

The Davie Record.

"HERE SHALL THE PRESS, THE PEOPLE'S RIGHTS MAINTAIN: UNAWEED BY INFLUENCE AND UNBRIBED BY GAIN."

NEWS OF LONG AGO.

What Was Happening In Davie Before The New Deal Used Up The Alphabet, Drowned The Hogs and Plowed Up The Cotton and Corn.

(Davie Record, April 3, 1912)
Miss Edith Swicegood spent one day last week in Winston.

F. A. Click, who has been spending some time here with relatives, left last week for Philadelphia.

E. E. Vogler, of near Advance, was in town one day last week on business.

Rev. Walter Wilson returned Saturday from Iredell county where he attended a Union meeting at the South River Baptist church.

F. P. Cash, of Smith, and B. W. Rollins, of Cana, were visitors here last week.

Frank Mason, Frank and Richard Stroud, of County Line, were in town last week.

Eight new rooms are being added to the Commercial Hotel. The new rooms are over Call's store.

Mrs. W. L. Call spent Saturday with relatives at Advance.

Misses Marie and Annie Allison spent Saturday in Winston shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hendricks, of Cana, were in town Saturday.

Mrs. Swift Hooper and son Glenn spent Saturday in Winston.

R. B. Sanford made a business trip to Charlotte last week.

E. C. Lagle spent Saturday in Winston on business.

Mrs. J. K. Pepper has returned from a visit to friends in Winston.

Miss Blanche Hanes has returned from a delightful visit to relatives and friends at Monroe.

C. A. Harman and Prof. Robinson, of Farmington, were in town Saturday on their way to Winston.

Judge Allen arrived Monday and is presiding over the April term of Superior court.

Editor Williams, of The Herald, has moved his family into the Sanford cottage on Sanford avenue.

J. P. Green attended the Baptist Union meeting at South River church Saturday and Sunday.

T. B. Bailey and F. M. Johnson spent Thursday in Winston.

Miss Swannie Ratz, of Woodleaf, is visiting relatives here this week.

Rev. and Mrs. Walter Wilson are spending two weeks with relatives in Western Carolina.

W. T. Starrette left last week for Florida, where he has a position with a construction company.

The editor has moved his family into the Leonard house in North Mocksville.

The following persons from Davie have been drawn as jurors for the April term of Federal court which convenes in Statesville, April 15th: W. B. Angell; A. H. McMahan; L. C. Crouse; W. M. Crofts; C. C. Craven and P. P. Green.

Rev. J. B. Tabor, of Farmington, left Monday for Virginia, where he will spend two weeks with his mother.

John H. Foster, 37, died March 23rd, while on his way to a Winston hospital, accompanied by his father P. L. Foster and his physician, Dr. J. F. Martin, of Fork Church. He is survived by his wife and two children.

Frank Griffith and Miss Dora Cook, of the Bend section, were married March 17th.

The graded school honor roll for the seventh grade: Mary Stockton, Winnie Smith, Ossie Allison, Emma Chaffin, Kate Rollins, Frank Williams, Annie Hall Baity, Thomas Meroney, Albert Linville.

Weight of Water
Water weighs about 62.5 pounds per cubic foot. One cubic foot is equivalent to about 7.5 gallons.

Don't Want Honest Elections.

It required only a few minutes Tuesday for Western North Carolina Democrats of the House Committee on Elections to bury the remains of what started out to be a primary Election Reform measure, but which now lies interred with a "Rest in Peace" inscription on the tombstone.

The county politicians from W. N. C. are credited with having made very quick work of the final obsequies, for bill passes we won't send a man down here in the next twenty years.

Features of the bill on which everybody should have been able to agree were the proposal to change the Primary Election day from Saturday to Tuesday, and limit the voting hours from six o'clock in the evening, instead of from sunup to sunset as at present.

But those weren't the changes that scared the politicians. A complete new registration of voters would have been required and tight restrictions thrown about markers at the polls.—Hickory Record, democrat.

Sit-Downers.

Like a child with a new toy, it looks like we are about to overdo this sit-down strike business. So far it has proved reasonably effective, largely because the audacity has so stunned us that we don't know how to handle it. But if property rights mean anything in this nation, sooner or later a way will be found even if it takes blood shed to establish it.

But this sit down business has given at least one writer something to cogitate upon. He pictures it spreading in a multitude of ways and lists some of them as follows:

Tenants sit down and refuse to move. Boy refuses to leave sit-down position in order to avoid being spanked. Store clerk sit down behind counters, demanding castors on chairs and lower counters to work behind. Cooks sit in kitchen, refusing to put out the garbage. Filling station attendants sit in demand for lady friends to keep them company while waiting for trade. Politicians sitting on office after defeat. Bill collector sit inside doors until paid. Farm family sits in mud roads until roads are fixed. Wife sits down until week's winter vacation from husband and children and home work is arranged. Sitting editor starts to fill column by making each sentence a new paragraph to hereby taking up more lines of space.

He points out that everybody has a sitter and that all each of us need is to think of some demand we can make and then emphasize that demand by putting the "sitter" down for a spell.

But maybe it will go the way of other fads such as the yo-yo and the chain letter craze, but very likely not until somebody gets hurt in the process.—Elkin Tribune.

More WPA Folly.

The latest thing in the way of Roosevelt Works Political Administration extravagance is reported from Charlotte where a $12,260 project has been approved to eradicate rats in that city. Other projects approved were: Hertford county sewing rooms, $5,326; book binding in New Bern, $3 761; improving water and sewer facilities in Reems Creek township, Buncombe county, $3,805; repairing sewers in Tryon, $11,418; tuning state, school and government-owned pianos throughout North Carolina, $11,654.

Just think of the government going on a rat killing campaign and also tuning up the old pianos throughout the state. Why said we hadn't money to burn?—Ex.

Another Graft.

The Legislature the past week added to the civil pension list of the state by passing a bill giving the widows of former Governors a pension of $100 a month. Just why these women should be given this money at the expense of the already broken backed taxpayers of the state is difficult to understand.

We are informed that there are four of three women who will participate in this graft which will cost the taxpayers almost $5,000 a year. They get this money while the school teachers of the state are working their eyeballs out for a pitiful sum much less than this pension.

The four women who are granted this pension do not need and do not deserve. First on the list is Mrs. Charles B. Aycock, who holds down a sinecure as president of the North Carolina Railroad at a salary of $1,800 a year. In addition to this she has plenty of children able to provide for her needs. One of her sons, we are informed holds a federal position in Raleigh and in addition married a widow who had annexed several millions of Duke money. Another daughter is the wife of Dr. Clarence Poe, editor of the Progressive Farmer.

Mrs. T. W. Bickett is superintendent of public welfare of Wake county and in addition her only son is solicitor of the Superior court at a $6,000 salary.

Mrs. Locke Craig we understand has a federal position. One of her sons is a member of the Legislature and two others are officers in the Navy while a fourth son is a student at the University of North Carolina. A few months before former Governor Craig died, while he was on his death bed the state paid him a $10,000 fee for writing some kind of a brief in a case pending in the courts.

The fourth Governor's widow is Mrs. A. W. McLean. At the time of his death Governor McLean was holding a $10,000 job in Washington and when his will was read it was found that his estate was worth only $15,000, although he was a bank president, cotton mill president and was supposed to own extensive interests in other valuable property in Robeson county. It was stated at the time that practically all this property was in his wife's name. Then why give her a pension?

The voting of a pension to the four women apparently in affluent circumstances is a blot on liberty and the Legislature should be ashamed of itself for passing such a measure. We would like to know the name of the sponsor of this bill so that the people of North Carolina may see how their money is being squandered and who is responsible for it.—Union Republican Wonderful Memory.

Richard Lane, Kinston Confederate veteran who was 91 years old Monday; called the roll of his company in the War Between the States, the 64th North Carolina Infantry thus proving to his friends that his memory was unimpaired.

More than 72 years had elapsed since Sedgehat Lane last faced the company, but he rattled off the names as readily as at reveilles, in 1865. From Adams and Agnew down the line to Williams and Wilson, he went, barking the names from memory as good orderly sergeants did.

But it was a phantom company with names Lane called. It may have been that he was the last alive, the last of a score of very young soldiers since the Confederacy called up the juniors reserves, some of them of grammar school age, in 1864 and '65.

Now is the time to subscribe for The Record.

Lit le Yellow Jacket Stings.

Reason departs when New Deal politics enter.

There's a Hope in Congress, but only by name.

Some folks go crazy and others join the New Deal party.

The strike that has hurt this country worst is the brain strike.

Roosevelt has severed diplomatic relations with the Constitution.

Where some take the New Deal charity for gratitude, many take it for granted.

Keep it in mind that professed sincerity is no defense for making a mess of things.

Roosevelt may change the U. S. Supreme Court, but nothing this side of Sheol will ever change FDR.

It may be true that one man can be the whole New Deal party, but no one man can be the whole U. S. A.

Now we are blithely informed that the Roosevelt administration is a "socialized government." Not socialized, just sterilized, paralyzed and cock-eyed.

The man who voted for the New Deal last year thinking it would bring down taxes has a new think coming now. That bunch on the Potomac is spending $6,000 a minute and the show has just started.

American jobs belong to American people, yet millions of foreigners hold jobs in the United States, while over nine million people are unemployed. And you know who has been running this country for the past five years.

"Hands off the U. S. Supreme Court," and "Hands off the Ballot Box," are two slogans that should be painted in letters of living fire across the very heavens to warn the very people against two of the most insidious national maladies that ever threatened this country.

It is beginning to slowly percolate into the brains of a goodly number of Democrats that if all the "white supremacy" "States Rights" Democratic blood that circulates in FDR's veins were converted into cayenne pepper you could shake it in the bill of a humming bird without making him sneeze.

The New Deal administration now admits that it will take nearly 9 BILLION dollars a year to finance FDR's new ideas of national "rejuvenation." Well, you know who always pays for Federal government operations, and higher taxes will make us sicker than the original disease FDR wishes to cure.

Will It Happen Here?

One of the most heartening events of the time is the manner in which "liberals" are rallying to the support of the United States Supreme Court. To say that no man past seventy is fit for high judicial office is to dispute the clear evidence of history. If that theory is accepted, it should be applied as a matter of principle to senators, representatives, governors and presidents.

Liberals realize that such so-called "practical" arguments for change in the court are simply widow-dressing.

Real liberals who wish our individual rights protected and our liberties maintained unabridged—are opposing the court proposal on questions of principle. In the words of Walter Lippman, himself a liberal "This is so reactionary proceeding that nothing like it has been attempted in the whole history of this nation. This is the sort of thing that is done in backward counties which have not yet learned the art of self-government. That is where great issues are settled byousting men from office, rather than by the consent of the people after open debate. But it has never happened here, and if the people are allowed time to understand, they will make sure that it shall not happen here."

Quiet Advice

Advice should be like a gentle fall of snow, and not like a driving storm of hail. It should descend softly and not be uttered hastily.

Roosevelt For King Is Latest.

The Roosevelt For King movement spread to the University of Virginia, at Charlottesville, where a group of students organized a chapter of the new organization which was started recently at Yale University.

Charter members of the University of Virginia chapter announced that "this is a serious proposal on our part," but the proclamation issued by the group read:

"Whereas the people of this country have been too long burdened and oppressed by the Constitution of our forefathers and have bowed to the dictates of an omnipotent and tyrannical Supreme Court long enough and:

"Whereas there is urgent need of a drastic revision of our government which will unify all power and authority:

"We, a group of students at the University of Virginia (inspired by our compatriots at Yale University) do band ourselves together and for the good of our fellow citizens pledge ourselves to the following solemn proposals:

"We propose that Franklin Delano Roosevelt shall be ordained, declared, established and crowned Franklin I, emperor of the United States, Maine, Vermont, The Virgin Islands, Alaska, and the Panama Canal Zone, by the grace of God and Jim Farley.

"We propose that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt shall be likewise ordained, declared established and crowned Queen Eleanor I, empress of the United States and Wake and Guam Islands, and that, in her honor, every February 29th be set aside as 'May Day.'

"We propose that the justices of the Supreme Court be placed in the nearest museum along the horse-drawn vehicle, coal oil lamps and other articles of great antiquity.

"We propose that Senator Borah, Glass and Wheeler for their unmitigated reactionary ideas, be banished forever to Wake Island where they can have a democracy if they like.

"We promise that every third book on constitutional law be placed under and that the other two be locked up in vaults purely as matters of historical record.

"In sincere belief that only by carrying out the above proposals will our country be saved from utter chaos, we do here-to set our hands and seals."

The Cape Cod Canal

Cape Cod canal, sea-level ship canal across Cape Cod, connecting Buzzards bay with Barnstable bay at Sandwich, Mass., was begun in 1900 and completed in 1914. It shortens shipping distance from Long Island Sound to Boston and other New England points about 70 miles, compared to the hazardous route around Cape Cod, beset with reefs and frequent fogs. From shore to shore the length of the canal is 8 miles, but the entire channel excavated from 30 foot depth in either bay is 13 miles.

"Junior" and "Third"

According to writers on etiquette, "Junior" or "Jr." always means the son or grandson of a man of exactly the same name; "Second" or "2nd." means the nephew or cousin of a man of the same name; "Third" or "3rd." is the son of a "Junior" of exactly the same name. It is improper for a man to continue to add "Junior" to his name after the death of his senior, or to add "Third" to his name if either or both of his seniors are dead.

Advancement

To advance in any line of life's endeavors, it is necessary both to study and to think. Achievement is possible to those who have the initiative and determination to equip themselves with knowledge. Real joy and satisfaction are to be found in the realization that one is accomplishing something worth while and in the knowledge that its value is the direct result of one's personal efforts.

One of Fastest Tides

One of the fastest tides in the world ebbs and flows off Mount Saint Michel, France. After receding almost eight miles and exposing 100 square miles of ocean floor, writes S. D. Miller, II, Indianapolis, Ind., in Collier's Weekly, it comes rushing back at a speed faster than a horse can gallop.

The Same Here.

Pennsylvania Times. From the Statesville Landmark we rather than there are other communities that have been "made monkeys of" by the producing companies which do "so want to help the worthy organizations make a little extra money." The Statesville paper picked the idea up from one town east, and the two publications have so thoroughly covered the question that we pass the double-barrel editorial on to our readers without further comment.

The Hertford County Herald observes that "it is about time for the booking agents to make their Spring tour through this section looking for suckers among the local clubs, schools and other organizations."

Every town and hamlet big enough to boast an auditorium with a stage and drop curtain will be able to appreciate this picture drawn by the editor of the Herald:

"Usually we have at least one, or two of these amateur atrocities each year, put on by some out-of-town amateur theatrical company that ends a pretty female coach as a come-on for all the local sports. She'll corral all of the kids in the neighborhood, drill them a couple of times in a hop-skip-and-jump, and dress them in droopy cheap-cloth costumes; their parents will buy space on the program that she'll sell at a high price and make up the audience on show night. The organization that sponsored the show will get little except the worry and the labor of carrying the stage property back to the local stores from which it was borrowed."

As far as we know nothing of this kind is brewin' in Statesville right at this time, and we're kon we are privileged to discuss it without being charged with fatheadedness or lacking in community spirit.

Everybody knows how subtle this racket is, yet it is tolerated and underwritten by otherwise thoughtful people who are easily sucked in by the promise of reward in the shape of a pleasing addition to the fund of their organization. When they go to sign on the dotted line they find in addition to the "split" agreed upon, something about a guarantee and the cost of costumes and advertising expense, and so on. When they go to settle after the show, about all they have for their trouble—is a pain in the neck.

You never see one of these performances put on by a few leading localities endowed with recognized talent. The idea is to get just about one member from each family—as a feeder. Even when it works beautifully, it is found when it is all over that the town-people have paid a pretty high price for their gullibility.

Sun Spots Mean Warmer Summer.

San Diego, Cal.—Sun spots indicate that the northern hemisphere will experience warmer than average weather this summer and a wet winter, according to Dr. Clifford E. Smith, professor of astronomy at San Diego State college.

"Sun spots come and go in cycles," Dr. Smith said. "Every 11 years they reach a maximum number, and during that time the sun is much warmer. The spots do not cause the warmth, but there is a correlation. "When the spots reach a maximum number, our summers are warmer, more water evaporates and a heavier rainfall is experienced the following winter. The present cycle of sun spots will reach a maximum early in 1938."

Dr. Smith described sun spots as great whirling masses of charged particles, some of them more than 60,000 miles in diameter. He said they are not attached to the sun but drift across it like a cloud.

The Word Liberty

Liberty is a word almost taken for granted, but men have died for it in the past.

Single Species of Rodent

Paca is a rodent represented by only a single species in South and Central America.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Explosion Kills More Than 600 Children in Texas Rural School—Justice McReynolds' Rebuke to Critics of Supreme Court.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
© Western Newspaper Union.

THE east Texas oil field was the scene of the worst school disaster in history. The London Consolidated rural school, a few miles north of Henderson, was demolished by a tremendous gas explosion and more than 600 children and their teachers were killed.

The horror that followed wrought such confusion that Gov. James V. Allred declared martial law in the vicinity of the school, and ordered National Guard troops to the scene. He previously had ordered all state highway patrolmen in the area to proceed there.

President Roosevelt, hearing at Warm Springs about the horrible disaster, was most distressed and urged the Red Cross "and all of the government agencies" to stand by and render every assistance possible. Albert Evans, flood disaster head in Little Rock, Ark., and his staff rushed to the stricken Texas town, and all communities within reach gave aid to the extent of their capacity.

The blast smashed to bits the main structure of the educational plant that was termed the largest rural school in America and the richest in the world.

About 740 children and 38 teachers were in the building at the time and nearly all who were not killed outright were injured. Of the latter it was believed many would not recover.

Fifty or more mothers of the young victims were attending a parent-teacher association meeting in the school gymnasium, a separate building, when the explosion came, sending the mangled bodies of their sons and daughters flying through the air. The women fled to the wrecked structure with screams of agony and tore at the ruins with their bare hands.

For a few minutes after the roof caved in, leaving jagged remnants of wall standing like the ruins of a medieval castle, flames shot out above the wreckage. But the building was of fireproof construction and the blaze, having almost nothing to feed upon, soon died out.

W. C. Shaw, superintendent of the school, whose son was one of those killed, had just left the building. "I was standing about fifty feet away from the building when the explosion came," he said. "There wasn't much noise. The roof just lifted up, then the walls fell out and the roof fell in. It was all over in a minute, no less than that, half a minute. It's unbelievable."

Highway police, National Guardsmen and workers from all the nearby oil wells managed to restore some semblance of order at the scene, roping off the campus and systematically carrying on the task of getting out the bodies of the dead.

From the oil well machine shops were brought acetylene torches to burn away the steel girders while trucks hauled on heavy chains, pulling the debris away from the building.

The great force of the blast was taken as proof that the disaster was caused by the ignition of natural gas which was used to heat the school plant. Unable, because of all the confusion, to ascertain the cause of the explosion, it was theorized that someone attempted to light a heater which accidentally had been left turned on.

The "wet gas" used, which comes from oil wells on the school campus, is odorless and so would have given no warning.

EVIDENCE of good sportsmanship is to accept the outcome when one has had a chance to present a fair case to a fair tribunal, said Associate Justice James C. McReynolds of the Supreme court in an extemporaneous talk at a fraternity banquet in Washington.

Justice McReynolds

It was the first time a member of the court had expressed his views on relationship of the court to the government since the President made his proposal for packing the tribunal, and opponents of that plan were encouraged to hope other of the justices might be induced to appear before the senate judiciary committee and tell what they think of it. Justice McReynolds, who is seventy-five years old, has voted against the New Deal fourteen times and for it twice.

Near the end of his talk the justice said: "I should like to be optimistic. I should like to tell you that the situation is rosy. I can't. But I like to believe in the courage of the American people, and I hope they may make a solution of which they may be proud."

Edward S. Corwin, professor of constitutional law at Princeton, was heard by the senate committee in support of the President's bill and he got along very nicely until Senator Burke, leader of the opposition, called his attention to a speech the professor made a year ago and a book he wrote 25 years ago, in both of which he expressed views quite different from those he seemingly now holds. Then Senator Tom Connally took a hand in the questioning.

"Now you say the court is biased. You want to add six new justices who will be biased in the other direction, don't you?"

Professor Corwin evaded a direct answer for some time, but Senator Connally demanded to know whether he did not support the President's plan for this purpose.

"Well, that is one of the reasons," the witness said. "The American Federation of Labor, like its opponent, the C. I. O., has favored the President's court plan, though rather mildly, but President William Green, when he appeared before the senate committee, was even less emphatic in his approval of it. He denied that the court as now constituted 'has assumed dictatorial power or that its members have not the mental capacity or the necessary learning.'"

Senator Wheeler said he was under pressure from organized labor because of his position against the Roosevelt program, but he declared he would not change. He said Maj. George L. Berry, the President's co-ordinator for industrial co-operation and also head of labor's Non-partisan League, "has had a man traveling through Montana at government expense stirring up activity against me."

SENATORS indulged in an indignant debate concerning the sit-down strike and there were demands for a congressional investigation of this new weapon of labor.

Majority Leader Joe Robinson said: "Manifestly the sit-down strike is unlawful. It is not within the rights of any individual or group of individuals to seize or retain possession of property to the exclusion of the employer for the purpose of enforcing demands against the employer."

Sen. Robinson

However, he added, it was difficult for the federal government to do anything in the matter until the Supreme court has passed on the validity of the Wagner-Connelly labor relations act.

Senator Johnson of California gave a "general warning" that the sit-down strike is the most ominous thing in our national life today, bad for the government and in the long run worse for labor.

The Democratic senate whip, Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, vehemently criticized sit-down tactics of labor and demanded investigation by congress. "Is the United States a government?" Lewis asked. "Every form of commerce is being torn apart under the name of controversy between employer and employee, leading to the danger of national riots."

SIT-DOWN strikers, ordered by Circuit Judge Allen Campbell of Detroit to evacuate the Chrysler plants, defied the court when the writ of injunction was served on them and declared they would remain "to the death." The sheriff said he had done his full duty until he received further instructions from the court and the judge was awaiting application from the Chrysler lawyers for writs of contempt.

Meanwhile Gov. Frank Murphy, who had hurried home from Florida, set up a committee to conciliate the many strikes in that area and to devise a legislative program to dispose of future labor disputes. Rev. Frederic Siedenburg, S. J., executive dean of the University of Detroit, was named chairman of the committee. It has twenty-three members drawn from representatives of civic, industrial, religious and labor institutions.

Since the committee was limited to four members for labor, Homer Martin, international president of the United Automobile Workers of America, the union waging the city's outstanding strikes against Chrysler Corporation and Hudson Motors, rejected the governor's invitation to U. A. W. A. membership on the committee.

AMELIA EARHART left Oakland, Calif., in her "flying laboratory" for what promises to be the greatest adventure of her adventurous life—a 27,000 mile flight around the world, following generally the equator. Her first hop of 2,400 miles took her to Honolulu. With her in the Lockheed Electra twin motor plane were Capt. Harry Manning and Fred Noonan, navigators, who were to leave the plane at Hawaii, and Paul Mantz, Amelia's technical adviser, who was to continue with her to Darwin, northern Australia.

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

Windsor's Finances. SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—By latest reports, the duke of Windsor must start life as a married man reduced to a personal estate of only about $600,000, plus guaranteed annual remittances amounting to but a beggarly $100,000 more.

To be sure, as the old saying is, two can live as cheaply as one—if one of the two happens to be a goldfish or even a canary—but otherwise the notion hasn't worked out under modern conditions, wives these days being what wives are these days.

Irvin S. Cobb

Still, they do say Mrs. Simpson is pretty handy with a skillet, which, on the cook's Thursdays, ought to save getting in extra kitchen help; and what with there being no crown jewels to keep polished and installment houses just crying to help all young honey-mooners out—you furnish the bird, we furnish the nest!—Well, by scrimping, the couple should get by, don't you think?

Washington Rumors. HOW rumors do float about—especially in the neighborhood of Washington. Well, Washington always has been kind of a windy place.

First we hear a boom is to be started for Mrs. Roosevelt to succeed the President at the conclusion of his term. This is promptly denied and the question arises—how the loyal soul, Uncle Jim Farley, going to stand the strain of waiting until Sistie Dahl gets old enough to run?

Uncontradicted as yet is the other report that the White House craves to revive the NRA, under another set of initials and—let us hope—with a better-looking Blue Eagle than that first one was.

"Sweeping" Inquiries. AFTER every major disaster which conceivably was preventable, we have a "sweeping inquiry" or a "searching probe"—it depends on which phrase the reporters like best—to fix the blame. Rarely does anything come of this, but it must indeed be a great consolation to the widows and the orphans of the victims.

Seemingly, it never occurs to anyone to make the said investigation before the tragedy occurs, with a view of searching out defective mechanism or imperfect construction.

We are a great people for shutting the stable door after the horse is gone—shutting it good and tight so the robbers may have leisure for their probing.

Defying a Glacier. IN ALASKA, the Revell family are defying Black Rapids glacier which, without seeming provocation and after remaining perfectly calm for several million years, suddenly started coming down upon them, rumbling and roaring and acting up generally as it advances. Its icy snout is only about a mile away from their roadhouse now, but they're still serving ye olde blue plate special—choice of jello or stewed prunes—as usual.

The Revells couldn't be New York people. In New York, everybody strives to move at least once every two years, whether there's reason for it or not. A lady flat dweller there likes the scriptural promise of a house of many mansions because it gives her such a warm glow from think of spending eternity shifting from one mansion to another, re-decorating as she goes.

Crime and Punishment. AT a recent trial in New York for a hideous murder, the lawyer for the killer—who, incidentally, had confessed—wound up his plea with this old and reliable and beautifully logical standby:

"Putting this man in the electric chair will never bring back the woman he slew—remember that, Gentlemen of the jury."

IRVIN S. COBB.
© Western Newspaper Union.

Selecting Indian Chiefs. In some tribes, such as the Iroquois and some Pueblo tribes, certain chieftaincies were always selected from a particular clan. While there were hereditary chieftaincies among certain other groups, as a matter of practice such offices were usually elective. It is possible that the political system of the Iroquois influenced the democratic style of government of the United States. Probably the only example in North America of a power analogous to that of a despot was to be found among the Natchez and neighboring tribes of the lower Mississippi. In this instance submission to the will of the chief was for the most part voluntary and based on religion.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted
By WILLIAM BRUCKART
NATIONAL PRESS BLDG WASHINGTON D. C.

Washington.—Developments that have taken place and are taking place in the fight precipitated by President Roosevelt's plan to reform the Supreme court of the United States show some phases not hitherto evident in political fights. One of these, I believe, portends important changes in the political alignment in this country. I have reported to you in these columns many times evidences of a growing trend toward a new political alignment and I can say now that nothing which has taken place since Mr. Roosevelt took his New Deal into the White House has given such impetus to this coming realignment as his proposal that congress pass a law giving him authority to name six more justices for the highest court.

The information coming into Washington these days shows very plainly that the Roosevelt court packing proposal is calling forth opposition from both of the major political parties. In other words, the opposition to the President's move is probably nonpartisan to a greater extent than any issue before the American people in the last 50 years. It will be remembered that the late President Wilson's proposal that the United States enter the League of Nations falls within that period of time and while there was both Democratic and Republican opposition to Mr. Wilson's program, it can not be said to have extended among the rank and file of the Democratic party, then in power, to the extent that Mr. Roosevelt's court packing project has permeated the lists of Democratic voters.

I have endeavored to gain the views of many individuals respecting the prospects of a new political alignment but few of the men whose judgment is best politically are willing to make a guess. A considerable number of them say frankly that they are unable to guess. On the other hand, however, there was general agreement that Mr. Roosevelt, by suddenly tossing his court program into the lap of congress, has given momentum to a movement that for some months appears to have been simply marking time.

There are certain facts on this phase of the court battle that appear obvious. They are influential and important as well.

Take for example the fact that Mr. Roosevelt does not have the backing of the so-called solid South for his proposition. Now, the Democratic party for three-quarters of a century has maintained the South as a stronghold of its party. Indeed, in every presidential and congressional election, Republican politicians began calculating what the Democratic strength could be at the maximum by conceding 13 states to the Democrats. How different is the situation, now.

One can go through the lists of representatives in congress from the South and find them rather evenly divided. One will find among Mr. Roosevelt's opponents in this battle numerous senators and representatives who have supported him on every other item of legislation that he has recommended to congress. Now, however, the story is different.

Another interesting phase of the legislative situation is that the bulk of the true and constant liberals in the senate and the house have taken a stand against the proposition of increasing the Supreme court from nine to fifteen members.

These two points do not represent all of the factors opposing the President's plan by any means, but I think it can be definitely said that if Mr. Roosevelt is defeated in his demand at this time, the two factors that I have named will have been the deciding influences.

Having influences like those just mentioned expanding in their scope, portends, as I suggested above, a considerable shake-up in party affiliation of a lasting kind. I do not mean to say that all of the liberals who are opposing the plan and all of the Democrats who are opposing the court-packing will refrain from supporting Mr. Roosevelt on other issues in the future. I do mean to emphasize, however, that some of them will not return to the ranks of Roosevelt stalwarts.

Thus it becomes rather obvious, I think, that the conservative ranks in congress will be increased to the extent that some of the defections, caused by Mr. Roosevelt's court proposal, result in permanent adherence to other philosophies.

So it seems to me that the future holds the probability of a sharp line of demarcation between radicals and conservatives. How they will be identified and what labels they may wear is immaterial. We are due to have a conservative party and a radical party in this country and its shape and character is being molded under the driving fire of the controversy precipitated by Mr.

'Happy Bluebirds' Motifs for Linens

Pattern 1315

Bluebirds are for happiness—so runs the legend. This dainty pattern in 10-40-the-inch crosses will add a cheery touch indeed to your towels, pillow cases, scarfs or cloths. Do these simple motifs in natural color, or two shades of one color. Pattern 1315 contains a transfer pattern of two motifs 5 1/2 by 1 1/2 inches; two motifs 6 by 7 1/2 inches; and four motifs 3 1/2 by 5 1/2 inches; color suggestions; illustrations of all stitches needed; material requirements.

Send 15 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) for this pattern to The Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y.

Write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

for WOMEN only

GARDUI is a special medicine for the relief of some of the suffering which results from a woman's weakened condition. It has been found to make monthly periods less disagreeable, and, when its use has been kept up awhile, has helped many poorly nourished women to get more strength from their food. This medicine (pronounced "Card-u-i") has been used and recommended by women for many, many years. Find out whether it will help you by giving it a fair trial. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

Envy is a necessary evil; it is a little good which forces us to do yet better.—Voltaire.

Don't Sleep When Gas Presses Heart

If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating alkalis and "gas tablets." Most GAS is lodged in the stomach and upper intestine and is due to old poisonous matter in the congested bowels that are loaded with ill-causing bacteria. If your constitution is of long standing, enormous quantities of dangerous bacteria accumulate. Then your digestion is upset. GAS often presses heart and lungs, making life miserable. You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, grouchy, wretched unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED.

A Trying Person He surely is in want of another's patience who has none of his own.—Lavater.

Miss REE LEEF says 'Capudine relieves NEURALGIC PAIN quicker because it's liquid... ALREADY DISSOLVED'

The Correct Thing Copying those who are well behaved is never a mistake.

Quick Relief SORES, BOILS, ATHLETE'S FOOT, BURNS, CUTS AND ITCHING SKIN

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

MACHINERY

Buy-Sell Ice Machines, Tanks, Cans, Holders, Scoring Machines, Motor Write Wanta, offers, Horn, 35 E. Wacker, Chicago.

AGENTS

New Kind of Heat Bolls water instantly without coal, gas or oil. Pocket size. Fays agents 2186 Colby, Free sample offer. Speed King, Old Colony Bldg., Des Moines, Ia.

LIT himself to go weeks from for the very best of the City enough So, pany h room send there. affable memb ever in his cal cou First Motion ginning ticed a Luise perform "The field" best of been year Met r Mayer who g award actor "The Pastel won't time, about nels a given and he other For Disney toon, Cousin as the have the Dr as a Un bine to the W Edg who he R joined, cis, op Sam C Goldw a vent he wa to pla ing sta variou worke legu p Appe be hat every ment Over Zorina young You la she to ing in with a pany. Goldw groom Jan naper side h all the Hills. misch to res once, dashing ODD slipped New Y say sh play in wire-ho Astu in big pas Passage a new bracelet of her cancella ance to mak Tyrone had su hind s ing to "The S casting for is for i

STAR DUST Movie Radio

LITTLE did Jack Benny know what he was letting himself in for when he decided to go to New York for a few weeks and do his broadcasting from there.

So, National Broadcasting company had to rent the biggest ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria and send the Benny broadcast out from there.

First results of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts awards are beginning to be noticed at the studios.

Paul Muni

Paul Muni, who got the year's award for the best actor for his work in "The Story of Louis Pasteur," evidently figures that he won't be out of a job for a long time, so he is talking to contractors about building extensive dog kennels at his house.

For the fifth successive year Walt Disney won the award for best cartoon, Mickey Mouse in "Country Cousin" being the one singled out as the best of the year.

Edgar Bergen, the ventriloquist who has become such a favorite on the Rudy Vallee radio hour, has joined the wonderful array of comics, opera singers, and dancers that Sam Goldwyn has lined up for his Goldwyn Follies.

Apparently Sam Goldwyn won't be happy until he signs up simply everyone of note in the entertainment world for his Follies company.

Jane Withers just dares any kidnaper to come around her house threatening her now. In addition to her usual bodyguard, a Texas Ranger who looks as if he could rout an army single-handed, her father is usually around, and he has been sworn in as a deputy sheriff, complete with guns.

ODDS AND ENDS: Janet Gaynor slipped out of Hollywood and went to New York for a vacation, and now she says she won't come back until she can play in a comedy.

Special emphasis is being put on dresses for the "teen-age" girl. Tailored girl fashions such as this are designed to avoid the "awkward age."

Lace Goes Style High for Day Wear

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

CHOOSE for your afternoon costume a suit tailored of lace and you will have arrived at the dizziest heights of fashion.

That is designed especially to complement the suit, being of the identical wool lace worked with felt in the same colors.

Like-wise, the daytime dress tailored of lace declares its practicality as well as its flattering, prepossessing looks.

And have you seen the new lace frocks with all-around pleated skirts? If not you have a revelation of super chic and charm awaiting you.

TEEN AGE FROCK

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Special emphasis is being put on dresses for the "teen-age" girl. Tailored girl fashions such as this are designed to avoid the "awkward age."

HAT CROWNS LOWER AS SKIRTS SHORTEN

Skirts are climbing higher and higher and now rest between 14 and 16 inches from the ground. In order not to present an awkward silhouette, the big couturiers are elevating waistlines and thus preserve symmetry.

Hat crowns are tumbling as skirt lengths climb. The flowerpot crowns of last season have come back to normal in order not to look ridiculous with the shorter skirts.

Hand-Knit Goods Suited for Day or Night Wear Expert workmanship has now made it possible for women to wear hand-knit clothes for every hour of the day or night.

Black Still Leads Black remains the popular choice for street wear, although colors are shown for sports or afternoon wear.

UNCOMMON AMERICANS

By Elmo Scott Watson

Schoolmaster of a Nation HE WAS "the most popular American of the Nineteenth century, the man who had the largest influence in determining the thoughts and ideals of the American people during that period and the man to whose work many great Americans of the present day pay tribute as being the fountain of their inspiration to aspire and to achieve."

Born in Pennsylvania in 1800, McGuffey became a pioneer teacher in Kentucky after his graduation from a little college in his native state and later was offered a position on the faculty of Miami university in Ohio.

The result was the publication in 1825 of the first and in 1837 the second of a graded set of readers. The next year he published a third and a fourth reader. Then, with the help of his brother, Alexander McGuffey, who aided in the revision of the earlier works and collected much of the material for the next two, he issued his fifth and sixth Eclectic Readers.

McGuffey not only had a keen literary sense but he was also able to select from the world's best literature selections that appealed to children. That fact, combined with the high moral tone of the selections, which recommended them to parents trying to bring their children up in the way they should go, gave his readers great popularity.

How great that influence was—especially in this country—it is impossible to estimate. But there is no doubt that the serious purpose of the McGuffey Eclectic Readers, their kindly spirit and their teachings of the essential virtues made children of an earlier generation better men and women today.

He Saved an Empress IF IT had not been for the resourcefulness and courage of an American dentist, the last empress of the French might have met death at the hands of an infuriated mob of revolutionists and another tragic chapter might have been written in the history of deposed royalty in that country.

Not long after Louis Napoleon became emperor, Dr. Evans was made court dentist of the second empire. At that time dentistry was not the respected profession that it is today.

So on September 2, 1870, when news of the disaster at Sedan reached Paris and a bloodthirsty populace began clamoring at the gates of the Tuileries and threatening the life of the empress, she said to the officers of the palace guard "I will go to Dr. Evans. He is an American. I am sure he will render us every assistance we require."

When he returned, he realized that it would be dangerous for the empress to try to escape then, so she and her servant spent the night there. Meanwhile Dr. Evans had engaged a private carriage and the next morning he started out with the royal fugitive on a perilous journey.

Everywhere soldiers were on the look-out for the empress but the quick-witted action and ingenious ruses of the American, more than once prevented their capture. By spending his own money freely he brought Eugenie in safety to the coast and there he persuaded the owner of an English yacht to take her to England.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, Dean of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for April 11 THE SIN OF ADAM AND EVE

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 3:1-15. GOLDEN TEXT—The soul that sinneth, it shall die. Ezek. 18:4. PRIMARY TOPIC—In the Garden of Eden. JUNIOR TOPIC—Trying to Hide From God. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Sin Is and Does. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Consequences of Sin.

"One of the curiosities of the British Museum is a brick from the walls of ancient Babylon which bears the imprint of one of Babylon's mighty kings. Right over the center of the royal seal is deeply impressed the footprint of a 'pariah' dog which apparently trod upon it when it was soft and plastic.

Last Sunday we saw the heavens and earth, the animals, yes, the entire creation crowned by man himself, as it had come from the hand of God—"and behold it was very good" (1:31). But, sadly enough, it did not long remain so, for sin which had already entered the universe soon found its way into the world.

God created Adam in his own likeness and image, gave him "a helpmeet unto him," and placed him in perfect surroundings. He gave him congenial employment, and above all the inestimable privilege of fellowship with Him.

Today we go with Eve and Adam into that cataclysmic experience which we call "the Fall of Man," for as we read in Romans 5:12, "by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned."

I. Temptation (vv. 1-5). Satan is not a cloven-footed monstrosity with a forked tail and a trident in his hand. No, indeed, he is more subtle than anything in creation. We read that he is "transformed into an angel of light" (II Cor. 11:14). His approach in our day is as smooth, and cultured as it was in the garden of Eden.

1. Listening to a slander against God (Satan lied about God). 2. Doubting God's Word and love (If we trust God we will obey him). 3. Looking at that which God has forbidden (The eye will betray us unless we guard it). 4. Lusting after what God had prohibited (Compare Genesis 3:6 with I John 2:6). 5. Disobedience to God's command.

II. Sin (v. 6). Sin is deliberate transgression, not a natural weakness, nor a necessity. It showed itself in its true light when it at once reached out and dragged down another. We do not sin alone for very long.

III. Consequences (vv. 7-15, also 16-19). 1. The serpent is cursed. 2. Sin, death and condemnation enter the world. 3. Sorrow is linked with motherhood. 4. Responsibility and headship is given to man. 5. The ground is cursed and the burden of labor introduced. IV. Redemption (v. 15). Here we have the first promise of redemption, and the scarlet thread of redemptive truth thus runs from this point at the Bible's beginning to its very last chapter. Even in judging the first Adam for his sin God promises the coming of the second Adam who is to redeem the race. You are in the family of the first Adam by natural birth; have you entered the family of the second Adam by supernatural rebirth? (I Cor. 15:21, 22, 45.)

Employing Character A good character when established should not be rested in as an end, but only employed as a means of doing still further good.—Atterbury.

Punishment That Hardens If punishment makes not the will supple, it hardens the offender.—Locke.

To Have Friendship The only way to have a friend is to be one.—Emerson.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

A thin syrup of sugar and water flavored with almond essence is good to sweeten fruit cup.

Your doughnuts will have that different flavor if one half stick of bark of cinnamon and four whole cloves are added to the fat used in frying them.

When the frying pan has got slightly burnt, drop a raw peeled potato into the pan for a few minutes. Then remove it, and all traces of burning will have disappeared.

Date Kisses—Thirty stoned dates, one cup almonds, white one egg, one cup powdered sugar. Chop dates; blanch almonds and cut into long strips. Beat egg very stiff, add sugar, dates and almonds. Drop in buttered tins with teaspoon and bake in quick oven.

Filling for a sponge cake is made by creaming three ounces of fresh butter and six ounces of sifted icing sugar, adding two ounces of chopped pineapple and a little pineapple syrup.

If sirup for hotcakes is heated before serving it brings out the flavor of the sirup and does not chill the hotcakes.

Keep your body free of accumulated waste, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. 60 Pellets 30 cents. Adv.

Idler a Rogue Rich or poor, powerful or weak, every citizen idle is a rogue.—Rousseau.

Advertisement for Penetro Nose Drops, featuring an illustration of a bottle and a person using the product.

Advertisement for Dr. Peery's Vermifuge, featuring an illustration of a bottle and a person.

Knows the Value He who knows most grieves most for wasted time.—Dante.

Advertisement for Coleman's Easy Way to Iron, featuring an illustration of an ironing board and a person ironing.

Advertisement for Well Rooted Palmetto Trees, featuring an illustration of a tree.

The Burden It is easier to dodge responsibility than it is to dodge the result.

Advertisement for Black-Draught, a laxative, featuring an illustration of a bottle.

Advertisement for Magic Remedy, featuring an illustration of a bottle.

Vertical sidebar containing various small advertisements for products like linens, medicine, and household items.

THE DAVIE RECORD.

C. FRANK STROUD - Editor.
TELEPHONE

Entered at the Postoffice in Mocksville, N. C., as Second-class Mail matter, March 3, 1909.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE - $1.00
SIX MONTHS, IN ADVANCE - $.50

What this country needs today is not a good five cent cigar but a Secretary of Labor to take the place of the woman who calls herself "Miss Perkins." Just what her real name is we don't know, and we doubt whether a single New Dealer in the county could tell us.

The editor is going to have a birthday on next Wednesday, April 14th. Here's hoping that at least a hundred or two of our subscribers who are behind with their subscriptions, will send us a dollar or two, so that it will reach us on or before the 14th. A birthday cake would not be returned to the sender if we should receive one.

Davie county farmers are receiving checks totalling more than $30,000 from the Federal government. Just what these checks are for we cannot explain. Some of the recipients seem to be well pleased while others say that pay day is coming soon with nothing to use for money. We don't know who is getting the little five and ten dollar checks, neither do we know who is getting the two and three hundred dollar checks but we'll bet dollars to doughnuts that the man who really needs the money is getting the baby checks while those who are in good shape financially, are getting the big fellows. As one man remarked, "the more we work the less we get," the more we loaf, the more we get. The columns of The Record are open to any one who can tell our readers anything about this perplexing question.

Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, the biggest democrat in the United States Senate, doesn't think much of President Roosevelt's scheme to junk the United States Supreme Court, so that he can appoint six New Deal justices at one time, who will know their master's voice. Senator Glass, in 1932, despite the fact that he was ill in bed, arose and made a mighty plea over the radio, begging the voters to support Mr. Roosevelt for president. Last week Senator Glass again made an appeal to the American people over the radio, but he wasn't begging the voters to stand by the president on his wild idea of junking the Supreme Court, but arose from a bed of illness, to warn them that if the president succeeded in tearing down the court it would be the greatest catastrophe that this country had suffered since it was founded.

Pino News.

The Primary and Intermediate Sunday School Class met at the church Saturday afternoon for an egg hunt.

Miss Mildred Dull spent the Easter holidays with her aunt Mrs. Ike White, of Wyo.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McMoht, of Indianapolis, Ind., have been visiting their daughter Mrs. J. F. Essie.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Turner, of Statesville visited Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Swing Sunday.

Miss Jane Bahson and Charlie Bahson visited Miss Margaret Miller Sunday evening.

Mr. J. Hampton Rich visited Mr. and Mrs. F. R. McMahan Monday.

Several people from this community motored to Winston-Salem Sunday afternoon to see the flowers at Salem.

Annual Meeting Tomorrow.

Annual meeting of the South Yadkin Baptist Association will meet in the Mocksville Baptist church tomorrow, Thursday, for an all day session. Delegates from the more than 30 churches in the association will be present. The Record is glad to welcome these Christian workers to our town and hope that the day will be both pleasant and profitable to those who attend.

Killed In Auto Wreck.

Foster Livengood, 19, was killed almost instantly when a car he was driving left the road about one mile south of Fork Sunday afternoon, about 4 o'clock. A young man who was in the car, received slight injuries.

Funeral services were held at Fulton Methodist church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. A. A. Lively, and the body laid to rest in the church cemetery.

Mr. Livengood is survived by his father, George Livengood, and six brothers, Clarence, of High Point, G. W., Charles, John, Odell and Junie, all of Davie county. The bereaved family have the sympathy of a host of friends in the death of this young man.

Jacob S. Shutt.

Jacob Samuel Shutt, 67, died at his home in Advance, Thursday morning at 10:20 o'clock. He had been in declining health for two years and his condition had been serious for seven weeks.

He was born in Davie county and spent his entire life there. He was a well known carpenter.

He was married to Miss Mamie Harwood, who died in 1932. He was the son of John Wesley and Mahaley Jone Sidden Shutt.

Survivors include five daughters, Misses Alma, Eva and Mamie Lee Shutt, all of Winston-Salem, Miss Zel'a Shutt, of Advance, and Mrs. S. E. Snider, of Denton; three sons, L. W. Shutt of Salisbury, T. S. Shutt of Bahama, and B. G. Shutt of Richmond, Va.

Funeral services were held at Advance Methodist church Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Revs. A. A. Lively and W. M. Rathburn officiating. The body was laid to rest in the church cemetery.

Mrs Margaret McClamroch.

Mrs. Margaret McClamroch, 84, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Angell, Sunday afternoon, March 28, following a ten days illness of flu. Funeral services were held at Eaton's Baptist church last Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock with Rev. Ralph McClamroch, of Winston-Salem in charge, assisted by Revs. James Groce and J. L. Kirk.

Mrs. McClamroch is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Henry Angell, of R. 2; one brother, Leonard Bowles, of Salisbury, and one sister, Mrs. Lelia Keller, of County Line, and six grandchildren. Mrs. McClamroch was the widow of Reece McClamroch who died some 18 years ago. She was a member of Eaton's Baptist church, having united with that church in early childhood.

Mrs. S. N. Marlowe.

Mrs. S. N. Marlowe, of Bagley Mills township, died Tuesday morning at her home there, death following pneumonia and complications.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon, from New Union Methodist church.

Survivals include six brothers, Messrs. Jonathon, William, Rezin, Pinkney and Nathan Trivette, all of Hamptonville.

Clean-Up Week.

Rev. Mr. Cooper, Scout master, and his scouts, together with the mayor of the town, will have the week of April 12 to 17th as Clean-Up Week. Have your trash all piled up in front of your house on Saturday, the 17th, and the scouts will be along and gather it up and haul it away. Everyone do all they can and let's get rid of mosquitoes and all disease germs that come from filth or cans.

Uncle Eben's Envy "I envy a fine education," said Uncle Eben, "even if it doesn't do much for some people, 'cept to give 'em mo' things to fight about."

Hendricks-Miller.

Alton Sheek Miller and Miss Louise Hendricks, daughter of Mrs. Clarence Hendricks, of South Mocksville, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Miller, stole a march on their friends away back in the 16th of January, and motored to York, S. C., where they were united in marriage by Esq. Gettys Nunn. This marriage was a surprise to even their closest friends and relatives until Easter when the marriage was announced. Mr. Miller holds a position at Kannapolis, while Mrs. Miller is a saleslady at the United Variety Store here. The Record wishes for this popular young couple all the joys and but few of the sorrows in this life. May their pathway be strewn with flowers all the way.

Call-Smith Wedding.

Miss Elaine Call, charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Call, of Mocksville, and C. B. Smith, of Elizabethtown, N. C., were united in marriage Saturday, March 27th, at the home of the bride's grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Rollins, in Elizabethtown.

The ceremony, which was beautiful and impressive, was performed by Rev. B. F. Rollins. Following the wedding, an informal luncheon was given at the home of the officiating minister. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, following a bridal trip to points in South Carolina and Florida are at home at Elizabethtown, where Mr. Smith is engaged in business.

The Record joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Smith in wishing for them a long and happy married life.

Byerly-Chaffin.

Robert Chaffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Chaffin of Woodleaf, and Miss Mamie Byerly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Byerly, of Mocksville, R. 4, were united in marriage in the Register of Deeds office at Mocksville, on March 27th, Esq. T. I. Candell performing the marriage ceremony.

Alexander-Jacobs.

H. M. Jacobs, of Salisbury and Miss Opal Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Alexander, of Cooleemee, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday, March 27th, Rev. A. T. Staudemire performing the marriage ceremony.

Enjoyable Egg Hunt.

Mrs. Reba Daywalt gave an Easter egg hunt at the home of Mr. W. T. Daywalt Saturday afternoon, March 27th, to a group of little folks. Twenty-four girls and boys was present for this occasion. They played games on the lawn. Mrs. Daywalt, Mrs. A. D. Daywalt, Mrs. D. D. Daywalt and Mrs. M. T. Daywalt hid the eggs. Mrs. Daywalt gave a prize to the one who found the most eggs. Harley McKinley was the lucky one. All went away saying they had a nice time.

Operetta to Be Given at Farmington.

Little Black Sambo, an operetta in three acts will be presented by the primary and elementary grades of Farmington School, Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Farmington School auditorium.

The scene is laid in an African jungle. Thirty-two children will take part in the production.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone. Admission 5 and 10c.

Peculiarity of Fungi Most fungi thrive on rain, but an exception is the powdery mildew so common on red clover, which is adversely affected by rainfall.

Mocksville School News.

Mocksville High School base ball team defeated Courtney High School Friday afternoon at Courtney with a score of 11 to 3. Joe Ferebee pitching for Mocksville allowed only four hits. Mocksville was able to make 11 hits, this hitting being led by Tomlinson, T. Ferebee, and J. Ferebee. Holden did the best hitting for Courtney.

