

Jury Finds Ward Guilty Of First Degree Murder

Receives Sentence Of Life Imprisonment
By GORDON TOMLINSON

"I sentence you to spend the rest of your natural life in the State Prison," were the words heard by John J. Ward and a hushed courtroom around 11:30 last Friday morning. Judge John H. Clement pronounced the sentence after a Davie County jury had returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree, with a recommendation for mercy, against Ward.

Ward received the sentence standing, with little outward display of emotion. With the exception of a few displays of nervousness, he remained outwardly calm throughout the entire trial. The verdict of the jury came as no surprise to those closely following the trial. In fact, it was the verdict predicted by many at the close of the testimony Thursday.

The story of the murder evolving out of the court testimony was as follows:

Ward left his home on that fateful Sunday (August 31, 1952), sometime that morning. At the home were his wife, Nell Ward; James Godbey and Peggy Laphis, who were staying there. Jerry Hendricks was also there.

Later on in the morning, William Wall and his brother, Edward Lee Wall, came to the house. Sometime around noon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parrish stopped by with their small baby. Soon Luke Graves arrived, and according to Mrs. Ward asked to see John. This group talked together for some time in the kitchen of the Ward home.

The day was rainy and the roads somewhat muddy. A Negro man in an automobile got stuck near the Ward home. The boys took the Ward tractor to help pull the man out, but gave out of gasoline. Graves told them to siphon some gasoline out of the tank of his automobile, but they were unable to do so. However, they did get some gasoline out of the Parrish car, accomplished their mission, and returned the tractor to a spot near the house.

Mrs. Ward stated that as Graves prepared to leave, that she, carrying the Parrish baby did get into the car out of the rain. That she was sitting in the car with Graves when John Ward returned.

John Ward returned in the pickup. He went straight into the house not speaking to anyone, throwing two dogs off the Legislature Picks Justices Of Peace

A House committee last week reported out a bill appointing justices of the peace for a number of North Carolina counties, with the two-year terms effective April 1. Those named from Davie County were: S. D. Cornatzer, W. T. Myers, John Francis Johnson, J. R. Smith, F. E. Willard, W. R. Ralledge, W. F. Stonestret, Harold C. Young, John N. Waters, Atias Smoot, J. W. Turner.

Grand Jury Makes Report

During last week's session of Davie Superior Court, the Grand Jury passed on 141 cases. True bills were found in 134 cases, with seven cases being continued. The following report of inspection on various county offices and institutions was submitted to Judge John H. Clement.

Courthouse
A committee visited the offices in the court house, the county jail, and the county agent's office. Found all offices in well kept and orderly condition, with files and records well kept.

It was recommended that the roof on the jail be repaired to keep it from leaking. Also recommended that two spigots be installed in the kitchen and that a barricade be placed around the front lawn of the jail to keep cars off the grass.

County Home and Prison Camp
A committee visited the county home and prison camp. Everything around the buildings and farm was well kept, neat and clean. The farm machinery was found to be in good repair. Eight inmates are in the county home, and they appeared to me properly cared for, fed and housed.

Recommended the replacement of glass in the front door, and repairs to three bedrooms upstairs, have walls and overhead repaired. Two of these rooms are unsafe as plaster is loose. A bad leak was found in roof and the same recommended to be repaired.

A leak was found in the bathroom of the TB Cottage, and is recommended for repairs. Recommended that lock be installed on door of bathroom used by inmates.

The report was signed by T. J. Caudell, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

Price Installed At NCEA Meeting

Curtis Price, Supt. of Davie County Schools, was officially installed as the president of the Northwest District of the North Carolina Education Association at the meeting held in Asheville last week. Mr. Price succeeds M. H. Carpenter, principal of the Elkin school system.

Mr. Price was nominated and elected to this position last Fall by the teachers of this district. He was unopposed for the office.

Attending the annual NCEA meeting last week in Asheville were the following people from Davie County:

Supt. and Mrs. Curtis Price, D. F. Stilwell, V. G. Prim, S. G. Wallace, Mrs. Hazel Wagoner, Mrs. Claude Hicks and Mrs. Eula Reavis.

STORES CLOSE EASTER MONDAY

Merchants of Mocksville will remain closed in the observance of Easter Monday holiday according to an announcement by H. R. "Bucky" Barber, President of the Mocksville Merchant's Association.

All the County and Town offices will also be closed, as will the county library, bank and building and loan office.

Macedonia Plans Easter Service

The Macedonia Moravian Easter grave-yard service will be held Easter Sunda at 10:30 a.m. with the Christ Moravian Band of Winston-Salem, leading the march into the grave yard.

The pageant, "Then Easter Came," will be rendered at 7:30 p.m., Easter Sunday night, in the church auditorium.

Status Of Davie Bills

Listed below is a digest of all local legislation affecting Davie County, introduced or acted upon by the General Assembly during the week ending March 28, 1953.

HB 754—Introduced by Smoot on March 11 (Authorizing office building bond issue). March 27, passed second reading in House.

Leach; Secretary, Mrs. Ella Holthouser; Treasurer, Mrs. Ida Christian; Conductress, Mrs. Dora Leach; Associate Conductress, Mrs. Lola Crawford; Chaplain, Mrs. Myrtle Burgess; Marshal, Mrs. Pauline Smoot; Organist, Miss Mariola Crawford; Adah, Mrs. Ada Byerly; Ruth, Mrs. Virgie Myers; Esther, Mrs. Kate Cook; Martha, Mrs. Elizabeth Merrell; Electa, Mrs. Creola Wilson; Warder, Mrs. Ruth Jones; Sentinel, George E. Merrell, Jr.

Local Nine Tops Reeds High, 12-6

Mocksville high school baseball team opened their 1953 season with 12-6 victory over Reeds Monday afternoon here.

The locals took over the lead in the second inning, scoring 8 runs. Cohen led off with a walk and came on home to score on Hodgson's double. Hodgson advanced to third on a passed ball. Messick walked, and Lanier squeezed Hodgson home with a bunt. Naylor walked to load the bases. Tutterow flied out, but Latham followed with a single to score both Messick and Lanier. Osborne then laid down a bunt and when the ball got away from the catcher, both Naylor and Latham had scored. Osborne stole second and went to third on a passed ball. He later scored on another error committed by the catcher. Shutt was tagged out by the pitcher and Cohen flied out to end the inning.

Mocksville scored three more runs in the fourth inning with Cohen, Hodgson and Messick making the tallies. Osborne scored again for Mocksville in the sixth inning to end the scoring for the locals. Jack Naylor was the winning pitcher.

STORE BURGLAR ELUDES OFFICER

A robber, apparently working alone, broke into four places in Mocksville early Thursday morning, but was foiled in an attempt to crack a safe which actually contained nothing.

The robber, caught flatfooted in a grocery store by a policeman, broke out the front door glass and escaped on foot.

Police said the man apparently broke first into Martin Brothers, a general store operated by R. P. Martin. There he made an attempt to open the safe by drilling and sawing off the hinges, but he failed to get it open.

Mr. Martin said that even if the safe had been opened, the robber would have found only $1 or $2 and nothing else of special value to a robber in it.

The man also took a rifle from Martin's but left it on the back porch of the store police said.

Using a crowbar stolen from Martin's store, the robber then went to a Negro pool room and a Negro cafe across the street, jimmying the doors at the two places and taking a small amount of change.

From there he went across town to Allison-Johnson Grocery Store where he was discovered by Policeman C. R. Plowman, who was making his rounds about 4:30 a.m.

Officer Plowman and the man saw each other about the same time. The man ran toward the rear of the store, with Plowman running around the side.

Alone at the time, the policeman fired a shot in the air to try to attract the help of a passing motorist but was unsuccessful. At that moment the robber ran back toward the front of the store, broke the glass and escaped on foot.

Officers said that so many breakings have occurred in this area in the past years that the store owners have made it a habit not to leave much money in their safes or stores at night at attract would-be robbers.

Total loot in the robberies Thursday night was not believed to be more than a few dollars.

Wilkes Lawyer Speaks To Rotary

The value of civic clubs to community progress was discussed Tuesday by Gene Trivette, of North Wilkesboro. Mr. Trivette, a Wilkes County attorney, spoke before the Mocksville Rotary Club.

Mr. Trivette termed an active civic club as the most important asset a community can have. He termed service to fellowmen as being the greatest work of life.

O. K. Pope had charge of the program and introduced Mr. Trivette. President Paul Blackwelder presided.

Presbyterians Plan Special Services

REV. MILTON B. FAUST
The Presbyterian Church of Mocksville will have a week of special services beginning April 19 through the 26th, at 8 p.m., omitting Saturday.

The Rev. Milton B. Faust of Salisbury will be the preacher. He is a native of Pennsylvania, the son of a Reformed Church minister. He attended Princeton Seminary, and graduated from the Philadelphia Lutheran Seminary and Catawba College of Salisbury. He served five years as a Chaplain in the U. S. Navy; his most recent parish has been the Franklin Church out of Salisbury and the newly organized John Calvin Church there. Mr. Faust is at present living in Salisbury, with his wife and three children. On January 1 he began his new work as Director of Evangelism for the Synod. He is encouraging Presbytery-wide Visitation and preaching services.

The Rev. Paul Richards, local Minister of the Presbyterian Church, invites all to attend these services.

Fiddler's Convention At Shady Grove School

The annual old-time Fiddler's Convention will be held at the Shady Grove School, Advance, in Davie County, on Easter Monday night April 6.

This program will feature outstanding string bands of this area. Four cash prizes will be awarded to the bands judged the best. Prizes will also be offered in the dancing contest.

The Fiddler's Convention is sponsored each year by the Shady Grove School. The program will commence at 8 p.m.

Ward Receives Life Sentence For Murder

Davie Superior Court adjourned Friday afternoon after disposing of the majority of cases.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty on the charge of first-degree against John J. Ward, with the recommendation of life imprisonment, Friday morning. They reached their verdict after a two hour deliberation.

Ward was sentenced by Judge John H. Clement to spend the rest of his natural life in the State Prison. The routine notice of appeal was given by B. C. Brock, counsel for the defendant.

Members of the jury on this trial included: Robert Kurfees, Wiley Seaford, George E. Merrell, Jr., John Orrell, Steelman Spillman, B. T. (Tom) Browder, M. K. Beauchamp, John H. Beck, C. V. Smoot, Raymond Shelton, W. L. (Bill) Ward and L. R. Towell.

Solicitor J. Allie Hayes announced that the State would take a nol pros with leave in the case against Paul Godbey, charged with accessory after the fact.

In this case, the state charged that Godbey helped carry Ward away from the scene of murder after Ward had abandoned his own pick up truck.

Solicitor Hayes said the State did not feel that it had sufficient evidence at this time to prosecute the case against Godbey as there were no witnesses to prove that Godbey knew that Ward had committed murder at that time.

Both Solicitor Hayes and Judge Clement warned, however, that the action was not to be taken as an indication that others might not be prosecuted for the same offense. The solicitor said that being an accessory is "a serious crime" and that all citizens, including Godbey, should take warning from now on not to aid any criminal in flight from law.

The state also took nol pros in two liquor cases which have been pending against Ward.

The liquor case against Mrs. John Ward was dismissed by Judge Clement after the legality of the search warrant had been questioned.

Other cases disposed of last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday were as follows:

Rex Colonel Walker, operating car intoxicated, $100 and cost. Fred Johnson, violating prohibition law and transporting, continued.

John Linzie Lyons, operating car intoxicated, three months in jail.

W. W. Whitaker, violating wine and beer act, court dismissed case at close of evidence.

Eston Green, operating car intoxicated, three months in jail, and defendant served notice of appeal. The defendant later withdrew his appeal and received a suspended sentence upon payment of $100 and cost.

Elliott Benjamin Wilkes, operating car intoxicated, suspended sentence upon payment of $100 and cost.

Paul Leroy Gough, operating car intoxicated. The original sentence of four months in jail was suspended upon payment of $100 and cost.

Lewis Wall, possession for the purpose of sale, dismissed by the court. In another case he received a suspended sentence upon payment of $100 and cost.

Vernon Kelly Naylor, no operator's license (2 cases), 60 days in jail.

Divorces
The following divorces were granted on the grounds of two-year separation:

Floyd Brenegar from Claytie Brenegar.

Peggy Lou Miller from Billy Grant Miller.

Annie Mae Shanks from William A. Shanks.

Winston-Salem Host For Traditional Easter Rites

Some 40,000 people are expected to gather in Salem Square, Winston-Salem in front of the old Home Moravian Church to take part in the early Sunrise Service on Easter Sunday morning.

Bishop J. Kenneth Pfohl speaking from the steps of the church, opens the service with the words, "The Lord Is Risen!" After the simple service in front of the church, the assembled congregation walks slowly, while the church bands play chorales antiphonally, to "God's Acre" for the conclusion of the service.

"God's Acre" itself will be an impressive sight on Easter morning. The flat markers, identical to show the equality of the dead, lay in neat white rows on rolling green hills. Brilliant rows of color will be provided by the flowers that are always placed on each grave the day before Easter by friends and relatives.

Old Salem, Inc., the organization directing the restoration of Old Salem, has planned special features for visitors to the Easter Service. A display portraying some of the history of the 187-year-old community and a scale model of Old Salem as it looked in the early days will be on display in Old Salem, Inc., headquarters.

play in Old Salem, Inc., headquarters.

Open to the public over the week end will be Wachovia Museum on Salem Square, said to house the largest collection of local antiquities in the United States; Salem Tavern, where George Washington spent two nights; the John Henry Boner Room and the entrance hall of the restored Lick - Boner House, built in 1787; and the John Vogler House, built in 1819.

Bethabara Moravian Church, five miles northwest of Winston-Salem off Reynolda Road, has open house Easter Saturday and Easter Monday, serving the famous Moravian lovefeast coffee and sugar cake. This church is the oldest congregation of the Moravian Church, South, and one of the oldest settlements in the State, dating back to 1753.

Also attracting many visitors will be the Reynolda Gardens, on the Reynolda Estate just outside of Winston-Salem. This estate is the future site to Wake Forest College which is being moved to Winston-Salem and on which construction is now underway.

The Public Library

The access to reliable information is mandatory if the citizens of North Carolina are to be well-informed. This is a challenge that is being met by the Library Commission and libraries throughout the state who have accepted the responsibility of improving and extending their services.

The North Carolina Library Commission was created by an act of the 1909 North Carolina General Assembly to give technical and experienced assistance in extending and coordinating the public library service for all the citizens of the state. This commission is maintained by appropriations made by the N. C. General Assembly each biennium.

The best measure of a library effectiveness is the circulation of books per capita. In this respect Davie County ranks 21st in the State. This is based on data compiled by the North Carolina Library Commission.

Statistics compiled during the year 1951-52, shows Davie County having a total of 7,598 volumes in its public library. These volumes had a total circulation of 52,160, for a circulation per capita of 3.38.

Current library income in Davie County is $6,229. This represents an income per capita of 0.25.

State financial aid is allocated to qualifying counties. This provides the bulk of the funds for operating the public library. This is supplemented by appropriations from the counties and towns in which the library is located.

As Stated by Dr. Charles E. Rush, University of North Carolina librarian, in the dedicatory address of the new public library building in Winston-Salem last week: "The true value of any library rests on its content and service. If it's adequate the library becomes the thermometer of a community's intellectual health."

You Read a Newspaper

You pickup your newspaper. The dateline on it reads 1964 or maybe it's 1965—the date is of little consequence.

You glance at the bulletin released by the public relations office of the N. C. General Assembly that is in session in Raleigh. The bulletin reads: "The work of the North Carolina lawmakers is reported to be progressing satisfactorily. They hope to adjourn in a few weeks at which time their accomplishments will be made public by this office."

As you read the bulletin you wonder just what is happening in the General Assembly. You wonder just what plans for taxes are being considered. You wonder just what laws are being enacted. You wonder how your tax money will be appropriated this time.

As you ponder over your lack of knowledge concerning the governing body of your State, your thoughts go back only a few short years. You recall that it all started with the enactment of a law in 1953 that barred the press from attending the sessions of the Appropriations Committee or any of its sub committees. Next the law was widened to cover other committees on which its members sought the cloak of secrecy.

The practice of secret sessions spread from one committee to another, until finally it was enacted as the policy of the entire General Assembly. The reasoning was that it would make for more productive legislative action if the deliberations were not made public. That if the lawmakers did not have to synchronize their actions with political pressure they could do a much better job. You recall that was why it was adopted... but that was not how it worked.

Since the enactment of secret sessions no one knew anything at all about the individual performance of their representative. All revelations concerned only the entire team... the General Assembly. Secret sessions also had made it possible for certain politicians to perpetuate themselves in office. It made it easier to keep political promises made for the support of powerful group. The average man—the average newspaper reader—was left holding the bag.

A sudden jangling of bells awakens you to the realization that you have been dreaming. You arise, dress, and go out for your morning newspaper. You glance at the date line—it's 1953. You glance at the headlines which read: "Secret Sessions Win Approval In Legislature." You wonder?

Congress Means Business

BAD BOSSES

By George Peck

When the Wagner Labor Relations Act was passed, the Congress took into account that there were some bad industrial bosses. What it failed to take into account was that handling virtually unlimited power to labor unions would inevitably lead to the development of some bad labor bosses.

To correct this error, Congress then enacted the Taft-Hartley Law. This legislation to a certain degree has taken care of the labor leaders who were riding herd over their members and the general public. In other words, the Taft-Hartley Law took the whip away from the bad labor boss without restoring it to the bad industrial boss.

Naturally, those union leaders who have been elevated to automatic power by the Wagner Act and were abusing the privilege, resented the intrusion of the Taft-Hartley Law. To resort to the vernacular, it put their noses strictly out of joint. Ever since the enactment of the Taft-Hartley Law, they have moved heaven and earth to bring about its repeal. They have called it a "slave labor" act, they have castigated the 82nd Congress that passed it and heaped coals of fire on the heads of the two men whose names are on the Act.

Apparently, the rank and file of labor union members do not regard the Taft-Hartley Law as a slave labor act—they seem to have hailed it as a Magna Carta for the worker. As proof of this, look back to the reelection of Taft to the U. S. Senate by an overwhelming majority, over violent opposition of union leaders. Taft could not have rolled up that tremendous vote without support of a majority of union workers. As more recent proof, witness the smashing victory of Eisenhower last Fall, with every union leader plumping for his opponent.

But the bad labor bosses die hard. As this is being written, hearings on labor legislation are being held before the House and Senate Committees on Labor. The recalcitrant labor leaders are in there pitching with everything they've got to bring about a repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law.

In his Washington Letter of February 21st Ex-Senator Joseph H. Ball issues a challenge to those who believe in a free society to get busy telling the public their side of the issues involved, or the fight to save the Taft-Hartley Law will go by default. And he warns that if this happens, they are very likely to lose the much bigger fight to keep the U. S. from being sucked along in the worldwide trend toward collectivism. Says he in part in his letter, and from here on I quote:

Union groups use three honored and time-tested methods of influencing legislation in Congress. The best is direct contact with congressmen, either by personal visits at home or in Washington, or by telephone, letter or wire. Next is carefully documented testimony before congressional committees. Finally is grass roots propaganda to persuade the gen-

TEXT: "I can forgive, but I cannot forget is another way of saying 'I cannot forgive' ". — Henry Ward Beecher.

No doubt the clergyman in the following story didn't mean what he said. However, when he met a member of his church on the street he was asked,

"Preacher, when do you expect to see Deacon Jones again?" The preacher replied sadly, "I am sorry to say that I will never see him again. Deacon Jones has gone to Heaven."

Time and again we say things we do not mean. Our slips of the tongue are picked up by others and hugged close until they form deep sores. Had we known that what we said would be misunderstood, we would have bitten our tongues first. There are two lessons in this. One, that we should think carefully before we speak. The other, and more important, that we should not be the ones who misunderstand. Let us remember that others, too, may not mean what they say. If we expect people to make allowances for us, we must do the same for them. We can inflict ourselves with imagined slights that take much away from the joy of living. Practice selecting the best possible meaning from what others say. Then forget it. You will be happier. Your friends will love you for it.

Advance Adage

By HELEN POTTS AND VADA HILTON

Only two full months of school left and most all of the AHS students, especially the seniors, are going to make the best of them.

The Juniors and Seniors are looking forward for Friday night when they will journey to the Robert E. Lee Hotel for the banquet. Another day will be Easter Monday when books will stay closed for the day.

Misses Helen Barnhardt, Ruby Potts and Mary Ruth Yow spent the week end in Boone. Misses Barnhardt and Miss Yow received their degree from A. S. T. C., and Ruby Potts plans to enter there next fall.

Nell Phelps and Stella Potts spent the week end at Myrtle Beach and they also visited Brookgreen Gardens.

Ronnie Burton leaves for the Army Thursday.

The seniors are all looking forward to having dinner out Tuesday night after play practice. What about it Derry, Frank and Nelson?

Per capita cotton consumption in the United States has increased from 20.56 pounds in 1939 to 26.84 pounds at present.

eral public to support their side of the issue. Mail from home has great influence in Congress. Not just from pressure letters—those are discounted. But personal letters or visits expressing views on issues and the individuals' reasons for them. Everyone has two senators and one representative in Washington. If you believe that free speech for employees should be expanded, not eliminated; that state police authority in strikes should be preserved; that we need protection against monopolistic national emergency strikes; that compulsory union membership is wrong and should be prohibited, not expanded; that unions, like other folks, should be held legally responsible for their acts and contracts; that secondary boycotts and jurisdictional strikes are bad and have no place in legitimate union activities—write or see your senators and representatives and tell them what you think about these issues and why you think it.

In the final analysis, public opinion determines what Congress does on these controversial issues. Members who buck it just don't get re-elected. Union leaders do a year-in, year-out job of trying to sell their position on these and other issues to the general public. They talk to their friends, they speak on the radio, they write to newspapers and they are always ready to furnish speakers to any kind of meeting.

THE PARTING... For about two years prior to 1948 Dairyman George Coble of Lexington and Agriculture Commissioner W. Kerr Scott had little love for each other. The names which George laid on Scott would blister asbestos. The row, of course, began over milk.

During the few weeks immediately after his announcement that he would run for Governor, Kerr Scott suffered. He had no money, and apparently little chance of getting any. Main task was to pull Coble and his money into the Scott camp. After a series of telephone calls, long night visits, and a lot of bull—mostly Guernsey and Holstein—Coble jined up for the duration. Nobody to this day, including George Coble himself, knows how much moola the Lexington dairyman put into the Scott campaign. Some people say it went well into five figures.

Scott was elected. Coble was one of the top men. In four years he led all the other members of the State Highway Commission in building and repairing roads. Last year he and the Governor reportedly worked as Lexington-Raleigh team in promoting Hubert Olive.

But milk, the item which caused all the trouble in the first place, once again has become the cream separator. Sen. Ralph Scott and his side of the fence are vigorously supporting the establishment of the State Milk Commission. Coble, solidly against it, last week came close to wrecking plans for the commission, which he and some other big and fine dairymen feel would restrain trade, prevent expansion, and mark another step in putting government into business.

Thus the Scott's and the Coble's have come to a parting of the ways less than three months after the Alamance gentleman moved out of office.

NO MINIMUM WAGE... Right along now you should be reading in the daily press about the troubles the Minimum Wage Law is having in the Legislature. Even though it has the support of Governor Umstead and the State Department of Labor, and even though five of the 11 members of the Senate Committee to which it was referred signed the measure, we seriously doubt it will pass the Senate. It may not even survive the committee.

FAR-REACHING... The dark shroud of secrecy has clothed in suspicion discussions of the Appropriations Subcommittee and may when regarded necessary blanket in silence the work of the Joint Appropriations Committee.

This trouble between the Legislature and the press is not as newsworthy as you have been led to think. This falling-out did not begin last week, last month, or last year. Like decaying mash at a moonshine still, it has been oozing bubbling, and grinding way for some little while now. The whole thing has political overtones extending from 1948 to 1954, believe it or not.

In some ways, it is an outgrowth of the good old free-wheeling days of the Kerr Scott administration. You have probably noticed, too, the good name of Assistant Budget Director Dave Coltrane popping up occasionally in the stories on the press ban. He had little to do with it, but never mind—

Reporters three weeks ago had a field day with Sen. James H. Pou Bailey and then watched expectantly, seeing a big story develop, as the Legislature slowly chose sides. Last week, it finally caught up with its hauling. There has been plenty to write about. Not in five years could the subcommittee have made as much news. But this thing is not over yet. Principle of the controversy is more important than any news made or hidden. Sudden action of the Legislature was perhaps the biggest surprise—no hearing, no nothing but action.

Interesting thing is that most of you folks who have been reading and listening to reports of the recus would think the reporters and the legislature are at each other's throat. Not at all. In face-to-face contacts, they have at times been almost loving. The legislature is divided on the issue, but—more important—so is the press.

ANY OTHER QUESTIONS...

At least one Raleigh reporter, handsome Charlie Craven of the News and Observer, was apparently completely carried away by the Wilmington azaleas and Actress Alexis Smith, this year's Queen Azalea. In describing Miss Smith in an article in Saturday morning's paper, Craven said, and we quote: "She has light brown hair and long legs."

There was doubtless some doubt in the Craven mind about his leggy description, for in the very next paragraph he wrote: "Lieutenant Governor Luther Hodges and Mrs. Hodges were among the special questions at Orton."

An other questions before the turn this program back over to the chairman?

BABY SISTERS... Nell Battle Lewis, in her fine column in Raleigh's morning daily, wrote once upon a time something to the effect that the gremlins which slip into one's writing have their birth in some hidden desire or thought in the subconscious mind. That's why we have a sneaking suspicion there was some question in Craven's subconscious about his saying Alexis Smith has long legs. Maybe an old maid aunt away back there told Charlie to say limbs, or something.

This brings to mind a little article we saw last week in one of the State papers—and we forget which one, sorry to say—in which a reporter was writing about some Presbyterian gathering. We were just reading along half-interestedly, you know, letting one word follow another, when we noted that parents were urged to bring their children. That was all right, fine, but then the reporter added as a bright inducement, an extra come-on: "Baby sisters will be provided."

A pretty comeoff! We read it again. That's what it said. Of course, the reporter meant to say baby-sitters would be provided. But, to follow Miss Lewis and some of the other amateur and professional psychologists, the boy or girl who wrote the Presbyterian church notice wanted a baby sister. Could have been we told ourself, the reporter was real young and wanted his parents to have a little girl a baby sister, around the house.

But we frankly lean to the thought that the writer was a young married person whose children had been male—one little old ugly boy after another despite all efforts to the contrary—and the old subconscious was hard at work, hence the creeper, "baby sisters."

HEAVENLY PEAS... Errors of this nature are not confined to adults. This past Christmas our little boy learned a few words of "Silent Night." There is a tricky wordage in that song, and "round you virgin" gave him a hard time. But "sleep in heavenly peace" he could never get right. With him, it was always: "Sleep in heavenly peas."

We literally wallowed in heavenly peas at our house throughout Christmas and well into January. Whether the offspring meant garden or the old field variety, we have never been able to figure out.

HEAVENLY BODIES... Does anybody, but anybody, want to carry Lynn Nisbet, who writes in Raleigh for the afternoon papers of the State? If he had weighed 100 pounds instead about twice that (and solid as a rock) last week, all that trouble between Legislature and press might not have come to a head. It was like this: In the subcommittee meeting they decided to go into executive session to discuss budget matters in a way so informal that it was felt it would be for the best of all concerned if the public wasn't looking over their shoulders. The press was requested to retire. Lynn at this point replied he would not leave and if they wanted to get rid of him they would have to carry him out bodily. One of two others voiced similar sentiments. Senate Chairman Copeland said he just didn't feel up to carrying anybody out.

Since the members of the subcommittee didn't want to do any toting, and the reporters wouldn't depart under their own steam, a showdown was inevitable. The next day the Legislature struck that body blow.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

ELDER STATESMEN

WISE IN THE WAYS THAT HAVE MADE AMERICA GREAT, OUR ELDER STATESMEN, IN BUSINESS AND EDUCATION AS WELL AS IN GOVERNMENT, HAVE MUCH TO CONTRIBUTE FROM THEIR EXPERIENCE TO THE YOUNGER MEN WHO WILL SHAPE OUR COUNTRY'S FUTURE.

THE SENSE OF TRADITION, THE KNOWLEDGE OF PAST SUCCESSSES AND FAILURES THAT OUR ELDER STATESMEN ARE ABLE TO IMPART, ARE IMPORTANT TO THE YOUNGER GENERATION IN TEMPERING THE VIGOR AND VENTURESOME SPIRIT NEEDED TO CARRY FORWARD THE DYNAMIC PROCESSES OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS

The Harmony Garden Club met Thursday evening at 7:30 in the club room with a good attendance. Mrs. Charlie Jenkins, president, presided. Mrs. Claude Thompson and Mrs. C. D. Watts made interesting reports on spring planting.

