Much Prayer

Rev. Walter E. Isenhour, Hiddenite, N. C.

Much prayer is going up to Almighty God on the part of the American people in behalf of our soldiers, and for the cause of American liberty. We believe the United States is the most wonderful nation on earth, even in spite of the fact that there has been a sad and deplorable drifting away from the principals of our forefathers, from the church that has been the spiritual lighthouse of our nation, and from the blessed old Bible that has brought to us our enlightenment, and has lifted us out of the mire and clay of sin, and far above the dense ignorance of heathenism. Thank God for His goodness, and may His praises be glorious from our hearts.

However, it is high time for America to pray, repent and get back to God, the church and Bible principals. Only as we obey God's holy Word, love and worship God in the beauty of holiness, stand firmly for the truth, for honesty and right, and for the principals upon which our Government is founded, shall we continue as a free and independent nation. When we sacrifice the right for wrong, truth for error and falsehood, the Bible for evolution and modernism, the church for pleasure, honesty for money, principal for party, righteousness for unrighteousness, salvation for fleshly gratifications, then shall we sink never to rise again. Every American citizen needs to wake up to these startling facts.

Indeed it is high time to pray. A mighty volume of earnest, honest, sincere prayer ought to ascend to the God of our fathers from the hearts and souls of the American people. We are conscious that we are in a very dangerous position, and our danger is more from a moral and spiritual standpoint than anything else. If we lose here we lose everywhere else. The strongest, mightiest fortification of a nation is its spiritual fortification, not its financial, educational and military fortifications. Any and every nation will eventually fall as she forsakes the Bible, God and the church, and the Christian religion. It can't be otherwise. O that God may open our eyes and understanding to this solemn truth.

If we win this mighty war—the greatest of all history—it is going to be won principally through prayer and faith in God more than by our mighty soldiery and principally through prayer and faith in God more than by our mighty soldiery and munitions of war. Tens of thousands of our godly and faithful mothers are praying, also tens of thousands of our fathers, along with many of our youth. People of all walks, callings and professions of faith are praying. This is as it ought to be. The salvation and victory of our soldiers is depending much upon our prayers. Multitudes of our boys will never return from the battle front and mighty conflict except in answer to prayer. O God, hear our prayers.

Discouraging

While farmers, city folks and all other classes of people are asked and all other classes of people are asked and begged to scrap every piece of old metal from a razor blade to junked cars a United States Senator, "Happy" Chandler of Kentucky builds himself a 60 foot swimming pool at his Kentucky home with reinforced concrete, which required FIVE TONS of steel and several hundred pounds of brass metal, both very precious things these days, to complete the job.

The swimming pool is the gift of a large contractor friend of Senator Chandler, whose opponents claim it was given him in return for favors. This Senator Chandler denies. His opponent in the coming election, John Young Brown, is telling the people of Kentucky from the house-tops about Chandler's private swimming pool.

It is discouraging, down right so, to read of such things as this. Why should five tons of much needed metal go into the swimming pool of a big shot when it is so vital to the war effort. If Chandler was offered a gift he should have told his friend to put it in war bonds and after the war convert it into the swimming pool. That would make sense.

While Americans are tightening their belts, denying themselves luxuries in order to buy bonds, this is close to buy bonds, this is close to an outrage and I hope Senator Chandler gets beat in the coming vote. He should be. Then he might learn that the boys on the battlefield needs guns and tanks and planes worse than he needs a 60 foot swimming pool.

The war will never be won as long as this kind of disregard continues. Yarkin Ripple.

OLD DEBTS

Don't think because a debt is old you have a right to pass it by, And with a spirit proud and bold Go on your way and never try To pay it up, then claim to be An honest man, upright, straight For time can pay no debt, you see, Nor clear you at the pearly gate.

It's just as good to pay old debts As those you know to be new; And if you'd die without regrets It's well to keep this fact in view, Until you make the old debts right And get an honest, clear receipt, That you may have a face that's bright

Regardless of the folks you meet Old debts will keep you from life's best As on the path of life you tread; Will shut you off from heaven's rest, And from the presence of our God, If you but fail to pay them up, Or do the very best you can, That you may drink from honor's cup And prove that you're an honest man.

Now if you'll pay that old, old debt You made so many years ago, 'Twill save you lots of sad regret While traveling through this world below; Then you can lift your head upright And look all men square in the face, And have a conscience that is bright And fill in life a worth while place.

—Walter E. Isenhour.

Within a few weeks after scrap steel is placed in a furnace, to be melted down into new steel, it may help to win a battle in the war, it was stated yesterday at the headquarters of the local Scrap Salvage Campaign.

Should Be Punished

Washington is prodding all of us to search the premises for every hunk of scrap that may be found. Rubber is being stressed, of course, but the various metals now wasting in out of the way places are just as essential to the war effort, and the government is just as insistent that they be herded together and put to use.

And while everybody is feverishly trying to comply by combing the highways and hedges for scrap metal of all kinds, there is the memory that back yonder junk dealers were just as feverishly gathering in the scrap to ship to Japan where it could be turned into weapons to strafe our soldiers. Newspapers and individuals continually warned against it, but officials in Washington for some reason closed their eyes, and of course the junkmen were not expected to overlook their profit.

And some of these government officials re now the loudest in the clamor for prompt response to the call for scrap. They profess to be greatly disappointed in the volumes turned in and charge it to public complacency. These officials ought to be punished, think the Charlotte Observer, and suggests that the proper punishment would be to "compel them to doff their swallow-tail coats, put on overalls and pick up scrap twelve hours a day. And it would help to take away their gasoline cards. If they need gasoline cards. If they need gasoline let them apply to Hiroto, asking return of some of the millions of gallons America sold him just before the war."

And that would catch some of the big-wigs too, some in whose judgment the American people seem to have great confidence, and are still in high places of directional responsibilities. Cordell Hull, for instance, is credited more than any other for the continued delivery of scrap to the Japs, for he hoped right up to the last to make friends instead of enemies of them. We are a short-sighted lot, and that is not confined to the run-of-the-mine of us either. The stalwarts haven't been noted for their vision.

Maybe putting them to such a task as the Charlotte paper suggests would provide an example that would be good for what ails us. Yanking them out of their swivel chairs would be another form of punishment that might work wonders. —Statesville Daily.

From The Yellow Jacket

A Massachusetts subscriber thinks our expression, "To Hell with Hitler" is a little bit impolite. Now, if the Brother will kindly suggest a more appropriate place to wish him then we will make the change to suit the occasion.

In supporting the war we are not endorsing the New Deal blunders. Washington desk warmers are not fighting this war. It's our boys at the front—and they'll win, and we must support and sustain them.

We are in full agreement with Everett Ketchum who says we have been permitted to have pretty much of our own philosophy, its own religion, its own politics and its own way of going to hell about as fast as it has a mind to.

We looked thru the window of our sanctum and saw a big beer beer truck roll by mounted on new tires all around. Across the street a preacher was trying to patch up his tires so he could get to his appointment. Stop a-rolling and Salvation halted by the power of the New Deal.

Speaking of things, are we what we thing we are, any more than Matter itself is what the old fashioned alchemist thought it was? And if we be not what we always thought we were, then what on earth can we possibly be? We await an answer.

We'll wager that, ten years from now, every voter who casts his or her vote to re-elect New Deal Congressmen and Senators will be running around trying to hide his or her face, or looking for somebody with a big enough hoof to kick him or her.

They have put a ban on the sale of typewriters, but the ban came too late. Had it been placed when the New Deal began its writing and spending some billions of dollars might have been saved to the American tax payers.

Did you know, Hiram, that over two billion dollars a years are being spent for social and socialistic experiments which are of no benefit whatever in winning the war? That's the way the New Deal mushrooms grows. Do you like it? If you don't send us a club to show where you stand.

Rip Lucky Man

When Rip van Winkle woke up and wandered back to the old home town, he was neither recognized nor remembered. He found his wife gone, daughter married, his native village remodeled, and America independent. He had slept clear through the Revolution! Nevertheless, Rip was a lucky man, because we'd never have known about him to this day if Washington Irving hadn't written him up. Any industry that is contemplating hibernation from advertising during World War II might well consider the plight in which Rip found himself. For after this war even a Washington Irving—if you could one—might not be able to bring back into public favor a once popular trade name. It always to advertise.—Ex.

Politics Warming Up

A handful of Democrats were in a huddle and a basketful of Republicans were parked near the court house at different points last Thursday preparing for a whispering campaign, which no doubt will be uplifting to mankind. To hear some of the candidates express themselves you would think the county government would go to the bow-wows if the folks failed to elect them to office this fall.—The Wilkesboro Hustler.

Congratulates The Editor

Dear Bro. Stroud:—Just received last issue of Record, and its hard to realize that it has been forty-three years since the first issue came from old Washington Press. Guess I have been reading The Record for about forty years. And you are due compliments on the way you have conducted the paper since it has been in your hands; to say nothing of the splendid way in which you have always been prompt and on time with each issue.

I always find something interesting in The Record, and often something very amusing, as for instance in this issue, the little piece copied from the Yarkin Ripple, in which the editor laments about the "carring on" of Congress. He confesses that he is just discovering the smartest and best men are not always among that body; so he says "To hell with them." The Ripple Editor is all wet in his attitude. His position in his state and community should spur him to an effort to assist in putting better and wiser men in Congress, instead of quitting and cussing what is there.

The Ripple Editor has discovered nothing new; nor does he offer a remedy for what he thinks he has found. Many years ago, writing on Democracy, Gaetano Salvemini, of Harvard University, said, "When electoral institutions were created they were based on the assumption that the electorate would choose the best among themselves as representatives, and that those who were chosen would legislate and supervise the work of the executive in the interest of the community. Experience has shown that the electorate rarely choose the best. In fact, they as a rule choose the mediocre, and sometimes they even choose the worst men in the community. This is the first weak spot in free and democratic institutions."

So it seems to me that if the small weekly papers are going to take part in politics they should use their influence to elect the "best men" and not the "best" Democrat or best Republican. There is plenty that should be done, and much they can do, once they realize what is wrong, and set their head to try to help it.

Anyway, whatever happens, I trust that you are enjoying good health and prosperity and will have plenty of blackberry pie and watermelon through the season, and will keep The Record rooting for the best for your county for many years to come, and so with all best wishes, I am,

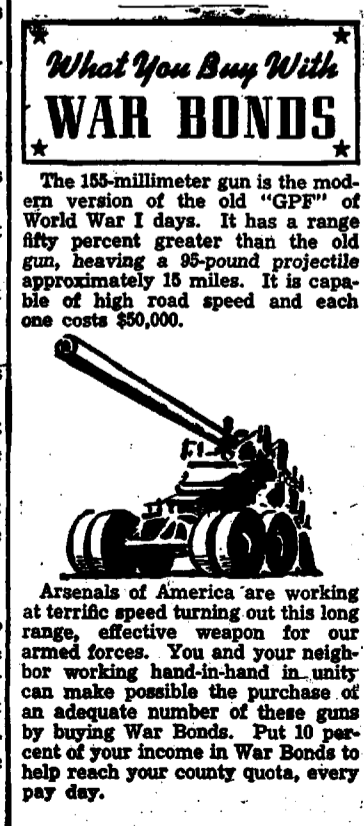

Sincerely,
R. S. MERONEY.

Arsenals of America are working at terrific speed turning out this long range, effective weapon for our armed forces. You and your neighbor working hand-in-hand in unity can make possible the purchase of an adequate number of these guns by buying War Bonds. WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUELL F. PARTON

NEW YORK.—One fancies the least of current worries of Col. Julia O. Flikke, superintendent of the army nurse corps, is involved in the question whether she is entitled to retain the silver eagles which accompanied her new commission as colonel.

By the same token the commission itself seems to be in danger as a result of the prying of legal comms hunters who after the manner of their kind are probably rejoicing in a point they have extracted from their study of the law creating the army of the United States. The law says that "qualified persons" are eligible for commissions. By virtue of this ruling Mrs. Flikke's colonelcy was sanctioned by the surgeon general, the adjutant general and the judge advocate.

High authority indeed; none the less it is questioned on the basic ground that there were no women in the army when congress passed the law; that, therefore, promotions of women are outside the law. The United States controller general, an important official since he passes on all pay vouchers, is inclined to accept the point raised. If, he says, congress meant women to be eligible for army rank, it would have said so. So there we are and so specifically is Colonel Flikke.

Even should the nice distinction be upheld, she will still, as major, be the highest ranking woman in the United States army. Commander of nearly 10,000 nurses, she is well-fitted to her responsibility, colonel or no colonel. A native of Verona, Wis., she went to Chicago, married there and was there left a widow. She prepared for nursing in the Augustana hospital in Chicago and after a post-graduate course in nursing and administration at Columbia university, she returned to Augustana hospital as assistant superintendent.

When World War I involved the United States she joined the army, serving three years in France, China and the Philippines. Subsequently she was attached for 12 years to the Walter Reed hospital in Washington and in May, 1937, succeeded Maj. Julia C. Stimson as superintendent of the army nurse corps.

ELEVEN years ago Eugene J. Houdry, a Parisian scientist and inventor, arrived on these shores with his wife and two small children. Established in Philadelphia the family eventually moved to Ardmore, a main line suburb. Then 38 years old, Houdry had been at work in his native country over a period of years on a method for the catalytic cracking of oil by which the crude is converted into vapors at lower temperatures and pressures than had hitherto been used. These vapors, then, are brought into contact with a catalyst and are condensed into their various derivatives in proportions which can be controlled in the operation. In the midst of these researches in France—having already invented a process for obtaining octane gasoline vital to aviation—his money ran out. He could get no more and seeking practical encouragement in the United States, he migrated hither and found two great oil companies eager to finance his laboratory. Some $10,000,000 was paid out in perfecting Houdry's process and in devising and making apparatus for its use on a large commercial scale.

Now Eugene Houdry is cited as having succeeded in applying his catalytic cracking process to the commercial production of butadiene—something for which an eager public has been waiting since war began and our supply of rubber was cut off. For butadiene is the main ingredient of a very fine brand of synthetic rubber. Consequently, if all is well with the Houdry process, the present shortage in an essential commodity may be overcome much sooner than had been hoped.

In such case a currently dreaded event will be postponed, if not forever averted—the requisition of your tires by the government. Immersed since his arrival in this country in scientific research Mr. Houdry, now a naturalized citizen, found time after the fall of France to help organize here that aggressively militant organization, "France Forever," a large national group of Free Frenchmen of which he is the president and its chief spokesman. "Only here," he has said, "could I have achieved such scientific success as has been vouchsafed me."

SEEMS as if a doffing of hats to Gene Autrey, who enlisted in the Army Air Corps, is indicated. "He will not receive a commission," announces the report. He'll get one, of course, eventually—he's bound to, because he's the stuff that officers are made of. But when so many men of the motion picture industry are stepping right out as officers at the start, isn't it swell of Gene to begin at the bottom? Reminds me of one movie executive who told me that he had applied for a commission as lieutenant colonel in the army; if he didn't get it, he'd stay out! P.S.—He didn't get it!

You really ought to see "Mrs. Miniver," if only to find out why the world's largest theater, the Radio City Music Hall, booked it for six weeks running, with 772,983 people seeing it during the first five weeks—a figure equalling the population of Boston, Mass.

The film version of Irving Berlin's "This Is the Army," the army show which delighted New York from the moment it opened, will be photographed in color, luckily. Irving Berlin will supervise the production, in Hollywood.

Robert Donat's first screen appearance since "Goodbye, Mr. Chips" will be made in "Sabotage Agent." It will be directed by Harold Eucquet, who has just finished "The War Against Mrs. Hadley," and will be made in London.

Five years ago the Maine Development association sent Walt Disney the two young deer who served as models for the hero and heroine of his "Bambi." So a special premiere of "Bambi" was booked for Augusta, Maine, following the first showing of the picture in New York.

Daisy, who won fame in the "Blondie" series, recently whelped five pups, all of which are now the property of Penny Singleton because she has a large ranch. She named them, naturally, for the characters in the pictures. By the way, this is the only film series in which the original actors have worked as a unit throughout—Penny, Arthur Lake, Larry Simms ("Baby Dangling"), and Daisy.

