

THREE DAVIE PEOPLE DIE IN TRAGIC ACCIDENT NEAR CANA

In one of the most tragic accidents in this section in many years, three members of a prominent Davie family died last Tuesday afternoon about six o'clock from drowning and injury when the car in which they were riding hit a bridge railing and turned upside down in Dutchman's creek near Cana.

The dead are Mrs. Woodrow Howell, 26; her daughter, Sandra, 2½ years; Mrs. O. M. Howell, 55, mother-in-law of Mrs. Woodrow Howell, all of Cana, route 1.

The family had been visiting in Cana and were returning to their home. The car passed the home, apparently out of control, continued down the hill, ran into the left railing of the bridge knocking it down and then fell into the creek. Mrs. Woodrow Howell was driving.

Woodrow Howell, well known farmer, was going to the barn to milk, it was stated, saw a car passing the house and recognized it as his vehicle. The distance from the Howell homeplace to the creek is less than a quarter mile, down grade and a slight curve. Mr. Howell ran to the scene and pulled his mother out of the car but was unable to extricate his wife and baby who were pinned under the seat. Mrs. O. M. Howell lived only a few minutes. She suffered a fractured skull. It was stated that the water in the creek was about waist deep. It is thought that the two women probably died almost instantly from injuries and that the baby was drowned.

Xenophon Hunter, a neighbor and recently discharged soldier who was working in a nearby field, heard Mr. Howell scream and ran to the bridge. Having learned how in the service, he administered artificial respiration to Mrs. O. M. Howell, expelling some water from her lungs, but his efforts were of no avail.

Word of the accident is said to have been spread in the community by car which passed the bridge after the accident and told people living along the highway about it. It was about 30 minutes after the accident that a tractor arrived to remove the car.

Failure of the brakes was attributed as the cause of the car being out of control. The road from the house to the creek is bumpy, narrow, has a ditch on either side and was recently dug, it was stated. Some thought the condition of the road was responsible for Mrs. Howell not being able to stay on the highway, the approximate center of the front bumper of the car hitting the bridge railing.

A tractor was brought to the creek to pull out the car before Mrs. Woodrow Howell and the child could be extricated.

Mrs. Woodrow Howell, the former Miss LaDeen Lakey and daughter of E. S. Lakey, Farmington merchant, is survived by her husband and father.

Mrs. O. M. Howell is survived by three sons, Lieut. Sam Howell of Kansas, Ezra Howell of State College and Woodrow Howell of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Roland Pair, Huston, Texas; four brothers, Ezra Furches, Draper, Frank Furches, Salisbury; Wade Furches, Farmington and Conrad Furches of Miami, Fla.; and her stepmother, Mrs. Sam Furches of Miami, Fla.

Funeral services were held yesterday, Thursday, afternoon at 4 p. m. at Farmington Methodist church. Interment was in the church cemetery.

NAMED CARD SUITS

Four medieval economic classes served to name the suits in playing cards. Spades from the Spanish "espada," or sword of the nobility; clubs from clover-like trefol leaves of the peasantry; hearts from the French "choeur" or choir of the clergy and diamonds for merchants.

VALUABLE BULB

One bulb of the Viceroy tulip once sold in Holland for two lasts of wheat, four of rye, four fat oxen, three fat swine, 12 fat sheep, two hogsheds of wine, four "tuns" of beer, two "tuns" of butter, 1,000 pounds of cheese, a bed, a suit of clothes, and a silver beaker.

TERMINAL PAY 'GOLD RUSH'

WHEN A LOS ANGELES NEWSPAPER announced it was printing a supply of terminal leave pay applications, through special arrangement with the War Department, more than 10,000 veterans flocked to their offices seeing the forms. Here are the first to arrive, with other thousands waiting outside to enter the offices.

31 Report For Hi Football

The Mocksville high school football hopefuls turned out for practice this week 31 strong, confident of a successful season which will begin about September 27.

Coach Raymond Siler is running his crew of boys through a rugged training schedule but so far has been able to practice the lads only an hour a day, from 11:30 to 12:30. It is hoped that this period will be lengthened later in the season.

The team will be ready for play about September 27, but a definite schedule has not yet been worked out. This week or next will see the completion of the scheduled games with such schools as Elkin, North Wilkesboro, Cooleemee and others.

NEW CHURCH ORGAN HERE

Dr. J. E. Pritchard, the pastor of the local Methodist church, announces that the new Hammond organ, the gift to the church by P. Frank Hanes of Winston-Salem, in memory of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hanes, is to be delivered on Friday of this week and will be used for the first time Sunday, September 8.

J. Milton Panetti of Charlotte, organist for the Andrews Music company, and Mrs. Panetti will be present for the regular services Sunday at eleven o'clock, and will remain for a special musical program Sunday afternoon at five o'clock Mr. Panetti will render a number of selections and Mrs. Panetti will sing. The service at five o'clock is being arranged for the benefit of the people of the other churches who would not want to be absent from their own services.

James Rites Held Sunday

Funeral services were held Sunday for John Ralph James, 45, well known resident of Farmington for many years, who was accidentally killed by a falling tree last Saturday. Mr. James was with a group who were cutting down trees. Other members had left him to fell one tree while they went to another spot. Not arriving as expected, members returned to find that he had been killed in an unusual manner. The tree he was cutting fell against another dead tree, knocking it down, and the latter tree fell on Mr. James.

Mr. James was the son of J. C. and Lula Ward James and was born in Davie County. He was a carpenter and cabinet maker and for the last few years had been in the sawmill business. In 1923 he married Miss Elva Williams.

Surviving are his wife, one son, Willis Eugene James, of the home, the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. James of Farmington, four brothers, Clarence and Aaron James of Mocksville, and Odell and Milton James of Farmington; two sisters, Mrs. Willie Howard and Mrs. Lillian Gregory of Farmington.

Services were at Farmington (continued on page 8)

HEALTH GROUP MET FRIDAY

In an effort to assimilate plans for the betterment of Davie County's health condition through the local elementary and high schools, eight members of a planning committee representing the school, health department, welfare and extension services, and the farm security met with School Superintendent Curtis Price last Friday at the court house.

The representatives, in their final meeting before a session with state health officials on September 18, outlined plans for improvements of a score of problems in the schools. Teachers and principals of Davie County schools had listed 21 educational problems last spring, ranging from inadequate drinking facilities to school record discrepancies.

The problems were combined into seven major classifications at Friday's meeting, with chairmen, some of which are still tentative, at the head of each group:

Nutrition—Mrs. Beryl Dryden; Healthful Environment, Miss Ruby Fleming; Safety and First Aid—Mrs. Nell Lakey; Physical and Health Education—Miss Alma Anderson; The Handicapped Child—Miss Sallie McColman; Screening—Miss Eula Reavis; Health Services—Miss Katherine Brown.

Problems included inadequate drinking facilities, inadequate washing facilities, inadequate toilet facilities, playgrounds, first aid and isolation rooms in schools, safety, heated buses, supervised play and physical education, supervised lunchrooms, lunchroom sanitation including rodent control, nutrition, immunizations, thermometers in each room, ventilation, posture, lighting, mental hygiene, oral hygiene, unsuitable desks, observing children for signs of communicable diseases, handicapped children, school records.

A one-day workshop was slated for September 18, when the first county-wide teachers meeting will be held at Mocksville High school. Teachers will discuss the listed difficulties and make recommendations for their correction.

The state health officials ordinarily are not concerned with localities in which no plans have been laid for health betterment, it was explained.

Those attending the meeting included Mr. Price, Miss Mary Lewis, district health educator, Miss Florence Mackie, home demonstration agent, V. G. Prim, Cooleemee principal, Locke Holland, FSA representative, Miss Ruby Fleming, Mocksville teacher, Miss Alma Anderson, Advance teacher, Mrs. Lucille Donnelly, county welfare officer, and Mrs. Beryl Dryden, Mocksville High school home economics teacher.

CHICKEN FRY

The young men's class of the Cooleemee Baptist church enjoyed a chicken fry Saturday afternoon at the Boy Scout camp. About 40 members were present, including the teacher, J. F. Jarvis, the assistant teacher, Graham Gobble, and the pastor, Rev. G. L. Royster.

HERE & THERE

CAMPAIGN

Mocksville Baptist church will launch a 10-week loyalty campaign on October 1 which will consist of special meetings and a series of sermons to enlist all church members in loyalty to Christ and the church, Rev. J. P. Davis, pastor, announces. The remainder of this month it will be spent in preparation.

PIE SUPPER

A pie supper will be held at the Pino grange hall tonight, Friday, at 8 p. m. The public is invited.

DOG VIOLATION

John Ratts of near Cooleemee was fined $25 and costs, suspended on condition that he have his dog vaccinated within three days, on September 2 before Magistrate T. I. Caudell.

ROTARY

A. T. Daniel, program chairman, spoke extemporaneously at Tuesday's Rotary meeting in the absence of a regular speaker. The W.S.C.S. served a bountiful beef stew. Dave Rankin presided in the absence of President Pennington.

COURT CASE

In superior court last week Clyde Ratledge and Frank True-love were each given 12 months on the roads, suspended on good behavior for five years and pay Hubert Eaton $20 each for stolen meat.

PICNIC SUPPER

The Jerusalem Home Demonstration club held its annual picnic last Friday at the home of Mrs. B. W. Singleton on route 4. The families of all members were invited and picnic supper was served 57 guests. W. H. Kimrey directed the recreational program.

PALLBEARERS

Active pallbearers at the funeral of Mrs. John W. Cartner held last week were Alton Foster, Alton Howard, Abe Howard, Tom Turrentine, Frank Sain, Jr., and Elmo Foster. Honorary pallbearers included Sammie Foster, Spencer Foster, Henry Sparks, John Poplin, Frank Sain, Sr., and Grady Sain.

FARMINGTON P.T.A.

The Farmington P.T.A. will hold its first meeting of the year on September 11 at 8 p. m. at Farmington school. Hubert Boger, first man in Davie to be president of the P.T.A., urges all interested persons to attend and support the organization.

REUNION

The annual Hendrix reunion will be held at the Henry Hendrix home place 2½ miles south of Fork church, on Sunday, Sept. 8. All relatives and friends of the Hendrix families are cordially invited.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS

In all school districts of the county, the Board of Education ruled at its Monday meeting that districts remain the same as last year and children who attended a particular school last year shall continue to attend that school unless they have moved.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT SAYS TOWN ENTITLED TO FREE MAIL DELIVERY

R. S. Fisher, postoffice inspector, made a survey of Mocksville last week and has written J. P. LeGrand, postmaster, that the town is entitled to free city delivery.

Inauguration of free delivery is contingent upon the town naming the streets, numbering the houses and making suitable sidewalks.

Mr. Fisher came to Mocksville following a request by the local Rotary club for local free mail delivery. Mr. Fisher stated in his letter that postal receipts were sufficient to afford free delivery.

The town commissioners will discuss naming of streets at their next meeting and a committee from the Rotary club, composed of Mr. LeGrand, Dr. S. A. Harding and Robert S. McNeil, was appointed at last Tuesday's meeting to appear before the commissioners to urge acceptance of the requirements of the postoffice department.

DAVIE COUNTY SCHOOLS ENROLL 2,496 ON OPENING DAY AUGUST 29

A total of 2,496 students are enrolled in Davie county elementary and high schools, it was announced this week by Supt. Curtis Price.

The figure includes both the number of white and colored students, but does not include the totals in one-each colored schools throughout the county. Last year's compilation also is not available at this time.

The enrollment figures for schools of Davie were as follows: Shady Grove, 339 elementary, 79 high school, total 418; Mocksville, 492 elementary, 214 high school, total 706; Farmington, 195 elementary, 85 high school; total 280; William R. Davie elementary, 150; Cooleemee, elementary 545, high school 143, total 688; Davie County Training school, 175 elementary, 79 high school, total 254; grand total, 2,496.

The figures quoted, it was explained, were those for first day registration, and do not represent those students who may have registered in any schools since last Thursday.

REAL ESTATE CHANGES MADE

The following real estate transfers were filed this week in the office of C. R. Vogler, register of deeds:

A. G. Speelman to Lonnie Peebles, $10 plus, 2 lots Jerusalem township.
J. Lee Dwiggs to H. W. Brown, $100 plus, 4 acres Mocksville township.

HOOVER CITES YUGO 'GRATITUDE'

FORMER PRESIDENT Herbert C. Hoover arrives in Los Angeles and is interviewed by reporter Alan Williams. Recently returned from a 95-day tour of the world to survey famine conditions, Mr. Hoover said shooting down of American Army planes by Yugoslav airmen was indeed "poor token of gratitude in return for $200,000,000 worth of food, clothing and farm implements we gave them."

A Mighty Fortress IS OUR GOD

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the Church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church on Sunday.

At all times and in all ages the Church has been a strong and mighty battle station against sin and moral decay.

Through its arches and apses and naves has constantly rung the battle cry of soldiers of the cross.

On its altar has always been found the greatest arsenal of sacred ammunition ever entrusted to any race or to any people—the Holy Bible.

The banner of righteousness has flown steadily from the fixed redoubts of quaint and quiet community churches and impressive city edifices alike.

The torch of truth and salvation has been carried with flaming zeal to dismal outposts in distant and strange lands by self-effacing vanguards.

The Church's stirring hymns, its reverent litany, its jeweled creed, its holy festivals—all have been powerful weapons in the hands of purposeful men determined to see that right makes might.

From its pulpit parapets have resounded continual and courageous challenges to the forces of evil. Truly, the Church today is a mighty fortress in the defense of decency.

FARM QUESTIONS ARE ANSWERED

Question: Why don't you recommend wheat as a temporary grazing crop?

Answer: Temporary grazing crops should be planted at just about this time to give the maximum amount of fall and spring grazing, according to State college agronomists. On the other hand, James T. Conner, Jr., Extension entomologist, says that if wheat is planted now, it will also bring a crop of Hessian flies. They will not only damage the fall crop of wheat planted now but they will also damage wheat next spring—that which was planted after the fly-free date. Early sown wheat often gives excellent grazing but it's mighty dangerous to plant it. It may not only damage your wheat but also that of your neighbor—and you would not want to do that.

Question: Can you give me information about blueberries for the home garden?

