Davie County Extension Work For Past Two Years

(By W. F. Robinson)

For two years the Davie County School System has had extension work for the benefit of the county teachers. The work is under the direction of Dr. John C. Hadley, Director of Extension Work and Professor of Education of Catawba College. For a number of years the State Board of Education has been raising its teacher training requirements and the State Board of Equalization has since its recent establishment, emphasized the importance of a higher certificate level among the teachers of the State. These circumstances, it seems, have made it mandatory on the part of local school officials to provide some way by which its teachers, some of which hold low grade certificates but have taught for a number of years and proven themselves efficient, may conveniently secure more scholastic training and thereby raise their certificates. However, while the Extension program unquestionably an advantage to teachers, this is not the whole purpose of the work. It is a movement for adult education. Any one interested in taking up some substantial course of college caliber is welcome and will do well to join the Extension work. Of course, it is necessary to have credit equivalent to college entrance requirements before securing college credit for the work.

The work is taught by Instructor of Catawba College—each a specialist in his field. All instructors conducting Extension classes in this county hold Ph. D. degrees. The work is in every respect of a high college standard.

During the first semester this year, two courses were taught in Extension work. Dr. David E. Foust taught a course in American Government, and Dr. John C. Hadley taught a course in Measuring Results in Teaching. These courses have just been completed by about forty students. During the second semester which begins Thursday, March 6th, Dr. Foust will continue his course in Government, and Dr. Victor F. Murry will give a course in Astronomy.

The lecture in American Government is given on Thursday afternoon of each week from 4:15 to 6:15 o'clock in the gymnasium (Thursday) from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock. Each course consists of fifteen two-hour lectures and gives two semester hours of college credit. As a rule, there is only one two-hour meeting of the class in each course per week. However, with the agreement of the class two or more meetings may be held in each course each week.

Both the school officials and Catawba College are anxious to make this work serve the county in the greatest and best way possible. Those interested in this work secure any desired detail information in connection with the work by calling at the office of the County Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The opening at C. C. Sanford's Company on Thursday, Feb. 27th, at which new Spring styles were displayed, was attended by a large crowd of purchasers. An attractive line of dresses, coats and hats, all New York models, secured much favorable comment. Mrs. Holthouser tells us that she is expecting another shipment of dresses in the near future. These new styles with their frills and furberlows are just the kind to appeal to the feminine eye.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETS

Davie County Post No. 174 met in the Junior Order Hall, Tuesday night and transacted business of much importance.

The meeting was attended by a goodly number of Legionnaires who adopted for their year's objective the erection of a flag pole for the public square and the purchase of an American flag to be flown therefrom every fair day throughout each year. It was also decided by those present to push the movement for the organization in Davie county of a unit of the Women's Auxiliary.

The post will meet again next Tuesday night at which time a full meeting is expected.

NEW STORE OPENS THIS WEEK

Mr. George Fink, of Lexington, has moved to Mocksville and will open a department store in the Southern Bank and Trust Company building this week.

Mrs. Fink is now in a Salisbury hospital recovering from an operation. She will join Mr. Fink here in a few days. They will make their home in the old March house on the square.

BEAUTY SPECIALIST HERE NEXT WEEK

Miss Stallings, beauty specialist will be at LeGrand's Pharmacy all next week, demonstrating the Martha Lee line of Exclusive Toilettries. Miss Stallings was advertised to be here in February but was unable to fill the engagement. See announcement in this issue.

HERBERT HAIRE BREAKS LEG

Herbert Haire had the misfortune to break his leg while playing on the school grounds on Friday. His many friends feel much sympathy for him, and hopes he will improve steadily.

CHURCH DISAPPEARING FROM SOVIET SECTOR

Petrozavodsk, Karelian, U. S. S. R. March 1.—Fifty-eight churches, four cathedrals and 30 religious shrines have been closed here to date and converted to economic or cultural uses.

Soviet authorities assert that the anti-religious movement is growing steadily. In five entire districts there are no longer any churches or priests. In this city the population turned over all church bells for industrialization.

The authorities also announced that in the presence of large number of peasants, six priests renounced their calling, declaring that religion was only a cloak for counter revolution. Membership in atheistic societies has increased 10-fold.

ATTORNEY E. L. GAITHER ATTENDS TRUSTEES MEETING

Attorney E. L. Gaither went to Raleigh Monday to attend an important meeting of the trustees of the State University, which was held in the Governor's office on Tuesday morning. The object of the meeting was to elect a president of the University to fill the place of President H. C. Chase who has recently resigned.

PIECE OF STONE ON WHICH MOSES STOOD IS SOLENN

San Jose, Calif., March 3.—A piece of stone on which Moses is reputed to have stood as he asked protection for the tribes of Israel has been stolen from the Rosencruan Order's museum here.

Dr. Spencer Lewis, caretaker of the Rosencruan temple, who reported loss of the relic to the police said the thief risked an ancient Egyptian curse.

He said the Egyptians had placed a curse upon any one who should buy or steal their ancient relics but explained that the curse had not been operative against himself and other Rosencruans because they took the stone for exhibition and educational purposes.

The missing stone, believed to have been taken last Saturday, is a drab gray color about the size of a dinner plate and marked with hieroglyphics.

McNeill Speaks For Legion Rally At Harmony Sat. Night

(By J. F. Leach)

Under the auspices of Hurst-Turner Post No. 66 of the American Legion, a community rally meeting was held in the auditorium of the Farm Life School, at Harmony, Saturday night, which was featured by a splendid address from our fellow-townman, Robert S. McNeill.

The purpose of the meeting was to "sell" the Legion to the community. Some twenty-five Legionnaires from Stateville were in attendance and took part in the meeting.

Addressing a packed auditorium, Mr. McNeill outlined the aims and purposes of the Legion as they related to community service. He showed by many illustrations just what is being accomplished by Legion posts throughout the country in the matter of community uplift and growth. The War Memorial at Greensboro, erected by Legionnaires at a cost of $155,000.00 was pointed to as an outstanding achievement. The establishment of swimming pools and play grounds in many sections of the country, the distribution of free milk to under-nourished children, the establishment of night schools to teach the principles of Americanism to foreigners and aliens, the advancement of the Boy Scouts movement and many other phases of Legion community work came in for intelligent treatment.

With reference to the disabled ex-soldiers and sailors, Mr. McNeill explained that the Legion has actually enrolled less than one per cent of the nation's population, and yet the burden of relief has been placed upon it. He stressed the claim that it is unfair to the heroes of 1917-18 to leave their welfare in the hands of so small a fraction of the country's population. The problem of administering relief is one of national-wide proportions and should be shouldered by all the people.

The speaker resented the term "Ex-Servicemen," claiming that the same is a gross misnomer when applied to former soldiers and sailors. He declared there are but two classes of ex-servicemen: one who has served and quit, and one who has served and is now dead. The Legion does not cater to either of these classes, Mr. McNeill declared.

The speaker's address was enjoyed by a huge audience and as a result, several men signed up for membership in the Legion.

RESOLUTION BY DAVIE GRANGE

The information having reached this organization that the North Carolina State prison board is about to buy another large farm on which to use its convicts in the production of farm crops in competition with North Carolina farmers. And, in so doing increase the already over production of these crops.

Resolved: The Davie Grange No. 698 goes on record as being opposed to the use of State tax money for the purchase and operation of farms in competition with North Carolina farmers.

Be it further resolved: That this organization believes the proper place for the use of a large percent of the State convicts on State Highways.

The Master of this Grange is instructed to forward a copy of these resolutions to the Master of the State Grange and the Master of the State Grange is, hereby, requested to enter protest to the Governor and the State prison board, in behalf of this Grange and in the interest of all farmers of North Carolina.

SPECIAL GUARD SENT TO PRINTING OFFICE

Washington, March 1.—While a sentence committee prepared to consider charges that police had failed to curb gambling and bootlegging in Washington, a special police guard today was assigned to George H. Carter, head of the government printing office, who has complained against conditions.

Carter said he had received three "death threats" in two days because of his assertion that gambling and bootlegging were rampant in the vicinity of the government printing office. The last warning, Carter asserted, quoted a gambler as having said it would be "easy to import a gunman to get you for $5,000."

W. L. Moore, of Cool Springs, has purchased the E. G. Hendricks Lumber Plant here, and will continue to operate the plant at its present location.

FEDERAL TAXES GAIN IN NORTH CAROLINA

Raleigh, March 1.—Democratic taxes may not be able to collect for Democratic government; but Republican states can gather in, according to the figures of Collector Gilliam Griesom, who is not saying one word about this curious phenomenon, but is showing a gain of $14,252,193.31 for the first eight months of the fiscal year. Through February, 1930, collections were $175,822,195.60, contrasted from $162,540,002.19 last year.

At the present rate of coin for the year, the total collections for the year should run around $275,000,000 or more, or about $20,000,000 more than was collected last fiscal year.

ALBEMARLE PUBLISHER RETURNS TO LAW BOOK

Albemarle, Feb. 28.—A. C. Huneycutt, for 26 years a member of the Stanly county bar and who for the past 10 years has been engaged in editing and publishing newspapers in Albemarle and Mocksville, put out his shingle today for the practice of law.

Mr. Huneycutt quit the law profession years ago to enter the publishing business. He has sold his Albemarle paper but will continue to edit and publish the Mocksville Enterprise.

PAJAMAS BRING WAITERS STRIKE

Sioux City, Iowa, March 1.—When co-eds at Morningside College appeared at breakfast in their pajamas, college men waiting on tables in the residence halls went on strike.

An edict was issued that the girls would serve themselves or dress before dining. The girls decided to dress.

Grange Work In Davie County

The local Grange No. 698 was organized last August, and has had a splendid growth since that time.

The local Grange has been instructed in bringing a number of our State Representatives of the Agricultural Extension Department here to our county.

Many demonstrations have been given and others are being planned at the present time.

The following is a partial list of some of the work that is being done under the auspices of the local Grange.

On Feb. 20, 1930, there was an all day meeting held in the county courthouse for the purpose of studying dairying. All dairymen should have availed themselves of this opportunity.

One car of lima has been distributed among the farmers here in the county.

At the last meeting which was held on Feb. 19, 1930, it was unanimously adopted that arrangements should be made to hold three fertilizer demonstrations through its members during the coming season.

One each for Corn, Cotton and Tobacco fertilizer for these demonstrations are being arranged for with no costs. It was also decided that as many as four members would grow two new vegetables in their garden this season. Foundation and lawn planning is being arranged for by each member.

Plans are being worked out to organize a Poultry club here in the county. Mr. S. R. Bessent being appointed as chairman of this work. The local Grange is also making arrangements to have Mrs. Jane S. McKimner, State Home Demonstration Agent, N. C. give a lecture along this line of work in the near future.

The next meeting of the Davie Grange will be held at the Mocksville High School on Wednesday, March 5, 1930, 7:30 P. M. Every member is urged to attend this meeting.

Harry B. Caldwell, State Lecturer will be present, also the degree team from Wilkes County will be present to give the 3rd and fourth degree. The ladies of this organization have planned a supper for this meeting.

