

Ocean Ships Go Up-River To Get Iron

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Engineers in Venezuela are ready to bring a mountain through the Orinoco river and across a sea to the United States.

Early in 1952, two of the largest dredges in the Western Hemisphere will begin gnawing their way up the Orinoco river.

NAME THEM

A prize of $1.00 to the first person sending in their correct names.

Two hungry U.S. blast furnace dredging of an Orinoco ship channel will bring closer a tremendous iron reserve.

Between the Andes and the Atlantic, sweeping nearly the entire length of Venezuela are the flat, featureless Orinoco plains.

With better than half a billion tons of ore already proved, the Orinoco Mining Company plans to place off Cerro Bolivar's crest in 35 to 60-foot horizontal cuts.

Below San Felix on the Orinoco, part for Venezuela's centuries-old gold fields are the new iron mines.

Heating System For Basementless Houses Outlined

CLEVELAND — Because copper, steel and other metal shortages may exist for an indefinite period of time, many home builders are turning to a new system of duct heating for basementless homes.

Eight-inch vitrified clay pipe, cemented together in three-foot lengths, is fanned out radially from the bricked-in furnace.

When a basementless house is built on low land where the water table is near the surface, the builder lays a foundation of crushed stone and sand, on which to place the membrane under the heating pipes.

Our sons and daughters in the right And settle them in truth, That they might shun the things that blight. And be a noble youth. Back then the neighbors went about To prove their love and grace; They blessed and helped each other out. Along life's Christian race. They visited from home to home In sickness and in health, And never sought no means to roam Or work and scheme for wealth.

One of the clerks at the employment agency was a bit of a wit, and he was preparing to gain a laugh at the expense of the next in line. "Where were you born?" he asked the man, a Scotchman. "Glasgow," was the reply. "Glasgow? Whatever for?" continued the funny one. "I wanted to be near mother," said the other with devastating meekness.

NOUVEAU RICHE "Housewife—I don't like the look of that codfish." "Well, if you look looks, why don't you buy a gold fish?"

Hardly a family living in Mocksville has escaped the lagrippe. None of the cases have proved severe with the exception of one or two persons. Cleora, the little son of A. C. Budget Items
WHAT the average citizen may not entirely realize about the huge new budget facing the nation is that 83 per cent of it is for the military.

Yet the military have been less cooperative about even the most rudimentary principles of efficient spending.

Take merely the simple question of building against each other. One of the chief reasons for unifying the Army and Navy was that it would save money.

Instead of working together on Army-Navy building, there is now a third competitive service, the Air Force. It is true that much air force material is purchased for it by the Army, but efficient buying, as done by a private business firm, just does not exist.

Keeps Them Guessing
President Truman is holding his political cards so close to his chest that not even his closest associates at the White House know his plans.

Even Charles Murphy, a good natured White House assistant, confessed to a friend the other day, "I don't know any more than the man in the moon whether Mr. Truman is going to run."

Best guess of Mr. Truman's intimates is that he is carefully laying the groundwork for a "draft Truman" campaign after the boomlets for all the other candidates have run their course.

Department of Commerce Reports Personal Incomes at $251 Billion

ELIZABETH II—At first glance it would not seem important to the average American how lower that a young woman has assumed the duties of Queen of Great Britain and the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Today, however, Britain is the debtor of the world. And a complete break-down of British economy would be felt in the crossroads of America.

So, the new Queen becomes a symbol of unity in the empire and an important figure in the balance of power between the United States and Russia.

PERSONAL INCOME—The Department of Commerce reports total personal incomes of Americans in 1951 was 251 billion dollars, 12 per cent above 1950.

VETERAN TRAINING—Since enactment of the original GI bill, 7 1/2 million veterans in the United States have taken advantage of educational and vocational training provision, a house committee studying new legislation for Korean veterans reports.

FOREIGN AID—Peering congress may severely cut foreign aid funds the United States has warned European leaders to agree quickly on plans for a European defense force, including German troops if they want to increase their possibility of getting economic assistance.

COMMUNIST BURMA
The American delegation to the U.N. alarmed at the threat of Communist attack on Burma, has appealed strongly to the jittery Burmese government to have it join the United Nations to send a watchdog commission to Burma immediately in order to guard against invasion.

TULE LAKE Fabulous Crops Being Produced On Dry 90,000-Acre Lake Bed

Modern pioneers have struck pay dirt in the now dry bed of a 90,000-acre lake near the California-Oregon border. Instead of rich ores, in the past five years they have taken $27,000,000 from the rich soil in the form of Klamath potatoes, maling barley and clover.

But the soil was fabulously rich, and needed only irrigation water and the hard work of the willing veterans to eventually transform the area into a prosperous, modern, comfortable agricultural community.

Lack of Deep-Rooted Legumes Cuts Yields. Legumes Give Organic Matter to Worm Foods

Coming some soil year after year without restoring the organic matter via deep-rooted legumes in the rotation, will cut yields to the vanishing point even if you add fertilizer and install drain tiles.

Ohio soils specialists demonstrated that in tests at the Pauding experiment farm, the results of the tests are shown in the accompanying photographs taken on adjoining fields.

The fields had been fertilized and continuously in corn. The lower field had a rotation of corn, small grains and five years of alfalfa.

Proper Farm Belt Care Gives Longer Service. Proper care of the flat belts that drive threshers, combine cutters, buzz-saws and other farm machinery will result in years more service and prevent breakdowns and costly repairs.

Chick Brooders. The secret of successful brooders for young chickens is uniform heat. For those housewives who raise their own flocks, here is an idea that may fill their needs.

Most Farm Families Have a Home Garden. According to a United States Department of Agriculture survey last year, five million of the six million farm families in the nation raised gardens.

Balance Sheet. Lesson for March 9, 1952. It is not every man who at the close of his life can look back and say that life has brought him more than it took away.

Losses Written Off. PAUL gave several thumbnail autobiographies, some of which are included in the Scripture readings for this week.

His Worst Losses? PUT there was worse. A wise man does not count hardships as his heaviest losses.

Credit Balance. Paul, in writing up the balance sheet of his life, calls everything he had lost so much trash, in comparison with what he had gained.

MOCKSVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 12, 1952

NUMBER 32

NEWS OF LONG AGO.