Maybe Esther Williams started something when, wanting a souvenir that she could show friends who weren't in the movies, she bought a white satin bathing suit and had it autographed in black waterproof ink by every star on the Metro lot. Incidentally, though she's a swimming star, Esther really swims in "Andy Hardy's Last Fling"—usually Hollywood doesn't let an expert do what he or she is expert at.

The biggest stride of any regional radio network show has been made by "Grand Ole Opry," the Saturday night folk music program heard over NBC. It was the first of the in-person shows to make regular army camp appearances last fall, under the name of "Caravan." Now there are four road units touring the camps. One master of ceremonies has landed a network contract on the new CBS Caravan Hour.

To prove that Uncle Sam uses radio talent to the best advantage, take the story of Detroit's Frank Telford, director of the "This Is Our Enemy" series heard over Mutual Sunday nights. A former script writer for the Detroit board of education, Telford went to Washington without network experience, but with a briefcase full of ideas. Now he's made a niche for himself as a radio executive.

ODDS AND ENDS... All in one week Frank Morgan celebrated his 52nd birthday, began his 52nd feature picture, "White Cargo," and celebrated the completion of 25 years as a motion picture actor... Red Skelton says that he has played so many camp shows that every time he sees a soldier he goes into his monologue... Jack Benny won't star in "The Meanest Man in the World"; it's said that after he read the final script he persuaded the studio to abandon plans for it... Instead of giving his annual party for members of the "Big Town" cast at the end of the season, Edward G. Robinson gave them all year bonds this year.

Text for Expert Buyers advertisement: In bringing you buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year. It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world: the feeling of being adequately prepared. When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. Thus advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

TO YOUR Good Health

by DR. JAMES W. BARTON

VACATIONS NEEDED A news item some weeks ago spoke of a convention of tourist agencies.

Dr. Barton authorities call the vacations furloughs, which is the name given to the holiday granted soldiers.

Unfortunately, before some can go on a vacation, they have a great amount of work to do—mental and physical—so that by the time they are to go they are completely exhausted.

As pointed out before, the word vacation means to vacate, to leave your present surroundings amid different circumstances.

Preserving The Hearing As we think of the great number of hard of hearing individuals who are now wearing satisfactory hearing aids we are apt to think that we have reached the point where all the hard of hearing accept this condition and are willing to wear hearing aids.

Dr. C. C. Bunch, Northwestern university school of speech, in an article on the conservation or preservation of hearing in the Journal of the American Medical Association says: "Recently an employer was asked what his reaction would be if someone asked permission to test the hearing of his employees."

Why do employers and employees avoid these tests? Employers are afraid that additional legal regulations and questions of compensation will arise.

However, just a little thought should convince all of us that as most cases of hard of hearing are not in an advanced condition but still have considerable hearing ability, the common sense thing to do would be to find out how much hearing was lost, what was causing the loss, what could be done to prevent further loss and what could be done in the way of treatment or a hearing aid to bring the hearing up to or nearly up to normal.

Dr. Bunch recounts the measures being used in factories, tunnels, airplanes and other places and occupations, to preserve, not restore, the hearing.

Common Sense Will Help Smash Summertime's Heat

Dress Lightly, Eat Little but Often, Relax, Don't Get Too Much Sun at One Time, Is Way to Keep Cool.

By CLIFF LANGE

Don't let the heat get you down! Don't let it keep you from working, or eating or enjoying your spare time.

Science and 1942 ingenuity have gone a long way helping you combat the heat waves.

True, you can't do much about lowering the sizzling temperature. You can do a number of things to help keep yourself cool as you go through your daily routine.

For instance, the first thing to remember to do is to "dress cool." Don't wear heavy, tight fitting clothing.

You ladies who are handy with the scissors, needle and thread can whip together some dandy summer work, play or "visiting" dresses easily enough these days.

Ready-made dresses are also plentiful and reasonably priced, too. Take a look at your favorite store.

There is no reason, either, why the men, young and old, shouldn't be dressed to combat the heat.

Men are slow in changing to new, even a more comfortable style of clothing. Those that aren't so conservative aren't getting shoved around by the heat this year like their more backward brethren are.

—King Cold— This method of keeping cool (or cold, if you prefer) is just one of many hundreds of ways available.

When he is now about to give it a genuine workout. When he was a little boy he learned that this was one of the more suitable ways of cooling off.

enjoying your activities during the heat of the day. Check up on yourself. See how much of the food you are eating is "acid" producing.

It is during these hot months when the very youngest, and the oldest suffer the most. Infants, not being able to express their displeasure at being uncomfortable in any other way than their only way, a reasonable crying spell, or a healthy wail, should be closely watched.

They should be dressed with a minimum amount of clothing. Either next to nothing, or nothing. The coolest side of the house, or out on the porch, or in the shade beneath the tree is the spot for them.

war Nerves' Even Disturbing Children The war has created for children many serious problems which American parents and teachers must face.

Best Way

This is one of the nation's favorite ways of cooling off. It doesn't make any difference whether you swim in a private pool, a park, river, pond lake or sea—it does the trick.

The summer sun, in seeming retaliation, shows its resentment on thousands of swimmers every day by giving them a severe case of sunburn, or blistering.

Enjoy your swim, but don't take too much of the sun at one time.

who complain. They, too, should be made as comfortable as possible. They, too, are the ones who should be reminded that what they formerly used to do, "just to help out," shouldn't be done in the hot weather.

One of the pleasures of the summer months are the outdoor picnics, the family reunions, the parties and fishing trips both for the youngsters and the grownups.

Although rubber restrictions will cut down on many of the long auto trips on such picnics and outdoor excursions, it won't—at least it shouldn't for the ingenious—cut down on the outings held in the nearby woods, or even in the side, or back.

It is on such picnics, and side-yard excursions that real summer time meals, old style "Dutch Lunches" can be served.

The little extra equipment needed for such meals that break the monotony of eating indoors all the time is available at any of the local retail stores.

Today, with plenty of room available, alongside or behind the house, or in the field or woods near home, there is no reason why similar "picnic" equipment isn't available.

Many times, too, in the desire to cool off there were long trips to distant pools, or "favorite" spots on lakes and rivers.

This war has brought the people of the nation more closely together than at any time since the advent of the automobile.

Common sense will take care of most of the heat's oppressiveness. That which can't be taken care of should be treated as a matter of fact.

You can do more about taking care of the heat by actually doing something to counteract the effects of it.

Many Davie boys are now in the army, navy and marine corps, and others are leaving every few weeks. We trust that all the boys who are in nearby camps, will be given a furlough so they can get home for the Masonic picnic next Thursday. They will enjoy this big day back home, where they can meet many relatives and friends.

Rev. Robert M. Hardee, pastor of the Mocksville Methodist Church who was scheduled to report for duty as Chaplain with the rank of Lieutenant, at Fort McClelland, Ala., on Aug. 1st, has received notice to report for duty at Cambridge, Mass., on Aug. 8th. Rev. Mr. Hardee will enter Harvard College for a training period before entering active duty. He has many friends who wish him well wherever his lot may be cast.

PICNIC NEXT WEEK

Next Thursday, Aug. 13th, is Masonic picnic day in Davie county, with Mocksville the center of attraction. This is a day that is looked forward to from year to year—a day when former Davie people who have moved to distant points, come back to the old home town and county to spend at least one day with old friends and relatives, and renew old acquaintances. For 63 years this picnic has been held annually with the exception of one year, when it was cancelled on account of an infantile paralysis epidemic in some sections.

Despite the tire and gas shortage, thousands of people from Davie and adjoining counties will be here next Thursday. This picnic is held for a most worthy cause, and the Masonic orphanage at Oxford, is given the entire receipts over and above actual expenses. Hon. J. M. Broughton, Governor of North Carolina, will deliver the annual address. Music will be furnished by the Mocksville High School band, and a chapter of orphans from the Masonic orphanage, will render songs, recitations, etc., during the day and evening. The big event of the day is the old fashioned country dinner, which is served on long tables, near the big arbor. These dinners have been famous for more than half a century, and people have traveled more than two thousand miles to enjoy them.

In addition to this program, the R. C. Lee riding devices will be here all next week. Mr. Lee has been coming to these picnics for many years, and his equipment is modern and up-to-date in every way, and is a joy and delight to many old folks and all the young people. It wouldn't be a picnic without Mr. Lee.

The Record extends a cordial invitation to all former Davie county people living in other towns, cities and states, to come back to Mocksville next week for this big picnic and home-coming. If your auto tires are worn and your gas tank empty, catch a bus or train, or get out on the highway and thumb your way. All Davie county people are expected to be here Thursday. If your car won't run, hitch your horses or mules to the old farm wagon and bring the whole family. Let's make this one of the best of the 63 picnics held in Davie county, regardless of Germans, Japs or other blood-thirsty nations across the seas.

When you come to the Masonic picnic next week, be sure and put an extra dollar or two in your pocket to pay for The Record. We have a brand new receipt book that we want to empty next week. Your help will be appreciated.

Georgia Markets Higher Than 1941

Growers were more than pleased at the price average of 30 to 35 cents a pound as the new season on the Georgia tobacco markets opened on Tuesday, the price being slightly higher than opening of 1941. Last year the first week's prices ran around 20.38 cents. A high price of 50 cents a pound was paid on the Hahira market for some baskets and other markets reported top quotations ranging from 40 to 48 cents. The average price for first sales at Hahira was 35 cents.

Charles Given Hearing

JUNK

needed for War

"What's it good for?"
"Guns, tanks, and maybe part of a plane"

In the barnyards and gullies of farms and in the basements and attics of homes is a lot of Junk which is doing no good where it is, but which is needed at once to help smash the Japs and Nazis.

Scrap iron and steel, for example. Even in peacetime, scrap provided about 50% of the raw material for steel. It may be rusty, old "scrap" to you, but it is actually refined steel—with most impurities removed, and can be quickly melted with new metal in the form of pig iron to produce highest quality steel for our war machines.

The production of steel has gone up, up, UP, until today America is turning out as much steel as all the rest of the world combined. But unless at least 6,000,000 additional tons of scrap steel is uncovered promptly, the full rate of production cannot be attained or increased; the necessary tanks, guns and ships cannot be produced. The rubber situation is also critical. In spite of the recent rubber drive, there is a continuing need for large quantities of scrap rubber. Also for other waste materials and metals like brass, copper, zinc, lead and tin.

The Junk which you collect is bought by industry from scrap dealers at established, government-controlled prices. Will you help?

First—collect all of your waste material and pile it up. Then—sell it to a Junk dealer, give it to a charity, take it yourself to the nearest collection point, or get in touch with your Local Salvage Committee. If you live on a farm, consult your County War Board or your farm implement dealer.

Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

JUNK MAKES FIGHTING WEAPONS

One old disc will provide a scrap steel needed for 210 semi-automatic light carbines.

One old plow will help make one hundred 75-mm. armor-piercing projectiles.

One useless old tire provides much rubber as is used in 12 gas masks.

One old shovel will help make 4 hand grenades.

A scout car is a low-slung motor car armored with heavy steel plate, used to transport troops from one point to another. It is of low silhouette and gives protection against machine gun and other ground fire. A scout car costs $5,000.

You and your neighbors joining together can buy one of these vehicles for the Ordnance Department of our army with your purchase of War Bonds. We need hundreds of them and need them quickly. Put at least ten percent of your wages or income into War Bonds every pay day and help your fellow Americans top the War Bond quota in your county.

It's not a pleasant picture to contemplate, but War calls for "blood and sweat and tears." And the Army Medical Corps, with its efficient nurses and its volunteer Red Cross "Angels of Mercy," needs thousands of surgical beds for field and base hospitals on every front.

These beds cost approximately $22 each. They are the latest thing in modern hospital beds, with elevating springs. In some instances surgical cots are used in temporary field hospitals and there is a folding bed which may be used in ambulances. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps can buy many of these beds for the Army. You'll sleep better if you know our boys have every hospital comfort. Buy War Bonds every pay day. Invest ten percent of your income.

Hitler found out that his high powered mechanized and motorized army bogged down in the snow and mud of the Russian Winter. Although our Army is largely mechanized the cavalry horse is still a highly essential factor in this mounted division and in the Field Artillery. The Army also maintains remount farms where many cavalry horses are bred and raised.

These select horses cost from $100 to $165 and our crack cavalrymen are expert riders and carry on the traditions which have followed the cavalry from the earliest days of the Army. Purchase of War Savings Bonds will insure good mounts for the Cavalry. You and your neighbors buying War Bonds and Stamps regularly every pay day can help buy these horses for the U. S. Cavalry. Invest at least 10 percent of your income in War Bonds.

The 50-caliber Browning machine gun is one of the most efficient short range weapons used by U. S. Fighting forces. It is effective at ranges up to 2,000 yards and fires about 600 forty-five caliber bullets per minute.

One of these guns costs about $1,500, while a thirty-caliber machine gun costs approximately $600. Our fighting forces need thousands of these rapid-fire guns. Even a small town or community can buy many of them by uniting in the purchase of War Bonds. At least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day will do the trick.

Navy Cruisers are built in two classes, light and heavy, the latter displacing about 10,000 tons. Our navy has about an equal number of light and heavy Cruisers, the 10,000 ton Cruiser costing approximately $20,000,000. Many Cruisers are under construction and many more are needed.

To pay for these speedy and powerful ships with their heavy guns and armament we must buy War Bonds. Citizens of a large town or a given community, working in unity, could buy one of these ships for the Navy if they put at least ten percent of their income in War Bonds every pay day.

Your Responsibility

Rev. Walter E. Isenhour, Hiddenite, N. C. Suppose there are one hundred men engaged in a certain business, and the business is ninety-nine per cent a success. One man out of the hundred laid down on the job, did nothing, just quit. The ninety nine each felt his responsibility and did his best. Suppose fifty out of the hundred had felt no responsibility, but left it all to the other fellow. The business would have been a fifty per cent success and fifty per cent a failure.

Now let's think of our country, on nation, in like manner. We are a nation of something like a hundred and thirty millions of people, more or less. Suppose only thirty million out of our population feel their responsibility, and the hundred million do not sense it, what can we expect? Suppose only ten million feel their responsibility. Really and truly, when he come to think of it as we should, only a small remnant of people feel any real responsibility about anything much. This is true of the home, the church, the school, the community, the state, the nation. As a consequence, the minority who really feel their responsibility and try to act well their part, cannot carry the responsibility of the masses.

The truth of the matter is every individual, who has the right use of his body and mental faculties, has a responsibility, both for himself, his home, his church, or the church of his community, his state, his nation. We, as individuals, are responsible to God Almighty, for our lives and souls, and in a measure for the lives and souls of each other. We can't get away from responsibility, though we try to doge it, or shift it over on the shoulders of somebody else. God holds us responsible. As a matter of fact, because the great majority feel no responsibility, or refuse to shoulder it, but go into sin and wickedness, and go forth to live as they choose, regardless of right or wrong, we see the dreadful predicament we are in as a nation today, and as a world at large. Every sinner, ungodly and wicked men and women, boy and girl, is responsible for the present wickedness of the world, and for the war that is sweeping the nations. Why not? We are told that "one sinner destroyeth much," (Eccl. 9:18) then what about millions, millions, millions of sinners? Is it any wonder war, sorrow, heartache, bloodshed and destruction is upon the earth? Multitudes are responsible.

The motorist had had an accident. His car had run over a man's toes, and the victim was claiming damages.

"Wha! You want $500 for a damaged foot? cried the motorist. 'I'm not a millionaire!'"

"Perhaps you aren't," replied the victim. "And I'm not a centipede."

$500 Reward Offered

E. B. Goodwin, in Hickory Daily Record. Editor Record: I will mail my check to any man, woman or child that will prove to my entire satisfaction that alcohol has made any contribution to the upbuilding of any community, state or nation. On the other hand, just what has the liquor traffic done to tear down instead of build up?

Liquor has wrecked more homes and more lives than all other destructive forces put together. Some will say, I have heard that old story before. It doesn't matter if you have heard it before, it's the God's truth just the same. Not far from the fair city of Lincoln lies two young men dead. One shot the other and then himself all on account of liquor. Then you tell me it is not the greatest destructive force in our land.

Last year the American people spent around five billion dollars for alcohol. Thousands of tons of valuable food were consumed in the manufacturing of this worthless product while millions of people are starving to death for want of bread.

