Coolleemee Baseball Review

BY "LEX" RIDEHOUGH

The Cards, starting off last week by splitting with Salisbury in a two-game series, the game on Wednesday with Landis was a rainout. On Thursday, Landis defeated us 3-2, with the Cards, local twister last year, on the firing line for Landis. Kannapolis edged the Cards on Friday night 9-8 on Miller's double in the ninth inning, preceded by a walk to Charlie. Highlight of this game was a homer by George Tefft, with the bases saturated. On Friday night, Kannapolis added insult to injury by humiliating the Cards 17-5 in a lopsided battle. Two pitchers for the Cards, issued eleven base-on-balls, coupled with five errors and twelve hits. The home force bowed to Thomasville 7-1 Monday night for their fifth straight loss.

Our club has improved much in hitting, but still lacks the punch hitting with men on the sacks. Leaving ten to twelve men on the bases isn't going to win games.

Although our situation is not as good as we would like to see it, our percentage is .359, compared to our papa organization, the St. Louis Cardinals, who boast only a .385 average.

Johnny Hattie leads the club in hitting with a .290 average. Coolleemee Juniors add another victory, and really mean add this time, by trouncing Center 18-0. It was the fifth straight victory for Manager Whittier's Juniors.

They still have not tasted defeat. Saturday, Center will be met at Center in a return engagement. Maine will play here Saturday week, June 15.

Tribe to the Yankees? "The Yankees are on their way; their opponents dread them day by day. And when September rolls around, New York will be pennant bound."

Gellman, the hard working catcher, was out of several games last week nursing some tedious boils. You showed plenty of courage Thursday night at Landis, although your physical condition was below par.

George Tefft really packs power for a little man. Weighing only 135 pounds, he is dynamite when he connects. His homer over the 350-foot sign was the last hit Friday night was some wallop!

Come on, Cards, we are rooting for you!

YADKIN COUNTY REJECTS OFFER

Yadkin county commissioners Friday rejected an inadequate offer by the High Point power commission of $60,000 for Yadkin public lands in the area that would be reservoir basin for the proposed High Point hydroelectric dam on the Yadkin River.

But the county commissioners did not shut the door to negotiation.

Board went on record as not averse to a settlement if and when High Point sees fit to make a satisfactory offer, payable in cash.

Offer of $60,000 was made to the Yadkin commissioners May 25. It would have been payable $10,000 in cash when Yadkin county joined High Point in the proposed court order permitting High Point, to pay out the money, and the remainder when High Point had obtained options for as much as 50 percent of the private land in the reservoir area.

High Point officials were not present, but the city of High Point was represented by F. D. B. Harding, Yadkinville attorney, before the county commissioners at the call meeting Friday.

Commissioners asserted they "considered the offer presented, and it was inadequate and not to the best interests of Yadkin county."

High Point's offer was for the lands that constitute the Yadkin county poor farm, and for relocation of public roads that would be inundated by waters in the reservoir area.

High Point's commissioners are at the moment handcuffed by a court order obtained by a High Point taxpayer, Duke Fyvere Company, and High Point industrial concerns restraining them from paying out money on the proposed $5,500,000 project, largely financed by the public works administration.

But High Point is preparing an appeal to the supreme court, based upon a thesis that the supreme court was not clearly informed of the actions and objectives of the power commission.

Beyond that, the courses of action for the power commissioners lie in appeals to the United States Supreme Court.

Restraint is placed upon High Point project also by a suit, initiated in Yadkin county, but this restraint could be relaxed through joint petition of Yadkin county and High Point.

Offer to Yadkin county is only a small part of the total sum budgeted in the project for purchase of lands. For private land purchases, the budget contains more than $1,250,000.

Twisting the Dials

WITH A. L. SIMON

What a difference in the way radio feuds are conducted today and the way they were handled ten to fifteen years ago. Remember the battles between Bing Crosby and the late Russ Columbo, Rudy Vallee and Will Osborne, Kate Smith and Vaughn De Leath? Those people—or their managers—were really out for blood and didn't pull their punches.

Today such competition is handled lightly. The outstanding feud in radio, Fred Allen vs. Jack Benny, is a joke all the way through and both come out ahead. Ben Bernie and Walter Winchell, who have been "feuding" for years, are really close friends. While Sammy Kaye and Kay Kyser aren't exactly buddies, they're yet so much as stick out a tongue at each other over who started singing song titles.