The Mocksville school took part in the State Triangular Debate Friday afternoon and made a good showing for the school by the negative team represented by Sarah Everhardt and Claire Wall winning their debate against Mt. Pleasant at Kannapolis; the affirmative represented by Holland Chaffin and Ruby Wagoner debated the Kannapolis team at Mt. Pleasant but failed to win the debate by one vote. The Kannapolis high school team won the debate between Kannapolis and Mt. Pleasant held in the Mocksville school auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Boone R. Rummage and children Ruby Mae and Kenneth Gray, of Statesville spent Easter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Boger of Mocksville, R. 3.

NOTICE!

This is to notify all persons concerned that an application will be made to Governor Clyde R. Hoey, for the pardon or parole of Joe Martin, on or after Fifteen days from the date of this notice.

All persons opposing the same will file their objections with the Parole Commission at Raleigh, North Carolina.

This the 25th day of March, 1937.
B. C. BROCK,
Attorney for Joe Martin.

IT HAS THE PAINTERS TALKING. TOP

A LITTLE COVERED A LOT, EH BILL!

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS SWP HOUSE PAINT

One gallon of SWP house paint covers 800 square feet of surface... at a cost of less than 1/2c per square foot!

And look what you get for this low price. Beauty no other house paint can beat. Complete protection against weathering... a protection that lasts for years. And the added feature of washability. That's why more homes are painted with SWP than any other brand of paint. See the 32 beautiful SWP colors at our store and get your free copy of our book "The Truth about House Paint."

C. C. Sanford Sons Co.
"Everything For Everybody"
Phone 7 Mocksville, N. C.
PAINT HEADQUARTERS

Thousands OF OLD STOVES ARE BEING JUNKED FOR MODERN ELECTRIC COOKING!

Every year has seen a steady increase in electric range users. There are more than 21,000 homes in our territory using electric cookery and this year will see thousands of old stoves being junked for this modern way of cooking. Housewives are discovering the many features of cooking electrically such as economy, time-saving, cleanliness, elimination of fire and automatically controlled heat. Join this happy throng of women and discover for yourself the real thrill of having a modern electric range in your kitchen. The original cost is low... Its operation is inexpensive and its long life makes an electric range much, much less expensive than an ordinary cooking stove.

Let Reddy Kilt wait save you hours of kitchen drudgery... he works for a few pennies a day.

Duke POWER COMPANY

"I STICK BY CAMELS...AND CAMELS STICK BY ME..."
SAYS JIMMIE FOXX

THIS SLUGGING FIRST BASEMAN of the Boston Red Sox (and steady Camel smoker) says: "Camels never get on my nerves. Smoking Camels at meals helps me feel that my food's agreeing with me." Yes, Camels speed up the flow of digestive fluids - alkaline digestive fluids. Enjoy Camels freely - they're so mild!

FOR DIGESTION'S SAKE... SMOKE CAMELS

THE D Largest Davie
NEWS
Rev F boro, was business.
Mrs. F with rheu sorry to l
J. A. Jo was in to with old
D. G. H of near C visitors o
WANT kind.
Mr. and of Indian daughter ney.
Miss M
zabethow some time
M. Call.
Miss M
ville, R. with her at Coolee
Rev M of the H Saturday relatives
Harley went an Lowery week, is Want t issues of interested plete sets ington, N
Dr. H.
Tenn., sp with relat
Yadkin a Batty has ville, Ten ing three cities.
Co
T
T
The d 100 b one r rayon a 'ke Over terns and small and l wide color

THE DAVIE RECORD.

Largest Circulation of Any Davie County Newspaper.

NEWS AROUND TOWN.

Rev F. E. Howard, of Greensboro, was in town Wednesday on business.

Mrs. Flake Campbell is quite ill with rheumatism, her friends will be sorry to learn.

J. A. Jones, of North Wilkesboro, was in town Saturday shaking hands with old friends.

D. G. Essic and son J. F. Essic, of near Courtney, were Mocksville visitors one day last week.

WANTED—To buy cows—any kind.
G. B. MYERS,
Winston-Salem, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. McMath, of Indianapolis, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. I. F. Essic of Courtney.

Miss Mary Vee Rollins, of Elizabethtown, N. C., is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. S. M. Call.

Miss Melverene Boger, of Mocksville, R. 3, is spending this week with her cousin, Mrs. Kenneth Holt at Cooleemee.

Rev Marvin H. Rouse a member of the Hemp school faculty, spent Saturday and Sunday in town with relatives and friends.

Harley Graves, Jr., who underwent an appendicitis operation at Lowery Hospital, Salisbury, last week, is getting along nicely.

Want to purchase several years issues of local newspapers. Am interested in complete sets or incomplete sets. Write Box 515, Lexington, N. C.

Dr. H. F. Batty, of Knoxville, Tenn., spent several days last week with relatives and friends in Davie, Yadkin and Forsyth counties. Dr. Batty has dental offices in Knoxville, Tenn., and Asheville, spending three days each week in both cities.

Roy Holthouser, who has been ill for the past three weeks with flu, is able to be out again, his many friends will be glad to learn.

A large number of farmers were in town Saturday shopping with the progressive merchants who advertise in The Record.

Attorney and Mrs Dallas Kirby have moved from the Swain house on North Main street, to the Horn house near the Baptist church.

James Essic returned to Mars Hill Tuesday, after spending the spring holidays with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Essic, of Courtney.

The girls Junior Class at Oak Grove will give a supper next Saturday night April 10. Proceeds to go towards painting Sunday school rooms. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Queen Bess Kennen, of Farmington, left last week for Greenwood, Ind., to be at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Sheek Young, 83, who has been very ill for the past several weeks. All hope that Mrs. Young will soon recover.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Shermer, who have been living in Winston Salem for the past three years, moved last week to Mrs. Shermer's father's farm, near James X Roads, where Mr. Shermer will engage in farming. Mrs. Shermer is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Chaffin.

Mrs. I. H. Fulghum, Misses Hazel Batty and Elizabeth Navior carried a group of B. T. U. children to Mt. Airy Saturday to attend a regional meeting of this young people's organization which was held at the First Baptist church in the Granite City.

Mrs. H. L. Kirby, mother of Dallas Kirby, Mocksville attorney, died at her home in Winston Salem last Tuesday, following an extended illness. Funeral and burial services took place at Mt. Pleasant M. E. church, in Stokes county, Thursday morning. Mrs. Kirby is survived by one daughter, three sons and one brother.

A series of meetings are being held at the Presbyterian church this week. Rev. C. R. Nisbet, of Charlotte, is doing the preaching. Services are held nightly at 7:30 o'clock. The public is given a cordial invitation to attend all the services. A day service will be held, it is thought, but when this was written the hour for the day services hadn't been decided on.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for the many acts of kindness shown us during the illness and after the death of our step-mother.
Mr. AND MRS. R. T. MARLOW.

An Appreciation.

We wish to express our appreciation to the people of Mocksville who assisted in saving a part of our household goods, and also to the Mocksville fire department who did everything possible to save our home, which was destroyed by fire on March 28th.
O. R. ALLEN,
MRS. B. L. BENTLEY.

Special Bargains

- Plenty Bridles 25c and up
- Horse Collars 99c and up
- Straight Chairs 98c
- Seed Potatoes, Maine-grown per 150 lb bag $5.00
- Red Clover Seed 99 per cent. pure 35c lb
- Alfalfa Seed 35c lb
- Timothy Seed 12 1/2c lb
- Rape Seed 8c lb
- Plenty all kinds loose garden seeds
- Price on Peas and Beans 15c lb
- 8 lb. pack Lard $1.09
- 1 lb. pack Kenny Coffee 12 1/2c
- 10 lb Sugar 53c
- 1 lb can Pork and Beans 5c
- Flour $3 65
- Feed $2 10
- Vinegar, White House 1 qt-bottle 11c
- Matches 3c
- Blue Bell sanforized overalls $1.09
- 50c Window Shades 89c
- Plant Bed Canvas 2 1/2c per bolt
- Plenty fast color Prints 11c per yd
- Men's Suits $5 88 to $16.95
- Ladies New Spring Hats $1.00 up

“Yours For Bargains”

J. FRANK HENDRIX

THE MORRISETT CO.

“Live Wire Store”

Winston-Salem, N. C.

Four Great Close Out Days.
Beginning Wednesday, April 8-9-10.

Everything That Should Have Been Sold Before Easter To Be Closed At Sacrifice.

All Woolens Except Pastel and White Shades—20% Discount
All 49c Print Silks 39c
All 59c Print Silks 49c
All 69c Print Silks 59c

250 Hats

Straws and Felts, Assorted Colors
Values to $1.95 to Close 69c

Great Values To Close

1000 25c Belts
Light and Dark Shades All At 19c
1000 Cards Scrap Buttons 1c
150 $1.00 House Dresses 69c
150 Odd Silk Dresses
Values to $5.00 to Close $1.95 - $2.95

1000 Silks Remnants—
1 to 3 Yards About 1-2 Regular Price

COME AND GET A BARGAIN

ALL COATS and COAT SUITS

20% OFF

Many Other Odds And Ends Must Go---To Make Ready For Large And Lovely Summer Stock.
---Just Arrived---

BELK-STEVENS CO.

Cor. Trade & Fifth Sts. Winston-Salem, N. C.

SALE!
FAST COLOR
At Home “Frocks” 98c

Out out the housedress class, frocks like these reach a new high for happy morning hours! Easy to slip into and practical... they're smartyled... have swing skirts and are dainty trimmed. Persian prints, crisp voiles, ginghams, lots of plaids, stripes, polka dots... and every one COLORFAST!

Misses' Sizes Women's Sizes Extra Large Sizes

On Sale Economy Department.

The Newest Fabrics
At Exciting Low Prices!

Talk-of-the-Town” Prints

The outstanding fabric success of the season—over 100 beautiful new patterns to select from—each one more lovely than the other. Crown tested rayon—soft, draping quality that will launder like a kerchief. They will not slip or pull at the seams

59c

SALE OF WASH GOODS

POWDER PUFF MUSLINS
PRE-SHRUNK CHALKSPUN
SANFORIZED SAN-SEAN 39c

Here are three of the loveliest new cotton for Spring and Summer. Brilliantly colored patterns new patterns—florals—Tyrolean effects and conventional designs. All guaranteed to retain their freshness after repeated laundering.

Tuxedo Batiste
25c

Over fifty lovely new patterns for dresses, blouses and dainty gowns. Wee small patterns—dots—floral and larger effects. 36 inches wide and guaranteed fast color.

For the TOWN'S GREATEST VALUES
In Remnants of Quality Piece Goods

Visit Our Economy Department!
REMNANTS 5c

A large assortment of unbleached lengths of fine wash fabrics and rayons—worth double this low price.

A. B. C. Percales
25c

The quality and finish are famous—the assortment of patterns is breath-taking. Over 150 delightful designs in every imaginable color combination.

Rominger's
Celebrating Their 37th Anniversary

Wish to extend a most cordial invitation to their many friends and customers of Mocksville, Cooleemee and Davie county to attend their formal

Spring Opening

And

Furniture Style Show

Thursday Evening, April 8th, 7 to 10:30 p. m.

This is an annual event of all the Winston-Salem Furniture Stores displaying the new styles in Home Furnishings and Summer Furniture.

COME! BRING YOUR FRIENDS!

Be Our Guest. We Are Sure You Will Enjoy The Evening, And We Will Be Delighted to Have You.

Attendance Prizes will be awarded and Refreshments Served

Rominger's

Display of Living Room, Dining Room, Bed Room and Kitchen Furniture, Rugs and Floor Coverings have never been surpassed. At Rominger's you will see the most elaborate display of Summer Furniture ever shown in Winston-Salem. Styles and colors to please the most discriminating, at prices you wish to pay.

Remember the date, Thursday Evening, April 8, 7 to 10:30 p. m., and the place.

Rominger Furniture Co.

423 N. Liberty Street

Winston-Salem, N. C.

Ask Me Another

A General Quiz
© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

1. To what relative does "avuncular" refer?
2. What man who later became President fought at San Juan Hill?
3. In what country did the Ming Dynasty reign?
4. What is bisk?
5. Who was the first Roman emperor?
6. What hero was inspired to further action by a spider's perseverance?
7. What flag was called "the jolly Roger"?
8. To what was the term "shin-plaster" applied in American history?
9. What does "azoic" mean?
10. Where is Lake Constance?
11. When is it noon in Philadelphia what time is it in Yokohama?
12. An English king was once crowned on a Sunday. Who was he?

Answers

1. An uncle.
2. Theodore Roosevelt.
3. China.
4. A thick rich soup.
5. Augustus Caesar.
6. Robert Bruce.
7. That of the pirates.
8. To fractional paper money.
9. Without life or with organic remains.
10. On the border of Switzerland and Germany.
11. Two a. m. the next day.
12. King Edward VI on February 20, 1547.

Rich Food in Small Doses

Books that improve your mind are often hard to read. Take them in small doses, but continuously. Live each day as if it were worth while—and the day before it, plan to make it more so. Every flowering weed may have its chance some day, when the florists take an interest in it. Men still start with a shoestring and make a fortune; and nobody yet understands how.

Wisdom Must Be Earned

Authority can be conferred upon you, but not wisdom. It has to be earned. Pride is worth something that keeps man or boy out of low company. The greatest of faults is to be conscious of none.

Hardboiling Is Dangerous

Deliberately becoming hard-boiled, one may think he will save one soft spot for a friend who is genuine; but, alas, that spot solidifies, too. Edison used to say that those who sleep longest know least. Mr. Edison didn't sleep long. A woman means it when she says she would rather live in a hut with a man she loves than in a mansion with one she doesn't; and still hopes and wishes that but husband would strike it rich.

SEE THIS CROSS IT'S FOR YOUR PROTECTION

Personality Plus
The very best "personality" is to be sincere.

FOR BURNS
MOROLINE
LARGE JARS 50¢ and 10¢
SHOW WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY
WNU-7 13-37

HEARTBURN?
It's surprising how many have heart burn. Hurried eating, overeating, heavy smoking, excessive drinking all lead to heartburn. When it comes, heed the warning. Your stomach is on a strike.

TAKE MILNESIAS
Milnesia, the original milk of magnesia in wafer form, taken after indulgence, relieves heartburn. Crunchy and tasty. Each wafer equals 4 teaspoonfuls milk of magnesia. 20c, 35c & 60c packages.

BRIGHT STAR

By Mary Schumann

Copyright by Macrae Smith Co.
WNU Service

SYNOPSIS

Kezia Marsh, pretty, selfish and twenty, arrives home in Corinth from school and is met by her older brother, Hugh. He drives her to the Marsh home where her widowed mother, Fluvanna, a warm-hearted, self-sacrificing and understanding soul, welcomes her. Kezia's sister, Margery, plump and matronly with the care of three children, is at lunch with them. Hugh's wife, Dorrie, has succeeded a previous engagement. On the way back to his job at the steel plant founded by one of his forefathers, Hugh passes Doc Hiller, a boyhood friend whom he no longer sees frequently because of Dorrie's antipathy. Fluvanna Marsh wakes the next morning from a dream about her late husband, Jim, whose unstable character she fears Kezia has inherited. Ellen Pendleton comes over. She is an artistically inclined girl who is a distant niece of Fluvanna's. She happily tells Fluvanna she has become engaged to Jerry Purdie. Ellen fears that her father and mother, Gavin and Lizzie, will not approve the match. Hugh and Dorrie go out to the Freedland farm to dance with their friends, Cui and Joan Whitney. Whitney, who has been out of work, has a new position. Cui and Dorrie dance together and then disappear for a while. Dancing with Joan, Hugh is amazed to find her in tears. Apparently she has some secret worry over her husband, Cui. When Ellen and Jerry speak about their engagement to Ellen's parents, Lizzie is disagreeable until Jerry sympathizes with her imagined ailments. The matter is left pending. Unexpectedly Hugh has to visit a neighboring city on business. Returning home to ask Dorrie to accompany him he finds her telephoning. In confusion she quickly hangs up without saying good-by. She finally agrees to accompany him. They spend a delightful day and Hugh is happy. At a family party, Kezia encounters Jerry. Ellen is disturbed when Jerry is absorbed by Kezia. Kezia goes out of her way to charm Jerry. Fluvanna is concerned about Kezia, who is evasive about dates she has been having at night. She muses over the resemblance of Kezia to her late husband, recalling how temperamental, moody and imprudent he had been. She recalls the tragic picture of his death—how after drinking and gambling to excess he is faced with financial ruin, how he tries to force her to mortgage her resources to pay his debts and threatens her with a gun, how in a struggle for its possession he is fatally wounded.

CHAPTER VI—Continued

"I've been counting the days and it seems as though I could scarcely wait. The cabin has a big fireplace where we can burn logs on cool nights; it's near enough to town—ten miles—so that our friends can drive out to see us. We'll have suppers for them—play cards—sing—dance to the radio."

"Friends," mused Hugh. "Any special ones?"

"Special?" The reticence of her English blood made her look suddenly shy. "You mean men? Well, there's always someone who—takes an interest."

"And he'll come out?"

"Yes."

"We can't get along very well unless someone takes an interest, can we? If it's too special I'll lose my very good stenographer, however. That would be a calamity—unless—it was essential to your happiness."

"He hasn't enough money," said Miss Ruskin in a low tone. She moved her pad on her knee and lifted her pencil for his dictation.

Hugh turned in his swivel chair and picked up a sheaf of letters. "Just one or two of these should go out today. The others can wait. I know you want to get away early."

"Mr. Marsh," said Miss Ruskin speaking with an effort, "you say we can't get along without someone who takes an interest. I say we can't get along without a vacation. It helps us to look at things differently; we are stronger to take care of our troubles when we come back. You haven't had a vacation. You—you look as if you needed one."

Hugh shook his head. "Just lack of exercise. I'm all right. Too many problems this summer to get away. Starting tonight, I'm walking home—two miles. I'm going to walk night and morning—exercise is all I need."

She left the room, he remembered that Doc Hiller, whom he had run into at lunch had said the same thing. Doc had asked him what he was doing to himself—burning the candle at both ends? He had gazed at him critically. "You'd better drop in some moon, let me look you over. That old plant will be there after you're dead and gone, my boy. You are killing yourself with overwork."

He took his hat to leave the office. Five o'clock—Saturday afternoon. He would walk home, although he didn't feel like it.

It would be good to have a vacation, play and swim as Miss Ruskin intended doing, but that was out of the question. He had urged Dorrie to go away, visit her sister Beryl, or her mother who had married a dentist in Rochester, go to the seashore. But she had shaken her head. She was contented here. It was no fun at the seashore if he couldn't go along.

Late Saturday afternoon traffic tied up the crossings in a tangle of cars and hurrying pedestrians. The September heat was as oppressive as that of July, and it seemed a long way to his home. When he entered his front door he was grateful for the coolness of the house. He whistled a signal and received an answer from upstairs. He looked at the paper for a few minutes before going up.

Dorrie was dressing when he entered their room, was pinning the shoulder of her yellow dress. She pointed to her cheek and he kissed her there. "My make-up,"

she said smiling. "Hasn't it been ghastly hot? I envied you high up in your cool office."

"It was hot there, too. You're looking unusually devastating. What's the answer? Are we going out?"

"We're going over to Joan's—have you forgotten?" She did not say it with a hint of impatience as she usually did when he forgot; her tone was indulgent. "Had to work late again Saturday afternoon, poor Hugh? Why don't you lie down and nap for a half-hour before your bath? I'll call you in time."

"Bridge?"

"Yes; but one of Joan's good chicken and spaghetti dinners first. You'll like that." She folded the spread of one of the beds with meticulous care, pulled down the sheet invitingly.

He could have slept for hours but he was awakened in a few minutes by Dorrie standing over him saying: "Time to dress, Hugh."

Drowsily he opened his eyes. The late sunlight was glimmering yellow on the ivy which arabesqued the screens. He had to dress and go out to that confounded dinner-play cards.

"Would you like me to lay out your shirt and tie? Put the buttons in your collar?" Dorrie spoke gently. As if she had been in error about something and was tacitly apologizing.

He rose, rubbing his eyes. No apology was needed of course. It was understood between them that Saturday night they should entertain or go somewhere. Perhaps she felt the bridge game was an ordeal. "I'll wear white flannels and a blue coat."

"Then you'll want a white shirt and a blue tie." Dorrie pulled open his drawer.

He felt revived by her sympathy, in better spirits, more alert. Later she seemed to be thinking thoughts apart from him, listening to him and not hearing what he said. Sweet sometimes—sharply critical others.

He took his shower and was dressing when Dorrie said: "Anything happen today down town?"

"Not much. Just the usual."

Then his face brightened. "Yes, it did. I had lunch with Doc Hiller, met him in the grill of the Renshaw House. It was great to see him. I hadn't talked to him for a year. You know Doc and I were just like that." He crossed his fingers, "when we were boys."

"Go on," said Dorrie. "That's not all."

"Not all? Just about. He had some foolishness that I'm not looking well, and wants to see me Monday at his office." He looked at her from the tail of his eye. Should he have said that? Would she be alarmed?

But Dorrie was observing him with faint derision. "Go on with the rest of it."

"What do you mean?"

Hugh, you have no sense—absolutely none! You were just about to say, "Let's have the Hillers over some night soon. We've never returned the dinner they gave for us,"—now weren't you?"

"I don't think I was," replied Hugh with irritation. "It wouldn't have been any use . . . and they probably wouldn't come if we did ask them. They'd tell us to go hang—they have some pride."

"You're mad," teased Dorrie. "Do get mad often! I like you when you storm like that and get red in the face!"

"Oh—rot!" He pulled his tie undone and retied it, muttering, "We could have been courteous to them at least!"

In silence he finished dressing and in silence they got into the car. Half-way to the Whites, she laid her hand on his knee. "Be nice," she coaxed.

His left brow went up whimsically. "You be nice."

"I will," she promised, and began to chat gaily about the clever way an agent for a coffee concern had wormed his way into the house that morning. "He was just like a phlograph!"

"Treat them kindly, even if you don't buy," he advised Dorrie. "It's the hardest kind of work, and they make scarcely anything."

"I ordered a couple of pounds of his coffee—sent him on his way rejoicing."

Cui greeted them at the door, with a hearty welcome. "The ice is almost melted! I made the mistake of shaking them up too early! . . . Come on, Joan."

Joan came hurrying in from the kitchen; the open door wafted in an odor of appetizing food. "Are the Marshes dry—or wet?"

"Evening, Joan! Very dry with this blistering heat."

"Well, soak this up," said Cui, refilling Hugh's half-emptied glass. "Dorrie, say when."

Joan's table, with its lace cloth, tall candles and centerpiece of red lavender wild asters, was attractive. She kept no maid, and served everything herself with the aid of a tea wagon. The spaghetti was cooked in Italian style with a highly seasoned pepper and tomato sauce; the spring chickens were browned to a delicate crispness; the endive salad had a dressing made of yolks of eggs and rose-petal vinegar; the dessert was strawberry shortcake.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK...

By Lemuel F. Parton

Kashmir Poetess Recalls Glamorous Days of Nineties

NEW YORK.—In Victorian England of the Nineties, Arthur Symonds wrote of the shy, young poetess, Sarojini Naidu, "her eyes are like pools and you seem to fall through them to depths below depths." Her exquisite Kashmir beauty has faded now, but it is she and no other who starts cables and linotypes clattering all over the world with the news that Lindbergh blushed.

It was her poetic laudation of the colonel at the meeting of the parliament of religions at Calcutta, in which he was compared to Buddha, which flushed the rose tint on the colonel's cheek and made news that sidetracked all other events of the world parliament of religions. That was the headline and the story. It is an interesting citation of comparative news values.

In London of the eighties and nineties, fame was bestowed when Aubrey Beardsley, Burne-Jones and Watts painted the portrait of any new entrant. Thus Lily Langry was converted from a singularly inept and fumble-footed actress to a great lady of the stage. Sarojini Naidu was both beautiful and intelligent. Ignoring veil and caste, the first of her Brahmin line to do so, she entered Girtan, at Cambridge.

Sir Edmund Gosse discovered her poetry and gave it his august literary sanction. The above painters rushed in with their mahi sticks and brushes, and the poets with psalter and harp—Ernest Dowson among them—Richard Le Gallienne and Max Beerbohm in their wake. Her poems were recited, sung, chanted at all great salons.

Like Lindbergh, then in time's suspense file, she climbed down from her Pegasus to a glare of fame and adulation. Her gorgeous native dress, her beauty, her silken "sari," her exquisite voice, her enchanting verse were more familiar to the empire than the growing tension of Johannesburg, Algieras, and Agadir.

She went back to India to war on the incoming machine age which was to make the later Lindbergh the Siegfried of its Iron niebelung. She put aside her silken gown and wore the coarse "khaddar" of Gandhi's early civil disobedience movement. She went to jail, two or three years altogether.

She married out of her caste, asailed the caste system, led crew through the city streets, gave her property to the nationalist movement. In 1925, she became president of the Indian national congress. In England they still sing her poems, set to music by Liza Lehman and Coleridge Taylor.

She is fifty-six years old, the mother of four children, with a slight figure and lined, gentle face, an ally of Annie Besant in the "swaras" movement in the latter's years. A strange transit of epochs and cultures, this, stirring an astronomical blush over the seven seas.

The Burne-Jones salon was Sarojini Naidu's Le Bourget field. It would be interesting to eavesdrop at a heart-to-heart talk between the colonel and the poetess about conformity and dissent and whether it is better to go to glory or to jail, and whether she is sorry she ever put aside her silken gown. At any rate, in Lindbergh, she hymns chivalry and courage, no matter what she thinks of his epoch.

When "New Freedom" Was New.

JOSEPH P. TUMULTY never quite caught step in the Roosevelt parade, but there he was, after all these years, on the President's left at the recent "victory dinner," with less hair than he had in the early days of the "new freedom," but with Irish eloquence unimpaired. He reports Democratic fires burning in the hills and valleys of America.

Lagging far behind, Woodrow Wilson's eight-year secretary never called "Wait for baby," like the chap in "What Price Glory," and finally came along in his usual dignified way.

So far as broad party strategies and policies of the last few years are concerned, Mr. Tumulty has been mainly concerned with our recreance and indifference toward the League of Nations. There is no more loyal conservator of straight-line Wilsonian doctrine in America.

Toward the end of Woodrow Wilson's second term, there was much talk of a cabinet post for Mr. Tumulty, supposedly the labor post, but he became a Washington lawyer instead. In August, 1935, he told a senate committee that his two years' fees of $109,700 were for advice and not for lobbying.

His Jersey friends tell me that he has made his peace with Frank Hague, Jersey City political boss, that he is becoming mellow and philosophical and that he has no yen for any important place on the Democratic bandwagon.

© Consolidated News Features. WNU Service.

Harmonizing With Spring

THIS week's crop of fashions seem fully as sweet and gay and long-awaited as lovely Spring—with which they're meant to harmonize. Mary, Sue and Emily, three charming standees, know how to have day in day out chic without forfeiting that pretty silver lining in their new Spring purses.

Hints From Mary's Boudoir.

"I'm especially fussy about the slip I wear, perhaps that's why I always sew-my-own! I never miss the few hours it takes, and I can spend the difference for a finer, better-wearing fabric. A slip that's well-behaved is a joy to yourself—others as well—and just as easy to have. So take a tip from one who knows: choose this model and a good fabric and you'll have no further slip troubles."

A Lik for M'Lady.

"A new frock means more to me than a new fabric and a change of color—it means a lift, a new lease on life!" So says Miss Sue, a snappy sophomore who sews. "I decided 1252 had the kind of newness I want: the clever cut of the waistcoat bodice first caught my fancy, and the saucy swing skirt made me sign on the dotted line. I go for simple necklines, and I like lots of buttons too. You should see my version in royal blue silk crepe—really, it's something to be proud of."

Designers Win Fraise.

"Smart Matron your granny," retorts Emily to an intended bit of flattery regarding her new welcome-to-spring frock. "If I look as young as I feel I'll be mistaken for a Lark-Lot! But honestly, this new dress gives me a more dressed-up feeling than any I can remember in Springs gone by. I think Sew-Your-Own designers are smart to give us '40's some of that swing the youngsters rave about. Do you suppose they sympathize with the poor young men who are urged nowadays to 'Swing, Swing dear Mother-in-law'?"

The Patterns.

Pattern 1909 is for sizes 14 to 20 (22 to 46 bust). Size 16 requires 2 3/4 yards of 39 inch material. Pattern 1252 is for sizes 12 to 20 (32 to 38 bust). Size 14 requires 3 3/4 yards of 39 inch material plus 1/2 yard contrasting. Pattern 1233 is for sizes 34 to 52. Size 36 requires 5 1/2 yards of 39 inch material plus 1/2 yard contrasting.

New Pattern Book.

Send for the Barbara Bell Spring and Summer Pattern Book. Make yourself attractive, practical and becoming clothes, selecting designs from the Barbara Bell well-planned, easy-to-make patterns. Interesting and exclusive fashions for little children and the difficult junior age; slenderizing, well-cut patterns for the mature figure; afternoon dresses for the most particular young women and matrons and other patterns for special occasions are all to be found in the Barbara Bell Pattern Book. Send 15 cents today for your copy.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., Room 1026, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. Price of patterns, 15 cents (in coins) each.

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Your Glorified Vision

The vision that you glorify in your mind, the ideal you set before you, this you will build your life by, this you will become, —James Allen.

I'M THRU WITH SUBSTITUTES! MOTHER WARNED ME TO USE ONLY GENUINE CEDAR POLISH

Polish MOPS • WAX

PLEASE ACCEPT THIS Magnificent 4-PIECE SILVER SET for only 25c complete with your purchase of one can of B. T. Babbitt's Nationally Known Brand of Lye

This lovely pure silver-plated Set—knife, fork, soup spoon and teaspoon in aristocratic Empire design is offered solely to get you to try the pure brand of lye with 100 uses, shown at right. Use lye for cleaning clogged and frozen drain pipes, for making finer soap, for sweetening swill, etc. You'll use no other lye once you've tried one of these brands.

How to Get Your Silver Set. To get your 4-piece Silver Set, merely send the brand from any can of lye shown at right, with 25c (to cover handling, mailing, etc.) with your name and address.

TEAR OUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT AS A REMINDER

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

THE FEATHERHEADS

By Osborne
© Walter Reuther Inc.

Helpful Henry

By Quark

SMATTER POP- Well, Sir, We Always Had the Same Trouble!

By C. M. PAYNE

MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY

In the Old Town Hall

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

By Ted O'Loughlin
© Walter Reuther Inc.

Double Check

BRONC PEELER- A Temporary Truce

By FRED HARMAN

The Curse of Progress

BANKING PROBLEM

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

My Favorite Recipe

By Billie Burke
Actress

English Mock Cheese Cake

1 1/2 cups flour
1/4 teaspoonful salt
1/4 cupful boiling water
3/4 cupful butter
1/4 cupful butter
1/2 cupful sugar
1 cupful fresh-grated coconut
2 eggs
2 teaspoons cream
1 teaspoonful vanilla

Make a rich pie paste of the flour, salt, three-quarters cupful of butter and the boiling water. Roll out, cut in rounds, and line muffin tins with it.

Make a filling of the quarter cupful of butter, well creamed; add the sugar and well-beaten eggs, cream and vanilla. Fold in the coconut, fill the lined tins, and bake in a moderate oven until a delicate brown, and they are set. These may be topped with whipped cream when they are cool.

Copyright-WNU Service.

Foreign Words and Phrases

Sine qua non. (L.) Without which not; an indispensable condition.

Absque hoc. (L.) Without this.

Ex parte. (L.) Of or from one side only.

Non est inventus. (L.) He has not been found!

Pax vobiscum! (L.) Peace be with you!

Statu quo ante bellum. (L.) As it was before the war.

Sur le tapis. (F.) On the carpet; under consideration.

Vinculum matrimonii. (L.) The bond of matrimony.

Tabula rasa. (L.) A blank tablet.

Look FOR ST. JOSEPH'S PROTECTED PACKAGE WRAPPED IN CELLOPHANE

St. Joseph Aspirin

World's Largest Seller at 10c.

"I SLEEP LIKE A LOG"

When nervous excitement, indigestion, gas pains or rheumatic aches keep me awake and restless I use WADSWORTH'S READY RELIEF. This many-use Liniment-Comaine contains no narcotics and is the Wadsworth's Wonder. It helps me to relax and drift with delicious drowsiness into dreamland.

Write W. L. Wills of 22 E. 83d St., N. Y. City. Only 50c at your druggist. For free sample write Wadsworth & Co., 205 E. 10th St., New York City.

By Contrast

If there were no clouds we should not enjoy the sun.-Old Proverb.

A FARMER BOY

ONE of the best known medical men in the U. S. was the late Dr. V. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., who was born on a farm in Pa. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has for nearly 70 years been helping women who have headache and backache associated with functional disturbances, and other women who have once heat flashes. By increasing the appetite this tonic helps to uphold the body. Buy of your druggist. New size, tabs, 50c, liquid $1.

GOT RID OF BIG UGLY PORES

PLENTY OF DATES NOW... DENTON'S FACIAL MAGNESIA MADE HER SKIN FRESH, YOUNG, BEAUTIFUL

Romance hasn't a chance when big ugly pores spoil skin texture. Men love the soft smoothness of a fresh young complexion. Denton's Facial Magnesia does miracles for unsightly skin. Ugly pores disappear, skin becomes firm and smooth.

Watch your complexion take on new beauty. Even the first few treatments with Denton's Facial Magnesia make a remarkable difference. With the Denton's Facial Magnesia you can actually see the texture of your skin become smoother day by day. Imperfections are washed clean. Wrinkles gradually disappear. Before you know it Denton's has brought you entirely new skin loveliness.

EXTRAORDINARY OFFER

Save Your Money

You can try Denton's Facial Magnesia on the most liberal offer we have ever made - good for four weeks only. We will send you a full 12 oz. bottle (retail price $1) plus a regular sized box of famous Milnesa Wafers (known throughout the country as the original Milk of Magnesia tablets), plus the Denton's Facial Magnesia (show you what your skin specialist sees) - all for only $1! Don't miss out on this remarkable offer. Write today.

DENTON'S Facial Magnesia

SELECT PRODUCTS, Inc. 462 - 23rd St. Long Island City, N. Y.

Enclosed find $1 (cash or stamps) for which send me your special introductory combination.

Name: _____
Street Address: _____
City: _____ State: _____

Spring

1233 us 1/2 yard conern Book.

Barbara Bell Spring

ern Book. Make

e, practical and e, selecting de-

Barbara Bell well-make patterns.

clusive fashions

and the difficult

erizing, well-cut mature figure; s for the most women and in-patterns for spe-

all to be found ell Pattern Book.

ay for your copy-to The Sewing

ep., Room 1020,

Dr., Chicago, Ill.

s, 15 cents (in

WNU Service.

fied Vision

at you glorify in deal you enthron

his you will build you will become.

POLISH MOPS - WAX

REPT

SET

Dept. W.N. 388

ark City, N. Y. Your promptly, postage for the Set and for frands of Lye to you.

WITH ANY LABEL

BELOW

Red Seal Star

REMINDER

Save Money when you paint!

Select your paints from the Rainbow Range of Colors. Then use Hide-Kote—the semi-paste paint—mix it yourself, and save the difference!

Hide-Kote comes in 14 distinctive colors from the Rainbow Range! It's easy to mix—it's easy to spread—it's economical—and extremely durable!

Let us help you with your painting problems!

Kurfees & Ward
"BETTER SERVICE."

Abundant Water
The mid-Pacific American metropolis, Honolulu, obtains nearly all its water supply from artesian wells yielding 1,500,000,000 gallons annually.

Notice Sale Of Land Under Mortgage.

By virtue of the powers contained in a mortgage, default having been made in the payment of same, as mortgagee will sell to the highest bidder for cash at the Court House Door in Davie County, N. C. on Monday, May 3rd, 1937, at 12 o'clock p. m. the described below. Being Lots Nos. 7 and 8 and bounded as follows: Viz: the beginning at a Spanish oak in Vicks line, and running N 84 degra. W 11 60 chs to a stake corner of Lot No. 6. thence N. 3 and 1-2 degra. E. 6.60 chs. to a stake; thence East one chain to a stake. thence N. 3 and 1-2 degra. E. 11.37 chs. to a stake in B. L. Smith's line; thence E. 3 and 1-2 degra. S 10.60 chs to a stake in W. J. Smith's line. thence S. 3 and 1-2 degra. W 18 63 chs. to the beginning; containing twenty acres more or less, being Lot No. 7 in the division of the H. B. Saunders lands. Also another Lot No. 8. Beginning at a Cedar, Cedar Creek original corner, and running S 84 degra E. with Hendrix's line 7.85 chs. thence N. 3 17 chs., thence N. 84 degra W 7.20 chs. to Cedar Creek, thence down and with the Creek to the beginning corner, containing 2 and 1-2 acres more or less, these being Lot Nos. 7 and 8 in the division of the H. B. Saunders lands and allotted to Josephine Sain situated in Farmington township near the village of Smith Grove, for full description of same see Deed Book No. 23, page 452 and 453 in Register of Deeds office of Davie county, N. C.

G. L. WHITE, Mortgagee.
By E. H. Morris, Atty.

Quotation Not in Bible
"God helps those who help themselves." This quotation does not appear in the Bible. It is an old proverb that was first expressed in those words by Algernon Sidney in the Seventeenth century in "Discourses Concerning Government." It is also found in Benjamin Franklin's "Poor Richard's Almanack for 1733," as "God helps him who helps himself," and is later found in the same almanac for 1757, as "God helps them that help themselves." In George Herbert's collection of proverbs entitled Jacula Prudentum, it is found as "Deus thyself, and God will help thee." A similar idea was expressed by Cervantes in "Don Quixote," and by LaFontaine in his fables. Even some of the ancient Greek writers of the Fifth century before the Christian era, hinted at the proverb. In "Persae" Aeschylus wrote: "To the man who himself strives earnestly, God also lends a helping hand."

An Ancient English Law
Up to 1827 in England a man accused of a felony could not be brought to trial without his consent because conviction usually meant not only death and the forfeiture of all his property but lifelong poverty and degradation for his family as well. writes J. M. Hicks, Oakland, Calif., in Cotlier's Weekly. Hence, both the guilty and those who were afraid of an unfair conviction refused trials—and often died by torture inflicted to secure a confession.

Notice To Creditors.

Having qualified as administrator of the estate of Betty E. Hodgson deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against deceased to present the same to the undersigned, duly verified, on or before the 20th day of March, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please call upon the undersigned and make prompt settlement.
J. M. STROUD,
Adm. of Betty E. Hodgson dec'd.
By GRANT & GRANT, Attns.

Machinery Needs Repairs, Storage

Convenient Shop Is Needed and Large Enough for Any Equipment.

By H. E. Beasley, Professor of Agricultural Engineering, Rutgers University.

Many a piece of farm machinery has had an untimely trip to the junk pile because repairs were neglected until it became more practical to buy a new machine than to bother overhauling the old one. Such extravagance can be averted by protecting machinery from the elements and checking every detail annually. But first an implement storage is needed, and a shop provided with heat and large enough to accommodate any of the farm machines is most convenient for this purpose, especially when connected with the storage shed. Repairs may then be made in comfort during cold weather. County agricultural agents have plans for an implement storage shed and shop which are available.

Before placing the machine in storage it should be thoroughly cleaned and any parts which might rust should be covered with oil or grease. Crank case oil applied with a paint brush is effective in preventing rust.

After cleaning, a thorough inspection should be made and all worn or damaged parts listed. It is best to order these parts soon and to put them on when the machine is repaired during the winter. In overhauling the machine, tighten all bolts, straighten bent parts, sharpen all cutting edges, apply a coat of paint, and replace worn and broken parts.

Careless Management Is Costly to the Apiarist

Careless management of bees in winter often costs apiarists half the honey producing value of their colonies.

Colonies which barely manage to survive the winter are so weak they can produce only small quantities of honey in the spring and summer.

Successful wintering depends largely on the condition of the colonies as they enter the winter, says C. L. Sams, North Carolina State college extension apiarist.

The colonies should have good queens, a large number of bees, and abundant stores of honey.

If good queens had been introduced to the colonies in time to start laying, and if the hives had plenty of honey, there will be a strong bee population at the start of the honey flow next spring.

When the honey is taken from the hives for the last time, care should be exercised not to take too much.

Single story colonies should have the combs three-fourths full of honey, and two-story colonies should have the food chambers filled completely.

In case the bees run short of their natural food, feed them a syrup made up of two parts granulated sugar to one part of water.

Each colony should be fed enough to bring the food stores up to 40 or 50 pounds.

For Fattening Steers

Use about 80 lbs. of barley plus 20 lbs. of ground flax seed for fattening steers, advises a writer in the Montreal Herald. Be sure that there are no green flax pods in the flax meal, for they contain prussic acid, and if fed in any amounts are toxic to stock. For a daily allowance, much depends on how fast it is desired to have steers gain. Full feed would be up to 16 pounds of grain mixture daily, together with four or five pounds of hay. A medium allowance would be some eight pounds per day with eight to ten pounds of hay, or other roughage. If linseed oilmeal is used in place of flax, the proportion should be reduced by half, and correspondingly more barley fed. Or better, use 75 lbs. barley, 15 lbs. bran, and 30 lbs. linseed oilmeal for the grain mixture.

Lumpy-Jaw Cattle Meat

Meat from cattle affected with lumpy jaw may be used when the particular part affected is condemned and destroyed. This applies when lumpy jaw is a localized disease, that is, when one part is affected, such as the jaw or the lymph glands adjoining thereto. In this case, the entire part affected should be condemned. If the disease happens to be generalized, and has spread to other organs of the animal, the entire carcass should be condemned. These recommendations follow the rules of the United States Meat Inspection service of the United States Department of Agriculture.—C. P. Fitch, Division of Veterinary Medicine, University Farm, St. Paul.

Soy Beans as Food

In America the soy bean is more generally known as a feed for live stock and in more recent years as a source for oils used in paint making. The next development will most likely come in the use of soy beans as a human food. In China, Japan, and Corea soy beans are more important in the diet than is wheat in this country or rye in Europe. Chemists say soy bean foods can be substituted for meat, milk, eggs and cheese.

May we give you six dollars?

NOT in cash, of course. We're speaking of its equivalent. But here is something for you to consider:

Every year this newspaper brings you at least three outstanding novels in serial form. Purchased as books each would cost not less than $2, making a total expenditure of at least $6 per year.

Like yourself, we could find plenty of uses for that $6. Some member of the family is always in need of a new pair of shoes or some other necessity. But at the same time your requirements for good reading material must be met. By accepting these three novels each year we feel you are treating yourself to real enjoyment, at the same time giving your purse a substantial boost.

These novels are a source of constant pride to us. Every year we select them from the season's most outstanding best sellers, offered in serial form by a large newspaper syndicate organization. We'd like to feel that you—as a subscriber—always look forward to reading the coming installment in the next issue. It gives us a great satisfaction to know that here is another reason why our paper is popular in the home.

You are invited to begin reading our novels now. These regular brief clubs to fictionland will prove a delightful interlude from your work-day activities. And it will make you happy to know that you are getting enjoyment from them.

When you finish reading your copy of The Record, hand it to a neighbor and ask him to send in his subscription.

Mountain Beaver Moves Slowly
The American mountain beaver moves so slowly that a child can catch it.

Tahiti Tides Follow the Sun
Tides at Tahiti follow the sun instead of the moon, high at noon and low at midnight.

Executor's Notice.
Having qualified as executor of the estate of Mrs. Lula McCulloch, late of Davie county, North Carolina, notice is hereby given all persons holding claims against the said estate to present them to the undersigned on or before the 10th day of January, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate, will please make immediate payment. This Feb. 10th, 1937.
O. G. ALLEN, Exr.
Mrs. Lula McCulloch, Dec'd.
412 N. Spruce St.
Winston Salem, N. C.

DR. R. P. ANDERSON
DENTIST
Anderson Building
Mocksville, N. C.
Office 50 - Phone - Residence 37

666
checks COLD and FEVER first day
LIQUID, TABLETS, SALVE, NOSE DROPS
Headache 30 minutes
Try "Rub-My-Tiss"—World's Best Liniment

Administrator's Notice!
Having qualified as administrator of the late Miss Margaret Myers, of Shady Grove township, Davie county, notice is hereby given all persons having claims against the said estate, to present them to the undersigned on or before Jan. 12, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make immediate payment. This Jan. 12, 1937.
G. B. MYERS, Adm.
Miss Margaret Myers, Dec'd

BEST IN RADIOS
YOUNG RADIO CO.
MOCKSVILLE, N. C.
BEST IN SUPPLIES

LIST YOUR PROPERTY Give In Your Poll NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

That the listakers for the various townships of Davie County will sit at the various listing places during the month of April, at which places and in which month all property owners and tax payers in said townships are required to return to the Listakers for taxation, for the year 1937 all the Real Estate, Personal Property, etc., which each one shall on the first day of April, or shall be required to give in then. All male persons between the ages of 21 and 50 years are to list their polls during the same time. Return of Property and giving in of polls are required under the pains and penalties imposed by law.

Person's who shall have been exempted from the payment of poll tax will, when they come to list, be required to exhibit a certificate of the Commissioners. Those who have, through mistake surrender, lost, or have mislaid their certificates of exemption, should make application for other exemptions at the April or May meeting of the board. This certificate of exemption is to be kept by the person exempted. When you come to list ask the undersigned to show you list of exempted.

All persons who are liable for poll tax, and fail to give themselves in, and all own property and fail to list it will be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, fined or imprisoned.

Blanks upon which a verified statement of property is to be made by each taxpayer can be had of the undersigned. Fill in these blanks and see to it that statements be free from error, thereby obviating much trouble. Only female and non-residence of township and persons physically unable to attend and file their list can appoint agents to list property.

A failure to list will subject you to DOUBLE TAX.
Examine your list before signing.
It is also required that you make a crop report at the time of listing. Don't fail to do this.

D. R. STROUD,
Tax Supervisor.

WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY

ON YOUR ENVELOPES, LETTER HEADS, STATEMENTS, PACKET HEADS, CARDS, CIRCULARS BILL HEADS, ETC. GET OUR PRICES FIRST.

THE DAVIE RECORD

If you want a 1937 Blum's Almanac free, you had better subscribe or renew your subscription soon.

The Davie Record.

"HERE SHALL THE PRESS, THE PEOPLE'S RIGHTS MAINTAIN, UNAWAYED BY INFLUENCE AND UNBRIBED BY GAIN."

VOLUME XXXVIII.

MOCKSVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14, 1937.

NUMBER 36

NEWS OF LONG AGO.

What Was Happening in Davie Before The New Deal Used Up The Alphabet, Drowned The Hogs and Plowed Up The Cotton and Corn.

(Davie Record, April 9, 1913)
 C. A. Hartman, of Farmington, returned Friday from a trip to Arkansas.
 Rev. C. S. Cashwell, of Statesville, spent one day last week in town.
 Mrs. B. F. Hooper spent Friday in Charlotte shopping.
 Mrs. D. A. Parnell spent last week with relatives at Spencer.
 Mrs. T. A. Stone, of Atlanta, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Philip Hanes.
 J. C. Rinner has moved his family to Enola, where he will engage in farming.
 Miss Mary Sanford returned Thursday from a visit to her brothers at Chattanooga.
 Mrs. M. L. Lowery, of County Line, spent several days last week in Winston with her daughter, Mrs. Will Beard.
 Miss Rebecca Rollins left Thursday for Flat Rock, where she will teach for two months.
 Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Stonestreet are spending a few days with relatives at Kannapolis.
 G. E. Horn and J. F. Ratledge purchased the German coach horse which was sold at auction last week. The price paid was $533.
 T. E. Odom has sold his five and ten cent stock of goods to Walker's Bargain House.
 Chief-of-police C. G. Woodruff handed in his resignation last week, and W. A. Truelove was appointed police Wednesday.
 E. L. Davis, of R. 4, who has been spending the winter in Florida, arrived home last week.
 Ray Clement, of Asheville, a Southern Railway engineer, spent a day or two in town last week.
 L. A. Hendricks moved his family last week from Mocksville to Fork Church, where he will engage in farming.
 The Baraca-Philathea State Convention meets in Charlotte Saturday. The following delegates from Mocksville will attend: T. E. Odom, Jacob Stewart, Maxie Brown, Frank Stroud and Miss Edna Stewart.
 Mrs. Mary Smith, of Kappa, died Thursday and was buried at Salem church Saturday. A husband and several brothers survive.
 Mrs. John Carner, 66, died at her home in Rowan county last Tuesday. The husband and eight children survive.
 The members of the Epworth League were delightfully entertained Friday night at the home of Mrs. S. M. Call. About 30 were present. Delicious refreshments were served, and delightful music and games were enjoyed.
 Spencer McDaniel, of Virginia, is visiting relatives in the Dulin section.
 O. G. Hutchens and Charles Allen, of Cleveland, were in town in town last week attending court.
 J. F. C. Baitv, of Greensboro, was in town last week on business.
 C. B. Leonard, who went west a few weeks ago, has got as far back as Statesville.
 There will be an election in Mocksville next month. A mayor, five aldermen and two school trustees are to be elected.
 Five thousand people attended the funeral of Floyd and Claude Allen, at Hillsville, Va., March 30th. These men paid with their lives for shooting up the court at Hillsville and killing several court officers.

The Record is only $1.

A Democrat Says.

The State Democratic Executive Committee, in session some few months ago, decided to advocate certain election reforms in North Carolina.

A committee was appointed to draft some of those proposed reforms into bills and the bills were duly presented to the North Carolina General Assembly while it was in session here.

The committee knew that there has been plenty of fraud at our primaries and elections. They knew that persons were improperly coercing voters at the polls and the wrongful use of absentee ballots was prevalent in many sections of the State.

So they sought to remedy conditions.

All of the bills introduced in the legislature—with the exception of one which regulated the hours for voting—were defeated by large margins.

When a certain one of the measures came up for discussion, a member of the House of Representatives, rose to his feet and said: "If you pass this bill, it will mean that there will be seventeen less Democrats in the General Assembly two years from now."

In other words, it all amounts to this:

In some counties of North Carolina, it is necessary to engage in crooked politics in order to carry those counties. If restrictions were placed on markers, on absentee ballots and on other matters of that nature, the outcome of primaries and elections in some instances might be drastically altered.

That's all there is to it, and that's why election reforms are frowned upon by so many leading politicians of the State. Primaries and elections must be carried. Carry them honestly, if possible, but if you can't, then resort to underhanded methods rather than submit to defeat.—The State.

Newspapers Oppose Court 'Reform' Plan.