Answer: E. B. Morrow, in research on small fruits for the Agricultural Experiment station at State college, has prepared just such information for you and will be glad to send it to you on request. He points out that blueberries require an acid soil, a uniform moisture supply, correct fertilization, and pruning each year. "The attractive bell-shaped spring fall flowers, the delicious fruit, and the brilliant colored fall foliage make them well worth a little extra care and attention," Morrow says. You can also get a copy of Farmers Bulletin No. 1951 by writing the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C. It is called "Blueberry Growing."

Question: Where may I obtain information on cutting pulpwood?

Answer: First, see your county agent. He may give you direct assistance or he may call in the Extension farm forester for your

Support Prices For Flue-Cured Tobacco

The Flue-Cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation, a grower organization obtained through the joint efforts of the Farm Bureau, the Grange and other farm groups, with headquarters in Raleigh, will provide support prices for flue-cured tobacco over the entire belt.

The objective of the corporation is to make it possible for Bill Colvin of Wake Forest, just returned from the Navy, needed help in cutting pulpwood, just as you do. He was given help in selecting his trees and was also trained in the proper use of the axe and the bow saw.

tobacco growers to obtain government loans, whenever it is to their advantage to do so. This tobacco, unlike many agricultural commodities, cannot be packed and placed in an acceptable condition for loans by individual farmers. The corporation provides this service.

Grower members place their tobacco on the auction floor in the regular manner. If the price bid is not greater than the government loan rate, the tobacco may be marked for the corporation, with the farmer obtaining the loan rate from the warehouseman.

If the tobacco is later sold at a net gain, any additional amount above the government loan rate and operating expenses will be distributed pro-rata to the organized growers. If the tobacco cannot be sold for a net gain, there will be no liability on the part of the grower, since the loan is "nonrecourse."

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

ROCK MYSTERY STILL CONTINUES

Union Grove, Sept. 2.—The rock throwing affair that has been going on for five weeks in this north Iredell community is still raging in unabated fury. As late as the past Sunday night, people were hit and barns were rocked. Last Saturday night, Roger Boles, a well known young man of Brooks Cross Roads, stopped on the Myers road near the tobacco barn where the great bulk of the throwing has taken place and called out to some of the people around the barn. No sooner had he called out than a rock smashed into his windshield, breaking the glass.

Every night for the past five weeks or more rocks ranging in size from the size of a partridge egg to size of a man's fist have been falling on, against, and around the tobacco barn of Gus Myers, who lives about two miles north of here. When these rocks first began falling, Myers and others present when they fell attached little significance to it, thinking the occurrence was nothing more than a prank pulled by some mischievous boy. But when the rocks fell in ever increasing numbers—and size—night after night, Myers and associates began taking the matter more seriously.

On several occasions someone at the barn has been hit by rocks. Sometimes these rocks are large and do considerable injury, and the danger to those around the barn is great. Myers has been hit two or three times, his son, Royall, has been hit. The rockers even have become so bold that they rock people in the fields during the day. One man was hit while priming tobacco on the farm of Albert Lewis.

The rockers haven't confined their throwing tactics to the Myers barn. They have rocked his dwelling and the barn of Jody Gregory, a neighbor.

Myers said that he had received numerous threatening notes saying that he was going to be killed on certain nights. His home was rocked two nights in succession, and members of the household or others that happen to be there as spectators can't go to the spring after a bucket of water without running the risk of getting hit by a thrown rock. Myers said that if he had an enemy in the world he doesn't know it, and he can shed no light whatever on the cause of the practice.

Rocks have been thrown from every direction at the same time. Officers and hundreds of others have visited the scene nightly. Both officers and spectators have been hit. One night an officer standing on the running board of his car was hit by a rock. He immediately brought his machine gun into play by spraying the area with bullets, but this proved of no avail.

Myers said that more than $200 worth of ammunition had been used up in trying to stop the depredations of the throwers. Machine guns, rifles and shotguns are being used.

One of the most seriously injured as a result of the throwing was Wilson Reid, who suffered a head injury, which partially incapacitated him for three weeks.

The Iredell county sheriff's department, and state highway patrolmen, have tried several times to catch the culprits, but they have not been able to shed any light on the goings on yet. Occasionally some minor incident concerning the throwing of rocks crops up in one community or another, but never before in this section has there been anything to compare with the consistent rock barrage that has fallen around Mr. Myers' barn.

Meanwhile the rock throwing goes on.

OIL IN IRAN

This time it is not a case of pouring oil on troubled waters, but the scramble for oil which is threatening again the peace of the world. We have no defence to make for the Russian desire to secure Iranian oil, and certainly no defence for the consistently stubborn attitude of Mr. Molotov. At the moment there does seem to be an underlying cause for the shifting of the nations towards war, and, as usual, the cause is economic. Iranian oil and bases in Palestine are necessary to the very life of England, and her desire to secure both is understandable. But, there is a better way than war to solve that problem. The only solution which war can give to it is to destroy all of it and leave the contending nations with nothing more than ruined and devastated countries.

We suspect that the chief difficulty in solution is that the representatives of the people, both in Russia and in England - and we might include our own country, are influenced by persons, by groups, and by personal interests which fail to take into account the millions of little folks who will have to do the fighting. Russia's dominating motive, it seems to us, is the defence and setting up of an ideology, backed by power; other nations have economic interest as the dominating motive. Those motives are headed towards a clash. Once more, we ask, why cannot the nations of the world get together and seek a basis of justice and right upon which to secure to all the peoples of the earth a just share in the world's resources?

STILL IMPORTANT

There are a couple of things which this cockeyed world should be reminded of. They stem from universal law, and only by following them can a people have real prosperity and peace. One of those things is work, good, honest-to-goodness work. No matter how many gadgets we may make there is still a necessity for work-- if for no other reason than that a human being soon deteriorates without it. The second thing is that the moral law is still about and doing business, and things obtained through violation of it will not bring true happiness. The most damnable practice of the world today is the expression of a philosophy that "O well, it is okay if you get by with it." We have heard several aspirants to screen and radio fame and fortune brag about lying in order to get a job. The practices in government and army disposals of government property is a national scandal, yet those practices stem from a generally accepted theory that "Everybody does it". When "Everybody does it" then everybody has to pay the piper.

YADKIN COUNTY MAN HELD ON KIDNAPING CHARGE ON AUGUST 23

Marvin C. Bell, 23, of Yadkin county, was ordered held without bond on charges of kidnaping Peggy Shore, pretty 15-year-old brunette of Elkin, on August 23, when given a preliminary hearing Monday before U. S. Commissioner M. W. Mackle at Yadkinville.

Bell and Ralph Vernon Litteral, 34, of Winston-Salem, now serving a 60-day road sentence for a liquor law violation imposed in Municipal Court in Winston, will be tried at the November term of U. S. District Court in Winston-Salem.

The two men will be tried under the Lindbergh law which makes it a capital offense if the kidnap victim is taken across a state line.

Bell's hearing before Commissioner Mackle was brief. F.B.I. Agent J. O. Johnson of Winston-Salem told the court Bell "admitted he aided in kidnaping Peggy Shore at Elkin and carried her to Tennessee where he left her."

Bell was arrested at his home in the Antioch community of Yadkin county, not far from Yadkinville, at 1 a.m. Monday. F.B.I. agents and State highway patrolmen surrounded his home, where he was living with his wife and one child.

Waiting until Bell had retired, the officers knocked on the front door of the home. Bell answered the call. The officers took him into custody without a struggle.

Long Court Record

Litteral has a wife and three children living in Winston-Salem. He has been tried 38 times for various offenses and has served several sentences on the state roads and one term in the state prison. He was at a state prison camp, but it is understood he was removed to the central prison at Raleigh at the request of the F.B.I.

Officers said Bell and Litteral kidnaped Peggy Shore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Shore of the Pleasant Hill community of Wilkes county, two and one-half miles west of Elkin, about 11:30 p.m. August 23. They said the two men abused the girl during the wild ride through western North Carolina and ordered her out of the car near Bristol, Tenn. She returned to her home August 24 and was in a hospital on two occasions for treatment.

Officers Relate Events

Officers related the events in the case as follows:

Peggy had been to a watermelon feast in Elkin with two other girls on the night of August 23. She and her two companions were accosted on the streets of Elkin by two men, later identified as Bell and Litteral. They refused to enter the car with the men.

Peggy and her two girl friends got on the bus to go to their homes. The two girls left the bus at a lighted filling station. Peggy said she saw Bell and Litteral following the bus in their car with the lights out.

After leaving the bus, Peggy said the two men followed her to a lonely spot and then grabbed her about 11:30 p.m. She screamed and one of the men placed his hand over her mouth and nose. She was thrown bodily into the car.

During the wild ride through western North Carolina and Tennessee, the men abused her and tried to force her to drink whisky. She refused.

After more abuse and a discussion as to whether they should kill her, Peggy said the two men gave her $7 for bus fare back to Elkin and ejected her from the car about 5:30 a.m. near Bristol, Tenn. They told her to get home anyway she could.

Almost exhausted from her ordeal, Peggy walked to a nearby farm home where she fainted. The farm family revived her and took her to Bristol, where she caught a bus for Elkin, arriving at 5:30 p.m.

Going straight to her home, Peggy told her mother of her story and displayed cuts and bruises on her legs and about her hips. She was taken to an Elkin hospital for treatment of her injuries and for a highly nervous condition.

Peggy returned home, but a few days later went back to the hospital for treatment for hysteria. She is improving rapidly now at her home.

It was not known Monday night when Litteral will be given a hearing. It was understood that he would be arraigned after he completes his sentence imposed two days after Peggy Shore was released from the car at Bristol, Tenn.

Put Muscadines In The Freezer Locker

Frozen muscadine grapes make a highly flavored and delicious product for pies, cobbler, short cake, tarts, salads, puddings, and for jams and jellies.

Some varieties are too tart but it seems that those with the thickest hulls are best for freezing. The Flowers is an excellent variety while the scuppernon is much less desirable.

In preparing an acceptable product, the grapes should be thoroughly washed and crushed. A heavy potato masher and a quart bottle may be used for crushing a small quantity.

A screen of one-half inch hardware cloth can be used for separating the pulps and juice from the hulls. Boil the pulps for 5 minutes and strain through a fine wire screen. The juice of the pulps is then added to hulls and the whole boiled for 15 minutes, adding water to replace that lost through boiling.

While the mixture is cooling, add about a pound of sugar to each gallon of the product,

FARM NEWS

Lime - Legumes - Livestock For Better Farming

The livestock industry in our county has grown tremendously for the past few years. In fact, much faster than our feed program.

The feed situation is now the bottle-neck to future expansion and also to profits to be derived from livestock. Until we do something to relieve the feed situation, my thoughts are that no more expansion will be profitable.

Permanent pasture is the cheapest source of feed for livestock. Now is the time to seed several acres of permanent pasture.

The extension recommendations for Yadkin county are as follows:

For One Acre

Fall Seeding (September)
Orchard grass, 10 lbs.
White Dutch clover, 4 lbs., or ladino clover, 1 to 2 lbs.

Spring Seeding (March)
Lespedeza, 15 lbs.
Dallis grass, 5 lbs.

These four grasses and legumes will make an outstanding pasture if properly fertilized and seeded.

Fertilizer: Lime 1 to 3 tons per acre. Fertilizer 600 lbs. 2-12-12 or equivalent. Also a liberal application of stable manure where possible. Let's get those pastures in shape and get some grass growing for next summer.

Sugar Stamp Is Extended

Raleigh. — Spare Stamp No. 49, good for five pounds of sugar and scheduled to expire last Saturday night, continues good throughout September because of the shortage of sugar in some areas due to mal-nutrition, OPA District Director Theodore S. Johnson explained.

At the same time, he announced that Spare Stamp No. 51 became valid last Sunday, also for five pounds, in line with the regular ration pattern followed for the past several months. This stamp continues good for the balance of this year, he said, adding that uncertainty about the extent of the coming Cuban crop makes it impossible to increase the present sugar ration.

LOSS WAS GAIN

The 13 original states of the Union had a total area of 892,135 square miles in 1790, of which 24,155 were under water. Today these states have a total area of 326,378 square miles, other states having been formed within their boundaries.

PLANE ODDITY

The first power-driven, heavier than air machine ever to carry man in flight—the original Wright airplane — although built, flown and acclaimed in America, today reposes in a museum of science in England.

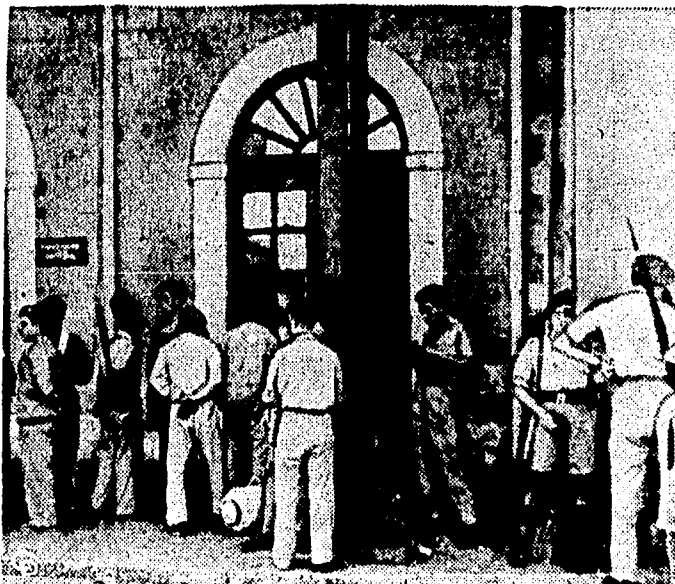

Crop reporters say that the U. S. will have only 9 turkeys this year where it had 10 last year. Uncertainty of feed supplies is blamed for the drop.

which consists of the entire grape except the seed.

The product is then ready for packaging as with other such fruits for freezing.

Miss Ruby Scholz of State College says that is one of the most delightful fruits that may be placed in the freezer locker and that a few packages will be greatly appreciated by the average family during the winter months.

PART OF A POSSE of 200 formed to hunt eight negroes reported to have wounded a sheriff's deputy and three other men near Magee, Miss., halts momentarily (top) before closing in on the accused group in a swamp. The wounded deputy sheriff Glen Hester (bottom), of Raleigh, Miss., is shown recovering at his home after the shooting. The gun battle was said to have started when Hester went to investigate reports that the negroes had fired into a group of white people.

State College Hints
To Farm Homemakers

By Ruth Current

N. C. State College

It has been said that you can tell a woman is a good housekeeper by the way she hangs her laundry on the line. What do you think?