What Was Happening In Davie Before "Parking Meters" And Abbreviated Skirts. (Davie Record, March 11, 1951.) Mocksville seed cotton 4.25. Reid Towell, of County Line, was in our midst last week. Wiley Ellier, of Ft. Vernon, was in town Thursday afternoon. Clarence Oakley, of Statesville, was rambling around town last Wednesday. Hugh Vaughn, of Richmond, spent Thursday night in town with his sister, Mrs. W. A. Allison. The fourth snow of the winter visited this section last Wednesday and measured around six inches. Mrs. Ralph Church, of Winston Salem is the guest this week of Mrs. Grady Ward and Miss Hazel Kurfees. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cop and babe, of Mr. Clements, Mich., are spending three weeks with relatives and friends in Davie county. Harrison Hanelline has moved his family from the McCulloch home in South Mocksville to a cottage on Sanford avenue. Robert Saffley who was carried to Long's Hospital at Statesville two weeks ago, suffering with blood poison, is getting better, his friends will be glad to learn. Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Kurfees, Mr. and Mrs. Grety Ward, Miss Hazel Kurfees, and L. L. Smith were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kurfees, of Winston-Salem Sunday. A small barn belonging to the Sanford estate on Sanford avenue was destroyed by fire late Wednesday night. A Ford sedan, owned by Sam Blunk, was in the barn and burned. There was no insurance on barn and contents. It is not known how the fire started. Two colored men living near Redland are dead as the result of two automobile accidents which occurred near Redland on Feb. 28. There are entirely too many people being killed by autos these days. With the State Highway Patrol increased from 37 to 89, there is no telling how many will be killed this year. The board of county commissioners, a week ago appointed the county treasurer, Z. N. Anderson, financial agent for Davie county, and assistant to the Register of Deeds, at a salary of $1,000 per year. Mr. Anderson will take over his new duties April 1st. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Crofts and little son, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Combs, of Greenville, S. C., were week-end guests of Mr. Crofts' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Crofts. Henry Daniels, of Ephesus, was in town Saturday morning, and told us that winter was broke—that a flock of 51 wild geese passed over his home Saturday morning about eight o'clock on their way north. It is with sadness that we chronicle the death of our old friend, Capt. Claud Morrison, which occurred in Charlotte Friday night. Capt. Morrison was 68 years of age, and had been a faithful conductor with the Southern Railway for many years. In the 57 years of his railroad life he had never received a demerit or reprimand. Benjamin B. Richardson, 38, died at his home in Calabash township Wednesday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richardson, and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie Gaither Richardson; his parents; three brothers, Charlie, David and Robert; two sisters, Mrs. Sam Boyd and Mrs. Cora Smith. Funeral and burial took place at New Union M. E. Church Friday, with Rev. B. H. Vestal officiating. He will be missed in his community.

Fountains of Truth

Rev. Walter F. Isenhour, Taylorville, N. C. He who turns to the Book—the Bible—instead of the bottle never regrets his choice. He who turns to the bottle instead of the Book will have remorse that may last forever. You may hit your mark as you seek to wound another, but don't forget that there a strange route by which the dart that you sent forth will return to your own heart and end life. Every man has a storage room in his inner life where he lays things away. He stores many good or evil, truth or falsehood, honesty or dishonesty, goodness or wickedness. He is great of small, happy or miserable, successful of bad, according to his storage room. If the other fellow stoops to throw mud at you let him throw it. It you will trust God to wash it away you will shine brighter than ever before, while the mud-slinger will become more smuttier. If a man errie his teeth at you don't fear. Keep cool. He is probably a heavier coward than he realizes that he is. Smile back at him and show him that you are the stronger. There is great strength in quietness in time of stormy moments. Some people are careful about hatching their English, but they are great at hatching their neighbors. They shouldn't forget that words are hard to heal! I had rather hear someone say, "Ain't he a fine man?" than hear him say, "Ain't he a rascal?" The real depth of a man's true greatness depends upon the depth of his goodness. Money is the god that multitudes of people live by, but it certainly is a poor god to die by. Give me the good God of heaven to live by and He will be the wonderful, marvelous God to die by. In our schools we teach that alcohol and nicotine are deadly poisons, unfit for the human body, which is absolutely right; then our pupils go forth to face these highly advertised evils as something very desirable. How inconsistent! O that our Government would outlaw these evils once and forever! The man who gambles in the slums and back alleys of our cities is just as honorable in the sight of Almighty God as those who gamble in hotels, parlors and mansions, or in their homes. Don't condemn the fellow who has fallen beneath one sin while you are indulging in another just as bad. The story of a French judge is currently being told around Paris. It seems a new fanatical religion sect was going to crucify one of its members whom they believed to be the new messiah, but local officials took preventive action and halted the participants before the judge. After hearing all the argument the judge said: "All right, my friends. If you religion demands it, you may crucify him. But I must warn you one thing. If your messiah is not crucified in three days, I'll have you all hanged."

JEST JESTIN MOTION CARRIED In a town on the Pacific coast an earthquake shock was felt. When the municipal building rocked dangerously, the aldermen broke up their meeting in a hurry and scrambling for the door. The clerk, a fuddy-duddy who insisted upon formalities and parliamentary procedure, was hard put to give his minutes the proper official tone. Finally he evolved this masterpiece: "On motion of the city hall, the council adjourned."

FINE BOY "Why are you so accurate?" Mrs. Murphy. "Why? Denny is comin' home the day." "I thought it wuz for foive years he was out of this place." "An' s'pose it must be a great comfort for ye to have a good b'y like that."

Our County And Social Security

By W. K. White, Manager. We are being asked a great number of questions regarding social security coverage for people who are self-employed. Most of these questions are repeaters and involve four or five points. When is the tax paid? The social security tax is paid at the same time your regular income tax is paid, on Schedule C. Answering that question generally answers quite well the question often asked as to when and where. The income tax is payable, as most every one knows, on or before March 15th, and is payable to the collector of internal revenue. And so is the social security tax. There is a special form, Schedule C, to use for reporting the social security tax on self-employment income. The self-employed person who has wages of employees to report, should never report his income together with the wages of his employees. Before passing on, it should be noted that the coverage of the self-employed is mandatory. It is not voluntary or left to the choice of the individual, as many of the self-employed seem to think. It is part of your income tax. One thing that a self-employed person will need when he files a return is a social security number. Many of the self-employed may have never had a social security number. They should get one now and not wait until the last minute. If you have ever had a social security card and lost it, you should ask for a duplicate. One thing we should like to tell on everyone is that if you got a number while working for an employer for wages and have since become self-employed, you do not need a new number. Always keep the same number whether you are self-employed or work for someone else. A representative of this office will be in Mocksville again on March 12th, at the court house, second floor, at 12:30 p. m., and on the same date in Cooleemee, at the old Band Hall, over Ledford's Store, at 11 a. m.

Kremlin Files
IT ISN'T pleasant to contemplate, but the inescapable fact is that Russia is not only outproducing us in planes, but is building up a reservoir of battle-tested pilots to fly them. The blunt fact is that the Kremlin is using Korea as a graduate school to train Russian pilots how to fly against American planes.

Rotating 'classes' of Russian pilots have been training the MIG's over Korea and learning American combat techniques first hand. The present class showed up in Korea on Nov. 15, is now about ready to graduate.

Each class takes the same prescribed course. The first month is spent making navigational flights across Korea. The second month is spent observing American formations and tactics. During this period, the MIG's will occasionally make a pass at a bomber formation, but they are not to shoot. They never fire a shot. The MIG's also take care to keep out of the way of air force F-86 Sabrejets during their breaking-in period.

By the third month, however, the Soviet student-pilots begin to tangle with American fighters. They preferably fly F-80 Shooting Stars and F-84 Thunderjets. As the Russians gain experience, they mix it up with our crack F-86 squadrons.

By the third month, however, the Soviet student-pilots begin to tangle with American fighters. They preferably fly F-80 Shooting Stars and F-84 Thunderjets. As the Russians gain experience, they mix it up with our crack F-86 squadrons.

