

PEAKING OF PORTS

by Bob McShane

HOW many fight followers remember the only time in the history of the heavyweight division that a man won the title while his opponent was sitting down?

To end this horrible mystery in a hurry, it was July 4, 1919, when Jack Dempsey met Jess Willard in Toledo, Ohio, for the world championship.

Challenger Jack — now Lieutenant Commander Dempsey of the Coast Guard — was in the best shape of his career.

Jack Dempsey was considerably shorter than Willard and had given him a 65-pound weight advantage.

Jack's excellent physical condition wasn't accidental. He had long set his sights on the heavyweight title and was willing to work hard for it.

Jack didn't overlook his current opportunity. He moved in like a wildcat. He let loose a long, hard right into Jess' stomach and Jess quivered like an aspen.

Pecord shoved Dempsey to one side and started to count over the prostrate champion. Jess managed to lurch to his feet when the count went up to six, but he was already a beaten man.

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, hurried Jack out of the ring into his dressing room while Willard's handlers were helping him to his corner.

Willard was groggy at the end of the third round. He looked like a beaten man. Just about 20 seconds before the start of the fourth, Jess held a fast consultation with his manager and trainer.

Keep to Simplicity In Foods, Serving For Good Hostessing

Create this spring tonic by using salmon and asparagus in a custard when eggs are plentiful.

Hospitality is unrated even in wartime. Food restrictions curb the serving of elaborate meals, but homemakers still want their friends over for a pleasant chat.

With time at a premium, simple combinations are the order of the day. This will keep fluster at a minimum and the food budget within its bounds.

Simple is as simple does! Bake tarts ahead of time, fill with a prepared filling if you're rushed for time.

Beat egg yolks until light, blend in remainder of ingredients and last stiffly beaten egg whites. Drop spoonfuls on hot griddle.

PAUL CROSSES INTO EUROPE

LESSON TEXT: Acts 16:12-15; Philippians 3:7-14. GOLDEN TEXT: I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.—Philippians 3:14.

Pressing "toward the mark" (Phil. 3:14) well describes the zeal and intense devotion with which Paul lived his life for Christ.

It seems appropriate to consider the two Scripture portions in reverse order, looking first at Paul's declaration in Philippians of his passion to know Christ, and then in Acts of his purpose to make Him known.

There were many things in Paul's life of which he was proud, until he met Christ, and then everything else lost its importance and interest.

"To 'know Him' calls for a depth of experience, sacrifice and of joy which is not easy to describe in words. It begins with a divine righteousness imparted by faith.

That fellowship is one day to be complete and eternal, for there is to be for Paul the assured experience of a personal resurrection out from among the dead (v. 11). The faith of a Christian looks beyond the grave.

Paul saw not only the necessity but the blessedness of going from victory to victory. Too many Christians of today are entirely satisfied with what they have attained (and it is usually all too little).

There is a prize to be gained, the prize of our "high calling in Christ Jesus." Let us, like Paul, be filled with holy dissatisfaction with ourselves until we reach that blessed goal.

The man who had such a vision was ready for God's call to carry the gospel into Europe.

The story of the conversion of Lydia has many elements of special interest. It presents the turning point in the progress of the gospel, which by the grace and leading of God brought it northward to Europe rather than southward into Africa.

Then we note that the first convert was a woman. She was not the last woman to give an attentive ear and a believing heart to the gospel message. The church through all its history has been blessed by the readiness of women to bear and heed the gospel.

We like to note that she set a pattern of hospitality and service which her sisters in the church have maintained (see v. 15). She "constrained" the visiting preachers to enjoy the comforts of her fine home, and thus put forward the work of Christ (see III John 5-8).

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Navigation is impossible even for a canoe on some of the tiny branches in the Amazon headwaters in the remote Bolivia rubber country. Air transport is now serving in the rubber development in these areas. Tappers cut their way through the jungle, with from 100 to 150 wild rubber trees serving as each tapper's route.

Tire experts hold that greater mileages are returned from truck tires if, when they are new, they are "broken in" for several thousand miles under normal or sub-normal conditions. Using new tires on front wheels before shifting them to the rear is one way of "seasoning" tires.

A New York labor union has endorsed Roosevelt for a fourth term. And now Eleanor is out begging all the women to join the union. What a politician.

A gentleman came into our office last week and asked us who had given us his name as having filed for a county office. We told him. He said he hadn't filed and was not running for any office. He also made some other remarks which we are not going to print lest it might make some folks feel bad.

When it comes to getting divorces the Franklin Roosevelt family deserves not only the pup but the pup's papa and mamma. If we are not mistaken, the number of divorces now totals five. The Bible has something to say about divorces and who should have them.

A good lady living on R. 4, asks us to request the commissioners of Mocksville to pass some kind of a stock law. She reports having to stop her car a few days ago in the city limits and driving a hog off the street before she could get her car to the square. We respectfully refer this matter to the Merchants Association.

Jim Farley, John Garner and Joseph Bailey are opposed to Franklin running for a fourth term. We are hoping he will run, for there is not another Democrat or New Dealer who would receive as few votes as Franklin. In this country the offices still belong to the people and not to Hopkins, Ickes, Wallace and a few other New Dealers.

Thomas F. Fort, Democratic congressman from California, who is retiring after 12 years at Washington, says the current Congress is "the least enlightened and dumbest bunch I ever had anything to do with." Speaks mighty poorly for his own efforts and those of his fellow new dealers at enlightenment. -Swiped

The two Democratic candidates for Governor were in town one day recently, which caused one enthusiastic Democrat to remark that the next Governor of North Carolina was in town. That fellow would feel bad if Hon Frank Patton, of Morganton, the Republican nominee, should be elected. Stranger things have happened. Kentucky had a Democratic governor last year but a Republican governor this year.

Thomas Dewey is gaining convention votes day by day. Last Tuesday he captured 70 votes from Pennsylvania and 24 votes from Kentucky. Seems that Tom will go into the national convention with more than enough votes to give him the nomination on the first ballot. In our opinion Dewey will defeat Roosevelt by a bigger majority than Hoover defeated Al Smith. The people are sick of the Eleanor New Deal.

Politics is warming up in Davie, but up to this time no fights have taken place. With the Democratic primary less than a month away, we are predicting that Hoey will defeat Morrison in the Senatorial race, and that McDonald will defeat Cherry in the Gubernatorial race. This prediction is not only for Davie county, but for the entire state. We have guessed wrong on many occasions, but this is the way it looks to us now.

The registration books are now open. If you have become of age since the last election, or have moved from one voting precinct to another, or have moved into Davie from another county, you will have to register or you can't vote in the coming primary or election. Registrars will be at the various voting precincts for the next two Saturdays from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Be sure you get your name on the books. This is important.

Allies Well On Road To Victory

Washington.—Admiral Ernest J. King, navy commander in chief, said that allied forces are now "fully entered" on the roads to victory and, fortified with unity, power and experience are determined to travel "far and fast."

Both in Europe and the Pacific, he said in a report to Secretary of the Navy Knox, long roads still lie ahead, but—
"The encirclement of Germany is in sight."

The war against Japan is in the American "offensive stage" and progressing increasingly well.

The navy commander in chief said the navy has been built to its present striking strength from an "unfavorable strategic position" at the outbreak of the war and declared:

"Our failure to build progressively was a mistake which it is hoped will never be repeated."

King enumerated also these other steps toward crushing the axis in all parts of the world:

"The German submarine fleet has been reduced from a menace to a problem.

"German structure of satellite states is crumbling."

"The Balkans are aflame with guerrilla war and other occupied countries await only the signal."

"Numerical inferiorities" of the American forces in the Pacific during early phases of the war "have been reversed."

"Our submarines and planes are cutting deeper and deeper into the vital Japanese shipping. Our fleet move in the central Pacific unchallenged."

From A Davie Soldier.

Fort Eustis, Va., April 25.
Dear Mr. Stroud:—I wish to inform you of my change of address, which is now Fort Eustis, Va.

How is everything back in Davie county? I wish I had a chance to go down, but no passes are granted from here that would be long enough for me to make the trip. They have me hard at work, but I still find time to read The Davie Record and learn of the happenings around home. There has never been a place so dear to any man than home, and take it from me, this is a big world, but the sweetest spot of it is that little farm back in Davie county where I grew up with plain country folks who shared the same ideas and knew each other. That, my friend, I hope to go back to when the war is over. Too much of this going from place to place. What I live for is the day when we can all go home. Just you and all these at home remember that the boy from next door who is marching under the Stars and Stripes any place on the face of the earth, hopes to come back to a peaceful home and be one of the community's citizens again. You who are at home, I know, will keep that same old place going, and with a fire to welcome the boys who are fighting to keep home, freedom and justice undefiled. In closing I send to you and every good citizen of our wonderful Davie county my best regards, with hope to be back among you before much longer. Sincerely your friend,
CPL. CHARLES TALBERT.

From A Davie Soldier

Warrensburg, Mo., April 27.
Dear Mr. Stroud:—My address has been changed during the past week. I thought that I should let you know so as to avoid too much delay in my getting The Record. It is needless to say that I look forward to its arrival each week with eager anticipation. I enjoy it no end, and I can personally vouch for your statement that The Davie Record is truly a "letter from home" to those of us who are away. So, until that great day when the lights shall go on again, I remain,
Sincerely yours,
Pfc LESTER P. MARTIN, JK.

From Merrie England

England, April 18, 1944.
I am getting along fine as usual. You are still able to get the news to the folks hot off the press. I've been getting The Record o. k. and I enjoy it very much. It gives me all the latest dope as to who has gotten married, who has babies, and the like.
The rabbit didn't leave me any colored eggs this Easter. I guess couldn't figure out any way to color powdered eggs. That's about the only kind we have around here.
You should be here to see the antiques; old guns, clocks, pottery, bicycles, methods of punishment, and numerous other things, I really had a swell time in town, in fact, I had such a good time I think I will be going back.
Good luck to all,
T Sgt. Bobbie James.

Only Five Gallons

Pfc. Hayes Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Powell, of R. 4, arrived here Friday for a 20-day furlough. Hayes has been in the army for the past three years, and has been in overseas service for the past 27 months. He has three brothers in service yet, and two brothers have received honorable discharges. So far as we know Mr. and Mrs. Powell have furnished more boys to the armed forces than any other Davie family.

Hayes tells us that he applied to the rationing board for some gas to use in visiting relatives while here for a few days, but was allowed only five gallons, which he did not accept. Despite the gas shortage, the beer and wine trucks keep running day and night. We are making no further comments about this matter lest we lose our temper.

Help The Russians

The people of North Carolina are urged to help the Russians during the dates of May 1st to 14th. The Russians have been a mighty factor in helping to win the war which is being waged throughout the world, and they are badly in need of clothing and shoes. Any garment that is clean and in good condition, of any size, may be donated to this worthy cause. Dresses, skirts, blouses, suits, shirts, trousers, over coats, shoes, are needed in large quantities.
C. C. Erwin, county superintendent of schools, is honorary chairman. All school teachers and pupils are urged to assist in this work, together with pastors, lodges, women's clubs, etc. All persons who have clothing or shoes to donate, are asked to bring them to county superintendent's office, in the court house. Let's all help the Russians. They are busy helping us. Don't delay. The campaign closes May 14th.

Country Areas Attract Future Home Builders, Careful Survey Shows
By BARROW LYONS
WNU Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—

Barrow Lyons

There are many signs that up-to-date small towns in most parts of the United States will experience expansion that spells prosperity after the war. This pops out between the lines of a survey conducted by Small Homes Guide, a magazine devoted to home building, which indicates that more than a third of the people planning to build homes after the war prefer small towns and country areas.

This survey was the result of questionnaires sent to the magazine which almost 30,000 readers voluntarily filled in and sent to the editor. The questions were drafted on scientific principles so that unbiased answers, which truly reflected the intentions of those answering them, would be obtained. The returns came from all sections of the country, and are considered a good sample of average American reactions.

Only 3 per cent of the people intending to build homes after the war expect to settle down in large cities, the survey revealed, and 17 per cent expect to build in medium sized cities. Those expecting to build in suburban areas were 40 per cent of the total. But 24 per cent expect to build right out in the country, and 14 per cent want to build in small towns. Two per cent of those returning questionnaires did not say in what type of community they wished to live.

These answers show that many people have become disturbed over crowded living conditions in the cities during the war. Also, letters from members of the armed forces indicate that there are phases of outdoor life that appeal to them.

Aside from the psychological reasons for selecting the country and small towns, there are many economic reasons why much building will be done in rural areas after the war.

Some of the Reasons For one thing, transportation facilities will be improved greatly. Road building on a large scale is being planned to provide employment for returning servicemen. Developments in engine design and new types of fuel will make transportation more economical and comfortable. Competition between bus lines, air transport and railways will tend to accelerate improvements. As speed is increased, distance is cut down and the country is brought to the city.

Then, there are many war industries which have been scattered around in rural areas, which will be converted to peace-time production; and there is a slowly developing movement toward decentralization of industry, which means establishment of more small plants in the country. Development of chemical processes, whereby farm products are used more and more as industrial materials, is on the way.

Equalization of freight rates for the south and west, which is now being vigorously sought by the Conference of Southern Governors, undoubtedly would lead to the development of country areas, which long have suffered from rate discrimination. The Department of the Interior also plans extensive reclamation projects in the west, which would tend to build up many of the Western states to support greatly expanded populations.

New Designs Wanted One of the points brought out in the survey was a leaning toward homes of low, rambling design, which is in sharp contrast with the old-fashioned, cramped, two-story dwelling with dark basement and steep stairs. This unquestionably means that more people will seek country areas where land is cheap, so that they may spread out floor plans as they desire.

Every small community should look over its resources now, to make sure it is going to get its share of the new building, and consequent merchandising, that will come to it. It should consider whether it is getting a fair break in relation to new super-highways that are to be constructed. It should have adequate schools, hospital facilities, amusement and shopping centers, police and fire protection, libraries and street lighting systems. It should have equitable real estate and taxation programs, and honest and progressive town and county governments.

There should be plans to take up the employment slack in agricultural off seasons, and an aggressive Chamber of Commerce or Community council to bring desirable industries to the town. All of these things are important, if the merchants and bankers are to prosper as greatly as the possibilities of their location warrant. Business analysts studying this trend see for the small town contractors a large business, and along with him the building supply dealer in the community.

Red Land and Sea Moves Mapped After Odessa

Swift and dramatic strokes came in the wake of the great Red victory at Odessa. By a sudden thrust at the Perekop isthmus the Russ had undertaken a move to cut off Crimea and gain Sevastopol. Action from sea, as well as land, was expected along the Romanian and Bulgarian coasts as well, following the Crimea offensive. Ships of the Black sea fleet had stood by for amphibious operations. Another move was a quick dash which cut the rail line at Ovidopol to trap Nazi forces hoping to escape.

Three scenes from the Burma front and what makes it tick: Left: F. Messerby, commander of the 7th Indian division of the British 14th army. Center: A U. S. tank and American-trained Chinese tank crew who demonstrated to the Japs in the battle of Walumbum just how well-trained they were in the use of modern weapons of war. Right: Chinese boy of American-trained transport unit enjoys his meal of rice, girded with a captured Jap battle flag for an apron.

Training for a Brighter Future

Corp. Walter C. Wojtas (weaving) of Cleveland, Ohio, and Pfc. Andrew Kunka (in bed) of Scranton, Pa., two Americans blinded in action, are shown at the Valley Forge General hospital, Phoenixville, Pa. There the government has undertaken the task of rehabilitating American men who lost their sight in this war, and preparing them for a brighter future.

Princess Inspects Troops With Dad

King George VI is pictured here with head turned to a charming and interested princess—his daughter. The photo was made during a stop on the first full-length journey of the princess when she accompanied her royal parents on a tour of inspection of Scottish troops and armored infantry outfits.

Hula Girl on Ice!