Last year forty thousand people lost their lives on the highways of America. Many of them were the victims of drunken drivers or drunken pedestrians. Many are wondering why the delay in executing the German saboteurs. I think they ought to have been shot long ago, but on the other hand we have greater saboteurs walking our streets and traveling our highways unmolested. These German saboteurs would no doubt have played havoc with our defense, but they would have been caught before much damage could have been done.

Yet the liquor traffic continues to play havoc every day and no one is doing anything about it. Seventeen per cent of the trucks are hauling beer and liquor, wearing out precious rubber and burning gas when thousands of our traveling salesmen who are trying to make an honest living for their wives and children are deprived of enough gas to call on their customers.

America, for God's sake, wake up!

The Record is only $1.00. Land posters at this office.

From The Yellow Jacket

Yes, the WPB placed a ban on the sale of typewriters, but up to the time we rush to press they have not placed any ban on political machines. The Kelleys, Nashes and Hagues are still doing business at the same old stand.

Al Smith started to knock prohibition out of the Democratic party and FRR came along and finished the job. Now you are a 'Hitlerite' if you dare to say a friendly word for prohibition. It's enough to make William J. Bryan turn over in his grave.

Why can't a government that can take over a ration automobiles, tires and typewriters, clothing and sugar, also take over the distillers and liquor supplies and use them completely for munitions? Let a New Dealer answer that.

A big bus load of local boys left for camp the other day and all were drunk but three. Many of them had to be loaded like handling bags of grain. Wouldn't Hitler chuckle at such a sight? But according to the licker doodles you mustn't criticize such conduct. It wouldn't be 'aiding th' enemy,' you know.

To own a bit of ground, to scratch it with a hoe, to plant seeds and watch them sprout and grow, is the delight of the race, the most satisfactory thing a man can do. But you want to keep your eye on the pig killers and crop reducers that have been running the show for several years back.

Henry Wallace says the object of the war is to make sure that everybody in the world has the privilege of drinking a quart of milk a day. Well, Henry, that is a far jump from going round a few years ago killing off the little pigs so that many would not have any ham gravy to sop their biscuits in.

In Chicago the other day a man was hauled into court for abandonment, and it was brought out in the court that he took the money he received for selling blood for transfusions and bought liquor with it. It was a case of a man drinking his own blood, figuratively speaking. And there was the Northern woman who traced a pint of blood for a sugar rationing card.

It is good to remember that Francis Willard said: Character is bounded on the North by sobriety, on the East by integrity, on the West by industry, and on the South by gentleness." Drunkenness on the other hand, is bounded on the North by corkscrews, on the East by Demijohns, on the South by beer bottles and on the West by dissipation, broken hearts, ruined homes, rags and wretchedness.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

When the American Expeditionary Force landed in Ireland recently newspapers reported the citizenry remarked at the similarity of the steel helmets worn by our boys with those worn by German troops. These steel hats are protection from shrapnel fragments and other light missiles. We need thousands of them for they are a regular issue to every American soldier.

A smart strap fastens under the chin and they are padded for comfort. One steel helmet costs $8 so every time you fill a $8 stamp book you are buying protection for an American soldier. The Inquiring Mr. Davis

Greensboro Daily News.—There is, as we see it, nothing complicated about the position Elmer Davis is taking and will strive to maintain as informal purveyor-in-chief to the people of the United States.

This is, he believes, their war. They've got to fight it first and then pay for it.

They cannot do this intelligently and they won't do it cheerfully unless those who assume to say how and when taken them into their confidence.

Nobody wants to have broadcast at all hours the latitude and longitude of U. S. convoys bearing men or material to reinforce the United Nations in the Pacific or to form a second front in Europe; but some of the efforts of the military and the bureaucrats to shroud their quasiactivities in mystery are down right silly.

And a chief difficulty appears to be the assiduity of not a few brass hats in striving to secure credit to themselves for vouchsafing news in the making of which they had no part and with the dissemination of which they should never have been permitted to concern themselves.

There are too many folks at Washington—not all of whom are in gold braid or khaki by any means—who seem to have to notion that they can actually impress unselect neighbors by simply sh-sh-sh-ing in an effort to cover up their own lack of information.

As for those in uniform or out who think that nobody save a West Point or Annapolis graduate is capable of appraising military information we are sorry for them—the war will be over, fought and won by others before they learn what's cooking.

Keep asking what you and the rest of us want to know, Elmer Davis; and if you find out anything you ought not to tell us at this moment because it might aid and comfort the enemy, try not to keep it so long that it will cease to be of interest.

Have you turned in your scrap metal and other material to help win the war? Scrap Salvage Depot is located at Davie Brick Co.

"The expression is not mine," said the general. "It's their own and it's very apt. It is a light way of saying that they keep destruction away."

This came up in connection with talk of this month marking the general's 23rd straight year in the air services of the army, and the fact that operating a fighter or bomber plane is a matter of a complex organization of human and technical factors, undreamed of when the general first went aloft.

"Every bombing mission is a matter of team work," said General Bradley. "It is not by any means just a piloting job. The aerial gunner is a member of the team without whom the mission might fail."

He said he was getting a "splendid type of young men for all these jobs" and stressed his view that the war would be won by "straight shooting with bullets and bombs."

Household Hints by Lynn Chambers

Summertime Means Picnic Time! (See Recipes Below.)

Sandwiches Plus

Your feting with summer isn't quite complete without one or a dozen picnics with those sandwiches that taste so good, bubbling hot coffee and fresh, juicy fruit to top off that outdoor meal.

Scrub your favorite picnic hamper clean and sun-dry it to assure your food freshness and cleanliness. Fill it to the brim with exciting sandwich combinations that your family will get such a surprise when they begin digging into the pleasant recesses of the big basket.

Are you in a quandary as to what sandwiches to make? Well, glance over the following combinations for some really tasty ideas in fillings:

- Sliced ham and American cheese, lettuce, sandwich spread. Cream cheese, finely minced onion, chopped stuffed olives. Chopped beef, ground fine, mixed with crumbled Roquefort cheese, seasoned with Worcestershire sauce. Liver sausage, mashed, seasoned with chili sauce.

Fillings combined generously with butter are often known as spreads. This facilitates the handling of sandwiches. Just spread the "butter" thickly between slices of bread and your sandwich is made, ready to be wrapped in waxed paper for picnicking.

Cheese Spread. Blend cream cheese with lemon juice and add 2 tablespoons butter to each package (1-ounce) of cream cheese. To this add one or more of the following: chopped watercress, green pepper or celery; pimiento, green olives, or nuts.

Sardine Spread. Cream 2 tablespoons lemon juice with 1/2 pound sweet butter. Spread this on toast or plain whole wheat bread. On top of this place tiny sardines, sprinkle with lemon juice and top with slice of toast or plain whole wheat bread.

"Make-your-own" sandwiches are loads of fun for picnics. Just pack your lunch box with meat loaf or ham loaf already baked at home. Provide the crowd with bread and butter, and let them slice the meat for their own sandwiches:

PICNIC BASKET IDEAS I. Assorted Sandwiches, Pickles, Potato Chips, Whole Tomatoes, Watermelon, Oatmeal Cookies, Beverage II. Country-Fried Chicken or Ham Picnic Loaf, Whole Wheat, Rye or White Bread, Cole Slaw, Fresh Peas, Brownies, Beverage III. *Recipes Given

Lynn Says:

The Score Card: Your best bargains during the present can be found in eggs and cheese, so plan to fortify your meals generously with both of these foods.

The campaign to save fats is really getting under way, and it's good policy on your part to turn all excess fats to your butcher.

Economy's yours if you use a variety of meat cuts in planning your menus. Best bargains can be found in the less used cuts such as liver, sweetbreads, heart, kidneys, rump roasts, etc.

Primary or unlimited production in canned fruits is decreed for the following items: peaches and pears (not whole), pectin, fruit cocktail, fruit for salad, and concentrates of grapefruit, lemon, lime and orange.

*Ham Picnic Loaf. (Serves 10) 1/2 cup quick-cooking tapioca, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 pound lean ham, ground, 1 pound lean pork, ground, 2 cups milk.

Munching on golden, crisply fried, cold chicken is many a picnicker's dream of the perfect outing. This is easily managed if you fry the chicken the night before, let it stand in the refrigerator, then wrap in waxed paper to take to the picnic the next day:

*Country-Fried Chicken. (Serves 6 to 8) 2 3-pound chickens, 1/2 cup flour, 1 1/2 tablespoons salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, Lard or shortening for frying, 1/2 cup butter.

Clean chickens and cut in pieces suitable for serving. Mix flour with salt and pepper. Place several pieces of chicken in the bag, and shake to coat evenly with flour. Take out and fry chicken until brown, slowly, in the lard which has been placed in a heavy skillet.

Potato Salad. (Serves 8) 6 potatoes, cooked in jackets, 1/2 cup french dressing, 1 onion, chopped fine, 1 cup celery, chopped fine, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 recipe cooked dressing.

*Country-Fried Chicken. (Serves 6 to 8) 2 3-pound chickens, 1/2 cup flour, 1 1/2 tablespoons salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, Lard or shortening for frying, 1/2 cup butter.

Cooked Dressing. 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 tablespoon sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 egg yolks, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup vinegar.

Combine dry ingredients. Add egg yolks, blending carefully, then mix in butter, milk and vinegar slowly. Cook until thick in double boiler. Let cool before adding to salad.

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE BY ROGER B. WHITMAN

ONE of the troubles which come with warm weather is the dripping from pipes carrying cool water. This is likely to be the case in a cellar. One remedy is to cover the pipes with jackets which will keep warm and damp air out of contact with the cool metal.

Broken Marble Table Top Question: I have a small marble-top table, of which the marble is cracked and broken right through the middle. Is there any way I could repair it at home?

Answer: A marble table-top is so thin that in mending it a support must be placed underneath. You should cut a piece of plasterboard to fit inside the frame of the table as a support for the pieces of marble.

Cracking Paint Question: When we built our home two years ago we painted the woodwork ourselves with two coats of flat white and one of enamel. In two months it began to crack, and now has checks and cracks all over.

Answer: The paint that you used was evidently too hard and brittle to follow the movement of the wood as it dried out and seasoned.

Hot Water Radiators Question: I have a hot water heating system with a circulator. I understand that with the radiators completely shut off, water would be drawn from the radiator, and a vacuum would eventually be formed.

Answer: No; for the shutoff valves of hot water radiators are made with small air traces to provide for circulation when the valve is shut. The idea of this is to prevent the freezing of a shut off radiator.

Hot Water Radiators Question: I have a hot water heating system with a circulator. I understand that with the radiators completely shut off, water would be drawn from the radiator, and a vacuum would eventually be formed.

Answer: No; for the shutoff valves of hot water radiators are made with small air traces to provide for circulation when the valve is shut. The idea of this is to prevent the freezing of a shut off radiator.

Stoker Problem. Question: I have a two-story building, including stores and six-room flats. Heating is by hot water. I am considering putting in a stoker. Where can I get information on the different kinds and on their operation?

Answer: Consult the Committee of Ten of the Heating Industries, at 307 North Michigan avenue, Chicago. A New Flat Roof Question: Will you advise me what kind of roofing is best to use in replacing a tin roof on a flat surface?

Answer: Use what is known as a built-up roofing; this consists of several layers of heavy roofing felt cemented to a solid roof sheathing. Use a good quality heavy weight felt, and have the work done by a reliable roofer.

Painting Linoleum Question: What are the possibilities of painting the linoleum on our kitchen floor? Answer: Linoleum makes a good base for paint, provided it is first cleaned of all traces of grease and wax which can be done by two or three wrappings with turpentine.

ROOM WITH SLANTING WALLS AND LOW CEILING WALL PAPER WITH SMALL PATTERN AND BORDER MAKES ANGLES LESS DISTINCT CURTAINS FROM CEILING TO FLOOR ACCENT HEIGHT OF ROOM

If it ever seemed to you that the walls and ceiling of an attic room were coming down on your head you know how the owner of this room felt before she began to experiment a bit with wallpaper and furnishings.

Large samples of wallpaper were thumbtacked in place to test them. Stripes only accented the slant of the walls. Plain papers brought out angles with sharp shadows.

No Prospects for the Disagreeing Young Lady This story was told of Winston S. Churchill by Gertrude Atherton: "Shortly after he left the Conservative side of the house (of commons) for the Liberal, he was taking a certain young woman down to dinner, when she looked up at him coquettishly, and remarked with the audacity of her kind:

"There are two things I don't like about you, Mr. Churchill," "And what are they?" "Your new politics and mustache." "My dear madam," he replied suavely, "pray do not disturb yourself. You are not likely to come in contact with either."

Salisbury reported a temperature reading of 105 degrees a few days ago. That town seems to be the hottest place in the state or their thermometer must be out of kilter. So far this year Mocksville hasn't had a hundred degree reading.

The young men from Davie county who are in the army will be missed in Mocksville tomorrow—picnic day. We are all hoping that by this time next year peace will have come to a war torn world, and that all the boys will be home again.

Everybody in Davie and adjoining counties who can, should come to the Masonic picnic Thursday. This is a mighty worthy cause, and your presence is needed. Come and spend this one day meeting and greeting old friends and relatives.

An Old Plow

Pink Gaither, one of Davie's good farmers who lives beyond the classic shades of Sheffield, is the owner of one of the oldest plows in Davie county. It is a home-made, two horse plow, and is in good shape, considering its age. The plow was owned and used by Mr. Gaither's grandfather long before the Civil war. Mr. Gaither's father cultivated his farm with this plow up to about 60 years ago, when it was stored in the barn for safe keeping. The plow is about 125 years old, and was used for upwards of 60 years. In those days farm implements and other things were made out of good timber and iron and made to give good service. Next time you are in that section ask Mr. Gaither to show you this ancient plow.

Baptist Choir Is Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Howard entertained the members of the Baptist Choir and a few additional guests at a picnic supper at Rich Park Thursday evening. During the evening, an amateur hour was enjoyed, in which the members participated and group singing was enjoyed. About forty members were present.

Homecomings

The pastor and people of the Mocksville Circuit, wish to announce that there will be a home-coming at Bethel Methodist Church next Sunday, Aug. 16th, with Rev. G. W. Fink guest speaker. A home coming at Chestnut Grove, Aug. 23rd, on the 4th Sunday in August, and one at Dulith's Methodist Church the 1st Sunday in September. All of these churches are planning to make up their program for the day with good singing and guest speakers. This also marks the beginning of their annual revival meetings. The public is cordially invited, together with all former pastors.

Bomb 'em with JUNK

Let's blast Japan—and Germany—and Italy—with the chain lightning of destruction that can be built from the scrap in our cellars, attics and garages, on our farms and in our places of business.

Scrap iron and steel, other metals, rubber and waste materials. It will all be used to make tanks, ships, planes and the fighting weapons our boys must have. It is needed at once. Sell it to a Junk dealer—give it to a charity or collection agency—take it yourself to the nearest collection point—or consult the Local Salvage Committee... If you live on a farm, and have found no means of disposing of your Junk, get in touch with the County War Board or your farm implement dealer.

Wine Barrel a Church

In California, the fashion of constructing and painting roadside buildings to resemble such objects as animals, fruits, tea kettles, shoes, igloos and airships has even extended to a house of worship. The Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel in the town of Asti is built in the shape of a wine barrel.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up at night, leg pain, swelling—feet, ankles, tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

A scout car is a low-slung motor car armored with heavy steel plate, used to transport troops from one point to another. It is of low silhouette and gives protection against machine gun and other ground fire. A scout car costs $8,000.

You and your neighbors joining together can buy one of these vehicles for the Ordnance Department of our army with your purchase of War Bonds. We need hundreds of them and need them quickly. Put at least ten percent of your wages or income into War Bonds every pay day and help your fellow Americans top the War Bond quota in your county.

It's not a pleasant picture to contemplate, but War calls for "blood and sweat and tears." And the Army Medical Corps, with its efficient nurses and its volunteer Red Cross "Angels of Mercy," needs thousands of surgical beds for field and base hospitals on every front.

These beds cost approximately $22 each. They are the latest thing in modern hospital beds, with elevating springs. In some instances surgical cots are used in temporary field hospitals and there is a folding bed which may be used in ambulances. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps can buy many of these beds for the Army. You'll sleep better if you know our boys have every hospital comfort. Buy War Bonds every pay day. Invest ten percent of your income.