Notes—In contrast, we send only our crack pilots to practice. Our new pilots do not battle training. It is that we are so short of F-86's that we cannot risk letting green-horns fly them in combat.

Messages to Moscow
A lot of schools all over the country are taking advantage of the arrangement whereby the school children of America can broadcast via the Voice of America to school children behind the Iron Curtain. Many newspapers are also cooperating.

In Charleston, W. Va., the Gazette is running a four-week contest among high-school children for the best "Message to Moscow." The winner of each week's contest will be announced weekly, and at the end of the month the final winner will be given a trip to New York to visit the United Nations and broadcast personally over the Voice of America.

The Los Angeles News and the Wichita Eagle are cooperating with California and Kansas schools in running similar contests.

The messages should not be over 150 words, should tell about conditions in America, and should give the youngsters of this country want peace and resent the artificial barrier to friendship imposed by the Kremlin. Since the youngsters of today will have to carry out the American foreign policy of tomorrow, this is an opportunity for them to help mould that foreign policy now.

Costello's Friends
For the first time in years, a senate committee will defy the unwritten rule of Congress and question congressmen.

Specifically, Arnold Bauman of the senate D.C. crime committee wants to know why certain congressmen have been so clumsy with racketeer Frankie Costello's Washington lobbyist, Murray Olf.

Men have actually traced long-distance phone calls to Olf from Costello's partner, Dandy Ping Kestel. Olf also kept racketeer Joe Adonis overnight in his hotel room while Adonis was hiding out from the senate crime committee. Olf himself has a criminal record.

American Plan for European Army Endangered by Allied Bickering

EUROPEAN ARMY—The American plan for a united European army which would include Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, and Greece, is being threatened by bickering among the nations themselves.

The big question is how and under what conditions West German troops are to be included in the European Army. The United States has proposed that West German manpower be brought into an "integrated" force under General Eisenhower. West Germany and France have their own views of how this can be accomplished and to what extent.

The German view: She will agree to participate in the "integrated" force only if taken in as a full partner in the Atlantic alliance. In addition she wants several other concessions, including maximum sovereignty under the "peace contract" yet to be signed.

The French view: France would agree to inclusion of German units, but stipulates a seat on a projected four-power special board participating nations have ratified the treaty. These nations are France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, and Italy. This stipulation means a delay of at least six months before a final treaty is a long process.

The three big powers—the United States, Britain, and France—have already told the Germans they can not be included in the Atlantic alliance for the time being. There was a hint that if Germany signed the European army pact, however, and showed that she could behave, then it would be a much easier job of selling western Europeans on the idea of bringing Germany into the alliance.

West Germany and France are still far from satisfied and remain suspicious of each other. The door is still open for a possible settlement, but the whole thing hangs by a thin thread. A few wrong words at the wrong time can still wreck the plan that has cost home towners of America, but more important, it could cost the west a united front against communism. It has been said that an European army can not work without West Germany and France. It is obvious, then, that we must compromise their demands for the good of the whole and world peace.

RECORD DIVIDENDS—The Department of Commerce reports corporations in the United States paid a record $8,553,000,000 in cash dividends during 1956. This is a 2 per cent gain over 1955. However, many corporations reported profits down during the last half of 1956, with a drop of 16 per cent for the month of December. It is partly attributed to increased tax payments.

Dividends were reported up in all fields except manufacturing. Automobile dividends dropped 25 per cent and electrical machinery and chemical goods manufacturers reported dividends down about 10 per cent.

The oil refining industry registered one of the biggest gains with 10 per cent, mining was up 16 per cent, railroads 10 per cent, and paper and printing 8 per cent.

ATOMIC TESTS—A new series of atomic tests will be held at Eniwetok in the Pacific. It was announced by the Atomic Energy Commission. It was also revealed that further tests are planned for the near future in the Nevada desert near Las Vegas.

Tests will be reported up in all fields except manufacturing. Automobile dividends dropped 25 per cent and electrical machinery and chemical goods manufacturers reported dividends down about 10 per cent.

THE RAYON STORY
WITH wool getting scarcer, and not nearly so necessary with the coming of warmer weather, it's good news to you, that rayon, rayon, cotton and many new fabric alloys, seems large and plentiful on the horizon. So you'll have lots to choose from at your store, for that.

The big cotton crop of 1951 assures you of plenty for your clothing needs, at much the same price as of yore, in spite of rising wages, taxes and transportation costs. The rayon and nylon story is still bright. A large carry-over from sports year, when many of you weren't buying, plus a large influx of new fibers, and combinations of new and old make your shopping easy and worthwhile. Just watch for those sales at your store—and have fun!

So important has rayon become, that soon you will be seeing a mysterious label on both the ready-to-wear and the goods at your store. That large AS (American Standard) is a guide to the best buy for your money for durability, and pocket suitability to the purpose. And that AS guarantee is due to appear on all garments and fabrics that contain 50 per cent or more rayon.

No longer will you be buying by look, feel and hope. No longer will you be let down when a favorite garment wears out before you tire of it. The AS label is awarded only to rayons that fill this new set of requirements. It guarantees good wear under normal use.

SHINE ON RAYON
Shine on your rayon, when you iron. The best way to do one of four wrong things, according to authorities in the field. Maybe your iron's too hot—leave it at the rayon spot on the dial of your automatic iron, or alternate on and off if you haven't the automatic heating control. Or maybe your board is too thinly packed—that could explain a shine. Or you're ironing on the right side, without benefit of pressing cloth. Or shiny spots appear here and there? Then, these two must compromise their demands for the good of the whole and world peace.

YOUTHFUL SINGER Chillicothe Youth Is Nation's First Television Opera Star

A 12-year-old boy from Chillicothe, Ohio, has become one of the nation's first television opera stars, a personality as well-known to the greats of the musical world as to the folks back home.

In Chillicothe (pop. 18,340) Chet Allen developed his first taste for singing, along with cartoon sketching, playing collecting and football line play. When his family shifted to Columbus several years ago, Chet was already singing the clear soprano tones that recently moved the great Arturo Toscanini to tears and wrung unstrained plaudits from the nation's foremost music critics.

His father, a chemical engineer, enabled the 12-year-old youngster in the Columbus Boychoir at Princeton, N.J. Under the careful supervision of Herbert Hoffman, director of the Boychoir, Chet became a star soloist. He accompanied the choir on a bus barnstorming tour of 32 states.

He was, in fact, a veteran musical campaigner by the time that opera-composer Gian-Carlo Menotti, director of the Metropolitan Opera, visited the Three Wise Men. The youth's impulsive gesture in offering his crutch as a present to the new-born King in Bethlehem led to his miraculous recovery.

Two years ago by the National Broadcasting Company Menotti seized upon the Chillicothe youngster as a natural for the role of the crippled boy who is healed by the Three Wise Men. The youth's impulsive gesture in offering his crutch as a present to the new-born King in Bethlehem led to his miraculous recovery.

Chet moved on New York with all the assurance of a widely traveled child star. He became an overnight hit with the opera's cast at Lincoln Center. He was a star in rehearsals, but he moved and amazed by his vocal and acting capacities.