Poll of 5676 rural newspapers by the Publisher's Auxiliary on the president's plan to change the Supreme court, shows a majority of practically three to one against the proposition. In Tennessee the vote was close, 30 favoring the proposal and 35 voting against it. In looking over the list of states it is found that editors in only three states favored the proposal. Arkansas' vote was 32 for and 31 against; in Louisiana the vote was 25 for, and 19 against, and Delaware voted 4 to 3 against. In Arizona the vote was a tie, 7 and 7. The poll was made to ascertain the opinions of publishers of small town papers throughout the nation. In the Midwest, while the proposition was voted down by a big majority, some of the states showed a closer margin. Total circulations of the papers polled was placed at 35,000,000.

A breakdown of the results of the poll by states showed editors of 45 states opposed to the president's proposal and editors of just three states for it. Editors of all states were opposed, in the majority, to amending the constitution.

The total vote on each question falls a little short of the grand total of cards returned in the poll. This is explained by the failure of some indicating a preference only with regard to the president's plan, only with regard to any proposed amendment.

The poll was conducted by The Publisher's Auxiliary to create an interesting news feature for its own columns by revealing to editors everywhere the attitude of their fellow editors on the president's court plan and the alternative of an amendment to the constitution.

Scotch Fought English
 The battle of Neville's Cross was fought between the Scotch and English in 1346 during the Hundred Years' war.

Governing From Raleigh

The legislature for reasons that are obvious, put the kids under every effort, that would take from the law makers the privilege of governing their local communities from Raleigh through the passage of half baked and often unwanted local bills. When the pressure bore down upon them, however, they hid behind that old familiar program of authorizing a commission "to study the matter and report" to the next General Assembly. And there is the graveyard where it is expected to rest.

But there is indication that North Carolina municipalities and county units means to organize an intensive campaign for "home rule" by putting pressure on the 1939 legislature to take steps to do something about it. And well it might.

More than half the bills introduced and even higher percentage of measure enacted by the legislature just adjourned are local measures, practically all of which are more properly subjects for local action than for Raleigh legislation. Of the 1,804 bills introduced, 1,059 were local, giving a composite percentage of 58.1 in all.

On its face it would seem that the legislature would welcome the opportunity to confine their efforts to State-wide legislation instead of piddling with local measures, but apparently they don't. The trouble is that so many of them go to Raleigh more interested in putting something over on the folks back home, than in matters that pertain to the welfare of the State as a whole. And a breakdown of those more than a thousand local bills probably would show a large percent of them "sneak" measures that are in direct conflict with local sentiment.

It is just another manner of saying "damn the people," after the representative has been commissioned to represent.

The municipalities are banding together in a plan that would provide an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the legislature from legislating on purely local matters. But that will have a long and perilous journey, judging by the state of mind of the present law making body.—Statesville Daily.

An Essay on Umbrellas.

An umbrella is a circulating medium which passes from hand to hand like money.

The object of an umbrella is to keep the rain off of the wearer's hat and deposit it on his shoulders.

An umbrella's rib is its most vital point. A man may break a rib, or even have it shot in two by an anarchist, and still live to be defeated for president. But when an umbrella breaks a rib, it is good only to lend to a personal friend.

When a wet umbrella is brought into the house, it is usually closed up and set in a corner to drain. For the purpose of wetting the floor that is thought to be more artistic than cutting a hole in the roof.

An infant umbrella is called a parasol, and it is used by ladies to keep their drug-store complexion from getting sun burnt.

The umbrella is the bashful lover's best friend, as it gives him an excuse to approach his best girl and offer his services in carrying it. It also furnishes useful employment for his hands, which would otherwise be in the way.—Exchange.

Cleopatra's Needle
 Cleopatra's Needle, the most ancient monument in London, was cut out of solid stone 1,500 years before Cleopatra was born. The obelisk is 68 feet in height and weighs 180 tons. The huge stone was found lying overthrown in Alexandria in the Nineteenth century. It was hewn from the quarries of Assuan, far up the River Nile.

Broken.

Charles G. Hamilton
 Human life is full of broken things. One of childhood's first experiences is that of the first broken toy. James Whitcomb Riley said all the tragedy of human life is a little girl's broken doll. Remember the first toy you broke—and how it seemed nothing could ever make up for it? Broken dishes and relics and heirlooms—what a world of tragedy within trifles! Broken promises, which are relied on, broken engagements and visits—and the bitterness of disappointment. Broken hopes—and disillusionment. Broken health comes to many of us. Mere Marie de la Providence, during the siege of Paris, utterly absorbed in God and nursing the sick, remarking: Let us feel that eternity is begun; whatever pain we are going through—let us make joy of that thought—this is exceptional. How easily things are broken. How hard to mend. And even mended they never seem the same. Many of us have known a broken heart. And no, medicine seems for the while to avail.

God uses broken things. The broken bread was twice gathered after the feeding of the multitude. Nothing is lost in the universe; everything may change its appearance, but science postulates a continual conservation of matter and energy. Somethings are never used until they are broken. An old proverb says "Bread corn is bruised"—only the broken grain becomes food. The five loaves had to be broken to be of value to the hungry thousands. The sweetness of lives is only revealed in their breaking. Bruised herbs are the sweetest. Like the alabaster box of Mary's, the sweetness may be unperceived till broken. The proud pastor of St. Andrews became the calm saint of Ruherford's Letters whose life having been broken, could write "All our suffering is not worth the first night welcome home to heaven." Broken things serve to express devotion. As the alabaster box. As the Scottish lassie whose arm was broken barring the door that the Prince might escape. As "This is my body, which is broken for you" As the broken heart upon the cross of Calvary.

Christianity is the religion of the broken heart. Until your heart is smitten and broken and shattered, you will not understand very deeply the heart of the eternal. Until grief and sorrow invade your paths, until love and death meet and break your soul and bow your spirit, and will not penetrate the meaning of the cross or the life eternal. Until your will is broken in submission to the Eternal, your life will never bloom into fullness of joy.

Abraham breaks his will in regard to Ishmael and is the father of the faithful. Hagar, with her plans broken, finds recompense. Joseph bitterly recalls his dreams while he is in Pharaoh's dungeons, yet he saves his family. Moses seeks to rescue his people and is forced to flee, but in the years of the desert is forged the will that redeems his people. Joshua wastes forty years of his life because the cowardly multitude will not follow him, yet he becomes the leader who conquers the Promised Land. Naomi wishes to change her name to "bitterness" because life has been broken bitterly for her, but through Ruth new happiness arises. Gideon is taken from quietness and with broken will as well as broken pitchers puts to flight the hosts of Midian. Esther has her whole purpose changed and her race. Isaiah builds his life around his cousin, the great king Uzziah. Uzziah dies and all of Isaiah's youthful plans and hopes are broken; yet from them comes his call and visions—"In the year that king Uzziah died I saw the Lord." Jeremiah has his life broken but his words bring immortal solace. Daniel broken into a strange land, achieves honors there. Hosea from the tragedy of an unfaithful wife learns by heart the forgiving love of God. Amos has his life broken but his eternal demands for justice echo today and ever. Jonah is rebuked for narrow selfishness and leaves a lasting record of the kindness of Aliens On Relief In United States.

Some time ago this item appeared in the Congressional Record:

"According to the 1930 census there are 14,204,149 foreign-born in the United States of whom 6,284,613 were aliens who had failed to make the slightest gesture toward becoming citizens. During the past ten years of quota law restriction, during which the world has undergone the most serious economic depression in its history, 3,687,547 aliens have entered the United States—at least one out of every eight persons on relief in this country is an alien."

The figures quoted are sufficiently startling to cause serious food thought on the part of every American. Fortunately the relief figures have been revised downward during the past year. Yet the relief problem is still one of the more serious in the nation and the aliens on relief continue to form a big portion of the total. It is even intimated in some quarters that national relief promises to become a permanent thing in America.

This brings the natural question:

"Why are these aliens who are in the country unlawfully permitted to remain here, especially when they are on relief and unable to find a job? They violated the law in coming here in the first place and there is of course little chance that they will ever become American citizens. Some have been apprehended in illegal acts and have been deported but the greater part of them are in the United States. Worst of all, there seem to be important interests here who are seeking to delay their deportation to the lands whence they came illegally. Perhaps it might be just as well to investigate why there seems to be this disposition to evade the law and to clear the relief rolls of many dependants who ought not to be there. European nations like England and France do not permit any alien to remain within their borders so long as there are citizens unemployed. And an alien who had entered the country unlawfully would be shipped home as soon as he was apprehended. Why should Uncle Sam be made the dumping ground for undesirables at a time when he has all he can do to take care of native dependants?"

The natural demand for economy and lessening of national expenditure at this time ought to bring this question to the front.—Ex.

God toward all peoples. Saul, his plans to achieve eminence in the Jewish religion broken, becomes the master apostle of the Christian centuries. Break your stubborn, proud will and receive God! Surrender your life to Him! And your broken life and heart will glow with new glory and unending fullness of joy. But broken pitchers bearing light. Yet Gideon's host triumphant sang.

And through the stillness of the camp
 Their shout of victory rang.

A shipwreck and but broken spars
 All tossed upon an angry main.
 Yet one of these enabled Paul
 Melita's coast to gain.

A broken body on a cross,
 A wound whence blood and water flow.

That every fettered child of sin
 Might full deliverance know.

And in that feast of memory,
 The broken bread, the poured out wine.

In silent manner tell to us
 The love Divine.

How dear to God are broken things;
 What power in His hand they gain;
 Then trust Him with your broken hopes.

And bodies racked with pain,
 Your broken hearts and broken wills,
 And Christ shall make all whole again.

Ballot Box Thieves.

Kansas City - Ninety persons have been indicted and 19 convicted on charges of vote fraud in Kansas City and the Federal grand jury still is in session.

Last December Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves called a jury and charged it with investigating alleged irregularities in the last November general election. He admonished:

"Gentlemen, reach for all, even if you find them in high places. We can't surrender the ballot boxes to hogs, gangsters, and plugulias."

Recently Judge Reeves looked down in six persons he had just sentenced on the fourth of the conspiracy trials and said:

"My, how rights were tossed about that day as if they were nothing. . . . Votes dripping with corruption and fraud." He was referring to a precinct polling place.

Among those indicted on charges of conspiring to disenfranchise voters were precinct election officials, both Republican and Democrats, and party workers.

During the four trials government witnesses, including seven of the eight women precinct officials who pleaded no defense, told of "ghost" voting, threats, the arbitrary fixing of the vote count; ballot box stuffing and the erasing of x marks on Republican ballots.

It was the government's contention that in the four precincts, 385 voters had been disfranchised in voting for President and vice president and that 380 had been deprived of their rights in voting for congressmen.

Against the government's testimony, presented by Maurice M. Milligan, United States district attorney and his staff, defense attorneys admitted that while there might have been "ghost voting" and ballot box stuffing, these were violations of state laws. They contended the government had failed to show that defendants conspired to commit those offenses.

Mrs. Maurice Nelson was on duty as a Republican judge in a barber shop which served as a polling place on election day.

During the day, she testified, she saw two defendants, George Neeper and Frank Ditsch, Jr., Democratic precinct captains, remove the ballot box to the basement.

Just before the poll closed, she said, Neeper told her the count would be 501 for the Democratic candidates and 31 for the Republicans.

John Nelson, her husband, said when he came to vote he asked Neeper how he felt.

"He said 'I'm pretty tired,'" Nelson recounted. "He said some of the Republicans had marked their ballots so hard you can hardly rub them out."

It was in that precinct that Charles A. Appel, handwriting expert for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said he found 116 forged ballots.

Of those, he said, 113 showed the cross marks under the Republican emblem had been erased and an X mark placed in the Democratic circle.

Neeper was precinct captain for the "goat" faction of the party, the faction headed by T. J. Pendergast, the city Democratic leader. Ditsch was precinct captain for the "rabbits," the faction headed by Joseph B. Shannon, representative in Congress.

Mrs. Chloe Albright, a Republican judge, testified that on election day a Democratic judge told her: "You know we are not going to count those ballots. It would take too much time." Mrs. Nelia Johnson, a Republican judge in another precinct testified the Democratic precinct captain had told her the ballots would not be counted, adding, "We will give you Republicans 35 and we will take the rest."

Thomas H. Cummins, a husky precinct captain, testified he complained to Gilbert Stevens, a Democratic precinct captain, regarding alleged irregularities.

He said Stevens told him it would do no good to complain to the board of election commissioners "because they were all in cahoots."

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Spanish War Bringing Italy, France and Great Britain Into Conflict—Lewis Ends Chrysler Sitdown Strike—Martin Warns Henry Ford.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
© Western Newspaper Union.

SPAIN'S civil war is becoming to a great extent a war between Italy and France fought on Spanish soil, and both those nations are exasperated and enraged, while Great Britain anxiously strives to avert an open breach. Italy, too, is now furious against the British because English newspapers taunted her with the fact that Italian volunteers were defeated by French volunteers in recent victories won by the loyalists northeast of Madrid. Count Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador to London, told the subcommittee of the international committee on non-intervention that he would not discuss the withdrawal of foreign volunteers from Spain and that not a single Italian fighting in the Spanish war would be ordered home until the conflict ended.

France's response was quick and startling. Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos proposed to British Ambassador Sir George Clerk that France and Britain assume a naval blockade of Spain to keep Italian troops from landing to join the fascists. The British and French governments thereupon agreed, with full knowledge of other European powers within the non-intervention committee, on "all points" of a program to make non-intervention completely effective and decided it was imperative to prevent, even by force, any further Italian landings. No decision was reached to send warships at once for this purpose.

In Rome the belief was expressed that if France appealed to the League of Nations against alleged dispatch of Italian troops to Spain, Europe would come near to war. A spokesman for the government angrily repeated the official denial that Italy had sent any volunteers to Spain since February 20, when the international agreement for non-intervention was reached.

The indignant outburst by Grandi followed closely on a speech which Premier Mussolini delivered in Rome. Alluding to the League of Nations' sanctions against Italy during the Ethiopian war, of which England was the chief promoter, Il Duce shouted:

"It has been said that the Italian people forget easily. Error! Error! On the contrary, the Italian people have a tenacious memory and know how to bide their time. We waited 40 years to avenge Adowa, but we succeeded."

Mussolini had just returned from a visit to Libya, Italy's North Africa colony, and on that trip he made a patent bid for Italian leadership of the Moslem world. This, and his intention to build a naval base on the Red sea which would challenge British control of the Indian ocean are irritating Great Britain, which is not yet ready to check Mussolini by a display of armed force. She will be ready, however, before very long, for she is expending vast sums on her fleets and naval establishments.

Germany is not taking active part in these international spats just now, but is awaiting developments. Hitler is absorbed in his domestic difficulties and the threatened break with the Vatican.

DR. HANS LUTHER is soon to be replaced as German ambassador to Washington by Dr. Hans Heinrich Dieckhoff, a veteran diplomat who is now secretary of state for foreign affairs. He was counselor of the embassy in Washington from 1922 to 1926 and has been a staunch friend of Americans. Dieckhoff is described as belonging to the "Ribbentrop group" in German affairs, and is a brother-in-law of Joachim von Ribbentrop, German ambassador to London.

UNDER the persuasion of Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan, John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., and Walter P. Chrysler, chairman of the Chrysler motor corporation, were brought together in more or less peaceful conference at the state capitol in Lansing. The immediate result was an agreement that the sit-down strikers should evacuate the eight Chrysler plants in Detroit, and that the corporation should not resume production during the period of negotiations. Six thousand strikers had held possession of the plants since March 8 in defiance of court orders and the governor, as in the case of the General Motors strike, had been extremely reluctant to authorize forceful methods of enforcing the law. He had, however, insisted that the men must obey the law and court orders, and the concession by Lewis was a victory for the governor, as well as for the corporation which had declared it would not negotiate while the men held its plants. Mr. Chrysler also has asserted the company would not enter into any agreement recognizing any one group as sole bargaining agency for all employees.

It seems likely that this Michigan case will put an end to the epidemic of sit-down strikes. Most of the smaller strikes in the Detroit area have been settled, and in Chicago and elsewhere vigorous action by the authorities has brought sit-downers to their senses.

President Roosevelt had steadily refused to take a public stand concerning this new weapon adopted especially by the Lewis labor group, but finally yielded to the pleas of his lieutenants so far as to agree to hold a conference on the matter on his return to Washington from Warm Springs. Secretary of Labor Perkins has shown a partiality for the sit-down strike, and various New Dealers have defended it; but others in the administration, like Secretary of Commerce Roper, have condemned it. And in the senate and the house it has been attacked by Democrats and Republicans alike.

IN THE big mass meeting of workers held in Detroit, Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers, addressed himself to Henry Ford, saying: "Henry, you can't stop the labor movement. You can't keep your workers from joining the labor movement even if you have a 'fink' (company sympathizer) at every other post in your factory. The best thing for you to do, Henry, is to get ready to do business with your organized workers."

Mr. Ford is on record as saying that his company will continue to make cars as long as a single man will continue to work for it; and in reply to Martin's threat, Harry Bennett, Ford chief of personnel, says:

"What Martin calls 'organized labor' is not going to run the Ford Motor company. For every man in this (the Ford Rouge plant) that might decide he wants to follow Martin and take part in a sit-down strike there are at least five who want their job and don't want a strike."

The Rouge plant employs 87,000 men. The minimum wage is $6 a day, or 75 cents an hour for the eight hour working day. The plant operates five days a week, with the exception of the blast furnaces which must be kept going seven days a week.

AMELIA EARHART'S globe-circling flight ended, for the present, at Honolulu when she cracked up her $80,000 "laboratory plane" at the take-off for Howland island. By quick thinking and action she saved her life and those of Capt. Harry Manning and Fred J. Noonan, her navigators, but the plane was so badly damaged that it had to be shipped back to the Los Angeles factory for repairs.

The daring aviator sailed immediately for San Francisco, asserting that she would resume the flight as soon as possible.

As the big plane rushed down the runway for the take-off it swayed badly, the right tire burst and the ship went out of control. The left undercarriage buckled and the left wing slashed into the ground. The ship then spun to the right, crashed down on its right wing, and the right motor snapped off the right wheel. Miss Earhart quickly cut the ignition switches, so there was no fire, and no one was injured.

What Irvin S. Cobb Thinks about

"Benefit" Promises.

SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—Maybe "benefits" are being overdone—indeed, some are rackets wearing the mask of charity—but even so, if a good trouper has promised to show up, you'd think he would prove he's a good trouper by showing up.

There have been cases out here when there were listed enough notables to make a whole constellation of stars, but what resulted was a milky way of amateurs and unknowns.

Those last-minute alibis for non-appearance are not always true ones. The real facts may be:

A night club cut-up has been unexpectedly taken sober and so isn't funny.

A darling of the screen thinks he did enough when he allowed the use of his name, so he spends the evening congenially posing for profile photographs.

An actor is busy trying to decide whether he'll sell his yacht and buy a racing stable or sell his racing stable and buy a yacht.

An actress suddenly remembers she has an engagement over the Arizona line to be married some more.

Staying at home to post up the diary used to be an excuse, but dairy-keeping is now out—oh, absolutely!

Talking Fish.
PROF. ISAAC GINSBURG of the United States bureau of fisheries solemnly vows he has heard those tiny aquatic creatures known as seahorses communicating with one another by speech and he suspects other species do the same thing.

Undoubtedly so. I can confirm this discovery by a story Drury Underwood used to repeat. Drury said a gentleman ordered whitefish in a Chicago restaurant. When the portion arrived the patron sniffed at it and then, in a confidential undertone, began talking, seemingly to himself.

The waiter ranged up. "Anything wrong, sir?" he inquired.

"Oh, no," said the patron, "I was just talking to the fish."

"Talking?"

"Certainly. I said to him: 'Well, how're tricks out in Lake Michigan?'" And he said: "I wouldn't know. It's been so long since I left there I can't remember anything about it."

The Race to Arms.
ITALY sees Britain's bet of $7,500,000,000 to be spent on war defense during the next five years, and raises it by decreasing militarization of all classes between the ages of eighteen and fifty-five, which means a trained fighting force of 8,000,000 ready for immediate mobilization, adding as a side wager the promise of "total sacrifice," if required, of civil necessities... for attainment of maximum... military needs.

This means, of course, that France and Germany and Russia must chip in with taller stacks than before, and thus the merry game goes on until some nation, in desperation, calls some other nation's bluff and all go down together in a welter of blood and bankruptcy and stark brutality.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted by William Bruckart

Washington.—Immediately after the armistice in 1918, the country was suddenly awakened to the fact that living costs were extraordinarily high. It was a condition that struck close home to everyone. It was a condition that developed an unusual emotion. There followed, naturally, a wave that engulfed hundreds of thousands of people who felt that they were being subjected to high prices that were unjustified.

Most people will remember how "H. C. L." became an expression as common and one that figured in as many puns and jokes and wise cracks as the alphabetical agencies common now to the New Deal. It was a type of propaganda that came along spontaneously because the condition affected so many people.

The reason I have recalled that circumstance is because we are again headed straight into another era of "H. C. L." We have not reached the top of living costs by any means. It takes more than a fortune teller or crystal gazer to predict what is going to happen in the way of increased commodity prices. Suffice it to say, however, that a "vicious cycle" has started whirling and in the midst of the situation stands a very confused consumer, representative of all of the people in the United States.

There undoubtedly will be an increase in the propaganda concerning living costs again. Indeed, there already is a rather far-flung propaganda, which results from the increased cost of living but it is directed rather on a slant and not pointed accurately into the heart of the condition now confronting us.

Undoubtedly a great many people have not thought of the frequent and recurring attacks on business and business practices as having anything to do with the increased living costs. But the truth is that this type of propaganda springs directly from the sporadic cries that are coming from many localities about the higher prices—complaints that the dollar does not go very far in buying food across the grocery counter.

It seems to me that it is time for some calm thinking about this situation. It seems to me further that public officials everywhere ought to be honest enough to analyze the situation and tell the public what the real causes are. If this is not done, there again will be undoubtedly a perfect deluge of propaganda in protest against high living costs and the bulk of the people who suffer from these increased costs will not know the reason any more than they understood the reasons that brought about a counterpart of the present outlook back in 1918 and 1919.

In any examination of an economic condition, one must dig considerably below the surface to find the factors that have operated to bring about the results visible to the eye. Such is certainly the case in the present situation. One can not fairly say that the present booming prices in food have just happened. In truth, things never happen; they are brought about. They have been brought about in the present circumstance by factors that date back to 1933 and include numerous governmental policies that have been initiated since that time.

The trained economist will describe present conditions as due to inflation—which indeed they are. But inflation is such an all-inclusive term that the real story lies hidden. In an effort to spur and encourage production and aid recovery, President Roosevelt devalued the dollar. He reduced its gold value.

During 1933 and 1934 there came numerous pieces of legislation including the NRA and the AAA, each designed to foster increased prices and to build up the level of wages for industrial workers.

Subsequently, President Roosevelt sponsored legislation which had as its end and aim federal control of wages for workers. This legislation sought to give the federal government power to force business interests to recognize labor unions and to accept labor union scales of pay—all to the end that labor should be paid a greater percentage of the returns received by business.

There came also legislation designed to increase the price of silver and the United States Treasury was directed by this law to buy millions of ounces of silver and to use that silver in our currency. In the meantime and recurring almost constantly the New Deal administration, from President Roosevelt on down, maintained a barrage of attacks on business interests seeking wider employment of labor at increased wages. Coupled with these attacks was violent criticism of banks and bankers. They were charged with being an obstacle to recovery because they were not lending money. It did not matter to the critics that no one wanted to

My Favorite Recipe

Chickens Stew
Divide a chicken, stew until tender, and remove to hot platter. To the stock add one-half cupful of rice and dumplings made as follows:

Beat one egg, add one-half cupful of flour, pinch of salt, and sufficient water to make a thin batter; drop by spoonfuls into the stock and cook about ten minutes. If rice is uncooked it should be boiled twenty minutes before dumplings are added.

Family Racket

For the past 99 years, a unique racket has been in operation, first by the father and now by the son, on the river Nile near Luxor, Egypt. As each ship has passed "their point," they have rowed out and asked for a toll on the basis that, through their psychic powers, they could either help or hinder a vessel on the remainder of its journey. In the beginning, ship captains paid through fear. Now they do it through custom.—Collier's Weekly.

Triumph of Principles
Nothing can bring you peace but yourself. Nothing can bring you peace but the triumph of principles.—Emerson.

A Good Laxative

The bad feelings and dullness often attending constipation take the joy out of life. Try a dose of Black-Draught at the first sign of constipation and see how much better it is to check the trouble before it gets a hold on you. Black-Draught is purely vegetable and is so prompt and reliable. Get refreshing relief from constipation by taking purely vegetable

BLACK-DRAUGHT

Injuring Friendship
He takes the greatest ornament from friendship, who takes modesty from it.—Cicero.

A FAMOUS DOCTOR

AS a young man the late Dr. E. V. Pierce gave the world a very definite impression that shorter hours do not constitute a solution for our present problem.

Govern Your Thoughts
'Tis in thy power to think as thou wilt.—Walter Pater.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes fail in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

 S D  Mov *****

JUST AS M... manage... try are p... Bank night... the custom... radio spons... on a w... tain legal... pects of t... ironed out... nitely ann... plans call... of one tho... listener ho... ber. Num... on the pa... sponsor's... will mail t... studio, an... will be he... winner.

Hollywood flattered their performer highest sal... it appears t... West, Mark... and Garbo ar... working com... Gracie Fiel... is England's... Century-Fo... not let the... studios ge... with a mon... thing, so th... under cont... tures in H... pictures sh... have been... them Miss... shire dialect... Czechoslov... can make... will deliver... plain Engli...

From N... Gloria Swa... parties ce... too-long re... when Mel... nounced re... star in "M... appears th... little pren... Gloria nor... with the s... all up in th...

The mos... picture ev... comes from... be seen in... country. I... ing" a Un... old Shuste... wood to t... Fonda play... Cormack, c... adored wh... graph, rad... in it. As... they have... ure auther... of the Em...

Sylvia S... award for... scout. So... nelley told... go to play... she said t... to play the... a girl nam... very smar... was sure... derful if g... didn't w... send for... her and s...

Eleanor... an alum... Ginger Ro... Eleanor h... her hand... her ankle... for a few... can go in... "Broadwa...

ODDS A... thinks the... look alike... . . . Mir... late John... rating it i... set off her... has no tu... Jack Benn... play "The... friends... girls in H... of Flavie... Madleine... is so uncl... swank of... muting to...

Favorite

By Irene Rich Film Actress

Stew until ten hot platter. To half cupful of made as fol one-half cup of salt, and take a thin bat- nuls into the at ten minutes. it should be nutes before ed.

cket ears, a unique in operation, and now by the ip near Luxor, ip has passed y have rowed a toll on the their psychic either help or the remainder the beginning, through fear, ough custom.

ASE" If cold night our chest with g, soothing Pen- bedtime. Helps break up conges- aromatic repos- en up stuffy nasal. Sold every where inciples you peace bu can bring you oph of princi axative and dullness and fatigue take Try a dose of the first sign of how much bet- row before you. Black- gettable and is able. Get rest- consumption by endship test ornament no takes mod- DOCTOR a young man the Dr. E. V. Frazar medicine in Pa. moving to Buffalo, to the drug (Nearly 70 years Dr. Frazar's Faw- cation. Women suffer from "nerv- ility and discom- mental disturbance stimulates the ap- press the intake of food. They cost $1.50.

ETRO

AUGHT

Thoughts r to think as ater.

OGS CK LEAF 40" Dogs Away from rears, Strubette. the 146 Transpental for Gallon of Spray.

LARGE SIZE $1.20

for Rheumat- ics, Sprains, Blood Hood Rich and Vigor. Why suffer? USE STORES 14-37

our neys!

ase the Blood body Wasto constantly filtering blood stream. But in their work—de- fended—fall to re- if retained, may up the whole nagging headache, swelling, puffiness, feeling of nervous- ness and strength. or bladder disor- ders, constipation, doubt that promp- than neglect. You have been winning than forty years. 146 Transpental. grateful people the ne neighbors!

PILLS

STAR DUST Movie Radio

By VIRGINIA VALE

JUST as motion picture theater managers all over the country are planning to abandon Bank night and lamenting that the custom ever was started, a radio sponsor is said to be figuring on a way to adopt it. Cer- tain legal, or rather illegal, as- pects of the case have to be ironed out before it can be de- finitely announced, but present plans call for the weekly award of one thousand dollars to some listener holding the lucky num- ber. Numbers will be printed on the package containing the sponsor's product, purchasers will mail them to the broadcast studio, and there the drawing will be held which selects the winner.

Hollywood studios have always flattered themselves that they paid their performers the highest salaries in the world, but now it appears that Mae West, Marlene Dietrich, and Greta Garbo are just poor working girls in comparison to Gracie Fields, who is England's favor- ite star. Twentieth Century-Fox could not let the British studios get away with a monopoly on the best of any- thing, so they have put Miss Fields under contract to make four pic- tures in Hollywood. None of the pictures she has made in England have been shown here, because in them Miss Fields spoke the Lanca- shire dialect which might as well be Czech-Slovakian for all Americans can make of it. Over here she will deliver her lines and songs in plain English.

Marlene Dietrich

From New York to Hollywood Gloria Swanson's loyal friends gave parties celebrating the end of her too-long retirement from the screen, when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer announced recently that she was to star in "Maise Kenyon." Now it appears that the celebrating was a little premature, because neither Gloria nor the studio is satisfied with the story, and her plans are all up in the air again.

The most exciting and beautiful picture ever made in Technicolor comes from England and will soon be seen in theaters throughout the country. It is "Wings of the Morning" a United Artists picture. Harold Shuster went over from Holly- wood to direct it, our own Henry Fonda plays the lead, and John McCormack, the Irish tenor who is adored wherever there is a phono- graph, radio, or concert hall sings in it. As if that weren't enough, they have tossed in for good meas- ure authentic views of the running of the English Derby.

Sylvia Sidney gets the week's award for being the best talent scout. Some time ago Marc Con- nelly told her about a play he was going to produce in New York and she said that she knew just the girl to play the lead in it. She had seen a girl named Katherine Locke in a very small part in a play and she was sure Miss Locke would be won- derful if given a real chance. Sylvia didn't wait for Mr. Connelly to send for Miss Locke. She located her and she got the part.

Eleanor Powell would like to form an alumni association of her old dancing school, but all the people who are eligible for membership in Holly- wood are much too busy making pictures to be bothered with attending meetings. There is Ginger Rogers, Buddy Ebsen, Ruby Keeler, and Miriam Hopkins — and they are among the bus- iest people out here. Eleanor herself has a little time on her hands only because she turned her ankle and has to stay at home for a few days to rest before she can go into a strenuous number for "Broadway Melody."

ODDS AND ENDS—Marlene Dietrich thinks that she and Carole Lombard look alike and both girls are delighted. . . . Miriam Hopkins has bought the late John Gilbert's house and is redecor- ating it in lovely pastel colors that best set off her blond beauty. . . . Paul Muni has no lurking ambition to cut in on Jack Benny's comic honors, but he did play "The Bee" on the violin for a few friends. . . . About half of the beautiful girls in Hollywood tried out for the part of Flavia in "The Prisoner of Zenda." Madeline Carroll got it. . . . Bert Wheeler is so unwilling to leave the sunshine and swank of Palm Springs that he is com- muniting to Hollywood by airplane. . . .

New Suits Stress Contrast Wools

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

ALMOST any suit trumps in spring fashions. The great variety of wool fabric has been an in- spiration to the designers, who have outdone themselves in creating ir- resistible suits ranging in type from the most casual sports model to the most formal dressmaker suits.

The outstanding appeal of suits this spring is their ingenious play of contrast—the most fascinating contrasts in weaves and in pattern- ings, some plaided, some striped, others such as bright tweeds with multi-colored nubbings and other amazing novelty woolsens, these contrasted with plain most fetch- ingly.

The old story of mannish tailored suits is given several brand new twists this season, greatly due to revived fashion interest in fabrics that were your grandmother's favorites when she was a girl.

The old-fashioned, now new-fash- ioned twills which are showing such strong revival are as adaptable to dressmaker suits, which are femi- ninity itself, with their quaint pepulms and soft stitched lapels as they are to strictly classic tailors.

Gray, beige, postman blue and navy are favorites in twills. Sheer wools and wool crepes in solid or novelty patterned fabrics answer to the call for bolero and orton jacket suits. Often the bolero, or some such jacket type, is of the novelty wool topping a suit or tailored dress of monotone weave. These feminine devices in refresh- ingly versatile moods will be flourish- ing the entire season through and we've seen them with linings and blouses in bright or pastel taffeta with either swing or full-pleated skirts.

TAFFETA WITH NET

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Net enters into many phases of the mode this season, not the least important of which is its use for daytime dresses and for tailored themes, in contrast to its sprightly bouffancy for full-skirted party frocks. The very good-looking tail- ored afternoon dress here shown is of black net of bemberg yarn band- ed with black taffeta. You'll find this gown a friend indeed all spring and all summer. Just now it is ideal to wear under your coat. Top with a gay little chapeau and you will be ready to go anywhere social ap- pointments may call.

ACCESSORY NOTES ON SPRING STYLES

Some of the trimmed sports frocks this spring are made of men's shirting. Chambrays in dusty roses, blues and olive greens, brown cottons splashed with small white figures and gray and white striped silks make both dresses and play suits combining skirt, blouse and shorts (longer than last year). Tucked bosoms and vests and pocket accents whose stripes run con- trary to those in the blouse are among the mannish accents which have been borrowed for these femi- nine frocks.

Accessories hold a bright spot in the spring style spotlight. Several Fifth avenue shops display entire accessory ensembles in patent leather. Big patent leather bags, patent leather daisy boutonnieres and black suede shoes tipped with the same shining leather are designed to wear with suits.

Other accessory notes are twin boutonnieres to be worn on each lapel of a rich jacket. Sometimes they are suit carnations of the same color, again feather but- terflies with bright spots on their wings and again gay feather fancies like those worn in Tyrolean hats.

Romantic Motif Marks New Gowns for Evening Wear

Embodying the glamour of the era when Vienna danced to the rhythms of Johann Strauss' im- mortal melodies, the new evening gowns recapture the flowerlike grace of a romantic century.

Starched nets and chiffons, white and pastel colored organzas and stiffened laces are the most impor- tant fabrics and pastel colorings are stressed. Bodies for the most part are simple, many being adorned with big clusters of chiffon flowers in contrasting shades. Girdles are nar- row and emphasize slender waist lines.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, Dean of the Bible Institute of Chicago, © Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for April 18 THE EFFECTS OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 13:13; 19:22-25; Deuteronomy 32:31-33; Proverbs 23:29-32. GOLDEN TEXT—At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder. Proverbs 23:32. PRIMARY TOPIC—A Man Who Had First Choice. JUNIOR TOPIC—The Way of Woe. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Science Says About Alcohol. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Scientific Basis of Temperance.

The American people are alert to the forces which threaten the bul- warks of national life, and are ready to take intelligent and ef- fective action against them when fully aroused to the danger. The powers of evil know this to be true and are careful to avoid any- thing that directs our attention to what is constantly going on under cover. The liquor question is one of our nation's most serious prob- lems. The devastating results of the widespread sale and use of in- toxicants will only be known as Christian men and women unmask this wicked business which poses under the banner of congenial and pleasant living, and proudly points to its recognition by the govern- ment as a legal enterprise.

The facts are available through various temperance organizations and in such books as "Alcohol and Man," by Dr. Emerson of Colum- bia university. The Sunday School lessons for 1937 present four oppor- tunities to bring the matter square- ly before the adults and children who are in our Bible Schools. We have already (Jan. 31) considered the economic problem, and will later deal with temperance as a social and moral evil. This lesson for today affords a special oppor- tunity to touch on the scientific side, presenting intoxicants in their true light as a poison. Look up the word "intoxicate" in a good dictionary and you at once have a picture of what beer, wine, and whiskey do to the human body.

The Christian approach to any consideration of the matter is by recognizing that man is a spiritual being, dwelling in a physical body. I. We Live in a World of Moral Responsibility (Gen. 13:13; 19:22-25). Life is not a careless drifting from day to day, from pleasure to pleasure, into sin or not as one may choose, with no responsibility for one's actions. Man was created in the likeness and image of God. He knows right from wrong. If he chooses to do right he has all the resources of the omnipotent God to call upon as his strength and stay. But if he chooses to turn his back upon God and upon Christ, and go into the ways of sin, let him be sure that there is a day of judgment to come from which he shall in no wise escape. The de- struction of the wicked cities of the plain, terrible as it was in itself, is but a prophecy of judgment to come. See Luke 10:10-12.

II. Men Go Two Different Ways (Deut. 32:31-33).

Moses contrasts the Rock in which his people trusted, and the corrupt standards of their heathen neighbors by which they were tempted. One greater than Moses spoke of the two ways (read Matt. 7:13, 14), and pointed out the sad fact that there are many that go down the broad way to destruction, and few who walk in the narrow way of life. Let us seek to win our young men and women away from the sinful ways of this world.

III. The Liquor Way Is the Wrong Way (Prov. 23:29-32).

Skilful indeed are the advertis- ing devices of the liquor interests! They associate their intoxicants (poisons) with holiday festivities, happy family gatherings, social preference, and so on. They do not picture the bleary eye, the babbling tongue, the "wounds without cause." They carefully overlook the broken-hearted mother, the rag- ged children, the empty cupboard, and the devastated home life. They say nothing of the men who have lost their characters and their jobs, and of the women who have lowered themselves beyond description be- cause of their love for liquor. Let us in tenderness and heart-broken humility present to our Sunday School classes that picture, which is a disgrace to our nation. "The wine may look red, and it may even go "smoothly down the throat" (a possible translation of the words "when it moveth aright," v. 31), but it still has the bite of a serpent and the sting of an adder (v. 32).

Aims and Duties.

What are the aims which are at the same time duties?—they are the perfecting of ourselves, and the happiness of others.

Injustice.

The injustice of men subverts the justice of God, and often His mercy.—Madame Swetchine.

Doing Good.

"Doing good is the only certainly happy action of man's life."—Sir Philip Sidney.

From Perfectly Cut Patterns

1268 1996 1226

"I'M GLAD I'm not on the serv- ing committee this week," muses Mrs. Smith of Walnut street, as she takes stock of her- self in the mirror preparatory to leaving for the church supper. "I look entirely too swell for me— why, I'm almost excited! I al- ways knew surplice waists were becoming, but how becoming I never knew till now. That little deceptiveness is just what I need, and these sleeves are the most comfortable things! If about half our circle wore dresses like this it would be better for all con- cerned; so many of us have out- grown the tailored streamlined styles. Now, Mrs. White for in- stance—"

Enter an Admirer.

"Why Mother, you look de-lov- ely in that shade of blue! And you look real stylish, too—you ought to be going to a Coronation."

"Oh, I'd much prefer the church supper, dear. I'll be somebody there in my new dress but at a Coronation I would be little pot- toes. By the way, what did they say about your new jumper at school?"

"Mother, I meant to tell you. Mary Jane and Betty are both go- ing to coax their mothers to make one just like it. I said maybe you would loan them the pattern."

"Why of course. Did you tell them it took me only two after- noons to make yours including two blouses?"

Enter "The Duchess."

"Sis, you're pretty young to be talking about clothes so intelli- gently. When you get a figure that clothes really count on— ahem, like Yours Truly's for in- stance; then it might be different—oh Mother, how nice! I'm crazy about it. Gee, such smart lines! Remember, you promised to help me with a new party frock next week if I did well with this shirt- waister. I wish all dresses were as easy to sew and as swell to wear as it is."

"Perfectly cut patterns spell success for any frock, Kay; your party dress is as good as made right now. But I must be on my way or I'll be more than fashion- ably late for the affair. Bye, bye —be good girls and see that Dad- dy gets something to eat."

The Patterns.

Pattern 1268 is for sizes 36 to 52. Size 38 requires 5 1/4 yards of 39 inch material.

Pattern 1996 is for sizes 6 to 14 years. Size 8 requires 1 1/4 yards of 39 inch material for the jumper and 1 1/4 yards for the blouse. Armscye and neck edges of jumper require 2 1/2 yards of 1 1/2 inch bias fabric.

Pattern 1226 is for sizes 14 to 20 (32 to 42 bust). Size 16 re- quires 3 3/4 yards of 35 inch ma- terial.

Send for the Barbara Bell Spring and Summer Pattern Book. Make yourself attractive, practical and becoming clothes, selecting designs from the Bar- bara Bell well-planned easy-to- make patterns. Interesting and exclusive fashions for little chil- dren and the difficult junior age; slenderizing, well-cut patterns for the mature figure; afternoon dresses for the most particular young women and matrons and other patterns for special occa- sions are all to be found in the Barbara Bell Pattern Book. Send 15 cents (in coins) today for your copy.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept. Room 1020, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. Patterns 15 cents (in coins) each. © Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

The Nationally Known ASPIRIN at the Nationally Popular 10¢ price St. Joseph GENUINE PURE ASPIRIN

PLEASE ACCEPT

THIS Exquisite $1.00 GAME CARVING SET

for only 25c with your purchase of one can of B. T. Babbitt's Nationally Known Brands of Lye

This is the Carving Set you need for steaks and game. Deerhorn design handle fits the hand perfectly. Knife blade and fork tines made of fine stainless steel. Now offered for only 25c to induce you to try the brands of lye shown at right. Use them for sterilizing milking machines and dairy equipment. Contents of one can dissolved in 17 gallons of water makes an effective, inexpensive sterilizing solution. Buy today a can of any of the lye brands shown at right. Then send the can band, with your name and address and 25c to B. T. Babbitt, Inc., Dept. W.K., 386 4th Ave., New York City. Your Carving Set will reach you promptly, postage paid. Send today while the supply lasts. OFFER GOOD WITH ANY LABEL SHOWN BELOW

TEAR OUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT AS A REMINDER

THE DAVIE RECORD.

C. FRANK STROUD - Editor.

TELEPHONE

Entered at the Postoffice in Mocksville, N. C., as Second-class Mail matter, March 3, 1908.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
ONE YEAR IN ADVANCE - $1.00
SIX MONTHS IN ADVANCE - $.50

Hard to tell these days who is running this country—Jim Farley, John L. Lewis or Madam Perkins.

Seems that the Congress of the United States are between the devil and the deep blue sea. It's darned if you and darned if you don't.

Davie county fair officials are now at work on the premium list for the 1937 fair, which will be in Mocksville next September. It is hoped to have larger and more premiums this year than last. This fair means much to Davie county, and everybody should put their shoulder to the wheel and make this the biggest and best fair ever held in Davie county.

The people of the United States are not going to tamely submit to the junking of the U. S. Supreme Court. Mr. Roosevelt may mean well in wanting to put six New Dealers on the bench at the same time, but there seems to be a nigger in the woodpile somewhere. No other president has ever named a majority of the members of this high court at one time and we don't think Mr. Roosevelt will be given such power.

Our old friends, The Winston-Salem Journal and the Twin-City Sentinel, are to change hands the first of May, together with Radio Station WSJS. Gordon Gray and other Twin City capitalists have purchased this property from Owen Moon, who has been at the head of these publications for the past 12 years. It is said that Sanford Martin will continue as editor of The Journal. The Record wishes the new owners much success in the field of journalism.

Up to this good hour no society has been organized in North Carolina to make Franklin Roosevelt king as soon as his term as president expires. Such societies have been formed in at least two or three states. The American people have stood for many things since George Washington was inaugurated president, but there has been a few times when they have grabbed their guns and gone to war. We trust that the time will not soon come when they will have to again shoulder their guns.

The scarcity of cattle, hogs, wheat and corn has boosted the price of meats and grain until the poor families who are without work, or who are working at low wages, find it out of the question to eat meat, and if prices continue to soar it will not be long until they cannot buy bread. Our secretary of agriculture, Mr. Wallace, should take steps to speed up production of food crops. Instead of paying the farmers to sow grass or let their lands lay idle, better pay them to grow more cattle, hogs, wheat, corn and potatoes. This country is importing too much meat, wheat and other products that our farmers should be growing. Wilful waste makes woeful want, and the wild folks who are running this country are going to wake up some fine morning and repent in sackcloth and ashes.

Won't Recognize Union

Ways, Ga.—Henry Ford announced tonight that the Ford Motor Company 'never will recognize' the United Automobile Workers' Union of America. Ford said that any of his men who struck would be 'led out of' the particular plant with regrets 'because we know the men are simply being duped and coerced by the strike leaders.' He added: 'We won't hold any grudge against them and will be willing to hire them back.' He said public officials were charged with protecting citizens from such disorders as sit down strikes and continued:

"Those who seize property not their own are in the same category as housebreakers."

He did not say what public officials he was referring to, and made no mention of President Roosevelt, who has not been quoted on the current wave of strikes.

The manufacturer said no concessions were made in settling the Kansas City strike. He visited Dearborn last week while the strike was in progress to confer with company officials.

Referring to other current strikes, Ford said the participating workers "lost" because they are now "organized, regimented, and without individual freedom."

A Fine Meeting.

The South Yadkin Association meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Baptist church held its annual sessions at the Baptist church, Mocksville, Thursday with 11 churches represented and 61 answering roll call.

Miss Laura Lazenby, first president of the Association and president for the past 15 years, tendered her resignation at this meeting but presided over the sessions prior to election of new officers.

Rev. J. H. Fulghum, of the Mocksville church, led the devotional both morning and afternoon, and during the business session reports were heard from the various committees.

New officers are Mrs. W. P. McSwain, president; Mrs. W. M. Moore, vice-president; young people's leaders, Mrs. Angell, of Mocksville; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. M. Anderson. Miss Lazenby, retiring president, was named superintendent emerita.

A memorial service was held for Mrs. George Woodward, Mrs. J. P. Green and Mrs. Lou E. B. Lindsay, former association members who died since last meeting.

Dr. C. J. Allen, of Western Avenue church, Statesville, gave an address at the morning session on "The Lordship of Jesus Christ," and in the afternoon Rev. F. C. Hawkins, of the first Baptist church, Statesville, spoke on "Woman's Place in the Kingdom." Mrs. B. K. Mann, Charlotte divisional superintendent, and Miss Mary Curran, State young people's leader, both brought messages at the afternoon session. Mrs. Fletcher Lambert, Association young people's worker, relinquishing her time on the program to Miss Curran that she might further outline the state work. Two young girls, Misses Kathleen Lowe and Lucile Herrin, of Statesville, gave a missionary playlet and there was special music throughout the day.

Lunch was served picnic style at noon and the whole day was delightful in fellowship, helpful and interesting.

Pino News.

Pino Community Grange met in regular session Monday night after the business meeting. Literary program was as follows: Song "Blessed Assurance," Music, Mrs. Leo Brock, Solo "Little Old Lady" Charlie Bahson, Talk, Insects by Mr. J. W. Davis, Solo "When Inside Eyes Are Smiling," Joy Lakey, Short Talks, How to Keep Our Grange Growing, by Messrs. J. F. Essie, F. R. Lakey, G. Leagans and S. W. Furches.

Messrs. Patterson and Dunnagan of Salisbury gave interesting talks on Fertilizers.

During the social hour refreshments were served by F. R. Lakey family.

Mr. Walter Dull had the misfortune to get his hand mashed between a car and post while in Winston-Salem one day last week.

Mr. Gene Miller entertained a number of friends Friday evening with a Weine Roast.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Reavis spent the week-end with Mrs. Reavis, parents Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dull.

Mrs. Nancy Dixon who has spent the winter with her daughter has gone to visit her son Lonnie Dixon in Yadkinville.

Mr. W. W. West lost a granary of wheat and other buildings by fire last Saturday night. The fire started just after the family had retired for the night. By heroic work of the neighbors, their dwelling house was saved.

Gas Taylor is seriously ill with pneumonia at his home on South Main street, and but little hope is entertained for his recovery.

Meeting For Home Demonstration Clubs To Be Held in Mocksville.

Tuesday April 20th at 2:00 p. m. Miss Mamie Whisnant, Assistant Extension Specialist in House Furnishing and Home Management, will be at the court house in Mocksville to meet and talk to the club women on "The Care of Floors" and "The Home Kitchen." The lecture will be in the form of illustrations and demonstrations.

Miss Whisnant was at one time Home Demonstration Agent in Rowan County and because of her outstanding work in Home Management and House Furnishing was appointed Extension Specialist in these units. She is entirely capable of giving us any information we may need on these topics.

Every Club Woman is invited to attend this meeting at which time the Mocksville Club will act as hostess to the group.

FLORENCE MACKIE, Home Demonstration Agent.

Operetta Shady Grove.

There will be on operetta in three acts, "Just Plain Dot," presented by the Grammer Grades, of Shady Grove school, April 23-d, beginning at 8 o'clock, p. m., in the Shady Grove school auditorium.

We cordially invite every one to attend. There will be no admission charge.

G. L. White, of Winston-Salem, was in town Wednesday shaking hands with old friends.

Under New Management

The Green Milling Co. of Mocksville, is now under new management. Floyd Naylor, who has held a position with the mill for a number of years, is the new manager, succeeding F. K. Benson, who has been manager for many years. In the future all business will be transacted through Mr. Naylor. The Record wishes this old, reliable firm, success under the management of this popular young man.

Notice Of Sale Of Real Estate.

Under and by virtue of an order made in the special proceeding in the Superior Court of Davie County, North Carolina, entitled, J. Z. Tucker, et al vs Mrs. Louisa Foster, et al. by M. A. Hartman, Clerk of Superior Court:

The undersigned commissioner will sell publicly for cash to the highest bidder at the courthouse door of Davie County, North Carolina, on Monday, the 10th day of May, 1937, at 12 o'clock m., the following described lands lying and being in Shady Grove township, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

A tract beginning at a stone in George Hartman's line, corner of lot No 1; thence W. 48 poles to a stone, corner of lot No 3; thence S 1 deg. W 21 poles to a stone in Clark's line, W. J. Ellis' corner thence N. 3 deg. E 21 poles to the beginning, containing 6 acres and 58 poles more or less. See deed from J. O. Markland, et al, to M. E. Tucker, dated September 14, 1892, and recorded in Book 35, page 294, Register's office of Davie County, North Carolina.

Terms of Sale: Cash. This the 9th day of April, 1937. A. T. GRANT, Commissioner.

"Fix-Up" and "Clean-Up" YOUR CAR

Let our Mechanics check over your car, weld the broken fenders, "Tune" the motor for Summer Driving. LET US Wash, Grease and Lubricate your car and you will be all set to Go Places.