Anyone desiring to join this organization will please write, C. W. Hall, Sec. Advance, N. C. Route 2.

Countywide Teachers Meeting Held Saturday

The second countywide teachers meeting was held in the Mocksville High School on Saturday morning, March 2, a countywide meeting with the president, Prof. F. E. Taylor, of the Smith-Roye of Catawba College, and Hazel Baily acting as secretary. Over 90 teachers were present, and gratifying reports were given of school attendance throughout the county, no serious epidemics interrupting the work. County Superintendent W. F. Robinson spoke of the State Teachers Meeting to be held in Raleigh on March 20, 21 and 22, and also of the North-western District meeting of elementary principals and teachers at Forest Park School, Winston-Salem, on March 20, 21 and 22, and also of the Southern District meeting of principals and teachers at the Mocksville Gymnasium on March 5, 6 and 7. Prof. Taylor, Prof. E. W. Fort, of Cooleemee, and Miss Martha Biggs of Statesville, were in charge of the meeting. The Field Day Sports to be held in the Spring, and committees were appointed for this event.

The local Grange has been instructed in bringing a number of our State Representatives of the Agricultural Extension Department here to our county.

Many demonstrations have been given and others are being planned at the present time.

The following is a partial list of some of the work that is being done under the auspices of the local Grange.

On Feb. 20, 1930, there was an all day meeting held in the county courthouse for the purpose of studying dairying. All dairymen should have availed themselves of this opportunity.

One car of lima has been distributed among the farmers here in the county.

At the last meeting which was held on Feb. 19, 1930, it was unanimously adopted that arrangements should be made to hold three fertilizer demonstrations through its members during the coming season.

One each for Corn, Cotton and Tobacco fertilizer for these demonstrations are being arranged for with no costs. It was also decided that as many as four members would grow two new vegetables in their garden this season. Foundation and lawn planning is being arranged for by each member.

Plans are being worked out to organize a Poultry club here in the county. Mr. S. R. Bessent being appointed as chairman of this work. The local Grange is also making arrangements to have Mrs. Jane S. McKimner, State Home Demonstration Agent, N. C. give a lecture along this line of work in the near future.

The next meeting of the Davie Grange will be held at the Mocksville High School on Wednesday, March 5, 1930, 7:30 P. M. Every member is urged to attend this meeting.

Harry B. Caldwell, State Lecturer will be present, also the degree team from Wilkes County will be present to give the 3rd and fourth degree. The ladies of this organization have planned a supper for this meeting.

Anyone desiring to join this organization will please write, C. W. Hall, Sec. Advance, N. C. Route 2.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETS MRS. SILAS MCBEE DESPERATELY ILL LOCAL FOLKS VISITED IN HIGH POINT TUESDAY OUR HONOR ROLL

COURAGE

(By Guy Swearingen)

"This," declared Mary Grey decidedly, "is annoying!" Mary's eyes were brown, her hair was red, and she was tall as Robert Lewis. She had, moreover, a firm round chin, a firm-up nose, and a face as vivid as a flame, "Besides, I have something to—" "Nevertheless, it's true," said Bob firmly, his black eyes doing full justice to the items mentioned before Mary, who leaned against an apple tree laden with nearly ripe fruit. "I love you! Once more I ask you, will you be my wife?" "No!" answered Mary. "No, I will not!" Bob sighed. Indeed, for an instant his face appeared so dejected that Mary was sorry for him. But he had been practicing self-restraint for the better part of twenty-three years, and soon had his features again under control. "Do you mind telling me why?" he queried politely. "Yes, I do," Mary paused meditatively before proceeding. "But I'll tell you anyway, if you'll keep it to yourself. It's a secret."

lines of anxiety at the corners of her eyes. "I wanted to tell you when you first came—that's why I asked you out here," she went on, as he resumed his seat. "You know how long I've been keeping close in the house all day, and we haven't seen or heard anything of an attempt to arrest him. But I'm nearly crazy for fear the officers may come for him at any minute." "Might have been better for him to give himself up," Bob muttered thoughtfully. Then his face brightened and he patted her hand reassuringly, adding: "But if Thomas were really dead, they'd have been after Charlie before now." "I hope he isn't, of course. But there's a chance that he's dead and the officers haven't found it yet. The whole crowd was breaking the law by gambling, so the others may be afraid to tell. They were in a room over Murphy's warehouse, where no one ever goes in the day-time." "I'll find out!" Bob started to rise. "I'll find out at once—" presently, "Did Charlie go away?" "No, I reminded him that he had killed the man in self defense, and persuaded him to go to bed—" "I think," she added naively, "that I'll let you kiss me, if you want to." Bob released her hand as though it had scorched him, rising hastily. For a barely perceptible instant he bent toward her, as though seized by an irresistible force; then he straightened stiffly, grinning. "I don't think I want to—that way!" he mimicked lightly. "And I think I'll have to hurry if I'm going to town." Abruptly he left her, crossing the orchard towards the road, the last light of the sun at his back. Mary sat watching him until he disappeared among the trees. Then, with a long sigh, she rose and hurried up to the house. It was time to help her mother cook supper. Her father and Mr. Everts would soon be here, and she was a housekeeper was never done. The other men were surrounding the house. "But what do you want him for?" Mr. Grey asked, as Bob ranged up alongside, keeping quiet until he could recover his breath. "For murder," she was the coldly menacing answer. "For murder," Mr. Grey wet his lips. "Murderer! Murderer!" he killed Martin Thomas in a gambling and drinking spree early this morning," said the other. "Where's the sheriff, and his regular deputy?" asked Mr. Grey.

THE BASEBALL CRAZE

He cares not if Old Satan Okeo into Eden come Or whether Eve or Adam For that sin was to blame He takes no special interest In the great human fall For he's content and happy If he can play baseball. He cares not whether Noah Did build a mighty Ark Or whether he went sailing Upon a foolish ark Or whether he saved animals In pairs or saved all If he can be permitted To knock the festive ball. Or who led Israel's legions Across the famous sea, Or if the plagues of Egypt Were sent by God's decree Or if the whale ate Jonah Or was a whale at all He rocks not just or little If he can pitch the ball. Did Caesar cross the Rubicon Or bankrupt the Alps Or Washington the Delaware, To smash take the scalps Were there three grand divisions Of ancient famous Gaul He does not care a button, If he can catch the ball. He knows not who was victor At famous Waterloo Or what is Ge. Washington To King George tried to do The names of our great Presidents. He cannot half recall But he knows all the pitchers And catchers of the ball. He cannot tell you whether The earth is round or flat And when it comes to figures He doesn't know where he's at He has but little knowledge Of Peter, John and Paul, For all his education He fails in studies all, But fully graduated In art of playing ball. He does not know an adverb Or pronoun from a noun And would not know an adjective If should come to town He is a sorry punner And writes a dreadful scrawl But he's an expert artist, When it comes to playing ball. —T. R. Burnett.

Sunday School Lesson

THE PARABLE OF THE SOWER

Matthew 13: 1-9; 18-23

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Some parts of Scripture state the truths so plainly that no one can misunderstand. It is that way in the lesson, in hand for today. In the first place, the subject matter is very clear and, secondly, Jesus, in explaining the meaning to the disciples, makes the application very definite. For the first time in the New Testament we find the Master Teacher employing the parable as a means to convey His meaning. The parabolic form was not originated by Him, for we find Nathan used it in causing King David to comprehend the greatness of his sin against Uriah, the husband of Bathsheba, (1 Samuel 12:1-6). A parable has been well called "An earthly story with a heavenly meaning."

When the crowd was too great for the people to hear who thronged Him in Capernaum, the Teacher went to the shore of the Sea of Galilee and used a familiar parable as His subject. Jesus was always upsetting long-time traditions. He was the "heretic" of His day. He was ready to make use of new methods in order to reach the largest number of people.

Then there is the good soil that produces from thirty to one hundred fold. Often these are the lives that attract the least attention. They do good modestly and unobtrusively. The record is a matter of note not only in Heaven here we find many who never left the Sunday School and just naturally take up the firmer life of the church. A vital question for each of us is: What is our percentage of production? Are we thirty-folders year after year, or are we advancing into a higher class in attainments for the glory of the very Word of God. The earth may have been hard just by footstep. "Grizzly Giant," the mammoth tree in Mariposa Grove, California, was being killed by the tourists who walked up close to look at the wonder in nature. Then a fence was built for protection against just feet and the earth dug up that moisture might reach the roots. The tree will probably stand for ages more. Habits make life impervious to the entrance of the record scroll. Meanwhile Satan, according to the declaration of Jesus, "snatches away the seed lest it find a place in which to germinate."

We expect too much from the seed sower. We look for a well-matured spiritual strength and furnish only a meager amount of soil in which to grow up. Many seem to "get religion" and halt at about it, while do not keep that religion for any length of time. It is in the practice thereof that religion is maintained. Troubles are ahead for all and deepness of root is essential in order to withstand those evil days.

The soil of the human heart can grow evil as well as good things. The choking thorns are quite like evil habits that are permitted to remain when we are fully aware of their presence.

Then there is the good soil that produces from thirty to one hundred fold. Often these are the lives that attract the least attention. They do good modestly and unobtrusively. The record is a matter of note not only in Heaven here we find many who never left the Sunday School and just naturally take up the firmer life of the church. A vital question for each of us is: What is our percentage of production? Are we thirty-folders year after year, or are we advancing into a higher class in attainments for the glory of the very Word of God. The

A four-fold illustration is presented in this parable from nature. In every case the seed is equally good and in the interpretation of the Bible is the very Word of God. The Ring out the want, the cares, the sin,

The faithless coldness of the time;
Ring out the ringer of my mournful rhymes,
But ring the living minstrel in.

Ring out false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of truth and right,
Ring in the common love of good.

Ring out old shapes of foul desire,
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring in the thousand years of peace,
Ring in the centennial years of good.

Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kindlier hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be.

John Barger found a shoe in the road the loser can get it at his home any time.

Mrs. L. F. Carson and son and mother, Mrs. Norman, spent the day recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Barger of Faith.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barger and son, also Mr. and Mrs. John Barger and daughter, all of Salisbury Route 5, were the dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John Barger.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford Lyster spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Barger.

Woodrow Robertson asked in the fifth grade what 3 places does the United States flag hang over all the time. J. M. Barger, 9 years old in the fifth grade answered the question correctly.

Venus received four dollars today for full treatment of Ezechieh. That's the way to do it.

Here is a letter we received, Gastonia, N. C., February 21st, 1930, Mr. J. T. Went. Dear Sir enclosed find one dollar for which send me a jar of your Ezechieh salve. T. H. Tyson, Box 102, Gastonia, N. C.

Nearly everyone here in Faith makes their living by working in the granite quarries.

If you lose anything write and tell Venus about it, he can find it for you.

We got acquainted with two pretty girls and was about to marry one and they both wanted to marry Venus so then we did not know what to do. We were afraid if we married one the other would kill herself and while we was talking with them we woke up and found it all a dream.

Send all your items to Venus and let's make our department interesting.

ing in the man's hand being torn forcibly from his pocket; his arm bent up and backward until he groaned with pain.