We've all heard women complain from time to time on the boredom and drudgery of housework. Things often seem uninteresting and take too much time because the work is done in a slipshod manner.

System and efficiency pay off, no matter what the job be, and satisfaction comes from a job well done.

It is important to instill into children, who are at an impressionable age, that any job is worth doing one's best. This is important training, and parents must be examples in this to their children.

Fried breast of chicken, one of America's favorite food treats, has more to offer than fine flavor and substantial protein and calories. Recent research by poultry specialist of the Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, shows that the breast of chicken is an excellent source of niacin, the important anti-pellagra B-vitamin. Tests show that the concentration of this vitamin is especially high in the flesh of broilers and fryers.

These findings and those of other laboratories indicate that chicken breast contains more niacin than any other muscle meat thus far tested and compares favorably with pork liver and beef liver which have been recognized as among the richest sources of this vitamin.

People with a preference for light or dark meat may be interested to know that the dark meat is superior in the vitamins, riboflavin and thiamine, but that the white breast takes first place in niacin.

WOODLEAF NEWS

Work is progressing rapidly on the new home of Hugh Lee McKinney near the intersection of the Cooleemee and Salisbury highway. After completion it will be occupied by his parents while he is in service.

Another new home near completion is that of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Perrell on the Cooleemee highway.

Sgt. and Mrs. Lewis Holshouser of Albemarle were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Fraley.

Miss Pearl Wilson of Manteo is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Etheridge.

Miss Helen Troy Gillean has returned from Manteo, where she saw "The Lost Colony".

S 1-c Shirley Click, who is stationed at Pensacola, Fla., was home for a few days the first of the week.

Mrs. J. T. Thompson is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Elliott. She was real sick several weeks ago but is now much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wetmore are spending several days this week near Asheville.

Rev. and Mrs. N. E. Oplinger have returned to their home at Chattanooga, Tenn., after a week's visit here and in Franklin with friends. Rev. and Mrs. Oplinger were former residents of Woodleaf.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Oliver and Miss Nellie Anderson of Washington, D. C., left Wednesday for their home after a visit of several days with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gillean and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dean have moved into their new home near the Methodist church.

WEAR GLOVES WHEN

The fresh, moist skin of the sweet potato, just after harvest is very tender and is easily injured.

J. Y. Lassiter of State College, Extension horticulturist, suggests that each worker handling the yams be supplied with a pair of gloves.

IDENTIFY HESSE JEWELS AT COURT MARTIAL

WITH THE COURT MARTIAL judges seated behind the display, Major John Salb, of the Provost Marshal General's Office, identifies some of the Hesse crown jewels which were stolen from Kronberg Castle, near Frankfurt. Brig. Gen. Josiah D. Dalbey, of the 3rd Army, is presiding at the trial of WAC Capt. Kathleen Nash Durant who, with her husband, Col. Durant, is charged with the theft. Maj. Salb testified the jewels were recovered by him in the home of Capt. Durant's sisters in Hudson, Wis.

NEWS OF FARM CONSERVATION

By G. W. McCLELLAN

J. H. Eldson, owner of the Children's Farm Home on the Yackville road, has made a wonderful progress in improving five acres of poor land in a year's time. He terraced, limed, manured, and sowed this field to inoculated soybeans that have done well. Now he is preparing to seed alfalfa. He is also planning to sow some ladino clover and grasses for pasture.

A. D. Ritchie near Cana is preparing to seed six acres to ladino and grasses for pasture.

Cecil Leagans near Cana is seeding around five acres in ladino clover and grasses. He seeded two acres last spring and is highly pleased. He is also seeding around nine more acres to alfalfa.

Wade Groce near Cana is getting in 20 more acres of alfalfa. This will make him a total of 30 acres.

J. M. Eaton near Cana is getting ready to sow around eight acres to alfalfa. Mr. Eaton has done considerable pasture improvement and is pleased. Now he is getting a good team mate by sowing alfalfa.

The West boys near Pino are planning to sow around six acres of alfalfa. This makes their second time to sow alfalfa.

Lonnie Miller and sons near Pino sowed nine acres of alfalfa last year. They have the most hay they have ever had this time of year and only nine acres are involved. They're seeding around ten more acres this fall.

Berry Neely near Holman's Cross Roads is the first man to sow alfalfa in that section of the county and is sowing more this fall.

All of the above men have a farm plan with the Middle Yack-in district and are doing good soil conservation work.

Yield Estimates For Cotton 5-Acre Plots

There are about 650 entries in the State Five-Acre Cotton contest this year, and county agents will soon be making their initial estimates on yields, says J. A. Shanklin of State college, who is in charge of the contest.

He has sent a supply of estimate cards to the farm agents of the extension service, with instructions as to how to make boll counts. The first estimate will be made just as soon as fifty per cent of the cotton is open.

All open bolls will be counted, along with unopened bolls that may be expected, in several sections of each five-acre plot. Further checks will be made as the season progresses.

Samples of two hundred open bolls will be forwarded to State college, where the length of the

The Beaver Family Lives Up To Name

"Working like beavers" is an old expression that really holds good over in the Amity community of Cleveland county.

The Roy Beavers operate a Grade A dairy and milk 47 cows, delivering milk to a creamery in Concord. This year about 8,000 bushels of oats and barley were produced on the farm. Recently they have completed a new silo and have started to build a three-story granary.

Mrs. Beaver is the mother of eight children, four of whom are still on the farm. She and her three daughters not only do all of the general house work but they have also canned 550 quarts of food for the family and assisted the three married sons and the tenants on the farm in their canning.

Miss Lois Marsh, home demonstration agent in Rowan county, says that each of the three tenants on the Beaver farm is given a garden, and that they are supplied with peaches from the family orchard. Mrs. Beaver directs the canning of both fruit and vegetables and everyone on the farm has a bountiful supply of food for the winter months.

Mrs. Beaver supplies the tenants with insecticides and equipment for the gardens and they in turn help her with the family garden.

This year 12 acres of beans were produced and marketed from the farm as a cash crop.

"Mrs. Beaver really lives up to her name," says Miss Marsh. "Some days you will find her at the Mount Ulla cannery with her sons and daughters. On other days she is there with the Negro tenants, helping them."

"She now has her washing machine in a shed next to the milk house, but she is planning to build and equip a real laundry room this fall. She is a real beaver for work and an exceptional individual in her community."

staple will be determined and also the lint percentage and other factors. Spinning tests are planned on some of the cottons.

Each farmer has been provided with a special book in which he can keep detailed records of all of his costs in producing the crop. Shanklin asks that records for all crops be submitted because he is just as anxious to obtain information on the low-yielding plots as on those with exceptionally high yields.

Last year George Blanton of Rutherford county won first prize with a production of 14 bales on 5 acres at a cost of 8 cents per pound. His costs were as follows: labor, $382.11; fertilizer, $88.40; and land rent, seed, seed treatment, and ginning, $188.90.

He cleared $1,442.82 on the

Don't Cut Alfalfa Too Late in Season

Alfalfa should be allowed to go into winter quarters with about six inches of growth, so as to protect it against severe winter weather and loss of stand.

It is difficult to give an exact date as to when the last cutting should be made, and every farmer will have to determine this point for himself. Agronomists of the extension service at State college say that under no condition should the crop be cut later than the last week in September, and under some conditions this is a dangerous procedure, dure.

The alfalfa plants need to produce relatively good growth after the last cutting and to store up plenty of food to carry the crop through the winter months in good condition, without the plants being weakened by the cold. No one can tell what the rainfall will be during the fall and just how soon the first frost will come.

The same principle applies to the seeding of alfalfa. It should be sown as quickly as possible now in the Piedmont and eastern sections of the State, according to the agronomists.

The plants should be allowed to establish a good root system before cold weather begins. A Wake county farmer seeded some alfalfa about the first of September and another plot about the middle of October. The late-seeded alfalfa came up to a better stand than that which was sown early and he decided that maybe the agronomists had made a mistake in advocating early seeding.

The next spring he changed his mind. The early-sown crop established a relatively good stand while the late-sown crop died out during the winter, and he had more weeds and grass than alfalfa.

Five acres, or an average of $288.56 per acre. He sold his cotton for 24 cents a pound.

Haiti's monetary unit is the gourde, which has a fixed value of five to $1.00 in U. S. money.

DAVIE CALF IS GETTING "PERMANENT" FOR SHOW TO BE HELD HERE SEPT. 17

Women may know a lot about a hair-do but when it comes to giving a "beauty parlor" treatment to a calf it takes the menfolks. Johnny Sparks, a former 4-H club member, is seen above showing his sister, Betty, how to clip a calf in proper style for the Davie county 4-H Calf Show which will be held at the Masonic picnic grounds here at 11:30 a.m. on Tuesday, September 17.

Local merchants are offering cash and merchandise prizes to be given the ten boys and girls who exhibit their animals. After the local show, the animals will be taken to Shelby to compete in the Piedmont Dairy Show on September 18.

Those who will exhibit calves include Jean Proctor, Katherine Neely, Betty L. Sparks, R. C. Dyson, Jr., C. A. Bailey, Harold Boger, Sam Furches, Henry Lee Shore, Bayne Miller and Bonson Hobson.

MEAT-STARVED FISHERMEN EAT 62 BREAM AND WIND UP ON SARDINES

Seven well-satisfied and broadly beaming local businessmen returned this week with their sides aching from laughter and their tummies well filled from a few days' fishing trip to beautiful and massive Fontana Dam, in western North Carolina near the Tennessee line.

W. M. Pennington, M. H. Murray, J. K. Sheek, George Shutt, George Hendricks, J. H. Thompson and Harley Crews all testified that, according to the old adage, "a good time was had by all".

Some of the best fishing in the entire state can be had at Fontana, say the experts, and the accommodations for tourists are the very best and most comfortable that these times permit. Cabins furnished complete with refrigerators and all the comforts of home are commonplace at Fontana. The cabins, formerly used by the employees who built the dam, are now available to the public.

The successful Izaak Walton were Messrs. Hendricks and Crews, who caught 62 bream between them.

The 62 bream were consumed at one massive stroke by all seven people, with Mr. Thompson devouring his allotment in addition to all the sardines which Mr. Hendricks carried along in case of just such an emergency.

En route to Fontana, a delicious lunch was enjoyed at Canton, it was reported.

Mayor W. M. Pennington also met the mayor of Welch Cove, townsite of Fontana Dam. Each with a leg hoisted up on a stump in the manner of a pair of horse traders, they held a spirited discussion to decide who actually owned the dam.

One of the party reported that the crossing of small streams in the night was very treacherous due to the slippery condition of rocks and other perils.

All the members of the party asserted emphatically that a better vacation cannot be had anywhere than Fontana.

Town Board Votes To Aid Free Mail

In a special meeting last Saturday, members of the town board voted to name and number streets of Mocksville and fix suitable sidewalks to permit the establishment of free mail delivery.

The request came from the U. S. postoffice department as a preliminary to the installation of the service, following a survey made by an inspector of the department who reported that the town was entitled to such free delivery.

MORE BOYS DISCHARGED

The following 13 discharges were filed last week in the office of Register of Deeds C. R. Vogler:

Army: T-5 James F. Keller, Winston-Salem; Pfc. Lester J. Keller, City; Sgt. Hugh F. Wagner, Rt. 4; Pfc. Joseph R. Brown, Winston-Salem; Pvt. Edward A. Peacock, Winston-Salem; S-Sgt. Rufus Diggins, City; Cpl. William L. Wofford, Cooleemee; Pfc. John L. Bowles, Rt. 2; Pvt. Dewey W. Ratledge, Rt. 1; and T-4 James C. Taylor, City.

Navy: Clarence W. Head, S 2-c, Cooleemee; Woodrow W. Correll, S 1-c, Salisbury; and Ronald E. Beane, Cox, Rt. 3.

Foreign Veterans Plan Building

At a meeting last Friday night the local Post of Veterans of Foreign Wars discussed a building site for the proposed new clubhouse and appointed a building and plans committee composed of J. P. Purvis, chairman; W. J. Moody, secretary; C. F. Meroney, Jr., treasurer; Sant L. Hopkins and Robert L. Evans.

Each member of the organization will be asked to contribute at least $15 and the general public will be given an opportunity to contribute, it is stated. A collection committee was named, composed of Jack Sanford, Duke Tutterow, J. D. Purvis, W. B. LeGrand, Eustace Barnhardt, Marvin Ridenhour, William T. Barneycastle, George Frank Mock, Gilmer Livengood, C. F. Meroney, F. R. Leagans, Wilburn West, J. K. Sheek, Dr. G. V. Greene, Buddie Woodruff, W. J. Moody and George Mason.

A report by the adjutant, C. F. Meroney, showed membership to be 357 and cash on hand $519.52. F. R. Leagans, commander, presided at the meeting.

ORPHANAGE GETS $5,000 CHECK

The Oxford Orphanage received a check for $5,000 from the 67th Annual Masonic picnic, the picnic clearing more than $6,000, the official report of Knox Johnstone, manager, shows.

The report, submitted to the Masonic lodge last week, showed details of receipts and expenditures. A committee from the lodge was appointed to make some improvements on the grounds, particularly at the northern end where some of the ground will be leveled to give more room for concessions and accommodate the crowd better.

The sale of gate tickets showed that 11,452 paid 10-cent admissions to enter the gate on picnic day, the largest crowd in the history of the picnic. The largest single source of revenue was from the sale of refreshments.

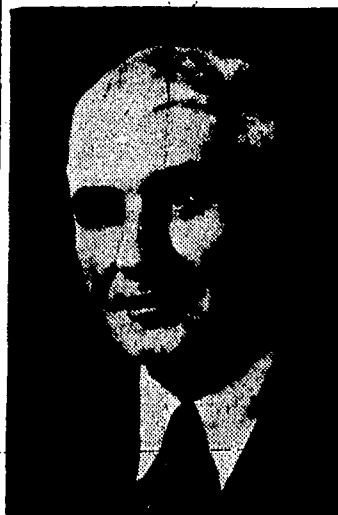

Details of the report follow.

SMOOT REELECTED HEAD OF R.E.A.

C. C. Smoot of Route 4 was reelected president of the board of directors of the Davie Electric Membership corporation at the annual meeting of the members last Saturday. It was announced this week.