So, too, were ordinary folks throughout the nation. The opera had its premiere Christmas Eve on television. Chet's director Hoffman reports that next day NBC was deluged with letters, telegrams and telephone calls praising Chet's performance.

Chet is now back at the Boychoir where Director Hoffman reports never knew there was a Musical Director Hoffman. He estimates that in one year, possibly two, Chet's voice will mature.

Whether Chet will continue as an operatic performer, or whether he will pick up the old life and become a cartoonist or perhaps an engineer like his father, depends on his own choice. Director Hoffman estimates that in one year, possibly two, Chet's voice will mature.

DOUBLE MISTAKE
By Richard Hill Wilkinson
IT WAS convenient thought Martha Sidney that Larry had money. "You see," she confided to Dorice Merton, who was to be married, "Larry could hardly expect me to accompany him on these expeditions. A flier all he has enough money to follow him into the woods."

Larry looked at her in bewilderment. He saw the whiteness about her lips, and knew suddenly that she had never intended to go with him. There was a quality in his voice when she replied that frightened her.

So that's how it let 'em the same old story. There were books. There was a quality in his voice when she replied that frightened her.

They departed by train the next morning. At Saranac they shifted to a power boat, and for hours drove steadily in the wilderness. At the head of the last chain of lakes they disembarked. The power boat turned away. Martha and Larry were left alone, standing on a narrow strip of wilderness that protruded into the lake. There was a log cabin, a canoe and nothing else.

Martha felt afraid and very much alone. She looked at Larry and saw the same old grin that had frightened her before. She saw the same old grin that had frightened her before.

She saw the same old grin that had frightened her before. She saw the same old grin that had frightened her before.

THE WEEK In Religion

INSPIRATION Love Your Neighbor

WE ARE BOUND also to love our neighbor. We must have good will toward our families and friends, but toward all men. Charity is nothing if it is not all-embracing. It must be kind to every difference of race, color, creed or social class. It must reach out beyond the narrow bounds to the community to embrace the whole world.

Farm Topics

Multiflora Rose Is Popular in Midwest

In recent years the multiflora rose as a permanent, living fence has gained popularity in many areas of the west. The fast growing multiflora rose was first championed by sportsmen who had watched natural cover for birds and small animals decreasing steadily through the years. Now, farmers in many sections of the furniture have the answer to a number of problems, the least of which is its use as a fence.

Last Five Years Are Called "Golden Era"

Economists have labeled the past five years of prosperity enjoyed by farmers of this country as the "Golden Age of American agriculture." According to authorities, there have been few, if any, eras which were more prosperous in prosperity than that of the last five years.

Canned Spray Paint

A national manufacturer has come up with cans of spray paint just for touch-up jobs around the farm that should make a big hit in all sections of the country. The paint, in original factory finish, should end the need of messing around with brush, paint can, turpentine, rags and all the mixing and cleaning usually required and so irritating when the job is just a little touch-up.

Increase in Real Estate Prices Foreseen for '52

Many economists expect at least a 5 per cent increase in farm real estate prices in 1952 due largely to the fact people are thinking of land as a safe place for investment. But this view can be a bad investment without needed know-how for land and financial planning. Land prices increased in the past few years have been due both to inflation and speculation, agricultural economists report.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Youth Today

LESSON for March 16, 1952

YOUTH today has a hard time of it with bad examples in high places, prevalence of gambling, liquor ads on every billboard and liquor on too many "manly" tables; with divorce almost as easy as marriage and both as easy as whines; educated elementary school teachers it is considered wrong for the teacher to "fail" or punish any one, in high schools that emphasize the mind, and in colleges where a coach is more than a professor and where (as two leading universities recently learned) almost half the student body, it seems, admits to cheating; living in a country where success is measured in dollars and where the Christian church is still in a minority; what chance has a boy or girl grow up straight and strong instead of weak and crooked?

It Has Been Worse

THE BEST answer to this question was even more a part of a hard time of it, yet always there have been some who have grown straight and strong.

The Right Friends

YET it was in that bad century that some of the most famous Christian saints and heroes lived. Timothy, Paul's young understudy, was such a man. He had everything against him: a bad thought world of him, and Paul's standards were extraordinarily high. His life (or what we know of it from the Scripture references to him) had many qualities worth studying.

Self Control

THE other reason for Timothy's self-discipline, self-control, comes from inside: his character. Followers of these lessons may wonder why "temperance" has to be dragged in every once in a while. It's not dragged in; we just dare not dodge it. Temperance just means self-control in general. In particular, one of the drugs-by-all odds the most popular drug—that tends to make the users lose self-control, is alcohol. As the proverb has it: First the man takes a drink, and then the drink takes the man.

Young people get more than enough urging to become alcoholics

There is a book, "Fruit of the Wine," by George H. Turnbull, (printed by the Lord Baltimore Press and published in 1950 at 223 Chancery Road, Baltimore 18, Md.) which is a mine of facts about liquor—the kind of information you will not get in the advertisements. Young people who learn these things the hard way (by reading such a book) may say the heartbreak of learning the hard way.

The Blessedness Of Peace

Rev. Walter E. Isenhour, Taylorville, N. C. What would life be if we had no peace? Naturally it would be a drudgery, a burden and a miserable existence. Of course there is an such strife, empty, greed and hatred on earth that our peace of mind, to say the best of it, is often disturbed, but when we are at peace with God, and love all mankind, and are at peace with everybody ourselves, we can enjoy life and the peacefulness of our inner consciousness. This is sweet and blessed.

Paul wrote to the Thessalonians: "Be at peace among yourselves." We realize that the business of the enemy is to continually cause strife and hatred, but we are to love one another, pray for each other, and be long-suffering toward each other, and trust God to keep us peaceful. Jesus said, "Blessed are the peacemakers; for they shall be called the children of God." (Matt. 5:9.) There are no blessings pronounced upon peace-breakers.

Many homes are wrecked and ruined by some member, or members of the family, that break the peace. They see, fuss, grumble, quarrel, find fault, criticize, and continually keep up disturbance. This can turn a home almost into a hell.

"Then there are those in a community sometimes that are peace-breakers instead of peacemakers. They keep up a disturbance among their neighbors. They look for the faults of those around them; look for something to talk about that isn't pleasant and gossip about what they hear and see. Consequently this disturbs the peace of a community and may cause much needless anxiety, strife and trouble. There are likewise those who disturb the peace of churches, causing division and strife, confusion and hatred sometimes among the membership. This is very, very hurtful. It hinders the church in its spirituality, in its goodwill, in its power to win souls and in its growth. Churches are sometimes disrupted by membership who are peace-breakers until the membership demands and the buildings are taken over by the birds and owls or sold and turned into some kind of secular business, or torn away. It will be dreadful for peace-breakers at the day of judgment when they stand face to face before God.

Peace is blessed in one's own life, in his home, his community, and his church. So blessed is it that all should share in it and do his part to keep peace flowing like a river.

MOTHER WORRIES

There was once a young lady who went to work in a federal government office in Washington. She was proud of her job so she wrote her parents about it.

"I work," she wrote, "in the data analysis group of the aptitude test sub-unit of the division of occupational analysis and managing tables of the bureau of labor utilization of the War Relocation Authority, which is under the office of emergency management."