Hitler found out that his high powered mechanized and motorized army bogged down in the snow and mud of the Russian Winter. Although our Army is largely mechanized the cavalry horse is still a highly essential factor in this mounted division and in the Field Artillery. The Army also maintains remount farms where many cavalry horses are bred and raised.

These select horses cost from $100 to $165 and our crack cavalymen are expert riders and carry on the traditions which have followed the cavalry from the earliest days of the Army. Purchase of War Savings Bonds will insure good mounts for the Cavalry. You and your neighbors buying War Bonds and Stamps regularly every pay day can help buy these horses for the U. S. Cavalry. Invest at least 10 percent of your income in War Bonds.

The 50-caliber Browning machine gun is one of the most efficient short range weapons used by U. S. Fighting forces. It is effective at ranges up to 2,000 yards and fires about 600 forty-five caliber bullets per minute.

One of these guns costs about $1,500, while a thirty-caliber machine gun costs approximately $800. Our fighting forces need thousands of these rapid-fire guns. Even a small town or community can buy many of them by uniting in the purchase of War Bonds. At least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day will do the trick.

Navy Cruisers are built in two classes, light and heavy, the latter displacing about 10,000 tons. Our navy has about an equal number of light and heavy Cruisers, the 10,000 ton Cruiser costing approximately $20,000,000. Many Cruisers are under construction and many more are needed.

To pay for these speedy and powerful ships with their heavy guns and armament we must buy War Bonds. Citizens of a large town or a given community, working in unity, could buy one of these ships for the Navy if they put at least ten percent of their income in War Bonds every pay day.

Truth Never Dies

Rev. Walter E. Isenhour, Hiddenite, N. C. Truth never dies. The ages come and go; The mountains wear away; the seas retire; Destruction lays earth's mighty cities low; And empires, states and dynasties expire; But, caught and handed onward by the wise, Truth never dies. Though unrecieved and scoffed at through the years; Though made the butt of ridicule and jest; Though held aloft for mockery and jeers, Denied by those of transient power possessed; Insulted by the insolence of lies, Truth never dies. Truth answers, it does not take offense; But with a mighty silence bides its time. As some great cliff that braves the elements, And lifts through all the storms its head sublime, So truth, unmoved, its puny foes defies, And never dies. The lips of ridicule dissolve in dust The sophist's arguments, the gibes are still; God, working through the all-compelling Must, Has broken those who dare combat His will, New systems, born in wild unrest, arise; Truth never dies. —Selected. This beautiful poem, whose author I do not know, speaks for itself. "Truth never dies." Mendie who fight and oppose it, like the great in fids, agnostics and atheists, but it lives on. Multitudes won't accept it, and many laugh at it, while others fight and oppose it, and try to crush it down and stamp it out, but just remember, truth never dies. Empires rise and fall, mighty armies go forth to crush governments, kings arise and pass away, crowns pass from one to another, or fall to the dust, generations come and go, and the structures of men give way to the wasting elements of time and decay, but truth lives on. It never dies. Why? Because it is of God. Truth co-exists with God, Even God Himself is Truth. Christ is Truth. He said of Himself, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." When Jesus stood before Pontius Pilate, arrested by His enemies and falsely accused, He said: "Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice." Then Pilate asked one of the greatest questions that ever fell from the lips of man, "What is truth?" Perhaps he didn't realize that he was face to face with the Author of all truth, and face to face with the Truth of all the ages. What is truth? Christ is Truth; His Word is Truth; and all who abide in Him, love, serve and worship Him sincerely, abide in Truth, Glory to God forever! Men wear themselves out fighting and opposing truth. It has been so across the ages. It is so today. They pass away, but truth lives on. No doubt there are many nameless graves today, where the dust of truth's opposers lies unknown to the world, but the truth they fought lives on. When they are gone and forgotten holiness lives on, while those who possess it in heart, soul and life, live on. To fight sanctification doesn't destroy it. Not in the least. One destroys himself fighting it, but sanctification is of God, therefore lives and lasts forever. Amen.

No Liquor Shortage

Is there a sugar shortage? Some say yes; some say no, and say they don't know. The Shelby Daily Star in an editorial says: Housewives are being deprived of the necessary amount of sugar, while sugar beet farmers in the west are ploughing up their crops for lack of harvest labor, sugar surpluses exist in the growing countries of the south, and the wharves are piled high for lack of boats in which to carry the product. "The house wives would like satisfactory explanation from Washington authorities as to why the whiskey manufacturers are permitted to do "business as usual" in the face of sugar shortage and a need for alcohol in the war effort. Sugar is one of the ingredients of hard liquor and the liquor manufacturers are being allowed to operate as usual in the face of a four years' supply. In asking for a planation from Washington, the Smithfield Herald says. "The people must give up sugar, but the liquor makers get theirs. Milk dealers must give up their trucks, but the liquor makers get theirs. Johnston county must give up its book truck for conveying literature to the people in outlying areas, but the liquor-makers and beer makers still get trucks to keep the people supplied with debauching intoxicants. Other industries are told to produce for war now, but liquor will get around to that later."

Work or Fight

More and more the public is insisting that able bodied men who are left on the home front should be given the alternative of working or being conscripted for military service. As the need for laborers to fill civilian jobs or take their places in defense industries become more pressing, the demand for drastic regulations will grow apace. At a time when everyone concedes that the nation has the right to draft the flower of our youth for duty in the army, navy, and air corps, most of us will agree that society is entitled to such services as those who are left behind can render in keeping vital civilian activities functioning. Therefore, steps should be taken in every community looking toward the enforcement of a work or fight rule. In an all-out war effort, there certainly is no place in the economic picture for loafers. Vagrants who refuse to work or fight should be sent to the roads, as has been announced as the policy at Morganton. —Hickory Record.

Idiotic And Silly

This gas rationing business has called forth many epithets because of its unfairness to the people living in the Southeastern section of the United States — particularly as to how it affects traveling men. Saturday morning's press carried a dispatch from Lynchburg, Va., saying that U. S. Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, had come with all his dynamite to the support of the traveling men in their battle against APO gasoline rationing. The aged but still brilliant Virginian sent the following telegram to Leon Henderson, the big boss dog of all this rationing program as OPA administrator: "I desire to protest in the name of the traveling salesmen of Virginia and various other states against what I consider the idiotic action of the agency in Washington in seeking to destroy the business of all salesmen in the Atlantic Seaboard states." "Idiotic!" What better word could the vitriolic old senator have used and still got in the public print? Some better words, that fit the situation more completely, could have been used but Senator Glass could have gotten them on the front page of our newspaper. Leon Henderson is another tool of President Roosevelt and his New Deal system and those who are complaining against the rules and regulations set down by Henderson and yet voted for the New Deal system of government should get one of those old-time self-kicking machines and apply it on themselves. Added to the telegram from Senator Glass is an editorial from the Greensboro News which rips into Harold (Donald Duck) Ickes for his silly order that oil for heating purposes be stopped the East between August 3 and September 15. Our contemporary in Greensboro goes on to say that "many-jobbed Secretary of the Interior Ickes, perhaps disappointed upon observing that the gasoline situation has been able to generate all the confusion and controversy that it wished, and then some, without him, hops right back into the middle of the petroleum muddle with issuance of a heating fuel order which, for down right silliness, appears to take the prize over all the silly ukases and edicts that have gone before. "Mr. Ickes, in his capacity of petroleum co-ordinator, has recommended and the war production board has so ordered that all deliveries of fuel oil for heating and air-conditioning equipment be stopped in the East between August 3 and September 15. The 17 states and District of Columbia, victimized and discriminated against ever since gasoline rationing was inaugurated constitute the area to which the new restriction applies. "Reason for the fuel edict, according to Mr. Ickes' own announcement, is that the period during which the ban will obtain may be utilized to build up reserve stock for winter consumption. "And now we're asking anybody and everybody how much sense that makes. The greatest storage capacity throughout the affected area must be the tanks of consumers. No expert on oil or oil transportation, the Daily News nevertheless holds to the relatively simple idea that now the very period during which a ban has been placed upon deliveries, is the time to fill up, in so far as possible, the tanks of consumers. In that way, the oil companies and dealers will clear their storage tanks and permit the actual building up of a winter reserve. Patently, users are not going to turn on their furnaces and consume this oil during hot weather. "Who ever heard of building up reserves by keeping available storage space empty?" We do not know of better words than "Idiotic" and "Silly" to apply to Leon Henderson and Harold Ickes, and get them in the public print. We know of words that might apply to these two New Deal prototypes far better but newspapers would not and could not afford to print them. That is just a same of what the

Parasites

The advisory council of the Morganton Employment service has adopted a policy of reporting all cases of vagrancy which come to the attention of its members. Most communities have vagrancy laws with penalties for habitual and persistent idlers who have no visible means of support, but these laws are seldom enforced. Not so with Morganton. There a magistrate, subscribing to the theory that every able-bodied man should either work, fight, or go to the roads, and with the law to back him up, sentenced a twenty year-old Negro to the rockpile, but very properly suspended the sentence upon the colored man's promise to accept a job picking beans at a Farm Security camp. He had persistently refused to work when it was offered him; didn't even bother to explain that his grandma was daid and that he was overdue as a mourner. Just refused and let the white folks make the most of it. Sending a man to the roads for vagrancy is a little tike sending 'em to jail for debt. Seems a little harsh for a democratic society. But it isn't. We all accept the principle that it is the duty of society to support those who can earn to support themselves, but when there is a call for workers, and it is deliberately unheeded, society's responsibility ceases, except to preserve the social order by insisting that idlers grab a tool. The Morganton magistrate's attitude could well be adopted in every community in the land. There is no excuse for idleness on anybody's part — not even those with silver spoons in their mouths. And certainly those who have no call to be fed by the sweat of another's brow when he can live by the sweat of his own. There is that other group of parasites who unfortunately can't be reached by law — those who won't work because they don't have to. We have in mind a pair of such-able-bodied fellows who have managed all their lives to get along right well, thank you. They have never worked and never intend to. And how pleasing would be the privilege to take them back in the hills somewhere and make them earn every meal before they got it. —Statesville Daily.

Ignorant Congressman

That letter written by Congressman W. O. Burgin of this district (if we must admit it) about the gas rationing certainly takes the cake if I know what a cake is and I think I do, but I never expected to live long enough to see this good district represented by that much ignorance. Answering an inquiry from Robert P. Brawley of Winston Salem, leader for the Travelers Protective Association, who wrote Congressman Burgin asking him to help in their fight to get more gas for traveling men. Burgin's reply was that gas rationing was nationwide and in that case he could do nothing about it. Fact is it is only in the Eastern Seaboard section and that alone has caused terrible controversies among the highest officials of the nation. How any man, especially a Congressman, could have overlooked such an item as this with the papers full of it is man than I can imagine. But Mr. Brawley has the letter and read it before a meeting of traveling salesmen in High Point last week. Prominent High Point Democrats who learned of the letter tried to prevent its being read, but Mr. Brawley said traveling salesmen were entitled to know of such a thing. I'll venture the statement that 98 out of every 100 children in Yadkin county above the seventh grade know about it and can explain its working conditions. "It was the most ridiculous letter I ever heard read from a congressman," said one of Forsyth county's leading Democratic political leaders, who is deeply interested in the gas rationing program. "The idea of a man being in Congress and not keeping in touch with vital matters such as this is unthinkable. Maybe he heard that howl from traveling men. He never even knew that the rationing was confined to the Southeast." —Yadkin Ripple.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
Consolidated Features.—WNU Release.

NEW YORK—It would appear that the blizzard of report forms with which war agencies snow under business isn't entirely premeditated and some body ought to do something about it, if anybody can. At any rate, the War Production board co-operates with a committee of business men who will try to cut down the paper overhead, by evolving simplified systems of reporting and accounting. They are waist deep in government blanks and battling their way out. The government seems sympathetic.

Hearing the newly organized defense forces against the paper blitz is W. J. Donald, president of the American Trade Association Executives. He is chairman of a special advisory committee which will work with the WPB, a King Canute wielding a valiant broom against the paper inundation.

Possibly this is the "managerial revolution," which young Prof. James Burnham described in his provocative book of a year or so ago. At any rate, Mr. Donald is a fair laboratory sample of the incoming men of management of the professor's discourse, a John the Baptist in the managerial wilderness for many years, urging the managers to shake a leg and do something on their own account before being swamped by the bureaucrats. He was director of the American Management association from 1921 to 1932, scolding the managers, during this period for being "too smug" and not considering what might happen to them unless the metes and bounds between management and finance and management and government were more clearly defined and regarded.

Mr. Donald, Canadian born, naturalized in 1923, naturally will have to use up a lot more paper in his education and explorative campaign among the individual members of 1,200 trade associations, whom he will consult. He wants comments and suggestions. In Sarina, Ont., where he was born in 1890, he attended the Sarina Collegiate institute, and later was graduated from McMaster university at Hamilton, Ont. He came here in 1911 as manager of the installation staff of the American City bureau, making his U. S. A. career in business economics.

NEWS values shrink like depreciated currency in time of over-issue. Col. Robert L. Scott Jr. caught eight or ten lines in the paper when he flew over Mt. Everest, clearing the highest mountain in the world by a full mile. For the young colonel, this was a detail of a work-a-day hop from India to China.

War reputations build like a coral reef. Off and on for the last few weeks there has been a dribble of news about the long, lanky, Colonel Scott of Macon, Ga., working himself as a "one-man air force" in Burma and China. On June 28 he succeeded Col. Caleb V. Haynes as chief of the India-China air command. That means that he and the 21st pursuit squadron, which he commands, are the heirs of the "Flying Tigers" or the American Volunteer group which bombed its way to glory along the Burma road.

Early in this encounter, Colonel Scott demonstrated what we have fondly supposed to be our national aptitude for quick and resourceful action. A troop of Japanese was moving steadily up the Chindwin river in West Burma. The colonel had only a small pursuit plane. He swung a 550-pound bomb in it, and with it scored a bulls-eye on the advancing troop. These and similar exploits won him a silver star.

He is a former West Pointer, 34 years old, indentured in rough and tumble flying, when, with Colonel Haynes, he flew the mails, in 1934. He later commanded the 78th pursuit squadron in Panama.

Colonel Scott celebrated his 34th birthday by piloting a Flying Fortress across the South Atlantic to India and making a quick jump to North Assam in a Tomahawk Fighter.

It seems to this onlooker that the new OWI would do well to piece together the stories of self-starters like the colonel and deal them as hot news. The necessity of planning and organization being what it is, the fact remains that these lads are the real spark plugs of our fighting forces and the public would like to receive more news of them.

It's mighty close to midnight—the deadline hour—so these sailors and marines stationed at Navy pier in Chicago, having bid farewell to their various girl friends, get back to their quarters "on the double." Star Dust

By VIRGINIA VALE
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

YOU'RE going to see something in the new Fibber McGee picture, "Here We Go Again," that you never saw before—and that's Charlie McCarthy moving around without benefit of any manipulation by Edgar Bergen. It's perfectly simple—RKO just engaged a mid-get, Jerry Maren, for the part. He's practiced those stiff, mechanical movements of the dummy's until he's got them down pat. In fact, he does them so well that people who stroll onto the set without knowing what's happened have thought they were imagining things when Charlie, in the person of Jerry, went into action.

How'd you like to have a blind date with Ginger Rogers? Nine boys in uniform did recently. Planning to see two new feature pictures at home, she sent her station wagon to the USO to ask if some of the men would like to spend a quiet evening and see some pictures free. They dined with her, (to their surprise; they hadn't known who their hostess was to be,) and then, when they said they'd like to see one of her pictures, she showed them something few people have seen. It's film of every dance she's done since "Flying Down to Rio"—shows her with old-fashioned makeup, clothes, etc., and that's something most stars avoid like poison.

Tony Merrill had a perfect alibi when he showed up two hours late for scenes with Rosalind Russell in "My Sister Eileen" the other day. He had been down town being sworn into the army. If Janet Blair's late for work in the same picture she'll have a good reason, too. She sang at the San Diego marine base just before the picture started, and the leathernecks sent her a souvenir—a baby wildcat.

After each "Hobby Lobby" broadcast thousands of dollars worth of war bonds and stamps are sold in a "Victory Auction." Dave Elman auctions the handicraft or property of hobbyists, selling to the person who buys the most bonds. Lieutenant Bulkeley's tie pin and shoulder insignia brought $16,000!