"I'll break it if you don't keep quiet," Bob applied pressure until there was another groan. "With his free hand he suddenly seized the enormous mustache, which came away with a dull ripping sound, 'Disguised, as I thought, I know you, Tom Poole. You're Martin Thomas' friend, and the last man in the county Sheriff Smith would appoint as his deputy. Therefore I guess there's been no murder. Thomas sent you to get Charlie and the money, did he?'"

There was no answer. A couple of the other men appeared from either side of the house, and halted in astonishment. Something in the attitude of the group before the porch evidently alarmed them for they began edging toward the car.

"Hold on!" cried Bob Lewis sharply. "You fellows are probably armed and I'm not. Don't rush."

"Help me out, boys," yelled their leader. But Bob dragged him round for a shield, crouching, as one man's hand flew up, spouting yellow fire. Tom Poole tried to squirm away, but found himself held firmly. A hand lifted his automatic from his pocket, and he was turned face about. "Don't shoot any more, fellows," he howled and the rest of his crowd came racing to the scene of the encounter.

He was gripped by the collar, his own pistol boring cruelties into his spine, while an ungulate knee propelled him forward. "There'll be a murder right here if you fellows don't beat it," snarled Bob Lewis. "Get into your car and travel—travel fast."

"Get in, boys—get in," second of the man who felt that similar ring of steel pressing his back. There was an instant of sullen hesitation, followed by a scramble to obey. Tom Poole, at length set free, was assisted into the car by a heavy shoe. The starter growled:

"Go on, boys—get in."

"Get in, boys—get in."

"Get in, boys—get in."

"Get in, boys—get in."

"Get in, boys—get in."

MOTHER—THE DRUDGE!

Mother Used To Be The Drudge. There Was No Help For It.

Some mothers are still drudges. But they needn't be.

Electricity—The Modern Servant has knocked the drudgery out of housework wherever it has been given an opportunity. Always on tap, always "rearing to go," electricity today is adding years of brightness and happiness to countless thousands of housewives who have taken the trouble to find out just what electricity can do in the home.

We invite attention to the quality of the electric service rendered in the communities served by us and particularly to our liberal merchandising policy which, because of low prices and conveniences and constant in a degree that would be impossible under ordinary circumstances.

"There are ladies present," he said, with such solemnity that Luke almost laughed at the incongruity of the remark.

"The point is," said the big man, who, Luke discovered, was named

"Do you see what you've done?" repeated Epith, savagely. "You've let the dicks after me."

"What is he like in appearance?" "Dandy? I've seen him two or three times. . . ."

"The described Morrell in her homely language there was no doubt at all that this was the man! It was more than necessary than ever that she should escape from this environment and reappear as Luke Maddison.

Luke dismissed from his mind his experience of the afternoon. That was something not to be thought of with a shudder. He was not to be thought of when Mrs. Fraser came cheerfully when Mrs. Fraser came with a pair of bright new scissors to collect the great tresses of Mrs. Fraser's hair, and to bring him a pair of brown shoes, so hideously bright that they dazzled him.

"Connor says you'd better leave your flatmate," she suggested. "Where is Connor? Is he on the premises?"

"She took her head. "No, he phoned me. "I didn't know you had a phone," he said in surprise.

"Mrs. Fraser smiled cryptically. "We've got lots of things here that people don't know anything about," she said.

"She came back a little later with a tube of shaving paste, a brand new taler brush, and a razor which had evidently been purchased recently, for when he opened the case he found it still encased in oil paper. Shaving was a painful success in spite of the fact that apparently the results were satisfactory. He was not a bad shaver, and he had a goodly stock of shaving soap in the cupboard and a goodly stock of shaving soap in the cupboard.

"Well, she said, and I'll let your best friend wouldn't know you. As to this Luke was perfectly convinced. What an extraordinary change a man's nose in a man's appearance! Luke had a touch of the sinusitis—no doubt, but it was not at all his usual condition. It was not at all his usual condition. It was not at all his usual condition.

"What do you think you're doing?" Mrs. Fraser seemed more inclined to be conversational than she had been before. "What do you think you're doing?" Mrs. Fraser seemed more inclined to be conversational than she had been before.

"I had been in prison before?" she smiled amusedly. "Why, of course! He did two stretches."

"He did not ask what a stretch might be: he had a vague idea that it meant penal servitude. "He did not ask what a stretch might be: he had a vague idea that it meant penal servitude."

"That is Mr. Smith," said Mrs. Fraser primly. "What's the idea of your coming here and pretending you're somebody you're not?" asked the little man by the door with extraordinary rapidity.

"His big companion silenced him. "Come on, I'll be back in a minute," he said. "You didn't you, Smith?" "I've done many jobs," said Luke coolly.

"You're pretending you're a fellow named Smith, who's a member of the mob brought over from Australia—no, I'm not talking about Lewing; he's well dead. But you're not Smith." He pointed a finger to the man at the door at Mocksville, offer for sale

BUILDING HOOM FORECAST FOR 1930

New Construction to Take Up Slack Estimated at Nine Billion Dollars

Every Part of the Country Will Benefit by Resumption of Building Activity

(By Caleb Johnson) All the signs point to the inauguration in 1930 of the biggest building program in the history of the United States.

Everything that goes into modern building operations comes from somewhere else. Our forefathers built with the material ready to hand.

Steel is a big item in modern building. Let the big cities add only 5 percent to the number of skyscrapers and it means increase activity for the steel mills.

Brick, terra cotta, concrete, all the artificial building boards made of straw, wood-pulp, sugar cane, corn-stalks and gypsum—stimulated demand for these means more work and more money in far outlying corners of the nation.

New buildings mean more furniture. That affects not only the great furniture manufacturing centers from Grand Rapids to High Point...

The direct increase in local employment where the new buildings are being constructed. The nation is knit together so tightly by the strands of business that what benefits one benefits all.

PILOTING THE GOLDEN CROSS

WHAT The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, recognizes its obligation to relieve human distress in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Official announcement of the results secured in Catawba was made last week by John A. Arey, district extension specialist at State College.

What is the Golden Cross Society? The Golden Cross Society is the Methodist Church expressing itself in the ministry of healing.

What are the objects of the Golden Cross Society? To inspire the Church to follow the example of the Healing Jesus, and to renew in the Church the neglected ministry of healing.

For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.—Romans 5:19.

GASTONIA NOT THE ONLY PLACE

The actions of the communists in New York, Detroit, London and other cities in the United States and foreign countries, even the slight demonstration which was pulled in Charlotte on last Thursday, proves just what this newspaper claimed during the Gastonia strike, that the trouble in the Gaston capital was not an ordinary labor dispute, but a deliberate demonstration on the part of a lawless mob, under the inspiration of Moscow, with designs against organized government.

Over a hundred people were injured in the riot in New York city, right under the tower of the New York Times building. And just to think that paper sent special reporters down to Charlotte during the trial of the accused slayers of Chief Abernethy to send back colored reports as to how unfair North Carolina authorities had dealt with the poor harmless workers of Gastonia and their dear foreign leaders. The Daily Worker, too, the communist organ in this country, failed on Gastonia for undue violence against the roads. Now the editor of that sheet is humiliated by being arrested by policemen in his own city of New York, he having been one of the demonstrators who attacked the Mayor's office on Thursday.

BUSINESS HOUSE TALKS

Right much newspaper comment has been the result of a big western state department store buying issue will show that the local people of Davie County are faithful and willing when it comes to keeping the subscriptions to their local paper paid up. During the week around a score came in and renewed. How about your name being on the "honor roll" next week? If your subscription is about to expire, or has expired? You will feel better and so will we. Moreover, you'll enjoy reading your Enterprise better after you get your subscription paid in advance.

THE ORDER OF THE DAY

Dr. Chase resigns as president of the University of North Carolina. Dr. Vardell resigns as president of Flora McDonald College. Dr. Gains resigns as president of Wake Forest College. All these resignations came within ten days of each other and cause one to wonder whether or not resignations are not the order of the day. Meantime, we hear talk of the consolidation of Chocora College, in South Carolina with Queens, at Charlotte. And that raises the question of whether or not the present has no president, or will soon have none, and since this seems to be a great day of consolidations as well as of resignations, how about consolidating Flora McDonald, Chocora and Queens, making a real big educational institution for women, indeed one of the largest in the south. It seems to us that now is the opportune time for such an arrangement. This new and larger Queens, then headed by such a big man as Dr. W. H. Frazier, would be able to command "a place in the sun."

DON'T FAIL TO TRY IT

Speaking of cleaning up and painting up this spring, possibly your home is old and it would take too much paint to make it look good. Possibly your funds are none too plentiful and you can't put out for the necessary amount of paint. Anyhow, you can spare a dollar or two for a bag of lime and a few pounds of common table salt. Mix with cold water, stir well and apply freely to your old buildings. You'll be delighted and surprised to note the big improvement it will make. And if you will then apply a second coat in a month or two, it will make your buildings as white and clean looking as a new building. Moreover, it will stay well. You will have white buildings for a year or two without further application. The whole thing will not cost you over three or four dollars to whitewash a good sized house, or barn. We should like to see every old farm house and barn in Elmrie County either painted or whitewashed this spring. It would give us an air of aggressiveness and a look of prosperity. Try it.

LET US CLEAN UP

This is the clean up and paint up season, and there could be quite a lot of this kind of work done here to advantage. Spring is an appropriate season for cleaning up, not only the front lawn, but all back lots and vacant lots. There is a lot of trash scattered over back lots and vacant lots here which ought to be removed during this clean up spring season. Trash and dirt and filth not only breed disease but are unsightly. For the sake of looks one should keep his place clean. And just a little effort on the part of every good citizen and property owner would make Mocksville look like another town. This applies to other towns and villages in the county, too. May we not clean up during this month in Elmrie County either painted or whitewashed this spring. It would give us an air of aggressiveness and a look of prosperity. Try it.

HOW ABOUT YOUR NAME

A glance at our list of paid subscriptions in last week's issue will show that the local people of Davie County are faithful and willing when it comes to keeping the subscriptions to their local paper paid up. During the week around a score came in and renewed. How about your name being on the "honor roll" next week? If your subscription is about to expire, or has expired? CHILDREN NOT AFRAID OF HIM

Montgomery Herald. A few days ago we happened to drop in at Sheriff Howell's office in the court house here for a word of greeting and while there a thing happened which impressed us very much. A father called in to pay his taxes or on some mission, accompanied by his little son, "Dick" who appeared to be about five years of age. In about three minutes Dick had climbed to a seat on the Sheriff's knee. The lad's father looked at him and said: "Dick, that man's the Sheriff." "I don't care," replied Dick, "I ain't afraid of 'em."