"How about two of them?" asked the druggist of the man who was buying a toothbrush. "One for your wife?"

"No, thanks. When I buy a new one, I always give her the old one."

"Well, sir, the voice at the other end said, 'Hello, is that you, you old idiot!'"

Customer: "What? Five hundred dollars for that antique? Why I priced it last week and you said three hundred and fifty."

"Well, sir, the voice at the other end said, 'Hello, is that you, you old idiot!'"

LITERAL

To the soldiers parading the parade grounds the sergeant's order was explicit: "Step up everything that isn't growing!"

Hardly had the order been given, when a eager beaver private espied a pretty girl of about seventeen tripping gracefully across the freshly-cut lawn. They made after her with alacrity. Alacrity didn't have a chance.

"The sergeant's whistle whistled, the buckster told him to take a hand! But Freddie said no."

"What's the matter? Don't you like them?" asked the buckster.

"Yes," replied Freddie.

"Then go ahead and take some."

"I'm not taking any more until the buckster put a generous handful in the boy's cap. After the buckster had driven on the mother asked: 'Why didn't you take the cherries when he told you to?'"

"Freddie winked as he said: 'Cause his hand was bigger mine.'"

An old lady who could not see eye to eye with the taxi-driver on the question of fare, finally remarked: "Don't you try to tell me anything, my good man, I haven't been riding in taxis for five years for nothing."

"No," replied the driver, "but I bet you had a blasted good try!"

Merry Christmas! And make it merrier by giving presents that increase in value like U. S. Defense Bonds. You can buy them at your bank or Post Office. And don't forget to include yourself in a bond-buying program all the year around. Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. Every year an income should be in one of these plans. Buy Defense Bonds now, help us to win, and you'll have many Merry Christmases to come!

Harry: "Is the boss a clever man, really?"

"You bet he is. He can draw all sorts of confusion from a few facts."

Aln't It Great

Mabel: "Aln't the radio a wonderful thing, though?"

Myrtle: "Yeah, it certainly is. It even learns ya how to pronounce words."

DIPLOMAT

It's an old story about the ball game being umpired by a runt of a fellow. An enormous player was at the plate and an equally large catcher stood behind him. The little umpire watching the pitch sizzle across the corner, yelled, "Two!"

"Two what?" snarled the catcher, mashing his musk into the umpire's face.

"Yeah, two what?" growled the batter, raising his bat. The umpire looked from one brute to the other, and said: "Too close to tell!"

NOT SURE

Office Boy (in a nervous way): "Please, sir, I think you've wanted on the phone."

Employer: "You think! What's the good of thinking?"

"Well, sir, the voice at the other end said, 'Hello, is that you, you old idiot!'"

Wise Choice

Joan: "Did you hear that Mr. Rilyn is engaged to Dr. Miser?"

John: "She was, but she said she decided that health is more important than wealth."

Moral Values

Mother: "Which apple do you want, Junior? Biggest one."

Mother: "Why, Junior! You should be polite and take the little one."

Junior: "Well, mamma, should I lie just to be polite?"

CALCULATOR

Freddie's mother was buying fruit and vegetables from a huckster. As Freddie was eyeing the cherries, the buckster told him to take a hand!

"What's the matter? Don't you like them?" asked the buckster.

"Yes," replied Freddie.

"Then go ahead and take some."

"I'm not taking any more until the buckster put a generous handful in the boy's cap. After the buckster had driven on the mother asked: 'Why didn't you take the cherries when he told you to?'"

"Freddie winked as he said: 'Cause his hand was bigger mine.'"

Our County And Social Security

By W. K. White, Manager.

Every one of the 119 coal miners killed in the West Frankford, Illinois, explosion several months ago was insured under social security, and eventual benefits paid by old-age and survivors insurance to their families may total $1,463,000.

As an illustration, the family of John D. Thomas, Sr., whose widow, Mrs. Marie Thomas, has given permission for publication the facts concerning her claim, a typical one among those which have been received and paid.

John D. Thomas, aged 29, of 1130 West Webster Street, Benton, Illinois, was a World War II veteran. He reported for work in the huge new Orient coal mine on that last fatal shift before the Christmas week-end, on December 21, and like 118 others, never came out alive.

When the Harrisburg, Illinois social security field office moved its entire staff to the disaster scene to provide immediate service to the survivors, Mrs. Marie Thomas, 29, filed her claim and those of her two children, Brenda, aged 9, and John D., Jr., aged 5. The claims were certified in the Chicago area office on January 8, and the following day the Treasury mailed the first monthly checks—$45.50 to Mrs. Thomas and $37.70 each to Brenda and John D., Jr., $120.70 altogether. These payments will continue to the children every month until they reach age 18, and to Mrs. Thomas until her youngest child is 18, provided she does not remarry. Besides the monthly payments, a lump-sum benefit of $180.90 was paid. The total payments to the Thomas family before the children reach 18 will be $16,732. After reaching age 65, Mrs. Thomas may again receive her $45.30 payment, and on the basis of actual life expectancy after 65, might be paid an additional $5,475—more than $22,000 to the family of John D. Thomas, Sr.

Agnes of the coal miners lost in the tragedy ranged from 19 to 63, but most of them and their employers had been paying social security taxes (never more than $30 a year each until 1950) since the program commenced in 1937. However, a year and a half of employment is sufficient at this time to have insured any worker to the extent that his family will receive benefits in case of his death.

A representative of this office will be in Mocksville again on March 26th, at the court house, second floor, at 12:30 p. m., and on the same date in Coolee, at the old Band Hall, over Ledford's Store, at 11 a. m.

I. Randall taking time off to get hair cut—Mrs. Duke on that last fatal shift before the Christmas week-end, on December 21, and like 118 others, never came out alive.

Why should a man who doesn't even live in Mocksville, try to put over an election which would no doubt increase the tax rate of all Mocksville citizens? This is the $64 question. Think this over before you vote.

We are reliably informed that a few Mocksville citizens want to vote a bond issue to raise money to hire instructors to teach our children how to play. Arthur T. Abernathy, author and Methodist preacher once wrote a book entitled, "The Hell You Say"

A local merchant, who has been advertising, but not in The Record, told us a few days ago that he didn't think the advertising was worth anything—that no one but his competitors read the ads. If we were this gentleman, we would never spend another cent in newspaper ads unless it was just a contribution to help keep the newspaper alive. Such is life in a country town.

Here are a few ways you can become a member too. Have a few drinks and drive. See how fast your car will run. Pass on hills and curves. Failing to slow down at night or on hazardous roads. Sleeping at the wheel and lack of attention while driving.

The name of this club is "Highway Fatalit Club" and membership is permanent, so drive safely if you don't want to join.

In the Hendricks & Merrell Furniture Co., advertisement in last week's Record, the ad read, "We Serve Everything We Sell" of course the ad should have read, "We Service Everything We Sell" Mistakes will happen in newspaper offices same as in other places.

Farm News

The TVA fertilizer program in cooperation with State College and its agencies and the PMA is making available 30 tons of Ammonium Nitrate for side-dressing corn in 1952.

This material is 33 per cent Nitrogen, which is twice the actual Nitrogen count found in Nitrate of Soda and one-half times that found in Cal Nitro. This side-dressing material and others are likely to be scarce at the time they are needed.