James Cagney and his neighbor at Martha's Vineyard, Mass., have turned over their estates to the army for maneuvers—6,500 acres altogether, of which Cagney owns 500. He has also offered his summer home as quarters for staff officers.

Hope you've been listening to those Stage Door Canteen broadcasts. Rafts of amusing stories come from the canteen. Alfred Lunt was making sandwiches when a young actor approached him. "What are you doing?" asked Lunt. "Nothing," said the youth. "I'd sure like to go into a play with you this fall. I could go into rehearsals right away; I'm not doing a thing now." "Well, then," roared Lunt, "go empty this garbage pail!"

Five-year-old Maxine O'Brien will play the title role in "Journey for Margaret," starring Robert Young and Laraine Day, so that "search" is settled! Incidentally, Laraine is Blenheim's loveliest bride—her husband, Ray Hendricks, was recalled to his flying instructor's post six hours after his first leave began.

Ann Summers is leading lady in "The Avenging Rider," Tim Holt's next. She's the girl who was told that she was to appear in an earlier Holt western, devoted six solid weeks to learning to ride a horse—and then when she reported for work, found out that she didn't have to. But in this picture she'll ride, at last.

ODDS AND ENDS—Cary Grant has bought a new organ for the church in San Bernardino, Calif., whose minister married him to Barbara Hutton... Eddie Cantor and his wife entertain 12 to 15 service men with luncheon and a swim nearly every day... Got any old band instruments? Joe E. Brown, between scenes of "The Daring Young Man," is still collecting them—wants to equip a navy band before its departure for an undisclosed spot; has 23 so far... "Come On, Come All," a film based on the housing shortage in Washington, D. C., will probably be Jean Arthur's next at Columbia.

Sentinels of Health
Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.
Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.
The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed by the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger E. Whitman
 Roger E. Whitman—WNU Features.

DAMPNESS IN HOUSES OFTEN DUE TO METHOD OF PLASTERING

COMPLAINTS of cold and damp houses are likely to be due to the application of inside plaster directly to outside masonry walls; brick, tile, concrete blocks and stone. Properly plaster should be on lath to provide an insulating air space. Without it the plaster becomes almost as cold as the masonry itself, and the house air in contact with it becomes chilled. Further, moisture in the house air condenses against it, often to such an extent that the wallpaper comes off. This defect in construction can be noticed by placing the hand on the inner surface of an outside wall to compare its temperature with that of a wall between two rooms. The appearance of wet spots on a plaster wall covering an inside chimney is from a similar condition; the chimney brickwork is cold, and in chilling the plaster that is applied directly to it, will result in condensation from damp house air. Such situations can be remedied only by protecting the inside plaster against the low temperature of the masonry. One method would be to replace the inside plaster with plaster on lath on furring strips; another, to sheathe the inner surface of the outside walls with insulating board. With this protection a house would be much more comfortable in cold weather because the house air would not be affected by the low temperature of the walls.

Wall Smoked Black

Question: We have a new house heated with a forced air furnace. In about four weeks after starting the fire, the living-room wall around the register was smoked black. The furnace engineer, without examining the furnace, said the soot was not from smoke, but from dust, rug lint, etc. We doubt this, as everything is new and clean. What do you think?

Answer: Sooting around registers is usually from open joints around the firebox; probably through breaks in the cemented joints. These should be recemented at a time when the fire is out. In the meantime, lift out the register and cover the end of the pipe with fabric mosquito netting, preferably dark in color, which will be held in place when the register is returned to position.

Sagging Floors

Question: The floors in my very old house are sagging because of the weight of the massive chimney in the center. As the walls have just been plastered, I do not wish to have the floors raised. I am thinking of taking up the hardwood flooring and putting a filler underneath. What could I use for this?

Answer: The sagging of the floors may indicate serious trouble; the settling of foundations, the rotting or destruction of floor beams and other woodwork, or some similar trouble. It would be a waste of time and money to do any kind of repair work without knowing the exact condition of the house. I strongly recommend that you have a thorough examination made by a competent builder.

Cellar Floor Paint

Question: Part of the cellar of my house is used as a kitchen and general utility room. The cement floor has been painted a number of times with cement paint, but with unsatisfactory results; it peels off and the cement shows through. How can I finish that floor to stand reasonable wear?

Answer: You must use special paint for the job; a kind of paint that is proof against the lime in the cement. One variety that gives excellent results is based on rubber. Any large paint dealer should be able to supply it. Cement paint is not intended for a floor, although it is also proof against lime. It is excellent for walls that do not receive wear.

Fire-Stained Walls

Question: We recently had a fire in our home, and the walls are covered with black smoke stains. What should be done before we re-paper?

Answer: Take off the old paper, or if the walls are not papered, wash with a solution of washing soda in water, a pound to the gallon. Rinse with clear water and allow to dry thoroughly.

Bathroom Ventilation

Question: Must a bathroom be ventilated by running a pipe through the roof?

Answer: Ventilation and other details of a plumbing installation are covered in the plumbing code of the neighborhood. If this code is not followed, you may get into trouble with the authorities.

Paint for Windows

Question: Large store windows facing south and west have been partly painted black at the top. The paint is peeling and I want to re-paint them. What kind of paint should be used and what color do you suggest?

Answer: Any kind of house paint can be used for painting glass, provided the glass is first washed carefully to remove all traces of grease and dirt. All large paint stores now sell varieties of black paint intended for use on window glass for black-outs.

- Lady fingers or cake strips

Lynn Says:

Household Tips: Are you wondering how those pots and pans are going to last for the duration? Since the production for these has been sharply curtailed, you will want hints on keeping them in "cooking" condition: Aluminum: Leaving food in aluminum longer than necessary, soaking the utensil before washing and alkalies such as soda spell short wear for this metal. If you want to clean aluminum without endangering its wearing period, use very fine scouring powder or steel wool for discolorations. Or, cooking acid foods like tomatoes, rhubarb and apples will do the trick. Iron: Wash in hot, sudsy water. If this doesn't clean it, use hot soda and water. If rusted, use scouring powder or steel wool. Always dry completely and wrap in paper for storage. Tin: This metal does not keep shiny indefinitely. Remove burnt foods by boiling in soda and water for five minutes, never longer. Rinse and dry thoroughly.

Prepare butterscotch pudding as directed on package. Cool. Fold in whipped cream. Line bottom and sides of mold or loaf pan with waxed paper. Arrange layer of lady fingers on bottom and sides of mold. Turn 1/2 of pudding into mold; cover with layer of lady fingers. Turn remaining pudding into mold and place another layer of lady fingers on top. Chill 12 to 24 hours in refrigerator. Unmold.

Bermuda Appetizers.

Chop Bermuda onion finely, marinate and drain. Spread on crisp crackers and cover with slice of Liederkranz cheese. Thin slices of rye, pumpernickel or whole wheat bread which have been buttered may be used instead.

You can do all sorts of things with cheese as a last course and serve it in place of fruit.

Camembert has an affinity for fruit. Try it with crackers served with a bowl full of summer's succulent fruits or, try American-made equivalents of Roquefort and Blue cheese spread on hot buttered Boston brown bread tossed with after dinner coffee in place of dessert. Serve a cheese tray for refreshments and spare the sugar ration.

This spicy apple sauce cake requires only 1/2 cup of sugar.

Apple Sauce Cake.

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 2 cups cake flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon cloves
- 1/4 teaspoon soda
- 1 cup apple sauce
- 1/2 cup raisins

Cream shortening; add sugar slowly, beating in well. Add well-beaten eggs and beat until well blended; add molasses. Sift together dry ingredients and add alternately with apple sauce to first mixture. Add raisins. Bake in greased square baking pan in moderate oven at 350 degrees about 1 hour. Frost with:

Raisin Nut Frosting.

- 1 egg white
- 1/4 cup light corn syrup
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 cup chopped seeded raisins
- 1/2 cup chopped pecan meats

Beat egg white until stiff. Add syrup slowly, beating constantly. Add vanilla and half of raisins and nuts. Spread between layers and on top of cake. Sprinkle with remaining raisins and nuts.

Lemon Smothered Chops.

(Serves 6 to 8)

- 2 pounds pork or lamb chops, cut thick
- Put in a large covered skillet or chicken fryer. Cover top of meat closely with:
- 2 unpeeled lemons, sliced
- 1 large sweet onion, cut in rings
- 1 green pepper, cut in rings
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Four over all:
- 2 cups tomato juice

Dot with flakes of fat cut from meat or butter. Cover and cook on top of stove 1 1/2 hours or until done. Lift onto a hot platter, being careful to keep lemon, onion and pepper slices in place. The meat cooked this way acquires a chicken texture and color, while the lemon, onion, pepper and tomato make a delicious sauce accompaniment.

JACOB'S VISION OF GOD

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 28:10-22.
 GOLDEN TEXT—I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whithersoever thou goest.—Genesis 28:15.

Deception, trickery, falsehood, jealousy were all present in the family of Isaac at the time of our lesson. A hopeless situation, one would say; and so it was, apart from one thing—the grace of God. We speak that phrase so easily, but in reality it has an infinite depth of meaning. Jacob shared the same deception planned by his mother, and thereby he received the blessing of Esau. Not willing to wait God's time for the carrying out of His purpose, they sinned to gain an advantage. Then to escape the wrath of Esau, he had to flee. The journey was ostensibly to find a wife, but in fact a fight from an enraged brother. Could such a journey bring a man to a place of blessing? It did, as there was—

I. A Revelation of God's Grace (vv. 10-15).

The fugitive was overtaken by darkness on the second night of his journey, and made his bed in the open. Then came the magnificent vision of the ladder of heaven. Heaven and earth are not separated. There is a way to reach the throne of God, and there is a way for God to reach and bless His people. The vision of the ladder thus reassured Jacob. We need only remember the God-Man Christ Jesus, who came from glory and has returned there to now appear as our Advocate, to be assured of this fact. God renewed to Jacob the covenant with Abraham and with Isaac. He does not forget. Men make treaties only to break them. God says, "I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of" (v. 15).

In His matchless grace God relieved Jacob's fear by assuring him of His protection; his loneliness by His divine presence; and his uncertainty regarding the future by the promise of blessing.

II. A Realization of God's Greatness (vv. 16-19).

Full of holy fear and of awe, Jacob realized the presence of the infinite God. It is a proper and a wholesome reaction when a man, realizing himself to be in God's presence, is overcome by the awe-inspiring experience. Possibly the reason for our lack of reverence for holy things, for the Lord's day—yes, for God Himself, is because He has become a little God, weak and unimposing in our thinking. Theologians, preachers, and teachers have dared to speak swelling words of disrespect concerning His miraculous power, have denied the deity of His Son, have questioned the authority of His Word. Having sown the wind of unbelief, they have reaped from the people the whirlwind of irreverence, a belittling of God, and a rejection of His authority (Hos. 8:7).

Jacob was reminded of God's immediate presence—"the Lord is in this place." The place of his vision of heavenly things had special meaning to Jacob.

But the underlying truth is that God is everywhere. He is not only in the church, or in the place of vision or of soul-struggle; He is also in the place of trial, of suffering, of sorrow, of loneliness—yes, even of sin. The thing that Jacob "found out that night was not that God visits man, but that God is with man wherever he is. We expect to meet Him in the sanctuary; but He is near us in the market place. . . . Not alone in the sanctuary, but where the multitude gather in defiance of His law, He is there" (G. Campbell Morgan).

This rich experience led Jacob to—

III. A Recognition of God's Goodness (vv. 20-22).

The God who would supply his every need, who would watch over him and keep him, was recognized by Jacob as being worthy of his devotion, and he made a vow that He should be his God (v. 21). The grace and goodness of God are intended to bring men to faith in Him and devotion to His service. Yet men can go on year after year, the beneficiaries of all His bounty, and never so much as say "Thank you," let alone recognize Him as Lord.

Jacob made a very practical and workable decision to demonstrate the reality of his vow. He promised that one tenth of all God gave him should be given back for a sacred use.

We agree with Dr. W. H. Griffith Thomas that "if only some of those who are inclined to criticize Jacob would do what he promised and give a tenth of their income to God, a different state of affairs would obtain in connection with God's work at home and abroad."

Trickery and deception were changed to truthfulness and devotion when Jacob met God face to face. The same blessed transformation awaits those who meet our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ in faith. Have you met Him?

 As the result of a bill introduced by W. L. Moore, and passed by the 1941 Legislature, the people of Davie county are denied the privilege of voting for county commissioners this year.

The politician who will steal a soldier boy's vote who is giving his life in defense of his country, is just as mean as Hiller, or maybe a little meaner.

Politics is warming up in old Davie. Those who are running for office, are busy shaking hands and getting ready to begin kissing babies, milking cows and splitting kindling for the lady voters.

It is reported that there is a meat shortage throughout this country. If such is the case, Henry Wallace, the man who drowned the pigs under the New Deal, is the gentleman who should have the credit for same.

We notice that politicians are to be given all the gas they need from now until the November election. We wonder if this applies to Republican politicians? We have known some politicians who could furnish their own gas.

One fellow was mean enough to say, after reading the list of jurors drawn for the August term of Davie Superior court, that there must not be any Republicans left in Davie county. Just wait until after the November election, brother, and you will have another thought coming.

Some of the rural folks are wondering if the county offices will be kept open on Saturdays after the November election. Many people come to town on Saturday to transact business at the court house. For the past several months all the county offices, with the exception of the sheriff's office, close at noon on Saturdays. During the remainder of the week some of the offices open at 9 a. m., and close at 5 p. m. The clerk's office opens at 9 a. m., and closes at 4 p. m., Eastern war time. Some of the rural citizens say they are not so well pleased with these hours. Most farmers put in from 10 to 15 hours at hard labor each day. In the good old days before the New Deal, the county offices opened at 7 or 8 a. m., and remained open until 6 p. m., and sometimes even later. Many changes have taken place since the days of York, Sheek and Bailey.

Dr. Martin Leaves For Camp

Dr. Lester P. Martin, prominent Mocksville physician, leaves today for Atlanta, Ga., where he will be inducted into the U. S. Medical Corps Friday with the rank of Captain. Mrs. Martin will accompany her husband to Atlanta. Dr. Martin has many friends throughout Mocksville and Davie county who are indeed sorry to see him leave. For more than 25 years, Dr. W. C. Martin father of Dr. Lester Martin, was our family physician, and for the past 15 years or more Dr. Lester Martin has visited us when we were ill. We shall miss him sorely almost as much as a member of the family. Wherever his lot may be cast, we wish him well, and hope that he can soon return home. Goodspeed.

KEEP 'EM FIRING, WITH JUNK!

Thousands Attend Picnic

Despite the shortage of gas, tires and sugar, together with overcast skies, the 64th annual Masonic picnic, held at Clement Grove Thursday, was a decided success. The crowd during the day was much smaller than usual, and there were fewer automobiles here than in many years, but the attendance at night was almost equal to that of last year.

The program got under way at 11 o'clock, with Col. Jacob Stewart acting as master of ceremonies. Rev. J. W. Vestal of Farmington conducted the devotionals. Rev. H. C. Sprinkle, in a few well chosen words, introduced Governor J. M. Broughton, who delivered the annual address. His speech was well received by an appreciative audience, which almost filled the large arbor. A class from the Oxford Masonic Orphanage, was present and presented a program of readings, songs, etc. Music was furnished by the Mocksville High School band. Among the speakers on the program during the day were Dr. J. S. Hiatt, Superintendent Proctor, of the Masonic Orphanage, Rev. W. C. Cooper and others.

The big event of the day was the old fashioned country dinner. Despite the smaller attendance, the number of dinner tickets sold this year equalled that of last year. It is needless to say that all who partook of this dinner were loud in their praises of the good ladies of Davie county who prepared the fine foods which covered the long tables. Even Chief Walter Anderson, of Winston-Salem, was wearing a broad grin following the dinner.

The large crowd present during the day and evening were well behaved. We didn't see an intoxicated person on the grounds. Two men were present who haven't missed attending a picnic since the first one was held 64 years ago, H. T. Smithdeal, 89, of Advance, and J. N. Ijames, 80, of Mocksville.

While it is not known what the total receipts will be this year, a nice sum will be turned over to the Masonic Orphanage. A report of the receipts and expenditures will be printed in The Record as soon as available.