In fact it's not rare for one to plug the other on his radio program, nor is it strange to hear one bandleader boost his strongest competitor during a commercial or sustaining. The Andrews Sisters are riding high, wide and handsome, and along come the King Sisters as a threat. Fight? Far from it. The girls are all friends and really admire each other's work.

Most amusing of the current races, however, is that of Dick Todd, whose voice is being likened to Bing Crosby's in his radio and recording vocal efforts. But, there's no resentment in either camp here. Dick admits he's an ardent admirer of Crosby's, and Bing treats the competition with the same friendly manner.

Today, feuds are used to build people up instead of tearing them down.

Swine Disease Easily Transmitted To Humans

Beware of handling swine infected with erysipelas, the grim warning Dr. C. D. Grinnell, veterinarian of N. C. State College, offers to farmers of North Carolina. "We have received reports from the American Foundation for Animal Health that swine erysipelas is spreading rapidly in 39 states, and North Carolina is one of the States," he said.

"Human beings are dangerously susceptible to the same germ which causes swine erysipelas and farmers should be extremely careful in handling diseased hogs," the veterinarian continued. "More than a thousand such cases of human infection have already been reported in the country."

"The human disease, known as 'erysipelas', involves severe and painful swelling of the hand, wrist or forearm, and in some instances results in a serious systemic condition, from which heart lesions may result. Treatment extending as long as 10 weeks may be required before the disease can be conquered."

Dr. Grinnell also reported that the disease has been traced to human turkeys, and possibly other farm animals. In the past 10 years it has become one of the major threats in swine raising.

One of the factors confusing to the farmer is that symptoms of erysipelas and hog cholera are so similar that it is difficult to tell the two diseases apart," the warning states.

RUN-OFF PRIMARY
June 22, 1940

Who Should be Re-Nominated to Congress?

The friends of Deane in Davie County appeal to their fellow Democrats here in 1940 to help correct the wrong of 1938. The State Board of Elections after a full and fair hearing and after counting the legal votes cast in the second primary of 1938 declared C. B. Deane the nominee and the records in the office of the Secretary of State so show. His present opponent dragged the matter into the courts and would not abide by the decision of the State Board. When it was declared that the courts could not finally pass upon the matter in time for the November election, Deane agreed that it be arbitrated to that our District might not be deprived of a Democratic member in Congress.

The three man board of arbitration decided against Deane despite the ruling of the State Board of Elections. He truly sacrificed his own clear rights for the benefit of the Democratic Party. This is why he is a candidate in the June 22 primary, and we have the confidence that our fellow Democrats in Davie will welcome an opportunity to correct the wrong that was done him.

LET IT BE REMEMBERED BY THOSE WHO OPPOSE DEANE AND WHO DO NOT WANT A SECOND PRIMARY THAT MR. DEANE'S OPPONENT, MR. BURGIN, WAS THE LOW MAN IN THE FIRST PRIMARY OF 1938 WHEN HE DEMANDS A SECOND PRIMARY. THE SHOE IS NOW ON THE OTHER FOOT AND THE TIME OF C. B. DEANE'S VICTORY IS NEAR AT HAND!

Endorse the struggle made by Deane for Honest Elections in North Carolina by your vote for him on June 22.

DEWEY CHARGES NEGLIGENCE OF U. S. DEFENSE

An appeal for the "New Deal" to end its "seven-year war on business" was made by Republican candidate for president, Thomas E. Dewey, who spoke before a record breaking audience in Reynolds Park Gymnasium in Winston-Salem Saturday.

"The time has come when we must have an administration that will put the welfare of the country above any partisan advantage," he stated.

Over 300 Republicans from Yadkin county were present to hear the New York District Attorney assert that "the people demand that they be told the truth, and when we have the truth, American people will have the stamina and endurance to meet any emergency."

"Our national defense includes four arms and each of these four arms must be made impregnable or else our nation will be vulnerable to attack. The four arms of our defense include: (1) our armed forces. This arm is totally inadequate; we don't even have enough cloth to make uniforms, let alone having enough guns and ammunition to equip them. (2) Our National finance. This branch of our defense is particularly weak due to the extravagance of the New Deal. We are faced with the largest deficit this year in the history of the nation. The deficit this year alone is more than it took to operate the government one year under Calvin Coolidge. (3) Our National production. This arm has been badly hampered by government interference and government interference. Labor is divided as it has never been before. (4) The National Administration. We must have an administration that will unite our people under a common banner. Our administration, like England and France, has been asleep during the past seven years while Germany has been re-arming."