The cost of this material to the farmer will be $7.00 plus delivery which should be approximately $1.50 per ton. This price will figure approximately $15.00 per ton less than through regular channels.

Each farmer getting this material will have to cooperate with our office in using this Ammonium Nitrate for demonstration purposes. There is very little cooperation expected other than the farmer should follow the five recommended steps in corn production. The farmer cannot be a commercial corn producer. A commercial producer is designated as one who sold more than 100 bushels of corn last year. Farmers using this material must use it on all of the corn that they plant. Some of the purpose of this program are to increase yields of corn to be used on the farm and by increasing the yields, more land can be released from the growing of corn from the production of other crops and pasture, and at the same time get the amount of corn needed on the farm.

Another requirement is that 200 pounds of this material will have to be used on each acre. The County Agent's Office has application forms which will be used to fill out for people interested in getting this material. The approval of the farmers for this material will be on a first come, first served basis since there will be only 30 tons allotted to the county.

The wind reached a velocity of about 50 to 60 miles per hour, and the rain fell in torrents most of the night. All streams were out of their banks on Tuesday. Some damage was done to property by the strong winds.

Many local citizens declared they were kept awake most of the night by the storm.

One a Penny, Two a Penny, the Cross Bun! (See Recipes Below)

Delicious Rolls

WHEN YOU BAKE rolls and serve them to the great delight of your family, you do much more than add an appetizing accompaniment to the menu.

You add to the cozy comfort of the kitchen with roll baking, and what is, perhaps, the most important thing you give the menfolk and children rich, moist, delicious rolls.

Modern methods take the guesswork out of yeast baking and guarantee results when directions are followed.

Hot Cross Buns (Makes 24) 1/2 cup milk 1/2 cup sugar 1 1/2 teaspoons salt 1/2 cup shortening 1/2 cup warm water 2 packages of cake yeast, active dry or compressed 3 eggs, beaten 1/2 cup sifted enriched flour 1/2 cup cinnamon 1/2 cup currants or chopped raisins

1/2 cup milk 1/2 cup sugar 1 1/2 teaspoons salt 1/2 cup warm water 2 packages of cake yeast, active dry or compressed 2 eggs, beaten 1/2 cup sifted enriched flour 1/2 cup mace 1/2 cup grated lemon rind Scald milk, then stir in sugar and salt. Sprinkle or crumble yeast into lukewarm water for 5 minutes. Stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture, eggs, and mace. Stir until dough is elastic and does not stick to the board.

Here are some very light, though rich, rolls which are topped with almonds and sugar to give a crunchy topping. Through beating replaces kneading in this recipe: Almond Puffs (Makes 12 large) 1/2 cup lukewarm milk 1/2 cup sugar 1 1/2 teaspoons salt 1 package of cake yeast, active dry or compressed 1/2 cup warm (not hot) water 1 egg 1/2 cup sifted shortening 1/2 cup sifted enriched flour 1/2 cup almonds, blanched and LYNN SAYS: Quick Snacks Help Tide the Appetite Crisp weather does things to the appetite and there are easy ways to take care of the problem without denting the food budget. Keep a bowl or two of sandwich spreads in the refrigerator for the raiders: mix some peanut butter with grated carrot and mayonnaise. Another is a blend of cottage cheese and applesauce. Still another uses cream cheese with raisins, softened to spreading consistency with milk.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Union Sunday School Lessons BY DR. KENNETH FOREMAN

Doctor's Hobby

DOCTOR Luke is a man to whom we are all indebted. Without him, we in the church would have lost some of our finest hymns, the "Magnificat" and the "Nunc Dimittite" without him we might never have heard of the story of that first Christmas when the shepherds watched and the angels sang. He was the only Gospel writer who remembered to tell us those matchless parables, the Sheep and the Lost, and the Prodigal Son, and many another.

It is only from him that we know of Jesus' prayer at Calvary. "Father, forgive them; they know not what they do." Furthermore, it is only Luke who conceived and wrote the book of Acts.

Some Hobbies Are Famous OTHER interesting things that Dr. Luke was not a professional writer. He was a professional physician, and we hope that enough people who loved him also paid their bills promptly so that he could make his living. But it was not the doctoring that endeared him to the church of Christ.

It was what he did in his spare time, it was his missionary work and his writing. It is the Gospel of Luke and the Acts of the Apostles that are his main claim to fame. Luke is not the first man nor the last to accomplish more by a "side-line" than by his main job. We remember David in the Old Testament, whose rise to power began not with his sheep-herding, which no doubt he did to perfection, but with his music, which his father may well have thought a waste of time. We remember Marcus Aurelius, emperor not for his military campaigns, which were masterly, but for the "meditation" he wrote in stretches of spare time on those campaigns. We remember the Apostle Paul not for the churches he founded (most of which folded) but for the dozen or so letters he managed to squeeze into his busy evenings.

Other Doctors: LUKE was not the last Christian doctor who has found in what, for some, might be a "side-line" his finest means of service and best source of happiness. Dr. Howard Kelly of Baltimore was a cancer specialist of no mean fame, but was even better known as a scientist who not only saw no conflict between science and religion, but who brought his skill and his science to the service of Christ.

There was another doctor, a surgeon in a midwestern city, not many years ago, who was ready to retire. He had enough to live on in comfort, and the life of a successful surgeon in a great city is a wearing one. But instead of retiring, he went out to China and in a remote province he spent his "retiring" years at his own expense, hardly knowing a word of Chinese, and having the time of his life and rendering himself if possible more nearly indispensable out there than he had ever been back in the states. Again there was the surgeon Alexis Carrel, who with another scientist first succeeded in keeping living tissue (a chicken's heart) alive for years beyond the time when it "should have" died—a surgeon who also believed in the power of prayer and whose book "Man the Unknown" is valuable as combining the scientific and the Christian view of man. Or there was Dr. L. J. Archer of Chicago and North Carolina, who operated two sanitariums more easily than some doctors can run one office, and yet who found his life's deepest satisfaction in the Sunday school class he taught for years.

Life Is More Than Making a Living MANY others besides doctors have made the same discovery. What is a "hobby," after all? It can be only an elaborate twiddling of the thumbs, something to "kill time" (horrible thought!) It can be something done merely to relieve nervous pressure. It can be something not intended to do anything at all. But what Dr. Luke found, countless others, including some readers of these lines, have also found: that even when we have to spend most of our time making a living, we can devote a few minutes to something that makes life more meaningful.

1951 Broke Records in National Parks

U. S. rangers have closed their books on the greatest travel year in the history of America's national parks. From Maine to Alaska and Hawaii, more than 36,700,000 people — one in every four Americans — visited historic shrines and saw majestic scenery that they themselves own as part of the far-flung national park system. The figure broke the 1950 record by nearly four million.

