," explains Teresa. "Everything we do is geared for the sewer."

Since opening the Lewisville location in July, Sewingly Yours has added a second location at 4604 West Market Street in Greensboro.

As Wannitta notes, "We are now the exclusive Husqvarna Viking carrier in Forsyth and Guilford counties. These machines originated from Sweden over 130 years ago and are the best brand in the world."

Day and evening classes offered

The biggest part of their business is education. Sewingly Yours offers day and evening sewing classes.

"We have a number of classes that we offer, from basic sewing to embroidery and quilting. We have the best fabric prices in the triad for quality quilting," Ann adds.

At no additional cost, they also offer the use of their sewing machines during the class if you don't want to bring your own.

Prices range from $99.00 and up for a new sewing machine. Quality sergers start at $349.

"Sewing is very much alive and thriving," Teresa adds with a laugh.

Gift certificates available

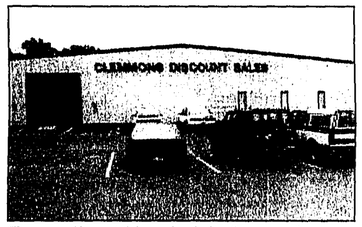

Sewingly Yours has gift certificates available to be used anyway you would like in the store. They also repair all makes and models.

"As always, our main objective is to focus on quality and service. We are committed to our customers," says Wannitta.

Locations in Lewisville and Greensboro

Good therapy: Gardening makes the soul happy

Many times, we've had people to call us to do a story. It's usually in July, and someone at a nursing home has started a vegetable garden between the boxwoods and the azaleas. Scattered among the landscaping plants will be tomatoes, cucumbers and squash.

Always, those people who grew the vegetables seem to be the happiest in the building - including employees. They beam at the size and ripeness of the tomatoes, relish in the crispness of the cucumbers, and talk about their favorite squash recipe. And it never fails, they always share with fellow residents.

Good therapy?

You betcha.

I'll bet most of those nursing home gardeners, at one time in their life, had a vegetable garden at home. It was where they grew food for their families - food they knew was good, because they tended to the plants, were there at harvest and when it was canned or frozen.

Gardening isn't only good exercise, it's good therapy. There's something about working in the garden that is good for the soul.

Having a vegetable or flower garden doesn't have to be a back-breaking, sweat-pouring activity, although that is fine for those who like more strenuous exercise. Walking behind a tiller, chopping ground, is hard work, but it can relieve stress. Planting seeds in that newly plowed ground is a bit more fun, and harvesting the bounty is the most fun of all.

A garden can be as small as a single pot on a patio, where a tomato plant can be surrounded by one of it's best accompaniments - sweet basil. The sight of the ripening tomatoes and the smell of the basil makes it worthwhile even before they reach your plate.

Many flowers and vegetables are easily started from seed. Others are available for transplant as small plants.

The size of the garden can be endless.

Some people like to use big farm tractors, others tillers. Although I've met few people who actually like to use a hoe, getting the grass and weeds from between young corn plants can be satisfying - especially when you think about those full ears of sweet corn you will enjoy later, roasted and smothered with butter.

No matter at what level you garden, it's good therapy.

Feeling depressed, plant a pack of wildflower seeds.

Feeling lonely, put a bright marigold in the ground.

Feeling stressed, watch and listen as the birds and butterflies scamper about your sunflowers and zinnias.

Mike Barnhardt

Although it doesn't have to be mentioned to those of you who already are gardeners, but they are some of the most sharing people you will ever meet. You may not get the first tomato, but chances are, you will be offered one or two before the season is over. You may not get the first flower arrangement, but chances are, if you're sick, having a birthday or are just a friend, a bouquet is on the way.

It seems that gardening can be good therapy for the gardener, and their friends. I wonder how many psychiatrists are gardeners? If not, they should try it, or at least recommend it.

I could go on and on about the benefits of gardening, but time is short.

The beets and lettuce are in the ground, and it's time to prepare the land for the vegetables and annual flowers that will brighten our summer. I need some therapy.

New, quality siding can help with 'curb appeal' for a home

(ARA) – Homes today are valued as much more than a shelter from the elements. They are utilized as offices and entertainment facilities for family and friends and as a haven to escape the frenzied pace of everyday life.

Our homes are full of personality, history and contain many irreplaceable memories. For most homeowners, remodeling is a cost effective way to improve their home without the hassle of moving.

Remodeling a home has substantial benefits. The homeowner can stay in their house while it is being updated or modernized.

Location, location, location; remodeling allows the homeowner to stay in the same neighborhood, near friends and close to the amenities that drew them there in the first place. When the home is improved in some way, the curb appeal and value usually increases, which helps ensure a higher resale value if a move ever arises.

Curb appeal is the impression a home's exterior conveys. There are a variety of ways to enhance a home's curb appeal, such as adding new landscaping or new pavement. Many homeowners find that improving the exterior of their home is the best way to accomplish this and it often offers a higher return on investment than other projects. A great way to begin enhancing a home's curb appeal is to have siding professionally installed.

Most siding installed on homes today is constructed of steel, vinyl or wood.

Steel siding is the most durable.

Wood siding needs to be scraped and painted every few years.

Temperature changes can cause vinyl to expand, contract and crack.

Steel siding will not warp or chip in hot and cold temperatures like vinyl can and it is more resistant to wind. The strength of steel keeps it held snug to the home. Lighter vinyl can be lifted and torn away from the home, leaving the homeowner to clean up the mess.

How the siding is installed on the home is also important. Some siding comes in standard 12-foot lengths, which can leave the average home with more than 130 visible seams. Dirt, moisture and bugs can get behind these seams leaving the home looking dirty and detracting from its curb appeal.

Chipping and peeling paint or cheap vinyl can make a house look run down. Applying siding to a home can give it a freshly painted look and enhance curb appeal.

Like any other investment, it is important to research the company and its products before they are installed on your home. To help choose a qualified siding company, ask for references of past customers. Visit some of the homes they have remodeled and be sure to ask the homeowners questions about the company while you are there.

Remember, quality is never cheap and the lowest bid isn't always the best.

It may seem like a headache to research the company and products at first, but it will save you time and money in the long run.

Floriculture popular elective among Davie High students

By Dwight Sparks
Enterprise Record, The Courier

"We can do this, girls," teacher Karen Ferrell shouts.

With an internet hookup, she has searched floral designer websites, looking for tricks and instructions on how to make some of the latest styles of flower arrangements.

Floriculture is a surprisingly popular class at Davie High School.

An elective, 75 students — most of them girls — in three classes learn to design floral arrangements, determine the cost and more.

They study floral history and the science and care of flowers.

"There's a tremendous amount of hands-on activity, and everyone can be successful," Ferrell said.

With soon-to-fade flowers donated weekly from Bi-Lo and Costco floral departments, the classes have all the supplies they need to make actual arrangements.

"This is the happening class," Ferrell said with pride.

She coaches them through technique and style, letting them examine what others have done. Students critique each other's work.

What about the queen of style — Martha Stewart?

"She has good taste in flower arrangements, but she's not a role model," said Ashley Wagner, 16. She had just finished a towering arrangement of roses.

> "This is the happening class. It reinforces all their other classes."
> - Davie High Floriculture teacher Karen Ferrell

"I like the exotic arrangements," she said. "I help my mom in the garden, and I like being around colors."

"Their goal is to produce a sellable item and learn design styles," Ferrell said. One student used the class to land a job at Davie Florist. Others have gone on to college to study more.

The class, now in its sixth year, is an expansion of the old agriculture classes, designed to attract students who would never have considered taking basic agriculture.

"What these kids can do is wonderful," Ferrell said.

Last week, she ordered students to design a flowers for a wedding or reception. The following week they were going to work on funeral arrangements.

They make actual arrangements twice a week.

In the meantime, they learn more than just flowers.

"It reinforces all their other classes," Ferrell said. They get mathematics by figuring the cost of arrangements, a touch of history through flowers, a touch of science through their care and growth.

Rarely do the flowers go home. They are mature flowers — too old for the stores to sell. The students made and delivered Valentines Day arrangements for Davie High teachers.

Ferrell said the students get a sense of accomplishment from their arrangements. Some of those on display looked to be professional quality. She said the students also get a view of the business world and what it takes to be successful.

Native plants ideal for butterfly garden

North Carolina's diverse natural habitats provide homes to more than 160 butterfly species.

To encourage butterfly populations in your own yard, plant a variety of nectar plants for adults and host plants for caterpillars in a sunny location.

Most butterflies lay their eggs on a specific host plant, which their caterpillars will later feed on. Adult butterflies feed on nectar from flowers, but some prefer rotten fruit or tree sap.

Butterflies are adapted to North Carolina's native plants, which are ideal for designing a butterfly garden. Caterpillars are picky eaters, and many feed only on a particular species of plant. So it is important to provide a good diversity of host plants to encourage a range of caterpillars.

Adult butterflies are active during the warmer parts of the day from early spring to late fall.

Seasonal activity varies by species, so choose a variety of nectar plants to provide food throughout the growing seasons.

Small butterflies cannot feed from large blooms and favor smaller ones, while large butterflies favor larger blooms.

Consider flowering sequence when designing the butterfly garden. Concentrate plants with similar blooming periods to allow butterflies easy access without excessive movement and exposure to predators.

Incorporate a few tall plants and shrubs to provide shelter for butterflies from wind and rain.

Butterflies bask in the sun to warm their bodies before flight, so provide a few large, flat rocks for them to perch on and soak up the sun.

It's A Voodoo Lily

Joe Childers of Angell Road, Mocksville, looks at the Voodoo lily, Amorphophallus konjac, growing at his home, sometimes at the rate of five inches a day since last January. This photograph was made in early March. It is also known as the corpse flower, from the smell when the flower opens. "I have not seen it open, but from all accounts, it is not a good thing," Childers said. This plant's cousin, Amorphophallus titanum, has the largest flower in the world.

Women appreciate tools as gifts, also

(ARA) - More and more women are discovering the satisfaction of do-it-yourself projects, whether it's something as simple as hanging a picture, or a bigger job like installing a garbage disposal.

While some are inspired by the ever-increasing number of do-it-yourself shows on television, others are driven by necessity - finding a handyperson to tackle home repair jobs can be next to impossible.

Tool manufacturers and hardware retailers have tapped into this growing trend and are providing the tools and training women need. A number of companies offer tools made specifically for women. These tend to be smaller, shaped for a woman's hand, and lighter for ease of use. A survey conducted by tool manufacturer Ryobi found that 88 percent of women would like a power tool as a gift. Big box retailers are also seeing this trend toward women taking on projects around the house, and many are now offering how-to classes specifically for their female customers.

It stands to reason that if women are buying and using more tools, they need a place to store them. Visit your local hardware store or big box retailer and get a feel for the variety of styles and sizes available; there's sure to be one to fit your needs.

"Women should look for the same qualities in a good toolbox as men would," says Sue Johnson of Waterloo Industries. Johnson says women should look for full-width piano hinges, durable construction, comfort-grip handles and strong latches. If you want to keep the kids (or your husband) out of your tools, you'll want a toolbox with a lock. "Extras like tote trays and small parts organizers help keep everything neat and easy to find," she adds.

While steel toolboxes are more traditional and durable, plastic tool boxes are lighter and more colorful, and will not dent or rust. Choose a size that has room for all your tools, but not one that's too big and heavy to carry around.

To help choose the right size (toolboxes range from 16 inches long to 30 inches long), measure the longest tool that needs to fit into the toolbox. In addition, consider how many tools will be stored. Although it is larger than a typical toolbox, a sit/stand/tote with caddy is a versatile item to consider; not only does it store tools, but you can use it as a step ladder, eliminating the need to carry one more item around.

If you're running out of room in your toolbox, a project center can help.

Toolboxes make great storage solutions for craft items, too. Beaders should look for a toolbox that has lots of small compartments for stashing beads, as well as a larger area for storing other supplies. Scrapbookers will find a toolbox comes in handy to organize markers, stamps, stickers and other tools of the trade.

You'll find a wide array of tool boxes and other tool storage ideas at hardware and home improvement stores.

Moles and voles can harm home landscapes

Moles can be a big problem this time of the year for home lawns.

Moles are quite active in the spring creating mounds and tunnels throughout lawns, beds and natural areas. There are three species of moles in North Carolina: the eastern mole, hairy-tailed mole and star nose mole.

All are similar in general appearance. The head has a long, hairless, pointed snout; lacks external ears; and the small eyes and openings of the ear canals are hidden in fur. The forefeet are large and broad with webbed toes and broad, depressed claws, while the hind feet are small and narrow with slender, sharp claws.

Voles, on the other hand, are small rodents with an appearance similar to mice. Voles, often referred to as meadow or field mice, have smaller ears and eyes when compared to a mouse. The thick fur ranges from dark brown to gray, although many color variations exist.

In North Carolina the two vole species that cause the most damage are pine voles and meadow voles. Pine voles have tails about the same length as the hind foot, and they burrow and dwell underground like the mole. Meadow voles have longer tails, about twice as long as the hind foot, and dwell above ground.

Both animals are active throughout the year and do not hibernate. Moles feed primarily on creatures living in the soil, such as earthworms, white grubs, ants and beetles, not plants. They are usually present in a landscape because they have an adequate food source.

The vole's diet consists of plant material. Voles feed on bulbs, roots and other underground structures. They damage trees and shrubs by stripping off bark and girdling stems, trunks and roots.

There are a number of control methods for both moles and voles. Traps are available for control of moles and voles. Packing the soil and reducing soil moisture may educe the habitat's attractiveness to moles and pine voles. If the area is small, exclusion can be practiced with fencing or guards. For voles the fencing should be 18 to 24 inches high and placed about six inches below the soil line. Mole fencing should be started at ground level and go to a depth of 12 inches and then bend outward an additional 10 inches at a right angle.

Cultural practices, such as close mowing; removing thatch; tilling; eliminating weeds, groundcover and debris; and pulling mulch back from the base of trees and shrubs can reduce likelihood and severity of vole damage.

Rodenticides and rodent baits are also available for vole control, but poisoning techniques for moles are illegal in North Carolina. The most practical and successful method for mole control is reducing the food supply by controlling grubs. However, if another food source is present, such as earthworms, the moles may remain in the law. The best time to control grubs is early spring or late summer to early fall with an insecticide.

That's a lot of horse manure!

Farm Has Plenty To Spare For Home Gardeners

When you have horses, you have manure.

Ellen James of HorseFeathers of NC, at Hidden Horse Farms, 681 Howardtown Circle, Mocksville, said there is manure to spare.

"We have about 20 horses, mini-horses and ponies that provide a therapeutic riding experience for impaired children and adults, and, these horses daily produce lots of manure that can be therapeutic for your garden," she said. "Helping us get rid of the manure and putting it to good use would be very welcome."

The manure can be removed any Saturday from 9 a.m.-4 p.m Bring your own bags, buckets, shovels. Call 751-3188 to let them know when you are coming.

Get flocked!

Flamingos Ready To Grace Area Landscapes

They're pink.
They're plentiful.
They're tacky.
And they're back.

Pink flamingos have been spotted in the area, and word has it they are ready to help members of the Mocksville Garden Club and Mocksville Woman's Club raise money for the American Cancer Society.

The pink friends will spend a few days, in a good-natured way, of course, making area yards tacky.

Friends and neighbors can be "flocked" with a donation of $50 for a large flock and $35 for a smaller flock. These flocks will remain in the yards for three days or may be removed sooner with a donation of $50 to the American Cancer Society.

Flock insurance can be purchased for $50 to avoid ever laying eyes on these docile birds.

An executive flock in a colorful, tacky plastic basket for an office desk can be purchased for $25.

The pink birds are expected to be ready to flock by April 20.

To arrange a flock, contact Gail Todd at 751-4715, Sheila Potts at 998-1677, Elette Owen at 998-3534, or Vickie Smitherman at 699-3799. All proceeds will go to the American Cancer Society.

Hettie Muzie, member of the Mocksville garden and woman's clubs, shows some of the pink flamingos ready to flock area yards and desks in a fund-raising activity for the American Cancer Society. The tacky birds are shown in a planter box in downtown Mocksville, maintained by members of the garden club.

Garden club annual plant exchange May 1

Bring a plant, take another plant home. Bring two plants, take two plants home.

The Mocksville Garden Club's annual plant exchange will be held from 9 a.m.-noon on Saturday, May 1 in downtown Mocksville between My Friend's Place and American Cafe.

The event is open to members and the public, and a wide variety of landscape plants, flowers, herbs, shrubs and trees is usually available. Often, members bring more plants to exchange than they take home, so there are plenty for novice gardeners who may not have a plant to bring.

Lighting trends are changing

(ARA) -The top trend in decorative lighting has little to do with style, shape or shade choices. It focuses on the new mindset of the consumer.

"People have realized you're not buying just a lamp or a sconce or a chandelier - you're buying an accessory that lights up," says designer Sergio Orozco.

Decorative lighting is considered to be one of the best accessories you can buy. "If chosen correctly, it is as important to a room as your best piece of furniture," says Orozco, a New Jersey-based furniture and lighting designer. "It reflects your taste and adds the finishing touch."

Fixed or portable, lighting has become an all-important interior design feature.

There are three major movements, as spotted by the experts at the American Lighting Association (ALA).

• Casual elegance: The creation of warm, relaxed and cozy environments, with casual lighting that is a little more upscale in design.

• Soft contemporary: Clean, modern and simple in style. While architectural in design, these fixtures are no longer cold.

• Simplified traditional: Removes the excess. "While still a traditional look, this look is not ornate," says Orozco. "There is now a simplification. Decorative lighting here may still be solid brass, but stripped down and rich with an antique patina."

Teen With Permit Falls Asleep; Mother Thrown From Car

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

A mother of three is dead after a car wreck last Friday night near the Oak Valley community in Advance.

According to N.C. Highway Patrol Trooper M.T. Dalton, the wreck occurred at approximately 10:35 p.m. on April 2.

A family of five were traveling in a 2001 BMW south on N.C. 801. The driver was their 15-year-old son. Dalton reported the teenager stated he was tired and fell asleep.

The car went off the road to the right and collided with a concrete driveway culvert. The vehicle went airborne, overturned three times, and ejected Linda Lamar Labruzzo, 46, of 241 Crosswind Drive, Advance. She was pronounced dead at the scene.

Motorcyclist Thrown 100 Feet Into Field

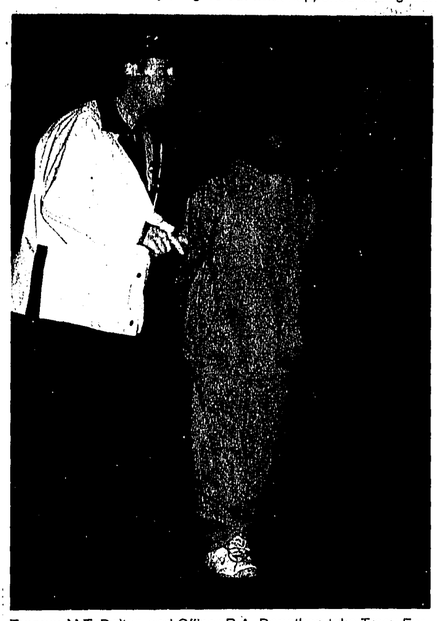

A local man was killed Saturday evening after he wrecked the motorcycle he was driving off N.C. 801 South.

According to a report by Trooper M.C. Howell of the State Highway Patrol, Lawrence Harley Stephens, 54, of 714 Cherry Hill Road, Mocksville was driving his 2002 motorcycle approximately 70 mph northbound on Cherry Hill Road on April 2. The posted speed for the area is 55 m.p.h.

Stephens' bike was driven off the right side of the road and overturned on the shoulder.

The cycle then collided with a ditch and Stephens, who was wearing a helmet, was thrown more than 100 feet into a field. Howell reported the bike slid approximately 149 feet before hitting the ditch.

Stephens was pronounced dead at the scene at 7:45 p.m. by Davie County Medical Examiner John M. Hancock.

Trooper M.T. Dalton and Officer R.A. Donathan take Tracy Fortune into custody.

Neighbor Dispute Erupts Into Free For All; 12 Are Arrested

A neighborhood dispute erupted into a free for all in which two people were stabbed after two incidents on Wednesday, March 31.

After it is all over, some 10 people will be cited for fighting and trespassing, said Detective Ken Hunter of the Mocksville Police Department.

The first call came in just after 3 p.m. about a fight on the street at Mountview Drive.

Detective David Miller reported that Tracy Fortune and Quentin Dulin had gotten into a fight with Demas Hernandez. A knife had been taken away after the fist fight.

Officers advised those involved to take out warrants with the magistrate if they wanted charges to be filed.

Apparently, no warrants were sworn. Instead, some of the subjects involved went for help and came back looking for trouble.

About 6 p.m., another call was received about a fight with guns and stabbings.

Felton Lee Mayfield Jr., 20, of 262 Duke St., Cooleemee, and Michael Elliot Arnold Jr., 22, of Cyprus Knoll Drive, Mocksville, had been stabbed, and were taken to N.C. Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem for treatment of injuries.

Mayfield and Arnold were each charged with trespassing. Arnold had been stabbed in the upper chest with a 7-inch pocket knife, penetrating his lung. Mayfield had been stabbed in the back with a steak knife, penetrating his kidney, Hunter said.

The homeowner on Mountview Drive, Bertha Kimbrough, told officers she was pushed by Mayfield as she was trying to get to her son. She asked them to leave and the group that had driven to the scene refused, Hunter reported.

"The boys came into Ms. Kimbrough's yard and started yelling and cursing and fighting," Hunter said. She reported that several had knives, and one had a gun.

County OKs $61,901 For Unpaid EMS Overtime

By Mike Gunning
Special to the Enterprise

On Monday Davie County Commissioners approved a motion to pay $61,901 to county EMS workers.

The amount includes $4,033 of benefits the county believes is due EMS workers who worked overtime but failed to receive compensation.

The decision was made after a closed door session that county Attorney Robert Price Jr. said was needed to protect the board's right to attorney client privilege.

The payment comes on the heels of an investigation by the state department of labor over the overtime reporting practices of the sheriff's department and EMS.

Commissioner Ken White said the amount will be paid from the county's fund balance.

"It's similar to a savings account that you would have at home," White said. "The law requires us to have a balance budget, and it's used for times such as this."

White said the decision of the board to make the payments did not absolve the board from liability if a past employee wished to take action for past overtime they felt due.

"All (former) employees have the right of redress," White said. "If they want to pursue an action, there's nothing we did today that will prevent that."

The issue of compensation for overtime arose because the Department of Labor reclassified EMT workers from one classification to another in 2002. County board members were unaware of the change, which moved EMT workers from being eligible to work 171 hours a month to 160 hours a month. The work schedule of EMT workers does not fall into compliance with the state's reclassification.

White also said the board took into consideration that many of the EMS workers had second jobs, and any schedule changes required by the labor department would have a major impact on them. Further, the disposition of the funds should not cause department management to change work schedules, and that he was confident the labor department would recognize the efforts of the board to address the issue.

Christopher Vest, a former corporal with the Davie County Sheriff's Department, initiated the investigation with a complaint to the labor department over the sheriff department's policy to not allow overtime, and labor officials chose to look at EMS at the same time.

John Norton Set Standard For Principals

John Norton is still the standard by which principals at Davie High School are measured.

Every principal — before and after him — has been rated by their comparison to him.

One of those successors, Dr. Robert Landry, acknowledged that Monday at Norton's funeral.

He praised him as the dean of high school principals in North Carolina.

During his two terms at the school, Davie High was once rated as the third best academic high school in the state. Landry said the school was as good as a junior college, and students who left Davie routinely excelled in college. Parents complained that it was too tough.

John Norton was tough. He set high standards. He did not tolerate foolishness.

He walked the halls continually.

With the same respect commanded by a State Highway Patrol car driving down the interstate, every student immediately checked his behavior when Mr. Norton was on the prowl. He was always on the prowl.

His glare was enough to dispel any crowd.

Not so long ago, some principal in another state became a media darling for walking the halls with a stick in his hand, looking tough.

Mr. Norton didn't need a stick.

Landry said he was a principal without peer. He was concerned about student safety before it was fashionable. He ran a tight ship. He expected excellence and demanded it.

Only his friends got to know the man outside his icy principal image. For the rest of us, he was always "Mr. Norton." I never outgrew the intimidation he held over me — and never lost the respect I had for him.

Two of his assistant principals led the funeral at Rose Cemetery, Landry and Bill Campbell. Both are now principals, schooled in the methods of John Norton.

Whispered conversations around the grave recalled his toughness, his unflinching fairness, his unbending rules.

He wasn't the most popular man in the county, but he wasn't in a job that is associated with popularity.

He was an avid golfer. And as a principal, he is remembered as the best there ever was.

Not a bad legacy.

Davie Landed A Big One In Corporate Fishing Trip

As county manager Terry Bralley recalled it last week, a guy who had just been on a successful fishing trip stopped in Davie County to look at a vacant building on his way back home.

He was looking for a bigger facility for his growing business.

There was something new available here on U.S. 601 north of Mocksville.

It was Davie County that bagged the big fish that day, Bralley said.

Larson Storm Door and Comfort Bilt Windows and Doors eventually decided to move into the vacant building. Last week, they cut the ribbon on a major expansion of the facility.

One of the company's big customers is Lowes.

If you've got a new storm door in your house, it just might have been made in Mocksville. And it was all the result of a fishing trip.

Say No To Hickory Hill Rezoning Request

To the editor:

I live at the entrance of Pine Valley Road. I am afraid that the quiet, peaceful neighborhood I love will be destroyed by traffic, noise and pollution. I already pick up a big portion of trash each week from traffic on Hwy. 64.

Additional traffic created by Mr. Burnette's plan will become dangerous to children who play and ride bikes and to those who walk and run. The Pine Valley Road will not stand up to heavy construction traffic causing numerous problems to DOT.

I have big concerns over our zoning board's actions. Seven members heard our comments and promised to consider them at our first meeting with the Board. At the second meeting, only four members showed up to vote plus an alternate who knew nothing about the prior meeting. One of the members who did not show up to vote seemed to already have made plans to work for Burnfam. We need a zoning board with no conflict of interest and members who can stay awake during the meetings.

If zoning is changed, the quality of life will be changed because I fear renters and those who do not own the land will not have the same values as homeowners. I recently heard a statement from a resident of another county to the effect that Davie County was archaic in its zoning laws and that a company like Burnfam could do pretty much what they wanted.

The long run expenses will cost Davie citizens more tax dollars. Renters do not pay property taxes but they use all the benefits afforded by these taxes. Someone will have to pay for water lines and sewage, for turning lanes on 64, for widening our streets (ours is only 16 ft. in places), probably a new road will be needed for Burnfam's construction trucks. More law enforcement officers will be needed, more jail space, more classrooms, extra teachers to take care of the 90 patio homes and 40 attached homes.

As Mr. Poindexter noted in a recent article in the Enterprise-Record, there are lots of tractor trailer rigs moving day and night on Hwy. 64. The Pine Valley entrance is almost hidden coming west towards Mocksville. We have seen numerous accidents already. Mr. Burnette's plans sets the scene for many more.

I am 72 years old. Must I live with this 10-year construction plan? This is probably the rest of my life.

Please ask your commissioners to vote these zoning changes down and prove to us that they represent all the people and not just one man.

'One Man's Opinion'

To the editor:

In answer to Thelma Mauldin's letter in the Davie County Enterprise Record April 1, I too agree that our Father God has been good and blessed us and this nation; however, the times have changed where there are no morals, no principals, except man's principals and nothing but evil and greed; and also, our God is a jealous God and is a just and righteous God - this is scriptural. The days are evil and wicked which means the end time is near - this is scriptural. His wrath must come for His children's sake.

The fall of the Roman Empire was due to man, the fall of any great country was due to man - look at Alexander the Great, Neapolian Bonaparte and Adolph Hitler, for example, who wanted to conquer the whole world - where are they now? Fallen. Man will be the fall of this country and not our Father God.

I too have read and studied the King James Bible along with the Amplified Bible, American Standard Bible and the New King James Bible and others and this is my opinion and answer.

Like Paul Harvey, the radio commentator always says, "This is one's man opinion."

Time To Slaughter The 'Sacred Cows'

To the editor:

It has been said "sacred cows make the best barbecues". This is no less true for Congress's sacred cows. Unfortunately, there are few butchers in the politically correct environment of national politics willing to slaughter these cows. Most politicians are afraid to take on the programs and policies that have attained an untouchable status, even though they threaten America's national well-being and the ideals it was founded upon.

Fortunately, this upcoming election offers an opportunity to send a fresh, courageous young man from Kernersville into the mystical congressional fray. This young man is none other than Nathan Tabor, candidate for US Congress District 5. Nathan Tabor not only recognizes these sacred cows and understands the threat they pose, but has a truly thought-out plan for their abolishment.

Tabor understands the need to bring education back to the local control of communities and parents, and away from the influence of Washington bureaucrats. Tabor understands that the answer for pressing government needs isn't higher taxes, but creative solutions such as public-private partnerships (one such example is NC's Amber Alert program, which received funding from his family's company, Revival Soy). As a NC resident, Tabor realizes that many current agricultural regulations are the last thing farmers need in order to thrive.

North Carolinians have always enjoyed a good barbecue, isn't it about time we slaughtered up the sacred cows? The opportunity is ours and the fire starts with the Republican primary this July.

Davie High JROTC Program Wonderful

To the editor:

I just wanted to say good job to the entire JROTC program at Davie High School. I'm sure everyone has worked hard.

Please let 1st. Sgt. Jones know that we are proud of Davie High's accomplishment at the Statesville Meet.

On a more personal note, a big thank you to you and 1st sergeant for the affidavit of food character you both sent to Lynn Hicks. I'm sure you have heard by now that it is official. Elias is now a Register. I am very proud of that young man.

Col. Hales, both you and 1st. Sgt. have been a big influence in Elias' life. I cannot stress to you enough what a difference you both have made in his life. My son was a loner all of his life, misunderstood by all of his peers. I knew he would eventually come out of his shell. JROTC did that for him.

Elias thinks the world of both of you. Every major thing that happens, he can't wait to tell you.

More than anything else, I just want to say thank you from the bottom of my heart. All kids need a positive influence in their lives. Both of you have been just that. You are excellent role models for young men and young ladies who choose to lead positive lives and be the best they can be.

I firmly believe that both of you are the reason I can say I am the proud parent of a soldier in the US Army.

I know of no way I can praise you two gentlemen enough. Davie High School, as well as the entire county, should be proud of the JROTC program. Strong leaders are needed everywhere, and Davie County has two of the best.

Donna Register,
former Davie resident

Residents Opposed To N.C. 801 Rezoning

To the editor:

The residents of the Highway 801 North area and the side streets are opposed to the rezoning of the property at 1295 NC 801 N. to Highway Business Special Use (H-B-S).

It is to be considered at the commissioner's meeting on April 19. This rezoning proposal was turned down by the planning board.

HiLo Enterprises has purchased the lot with plans to construct a concrete and landscaping contracting business. It is shown as 2.26 acres. It is a narrow lengthy lot with a street and right-of-way to other residences down the length of the lot on one side. That would leave less than two acres for the 5,000 square-foot building that HiLo plans to build. They also plan a parking area and a fenced outdoor storage area for equipment and material. They supposedly will also plant a row of trees around the border.

Part of the lot for some reason is shown as business because an old one-car garage was previously used to sell old furniture. The Shore property, across Highway 801, is shown as business property. It has been in the family for three generations and that family doesn't know of it ever being used as business. Another property that was a family grocery store 50 years ago has been used as a residence for over 22 years. That property has not been a business since zoning has been in effect.

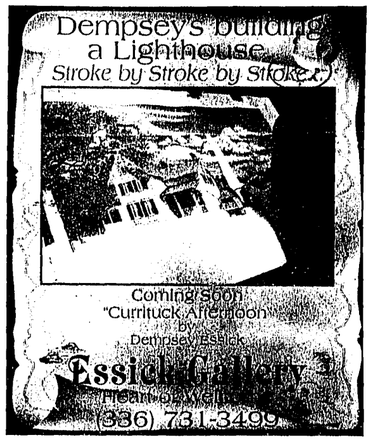

This is a residential area and we want it to remain that way. Land here doesn't perk well and some owners are required to have five acres in order to build a house.

I don't believe the property has acreage enough that HiLo will stay here. Who would they sell it to when they leave?

The neighborhood doesn't want a huge warehouse type building and fenced-in material and equipment lot right beside other homes where families are raising children.

We are requesting that the commissioners please leave this area residential.

Speak Out Against Sexual Assault

To the editor:

Every year, thousands of North Carolinians - women, men and children - become victims of sexual violence. Last year, according to the North Carolina Council for Women, North Carolina's rape crisis centers answered over 29,000 crisis line calls and provided in person assistance to over 7,000 victims of sexual assault; however, there are only 7,000 sex offenders and sexual predators registered as living in North Carolina. Davie Domestic Violence Services and Rape Crisis Center provided assistance to 26 victims of sexual assault and other forms of sexual violence in Davie County last year. Forty-eight counts of child sexual assault were tried in Superior Court in Davie County during the same year. Sexual violence not only affects those who are victims, but it affects families, friends, churches, communities and our society as a whole.

One in five North Carolina women have been sexually assaulted at some point in their lives. In the United States rape is the most costly crime to it victims totaling $127 billion a year considering factors such as medical costs, lost earnings, pain, suffering and lost quality of life. Sexual abuse also appears to contribute to teen pregnancy indirectly by lowering the age of first intercourse and by increasing sexual risk-taking among young people. Ninety-seven percent of parents surveyed by the Kaiser Family Foundation wanted sex education to include what their teen should do if raped. In the majority of counties in North Carolina it does not.

While the statistics are staggering, isn't just one victim cause for concern and action? As a community, we have a responsibility to support each and every individual whose life has been impacted by sexual assault and other forms of sexual violence and to speak out against this devastating problem. The effects of sexual violence affect all of us. One victim is too many, join me and speak out against sexual violence and supporting those people who provide services to victims of this heinous crime. Only by speaking out can we make our community safer.

April is recognized as Sexual Assault Awareness Month. This is a special opportunity for each of us to take time to bring attention to the issue of sexual violence.

On behalf of Davie Domestic Violence Services and Rape Crisis Center, I would like to encourage your readers to help make their community safer by speaking out against sexual assault during the month of April and throughout the year. Only by working together and supporting one another can we make our community safer.

Oklahoma! Coverage Great

To the editor:

It was my intention last week, to write on behalf of the Davie County Arts Council to thank your newspaper for the great front page coverage given to Oklahoma!. It's great to live in a community where positive news also makes the front page. It has been a busy couple of months, so the letter missed the deadline last week. Then I read your editorial, and shed a couple happy tears.

I had the privilege to see every performance and a few of the rehearsals.

As a board member, and a crew mom having inside information, just allows for more worries. Just as the actor's moms anticipate each solo, I worried about background details, holding my breath on the scene changes, and most of all praying for the seats to be full for every performance.

I wasn't disappointed. The magic arrived at the Brock and it stayed for every show. It was a true labor of love with over a hundred willing and able participants, some of whom didn't know they were willing, let alone able. Hats off to Megan Evans-White and crew for bringing it all together.

Thanks again to your newspaper and to the whole community for supporting the arts with your time, talent, money, and attendance at Oklahoma!.

Secretary, Davie County Arts Council

Are Priorities In Line?

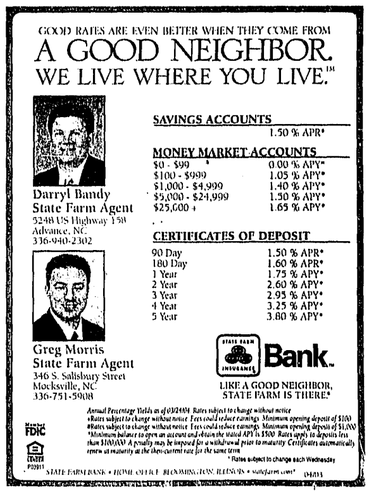

To the editor:

When so many of our county's students spend a considerable portion of their school day in a "temporary" trailer classroom, I am most curious as to what is the dollar allocation from the recently passed bond referendum towards the high school's football stadium enlargement/renovation. Are we certain that "our" priorities are indeed in line?

• Dente Jamel Kimbrough, 20, of 379 Mountview Drive, Mocksville.

• Quentin Lamar Dulin, 17, of 148 Windsong Drive, Mocksville.

All, including Mayfield and Arnold, are scheduled to face the charges May 13 in Davie District Court.

School Board OKs Aug. 9 Start

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Parents, mark your calendars.

The Davie School Board approved amending the 2004-2005 school calendar at their meeting Monday night.

The start date for students was moved from Aug. 4 to Aug. 9.

The number of early release days were reduced from five to two.

Christmas break was shortened to finish the first semester.

Spring break was moved from April 13-15 to March 30-April 1 to mesh with Easter Holidays.

And all make-up days after Jan. 4 will come at the end of the school calendar. An ample number of days are built in for severe weather.

Superintendent "Dub" Potts presented the revisions for approval by the board.

"I've been with this school system since 1984 and this the first time I've seen a calendar that was built for educational purposes," said Potts.

A motion to accept the calendar changes was made by Carol Livengood and seconded by Regina Graham-Hauser.

The board unanimously approved the 2004-2005 school calendar changes.

However, the new calendar does not include the graduation date for next year.

approved $46,054 to be paid out of the sheriff's budget. Price said the board arrived at that figure through internal calculations, and that the amount was not mandated or requested by the labor board.

Davie County Sheriff Allen Whitaker, who was not at the meeting, said he was not surprised by the board's action.

"We just want to do what's right and get in compliance," Whitaker said.

White agreed.

"I'm sure they (sheriff's department) tried in good faith to run the department with good aggressive management," White said. "I don't believe anyone had the intention of taking something away from an employee that was due them."

Man Faces Three Charges Following Afternoon Chase

A Mocksville man faces three charges after leading police on a chase the afternoon of March 31.

Brandon James "Big Game" White, 22, of 241 Neely St., was charged with possession of cocaine, failure to stop for a blue light and siren, and driving while license revoked by Mocksville Police Officer E.M. Parker. He waived his right to an attorney before Judge Wayne L. Michael April 1, and is scheduled to face the charges April 15 in District Court. He was placed in the Davie Detention Center in lieu of a $5,000 bond.

Someone called police around 2 p.m. March 31 reporting suspicious activity in the Hardee's parking lot on U.S. 601 South, according to Assistant Mocksville Police Chief W.J. Stoneman.

Officer Parker got behind a 1975 GMC pickup truck leaving the scene, traveling at an estimated 60 mph in a 45 mph zone.

Bond Reduced For Man Charged With Sex Crimes

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

A judge ordered bond reduced in Davie District Court last week for a man accused of rape and indecent liberties with a child.

Ronald Alexander Ellis, of Winston-Salem appeared April 1 to ask for reduction of his $100,000 secured bond imposed on charges of domestic criminal trespassing, harassing phone call, misdemeanor stalking, indecent liberties with a child, and second degree rape. Ellis was arrested March 28.

The complainant, Catherine Ellis, appeared with a domestic violence court advocacy worker. When asked if she had anything to say Catherine only replied, "I know his temper. I just know when he gets out he'll come looking for me." Catherine and Ellis have been married nine years, but are separated.

Ellis' attorney Grady McClamrock told Judge Wayne L. Michael that his client, who is 31 years old, was raised in Yadkin County and has a good reputation in the community. McClamrock said the situation was a "domestic mess" and since the couple's Feb. 1 separation, Catherine has called Ellis to fix things at the house and the couple have spent a weekend together. "If there's something she wants and he does it, she's fine. When he doesn't, she calls the cops."

Catherine, who appeared visibly upset, never looked in Ellis' direction.

Assistant District Attorney Carrie Garvey told Michael the matter was not just some domestic squabble. "This isn't just a domestic matter, there is a detective involved. She's afraid if he gets out, he's going to kill her," Garvey concluded.

In a judgement signed by the Michael, Ellis' bond was lowered to $25,000 secured. He was ordered to comply with the supervision of Davie Pretrial Release and instructed to have no contact with Catherine or other witnesses involved. Ellis was also put on electronic house arrest at the discretion of pre-trial release and ordered not to be in the company of anyone under 18 without authorized supervision.

According to the judgement Ellis will reside with a girlfriend in Forsyth County until his next court date April 15. She is the mother of a 16 year old girl. Michael left it up to the discretion of the mother as to whether or not Ellis would have contact with her daughter.

Money OK'd To Move Mobile Classes

By Mike Gunning
Special to the Enterprise

County commissioners approved a request Monday from Davie Schools superintendent W.G. Potts for the transfer of $323,614 from the current expense fund to capital outlay.

Potts said the move is needed to facilitate the transfer of temporary classrooms and replace five HVAC systems at South Davie Middle School.

In a letter to the board of commissioners, Potts stated that the immediate transfer was necessary so as not to hold up school improvement construction projects once bids are approved. Projects totaling $8.825 million are scheduled to begin this spring.

Eleven temporary units are located at schools throughout the county, and need to be moved to be used at other schools or in other locations on the school property. The cost of moving the units exceeded the board's expectations.

Potts said the highway cost of moving a unit from Shady Grove elementary School to Davie High School was $800. That amount does not include an additional $650 for footings to secure the unit once it is in place.

"Add to that another $1,550 for set-up, and then $4,000 to $5,000 for pinning" said Dr. Van Johnson. Johnson said not all the units would be needed at the high school.

Potts said the replacement of five HVAC systems at South Davie must start soon in order for the project to be completed by the start of classes in August.

Early estimates of the cost of the HVAC replacement system are putting the project at $250,000, but Potts was requesting less because the board of education has some money from the 2003-224 repair budget that it can use.

The board of education plans to lease nine more temporary units to satisfy the demand for additional classroom space. The units will be placed at Pinebrook, Cooleemee and Shady Grove. These units will be leased until June of 2005, at which time planned improvements should be completed, Potts said.

Woman Dies In Accident

Labruzzo's husband and two daughters, ages 8 and 11, were also in the vehicle. According to Dalton, all three were transported by Davie EMS to North Carolina Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem.

The son remained at the scene initially, but was later taken to Baptist by friends.

Dalton reported the family had been to a car wash they lease or own in the High Point area and were traveling back home when the accident occurred.

The teen was driving on a learner's permit which does not allow him to drive after 9 p.m., according to Dalton.

No charges have been filed and the case has been turned over to the District Attorney's office, Dalton said.

Democratic Caucus April 17 At Town Hall

The Davie County Democratic Party has plans for the 2004 Presidential Preference Caucus Saturday, April 17 from 8 a.m.-noon at the Mocksville Town Hall, 171 Clement St.

Any registered Democrat may participate. It should take no longer than five minutes for each caucus participant to fill out his or her preference ballot.

Even though Sen. John Kerry is the presumptive Democratic nominee, the caucus is still necessary. The caucus is held for two main reasons: first, so the Democratic Party complies with the system for allocating delegates for the national convention; second, so that North Carolina has a voice at the national convention.

The selection of a presidential preference will be the only item of business. All other primary elections have been delayed until July 20.

The five candidates who filed for ballot access in North Carolina will still have their names listed on the ballot. They are former Vermont Governor Howard Dean, Senators John Edwards and John Kerry, Representative Dennis Kucinich and Rev. Al Sharpton.

Dean and Edwards have technically suspended their campaigns. However, they have not withdrawn from the race as have the other candidates who are no longer running. Accordingly, Dean and Edwards are eligible to have delegates elected on their behalf. Those delegates, who will be elected at the Congressional District Convention and the State Convention, will vote at the National Convention.

The Davie County Democratic Convention will be held April 17 following the caucus at 1 p.m. at the Mocksville Town Hall. The District Conventions will be held on May 22.

Warrants Issued After Chase

Warrants were issued for the arrest of a local man after a disturbance and chase from The Soda Shoppe in Mocksville.

The suspect stopped when Matthews told him to freeze, then looked to his left and began running.

Nathan Tabor: Rookie Showing Spunk Of Political Veteran

(Part of a series on candidates in the 5th district congressional race)

By Dwight Sparks
The Clemmons Courier

He's the youngest in the race — the only candidate driving a Hummer — but he has shown a political veteran's spunk in his campaign for Congress.

Nathan Tabor, 30, wants the job.

His theme, "Right for Congress," is designed to anchor him as a conservative and the best choice in the large field of candidates. He has won endorsements of 2nd Amendment advocates and the Christian right.

He is battling candidate Vernon Robinson for much of the same Republican constituency, and the two have clashed in the process.

Tabor got a traffic ticket while campaigning in Wilkes County. He was also cited for having an expired license. An anonymous email circulated a few weeks ago from "Pastor Randy" announcing Tabor's ticket and another youthful driving mishap a decade ago.

The Tabor campaign said it has traced the "slanderous" email back to a Robinson supporter, accusing his opponent of dirty tricks.

"I didn't send the email and I frankly don't care who did, because Tabor admitted that the allegations are true, so it's not slander no matter what it reveals about his character," Robinson said. " The facts are that Tabor got arrested for vandalizing a farmer's property, he didn't show up for his court date for driving violations in Wilkes County, and he did get sued for four million dollars by the pornography vendor he used to send out spam emails for his business. Who could vote for someone like that? We ought to be focusing on that shocking record instead of trying to kill the messenger."

Other candidates may have gingerly avoided the crosshairs of Robinson's well-known political vitriol, but not Tabor.

They cite nearly identical political philosophies. But Tabor says he can be more effective in getting things done.

Like Robinson, Tabor has embraced the display of the Ten Commandments in public places. But he accused Robinson of a "publicity stunt" for erecting his own Ten Commandments on a Winston-Salem sidewalk. The two candidates have sparred a couple times.

"Moses, when he brought the Ten Commandments down, was not for personal aggrandizement," Tabor said. "People may doubt what you say but they will always see what you do. Using God for political gain is not what I'm about.

"When I got into this race I made a commitment to myself and my family that I was going to run a positive race," Tabor said. "People will see a difference in right message, wrong messenger. We have to have to someone who is willing to market the 5th district, someone who can take these stands and still get someone to agree with them. Just because you scream the loudest and jump the highest doesn't mean you're going to get the most accomplished. I think that's what I've been able to bring to the table."

Robinson challenged the Tabor's commitment to a positive campaign.

"Tabor's campaign has been nothing but one vicious negative attack on me and the other candidates from the very beginning, and the Ten Commandments issue is no different. The difference between us is that while I'm in the arena putting my actions where my mouth is, he stands on the sidelines attacking and criticizing, which is all he ever does. He criticizes me for displaying the Ten Commandments, but the boy doesn't even bother to vote. He never voted for Jesse Helms or Lauch Faircloth, or even against Bill Clinton. He's not a true conservative, he's just another political opportunist who's trying to buy a seat in Congress."

> "We have to have someone who is willing to market the 5th district, someone who can take these stands and still get someone to agree with them."
> - Nathan Tabor

Another opponent has also questioned Tabor's commitment to a positive campaign.

State Sen. Virginia Foxx said Tabor had wrongly linked her to the liberal National Organization for Women.

"This continues a long list of Tabor's negative tactics against my campaign and others," said Foxx in a campaign release. "True to his nature, Tabor takes a pious approach about negative campaigning while jumping in right up to his nostrils."

Tabor has lined up endorsements of gun shop owners and 90 preachers across the district as well as some nationally prominent Christian leaders.

"If Christian conservatives are going to be successful spreading the good word, we must build consensus. For example, when Judge Roy Moore ran for office in Alabama, he campaigned proclaiming he would install the Ten Commandments at the Supreme Court of Alabama and the voters endorsed the matter by electing Moore. Vernon Robinson didn't ask the people. There is a clear difference here," Tabor wrote last month after Robinson's Ten Commandments were removed by city workers.

"The issue shows a stark contrast between the two of us. While we are both conservatives, I contend this example demonstrates who will be effective and who will not if elected to Congress. Robinson is caustic and his mode of operation is to divide people, rather than unite them. I believe that to lead you must listen, stick to your principles, present a good argument, and voters will endorse your leadership and count on you to represent their interests."

A Kernersville resident, Tabor has been part of his family's Revival Soy firm that has blossomed in recent years, now with 147 workers. Revival Soy developed a soybean product that finally overcame the bean's biggest problem in gaining the health-conscious consumer's acceptance.

"We make it taste good," Tabor said.

He is married to the former Jordan Nuzum, a native of Conover. He received a degree from St. Andrews Presbyterian College and a graduate degree from Regent University.

He wants to help the 5th district find itself after the loss of so many manufacturing jobs in recent years.

"The North Carolina tradition of textile and tobacco and manufacturing is pretty much gone," he said. "The government, both federal and state, seem to have a mentality if a business grows and prospers, they want to punish and tax them. That seems backward. It seems they should give business a chance to grow and prosper which equals more jobs."

Revival Soy, he said, was able to find a niche market, develop its message and create jobs with its success.

"Every time you read the paper and turn the news on, we're trying to develop this high tech, pharmaceutical industry. That is what Forsyth, County, Davie County and all the 5th district is trying to achieve.

"Government does not create jobs. The way I see I can help is through the personal experience of talking to industry, bringing a DuPont, Bristol-Myers, NASA, bringing space and defense and research labs here.

"We need less taxes, less government regulations on businesses that are already here to give them the incentives to stay here and grow and prosper their businesses. That's where a government or congressman can stimulate growth — to back off the regulations and taxes.

He also called for more control of government spending.

"You can only run the mill so long. You can only milk the cow so many times. We must get government to only spend what they have taken in. Government is the only business that spends today what they plan to take in tomorrow."

He calls for protection of marriage from the gay and lesbian marriages taking place now.

He also outlined a social agenda:

"Marriage is already established between one man and one woman. Now we're being attacked. We need to protect it. Also, we need to protect the lives of the unborn. Protect the right of the parents to educate and raise their children as they see it. Stop the liberal left from taking every reference of God out of society. Put principled judges on the bench."

Tabor's father was a preacher-painter-farmer-feed salesman during Nathan's youth.

"My dad is an ordained Baptist minister. Mom is a homemaker. We had devotions every morning, every evening. They were active in Alabama politics when I was growing up. I was exposed to being an activist, to not be ashamed of who you are and what you stand for.

"My parents always let me develop this never-met-a-stranger personality."

He said his father taught him to do what was right because it was right, not because there were votes in it.

"What we need in our elected officials is not more polls, not more licking your finger and putting it to the wind."

"He's my dad, but he's my best friend. So is my mom."

When they came to North Carolina, his father became a painter, owning Tabor Painting Co. Nathan described his early role as "go-fer." His father eventually gave him a truck and trailer and turned him loose to paint for himself.

"I painted from 16 through high school, undergraduate school and one summer

Churches Exceed Goal For Storehouse

The Community Foundation of Davie County challenged the Storehouse for Jesus to raise $90,000 between Oct. 1 and March 31 from the churches in Davie County in order to receive a $30,000 grant.

The Storehouse not only met the challenge, it exceeded it raising more than $124,000 in cash during the challenge period and an additional $112,000 in pledges. "I am extremely pleased that the churches in Davie County have responded in such a positive way to the challenge offered by The Community Foundation of Davie County. Churches from all across the county, both large and small, have helped us exceed our goal," said Sarah Wood, fund-raising chair.

"We are very excited about the success the Storehouse has had in meeting our challenge," said Jane Simpson, president. "It is wonderful to see the community come together for such an important mission. The Storehouse truly meets human needs in our community. We are all blessed by Marie Collins and the work of her board and volunteers."

Although the Storehouse has met the foundation challenge, they still have work to do to raise the more than $1 million needed to complete the project.

According to Storehouse treasurer, Cherrie Monsees, approximately $481,000 has been pledged or contributed. The volunteers will continue to seek donations, hold fund-raisers, and submit grant applications to secure the additional funding.

"We all need to keep working to meet our final goal," said Sarah Wood.

According to the timeline submitted with the grant application, the Storehouse plans to finish securing permits and drawings during the second quarter of 2004 so construction can begin during the third quarter. Construction is expected to take one year.

The new facility will begin serving clients in the third quarter of 2005 if all goes as planned.

"We are very excited about the funding that has come in and we are grateful for the partnership with the community foundation as well as the generosity of those who are helping make this critical need a reality. We have a long way to go before we open our new doors. We hope the community will keep praying with and for us," said Marie Collins, Storehouse executive director.

The new facility will be a central location for all of the services. Currently, the dental clinics are held in two offices and an eye clinic is in the developmental stage. A location has not been found for it.

Other services have been suspended due to a lack of space.

Once the new facility is complete, the Storehouse will offer food, clothing, pharmacy, medical clinic, dental clinic, eye clinic, chapel, Bible studies, financial and personal counseling, and resume large item donations, said Collins.

Anyone interested in making a gift toward the Storehouse for Jesus Building Fund should send their donation to the Storehouse for Jesus, PO Box 216, Mocksville.

Clemson Offers Football Scholarship To Randolph

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

The recruiting buzz started with Cooter Arnold, and now Davie High has two show horses in the football stable.

Arnold, a running back/quarterback/cornerback, was offered a scholarship from Auburn in early March when tapes of Arnold's electric ball-carrying moves turned the heads of Auburn's offensive coaches. Three weeks later, on March 23, Clemson became so interested in tight end Ted Randolph that the ACC school gave him a scholarship offer.

Patrick Lowery (N.C. State) and David Wooldridge (North Carolina) put Davie football on the recruiting map in 2001, and now everybody, everywhere seems to know, who Arnold and Randolph are.

What's unique about the current duo is they've received offers from prestigious Division I-A teams as juniors.

"To have two kids get offers this early, we're awfully proud for Davie County," Davie coach Doug Illing said. "It says a lot for Davie County. They're being seen by some major colleges around the nation. It's good for our program, good for our community and hopefully it's going to be real exciting this fall to come out and see some high-caliber football."

Randolph has developed into the blocker-receiver powerhouse everyone expected him to be back during his North Davie Middle days. He caught the eye of Mike O'Cain, the former head coach at N.C. State and current offensive coordinator at Clemson, when O'Cain was pursuing Lowery.