Other officers, all re-elected, were: R. L. Shumaker, Rt. 3, Statesville, vice-president; T. A. Blackwelder, Rt. 2, secretary; J. S. Dobson, Rt. 2, Statesville, treasurer; and directors including R. L. Seaford, Rt. 3; I. G. Roberts, Rt. 2; W. B. Renegar, Rt. 2, Harmony; Thomas N. Crawford, Rt. 4, Statesville, and W. F. Barnes, Rt. 1, Salisbury.

Other business transacted at the meeting included a hearing of the treasurer's report. In addition, by a vote of 1,162-9, corporation members passed a resolution authorizing the board of directors on behalf of the corporation to borrow from the federal government additional sums not to exceed $5,000,000. Previously, the board had been authorized to borrow $1,500,000 and had actually borrowed $1,478,000.

The increase will enable the corporation to extend its lines to some 2,000 rural area residents.

Return From Boys' State

Jack Pennington and Ralph Bowden, Mocksville's two delegates to Tar Heel Boys State at Chapel Hill, returned this week with heads and notebooks bulging with important information about citizenship, government, and allied topics, after a week's training in county, state and federal governmental procedure. This was the sixth session of Boys State and the first since 1943, when war interrupted normal proceedings.

Jack was sent to Chapel Hill under the sponsorship of the local American Legion post and Ralph was sent by the Rotary club.

The boys were enthusiastic in their praise of the program and all it accomplishes. They spent most of their time hearing hour-long lectures on vital subjects. Kay Kyser discussed the planned state health-improvement programs, and cited once again the poor health conditions in North Carolina.

The 113 boys who made up the entire delegation seemed to observers to deviate from the normal youth of today, usually thought of in terms of jitterbugging and similar nonsense, it was reported.

HERE & THERE

COMING HOME

T-Sgt. James D. McDonald, who was scheduled to leave Southern Korea for home on August 20, has notified his parents that he was still waiting on September 1 for transportation. Sgt. McDonald has been serving in Southern Korea for the past eleven months and for the past six months has been stationed at military government headquarters in Seoul, serving as chief clerk in the office of the civil administration.

CARNIVAL

The Mocksville post of the American legion is sponsoring an outdoor traveling carnival all next week on the old C.C.C. grounds in Mocksville. There will be 20 attractions, including eight rides. On Saturday afternoon, September 21, from 1 to 5 p.m., there will be a free matinee for the kids.

LAIRD-LOYD REUNION

The fifth annual reunion of the Laird-Lloyd family will be the fifth Sunday, September 29, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Foster of the Turkey Foot community. All members and friends of the family are invited to come and bring well-filled baskets. A program is being planned for the event.

CERTIFICATES READY

Reading Club certificates are being prepared for distribution at the library, states Mrs. J. Frank Clement, librarian. All of those who have read the required twelve books are urged to bring them in your reading report quick and become a library booster sponsor.

MONEY ORDER FORGER

Local citizens are asked to beware of a money order raiser operating in this section of the state who generally raises the orders from $3 to $30 or $33. The postoffice department has sent a warning to the local office.

EMPLOYMENT OF MINORS

Mrs. Lucile Donnelly, welfare department superintendent, reports that Mrs. Payne of Salisbury, investigator of the state department of labor, has recently been in Davie checking up on employment of minors. She points out that those 14-16 years may be employed only two hours daily, and not after 6 p.m., while school is in session, and 8 hours otherwise. Those 16-18 years may be employed 9 hours daily or 48 hours weekly. Permits for employment of minors are issued from the office of Mrs. Donnelly.

UNNRA COLLECTIONS

George Rowland, treasurer, reports that so far he has received $145.37 in donations for the emergency clothing collection. A full report is not yet available.

STORY HOUR

The story hour for children will begin Wednesday morning, September 18, in the Cooleemee Library. The hours will be from nine till eleven. All children age three to six are invited.

New Telephone Board Is Now In Operation

The new switchboard of the local telephone system, which doubles the capacity of the old one, was installed last Sunday night about 10:30 p. m. Two operators will be used during the peak load instead of one formerly.

It will be some little time, however, before local citizens notice a great improvement in service, according to W. S. Beddingfield, manager of this area, because operators must acquaint themselves with the new board. Mr. Beddingfield added that Mocksville has equipment second to none in the system.

The new board has 800 lines. During the last two months 26 new telephones have been installed in Mocksville and just as soon as new phones are available the remainder of the applications for phones will be filled, Mr. Beddingfield said.

Local Methodist Church Membership is 429

The fourth quarterly conference of the Mocksville Methodist church held last Sunday revealed a membership of 429 in the church, with 80 members classified as inactive, and 31 new members added to the rolls up until last Sunday, a week before the church year ends.

Of the 31 new members, 15 were added by vows and 16 by letter. The rolls showed a net gain in membership of only 12, however, since some members have moved away and six deaths occurred during the year.

P. J. Johnson, general superintendent of the church school, did not cite figures for that department's increase, since its year does not end until the last of this month, but it was said that there was an appreciable rise. At the same time, Mr. Johnson was elected to succeed himself in the office.

A written report on church finances was not given by Miss Martha Call, the treasurer, but she announced that the finances were being brought up to date before the annual Methodist conference at Asheville in October. H. S. Walker was elected as delegate to the conference and Curtis Price was slated as reserve delegate.

Dr. C. E. Rozelle, district Methodist superintendent, was present at the conference, and urged that a value of $40,000 be placed on the church and grounds, an increase over last year's figure of $30,000. No action has been taken on that matter as yet.

As previously announced, Dr. J. E. Pritchard, Methodist pastor, will retire in October, since it is expected that the annual conference will grant his request. Dr. Pritchard is ending 35 years of service in the ministry and has been in Mocksville two years.

P-T. A. BOARD

The P-T. A. Board of the Cooleemee school will meet at the school auditorium tonight (Thursday) to make plans for the work during the coming year.

Pointing out the possibility of World War 3 within 5 to 10 years which would wipe out the human race, Dr. Eugene Pfaff, professor of history at Woman's College, Greensboro, told local Rotarians at their Tuesday meeting of five ways in which destruction might be avoided in the little time left. He also asserted that a world government with full central powers such as prevail between the state and federal government in this country was a logical outcome of the times, if the world would save itself.

Stating that too many people were pessimistic about the future of the world and inclined to let matters drift, the speaker said such an attitude was not in the American tradition and that peace was like marriage: it must be worked at each day to make it a success.

An informed public opinion of the average citizen of the condition of the world and the perils it holds today was declared to be essential to a solution of problems in the age which produced atom bombs, jet propulsion, bombs in aeroplanes without fliers.

The five means of getting peace were given as follows:

1. Adoption of the Baruch plan for control of the atom bomb.
2. Elimination of the veto power of the United Nations by which five powers — United States, Russia, Great Britain, China and France—are outside the law while the other members are not. The speaker said the veto clause was inserted at San Francisco because of the contention of representatives of this country that only in this form could the measure pass the U. S. Senate.
3. Laws which prosecute any individual in any country for illegal production of bombs, without involving an entire nation as is the present case.
4. International police power to enforce the new laws.
5. International laws written by the general assembly which would bind all members.

The speaker characterized the United Nations organization today as mostly a debating society without "teeth" to enforce decisions. However, the organization was termed a stepping stone towards a world government and said it would not be sensible to scrap it.

Dr. Pfaff said some people were predicting war with Russia within a year but his opinion leaned to that of experts, who say the world has five to ten years ahead without hostilities because Russia does not have the atom bomb perfected.

He also pointed out that one million dollar bomb could destroy two billions in property, to say nothing of lives, and that General Arnold had stated that the bomb was the cheapest war weapon ever devised.

The speaker also said that in an atom war a small nation was as dangerous as a large one because of the bomb; that size of a country and resources would mean little if it were first laid waste by the bombs.

How To Plant An Oat Demonstration Plot

County agents of the State College Extension Service plan to arrange oat and wheat demonstrations along the same lines followed in producing extra yields of corn.

Many farmers may also wish to conduct a demonstration of their own and it is suggested that the demonstration be on oats since average yields of this crop are much lower than they should be in most areas.

Follow the regular plan of growing oats on one plot as to time of planting, seeding, soil preparation, fertilization, and the like. Then, on the other plot, follow the suggestions given below.

Disc the soil 4-6 weeks before seeding. Disc, smooth, and firm the soil just prior to seeding. Use high germinating seed and treat with one-half ounce of New Improved Ceresan per bushel, using one of the varieties recommended by your county agent.

Seed at the rate of 2 bushels per acre: in the Piedmont, October 1 to 10; Coastal Plain, October 10 to 20; and Mountains, September 20 to October 10, or March 15 to April 15.

If the oats do not follow a well fertilized crop, use 300 pounds of good fertilizer per acre. Drill the crop parallel to that used as a check.

Topdress with 200 pounds of quick acting nitrogen material per acre between February 20 and March 10. Use a grain drill for applying the topdressing to give uniform application.

Follow all regular plans on the check plot, which may vary in a large number of ways. The idea is not to check on any one factor in small grain production but to learn how to produce more oats per acre.

BRITISH SEARCH JEWISH NURSERY

WHEN THE BRITISH staged a dawn raid on the Jewish seaside settlement of S'Doth Yam, in Palestine, seeking "frogmen" and mines of the type used to blow up the British transport Empire Rival, they left no spot unsearched, even tapping the floor of this nursery. British authorities say the village was used for landing illegal immigrants.

Poor Picking Brings Heavy Cotton Losses

About 86,000 bales of cotton from last year's crop in North Carolina were damaged through rough preparation and this meant large losses to the farmer, in some cases $10 a bale.

The losses may be still heavier this year because of the greater differential in grades.

Agricultural engineers of the Extension Service at State College say that there are six principal points to remember in preventing this damage from a harvesting standpoint. 1. Pick cotton as dry as possible. 2. Keep out trash. 3. Pick the crop before weather damage occurs. 4. Keep good cotton separate from the damaged cotton. 5. Don't carry cotton to the gin unless it is dry and in good condition. 6. Don't ask the ginner to speed up the ginning of your cotton or to gin it too closely.

North Carolina ginner have installed more than $400,000 worth of new equipment this year, besides their major repairs and improvements on equipment in place. The ginner are anxious to do a good job of ginning on every bale and prevent rough preparation in so far as possible, but regardless how good their equipment is, they cannot gin cotton properly that is not in the best of condition when brought to the gin.

Will North Carolina cotton growers lose a million dollars this year because of rough preparation of the crop? Only time can tell. As the engineers say, pick it dry, keep out the trash, and carry it to the gin in good condition for ginning.

PRODUCTION AND PROSPERITY

Production and prosperity go together. We cannot have one without the other. Without attempting to place the blame, we can at least take stock of the long period of strikes, in which production almost stopped. Wage increases have been almost cancelled by rise in prices, and the lack of production has lowered the amount of money in circulation. When no goods are being produced many are thrown out of work, and the flow of money is slackened. Lack of production also lowers profits, and makes it difficult for employers to pay high wages — and sometimes there is nothing at all with which to pay wages. Not only workers and employers are suffering the effects of curtailed production, but the general public is going without necessities, and those who have saved some money will not hold their savings very long. We are now feeling the effects of inflation and we are only at the beginning of it. Wise men, in every rank, will think twice before stopping production once. Those who refuse to produce are cutting off their own source of supply. In time, they are bound to feel the effects of it.

BLACK MARKETS

With the return of price control we may expect black markets to flourish again. Black market is a most appropriate name for those who buy and sell through unauthorized channels, and thus deprive those who most need food and clothing of the opportunity or ability to buy them. The buyer is just as guilty as the seller, since if there were no buyers there would be no sellers. Both are willing to place their own lusts and appetites ahead of the hunger and needs of other people. Black markets can only be born in minds and hearts which are themselves dark and corroding. Black markets are outward signs of inner traits of character which are like colored.

B. Smith, all of Cooleemee; Mrs. Stella McClamrock, Mocksville, Route 2, and Mrs. J. G. Wooten, Asheville; five sons, Lee and Ramon Phelps, both of Mocksville, Route 4; G. W. Phelps, Gold Hill, Route 2;

Arthur Phelps, Cleveland, Route 1, and Conrad Phelps, Cooleemee; 52 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren.

Funeral was held at Liberty Methodist Church Monday afternoon with Rev. G. L. Royster, pastor, assisted by Rev. H. C. Freeman, in charge. Burial was in church graveyard.

Teachers Meeting Be Held Next Week

Plans were being made this week for the school year's first county-wide teacher's meeting slated for Sept. 18 at Mocksville High School, when a health-physical education work conference will be held with all teachers and principals of Davie schools.

Miss Wanda Woosley And A. A. Holleman, Jr. Speak Vows

Miss Wanda Lee Woosley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Clinton Woosley of Country Club road, became the bride of Arthur Alonzo Holleman, Jr., in a ceremony performed at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Pine Grove Methodist church. The Rev. Byron Nifong, cousin of the bride, Denton, officiated. Mr. Holleman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Holleman of Kinston, former residents of Davie county. Before entering the service Mr. Holleman was a student at State college. He spent 30 months in service, 20 months as a naval plane operator off South America. He is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Bahnson of Farmington and spent his early life in Davie county. Following the trip Mr. and Mrs. Holleman will make their home in Brevard, where he will continue his studies at Brevard college.

Mrs. Moody Heads Ladies' Auxiliary

The local ladies' Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, elected Mrs. Mary Alice Moody president in a business session held last Friday night. Mrs. Moody replaces Mrs. Germaine Wellman, who resigned.

The auxiliary also formulated plans to sell "Buddy Popples" on Armistice Day, November 11. Since Armistice Day comes on Sunday the Popples will be sold on Saturday, the 10th.

Plans were also discussed concerning sponsoring an essay contest in the high schools of the county.

The auxiliary which limits its membership to mothers, sisters, daughters, wives and widows of veterans who have had overseas service during war times, is also planning a membership campaign.

Mays-Phelps Marriage

Rosa Mae Phelps and Harold Mays were married last Monday evening by Fred R. Leagans, local magistrate. The bride is the daughter of the late Frank Phelps and Mrs. Alice Phelps and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mays, all of Cooleemee.

Mrs. Kurfees Is Stricken

Mrs. Mamie V. Kurfees, 79, of Jetersville, Va., died at the old Holman home place at Mocksville, Wednesday at 1:50 p.m. She had been in declining health for several years and seriously ill since August 30 of this year. She was here on a visit.