Uncle Sam's public park domain — mountains and monuments, canyons and caves — embraces more land than the combined area of Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware and half of New Jersey. Half of the total is in 28 National Parks; the remainder in 175 National Monuments, historical sites, battlefields, and memorials. National forests, ten times as big, are not included. Yellowstone is the largest National Park. A fantastic land of geysers, hot springs, mud volcanoes, waterfalls, mountains, and forests, it sprawls across more than two million acres of Wyoming, Montana, and Idaho.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: ONE YEAR IN N. CAROLINA $1.50 SIX MONTHS IN N. CAROLINA .75c ONE YEAR, OUTSIDE STATE $2.00 SIX MONTHS, OUTSIDE STATE $1.00

To Our Subscribers

For the past several years the price of news print on which The Record is printed, has advanced. We are now paying more for a month's supply of paper than a year's supply cost us.

Everything that goes into making a newspaper has advanced in price by leaps and bounds. On April 1st the postal rates on newspapers increase, the second increase within the past few years.

The Record is forced to do one of two things—reduce the size of the paper or raise the subscription price. After consulting with many of our subscribers and realizing that there is already a scarcity of ready money, we have decided to issue a four-page paper with the subscription price remaining the same $1.50 per year anywhere in North Carolina, and $2 per year for those living in other states.

If the price of news print and other office supplies drops we will enlarge the paper or reduce the subscription price. We dislike to reduce the size of the paper, but it is impossible to print an 8-page paper now at the price we have been charging. We hope that our subscribers will bear with us until prices adjust themselves so we can enlarge the paper to its former size.

Court In Session

The March term of Davie Superior court convened in this city Monday morning at 10 o'clock, with his Honor, Judge Don Phillips presiding and Solicitor I. Allie Hayes prosecuting. There are about 260 cases docketed for trial. Most of them being for traffic violations, and a number of violations of prohibition laws. The court is expected to last through Friday.

Liquor Stores

Does ABC stores in a city reduce the number of drunks? Listen to what the Twin City Sentinel had to say on this subject a few days ago: "On Jan. 28 last year, before liquor stores opened in Winston-Salem, there were 27 drunks in city courts on Feb. 2, there were five on Feb. 4, nine. On Jan. 28, this year, there were 33 drunks, on Feb. 2, there were 22, and on Feb. 4, there were 39." Seems that liquor stores have increased drunkenness by over 100 per cent. in the Twin-City.

About 170 store owners were present at the meeting and 31 prizes were given away to those holding lucky tickets.

Our old friend Senator Clyde R. Hoey, of Shelby and Washington, was a Mocksville visitor last Thursday. He was on his way to Elkin to address a farmers' meeting. We have known Senator Hoey for nearly 60 years, which means that we are both getting up in years. The Senator was wearing a red carnation.

HOW BIG A BITE out of your tax bill? TAX-DOLLAR HANDOUTS TO SUBSIDIZED CARRIERS. Chances are, your federal income tax bill this year is the biggest ever. Yet, part of every tax dollar you pay will be used to build and maintain public transportation facilities for the free or less-than-cost of privately-owned air, water and highway commercial carriers. These huge inter-city transportation agencies have long since outgrown the "infant industry" stage. Why, then, must you go on paying part of their costs of doing business? And why must the self-supporting, tax-paying railroads be required, not only to compete with carriers subsidized from the public purse—but to help pay the costs of their subsidies, too? America's taxpayers can no longer afford the luxury of an unrealistic national transportation policy. Its continued existence under present conditions adds to your taxes and threatens the strength and vitality of the one reform-transportation all the others together cannot replace—the railroads! Oldest Living Thing in U. S. Has Rival in Olive Tree

Thousands of years from now California may boast of possessing two types of trees that were growing here in the 20th century. One of these is the Sequoia, or giant redwood, a few species of which already have grown in the Golden State for over 1,000 years. The other is the olive tree, a comparatively new arrival to this country.

"It should be emphasized that this type of transfusion is not a proper substitute for intravenous transfusion except in those cases in which the blood pressure is very low, or cannot be recorded, or in arrest of the heart action from hemorrhage," they said.

"In the latter cases, blood introduced into the veins, even under pressure, has a long route and a slow one to reach the coronary arteries (supplying the heart), even if it could be forced or propelled in some manner through the chambers of the heart and lungs. The most direct route to the coronaries is the arterial circulation."

The Washington surgeons said that with blood pressure at zero and no pulse to be felt, circulation was repeatedly restored "in an unbelievably short time." They add:

The modest efforts of these religious men to provide a little shade became the basis of an industry which, according to the California Olive Association, now nets some 2,200 growers in the U.S. about $10,000,000 annually.

It was not until the late 1800's that olives were available commercially in this country, even in a limited amount. Then improvements in canning processes and development of the modern metal container by the American Can Company gave olives a new life in the new world.

Abadan, an oil city of some 140,000 people, only 40 years ago was a desert island in the sun-baked delta below the junction of the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers. In a great geologic trough beneath the Mesopotamian river basin waited a hidden treasure. It remained for an Australian prospector named William Knox D'Arcey to drill 1,180 feet through Iranian limestone and bring in a gusher in 1908.

Wild tribesmen had ridden into Persia thousands of years before and found coatings of gummy black bitumen to fire their lamps and bind the materials of their buildings, and it fell to Alexander the Great to march through Persia, his horsemen collecting naphtha and pitch from evicting pools to strike blinding terror among the war elephants of enemies he met later.

Transfusions Through Arteries Said Life-Saving Measure

The rapid transfusion of blood through an artery, instead of through a vein as is usually done, has been described by two Washington surgeons.

Dr. Charles S. White and Donald Stubbs of the Research Foundation, Doctors Hospital, Washington, said the method has been found "safe, practical and life-saving."

Habits are easily formed, but not nearly as easy to break. According to Professor William James, Harvard psychologist, it is not enough just to decide to break a habit—one must decide whole-heartedly and not let a single exception occur. Habits should be broken off abruptly, and not gradually. Taking sleeping pills in a dangerous habit as well as an unnecessary one. Good bedding is all that's needed for sound, restful sleep as long as there are no physical ailments.

NEWS OF LONG AGO.

What Was Happening In Davie Before Parking Meters And Abbreviated Skirts.

(Davie Record, April 4, 1928)
W. D. Ward, of Thomasville, was in town Friday on business. R. M. Holtzinger is having his hangar on Maple avenue treated to a fresh coat of paint.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Graves and W. H. Graves spent Wednesday at Winston-Salem shopping. H. T. Brenger is having his residence on North Main street repainted.

Mrs. W. A. Correll and little son spent the week-end with relatives at Crutchfield. Misses Hazel Kurfess and Pansy Walker spent Wednesday afternoon at Winston-Salem shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stroud, of Winston-Salem, spent several days last week in town the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stroud. Frank L. Carter has been appointed chief of police and city tax collector and assumed his new duties last week.

Thermometers registered around the freezing point Saturday morning, but a windy night prevented the frost from being hurt by frost. Davie county has filled its quota for the 1928 Citizens Military training camp. Our boys will take training at Fort Bragg this summer.

Mrs. W. B. Bailey, of Route 2, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at Long's Sanatorium, Statesville, is getting along nicely. Her friends will be glad to learn this.

J. S. Green has moved his stock of general merchandise from the Sanford building to his store in South Mocksville. One new case of smallpox is reported in the Oak Grove section. A colored boy who had been working near Fork has developed a genuine case, according to Dr. J. W. Rodwell.

