Rachel Louise Snow ✓

Mrs. Rachel Louise Poplin Snow, 80, of Winston-Salem, died on Oct. 12, 2008.

She was born in Concord to Lester Keith Poplin and Wilma Louise Helms Poplin on Aug. 28, 1928. Her family later moved to Hanes Town, where as a teenager she met Fred Snow. Their courtship began when he saw her sitting on the porch shining her Daddy's shoes and he asked if she would shine his, too. They were married on March 2, 1946. Their marriage resulted in three children, nine grandbabies, 18 great-grandbabies, and countless happy memories. Mrs. Snow believed in the importance of church and family. A member of Clemmons Moravian Church for more than 50 years, she attended church regularly as long as her health permitted and participated in Circle Group. Throughout her life, she cared for others. In her younger years, she loved spending time with her mother, sisters and daughter; camping with her husband in the mountains; and feeding and watching the birds. Rachel enjoyed cross stitching, crocheting, cooking and baking. Her family especially liked Ma Ma's pound cake, pecan pie, chocolate pie, and Moravian sugar cake. She cherished time with family and friends. Get-togethers often involved her laughing until crying at the telling of old stories and her fear of spiders.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Lester and Wilma; her husband, Fred Lee Snow; her sisters, Penny Campbell and Lenora Day and her brothers, Keith Poplin and Ray Von Poplin.

Surviving: sister and brothers, Maxine Snow and Don Poplin, both of Winston-Salem and Bob Poplin of Corpus Christi, Texas; daughter, Gwen Brandon and husband Wayne of Clemmons; 2 sons, Fred Snow Jr. and wife Lynn of Forest, Va. and Jack Snow and wife Bonnie of Mocksville; 9 grandchildren, Jeff Snow and wife Wendy, Mark Snow and wife Jamie, Kristy Mistretta and husband Steve, Angie Stanley and husband David, Brian Brandon and wife Kristina, LeighAnn Brandon, Mandy Walker and husband Cole, Jennifer Hire and husband Carlton and Kathy Snow; 18 great-grandchildren, Jacob, Brittany, Matthew, Timmy, Hunter, Kayla, Katie, Karsen, Anna Leigh, Mason, Gavin, Melody, Bailey, Emma, Lawson, Luke, Chloe and Landon.

Funeral services were conducted 2 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 15 at Clemmons Moravian Church with the Rev. Q. Ray Burke officiating. Burial followed in the church graveyard. A gathering of family and friends was held Tuesday at Hayworth-Miller Kinderton Chapel in Advance.

Nancy King Fiorey

Mrs. Nancy Louisa King Fiorey, 80, of Clemmons, died Tuesday, Oct. 14, 2008 at Forsyth Medical Center.

She was born June 14, 1928 in Woburn, Mass. She spent most of her younger years in Massachusetts and New Hampshire, graduating from Framington State with a dietitians degree. She moved her family to Connecticut where she was head dietitian at Hartford Public High School for more than 30 years. In 2003 she moved to North Carolina to be closer to family. She enjoyed retirement as it gave her more time to knit. She took pride in giving items she knitted to family, friends and newborns. Her happiest moments were with her family during get-togethers when she would sit and listen to them banter and reminisce. She coveted her independence and enjoyed that until the time of her death. There were always dogs in her life. Nancy rarely missed a televised Red Sox game and saw them win the World Series. Football, hockey and college basketball got their fair share of her viewing time. As a member at Clemmons Moravian Church, she enjoyed spending time with the Young at Heart group. Because of her connection with children, she loved the opportunity to be involved with the Preschool at Clemmons Moravian where she made snacks and collages each week to correlate with the letter, number or color of the week.

Mrs. Fiory was preceded in death by her mother, Myra Julia King.

Survivors: her children, Peter K. Fiorey and wife Ramona of Fayetteville, Robert L. Fiorey and wife Leslie of East Hartford, Conn. and Myra McGonigle and husband David of Advance; her grandchildren, Kyle Mastropasqua and wife Jonna of Hubert, Erin Fiorey of Fayetteville and Conn.

A memorial service to celebrate her life was held 11 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 18 at Clemmons Moravian Church with the Rev. Q. Ray Burke officiating. The family received friends following the service at the church. A private family burial will be held in Nantucket, Mass.

George Allen Mebane IV

George Allen Mebane IV, 79, of Mocksville died Nov. 14, 2008 after an extended illness.

Survivors: his wife of 21 years, Marianne; sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs.

George Allen Mebane V of Shelby, Mr. and Mrs. William Michael Mebane of Winston-Salem; his daughter, Lucy Mebane Webster of Fletcher; his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Mebane of Greensboro; 8 grandchildren; 2 great-grandchildren; and a host of relatives, friends and business associates.

Mr. Mebane was born Sept. 28, 1929 in Greensboro. He excelled in leadership and sports at Christ School in Arden, where he graduated in 1948. After attending Davidson College and Philadelphia University, he served in the U.S. Army for two years. Early in his career he worked in sales in the textile industry and became familiar with all aspects of the business. At the age of 35, he assumed his first executive position as president and CEO of Throwing Corporation of America. In 1967 he founded, with two others, Universal Textured Yarns where he was president and CEO. Four years later the company was sold and he and others started Unifi, Inc. Over the next 30 years, the company grew to sales in excess of $1.5 billion, becoming the largest producer and processor of textured yarns in the world with plants in the United States, England, Brazil, and Ireland. In 2000, Mr. Mebane retired from Unifi and directed his efforts toward the Mebane Charitable Foundation, with a significant focus on education in public schools. The foundation has been responsible for providing technology and educational programs to thousands of children in Davie County. He was a member of the Board of Visitors of Columbia University Medical Center of New York, a former member of the Advisory Board of Duke Eye Center in Durham, and trustee emeritus of Christ School. He was a founding member of the Country Club of North Carolina, Pinehurst, and a member of Old Town Club, Winston-Salem, and Wade Hampton Club, Cashiers. Mr. Mebane possessed an ever-curious and forward-thinking mind; a relentless seeker of information. He pursued his passions for golf, art, hunting, and friends.