"When O'Cain was recruiting Patrick, he came by the weight room fourth period to talk to Patrick, saw Ted and was wanting to know who that kid was," Illing said. "I told him he was just a freshman, and he remembered him. O'Cain really liked him and gave the tape to the tight ends coach. He really liked him and they wanted to be the first school to offer him. He called (March 23) and left a message to call him at home. It's kind of unique when a coach gives you his home phone number."

Even though stardom has always come easy to him, and even though accolades arrived way before he arrived at Davie because of his big, tall and intimidating profile, Randolph has never become satisfied.

"He's the size everybody's looking for, that 6-3, 6-4 kid," Illing said. "How many times do you have a Justin Norsworthy and a Jimmy Booe, guys that have been 5-10 but have the heart of a lion and will outplay any of those 6-4 kids. But they don't have the size to get recruited, so they get overlooked.

"But when Ted came in as a freshman, you knew right away he had the body size and potential."

Randolph is a shade under 6-5 and 238 pounds. He runs the 40-yard dash in the neighborhood of 4.9 and 5.0 ("I want to get at least a 4.8 by football," he said.) and bench presses 275-280.

He couldn't have been happier when Illing delivered the Clemson news.

No-Name No More:

McDaniel Steals The Show - Again

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

WELCOME - Hardly anyone in the Central Piedmont Conference knew John McDaniel before Davie's varsity baseball team played at South Rowan two weeks ago. Before that March 23 game, the sophomore right-hander had never started a varsity game on the mound.

His days as a no-name are over.

With the pressure of avoiding an 0-2 CPC record on McDaniel's shoulders at South, he charged onto the radar screen with a five-hit shutout. The same thing happened last week at North Davidson (4-4, 1-2 CPC). With the pressure of avoiding a depressing 1-3 CPC record in his hands, McDaniel drove Davie to a pivotal 7-2 win by scattering six hits in another complete game and allowing both runs after Davie had built a 6-0 lead.

"He kind of baffled them," Coach Mike Herndon said after Davie (4-7 overall) bounced back from a 9-1 loss to unbeaten Reynolds and stayed in the CPC hunt at 2-2. "It's hard to believe he's a sophomore. I'm glad he's on our side. He just has a mentality to pitch."

The victory came on a night when Herndon was holding his breath. Fed up by a listless effort against Reynolds, he pulled up two more freshmen one game after bringing up sophomore Timmy Allen. Freshmen Brandon Stewart and Justin Thompson started at right field and third base, respectively, and Allen made his first start at catcher.

Herndon saw results. Allen roped two singles and Stewart doubled and made a running catch. Allen, Stewart and Thompson joined a lineup that was

Unbeaten Reynolds Stops Davie Shutouts

It's strange to see a coach beaming with pride in the wake of a 7-0 loss, but the Davie varsity soccer team's Central Piedmont Conference loss at mighty Reynolds last week wasn't your everyday blowout loss.

The War Eagles were intense for 80 minutes. They were gritty. They battled and battled against a team that turns most everybody into cannon fodder. It may be impossible for Davie to play any harder, and that's why Coach Pete Gustafson called it one of the most impressive losing efforts he's seen in his 14 years at the helm.

Earlier in the week, the War Eagles achieved a three-game winning streak with their second and third shutouts in succession, 3-0 over North Forsyth in nonconference play and 9-0 over South Rowan in the CPC opener.

"You have to be realistic," Gustafson said of Reynolds. "If we play like this against East Forsyth (which beat Davie 2-0 on March 2), it's going to be different (April 5). So the level of play was an excellent game for us. I was so pleased. There's not many coaches in the world that will say they were pleased with 7-0, but that's how good Reynolds is."

The Demons have not one, but two players who have signed scholarships with North Carolina ("That's one of the best programs in the world," Gustafson said.). They have highly-polished skills all over the field. They have superb depth. They have so many weapons - five different Demons scored goals - that they take turns taking over.

The War Eagles never could keep up with Reynolds' blinding speed, and no one would have blamed them if they would have waved the white flag after unbeaten Reynolds (5-0, 1-0 CPC) deposited three goals in a span of five minutes midway through the first half. Instead of quitting, they left everything on the field.

And they did it with a banged-up lineup. The absence or limited effectiveness of several players hurt them considerably. But their effort against impossible odds was something Gustafson had to love.

"It was the same old thing: Reynolds is tall and fast. They were six inches

Worth Noting ...

Amy Alexander's bases-loaded triple sent Davie's varsity softball to an 8-4 win over Mt. Tabor. Alyse Bowden is 4 for 9 in the last three games.

Alyson Walker of Davie's varsity soccer did all the scoring in a 3-0 win over N. Forsyth.

Sophomore pitcher John McDaniel got his second complete-game win in as many varsity career starts as Davie beat N. Davidson 7-2. Lance Emert played superbly at shortstop, and Timmy Allen and Brandon Stewart combined for three hits in their varsity debuts.

For the second week in a row, two S. Davie relay teams set school records. Cameron Webb, Shyteek Brown, Perry James and James Mayfield ran a 47.23 in the 400, and Brown, Jesse Cousins, Floyd Collins and Brian Fuentes ran a 1:51.16 in the 800.

Ryan Carter struck out seven in three innings, and Clint Howell went 3 for 3 with four runs as S. Davie leveled Knox 11-1.

Tamika Reynolds broke school records in the long jump and 100 in N. Davie track's opening meet.

Freshman Lauren Parker pitched a one-hitter as Davie's JV softball blanked Mt. Tabor 1-0 in four innings.

Bases-Loaded Triple Keys Win Over Tabor

Bowden

Davie varsity softball coach Janice Jackson wouldn't have mumbled a four-letter word if the War Eagles would have won in ugly style. She wouldn't have cared if they won 1-0 on four consecutive walks.

After suffering three straight losses, and playing for just the second time in three weeks, getting back on the winning track was the only thing that mattered when Davie visited Mount Tabor for a non-conference game last week.

The War Eagles (3-3) pounded Tabor 8-4. What's encouraging is they put up nine hits and all but settled the issue with six third-inning runs that broke up a scoreless game. They had almost forgotten what it's like to win, coming off three losses in which they had two runs and 13 hits in 21 innings.

"We just needed a game," Jackson said. "We hit it good. We didn't play that good of defense, but that's just from not being able to be outside all week. I was just glad to play because you can't get anything done in the gym."

With the score 0-0 through two innings, the War Eagles were desperately looking for one of those explosions that would revive a limp offense. They found it in the third. Alyse Bowden triggered the six-run uprising with a single. Two Tabor errors later, Hannah Tierney singled as Davie soared to a 3-0 lead. After Ashley Whitlock drew a walk, Amy Alexander opened the floodgates with a bases-loaded triple to deep right-center.

Tierney, Kaitlin Hall and Bowden delivered two hits each. Whitlock walked twice and Hall added a seventh-inning triple. Davie got one hit from Erin Whitaker and Whitney Williams.

"The first time around we didn't do anything. Then we got going the second time around," Jackson said. "A bunch of them on Tabor play tournament ball with a bunch of ours, so they enjoyed it. Tabor wasn't a bad team. It was good for us and helped our confidence, especially to hit it that good."

Pitcher Alexander overmatched Tabor early, retiring the first six batters. Then she scattered eight hits and finished with six strike-outs and one walk to square her record at 2-2.

Alexander is hitting .400 despite a 1-for-4 day. Hall moved up to .368 and Tierney surged to .307. But the most dramatic rise has been Bowden, who already has more hits than she did as a junior. She has four hits in her last nine at-bats for a .333 average that ranks third on the team.

"I've been thinking to myself: 'OK, I'll move her up to the top,' " Jackson said. "And then I think: 'No, I'm leaving her down there where she's comfortable.' She's hitting it hard, too. I

Randolph Gets Call, Joins Arnold As Division I Prospect

"We were getting ready for a baseball game, and Zac O'Brien said: 'Coach Illing needs to talk to you,' " Randolph said. "I thought: 'Oh man, what did I do?' Coach Illing said Clemson wants to offer a scholarship. I was like: 'Uh, uh.' I was kind of shocked at first, and then I was excited.

"The coaches have always told me I've just got to work hard and I'll go somewhere. I've come to all the workouts in the summer and pushed myself, and it's paid off I guess."

If Randolph could name his college-football destination, it would a no-brainer: Ohio State.

"I'd like to go to Ohio State, but I'm open to anything," he said. "I like the Big Ten. It's not all speed, it's more of a power game. Not that I can't run well, but I think I could do better there. I've gotten one or two things from them, but nothing really big.

"I'm going to go down and visit Clemson, look around and may go down later for an official visit. I'm going to keep my options open. I'm just going to keep working hard in the weight room and hope I get more offers."

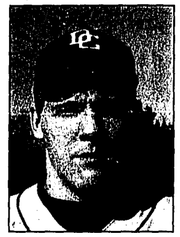

Last week Randolph drew the attention of two more tradition-rich schools. Tennessee called about Randolph and Arnold, and Stanford called with serious interest in Randolph.

"Stanford wants a transcript, tape and everything. They're very interested in seeing him," Illing said. "Ted has already qualified, so he's real attractive. If Cooter scores well on the SAT, he's going to be in a good position as well."

Notes

• Auburn was the consensus preseason No. 1 team before the 2003 season, and Coach Tommy Bowden's Clemson is coming off a 9-4 season in which it toppled two 10-win teams. ... When asked about matching Arnold's Auburn offer, Randolph grinned and said: "I've got to get one-up on him. Nah. Maybe one of these days I can say: 'I played with that kid.' "

• Lowery was N.C. State's leading tackler in Saturday's Red & White spring game. The rising sophomore linebacker had seven stops, including three solo tackles, in front of 15,000 fans at Carter-Finley Stadium.

don't know if she's just gotten stronger or quicker or what. We'd like to think it's all those hitting drills."

Notes: Jackson is worried about her second-year starter at shortstop, sophomore Whitlock, who has an ailing right (throwing) shoulder. "She's been going to rehab every morning," she said. ... Davie hadn't won since March 8. ... It plays at home to East Forsyth on April 7 at 4:30 and at South Rowan April 8 at 4:30.

Parker Blanks Mount Tabor

Lauren Parker held Mount Tabor to one hit in four innings, and Brittany Hill scored after drawing a walk as Davie's JV softball team squeaked out a 1-0 win last week in a nonconference game that was called after four due to darkness.

Tabor's lone hit - and base runner - came with one out in the fourth. But Parker induced consecutive flyouts to preserve the shutout. Janna Seamon and Lea Tarleton had Davie's two hits, but neither factored in the outcome. For it was a free pass to Hill that proved to be the difference.

In the top of the first, Megan Williams pushed Hill to second with a bunt. Hill stole third, then scored the game's only run on a passed ball.

Davie (2-4) gave its pitcher error-free defense.

"Parker did real good considering it was real cold," Coach Jonette Poole said. "She came up to me before the game and said her hands were blue. But she worked through it and got us the win."

Davie plays at East Forsyth on April 7 and at South Rowan April 8.

Davie Track Teams Fall To Reynolds And West Forsyth

Davie's track teams didn't have an answer for Reynolds and West Forsyth last week. Reynolds' girls had 69 points, West Forsyth 62 and Davie 54. Davie's boys also finished third, with Reynolds at 68, West Forsyth at 65 and Davie at 53.

The good news was Davie was in striking distance of West Forsyth.

"We know we're competitive and have the opportunity to beat West if everybody performs at their best level," girls coach Daric Beiter said. "Some of the same ones are performing at a high level, but we need other girls to pick it up."

"With the guys and girls, the possibility's there for us to best West," boys coach Devore Holman said. "We've got three weeks to work out, put different combinations together and get better."

Davie's headliner was Rebecca Peeler, who captured the mile and two mile. Shanika Brown (shot put), Kierston Kahrs (discus), Brooke Harris and the 1600 relay team (Harris, Hannah Thompson, Danielle O'Neal and Leslie McBride) also grabbed first for Davie's girls.

The top performers from Davie's boys were Ryan Boehm, who won the discus, and Dontay Rivers and Cooter Arnold, who tied for first in the high jump.

"What we've got to do before the conference meet (April 28) is do a good job scouting and placing our people where we can score the most," Holman said. "That's what we've got to figure out."

Hauser-Worrell Secure Win In CPC Opener

Davie's tennis team opened Central Piedmont Conference play victoriously last week, jumping on North Davidson in singles and holding on 5-4.

Matt Hauser (No. 2), Phillip Hursey (three), Jason Overbey (four) and Kurt Bivins (five) won by scores ranging from 10-2 to 10-6 as Davie took a commanding 4-2 lead into doubles. The biggest margins belonged to Overbey (10-2) and Hauser (10-3).

The War Eagles' top two doubles teams lost, but Hauser and Jeremiah Worrell pulled them through with a 10-5 win at No. 3.

"It got a little scary at the end because our doubles were losing," Coach Steven Lingard said. "We only needed to win one in doubles, and (Hauser-Worrell) managed a convincing win for us."

Three War Eagles are still unbeaten for a team that improved its overall record to 6-1. Hursey and Overbey are 7-0 and Bivins is 6-0. Davie's top seed against North was Collin Ferebee, who dropped a 12-10 thriller while filling in for an absent Chris Moxley.

Davie plays at Reynolds on April 7.

Davie varsity baseball coach pumps up his team for an eventual 7-2 win over North Davidson.

Andrew McClannon remains Davie's RBI leader, at 13.

Allen, Stewart Make Impressive Debuts

already loaded with impressive youth, including sophomore center fielder Zach Vogler and freshman second baseman Whit Merrifield.

"We started three freshmen and three sophomores and went at it," he said. "We had three people that could drive - Ted Randolph, Lance Emert and Foo Smith. That's pretty daggone young."

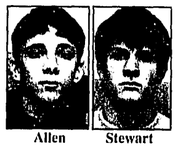

Davie hardly overpowered North's pitchers - two of its seven hits were infield hits, and North made life easier by walking or hitting 10 Davie batters - but in such an important game, any method of success was going to be fine.

"They made some mistakes, and it's one of the few times we've capitalized on them," Herndon said. "We made them pay."

Merrifield's opposite-field single sparked a four-run fifth. After Emert jerked an RBI single over third base, Allen immediately followed with a sharp single that made it 6-0. In Allen's previous at-bat, and his third varsity plate appearance ever, he smacked one to left-center but was thrown out trying to stretch it into a double.

"I was sort of jittery, but after that first hit I felt better. It made me calm down a little bit," Allen said.

Herndon thinks Stewart is going to be something special. After getting hit by a pitch and flying out, he sent a drive to deep center. The ball, though, died in a stiff wind and was caught as the center fielder made an over-the-shoulder grab. There was no catching up to Stewart's next drive, a double in the right-center gap.

"I'll tell you, that boy can play," Herndon said.

"That would have been out at Rich Park," assistant Matt Sain said of Stewart's long out in the fifth.

North's bats were chewed up by the savvy and offspeed junk of McDaniel, who set down the first six batters he faced and fanned five of the first 10. His scoreless streak went 11 1/3 innings, and he might have tossed another shutout had an outfielder not gotten a bad jump on a two-run, two-out double in the fifth.

McDaniel might not dazzle you with his physical presence - S. Rowan's fans tried to rattle him by yelling "chicken-noodle arm" - but the kid can pitch. His curve and knuckle balls are capable of embarrassing batters, his velocity is considerably better than last year and he never hurts himself with walks. He struck out seven and walked one.

He spun North's leadoff man silly, fanning him four times.

"He's under control 99.9 percent of the time. I know with him pitching I don't have to work that hard," Allen said. "He got in the leadoff's head. The first at-bat we threw him an outside pitch, and he swung and missed. So then we threw him something ugly, trying to get him on his front foot, and we just kept doing that. His curveball was dropping off the table and his knuckleball is pretty nice."

"The first three times, (North's leadoff man) came up there lefthanded. The fourth time he went up there right-handed," Herndon said.

Splendid defense, particularly from shortstop Emert, had a lot to do with McDaniel's 2-0 record. Emert turned an unassisted double play in the fourth, and Emert, Merrifield and first baseman Randolph converted all nine attempts into outs.

"The leather's really started to come around with me," Emert said. "I struggled during the beginning, and now I'm coming and getting the ball. And it feels good."

Notes

• This was a high moment in an up-and-down season, and dating to last year the War Eagles are 0-5 following a win. Will they finally put everything together or continue the hot-cold trend? "I believe in this team, and I think we can get it going," Emert said. "We worked hard in three practices and had the right attitude when we got on the bus. We were ready to go to work and ready to win."

• Against North, Vogler and Randolph reached three times each and McClannon had two RBIs.

• Vogler leads the team with 10 walks. McClannon's 13 RBIs are five more than the No. 2 total. Davie's .300 hitters are Matt Rich (.310), Randolph (.307), Emert (.304) and Vogler (.303).

• Merrifield's average (.242) doesn't explain his offensive value. Against North he had two sacrifice bunts to go with a single, and he has yet to fail in a bunting situation.

• After taking down North (on April 1), McDaniel threw a curveball at Herndon. "He got me," Herndon said. "David Weakley said: 'Johnny, how's that arm feeling?' He said: 'Oh man, it hurts really bad.' I said: 'What? You're kidding?' He said: 'April Fool's.' "

Heath Boyd of Davie's JV baseball team puts the tag on a North Davidson runner trying to steal second.

JV Baseball Team Dealing With Personnel Losses

At the beginning of the season, the prospects for Davie's JV baseball team were extremely bright. It had one of the best lineups in memory.

But things have changed dramatically in the last five weeks. The War Eagles have suffered major losses. It started with pitcher Tom Kuell's back problems, and now some of the biggest reasons for preseason optimism are playing on the varsity. Sophomore catcher Timmy Allen moved up two weeks ago, and last week freshman center fielder/shortstop/pitcher Brandon Stewart and freshman third baseman Justin Thompson got the call from varsity coach Mike Herndon.

The call-ups have cut the JV deeply and dropped Coach Tim McKnight's expectations a notch or two.

"We're down to 12 players, and everybody's roles are going to get maximized," he said after a 3-2 Central Piedmont Conference defeat at North Davidson. "Andrew Boswell will get an opportunity to play third. Logan Joldersma and Matt Lee will probably get more playing time, and that will help them. Dillon Maurer will probably get more time when (shortstop Zach) Howard has to pitch (putting Maurer at second and regular second baseman Heath Boyd at short). The one that's going to benefit the most is probably Boswell."

A few little things were the difference in the War Eagles' tough loss at N. Davidson. All three of their errors came in the fifth and sixth innings, and North accepted the gifts, scoring one in the fifth for a 1-0 lead and scoring two in the sixth to erase Davie's 2-1 lead.

"It was just one of those where we made a couple more mistakes than they did," McKnight said. "We didn't cash in on a couple opportunities and they did. We gave it all we had and just came up on the short end."

Davie, which left the bases loaded in the first, grabbed a 2-1 lead in the top of the sixth. Howard and Jon Hutchens walked and Saxon Pratt singled to load the bases. Howard scored on a wild pitch, and Jeremy Gupton plated the go-ahead run with a sac fly.

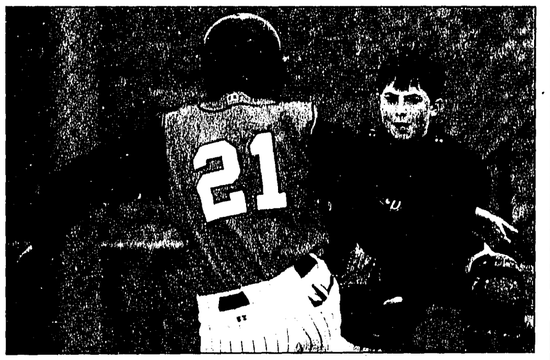

But North's leadoff hit in its half of the sixth, and a throwing error on a bunt play helped North deny Davie with two runs. Davie went down 1-2-3 in the seventh, tarnishing terrific pitching by Hutchens, who gave up four hits and two earned runs in six innings.

"Hutchens didn't have a hard ball hit on him all day," McKnight said. "We played well. Really we did. We didn't hit it, but neither team did. A lot of that was due to good pitching on both sides."

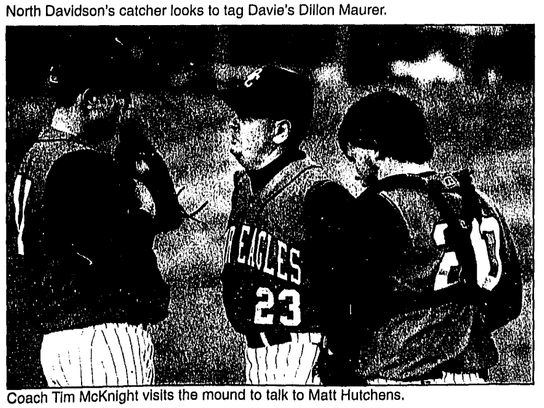

Notes: The War Eagles slipped to 6-5 and 2-2 in the CPC. ... They play visiting South Rowan on April 8 at 4:30. They play in a Cabarrus County tournament April 9-12.

taller everywhere on the field," he said. "Carly Booth was sick and we had to give her a break, which we never do. Kourtney Hanrahan got blasted in the South Rowan game and her neck was bothering her. Britt Harrison's got a swollen ankle. We had to take Elyse Timmons out because of an ankle. And Sharon Woodward re-injured her knee and was out in the second half.

"So we were really putting people in places where they've never played, and they were a pleasure to watch. They busted their butts to keep up. When we shook hands you could tell Reynolds was exhausted. Their faces were drenched. If that's all we can do, that's all we can do."

Gustafson said Davie gained valuable lessons that should pay dividends as it looks to contend for second place.

"We learned I can play Booth in the midfield," he said. "I didn't know if I could do that, but Hanrahan stepped in at sweeper and did fine. I was able to put Nicole Marcady in goal more and put Kami Simpson at stopper."

Notes: Reynolds outshot Davie 33-1. ... Davie plays at West Forsyth on April 8 and at home to North Davidson April 20.

Davie 3, North Forsyth 0

For the second time in as many games, Alyson Walker drilled N. Forsyth. The junior striker scored two goals in a 3-0 win two weeks ago, and she rattled off a hat trick in the rematch at North, scoring at the 11-, 22- and 52-minute marks.

At that point in the season, with Davie at 2-5-1, Walker had five of Davie's 10 goals.

"We moved Walker up top - she'd been playing midfield - to see if we could get some offensive action, and it worked," Gustafson said. "She spent 90 percent of the game up top. We will keep doing that as much as possible, until we meet a team where we need to strengthen the midfield more."

From the outside looking in, it appears that Walker carried Davie by herself. That wasn't the case. The fuel that ignited the engine flowed from Annie Haftman, Ashley Cornatzer and Woodward.

"We were going inside, outside, inside with the ball," he said. "It was hard to defend because North had other players to worry about.

"Haftman was attacking well. They were having to mark Cornatzer up top. We had eight or nine corner kicks and 21 shots (to North's three). So it wasn't just Walker. But Walker's a finisher; she can do it."

North's offense couldn't match the suffocating play of Justine Gamble, Booth, Sally Lackey and Hanrahan, and the exquisite midfield contributions of Woodward.

"Booth was as strong as ever," he said. "Lackey is improving and I don't mean she wasn't playing good before. She's really stepping it up. Hanrahan is so dependable, and she's fun to be around. She takes a challenge.

"Now we've put Woodward at midfield, and she probably was the key to it because your inside midfielder is like a quarterback. They distribute the ball."

Davie 9, South Rowan 0

In the second of three games, the War Eagles (3-6-1, 1-1 CPC) absolutely annihilated South, getting goals from seven players and racing to an 8-0 halftime lead. The margin would have been greater if the game hadn't ended 20 minutes early because of bad weather.

Woodward rolled up a hat trick and Sloan Smith put in two goals. Single goals came from Walker, Booth, Hanrahan and Kelly Mitchell.

"Woodward had the prettiest goal," Gustafson said. "She had a 30-yard bullet."

JV Soccer Team Shows 'Unbelievable' Heart

Reynolds couldn't shake Davie's JV soccer team. The inspired War Eagles clamped down on defense with phenomenal passion and kept Reynolds' lead at 1-0.

And then the second half started, and Davie couldn't keep up with the much-deeper Demons for another 35 minutes.

Despite the final score of 5-0 in the Central Piedmont Conference opener, Coach Kerstin Plagemann said her War Eagles played a near-perfect first half before their short bench ran out of juice. Their defense is vastly improved since early in the season, holding Salisbury and Reynolds to one goal over a span of a game and a half.

"The first half was unbelievable," Plagemann said, "how we stepped it up and how much we improved. They just ran us and we had nothing left. We've had two subs all year. They didn't give up, it was just fatigue."

Davie's varsity coach, Pete Gustafson, echoed those sentiments.

Plagemann

"The improvement of these two squads (varsity and JV) was just awesome defensively," he said. "The JV just ran out of steam."

Davie's JV (0-4-1, 0-1 CPC) plays at West Forsyth on April 8.

Davie 0, Salisbury 0

Two weeks ago, Davie did nearly everything right at Salisbury. It executed the offense beautifully, made life miserable for Salisbury and reduced its own goalkeeper to a yawning spectator.

"We hardly had the ball on defense," Plagemann said. "We spent 95 percent of the time on offense."

However, one glitch prevented the War Eagles from celebrating their first victory in four nonconference games. They could not get over the offensive hump. They got plenty of shots, but the stubborn ball wouldn't go in the net, resulting in a 0-0 tie.

"I think our keeper touched it two times," Plagemann said. "It was great, (except) we've just got to get the ball in the goal."

Plagemann gave credit for Davie's ball-possession dominance to Brittany Gaither, Rebekah Brock, Stephanie Croall and Karly Woodard.

"They got several shots. We just missed," she said.

North Davie Track Opens In Record-Setting Fashion

North Davie's track and field teams roared out of gates and sent a loud, clear message to the Mid-South Conference in their first two meets of the season.

North's boys and girls buried North Rowan and West Rowan on March 24, followed by a second sweep - this time against Erwin and West Rowan - on March 29. The most dominating forces were Tamika Reynolds and Carly Cornatzer of the girls team and James Kuell and Ian Dowdy of the boys. Making the opening stages of the season even more impressive, the girls broke 10 school records - five in each meet - while Robert Gassett set a new record for the boys.

"We are off to a great start with strong teams in boys and girls," said Coach Don Tabat, assisted by Jennifer Helton and Cindy Cline. "This is the first time our boys and girls have won the same meet since we have been a middle school (1994)."

In the first meet, it was North's girls 76, N. Rowan 28 and W. Rowan 21. The boys' scores were N. Davie 75, W. Rowan 30 and N. Rowan 24. In the second meet, it was North's girls 81, Erwin 42 and W. Rowan 33, while North's boys had 71, Erwin 65 and W. Rowan 20.

N. Davie's girls collected nine victories in the opener, including two wins by Reynolds (long jump, 100) and Cornatzer (triple jump, 200 hurdles). Chelsea Bordner (high jump), Elizabeth Budd (100 hurdles), Jamie Stancliff (1600) and Maryette Collette (400) added wins, while Collette, Tanisha Reynolds, Emily Tierney and Sarah Evans won the 800 relay.

Kuell (pole vault, 200 hurdles) and Dowdy (triple jump, 110 hurdles) paced North's boys past W. Rowan and N. Rowan. Other winners were Ryan Hutchinson (high jump), Gassett (100), Sean Griffin (1600), Fidel Hernandez (400) and Dowdy, Hernandez, Josh Riddle and Ethan Curtis in the 800 relay.

Tamika Reynolds led the way as North's girls wiped out Erwin and W. Rowan, winning the long jump and 100. There were six more first-place performances, including Cierra Clement (shot put), Stancliff (1600), Collette (400), Budd (200 hurdles), Collette, Tanisha Reynolds, Tierney and Evans in the 800 relay, and Tanisha Reynolds, Kelley Brown, Evans and Tamika Reynolds in the 400 relay.

North's boys held off Erwin behind first-place showings from Patrick Harris (discus), Hutchinson (high jump), Dowdy (110 hurdles), Griffin (1600), Hernandez (400), 800 relayers Dowdy, Hernandez, Riddle and Michael Rowe, and 1600 relayers Hernandez, Robert Roesch, Curtis and Josh Parks.

The Wildcat girls produced several record-breakers. Stancliff set a new mark in the 1600 in the first meet, then topped her record five days later. Tamika Reynolds put her name atop two events (long jump, 100). The other new record-holders are Budd (100 hurdles), Cornatzer (200 hurdles), Katelin Wensley (high jump), Telisha Horne (600) and the relay teams of Collette, Tanisha Reynolds, Tierney and Evans (800) and Tanisha Reynolds, Brown, Evans and Tamika Reynolds (400).

The record-setting time from North's boys was delivered by Gassett in the 200.

Tiger Boys Break More Records

The South Davie boys' 400 and 800 relay teams raised the bar once again last week in a three-team track meet. After setting a school record two weeks ago, 400 relayers Cameron Webb, Shyteek Brown, Perry James and James Mayfield and 800 relayers Brown, Jesse Cousins, Floyd Collins and Brian Fuentes broke their own records as South triumphed with 82 points to China Grove's 56 and Corriher-Lipe's 26. The new record times are 47.23 and 1:51.16, respectively.

South's girls took second with 51.5 points. China Grove was first at 59.5 and Corriher-Lipe third at 41. "This is the best team we've had in years," South boys coach Brenda Holmes said. "If we stay healthy, we have a good shot at winning the conference."

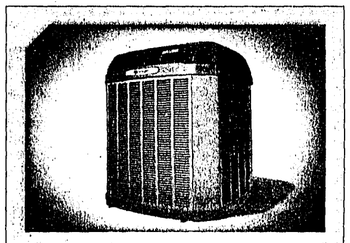

Webb led the way with two individual wins (100, long jump). Brown (triple jump), Cousins (400), Collins (110 hurdles), Fuentes (800) and Josh Ijames (200 hurdles) added first places.

Stephanie Jarvis paced South's girls with wins in the high jump and 400 dash. Tyara Wagner won the 100 and South claimed two relays, the 400 (Jarvis, Wagner, Sarah Moore and Shalitha Cleveland) and 800 (Laura Vanhoy, Sarah Miller, Tonesha Turner and Keri Robertson).

Later in the week, South's girls captured an abbreviated meet, scoring 49 points to Southeast's 37 and North Rowan's 26. The meet was called after 11 events due to darkness.

There were two individual winners from South - Tekaira Gaither (shot put) and Vanhoy (high jump). Relay wins came from Vanhoy, Miller, Turner and Robertson in the 800 and Robertson, Wagner, Jarvis and Cleveland in the 400.

"There were not a lot of personal bests. The times were off because of the cold weather and winds," South coach Becky Miller said. "The relays were real good again even with the cold."

South Baseball Team Rolls To 3-1

The images of narrowly escaping a perennial punching bag had barely eased, even though a year has passed. South Davie baseball coach Todd Bumgarner had good reason to remind his team what happened last year at Knox. The Tigers won 5-1 but needed eight innings to do it.

So the Tigers didn't mess around when they hosted Knox last week, using a five-run first inning, a perfect hitting performance by Clint Howell and taken-sent pitching by Ryan Carter, Matt Oswell and Howell to destroy Knox 11-1 in five innings.

"I told them to remember last year," Bumgarner said after South improved to 3-1 and 1-1 in the Mid-South Conference. "We didn't show up down there last year, and I wanted to make sure they understood we couldn't go out there flat. And we scored five in the first, three in the second and then we did some subbing."

Howell went 3 for 3 and scored four runs. Ryan Hellard singled and doubled. And Carter, Oswell and Howell combined on a 12-strikeout, 1-hitter as South protected its home turf for the 16th time in 17 games.

Last year Howell started in left field but didn't bat. This year he has stepped into the spotlight. In the first, he laid down a masterful bunt, reaching first without a throw from the third baseman. It was a virtual replay of an earlier bunt hit. In the second, he lined a single to left. In his third and final at-bat, he lined one down the left-field line.

"He's been the surprise of the year," Bumgarner said. "I DH'd for him all last season and he didn't complain a bit. He's worked on his hitting and grown a little bit."

Carter, the hero in a 5-2 win over West Rowan when he delivered the biggest hit and earned the save in relief, piled up seven strikeouts in three innings. Knox's lone run, in the second, was unearned.

"We've been working on a changeup and offspeed slider, and he threw them effectively," he said. "He throws it hard for a 12-year-old. Him and Shelton Howard are just 12 and they play tournament ball on weekends. For Carter to be able to pitch at all from 60 feet, six inches is amazing to me."

Carter was far from a one-man show on the mound. Oswell fanned all three batters in the fourth, and Howell whiffed two in a hitless fifth.

"Oswell came in blowing heat," Bumgarner said. "On one of Howell's strikeouts, he threw a curveball, the boy fell in the dirt and it broke across. He jelly-legged him."

South produced a hit in every inning, getting one from Howard, Colby Seaford, Oswell and Alex Beal, a seventh grader who came off the bench and promptly smoked one over short.

"I was as tickled as I could be for Beal," Bumgarner said.

Despite South's strong start, Bumgarner has a big concern. Seaford, the team's most experienced pitcher, has elbow trouble and can't throw for three weeks. South's deep staff might manage to compensate for Seaford's pitching absence, but it will have difficulty overcoming his defensive loss. He was the DH against Knox.

"The doctor told him his elbow is growing, the tendons were being stretched and they haven't caught up," he said. "I've got confidence in four or five pitchers. We might can get by without him pitching, but we have to have him in the field to be (a conference contender)."

Notes: South hosted unbeaten North Davie (3-0, 1-0) April 6. It plays at home to Forsyth Home School April 8. ... N. Davie's game with Erwin was rained out last week. The makeup at Erwin is April 7. North hosts Lexington April 8.

Hillsdale Animal Hospital Has New Boarding Facility

Summer vacations are wonderful in every way but one– sometimes you can't take your family pet with you.

So as preparations begin for your upcoming summer getaway, one of the most important things you will be contemplating is where to find a quality boarding facility. And as every pet owner knows, it's not an easy decision to do. Trusting a kennel to watch over the safety and well-being of your beloved dog or cat can be extremely worrisome.

No one appreciates your angst more than the staff at Hillsdale Animal Hospital. Already known for their outstanding hospital facilites and health care, they are proud to announce a new boarding service. Starting Easter weekend, they will be offering a state-of-the-art boarding facility.

"We decided to build a boarding facility due to the client need and demand," explained staff member Emily Laws. "We had so many customers ask us about boarding that we thought it would be a great thing to do."

Air-controlled runs, new bathing area

The new Hillsdale facility offers air-controlled runs, a brand new bathing area and a spacious place for the animals to exercise.

"And we offer a totally separate area for cats," points out Emily. "They have their own quiet and isolated environment. They will never even make eye contact with a dog."

Medical facilities, trained staff provide complete care

Another of the things that makes Hillsdale Animal Hospital boarding so special is the close proximity to medical facilities– they have the hospital right there on the premises!

"Our boarding staff is actually medically-trained as well as kennel- trained," Emily proudly notes. "So we can be more attentive to the animal's needs and condition. If they are not eating or appear to be sick, we are trained to deal with that."

Hillsdale Animal Hospital can also take care of vaccines while your dog or cat is boarding.

"Honeymoon Suites" available

Standard runs are 4' x 6' and the facility is home to what the Hillsdale staff likes to call the "Honeymoon Suite." The suite consists of two runs that are connected with a slot door. The cozy arrangement is an option for owners who need to board more than one dog. It allows several dogs to be together when they want or to go into their separate rooms when they grow tired of playing.

Hillsdale Animal Hospital has expanded their hospital building as well.

Expanded facilities, parking and Sunday pick-up

"We have two separate waiting rooms, a new exam area, treatment and surgery rooms, and a new area for X-rays and blood work," Emily notes. "We also have a separate waiting area for boarders so they don't have to come into the hospital."

An expanded parking lot is one more facility upgrade that will make your experience easier and more convenient.

The hospital and boarding hours are Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday 7:30 am to 5:30 pm; Thursday and Saturday 8:00 am to 12:00 pm. There is also an additional opportunity for boarders to pick up their dog or cat each Sunday from 4-5 p.m.

Hillsdale Animal Hospital is located at 134 Medical Drive in Advance. The staff can be reached at 998-8750.

"I also want to remind everyone of one more thing," Emily adds. "With spring, summer and holiday weekends coming up, be sure and call ahead to schedule your boarding for availability."

Davie People

A "Pupfect" Business

Davie Woman Helps Match Pets And Owners

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

It's a story many of us have heard before.

A family brings home a cute puppy.

The cute puppy grows up and isn't so cute anymore.

Then the family ends up taking the puppy to local shelter where it's chances of finding a new home are slim to none.

All too often this is the fate of many adopted puppies and kittens.

But there is one woman in Davie who is trying to change all that.

Her name is Jodi Oscar. She and her husband, Wil, own Red Wood Inn located off N.C. 801 South in Advance.

Jodi began the business a little over a year ago. The full-service 'home away from home' for pets caters to our four-footed friends' every need.

There are different size kennels to accommodate any breed of dog - complete with privacy fences.

Cats lounge in private rooms on plush carpeted towers where they can watch the birds at nearby feeders.

Though Jodi's kennel offers these and other benefits, one of the newest services Jodi is offering is a match making service for pets and potential owners.

Jodi believes so many people rush out and get the first pet they see because it's fluffy and cute.

The chances of finding the pet that's right for you and your family is poor if you don't take the time to research and learn about different breeds.

"We figured if we started a service where they can call us and receive a consultation for free we can at least steer them to a breed that's more suitable for their situation," she says.

The result is Red Woof's Pupfect Match.

"If we can educate people and at least point them in the right direction that can give them a good start and could cut down on the number of animals euthanised."

The way the service works is this.

Pet owners call Jodi - some are in situations where they can no longer keep a pet. She puts the pet on a list and when potential pet owners call looking for the right companion she can match them with an appropriate dog or cat.

Last year Pupfect Match helped place 23 dogs with suitable owners, some as far away as New Jersey.

But Jodi's work doesn't stop after she places an animal. She follows up on the animals and owners for three years after placement to make sure her work is a success.

Jodi also feels another big variable in the equation of homeless pets is people not taking the time to train their dogs.

"It's not the dogs that need training, it's actually the people. Most dog problems are actually management problems," she says.

She says if pet owners would spend just nine to 10 weeks consistently training their pets there wouldn't be so many people that end up with unwanted dogs.

Successfully matching pets and owners is a long-term commitment for Jodi, and her dedication to helping pets find permanent homes has become a lifetime goal.

"We try real hard to make it a lasting thing," she says.

Wil Oscar is seen here with a cocker spaniel whoreceives regular grooming at Red Woof Inn. Spaniels coats require regular maintenance - a factor that should be considered if you're thinking about making one a part of your family.

Jodi believes education is the key to solving problems between owners and pets.
– Photos by Robin Fergusson

Jodi and her dog, Shea, are the perfect match. Shea is a border collie and has lots of energy and smarts.

If you're considering a good house pet perhaps a cat, like the one pictured above, could be the answer.

Public Health Agency Celebrates

The Davie County Health Department joins other county, state, and national public health agencies in the celebration of National Public Health Week April 5-11.

In celebration of National Public Health Week, the staff of the Davie County Health Department hosted their annual Public Health Week Luncheon and Celebration on Thursday, April 8.

Special Recognition was presented by Barry Bass, health director, to four staff members who have provided 20 years or more of public health service to Davie Health Department - Joe Mando, environmental health supervisor, 31 years of service; Caroldine Winebarger, nursing director, 27 years of service; Buck Hall, environmental health specialist, 27 years of service; and Janet Blair, home health supervisor, 23 years of service.

Bass recognized retirees for their past service to Davie County Health Department and public health in general. Special guests from county government and medical community, as well as contracted professionals, were recognized for their continued support and contribution to public health services in Davie County.

At the local level, 10 years ago the Davie County Health Department took the lead to initiate and implement The Healthy Carolinians of Davie County. This group consists of members from the medical community, schools, government, churches, civic groups, and community citizens. The purpose of this effort was to study health issues and disparities in our county.

Health Concern Committees were formed to study health related issues in the county, and to present solutions that would improve the health of all of county's residents.

The health department and the Healthy Carolinians of Davie County are proud of what has been accomplished in the ten years, and both groups continue to work together to find solutions to health care disparities in our county, Bass said.

At the national level, the focus of National Public Health Week 2004 is "Eliminating Health Disparities: Communities Moving from Statistics to Solutions."

Communities all over the country are using innovative solutions to solve problems with widespread disparities in all aspects of health care. The American Public Health Association (APHA) will be collecting and highlighting a wide variety of these solutions to inspire other people who work on health care issues and want to eliminate health disparities in their communities.

Dr. Georges Benjamin, executive director, APHA, states, "At APHA, we believe that it is time to move from statistics, which have vividly shown the widespread problems that result from health disparities, to solutions that guarantee quality care for all. We are searching for health care disparity solutions in all shapes and sizes that have the potential to make a difference. Together, we can take a big leap forward in eliminating health care disparities wherever they exist."

Davie County Health Department continues to make a difference in Davie County by providing services designed to protect and improve the health of all Davie County citizens – it is our belief that every Davie County citizen, regardless of economic status, race, creed, or age, has a right to receive quality public health services which include the promotion of health, prevention of disease, and care of the sick, Bass said.

Troop 732 is Davie's fastest-growing and largest group of Boy Scouts. At the Court of Honor, parents brought food to share to celebrate Scouts' advancement. Scout leader Carter Robinson told an Indian lore legend to inspire the Scouts, and Bert Wagner, member from the district, spoke of ways to help Boy Scouts now that some organizations are cutting back on funding. This holy week between Palm Sunday and Resurrection Sunday is special in County Line. Local churches are having sunrise services observing the resurrection of Jesus Christ and other fellowship activities.

Calvary Baptist Church will have a sunrise service at 6:30 this Sunday morning followed by a light breakfast in the church fellowship hall. The church will then have its regular Sunday morning services of Bible school and worship.

Clarksbury United Methodist Church will have a sunrise service at 7 followed by breakfast in the church fellowship hall. Morning Bible school and worship will be at 8:30 and 9:30, respectively. The church will have a Good Friday service at 7 this Friday night.

Piney Grove AME Zion Church will have a joint sunrise service with Siloam AME Zion at 7 at Siloam in North Iredell. The Rev. Lester Fisher of Piney Grove will be speaker. Piney Grove will have an Easter program at 9 at Piney Grove followed by their Resurrection service.

Pleasant View Baptist Church will have a sunrise service at 7. The Rev. Larry Nantz will be speaker. After the service a breakfast will be served in the church fellowship hall followed by regular morning services of Bible school and worship. Morning services will conclude with holy communion.

Salem United Methodist Church will have a joint sunrise service with their sister church, Center United Methodist Church at 6:30 at Salem. Following the service the Methodist Men of Salem will host a light breakfast in the fellowship hall. Salem will have their regular morning worship and Bible school at 9:45 and 11. There will be no Sunday night Bible study, but the study will resume the next Sunday night, April 18. Salem will observe a special holy communion service with Center United Methodist Church at 7 this Thursday evening at Center.

Society Baptist Church will have an Easter egg hunt for all children this Saturday afternoon from 1-3, followed by refreshments and fellowship. The church will have regular church services on Sunday.

The V-Point Ruritan Club has been busy cooking. Last week the club hosted the Piedmont district meeting of Ruritan clubs with a banquet-style dinner at the V-Point Building. The club sponsored a breakfast benefiting the medical expenses of Carol Wooten Holton. The club appreciates the large number of people who came to support this worthy cause. The club's next fundraiser is a golf tournament at Hickory Hills. For details, call Johnny Towell at 492-7707 or Edgar Cartner at 492-5565, ext. 309.

We extend get-well wishes to Beulah C. Prather, who was admitted to Iredell Memorial Hospital this past week. Sallie Comer continues to take in-hospital stroke therapy at Rowan Medical Center and Louise James remains at Davis Medical Center.

Dora Turner Wilson and her brother William Turner at Piney Grove AME Zion Church revival in the 1950s.

June and Minnie Smoot Safriet are ready for church in the 1940s.

We also continue to remember Sam and Virginia Daywalt, who are taking cancer treatments at Forsyth Medical Center. Please join us in prayer for God's healing in the lives of these residents.

We extend congratulations to Zack Smith who was the co-recipient of the 2004 Statesville Record & Landmark wrestler of the year. Zack was one of only 16 wrestlers in the state to enter the state championship in February with undefeated records. Zack finished his high school career at North Iredell as the school's all-time wins leader with 140 wins.

Easter is a time of family gatherings and traditions in our family when I was growing up in County Line. One such tradition was new Sunday outfits for us "Thorne Ladies." For some reason, at Easter this meant not only new dresses but also matching shoes, gloves, and hats. Until 1958 we had "bought" dresses; as a child I sometimes didn't like those scratchy dotted-swiss and nylon ruffled ones. After my mother got a new Singer Slant-o-matic sewing machine, we made our clothes. I have many fond memories of our burning the "midnight oil" and "after-midnight oil" to get our outfits ready for church that next morning.

You see, we did not sew on Sunday; but, for some reason, it was okay to sew until 1 or 2 that Saturday night or Sunday morning. Sometimes our late-night sewing made my dad unhappy since Mother's sewing machine was in their bedroom and he would want to go to sleep. But he loved to see his ladies look their best the next morning.

There were many of the older ladies in our church who wore hats every Sunday. I don't remember ever seeing Bessie Morrison, Mae Godbey, and Lillie Mae Hayes at church without their hats.

Some of the older men always wore wide brim hats. My Great Uncle Art Gaither had a brown felt hat he wore during the winter and a white straw one for summer. But, Easter Sunday was always a sight to behold. Ladies - old and young - wore new outfits with matching hats and gloves. It seemed everyone, including young boys, wore their "very best" at Easter. And as in most churches, there were some we never saw except at Easter.

As more wash-and-wear fabric became available, more ladies sewed. Some such as Mae (Juck) Foster sewed for others. I'm sure Mae must have made many Easter dresses during her lifetime; Frances Evans Beeson always had Mae make dresses for her daughters, Lisa and Jennifer. I remember many adorable County Line kids in their best: Paula and Darlene Shew, the Wooten girls (Lorene, Carol, Kay, and Christine), Roxanne and Crystal Lewis, Joe and Jane Towell, and many others.

Times have changed. I'm sure there will be few, if any, hats and probably no gloves. Most people will probably not have new outfits. But there will still be some that we will not see until next Easter.

We welcomed back Donna Cartner last Sunday as our church organist and choir director. Donna was out several Sundays recuperating from major surgery.

Palm Sunday was impressive at the Methodist church. Everyone in the congregation was given a palm branch and as the children marched into the sanctuary waving their palm branches and singing "Hosanna", all church members stood and joined in waving their branches and singing. It was a glorious sight. We appreciate Joyce Roberston for getting and distributing the palm branches.

We especially enjoyed a trio, Susan Nelson, Bobby Clutts and the Rev. Harry Sammons, singing a lovely rendition of "Lamb of God", during the worship service Sunday morning.

Thanks to Donna Cartner and Bobby Clutts for organizing a Hand Bell choir, a very meaningful and inspirational addition to our worship service.

Meredith Hendrix of Arlington, Va. and friend Adam Kerr of Sperrville, Va. spent the weekend with Meredith's mother, Janie Hendrix. On Saturday night they visited Meredith's grandmother, Edith Zimmerman.

A community revival will be April 25-30 at the Advance First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Paulina Barney has been moved to Davie County Hospital to remain for several days recuperating from a fall she sustained at her home some time ago, breaking her leg in two places. She has been a patient at Forsyth Medical Center.

Our community expresses sympathy to the LaBruzzo family who lost their young mother, and wife, in a tragic auto accident last week on Highway 801

Cancer Services is addressing this issue by inviting Kim Porter of Triad Counseling Services to come and speak at its next Let's Talk program. Porter is a qualified mental health professional who will assist participants in identifying stress triggers and ways to cope with stress. The Let's Talk series is possible thanks to the Davie County United Way.

This program will be held at the Davie County Library on Friday, April 30 from 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m. Space is limited. Anyone interested in attending this free program should call Cancer Services at 769-9983 to register. Lunch and materials are free.

Former Cooleemee Historical Association president and former mill worker Thurman Miller takes third graders through the process of producing cloth from cotton.

"Imagine what it was like to live before electric lights, refrigerators, tvs and radios" Julie Koontz asks Cooleemee third graders. Kids examine artifacts from the past.

Third Graders Get A Glimpse Into Cooleemee's History

COOLEEMEE - What did Cooleemee's cotton mill produce?

Last Wednesday, nearly every local third grade girl and boy had the same answer - cotton. That was before their first tour of the Mill Village Museum.

That was also before veteran cotton mill hand Thurman Miller gave them a hands-on lesson about how the mill, which once employed 1,800 workers here, began with raw, ginned cotton and turned out enough cloth to go around the earth many times over.

Youngsters were fascinated by the real cotton boll and woven burlap cloth they received as souvenirs. Many were still twisting bits of the cotton, just as spinning wheels did in backcountry cabins and later industrial spinning frames did to produce yarn. Others said they planned to pick out the cotton seeds and try planting them in their back yard.

"The big Yadkin has a lot more water than the South Yadkin River" museum guide Lynn Rumley told the children, "but the little Yadkin has something else - an 18-foot natural fall at Cooleemee." Rumley explained the town was born on the river in 1898 because of its ample water power.

In the dining room of the historic Zachary-Holt House, which serves as Cooleemee's Textile Heritage Center, third graders learned about times before electricity by examining more than 40 artifacts just what it was like before "power" was introduced into the mill houses in 1927.

Volunteer Julie Spillman Koontz asked the kids what they did the last time a storm cut off electricity to their homes and then asked them to imagine daily living without "power."

Children cranked ice cream freezers, examined an oil lamp, canning jars, an old saw and an eye examination machine used by Dr. A.B. Byerly in his local medical practice.

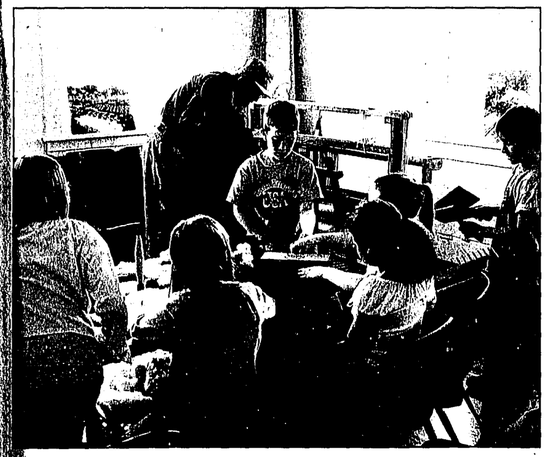

Most of the young visitors had visited the Textile Heritage Center in previous years but this was their first trip to the Mill Village Museum. The focus of "Discovering Our Heritage" for third grade history is geography.

Geography, Cooleemee-style, not only includes vigorous education about where the town is located but the "whys" and "when's" of its birth.

Next week, museum staffers will visit each of the schools four third grade classrooms to present a special map lesson. Students are purposefully stumped when asked to find Cooleemee on a colonial map of the area. They learn that the town didn't exist during those times and are then guided from Salisbury to the Yadkin River, upstream to The Point and up its fork to Frohock's Mill on Bear Creek and back down again to the falls and shoals.

A week later the third graders will have a chance to use what they've learned during a "giant" walking tour of the village. Third graders usually come back to school tired but having a new feeling of pride and ownership of their home town.

History lessons continue through elementary school and are made possible through the Cooleemee Historical Association's "Discovering Our Heritage" youth education project.

The third graders get some hands-on experience in how cotton was once spun into cloth. - Photos by Joan Turner, courtesy Cooleemee Historical Association

Students learn from Lynn Rumley that there was once a thriving downtown square with a department store, movie theater, cafe, drugstore, bank and post office.

Kindness Essays

My name is Sarah Anderson. I am a third grader in Mrs. Carothers's Class.

My kindness person is my Sunday School Teacher Mrs. Karen Harrison. My church is East Davie Baptist Church. On Sunday after the preaching all of the kids go back to the classroom and Mrs. Karen teaches us our Bibles lesson. She is very nice. At Christmas we always have a play on how we started to celebrate Christmas. I am always the angel of the Lord. On my birthday she gave me a card and a bracelet and we had a snack. We always say a long memory Bible verse. She teaches me songs like "Fruit of the Spirit," "Awesome God" and songs like that.

One time she let us make cards for the retired people at the retirement home. I had a good time. She bought journals that we call worship folders and during the service and Sunday School we write what we learn. She is the greatest Sunday School teacher. That is why I chose Mrs. Karen for the Kindness Award.

My name is Logan Hendricks. I am a third grader in Mrs. Carothers's Class. My nominee is Coach Greg Gobble. He was my football coach last year and should be next year. He helped me with running and taught me very important things about what to do when you get a handoff or a catch. He let me play quarterback the first game and also let me be a captain. He made us do a lot of push-ups and wore us out. He made it fun to play the sport of football. On some Thursdays we went to C's for Raiders night and talked, ate food, and went home. We went through fun drills during practice. I would like for Coach Greg to receive the kindness award for his great kindness in coaching and helping me.

My name is Cole Blankenship. I am a third grader in Ms. Tracy Dyson's class. I would like to nominate Coach Greg Gobble for the kindness Award. Coach Greg helped me by teaching me the fundamentals of football. He also helped me get in shape for all the games. He always cheered me on during the games. He helped build my confidence to play well. He is a special coach. That is why I nominated Coach Greg for the kindness Award.

My name is Alex Espinoza. I am a third grader in Ms. Tracy Dyson's class. My kindness person is Andrea Mojica. She makes me feel special when I am sad. Andrea helps me with my homework. She also helps me with my English. She comes to my house and helps my mom. When my mom had a baby she came by to see us. Sometimes she is my babysitter. My baby sister's name is Daisy. She is just a few weeks old. My little brother's name is Brian. He is 6 years old. Andrea is very nice to my family. That is why I picked Andrea for the Kindness Award.

My name is Ricky Wilson. I am a third grader in Mrs. Donley's class. My kindness winner is Susan Myers. Susan helps me with my homework. She helps me learn my math, reading and spelling. She also baby-sits me and buys me slushes. Sometimes I get to spend the night with her. We play Monopoly, Checkers and we watch TV. She is very kind to me. That is why I picked Susan Myers as my kindness winner.