God Is Still Healing

Perhaps man's people today believe that God doesn't heal the sick any more; that He has recalled His healing power from the earth. Not so I'm glad to realize that the God who healed in olden times can heal just the same today, and has not left the sick and suffering to themselves to suffer it out. It is true that He, for some reason, lets us get sick sometimes, and we have to suffer; but He can be touched with the feeling of our infirmities, and that He reaches forth His hand to heal and raise us up, especially when it is for the good of others and for His glory.

I've suffered much in life. The enemy has made it hard for me a long life's journey. There have been many times when it seemed that I could live much longer, but in answer to prayer God has raised me up. At this writing I am recovering from an illness that threatened to bring on nervous prostration. My sleep left me almost entirely for several days and nights. This made me feel my great need of God's healing power again, as in other years. One night I lay awake almost the entire night, but in the meantime I got to thinking of the words of Jesus in Mark, eleventh chapter, verses twenty-two and twenty-four: "And Jesus answering said unto them, Have faith in God... Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them."

Somehow these verses were unpermeable in my mind. I thought if Jesus were in the room in visible and touchable form, as He was in the years of His incarnation, He would heal me. My heart went up to Him in earnest, sincere prayer. I anchored to these verses. I pleaded the healing blood of Christ. I thought, in fact I knew, that He was there in spirit, although invisible. I prayed almost all night, not only that the Lord Jesus would heal me, if it could be His will, that I might continue my work for Him, especially through my writing, thus reaching thousands of people; but I let my mind go out to others and remembered them in prayer, faith and trusting. I'm better again and back at my typewriter preparing material for your publication.

It says to have faith in God, to pray, to plead the healing blood of Christ, and hold on to God's promises and unchanging hand. The enemy tries us sorely and severely as we suffer in our bodies, and as we suffer otherwise, and tries desperately to get us hushed. Every inch of ground that we gain spiritually and physically has to be strongly contended for. In our illness we become more humble, prayerful, godly and holy. Maybe for this reason sometimes He allows us to suffer. We are made so much to feel our need, great, absolute need of Him. We ask Him, to search us out, and He finds any need within us that is contrary to His will, remove it from us as far as the east is from the west. Our faith holds God through His promises and we draw very near unto Him. Naturally the enemy takes every advantage possible to spring doubts upon us; to shake our faith in God and His promise; to rob us of the blessed communion we so much desire with our communion we so much desire with Father, Son and Holy Ghost, but in spite of the enemy, and in spite of our sufferings, we can realize that God is very near, even in our hearts. Praise His holy and matchless name forever.

"Have faith in God." This in spite of feelings, sufferings, and

VIEW POINTS

A Spaniard, an American, and a Scotsman were discussing what they would do if they awoke one morning to discover that they were millionaires.

The Spaniard said he would build a bull ring. The American said he would go to Paris to have a time. The Scotsman said he would go to sleep again to see if he could make another million.

Check Closely

Husbands are like furnaces—you have to watch them or they'll go out.

Changing Manners

Once upon a time man used to get out of the way of a woman driver through civility. Now it's sheer panic.

WATCHDOGS

A family moved from the city to a suburban locality and were told that they should get a watchdog to guard the premises at night. So they bought the largest dog they could find in the kennels of a neighboring dog fancier, who was a German. Shortly afterward the house was entered by burglars who made a good haul, while the big dog slept. The man went to the dog fancier and told him about it.

NEVER MEET

A train operated by a Norwegian engineer starts to New York from Albany with a drunken engineer leaves New York for Albany. There's only one track, no switches or sidings, yet the trains do not collide. Why?

Because Norse is Norse and Souse is Souse and never the twain shall meet.

MODERN GOVERNMENT

Two men were working on the White House lawn, each supplied with a small push cart. They walked about picking up paper with a long spear. One speared a piece of scrap paper and started to spear it when the wind came up and blew the paper into the White House through an open window.

The man became frantic and rushed into the building. He returned shortly, shaking his head "Too late. He's already signed it."

Trade Talk

Dentist—"Which tooth do you want extracted?"
Furniture Porter—"Lower seven."

Estimate

"What would I get?" inquired the man who had just insured his property against fire, "if this building should burn down tonight?"
"I would say," replied the insurance agent, "about ten years."

Reason's Gone

He: "Remember, darling? Last night you said you were in something about me you could love?"
She: "Yeah, but you spent it all."

Habitual

Beans—A vegetable which some one is always spilling.

OPERATOR

The boy was very small and the load of sand he was putting in the wheelbarrow was very, very big. A benevolent old gentleman, put ting down his hand, lent him a helping hand.

TRY AGAIN

He was an old and not very handsome widower.
"You are the sixth girl to whom I have proposed without avail."
"Well," said the girl, kindly, "maybe if you wear one when making your seventh proposal you'll have better luck."

Our County And Social Security

By W. K. White, Manager.
Women, in general, have greater lights and larger benefits under recent amendments to the social security law than they formerly had. While they are building toward their own retirement, they can also provide for their dependents in the event of their death. You know, there are still many women who work because they have to support their families. I'm going to tell you a story about such a working woman.

Let's call her Sarah Anderson. She and her husband are 66 years old. Seven years ago her husband, Paul, was in an automobile accident which paralyzed him. Sarah had never worked before that terrible accident. Her husband wouldn't let her, because he had always earned enough to take care of the house and children.

After the accident, Sarah decided that she would try to get a job. With the help of a friend, she got a job in the alteration department of a dress shop. It didn't pay much, but it kept the family together. And that was the most important thing in her life. At first, working was rather strange to her. But she soon found out that you can get used to anything. The children helped out and soon things were going along smoothly until, one day, her doctor advised her to quit working. Her heart couldn't stand the strain.

Here's the nice part of the story. Yes, Sarah worked long enough to qualify for monthly payments, and her husband can get payments too. The social security law provides for monthly payments to a dependent husband who has reached the age of 65. Dependency must be proved, but in this case that was easy for him to do. Sarah will receive $42.80 every month and her husband will get $21.40, making a total of $64.20 every month for the family.

A representative of this office will be in Mocksville again on April 9th, at the court house, second floor, at 12:30 p. m., and on the same date in Cooleemee, at the old Band Hall, over Ledford's Store, at 11 a. m.

Talked 'Em Away

North Carolina politicians have always been hard fighters. Soon after the Civil War Governor T. R. Caldwell and Judge Furches were speaking at Mocksville and General J. M. Leach appeared and asked for part of the speaking time.

The other two told him they would divide the time with him only if he would agree to speak between them, and make no reply or rebuttal. The Republican candidate hemmed and hawed, but finally agreed to the terms.

According to Jacob C. Legard's History of Davidson, Caldwell spoke first, leaving wide political gaps in his remarks, because he was confident his partner, the fast speaker, would take care of the situation.

Colonel Leach arose and tore into his opponents. On and on he spoke. The sun went down, and still he spoke. Someone pulled at his coat-tails and told him it was time to sit down, but the General roared: "They thought they would play the dove with me, but they don't have the first principle of a dove."

He finally spoke the crowd hunched and Furches never got a chance to get in a word edgewise—The State.