"Steady, we'll help you!"—and who doesn't need help when donning ice skates for the very first time? Lieutenant Wilma Kaimien, Monroe, Mich., and Agnes Malone, Massillon, Ohio, army nurses, are used to ice-skating back home, so they volunteered to teach Miss Kuilei, Kahakaloa a few tricks on an indoor rink in Hawaii. Yes, there's nothing backward about Hawaii, as this skating rink proves.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

GEORGE RAFT is back where he started—in Universal's "Follow the Boys" he does a Charleston and an Argentine number which he did in his stage debut, and in almost identical costume. His first professional dancing job was in one of the top vaudeville acts, Pilcer and Douglas, in 1922. And one of the things that cinched the job was Raft's resemblance to Valentino, at that time the world's greatest screen attraction. In "Follow the Boys" Raft is co-starred with Zorina, with whom he does the Argentine dance.

In those Dr. Kildare movies, when Laraine Day played the doctor's nurse, nothing ever happened to her but more Kildares. She got her break when the writers killed off the nurse, and Laraine made her escape, and scored one success after another. "Mr. Lucky," "The Story of Dr. Wassell"—and now she has landed a real plum. RKO has cast her to star with Alan Marshall in "That Hunter Girl."

Versatile John Nesbitt, the storyteller, is now turning out an average of one film a month at Metro, in addition to doing his Sunday spot on the John Charles Thomas show, and his new three-a-week series on CBS. He's won two Academy awards for his work.

Cary Grant saw little Arden Black going to school every morning when he turned into the studio, and liked her spunk. She was only seven, and had a brace on her leg, but said she didn't mind. So he spoke to Director Clifford Odets, in whose "None But the Lonely Heart" Grant is working, and they decided they could use a crippled child in London slum sets—and Arden got the job.

Paulette Goddard became known for achieving what others didn't when she became the first of Charlie Chaplin's wives to win real success on the screen. So it's no surprise that she has won a citation for being the first American woman visiting China to entertain U. S. troops. She received it from Col. John A. Feagin: "Her achievement reflects highest credit on herself and the entire entertainment world," said he.

Swell idea, that new CBS "Visiting Hour" on Saturday afternoons, beginning April 29, with Ted Husing as coordinator. There'll be a Hollywood star and a sports celebrity each week as guest stars; they will chat informally with soldiers at army hospitals. Programs for the first 13 weeks will cover most of the large cities from coast to coast, through the facilities of CBS affiliates.

Art Baker, NBC commentator and newscaster, recently learned how convincing he can be. He pleaded on the air for recruits for the Women's Air corps; did it so effectively that his daughter, Jean Ormsby, promptly joined up!

Alan Young, Canada's youthful contribution to the ranks of radio comedians, has been signed to take over Eddie Cantor's Wednesday night niche for the summer, beginning July 5. Young will be assisted by Bea Wain and Peter Van Steeden's orchestra.

Everett Sloane, CBS's "Crime Doctor" and the highest paid actor on radio, ran into an old college chum who assured Sloane that success hadn't changed him. "Well, it has a little," replied Sloane. "I'm now 'eccentric' where I used to be impolite, and 'delightfully witty' where I used to be rude!" Sloane, incidentally, appeared on Orson Welles' famous "Man from Mars" broadcast.

ODDS AND ENDS—Perry Como's definition of neighbors—"People who never notice you till you do something you'd rather they wouldn't notice." In "None but the Lonely Heart," you see Cary Grant with a burned-out cigar; he's really a cigarette smoker, but cigarettes were out of character. "Duffy's Tavern," starring Ed Gardner, will continue in business for at least another year. "Second Husband," with Helen Menken, is just starting on its eighth. 1,600 servicemen have received 4 1/2 x 5 1/4-inch packets of the Goldwyn girls appearing in "Up in Arms"; pinups will be reduced to pin points if this goes on!

Moses Would Take Long Chance on His Prediction

An old Negro, Moses by name, had been a great weather predictor during his period of slavery and was fairly successful. After he was given his freedom he decided to make an almanac and got his master to do the writing for him. He began, of course, with January and made his weather predictions up to August 10, when he predicted a fall of snow. At this his master said: "Moses, you darn fool, you know it won't snow in August." Old Moses replied: "Yes, I know it ain't apt to snow in August, but just think, if it was to, what a great prophet I would be."

 You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds during this Fourth War Loan Drive.
 Everyone in this community knows incomes are higher than ever before—that both workers and farmers have more cash than ever before. Everyone knows that more than one member of hundreds of families are income earners—and everyone knows that increases in wages and salaries have far outstripped rising prices, and increased taxes. You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds.
 As a matter of fact, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra War Bonds. If you spend your money for needless, scarce goods, you are increasing prices. If you want to help win the war, you can't afford NOT to buy War Bonds. If you want to help that boy in the service, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds and if you want a well-earned investment for your own future security, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra War Bonds.

To the People of this Community
YOU ARE IMPORTANT
 There is no such thing as a "little" investment in the Fourth War Loan.
 Your $25 or $50 or $100 Extra War Bond may not have great importance in your mind in making up a 5 1/2 billion dollar total for individuals.
 But multiply yourself by 130,000,000 and then you see in real perspective how truly great each citizen becomes in massing national strength against the Nazis and the Japs.
 Capt. Maurice Witherspoon, Navy chaplain aboard the Carrier Wasp when she sank, tells of a rescued wounded sailor, who, as he regained consciousness, asked: "Did I do my best?"
 That's the only question you, too, have to ask yourself when you decide the extent of your personal participation in the Fourth War Loan.
 There undoubtedly will be large single purchases of War Bonds in this community, but yours—if it is "your best" will deserve equally the red, white and blue shield you are privileged to display in the window of your home.

KILL OR BE KILLED
 United States Marines paid the stiffest price in human life per square yard for the capture of Tarawa, vital Pacific outpost.
 It was kill or be killed. Your boys did not flinch when they ran into the deadliest fire-power along the beaches of this important Gilbert Island stronghold.
 This assault, bloody and costly, is one of the many which must be made before Tokyo and Berlin are pounded into dust and ashes.
 What are you doing to back up the boys? Remember these are boys from this very community, perhaps from your very home. Any home in your neighborhood which today does not display the treasury's red, white and blue 4th War Loan Shield proclaiming "We bought Extra War Bonds" is not backing the attack. Every Extra War Bond you buy becomes a direct fighter against Japan and Germany. If you could but see one man die on the battlefield, you would not count the cost of your slight sacrifices to buy Extra War Bonds to make each succeeding assault less costly in the lives of our boys.
 You can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds in the 4th War Loan if you would help these boys.

On the beaches of Italy, in the jungles of the Pacific—planes, tanks, artillery must move—and fast; no waiting to build roads or airfields. That's when our soldiers must unroll these "steel mattresses," as you see them in this photo. Your War Bonds pay for them.

War Bonds and the Farmer
 by J. L. Tennant
 Head, Dept. of Agricultural Economics
 Rhode Island State College

SOUND farm management suggests that funds should be reserved now to provide for depreciation, for insurance against risks, and for expected future outlays. The purchase of War Bonds is one of the best ways to conserve such savings.
 Every experienced farmer knows he must keep buildings in repair, and that machinery wears out or becomes obsolete. In our present crisis, many of the outlays needed to maintain the farm plant must be deferred. The lumber, minerals and chemicals now produced and our skilled and unskilled labor must be used to produce foods and fibre, build ships, make airplanes, and provide the other goods and services essential to the prosecution of the war.
 As our farm machinery gets older, as buildings go without painting, and with minimum attention to other repairs, these needs grow. When the war is over, our industries again will make civilian goods. Saving money and building a reserve through the purchase of War Bonds now, will enable a farmer to buy the equipment and the other goods and services which then will be available.

Savings Are Beneficial
 The savings from current income should include funds to replace household equipment and furnishings, to buy new equipment, and to install a water system, a central heating plant, electricity, or some other service which will add to the convenience and comfort of family living.
 A backlog in War Bonds will help to carry the farm business through a year in which expenses exceed the returns. Farming is subject to many hazards. A few of the risks are price changes, unfavorable weather, the outbreak of disease, the attack of a destructive insect, and the sudden illness of the operator. Growers of cash crops know that prices vary from year to year. Savings set aside during years when prices are relatively high, will help to carry the business through a year when re-

Why Farmers Should Buy and Hold War Bonds

WE ARE winning this global war but final victory may be a long way off. We all hope the end is near, but we must plan for a long war, one which may last two or more years. Certainly, it is disheartening to think that much of our fighting on both the European and Asiatic fronts is ahead of us, accompanied by long casualty lists. Unpleasant as this outlook appears it is much better than being enslaved by the murderous and plundering dictators of Germany and Japan.
 Hitler was right when he stated that this would be a total war. All of us must share its responsibilities and endure its many sacrifices. Unfortunately, all of us cannot share them equally. It is the farmer's job and his part in this war to produce farm products as never before, under the most trying and difficult conditions.
 In some countries food produced by farmers is taken away from them, but here in America farmers in general receive good prices for their farm products. Some of the extra money received should go into the purchase of War Bonds for the financing of this war. All must buy War Bonds for our boys at the front must be the best trained and equipped fighters in the world. It is much better to sacrifice material and equipment than the life of your boy or that of your neighbor's son on the battlefield.
 The purchase of War Bonds is a privilege and each of us should be proud to share in this privilege. In fact, we should sacrifice to buy as many War Bonds as possible. The Bonds farmers buy will help to shorten the war and at the same time form the soundest investment ever known. These Bonds will give the greatest return to farmers and others if they are held until maturity. Also by holding them you will help materially in preventing inflation now and after the war.

 Let us pause just a moment and analyze the situation. In general, farmers have surplus funds with which they would like to buy machinery, equipment, and many other things for the farm and the home. But all of these things are not available in the quantity desired. Therefore, farmers simply must go without them at least until they become available. It is just common sense that all of these things which the farmers would like to buy, and many of them are desperately needed, will not be available the day after the war is over or even within a year. During this time and probably longer I feel there is going to be a strong demand and good prices for farm products. Hence, most farmers will want to hold their War Bonds.
 In sizing up the entire situation it looks like good sound business for farmers to buy all the War Bonds possible and plan to hold them until maturity unless the cash is desperately needed. Thus, farmers are helping their country in financing the war and in preventing inflation by helping themselves.

Ahab, Trouble Maker.

Rev. Walter E. Isenhour, Hiddenite, N. C.
Ahab, king of Israel, was one of the most wicked kings that ever sat upon a throne. His kingship followed that of a number of other wicked kings, but we read in I Kings 16:30: "And Ahab the son of Omri did evil in the sight of the Lord above all that were before him."
At this time the prophet Elijah was sought by king Ahab as the trouble maker of Israel, Elijah had prayed for God to stop the rain on account of Ahab's awful wickedness, along with that of Jezebel, his wicked wife, who was one of the most ungodly queens the world has ever known perhaps. However, Elijah had revealed the fact that there would not be dew nor rain for "these years," and naturally that brought on a tremendous drouth, followed by a famine. In the meantime God took care of Elijah, although Ahab had sought for him throughout all his kingdom or kingdoms. He blamed Elijah, God's holy prophet, with the drouth and the sore famine.
One day God told Elijah to go and show himself to Ahab. "And it came to pass when Ahab saw Elijah, that Ahab said unto him, Art thou he that troubleth Israel?" Elijah answered, "I have not troubled Israel, but thou, and thy father's house, in that ye have forsaken the commandments of the Lord, and thou hast followed Baalim." "The fact I want to impress upon your mind, dear reader, is that wicked men oftentimes blame God's people with the judgements that God sends upon the earth on account of their wickedness. Oh, the awful wickedness of Ahab and Jezebel! On account of their sins God sent the drouth and famine, but they blamed Elijah for it.
God's people are never to blame for the outpourings of His wrath upon sinful rulers, sinful men and sinful nations. The wickedness of the wicked is the cause of it all. Sometimes God's people see the woeful consequences of sin and then pray for God to do something about it, and He answers their prayers by sending dreadful judgments upon the wicked. But realize this: the wicked are always the trouble makers, just as Ahab and Jezebel were in their day. They both went down to defeat and despair, while old Elijah went to Heaven and to eternal glory. Millions honor Elijah, and many name their children after him, but nobody honors Ahab and Jezebel, neither do they name their children after them. They were trouble makers.

What Is A Farmer?

New definition has been made for the farmer, an official one announced for Federal taxation purposes. The revenue statutes will define him as any person deriving 66 2/3 per cent of his income from agricultural operations.
But he is more than that.
The farmer is the fellow who gets up before daylight, feeds his cows, slops his pigs, and then eating a hasty breakfast, hurries forth to the field, trying to beat the sun there.
He is the fellow who has no "hours." All the hours are his and at the close of the daylight hour he goes back over the routine with his stock. One day seems like another, only perhaps a little more crowded.
He has no place to go for a weekly income, no pension. No electric fan cools his brow as he wrestles with the grassy crops 14 hours a day in June.
A farmer is a man who mustn't worry when he sees the rain ruining his crops or the drouth burning them up.
He is expected to produce more with less fertilizer and help. He is referred to as the backbone of the country but feels like the spareribs. He must support church and school and above all be respectable no matter how his city cousins raised him, dissipate and waste.
When he finishes one crop he must immediately, if not sooner, begin to break the land for another. He is a man who sows in the hope of reaping but at times his hopes are dashed. He must gamble with weather, insect and Federal directives and often the cards are marked against him.—Charlotte Observer.

Post War-wings

The Brookings Institution in a post-war economic study issues a warning that "capital as well as labor may price itself out of a market" if they yield to the temptation to charge all the traffic will bear.
Under the stress of shortages there is always the temptation to hoist prices to the breaking point, but experiences shows that such short-sighted policy is a boomerang, doing incalculable hurt to both business and labor.
We have had buyers' strikes before, when the public, as if by common agreements, withdrew from the market when prices got out of hand and threatened to run away. As a result factories had to shut down, workers were thrown out of employment, and management, suddenly sobering in the face of vanishing consumer demand, sharply cut costs to regain public confidence and stimulate a resurgence of buying.
Permanent prosperity can only be expected if there is a sane balance between prices and purchasing power, and when labor or industry, or both, become too greedy, the public will stop buying, either in protest or because the pocket-books became anemic.—Statesville Daily.
Four National Capital Housing Authority war housing projects, erected at a cost of some $10,000,000, may have to be written off as "inevitable war surpluses." At least that's the dire prediction of the head of the Housing Authority—who should be as qualified an authority on the subject as anyone.

It's High Time To Change

It is most certainly high time to make a change in our government at Washington. From every side come demands that something be done to relieve suffering Americans. We believe the voters of America are looking to the Republican party to make a clean sweep at the nation's capital. Frequently we are quoting leading citizens as to what they think should be done. Here we are giving quotations from three of the country's leading newspaper columnists who are recognized as being keen students of public affairs.
WALTER LIPMANN: "The dissatisfaction with the diplomatic conduct of war, which was at a high point last summer, subsided after the Moscow, Cairo and Teheran conferences. It is now mounting again. A principal cause of the trouble, now as then, is that the administration of our foreign policy by the White House and State Department is not sufficiently alert, lucid, consistent and efficient."
DAVID LAWRENCE: "The most discouraging aspect of the war is the manpower muddle in the U. S. It is discouraging because it is so unnecessary. With all the experience gained in the world war and with all the knowledge to be derived from the operation of conscription in other countries for the last several decades, the American bungling is inexcusable indefensible."
FRANK R. KENT: "The state of affairs which has arisen over the vital question of manpower reveals such vacillation, contradiction, confusion and feebleness within the administration that those who insist that this is the worst muddle since the war began do not appear to exaggerate. Actually, the situation is without precedent—and almost beyond belief."
Such indictment by experts tend to confirm millions of patriotic citizens in the conclusion they have reached that the New Deal administration should be retired. Their sentiments were echoed in a significant editorial announcement in the widely circulated Saturday Evening Post, "that it is high time for a change in the national administration. The post does not subscribe to the doctrine that any one man, or group of men, is indispensable to our national welfare, to the prosecution of the war or to the solution of world problems after the war. It does believe that the New Deal has long been in power; that it has grown arrogant; that its politics of unlimited spending and unlimited bureaucracy eventually would lead to the destruction of democratic government; that its consistent encroachment on individual freedom and private enterprise is a growing threat to the American way of life."—Union Republican.

After Billions Come Trillions

In predicting that the national debt limit will be raised, one commentator says that next year the national debt will reach 250 billions of dollars or a "Quarter of a trillion." It wasn't too many years ago that money was measured by millions. Once the debt reached the billion dollars. Now that the first mention of "trillion" has been made—well, that's something for Superman to toy with.
By the way what comes after a trillion?—Redwood Falls, Minn., Gazette.