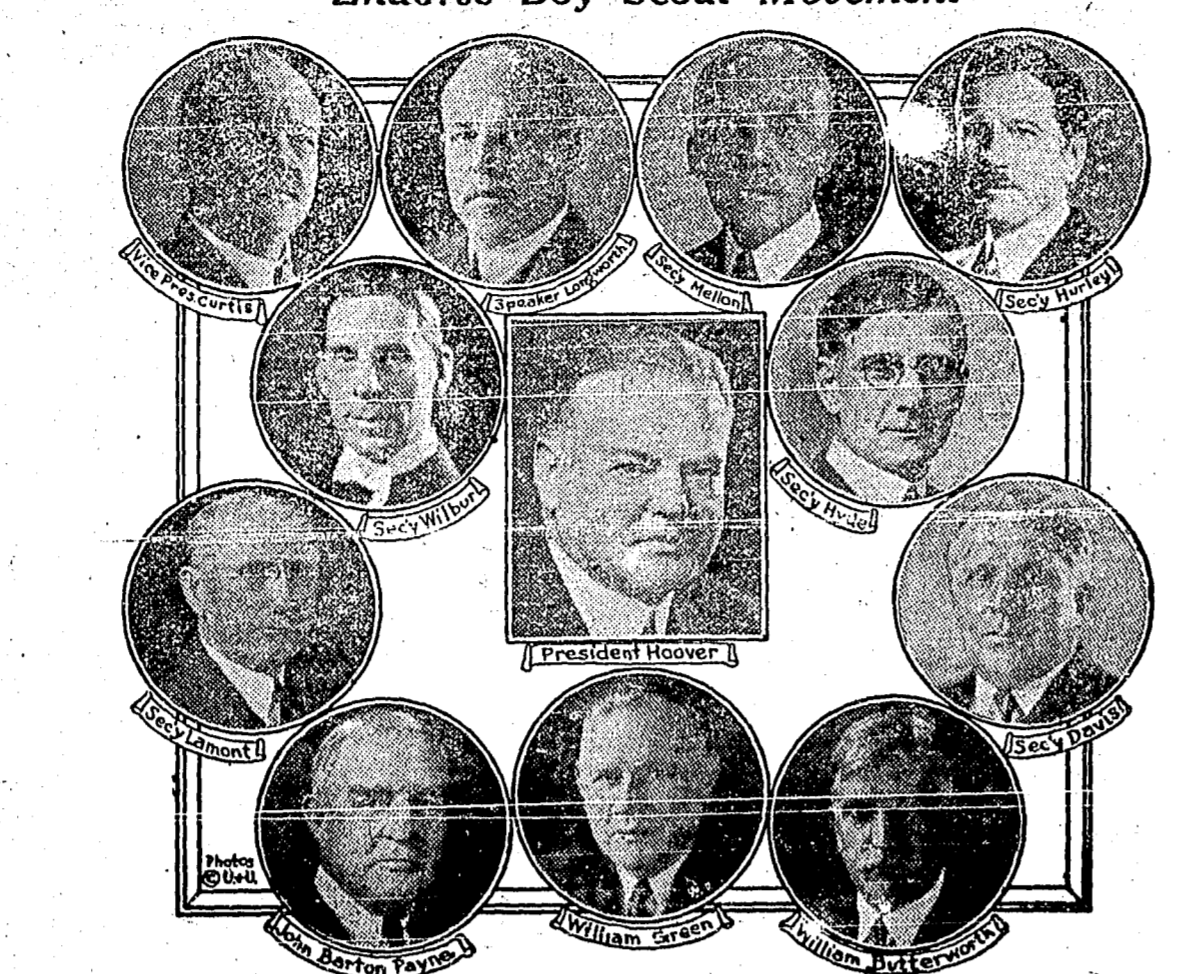

DODGING WORK

Hendersonville Times News. Big business is coming to discover that a lot of the old copybook maxims are unsound. Here, for instance, is a word from Louis Wiley, business manager of the New York Times: "I must confess that my system rests on the self-administration of 'Never do anything yourself that you can get someone else to do for you.' This reverses the old adage about doing things yourself if you want them well done. But it is excellent advice just the same. No executive can do his best work if he does not entrust the petty details of the job to his subordinates."

Bailey advocating the nomination of F. M. Simmons to the United States Senate a third time. FRANCE RIDING FOR FALL

Concord Tribune. It is hardly likely that Great Britain and the United States will accede to the French proposal or rather demand, for a security pact in lieu of present or proposed national strength. The French want a navy much larger than the one now maintained and have served notice that only a guarantee of help in the time of need from lending nations will make them change their minds.

A FINE INVESTMENT

Winston-Salem Journal. Tuberculosis is one of the most costly diseases. For every death there are probably 8 or 9 active cases of the disease, 89 tuberculosis deaths in Winston-Salem in 1929 means there are from 700 to 1,000 active cases in the city now. Tuberculosis cuts off two and one-half years from the life expectancy of every individual under present mortality conditions. It takes one of these individuals to add only $100 to the community wealth each year tuberculosis would cost the community $250 per person. In a population of 34,000 this means a loss of twenty-one millions.

BAPTIST MISSION RALLIES Dr. Charles E. Madry, National General Secretary of the Baptist State Convention, has planned a series of 45 mission rallies to be held at central points throughout the State during March and April.

It is expected that through these meetings hundreds of souls will be led to Christ, men and women will be reached. For the past few years there has been a steady decline in the receipts for this missionary enterprise throughout the country.

PROFIT TO FARMER IN COW TEST WORK

Many Benefits to Owner of Dairy Herd From Membership in Association. The easiest way known for a farmer to make from 25 per cent to 100 per cent more profit on the average daily yield of his cows is to have his cows tested for butterfat.

The cost of testing for butterfat is small and the benefits are many. A farmer who tests his cows for butterfat can determine the exact butterfat content of his milk, and he can also determine the exact butterfat content of his cream.

By testing his cows for butterfat, a farmer can determine the exact butterfat content of his milk, and he can also determine the exact butterfat content of his cream. This information is valuable in determining the best way to feed his cows.

THE IVY GREEN

(By Charles Dickens) Oh, a dainty plant is the Ivy green, He creeps 'er o'ruins old! Of right choice food are his meals I wain,

In his cell so lone and cold, The wall must be crumbled, the stone decayed, To pleasure his dainty whim, And the mouldering dust that the years have made

Is a hearty meal for him: Creeping where no eye hath seen, A rare old plant is the Ivy green, Fast he steals on, though he

And a staunch old heart has he, How closely he twines, how tight he clings To his friend, the huge Oak Tree! And why he trelleth along the ground

And his leaves he gently waves As he joyously hugs and crawls around The rich mould of dead men's graves, Creeping where grim death has been.

A rare old plant is the Ivy green, Whole ages have fled and their works decayed, And nations have scattered, been, But the stout old Ivy shall never fade

From his hale and hearty green, The brave old plant, in its lonely days, Shall fatten upon the past; For the steepest building man

Is the Ivy's food at last, Creeping on, where time has been, A rare old plant is the Ivy green, NEGRO WOMAN TELLS COURT SHE DODGED PISTOL BULLET

Nellie J. Tatum, 23-year-old negro, qualified as the fastest hog runner in the county when she dodged a pistol bullet with her eyesight.

On the witness stand Tuesday morning as prosecuting witness with assault with a deadly weapon, Nellie swore that Irene fired a pistol at her.

"Why didn't she hit you," asked the court. "I was watching her," said Nellie. "And when she fired the pistol I saw the bullet as it left the pistol and dodged it."

Looking over further into the future, the message also would apply to those born on any other agency of transportation.

Maxie D. Brown Instantly Killed As Car Turns Over

Party of Three Returning From Raleigh When Accident Happened; Funeral Attended By A Crowd; Large Profusion of Flowers. Winston-Salem, March 17.—Maxie D. Brown, 35, well known traveling salesman of Mocksville, was instantly killed Sunday morning about 2 o'clock ten miles west of Chapel Hill on the Burlington highway, when the sedan in which he was riding with Robert S. McNeill, chairman of the Davie County Democratic Executive Committee, struck two pieces of cordwood placed in the road and turned over.

Mr. Brown was rushed beneath the car. Mr. McNeill and John Lench, managing editor of the Mocksville Enterprise, the third occupant of the car, escaped with minor injuries. The three men had attended the Jackson Day dinner at Raleigh and were returning to their homes at Mocksville. Mr. McNeill stated at the inquest held by the Orange County Coroner that the cordwood had been placed in the road in such manner that it was impossible to avoid striking it.

Following the inquest, Mr. McNeill was exonerated of all blame in connection with the accident. Mr. Brown was well known in this city, having held a position with Armour and Company for many years. He spent much time here and had many friends in this city as well as in the section of the state which was the territory he traveled. He is survived by his widow; one child; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Brown, Sr., and several brothers and sisters.

The inquest, held at Mocksville, was presided over by Judge J. W. Walker all of Spencer was guest of Miss Dora Barnes Sunday. Miss Mattie Barnhart of Churchland provided the week-end with her parents here.

Mr. T. F. Barnhart and Mr. Adam Barnhart and guest Mr. Holt Thompson spent Thursday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Lamb, of Tyro. The whole town was overwhelmed with gloom on Sunday morning when the news of the fatal automobile accident which resulted in the instant death of Maxie D. Brown, one of Mocksville's most beloved young men, was received.

The deceased was about 35 years of age, single, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Brown, Sr., and was born and reared in Mocksville, where he had a host of friends. He was educated in the Mocksville High School, and during the world war was soldier in the training camp. For the past 13 years he had been a successful traveling salesman for Armour and Company, of Chicago, and was very highly regarded by his business associates. Traveling all over the state, he made hundreds of friends, many of whom attended his funeral. He was married in Danville, 1920, to Miss Viola Hornsby, of Tennessee, and to this union was born one daughter, Rachel. The deceased was noted for his upright living and consistent christian faith, excellent influence for good in the county and community in which he lived which will bear fruit many years after his noble and kind heart is stilled.

He served as a public servant in capacity practically all his life, from reaching manhood. For a noble fifty years he was deputy coronator for more than twenty five years for more than twenty five years.

Captain Foster was a public spirited citizen and was ever ready to lend his support to any institution or movement which would benefit the community as a better place in which to live, and uplift mankind.

Funeral services were held at the Turrentine Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon, March 17, when Rev. M. L. Kirk was in charge. Interment followed in the church cemetery.

Thirty Pellagra Cases Afflict Davie

By L. J. Hampton in Winston-Salem Journal. Mocksville, March 16.—Davie County, with its population of 13,587 people, is deeply interested in the campaign being waged by the State Health Department to eradicate the disease known as pellagra.

Information in the hands of Dr. Lester P. Martin, county health physician, is to the effect that there are now more than 30 cases of pellagra in Davie, those afflicted being divided about evenly between the white and colored cases and the same ratio as between the sexes. A majority of the pellagra patients are people past middle life. It is stated that 1000 cases have been reported from pellagra in Davie last year.

A patient by the name of Graves, who was responding well to treatment while at the home for the aged and infirm, left there and returned to his native community where he now being treated at the county cooking. The disease because more pronounced and soon proved fatal. One patient, a man of forty odd years of age, who is now being treated at the county home.

Dr. Martin as well as other local physicians, stress the difficult conditions surrounding the case of pellagra. It makes it almost impossible to arrive at a correct diagnosis. In its early stages pellagra is known to be marked by a nervous condition and intestinal complaint. The third and most pronounced symptom is the well known skin lesion.