My name is Jodi Gregory. I am a third grader in Mrs. Donley's class. My kindness winner is Sharon Lawson. I chose Sharon as my kindness person because she is my sitter. She took care of me when my house burned down. She threw us a house-warming party. She invited lots of people to the party. She gave my family lots of nice things for our new house such as cooking supplies, picture, a clock, clothesbasket, books and dinnerware. She also is a great help for all of us. That is why we love her very much. I stay at her house after school. She is a big help. That is why I picked Sharon as my kindness winner. Thank you, Sharon.

My name is Honesty Knight. I am in second grade in Mrs. Bagshaw's class. My kindness person is Mrs. Tami Langdon. Ms. Tami teaches me how to dance. She teaches me how to tap dance. She gives me candy after dance class. She is nice and kind. She has lots of energy. When we dance really good she reward us with candy. Ms. Tami is a very kind person. That is why I chose Ms. Tami as my kindness person.

My name is Dustin Reavis. I am in second grade in Mrs. Renegar's class. My kindness winner is Vic Patti. Mr. Patti is a nice person. He helps with my reading. He plays games with me. I beat him at all the games. He brings me lollipops to eat. Mr. Patti is a very kind person. That is why I picked Mr. Patti as my kindness person.

Mrs. Donley's class saved the most box tops for March.

Citizens of the Week of March 29-April 2: Jake Caudle, Dylan Waller, Rachel Mohat, Traci Ferrebee, Diana Barron, Ashley Cregar, Trey Lagle, Becca Ferebee, Taylor Mohat, Taylor Blankenship, Sarah Contos, Sherri Parks, Evan Cave, Brandi Ferrebee, Jacob Whitaker, Courtney Grannaman, Carolina Oliva, and Matthew Dyson.

Shady Grove Elementary

The next PTA meeting will be Tuesday night, April 27, in the gym. Everyone is welcome and the first graders will perform. It is an important PTA business meeting.

The 7th Annual Shady Grove Golf Outing for Technology will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 22 at Hickory Hill Golf Course with a catered meal for players. Business sponsorship information and entry forms can be picked up at the school, from a student, or at the Advance Post Office. There is room for 30 teams. The deadline for entries and sponsorships is April 23.

Another way to help raise funds is by eating in or taking out at Venezia's on Monday nights. Write the name of your child's teacher on the back of the card and drop it in the box. The PTA is sponsoring a competition through April 12 for the class with the most entries who will win a pizza party.

The first graders in Ms. Minor's class had a Dr. Seuss fashion show where they wrote and read a paragraph about their wacky shoes. They did a survey on their favorite Dr. Seuss book and by graphing the results in the computer lab found that the winner was How the Grinch Stole Christmas. The children have been exploring forms of energy. They made sun catchers for the classroom and drank tea made from the sun. They studied sound energy by creating tunes with bottled water. As a class they made a rainbow in the room and explored primary and secondary colors using milk and food coloring.

Second graders in Ms. Hill and Ms. Carter's class worked on solid figures in math and in computer lab they used data to answer questions. In social studies, the class studied "We the People" and learned about leaders, petitions, voting, taxes and order. The class won the "Snow Better Time to Read" competition. The class read 804 books and Claire Collett was the top reader.

Second graders in Ms.Kauff and Ms. Boswell's class read the book, Miss Nelson is Back, about a teacher who was absent because she had her tonsils taken out. The principal becomes the substitute teacher and the children devise a plot to take matters into their own hands. In social studies, students learned how to put events in sequential order.

Third graders in Ms. Hendrix and Ms. Plyler's class concluded a unit on symmetric figures and have started learning about fractions. In science, the children presented reports about their assigned planets. All third grade classes went on a field trip to Horizons Unlimited and participated in two programs called explore the moon and health explorers.

The Fourth Grade State Fair was held recently. The weather was cold but the high spirits of the students made up for the crisp air. A special thank you to the committee chairpersons and all the parents who made the fair a success. Also, the parents enjoyed helping their child spend the state fair money they had earned at school.

Kindergarten classes are learning about spring. Students have been on a spring walk and seen new flowers, buds, green leaves, and even bugs. They are planting seeds and waiting to see them grow. Some classes have collected raindrops to observe. They have made mud and written about how it feels, smells, looks, and sounds. They made mud paintings to illustrate a book about mud.

The fifth graders are eagerly awaiting the countywide field day where they will meet friends from all over the county. Students are preparing for the EOG test.

Second graders may be great writers some day. Mrs. McDougall's class is writing spring poetry while Miss Brown's class is focusing on dinosaur poems. Mrs. Godbey's students are studying maps, map keys, and and indexes.

First graders enjoyed their trip to the Cooleemee Historical Society's Zachary House. Volunteers helped us learn about life long ago by doing some chores on the farm like slopping the pig and washing clothes with a washboard.

The third graders had a map lesson on Cooleemee this week with Lynn Rumley. She showed how to locate Cooleemee by using the Yadkin River and landmarks around it. The third graders have been learning about mixed numbers and telling time to the quarter hour.

Mrs. Jones' fourth grade class is in the middle of an animal unit. As a part of this unit, the class dissected owl pellets to discover the eating habits of barn owls in the Pacific Northwest. After charting and graphing the bones, they discovered that the owls ate more birds than anything else.

Pinebrook Elementary

This week's Box Tops Champion is Mrs. Lynch's fourth grade class with 433 box tops. Winners include: Anthony Anderson, Maura Barron, Kerri Blevins, Christina Bobo, Joshua Booe, Kirklin Bowles, Chandler Bradshaw, Hannah Brunstetter, Katherine Cox, Felisha Dalton, Tyron Gibson, Josheva Hicks, Kaitlyn Hutchins, Ryan Lambert, Ashley Levan, Ashley McLaurine, Karla Miner, Ashley Moore, Joshua Mullis, Courtney Pardue, Brittney Perras, Kayla Rampersad, Nathan Roy, Chelsey Thomas, Nicholas Tilley, Jacob Walker. Each student will receive a sticker and pencil. Mrs. Lynch will receive a t-shirt.

This week, $1,300 worth of box tops were mailed to General Mills. Pinebrook has collected 23,525 box tops totaling $2,352.50 toward books for the media center. Box tops will be collected until the end of the year. The Spring Box Top Champion and year end champion will be announced on May 7.

In the media center, students in grades 1-3 have been reading books and doing activites for the North Carolina Children's Book Award - picture book division. This is one of the few awards given by children. Students voted on their favorite from among the 18 nominated books. The talley of these votes has been sent to the state committee. The state winner will be announced in April.

The winner for first and second grade was Epossumondas by Coleen Salley. The winner for third grade was The Old Man and the Flea by Mary Elizabeth Hanson. School winner was Epossumondas.

South Davie

The South Davie Drama Department will perform their spring musical "Fussin' an' a Feudin" on May 14 at 7 p.m., a funny show about two hillbilly families who have been feuding for over 200 years and have a more serious reason to dispute. Lee Roy Calhoun and Emy Lou Tolliver ain't supposed to see each other. Will the Tollivers and the Calhouns ever declare a truce? Advance tickets go on sale April 19.

Mocksville Elementary

Student of the Week, March 29-April 2: Johnson Marklin, Humberton Casares-Hernandez, Rafael Palacios, Jalen Scott, Nick Sinopoli, Blake Helton, Blaise Bennett, Jarred Hatley, Heather McClamrock, David Jones, Chris Short, Tanner Nelson, Stephen Daniel, Davin McLaughlin, Angela Tyas, Vanessa Cuellar, Jared Barber, Cara Hendricks, Allison Lambert.

The kindergartners in Mrs. Kaye Vandiver and Miss Jodi Walker's class welcome the newest high school volunteer, Candace Scott. The class is learning about insects and baby animals. They have read books and created creatures such as fireflies, bees and ladybugs. They are getting ready for Easter and the annual parade in festive hats. After spring break, kindergarten classes will present the last PTA program, "The Circus Alphabet," Tuesday, April 27.

Students in Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Knight's first grade read the story, Rabbit's Good News. Rabbit couldn't wait to tell his friends that spring had arrived. They discussed the signs of spring that Rabbit saw and other signs of spring the students observed. They talked about rainbows. The students enjoyed making the colors of the rainbow from food coloring and secondary colors from primary colors. Their favorite rainbow bookwas What Makes a Rainbow? In this book, a rainbow of ribbons magically appears as animals explain what makes a rainbow.

Mrs. Starnes and Ms. Zoubek's second graders learned about Paul Bunyan in daily oral language sentences. They enjoyed the video about his character. Students located Costa Rica on the map in relation to this week's story, Fernando's Gift. The story offered a good opportunity to compare and contrast Fernando's daily routine with their own. The boys and girls are adding multiplication to math skills. April was welcomed on Thursday as Mrs. Starnes tried to play April Fool's jokes with students as they did with her. They discussed how it seems the weather played an April Fool's joke on us all.

The fifth grade class has been working on measurement, metric and standard. The students are reading Tuck Everlasting by Natalie Babbitt and participating in poetry discussions. In social studies, they are studying Middle America. They took a trip to Horizons where we learned about keeping our hearts healthy. We also enjoyed the planetarium where we learned about light energy.

Cornatzer Elementary

Mrs. Lumley's class has been learning about plants. Students took a trip outside to take a look at the plants around school and recorded observations in science journals. They learned about seeds and read The Tiny Seed by Eric Carle. Students made their own greenhouses and watched a lima bean grow. They saw the bean get bigger and pop out of its seed coat. Then they watched as the sprout began to grow. They identified the parts of a plant including the pistil and stamen. They learned the importance of pollination and why plants need to create chlorophyll.

Mrs. Robinson's second grade class is playing mother hen to 18 eggs, a part of their study of the life cycle of animals. Students are keeping the eggs warm and turning them three times a day. The chicks should hatch around April 5, and return to the farm April 9. They read about desert plants and animals in Cactus Hotel, Desert Giant and The Living World of Deserts.

Students are busy reading for points in the Camp Read-a-Lot program. "We would love to win the BIG prize and get to go swimming," said Mrs. Robinson.

Mrs. Doss's fourth grade class recently finished Owls in the Family as the class novel. Students "dissected" owls on the Internet. In social studies, students are preparing for the April 29 visit to the state capitol. They are learning about N.C. government. They researched the members of the General Assembly on the Internet along with other classroom activities. Mrs. Doss's class is eagerly preparing for the end of grade tests. They have been reading a variety of passages and answering comprehension questions to go with each passage. In math, they are reviewing daily.

Central Davie

Developmental Day I Student of the Week, March 22-26: Haley Jernigan; March 29-April 2: Hunter Kiser.

We have been getting ready for spring and Easter. There are flowers around our room that let us know spring is here. We had fun making Easter eggs with pretty tissue paper. We made rabbits with cotton. We worked very hard on our Easter hats. We have been counting flowers and rabbits. Some of the rabbits have lost their cotton tails and the kids are finding them in our centers. We are looking forward to spring break.

Developmental Day II students have been hard at work this week. They have created some very unique playdough sculptures as well as collages from various types of materials. These wonderful creations will be displayed in our classroom. The children are noticing their classmates' artwork already. They love our art gallery. Next week, we look forward to more spring themed learning experiences.

The Pre-K class studied and learned about plants. We learned what a plant needs to grow, how a seed grows into a plant and the different parts of a plant. We made instant pudding and crushed Oreo cookies and made pretend soil and planted an M&M seed inside. We read "Jack in the Beanstalk" and planted a bean and watched how fast it grew. We also planted flower seeds and made a bouquet of flowers out of hand paint to send to Ms. Sue. She is feeling much better and is now at home resting.

School Employees Gather For Annual Health Fair

By Lynne Allen
School Health
Administrative Assistant

If you drove by Central Davie Education Center or Mocksville Elementary School on Friday morning, March 12, you may have noticed an unusual amount of cars and activity.

School health, under the leadership of Frances Tutterow, sponsored the second health fair for all employees of Davie County Schools.

Plans for the second fair began during the 2002-03 school year, but was postponed due to snow twice last year. As the date for the 2004 health fair approached, it had grown into a large and exciting event.

More than 30 groups, businesses, and agencies offered a variety of health screenings and services, educational exhibits and materials, and demonstrations, in the Clyde Studevent Gymnasium at Central Davie Education Center on Campbell Road.

More than 250 school employees attended the health fair in the gym between 7:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

Approximately 75 employees participated in lab work and/or EKGs done by occupational health of Davie County Hospital, others took advantage of the chance to obtain a tetanus booster immunization by the Davie Health Department, or have a vision screening by Dr. Ellyn Johnson, or blood pressure screening by Forsyth Medical Center.

In addition, to the health fair activities going on in the gym, the board room was busy with activity.

Seventy-four individuals had ultrasonographic and/or bone density screenings by Ultrascreen in the board Room. Those attending the activities in the gym had the opportunity to talk individually with an optometrist, dermatologist, dental hygienist, physical therapist, veterinarian, weight loss consultants, diabetes educator, a DARE officer, a member of the National Guard Counter Task Force, and other professionals.

Everyone attending the health fair was able to receive free materials as well as purchase some items from those participating in the health fair if they so desired. In addition, all school employees attending the health fair had the opportunity to participate in drawings for door prizes. Winners of the door prizes were Gaye Carothers, Sonja Russell, Anita Howell, Joan Means, Crystal Donley, Bill Carothers, Karen Deadmon, Trina Jackson, Judy Fann, Luis Munoz, Jackie White, Angie Williams, Lynn Yokley, Candy Poplin, Jason Whitaker, Pat Campbell, Kathy Mason, June Hyland, Tim McKnight, Pam Keiser, Jennifer McPherson, Maria Knight, Marty Link, Michelle Beiter, Melody Morton, Kerri Wall, Dana Eaton, Georgia Taylor, "Bonnie Schwengel, Blanca Preira, Stephanie Redmon, Yvonne Livengood, Malinda York, Ramonda Shelton, Cathy Riddle, Kristin Garner, Wayne Russell, and Larry Lanier.

More than 100 school employees participated in the first Davie County Schools' Employee 5K Fitness Walk/Run. It began at 9 a.m. at the walking track between Mocksville Elementary School and the Davie Family YMCA.

Paige Stephenson coordinated the fitness walk/run. Participants were eligible for a special drawing for prizes. Winners were Jason Banks, Joan Brown, Larry Lanier, Karen Martin, Sharon Steele, Karen Umberger, Gena Long, Stephanie Steele, Tammy Lagle, Kristi McDougal, Christi Ruff, Brenda Holmes, Dena Grubbs, Stephanie Nagel, Joan Forbes, Cindy Whitaker, Jean Brickey, Linda Bost, Linda Dorsett, Michelle Beiter, John Bullins, Brandon Brooks, Alicia Freimuth, and Pam Keiser.

The health fair and walk were planned as part of the Davie County Schools' Employee Wellness/fitness Program began last school year with support from Healthy Carolinians of Davie.

School health and Healthy Carolinians is concerned about employee health and wellness as well as that of students in Davie schools. Employees are encouraged to participate in some type of physical activity on a regular basis as part of a healthy lifestyle and support students in doing the same.

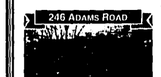

School health would like to thank everyone who participated in providing services, exhibits, and demonstrations and to staff from student services who assisted in hosting the health fair, the board of education and school administration for allowing this event on a scheduled professional day when students were not in school.

Tammy Stamey Earns Academic Excellence Award

Forsyth Technical Community College student Tammy Pennington Stamey of Advance is a winner of the North Carolina Community College System's Academic Excellence Award.

She has a 4.0 grade point average and is studying paralegal technologies.

Two students from each of the 59 community colleges in North Carolina are honored each year as the cream of the crop at the Academic Excellence Awards Luncheon in Raleigh. This year's luncheon will be held Friday, May 7 at the Hilton North Raleigh.

The goal of the award is to recognize excellence and encourage scholarship among the more than 760,000 students of the NCCCS. The students selected at each institution have set the highest possible goals and attained the pinnacle of academic success in the community college system.

NCCCS recommends criteria for the award, which is consistent with the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society criteria. Each student must be enrolled, must have completed at least 12 semester hours (or quarter hours equivalent) in an associate degree program and must have a cumulative grade point average of not less than 3.25.

The Davie High School competition cheerleading team perform in Myrtle Beach.

Cheerleaders Finish Second

Cheerleaders traveled from as far away as Scotland, England, Wales, and a little closer to home; Wisconsin, Oklahoma, and Davie County.

They converged on Myrtle Beach on Friday; March 19-21 ready to cheer, dance, tumble, and stunt in competition with the best for the title of National Champion.

They tumbled on the beach, stunted in the pools, chanted on the bus (some had a 22 hour bus trip), danced in their hotel rooms and the halls and elevators. When you are up against this magnitude of talent, everyone questions whether the previous year of practice was enough.

Davie High School Varsity Competition Cheerleading Squad performed on Saturday and Sunday in the Super Large Varsity Division at the CAN-AM Cheer and Dance Championship at the Myrtle Beach Convention Center at a competition presented by Cheer Ltd.

They were second runner up with Holy Cross High School of River Grove, Ill. being first runner up and the Aquinas Institute of Rochester, N.Y. taking the championship title.

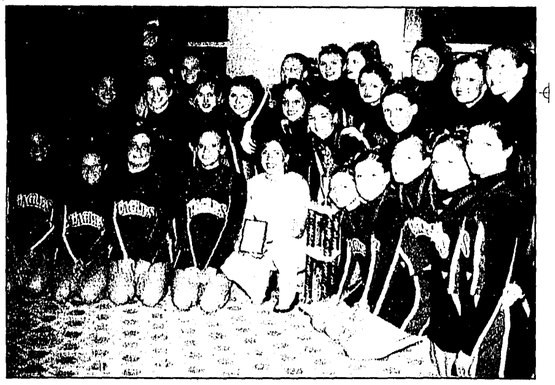

Davie recieved a trophy and a plaque. Seniors: Emily Evans, Kristen Culler, and Erin Strause have no regrets with their final cheer season at Davie.

Coach Angela Bickel has has helped the team realize a remarkable comeback year.

Prior to Nationals, Davie claimed the title of Champions of the East, brought home the "Spirit of a Champion" trophy, reclaimed the title of state champions, placed second at Lightning Elite and third at states in the fall.

Davie High students interested in obtaining information regarding the upcoming cheerleading season should bring a parent and attend a meeting in Davie High School's multipurpose room Tuesday, April 20 at 6 p.m.

The tryout clinic is scheduled for May 10,11, and 12 from 5-7 p.m. with tryouts on Saturday, May 15 at noon in the gym.

Davie High Cheerleading Information Meeting April 20 In Multi-Purpose Room

Any Davie High School student interested in trying out for the cheerleading teams should attend an informational meeting April 20 in the multi-purpose room at 6 p.m.

Parents are also welcome.

The team is open to students grades 9-12, whether they have been on the cheer team in the past or not.

A tryout clinic will be held May 10-12 from 5-7 p.m. in the gym.

Acutual tryouts will be Saturday, May 15 at noon, in the gym.

Direct questions to Angie Bickel at 751-5905.

North 'Mathletes' Third In Region

North Davie Middle School placed third of 24 teams in the Northwest Regional Math Counts competition Feb. 14 at in Winston-Salem. North coach is teacher, Steve Rareshide.

Amy Gilbert placed sixth, and John Stigall 10th in individual competition among the more than 160 students who participated.

Math Counts is a nationwide math competition for middle school students.

"The purpose of Math Counts is to promote student interest in math by making math achievement as challenging and exciting as any school sport," Rareshide said.

Beginning each fall, teachers and other volunteers coach students who compete in a local competition. The top teams and individuals go to state competitions, where the top four individuals advance to national competition.

The state competition was held March 27 at the N.C. School of Math and Science in Durham.

"Although North Davie did not place, it was quite a feat to reach that level of the competition," Rareshide said.

Math Counts is sponsored by the N.C. Professional Engineers, who organize the event for middle schools.

"Whether you're checking out the latest best seller, researching your college term paper, getting homework help using the Internet for job applications, the library has the resources and staff to help you complete your search."

"National Library Week is a great time to see what's new at your Davie County Public Library and how librarians and library workers can provide you with the resources and services you need when you need them," adds Hoyle. "We encourage all community members to come check us out."

N.C. Highway Patrol Trooper A.T. Keller examines what's left of a wrecked and burried Davie Sheriff's patrol car Sunday morning on U.S. 158. - Photos by Robin Fergusson

Deputy Pulled From Burning Car

Lee Whitesides saw the flames jumping from the front of the car.

The Davie County Sheriff's Department sergeant knew it was a patrol car - the one driven by one of the newest deputies on the force - one he was helping train.

Relieved when he saw passers-by carrying Dana Recktenwald from the burning vehicle, his worries grew as he saw the severity of her injuries.

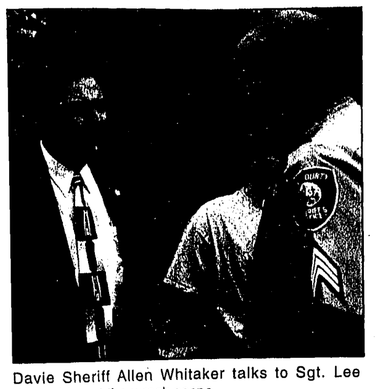

Across U.S. 158, there were three people hurt in another car, two of them seriously.

The Sunday morning scene at Shady Lane near Hillsdale sent emergency crews scurrying into action, and parishioners in several churches praying for the people injured in the wreck.

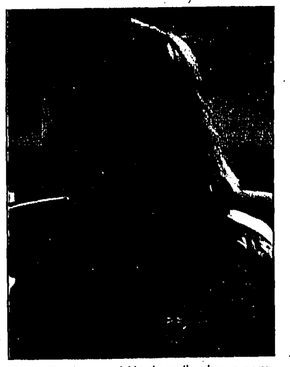

Officers were going through instructions on a shift change at the sheriff's department when the call came in - there was a domestic disturbance at the By-Lo in Hillsdale, and a man had a gun. The same couple had another altercation earlier in the night in Mocksville, said Davie Sheriff Allen Whitaker.

Whitesides headed out the door,

County OKs Funds For Case Worker

Child Abuse Reports Well Above Last Year's Level

By Michael Gunning
Special to the Enterprise

Davie commissioners stated that stress due to recent economic factors, drug use and increased poverty may be possible causes for an increase in reports of child abuse in the county.

As a result, commissioners unanimously approved an emergency request by Karen Smith to fund a new Social Services position last Monday.

Smith, who has been the director of the department of Social Services for 10 years, said the creation of the position was necessary to relieve the burdensome case loads for workers in child welfare positions.

The full-time position will pay an annual salary of $34,500, and will be filled immediately. Smith said the new caseworker will start with 12 cases.

Reading statistics that commissioner Michael Allen called "staggering", Smith related to the board that the county has taken custody of 17 children this year. In comparison, only 20 children were taken into custody all of 2003.

> "We just don't have enough foster families registered in the county. Right now, we're looking outside of the county to fill those needs."
> - Karen Smith
> Social Services Director

As a result, DSS employees, who receive comp time in lieu of overtime pay, are due as many as 40 hours because of their case loads. Smith said that creates a dangerous situation for the children.

"We don't want to be on the front page for something like this" Smith said while holding up an article from the Charlotte Observer reporting a child from Mecklenburg County who died while in foster care. "Children deserve better."

Commissioner Dan Barrett asked Smith if DSS was providing adequate housing for custodial children:

Residents Urged To Be Cautious Of Roofing, Driveway Bargain Offers

By Mike Gunning
Special to the Enterprise

When Al Relak of Advance needed a new roof on the residence he was putting up for sale, he did what many homeowners do.

He stopped along the road and spoke to a roofer who was doing a job on a nearby house.

Relak - who was recently retired and preparing for a move to Galveston, Texas – was told one week prior to his moving date that his house would sell quicker if it had a new roof. Relak was pressed for time and desperate to sell, and quickly entered into a contract with a man who identified himself as Ron Barbour from Clemmons.

Regrettably for Relak, he could have been the victim of what authorities call a "gypsy" contractor. He brought some tools to Relak's house and appeared to be ready to start the job. He took a sizable down payment, assured Relak he would be back to start the job the next day, but hasn't been seen since.

The tools, worth an estimated $50, are still on the roof. Relak is in Texas, and the house remains on the market, minus a new roof.

The warmer spring weather moves area homeowners to direct their attention to home repair, and seedy contractors are in a position to take advantage of homeowners looking for quality home improvement at an affordable price.

According to Davie County Sheriff Allen Whitaker, complaints similar to Relak's are on the rise as the weather continues to improve.

"We average about two to three calls a week just like this," said Whitaker, who refers to crooked contractors as predators. "I'm willing to bet that for every two or three that do report this, there's another one or two that won't because of embarrassment for being taken."

Whitaker said his office historically investigates as many as 25 similar cases each spring, with each averaging a loss of $4,000 to the victim. It is unusual for the scam to exceed $5,000, because most jobs in excess of that amount require a county permit and are subject to inspection.

A dishonest contractor will avoid contact with the county permit office as much as possible.

Typically, the crime is perpetrated against older homeowners living in rural areas without family nearby.

"These people are prime targets," said Whitaker, now in his 10th year as Davie's sheriff. "These

3 Generations Later, Influence Still Lingers

This is one of those rare weeks when I have nothing to complain about. Life is pretty doggone good.

The taxes are in the mail, and I'm getting a refund.

The grass is green. The flowers are blooming.

The children are happy and healthy.

Advertisers and readers are supporting the newspaper in gratifying ways.

I'm on good terms with my neighbors.

The relatives list me on the official family tree.

And I have turned a year older.

There is nothing like a birthday and spring weather to bring a little perspective to living.

Sunday I walked among my forebears in the graveyard, pulling my 13-year-old along to make sure he knows about his relatives, to know where he fits in among this clan.

It was my own version of "Roots."

Finally, we came to the grave of Eleanor Lee Sparks, my great-grandmother.

According to some, she is said to have brought a healthy measure of civility to the clan. She was a good pick for my great-grandfather. She made him go to church, turned him into a God-fearing Moravian, and gave her son — my grandfather — a healthy respect for education, morals, manners and the virtues of hard work and clean living.

There is a lesson in my graveyard wanderings for young bachelors considering marriage.

Be careful who you marry. She just might change you — make you wear shoes, shave, go to church, be respectable, work regularly, take baths, learn to read and write, wash behind your ears and be nice.

She might expect the same of her children — make them go to school, make their beds, feed the chickens and pigs, hoe the garden, shuck corn, milk the cows and say their prayers every night.

Her influence could extend to the next generation, and the next, until one day they all have indoor plumbing and can read without moving their lips.

My great-grandfather probably didn't think that far ahead — not many young men do. His head might just have been turned by her pretty face. But his gentle bride's influence has been felt in the succeeding generations.

So, young men, when choosing a wife, think not only of the moment, but consider your children and grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Will your bride impress the succeeding generations as much as she has pleased you? Will she foster the best in you, accentuate your good qualities and train your children to be honest, kind and noble, or not?

If she will, marry her.

Your great-grandchildren will thank you ... although not in person.

Great-grandpa Harrison Sparks is also planted in the cemetery. Along with his son and her wife. And his son, my father. And various aunts, uncles, great-aunts and great-uncles, a cousin, friends, and my dear Mary.

With buckets and water and Comet, we washed the tombstones on Saturday and placed flowers.

Depressing? Not at all.

Sad? Well, yes, at times.

But it was a comfort to know these were hardy folks who weathered difficulties and dangers and hardships we no longer understand. They were people who praised God through wars and misery and the Depression as well as when the crops were bountiful and the skies were blue. They buried infants and babies — victims of diseases without cures — but didn't give up on life. And by their refusal to surrender, I am standing here.

It will be an honor to be planted among them one day. And I hope that a great-granddaughter will wander among the graves 50 years in the future and find my stone and have reason to know some pleasant tale about me.

— Dwight Sparks

Get The Ball Rolling For A New High School

To the editor:

Let's take a look at the numbers we have all been hiding from for some time now. We have a nice high school that is over 50 years old that has a capacity of 1,350 students. It is currently holding around 1,600 students with the class of 2003-04. That in itself is bad enough.

We have a cafeteria that if any of you parents have been there for meetings or banquets, have been able to see it is quite small. It has no restrooms for the students so it is not adequate for a high school of this size.

We have a science department with labs that are so run down it is embarrassing for a school of the academic reputation of Davie High School. Water comes out of Bunsen burners and that is dangerous. We have classrooms completely full at all times so the teachers don't have any space for their planning periods during the day. The teacher's lounge is a space small enough to be declared a closet, much less fit in many teachers during the day. Is this what we want for our high school?

I think not.

Now let's get to what our future numbers will look like, knowing that our current high school is supposed to hold 1,350 students at capacity. The current freshman class, of which I have one at Davie High, has 450 students. Add in the current enrollments at South Davie Middle - 798, and North Davie Middle - 793, and by the time the current class of freshman are seniors [Class of 2007], there will be 2,041 students at Davie High School. How many trailers do we want to see around that campus? That is 691 students over capacity.

The last high school bond referendum didn't get much support last March from the county or, the county commissioners, it didn't seem. It looked like a partisan issue between two sides of the county. But it's time to put that aside and do what is best for our children.

Two high schools means double participation in everything. Two marching bands. Two basketball teams. Two football teams. Two baseball teams, cheerleaders, Beta Clubs, Key Clubs, Homecoming Court, Hunter Safety Teams, etc.

If we get the ball rolling even now, it will be too late for the class of 2007, but it is something we must do, for the good of our Davie County youth. Otherwise they are going to be going to class in trailers well into the year 2010.

Cooleemee Conducts Litter Sweep

To the editor:

On Saturday, April 3, Cooleemee held the fourth annual litter sweep. Under Master Gardener coordination, the clean-up effort was a success. All major streets in Cooleemee were canvassed by a volunteer group of parents and children.

Thank you for a job well done. A special thanks to the town for providing lunch for all the volunteers.

Wouldn't it be great if all of us made a personal effort to "Keep America Beautiful" and litter sweeps would be but a memory?

Civitans Build Citizenship

To the editor:

April is Civitan Awareness Month and it is the desire of the Mocksville Civitan Club to acquaint the people of Davie County with who we are and what we are doing.

Civitan was founded in 1917 in Birmingham, Ala., by a group of businessmen wishing to make their community better. Civitan has grown into an international organization in 21 countries around the world.

The mission of Civitan is to build good citizenship by providing a volunteer organization of clubs dedicated to serving individual and community needs with an emphasis on helping people with developmental disabilities. Our club is democratic in that members decide which projects to support and how we can help meet community needs. Space does not permit our mentioning the many projects which Civitan sponsors each year.

Our club has added many members in recent years. We are proud of the work we do and invite you to join us on the second and fourth Monday nights at 7 o'clock at the Central Carolina Bank at 880 Yadkinville Road.

Developer Gives His Side

To the editor:

I have just read with amazement a letter to the editor which was published in The Enterprise on April 8 written by Dorothy Cheek who says she lives at the corner of Hwy. 64 and Pine Valley Road

First, there are two entrances off Hwy. 64 for future residents of my planned development to enter or exit. All roads are public roads maintained by the NC Department of Transportation. None of the existing streets in the Hickory Hill Development are private.

Mrs. Cheek mentions that renters may come into my planned development. Let me unequivocally state that there is no plan to build rental units. A lovely well manicured place to live is our vision and the residents will own their homes. Restrictive covenants will prevent commercial rental units.

Mrs. Cheeks says that someone from another county said that Davie County zoning laws were archaic. I take exception to that lack of knowledge. The fact is Davie County enacted zoning and planning more than 30 years ago. Thanks to leadership in our county, we have zoning and planning ordinances that are second to none when compared to comparable counties in the state.

Mrs. Creeks's comment that "More law enforcement officers will be needed, more jail spaces, more classrooms, extra teachers to take care of the 90 patio homes and 40 attached homes." Such statements are outlandish and not based on facts. Mrs. Cheek obviously was not listening to my attorney, Hank Van Hoy, when she attended the zoning and planning hearing on my development. Mr. Van Hoy stated that the 90 patio homes would be marketed to "empty nesters" whose children are grown and no longer at home. Mrs. Cheek can be assured that we do not have to build jails to house the clientele who will call my community home. The 90 units should not impact our schools in any way.

Mrs. Cheek is obviously appealing to emotionalism and not the facts.

Neither the county nor city will pay for the sewer lines and water lines in this project. Yes, the county and city will benefit from the incomes this developments pays in water and sewer bills each month.

It is clear to me that there is an effort to distort the truth about my planned development. For example, I know that a disgruntled former employee of my country club is one of the leaders in carrying around a petition in opposition to my plans.

For those who are willing to listen to the facts of development, I offer the following information:

1. Without going through any rezoning, I could put more than 160 homes on the 200 acres that I own.

2. I have as much right to use the DOT public roads as any resident of Hickory Hill.

3. My plan complies with the recently enacted land use plan of Davie County. We made sure our plan would mirror as closely to the new land use plan as possible. This land use plan is the law. I believe my project is a wonderful and well planned project. I am quite excited about the opportunity to offer this project to Davie County and the surrounding area - being a project that is in compliance with the Davie County land use plan.

4. Unlike any of the homes in Hickory Hill, my development will feature the use of public sewer and public water ...not wells and septic tanks.

5. My plans incorporate the use of a Homeowners Association or the equivalent who will be empowered with the ability to manage common areas, manage the beautification and generally ensure that our village will remain attractive and well cared for.

6. My planned development will enhance property values in the whole area. The reason property values will be enhanced is because of the high caliber of the development. The power to keep property values high will be with the residents who will be empowered to govern the development.

7. I would think the residents of Hickory Hill would much prefer living next to an 18-hole golf course than to see the golf course closed and then I build more than 160 houses where the golf holes formerly were.

8. I contend that Hickory Hill Country Club with patio homes and townhouses is better for the neighbors and citizens of Davie County and is a better use of the property than closing down the golf course and building over it in houses.

9. I believe I have good taste. I plan to build a patio home for my personal use in this development.

I just ask that Mrs. Cheeks and other complainers take a look at the options available to me.

Georgians Love Oklahoma! Show

To the editor:

We enjoyed the wonderful production of Oklahoma! at the Brock Performing Arts Center. You were right; it was marvelous. Having seen this play done several other places, I was most impressed with this production. We are quite proud of Megan, of course. I received so many wonderful compliments on her performance, but also on her personality and goodness. I was so impressed with the genuine care and concern of the cast for each other, especially the older performers for the younger ones.

Thanks again for all that you did to promote the production.

We stayed in Salisbury to see a cabaret show that Megan directed on Sunday afternoon at the college and a liturgical dance that she performed at the music program in the college chapel on Sunday evening.

To say the least, she has one tired mom and dad this morning after arriving back in Savannah at 1 a.m. I had to be at work this morning at 7:30.

Town Thankful For Help

To the editor:

The Town Board of Cooleemee would like to thank the Ladies Auxiliary of the Cooleemee Volunteer Fire Department for presenting the town's annual Easter Egg Hunt on Saturday, April 3, for the town. These ladies provided a wonderful time for the children and even had the Easter Bunny present for the children.

The town board also thanks the Master Gardeners of Davie County, especially JoAnn Lester, Lynette Polk, Louise Blackwood and Ann Spry for conducting the annual Litter Sweep on Saturday, April 3 for the town. They provided Litter Sweep trash bags, vests and gloves. The Master Gardeners also grilled delicious hot dogs with all the trimmings, and served potato chips and soft drinks for the volunteers to enjoy.

The town would also like to thank the many volunteers who helped with Litter Sweep by picking up trash along our town streets.

Man Upset With Conviction

To the editor:

My name is Lincoln Brock. I am a federal defendant. I'm housed at the Randolph County Jail, awaiting sentencing on a case that came out of that county. I was found guilty of narcotics that was supposed to have been sold to a confidential informant, whose name I will not say for the record. I would ask that you would help me in this important matter and please publish my letter.

I will start by saying how all this started. On March 19, 2003, Davie County Sheriff's Office arranged for this confidential informant to make three buys from me, in which he never purchased crack cocaine from me. This informant is a known user and has been convicted of a number of felonies and was allowed to be used in my trial, and the law states that a convicted felon cannot be used to convict me. This informant was just arrested seven days before the first buy was supposed to have happened.

I ask that you please publish my ad, so that the people of Davie County can see how people can be used and taken away from their families and friends.

followed by Deputy Jeff Harpe, then Recktenwald. They became separated by traffic, but had discussed via radio that Whitesides and Harpe would try to get the male suspect in custody, and Recktenwald would secure the female.

The fact that there was a report of a gun, the call was elevated to emergency traffic. Officers were responding with their blue lights and sirens activated, Whitaker said.

Whitesides and Harpe got to the convenience store and had the man in custody, but did not find a gun. A passer-by told Whitesides there was a bad wreck about a mile back on U.S. 158, and a sheriff's car was involved.

Harpe took Timothy Boyd of Winston-Salem into custody, and Whitesides headed for the wreck.

"He rolls up and the car is flaming up," Whitaker said. "He locates Dana, who had been moved from the wrecked car to a grassy area." Whitesides said he saw people carrying Recktenwald from the car.

Preliminary reports indicate that Recktenwald, 34, lost control of her patrol car. It went off the road to the right, came back onto the road, and spun out of control, hitting a 2003 Pontiac Grand Am head on, said N.C. Highway Patrol Trooper A.T. Keller. The other car was driven by Patricia Keaton, 49, of Baltimore Road, Advance, who saw the out-of-control patrol car and tried to take evasive action, Whitaker said.

Keller wouldn't estimate how fast Recktenwald was driving, and said a Highway Patrol reconstruction team would study the accident this week. All reports will be handed to the district attorney who will decide if charges will be filed, Keller said.

Whitaker said it appears that Recktenwald was following correct procedure.

"I felt comfortable with that yesterday, and I checked the policy manual this morning (Monday), and all three were following correct procedure," Whitaker said.

Recktenwald has been on the job just over four months, and she is liked by fellow officers and the public, Whitaker said. It is her first law enforcement job. "All reports from her supervisors and the public have been positive," the sheriff said.

The mother of three had already celebrated Easter with her children, prior to coming into work, he said.

Recktenwald is a patient at N.C. Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem, being treated for a broken leg, a broken elbow, pelvic and back injuries, bruises and cuts. She was listed in serious condition on Monday, but had improved dramatically since Sunday, Whitaker said.

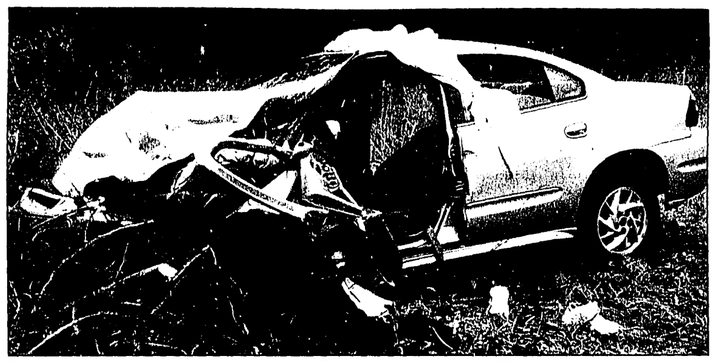

The three in the other vehicle were also taken to Baptist Hospital. Grady Smith, 39, was listed in fair condition on Monday. Keaton was treated and released. Mary Ruth Smith, 77, a back seat passenger in the car, was listed in critical condition on Monday.

Whitaker said that members of Hillsdale Baptist Church helped direct traffic and allowed emergency personnel to use their parking lot. Several people told him they learned of the wreck, and special prayers were said in their churches.

"We're very thankful for all of the help we received from the public," Whitaker said.

Accident victim Grady Smith is prepared for transport to Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem.

Patricia Keaton of Advance was driving this 2003 Buick vehicle west on U.S. 158 when the collision occurred.

Abused Children Reports Increase

Smith stated that DSS has 45 children in foster care at this time, with several of the children being placed in foster homes outside of the county.

"We just don't have enough foster families registered in the county," Smith said. "Right now, we're looking outside of the county to fill those needs."

According to statistics provided by DSS, 56 percent of the children come into care because of domestic abuse. Substance abuse and mental illness account for 47 percent, and 38 percent because of sexual abuse.

"Obviously many of these children come to us because of multiple situations," Smith said. "None of them good."

First '04 Rabies Case Is Confirmed

Officials with the State Laboratory of Public Health confirmed the first case of rabies in Davie County this year.

According to Barry Bass, Davie health director, the case involved a raccoon that tested positive for the virus. The raccoon had an encounter with a dog in the Ralph Road area of the Cornatzer community. The dog exposed was up to date on its rabies vaccination and received a booster. There was no human exposure.

"People need to be especially wary of wild animals that are behaving in a strange or unusual manner," Bass said. "No one should ever try to pet a stray or wild animal, no matter how innocent or tame it may appear.

"With the onset of warmer weather the likelihood of encountering a rabid animal becomes greater."

Bass stressed the need for rabies vaccinations to be current.

"It may well mean the difference between life and death if the animal is exposed to rabies," he said. A dog or cat with current rabies vaccine would only have to have a booster if it came in contact with a rabid animal. He urges anyone who has a pet and is not sure of its vaccination status to contact the pet's veterinarian.

Should a wild animal bite a domestic animal, livestock, or human, residents are advised to keep the animal in sight and contact the Davie County Animal Control at 751-0227. Anyone having questions about rabies should contact their veterinarian or Jeff Beauchamp, R.S., Davie County Health Department at 751-8760.

Buyer Beware

Flim-Flam Should Put Residents On Alert

con men come out and convince them they need their house painted, the driveway redone, or the roof repaired. Then they'll offer a real good price for the job."

Whitaker said that once a target is hooked, they fall under the mercy of the contractor.

Typically, the contractor will start the job with little or no money down, then hit up the victim for several hundreds and sometimes thousands more than the original estimate, claiming unforeseen expenses.

Most of the time, the homeowner will pay the difference, rather than be stuck with a half completed job.

"If they don't pay, they find themselves worse off than before the work was started," Whitaker said. "You can't do much with a half paved driveway or a roof half shingled."

Even after paying, the homeowner's problems usually continue. Whitaker said in many cases such as these, the work is substandard, leading to more repairs in the near future, and those future repairs will not be covered by homeowners insurance.

"Homeowner's insurance is only going to cover a known peril, such as fire, smoke, lightning, etc. It won't cover deterioration or somebody's faulty work," said Teresa Smiley of State Farm Insurance in Advance. "That has to go back to the contractor who did the work."

Chasing a disreputable contractor for money can be next to impossible. Whitaker said that Barbour, who fled to West Virginia, could be charged with "obtaining property under false pretenses", a felony. Even with that charge, the harsh reality is unless Barbour gets arrested somewhere in North Carolina, chances of bringing him to justice are slim.

If Barbour is caught, odds are long against him being able to make restitution, Whitaker said.

Relak would have to arrange to come back to the area to testify if the case went to trial. The victim loses either way.

Whitaker said there are several ways for homeowners to protect themselves from dishonest contractors, which take a small effort on the homeowner's part.

Checking the contractor's credentials and proof of insurance will usually weed out many predatory contractors, but a homeowner shouldn't stop there. Ask the contractor for a list of locations and names of other customers where similar work was performed and where the contractor purchases his supplies from. Then call the supplier for a reference.

Check with the county inspections office to make sure the contractor has filed for the proper permits on work he has claimed to have performed. If work is performed without a permit and subsequent inspection, the county may require the work to be redone.

"The bottom line is, obtaining the correct permits and necessary inspections fall on the homeowner," said William Whaley of the Davie County inspections office. "We'll do what we need to do to make sure those are properly obtained."

That could include raising a structure such as an outbuilding that was built without proper permits.

Whaley said the permit office is a good source of information.

"If there is an outstanding offense against a contractor in Davie County, we'll know about it." Whaley said.

Officials of the Better Business Bureau of North Carolina had similar recommendations. The BBB keeps a data bank on contractors from the Piedmont area that have been cited or have complaints against them, and Whitaker said that is invaluable. Whitaker added that many of the con men who operate in Davie County may have perpetrated similar offenses in surrounding areas. If the contractor has scammed homeowners in nearby counties, there is a good chance the BBB will have some record of it.

Finally, if after checking these resources, something still doesn't seem right, call the sheriff's department.

"We'll be glad to take those calls," Whitaker said. "If the contractor in question is suspicious, we'll be happy to come out to the site and check him out."

Whitaker said Davie County has many reputable contractors that have been doing business in the area for years, and that doing a little investigating will allow a homeowner to get a good idea of the contractor's work history. Using common sense is another deterrent.

"If the deal sounds too good to be true," Whitaker said, "it usually is."

Yadkin Teen Opts For Jail Sentence

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

A Yadkin County teen opted for a jail sentence after failing to comply and pay court fines he owed for over a year.

Seventeen-year-old Joshua Norbert Morawietz appeared before Judge April C. Wood on April 8 in Davie's District Court for a review on a prayer for judgment issued on charges he received in 2002.

Morawietz was stopped in Mocksville on Sept. 20, 2002 at a location on U.S. 601 North. He was charged with no operators license and resisting a public officer. The citation listed Morawietz did "resist, delay, or obstruct a public officer in discharging or attempting to discharge a duty of his office by lying and saying he had a drivers license".

On Feb. 6, 2003 Morawietz appeared before Judge L. Dale Graham in District Court on the charges. Graham granted a prayer for judgment continued 12 months, ordered Morawietz to perform 24 hours community service within 30 days and pay the fee, pay court costs, attorney fees, and an appointment fee. Morawietz owed a total of $480 to be paid by Feb. 2004.

Last week, Morawietz appeared with his attorney Lori Hamilton-Dewitt.

Hamilton-Dewitt told Wood that her client had completed his community service but had failed to pay any of the money he owed.

"He has no driver's license and no job," Hamilton-Dewitt said. She said Morawietz would soon be 18 and had hopes of getting a job at that point.

Hamilton-Dewitt requested Wood impose a jail sentence for Morawietz since he could not pay.

Wood informed Hamilton-Dewitt since it was Morawietz first offense the only way to impose an active jail sentence would be if he requested it.

"You couldn't have done anything to get that money," Wood asked him. "It's just hard for me to believe in a year you couldn't earn any money to keep your prayer for judgment."

Morawietz told Wood he had attempted to do things to earn money but no would hire him.

"At your request, I'm going to sentence you to a seven day active sentence beginning immediately." Wood then addressed the bailiff, "Sheriff, he's in your custody."

Davie Joins Program To Provide Smoke Alarms To Certain Families

In 2002, there were 389,000 reported home fires in the United States.

These fires resulted in 2,670 deaths, 13,650 injuries and $5.9 billion in property damage, according to the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA).

In Davie County in 2003, there were 34 reported home fires. Fortunately, no deaths occurred, but the potential was there.

"Working smoke alarms can make the difference between surviving a home fire and not," said Davie County Fire Marshal George Frye.

The Fire Marshal's Office received a grant through the Get Alarmed, North Carolina! program of the N. C. Department of Health & Human Services. The federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention funded the project.

Free smoke alarms will be installed in homes with children under the age of 6, adults over the age of 64, and persons with disabilities. The fire marshal's office is working with the Davie County Health Department, the Davie County Department of Social Services and the Davie Senior Citizens Center to identify those people in the targeted groups who need smoke alarms.

All of Davie County's volunteer fire departments are participating in this project and will install the smoke alarms for the recipients.

"Of course, landlords are required by law to provide approved working smoke alarms for their rental homes at the beginning of each tenancy," Frye said. "We want to be sure that those folks who don't rent but can't afford a smoke alarm have this protection."

If you think you may qualify for a smoke alarm, call the fire marshal's office at 751-0453.

The smoke alarm program runs through June 30.

Mocksville Briefs

New Streets Dedicated to Town

Four streets have been added to the town's street system. Off Campbell Road, Etchison, Holman and Hillcrest streets were added; and off Meroney Park, Boyce Drive has been added. The Department of Transportation asked that the streets be dedicated in one resolution.

Municipal Clerk Recognized

The board has recognized May 2-8 as the 35th annual Municipal Clerk's Week. In the proclamation it states, "the office of municipal clerk is the oldest among public servants." It goes on to "extend appreciation to our municipal clerk, Christine W. Sanders and to all municipal clerks for the vital services they perform and their exemplary dedication to the communities they represent."

Litter Sweep 2004

In an additional proclamation, the board approved Mocksville participating in Litter Sweep 2004 April 17-30. To kick off the cleaning spree, the Parks Department is hosting Spring Clean-up Day on Saturday, April 17. Old furniture, appliances, lumber and tires off the rim will be accepted. No liquids, including paint or pesticides, will be accepted. For more information, contact the Parks Department.

Economic Incentive Public Hearing Set

Mocksville will be participating in a public hearing on April 19, beginning at 6 p.m. in the County Commissioners Room in the County Administration building to consider appropriations for an economic incentive package offered by the town and the county for Hollingsworth Companies. In order to receive the incentives, Hollingsworth would be required to build a 75,000-130,000 square-foot industrial facility in Mocksville and create additional jobs.

Sidewalk Projects Continue

The town is finishing the Depot Street sidewalk projects, which will include exit ramps from the sidewalk to the street to make them more handicap accessible. Board members are receiving prices for three of the four top sidewalk priorities brought forth by the planning board. If the costs are acceptable, it is possible the board would approve some of the projects to be done in this fiscal year, and the others to be completed in the next fiscal year to offset costs. The prices should be available for the budget workshop on April 28.

Senior Games Officially Open

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Mocksville Mayor Francis Slate served as master of ceremonies.

On Monday, April 5, the North Carolina Senior Games were officially opened in Davie County.

Senior Games began in 1983 to create year round health promotion for adults 55 and older.

According to their website, www.ncseniorgames.org, there are now over 50,000 participants statewide and 53 local games that serve all 100 counties in the state.

Mocksville Mayor Francis Slate served as master of ceremonies at the event which took place downtown on the square.

Dr. George Kimberly proudly carried a lit torch to the veteran's monument where onlookers and participants waited his arrival.

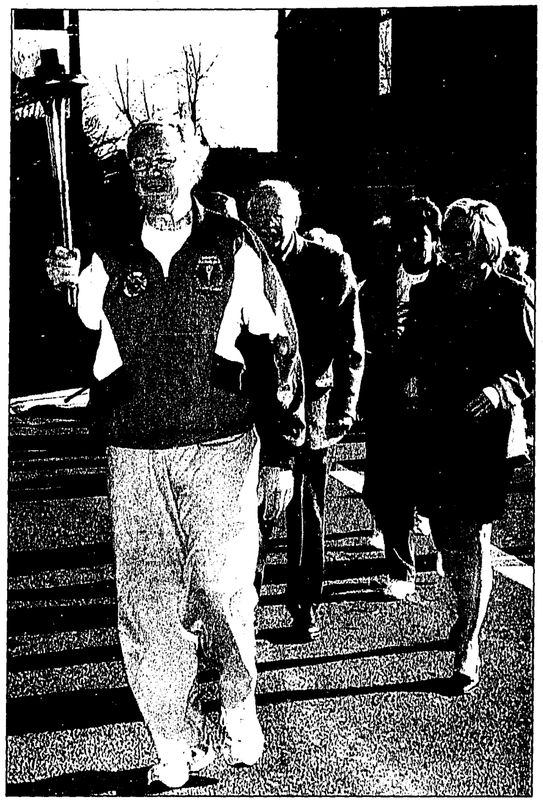

After the national anthem was played Slate announced to the crowd, "It gives me great pleasure to declare at this time the opening of Davie's Senior Games."

Every spring Davie County has their local games. Those who qualify at the local level can go on to Raleigh to compete at the state level each fall.

Every two years some state winners represent North Carolina in the National Senior Games. The next National Game is scheduled 2005.

Following Slate's speech an open invitation was extended to all in attendance to join the celebration at Davie's Public Library where refreshments would be served.

As the crowd began the walk down Main Street to the library, they were led by Kimberly who once again proudly carried

Watch For Warning Signals From Men Who Abuse Women

By Pam Brake
Special to the Enterprise

What are the warning signals that a man sends when he intends to take advantage of a woman?

There is more to this than just the nagging feeling that you have in the pit of your stomach that something is wrong. In his book The Gift of Fear, Gavin De Becker, the world's foremost violence prevention specialist, outlines the behaviors criminals use on women. Be careful if the man you are with does any of the following:

- Behaves as if the two of you are more intimate than you are, or uses a lot of "we" phrases and appears to be working too hard to make you trust him.
- Appears to be trying to charm, disorient or allure you.
- Gives too many details about himself. If he is giving you information that you are not asking for, that most people would not volunteer, he may be lying.
- Makes slight criticisms and offers you the opportunity to prove him wrong.
- Spends lavishly on you and appears to be expecting something in return. If the man is attempting to make you feel that you owe him something, you may be in for trouble.
- Makes unsolicited promises, such as, "I'll just have one drink, and then I'll go." An unsolicited promise can be a way to buy time or to give the man an opportunity to get control over you or the situation. If you have made it clear that you want your date to leave, and he makes excuses to stay you will have to be firm and communicate clearly and strongly your desire to leave or for him to leave.
- Attempts to control you.
- Says derogatory things about women, expressing an attitude that women are inferior.
- Doesn't accept no for an answer. If he won't accept no on something small, he may not in regard to sex, either.

April is National Sexual Assault Awareness Month. If you or someone you know has been raped please contact Davie Domestic Violence Services and Rape Crisis Center at 751-HELP. We are here for you. DDVS/RCC is a United Way agency.

Brake is service coordinator of DDVS/RCC.

Get flocked!

Flamingos Ready To Grace Area Landscapes

They're pink.
They're plentiful.
They're tacky.
And they're back.

Pink flamingos have been spotted in the area, and word has it they are ready to help members of the Mocksville Garden Club and Mocksville Woman's Club raise money for the American Cancer Society.

The pink friends will spend a few days, in a good-natured way, of course, making area yards tacky.

Friends and neighbors can be "flocked" with a donation of $50 for a large flock and $35 for a smaller flock. These flocks will remain in the yards for three days or may be removed sooner with a donation of $50 to the American Cancer Society.

Flock insurance can be purchased for $50 to avoid over laying eyes on these docile birds.

An executive flock in a colorful, tacky plastic basket for an office desk can be purchased for $25.