How Long, Oh, How Long

Mr. Editor.—How long will the people of dear old America tolerate the Roosevelt Dictatorship? I get so sick and tired of all the talk of the four freedoms, "Freedom from fear, Freedom from want, Freedom of speech and Freedom of religion." We had all four of these freedoms all our lives, until Franklin D. Roosevelt got in office and became first dictator of America and now we don't have freedom to even plant our farms. The whole nation is under bondage, fear, want, distress, sorrow, trouble, heartaches, liquor, beer, wine and all the broken homes filled with tears because of the most terrible war the nation has ever known are the things Franklin D. has given us. I sat behind my radio and heard Roosevelt say that if he was elected for a third term that he was "promising the American mothers that he guaranteed that their sons would not be sent to war on foreign soil." Well, did he tell the truth? Did he keep his promise or has he lied to the American mothers?
In every picture Roosevelt is wearing a smile. Even as Judas betrayed Christ with a kiss, so has Roosevelt betrayed America with a smile. In all of his "fireside chats" how many times have you heard him pray? Have you ever heard him say one time that we need the Lord in anything? Has he ever sent out a proclamation for the nation to pray for peace?
We are in the worst war the world has ever known. Do we have any peace plans? No! "Unconditional Surrender" is no peace terms. Our sons have been taken out of school, yes School Children, not old enough to have a voice in the government, not old enough vote, but they have been called out and forced to go to war. What a shame in a Christian Country.
Mothers and fathers! Who have sons in camp are not allowed to have gas to go to see their children, even if they are sick, but Eleanor goes across the seas, travels thousands of miles, has gas for any purpose, runs around and stirs up racial strife among the negroes. Where does she get gas for her big trips? How many times has the nation heard of her going to church? How many of us ever heard her pray or ever heard her pray or ever heard her even insinuate like we need the Lord in any of our affairs. When has she ever tried to help except to bring social equality between the negroes and the white race?
Suppose she had worked as hard to help keep our nation on a Christian standard as she has to degrade it with beer and dance halls, wouldn't our county have been different today?
I long to see the day come when our children will return home to us and when America will be given back her Christian heritage, a Christian president. Then and not until then will we ever have normal times. Twelve years ago we were a free country. Today we are under the bondage of war and dictatorship. How long will America suffer her liberties to be destroyed?
Yours for Christianity and true American principles for which our fathers died.—Mrs. S. A. Hatley, in Union Republican.

On the battlefield of Africa tank commander Lt. Dean Shatlain, was severely wounded. Alone, he amputated his own foot with a jack-knife and thought he was dying when he wrote this poem. Later he was rescued by Americans and is now recovering in a hospital in England.

Let's Face Facts

Farm Machinery Output At Double 1943 Level; But Remains a Problem

By BARROW LYONS
WNU Staff Correspondent

Several senators from farming sections are predicting that the War Food administration is going to have a rude surprise within a few weeks when it discovers that farmers are not planting the acreages expected of them this year — partly because they cannot get farm machinery they need to make up for the shortage of manpower.

Equally positive are officials of the War Production board that there will be enough machinery with which to plant, cultivate and harvest all crops. War Food administration points confidently to early reports of acreage planted and says that if average weather prevails, crops will be adequate for domestic needs — but with less to spare for feeding foreign populations than UNRRA will request.

Here is the argument that WPB gives: Last year only about 40 per cent of the machinery manufactured in the base years — 1940 and 1941 — was produced; but this year about 80 per cent of the base year production is planned. Production is running close to schedule on some items and lagging on others. Harvesting and hay gathering machinery seems to be furthest behind.

Harvesting machinery is in much greater demand than the supply. In this field authorized schedules are, on the whole, almost 125 per cent of base period production, but it is not now expected that schedules will be met. How far output will lag depends largely upon labor supply and the demand of the military for critical components.

Scheduled Increases

Combines with width of cut over 10 feet are scheduled for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1945, at 118 per cent of base output, those between 6 and 10 feet at 110 per cent and smaller ones at 75 per cent. Schedules for binders are not as great in proportion to base output. But the programs for potato diggers and pickers, beet and vegetable harvesters are much higher.

Furthermore, repair parts may be manufactured in whatever quantities needed. Altogether, the farm machinery industry is programmed to turn out nearly twice the volume of equipment it did last year — but, frankly, the program is not going to be completed.

However, an indication that the situation is not as serious as last year is that the volume of complaints is far less. One WPB official, who last year at this time was receiving from 50 to 55 telephone calls a day from congressmen requesting him to look after constituents, is at present receiving very few urgent requests for farm machinery.

There is one certainty — farmers must give more attention to repair of equipment than ever before. In this country they have hardly begun to take repairs as seriously as farmers in England or in enemy nations. Those who have been to England say the British are far ahead of us in that respect, and reports coming from Germany indicate that a fine job is being done there on the repair problem.

Dealers throughout America, however, have been advised to order repair parts by telegram, and manufacturers to ship by airmail. No red tape or forms are required. All a farmer needs to do is to tell his dealer that he needs the repair parts.

Many Repairs Needed

Recently the results of a survey of repair needs made by the WPB Office of Civilian Requirements was published. It showed that in 1943 owners of 42 per cent of the moving machines of the country required repairs for their equipment, and that 13 per cent of those needing repairs did not get them; 42 per cent of the owners of combines required repairs, and 8 per cent of those requiring them were not serviced. These were among the worst repair records.

But it is the belief in WPB today that repair troubles should be virtually a thing of the past, and that normal servicing will be obtained.

In Indiana, cooperative repair shops have been established which have been a great aid in obtaining speedy repairs. In a few other states repair shops have been established as part of the agricultural college extension services, and farmers come from all parts of the counties to avail themselves of these facilities.

On the whole, machinery manufacturers are handicapped by labor shortages, lack of motors, chains, malleable iron and castings.

To obtain the best distribution of farm machinery, manufacturers this year were authorized to dispose of 80 per cent of their output where they thought it would do the most good. Twenty per cent was under allocation of the War Food administration to supply in areas where supply appears to be short. The opinion of those responsible for this program is that it has been working fairly well.

Backstage Scenes With 'Prisoners of War'

(1) German prisoners of war have their own band at Fort Dix, N. J. Here they play overture to play staged by other "P of Ws." (2) A scene from the play "Froh und Heiter" (Bright and Gay). Scenery and costumes are the work of the prisoners made from waste material during their spare time. (3) A scene in the kitchen of the prisoners' mess hall showing them preparing the evening meal for their fellow Nazis. These men appear anything but unhappy.

Navy Crewmen Find Antidote for Battle Strain

Once the business of conquering Roi island was completed, these crewmen of a United States navy aircraft carrier take the antidote for post-battle nervous strain by an invigorating swim in the warm waters of a lagoon in the Marshalls. After the heat of battle a dip is a soothing tonic for the nerves, the men declare.

French and English Generals in Italy

General Juin, commander of the French Expeditionary corps in Italy; General Leese, commander of the Eighth army; and Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, commander in chief of the Allied forces in Italy, are shown engaged in conversation when General Alexander paid a visit to the Eighth's headquarters.

Principal in Sedition Trial

A principal in the biggest sedition trial of this war, Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling of Chicago, appears quite unconcerned before the camera. She is shown here with her daughter, Elizabeth Joan, and her ex-husband, Albert Dilling, who acted as her counsel at District court trial in Washington. Mrs. Dilling, along with 29 others, is accused of conspiracy.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO
By VIRGINIA VALE
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

ACTORS come and actors go, but it looks as if the Ameches would go on forever. Although Jim Jr., now barely six, says he wants to be a mounted cop when he grows up, he's doing right well as a regular member of the cast of CBS's "Big Sister"; he got the role a year ago when none of the child-imitators suited Director Tom Hutchinson. Jim Jr. can't read, so Jim Sr. coaches him in memorizing the lines, then stands behind the cut-down mike and cues the boy with gestures; young Jim looks at him instead of at the rest of the cast, and it's one of the most amusing and delightful things to be seen in any of New York's many broadcasting studios.

Fernando Alvarado was a veteran actor when he was young Jim's age. He's ten, and has been in pictures nine years and four months, has had speaking roles in 50 feature pictures. His newest one is "The Falcon in Mexico."

Wild Bill Elliott tried for 12 years to convince Hollywood casting directors that he really was a cowboy. A series of pictures in which he played Wild Bill Hickock gave him his screen nickname, and at last he's been recognized as one of the best horsemen the screen has ever had, a cowboys' horseman. He's creating the role of "Red Ryder" in Republic's new series based on Fred Harman's cartoons.

When Anne Shirley showed up on the set of "Here Comes the Bride" with an inflamed eye, Producer-Director John Auer didn't send her home; he had Anne and Phil Terry play the picture's five kissing scenes. "You will please shut your eyes when you kiss him, Anne," said Auer. "We will make it come true that love is blind." And the camera never picked up a glimpse of her inflamed eye.

Helen Holmes was a star of silent films. Now she's on Hollywood movie sets again. One of the actors in RKO's "The Falcon in Mexico," which stars Tom Conway, is Blackie. Helen Holmes directs him. Blackie is a cat.

"Lives of great men all remind us"—of Warner Bros. Following "The Adventures of Mark Twain," the studio has eight other famous lives lined up for us. "Rhapsody in Blue," film story of George Gershwin, is completed; on the way are the hit stories of Will Rogers, Audubon, Marilyn Miller, Cole Porter, Vincent Youmans, Broadway's Sime Silverman, and Marine Sergeant Al Schmid.

Carlo Ross is thanking his stars for fan letters. Six weeks ago this young war worker was engaged by J. L. Grimes, originator and producer of "Musical Steelmakers," to sing just eight bars of the program's theme song each week. Those eight bars of song every Sunday impressed 1,418 listeners so much that they wrote to Carlo, in Wheeling—and now he's a featured vocalist on each "Steelmakers" broadcast.

When visitors to Hildgarde's "Beat the Band" program hail her as "Charlie" she's delighted. It was her father's name, and when she was a child in New Holstein, Wis., it was the custom for the children to call each other by their father's given names. Hildy was born in Milwaukee and acquired her famous continental manners in Europe.

Beatrice Kay, singer-comedienne of the air's "Gay Nineties," will make her picture debut in the very near future. "Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe," in which she has a featured role, is going into production much sooner than expected.

ODDS AND ENDS—Irene Dunn will play her original role in "Penny Serenade" when it's done on the air May 8. . . . Ingrid Bergman, soon to be seen in Metro's "Caslight," was chosen as the pin-up girl of "Yank," army weekly, for one issue. . . . Al Tolson will make his debut as producer by handling Columbia's remake of "Bartlesay," with Rita Hayworth in the role done originally by Barbara Stanwyck. . . . After a two-months' vacation, Errol Flynn has checked in at Warner Bros. to begin his next starring role, in "Objective Burma." . . . "Road to Utopia" Bob Hope wears a moustache copied from the one Colonna made famous.

Some one remarked a few days ago that the Democrats in this section had seen the hand-writing on the wall. Here's hoping all of them can read and interpret the writing.

President Roosevelt went South a few weeks ago to spend two weeks taking a much needed rest. He returned to Washington Sunday after an absence of four weeks in South Carolina resting. We are hoping he will soon be rested up for the strenuous days ahead. If we are not mistaken he will be given a long vacation on the first Tuesday in November.

The Democratic State Convention which met in Raleigh last week, didn't invite Eleanor to come down and speak for them. If we are not mistaken, she made a speech in Salisbury several months ago, and it will be a long time before the Rowan Democrats forget what she said on that occasion. We had been hoping that Eleanor would make a speech in Davie some time before the November election.

A War Job with a Future
-in a War Industry with a Future!

DO YOU WANT TO do some real war work...in a job with a future...in an industry that is going places after the war?

If so, take a look at the 100,000 job opportunities which the American railroads are offering today.

These jobs are available because more men and women workers are urgently needed by the railroads to keep the trains "rolling for Victory." It is real war work. And it is exciting, fascinating, satisfying work...in peacetime as well as in time of war.

Today, the Nation is depending on the railroads to move the fighting men and fighting freight.

Tomorrow, when Victory comes, the Nation will still be depending on the railroads for its essential transportation service. For no other form of transportation can supply the economical, dependable mass transportation service which American industry and agriculture will need in the post-war era.

That's why railroad work is vital war work with a future. The railroads won't fold up when the war ends. They're proving now...with the great wartime job they are doing...that the Nation can't get along without railroads.

If you want one of these war jobs... in an industry that has a tradition of steady employment...in an industry that is going places after the war... talk it over with a railroad officer or agent, or apply direct to any office of the Railroad Retirement Board or the United States Employment Service.

DUSTY CONCRETE FLOORS

Question: Some time ago you wrote about a mixture for laying the dust of a concrete cellar floor. Will you please repeat?

Answer: You can lay the dust by soaking the floor with a mixture of one part water glass in four parts of water. Make plenty of this mixture, so that it can be poured on the floor liberally, spread with a broom and the floor allowed to soak it up. At the end of some hours, wipe up any puddles that may remain. You may have to repeat the treatment within a day or two. But if you wish to paint the floor later on, water glass should not be used. If you should wish to paint, get a kind of paint that is proof against the effects of lime; for ordinary floor paint will not last on a basement floor if laid in the usual way.

DO YOU have a large wall space somewhere in your house that looks rather bare? Why not fill it with a group of matched brackets on which you may make an attractive arrangement of bric-a-brac and trailing vines?

This sketch shows a set of three brackets in a quaint old-fashioned heart design over a davenport in the living room. The center bracket is fourteen inches wide with one of the matching smaller brackets on each side. The sketch also shows how easy it is to cut out the heart design with a sharp knife after boring holes with a brace and bit. Any school boy who has the use of a coping saw or maybe a jig saw may make these graceful brackets.

NOTE—Mrs. Spears has prepared an actual size pattern for all the pieces of this set of wall brackets, with complete directions for cutting, assembling and finishing. The lines of these brackets are so well proportioned that you will be proud to own them. Ask for Pattern 263 and enclose 15 cents, which covers cost and mailing. Address:

Print Accents

A new style technique that offers endless possibilities is that of using print for matching accessories and as accent to the costume itself. We used to think that a print blouse was the whole story but now in order to make news a print blouse must be teamed with something else made of the same pattern. In this instance a blouse is accompanied by gloves of the same print. To further unify the costume the wool suit has inserts at the shoulders of the same silk and rayon polka dot that makes the blouse and the gloves.

To the People of this Community

YOU CAN AFFORD IT

You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds during this Fourth War Loan Drive.

Everyone in this community knows incomes are higher than ever before—that both workers and farmers have more cash than ever before. Everyone knows that more than one member of hundreds of families are income earners—and everyone knows that increases in wages and salaries have far outstripped rising prices, and increased taxes. You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds.

As a matter of fact, you can't afford NOT to Buy Extra War Bonds. If you spend your money for needless, scarce goods, you are increasing prices. . . . If you want to help win the war you can't afford NOT to buy War Bonds. If you want to help that boy in the service, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds and if you want a gilt-edged investment for your own future security, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra War Bonds.

Don't just do the expected—buy All the Bonds you can.

THE EDITOR.

To the People of this Community

YOU ARE IMPORTANT

There is no such thing as a "little" investment in the Fourth War Loan.

Your $25 or $50 or $100 Extra War Bond may not have great importance in your mind in making up a 5 1/2 billion dollar total for individuals.

But multiply yourself by 130,000,000 and then you see in real perspective how truly great each citizen becomes in massing national strength against the Nazis and the Japs.

Capt. Maurice Witherspoon, Navy chaplain aboard the Carrier Wasp when she sank, tells of a rescued wounded sailor, who, as he regained consciousness, asked: "Did I do my best?"

That's the only question you, too, have to ask yourself when you decide the extent of your personal participation in the Fourth War Loan.

There undoubtedly will be large single purchases of War Bonds in this community, but yours—if it is "your best"—will deserve equally the red, white and blue shield you are privileged to display in the window of your home.

"Let's Keep Backing the Attack."

THE EDITOR.