It will be an interesting spectacle and you will get a chance to see the home folks in the spotlight.

Making Good

Somebody has said that those who will form the backbone of the national defense program in this country are now youths who live in small towns and on the farms. Certainly the boys from the small towns are the ones who are most often found in the key positions of all kinds in this country.

Bill Grant is a local boy who is making good in the city. Not yet turned 20 this courageous youth has apparently found his life work which within itself is a high accomplishment eagerly sought by all youth with the flaming spirit of American free opportunity. That Bill has found a niche where he can also serve his country in a critical industry at a critical time is most fortunate. We hate to see good boys leave the small towns and farms but events in Europe in the last thirty days have shockingly convinced everybody that the American way of life must be protected at whatever sacrifice it takes.

On Second Thought

Until America's foremost G-man, J. Edgar Hoover, mentioned this, we had not given the matter such concentrated thought. Except in towns where instances of dangerous operations have brought the menace to the fore, the existence of tourist camps where cabins are stopping places for overnight guests have always been considered a convenience rather than a menace. However, Mr. Hoover warns that such places are too many times bases of operations for gangs of racketeers. There are a number of instances when publicity following hold-ups and even murders, have been given to tourist camps. It is such an easy way for an "out" and is a handy port of call in a storm. The indictment makes it plain that the law is in fault on the owner of a reputable camp who has taken means to safeguard the lives and property of his guests. There are many havens along roadways where stop many a traveler who prefers this to a hotel. But today he demands that these cottages be up to standard in sanitation, protection and appearance. Many states demand regular inspection regarding conditions in the camp. The man who patronizes them should be certain he is in one of safe and savory reputation.

A Pity

Before starting our summer of motor travel of rolling about the country over highway and byway, give a thought to a warning against Nature. There are many ways of adding up the total of thirty million animal deaths a year, and one of the foremost ones in the listing is the number of creatures hit by motor vehicles. The average motorist tries to avoid hitting an animal but is too frequently unsuccessful. The rabbit is the one most often destroyed and the great pity of 800 deer killed in three states during the year by the auto. Drivers can be more careful and considerate by being less reckless, that is if they wish to reduce the growing list of wildlife disasters.

Cotton Pickers Wanted

A rival for the annual corn husking contest of the middle west and the plowing contest of Canada comes a new feature, the place October 1st. It is to be a national cotton picking contest with $2000 going in prizes for the winners. There has been talk about mechanical pickers taking the place of the colored workers who labor in the southern cotton fields, but this contest will engage the country's interest more than any discussion of machine over-man-power. The procedure, the same as with the corn husking preparations, is taking place. A tract of 80 acres of richest Mississippi delta land has been planted and will be cared for until October when negroes from far plantations will do their best to strip the stalks in record time. This will be well worth following as those interested in the corn husking contests can testify.

Farm Questions

Are Answered

Question: How can I make up a lye solution for disinfecting poultry houses?

Answer: A most satisfactory solution is made by dissolving one pound of lye in five gallons of water. The lye, however, should be thoroughly dissolved and the solution well mixed before it is applied. Since lye is caustic and poisonous, it must be used with care. Two pounds of water-slaked lime added to the above solution will make a good whitewash and, at the same time, will make the solution more stable.

Question: What is the best ration for a fresh cow?

Answer: The feed for the first few days after freshening should be very limited with the first day's grain feed being restricted to bran mash. A mixture of wheat bran and ground oats, equal parts, should then be fed for the next four days. For about the fifth day after freshening the cow may be started on the regular milking ration and gradually brought to full feed over a period of three weeks. A reasonable amount ofilage may be fed at all times during the freshening period.

Question: What proportions of arsenate, water, and molasses are used for mopping cotton to control boll weevils?

Answer: One pound of calcium arsenate should be added to one gallon of water and thoroughly stirred. Then add one gallon of cheap molasses and stir until all ingredients are thoroughly mixed. This will make enough of the mixture for one application on one acre. Larger amounts may be made by using the same proportions. Only enough of the mixture should be made for each day's use. Frequent stirring while applying is necessary to keep the calcium arsenate in suspension.