The pink birds are expected to be ready to flock by April 20.

To arrange a flock, contact Gail Todd at 751-4715, Sheila Potts at 998-1677, Elette Owen at 998-3534, or Vickie Smitherman at 699-3799. All proceeds will go to the American Cancer Society.

Craft Brothers At Bixby

The Craft Brothers gospel quartet will appear at Bixby Presbyterian Church on April 17 at 6:30 p.m. in a benefit for Hospice of Davie County. Fellowship and refreshment will follow.

Sarah Wood

Dedicated To Making Her Community A Better Place

E.C. Tatum Humanitarian Award winner Sarah Wood.

The Davie Family YMCA was built thanks, in large part, to her tireless efforts.

The Storehouse for Jesus will soon move into a new building thanks, in large part, to her efforts.

Sarah Wood is a busy lady.

In addition to her family and work at First United Methodist Church of Mocksville, she finds time to help her community.

Her efforts earned her the E.C. Tatum Humanitarian Award from the Davie Chamber of Commerce.

A plaque bearing her likeness greets visitors to the YMCA. She organized bake sales, carnivals and other projects - including meeting with business executives and foundation board members - to help raise $1.5 million.

The YMCA opened in June of 1991 and was debt free within six months. It now serves 3,200 members.

Wood was on the YMCA's board of managers from 1991-1999, during which time she was instrumental in assisting with a capital expansion campaign. The money was raised, and a new and expanded fitness center was built, as was an outdoor community track and playing field.

Though no longer on the YMCA board, Wood still is a regular at the Cemetery Street, Mocksville facility, walking and working out once, sometimes more, each day.

She also volunteers with YMCA special projects.

With such a successful record, it's no wonder the Storehouse for Jesus turned to her when they started a drive to raise money for a new facility.

Wood said she started volunteering to help with her own children's activities, and it grew. Her list of volunteer work is endless.

She helped secure support for the Davie Campus of Davidson Community College.

At church, she's been youth counselor, children's and youth coordinator, and help start the pre-school program. She's been on mission trips to Puerto Rico, Mexico and Panama.

She's a Master Gardener, and organized a group of female prisoners to plant some 1,765 shrubs on a steep bank at the YMCA track. She not only organized the effort, she was in the middle of the work.

"I would never ask anybody to do anything I wouldn't do myself," Wood said. "I've just always been active. I like being involved with things."

Dealing With Tragedy

Eaton Funeral Services Recognized For Years Of Helping Families Cope

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Carl Lambert laughs with families.

And he cries with them.

As manager and part owner of Eaton Funeral Service, he sees people when they're grieving, when they're hurting. It's his and the staff's job to get families through that traumatic time with respect, with dignity.

For the 50 plus years of serving Davie families, Eaton Funeral Service was named business of the year by the Davie County Chamber of Commerce.

The award came at the heels of the most difficult year ever for Lambert - 2003 was filled with tragic deaths of young people.

"There were so many young people and multiple deaths. It made it better for us in that we became stronger in how we felt about our families," he said.

"It's the first time I can remember how profoundly we have all been changed. Sudden deaths of young people impact the entire community.

"It made us better. It made us stronger. We hope people feel like they're coming to friends," Lambert said.

Lambert and his wife Kim moved to Mocksville from rural Ohio in 1987, after he took a job from Wayne Eaton, the funeral home's owner.

Both quickly became involved in the community.

Lambert is a past member of the Davie County United Way board, past president of the Mocksville Rotary Club, a member of the Mocksville Masonic Lodge, a member of the Davie Chamber of Commerce, president of the Davie Family YMCA board of management.

Lambert worked for Wayne Eaton for five years, until in 1992, the business was sold for Forbis & Dick from Greensboro. Lambert retained part ownership. He became a partner two years ago.

"It gives us a local ownership connection. We still are and have always have been at least partially locally owned."

Lambert was interested in being a part owner when he started.

He is a graduate of the Cincinnatti School of Mortuary Science and Kent State University.

"Early on ... I was fascinated by it (funeral service), in my high school years. I lived in a small town and it was curious."

He talked to the owner of the funeral home in that town, and decided it was something he could - and wanted to do.

"You feel like you're helping somebody. To me, it's helping somebody get through that. It's satisfying to hear 'I'm glad you guys were there to help us get through'."

Family and other activities are important to Lambert and his staff. Dealing with grief day after day requires some type of outlet.

Lambert enjoys photography, the Carolina Panthers and family. "You mature in this business."

He thought he had come to a metropolis when he came to Mocksville.

Wayne Eaton, the funeral home owner, had placed an ad in a trade magazine for a funeral director and Lambert answered it. He came for an interview during a major snowstorm, and Eaton couldn't believe he had traveled through it from Ohio.

"We were used to that," he said.

Lambert was hired, and worked as an apprentice for 12 months. It was his first regular, full-time job, and he's still there.

"For us, it's just felt right. We're comfortable. We came to get to know the community and have made a tremendous amount of friends.

"We thought Mocksville was huge. Where we lived, the nearest grocery store was 13 miles away." There was no interstate, no hospital, no fast-food restaurants.

They drove by Wal-Mart on the way into town.

"We had never even heard of Wal-Mart," Lambert said.

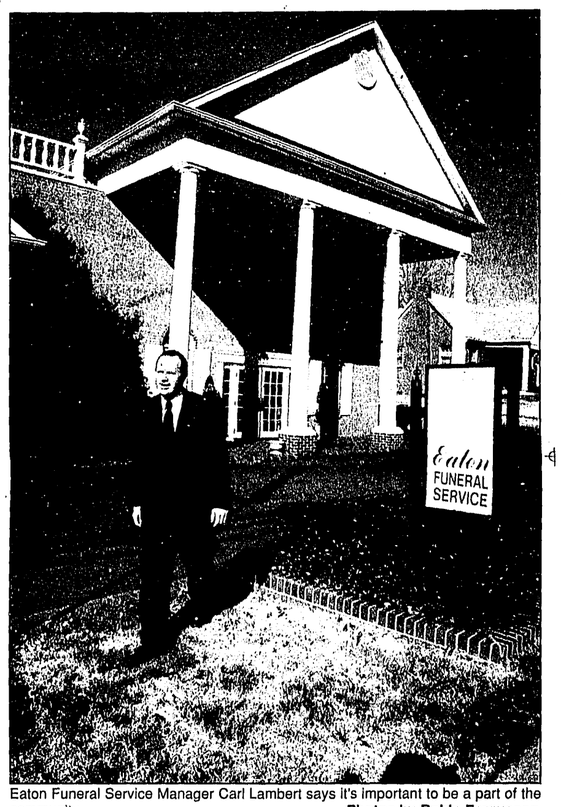

Eaton Funeral Service employs four full-time, and three regular part-time employees. Two are licensed funeral service directors and embalmers, and another should finish their apprenticeship this summer.

"We're all here and we're the ones you'll see at 3 o'clock in the morning. It's good to be in contact with folks."

Leo Whitt and Wayne Eaton bought the funeral home from the Walker family in 1951. Whitt soon got out, and the name was changed. It was moved to the current site on North Main Street in 1961, and was renovated in the early 1990s.

Lambert said he was flattered the business received the award, and made sure to make Wayne Eaton a part of the ceremony. Eaton still works part-time, and helped build the positive reputation the funeral home enjoys.

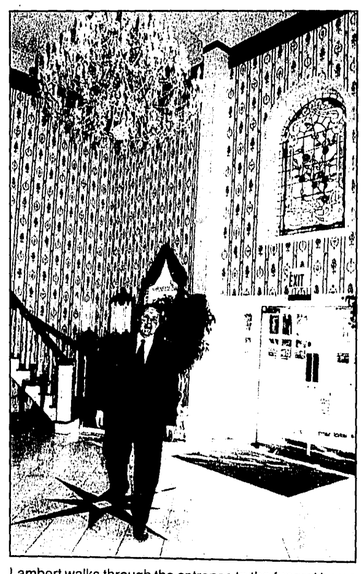

"I'd like to think we were recognized because of our relationship with people in the community, our reputation, and our level of service," Lambert said. "We're human. We care about what we do. When we have a death ... we truly care about the families and about what we do."

Eaton Funeral Service Manager Carl Lambert says it's important to be a part of the community.

For A Good Cause

Annual Banquet Raises $4,900 For Humane Society

The eighth annual Humane Society of Davie County Cause for Paws banquet held at First United Methodist Family Life Center on March 18 was an entertaining and successful event.

More than 100 supporters of the society were treated to an evening with Emcee Sally Braunstein, featuring many selections of bluegrass music by Hard Drive Bluegrass Band, an egg drop game, candy guessing games, a selection of silent and live auction items. A gourmet dinner was prepared by Chef Marcus Flynt and his volunteer co-chef, Mark Spaugh, with assistance from Don and Freddie Caswell.

Co-chairs Myra McGonigle and Linda Hartle reported that the total amount raised for the Humane Society was over $4,900. These monies are being allocated for the general operating expenses of the Humane Society that includes the foster home adoption program and spay-neuter assistance programs.

"We could not have had such a successful event without the help of so many volunteers, as well as local businesses and patrons who so graciously donated items and services. Thanks to all of you," said McGonigle.

Cause for Paws committee members were Sally Braunstein, Arlene Gambill, JoAnn Mintz, Ellen Newman, Julie Orrell, Chessie Smith and Jamie Smith.

To update everyone on the status of the Society's adoption center, President Dr. Robin Brock reports that in 2003 the society raised $20,000 in donations, grants and fundraisers specifically designated for the construction of the center.

Brock updated all on the status of the North Carolina National Guard's preliminary review.

Terry Bralley was thanked for his leadership and support of the adoption center project.

The Society's planned charity golf tournament scheduled for Bermuda Run West Golf Club in April has been postponed until the fall of 2004. This event will again be a major event in raising funds for the adoption center and further announcements will be made in the summer.

The Humane Society's mission is the prevention of cruelty to animals, the relief of suffering among animals, the rescue of adoptable cats and dogs and the promotion of spay and neuter education.

North, Russell-Myers Turn The Tables On South

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Four straight times, South Davie's baseball team had experienced the thrill of beating North Davie. South's run was agonizing for North because three of the four games in the last three years were dogfights.

The tide turned last week in a nonconference game at South. This time, in another tight battle, South wound up on the opposite end of the spectrum. With two outs and the game tied in the fifth inning, South made a critical two-out error on an infield popup, North turned the gift into a 7-5 lead and complete-game pitcher Zack Russell-Myers closed the door on South 9-5.

"That was a good win because South and Coach (Todd) Bumgarner have a quality team again, and anytime we play them it's always a nailbiter," North coach Danny Allard said. "It could have gone either way and I'm just glad we got out of there with a win."

Russell-Myers didn't give South much of a scare when he took the mound. He didn't pitch at all last year and his only appearance of 2004 was a relief stint in an easy season-opening win over Thomasville.

But Russell-Myers' breakout day was timed perfectly. He recovered from a rocky start and handcuffed South over the final four innings while finishing with no walks.

"He got a little frustrated at the beginning because they put a few hits together that were seeing-eye singles," Allard said. "Then he settled down and the defense played solid behind him like they have all year."

The first four innings were back and forth.

In the top of the second, North used four hits to take a 2-1 lead. After Danny Peele and Nic O'Brien singled, Zach Proctor and Russell-Myers knocked them in. In the third, Trent Brooks pushed North's lead to 4-2 with a double. In the bottom of the third, Ryan Carter followed hits by Ryan Hellard and Colby Senford with a two-run single, and Matt Oswell's sacrifice fly capped the three-run inning.

In the fourth, North's Brent Beam countered with an RBI single that tied it at 5-5.

But the biggest hits came from Brooks and Peele. They opened the fifth with hits and, two outs later, Brooks scored the decisive run as North stayed unbeaten at 4-0 and South slipped to 3-2.

Bumgarner took solace in the fact that North came in as the favorite. He said one of the deciding factors was Beam, who was terrific at shortstop.

Davie Sinks To 2-4 In CPC

Coach Mike Herndon knew the Davie varsity baseball team would need time to grow, but his patience has all but run out. Last week the War Eagles' struggles extended to six losses in eight games, losing 11-0 in five innings to West Forsyth and 8-4 to South Rowan in a pair of Central Piedmont Conference games at Rich Park.

Corriher

By tumbling to 4-9 and 2-4 in the CPC, their season seems to be spiraling into oblivion.

Herndon said: "We had a talk abut playing together and supporting one another: 'Either you're going to be with us or you're not. If you're going to complain, then you need to go do something else because our attitudes have got to be right and we've got to play together for us to have a chance to win.' We can't have people bad mouthing other people and saying things that shouldn't be said."

To put it politely, Davie had a rough start against West, In the top of the first inning, Titan freshman John Stamper followed back-to-back walks with a three-run homer.

West was hardly done. Thirteen batters and six hits later, West had nine first-inning runs.

The Titans tacked on two more in the second and consted to 10-4 and 5-1 in the CPC. The numbers were mind-numbing. West hammered Timmy Erb and John McDaniel, who had been red hot, for 11 runs (eight earned) on nine hits. Meanwhile, Davie sputtered to three runs or less runs for the fifth time in 12 games.

Hutchens, King Deliver Strong Pitching For JV

Although Bryan King may have been an afterthought before the season, the freshman pitcher has forced people to think again.

King, who followed Jonathan Hutchens' complete-game performance in a 4-2 win over West Forsyth with a no-walk complete game in a 3-2 win over South Rowan in the second Central Piedmont Conference game of last week, has proven far tougher and more competitive and resilient than anyone expected.

Howard

"He was outstanding," Coach Tim McKnight said. "He can't throw any better than that. He located, hit his spots and changed speeds all day long."

The War Eagles, who earlier in the season played without Zach Howard and Saxon Pratt while they were with the varsity club, lost key cogs Brandon Stewart and Justin Thompson to the varsity on the same day they lost 3-2 to North Davidson. But thanks to two strong mound outings, dramatically-improved defense and timely hitting, McKnight's anxiety has been replaced by giddiness.

They've won three of four and four of six for records of 8-5 overall and 4-2 in the CPC. They shaved West for the second time - after using an improbable seventh-inning rally to win 13-9 in nine innings in the first meeting - and avenged a 9-8 loss to South in which they blew an 8-2 seventh-inning lead.

"I'll take 2-1 (without Stewart and Thompson), especially when you beat West and South back to back," he said. "We're tied with South in the loss column (for first place)."

Davie can thank Hutchens for the 4-2 win over West. He pitched a five-hitter, struck out eight and walked two. Then again, an effort like that is what Davie is used to. Hutchens (3-2 record) could easily be 5-0 - one of his losses was the seventh-inning meltdown against South and the other was 3-2 to N. Davidson.

"That's a big win. We didn't hit as well as we've been hitting, but it was by far our best defensive game," McKnight said. "And Hutch was Hutch.

Wobbling: Softball Team Can't Generate Momentum

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

This one might haunt Davie's varsity softball team for a while.

A frustrating season grew worse when the War Eagles brought their B game to last week's Central Piedmont Conference opener at South Rowan and lost 9-6. Coach Janice Jackson watched in disbelief as Davie committed seven errors and handed the Raiders four unearned runs.

It certainly wasn't the CPC start the War Eagles expected. They had a 12-0 fastpitch record against South before losing 2-1 in the first meeting last year. Making matters worse, South (5-4, 2-1 CPC) is nowhere close to the caliber of West Forsyth and North Davidson, putting Davie's hopes for one of two state-playoff berths in serious danger.

Earlier in the week, the on-and-off War Eagles lost 12-2 to West Rowan, the two-time defending 3-A champions. In the second of three games, they cruised past East Forsyth 4-0.

A season's worth of frustration came rolling out of a befuddled Jackson after Davie stumbled to 4-5 at South.

"We've talked to them a lot about what they need to do and where their heads and hearts need to be," the third-year coach said. "We've tried to make them understand the talent's there, but it's got to be put to use. I don't know what the deal is. South Rowan and Reynolds were the two we were planning on beating, and we've got four games against West Forsyth and North Davidson. We've got to beat one of them (and win three over S. Rowan and Reynolds) to break even (in the CPC)."

At South, Whitney Williams, Hannah Tierney and Carrie Sain produced two hits each, and Ashley Whitlock reached base three times. Six runs on nine hits should have been enough, but Davie's defense was dreadful at the wrong time.

Give South credit for collecting 10 hits off Amy Alexander. Give South credit for playing six innings of flawless defense. It deserved to win, but Davie sure made things a lot easier.

"We hit the ball good," Jackson said. "We hustled and tried hard. We scored six runs and most games you'd win doing that. It's just very frustrating. I don't know."

Tierney's two-run single gave Davie a quick 2-0 lead. After South answered with three unanswered runs, Williams tied it at 3-3 with a triple. South used a two-run homer to score four fourth-inning runs for a commanding 7-3 lead. But Tierney and Sain singled in a three-run fifth as Davie roared back to a 7-6 deficit.

Williams

Whitlock

Davie's momentum was shortlived. In the sixth, South bunched four hits around an error to put Davie away.

South offset Alexander's impressive strikeout-to-walk ratio (six to zero) with 10 hits, but errors helped South in three of the four innings that it generated runs. Jackson moaned about Davie's inability to generate any positive momentum - this game in particular and all season in general.

Worth Noting ...

Freshman Whitney Williams and sophomore Ashley Whitlock of Davie's varsity softball team are on a roll. Williams has become the top hitter at .391 by going 8 for 17 in six games. Whitlock has reached base in eight of 10 at-bats, turning a .166 average into .291.

N. Davie's track teams set three more school records: Katelin Wensley did a 4-9 in the high jump, Ian Dowdy ran a 17.39 in the 100 hurdles and Maryette Collette, Tanisha Reynolds, Sarah Evans and Elizabeth Budd ran a 1:58.16 in the 800 relay.

Jonathan Hutchens and Bryan King pitched back-to-back complete games as Davie's JV baseball team edged W. Forsyth 4-2 and S. Rowan 3-2. Zach Howard left the West game with a .500 batting average (12 for 24).

Brent Beam played terrific shortstop and got three hits, and pitcher Zack Russell-Myers shut down S. Davie in the last four innings as N. Davie won going away, 9-5. Clint Howell is South's top hitter with a .526 (10 for 19) average.

Williams Wins Tennis Tourney

Robb Williams has a lot of gold to hang around his neck. The Mocksville resident was first in singles and doubles in the 2004 Special Olympics Southeast Region USA Tennis Tournament in Hilton Head, S.C.

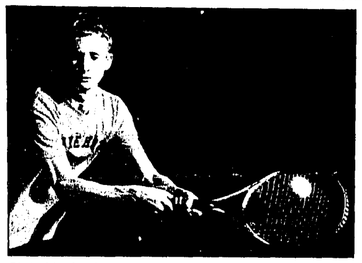

Traveling with Coach Sandra Boyette, Williams defeated Matt Boerema from Illinois to advance to the finals, where he beat Gabriele Vietti from Italy.

Williams teamed with John Gray of Charlotte to win the gold in doubles, defeating teams from Massachusetts and Virginia.

He was chosen to play in an exhibition doubles match before the closing ceremony.

Robb Williams is a regional winner in Special Olympics tennis.

Chris Moxley is 5-4 as one of Davie's highest seeds.

Phillip Hursey posted Davie's only win vs. Reynolds and has a 9-1 record.

Trio Leads Track Team

The top three scorers for Davie's boys track & field team are Jaspen Gray, Corey Doub and Greg Simpson. Gray, who has 53 points on the season, finished first in the 400, and Simpson, who has 31 points to trail Doub by two, won the 300 hurdles as Davie finished second in last week's meet. Reynolds won with 93 points, Davie had 52 and North Davidson 41.

Davie's other winner was Ryan Boehm (discus).

"Simpson is third in points, and he's doing (just) two events," Coach Devore Holman said. "I'd say that's pretty daggone good."

Davie's girls finished third, but Coach Daric Beiter dismissed the loss to runner-up N. Davidson as an aberration. Reynolds had 81, North 55 and Davie 49.

"We changed our lineup around and we'll probably go back to what we've been doing," he said. "If we run the race like we have been, we definitely would have beaten North. So we're looking at third (in the April 28 Central Piedmont Conference championships), and we have the opportunity to beat South Rowan (for second). Reynolds' girls are just too powerful."

Davie got wins from Kierston Kahrs (discus), Shanika Brown (shot put), Rebecca Peeler (mile) and Leslie McBride (two-mile).

"(Kahrs, Brown and Peeler) are our main point scorers," Beiter said. "The other who has scored a bunch for us is Brooke Harris (who finished second in the 400)."

Earlier in the week, Reynolds swept first in the boys and girls meets. In the boys, Reynolds had 76 points, Davie 59 and South Rowan 51. The girls' scoring went Reynolds 76, South Rowan 70 and Davie 42.

Davie had seven wins between both teams, including Cooter Arnold (triple jump), Boehm (discus), Gray (400), Simpson (300 hurdles), Brown (shot put), Brittany Rowe (triple jump) and Harris (400).

Jeff Mighion fires a volley for Davie's tennis team. The War Eagles were riding high at 6-1 before suffering a three-game skid last week.

Hot Tennis Team Goes Ice Cold

Davie's tennis team crashed back to earth last week, dropping two Central Piedmont Conference matches and losing in non-conference play for just the second time this season.

The sour experience of watching two 5-4 decisions get away contrasted with the sweet 6-1 record that Davie brought into the three-match week. Davie lost 5-4 to South Rowan and 8-1 to first-place Reynolds in the CPC, and 5-4 to nonconference opponent East Rowan.

Davie (6-4, 1-2 CPC) was 2-1 in matches decided by one game before last week's fade.

"South Rowan and East Rowan were very, very close matchups, and both came down to the last doubles match," Coach Steven Lingard said. "We just need to work on our doubles and make sure we can edge out the close games."

Two perfect records came to an end against South Rowan. Sophomore Phillip Hursey and senior Jason Overbey, the Nos. 4-5 seeds, were both 7-0 before losing 10-8 and 10-5, respectively.

Davie and South were tied at 3-3 through singles, with Chris Moxley, Matt Hauser and Kurt Bivins winning at Nos. 2-3-6, respectively. Bivins' 10-4 win, the largest margin of the three, extended his unbeaten streak to 7-0.

But Davie only managed one doubles win, 8-6 by No. 1 Collin Ferebee-Overbey.

The same thing happened against East Rowan. Wins by No. 1 Ferebee, Moxley and Hursey allowed Davie to split in singles, and Davie lost two of three in doubles. Bivins-Hursey won 9-2 at No. 3.

"It upset me that we lost two close ones," Lingard said.

As expected, the War Eagles had no resistance for Reynolds, which improved to 5-4 overall and 3-0 in the CPC with the 8-1 onslaught. The Demons' sixth seed stopped Bivins' 7-0 run with a 10-8 score.

"Reynolds is very, very strong throughout their lineup. They're all big servers as well," Lingard said.

Hursey sparkled in an otherwise dismal day. He romped 10-4 at No. 5 and ran his record to 9-1 later in the week against E. Rowan.

"He's pretty consistent," Lingard said of the sophomore. "He concentrates on keeping the ball in play and tries to force errors on the opponent. So far that tactic seems to be working pretty good for him.

"He was kind of ribbing everyone else (for getting the only win). He milked his victory, that's for sure."

Notes: Davie's last four regular-season matches: West Forsyth at home on April 19, at South Rowan on April 21, Reynolds at home on April 26 and at North Davidson on April 29.

Allegacy Members See Clear Advantage

"Allegacy isn't in the profit business," said Rodrigo Sosa, a five-year member of Allegacy Federal Credit Union. "As a member, I don't get charged extra fees, and I receive better rates."

Patricia Sosa, Rodrigo's wife, agrees. Although the Sosas use Allegacy for traditional banking services, they see a clear difference.

"Just the word 'bank' gives me a headache," said Patricia. "At Allegacy, they offer what is best for the customer – I truly believe that. The sincerity really comes through."

As the Sosas discuss the benefits of their Allegacy membership, they rank Allegacy's "personal touch" among its most important attributes.

"I really take into account how people treat me," said Patricia. "When I go to Allegacy, they make me feel good. They act like I'm their only customer."

For Rodrigo and Patricia, busy parents of Andres and Santiago, Allegacy accommodates their busy lifestyle by offering many convenient, time-saving services – for free.

"Allegacy has a lot of high-tech features that I really like," said Rodrigo.

"We use the free online service to pay all of our bills and our mortgage – you can't beat the mortgage rates." As a busy mom-on-the-go, Patricia loves the ability to bank online, over the phone, or from her car.

"Allegacy has everything that a big bank offers, but the service is more efficient and more personal," said Patricia. "I'm a busy stay-at-home mom with two young ones. When I go to Allegacy, I need to get in and out very fast and they do that for me. I really appreciate it."

When asked if they would recommend Allegacy to others, both Patricia and Rodrigo responded in unison, "Absolutely."

"We already have referred members of our families, close friends and business partners" said Patricia. "I really love Allegacy... and the people there."

Jackson's Frustration Grows As Davie Kicks CPC Opener

"We caught up and then the next inning they had little bloopers right out of our reach, or bunted to get on," she said. "They hit good and we did stupid things. It's not because we weren't hitting, they just got more hits. But those errors killed us."

W. Rowan 12, Davie 2

Maybe Davie was in awe of the celebrated Falcons. Whatever the case, the visitors abused Davie in five innings.

"We played horrible and they hit it," Jackson said. "We had a bunch of errors - maybe not errors that show up in the scorebook, but mental errors."

Sain, the starting pitcher, had problems for the first time in two years of spot duty. She was 3-0 last year and 1-0 this year, registering a 1.40 ERA in 25 varsity career innings.

"It was one of those you know they're going to play good, and you can't make errors like we made and expect to be close," she said. "It snowballed on us."

Davie 4, E. Forsyth 0

In the second game of the week, Jackson couldn't have been more pleased. Alexander was sharp while tossing a four-hitter with eight Ks and one walk, and seven players contributed a hit as Davie controlled the game from start to finish.

"They came out like they wanted to play and kept their heads in the game," she said.

In a two-run first, Alexander singled in Whitlock and Kaitlin Hall laid down a bunt that scored Alexander. After East's pitcher set down 13 in a row, Davie applied the finishing touches in the sixth. Hall brought in Tierney and Whitlock with a single, giving her three RBIs.

East threatened in the first and second, but failed both times. After Alexander mowed down nine straight, East appeared ready to strike in the fifth. But with two on, Alexander induced a grounder and struck out the next batter looking. Then Alexander retired the last eight she faced, dropping her ERA to 1.90.

"I wasn't worried about her (early on)," Jackson said. "She just couldn't get used to the ump's strike zone. But once she did she pitched really good. She can throw anything, and her changeup killed them."

Whitlock, Williams Flourish

Shortstop Whitlock and third baseman Williams were bright spots in an otherwise disappointing week.

Offensively, Williams has been more as a freshman than anyone could have expected. In the last six games she's 8 for 17. She went 2 for 2 against West, extended her hitting streak against East and went 2 for 3 with two RBIs at leadoff against South. Just like that she holds the No. 1 average (.391).

"I've heard so much about her pitching, nobody ever said anything about her hitting," Jackson said. "But once I saw her hit in practice I knew she could. It didn't start out that way (she started 2 for 9) because she got behind because of basketball."

Whitlock couldn't buy a hit last year as a freshman. Her agony carried over to this season (3 for 16). Nothing has changed with her swing. Whitlock's turnaround can be traced to law of averages. Gone are the days when seemingly every one-hopper bounced right to a fielder.

Last week she went 4 for 6, drew four walks and reached base eight of 10 times, boosting her average to .291.

"She puts the bat on everything," Jackson said. "That's why we put her second in the order. She might make an out but she's going to hit it."

Notes: Behind Williams' .391 average are Tierney at .347, Hall at .321 and Alyse Bowden at .300. Bowden had her five-game hitting streak snapped against South. ... Davie's upcoming games: at N. Davidson on April 16 at 7, at home to Reynolds on April 19 at 4:30, at N. Iredell on April 21 and at SW Randolph on April 22 at 4:30. ... Davie's JV sank to 2-6 by losing 14-4 to W. Rowan and 7-1 to E. Forsyth.

Davie Baseball Troubles Extend To 6 Losses In 8 Games

The early knockout - West's fifth straight win over Davie - was stunning because the War Eagles had every reason to anticipate a battle. They lost the first meeting 9-7 after leading 7-6 in the seventh, and Dan Poindexter, a Mocksville Legion star, was West's starter in both meetings.

"They hit it," Herndon said. "We made every play we had an opportunity to make. They just hit it where we weren't. There's not a lot you can do about that. It was just one of those days where you shake their hands and say good game."

Whit Merrifield had two of Davie's five hits. The bright spot was Davie's third pitcher, Brad Corriher. Thirteen of West's first 16 batters reached base, including nine hits. But the sophomore southpaw worked four scoreless innings, retiring the first six he faced, 11 of 13 overall and dropping his ERA from 5.10 to 3.85.

"After they hit it like they did, he came in and turned the water off," Herndon said. "He hit his spots and kept them offbalance."

S. Rowan 8, Davie 4

The War Eagles didn't play much better two days later. They were outhit 11-3 and the outcome was never in doubt as South's maligned offense busted out of a long slumber.

"That's the third coach in a row to come up to me before a game and say: 'Coach, we're not hitting,' Herndon said of South coach Linn Williams. "Reynolds hit it against us, West Forsyth hit it and now South Rowan."

South had been shut out in three of five games. It was one-hit in the previous two games. So much for South's woes.

"We've been changing some swings and changing some things up," said Williams, who got 7-for-14 hitting from his 6-9 batters. "The kids bought into it and it showed tonight. We haven't hit it that hard in a while."

While South (5-8, 2-5 CPC) enjoyed five unearned runs off Ryan McClannon, Davie looked at six third-strike pitches from South ace Cody Livengood (4-1), who fanned 10 overall and overcame five walks by holding Davie to three hits in 6 1/3 innings.

"This is his best outing, but he got beat by West Forsyth 2-0, and that was pretty stout," Williams said of the lefty. "He was outstanding."

"Our effort was there," Herndon said. "Some things you just can't defend, and their pitcher was as good as we've seen. He was throwing it with some pop, and he mixed in his offspeed stuff. The thing about it was he has some run on the ball."

South pounded out seven runs on seven hits in the second and third innings. In the fourth Lance Emert slammed a hanging curve over the wall in left-center, a two-run homer that revived slim hopes and cut Davie's deficit to 7-3.

Davie made South sweat in the bottom of the seventh. Brandon Stewart, Zach Vogler and Foo Smith drew walks, loading the bases with the score 8-4 and bringing up cleanup man Ted Randolph, a strapping junior who has four varsity career homers.

"It scares you to death when Randolph comes up there, especially against a relatively inexperienced pitcher," Williams said. "It is Blake Wingler's first year pitching, and you know with one swing all the hard work you've done could disappear."

With Davie down to its last out, Randolph worked the count full before swinging through high heat.

"That's the man you want at the plate. It just didn't happen," Herndon said. "The ironic thing about it is yesterday the same situation happened in an intrasquad: Bases loaded, two outs and he knocks it in the woods. He was a day early and a dollar short."

Notes: Over the weekend, Davie split two in the Cliff Peeler Easter Tournament at Salisbury High, beating North Rowan 6-5 and losing in the semifinals to East Rowan 10-2. Davie's consolation for third place against West Rowan was rained out Monday. The N. Rowan and E. Rowan stories will be printed next week. ... Davie plays North Davidson at home on April 16 at 7, Mount Tabor at home on April 21 at 7 and at Reynolds on April 24 at noon.

JVs In Tie For First

We're working on a changeup. The more that he develops that pitch, that's just going to be another weapon for him."

The offensive star was Logan Joldersma, who provided a two-out, two-run single up the middle in the second inning to give Davie a 3-0 lead. After West chipped back to 3-2, Davie scored an insurance run in the sixth. Howard doubled and scored on Jeremy Gupton's single.

Howard has been unstoppable since rejoining the JV after a short varsity stint. A 2-for-3 day lifted his average to .500 (12 for 24). Gupton also went 2 for 3, while Heath Boyd and Hutchens went 1 for 3.

"Howard stays back on the ball real good, doesn't get fooled and he's real selective with his pitches," McKnight said. "He's just on everything right now."

King threw a 69-pitch gem against S. Rowan, walking none and getting plenty of help from shortstop Howard and second baseman Boyd.

Davie overcame a pair of one-run deficits and prevailed despite only three hits.

Josh Eder's single tied it at 1-1 in the third. After South's pitcher had retired six War Eagles in a row, Joldersma walked, stole second and scored on Boyd's double as Davie tied it at 2-2 in the fifth.

Davie pulled it out in the sixth by scoring a two-out run without the help of a hit. Gupton reached on an error and Andrew Boswell walked to load the bases. Then King got the clinching RBI by drawing a bases-loaded walk on four pitches.

"We had one error and did what we needed to do at crucial times," McKnight said. "It's not always how many hits you get, it's when you get them."

Notes: King came through under pressure down the stretch. He stranded a runner at third in the sixth and left a runner at second in the seventh. ... Gupton made a nice catch in right field against South. ... Davie plays North Davidson at home on April 16 at 4:30, at Mount Tabor on April 21 at 5 and at Reynolds on April 24 at noon.

Beam, Russell-Myers Play Big In North Win Over South Davie

"I was impressed with their speed, their defense and Beam played exceptionally well," he said. "Beam made a couple very good plays, and all three of their outfielders have strong arms.

"We've hit every game and we've been pitching good, but our defense is not carrying its weight. We made a couple crucial mistakes. But I give all the credit to them. They came ready to play and took advantage of our mistakes."

Six Wildcats had multiple hits, led by Beam's 3 for 5. Russell-Myers, Brooks, Peele, O'Brien and Proctor had two each. For South, Clint Howell, Hellard, Carter and Jess Cartner had two hits, and Seaford, Patrick Shore and Jeff Nuckols had one.

With the score 5-5, Howell, the second of three South pitchers, surrendered a single to Brooks and double to Peele, putting runners at second and third with no outs. But Howell didn't flinch. In fact, he should have gotten out of the jam. But after the infield popup was dropped to break the tie, Russell-Myers made it 7-5 with a single.

That was ultimately the difference, but the story was Russell-Myers' right arm. He held tough early and came back with a flourish. And it was nothing fancy. He just changed speeds and threw strikes.

"I was very impressed with Russell-Myers," Bumgarner said. "We touched him up in the first three innings, and then he showed a lot of heart."

"I had to save (ace Garrett Benge) for (a Mid-South Conference game against Erwin the next day), but after watching Zack throw against Thomasville I knew he was going to throw strikes," Allard said. "He's a battler. He's one of the feistiest people to come through here, and he did exactly what I expected him to. He went right after them and tried so dadgum hard. It's good to have players like that, and we've got a team full of them this year."

Allard echoed Bumgarner in raving about his shortstop.

"Beam made one spectacular play," he said. "There was a groundball up the middle, a ball most shortstops give up on or if they do get to it they don't come up and throw it. He came out of nowhere, sucked it up and threw the guy out at first. That was a big play for us because it got the team fired up and we kind of rolled from there."

South 16, Forsyth Home 2

South (4-2) scored five runs in the first and breezed past Forsyth Home Educators in nonconference. Seaford, Oswell and Nuckols led a 12-hit attack with two hits, while Carter pitched one-hit ball for three innings.

"They didn't catch it real good," Bumgarner said. "We had 12 hits and reached base a bunch of other times on errors."

Erwin 10, North 4

Perennial power Erwin snuffed the fire out of 4-0 North, racing to an 8-1 lead and holding on in a key MSC contest. Despite the margin, Allard thought North played far better than the score indicates.

"It was one of those games where Erwin got a couple hits where we weren't, and every time we hit the ball it seemed like it was right at 'em," he said.

Russell-Myers and Benge had four of North's seven hits. Benge pitched three innings and Beam relieved.

North 20, Lexington 1

North (5-1, 1-1 MSC) had an easy time in nonconference play, piling up 15 hits in four at-bats and getting all-around dominance from Adam Ridenhour, who pitched a two-hitter and went 3 for 3 with five RBIs.

"I was real pleased with how Adam pitched," Allard said. "I couldn't ask any more from him."

Proctor went 2 for 2 with three RBIs, and Peele went 2 for 4.

Notes: North's next three games: North Rowan at home on April 20, at Lexington on April 22 and West Rowan at home on April 23. ... South's next three games: China Grove at home on April 15, Erwin at home on April 20 and at West Rowan on April 22. ... South has seven guys with impressive averages. Howell is first at .526 (10 for 19), followed by Hellard at .444 (8-18), Seaford at .421 (8-19), Cartner at .416 (5-12), Oswell at .400 (6-15), Nuckols at .363 (4-11) and Carter at .357 (5-14).

North Davie Track Team Continues To Turn Heads

Through four meets, the North Davie track teams have been spectacular. Both the boys and girls extended their unbeaten run last week against South Davie and Corriher-Lipe. The only blemish on the boys' record is a first-place tie with South Davie.

In the April 5 meet, North's girls won with 71 points, followed by South Davie at 59 and Corriher-Lipe at 27. North and South tied at 65 in the boys competition, while C-L had 26.

"North and South have excellent girls and boys teams," North coach Don Tabat said. "Our girls won on the strength of good long, triple and high jumpers, with the running events being split about even between North and South."

Tamika Reynolds paced North's girls with two wins (long jump, 100). Katelin Wensley (high jump), Carly Cornatzer (triple jump), Elizabeth Budd (100 hurdles) and Jamie Stancliff (1600) added victories, and Maryette Collette, Tanisha Reynolds, Budd and Sarah Evans took the 800 relay.

The Wildcat girls celebrated two more school-record performances, with Wensley performing a 4-9 in the high jump and the 800 relay finishing in 1:58.16.

The North boys were led by Sean Griffin, who won the 1600 and 800. Fidel Hernandez (400) and Ian Dowdy (100 hurdles) joined Griffin with wins, and Dowdy's 17.39 time in the 110 hurdles gave North a third record-breaking performance. North grabbed two relays, winning the 800 with Dowdy, Hernandez, Josh Riddle and Michael Rowe and winning the 1600 with Hernandez, Robert Roesch, Micah Womble and Josh Parks.

The first-place verdict between North and South hinged on the last event, the 1600 relay. With North down by two points, it had to beat South to assure at least a tie, and South had to finish no worse than second to ensure the tie.

South's boys - who got individual wins from Tanner Lowe (discus), Shyteek Brown (triple jump), Perry James (100) and Josh Ijames (200 hurdles) - were without injured Cameron Webb.

"We lost his points and he usually accounts for 10 points himself in individual competition," South coach Brenda Holmes said.

Jesse Cousins, James Mayfield, Brown and James won the 400 relay for South.

South's girls picked up five wins. They were Stephanie Jarvis in the 400; Jarvis, Tyara Wagner, Shalitha Cleveland and Keri Robertson in the 400 relay; Robertson, Tonesha Turner, Laura Vanhoy and Sarah Miller in the 800 relay; Amber Beck in the 800; and Amanda Bridges, Ashley Absher, Britany Greer and Sherrell Collins in the 1600 relay.

"North Davie's real strong," South girls coach Becky Miller said. "We're going to move some people around and make some changes. I think both of us are going to be in contention to place high in the conference. They do have a very talented team."

The next PTA meeting will be Tuesday night, April 27, in the gym. Everyone is welcome and the first graders will be performing the program, One Big Happy Family. It is an important PTA business meeting, so please try to attend.

The Basket Raffle is under way. Thank you to everyone who contributed items/money. The 15 baskets have themes and are filled with all kinds of goodies. Tickets for a chance at winning the baskets are $1 each. These huge baskets will be on display in the media center and can be viewed on the website http//www.sges.davie.k12.nc.us/ for the next two weeks. The drawings for the winners of each of the baskets will be at the PTA meeting on April 27.

It is not too late to sign up for the 7th Annual Shady Grove Golf Outing for Technology. The tournament will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 22 at Hickory Hill Golf Course. Business sponsorship information and entry forms can be picked up at the school, from a student, or at the Advance Post Office. There is room for 30 teams. The deadline for entries and sponsorships is April 23.

Skate night is going to be on a different night this month. It is usually the last Tuesday night but for April it will be April 20. The skating hours are from 6:30-8:30 p.m. at Skateland USA in Clemmons.

It is time for Spring 2004 Celebrate with a Book Campaign. Twice each school year, students are asked to send in donations to help purchase books for the media center. During the fall campaign, the school raised almost $1,400 to purchase several history books and the Sea to Shining Sea Series. The series features hard back books about every state. Donations need to be sent in by Friday, April 30.

The first graders in Ms. Rogers are working on comprehension skills in reading. They are practicing retelling a story by recalling the beginning, middle, and end. The children are identifying the setting and characters and discussing why the author wrote the story and gave it that title.

Second graders in Ms. Spach's class read a book called Garbage Juice for Breakfast. It was a chapter book about some children at a camp who had a mystery to solve. In science, the children studied force and motion. They learned about push/pull and gravity and did many hands-on activities in the classroom. Ms. Hill and Ms. Carter's second graders discussed United States time lines and important things in our country such as the capital, government, and the flag. Also the teachers treated their class to ice cream sundaes to show their appreciation for the class's hard work in winning the second grade reading competition.

Ms. Hobson's third graders enjoyed their field trip to Horizons Unlimited in Salisbury. The next field trip will be to Baa Moo Farm to see the animals and study the plants which will go along with the third grade science curriculum. The class winners for the County Soil and Water Conservation posters were Allie Slabach, Cassidy Webb, Sarah Hinson, and Austin Boger. Cassidy Webb, then, received second place in the county and Sarah Hinson received third place.

Students in Ms. Brown's class won the reading contest for the fourth grade. All students received a medal and a travel game. The student with the highest number of points was Morgan Parrish. Morgan received a gift certificate to Barnes and Noble.

The following students have been chosen as students of the week: Jake Taylor, Henry Powers, Nadia Gregory, Nathan Wollenweber, Alex Meader, Hadley Hilton, Andreas Erlandsson, Austin Hamm, Kari Harris, Allie Jackson, Cindy Blanco, Patrick Collins, Brittany Bennett, Blaine Adderton, Sarah Ingram, Alice Kim, Zach Fair, Jodey Ziglar, Kloi Irving and Allison Griffin.

Cooleemee Elementary

Staff and students have been celebrating reading this week. On Tuesday, April 6, Sue Knox, a former media center specialist at Cooleemee, came to visit fourth grade students, fifth grade students, and Mrs. Wall's first and second graders. She shared and recommended books that she had previewed from the book fair. Mrs. Knox got the students excited about reading. The students couldn't wait to go to the book fair and find the books that she had suggested.

Kindergarten students were excited to be able to experience their first reading celebration at school. They enjoyed all the week's activities but one of their favorites was the chance to read with their 3rd grade buddies. Students thought DEAR moments were lots of fun, too.

In between the many reading events, they have been able to practice the songs they will be singing for their program during the PTA Extravaganza on Tuesday, April 27 at 7 p.m.

All parents are reminded to make sure to return permission slips and $3.75 for the zoo trip scheduled for April 29.

With spring finally here, Mrs. Stein's class started growing the seeds they saved from their fall jack o' lantern. They read Pumpkin Pumpkin to learn about what to expect from their seeds. They are keeping a science log to record observations. Everyone's seeds have sprouted, even Mrs. Seamon's whose family claims she can't grow a thing.

First graders enjoyed guest readers this week as well as Dr. Hale and Mark Daniel. They explored the world of long ago at Mrs. Hanes Cookie Factory in Clemmons, took a tour of Mrs. Hanes old kitchen and learned everything about rolling, cutting, baking, packing, and shipping Moravian cookies except the secret recipe. Students enjoyed the signs of spring as they picnicked at Tanglewood Park. Thank you to all the folks who helped with the activities.

Second graders have participated in Reading Celebration week with great enthusiasm. They have enjoyed reading with "buddies", the Book Fair, Family Reading night, and guest readers. Mrs. Henderson's and Miss Brown's class welcomed Chad Tucker to their classrooms. He read My Great Aunt Arizona, The Giving Tree, and The Enormous Carrot. Dr. Karl Hales from Catawba College came to read to K-2 students. He read Dr. Suess books and some fun poems. Mrs. Wall's combination class of first and second graders enjoyed their "guest reader", Brent Campbell, a news reporter at the Fox 8 TV station.

Third graders enjoyed Reading Celebration Week and all the special activities. Students spent time learning more about historic Cooleemee by participating in a walking tour of the town. They studied new types of energy by reading about solar and wind power.

Mark Daniels visited for the Reading Celebration. He performed for our kindergarten, first, second and third grades. He encouraged everyone to join Mission Reada-saurus and entertained students with stories such as If You Take a Mouse to School, Holes, and The Legend of the Indian Paintbrush. The children were mesmerized by his storytelling puppets and magic tricks.

Fourth and fifth grade students enjoyed the performance by Mrs. Short's Davie High School students titled "Hobnob's Great Adventure". It was full of humor as well as great acting. The most important thing was the lesson learned about reading and its importance.

During Reading Celebration Week, guest readers shared books with kindergarten, first, and second graders. Some busy people from Central Office including Mr. Potts, Dr. Johnson, Mrs. Whitaker, Mrs. Horne, Mrs. Trexler, Mrs. Cren-shaw, Mrs. Dorsett, and Mr. Albarty read to students. Readers shared books with some students in their classrooms and with other students in the media center during their media classes.

An Odyssey

South Fields Winning Teams In 'Thinking' Competition

Last month, students from South Davie Middle School in Mocksville competed in the Odyssey of the Mind Northern Region Tournament.

Four teams competed at Northwest Guilford Schools in Greensboro on March 6.

According to Bucky Carter, South Davie AIG specialist and Odyssey of the Mind coordinator, "This is the first year since the early '90s, when Mrs. Stoeppelwerth and 1 were students involved with OM at South Davie, that South Davie has fielded Odyssey of the Mind teams.

"We're proud to have made such strong showing in our first time out and hope that the younger students will want to field teams again next year. I think this just goes to show the entire county and region the South Davie students can compete with students from any school, any time, anywhere."

The team in Division II took first place in the Balancing Act. They are Greg Nuckols, Grace Williams, Kristih Ferebee, Hannah Carter, and Roger Adkins. Their coaches are Joeff Williams and Bucky Carter. This team will travel to Appalachian State University on April 17 to compete in the state finals. If they make the top two there, they will earn the chance to move on to the World Finals, held at the University of Maryland later this year.

Another Division II team took third place in Strategy Sphere. They are Brian Bullins, Brad Gaither, Will Marrs, Gus Meloy, and B.J. Plummer. Their coaches are Billy Marrs and Bucky Carter.

The Feature Creature team received an OM-er award. This award is given to a team or individuals who have overcome adversity to compete. The Feature Creature team had only two members show up to compete, essentially doing a seven person job with two people, and never missed a beat. They are Joey Taylor and Cody Rusher. Their coach is Bucky Carter.

And the last Division II team took fifth place for Envirover. They are Trey Archer, Alex Appelt, Kristin McMillan, Dylan Cheek, and Tatum Crews. Their coaches are Brooke Stoeppelwerth and Bucky Carter.

According to Carter, "Joeff Williams was instrumental in helping us get our teams started, and I just can't say enough about his work ethic and desire to see our kids succeed. As well, coaches Billy Marrs and Brooke Stoeppelwerth did wonderful jobs assisting their teams. Further, if it wasn't for our strong administrative support and support from the PTA, we wouldn't have been able to compete. So, we want to thank them for their efforts."

Odyssey of the Mind brings together parents, teachers, and students unlike any other program I've ever seen. I think that fact is illustrated in our successes so far."

Battle Of The Books Champs

South Davie Middle School's Battle of the Books team defeated North Davie on Friday, March 19, at the Davie County Battle of the Books competition at the Davie County Public Library. Battle of the Books is a statewide middle school reading competition. To prepare for the competition, both teams read from a list of 27 adolescent literature books and practiced for several months. After winning at the county level, South's team made a good showing at the regional competition in Wilkesboro on April 2. Tammy Stamey Wins Community College Award

Forsyth Technical Community College student Tammy Pennington Stamey of Advance is a winner of the North Carolina Community College System's Academic Excellence Award.

She has a 4.0 grade point average and is studying paralegal technologies.

Two students from each of the 59 community colleges in North Carolina are honored each year as the cream of the crop at the Academic Excellence Awards Luncheon in Raleigh. This year's luncheon will be held Friday, May 7 at the Hilton North Raleigh.

The goal of the award is to recognize excellence and encourage scholarship among the more than 760,000 students of the NCCCS. The students selected at each institution have set the highest possible goals and attained the pinnacle of academic success in the community college system.

NCCCS recommends criteria for the award, which is consistent with the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society criteria. Each student must be enrolled, must have completed at least 12 semester hours (or quarter hours equivalent) in an associate degree program and must have a cumulative grade point average of not less than 3.25.

Students enjoyed the special ways the visitors shared with them.

There was a kickoff program in the gym for all students. Mr. Campbell recognized Karen Levens for the reading program she started on her bus with both the first and second loads of students. Mrs. Levens received roses and a gift certificate to a book store. Her rolling readers were recognized, too. Some fourth and fifth grade students encouraged reading by riding and reading on their unicycles at the same time. Cheerleading teachers lead everyone in the R-E-A-D cheer. Family Reading Night held it's last session Tuesday night by having a story time pajama party. More than 90 students read books with their parents and took Accelerated Reader tests. They enjoyed a milk and cookies snack, and parents had an opportunity to shop in the school's book fair.

Cornatzer Elementary

The Cornatzer Camp Read-a-Lot program is off to a great start. Students are reading up a storm as they improve their reading skills and raise money for their school at the same time. And students received exciting news this week. In addition to the chance to win a class swim party at the YMCA, individual readers now have the opportunity to win a real camping tent. At the end of the Reading Program, the names of all students who have met their weekly reading goals throughout the four weeks of the program will go into a drawing for a tent. There will be one winner from each of the three grade hallways. Cornatzer wishes to thank the Mocksville Wal-Mart for donating one of the tents.

Students in Mrs. Hayes's third grade class have just finished their last science unit for the year. They all enjoyed learning lots about the earth and the moon. Now they are moving their attention to a study of colonial life in social studies classes. This unit will culminate in a visit to Old Salem in May. With EOG tests happening three weeks after the return from spring break, students are also beginning a review of the year. They will also be learning some stress relievers.

In Mrs. Shar Beck's art classes, kindergartners have finally completed their wiggle-nose puppets and have had great fun playing with their adorable creations. Next they painted a self-portrait in watercolors and how they are working on beautiful spring bouquets. First graders have moved from working with warm colors to cold colors and have learned that the cool colors are blue, green and purple. They have also talked about the five senses and how we use touch to feel cool things. They traced their hands enough times to cover a sheet of paper and then colored them using the cool colors.

After completing this project, first graders had the opportunity to design their very own robot that could be used for any purpose they wished - bedroom tidying was a popular choice. Second graders finished their cool line designs, made a robot and are now learning how to weave. They have made their own paper loom and are starting to weave paper strips into it. Third graders completed their still-life studies and are now also weaving. They have painted an outdoor science that they will weave into their loom. Fourth graders have finished designing their dream houses. Next, they will begin mosaics. Fifth graders have also completed their still life pictures - they draw the art room and also did a pencil drawing of a plant. Currently, they have been having fun drawing each other. Recent Art Zone Award winners are Destiny Pearcy, Austin Doby and Tristan Hayes. Also, many students had work hanging in a art show for Youth Art Month at the Brock Performing Center. Mrs. Doss's fourth grade class also had art work on display at Bojangles in Mocksville.

Fifth graders enjoyed the last day of school before spring break. They joined other fifth graders from all Davie County schools for their special Field Day. They competed at eight stations: jump rope, soccer kick, basketball shooting, basketball passing, hex ball, indoor relays, outdoor relays and hockey dribbling. Lunch was provided by the DARE program and the day culminated in a tug-o-war competition.

Cougars of the Week: Shawn Tritt, Justin Stamey, Cody Parker, Roberto Hernandez, Tristan Stewart, Joey Myers, Andre Hernandez, Tanner Rose, Angel Mayfield, Brooke Young, Matthew Walker, Anna Brown, Kaleb Page, Ashleigh Scarlett, Gerald Whitaker, Denise Ramirez, Destiny Pearcy, Lorena Tapia-Amara, Conner Jewell, Dylan Banner.

Special congratulations to Caroline Cozar. She was awarded second place in the fourth grade Davie Soil and Water Conservation poster competition.

Reminder to parents: April 20, 27 - Venezia Night; Thursday, April 29 - Family Reading Night 6:30-8 p.m.; Friday, April 30 - 7-8:15 a.m. PTO breakfast, 8:30, Fifth Grade DARE graduation; May 11-13 - EOG Tests.

Mocksville Elementary

Student of the Week, April 5-9: Joel Johnson, Hannah Shuskey, Cesar Cruz, Brittany Wilson, Cynthia Arreola, Eavan Jennings, Kamryn Wagner, Ethan McCoy, Kiersten Nichols, Antonio Gabilo, Alex Lawrence, Amber Basham, Hali Hutchens, Ana Sanchez, Katera Cockerham, Jordan O'Neill, Stephanie Arrevalo, Tess Tagranni, Brannon Shortt.

Mrs. Wyatt and Mrs. Fulton's kindergarten students have enjoyed learning about the new spring season. We took a nature walk to look and smell for signs of spring. We wrote and illustrated butterfly poems and then made 3-D butterflies to display with them.

Easter brought about several fun and exciting activities for us. We learned a lot about eggs by performing many egg experiments. The highlight of our week was the Easter hat parade throughout the school and the egg hunt on the playground.

Mrs. Beaver and Mrs. Melton's class is ready to "spring" into science. They will be studying living things, including plants and animals for survival. They will also study rocks and soil. They will investigate the various types of rocks and soils found in our environment. The children will sharpen their observation skills as they become informed "rock hounds." Miss Hutchens, our student teacher, will complete her teaching assignment April 28. She has done a fantastic job and will be greatly missed. We would like to thank her for all of her hard work and wish her good luck as she begins her teaching career.