To the People of this Community

KILL OR BE KILLED

United States Marines paid the stiffest price in human life per square yard for the capture of Tarawa, vital Pacific outpost.

It was kill or be killed. Your boys did not flinch when they ran into the deadliest firepower along the beaches of this important Gilbert Island stronghold. This assault, bloody and costly, is one of the many which must be made before Tokyo and Berlin are pounded into dust and ashes.

What are you doing to back up the boys? Remember these are boys from this very community, perhaps from your very home. Any home in your neighborhood which today does not display the treasury's red, white and blue 4th War Loan Shield proclaiming "We bought Extra War Bonds" is not backing the attack. Every Extra War Bond you buy becomes a direct fighter against Japan and Germany. If you could but see one man die on the battlefield, you would not count the cost of your slight sacrifices to buy Extra War Bonds to make each succeeding assault less costly in the lives of our boys.

You can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds in the 4th War Loan if you would help these boys.

THE EDITOR.

On the beaches of Italy, in the jungles of the Pacific—planes, tanks, artillery must move—and fast; no waiting to build roads or airfields. That's when our soldiers must unroll these "steel mattresses" as you see them in this photo. Your War Bonds pay for them.

FARMERS are playing a vital role in the Victory drama. Most farmers are doing their utmost to insure that our armed forces and our civilian workers are getting ample supplies of the right kinds of food for continued maximum efficiency. All of this is being accomplished under unusual circumstances such as labor shortages, scarcity of essential feeds, fertilizers, gasoline, spray materials, and limited machinery repairs and replacements.

On the other hand, we must admit that our extra effort is being more adequately rewarded than previously and that along with such sacrifices and hardships as are encountered, there is some gain; and justly so. The farmer deserves every bit of credit and money he gets for his part. In that knowledge, however, lies real danger. Are we apt to become complaisant and feel we are doing our part? CAN we do more?

SELFISHNESS OR SELFLESSNESS: War is selfish business. No war ever began from purely philanthropic motives. To the aggressor, the gain always outweighs the sacrifice. To the defenders, the violation of human rights and liberties forms the common meeting ground of joint agreement and effort. However, victories are not won by selfishness. They depend on selflessness—a willingness and desire to sacrifice individual good for the good of all. That is why both sides always must try valiantly to establish in the minds and hearts of their peoples the justice of their cause. That is the will that wins.

OPPORTUNITY? If each of us were faced with the necessity of answering honestly the question—Am I doing everything within my power to speed the day of victory—the answer in most cases would be "No." Some of us can't forget or forego things which in a time of crisis matter little.

The two things most essential to waging successful warfare are food and money. The farmer recognizes his responsibility in food production. Does he fully recognize his opportunity to help provide the munitions of war?

OBLIGATION? Government Bonds offer the farmer an opportunity to have a part in providing our fighting men with ample and effective training and equipment. They also are an opportune way of laying aside reserves to meet needed repair and replacement costs after the war. Are they an obligation? Oh yes! The obligation of the government to pay back the loan with interest is no greater than our obligation to LEND the government our support. Remember? WE are the government. "WE THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES."

PRIVILEGE? The greatest joys in life come from the privileges we enjoy, and which we are now fighting to defend. It is not only an opportunity and an obligation, but also a privilege to have as great a part as possible in insuring to ourselves, our children, and to generations yet unborn those freedoms which distinguish the bond and the free.

War Bonds and the Farmer

Head, Dept. of Agricultural Economics

SOUND farm management suggests that funds should be reserved now to provide for depreciation, for insurance against risks, and for expected future outlays. The purchase of War Bonds is one of the best ways to conserve such savings.

Every experienced farmer knows he must keep buildings in repair, and that machinery wears out or becomes obsolete. In our present crisis, many of the outlays needed to maintain the farm plant must be deferred. The lumber, minerals and chemicals now produced and our skilled and unskilled labor must be used to produce foods and fibre, build ships, make airplanes, and provide the other goods and services essential to the prosecution of the war.

As our farm machinery gets older, as buildings go without painting, and with minimum attention to other repairs, these needs grow. When the war is over, our industries again will make civilian goods. Saving money and building a reserve through the purchase of War Bonds now, will enable a farmer to buy the equipment and the other goods and services which then will be available.

Savings Are Beneficial
The savings from current income should include funds to replace household equipment and furnishings, to buy new equipment, and to install a water system, a central heating plant, electricity, or some other service which will add to the convenience and comfort of family living.

A back-log in War Bonds will help to carry the farm business through a year in which expenses exceed the returns. Farming is subject to many hazards. A few of the risks are price changes, unfavorable weather, the outbreak of disease, the attack of a destructive insect, and the sudden illness of the operator. Growers of cash crops know that prices vary from year to year. Savings set aside during years when prices are relatively high, will help to carry the business through a year when returns are small. A potato grower who put part of his receipts from the 1942 and 1943 crops into War Bonds will find such a reserve is extremely helpful in a year of low prices. A few hundred dollars in War Bonds are very useful when the farm family faces an emergency as a result of a serious illness or accident.

In planning for the future of the family or the business, each farm operator will find reserves for a specific purpose are desirable. With one it will be a provision for the education of children; with another funds for retirement may be important. With a young man especially, such reserves will furnish the first payment for the purchase of a farm. A farmer who owns the land he operates will find such a fund useful if and when an opportunity to purchase additional land develops.

Saving Time Varies
The time of the year when money to buy War Bonds is available varies with the type of farming. On dairy farms income usually is received monthly or semimonthly. The expenses of the poultry farmer are heavy during the months that chickens are being raised. Producers of cash crops have large outlays during the planting and growing season.

But depreciation is continuous. Therefore, irrespective of the type of farming, definite provision should be made to reserve in War Bonds part of the receipts from sales of crops, livestock, or livestock products.

United States War Bonds may be bought in various amounts and are redeemable. For every $3.00 invested, $4.00 will be returned at the end of 10 years. They are safe. The interest rate compares favorably with that from savings deposits. Investing in War Bonds helps to finance the war. Following the war, such savings will provide the farm operator with the cash to buy improvements for his farm and home; to educate his children; and to do the other things which he or his family wish to undertake, at a time when loans may be difficult to obtain.

Resisting Temptation

Rev. Walter E. Isehour, Hiddenite, N. C.
Many years ago a Christian young man was invited by one of his neighbor boys into an old store building. It was Sunday afternoon. As soon as entering the building the Christian youth realized that he was face to face with the temptation of liquor. He was invited to take a drink, and rather strongly insisted upon, to which the Christian youth replied emphatically "No," and walked out. As he was going to church that evening he felt glad and happy that he absolutely and triumphantly resisted temptation. The neighbor who tempted him to drink felt guilty and asked him not to tell it.
Later in life this Christian youth became a minister of the Gospel, and for years and years has preached God's blessed truth, and has won many souls to Christ. Thousands have heard the glorious truth of the Gospel from his lips. Likewise he has been a strong prohibitionist, and has fought the liquor traffic from the pulpit and through the press with great force. His articles and poems against liquor have gone throughout the nation, also his writings otherwise. Tens of thousands have read his books, articles, messages, poems, tracts, and no doubt his influence for God, country and native land has meant much. God has used him in a wonderful, glorious way.
But suppose he had yielded to the temptation of liquor that Sunday afternoon, what might have been the consequence? He might have made a drunkard instead of a preacher of the Gospel, a writer and soul-winner. Do you suppose that Christian youth has ever regretted the fact that he strongly and successfully resisted that temptation, and many other temptations across the years? No, a thousand times no. It was a blessed victory for him, and doubtless has meant a victory for others, maybe thousands of them, through his life and influence.

The neighbor who tempted this Christian youth to drink is still living, so far as I know, but the world has never heard of him. He may still drink. I hope not; but he has let his golden opportunities slip by and has never accomplished anything good, great nor worth while so far as I have ever heard. Liquor has defeated its millions and millions of people, multitudes of whom could have made great, noble, brilliant men, and could have accomplished something great, good and worth while in life. Reader, it pays at all times and in all places to resist the temptations of the devil, then go forward and upward for God and all that is right and beautiful. This is life's better way. Follow it until your crowning day to Heaven.
"Our Government, which has been in a financial hole for so many years, is the largest buyer of red ink. To meet the demands of Federal agencies last year, the Procurement Division purchased 3,000 pints and 10,000 quarter-pints. Mr. Morgenthau's Treasury Department received the largest supply. The Lord knows they needed it."—Jerry Klutz, Washington, D. C., Post.

The familiar initials, FDR, which appear frequently in newspaper headlines have a new connotation. According to the dean of Democratic Senators, Ellison D. "Cotton Ed" Smith of South Carolina, those initials stand for "Federal Debt Raiser."

Wasting Milk

When a government regulation forces a concern to "pour 1,000 gallons of milk down the drain every Monday" in one community at a time when the retail sale of milk is being restricted and regulated because of scarcity and producers are being urged by the government to do all possible to increase production, it is obvious that something has gone wrong and badly wrong.
Cows have to be milked every day, seven days a week, and they produce just as much milk on Sunday as any other day. But for the laudable purpose of conserving gasoline, tires and equipment, the Office of Defense Transportation last September ordered the Georgia Milk Producers Confederation, Inc., centered in Atlanta, to limit milk deliveries to six days a week. The co-operative organization receives and distributes the milk produced by 160 farmers in 19 counties. Presumably most of the milk is distributed in Atlanta.
But the co-operative, according to its manager, has been forced to pour out 1,000 gallons of milk each Monday recently because it lacked both storage space and equipment to deliver two days' receipts in one day. And thus much-needed milk is wasted while it is already too scarce, producers and distributors lose money and unquestionably there are many people in Atlanta, as in other cities, who cannot get all the milk they need.
Admittedly, it is imperative that gasoline, tires and equipment be conserved, but so should the milk supply. And, after all, one would be safe in wagering that many people in Georgia are getting about all the gasoline they desire, even for unessential driving, thru black market operations, as many people are going in North Carolina, even in and around Charlotte.—Charlotte Observer.

Would Jefferson Qualify

A group of Democrats in "South Carolina have formed the "Southern Democratic Party," opposed to a fourth term and the New Deal. Leaders of the movement declared in a formal statement that they "can no longer accept a national party label which seems to include everything but democracy."
If Thomas Jefferson, father of the Democratic Party, were alive today would he recognize the party he founded and would he be accepted by the New Dealers now dominating the party?
It was Thomas Jefferson, father of the Democratic Party, were alive today would he recognize the party he founded and would he be accepted by the New Dealers now dominating the party?
It was Thomas Jefferson who, in summing up some of the blessings of American citizenship, stated:
What more is necessary to make us a happy and prosperous people? Still one thing more, my fellow citizens, a wise and frugal government which will restrain men from injuring one another, which shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned. This is the sum of good government."
And it was Thomas Jefferson who declared: If there be any among us who would wish to dissolve this Union or to change its republican form let reason be free to combat this error of opinion."

The Draft Confusion

The nation-wide confusion regarding the ever changing draft regulations is typical of what mismanagement in Washington can produce.
The President without consulting the heads of either the Selective Service or the manpower commission, issued an order to tighten deferments. The heads of the Selective Service and the manpower commission issued different instructions. The result is that the draft boards are caught between the two in a confusion which makes their already difficult job that much harder.
The recent order to halt induction of men over twenty-six who are employed in essential jobs, with daily revisions of orders and instructions to draft boards emanating from Washington, provoked Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, to declare:
"The time has come for the Administration to quit playing fast and loose with the existence of our own citizens and their families. It is utterly ridiculous at this stage of the war to have married men telling their families goodbye, giving up their jobs, and selling their businesses, only to be told the next day it was all a mistake and they will not be needed; that they can go back home and pick up the scattered threads of their lives—but not securely for they might be called again on a moment's notice. Such confusion is not only harmful to public morale, but also must be a deterrent to constancy in war production."
Senator Taft, who tried unsuccessfully to inject some common sense into the draft program two years ago, called for a four-point program. This would make all draft classifications clear, definite, and permanent; keep them that way unless a truly great emergency arose; end the confusion of all men of draft age, and allow the nation to get on with winning the war.

Heroes All

The second World War is producing a crop of heroes that threaten to eclipse the fabulous exploits of York, Rickenbacker and others whose valorous achievements a quarter of a century ago stirred the imagination of the whole country.
The Congressional Medal is a rare honor, but already forty men have given this highest award in the present war, but of these only fifteen are living.
Latest winners of the coveted prize are an Oklahoma Indian, Lieutenant Ernest Childers, who won the medal for "exceptional leadership, initiative, calmness under fire, and conspicuous gallantry" in cleaning out a couple of machine gun nests, one of them single handed. The other, Sergeant Charles E. Kelly, is officiating credit with having killed forty Nazis.
While the Congressional Medal and other awards must be earned, there must be thousands of brave soldiers whose valorous deeds remain unnoticed and unused, either for lack of corroborative evidence or for any of dozens of reasons and circumstances in which luck plays a major role. And there are thousands of potential heroes who, eager though they might be to meet the foe, never get a chance to fire a gun at him.
Nevertheless, their willingness to fight and expose themselves to the dangers of unknown hazards marks them as men of valor, and as far as we are concerned they are heroes, every one of them.—Statesville Daily

Dewey, Warren, Hoover

The Chicago Sun recently had the following to say about the Republican national ticket, which is interesting to say the least:
For many months the report has been current that Herbert Hoover had already decided on his Republican ticket, and gone to work effectively behind the scenes to nominate Dewey and Warren. The selection of Governor Warren to keynote the national convention, combined with the apparently unassailable position of Governor Dewey for the first place on the ticket, brings within Mr. Hoover's grasp his greatest triumph since he left the White House a defeated man in 1933.
"It's Dewey and Warren"—you can almost hear the whispers being passed along from delegate to delegate. Barring earthquake, tornado or other acts of God, it apparently remains only for the convention to ratify.
Dewey and Warren—New York and California—and behind them both, Herbert Hoover, the elder statesman whose dominating passion for 11 years has been a desire for vindication at the bar of history. Passed over by unanimous consent of his party in 1936, hurled into outer darkness in 1940, Mr. Hoover, returns to a place of power in the G. O. P. Happy days—are they here again?—Ex.

Eleanor Went After Nylons

We finally have found out why Eleanor Roosevelt, the one who wears the White House pants, went on that 45,000-bomber trip to the southwest Pacific. We knew all the time it would finally come out. It was to get some nylons. At any rate, New Zealand newspapers are advertising thousands of pairs of nylons. They were sent to New Zealand and Australia from American stocks under Franklin Roosevelt's pet lead-lease. In case you've perhaps forgotten, lend lease is in charge of Harry Hopkins.—Ex.

Democratic Scandal

The State of North Carolina is rucked again with another old time Democratic scandal. A bill of indictment containing 16 counts charging Dr. L. R. Meadows, president of East Carolina Teachers College at Greenville, Pitt county, with embezzlement of state and student activity funds handled through his personal bank account was presented to the Pitt county grand jury by Solicitor D. M. Clark.
The action was an outgrowth of recent action in which the board of trustees of the college exonerated Dr. Meadows of charges by state auditors that he had failed to "satisfactorily explain" disposition of funds totaling over $18,000, and later granted his retirement effective August 31.

Tractors Are Scarce

As an example of how hard pressed farmers are for farm machinery in producing the food-for-victory quotas the Government has established for 1944 Senator Wheeler of Nebraska cited in Congress that at a recent farm auction near Betrice, 170 farmers posted $136,000 in earnest money as a required OPA preliminary to bidding on one tractor. Each bidder was required to post $800 before bidding for the tractor. Referring to UNRRA plans to send 30,000 tractors to enemy occupied countries Senator Wherry declared "we should see to it that our farmers get the equipment we need before we plan to send such equipment to foreign nations."

Dewey Leads Farmer Poll

By George Gallup
Princeton, N. J.—If when November rolls around President Roosevelt is the Democratic presidential candidate and the war appears to be in its final stages in Europe, one of the major jobs facing Democratic party generals will be that of winning the nation's farmers.
As of today, on the basis of a survey covering farm areas from coast to coast, 58 per cent of those with opinions say they prefer Governor Thomas E. Dewey, 42 per cent President Roosevelt, when asked to choose between the two most popular candidates of rank and file Democrats and Republicans.