Mrs. Kurfees was born at Farmington, Davie county, September 4, 1867, the daughter of H. C. and Sarah Elizabeth Ward Holman, and lived there for seven years. Later she lived in Surry county for seven years, and in Yadkin county for five years. In Yadkin she married Charlie F. Kurfees, went to Rockford for 18 years, and then to Amelia county, Va., where she was living at the time of her death.

Survivors are two sons, Lloyd E. Kurfees of Los Angeles, Calif., and Dr. E. R. Kurfees of Jetersville, Va.; three sisters, Mrs. Maude Gailther of Mocksville, Route 2; Mrs. R. B. Early of Winston-Salem, Route 4; Mrs. A. L. Bolck of Newton, Route 2; four brothers, E. P. Holman of Walters, Okla.; H. C. and P. A. of Marshalltown, Iowa, and G. B. Holman of Mocksville, Route 2; two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held Saturday at Center Methodist church with Rev. G. W. Fink in charge. Burial was in the church cemetery.

NEW YORK GOP GETS READY FOR NOMINATIONS

SEATS BEGIN TO FILL as delegates to the Republican State Convention meeting in Saratoga Convention Hall, New York, gather for the start of the first session. Nomination of Assembly Majority Leader Irving M. Ives for the post of U. S. Senator is strongly backed by Gov. Dewey's strongly built organization although the forces of Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan continue a last ditch stand.

In 1918, the military forces of the allies consumed about 39,000 barrels of gasoline a day. In World War II, the total was 800,000 a day.

Which reminds us that an eminent doctor says that man does his best work at fifty. We'll bet he's the same guy who ten years ago contended they do it at forty.

DYING CHILD'S WISH IS GRANTED

TO MAKE HAPPIER the last days of a child, dying of brain tumor, the Army ordered home from a Tacoma, Wash., camp Sgt. Ralph Henderson. And here he sits by the bedside of his 7-year-old daughter, Nancy, in Burlington, Vt. Nancy had asked two last favors of life: that she get the doll shown with her and that her soldier daddy, who had been ordered abroad, would be with her.

"What Does The Job Pay?"

What does the job pay? Yes, that is an important question in this day when living costs are high and wages do not keep in pace with the rise. And with this question in mind let's look at the man in the army as compared to the civilian worker.

Let us compare the pay of a soldier with that of the average civilian worker. Department of labor figures show that the average annual wage during 1945 in American manufacturing industries was $2,300. That's about $191 a month. But an army private with his $75 cash base pay actually will have more money left at the end of a month than the civilian.

Let's look at the comparative figures and see what the record shows:

	Expenses	Civilian Army	Worker Private
Lodging	$30.00	$0.00
Meals	50.00	00.00
Clothes	15.00	00.00
Medical and
Dental Care	5.00	00.00
Insurance	10.00	6.50
Income Tax	22.00	00.00
Transportation	6.00	00.00
Laundry, smokes,
barber	15.00	10.00
Incidentals	10.00	10.00

Out of his $191 pay the civilian has $28 remaining. The army private has $48.50 left over from his $75.00 pay envelope.

What does it pay? Just check the figures and see how you stand in relation to the men in the New Regular Army.

Small Boy: Say, Mister, was you ever a little boy?
Grocer: Why certainly.
Small Boy: And did you ever visit the woodshed with your Pop?

Grocer (sympathetically): Yes, yes, lad, I know.

Small Boy: And after your Pop had finished tannin' you, did you ever make a vow that if you ever had the chance, you'd do all you could to stop such injustice to little boys?

Grocer (reaching for his handkerchief): Yes, lad, I did, I did, many a time.

Small Boy: Well, I want five pounds of sugar, and I've lost the money.

Much Stored Grain
Is Lost to Insects

About 2,500,000 bushels of corn and about 600,000 bushels of wheat, oats, and barley are lost every year in North Carolina to insects which attack the stored grain, and James T. Conner, Jr., extension entomologist at State college, says that these losses can be largely prevented through proper fumigation of the grains.

More or less air-tight bins and barns are needed for fumigation and this means that North Carolina needs more good granaries.

Conner says that prompt harvesting of the corn crop will greatly reduce the possibility of infestation in the field. He suggests that all infested grain be removed from storage places and that the walls, floors and ceilings be sprayed with a 5 per cent DDT mixture.

If the grain has been infested in the field, it should be fumigated at time of storage with methyl bromide, chloropierin, carbon disulfide, or ethylene dichloride. If the grain becomes infested during storage, it should be immediately fumigated with any one of these four materials.

Some farmers have asked about the advisability of using DDT dust along with the grain when it is stored. This is all right, according to Conner, if the grain is to be used for seed purposes only. No DDT dust should be mixed with grain that is to be used for animal food.

He recommends either 3 per cent or 5 per cent DDT dust in the treatment of seed grain at storage time. The rate is ½ ounce per bushel and it should be thoroughly mixed with the seed.

More than 90 per cent of the people of Haiti are of pure African descent.

NEWS OF FARM CONSERVATION

By G. W. McCLELLAN

The Foster brothers at County Line have been using terraces as an erosion control practice for several years. They like them as they have around seven or eight miles. They recently had some more made and the old ones widened out.

Frank Godley near County Line did a good job leaving gullies filled up and building terraces on some hilly depleted land. This will be a good foundation for soil building work on this land.

Sam Koontz and son David Wilson near County Line also had some good terraces made on some land that was needing it badly.

R. S. Cornatzer near Bixby finds supplementary grazing very profitable. He has already seeded a grain mixture and crimson clover. Mr. Cornatzer spent around $175 getting terraces on a new farm he bought recently and thinks this is money well spent which is correct. Mr. Cornatzer recently completed putting out a carload of lime and is planning to have a modern fish pond built.

W. R. Kester and Cicero Bailey near Advance recently seeded four acres of alfalfa on land that was too poor two years ago to make profitable crops. Of course they have given it good treatment in the mean time.

M. S. Cline near Bear Creek Church is getting ready to sow a patch of alfalfa. This will be a trial sowing. If he likes it he will sow more later.

John James, colored farmer, near Center is making preparations to sow himself a patch of alfalfa.

E. W. Harper near Roberts store is getting ready to sow an acre of alfalfa. Mr. Harper only has fifteen acres of land and can grow most of his hay his livestock will need on less than two acres of alfalfa.

All of the above farmers are taking advantage of the service offered by the Soil Conservation Service in co-operation with the Middle Yadkin district.

THE SHAPE OF THINGS TO COME

BEAUTY QUEEN Bess Myerson, the "Miss America of 1945" reveals "what it takes" to a quartet of pretty aspirants for the 1946 title, soon to be announced at Atlantic City, N. J. Sizing up the previous winner are Rebecca Jane McCall, "Miss Arkansas"; Ruth Lentest, "Miss Michigan"; Raye Donnelly, "Miss Colorado," and Armelia Carol Ohmart, "Miss Utah," who were among the first arrivals.

Grazing Crops Give Cheapest Hog Feed

Hogs can be grazed for 12 months in the year in Eastern Carolina and for 10 months in Western Carolina.

Green feed acts as tonic. It encourages health and thrift in pigs. It saves 15 percent of the grain required in growing out hogs. It saves 30 percent of the protein feed. It increases the milk flow of sows. Grazing provides exercise for the animals, which is very valuable. Less labor is required in handling the hogs, since they harvest their own food. Grazing reduces the time required to produce market hogs.

Jack Kelley, Extension swine specialist at State College, recommends temporary pastures for sows and pigs; permanent pastures for dry sows and boars.

Good pasture doesn't just happen. The right crops must be seeded at the right time on well fertilized land. The question naturally arises as to what crops should be seeded at this time for grazing the coming crop of pigs. Kelley makes these suggestions. Any time during the next two months, seed 30 pounds of rye grass per acre. Another suggestion is a combination of 1 bushel of rye, 2 bushels of oats, and 2 bushels of barley per acre, seeded about the first of September. Still another suggestion for this period is 30 pounds of rye grass and 15 pounds of crimson clover. This is rather heavy seeding, but a good sod is required. These grazing crops are also valuable for other livestock.

The agronomists suggest 400 pounds of high grade fertilizer per acre at seeding and then a topdressing of nitrogen just as the chop begin to grow. This provides for extra fall grazing. Repeated tests show that the crops need to be seeded early. Write the Agricultural Editor, State College, Raleigh, for Folder 67.

Onslow County farmers had 400 head of livestock vaccinated against blind staggers. The loss of one mule was recently reported by a farmer who did not have his animals treated.

MORE ABOUT Rotary Speaker

the speaker had talked had told him of their fear of the bomb and the necessity of its control by the world.

Dr. Pfaff said this country and Russia were mutually afraid of each other. America fears Russia because of her larger size geographically, her 50 million more people than ours and increasing birth rate, her dictatorship with the country run by 14 men headed by Stalin, who can move the people in any direction quickly, and her natural resources in excess of ours. The Russian people have been taught for years to believe that the rest of the world is against them, he said.

Russia fears this country because of past experience when she has seen her country invaded by western powers, the fact that we are retaining Pacific bases, occupation troops in Asia and Europe, our industrial strength, possession of the bomb and opposition to their type of government.

As a historian, the speaker cited the development in government of the human race for several thousand years from the family, to tribe, to state, to nation and now to 70 nations. Likewise he cited the development of government in this country from a loose federation of 13 states for about 10 years without any central government and finally the united country after much trial and jealousy between the states.

He pictured the world today as about in the stage of the federation and expressed his hope that the world would win the race between destruction from another war and establishment of a world government.

Public opinion, the speaker said, would be the determining factor in the race between war and peace, saying that this country had the experts to draw the plans but that only the common people of the country could assure the peace by telling the experts what they wanted. Russia, he continued, was handicapped by the fact that the people, while wanting peace, knew little of the outside world because of the censorship of press and radio.

E. W. Junker was in charge of the program and presented Dr. Pfaff.

Guests included Dr. R. P. Anderson, Bill Harden of Salisbury, Ted Junker, Dave Rankin presided in the absence of President Pennington and the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church served a bountiful and excellently-cooked fried chicken dinner with peaches and cake for dessert.

W. H. Cheshire Died Sunday

W. H. Cheshire, 70, died last Sunday morning at his home after a brief illness.

Mr. Cheshire, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cheshire, came to Mocksville about 40 years ago and resided here since.

He was connected with the Hanes Chair and Table Company during the entire period.

He was a member of the Mocksville Junior Order and the Baptist Church.

Mr. Cheshire is survived by his wife, Mrs. Della Shoemaker Cheshire, of Mocksville; three daughters, Mrs. C. B. Lagle, of Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. C. L. Stewart, Windsor, Pa.; and Mrs. J. S. Landreth, Thorpe, W. Va.; two sons, R. B. Cheshire, Oakland, Calif., and Rev. A. C. Cheshire, Statesville; one sister, Mrs. W. W. Summers, Mocksville; 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral was held at the First Methodist Church Tuesday. Rev. J. P. Davis and Rev. E. W. Turner were in charge. Burial was in Union Chapel Cemetery.

TURKEY FOOT

A son, Lawrence Roy, was born to Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Anderson, Jr., on September 7.

J. A. Helper is on the sick list. Miss Dot Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Foster, is returning to High Point college this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Houston Anderson and daughter, Mary Jean, of Statesville visited Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Anderson Sunday.

Billy Miller and Zoro Foster visited the former's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Miller, of Richmond Hill Sunday.

Mrs. Ralph Bumgarner of Seagrove visited in this community Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Foster, Sam Wright, and Misses Dot Foster and Margaret Ann Renegar visited Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Carter of the Clarksburg community Sunday evening.

Helping Vets File For Furlough Pay

During last month the local service officer, F. R. Leagans, gave help to 249 veterans and their dependants. In addition, the officer is now busy filing claims for furlough pay of veterans.

When veterans file they are asked to bring a certified or photostatic copy of their discharge with them. The service office will be open each Monday evening from 7-9 p. m., to help those who cannot come during regular hours.

Four new businesses have been approved for training on the job: Cooleemee Cafe and Market, Cooleemee Service Station, R. L. Foster store and Davie Shoe Shop.

"You live on a farm and don't drink milk?"

"Nope—we hardly got enough for the hogs."

County Agents Are On Trip

County Agent George Hobson and Assistant W. M. Kimrey will be Davie's representatives as agents from 20 counties in the southwestern district of the state who started on a four-day trip to Washington and nearby Beltsville experiment station this week.

The agents left by chartered bus Tuesday morning and are due back Saturday. The first day in the tour of the experiment station will be spent in investigating the work being done at the livestock research center. This will include a review of the experiments in producing hybrid hogs and cattle.

The second day will be spent in viewing the field crops. Much experimentation in hybridization has also been done in this field at the government station.

The North Carolina group will be led by Dean Schaub, head of the state extension service.

DAVIE 4-H CLUB BOYS ARE RAISING SOME FINE TOBACCO

Leslie Blackwelder, of the Mocksville 4-H club, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Blackwelder, Route 2, is seen in a field of 402 tobacco. This field received 1,000 pounds of 3-9-6 fertilizer. There are 14 other 4-H club members in the county who are carrying tobacco projects. These 14 boys are growing a total of 15 acres.

PULLET AUCTION HERE WEDNESDAY

One hundred twenty choice Parmenter Red pullets, grown by Davie 4-H club boys and girls, will be auctioned off to the highest bidder next Wednesday, September 25, at the Mocksville school gymnasium, at 3 p.m., the county agent's office announced today.

These pullets, which are laying, were grown by ten boys and girls who each received 100 chicks of the best quality that money could buy last spring. The pullets are being returned as payment for the chicks they received, and the money received from the sale will be used to buy chicks for new club members next spring.

The Parmenter Red is a selection or strain of poultry related to the New Hampshire Reds, but they are better layers than the New Hampshires. This is an excellent opportunity for the public to buy a dozen or more laying pullets for a backyard flock to furnish a supply of fresh eggs for home use. With eggs selling from 60 to 70 cents per dozen, these pullets will pay for themselves in a short time. The public is invited to attend the sale and buy at auction.

Glenna Collette In Dress Revue

Miss Glenna Collette will represent Davie county 4-H club girls in the dress revue in Winston-Salem Wednesday, September 25, where she will compete with representatives of eighteen counties in the northwestern district.

Glenna's outfit is a remodeled coat of black broadcloth, with red lining. Her dress is of black wool plaid, with bias trimmings, and ornamented with a red monogram. She made her hat and bag of red cord. The complete cost of her outfit is $10.77.