Many former Davie citizens were present, some coming from as far away as Oklahoma, Iowa, Virginia, South Carolina, and several other states.

Winston-Salem Fair

The annual Winston-Salem and Forsyth County Fair will be held in Winston-Salem on October 6-7-8-9 and 10th, thereby keeping unbroken the record of forty three years this event has been held. The fair this year will be sponsored by the American Legion for the benefit of the Army and Navy Relief Fund and other war relief purposes. It is stated that all features that have made this fair week so attractive in the past will be continued this year with many special events arranged in joint co-operation of the American Legion and fair officials. Announcement of these features will be made later, but it is assured there will be no curtailment in the daily programs.

Homecoming Sunday

There will be a home-coming at Chestnut Grove Methodist Church, Mocksville Circuit, next Sunday. The public is cordially invited, and especially singers. There was an unusually large crowd at Bethel last Sunday for their home-coming and all present enjoyed good food, good singing and a splendid message delivered by Rev. G. W. Fink.

John W. Bronson

John Wesley Bronson, 89, died at the county home Saturday. Surviving are three sons, J. K. Bronson, Thomsenville; M. Bronson, Mocksville, R. 2, and Kelly Bronson, of Virginia; two sisters, Mrs. J. F. Lyon and Mrs. Mat Fulton of Winston-Salem.

Funeral services were held at the home of a son, M. Bronson, on R. 2, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. W. C. Cooper in charge, and the body laid to rest in Elbarville Methodist Church cemetery.

Enjoyable Weiner Roast

Misses Effie Graves and Lois Price, of Winston-Salem, were entertained at a weiner roast Saturday night by Misses Grace and Janice Ratledge, of Mocksville, R. 2. Those present were: Misses Effie Graves, Lois Price and Ruth Whitaker, of Winston-Salem, Janice and Grac. Ratledge, Harvey Reeves, Tommy Latham, Dan Do- by, Robert Boger, Dewey Beck, Robert Ijames, Clarence and Harvey Peoples, Paul Whitaker and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ratledge. Many games were played and enjoyed by all. The guests lingered late around the outdoor fire, enjoying group singing.

Expresses Sympathy

Robert L. Booe, of this city, received the following letter from Miss Marsha Hunt, well known Hollywood movie star, and grand-daughter of Mrs. R. L. Booe, who died here recently:

Hollywood, Calif., Aug. 9, 1942.
 Dearest Grandfather Booe:
 The news of grandmother's passing was a blow to all of us who have known and loved her. Yours will be the greatest loneliness, because you have been her constant companion for nearly ten years. But I know you are glad to have had her sweetness, her cheerfulness with you during that time. Her life was a long and full one, with more than its share of sorrow, and you must be happy in the knowledge that you filled her last years with companionship and happiness. May you find comfort now in your loss.
 With great affection,
 MARSHA HUNT.

Harold Harris Promoted

Harold E. Harris, son of Tobie H. Harris, of Route 4, Mocksville, was recently advanced to Aviation Ordnanceman third class at the Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Fla., according to an announcement from the public relations office of that station. This promotion carries with it a petty officer rating.

Harris enlisted in the Navy at the Salisbury recruiting office in September, 1940, and was sent to the Naval Training Station in Norfolk for preliminary training. He was transferred to Pensacola in February, 1941, and was assigned to duty with a ground crew of one of the flying squadrons stationed at the "Annapolis of the Air."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Salt fish are quickest and best freshened by soaking in sour milk.

Food bought in season will help to keep that part of the budget within reason.

Onion juice should be added after a mixture is cooked rather than cooked with the mixture if the best flavor is desired.

That fish may be scaled much easier by first dipping them into boiling water for a minute.

To keep bread in the best condition, store it when cool in a clean, well-aired, covered, ventilated container and keep in a cool, dry place.

Each time bed sheets are changed the mattress should be turned end-for-end or upside down.

Sweet corn, green string beans, green peas, pumpkins, squash, celery and greens are best vegetables for home drying. Apples and berries are adapted to drying in the home among fruits.

ALL-BRAN FUDGE SQUARES—BEST YOU EVER TASTED!

Every mother in the land will want to bake these scrumptious cookies. Children will demolish a plate of them in a wink. Grown-ups rave about their "different" taste and new crunchy texture. They're made, of course, with the famous cereal, Kellogg's All-Bran.

CELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN FUDGE SQUARES

3 squares un-sweetened chocolate	1 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter	1/2 cup All-Bran
2 eggs	1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Melt chocolate over hot water and add butter. Beat eggs well, add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Add melted chocolate and butter. Stir in flour, All-Bran, chopped nuts and vanilla. Pour into greased pan, making a layer about one-third inch thick. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: sixteen 2-inch squares (8 x 8 inch pan).

GHOST PLANE
By ARTHUR STRINGER
W.N.U. SERVICE

THE STORY SO FAR: In order to save Norland Airways from bankruptcy Alan Slade agrees to fly a so-called scientist named Frayne and his assistant, Karnell, to the Anawotto river in search of the trumpeter swan. With the proceeds Slade's partner, Cruger, has bought a plane, a Lockheed, which is stolen while Slade is away. Suspecting that the disappearance of the plane has something to do with Frayne, Slade returns to where he left the swan hunter, only to find him apparently doing nothing but hunt swans. There is no trace of the plane. That leaves Slade with only one clue, the "devil bird," or "ghost" plane which the eskimo, Umanak, first heard and which appears to come from Echo Harbor. On his way back to report to Cruger Slade stops to see his old prospector friends, Zeke and Minty, and learns that the gas cache he keeps near their cabin has been robbed. Now he and Cruger are talking and Slade is outlining his plans.

CHAPTER XI

Slade's first impulse was to proclaim that he'd be looking for a ghost plane.

"All right," Cruger said out of a prolonged silence. "You win. Give that Anawotto country the once-over. We're going bust anyway, the way things are."

Slade's lips thinned with resolution.

"I'm going to find that Lockheed," he affirmed.

Cruger remained unimpressed.

"When do you start?" he inquired.

Slade disregarded the note of mockery.

"As soon as I have a look around this burg," was his slightly abstracted reply. "And then a look around McMurray."

"For what?"

"To find a friend of mine," was Slade's unexpected reply, "who got hurt in a fight—Slim Turnstead."

"I didn't think you played around with camp bums," said Cruger.

"What's your fighting friend got to do with this trip into the Anawotto?"

"I don't know yet," was Slade's quiet-voiced reply. "But it's going to help a little to know just where he's hanging out."

The hungry look was still in her eyes. But the world had come back to her.

sound that grew stronger as he listened. Peering north, where a belated sun still hung red above the horizon, he caught sight of a plane. It was flying low, growing bigger as he watched. It showed dark, at first, against the evening light. But as it came closer and veered a point or two into the wind it became a framework of ghostly white, healing down in the lake and slowly losing headway on the ruffled water.

Minty, blinking at the pallid wings, realized the ship was both bigger than Lindy Slade's Snow-Ball Baby and different in outline. It floated higher on the water, and gave the impression of being bottled, as it drifted slowly in toward the shoreline where the spruce groves met the water.

Then Minty rubbed his eyes and blinked harder than ever. For, before he quite knew how or when, the plane had disappeared from sight.

Minty who didn't believe in miracles, decided to look into what had all the aspects of a miraculous disappearance. He smothered his fire and rolled up his worn old four-pointer. Then he took up his rifle and quietly rounded the southerly arm of the lake, making it a point to keep as well under cover as possible.

No sign of life, as he stopped from time to time, stood revealed to him. He seemed so alone in a world of twilight emptiness that he felt to wondering, as he pressed on, if his old eyes had been playing tricks on him.

Then he stopped short, arrested by the sound of voices.

"Why'd you have a fire on the other side of the lake?" one of the voices inquired.

"I had no fire," a more guttural voice responded.

"But I saw it as I came down," maintained the other. "And if you advertise this layout you'll last about as long here as a snowball in hell."

"I had no fire," was the stubbornly repeated protest.

Minty's first impulse was to creep a little closer. But on second thought he dropped behind the ridge and circled back through the scattered spruce boles. He noticed, as he traversed the valley that led to the neighboring ridge, how the timber had been cut away to leave a rough trail that led lakeward. He also noticed, as he skirted this second ridge, that its black-rocked surface was scored and seamed with shallow trenches, as though a prospector had been stripping and searching for color there.

Minty stood thoughtful a moment and then made his way higher up the sloping hogback that terminated in an abrupt cliff end at the water's edge. He crouched low as he went, for the cover thinned out as he ascended. But he could no longer hear voices. That troubled him a little as he moved forward to the crest of the divide. From there he could see how the lake bluff merged into a darker tangle of timber. And that timber, he saw, was a man-made canopy of spruce boles. It was an arbor-cave into which the wings of a plane could slip and lie concealed. And under the casually woven cover that arched the narrow harbor between the rock-shoeders he could make out the pallid outlines of his vanished airplane.

A single eddied through him as he discerned a roughly made landing platform close under the plane wings, a landing platform on which he saw a double row of ore bags. They stood there filled and tied, as though waiting for transport.

Minty's anxiety for a better view of those ore bags prompted him to move to the upper peak of the ridge. He hesitated about advancing down the open slope. And as he hesitated a sudden blast of sound broke the quietness.

He knew it was a gunshot, even before he felt the force of the bullet. The impact of that bullet, tearing through the blanket folds within three inches of his ear, twisted his startled body halfway around and sent him tumbling along the rock slope. He lost possession of his rifle as he fell. He kept on rolling and bounding down the long slope until his body collided with the underbrush that fringed the valley bottom. From the ridge top he heard a triumphant voice call out: "I got him!" But his one impulse, at the moment, was to put distance between him and that unknown sniper. He crawled into the underbrush, grateful for the thinning light that was paling to semi-darkness. He wormed forward, seeking always any deeper cover that offered. He went on until he came to a stony cross gully quartering off to the left. Once in this he scrambled to his feet and ran forward, stooping low as he went. When he spotted a spruce grove on his right he dove into it, emerging on a slope of glacial hardheads along which he dodged from shadow to shadow.

He neither stopped nor rested until he had mounted a second ridge and lost himself in a second scattering of stunted timber. There, panting and wheezing, he sank down behind a ridge of granite.

But there was still peril, he felt, in that neighborhood. He pushed on through a sludgy bed of tules, crossed another timbered ridge, and came to more open country. There he studied the stars, made sure of his course, and began fighting his circuitous way back toward the camp on the Kasakana. When tired out he slept. When the sun awakened him, he ate and went on. The second night he slept for an hour or two, and then pushed doggedly on.

The sub-arctic light of morning was returning to the land when Minty reached the shack. Zeke, he found, was still asleep in his wall bunk. He awakened him with a shout tinged with bitterness.

"Your days of peace is over, you pillow-tovin' old profligate. There's goin' to be war in these regions."

Lynn was restless and worried. For the third time in half an hour she crossed to the door and scanned the pearl-misted skyline that stretched away to the south. She told herself that she was merely watching for a familiar blue plane with weathered wings, a plane with the Flying Padre at the controls. But her thoughts, as she did so, were on another plane, an equally weathered plane known as the Snow-Ball Baby.

Her week of watching over old Umanak had persuaded her that she was not equipped for solitude.

She turned back to her patient when she saw Umanak lift his white-swathed head in an attitude of listening.

"Devil-bird come," he muttered.

A moment later Lynn herself heard the familiar bee-hum of a distant motor.

"That's the Padre," she said as she ran to the door. A moment later she was hurrying down the slope to the waterfront.

But the long-legged figure that emerged from the cabin was not that of the Flying Padre. She brushed back her wind-blown hair to see Alan striding toward her.

He must have caught the surge of joy that swept up to her eyes, for he stopped abruptly and stood studying her upturned face. He did not speak. But his own eyes darkened as he detected the look of hunger in the questioning hazel eyes resting on his face. He groped for her hand, with his heart pounding. Then he took her in his arms.

She reared herself and forced her quickly breathing body free of the encircling arms. The hungry look was still in her eyes. But time and the world had come back to her.

"What is it?" he asked, conscious of the firmness with which she was holding him away from her.

"I've a patient there," she reminded him, pointing to the knoll-top surgery.

Slade strode after her as she moved up the slope. He remembered about old Umanak.

"How is the old boy?"

"That's what I'm waiting to find out," Lynn explained. "Everything looks all right, but of course, I can't tell. Father'll be here, any time now, to take off the bandages."

"Will he be able to see?" Slade asked. "I mean Umanak."

"If hoping helps any," answered Lynn. "That old hunter will be following a dog team again before long."

Slade arrested her in the doorway.

"I may be out of a job earlier than I expected," he said.

Smart White Accents Bring Costumes Up to the Minute

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

ALL signs point to a continuance through fall and winter of the high fashion rank accorded during the past months to pretty, flattering and "feminizing" white accents on dark costumes. The vogue for dark dresses and suits highlighted with lovely, lacy neckwear and various other frilly, immaculately white touches is particularly apropos at the immediate moment in that it so beautifully solves that tantalizing problem of smart and timely dressing through the "betwixt and between" season which leads from summer into fall.

For the touch that is warranted to lend a new lease of life to summer-on-the-wane clothes that you are loath to give up as long as warmish days persist, regardless of what the calendar has to say about it, there is nothing that surpasses the refreshing prettiness of dashes and splashes of billowy, frilly white. That is why so many fashion-wise women have taken to collecting a "neckwear wardrobe," just as the college girl once collected sweaters.

What with suits registering as fashion "firsts" on the fall style program, one of the most-to-be-desired items you can put in your collection of lacy fineries is a dainty dickey of exquisitely embroidered organdy like that pictured above to the right in the illustration. Note, particularly, the cunning self fabric bow tie fastening, a new note in last-worried chic. A dickey of this patrician type is a choice possession that will prove to be "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." Incidentally, we might add that reports from neckwear departments say there are more calls for dickeys to wear with suits this season than ever before. One of the clever diversions milliners are indulging in is the trimming of hats with dramatic lingerie touches, ruches and frills especially. You can see by the picture how effective the result is.

item that should be included in every neckwear collection. It will prove a standby when an extra touch of allure is needed. You will be wearing it with your suit, and it will prove definitely "right" with your one-piece frocks and your blouses.

As inspiring and as spirit lifting as a good repartee is the bright and piquant set of scalloped organdy collar and cuffs illustrated below to the left in the group. A handsome set like this is a miracle worker when it comes to imparting a dressy afternoon look to a simple daytime frock.

To set off a pretty face and to add glory to a dark dress, the adorable collar at the lower right in the above illustration possesses a fetching way all its own. Spanking white and crisp and immaculate, it will add a lilt to your walk and a gayness to your spirit. The handsome Venise lace that edges it helps to make the vote unanimous that it is one of the prettiest collars brought out this season.

Speaking of lacy accents, here's news for fall that really is news. It's in regard to the new velveteen suits now being shown in smart autumn fashion previews. The all lace blouse of Alencon or Chantilly to wear with it is cast for an important role. Froths of lace in pretty confusion cascade down the front of some of the blouses. They will add grace and daintiness to fall and winter suits for cocktail and on-into-the-evening affairs. Sports blouses will be good, also, and neat, trim and spic-and-span looking. Colorful wool lace blouses are also scheduled for fashion prestige.

Fall Coat

There is a movement among women, which is gaining momentum with each passing day, toward buying apparel of enduring quality and the genteel smartness which reflects discriminating selection. The simple good taste characteristic of the better fall coats is exemplified in the model pictured above. The Forstmann woolen of which it is tailored has quality in look and in velvety texture. For the rest, the appeal of this coat centers in the gentle modulation of its superb lines and in the color, for color is scheduled to play a most important role in coats and suits this fall.

Show Wash Cottons For School, Dates

The vogue for tubable cottons goes on at a rapid pace. Back-to-school wardrobes, especially, include cottons, many which look like wool being made up into suits and even coats.

Jacket suit-dresses of richly colorful plaid gingham are high style for lawn wear, and black linen or shantung costumes are holding good and will continue to do so until really fall days set in.

Young folks who eagerly don "after duty" dresses, when uniforms are laid aside after hours of war work, take keen delight in the crisp organdies, dotted swisses and smart piques that make up so pleasingly into dance frocks.

The honors for loveliness go especially to the new crinkled seersuckers that are beautifully flower-printed and are so sheer and tissue-like they are exquisitely dainty and feminine. These are for the most part made with wide swirling skirts, or are ruffled in triple tiers for the skirt.