During the business session, officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

President, Miss Nannie Powell; vice president, Mrs. J. C. Daniels; secretary, Mrs. Charlie Jenkins; treasurer, Mrs. George Davis.

The hostesses, Mrs. Jee Jones and Mrs. Lamar Burgess served cookies and coffee to the group at the conclusion of the meeting.

FANNIE HARMON CLASS

The Fannie Harmon Bible Class met Friday evening at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. J. C. Daniels with Mrs. J. F. Tomlinson and Mrs. Ralph V. Moore co-hostesses. In the absence of the president, and vice president, the teacher, Mrs. Claude Burgess presided.

Mrs. Robert Kinder gave a very inspiring devotion and Mrs. Burgess gave the Bible study on the New Testament.

Mrs. S. L. Jurney closed the meeting with prayer. The hostesses served a salad course, cookies and Russian tea.

PERSONALS

John Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Moore, underwent a second minor operation on his leg last week. He is still being treated at Long's Hospital each week.

Rev. W. F. Caudle of West Waxhaw will preach here Sunday morning and Sunday evening at the Baptist Church. Rev. Mr. Caudle was here in a Training Union conference the last week in February.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Moore of Olin returned home Saturday from a two weeks visit in Clearwater, Florida. While they visited Mr. and Mrs. Moore's son, Hoyt Moore, and family.

Mrs. T. L. Gatton of Harmony, Route 2, spent the week end here with her brother, W. R. Moore and family.

Roy Moore of Concord spent a short while here Sunday with his father, W. R. Moore and family.

SECOND FRIDAY IS RED LETTER DAY

When the second Friday afternoon in every month comes, it is a special afternoon for the Harmony women and the members of the club that live out on this community who attend. This date has always been the meeting date for the club since it was organized about 1914.

The community has been fortunate that they have had a good place to meet which is in the home economics building and they have always received a hearty welcome. Another advantage has been that the building is always warm during the school term as it meets on Friday. There is never a problem of having to start a fire to heat the building. There is ample space for the meetings and a connecting kitchen where food can be prepared and served. The club has dishes stored in the cabinets that are used in the community if any person desires more dishes for special occasions.

Having been organized so long, one often wonders just what this community would be like without the training and help the demonstration club has afforded. Some of the members do not attend as regularly as some of the others but each member expects to help serve at least as co-hostess once a year.

Our club members are very cooperative and willing to assist in any community undertaking with their best efforts. Many skills they have learned from the demonstration brought to them through the home agents who first learn the lessons well before teaching them to us. We have appreciated the opportunities these meetings have afforded us in the Harmony community. We say: "Hats off to the club and to the members who do not just belong, but who help make it go."

SPECIAL SCHOOL PROGRAM

The Planning and Resources Committee of the Iredell County unit of the North Carolina Education Association, of which Miss Maude Searcy of the Harmony school faculty is chairman, has arranged the program for the special meeting of the county unit Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m., at the Harmony school. Several State officials of the Education department are to be guests.

At 1:30 o'clock Miss Searcy is giving a luncheon in the Harmony school cafeteria, honoring the State officials. Among the guests at the luncheon will be members of the Planning and Resources Committee; Superintendent Helton; Mrs. Reitzel Iredell County schools supervisor and others.

SHADY GROVE PTA

The regular meeting of the Shady Grove Parent - Teachers Association will be held Thursday night, April 2, at 7:30 p.m., in the school auditorium.

Rupture Shield

EXPERT HERE

E. J. MEINHARDI, widely known expert of Chicago and Michigan will again be at the Robert E. Lee Hotel, Winston-Salem, for two days, Monday and Tuesday, April 6th and 7th. Office Hours 11 A.M. to 4 P.M. Daily. (25 years successful record—thousands recommend him).

Scientific research is constantly providing new relief for many afflictions. The Meinhardt Laboratory has now produced the improved Meinhardt Rupture Shield. It usually prevents the Rupture or Hernia from protruding in 10 days, regardless of size, location, age or strenuous work. It is also used for man Ruptures which have repeatedly returned after surgical operations or injection treatments.

Caution: If neglected, Rupture may cause weakness, nervousness, constipation, headache, dizziness, pain in back or stomach and dangerous strangulation.

Every man in this vicinity having a Rupture is invited to see this Shield during the above office hours. There is no charge for private consultation. If desired, orders may be placed for immediate or future delivery. This demonstration is for men only.

MHS News

By ED ROWLAND

No girls from Mocksville made the 20th annual All-Northwest basketball team, but the high caliber of their opposition was demonstrated by the fact that on two of the teams they played were players that made the first-string on this mythical team. Helen Alspaugh, All-Forsyth County forward and co-captain of the South Fork team, and Judy Jackson, star Reeds High guard, sparked their teams against Mocksville this past season.

Three of the Wildcats made honorable mention on this team that Journal Sports Editor, Frank Spencer, says is "the most powerful array of cage talent the Northwest has seen in years." Lettie James, Carmen Greene, and Josephine Miller were the players so honored. We have every right to be proud of these seniors who wore the black and gold of M. H. S. for the last time during the season just over.

A half hour chapel program about the value of the library was presented last Friday by Mrs. Poston's seventh grade room. They graphically showed that books don't like to be treated roughly any more than people do.

A baseball game originally scheduled for last Friday afternoon at Lewisville was postponed until Thursday because of cold weather and a wet field. Another fact in the postponement was that all Lewisville's senior players were gone to Washington, D. C., on a class trip, leaving only a few inexperienced boys to play the strong Mocksville team.

Mocksville High seniors were rather disappointed recently as a result of a decision made to the effect that they won't get to go to Washington, D. C., on a class trip until spring, after school is out. The majority of the class would like to make the trip on school time. (Leave on a Thursday afternoon and come back on Monday or Sunday night), like the three other county schools do. This would increase the number going and make it seem more like a class trip instead of a private excursion. After all, if the class waits until after school to go, they would not be seniors any longer, they would be just a group of young people making a long trip.

Banquet

The Junior - Senior banquet, held in Thomasville at the Woman's Club last Saturday night, was a big hit. The Juniors carried out a Western theme in the decorations and the program. A delicious steak dinner was served, followed by the excellent program.

Duke James served as Toastmaster; Harry Osborne as Master of Ceremonies. The toast to the seniors was given by Eugene Williams; response, Keith Tutterow. Toast to the faculty, Robert Latham; response, Miss Claire Wall. Mr. Curtis Price gave the invocation.

Everyone enjoyed the affair very much, and they praised the Juniors for their wonderful handling of all details.

Funerals

J. L. Swicegood, 64 Funeral services for Jessie Lee Swicegood, 64, retired textile mill employee of the Jerusalem community, were held Sunday at the Jerusalem Baptist Church. Rev. C. N. Spry and the Rev. E. W. Turner, officiated. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Swicegood died unexpectedly early Friday morning at a Salisbury hospital. He had been ill only a few hours.

He was born in Davie County on March 2, 188, a son of Charlie Baxter and Mattie Yonts Swicegood. He spent his entire life in the Jerusalem community. For 25 years he was employed by the Erwin Mills at Cooleemee. He retired six years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Victoria Beulah Dalton Swicegood; a daughter, Mrs. Grady Nail of Mocksville, Route 4; four sons, E. C. and E. F. Swicegood of Mocksville, Route 4, C. B. Swicegood of the U. S. Navy and David Swicegood of Lexington, Route 5; 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild; three brothers, M. R. Swicegood of Mocksville, Route 4, and Lonnie and K. A. Swicegood of Statesville; two half brothers Samuel and C. B. Swicegood of Statesville and a sister, Mrs. Sam Barnhardt of Lexington, Route 5.

Seniors To Present Play Friday Night

"Faith, Hope and Flarity," a three-act comedy, is to be presented at the Mocksville High School auditorium, Friday night at 8 p. m., by the senior class.

A synopsis of the play is as follows: Faith and Hope Crabbe, twins, are pledged by their father to marry Terence Flarity, son of his old war buddy. To prevent this the twins disguise themselves in outrageous costumes. Flarity, to also prevent this, does the same. When they meet, Terence is so shocked by the twin's appearance, and they by his, they all think they are safe. Terence, however, proposed to both twins and both accept. Terence is then forced to find a way out of his trouble.

The boy friends of the twins, Reggie and Monty Van Twiller, also cause some excitement.

Faith and Hope Crabbe (twin daughters), Carmen Greene and Betty Spencer.

Monty Van Twiller (Faith's boy friend), Jimmy Anderson.

Reggie Van Twiller (Hope's boy friend), Everette Sain.

Sallie Parsons (maid) Phyllis Greene.

Henry Blodgett (butler) Harr-ell Powell.

Mrs. Olivia Orkney (housekeeper) Evelyn Griffin.

Mamie McCorkle (cook) Billie Harmon.

Jack Quinlan (Terry's pal), Keith Tutterow.

Pat Flarity (Terry's father), John Hodgson.

YOUR
TRACTORS

QUESTION:

is it true I can run an Oliver Diesel for one-third the cost?

ANSWER:

ABSOLUTELY. You Can Run an Oliver Diesel 3 Days for the Cost of Running One Day with a Spark Ignition Tractor. Why? Because an Oliver Diesel burns only 6 gallons of fuel where a gasoline tractor burns 10—at half the cost per gallon! That's one big reason why the Oliver Diesel is called the most up-to-date tractor you can buy. Other reasons:

LOW UPKEEP. An Oliver Diesel costs less to maintain than any gasoline tractor. Withstands longer lay-ups, too.

A TRUE DIESEL. The Oliver starts and runs on diesel fuel.

ANY SIZE YOU WANT. 2-plow "66", 2-3 plow "77", 3-4 plow "88", 4-5 plow "99"—all diesels.

MORE ABOUT—
Ward Guilty of Murder

Graves left. Mrs. Ward followed her husband into the house and seeing that something was wrong, asked: "What's the matter?" She received no answer.

After getting a drink of water, Ward again made his departure in the pickup. After about ten minutes he returned went back into the house and began packing his clothes. He carried these clothes, including his tool box, and put them into the pickup truck. This was sometime around 3:30 or 4 p.m. in the afternoon.

After putting his clothes into the truck, Ward came into the front room in which William and Edward Lee Wall, Jerry Hendricks, James Godbey and Peggy Lapis were at that time. The boys were standing near the front door, Peggy Lapis was seated on the couch. Mrs. Ward was in the kitchen, just back of the front room.

It was in this situation that Ward took from his hip pocket the .38 revolver which witnesses testified that he always carried, and with the words "Let's clean house," started shooting. Testimony differed as to whether he said "let's clean house" before or after he fired the first shots.

This action produced quick results as the youngsters cleared out. Jerry Hendricks led the pack going out the front door. He was followed by James Godbey and William Wall. Peggy Lapis went out through the kitchen to the barn in back of the house. Edward Lee Wall, for some reason chose to cross the room in front of Ward, went into another room and out onto and off the front porch heading in the same direction generally as the other boys.

James Godbey and William Wall stated that as they ran away from the house they looked back. They said they saw Ward come to, or through, the same door through which Edward Lee had fled, level his gun, and fire. They testified that they saw Edward Lee grab his right side just below his shoulder blade.

William Wall ran back to help his brother. James Godbey also gave assistance and together they dragged him into the field where he died.

Mrs. Ward came out to where the body was lying. Ward came out there later and according to James Godbey and William Wall made the following statement:

"He's shot through the lungs. I'm gone! I've got others to get yet."

With that statement John Ward left in his pickup. He later abandoned the pickup and was carried to Lexington by Paul Godbey.

Ward was captured the following Monday morning by Sheriff G. Alex Tucker, Deputy Ransom Cook and some Davidson County officers in a barn some 8 miles south of Lexington. At first Ward told officers he had thrown the pistol in the river, but later directed them to the pistol which was found in a feed trough in the barn.

Ward was defended by B. C. Brock and Claude Hicks. The defense counsel pursued along the lines that it was not first-degree murder. They tried to show that the case was lacking in malice, premeditation and deliberation, elements necessary for a first-degree indictment.

The defense argued that Ward was not angry, but was friendly to the slain boy. That the boy could have been accidentally hit by a bullet that went through the wall of the house. The defense counsel requested that the jury be taken to the Ward home to view the bullet holes found in the house. This motion was denied, being ruled unnecessary by Judge Clement.

The State, represented by J. Allie Hayes and Avalon E. Hall, on the other hand, argued that malice, premeditation and deliberation were proven by the acts of the defendant just prior to the shooting. They maintained that malice was present even though in the beginning it might not have been directed towards Edward Lee Wall. They maintained premeditation and deliberation existed when Ward levelled the gun at the fleeing figure, even if it had not been present before.

The State argued that the lead bullet would have been flattened out had it passed through a double wall before striking the deceased. They presented the pellet in support of this theory.

That is the story that came out of the testimony at the trial last week. But it is a story that leaves many questions unanswered . . . questions that will always probably go unanswered.

John Ward could answer part of them, but last week, although on trial for his life, he chose not to take the stand. He and he alone could have answered the question as to whether or not he meant to kill Edward Lee Wall.

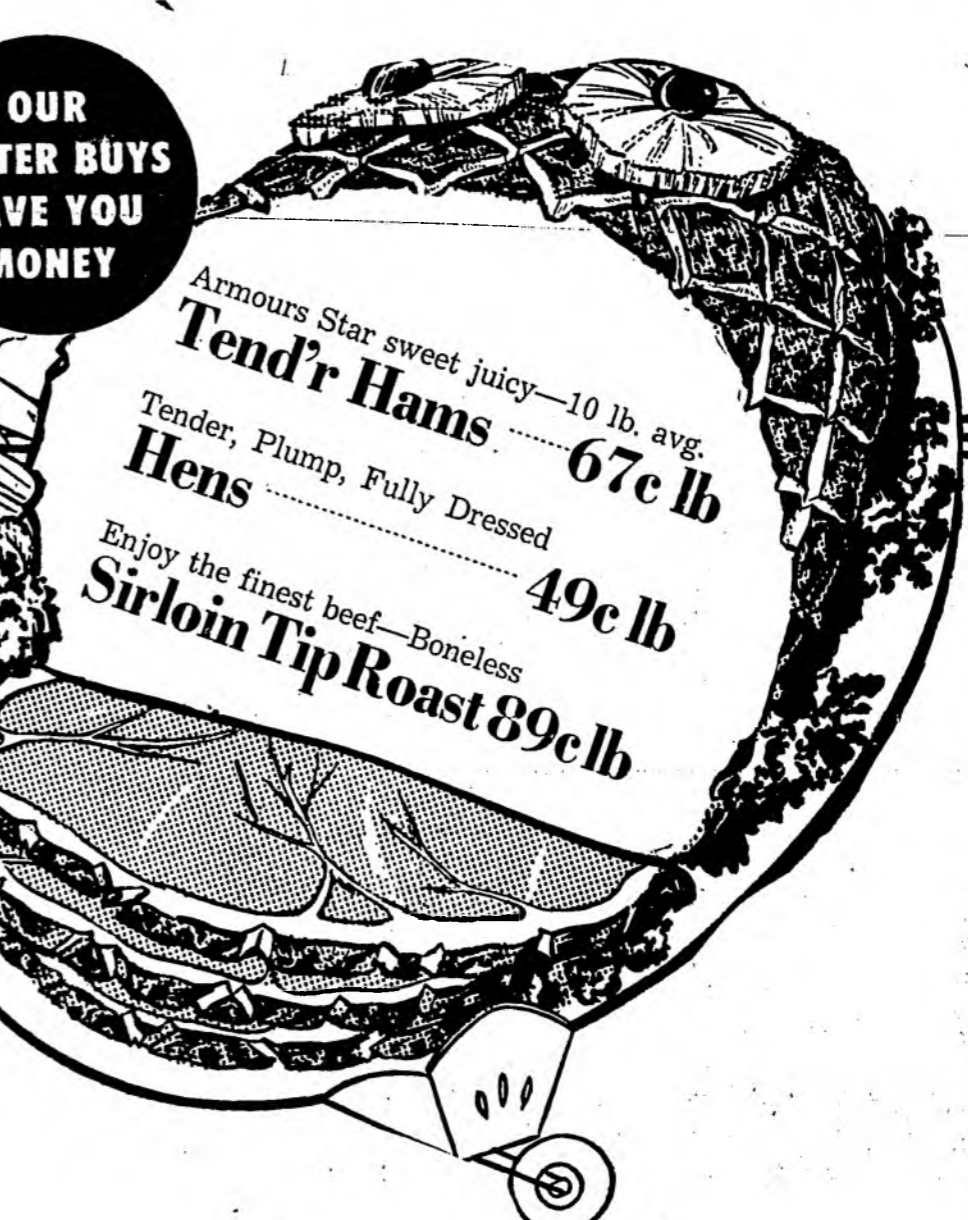

John Ward might also throw some light on the reason why Edward Lee chose to go out the other door instead of following his friends through the nearby open doorway. He could have also told whether or not Edward Lee made any remarks to him after he started shooting that made his wrath turn towards the boy. And last, but not at all the least, he could have explained his actions and statements following the shooting.

Ward elected not to explain these questions. He was not required to testify, and his refusal to do so cannot be considered against him. The burden of proving him guilty of first-degree murder was on the State. This was done to the satisfaction of 12 jurors.

Mayor Durham and Board File For Re-election

Present Incumbents Run On Past Record

Mayor John E. Durham and the entire board of town commissioners have filed for re-election, subject to the Democratic Primary and the General Municipal Election. However, as of press time this group was unopposed as no others had filed.

Deadline for filing closes at 6 p.m. on April 9. The Primary, if one is required, will be held on April 25, with the general municipal election being set for Tuesday, May 5.

Mayor Durham and the members of the town board stated that they were filing for re-election and would stand on the basis of their past record. Members of the town board include R. B. Sanford, Jr., M. H. Murray, J. C. Little, L. S. Bowden and T. J. Caudell.

Since 1950, this board has adopted a street paving program, which in conjunction with the property owners, has paved many of the town's streets. Streets being paved include Poplar, Cherry, Railroad, Midland, Maple, Pine, Church, Church Street Extension. Mayor Durham announced that work will soon begin on several other streets to be paved under this program. These include Oak Street, 800 feet on Meroney St., and approximately 600 feet on Gwinn Street.

New sewer line has been installed on Gwinn, Oak, Avon, Hemlock and Mumford Streets, totaling an estimated two and one-half miles.

Plans also call for the widening of South Main Street from sidewalk to sidewalk. Depot St. was widened several years ago.

Also a municipal recreation program was adopted by a vote of the people last year and a recreation commission established by the board to supervise recreational activities for the city.

Mayor Durham stated that the town also had purchased a new air compressor, a new truck, and built a storage warehouse, in addition to other equipment. Mayor Durham and the board point out that the accomplishments have been made without any increase in the tax rate. As the result of the property equalization several years ago, the Mocksville tax rate at 98c is the lowest it has been in the past 15 years.

Adult Homemaking Class For Women

The Vocational Home Economics Department of the Mocksville High School is sponsoring an adult homemaking class in beginning and advance clothing construction.

The class will be open to any woman who is not in school and is interested in learning to sew, or wishes to learn some advanced techniques in clothing construction.

The classes will begin on Thursday night, April 16, at 7 p.m. They will continue each Tuesday and Thursday night through May. One class will be held on Tuesday nights and another on Thursday nights to accommodate the people who can attend.

Interested persons are asked to contact Miss Josephine Alexander, vocational home economics teacher.

There is no charge for the course.

Adopt Resolution At Tuesday's Session

The Board of Commissioners of Davie County officially went on record Tuesday requesting the North Carolina Medical Care Commission for Federal and State aid in the construction of a 30 bed hospital for Davie County.

The action was taken during their regular meeting Tuesday following the request for such action by J. C. Jones and R. B. Sanford, Jr. This request will be forwarded to the N. C. Medical Care Commission to officially put the request of this county for such funds on record.

In addition, the county commissioners approved the site of four acres, now owned by Raymond C. Foster, for the hospital site and announced that this land would be acquired as soon as State, Federal and local funds are available.

Also they went on record as agreeing to call for a $100,000 bond election with special tax provision for maintenance as soon as practical after the State and Federal funds are provided on the customary basis.

The complete resolution adopted by the County Commissioners Tuesday is as follows:

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Commissioners of Davie County, North Carolina, in regular session this 7th day of April, 1953, that application be, and hereby is made to the North Carolina Medical Care Commission for Federal and State aid in the construction of a thirty (30) bed hospital for Davie County.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Board of Commissioners of Davie County hereby go on record that an approved site of four (4) acres now owned by Raymond C. Foster will be acquired by the said Commissioners as soon as state, federal and local funds are available.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Board of Commissioners of Davie County hereby go on record that they will call $100,000 bond election with special tax provision for maintenance as soon as practical after the Commission can provide state and federal aid on the customary basis.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED by the Board of Commissioners of Davie County that Charles R. Vogler, Secretary, be, and hereby is, authorized and directed to forward a certified copy of these resolutions to the North Carolina Medical Care Commission as soon as practical.

This the 7th day of April, 1953.

Farmington Classes Are 'Learning To Do by Doing'

Agriculture Boys Build Garage Building

"Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, and living to serve" is the motto of the Future Farmers of America clubs. Firmly subscribing to this motto is the agriculture department of the Farmington High school, under the direction of J. E. Sherill, vocational agriculture teacher.

This group has undertaken and completed many construction jobs during the past year. The latest along this line is the building of a garage-storage building on a nearby farm.

Several months ago, arrangements were made with a nearby farmer regarding the construction of this building. The agreement was for the farmer to furnish all the materials while the agriculture boys put into practice those things they had been studying in their shop instruction classes. Also the farmer had the foundation laid, because that job was almost impossible to do with a group that had only one hour per day to work.

Indirectly, Mr. Sherill has supervised giving each boy his share of responsibility. The purpose of this is to help the boy gain confidence in himself and be able to learn the skills necessary in construction of farm buildings on the home farm. Also, with the transfer of skills so that he can make the many needed repairs.

Along with the developing of skills, each boy is learning leadership and cooperation with his classmates.

The garage - storage building on which the Farmington agriculture classes are now at work is 20' x 20' size, on a cement block foundation. It will have an asphalt shingle roof and asbestos shingle siding when completed.

The Farmington agricultural classes consist of 18 boys in the ninth grade; 12 boys in the tenth grade; eight boys in the 11th grade; and eight boys in the 12th grade; making a total of 46 boys on the project.

Price Re-elected School Superintendent

Curtis Price was re-elected Superintendent of the Davie County schools for his fifth consecutive term at a meeting of the board of education Tuesday. He was elected for a two year term.

Mr. Price is currently serving as President of the Northwest District of the North Carolina Education Association. He has also been named to the legislative committee of this organization.

"LEARNING TO DO BY DOING"—The agricultural classes of the Farmington High School are currently engaged in the construction of a garage-storage building on a farm near the school. Forty-six boys are engaged on this project, under the direction and supervision of J. E. Sherill, Vocational Agriculture Teacher. (Enterprise Photo).

Rowan and Davie Boys Plan Scouting Camporee

Between 600 and 700 Boy Scouts from all parts of Rowan and Davie Counties are expected to attend the 1953 Rowan - Davie Camporee, scheduled for April 24 - 26 near Salisbury.

Ross Garrison, field executive of the Rowan - Davie district, said the camporee will be held for the first time at Youth, Inc., located just off Highway 29 about a mile from Salisbury.

To be in charge of the three-day event will be Ed Murphy of Salisbury and Grady Ward of Mocksville. Participation will be limited to Boy and Explorer Scouts, said Mr. Garrison.

The camporee will be conducted on a patrol-troop basis with each troop camping as a separate unit.

The purpose of the annual encampment is to develop better camping within the troops of the Uwharrie Council (others are conducted simultaneously throughout the council), to encourage better camping through observation, to develop council-wide friendship among Scouts, to motivate troops through practice for the Camporee, and to teach Scouts how to live with other Scouts, Mr. Garrison said.

All units must be checked in at the camporee site by 5 p.m. of the first day, Mr. Garrison explained. The event will begin on a Friday and continue through the following Sunday.

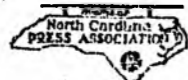

Instructions and a general outline for the operation of the camporee have been sent to Scout masters and leaders throughout the area.

For the first time, in addition to a small fee, all participants will be required to purchase insurance coverage for 25 cents. Coverage provides expenses for accidents incurred during the camporee.

PRESENTS COMEDY Farmington Junior Class will present a three-act hillbilly comedy, "Feudin' Over Yonder," at the Farmington school auditorium, Friday, April 10; at 8 p.m.

N. C. Press Assn. Directors Condemn Secret Sessions

The following statement was released last week by the directors of the N. C. Press Association:

"We deplore the action of the N. C. General Assembly in legalizing secret sessions of its Joint Appropriations Committee and subcommittees.

"We have given careful, earnest and calm study to all of the available facts and considerations involved.

"Our organization represents some 200 member newspapers. Moreover, it appears that every newspaper in North Carolina, with few exceptions each speaking for itself, is of the same mind as all the others on this issue.

"But in what we say here, we speak as citizens—a group of citizens whose profession daily reminds its members of the importance, in a democracy, of the free flow of information.

"And let it be clear that we claim for the press neither infallibility nor special privilege. We make our share of mistakes. And such rights as we have as a free press, we have solely because of a larger right—the right of the people to know.

"This issue would be the same and equally important, if there were not one newspaper in North Carolina; if the people of this state were dependent for their information on pony express, or carrier pigeon, or word-of-mouth report.

"Indeed, what the newspapers and what this board may say it relatively unimportant. The facts are important. The facts speak loudest and most clearly.

"Any honest and objective consideration of those facts leads straight and inevitably to the conclusion that, in the action last Tuesday:

"1. The General Assembly acted hastily.

"The votes, in both houses were taken under suspension of the rules; on a voice vote, with little debate, with no committee study; and without a public hearing . . . the latter despite the fact that both houses were advised that telegraphic requests for such a hearing were enroute to Raleigh.

"2. In haste, the General Assembly made a basic change in the Budget Act, which for 28 years had required the Joint Appropriations Committee and its subcommittees to hold open sessions.

"This provision was written into law not to meet a temporary situation . . . as last Thursday's amendment was . . . but as a necessary and just part of the law providing for a state budget; as a protection of the people's right to know not only how their tax money is apportioned but why it is apportioned. The necessity and rightness of this provision never before had been seriously questioned. It may not always have been scrupulously obeyed, but we suggest that one violation of law does not justify another; nor do we repeal a law simply because it is sometimes broken.

"3. The General Assembly set a dangerous precedent.

"If it is right for a committee of the N. C. Legislature to decide, behind closed doors, how some three-quarters of a billion dollars be spent, why is it not right for every county and municipal board in this state to do the public's business in secret?

"The truth is the General Assembly, in its haste and determination to slap down Capitol reporters, really slapped down the people of North Carolina. That is what majorities in both houses did. But be it said to their credit, a small but courageous minority had the hardihood to speak out in protest against this violation of both good sense and basic freedom.

"The annoying quest of reporters in their role as the people's information representatives, for all the facts, is a necessary part of the democratic process. It is so recognized by both our federal and state constitutions. And we submit that this annoyance is a small price indeed to pay for our political and other freedoms . . . freedoms that can live only where there is full freedom of the mind.

"The members of the appropriations subcommittee have defended their actions in meeting behind closed doors by saying that they can work more speedily in secrecy. Whether this be true or untrue is of no consequence, for it has never been claimed for the democratic form of government that one its virtues is speed.

"The best government, the most just government, and the only government that governs by right, is that government which reflects the matured judgment of the majority of its citizens.

"The majority of American citizens can be trusted, to distinguish truth from error, and to make wise and right decisions.

The American Way

NATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL WEEK
 By George Peck

In 1750 Benjamin Franklin said: "I think with you, that nothing is of more importance for the public weal, than to form and train up youth in wisdom and virtue. Wise and good men are, in my opinion, the strength of a state far more so than riches or arms."

On November 3, 1952, Dwight D. Eisenhower, now President of the United States of America, quoted from an author whose identity is obscure:

"I sought for the greatness and genius of America in her commodious harbors and her ample rivers—and it was not there . . . in her fertile fields and boundless forests—and it was not there . . . in her rich mines and her vast world commerce—and it was not there . . . in her democratic Congress and her matchless Constitution—and it was not there . . ."

"Not until I went into the churches of America and heard her pulpits flame with righteousness did I understand the secret of her genius and power. America is great because she is good, and if America ever ceases to be good, America will cease to be great."

The words of these two great Americans fit together to form the greatest challenge of our times. To lead our young into the hearing of God's Most Holy Word and to re-awaken every American to the values that lie between the covers of the Book of Books are the worthy objectives of the Laymen's National Committee which sponsors National Sunday School Week each Spring and National Bible Week each Fall.