Ms. Vogler, Mrs. Brown and Miss Gaither's third graders have been learning about poetry. They have learned about similes, metaphors and personification while identifying the subject or main idea of poems. Writing their own poems has also been fun. They have written "I Am" and diamond poems. They have enjoyed a variety of poems as well. Jack Prelutsky's It's Raining Pigs and Noodles and The Earth is Painted Green are books of poetry that the class has read and discussed.

Applicants Needed For Scholarship

The deadline for applying for the first William R. Gales scholarship has been extended until May 3.

The $1,000 scholarship, named in honor of Cooleemee's first mayor, is available to graduating high school seniors, high school graduates and are residents of the town of Cooleemee who have been accepted and are planning to attend an accredited college, university or technical/community college. The scholarship is based on merit and financial need. The Town of Cooleemee Scholarship Committee will select the award winner. A minimum of a 20 grade point average is needed for the applicant.

The award will be used to help pay for tuition, fees and books during the school year. Information and applications can be obtained from the Cooleemee Town Hall, during regular business hours.

With many working people returning to the classroom to further their education or to improve their skills, this is a great opportunity for these non-traditional students as well as traditional students looking for help in paying for the cost of a higher education.

Cooleemee Students Design Some Stamps

They have been voting at the Cooleemee Post Office — voting for their favorite stamp.

Students at Cooleemee Elementary School were recently asked to design a stamp celebrating spring. Five hundred students turned their artistic talents to the task of designing a stamp.

Art teacher Shar Beck narrowed the selection down to about 130 of the best ones. Post office customers did the rest.

Last week, the most popular artists were awarded prizes by the post office.

"We're going to do this again. I loved it," said Postmaster Judy Phillips. "We had our customers vote. People were voting for what they thought was the best stamp for spring."

The walls of the post office were decorated with artwork for several weeks.

"My husband and I had a ball putting them up. I think you are very talented young ladies," Phillips told the winners last week.

Some drew flowers. Some drew houses and birds and gardens. Some patterned their drawings after an actual stamp design.

Divided into age categories, the winners were:

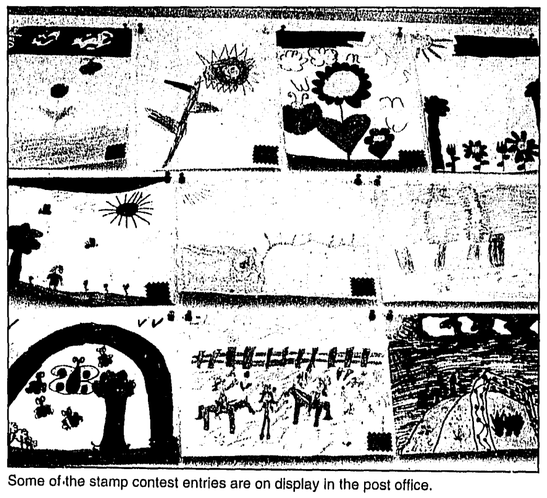

- First grade, Dyanna Vergason, first; Taylor Sheets, second.
- Second and third grades, Chelsea Ellis, first; Desirae Downs, second.
- Fourth and fifth grades, Ashley Waller, first; Tiffany Wyatt, second.

The winners were treated to cookies and drinks Friday at the post office and received trophies from the postmaster.

Principal Bill Campbell thanked the Post Office for sponsoring the contest.

Some of the stamp contest entries are on display in the post office.

Jaime Fusaro On Dean's List

Jaime Fusaro, the daughter of Laura and Thomas Powers of Mocksville, has been named to the dean's list by attaining a 3.25 or higher grade point average for the fall semester at Southampton College of Long Island University, Southampton, N.Y.

Fusaro, a photography major, is a graduate of Longwood High School in Middle Island, N.Y.

Dorothy Freidt Wins School Bus Roadeo

Dorothy Freidt can drive a school bus.

The driver for North Davie Middle School maneuvered her way to a first place finish in the annual Bus Roadeo March 12 at Davie High School. Twenty drivers from nine schools participated.

Friedt won a $50 prize and can compete in the state roadeo in May.

Two cash door prizes provided by the school system were won by Tammy Smith from South Davie, $35 and Elizabeth Foster, $25.

The School Bus Driver's Association provided $10 restaurant gift certificates, won by Brenda Lyerly from Cooleemee and Teresa Horner from Pinebrook.

More benefits and prizes are being planned for next year's roadeo.

Davie High Students Build Website

One of the new career and technical courses offer at Davie High School is E-Commerce.

In today's global market and with the internet explosion, this course of selling over the internet fits in naturally, said Tim Moore, teacher.

The students learn to understand e-commerce basics which include: e-commerce options, exploring market issues, planning and development, e-commerce components, payment processing, security issues and customer service. The students spent time learning about trademarks, patents and copyrights. Students discuss issues such as ethics and plagiarism as they learn to develop their own web site.

They will expand the HTML coding skills that they learned in the Computer Applications II class and will hand code their web pages. No authoring software is used. Along with their HTML coding skills, they will apply Java Scripting codes that they have learned in this e-commerce class. As a capstone project, each student will develop a business plan and create a model internet web site to display and sell their wares.

Along with the student's textbook learning and standardized practices, every business teacher dreams of bringing in real life experiences and practical applications that apply to real businesses.

This year the dream became a reality as Moore's E-Commerce class teamed up with the Mocksville Davie Homebuilders Association to create an Association web site.

"The partnership and teamwork between these two groups has been remarkable as the students shared their ideas and obtained the needed information from the members," Moore said.

The students started out by researching and studying other homebuilders' internet sites to gain insights of what their task might entail. Each student made notes of things they liked and disliked about many of the sites they visited.

Once this was done, a brainstorming session was used to decide what they wanted to include in the site they were going to construct. They wrote to each member of the association and explained their project, asking members to fill out a questionnaire about their business and to provide their company logos or pictures.

They story boarded their site ideas while deciding on many options such as color schemes, font sizes and font styles. Then each student took a section of the story board and started to construct their individual pages.

Student Elyse Timmons acted as project coordinator, keeping the class focused and building a superb interactive application form.

"I loved the complex coding of the application page and spent many hours at home at night coding and testing my ideas," said Timmons.

One student wrote to community organizations, such as the Chamber of Commerce, asking permission to use their links on the association's page. Students also designed a new logo for the association and implemented it on their homepage.

Daily, the students and Moore would confer with each other, analyze each other's work and offer positive suggestions.

They invited Jose Diaz from Yadkin Valley Telephone to come and speak to them about web site hosting and file transfer protocol procedures. His explanations and the details he provided about DSL lines and web hosting further energized the students. They could not wait to launch their final project into cyberspace.

Moore, who also serves as secretary of the Mocksville Davie Homebuilders Association, would take rough drafts of the web site to association meetings to show the members the students' progress and solicit any comments to make the site better.

As association members returned their questionnaires, the students updated the information they had already keyed in and fine tuned their pages.

"I personally enjoyed scanning the photographs and dealing a lot with the graphic element of the web site," said student Daniel Poindexter. The students then set about combining all the individual web pages into a comprehensive web site, and adjusting any problem areas.

On March 4, the site was published into cyberspace and Moore demonstrated it to the homebuilders members that evening.

"Using the FTP program really showed me how a Web site is launched into the endless abyss of knowledge known as the internet," said student Joseph Phillips.

This is a work in progress and until the semester ends in late May, the students will be monitoring and adjusting the site as needed. They are learning that it is one thing to build a site but the constant upkeep is also a critical factor. They are using file transfer protocol (FTP) software to make necessary changes. FTP has become more than just letters as they experience the ins and outs of web site housing.

Two students attended a recent meeting of the association to answer questions and to share in the association's gratitude for a job well done. Lloyd Mitchell III, a student, said, "It was a lot of hard work and it took a lot of determination to build this site."

Moore's students invite the community to view the site they created and to e-mail comments to Moore by clicking his link on the web site. The site URL address is www.mdhba.com

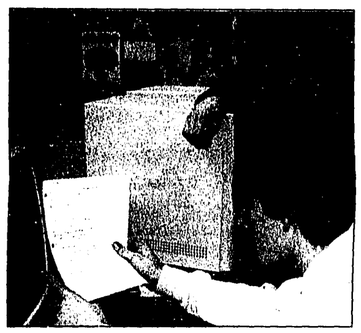

"It was very gratifying to show the site to our parents after it had been built along with seeing our names in cyberspace," said Poindexter.

Daniel Poindexter scans logos and photographs.

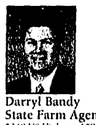

Elyse Timmons and Lloyd Mitchell work on questionnaires to send to homebuilders.

Poindexter and Joseph Phillips look at a web page.

Spotlight on Business

Mast Woodworks Constructs High Quality Storage Buildings

The setting is picturesque. The finished product is impeccable.

Conveniently situated between Interstate 77 and Highway 421 in Yadkin County is a storage building construction business that provides a rare commodity these days—the highest quality craftsmanship at extremely affordable prices.

And as the owner of Mast Woodworks, Alvin Mast Jr. wouldn't have it any other way.

"If you are going to be in business there are three simple rules that I tell my boys. Satisfy the customer, do the best you can and do better than the competition," explains Mast.

A sole proprietor who insists on delivering work of the highest caliber, Mast is truly a "hands-on" type of guy.

"My boys and I personally build each storage unit from the ground up," he notes.

He says that the two items that make his business stand out from the rest are quality work and reliable service.

"I have been building storage buildings since 1989 and I know what it takes to build a good quality building," Mast says.

Top grade materials, turn-key custom work

The craftsmen at Mast Woodworks start each project with T-111 fur siding and top grade lumber. They then build virturally any size and style of storage building you could want, from 8' x 8' all the way up to 14' x 40'. Metal roofing is also available.

"We can even do garages if that's what you're looking for," Alvin says.

Mast emphasizes that his company is fully capable of handling custom work. "We can customize any part of the building, from lofts to work benches to extra doors and so on. We can also handle the electrical work and on-site delivery. All the customer needs to do is provide the leveling material and we can haul, deliver and level up the building when we get there."

All deliveries are made by Hall's Delivery Service. Mast Woodworks has been working with Dale Hall for four years now and has been extremely happy with his work.

"Dale has done a wonderful job for us. We have not had one customer complaint," Mast comments.

'Handyman Special' features workshop and storage area

One popular style of building Mast Woodworks currently features is the Handyman Special. It features a storage area on one end and a workshop on the other.

Owner has spent his career in construction business

Mast, who has been in construction all of his life, says he got interested in building storage units so he could have a business close to home.

"I wanted to get off the road and stay home. Sometimes in construction I would have to travel 75 to 100 miles away. I was tired of morning and evening travel," explains Mast.

Free estimates available

"We are happy to give anyone free estimates and provide pictures of our work," he adds. "And we always encourage people to stop by and see one of our buildings in person."

Mast Woodworks is located 10 miles west of Yadkinville and six miles north of Union Grove at 5328 St. Paul Church Road in Hamptonville (Windsors Crossroads District.) For the convenience of their Clemmons customers, Mast Woodworks has opened a lot to showcase their buildings on Clemmons Road.

They can be reached at 468-1194 Monday through Saturday 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Trying Times

Family, Friends Coping With Three Hurt In Collision With Deputy

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

It was a trip they had made every Sunday morning.

Diane Keaton drove her mother, Mary Ruth "Moot" Smith, and her younger brother, Grady "Junior" Smith, to Cracker Barrel in Clemmons from their Baltimore Road home.

They had breakfast at 7.

The trip home on April 11 wasn't normal.

As she drove the car on U.S. 158 near Shady Lane, she saw the Davie County Sheriff's Department patrol car skidding out of control. Unable to avoid a wreck, the two cars collided head-on.

The collision left the two women critically injured, their son and brother seriously injured.

Although charges are pending against the officer, one person was charged with making a false 911 call that there was a domestic disturbance with a gun at the By-Lo in Hillsdale, the call that put the officers into "10-18," or emergency traffic.

The tragedy has struck the family - and the community - deeply.

Diane Keaton had been laid off from her job of some 25 years at Lexington Furniture last October,

> "They lived together and have always been together. They've all just always taken care of each other."
> Barbara Gobble

and hadn't found employment. Her brother, Junior, had suffered a stroke as a result of an aneurysm at age 29 and had limited use of one side of his body. They lived with their mother and they took care of each other, according to Barbara Gobble, Smith's niece.

"They lived together and have always been together. It's been really hard," Gobble said. "Diane has been really worried about her mama and her brother. They've all just always taken care of each other."

They also help take care of their friends and neighbors.

"If anybody was ever sick, or anyone in the community needed help, they made sure food was taken or they visited whoever was in the hospital. They're just good people," she said.

"It's hard. My Aunt Moot is just the sweetest person you would ever meet. They would do anything for anybody."

Her Aunt Moot is the most seriously injured.

She is still in intensive care at Wake Forest University Baptist Medical Center in Winston-Salem, and hasn't regained consciousness. She opens her eyes and moves her hands some, but doctors think they are just reflex type movements.

Smith suffered a broken neck bone, and doctors told Gobble the only organ that was not injured was her small intestine. The force of the hit pushed her colon through her

Farmington Rezoning Is Denied

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Chris Carter realizes now that a simple request can get out of hand.

But to neighbors of a proposed rezoning for Hi-Lo Enterprises on N.C. 801 near McKnight Lane, it doesn't matter.

They don't want a business in their neighborhood.

Hi-Lo had requested that 2.46 acres be rezoned from residential-agricultural and highway business to highway business special use.

County commissioners heard the pros and cons April 19, and made no motion, meaning the rezoning request was denied.

The company, said Chris Carter, would build three offices on the site, and store equipment there. All concrete work - mostly pavers, retaining walls and driveways - would take place on the job sites.

The fact that a portion of the property was already zoned for business led the owners, all Davie residents, to the site, Carter said. The company only uses small equipment, and would improve the property.

He listed four reasons why the rezoning should be approved: it would improve the property; the company approached neighbors first, and was being up-front about plans; it would increase the county's tax base; and it would help the economy.

An advertisement for a small CDL driver brought 41 responses, Carter said.

"We want our property to be nice, to be pleasant. We're not wanting to be a hindrance."

Dan Womble, an attorney for a large group of neighborhood residents who opposed the request, said the plan isn't good, reasoned, planned development.

The speed limit slows at that area because of a reason - it's dangerous and more congested, Womble said,

Take A Peek Inside

Spring Tour Of Homes Saturday

By Mike Barnhardt
Davie County Enterprise Record

There are sticks for window treatments.

The walls, floors and furniture are filled with hand-made items from their travels, some a bit whimsical, some sentimental, and some functional.

You could call it quirky.

But the home of Glenn and Linda Mace on Deadmon Road is fun, from the huge camellias in the front to the names and dates of all previous homeowners painted onto the steps between the first and second floors, there's a treasure around every corner.

It is one of five featured on the Mocksville Garden Club Spring Tour of Homes taking place this Saturday.

"I think they wanted something quirky," Linda said as the couple got ready for the visitors.

The couple bought the house in June of 1996.

"We were looking for an old house with a little bit of land," Glenn said. A real estate agent friend showed the house. They looked it over, inside and out.

"Then we made an offer. It was the only one we looked at," he said.

Then came the ongoing process of transporting the house into their home. That meant many hours of restoring it to it's original look. It was built in 1849, with the current house finished in 1892.

"I like the old stuff. We tried to make it like it used to be," Linda said.

It includes Tuscan columns, a wrap-around porch, original tin shingles on the roof, and hardwood floors and beaded board.

On North Main Street in Mocksville, Taylor and Kathy Slye have been busy in recent weeks - really busy.

Taylor jokes that putting their historic home on the tour was her way of making sure that all needed work was done on the home.

Taylor moved from Maryland to the family home in 1970 for his children and the schools.

He's no stranger to the home.

Hospital Usage Continues Upswing

March was a good month for Davie County Hospital.

The number of patients was the most in recent years.

The number of surgeries was the highest.

It brought in more than $1 million in revenue.

"We're seeing some good cash flows," Ken White told fellow county commissioners Monday night. "Utilization is up and we continue to try to make it work better."

He called it a testimony to county residents who are using the hospital, and doctors who are making referrals to Davie County Hospital.

Refinancing Could Save County $100,000

Just over a month ago, Davie County was in a position to save $230,000 by refinancing $5.7 million in school bonds from 1996.

Officials set the ball rolling.

On April 19, county commissioners learned that because of changing interest rates, that estimated savings had dwindled to $114,000, nearing the $100,000 mark required by the Local Government Commission before it would allow the refinancing.

"We're fast approaching the wave off line," said Jim Stockert, county finance director. They hope to decide by Thursday if it will be worthwhile to continue with the sale.

The commissioners authorized the issuance of the $5.7 million in bonds, contingent on the savings staying above the $100,000 mark.

Embarrassed By Nation's Sex Obsession

Someone said I was blushing last week. With age, people usually don't turn red so often when they are embarrassed. I haven't reached that age yet.

Much of America has.

It embarrasses me to talk in polite circles about same sex marriages. About homosexual civil unions. About all this national debate on whether homosexual partners should be treated as common married folks.

Yet, that is part of the national debate this year, and it will intensify during the campaign season.

When did we become so brazen?

I blush about a lot of things in the news. I could have believed it was just an accident with Janet Jackson's costume if the entire cast of singers and dancers hadn't been simulating the sex act repeatedly during the Super Bowl halftime show.

Some radio hosts make their reputations with filthy, sexually suggestive talk. Television throws sexuality at us day after day, in multiple variations. And the internet is a giant pornography distribution agent.

Would it be Victorian of me to suggest that some of this behavior, some of this talk, some of these television shows could use a healthy dose of modesty?

In another age, lofty ideals and psychology, sociology, history and the arts, science and exploration captured our imagination. Our Founding Fathers debated the nature of man. We were once captivated by astronauts, by cowboys and people who dared to challenge nature's toughest terrain. Scholars led debates about lifting humanity out of poverty and ignorance. Religious leaders pointed to heaven and steered us in the path of righteousness.

Now we are merely obsessed with sex.

The national debate could find a more enlightened topic, a subject that lifts our spirits and stirs our souls rather than merely titillating our libidos.

People now define themselves by their sexuality. Some classify themselves not by their work, not by their profession, not by their education, not by their family and heritage, but by how they engage in sex. Their effrontery has no limits.

Because I am embarrassed, I am labeled a prude, a Puritan, as squeamish, as a religious bigot, as a Republican.

Politicians who would limit Hollywood's dark side are targeted for defeat. Some religious leaders are intimidated into silence on such delicate subjects.

We can't merely tolerate sexual aberrations. We have to embrace their practitioners or risk the label of hatemongering.

I long for a gentler time — a time when everything on TV wasn't about sex. When every innuendo, every laugh line, every witticism wasn't about matters of intimacy. When bedroom behavior stayed in the bedroom and some of our secrets actually stayed in the closet.

I long for a time when Jerry Springer wouldn't have been allowed on the airwaves. A time when people had modesty and a sense of shame and didn't flaunt their outrageous sexual obsessions in front of television cameras. A time when we turned away and ridiculed such behavior as perverse.

President Bush and Senator Kerry will talk about Iraq. They will talk about jobs and the economy. They will talk about foreign and domestic policy. They will talk about civil unions, which they both support in one way or another.

I wish they would also talk about lifting the level of our national discourse. We don't need more laws. We need examples. A former President sullied us with his own sexual misconduct. We need political, religious, business and civic leaders, college professors and movie stars to give us more to talk and think about than our own sexual gratification.

We can be modest without being prudish. We can be proper without being bigoted. And we can lift our hopes and dreams to the glorious ideals of nature and mankind without floundering in our baser instincts.

Wreck Could Have Been Prevented

To the editor:

I barely knew where to begin describing my disgust for the obvious bias displayed in the April 15, 2004 edition of the Davie County Enterprise Record. The front page article entitled "Deputy Pulled From Burning Car" is the article to which I refer. The whole article is based n the Deputy Rectenwald instead of the other obvious victims, Mary Ruth Smith, Patricia Keaton and Grady Smith Jr. Those poor people were the innocent victims of a media hoopla and a terrible accident. These folks are members of my family.

I would like to address the accident from our family's point of view, not that of the Davie County Sheriff's Department. First, I was always taught that the primary rule of journalism is to verify the facts of a case or situation. That was obviously not done here, as there are many things wrong with the article. That is probably the reason the Enterprise was ashamed, as it should be, to not disclose the name of the person(s) who wrote such drivel in the first place.

There are many questions that should be addresses and answered by the sheriff's department. Let me start with the obvious - What, if there were already officers en route, was Officer Rectenwald speeding so fast on a narrow, two-lane state highway? I do not care if there was a gun reported. The officer still had a care of duty that was obviously breached when she was going well over the posted speed limit. I do not care if there was a building on fire. Does that relieve her of her obligation to the general public? Let us be honest here: Where is the person who falsely reported that the that the suspect had a gun? Was that person held on making a false report? Why was the suspect not arrested earlier from a previous altercation with the woman?

While, the article does actually say that Officer Rectenwald ran off the side of the road and hit my cousins and great-aunt head on, that is the extent of liability mentioned. I think a little more sympathy could have mentioned toward my family.

There is another issue with which I have a big problem. Why was North Carolina State Trooper Keller not able to estimate how fast Officer Rectenwald was speeding? Is that not his job, or would it have looked too bad for the sheriff's department to contend with that number being published? Is Keller not responsible for estimating speed at each and every other emergency call that he receives, or is it just when other law enforcement is involved that he cannot manage to carry out his duties? How long will it take for the Highway Patrol reconstruction team to make its findings? I am very interested to know the report's results.

If Sheriff Whitaker believes that Officer Rectenwald was following procedure exactly, how would he know that precisely? If the other two officers were already on the scene, but were originally right in front of her, why did they not notice that she was not right behind them once they were on the scene? Also, why did no one call her to say that there was no gun, or did that indeed happen, but the accident had already occurred? Only the good Lord and probably the sheriff's department know. I cannot believe in my heart that the sheriff would actually go on record as saying that he "...feels comfortable with that (procedure)." What a pathetic outrage - while I personally have great respect for law in general, I have doubts, with a few exceptions, in our own Davie County's enforcement staff.

The article was obviously biased in the officer's favor to mention her children and the fact that she had just spent the Easter morning with her three children. Well, that is exactly what my family was doing as well. My aunt Mary Ruth was returning from having Easter breakfast with her only two children, when out of the blue, they were struck head-on by the officer's car.

I will also address the discrepancies in the article about my family's injuries. Nothing was mentioned by the newspaper to describe the victims' individual injuries, like the injuries of the officer were mentioned. My aunt Mary Ruth has multiple injuries, such as broken neck vertebrae, a broken back, a broken hip, and there are too many more to mention. By the way, her prognosis is not very good. She remains in the Intensive Care Unit at N.C. Baptist Hospital.

Also, I could only h ope that Patricia Keaton's injuries had allowed here to be treated and released on Sunday. Sadly, however, that was not the case. Patricia suffered three broken ribs, multiple broken bones in her arms, legs and feet. She was in the Intensive Care Unit at N.C. Baptist Hospital until Friday, April 16. She did not even awaken until Wednesday, April 14. She was finally put into her own room on Friday, April 16. Where did the Enterprise get their facts?

Grady Smith Jr. suffered three broken ribs, a broken clavicle, a broken ankle and foot. He was released to a long-term physical therapy facility Friday, April 16.

The only thing I can seem to agree on with our esteemed sheriff is that I am very grateful to all of those who helped at the scene. I am eternally grateful to Davie County EMS and to the Hillsdale Baptist Church members who took the time to help and offered prayers on behalf of the accident victims.

I want to add one more thing. I know that accidents happen. I know that the Lord's will be done. I also know that I pray for my family, the officer and her family daily, and will continue to do so. However, let us not lose sight of the situation. It could have been prevented.

Quota Holders Deserve Nothing From Government

To the editor:

A few years ago, when tobacco was king in the Piedmont, Brazil decided to get in on the gravy train and grow tobacco.

The problem was they didn't know how. So they hired the experts from the tobacco states to teach them. They were good teachers. Brazil now produces three times what the U.S. does; in short, they sold off their livelihood.

Now that the squeeze is being put on, the allotment holders want to sell them to the government, a buy out at the expense of every one in all of the states. The quotas were put in place in the 1930s, to stabilize prices, at no cost to the owners. Some time later when they made enough to retire or were too old to do the work, some of them rented the allotment, to continue having an income. The renters, rented to make money, and I believe they did.

Now they expect the people, after all the people are the government, to pay the owners, at least, as well as the renters.

The quotas were a gift, free, put in place to stabilize prices, at no cost to the owners. It's like the stock market, you buy in hoping to make money, when it goes up you make money, if it goes down you lose money. Government doesn't repay your losses. Why should we buy something that was free? They should not get two bites of the apple.

Honest People Still Exist

To the editor:

Last week on my birthday, I was having lunch with a friend at a local restaurant and accidentally left my wallet at the cash register. In it were very important things, including my driver's license. If you have ever been through a loss like that, you know how distressed and apprehensive I felt, especially since we hear so much about identity theft.

I must admit, I spent a very stressful weekend wondering about all that I needed to do to protect myself, and praying that the Lord would convict whoever found it to return it.

Imagine my joy on returning home early in the week and finding my wallet on my front porch. And everything was there. I have no clue who found it and returned it, but I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart.

Not only did I rejoice in my answered prayer, but I also rejoiced in the confirmation that there are honest people out there who respect the property of others.

Thank you, thank you.

Marriage Under Attack

To the editor:

You've probably heard in the past few weeks the charge that the Federal Marriage Amendment, which would define marriage in the U.S. Constitution as the union of one man and one woman, would write discrimination into our county's founding document. Don't believe it for a second.

It is not homosexuals, but marriage, that is under attack. Left unchecked, rogue judges intent on finding new rights in the Constitution will succeed, some day soon, in extending marriage benefits to gays. Supporters of a marriage-protection amendment aren't out to discriminate against anyone; they simply want to preserve the institution of marriage as it has served society for centuries.

Amendment opponents have also turned to an emotional argument in asking, "How does one couple's gay marriage threaten anyone's heterosexual marriage?" This question misses the point: The goal of gay activists isn't the individual relationship of any two people, despite such statements. It is the revision of national policy to say that gender, especially in child rearing, is inconsequential, even though research indicates children do best when raised by a married mother and father.

This aggressive campaign to undermine marriage as it's always been known can be defeated - but only if we all stand up to support the Federal Marriage Amendment.

Order Of The Long Leaf Pine

Karen Smith, Buster Cleary Earn Prestigious Honor

Howard presents the award to Buster Cleary.

By Mike Gunning
Special to the Enterprise

Representative Julia Howard made an appearance at the Davie County Commissioners meeting to recognize two of Davie's residents last week.

Department of Social Services director Karen Smith and businessman and Mocksville town board member Buster Cleary received the Order of the Long Leaf Pine, among the state's most prestigious awards presented by the governor.

A proven record of service to the state, contributions to the community, extra effort in their career, and years of service to organizations are some of the guidelines by which recipients are selected for this award. Past recipients include Maya Angelou and Dr. Billy Graham.

The presentation of framed certificates signed by Governor Mike Easley stated Smith and Cleary had been granted the title of Ambassador Extraordinaire.

A surprised and tearful Smith accepted her award while receiving a standing ovation from the standing room only crowd.

"I really had no idea, I don't deserve this," she said. "And I was brought here under false pretenses."

Smith was scheduled to appear later to request the board fund a new caseworker position.

Howard called Smith "her right hand", and someone that was a friend to every person who ever lived in Davie.

"I don't know what I would do without her," Howard said. "I'm honored to call her my friend."

Howard called Cleary a man who could be counted on to get things done.

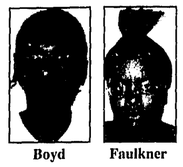

"Everyone knows if you need something done in Davie County, you need to call Buster," Howard said.

Cleary appeared humbled upon receiving the award, and joked if he had known, he would have had an acceptance speech prepared.

"This is really nice," he said. "Thank you all so very much."

Friends, Family Praying For The Recovery Of April 11 Wreck Victims

stomach, and there is still an opening in her mid-section. She has multiple broken ribs and a break at mid-back. Her diaphragm was ripped, as were the muscles around her stomach.

Her prognosis is not good, Gobble said.

Keaton, who was incorrectly reported as being treated and released last week, is also still a patient at Baptist.

She was on a respirator for several days, and is now breathing with oxygen. She has a broken right leg, broken right ankle, broken left hip, and multiple broken ribs. Her left leg was almost cut off at the knee, Gobble said. She doesn't remember the wreck or the several days following it while in the hospital.

Keaton suffers a possible broken back, but doctors aren't sure. They want to get everything else in order first, she said.

"She's bruised and cut really bad. She's really sore."

Keaton was in intensive care from Sunday to Thursday, when she was moved to a critical care floor. They hope to move her to an orthopaedic floor this week.

Junior Smith, the front seat passenger, has been moved from Baptist to Meadowbrook of Davie, where he is recovering from a broken left ankle, broken right collarbone, broken ribs and bruises.

Charges Pending

The day actually started the night before, when Mocksville police officers and a sheriff's deputy responded to domestic calls. Neither party wanted to press charges against the other.

Later that morning, a call came in from the By-Lo that there was another fight, involving the same couple, and the man had a gun.

Sgt. Lee Whitesides and deputies Jeff Harpe and Dana Recktenwald left Mocksville for Hillsdale with blue lights and sirens, and in a hurry, as they are supposed to do in such cases, said Sheriff Allen Whitaker.

Whitesides and Harpe were near or at the scene when the wreck occurred.

N.C. Highway Patrol Trooper A.T. Keller estimated that Recktenwald was driving the patrol car at 85 mph when it went off the road to the right. The car came back onto the road, crossed the center line, and the left front of the patrol car hit the left front of Keaton's car head-on at an estimated 70 mph. The vehicles were on the right side of Keaton's travel lane, and it appeared she (Keaton) was trying to avoid the out-of-control patrol car.

Recktenwald's car caught on fire, and officers reported Monday that her condition was improving. She is also a patient at Baptist.

Keller turned his report over to District Attorney Garry Frank for possible charges.

Charges were filed against the couple involved in the fights.

Takeila Roshelle Faulkner, 21, of Winston-Salem, was arrested Monday for misuse of the 911 system and with making a false report to police.

Timothy Lamont Boyd, 37, also of Winston-Salem, was charged with two counts of domestic assault on a female.

Both are scheduled to face the charges May 1 in Davie District Court.

Whitesides reported that a review of the By-Lo surveillance video revealed that Boyd had assaulted Faulkner twice. She had been assaulted, left, came back and was assaulted again.

She instructed the clerk to call 911 and told them that Boyd had a gun, which he didn't have, Whitesides reported. He said that every time she called law enforcement after an altercation with Boyd, she became uncooperative and refused to press charges. Forsyth County officials had investigated a domestic disturbance involving the couple some 10 days ago.

Still, things are hard for all families involved in the wreck. The deputy's husband checks on the other families, and is genuinely sorry for the accident, Gobble said.

And a community is hoping - and praying - for the recovery of a special family.

"A lot of people love them, not just family," she said. "A lot of the churches have them on their prayer list."

Rezoning Request On NC 801 In Farmington Denied

adding that there were too many unknowns in the proposal.

"If it's not residential, it's not going to fit into the community," he said. "It's going to be out of place.

"Potentially, this could be considered a spot zone. Your planning board is your best guide," Womble said. The planning board recommended denying the request on a 4-2 vote in late February.

"This is a nice, residential community and this is not the place for that," said neighbor Buford Smith.

Carter agreed with county commissioner Dan Barrett in that the company's plan wasn't complete before it got to the board. Carter had said earlier that the square footage for the building would be less than listed, that they had put down the maximum they could ever use.

"You're coming in at a real disadvantage," Barrett said. Because it's not clear what the company plans to do with the building, Barrett said the board couldn't decide whether to grant the rezoning.

"You're exactly right," Carter said.

He said after talking to four neighbors, he heard four different - all wrong - ideas of what the company did and was planning to do on the site. A newspaper article calling it a concrete manufacturing business didn't help.

"It's specifically going to be used as a construction contracting business," with offices and room for equipment storage, Carter said.

Board chair Richard Poindexter told Carter that there was almost enough land already zoned for business, and questioned why the matter came before the board.

Carter said it was because the company wanted to be up front with the county and with the neighbors.

"Maybe we're trying to do the right thing too much," he said.

"You're saying things that make sense ... but what's coming to us tonight needs some more work," Barrett said.

Hickory Hill Closes Pool; Hurricanes Eye New Home

The Hickory Hill Hurricanes swim team is trying to regroup after the announcement last month that Hickory Hill Country Club will close its pool.

After more than 20 seasons, the Hurricanes are exploring ways to use Cooleemee pool, but some of the swimmers are already looking for other places to compete.

League parent Ann Mackintosh said she was disappointed with the news.

"This is our family summer fun," she said. "My 13 year old is just devastated. This is one of her favorite parts of summer to hang out at the pool and swim on the team. Our team had a lot of young swimmers, ages 6 to 8. For those families, that's what they had looked forward to."

Hickory Hill owner Bill Burnette said the pool has been a financial burden.

"I've spent up to $35,000 to $40,000 a year over and above what I've taken in," he said.

Last year, the pool generated less than $10,000 in revenue.

He bought the country club eight years ago.

"I was obliged to keep (the pool) open several years," he said. But the financial losses have made him consider closing it for several years. He said he wanted to close it last year ago but held off. The country club in other years had paid some of the swim club's expenses.

The money that he would have spent on the pool will be directed toward golf course improvements, he said.

The pool has operated since 1968, and pool memberships have declined over the years. Last year, there were 55 pool memberships and a few more with pool and club memberships.

The Hickory Hill swim team had about 60 members last year, down from a 97 two years earlier.

Burnette said he will offer the pool to an organization such as the Mocksville recreation department if it wants to assume the responsibility.

Mackintosh said Hurricane parents will meet in a couple weeks to determine if there is interest — or a way — to keep the team together.

"We're talking to the Y about using the pool in Cooleemee and practice there, but we would have to clear that with the Winston-Salem swim league. It's possible that could work, but our assistant coach has moved to Oak Valley."

The shallow end of the Cooleemee pool isn't deep enough to host a swim meet, said Phillip Smith, another team representative. "We're looking to use that as a practice facility," he said, and let the other league teams host the meets. "The biggest problem we have is that we had such late notice. We wish we had been told last winter. We have lost some swimmers because we were scurrying around trying to decide what to do. There's just no other pools we're aware of that could host a swim meet. We hope we can make it work."

The team had already started ordering team swim suits and ribbons and had made plans with its coaches from last year, Becky Call and Brent Gaither.

"We told them this is so up in the air that they need to find summer jobs if they can," Mackintosh said.

She said the swim team should have received earlier notice that the pool would close.

The Hurricanes have been part of the Winston-Salem swim league for more than 20 years.

"Clemmons West has emailed us to say if we have swimmers who want to come and join their team there would be places for them," she said.

Swimmer Megan Grey, 14, said she will swim for Oak Valley this summer. "It's going to be different," she said. She had swum for the Hurricanes since she was 5.

"I was a little shocked," she said when she heard the news. "When you're swimming there you feel it's going to be there forever. But I can cope with it."

Mackintosh said the parents' meeting will determine if the group can survive.

"If 20 people show up, we wouldn't have the money. A lot of the families want to stay with us, but it might just be for this year. It's all up in the air."

Parents Working With Y To Practice At Cooleemee

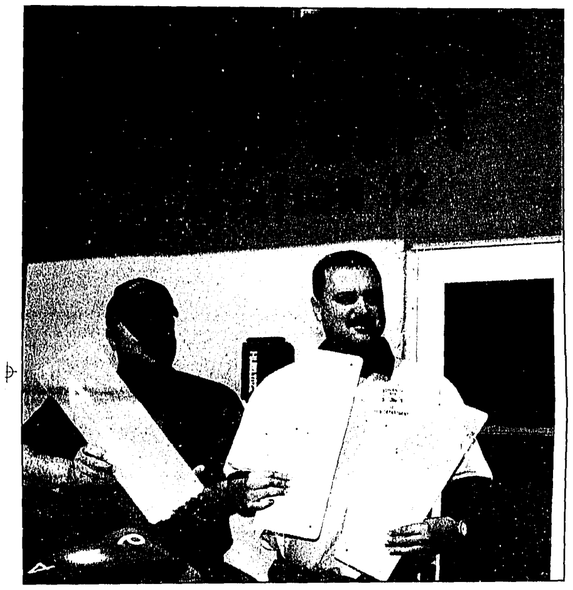

Mr. William Burnette has decided not to reopen the pool at Hickory Hill. Therefore, the swim team, formerly known as the Hickory Hill Hurricanes, will no longer be.

However, being that swimmers are a dedicated, persevering group of athletes, this swim team will be changing its name, of course, and it will be practicing at the Cooleemee Pool.

An arrangement has been reached with the Davie Family YMCA which will allow the swim team practice times. All families of swimmers on the team must purchase a family season pass. For Cooleemee town residents and Davie Family YMCA members, the cost will be $120. For swimmers who do not live in the town of Cooleemee and are not members of the Davie Family YMCA, the cost is $180 for the summer. There is a fee for joining the swim team, which helps pay coaches salaries and supplies.

For more information and to sign up on this swim team, please attend a meeting on April 25 at 3 p.m. at the Zachary House in Cooleemee. All levels of swimmers, from preschool to 18 years old, are welcome.

An Important Number

Firefighters Selling Reflective Street Markers

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise Record

Little blue and green reflector street numbers have been popping up along Davie County roads in recent weeks.

Firefighters love to see them.

Three county volunteer fire departments are sponsoring the project to erect the street number signs as a way to spot homes during emergency calls at night.

"We had a call the other night. There's no way I would have found them," said Advance fireman Rodney Miller. Fortunately, his brother, David, also a fireman, knew the people who had made the call and could go straight to the house.

Rodney Miller cited Peoples Creek Road as an example of the firemen's difficulty. "There are little numbers on the mailboxes, but you can't see them from that big old truck."

Advance, Smith Grove and William R. Davie fire departments are selling the signs as a fund-raiser and for safety reasons.

"It's going to cut the response time. It will save time and save lives," David Miller predicted. "The quicker we get there, the better."

Miller said he was first sold on the reflective signs when he went to visit his son for the first time in Tyrell County. He arrived at night, not knowing where the house was. But there was a reflective sign at the street.

"It's like you turn a light on," Miller said. "We went straight to his house because of the sign."

The signs are visible for up to 100 yards.

Miller serves as the Advance medical response coordinator and has encountered difficulty finding houses at night.

"A lot of them don't have any kind of sign," he said.

While houses in Davie County are supposed to have numbers posted, there is no enforcement or penalties. Expensive brass letters may look good during the day, but they are hard to spot at night.

People who have made an emergency call are often told to turn their outdoor lights on. Miller recalled one call he arrived on the street, and nearly every house had its outdoor lights on.

The firemen want people to post the reflective signs at their mailboxes.

"If we cant' find you, we can't help you," Miller said.

The signs come in two colors, blue and green. Red signs indicate the home of a fireman or emergency response member.

The fire department is making $7.50 in profit on the signs.

In Advance, Miller's wife, Terri, is numbering the signs. The firemen will erect the signs, if necessary, for a fee.

Several businesses are helping the firemen market the signs. The signs are $15.50.

In the Advance district, Bixby Convenience Store, Advance Barber Shop, Advance Country Store, L&S Convenience Store and Reichels Bread Store are selling the signs.

Service To America

Davie To Honor World War II Veterans

All World War II veterans in Davie County will be recognized by the county on Memorial Day, two days after the dedication of the National World War II memorial in Washington, D.C.

"Realizing that many World War II veterans will not be able to travel to the nation's capital for a variety of reasons, it is appropriate for Davie County to reach out to our fellow veterans at home and coordinate a tribute to them with the entire community," said Norm Carlton, Davie's veterans's service officer.

Davie will observe Memorial Day on Monday, May 31 at noon at the Brock Performing Arts Center, North Main Street, Mocksville. The community is invited.

The Davie Board of Commissioners will honor World War II veterans of Davie County by presenting them with an official "Service to America" certificate.

If you reside in Davie County and served in the Armed Forces of the United States at any time between Dec. 7, 1941 and Dec. 31, 1946 and was honorably discharged, you are eligible for a certificate.

Make an application with the Davie County Veterans Service Office in Room 103 of the County Office Building, South Main Street, 751-2010, FAX 751-2602. Office hours are Monday and Tuesday, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., and Wednesdays, 8 a.m.-noon. Applications will be accepted until May 19.

"I had always thought about moving back down here," Taylor said. "It's just better down here."

Much of the charm of the house, in addition to the construction, comes from the family heirlooms. Furniture, photographs, chalk paintings, and collectibles fill the house.

Other homes on the tour:

Spotlight on Business

DHSS Christian Books and School Supplies has moved to 127 North Salisbury Street, Mocksville, and is celebrating its grand opening.

DHSS Christian Books & School Supplies

Regardless of the endeavor, DHSS Christian Books and School Supplies owners Tina and Carl Tatum always rely on their cornerstone belief–spirituality and faith can carry you a long way.

Starting with a small home-school supply store that opened in their home in 1997, the Tatums have successfully built a thriving family business that is currently in its seventh year of operation. Now operating out of a retail location in Mocksville, the Tatums recently decided to expand the store inventory and offer Christian items.

Expanded inventory includes Christian books, supplies

Tina says the decision was easy.

"We felt led by the Lord to add a Christian part to the store," she explained recently. "So many people are interested in Christian reading and we are excited to be able to offer them a wide selection of things to choose from."

In addition to Christian books, the expanded inventory at DHSS Christian Books and School Supplies also includes a host of other items such as teaching materials for Bible school, Christian gifts, Sunday school teaching materials, church supplies, vacation Bible school materials and bulletin board sets for churches as well as home-based and public schools.

"We also have a kids play area in the store so that Mom and Dad can shop while the little ones enjoy themselves too," notes Tina.

All churches receive 10% discount

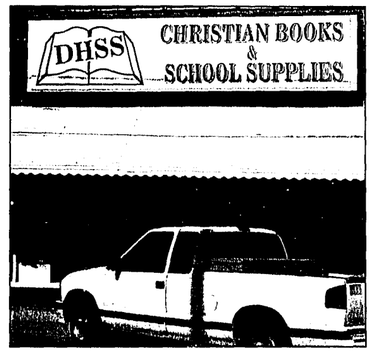

DHSS Christian Books and School Supplies is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchant's Association of Mocksville. They offer a 10% discount for all churches all of the time.

Tina explains, "Trust in the Lord and he will support us. We want to do the same for all the area churches."

Grand opening April 19-24

There is a grand opening going on all this week starting Monday, April 19th and running through Saturday, April 24.

"We are offering a buy one, get one free special on all items," adds Tina. "Plus we will also offer free start-up packets for home schooling, special added discounts on certain items and up to 80% off of our books."

There will be free drawings throughout the week and on Thursday there will be an Alpha Omega representative on site from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. to answer any questions about home schooling.

Ugly Roof Stains?

American Roof-Brite can remove them

American Roof-Brite has the answer for those unsightly, if not damaging stains that appear on shingle roofs. Professional roof cleaner and American Roof-Brite owner Don Sunday is the expert behind the business. With over 30 years of roof-cleaning experience, American Roof-Brite has the knowledge and technical skill to kill roof fungus spores, the usual cause of the black or discoloring stains on asphalt and fiberglass shingles.

Don bought his American Roof-Brite dealership over four years ago, after researching the company and its product. What he likes to impress upon his customers is the method he uses to clean roofs.

The first step is to apply an environmentally safe, biodegradable cleaning compound to the roof area. This application sits on the roof for several minutes. The formula eats away at the cause of the roof stains, fungus. This is one of the steps that separates American Roof-Brite from other roof cleaners, who just spray the roof with a high-pressure wash.

The next step for Don is a low-pressure/high volume wash. Don is passionate to let his clients know that this low-pressure wash is an important difference in roof cleaning technique. Most people assume that what a roof needs is a high-pressure wash. This, Don says, could not be farther from the truth. In fact, a high-pressure wash usually causes damage to a roof, tearing up shingles from the roof, which can result in interior water damage. Not good. The low-pressure/high volume method used by American Roof-Brite has been trusted by homeowners for over 30 years.

The third, and final step that Don incorporates, is the application of a stainblocker, or sealer. This layer of protection is guaranteed to prevent fungus growth for three years.

Roof stains are not just ugly, but the fungus that causes them can damage your home. Merely washing your roof is not enough. The three-step process used by Don Sunday and American Roof-Brite is an environmentally safe, professionally proven method for killing roof fungus, and preventing it.

American Roof-Brite is owned by Don Sunday. You can reach Don at (336)-785-2030.

The Week Of The Young Child

Smart Start Director Advocates Education, Support For Caregivers

"We must focus on the needs of young children which are diverse and sometimes complicated, but most importantly include education and support of parents, families and other caregivers."
-Anna Eichhorn

By Anna Eichhorn
Davie Partnership for Children

It's the week of the young child.

There are so many special days, weeks and months set aside for important people in our society that many times we aren't sure which month we are celebrating.

There is one important group that we all need to remember and celebrate, our children.

One week each year is set aside to celebrate the 35 million children ages birth-8 years old in the United States and the families, teachers and other adults who help them on their path to success.

The Week of the Young Child was designated to focus public attention on the needs of young children and their families and to support the early childhood programs and services that meet those needs. The year that week is April 18-24.

One group in Davie County has made it their mission to ensure: "All Davie County children will enter school ready for success." The Davie County Partnership for Children, since it started in 1999, has advocated for young children in all aspects of their growth and development.

The Week of the Young Child is a time to recognize how important the early years are to a child's future development and success in school. Research and experience clearly show that children's earliest years are crucial learning years.

There has been a grassroots effort in our state for a number of years that has touted the benefits of early learning. That effort is growing each year because research supports and shows the importance of early childhood education.

Using developmentally appropriate practices, we encourage literacy and learning, improving health and safety programs, and supporting the family's crucial role in early education.

As a caring and involved community we can pat ourselves on the back for the work that has already been done. What we cannot do is sit back and become complacent with our past success; we must continue to plan how we as citizens of a community, of a state, and of a nation will better meet the needs of all young children. We must focus on the needs of young children which are diverse and sometimes complicated but most importantly include education and support of parents, families and other caregivers. Let's work together to ensure Davie children enter school ready for success.

Eichhorn Heads Partnership

The Davie County Partnership for children, the county's local advocate and voice for young children, recently hired a new executive director, Anna Eichhorn, formerly with the Davie United Way.

Eichhorn plans to utilize her talents and experience to tackle difficult issues facing children birth to 5 year old and their families in Davie County.

"I spent the first several months looking at the issues facing local young children and creating a plan to help ensure the success of our mission: All Davie County children will enter school ready for success."

"One of the largest challenges that I have been able to identify is the lack of public awareness about the partnership."

Since its implementation in 1999, the Davie County Partnership for Children (DCPC) has been providing services for the young children of Davie County. Each year, the DCPC Board of Directors reviews proposals in the areas of childcare quality, children's health issues and family support. Approved programs are implemented using a combination of private contributions and Smart Start funding from the state of North Carolina.

The following three areas are examples of program funding the DCPC Board of Directors have supported and felt met the needs of Davie County children.

Early Care and Education

• Technical assistance, intensive training, mentoring and curriculum ideas to childcare providers that enhances the quality of care in their facilities.

• Encouragement and bonuses for providers to obtain Early Childhood degrees which help to increase the county star ratings.

• Salary supplements for childcare teachers which help to decrease the turnover rates in childcare facilities.

Health

• Affordable early intervention services for children with or at risk for special needs.

• Training and professional advice in developing appropriate health policies and procedures for childcare facilities.

• Health assessments, immunization and record checks, screenings and referrals.

Family Support

• Lending Library full of educational books, toys, games and videos for parents and providers to check out.

• Childcare Resource and Referral telephone line that offers information on childcare options, importance of quality in childcare, parent education on family related issues and community resources.

• School readiness and kindergarten screening activities which encourage parent participation.

• Assistance to parents in affording quality care for their children.

"We work with a variety of service providers to identify and help meet the needs of all our children. There are few people, especially parents, which would not agree with the statement - 'We want the absolute best for our children so they have ample opportunities for success in school and later in life,' " Eichhorn said.

Personally, I do not know one parent that wants to watch their child struggle or fail in school, we all want to see children succeed in whatever they try to accomplish."

Through early intervention, school readiness activities, health awareness and parenting education; our hope is to spread the word about the importance of early learning.

Davie County Partnership for Children's success depends on the collaborative efforts of business and community leaders, parents, teachers, local agencies and the faith community.

The recent introduction of a new Child Care Resource and Referral line dedicated for Davie County is the first step in reaching out to parents and providers. This service will offer solutions to whatever issues they face. To find our more about services and available resources or more importantly what you can do to make a difference in a child's life, call 751-2113 or visit the website: www.daviesmartstart.org.

To use the Childcare Resource and Referral information line dial 753-6922. Many office and at home volunteer opportunities are available.

Research shows that children develop better when they play regularly with their parents.

Parents And Play: It Helps The Children

It has been said that parents are their child's first playmates.

Not only do parents have an important role in choosing appropriate toys for their children but also research shows that children who play regularly with their parents enjoy the greatest development benefits. For children fortunate enough to have grandparents and other extended family members who live nearby, playtime with these special adults also can be enriching.

Supervision of play enables the adult to read instructions and ensure that toys are being safely assembled, used, stored and maintained. It also provides an opportunity to observe and learn more about the personality, abilities and interests of the child, which can guide in the selection of future toy purchases.

While supervision is critical, the richest play occurs when parents or other adults take an active role and play alongside the child. Observe your child. Take his/her lead. Offer new ways to play and have fun. Too often, parents think they are too busy to play with their children. Yet, children grow up while we are washing dishes and opening mail. Sometimes life can wait.

10 STEPS TO FUN AND SAFE PLAY

Before shopping for toys, consider child's age, interests and abilities.

Read labels. Look for age ranges and safety warnings.

Be especially careful when choosing toys for children under 3. No small pieces/no sharp edges or points.

Carefully read instructions for assembling and use.

Remove all packaging before giving it to a baby or child.

Consider the home environment, a child will play with a toy and younger children who may be there.

Supervise children when they play. Set good examples of safe play.

Remind caregivers, including grandparents, of play related safety.

Choose a safe storage place for toys.

Check toys at least every three months to determine their safety. Make any repairs immediately or throw away damaged toys.

Kindergarten A Turning Point For Your Child

Kindergarten is a turning point for your child.

Even if your child has attended preschool, they will be expected to be much more grown up as he/she enters elementary school, and they will be given more responsibilities and more independence.

"Regular school is much larger and more confusing social setting than any they have known before," said Cammie Walker, kindergarten transition specialist for the Davie County Schools. "Even though your child's class may be no larger than the one in preschool, they may spend part of each day mixing with children from older classes.

"Therefore, your must be prepared emotionally not only for the task they will be expected to do but also for the challenges of being one of the youngest in a big school."

Try these ways to help prepare your child for school: encourage curiosity and a desire to learn; help your child develop a healthy self-esteem; encourage your child's verbal skills; help with small and large muscle development; allow age-appropriate independence and responsibilities; and encourage cooperative group behavior.

Before school begins make sure that you have contacted your home school to register your child and to meet the teachers and principal your child will be spending time with. If you do now know which school your child will be at tending or have questions about registration, call Central Office at 751-5921.

Begin preparing your child for kindergarten by talking to him about going to school.

Explain how their routine will change after school starts. Get them involved in choosing their school clothes. Drive or walk by the school occasionally to help them get a picture of where they will be going to school in the fall.

"When parents are excited about the school experience, the child is more likely to look forward to going to kindergarten," Walker said. "Treat going to school as something that is expected of your child and accepted by you as part of growing up.

"Develop a simple daily schedule of activities and routines to help them adjust to what school will be like. This will help them to develop a sense of time.

"As parents, we all want our children to do well in school," Walker said. "Start early in preparing your child for school."

If you have questions about what your child will be expected to do in kindergarten and how you can help prepare them, contact Walker at 751-7704.

This article and the Kindergarten Transition Specialist are supported through funding from Davie County Partnership for Children.

Resource Center Offers Services In Davie

Work Family Resource Center (WFRC) is a private nonprofit child care resource and referral agency created in 1991 to provide child care resource and referral services to parents and child care programs in Forsyth County. The agency recently signed an agreement with the Davie County Partnership for Children to offer similar services in Davie County.

WFRC's mission is to provide consumer education, referral and resource to promote quality child care in the community. WFRC will provide referral and consumer education to parents needing help for finding child care while they work or attend school. It can be a challenging task for parents to sort through the various options to determine which programs might meet their family's needs.

WFRC's parent specialist can help parents (English and Spanish speaking) by providing information about the guidelines governing child care programs, items that they should look for when selecting child care facilities and information on child care options located near their home or on route to work.

The agency also contracts with a number of corporations to provide enhanced referral services, including child care resource and referral services, nanny search services and parents seminars. Some of the local employers that offer this service as a benefit to their employees include Baptist Hospital, Wake Forest University, Pepsi, Krispy Kreme, RJR and Sara Lee. The enhanced services saves time for employees by giving them access to a parent specialist that works with them until they have made a decision about their child care arrangement.

The parent specialist reduces the legwork by finding facilities that have vacancies for the parent or that best match the family's need.

WFRC also offers services to improve the quality and availability of child care in the community. WFRC maintains a database of child care programs in Davie and Forsyth Counties ranging from traditional child care programs to mothers morning out programs to summer camps. WFRC offers start up workshops for individuals interested in opening child care programs in their homes.

WFRC is a sponsor of the Child Care and Adult Food Program for licensed family child care homes. This program helps child care providers serve nutritious meals to the children in their care.

If you know of a parent who needs help finding child care, someone who is interested in opening a family child care home, or participating in the CACFP (Food Program), or would benefit from additional information about our services, have them call 753-6922.

In the rising of the sun and in its going down, we remember you
In the blowing of the wind and in the chill of Winter,
we remember you
In the opening of buds and in the rebirth of Spring,
we remember you
In the blueness of sky and in the warmth of Summer,
we remember you
In the rustling of the leaves and in the beauty of Autumn,
we remember you
In the beginning of the year and when it ends, we remember you
When we are weary and in need of strength, we remember you
When we are lost and sick at heart, we remember you
When we have joys we yearn to share, we remember you
So long as we live, you too shall live, for you are part of us, as we remember you
We will miss you always and love you forever.