Glenna was chosen county winner not only because of her attractive, well chosen and constructed outfit, but because of her outstanding clothing record for the year. According to her records, she made 8 garments for herself, at a saving of $58.52, and earned $40.50 sewing for other people, making her clothing project for the year total her $97.02.

New Deacons Named At Baptist Church

C. S. Anderson, George Hobson and G. R. Madson were elected deacons of the local Baptist church last Sunday morning. They will serve for three years. The board of deacons consists of 12 men. Under the rotating plan, every three years three members will retire. The rotating plan, however, does not apply to three life members, W. B. Angell, T. I. Caudell and L. G. Horn.

On October 1, 1947, T. J. Caudell, C. R. Horn and T. M. Hendrix will retire and at the same time in 1948 S. B. Hall, J. H. Markham and W. J. Wall will retire.

Plans were also made for a 10-week expansion program, beginning the first Sunday in October. In preparation for the program a series of preliminary meetings will be held. On the evening of September 23 deacons and trustees will meet at the home of the pastor, Rev. J. P. Davis; on Wednesday evening, September 25, officers and teachers will meet at the church; on Thursday evening, September 26, there will be a children's and young people's rally at the church; on Friday evening, September 27, there will be a men's meeting with a meal being served and speakers.

Kappa Club Starts Building Fund Drive

The Kappa Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon at the community building. Miss Florence Mackie discussed "Shoes and Feet". She pointed out that foot troubles may begin early in life due to the improper fitting of shoes and that individuals should study the shape and proportions of their feet in order to know when a shoe fits.

The treasurer reported that a sum of $25.00 has been donated to the Community Building Repair and Paint Fund. Plans were made for a house to house canvass of the entire South Calahain township so that every family might have the opportunity of contributing to this cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cartner, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Koontz Jr.,

Girl Scouts Have Meeting

The first meeting of the year was held last Tuesday night by the local Girl Scout troop, and projects were planned for the coming year.

In addition, reports were heard from Edwina Long, Dorothy Morris, Peggy Daniel, and Jane Click, who were away at Girl Scout summer camps.

The year's troop council members are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, Mrs. Joe Graham, Mrs. Pierce Foster and Mrs. J. K. Sheek. Leaders of the group are Misses Elva Grace Avett and Jane McGuire.

One quart of milk is required for a pound of evaporated milk.

A. R. TOMLINSON

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN DIES

Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon at the Methodist church for Adolphus Robert Tomlinson, 78, widely known resident of Mocksville, who died Thursday after an illness of several months.

Mr. Tomlinson was a native of Iredell county, born there in the River Hill community on April 6, 1868. He was a son of the late Humphrey and Elizabeth Tomlinson, and came to Davie many years ago.

From 1926 until about 1934 he maintained the Chevrolet agency in Mocksville and then was connected with Sanford Motor company. He went in the grocery business in 1942 and stayed until 1945, when he went to C. Sanford Sons company.

Surviving are his wife, Lizzie J., and a son, Charles H.; two grandsons, C. G. and Henry Cole, and a great-grandson, all of Mocksville.

Active pallbearers were W. N. Anderson, J. L. Owings, R. F. Click, G. N. Ward, S. M. Call and Jake Meroney. Honorary pallbearers were R. B. Sanford, G. W. Rowland, Z. N. O. S. and Dr. R. P. Anderson, J. D. P. Campbell, L. S. Kurfess, J. A. Daniel, Knox Johnstone, Harlow Soffey, E. C. Morris and J. P. LeGrand.

Dr. J. E. Pritchard officiated at the services and Rev. H. C. Sprinkle assisted. Interment was in Rose cemetery.

HERE & THERE

SUPPER

An oyster and fried chicken supper will be held at Oak Grove Methodist church Saturday night, September 21, at 5:30. There will be a cake walk, bingo, and other contests during the evening, including good string music. The public is invited.

QUARANTINE LIFTED

The polio quarantine imposed June 12 by the district health officer has been lifted, it is announced. The polio situation in some states further south has so improved that children seeking to enter North Carolina from those states are no longer restricted.

TEACHERS

One additional elementary teacher for the Shady Grove white school and one additional teacher for the Cooleemee elementary school have been allotted Davie county, it was announced this week by Curtis Price, superintendent. The additional allotments were made on the basis of schoolroom attendance, it was said.

WINNERS NAMED IN CALF SHOW

Bonson Hobson and R. C. Dyson, Davie 4-H club members, took the honors in the calf show held Tuesday afternoon at the Masonic picnic grounds, nosing out eight other entrants.

R. C. won an initial $4 in merchandise from Green Milling Co., when his junior calf placed first of two entrants and then won $3 in cash when the animal was judged second of two grand champions. Young Hobson, son of the county agent, first took an award of $2 in merchandise and $1 cash from the Western Auto Associate store, then won $4.50 when his 2-year-old was judged by P. B. Blackwelder and R. C. Basinger as the grand champion.

Jean Proctor of Route 1 and the Mocksville 4-H club won a second prize with her junior calf; C. A. Bailey, Katherine Neely, and Betty Sparks took first, second and third in the senior calf contest; Sam Furchess, Henry Shore and Odell Boger came out first, second and third with their junior yearlings, and Bayne Miller and Hobson had no competition with their senior yearling and 2-year-old respectively.

The winners of Davie's event promptly took their animals to be entered in the Western North Carolina contests at Shelby, scheduled to be held Tuesday afternoon. It is sponsored by W. H. Belk and is now in its 6th year with a prize of $1,500.

From the Shelby event, successful contestants will take their calves to Lexington for the Central Piedmont exhibit scheduled for today, Friday. County Agent George Hobson and Assistant W. H. Kimrey urged all interested Davietes to attend the Lexington affair sponsored by Coble Dairy Products and held in Coble's barn.

The automatic milk bottle filler and capper was invented in 1886.

Local Merchants

Hold Meeting

A ladies night and a delicious dinner highlighted the meeting of the Mocksville Merchants association last Thursday as more than 40 members and guests and their wives met in the Masonic Hall in the first get-together in over a month.

The association failed to have its last month's session because of the food shortage, explained Secretary D. J. Mando. A regular monthly meeting is planned, but plans may go awry in view of the critical food situation. Routine business attended to included a report by D. C. Ransom.

He's Still the Boss . . .

Remember this young man?

Dressed in khaki or blues or forest green, he was a mighty traveler.

The Southern Railway System carried him hundreds of thousands of miles . . . to camps, to embarkation points, back home on furlough. Because of the vital job he was doing, we thought of him as the "Boss" . . . and we still do.

You see, this young man is now doing mighty important things . . . as a civilian. He's building an even greater, stronger, and more prosperous Southland. And we're still right alongside him . . . helping.

We help by providing efficient, dependable, around-the-clock railroad transportation . . . in all kinds of weather, come what may.

We help by paying taxes and all our other costs of doing business . . . by giving employment to 45,000 men and women . . . by shopping in the territory we serve for many of the 65,000 items of materials and supplies we use.

The "Boss" can count on us working for him . . . and with him . . . helping to make his dreams come true. And so can all the men, women and children in the South who are our bosses, too.

AN ENCOURAGING NOTE

On a recent radio program we heard a veteran interviewed on the matter of his college course upon which he was just entering. He had seen much service, and lost an arm in battle. He stated that he was going to study law, not merely to be a lawyer, but to be fitted for career politics. He spoke in a very serious vein, and it was one of the clearest notes in regard to the future that we have heard. Let us trust that more GI's will study to fit themselves for career politics—men who want to make a real science out of it. In the past we have had hand-shaking, baby-kissing, back-slapping politicians who were elected on a basis of just being good mixers—or, sometime, because of familiarity with the ways of rolling political pork barrels. The young men who are returning from war and entering colleges are serious men. They are doing some thinking, and they realize that more intelligent social and political methods, and more honest practices are necessary if we are going to avoid another war, secure peace and prosperity. These young fellows are showing interest in politics, and the people evidently trust them, as they have been elected right along where they have been offered for election.

More power to that young man, and may many more with the same spirit and determination follow his example. The GI's have learned a lot of things. They were straight shooters in war, and they will be moral straight shooters in political life. Certainly if somebody does not appear to lead us through the next few years to peace, the next war will make the last one look like a Sunday school picnic.

ANOTHER HOUR OF DECISION

We cannot view the world today through our radio and newspapers without a realization that the moment is a solemn one. We are moving rapidly toward another war, and unless we change our direction soon, we may not be able to avoid it. It is not too late to avoid a war but the sober, serious thought and firm action on the part of the American people is necessary.

We are aware that Russia has shown a disposition to be stubborn, but an understanding of Russia is as necessary for us as it is for Russia to understand us. There are points to Russia's contention which deserve more consideration than we have given. England and America would resent Russia effort at influence in our neighboring western countries, just as much as Russia resents English and American influence in countries adjacent to Russia.

Add to that a very definite propaganda on the part of two very powerful groups against Russia, and we can understand Russia's suspicion and distrust of us. Points favorable to Russia rarely appear in our newspapers, yet fairness demands that the whole truth be told. We favor no policy of appeasement, but we can speak firmly and frankly without questioning Russia's motives. We urge greater efforts at understanding. If war comes it will be terrible. Past wars were mild affairs compared to it. Who will fight, and who will die? The boys who lately fought in Europe? The boys who wanted to come home as soon as the firing ceased? We were so anxious to get them home that we put our own victory in danger. Will these boys go back? Will the people who are spreading propaganda against Russia do the fighting? Do you wish to go? Do you wish your son to go? Think over these questions. Unless things change soon those questions will have to be answered in the same old way. The people, both in America and in Europe, who lead their countries into war now have a staggering responsibility placed upon them. If we do not want war we had better exert ourselves for peace, and do it now.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1926

The Davie-Forsyth County picnic held on Reynolds Lybrook farm Wednesday, September 15, was attended by a good number of dairymen.

George Armond, former Davie boy, returned to Mocksville for a visit with his aunt, Mrs. J. A. Daniel. He is the owner of a large bus line in Nebraska.

Much interest is being shown in the Center Community Fair September 29 and 30. More than $1,000 is to be given away in premiums at the event, which promises to be the biggest thing in Davie during the autumn of 1926.

Lexington High defeated Mocksville High in the season's first game by a score of 60 to 0.

Miss Willie Miller was hostess to Mrs. J. K. Sheek, who recently returned from a year's stay in Florida. Six tables of bridge entertained the numerous guests.

TEN YEARS AGO In The Enterprise

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1936

The centennial celebration was held at Advance Methodist church on Sunday, September 20. The church was formerly known as Shady Grove church.

The Hanes Chair and Table Co., which has been a leading manufacturer here for the past 18 years, closed its doors last week, as the owners are retiring from business.

The annual Davie County Fair opens next week, September 30 to October 2. Cameron Morrison, former N. C. Senator, will be a speaker.

Frank Bahnsen, Jr., of Farmington, returned to Brevard College last week to resume his studies.

Jacob Stewart, A. T. Grant, A. T. Daniel, Robert S. McNeill and Brewster Grant, Mocksville attorneys, attended the 17th Judicial District Bar Association at Newland.

F.S.A. Loans Are Still Available

Recent congressional action abolishing the Farm Security administration and related functions of the FCA or emergency crop and feed loan agency, and the creation of the new Farm Home administration will have little effect on the old FSA borrowers and will not limit the issuance of new loans, according to County FSA Supervisor Locke Holland.

The FSA and the FCA, Mr. Holland said, were emergency measures designed to make money available to farmers who could not obtain loans from other sources. The new enactment more or less streamlines the organizations and put it on a permanent footing. State and district offices have until November 12 to consolidate the agencies and complete the formation of the FHA, the supervisor stated. No change of personnel on the county level is anticipated, although some cuts are expected in national and state offices.

Principal changes in the laws governing the loan agency are as follows:

Supervisors will continue to use a three-man committee in each county to determine the eligibility of prospective borrowers and to oversee and assist those who have already subscribed. Now, however, only two of the members are required to be men who earn their living from farms. The third member can be from any walk of life, whereas formerly he, too, was required to be a farmer.

Practically no difference is apparent in the type of loans to be made. The amount that can be loaned to an individual, however, has been increased by $1,000. Previously loans not exceeding $2,500 were possible, but now the farmer can obtain a loan of $3,500 for maintaining farms, with same interest rate of five per cent.

Interest rate on loans made for the purchasing of farms has been increased from three to three and one-half per cent. This type of loan will be made only to persons who are unable to obtain loans elsewhere.

Under new provisions loans are now available to farmers who desire to improve farm land and enlarge and improve farm buildings. Money can be obtained for developing undersized and under-improved buildings and worn-out fields.

As in the past, veterans of all wars engaged in by the United States are given priority by the loan agency.

Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Thompson and son of Hanestown spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roby Patterson.

Miss Jean Hollowell of Rocky Mt., student at the Baptist hospital, was the dinner guest of Miss Rose Lee Hege, Saturday night.

Mrs. T. W. Trent of Kernersville spent Tuesday with her daughter, Mrs. Teddy Hall.

Mrs. Mamie Ellis has recently returned from a week's visit with Mrs. Dan Tate of Asheville. Mrs. Teddy Hall visited Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Blakley of Clemmons, Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Tucker spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cornatzer of Idols.

Mrs. Clara Hartman, Harvey and Charles Gray Hartman and Teddy Hall made a business trip to Winston-Salem Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Potts and children of Advance and Will Martin of Bixby were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hall.

NEWS OF FARM
CONSERVATION

By G. W. McCLELLAN

Kenneth and J. J. Hoots near Advance are great boosters of the Middle Yadkin district soil conservation program. They don't only believe in improving and saving the soil, they do it and encourage others to. Among the profitable things they have done is that of seeding ten acres to ladino clover and grasses last fall. They began grazing forty one cows about the first of April at night. This pasture afforded good grazing until around the first of August.

After taking the cows off and getting a rain they had a nice growth again in a short time.

Homer Hunter near Cana is doing his first terracing work this fall. He says he will do more if he likes this, which he will when he learns the value of terracing. Mr. Hunter recently sowed twelve hundred pounds of red clover seed from six acres.

I. G. Roberts has some kudzu that is doing a good job of soil building and conservation on a badly eroded field near Dutchman Creek on the Yadkinville road.

Roy Foster, returned veteran, near Smith Grove, is pleased with some improved pasture he seeded last spring. He says the cows know the difference between the old pasture and the improved. The Middle Yadkin district recently helped Roy make a plan for further soil conservation, work including more pasture, terracing and seeding of alfalfa.