Frame Garden Avoids

Heat And Cold Damage

Use of the cold frame for the production of early and late vegetables, when frost damage prevents growing the tender plants without protection, is a common practice in many counties, but H. R. Niswonger, Extension horticulturist of State College, says the frame garden is also valuable in protecting vegetables from the hot summer sun in the central and eastern sections. "A frame garden can be constructed from scrap lumber, planks, slabs from saw mills, or similar material," the specialist pointed out. "The sides of the garden should be of boards about one foot wide, and the most convenient size of a frame garden is 5 feet wide and 20 to 25 feet long. More than one garden can be built if more space is needed.

"Strips are nailed across the frame every four or six feet to support the sides and hold up a cover of brush or slats to be used when necessary for partial shade and to prevent damage to the plants by frost. The soil in the frame should be fertilized with manure, or with 5-7-5 fertilizer. Spade up the soil to a depth of 8 to 10 inches.

Niswonger also stressed the importance of having a convenient water supply so that the beds can receive moisture they will be robbed of by the nature of their construction. He says that radishes, lettuce, beets, mustard, spinach, carrots, Swiss chard, bush beans, and English peas are some of the vegetables that can be grown in a frame garden.

TRAVELLER'S TIP

It is primarily designed for men, but women will probably find myriad uses for this new sailor bag when travelling this summer. The bag, of sturdy tan canvas with cowhide corners and trimmings, fits into a flat envelope of the same material not in use. Shoes, boots, books, laundry, everything that one cannot cram into other bags, will be stowed away neatly in this sailor bag.

PEAK

Peak digging of this year's Irish potato crop in Beaufort County should be reached between June 15 and 20, according to J. C. McGee, assistant farm agent of the State College Extension Service.

Poisons Control

Tobacco Insects

Protection of this year's tobacco crop against preying insect enemies is being urged by J. O. Russell, entomologist of the State College Extension Service. Various insecticides are being applied in a well-thought-out, persistent program of defense to insure the leaf farmer of better crop, the State College man said.

For instance, the flea beetle may be controlled with a mixture of paris green and arsenic of lead. One pound of paris green to five pounds of arsenic of lead is the recommended proportion.

For small or newly-set plants three pounds of this mixture will treat an acre. For larger plants or larger plants, four or five pounds will be necessary because of the dense growth.

Applying the poison on the underside of the leaf, the mixture is most effective.

The best known control bud worm, another common pest, is the Carolina mealworm. When used on a meal worm, one pound of arsenic of lead should be mixed with five pounds of corn meal.

1. The repeal or amendment of the Johnson Act so that the people of this Nation can sell, lend, or give the hard pressed allies (France and England) airplanes, ammunition, cotton and other agricultural and manufactured supplies they so sorely need.
2. The passage of an Act for the relief of Dependent Widows and orphans of Veterans and for a more equitable relief and aid for Veterans of All Wars.
3. To secure a Federal-State Agricultural Experiment Station in the 8th District that will give to the Apple, Cotton, grape, peach, tobacco and berry growers a service they should have had years ago.
4. To work for the passage of such legislation that will make possible the marketing of the farmers' produce and to the extent that they shall receive a fairer return for their toil and labor.
5. To work with the manufacturers of the South and give a whole-hearted co-operation to see that they shall be given equitable freight rates in keeping with other sections of the Nation.
6. To support immediate Federal Aid for our School Teachers as a supplement to the State schedules to the end that our Teachers will not continue to leave the Education Field in search of other employment. Our boys and girls must have the best.
7. I will stand by our President Franklin D. Roosevelt and work to the end that the better prices now enjoyed by our Farmers and fairer wages and hours that have been given to the American Working Man are made secure. During these days when all the talk is about War I am thinking about our own folks and to the end that their interest are protected and not forgotten.
8. I shall never take any stand or make any representation in an effort to try and mislead the good people of my District.

FINALLY, I CALL YOU, MY FRIENDS, IN EACH PRECINCT THROUGHOUT THE DISTRICT TO GO OUT AND WORK HARD SATURDAY. WE ARE WINNING BUT WE MUST GET OUR VOTES INTO THE BALLOT BOXES. SEE THAT OUR VOTERS ARE BROUGHT TO THE POLLS. I THANK YOU EACH ONE FOR YOUR LOYAL SUPPORT YOU HAVE AND WILL GIVE ME SATURDAY.