Spring Notes

'Tis the season for foods to don spring dress—to try on new colors, to keep Mrs. Homemaker cool while the sun becomes warmer and brighter, to perk up appetites that lag because "it's too warm to eat."
I'm not advocating any sulphur and molasses diet because you can do a better job in a much smarter way, that is, by serving foods keyed to the season and making the most of them.

The first rule to follow in pepping up menus is to take foods which are choice and fresh. In the vegetable group you'll find asparagus, peas, carrots, radishes, lettuce, spring onions, beets, string beans, spinach, endive, chicory, dandelion greens, escarole and wild greens.
In fruits, there is not as much variety, but the quality is lovely. You can have delicate pink and tender rhubarb, apples, pears, pineapple, cherries, strawberries and oranges.

Keeping Cool.
It's the smart homemaker who cooks her food quickly and stays out of the kitchen during the hot weather. Use the refrigerator as much as possible and plan meals that cook in an hour or less. If it's possible, make ready in the cool hours of the morning, and then just before dinner, pop foods into the oven, broiler or surface units to cut down preparation time. It's a good recipe for remaining cool and crisp.

Here is the first suggestion for today. The ham is cleverly extended with a dressing and may be baked with the garnish and dessert.

- | MENU I                 |             |
|------------------------|-------------|
| Baked Pears            | Green Salad |
| Ham on Dressing        | Rolls       |
| Strawberry-Rhubarb Pie |             |
- Ham on Dressing,
(Serves 6)
1 ham slice, 1 inch thick
1 cup chopped celery
2 cups soft bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon thyme or marjoram
½ medium-sized onion, minced
½ cup bacon or meat drippings
Toss together celery, bread crumbs, salt, pepper, thyme and onion. Add bacon drippings. Put into slightly greased baking dish. Top with ham slice. If desired, spread slice with thin layer of prepared mustard. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 1 hour.

- Save Used Fats!
Cranberry Baked Pears.
Pare, halve and core large firm pears. Place in baking dish and fill hollows with cranberry sauce. Cover bottom of pan with water and bake covered in a moderate oven about 20 minutes or until tender.
- Strawberry-Rhubarb Pie.
2 cups strawberries, washed and hulled
2 cups rhubarb, cut in ¼-inch pieces
1½ tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca

Lynn Says

The Score Card: Egg supplies are at an all-time high, so scramble them, poach, fry, boil them. Use them in custards, puddings, or pies, but use them for economy's sake and for health.
Cheese production is in for another cut, and there will be less cheese, except cottage cheese, of course. Use it wisely.
Fat supplies and oils for civilian use are getting smaller. Use them sparingly, and salvage what you can to turn in to your butcher for points and money. On the Also Save list are tin cans and waste paper. Salvage all that you possibly can.

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger E. Whitman
Roger E. Whitman—WNU Features.
VARNISH REMOVER

Question: I understand you have a formula, a combination of acids, for removal of old varnish from floors. May I have a copy of the formula?

Answer: Trisodium phosphate can be used, in the proportion of three pounds to the gallon of hot water. This is an alkaline remover, not an acid. The chemical can be bought in bulk from a large paint store or mail order house, and also from a dealer in chemicals. It is not carried at a grocer's under various trade names. Ask for a colorless cleaning powder that makes no lather.

After varnish is removed, rinse off all traces of the solution with clear water, and allow the wood to dry thoroughly. You can have the floors scraped with a floor-sanding machine. This will save you hours of work and eliminate much of the mess that goes with a liquid varnish remover job.

Cracked Enamel
Question: My house had varnished natural wood. I scrubbed the wood-work clean and put on two under-coats of white flat paint and two semi-gloss white paint. The flat and semi-gloss paint started cracking as soon as the paint dried. Could you advise me what to do to get good results without removing the finish? The walls are freshly papered and the floors have been refinished. I do not wish to damage them.

Answer: Try sanding the wood-work with fine sandpaper, then wipe off the dust. What remains of the cracks can be filled with "spackle," which you can get at a hardware or paint store. You never should apply paint, varnish or enamel over a glossy surface. The gloss first must be dulled.

KITCHEN IS COLD

Question: The kitchen does not heat as much as the living and dining room and bath. This is a hot air furnace and it is centrally located in the basement.

Answer: When installing a heating system the contractor usually allows for the heat generated by the kitchen range, when cooking, and puts in a smaller radiator or hot air duct. If more heat is desired a larger air duct and opening will be necessary.

Washing Outside Paint

Question: I should like to wash the outside of our house. The paint seems to be all right, but it is very dirty. What is the best way to do a good job?

Answer: You can wash the painted surfaces with plain soap and water, or you can use a solution of washing soda or trisodium phosphate in water. Do not use the solution stronger than a tablespoon to a pail of water; if you do, the paint will be damaged. To simplify the work, use a scrubbing brush on a long handle. Your garden hose, if you have one, would be handy for rinsing.

Amateur Insulation

Question: We are going to build a small home. The shell or inside frame will be of old lumber. I can get wood shavings to pack between the walls for insulation. Is this advisable? Or would there be danger of termites or mice?

Answer: Do not consider using the shavings, for it would hold moisture and attract insects, mice and other vermin which would find it an ideal breeding place. Get good commercial material.

Leaking Aquarium

Question: My goldfish aquarium has developed a leak. Can you suggest something that would make it leakproof?

Answer: A good cement for that purpose is litharge mixed to a paste with glycerin. For an alternative, use an asphalt roof cement stiffened with a small amount of dry Portland cement.

Hybrid Corn Yields 95 Bushels to Acre

By Planting Thicker,
104 Bushels Resulted

Hybrid corn's ability to produce more bushels per acre than open-pollinated varieties was compared to the "superiority of a well-bred dairy cow over a scrub animal" by Prof. D. F. Beard, extension agronomist of the agricultural extension service of Ohio State university.

"In hybrid corn, we have a better bred strain of plants capable of converting raw materials such as nitrogen, phosphorus, potash, water, carbon dioxide and other elements into corn at more efficient rates than the old scrub open-pollinated varieties. On the same land and with the same 'feed' provided, good hybrids will yield 10 to 12 bushels more corn per acre than open-pollinated varieties. Moreover, the hybrid plants are sturdier and show less tendency to lodge."

In the case of both hybrid corn and pedigree dairy stock, the matter of ample feed and a well-balanced ration are essential if maximum production is to be achieved. With hybrid corn, this means providing the soil with sufficient plant foods in the proper balance, via the fertilizer bag.

Four Plants Per Hill.

Professor Beard emphasized that in addition to the use of more fertilizer, farmers could profitably adopt the practice of planting hybrid corn thicker to obtain greater yields.

"At the Ohio agricultural experiment station," he said, "good corn hybrids yielded 95 bushels to the acre as a two-year average, and open-pollinated corn 80 bushels, when both were thinned to three plants per hill. With four plants per hill, however, the hybrids yielded 104.3 bushels per acre and the open-pollinated varieties 84.1."

The difference in favor of hybrids increased from 15 bushels to 20.2 bushels per acre for the extra plant per hill. This principle was borne out last summer, in a southern Ohio location, with later maturing hybrids, where stands of three plants per hill produced average yields of 92.8 bushels per acre and stands averaging 3½ plants per hill gave yields of 101.9 bushels per acre.

"Unless heavier fertilization and thicker planting go along with good corn hybrids, users of hybrid seed fail to cash in on all the advantages of hybrids."

Hens With Paralysis

Should Be Culled Out
When culling hens, look them in the eye, says Dr. W. C. Thompson of Rutgers university.

One of the telltale signs of fowl paralysis—it has several forms—is a gray eye with an irregular pupil. That is, the iris, the colored part of a normal eye, is gray, and the pupil is irregular in outline when a bird is diseased, instead of being evenly oval or well rounded. In addition, the eye may be "fishy" or bulging.

Any bird with this eye condition should be removed from the flock. Lame birds that show no foot injuries to account for the lameness should be removed too as suspected carriers of fowl paralysis. The diseased birds may lay for a while, but eventually they lose weight and go out of production. If left in the flock, they endanger the other birds.

The majority of fowl paralysis cases occur in birds from 4 to 12 months old, the poultry specialist says, although older birds frequently contract the disease. Since the disease affects many birds just as they begin to lay and repay the expense of their raising, fowl paralysis is costly to the poultryman.

Hatching Eggs Should #### Be Carefully Selected

Best results in hatching are obtained from eggs that run about 24 ounces per dozen. Eggs should be well formed, of good shell texture, and of the color which is proper for the breed you are growing. Eggs which are small, round, short or thin-shelled should not be saved for hatching. During the cold weather they should be carefully stored to prevent chilling and other dangers which may make them infertile.

ON THE HOME FRONT

With RUTH WYETH SPEARS

NO MATTER how often you have to move or whether you change from a spacious house to a single room there are certain treasures that will mean home to you. A few books, a piece of china and some perfectly useless but cheering bits of bric-a-brac.

Shadow-box cupboard will do

the trick. The one shown here is light and substantial; will lend glamour even to dime store odds and ends, and may be placed on top of a table, a chest of drawers or a desk.

If you do not have a saw to cut the scalloped frame, mark it on plywood and take it to the nearest woodworking shop to have it cut. You may have the straight boards cut where you buy them. Then all you will have to do is screw them together; tack on the front frame and paint or stain to suit your room color scheme.

NOTE—An actual size pattern for this shadow-box cupboard, list and sizes of all materials; and illustrated directions for making and finishing will be sent for 15 cents. Ask for Pattern 304 and write direct to:

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strains on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess salts and other impurities from the life-giving blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body wastes. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

*Can You Picture
without Transportation?*

Public transportation—by highway and skyway, by railway and waterway—is one of the most vital industries of this State of ours. It represents far more than a vast array of terminals, equipment, repair shops and cold statistics about moving manpower—it's the link that joins North Carolina's cities and towns and rural communities to each other and to the rest of the Nation. In these tense times, it is the means of bringing boys home on furlough—of getting workers to the war plants where they're needed—of keeping on the move all those people whose travel is essential to Victory.

An estimated 38,000 of our fellow-citizens of North Carolina are overcoming untold wartime difficulties to keep our transportation system running in high. They're hard at work on the 41 railroads and the 4 routes of the airline serving North Carolina, on boats, barges, huge fleets of trucks, and on the 71 inter-city bus lines which operate 685 buses along 8,025 miles of routes within our State borders. The regulation during development of this excellent transportation system has been the responsibility of the North Carolina Utilities Commission and its predecessor commissions—and they deserve credit for their accomplishments.

We who keep Greyhound buses rolling across our State are conscious of the importance of our particular job—especially in wartime. Many of our people today are serving in the Armed Forces—the rest of us are doing our level best to provide the safe, efficient highway transportation that's so essential to the war efforts of our fellow-citizens of North Carolina.

Social Security Plan For Farmers Calls for Careful Consideration
By BARROW LYONS
WNU Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.— Farmers throughout the land today are being asked to give thoughtful consideration to a proposal that, if adopted, would spell better health for them and their families, and protection against many of the hazards and discomforts of old age—but for which they would have to pay a price.

Proposed amendments to the Social Security act incorporated in the Wagner-Murray-Dingell Bill would bring benefits to some 12 million people working in American agriculture, and about 3 million small business men, self-employed professional workers and domestic servants.

The monetary price to the farmer for a comprehensive system of social insurance would be equal contribution rates for employees and employers amounting to 6 per cent on all wages up to the first $3,000 a year, a 7 per cent contribution rate for self-employed persons, with provision for Government contributions to the system, presumably in 10 to 15 years, when current receipts become insufficient to meet disbursements. Taxation, which cannot be determined now, would provide the Government contribution.

Farm Groups Accept
The intangible price would be the extension of a system which made the central government still more responsible for the welfare of individuals, and placed state governments in a position where Federal authorities might examine their administration of social security funds, and withhold funds if abuses were discovered.

Some acceptance of the program already has been gained from leading farm organizations. Last November, Albert S. Goss, National Master of the Grange, told members in annual session at Grand Rapids, Mich., that lack of social security coverage for farming is one of the handicaps in holding good workers on the farm.

For the last two years the National Farmers union has supported extension of social security to the farm. At its 1942 convention in Oklahoma City a resolution was adopted which called for medical care in addition to benefits under old-age and survivors' insurance. Last fall the state conventions of the Farmers union in Montana, North Dakota, Colorado, Iowa, Wisconsin, Kansas and Oklahoma adopted resolutions favoring the principles of the Wagner-Murray-Dingell Bill.

The American farm bureau federation's general counsel, Donald Kirkpatrick, is studying the question of endorsement of coverage of farmers and farm labor.

At present there is no general program in effect to meet the risks of illness, accident, disability, old age and premature death for America's 6 million farm operators. The proportion of them who carry comparable private insurance is small. There are few indeed among the 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 million paid farm workers, and 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 million family helpers, who are adequately covered by private insurance. For the most part, when the principal breadwinner of a farm family is stricken by long illness, old age or death, the family has only its own resources to command, and too often these are inadequate.

Unlike his grandfather, the farmer of today operates with all of the risks which go with commercialized and mechanized farming. His land values are much higher and fluctuate more than they did 50 years ago. He must sell a great deal more produce to cover his operating costs, and he is subject to much greater price and market hazards than his pioneering forefathers.

Farm Health Declines
There is another phase of country life that comparatively few people realize. Surveys of the health of farm families show that their health is not as good as that of city families. Farm children suffer from preventable and correctable defects of teeth, sight and hearing more frequently than city children. Farm women have twice as many children as city women, and the highest death rates in maternity cases are found in farming areas. Farmer selectees for the armed services have been rejected because of physical defects in considerably larger proportions than city men.

One bit of evidence: data on selective service draftees between 18 and 19 years of age show the highest rate of rejections for farmers at 41.1 per cent, the lowest for craftsmen at 20.4 per cent.

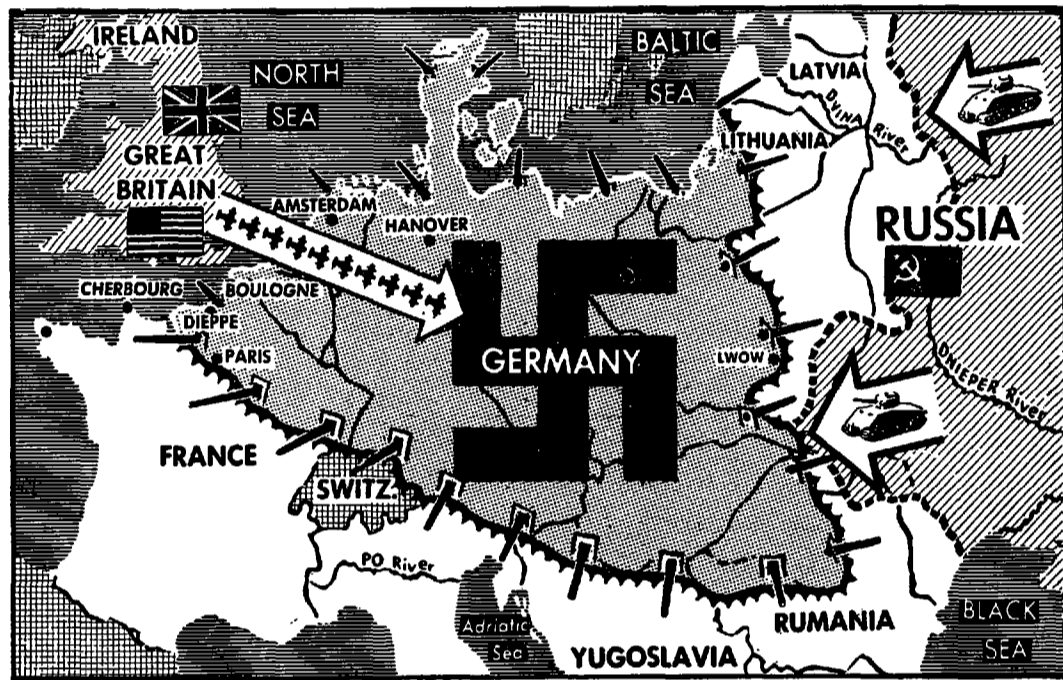

Proposed legislation calls for a Federal system of medical and hospitalization insurance for all persons covered under old-age and survivors' insurance and for their dependents. The Surgeon General of the United States would administer the technical and professional aspects of the program and the Social Security board, the financial phases.