"WE DO ALL KINDS OF WELDING"
MOCKSVILLE MOTOR CO.
PHONE 97

100 YEARS Of Plow Leadership

JOHN DEERE WALKING PLOWS

You take no chances on value when you make your new walking plow a John Deere. It's the plow that has earned its right to leadership through its longer life and better work.

Whatever your particular plowing needs, we have a John Deere that will meet them. Come in and see us.

IN 1837
—one hundred years ago—John Deere, a country blacksmith, gave to the world the steel plow. And it was a walker.
Is it any wonder that John Deere Walking plows have always been known as the leaders for good work, light draft, ease of operation, and long life?

MARTIN BROTHERS
John Deere Quality Implements And Service

NOTICE To The Dog Owners Of Davie County

It being the law of North Carolina that all dogs in this State be vaccinated against Rabies, each and every year, it is being authorized by the County Commissioners of the County of Davie, for the safety of the citizens of said county. I do hereby serve notice to the dog owners of said county, to have all dogs in your possession vaccinated.

G. A. Sheek Has Been Appointed Inspector For Davie County, And He Has Authority To See That All Dogs Are Vaccinated Within The Said County.

L. M. TUTTEROW,
Chairman Board County Commissioners.

FIX UP . . . Build or Repair

Let's Make Things Look Good By Making Those Necessary Repairs on The Home or Other Buildings.

SEE US For Your Needs In Any Kind Of Lumber

Check Up And See What You Need . . . Then Call Us.

WE HAVE IT.

MOCKSVILLE LUMBER CO.

Phone 42

Mocksville, N. C.

For a Real "CLEAN-UP" On Your Car TRY OUR

Purofane Service

Purofane Service renews and seals the finish on your car. Purofane is not a polish its more. It is a paint preserver, giving new life and lustre

LET KURFEES & WARD

Give Your Car A Spring "Dress-Up" With PUROFANE

SPRING BUILDING

Modernize Your Home

Be sure to specify only the best of first quality building materials for your new home and know the satisfaction and assurance of lasting workmanship.

We Have a Complete Line Of First Class Building Material

Caudell Lumber Co.

Phone 139

Mocksville, N. C.

We Sell Genuine IHC Repairs

for the same reason that we sell International Harvester tractors and machines—because they are built to do their better than any other product we know of. Besides that, we are obliged to sell replacement parts that are exact duplicates of the originals.

—made from the same molds or dies, of the same good materials. We take this obligation seriously. You will always get Genuine IHC Repairs when you entrust us with your order. The repairs bins in our store are well stocked, for your protection.

"Everything For Everybody"

C. C. Sanford Sons Co.

THE DAVIE RECORD.

Largest Circulation of Any Davie County Newspaper.

NEWS AROUND TOWN.

Gaither Sanford spent a day or two last week in Charlotte on business.

G. W. and Pink Ratledge, of Woodleaf, were in town Friday on business.

Silas Blackwelder spent Sunday with his brother Clyde at Burlington, N. C.

Moody Gaither, of Winston-Salem, was in town one day last week on business.

Miss Lucile Horn spent the week end with friends at Greensboro and Mayodan.

Mrs. J. B. Cartner, of R. 2, is spending some time with relatives and friends in Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Kurfees are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Lottie Lanier, at Athens, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Osborne and little son, of Shelby, spent the week end in town with home folks.

T. A. M. Stevenson, of Winston-Salem, was in town one day last week shaking hands with friends.

Miss Margaret Ward, who holds a position at Kannapolis, spent the week end in town with her parents.

Mrs. E. G. Price has been confined to her room for the past two weeks suffering from rheumatism.

Mrs. A. M. Kimbrough, Jr. and Misses Mary and Jane McGuire spent Saturday afternoon shopping in Statesville.

WANTED—To buy cows—any kind. G. B. MYERS, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Rural letter carrier J. A. Daniel, was laid up several days last week with lumbago. He resumed work Thursday morning.

Mrs. A. T. Daniel and children are spending some time with Mrs. Daniel's mother Mrs. E. E. Lambeth, at Moncure.

FOR SALE—1937 Model Ford pick up truck with only 375 miles driven. If you want a bargain see Sanford Motor Co., quick.

Rufus Sanford, a law student at State University, Chapel Hill, is spending the spring holidays in town with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Sanford.

The friends of Capt. C. N. Christian will be sorry to learn that he suffered a second stroke of paralysis last week. All hope that he will soon be better.

Attorney Brewster Grant spent several days last week at Newland, Avery county, assisting Solicitor John R. Jones in prosecuting the criminal court docket there.

The many friends of Mrs. R. P. Anderson will be glad to know that she is able to be out again after being confined to her home for several weeks as the result of a fall.

Mrs. J. P. LeGrand, who has been a patient at Davis Hospital, Statesville, for the past several weeks, is much better and is expected home tomorrow, her friends will be glad to learn.

W. F. Dwiggin tells us that he had a hive of bees to swarm on April 7th, which is something unusual. He got the bees hived all right, and they are now busy making honey. Bees usually wait until May or June to swarm.

A series of meetings which was held at the Presbyterian church last week, came to a close Sunday evening Dr. C. R. Nisbet, of Charlotte, delivered some powerful sermons during the week, and much good was accomplished.

Mocksville was one of the coldest spots in the United States Monday morning. The temperature dropped to 28 degrees, 4 degrees below the freezing point. Fargo, N. D., reported 47 degrees, Chicago, 35 degrees, Atlanta 39 degrees, Richmond 33 degrees, Dallas, Texas, 69 degrees.

R. W. Daniel has moved his family from the McCulloh house on South Main Street to the Mrs. Effie Campbell house, on Salisbury street.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Pardue spent Sunday at East Bend with Mrs. Pardue's mother, Mrs. Joyce. Her mother accompanied them home and will spend a week here as their guest.

Thos. W. Rich and Mr. and Mrs. George Bryan, who have been spending the winter at Miami, Fla., arrived home Friday. Their many friends are glad to have them home again.

Our old friend George Smith, who spends most of his time on his truck farm at Homestead, Fla., spent several days recently on his farm at Redland. George returned to Homestead last week. He says his crops were good this spring and prices high.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Martin and little daughter Ann, who have been living in the J. P. Green house near the Baptist church, are moving into their new home on the corner of Maple Avenue and South Main street, today. They have one of the prettiest homes in the town.

J. W. Etchison, who has been stationed at Coconut Grove, Fla., since last September, has been transferred to Long Island, N. Y., where he will be in the maintenance department of the Pan American Airways. Mr. Etchison spent the week-end with relatives and friends in Davie, who are always glad to see him.

C. B. Mooney, local contractor, has the contract to rebuild the O. R. Allen house on Salisbury street, which was almost completely destroyed by fire some three weeks ago. Work has already commenced on the building which will be the same size as the one destroyed but will have a fire-proof roof instead of a shingle roof.

Miss Daniel in Recital.

An event of much interest to her numbers of friends, was the graduating piano recital given by Miss Helen Daniel, at Catawba College, on Tuesday evening, April 6, at 7:30 o'clock. Her program, consisting of compositions by Bach, Beethoven, Debussy and Liszt, was played from memory and was well rendered.

Miss Daniel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Daniel and has made an excellent record for the past four years at Catawba College, under Prof. Arthur Rich.

She was charming in flowered taffeta, and a floor basket of apple blossoms formed the stage decoration. A large number of Mocksville people attended this delightful recital.

Immediately following the program, an informal reception was held in Professor Rich's studio those in the receiving line being Miss Daniel, Mrs. C. R. Horn, Miss Annie Maie Benton, of Spencer, Prof. Arthur Rich, and the ushers, Messrs. Hartman and Emerson Keener.

William H. Clement.

William Henderson Clement, 96, of Davie county's few remaining Confederate Veterans, died Wednesday night at 6:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Jones, on R. 4. He had been ill for several months.

Mr. Clement was a son of Henry and Rosanna Sain Clement of Davie county. He was a member of the Lutheran Church. He had been married twice. His first wife was Miss Parthenia Lowery. He was married the second time to Miss Mary Phillips.

Surviving are one son, Dabney A. Clement, of Oak Grove; two daughters, Mrs. W. W. Harbin, of Mocksville, and Mrs. Charles Jones, 14 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. J. Harbinson, assisted by Rev. J. H. Fulghum, Friday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Jones, and the body laid to rest in the Clement graveyard.

This leaves out two Confederate veterans living in Davie county, J. L. Glasscock, of Calabala, and P. A. Miller, of Mocksville.

Mother's Day

Our Mother's Day Candy is Now On Display. Prices Range From 50c to $1.50 Per Pound. Wrapped in Attractive Boxes Suitable For This Happy Occasion. WE CARRY HOLLINGSWORTH THE FINEST OF FINE CANDIES Hall-Kimbrough Drug Co. "A Good Drug Store" Phone 141 We Deliver

Theatre To Open Friday

J. W. Mitchell, lessee and manager of the New Princess Theatre, announces that the opening of this new show house will be on Friday evening, Apr. 16th. New sound equipment, together with new seats, have been installed and nothing but first-class pictures will be shown. The theatre will be open every evening except Sunday. Watch this paper weekly for programs.

Notice To Creditors.

Having qualified as administrator of the estate of Betty E. Hodgson, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against deceased to present the same to the undersigned, duly verified, on or before the 20th day of March, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please call upon the undersigned and make prompt settlement. J. M. STROUD, Adm. of Betty E. Hodgson dec'd. By GRANT & GRANT, Attys.

Certificate of Dissolution.

To all to whom these presents may come—Greeting: Whereas, It appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Home Ice and Fuel Co., a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated in the town of Mocksville, County of Davie, State of North Carolina (S. M. Call, Sec. Treas., being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 22, Consolidated Statutes, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution.

Now Therefore, I, Thad Eure, Secretary of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 5th day of April 1937, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceeding aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 5th day of April, A. D. 1937. THAD EURE, Secretary of State.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree made by M. A. Hartman, Clerk of Superior Court of Davie County, in an action entitled, G. F. Cornatzer, Adm., of Mary Jones vs J. H. Cornatzer and wife; the undersigned commissioner will, on Saturday, the 8th day of May, 1937, at the Court House door of Davie County, in Mocksville, N. C., at 12 o'clock, m., sell publicly for cash to the highest bidder, the following described lands lying and being in Shady Grove Township, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Adjoining the lands of W. E. Boyles, C. B. Walker and others, and bounded as follows, Viz: Beginning at a large white oak, W. E. Boyles and others corner, and running North 4 degs East 19 46 chs. to a stone, corner of lot No 1 in the division of the Katie Ward lands between Sarah Williams and Mary Caton; thence South 86 degs. E. 24 chs. to a stone in C. B. Walker's line; thence with said line; thence South 19.31 chs. to a stone in W. E. Bowles line; thence with said line 24.45 chs. to the beginning containing 46 1/2 acres more or less.

See deed from Savannah Williams to M. M. Cornatzer, Registered in Davie County, N. C., and also deed from G. H. Cornatzer and M. M. Cornatzer to Z. C. Cornatzer, recorded in Book 27, page 254, in the office of Register of Deeds of Davie County, N. C. Terms of Sale: Cash This the 6th day of April, 1937. J. B. GRANT, Commissioner.

"THIS MEANS USED CAR SATISFACTION"

USED CARS & TRUCKS RENEWED R & G GUARANTEED
ALL MAKES

FORD DEALERS OFFER USED CAR BARGAINS AT THE YEAR'S LOWEST PRICES

Your Ford Dealer is proud of R & G! One reason, it's the symbol of his reputation. When he sells you an R & G used car he knows you are getting the most for your money, and he is certain of a satisfied customer.

That's important — to you and to him!

The enormous sale of 1937 Ford V-8s has given your Ford Dealer the finest assortment of used cars he has ever had. See him today. Get a better car than the one you're driving — the easy payment terms will delight you.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE

WHAT R & G MEANS TO YOU

R & G means RENEWED and GUARANTEED. It means you are purchasing your used car from a dealer who is always reliable and who stands back of his guarantee to the letter — only Ford Dealers sell R & G used cars!

R & G means that you must be completely satisfied or your money will be cheerfully refunded—in short, it means 100% satisfaction or 100% refund.

ONLY FORD DEALERS OFFER R & G BARGAINS

BELK-STEVENSONS CO.
Cor. Trade and West Fifth Winston-Salem, N. C.

Special Group Of Spring Coats and Suits REDUCED!

If you have delayed buying your Spring Coat or Suit you can make worthwhile savings by shopping in our Ready-to-Wear Department. Spring fashion successes in coats and suits greatly reduced!

Girls' Cotton Frocks $1.00 $1.95 Just received a tremendous group of exciting fashions for girls of 2 to 6 and 7 to 16 years. Crisp organdies, batistes, muslins and dimities. The most attractive styles one could imagine. They're all guaranteed fast color.	Boys' "Fruit-of-the-Loom" and "Tom Sawyer" SHIRTS For Boys! 79c Here are two of the finest shirts made for boys! Superbly made of fine quality fast color prints and broadcloths. Plain colors and smart fancy patterns.
---	---

Spring Curtains
98c $1.48 $1.98

If Bought on Today's Market These Curtains Would Have To Sell For Much More!

Ready-to-hang Priscilla Curtains of plain and novelty marquisettes. Extra width curtains with wide ruffles—ivory, ecru and pastel colors. Tailored curtains of fine, sturdy nets, mesh weaves and marquisettes. Full widths and lengths.

Repair

Then Call Us.

R CO.

Mocksville, N. C.

Your Car

ce e finish on more. It is ustre

RD

p" With

NG

me

rst quality and know ing work-

st Class

Co.

Mocksville, N. C.

THAT'S WHY I BUY THEM!

Repairs

the same molds ame good mate-
e this obligation will always get Repairs when with your order.
ns in our store
d, for your pro-body"

s Co.

★

Bright Star

By Mary Schumann

Copyright by Macrae Smith Co.
WNU Service

SYNOPSIS

Kezia Marsh, pretty, selfish and twenty, arrives home in Corinth from school and is met by her older brother, Hugh. He drives her to the Marsh home where her widowed mother, Fluvanna, a warm-hearted, self-sacrificing and understanding soul, welcomes her. Kezia's sister, Margery, plump and matronly with the care of three children, is at lunch with them. Hugh's wife, Dorrie, has pleaded a previous engagement. On the way back to his job at the steel plant founded by one of his forebears, Hugh is amused to find her in tears. Apparently she has some secret worry over her husband, Cun. When Ellen and Jerry speak about their engagement to Ellen's parents, Lizzie is disagreeable until Jerry sympathizes with her imagined ailments. The matter is left pending. Unexpectedly Hugh has to visit a neighboring city on business. Returning home to ask Dorrie to accompany him he finds her telephoning. In confusion she quickly hangs up without saying good-by. She finally agrees to accompany him. They spend a delightful day and Hugh is happy. At a family party, Kezia encounters Jerry. Ellen is disturbed when Jerry is absorbed by Kezia. Kezia goes out of her way to charm Jerry. Fluvanna is concerned that Kezia is too evasive about dates she has been having at night. She muses over the resemblance of Kezia to her late husband, recalling how temperamental, moody and improvident he had been. She recalls the tragic picture of his death—now after drinking and gambling to excess he is faced with financial ruin, how he tries to force her to mortgage her resources to pay his debts and threatens her with a gun, how in a struggle for his possession he is fatally wounded. Overworked and worried over business, Hugh stays at the office Saturday afternoon. Doc Miller gives a let-up. Hugh and Dorrie are dinner guests of the Whites.

CHAPTER VI—Continued

—13—

"A perfect dinner," commented Hugh. "Jonny, you make cooking an art!"

"It should be," she said blithely. "We practice it enough."

"Notice that vinegar for the salad?" asked Cun. "She makes it in June from the rose petals—much milder than any other."

"And the strawberries?" Dorrie exclaimed.

"Fall bearing ones." "I never see them. Where did you get them?"

"From the Menonite farmer who brings me eggs each Saturday. There's a settlement of them a few miles south. They're very unworldly—so carefully honest about every penny."

"Religion means everything to many people," said Joan. "Cun settled in his chair more comfortably. His eyes sparkled, his florid skin was pinker than usual. "I grant you that, Jonny. But I can't see it. Too many hymn-singing hypocrites in church when I was young... blasted my youthful illusions!"

Joan looked at him steadily. "You don't believe in anything, do you?"

"I've never felt the need of it. Life has been pretty good to me and when it's over, I want it to be over!"

Dorrie's eyes were applauding. "My sentiments, Cun. Religion is the refuge of a defeated soul."

"Exactly," nodded Cun. "A person has been overthrown by life, and prays for a heaven which will be a wish-fulfillment of the things missed on earth."

"Then there is no reality in religion? Merely wish-fulfillment?" questioned Joan. "So glad to have it explained—I never understood."

Dorrie took no notice of her irony. She went on: "It's good for some individuals. We have a case in our family—Hugh's mother. Oh, don't look shocked! Your mother isn't sacrosanct, is she? I'm only saying it before Joan and Cun... Hugh's mother has had a tremendous help from religion."

"Then I would say there is reality in it," Hugh defended. "How can one tell there is not? It's supposed to be experience—a spiritual adventure which convinces people!"

Joan jumped up from the table. "Gracious! Weren't we stupid to get in an argument over religion when it always ends in a yammer? Cun, tell Hugh about your new work while I clear away."

"We went over that the last time," answered Cun. "What do you say we do the dishes for Joan? Wash and dry 'em?"

"That's a valuable idea," approved Hugh.

"Dorrie, you're always getting out of work—oh, yes, you are!—you can begin washing the glasses. Jonny will give you an apron to cover up that creation you're wearing!"

"Oh, Cun, Dorrie will spoil her manicure!" said Joan.

But Dorrie entered into it gayly, took the dishpan, filled it with hot water, sprinkled some soap chips in it. "Bring on the glasses."

"Wash 'em clean, my girl, or you'll get fired!"

"Wash them clean?" Dorrie laughed as she rinsed a goblet and handed it to him to dry. "Don't you trust me, Cun?"

"No, not now."

Joan and Hugh were clearing the table, going back and forth between the kitchen and the dining-room. When Hugh came through with some plates, Cun and Dorrie were talking in low voices. She said at once in louder tones, "Get a dry towel, nitwit. That's just sopping"—the quick abandonment of a secret conversation for a casual one. But they were always chaffing one another, Hugh remembered.

Dorrie emptied the dishpan, glanced at the clock. "Twenty minutes—no more! Who said I didn't know how to work?"

"Don't misquote," said Cun, his eyes merry. "Always getting out of it," he said.

"That for you!" She snapped her fingers at Cun. "Hugh will tell you I'm a thoroughly efficient person. Come on, Joan, let's go upstairs and repair the damage. Hurry, before I get any more mean cracks from this husband of yours! Does he bully you this way?"

"Most of my waking hours, eh Joan?" said Cun. "She's too loyal to give me away."

"Don't count on me too much," said Joan over her shoulder as she followed Dorrie out of the room.

Hugh rather enjoyed the bridge game. He and Joan had unusual luck, won rubber after rubber. Dorrie seemed absent minded and several times made rather obvious misplays. Late in the evening she denied Cun's heart bid with one of spades, went back to spades when Cun raised his heart bid, and was promptly doubled. The spades were bunched in Joan's hand and with the double she drew, she went down disastrously.

"Jonny, You Make Cooking an Art."

"If you'd led clubs last, you'd have saved two tricks," said Cun. "Forget they were high?"

"So they were. Sorry, Cun, I played it like a—"

"Nitwit!" he suggested. "It's all right. Your game is usually so cracking good you're entitled to an occasional lapse."

Hugh looked at his watch. "Eleven-thirty," he reminded them. "Come on, Hugh," said Joan, "we'll go out and fix up a nightcap—get some cheese and crackers—the duty of the winners."

Hugh followed her to the kitchen. He lunched against the wall while Joan opened segments of cheese wrapped in silver paper. He admired her deft movements as she went from cupboard to table, quick but not brisk, light but sure. He thought her eyes were like those wild asters on the dining table, smoky blue. And her lashes a thick fringe of black. Nice eyes, Joan had.

He ventured a compliment. "You're looking yourself tonight." She paused, smiling. "Meaning—?"

"Yes—very," he said emphatically.

"Thanks."

The kitchen was a shining place of cream-colored walls and woodwork, red tile linoleum, and red voile curtains. He opened the door to the porch. "Do you eat out here often?"

"Yes, all our breakfasts. If we pull down the shades on the left side we're hidden from our neighbors. We can see our garden, watch the birds visit the cement pool."

"I wonder if I could build something like this on our place. I've always wanted to eat outside."

"Come over and have breakfast with me some morning."

"I will some morning when Dorrie isn't up and the maid is having a vacation."

"Let it be soon then. Not many more weeks of summer." Her white teeth gleamed in her dark face as she smiled this challenge. Her eyes, so burningly alive, lingered on him with something thoughtful and caressing, something evocative in their depths. She turned away.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK...

By Lemuel F. Parton

"Just a Poor Historian."

NEW YORK.—In 1933, Ambassador William E. Dodd protested to Chancellor Hitler against assaults on Americans who failed to give the Nazi salute. He made these representations quietly but emphatically. His protest was effective.

Being naturally calm and tactful, it is quite certain that he will not aggravate the present difficulty as his government calls Germany to account for press attacks on America. But he is not spineless and will not be merely a spessenger boy.

He has disapproved the assumption that an ambassador to a major power must be rich. "Just a poor historian," he lives simply and rides third class around Germany. He says this is a much better way of understanding Germany and knowing the people than attending state banquets—which he abhors.

The Germans like him and even forgive his belief in democracy, which he bluntly expresses when such expression seems pertinent. His doctor's degree was obtained at the University of Leipzig, and one of his best books was a biography of Thomas Jefferson, written in German. They have forgiven that, too.

Most of his thirty years as a historian was spent at the University of Chicago. When he was appointed ambassador in June 1933, he smilingly expressed doubt about being a diplomat. "The trouble is that a historian has to tell the truth," he said. Two former ambassadors to Germany, Bancroft and White, were historians, but in less troubled times. He has spoken frankly, and has been only occasionally vilified, as when Julius Streicher, Germany's notorious anti-Semite, stirred his family on August 16, 1935.

A native of North Carolina, he keeps a little cottage down in the Blue Ridge mountains, and drives around in a worn little old car when he comes home. He likes out of doors and is usually sun-tanned. He is medium, somewhat athletic in stature, with a look of keen awareness and competence, which softens as he speaks—he is essentially a humanist.

The failure of the League of Nations he regards as one of the tragedies of mankind. He has long been a torch bearer for the Wilsonian ideals, co-editor of "The Works of Woodrow Wilson," with Ray Stannard Baker. He is a former president of the American Historical association, highly distinguished and authoritative in his profession. He is sixty-seven years old.

"Too Many Nice Boys."

MR. TYLER DENNETT, president of Williams, says his college is getting too many "nice boys." It was in 1929 that Professor Robert E. Rogers of M. I. T. told his class that the thing to do was to "be a snob and marry the boss' daughter."

In 1934, he took it all back. A graduate might be a snob cum laude, but he was running an elevator just the same. Out in Minnesota, a college dean recently urged students to take postgraduate courses in refined speech, dress and decorum. It must be hard for the youngsters to decide what to be or do.

Dr. Dennett evidently doesn't suggest "rowdy" as the alternative of "nice." What he seems to have in mind is that Williams should draw more from the main democratic bloodstream, and not so much from the blue-blooded arteries. He thinks the exclusive preparatory schools are funneling too many students into Williams.

The Admiralty Sneaks.

SIR SAMUEL HOARE, British first lord of admiralty, defends his $500,000,000 naval plan and urges the United States to build right along with England—we are brothers. Already there is a yell over here that England is, as usual, trying to get us to pull her chestnuts out of the fire. But that's something for the editorial page.

Sir Samuel, with his high-pitched nasal voice, his long, sharp pedagogue's nose, his glassy eye, and his way of laying things on the line, is always good copy for the reporters.

Simultaneously, he broke the illustrious and inquisitive nose, figure-skating, and was eased out as foreign minister because he was too realistic about Ethiopia. His comeback was amazing in its swiftness. In a few months, he headed the admiralty, and articulate and dominant Tory England had swung to his view on Ethiopia.

His goldsmith ancestors founded Ye Olde Golden Bottel bank in the reign of Charles I. It is still owned by five Hoares, with one of them sleeping on the premises every night as their ancient charter requires. Sir Samuel, it is believed, never sleeps, with an eye never closed on the empire where the sun never sets.

Consolidated News Features, WNU Service.

UNCOMMON AMERICANS

By Elmo Scott Watson

Christmas Flower

WHEN you buy one of those scarlet-petaled flowers called the poinsettia to add to the festive appearance of your home at Christmas time, you are helping perpetuate the fame of an American who little realized that his name would become associated with one of the symbols of the Yuletide. For Joel R. Poinsett had so many other claims to distinction that it seems curious he is best remembered because a flower bears his name!

Born in South Carolina in 1779, he studied both medicine and military science abroad but his father induced him to abandon his intention of entering the army and to become a student of law. Poor health forced him to give that up and he asked President Madison for a commission in the army. He was about to be appointed quartermaster-general when the secretary of war objected.

Instead he was sent on a diplomatic mission to South America where he mixed in the politics of Chile, and fomented revolution until he became known as "the scourge of the American continent" and was recalled. Next he was sent to Mexico. Always interested in botany, he brought back from that country the flower which was given the scientific name of "Poinsettia Pulcherina."

Just as he had been a stormy petrel in international politics, so he was a disturbing element in the politics of his native land. During the Nullification controversy in South Carolina he organized and led the Unionist forces. By doing that he won the esteem of the national government and President Van Buren made him secretary of war.

Poinsett improved and enlarged the army, organized a general staff, built up the artillery, directed the Seminole war and managed the removal of some 40,000 Indians to Indian Territory. In the midst of this activity his scientific interests were not neglected. He experimented with scientific agriculture, sent out the Wilkes expedition into the Antarctic and was largely instrumental in founding the National Institute for the Promotion of Science and the Useful Arts which later was merged with the Smithsonian Institution. His busy career came to an end in 1851 while he was living in retirement as a plantation owner in his native state.

Brooklyn Bridge Jumper

BACK in the eighties the Brooklyn bridge was one of the wonders of the modern world. Its dedication on May 24, 1883 was an event of nation-wide interest but three years later it was even more in the news because of a man with whose name that great span has been linked in popular memory ever since.

He was Steve Brodie, bootblack, street car conductor, sailor and worker around the docks who became a professional walker as a means of earning some easy money. But he was never better than a second-rater and none of his walking matches ever benefited him greatly. In the summer of 1886 he was nearly "broke."

One day in July he heard some of his friends talking about the latest casualty among the men who had tried for fame and fortune by diving from the Brooklyn bridge to the river, 135 feet below. Seven of them had tried it and all of them had been killed.

"Huh, I bet you I could do it and not be killed," boasted Brodie. "Bet you $100 you can't!" replied a friend. "You're on!" was Brodie's answer. But he was evidently none too confident that he could make good on his boast for he took out a life insurance policy for $1,000 as a protection for his wife, just in case.

On July 23, 1886 Brodie jumped off the bridge and came up without a scratch. Officials of the life insurance company were furious because he had risked $1,000 of their money to win $100. They returned his premium and cancelled his policy—which was foolish, for he lived to a ripe old age!

His successful jump was widely publicized. It won him an engagement in a melodrama called "Blackmail" in which he had to dive off a great height into a net—a feat which, he declared, was even more dangerous than his jump from the bridge—and his performance in this (at $100 a week) made "Brodie, the Brooklyn Bridge-Jumper" famous all over the country. His achievement encouraged imitators and during the next few years no less than 11 others tackled the nation's most spectacular high dive. Although the first seven had perished in their attempts, Brodie seemed to have broken the jinx for every one of the 11 survived. By that time the novelty of such a feat had somewhat worn off. But Brodie's fame as the first to make a successful jump was secure. Moreover, he contributed another picturesque phrase to the American language, for "doing a Brodie" is still a synonym for a spectacular jump or plunge from a height.

AROUND the HOUSE

Items of Interest to the Housewife

Cooking Vegetables—A small piece of butter added to the water in which vegetables are to be cooked will prevent them from boiling over.

Boiling Cabbage—When you cook cabbage, put a small handful of breadcrumbs tied in muslin into the pan. The bread absorbs all the bitter juices and makes the vegetable more digestible.

Washing Embroidery—Do not wring embroidery after washing. Press out as much moisture as possible between the folds of a towel, then spread on a towel or blotter to dry, face up.

Sausage and Fried Apples—Pan broil the required number of small sausages or cakes of sausage meat and as soon as the fat collects, add as many halved, cored and unpeeled apples as required, first dipping them in flour to which a little sugar has been added. Sauté slowly until soft and browned. Place on a serving dish, with two small sausages on each half.

Worn Socks—Children very often get enormous holes in the heels of their socks. This is often due to the lining of the shoe which has worn rough. If the ragged bits are cut off and the inside of the shoe covered with adhesive tape, many a large "hole" will be prevented.

Flavoring Gravy—Half milk and half water makes the best colored and best flavored gravy.

Baking Potatoes—Before putting potatoes in the baking-tin, stand them in boiling water for a few minutes, then drain on a clean cloth. They will cook more quickly and taste better.

Making a Footstool—Do you know that you can make unique footstools out of the single spring seats of an old automobile? Cover the old seat with upholstery and attach castors at the four corners. This will give you a comfortable seat or footstool for your summer cottage.

Suede Shoes—Rain spots can be removed from suede shoes by rubbing with fine emery board.

WNU Service.

Enchanting Gifts of Lacy Crochet

Pattern 1345

A chance at rare beauty—genuine luxury—is yours in this lovely crocheted lace cloth! Just a 6 inch medallion crocheted in string forms it—you'll have a quantity of them together in no time. And what lovely gifts you can make of them—chair sets, scarfs, pillows, buffet sets are but a few suggestions. They cost you next to nothing and are something that will last and be cherished indefinitely. Pattern 1345 contains directions for making the medallion and joining it to make various articles; illustrations of it and of all stitches used; material requirements.

Send 15 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) for this pattern to The Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y.

Write plainly pattern number, your name and address.

INSIST ON GENUINE O-CEDAR

Don't take chances! Use only genuine O-Cedar Polish—favorite of housekeepers the world over for 30 years.

O-Cedar protects and preserves furniture, prevents spider-web checking.

Tax That's Collected Someone wants to tax sin. Well, isn't it taxed?

MOROLINE

SHOW WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

LARGE JARS 5¢ AND 10¢

FINER-TEXTURED CAKES!

with this famous southern SPECIAL-BLEND in the bright red Jewel carton

● Cakes are more delicate, pastry and biscuits flakier and more delicious when you use this finer shortening! For Jewel is a Special-Blend of vegetable fat with other bland cooking fats. Actual tests prove that it creams faster and makes more tender baked foods.

PREFERRED TO THE COSTLIEST SHORTENINGS

LIFE'S LIKE THAT By Fred Neher

"Well, nosy... what is it?!"

THE F

SMATT

MESCO

FINNEY

'LO, JOE—GIMME BOWL O' CHOWDER

BRONC

BRONC FEELER COAXED CAYOTE PETE AND THE RAMP WITHERS TO RETURN TO THE RANCH FOR THE BIG ROUNDUP.

WHEN THE YOU DO JUST HAVE AND WISE THE STICK LOVE THAT LIES YOU!

HNS SPOT

Copyright, W. N. C.

WORLD'S BEST COMICS

Lighter Side of Life as Depicted by Famous Cartoonists and Humorists

THE FEATHERHEADS

Waste Space

It's Quasi

SMATTER POP—The Pooch Might Have Learned Something

By C. M. PAYNE

MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY

A Break for Muley

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

By Ted O'Loughlin

Counter Attack

BRONC PEELER

Withers Overhears a Name

By FRED HARMAN

The Curse of Progress

Oversight

DOOR-BELLS

Uncle Phil Says:

A Star for You
Some of the pleasantest remembrances are those when you didn't get even although you could.
A woman writes a paper to read before her club and finds a lot of new reasons to believe in something she hadn't cared much about.
Some men are more energetic about expressing their appreciation than they are about collecting facts to support them.
There never was an age that wasn't the age for young men with ability.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a tonic which has been helping women of all ages for nearly 70 years. Adv.

Radiant Sunshine
Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves.—J. M. Barrie.

FOR EARLY MORNING HEADACHES

15c FOR 22
2 FULL DOZEN FOR 25c

Demand and Get Genuine BAYER ASPIRIN

Dare to Win
You have greatly ventured, but all must do so who would greatly win.—Byron.

CARDUI

In this modern time something wonderfully worth while can be done for practically every woman who suffers from functional pain of menstruation. Certain cases can be relieved by taking Cardui. Others may need a physician's treatment. Cardui has two widely demonstrated uses: (1) To ease the immediate pain and nervousness of the monthly period; and (2) to aid in building up the whole system by helping women to get more strength from their food.

Boomerang
His own misdeeds often return to the author of them.—Seneca.

Stomach Gas So Bad Seems To Hurt Heart

"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. A friend suggested Adierka. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never feel better."
—Mrs. J. S. Miller.
Adierka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adierka gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not believe was in your system, and that has been causing gas pains, sour stomach, nervousness and headaches for months.
Dr. E. L. Shank, New York, writes: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adierka greatly reduces bacteria and colon bacilli." Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adierka and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and stubborn constipation. At All Leading Druggists.

Persistence Wins
Stubborn labor conquers everything.—Vergil.

BLACKMAN STOCK AND POULTRY MEDICINES

Are Reliable

- Blackman's Medicated Lick-A-Brik
- Blackman's Stock Powder
- Blackman's Cow Tonic
- Blackman's Hog Powder
- Blackman's Poultry Tablets
- Blackman's Poultry Powder

Highest Quality—Lowest Price
Satisfaction Guaranteed or your money back
BUY FROM YOUR DEALER

BLACKMAN STOCK MEDICINE CO.
Chattanooga, Tenn.

SORES, BOILS

ATHLETE'S FOOT, BURNS, CUTS and ITCHING SKIN

30c

BOWSON'S BALSA

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

BABY CHICKS

PARKE'S Fowl Pedigree Banded Rocks, direct certificate, $15.00 100. Other pure Rocks, Banded, $7.50. Heavy assorted $7.50. Less 1c added. Blood tested.
MRS. L. M. KITCHING, White Pond, S. C.

Good Storage

One of the most important factors in good storage is maintaining the temperature in which each fruit and vegetable keeps best. Failure to provide this temperature shortens storage life. Proper amount of moisture in the air of storage rooms is also essential. Other causes of spoilage may have come from storage diseases such as rots and molds. Then there are varieties of fruits and vegetables which are naturally poor keepers. For winter storage, potatoes keep best in piles small enough so that not more than three feet can be measured from the center of the pile to the outside. Potatoes need air, and they should be free from loose dirt when placed in storage. Moist air helps in preventing potatoes from shrinking, especially if the air temperature is somewhat higher than that recommended. Frequent sprinkling of the walls in the storage room is beneficial.

Notes of the Farm

With the exception of two years in the past 25, the farm value of the United States potato crop was below average when the total yield was above average and the farm value was higher when the crop was below average in size.

Soy bean meal mixed with powdered skim milk has been discovered by University of Minnesota scientists to be a good pollen substitute for bees.

The crop pest bindweed—or morning glory—defies drouth because its roots, that spread even as much as twenty-five to thirty feet, store up so much food for hard times.

According to estimates, mastitis and Bang's disease cause an average loss of $100 to every New South Wales dairyman.

Chlorine used in Medicines. New to water, glycerine is the base of all liquids for sheep American.

Notice Sale Of Land Under Mortgage.

By virtue of the powers contained in a mortgage, default having been made in the payment of same, I, as mortgagee will sell to the highest bidder for cash at the Court House Door in Davie County, N. C. on Monday, May 3rd, 1937, at 12 o'clock p. m. the described below. Being Lots Nos. 7 and 8 and bounded as follows: Viz: Beginning at a Spanish oak in Vicks line, and running N. 84 degs. W. 11.60 chs. to a stake corner of Lot No. 6. thence N. 3 and 1-2 degs. E. 6.60 chs. to a stake;

Finds Cost Varies in the Production of Milk

The cost of producing milk varies from month to month; it is highest in winter months and lowest in summer months, according to Dr. L. C. Cunningham of the department of agricultural economics at Cornell university.

Based on yearly average costs, he says, January and February are the two months when costs are highest, and June and July months when they are lowest. During fall months, the cost builds up toward a winter high; during spring months it tends to taper toward the summer low.

At the same time, the farm price of milk does not change correspondingly. More variation occurs in the cost of producing milk than in the price received at the farm. In general, he points out, the price of milk does not fall so far below the yearly average in the summer, nor rise so high in the winter months.

If the yearly average cost is taken as 100 per cent, the highest producing cost is represented by 128, and the lowest by 54, whereas the farm price of milk is represented by a high of 115 and a low of 84.

Dr. Cunningham's figures are based on a study of 437 dairy farms in four representative dairy sections of New York state.

Skunks Useful

A farmer says: "The skunk is a shy animal and does no harm. I live on a farm and never have I been annoyed by skunks. Farmers claim they're destructive, but from my experience with them they're not. Occasionally they may destroy some personal property. I have had them under my barns and hen houses and I'm seldom bothered with rats. The skunks kill snakes, eat snake eggs, dig up cutworms, moles, mice and rats."

thence East one chain to a stake, thence N. 3 and 1-2 degs. E. 11.37 chs. to a stake in E. L. Smith's line; thence E. 3 and 1-2 degs. S. 10.60 chs. to a stake in W. J. Smith's line, thence S. 3 and 1-2 degs. W. 18.53 chs. to the beginning; containing twenty acres more or less, being Lot No. 7 in the division of the H. H. Saunders lands. Also another Lot No. 8, Beginning at a Cedar, Cedar Creek original corner, and running S. 84 degs. E. with Hendrix's line 7.85 chs. thence N. 3.17 chs.; thence N. 84 degs. W. 7.20 chs. to Cedar Creek, thence down and with the Creek to the beginning corner, containing 2 and 1-2 acres more or less, these being Lots Nos. 7 and 8 in the division of the H. H. Saunders lands and allotted to Josephine Sain situated in Farmington township near the village of Smith Grove, for full description of same see Deed Book No. 23, page 452 and 453 in Register of Deeds office of Davie county, N. C. G. L. WHITE, Mortgagee. By E. H. Morris, Atty.

Dingo Similar to Collie
The dingo is about the size and has something of the appearance of the collie. The color varies between reddish brown and black, with frequently white feet and tip of tail. The muzzle is pointed and the ears rather short and broad. The jaws are remarkable for their tremendous power, which enables the animal completely to tear away the flesh gripped in its bite and thus kill its prey largely by shock.

Robins Winter in U. S.
Robins winter in the southern states and in northern Mexico. They are to be seen in flocks in winter through in the Gulf states, and are often killed in great numbers there, as they are in very good condition in the winter season. The migratory instinct is not so strong in this bird as in some others, and it often remains in sheltered places all winter. Its attachment to familiar spots is very strong.

The Platte Country
The name Platte Country prior to 1854, was given to the territory stretching west from Missouri to the Rocky mountains, and which now comprises the states of Kansas and Nebraska. A bill was introduced in congress in 1854 by Douglas of Illinois for the organization of the territory, the slavery question to be determined by the inhabitants, in direct violation of the Missouri Compromise.

Notice To Creditors.

Having qualified as administrator of the estate of Betty E. Hodgson deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against deceased to present the same to the undersigned, duly verified, on or before the 20th day of March, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please call upon the undersigned and make prompt settlement.
J. M. STROUD,
Adm. of Betty E. Hodgson, dec'd
By GRANT & GRANT, Attys.

EVERYONE
In The Service Of Mankind Will Either Progress Or Go Backward.
Our High Standard Of Service Has Kept Us
Moving Steadily Forward.
PHONE 48
CAMPBELL-WALKER
FUNERAL HOME

Purebred Cattle Make Best Herds

Tests Made With Different Breeds of Dairy Cows Ample Proof.

By C. L. Blackman, Specialist in Animal Husbandry, Ohio State University, WNU Service.
Ability of purebred dairy cows to outdistance grades and mixed breeds in the production of milk and butterfat is emphasized in records from Ohio dairy improvement associations.

Production records of 10,320 cows were kept in the 32 associations which reported. The herds are divided into two classes, those with 15 cows or less and those with more than 15 cows, and the high producing herds in each class are listed. The individual production records of the 32 high cows out of the 10,320 also are given.

Twenty-three out of the first 30 herds in the small herd class were registered purebreds, as were nine out of the first 10 in this classification; 20 out of 32 herds in the large herd class were registered and 8 out of the first 10; and 26 out of 30 high-producing individuals were registered purebreds and 9 out of the first 10. Only 7 out of 92 of these high records were made by herds that were classified as of mixed breeding and in most of these cases the individual animals had a high percentage of the blood lines of some one acknowledged superior breed.

Perhaps not all the superiority as shown by these records was due to the animals themselves because owners of purebreds usually are prouder of their live stock and devote extra attention to the herd. Members of the association bought 48 purebred cows and 14 purebred bulls during one month.

Some cows of mixed breeding and some grade cows produce more milk and butterfat than some individual purebred cows but the records show that the chances of good production are much better with purebreds than with grade or scrub cattle. If this were not true all the work of farmers and scientists who have spent lifetimes in perfecting purebreds would have been wasted.

Dairymen who admire purebred cattle should remember that purebred dairy cattle originally were developed by farmers who worked for centuries to implant the good characteristics and to eliminate the undesirable features of their particular breed. Each breed came from a limited area where groups of breeders built up herds of cattle that would breed true to type.

Farm Dam as Conservator of Both Soil and Water

Soil conservation and water conservation go hand in hand, says the Conservation Service. For the cheapest and most practical small reservoir for the farm, it recommends an earthen dam. Such dams may be built across a drainage line or may enclose an artificial depression to be filled from a natural stream or drainage way. Most of the cost is for labor and equipment which a farmer usually can supply himself.

In building reservoirs and ponds for livestock the Soil Conservation Service declares too much emphasis cannot be placed on ample spillways, especially if the dam is located in a stream channel.

Watersheds overgrazed and subject to gully and sheet erosion, should be protected by vegetation before being used to fill a stock pond. Otherwise, eroded soil will rapidly reduce water storage capacity. If the watershed above the reservoir is too large there is danger of flood damage.

Steps suggested for keeping mud out of live stock reservoirs are reduction or abandonment of grazing and tillage in the watershed; settling basins, check-dams, or grassed waterways upstream from the dam and floodgates in a diversion ditch or pipe line that may be closed against mud-laden water.

Feeding Chopped Fodder

Chopped fodder should find a place in the winter ration for horses; however, one should not attempt to feed chopped fodder as the only forage in the ration, advises a writer in the Indiana Farmer's Guide. During the winter the best plan is to feed half alfalfa and half corn stover; fodder with the ears removed. There is no need to chop the stover for the animal as it will be consumed as satisfactorily in the unchopped form. Feed horses the alfalfa in the barn and at every available opportunity turn them out in the barnyard or adjacent lot where they will be given their allotment of corn stover. In this way the animals get sufficient exercise—a very valuable factor.

Treating Milk Cans

It is a very good practice to treat all milk cans that have been washed at the milk plant and returned to the farm, with a solution of chlorine just before they are again filled with milk, says E. R. Garrison, of the Missouri College of Agriculture. Even though the cans have been washed and steamed at the plant, considerable growth of the surviving bacteria will occur in the moisture left inside when the can stands with the lid on.

May we give you six dollars?

NOT in cash, of course. We're speaking of its equivalent. But here is something for you to consider: Every year this newspaper brings you at least three outstanding novels in serial form. Purchased as books each would cost not less than $2, making a total expenditure of at least $6 per year. Like yourself, we could find plenty of uses for that $6. Some member of the family is always in need of a new pair of shoes or some other necessity. But at the same time your requirements for good reading material must be met. By accepting these three novels each year we feel you are treating yourself to real enjoyment, at the same time giving your purse a substantial boost. These novels are a source of constant pride to us. Every year we select them from the season's most outstanding best sellers, offered in serial form by a large newspaper syndicate organization. We'd like to feel that you—as a subscriber—always look forward to reading the coming installment in the next issue. It gives us a great satisfaction to know that here is another reason why our paper is popular in the home. You are invited to begin reading our novels now. These regular brief bits of fiction will prove a delightful interlude from your work-a-day activities. And it will make us happy to know that you are getting enjoyment from them.

When you finish reading your copy of The Record, hand it to a neighbor and ask him to send in his subscription.

Mountain Beaver Moves Slowly
The American mountain beaver moves so slowly that a child can catch it.

Tahiti Tides Follow the Sun
Tides at Tahiti follow the sun instead of the moon, high at noon and low at midnight.

Executor's Notice.
Having qualified as executor of the estate of Mrs. Lula McCulloch, late of Davie county, North Carolina, notice is hereby given all persons holding claims against the said estate to present them to the undersigned on or before the 15th day of January, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate, will please make immediate payment. This Feb. 10th, 1937. O. G. ALLEN, Exr. Mrs. Lula McCulloch, Dec'd. 412 N. Spruce St. Winston Salem, N. C.

DR. R. P. ANDERSON
DENTIST
Anderson Building
Mocksville, N. C.
Office 50 - Phone - Residence 37

Administrator's Notice!
Having qualified as administrator of the late Miss Margaret Myers, of Shady Grove township, Davie county, notice is hereby given all persons having claims against the said estate, to present them to the undersigned on or before Jan. 12, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make immediate payment. This Jan. 12, 1937. G. B. MYERS, Admr. Miss Margaret Myers, Dec'd

666 checks COLDS and FEVER first day
LIQUID, TABLETS SALVE, NOSE DROPS Headache 30 minutes
Try "Rub-My-Tim"—World's Best Liniment

BEST IN RADIOS
YOUNG RADIO CO.
MOCKSVILLE, N. C.
BEST IN SUPPLIES

WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY
ON YOUR ENVELOPES, LETTER HEADS, STATEMENTS, PACKET HEADS, CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, ETC. GET OUR PRICES FIRST.
THE DAVIE RECORD

If you want a 1937 Blum's Almanac free, you had better subscribe or renew your subscription soon.

LIST YOUR PROPERTY Give In Your Poll NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

That the listakers for the various townships of Davie County will sit at the various listing places during the month of April, at which places and in which month all property owners and tax payers in said townships are required to return to the Listakers for taxation, for the year 1937 all the Real Estate, Personal Property, etc., which each one shall on the first day of April, or shall be required to give in then. All male persons between the ages of 21 and 50 years are to list their polls during the same time. Return of Property and giving in of polls are required under the pains and penalties imposed by law.

Person's who shall have been exempted from the payment of poll tax will, when they come to list, be required to exhibit a certificate of the Commissioners. Those who have, through mistake surrender, lost, or have mislaid their certificates of exemption, should make application for other exemptions at the April or May meeting of the board. This certificate of exemption is to be kept by the person exempted. When you come to list ask the undersigned to show you list of exempted.

All persons who are liable for poll tax, and fail to give themselves in, and all own property and fail to list it will be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, fined or imprisoned.

Blanks upon which a verified statement of property is to be made by each taxpayer can be had of the undersigned. Fill in these blanks and see to it that statements be free from error, thereby obviating much trouble. Only female and non-residence of township and persons physically unable to attend and file their list can appoint agents to list property.

A failure to list will subject you to DOUBLE TAX.
Examine your list before signing.
It is also required that you make a crop report at the time of listing. Don't fail to do this.

D. R. STROUD,
Tax Supervisor.

The Davie Record.

"HERE SHALL THE PRESS, THE PEOPLE'S RIGHTS MAINTAIN, UNAWAYED BY INFLUENCE AND UNERIBED BY GAIN."

VOLUME XXXVIII.

MOCKSVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 21, 1937.

NUMBER 37

NEWS OF LONG AGO.

What Was Happening In Davie Before The New Deal Used Up The Alphabet, Drowned The Hogs and Plowed Up The Cotton and Corn.

(Davie Record, April 14, 1915.)
 J. L. Sheek made a business trip to Charlotte Tuesday.
 John L. Foster, of County Line, was in town Monday on business.
 C. A. Orrell, of Lexington, was a business visitor here Saturday.
 Rev. B. F. Rollins, of Harmony, was in town Saturday shaking hands with friends.
 C. A. Reynolds, of Winston, was in town Thursday on business.
 Miss Annie Allison spent Wednesday in Winston shopping.
 S. A. Woodruff has been appointed tax assessor for Davie county.
 Several of our citizens went to Salisbury Monday to see Sparks circus.
 H. M. Harris, of Ephesus, was in town last week on his way to Statesville and Salisbury.
 Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fry are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine son at their home on April 7th.
 Miss Kate Robinson, of Franklin, is visiting in town the guest of Miss Marie Allison.
 The highway from Mocksville to Winston is completed with the exception of Dutchman Creek bridge and a small amount of road between here and the Farmington township line.
 Miss Era Hendricks, of Cana, who has been teaching in Forsyth county was in town Thursday on her way home.
 J. F. Moore has purchased from C. C. Sanford Sons Co., a five passenger Ford car.
 Miss Elizabeth Harding, of Farmington, won the State gold medal in the recitation contest of the West Central Division of the State high schools at Davidson College, on April 10th.
 Mrs. W. A. Owen returned Thursday from Charlotte where she went to see Mr. Owen, who is in a hospital there. The friends of Mr. Owen will be glad to know that he is improving.
 Lee Rudd, of Winston, and Miss Mary Ellis, of Mocksville, were united in marriage Sunday at the home of the bride's parents. They will make their home in Winston.
 The Jericho school made the best appearance in the county commencement parade staged here last week. All the young ladies were dressed in blue with white collars and cuffs, and the little girls were dressed in white. All the boys were dressed in overalls.
 J. R. Kurfees, of near Holman's, died Saturday night at 11 o'clock after a short illness, aged 77 years. Mr. Kurfees is survived by three sisters and three brothers, two daughters and four sons. The body was laid to rest at Center Monday afternoon, with Rev. P. L. Shore conducting the funeral services. Mr. Kurfees was a Confederate veteran.
 W. H. Brewbaker died at his home at Fork Church Friday morning. Mr. Brewbaker had been ill for many months with tuberculosis. His wife and two small children survive. The body was laid to rest at Fork Church Saturday afternoon.
 Register of deeds J. S. Daniel has purchased two lots on Maple avenue from Sheriff Sprinkle and will erect thereon a new house this spring. Several nice residences have already been erected on this avenue.
 The Merchants & Farmers Bank of Mocksville, at their first annual meeting Tuesday, declared a six per cent dividend. All the old officers were re-elected.