This committee, with headquarters in the Vanderbilt Hotel, New York City, is a non-sectarian, non-profit organization which was inaugurated for the purpose of bringing about a more sober realization of the important part religious faith played in the creation of the United States of America; and how vital it is that this nation remain steadfast in that religious faith.

Its membership is composed of adherents of America's three great faiths—the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish—of men and women of all walks of life who have become gravely concerned about the ever-increasing indifference on the part of all too many Americans to God and to His Holy Book, the Bible.

The members of the Laymen's National Committee recognize that godless communism cannot thrive in or prevail over a nation whose citizens draw their strength and guidance from the pages of the world's perennial best seller, the Holy Bible—that the daily reading of this great Book and regular church and Sunday School attendance on the part of its citizenry are the bulwarks that will save this land from the sad fate that has befallen so many other nations.

Its members also believe that peace can only come to this troubled world when nations large and small, begin to follow the teachings of the Bible—and that America, as a world leader, has a rendezvous with destiny and an obligation to set an example for the community of nations to follow.

Ninth Annual National Sunday School Week is to be observed April 13-19. Were Benjamin Franklin alive today, he would agree that the Sunday Schools of the nation provide the education to "bring up youth in wisdom and virtue."

If your children are not going to Sunday School, why not start them on Sunday, April 19, and see to it that they attend regularly every Sunday thereafter? And better still, why not attend with them?

Sunday School attendance on the part of the vast majority of our youngsters will go far toward enabling this nation to avoid the pitfall of which President Eisenhower warns: " . . . If America ceases to be good, America will cease to be great."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all our friends, both White and Colored, for the many cards, flowers and good deeds shown towards the Foster family during the passing of our dear beloved husband and father. We pray that the Lord will bless you. Respectfully yours, MRS. JOHN L. FOSTER AND FAMILY.

"Last Thursday's legislation action, dealing with a matter of vital importance, set a dangerous precedent. It should be rescinded.

"By such action the legislature would be doing a service to the cause of good government, and to the cause of freedom.

"We believe these things. And we are convinced that most members of this Assembly, in their hearts, believe them, too."

RESOLUTION

Be It Resolved by the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Press Association in special emergency meeting assembled in Raleigh, N. C., on this March thirty-first, 1953:

1. The Board of Directors of the N. C. Press Association respectfully petitions the General Assembly to repeal the law permitting consorship budget deliberations by the joint appropriations committee and the subcommittees.

2. The Board also requests that a public hearing be held, after due notice, on the bill to repeal the secrecy law.

3. The Board commends the actions of the Capitol newspaper reporters in resisting this or any other infringement on the right of the people to know how public affairs are managed.

TEXT: "A really busy person never knows his weight."—E. K. Howe.

The story is told of a teacher of grammar who asked her pupils to supply antonyms for certain words. She asked, "What is the opposite of sorrow?"

"Joy," was the quick answer. "That's right," she said, "Now what is the opposite of misery?" "Happiness," said the student. "That's correct," said the teacher, "Now give me the opposite of woe." "Giddyap!" responded the pupil promptly.

When lost in a tangle of unhappiness, don't sit down and weep. Keep moving. Moving in any direction will bring you to the path that leads away from unhappiness. Striding on, you leave sorrow behind. New horizons stretch before you—inviting—challenging. Run to meet them. Sorrow, wringing its hands, will never catch you. Those who have studied in the school of life will tell you, without exception, that the opposite of "woe" is always "giddyap."

Looking Unto Jesus

By REV. A. M. KISER
 Pastor Fork Baptist Church
 Text: "Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith," Hebrew 12:2.

During the Easter Season we have been thinking about the Crucified, Risen Lord, and the meaning of these events to the individual and to the world.

This text tells us what we are to do if the crucified, living Lord lives in us. We must look to Him for life in all of life.

The 12th chapter of Hebrews gives us a picture of the great host of redeemed of all ages as they look down from the balcony of heaven upon those on earth who are striving to win victory in life's race. It is a picture of a group of spectators watching an athletic contest, and urging the contestants to: "Throw aside every weight, and the sin which do so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith."

Suppose an athlete enters some contest with heavy weights attached to his feet? We would say that that fellow is a fool, and should be disqualified as a contestant. Yet how often do we see people attempting to achieve victory in life's race with hearts heavy with worry, sin and lumbering doubts. Others try to win but carry hate, and cancerous malice in their hearts. Thus we are defeated even before we begin to run the race.

Turn through our Bibles, and study some verses which tell us some of the things that we are to LOOK TO JESUS for victory. First we must look to Him as our REDEEMER. In Galatians 3:13 we read: "Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made curse for us; for it is written, cursed is everyone that hangeth on a tree." This is the first weight that must be dropped at the very entrance of the race.

We must accept Christ as our personal Savior, and our hearts must be cleansed by the Holy Spirit before we begin the victorious. Like Job of the Old Testament, we must be able to say: "I KNOW THAT MY REDEEMER LIVETH," and that he lives in me.

But it is not enough just to begin the race. We must run well by ever keeping our eye on our LEADER AND COMMANDER. As the basketball player constantly receives directions, and suggestions from his coach so must every believer follow the rules of training of Him who has already won the victory. Thus did Isaiah prophesy long before Christ came to earth, for we read in Chapter 45, Verse 3: "Behold I have given him for a witness to the people, and a Leader and Commander to the people."

A New Testament writer says that: "Christ also suffered for us leaving us an example THAT WE SHOULD FOLLOW IN HIS STEPS."

Or as the song writer puts it: "Footprints of Jesus That make the path-way glow; We will follow the steps of Jesus Where—er they go."

STARTING TO STOP . . .

Since the papers have been full of it for the past two or three days, you have probably read that the Legislature may not get away from Raleigh until the latter part of April.

The Legislature is like a lumbering freight or a rumbly trailer truck in that it can't come to a sudden stop. Fact is, if it started stopping today, it would run on for about three more weeks, running down somewhere around May 1.

The efficient Senate, prodded by Lt. Gov. Luther Hodges, is pretty well up with its business. The House is far behind in its calendar and may soon find itself in session for about two hours per day, instead of the usual one, and for an additional two hours each evening.

Speaker Gene Bost can drive, too, and he is determined his hands will get down in the short rows by the latter part of next week.

There is also the matter of committees getting the bills referred to their respective groups cleaned up: killed, approved, or put to a final nap through tabling. At least one of the committees labelled this past Wednesday as "Execution Wednesday." It promised to clean house.

REASON FOR DELAY . . .

Why, you ask, has there been a delay in adjournment when everybody was saying two weeks ago that April 15 would spell finis to this year's edition of the General Assembly? Money, or the lack of it, is the answer. Anticipated income for the next biennium—July 1, 1953, through June 30, 1955—is upwards of 40 million dollars short of the funds set up for various institutions, departments, and agencies in the General Fund.

The two big funds which run North Carolina are the Highway Fund and the General Fund. Virtually everything except highway maintenance and construction must get its money from the General Fund.

The Highway Fund's dollars come from gasoline taxes and the sale of license plates. Main contributions to the General Fund are from individual and corporate income taxes and sales taxes. But there are at least a dozen other taxes pumping money into the General Fund. Now the Highway Fund can protect itself all right, spending money as it gets it. But those charged with setting up appropriations and anticipating income for more than two years in the future are, in reality, dipping into the future far as human eye can see—and too often a little further than that.

Income taxes, paid on March 15 for last year, were off about three million dollars. Sales tax returns are down appreciably. Income to the State is looking downward. Faced with the wide disparity between expected income and promises, or recommendations, made, the Legislature must within the next three weeks decide on one of three courses: 1. Raise taxes. 2. Cut appropriations.

Like a little boy stepping in the tracks made in the snow by his father, so must we put our small feet in the tracks of Jesus who has made the way so plain that "the wayfaring man, though a fool, need not err therein."

Then to let us look to Him as our friend. It is written: "There is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother." Christ is such a friend to all mankind. All earthly friends may forsake us and turn their backs on us in the hour of deepest need but Christ will never forsake us. Nor will he allow us to be tempted beyond that which we are able to bear. He will, with every temptation, "provide a way of escape."

He will place His tender arms of love about us and supply courage, faith, and His presence in the trying hours of life's race.

We may drift far from the path of obedience and love; we may drink deep of the bitter dregs of sin and taste the bitterness of deep sorrow. Yet, if we but turn to Him we will hear Him say: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil. For thou art with me. Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me."

As He said in the darkest hour of His own experience: "I am not alone, My Father is with Me,"

3. Appropriate according to recommendations of the Advisory Budget Commission and Governor's wishes with the fund hope that income may somehow be sufficient to meet appropriations, leaving it with the Governor to cut appropriations if income is insufficient to meet them.

APPROPRIATE . . . Off-the-record conversation among the legislators is that the Appropriations Committee will go ahead and fully appropriate, giving Governor William B. Umstead about everything he wants. But here is the situation—and there has been too much quibbling over, it so let's face the issue:

The Legislature wants to go along with the Governor. At the same time, however, it must be remembered that not one of the members thereof ran on a platform of increased taxes. We doubt the Legislature will increase taxes. Then how can the Governor get his monetary requests? In this way: The Legislature can vote the money and hope that business will be such that it will come in as the administration needs it.

KOREAN LUCK . . . Governor Kerr Scott's 1949 Legislature was sure that the man from Haw River would, become unpopular through being forced to cut appropriations. Never in the history of North Carolina—and seldom in the recorded history of any other state—has as much money been spent by any elective body as by the 1949 General Assembly when it not only appropriated unprecedented amounts but cleared the way for an additional 225 million in school and road bonds. Those unfriendly to Kerr Scott saw him, somewhere between July 1, 1949, and June 30, 1951, being forced to cut appropriations. They thought they had appropriated him into embarrassment. But just as things began to level off in the spring of 1950, came the "police action" in Korea.

The Korean thing began the same day that Willis Smith defeated Frank Graham in the runoff for the U. S. Senate. People still say that had the Korean War begun three months earlier, One Worlder Graham would have beaten Smith on the campaign premise that North Carolina and the U. S. needed in the Congress that man to meet the new international crisis. Bad luck for Kerr Scott, they said, for had not Scott gone all out for the former University president whom he had appointed two years earlier to succeed the late J. M. Broughton.

But, alas, they had not reckoned with the Scott luck, the Scott golden horseshoe in his hind pocket. With the Korean outbreak, things started booming as in 1942-48. Prices went up, bringing floods of sales tax money. Wages skyrocketed and income taxes poured into State coffers.

Korean luck contributed greatly to making Kerr Scott's administration a fiscal success. But defense spending is now leveling off. A cold peace seems to be in the offing. This all adds up to a gradual return to normal conditions. And normal conditions cannot provide the kind of money being asked for around here this time.

It looks like a tough biennium, with the definite possibility that the Legislature may come back here for a special session some time between now and January of 1955.

MANAGEMENT VS LABOR

They say that the Ruritan Clubs are lining up speaking engagements for former Governor W. Kerr Scott. We understand he is still going with his early-morning farm talks on radio, with several stations in the chain. He is regarded here as a certain opponent for Senator Willis Smith, with most of his money coming from CIO, AFL, and other labor groups. Manufacturers and management will be in Smith's corner. Little of the campaign money—relatively little—is expected to come from North Carolina for Scott or Smith.

REVISION . . . Reports here are that David McConnell, attorney for the Belk stores, is now hard at work on a bill which will set up a commission to revise the State's entire Revenue Act and money machinery from the 1955 Legislature.

—FROM THE COUNTY AND HOME AGENT'S OFFICE—

BLOAT

The bloat season is here. Some of the main reasons for bloat are: (1) The lack of coarse roughage to stimulate the walls of the stomach. Legumes in the prebloom stage are most frequently the cause of acute bloat. (2) Bloat may occur when the belching mechanism is not working properly. This may be due to the lack of coarse roughage to stimulate the walls of the rumen. (3) Extreme hunger should be avoided. It causes the animal to eat more of a food at one time, which under the conditions may be dangerous.

Symptoms

The symptoms of bloat vary. Acute bloat is usually indicated by the following symptoms.

1. A swelling which is prominent in the left flank.
2. An uneasiness or nervousness.
3. A rapid ballooning of the left flank.
4. A swelling which rebounds and gives a dull sound when thumped.
5. Rumination or cud chewing ceases.
6. The pressure on heart and lungs from the enlarged rumen or paunch causes labored breathing, moans, dilated nostrils, and an open mouth.

Preventive Measures

1. Dry roughage scratches the inner walls of the first three divisions of the stomach of cattle and sheep and stimulates belching. It should be fed before placing animals on pastures containing legumes.
2. The grazing of green pastures for a few hours previous to placing them on rich legume pastures is often thought to produce satisfactory results.
3. In feeding tests cottonseed hulls and corn silage are credited with being effective in preventing alfalfa bloat.
4. Cottonseed hulls treated with molasses should be effective. The molasses should increase the palatability enough to obtain increased consumption. Some poor quality roughages have been found ineffective because of the small amounts consumed.
5. Mixing grasses with legumes so they make up 50 per cent of the mixture is another preventive measure. It is difficult to maintain the proper proportions of these mixtures for all seasons.
6. Allowing alfalfa to mature more before grazing reduces the risk from bloating.
7. Care and close supervision of animals when changing to new grazing areas, especially when rich in legumes are thought to be important by practical stockmen.
8. Cattle should not be turned on legumes in the prebloom stage when too hungry. Feed other feeds so as to take the edge off of appetite or keep them well-filled.
9. Keep a few bales of hay or straw before cows while on pasture.
10. Mow a small area in pasture so cows can get dry material at all times.

Home Treatment

For cattle, give one of the following mixtures as a drench:

1. One pint of mineral oil.
2. One pint of formalin (formaldehyde) in a pint of cold water or milk.
3. One-half cup of coal oil or kerosene in a pint of milk.
4. Two to four ounces of turpentine in one pint of water or milk.

Other measures which help the condition are:

1. Standing the animal uphill to take the weight of stomach off heart and lungs.
2. Tie stock or rope in animal's mouth to induce chewing and belching.

Treatment by Your Veterinarian

1. Veterinarians treat bloat by passing a rubber stomach tube.
2. They are also successful in treating it by giving hypodermic injections.
3. In some cases it is necessary to use the trocar or surgeon's knife to relieve pressure as the time is short before death would take place.

BLUE MOLD

Blue Mold is already widespread in several North Carolina counties and is headed this way.

There are many insects and diseases that plague tobacco plants from now on until the time tobacco is cured. Every tobacco farmer will watch his tobacco beds for signs of blue mold and insect damage.

Blue mold is a fungus growth that is just about sure to hit every bed. It can be controlled. Some of the materials that will control this disease are: Dithane Z-78, Parzate, Ferbam, and Feramate. These materials may be applied as a dust or a spray and should be used according to the directions on the bag. Generally the spray treatments are cheaper, but either sprays or dust will provide control if it is used correctly.

The North Carolina Experiment Station recommends that farmers start treating for blue mold when the plants are the size of a dime. Treat beds twice a week and after rains until they are ready to be transplanted.

An application of DDT according to the direction on the bags will control the following insects: Flea beetle, vegetable weevil, midge larvae, crane fly and cut worms. Aphids or plant lice and snails can be controlled with Parathion. Crickets can be controlled by moth flakes.

Carrot Salad
Submitted by Mrs. W. N. Anderson, Center HD Club.
2 medium size carrots grated
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
2 packages orange or lemon Jello.

2 cups boiling water
1 cup cold water
Pineapple juice
Dissolve Jello in 2 cups boiling water. When thoroughly dissolved, add grated carrot, pineapple cold water and juice. Chill in refrigerator until congealed.

Refrigerator Rolls
Submitted by Mrs. Gene Miller, Pino-Farmington HD Club.

2 cups boiling water
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
2 cakes of package yeast
¼ cup warm water
2 beaten eggs
7 or 8 cups sifted flour
Mix boiling water, sugar, salt and sortening together and cool to lukewarm.

Soften yeast in lukewarm water and stir into first mixture. Add beaten eggs. Stir in 4 cups flour, beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour to make stiff dough. Place in greased bowl. Grease top of dough, cover with waxed paper and place in refrigerator. This dough will keep 6 or 7 days. Take out as needed. Shape into rolls, place in greased pan and let rise until doubled in bulk (about 1½ to 2 hours). Bake 15-20 minutes in a 425 degree oven. (Makes four dozen medium rolls). This is also a good dough for cinnamon buns, coffee cakes, etc.

Lemon Bisque

Submitted by Mrs. C. F. Bahnsen, Pino-Farmington HD Club.
1 can (13 oz.) evaporated milk
1 package lemon Jello
1¼ cups boiling water.
1/3 cup honey (can use Karo syrup).

1/8 teaspoon salt
Juice of one lemon
2½ cups vanilla wafer crumbs.
Thoroughly chill can of milk so it will whip. Dissolve Jello in boiling water, add honey, salt, and lemon juice. When it has congealed slightly, beat milk until it is stiff and whip gelatin mixture into it.

Spread half of crumbs in large pan (10" x 13½") and pour lemon mixture over it. Top with remaining crumbs and set in refrigerator to chill. This may be served plain or with whipped cream. A very economical dessert to serve a crowd. Serves 15-18 persons.

North Carolina beet production this year is expected to be about seven per cent lower than in 1952.

DAT SHOWS IT'S DE NATCHEL KIND!

There's a REASON why NATURAL CHILEAN NITRATE means a DIFFERENCE in results!

One difference between Natural Chilean Nitrate and other nitrogen fertilizers is quality — natural quality. It is the world's only natural source of nitrate nitrogen.

The nitrogen content of Chilean Nitrate is 100% nitrate nitrogen — 100% available — 100% fast-acting — 100% dependable.

No antidote is necessary. Chilean Nitrate is non-acid forming.

Rich in sodium and minor elements. Chilean Nitrate is rich in beneficial sodium that makes a stronger, deeper root system — improves crop health, vigor and nutritive value. It also contains small quantities of essential minor elements.

Noted for all-round efficiency. Quick-acting 100% nitrate nitrogen makes rapid, sturdy growth. Its 26% sodium content acts like potash when necessary and helps to increase the supply of available phosphate in the soil.

Chilean Nitrate's free flowing pellets guarantee rapid, accurate distribution under all conditions. No special precautions needed.

Helps maintain productivity of your land. When used consistently in a sound farming program, Chilean Nitrate builds up fertility, increases efficiency, year after year. Natural Chilean Nitrate increases yields — improves quality — defends against disease — fortifies against insect injury — counteracts soil acidity. Use Chilean Nitrate for solid satisfaction!

Chilean Nitrate is the ONLY fertilizer that supplies nitrate nitrogen, beneficial sodium, and essential minor elements.

New York State Dairyman Settles In Davie County

Charles W. Phillips Establishes Dairy Farm

Somewhat like the one-time movement westward, there are now numbers of dairymen coming to North Carolina from the North. Some of these have become established in the northern part of Wake County and other places. Charles W. Phillips came in Aug., 1950, from Western New York State to Davie County.

Mr. Phillips isn't one to draw comparisons or to feel he has done anything out of ordinary. Those of his adopted neighbors who know him, however, feel that they could use a few more like him. "The main reason for making the change," Mr. Phillips explained a few days ago, "was to have a longer growing season." He believes the cheapest milk is produced when the cows can go out and harvest feed for themselves. "Pasture has about four months longer to grow here than in the section of New York where I lived," he said.

Which Land to Buy

Before the Phillips family left New York they had burned their bridges behind by selling the dairy farm where they lived. A number of available tracts of land in Davie were examined: "Some were just too far gone," Charles declared. "Erosion had stripped them clean in too many places. A few were in fine condition but higher in price than my means would allow. This, the old Robert Woodruff place, seemed to be a happy medium. It looked pretty bad, but maybe conservation methods would change that. I went immediately to the Soil Conservation Service headquarters in Mocksville to check on that point."

"Mr. Thompson fortunately had a capability map for the farm. From that he was able to advise me, and I closed the trade."

Charles Phillips was not a stranger to the use of soil conservation district advice. He had used a district plan on his farm back home. He understood the advantage of knowing land capability as a guide to farming. Needless to say, there was no time lost in getting Thompson to help devise a suitable plan for this one where he had now cast his lot.

Farm buildings were just about nonexistent. They lived with a neighbor until a small but modern home could be built. A large barn was about to fall down but was good enough to be repaired. This was done without any hired help.

"We just didn't have enough money left to pay for needed repairs and improvements," Mr. Phillips explained. "The cost of seeding some pasture and buying bred heifers took most of what funds I had left."

With Their Own Hands

There were numerous other jobs. Fences had to be put up. A Grade "A" milking barn was built. All those things came in addition to the usual plowing and planting to have quick feed for the heifers coming into production. As his right hand helper, Mr. Phillips has a married son, Charles B., with him.

For the time being all live together in the new home. A younger son Allan was struck by polio some months ago but is much improved.

There are now 37 head of Holstein cattle of all ages. There will be 26 of them milking by late summer which will mark the third anniversary of their move South. Along Dutchman's Creek lie bottomlands so far used for growing quick crops to supplement grazing on the upland pasture. Most of this will be put in pasture sod also. The plan to have enough more acres in pasture than required for grazing so that it will also produce all the hay requirement. The bottomlands will be especially valuable for summer grazing in dry weather.

"By this arrangement," Mr. Phillips said, "we can avoid overgrazing. It's too hot here in mid-summer for the cool weather grasses and clover. By having plenty of sod the ground will be shaded and much cooler. It will take up and use more of the rain we get. It is very foolish to graze sod down to the ground. It would be far better to keep the cattle in the barnlot and feed them hay during a drought."

The forebearers of Charles Phillips moved into New York from the section of Massachusetts settled by the Pilgrim Fathers. They moved along as the land became thickly settled. Now they have changed direction.

On the present 267-acre tract they enjoy elbow room. They have land making rapid response to wise management.

"During the first winter," Charles said, "the cattle mired down halfway to their knees. See that sod over there? With all the heavy rain recently a cow will make not a dent as she walks on it."

In a little less than three years this man has worked wonders on his land. "We aren't sorry we came," he said with a smile. "People still call us damn Yankees, but they have at least found out it is two words, not just one."

Seaman John Tucker In Mediterranean

Now in the Mediterranean aboard the light cruiser USS Roanoke on her fourth tour of duty is John T. Tucker, samon, USN, son of W. M. Tucker of Route 4, Mocksville.

The Roanoke joined the Sixth Fleet or Oran, Algeria, during the latter part of January and will serve in the Mediterranean for approximately five months before returning to the United States.

During her cruise the Roanoke will participate in training exercises with other units of the Sixth Fleet and will call at a number of well known Mediterranean ports.

President Eisenhower Issues Proclamation

WHEREAS encouraging progress has been made in the last decade in cancer research, in the improvement and expansion of the Nation's cancer facilities and services, and in the education of people to be on the alert for the early signs and symptoms of cancer; and

WHEREAS the activities responsible for the progress have been carried on by both public and private agencies and have resulted in the prolongation of lives and the mitigation of suffering; and

WHEREAS the progress so far made in our fight against cancer supports our hope that science will one day conquer this disease as it has so many others; and

WHEREAS the Congress, by a joint resolution approved March 23, 1953 (52 Stat. 148), authorizes and requests the President to issue annually a proclamation setting apart the month of April at Cancer Control Month:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim the month of April, 1953, as Cancer Control Month; and I invite the Governors of the States, Territories, and the possessions of the United States to issue similar proclamations. I also urge the medical profession, the press, the radio, television and motion picture industry as well as all other interested agencies and individuals to unite during April, 1953, in public dedication to a program for the control of cancer.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused this Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 27th day of March in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-seventh.

AN ETERNAL FORCE

The wind is like the power of God. It is invisible—you can neither see nor touch it. And yet it will carry a sailboat skimming across the waves with all the beauty and grace and freedom of a seagull.

But whereas the wind may die and leave you drifting aimlessly and helplessly with the tide, the strength of God remains eternally steadfast.

It is through the Church that man is given understanding of this Power. For by worshipping God he can acquire the spiritual insight which gives fuel to his soul and purpose for his pursuits.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Carmen Greene won the Mocksville phase of the "World Peace Speaking Contest" held in the school auditorium, March 31. There were four finalists, Carmen, Harrell Powell, Mary Sue Rankin and Keith Tutterow. Mrs. Crenshaw, Mr. Curtis Price and Rev. W. Q. Grigg acted as judges for the event which the whole high school witnessed, and as Mr. Price said as he presented the gold medal to Carmen, the four speakers certainly brought out some very good points in their essays, and it was extremely hard for the judges to decide whose speech was best.

Carmen went to Salisbury Thursday to compete in a higher division of the speaking contest, and she represented Mocksville High very well, although she didn't capture first prize. The exension department of the University of North Carolina sponsored the contest to encourage young people to realize the gravity of the current world situation, and be aware of what the United Nations is trying to accomplish.

Mocksville High baseball team could not solve the pitching of Lewisville's freshman right-hander, Carl Davis, and coupled with a poor showing afield, it spelled defeat by Lewisville last Thursday afternoon, 11-5. Mocksville made three walks and three errors count for five runs in the second inning, but in the fourth frame Lewisville gained the lead by breaking loose for four runs.

Last Friday the senior class did an excellent job of staging their three-act farce, "Faith, Hope and Flarity." Carmen Greene and Betty Spencer were very good as the heroines of the play, always doing the wrong thing at the wrong time and then struggling to get out of the complications

Beta Club Box Supper

The Beta Club of Harmony High School sponsored a box supper Tuesday evening at the Legion Hut. The proceeds will go into the club treasury.

The Harmony activity bus will take the Beta Club members to Asheville on April 10 to a district meeting. Outstanding speakers will be heard and a banquet will be held at the Vanderbilt Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Hayes spent the Easter holidays at Rural Hall, the guests of her brothers, John and Farris Algood.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Keller and daughter, Pat, left recently for New York for a few days vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moore and two sons attended a birthday dinner Sunday in Mooresville, given for his aunt, Mrs. Harlen Craven.

Recent guests of Mrs. J. L. Grose were her children Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Buchanan and son of Boone; Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Grose and son of Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Campbell and son, daughter and son-in-law of Winston-Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Millsap and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gilbert of Statesville; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Grose and two daughters they caused. Harrell Powell, with his heavy English accent, provided a lot of comedy, especially when he was flirting with both Billie Harmon and Phyllis Green. Lloyd Farthing, Evelyn Griffin, "Mutt" Sain and Jimmy Anderson, completed the excellent cast, which carried the always laughing audience through the most hilarious three acts ever presented in the new auditorium. The play took in approximately $190. Keith Tutterow, representing the senior class and the cast, presented the play directors, Miss Alexander and Mrs. Crenshaw, with gifts, expressing the group's appreciation for the aid given them.

There was no school Easter Monday, and everyone was happy to get the first vacation since Christmas. Another sign of approaching summer is that there are only 32 more days of school until summer vacation.

LIBRARY LORE

By Blanche Hanes Clement
Davie County Librarian

It was your librarian's privilege and pleasure to attend the formal dedication service of the new Winston - Salem and Forsyth County Public Library.

Librarians and trustees from all over North Carolina were green with envy after being shown into every part of the edifice, from top to bottom.

"I could just stand and stare all day!" I have completely run out of adjectives," etc., were typical of the comments made.

Mr. Ralph Hanes, Chairman of the Library Committee, in presenting the library said: "This library is dedicated to the promotion of enlightened citizenship and the enrichment of personal life. This building stands as a monument to the individuals and organizations whose generosity made it possible. I urge with all the power I possess, with all the enthusiasm I have, that you make of this building now being dedicated and presented, a library in the true sense of the word. See to it that it is properly staffed, and adequately stocked with books, for the enlightenment and enjoyment of our entire citizenship."

This is surely a goal and a challenge for every county in our great state.

One person listening to the program was rejoicing with the owners, making comparisons with her library, dreaming dreams and seeing visions. These dreams will one day become realities for Davie County also, thanks to our own men who dream dreams and see visions.

When Mr. Pax Davis, in an article of 1950, speaking of "the pitiful condition" of the old Carnegie Library in Winston-Salem wrote: "The conditions would melt the heart of an iceberg," did not realize that he was describing the present quarters and facilities of the Davie County Public Library.

Quoting again from the dedication program, Dr. Charles Rush, Librarian for the University of North Carolina, said: "You have literally pulled yourselves up by your own boot straps. The true value of any library rests in its contents and its service. If it is adequate, the library becomes the thermometer of a community's intellectual health."

All of which brings up more talk and food for thought for the people of this county. Are our quarters adequate? Is the content of the library up to par? Is the service efficient and sufficient? What is the degree of our community's intellectual health? Are we satisfied?

Some interesting statistics appeared in the University of North Carolina News Letter of March 11, 1953. At first glance we might preen ourselves and boast. We are the 18th county in the state for the circulation of books during the years 1951-52. But suppose we analyze this.