Paradoxically, Davie County with its greater production of milk and butter than is necessary for its consumption has a higher percentage of pellagra than its neighbors where less milk and butter are made. High medical authorities list milk and its products as containing the essential food values to combat pellagra. The situation is explained in Davie by the fact that a greater portion of the milk is produced in a few plants and that generally speaking, the milk is not sold to the farmers who produce the needed milk and butter for their own consumption.

While the disease is by no means confined to the mill operatives or to any certain age or condition, from his own experience and from others, Dr. Martin has found pellagra to be most prevalent among cotton mill operatives and the disease most active in the spring than in the summer and fall months. This spring a woman patient, apparently somewhat improved, died while visiting in Kannapolis. Another victim was a local man of 60 years of age, who became insane before he passed away.

Young Democrats Greet Bailey With Wild Applause at Dinner

Local Men Who Attend Acclaim Occasion Very Thrilling and Inspiring One. Shouse Says Hoover Has Failed As Leader. Four Mocksville men were present at the Jackson Day dinner given by the young democrats of North Carolina at Raleigh Saturday night. They were Hon. Robert S. McNeill, chairman of the Davie County Democratic Executive Committee; John F. Lench, managing editor of the Enterprise; M. D. Brown and Knox Johnston. The occasion was a very interesting one and all the Democratic speeches sounded the note of old time Jacksonian democracy of "equal rights to all and special privileges to none" and were shot through with the precepts favoring unity and party loyalty for the sake of clean government.

Declaring in substance that President Hoover has so far failed as a great reform leader, J. C. Shouse, of the national democratic committee, made the principal address of the occasion. J. W. Bailey, candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Simmons, was heard with wild enthusiasm and loud applause from hundreds of aggressive young democrats present. His address was well received by the democrats to rally to the old standard of the party. Governor Gardner also made a stirring address and Josephus Daniels, editor of the News and Observer, called the young democrats to the front in principle.

A brief message from Senator Simmons was read, as the senator was not able to be present in person. "It was one of the most thrilling and inspiring occasions I have ever attended," said one local democrat who was there.

Visiting Ministers to Preach. All arrangements for the second annual Union Easter Service at New Union, Methodist Episcopal church have been completed. Invitations have been sent to all "neighboring congregations" and their pastors requesting them to attend the Easter service. About 10:15 o'clock Easter Sunday, the service will begin; the invocation by Rev. Mr. Spinks, pastor of the Harmony Holiness church; Mr. Latta B. Rutledge, pastor of the Bible church; New Union will deliver the address of welcome. The response will be by Rev. A. C. Canfield, Supt. of the James Cross Roads Baptist Sunday School, Rev. A. S. Beaman, pastor of the Harmony Methodist Episcopal church, will I preach the annual Easter sermon. Rev. Mr. Beaman is an able preacher and will bring an interesting message.

FOSTER SLINGS WICKED PICK AND SHOVEL. After working all day Tuesday, all night Tuesday night, Wednesday and Wednesday night until 10 o'clock without a stop, we decided to get out on the street Thursday morning and "catch a little air." While crossing the street we noticed our old friend H. L. Foster, using a pick just like he was digging for fish worms—and that is just what we were wanting to do—go fishing.

Try This Test on Your Separator. Setting aside a glass of skim milk to avoid the rising of any cream in it to the top is the least efficient and most wasteful way to determine the butterfat content of your milk. The only reliable way to determine the butterfat content of your milk is to use a separator. The separator separates the cream from the milk and allows the cream to rise to the top. This method is the most accurate and the most efficient way to determine the butterfat content of your milk.

FEAR. If you say "It can't be done" you have lost the battle before it is begun. Was anything ever done by one who was afraid? Would Columbus have made his discovery of the new world if he had been burdened with dark forebodings of failure? Would any man have been preached to the remotest parts of the world if the missionary had feared for his lives, as well they might? Would the railroads have crossed the continent and pierced the mountains, and been built, if the men who built them had had the courage of their convictions in building up industries—the wonder of the world for size, output and wages—if they had been timid about risking their millions? Was anything ever won by a general who was afraid? Was ever a cause vindicated by one without a strong heart and unshaken faith? Was any great deed accomplished by a coward who did not enter the race believing he must and would win? Is anything more contemptible than cowardice? Is anything more noble than courage? Is there anything finer than the man who enters any finer than confidence, in an age of unrest, unreason, suspicion and disturbance? Let us turn our eyes to the hills. Let hope and courage stand in the rear and the battle will be won. This is the lesson to teach our children in our schools, to speak to the anxious business man at his desk to inspire the student in the pulpit and the counselor in the halls of legislation.

TRACE BIG CREAM LOSS TO SEPARATOR. Practically any farmer can have his separator tested for efficiency. The separator separates the cream from the milk and allows the cream to rise to the top. This method is the most accurate and the most efficient way to determine the butterfat content of your milk.

JESUS TEACHING AND HEALING
Matthew 15:21-31
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

An unusually large amount of related material is to be found in the context, so read from Matthew 13:53 to 16:12. John the Baptist was beheaded in the Machabean prison, the multitude were fed and Jesus walked on the sea as He came to the storm-tossed disciples on Galilee. This period marks the climax of His popular favor. His special schooling is given in the Training of the Twelve for their work after His departure. When Jesus would not become the bread-making king for the people many turned against Him. This was one reason for seeking retirement in the parts of Tyre and Sidon, just north of Galilee. The upper portion of this area is now under French mandate.

Usually we are entirely unconscious of the hidden misery, so close at hand, as we journey along the highway of life. A real tragedy is within many home circles and these problems are both real and vital. While Jesus sought to remain incognito He was soon recognized. It is only about forty miles from Nazareth to Tyre and Sidon is twenty miles further north. This Canaanite woman had a beloved daughter that was possessed by an evil spirit. For a study of this kind of ill, turn to "Demon-Possession and Allied Themes" by Newson, a veteran missionary to China. As the mother learned of the presence of this miracle-worker she knew that the opportunity of a life-time had gone. She literally dogs the steps of Jesus as the Sunday guests of Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Bonman, of Winston-Salem, Dr. A. B. Dennis, Presiding Elder of the Statesville District and Mr. and Mrs. Munzy Dwyer.

Mrs. Percy Sherrill and children of Statesville, visited at D. L. Richardson's Sunday afternoon. Miss Elma Richardson, student of Mitchell College, Statesville, spent the week-end with her home folks. Much excitement was caused in this community by the fire at Marvin Smith's residence last Wednesday about noon. Seven buildings including a dwelling house and barn, were completely destroyed in a very short time. Several hundred acres of timber land was "swinged" by the fire.

General does not question the mother plan of the stranger but she does acclaim Him as David's greater Son. She takes up the word "dog" that she has been called, and claims that even these despised scavengers get the crumbs and now she is seeking for that which will not hit or a blessing coming to any one of the Chosen People. She has laid hold on Him by exercise of her faith and she will not let Him go. She is rewarded because of just this faith rather than because of her repeated askings. Her beloved child is healed. In your own thinking picture the return to the home where mother is able to clasp the healed daughter to her very heart. But, because of this publicity, Jesus must go on His way without further rest that was sorely needed.

On his return to Galilee crowds throng Him again, and bring all kinds of sick people to be healed. The crowd might talk against Him but they were very ready to receive any blessing that came from Him. Here was a field clinic and no case was beyond His power to effect a perfect cure. While the multitudes wondered, some at least, "glorified the God of Israel." In view of all that Jesus did and can still do there is rich appeal in the Golden Text, "Ask, and it shall be given unto you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you," Matthew 7:7. Intercessory prayer is a boundless mission for every one who is ready to exercise faith in the Son of God.

Charlotte, March 14.—The prospect that North Carolina may become one of the outstanding states in her relation to commercial aviation is seen in the proposal to establish in this state, probably in this city, a junction point for all South American bound airplanes. Atlanta is now the junction point for planes bound for the southern continent.

The plan is to establish a cut-off line from the north-south aerial mail route, the terminus of which would be at some city in this section on the mail route. Mail and later passengers bound for South and Central America would be transferred at this north-south terminus to planes which would carry them direct to Florida and thence across the Caribbean, saving much time and mileage.

Chevrolet announces

A NEW

SERVICE POLICY

The Chevrolet Motor Company and its dealers are pleased to announce a new service policy—one of the most liberal ever offered on a low-priced automobile.

Put into force as a written agreement given to the purchaser by the Chevrolet dealer when the car is delivered—it offers the following provisions:

- 1 Every Chevrolet owner receives his car in the best of repair in perfect condition—thoroughly lubricated, properly adjusted, and ready to operate efficiently from the first mile of ownership.
- 2 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection and adjustment of his car at the end of the first 500 miles of usage.
- 3 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection of his car every 1000 miles thereafter, so long as the car is in operation.
- 4 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free replacement of any part which may prove defective in workmanship or material, within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty. This includes both parts and labor.
- 5 Provision number 4 will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States. As a result, the Chevrolet owner may travel to any part of the country, with assurance that the guarantee on materials and workmanship will remain in force.

This new policy constitutes proof of Chevrolet's high quality—proof which provisions could only be made in connection with a car built of fine materials to exacting standards of workmanship.

Back of this policy, and assuring its successful operation, is one of the most complete and efficient service organizations in the world.

There are more than 10,000 Authorized Chevrolet Dealer Service Stations in the United States alone. Each employs skilled mechanics thoroughly trained at Chevrolet Service Schools. Each has specially designed tools and machinery developed exclusively for Chevrolet service work. And each has on hand, at all times, an adequate stock of genuine Chevrolet replacement parts.

Chevrolet's flat-rate charges, including both parts and labor, are the lowest in the industry on many service operations! In considering the purchase of a low-priced automobile, think what this service means—in terms of lasting satisfaction, as well as in increased economy.

BIRTH CONTROL

A subject that has been engaging the reading, intelligent American public for some time. It is unfortunate that the ignorant shack-dweller, who reads nothing and would not understand if he did, cannot participate in this eminently vital question.

For a believer in rational birth-control, obtaining my convincing evidence from my environment, I understand that both Church and State oppose the movement. I know of many families that could support two children, and make of them respectable citizens that utterly founder on six. The day of quills and manna being showered over the Israelites has passed; it is only the man who can pass the cash over the counter that can afford to eat. We need educated enlightened citizenry in America now more than ever before. The dozen poor children crowded together in rags, with no money to buy clothing and school equipment, preaches a sermon for birth control stronger than words can portray.

International Sunday School Lesson for March 23
JESUS TEACHING AND HEALING
Matthew 16:21-31
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

An unusually large amount of related material is to be found in the context, so read from Matthew 13:53 to 16:12. John the Baptist was beheaded in the Machabees prison, the multitudes were fed and Jesus walked on the sea as He came to the storm-tossed disciples on Galilee. This period marks the climax of His popular favor. Thenceforth His teaching is given in the Training of the Twelve for their work after His departure. When Jesus would not become the bread-making king for the people many turned against Him. This was one reason for seeking retirement in the parts of Tyre and Sidon, just north of Galilee. The upper portion of this area is now under French mandate.