Here is shown the boundary referred to as Hitler's "Inner Fortress," which soon may be cracking in several places. Even as the Red army pauses in preparation for a spring drive, the Russians are at the very wall of the fortress, and are expected to hit at vital Lwow, rail gate to Warsaw and Berlin. The Allies must crack the heavily fortified coast line and break through many divisions of Germany's outstanding troops. Meanwhile, pre-invasion pounds from the air continue to knock out Nazi air strength, cripple rail lines and arms factories.

A REHEARSAL of Frank Sinatra's Wednesday night air show is something to see. Outside the CBS theater the bobby sock brigade waits; even when he's in California they wait; otherwise they'll lose their places in line. Inside, the Voice, be-spectacled, chewing gum, has a swell time clowning with Jerry Lester. But when he rehearses his songs Sinatra settles down to business, working like the conscientious professional that he is. Seeing him then, you get a new slant on this likable young man who has shot to the top in the entertainment field so rapidly. He ought to stay there—if the ardent admirers who lie in wait for him don't kill him first; one girl almost choked him a while ago!

Adolphe Menjou, debonair as ever, has been dashing about New York, just back from bond-selling in Canada. Meeting friends, he talks about that trip, and goes on to discuss, not the RKO picture he's just finished with Sinatra, but the fact that he's going to the South Pacific in November. Like other visiting stars, he was booked knee-deep for radio appearances; there's a shortage of "names" in New York.

C. S. Forester, the famous author who wrote "Captain Horatio Hornblower" and "The Ship," will write the story in which Greta Garbo will return to the screen. Producer Lester Cowan engaged him to do a story about fighting sailors, men and women, in the Norwegian merchant marine. Miss Garbo, who hasn't liked other ideas submitted to her, must be in favor of this one.

Don't believe that Penny Singleton is as wacky in real life as she sounds in the title role of the air's "Blonde." She was an established Broadway musical comedy star when she was brought to Hollywood for dramatic and singing roles; before that, she'd studied journalism at Columbia university. She turns out a children's story occasionally.

Anita Colby returned from a nation-wide chore on behalf of "Cover Girl" with a new formula for getting a room in an overcrowded hotel. "When they'd say they were all sold out," said she, "I'd ask if they didn't have one room that just wasn't made up yet. They always had. And I can honestly say now that I've made beds in some of America's best hotels!"

Barton Yarborough finally did it. Playing "Doc Long" in "I Love a Mystery," by Carlton Morse, he did 260 performances without a slip of the tongue. Then, instead of saying "I never believe in sockin' a sleepin' man," he said "I never believe in sleepin' a sockin' man."

Bob Burns, radio's "Arkansas Traveler," had to go on a diet for his new picture, "Belle of the Yukon," with Dinah Shore and Gypsy Rose Lee. "Times have changed," remarked Bob. "Twelve years ago I had to diet because I wasn't makin' a picture."

March of Time director Len Lye and cameraman Bob Navarro were in Ireland just before Great Britain imposed restriction of travel between the two countries. They got out in time with the thousands of feet of film they had been shooting. The result is an up-to-the-minute picture, "The Irish Question," that shows Ireland and the Irish as they are today. It's informative and good entertainment.

Stuart Buchanan, who now heads the Blue Network's script department, was one of the first to see "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" when it reached Broadway for a return engagement. He'd already seen it at least 1,500 times; he was dialogue director when it was made!

ODDS AND ENDS—Don't be fooled by that carnivorous plant you'll see in "Rainbow Island"; reproduced from a photograph, it operates by electricity. . . . The parka worn by Bob Hope in "Road to Utopia" was presented to him by soldiers when he toured Alaska. . . . That ex-serviceman who recently released old inhibitions by playing the drums on Milton Berle's "Let Yourself Go" program has had two audition dates, and may land an engagement with a major orchestra soon. . . . The bottom fell out of poultry for Don Ameche the other day when an abandoned well caved in under his chicken yard, and plunked his prize hens into the bottom of a twelve-foot hole.

Male Brush Turkey Builds 3-Ton Nest; Hatches Eggs

The brush turkey of Australia frequently builds a nest which weighs as much as three tons. It is the cock bird that undertakes the construction of this colossal structure, which is formed of leaves and branches and may measure 12 feet across by 6 feet high.

The depositing of the eggs must naturally devolve upon the female, but, having once played her part, she leaves their incubation to her hard-worked spouse, who periodically takes the temperature of the interior of the nest. In so doing, the bird uses his bare neck as a thermometer, subsequently adding or removing debris as circumstances dictate.

YOU CAN AFFORD IT

You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds during this Fourth War Loan Drive.

Everyone in this community knows incomes are higher than ever before—that both workers and farmers have more cash than ever before. Everyone knows that more than one member of hundreds of families are income earners—and everyone knows that increases in wages and salaries have far outstripped rising prices, and increased taxes. You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds.

As a matter of fact, you can't afford NOT to Buy Extra War Bonds. If you spend your money for needless, scarce goods, you are increasing prices. If you want to help win the war you can't afford NOT to buy War Bonds. If you want to help that boy in the service, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds and if you want a gilt-edged investment for your own future security, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra War Bonds.

Don't just do the expected—buy All the Bonds you can.

THE EDITOR.

To the People of this Community

YOU ARE IMPORTANT

There is no such thing as a "little" investment in the Fourth War Loan.

Your $25 or $50 or $100 Extra War Bond may not have great importance in your mind in making up a $4 billion dollar total for individuals.

But multiply yourself by 150,000,000 and then you see in real perspective how truly great each citizen becomes in massing national strength against the Nazis and the Japs.

Capt. Maurice Winterspoon, Navy chaplain aboard the Carrier Wasp when she sank, tells of a rescued wounded sailor, who, as he regained consciousness, asked: "Did I do my best?"

That's the only question you, too, have to ask yourself when you decide the extent of your personal participation in the Fourth War Loan.

There undoubtedly will be large single purchases of War Bonds in this community, but yours—if it is "your best" will deserve equally the red, white and blue shield you are privileged to display in the window of your home.

"Let's Keep Backing the Attack."

THE EDITOR.

To the People of this Community

KILL OR BE KILLED

United States Marines paid the stiffest price in human life per square yard for the capture of Tarawa, vital Pacific outpost.

It was kill or be killed. Your boys did not flinch when they ran into the deadliest firepower along the beaches of this important Gilbert Island stronghold.

This assault, bloody and costly, is one of the many which must be made before Tokyo and Berlin are pounded into dust and ashes.

What are you doing to back up the boys? Remember these are boys from this very community, perhaps from your very home. Any home in your neighborhood which today does not display the treasury's red, white and blue 4th War Loan Shield proclaiming "We bought Extra War Bonds" is not backing the attack. Every Extra War Bond you buy becomes a direct fighter against Japan and Germany. If you could but see one man die on the battlefield, you would not count the cost of your slight sacrifices to buy Extra War Bonds to make each succeeding assault less costly in the lives of our boys.

You can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds in the 4th War Loan if you would help these boys.

THE EDITOR.

On the beaches of Italy, in the jungles of the Pacific—planes, tanks, artillery must move—and fast; no waiting to build roads or airfields. That's when our soldiers must unroll these "steel mattresses," as you see them in this photo. Your War Bonds pay for them.

GREGG CHERRY

The people of North Carolina have always been careful in the selection of their officials. Their interest in the affairs of government has been a contributing factor in placing North Carolina in the list of the leading States of the Nation, and their continued interest will reflect itself in the days ahead, when many vital problems resulting from war, must be decided.

Down through the years, we have been blessed with Governors who were trustworthy and progressive, keen in the knowledge of business and government, interested in the problems of our people, and with definite and sound ideas as to policies and plans for successful government.

Gregg Cherry is no exception to the long list of outstanding statesmen who have proposed, and then carried out, the progressive policies that have made this a great State. Presented below are excerpts from his 20-point program. This legislation will affect every citizen and his home. These policies as outlined by Cherry in this program, assure our people a continuation of the progressive type of government that North Carolina has always had.

GREGG CHERRY SAYS—

"As a candidate for the high office of Governor of North Carolina, I feel it my duty to lay before the people my ideas on public questions with which the next Governor will have to deal. I am offering the people of this State a program for the continued progress of this great State. Since I will be the next Governor of North Carolina, I will have to live by these promises and this platform. For that reason I have been careful not to make promises which the financial condition of the State and the taxpaying ability of our citizenship will make it impossible for me to keep.

"More could be promised, both as to tax reduction and increased expenditures. Promises that are not backed by mature consideration of the facts involved mislead the people. For that reason, and subject to the provisions of the platform of the Democratic Party at its next convention, I suggest herewith a program for progress which I feel to be within the ability of the people to accomplish."

Cherry's 20 Point Program For Progress

1. Pay General Fund debts and earmark $5,000,000 of the surplus to meet postwar emergencies.
2. Expand the public school program through better financial support, $125 beginning salary for teachers and increments for others. Elimination of illiteracy; postwar building fund; extension of free textbooks through eighth grade and other measures discussed in campaign speeches.
3. Absorb the loss in higher educational institutional revenue due to students being in armed services.
4. Educational facilities must be provided for war veterans in case the Federal Government does not make adequate provision for their education.
5. Increase in retirement benefits for teachers and State employees.
6. Extension and increase of War bonus from January 1, 1945 for teachers and other State employees. "The State should be a just and humanitarian employer."
7. Increase in Public welfare assistance including aid for dependant children, and old age benefits. "We cannot build a great state or lift the average of all the people unless we assist those less fortunate."
8. Juvenile delinquency must have public as well as private assistance. "The State's resources should be marshalled for this fight in cooperation with the homes, churches, and the schools."
9. The Public health program must be expanded. The general plan for adequate medical and hospital care and the establishment of a four-year medical course in connection with the University is approved.
10. An adequate health program for children which the State must provide can be had without socialized medicine; remedying physical defects in childhood will prevent institutional care in old age.
11. Postwar needs will require further development of our natural resources; encouragement of new industries to utilize the products of our forest, mines and streams; develop our inland game and fish; to adequately protect commercial fishing.
12. Increased support of all agencies working with the farmers. Better seed, better livestock, and better marketing facilities will increase the income of this large group. Main crop crops must have the backing of the Governor's office to maintain highest prices for these crops.
13. Rural electrification and the extension of telephone service to rural districts must be provided.
14. Every dollar of surplus in our highway fund is covered by at least $2 worth of highway needs. Whatever sums are required to put roads in usable condition and to finance needed new construction must be made available and lateral roads must be improved.
15. The highway system should maintain city streets over which state highways are operated.
16. Auditing facilities of the State should be increased in order to provide adequate and exhaustive audits of the expanding program of State expenditures.
17. Labor's record in peacetime and especially in war production in North Carolina is a source of pride to the State. Labor should be adequately represented on all State commissions dealing with problems that affect labor in any way.
18. Postwar construction should be so devised that the public building activity will be carried on when it will be most helpful in providing employment and maintaining purchasing power. Approval is given the State planning board in studying plans for reconversion from a war time basis to peacetime program for progress.
19. Benefits to war veterans should include:
  - (a) Opportunity for veterans to resume their education where they left off when they joined the services.
  - (b) Providing facilities for veterans to learn a trade or a business which will prepare them for livelihood when the war ends.
  - (c) Postwar construction program to aid and assist veterans in getting jobs.
  - (d) Trained assistants who will work with veterans to see that technicalities and red tape do not deprive them of benefits to which they are justly entitled and for which provision is made by the Federal Government.
20. Taxes ought to be reduced. "The State should not collect more revenues than are needed to provide a stable, prudent, and progressive government." It will be eight months before the legislature meets in these rapidly changing war times no one can predict with certainty what we may expect. We must not jeopardize full support of schools and social services by authorizing tax reductions which may bring financial impoverishment of these activities or necessitate a return to land taxation. If business continues at the present approximate level, the next General Assembly should adopt all possible tax reduction."

How Much Will You Be Missed?

Rev. Walter E. Isenhour, Hiddenite, N. C.
Perhaps there are people in every locality who will be greatly missed when they die or move away, as they are Christian citizens, loving and serving God and blessing their fellowmen. They are good neighbors, accommodating, kind, always ready to help every needy cause. They are men and women of prayer, faith and love. They build our churches, our schools, and support the Gospel with their lives and means. You can count on them. They are liberal with their means and would not be stingy, close fist and selfish any quicker than they would become drunken. No body can call them "tight wads" and tell the truth. Such people are greatly missed when they die or when they move. The community feels the loss very deeply. How much will you be missed when you are gone?

Perhaps, on the other hand, you will find people in every community practically who are a hindrance rather than a help. Many of them are absolutely a curse. They are leaders in drunkenness, or in worldliness. They seem to care nothing for the moral and spiritual uplift of the community, nor for the salvation of precious souls. Their influence is never uplifting, but down-pulling. They help to wreck and ruin the boys and girls of the community, break the hearts of fathers and mothers, wreck and destroy many homes. It seems that they are absolutely bent on evil, and they plan and purpose to carry it out. How awful to have such an aim and purpose. It will be dreadful for such people to meet God.

And then in almost every community you will find "tight wads." They are so close and stingy and selfish until one wonders just how much pleasure they get out of living. As the old saying is, they would "skin a flea for its hide and tallow." They are so close, so griping after money, or property, or so stingy, or so selfish until they make themselves miserable, and no body wants to neighbor with them, nor have any dealings with them. Such folks would let every church in the land rot down before they would help build one, and would almost let people starve to death in their midst before they would give them a peck of meal or a gallon of flour. God pity their poor, stingy griping, selfish hearts. Why, a drunkard will get to heaven just as quick as they will. In fact, there are drunkards who have a better principal. But, how much will you be missed when you are gone?

A Constructive Service

A demand that the confusion caused by the administration of food problems by several Government agencies be corrected by centralization of all food administration under one agency with full responsibility was renewed in Congress recently by Congressman Thomas A. Jenkins of Ohio, chairman of the Republican Congressional Food Study Committee.

Studies made by this committee of the problems involved in Government has been completed to give a way without price and without ration points great quantities of food supplies in an effort to prevent spoilage. As a result of these studies, the Phillips bill which provides for the orderly disposition of Government food surpluses by a single agency which would absorb the functions of other agencies now involved in the same work, was introduced in Congress and is pending before the Committee the same work, was introduced in Congress and is pending before the Committee on Agriculture.

The first major accomplishment of the Republican Congressional Food Study Committee, which functions without a single penny of expense to the taxpayers of the nation, was the induction of the Jenkins bill, which provides for the centralization of all food administration under a single head, with full authority as well as full responsibility.

As a result of this proposed legislation the various food agencies of the Government have shown a tendency to compose their jealousies of the Government have shown a tendency to compose their jealousies and their over lapping jurisdictions. In throwing the spot light of publicity upon troublesome weaknesses in the administration of the food problem the Republican Congressional Food Study Committee has had an important part in changing the trend of bureaucracy.

Next in importance to the war activities in the problems of food and sustenance. Food is a military problem as well as domestic problem. The Republican Party has not only cooperated in every way with the Administration in solving intricate food problems but it has offered many constructive suggestions, many of which have been accepted.

Too Much Red Tape

From North Carolina: "The OPA, FDA, and ODT are issuing so many directives to our dairymen in this region that it is threatening to undermine our efforts to stimulate production of milk. Most of these directives will not change the cost of milk to the consumer, nor increase the price to the producer. They create such a feeling of uncertainty, and subject the producers and handlers to so much red tape, that many more of our producers are now thinking seriously of discontinuing their operations."

Berry Market Bad

The agriculture department says a "rather demoralized" condition has developed on the eastern Carolina strawberry markets because of the $7.70 a crate ceiling that went into effect several days ago. Until the ceiling went into effect, some berries brought as high as $11 a crate.

The Record only $1.00.