Our book stock at that date was 7,598 volumes; the circulation was 52,160, which means that statistically speaking, every person in the county read 3.38 books. It also means that we own about a half of a book per capita and the minimum requirement for reasonably good service is three books per capita.

Last year we spent 40c per capita for library service (this includes funds from the state). The minimum requirement for reasonably good service is $1.50.

It would seem from this News Letter story that the people of Davie County are readers and seekers after knowledge. That your library is doing a big job with its facilities. But, statistics do talk.

New books are constantly coming into the library. Some of the most recent additions include: Ferber, "Giant," a story of modern Texas Selinke, "Desiree," a historical novel based on the life of the girl whom Napoleon was once to marry, and who, although jilted by him for Josephine became the Queen of Sweden; Ross, "Proud Kate," the biography of Kate Chase, the daughter of Lincoln's Secretary of the Treasury, who once flouted Washington society, and in the end lost not only her money, but her social standing; Randall, "Mary Lincoln," the author had access to little known manuscripts and letters and from the study of these she claims that many of the myths and legends of Mary Lincoln are cleared up. Hall, "My Island Home," the life story of the man who wrote "Mutiny On The Bounty," and other best sellers. Jackson, "Buffalo Wallow," when Chief Jackson was growing up on the almost empty stretches of Nebraska 70 years ago. Frank,

Yadkin Watershed Proposal Endorsed By Pino Grange

Grange Believes Benefits Outweigh Disadvantages On Yadkin Land Issue

The Pino Grange went on record at a meeting last week favoring the reation of the proposed watershed omission to develop the Yadkin Valley by building a dam.

The motion was passed with 22 favoring and two dissenting. The motion also specified that the grange notify the State Senator and Representative, and newspapers of the stand taken.

This stand is opposite to that of the county commissioners of Davie, Yadkin and Forsyth Counties who have gone on record favoring the sale of the land to private individuals. These counties are opposing the creation of the proposed watershed commission. This legislation is now pending in Raleigh.

Special Services At Presbyterian Church

The Rev. Milton B. Faust of Salisbury will preach at a week of Special Services at the Presbyterian Church in Mocksville, beginning April 19 through April 26, at 8 o'clock in the evening, omitting Saturday.

Advance Beats Mocksville, 2-0

The Advance High baseball team visited Mocksville Tuesday afternoon and took home a 2-0 victory, as proof of their ball playing ability. The opposing pitchers, Naylor for Mocksville, and Barnhardt for the visitors, tossed excellent ball. Advance collected four hits, while Mocksville was banging out four also, one of which was a smashing triple to left field by Farrell Cohen. Barnhardt struck out seven men and Naylor turned the identical trick for the Wildcats.

Until the seventh inning the scoreboard had a long row of zeros on it. However, Advance remedied this by getting three hits plus an error and a walk, which enabled them to score two runs. In the bottom of this same frame, Mocksville nearly pulled through the runs needed to at least tie up the game. Bases were loaded, and the opportunity was perfect for a single, but Barnhardt bore down and forced Charles Messick to ground out.

Yadkin Watershed Proposal Endorsed By Pino Grange

Grange Believes Benefits Outweigh Disadvantages On Yadkin Land Issue

Those favoring the proposal pointed out that the county has received no taxes on this land for almost 15 years and have gotten along very well without it. Also that much of the land has been allowed to grow up in bushes, briars, broomsage, etc., and would cost a lot of money to get it back into production.

Mr. Essic stated that it was the belief of many of the members of the Pino Grange that possibly no more than one-third of the previous owners would be interested in repurchasing the land they sold, and that those probably would not be willing to pay anywhere near the price for which it was sold.

"We realize that it is a long-range program and that it cannot be accomplished over night. However, we see no good reason to oppose construction of the dam and development of the valley when the construction and development seemingly would be financed from other counties and the potential benefits seem to be so great," said Mr. Essic.

FIRE DESTROYS STORE BUILDING

A frame building and approximately $3,000 worth of contents were destroyed by fire shortly after noon Saturday at Ephesus. William S. Peoples was operating a general store in the building owned by Lester Veach. Mr. Peoples only went into this business recently.

It is understood that the store caught as a result of burning trash being blown under the building. The underneath portion was reported to have been almost completely aflame when discovered.

There was no insurance on either the contents or the building.

Rowan Celebrates 200th Anniversary

"Rowan 200," a colorful pageant of Rowan County history from the day the first white man saw it until the present, will be given six performances this week.

The pageant is one of the principal features of Rowan County's celebration of its 200th anniversary which runs from Sunday, April 12 through Saturday, April 18.

The drama made its debut Monday night, and repeat performances will be given each night at 8 o'clock. It is directed by Raleigh Tozer of John B. Rogers Producing Company.

The pageant will be presented against a 300 foot back-drop in the center of the Boyden High School football stadium in Salisbury.

The permanent stands at the field will seat 3,000 spectators. The pageant is employing the talents of 623 amateur actors and actresses from elementary school children to grandpops. They come from all sections of Rowan County. Few of them have had any previous stage experience.

The actors will have strictly pantomime part. The historical action will be carried by five narrators including Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Blackmer, experienced Broadway, Hollywood and television actors. Blackmer is a native of Salisbury and still maintains his home there.

Accompanying the narration and pantomime will be background music by record, organ and the Livingstone College choral union.

Episodes in the drama include John Lawson's exploration of the Yadkin Valley, the arrival of the Scotch - Irish and German immigrants in the middle 1700s, the establishment of Rowan County on April 12, 1753, the role of Rowan as the frontier outpost in the settlement of Western Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee, Rowan's place in the Revolution through the Committee of Safety and the Rowan Resolves, the Spirit of '76, General Greene's visit to Salisbury during his famous retreat, development, the coming of the railroads, the development of a public school system, the coming of the Civil War and Rowan's role, the Ga 90s, the roaring 20s, the World War II, and a finale.

Rotarians View REA Co-op Movie

Rotarians were treated to the showing of the movie produced by the Davie Electric Membership Corporation, at their regular meeting Tuesday.

This movie entitled, "The Campbells Visit The Co-op," was filmed in this area and depicts life along the lines of the local REA co-op. It has received a great deal of publicity and as shown by officials in Raleigh and Washington, D. C.

Dr. Clyde Young had charge of the program and presented J. C. Jones and Mrs. Wynona Johnson who showed and explained the film.

President Paul Blackwelder presided. Special guests included Dean Murray, Junior Rotarian, and Carolyn Smith, pianist.

Cancer Drive Opens Here

A drive to raise $18,000,000 throughout the U. S. to fight cancer was launched last week in Davie County.

The announcement was accompanied by a statement from Dr. H. S. Anderson, campaign chairman of the ACS organization here and a message from ACS.

"The key to success in fighting cancer," Dr. Anderson said "is the volunteer workers. I want to pay tribute to the volunteers in this community who will shoulder the task of raising funds and informing people how they can best guard against cancer."

"The entire program of cancer control hinges on their work. If it were not for their efforts there would be no national $4,100,000 research program; there would be no service program for cancer patients and there certainly would be no chance of people getting the life-saving facts about detecting and curing early cancer."

"We have been assigned a goal of $680 as our share in the national campaign. I want to make sure everyone realizes that this is a minimum figure. We can with a little extra effort, exceed our quota. I am sure that all residents of this community will join me in this objective."

Dr. Anderson pointed out that every contribution, even as little as a dime, is helpful. Ten cents buys a test tube. Twenty dollars will support a research bed for one day. Five hundred dollars will buy a special microscope and $65,000 will provide a million volt x-ray machine.

"We know everyone will support the crusade with increased response this year."

Of every dollar contributed to the American Cancer Society, 60 cents remains in this state for a division program, 25 cents goes to a national research program, and 15 cents is used by the national headquarters for preparing films, publications, exhibits, etc., for professional and public education, for fellowships for young physicians, for planning and supervision of a program of service to cancer patients, and for administration and fund raising.

Mocksville P.-T. A. Officers Installed

The local Parent-Teachers Association met Monday night in the high school auditorium. The president, Mrs. George Rowland, presided.

The Rev. Alvis Cheshire gave the devotionals. The Glee Club directed by Miss Frazier, gave several selections.

The attendance prize was awarded Mrs. C. L. Farthing's fourth grade.

At the business session the president asked for volunteer workers for the pre-school clinic to be held in April. Mr. Farthing reported that an adding machine would be purchased for the elementary school; and a sound system would be installed in the high school auditorium.

The retiring president expressed her appreciation for the support rendered her by committees, officers and members the past year.

Officers were elected for the new school year and installed by Mrs. W. F. Robinson as follows: President, Mrs. Paul Backwelder; vice president, Mrs. A. M. Kimbrough, Jr.; secretary, Mrs. Gail Sanford; and treasurer, Mrs. Bryan Sell.

LOCAL BREEDERS TO HAVE SUPERIOR SIRE

Davie County Cooperative Breeders Assn., Inc., announced today that their Jersey Bull Committee has unanimously approved the purchase of Donna Dandy Sulton, R. J. 480287, by American Breeders Service for use in artificial insemination service rendered local dairymen by their organization.

"Donna" to use his short name, is a big, deep bodied, straight, solid dark fawn full, classified "Very Good." He was listed in the February 25th Jersey Bulletin as a Superior Sire with 10 tested daughters averaging 9,966 lbs. of milk, 5.1 per cent test, and 505 lbs. of butterfat and 11 classified daughters averaging 85.68 percent.

"Donna" was purchased from Edward L. Young, of Florence, S. C. He was bred by J. L. Hutchison, Jr., Happy Valley Farm, Rossville, Ga. He was born Sept. 11, 1940, and is now almost six years old. Although eleven daughters have completed lactation only 9 dams have records, which gives "Donna" a nine daughter - dam comparison American Index of 10,701 lbs. of milk, 4.70 per cent test and 503 lbs. of butterfat on a 305 day, 2X, mature equivalent basis.

Davie County Cooperative Breeders Assn., Inc., will furnish service from "Donna" to dairymen in the county at no advance

Rabid Dog Killed, Another Suspected

All dogs in Fulton and Jerusalem Townships, South of U. S. 64, have been placed under quarantine as the result of a rabid dog killed in that vicinity.

Carl E. Shell, acting for the Davie County Health Department, served notice that all dogs in the Fulton and Jerusalem Township areas, South of U. S. 64, must be securely confined on the premises of the owner or other approved location. Dogs in these areas may leave premises only when on leash and under the control of the owner or other responsible person. No dog may be removed from this area without permission from the rabies inspector of the Health Office.

Mr. Shell pointed out that this quarantine would remain in effect until further notice. Also any dog running loose is subject to be killed by any peace officer.

The rabid dog was first discovered near Jerusalem Church on April 4. This dog wandered around in this area for 24 hours before it was finally killed on April 5. Laboratory analysis on this subject showed positive rabies.

Three people are now taking anti-rabic treatment as the result of being indirectly exposed to this dog. Another dog was reported in this community having the symptoms of rabies, but cannot be located for positive proof.

Mr. Shell stated that any dog known or suspected to have been bitten by either of these two dogs should be killed, or closely confined for observation. The incubation period for rabies is from one to three weeks.

Dr. C. W. Young, County Rabies Inspector, this week announced a series of clinics for dog vaccination throughout the county. This schedule appears elsewhere in this newspaper.

Mr. Shell stated that anyone bitten by a dog should report it at once to the Health Department to that proper steps may be taken to determine whether or not the dog was rabid.

PROTECT YOUR STOCK FROM DRAUGHT With a Shale Block Silo

Remember the draught of 1952? And the money you had to spend for stock feed during the winter months?
A god way to avoid such emergencies is to build your shale block silo now. Silage produces more digestible nutrients at lower cost than any other feed except good pasture—and can be stored for years in a shale block silo. This means you will be prepared for future draughts and crop failures.
A shale block silo is a handsome addition to your farm. It is permanent, fire proof and withstands wind and rain. It is easy to build, takes little or no maintenance and is amazingly low in original cost. Start building your silo with Statesville silo block now. It will save you money year after year.
Statesville Brick Company will be glad to send you a free booklet showing how to build your silo and listing the materials needed. Write or phone Statesville Brick Company today.

EDDIE ARNOLD recently was honored with the presentation of an appreciation scroll from the - boys at BOY'S HARBOR, LA PORTE, TEX.
- Not much change in the way you picked 'em this week... first four still the same... but WEBB PIERCE'S "That's Me Without You" jumped from 8th to 5th place. Here's the way you picked the ten for us to play on the WCKY HILLBILLY HIT PARADE.
1. Kaw Liga (1) Hank Williams
 2. No Help Wanted (2) Carlisles
 3. Your Cheatin Heart (3) Hank Williams
 4. Fool Such As I (4) Hank Snow
 5. That's Me Without You (5) Webb Pierce
 6. Eddy's Song (5) Eddie Arnold
 7. Goin' Steady (7) F. Young
 8. I Couldn't Keep From Crying (10) Marty Robbins
 9. Last Waltz (9) Webb Pierce
 10. Hot Toddy (-) Red Foley
- Here's a new tip to watch. It's coming up fast "Knot Hole" by the CARLISLES. And that's all there is for this week... so until next week same place... when we once more bring you the tunes you picked for us to play on THE JAMBOROE and HILLBILLY HIT PARADE, where your friends and neighbors gather each night it's a friendly...
- So long,
Nelson and Marty

Sometimes it's tough to see far ahead...

Trying to see way out ahead of yourself—to visualize what might be in store—is never easy. So the temptation to let Tomorrow and Tomorrow take care of itself is a soft, short-sighted way out.

But when you stop and consider for a moment you realize this practical world we live in must be dealt with by practical means.

And so the inevitable problems of old age, retirement, large expenses—illness—in short, Tomorrow—must be prepared for, with money.

One of the very best ways to save money is by buying Bonds through your Payroll Savings Plan or the Bond-A-Month Plan. The Payroll Plan buys your Bonds directly from your salary.

The Bond-A-Month Plan allows you to buy them regularly out of your checking account. Both pay you $4 for every $3 invested!

And when your money makes more money by just settin' still—that, brother, is really looking ahead to a grand future!

SAVE FOR YOUR FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE—BUY U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Uncle Sam made the Bonds you own an even better bargain!

Now Your Maturing Series E Bonds Can Earn Interest 10 Years More at 3%!

PRESENT TREASURY REGULATIONS make it possible for you to collect a return of as much as 80% on the Series E Savings Bonds you already own!

For now those Bonds which you invested in 10 years ago can go right on earning interest for ten more years without your doing a thing about it! That is true not only of the Bonds which you have held for ten years, but any other Series E Bonds which you have invested in in the meantime. And any Series E Bonds which you obtain now will also enjoy the extended earning period. They will start earning interest sooner and mature earlier, too, paying 3%, compounded semiannually.

The Bond you got for $18.75 can now pay you $33.67... a $37.50 Bond will be worth $67.34... and so on.

Invest regularly in Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Ask your pay office to save as little as 25c a week for you, or as much as you are able.

If you can save just $5 a week regularly through the Plan, in five years you will have $1,367.90... in 9 years and 8 months, you'll have $2,850.70... and in 19 years and 8 months, $6,872.45!

So join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work today. Or start the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.

If you want to be paid your interest as current income—invest in 3% Series H

If you want a good, sound investment which pays you your interest by check every six months, ask at your bank about United States Government Series H Bonds. Series H is a new current income Bond available in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Redeemable at par after 6 months and on 30 days' notice. Matures in 9 years and 8 months and pays an average 3% interest per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semiannually by Treasury check. Series H may be purchased at any bank, annual limit $20,000.

Miss Betty Jo Riddle

Weds John C. Hartman

In Bethlehem Church

Miss Betty Jo Riddle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady V. Riddle of Advance, Route 1, became the bride of John Charles Hartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hartman of Mocksville, at 7 p. m., Friday, April 10, in Bethlehem Methodist Church. The Rev. George Bruner performed the ceremony.

Mrs. R. B. Bunch, Jr., of Bristol, Va., sister of the groom, organist, and Mrs. Taylor Foster, soloist, gave a program of wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pale blue suit with which she used navy and white accessories. She carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid.

Mrs. Grady Holder was her sister's matron-of-honor and only attendant. She was attired in a pink suit and carried a nosegay of carnations.

G. A. Hartman was his son's best man. Ushers were Vestal Riddle, brother of the bride, and Guy Hartman, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Farmington High School and is employed by P. H. Hanes Knitting Company in Winston-Salem.

The groom is a graduate of the Mocksville High School and attended State College, Raleigh two years. He has just returned from service in the U. S. Armed Forces where he served as Corporal in Preventive Medical Survey Detachment in Germany. He is now associated in business with Hartman Electric Service.

Hayride Friday Night

A hayride sponsored by the Youth Center of Mockville and directed by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hunter, was enjoyed by a large group of teen-agers last Friday night. The group left the Rotary Hut at 7:30 o'clock in the D. C. Rankin truck which was filled with straw.

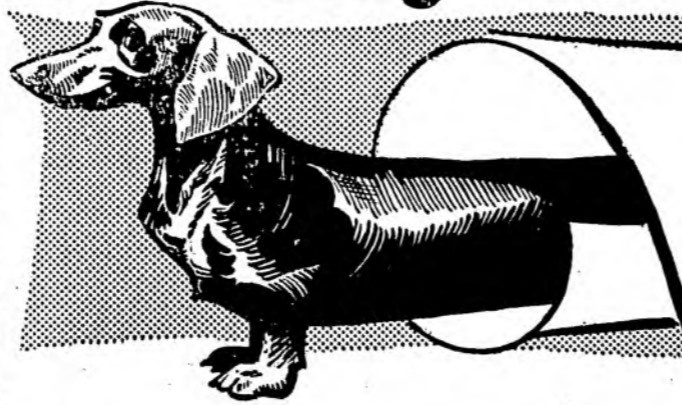

Young people attending had an excellent time and are looking forward to another hayride the Youth Center will have at an early date.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

By Mary Lee Taylor

Chocolate Cream Pie

Broadcast: April 18, 1953

1 package chocolate pudding powder 1/4 cup water
2 eggs, separated 8-inch baked pastry shell
1 cup Fat Evaporated Milk 1/4 cup sugar

Put pudding powder into a saucepan. Mix in slowly a mixture of slightly beaten egg yolks, milk and water. Heat quickly to steaming hot while stirring. Cook and stir over low heat until thick. Cook and stir 3 minutes longer. Cover and cool thoroughly. Put into a cold baked 8-inch pastry shell made with pie crust mix. Beat egg whites until stiff. Beat in sugar gradually. Put on filling, spreading to the edge of crust to seal in the filling. Bake in slow oven (325°) about 15 minutes, or until light brown. Cool thoroughly before cutting with a wet knife.

Fun is where you find it!

THESE AMERICAN MARINES are taking a break from the grim side of soldiering by harmonizing under an oriental parasol in a jeep. And the fact that they're on a bleak Korean road doesn't seem to bother them. For even that far away from home they're clothed and fed and cared for as no other fighting men in the world are.

You're helping provide this care—in a very important way—when you are investing regularly in United States Savings Bonds. For by your Bonds you're helping to keep America economically strong enough to do the very best for her fighting men. That's because every time you invest in a Bond you are building up your own financial security. And only when you are strong and secure can your country be strong, too.

Ask at your company's payroll office about the Payroll Savings Plan that makes saving easier because it saves something out of your pay check before you have a chance to spend it. Or join the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.

Here's how E Bonds now earn more money for you!

Now safe, sure U. S. Series E Savings Bonds pay an even better return than ever before . . . thanks to 3 brand new money-earning features.

1 Now every Series E Bond you get begins earning 3%, compounded semiannually, when held to maturity.

2 Every Series E Bond you own can now go on earning interest for 10 more years after it reaches the original maturity date.

3 All maturing E Bonds automatically earn interest at the new, higher rate (average 3% compounded semiannually) for 10 more years.

Start now! Invest more savings in Series E Bonds—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank!

County Historical Society

Hardly a week passes but what a request is received for information pertaining to Davie County and its history. For the past two or three years, the Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce has been answering these requests by sending a pamphlet that gives a very brief sketch and description of this county.

Davie County is one of the richest counties in the state in historical background. However, this field has never been thoroughly explored and as a result little is known about the history of the county.

Each week that goes by someone dies in Davie County whose knowledge of past events would be of the utmost importance to preserve. In innumerable instances, valuable historical documents have been destroyed and lost forever because of ignorance of their worth. These types of events cannot be recalled. The result cannot be altered. The only course of action lies with the present and in the future.

May counties throughout North Carolina and elsewhere are organizing County Historical Societies. These societies band together a group of people interested in collecting and preserving the history of their county. Through cooperative effort, much is accomplished and the people made more conscious of their local heritage.

A county historical society takes the lead and responsibility of collecting and preserving such items as the manuscripts of individuals that have historical importance, church records, school records, newspapers, and the many other items containing historical information. After the society, through the efforts of its individual members, have collected and assembled this information in a central location, it would be possible to compile an authoritative history of Davie County.

For some time now the organization of this type of historical society has been considered for this county. It is possible that positive action may be taken in this direction if enough interest is expressed in such a project.

Driver Training Program

Commissioner of Insurance, Waldo C. Cheek, has announced the approval of a Young Driver Discount Plan filed by an insurance company. Under the plan, bodily injury and property damage liability premiums applicable to private passenger automobiles, will be reduced where evidence is produced to show that all under age 25 drivers of the insured automobile who live in the insured's household, have successfully completed high school driver education courses which meet certain requirements.

Discounts range from five to 15 per cent, depending upon the amount of classroom instruction and behind-the-wheel practice driving, and apply to high school courses only.

The accident rate of our young drivers is one of the most serious and pressing public problems that faces the nation today. The National Safety Council reports that the death rate from traffic accidents among persons 15 through 24 years of age in 1951 was 35.3 per 100,000 people in the 15-24 age group. This is a far higher rate than is found in any other ten year age bracket.

Despite the relatively small percentage of under age 25 drivers, this group is causing one-fourth of the total fatal accidents and the ratio is becoming progressively worse.

One of the best ways to stemming the tide of accidents is by educating teen age drivers to operate automobiles in a safe and sane manner. According to the National Education Association, there are approximately 25,000 high schools in this country and only about 6,000 are offering some type of classroom and practice driving instruction.

It is estimated that about 2,000,000 youngsters become of legal driving age each year and about 350,000 students receive driver training annually. The National Safety Council states that 12,100 drivers under age 25 were involved in fatal accidents in 1951. This is 28 per cent of the total drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1951.

This newspaper goes along with the statement made by the insurance company in filing this discount plan: "those who are honestly interested in making our streets and highways safer, must see to it that more and better driver training programs are installed in our high schools. It is hoped that the tangible reward resulting from the Young Driver Discount Plan will encourage educators and school boards to accelerate their driver training plans."

Get Together, Boys!

The American Way

THE THREE GRACES

By George Peck

The management of the Vanderbilt Hotel, New York City, recently helped launch a movement that bids fair to sweep the nation like a prairie fire.

The idea of this movement originated in Mamaroneck, New York, where early in March, the clergyman and merchants of that community arranged for the printing of Roman Catholic, Jewish and Protestant prayers on the menus of 30 restaurants so that patrons might express thanks and ask for Divine blessing while waiting for food. These prayers were written by clergymen of each of the three faiths.

According to Arthur Dunn, Jr., Executive Secretary of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce, its 18 directors endorsed the idea with "enthusiastic unanimity." So well was it received by Mamaroneck restaurant patrons that the Laymen's National Committee has taken on the job of spreading the movement to every community of the nation.

It was a "natural" for the Laymen's National Committee to undertake this big task. As sponsors of National Sunday School Week each Spring and National Bible Week each fall, this organization has been working diligently to impress upon our American citizens to establish and keep alive faith in a Power greater than their own. It was also in keeping that the first move to spread this movement over the nation should be made in the very hotel in which the Laymen's National Committee has its headquarters.

And so, on Friday, March 20; Thomas J. Kelly, II, General Manager of the Vanderbilt Hotel, played host as a luncheon attended by the Rev. Father Edward Rathgeber, St. Malachy's Church; Rabbi Morris H. Finer, Yeshiva University; and Dr. James Fyfe Loughton, Rugby Congregational Church. Simultaneously, cards bearing graces of the three great faiths were placed on each table in the hotel's four dining rooms. The prayers are as follows:

CATHOLIC: "Bless us, O Lord, and these Thy gifts, which we are about to receive from Thy bounty. Through Christ our Lord. Amen."

JEWISH: "Lift up your hands toward the sanctuary and bless the Lord. Blessed art Thou, O Lord our God, King of the universe, who bringest forth bread from the earth. Amen."

PROTESTANT: "Bless, O Lord this food to our use, and us to Thy service, and make us ever mindful of the needs of others, in Jesus' Name. Amen."

The luncheon was covered by reporters and photographers of the press, and as a result, several of the New York newspapers hailed the event as one that would have far-reaching and salutary results, while congratulating the Vanderbilt Hotel management on its progressive policy of providing this extra service to its guests.

This reporter interviewed Mr. Kelley after the ceremony. He expressed his gratification at the way the grace cards had been received by patrons. "Several guests," he said, "made a special point of seeking me out to express their thanks for our having placed these grace cards on the tables.

"We felt our patrons would like them," Mr. Kelley added, "and now that we are assured that they do, these grace cards will be a regular practice at the Vanderbilt. Because of the enthusiastic way in which they were received, I have recommended that the seven other Manager hotels follow our example and the will shortly do so. I hope that hotels and restaurants across the nation will take up the idea because many people who wish to say grace are unaware just how to say it. These cards, therefore, serve a most useful purpose."

60 Second Sermons

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "A child will drop a handful of gold to reach for a piece of tinsel."—Eff Thomas.

The mountaineer came to town once a year. On the occasion of one visit he saw, for time, a strange yellow fruit. He asked what it was.

"Those are bananas," explained the merchant. "They are a fruit that grows in the tropics—and very good eating, too."

The mountaineer looked the bananas over curiously and walked away.

"Here," called the storekeeper, "don't you want to try a banana. I'll give you one so you can taste how good it is."

"No," replied the mountaineer, "I got so may tastes now that I can't satisfy, there ain't no use addin' another one."

A mature man knows the value of what he has and what he does not have. Years alone did not make him a man. He was a child as long as the things he did not have appeared more desirable than what he possessed. Many men and women have wrecked their lives, dropping handfuls of pure gold, to reach childishly for glittering tinsel. The most they could hope to gain would be another handful of gold which they already possessed. A mature man refines the gold that he has. He does not continually prospect for more.

"LET GOD BE TRUE"

By PAUL SIKES

Jericho Church of Christ

Did it ever occur to you that the best product in the world will remain in the warehouse unless it is sold? In order to prevent such a situation the manufacturers of this product hires salesmen to get the people sold on this particular item. In a way the church of our Lord may be considered a "product" to be sold to men. The apostles Peter and Paul tell Christians how to conduct themselves toward those out of Christ. "But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts; and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear." (1 Peter 3:15) "Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man." (Colossians 4: 6).

1. A GOOD SALESMAN MUST KNOW HIS PRODUCT. Thus a Christian must know Jesus and what He will do for men. Before we seek to win others we must consecrate ourselves to Christ.

2. A GOOD SALESMAN MUST KNOW HOW TO MAKE GOOD USE OF HIS TIME. So a Christian must make the most of the time which is "the stuff life is made of." The principle is found in Ephesians 5:16 — "Redeeming the time . . ."

3. A GOOD SALESMAN MUST BE ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT HIS PROJECT. We can not sell others unless we are first sold ourselves. Enthusiasm like lukewarmness on our part will be contagious.

4. A GOOD SALESMAN MUST KNOW HOW TO SELL. It has been said that there is a knack to selling. We should get busy and cultivate that knack and win more souls to Christ.

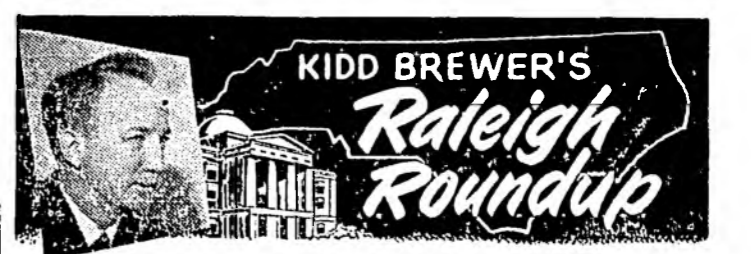

5. A GOOD SALESMAN MUST HAVE AN INCENTIVE TO SELL. Just as the candidates in the "Campaign of Progress" had an incentive to sell subscriptions to this paper. So Christ has told us that we are doing His will as we win souls to Him. Christ needs more good salesman. You can be one of them today.

U.D.C. MEETING

The April U. D. C. Meeting will be held Thursday, April 23, at 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. J. K. Sheek, Sr.