Velvet Trim

Very new and attractive are the new black wool coats that are colored and cuffed with velvet. Some of them are tied with a sash of velvet to one side. Other new models have velvet yokes or plastrons.

Felt Flowers

The newest felt hats are sporting cunning felt flower trims. The flowers are cutouts in multi-colors. These are attached to the off-the-face brim so that the petals are left free and away from the back ground.

Official U. S. Treasury War Bond Quotas for August

Washington, D. C., August 5.—While maintaining a tentative annual level of twelve billion dollars as its goal, the Treasury Department today fixed the August quota for the sale of War Bonds at $815,000,000 as shown by the accompanying map by states.

In lowering the quota from a billion dollars in July to $815,000,000 in August, the Treasury has given recognition to certain factors which may be expected to result in variations in sales over the 12-month period, such as the seasonal character of farm income.

These factors have been taken into account in determining each state's share for the national quota for August and will be given consideration in fixing quotas for subsequent months.

In addition to the state quotas as set out in the map there is a federal payroll allotment quota of $9,750,000 and territorial quotas as follows: Alaska, $760,000; Canal Zone, $213,000; Hawaii, $4,800,000; Puerto Rico, $440,000 and the Virgin Islands, $17,000.

A scout car is a low-slung motor car armored with heavy steel plate, used to transport troops from one point to another. It is of low silhouette and gives protection against machine gun and other ground fire. A scout car costs $5,000.

You and your neighbors joining together can buy one of these vehicles for the Ordnance Department of our army with your purchase of War Bonds. We need hundreds of them and need them quickly. Put at least ten percent of your wages or income into War Bonds every pay day and help your fellow Americans top the War Bond quota in your county.

It's not a pleasant picture to contemplate, but War calls for "blood and sweat and tears." And the Army Medical Corps, with its efficient nurses and its volunteer Red Cross "Angels of Mercy," needs thousands of surgical beds for field and base hospitals on every front.

These beds cost approximately $22 each. They are the latest thing in modern hospital beds, with elevating springs. In some instances surgical cots are used in temporary field hospitals and there is a folding bed which may be used in ambulances. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps can buy many of these beds for the Army. You'll sleep better if you know our boys have every hospital comfort. Buy War Bonds every pay day. Invest ten percent of your income.

Hitler found out that his high powered mechanized and motorized army bogged down in the snow and mud of the Russian Winter. Although our Army is largely mechanized the cavalry horse is still a highly essential factor in this mounted division and in the Field Artillery. The Army also maintains remount farms where many cavalry horses are bred and raised.

These select horses cost from $100 to $165 and our crack cavalrymen are expert riders and carry on the traditions which have followed the cavalry from the earliest days of the Army. Purchase of War Savings Bonds will insure good mounts for the Cavalry. You and your neighbors buying War Bonds and Stamps regularly every pay day can help buy these horses for the U. S. Cavalry. Invest at least 10 percent of your income in War Bonds.

The 50-caliber Browning machine gun is one of the most efficient short range weapons used by U. S. Fighting forces. It is effective at ranges up to 2,000 yards and fires about 600 forty-five caliber bullets per minute.

One of these guns costs about $1,500, while a thirty-caliber machine gun costs approximately $600. Our fighting forces need thousands of these rapid-fire guns. Even a small town or community can buy many of them by uniting in the purchase of War Bonds. At least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day will do the trick.

Navy Cruisers are built in two classes, light and heavy, the latter displacing about 10,000 tons. Our navy has about an equal number of light and heavy Cruisers, the 10,000 ton Cruiser costing approximately $20,000,000. Many Cruisers are under construction and many more are needed.

To pay for these speedy and powerful ships with their heavy guns and armament we must buy War Bonds. Citizens of a large town or a given community, working in unity, could buy one of these ships for the Navy if they put at least ten percent of their income in War Bonds every pay day.

Misses Janet Stewart, Ruth and Clrice Rodwell and Mr. Cecil Morris left Monday to attend a house party given by Miss Wilma Durham, of Winston-Salem.

Dr. S. A. Harding left last week for Ft. McPherson, Ga., where he will be stationed for a short time in the service of Uncle Sam. From there it is not known where he will be sent.

Dr. W. P. Speas, who has been located at Coolemae for a number of years, has moved his family to Hickory, where he has located for the practice of his profession. The Record wishes for him and family much success in their new home.

Mr. James Glasscock and Miss Annie B. Allen, both of James X Roads, were married last Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. J. P. Green, in this city. Rev. D. W. Littleton, who is visiting here, performed the ceremony.

Christian Faith

Rev. Walter E. Isenhour, Hiddenite, N. C.

It is great and wonderful to have friends in the Christian faith. Tried friends, real friends, true friends, faithful friends. Yes, friends that never forsake us; friends that stick when the battle goes hard, when the enemy tries us sorely, when we are in need, when we are being criticised and reproached for the truth's sake and for righteousness' sake; friends that believe in us, yray for us, hold up our hands as we fight for the right and take our stand firmly against the wrong; that refuse to believe the devil's lies that he concocts and circulates about us and against us; friends that hold steady when others are turning their backs upon us, leaving and forsaking us; even turning against us; friends that will stick to us as long as we stick to God, to right, to truth, to the Bible, to the Christian faith; friends that will go with us as long as we go straight, upright, manly, womanly, godly, righteously and holy; friends that will walk with us as long as we walk with Christ and go heavenward. Such friends are more to be desired than gold, diamonds, rubies, gems and pearls; more to be desired than earthly honor, fame, renown and great riches; more to be appreciated than the eulogies that men may heap upon us; more to be desired than the laurels of earthly glory. Amen, amen, and again, amen. When all things earthly shall fade away, or depart from us, our true friends in the Christian faith will be with us still. We shall sing the song of eternal victory together around the throne of God in glory. What a time of rejoicing together that will be!

My Christian friends up and down the land today are many. I have won them through the preaching of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ and through my writings, read by tens of thousands. They are my friends because I am a friend to Christ, a friend to truth, to the Bible, to the Christian faith and religion, to the true church of Christ, to the Sabbath and the Sunday school, to the right and the right principals, to godliness and true holiness, and to all mankind. They are my friends because I am their friend; because I am not an enemy to men and nations; because I believe in and stand for all that is clean morally and spiritually. They are my friends because I am an avowed enemy to liquor, beer, wine, nicotine, ungodliness in dress, in deportment, in influence, in indulgences that are wrong. They are my friends because I stand against all kinds of evils, sin and wickedness, and for all that is pleasing to God. Therefore they purpose in their hearts to stand by me with their prayers, their encouraging words, their influence, their money, their means, their lives and their souls. This is reasonable; this is right. Glory to God. Let the devil rave and howl, and the mighty forces of evil array and martial themselves against me, and against the Christ I love, serve and worship, whose truth I am out to defend with my life, my time, my talent and my all, they purpose to stand by me until the last battle is fought, the last ditch is crossed, the last sermon is preached, the last prayer is prayed, the last task is finished, the last son is won and the final and eternal victory is won.

Among my many friends of the Christian faith is Mrs. Myra Johnson, of Laxon, N. C. She is a blessed saint of God. She has stood by me faithfully with her earnest, wonderful prayers and her means for nearly thirty years. Never once has she turned her back

HOME-COMING AT CENTER

Sunday, Sept. 6th. is the annual home-coming and singing at Center Methodist Church, four miles west of Mocksville, on the Statesville highway. Hundreds of men, women and children from Davie and adjoining counties, will be present. Memorial services will be held in the morning in the cemetery. Singing by choirs and quartettes in the afternoon. Choirs and quartettes are given a special invitation to be present. One of the high lights of the day is the old-fashioned country dinner, which is spread on long tables on the church lawn. All are requested to bring well-filled baskets. Luther Yutterow, prominent Center merchant, is master of ceremonies. The larger the crowd the happier Mr. Yutterow will be. Center church was organized over one hundred years ago. For many years an annual campmeeting was held annually under the large arbor.

United States To Have Largest Navy

According to an announcement by House Democratic Leader John W. McClamroch and House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., the United States will have the largest navy in the world and before the war is over it will embrace 1,000,000 men.

They appeared jointly over the radio the other night for the purpose of encouraging navy enlistments, outlining the advantages to the nation's youth in this armed service.

"I think it is safe to say that before the war is over, and victory is won, the American Navy will total a million men," Martin said. "I can promise you that this country is to have the biggest navy in world history—and that day is not far in the future."

McCormack said that United States naval forces in the Pacific are equal to those of "the rising sun." He said there is even the possibility that American forces are superior in number, "to what remains of the Japanese fleet."

upon me, the truth I preach and write, nor the blessed Christ I serve and worship. When I entered the ministry in Watauga county nearly thirty years ago she came to hear me preach, loved the truth that I preached, and loved the Christ I represented. Although poor in the things of this world, yet she is rich in faith and the love of God. No doubt time and again she has sent me the 1st dollar she possessed in order to help me preach, write, travel, win souls and carry on the work of the Master. Though weak in body, and has been for all these years I have known her, yet she has held on and on to God's unchanging hand. A great believer in holiness, she looks toward Heaven and presses onward and upward in the footprints of Jesus. In her last letter to me she said: "I had a letter from my niece in Baltimore, and she said she sure does enjoy your Quiet Corner; said your sermons are worth a hundred times the price of the paper; said this old sin cursed world would be a wonderful place to live in if people would listen to what you say and take heed; that we would not have this terrible war on us." May God wonderfully bless Sister Johnson and my many friends in the Christian faith. Amen.

Mr. Doughton Unopposed

Congressman Bob Doughton must have considered this strange, very strange and unusual language, coming as it did from a political opponent who had been named to unhorse him if he could:

"We ask our party to serve notice on the nation that the Republicans of the ninth congressional district have faith enough in Mr. Doughton to wish to strengthen his hands one more time by making him the representative of all the people of the district by unanimous vote, thus recognizing his ability, integrity, and intense patriotism."

That is a quote from the formal announcement of Dr. A. P. Kephart, Republican candidate for Congress in this district, that he is withdrawing from the race. "Farmer Bob" must have been all but overcome in the presence of such oration and from such a source. In case Dr. Kephart decides to run next time, and he probably will if the war is over, Mr. Doughton may be so moved by his fine gesture that he will pitch in and help elect him.

But in all seriousness this action by Dr. Kephart rates the applause of Democrat and Republican alike. He is not shying away from the difficulties of an almost hopeless campaign against Congressman Doughton. He knew of these difficulties when he accepted the nomination of his party. But we are smack-dab in the middle of perilous days when there should be no political rabble-rousing, and Dr. Kephart bears the earmarks of a statesman when he senses this fact and avoids any semblance of contributing to the confusion of tongues and activities by withdrawing from the race in the interest of unity.

That Mr. Doughton appreciates this fine gesture goes without saying. The Democrats of the district appreciate it too, and Dr. Kephart will find many new friends among them because of it. And certainly the Republicans need only read the Doctor's statement, to be proud of him, and know that instead of letting them down, he has honored them and himself, by hitching politics to a higher peg of sincerity and honesty.

Congressman Doughton merits this praise and he will point to this tribute with justifiable pride; Returned to Congress without opposition either in his own party or that of the ancient enemy, should give him added prestige in the government in which he has already gained such high place. — Statesville Daily.

BUMP THE JAPS WITH JUNK

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 155-millimeter gun is the modern version of the old "GPF" of World War I days. It has a range fifty percent greater than the old gun, heaving a 95-pound projectile approximately 15 miles. It is capable of high road speed and each one costs $50,000.

Arsenals of America are working at terrific speed turning out this long range, effective weapon for our armed forces. You and your neighbor working hand-in-hand in unity can make possible the purchase of an adequate number of these guns by buying War Bonds. Put 10 percent of your income in War Bonds to help reach your county quota, every pay day.

Seen Along Main Street

By The Street Rambler.

Thirsty fellows hunting the town over for a bottle of beer, and having to use lemonade as a substitute — Bob Waters, Charles Crenshaw, George Evans and others telling friends a long goodbye — Car load of country lasses parked in front of theatre — Farmer searching for doctor but failing to find one — Arthur Daniel taking afternoon nap in hotel lobby — Ralph Bowden riding around with jaws all puffed up — Jack Ward carrying picnic ham — Miss Helen Walker on her way down Main street reading letter — Mrs. Murray Stewart surrounded by breakfast bacon — Henry Shaw Anderson wearing a big smile that won't come off — Wanted to take a vacation this week and go to army camp to see soldier friend, but the boss said no — Dr. Hall out on the street swatting flies in front of drug store — Miss Daisy Mae Irvin carrying big box of candy — Miss Martha Mason enjoying horseback ride — Two young ladies carrying basket down Main street — George Hendricks shaking hands with an Angel — Fellow trying to locate man who got a dollar too much in business transaction — Young saleslady out on Main street waiting for the clock to strike six.

We Are Dull On History

E. B. Goodin, in Hickory Record.

Would some of our historians please tell us what nation it was that drank themselves to victory? We have read a little of both sacred and profane history and nowhere can we find an answer to this question.

Was it Babylon during the reign of King Belshazzar? Read the fifth chapter of Daniel.

Maybe it was France, or was it? What we are more concerned about now is, can America drink herself to victory?

It looks like we are trying to. One hundred and thirty-five million pounds of sugar and syrup were consumed in making beer for 1941 drinkers. The efforts of the liquor trade to lure new drinkers is showing great results for the liquor traffic. An average of sixty quarts of alcoholic beverages for every man, woman and child in the United States is being consumed annually, an average of one and one-quarter quarts per person per week. This is an increase of 17.7 per cent over the 1940 1941 total. It represents a nice profit, and a new crop of drinkers recruited from the younger generation.

But that's all right, some will say. To hell with the war, but let new millions of youth become tipsters, let anything happen but DON'T, whatever you do, don't be so Un-American as to interfere with our liquor traffic.

Thousands of tons of food are being consumed in the manufacture of liquor and beer while millions of people are starving for bread. Then we call ourselves Christian America. Millions of our precious boys will give their lives for the cause of freedom while the greatest enemy of all mankind goes unmolested. Nobody seems to be doing anything about it. That Burns Me Up!

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
Consolidated Features.—WNU Release.

NEW YORK.—Harold McCracken, explorer for the American Museum of Natural History, says Japanese in the Aleutians are just like Germans in Florida, and Must Be Bayoneted Out, Not Bombed that we can't bomb them out. They can hole up like gophers in the native huts, and in Mr. McCracken's view must be "chased with bayonets into the Bering sea," if we are to dislodge them at all.

This should qualify as expert testimony. Mr. McCracken knows the Aleutians. In July, 1928, heading the Stoll-McCracken expedition, he unearthed a sarcophagus, on top of an almost inaccessible Aleutian rock islet, containing the mummies of three adults and a child. This culminated his 11-year search for stone age remains along the Aleutian land-bridge.

As an archeologist and explorer, the author of a number of books, he has studiously pieced out the historic jig-saw puzzle of his various findings and taken due account of their bearing on war and peace and the present and future of mankind. In 1934, he elaborated a plan for an "international grand jury" to end war which, in some aspects, was the first of several suggestions for fusing individual interests, across national boundaries, rather than grouping sovereign nations. More pertinent to his current observation is his previous conclusion that the Japanese invasion of the Aleutians was long planned and carefully prepared.

Mr. McCracken, a lean, gentle man with horn-rimmed spectacles, doesn't look like a man who has killed about 20 Kodiak grizzly bears, but he has, and such encounters are a minor detail of his desperate adventures in shipwrecks, blizzards and lonely treks in the frozen wilderness.

It was in 1915 that he first went to Alaska, heading an expedition for Ohio State university, his alma mater. In 1919 and 1920, he placed pay dirt on the Alaska peninsula, and into 1922-23 headed up a moving picture expedition, again for Ohio State university, to film big game. This led him into the production of travel and documentary films.

ONE of our first stories, as a beginning reporter in Chicago, was a rock and sock fight between some Jugoslavs and another Balkan group, down around the Hegewisch steel mills. Mikhailovitch Still in There Socking the Axis The Jugoslavs were outnumbered but they won.

They were more versatile than the opposition, better in knee and elbow work, and could land a chunk of slag or a slug of pig-iron on an exposed skull with skill and authority. Their own skulls seemed strangely resistant to such missiles.