Usually we are entirely unconscious of the hidden misery, so close at hand, as we journey along the highway of life. Of all tragedy is within many home circles and these problems are both real and vital. While Jesus sought to remain incognito He was soon recognized. It is only about forty miles from Nazareth to Tyre and Sidon is twenty miles further north. This Samaritan woman had a beloved daughter that was possessed by an evil spirit. For a study of this kind of ill, turn to "Demon-Possession and Allied Themes" by Newton, a veteran missionary to China. As the mother learned of the presence of this miracle-worker she knew that the opportunity of a life-time had come. She literally digs the steps of Jesus as she cries out for help.

An important item right here is to note how personally this case is met. It is always that way on the part of Jesus Christ. No individual is lost in the mass, no matter how billions are in the world at large. The disciples are ready to follow the line of least resistance and want the woman to be rebuked into silence. Jesus hesitates that His missionary mission is to the Jew. He had instructed His disciples to hold steadfast to this and had even spoken against helping the Samaritans. Later the disciples, and all others, were to learn that the mission of service was to be forever world-wide.

General does not question the mother plan of the stranger but she does receive Him as David's greater Son. She takes up the word "dog" that she has been called, and claims that even these despised scavengers get the crumbs and now she is asking for that which will give her a blessing, coming to any one of the Chosen People. She has laid hold on Him by exercise of her faith and she will not let Him go. She is rewarded because of just this faith rather than because of her repeated askings. Her beloved child is healed. In your own thinking picture the return to the home where mother is able to clasp a healed daughter to her very heart. But, because of this publicity, Jesus must go on His way without further rest that was sorely needed.

On his return to Galilee crowds throng Him again, and bring all kinds of sick people to be healed. The crowd might talk against Him but they were very ready to receive any blessing that came from Him. Here was a field clinic and no case was beyond His power to effect a perfect cure. While the multitudes wondered, some at least, "glorified the God of Israel." In view of all that Jesus did and can still do there is rich appeal in the Golden Text, "Ask, and it shall be given unto you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you," Matthew 7:7. Interestingly prayer is a boundless mission for every one who is ready to exercise faith in the Son of God.

SHEFFIELD NEWS

Rev. A. B. Dennis, presiding Elder of the Statesville District, preached a very able sermon on "Charity" to a large crowd of congregation at New Union Church, Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. While here he held the second quarterly conference in the afternoon.

CHARLOTTE MAY BE AIR TRAFFIC CENTER

Charlotte, March 14.—The prospect that North Carolina may become one of the outstanding states in the union in relation to commercial aviation is seen in the proposal to establish in this state, probably in this city, a junction point for all South American bound airplanes. Atlanta is now the junction point for planes bound for the southern continent.

The plan is to establish a cut-off line from the north-south aerial mail route, the terminus of which would be at some city in this section on the mail route. Mail and later passengers bound for South and Central America would be transferred at this northern terminus to planes which would carry them direct to Florida and thence across the Caribbean, saving much time and mileage.

Chevrolet announces

A NEW SERVICE POLICY

The Chevrolet Motor Company and its dealers are pleased to announce a new service policy—one of the most liberal ever offered on a low-priced automobile.

Put into force as a written agreement given to the purchaser by the Chevrolet dealer when the car is delivered—it offers the following provisions:

- 1 Every Chevrolet owner receives his car from the dealer in perfect condition—thoroughly lubricated, properly adjusted, and ready to operate efficiently from the first mile of ownership.
- 2 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection and adjustment of his car at the end of the first 500 miles of usage.
- 3 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection of his car every 1000 miles thereafter, so long as the car is in operation.
- 4 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free replacement of any part which may prove defective in workmanship or material, within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty. This includes both parts and labor.
- 5 Provision number 4 will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States. As a result, the Chevrolet owner may travel to any part of the country, with assurance that the guarantee on materials and workmanship will remain in force.

This new policy constitutes proof of Chevrolet's high quality—for such liberal provisions could only be made in connection with a car built of fine materials to exacting standards of workmanship.

Back of this policy, and assuring its successful operation, is one of the most complete and efficient service organizations in the world.

There are more than 10,000 Authorized Chevrolet Dealer Service Stations in the United States alone. Each employs skilled mechanics thoroughly trained at Chevrolet Service Schools. Each has specially designed tools and machinery developed exclusively for Chevrolet service work. And each has on hand, at all times, an adequate stock of genuine Chevrolet replacement parts.

Chevrolet's flat-rate charges, including both parts and labor, are the lowest in the industry on many service operations! In considering the purchase of a low-priced automobile, think what this service means—in terms of lasting satisfaction, as well as in increased economy.

Honest, earnest working mothers appeal to the doctors for relief from the calamity that another baby would bring. The law makes it a crime for the tender-hearted family doctor to tell such women how to prevent conception. The doctor knows that two babies could be raised properly by the average couple, where ten would produce invalidism, drudgery, poverty, squalor, and utter incompetency.

WORTH WHILE IDEAS

The Enterprise has been predicting that local merchants will do more advertising this spring...

Speaking of this as the time to advertise, the Hendersonville Times-News quotes the Morganton News-Herald on this subject...

Some business men take the view that when business is good it is not necessary to advertise...

Every business man should remember that the greatest mistake common in business is the cutting down of advertising in dull times.

The Morganton News-Herald discusses this subject, quoting from Roger Babson, business authority...

It so often happens that when times are good and a business man has no thought of advertising...

"Any progressive-minded, wide-awake merchant will advertise in and out of season, when times are good and when they are not so good..."

This observation is borne out by no less authority than Roger Babson, financial expert, possibly America's best known financial adviser...

In 1929 two billions of dollars were spent in the United States in advertising. This, Mr. Babson asserts, resulted in the sale of 40 billion dollars worth of merchandise...

EDITS CONCORD PAPER 45 YEARS

The Concord Observer says that John B. Sherrill has rounded out forty-five years as editor and publisher of the same paper.

Forty-five years is a long time for one to serve as a newspaper editor, and yet that is Sherrill's record.

He cornered the grain market, caused millions to change hands, called it big business and screamed PROSPERITY from the housetops.

SPRING DREAMS The dreamer's must be fit and fine Down where the sun-perch wait, Then get the hook and get the line And dig some worms for bait.

BUT THERE ARE DIFFERENCES

Arthur Brisbane, famous Hurst Newspaper editorial writer, says that one million and eight hundred thousand people visited Mont Blanc last year spending more than ten million dollars in little communities near that great mountain.

There is no wonder that there should be a stronger human appeal in Mont Blanc than in any of our American peaks. It has been made famous for centuries in history, song and story.

Lakes in this country, and yet the fact that on its waters once glided the galleys of the Caesars and on its shores lived, loved and sang the Phryns and other Roman prose writers and poets.

PRESS COMMENT

THE MOCKSVILLE ENTERPRISE TELLS THE MERCHANTS OF DAVID COUNTY THAT IF THEY WILL ADVERTISE THEIR BUSINESS IN THE RIGHT WAY THIS YEAR, LESS MONEY WILL GO OUT OF THE COUNTY FOR MERCHANDISE THAN HAS BEEN GOING OUT IN THE PAST.

There is no doubt about the truthfulness of this statement. It is based on sound business principles, and on the experience of thousands of the leading business men of the country.

The chief factor in diverting the trade of rural districts and the smaller places from the towns and smaller cities to the larger places is the lack of advertising.

CAN'T FOOL THE PEOPLE

Isn't it strange that there are those, especially some politicians, who are still talking prosperity in this country? Of course, very few people are actually at the point of starvation...

RURAL SONG & COMMENT

AS WE DREAM Reason is an un-impassioned architect, measuring with a rule of brass, slapping with a rod of iron and clinching with a hammer of steel.

THE CLOVER FIELDS OF JUNE The day is gray and gloomy And the busy billiards crane, But my heart is gone a-farin' Through the clover fields of June Farin' and a singin' To waken-mellow moon And the vision of a sweetheart Through the clover-fields of June.

May time with her flowers And her showers, is a boon, But my heart has nest them over For the clover fields of June Red lips drippin' honey To the rhythmic Summer rune Oh my heart is farin', farin' Through the clover fields of June.

BUT IN REALITY? He cornered the grain market, caused millions to change hands, called it big business and screamed PROSPERITY from the housetops.

large part of the trade of his own territory.

A VOICE IN THE WILDERNESS

Several weeks ago Dr. Frank Graham, of the State University, circulated a petition asking for a survey of the textile industry.

It is significant to note that of the 390 names signed to that article of Professor Graham's petition were such as to demand full industrial freedom, which we have.

WHEN TO ADVERTISE

Some business men quit advertising when there comes a temporary depression, either caused by stock market crashes or low prices for crops.

The cotton mill employers are naturally concerned about obtaining as much employment as possible and many are suffering by the reason of the short time upon which the mills are operating.

THE POOR

Nobody disputes the words of the master, "The poor you will always have with you."

The textile industry does not claim to be perfect or ideal but it has nothing to hide and all pertinent facts are well known.

What, can the small town merchant or business man do about it? He can't keep the big city newspapers out of his small town territory.

The Way of Life

BRUCE BARTON

DO YOU KNOW HOW TO BREATHE?

I once had the misfortune to know a pessimist. There was some excuse for his pessimism. He was a narrow-chested chap threatened with tuberculosis.

He had begun himself up for lost. One night somebody induced him to go to a singing school.

A year later his chest was filled out; there was a sparkle in his eye; his laugh could be heard a city block away.

He had learned how to breathe. Even when you practice deep breathing exercise you probably do not fill your entire capacity.

You expand your chest; but the really important part of your breathing is done with your diaphragm—a big flat muscle that forms the floor of your chest.

And the abdominal muscles are the boys you need to train if you are to get the most out of your diaphragm.

Fill your lungs until you feel your stomach muscles hard against your belt.

That means that your diaphragm has straightened down and is massaging the top of your stomach and intestines—helping along with the process of elimination.

When you breathe out, do it forcibly, with the stomach muscles. It is a hard morning—but without the sport.

Your stomach and intestines will be forced up against the diaphragm again and given another massage.

Breathing in is important, but breathing out is much more important.

Read sometime a book by a man like Thoreau, or John Burroughs or Stewart Edward White—one of the great open-air writers.

Then, without the impression of his rich, bounding optimism is still strong upon you, pick up a written by one of the Russian novelists, or by one of our modern long haired writers who believe that realism necessarily means murder and drunkenness and prostitution.

What a difference! And what makes the difference?

The realist will tell you that it is because he thinks deeply, while the optimistic writer thinks superficially.

As a matter of fact, the difference is not in the brains of the two men, but in their livers.

It is not the depth of their thinking so much as the depths of their lungs.

The corpuscles of the one are red and fed with oxygen; the corpuscles of the other are pale and fed with cigarette smoke and germs.

"For what, after all, is life?" asks an old Sanskrit quotation.

And answers: "Life is the interval between one breath and another—he who only half breathes only half lives."

The Record is not a chain paper—the editor and owner lives in Mocksville and spends his money here. We are not sending any surplus out of the county or state to help build up the other fellows' town or city.—Davie Record.