Stocks of five grains in the U. S. on Jan. 1, were 123.3 million short tons, about 10 per cent above the comparable figure at the beginning of 1952 and 23 per cent above the 1945-49 average.

community, I suggest writing to the Laymen's National Committee, Vanderbilt Hotel, New York City. Full information as to how to get started will be cheerfully furnished by that organization as part of its program "For God and For America."

ABOUT TIME . . . Wonder if one of President Eisenhower's good friends will get his private ear during the Salisbury visit this week for the following: "Look, Ike, a lot of down South here really went to bat for you. During the campaign we told our folks that Democratic closets in Washington were literally rattling with skeletons. That's what we told 'em, Ike, but the only mess! so far in the three months of gopher rule resulted in the Republican chairman resigning his job. You all got to get on the ball. Come up with a scandal real soon—even if'n it ain't nothin' but on old rag-tail, McCarthy - eaten thing. Then about reducing wasteful expenses, reducing taxes, and all them things, and——!"

BONDS . . . Look for a lot of talk within the next two weeks on the matter of bonds to be voted on and arranged for by the Legislature. There is a strong group of senators willing, though not eager to submit the 50-million-dollar school bond issue to the people. This same group will vote for 15 millions in bonds for State mental institutions. But these legislators are wholly unwilling to submit to the people the matter of about 15 million dollars for buildings and other improvements for the Greater University and other State-supported colleges.

Consensus is you will almost certainly vote on the 50 million for school buildings on the separate but equal basis. You may vote on the mental institution bonds—if this becomes necessary—but the college bond money is going to have rough sledding indeed—as you will observe within the next day or two.

REFRESHING . . . It seems as if Gov. William Umstead is determined not to pick any fights with the Legislature. Newsmen visiting him last week in one of his rare press conferences gave him an opportunity to administer a little handslapping to the legislative branch which runs right by his door.

What, they asked, did he think of the secrecy law recently passed? The Governor was quick to reply that he could see it might be necessary at times to have closed meetings. But he explained, he is in charge of the executive, has nothing to do with the legislative, and what the Legislature does is the Legislature's business, not his'n.

Now he is radically different from his predecessor on that one. No Governor of this century ever got more from his Legislature than did W. Kerr Scott. Yet he never ceased his running attack on the legislators as lacking vision, being retroactive, etc. Within the past few years it has become exceedingly popular for the executive to take unmerciful digs at the legislative and, of course, vice versa. The people seem to enjoy having their lawmakers jumped on with both feet.

President Truman used this knowledge very adroitly, pointing out the Congress' weaknesses and thus taking the public's attention off his own—for a while.

We all recognize that members of the Legislature and the Congress are about as close to the PEOPLE as one can be without literally being the PEOPLE. Yet Scott and Truman during the years from 1948 to 1952 gave the impression that they, rather than the lawmaking bodies, REALLY represented the people.

BEARDS . . . At recent legislative hearings held in Raleigh the counties of Rowan and Durham, either or both, have been well represented. The beards attest to that. In every group, there are at least three or four Ulysses S. Grants and Chester A. Arthurs, with a goodly sprinkling of Teddy Roosevelts. Rowan County is having its bicentennial, while Durham is observing its centennial. Both are deep in the brush.

Strange to say, the appearance of these visitors seems to add dignity to the hearings. They are man of serious mien. It is as if the voice of the past were sitting there in silent judgment of the modern-day doings. One rather expects them to stand and come forth with flowery oratory. But they merely sit—sit (and look wise as all get-out) and meditatively stroke those beards and twirl those pink mustaches. Well, they look like MEN all right, whether they quit themselves as such or not, and a poker face is easy when you have a beard to hide it.

We would say that in the counties of Durham and Rowan more than 500 men are letting their whiskers grow. The barbers are starving. A few months ago it was Thomasville, Boone, Winston-Salem. You would think that out of the hundreds and hundreds of men wearing beards these days, a few dozen of them—at least two or three—would like them so well they would keep them growing, cultivated, trimmed, and spic-and-span forevermore. Only 50 years ago a large percentage of the male population sported hirsute adornment of various types.

But the hundreds of bearded men we have in North Carolina within the past three years, only one—a gentleman in Thomasville whose grandchildren like it—has seen fit to make a permanent thing of it. All of which demonstrates graphically—on the face of it at least—progress made in these parts during the past half-century.

CONSTITUTION . . . They aren't saying much about it publicly, but there is growing sentiment in the State Senate to set up the legal machinery for calling a Constitutional Convention for the purpose of completely rewriting the State Constitution.

The thought in many quarters here is that the Constitution is out of date, has been too much amended, and wasn't too hot when originally written. Feeling is that the weakness of the Constitution stems from its being largely forced upon us as we lay prostrate after the War Between the States. It was written in 1868, barely three years after the end of the War. If plans now developing move to fruition, this could be the big news item of this Legislature.

OLD TIMES, SQUARE . . . A Raleigh scribe began his last Saturday's feature with the story about the "old time country squire who explained the meaning or the Latin phrase Status Quo by saying it was just Latin for being a helluva fix." The writer went on to say the term affords a fairly accurate description of the 1953 General Assembly as it moves into its 14th week.

Be that as it may, glib use of the term "squire" held us more than status quo. We used to be acquainted with many more squires—or squares, as we called them—than Latin phrases. The important elderly fellows in the county were referred to as "Squares." There was Square Brown, for instance, Square Green, Square Cook, and at least 25 darkies really named Square just as Dean Colvard, now Dean of Agriculture at State College, is really named Dean.

About 30 years ago right along now we were practicing on our high school play. The heroine was in London. Don't ask why she was there, for we don't know. Her brother had just arrived from New York. She was to greet him gushingly and then to inquire: "How's Old Times Square?" You know, sophisticated that way. Well, boys she could never get it right in the rehearsals, always reading it as follows: "How's old times, Square?"

That's the way she saw it, read it, and memorized it—the teacher, others in the cast and the principal notwithstanding. She didn't know Times Square from a side of sole leather. The little girl could never see it any way except that she was asking Square about old times.

Finally, driven to hair-tearing desperation, the teacher had her say: "How's everything around New York?" That not only made sense to her and the rest of us, but delivered the heroine in that high school play of 30 years ago from what the old "squire" might refer to as being strictly status quo.

A revival will begin at Cornatzer Baptist Church on Sunday, April 19, at 11 a.m. The Rev. B. B. Nicks of Virginia will preach and Fletcher White of Winston-Salem will direct the choir. Everyone is invited to attend these services each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Harmony

By MRS. RALPH V. MOORE

Officers Are Elected At Barbecue Dinner

At an annual barbecue dinner in Harmony, North Iredell Post 113, American Legion, unanimously re-elected O. B. Welch commander. A World War I veteran, commander Welch is also principal of the Harmony school.

Other officers elected for the coming year are: R. F. Rash, World War I, first vice commander; Burlie Ladd, World War II, second vice commander; John Bullard, World War II, third vice commander; Burriss Tutlerow, World War II, adjutant; Carl Watts, World War I, finance officer; J. Pierce Van Hoy, World War II, service officer; R. J. Sloan, World War I, chaplain; Clyde Jenkins, World War II, sergeant-at-arms; Claude Gaither, World War II, historian; and Bristol Tharpe, World War I, guard-ianship.

Installation will be at the next regular meeting, the first Tuesday in May.

Plans were made for enlarging the Post's hut. The project will include the building of a kitchen and bathroom facilities. A total of $85 was donated toward the project at the meeting.

H. D. Club Meeting

The Harmony Home Demonstration Club met Friday afternoon in the club room with Mrs. Lewis Hager presiding.

Miss Maude Searcy's 9th and 10th grade Home Ec classes gave a fashion show modeling their dresses for the club.

Mrs. Nancy James Myers gave a very helpful demonstration on "Storage for the Convenient Home," using pictures and slides to illustrate.

Mrs. D. E. Hayes, Red Cross chairman, reported $141 received for Red Cross.

The Cancer Drive will be held in April. Reports were made by the following leaders:

Clothing: Mrs. Ralph Moore and Mrs. R. H. Sloan.

Arts and Craft: Miss Maude Searcy, who showed several types of corsages and presented them to the club president, Home Agent and several club members.

Home Management: Mrs. R. C. Foster.

Garden: Mrs. Victor Crosby and Mrs. Sam Tomlin.

The president appointed a membership committee as follows: Mrs. Ralph Moore, Mrs. Troy Powers, Mrs. E. D. Watts, Mrs. Charlie Jenkins and Mrs. Lee Davis.

Ways and Means Committee: Miss Maude Searcy, chairman; Mrs. Graham York, Mrs. Charles Dearmon and Mrs. N. S. Gaither, Sr.

Refreshments were served in the living room of the Home Ec Building from a long tea table covered with a linen cut work cloth. A bowl of white iris centered the table and blue candles in crystal holders were at either end of the table. Dainty cookies, mints and lime punch were served by the following hostesses: Misses Maude Searcy, Nannie and Edmonia Powell, Mesdames O. B. Welch, J. F. Tomlinson and Ralph Moore. The Home Ec girls arranged the flowers for the meeting.

Harmony High played Union Grove High in baseball Friday afternoon at Harmony. Harmony won with a 4 to 3 victory. Harmony has played four games and is still undefeated. Jerry Jones was pitcher.

WCS Meeting

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lee Davis. Mrs. Harold Colhoun and Mrs. W. A. Jones were co-hostesses.

The program was conducted by Mrs. J. C. Daniels. A playlet "Have Thine Own Way Lord," was presented by Mesdames Lee Jones, Charlie Jenkins, Ralph Moore, Norris Feimster and J. C. Daniels. Mrs. R. H. Sloan, president, presided at the business session. Officers were elected for the coming year as follows:

President, Mrs. H. H. Sloan; vice president, Mrs. J. C. Daniels; Recording secretary, Mrs. Charles Jenkins; Treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Moore; promotion secretary, Mrs. N. S. Gaither, Jr., secretary of Missionary education, Miss Sara Marie Neese and Mrs. Lee Jones; secretary of C. S. R., Mrs. Burl Gaither; and secretary of spiritual life, Mrs. H. M. Wellman.

During the social hour the hostess served a congealed salad, pineapple upside down cake and punch.

Smith Grove

Mrs. O. C. Wall of Thomasville is spending several weeks here with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Foster. Mrs. C. B. Beck is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Bowles. Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Talor, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Atkinson and Mrs. Albion Atkinson of Winston-Salem attended church here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Groce spent last Thursday in Winston-Salem, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Groce.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hendrix and son, Stephen were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Butcher.

Several from our community are attending revival services at Macedonia Church. Rev. Howard Chadwick of Fairview Moravian Church, Winston-Salem, is the guest minister.

Mrs. Dora Foster and Mrs. James Ward and children spent last Friday in Winston-Salem.

Mrs. T. H. Cash and son, Thomas Cash, Jr., visited Mrs. F. A. Naylor recently.

Bill Armworthy, who spent a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Armworthy, left by plane Saturday for Seattle, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Markland and children were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Markland in Advance.

Birthday Dinner

Mrs. J. T. Angell entertained at a dinner last Sunday honoring her mother, Mrs. W. L. Hanes on her 88th birthday. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sheek and sons, Frank and Dickie, of Coolmeade; Mr. and Mrs. Grant Smith and daughters, Rosalie and Kathy Fay and Miss Cora Austin of Mocksville; Mrs. O. C. Wall of Thomasville; Mr. and Mrs. J. M.

Groce; Mesdames F. A. Naylor, J. H. Foster, and Robert Conrad.

WCS Meeting

Mrs. H. F. Bowden was hostess to the W. S. C. S. of Smith Grove Methodist Church at her home in Mocksville, last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. J. H. Foster, secretary of spiritual life, conducted the devotionals. Mrs. W. R. Beeding, Mrs. H. G. Sheek and Mrs. James Ward were in charge of the program.

At the conclusion of the business session, Mrs. Bowden, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Hooper, served a salad plate with cake and coffee to 12 members and one visitor.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Comer.

Grain supplies in the four principal exporting countries, the U. S., Canada, Argentina and Australia, on Jan. 1, exceeded those of the same period last year by 16 per cent.

LEARNING TO LIVE WITH THE WEATHER

IN THE SPRING, MARK TWAIN ONCE TOLD SOME FRIENDS, "I HAVE COUNTED ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SIX KINDS OF WEATHER IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS."

WITH OR WITHOUT THE COOPERATION OF THE WEATHER, THE SPRING PLANTING SEASON IS WELL ALONG — AND MILLIONS OF HARD-WORKING AMERICAN FARMERS ARE PLANNING AHEAD FOR THE PERIOD OF GROWTH AND CULTIVATION. THE FARMER HAS LEARNED TO LIVE WITH THE WEATHER, KNOWING THAT HARD WORK AND INTELLIGENT PLANNING WILL PAY.

MILLIONS OF AMERICAN FAMILIES LIKEWISE HAVE LEARNED TO LIVE WITH THE ECONOMIC WEATHER. THEY KNOW THAT HARD WORK, PRUDENT SPENDING, PUTTING SOMETHING BY FOR THE FUTURE IN LIFE INSURANCE AND SAVINGS, CHARTS A CLEARER COURSE TO FAMILY WELL-BEING AND SECURITY.

Farm and Home News

Swine Disease
Vesicular Exanthema Disease is a virus disease that almost without exception has been traced to hogs fed on raw garbage. This disease produces blisters that may appear on the snout, nose tips and on the feet of hogs. The disease is similar to Foot and Mouth Disease but it does not affect cattle whereas Foot and Mouth Disease affects both hogs and cattle.

Vesicular Exanthema can be prevented by cooking garbage at a temperature of 212 degrees for 30 minutes. Some farmers have become alarmed because of the recent outbreak of this disease in the state, but farmers should not become alarmed if they do not feed raw garbage or purchase hogs of unknown origin.

POULTRY SUGGESTIONS
Managing Pullets For Egg Production

The objective of every poultryman producing eggs is to put the laying house a flock of healthy, well-developed pullets when they are approximately six months of age. Perhaps well-bred, pullorum clean, day-old chicks were purchased at a cost of 30c to 35c each. The chick plus feed and other necessary cost items will total approximately $2 for each pullet when she is ready to begin laying, thus, managing each flock, regardless of size, is a challenge to the individual grower to use his best judgment and initiative.

Fowl Pox Vaccination
Fowl pox, or sore head, is caused by a virus. In order to avoid this disease the young chickens 10 to 14 weeks of age should be vaccinated with the fowl pox vaccine, which gives a permanent immunity. The stick method, using the web of the wing, is preferred for giving the vaccine. Most poultry supply dealers carry this vaccine in stock and directions are enclosed in each package. The cost will be about 1c per bird.

Grew Pullets on Clean, Green Range

The grazing of growing pullets on succulent green feed offers a possibility of reducing feed cost and producing a healthier layer. Recently completed experiments show that a third more clover than grasses was consumed in grazing pullets. This would give clover of the legumes a more favorable place for grazing, both from the standpoint of consumption and also the fact that clovers are higher in protein than grasses. One acre of Ladino clover or its equal should provide ample

Managing the Pullets On Range

The use of range shelters during the growing season has many advantages. These shelters are 10' x 1' in size and will accommodate 125 pullets each. They are comparatively light in weight and can be moved easily. Protection from predatory animals at night, shade during the day, and a well ventilated house are provided by using this shelter. Plans are available at the County Extension Offices. Covered range feeders should be used in order that the mash will not lose its feeding value by having vitamins killed when exposed to the sun. A constant supply of cool, fresh water should be readily available for the growing pullets. All the equipment on the range, including the shelter, should be moved at frequent intervals in order to avoid bare spots from developing. Artificial shade may be necessary for ample comfort. Mash and grain feeding, along with good grazing, fresh, cool water and shade constitute some of the essentials necessary for growing out a good pullet for the laying house.

TRUCK USERS BUY MORE CHEVROLET TRUCKS than any other make!

No matter the size or type of truck you need—what better proof could there be that a Chevrolet truck is your best buy!

MORE CHEVROLET TRUCKS IN USE THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

Recently published official registration figures for the last full year show that truck users in every single State bought more Chevrolets than any other make!

It is difficult to imagine more convincing proof of Chevrolet's superiority, for such clear-cut and overwhelming preference can lead to but one conclusion:

Chevrolet trucks must be better, must enjoy solid advantages over other trucks. Such preference must rest on a firm foundation of good, sound value. And, of course, it does—as owners of Chevrolet trucks can testify.

So before you buy any truck, see how much more Chevrolet trucks offer you. Stop in and see us soon. Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.

A great new inspiration for the automotive world will be on display in our showroom tomorrow. It's the 1953 Cadillac—the latest triumph of Cadillac's engineering and styling genius. ☐ Its beauty alone would place this new motoring creation among Cadillac's all-time "greats"—for its innumerable exterior changes have made it simply breath-taking to behold. ☐ Its interiors, too, are dramatically new—offering the most beautiful fabrics and appointments ever available in a motor car. ☐ And for those who desire the ultimate in comfort, a wonderful new Cadillac Air Conditioner* is now available. ☐ But the heart of this new Cadillac's greatness lies in its performance—so extraordinary that it transcends any previous concept of how a motor car should act and handle. ☐ This magnificent performance comes from many sources. ☐ It comes from Cadillac's improved Hydra-Matic Drive. ☐ It comes from Cadillac's advanced Power Steering*—so marvelous that turning and parking and steering become almost a response to your wish. ☐ And it comes—in even greater measure—from Cadillac's great new 210 h.p. engine . . . the dramatic climax of almost 40 years of unduplicated experience in the design and construction of V-8 engines. ☐ We sincerely urge you to see and drive this great motor car. ☐ It is offered in three new series—the beautiful "Sixty-Two," the luxurious "Sixty Special" and the distinguished "Seventy-Five." There is also Cadillac's new sports convertible, the Eldorado—the most glamorous and exciting creation in the whole of Cadillac history. ☐ Why not see them soon?

Mocksville Beats
Grey Reserves

On Thursday, April 9, the Mocksville Wildcats, behind the superb pitching of Kenneth Howell, who went the distance, defeated the Grey High Reserves of Winston-Salem, 6-0. Both Mocksville's infield and outfield played airtight ball behind Howell. Mocksville scored a run in both the second and the fourth innings. In the fifth frame the Wildcats put together four hits and one error to score four "insurance" runs.

The only time Howell was in trouble was when the leadoff batter in the sixth hit a triple. However, Howell bore down and made the next two batters strike out, and forced the final hitter to ground out to Robert Latham at second.

John Hodgson was the leading hitter with a triple and a single to his credit.

New coats of paint on the doors, windows, gutters, etc., of the gymnasium add a lot to its appearance. Another thing that will add a lot to the gym's looks is the grass. Mr. Randall's students have planted between the gym and the auditorium. They also planted grass above the walk of the side of the school facing Poplar St.

This year's graduating class of seniors have given to the school a low retaining wall above the walk on the south side of the building. This wall will serve to hold back the soil and keep it from washing away. From the student body to the seniors and the Agriculture students, thanks.

David Keith Leonard, Mocksville High lumens, signed by the Winston-Salem Cardinals, has been dropped by the W-S team and sent to Sanford, Fla., which operates in a class "D" league. Winston-Salem manager, Jimmy Brown, said Leonard has great possibilities, but he wasn't ready for class "B" ball. However, next year Keith may be back in North Carolina, at Winston-Salem.

Most of the members of the Mocksville chapter of the national Beta Club went to Asheville for the state Beta convention held last week end. Taking the trip were Mocksville chapter president, Carmen Greene, Billie Harmon, Harrell Powell, Harry Osborne, Robert Latham, Letty and Betty James, Duke James, Nancy Cheshire, J. C. Hutchens, Aubrey Fleming, Geraldine York, Johnny Hodgson, Ann Dean Robertson, Jimmy Anderson, Betty Spencer, and Mrs. Helen Crenshaw, sponsor. The group left Friday afternoon, and arrived back in Mocksville Sunday. They all enjoyed the trip very much, and the senior members rather wished they could be able to go to next year's convention.

Sauline Players Here Friday
The Sauline Players will appear at the Mocksville High Auditorium on Friday night, April 17. Following their custom of many years, they will present a matinee for the school, entitled, "Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates, a Story of old Holland." The night program will feature the whole group in a three act farce.

Junior Play
The Junior class is busy preparing the three-act comedy they will present during the first week in May, "Mama's Baby Boy." The cast has been practicing regularly under the direction of Mrs. Jim Wall. The cast is as follows:
Mrs. McLean Judith Ward
Shepherd McLean

Eugene Williams
Luther Long Eugene Poplin
Juliet Long Nancy Murph
Mrs. Blackburn Betty Angell
Wilbur Warren Gwyn Boger
Sylvia Kline Jane Robinson
Mrs. Anglin Janie Collette
Max Moore Charles Culler

PTA Approves Sound
For Auditorium

Upon the recommendation of the Executive Council, the Mocksville PTA approved purchase of an amplifying system for the auditorium at its monthly meeting, April 13. Mr. Farthing, in presenting the recommendation, announced that Long Engineering Company of Winston-Salem, had sent a sound engineer to Mocksville to look at the auditorium, and to advise the type of public address system to be purchased. The company will install, in time for commencement, two microphones, which are to be suspended above the stage out of the audience's sight, and four speakers, two of which will be placed above the stage in the upper corners, and two under the balcony. A remote control board will be placed in the rear of the building, and it will be used to control amplification of the speakers. Now even a whisper on the stage will be heard in the farthest corner.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH of Mocksville, established before 1769, has made great progress during recent years. During the expansion and building program recently completed, a new education building, consisting of 11 rooms was added to the church building. The complete structure is shown above as it appears facing South Main Street. At the left is the new manse that was completed last year. (Enterprise Photos)

First Presbyterian Church Has Progressive Programs

Local Church Being Considered For Rural Church of South Award
By GORDON TOMLINSON

The appearance creates a worshipful and reverent atmosphere, being situated atop a knoll amid a grove of maple trees. A carpet of green grass follows the sloping terrain down to the sidewalk along South Main Street. A paved sidewalk provides the pathway to the attractive building, of brick construction, that is the First Presbyterian Church of Mocksville.

A sign in front of the church reads: "First Presbyterian Church of Mocksville. Founded 1789." However, according to tradition, this church was in existence before this date, probably as early as 1767.

Tradition has it that this church was first called: "The Church in the Forks of the Yadkin." Later it became known as Joppa.

The first minister of Joppa Church, of which there is a record, was Rev. J. D. Kilpatrick. He was released from Joppa in 1796. The next recorded minister after him was the Rev. Franklin Watts.

Since 1832, there is an accurate record of the Mocksville Presbyterian Church. This book is entitled: "Joppa Church Session Book," and was commenced the 10th day of November, 1832, by Thomas McNelly, clerk of the session.

In March of 1845, the church was moved from Joppa to Mocksville. The building was of brick construction and still stands at the home of Mrs. Mary Larew. The manse stood on the site of the present residence of J. H. Markham on Salisbury St.

This little brick church was abandoned some years later and the building was used as a school, being known as the "Brick Academy." A new church was built on the present site, with a manse being constructed in 1891.

In April, 1868, the name of the church was changed from Joppa to Mocksville Presbyterian Church.

The present minister, Rev. Paul H. Richards, believes that the church has certain definite and vital responsibilities in building not only a better community, but also a better world. These are graduated steps that must be taken in this order: (1) Building a better church; (2) Building a better community; (3) Resulting in a better world. The program of the First Presbyterian Church has been organized around these three steps.

Towards a Better Church
This church has a well planned and orderly service of worship. Special services are held at Christmas, Easter and Thanksgiving.

The church is well organized. There is a systematic method of keeping the membership informed about the budget. A program of stewardship training is being developed. Offering envelopes are used regularly by the members. Last year the average contribution of this membership was $197 per capita.

There is a year-round Sunday morning teaching program for all age groups. Additional teaching sessions are offered through Vacation Bible School and two youth organizations. All of the church members receive the Synod's news letter.

In the interest of building a better church, the following has been accomplished since 1952:

- (1) A supper meeting for the young adults held monthly.
- (2) A Pioneer Youth group and Junior choir organized.
- (3) Complete reorganization of Sunday school effected along the lines recommended by Christian Education Committee of the Presbyterian Synod.
- (4) A new manse built and equipped.
- (5) Church grounds landscaped and recreational facilities added.
- (6) Education building constructed and equipped.
- (7) Teacher training program established.
- (8) Regular meetings of session instituted and working budget adopted.

Plans now being formulated for the immediate future, along this line, include: (1) Redecorating of church. (2) Securing of audio-visual equipment. (3) Strengthening of the devotional life of the family through various programs. (4) Organization of transportation system for children for Sunday School. (5) Organizing a system of home visitation by officers of the church.

Ike Passes Through City

Dwight David Eisenhower, President of the United States, passed through Mocksville around 6:45 Thursday afternoon. President Eisenhower was enroute from Salisbury to Winston-Salem where he boarded his special plane for flight to Augusta, Ga.

Mr. Eisenhower spoke briefly to the gathering in Salisbury on the event of the Rowan County Bi-Centennial observance.

State Highway Patrolmen, assisted by local officers, made highway 158 virtually a one way route for the passage of the President. With a patrol escort, the President's entourage passed through this town at speeds estimated around 50 miles per hour.

The speed with which the cars passed through made it difficult to distinguish the President from other members of the party.

Albert Boger Serving Aboard USS Missouri

The USS Missouri returned to the United States today after six months in Korean waters.

Serving aboard the battleship is Albert D. Boger, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Albert Boger of 814 Hardison St., Mocksville, and husband of Mrs. Patsy W. Boger of Cooleemee.

The "Mighty Mo" is the first U. S. battleship to complete a second tour of duty with United Nations forces in the Korean theater.

The annual Tutterow reunion will be held on Sunday, April 26 at Center church and arbor. The public is cordially invited to come and bring a well filled basket.

Cooleemee Lions Sponsor Television Talent Hunt

To Present Program At School Auditorium

Arthur Smith and the Cracker-Jacks, stars of television, records and radio, will bring their exciting new "Television Talent Hunt" show to Cooleemee on May 16th. This huge variety show that will choose the best of local talent to appear on Arthur Smith's Tuesday night WBTV program will be sponsored by Cooleemee Lions Club at school auditorium. The big show will start at 8 p.m.

The local sponsoring organization is now accepting applications from talent groups or individuals that wish to compete in Arthur Smith's Television Talent Hunt Show. Talent groups will be screened and the top acts will appear on the stage with audience applause deciding the winner to appear on Television Station WBTV in Charlotte.

In addition to the grand entertainment that will be provided by our local amateur and professional talent, the nationally-known Arthur Smith group will present a gala variety show featuring Arthur Smith, Tommy Falls, Sonny Smith, Don Reno and Ralph Smith. These are the television artists that you see on WBTV, Channel 3, every Tuesday night and every Friday night.

Arthur Smith and the Cracker-Jacks are also heard daily on WBT from 4:00-4:30 in the "Car-

Other Dogs Reported Seen In Rabid Condition

Sections of Jerusalem and Fulton Townships remained under quarantine this week as reports of other rabid dogs continued to pour into the local health office.

Carl E. Shell, acting County Health Officer, stated, however, that only one case of rabies had actually been confirmed in this county. He pointed out that all reports were being checked and an attempt made to ascertain whether or not other dogs were rabid.

Dr. C. W. Young continues to vaccinate dogs at clinics scheduled throughout the county. On Friday, April 24, between 5 and 7 p.m., he will vaccinate dogs at the Cooleemee school. Tuesday, April 28, at Tutetrow's Store in Center between 5 and 6 p.m.; and at Smith's Store at Sheffield between 6:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Shell stated that he had received several reports concerning a large, squirrel gray German Police dog being in a rabid condition. This dog was last reported to have been seen Monday morning in the Davie Nursery, heading in the direction of Yadkinville. Mr. Shell stated that all indications were that this dog is rabid and that it should be shot on sight.

According to Mr. Shell this is about time for dogs to become affected if they were bitten by the first rabid dog. He urged all to exercise caution and to comply with all restrictions imposed in the quarantine area.

Eye witnesses have reported two incidences of dogs being dumped from automobiles. Mr. Shell stressed the seriousness of such an act and requested that anyone seeing such to report it at once to the authorities.

The quarantine areas includes all of Jerusalem township, including Cooleemee, and the part of Fulton Township, South of highway 64. All dogs in these areas must be securely confined on the premises of the owner or other approved locations. Dogs in these areas may leave premises only when on leash and under the control of the owner or other responsible person. No dog may be removed from this area without permission from the rabies inspector or the health officer.