Facts, Not Oratory.

Sevierville Vindicator.
 Two outstanding arguments are heard from those who would remodel the Supreme Court just for the sake of keeping the record straight, let's take a look at those arguments.
 1. That five to four court decisions are numerous.
 2. That the Supreme Court has usurped into itself a "veto" power over legislation.
 The first argument is plainly unsound. Since it was first formed, the Supreme Court has considered more than 40,000 cases. In only 77 instances have acts of Congress been declared unconstitutional and there have been only 11 five-to-four decisions out of that 77.
 Second, a Presidential "veto" means that the Chief Executive, for any reason whatsoever, and without hearing any arguments or explaining his reasons, may refuse to sign a bill. The Supreme Court certainly cannot, and does not, do that.
 As for "usurping" the power to declare acts of Congress invalid, nothing is more certain than that members of the Constitutional Convention INTENDED to give it that power. In all the state conventions called to ratify the Constitution, this power was recognized and asserted.
 Alexander Hamilton, in 1787, put it in this language:
 "A constitution is, in fact, and must be regarded by the judges as a fundamental law. It therefore belongs to them to ascertain its meaning, as well as the meaning of any particular act proceeding from the legislative body. If there should happen to be an irreconcilable variance between the two, that which has the superior obligation and validity ought, of course, to be preferred; or, in other words, the Constitution ought to be preferred to the statute, the intention of the People to the intention of their agents."
Just As We Expected.
 Governor Hoey has been in office three months and so far has set aside the edict of the courts and although several men have been sentenced to death he has not allowed a single execution during his term of office so far. He finds some excuse to prolong the execution of the felons and sets aside the orders of the courts. It makes no difference if the culprit has had a fair trial in the Superior court and the Supreme court has found no error along comes the chief justice of the High Court of Annulment and tells Hoey that he hasn't had time to study the case and Hoey prolongs the sentence. Why does this "Bevo" Governor have to review these cases? We thought it was the province of the Supreme Court. Several years ago a man was elected Governor of a western State who was opposed to capital punishment and during his entire four-year term of office he kept the law from being carried out and not a single murderer, arsonist, rapist, or burglar was executed during his reign. Are we to have the same state of affairs during the regime of the long haired Sunday school teacher from Shelby?—Ex.
Caira, Pile of Rocks
 A cairn is a pile of rocks or a rocky place. Brae means a hillside or brow of a hill. The rocky brow of a hill is implied in the name Cairn Brae.
No Tribute to Great Britain
 Canada does not pay a tax to the British government. Since the British North American Act, proclaimed July 1, 1867, the Canadian government, like those of the other Dominions, has become more self-reliant and independent, until now it has scarcely any other legal link with the United Kingdom than the fact that each acknowledges the same king.

Poor Old Turnip.

We have a good friend way up in New York state, the home of Delano, Eleanor and Jim Farley. This friend is named Smith—in fact his name is John Smith, which is nothing unusual, as we have many John Smith's in Davie. Mr. Smith, of New York state, wrote us a letter a few days ago, sending us a half dozen metal tags that had been removed from Canadian crates containing turnips that are being imported from Canada to the United States in competition to the good old North Carolina turnip that, under Republican administrations, found their way to feed the hungry Empire state turnip eaters. Mr. Smith asks us to distribute these tags among our friends who voted for Roosevelt last November. He says they will enjoy wearing these Canadian tags as badges of honor. He winds up his letter by saying that he is hungry for a good mess of North Carolina turnips flavored with a hunk of fat meat. He says the turnips grown in this state are second to none in flavor and quality.
 Come down, Brother Smith, and we will feed you all the Tar Heel turnips and hog jowl that you can stand up under.
Forgotten Promises.
 (From Bridgeport Post)
 In the first place, he campaigned only a few months ago on the Democratic platform which made no mention of court packing but specifically promised the process of orderly amendment. The President had hardly taken office before he threw this portion of his platform into the waste basket.
 He—and his apologists—assume that having been elected by an overwhelming majority he has "mandate" to do something which he specifically promised not to do. Could any assumption be more unwarranted? Since so many seem to have forgotten it, we here quote verbatim what the Democratic platform said about the Constitution:
 "If these problems cannot be effectively solved by legislation within the Constitution we shall seek such clarifying amendments as will assure to the legislatures of the several states and the Congress of the United States each within its proper jurisdiction, the power to enact those laws which the state and federal legislatures within their respective spheres shall find necessary in order adequately to regulate commerce, protect public health and safety and safeguard economic security. Thus we propose to maintain the letter and the spirit of the Constitution."
 President Roosevelt has been implored by many of his own friends and by the liberals of both parties to adhere to this promise. He refuses to do so, and purposes instead to pack the Supreme Court to destroy its effectiveness and in order to do doing to destroy both the letter and the spirit of the Constitution.
The Record is only $1.

Life Begins At Forty.

The brethren of the newspaper fraternity in North Carolina will be interested in the announcement of change in ownership of the Winston Salem Journal and Sentinel which comes on the occasion of the Journal's fortieth birthday.
 Rumor had it that a new person would be competing with the present newspaper set-up in Winston Salem. It required a stretch of the imagination to say that there was a field in that city for another paper of the Journal's excellence, and certainly a makeshift would have answered no good purpose.
 What might have been a costly fight, and one that conceivably would have resulted in no particular good for the community, has been averted in the purchase of the Journal Sentinel by Gordon Gray and associates. His newspaper friends as well as other admirers in the State will be glad to learn that Sanford Martin is to remain at the helm as editor. He will, of course, continue to keep The Journal well up front with the State's leading newspapers.
 It is fortunate for all concerned in the newspaper situation in Winston Salem that they were able to get together on a basis that will eliminate a newspaper war. Competition is the life of trade but all too often when it is employed in the newspaper field, a division of the sometimes meager available business serves to hamper the fullest possible service, and thus becomes a community hindrance instead of a help.—Statesville Daily.
Strikes Against Relief.
 Public Works Administrator Somervell, of New York City, commenting on current and threatened strikes of relief workers, says:
 "You cannot strike against taking relief from the Government. Anyone that does not wish to accept this relief does not have to."
 He is both right and wrong. No one must accept relief. But there are strikes.
 The situation to which Mr. Somervell refers is an example of the strangely complex problem the administration of relief has become.
 Strikes Against relief would be less strange if the protests were made by those who carry the burdens of relief.
 That they are the protests of those getting relief, of those reduced to the necessity of accepting it, is the major complexity.
 The nation needs an answer to the question:
What is Relief?
 In the beginning, it was an emergency provision for bridging the interlude between the collapse of a man's ability to support himself and the Earliest Possible restoration of his ability to do that.
 The Government rightfully assumed the responsibility of feeding the hungry, sheltering the homeless, clothing the destitute.
 But the Government never intended, nor did the people expect, that subsistence on relief should be productive of a higher standard of living than an individual could normally achieve by his own efforts.
 If Relief is to be made Preferable to the resumption of Self-Support, it is no longer a problem of Relief with which the nation is dealing, but a problem of Permanent Government Support of all people who demand it.
 The dols has apparently drugged some of our people to that extent. The ultimate result of the relief strikes will prove how thoroughly we are saturated with the Drug Of The Dole.—Washington Herald.
Queen bees may be shipped by air mail. However, baby chicks are barred, since they can not stand the high altitudes.
 Total slaughter of cattle and calves in the United States is expected to be smaller in 1937 than for either of the preceding two years.

The Red Flag Flung Out.

The National Economy League is eternally right—Federal spending has become top heavy to the point of danger and the time is at hand for the Administration to apply the brakes and diligently set itself to the task of adjusting public expenditures to public revenues, to the ultimate end of shaving the present National debt down from its present serious proportions.
 The Red Flag Has Been Hung Out In This Field For Some Weeks. The Economy League merely gives it another more lusty swing. Marriner Eccles, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, first broke the news that the financial status of the government was not what it ought to be, and that the danger of inflation was imminent.
 Since then members of the President's official family have sounded notes of alarm to the same effect, and even Mr. Roosevelt himself leapt in his press conference last week intimating that, in his own mind, the situation required some immediate adjustment.
 The National debt, now standing at the highest peak in the nation's history, either in times of war or peace figures prominently in the prospects that an era of inflation is about to descend upon us.
 Unless the government immediately goes about reducing its expenditures, that debt must, inevitably, become higher, and the more that is added to the load now being carried, even though the addition be featherweight in nature, the more imminently looms the danger that at last the final straw may be added that will break the camel's back.—Charlotte Observer.
What Would You Do If Cow Ate Up $16.
 What would you do if the trusting old family cow that had raised your babies suddenly "snatched" a billfold containing $16 from your hip pocket, swallowed it around in her mouth a time or two like it was a juicy roasting ear and then swallowed it?
 What would you do? What would Dr. J. H. Pressly do? What would anybody do? Here is what a south Ireland man did. He rushed like a fire truck to the nearest butcher and seized him by the arm, stating that he wanted him to rush post-haste and pell mell to his house and kill his cow before she had time to belch up his money, chew it into shreds and digest it.
 Our informant didn't hear the sequel to the episode but it is assumed that "Bossy" died an inglorious death, that the man recovered his money and that people had beefsteak to eat flavored with some of Uncle Sam's much-coveted green-back.
 Sixteen dollars on top of the price of a beef isn't to be sneezed at and beats juicing "Bossy" any day, with feeding prices mounting like they are.—Statesville Daily.
Artesian wells first in Artios
 Artesian wells are named from artium, the Latin name for the province of Artios in France, where such wells came into use centuries ago.

A Few Republicans Left

Not every knee has bowed to Baal, neither has every tongue confessed the glory and majesty of Franklin D. and the New Deal. The New York General Assembly composed of 150 members was nearly equally divided between the Republicans and New Dealers. There were 76 Republicans and 74 New Dealers. It took 76 votes to pass a bill. In February one of the Republican Representatives died leaving the standing 75 Republicans and 74 New Dealers. Neither party having a majority all controversial legislation was held up. But Thursday a special election to fill the vacancy was held in Syracuse and Frank J. Costello, Republican, won out over William Disque, New Dealer, by a majority of 10,956 over the New Dealer and Socialist candidate. This will again give the Republicans a working constitutional majority in the General Assembly. Looks like there are still a few Republicans left in Old Syracuse.—Ex.
Another Name To State Civil Pension List.
 A few years back a civil pension list was unheard of in North Carolina but once the movement got started, like a snowball it gained momentum and at every meeting of the Legislature the list is added to.
 We have just learned that the late Legislature added the name of Dr. E. McK. Goodwin, superintendent for the School for the Deaf, at Morganton, to this list, and as soon as approved by the board of directors Dr. Goodwin will become superintendent emeritus of that institution on a pension of $3,000 a year.
 Dr. Goodwin has been superintendent of the school since its establishment 43 years ago, and nine years before that time was a teacher in a state school at Raleigh making 52 years all told that he has held a portion of this kind at a good salary. He is now past 70 years of age and just a few years ago he installed his son-in-law as assistant superintendent at the Morganton school. All during the years that Dr. Goodwin has been at the head of the school he has had a mansion on the grounds in which he and his family lived, rent free, was provided with food and other accessories from the school farm and now he is added to the state civil pension list, to be paid by the taxpayers of the state.
 If Dr. Goodwin is to be pensioned will it not establish a precedent for the heads of other state institutions, members of the faculty and eventually we may have an army of state civil pensioners that will be staggering.—Union Republican.
Two Proper Investigations.
 Two statements were made simultaneously in the House of Representatives on March 22 that reflect the growing consciousness in this country of a grave double national danger that Does Not Threaten From Without.
 Representative Schulte of Indiana of the House Rules Committee, asked his committee to approve a resolution for a House investigation of propaganda against the American form of government.
 "There Is No Question," said Mr. Schulte, "That Communism Is Creeping Into Labor Organizations And Fomenting Unrest."
 Almost at the same time that Representative Schulte was making his statement Representative Dies, of Texas, introduced a resolution in the House to investigate sit-down strikes, their causes and effects.
 Mr. Dies declared that the "Spread Of Lawlessness Will Wreck The Country."—Washington Herald.

WE BELIEVE That We Have Established Ourselves Firmly In The Confidence Of A Discriminating Public, Appreciative Of Tact And Fairness. PHONE 48 CAMPBELL-WALKER FUNERAL HOME

Notice To Creditors.
 Having qualified as administratrix, with the will annexed, of J. P. Green, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against the estate of said deceased to present the same, duly verified, to the undersigned at Box 1144, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, or GRANT & GRANT, Attorneys, Mocksville, North Carolina, on or before the 12th day of April, 1937, or this notice will be plead in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please call upon the undersigned or the above named attorneys, and make settlement without delay.
 This the 12th day of April, 1937.
 MAY GREEN, Administratrix, C. T. A., of J. P. Green, dec'd.
 GRANT & GRANT, Attorneys.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Franco Combating Revolt in Spanish Fascist Army— Developments in Labor Situation—President's Farm Purchase Plan Opposed.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
© Western Newspaper Union

GENERAL FRANCO'S revolution in Spain, already checked by serious defeats on both the northern and the southern fronts, was further embarrassed by spreading revolt among the Fascist troops. His agents uncovered the plot and numerous arrests were speedily followed by numerous executions by firing squads. The mutiny first broke out in Spanish Morocco, and Franco himself hurried there by plane. There were persistent reports that 1,000 Italian soldiers had been landed at Ceuta and were being used to crush the mutiny. This was denied by the Fascist high commissioner of Morocco.

Gen. Franco

More than 100 high-ranking officers, most of them belonging to the air force, were said to have been implicated in the plot which was seemingly laid in all parts of Spanish Morocco and the southern tip of European Spain. Government troops were said to be pushing back toward Cordoba the Fascist forces which were trying to break through for capture of the rich coal and mineral territory about Pozoblanco. The insurgent army there, alleged to include 10,000 Italians and Germans, was in danger of being surrounded and annihilated.

Great Britain and France officially warned Franco that they would no longer tolerate the stopping and searching of British and French merchant vessels by his warships.

DEADLOCK over a new wage agreement brought about a walkout of soft coal miners in the Pennsylvania and West Virginia fields and its spread to other fields was certain unless the controversy were settled. The mine operators and officials of the United Mine Workers of America have been long in negotiation, with John L. Lewis dictating the stand taken by the latter. Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, was trying hard to help bring about a settlement and kept the White House informed of developments. Maintenance men were ordered to stand by in the mines, but about 400,000 men quit work.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT discussed the labor situation with Secretary Perkins and Sidney Hillman, chief organizer of the C. I. O. drive to unionize the textile workers. Hillman told him he was hopeful the problems of the textile industry could be settled by co-operation and arbitration, and it was reported that he promised the textile workers would not attempt to use the sidestrike strike.

Senator Wagner of New York delivered an address in the senate on the sidestrike situation, charging that the blame of it rested on a few giant corporations which, he said, have "hamstrung" the labor relations board by invoking injunctions in the courts and "who have openly banded together to defy" the labor relations law.

Deriding the call for new federal legislation to meet the crisis, Senator Wagner declared that "the lack of power in the federal government to enforce the labor relations act and not any weakness in existing law is the root cause for the present economic warfare."

Representative Martin Dies of Texas appeared before the house rules committee and urged action on his resolution for a congressional investigation of the strike situation. He again called upon the President to intervene and pointed to section 5299 of the revised United States statutes as giving the chief executive authority to take action in the event of such an occurrence as the Chrysler strike.

The continued silence of the President on the issue is "ominous," Representative Charles L. Gifford of Massachusetts told the house. He warned the President against the rise to power of John L. Lewis. Negotiations for settlement of the General Motors strike were progressing slowly, and officials of the corporation said that 10,100 employees were idle in four plants because of strikes in Pontiac and Flint, Mich.

UNDER pressure from his advisers to take a public stand concerning the sit-down strike, President Roosevelt immediately after his return from Warm Springs held a conference with Vice President Garner, Senate Majority Leader Joe Robinson, Speaker Bankhead and House Majority Leader Sam Rayburn. At its close Senator Robinson, presumably voicing Mr. Roosevelt's views, said:

"The government cannot initiate action under the circumstances thus far presented. It is felt that the sit-down strike situation in a general sense is improving."

"There are two conditions under which federal action may be invoked in case of acute strike conditions; namely where federal laws have been violated or where federal property, including the mails, is interfered with."

"Unless one of these conditions exists, federal intervention or action, under the Constitution and decision of the courts, is not warranted. The second condition is cases where state authorities, under the federal law, ask the services of federal agencies in the preservation of law and order and in the prevention of violence."

"Neither condition has so far arisen. Except in instances where interstate commerce is interfered with, where a federal law is disregarded, the federal government does not, and cannot under the Constitution, initiate action."

SEVEN Democrats joined the six Republicans on the house agriculture committee and disapproved the President's proposal to allot $50,000,000 to assist farm tenants to buy farms on easy credit terms. This majority of the committee objected to the program because it would put the government into the real estate business. The proposition is contained in one section of the farm tenant bill and would authorize the secretary of agriculture to buy farms for resale to tenants on terms that would give them as long as 45 years to pay. The interest rate would be 3 per cent. Sponsors of the measure probably will try to get it through the senate, and after house refusal to agree it would then go to conference.

Only the day before the President had given out his farm tenancy program as follows:

- Continuation of rehabilitation loans, most of which would go to people living on land which the government believes can be made to pay.
- Purchase of submarginal land so that it can be taken out of cultivation and put into timber or grasses.
- Federal purchase of land for resettlement of families taken off submarginal land and purchase of tenant farms to give tenants a chance to own the land they are tilling.

SENATOR GEORGE NORRIS of Nebraska is intent on his plan for the creation of a national power authority similar to the Tennessee Valley authority, and he intends to introduce a bill for this during the present session of congress. This he announced after conferring with the President, and he intimated the idea was approved by Mr. Roosevelt. He has experts at work investigating its feasibility and mapping out the details.

"All rivers of the United States should be controlled by the nation if their nature is subject to it by national flood control policy," the senator said. "Whenever the river will develop power, we should take advantage of it. I've always regarded power as a subsidiary or by-product of flood control."

A LINK with a past era was broken by the death in Washington of Mrs. Robert Todd Lincoln at the age of ninety years. She was the daughter-in-law of President Lincoln and the mother and grandmother of his only living descendant, Mrs. Charles Isham, Mrs. Jessie Randolph and their three children. Mrs. Lincoln was the daughter of James Harlan, who was a senator from Iowa and later secretary of the interior. In 1868 she married Robert Todd Lincoln, the martyred President's son. In the administrations of Presidents Garfield and Arthur her husband served as secretary of war, and under President Benjamin Harrison, he served as minister to England. Afterward he was general counsel and then president of the Pullman company.

DICTATOR JOSEPH STALIN of Russia, in his official capacity as secretary of the central committee of the Communist party, demands a new purge of the party, so we probably will read soon of another mass execution of hundreds under arrest. "I think it is clear," said Stalin, "that the present wreckers and diversionists—no matter whether they have masked themselves under the flag of Trotskyism or Bukharinism—have lost their influence in the worker's movement and have become simply an unprincipled and idealless band of professional-wreckers, diversionists, spies and murderers."

"It is quite clear these gentlemen should be destroyed, exterminated mercilessly as enemies of the working class and enemies of our country."

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

Departed Spirits. SANTA MONICA, CALIF.— Continued failure of mediums to claim the reward offered by the late Harry Houdini, who provided a test for proof of communication with the spirit world, makes me think of a thing that happened at the first seance ever held down in my neck of the woods.

The operator was summoning the spirits of departed dear ones to order. A lanky youth out of the bottoms desired to speak with his father.

Presently, a shadowy figure appeared between the cabinet's dark curtains and a voice uttered muffled sounds.

"Is that you, Paw?" inquired the seeker.

"Yes, son," answered the voice.

"Paw, air you in heaven?"

Seemingly startled, the ghostly apparition hesitated a moment before giving what might be taken for an affirmative sound.

"Paw, air you an angel?" demanded the son.

Again an embarrassing delay, then a diffident mumble.

"A regular angel with wings and everything?"

"Once more a low grunt. 'Say, Paw,' cried the youth, perking up, 'what do you measure from tip to tip?'"

Matrimonial Adventures. HERETOFORE some of the authorities have held that the first two years were the hardest in matrimonial adventures, but the peak of the danger period for married couples is now set at the sixth year by Los Angeles city attorney. On the side he runs a bureau for handling the funds assessed for family support against separated or delinquent parents. So he ought to know about it, if anybody does.

Well, personally, I always did have the theory that no woman could stand any man for more than five years unless she got numb. After that it's just a long-distance endurance test on her side—and perhaps sometimes on both sides.

Senatorial Shifts. NAMING no names, a little bird just in from Washington whispers that one senator, under the influence of alternating psychic waves or something, already has shifted three times on the plan to make the Supreme court over. First he was against it, then for it, then against it again, and is now threatening to change once more. They're talking bets on him at Lloyd's next.

Once in a while we get a statesman who reminds you of a hunk of country butter in an icebox—takes the flavor of everything near by, but not improved by any one of 'em.

Maine's Statesmen. THERE is but one answer to the attitude assumed by both of Maine's senators, who show a pronounced inclination to balk at whatever the New Deal calls for in congress and especially at the plan to mold the Supreme court somewhat closer to the boy scout model.

If these here foreigners don't like this country, why don't they go back where they came from?

The Game of Poker. CALIFORNIA'S attorney general decides that draw poker, unless played as a percentage game, is not gambling.

Had he gone deeper into the subject, he might have ruled that draw poker, as generally played nowadays, is not even a game. What veteran would call it anything except a sacrilege against an ancient and once honorable sport when folks are free to introduce at will such abominations as deuces wild or one-eyed jacks or barber's itch or spit in the ocean?

To draw honest cards; to try to play the other fellow's chances as well as your own; to try to figure when to raise and when to call and when to quit; to try to pick the right moment for bluffing, since the bluff is the real soul of the thing—that's poker, my masters, an American-born pastime, hallowed with age, ennobled by usage, beloved of the fathers.

IRVIN S. COBB.
© WNU Service.

"Seeing" Bridge. The only bridge in the world that can "see" has been completed at Kincairdine, Scotland. Equipped with three electric "eyes," the huge swinging center span automatically aligns itself with the roadway when closed. All three "eyes" are located on one end of the swinging span, says the Washington Post. One sees the span does not overshoot the mark, another that it does not undershoot, and the third watches for the dead central position. The 1,500-ton span is so delicately poised on the central pivot that only two 60-horsepower electric motors are needed to swing it open to river traffic.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted By WILLIAM BRUCKART
NATIONAL PRESS BLDG. WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington—Throughout history, unsound economic policies have had a way of demonstrating their unsoundness by the results that eventually become understandable to the rank and file of the people. Likewise, throughout history the rank and file of the people have learned their lesson each time and have avoided burning their fingers a second time. That is, fingers were not burned a second time until a new generation came along and refused to examine and take into account the lessons of experience.

Lately, we have seen another such demonstration. We have seen both the results and the refusal of current leaders to profit by experiences of the past.

I refer particularly to conditions involving United States bonds. Those who have followed market quotations must recognize that United States bonds and other securities issued by the treasury have suffered from fluctuations in prices that portend, if indeed, they do not prove that federal financial policies of the last four years were unsound. There was propaganda from official quarters during one of the periods of sagging prices that the condition resulted from market manipulations and the activities of "tipsters." Stories to this effect came directly out of the treasury although they did not carry the identity of the official who made the statements.

The whole circumstance must be considered together, however, if one is to arrive at any sort of a conclusion concerning the true state of affairs. One must think of the total amount of government securities outstanding—something like thirty-four-billion—and one must recognize as well what is going on in commerce and industry. In addition to these factors, attention must be given to conditions of the last several years when the Roosevelt administration was engaged—and still is engaged—in the greatest orgy of spending that our nation ever has known. When you add up these various factors, you get an answer which seems to me to be irrefutable.

In the first place, no nation nor any of its individuals can go on indefinitely spending money when it does not have that money. That is, come over any extended period without suffering bad results. Our nation did that. It made up the difference between its income and its spending by borrowing. It gave government bonds to those from whom it borrowed, evidence of its debt. The immediate result of this condition was that there are millions upon millions of government bonds held by banks, corporations and individuals. These bonds bear an exceedingly low rate of interest.

It is only natural that anyone with money to lend will look for the highest interest rate they can get. If they happen to hold government bonds, those bonds will be dumped in favor of securities paying higher returns. That has happened to some extent already.

It is to be remembered as well that these bonds were issued in the currency of the devalued dollar, the fifty-nine cent dollar as measured by the value of gold.

Now, the law of supply and demand which always operates and which always will operate places a basic value upon commodities, upon the services of labor. It is operating again and has brought about a greater demand for commodities, the things we need to eat or to wear and the countless items of modern day living. The prices of these, measured in present currency, are higher because it takes almost two of the present day dollars to buy the same quantity as formerly could be purchased with the dollar that was good for one-hundred cents in gold. The answer to this is that most of us can not help regarding gold as a commodity having a stable value. So, we see a result in this direction.

Labor, too, is demanding more of the fifty-nine cent dollars for its share of production. It has a right to do so. If you measure wages as you measure commodity values, and it seems to me there can be only one yardstick, then labor is justified in asking for higher pay. Again, a result of tinkering with the currency becomes evident because labor is forced to pay more for what it buys as a result of the reduction in the dollar's gold value.

Then, finally, I am quite convinced that in addition to the factors I have discussed as having weight in causing fluctuation of government bond prices, no one can deny the influence that is being exerted by the radical labor element throughout the strikes that have been promoted.

These strikes have done more than just violate law by unjustified and unwarranted seizure of the property of other persons. They have developed among the strikers themselves a resentment against everyone who owns a farm or a home or a business.

The tragedy of this condition, to leave the subject of currency for a moment, is that the strikes show how little respect for law and order exists among a segment of our population. It is not only a tragedy. It is a dangerous sign and unless somewhere in our nation, government asserts its authority and protects rights, we may possibly be faced with a circumstance in which our nation will be held together again only by use of army guns.

To get back then to the bond market it seems to me there is a closely knit skein of conditions that prove where our government has gone into unsound ground. It can be pointed out how the tinkering with the currency has carried through to the ultimate consumer and the wage worker. It can be shown how the national government has disregarded the rights of part of the population and favored another part of the population and in doing so has created a class hatred which is liable to cause trouble in the nation for the next fifty years.

Notwithstanding the lessons to be learned from these experiences we observe how the same mistake is being made in another way. I refer now to the attitude of administration leaders who are supporting President Roosevelt's program to add six justices of his own choosing to the Supreme court of the United States. Throughout the argument that has come from proponents of the President's packing plan there runs a constant and recurring appeal that if we can only have six new justices in the Supreme court we can do all of the things that are necessary to bring about labor peace and complete business recovery.

Disregarding the merit or demerit of this argument, it seems to me one cannot help looking somewhat into the future and determining on the basis of experience of the past what may happen if the Supreme court is emasculated as the President proposes.

I said earlier in this article that there has grown up a tremendous disrespect for law. The continued prattle about the necessity for "new blood" in the Supreme court is simply and frankly another step in the direction of a government by men and not a government by law.

It is to be recalled that Mr. Roosevelt was given by his rubber stamp congress more power than any President of the United States ever has exercised before. I do not make the charge that the difficulties that I have attempted to analyze, above resulted directly from according the Chief Executive so much power. But history surely teaches the lesson that where one man has so much power available, he always makes more mistakes than where that power is exercised by the properly appointed or elected representatives of the masses of the people.

I recall a homely saying, often heard in my youth, that two heads are better than one even though one may be a cabbage head. I am quite convinced that the 435 members of the house of representatives and the 96 members of the senate have more wisdom collectively than one man.

Adverting again to the questions of currency and prices, we have only to look across the Atlantic ocean and see what happened in Italy, in Russia and in Germany where one man attempted to establish his own ideas on the currency. From what I have heard from official sources, it must be true that in those three countries I mentioned, there are billions of pieces of paper money that are worth altogether little more than the cash value of the paper on your walls. It always has worked out that way.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Shining Saucepans—Aluminum saucepans that have become discolored inside can be made to look like new by boiling in them water to which a tablespoonful of vinegar and some apple parings or lemon rinds have been added.

Useful Velvet—If you are making anything of velvet do not throw away the pieces of material left over. Save them for using as polishers for your black-leaded stoves and for your shoes. You'll get a real mirror-like shine on both if you rub them with velvet after the usual polish has been applied.

Removing Tea Stains—Tea and coffee stains can sometimes be removed from china cups by rubbing them with a damp cloth dipped in baking soda.

To Remove a Tight Lid—Tie a piece of string round the tin two or three times, just below the lid, then push a pencil between the string and the tin, twist the pencil over, and the resulting pressure will release the lid.

Use Baking Sheets—Baking powder biscuits and cookies rise better and brown more evenly on baking sheets than they do in pans.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are an effective laxative. Sugar coated. Children like them. Buy now!—Adv.

Talent and Genius—Talent is that which is in a man's power. Genius is that in whose power a man is.—Lowell.

REMEMBER THIS CROSS

IT MEANS FAST RELIEF

15c for 12 FULL DOZEN FOR 3c

BAYER ASPIRIN

Essential Victories—Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for humanity.—Horace Mann.

"Black Leaf 40"

KILLS INSECTS ON FLOWERS • FRUITS VEGETABLES & SHRUBS

Demand original sealed bottles, from your dealer

A Base Possession—The wavering mind is but a base possession.—Euripides.

Remember This When You Need a Laxative

It is better for you if your body keeps working as Nature intended. Food wastes after digestion should be eliminated every day. When you get constipated, take a dose or two of purely vegetable Black-Draught for prompt, refreshing relief.

BLACK-DRAUGHT
A GOOD LAXATIVE

In the Strength of Youth

It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.

Children's Chest Colds
Tonight rub your child's chest and throat with Penetro. Helps loosen mucus and congestion under the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

PENETRO

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of all poisons and waste. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter. The kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Any ailment the country ever had, is cured by Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

DOAN'S PILLS

W H I
M
By WH
C making debutan actresse stage, leaked
David S had alre about w in "Gon
Miriam let, Clar
Gaynor
Melanie,
Ashley,
Jesse. Un in New Y girls will play sup
the Wind
That c lined up
Cary G quiste c
tance, an Mowbray
the hilar were pla posing c command
A curr likes, an enthusias
R K O pic
There is that will your thea and if yo gasp, yo in the pr plays th girl, you Flint who ance as A few the lowes actress horse."' used to but wait stop pra clothes.
I wood dress m top drar and Lui roles, bu fashion-s producti
Fruits
ros and shown e regions o
The pict big city ers, dran on a typ thousand etables of dolla every ye Lisit
soon see Town."' voice with shout sw with Ab best wh but swi ability t
"Seven in Holly one agr brings n
Jimmy S to Simo to thoug and app role th
Janet G
Simone
the prev
a hair r a demu over he and was ably ne she fidge coat, her all even by Anton at no on ODDS at the Pa watches
Just to be an alarm Sea"
The airlin air-comm has two o off to Chi Pryor, wh
Martene electrism brings su cookies to

INTEREST TO HOUSEWIFE

Aluminum have become dis- made to look g in them water spoonful of vine- people parings or been added.

If you are mak- velvet do not ces of material hem for using as ur black-leaded ur shoes. You'll -like shine on hem with velvet polish has been Stains—Tea and sometimes be na cups by rub- a damp cloth oda.

Light Lid—Tie a urd the tin two t below the lid; cil between the , twist the pen- resulting pres- the lid.

heets — Baking and cookies rise more evenly on an they do in nt Pellets are an Sugar coated. Buy now!—Adv.

Genius which is in a genius is that in an is.—Lowell.

ER THIS SS

ST RELIEF 15c FOR 12 2 FULL DOZEN FOR 25c

ASPIRIN

Victories die until you victory for hu- Mann.

ck 40

INSECTS

ERS • FRUITS ES & SHRUBS Original sealed from your dealer

ossession mind is but a Euripides.

his When nd a Laxative you if your body Nature intended. digestion should y day. When you ke a dose or two he Black-Draught hing relief.

RAUGHT LAXATIVE

th of Youth man that he bear outh.

er's Chest Colds

NETRO

els Health

glect Them! of the kidneys to do eir task is to keep the free of an excess of The act of living—life ly producing waste y must remove from health is to endure. eys fail to function as there is retention of cause body-wide dis- ar nagging headaches, swelling, puffiness, attacks of dizziness, feel tired, nervous, ill ty or burning passages evidence of kidney or and proper treatment ine to help the kidneys- poisonous body waste. They have had more of public approval. Are ntry over. Insist on all drug stores.

SPILLS

STAR DUST Movie Radio

By VIRGINIA VALE

WHILE the director, George Cukor, was in New York making film tests of Southern debutantes and several young actresses from the New York stage, the news inadvertently leaked out in Hollywood that David Selznick, the producer, had already made up his mind about who should play the leads in "Gone With the Wind."

Miriam Hopkins is to play Scarlett, Clark Gable will be Rhett, Janet Gaynor draws the appealing role of Melanie, and Leslie Howard will be Ashley, whom Scarlett loves but loses. Undoubtedly if the tests made in New York show real talent, the girls will be put under contract to play supporting roles in "Gone With the Wind" or for future pictures.

That cast that Hal Roach has lined up to support Constance Bennett in "Topper"—Connie's entry in the high comedy race—has everyone gasping. Cary Grant, so overwhelmingly popular since he dominated Grace Moore in "When You're in Love," draws the lead. Hedda Hopper and Billie Burke, who are just as slick at comedy lines as they are at wearing exquisite clothes, are next in importance, and Roland Young and Alan Mowbray join the cast to add to the hilarity. Even if Greta Garbo were playing the lead, a more imposing cast could not have been commandeered.

Cary Grant

A current picture that everyone likes, and that men are particularly enthusiastic over is "Sea Devils," an RKO picture with Victor McLaglen. There is a storm at sea in this one that will make you grip the arms of your theater seat or your companion and if you don't let out a few loud gasps, you won't be like the majority in the preview audience. Ida Lupino plays the lead skillfully, but the girl, you will remember, is Helen Flint who gives a brilliant performance as a tough character.

A few years ago it was considered the lowest form of insult if a screen actress was called a "Clothes-horse." In fact, Gloria Swanson used to threaten to play nothing but waifs in rags if reviewers didn't stop praising her ability to wear clothes. Now, all the girls in Hollywood want to be considered good dress models, partly because the top dramatic stars, Greta Garbo and Luise Rainer, want dress-up roles, but largely because so many fashion-show pictures are going into production.

Fruits and vegetables are the heroes and heroines of a movie being shown extensively in the producing regions of the South and Far West. The picture, designed to bring the big city auction markets to growers, dramatizes the selling process on a typical auction market where thousands of cars of fruits and vegetables are translated into millions of dollars in revenue to the growers every year.

List among your future film favorites Ella Logan whom you will soon see in Universal's "Top of the Town." She is the enchanting singer with a thick Scottish burr to her voice who, accent or no, used to shout swing music over the radio with Abe Lyman's band. I like her best when she sings simple songs, but swing addicts rave about her ability to improvise new hi-de-hos.

"Seventh Heaven" was previewed in Hollywood this week and everyone agrees that it brings more glory to Jimmy Stewart than to Simone Simon, though she is pert and appealing in the role that brought Janet Gaynor fame. Simone arrived at the preview wearing a hair ribbon tied in a demure bow just over her forehead, and was so noticeably nervous that she fidgeted with her coat, her dress, and her hair ribbon all evening. She was accompanied by Anton Litvak, who usually looks at no one but Miriam Hopkins.

ODDS AND ENDS—A make-up girl at the Paramount studio has twelve wrist watches given to her by grateful stars. Just to be different Frances Dee gave her an alarm clock at the finish of "Souls at Sea." Ann Sothern will probably win the airlines award for the most persistent air-commuter of the year. Whenever she has two or three days to spare, she dashes off to Chicago to see her husband, Roger Pryor, who is leading a band there. Everyone at Paramount is glad to have Marlene Dietrich back, particularly the electricians and carpenters on her set. She brings such luscious Viennese cakes and cookies to them.

© Western Newspaper Union.

UNCOMMON AMERICANS

By Elmo Scott Watson

Father of the Cattle Trails

IF IT had not been for Joseph G. McCoy, there might never have occurred that epic migration over the cattle trails from Texas to the north during the seventies and eighties. In that case the history of the Lone Star state—and the whole West, for that matter—might have been very different. McCoy, a native of Springfield, Ill., was a stockman and cattle buyer who went to the raw little frontier town of Abilene, Kan., soon after the Civil war was over.

That conflict had ruined the cattlemen in Texas. Shut off from the Northern markets by the Union control of the Mississippi river, their herds had increased enormously, but without a place to sell the animals, they were comparatively worthless. Then the Kansas Pacific railroad, which was building west, reached Abilene and McCoy was inspired with a wonderful idea.

If he could get the Texas drovers to drive their herds north across Indian territory to Abilene, grazing them on the rich prairie grass as they came, Abilene would be the market place and shipping center where Texas sellers and Chicago and Kansas City buyers could meet. Despite many obstacles, including the prevalent belief that Texas beef was not as good as that grown in the Middle West, McCoy went about the job of making his dream come true.

In July, 1867, he began raising money to build a "shipping yard," a barn and office and to begin the construction of a large, three-story frame hotel for the accommodation of Texas drovers and eastern buyers. His next task was to get word to the cattlemen more than 400 miles away to the south. Although the time was short he managed to persuade enough of them to make the experiment so that they marketed 35,000 head of cattle in Abilene that fall and received approximately $15 a head for their steers. Previous to that time steers were selling for $5 a head in Texas.

The next year more than 75,000 cattle were marketed there. By 1871 that number had jumped to 120,000 and by the next year to 236,000. From that time on Texas cattle poured north by the hundreds of thousands over the original cattle trail from the Red river to Abilene and other trails which were laid out. Other Kansas "cow towns" began to boom with activity as the railroad was pushed farther west and southwest and there was added to our history that thrilling chapter when the cattlemen were kings. And all of this was due to the vision of one man—Joseph G. McCoy, the "Father of the Cattle Trails."

Mr. Currier and Mr. Ives

THEY gave Americans of their day the equivalent of the news reels of today. They were the pictorial historians of contemporary American life a century ago when newspapers contained little or no picture material except an occasional fashion print.

When a steamboat blew up, a great fire swept a city or some other disaster occurred, Mr. Currier and Mr. Ives immediately put out a colored picture of the event with plenty of action in it. When the United States was at war, they issued splendid battle pictures with plumed generals on prancing horses (and plenty of gory detail as to dead and wounded soldiers). There were pictures of horse races and other sporting events, there were pictures of swift clipper ships and pictures of the first transcontinental trains running amidst Indians and buffalo. There were highly moral pictures there were even "comic strips"—caricatures of life among the negroes, called "Darktown Comics."

It all started back in 1830 when young Nathaniel Currier, working as an apprentice to John Pendleton, who had returned from Europe with the new art of lithography, began thinking of setting up his own business. So he went to New York and started as a lithographer in partnership with a young man named Stoddard. This partnership lasted only a year but in 1835 Currier began again. He soon built up a profitable business but it wasn't until 1850 when James A. Ives became his partner that fame and fortune came to them.

For 30 years Mr. Currier and Mr. Ives were "printmakers to the American people" and Currier and Ives prints of one sort or another were to be found on the walls of virtually every American home. In 1870 Currier retired with a fortune but the firm continued with a son of the founder in his place. In 1888 machine color printing was applied to their product and even greater numbers of their pictures flooded the country. In recent years Currier and Ives prints have become "Americana." Where once these prints sold from six cents to $3, they are now selling for anywhere from $20 to $500. And one of them recently brought $3,000!

© Western Newspaper Union.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, Dean of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for April 25 THE OBEDIENCE OF NOAH

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 8:20-22; 9:1-17. GOLDEN TEXT—By faith Noah, being warned of God concerning things not seen as yet, moved with godly fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house. Heb. 11:7. PRIMARY TOPIC—The Meaning of the Rainbow. JUNIOR TOPIC—The Rainbow's Message. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Following God's Plan. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Deliverance through Obedience.

The "book of beginnings" (Genesis) has already brought before us the creation of the world, the origin of man, the entrance of sin into the world, and God's judgment upon that sin. In chapter 4 we find the first murder. Cain, who brought an offering before God which was not acceptable, murdered his brother Abel, whose offering pleased God. Strange it is that man has it in his heart to hate those who expose his sin by their godly life.

God does not leave himself without a witness in the earth. The God-tearing line of Seth appears. There are always those who have not bowed the knee to the Adversary. Consider the astonishment of Soviet officials at the deep-seated and wide-spread faith in God revealed in their recent census.

But sin again lifts its ugly head and ere long God is driven to the necessity of judgment upon mankind. Read the terrific indictment of humanity in Genesis 6:5-7. It is still true that the heart of man apart from God's grace is "desperately wicked" (Jer. 17:9). Well does a contemporary writer say that even modern "psychology has unveiled the dismal and sinister depths in human nature. Man can no longer flee from reality into the romantic refuge of his own heart; for the human heart has become a house of horrors in whose murky recesses man cannot erect for his solace either a shrine or a citadel. Man is bad; he is a sinner. The depths of his meanness are being unveiled in a ghastly way in individual and social life in these times. What a contemporary ring there is about these old biblical judgments on mankind! (Gen. 6:5, 6; Isa. 1:6.) What a tremendous arraignment of sinful human nature is Paul's prologue in Romans 1" (Mackay).

So God sent a flood upon the earth. It used to be fashionable to doubt the story of the flood, but geology and history to agree with Scripture. The facts are available; let us use them.

"But Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord" and prepared an ark at God's command. Here again it can be demonstrated that the ark was sufficiently large to meet the need of Noah and all his family, with the animals and their food, and with room to spare. It is significant that the proportions of the ark were those of a well-planned boat. God knew how to build, and man does well to obey his instructions; let us use them.

The rain came, the fountains of the deep were opened, and all the living perished, except those within the ark. What an instructive type of our safety in Christ is the ark!

But our lesson concerns primarily what occurred after Noah came forth from the ark and presented himself before God.

I. An Obedient Man (8:20-22). To come before God with acceptable worship, man must come with clean hands. The question is not whether he is brilliant, learned, or of high position. The one thing that counts is obedience. When such a man offers the worship of his heart before God, it goes up to him like a sweet savor.

II. A Covenant-Keeping God (9:8-17). The beautiful rainbow in the cloud became a token of God's promise, and the visible assurance to "all flesh" that the judgment of the flood will not be repeated. Never again will seed time and harvest, nor any of the orderly processes of nature, fall throughout the whole earth. What a gracious God we have! And what a pity that men presume upon his goodness. Because he "maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust" (Matt. 5:45), men not only forget that he is the giver of all things, but assume that they may sin against him with impunity. Let us remind them that it is the clear teaching of Scripture that "every one of us shall give account of himself to God" (Rom. 14:12).

Well Spent Days Oh, what a glory doth this world put on, for him who with a fervent heart goes forth under the bright and glorious sky, and looks on duties well performed, and days well spent.—Longfellow.

Purity of Heart A holy life is the very gate of heaven; but let us always remember that holiness does not consist in doing uncommon things, but in doing everything with purity of heart.—Cardinal Manning.

Latest in Spring Prints

No. 1272.

The youngest, freshest and at the same time the most sophisticated design of the season is just this one, with its raised waistline girdled with a belt that ties in front. The neck closes with a soft fold-over collar and a suggestion of the new surplice opening. Puffed sleeves and a swingy skirt continue the sprightly effect. It's a model you mustn't miss for now and summer days to come. Comfortable, utterly smart, it gives you a grand new poise whether you choose a silk, rayon or sheer cotton print!

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1272 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 14 (32) requires 4 1/2 yards 39-inch fabric, and 2 1/2 yards ribbon for the belt.

New Pattern Book Send for the Barbara Bell Spring and Summer Pattern Book. Make yourself attractive, practical and becoming clothes, selecting designs from the Barbara Bell well-planned, easy-to-make patterns. Interesting and exclusive fashions for little children and the difficult junior age; slenderizing, well-cut patterns for the mature figure; afternoon dresses for the most particular young women and matrons and other patterns for special occasions are all to be found in the Barbara Bell Pattern Book. Send 15 cents today for your copy. Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., Room 1020, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. Price of patterns, 15 cents (in coins) each. © Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

The Most Considerate

As the sword of the best-tempered metal is the most flexible; so the truly generous are most

THERE ARE NO SPIDER-WEB CHECKS IN MY FURNITURE. I PROTECT IT BY USING ONLY GENUINE O-CEDAR POLISH

PLEASE ACCEPT

THIS Exquisite $1.00 GAME CARVING SET

for only 25c with your purchase of one can of B. T. Babbitt's Nationally Known Brands of Lye

This is the Carving Set you need for steaks and game. Dehorn design handle fits the hand perfectly. Knife blade and fork tines made of fine stainless steel. Now offered for only 25c to induce you to try the brands of lye shown at right. Use them for sterilizing milking machines and dairy equipment. Contents of one can dissolved in 17 gallons of water makes an effective, inexpensive sterilizing solution. Buy today a can of any of the lye brands shown at right. Then send the can band, with your name and address and 25c to B. T. Babbitt, Inc., Dept. W.K., 386 4th Ave., New York City. Your Carving Set will reach you promptly, postage paid. Send today while the supply lasts. OFFER GOOD WITH ANY LABEL SHOWN BELOW

TEAR OUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT AS A REMINDER

JOYS GLOOMS

Comic strip panels with dialogue bubbles. Panel 1: Boy with dog, "OH, WHAT A MESS! LOOK--EVEN THE CHILDREN ARE HAPPY!" Panel 2: Boy with dog, "DOWN WITH HAPPINESS! COME ON, GLOOMS--LET'S GET THOSE JOYS!" Panel 3: Boy with dog, "OH, MOTHER... SEE THE DOG I BOUGHT WITH THE MONEY UNCLE NED GAVE ME!" Panel 4: Girl with dog, "SEE HERE, YOUNG MAN... I WILL NOT HAVE A DOG AROUND THIS HOUSE!" Panel 5: Boy with dog, "AWGEE, MOTHER... PLEASE LET ME KEEP HIM!" Panel 6: Boy with dog, "YOU TAKE THAT DOG RIGHT BACK WHERE YOU GOT IT! I HAVE TROUBLES ENOUGH WITHOUT A DOG!" Panel 7: Boy with dog, "BUT, MARY... WHY CAN'T HE KEEP IT? A DOG IS SOMETHING EVERY SMALL BOY SHOULD HAVE!" Panel 8: Girl with dog, "WHY DON'T YOU THINK OF ME FOR A CHANGE? WITH MY HEADACHES AND NERVOUSNESS, THAT DOG'S BARKING WOULD DRIVE ME CRAZY!" Panel 9: Boy with dog, "WHY DON'T YOU GET RID OF YOUR HEADACHES AND NERVOUSNESS... BY GETTING RID OF YOUR COFFEE-NERVES. WHY DON'T YOU QUIT COFFEE AND SWITCH TO POSTUM FOR 30 DAYS, LIKE THE DOCTOR SAID?" Panel 10: Boy with dog, "OH, ALL RIGHT... I'LL TRY IT!" Panel 11: Boy with dog, "30 DAYS LATER... WHAT A HAPPY HOME THIS HAS BEEN SINCE MOTHER GOT RID OF HER HEADACHES AND NERVOUSNESS!" Panel 12: Girl with dog, "YOU BET, SWITCHING TO POSTUM MADE HER... A DIFFERENT WOMAN!" Panel 13: Boy with dog, "YOUR MONEY BACK... IF SWITCHING TO POSTUM DOESN'T HELP YOU!" Panel 14: Boy with dog, "If you are one of those who cannot safely drink coffee... try Postum's 30-day test. Buy a can of Postum and drink it instead of coffee for one full month. If... after 30 days... you do not feel better, return the top of the Postum container to General Foods, Battle Creek, Michigan, and we will cheerfully refund the full purchase price, plus postage (if you live in Canada, address General Foods, Ltd., Cobourg, Ont.) Give Postum a fair trial... drink it for the full 30 days! Postum contains no caffeine. It is simply whole wheat and bran, roasted and slightly sweetened. Postum comes in two forms... Postum Cereal, the kind you boil or percolate... and Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup. It is economical, easy to make and delicious. You may miss coffee at first, but after 30 days, you'll love Postum for its own rich, full-bodied flavor. A General Foods product. (This offer expires December 31, 1937.)"

THE DAVIE RECORD.

C. FRANK STROUD - Editor.

TELEPHONE 1

Entered at the Postoffice in Mocksville, N. C., as Second-class Mail matter, March 3, 1903.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE $1.00
SIX MONTHS, IN ADVANCE $.50

Only a little more than two months until the delicious blackberry will be ripe and ready to pluck. There is always something to look forward to in this good old world of ours.

Seems that all is not gold that glitters. A fellow generally gets just about what he pays for. The big yellow apples and the big red peaches always look better in the nursery catalog than they do on the trees in the orchard. The articles in the mail order catalogs look very enticing also, and thousands of dollars are sent out of our state weekly, to buy things that could be purchased as cheap or even cheaper nearer home.

A newspaper poll is being taken to find out whether the voters want Franklin Roosevelt as president for a third term. Washington was offered the third term and wouldn't accept it. Grant wanted a third term and couldn't get it. We think the people will be satisfied to let Mr. Roosevelt retire at the end of his second term. In the future we will have but little confidence in news paper straw ballots. The last Literary Digest poll will last us a life time.

The Record believes in and has always advocated patronizing local enterprises, and will continue to do so. We try to practice what we preach. There are many people who insist on patronizing home enterprises that don't live up to their preaching. The Record buys everything possible in the home town, but there are thousands of articles that cannot be bought in a small town, and our readers are advised to buy from the merchants in Davie and surrounding towns and cities who appreciate their business enough to ask for it through our columns. The Record is the only home owned paper in Mocksville. The editor and owner lives in Mocksville, pays his taxes and votes here, and his printers live, work and spend their money here. If there should ever be any profits made out of this rag of freedom the money would be invested here and not sent to some other town or city.

Old Cap Farmer told the legislature two years ago that if it would increase his army of patten-rollers from about 65 to 125, that he would see that auto wrecks and killings by cars on the highways were greatly reduced. According to figures given out by the state there were 25 more people killed by automobiles in North Carolina in February than were killed in the same month in 1936. So far as we have been able to learn these patten-rollers have never saved a life or prevented a wreck. Just why the state should spend a quarter of a million dollars annually to maintain these Sam Brown boys, is one of the mysteries of life.