Protecting Storm Water Runoff

National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System program? What's that and why do I care?

It's a program put into place under the Clean Water Act to protect storm water runoff from contaminating local water sources with the oil and other pollutants it picks up on the way to local streams.

Huh?

The short version is it's a federal mandate that requires local governments to make sure their water sources remain clean. The program is being phased in slowly. Phase I affected large municipalities, like Winston-Salem, Raleigh, Greensboro and Charlotte a few years ago.

Now we're entering into Phase II of the program, which affects smaller municipalities, including Bermuda Run and parts of Davie County. At least it could. It recently came to light that there might be a way to opt out of the program, which is being looked into.

If we can't opt out, then we would be required to follow the guidelines of this unfunded mandate, which requires inspections for new large construction sites, and a county-wide education program. You wondered why Greensboro suddenly started putting ads on TV about their storm drains, didn't you? Now you know.

But even if Davie County is able to opt out of the program, we still need to protect our streams and rivers since that's where our drinking water comes from. It's not that hard to do on a personal level.

HERE ARE SOME STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO ENSURE OUR WATER STAYS SAFE:

- Keep leaves and clippings out of storm drain inlets and drainage culverts so storm runoff can run freely.
- Wash your car at a carwash or on your lawn instead of a driveway.
- Keep cars and gas powered lawn equipment tuned-up so they aren't leaking toxic fluids onto the ground where they will be washed into the rivers after a rain.
- Do not fertilize your lawn before it rains. The fertilizer will only be washed away. Instead fertilize after a rain, and be sure to keep fertilizer on the grass and not on surrounding paved surfaces.
- Finally, lawns only need about an inch of water per week. Don't over-water.

Warm Weather Tips

After what seems to have been an extended period of winter weather, temperatures have warmed, the grass is green and spring is finally here! As folks move outside for more warm weather activities, we ask that you follow a few tips from the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) to keep safe.

Grilling Good Sense

According to the NFPA, in 1999, there were over 1,500 structure fires and 4,200 outdoor fires caused by gas and charcoal grills. Combined, they caused $29.8 million worth of property losses.

- When using barbecue grills on decks or patios, be sure to leave sufficient space from siding and eaves.
- Always supervise a barbecue grill when in use.
- Keep children and pets far away from grills.
- With charcoal grills, only use charcoal starter fluids designed for barbecue grills and do not add fluid after coals have been lit.
- With gas grills, be sure that the hose connection is tight and check hoses carefully for leaks. Applying soapy water to the hoses will easily and safely reveal any leaks.
- Always follow the manufacturer's instructions and have the grill repaired by a professional, if necessary.
- NEVER use grills indoors; carbon monoxide produced by grills kills

Scooter, Bike and Pedestrian Safety

Scooters, bikes, in-line skates and skateboards are associated with numerous injuries yearly. To protect yourself:

- Wear a comfortable, properly fitted helmet bearing the label of an independent testing lab. Be sure that the helmet sits level on top of the head not rocking in any direction-and always fasten the safety strap.
- Be sure that safety gear (wrist, elbow and kneepads) fits properly and does not interfere with the rider's movement, vision or hearing. Wrist pads are not recommended for scooter riders as they may affect their ability to maneuver.
- Ride scooters and bikes only on smooth, paved surfaces and only ride during daylight hours.
- Learn the proper hand signals and use them when you turn or stop.
- Come to a complete stop before entering driveways, paths or sidewalks, then look left, right and left again for bikes, cars or pedestrians heading your way.
- Teach crossing safety to children by example

Water Safety

Extra caution should be used when around water, for children and adults alike:

- Only swim in approved areas.
- Supervise children near water at all times and make sure that children learn to swim.
- Check the depth of the water with a lifeguard before jumping in.
- Always wear a U.S. Coast Guard-approved PFD (personal flotation device) when boating, jet-skiing, tubing or water-skiing. Air-filled swimming aids, like water wings or inner tubes, are not substitutes for approved PFDs. An adult should always supervise children using these devices.
- Be sure to extinguish all smoking materials and shut down motors, fans and heating devices before fueling a boat. In case of a spill, wipe up fuel immediately and check the bilge for fuel leakage and odors. After fueling and before starting the boat's motor, ventilate with the blower for at least four minutes

Finally, A Word About Home Fire Safety

- In 2002, 79% of civilian fire deaths resulted from home fires. There is a civilian home fire injury every 38 minutes.
- Cooking is the leading cause of home fires.
- Smoking is the leading cause of home fire deaths.

You can increase your chance of surviving a home fire by having working smoke alarms, creating and practicing a home escape plan and by eliminating potential fire hazards around your home.

For more information on fire prevention, contact the Davie County Fire Marshal's Office at 751-0453 or george.frye@co.davie.nc.us Get Alarmed, North Carolina!

The Davie County Fire Marshal's Office applied for and received a grant from the N. C. Department of Health & Human Services to install smoke alarms in selected homes.

The targeted population is homes with one of the following:

- Children under the age of 5
- Adults over the age of 64
- Persons with disabilities

Local fire departments will perform the installations. If you know of a home needing a smoke alarm and meeting the criteria, please call the Fire Marshal's Office at 751-0453.

Landlords are also reminded of their responsibility under the law to provide a sufficient number of approved working smoke detectors at the beginning of each tenancy.

Ask the Health Department

The Health Department is at the forefront in dealing with health concerns like clean water, safe food supplies, heart diseases, strokes, infectious disease, workplace injuries, lead poisoning and emergency preparedness.

Have health related questions? Email them to ask.susan@co.davie.nc.us. The questions will be forwarded to the appropriate personnel for responses.

Celebrate Earth Day By Cleaning Up

The convenience site will be accepting residential trash (no commercial haulers) from Davie County residents from 7:30am – noon.

Grout Huge Reason For Wingate's Success

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

The Wingate College softball team's No. 1 pitcher quit the team in late February, putting a dark cloud over a proud program. No cause for panic. It turned out the Bulldogs could afford the loss. How did they overcome unexpected turmoil from a player who won 27 games and logged 238 innings in 2003? They saddled Layne Grout, galloped to an eight-game winning streak in late March and last week wrapped up second place in the South Atlantic Conference to add another chapter to Coach Michelle Caddigan's winning tradition.

Grout

Wingate had leaned on Katie Wallace ever since she was a freshman in 2001. Through the early stages of her senior year, Wallace had a career record of 67-28 and 613 innings. Grout was Wallace's understudy as a freshman and started 2004 in the same spot-duty role. Wingate did not appear to be in need of any Grout gems.

But then, Wallace up and quit. That opened the door for Grout. Wingate's long run of success has continued for lots of reasons, but none have been more crucial than Grout's rescue act.

"Our No. 1 pitcher quit, so that immediately put Layne as the leader on the mound," Caddigan said in early April. "She was thrown into a situation where she's our go-to pitcher now, and she has stepped up tremendously. She hadn't had that role, so she's truly risen to the occasion. And I'm very proud of her.

"We had a talk that afternoon (on Feb. 25), and her concern was she had big shoes to fill. But I explained to her that she's Layne Grout and not Katie Wallace. I told her to pitch like Layne Grout, we've got a defense behind her and things are going to be OK."

Grout took over as ace pitcher in the most difficult circumstances, against South Carolina teams from the vaunted Peach Belt Conference. A month ago the lefthander went into a highlight tear that bordered on unbelievable: a 6-0 record and 0.00 ERA during Wingate's eight-game winning streak. The run earned Grout SAC Pitcher of the Week honors.

Last weekend the Bulldogs closed the regular season at 28-14 and 9-5 in the SAC. It's conceivable the Bulldogs dip below third for the first time in Caddigan's eight years without Grout's emergence. They might lament Wallace's loss if Grout doesn't hurl one great game after another. They likely stumble if Grout doesn't make a name for herself.

Caddigan raved about Grout's composure under pressure.

"It was a tough situation," she said. "She hadn't had very many innings under her belt, and her first game was against a Peach Belt school, and that's the strongest region in the country. She got thrown to the wolves, and after that day she's progressively gotten better and better and better. We're counting on her to lead the way."

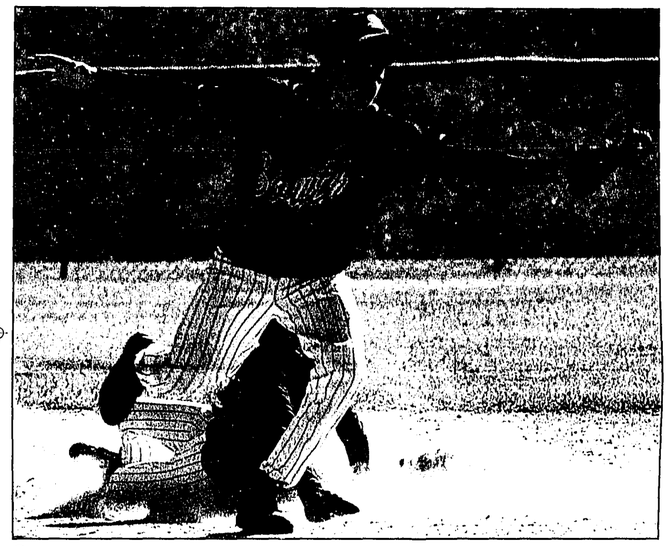

Pitching behind Shannon Handy, who happens to be a star for rival Catawba, prepared Grout for the competitive rigors of college. Grout went 4-0 as a Davie High junior, but was overshadowed by Handy, who drove a 20-2 machine with a 15-1 record and 0.59 ERA. Grout was overpowering as a senior (1.49 ERA with 151 strikeouts in 131 innings), but she lacked support as Davie hit .233 and staggered to 9-11.

Last year as a freshman, Grout performed admirably as Wallace's backup, going 7-3 with a 3.13 ERA in 69 1/3 innings. Through last weekend she was 11-5 with a 3.05 ERA in 110 innings, leading the staff in wins, innings, appearances and starts.

Caddigan couldn't help but fall in love with Grout's attitude and courage.

"Last year was going from all-everything in high school to college, and that's a tough transition," she

Simpson, Davie Defense Shine In Soccer Loss

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Despite a 3-0 loss at West Forsyth on April 8, Davie varsity soccer couch Pete Gustafson left the field with a grin on his lips. The reason? Kami Simpson was magical at goalkeeper. Simpson was something to behold while making one brilliant save after another.

"She was absolutely outstanding," Gustafson said. "I mean she had 33 saves. That's got to be a school record. The highlights were Kami Simpson. Everything was Kami Simpson as far as when the shots were taken. It was the performance of her life. It was unbelievable. Unbelievable."

Things Get Worse For Davie Baseball During Hard Times

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Davie's varsity baseball team had a miserable night in last week's 6-2 Central Piedmont Conference loss to visiting North Davidson. Unfortunately for Davie, it was a typical night - no offensive punch and poor defense.

Emert

Coach Mike Herndon called a closed-door meeting afterward. Unfortunately for the War Eagles, that was nothing new in a season where Herndon has regularly put them through tough practices and delivered emotional speeches in a vain attempt to turn things around.

Herndon was downright depressed after they fell to 5-11 and 2-5 in the CPC. They haven't played anywhere close to his expectations and time is running out to reverse the slide. The sixth-year Davie coach has asked, pleaded and begged his players to come together as a team. Nearly two months into the season, they haven't responded.

"We talked after the game," he

Davie Softball Meets North Davidson's Top Freshman

A one-hit shutout is a landmark game for most pitchers. But for North Davidson freshman Danielle Glosson, last week's 3-0 win over Davie's varsity softball team in Welcome was just another day at the office in a torrid season.

Which begs the question: How could someone be so wickedly awesome as a freshman? The short answer: Glosson, who was coming off a 19-strikeout performance in a 5-0 win over South Rowan, is the type of freshman that comes around once every decade or two.

"She doesn't look like a freshman, her build or anything," Davie coach Janice Jackson said after the War Eagles fell to 4-6 and 0-2 in the Central Piedmont Conference. "She doesn't act like a freshman, either."

North scored three runs in the first inning and sat on it as Glosson put together another masterpiece in a season that includes four no-hitters. As hard as it is to believe, she fanned one or two batters in four innings, blew away the side on three occasions and mowed down Davie's final eight batters on strikes to finish with 16 Ks.

North jumped on Amy Alexander with three hits in the first, and that was ultimately the game. When you give Glosson a cushy lead, it's all but over.

"Danielle still has a long ways to go, but the kids are doing a super job behind her," North coach Mike Lambros said. "But when you have a three-run lead with her pitching, you feel pretty good."

Davie managed two baserunners. Hannah Tierney singled in the second and Whitney Williams walked in the third.

"We couldn't get the bat on the ball," Jackson said. "(Glosson's) best pitch is a rise ball. She's good. No doubt about it. Can you imagine (Glosson and West Forsyth junior pitcher Mendy McKenzie) on the same team, like they're supposed to be? That girl (Glosson) lives behind West Forsyth High School."

Davie just missed two hits. Tierney sent a rope right to the center fielder, and Kaitlin Hall lined out to the second baseman.

"If it's five feet either way, it would have been at least a double," Jackson said of Tierney's shot. "A lot of them didn't get the bat on the ball, but the ones that did hit it hard. It just went right at somebody."

Jackson couldn't complain about her pitching and defense. After three of North's first four batters reached on hits, Alexander settled down and hurled five shutout innings. The sophomore ace walked a tightrope in four of those five innings, but found a way to keep the game 3-0.

"We were pleased with our defense because we didn't shut down after they scored three runs," she said. "Amy did fine and our defense backed her up."

Get this: When Tierney stole second in the second, it was not the first stolen base against North, but the first stolen-base attempt against North all season.

"Probably because there haven't been many on base," Jackson said. "That's probably true because nobody hardly went over there to cover second, and Lambros was yelling at them."

The Black Knights are their usual intimidating powerhouse. Since the Shannon Handy era, which saw Davie beat North six times in a span of seven games, they are 6-0 against Worth Noting ...

Kelsey Shipman of N. Davie dished out 3 assists in an 8-0 soccer win over S. Davie.

Junior Kami Simpson of Davie's varsity soccer team made a mind-boggling 33 saves in a 3-0 loss to W. Forsyth.

John McDaniel of Davie's varsity baseball improved to 3-0 in a 6-5 win over N. Rowan. He struck out 10, walked none and ended North's 5-game winning streak.

Colby Seaford of S. Davie went 4 for 5 in a 14-10 win over China Grove.

Saxon Pratt debuted on the mound with a two-hitter in four innings and added two hits as Davie's JV baseball buried E. Rowan 12-0. Zach Howard homered in a 10-9 loss to N. Davidson and achieved multiple hits for the seventh time in eight games.

Sophomore Hannah Tierney, who had the Davie varsity softball team's only hit against Danielle Glosson in a 3-0 loss to N. Davidson, has a five-game hitting streak that has lifted her average to .360.

Lance Emert, the Davie varsity baseball team's lone .300 hitter, has hit safely in 10 of 11 games.

Erratic Davie Splits Two In Easter Tournament

John McDaniel is having quite a sophomore season. Aside from a rough relief appearance against West Forsyth, he has been golden.

In the first round of the eight-team Cliff Peeler Easter Tournament at Salisbury High on April 9, the unbeaten righthander gave Davie's varsity baseball team just what it needed: A strong complete-game outing that enabled Davie to beat North Rowan 6-5 after the War Eagles had lost three of four and two straight.

McDaniel

McClannon

In a third straight complete-game win that erased the bitter taste of defeat from the previous game, McDaniel (3-0) held a North team that had won five straight and nine of 12 to four hits.

One day later in the semifinals, however, the War Eagles (5-10) fell to 0-5 in games following a win, losing 10-2 to East Rowan.

But first the good news. McDaniel came back from a dreadful one-third-of-an-inning relief appearance against W. Forsyth, which scored nine first-inning runs that day and won 11-0.

"Don't throw meat," McDaniel said when asked what he learned from the West game. "It made me concentrate more on hitting my spots and keeping it low."

The War Eagles made the most of seven hits. Andrew McClannon accounted for two of them as they built a 5-0 lead and held on. McClannon crushed the ball after spending seven games in a funk, singling sharply to left, blasting a two-run double to deep center and flying out to deep left. The latter two might have been homers at Rich Park.

Even with the slump, McClannon extended his team lead in RBIs, 15 in 14 games.

"I can only wish it would have been at Rich Park. It's pretty deep out there," McClannon said of Salisbury's pitcher-friendly park. "Coach (Mike) Herndon has worked with me a lot, and I think I got my swing back again. He told me I was doing a hitch in my swing and I got rid of that tonight. That was a pretty good win."

McDaniel, who carried a one-hitter into the fifth, stung North at the dish as well, slapping a two-strike double to score Brad Corriher, who lined a single to trigger the two-run second.

Zach Vogler, Whit Merrifield and McClannon provided hits during a three-run fifth, and it turned out that Davie needed every bit of them. Vogler drew a bases-loaded walk to make it 6-1 in the sixth.

McDaniel, meanwhile, cruised for four innings, facing two above the minimum until his own throwing error ended the shutout in the fifth. His outing wasn't stress-free. In the sixth, North turned three hits and an error into four runs, closing the gap to 6-5.

But McDaniel responded with a 1-2-3 seventh as Davie held on and surpassed last year's win total. A knee-bending curveball translated into 10 strikeouts, he didn't walk anyone and he frustrated North by persistently painting the outside corner.

In McDaniel's three-game winning streak as a starter, he has struck out 22 and walked four.

"We needed a win," Herndon said with a sigh. "When McDaniel gets that low strike call, he's tough."

Notes: Sophomore Corriher got the start at first base because of an ankle injury to Ted Randolph. ... Freshman Brandon Stewart had a sac bunt and walk. ... Andrew Beck came off the bench and doubled to help Davie score the vital sixth run.

East Rowan 10, Davie 2

This semifinal contest had an all-too-familiar feel to it. After snapping North's nice winning streak, the War Eagles continued their maddening penchant for following every high moment with a downer.

Making the loss all the more disappointing was that the War Eagles collapsed in the seventh after rallying to 4-2, and they lost to a freshman pitcher with ordinary stuff when a win would have given them a good shot at winning the ninth-annual tournament. For the door was pushed wide open when juggernaut West Rowan, which had won eight straight and allowed two runs over four games for a 13-1 record, lost 5-4 to South Rowan, which has split two games with Davie.

"We had a great opportunity," said Herndon. "We're on a roller coaster. We're up and down, up and down, up and down."

Davie's starting pitcher, Timmy Erb, struggled early, walking the game's first two batters and paying for it when Jason Cauble launched his fourth homer of the season. But the junior righthander settled down and shut East down over the next five innings. Between the second and sixth, he allowed one run and kept Davie in contention.

East (9-5) tagged Erb hard in a six-run seventh, but not before a two-out error - one of four in the inning - kept him from getting out of it with just one run scored. Instead, Erb finished with 10 runs allowed, only four of which were earned.

The errors became magnified when Davie loaded the bases with one out in the bottom of the seventh.

"Timmy pitched well and he's been needing that," Herndon said. "We misplayed four balls and they scored six runs with two outs. He gave up two walks in the first and battled through that. If we get the out with the score 5-2, we've got the bases loaded and now the pressure's turned."

East's freshman hurler, Keegan Linza, entered with only 11 innings of high-school experience and an ERA over four. But that didn't stop him from holding Davie hitless for four innings.

"I asked our players and they said: 'We should be hitting him,' " said a perplexed Herndon.

Davie finally found life in the sixth. Merrifield chalked the third-base line for a triple. Foo Smith followed with a sac fly. After McClannon was robbed on a bouncer up the middle, Lance Emert smoked a single and Corriher cranked a double to deep left-center, pulling Davie to 4-2.

But it was too little, too late as Linza finished with a six-inning four-hitter.

Notes: Corriher answered the call while filling in for Randolph, getting a hit in each game and making an amazing catch on a rocket against East. ... Another bright spot was sophomore Timmy Allen's defense at catcher. He smothered countless 58-foot pitches. "He threw a guy out (trying to steal) and I don't think one ball got by him," Herndon said. ... Vogler walked twice, giving him a team-high 14. ... Merrifield had two of Davie's six hits. ... Emert has hit in seven of eight games since regaining his spot at shortstop. ... Randolph (.312) and Emert (.303) are Davie's only .300 hitters. ... Of the 105 runs Davie has allowed, only 58 are earned.

Herndon Has Talk With Fading Davie

said. "I said what I had to say and one of the players approached me and said: 'Coach, we feel like there's too much pressure on us.' But the bottom line is we're all going to be happy when we win, and losing takes its toll on coaches, takes its toll on players and takes its toll on everybody.

"We're capable of winning, but we've all got to think that. Some of them think I get mad when they don't play well, and I really don't get mad at them. I just want them to be successful. They deserve to win. It's our job to put them in situations and prepare them to win, and when that time comes they need to take advantage of it. Right now we're just not playing well enough. The potential's there - we've said it all along - they've just got to put it all together."

Last week's second of three meetings with North certainly didn't go the way the War Eagles envisioned. They faced the same pitcher they beat 7-2 in Welcome, but nothing went right while spotting North a 6-0 lead in the fourth.

Davie sputtered to six hits and compounded its problems with three fourth-inning errors. North pushed a 3-0 lead to 6-0 when Davie's defense bottomed out behind Andrew McClannon, who allowed two earned runs and struck out seven in six innings.

Among the season's lowlights: McClannon dropped his ERA to a commendable 2.83, but he has a 2-5 record to show for 37 innings. The War Eagles are hitting .244 and have produced double-figure hits just once, an 8-6 win over two-win Mount Tabor on March 2. They're averaging 4.1 runs and they've been outscored 111-66. Their team ERA isn't bad (3.90), but they've given up 51 unearned runs, an average of 3.1 a game.

They've lost four of five as flashbacks of last year (4-15, 2-8) continue to gather in everyone's minds. If there is a glint of light down there in the basement, it might come from the fact that Davie has six regular-season games left, along with the CPC Tournament at Davie.

"McClannon pitched well, but we didn't play defense behind him," Herndon said. "We've got to find a way to score runs. That's the bottom line. Look at South Rowan. They've really turned it on and won five or six in a row, and we beat them (once). We've got to do the same thing. We've got to get a couple wins under our belt, get a couple wins in a row and then I think we'll be OK. We've worked too hard, we've spent a lot of time out there, and it's time for us to start gaining something from it."

Notes: If there is a bright spot, it's that Lance Emert has hit safely in 10 of 11 games for a .305 average. No one else is in the .300s. ... Brad Corriher relieved in the seventh, escaped a bases-loaded, no-out jam and ran his scoreless streak to five innings. His streak spans three relief appearances. ... Foo Smith went 2 for 2 with two walks. ... In Davie's two-run fourth, McClannon scorched a double to left-center. ... Whit Merrifield reached twice and could have had three hits. But he lined out to third twice. ... Davie plays at Reynolds on April 24 at 2:30, at West Forsyth on April 27 at 7 and at South Rowan on April 30 at 7.

Cheerleader Wins National Titles

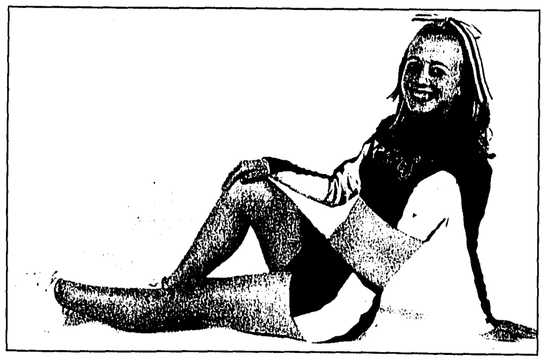

Emily Tierney, an eighth grade honor student at North Davie Middle School, won two national cheerleading titles this spring.

At the Spirit Xpress' Return to Atlantis National Cheerleading and Dance competition in Baltimore, Md. on April 2, she won first place in her division, individual middle school cheer, which represents seventh and eighth graders.

At the Cheersports Individual national Championship on April 16, a new national tournament for individual competitors, she won first place in the eighth grade division.

Emily is coached by Jennifer Mitchell, owner of Carolina Spirit Athletics, a first-year cheer gym in Clemmons.

Mitchell's youth squad struck pay dirt in Baltimore, as well, and took the national title in their division, youth small intermediate. This winning sixth grade and under squad, made up mostly of girls from Davie County, could keep the county blessed with talented cheerleaders for many years.

Emily Tierney, a North Davie Middle School eighth grader, won two individual cheerleading titles this month.

Notes: The War Eagles have lost two straight and three of four. They went 9-11 in 2002 and 10-9 last year. Their hopes for a sixth winning record in seven years could be in deep trouble, considering they have another game with North and S. Rowan and two against W. Forsyth. Analyst Gives Scouting ACC Report On Arnold

We've heard Davie football coach Doug Illing and his staff rave about Cooter Arnold's running-back credentials many times. Here's what ACC recruiting analyst Miller Safrit had to say about the Division-I prospect.

Auburn has offered Arnold a scholarship, and several more offers figure to come Arnold's way as he prepares to follow up a 1,900-yard rushing season.

Safrit said: "Playing both quarterback and running back on offense, in addition to cornerback, James "Cooter" Arnold has many of the tools that schools want on their team. He is patient, aware of his seams, and then has a good burst into an opening. His top-end speed is somewhat questionable, but he makes up for it in lateral movement, balance and terrific vision/anticipation. Cutbacks are his main source of big runs. Appears to be best suited for offense and playing in space."

To The Rescue: Grout Leads Wingate To Second Place

said. "She didn't get a lot of playing time her freshman year, but when we needed her she certainly got the job done. She handled that role. Her response to me was always: 'Whatever you need me to do for the team.' For a coach that's immeasurable. I truly think she meant that, and good things come to those who wait.

"Layne's got a great curveball. She has a slow curve and a fast curve that comes into righthanded batters. When she has those two working with her changeup, she can do good things. She can dominate a game."

Grout said her mental edge has been the biggest reason for her success.

"It was shocking - extremely shocking - (when Wallace quit). I was scared half to death," she said. "Instead of feeling nervous, I went out and felt sorry for the batters. I went after them. I tried to take them over and it ended up working out for me. It wasn't, 'I hope to do well.' It was, 'I'm going to do well.' "

Grout - who doesn't mind sharing the spotlight with freshman pitcher Brittney Taylor, who is 10-6 with a 2.13 ERA - said playing with an explosive offense makes it fun on the mound. Simply put, things could not have worked out better for her.

"(Taylor and I) help each other out," she said. "I can't imagine being at any other place but here."

Notes: Caddigan has a terrific track record. Entering the week her eight-year record was 254-134 overall and 78-32 in the SAC. She reached the 50, 100, 150 and 200-win plateaus quicker than any other softball coach in SAC history.

Schafer Named All-Northwest

Senior Allison Schafer made the All-Northwest basketball team. The two-time All-Central Piedmont Conference selection was one of 15 players named.

The six-footer was first or second in every statistical category for Davie. She averaged 14.6 points, 8.0 rebounds, 3.5 assists and 3.2 steals, leading the way in all four categories. Schafer was second in three-pointers (23) and blocked shots (13).

'Unbelievable' Plays Made By Simpson In Defeat

posed to struggle against a West team that improved to 8-3 and 3-0 in the CPC. Gustafson knew Davie would have a difficult time keeping it close if the defense didn't come up with a near-perfect performance. The 14th-year coach couldn't say enough about that defense. Carly Booth, Sharon Woodward, Justine Gamble, Kourtney Hanrahan, Sully Lackey and Meredith Phillips were guilty while repeatedly knocking away West scoring threats, and Simpson made it feel like a win.

Phillips

Gamble

Simpson did more than just keep Davie, which trailed 1-0 after 52 minutes and just 2-0 with three minutes to play, in striking distance for most of the game. She won over an archrival opponent's crowd.

"She flicked seven or eight shots that bounced off the post, and they would have been goals," Gustafson said. "I saw her diving like I've never seen.

"Obviously they outshot us incredibly (34-4), but it was a very exciting game. The other parents from West were clapping. I was stopped and my assistant (JV coach Kerstin Plagemann) was stopped half a dozen times by West people: 'Just want to congratulate your keeper. That's the best we've ever seen. You guys were awesome. You played hard.' It was a heckuva game, and it was just fun to be there."

The War Eagles had enough heart to pull the upset, but didn't have enough answers for West's 100-yard relentlessness.

"They have 18 to 22 girls who play Classic and Premier," he said. "They were on us, they were shooting, they were pounding. But boy oh boy, we gave them a match. We never gave up. We took Alyson Walker off midfield in the last three minutes and let her man roam free. We had to take a chance, and they scored with 40 seconds left. So it was 2-0 for 79 minutes. We were in the game.

"Am I happy that we lost? No. Am I happy the way we played? Defensively, yes. We're getting better. Our defense is marking and talking."

Gustafson marveled at his defense, breaking down each part.

"Booth was the quarterback and helped us thwart dozens of attacks," he said. "Woodward played great. Gamble doesn't give up anything. Hanrahan is so hard on you. She will flat take the ball. Lackey gets in and out of everything. You don't think she's going to win it, and she wins it. Phillips had a great game.

Notes: Davie hasn't scored in its three-game losing streak. "We've got to work more and more and more on that," he said of the offense. ... E. Forsyth outshot Davie 12-5 to improve to 3-7-1. ... Davie has a welcome addition

Seaford, S. Davie Beat China Grove For 5-2 Record

As South Davie's baseball team walked off the field after clobbering Lexington (31-2), Knox (11-1) and Forsyth Home Educators (16-2), there was little celebration. The Tigers expected to stomp those doormats, and that tempered their excitement.

Last week's 14-10 nonconference win over visiting China Grove was different. Coach Todd Bumgarner was excited about getting a win over a good team. For China Grove gave Mid-South Conference favorite Southeast all it wanted in a 3-1 loss the day before coming to South.

"I told the guys we needed a win over a quality team," Bumgarner said after South, which is 1-1 in the MSC, improved to 5-2. "We beat West Rowan (5-2 on March 18), and I always consider West quality. But those other teams we beat, those wins were nice to get, but we had to prove to ourselves that we could beat a quality team because we faltered late in the game against Southeast (a 9-2 loss) and we faltered late against North Davie (a 9-5 loss).

"China Grove's a solid team. They made the routine plays. So that's a quality win."

Bumgarner was pleased because South withstood nine China Grove runs in the last four innings. Colby Seaford went 4 for 5 for a South team that grabbed a big lead with a seven-run outburst in the second. Seaford preceded three walks with a single to set up the biggest spark of the inning, a two-run double from ninth batter Jordan Brown, who broke a 1-1 tie with his first of two hits.

"Brown works extremely hard," Bumgarner said. "He's earned the right to get some at-bats. We used him as a DH and he came through big."

South seemed to be in charge with a 7-1 lead, but CG went on an offensive tear of its own in the fourth and pulled to 7-6 in the fifth.

"Our pitcher got a little wild and they hit it," Bumgarner said. "Then we got some key hits that we haven't been getting."

South's offense responded to China Grove's comeback in the last of the fifth, scoring four runs for an 11-6 lead. Jeff Nuckols and Clint Howell sandwiched singles around an error and walk, and Seaford followed another walk with his fourth hit.

China Grove was far from done, but it couldn't overcome South's three-run sixth. That made it 14-7.

Although six Tigers contributed multiple hits, the day belonged to Seaford, who popped up to first after collecting four hits. And all four were sharply hit.

"I bat him fourth. He doesn't look like a cleanup hitter, but to be little he hits it hard," Bumgarner said.

Howell continued his amazing run. The leadoff man went 2 for 4 to maintain a .500-plus average. Plenty of other Tigers came through, including Patrick Shore, Ryan Hellard, Matt Oswell and Brown. All four had two hits. Howell, Shore, Hellard and Seaford - the Nos. 1-4 batters - went a combined 10 for 17.

"I couldn't ask any more out of Howell," Bumgarner said. "He's hit the ball every game. He's hit a whole lot better than I ever imagined.

"Hellard continues to hit it hard. And Shore hit the ball on the nose three times."

Notes: Though Oswell gave up seven runs (five earned) in six innings, he struck out seven. "He threw well again," Bumgarner said. "He labored in the fourth, but he held his composure. I was pleased with his effort." ... South has won 25 of 33 in the last three years. ... The Tigers approach the meat of the schedule. They played Erwin, which handed North Davie its only loss 10-4, on April 20. They play at W. Rowan on April 22, at home to Corriher-Lipe on April 27 and at N. Rowan on April 29. "The road's going to get tough from here on out," he said. ... N. Davie (5-1) was idle last week. It plays at Lexington on April 22, at home to W. Rowan on April 23, at Southeast on April 27 and at home to Knox on April 29.

Pratt Makes Magical Mound Debut

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

Saxon Pratt of Davie's JV baseball team enviously watched Jonathan Hutchens and Bryan King carve up opposing bats from his catcher position and hoped he'd soon get the chance to show his stuff on the mound.

He got his shot on April 10 against East Rowan in an Easter tournament at Northwest Cabarrus. Though he was confident in his mound ability, never did he imagine a Davie pitching debut quite like this: A two-hitter in a 12-0 win.

Pratt

The sophomore hadn't pitched since last year when he lived in Jacksonville, Fla., but it didn't stop him from delivering a brilliant four-inning performance in a game that was stopped after five innings via the 10-run mercy rule.

Last week, however, Davie's three-game winning streak was stopped by North Davidson, which outlasted the War Eagles (9-6, 4-3 Central Piedmont Conference) 10-9 in a CPC game.

"I pitched last year at my old high school and pitched ever since I was little," said Pratt, who moved to Mocksville two weeks before the 2003-04 school year. "I like pitching. You're in control of the game when you're on the mound. But I'd only thrown like one bullpen all year, and I was surprised I did that good in my first game in a while."

Pratt, in fact, did everything but sing the National Anthem. Not only did the righthander showcase a dazzling curveball that limited East to three base runners, he went 2 for 2 with a double.

The first indication of how special Pratt's day would be was when he retired East's first three batters of the game. He set East down 1-2-3 in the second, too, and faced only 15 batters in four innings.

How to explain such a stunning outing? Pratt hardly looked like a rusty pitcher.

"He threw some during off-season workouts, but he had a little soreness in his arm, so I've been kind of hesitant because I need him behind the plate," said Coach Tim McKnight, who turned to Pratt because his staff was pushed to the limit by the possibility of five games in seven days. "I said: 'We're going to try Saxon. If we can get three or four innings out of him, we can save Hutchens for (the next game). If Saxon can buy us some time ...'

"He was more successful than I thought he would be. He threw strikes, moved the ball in and out and he's got a nasty curveball. Now we can keep Zach Howard (who was the No. 3 pitcher) at shortstop. Our defense is strongest with Howard at short."

Pratt made it look easy while recording 12 outs in less than 60 pitches. King relieved and worked a perfect fifth. As if the pitchers needed any help, Josh Eder (3 for 4), Howard and Andrew Boswell combined for seven hits as Davie scored three in the second, one in the third and eight in the fourth to match its longest winning streak of the season.

The perpetually-upbeat Pratt reveled in the scrapbook moment.

"He was chomping at the bit and really excited to have the opportunity to throw," McKnight said. "He had a day at the plate, too. This was Pratt's day. He didn't want to come out of the game. He's hilarious. There's never a dull moment with Saxon."

"It's a 12-to-6 curveball. That's my out pitch," said Pratt, whose father Scott Pratt was a star pitcher for Davie in the late 1970s and early '80s. "It was the best game you could ask for. On the way there I was just thinking about: 'What am I going to do if I get in a situation?' I usually talk on the way to a game, but I was just sitting by myself, just trying to think about what I'm going to do."

Davie did all the damage it needed in the second. Pratt followed a Howard walk with his first of two hits. Two runs scored when Jeremy Gupton reached on a throwing error. Then Boswell made it 3-0 with a hit-and-run double.

Logan Joldersma and Hutchens added one hit each.

N. Davidson 10, Davie 9

The War Eagles' pitching had been nearly flawless for five games, a span in which they gave up no more than three runs and 10 total. But their magic ran dry as North banged out 13 hits and scored 10 earned runs.

Davie did just about everything it could to win. Visiting North, which denied Davie 3-2 in the first meeting, was just too good, roughing up Hutchens for three innings and then Pratt.

"They just hit it. That's the bottom line," McKnight said. "Hutchens had a hurt finger. He jammed a finger somehow and it was bothering him. But they hit Pratt, too. Pratt's location wasn't as good as it was against East rowan, and he didn't get his offspeed across.

"But you have to give them credit. We didn't have an error for the second game in a row. You've got to tip your hat to them."

Davie has played in five games that were decided by one run or extra innings, and this was another wild and wacky day. North took a 3-1 lead in the top of the third, but Davie tied it in the bottom half.

North scored six runs in the fourth after there were two outs and nobody on. Just as remarkably, Davie answered in similar fashion in the bottom of the fourth, scoring four runs after there were two outs and nobody on. Heath Boyd singled, Eder walked and Hutchens drove them in with a double down the left-field line. Howard followed with a two-run homer to left-center as Davie closed to 9-7.

North made it 10-8 in the sixth, but Davie responded again to make it 10-9. It just wasn't to be.

"We battled. I honestly thought we would come back and win it in the seventh," McKnight said.

Boyd and Howard had two hits apiece, while Hutchens, Matt Lee, Joldersma and Eder had one. It was a continuation of Howard's remarkable season at the plate. He has produced multiple hits in six of seven games.

"It wasn't the best of pitches (that Howard homered on)," McKnight said. "He actually swung at a low pitch, but still got it on the fat part of the bat. If (his average) isn't over .500, he's close. He's probably every bit of .475. I'll take 12 hits in seven games."

Notes: Boyd has thrived in the second spot. "He's really come around," McKnight said. "He's been averaging about a hit a game in the last four games. He's a good two-hole hitter. He can bunt, he's a good hit-and-run man and he puts the ball in play. He seldom strikes out." ... The War Eagles' last three losses have all been by a single run. They're 2-3 in games decided by a run or extra innings. ... They play at home to Mt. Tabor on April 21, at Reynolds on April 24 at noon and at W. Forsyth on April 27 at 4:30.

Coach Upbeat Over North's Toughness

Success for North Davie's soccer team this season isn't based on wins and losses. Coach John Marshall filled the schedule with formidable opponents and knew the Wildcats would be hard-pressed to tread water. But he also knew the string of stern tests would make his girls grow into stronger players and gain experience that will benefit them in the long run.

That's why he was philosophical after the Wildcats forced Mooresville and Summit to use every last ounce of resourcefulness to beat them 1-0 (vs. Mooresville), 3-1 (vs. Summit) and 2-0 (vs. Mooresville) in late March and early April.

In North's most recent game, it unloaded on South Davie 8-0.

"I really like these close games. I'd rather have those than have a blowout game," Marshall said. "So even though we came out 1-3, I feel like we made some good strides. I knew our schedule was going to be tough, and it's nice to see they're still pulling together and their spirits are high. And they're looking forward to playing Mooresville and Summit again."

Samantha Maready was incredible at goalie in the first Mooresville game. Mooresville only solved Maready once - in the final seconds of the first half - and it was questionable. By Marshall's watch, regulation should have ended in a 0-0 tie.

"The halves are 30 minutes and they scored in the 33rd minute," he said. "The refs let the first half run over. According to them Mooresville got a goal with 30 seconds left in the half, and it crushed us."

Brooke Padgett gave North a 1-0 lead over Summit. Chelsea Trull provided the assist on a beautiful play that saw North pass the ball around eight or nine times.

Summit, though, scored the next three goals to beat a North team that faced stacked odds.

"They're always tough because they have ninth graders and there's a real size difference," he said. "They have one or two seventh graders."

The 2-0 loss to Mooresville also left Marshall upbeat. He got strong play from defenders Meagan Brookman, Rebecca Gerdon, Whitney Bokeno and Hannah Jakob.

"It was another great game," he said. "We had two lapses in the back that resulted in goals. Even though we lost, the girls played better than they did (in the 1-0 game)."

The Wildcats overwhelmed South Davie, getting goals from eight players. Hannah Stroupe, Cassie Barnes, Susanna McFarlane and Samantha Judd scored in the first half, and Chelsea Swyers, Bokeno, Brookman and Amber Parrish scored in the final 30 minutes.

Three of the seven assists came from Kelsey Shipman. Stroupe, Jaclyn Woodward, Sarah Harvel and McFarlane also had assists.

Notes: North's next four games are all away - Forsyth Academy on April 20, Mooresville on April 22, Forsyth Country Day on April 26 and Summit on April 29.

Pinebrook Odyssey Team Wins State Title

By Mike Gunning
Special to the Enterprise

Seven students from Pinebrook Elementary School are one step away from being crowned World Champions in next month's Odyssey of the Mind World Finals at the University of Maryland in College Park.

The team of Matthew Ellis (3rd), David Stanley (5th), Karla Miner (4th), Sam Dressler (4th), Ryan Budd (5th), Josh Mullis (4th) and Charlotte Smith (5th) were led by coaches Kim and Rick Ellis and Mary Beth Stanley to the state championships in Boone.

The students won their division by 12 points, which proved to be the largest margin of victory for all classes in the tournament. A team from South Davie Middle School also competed in the Boone event, but did not place.

"We are so excited for these kids," Kim Ellis said. "We never expected all this to happen."

The Odyssey of the Mind is an international creative problem solving competition, with teams competing from elementary to college level. Teams from all 50 states and 20 countries including Japan, France, Germany and Italy will square off in the World Finals.

The Pinebrook team developed a solution to what Rick Ellis described as a long term problem - taking classic works of art and bringing them to life, and allowing the characters to interact.

The wining project, "Classics - Fantastic Art," was developed through brainstorming sessions that included drawings and using an Etch-A-Sketch. The students then developed a skit around the concept, complete with a set they built and a script they conceived and wrote.

"They came up with these great ideas," Rick said. "And we would tell them, these are great, but how do you make it work?"

Making the ideas come to life is the challenge of the competition, and coaches are restricted from directly influencing teams on how to arrive at a solution. This rule forces coaches to use their own creativity to lead without influencing the direction the team is going.

That's easier said then done when the team starts to go off track.

"You've got to make them adhere to the rules of the problem," Rick said. "As a coach, it's your responsibility to guide them, and have them follow through on the how's and why's of making something work."

Pinebrook has had two other teams compete at the state level, but Ellis said he believes this is the first time a team from Davie County will be competing in the World Finals. Kim Ellis said that a lot of the credit for the team's success goes to Margaret Rogers, a 30-year teacher at Pinebrook, who retired in 2001. Rogers started the Pinebrook program and led eight teams to regional competition and two to the state finals. When Rogers retired, the program retired with her.

"I had Mrs. Rogers as a teacher when I went to Pinebrook," Rick said. "And Matthew had her in kindergarten. She told us then that this was something he would enjoy."

Rick and Kim went to Greensboro to watch last year's regional competition and became inspired to re-start the program that Rogers had loved so much.

"She (Rogers) has given us so much guidance and advice," Rick said. "I learned so much from her."

"She's still teaching us," Kim added.

Ellis said that his goal as a coach was not to win anything, but to offer a program that would offer skill development that would benefit the students for years to come.

"Kim and I tried to convey to the team to value the experience and not worry about the competition," Ellis said. "We wanted to make it fun, and win, lose or draw, for them to have a great experience."

With great results come great obstacles, and the team is faced with the task of raising the funds to make the trip to Maryland.

"We figure we'll need about $8,000 to make the trip," Stanley said. "And we have to do it fast."

Ellis said she thinks the community will help.

"I plan on hitting the pavement and trying to get some support from area businesses," Kim said. "We have two weeks to not only accept their invitation, but to pay the fee as well."

Solving problems is the group's strength, and the team is brainstorming on how to raise funds. Don't bet against them - these are some pretty smart kids.

BandAid May 8 At Davie High

The Davie County Band Boosters will present BandAid on Saturday, May 8 from 10:30 a.m.-3 p.m. on the Davie High campus.

This annual event is designed to raise money for the Davie High, North Davie and South Davie middle school bands to purchase new uniforms, instruments, music and equipment.

The Davie County bands are growing each year with 600 students involved in concert band, jazz band and marching band at the high school and the middle school, with 725 or more students expected to be involved next year. More than ever, the bands of Davie County are relying on community support so that we can continue to represent the county at several events throughout each school year.

For $8, you can get a BBQ chicken or pork diner from Tar Heel Q, completed with sides and a drink, and your purchase buys you a chance at door prizes (these tickets must be purchased before the event). The Davie High Jazz Band will be performing throughout the day, and there will be a craft sale, bake sale and silent auction.

Also, Cow Bingo is back, and for $5, you can buy a ticket for a shot at the grand prize of $500.

Several items from Davie County and out-of-town businesses are lined up for the silent auction and as door prizes, but the band boosters are still seeking donations from anyone willing to help out the bands. Donations do not necessarily have to be hard goods, services and gift certificates are accepted.

For information about tickets or to donate items for the silent auction or door prize drawing, talk to any Davie County band student or parent, or call Davie High Band Director Marc Schaub at 751-5905 ext. 417.

Smart Middle Schoolers

Four From Davie Recognized By Duke Program

DURHAM — Four Davie middle school students are among the most academically talented in the United States.

TIP, the Duke University Talent Identification Program, is sponsoring a series of recognition ceremonies to honor these seventh-graders.

This year 24,726 students within Duke TIP's 16-state region, are invited to attend state recognition ceremonies. Students invited to the Duke TIP ceremonies earned scores that would be the envy of many graduating seniors and while only in the seventh grade.

They are Vincent Cioce and Robert Sparks of Advance, and John Stigall of Clemmons, all students at North Davie Middle School; and Jack Evans of Mocksville, a student at South Davie Middle School

"The gifted youngster is arguably America's most precious natural resource," said Duke TIP's interim executive director, Scott Greenwood. "Duke TIP plays a critically important role – to the student, her/his family, school and community – in identifying America's most academically talented students.

"All too often, gifted students go unrecognized or overlooked by their teachers. This is particularly true in the case of certain minority group and less economically advantaged and more rural families, as well as among students in which English is not the primary language spoken in the home.

"Duke TIP's identification process ensures that our most precious natural resource does not go unrecognized," he said.

Duke TIP sponsors state recognition ceremonies and a grand recognition ceremony, for the highest scoring students.

Students invited to the Grand Recognition Ceremony, which includes Stigall, earned a math or verbal score on the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) or the American College Testing Assessment (ACT) higher than 90 percent of college-bound high school seniors as part of TIP's 24th annual Talent Search.

Of the 78,850 students who participated in the 2003-2004 Talent Search, 1,367 qualified for this honor. These students also qualify for state recognition.

These seventh grade students attending the state ceremonies scored as well or better than the average college-bound high school senior on either the SAT or the ACT, and are eligible to attend Duke TIP's Summer Studies Program.

Duke TIP's Talent Search identifies seventh-graders in 16 states in the Southeast, Midwest, and Southwest who have scored in the top five percent on a national achievement test. Students participate by taking either the SAT or the ACT. Talent Search participants receive a variety of educational materials and publications. A results summary and counseling guide help students interpret their scores and provide suggestions for using their ability more effectively.

Duke TIP's publications help students find out more about academic opportunities and about the needs and interests of people like themselves. These publications include a guide to educational opportunities, a newsletter, and a magazine on college choices mailed to Duke TIP students in the tenth grade.

Duke TIP is a nonprofit, educational organization designed to identify and develop academic talent. Since 1980, over a million students from all parts of the world have taken part. The program receives support from student fees and donations from individuals, corporations and foundations.

Parents and students interested in Duke TIP's Talent Search should contact the Duke University TIP office for more information, telephone (919) 668-9100, or look on the Web site at www.tip.duke.edu.

His Hero

Former Big Buddy Picked By Pinebrook Student

Brandon Dancy knows what a hero is.

It's a friend, one who helps you.

To Brandon, his hero is Jodie Draughn, his former "Big Buddy" through Big Brothers Big Sisters of Davie County.

Jodie is a high school student who spent time with Brandon once a week after school. They read books, played outside, worked on homework and just talked for about an hour every week.

All third graders at Pinebrook Elementary School were given a writing assignment by their principal, Mary Sine. They were asked to write a paragraph about someone they consider a hero.

Of all the people Brandon knows, he chose Jodie, his Big Buddy.

Brandon wrote: "Jodie Draughn is my hero and my friend. She loves children. She plays board games, computers and plays with me in the gym. She helps me with my behavior. She wants to know how I have been in school. She is my mentor, and I would like to be like her."

"The person he looks up to as his hero is someone Big Brothers Big Sisters placed in his life," said Regina Graham-Hauser, director. "What a difference we have made in Brandon's life."

Jodie now has a part-time job and is not able to participate in the Big Buddy program. "For Brandon to remember Jodie and write such nice things about her, even though he hasn't seen her in a few months, shows that she made a positive impact upon his life," Graham-Hauser said.

Big Brothers Big Sisters is the only professional mentoring agency in Davie County. If interested in volunteering in any of the programs, contact Graham-Hauser at 751-9906.

Much is its funding comes from donations from fundraisers. The agency completed its first Hoopin' For Kids Sake basketball tournament at Davie High School March 27.

Scott Gantt, former chair, presented the idea to the board of directors and the tournament was born.

"Board members liked the idea and worked together to make the event successful," Graham-Hauser said. "It was a fun day to play basketball and raise money for a good cause."

United Way of Davie County has provided about 45 percent of the agency's budget, with the agency responsible for raising the remaining 55 percent.

Hoopin', a 3-on-3 basketball tournament, took in just over $10,000, with a net profit of $8,700. Twenty-one teams competed in five age divisions.

More than 100 young people are served through the Big Brother Big Sister matches. Buddy matches, and activities for children on the waiting list. Funds raised from Hoopin' will be used to continue providing mentoring services to children throughout Davie County.

Planners To Hear Rezoning Request

A rezoning request for a nursery, greenhouse and retail store near Oak Grove Methodist Church will be heard by the Davie County Planning Board at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 27, in the second floor commissioner's room of the Davie County Administration Building.

Brenda Long has applied to rezone about an acre of land on U.S. 158 from residential-agricultural to highway business special use for a nursery, greenhouse and small retail store. The property at 1977 U.S. 158 is 300 feet south of Oak Grove Church Road, and is a portion of Parcel 24 of Davie Tax Map H-5.

Jade Associates has submitted for preliminary review a 41-lot single family residential subdivision titled Meadows Edge. This 47-acre property is located at 855 Beauchamp Road, approximately a mile north of Mocks Church Road, and is Parcel 2 of Davie Tax Map E-8.

For more information, contact the Development Services Department on weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m., 751-3340.

Three Dogs Put To Death After Contact With Rabid Raccoon

Three dogs were put to death because their owners had not kept rabies vaccinations current.

Officials with the State Laboratory of Public Health confirmed the second case of rabies in Davie County this year. According to Health Director Barry Bass, the animal testing positive for the virus was a raccoon.

Three dogs were exposed to the raccoon at a location on Salmons Road. None of the dogs were up to date with their rabies vaccinations and all three had to be destroyed. There was no human exposure.

"People need to especially wary of wild animals that are behaving in a strange or unusual manner. No one should ever try to pet a stray or wild animal, no matter how innocent or tame it may appear," Bass said.

He stressed the need for rabies vaccinations to be current.

"As this case illustrates, it can mean the difference between life and death if an animal is exposed to rabies."

Bass urges anyone who has a pet and is not sure of its vaccination status to contact the pet's veterinarian.

Should a wild animal bite a domestic animal or human, residents are advised to keep the animal in sight and contact the Davie County Animal Control staff at 751-0227. Anyone having questions about rabies should contact their veterinarian or Jeff Beauchamp, R.S., Davie Health Department at 751-8760.

Car Wreck Victim Dies Of Injuries

A Davie County woman has died of injuries from an Easter morning collision with a deputy's car.

Mary Ruth Smith, 77, died Saturday at Wake Forest University Baptist Medical Center.

The funeral is planned for Wednesday.

District Attorney Garry Frank said he has not yet reviewed the wreck with State Highway Patrolman A.T. Keller to determine if charges will be filed.

"It's on priority for as soon as possible," he said. "That's the next order of business."

He said the death will not change the review.

"It's a development we will look at with regard to what we've got to deal with, but we were going to give it a close review anyway," he said. "We're going to look at the facts and take action accordingly."

Mrs. Smith was a passenger in a car struck on U.S. 158 as Deputy Dana Recktenwald was responding to an emergency call at Hillsdale.

Two people who prompted that call have already been charged. Takeila Roshelle Faulkner, 21, of Winston-Salem, has been charged with misuse of the 911 system and with making a false report to police.

Timothy Lamont Boyd, 37, of Winston-Salem, has been charged with two counts of assault on a female.

Recktenwald is now at home, facing a long recovery from her injuries, Sheriff Allen Whitaker said Monday.

The news of Mrs. Smith's death struck another blow to the sheriff's office and the deputy, Whitaker said.

"It has torn her up. Our hearts go out to the families. It's a sad time," he said.

The deputy faces a long recovery from a broken leg, pelvis and injuries to her elbow and back, along with ligament damage, cuts and bruises.

The survivors in the other car, Diane Keaton and Grady "Junior" Smith, continue to recover from their injuries.

A cousin, Wayne Jones of Baltimore Road, said the family is still dealing with the devastating wreck.

"It's just a bad time families have to go through. We just have to make the best of it. We're very thankful to all the people who have helped us. The people at Baptist Hospital were wonderful. The intensive care unit has the finest people in the world," he said.

J.W. Keaton of Sheffield is a surviving brother of Mrs. Smith. "When you leave home, you never know if you're going to get back or not," he said. "She was a good woman."

Bermuda Run Wants Own Zoning

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

BERMUDA RUN - Following suit after it's neighbor Cooleemee, the town of Bermuda Run has decided they also want their own planning and zoning ordinances.

At the town's meeting on April 13 Bermuda Run Manager Beth Dirks presented the proposal to the board. "This is something that towns generally do. It kind of falls into fulfilling our own destiny," she said.

Dirks told the board she had contacted Carol Rhea, President of Rhea Consulting, Inc., based out of Shelby, and asked what needed to be done for the town to incorporate their own planning and zoning.