SET NATIONAL RECORD—An alltime national record was set last weekend by the executive committee of the North Carolina Junior Chamber of Commerce (shown above), which held its semi-annual meeting at the organization's state headquarters in High Point. The committee, consisting of 13 regular members from all parts of the state, completed a record of 100 per cent attendance at all of its meetings for the past year—a record unequalled in the Jaycees' movement anywhere in the nation. The record was considered more significant in the light of the Tar Heel Jaycees' membership, which comprises one of the largest member groups in the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, there being over 5,300 Jaycees in 93 clubs in North Carolina. The annual state convention for the Jaycees will be held May 14-16 in Asheville. Members of the executive committee (left to right, seated) are: Harry E. Stewart, Raleigh, (ex-officio), past state president and currently a national Jaycee vice-president; Mike Harper, national director from Sanford; Mrs. Margaret Alley, state executive secretary, High Point; J. B. Brame, state president, Durham; Bill Stauber, secretary-treasurer, Durham; Ed Hicklin, national director, Burlington; and Gene Oeschreiter, national director, Asheville; (back row, state vice-presidents) Dwight Beatty, Waynesville, District One; Nick Mando, Mocksville, District Three; J. L. Wilkie, Shelby, District Two; Bob Cust, Lexington, District Four; M. J. Weeks, Fayetteville, District Five; Charlie Phillips, Chapel Hill, District Six; Elma Lamm, Spring Hope, District Seven; and Bob Rouse, Farmville, District Eight. Members of this group, in guiding the policies of the N. C. Junior Chamber of Commerce during the past year, have traveled more than 50,000 miles in 750 visits to state, district, and local club meetings. (Photo by Roland Giduz)

Softball Teams Meet Friday Night

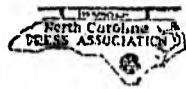

All teams wishing to participate in the Mocksville Recreation Softball League this summer are requested to have representatives present Friday night at a meeting to be held in the courthouse.

Eight teams participated in play last summer and the sport proved to be very popular. Most of these same teams are expected to re-enter the league this year.

Davie Has Low Tax Rate

A glance over the tax rates prevailing in the various counties of the State shows that Davie County ranks third, as having the lowest tax rate.

Forsyth County ranks first among the counties with the lowest county-wide tax rate of 60c per hundred dollars of assessed valuation. Durham is second with a rate of 65c; and Davie is a close third with a rate of 66c. Pamlico brings up the rear with the highest rate of $2.20.

The tax rate for municipalities vary extremely as among counties and within the same county. The municipal tax rate for the Town of Southern Pines is $4.03 per hundred, as compared with a rate of $1.65 in Cameron. Both of these towns are in the same county, Moore. The highest municipal tax rate in the State is $4.70, which the taxpayer in Tryon, in Polk County, must pay. The rate for the Town of Mocksville is 98c, which ranks it also as one of the lowest in the State.

The low tax rate for Davie County and the Town of Mocksville was made possible by the revaluation of property held several years ago. As a result of this scientific appraisal, property of Davie County is today valued at $25,678,000. This represents a property valuation of $1,665 per capita, and ranks Davie County sixth in the State in this category.

The low tax rates existing in this county should appear attractive to industries looking for a place to locate. For example, an industry with an assessed valuation for tax purposes of one million dollars would pay a tax bill of $47,000 if it located in Tryon County. In Davie County it would pay only $6,600.

What Do You Think?

This is Cancer Control Month.

What is your reaction when you are asked to contribute your share to the 1953 Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society?

Do you say: "Another appeal on top of all the endless appeals of this past year!"

Or do you think of Bill Jones or Mary Smith in your neighborhood who is living today because of the phenomenal advances in surgery, in research, in medicine, made possible by the dollars you have given to this great cause?

Or do you recall the seven danger signals which the American Cancer Society has been urging you to memorize throughout the years and realize that this knowledge may be responsible for the saving of your life or the life of someone dear to you?

Not only in the raising of money alone—certainly needed now more than ever—but in the opportunity it affords to alert you and yours to the challenge of cancer and the possibilities of licking it, is Cancer Control Month worthwhile.

Think of the part you can play in this fight. Write a generous check for the American Cancer Society and help fight cancer.

Prayer Gets Things Done

By W. Q. GRIGG

Pastor First Methodist Church

Many stories have come to us out of the late war about men who apparently never paid much attention before, but when faced with grave danger, they turned to the Lord in prayer and found that He did not fail them. The story of "Men of a Raft," and the statement, "There are no Atheists in foxholes," are examples. Such stories should cause the most disinterested layman to make inquiry, for if there is such a source of help, all of us should like to know how to get it.

The Christian Church has dared to preach throughout the centuries that there is a power available through prayer, that prayer gets things done. It is not a mere lip service of which we speak. It is that deep seated communion with God whereby a finite being taps the resources of the Infinite to accomplish His purpose.

This gospel is a message of greatness—of power—not weakness. Small men have gone forth in the name of the Lord and have accomplished great things. The story of David and Goliath is symbolic of this power. Jesus said it is like leaven that works quietly but works until the whole lump is leavened. It is not noisy but irresistible.

Prayer manifests itself in many ways. First of all it does something to the man who prays. The man struggles with issues that are too big for him finally surrenders to Him and says, "Thy will be done." A great power wells up from within and changes the whole picture. He is not weak because he has quit struggling, but he is strong because he has opened up a new avenue whereby the power of God is brought to bear. A sinful man who is defeated and sees no purpose in life comes to prayer with God and arises a different person.

But the benefits of prayer do not stop with the person who prays. Prayer reaches out to others. The prayers of godly mothers, godly ministers and Christian people have no bounds. They are not limited by time or space. Neither a brick wall nor the wide ocean can stop them. We should thank God for those who go to a throne of grace in our behalf. You cannot be unaffected unless you harden your heart. Prayer gets things done.

Good Question

The American Way

INVENTORS OUT OF DOGHOUSE

By George Peck

April 10th was the 163rd anniversary of a day of great significance in the history of these United States. It was on April 10, 1790, that George Washington signed the first patent law. Thus, the man whom we ordinarily call "The Father of Our Country," can also be properly designated as "The Father of the American Patent System."

Over the years many revisions have been made in the original patent law, as signed by George Washington. These changes were made to further protect the inventor and the general public. However, the intent of the original patent law has been maintained—the right of the inventor to enjoy for a period of 17 years the right "to exclude others from making, using or selling his invention."

Our mighty industrial system stems from our Patent System—and from our industrial system stems the high degree of prosperity and high standard of living enjoyed by the citizens of this nation.

From 1790 to 1953 American inventors turned out inventions for which more than 2,600,000 patents have been granted. This amazing figure is not only reflected in the broad scope of our industrial production, but also confirms the confidence of our inventors that we have the best patent system in the world.

Thanks to the ingenious, and often laborious, effort of American inventors, we enjoy countless advantages and conveniences undreamed of in Washington's day. Our inventors from the beginning found in our patent system strong incentive to create new and useful devices. Our first lawmakers presumed that 17 years would provide sufficient time within which the inventor may achieve rewards which are his due for his invention. At the end of 17 years, the invention becomes public property. Incidentally, our Constitution stipulates that patents shall remain in force for a "limited time."

Strange to say, throughout our history, there have been some who would deny an inventor a patent on his invention. They have maintained that in "the public welfare," a patent belongs to the people. During the eras of the New Deal and the Fair Deal, the attacks on our Patent System became especially violent and vicious—the attackers claiming that patents were ruining small businesses. Several bills were introduced at Washington to either shorten or entirely abolish the period of exclusive franchises for an inventor on his patent.

John W. Anderson of Gary, Indiana, set out to prove how ridiculous is the claim that our Patent System hurts small business. Himself, a small manufacturer of automobile parts, he organized several thousand other small manufacturers into the National Patent Council to fight for the Patent System. This organization not only exploded the fallacy that patents harm small manufacturers, but proved conclusively that without patents most of these small manufacturers could never have started in business.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

CALL TO ACTION

"PRODUCE! PRODUCE! WERE IT THE PITIFULST INFINITESIMAL FRACTION OF A PRODUCT, PRODUCE IT IN HEAVEN'S NAME! WHATSOEVER THY HAND FINDETH TO DO, DO IT WITH ALL THY MIGHT."
—THOMAS CARLYLE

AMERICANS HAVE CARRIED OUT THAT INJUNCTION OF CARLYLE'S—AND MORE THAN ANY OTHER PEOPLE THEY HAVE PROSPERED. UNDER A SYSTEM THAT REWARDS INDIVIDUAL EFFORT AND INITIATIVE, THAT PROVIDES PLANTS AND MACHINES THROUGH THE INVESTMENT OF THE PEOPLE'S SAVINGS AND LIFE INSURANCE FUNDS, THE PRODUCTIVITY OF OUR DEMOCRACY IS THE ENVY—AND THE HOPE—OF THE WORLD.

60 Second Sermons

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "You may be deceived if you trust too much, but you will live in torment if you do not trust enough." — Frank Crane.

An elderly man, well known for his penny-pinching, went to a dentist to have a tooth extracted. The dentist advised him to have it extracted the painless way.

He showed the old man his equipment for giving gas to a patient and explained that it would cause him to fall asleep for a moment, and before he awoke, his tooth would be out. After a slight resistance the miserly old man agreed to being put to sleep. Then he opened his purse.

"Oh," said the dentist kindly, "you don't need to pay me now."

"I wasn't thinking of that," the old man replied, "but if you're going to put me to sleep, I want to count my money first."

All misers are not money mad. There are many misers who hoard little advantages. They gloat over special privileges they can acquire. They demand "their place in line." They watch jealously, to see that no one obtains anything they do not have. They never trust anyone, remaining forever bound by the chains of doubt and suspicion—the torment of not trusting enough.

In a recent statement, the National Patent Council held forth hope that the dog days for inventors are about at an end, that whereas the percentage of Americans who become inventors has been receding for many years, as subversive influences were applied to discredit and disable our Patent System, we have now entered an era in which invention will be encouraged again. In conclusion, here is a quote from its March 18th report:

"The circumstances attending the election of President Eisenhower should provide new hope for the inventor who looks to the Supreme Court to confirm the validity of his patent. The Eisenhower election was considered a vote for business. Practically all controls have been removed to let sanely regulated commerce seek its own level on the traditional basis of supply and demand. Top-ranking businessmen confer in the President's Cabinet.

"Business growth, dependent upon the constant flow of new and improved products, looks to the patented achievements of our inventors. Our inventors are conscious of the 'ups and downs' influenced by the Supreme Court, and are encouraged now to develop and patent their inventions that can lead this nation to new industrial strength."

U.D.C. MEETING

The Davie Grays Chapted U. D.C. will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. K. Sheek, Sr., on North Main Street.

CANCER'S 7 DANGER SIGNALS

- 1 Any sore that does not heal.
- 2 A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
- 3 Unusual bleeding or discharge.
- 4 Any change in a wart or mole.
- 5 Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
- 6 Persistent hoarseness or cough.
- 7 Any change in normal bowel habits.

None of these symptoms necessarily means that you have cancer, but any one of them should send you to your doctor. Cancer is usually curable when detected and treated early. Remember the danger signals. Cancer strikes one in five. Strike back. Give to the American Cancer Society.

MIDSUMMER . . . It seems extremely doubtful that the Governor will be able to accept any speaking engagements before midsummer. It may be that Frank Taylor of Goldsboro, Speaker of the House in the 1951 General Assembly and Governor Umstead's contact man with the Legislature this time, will remain as chief assistant to the Governor's office, until his excellency can return to regular duty.

TOBACCO NETWORK? . . . Former Gov. W. Kerr Scott can be had as a regular farm commentator on the Tobacco Network for $135.00 per week, Monday through Friday.

Our information is that the nine-station network is now searching for a sponsor for the Scott show.

NEXT SPEAKER? . . . Maybe you would like to have a word on the man who will probably be the next Speaker of the House. He is Larry Moore of Wilson.

Moore is 49 years old. He came to Raleigh as representative in 1939 and has not since missed a session. This is his eighth consecutive term. He is a dairyman, farmer, and lawyer. He got his AB from Carolina at the age of 18, his BS degree at 20, and his law degree at 22.

Although he wasn't married until 1946, the Moore's—his wife is the former Miss Grace Thompson—have three daughters and one son.

DULL INDEED . . . The Board of Conservation and Development held its spring meeting in Elizabeth City in as lame duck a session as any wildlife protector could ask for. They went through the motions, but those present report it was a rather dull affair.

It was no surprise that no definite action was taken on any important matter. Why such a dull meeting? The answer is that the entire board has been legislated out of office as of this coming July 1.

THE WINNER? . . . For a long time they had been trying to unseat Cousin Weyland Spruill down in Bertie County. Last year, after a knock-down-dragout fight, they did it. J. A. Speight was the man who finally laid in on Cousin Weyland.

So what happened? Well, not to be outdone, the House made old Cuz sergeant-at-arms. He has much more influence with his long-time friends in the Legislature than his successor.

And, furthermore, Speight's pay stopped nearly three weeks ago. Cousin Weyland continues as long as the Legislature is in session. With all due respect to Weyland Spruill, does look as if the wishes of the majority of the people of Bertie have been circumvented through the House's giving to a defeated candidate such an influential position.

BARGAIN? . . . Indications point to a new Number One some time this summer. The big job used by Kerr Scott did a heap of getting around, so plans seem to be afoot to make a trade earlier than had been anticipated. The Advisory Budget Commission, deliberately or by error set up $5,000 in the 1954-55 fiscal year for a new gubernatorial flivver. This has been spotted somewhere and they want to make an early purchase.

POLITICAL . . . Most members of the Legislature no doubt took a verbal kick or two at President Truman during his seven years in the White House. Doubtless some of them slipped in a quiet ballot for General Eisenhower last fall.

But it is still quite a Democratic body. May of them refrained from going to Salisbury to hear the President. Several were heard to do some pretty tall grumbling about the entire visit being a "political affair which will mean a lot to the Republicans in the Piedmont section of the State."

They say it is primarily a move to strengthen Congressman Charles Jonas' position. Those who went to Salisbury defended themselves by pointing out they were there to greet the President of the United States, not the bellwether of the Republican Party.

longer the Governor waits about making his appointments, the longer his list of prospects becomes, the bulkier the mail recommending each, and the more prominent and able the applicants.

By May 1, he is expected to have a complete list of the appointive positions at the Governor's discretion. There are around 300 in all, not including some juicy plums arranged for by this Legislature.

Announcements of first appointments should be forthcoming very soon now—with some surprises on the list.

FANCY . . . A number of legislators, obviously fed up on regular food fare in Raleigh, are driving over to nearby Garvey for lunch. There, as a rule, their favorite dish is chittlins. That's another thing Kerr Scott started around here. Nobody seemed to care much—publicly at least—for chittlins until Governor Scott participated with gusto in several chittlin struts.

Now, to eat them is to let your folks know "I'm just as down-to-earth as you are." You know, real common like, right down with the branch head boys. Ho hum.

In last week's State Magazine, Bill Sharpe reported that W-S Journal Sports Editor Frank Spencer says they served chittlins and ice cream at the Stokes County Chittlin Club Strut last year. Mixed together. Sounds like a lie, but only the atom bomb could compare with that potion. Great shades of Lucrezia Borgia!

OFF AGAIN, ETC . . . There seems to be a story behind Senator Robert Taft's off-again-on-again decisions on the Salisbury visit. Inside gossip has it that the Republicans originally wanted him to accompany the President to show North Carolina gophers: that all is sweetness and light now, with oodles of unity and loads of love between Eisenhower and Taft.

You will understand their eagerness for a lot of light to descend upon the Republicans of this State when you realize they are still pretty much at each other's throats on matters of patronage.

So, they wanted Bob Taft to be right up there with President Ike. He was reported ready to make the trip. After all, he has thousands of friends—albeit some of them erstwhile—in North Carolina, and he was cocked and primed. A couple of hours later the deal was suddenly called off when it was agreed that the mere presence of the two former adversaries on the platform together might serve to rekindle flames which even now threaten to convert to ashes any semblance of Republican harmony in North Carolina.

That's the way we heard it. If the Republicans of North Carolina continue as they are now going, their disunity may soon match that of our Democratic brethren in the State.

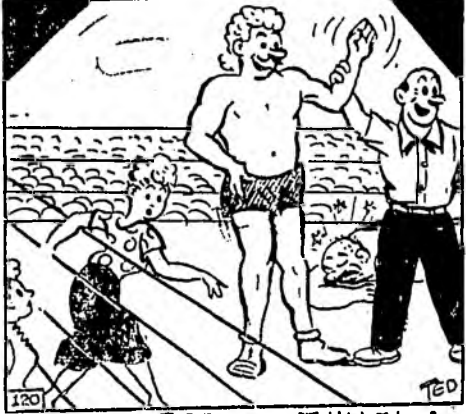

LATE AUGUST . . . Put this down: the most popular man coming out of this Legislature is one Luther H. Hodges of Leaksville. You have heard sly remarks—and some not so sly—about this official and that one since the Legislature convened in January. The entire General Assembly has been attacked as slow, lazy, messy, having no leadership, no zing, no imagination, and so on. There has been a running battle between the Legislature and the press on secrecy, liquor, appropriations, and taxes.

Seen any criticism of Luther Hodges, your Lieutenant Governor? None. He manages to keep his nose clean and the carnation on his lapel as white as the driven snow. He's a pistol, brother, and no kiddin'. Smooth as silk, sincere—and ambitious. He is leaving for Europe in about two weeks, so if you want him to judge your beauty queens, speak at your hogkillings or preside at your midsummer picnic, nothing doing.

Line him up for late August, but remember: the line forms on the right.

The European corn borer destroyed 1. per cent of the total United States corn crop last year, compared with 1.2 per cent in 1951.

The Difference in NATURAL CHILEAN NITRATE makes a DIFFERENCE to you!

One difference between Natural Chilean Nitrate and other nitrogen fertilizers is quality — natural quality. It is the world's only natural source of nitrate nitrogen.

The nitrogen content of Chilean Nitrate is 100% nitrate nitrogen — 100% available — 100% fast-acting — 100% dependable.

No antidote is necessary. Chilean Nitrate is non-acid forming.

Rich in sodium and minor elements. Chilean Nitrate is rich in beneficial sodium that makes a stronger, deeper root system — improves crop health, vigor and nutritive value. It also contains small quantities of essential minor elements.

Chilean Nitrate is the ONLY fertilizer that supplies nitrate nitrogen, beneficial sodium, and essential minor elements.

Noted for all-round efficiency. Quick-acting 100% nitrate nitrogen makes rapid, sturdy growth. Its 26% sodium content acts like potash when necessary and helps to increase the supply of available phosphate in the soil.

Chilean Nitrate's free flowing pellets guarantee rapid, accurate distribution under all conditions. No special precautions needed.

Helps maintain productivity of your land. When used consistently in a sound farming program, Chilean Nitrate builds up fertility, increases efficiency.

Year after year, Natural Chilean Nitrate increases yields — improves quality — defends against disease — fortifies against insect injury — counteracts soil acidity. Use Chilean Nitrate for soils satisfaction!

Miss Alexander Becomes Bride of Charles Spake

Miss Hazel Arrella Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Von-Alexander of Cooleme, became the bride of Charles Edward Spake, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Duncan Spake of Spencer in a ceremony performed Saturday at six o'clock in the afternoon at the Cooleme Baptist Church.

The Rev. J. Wendell Klein performed the double ring ceremony before a setting of white gladioli and fern, spring flowers and candelabra. Mrs. Harry Monsees, soloist, and Miss Katherine Jarvis, pianist, presented a program of wedding music.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her brother, Marcus Brady Alexander. She wore a gown of imported white chantilly lace and nylon tulle. It was made of bonnet length with a bouffant skirt and a lace bolero. Mrs. J. C. Sell, matron of honor, was her sister's only attendant. She wore lilac taffeta and nylon net made with a full skirt and fitted bodice. The off-shoulder neckline was accented with pleated nylon net and her headpiece was of pleated nylon. She carried a colonial nosegay of mixed spring flowers.

The bridegroom has his father as best man and Jack Sparrow and Leon Cress of Spencer and J. C. Sell and H. M. Jacobs of Cooleme were ushers.

Mrs. Spake was graduated from Cooleme High School and the Salisbury Business College. She is employed in the payroll office of the Erwin Mill Company.

The bridegroom was graduated from Spencer High School and served three years in World War II. He is a past commander of the American Legion, Post 241 and is a member of the Spencer Jaycees. He is employed as a machinist with the Southern Railway at Spencer.

Nursery Department Has Church Party

The Nursery Department of the Presbyterian Church gave a party Friday afternoon at the church for its members and their mothers. There were approximately 35 present to enjoy the party.

Mrs. Paul Blackwelder spoke briefly to the mothers on the subject: "Religious Go for Education of Children of the Nursery Department." While Mrs. Blackwelder was speaking a group of teenagers of the church entertained the young children.

Immediately following the talk refreshments were served to the group by the Nursery Department superintendent, Mrs. Dexter Byrly, and Miss Daisy Holthouser, Mrs. Paul Richards, Miss Shirley Lagle and Mrs. Mae Evans, teachers.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement.

ENGAGED—Pictured here is Miss Olivia Stroud of Route 4, Statesville, whose engagement to Virgil Gra Foster of Harmony, Route 2, is being announced today by her father, A. P. Stroud. The wedding date has not been announced.

Parties Honor House-Guests

A number of entertaining social functions have been enjoyed by Mrs. E. C. LeGrand, Jr., and her mother, Mrs. Julia O. Davis, of Oxford, Miss., who have been house guests of Mrs. Margaret A. LeGrand for several days.

On Sunday afternoon a group enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Julia Morris when they were invited for coffee at Mrs. Morris' home. Those attending were Mrs. LeGrand, Jr., Mrs. Davis, Mrs. LeGrand, Mrs. P. J. Johnson, Miss Ossie Allison, Miss Phyllis Johnson, Miss Edith Haworth of Greensboro and Mrs. Frank Wolff of Salisbury, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Morris.

Miss Ossie Allison and Mrs. P. J. Johnson were hostesses on Sunday evening at a dinner party at the Yadkin Hotel in Salisbury.

The repeat was snorgasboard. Included in the guest list at this time were Mesdames LeGrand, Julia Morris, C. R. Horn, A. M. Kimbrough, Jr., Harry Osborne, J. P. LeGrand, Julia Davis, and Miss Phyllis Johnson of Winston-Salem and Mrs. Frank Wolff of Salisbury.

On Monday, Mrs. A. M. Kimbrough, Jr., was gracious hostess at luncheon to the visitors and additional guests.

Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Horn the visitors were feted at an informal coffee when the J. P. LeGrands joined hospitality with the Horns in entertaining.

oreed the visitors on Tuesday.

Mrs. E. C. Morris was hostess for an informal tea Tuesday afternoon at her home.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Harry Osborne was hostess to her bridge club and the visitors enjoyed this hospitality along with Mrs. Stacey.

Informal Reception At Local Church

An informal reception was held at the Presbyterian church last Wednesday evening immediately following the prayer service to honor new members received into the church during the past two years. Approximately 80 people were in attendance for this event.

Those attending were served delicious refreshments and punch. Mrs. Sam Waters and Mrs. Jason Branch presided at the punch bowls.

The refreshment table was attired with a white cloth and centered with a lovely arrangement of spirea and tulips in a crystal container with yellow candles surrounding.

Mrs. D. J. Mando, chairman of church extension, was in charge of this event, and assisting her were Mrs. Paul Grubbs and Miss Willie Miller.

HOW TO BE A BETTER COOK and save money too!

Home Service Director, Carnation Company

This time of year, strawberries are at their flavorful best. For an easy-to-prepare family dessert, make your Strawberry Shortcake and the topping with Carnation Evaporated Milk. Remember, its double richness and heat-retaining make it specially suitable for baking. And don't forget, Carnation is so rich it whips.

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE
Use your favorite brand of packaged biscuit mix calling for milk, but instead of regular milk, use a mixture of 2 parts Carnation Evaporated Milk diluted with 1 part water. Prepare and bake according to package directions. Split biscuits and fill with sliced, sweetened strawberries. Instead of expensive whipping cream, use Carnation Whipped Topping.

CARNATION WHIPPED TOPPING (Makes 3 cups)

1. Chill 1 cup undiluted Carnation in icecube tray until ice crystals form through the milk (25 to 30 minutes), or place the unopened can on chopped ice for 2 to 3 hours.
2. Pour into bowl and whip until it just begins to thicken (about 1 minute).
3. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and whip until very stiff (about 1 or 2 minutes more).
4. Fold in 2 tablespoons granulated sugar.
5. Serve immediately as a topping for shortcake, puddings, cakes, pies, many desserts.

NORTH CAROLINA UNLIMITED

PEANUTS ISN'T PEANUTS IN NORTH CAROLINA

Peanuts mean a cash crop, and if recent "close-row" tests by the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station prove successful, then Tarheel peanut-raising farmers can look forward to 600 to 1200 more pounds per acre that means $75 to $150 per acre added income. We wish you luck, because it means another step forward in making North Carolina a better place in which to work, play and live.

Also contributing to more pleasant living for North Carolinians is the brewing industry's self-regulation program where brewers, wholesalers and retailers—in counties where malt beverage sales are permitted under State control—cooperate to maintain wholesome conditions for the legal sale of beer and ale.

FEEDING COSTS ARE LOWER With A Shale Block Silo

You keep your stock feeding costs to a minimum when you store silage during the summer months....Silage is one of the lowest cost feeds, yet provides more digestible nutrients than any feed except pasture. Silage is easy to store and will last for years in a shale block silo. It is good insurance against hard winters and dry summers.

And the best way to build your silo is with Statesville shale silo block. Statesville shale silo block is simple to use, has an indefinite life, and is not affected by weather, fire, insects, or acids. The original cost is amazingly low and requires little or no maintenance through the years. That's why it pays to build your silo with Statesville shale silo block.

Statesville Brick Company has a supply of booklets telling how to build your shale block silo. They will be glad to send you a copy free. Write or phone Statesville Brick Company today.

Advance Adage

By HELEN POTTS
And VADA HILTON

The seniors are all talking at one time trying to tell about the Washington trip. Everyone seems to have enjoyed it. They left on Wednesday morning and arrived back home on Saturday night. Some of the places they visited were the Smithsonian Institute, the Capitol, the White House, and many more interesting places. The biggest thrill was riding the roller coaster at Glenecha Park.

Four of the seniors went to Coolcece last Monday night to a weiner roast given by the Senior class. They were Bobby Hege, Frances Foster, Frank Myers and Vada Hilton.

The Civic Club will entertain the basketball players and cheerleaders with a supper Saturday night in the school cafeteria.

The Senior class will present "Grandma's Best Years" Friday night at 7:30 in the school auditorium. The characters are as follows:

Mrs. Abbott, Ommie McDaniel; Sadie, Helen Potts; Joyce Abbott, Nell Lee Phelps; Marion, Frances Foster; Dotty Morgan, Emily Barnhardt; Willie Abbott, Elaine Howard; Shorty, Rachel Mock; Jim Meyerson, Bobby Hege; Gram, Mary Ruth Livengood; Patch, Nelson Young; Mabel, Vada Hilton; Bibbles, Ruby Potts; Miss Quelch, Catherine Cornatzer; Edwin Carlson, Frank Myers; Cousin Oscar, Derry Barnhardt.

The ushers will be Moxine Riley and Nell Myers. Mrs. Parker is the director and June Lawson is the stage manager.

Miss Nancy Vogler spent the week end with Frances Seaford. Miss Mary Rose Hall spent Sunday in Kannapolis.

Mrs. Betty Hege, Sally Bailey, Lynda Vogler and Frances Rallege attended the bicentennial at Salisbury Thursday and Friday.

Macedonia

The revival at the Macedonia Church came to a close Sunday night with a large attendance. The singing and attendance were good throughout the week. The Rev. I. Howard Chadwick, pastor evangelist brought messages in special song and soul stirring messages each night. The Rev. Frank Hellard of Advent Moravian Church, Winston-Salem, brought a heart searching message last Sunday morning. Visiting singers during the week were Johnny Ward, the Methodist quartette directed by John Groce of Smith Grove, the Advent Moravian Trio, Winston-Salem; Claudius Ward of Pino together with the local senior and junior choirs directed by John Frank Fry and Miss Theolene Beauchamp with Mrs. Nera Godbey as pianist.

Mrs. John Hendrix of Clemmons visited her sister, Mrs. M. I. Woods, over the week end.

The Rev. and Mrs. James Dittmer and children, Jimmy and Jean, of Bethel, Alaska; Mrs. Carl Giesler of Green Bay, Wis.; Mrs. John McCuiston and Miss Anna Rights were Monday-dinner-guests at the Macedonia parsonage, April 13.

The Rev. Nathaniel Rickereek of Roanoke, Va., will conduct a revival at Dulins Methodist Church, May 1 through May 9.

Mrs. Joe Howard entertained the Rev. I. Howard Chadwick, J. G. Bruner, Frank Hellard and Mrs. Helalrd at supper during the Macedonia Moravian revival.