The McBride boys on Mrs. Hugh Sanford's farm got good results in draining wet, murky land with the assistance of Middle Yadkin district.

Clyde Boger near Smith Grove had the finest red clover seen this year. He saved a lot of fine seed from five acres recently.

"TOMORROW and TOMORROW and TOMORROW..."

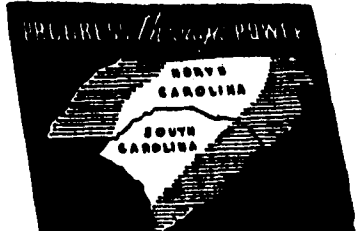

One of the wiring schools frequently conducted by Company Specialists for home economics teachers and other professional groups. . . in order that wiring and lighting may take their place along with food and other essentials of good home economics training.

Young home planners compose one of the large groups to which Company Specialists offer consultation on simple questions. . . from changing a fuse to the bigger problems of wiring to meet the electrical demands of the modern home.

All our tomorrows, in home, business, and industry, will be bettered by the day-to-day service being quietly rendered by Duke Power Company specialists whose interests go beyond poles, turbines, and transmission lines.

Architects and builders, home economics teachers and students and school administrators, as well as thousands of individuals interested in home or business construction, realize that the right kind of wiring determines the satisfactory function of all types of structures so far as electrical service for the future is concerned.

This new evaluation of wiring continually brings Duke Power consultants new opportunities to help you

BUILD BETTER FOR TOMORROW.

Conservation Work Is Urged by Smoot

In an effort to obtain maximum conservation with the $55,808 fund that has been made available to Davie county farmers through the 1946 Agricultural Conservation program, J. N. Smoot, Davie County AAA committee chairman, this week urged farmers to follow through on conservation work approved on their farm plans last spring.

"We fully realize that many conditions may have prevented farmers from performing the practices as originally planned," he said. In such instances, Mr. Smoot said that the county committee is anxious to render every assistance by helping these farmers in selecting substitute practices.

Farmers finding it impossible to carry out their original practices or to substitute others are being urged by Mr. Smoot to inform the AAA committee immediately so that the funds allotted to their farms may be transferred to neighboring farmers who need additional assistance and are in a position to carry out more practices.

Practices which still can be carried out in Davie county this fall according to good farming methods are:

1. Establishing a winter cover crop this fall from seedlings of crimson clover vetch, Austrian winter peas, and annual ryegrass.
2. Establishing a permanent pasture by seeding a mixture containing at least one perennial grass and one or more adapted permanent pasture legumes. Use lime and fertilizer where needed. Below are some of the seed that can be used: dallis (domestic), 50c per pound, Kentucky bluegrass, 40c per lb., orchard grass, 35c per pound.
3. Terracing.
4. Improving stands.

ROTARIANS HEAR CHAS. C. ERWIN

America needs "new designs for foundations" for peace if this country is to continue in the way of life that made it great, Charles C. Erwin, superintendent of Rowan county schools, told local Rotarians at their Tuesday meeting.

Stating that we had produced great leaders for war because we were willing to submit to dictatorship in times of emergency, the speaker cited the present turmoil in this country and throughout the world in times of peace: capital against labor, race against race and nation against nation.

Emphasizing that we had developed no leadership for peace because each group wants its own way and that in a democracy we want leadership to rise from the bottom rather than be imposed by dictatorship from the top, Mr. Erwin said such leadership must come from the average citizen.

"We must make up our minds what kind of government we want and be prepared to pay for it," the speaker stated. "That is a difficult job and the present controversies we see in the papers are an expression of ourselves trying to make up our minds."

Dr. J. E. Pritchard, who was in charge of the program, introduced Mr. Erwin. President Bill Pennington presided. Jeff Caudell reported that the glass windows for the Rotary hut would be installed this week, after which the overhead and the floors would be finished. All material is on hand to complete the job.

THESE TWO DAVIE BOYS HAVE WINNERS IN COUNTY CALF SHOW

On the left is Bonson Hobson, son of the county agent, whose two-year-old Guernsey cow was declared grand champion in the 4-H calf show held here last week. Later in the week he won a blue ribbon first place at Shelby with 285 animals competing from 20 counties and at Lexington, with 325 boys from 20 counties showing, he also topped another blue ribbon.

R. C. Dyson, Jr., on the right with a Junior Guernsey calf that was reserve champion in the county show, won a second place red ribbon at Shelby and a first place blue ribbon at Lexington.

DAVIE 4-H CLUB MEMBERS WIN TEN RIBBONS IN TWO CALF SHOWS

Four-H Calf club members of Davie county did well in the recent dairy shows by capturing seven blue ribbons. Ten club members exhibited in the Piedmont Junior Dairy show, at Shelby, winning a total of four blue ribbons, and six red ribbons. The Danish system of judging was used. This system divides the calves into three groups, with the best group being awarded blue ribbons, second best red ribbons, and the third group white ribbons.

Those showing were: Junior calf class, R. C. Dyson, Jr., and Jean Proctor won red ribbons. In the senior calf class, C. A. Bailey and Katherine Neeley won blue ribbons, while Betty Sparks won a red ribbon. Katherine also won third place in the best fitted animal contest. In the senior yearling class, Sam Furches won a blue ribbon, third place in showmanship, and fourth place in the best fitted animal contest. Henry Shore and Odell Boger won red ribbons in this class. Bayne Miller won a red ribbon with his senior yearling heifer. In the two-year-old Jersey class, Bonson Hobson won a blue ribbon.

The same club members exhibited their animals in the 4-H show sponsored by Coble Dairy Products, at Lexington. Jean Proctor and R. C. Dyson, Jr., won a red ribbon and blue ribbon, respectively. C. A. Bailey won a blue ribbon in the senior calf class, while Betty Sparks and Katherine Neeley won red ribbons. Sam Furches and Henry Shore won red ribbons in the junior yearling class. Sam also won third place in the best fitted animal contest, and third place in best showmanship. Odell Boger won a white ribbon in this class. Bayne Miller won a white ribbon in the senior yearling class. Bonson Hobson won a blue ribbon in the two-year-old Jersey class. All of the above animals except Bonson's were Guernseys.

In the Davie County Calf show the following club members won

HERE & THERE

LAST SERMON
The Rev. G. W. Fink will preach his last sermon in his present charge this Sunday, September 29, at Center Methodist church. An elaborate program is slated to start at 7:30 with singing by the Piedmont Quartet. Persons from all over the charge are urged to come and hear Rev. Fink.

TESTING HEARING
Mrs. H. P. Guffey, of the State Board of Health, is spending this week and next in Davie county to audiotape-test the hearing of all school children from the 4th grade up.

CLEAN CEMETERY
Byerly's Chapel churchyard will be cleaned off tomorrow, Saturday, morning. Those interested are asked to participate.

ATTEND DINNER
C. C. Stonestreet of Concord was given a birthday party at his home Sunday. Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Stonestreet, Miss Frances Stonestreet, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kosma and children, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Stonestreet and Cooper, Mrs. R. L. Perry and children, W. K. Stonestreet, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Butler and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sapp and children, Mrs. J. B. Price.

School Funds Are For Planning Only

Announcement has been received from Miss Jane Pratt, Congresswoman for the 8th district, that the Federal Works agency has approved advancement of funds to Davie county for the purpose of planning school plant facilities. The total amount to be advanced is $10,800. The funds can only be used for the employment of a certified architect and includes provision for sketching and detailed planning of school buildings. There is no obligation on the part of Davie county unless buildings are actually constructed within a limited time.

The advancement will include funds for planning buildings at Advance, Mocksville, Farmington and Cooleemee. Additional grants may be forthcoming for alteration planning and for other building facilities that have been requested by representatives of the various school communities in this county.

The county board of education has had numerous requests for improvement of school facilities during the past year. Every school community has requested building additions or improvements. The advance of funds as announced from Washington will enable the county board to proceed with planning without using local funds. Construction problems make it practically impossible to build public buildings at present. No building can be done without a bond issue approved by the citizens of Davie county.

All-risk crop insurance applications on wheat must be filed by September 28. Consult your AAA committeeman.

Boy Scout Drive Will Begin Oct. 14

Grady Ward, chairman of the Davie district of the Uwharrie council, announced today that plans were under way for the Davie district's finance campaign to be conducted during the week of October 14. The campaign will be conducted solely for Boy Scout funds. Scouting has during the past several years been a part of the United War Fund effort which is no longer in existence.

Mr. Ward and Robert S. McNeill represented the district at the budget committee meeting and Davie district will raise $1,432.55 in operating funds for the year, and $2,005 in camp improvement funds.

Charles Bahnsen of Cooleemee has been selected to head the campaign in Cooleemee. In announcing his acceptance Mr. Bahnsen stated that he felt certain that Cooleemee would reach its objective of $1,716 within the prescribed time for the campaign.

Campaign chairmen for Mocksville and Farmington will be named during the week by the Davie district committee.

LIBRARY ADDS 33 NON-FICTION

MAYOR PENNINGTON RESIGNS HIS POST

W. M. Pennington has resigned as mayor of Mocksville, effective October 1. Mr. Pennington stated his resignation was due to "business reasons".

The town board has tabled the resignation for the present and will consider it at the regular meeting on Tuesday evening, October 1.

Some think the board will appoint some board member to serve as mayor pro tem to conclude the term of Mr. Pennington, which expires next July.

DEMONSTRATION ON USE OF FREEZER LOCKERS TO BE HELD MONDAY NIGHT

Miss Florence Mackie, home agent, and County Agent Geo. Hobson have announced that there will be an educational meeting on the freezer locker, its value and how to use it, in the courthouse in Mocksville, on Monday, September 30, at 7:30 p.m.

They have been fortunate in securing Mr. Brady, head of the farm meats department at State college, and Miss Ruby Scholz, extension economist in food conservation, to conduct the program. They will demonstrate the preparation of fruits and vegetables for the locker, and use slide pictures and sample products from a freezer locker in their discussion.

The freezer locker plant under construction here is nearing completion, and should be ready for use before very long. Since this type of equipment and the service rendered is entirely new to most people, it was felt that an educational meeting of the type scheduled should be of interest to the people of the county.

Any one interested in this meeting is cordially invited to attend.

VETERANS ARE URGED TO FIND OUT THEIR VOTING STATUS

Anticipating an increase in voters in the November 5 general election in Davie county because of the return of former service men and women, John N. Waters, chairman of the county board of elections, this week issued a reminder to veterans to make sure they are legally registered.

Service personnel who registered in 1940 will not be required to re-register, Mr. Waters said. Despite the fact that servicemen were allowed to vote an absentee ballot in 1940 while in the service, they will be required to have their names placed on the registrar's book if they did not register here in 1940.

Any servicemen who have moved to new precincts since the 1940 registration will also be required to re-register, Mr. Waters explained.

The chairman explained further that anyone overseas may register by having a member of his immediate family register him, or have the chairman perform the necessary functions.

Mr. Waters explained that a potential voter must have resided in the precinct four months and in the state one year before he can vote this year.

Registration books will be open on October 12 and registrars will be at the polling places on that date and on October 19 and 26 to register voters. November 2 is challenge day and the election is Tuesday, November 5.

SCHOOL LUNCHES ARE PROVIDED FOR DAVIE PUPILS FOR 15 CENTS

This year's school lunch program, which got under way in the county schools last Monday, sponsored jointly by the state department of public instruction and the federal government, represents a definite departure from the procedure of former years, according to Superintendent Curtis Price.

Separate lunches, including milk, a wholesome balanced plate lunch of reasonable quantity, and usually a dessert, are to be served daily to each school child for 15 cents.

The government adds to the funds appropriated by the state education department to help pay the cost of the food, reimbursing up to nine cents per plate the amount remaining after the child pays 15 cents.

The federal funds being provided are designed to make the entire lunch room program more effective and adequate, Mr. Price said. Although other schools of the county have previously enjoyed the lunches, this is the first year for the Mocksville city schools under the program. One school, William R. Davis, still has no provision for lunches.

The lunch rooms will operate on a non-profit basis, working to provide more nutritious and adequate mid-day meals for the children.

"Experience has shown that where the federal plan has been introduced, a large increase in patronage has taken place in school lunch rooms. We expect the program to serve as a valuable feature of our educational department," Mr. Price explained.

He added that the agriculture department is the government agency sponsoring the program, and surplus farm commodities are used extensively throughout the nation.

To those who eagerly await their new Chevrolets...

Here Is the Latest News about Chevrolet Deliveries

Everybody from factory to dealer is doing everything that can be done to speed deliveries to you

We have been informed by the Chevrolet Motor Division that the past month has witnessed only a slight improvement in the rate of production of new Chevrolet passenger cars. As a result, shipments of new cars to dealers for delivery are still far below the level we and the factory had hoped to attain by this time. In fact, through August, Chevrolet's output of cars in 1946 was only 22.6% of the number turned out during the corresponding period of 1941.

We know that Chevrolet is doing everything possible to step up its production totals—to ship more and more cars to us and to its thousands of other dealers throughout America... and we know, too, that we are assured of getting our full proportionate share of the current output and of future production gains.

Disappointing as the total figures have been—and despite the fact that Chevrolet was out of production entirely during the first three months of the year—it is nevertheless true that Chevrolet led all other manufacturers in production of passenger cars during June 1946, and has continued to maintain its lead in total production from that day to this.

We shall continue to make deliveries of new Chevrolets to our customers just as fast as we receive them; we regret delays as deeply as you do; we thank you for your friendly patience and understanding; and we promise you a new high motoring experience when you take delivery of your new Chevrolet, giving BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST!

State College Hints To Farm Homemakers

By Ruth Current

N. C. State College

Three household jobs—preparing meals, house cleaning and care, and dish washing—take the major share of the housewife's working time, according to a recent study of time expenditures in homemaking, conducted by Vermont Experiment Station specialists. Findings showed that farm housewives spend an average of 64 1-2 hours a week in doing housework. This amounted to 59 percent of their waking hours and 8 percent of the total time.

An analysis of the work schedules showed that three jobs took a very large share of the time spent in housework. Food preparation took one-fourth of the total time, housecleaning and care almost another fourth, and dish washing about a sixth.