The word "Advertiser" The word "advertiser" was at first an alternative form of "advent," from the Latin word "to direct, to turn to."

WORKS UNDER HUDSON RIVER

Tunnel engineer comes off the job—lights a Camel to set him right for heavy eating. He fights compressed air, muck, and 100-degree heat—at 65 feet below the surface! "I play safe and smoke Camels," says Sidney S. Wenzel. "Camels don't freeze my nerves. With Camels, my digestion runs plenty smooth." Smoking Camels at meals and after helps digestion in this way: the flow of digestive fluids—alkaline digestive fluids—is increased.

FOR DIGESTION'S SAKE—SMOKE CAMELS!

Show At School Auditorium.

A program consisting of acrobatic stunts, singing, music and dancing will be given at the Mocksville High School Auditorium, Friday night, April 23rd, at 8 p. m. The high class entertainment is being sponsored by Washington Camp No. 52 P. O. S. of A., Mocksville, N. C. Miss Laura Lee Durham, of Westfield, who is an A-1 acrobat and an expert tap dancer will be one of the main features on the program. Miss Durham is well known throughout North Carolina and Virginia; having performed her acrobatic stunts and displayed her dancing skill in the leading theatres of this State and Virginia. She appeared at the State Theatre in Greensboro on the 14th of the present month, with a full house in attendance. This girl, of rare and unexcelled skill, started her career when but a mere child, (about 3 years of age) and ever since has had a professional trainer to aid her in attaining the height at which she now stands in the theatre world.

The Mocksville lodge is very fortunate in having secured the State wide recognized P. O. S. of A. quartet to render a number of selections. If you have never heard these "Golden Voiced" men, you should hear them at the entertainment Friday night.

The Splendor Trio, 3 talented young girls who have sung in different parts of the State, will render their sweet music to the large crowd which is expected.

A talented pianist will be on the program and will play at intervals for the audience.

Also featuring in the program will be two string bands—Mocksville String Band and The Mid-Night Rambler—who will play those old familiar tunes.

Salem Alumnae Meet.

The Mocksville branch of the Salem College Alumnae Association met on Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Mary Heitman, with Mrs. Z. N. Anderson joint hostess. The room was decorated in yellow and white flowers, carrying out the Salem colors. The meeting opened with the Salem Alma Mater song, with Miss Louise Stroud at the piano. Mrs. Z. N. Anderson, the president, led the devotionals and the minutes were read by Miss Mary Heitman. A short business session was held, and mention was made of the new library building to which alumnae have the opportunity of contributing. Several interesting Salem annuals, "Sights and Insights," were shown by Mrs. Anderson. Miss Louise Stroud played two appropriate piano selections, "Spring Song," (Mendelssohn) and "Flower Song," (Lang). The dates of May Day Commencement were spoken of with interest. Miss Jane Crow, of this place, is one of the graduating class, and is editor-in-chief of the College annual. The refreshments were block cream in the Salem colors and small cakes. The president, Mrs. Anderson, presented Mrs. E. L. Gaither, senior alumna, and Mrs. Julia C. Heitman, honorary member, with decorative boxes of candy. Those present were Mesdames Z. N. Anderson, E. L. Gaither, R. P. Anderson, Alice Woodruff, R. B. Sanford, Lester Martin, J. D. Murray, Julia C. Heitman, Etta Wooters, Misses Sallie Hanes, Flossie Martin, Louise Stroud and Mary Heitman.

It never rains but it pours. Last week the mercury dropped to four degrees below freezing, with nearly everybody in town out of coal, and not a ton to be had at the coal plant. It is well to prepare for war in time of peace, provided you have the munitions of war on hand.

To Enlarge Store.

Business is good with the firm of Kurfees & Ward, general merchants and filling station operators. This popular firm have outgrown their present quarters on the corner of North Main and Avon Streets, and have started work on an enlarged building which will cost about $7,000. Kurfees & Ward carry Purol products, Yale and Firestone auto tires, Kurfees paint, groceries and general merchandise. They do a big business and have one of the best locations in town. They believe in printer's ink, and have built up a big business since opening up their present location about 15 years ago. The Purol Co., is having the work done, which will be completed within the next 60 days. Kurfees & Ward will be prepared to serve their many customers while the building is being enlarged.

We Thank You.

The editor and family appreciate the excellent birthday cake given them by Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Boger, of near Cana, on Wednesday, April 14th, which was the editor's birthday. Friends are to be chosen rather than great riches. The cake was enjoyed to the last crumb by the editor and family.

RUPTURE

SHIELD EXPERT HERE
E. J. MEINHARDT, WELL KNOWN EXPERT OF CHICAGO, IS COMING HERE AGAIN.

He will personally be in Statesville, N. C., at the Vance Hotel, on Saturday only, April 24th, from 1:00 p. m. to 6:00 p. m.

Mr. Meinhardt says: "I have had twenty years' experience with thousands of Ruptured Men and I will give you valuable information without charge. Positively no surgery, medical treatments or injections used. (Only men are invited.) This visit is for white people only."

My shield produces immediate results on the average, regardless of the size or location of your Rupture—no matter how much you exercise or strain. (No leg straps and no cumbersome arrangements.)

My shield is waterproof and may be worn while bathing. It may be removed at night or worn continuously until no longer desired.

Caution: I have no representatives. Everyone must see me personally. I have been coming here for fifteen years. There is no charge for demonstration. Remember the name MEINHARDT! Beware of imitators who copy this notice.

BELK-STEVENSON CO.

Cor. Trade and Fifth

Winston-Salem, N. C.

Spring Coats and Suits

Drastically Reduced For Quick Clearance

You have many more weeks to wear these smart Spring Styles. Then comes vacation time when you simply must have a suit for traveling and so many uses for a light coat. It is only the part of wisdom to buy at these low prices.

SPRING COATS

$24.75 Coats now $19.50 $16.50 Coats now $12.95
$9.95 Coats now $7.95

SPRING SUITS

$24.75 Suits now $19.50 $16.50 Suits now $12.95
$9.95 Suits now $7.95

Save on Shoes for the Entire Family!

Smart Spring SHOES

Colored patent leather sandals are the big inspiration this summer! They'll pick up one of the colors in your fresh new prints or contrast smartly with white. Coronation red, sky blue, pink, yellow or white. And other smart styles at the same low price! $1.98

Sport Oxfords

$1.98 and $2.98

Smart new styles for every sport occasion—comfortable walking shoes. White and combinations. Straps and ties. Low and medium heels.

Men's Oxfords

$1.98 to $4.95

Excellent shoes that we are proud to show you. Newstyles in white buck or calf—also black and brown leathers.

As Illustrated $1.98

SM ART SHOES

$2.98 to $4.95

A large variety of the newest spring and summer styles. White, combinations, navy and black.

Children's Shoes 98c Up

Made over lasts especially designed for growing feet. Patents, black and brown elk and white straps and oxfords.

BOYS' OXFORDS

$1.98 and $2.98

Sturdy leather oxfords in styles to please both youngsters and parent. White, black and brown.

TENNIS SHOES 48c

Fine quality canvas shoes—strongly reinforced—heavy rubber soles. In brown only. A full line of famous Genuine "Keds" for men, women, and children. Priced 79c to $1.25.

RICH FISH SCRAP

POTASH

PACKING HOUSE PRODUCTS

ROBERTSON'S Tobacco FERTILIZERS CONTAIN 10 INGREDIENTS

Use these non-acid forming fertilizers if you want to grow more of the higher-priced grades of tobacco. The nitrogen is in many forms derived from rich fish scrap, packing-house products and nitrate mines. The potash is supplied in three different forms—Sulphate of Potash, Muriate of Potash to give body and weight, and Sulphate of Potash Magnesia to prevent frog-eye and sand-drown. These ingredients supply all the usual elements plus many extra needed minerals. Into every bag goes large quantities of magnesia. They are non-acid forming, cannot sour your soil.

Robertson's Tobacco Mixtures contain half organic nitrogen and half mineral nitrogen (proven best by test).

R. 2, Mocksville, N. C. 2-11-37
Robertson Chemical Corp.,
Norfolk, Va.

Gentlemen:

I have used your fertilizer for the past three years, and it has given me perfect satisfaction. I received an average of 25c for my entire crop the past year. I am satisfied if the season had been favorable, it would have been a good deal better. I am glad to recommend it to good tobacco growers. I expect to use it again this year.

Yours truly,
(s) G. T. BAITY.

C. C. SANFORD SONS CO., Mocksville, N. C.
G. O. GRAVES, Mocksville, R. 4
L. S. SHELTON, Mocksville, R. 4

THE DAVIE RECORD

Largest Circulation in Davie County

NEWS AND NOTES

Mrs. H. T. ... in the Twin-City

Mrs. Charlie ... Friday in Win

Attorney A ... day last week

Chap Powell ... Sunday with

Jim Ellis, ... was rambling

The Mocks ... the first week

Miss Mary ... Sumter, S. C.

E. C. Hilt ... N. C., visited

J. W. Kesl ... in town one d

O. G. Allen ... was in town

Miss Annie ... at Brevard Co

Mrs. Jake ... Ruth Smith

Miss Elizab ... underwent a

LOST—Tr ... between Clat

Mrs. Camil ... ter Mrs. A. U

The many ... Hunt will be

The interio ... postoffice has

Wesley Col ... rier on R. 1,

Marshall S ... Thompson, S

College, sp ... with their pa

Visit my ... blooming tul

MRS. Wood ... Mr. and M

Elizabethtow ... week-end in Smith's pare ... M. Call.

Mr. and M ... daughters, M

Frankie, of ... the week end and friends. ... WANTED kind. There is ... store for a building ca ... come—the m business our ... Mr. and M

Washington, ... night, guests

Mrs. W. A ... on their way

Mrs. John ... been a patient

Statesville, fo ... was able to to the deligh ... A number

THE DAVIE RECORD.

Largest Circulation of Any Davie County Newspaper.

NEWS AROUND TOWN.

Mrs. H. T. Brenegar spent Friday in the Twin-City shopping.

Mrs. Charlie Allen, of R. 2, spent Friday in Winston Salem shopping.

Attorney A. T. Grant spent one day last week in Yadkinville on business.

Chap Powell, of High Point spent Sunday with his parents near Calahala.

Jim Ellis, of Winston Salem, was rambling around town one day last week.

The Mocksville schools will close the first week in May for the summer vacation.

Miss Mary and Notie Martin, of Sumter, S. C., spent the week end in town with relatives.

E. C. Hilton, of Prospect Hill, N. C., visited relatives in the county over the week end.

J. W. Kesler, of Salisbury, was in town one day last week looking after some legal matters.

O. G. Allen, of Winston Salem, was in town Wednesday looking after some legal matters.

Miss Annie Ruth Call, a student at Brevard College, spent the week-end here with her parents.

Mrs. Jake Meroney and Miss Ruth Smith spent one day last week in Winston Salem shopping.

Miss Elizabeth Brewer, of Cana, underwent a tonsil operation Tuesday at the offices of Dr. W. M. Long.

LOST—Truck cover some where between Clarksville and Elkin, on highway 21. Reward

L. S. SHELTON.

Mrs. Camilla Sheek and daughter Mrs. A. U. James, spent Friday with Mrs. C. B. James near Clemmons.

The many friends of Mrs. E. E. Hunt will be sorry to learn that she is quite ill at her home in North Mocksville.

The interior of the Mocksville postoffice has been given a nice coat of paint which adds much to its appearance.

Wesley Collette, rural letter carrier on R. 1, Advance, was in town one day last week looking after some business matters.

Marshall Santord and James Thompson, students at Davidson College, spent the week end in town with their parents.

Visit my gardens of 250,000 blooming tulips. Select and order bulbs from 103 choice varieties.

MRS. WILL A. HALL, Woodleaf Road, Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Smith, of Elizabethtown, N. C., spent the week-end in town, guests of Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Call.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Call, and daughters, Misses Margaret and Frankie, of Sumter, S. C., spent the week end in town with relatives and friends.

WANTED—To buy cows—any kind. G. B. MYERS, Winston-Salem, N. C.

There is some talk of a new hardware store for Mocksville, provided a building can be secured. Let her come—the more stores, the more business our merchants will do.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayo Friday, of Washington, D. C., spent Friday night, guests of Mrs. Will's sister, Mrs. W. A. Allison. They were on their way home from Miami, Fla.

Mrs. John LeGrand, who has been a patient at Davis Hospital, Statesville, for the past two months, was able to return home Sunday to the delight of her many friends.

A number of Mocksville people attended the piano recital given by pupils of Mrs. Leo Brock, at the Farmington high school auditorium Friday evening. Mrs. Brock has a class of about 35. A large audience was present for the recital.

B. A. Goble and Miss Ila Marie Peacock, both of Salisbury, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon in the Register of Deeds office Esq. F. R. Leagans performing the marriage ceremony.

Mrs. Prentice Campbell, who has been quite ill for the past two weeks was carried to Davis Hospital, Statesville, last Friday for treatment. Her many friends hope for her a speedy recovery.

Floyd Swisher, of near Sheffield, was carried to a Government hospital at Roanoke, Va., last week. Floyd has been in bad shape for nearly a year, when he shot himself through the head with a shot gun. He served several months in the army during the world war.

O. F. Foster has purchased the O. L. Casey house and lot on North Main street, situated between Water's store and W. M. Crotts, and will move his family into his new home this fall. Mr. Casey will move his family into the J. D. Casey house on Spring street, some time this summer.

Benjamin Gus Taylor.

B. G. Taylor, 57, died at his home on South Main street Wednesday shortly afternoon, following a two weeks illness of pneumonia.

Funeral services were held at the home Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Revs. E. J. Harbison and W. J. S. Walker, and the body laid to rest in Union Chapel graveyard.

Mr. Taylor is survived by his widow and one son, John Taylor, of Mocksville; three brothers, Baxter, Columbus and Tom Taylor; three sisters, Mrs. Will Jones, Mrs. Minnie Taylor and Mrs. Dinks Steelman, all of Davie.

The sinuses are air spaces in the bones of the head which connect with the inside of the nose by means of small openings.

Mother's Day

Our Mother's Day Candy Is Now On Display.

Prices Range From 50c to $1.50 Per Pound Wrapped in Attractive Boxes Suitable For This Happy Occasion.

WE CARRY HOLLINGSWORTH THE FINEST OF FINE CANDIES Hall-Kimbrough Drug Co.

"A Good Drug Store" Phone 141 We Deliver

Mother of Davie Teacher Passes.

Funeral services for Mrs. T. J. Madison, 70, of Union Grove town ship, Iredell county, were held last Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock from the Union Grove Methodist church, by the pastor, Rev. G. B. Ferrell, Rev. Grady White and Rev. Glenn Madison.

Mrs. Madison died at her home in Union Grove on April 11th. Surviving is the husband, one daughter, Mrs. R. F. Rash, of Union Grove; R. B. Madison, of Winston Salem; C. W. Madison, of Statesville, Graham Madison, of Farmington, and Rev. J. C. Madison, of High Point. The entire faculty of Farmington consolidated school, of which Prof. Madison is principal, attended the funeral and burial services Tuesday.

Several local attorneys are attending the April term of Federal court which is in session at Salisbury this week. A number of Davie cases are docketed for this court.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF BANK OF DAVIE of Mocksville, in the State of North Carolina, at the close of Business on March 31, 1937.

ASSETS
Cash balances with other banks and cash items in process of collection	$ 129,906 19
United States Government obligations, direct and fully guaranteed	1,450 00
State, county, and municipal obligations	161,275 38
Loans and discounts	202,667 75
Banking house owned, furniture and fixtures	820 00
TOTAL	$496,119 32

LIABILITIES AND CAPITAL
Deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations:
(a) Demand deposits	163,544 55
(b) Time deposits evidenced by savings pass books	156,447 80
(c) Other time deposits	3,011 94
United States Government and postal savings deposits	666 87
State, county, and municipal deposits	52,827 26
Certified and officers' checks, letters of credit and travelers' checks sold for cash, and amounts due to Federal Reserve bank (transit account)	1,446 93
TOTAL DEPOSITS	$377,946 35
Other liabilities	6,664 97
TOTAL LIABILITIES EXCLUDING CAPITAL ACCOUNT (except deferred obligations shown in item 33 which are subordinated to claims of depositors and other creditors)	$384,610 32
Capital account:
(a) Capital stock and capital notes and debentures	$65,200 00
(b) Surplus	28,500 00
(c) Undivided profits	12,033 00
(d) Reserves	5,778 00
(e) Total capital account	111,509 00
TOTAL LIABILITIES AND CAPITAL	$496,119 32

On March 31, 1937, the required legal reserve against deposits of this bank was $39,935 81. Assets reported above which were eligible as legal reserve amounted to $129,906 19.

Deferred obligations not included among above liabilities, which are subordinated to claims of depositors and other creditors, none.

Undeclared dividends on preferred stock and unpaid interest on capital notes and debentures, accrued prior to end of last dividend or interest period $76 00

† This bank's capital is represented by 100 shares of first preferred stock, par value $80 00 per share, redeemable at $80 00 per share; and 1,000 shares of common stock, par $50 00 per share.

MEMORANDA

Pledged assets (except real estate), redemptions, and securities loaned:

(b) Other assets (except real estate) pledged to secure liabilities (including notes and bills rediscounted and securities sold under repurchase agreement)

(b) Other assets (except real estate) pledged to secure liabilities (including notes and bills rediscounted and securities sold under repurchase agreement)	$42,000 00
(c) TOTAL	$42,000 00

Secured and preferred liabilities:

(a) Deposits secured by pledged assets pursuant to requirement of law

(d) Deposits preferred under provisions of law but not secured by pledge of assets

(a) Deposits secured by pledged assets pursuant to requirement of law	44,205 85
(d) Deposits preferred under provisions of law but not secured by pledge of assets	666 87
(e) TOTAL	$44,872 72

I, S. M. Call, cashier, of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, and fully and correctly represents the true state of the several matters herein contained and set forth, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

S. M. CALL, Cashier.

Correct—Attest:
KNOX JOHNSTONE,
JNO. C. SANFORD,
S. A. HARDING,
Directors.
STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA—County of Davie.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 18th day of April, 1937, and I hereby certify that I am not an officer or director of this bank.
HAZEL TURNER, Notary Public.
My commission expires January 29, 1938.

THE MORRISETT CO.
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

"LIVE WIRE STORE"

Great Ready-to-Wear Values

Special this week, our reduced prices on nine beautiful, high shades, fur trimmings coats. Regular $18.75 values. To close this week

Only $12.00
Reduction of 20 to 25%

To close out this week regular stock of coats and suits. Some real bargains if you buy this week.

NEW ARRIVALS DAILY

Lovely cool cloth suits, coats and lovely things. Lined dresses and suits. Sheers and everything comfortable for the hot summer weather.

$1.95 $2.95 $3.95 $6.95 $9.95

New Silk Arrivals Sheer silk, pure dye, acetate and bamborg, washable and light as air. Best prices ever. Also Chiffon And Georgette 69c 89c 98c	Silk Prints The Greatest Values In Silk Prints. All 39 Inches And Gorgeous Colorings. Only 49c 59c 69c	Mingtoy Silks The Queen of Silks Pure silks and pure dye. All shades Mingtoy Super Satin $1.00 $1.59
---	---	---

Curtains! Curtains!
2,000 Pairs Of New Curtains For Living Room, Bedroom, Kitchen and Bath. Every Style and Color.
39c to $2.98

Bedspreads
500 Of The Very Best Values We Have Ever Offered.
Have Been Waiting For Them Since September 3rd. Come In Today!
98c $1.98 $2.98 $3.98 $4.98

THRIFTY of Money
THRIFTY of Time
THRIFTY of Food

THE NEW Hotpoint ELECTRIC RANGE

Now you can have the kind of a range you are proud to show—and you don't have to make excuses to your pocketbook.

The new Hotpoint Electric Ranges, with their modern features, economical hi-speed Calrod units and famous Thrift Cooker, give you a three-way thrift. They save money, time and food. You owe it to yourself to see how these most modern of home conveniences perform such miracles. Come in today and

SEE THESE FEATURES

Hotpoint Calrod, hi-speed, clean-burn coils... fully insulated center oven... stain-resisting porcelain work surface... utility drawer... matched accessories with modern chrome lamp and black enameled jars... Time-chime for timing surface cooking operations from 1 to 60 minutes.

HOTPOINT CALROD
What Mazda means to light, Calrod means to cookery. Calrod, Hotpoint's hi-speed sealed-in-metal cooking coil, has revolutionized electric cookery. It brings new speed, new cleanliness and new economy to the kitchen.

THRIFT COOKER
Economical. Costs no more to operate than the kitchen light. Cooks an entire meal of meat, vegetables, dessert—or bakes small quantities, like a few potatoes, without need for heating up the oven.

Plenty of outdoor recreation, ample time for social activities, playing with her children and relief from kitchen drudgery and worry... all these are available to her if she has a modern electric range in her kitchen.

Read Reddy Kilowatt's Recipe For Rosy Cheeked Smiling Wife:-

Special Offer

$5 CASH $10 Old Stove For

30 Months To Pay Balance

Tune in WSOC 10 A. M. Daily... WBT 10:45 A. M. Monday-Wednesday-Friday

DUKE POWER COMPANY

Uncle Phil Says:

Haste Versus Hurry

There is a distinction between haste and hurry—hurry adding to rapidly the element of confusion.

Unsatisfying Retribution

Observant men have made up their minds to this: Retribution is seldom adequate.

Take a Hand in the Doings

To enjoy a celebration, be one of the performers in it instead of a looker-on.

Calotabs advertisement for biliousness, sour stomach, and constipation.

St. Joseph Aspirin advertisement, 'Your Buy-word'.

Magic Remedy advertisement for rheumatism and neuralgia.

Quicker Sores, Boils, Athlete's Foot, Burns, Cuts and Itching Skin advertisement.

Classified Department advertisement for home work.

Classified Department advertisement for photography.

Classified Department advertisement for art.

BRIGHT STAR

By Mary Schumann

CHAPTER VI—Continued

Hugh stood still. He was conscious of something different in Joan. An unwilling response tingled through him.

She stood still and very close to him. She said in a small distinct voice, "There are no good reasons."

He pushed open the swinging door to the hall. The soft chenille rug gave no sound of his footsteps.

It burned like acid, and it froze like ice. He had seen it with his own eyes. If someone had told him, he would have explained it away to meet the desirous need of his soul to believe in her.

Joan looked at him compassionately. "Poor Hugh," she murmured.

It came upon him in black waves that this knowledge was the thing he had been fleeing from.

Finally he said in a croaking, foggy voice, "You knew it that night at Freeland Farms."

"When I cried? Yes, I was so sorry for you both. I hoped when he was working, things would be different."

CHAPTER VII

Hugh fumbled through the fog to the street and climbed into his car. He drove automatically, stopped at through streets, shifted gears, rolled into his own driveway and garage.

He went into the house, dragged two suitcases from a closet. He reeled as he deposited them on the bedroom floor.

the porch. Dorrie came running up the stairs.

Her hair was blown a little; her blue scarf trailed over one shoulder. "I must say that was a queer thing to do—go off without saying a word," she said, angry excitement in her eyes.

When he did not answer, she went to the dresser and picked up a comb, ran it through her hair.

She was thinking he was the same person as before dinner—going to carry it off as if she were the offended one. Now—even now. That was what she had been doing right along, making him feel at fault, because she was so horribly at fault herself.

She must have seen his white face in the mirror for she turned suddenly. She saw the suitcases, the open drawers, the expression on his face.

When he did not speak, she said in quivering low voice, "Hugh?"

"Well, now you know, what of it?" she flung out. "What of it?"

"And you—what about you?" She was smiling scornfully. "You can't make me believe you're as lily white as you're painted!"

"You're lying, and you know it!" She looked sullen. She began again, heaping blame upon him.

"So you care for him," Hugh repeated dully.

Her long green eyes looked at him with cruelty and contempt. She threw back her head with a little gesture, and the words came out with a passionate ringing stress: "Care for him? . . . I love him—love him!"

"Shut up!" he thundered suddenly. A vein was livid across his temple.

She stared at him. Then threw herself into a chair and began to cry, long, tearing sobs that set his raw nerves quivering.

"Not tonight. Hugh—don't go tomorrow . . ."

"I'm going."

"There is no place for me in this house—haven't you told me?"

"You talk about understanding—well, I didn't. I thought of you as something special, rare, and enchanting. My life revolved around you—you knew it—I told you. I never saw you as you really are—common, vulgar and selfish."

"Now let me go!"

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK... By Lemuel F. Parton

When Floods Subside

NEW YORK.—Two men in the news this week attest the fact that floods subside and wars end. It was only a few weeks ago that Churchill Downs was a dismal swamp.

Ol' Man River backs away, and there is assured a braver flare of silks and trumpets than ever before, as the pastures grow green again in Wall street and Kentucky.

This will be Colonel Winn's sixty-third Kentucky derby. He saw his first one in 1875, won by a little red horse called Aristides.

Being a romantic Irish lad, the excitement never stopped boiling. After that, he never could keep his mind on his groceries.

In 1907, the late James Butler opened the Empire City track, but the nabobs of racing hereabouts refused to recognize it.

When Charles Evans Hughes squelched racing in New York state, Colonel Winn tried his fortune in racing and management at Juarez, Mexico, with unhappy results.

The years paw at the Colonel's robust person the way the river paws at the track. So far, neither has won a decision.

Proof the War is Over. IT IS Dr. William R. Valentiner, curator of the Detroit Institute of Art, who provides this week's reminder that the war's over.

"Quotations" An adequate revival of international trade will be the most powerful force for easing political tensions and averting the danger of war.—Cordell Hull.

Campos the Conqueror ANOTHER Harvard man in the news—also in jail. The incarcerated Pedro Albizu Campos has been the spark plug, or main irritant, of the incipient revolution in Puerto Rico, flaring up again at San Juan with seven killed and fifty injured.

A wavy-haired mulatto with Valentino sideburns, pearl-button shoes and a Harvard degree, he has aspired to become the Henri Christophe of Latin America, spilling sepulchral words over eleven countries.

Last month, the nationalist party, leading the present agitation for independence, again elected him president. Several years ago, he started his movement with a black shirt army with wooden guns.

Smart, Flattering Dresses

MRS. DICK EVANS has come to town and brought Ann and Eddie LeRoy with her. She lives in Palm Beach in the wintertime and, of course, knows all about style. That's why she wears this directoire type frock that is both new and figure flattering.

14 to 20 (32 to 42 bust). Size 16 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39 inch material and 2 1/2 yards of ribbon for the belt.

Send for the Barbara Bell Spring and Summer Pattern Book containing designs of attractive, practical and becoming clothes.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept. Room 1020, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. Patterns 15 cents (in coins) each. © Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Advertisement for Coleman Air-Pressure Mantle Lantern, 'The LIGHT of 1000 USES'.

Advertisement for Quaker State Motor Oil, 'GO FARTHER BEFORE YOU NEED A QUART'.

Vertical strip of comic panels on the right edge of the page, including 'THE FE...', 'S'MATTE...', 'MESC...', 'FINNEY', 'BRONC...', and 'SO RED I HAVE A WILL AND'.

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

THE FEATHERHEADS

By Osborne

The Long Pull

By Osborne

OS QUACK

'SMATTER POP- Take Note of This, Kids

By C. M. PAYNE

MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY

Isn't That Just Like Muley?

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

By Ted O'Loughlin

Without End

By Osborne

BRONC PEELER- Withers May Let His Gun Speak

By FRED HARMAN

The Curse of Progress

Eager to Oblige

He examined the menu carefully, and then tossed it irritably on the table. "Waiter," he called, "is this all you have today?" "Yes, sir," said the waiter, whose term of service expired at the end of the week. "Why, there's nothing on the menu fit to eat—absolutely nothing!" roared the diner. "Bring me the manager!" "Very good, sir," eagerly piped the waiter. "How would you like him—grilled or fried?"

A Delicate Competition
"Didn't Crimson Gulch take up the idea, just for novelty, of offering a prize for the toughest-looking man?" "Yes," answered Cactus Joe. "But the enterprise fell through. There wasn't anybody who would have had nerve enough to face men who was maybe jest lookin' for trouble and formally announce to one of them that he had won the prize."

THE SPECTATOR

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

Tot's Party Frock Is Easy to Crochet

Pattern 1388

She'll be proud of this dainty, crocheted frock, in a clover leaf pattern. In one piece, gathered to a contrasting yoke, it's effective in string or mercerized cotton. Pattern 1388 contains directions for making the dress in sizes 4 to 8 (all given in one pattern); an illustration of it and of all stitches used; material requirements. Send 15 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) for this pattern to The Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y. Write plainly pattern number, your name and address.

Foreign Words and Phrases

Polisson. (F.) A rascal.
Au grand serieux. (F.) In deadly earnest.
Latet anguis in herba. (L.) A snake lurks in the grass.
Maladie du pays. (F.) Homesickness.
Ut supra. (L.) As above.
Nuit blanche. (F.) A sleepless night.

Constipated 30 Years

"For thirty years I had stubborn constipation. Sometimes I did not go for four or five days. I also had awful gas bloating, headaches and pains in the back. Adlerika helped right away. Now I eat sausage, bananas, pie, anything I want and never feel better. I sleep soundly all night and enjoy life."
—Mrs. Mabel Schott.
If you are suffering from constipation, sleeplessness, sour stomach, and gas bloating, there is quick relief for you in Adlerika. Many reports of action in thirty minutes after taking just one dose. Adlerika gives you relief by cleaning your bowel tract where ordinary laxatives do not even reach.
Dr. H. L. Shub, New York, writes: "In a column to intestinal bacteria and colon health."
Give your bowels a real cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and stubborn constipation. At all leading Druggists.

Duty and Contentment
Be sure no man was ever dissatisfied with the world who did his duty in it.—Southey.

FOR CUTS MOROLINE

Large 5¢
Small 10¢
SHOW WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

The Victor
The winner is he who gives himself to his work, body and soul.—Charles Buxton.

Miss REE LEEF says:

'CAPUDINE relieves HEADACHE quicker because it's liquid... already dissolved'

Great Wealth
He who owns the soil owns up to the sky.—Juvenal.

Women, Young or Older

Mrs. Lillie Price of 1162 Neil St., Columbus, Ga., said: "Following an illness I had no strength. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was recommended to me as a tonic and it certainly acted promptly. I soon improved after starting to take it. My appetite was increased and thru this I gained strength. I also took the 'Prescription' before the birth of my daughter—as a tonic and it helped me so much." Buy your druggist today. Tab. Sec. Liquid $1.00 & $1.25.

WNU-7 15-37

"I SLEEP LIKE A LOG"
"What nervous conditions or rheumatic aches keep me awake and restless I use RADWAY'S READY RELIEF. This many-used Liniment-Cum-Ointment contains no narcotics and its Warmth Works Wonders. It helps me to relax and drift with delicious drowsiness into dreamland." writes W. L. Willis of 22 E. 35th St., N. Y. City. Only 5c at your druggist. For free sample write Radway & Co., 205 E. Centre St., New York City.

CHEVROLET TRUCK

breaks all known economy and dependability records

10,244 MILES with 1000-pound load	Study this unequaled record—then buy CHEVROLET TRUCKS
$101 TOTAL COST OF GAS	Location of Test 'Round the Nation
TOTAL COST OF REPAIR PARTS 73¢	Gasoline Used 493.8 Gallons
	Oil Consumed 7.5 Quarts
	Water Used 1 Quart
	Gasoline Mileage 20.74 Miles per Gallon
	Average Speed 31.18 Miles per Hour
	Running Time 328 Hours, 31 Minutes
	Cost per Vehicle Mile $.0098
	Average Oil Mileage 1,365.9 Miles per Qt.
	<small>These records have been certified by the A.A.A. Contest Board as being officially correct.</small> <small>General Motors Installation Plan—monthly payments to suit your purse.</small> CHEVROLET MOTOR DIVISION
	<small>General Motors Sales Corporation</small> <small>DETROIT MICHIGAN</small>

MORE POWER per gallon LOWER COST per load

Home Chevrolet Co., Inc. MOCKSVILLE N. C.

The Davie Record is the only home-owned newspaper in Mocksville. Its editor, owner and printers all live here. When we make any money it is spent here. Patronize home industries.

LIST YOUR PROPERTY Give In Your Poll NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

That the listakers for the various townships of Davie County will sit at the various listing places during the month of April, at which places and in which month all property owners and tax payers in said townships are required to return to the Listakers for taxation, for the year 1937 all the Real Estate, Personal Property, etc., which each one shall on the first day of April, or shall be required to give in then. All male persons between the ages of 21 and 50 years are to list their polls during the same time. Return of Property and giving in of polls are required under the pains and penalties imposed by law.

Persons who shall have been exempted from the payment of poll tax will, when they come to list, be required to exhibit a certificate of the Commissioners. Those who have, through mistake surrender, lost, or have mislaid their certificates of exemption, should make application for other exemptions at the April or May meeting of the board. This certificate of exemption is to be kept by the person exempted. When you come to list ask the undersigned to show you list of exempted.

All persons who are liable for poll tax, and fail to give themselves in, and all own property and fail to list it will be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, fined or imprisoned.

Blanks upon which a verified statement of property is to be made by each taxpayer can be had of the undersigned. Fill in these blanks and see to it that statements be free from error, thereby obviating much trouble. Only female and non-residence of township and persons physically unable to attend and file their list can appoint agents to list property.

A failure to list will subject you to DOUBLE TAX.
Examine your list before signing.
It is also required that you make a crop report at the time of listing. Don't fail to do this.

D. R. STROUD,
Tax Supervisor.

Mild Weather Is Best for Pruning

Latter Part of the Dormant Season Is Advised for Peach Trees.

By Prof. A. J. Farley, Extension Horticulturist, New Jersey College of Agriculture.—WNU Service.

Although far-sighted fruit growers will take advantage of mild weather to prune their trees, it is sometimes advisable to wait until the latter part of the dormant season to prune peaches.

Pruning under favorable weather conditions is not only more comfortable than during extremely cold periods, but it is also more economical as a worker can do more pruning in a day. Furthermore, an early start in pruning operations is some insurance that the entire orchard will be pruned and the brush removed before it is time to start spraying or cultivating.

It is suggested that apples be pruned first and peaches toward the end of the dormant season, since there is more danger of winter killing of peach buds than apple buds. Many fruit growers prefer to wait until some of the most severe winter weather is over before pruning their bearing peach trees.

This practice makes it possible to consider the amount of bud killing when cutting back or thinning out branches on which there are fruit buds. For example, fruit bud injury may be quite severe throughout the lower portion of the trees and light enough in the tops to insure at least a partial crop if the trees are not cut back too hard. Bud injury may also be more severe on some varieties than on others, thereby making some modification of the pruning practice desirable.

In general, however, the commercial fruit grower finds it necessary to start pruning early in the dormant season and to continue during the entire winter in order to complete the work in time to be ready for the early spring spraying operations.

Stolen Horse Saying Is Applied to Oats Yields

The parable of the farmer who waited until his horse was stolen before locking the barn applies today in the loss of soil through erosion.

At the Guthrie, Okla., experiment station of the Soil Conservation Service two equal-sized fields, one eroded and the other virgin grass land, were sown to oats. The virgin land yielded more than 40 bushels to the acre while the soil-wasted field produced 11 bushels. Losing oats, a prime horse feed, is in a way equivalent to losing horses. The difference of 29 bushels is enough for the usual work horse ration for more than 100 days.

The eroded land had been in cultivation about 30 years, and continued cropping accounts for some of the difference in yield. But erosion was largely to blame for the wasting of the fertility of the field. If oats were selling at 40 cents a bushel, the difference in returns from the two one-acre fields would amount to $11.60. Furthermore, the cost of terracing badly eroded land on the Guthrie project was more than three times as great as on newly broken land. These facts, according to the Soil Conservation Service, show it pays to start saving soil on newly cleared land rather than wait until washing waters have carried away most of the good soil which had developed through the years.

Give Hogs Range When Fattening

Animals Will Produce Meat of Better Quality When Not Crowded.

By E. W. Taylor, Extension Swine Specialist, North Carolina State College.—WNU Service.

Contrary to popular belief, a small, filthy, crowded pen is no place to fatten hogs. Crowded and filthy hogs cannot be as healthy and sanitary as they should be to produce good, firm, wholesome meat. Overfat hogs do not produce the best pork.

Hogs will gain well and keep clean if allowed a reasonable amount of range and given all the balanced ration they can eat, and some exercise is needed to keep them healthy.

Since it is important that pork be produced as economically as is reasonably possible, it is a good practice to turn the hogs into a field where they can glean food that has been left from various crops.

Fattening hogs should have, in addition to the field gleanings, all the corn they can eat and a protein supplement should be kept before them at all times.

Fish meal or tankage, or a mixture containing one-half cottonseed tankage is recommended as a good protein supplement.

Along in the early winter, growers should begin to think about their spring farrows, and see that the necessary equipment is available.

Now is a good time to build a farrowing house. A plan for such a house may be obtained from county farm agents.

May we give you six dollars?

NOT in cash, of course. We're speaking of its equivalent. But here is something for you to consider:

Every year this newspaper brings you at least three outstanding novels in serial form. Purchased as books each would cost not less than $2, making a total expenditure of at least $6 per year.

Like yourself, we could find plenty of uses for that $6. Some member of the family is always in need of a new pair of shoes or some other necessity. But at the same time your requirements for good reading material must be met. By accepting these three novels each year we feel you are treating yourself to real enjoyment, at the same time giving your purse a substantial boost.

These novels are a source of constant pride to us. Every year we select them from the season's most outstanding best sellers, offered in serial form by a large newspaper syndicate organization. We'd like to feel that you—as a subscriber—always look forward to reading the coming installment in the next issue. It gives us a great satisfaction to know that here is another reason why our paper is popular in the home.

You are invited to begin reading our novels now. These regular brief bits of fictionland will prove a delightful interlude from your work-day activities. And it will make us happy to know that you are getting enjoyment from them.

When you finish reading your copy of The Record, hand it to a neighbor and ask him to send in his subscription.

Mountain Beaver Moves Slowly
The American mountain beaver moves so slowly that a child can catch it.

Tahiti Tides Follow the Sun
Tides at Tahiti follow the sun instead of the moon, high at noon and low at midnight.

Executor's Notice.
Having qualified as executor of the estate of Mrs. Lula McCulloh, late of Davie county, North Carolina, notice is hereby given all persons holding claims against the said estate to present them to the undersigned on or before the 10th day of January, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate, will please make immediate payment. This Feb. 10th, 1937.
O. G. ALLEN, Exr.
Mrs. Lula McCulloh, Dec'd.
412 N. Spruce St.
Winston Salem, N. C.

DR. R. P. ANDERSON
DENTIST
Anderson Building
Mocksville, N. C.
Office 50 - Phone - Residence 37

Administrator's Notice!
Having qualified as administrator of the late Miss Margaret Myers, of Shady Grove township, Davie county, notice is hereby given all persons having claims against the said estate, to present them to the undersigned on or before Jan. 12, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make immediate payment. This Jan. 12, 1937.
G. B. MYERS, Admr.
Miss Margaret Myers, Dec'd

666 COLDS and FEVER first day
LIQUID, TABLETS
ALIVE, NOSE DROPS
Headache 30 minutes
Try "Rub-My-Tim"—World's Best Lintment

BEST IN RADIOS
YOUNG RADIO CO.
MOCKSVILLE, N. C.
BEST IN SUPPLIES

WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY
ON YOUR ENVELOPES, LETTER HEADS, STATEMENTS, PACKET HEADS, CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, ETC. GET OUR PRICES FIRST.
THE DAVIE RECORD

If you want a 1937 Blum's Almanac free, you had better subscribe or renew your subscription soon.

State of North Carolina
Department of State

Certificate of Dissolution.

To all to whom these presents may come—Greeting:

Whereas, It appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Home Ice and Fuel Co., a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated in the town of Mocksville, County of Davie, State of North Carolina (S. M. Call, Sec. Treas., being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 22, Consolidated Statutes, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution.

Now Therefore, I, Thad Eure, Secretary of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 5th day of April 1937, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceeding aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 5th day of April, A. D. 1937.

THAD EURE,
Secretary of State.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree made by M. A. Hartman, Clerk of Superior Court of Davie County, in an action entitled, G F Cornatzer, Adm., of Mary Jones vs J. H. Cornatzer and wife; the undersigned commissioner will, on Saturday, the 8th day of May, 1937, at the Court House door of Davie County, in Mocksville, N. C., at 12 o'clock, m., sell publicly for cash to the highest bidder, the following described lands lying and being in Shady Grove Township, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Adjoining the lands of W. E. Boyles, C. B. Walker and others, and bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning at a large white oak, W. E. Boyles and others corner, and running North 4 degs East 19 46 chs. to a stone, corner of lot No 1 in the division of the Katie Ward lands between Sarah Williams and Mary Caton; thence South 86 degs. E. 24 chs to a stone in C. B. Walker's line; thence with said line; thence South 19.31 chs. to a stone in W. E. Bowles line; thence with said line 24.45 chs. to the beginning containing 46½ acres more or less.

See deed from Susannah Williams to M. M. Cornatzer, Registered in Davie County, N. C., and also deed from G. H. Cornatzer and M. M. Cornatzer to Z. C. Cornatzer, recorded in Book 27, page 254, in the office of Register of Deeds of Davie County, N. C.

Terms of Sale: Cash.
This the 6th day of April, 1937.
J. B. GRANT, Commissioner.

Notice To Creditors.

Having qualified as administrator of the estate of Betty E. Hodgson, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against deceased to present the same to the undersigned, duly verified, on or before the 20th day of March, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please call upon the undersigned and make prompt settlement.

J. M. STROUD,
Adm. of Betty E. Hodgson dec'd.
By GRANT & GRANT, Attvs.

Notice Of Sale Of Real Estate.

Under and by virtue of an order made in the special proceeding in the Superior Court of Davie County, North Carolina, entitled, J. Z. Tucker, et al vs Mrs. Louisa Foster, et al, by M. A. Hartman, Clerk of Superior Court:

The undersigned commissioner will sell publicly for cash to the highest bidder at the courthouse door of Davie County, North Carolina, on Monday, the 10th day of May, 1937, at 12 o'clock m., the following described lands lying and being in Shady Grove township, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

A tract beginning at a stone in George Hartman's line, corner of lot No 1; thence W. 48 poles to a stone, corner of lot No 3; thence S. 1 deg W. 21 poles to a stone in Clark's line, W. J. Ellis' corner, thence N. 3 degs E. 21 poles to the beginning, containing 6 acres and 58 poles more or less. See deed from J. O. Markland, et al, to M. E. Tucker, dated September 14, 1892, and recorded in Book 35, page 294, Register's office of Davie County, North Carolina.

Terms of Sale: Cash.
This the 9th day of April, 1937.
A. T. GRANT, Commissioner.

Now is the time to subscribe for The Record.

North Carolina } In Superior Court
Davie County }
C. M. Markland, et al

vs
Mrs. Emma Mason, et al

Notice Sale Of Land.

By virtue of an order made by M. A. Hartman C. S. C., I as Commissioner will sell on Saturday, May 15th 1937 at 12 o'clock m., at the Court House Door in Davie County, N. C., to the highest bidder the following lands belonging to the Estate of the late J. O. Markland, situated in Shady Grove Township, Davie County, N. C.

1st Tract: Beginning at a stone Adelia Marklands corner; thence S. 57 poles and 9 links to a stone her corner; thence E. 15 poles to a stone in C. C. Carters line; thence N. 2 degs. E. 75 poles to a stone Davis corner; thence E. 7 degs. E. 30 poles to Williams corner; thence N. 20 poles and 18 links to a stone Williams corner; thence E. 17 poles to a stone Williams line, thence N. 40 dears. E. 12 and 12 poles to a stone; thence W. 116 poles and 17 links to a stone Ellis corner; thence W. 16 poles to a stone, thence S. 18 and 44 100 poles to Allens line; thence E. 60 poles to the beginning, containing 33 acres and 122 poles more or less being a part of the Orrell tract. See minute Book No. 7 pages 153 and 154 in C. S. C's office.

2nd Tract: Beginning at a stone corner of Lot No. 3 and running N. 86 degs. W. 58 links to a stone W. H. Davis corner; thence S. 2 and 12 degs. W. 6 48 chs. to a stone Davis corner; thence N. 85 degra. W. 3 22 chs. to a stone said corner; thence S. 3 degs. W. 19 43 chs. to a stone Adelia Marklands corner; thence E. 3 degs. S. 4.09 chs. to a stone corner of Lot No. 3; thence N. 3 degs E. 25 17 chs to the beginning, containing 7 and 72 100 acres more or less. see minute docket No. 5 pages 167 to 171 inclusive, also see Deed Book No. 28 page 87 Reg. of Deeds Office.

3rd Tract: Beginning at the branch B. R. Baileys corner; thence W. with original line 22 and 1 2 chs. to a stone; thence N. 3 and 1 2 degra. E. 7 chs. to a stone; thence S. 86 degra E. 31 chs to a stake on the bank of branch; thence down said branch; thence down said branch with its meanderings to the beginning, containing 19 and 3 4th acres more or less. See Deed Book No. 19 pages 139 to 141 inclusive.

4th Tract: Beginning at a stone original corner and running S 86 degra E. 40.89 chs. with Tuckers line to a pine stump; thence N. 6.20 chs. to a stone; thence W. 7.50 chs to a stone; thence N. 3 and 1 2 degra. E. 20 65 chs to a stone corner lots 3 and 4; thence S. 86 degra F. 32 chs. to a stone corner of Lots 3 and 4; thence S. 4 degra. W. 26 65 chs. to a stone, the beginning corner of Lot No. 1; containing 90 and 1 4th acres more or less, save and except 10 acres conveyed to C. M. Markland, leaving a balance of 80 and 1 4th more or less, Being lots allotted to J. O. Markland, Mrs. Anna Markland and T. J. Markland, see Deed Book No 19 pages 143 and 144 division of the lands of Mathew Markland dec'd. These Lots of lands will be sold to pay taxes, and charges, and the surplus to be divided among the heirs at law of J. O. Markland dec'd, according to their respective rights. TERMS OF SALE, on 60 days time or all cash at the option of the purchaser. This April 8th 1937.

E. H. MORRIS, Commissioner.

The Record is only $1.

Canning School In Mocksville.

Mrs Helen B. Zoller, Home Economist, is coming to the high school in Mocksville Friday, April 23, at 2 o'clock p. m. to give a demonstration on the best methods of canning fruit and vegetables. By best methods I mean methods of preserving color, freshness, retaining food value, and rules for observing all scientific methods

Miss Zoller is a Home Economics graduate of Miami University. She taught Home Economics in rural and city schools and served two years as critic teacher at Miami University. The nation called on all to can in 1917—to win the war. Miss Zoller was in school there but her canning ability was so obvious that she was selected by her food instructor to assist in giving canning demonstrations. Mrs. Zoller is now with Bell Brothers company and is sent to us through the Extension division at State College.

I should like to urge all canning leaders in home demonstration clubs and all supervisors in the canning department for the fair to attend this demonstration, however, every woman, whether a club member or not is invited to this meeting.

Notice.

It seems that there is some misunderstanding in the minds of some of our fishermen as to the closed season. It is against the law to fish for any kind of fish in any of the inland waters of the state from April 1st, until May 10th. Please do not fish for any kind of fish until after May 10th. If you like to fish, this law is for you, as this is the spawning season. Try to protect the fish during the season they lay their eggs. This will give you more sport in the future.

A. E. HENDRIX,
Game and Fish Protector.

The many friends of Mrs. M. A. Hartman, of Advance, R. 1, wife of Clerk of the Court, will be sorry to learn that she is quite ill. Mrs. Hartman was a patient at Baptist Hospital, Winston Salem, but was able to return to her home last week. All hope for her an early and complete recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Hopkins, of Martinsville, Va., spent the week end here with relatives.

Rev. W. H. Johnson, of Clarksville township, writes us April 16th, that he had a large bee swarm on April 1st, and another one on April 15th, and that he took out 90 pounds of fine sourwood honey two weeks ago. Sorry Brother Johnson didn't send us a pound or two for our birthday.

A number of Baptists from Mocksville and Davie county attended the annual conference of North Carolina Baptist Training Union, which was held at Western Avenue Baptist church, Statesville, on Monday and Tuesday of last week. About 400 workers from all parts of the state were present. A number of prominent speakers were on the program.

Spring Goods Are Here.

Our Line Of Spring

Shoes, For The Entire Family, Ladies, Misses
And Children's Dresses, Coats, Hats, Hosiery and Lingerie Are Now Ready For Your Inspection.

Look Over Our Big Line Of Spring And Summer
Wearing Apparel Before Buying Elsewhere.

We Can Always Save You Money.

"Yours For Bargains"

J. Frank Hendrix

NOTICE To The Dog Owners Of Davie County

It being the law of North Carolina that all dogs in this State be vaccinated against Rabies, each and every year, it is being authorized by the County Commissioners of the County of Davie, for the safety of the citizens of said county. I do hereby serve notice to the dog owners of said county, to have all dogs in your possession vaccinated.

G. A. Sheek Has Been Appointed Inspector
For Davie County, And He Has Authority To See That All Dogs Are Vaccinated Within The Said County.

L. M. TUTTEROW,
Chairman Board County Commissioners.

The Davie Record.

"HERE SHALL THE PRESS, THE PEOPLE'S RIGHTS MAINTAIN, UNAWED BY INFLUENCE AND UNBRIBED BY GAIN."

VOLUME XXXVIII.

MOCKSVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1937.

NUMBER 38

NEWS OF LONG AGO.

What Was Happening in Davie Before The New Deal Used Up The Alphabet, Drowned The Hogs and Plowed Up The Cotton and Corn.