We wonder if the Record editor would mind telling his readers just how much of the Davie County tax payers money he sends to ATLANTA, GEORGIA every year to pay for having the annual county exhibit printed.

And, we wonder if this money sent to Atlanta helps to build up the other fellows' town or city or is it returned to Mocksville and Davie County.

Another thing, if you please, there is no part of The Mocksville Enterprise printed in Atlanta, Ga., or any other place EXCEPT RIGHT HERE IN MOCKSVILLE BY MOCKSVILLE PEOPLE. THIS HELPS BUILD UP MOCKSVILLE, N. C., INSTEAD OF ATLANTA, GA.

Yes, the managing editor of The Mocksville Enterprise was born and bred in Mocksville, Davie County, North Carolina, and is fully entitled to be called "Mocksvillian, and we do not like to be classed as a "foreigner." We also went to France and fought for Mocksville and we are still fighting for it—honorable.

Who ever heard of a weekly newspaper having any "surplus" to send anywhere.

We are still in favor of establishing the office of County Accountant, Treasurer and the Welfare Officer—they are not needed.

Just figure the difference between two men in the office of register of deeds and no county

We have been told by responsible persons that the office of county accountant in Yadkin County only costs the county some thing like $300.00 per year. Now we wonder why Davie should pay so much for the same office. Abolish her boys, it is not needed—at this expense.

If the Democrats had been in power they would have handled this matter of county accountant in the way that the legislature intended it to be handled—and that does not mean especially for this office.

And just look who is holding the office of county accountant, and you will know why the price is so HIGH.

At first he thought his luck was in. "Yes, this is Mr. Bird's house," said a voice, "but he's out of town. Who is it speaking?"

"It is vitally necessary that I should get in touch with him as soon as possible," said Luke urgently. "Can you tell me where I can find him?"

"Who are you?" "Will you tell him it's Mr. Maddison speaking? I have been to Scotland Yard."

He felt a sudden draught. The door of the telephone booth was ajar; an unscrupulous man was standing near by, and apparently had no interest either in him or his conversation.

He had not gone twenty yards before two men, walking quickly, overtook him and fell in on each side.

"Hullo, Smith! Connor wants to see you."

"And who may Mr. Connor be?" asked Luke coolly. "My name is not Smith. It is Maddison."

Here they come!

ABOUT every four months the average man, woman and child buys a new pair of shoes—and in the picture we see the Jones family on their way to make another investment in footwear.

The Joneses are a good average type of American people. They are neither miserly nor extravagant. They like to dress well, but they are not going to waste their money.

They want stylish shoes, but they must be good. They expect from the shoes they buy the good lasting appearance and the solid comfort that only shoes made of all good leather can give.

And so they buy "Star Brand" shoes—yes, sir, for they've learned from experience that the International Shoe Company, the makers of "Star Brands", build good, all-leather shoes that wear well, look well and fit well.

They know that "Star Brand" shoes represent the greatest dollar value in footwear that they can buy.

On top of it all, they want their shoes properly fitted as to size and width—and they want to buy them at the store that likes to live and let live—

So the Joneses are coming to see us.

"When is high tide?" "Four o'clock." "You're right. Again his dark eyes fell on Luke. "You a good swimmer?" "Well, I'll give you a little dip to-night," said Connor. "Put him in the pool, Harry."

Connor carried on a legitimate if unexciting business. He was a dealer in certain building material and barges came regularly but at rare intervals. He was a dealer in certain building material and barges came regularly but at rare intervals. He was a dealer in certain building material and barges came regularly but at rare intervals.

"Where have you come from?" he asked. "I can't take you, guv'nor. You look as if you were running away from somebody."

"I was," said Luke. "I was a thieving piece into the man's hand, turning down a narrow street conveniently near a narrow back, reached the main road. Here he found a taxi moving at leisure, and a driver who did not question his doing. The cab drew up at the entrance of Scotland Yard and into the giddy entrance hall. A police officer on duty challenged him and asked for his name and address."

"Mr. Bird's been gone for two hours, sir. I think he's gone into the country. Would you like to see anybody else?" "Breathing inwardly, Luke shook his head. He came out on to the Thames Embankment at an end of the Yard as Gordon and his Flying Squad came in at the other. Luke was led to the waterloo Waterloo Bridge. At Charing Cross Underground he made another attempt to get in touch with the man who had accepted his money. "Sit down," Connor pointed to a horseshoe seat against the wall, and drew a chair up to it. "If you could try to put up a sequel, did you see Smith?"

"There was nothing unfriendly in Connor's tone, but he did not cease shuffling the cards as he spoke. "I was as like Luke as the man when you did that but—yes, one of my boys, gave a number to get into the saw you when I was bored. But you're nothing better than a dirty squarer."

"I know him," said Luke. "Mr. Connor nodded pleasantly. "And then you tried to get him on the spot? Don't trouble to tell me. I never trusted you from the first. "Despite his aching head, Luke could not but smile at this libel. "I shouldn't think that you trust me either," said Connor. "Not much," said Connor. He cut the pack into two, shuffling them rapidly and all the time his eyes were on Luke. "So you know the Sparrow? That's good. I'll bet you know Dandy, too."

"Dandy started," "Dandy Morell?" he asked. "Why? Why have you forgotten that Dandy was the confidant of his wife's? That his wife's been seen about with the sinister environment in which he found himself, had been to expose that confidence man?"

"Know Dandy, too?" Connor's voice almost snarling. "And Pi Cole?"

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Franc L. Ives. They are people of excellent character, trustworthy, and are highly reliable in every particular. In 1926 Mr. and Mrs. Ives organized in North Wilkesboro the Ives Business College. Since that time they have prepared a number of young men and young women for commercial life, more especially in the course of shorthand and typewriting. The students finishing the work from this college have proven themselves to be highly capable. I regard the methods employed by the Ives Business College in preparing young men and young women for future usefulness highly satisfactory.

I understand that Mr. and Mrs. Ives are contemplating opening a school in your city, and any favors shown them will be greatly appreciated by the writer.

Respectfully,

(By William Ernest Henley) Out of the night that covers me, Black as the Plover's foot, I think whatever gods there be For my unconquerable soul.

In the full clutch of circumstance I have not winced nor cried aloud. Under the budgings of chance My head is bloody but unbowed.

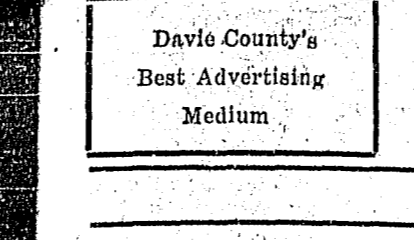

Beyond this place of wrath and tears Looms but the horror of the shade, And yet the menace of the years Finds, and shall find me, unafraid.

It matters not how strait the gate, How charged with punishment the scroll, I am the master of my fate, I am the captain of my soul.

Mr. Sandy Morris of Albemarle has a silver dollar which he had in his pocket when he was a boy. It is the same one that he has had ever since 1870.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Graves spent last Friday evening in Salisbury. One of the citizens who lives near the mine showed it to me and told me all about it. This would be one of the best opportunities in the world for some mining company to take over and go to getting out the gold, because the vein has already been found and proved afloat rich. The reason it was not worked out was because the man died who was going to work it.

Implements--Repairs--Service MR. FARMER:- Are you going to buy any machinery for the farm this year? If you are, consider carefully before you buy three important points: (1) The Make. Is it standard and will the manufacturer stay in business to furnish repairs? (2) Will the machine or implement perform satisfactorily for a long time at a low cost? (3) When your machine breaks or wears, can you get repairs through your local agent? We have sold, for fifty years, standard makes of farm machinery. We have always kept repairs. We believe the International line of farm implements the best on earth and we have found the upkeep cost very low. We have handled, for many years, Oliver and Chattanooga plows in car lots and keep a big stock of Points and other parts. Cole Cotton and Corn Planters can't be beat. There are more of these planters in Davie than all others combined. When we sell you any of the above machinery, we are selling you a line which we can service quickly. We have, this year, doubled our space for repairs which assures you of still better service. What does a ten day break-down during harvest cost? Read again the three important points and come to see us. C. C. Sanford Sons Company Mocksville, N. C. Sixty-three Years of Trust and Service

Sunday School Lesson International Sunday School Lesson for March 30 REVIEW Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D. At just this season of the year many parties of tourists are going through Palestine. A guide is an important feature and each Tourist Agency seeks to place a suitable man at the disposal of each group. During the past twelve weeks we have also been touring the Land of the Book and our Guide has been none other than the Source of all spiritual knowledge. To have become better acquainted with Him has been our objective and in doing this we have learned local facts as well. In our review it is like going to a height, such as Mount Tabor, and surveying the whole country through which we have been passing.

First, read through at one sitting the sixteen chapters of Matthew, which have been the textual basis for study. A good New Testament map should have been in sight all the while, for there is need to make frequent reference thereto in locating each place named and in following in order as you made any journey with Jesus. There are charts which sketch these itineraries, but it is still better for you if you will draw an outline map and draw your own lines of travel as you advance. In time you have come from B. C. to the approximate date for the birth of Jesus, to the summer of A. D. 29, nearly thirty-three years. You are in the midst of the third year of His public ministry. Artists have given much attention to the portraiture of Jesus and to depicting the scenes as recorded in the Gospels. Become acquainted with the best of these paintings, and they are many. He has been the theme for more paintings than any other person in history. Any skeptic would do well to look through the various light in this State, says Mr. Morrow, and he recommends early planting before the pickle worm gets active with the cantaloups. Good varieties are Hearts of Gold Hales Best, Perfecto and Eden Gom. Good watermelon varieties are Klockley Sweet, Thurmond Gray and Stone Mountain. Set the peppers about the same time as the tomatoes and give the same cultivation. The summer Crookneck and White Bash varieties of squash are best for this State. Plants for the early crop of sweet potatoes should also be set in April, advises Mr. Morrow. SADDLE HORSE BRINGS $27,500. Kansas City.—What is believed to be a record price for a saddle horse was paid here recently when Miss Mary Piers, of Oklahoma City, purchased Herbert M. Wolf three gaited chestnut mare, Dolle Delight, for $27,500.