"We don't have to start from scratch," Dirks told the board. "We can pull parts from Mocksville and Davie County. We're not reinventing the wheel, but pulling the best pieces out and putting that into what works for us."

Dirks explained there would be extensive training that would have to be

Early Candidates Greet Opening Of County Political Filing Period

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise-Record

The political season officially began at noon Monday with four candidates lined up at the Board of Elections to file. And more came through the door later in the day.

Johnny Frye was first in line, arriving 30 minutes early. State Sen. Andrew Brock had arrived at 9 a.m., only to learn he was three hours early.

Three seats will be decided locally on the Davie County Board of Commissioners this fall; two on the Board of Education. The state legislative seats will be decided, the Register of Deeds and a couple of judicial posts.

On Monday, the following had filed:

For commissioner, Johnny Frye, Richard Poindexter and Raymond Clark.

For school board, Linda Hartley Barnette.

For State House: Julia Howard.

For State Senate: Andrew Brock.

The filing period ends at noon May 7. The fees to file for commissioner is $10, for school board, $5, for register of deeds, $540, for state legislature, $207.

Incumbent State Rep. Julia Howard filed for her ninth term and faces a drastically changed district. A section of Davidson County was carved off her district by the General Assembly and replaced with a section of Iredell.

Elections officer Margaret Shew takes Frye's fee for commissioner.

An Iredell legislator has threatened to challenge Howard for the seat.

"Half the district is new," she said. "I'm going to run my own race. I want to be very positive. I have represented Davie and Davidson counties for 16 years and done the best I can do. We've ended up with some really good things I've been able to help with — the community college, incorporation of Bermuda Run, good things in Cooleemee with the River Park and all those positive things, the bridges up in the eastern part of the county.

"Davie County is about good things, and that's what I want to be about."

Davie composes about half of the new district's 67,000 people, and Howard said the Iredell people are very much like those in Davie and live in a rural, growing area.

"The redistricting is new and different. I'm offering myself, and that's it. I will continue to do exactly what I have done for the past 16 years, the best

Deputies, EMS Get OT Pay

Davie County government issued 74 checks last week to deputies and emergency medical service employees to settle an overtime investigation by the N.C. Department of Labor.

The checks ranged from a high of $4,320 to $4.52.

Deputies received $54,033 divided among 36 officers.

EMS employees divided $46,053 among 38 current and former employees.

The payments settles the investigation that examined patrol records for the past two years. Deputies were paid for the time the logged on and logged off work, not from the time they had written on their time cards.

The labor department began the probe after a former deputy said he was urged to alter his time card.

Sheriff Allen Whitaker said the deputies hadn't said much about the unexpected checks they received.

"There's been very little said here

County Tries To Soothe Hickory Hill Rift

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise Record

It wasn't exactly a prayer meeting, but county government leaders tried to soothe the differences between a developer and some Hickory Hill residents April 15.

The county commissioners are scheduled to decide next month on a request to allow 130 homes to be added to Hickory Hill.

"It was a pretty good meeting," planning director John Gallimore said. "The two sides presented their positions. I don't think there was any meeting of the minds. The positions are still held. But I think there was some good information shared, and I tried to lay out what the ordinances require."

The Hickory Hill expansion, requested by country club owner Bill Burnette, is one of the more contentious zoning requests the commissioners have faced lately.

The meeting — with Burnette and his attorney, a few Hickory Hill residents and their attorney, county manager Terry Brálley and two commissioners, the planning staff and a DOT representative — was unusual in zoning proceedings, Gallimore said.

"It doesn't happen all the time, but I think it goes to the issues raised by the Hickory Hill residents. They have been fairly eloquent in the issues they have raised, and the commissioners want to work these out if at all possible," he said.

The commissioners joining the session were Bobby Knight and Ken White.

Carolyn Beaver and Perce Musselman and attorney Emmitt McCall of Winston-Salem represented Hickory Hill residents.

Burnette wants to add 90 patio homes at the end of Pine Valley Road, a meandering street. Residents say the extra traffic will overtax the street. Burnette has countered that it is a public street, and he is entitled to use it, too.

The patio homes would overlook 95-acre Lake Louise and the golf course. He has proposed building another group of 40 townhouses, also overlooking the lake, with an entrance from Cornatzer Road.

"It's a beautiful spot," he said during a tour of the site.

Burnette said the expansion is critical for the development of the country club which he bought eight years ago.

His attorney, Hank VanHoy of Mocksville, calls the zoning decision "a no brainer" that fits neatly with the county's own growth plans.

"I don't care what it is, people don't want anything to happen beside them," he said. "People don't have a choice between a development or nothing. They have a choice in what kind of development will happen there."

Burnette proposes to extend a sewer line to the development, which may one day help the Hickory Hill residents with aging septic tanks.

Also, he said he has invested a million dollars in upgrading the golf course, which indirectly helps residents.

"I've been a good neighbor," Burnette said.

VanHoy said they welcomed last week's meeting.

"We don't have any secrets. We want to look them in the eye and tell

Pat Tillman's Love of Country Defines Heroism

It's hard for us in this generation to understand Pat Tillman. Why would anyone give up a multimillion dollar professional football contract for the Army?

Pat Tillman's death last week is a stark reminder that defending this country is not a job for the weak and timid. Brave and courageous men and women take arms to defend us, our freedom, our safety and even our apathy.

Pat Tillman was killed in an ambush in Afghanistan.

We have elevated sports and entertainment stars to the status of heroes, but they don't approach that title. They are merely good at what they do — talented, committed and excellent. Hardly the stuff of heroes. They play games. Soldiers fight and sacrifice for all that we hold dear.

Pat Tillman must have realized that.

He gave up his position on the Arizona Cardinals football team — a job he had worked years and devoted countless hours of training to achieve. He had the ultimate job in the eyes of most of us — the adulation of fans, big money and an exciting life.

Tillman put it aside after the attacks on our nation Sept. 11, 2001. He joined the elite Army Rangers in May 2002, never explaining his reasons, never milking his decision for the publicity he could have gained.

Tillman had turned down a $3.6 million offer from the Cardinals. His brother, Kevin, a minor league baseball player, also joined the Rangers. Both signed up for three years.

Sacrifice and love of country are no longer a pleasant part of our diet.

The World War II generation understood it better. They were faced with a severe test and sent 16 million to fight that bitter war. Those at home sacrificed, too, feeling the effect of war daily as the nation was consumed in the battle.

Now we have volunteers, career soldiers, to fight the seemingly smaller fires our country faces. The only involvement most of us have is reading the news and deciphering the endless debates among the politicians.

Lest we forget, the Sept. 11 attack was not small.

We have enemies who wish to destroy us. Enemies who lurk in the shadows seeking a chance to strike by stealth. They attack our civilians and children, they kill the vulnerable and weak.

Some think we can just be nice to these killers, reason with them, and make them friends. They are merely poor and angry. If we share our prosperity, won't they will put down their arms?

War is terrible and unpredictable. Despite our powerful weapons and technology, the enemy still gets to shoot back. Their rifles and roadside bombs are fully capable of killing our soldiers.

Pat Tillman decided to face that enemy — to deliver justice and revenge for the September 11 assault, to stand up for liberty and the United States of America.

We don't know enough about him, what motivated him, what caused him to give up the life most of us desire for the dangerous battlefield in a faraway land. Nor do we know enough about the others who have fallen in this battle. There have been 110 of our soldiers killed in the Afghanistan invasion — 39 in combat. Even more have died in Iraq.

Dave McGinnis, the former coach of the Arizona Cardinals, recalled for reporters last week the day Tillman walked into the office and pulled up a chair.

"It was his wish that this not be something that would draw a lot of attention," McGinnis said. "He truly felt committed and felt a sense of honor and duty at this point in his life that this is what he wanted to do."

Too often we have taken our armed forces for granted. We expect their sacrifice. We have the luxury of being oblivious to the dangers they face. Without the thousands of Pat Tillmans, we would be in the same position as so many other nations in the world — cowered by terrorists, afraid to fight, too weak to respond to attack, too secure in our homes to think danger might lurk there for us.

Thank God for men like Pat Tillman and for the United States Armed Forces.

Library An Uncovered Gem In The County

To the editor:

I love rock and gem mining. I've uncovered a "gem" right here in Davie County: our Public Library. As this is National Library Week, I would like to take the opportunity to express my appreciation for our library.

The Davie County Public Library is supplied with many wonderful books (I've discovered to my pleasure a great number of Christian fiction books), videos, DVD's, magazines, record albums (yes, you can even check out an oldie but a goodie), books on tape and more.

The selection at the library is great, but the "TREASURE" is the "staff". I wish I could call them by name, but let me say that each and everyone is caring and knowledgeable, patient and helpful.

We have been taking our grandson, Austin to the library every Thursday night for the last 5 years! The librarians look for us and call us by name! Austin has grown up loving the children's section of the library (books, puzzles, magazines, coloring sheets). I used to sit in the rocking chair and read to him - imagine my delight, now he sits in the rocking chair and reads to me.

Occasionally I show up at the library on my own, and I'm always greeted with "where's Austin?" Of course they know that Mamaw's need some time to look for books too. We enjoy the library as a family as Two Pop can be found sitting in the magazine section while Austin and I are on a quest for the latest Arthur book!

What a blessing our library is to us. Take the time to drop by and pick out a book, read a magazine, but most importantly say "thank you" to the staff that sets our library apart.

Easter Egg Hunt A Success

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express a sincere thanks to the groups that helped make the Mocksville/Davie Recreation Annual Easter Egg Hunt a huge success. The clients of New Horizons and the Davie Sheltered Workshop stuffed over 3,500 eggs with candy and toys. The Davie Youth Council took charge of stuffing prize eggs, handing out prizes at the end of the hunt, plus assisted with set up, take down and spreading out the thousands of eggs around Rich Park Shelter #2.

The St. Francis Catholic Church Youth Group assisted with the setting up, taking down and the egg hunt itself. A very huge thanks goes to the Bunny (Lisa Godbey) and her mom, Jackie, who helped with all the Bunny activities this year. It takes a lot of work to make a successful event and this success belongs to these wonderful people. Thank you all very much.

Reader Concerned With Post Office Flag

To the editor:

I live in Bermuda Run. In the fall someone turned the lights out on our American Flag that is flown over our post office. I understand that if the flag is flown at night it must be lit up. I called the town office three times between November and January and I have written our mayor John Ferguson about it and it still has no lights. It is my understanding that if we do not have lights on the flag it must be removed from the pole at night. I hope this matter will be taken care of immediately.

U.S. Workers Can't Compete, Best County Commissioners Were Farmers

Editor's Note: This response is in reference to a letter in last week's edition — "Too Many Butts."

To the editor:

"Too Many Butts" is not listed in proper order. According to my calculation it should be: (1) orange peels 6 months. (2) paper containers 2-5 months. (3) wool socks 6-24 months. (4) plastic coated cartons 5 years. (5) cigarette butts 10-12 years. (6) plastic bags 10-20 years. (7) leather shoes 25-40 years. (8) plastic containers 50-80 years. (9) vibram Soles 50-80 years. (10) aluminum cans 80-100 years. (11) Styrofoam, never. This is the proper order. The writer had cigarette butts rearranged as Number 1 to suit his wants.

Tobacco Quotas: Brazil decided to get in on the gravy train when domestic tobacco companies took our technology and gave it to Brazil to avoid paying the American farmer a fair price for his tobacco. The allotment holder does not want to sell the quota to the government. There was to be a 15¢ per pack user fee added to each pack of cigarettes to pay for the quota. The expense would have been paid by the smoker only. (Quota's cost to owner.)

In 1969 when I returned to the farm after serving my time in the Army, my mother had 1,700 lbs. of tobacco quota. From 1969-1988, I purchased 52,300 additional pounds at $1.00-$2.00 per lb. = $78,500 investment. Not exactly free. Nobody expects the government or the people to pay the farmer or the quotar owner. A user fee of 15¢ per pack would have been paid by the smoker. Quotas were not a free gift. We were not included in the quota buyout unless we smoke. Farmers and quota holders should be paid for their investment. We bought ourselves a job. It's not different than somebody stealing your vehicle.

The 1949 Agriculture Act of the U.S.D.A. states that tobacco would operate at no net cost to the taxpayer. 1982 tobacco farmers and purchasers started paying an assessment fee. One years was as much as 25¢ per pound of tobacco sold. 2004 assessment fee is 5¢ per pound for the seller or former and 5¢ per pound for purchaser. 1938 was the start of the quota because tobacco was a cash crop. Tobacco companies were getting rich purchasing the farmer's crop below cost of production. The tobacco program has been the longest running and most successful farm program in history.

The former President that Dwight Sparks spoke of was an embarrassment to this country. The example he set was no tobacco - it will kill you. If you smoke pot, don't inhale. Drink all the alcohol you want. After all the government gets 65¢ of each dollar spent. If you have sex outside of marriage, lie about it, even if you are under oath. Former President is the one that signed N.A.F.T.A. which stands for North American Free Trade Agreement. The word free is a lie. Nothing is free. Somebody somewhere is going to foot the bill. N.A.F.T.A. removed all import taxes and tariffs. Results are lost jobs to textile, furniture, agriculture and many other American workers. The U.S. worker cannot compete with $1.00 per hr. labor in Mexico or 57¢ per hr. average in China.

I have been encouraged many times to run for county commissioners. As my tobacco quota is being stolen away, I am giving it much more consideration. After all the best two county commissioners we ever had were farmers. Just in case I do run and become successful for a few years, I'll have it in my mind to seek Governor Mike Easley's job. After all Gov. Easley and former Gov. Hunt cheated the tobacco farmer out of 25% of the Phase I money.

Tobacco farmers and quota owners should arrange another tractor parade to leave Mocksville, go to Raleigh, on to the White House to rally for Tobacco Quota Buyout.

Deputy Was Just Doing Her Job

To the editor:

When I read the letter to the editor entitled "Wreck Could Have Been Prevented," in the Thursday, April 22, 2004 edition of the Davie County Enterprises, I almost couldn't believe what I was reading. I understand that members of an innocent family were victims of that terrible accident, but that is just what it was, an accident. No one could have known what was going to happen when Deputy Recktenwald responded to the call of the man with a gun. Deputy Recktenwald was just doing her job. Her job is to protect and to serve the citizens of the county in which she patrols, and I commend her for that. It takes a very special type of person to become a law enforcement officer, an EMS worker, or a firefighter. After September 11, people started looking at our emergency services personnel in a different light. I believe that people are forgetting what happened that day and that emergency service personnel put their lives on the line day in and day out in order to protect ordinary citizens like you and me. They are constantly going through training classes in order to keep up to date in their jobs. I also believe that you shouldn't judge anyone because you have no idea what their lives are like until you have walked a day in their shoes. I have the utmost respect for our emergency services personnel and I hope that they continue the good work that they do. My thoughts and prayers are with both families that were involved in the accident.

Heart Association Gives Thanks

To the editor:

The American Heart Association would like to thank Zack Russell-Myers for your excellent efforts in raising money for Hoops for Heart at North Davie Middle School. You were the top fundraisers in your school and your teachers are very proud of you.

Heart Disease is our nation's #1 killer and you have helped us by collecting $596.26. The money your raised will help us provide educational materials, change laws to improve health-care and fund scientific research to fight heart disease and stroke. With your help, the American Heart Association can give materials to more teachers so they can teach students how important it is to eat right, be physically active and stay tobacco-free.

I congratulate you for caring about the people in your community. You are a fantastic volunteer for the American Heart Association. If hope you had fun with Hoops for Heart and that you will keep your heart healthy playing basketball every chance you get.

Bias And Errors In Article

To the editor:

We were appalled and quite concerned at the obvious bias on the reporting of the accident that occurred on Sunday, April 11 (April 15 issue) very little mention - only one short paragraph - was made of the Smith family. There is life-threatening injuries to one of the victims, another is in critical condition.

Additionally, errors were made. Patricia Keaton was driving a Pontiac, not the Buick. Also, Keaton was not treated and released, but was hospitalized in ICU.

We extend our sympathies to Deputy Reckentwald and hope for a good recovery.

Follow-Up Story Appreciated

To the editor:

I just wanted to thank you for the follow-up story on the Smiths, our next door neighbors who were hit by the deputy on Easter.

When I read the (first) article and it said Diane was treated and released I remember thinking "if only that were true."

The story this week was really great because you acknowledged how devastating the accident was for their little family.

County Meets With Hickory Hill Owner, Neighbors

them like it is."

Burnette said the development will help the country club. Buyers will have to be club members, too. Country clubs everywhere are facing changing circumstances, he said. Golfers want to play a wide variety of courses, not just the same one time after time.

After experiencing slow years, he said Hickory Hill golf has picked up dramatically in the past six months.

"The golf course is a valuable asset to the county," VanHoy said. The new homes will be marketed to senior citizens, limiting the impact on the school system. Also, the county's growth plan calls for the kind of growth Burnette proposes.

"His situation fits it to a T. This project fits with what the county is telling us it wants. We understand people always oppose, but he will build it right, of high caliber and high quality. He has a tremendous investment and he wants to protect it."

Burnette also developed the James Way section of Burmuda Run and was the original developer of Kinderton. He sold the residential section of Kinderton, which has been the source of some criticism on the latest project.

VanHoy said the special use zoning change being requested will require any developer — Burnette or not — to follow the same guidelines approved by the county.

After years of languishing, VanHoy said Kinderton is one of the hottest residential real estate developments in the county.

VanHoy said DOT could require Burnette to upgrade Pine Valley Road, in the same way he had to pay for improvements around Kinderton.

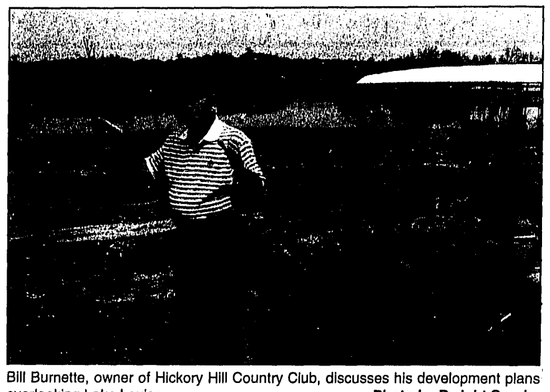

Pine Valley and Hawthorne roads — both could handle development traffic — are 20 feet wide.

"They are state maintained roads, maybe not the way they would be built today, but they are state maintained roads," VanHoy said. "The traffic issue is a non issue. There is no law preventing him from using the roads."

VanHoy said Burnette is building fewer homes than he could with existing zoning that allows bigger, traditional homes. Also, there are vacant lots in Hickory Hill that can be developed, adding to traffic.

VanHoy also disputed the idea that property values will fall.

"There is no single instance in Davie County where a development has caused values to go down. It's just the opposite — they go up. People think it's true, but it's not," he said.

Bermuda Run Town Board Agrees On Zoning Proposal

done. "It's a lot of work and it's something that Carol does have a lot of experience in."

A service agreement submitted by Rhea lists an effective date of July 1, 2004 and offers to "prepare ordinances to regulate zoning and land subdivision within the town's planning jurisdiction for adoption by the town."

Dirks told the board Rhea has agreed to do the work at a rate of $85 per hour for a project total not to exceed $25,000.

Dirks explained the need to incorporate that amount into the upcoming budget if the board was in agreement with the proposal.

The town of Cooleemee entered into an agreement last month with CMR Services, formerly Benchmark, to write their ordinances. Their cost is $7,500. According to Dirks that does not include the maps or training Rhea has included in their proposal.

Dirks agreed to contact Cooleemee to see if there was a possibility of the two town's working together in the training process.

Mayor John Ferguson told the board the town was now at the point that it needed it's own zoning ordinances. "It's going to be difficult to maintain development standards and deal with them unless we have control, and in today's environment we really don't have control because it's delegated to the county."

"This will clearly define our responsibilities relative to the town itself as far as planning and zoning goes," Councilman Al Barnett said. "Since we've been a town this has been one of the biggest bones of contention - people not understanding how this town operates."

The board agreed to include the $25,000 for the new zoning ordinances in next year's budget.

Man Charged After Vehicle Search

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

A Davie man stopped for suspected DWI last week ended up instead with multiple drug charges after the vehicle he was driving was searched by local officials.

Barrentine

Gregory Edward Barrentine, 26, of 421 Becktown Road, Mocksville was arrested April 13 and charged with felony possession with intent to sell/deliver marijuana, felony maintenance of a vehicle for a controlled substance, misdemeanor possession of marijuana, possession of drug paraphernalia, driving with license revoked, and simple possession of schedule IV controlled substance.

According to Davie Sheriff's Department Deputy M.W. Crater, Barrentine was stopped in the Food Lion parking lot at the intersections of U.S. 158 and N.C. 801 around 3 p.m. last Tuesday. Crater said when he approached the 1966 Chevrolet vehicle Barrentine was driving there was a strong smell of marijuana coming from the car.

Barrentine was driving on a revoked license and when he was searched a small amount of marijuana was found in his possession. Crater said Barrentine was not charged with DWI because it was determined his vehicle was swerving because he had been using his cell phone while driving.

Crater reported when Barrentine's vehicle was searched a total of six quarter-bags of marijuana, more than 35 grams, were seized. That amount of marijuana has a street value of $240 according to the Drug Enforcement Agency's guidelines.

There was also a small amount of money and 22 prescription Klonopin pills seized. Barrentine did not have a prescription for the drugs, according to Crater.

Barrentine was placed in Davie Detention Center under a $7500 secured bond. His case was continued in Davie District Court until June 3.

Authorities Have No Leads On Break-ins Of Local Businesses

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Break-ins on April 26 at three businesses in the eastern part of the county has authorities investigating the crimes with very few leads.

According to Davie County Sheriff's Detective R.M. Trotter, detectives were called out at 2 a.m. on Monday to assist third shift officers with three breaking and enterings - two at Kinderton Shopping Center, U.S. 801 North, Advance and one at Bermuda Quay, U.S. 158, Advance.

According to Trotter, Deputy David Miller was investigating the incidents at Kinderton's South Fork Cleaners and Ciccione's Italian Restaurant when an alarm was activated after a break-in at Asian View Chinese Restaurant.

Trotter reported all three break-ins were committed in a similar fashion, an object was used to break out the front glass door and money was taken from the cash registers.

"It's what we call a smash and grab," Trotter said. "Various amounts of money were taken from each location."

Reports were received from Forsyth Sheriff's Department that same morning that there had also been a number of break-ins in the Clemmons area.

"Currently, there are no suspects at this time," Trotter said.

If you have any information about these crimes call the Davie County Detectives Division at 751-5547.

Davie Woman Charged With Exploitation Of Elderly Adult

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

A local woman was arrested last week for felony exploitation of her father.

According to Davie County Sheriff's Detective J.D. Hartman, Virginia Hardin Smith, 51, of 3670 N.C. 801 North, Mocksville was taken into custody on April 22 and charged with one count felony exploitation of an elderly adult and one count felony embezzlement.

Smith's father, Donald Harding, is 75 years old and lives at a local assisted living facility. He retired from the United States Army in 1968 and in 1996 Smith was appointed his power of attorney.

Hartman said social services reported to the sheriff's department in August of last year that Smith was abusing her "fiduciary power as power of attorney."

Essentially, she was converting Harding's retirement and social security money for her own benefit instead of using it for her father's well-being, Hartman said.

According to Hartman, his investigation has only gone back two years and in that time the majority of Harding's money has been spent on internet gambling.

Hartman would not disclose the exact amount but did say it was "several, several thousands of dollars."

Other family members, including Harding's other children, have been contacted, according to Hartman.

Smith was placed in Davie Detention Center but was released on a $35,000 unsecured bond. Her first court appearance is today.

Accidental Shooting Leads To Local Man's Arrest

By Jackie Seabolt
Davie County Enterprise Record

Stolen guns, an accidental shooting, and illegal prescription drugs all connect a local man to two different break-ins.

Peter Vaughn Hadley, 26, was arrested by Mocksville Police Department and Davie Sheriff's Department and is now facing felony charges from each.

Hadley, 26, of 400 Tot Street, Mocksville was taken to jail on April 20 by sheriff's officials for felonious breaking and entering, larceny of a firearm, possession of stolen goods, possession of a schedule II controlled substance and possession of a schedule VI controlled substance. Hadley was served a warrant by Mocksville Police Department while in custody and additionally charged with felonious breaking and entering, and larceny.

According to Davie County Sheriff's Department Detective R.M. Trotter, an incident occurred on April 20 around 6 p.m. at a residence on 167 Walt Wilson Road, Mocksville. Detectives responded to assist Deputy Bill Roseboro in a breaking and entering investigation.

Trotter reported the glass of the home's rear sunroom had been broken. A witness at the scene had arrived earlier to work on the homeowner's pool. He told detectives when he arrived he saw a small foreign car being driven by a white male wearing sunglasses leave the home. The worker did not see the damage in the back of the house and proceeded with the pool work.

According to Trotter, when the homeowner returned he saw the broken glass and contacted authorities.

Seven firearms were taken from the home's master bedroom and the homeowner's son's bedroom.

Trotter reported when the homeowner's son returned and learned of the incident, he informed detectives he had heard that a guy had accidentally shot himself with a .22 caliber gun, and he wondered if it could have been one of the one's that were stolen.

Trotter said Detective Ken Hunter from the Mocksville Police Department was contacted. He had investigated the shooting and had seized the firearm involved.

It was then confirmed the seized .22 caliber gun was one of the one's stolen from the residence.

Sheriff's Detective's went to Hadley's home and questioned him about the break-in. According to Trotter, Hadley denied any involvement in the crime. He told detectives he had bought a gun from a white male at the Four Brothers Store on N.C. 801 and had shot himself while trying to unload it. Hadley then gave detectives permission to search his home and vehicle.

According to Trotter, no stolen items were found inside Hadley's vehicle. But detectives did find a wooden hammer with glass embedded into it. Trotter said the glass could have been from the broken car window when Hadley accidentally shot himself.

Trotter said two firearms were found inside Hadley's bedroom, but he said they weren't his.

At Hadley's request detectives stopped their search and returned later with a search warrant.

Once the search of Hadley's bedroom resumed detectives found a duffle bag with a .40 caliber pistol inside. The serial number on the firearm matched one stolen from the Walt Wilson residence.

Marijuana was found in various places in Hadley's room, along with a mirror underneath the bed with white power residue on it that tested positive for cocaine, and several prescription bottles with other people's names on them, Trotter said.

The name on one of the prescription bottles was traced to the home of a Mocksville man. Mocksville police had investigate a break-in at his home on S. Main Street two days earlier that involved stolen money and the prescription medication oxycontin.

Hadley was placed in Davie Detention Center in lieu of a $10,000 secured bond where he remains. He is scheduled to appear in Davie District Court on May 6.

According to Trotter, two of the firearms were recovered and the remaining five remain are still missing.

Two Congressional Candidates Visit

Ed Broyhill of Winston-Salem

Ed Broyhill, GOP candidate for 5th District Congress.

Ed Broyhill visited Davie County on Monday the day before he was to file for Congress from the 5th district.

"I think I have been to about every precinct in Davie," he said. "We've done every one in Yadkin. We've almost completed Iredell."

He said he has been pounding the pavement for votes.

"I've learned you can't win without stopping by the Cooleemee Hardware Store and going to Farmington. Advance is crucial, and there is a sense of pride there that is unique."

Broyhill rode in the Advance Christmas Parade and said it took three weeks to recover from bronchitis he caught during the cold and wind on the back of a pickup truck.

Broyhill, a Winston-Salem businessman, is the son of former Congressman and U.S. Sen. Jim Broyhill. His grandfather and namesake created Broyhill Furniture.

"I'm very proud of my father and my grandfather's legacy, but I've got to differentiate myself and present my qualifications as well," he said. "The issues are different here than they were 25 years ago. We are fortunate in Davie to have an economy that was able to rebound quickly. But that shouldn't stop us from trying to improve the quality of life and trying to recruit industry, improving our infrastructure to help businesses grow and prosper and add new jobs."

Richard Williams is chairman of his Davie County Small Business Unite campaign.

State Sen. Andrew Brock is chairman of his Davie County campaign effort.

"I want to be identified clearly as the small business advocate," Broyhill said. His campaign theme is "Faith, Family, Friends and Freedom."

State Sen. Virginia Foxx

Virginia Foxx, GOP candidate for 5th District Congress.

N.C. Sen. Virginia Foxx visited Mocksville on Monday as part of her campaign for Congress from the 5th district.

She said she would officially file on Friday.

She also spoke at the Davie County Library during an osteoporosis workshop co-sponsored by the county extension office and the state osteoporosis task force, of which she is the chairman.

"It's going very well," she said of her campaign. "We feel very confident. I am considered the front runner in the race, have been from the beginning and I still feel very good about it."

A Watauga County resident, Foxx has served five terms in the Senate and is a former president of Mayland Community College. She received her doctorate in higher education from UNC-Greensboro in 1985.

She and her husband, Tom, operate a nursery at Grandfather Mountain.

Candidates Begin Filing For Offices

I can. I can't work any harder. It's seven days a week. There's not a day I'm not working on legislation or helping somebody work through problems. That's what I am about."

Howard started her own business, Howard Realty, 30 years ago. She served on the Mocksville town board for eight years and on the Davie County Hospital board of trustees for 12 years.

She was born in Mocksville and was a member of the Davie High Class of 1962.

Julia Howard

Last year she received a degree in sociology from Salem College, graduating magna cum laude, narrowly missing the highest honor, summa cum laude.

"I missed the big one by one tenth of one percent. It was the bird class that got me. I didn't know mourning doves mated for life. That's what cost me my rope," she said.

She said the potential challenge won't alter her.

"People know who I am and what I am about," she said. "I can't do any better or any more."

The other candidates filing:

John Lester "Johnny" Frye, 56, of Oak Street, Mocksville, was the first to file for one of three openings on the Davie County Board of Commissioners.

He is a Republican.

He attended Davie High and served in the United States Army 1967-70.

He returned to Mocksville after service and took a job in 1972 as an ambulance worker. He was named director of the service and served for 20 years as head of the Emergency Medical Service.

He was the first county employee to be certified as an Emergency Medical Technician and served under all the county managers dating back to the first, John Barber.

He retired in November 1999.

He and his wife, Dee, have three sons and six grandsons.

Raymond A. Clark, 63, of 1168 Calahaln Road, Mocksville, also filed on Monday for county commissioner as a Republican.

He said he wanted to put a western influence on the county board.

"For years most people that I've seen on the county commissioners are from the eastern end of the county. I felt I would at least give people a choice on the western end of the county.

"I want the western end of the county to have a voice in the way the tax money is spent in this county. Everybody pays their share, but it's the county commissioners who determine how it's spent."

This is his first campaign.

Clark is married to the former Priscilla Smoot. They have a son, Tommy.

He is retired from 26 years with the N.C. Department of Corrections and has been a reserve deputy sheriff in Davie County since 1985.

He graduated from Mooresville High School in 1959 and from Mitchell Community College in 1975, receiving an associates degree in accounting.

Linda Hartley Barnette, 62, of Mocksville has filed for the Davie County Board of Education. She is a retired teacher and said Monday she wants to help continue the schools' tradition of excellence.

She and husband John Barnette live on Church Street in Mocksville. She has a son, Eric Reeder and grandson, Nathan, 3.

She is a graduate of Davie High and received a bachelor's degree in English from Catawba College and her masters degree in English from the University of Tennessee. She also received certification in academically gifted instruction from Catawba.

She has taught at Winthrop University and Queen's College and Pine Forest Senior High School. She taught for 20 years in Davie County's academically and intellectually gifted program.

She is a member of Center United Methodist Church; a member of the Davie County Library board of trustees, the Davie County and N.C. Association of Educators, the Davie YMCA and the N.C. Public Library Association.

She said she wants to expand the schools' curriculum as needed, plan for the needs of a growing system, be accessible to parents, students and the school personnel, be a voice for all the people and meet her own goal of providing public service.

Linda Barnette

Andrew Brock

Brent Shoaf

Richard B. Poindexter, 52, of N.C. 801, Advance, filed Monday for his third term on the commissioners.

He is a Republican.

He is the son of Oscar and the late Ruth Poindexter of Advance. His wife is the former Linda Sain.

"These are very interesting times in Davie County, very pivotal times. I want to keep it a wonderful place to live, to raise a family and work," he said.

He now serves as chairman of the board, his second stint in that role.

"There is a lot going on in the county. Anything can be improved upon always, but all in all, we have had tough decisions to make and we managed to work them out," he said.

Poindexter if a house builder and is owner of Richard B. Poindexter Quality Homes. He also restores antique vehicles.

He was first elected in 1996 and again in 2000.

He is a Davie High School graduate, Class of 1970.

Brent Shoaf of the Redland community is completing his first term as Register of Deeds of Davie County. He was elected in 2000.

He is 39 and worked more than 11 years in the Davie County Schools, serving most of the time as a student counselor.

State Sen. Andrew Brock of Mocksville filed for re-election to a second term. His original district included all of Yadkin and Davie counties and part of Rowan.

Redistricting has taken Yadkin away from him and now includes all of Rowan.

Brock carried Yadkin in 2002, and he expects opposition this year from Rowan, which now holds a three-to-one registration advantage over Davie.

"They said they were going after me. They wanted to make me as weak as possible," he said Monday. "They want to get somebody down there (in Raleigh) who is new to the system and who would be quiet. Of all the freshmen, I was the most vocal. I was targeted," he said.

Brock is the son of Margaret and the late Rufus Brock of Mocksville.

"We're outnumbered three to one, but I've got a lot of friends in Rowan County, and I've got a voting record now," he said.

Dan Barrett Ready To Start Governor Race

By Dwight Sparks
Davie County Enterprise-Record

He has made it to 88 of North Carolina's counties so far, seeking one vote at a time.

Dan Barrett, Davie County commissioner, is trying to make the political leap to the Governor's Mansion.

This week he will officially file, plunking down the $1,299 required to file as a Republican candidate.

No Davie County resident has ever been elected to a statewide post.

He has been campaigning since May 2003.

Some people he meets don't even know where Davie County is. Lots have asked about Sheriff Gerald Hege — confusing Davie with Davidson.

"When you describe it as across the Yadkin River, most know pretty much where it is, but we have done some education in parts of the state.," Barrett said.

Other candidates may have their millions of dollars, others may buy huge chunks of television advertising, but Barrett said he is taking his campaign directly to the people. And he figures he's holding his own against better known candidates from big cities.

Dan Barrett

"It's a classic David and Goliath," he said. "When you go head to head with them it's not intimidating. Coming from the background I have in Davie County and the people I care about, I have fared well in debates. I understand what happens when Medicaid gets increased and pushed down to community governments. When you have done the things I have done and had the real life experience of what happens when you make government work, people listen.

"Our campaign is not focused as theirs is on raising big money and scripted TV footage. We're taking our campaign directly to the people and will continue to do so."

One of Barrett's biggest messages is the trouble Gov. Mike Easley caused local governments when he seized hundreds of millions of dollars two years ago to balance the state budget — while ruining all the counties and municipalities' budgets.

"The message that is getting through is that North Carolina is made up of local communities across the state, and we need somebody who knows how those communities work. We do seem to have plenty to talk about, the frustration of dealing with some in state government and how to do things to make local governments work better."

Barrett is surrendering his commissioner post after this year. He is not seeking re-election, concentrating on the governor's race.

"We need a governor who will represent the people of North Carolina," he said. "I'm not a career politician, I'm not beholden to the special interests. People seem receptive to that. It's going tot take somebody outside the Raleigh Beltline to represent the people of this state."

He calls the others in the race the "establishment candidates."

"When you're the only one of six candidates running from outside the establishment, it's pretty easy for somebody to understand we need someone from outside. The key is if you have an organization in every county that will work for you. That's how it works in Davie County and how it works in every county across the state. The other candidates are so concentrated on their media strategy and their image they have lost focus that elections are won one voter at a time."

Barrett said his wife, his family, and his county have kept his spirits up even when the roads are long and the hours are difficult.

"Every time you get a little down and out you come back home and people boost you up. It's so nice to come back to Davie County and know you're home. We are a small county with wonderful leaders, but to my knowledge there has been nobody to win a statewide race, and were trying to change that. Betsy Cochrane was an excellent candidate and the most recent one to try."

He said the chance to meet voters keeps him going.

"What is energizing is when you meet with people in little barbecue restaurants or on the street. It can become very fatiguing experience when you have an 18 hour day, but I get reenergized when I'm talking with folks. We're going out where people live and work.

Newspaper reporters in the big cities, the Charlotte Observer and the Raleigh News & Observer, find that mystifying. There isn't a hidden agenda. We're taking our message to the people. That's the way it used to be done. The conventional wisdom has become that you have to raise tons and tons of money and run negative TV advertising. I don't believe that has to be the case, and, that's the way we're looking at it.

"That's the beauty of this. When you're underestimated you can execute your plan, do things you know work, meet the people, and the other candidates can run their campaign in the more conventional way. We're going to do it the way we know how to do it."

That's how he ran for county commissioner four years ago.

"It sure wasn't a waste of time and energy when I ran for county commissioner. The State of North Carolina is a lot bigger than Davie County, but campaigns are won by world of mouth. When you make a favorable impression it doesn't just stop with them. They tell their neighbors and friends. A TV ad only registers, if at all, with the person who watches it."

Bermuda Run Briefs

Helen C. Gantt Board Nominee

Bermuda Run's town manager Beth Dirks presented board members with a nominee's name to represent the eastern Davie/Bermuda Run area on the Helen C. Gantt Development Center board. Dirks recommended Stephanie Wark, who lives in Bermuda Run, be nominated to the board. A motion was made by Bob Griffin to nominate Wark, and seconded by Nancy Marshall.

Special Police Contract

Dirks announced the contract with the SPEARS Special Police was nearing expiration. SPEARS provides law enforcement inside the town. "We approved this contract on an experimental basis and I think it has worked well," she said. "But, with the budget coming up we are looking at other avenues." Dirks announced the contract would expire June 30 and there was a 90 day notification process if the town planned not to renew. She said she wanted to make the board and SPEARS aware the town is shopping around for another way to provide the town with law enforcement.

Ending Primary Elections

Board members agreed they wanted to do away with primary elections for the town. Bermuda Run attorney Kasper Warren told board members he would prepare changes to the town's charter and present it in the near future for their approval. If the town approves the changes, a public hearing would be held.

Possible Redistricting

Bermuda Run consists of five districts. Each district's population must be within a five percent variance of each other. "Initially that was OK, but as Bermuda Run West has continued to develop in growth our districts may be out of that five percent range from each other," Dirks told the board.

Dirks presented a print out showing each district and their populations by registered voters to give board members an iden of the numbers, "We do have a variance and it's something we need to look at and readdress." The issue will be addressed again at the next meeting.

Humane Society Request Denied

The board denied a request from Davie's Humane Society for a donation of $20,000. Dirks told the board the commitment would be for five years at $4000 yearly and the Humane Society was submitting the request to all municipalities in the county. Kasper informed the board donating tax payers money to a charitable organization was not advised. Bob Griffin made a motion to deny the request and Ted Titsworth seconded.

A Charitable Bequest To Davie's Community Foundation Can Fulfill Your Charitable Goals

It has been said that 70 percent of Americans today do not have a will. Since there are only three places your estate can go when you die; Family, Charity, or the IRS, it is wise to specify your intentions through some estate planning.

For some individuals who wish to leave a positive, lasting, humanitarian legacy, a simple estate planning tool – an outright charitable bequest – may be the most effective. Outright charitable bequests can produce estate tax savings while allowing you to enjoy use of your assets during your lifetime. Considering the uncertainty of investment markets and your continued health, you may be hesitant to tie-up assets in charitable trusts, donor advised funds, or private foundations during your lifetime.

Sometimes individuals do not feel they have the ability to make large gifts during their lifetime, but wish to have an impact on the charity or charities important to them, if funds remain at death. If you think an outright bequest is the best estate planning choice for you, it is then necessary to determine the best asset to use in making the charitable gift.

Retirement assets are often a first consideration. By making The Community Foundation of Davie County the beneficiary of an IRA or 401(k) plan, you may provide both estate tax and income tax savings to your estate and beneficiaries. On the other hand, giving a home or investment real estate to the Community Foundation may be appropriate if you want to ease administrative burdens or if you have no family members who wish to take the property as their share of your estate.

While the simple estate planning technique of an outright charitable bequest is not the best plan for everyone with charitable motives, it should not be overlooked. Sometimes the simple solution is the right solution for you. For additional information about making an outright charitable bequest to The Community Foundation of Davie County, contact Jane Simpson, president, at (336) 753-6903 or jsimpson@daviefoundation.org

"Kirk'n Of The Tartans" Set For Fifth Creek Presbyterian

Fifth Creek Presbyterian Church in Cool Springs will host its third annual Scottish "Kirk'n of the Tartans" service at 11:15 a.m. Sunday, May 2. The Rev. John Milholland will officiate. "Piping on the Green" will commence around 10:45 in front of the church. The Communion Service will have a Scottish flare reminiscent of communion traditions as would have been a part of the early churches (kirks) in Scotland.

After the service, food and refreshments will be served in the Fellowship Hall, including some Scottish fare. There will also be various materials on display focusing on Scottish Communion Services, Communion Tokens, and other related areas.

The Scottish "Kirk'n" is a worship service of traditional content, but with specific significance to Scots. It features various aspects from early Scottish services, songs, recitations, etc. that have had their origins in the old Scottish Presbyterian Churches or "Kirks". Central to its theme will be the presentation of tartans associated with specific clans, families, regions, and/or regiments in Scotland. A number of the families in the church will be represented by flag bearers presenting their associated tartans.

Many of the members of Fifth Creek, and other Presbyterian churches, can trace their family lines back to those early settlers who first brought their religious traditions from Scotland and Northern Ireland to the Piedmont of North Carolina. Originally within the bounds of Fourth Creek Church (First Presbyterian Church of Statesville), Fifth Creek Presbyterian was formed around 1846 to serve the Cool Springs community.

Josh Wyatt will perform on the Great Highland Bagpipe.

Those wishing to participate in the service with their own tartan flags should meet in front of the church at 10:30 near the white tent and are asked to contact David Montgomery in advance at 704-528-0935 for more details. You can also call the church at 704-881-0680 for information. Scottish attire is welcome, but certainly not required.

Directions From Mocksville, take I-40 West to Exit 162, left on Hwy 64 for 3.6 miles past Cool Springs Elementary School. The church will be on the right.

Don't Count Out Davie Softball Just Yet

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

When Davie's varsity softball team completed an emphatic 3-0, no-runs-allowed week, the War Eagles had the look of a team that lifted a load of bricks off their shoulders.

There was good reason for their excitement after beating Reynolds 25-0, North Iredell 10-0 and Southwest Randolph 10-0. Before meeting Reynolds, they had lost three of four games and six of eight, they were hitting a feeble .242 and they had scored an unimpressive 34 runs in 10 games.

But the rejuvenated War Eagles accomplished three feats last week: Pitchers Whitney Williams, Amy Alexander and Carrie Sain took turns combining for 18 shutout innings, the offense went 26 for 57 against Reynolds and N. Iredell and the defense made one error in three games.

All of a sudden Davie (2-1 Central Piedmont Conference) has a winning record at 7-6.

"It was a confidence builder because after the North Davidson game (assistant coach Chris Callison) got on us pretty bad," shortstop Ashley Whitlock said. "He crawled us and winning three games will boost our self-esteem for West Forsyth."

"We've been practicing a lot on two-strike hitting, and we pulled together as a team," Alexander said.

"They were disappointed after North Davidson," Coach Janice Jackson said. "They were partly glad because they didn't get blown out, and they were partly disappointed because we lost. But they saw they only beat us 3-0, and then North Davidson only beat West Forsyth 1-0. So they were pretty psyched up, thinking we can come around."

Davie 25, Reynolds 0

Davie roared ahead in the first inning and never stopped. Williams, Whitlock, Kaitlin Hall and Sain all had multiple hits, while Williams tossed a four-inning perfect game despite coming in with just six Davie innings under her belt.

"It was pretty good because it gave a lot of people a chance to pull our batting averages up after they went down against North Davidson," Hall said.

In her second high-school appearance, Williams faced the minimum 12 batters against a team that scored six runs against S. Rowan, which beat Davie 9-6. The freshman struck out four and induced eight grounders or infield popups.

"It was exciting because I haven't gotten to pitch very much. So I was ready," Williams said. "I didn't even realize (the perfect game) until after the game, and then they told me. I was more worried about my hitting at the time because I wasn't hitting very well. I don't hit slow pitching very good."

Jackson was sympathetic toward hapless Reynolds, which fell to 0-18 against Davie in fastpitch.

"(Reynolds' coach) is trying really hard to rebuild that team, and he's got a lot of freshmen and sophomores," she said.

Davie 12, N. Iredell 0

The momentum carried over as Davie rapped out 11 hits and got a spotless complete game from Alexander.

Offensively, Alexander (3 for 3), Hannah Tierney (2-4), Hall (2-3) and Erin Whitaker (2-3) allowed the War Eagles to throttle an opponent the way they envisioned before the season. They scratched in the second and blew it open in the third as Hall, Whitaker, Sain and Alyse Bowden combined for nine RBIs.

McDaniel Strong Again In 1-0 Loss

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

No matter what Davie varsity baseball coach Mike Herndon has tried, he can't find any offensive consistency. He has shuffled the batting order. He has benched starters. He has pulled up JV players.

The War Eagles (6-12, 2-6 Central Piedmont Conference) pounded Concord 11-1 in a nonconference game, but their offense flamed out again in a 1-0 CPC loss Saturday at Reynolds. It was the sixth time they responded from a win with a loss. It was the sixth game they scored two or fewer runs. And it was their fourth straight CPC loss.

Davie got a big pitching performance from John McDaniel, who handcuffed Concord on three hits and came in with a 4-0 record. But as well as the sophomore pitched against a team that smacked Davie 9-1 earlier in the season, it still wasn't enough.

"He should have won," Herndon said. "When you give up five hits, strike out six and walk one, you should win. But we only had four hits."

Herndon took no consolation in battling Reynolds to the end after the Demons hammered Davie in the first meeting.

"I was really disappointed, and our kids were disappointed," he said. "We can't be satisfied with playing well. We need to be satisfied with winning. I really felt good after the Concord game. I said: 'If we win five in a row we'll be OK.' We've got to win four in a row now to get a bye in the first round (of the CPC Tournament). Which I think we're capable of doing - if we start playing together and not worrying about who's playing and who's not and all that

Arnold Gets Notre Dame's Attention

Cooter Arnold is known as a calm, cool customer who never blinks, even when the spotlight grows bright. A half-grin and a soft high-five is about as excited as Arnold ever gets.

But not even the poker-faced Arnold could hide his excitement last week. The star running back's eyes widened and his heart beat fast when he opened a letter from South Bend, Indiana, and learned that a second major college (Auburn put an offer on the table last month) plans to offer him a football scholarship.

Are you ready for this?

Notre Dame.

"When he told me he got a letter from them, he was about speechless and my jaw hit the floor," Davie football coach Doug Illing said. "They said they were going to come down in May and make an official offer."

Arnold

Notre Dame has tradition, stature and legends that rival or dwarf anybody in the country. When somebody mentions college football, Notre Dame always comes to mind. Think about it. The Four Horsemen backfield. Coach Knute Rockne. America's Team. Seven Heisman Trophy winners. Fifteen national championships. NBC has televised every home game since 1990, and will continue to carry Notre Dame through at least 2010.

"I told Cooter there's a lot of great universities in the United States, but there's none that have more tradition than Notre Dame," Illing said. "They don't just go around giving away scholarships at Notre Dame. There's a select few people that get that opportunity. That's an extremely high honor."

Arnold never exposes his thoughts without being prodded. But when you catch the attention of the Fighting Irish, you can't help but drop your guard.

"I was kind of excited because it's one of the top schools," said Arnold, who listed N.C. State, North Carolina, Virginia Tech, Virginia, Auburn and Wake Forest as his favorites. "That's one of the hardest schools to get into, and for them to say they're going to make me an offer is unbelievable. I wouldn't think I would get an offer from somebody like that, but that's good.

"If I can get in there, yeah I'd go to Notre Dame. But I'm going to wait and see what else I get before I make any decisions."

Expect major-college coaches on Davie's campus to become commonplace. Not only is Arnold wowing people, Clemson recently offered a scholarship to tight end Ted Randolph.

Worth Noting ...

Davie varsity pitcher John McDaniel's 4-0 run ended in a 1-0 loss to Reynolds. He has a 1.53 ERA and 5 complete games in his last 5 starts.

Kaitlin Hall's 8th-inning hit capped a 7-for-10 week and gave Davie varsity softball a 1-0 win over SW Randolph. Whitney Williams, Amy Alexander and Carrie Sain combined for 18 scoreless innings in 3 games.

Tamika Reynolds of N. Davie track did a mind-boggling 16-10 in the long jump. "That's the 4th-best jump this year among all high-school girls in the Northwest area of the state, according to the list in the Winston-Salem Journal," Coach Don Tabat said.

S. Davie's track team had three record-setting performances. John Pfaff, Austin Wood, Dustin Gordon and Sonny Stanley ran a 4:15.68 in the 1600 relay, Stephanie Jarvis ran a 1:04.40 in the 400 and Laura Vanhoy, Tyara Wagner, Shalitha Cleveland and Keri Robertson ran a 1:58.37 in the 800.

Brent Beam went 3 for 4 and Garrett Benge struck out eight and allowed one hit in 3 2/3 innings of relief as N. Davie overcame an 8-4 hole in a 12-8 win over N. Rowan.

Benge Pitching Propels N. Davie

By Brian Pitts
Davie County Enterprise Record

The North Davie baseball team's quest for its first conference championship in 11 years as a middle school flashed before the Wildcats' eyes when visiting North Rowan built an 8-4 lead in the top of the fourth inning last week.

Then Garrett Benge trotted in from center field, stepped in a phone booth, put on a cape, took the mound and turned the game completely around. A tall righthander with a hard fastball and knee-bending curveball, Benge wouldn't let the Wildcats lose, pitching 3 2/3 shutout innings to supplement hitting stars Brent Beam and Trent Brooks as North Davie scored eight unanswered runs to pull out a 12-8 win.

A loss to N. Rowan would have put a big kink in the Wildcats' plans. Instead of falling two games behind first-place Erwin, they improved to 6-1 and 2-1 in the Mid-South Conference.

"To be honest I was a little worried," Coach Danny Allard said. "I was real proud of the guys. We were down 3-0 and 8-4 and it says a lot about this team to not give up because a lot of teams would have folded up the tents.

"For what we think we can accomplish that would have been a big setback for us."

The Mavericks poured across five runs in the fourth to turn a 3-3 game into 8-4, and they were looking for more with runners on and just one out. But Benge relieved and threw a bucket of water on the Mavericks, striking out the first seven batters he faced (and eight total), allowing one hit and improving his record to 3-1.

"I never in my wildest dreams would have believed Garrett would come in and do what he did," Allard said. "He plays a lot of baseball and works real hard even when we're not practicing. He's always working to get better and I think it had gotten to the point where he was getting a

Davie Outscores 3 Foes 38-0 To Storm Over .500

It was a stunning rout because Davie only had six hits in a 4-1 win over North in the first meeting.

"Whitlock made a bunch of good stops at shortstop," Jackson said. "She dove after balls and stopped them. She couldn't make the out but she stopped somebody from scoring."

Though Alexander didn't overpower North, she was clutch. North put two runners on in the first, second, third and fourth, but Alexander came away unscathed each time. She closed with flair, retiring the last seven Raiders to drop her ERA to 2.33 in 51 innings.

"Like when North Davidson had three hits (in a three-run first that decided a 3-0 game), you can't let it bother you," said Alexander. "I just concentrated on the next batter. I knew if they hit the ball my defense would be there for me."

Davie's .456 hitting against Reynolds and N. Iredell inflated a handful of averages. Williams hit safely for the eighth time in nine games, pushing her average to .375. Tierney got a hit for the sixth time in seven games for a .379 mark. Alexander jacked her average 67 points to .333. And Hall went 5 for 6 in the two games for a .378 mark.

Davie 1, SW Randolph 0 (8)

The visiting War Eagles missed scoring chances in the third and seventh, but they made sure Sain's wonderful pitching wasn't wasted in the eighth.

Williams reached on an error to open the extra inning. Then Whitlock hit a soft liner up the middle. After Alexander walked, Hall finally broke the pitchers' duel with a game-winning single.

Jackson was delighted about the most gratifying win of the season.

"I had a good feeling about it, but the longer it went on I was going, 'Oh, Lord,' " she said. "I was beginning to wonder if anybody was going to score.

"I just like the way they stayed poise. It's a big win. They're a good team and they've been state champions before (in 2001)."

Whitlock was down on herself after striking out with two on in the third. She redeemed herself with the single that set the stage for Hall's heroics.

"I'd struggled at the plate," the sophomore No. 3 batter said. "My dad told me their pitcher had whupped me all day, and (in the eighth) I went up there with a different attitude. I had two strikes, fouled off four pitches and got a hit."

Sain didn't let a runner get past first until the fifth, when she got out of a two-on, one-out jam. The junior retired eight straight between the fifth and seventh and worked around an error and sac bunt in the eighth.

She didn't walk anybody in a five-hitter.

"It was our defense," Sain said. "That was the reason we won. I let my defense work, giving them something where they could just barely hit it and let my teammates do it."

Notes: Are the War Eagles on to something? This week provided the answer as they took a head of steam into two games against West Forsyth (April 26, 27). They play at home to S. Rowan on April 30 and at Reynolds on May 4. ... For the week, Hall went 7 for 10. She leads Davie in at-bats, hits, RBIs and average (.390). ... Williams is No. 2 in runs, hits and average (.382), and she is first in walks. ... Whitaker has a three-game hitting streak. ... Sain bounced back from a 12-2 loss to W. Rowan and lowered her ERA from 5.83 to 3.50.

McDaniel Gives Superb Effort In 1-0 CPC Loss stuff."

Davie 11, Concord 1

McDaniel collected his fourth straight win as a starter in five walk-free innings. He retired the first seven batters, Whit Merrifield was outstanding at second base and Davie outhit Concord (6-10) 11-3.