(Davie Record, April 21, 1915.)
 D. P. Ratledge spent Wednesday in Winston on business.
 William LeGrand, of Winston, spent Sunday in town with home folks.
 Mrs. O. G. Allen spent Thursday with relatives at Advance.
 Misses Willie and Carolyn Miller spent Thursday in Winston shopping.
 Miss Velma Martin spent Thursday and Friday in Winston.
 Miss Jessie Hothouser is spending some time with relatives in Statesville.
 Mrs. Charity Meroney continues seriously ill, her friends will be sorry to learn.
 John H. Foster, of R. 2, spent Sunday with his son at Statesville.
 Misses Marjorie Hartman and Nora Granger, of Farmington, were in town shopping Friday.
 Mrs. H. H. McKeowan returned Saturday from a short visit to relatives at Roxboro.
 The thief who stole George Walker's two auto tires Monday morning has not yet been completed.
 G. A. Allison and daughter Miss Ossie, spent Sunday with relatives at Cleveland.
 Rev. E. P. Bradley attended a meeting of Presbytery at Cleveland.
 Rev. E. P. Bradley attended a meeting of Presbytery at Cleveland, last week.
 Mrs. M. D. Brown went to Hickory Saturday to be with her mother, Mrs. Green Leach, who is seriously ill.
 A. S. McDaniel, of Richmond, Va., spent several days last week with relatives and friends near Cornatzer.
 N. M. Kurfees, of Danville, Ill., came in last week to be present at the funeral of his father, James R. Kurfees, of near Holman's.
 The editor will leave tomorrow for Raleigh to attend the North Carolina Baraca Philathea Convention.
 A High Point company is erecting a 30x70 foot garage opposite S. T. Foster's store, near Ephesus.
 Sheriff J. H. Sprinkle made a business trip to Greensboro Thursday. Mrs. Sprinkle accompanied him as far as Winston.
 Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Frost, of Burlington, are guests of Dr. Frost's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Frost, on R. 2.
 Mrs. R. L. Wilson and daughter Miss Bernice, spent several days in Winston last week, guests of Mrs. J. P. Cloaninger.
 J. L. Kurfees, of Atlanta, and Charles Kurfees, of Rockford, were here last week to attend the funeral of their father, J. R. Kurfees.
 Mr. and Mrs. Mack Galbreath, of Burlington, came over Friday to spend a few days with Mrs. Galbreath's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Swicegood.
 Vance Heaven, the 12-year-old boy preacher of Catawba county, will preach at the Mocksville Baptist church on Sunday night, May 9th.
 Work was commenced on the Duchman Creek bridge on the Central highway, four miles north of Mocksville. When this bridge is completed the road from Hall's Ferry to County Line via Mocksville, will be one of the best highways in the state.
 The Farmington high school commencement will be held this year on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 4th and 5th. An interesting program has been arranged for both days, and the public is invited.

Country Newspapers.

Arthur Brisbane, who died a few months ago, was one of the strongest supporters of country newspapers as an advertising medium who ever lived. In a letter to James Fort Forsyth, editor and publisher of the North Muskegon, Mich., News, in April, 1935, he wrote:
 "The readers of the smaller newspapers scattered all over the United States, form the most important body of thinking Americans in this country. The readers of the smaller newspapers have time to think. They have neighbors whom they know intimately, with whom they discuss public matters. They know that the sky, the stars, the moon, the green fields, the changing seasons, are realities. They actually see them. You cannot say that for many dwellings in great cities.
 "The editors of the smaller newspapers constitute a national intellectual public square. On those editorial pages, Americans are informed, warned, protected. The national welfare demands the important and influential in pre-emptive of a great number of smaller newspapers, infinitely more portion to circulation than the great metropolitan dailies.
 "I need not tell you that I have no selfish interest in any newspaper, through ownership or other lectual police force that keeps a majority of the 130,000,000 Americans informed as to public happenings.
 "It was said in Greece long ago that no country could retain its liberty if it grew so big that the population could not gather in the public square and hear the statesmen making their reports direct to the people.
 "The editorial page of a modern newspaper, particularly the smaller newspaper, through ownership or otherwise.
 "Addressing you as publisher, I should emphasize, as I have often done, the fact that the local newspaper is entitled to prosperity, to a full share of advertising, on its business merits alone.
 "People in a great city often live with a can opener and elevators as their chief assistants.
 "The reader of the smaller newspaper is usually one who lives a complete life. He does not find things 'ready made.' He buys everything, from the roof on the house to the cement on the cellar floor. It is he who creates the giant automobile industry, radio industry, and a dozen others.
 "If the great advertisers of the United States could be made to realize the extraordinary power and advertising value of the local newspapers, the publishers of such newspapers would be rewarded financially as they deserve to be."

What Not To Tell.

"There are two good rules," said Dr. Henry van Dyke, "which ought to be written on every heart. Never to believe anything bad about anybody unless you positively know it to be true; never to tell even that, unless you feel that it is absolutely necessary, and that God is listening while you tell it."
 Can you imagine the great transformation in this old world if the above rules were generally followed in conversation. Just why people delight in spreading gossip without any object in mind and knowing that nobody will benefit has been a mystery for ages.—Wilkes Journal.
 A neighboring editor contends that the hen should be immortalized on our coins, instead of the eagle. According to this editor the eagle never did anything for the country while the hen has paid off more than one mortgage.

Held For Ransom.

Clearer every day grows the meaning of the sit down strike, the new imported French weapon of the labor union racketeer. Are there any of us farmer who do not yet understand it?
 At harvest time you have three hired helpers among them a stranger in the neighborhood. As the year's yield fills your barns and cribs and stacks, one fine morning the stranger is missing.
 You find him sitting idly in the barn among your livestock. As you stick your head in the door he comes forward threateningly.
 "Get out," he says. "You can't come in here. I'm on strike."
 "I can't come in my own barn?" you ask. "I'll see about that."
 "Don't try it," he says. "You have some valuable cows and horses here, and a good born. You wouldn't want them damaged, would you, just because you forced yourself in where I don't want you?"
 You ask: "What's the big idea?"
 "I'm on strike," he says. "I don't take orders from you but from my boss, who is James J. So-and-so in New York. He appointed me bargaining agent for your farm hands, and as soon as you decide to listen to reason I will tell you how much more you have to pay us hereafter and how long we are going to work."
 "This is still America," you say. "You have no rights in my barn. You can't speak for the other men unless they want you to, and they don't even know you. They want to work."
 "What's that got to do with it? I'm in the barn. Let's see you get me out."
 Well, there you are. What would you do? I don't know, but I rather think you'd say: "Good-bye barn!" and fill the Rat's pants so full of buckshot they would have to weigh him before and after to find out which was net and which was tare.—Montgomery's Vindicators

Strikes And Boycotts.

One senator has compared the evils of the sit down strike to the practice of boycott, with which an earlier generation battled. The boycott was another one of those European ideas, having originated in Ireland. In the United States the labor unions backed up boycotting, and from that resorted to black-listing, intimidations and other methods of forcing their demands on employers. Twenty five years ago the epidemic was as much of a puzzle as the sit down strikes of today. The fining of 241 members of the Hatters union of Connecticut in the sum of $222,000 but the "kibosh" on further boycotts.
 Court decisions were not laughed off in 1910 as they are in 1937. The American Federation of Labor calls the sit-downers "anarchy," but the Committee on Industrial Organization is still able to arrange one of those disturbances on short notice.
 While Washington washes its hands, court orders fail in their purposes on account of lack of enforcement by state, county and municipal authorities.
 All this appears to indicate that the sit down strikes, like the old-time boycotts, will continue to upset normal conditions and orderly methods that might otherwise be arranged between employers and employees.
 The important thing that is lacking seems to be law enforcement.
 It takes nature 500 years or more to make an inch of topsoil. What a shame some folks don't realize how fast land goes when erosion sets in.

Ney Memorial At Davidson.

Charlotte.—Charles W. Allison announced here that plans were underway for the construction on the Davidson college campus of a $10,000 chapel in which would be preserved the relics of Peter Stuart Ney.
 Allison, local manufacturer and a student of Nev history, has expressed the belief with other commentators that Peter Stuart Ney, the North Carolina school teacher who was buried near Statesville, was actually Marshall Michael Ney, Napoleon Bonaparte's "bravest of the brave" who, historians say, died before a firing squad in France.
 Dr. Walter L. Lingle, president of Davidson, said that the college would be "very grateful" to have such a shrine.
 Allison said original plans called for the construction of a monument at Third Creek Presbyterian church in Rowan county, site of Peter Stuart Ney's grave, but that now it was considered more appropriate that the chapel be erected on the campus of Davidson college, with which Peter Ney was prominently identified.
 He explained that plans called for the building to be placed on a conspicuous spot and that it would be of plate glass, on the design of which architects were working. He said various personal articles would be placed in the shrine of the man he said escaped death before a firing squad and, disguised, fled to this country.
 Allison did not disclose how the money would be raised but said arrangements had been made.

The Spoils System.

Sad, indeed, is the way in which the political spoils system hampers the efficient operation of ordinary processes of government. Witness, for example, the griet which has descended upon the once sturdy Irish shoulders of Martin L. O'Donnell, sheriff of Cuyahoga county, Ohio.
 Sheriff O'Donnell was elected last fall in the Roosevelt landslide, and took his oath in January. Since the minute he solemnly affirmed to uphold the duties of the office a veritable swarm of loyal party workers have been besieging him for jobs. Every dawn sees the formation of a long line outside the office winding through until nightfall.
 Now the strain has proved too much for the sheriff and he has taken a temporary vacation—to recuperate from the strain of handling the unending stream of party hacks who consider themselves entitled to jobs.
 This seems to be a forceful argument for civil service reform.—Winston Sentinel.

Mother Surprised.

Shawnee, Okla.—Mrs. S. A. Boone, farmer's wife, didn't feel very good.
 Waiting in a hospital library to see a doctor, she gave birth to a three pound boy.
 "Good heavens, woman," a nurse said "why didn't you tell us you were going to have a baby?"
 "Why didn't you tell me," retorted Mrs. Boone. She said doctors had told her it would be physically impossible for her to bear children.
 Doctors said the baby was healthy and not premature.

Much Sediment in Yangtze River
 Observations made at Hankow, 600 miles from the mouth of the Yangtze river, China, show that 5,000,000,000 cubic feet of sediment are carried past that point every year, to be deposited at the mouth of the river. Geologists say that within a few years the rocky islands which stand in shallow water at the mouth of the river will be surrounded by rice fields.

Highlights of Senator Glass' Speech.

"Confessedly I am speaking tonight from a soul filled with bitterness against proposition which appears to me utterly destitute of moral sensibility, and without parallel since the foundation of the Republic."
 "If Andrew Jackson was right in asserting that eternal vigilance by the people is the price of liberty, God knows that never before since the establishment of the Republic, could the people better be warned to preserve their priceless heritage."
 "Standing ready to curse them vividly describes the attitude of thinking men and women everywhere in America today, toward this hateful attempt to drive eminent jurists from the bench in order to crowd into the Court a lot of judicial marionettes to speak the ventriloquisms of the White House."
 "It's consequences portends evil beyond the anxiety of any person concerned, for a decade administration of justice in this country."
 Among its other vices (the NRA) it actually suspended for a period, the laws of the Nation against the depredations of monopoly and confided to executive discretion, under a hateful species of coercion, the fate of every business interest in the United States."
 "Abraham Lincoln at Gettysburg thought the Civil War was a test of whether 'government of the people by the people, for the people,' should perish from the face of the earth. Just as profoundly are some of us convinced that no threat to representative Democracy since the foundation of the Republic has exceeded in its evil portents this attempt to pack the Supreme Court of the United States."
 "We know there has been no such mandate from the people to rape the Supreme Court or to tamper with the Constitution. The Constitution belongs to the people."
Model T. Metal And War
 Maybe when the person said it he was not being original because the same subject has been on the minds of many hereabouts since the shipments of scrap metal first started to arrive at Morehead City Port Terminal for shipment to foreign countries. But this fellow the editor was talking to over there at Port Terminal a few days ago looked at the huge piles of scrap, said something about the nation to which it is being shipped and then, "I expect to be dodging bullets made from Model T's, because the finale is written to all of this." And that person probably had something in his statement. Already there is talk in Congressional circles about prohibiting the shipment of scrap metal from this country to foreign nations—especially foreign nations which might explode like a fire cracker that means War at some future date. There is something wrong with the whole picture as we see it. Seems that rates would be such that it would be cheaper by far to ship scrap metal to domestic foundries instead of munition makes in foreign lands. But that is where the hitch comes into the picture. It is said that scrap metal can be shipped via Morehead City and other south-Atlantic ports from this and other states, cheaper by far than it can be shipped to foundries in Pennsylvania. One is five or six hundred miles by American railroads—the other is five or six thousand miles by water, with a short haul by rail getting the metal to a place of embarkment.—Beaufort News.
 I see where a doctor has been advising folks to keep their mouths shut in cold weather. Yes, by golly, and it would be a mighty fine thing if some people would follow that advice even in hot weather.—Fool Killer.

Toward Prosperity For Us All.

The tremendous importance of the railroads to the other industries of the nation is illustrated by statistics detailing their buying during 1936.
 In that year they spent more than $534,000,000 for materials and supplies more than $192,000,000 for new locomotives and cars, and over $255,000,000 for coal and fuel oil. Their direct purchases thus totaled almost a billion dollars—$982,204,000, to be exact.
 A list of the industries that share in the fruits of this almost inconceivable private spending would fill many a page. The railroads use about 70,000 separate commodities. They are among the best customers of all the commodity industries—textiles, metal, coal—as well as manufacturing industries. Thus, their influence on employment conditions can hardly be exaggerated. Directly in normal times, they are the largest single employer in the nation—and indirectly, they provide employment for untold thousands of workers in the industries they patronize. It can be said without equivocation that few single factors can be more beneficial to the well being of the nation than a prosperous industry. They are the backbone of commerce—without the service they perform with such amazing efficiency and celerity, business would virtually come to a stop. They are creators of purchasing power, income and wealth. They are tremendous taxpayers—notably to county and state governments, and it has been shown that this money pays the overhead of a remarkably large proportion of the nation's schools. Their salutary social and economic influence is felt in the most remote hamlet, and in every business.
 In brief, the cold facts definitely show that prosperity for the railroads—assured and continued, undampened by adverse legislative tendencies—would constitute a great advance toward the goal of prosperity for us all.
The Cavalcade Of Death.
 When in the boom year of 1929 the traffic death toll reached the new and awful high of 30,000 deaths, the nation was shocked—but not sufficiently. Now, with business indices rising steadily, we seem to be embarking on a new boom year in accidents. And there is a danger that traffic deaths in 1937 will reach the 40,000 mark.
 Where will this cavalcade of death halt? When will we turn it back? Surely the American people are adequate to cope with this social emergency. Here we have the automobile endowing us with the manifold blessings of a motor age. Why don't we control it, and retain the blessings, rather than dissipate them in death, injury and destruction?
 The great irony is that while some people shrug their shoulders, or shudder and say, "Nothing can be done about it," others are doing something about it, and doing it very well. It is a matter of record that the cities and towns that are pursuing positive planned and permanent policies of routing out the fundamental causes of their traffic accident problems, are reducing accidents and chopping away congestion. It is a matter of record that despite the unprecedented number of deaths in 1936, 19 states reduced their traffic fatality records on an average of 7 per cent. All but two of these states carried out positive traffic control programs. Yes, it can be done!
 Traffic control is not yet an exact science. But authorities do agree that far more is known about it than is being applied by the average community. We need not kill 40,000 men, women and children this year if we determine not to, and if we put the goal of halting the cavalcade of death on the list of things to be done Now!

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Senate Condemns Sitdown Strike but Spares President—Henry Ford Defies Lewis—Governor Benson Incurs Censure of Minnesota Senate.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
© Western Newspaper Union

IN ORDER to get the Guffey coal control bill through the senate without an amendment condemning the sitdown strike, Majority Leader Joe Robinson promised to permit consideration of a resolution carrying similar condemnation, but when it was presented and adopted, by a vote of 75 to 3, it was not a joint resolution, which would require the signature of the President. That was what Senator McNary and others wanted, but Robinson said it must be concurrent, because he would not put Mr. Roosevelt in the position of having to indicate his position on the sitdown strike by either signing or vetoing the measure.

Sen. Robinson

Besides declaring the sitdown strike "illegal and contrary to sound public policy" the resolution as adopted took a double slap at the employers by also declaring: "That the so-called industrial spy system breeds fear, suspicion and animosity, tends to cause strikes and industrial warfare and is contrary to sound public policy; and "That it is likewise contrary to sound public policy for any employer to deny the right of collective bargaining, to foster the company union or to engage in any other unfair labor practice as defined in the national labor relations act."

HENRY FORD returned from Detroit to his winter residence at Ways, Ga., and there announced that the Ford Motor company "never will recognize" the United Automobile Workers of America or any other union. "We'll deal with individual workers," he said. Ford said that any of his men who struck would be "let out" of the particular plant with regrets "because we know the men are simply being duped and coerced by the strike leaders."

"We won't hold any grudge against them and will be willing to hire them back," he added. He said public officials were charged with protecting citizens from such disorders as sitdown strikes.

"Those who seize property not their own are in the same category as housebreakers," Ford said. John L. Lewis in reply told a union meeting in Detroit that he had no doubt Ford will continue to deal with individual employees "as long as his employees permit him to follow that policy and no longer." And the C. I. O. chief added ominously: "I have no doubt Henry Ford will change his mind on this subject."

The strike in the Ford plant in Kansas City came to an end and the members of the United Automobile Workers were boasting of gaining a victory over the imperious Henry. But the advantage they won was slight and temporary, and the battle with Ford is yet to be fought.

The thirty-day strike of the Chrysler company employees came to an end when W. P. Chrysler and John Lewis reached an agreement under persuasion of Governor Murphy. The company agreed to recognize the U. A. W. A. as the bargaining agency for its members, and the union pledged that it would call no sitdown strikes nor permit its members to engage in any in Chrysler plants for the duration of the compact, which extends to March 3, 1933.

The strike of Reo company men was settled on approximately the same terms, and Governor Murphy then turned his attention to the Hudson company strike.

The C. I. O. invaded Canada by calling out 3,700 workers in the plants of the General Motors company of Canada at Oshawa, Ont. But it was the old-fashioned kind of strike, with picketing, and the union pledged there would be no violence.

THREE hundred sitdown strikers at the plant of the Hershey Chocolate corporation at Hershey, Pa., were overwhelmed and driven out by a mob of thousands of irate farmers and loyal workers of the company. The farmers were enraged because the strike had cut off their market for $10,000 worth of milk daily. They and the non-strikers were armed with clubs and bricks and the strikers were treated roughly.

Gov. George H. Earle of Pennsylvania ordered an investigation and declared formally: "The bloodshed at the Hershey plant was a disgrace to the Commonwealth. The blame lies directly on the sheriff of the county, who said he did not need the assistance of the state police to maintain order. Precedent decrees that local authorities must ask the state's assistance before it intervenes. "The state police will not be used to suppress union labor. Neither are they interested in the sitdown problem. They will prevent mob rule. Apparently the sheriff was not an unbiased law enforcement officer in this case."

MOVING back again to the West, we find Elmer A. Benson, Farmer-Labor governor of Minnesota, involved in labor troubles that might conceivably result in his impeachment. About 200 members of the "people's lobby" staged a sitdown in the senate chamber at St. Paul for the purpose of enforcing their demands for immediate action on the governor's relief plan. Benson had previously spoken to the crowd, telling them "it is all right to be a little rough once in a while" in dealing with the legislature, and the lawmakers were exceedingly resentful. The governor, after one day and night, persuaded the demonstrators to leave, telling them they had done a good job.

On regaining possession of its chamber, the senate put through a resolution condemning the governor for "inciting people to riot" and failing to perform his lawful duties to "quell and quiet the mob."

While there was no serious talk of impeachment, the report was current that the senate resolution was drafted deliberately as a possible basis for such action.

BITUMINOUS coal miners were on strike only one day, for the new wage scale, providing an $85,000,000 increase of pay for the 400,000 men, was signed by representatives of the operators and the United Mine Workers of America. Of course the consumer will have to pay for this wage boost. Charles O'Neill, president of the United Eastern Coal Sales corporation and chairman of the operators' delegation at the conference, said the cost of bituminous coal at the mine would go up at least 25 cents a ton. The miners won a raise of 50 cents a day, but lost their demand for a 30-hour week. The 35-hour week, or 7 hours a day and 5 days a week, which was in effect under the old contract, will remain. Also the men failed to get two weeks' vacation with pay and a guaranty of 200 days of work a year.

THERE is going to be a lively three-cornered struggle in the southwestern oil fields. The C. I. O., whose plans in that direction were mentioned in this column not long ago, has begun the campaign to organize the workers in the Texas field. Harvey C. Fremming of Washington, president of the International Association of Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers and close friend of John Lewis, is in charge of the operations. A rival movement for members and prestige will be started in a few days by the A. F. of L.

Gov. James V. Allred of Texas has given notice that he will use "every resource" against sit-down strikes, which he declares are unlawful and un-American. He added: "My investigation convinces me that sit-down strike organizers have evaded Texas. Sit-down methods do not represent the desires of an overwhelming majority of organized labor in this state."

TRANS-ATLANTIC air service between the United States and Great Britain may be expected to start almost immediately, for the last obstacle in its way was removed by an agreement with Canada concerning routes through the Dominion.

Assistant Secretary of Commerce J. Monroe Johnson announced that two routes through Canada had been made available for trans-Atlantic flying craft that will make a total of four trips a week. One route is by way of Shediac, N. B., and the other through Montreal. The hop-off point for eastward flights over the ocean would be from Bottwood, N. F., which also would be landfall on the westward flights.

Johnson said that under the agreement British and United States planes would make two crossings a week.

SENATOR JAMES HAMILTON LEWIS of Illinois told the senate that he believes the time has come for President Roosevelt to call an international peace conference that would revise the treaty of Versailles. He said the object of the conference would be to reach a "new disposition that might content the nations that are now in revolt and which continue in conflict because of the affront and injury they feel was worked upon them under the terms of the treaty."

The senator asserted the popularity of Mr. Roosevelt abroad would lend much to the success of such a conference.

What Irvin S. Cobb Thinks about

The Origin of Sitdowns.

SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—With the Barnum show there once was an elderly lady elephant named Helen. Now, Helen had wearied of traipsing to and fro in the land.

Probably she figured she'd seen everything anyhow. So each fall, when the season ended, she went rejoicing back home to Bridgeport, Conn.

Nobody ever knew the date of departure the next spring. There was no more bustle about winter-quarters on that morning than for weeks past.

But always, when Irvin S. Cobb the handlers entered the "bull barn" to lead forth the herd, they found Helen hunkered down on her voluminous haunches, which, under that vast weight, spread out like cake batter on a hot gridiron. She would be uttering shrill sobs of defiance. And neither prodding nor honeyed words could budge her.

So they'd wrap chains around her and two of her mates would hitch on and drag her bodily, she still on her rubbery flanks, aboard a waiting car. She'd quit weeping then and wipe her snout and accept what fate sent her.

So please don't come telling me that the sit-down strike is a new notion or that somebody in Europe first thought it up. Thirty years ago I saw my lady elephant friend, Helen, putting on one, all by her four-foot self.

Taxes and More Taxes.

JUST when everybody is taking comfort from the yodelled promises of that happy optimist, Chairman Harrison of the senate finance committee, that the government will be able to get by for 1937 without asking this congress to boost taxes, what happens?

Why, in a most annoying way, Governor Eccles of the federal reserve board keeps proclaiming that, to make treasury receipts come anywhere near meeting treasury disbursements throughout the year, he's afraid it's going to be necessary to raise the rates on incomes and profits higher than ever.

And meanwhile state governors and civic authorities scream with agony at the bare prospect of any reductions in Uncle Sam's allotments for local projects.

A balanced budget would seem to be like Santa Claus, something everybody talks about but nobody ever expects to see.

Self-Determination.

FORMERLY the states jealously guarded their sovereign prerogatives. Once—but that was so long ago many have almost forgotten it—they fought among themselves one of the bloodiest civil wars in history over the issue of states' rights.

Now we see them complacently surrendering to federal bureaus those ancient privileges—and maybe, after all, that's the proper thing to do, if in centralized authority lies the hope of preserving a republican form of government.

Still, one wonders what Englishmen would do under like circumstances, since Englishmen are fussy about their inheritance of self-determination. Perhaps the distinction is this:

In democracies there exists the false theory that all men are born free and equal. So the Englishman insists on having his freedom, which is a concrete thing, and lands at the idea of equality. Whereas, the American abandons his individual freedom provided he may cling to the fetish of equality.

Yankee tweedledum and British tweedledum may be brothers under the skin, but they have different skin diseases.

The Parole Racket.

IT IS astonishing but seemingly true that, of five young gangsters recently caught red-handed in a criminal operation, not a single one was a convict out on parole. Is there no way to bar rank amateurs from a profession calling for prior experience and proper background? And can it be that the various parole boards over the union are not turning loose qualified practitioners fast enough to keep up the demand? Maybe we need self-opening jails.

Those sentimentalists who abhor the idea that a chronic offender be required to serve out his latest sentence should take steps right away to correct this thing before it goes too far. Our parole system must be vindicated if it costs the lives and property of ten times as many innocent citizens as at present.

IRVIN S. COBB

© Western Newspaper Union

Festival Bills Elephant Fight Elephant tug-of-wars, in which the beasts locked tasks and sometimes struggled for hours, were a feature of a festival recently held near Calcutta, India.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted by William Bruckart
National Press Building Washington, D. C.

Washington.—Senator McKellar, Tennessee Democrat, arose in the senate recently to offer a bill that would repeal a provision of law prohibiting the employment of both man and wife by the government.

It has been in effect since the summer of 1933. The provision ought to be and probably will be repealed because, as far as I can see, there is actually no sense in the national government refusing to employ efficient workers because a man's wife or a woman's husband already is on the federal pay roll.

It was not the importance of this particular repeal proposal, however, that interested me. Senator McKellar's action was significant and interesting only because when repeal of the so-called marriage clause and federal law was proposed, it marked the beginning of the end of one of the most abortive pieces of legislation that has been on our statute books. I refer to the so-called economy act of 1933.

I cannot refrain from recalling a prediction that I made when the economy act was before congress in 1933. It was introduced and supported by the New Deal legislature in an effort to carry out a campaign promise made when President Roosevelt was running for office in 1932. You will remember that he promised to reduce the cost of government twenty-five per cent, saying in many speeches that the cost of government was too high and that a reduction in taxes was necessary. It will be recalled likewise how he said that "Taxes come from the sweat of every man who labors."

Well, the economy act was driven through, despite declaration from many senators and many representatives that it was impossible to mutilate the structure of government as proposed in that bill and still have a government that would function properly. And here were some of the most ridiculous provisions in that legislation to come before congress in many years: They worked injustices on veterans of the World War, on farmers, on retired government workers, on the army and navy and marine corps, and hamstringed and handicapped government agencies in a manner I had not seen in my long experience as an observer of national affairs.

It was on that occasion that I made the prediction mentioned above, and to which I call attention because of the McKellar proposal for repeal of the marriage clause. I wrote at that time my definite conviction that the economy law was silly; that it would work hardships and that its basis was ninety per cent politics. I predicted further that within a year the politicians in the house and senate who had shouted so loudly about economy would begin to chisel various provisions out of that law. Each of those things has happened and now we see the end.

The end of the law has come but not the end of its effects. Practices in federal government administration that had been operating satisfactorily and efficiently throughout the years were thrown into the discard and new ideas substituted. The discarded methods were the development of experience and were serving the purposes for which they were intended. Some of them have been restored and are again functioning as they should but one can wander around through the maze of government corridors and find attempts still being made to make schemes work that are unsound in practice, schemes from the minds of theorists. It will be a number of years before the effects of the economy act will be obliterated.

As the chiseling began and the economy act fell to pieces under the spongy hand of expediency, there was launched the greatest spending orgy any nation ever witnessed. It has continued with unabated peculiarity and is still continuing notwithstanding the fact that within the last few weeks we have heard statements from administration sources to the effect that administration expenditures will be cut. The fact is they have not been cut.

But the average person outside of Washington sees and hears only things related to large totals of government spending such as relief for the destitute and vast programs of public building. They do not hear nor do they see what is going on among agencies of the government that relate to comparatively small items of money outgo. It is these small items, when taken together, that bulk so large even though by comparison with relief the total appears insignificant.

I am going to call attention to just one item, a small item as government expenses go, about which I suspect most persons who do me the honor to read these articles have had little information. They have had little information because they are in a position to see only isolated examples. I refer to government publications.

Representative Taber of New York called attention to the condition respecting government publications recently when the house appropriations committee was holding hearings on a bill appropriating funds for several government departments.

Mr. Taber estimated that government publications were costing in the neighborhood of twenty-million-dollars a year. He called them administration propaganda.

"Every organization in the government," Mr. Taber declared, "is sending out all sorts of propaganda, propaganda in fancy colors, pamphlets with pictures of resettlement projects, pictures of WPA propositions and all that sort of thing."

It was the first estimate I had been able to obtain of the cost of government publications for it is not easy to ascertain how much these beautifully done magazines cost each department or agency. Nor is it easy to determine how much is paid for the distribution of the countless thousands of statements issued for the press or mailed in millions of copies to voters. The whole thing constitutes a maze that is so complex that it is staggering.

The government printing office lists 73 periodicals of the magazine type for which it will take subscriptions or sell individual copies. These, of course, are printed documents. They do not include the many pamphlets that are mimeographed or published otherwise by governmental agencies.

I mentioned the distribution of official statements for the press and to voters throughout the country. There is no way, as far as I can see, to calculate the total, but one Washington correspondent recently took occasion to weigh the output of press statements from the Department of Agriculture for one week. His curiosity had been aroused by the tremendous volume that had been delivered to his office—both by mail and by special messenger—and so he weighed the week's gist. It totaled more than three and one-half pounds. This, as I said, was from only one department and the weight was the weight of the paper alone.

One need not employ a great deal of imagination to think of the cost involved. First there was the paper itself. In the second place there was the cost of typing the material and then of mimeographing it. But before it reached either one of these stages, it was necessary that a vast amount of work be done by well paid men and women writers and research workers who prepared the material that was used whether in mimeographing or in printing.

There are two publications that come to my desk regularly that strike me as being extraordinarily expensive. The "Consumers' Guide," a product of the Agricultural Adjustment administration and the "Electrification News," published by the Rural Electrification administration, are the two most expensive and most elaborate periodicals that I regularly see. They are sent out free not only to the Washington correspondents but to thousands upon thousands of voters—to any voter whose name either agency obtains. And they are paid for out of taxpayers' money.

Typographically, each of these periodicals is exceptionally well done from a magazine standpoint. They are replete with pictures, and copper engraving is expensive.

And so it is throughout the government. Everywhere a government official goes among government offices he meets "federal workers," among the government personnel, engaged in preparing and distributing the government's stories for public reading.

Now, let me touch on another phase of the cost of government publications. I refer to the use of the franking privilege. As everyone knows, government mail goes through the United States mails without the payment of postage. That does not mean, however, that the railroads or the airplanes or the steamships haul that mail free. The only difference between that mail and the letters you write or receive is that the government pays the transportation lines on a pound basis and no stamps are used. It is bulk transportation whereas when you and I mail letters we pay the cost of transportation on those letters to the government by means of a postage stamp.

It is entirely proper and reasonable that government mail should not require postage stamps. It would simply be taking government money out of one pocket and putting it in another. Yet, in the end you and I, as taxpayers, pay for the transportation of the government mail and we pay for the millions of pieces that are sent out from the various government departments.

© Western Newspaper Union

My Favorite Recipe

By Helen Twelvetroes

Creamed Eggs With Chili and Rice
To two cups of well-seasoned medium white sauce add one teaspoonful chili powder and six hard-cooked eggs, cut in quarters. Meanwhile, cook one cupful of rice, season it to suit the taste and arrange in a border around a platter. Pour the egg mixture into the center. Serves six.
Copyright—WNU Service.

Foreign Words and Phrases

Etourdierie. (F.) Giddy caused by an imprudent caprice.
Ricordo. (It.) A souvenir keepsake.
A contre coeur. (F.) Unwillingly.
Calembour. (F.) A pun.
Pas seul. (F.) A dance performed by one person.
Sans culottes. (F.) Ragged, the lower classes during the French revolution.
Si non e vero, e ben trovato. (It.) If it is not true, it is ingenious.
A la lettre. (F.) To the letter literally.

Helping Others
What do we live for, if it is not to make life less difficult for each other?

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets made May Apple are effective in removing accumulated body waste.—Adv.

for WOMEN only
CARDUI is a special medicine for the relief of some of the suffering which results from a woman's weakened condition. It has been found to make monthly periods less disagreeable, and, when its use has been kept up awhile, has helped many poorly nourished women to get more strength from their food. This medicine (pronounced "Card-u-i") has been used and recommended by women for many, many years. Find out whether it will help you by giving it a fair trial. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

Two Kinds of Secrecy
A proper secrecy is the only mystery of able men; mystery is the only secrecy of weak and cunning ones.—Chesterfield.

Miss REE LEEF says:

'CAPUDINE relieves HEADACHE quicker because it's liquid... already dissolved

Hasten Early
Hasten in the morning so that by evening thy work for the day be accomplished.

Don't Irritate Gas Bloating
If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating alkalies and "gas tablets." Most "gas tablets" irritate the stomach and upper intestine and is due to old poisonous matter in the contracted bowels that are loaded with ill-causing bacteria.

If your constipation is of long standing, enormous quantities of dangerous bacteria accumulate. Then your digestion is upset. GAS often presses heart and lungs, making life miserable. You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, grouchy, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED!

Thousands of sufferers have found in Adterika the quick, scientific way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adterika rid you of gas and cleanses foul poisons out of BOTH upper and lower bowels. Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adterika. Get rid of GAS. Adterika does not grip—no habit forming. At All Leading Drugists.

Ignorance and Knowledge
Distance sometimes endears friendship and absence sweetens it.—Howell.

HELP KIDNEYS
To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste
Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys get functionally disordered and fail to remove excess impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and bowing down.

Burning, acidity or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney trouble. You may suffer from backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your druggist!

DOAN'S PILLS

ODDS
one's st... the prev... novel and... coming to... recently at... .. In he... Young," r... required... thony Adv... it was gi... by. The f... scilch the... the pictu... return to... those in th... curlies in... Durbin is... Hollywood... "One Hun... go into pr...

Favorite

By Helen Twelvetroes

Eggs With Chili and Rice... Full of well-seasoned sauce...

Words

(F.) Giddy conduct, caprice. (F.) A souvenir, a sur. (F.) Unwilling. (F.) A pun. (F.) A dance person.

asant Pellets made effective in removing waste.—Adv.

ing Others live for, if it is not difficult for each

MEN only

Special medicine for the suffering from a woman's weakness. It has been found to be periods less distressing...

of Secrecy secrecy is the only mystery of weak and Chesterfield.

Early morning so that work for the day

irritate floating

Really GET RID OF floating... irritating your stomach... G.A.S. is lodged in upper intestine...

Knowledge estimates endears sense sweeteneth

KIDNEYS

Rid of Acid... omous Waste... help to keep you well... If your kidneys get out of order...

SPILLS

STAR DUST Movie Radio

PICTURE that will endear itself to every dog lover in the world and every humanitarian...

Started soon after the war by a Mrs. Enstus who had seen what wonderful work was done in Switzerland...

Far away in Boston making personal appearances, the Ritz Brothers heard that the Twentieth Century-Fox studio planned to separate them...

Gertrude Niesen's first song number in "Top of the Town" is "Where Are You," her lucky number.

While producers of "Gone With the Wind" are still arguing over who should play the leading roles, Paramount is stealing a march on them...

As a fitting salute to Spring, Warner Brothers have released "The King and the Chorus Girl" and United Artists have put out "History Is Made at Night"...

Talent scouts from the motion-picture studios are suspected of doing their hunting nowadays in nurseries, for suddenly all Hollywood is in a dither over child prodigies.

ODDS AND ENDS... Freddie Bartholomew stayed up past his bedtime to see the preview of "Captains Courageous"...

"Say It" With Frilly, Lacy Neckwear

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

YES, indeed, fashion is in an utterly feminine romancing mood this spring. Hats gay with ribbons and flowers and laces, suits prettified with the daintiest frilliest lingerie blouses worn for years...

An entirely different type of lacy neckwear is the "bib" or yoke effect pictured left above. It is one of those exquisitely fine and beautiful accessories that you can wear with your very best gown in most ladylike fashion.

Above to the right lavish embroidery edged with dainty val lace adds charm to a band collar with its tiered ruffles of permanent Swiss organdie beautifully flower-embroidered. Fine as a cobweb, this imported organdie is decidedly practical in spite of its fragile look.

Bows, too, are going to be worn a lot this season. In fact, snowy, lacy lingerie accents are registering for a tremendous vogue, be they collars, cuffs, dainty gowns, or waistoat belts that button around the waist, "bibs," jabots or any accessory item made of lace, of Swiss organdie of washable mousseline de soie or of any delicate sheer and these will carry a wealth of embroidery or hand stitchery in many instances.

See to the right wearing in the group Claudette Colbert above is a stunning collar made of an interesting silk-drawn novelty lace fluted row upon row as you see. This actress

SMART FOR SPRING

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Capes, capes and more capes, thus does the parade of spring suits announce a vogue of tremendous importance this season. Even if you buy a jacket and skirt suit you are supposed to buy a stylish smartly tailored wool cape to wear over it.

SAILOR HATS AND TURBANS IN STYLE

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Where there's new fashions there's always new thrills. Just about the most exciting thrills registering on the new season's program are the "nifty" little sailor hats and turbans that are made of bizarre plaid or stripe crepes or taffeta silk.

Tunic Dresses Are Worn for Daytime and Evening

Mainboucher, who first launched the tunic dress, makes use of them for every occasion in his winter collection. One of the new Mainboucher tunic dresses is in black wool crepe. The top, which ends in a flaring basque at the hip, has been caught into diamond-shaped pattern which is studded with brilliants.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, Dean of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for May 2

ABRAHAM A MAN OF FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 12:1-9; 13:14-18. GOLDEN TEXT—By faith, Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed. Hebrews 11:8. PRIMARY TOPIC—A Friend of God. JUNIOR TOPIC—A Hebrew Pioneer. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Adventurous Faith. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Creative Faith.

One of the greatest characters in all human history comes before us today in the person of Abraham. He is venerated by Christian, Jew, and Mohammedan alike. His personal history is replete with interest and instruction. But his claim to an outstanding place in history is broader than any of these things, for he was the one by whom God called out a nation for himself and began his dealings in sovereign grace which continue to our day.

In choosing Abraham God began the history of the Jewish people, his chosen nation. They were called by him to be not only a national witness to the one true God, but also to be the repository for his truth (the Holy Scriptures) in the earth, and, above all, to be the channel for the coming of the Redeemer to the earth.

Our lesson, however, centers on the faith of Abraham. As the Golden Text (Heb. 11:8) indicates, it was by faith that Abraham responded to the call of God. That call came to him in his father's house in Mesopotamia (Acts 7:2, 3). His partial obedience brought delay at Haran (Gen. 11:31), and wasted years, but in Genesis 12 we find his complete obedience and resultant blessing.

The study of faith is always fascinating. Faith is the thing in man that pleases God. He is quick to honor our trust in Him. Unbelief shuts the door not only to blessing, but also to usefulness.

I. Faith Calls for Separation, Obedience, and Worship. 1. Separation (Gen. 12:1). "Get thee out" was God's command to Abraham. It is his command to his followers today. "Come out from among them and be ye separate, saith the Lord" (II Cor. 6:17). This is the crying need of the church in our day. Instead of the church's being in the world seeking to win it for Christ, the world has come into the church and destroyed much of its vital testimony.

2. Obedience (Gen. 12:4, 5). "So Abram departed, as the Lord had spoken." Faith obeys God, without question, without hesitation, and without reservation. We need a revival of obedience in the home, in society, and in our relation to God.

3. Worship (Gen. 12:7, 12-13). "There build he an altar unto the Lord." Faith in God is far more than the psychologist's preaching of self-confidence. It results in fellowship with God, reliance upon him, not on one's own strength of personality. Faith worships God.

II. Faith Results in Blessing, Protection, and Liberty. 1. Blessing (12:2, 3). "I will bless," said God. "The Lord's commands are rarely accompanied with reasons, but they are always accompanied with promises, either expressed or understood."

In the case of Abraham the promise was not only to him, and to the nation of which he was the father, but to "all families of the earth."

That promise was fulfilled in the coming of Christ to earth to be our Redeemer (Matt. 1:1).

2. Protection (12:3). "I will... curse him that curseth thee." That promise to the seed of Abraham is still true. The nations have forgotten it in their hatred of the Jew, but God has not forgotten. The promise is equally true in the case of those who follow Christ, "the son of Abraham." His protecting hand is over us even in the dark hour when it looks as though the hosts of Satan had conquered.

3. Liberty (13:14-17). "All the land... will I give." After many and varied experiences in which Abraham proves God's grace and power, he comes out into a place of unlimited liberty.

The man who boasts of his "personal liberty," who feels that he is free from the "bondage of religion," is in fact a slave to the enemy of his soul. And the man who becomes "the bondsman of Jesus Christ," he alone is free. None is more fettered than he who shouts "I am the captain of my soul." And none is so free as he who can say, "Christ is the Captain of my fate, the Master of my soul."

Deciding What Not to Do Men must decide on what they will not do, and then they are able to act with vigor in what they ought to do.—Mencius.

God's Way God can act where we cannot even think, out of resources that we know nothing about.

Strength of Character He who is firm and resolute in will moulds the world to himself.—Goethe.

AROUND the HOUSE Items of Interest to the Housewife

Protecting Buttonholes—A row of machine-sewing around button holes in knit underwear prevents stretching and makes them last longer.

New Hot-Water Bottles—Have a little glycerine added to the water with which hot-water bottles are filled for the first time. This will make the rubber supple, and the bottle will last longer.

For Steamed or Boiled Puddings—Puddings will not stick to the basin if two strips of grease-proof paper are put crosswise in the basin before the mixture is poured in.

Removing Stains on Hands—Vegetable stains can be removed from the hands by rubbing them with a slice of raw potato.

Shrink the Cord—When loose covers for chairs, etc., are being made, boil the piping cord before using. This little precaution prevents unsightly puckers after the cover is washed.

For Good Gravy—Did you know that gravy, to be served with roast meat, will taste much nicer and contain more nutriment if it is made with the water in which the vegetables have been boiled?

Salmon in Rice Nests—Two cups of rich cream sauce, one egg yolk, two teaspoons lemon juice, one pound can salmon, one small can mushrooms, one cup rice, two hard cooked eggs. Beat egg yolks slightly and add to the hot cream sauce with the lemon juice. Add the salmon and the sliced mushrooms and heat thoroughly. Boil the rice, drain and form in mounds on plates; then make depression in mounds to form nests. Fill with salmon mixture. Cut hard cooked eggs in quarters lengthwise and garnish each serving with one.

Frying Eggs—Eggs are less liable to break or stick to the pan if a little flour is added to the frying fat.

Uncle Phil Says:

Not to Be Regarded Lightly When we give a promise we consider it a small outlay, but often large demands are made upon it.

We like traditions if they are picturesque. The wasp makes no honey, but it is quite as busy as the bee. The bee, you see, understood how to get the praise and poetry of man. Civilization is self-control. Self-expression, as interpreted, is merely "letting yourself go" and making a mess for yourself and everybody else.

When temptation refuses to pursue you, it knows you don't care much for it, anyway. We wonder if silver-tongued orators at times have difficulty in finding something to be silvery about.

Don't BREAK YOUR BACK

polishing floors

Different Ups You can't keep a good man down; nor an impudent one.

FOR THE HAIR MOROLINE

Jewel SHORTENINGS advertisement with text: "PREFERRED TO THE COSTLIEST JEWEL SHORTENINGS" and "THE FAMOUS SOUTHERN SPECIAL-BLEND".

The Vegetable Fat in Jewel is given remarkable shortening properties by Swift's special blending of it with other bland cooking fats. Jewel Special-Blend actually makes lighter, more tender baked foods, and creams faster than the costliest types of plain all-vegetable shortening.

PLEASE ACCEPT THIS Exquisite $1.00 GAME CARVING SET

This is the Carving Set you need for steaks and game. Dehorn design handle fits the hand perfectly. Knife blade and fork tines made of fine stainless steel. Now offered for only 25c to induce you to try the brands of lye shown at right.

Use them for sterilizing milking machines and dairy equipment. Contents of one can dissolved in 17 gallons of water makes an effective, inexpensive sterilizing solution. Buy today a can of any of the lye brands shown at right. Then send the can band, with your name and address and 25c to B. T. Babbitt, Inc., Dept. W.K., 386 4th Ave., New York City. Your Carving Set will reach you promptly, postage paid. Send today while the supply lasts.

TEAR OUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT AS A REMINDER

THE DAVIE RECORD.

C. FRANK STROUD - Editor.

TELEPHONE 1

Entered at the Postoffice in Mocksville, N. C., as Second-class Mail matter, March 8, 1908.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE - $1.00
SIX MONTHS, IN ADVANCE - $.50

This is such bracing weather that no one should be surprised if a friend should tackle him for $5

All men were created equal, but since then some of us have been hung while others were sent to the penitentiary and to Congress.

Cotton is higher than it has been since last August, but this doesn't mean that our farmers should put out a big crop this spring. Plant corn, boys, plant corn.

A fellow who will tell a lie for 50 cents is a sorry sort of a being; not hardly fit for the devil or anything else. But there are some who would stoop low enough to lie for less than a "jitney."

A man in Iowa was soundly thrashed last week by his wife for not paying his newspaper subscription after she had given him the cash with which to do it. May her crown be trimmed to order, and her harp have an extra string.

Some of our Democratic friends have been after us about hollowing hard times and say that we should yell good times and prosperity. If it will help us or the country financially we will be glad to hollow good times even if times are bad.

While looking over a copy of an old newspaper a few days ago we found this article: "Mocksville needs more stores, more people and more everything. She will be a hustling town some day—but not until some of her population die, or are run out of the town." To all of which we say amen.

A citizen of the town told us one day recently that he would probably be taking our paper now had we not talked so much about a certain mail order house. Any man who thinks more of a foreign mail order concern than they do of their own town and county ought not to take their home paper—it wouldn't agree with them if they did.

Seems that it will not be necessary for Mocksville to go to the expense of holding a town election next month. We understand that no one has filed for the office of mayor or alderman except members of the present board. No reason why money should be spent to hold an election when the present board and mayor have no opposition.

Last year Clyde Hoey, New Deal candidate for governor, promised that he would ask the legislature to furnish free school books to the children of this state. The legislature decided that the state could furnish the grammar grade books. Now it seems that the New Dealers are asking all the school children in the grammar grades, to donate the books that they had to buy last year, to the state. The Winston Journal doesn't think much of this plan, neither does The Record. The state has thrown away enough money in useless offices, high salaries and retiring office holders on pensions, to pay for all the books necessary. We see no reason why the parents should donate all their children's books to a state that expends nearly a hundred million dollars per year for operating expenses.

Celebrating 100th Anniversary.

The Woman's Club of Farmington is sponsoring the celebration of the 100th anniversary of its town, on Saturday, May 1st. A picnic supper will be spread in the Farmington gymnasium at 6 o'clock. An interesting program, consisting of talks and music will be given. Everybody invited. Please bring well filled baskets.

Two thousand people are being killed in Spain each week.

Large Graduating Class

Twenty-four young men and young women will graduate from the Mocksville high school next Wednesday evening, May 5th. Following is a list of those who will graduate:

- Margaret Daniel
- Geraldine Ijames
- Louise Eaton
- Dora Bowies
- Martha Lee Craven
- Sarah Everhart
- Evelyn Hendren
- Cornelia Hendricks
- Doris Lagle
- Ruby Collette
- Myrtle Mars
- Ozelle Miller
- Florence Owen
- Edna Parks
- Sadie Faye Richardson
- Mary Smith
- Mary Ellen Smoot
- Eleanor Woodruff
- Robert Evans
- George Tutterow
- C. F. Leach
- Lester Eaton
- Bill Angell
- Holland Holton

South Yadkin Baptists Meet.

The South Yadkin Baptist association met in spring session Thursday, at Society Baptist near Cool Springs, in an all day meeting.

Speakers were Rev. Eugene Olive, of North Wilkesboro, who delivered the keynote address; Rev. Dr. C. J. Allen, pastor of the Western Avenue Baptist church, Statesville, who preached the annual sermon.

The morning devotional was conducted by Rev. H. F. Lambert, pastor of the Front Street Baptist church Statesville, the afternoon period of devotion being conducted by Rev. C. H. Myers of Mooresville.

Rev. Dr. W. K. McGee, of Thomasville, was presented in an address at the afternoon session.

Others on the speaking program were Messrs. C. A. Millsaps of the Western Avenue church; and Rev. E. F. Sullivan, of Hickory.

The singing was directed by Mr. Kermit Blackburn, of North Wilkesboro. Special music was given by a quartette from the New Bethany church. The moderator, Mr. C. C. Fox, of Statesville, was in the chair and Rev. W. L. McSwain, of Harmony, served as clerk.

Be Here Saturday.

A driverless "Magic" automobile will wend its way through the crowded business district of Mocksville on Saturday afternoon May 1st, at 3 o'clock. Riding in another car behind from twenty to fifty feet, will be Captain John J. (wild Jim) Lynch, ex-cowboy, rodeo champion, daredevil, movie actor, flyer and Safety Crusader. His fingers will tap away at an ordinary looking telegraph key, but the "Magic" car will obey every tap. It will start. It will make proper right and left turns. It will sound its own horns. In fact the "Magic" car will move over the entire route of the Parade, without a human being inside it or near it in a demonstration of safe driving, sponsored by the city of Mocksville, under the endorsement of the State Highway Safety Division, and Mocksville Business Firms. The Parade will start at 3 p. m.

and spend the day. Bring the entire family with you, and let them see this wonderful "Magic" car. The show is free.

P. O. S. of A. News.

The Davie-Forsyth District Association of the Patriotic Order Sons of America will hold their quarterly meeting with Mocksville Camp No. 52 over the postoffice in Mocksville on April the 30th at 7:30 p. m.

At this time all camps will send a large delegation as the district will elect officers for the new year as our state Camp year ends April 30th of each year.

This District is composed of Camps located Winston-Salem, Advance as well as Mocksville and Cooleemee.

This District has three State and National officers consisting of C. B. Hoover National Representative M. F. Charles State Guard and R. V. Alexander as District President.

Visitors from Cleveland Salisbury, Mill Bridge, Boston School House,

Rockwell, Faith, Lexington and other near by Camps will be with us. A social hour for members and their wives will constitute the first part of the evening program with Singing String music and general entertainment for all who attend.

P. O. S. of A. News.

Rev. F. E. Howard who lives in Greensboro and needs no introduction to any of our Davie County people will be the chief speaker. Rev. Howard is a talented speaker and any one will be missing a treat not to hear his fine message.