Mrs. Naomi Sid Higgins of Miami, Fla., is visiting with her sisters, Mrs. Elle Hege and Mrs. Frank Sheeks.

Mrs. Harold Willard has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hendrix, from the hospital with a baby girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Sparks are the proud parents of a baby boy, born Tuesday, April 14th, named Dwight Alan.

Mrs. Sanford Foster and children, Mrs. Anderson Potts, Mrs. Pansy Howard, and Mrs. Albert Howard gave a birthday dinner, Sunday, honoring Sanford Foster on his 69th anniversary. His brother, Ed Foster, and sister, Mrs. J. Q. Anderson, of Winston-Salem, together with a large number of relatives, friends and neighbors enjoyed the occasion.

Pfc. Glenn Fry, son of Mrs. George Fry, arrived at home Saturday from Tokyo, Japan, where he has served several years in the government hospital.

The Rev. Mr. Bruner was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Butner, observing their wedding anniversary, Monday, with a special supper.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. Conrad Shimer of Bluefields, Nicaragua, will tell of their mission work

Sgt. George Foster Serving In Austria

Sgt. George W. Foster has recently been promoted to his present rank. This was his second promotion since December.

He was inducted into the Army in January, 1952, and is stationed in Salsburg, Austria, with the 510th Field Artillery Battalion. He served two years prior to this in Germany.

Sgt. Foster is the son of Mrs. M. G. Foster of 721 Salisbury Street, Mocksville.

Pvt. Lawrence Waller Now Serving In Korea

Pvt. Lawrence Waller has arrived in Korea where he is seeing active duty with the 45th Infantry Division.

He is the son of Mr. Lee Waller and the late Mr. Waller of Advance, Route 2.

Pvt. Waller entered the Army in October, 1952. He received his basic training at Camp Rucker, Alabama.

Sheffield

Mrs. Cleve Smith and son, Jack, spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Bessie Smith.

Roby Felts and John Caudell of North Wilkesboro spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. James Felts.

Mr. and Mrs. Mae Richardson and son and daughter spent the week end with Mrs. Rayland Jones in Mocksville.

Wednesday, night, April 29, at 7:30 o'clock, at Macedonia Moravian Church. They have spent many years in the Mission field working among the Indians and have much information to impart. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Howard are caring for a new baby boy, whom they named Anthony Stephenson.

Taylor Howard is building a feed mill at Advance, near the heart of the village, which he will operate in grinding grain for feed.

Pvt. James H. Frye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Frye, has been transferred from Ft. Jackson, S. C., to North Fort Lewis, Washington.

Sol Plowman does not improve, but is confined to his bed, Among Sunday visitors were Rev. and Mrs. Frank Hellard of Winston-Salem, J. Q. Anderson of Winston-Salem, Wess McKnight and J. G. Bruner.

Frank Riddle of Winston-Salem visited his brother, George Riddle, and family Sunday.

Farmington

Mrs. Gilmer Ellis entertained the members of the faculty of Smith Grove and a few others at a buffet dinner Thursday evening. Those enjoying this hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wishon, Mrs. Abbie Willis, Mrs. Spough, Mrs. Barham and Mr. and Mrs. Gray Denny and son, Steve, of Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ellis.

W. P. Cornatzer who had been recovering from a recent illness had another attack on Saturday and is now in the Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Nicholson of Knoxville, Tenn., former residents, were week end guests of Miss Vada Johnson.

"LET GOD BE TRUE"

Many people refuse to admit that they believe there is a hell. It is natural that we build up a resentment against that which is displeasing. If we could convince ourselves that there is no hell we would enjoy our negligence more. The Bible clearly teaches that there is to be punishment for sin. "And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels. In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction, from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power," (II Thessalonians 1:7-9). A vivid picture of this punishment is found in the sixteenth chapter of Luke beginning with verse nineteen. Jesus gives us a picture of judgment in the 25th chapter of Matthew. "And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment," (Hebrews 9:27). Just as heaven is a prepared place for a prepared people we see that hell is prepared for a certain group "Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire prepared for the devil—and his angels." (Matthew 25:41). Objections are often offered to these facts. One says, "God would not allow it—would you." That would only prove that God and man differs if man would not allow it. Another says, "God is merciful and He will not send a person to hell." Man will go to hell in spite of God's trying to redeem him and not because of God. Do we not have a plan from God whereby we may escape eternal punishment? Yes, the Bible teaches that there is a hell. If I am obeying God I have nothing to fear: If not I have everything to fear.

MORE ABOUT Presbyterian Church
 ognizes its duties and obligation to the community. It does not separate itself from the functions of the community, but strives to become an influential factor in these functions.
 This church encourages family recreation and makes its recreational facilities available to the community.
 The church urges its members to exercise their Christian responsibility in voting and taking part in public affairs. A large number of the members of this church serve as public officials and are active civic leaders of this community.
 The First Presbyterian Church pioneered the promotion towards a better understanding of minority groups in this community.
 On the observance of Race Relations Sunday in April, 1952, the Rev. Mr. Richards exchanged pulpits with the Rev. R. A. Massey, Pastor of the local Negro Presbyterian Church. Both services were well attended and the approach was deemed a step forward towards better understanding between the two races.

Mr. Richards also attends certain sessions of juvenile court. Recently he assumed the responsibility of several juveniles who were placed on probation. These youths are now regular attendants at Sunday School.
 The church cooperates with private and public welfare agencies in looking after disadvantaged children, adults and families.
 Through various services at the church, religious values, underlying economic activity, the sense of stewardship, and the sacredness of all work is emphasized.
 Believing that the greatest unused resource of the community is the development of potential leadership, this church is aiding and abetting in the establishment of various youth training programs.

The church and its officials take every opportunity to cooperate with other churches in projects of social and community-wide concern.
Towards A Better World
 The Rev. Mr. Richards believes that better churches make for better communities, and that better communities will make for a better world. The steps, in this order, are for the attainment of this goal.
 This church actively supports home and foreign mission projects. Study groups deal with national and international problems. All activities of the church are designed to strengthen the moral and spiritual foundations of the nation.
 The church has a club (Betty Betts Club) that maintains contact with some people in Japan. Mrs. E. H. Gartrell, a member of the local church, is serving as a missionary to Brazil.
 Future plans along this line call for the organization of a systematic method of keeping in touch with members in the Armed Forces and active participation in Negro Home mission work.
 That is the program of the First Presbyterian Church of Mocksville. Because of these past accomplishments and formulated plans for the future, this church is being considered, along with approximately 700 others, for the honor and ward of the "Rural Church of the South".
 The Town and Country Church Development Program is sponsored for all denominations in 13 Southern States. It is administered by the Town and Country School of Emory University. The awards are sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.
 The church selected as "The Church of the South" will receive an award of $1,000. "The Church of the State" will receive an award of $500. The next four churches in rank in the State will receive $100 each, and certificates of attainment will go to the next five in order.

 Whether or not the First Presbyterian Church of Mocksville receives any of the top recognition by the awards committee is of little importance compared with the importance of the program the church had adopted and is carrying out. The evaluation of the program of the church through the eyes of the membership, through its influence in the community, cannot help but result in a better church, a better community, and perhaps a better world. That is an end within itself.

Local Resident's Father Dies
 Funeral services for Emory W. Holt, father of Mrs. Roy Harris, were held in Elkin on Sunday afternoon at the Salem Fork Baptist Church. Mr. Holt, 73, was a prominent farmer and businessman of the Salem Fork community.
 He died at 2:30 p.m. Friday at the Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital following a short illness.
 He was married in 1900 to Miss Drucilla Hurt who preceded him in death in 1934.
 Survivors include two sons, Walter Holt of Boonville, Harvey Holt of Titusville, Fla.; three daughters, Mrs. Spofford Cave of Dobson, Mrs. Floyd Halyfield of their home and Mrs. Harris; nine grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; one brother, Wilson Holt of Dobson and one sister, Mrs. John Edwards of Dobson.
 The funeral service was conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Earl Konkle, assisted by the Rev. D. G. Reece and the Rev. W. H. Poindexter. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Methodist Churches Set Week of Evangelism

During the week of May 3-8, all Methodist Churches of Davie County are joining with other Methodist Churches throughout the Southeastern part of the United States in a "Week of Evangelism." With the slogan, "You Need Christ Now," the Churches are entering into a United effort to bring the gospel to all the people with the hope that the lives of Church members will be revitalized and that many unchurched people may be won to Christ and His Church.

Services will be held at all places designated both morning and evening on Sunday, May 3 and each night during the week through Friday. Select one of the preaching places and make plans to attend these services.

At First Methodist Church, Mocksville, Rev. Harvey Ashby, of Lexington, Va., will be the visiting minister. Rev. W. Q. Grigg is pastor.

At Farmington four churches, Huntsville, Mt. Olive, Wesley Chapel and Farmington, will meet with Rev. Lee R. Jamison, as visiting minister. Rev. G. C. Graham is the pastor.

At Chestnut Grove, Mocksville Circuit consisting of five churches, Bethel, Cornatzer, New Union, Union Chapel and Chestnut Grove. Rev. Robert Lee Nuckols of Virginia will be the visiting minister. Rev. W. C. Anderson is the pastor.

Services will be held at Liberty for the Liberty-Concord churches. At Dulins services will be held for the Dulins Charge. Rev. Bruce Roberts is pastor.

Rev. M. E. Shepherd, visiting pastor of Check, Va., will assist Rev. W. E. Fitzgerald at Fulton. The services at Coolee will be led by Rev. H. C. Austin, pastor, and the visiting minister.

For the Davie Circuit services will be held at Hardison, led by the pastor, H. D. Jessup, and the visiting minister. The public is cordially invited to attend services at the Church most convenient to them.

As a part of this movement pastors and laymen will visit throughout the county inviting people to accept Christ and unite with His Church.

REV. ROBERT L. NUCKOLS

Rev. Robert Lee Nuckols of McDowell, Va., will be the visiting minister for the United Evangelistic Mission for the Mocksville Circuit. Services will begin Sunday, May 3 at 11 a.m. at Chestnut Grove Church and continue at 7:30 p.m. each evening throughout the week. Rev. W. C. Anderson is the pastor.

Coolee Victorious Over Mocksville, 15-2

The Coolee High baseball team ran wild in the third and sixth innings to defeat Mocksville High at Coolee Tuesday afternoon. Billy Sell started for the Wildcats, but was replaced after two and one-third frames were past. Kenneth Howel then went to the mound but could not hold the hard-hitting Indians. Deadman went the distance for Coolee.

Coolee got eight hits to Mocksville's seven, but the game was never in doubt. Deadman issued only one walk, compared to Howel's five and Sell's four. Howel had the edge on strike-outs, setting down four to Deadman's three.

May 3 Designated As Day Of Prayer For World Peace

Jaycees, Veterans Organizations Join Hands In Project

Over six million members of the nation's largest civic and veterans organizations will join forces Sunday, May 3, to offer a united prayer for world peace. Horace E. Henderson, president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced. The program, entitled "Operation Pray," was originated in March by the U. S. Jaycees to assist churches in bringing about a nation-wide religious reawakening. In recent weeks the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Lions and Kiwanis have offered their full support to Operation Pray, thereby initiating for the first time a consolidated religious effort on the part of a major service organizations.

"In carrying out Operation Pray, each of the 2,050 Jaycee chapters and cooperating organizations will adopt a resolution calling for a day of national prayer on Sunday, May 3, asking for divine guidance for President Eisenhower, the Cabinet, Congress and Judiciary in their efforts to lead the world to peace," Henderson said. The resolutions will be signed by Chapter presidents and returned to Henderson who will forward them on to President Eisenhower. Additional copies of the resolution will be sent by each chapter to the local mayor and to the governor. The program also will include an all-out campaign on the part of local organizations to encourage community-wide participation in the national day of prayer. In every community, letters will be sent to local ministers asking for their cooperation, and the mayors will be requested to proclaim May 3 at the day for every local resident to offer a prayer for world peace.

Henderson expressed the belief that Operation Pray, by enlisting the consolidated effort of five organizations, will exert a powerful force in stimulating renewed national interest in the principles of God.

Wayne Eaton is the chairman of the committee promoting Operation Pray for the Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Rev. G. W. Porte At Liberty-Concord Charge

Liberty and Concord Methodist churches are cooperating in the United Evangelistic Mission, which is to begin Sunday, May 3, at Liberty Church with services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. each night through Friday, with Rev. Geo. W. Ports of Christianburg, Va., doing the preaching. Mr. Ports served for the Virginia Conference, as Conference Evangelist for a number of years, and has wide experience in the evangelistic field. Special singing and by local visiting musicians will be an important feature of these meetings, it has been announced by the pastor who extends an invitation to all, both in and outside of all churches, to attend all services.

County Historical Society Is Planned

Plans were announced this week for the formation of a County Historical Society provided enough persons are interested to make such an organization feasible. Anyone desiring to become a member and work with such an organization are requested to contact either Jim Wall or Gordon Tomlinson.

Mr. Wall has assumed the responsibility of organizing this society along the basic outline provided by the N. C. Historical Society.

The purpose and objective of the organization will be to seek out, interpret and preserve documents and items of historical importance to this county and North Carolina. Organizations of this type exist in many of the counties of the State and have been responsible for providing authentic history of these counties.

Presbyterian Men Meet For Supper

The monthly meeting of the Presbyterian Men's Supper Club met at The Hut Tuesday night. Following the supper they heard Mr. Archie Taylor of Winston-Salem speak on "Education for the Negro of the South."

Paul Blackwelder, Charles Woodruff and Paul Rickard had charge of the program.

Officers Destroy 50-Gallon Still

A fifty-gallon liquor still was destroyed by Sheriff G. Alex Tucker and Deputies Ransome Cooke and Millard Godbey last week. The still was found in the Farmington Township, near the Yadkin County line.

A small amount of mash was found at the still which had been actively used only a short time before officers arrived. No one was found near the still.

Baptist Bible School Clinic Set for May 1

The South Yadkin Baptist Association Bible School will hold a one-day clinic, Friday, May 1, at the Western Avenue Baptist Church in Statesville. The session will commence at 9:45 a.m. and run through 2:45 p.m.

Six simultaneous conferences will be conducted as follows:

Pastors, General Superintendents, Principals, etc.: Mrs. Daphne Boone of Statesville.

Nursery Department: Mrs. J. P. Davis of Mocksville.

Beginners' Department: Mrs. Harry Garrison of Statesville.

Primary Department: Mrs. Louella Brown of Albemarle.

Junior Department: Mrs. Ruth Bagwell of Salisbury.

Intermediate Department: Mrs. Dorothy Elliott of Mooresville.

The demonstration of joint worship service of the Vacation Bible School will be held during the morning session. Mrs. G. M. Fleming of Cleveland will lead the worship service.

A book exhibit, with Mrs. Jo Gwin, Manager of the Baptist Book Store in Charlotte, in charge, will be shown.

All Vacation Bible School workers from the Baptist Churches in the South Yadkin Association, pastors and Sunday School Superintendents are urged to attend this session.

Wreck At Crossing

"Suicide Crossing" added another wreck to its long list Tuesday afternoon. This time one of the victims was a 70-year-old man who stated that this was his first accident of any sort. He had been driving since 1915.

T. L. Martin, 70, former native of Davie County and presently living in Sumter, S. C., was driving a 1950 Buick and heading West on highway 64. Mr. Martin stated that he stopped at the crossing and allowed an approaching school bus, which was heading east, to go by. He stated that upon not seeing another vehicle approaching he attempted to cross highway 158.

A pickup truck, driven by Clifford Lee Moser of Salisbury and belonging to the Carolina Ventilating Awning Company of that city, was traveling South, in the direction of Salisbury. Skid marks on the highway showed that brakes were applied for approximately 30 feet in the effort to avoid hitting the car.

The truck struck the Buick near the left front portion. The Buick ran off the highway into the yard of Mrs. Mary Woodruff, head-on into a tree.

No one was seriously injured. Highway Patrolman T. J. Badgett investigated the accident.

Mr. Martin stated that he had read about this crossing in the newspaper and had hoped to avoid any entanglement with it. However, another look at the smashed front end of his Buick reminded that he was now one of its victims.

Pre-School Clinics Are Completed

Pre-school clinics for the examination of children who will enter schools in Davie County next fall were completed with clinics at Shady Grove and Smith Grove on Monday and at the Health Department in Mocksville on Tuesday. Forty children were examined at Shady Grove; 27 at Smith Grove; and 75 at Mocksville. This makes a total of 285 children examined in the pre-school clinics.

Several children have already been examined by the family physician. All who have not been examined should be taken to the family doctor at once in order that immunizations may be completed and any defects corrected before school begins next fall.

A doctor will be at the local health department on May 7, at 4 p.m. to examine any children who may have missed the clinics.

City Election Set for Tues.

The general municipal election for the Town of Mocksville will be held Tuesday, May 5, at the usual voting place, the courthouse.

The Democratic nominees, consisting of Mayor John E. Durham and Commissioners R. B. Sanford, Jr., M. H. Murray, J. C. Little, T. J. Caudell and L. S. Bowden, are unopposed.

The polls will be open from 6:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Louise Meroney will serve as registrar. E. L. Short and Charles Woodruff will serve as judges.

Twenty-Ninth Meeting Of Women of The Church

Women of Mocksville Presbyterian church played an active role in the 29th annual meeting of Women of the Church of the Winston-Salem Presbytery, held in Highland Presbyterian church of Winston-Salem on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 28 and 29.

The annual meeting of the executive board convened at 3 p.m. on Tuesday with Mrs. O. R. Hodgins of Thomasville presiding. Registration began on Tuesday evening at 7:20, and the evening session was at 7:30 with special music and invocation by the Rev. George Staples. Mrs. Fred Jackson of Highland church extended greetings and Miss Lacy Kinnery of Lexington responded. Mrs. Rufus D. Wilson of Burlington, synodical president, spoke on "My Commitment," and Mrs. Hodgins made her annual report.

Mrs. John E. Talmadge of Richmond, Va., spoke on world missions and brought the birth-day objective to the women. Mrs. Talmadge is the wife of the Rev. Talmadge, missionary to Korea, and they and their three sons are now on furlough and living in (Continued on Page 6)

The Junior Baseball League will open play Saturday afternoon. Mocksville Juniors are scheduled to meet Smith Grove Juniors at Smith Grove.

This junior baseball league is comprised of teams from Mocksville, Coolee, Smith Grove, Harmony, West Yadkin and Lone Hickory. Players must be under 15 years of age.

The Mocksville entry is being sponsored under the supervision of the Mocksville Recreation Commission as a part of the summer recreation program.

Local High School Entered By Thieves

Mocksville high school was broken into Monday night by culprits who ransacked the building apparently looking for money. Only a few items of value were reported missing. However, mju ch disorder was created through the ransacking of desks and cabinets, etc.

Entrance was made into the building by the prying open of the end doors. Other doors in the building were forced in a like manner.

Choir Entertains Local Rotary Club

The high school choir of the Davie County Training School entertained members of the Mocksville Rotary Club at their regular meeting Tuesday.

The choir, under the direction of Miss Alice Bovian, rendered several classical semi-classical, and religious selections.

M. H. Murray had charge of the program. The choir was introduced by Curtis Proce. President Paul Blackwelder presided.

Dickinson Heads Jaycees

Edgar Dickinson has been elected president of the Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce for the year 1953-54. Mr. Dickinson will succeed retiring president Bill Daniel and will be installed at a special meeting on May 7.

Other officers elected by the Jaycees for the coming year are as follows:

Executive Vice President, Vernon Dull.

Vice-President (Personnel) Bill Hendicks.

Vice-President (Internal Affairs) Henry Cole Tomlinson.

Vice-President (Projects) Roy Brown.

Vice-President (Public Relations), James Wall.

Secretary, Ray DeLapp.

Treasurer, Duke Tutetrow.

State Director, Bill Daniel.

The Board of Directors for the coming year will be composed of Carrol Arndt, R. F. Kemp, Tom Hunter, Worth Hendricks, and Wayne Eaton.

3 Women, 5 Men Arrested Saturday

A raid Saturday by members of the Davie County Sheriff's Department resulted in the jailing of five men and three women on various and sundry charges.

Names and address of those arrested, along with the charges, are as follows:

Allie Mae Dunlap, 26, Bonlee, (Chatham County, about six miles from Siler City), charged with fornication and adultery.

James Westmoreland, 27, of Greensboro. Charged with fornication and adultery, possession of non-taxpaid liquor.

Pat Strutz, 28, of Clemmons, charged with drunkenness.

Alex Cornatzer, around 70, of Advance, Route 1. Charged with possession of non-taxpaid liquor, operating a disorderly house.

Owilla Burton, 33, of Clemmons. Charged with drunkenness.

Robert B. Bones of Clemmons. Charged with aiding and abetting drunk driving, allowing unlicensed person to operate vehicle, possession and transporting of non-taxpaid liquor, operating truck with improper equipment.

W. V. Tysinger of Clemmons. Charged with being drunk.

Action began in the matter around 11:30 a.m. Saturday when Sheriff G. Alex Tucker and deputies Ransome Cooke and Millard Godbey stopped a pickup truck coming out of the road from the home of Alex Cornatzer, Advance, Route 1. Will Mers, who was involved in the fatal shooting of "Preacher" Melton several years ago, was driving. Owilla Burton and Robert B. Bones were occupants of the truck, which belonged to Bones.

These three were arrested on the charge of drunkenness and possession of nontaxpaid liquor and brought to the local jail. The pickup truck, International make, was also seized by the officers.

Sheriffs Tucker, Cooke and Godbey returned Saturday afternoon to the home of Alex Cornatzer and upon finding non-taxpaid liquor on the premises arrested Cornatzer, W. V. Tysinger and Pat Strutz. The latter two being charged with being drunk. The three were lodged in the local jail.

Saturday night the officers returned to the Cornatzer home and found Allie Mae Dunlap and James Westmoreland, without clothes, in bed. These two were charged with adultery and fornication and lodged in jail.

Several of the group had, as of Tuesday, made bond for appearance at Superior Court. The others still remained in the local jail.

CENTER GRANGE

Thirty-one people were present for the oyster supper at Center Grange Monday evening and had a very enjoyable evening. Three new members received the obligations at the business session following the supper. Picture slides on the migratory habits of birds and animals were shown by Wade Dyson.

Farm and Home News

—FROM THE COUNTY AND HOME AGENT'S OFFICE—

PREPARING WOOL FOR MARKET

By J. S. BUCHANAN, Animal Husbandry Extension Specialist

Wool must be properly clipped, carefully prepared and handled for it to bring its full value. Someone has said that wool is the most valuable crop produced on the farm and the most carelessly handled. The following suggestions, if followed by sheep men, should insure more money for the wool clip:

1. Have shearing equipment in good order well ahead of shearing time. For repairs send equipment to factory. Also send old combs and cutters to factory for sharpening. For new equipment see your local dealer.
2. Never shear when wool is wet. If wool gets damp, spread it out to dry before bagging it; damp wool will rot.
3. Shear on clean floor or a canvas to avoid getting straw, manure or trash of any kind in the wool.

4. Avoid second cuts. Cut close and keep fleece unbroken.
5. Tie each fleece with paper twine flesh side out. They may be a discount of 2 cents per pound on all wool not tied with paper twine and when sisal or binder twine is used 10 cents per pound may be deducted. Baling wire should never be used.
6. Tag all sheep before shearing. Pack tags and sweepings in a separate bag, otherwise much of this wool is lost in the process of grading.

7. Pack black, burry, dead wool or rejects of any kind in separate bags properly marked.
8. Keep lamb's wool separate from all other wool.
9. Pack wool in regular wool bags.
10. Store wool in dry place, never in wet basement, on ground or cement floor.

Ammonium Nitrate

The County Agent's office will receive one car load of ammonium nitrate for corn top dressing demonstrations. This material will be delivered by the FCX. People interested in this ammonium nitrate should come by our office to make application as soon as possible so that the materials can be delivered from the car.

PROTECT THOSE PASTURES

Last fall many pastures were grazed very close due to the dry weather and feed shortage. They were not given an opportunity to build up a reserve food supply to get off with an early start this spring. Since there has been a general hay shortage throughout the state the tendency is going to be to turn out to pasture this spring as early as possible. Before you open that pasture gate check those pastures carefully to see if they are ready for grazing. Mr. Sam Dobson, Pasture Specialist of the Agronomy Department, State College, makes some recommendations for dairymen to consider.

1. Pastures should be 4 to 5 inches tall before grazing starts. Grazing too early and too close will not let grass get a proper start. It weakens the stand and encourages weeds. Extreme early grazing should have been arranged for with early fast growing plants.

2. Avoid grazing new pastures when they are to wet. We've had lots of rain this winter and spring and some pastures with sufficient growth may be damaged seriously for the remainder of the growing season by turning cows out when land is too wet.
3. Keep pastures grazed evenly and clip surplus growth later in the season to prevent grasses from becoming mature, tough and less palatable. This will also avoid "spotty grazing." Surplus pasture can be used for hay or silage. Pasture clippings make excellent hay for young calves.
4. For maximum pasture yield rotate pasture frequently. Divide pastures into small areas and move cows from one to the other every few days. The young tender growth is palatable and stimulates milk production.
5. Be sure that your pastures are top dressed properly. This should be done annually with 400 to 600 pounds of 0-10-20, 0-9-27 or 0-14-14 for pasture with a combination of grass and clover.

H. D. Club Women Gather At Center

Twenty six members were present last Tuesday at the Center Home Demonstration Club meeting held in the community building. Mesdames Wayne Merrell, Duke Tutterow and Tom Evans were in charge of the program and Miss Florence Mackie gave a demonstration on "Draperies and Material."

North Carolina is rapidly diversifying its old row crop economy, by increasing livestock production to utilize its ideal pasture lands.

Large amounts of nutrients are removed from the soil by high producing pastures. These nutrients must be replaced by manure and fertilizers if pastures are to continue to produce well. The dry weather and close grazing last summer and fall may have killed out some of the grass, leaving a high percentage of clover in the pasture this spring. If this is the case, precautions to prevent bloat must be taken this spring.

Funerals

Fred H. Lanier, 70

Funeral services for Fred Holden Lanier, 70, of Mocksville, Rt. 1, were held Wednesday at the James Cross Roads Baptist Church. Rev. W. C. Barkley officiated. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Lanier died Tuesday at his home after a long illness.

Mr. Lanier was born in Davidson County July 31, 1882, son of Phillip and Sarah Michael Lanier. He had resided in Davie County for 35 years and was a retired farmer. He was married to Miss Mary Jane Grubb. She died in August, 1936.

it was about you!

says Madeleine Carroll

HAVE YOU EVER HEARD A STORY about someone that made you want to meet him? Well, I've just heard one. A story about a sincere, patriotic citizen who is doing something practical about his future and the peaceful future of his country by investing in U. S. Savings Bonds. A story about you! And one that ought to make you feel proud.

I felt good, too, when I heard what a great success story the U. S. Savings Bond Program has turned out to be. For you see, I'm a Savings Bond owner myself! And when you stop to think about how you and I and millions of our friends and neighbors all over America now own more than 49 billion dollars worth of our country's interest-earning Bonds—it makes you realize what a wonderful country we live in and what fine people our fellow Americans really are!

For no one has forced us to invest in Savings Bonds. We have invested of our own free will until today 1 out of every 4 men, women and children in America is a Savings Bond owner. That's the greatest success story of its kind the world has ever known!

I believe you'll agree that we've done this, not only because we have found that U. S. Savings Bonds are one sure way to save money. But because we're convinced they represent a concrete way to help bring peace and security—in a world where we have come to learn that peace is only for the strong! I'm a Bond owner; I hope you are, too!

Peace is for the strong... for peace and prosperity, invest in U.S. Savings Bonds

Great News! New money-earning features for United States Savings Bonds!

FIRST—Thanks to new Treasury regulations, every Series E Bond you invest in begins earning interest after only 6 months. It earns 3% interest compounded semiannually when held to maturity. It reaches full maturity value earlier (9 years 8 months) and the interest it pays is now bigger at the start.

SECOND—Every Series E Bond you own can now go on earning interest for 10 more years after it reaches the original maturity date—without your lifting a finger!

THIRD—All maturing E Bonds automatically earn interest at the new, higher rate (average 3% compounded semiannually) for 10 more years. Your original $18.75 can now repay you $33.67. $37.50 pays back $67.34. And so on.

FOURTH—If you want to be paid the interest your Bonds are earning every six months, ask at your bank about the new Series H Savings Bonds.

Harmony

By
MRS. RALPH V. MOORE

George Daniels, who underwent an operation at Davis Hospital last Monday, returned home Sunday very much improved.

Mrs. Oscar Cloninger of Troutman spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. W. F. Moore on Route 2. She was joined on Sunday by her husband and daughter, Ora Beth and her brother, who with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Moore.

Mrs. Eloise Campbell Richardson returned home Thursday from Davis hospital where she underwent a major operation on Monday.