Foo Smith went 2 for 3 with four RBIs as Davie exploded for four first-inning runs and extended the lead to 9-1 in the fourth. Andrew McClannon knocked in two runs. And Brad Corriher, Evan Beam and Timmy Allen combined for six hits in the Nos. 6-8 spots.

"It's been a while since we did anything like that," Herndon said. "When I saw the guy (Andy Ward) we were facing I thought we might struggle. He threw hard. He was a carbon copy of Cody Wright. Looked like him and threw like him. But we jumped on him. That's the first time we've jumped out of the chute in a while, and it felt good."

The War Eagles put up the most hits since getting 14 in an 8-6 win over Mount Tabor on March 2. They scored as many runs in the first as they had in the previous two games combined. And they finished with the most runs of the season, passing the eight from March 2.

"We had good defense, good pitching and we hit it," he said. "I was pleased by the way we played, but I want to put a couple games together."

Reynolds 1, Davie 0

McDaniel was at it again, continuing a blistering stretch that began March 23. But while McDaniel disarmed the Demons (13-5, 5-4) from the second through their final at-bat in the sixth, he lost a magnificent battle with Jay Laramore.

Laramore did it all, knocking in the only run with a two-out single in the first and hurling six innings. Hampton Foushee, who stymied Davie at Rich Park, got the save in the seventh.

"We wore their shortstop out," Herndon said. "We hit seven balls to him and he gobbled all seven up. We need to hit it somewhere else next time."

It was hard to top McDaniel's previous four starts, but he did. After giving up two hits in the first, he allowed four base runners the rest of the way. Only two runners reached second.

"When they call the low strike, I say: 'Listen, we've got a dadgum good chance,' " Herndon said. "He mixes it and throws it in a tin cup. The only time McDaniel ever gets hurt is when he gets it up. When he keeps it down he's as tough as there is."

Davie had chances in the first and third. Zach Vogler led off the game with a double, but after a walk put runners at first and third with one out, Davie made a running mistake that bailed out Laramore. In the third Smith hit a missile with two on and one out, but the shot went straight to the right fielder.

"If it goes three feet right or three feet left, it scores two runs," Herndon said.

Emert greeted reliever Foushee, who fanned 10 at Rich Park, with a single. But the next batter bunted into a double play, the ball floating to an infielder who made the catch and threw to first.

Notes: Laramore ran his record to 6-0. ... Davie has lost six straight to Reynolds. ... McDaniel has been remarkable in his last five starts: 32 innings, 23 hits, nine runs, seven earned runs, five walks, 29 Ks and a 1.53 ERA. ... Brandon Stewart, a freshman center fielder, almost came up with a highlight-reel catch on Laramore's sixth-inning double. "He laid out," Herndon said. "It would have been an Espy Award. It hit his glove and the ground knocked it out." ... Two of Davie's four hits came from Merrifield and Stewart. Merrifield has hit in four of five games, and Emert has hit in 11 of 13 for a team-high average of .292. ... This marked the 11th time Davie managed six or fewer hits. It is hitting .252. ... Davie plays at S. Rowan on April 30 at 7 and at home to Reynolds on May 4 at 7.

Former Shady Grove-N. Davie Star Drafted

Chris Perry was the catalyst on arguably the greatest youth league team in Davie County history in 1993, when Shady Grove's fifth-sixth grade team went undefeated and didn't allow a touchdown all season. Perry was unstoppable for North Davie's seventh-grade squad in 1994, helping the Wildcats beat South Davie 20-12 in overtime on the way to a 6-2 record.

Little did you know you were watching a future NFL running back.

Perry, who grew up in Advance, was taken in the first round - with the 26th overall pick - by the Cincinnati Bengals in last weekend's NFL Draft. The star tailback from Michigan was the 2003 Big Ten Offensive Player of the Year.

Perry went to Shady Grove Elementary and North Davie Middle before enrolling at Fork Union (Va.) Military Academy before his eighth-grade year. In 1995, when N. Davie was without Perry's talents, S. Davie routed the Wildcats 40-0, a 48-point swing from North's 1994 OT win. Perry transferred to Davie High for the second semester of the 1997-98 school year, then returned to Fork Union for his junior and seniors years.

In four years at Michigan Perry rushed for 3,696 yards and 39 touchdowns. He finished fourth in the voting for the 2003 Heisman Trophy. The 6-1, 218-pounder won the Doak Walker Award as the nation's best running back.

Pitcher Untouchable In N. Davie Baseball Rally

little tired. He took the whole spring break off, and he was real rested and ready to go."

Brooks' two-run single capped a three-run first as N. Davie matched N. Rowan's fast start. Beam and Benge delivered two-run hits in a four-run fourth that tied the game at 8-8. And Danny Peele ignited a three-run fifth with a double as North charged ahead 11-8.

As usual Beam (3 for 4) and Brooks (2 for 3) did the most damage, combining for half of N. Davie's hits. "They have definitely been our most consistent bats," Allard said.

Benge, Beam and Brooks aren't the only stars. They're part of a collection of determined players who are trying to become the winningest middle-school team in North history (the 1996 and 2003 teams stand at the top at nine wins), and Allard spread the credit to second baseman Zeb Cope and first baseman Brett Schneggenburger.

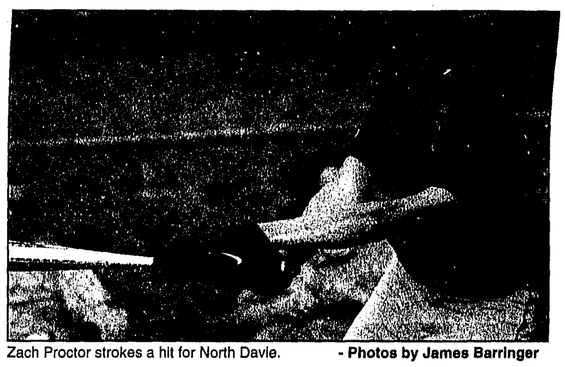

"They are doing a lot of things to help the team," he said. "I ask them to bunt a lot and they're team players about it. They know what they do is helping the team. When Schneggenburger put that bunt down at South Davie, that got us going because they misplayed the bunt. Cope bunted and got a base hit against North Rowan. When we were down 8-4 I had Scheggenburger bunt, he got the runner to second and he ended up scoring on a hit. That got us going in that inning.

"So those two guys are good examples of playing for the team and not just for themselves."

N. Davie Middle has never had a better record through eight games. But with five MSC games to go, there's considerable work to do.

"We've got a big week with Southeast (April 27) and West Rowan (April 28)," he said. "We've still got a lot of ball to play. The next two weeks will decide the whole thing. I'm pleased with where we're at, but we've got a ways to go."

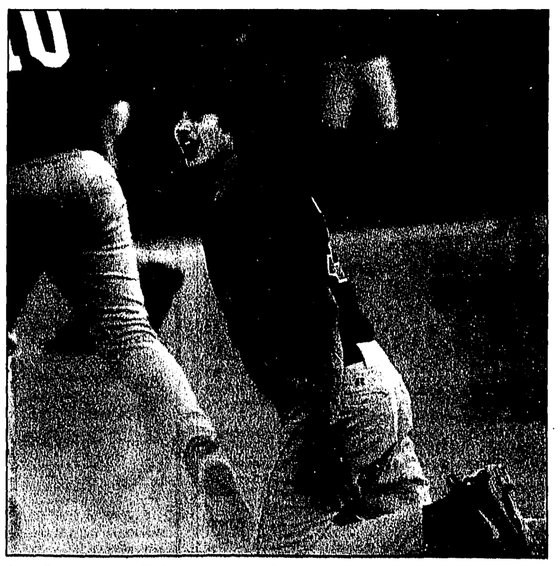

Notes: Allard said starting pitcher Zack Russell-Myers shouldn't have given up eight runs. "He didn't do that bad a job. He threw strikes just like I asked him to do." ... Later in the week, Adam Ridenhour and Ben Sink combined for a five-inning no-hitter in a 32-0 pasting of Lexington. The hosts managed one base runner, and he was erased on a double play by shortstop Bret Peterson, who caught a line drive and fired to first. ... N. Davie and S. Davie have feasted on Lexington, outscoring the Yellow Jackets 97-6 in four games. ... The Wildcats play home games with W. Rowan on April 28, Knox on April 29 and S. Davie on May 3. They play at Corriher-Lipe on May 6.

Soccer Loses Despite 34-4 Edge In Shots

Davie varsity soccer coach Pete Gustafson has tried mightily to stay upbeat during winless streaks of six and five games, but it's becoming increasingly difficult as the losses mount.

Lackey

Gustafson and the War Eagles (3-10-1 record) were perplexed after a 1-0 nonconference loss to Forbush last week. They desperately wanted to break a four-game skid, and they were much sharper than the visitors, outshooting the Falcons by a staggering 34-4. Yet Forbush managed to eke out the win when Heather Fields scored the game's only goal with two minutes left.

The only thing Davie failed to do was deposit the ball in the net. It just wouldn't go, time and again.

"We pounded them," Gustafson said. "We totally dominated them and played very, very well. We beat them on most of the 50-50 balls, outpassed them, outplayed them and played better in the air than them. We played better in every phase of the game. (Keeper) Kami Simpson wasn't really involved in the game."

The War Eagles, who lost 4-1 earlier in the week to North Davidson in a Central Piedmont Conference game, have 20 goals in 14 games. Their scoring woes are sometimes as much about what they're doing wrong as opposing defenses are doing right.

"I tried five or six strikers and tried to mix things around," he said in exasperation. "We just could not put it in the net. We never even hit the post. Thirty-four shots and we don't even hit the post."

The ending was grueling for the War Eagles, who watched Fields convert a breakaway with 120 seconds left. The shot lifted Forbush to 11-4-1.

Offensive midfielder Alyson Walker, defensive midfielder Sharon Woodward, outside left Sloan Smith and defenders Annie Haftman, Sally Lackey, Kourtney Hanrahan and Carly Booth kept the War Eagles in position to win for the first time since March 30. It was their third loss when holding an opponent to two goals or less.

"Lackey had one of her best games," he said. "She was very physical. I really liked her play. I hope she continues to play like that because she was very dominant."

Notes: Booth cut N. Davidson's lead to 2-1 on an unassisted goal at the 66th minute, but North (2-4-1, 2-2 CPC) responded with two goals in seven minutes. ... Davie (1-3 CPC) plays at S. Rowan on April 29, at home to Reynolds on May 4 and at N. Davidson on May 6. ... Davie's JV (0-8-1) lost to N. Davidson and Forbush by 3-0 scores.

Davie Tennis, Golf Suffer Losing Skids

The Davie tennis and golf teams had little to cheer about last week. The tennis team suffered three Central Piedmont Conference losses, falling 8-1 to West Forsyth, 6-3 to South Rowan and 7-2 to West Forsyth, while the golf team finished fifth among five teams in all three CPC meets.

Not too long ago the tennis team was flying high at 6-1, but the CPC season has been another story as the War Eagles have dropped six in a row to plummet to 6-7 overall and 1-5 in the league. If they don't bounce back, they will endure a losing record for the sixth time in seven years.

Davie had six wins in 27 matches. Kurt Bivins and Phillip Hursey won 9-8 at No. 3 doubles in the first meeting with W. Forsyth. Against S. Rowan, Hursey won 10-3 at five, Matt Hauser-Chris Moxley won 8-6 at No. 2 doubles and Bivins-Hursey won 9-7 at three. And in the rematch with W. Forsyth (9-4, 6-2), Hauser won 10-7 at three and Hursey won 10-4 at five.

Davie's golf team has placed last in all four CPC meets. For the week, only two players broke 40. Andrew Darcy and Jared Nelms fired 3-over 38s at The Warrior Golf Course.

In the team race, Davie stands 35 strokes behind fourth-place South Rowan. The standings entering this week: West Forsyth 611, North Davidson 616, Reynolds 625, South Rowan 649 and Davie 684.

Davie's tennis team plays at N. Davidson on April 29. The CPC Tournament is May 4-5 at Reynolds.

Suiter Golf Classic May 7 At Hickory Hill

The 8th annual Julius E. Suiter Scholarship Golf Classic has been scheduled for May 7 at Hickory Hill Country Club.

One of the organizers, Elliott Wilkes, said teams and sponsors are still being sought for the tournament.

The effort has awarded five $1,000 scholarships to Davie County High School graduates.

Wilkes was a 1967 graduate of the old Central Davie High School, the final year before the school merged into Davie High.

"He was our mentor and teacher at high school. He's the one who had the most influence on us. When he came to Central Davie, the students were more afraid of him than the principal," Wilkes said.

Now retired, Suiter had a long career in the Davie school system at Davie High and later as principal of South Davie Middle and Mocksville Elementary.

Wilkes said the golf tournament is a way to honor Suiter and give deserving graduates a boost as they go to college.

The tournament is $75 per player or $300 for a team.

Camp Forms Available

Forms for volleyball and girls basketball camps are available at Davie High and will be going out to all the schools this week. They are also posted on the Davie High website. For more information, call Coach Karen Stephens at 751-5905.

Davidson Community College Golf Tournament To Be May 6

Golfers may still register for Davidson County Community College's Annual Scholarship Golf Tournament set for Thursday, May 6, at Salem Glen Country Club near Clemmons. Proceeds from the tournament are directed to the Foundation's scholarship endowment which provides assistance with tuition, books, and fees.

There are openings for participants in the morning round starting at 8 a.m. Morning round check-in begins a 7:30 a.m. Golfers registered for the afternoon round check-in at 1 p.m., followed by a 1:30 p.m. shotgun start.

A lunch buffet will be served to all golfers from 11:30 to 1:30 p.m. Prizes will be awarded to morning round winners, and a silent auction to raise additional funds for student scholarship support will be held. The afternoon round will be followed by an awards reception.

Entry fee for the tournament is $85 per golfer. This fee includes green fee, mulligan, cart fee, on-course refreshments, prizes, the lunch buffet and awards reception, and a gift bag. The field is limited to the first 232 paid entries. The rain date for the tournament is set for Thursday, May 13.

Scott Gantt of Mocksville, who serves on the golf tournament planning committee, notes the tournament provides an opportunity to put a tool in place – raising student support funds – that allows students to reach the educational goals they set for themselves.

In addition, Gantt expressed his enjoyment in participating in such a worthwhile event. "It is so very well planned, and everyone is there not so much to win but to enjoy the event," he said. "I've participated for several years and have always found the facilities and golf courses to be phenomenal."

For additional information about the tournament or how to register, contact the Foundation Office at 249-8186, ext. 381.

The Davidson Campus is located half-way between Thomasville and Lexington at the intersection of I-85 Business Loop and Old Greensboro Road.

JV War Eagles Rise From Ashes To Beat Tabor

Tim McKnight thought he had a compelling JV baseball team as Davie overcame frequent roster changes to win nine of its first 14 games. He's more convinced after the War Eagles wiped out a 5-0 deficit to beat visiting Mount Tabor 8-7 in a nonconference game last week.

Later in the week, they won for the fifth time in six games, blasting Reynolds 17-2 to improve to 5-3 in the Central Piedmont Conference and 11-6 overall.

To give the rally over Tabor some perspective, consider the War Eagles were held to four hits and had no hits entering the bottom of the fourth. That didn't stop them from rising from the ashes and avenging a 9-6 loss in the second game of the season.

"One thing I'm finding out about this team is they find a way to win. They battle," McKnight, a first-year Davie coach, said. "They do not give up. They do not ever think they're out of a game. When we were down 5-0, we weren't holding our heads down. Once the door got open, we made things happen and took advantage of what they gave us."

Nothing worked in the first three and a half innings. Tabor used a four-run third to take the 5-0 lead and Davie sent 10 batters to the plate in the first three innings. Its only base runner was Justin Thompson, who reached on an error.

Boy, how things changed in the bottom of the fourth. One of Tabor's six errors and two walks pumped life into dead Davie, and Saxon Pratt, Bryan King and Matt Pennington made Tabor pay with RBI singles. Tabor compounded its problems with two more errors, giving Davie a 6-5 lead.

Josh Eder had the only other hit for Davie.

"Everything fell apart for them," McKnight said. "Once we got runners on, they kind of self-destructed and their pitcher wasn't the same out of the stretch."

Center fielder Eder made an impressive running catch on a ball in the gap, and third baseman Thompson got starter Jonathan Hutches out of a first-inning mess with an unassisted double play. Tabor had the bases loaded with one out. Thompson speared a smoking liner and outran the runner to third.

King got the win in 4 1/3 innings of relief.

Davie 17, Reynolds 2

Davie jumped ahead 4-0 in the first as Zach Howard (3 for 5, five RBIs), Pratt (3 for 3, three RBIs), Eder (2 for 4, three RBIs) and Hutchens (2 for 3, two RBIs) led a 13-hit attack. King put the finishes touches on the breezy win, relieving in the fifth and retiring all seven batters.

King was in slick form after giving up seven hits and five walks to Tabor.

"You can't pitch any better," McKnight said. "He was typical King: He threw strikes, kept it low and got ground balls."

Howard has been remarkably consistent, stroking three hits after entering the week with a .500 average. Eder, who was around .350 through 15 games, has been nearly as impressive as the second-best hitter.

"He's got speed, he can cover ground in the outfield and he's got an above-average arm," McKnight said. "No doubt he's a good player."

Another big part of Davie's surge has been second baseman Heath Boyd, who made an incredible play on a blooper over first baseman Pennington's head.

"Here's another kid who can play. He had an exceptional defensive game," McKnight said. "A popup went directly behind Pennington, Boyd laid out and caught it down the line. He hit the ball on the nose the last two games, but didn't have a lot to show for it. They were right at people."

Notes: The War Eagles beat Reynolds 18-3 in the first meeting. ... Their only loss during a 5-1 charge was 10-9 to N. Davidson. "We keep getting better," McKnight said. "The chemistry on this club, they're together like glue. They're tight." ... They play at S. Rowan on April 30 at 4:30 and at home to Reynolds on May 4 at 4:30.

Wildcats Give Feisty Effort In Defeat

The North Davie soccer team's luck in hard-fought games went from bad to worse last week against Mooresville.

The Wildcats gave it as valiant an effort as they could, but even that wasn't enough in a 2-0 loss that exemplified their season. They haven't backed down against strong competition, but another tight game ended in heartache for Coach John Marshall's gritty team.

"Once again it was a battle," he said after North's third defeat to Mooresville. "We played poorly in the first half and it was 0-0 at halftime. We played very well in the second half and lost 2-0. That doesn't really make sense, but the girls played very hard."

Sweeper Hannah Jakob, midfielder Samantha Judd and keeper Samantha Mareaday led the feisty effort. Stopper Whitney Bokeno nearly gave North a 1-0 lead, but her direct kick early in the second half wouldn't go.

"I think that would have changed the game," Marshall said. "As soon as we had that opportunity, they came down and scored.

"It was another one of those games where we played a good team strong and just came out on the losing end."

North reached the .500 mark earlier in the week by stomping Forsyth Academy 5-0. The goals came from Hannah Stroupe, Amber Parrish, Kelsey Shipman and Chelsea Swyers.

North plays at Summit on April 29 and at home to Forsyth Country Day on May 6.

North, South Track Teams Pile Up More Wins, Records

The results were familiar for both North Davie track teams and South Davie's boys. They won three more meets between them, mostly in dominating style. And, not to be outdone, South's girls cruised to a victory.

South's boys kept pace with North by staying unbeaten in a four-team meet, scoring 90 points to North Rowan's 69, West Rowan's 37 and Knox's 34. The only blemish on the boys' records at North and South was a tie against each other.

"South and North are the only two undefeated teams in the (Mid-South Conference)," South boys coach Brenda Holmes said. "This is the first time in my memory that both South and North have had strong teams in the same season."

South's 1600 relay team of John Pfaff, Austin Wood, Dustin Gordon and Sonny Stanley shaved 20 seconds off their previous-best time to set a new school record at 4:15.68.

South's other winners were Floyd Collins (110 hurdles), Cameron Webb (100 dash), Perry James (100 dash), Stanley (400) and Webb, James Mayfield, Shyteek Brown and James in the 400 relay.

North's boys and girls took down China Grove and Southeast. North's girls had 74 to China Grove's 50 and Southeast's 32, while North's boys rolled at 76 to China Grove's 50 and Southeast's 40.

"We looked a bit rusty, but both teams gutted out solid wins," North coach Don Tabat said. "This was the first time our girls team has beaten Southeast."

As usual Tamika Reynolds paced North's girls with wins in the long jump and 100. They also got wins from Cierra Clement (shot put), Chelsea Bordner (high jump), Carly Cornatzer (100 hurdles) and Elizabeth Budd (200 hurdles). Claiming relays were Maryette Collette, Tanisha Reynolds, Emily Tierney and Sarah Evans in the 800 and Tanisha Reynolds, Tierney, Evans and Tamika Reynolds in the 400.

Ian Dowdy, a double winner in both hurdles, and Robert Gassett, who won the 100 and 200 races, led the way as North's boys claimed an abbreviated meet. The last four events - in boys and girls competition - were not run due to a scheduling conflict. Patrick Harris (discus), Ryan Hutchinson (high jump), Sean Griffin (1600) and Fidel Hernandez (400) enjoyed first places, and Gassett, Hernandez, Josh Riddle and Michael Rowe captured the 800 relay.

While North's girls (67 points) romped past North Rowan (33) and Corriher-Lipe (13), the boys (55) squeezed past North Rowan (54) to remain unbeaten. Corriher-Lipe had 15.

"We had a couple tremendous efforts from long jumpers," Tabat said, pointing to Tamika Reynolds' 16-10 and Micah Womble's 17-3. "(Reynolds' performance) is the fourth-best jump this year among all high-school girls in the Northwest area of the state, according to the list in the Winston-Salem Journal."

The triumphant boys were Womble (long jump), Hutchinson (high jump), Gassett (100 and Griffin (1600).

Tamika Reynolds won the long jump and 100. The first-place list included Katelin Wensley (high jump), Margaret Guntner (triple jump), Budd (100 hurdles), Jamie Stancliff (1600), Collette (400) and two relays - Collette, Tanisha Reynolds, Tierney and Evans in the 800 and Tanisha Reynolds, Tierney, Evans and Tamika Reynolds in the 400.

South's girls established two school records while beating Knox 76-55. North Rowan had 50 and West Rowan 49. The record showings came from Stephanie Jarvis, who ran a 1:04.40 in the 400, and Laura Vanhoy, Tyara Wagner, Shalitha Cleveland and Keri Robertson, who combined for a 1:58.37 in the 800.

Jarvis was a double winner, also taking the 100. Adding wins were Tekaira Gaither (shot put), Britany Greer (1600), Amber Beck (800) and 1600 relayers Greer, Ashley Absher, Amanda Bridges and Sherrell Collins.

"It's all coming together pretty good for us," South girls coach Becky Miller said. "Our distance girls keep getting better."

Old School: Davie Sports News From April 1980

Tigers Blow 7-0 Lead Over W. Rowan

The South Davie baseball team's hopes for a fourth straight finish in the top three of the nine-team Mid-South Conference may have come crashing down last week. What made a pair of league losses - 5-2 to Erwin and 10-9 to West Rowan - sting was that Erwin and West didn't so much beat the Tigers as the Tigers beat themselves.

They suffered a defensive meltdown in the first three innings to spot Erwin a 4-0 lead, and they made a costly error on a flyball that allowed West to complete a rally from 7-0 and escape with a decision that dropped South to 6-4 and 1-3 in the MSC.

The way South went down, especially against West, gnawed at Coach Todd Bumgarner's insides and left him thinking what-if. In the Tigers' other two losses, they were tied 2-2 in the sixth against Southeast before losing 9-2 and were tied with North Davie 5-5 in the fifth before losing 9-5.

"Our defense is not coming through," he said. "It feels bad to know you could be undefeated or 9-1 or 8-2 or no worse than 7-3. But 6-4? It's rough on you. The monkey's getting heavy in these close games, and we've got to somehow figure out how to get the monkey off our back."

The home game with Erwin started ominously when passed balls gave Erwin a 1-0 lead in the top of the first and South wasted a second-and-third, one-out threat in the home half of the first.

Infielders let grounders roll through their legs in the second and third, and Erwin took full advantage while establishing the 4-0 lead. Matt Oswell pitched seven strong innings, but it didn't matter as South's eight-hit offense stranded 16 - count 'em, 16 - runners.

"The pitching was great. Oswell gets better every time out," Bumgarner said. "I would have told you early in the year I would be tickled only getting beat 5-2 by Erwin. But I'm disappointed we didn't have a chance to win the game at the end."

After rolling over lowly Lexington 14-3 in a nonconference game, Jordan Brown and the Tigers built a seemingly commanding 7-0 lead over West. Brown was headed toward star-of-the-game glory after coming up with two-run singles in the first and third innings.

But it all turned bad in the fourth, when West cut it to 7-3. West turned three walks into three runs in the fifth to chip within 7-6. Clint Howell, Colby Seaford and Oswell delivered hits as South answered with two runs in the sixth for a 9-6 lead.

However, the Tigers had two chances to put West in a deeper hole. With the lead 7-0 in the fourth, they had runners at second and third with one out - but failed to pad the margin. With the score 9-6 in the sixth, they had runners at second and third with one out - but failed again to knock West out.

"We don't come through when we need to," Bumgarner said. "We couldn't get a ground ball to the right side or anything."

Seaford, South's third pitcher, retired West's first two batters in the sixth on a strikeout and comebacker. West's next batter lofted a lazy fly to center. But just when it seemed South was headed into the seventh with the three-run cushion, the outfielder dropped the ball. That opened the floodgates. Three hits and a walk later, West had a 10-9 lead that stood.

A glum Bumgarner hated this loss as much as any in his six years at the helm.

"If something came happen to this team, it's happened," he said. "It seems like it's something different every game. The Erwin game it was two ground balls through the legs, the North Davie game it was a popup on the infield, the Southeast game it was a throw in the dirt by an infielder, and this time it was a dropped fly ball. The way it ended was just unbelievable. When you get 13 hits and score nine runs, you should win."

Notes: South played West without three starters who were on a school beach trip, including .480-hitting Ryan Hellard. Bumgarner said catcher Justin Burton and infielders Shelton Howard and Brown played well as fill-in starters. ... In the win over Lexington, Howard had two hits and pitched three innings of one-hit ball. ... South plays at North Rowan on April 29 and at North Davie on May 3.

Discovery May End Heartburn Forever
WASHINGTON — Gastrointestinal (GI) problems like acid reflux, heartburn and ulcers may be eliminated with a new type of tablet. Scientists say that GI problems are not the result of excess acid, but the body's inability to deal with it. Pepstat 380® is a patent-pending formula that combines orange peel and calcium with an extract known as DGL that strengthens the body's natural defenses against acid.
Pepstat 380 goes to work immediately on stomach acid while addressing the cause of GI problems. Scientists say that the DGL in Pepstat improves the body's protective substances, increases the lifespan of digestive tract cells, and improves blood supply to the area. Articles have appeared in publications like the British medical journal The Lancet showing DGL to be as effective as Zantac®, Tagamet® and/or antacids. Pepstat also works faster than Prilosec®. Pepstat may make these drugs obsolete because DGL has no known side effects.
The problem with antacids and acid blockers is that they can interrupt the body's normal digestive process. Pepstat 380 is a natural alternative available without a prescription or call 1-800-339-3301. ©2004 www.Key2Health.com

South Davie

Davie County Arts Council is sponsoring an art contest. The show dates are April 23-May 21.

South Davie has been fortunate enough to have some of our talented students win prizes in the past and hope to repeat this year. If you have any questions you can call Mrs. Lucas.

We have just started the seventh and final rotation of art in the sixth grade. The students have been working on their Martian landscapes.

The seventh grade art students are finishing up their ceramics. They have to create coil pots that included a handle and a spout. We have many different styles, which will be on display after they have been glazed and fired.

The eighth graders have continued to improve their drawing skills by working in their daily sketchbooks. They have also been trying Impressionist painting, using a sponge. If you come to the school take a look at their oil pastel flowers, done in the style of Georgia O'Keefe that are on display in the lobby.

Mocksville Elementary

Student of the Week, April 19-23: Nicholas Starnes, SaiQuan Cody, Patricia Shores, Paige Berryhill, Lizzeth Castorena, Lisa Tritt, Maricruz Flores, Alyssa Thomasson, Chelsea Byerly, Destiny Johnson, Cole Whitaker, Nicole Slate, Nikki Moody, Tyler Carter, Ana Burton, Jeremy Whitaker, Angelica Garcia, Nick Holder, Shelby Holland, Rachel Howell.

Ms. Garner and Mrs. Russell's kindergarten class have been reviewing all the letters of the alphabet with the wonderful book Chicka, Chicka, Boom, Boom. The students have enjoyed reading the book over and over again, making their own coconut trees, and even busting open a real coconut and tasting the juice. In addition, the students have been learning all about frogs and have begun a unit on drug prevention.

First graders in Mrs. Whitaker and Mrs. Shuler's class have been reading about methods of transportation. A main focus has been on comprehension skills and summarizing. In math they are learning to add and subtract two-digit numbers. Students were excited to see a scropion moth had emerged from its cocoon when they came back from spring break. It was huge and ready to explore the outside world.

Mrs. Julie Fletcher and Ms. Lynn Zoubek's second graders are working on fairy tales. We are discussing how fair tales began and who published the first fairy tales. We are learning about knights and castles while reading the book The Sword and the Stone. The class is also reading Jack and the Beanstalk, The Emperor's New Clothes, Rapunzel, Cinderella and Hansel and Gretel. They are enjoying lots of creative art activities, such as what fairy tale characters do when no one is looking. Rewriting the ending of Jack and the Beanstalk with the giant living in the end of the story and also designing a new outfit for the emperor. We are having lots of fun with this unit.

Mrs. Lankford and Mrs. Brown's third graders returned from spring benk rested and ready to tackle the last six weeks of school. We read the story King Midas and the Golden Touch and started the novel The Chocolate Touch. As we read, we are comparing the two stories to fine their similarities and their differences. The children are writing their own stories about a magic touch.

We are continuing to prepare for the upcoming end of grade test by concentrating on the Test Ready Reading and Math booklets. The children have goals in these booklets and are striving to meet them in order to win reward times.

After returning from a week of trips to the beach, playing outdoors and relaxing in front of the television, Ms. Weber's class is ready to work. With the end of grade test rapidly approaching, we are gearing up with a lot of test preparation. We are running out of objects to measure in the classroom, whether it is in inches, meters, quarts or liters. We've shot baskets and flown paper airplanes, measuring our distance from the net and the length our planes have sailed in the air. Speaking of sailing, it won't be long until these boys and girls are sailing into sixth grade.

Pinebrook Elementary

Mrs. Kauffman's, Mrs. Potts's, Mrs. Harpe's, Ms. VanOfferen's and Ms. James' second graders visited Eaton's farm for a day of fun and learning. The day was hosted by the North Carolina Cooperative Extension Service. Tracy Carter coordinated the day for us. The second grade children visited 10 different stations to learn about all different kinds of farm animals and the hard work that goes into running a successful farm. The stations included beef cows, dairy cows, sheep, horse, chicken, pigs, goats, a veterinarian, and animal feed. The children also were able to see sheep dogs herd sheep. They learned how the dogs were trained and why they were used. We want to thank the Eaton farm for allowing us to visit and learn so much.

Mrs. Dalton's 5th grade Social Studies students recently finished their study on the United States. Each student was assigned a state and had to research and present their state to their classmates. The Social Studies classes are wrapping up their study on United States history and will soon begin a study of Canada. Each student will be working with a partner to complete a power point presentation on a province in Canada.

The students in Mrs. Dalton's homeroom class have been very busy working on a poetry unit. The entire class has done a great job of composing very original poems. The class is in the process of working on a play, Rip Van Winkle. Brad Deal and Ryan Budd, from Mrs. Dalton's homeroom class, met their goal in AR for the month of March. They will be rewarded with an afternoon of flying kites.

The following students from Ms. Sullivan's fifth grade class met the AR requirements for the month of March. Each of these students enjoyed a beautiful day flying kites. Wsley Kulp, Christian Lee, Catie Montgomery, Jasmine Sales, Brittani Stewart, Holly Thompson.

Cooleemee Elementary

The fifth grade students in Mrs. Wilcox's class had a great time at the countywide Fifth grade Field Day held at the YMCA before Spring Break. It was fun to meet kids from other schools that we may go to school with in the future. We look forward to getting better acquainted next year.

The students are looking forward to a visit from the South Davie Counselors when they will tell us what to expect in sixth grade. This is a busy time as we look forward to next year, but know that we still have plenty to do to get through the rest of this year.

Our test taking skills have kicked into high gear as we prepare for the End-Of-The Grade tests. These next couple of weeks are extremely important as we will review all that we need to be prepared for the test. The students have worked on the physical fitness test in PE. Most of the class accepted the challenge from Mrs. Wilcox to run the mile in less than 15 minutes. Our bodies are getting in shape physically as well as mentally.

First grade students went to Horizons Science Center in Salisbury this week. We continued our studies on the life long ago with a program called "Grannie's Games." We learned how children worked and played. Their toys were mostly made of wood. We learned to play jacks, marbles, drop clothespins in a gourd, and use the Jacob's ladder.

In the second program "Field and Forest" we explored the habitats of some of our favorite North Carolina animals the beaver, black bear, fox, woodpecker, and opossum.

The third graders are working hard to prepare for the EOGs. They have been reviewing mathematics concepts and working on test taking strategies.

Cornatzer Elementary

Cornatzer students and their teachers have returned from spring break relaxed, rested up and ready to tackle the last month of the school year.

Mrs. Stiller's class has finished several class novels in the last few weeks. Some include The Hundred Penny Box, Sadako and Run. Students are also reading hard for Camp Read A Lot, hoping to win the chance for a swimming party at the YMCA.

They have been preparing for their trip to Raleigh on April 29. The students have worked very hard learning about the state capital, the state senators, legislators and North Carolina's branches of government and how they work. When they return from Raleigh, they will be learning how electricity works and students will create a lighthouse that lights up by electricity for the final fourth grade project.

During the month of March, a pesky leprechaun came to visit the Pre-K class of Mrs. Ancuta and Mrs. Peeler. "He not only left a sprinkling of shamrock dust but also his little green shoes and socks. Since we returned his items to him, he left us some treats by his pot of gold. To thank our little leprechaun, the class made a handprint rainbow to display in our classroom," said Mrs. Ancuta. The children continue to learn new alphabet letters and numbers. To welcome spring, they finger-painted blueberry bushes, made tissue paper forsythia bushes and decorated their classroom tree with leaves and buds.

To celebrate the Easter holiday, the children learned some new songs and finger plays and by far the favorite was the Bunny Pokey. The class also dyed hard-boiled eggs, made Easter cards for their families and painted large eggs. "Thank you to our parents who sent in special treats for the day and eggs for our egg hunt. We enjoyed our egg hunt with our friends from Mrs. Deadmon's class," added Mrs. Ancuta.

Now that they have returned from spring break, the children are ready for more fun-filled activities. They read the book The Tiny Seed and tasted both raw and cooked carrots. The children then made a chart showing how many liked the raw carrots, how many liked the cooked carrots and how many did not like carrots at all. Then they looked at the carrots, using magnifying glasses, cut off the leaves and bottoms of the carrots, set the carrot tops into some sand, watered them, and now will watch and see what happens.

The second grade class of Mrs. McDaniel has been very busy this month. Students enjoyed Farm Day at Eaton's Farm and got to learn lots about horses, sheep, cows, chickens and goats. Multiplication has become a new study for them and students are working hard to memorize their facts. The class is also learning lots about the desert regions of the world and in particular the animals that live there.

Mrs. Woodruff is very proud of how hard Cornatzer students are working in their Spanish classes. Her Pre-K students are working on numbers and shapes. Kindergartners and first graders are learning about clothing and second graders are studying butterflies. They enjoyed La oruga muy Hambrienta - a dramatization of The Very Hungry Caterpillar. Third graders are talking about food while fourth and fifth grade classes have been learning how to describe school, places, people, furniture and subjects. Many classes have made bookmarks with Mexican Indian designs.

Spring is in the air in Mrs. Brooks's first grade class. Students are busy learning about caterpillars and butterflies. They have learned about the life cycle of a butterfly and all its body parts. Students are anxiously awaiting the arrival of their painted lady caterpillars so they can watch them transform in front of their eyes. Students are also busy reviewing all the math facts and sight words they have learned in first grade. They are also reading as many books as they can for the school Camp Read-a-Lot reading program.

Our Accelerated Reader program ends for this school year on May 4. All library media center books are due on May 14. Cornatzer will sponsor a buy one, get one free book fair May 20-21. All students who meet their Camp Read-a-Lot goals will get to pick out a free book at this book fair. We encourage all students to participate in the summer reading program at the Davie Public Library. Look for information that will come home with your students about this reading program.

Central Davie

Developmental Day I Student of the Week: Jason Lince. Everyone seemed to have a good spring break and were glad to be back at school. We started talking about caterpillars, cocoons and butterflies. The kids enjoyed the book, The Hungry Caterpillar. We also talked about bumble bees and learned a song about a bee. We are still watching our plants grow. The kids have enjoyed going outside and playing with the parachute and bubbles. Next week, we will talk about ladybugs and bugs. Thank you to Mr. Brown for bringing ducks and chicks to share with us before Easter. The kids really enjoyed having the animals visit us. We would like to welcome two new students to our room.

The Developmental Day II students enjoyed a busy week filled with outdoor activities. Planting pumpkin seeds, fishing and blowing bubbles were among the favorites. Our class took a nature walk around our building and feed the birds. Everyone enjoyed the beautiful weather. In the classroom we painted sunflowers and glued seeds in the middle. The children took turns sorting beans by size, color and shape. A new puppet theatre brought lots of interest during circle time. Students sang the Five Little Ducks while acting it out with puppets.

The Developmental Day II and Pre-K class have been busily learning about spring and baby animals. We have read lots of seasonal books and played games appropriate to our themes. We baked cookies and shared them with neighboring classes as we paraded through their room wearing our Easter hats and bonnets. We later paraded into the front lobby and performed the Bunny Hop for the adults who were there. We appreciate all the things both parents and children have sent in to help celebrate the season. Enjoy a wonderful spring break.

Cooleemee Class Gets Donation

On behalf of the LAMB (Least Among My Brothers) organization, Mr. Edward Theurer presented Jennifer Custer's Special Education class at Cooleemee Elementary with a donation of $175.00. The Knights of Columbus provided Cooleemee Elementary's Student Council with Tootsie Rolls which they used for a fund-raising project. Students gave pennies and received a Tootsie Roll for their donation. The LAMB organization matched the money that was raised and gave it to Mrs. Custer to be used for the purchase of books for her classroom.

Immunizations: The Right Choice For The Health Of Your Child

Children have to depend on the parent to make the best choices for their health and well-being. One of the most important decisions a parent can make is when and if to immunize their child.

Immunizations or baby shots can protect your child from many diseases. Some of these diseases can be deadly or cause lifetime effects.

The goal of the Davie County Health Department is that every child will be safe from vaccine preventable diseases. The immunizations are free at the health department, and many doctor offices will give the immunizations at a minimal fee.

The immunization schedule for children is:

Birth - Hepatitis B (#1)
One month old - Hepatitis B (#2)
Two months old - Dtap (#1), Hib (#1), Polio (#1), Prenvar (#1)
Four months old - Dtap (#2), Hib (#2), Polio (#2), Prevnar (#2)
Six months old - Dtap (#3), Hib (#3), Hepatitis B (#3), Prevnar (#3)
Twelve months old - MMR, Varicella, Polio (#3), Hib (#4)
15 - 18 months - Dtap (#4), Prevnar (#4)
4 -6 years old - MMR, Polio (#4), Dtap (#5)

Please have your child immunized with the right vaccines and at the right time. This will help you and your child to have a healthier, safer life. For questions or appointments, please call the Davie County Health Department at 751-8700.

Local Students In Raleigh For Hunter Safety Tourney

Safe-hunting students from across the state competed Saturday, April 24, in the State Hunter Education Tournament, sponsored by the N.C. Wildlife Resources Commission.

Teams representing 32 high schools and 18 middle schools have advanced to the state tournament, which took place at 4-H Camp Millstone in Richmond County. Competitive events include a written test of hunter skills and orienteering, plus target shooting with bows and arrows, rifles, shotguns and muzzleloaders. Awards will go to top individual and team performers in each event, at both the junior and senior levels. High-scoring teams can advance to a national tournament.

The Wildlife Commission launched hunter safety tournaments more than 25 years ago to promote hunter education and firearms safety. The district and state competitions are open to teams from middle and high schools, both public and private, that offer hunter education courses. Home-schooled students and teams representing organizations such as 4-H clubs also can compete, provided they meet eligibility requirements.

A team represented the county from Davie High School.

April Is Sexual Assault Awareness Month

By Martha McQueen
Special to the Enterprise

April is Sexual Assault Awareness Month. We want to believe that it is unnecessary to talk about sexual assault. We want to believe that it doesn't happen in our community or our country. Believing this is only hiding our faces from the truth. Sexual assault is no respecter of persons. Children, women, men of all ages and races are victims.

In his book, The Date Rape Prevention Book, the author, Scott Lindquist, gives us the profile of our personalities of the rapist. In this article, we will take a look at these. The four include the sexual sadist rapist (anger excitative), the revenge rapist (anger retaliatory), the control freak rapist (power assertive), and the gentleman rapist (power reassurance).

We will begin by describing the gentleman rapist because this is the most common type of date/acquaintance rapist. His behavior is usually gentlemanly following the rape thus the name. This rapist seeks and gets power through sex or rape. This one believes that he and the victim actually have just had a good time. If accused of rape, he would be surprised. He may often even ask for another date after the encounter. As a usual thing, this rapist uses no weapon and inflicts no injury. However, under this mild manner, he hides rage and a determination to get what he wants. An even greater danger to the victims lies in the fact he can become a revenge rapist or a sexual sadist. A great danger to society lies in the fact that he will probably get away with it.

The second type of rapist is the control freak. This personality is easier to spot before the attack since he is cruel to others, domineering, insisting on his own way. He may see women as second class and objectify them in his conversations. This rapist can be very violent and he may become the revenge rapist or a sexual sadist. A great danger to society lies in the fact that he will probably get away with it.

The third type of rapist is the revenge rapist. This man is angry and retaliates against women. This type of rapist gets more media attention. Probably white male, early 30s, well educated, successful and able to travel. Rage is triggered by an outside event. He may take a trophy from his victim and often kills her. Four percent of rapists fall into this category.

The last type of rapist is the sexual sadist. This rapist is angry, is thrilled by crime and will kill the victim. He is usually a well-educated, white male, in 30s or 40s. This rapist chooses his victim and counts on her to be vulnerable.

Rape is about power and control. Most rapists will not stop themselves. They commit the crimes to feel powerful. They choose their victims. "Reality check: When you are confronted with a man who intends to rape you, you must assume the very worst in order for you to respond effectively.

"Stranger rape is primarily an act of violence to control, in which the attacker attempts to humiliate and degrade the victim. The purpose of this kind of rape is to gain power through intimidation."

Another "Reality check: Remember that all rapists are serial rapists. That is they rape repeatedly until stopped. Please remember rape is not intended as a sexual act, it is an act of power, control and anger."

Davie Domestic Violence Services and Rape Crisis Center is a United Way agency, McQueen is the director.

Health Department Honors Lab Tech, Tammy Efird-Smith

Efird-Smith

April 14–20 2004 was the national recognition week for medical laboratory professionals. The theme for this year was "Quality Care through Quality Testing".

The Davie County Health Department recognized Tammy Efird-Smith, a medical laboratory technician employee, for her dedication to providing quality laboratory services to the residents of Davie County for the past four years.

Through the efforts of Efird-Smith; Wanda Thomas, contracted laboratory technical consultant; and contracted laboratory manager, Elaine Satterfield, the laboratory has maintained its CLIA (Clinical Laboratory Improvement Amendment), a federal program that regulates and monitors laboratory services.

Caroldine Winebarger, RN, health department nursing director, said: "Tammy's services have added another quality component to the agency's health care team for the health department. We are thankful to have her working with us."

Since 1920, medical laboratory professionals have grown to 265,000 in numbers that practice in fields such as clinical laboratory scientists, medical technologists, pathologists, histology technicians, cytotechnologists, phlebotomists, and other disciplines.

Medical laboratory work requires highly trained skills, continued education, a high level of concentration, and quality assurance competencies.

Laboratory testing needs continue to escalate to meet the ever-increasing challenges for the physicians in the role of diagnosis and prevention of many diseases.

Even with this greater demand of specialty laboratory testing, there has been a 30 percent decline in enrollment in laboratory educational programs in the last five years, according to Avera Laboratory Network Lab News. The good news from this report was that almost 100 percent of lab-related graduates found immediate employment.

The federal government noted this shortage last year, and is making efforts to establish scholarships and loan repayments for those entering the medical laboratory fields.

Efird-Smith encourages anyone looking for a rewarding, challenging job to consider the medical laboratory professional field.

Sylas Wins Davie's Battle Of The Bands

Members of the band Sylas rock their way to the grand champion title of the Second Annual Battle of the Bands at the Brock Performing Arts Center.

Dancers entertained the audience members between band sets.

On Saturday, Feb. 28, 13 inches of snow were being melted away by the smoking tunes of high school bands competing in the Second Annual Battle of the Bands.

Hosted by the Davie County Arts Council and DC High School Student Government Association, Battle of the Bands was an opportunity for seven bands to compete for a $500 grand prize plus an opportunity to play at Ziggy's in Winston-Salem.

The event also included performances by the Advanced Class of DHS Dance students and freestyle hip hop by Decimal Productions. The name of the genre this go around? Rock and roll, and all kinds, from classic rock to heavy metal, it was all represented.

Bands from all over the region came to the Brock Performing Arts Center to play for a full house. The night proved to be entertainment-packed with everyone dancing, singing, playing a musical instrument, and jamming right along, said Regan Jones, event coordinator.

"We try to incorporate as much various talents by young people as we can," said Jones. "It is an action-packed eve for students to see and hear something different."

Sylas, a group of students from Davie High School that included Jonathan Loos, Charlie Monger and Tanner Manship, won the grand prize.

"Battle of the Bands is a great publicity opportunity for newly formed bands, whether you win or not," said Loos. "Having this event in an atypical area for the arts opens up a new avenue of entertainment that does not get much credit, that is the musical talent of teenagers."

Sylas relishes in the musical experience of this event from meeting and talking with musicians they've never heard to answering the call of their many fans at DHS.

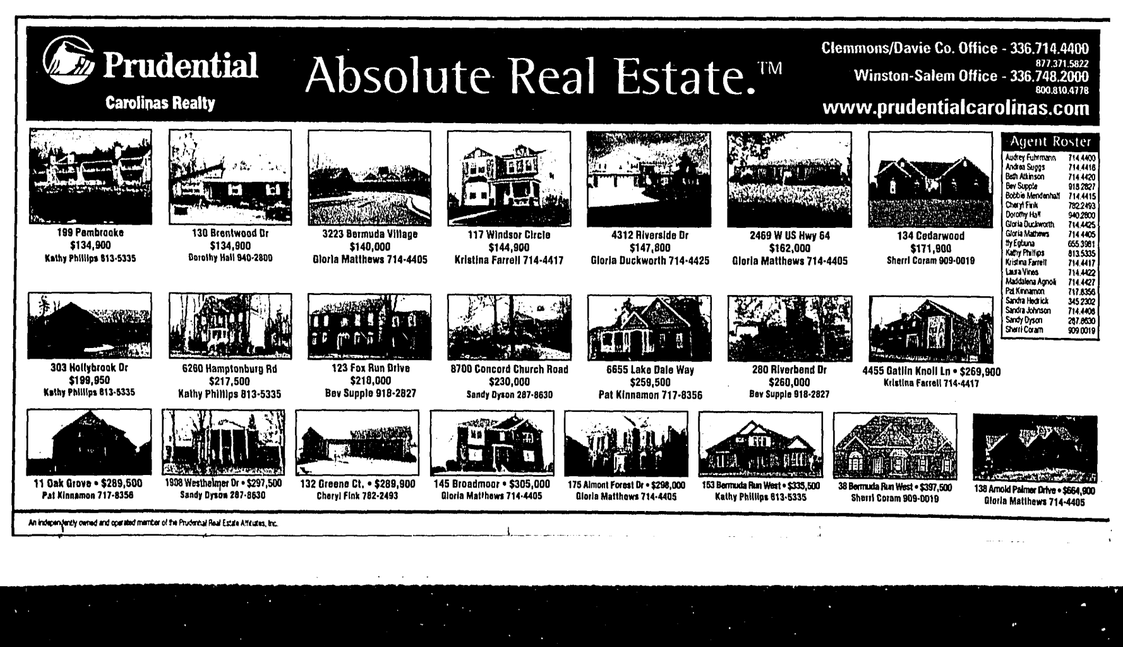

"To put it plainly, Battle of the Bands is the Magna Carta of local music, giving new bands a gig that is easy to get in to, easy to enjoy, and gives teens an opportunity to experience local music," Loos said.

Check out Sylas on the web at www.sylasband.cjb.net and look for them at Ziggy's toward the end of this school semester.

It wouldn't be rock and roll without some screaming fans.

Renee Barney New YVEDDI Transportation Director

Renee Barney loves Davie County, and she loves working with people.

As the new Davie County transportation director for the Yadkin Valley Economic Development District Inc. (YVEDDI), she will get the chance to do both.

"It's a lot to learn, but I like working with the public, I like working with people who need help," she said.

YVEDDI operates 18 vans in Davie County, transporting special needs children to and from school, and transporting some 500-800 other residents on shopping trips, to doctor's offices and to other sites.

The service is open to the public.

Barney is working long hours now, learning the routes and her new job. She doesn't mind driving a van when necessary.

A 1989 graduate of Davie High School, she said she couldn't imagine living anywhere else. She had worked at Skyline, but started looking for a new job when the plant was closing.

"I really like it. It can be a little hectic, but I'm learning something new every day," she said.

Barney is constantly looking for ways to save money for YVEDDI, and says services are expanding. There are plans to buy a full-size bus to transport students, that will be available for other groups in the county.

Barney lives on Gladstone with her husband, Allen Barney, children Brittney Reynolds, 15, Chance Barney, 11, Allison Barney, 7, and her niece, La Rhonda Reynolds, 15.

"I couldn't ask for better children," she said. "They keep me hopping."

She enjoys softball, and plays for the White's Service Station team that plays tournaments across the country.

Davie Schools To Provide Meals At Senior Center

Davie Schools received the contract to provide meals for the nutrition program at the Davie County Senior Services.

This includes the on-site, and home-delivered meals.

In the past, meals were delivered to the site at 8 a.m. for consumption at 11 and later.

She told county commissioners Monday, April 19, that three bids were received, and while the schools was not the lowest, it was the most convenient.

The schools will provide meals at $2.75 each, a 2 cent per meal increase over the current rate.

Senior Services will have some say over the menu, and they will be delivered just prior to use, Shuskey said.

"We felt it (convenience) outweighed the cost difference," she said.

Plant Exchange This Sat. In Downtown Mocksville

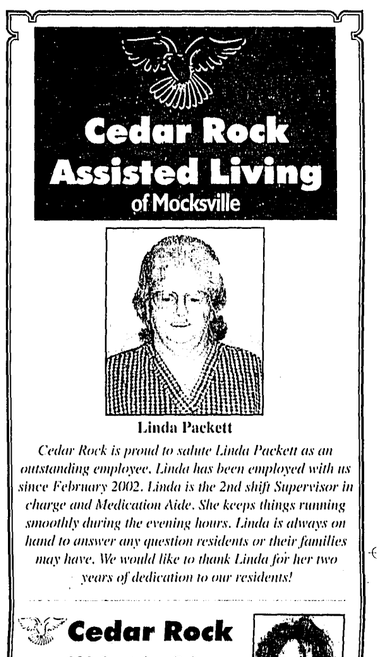

Bring a plant, take another plant home. Bring two plants, take two plants home.

The Mocksville Garden Club's annual plant exchange will be held from 9 a.m.-noon on Saturday, May 1 in downtown Mocksville between My Friend's Place and American Cafe.

The event is open to members and the public, and a wide variety of landscape plants, flowers, herbs, shrubs and trees is usually available. Often, members bring more plants to exchange than they take home, so there are plenty for novice gardeners who may not have a plant to bring.

Spotlight on Business

Tile Rite Of Clemmons

Rain Rain go away, come again—after the basement's been tiled! And who better to do the job than Tile Rite of Clemmons.

"With the abundance of rain we have had this past year in North Carolina, we have seen a lot of flooded basements," notes Rick Silver, owner and operator of Tile Rite. "Because of that we have tiled more basement floors than ever before."

"Why ceramic tile" you ask? Ceramic tile doesn't absorb water like carpet or rot wood and cause mold and mildew growth and bad odors in your home.

"Other floor coverings such as carpet, hardwood and linoleum just don't hold up under excessive amounts of water. Ceramic tile, however, does. And that makes it the most logical choice and most cost effective way to finish a basement floor," Rick explains.

Tile Rite is a family-owned business that has been installing tile for over 16 years and brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to every job.

Special offer – Ridgeview Tile $4.29 per square foot

For a limited time, Tile Rite is running a basement special that includes DAL 12x12 Ridgeview Tile (a very sturdy, attractive tile) in your choice of six different colors and installed for $4.29 per square foot. There is a 100 square foot minimum, standard straight lay installation on concrete included. Diagonal layout, borders and insert installation will be extra. Tear out of some types of flooring and leveling may also be extra.

Trouble free flooring

"Ceramic and porcelain tile will enhance the appearance and increase the value of your home more than any other type of flooring product. It will give you a trouble free floor that won't have to be worried about when the weather gets bad," says Rick.

Tile Rite can also install tile for all types of projects including showers, kitchens, counters, fireplaces, patios and any type of flooring needs.

Huge selection

"We have a huge selection of tiles from local tile distributors' showrooms that we can bring to the customer or they may visit the showrooms to see the vast array of decorative add-ons that are also available," Rick suggests.

So when you think of tile, think Tile Rite. Call 813-TILE (8453) for a free, no hassle estimate. You'll be glad you did!