Refreshments will be served by the committee of Camp No 52. The address of welcome will be delivered by M. Fred P. Carter of the Mocksville Camp and response by Mr. Gravey Coats, of Winston-Salem.

Winfred Tutterow, of Kannapolis and Miss Evelyn Stikeleather, of Cleveland, R. 2, were united in marriage Saturday morning at the home of Rev. E. W. Turner, the officiating minister. Mr. and Mrs. Tutterow will make their home at Kannapolis.

MORRISETT'S

"LIVE WIRE STORE"

West Fourth and Trade Streets

Winston-Salem, N. C.

The Good Old Summertime Is On.

10,000 Yards Fabrics. Every Type And Color For Every Occasion. Mother's Day . . . June Bride . . . Vacations, Etc.

For Graduation Day

Lovely Organdies, Laces and Nets. All Gorgeous Material and Colorings.

25c, 35c, 49c, 69c 98c

Special Prices For Class

For Mother's Day

Lovely Silks, Dimities, Prints And Sheers. Special Selection For Mothers.

See Them Today!

19c, 25c, 35c 49c, 69c, 98c

UPTOWN SHOES

for the Man About Town

Uptown shoes win the respect of thoughtful men who put quality, comfort and fine value on a pair with style. The satisfaction that will come to you through their long service will convince you of their worthiness. Come in for the best shoe buy in town.

C. C. Sanford Sons Co.

"Everything For Everybody"

Phone 7

Mocksville, N. C.

NOTICE!

To Taxpayers

On And After

Saturday, May 1st,

There Will Be Added To Your

TAXES

4 Per Cent Penalty

Pay Your Taxes Now

And Avoid This Additional Cost

CHARLES C. SMOOT,

Sheriff Davie County.

Manufacturers Have Advanced Prices on Pianos!

FLASH

We Have Such Famous Make

PIANOS

As

- * Everett
- * Cable-Nelson
- * Cable & Son
- * Lester
- * Betsy Ross Spinnet
- * Estey

Small Grands and Vertical Grands

Recent bulletins to reach us from such piano manufacturers as Cable-Nelson, Estey, Everett, Lester, and others, inform us of an unavoidable price increase on their instruments ranging from $25 to $50 . . . naturally, this means a corresponding increase to the buying public.

YOU CAN SAVE THIS $25 OR $50 BY BUYING YOUR PIANO FROM US

Betsy Ross Spinnet

If . . .

You make your selection, before our present stock is exhausted as this sharp price advance will not affect pianos now on hand. Don't delay, act now . . . take advantage of this saving opportunity.

JESSE G. BOWEN & COMPANY

217 WEST FIFTH ST.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

THE DAVIE RECORD.

Largest Circulation of Any Davie County Newspaper.

NEWS AROUND TOWN.

Miss Inez James spent Friday shopping in the Twin-City.

Mrs. James Hawkins spent Friday in Winston Salem shopping.

Miss Sarah Thompson is spending two weeks with friends in Charlotte.

Clay Allen, of R. 2, was among the Winston Salem visitors Friday.

Gaither Sanford made a business trip to High Point and Greensboro last week.

M. B. Bailey has returned home after spending two weeks with his daughter and sons in Winston-Salem.

Mrs. W. C. Patterson and son Woodie, of Taylorsville, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Woodruff last week.

Bob Rollins and Miss Dorothy Mitchell, of Rutherfordton, spent a day or two recently with Mr. Rollins' sister, Mrs. S. M. Call, in this city.

Mrs. T. F. Meroney, Mrs. Norman Clement and Miss Linda Gray Clement spent Wednesday at Granite Quarry, guests of Mrs. E. C. Staton.

The new annex to the Mocksville Hotel has been completed, and this popular hotel is now prepared to serve the public better than ever before.

Work on the Kurfees & Ward store and filling station is progressing nicely. It is hoped to have the new and enlarged building completed some time in June.

Miss Ruth Daniel, who holds a position in Atlanta, spent Thursday in town with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Daniel. She was on her way home from a visit to her brother in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Silverdis are the proud parents of a fine daughter who came to make her home with them on Thursday, April 15th. Mrs. Silverdis and babe arrived home from the Baptist Hospital, Winston-Salem, Monday.

WANTED—To buy cows—any kind. G. B. MYERS, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Frank Williams, a former resident of Mocksville, but who is now located in Chicago, was in town one day last week. Frank is a son of O. L. Williams, former Mocksville citizen who now lives at Sumter, S. C. Frank has many friends here who are always glad to see him.

H. C. Foster and daughter, Miss Annie of Statesville, were Mocksville visitors Thursday. Mr. Foster's son, N. C. Foster, of Hendersonville, who underwent a serious operation early last week at the Hendersonville Hospital, is getting along as well as could be expected.

D. G. Essic, who lives in the classic shades of Clarksville, was in town Friday and brought us a big piece of perfectly petrified wood. The wood resembles rock and is very heavy. Mr. Essic says he plows up many pieces of petrified wood on his farm, which is located near the old Dixon gold mine.

Mary Neil Ward, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. G. N. Ward, and teacher, Miss Helen Daniel, and Dorothy Thompson went to Greensboro Wednesday, April 21st, and played in the State Piano Junior High, contest, class B-C. Mary Neil tied for third place and got an honor rating of III. Miss Ward and her teacher are to be congratulated.

The entertainment given at the high school auditorium Friday night, sponsored by the P. O. S. of A. Camp, of Mocksville, was heard by an appreciative audience. The program consisted of music by the Mocksville String Band, the Midnight Ramblers, P. O. S. of A. Quartette, the Splendor Trio, "Cotton" Moody, in tap-dance steps Little Miss Laura Lee Durham, of Stokes county, was the star of the evening. Her tap dancing and acrobatic stunts were very good.

PRINCESS THEATRE

Wednesday & Thursday

Burgess Meredith and Margo

—IN—
"WINTERSET"

Friday and Saturday

Johnny Mack Brown

—IN—
"TRAIL OF VENGEANCE"

Monday and Tuesday

Katherine Hepburn

and Franchot Tone

—IN—
"QUALITY STREET"

Mocksville's new hosiery mill, which started operations about a month ago, is running at top speed. The mill is running day and night, and employs about fifty people. This mill is putting out a good quality of men's cotton and rayon socks. S. S. Short, of Hickory, is general manager of the mill. He will move his family here from Hickory in the near future.

Buy an Eclipse: The best lawn mower on the market today. Finger Tip Adjustment, Self Sharpening, Fool Proof. See Mocksville Hardware Co. Exclusive Agents.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was the Junior-Senior banquet, which was held Friday evening in the Masonic hall, with the ladies of the Eastern Star serving a delicious menu. The hall was appropriately decorated in the class colors. About 100 guests were present, including students and teachers. After the banquet the students motored to Coolee, where they enjoyed a show at the theatre. There are 24 young people in the graduating class this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves Have Birthday.

Friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs. George Graves April 18, celebrating the birthday of Mr and Mrs Graves.

Among those enjoying the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Doit Holthouser of Winston Salem; Mrs. Roland Haneline, Mocksville; Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Aramworthy, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Aramworthy and daughters, of Advance; Mrs. Frank Keaton and son, Joe; Mr. and Mrs. John Canton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Graves and son of Mocksville; Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, Miss Clara Haneline and Misses Jones, of Winston-Salem; Robert and Billie Haneline, Mocksville; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Aramworthy, Ross Aramworthy, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Godbey, D. N. Godbey, Roy Aramworthy and daughter, of Thomasville.

Mrs. Jane Johnson.

Mrs. Jane Johnson, 89, died Friday evening at the home of her son, F. J. Johnson, on Maple avenue, death resulting from the infirmities of age.

Mrs. Johnson was a native of Caldwell county, and was a member of the Methodist church at Lenoir. Mrs. Johnson had made her home here for some time with her son.

Mrs. Johnson is survived by one son, F. J. Johnson, of Mocksville; two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Hoffman and Mrs. Emma Corpering, of Lenoir; three brothers Lynn and Charles, of Lenoir, and Pink, of Morganton.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist church, at Lenoir, Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The Record extends sympathy to the bereaved relatives in the death of this good woman.

From an exchange we clip the following pertinent paragraph— "Why couldn't the country have had all these sit down strikes during the depression when there wasn't anything else for men to do?"

GRADUATION

Honor His Or Her Graduation

With A Gift That Will Be Used And Appreciated.

WHAT COULD BE MORE

APPROPRIATE THAN A

Sheaffer's Pen, Toilet

Articles, Candy and

Many Other Items In

Our Store.

LET US SHOW YOU.

Hall-Kimbrough

Drug Co.

"A Good Drug Store"

Phone 141 We Deliver

Miss Daisy Hampton.

Miss Daisy Hampton, 66 died suddenly Tuesday at 1 o'clock, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. S. A. Woodruff. She was a daughter of the late James Hampton and Sarah Eliza Gaither Hampton and had made her home with her aunt Mrs. Woodruff, for many years. She was a member of the Mocksville Presbyterian church.

She is survived by her aunt, Mrs. S. A. Woodruff, an uncle, Mrs. E. L. Gaither, both of this place, one sister, Mrs. Will Shugart, of Jonesville, a brother, Ephriam Hampton, and a half sister, Mrs. Bernie Andrews, of Louisville, Ky. The deceased had been in failing health for a number of years.

The funeral was conducted at the home on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and interment followed in Rose cemetery. Revs. J. H. Fulghum and E. J. Harbison conducted the services.

Notice To Farmers.

Notices are being sent out to producers in Davie county who filed work sheets in 1936, showing the base acres, the maximums which may be diverted with the maximum pay and the maximum acres which may be planted with maximum pay on general crops, cotton and tobacco. The acreage which must be seeded to soil conserving crops for 1937 for the maximum pay is also shown.

For the purpose of explaining these sheets and to discuss the 1937 program the following schedule of meetings has been arranged.

Wednesday, April 28, Davie Academy 8:00, p. m.

Thursday, April 29, Sheffield, 10:00 a. m.

Thursday, April 29, Baity's Store 2 p. m.

Thursday, April 29, Smith Grove School, 2 p. m.

Thursday, April 29, Farmington School, 8 p. m.

Friday, April 30, Fort Church, 10 a. m.

Friday, April 30, Greasy Corner, 2 p. m.

Friday, April 30, Advance School 8 p. m.

Friday, April 30, Cana School, 8 p. m.

Saturday, May 1, Court House Mocksville, 2 p. m.

All persons interested in the 1937 Soil Conservation Program are requested to attend the most convenient meeting regardless of whether or not they have filled out a work sheet. $87,467.59 has been received for Davie county to date. There is approximately $13,532.41 still due, making a total of approximately $22,000.00 for Davie county for the 1936 Soil Conservation Program. It is expected that there will be about 1400 applications for payments in 1937 and with this increase considerably over $100,000.00 is expected for 1937 in this county.

Persons who did not file work sheets for 1936 and who have not already filed them for 1937 may do so at their earliest convenience in the County Agent's Office, or with the local committeemen. The sooner these work sheets are executed the sooner statements will be sent to these individuals. R. R. SMITHWICK, County Agent.

Former Davie Man Killed.

Floyd William McCulloch, of Charlotte, was killed and his brother, Kermit, seriously injured in a grade crossing wreck at Lobeck, S. C., last Tuesday.

The injured man was taken to a hospital at Walterboro.

McCulloch was identified through his automobile drivers' license, which listed his residence at 1819 Statesville avenue, Charlotte.

The two men in a pick-up truck, collided with a Seaboard train shortly before daylight.

The brothers were engaged in trucking produce from Florida to the Carolina markets and North.

The two young men are sons of George W. McCulloch, formerly of Davie county, but now of Charlotte. The sons resided at Charlotte.

Charles H. Allen.

Charles H. Allen, 72, died at his home near Cleveland, Rowan county, Monday night, April 19th, death resulting from pneumonia. Funeral services were held at the home Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, and the body brought to Smith Grove cemetery and laid to rest.

Mr. Allen is survived by eight sons and two daughters, two brothers, Gaston Allen, of near Smith Grove, and O. R. Allen, near Farmington. Mr. Allen moved from near Oak Grove to the J. B. Johnstone farm, near Cleveland, about 25 years ago. He was a native of Davie county, and had many friends here who were saddened by his death.

Pino News.

Pino Community Grange met Monday night, April 19th. After the business meeting a Literary program was given as follows:

Song—"Old Black Joe."

Roll Call—By each repeating a verse or paragraph.

Special Music—Guitar and Harmonica.

Talk on "Erosion"—Mr. R. R. Smithwick.

Reading—Mrs. J. H. Swing

Recitation—Martha Rose Miller.

Several Songs—By Glee Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Angell visited Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Ward Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Turner and children, of Statesville, visited Mrs. Turner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Swing, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Leckie, Mr. Chas. Leckie and Miss Evelyn Leckie, of Wilkesboro, visited Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Miller and Mrs. J. F. Ward, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Latham were visitors in Courtney Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. W. W. West is at Lowery's Hospital, Salisbury taking treatment.

Mr. Lonnie West had his tonsils removed Saturday. He is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Hugh Dixon and children and Misses Mary and Margaret McMahan, of Pleasant Garden and Greensboro, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. McMahan over the week end.

Mrs. Floyd Dull attended a Missionary Conference at Mt. Airy the past week.

Commencement Finals.

Following is an outline of the Mocksville high school commencement exercises which will begin April 30th, at 8 o'clock with the recitation and declamation contests. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered Sunday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. C. W. Cooper, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The class day program by the seniors will take place Monday evening at 8 o'clock, and the high school play Tuesday evening at the same hour. The graduation exercises will take place Wednesday evening, May 5th, at 8 o'clock. Dr. G. I. Humphreys, of High Point College, will deliver the annual address Wednesday evening.

"FOR DIGESTION'S SAKE —SMOKE CAMELS"

is a No. 1 rule with me," says noted explorer

RUNNING THE RAPIDS of jungle river (below)—one of A. Hyatt Verrill's nerve-racking experiences. "No matter what I have to go through," he explains, "smoking Camels eases tension and starts me on the trail to good digestion." Let Camels help your digestion by speeding up the flow of digestive fluids, increasing alkalinity.

CAMELS COSTLIER TOBACCOS!

Enclosed Gears but one of its many features

JOHN DEERE GRAIN BINDER

Enclosed main drive gears is but one of the many features that make the John Deere Binder a better investment. It is the binder that is known everywhere for its light draft, ease of operation, better work, and long life.

Note the John Deere features at the right—come in and inspect them at our store.

- * Bridge-trussed frame.
- * All-steel, quick-turn tongue truck.
- * Cleaner-cutting, longer-wearing, easier-serviced cutting parts.
- * Free-running, gear-controlled reel.
- * Flexible-capacity, non-clogging elevators.
- * Durable, accurate knoter.
- * Non-scattering bundle carrier.
- * Efficient cutting system.

MARTIN BROTHERS

JOHN DEERE QUALITY IMPLEMENTS AND SERVICE

BIG SAVINGS TWO-WAY SAVINGS! BIGGER SAVINGS

You'll enjoy a big savings on Greyhound one-way trips... yet even greater economy when you buy round-trip tickets. GRAND'S PHARMACY Phone 21 Mocksville, N. C.

With one-way fares averaging but a fraction over one cent a mile, Greyhound offers a 10% reduction on round-trip tickets... amounting to a 20% savings on the cost of return trips. You can travel three miles by Greyhound for the cost of driving your car but one. Phone for full information on any trip.

KURFEES HideKote SEMI-PASTE PAINT

For Outside or Inside Use

EASY TO MIX—EASY TO SPREAD

Economical and Durable

One gallon of Hide-Kote, when properly mixed, makes 2½ gallons of paint ready for use, at a surprisingly low cost.

Come in and let us figure your job.

KURFEES & WARD

"BETTER SERVICE" MOCKSVILLE, N. C.

Spring Goods Are Here.

Our Line Of Spring

Shoes, For The Entire Family, Ladies, Misses And Children's Dresses, Coats, Hats, Hosiery and Lingerie Are Now Ready For Your Inspection. Look Over Our Big Line Of Spring And Summer Wearing Apparel Before Buying Elsewhere. We Can Always Save You Money.

"Yours For Bargains"

J. Frank Hendrix

Bright Star

By Mary Schumann

Copyright by Macrae Smith Co.
WNU Service

CHAPTER VII—Continued

"Not tonight. I won't let you."
"I can't stay here."
"Yes, you can. Let us talk things over quietly—decide what is best to be done."

Best to be done? What was best to be done?

"It's so late—where will you go? Get your mother up at this hour . . . or a hotel? Publish the whole thing . . .!"

The roots of habit and of home are mighty in their strength, sturdy in resisting an attempt to break away. But he could not occupy the bed so close to her, knowing—

His mother? What explanation could he offer? . . . It would have to be a hotel! He reached for the knob of the door behind her back.

But she had read his wavering of a second. "The other room, Hugh—the guest room! You can sleep there!"

Sleep? She thought he could sleep? At length he gave an unwilling gesture of assent. Dorrie hurried in to turn on the lights, remove the silken coverlid. She hated the idea of change, he thought; wanted to go on without definitely facing the issue. Something would have to be done. What—he did not know. Perhaps the morrow would bring some clarity.

Dorrie turned at the door before leaving. "Does Joan know?"

He nodded.

"She does?" She bit her lip.

"Then I suppose she told her."

He did not answer.

She said with a curious venom, "I'm sure she did—and it was pretty mean of her, when she knew how it would hurt you!"

Hugh stared at her.

Her door closed.

The darkness folded the room round, an aching evil darkness. An iron band tightened around Hugh's skull, and his mouth seemed filled with the taste of brass. The second time that night, that taste. Odd thing. He had never had it before!

His heart pounded until his chest ached, and his nerves were as tense as fiddle-strings.

Over and over the scenes, the words repeated themselves—Joan . . . Dorrie and Hugh . . . Dorrie. They would not let him alone. And each time the act was played, he became aware of sinister implications, ghastly ogre faces that leered and mocked at him, suggested details, whispered: "Don't you remember that time—?"

Joan had said "they don't care any more." Then she meant that others must know, and he, like the fool in the snickering fable, was the last to learn what was going on under his own roof.

Then like an imperious flood it came over him, distaste and longing mingled in its waves, his desire for this woman who had betrayed him, for the sweet, dear flesh which had seemed so inalienably his own. He despised himself for his passion, but he could not quell it or master it.

At length the chattering of robins and sparrows, the crescendo and diminuendo of passing cars, the sound of the maid going out to early church, warned him that no matter how calamitous, he must take up the burden of the day.

Dorrie had loved Hugh when she married him, but she had never been in love with him. He offered a mode of life much pleasanter and more dignified than her wanderings with her mother before she met Hugh.

Her marriage pleased her at first. She rejoiced in the background of the Marsh family in Corinth, faintly boasted of it in letters to friends, liked the novelty of having a home of her own and an indulgent husband who could not do enough for her. Later when she became bored with the conventionalities of Corinth, which was so much like the Harrisville of her youth, she sternly told herself she was lucky—lucky; that Hugh was far too good for her.

Fluvanna puzzled her at first. She was not the traditional mother-in-law. Could anyone so generous, so wisely kind, so free from envy or criticism exist? She suspected a pose at first, but came to recognize that the circumstances of Fluvanna's life had left her beautifully self-contained, instead of bitter and broken. Dorrie, who had expected to patronize or be patronized, looked up to her, wanted her approval, praise, and did little unexpected kindnesses now and then to deserve it.

When she met the Whitneys, she had found in them a congenial couple for bridge, conversation, or an outing. Joan was clever; Cun a lively companion. Cun couldn't talk of books or plays or music, and swept away the idea of their having significance for anyone else with a magnificent ridicule. This amused her, for she knew it came from his naive desire to have the world he knew—that of virility, of smart achievements in salesmanship, of golf, of success in a material way—supreme before the world of the intellect.

Cun was always decorous in his manner toward her, but secretly she recognized a quality that moved her. "You're my own kind!" Coul had said to her roughly the last time she saw him. "You can't get away from it for all your airs! You understand me—because you're like me!" He had seized and kissed her until she pushed him away, filled with loathing and fascination.

One December day Cun had dropped by with a silver tray which Joan had borrowed, and lingered to talk by the crackling fire. Outside, it was a gloomy, menacing day, and it had seemed magically warm and cosy in the dim room. The talk slipped into easy rhythm and laughter, harmless talk of cars and hunting trips, and the merits of various bridge systems. Then a silence fell and something fluid and stealing passed between them. She looked at him and he was smiling at her. She recognized the light in his eyes and dropped her own. A disturbance urgent as the vibration from a humming wire ran up the inner part of her arm. She took the hearth broom and swept back some ashes, averting her face.

"Not Tonight, I Won't Let You."

Cun rose to go, extended his hand. "Good-by, nice of you to be home."

"Wasn't it? I'm that way—nice," she said carelessly.

He kissed her. It was not the hasty self-conscious kiss of a humpkin, yielding to a furtive desire, but a deftly slow meeting of his lips with hers.

They had both laughed with soft understanding and self-exuse—a kiss?—what was a kiss between friends? She rebuked herself afterward for her response. But she found herself looking forward to the next meeting with a reluctant excitement.

He brought her an illustrated weekly. The others were near by. "This is the advertisement I told you about. Pretty clever, eh?"

Then in a tone low enough for only her to hear: "What you do to me is worse than a bank failure!"

"Very clever—ad." She hummed and moved away. She snubbed him several times after that and felt very moral about it. But with Cun in his place, life lost a certain zest.

She was in a dull mood that January day when Cun called. "Hello, how do you like this blizzard? . . . Don't you need a man who is out-of-work to clean off your sidewalk?" Then in a lower voice: "Please let me come over and talk while! Joan went down town and I'm as lonesome as the last passenger pigeon!"

She gave her consent. After all it was a kind thing to do—even Hugh would approve. Cun was feeling down. No job—poor fellow! These were the excuses her conscious mind gave, while the inner mind sent her upstairs to change her dress, spray her hair with perfume, in riotous excitement.

"Cun, you mustn't sit on the arm of my chair! Sit over there where you belong—across from me. . . I'll make you shovel snow if you don't behave! . . . I know my hair is pretty . . . and I know I'm beautiful. I've been told it a hundred times! . . . Now are you going to be sensible—good friends—or shall we have to stop seeing each other altogether? . . . Please don't! . . . I hate to be touched . . . I'm not seductive . . . This old dress? Just an afternoon thing which you said you liked once! . . . Why do you say that? Aren't you taking a great deal for granted?" All weak defenses. Words which did not deceive him, for her tone did not match her sentences. He knew he was evoking a response in her, read it in the slurred uneasiness of her voice, in the deep sparkle of her eyes. It was a game which he had played many times before but never for such quarry.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Rainy Season Bridge in Guatemala City.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

WHEN you enter Guatemala City, you are in the most populous place in all Central America. With a population of 120,000, including about 6,000 foreigners, Guatemala City is a thriving metropolis of well-paved streets, department stores, luxury shops, cafes, country clubs, bus factories, garages, and modern hotels. Its motion picture theaters, showing mostly American "talkies," with Spanish subtitles, advertise with big electric signs overhanging the streets in Broadway style.

At the capital's covered central market, the largest in the country, the array of foodstuffs, textiles, utensils, furniture, and other commodities is endless. Its long aisles, and the streets adjoining the market building and cathedral, are always jammed with a noisy, restless throng of merchants and buyers.

And the odors, strange, spicy and heavy! The fresh scents of vegetables and exotic flowers mingle with the greasy smell of cooking food, the aroma of roasted coffee, and the balmy fragrance of copal incense.

Those with weak stomachs may not like the appearance nor odor of freshly slaughtered meat. Nor will they find appetizing the leached corn mash for tortillas; or armadillos roasted in their shells; or crude brown sugar pressed into dirty blocks and balls. But visitors are delighted with bright tropical fruits piled in artistic displays, graceful baskets and glazed pottery, and gay textiles woven on primitive hand looms.

Guatemalans are proud, and justly so, of the fine coffee grown in their highlands. Placards in English and Spanish remind the visitor at every turn that "Guatemala Grows the Best Coffee in the World."

On the days when tourist trains arrive in Guatemala City, the department of agriculture holds open house. Small packages of freshly roasted coffee, wrapped in glazed paper, are presented to each visitor. They are appropriate souvenirs of a nation which is the sixth most important coffee grower in the world, being exceeded only by Brazil, Colombia, the Netherlands, Indies, Venezuela and El Salvador.

The second most important export is the banana, grown in the coastal plains bordering the Gulf of Honduras and the Pacific.

Airport a Busy Spot.

One of the busiest spots today in this bustling Central American capital is La Aurora airport. Here the trunk line of the Pan American Airways from Brownsville, Texas, to Panama connects with a half-dozen local air services to distant parts of the republic.

Many who do not come to Guatemala City by plane, come by boat, and dock at San Jose, a sleepy little tropical port. Between steamers this "back door" to Guatemala drowns in the shade of tall breadfruit trees and coconut palms, and carries on a desultory commerce with the Indians of the coastal lagoons.

Its dingy water front, ragged porters and fishermen, stifling heat, and main street pre-empted by railroad tracks give no promise of the color and activity of Guatemala's gay, modern capital, high up in the cool central plateau.

The first part of the 73-mile journey to Guatemala City follows a gently rising plain, whose black volcanic soil is planted thickly in bananas, sugar cane, cotton, cacao, and fruit trees. Guatemala City is nearly a mile above sea level, in the cool and healthful tierra templada, or temperate zone, and the train must gain most of this altitude in the last fifty miles.

Not far beyond Palin the line creeps through a narrow valley between two towering peaks and comes out on the edge of mountain-rimmed Lake Amatitlan. For several miles the railroad winds along the shore, passing groups of Indian women washing clothes in hot springs at the water's edge. It is a convenient laundry, for clothes may be boiled in the springs and rinsed in the cold fresh water of the lake without taking a step!

The train approaches Guatemala City through verdant suburbs which give way to warehouses and railroad yards, indicating the commercial activity of this busy Latin American capital.

"Winter" Means Rainy Season.

From the terminal, taxis whisk visitors over smoothly paved streets to their hotel, frequently a grandiose structure with a glass-covered patio, mahogany floors and furniture, and very high ceilings.

If one remarks to the clerk that the air seems a trifle chilly, "Yes, the winter is just beginning," he may reply.

"Winter? In the tropics? And in May?"

He explains that "winter" in Guatemala is the rainy season, May to October, a period of clouds, dampness, and dismal rains, although, he hastens to add, "part of every day is fair and sunny." In "summer," November to April, there is little or no rain, the sun shines throughout the day, and the people are healthier and happier.

One may be awakened in the morning by the clamor of church bells, the rumble of heavy ox carts, and the musical chimes of carriages bearing worshippers to early mass.

Guatemala City is compactly built. Stand on the roof of one of its modern buildings and you see a clean and pleasant community, most of whose white, blue, pink, and buff-colored houses and shops are one or two stories high. Only a few concrete business buildings and stone church towers rise above the prevailing flat, red-tiled roofs.

Founded in the year the United States declared its independence, Guatemala City is a comparative youngster among the communities of Latin America. Several times it has been damaged by earthquakes, and in 1917 almost the entire city was destroyed. It has lost its Old World air, although it still has many Moorish-type homes with iron-grilled windows and patios aglow with flowers.

Fascinating as is Guatemala City, however, it is but a prelude to the native Guatemala which is older in race, culture, and traditions. High in the Sierra Madre west and north of the capital, pure-blooded Indians still dress as did their ancestors, worship their old gods as well as the new, and live their lives almost unaffected by modern civilization.

Until a few years ago, when the government launched an extensive road-building program, travel in the highlands of Guatemala was slow and arduous. Now one may motor from the capital westward to the Mexican border and east to El Salvador.

Motoring Through the Country.

Speeding along the floor of the valley, one passes a steady stream of Indians and vehicles bound for the markets of Guatemala City. Stolid, earnest-faced men trot by at a half run, their heads held rigid by a tumpine across the forehead that supports the heavy loads on their backs. For miles, they have been jogging along in this peculiar, forward-falling gait. In occasional wooden frames, they carry goods of all kinds—earthen jars, furniture, bags of grain, or fresh vegetables.

Their women hurry along beside or behind them, arms swinging freely, their burdens on their heads. Sometimes it is a basket of live chickens, a fat roll of clothing, woven fabrics, or a bundle of firewood. Almost always a baby bobs up and down in a shawl slung across the mother's back.

Each tribe, and almost every village, in the highlands has a distinctive costume. Designs have not changed in hundreds of years. To those who know the different costumes, the Indians of the highlands might be carrying signs around their necks reading, "I am from Solola," or "I am from Chichicastenango," et cetera.

It is regrettable, however, that many of these costumes are disappearing. Native garb has been replaced by blue denim and cheap imported cotton goods throughout most of El Salvador, and these materials are now penetrating Guatemala. Under the harsh treatment of the Indian's daily toil, such fabrics are quickly reduced to tatters. Unlike the half-naked aborigines of the jungle lowlands, or the itinerant tradesmen and servants of the cities, the Indians of the highlands of Guatemala have maintained a proud semi-independence as farmers, weavers and pottery makers.

Conquered but never assimilated, they are aristocrats among the native peoples of Central America, and they are sufficiently well organized to make mass petitions to the central government when local conditions demand it. They have had much less contact with other races than Indians elsewhere have had, and are not badly scourged with alcohol. Consequently, they have retained their self-respect and are neither subservient nor cringing.

Murmurings of Spring

"IF YOU'D take a few steps, Sis, I believe I'd be inspired to answer that question, 'Did you ever see a dream walking?' You are nothing less than devastating—truly a menace!"

"You meow so sweetly, Connie. I'm a bit suspicious that this little peplum frock of mine has got you catty. Your eyes really aren't green by rights, you know."

Connie Sews Her Own.

"How could you? I think my dress looks as nice on me as yours does on you. Why practically all of the girls at the Lat-a-Lot last night wanted to know where I found such a lovely frock. Not one of them guessed that I made it myself. And did I feel elegant when I played Mendelssohn's Spring Song on Diane's new baby grand! The girls said I fit into the picture perfectly. I thought if only Dwight could see me now."

"I still say my two-piece with its piped peplum, cute little buttons and stream-lines is the No. 1 spring outfit in this woman's town."

Mother Happens Along.

"Girls, girls, if your talk were only half as pretty as your frocks you'd be better off. Sometimes I wonder if you wouldn't be more appropriately titled The Cheek Twins, rather than The Chic Twins."

"Okay, Mother, you win. Let's change the subject by changing clothes. We'll put on our collotes and join you in a round of golf, how's that? Gee, Mother, you never look sweeter than when you're wearing a casual young two-piece shirt dress. The plaid pique is just the thing for you, too. In fact, Mom, you're just about tops from any angle."

The Patterns.

Pattern 1257 is for sizes 12 to 20 (30 to 40 bust). Size 14 requires 4½ yards of 39-inch material plus 11 yards of ribbon or bias binding. Pattern 1231 is available in sizes 14 to 20 (32 to 42 bust). Size 16 requires 4½ yards of 39-inch material. Pattern 1236 comes in sizes 14 to 20 (32 to 42 bust). Size 16 requires 4½ yards of 39-inch material.

New Pattern Book.

Send for the Barbara Bell Spring and Summer Pattern Book. Make yourself attractive, practical and becoming clothes, selecting designs from the Barbara Bell well-planned easy-to-make patterns. Interesting and exclusive fashions for little children and the difficult junior age; slenderizing, well-cut patterns for the mature figure; afternoon dresses for the most particular young women and matrons and other patterns for special occasions are all to be found in the Barbara Bell Pattern Book. Send 15 cents (in coins) today for your copy.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., Room 1020, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. Patterns 15 cents (in coins) each. © Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Black Leaf 40
KILLS INSECTS
ON FLOWERS • FRUITS
VEGETABLES & SHRUBS
Demand original sealed bottles, from your dealer

Be Careful—First Rule
No one has the right of way when a life is at stake.

BLACKMAN STOCK AND POULTRY MEDICINES Are Reliable

- Blackman's Medicated Lick-A-Brik
 - Blackman's Stock Powder
 - Blackman's Cow Tonic
 - Blackman's Hog Powder
 - Blackman's Poultry Tablets
 - Blackman's Poultry Powder
- Highest Quality—Lowest Price
Satisfaction Guaranteed or your money back
BUY FROM YOUR DEALER

BLACKMAN STOCK MEDICINE CO.
Chattanooga, Tenn.

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

PHOTOGRAPHY

PHOTO FINISHING
Any size roll film developed and 16 negative prints, 25¢ coin.
TROUFÉ PHOTO SERVICE, Teococ, Ga.

MM! BEST SOUP I EVER
TASTED . . . IT'S PHILLIPS
DELICIOUS!

Says GEORGE RECTOR
AMERICA'S FOREMOST
COOKING AUTHORITY AND MASTER CHEF OF

PHILLIPS
Delicious Southern SOUPS

LISTEN IN Columbia Network
Wed.—Thurs.—Fri.
Afternoons 1:30
"DINING WITH GEORGE RECTOR"
Famous Recipes . . .
$10 Good Cooking Award
at Every Broadcast.

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

THE FEATHERHEADS

By Osborne

QUACK

Happy Hulda Goes On Dishpan Duty

Pattern 1383

Happy Hulda, as chief-cook-and-bottle-washer, invites you to cross stitch this set of seven tea towels (8 to the inch crosses), in the gayest floss you can find! Pattern 1383 contains a transfer pattern of seven motifs (one for each day of the week) averaging about 6 by 6½ inches; material requirements; illustrations of all stitches used; color suggestions. Send 15 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) for this pattern to The Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y.

Write plainly pattern number, your name and address.

SMATTER POP—Now Two Toots, Meaning Cleared Track

By C. M. PAYNE

MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY

Maybe He Ran Too Fast

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

By Ted O'Loughlin

Fast Friends

BRONC PEELER — A Few Strays Go Further Astray

By FRED HARMAN

The Curse of Progress

Hard Luck

The diner in the cheap restaurant gave an exclamation of annoyance. "Anything wrong, sir?" asked the waitress. "Wrong!" he ejaculated, "I should say so. This egg is as hard as a brick." "Sorry!" replied the waitress. "We used the egg-timer for it." "Oh!" he growled. "I thought you'd used a calenda."

Tit for Tat

Lady in Car (to man she has just bowled over)—It was your own fault entirely. I have been driving a car for ten years, and I am thoroughly experienced. Pedestrian—I am not a beginner, either. I've been walking for 50 years.—L. & N. Employees' Magazine.

Pirate's Rate

Miss Gush (on ship) — Captain, weren't you ever boarded by pirates? Captain—Yes; they charged me $3 a day, and the food was terrible.

SUBURBAN HEIGHTS

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

"Quotations"

If you subtract the universities from the life of the world today it will be a barren, a sorrowful and chortly a dead thing.—Nicholas Murray Butler.

The photographer is useful, but the artist who paints a picture is creating something new.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

You should always go forward, but not too quickly. If you must have a car, you must have a brake.—Andre Maurois.

Calotabs

for biliousness, sour stomach, bilious indigestion, flatulence and headache, due to constipation.

10c and 25c at dealers

Always a Loser

He who rests satisfied in merely defending himself against sarcasm and abuse is always a loser.—Goethe.

ARE YOU FRAIL, NERVOUS?

Mrs. Nannie Murff of 110 Third Ave., Meriden, Miss., said: "When I was a young girl I became delicate. I had cramps and headaches periodically. I also suffered from backache associated with functional disturbances and would feel all gone. Dr. Fier's Favorite Prescription as a tonic. When I had taken a few bottles the pains and aches were relieved. I could eat more, and I felt fine." Buy now of your near-by dealer.

Law of Sacrifice

In common things the law of sacrifice takes the form of positive duty.—Froude.

GOOD RELIEF of constipation by a GOOD LAXATIVE.

Many folks get such refreshing relief by taking Black-Draught for constipation that they prefer it to other laxatives and urge their friends to try it. Black-Draught is made of the leaves and roots of plants. It does not disturb digestion but stimulates the lower bowel so that constipation is relieved.

BLACK-DRAGHT purely vegetable laxative

To Our Sorrow

Reciprocation is often nothing other than retaliation.

MAGIC REMEDY

A recognized Remedy for Rheumatism and Neuritis sufferers. A perfect Blood Purifier. Makes the Blood Rich and Healthy. Builds Strength and Vigor. Always Effective. Why suffer?

AT ALL GOOD DRUG STORES

SOLES, BOILS

ATHLETE'S FOOT, BURNS, CUTS AND ITCHING SKIN

30¢

BOWSON'S BALSAM

Spring

becoming clothes, designs from the Barrell-planned easy-to-wear. Interesting and designs for little child-difficult junior age; well-cut patterns for figure; afternoon and matrons and for special occasions to be found in the Pattern Book. Send 10 cents today for your

Back of 40

ILLS INSECTS

FLOWERS • FRUITS

VEGETABLES & SHRUBS

and original sealed packages, from your dealer

First Rule is the right of way is at stake.

CKMAN

POULTRY MEDICINES

Reliable

Man's Medicated Lick

Man's Stock Powder

Man's Cow Tonic

Man's Hog Powder

Man's Poultry Tablets

Man's Poultry Powder

Quality—Lowest Price

on Guaranteed or money back

BY YOUR DEALER

STOCK MEDICINE CO.

Manooga, Tenn.

SIFIED

RTMENT

TO FINISHING

developed and is never-

SO SERVICE, Tucson, Ga.

LISTEN IN

Columbia Network

Wed.—Thurs.—Fri.

Afternoons 1:30

"DINING WITH

GEORGE RECTOR"

Famous Recipes...

10 Good Cooking Award

at Every Broadcast.

Grain Ration for Jerseys
A good winter grain ration for Jersey cows depends upon the amount of milk produced and the quality of the hay fed. Under ordinary conditions, states an expert at the North Carolina State college, each cow should receive six-tenths of one pound of grain for each pound of milk produced in excess of ten pounds. This means that a cow giving 20 pounds of milk would receive six pounds of grain a day. This feeding is based on the supposition that the cow is getting about three pounds of silage for each 100 pounds of weight and all the legume hay she will eat. Where the hay is of poor quality, more grain will be required.

Co-ops Make Color Film
A color film featuring oranges and lemons, avocados, other fruits and dairy products, and automatic refrigeration has been released by the California Fruit Growers Exchange in co-operation with five manufacturers whose products are non-competitive. The film is educational, says the Country Home Magazine, but is intended to boost the sale of all of the products. When a farm co-op becomes strong enough, it can afford to co-operate with big private corporations instead of fighting them.

State of North Carolina
Department of State
Certificate of Dissolution.

To all to whom these presents may come—Greeting:
Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Home Ice and Fuel Co., a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated in the town of Mocksville, County of Davie, State of North Carolina (S. M. Call, Sec. Treas., being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 22, Consolidated Statutes, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution.
Now Therefore, I, Thad Eure, Secretary of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 5th day of April 1937, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceeding aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 5th day of April, A. D. 1937.
THAD EURE,
Secretary of State.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree made by M. A. Hartman, Clerk of Superior Court of Davie County, in an action entitled, G. F. Cornstzer, Admr., of Mary Jones vs J. H. Cornstzer and wife; the undersigned commissioner will, on Saturday, the 8th day of May, 1937, at the Court House door of Davie County, in Mocksville, N. C., at 12 o'clock, m., sell publicly for cash to the highest bidder, the following described lands lying and being in Shady Grove Township, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:
Adjoining the lands of W. E. Boyles, C. B. Walker and others, and bounded as follows, viz:
Beginning at a large white oak, W. E. Boyles and others corner, and running North 4 degs East 19 46 chs. to a stone, corner of lot No 1 in the division of the Katie Ward lands between Sarah Williams and Mary Caton; thence South 86 degs. E. 24 chs to a stone in C. B. Walker's line; thence with said line; thence South 19.31 chs. to a stone in W. E. Bowles line; thence with said line 24.45 chs. to the beginning containing 46 1/2 acres more or less.
See deed from Susannah Williams to M. M. Cornstzer, Registered in Davie County, N. C., and also deed from G. H. Cornstzer and M. M. Cornstzer to Z. C. Cornstzer, recorded in Book 27, page 254, in the office of Register of Deeds of Davie County, N. C.
Terms of Sale: Cash.
This the 6th day of April, 1937.
J. B. GRANT, Commissioner.

Notice To Creditors.

Having qualified as administrator of the estate of Betty E. Hodgson, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against deceased to present the same to the undersigned, duly verified, on or before the 20th day of March, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please call upon the undersigned and make prompt settlement.
J. M. STROUD,
Adm. of Betty E. Hodgson, dec'd.
By GRANT & GRANT, Attys.

North Carolina } In Superior Court
Davie County }
C. M. Markland, et al
vs
Mrs. Emma Mason, et al
Notice Sale Of Land.

By virtue of an order made by M. A. Hartman C. S. C., I as Commissioner will sell on Saturday, May 15th 1937 at 12 o'clock m., at the Court House Door in Davie County, N. C., to the highest bidder the following lands belonging to the Estate of the late J. O. Markland, situated in Shady Grove Township, Davie County, N. C.
1st Tract: Beginning at a stone Adelia Marklands corner; thence S 57 poles and 9 links to a stone her corner; thence E. 15 poles to a stone in C. C. Carters line; thence N. 2 degs. E. 75 poles to a stone Davis corner; thence E. 7 degs. E. 30 poles to Williams corner; thence N 20 poles and 18 links to a stone Williams corner; thence E. 17 poles to a stone Williams line; thence N. 40 degs. E. 12 and 12 poles to a stone; thence W. 116 poles and 17 links to a stone Ellis corner; thence W. 16 poles to a stone, thence S. 18 and 44 100 poles to Allens line; thence E. 60 poles to the beginning, containing 33 acres and 122 poles more or less being a part of the Orrell tract. See minute Book No. 7 pages 153 and 154 in C. S. C.'s office.
2nd Tract: Beginning at a stone corner of Lot No. 3 and running N. 86 degs. W. 58 links to a stone W. H. Davis corner; thence S. 2 and 12 degs. W. 6 48 chs to a stone Davis corner; thence N. 85 degs. W. 322 chs. to a stone said corner; thence S. 3 degs. W. 19 43 chs. to a stone Adelia Marklands corner; thence E. 3 degs. S. 4.09 chs. to a stone corner of Lot No. 3; thence N 3 degs E. 25 17 chs to the beginning, containing 7 and 72.100 acres more or less. see minute docket No. 5 pages 167 to 171 inclusive, also see Deed Book No. 28, page 87 Reg. of Deeds Office.
3rd Tract: Beginning at the branch B. R. Baileys corner; thence W. with original line 22 and 1 2 chs. to a stone; thence N. 3 and 1-2 degs. E. 7 chs. to a stone; thence S. 86 degs. E. 31 chs to a stone on the bank of branch; thence down said branch; thence down said branch with its meanderings to the beginning, containing 19 and 3 4th acres more or less. See Deed Book No. 19 pages 139 to 141 inclusive.
4th Tract: Beginning at a stone original corner and running S 86 degs. E. 40.80 chs. with Tuckers line to a pine stump; thence N. 620 chs. to a stone; thence W. 7.50 chs. to a stone; thence N. 3 and 1-2 degs. E. 20 63 chs to a stone corner lots 3 and 4; thence S. 86 degs. E. 32 chs. to a stone corner of Lots 3 and 4; thence S. 1 4 degs. W. 26.65 chs. to a stone, the beginning corner of Lot No. 1, containing 90 and 1 4th acres more or less, save and except 10 acres conveyed to C. M. Markland, leaving a balance of 80 and 1 4th more or less, being lots allotted to J. O. Markland, Mrs. Anna Markland and T. J. Markland see Deed Book No. 19 pages 143 and 144 division of the lands of Mathew Markland dec'd. These Lots of lands will be sold to pay taxes, and charges, and the surplus to be divided among the heirs at law of J. O. Markland dec'd., according to their respective rights. TERMS OF SALE, on 60 days time or all cash at the option of the purchaser. This April 8th 1937.
E. H. MORRIS, Commissioner.

May we give you six dollars?

NOT in cash, of course. We're speaking of its equivalent. But here is something for you to consider:
Every year this newspaper brings you at least three outstanding novels in serial form. Purchased as books each would cost not less than $2, making a total expenditure of at least $6 per year.
Like yourself, we could find plenty of uses for that $6. Some member of the family is always in need of a new pair of shoes or some other necessity. But at the same time your requirements for good reading material must be met. By accepting these three novels each year we feel you are treating yourself to real enjoyment, at the same time giving your purse a substantial boost.
These novels are a source of constant pride to us. Every year we select them from the season's most outstanding best sellers, offered in serial form by a large newspaper syndicate organization. We'd like to feel that you—as a subscriber—always look forward to reading the coming installment in the next issue. It gives us a great satisfaction to know that here is another reason why our paper is popular in the home.
You are invited to begin reading our novels now. These regular brief visits to fictionland will prove a delightful interlude from your work-day activities. And it will make us happy to know that you are getting enjoyment from them.

When you finish reading your copy of The Record, hand it to a neighbor and ask him to send in his subscription.

NOTICE To The Dog Owners Of Davie County

It being the law of North Carolina that all dogs in this State be vaccinated against Rabies, each and every year, it is being authorized by the County Commissioners of the County of Davie, for the safety of the citizens of said county. I do hereby serve notice to the dog owners of said county, to have all dogs in your possession vaccinated.

G. A. Sheek Has Been Appointed Inspector For Davie County, And He Has Authority To See That All Dogs Are Vaccinated Within The Said County.

L. M. TUTTEROW,
Chairman Board County Commissioners.

The Davie Record is the only home-owned newspaper in Mocksville. Its editor, owner and printers all live here. When we make any money it is spent here. Patronize home industries.

LIST YOUR PROPERTY Give In Your Poll NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

That the listakers for the various townships of Davie County will sit at the various listing places during the month of April, at which places and in which month all property owners and tax payers in said townships are required to return to the Listakers for taxation, for the year 1937 all the Real Estate, Personal Property, etc., which each one shall on the first day of April, or shall be required to give in then. All male persons between the ages of 21 and 50 years are to list their polls during the same time. Return of Property and giving in of polls are required under the pains and penalties imposed by law.

Person's who shall have been exempted from the payment of poll tax will, when they come to list, be required to exhibit a certificate of the Commissioners. Those who have, through mistake surrender, lost, or have mislaid their certificates of exemption, should make application for other exemptions at the April or May meeting of the board. This certificate of exemption is to be kept by the person exempted. When you come to list ask the undersigned to show you list of exempted.

All persons who are liable for poll tax, and fail to give themselves in, and all own property and fail to list it will be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, fined or imprisoned.

Blanks upon which a verified statement of property is to be made by each taxpayer can be had of the undersigned. Fill in these blanks and see to it that statements be free from error, thereby obviating much trouble. Only female and non-residence of township and persons physically unable to attend and file their list can appoint agents to list property.

A failure to list will subject you to DOUBLE TAX.
Examine your list before signing.
It is also required that you make a crop report at the time of listing. Don't fail to do this.

D. R. STROUD,
Tax Supervisor.

Notice Of Sale Of Real Estate.

Under and by virtue of an order made in the special proceeding in the Superior Court of Davie County, North Carolina, entitled, J. Z. Tucker, et al vs Mrs. Louisa Foster, et al, by M. A. Hartman, Clerk of Superior Court:
The undersigned commissioner will sell publicly for cash to the highest bidder at the courthouse door of Davie County, North Carolina, on Monday, the 10th day of May, 1937, at 12 o'clock m., the following described lands lying and being in Shady Grove township, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:
A tract beginning at a stone in George Hartman's line, corner of lot No. 1; thence W. 43 poles to a stone, corner of lot No. 3; thence S. 1 deg W. 21 poles to a stone in Clark's line, W. J. Ellis' corner. thence N. 3 degs E. 21 poles to the beginning, containing 6 acres and 58 poles more or less. See deed from J. O. Markland, et al, to M. E. Tucker, dated September 14, 1892, and recorded in Book 35, page 294, Register's office of Davie County, North Carolina.
Terms of Sale: Cash.
This the 9th day of April, 1937.
A. T. GRANT, Commissioner.

Notice To Creditors.

Having qualified as administratrix, with the will annexed, of John P. Green, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against the estate of said deceased to present the same, duly verified, to the undersigned at Box 1144, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, or GRANT & GRANT, Attorneys, Mocksville, North Carolina, on or before the 12th day of April, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please call upon the undersigned or the above named attorneys, and make settlement without delay.
This the 12th day of April, 1937.
MAY GREEN,
Administratrix, C. T. A., of J. P. Green, dec'd.
By GRANT & GRANT, Attorneys.

Mountain Beaver Moves Slowly
The American mountain beaver moves so slowly that a child can catch it.

Executor's Notice.
Having qualified as executor of the estate of Mrs. Lula McCulloh, late of Davie county, North Carolina, notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against the said estate to present them to the undersigned on or before the 10th day of January, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate, will please make immediate payment. This Feb. 10th, 1937.
O. G. ALLEN, Exr.
Mrs. Lula McCulloh, Dec'd.
412 N. Spruce St.
Winston Salem, N. C.

Administrator's Notice!
Having qualified as administrator of the late Miss Margaret Myers, of Shady Grove township, Davie county, notice is hereby given all persons having claims against the said estate, to present them to the undersigned on or before Jan. 12, 1938, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make immediate payment. This Jan. 12, 1937.
G. B. MYERS, Admr.
Miss Margaret Myers, Dec'd

Tahiti Tides Follow the Sun
Tides at Tahiti follow the sun instead of the moon, high at noon and low at midnight.

DR. R. P. ANDERSON
DENTIST
Anderson Building
Mocksville, N. C.
Office 50 - Phone - Residence 37

checks COLDS and FEVER first day
666
LIQUID, TABLETS and SALVE, NOSE DROPS
Headache 30 minutes
Try "Rub-My-Tim"-World's Best Linctant

BEST IN RADIOS
YOUNG RADIO CO.
MOCKSVILLE, N. C.
BEST IN SUPPLIES

WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY

ON YOUR ENVELOPES, LETTER HEADS, STATEMENTS, PACKET HEADS, CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, ETC. GET OUR PRICES FIRST.

THE DAVIE RECORD

BRINGING HONOR
"And Respect To Our Calling Has Been Our One Great Aim. We Adhere Strictly To The Doctrine Of Consistency And Thoughtfulness"

PHONE 48
CAMPBELL-WALKER FUNERAL HOME

If you want a 1937 Blum's Almanac free, you had better subscribe or renew your subscription soon.