For cucumbers, Mr. Morrow recommends Snow's Pickle and Chicago Pickling. The White Spine and Early Fortune are two varieties good for slicing. Then with the egg plant, the seed may be started in a protected bed and the plants set in the open as soon as it is warm enough. Okra is a favorite in most North Carolina gardens and may be cultivated like cotton. The melon patch is a de-

Middle Life Suffering "Twenty years ago, I was in bad health," says Mrs. J. B. Bean, of Kirbyville, Texas. "I was getting through a critical time, and I suffered a lot. My back hurt almost all the time, and my legs and ankles ached. My head hurt me until sometimes I would be almost past going. As I had used Cardui before, and knew how much I had improved after taking it, I got a bottle and started taking it. I continued to use it for several months. After awhile I regained my health, and I feel that I could never have gotten through that awful time without Cardui." CARDUI Helps Women to Health

PARKER ONE OF YOUNGEST MEN NAMED TO U. S. JUSTICESHIP Charlotte, March 22.—Judge John Johnston Parker, yesterday named by President Hoover to the United States supreme court, is the thirteenth man in the history of that great tribunal to be appointed under the age of 46. Only seven men have been under the age of 44 years at the time of their appointment. Judge Parker was 44 last November 20, James Iredell, North Carolina's first associate justice and a member of the first court appointed by George Washington, was 39 years old when he went to the bench and Justice Alfred Moore was 44. Judge Parker is the third North Carolinian and the first in 126 years since Moore left the court in 1804. The new associate justice was born at Monroe in Union County, November 20, 1885. He was the son of John D. Parker and his wife, Frances Johnston Parker of Monroe, and grandson of Rev. Samuel Iredell Johnston, D. D., of whom it is known and posed for a photograph at Edenton, and lineally descended from Governor Abner Nash, revolutionary governor of North Carolina. Judge Parker was graduated from the public schools of Monroe in 1902. In 1903 he entered the University of North Carolina, from which institution he received his A. B. degree in 1907. In 1908 he won his LL. B. degree and the university in 1927 honored him with a Doctor of Laws degree. KEYES JOINS THOSE HE HAS SENT TO JAIL San Quentin Prison, Calif.—Aan Keyes, former prosecutor of Los Angeles entered this prison this afternoon to begin serving a sentence of one to fourteen years for alleged acceptance of bribes while in office. Keyes joined hundreds of the men he had "sent up" during his long career as prosecutor. The former district attorney seemed to be in a pleasant mood as he entered the prison. He shook hands with several men he knew and posed for a photograph at the gate.

THE LAST ROSE OF SUMMER By Thomas Moore 'Tis the last rose of summer, Left blooming alone; All her lovely companions Are faded and gone; No flower of her kindred, No rubid is nigh, To reflect back her blushes, Or give sigh for sigh. I'll not leave thee, thou lone one! To pine on the stem; Since the lovely are sleeping Go sleep thou with them. This kindly I scatter Thy leaves o'er the bed Where thy matron of the garden Lie scentless and dead. So soon may I follow, When Friendship's decay, And from Love's shining circle The gems drop away.

When true hearts lie withered, And fond ones are flown, O who would inhabit This bleak world alone? DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK? (By Edson R. Watis) Ward Mayborn, Publisher of The Temple (Texas) Telegram, says: "Advertising makes necessities out of luxuries, raises the standard of living by popularizing products, creating mass demand, developing mass production and making possible more jobs; more wages, more consumption and a greater happier nation. "We used to cut wages and lay off men when production overtook consumption—now we pay the same wages, use all the help possible, improve and increase our advertising and what happens? "Consumption increases and the crisis is met in the new way—the Advertising way."

MUST BRING HOME THE BACON

Too many people are looking for "props" these days. We in America especially have learned to expect help from our neighbors, or from the government, in our daily vocations, trades, professions or businesses. The manufacturer wants a high protective tariff to prevent outside manufacturers from undercutting him. The home merchant wants the trading public, and even the state laws, to help him drive out the chain stores. The preacher too often wants to force all cafes, drug stores and other places of attraction closed on Sunday, by law in order that the people who might otherwise frequent those places, if left open, may attend his church. The professional man wants to do great things but there are too many "quacks" or "fakes" or "shifsters" competing. The home newspaper wants to support it on sentimental reasons, instead of as a local public servant. We are too much depending upon "props." The thing we must do is to learn that we must succeed or fail in proportion to the manner in which we deliver the goods. The person, or which we deliver the goods, must learn to stand or fall on his or their true merit. This idea of depending upon the public, or the government, or some other outside agency to help us succeed over our competitors is all wrong. We must learn to do the thing to do. If we would succeed, it brings home the bacon. That is what the world wants today, the fellow who can deliver the goods, and the sooner we all learn this the better for us and for the country.

THE COUNTRY'S PRESENT NEED

"Cyclone Mack," the well known evangelist, says that the crying need of the day is an Andrew Jackson in the White House. He believes that Hoover is a peck for a pulpit, the State of Texas for an auditorium and a voice that would penetrate every quarter of the North American continent, he would proclaim his opinion in words of fire that the greatest need of this country today is an Andrew Jackson in the White House. He charges that "Hoover has turned to billy instead of brains" that the president is not living in the same world with the average citizen of the United States. He says that Hoover associates with such magnates as Mellon, Morgan, Ford and other millionaires, and sees the situation only from their viewpoint, not getting down to a level with the average American where he could see the thousands out of work and in need of the necessities of life. He meets and talks over the nation's business with Mellon and other rich men and then they declare that the country is in a fairly prosperous condition, apparently oblivious to the grim needs of the thousands of Americans who are unemployed.

THE TOO SUDDEN CHANGE

A Moscow dispatch indicates that Old Stalin and his communist helpers are having a world of trouble dealing with the Russian farmers. They are hard egged. They can't be led to believe that it is all right for the government to take over their little farms and regulate their lives so rigidly. They prefer raising their own "garden sass," and peddling it out without interference from any source whatever. It is hard to change the customs and habits of a population whose ancestors have been doing that very thing in the very same way for thousands of years. That's one great trouble with the enforcement of our prohibition laws. Our ancestors have been making and drinking intoxicating liquor for thousands of years, and it is very hard to get them to give up that stimulant from them entirely in one decade.

WILL YOUR NAME BE THERE NEXT WEEK

Did you notice that long list of names which appeared on our weekly honor roll in last issue? If so, you must be convinced that the Enterprise is not only becoming more popular each month, but that the folks who read it are willing to pay for it. Two or three renewals and subscriptions in a week is not had during these days of "Hoover prosperity." Look on your label and if your subscription is about to expire, send in your renewal and get your name on our honor roll next week.

YOUR FORESTS

Numerous newspapers are sending out the warning against forest fires and stress the importance of taking care of the forests. The Enterprise would pass this warning on to David County land owners. We are just learning the importance of taking care of our forests. Careful financiers now agree that timber land will grow in value at the rate of from eight to ten percent annually, and being touched, and many wise landholders are now culling their scrub timber in order to give more room for the development of that which has possibilities. Like other modern methods in connection with farm work, this culling idea will grow and develop as land owners learn more and more about what it means in a financial way. But back to what we started out to say, be careful about fires during these March days.

STARTING OFF FINE

It is very evident that our farmers are starting off with determination, as there has been more spring plowing done so far than any other year we can recall, up to this time. And this is a good thing. It means that the farmers who are capable of sustained effort. It is after all, the fellow who keeps everlastingly pegging away who makes the go and succeeds. Our farmers are starting off fine, and we trust that they will sustain their efforts until their crops are made and gathered.

OURS IN FISHING IF YOU PLEASE

Assistant Game Warden Messer, of Black Mountain, says that the sport of bear hunting is coming back in North Carolina. During the open season a total of 39 bears were butted in seven counties around the state game refuges. Well, the old sport of bear hunting may again return to North Carolina, but as for us, we shall let the other fellow enjoy that sport. We do not care for bear hunting. A better sport is to go fishing. In other words, we cool banks of one creek or river waiting for the cork to bob on the limped waters, flecked with sunshining and shade. What does any one want to hunt bears for anyhow?

A SANE SUGGESTION

A well known Gorman, Dr. Peifer, seems to have been visited with a bright idea. He believes that instead of the government allowing salaries high enough to necessitate employees paying income tax that the big army, or part of it, employed in the task necessary to working out and collecting income tax, should be discharged and salaries so lowered as to make income tax unnecessary. In other words, it is a good grade bright idea. And without a great amount of effort on sandy land.

RELIGION AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

Laurinburg Exchange.
Judge John J. Parker, of the United States circuit court of appeals who is being boosted as a possible successor to Justice Sanford of the Supreme court, went back home Sunday night and spoke at a union service of the churches at Monroe. His subject was "The Law and Religion." The present reign of lawlessness and crime in America, is attributable, he said, not to the prohibition law and other laws, but to what he termed a national mania for material things. "The business of the church and religion, he said, is to build character and to establish within the hearts of men and inherit loyalty to right and the principles of right living. Law enforcement, thinks Judge Parker, can be greatly aided by the church. "We should love the law," he said, as "the majority of the people with protection and guarantees liberty against the criminal minority who disregard it."

ON BOOING SENATOR SIMMONS

Lenoir News-Topic.
Many of the newspapers throughout North Carolina are preaching warm sermons against the ill-mannered fellow who booted and hissed when Senator Simmons' name was mentioned at the Jackson Day Dinner in Raleigh. Of course the warmest of these are coming from papers which are supporting Senator Simmons in his race for re-nomination. Nowhere have we seen any disposition to defend those who were impolite enough to boo and hiss at the mention of the Senator's name. It was an act both rude and uncalled for, and it is a source of comfort for us to believe that most of it came from the gallery. However, it should not have been, no matter how wrong it came. Having thus made our disposition clear as regards the act itself, we arise now to condemn the implication from many corners that all of the Bayley and hissing crowd that ever booed and hissing and hollering in the whole Bayley campaign by a few rude fellows that it is to judge a whole army by a few cowards that creep into its ranks. We resent the effort

TOBACCO VS. COTTON

Gastonia Gazette.
A tobacco farmer's wife in the eastern part of the state—where tobacco takes the place of cotton as a money crop—has taken exception to an editorial appearing in a recent issue of The Gazette in which Gaston County farmers were encouraged to raise tobacco on the grounds of its profitability and its preference over cotton. In a communication of The Gazette of Tuesday, this farmer's wife low-rates tobacco, as a money crop, for a fare-you-well. Instead of the boll weevil, she says, the tobacco farmer must contend with the horn-worm, the cut-worm and the bud-worm. The average price for the tobacco raised in eastern North Carolina, says the communication, was 20 cents last year. There is no money in tobacco, she says, and she would not be led to believe there is. Now, The same condition prevails among tobacco farmers in the eastern part of the state as among cotton farmers in this section. They raise too much of their products. They raise so much that they cannot possibly give the correct amount of attention to their crops. And they exclusively: a tobacco which will not bring high prices. And a good portion of their crops, due to lack of care, must sell on the spot for 10 or 12 cents a pound. As to tobacco that will bring from 75 cents to $1.00 a pound. This, of course, is the high grade cigar wrapper, which, with increased cultivation in Gaston county, has been raised in this county, years ago, before the farmer began to turn to cotton.

HOW MUCH TOBACCO AT SIXTEEN CENTS

Raleigh, March 24.—How much tobacco can North Carolina farmers grow at an estimated average price of about 16 cents a pound for the crop? The answer to this question should decide the acreage to be put on each farm this year, said the Interstate Flue-cured Tobacco Committee meeting at State College on March 19 for its first formal gathering. The committee decided that its one great task for this year was to stabilize the acreage in North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Georgia. Ways and means of doing this was discussed. The committee heard from the secretary of the Interstate Early Irish Potato Committee about how concerted action had been obtained from growers and commission men in handling early Irish potatoes throughout the region from Florida to Maryland. It also heard a report from the six large tobacco manufacturing companies as to their probable needs for the year.

JAKE IS BROADCASTING

Well, go ahead and get the nomination for Senator from the 24th District if you can. We are going to abolish the office of welfare, and of course, you will want something, politically, to do.