Master of National Grange Opposes Farm Subsidies

Albert S. Gross, master of the National Grange, is unalterably opposed to subsidies and believes they will lead inevitably to chaos. He cites, for example, the price of milk.
"Let us assume that it is costing $2.50 a hundred to produce milk and we have a ceiling of $2 and a subsidy of 50 cents. Gradually our costs of going to continue to rise. We must be realistic and recognize that. The subsidy will, of necessity, be increased to 75 cents, possibly a dollar and we find our farmers receiving $3 a hundred in order to keep them in production, but $2 is received from the market place and $1 from the Government.
"And then, if we are to avoid dangerous credit inflation, one of the finest responsibilities that Congress will have will be to balance the budget. And when that day comes one of the first things that will be lopped off are these hundreds and millions, yes, several billion dollars in subsidies. Then the farmer will find himself receiving $2 for his milk with a cost of $3.
One of two things is bound to happen: Either he has got to raise his price or he has got to go out of production."

There is an unseen mortgage on each and every home in the land and regardless of who owns them, the people living in those homes must pay those mortgages. Because there are but two of us, there is charged up against our home $2,768 as the share of the national mortgage we must pay.

Across the street is a modest cottage occupied by a family of five. The share of those five people, father, mother and three children, is nearly $7,000. Regardless of who owns that cottage, that family must pay. The payment comes in the form of taxes, either direct or indirect, or both.

In interest alone, that family of five must pay as much as $130 each year.

That is what the national debt means to us as individuals. It demonstrates our interest in economy in government. We must pay for the waste, whatever it may be.—Wright A. Patterson.

There is one thing the enemies can't say about the New Dealers. They are no penny pinchers.—Baudette, Minn., Region.

O. Lord! How long will the battle last? How long will he have to wait? For subscriptions due From your neighbor and you, Which for years has been charged on his slate.
Don't your conscience prick just a little bit? Don't your heart a warning tell? When you see his face, And hear his voice, Like the wail of a soul in hell.
Don't you see his babies, shabby and cold Their faces plucked and blue? When they might be warm; Well fed—well clad, With money that's due from you.
Oh, God! Up there in your realms of light, In justice and love arrayed, Don't let the delinquent Pass the gate. Until his subscription's paid.

Slamming Doors

Having been requested to write an editorial on "How a lady should shut a door" we hasten to comply, but on giving the matter a little thought we find the assignment is not quite as simple as it appears at first glance. Oh, we know our valued subscriber and constant reader wants us to impress someone in her household that a lady should never slam a door, or hardly ever at any rate, but there comes a time in the life of all ladies when door-slamming is entirely justifiable.

If she is a very young lady, for instance, and happy to be late for school in the morning and tears down the hall snatching her books, hat and coat on the run, she can't be expected to put on the brakes as she shoots out the door to close it ever so gently. That would surely be too much to expect of one bent on so important a mission as getting to school on time. We claim she is entitled to forgiveness if the closing door echoes to the top floor like a cannon shot and startles late dreamers, to fretful awakenings.
And if she happens to be a slightly older young lady, and a "hot" date impatiently honks a horn at the curb, if it was us now, we'd be glad enough to hear the front door slam as a signal that the horn blowing is about to stop.

And suppose a lady, bent on getting dinner, answers the door bell to be confronted with a gentleman who insists on demonstrating his entire line of brushes and gadgets even though the lady isn't interested at all, not at all, how should a lady shut the door then? If she can induce him to withdraw his foot by stomping on it real hard, we believe in a case like that she may be entirely justified in slamming the door shut and turning the key quickly, and if she tops all that with an involuntary "darn" we'd hold that she is still entitled to be called a lady.

Slamming is hard on doors, nerves and ear-drums, but as we started out to say, there comes a time in life of all of us when it is unavoidable even necessary.—Statesville Daily.

Has Endorsed Dewey

Washington State Republicans Saturday unanimously endorsed Thomas E. Dewey for the G. O. P. Presidential nomination, recommended he be drafted and elected 16 delegates to the national convention, all of whom favored Dewey.
The state convention was a Dewey-for-President affair from start to finish with Gov. Arthur B. Langlie knoting with a declaration, amid cheers, "that it now appears Dewey is not only the choice of the Republicans of Washington, but leads all others in the party nationally."

All In Good Time

(Charlotte Observer)
Drop of 25 per cent in war production, expected to follow defeat of Germany means that much more for civilian output. Charles E. Wilson of the War Production board says it can be used, of course, that 25 per cent, but until then no civilian complain. The first thing now is to defeat Germany and Japan. Civilians do not seem to be especially suffering for lack of essentials.
Until that happy day, most civilians would prefer to put up with what they have and even less, in order to hasten the time of defeat. Unhappily, there are others of f swinish tendencies, who think they should live as well and be as plentifully supplied as in the days before the war. They must and will be restrained, however. As much noise as they make and loud as their demands, they are still in a minority.
There is now plenty for all and when Germany falls there will be more than enough. We can all well wait.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work--do not act as Nature intended--fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes--a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Daily Moment of Prayer

Each week day at noon, the fire siren in this city is sounding as a call to the "moment of prayer," for local citizens. All persons are asked to pause and offer a silent prayer for the preservation of our brave boys who are on the far flung battle lines. It is going to take both praying and fighting to win this war.

When invasion day comes our citizens are urged to quit their work and assemble at the Mocksville Methodist Church and unite in prayer for the success of our boys on the fields of battle.

This daily "moment of prayer" has the endorsement of the local merchants' association. R. B. Sanford, chairman of the committee, who proposed the original suggestion at the merchants' meeting, says that the ministers and town board heartily endorsed the idea.

 OPEN
 TO Gregg
 Cherry

May 16, 1944
 Winston-Salem, N. C.

Honorable R. Gregg Cherry,
 Raleigh,
 North Carolina
 Dear Gregg:

It was my pleasure to serve in France with you in the World War I in the 30th Division. Of course, as you know, I was in the 105th Engineers and you were Captain of the 115th Machine Gun Company. I recall as if it was yesterday when we were building concrete machine gun emplacements in "no man's" land near Ypres, Belgium.

As you remember this work had to be done at night as we were under observation and range of the German artillery and also machine guns. I remember the many nights while we were at work that you would come out and inspect and advise us in the construction; and also as soon as one emplacement was completed, you and your men would move in. I know that never a night passed but that you visited each and every one of these emplacements, looking to the welfare and comfort of the men who served under you and my comrades who were helping construct these emplacements.

I had the opportunity time after time to talk to the men who served in your command, and I know that they held you in the highest esteem; that they felt like that at all times you were looking after their well-being; that no task was too menial, but that you would take hold and help them out and that you had the interest of every man in your command at heart. The test of a good commanding officer is the esteem in which he is held by his men. You oftentimes exposed yourself to danger beyond the call of duty to further the well-being and the interest of your men, and it is my judgment that after talking with numerous men in your command and seeing you in action on different occasions, that the spirit you engendered by your leadership added greatly to the success of your Company made on September 29th, 1918 in the breaking of the Hindenburg Line.

It might interest you to know that my boy, Lieutenant Bill Rierison, was recently shot down over Germany while flying a P-38 and is now a German prisoner, and I believe that I know something about what War means; and I further believe that your experience as a soldier and a leader, together with your experience in serving seven terms in the Legislature admirably fit you to meet the problems of the returning soldier from this War. I also know that thousands of mothers and fathers feel about this as I do.

With best wishes to you for your continued success, I am,
 Sincerely yours,
 J. BRYAN RIERISON,
 Member of the 105th Engineers Company,
 30th Division.

Mrs. Grant Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Angell, of this city, and Misses Zeola and Geneva Kooztz, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kooztz, of R. 4, were injured seriously last Thursday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock. Miss Geneva Kooztz was driving a Ford roadster, owned by J. E. Tutterow, when the car skidded on a wet pavement near North Cooleemee, and left the highway, turning over and throwing the ladies into a field. The car was badly damaged.

Mrs. Smith received critical injuries, including a punctured bladder, a broken pelvis bone, broken in seven places, and a broken jawbone. She was carried to Rowan Memorial Hospital, and remains in a critical condition. Her husband, S. Sgt. Grant Smith, has been stationed in Panama for some time.

The Misses Kooztz were carried to the Lowery Hospital, Salisbury. They received severe shocks and bruises, but no bones were thought to have been broken. Reports from the hospital are that they are getting along as well as could be expected. The ladies were all employees of the Erwin cotton mill. All are hoping that their lives will be spared.

Mrs. Henry Sparks

Mrs. Henry M. Sparks, 47, died May 14, at Lowery hospital, following an illness of nine weeks. Mrs. Sparks was before marriage Miss Maggie Lee Hillard. She was married Sept. 2, 1920, to Henry M. Sparks, who survives, together with nine children, Gilbert and Billy, of the U. S. Navy, Helen, Doris, T. J., Betty Jo, Bobby, Donald and Emily, of the home. One brother, Lonnie Hillard, of Greenville, and two sisters, Mrs. L. L. Jarvis, Greensboro, and Mrs. C. R. Ridenhour, Cooleemee, also survive.

Mrs. Sparks was a life-long member of Bethel Methodist Church, from which the funeral was held last Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with her pastor, Rev. R. G. McClamrock in charge, and the body laid to rest in the family plot in the church cemetery.

In the death of Mrs. Sparks the community loses one of its best and most beloved women, who will be sadly missed, not only in the home, but in the church and the entire community. A mother in Israel has been called to her reward. To the grief-stricken husband, the sons who are fighting for home and liberty in far away waters, and the children at home, The Record extends heartfelt sympathy in this sad hour.

To the People of this Community

YOU CAN AFFORD IT
You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds during this Fourth War Loan Drive.

Everyone in this community knows incomes are higher than ever before—that both workers and farmers have more cash than ever before. Everyone knows that more than one member of hundreds of families are income earners—and everyone knows that increases in wages and salaries have far outstripped rising prices, and increased taxes. You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds.

As a matter of fact, you can't afford NOT to Buy Extra War Bonds. If you spend your money for needless, scarce goods, you are increasing prices. . . . if you want to help win the war you can't afford NOT to buy War Bonds. If you want to help that boy in the service, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds and if you want a well-earned investment for your own future security, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra War Bonds.

Don't just do the expected—buy All the Bonds you can.

THE EDITOR.

To the People of this Community

YOU ARE IMPORTANT
There is no such thing as a "little" investment in the Fourth War Loan.

Your $25 or $50 or $100 Extra War Bond may not have great importance in your mind in making up a 5 1/2 billion dollar total for individuals.

But multiply yourself by 130,000,000 and then you see in real perspective how truly great each citizen becomes in massing national strength against the Nazis and the Japs.

Capt. Maurice Witherspoon, Navy chaplain aboard the Carrier Wasp when she sank, tells of a rescued wounded sailor, who, as he regained consciousness, asked: "Did I do my best?"

That's the only question you, too, have to ask yourself when you decide the extent of your personal participation in the Fourth War Loan.

There undoubtedly will be large single purchases of War Bonds in this community, but yours—if it is "your best" will deserve equally the red, white and blue shield you are privileged to display in the window of your home.

"Let's Keep Backing the Attack."
THE EDITOR.

To the People of this Community

KILL OR BE KILLED
United States Marines paid the stiffest price in human life per square yard for the capture of Tarawa, vital Pacific outpost.

It was kill or be killed. Your boys did not flinch when they ran into the deadliest fire-power along the beaches of this important Gilbert Island stronghold.

This assault, bloody and costly, is one of the many which must be made before Tokyo and Berlin are pounded into dust and ashes.

What are you doing to back up the boys? Remember these are boys from this very community, perhaps from your very home. Any home in your neighborhood which today does not display the treasury's red, white and blue 4th War Loan Shield proclaiming "We bought Extra War Bonds" is not backing the attack. Every Extra War Bond you buy becomes a direct fighter against Japan and Germany. If you could but see one man die on the battlefield, you would not count the cost of your slight sacrifices to buy Extra War Bonds to make each succeeding assault less costly in the lives of our boys.

You can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds in the 4th War Loan if you would help these boys.

THE EDITOR.

On the beaches of Italy, in the jungles of the Pacific—planes, tanks, artillery must move—and fast; no waiting to build roads or airfields. That's when our soldiers must unroll these "steel mattresses" as you see them in this photo. Your War Bonds pay for them.

Let's Face Facts

British Farm Leaders Give Sense of Nearness To Vicissitudes of War
By BARROW LYONS
WNU Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.

One gets a little closer to the war when one talks with a British farmer, who has been cultivating fields under the wings of Nazi planes, who can't light a lamp without being sure that no gleam shows through the window shades, and who must use all the ingenuity known to science to get the most from his acres to feed the workers and fighting men of Britain.

Such a farmer is Robert Rae, the new agricultural attache to the British embassy in Washington, who just arrived from the University of Reading in England, where he was professor of agriculture. He also managed an experimental farm which has pointed the way toward larger crops in Britain.

Barrow Lyons

"I've only just arrived—still in a stage of schoolboy wonder at being able to turn on the lights without pulling down the blinds," he told a group of Washington correspondents at a joint interview with James A. Scott Watson, who has been recalled to England and whom Mr. Rae is replacing.

The talk with these men reminded the American writers that farmers of England are allies of our own farmers in supporting the greatest military effort man has ever made—the defense of the democratic world against forces which would destroy it. Mr. Scott Watson has been here two years, chiefly to help get for British farmers American farm machinery and adopt the best of our farming methods.

Likes TVA Superphosphate

Incidentally, Mr. Scott Watson had strong praise for the Tennessee Valley authority's concentrated superphosphate, which has been shipped to England in considerable quantities. The TVA superphosphate has been available to our own farmers in limited quantities, because of our large supply of lower concentrates, and the necessity for conserving ocean shipping space.

Mr. Rae said that in spite of England's usually damp climate, this winter has been abnormally dry, foreboding an inadequate water supply this summer. One result, however, was that spring plowing and planting was much ahead of schedule.

Before the war, he said, England produced only 34 per cent of its food supply, but now produces 70 per cent. Reduction of food consumption by about 10 per cent has contributed to this increase, but actual food production has been almost doubled.

There has been no slackening in the food program, and the ministry of agriculture plans to maintain present operating schedules for another four years—through 1947. England recognizes that if victory comes this year, the need for food on the continent will be tremendous for a year-and-a-half to two years after the fighting stops.

Mr. Rae thought that the need for American agricultural machinery would be very much less from now on. Some forms of tractors will still be needed for replacements, but virtually all of the arable acreage is now under mechanical cultivation, he said.

During the last two years England has used a considerable amount of soldier labor, particularly for harvesting crops; but with invasion under way this labor will not be available. He said:

"We expect our biggest headache this year will be in getting harvest labor. If we can't get a little more combine equipment, there will be a waste of grain."

Large Stockpile of Food

There is a considerable food stockpile in England, he said, but this is considered minimum insurance. If the invasion of the continent is successful, some of this will be used for feeding destitute populations.

"We can't sit back as long as there is an acute shortage of food on the continent," he added. Mr. Scott Watson put in a word at this point:

"All of our friends from England who come over here seem to have a craving for your citrus fruit. They apparently have felt the lack of oranges, grapefruit and lemons more than meat. Of course, there will be a tremendous pent-up demand for citrus fruit as soon as we can get the ships to move it. It's no military secret that all of the ships that can be spared are now being held in readiness for invasion."

Both Britons cited examples of exchange of technical information, which was enabling English and American farmers to raise larger and better crops. The visitors also thought that American agricultural economists were getting from England some good points regarding farm tenancy. English laws provide a far greater sense of security for tenant farmers, and assure to them full benefit of improvements they make in building up the soil and facilities of owners. Eventually this will be reflected in American tenant-owner relations.

Chinese and Jap Forces Fight for Pass

Savage fighting between Chinese and Jap forces in Honan, west of the strategic rail point of Chengchow, now centers on Hulo Pass, which the enemy is rapidly fortifying, following its capture, to prevent counter-attacks. Arrows in the map indicate centers of fighting outside Mihsien, where the Chinese have circled the enemy, and Yingshang where the Japs have been more successful. Diagonal lines in map at right indicate the general zone of action in relation to China.

STAGE SCREEN RADIO
By VIRGINIA VALE
Released by Western Newspaper Union

RKO Radio Pictures inaugurates a new daily coast-to-coast radio show on May 29, "Hollywood Star Time," featuring their film favorites of the year; it will originate in the studio dining room. Going out over 177 stations of the Blue network, it will be broadcast daily from Monday through Friday, at 12:15 to 12:30 Pacific Coast time, an hour later in each successive time zone. And Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, equally radio-minded, launches "M-G-M Screen Tests" on June 12, over the full basic Mutual Network, five days a week at 9:15 Eastern war time; it will consist of actual screen tests, the aspiring actor being required to play opposite a Metro star.