COMMITTEE KILLS PROPOSED HIGHER TAX ON TOBACCO

WASHINGTON. — Victory crowned the fight against increased taxes on tobacco Saturday as the Senate Finance committee reported to the Senate a national defense tax bill with all the proposed tax increases on tobacco eliminated from the House-approved bill.

To replace this out of approximately $80,000,000 in the total of the emergency tax bill, the committee proposed a raise in taxes levied on admissions.

Representing a full sweep for the forces opposing the tobacco tax raises, the Senate committee overwhelmingly approved even the elimination of the increased taxes on cigarette paper.

The only complicating factor in the entire measure is a protective provision which provides that if the House refuses to recede from its position in favor of higher taxes on tobacco nobody will be exempt from floor stock taxes on tobacco.

Although the committee, of which Senator Josiah W. Bailey is a member, reported out the tax measure without a dissenting voice, elimination of the tobacco tax increases was not won without a hard fight.

Vigorous protests were registered before the committee by Senators Bailey and Chandler; Representatives Cooley and Chapman, of North Carolina; and Kentucky respectively; by the southern commissioners of agriculture, headed by W. Kerr Scott of North Carolina; and by the leading farm organizations, with Harry B. Caldwell representing North Carolina Grange members and B. B. Sugg representing the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation.

Final victory has not yet been won, however. The tobacco tax elimination must first run the gauntlet of possible Senate revision. If the committee's action is approved by the Senate, the bill then goes to conference where the Senate conferees will have to battle the House representatives and convince them they should recede from the House approved provisions proposing a 16 2-3 per cent. increase in present tobacco taxes.

To keep down taxes, Northern Ireland has abandoned bounties on foxes.

It has been only a little over a year when the Davie Electric Mutual Corporation was formed. Today the company has electricity in 1,200 homes in Davie, Yadkin, Iredell and Alexander counties.

It would have been impossible for many of these homes to have had modern electrical conveniences during the time of the owners had it not been for the loan of the Federal Government. Private industry could not have done because the expenses of getting the line to the users would have been all out of proportion to the revenue. The situation has worked out so that every home in Davie can have electricity without a prohibitive cost. Duke Power Company has been able to furnish the power for the R. E. A.
Uses of electricity on the farm grow every year. These uses, while they cost money, bring to the home a saving in time and convenience that make them well worth while.
The farm family has everything that the city family has in addition to that greatest of benefits: the joys of an independent life where a man is master of his own existence and at the beck and call of no one.

The day of the electric washing machine, water pumps, ed grinders, electric brooders, refrigeration and cooking truly belongs to the Davie farmer.

Next Monday the members of the R. E. A. will have picnic at the Masonic picnic grounds here. One of the principal items of business will be election of officers to rect the concern for another year. We are sure that the members will continue to select the men in whom they have confidence to do the job in the best way, forgetting any political or other affiliations.

Incidentally, we think it is highly appropriate to commend the high type of public service that the present board directors has given the organization. They have done good job with a single eye to the furtherance of electric power to every farm.

J. C. Jones, project superintendent since the cooperative was organized, has proven to be a man admirably fitted for this work. On his shoulders have fallen the main burden of the burden of getting the job done day by day.
He has done it extraordinarily well—with tact, good sense, attention to detail and a fine faculty of knowing how to get along with folks.

Davie has every right to be proud of its R. E. A.

Report Accidents

If you are unfortunate enough to suffer or see a motor accident, one of the things you should remember is to call an officer. J. C. Gibbs, local patrolman, is asking the cooperation of all Davie citizens in notifying the officers of any accidents. By so doing you protect both yourself and others.
At the same time you will have available valuable assistance.
How many times have we heard in court rooms the conflicting testimony of witnesses at automobile wrecks?
Officers, particularly highway patrolmen, are especially trained to observe and make written reports of accidents which eliminate the honest mistakes of non-expert onlookers.

Since last week we have received $28 in Red Cross contributions. This amount added to a check of $40 sent to headquarters last week gives us a total of $68. This is good but we can do better.

The donations of the past week have been made by Karsh King, A. D. Walters, Mrs. A. D. Walters, Mrs. Mary Seaford.