As to the fight, they seemed to enjoy it, and when it was over set up a patriotic song which ranged far over the slag heaps and far into the night.

It would be nice to recall that the defeated challengers were Italians, but they weren't and that good news has been held for another day.

The Jugoslav guerrillas, 16 battalions of them, are chasing the Italians out of the former province of Bosnia. At the time of the Axis attack on Yugoslavia, we recalled that Hegewisch battle and would have made a bet with any taker that something like that would happen. In the above and other encounters we have noted that in fighting the Jugoslavs seem to have their mind on their work more than any other combatants. And, again, they seem to enjoy it.

His flaring black mountaineer's mustache has become a gonfalon of hope to those who want to believe that victory may be won by a stout heart and not necessarily by the biggest tanks. It is reported that 3,000 Italians have been captured or killed in the last two weeks and that the general's forces have now wrested 11,000 square miles from the Axis. They didn't try to make their second front a jug-handled deal.

The rocky-faced General Mikhailovitch, a colonel of artillery several years before the war, came out of the First World War with a strong distaste for the German military clique.

When the blitzkrieg hit, he was invited to join officials and army leaders in a plane flight to Cairo. He said he had another engagement, went back to the mountains and emerged with a few hundred of his hard-rock boys, started savage forays and later worked them into carefully planned and operated military actions.

U. S. Coast Guards Get in Trim

Dig 'em in deep, boys, heave-ho, so you'll be able to give the Axis what they've got coming. The "boys" are coast guards at their new camp near Battle Creek, Mich., the first of its kind in the Midwest, and the pictures were taken as thousands went into training there. In photo at the right the coastguardsmen go through a night drill in their breeches buoy. They are training for any kind of warfare.

Welcoming Committee for Japs

Inside World's Largest Air Transport

This picture, retouched by order of the war department, is the first of its kind ever published, and shows how fully equipped U. S. infantrymen occupy specially designed seats alongside mobile equipment in the new Curtiss Commando (C-46) military transport, world's largest twin-engine airplane. Unrevealed numbers of jeeps and troops can be carried in this plane, which is now being produced in large numbers for the war department.

Middies Learn How to Handle Big Ones

Midshipmen of the reserve officers training corps, USN, are shown at gunnery practice aboard a navy battlewagon on a training cruise. The middle with the earphones and speaker is receiving aiming data. The man at the breech shouts the number of the shell loaded, the man at the angle and scale controls says "ready," and the man at the range control yells "Fire."

Old Settler

"When I drove those Injuns out of Oklahoma I really got thirsty," says William Corius, 84, National Indian war vet, shown while at the Old Settlers' picnic in Chicago. His thirst seems still to be with him.

EIGHTY army nurses whose names ought to go down in history because of the courage with which they did their work during the siege of Bataan will receive their due partially, at least, in a picture which Paramount has scheduled for production in the autumn. Called "Hands of Mercy," it will be produced and directed by Mark Sandrich, who'll take a hand also in writing the scenario. Another timely picture will be Metro's "Next of Kin," in which Joan Crawford will appear as a girl without social background, who marries a naval officer, and finds herself confronted with navy snobbery. Joan will come out on top of course!

Bette Davis refuses to call her vegetable garden at her Sugar Hill, N. H., home a "victory garden." Like a lot of other people, she discovered to her sorrow that vegetables won't grow just because you plant them. She says she'll be lucky if she gets one New England boiled dinner out of the whole crop.

Charles Boyer couldn't have Greta Garbo for that murder mystery, "Flesh and Fantasy," of which he is both co-star and co-director. But Universal did very well by him by getting Barbara Stanwyck to play opposite him in the second sequence.

Rosalind Russell thinks she knows what the boys in camp expect of picture stars, so she decided to take all the glamour clothes that she could pack into seven trunks when starting on the tour of army camps scheduled to follow completion of "My Sister Eileen." Though on a 16-hour-a-day schedule, she'll have clothes enough to change ten times a day. "I'll wear everything but a bathing suit," she announced. And she looks so fetching in a bathing suit!

Betty Brewer, the Paramount starlet, isn't wasting any time between pictures. The 15-year-old actress, who plays a featured role in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," is studying singing and taking piano lessons—takes piano from Diana Lynn and singing from Susanna Foster, also budding stars.

Paulette Goddard's new priority gown was made from just 1 1/2 yards of fabric. Designed by the famous Valentina, it's a dinner dress of black jersey, made with a backless top and a short, peg-top skirt. You'll see her wearing it in "The Forest Rangers."

Warner Baxter, who hasn't appeared on the screen since early last year, when he appeared in "Adam Had Four Sons," for Columbia, has been signed by the same studio to make two pictures a year. They'll be based on the radio program, "Crime Doctor," one of our most popular air shows.

Can't keep "Mrs. Miniver" out of the news. With the announcement that it was being held at the Radio City Music Hall for the ninth week—no other film has been held there for more than six—comes the news that it had been seen in that theater by 1,142,107 persons.

A 400-foot long, 200-foot wide duplicate of the original runway of the Wake Island airfield was constructed in ten days at Salton Sea, Calif., for Paramount's "Wake Island"—a picture that promises to be one of the most stirring of all this year's crop of war films.

ODDS AND ENDS—Gary Cooper's rapidly catching up to Don Ameche as a portrayer of famous men on the screen... Dennis Morgan has been taking daily treatments for the "sand blindness" he suffered while on location, near Gallup, N. M., for "The Desert Song"... Ginger Rogers taps to only the tune of her own humming in "The Major and the Minor"... "Little Miss Marker," the film which made Shirley Temple famous eight years ago, may be filmed again by Paramount, with Baby Sandy in the leading role... Dorothy Comingsore, has refused all assignments since she made "Citizen Kane."

Wash beans before soaking. Then they can be cooked or baked in the water in which they were soaked, with a small onion added.

All wild meat should be soaked clean of blood. An onion roasted with the meat improves the flavor.

A few drops of ammonia in the dish water will clean greasy dishes and roasting pans quickly.

To prevent pitting and discoloration, food should not be left in aluminum ware any longer than is necessary.

Three sprigs of parsley, one bay leaf, six whole cloves and a bit of thyme tied loosely together in a cheesecloth make an aromatic spice bag for cooking with soups and stews.

Don't twist, bend or tie the so-called cord attached to your electric iron. It is not a cord, but two bundles of wires.

Put a small piece of hard soap in the sewing basket to rub over yarn or thread so it can be put through the eye of a needle with less difficulty.

Solicitor—Avalon E. Hall.

Representative—R. V. Alexander
Sheriff—Frank Vogler
Clerk of Court—Stacy H. Chaffin.
Coroner—Dr. Garland V. Greene

As the result of a bill introduced by W. L. Moore, and passed by the 1941 Legislature, the people of Davie county are denied the privilege of voting for county commissioners this year.

Every time we read about a meat shortage it makes us mad at Henry Wallace. Henry is the man who is responsible for three million pigs and thousands of brood sows losing their lives. Henry also is the gentleman who had the farmers plow up their cotton.

We wish it were possible for Mrs. Roosevelt to refrain from making any more speeches for the duration. She made a speech at Salisbury a short while ago, and the Winston-Salem Journal devoted valuable editorial space in defending the said speech. Sometimes silence is golden.

We are hoping that all of those who failed to get to the Masonic picnic with their frog skins for The Record, will mail, bring or send them in. It takes money to print a newspaper. Many of our faithful subscribers couldn't get to the picnic on account of gas and tire shortage. The mails are still coming, so mail in your frog skins.

What Mocksville and Davie county needs now more than any thing else, is two or three more good doctors. With Drs. W. M. Long and Lester P. Martin already in the army, and Dr. Garland Green expected to be called at any time; Davie has but three doctors left, Drs. S. A. Harding, Garland Greene and A. B. Byerly. If anyone knows the whereabouts of a couple good physicians, please head them this way. The harvest is indeed white, but the doctors are too few.

War or no war, politics is beginning to warm up. Even President Roosevelt took a hand in the New York gubernatorial campaign. He and Jim Farley decided to disagree as touching the man who was to get the Democratic nomination for Governor. Farley is the man who worked so hard to give Mr. Roosevelt his present job for the first eight years. Jim thought eight years enough for any man to serve as president but Mr. Roosevelt thought otherwise.

Apologies, Gentlemen

The editor was sober, and in his right mind last week, and the blame can't be placed on the office devil, but a mistake was made in the Republican county ticket which appeared at the top of our editorial page. The ticket read, "Representative, Stacy H. Chaffin; Clerk of Court, R. V. Alexander." Seems that we got the cart before the horse. The ticket should have read, "Representative, R. V. Alexander; Clerk of Court, Stacy H. Chaffin." We trust that these gentlemen will accept our apologies. Mistakes will happen in the best newspaper offices.

Attends Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Koons and family, of R. 4, attended the Gentry family reunion in Surry county Sunday. Despite the gas and tire shortage, a large crowd was present, and a delightful day was spent by those present.

Easter Egg In August

If you want to see a curiosity in the shape of an egg, take a look in The Record office window. Mrs. B. B. Smith, of R. 4, brought us the egg Monday. The egg is henna colored and looks like it had been pointed or dyed, but it was laid already colored for Easter.

Farley Beats FDR In N. Y. Primary

New York.—James A. Farley won a smashing victory Thursday over his one-time political ally, President Roosevelt, by obtaining the gubernatorial nomination of Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr., at the Democratic state convention here and then set out to swing the 400,000 votes of the American labor party behind his candidate.

Bennett won over U. S. Senator James M. Mead, who was strongly backed by the President and other new deal bigwigs, by a vote of 623 to 393. The nomination was made unanimous upon motion of Michael J. Kennedy, Tammany boss—one of several moves made immediately by the Bennett forces to unify the party for the battle in November.

Dear Mr. Stroud:—Well another year has gone, and it is time for me to renew my subscription to your good little paper. I find it very interesting, especially the news around Farmington, my old home. I was back there on a visit last summer, the first in 33 years. Could see many changes, such as good roads, good schools and churches and many other things. It really made me happy to know I am part of that wonderful state, as it does seem like home to me, and always will. Wishing you and yours health and happiness. Yours truly,

Efird's To Occupy Larger Store

Efird's Department Store, one of Winston-Salem's oldest and best known department stores, will move next month from their present location on the corner of Fourth and Trade streets to the large store building adjoining the Fred N. Day Jewelry store, on Trade street.

Efird's have occupied the same store building in Winston Salem since away back in 1912, thirty years ago, when the city was small compared with its present population. The new quarters on Trade street comprises three floors, with a total floor space of more than 31,000 feet, twice the size of the present store. The store will be modern and up-to date in every respect, with florescent lighting throughout. The large bargain basement has four entrances and elevator service to all floors, including an entrance directly from the sidewalk to the basement. This will be one of the largest and most modern department stores in North Western Carolina.

when you go in MID-WEEK or after the summer rush

When you choose the uncrowded times to travel two people benefit—you and the man in uniform or war worker who uses the seat you leave for him on a week-end or holiday! You'll have a more comfortable, more pleasant trip if you wait till after the summer rush period is over—if you go on Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday. And you'll be saving space for those whose wartime activities make it necessary for them to travel on crowded week-ends. The Government has recognized the need for recreation travel—but your cooperation in timing your trip well is essential. You can also aid by getting information and tickets in advance—and by traveling light, taking as little baggage as possible.

Official U. S. Treasury War Bond Quotas for August

Washington, D. C., August 5.—While maintaining a tentative annual level of twelve billion dollars as its goal, the Treasury Department today fixed the August quota for the sale of War Bonds at $815,000,000 as shown by the accompanying map by states.

In lowering the quota from a billion dollars in July to $815,000,000 in August, the Treasury has given recognition to certain factors which may be expected to result in variations in sales over the 12-month period, such as the seasonal character of farm income.

These factors have been taken into account in determining each state's share for the national quota for August and will be given consideration in fixing quotas for subsequent months.

In addition to the state quotas as set out in the map there is a federal payroll allotment quota of $3,750,000 and territorial quotas as follows: Alaska, $750,000; Canal Zone, $213,000; Hawaii, $4,000,000; Puerto Rico, $440,000 and the Virgin Islands, $17,000.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Essential in the equipment of every Soldier, Sailor, Marine or Flyer is a first aid kit, consisting of bandages and antiseptics for instantaneous use. These materials are packed into a compact box and cost about $1.50 each.

We need millions of these first aid kits for emergency treatment. They are also used by Red Cross workers, in field hospitals and wherever needed until hospital treatment may be obtained. Even a child could buy one or more of these kits through purchase of War Stamps. Buy War Bonds and Stamps every pay day and invest at least ten percent of your income in these government securities.

Gas masks which came into use in warfare for the first time when the Germans used poison and mustard gas in World War I, are much improved today over those used then. The Chemical Warfare Branch of the War Department issues these gas masks to every man in the service. We are taking no chances.

The type pictured here is the "can" and "elephant nose" mask and costs about $9.25 each. The headgear is transparent, made of material resembling cellophane and does not cloud with the breath. You can buy two of these gas masks with the purchase of an $18.75 War Bond. We need thousands of them. Don't fail to give at least ten percent of your income every pay day for War Bonds. Buy them at your bank or postoffice, regularly.

JOIN THE ATTACK ON TOKYO, ... YOURSELF!

Every person in America may not fly over Tokyo, but every one's dollars can help produce the bombing planes that do!

You, you, you, can join the attacks on Tokyo by saving at least 10% of your pay in War Bonds—by joining your company's pay-roll savings plan today or going to your local bank or post office and buying War Savings Bonds—at least 10% of your pay—every pay day.

Remember you can start buying War Bonds by buying War Stamps for as little as 10c and that you get a $25 War Bond (maturity value) for only $18.75.

The mess kit is one of the most important items in the Soldier's equipment. It consists generally of a pan, a plastic canteen and cup, a fork, knife and spoon, all in a canvas pack cover. The total cost runs up to about $2.00.

Canteens and other items such as handles on knives and forks, formerly made of aluminum, are now plastic. Alloy has replaced stainless steel. You can buy many of these mess kits for our boys with your purchases of War Bonds and Stamps. Invest at least 10 percent of your income in War Bonds or Stamps every pay day and top the quota in your county.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

It's not a pleasant picture to contemplate, but War calls for "blood and sweat and tears." And the Army Medical Corps, with its efficient nurses and its volunteer Red Cross "Angels of Mercy," needs thousands of surgical beds for field and base hospitals on every front.

These beds cost approximately $22 each. They are the latest thing in modern hospital beds, with elevating springs. In some instances surgical cots are used in temporary field hospitals and there is a folding bed which may be used in ambulances. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps can buy many of these beds for the Army. You'll sleep better if you know our boys have every hospital comfort. Buy War Bonds every pay day. Invest ten percent of your income.

Hitler found out that his high powered mechanized and motorized army bogged down in the snow and mud of the Russian Winter. Although our Army is largely mechanized the cavalry horse is still a highly essential factor in this mounted division and in the Field Artillery. The Army also maintains remount farms where many cavalry horses are bred and raised.

These select horses cost from $100 to $185 and our crack cavalrymen are expert riders and carry on the traditions which have followed the cavalry from the earliest days of the Army. Purchase of War Savings Bonds will insure good mounts for the Cavalry. You and your neighbors buying War Bonds and Stamps regularly every pay day can help buy these horses for the U. S. Cavalry. Invest at least 10 percent of your income in War Bonds.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

A scout car is a low-slung motor car armored with heavy steel plate, used to transport troops from one point to another. It is of low silhouette and gives protection against machine gun and other ground fire. A scout car costs $8,000.

You and your neighbors joining together can buy one of these vehicles for the Ordnance Department of our army with your purchase of War Bonds. We need hundreds of them and need them quickly. Put at least ten percent of your wages or income into War Bonds every pay day and help your fellow Americans top the War Bond quota in your county.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Navy Cruisers are built in two classes, light and heavy, the latter displacing about 10,000 tons. Our navy has about an equal number of light and heavy Cruisers, the 10,000 ton Cruiser costing approximately $20,000,000. Many Cruisers are under construction and many more are needed.

To pay for these speedy and powerful ships with their heavy guns and armament we must buy War Bonds. Citizens of a large town or a given community, working in unity, could buy one of these ships for the Navy if they put at least ten percent of their income in War Bonds every pay day.