In "Going My Way" Bing Crosby proves that he doesn't have to sing; in fact, he sings comparatively little in the picture, yet has probably the best role of his screen career. He and that very talented actor, Barry

BING CROSBY

Fitzgerald, share honors in this sweet, human story — and anybody who can share acting honors with Fitzgerald has to be good. This is one of the pictures that people will remember.

Jane Withers, young Republic star, had two birthday cakes on her 16th birthday, one with a party of soldiers near her own age, the second with an 18-year-old elephant belonging to Ringling Brothers-Barum and Bailey circus. Both soldiers and elephant let Jane blow out her own candles and make a wish. The elephant also gulped the cake and then devoured Jane's birthday orchids.

Producer C. P. MacGregor, of the Hollywood Radio Theater, is directly responsible for the successful careers of many leading movie actors and actresses. When talking pictures came in, parts were awarded on the strength of voice transcriptions—made by him!

Frank Sinatra won about 1,500 new friends at a luncheon-given in New York for the American Newspaper Publishers association; he sang a parody on "Sunday, Monday and Always," the refrain being that people are telling him to look out, for Dick Haymes, Dick Todd and Perry Como are crowding him too comfortably for his own good. He wound up by gallantly concluding "There's just one Grosby."

A new puppy belonging to Ronnie, son of George Burns and Gracie Allen, chewed a hole in an expensive rug at the Burns' home. Gracie was upset, but Ronnie saved the day. "Maybe if I train him," said he, "I can get him so he'll lie over the hole most of the time."

Around CBS a pleasant glow is still noticeable, due to the fact that six of their network and regional programs were cited as winners in the 1943 George Foster Peabody Awards, gaining CBS top honors in five of the seven classifications.

Bettejane Greer (Mrs. Rudy Vallee) whose first national prominence came when she was chosen two years ago as official model for the first WAC uniform, will be groomed for top starring roles by RKO. For the past year she's been under contract to Howard Hughes, doing intensive work with dramatic coaches. As soon as her release from that contract was negotiated she signed with RKO.

Yakima Canutt, seven times world champion cowboy and famous movie stunt man, now directs scenes for Republic pictures demanding hair-raising stunts. His latest thriller is the finale of a lightning-like chase in Allan Lane's "Marshal of Monterey."

ODDS AND ENDS—Remember Wesley Barry, once time boy star? RKO assistant when he enlisted, he's in the front lines with a photographic unit in the Burma campaign. . . . Phil Baker says the days of ordering a meal in a restaurant are gone—nowadays it's an entree. . . . A new rose, resembling an American Beauty, has been named for Dinah Shore. . . . Recognizing the advantage of a closer link between the church and radio, the National Broadcasting company and the Congressional-Christian churches will award five fellowships each year to ministers in the active pastorate, at one of NBC's summer institutes.

Well, the primary is over and the Democrats are explaining how it all happened.

We are just wondering if Gregg Cherry promised any jobs to Davie county Democrats?

What happened to our old friend Giles Yeomans Newton in the late primary? He was running for U. S. Senator, we thought.

We are glad the county commissioners lowered the tax rate, even if it is election year. The Republicans may be able to lower it to 50 cents next year.

We wonder how Cameron Morrison feels today. Guess he is reminded of the "Red Shirt" days some 50 years ago. "Whatever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

We were out in the country the other day looking around to ascertain the exact shortage of the black-berry crop, and are glad to report that while the briars are not so full as heretofore, there seems to be more briars. If we can stand the strain until the crop begins to ripen, we will be able to face our creditors with a smile.

From present indications Davie county will have a pretty good crop of fruit this summer. The cold weather damaged the peach crops in some sections of the county, but in other sections the trees are pretty well loaded with apples, peaches, cherries, etc. One peach grower in Clarksville told us that he would only have about a ten per cent peach crop this year. Last year his entire crop was killed.

We heard a New Deal Democrat ask an aged citizen from Iredell county, how he voted. The Iredell citizen remarked that he was a life-long Democrat, and had never voted a Republican ticket. He said from this date on he never intended to cast another Democratic vote, but was voting straight Republican in the future. There are thousands of Democrats throughout the country who are going to follow this old gentleman's advice.

Lawrence Tells Truth

Washington—If seizure of Montgomery Ward is lawful, then President Roosevelt has the right to seize every newspaper and magazine and every other business which refuses to grant "maintenance of membership" clauses in contract with labor unions.

The President has made a colossal blunder. It will not only injure him politically, but it will bring about the amendment of the price control law and the wage and salary stabilization act so that the powers hitherto exercised will be sharply curtailed.

The episode is most regrettable from the standpoint of the administration because the attorney-general's opinion is worded so as to endeavor to establish the supreme right of the President to act as dictator.

What the attorney-general has said will astound the nation. It means that there is no constitutional protection any more—the President can do as he pleases. There is no reason now why he can't order anybody to do as the administration directs and use the flimsy pretext that the "war powers" he holds gives the authority to back him up.—Excerpt from the newspaper column of David Lawrence, nationally known newspaper writer and Washington analyst.

Mocksville Soldier Missing

Mrs. J. F. Stonestreet received a message from the War Department last Tuesday morning saying that her son, Tech. Sgt. Gordon Stonestreet was missing in action May 8th. Sgt. Stonestreet was shot down over German territory. He has two brothers, Lieut. James Stonestreet and Pvt. Philip Stonestreet, who are both in foreign service. Mr. and Mrs. Stonestreet have the sympathy of a host of friends, but all are hoping that Gordon escaped injury and will be able to return home when the war is won.

Davie Soldier Wanted Fried Chicken

Mrs. Alex Tucker, of Advance, send us the following article with a request to publish:
 "Get the fried chicken ready, Mom and I'll be back with a guest as soon as I can find somebody to bring us." That was the message dropped from a U. S. Army bomber trainer plane Thursday afternoon, May 18, when it dipped low over the home of Mrs. Betty Tucker, near Advance.

The note was from her son, Second Lieutenant J. T. Tucker, who is a flying instructor, stationed at Ellington Field, Texas. The plane flew off in the direction of Winston-Salem, and Mum got busy with the chickens. In a short time Lieut. Tucker and his guest, Capt. J. I. Coniam, drove up in a truck or his brother-in-law, Grouse Jones, of Winst n Salem.

Not only did these two fliers get some good old Davie county chicken but they also got something better; good old country ham, Lieut. Tucker's brother, F. P. Tucker, specializes in raising big hogs.

The officers returned to Winston-Salem, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Alex Tucker and daughter, Miss Louise, and niece, Connie Fay Tucker. The bomber was on its way to Texas, via Florida. Lieut. Tucker was in the army before war was declared. He was at Ft. Bragg for some time. This was his first visit home in two years. He is married and has one little son.

Fried chicken and country ham beats the fatted calf any day.

Miss Barrett Check Guidance Progrm In Davie County

Miss Ella Stevens Barrett, acting supervisor, Occupational and Information Guidance of the State Board of Education was in the County last week to check with the principals and teachers on the guidance program that has been under way in the County schools throughout the year.

Mr. Barrett expects to work out a more comprehensive guidance program for the schools of Davie County for the next year and tentative plans call for a work-shop in the early part of September. All of the plans for the work-shop and for the program next year will be worked out by Miss Barrett during the summer and a full announcement as to the program for next year will be made before the opening of schools.

Restricted Quota In Navy

A restricted quota for enlistment of 17-year-old boys in the U. S. Navy was announced yesterday by Lt. Cmdr. C. B. Neely of Raleigh office in charge of recruiting and induction for North Carolina.

Under the new quota, Commander Neely said, a maximum number of only 100 youths will be accepted weekly for at least the next three weeks. The quota was set by the Bureau of Naval Personnel but no indication was given as to whether the restriction would extend beyond the three-week period.

"Although the usual number of weekly enlistments exceeds the limit now placed upon the North Carolina district, we have no alternative but to pare our list of acceptable boys," Commander Neely said.

"Those who are nearing their eighteenth birthdays, at which time they will have to register with selective service and thus come under draft regulations, should see their Navy recruiter immediately. It will be necessary for a number of boys to wait until such time as quota limitations will permit their enlistment."

"Recruiters throughout the state will continue to accept applications from all 17-year-old boys interested in joining the Navy. At present we have no idea as to how long the present quota will remain in effect."

At left is Private First Class George Pennington, of Mooresville, and the young man on the right is our own Corporal Phillip S. Yeung, Jr., of Mocksville. We are not permitted to tell you where they are or what they are doing, but they are overseas busily engaged in helping win the war.

T. SGT. WILLIAM C. DANIEL, son of Mrs. John S. Daniel of this city, who is stationed near New York City, was recently promoted from Pfc. to his present rank. Congratulations, Bill.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Milk, or latex, flows from the rubber tree best in early morning. Therefore, rubber tappers start their day's work long before dawn.

An avocoid which might reduce the life of a crude rubber tire only 25 per cent or even less carried through until the tread was worn smooth, may reduce the life of a synthetic rubber tire 50 per cent or more and result in a blowout while there is still wear in the tread.

Rubber belting, which now plays such an important part in mining and industrial operations, was first manufactured in this country in 1836.

Children's Parties

Do the children want to give a party? Now that schools are letting out and the youngsters find themselves with time on their hands, a celebration of their own may be just the thing to fill in their odd moments.

Even if the children are younger, they can get a lot of satisfaction maneuvering their own party. Let them do it for it helps them develop imagination, encourages thinking for themselves and teaches them sociability while they are still young.

Make it as easy as possible for them; in other words, keep them free of worries about table cloth, plates and napkins. Furnish paper ones if the occasion warrants. Older children, of course, can take care of even the better dishes.

Mother can take care of the main food and supervise the serving if necessary. Sandwiches, cooling drinks, appetite-tempting dessert are popular with the younger set.

The three "C's" in salad making are that ingredients should be clean, cool and crisp.

Farm Income Rose 23% Last Year Over 1942

Livestock, Oil Crops Made Largest Gains

Another good year for farm income from marketings appears to be in prospect for American farmers. Returns in 1943 were 23 per cent greater than in 1942, according to reports from the U. S. department of agriculture, and a continued peak demand for crops and livestock may be anticipated.

Livestock was responsible for last year's marked upswing, figures show, returning $11,189,000,000 out of the total income of $19,092,000,000 from farm marketings. Crops brought in $7,815,000,000. The livestock break-down shows a total of $5,953,000,000 received by farmers for meat animals, $2,705,000,000 for dairy products, and $2,322,000,000 for poultry and eggs.

Gain of 40 Per Cent in South.

Income from livestock as a whole showed a 20 per cent increase in the Western region, and a 40 per cent rise in the South Atlantic region. In Georgia poultry and egg returns were nearly twice the 1942 figure, and in Delaware they went up 87 per cent. The South Atlantic region reported a 70 per cent increase in income from poultry and eggs. Receipts from hogs were high in all sections, with the West North Central region reporting an increase of 41 per cent and the state of Iowa an increase of 39 per cent.

Income from feed grains and hay went up 36 per cent over 1942, with receipts for 1943 totaling $1,114,000,000 compared with $819,000,000 in 1942.

Striking gains were reported for the oil crops, with an income of more than three times the 1942 figure reported in the North Atlantic and South Central regions. The income from oil-bearing crops for the United States as a whole was $611,233,000, compared with $488,000,000 in 1942. Peanut income in Texas was some six times the 1942 return, and soybeans brought in 12 times as much.

Income from vegetables and truck crops increased in all regions with the largest percentage shown in the South Atlantic region where an increase of 52 per cent was reported.

ration books and a pad for the grocery list.

If you enjoy working with wood you may want to cut these pockets out by hand as shown here. But if you have a jig saw available it is much faster.

Don't Skimp on Milk in Feeding Young Calves

Calves raised in a market milk area often receive a limited amount of whole milk. This is all right, according to Dr. Olin L. Lepard, assistant professor of dairy husbandry at Rutgers university, provided you don't skimp to the point where it will be harmful to the young animals. And that is apt to happen in times of a scarcity of fluid milk.

"We must remember that even though a calf has four stomachs, the one which is able to change coarse food, such as roughage and grain, into easily digested material does not function early in life." Dr. Lepard reminds dairymen. "The calf really is working on three cylinders, so to speak. Benefits which a calf receives from whole milk during the first four weeks before its rumen is able to function fully include an extra supply of vitamins, especially A, a very digestible type of protein, an ideal source of energy and a real allotment of minerals.

"The amount of milk needed varies considerably, but it is safe to say that most calves should receive at least 300 to 400 pounds of whole milk during the first two months. After this time, they can very safely and more economically be fed on dry feed and a good quality roughage."

Cows Are Kept on Three Out of Four U. S. Farms

Of the six million farms in the United States, 4,500,000 have cows and 3,000,000 churn butter. These farms used 22 billion pounds of milk in 1942, more than 11 billion pounds being consumed on the farms where produced. 7 1/2 billion going into production of farm butter and over 3 billion pounds being fed to calves. Fluid milk and cream consumption in the U. S. is highest in history, according to the WFA.

"Nothing, my dear sir, nothing," the official replied suavely. "We have no further use for the cinder and you are quite welcome to it. From a legal point of view, the cinder was not yours, and no doubt you could be proceeded against for removing our property. But you can rest assured, we will take no steps in the matter."

To the People of this Community
YOU CAN AFFORD IT
 You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds during this Fourth War Loan Drive.
 Everyone in this community knows incomes are higher than ever before—that both workers and farmers have more cash than ever before. Everyone knows that more than one hundred of families are income earners—and everyone knows that increases in wages and salaries have far outstripped rising prices, and increased taxes. You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds.
 As a matter of fact, you can't afford NOT to Buy Extra War Bonds. If you spend your money for needless, scarce goods, you are increasing prices. . . . If you want to help win the war you can't afford NOT to buy War Bonds. If you want to help that boy in the service, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds and if you want a well-earned investment for your own future security, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra War Bonds.
 Don't just do the expected—buy All the Bonds you can.
 THE EDITOR.

To the People of this Community
YOU ARE IMPORTANT
 There is no such thing as a "little" investment in the Fourth War Loan.
 Your $25 or $50 or $100 Extra War Bond may not have great importance in your mind in making up a 5 1/2 billion dollar total for individuals.
 But multiply yourself by 130,000,000 and then you see in real perspective how truly great each citizen becomes in massing national strength against the Nazis and the Japs.
 Capt. Maurice Witherspoon, Navy chaplain aboard the Carrier Wasp when she sank, tells of a rescued wounded sailor, who, as he regained consciousness, asked: "Did I do my best?"
 That's the only question you, too, have to ask yourself when you decide the extent of your personal participation in the Fourth War Loan.
 There undoubtedly will be large single purchases of War Bonds in this community, but yours—if it is "your best" will deserve equally the red, white and blue shield you are privileged to display in the window of your home.
 "Let's Keep Backing the Attack."
 THE EDITOR.

To the People of this Community
KILL OR BE KILLED
 United States Marines paid the stiffest price in human life per square yard for the capture of Tarawa, vital Pacific outpost.
 It was kill or be killed. Your boys did not flinch when they ran into the deadliest firepower along the beaches of this important Gilbert Island stronghold.
 This assault, bloody and costly, is one of the many which must be made before Tokyo and Berlin are pounded into dust and ashes.
 What are you doing to back up the boys? Remember these are boys from this very community, perhaps from your very home. Any home in your neighborhood which today does not display the treasury's red, white and blue 4th War Loan Shield proclaiming "We bought Extra War Bonds" is not backing the attack. Every Extra War Bond you buy becomes a direct fighter against Japan and Germany. If you could but see one man die on the battlefield, you would not count the cost of your slight sacrifices to buy Extra War Bonds to make each succeeding assault less costly in the lives of our boys.
 You can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds in the 4th War Loan if you would help these boys.
 THE EDITOR.

On the beaches of Italy, in the jungles of the Pacific—planes, tanks, artillery must move—and fast; no waiting to build roads or airfields. That's when our soldiers must unroll these "steel mattresses" as you see them in this photo. Your War Bonds pay for them.