Other household jobs took considerably less time. Care of children and the sick amount to 9 per cent of the time; laundry, cleaning, mending and sewing together took only 9 per cent; canning and preserving, 6 per cent; marketing and household business, 3 per cent; and other household activities, 10 per cent.

When using boiling water to remove fruit, coffee or tea stains, hold the tea kettle high. The added force given to boiling water by pouring from a height of two or three feet makes it more effective in driving out stains. Home economists suggest placing the stained fabric over a large bowl or bucket on the floor, then pouring boiling water from a kettle held several feet above.

Treat fruit stains immediately, if possible, because they are difficult to remove after they dry. Boiling water is one of the simplest and best remedies, if it does not harm the cloth. Even warm water, however, may remove some fruit stains. Never use soap. The alkali in it may set the stain and make removal more difficult.

If boiling water does not remove all traces of coffee and tea stains, use such a mild bleach as sunshine, hydrogen peroxide or sodium perborate.

SET YOUR SIGHTS

It takes planning to achieve a goal

Some young men know what they want and plan for it. Others are still looking for their niche. The new Regular Army can help both.

Perhaps you want to go to college but can't afford it. If you enlist in the Army, you'll get your chance. Honorably discharged after a three-year enlistment, you are eligible for 48 months of education at any college, trade, or business school for which you can qualify. The Government will pay your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year, plus $65 a month living allowance—$90 a month if you have dependents.

If you haven't found your spot, an Army enlistment offers you training in any of 200 trades and skills. You leave the service eligible for further training at the best civilian schools.

You can assure yourself of the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights if you enter the Army on or before October 5, 1946. See your nearest Army Recruiting Station for details.

HIGHLIGHTS OF REGULAR ARMY ENLISTMENT

1. Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 6 or more months of service.)
2. Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in Army, who may reenlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.
3. A reenlistment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided reenlistment is within 3 months after last honorable discharge.
4. A furlough for men who reenlist within 20 days. Full details of other furlough privileges can be obtained from Recruiting Officers.
5. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to enlist or reenlist.
6. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
7. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater (of those still open) on 3-year enlistments.

EVEN SUGAR MAY LOSE ITS SWEETNESS

We happen to have known a little boy who once upon a time, went with his father to the store. A large, open barrel of sugar caught the eye of the youngster, and he was looking at it longingly, when the storekeeper said, "Help yourself sonny. Eat all you want." The boy started eating enthusiastically, but presently stopped. The storekeeper wanted to know why he stopped eating, and the little fellow replied "I've got down to where it ain't sweet."

We believe in collective bargaining, and there are times when a strike is justified. But there are limits. There is a feeling among the general public that, "They just ain't sweet any more." Not only are they becoming something of a nuisance, but they are so crippling production that producers, investors, and labor alike are soon to feel keenly the loss of income and wages. We used to criticize the callousness of employers who would let people suffer rather than raise wages; now we have a situation in which many people are becoming callous to the needs and sufferings of millions of people. Right now few people are suffering, but if the present trend keeps up it will not be long before the rich and once prosperous United States will be experiencing some of the hunger which Europeans know as a reality at the moment.

WE DON'T LIKE IT

Remember Hitler? Mussolini? Remember the strutting Germans as they displaced millions, killed more millions, and destroyed a large part of Russia? Remember how many of our boys died? Remember those German prison camps? Surely we have not forgotten. Yet England and America are talking about reestablishing Germany, and spreading rumors to the effect that we may need Germany as a friend against Russia. The idea of our suddenly becoming allied with the most brutal gang of murderers and cutthroats the world has ever seen is unthinkable. We do not wish Germany unduly punished, but neither do we wish to see her put in a position where she can bargain with us toady and turn against us tomorrow. The word of Germany is no more trusted than Russia's. In fact, Russia can put up a much better case.

Making Conversation

By Bill Dryden

Several persons sitting around in a local store the other day were gazing out at the softly drizzling rain and thinking about nothing in particular—until Jim Thompson recalled a few things about days long gone by when a dollar was worth 100 cents and people had to work for a living—in the "root, hog, or die" manner.

"I was out to my brother's farm the other day," said Jim, "and he has about the finest whitest, prettiest cotton I've seen in a long time. He's payin' $2.50 a hundred for pickers and I almost got me a bag and started to work. That's good money today compared to what it was years ago. Reminded me of the time when I used to pick it for 25 cents a hundred. Pick a few hundred, enough to make a dollar, and I could have me a better time on that dollar than I could on $25 today—get me a dime's worth of ice cream, nickel's worth of gumdrops, slice of watermelon, 15-20 cents worth of cookies, fig newtons maybe, then head for the local movie house—I thought I was gettin' rich fast."

"Yes, I remember something about those days," put in Bryan Sell. "I only picked cotton one time—and that once was enough. The way I recall it, 25 cents a hundred was the right wage, and I had picked up 20 cents worth of dinner which I was going to eat when it came time out in the field. Seems to me the bag cost a quarter, and maybe there was another little cost or two—don't remember quite what it was. Anyhow, I picked those bolls of soft white cotton all day long in that broiling sun and when I came to collect my wages for the day, the boss figured around with his pencil a while, scratched his head a little, then said, 'You made 25 cents,' and I haven't been near another cottonfield since."

"By the way," continued Mr. Thompson, "a very strange thing happened to me while I was over in Mooresville the other day. I went into the super market there, because someone had said there was meat to be had. Well, sir, I was flabbergasted to see a meat counter filled with beautiful crimson choice cuts of beef and pork.

"I sauntered over to the counter in a very leisurely manner, so as not to appear too anxious.

"That's mighty good looking beef you have there," I says to the clerk behind the counter.

"Yes, SIR-R-R," he says.

"Wonder if I could get a few pounds of that?"

"Yes, SIR-R-R," he says, and cut me off five pounds of the nicest, choicest, cleanest beef I've seen in these parts.

"Well, I thought to myself, 'this is gonna be some kind of a black market deal, sure 'nuf, but do you know that piece of beef only came to a dollar-and-ninety-some cents? It's a fact! 'So maybe the good old days aren't gone after all.'"

NEWS OF FARM CONSERVATION

By G. W. McLELLAN

Edward O'Neil, near Bethel Church, returned veteran, has decided to farm with some assistance under the G. I. Bill of Rights. The Middle Yadin District recently helped Edward make a farm plan for soil improvement and conservation work including improved pastures, alfalfa, terracing and seeding some steep land to service lespedeza. The district is making a special effort to help these boys get started on the road to success.

Clay Tutterow, at Center, also was assisted in making a plan for conservation work. He had already done some terracing and plans to do some more before spring. He also expects to improve and build the soil by way of crop rotations, seeding alfalfa and pastures and some service.

L. L. Miller, near Pino, in a recent discussion with County Agent Hobson says soil building and management has paid him well. He said, "I used to make around one thousand bushels of grain and thought I was doing well." He is now making around three thousand bushels.

The District assisted the Millers in seeding nine acres of alfalfa just before the September flood last year. Despite the damage done to the stand they are well pleased and plan to sow more this fall.

W. W. Smith, local business man, had built 32,300 feet of terraces in the last two weeks on his farm near Sheffield. His farm manager, Norris Feamster, did considerable amount with light equipment and a private individual did the rest. Feamster spread a car of lime, has sown considerable grain for grazing, is planning to get in twenty acres of improved pasture and five more acres of alfalfa. CONSERVATION WORK PAYS WELL

California and Oregon are the chief producers of ladino clover seed, now widely used in permanent pasture mixtures. The former produces 500 thousand pounds, and the latter about 400 thousand.

Storelighting?

Once it meant a little window . . . maybe two . . . at the front of the general store . . . with a kerosene lamp in the back on dark days spreading its fumes among the barrels of dried apples, sugar, and molasses.

Today . . .

Duke Power Company engineers are making light a partner in storekeeping all through the Piedmont . . . light to dramatize counters and insets . . . soft valance light of high fidelity . . . subtle overhead lighting . . . decorative background lighting for dramatic effects without any change in actual background . . . light to center attention on window groups . . . and entrance lighting that draws people like a gracious hostess.

Miss Miller Complimented

Miss Elizabeth Miller of Farmington, who will become the bride of LaVerne Shore of Yadkinville, on October 12th, was extended courtesy Saturday afternoon at tea, when Mrs. John E. Williams, Miss Ruth Wagner were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Williams here.

Mixed fall flowers in pastel shades were used in decoration throughout the home. Guests were greeted at the door by the hostesses and Mrs. Harold Shore and introduced to the receiving line, which included the following:

Miss Elizabeth Miller, the honoree; Mrs. Lonnie L. Miller, Mrs. Evan Shore, Miss Claire Wall, Mrs. Harmon McMahan, Mrs. George Long, and Mrs. Max Conrad.

Approximately 125 friends of the honoree called during the afternoon.

Good-byes were said to Mrs. A. T. Banks.

ADVANCE

The W.S.C.S. held their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Shutt Wednesday night with nine members and four visitors present. An interesting program was given by the president, Mrs. George Shutt, after the business meeting. The hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. J. W. Jones of Greensboro spent the week end here with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Matt Poindexter and Mrs. W. A. Leonard spent Saturday in Winston-Salem shopping.

Misses Laura Shutt and Willie Bess Shutt spent Saturday in Winston-Salem shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Faircloth and son, Will, and family of Winston-Salem spent Sunday in the mountains.

Mrs. W. A. Hendrix returned home Tuesday after spending a week in New York with her son, Bernie Hendrix.

Mrs. Lula Davis, who suffered a stroke some time ago, is improving and spent a few days last week visiting her children in Winston-Salem.

Mrs. Kenneth Sparks, of Winston-Salem, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hendrix.

Mrs. Nathan Bailey returned home last week after spending a few days in Florida.

F. F. Walker, 86, Davie Farmer, Dies

Ferguson Franklin Walker, 86, retired farmer, died last Monday at his home in Davie county. Surviving are the widow and four daughters, Mrs. Eugene Whitley of Greensboro, Mrs. L. B. Forrest and Mrs. Jesse Anderson of Davie county and Miss May Walker of the home.

The funeral was held at 3 p.m. Tuesday at Antioch Church of Christ. Burial was in the church cemetery.

California and Oregon are the chief producers of ladino clover seed, now widely used in permanent pasture mixtures. The former produces 500 thousand pounds, and the latter about 400 thousand.

ROADS EMPLOY MANY

Road building in the United States offers employment to about 3,000,000 persons. Of these 1,000,000 work on roads and the rest make materials for them.

LIGHTNING SPARES INDIANS

North Carolina's Cherokee Indians firmly believe their deity, Thunder, was strictly an Indian god. According to their claim, no Indian has ever been killed by lightning.

School Health Is Discussed

Concrete recommendations for the health betterment of Davie county's school children were made last Wednesday by county teachers and principals in the first county-wide meeting of the year.

The four-hour long meeting consisted of a work conference on the subjects of nutrition, handicapped children, screening, physical and health instruction, healthful environment, safety and first aid and health services.

Guests and consultants included Dr. Ernest A. Branch, of the state board of health, Dr. J. Henry Highsmith, of the division of instruction, Miss Hattie S. Parrott, of the department of public instruction, and many others.

A pamphlet is soon to be published, outlining the plans for improvement and the manner in which they are to be carried out.

SHEFFIELD

Mrs. S. L. Reeves visited her daughter, Mrs. Charlie Brogdon, in Greensboro Sunday.

Miss Alma Johnson of High Point visited Rev. and Mrs. Carey Bulla last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Foster Loftin were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Monzy Richardson. Everett Allred is spending some time with his brother, Joe Allred.

David Bulla visited Willie Reeves, Sunday afternoon.

FARMINGTON CARNIVAL

William R. Davie PTA In Membership Drive

Mrs. M. D. Pope presided at the William R. Davie P.T.A. meeting last Thursday night, when they held their first meeting of the new year. Rev. Wade Hutchins gave the devotionals and used as his topic, "Cooperation and Unity".

During the business session reports from the standing committees appointed last spring were given. It was voted to begin the membership drive and close it in October. First prize for the most members for any grade will be $5 donated by Mrs. Nannie Hayes and second prize, $3, will be given by Lee Baker. The time for the annual Halloween carnival was set for Thursday, October 31.

The following grade mothers were appointed for the year: General chairman, Mrs. Cain Reavis. Mrs. Lucile Baker's 1st grade: Mrs. Guernsey Joyner. Mrs. Lonnie Driver. Miss Pauline Daniel's second grade: Mrs. Paul Jones. Mrs. Guy Collette. Miss Blanch Brown's third grade: Mrs. Duard Reavis. Mrs. Cord Reavis. Mrs. A. W. Ferebee's fourth grade: Mrs. Cain Reavis. Mrs. Will Furches. Miss Kathryn Brown's fifth grade: Mrs. Johnnie Smith. Mrs. Glenn Boger.

The attendance award was won by Miss Daniel's second grade.

At the close of the meeting a social hour under the direction of Mrs. Guy Collette, Mrs. M. D. Pope and Miss Brown, principal, was enjoyed by the large group in attendance.

In recent years oat production in North Carolina has gone from 6 million up to 11 million bushels a year. Good seed, seed treatment, early planting, and better fertilization are chief reasons.

Rotarians Endorse Boy Scout Drive

At its meeting Tuesday the Mocksville Rotary club endorsed the finance campaign for Davie Boy Scouts which opens October 14. Members agreed to aid in the solicitation, as might be requested by Grady Ward, scout chairman of the Davie district who was in charge of the program.

Bunn Hackney, scout executive of the Uwharrie council, presented the matter briefly, stating $1,432 was sought for the operating fund and $2,005 for the camp improvement fund. He also said the Lions club in Cooleemee had sponsored the campaign there.

Heretofore funds for the Boy Scouts have been raised in the United War Fund.

The club presented Dr. J. E. Pritchard, who is retiring from the ministry and moving to Asheboro, a 4-piece set of de luxe aluminum ware. The presentation was wittily made by Rev. Henry C. Sprinkle, another club member.

Visitors were George Hendricks, local merchant, and Geo. Crowell and George Everback of Winston-Salem.

President Bill Pennington announced that the glass for the windows of the hut are here and will be installed this week. It is expected to move into the hut for regular meetings after next month. It has not yet been determined where the club will meet in October.

Women of the W.S.C.S. served a chicken pie dinner and were given a rising vote of thanks for their faithful devotion in serving the club.

If you can count 75 ears of corn on fifty feet of running row, with rows 4 feet wide, the yield is about 100 bushels of corn per acre.