COOLEEMEE JULY 4TH PROGRAM

Cooleemee is planning an entertaining program for the morning of July 4th. Don't miss it! Plans now are to have a parade made up of men of the P. O. S. of A., Redmen, Junior Order, Girl and Boy Scouts, Cotton Club, Cooleemee band and playground children. This parade is scheduled to begin at the school house at 9:30 a. m., marching down Wats and up Main and ending on Park Hill at 10 o'clock. This is to be followed by a Patriotic program including band music, singing and the flag raising.

At 10:30 Rev. J. S. Hatt of Elkin will speak for us. Mr. Hatt is a very forceful and entertaining speaker and we are most fortunate in being able to have him with us for this occasion. Miss other parts of the program if you must, but don't miss this speech.

The last number on the program will be a rollicking "greasy pig chase." If you would like to own this pig sign up soon with "greasy" tickets.

If the day is hot your thirst can quickly be quenched by lemonade made and sold by the Woman's Club.

PARK HILL

Winners at the Bingo Party of last week were George Fry, Sonny Foster, Nancy Ridenhour, and Tap Bowens.

Bruce Sedberry and his gang have baseball on Park all morning and when they must give way to others in the afternoon, they go to the cow pasture and still play ball. If Cooleemee doesn't have a winning team some day, then "practice" doesn't make perfect.

With the boys between the ages of 13 to 18, baseball holds top place on the Cooleemee playground. Other games are enjoyed but more interest is shown in our great American pastime.

An average of about twenty boys have been reporting to the ball park four mornings a week for practice. Some little daughter, Patricia, of Char-

BURGIN STATEMENT

"I am naturally very much gratified by the splendid majority given me in the primary of last Saturday," said Representative Burghin at his home in Lexington where he is enjoying the brief recess taken by Congress.

"I am very thankful for the loyal work done on my behalf by so many friends in all of the twelve counties of the District, and I deeply appreciate the confidence in me as expressed by the more than 20,000 who cast their votes in my behalf Saturday."

"But I would not for a moment question the Democratic loyalty of the thousands of splendid citizens who gave me the votes to my opponent, and I hasten to assure them that I shall continue to seek to be their Representative at Washington just as fully as I would serve any other."

"I cannot find it in my heart to cherish resentment against anyone. Let the dead past be buried now. Our country needs an undivided loyalty in the days of uncertainty. Let us all know the people of the Eighth District well enough to be assured that they are patriotic Americans above all other considerations."

DEANE STATEMENT
"To my friends in Davie county who gave me as a candidate for Congress, such loyal support during the recent Democratic primaries, I desire to express my feelings of sincere appreciation," Mr. Deane said.

"Few candidates for public office ever had such faithful friends and tireless workers. You realize that our organization was carried on by friendship and faith, and we have no alibi to offer. We can be proud of the fact that we carried six of the strong Democratic counties: Union, Anson, Lee, Moore, Scotland, and Richmond, and received a splendid vote in the other six counties."

"You will, I am sure, join me in pledging support to the nominee, Mr. Burghin."

BURGIN STATEMENT

"I am naturally very much gratified by the splendid majority given me in the primary of last Saturday," said Representative Burghin at his home in Lexington where he is enjoying the brief recess taken by Congress.

"I am very thankful for the loyal work done on my behalf by so many friends in all of the twelve counties of the District, and I deeply appreciate the confidence in me as expressed by the more than 20,000 who cast their votes in my behalf Saturday."

"But I would not for a moment question the Democratic loyalty of the thousands of splendid citizens who gave me the votes to my opponent, and I hasten to assure them that I shall continue to seek to be their Representative at Washington just as fully as I would serve any other."

"I cannot find it in my heart to cherish resentment against anyone. Let the dead past be buried now. Our country needs an undivided loyalty in the days of uncertainty. Let us all know the people of the Eighth District well enough to be assured that they are patriotic Americans above all other considerations."

"To my friends in Davie county who gave me as a candidate for Congress, such loyal support during the recent Democratic primaries, I desire to express my feelings of sincere appreciation," Mr. Deane said.

"Few candidates for public office ever had such faithful friends and tireless workers. You realize that our organization was carried on by friendship and faith, and we have no alibi to offer. We can be proud of the fact that we carried six of the strong Democratic counties: Union, Anson, Lee, Moore, Scotland, and Richmond, and received a splendid vote in the other six counties."

"You will, I am sure, join me in pledging support to the nominee, Mr. Burghin."