Mrs. Joe Tharpe returned home Friday from Atlanta, Ga., where she spent the winter with her sons.

Mrs. L. A. Anderson who lives on Harmony, Route 2, relates that she has an asparagus fern that she has had for 35 years. She bought it when it was quite small from a dime store in 1918. It was kept growing since. She keeps it in her bedroom during the winter months and each spring re-pots it and cuts back part of the roots or divides it into several parts and gives friends a start from the parents plant. It is such a luxuriant grower that she has to constantly keep the fronds cut back to keep it from covering the floor. Things just naturally grow well in Iredell County, she says. But she would like to know if anyone has a house plant that is older than hers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Long and children of Cornelius, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bowen of Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reid of Statesville and Mr. and Mrs. Von Jennings and children of Pores Knob spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. R. L. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Flake Reid and Miss Ruth Reid.

A Junior Garden Club has been organized in the department of high school. Joan Sharpe has been elected president. There are about 25 in this group. They held their first meeting Monday, April 20.

Miss Maude Searcy attended the Garden Club at Union Grove on Tuesday night where she demonstrated floral arrangements for various occasions. Mrs. Vanhoy was hostess at this meeting.

Mrs. Catherine Beck and sister, June Wilkins, of Winston-Salem spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Windsor Wilkins.

Miss Della Arnold, who teaches in Wilkes County, spent the week end at her home here.

Miss Ruth McAuley has been named valedictorian of the senior class of Harmony high school and Miss Carolyn Fry, salutatorian. An interesting thing about this is that Ruth and Carolyn both live near Statesville and live opposite each other.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Smith of Low Gap have bought the W. F. Hinson farm and moved there. Mrs. Woodie Steelman entertained her mother, Mrs. Graham York, and Miss Ruth Reid with a birthday dinner on Sunday evening. Mrs. R. L. Reid also attended.

Miss Edna Cleary of Elkin spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Will Cleary.

Class Meeting

The Fannie Harmon Bible Class met Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Fannie Heath with Mrs. Victor Crosby and Mrs. Troy Powers co-hostesses.

Mrs. Lee Davis, president, presided. Mrs. Robert Kinder gave the devotionals and Mrs. S. L. Jurney conducted the Bible Study. During the social hour the hostess served a salad course and coffee.

Circle Meeting

The Sally Bady Circle of the Baptist Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. S. Williams with Mrs. Windsor Wilkins, chairman, presiding. Mrs. Ezra Hayes had charge of the very interesting program. The hostess served a salad course, candy and iced drinks to ten members.

Garden Club Meets

Harmony Garden Club met Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Home Ec building with Mrs. Charlie Jenkins presiding.

Mrs. V. V. Green talked on perennial borders. The hostesses, Mrs. J. C. Troutman, and Mrs. Ezra Hayes, assisted by Mrs. Victor Troutman, served tempting refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Burgess spent Monday and Tuesday in Charlotte. Mr. Burgess attended the Grand Lodge held at the Masonic Temple. He assisted in the examination for certified lecturers.

Mrs. Tony Wallace Feted At Shower

Mrs. Clyde Jenkins and Mrs. James Lambert honored Mrs. Tony Wallace at a miscellaneous shower Saturday evening at the home of the former.

Twenty-five guests played games in rooms that were bright with spring flowers. Mesdames Carl Campbell, Flake Millsaps and Reid Laws were prize winners.

The honoree attired in beige crepe was presented a corsage of white carnations by the hostess upon arrival and later given a lovely bed spread and a shower of gifts.

Refreshments of sandwiches, ice cream, cake, nuts and cold drinks were served.

Harmony Licks Hiddenite

Harmony High bats exploded for seven runs in the seventh inning to break a close game wide open and defeat Hiddenite High, 10-0.

Dwight Feinster held Hiddenite to fivehits and fanned six men in gaining the victory. He also slapped out two doubles to join with Richard Tatum and Julian Miller, both with two singles, to lead the attack for the winners.

Score by innings:
Harmony 100 110 7-10 12 1
Hiddenite 000 000 0-0 5 2
Feinster and Wooten; Meadows; Elder, Gwaltney, and Elder.

Junior-Senior Banquet

As modern in theme as tomorrow itself was the Junior-Senior banquet at Harmony high school Friday evening.

The Atomic World was the theme and the hand-made invitations with their red and green decorations against a black background were a hint of the elaborate way in which the theme was developed for the banquet itself.

The banquet, given by the Junior class of Harmony high school in honor of the Senior class, was in the cafeteria of the school and the cafeteria committee served the delicious dinner. There were 136 present.

The hall carried out the atomic age idea with an over-head canopy of molecules, made of balloons. The posts in the hall were wrapped to represent the atomic clouds and on the long tables were place cards and favors that further emphasized the theme. Small globe pencil sharpeners were among the favors and a very fascinating atom valence afforded entertainment. The juniors and seniors marched in to drums and horns and as they entered the dining hall they were showered with tiny bombs from a zeppelin that soared above them. At every place was a "Memories" booklet that carried menu and dinner program, and had lines for class signatures.

B. C. Black was master of ceremonies at the dinner; Ralph Kurfes gave the invocation and R. C. Black and Ruth Church gave welcomes, Kenneth Harris and Miss Searcy responding.

The program included music, reading, dancing with the closing song, "Let's sing 'til each atom in you rings," sung by all. At the close of the evening the Juniors sang: "This Is The Hours" and a lot of the seniors chanted.

Kenneth Harris is president of the Senior Class of Harmony high school; James Hager is vice-president; Mary Jo Tharpe is secretary and Julian Miller is treasurer. Miss Mary Lee Windsor and Ruth Reid are the class sponsors and "green and yellow are class colors with yellow rose as the flower. These colors were used in flower arrangements at the entrance to the banquet hall Friday evening, along with the lavender and white colors of the Junior class.

R. C. Black is president of the Junior Class; Ruth Church, vice president; Irene Clanton, secretary

Funerals

Mrs. Laura Floyd, 71

Funeral services for Mrs. Laura Floyd, 71, of Mocksville, Route 4, were held Sunday at the St. Michael Lutheran Church at Troutman. Services were conducted by the Rev. O. G. Swicegood. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Floyd died early Friday afternoon at the home of a nephew, Claude Beard, on Mocksville, Route 4.

She was a native of Iredell county and daughter of the late James Franklin and Jane Abie Beard. She left no immediate family.

HOW TO BE A BETTER COOK .. and save money too!

- ★ Season your cooked vegetables with spice! Cinnamon for squash; all-spice for tomatoes; chili powder for tomatoes; nutmeg for succotash.
- ★ Diced, sliced, or whole—steam your carrots in 1 cup Carnation Evaporated Milk diluted with 1 cup water, 2 tablespoons honey, 4 tablespoons butter. Serve with chopped parsley. Good for green peas, Brussels sprouts, and broccoli, too!
- ★ Brown dry bread crumbs or crushed dry cereal in a bit of hot fat. Sprinkle over hot asparagus.
- ★ When you use Carnation Evaporated Milk in mashed potatoes, it means extra nourishment and a delicious flavor! Combine 4 to 6 medium cooked potatoes with 1/2 cup heated undiluted Carnation. Beat until creamy.
- ★ Green beans, baked potatoes, asparagus become something special with cheese sauce. For the easiest sauce ever: heat 1 1/2 cups (large can) undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk with 1/2 teaspoon salt until small bubbles appear around edge of pan. Add 1 cup cubed or grated process-type American cheese, and stir until thickened and smooth.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1: Catastrophic illness is the term commonly used to describe sickness or accidents which impose a severe or disastrous financial burden on an individual or family. Voluntary insurance plans are developing programs to lessen such hardships by absorbing major portions of costs.

Answer to Question No. 2: When it is cluttered and disorganized with old medicines. A "medicine-cabinet-mistake" can be serious. Many medicines lose their effectiveness with age—or even become harmful. Left-over medicines from last year's illness should be discarded. Poisons must be clearly labeled and well out of children's reach. The wise family keeps nothing but currently used prescriptions and fresh first aid supplies. Never use a prescription that is not specifically ordered by your physician for the present illness.

Answer to Question No. 3: Urine examination helps in the diagnosis of many diseases and is the basis of every examination. Though it is not expected to tell the entire story, it does show the presence of infections of the kidneys and bladder, and malfunctioning of other organs. Safe at home base!

SILHOUETTED against the fading light, a Navy scout glides to an easy landing on the deck of a U.S. Navy Ship. Such a lone scouting mission takes the cooperation of more men than work together to bring about a home run for a major league ball club!

And it takes cooperation from us at home, too. One of the best ways we can help is by investing regularly in United States Savings Bonds. For it is your personal security, and that of every other American family wedded together, which means a strong economy for our country. And remember, peace is only for the strong.

Are you one of the 43,000,000 thrifty Americans who already own Series E Savings Bonds? If you're not, why don't you join the Payroll Savings Plan today where you work. Or invest through the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.

Here's how E Bonds now earn more money for you!
Now safe, sure U. S. Series E Savings Bonds pay an even better return than ever before... thanks to 3 brand new money-earning features announced by the U. S. Treasury.

- 1 Now every Series E Bond you get earns 3% interest, compounded semiannually.
- 2 Every Series E Bond you own can now go on earning interest for 10 more years after it reaches the original maturity date.
- 3 All maturing E Bonds automatically earn interest at the new, higher rate (average 3% compounded semiannually) for 10 more years.

Start now! Invest more savings in better-paying Series E Bonds—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank!

Peace is for the strong! For peace and prosperity invest in U. S. Savings Bonds

MORE ABOUT—

Women of the Church

Richmond. The morning session Wednesday began with registration at 9:30. Mrs. Ben Morton, Jr., president of the Women of the Church of the hostess church, extended greetings, and Mrs. Paul H. Richards of Mocksville responded. Greetings from Presbytery were extended by the Rev. C. H. Denham of Winston-Salem. Mrs. Hodgkin again gave her annual report and Mrs. Wilson spoke on "Enlisted for Christ."

Miss Lucy Steele, Mary McNair Jones, Professor of Bible at Peace College, Raleigh, introduced the Bible Study. Miss Steele has taught Bible in college since her own graduation from George Washington University, from which she holds both Bachelor's and Master's degrees. For one year she served in the mission field in Brazil. Known and loved by thousands of North Carolinians of all denominations, her Bible talk was one of the highlights of the meeting.

Mrs. Talmadge again spoke on world missions, and Mrs. Ralph Sykes of Mt. Airy presented the cause of Glade Valley, aided by students from the school. Women of the Church are in the process of furnishing a number of rooms at Glade Valley. A special Glade Valley offering was taken and Mrs. Haddon S. Kirk of Winston-Salem made the prayer of dedication.

From 12:30 until 1:30 the meeting recessed. Mrs. George Norfleet of Winston-Salem opened the afternoon session with prayer. District reports were made by Mrs. C. M. Sprinkle of Winston-Salem, Mrs. J. I. Miller of West Jefferson and Miss Lena Hatcher of Mt. Airy. The Rev. W. R. Smith of Winston-Salem, executive secretary for home missions, Mrs.

W. F. Brown of Lexington, syndical chairman for inter-racial work, and Mrs. Tom Finley of North Wilkesboro, chairman of religious education, also made reports as well as Mrs. E. F. Ebelien, Jr., of Lexington, secretary of literature.

Mrs. C. M. Norfleet of Winston-Salem installed the new officers, who were elected Wednesday morning.

Present officers, in addition to Mrs. Hodgkin are Mrs. Felix O. Gee of Lexington, first vice president; Mrs. W. F. Brown of Lexington, second vice - president; Miss Clara Ogilvie of Oakwoods, recording secretary; Mrs. P. M. Sherrill of Thomasville, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. W. G. Smith of Thomasville, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Dan J. Carter of North Wilkesboro, treasurer; and Mrs. P. E. Moran of Winston-Salem, historian.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Delman Lewis of Mt. Airy, world missions; Mrs. Paul Blackwelder of Mocksville, church extension; Mrs. Hoke Henderson of Elkin, Christian education; Mrs. Ned Tyrell of Winston - Salem, stewardship; Mrs. C. R. Reid of Thomasville, spiritual growth; Mrs. H. D. Townsend of Lexington, annuities and relief; and Mrs. Van W. Dillan of Elkin, assembly's special causes. Miss Laura Reynolds of Yadkinville is chairman of the evening circles.

Chairman of standing committee are Mrs. Charles E. Williams and Mrs. T. M. Snyder of Lexington; Mrs. Robert L. McMillan and Mrs. Ben Morton, Jr., of Winston-Salem; Mrs. L. M. Nelson of North Wilkesboro; and Mrs. Carl Van Deman of Wilkesboro. Members of the hostess church committee are Mrs. L. H. Roane, Mrs. H. B. Elliot, Mrs. Ansel Fowler, Mrs. Ralph Dixon, Mrs. Ben Aldridge and Mrs. Harry Bennett.

"SHORTY" YORK PACES RACERS

Tom Webster of Winston-Salem and Short York of Mocksville paced the sportsmen's stock car drivers in the week end battles at Bowman Gray stadium Saturday night and Peace Haven speedway Sunday afternoon to establish themselves among the top favorites for the approaching battles this week end.

Webster, who a week earlier registered his first win in a 10-lap heat event, took over the lead from Carl Burris of Leaksville near the final stages of the Bowman Gray thriller to win his first NASCAR feature event, while York rallied on the 22nd lap to nose our Bobby Myers for first place at Peace Haven after Bill Myers lost a wheel while leading the race of the first 21 laps and then finished third on three wheels and a hub. The speed demons are set for another double sportsmen's and amateur program Saturday and Sunday with the regular seven-event weekly races scheduled for Bowman Gray stadium Saturday night and the special 100-lap sportsmen's team race and two 25-lap amateur feature events slated for Martinsville, Va., speedway Sunday afternoon.

The Bowman Gray program starts at 8 o'clock Saturday night with the Martinsville program opening with time trials at 1 o'clock and the first race slated for 2:30 p.m.

Trailing Webster in the feature at Bowman Gray Saturday night were Carl Burris, second; Shorty York, third; Bill Myers, fourth; Ted Swaim, Winston-Salem, fifth; Glenn Wood, Stuart, Va., sixth; Bob Myers, Winston-Salem, seventh; and Pee Wee Jones, Winston-Salem, eighth.

Renovation of Clement Grove

Clement Grove, the site of the annual Masonic Picnic since 1897, is to undergo a long needed face lifting.

An announcement made public last week revealed plans to construct a new dinner arbor, expand the midway area and to move the concession stand into the center of the midway. In addition the land is to be graded and shaped so as to provide a larger and improved location to accommodate the crowd for the famed picnic.

All of these improvements should add to the growth and progress of this event. For several years now the lack of facilities has served to choke off the natural growth that should be expected. Through the renovations being planned, this event can be better cultivated and allowed to grow into the attraction that it's historic tradition deserves.

What Is A Home-Town Newspaper?

The purpose of a home-town weekly newspaper is a matter that has been often debated. Many seek to compare their hometown newspaper with larger daily newspapers, and as the result become very critical of what to them appear to be short comings of their local news organ.

An editorial entitled: "What Is A Home Town Newspaper?", written by Don Cammack appeared in the Buffalo (South Dakota) Times Herald. This editorial was entered in the Congressional Record, a portion of which is quoted below:

"A weekly newspaper seldom covers world-shaking events, but tells of everyday happenings to the folks in the community. But, after all, is that not the substance of which life is made?"

"We have remained silent when a tourist asked 'How can people live in a crummy little town like this?' From 'crummy' little communities like this come the Lincolns and the Eisenhowers of our country. Perhaps one of the boys who plays on our streets or in the shade of our corals may one day sit behind the President's desk. If your local newspaper can tell the story of his birth, his growth, his childhood achievements, his graduation, his marriage, suffer with him through his failures, rejoice with him in his successes, it has done its job.

"What is a home newspaper? It is a hometown institution which grows with you, prospers with you, grieves with you, rejoices with you. In short, a home town newspaper is the history of the normal life of a normal community."

AMERICANS ALL

IN 1852, A YOUNG GERMAN IMMIGRANT WALKED DOWN A GANGPLANK IN NEW YORK AND STEPPED INTO AMERICAN HISTORY. BEFORE CARL SCHURZ WAS EVEN NATURALIZED, WISCONSIN PIONEERS PUT HIM UP AS A CANDIDATE FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, AND IN 50 FATEFUL YEARS, HE BECAME A DIPLOMAT, A WAR GENERAL, A SENATOR, A CABINET MEMBER, A LEGEND.

SHORTLY AFTER HIS ARRIVAL IN AMERICA

AS SECY OF THE INTERIOR UNDER PRESIDENT HAYES.

THE ANONYMOUS IMMIGRANT WHO WALKED OFF THE BOAT YESTERDAY, OR LAST WEEK, OR LAST YEAR, EAGER TO BREATHE THE SWEET AIR OF FREEDOM, MAY NOT BE ANONYMOUS FOR LONG, BECAUSE THERE IS NO CEILING HERE ON OPPORTUNITY, HE MAY BE ANOTHER CARL SCHURZ.

SECRETARY BENSON PRAYS

By George Peck

Once more evidence that the men who are now occupying key positions at Washington are mindful of America's spiritual heritage is the prayer offered by Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, at the beginning of the first informal Cabinet meeting of President Eisenhower held in New York City on January 12, 1953. On that date, Mr. Benson was the Secretary of Agriculture Designate and General Eisenhower was the President-Elect.

The prayer was called for, without previous notice, as the beginning of the luncheon and was given spontaneously. Secretary Benson explains that never before has he attempted to write a prayer, but at the urgent request of the press, reconstructed this one as nearly as possible. The prayer is of such beauty that it is passed on to the readers of this column just as Secretary Benson reconstructed it:

"Our Heavenly and Eternal Father, in deep humility and gratitude we approach Thy holy throne in prayer. We thank Thee for this blessed privilege for we realize, in part at least, our great dependence upon Thee.

"We are deeply grateful for this glorious land in which we live. We know it is a land choice above all others—the greatest nation under Heaven. We thank Thee for all of our spiritual and material blessings. We thank Thee for liberty—for our free agency, our way of life, and our free institutions.

"We acknowledge, gratefully, the unselfish service of those who have preceded us, especially the Founding Fathers of this nation. We thank Thee for the glorious Constitution of this land which has been established by noble men who Thou didst raise up unto this very purpose. We praise Thy holy name for the glorious and eternal concepts embodied therein. Help us, we pray Thee to be true and faithful to these great and guiding principles.

"Our Heavenly Father, bless, richly, we pray Thee, Thy son and servant who has been chosen by the sovereign people of this great nation, to serve as their Chief Executive. Our Father, wilt Thou endow him, and all of us, with a deep spirit of humility and devotion. We know that without Thy divine help we cannot succeed in the great responsibilities which have been placed upon us. Sustain us, our Father, through Thy divine power.

"Bless in a special manner Thy servant, our leader, with wisdom, understanding and the inspiration of Thy Spirit to guide him in his heavy and all-important duties. Bless him with unbounded energy, health and strength. And may he always be blessed with vision and a constant spirit of discernment in his leadership.

"Bless those of us whom he has chosen to assist him and to stand at his side. May we ever uphold his hand and be true to him and to the sacred trust imposed in us. Wilt Thou also bless abundantly the Congress and the Judiciary. May there always be a spirit of unity in the three great branches of our Government.

"Heavenly Father, we desire only to do Thy will. Forgive us our imperfections and weaknesses. Guide and direct us as we go forward in our new and heavy responsibilities. Bless us with a spirit of humility. May we ever be united in seeking to know Thy will and to promote the welfare of the people of this land and of the world.

"We thank Thee for Thy manifold blessings both material and spiritual. For this food of which we are about to partake—a further evidence and reminder of Thy goodness and mercy—we thank Thee. Bless and sanctify it to our nourishment and good. May we use the energy and strength derived therefrom in helping to achieve Thy holy purposes.

"We ascribe unto Thee the praise, the honor and the glory for all we have achieved or may accomplish. Gratefully we dedicate our lives unto Thee and to Thy service. Guide and direct us in our deliberations today and always and help us to serve with an eye single to Thy glory we humbly pray in the worthy name of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Saviour, even so, Amen."

TEXT: "I can usually judge a fellow by what he laughs at." —Wilson Mizner.

Little Arthur marched proudly home from his first day at school. His mother met him at the front steps and asked, "Well, son, what did you learn at school today?" "Nothing, mother," said her son, then seeing the disappointment on his mother's face he added, "But I learned a lot at recess."

The schools we attend are examined with care. The classes, the teachers, the subjects are considered seriously. Formal knowledge comes slowly after untold hours of honest study. Between the hours of study and classroom periods are many more hours of "recess." Sometimes these "recess" periods are planned. Often they appear suddenly, begging to be used. How we use life's "recess periods," the companions with whom we spend them, may be for more important than formal schooling. Not only do we learn much at "recess," but how we use our "recess"—"what we laugh at"—is a more accurate gauge of our worth than all the books we study.

KIDD BREWER'S Raleigh Roundup

COMER . . . One of our favorite State officials is Dr. I. Beverly Lake, assistant to the Attorney General and former dean of the Wake Forest Law School. Keep an eye on him.

Lake, son of the late head of the Physics Department at Wake Forest, is the man who has given Duke Power, Southern Bell and Carolina Telephone and Telegraph such a hard time within the past two years in their bids for higher rates. Lake has been representing the people.

Assistant Attorney General Lake has taken on some of the big ones, including Col. W. T. Joyner and former Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor, but he seldom comes out second best in the arguments.

No finer man ever lived in this State than his daddy. The able son may not have all the lovely charm possessed by his father, but the elder's scientific knowledge was no peer to the legal tightropes his son can walk when the situation demands it.

QUITTING . . . North Carolina's outstanding speaker, Edmund Harding of Washington, is finally slowing down. After 41 years as organist in St. Peter's Church, in his hown town, Harding is resigning.

Probably no man living has done more to carry the good name of North Carolina to all parts of the United States. He has spoken in most of the states—in several of them many, many times—and is income has been estimated at as high as $35,000 per year from public speaking.

DYNAMITE . . . One of the legislators embroiled in the argument over whether to permit dynamite to be sold without a permit, due notice, etc., last week received the following clipping, a classified ad, which ran in the St. Peter, Minn., Herald: "WANTED: Man to handle dynamite. Must be prepared to travel unexpectedly."

ENOUGH? . . . In one of the longest sessions on record, this year's Legislature has paved the way for the State of North Carolina to spend 756 million, 250 thousand dollars in the next two years. This includes the $86,250,000 in bonds along with the $620,000,000 actually appropriated.

There has never been anything to approach this budget in the long history of the State. It is moving well along toward a billion dollars. We may have some folks in North Carolina who will say it isn't enough, but it may prove to be more than we will take in unless the new short from for income taxes produces financial miracles.

NEXT TIME . . . Now, with all our climbing up the financial ladder during the past decade, we have seen no increase in taxes worthy of mention. Business has been good, and with our State financial structure tied closely to business cycles through income taxes and sales taxes rather than the sluggish ad valorem revenue, we have taken in the cash—and spent it.

In 1955, the Legislature will have to raise taxes or cut salaries and discontinue for a period its huge and unprecedented expenditures for permanent improvements. This was made clear last week by Senator Currie and Representative Rodman, co-chairmen of the Joint Finance Committee. So, look for increased taxes in '55, if not before.

LIKE THEM? . . . Grits, says President Ike, is one of his favorite foods. Regarding Eisenhower's fondness for this Southern dish, the Greensboro Record remarks:

Maybe there have been other Republicans who liked grits, but we never heard of one who did and we've always thought of grits, somehow, as Democratic victuals. So the idea occurred to us, rightly or wrongly, that in letting it be known he is a grits man, Ike may be unwittingly winning a heavy Democratic vote for the next Presidential campaign.

The Record goes on to say that it is "intrigued by Ike's use of the plural pronoun 'them' in referring to grits. Although grits ends in 's' we had always considered grits a singular noun. Nearly everybody we know calls grits: 'it,' not 'them.'"

Well, it may be that Record Editor Colvin Leonard is moving in rarefied literary atmosphere, for around Raleigh grits seems—or seem—to be plural, in regular street conversation. We might add that grits, after they get cold, are fine fried, bring extra good with two or three molasses. Ike has something there . . . on the grits business.

NO GOOD . . . but on the other hand, North Carolina's GOP Representative Charles Jonas said the White House breakfasts are nothing to write home about.

We heard that after having breakfast with Ike the other morning, he went out and had a square meal.

LOOKING AHEAD . . . Former Gov. Kerr Scott is expected to be here on Thursday, April 30, for the big highway blowout unveiling a plaque honoring Frank Page, first chairman of the State Highway Commission. You may expect the newspaper folks to be hard after Scott for some sign of future plans.

Maybe you can make something of this: a few days before Scott left office Hugh Morton of Wilmington called by to interest him in some picture postcards of himself for use in easy replies to mail he would receive at his Haw River farm. Scott didn't seem very interested at that time. But he recently wrote Photographer Morton as follows: "The next time you're by this way, I want to talk to you about the postcard proposition."

People keep saying Scott will take on Sen. Willis Smith, but a more likely candidate as we see it is Harold Cooley. There is also L. Y. Ballentine. And a big rumor here last week ad Sen. John Larkins as chief contender for the Smith seat.

Being mentioned for Governor in 1955 are Kerr Scott, Luther Hodges, Grady Rankin of Gastonia and Edwin Pate of Laurinburg. Comptroller General Lindsay Warren's 15 year term ends in 1955 should make an extremely formidable candidate. One thing in his favor if he decides to run: North Carolina has not had a Governor from east of Raleigh since Ehringhaus was elected in 1932.

NOTES . . . Heard last week that one Charles R. Brown of 1226 Biltmore Circle in Charlotte is pushing some kind of campaign for an Open Door in Raleigh. He says he is fed up with all this secrecy and has the promise of $25,000 to finance the crusade—and can raise twice that figure. So what?

You know of course that former State Treasurer Charlie Johnson is scheduled to move out very soon now as porjs collector in Wilmington to make room for a worthy Republican. Add to this fact that Johnson has requested the Rev. Charles Lynn Brown to move and you reach the conclusion that Johnson may be returning to Raleigh. There is a report that he will succeed Joshua James on the State Utilities Commission. Teh Rev. Mr. Brown, pastor of White Memorial Presbyterian Church here, lives in Johnson's old home at 1707 St. Mary's St.

Reeds Wins, 12-5

The Mocksville High baseball team traveled to Tyro, in Davidson County, and played Reeds High in a return game on April 17. The heavy hitting Reeds team pounded two Mocksville hurlers in another freshman, Billy Sell, for a total of 16 hits to overrun the Wildcats, 12-5. John Myers, for Reeds, handled the Mocksville big bats quite well in striking out nine and allowing only two doubles and four singles to come from Mocksville's usually heavy attack at the plate. Kenneth Howell started the mound duties for Mocksville, but after a good beginning the Reeds team seemed to be solving his deliveries too well, causing Coach Boose to put another freshman, Billy Sell, Johnny Hodgson led the visitors'

Advance Victorious, 14-12
Derry Barnhardt, Advance's stellar performer, pitched his team to a 14-12 victory over the Wildcats of Mocksville High last Friday afternoon. Brack Bailey drove the nails in Mocksville's coffin by hitting two home runs, the last of which drove in the winning run in the bottom of the seventh of a high-scoring ball game.

Howell started on the mound for Mocksville, but Coach Boose took him out in the third inning in favor of Jack Naylor. In the pitchers' nightmare six home runs were smashed out. Advance got four of these, in addition to Bailey's two, "Red" Cornatzer and E. Shore socked one each. For Mocksville Johnny Hodgson enjoyed a near perfect day at the plate with three for four including a homer; Kenneth Lanier also smashed out a round-tripper. Charles Messick and Keith Tutterow each got a triple to further bolster their batting aver-

I'll admit I'm not much of a crystal ball gazer, or anything of that sort, but right now I am going to predict that Mocksville will take the home game with West Yadkin next Friday, and by a comfortable margin. Once before I said Mocksville would win a game they were definitely not favored to take, and that was the basketball game with Courtney High on Feb. 13. Maybe Friday the 13th had something to do with the 45-2 overtime victory.
Mocksville's record for the 8 games played so far in baseball isn't very enviable, with only two triumphs, but at that time the cagers had won only one game. Well, here's hoping!

Hi - Life, Mocksville High's school paper, will be published under a new staff for the last issue of this year and all next year. Geraldine York is taking over the Editor-in-chief's job from Billie Harmon, and under her direction News Editor Judith Ward, Feature Editor Evona York, Sports Editor Robert Latham and Art Editor Rosaline Steelman, will be responsible for the publishing of the paper on the last day of school, May 20.

The Monogram Club, long dormant until last year, has formally written and approved a constitution. This document states a number of things, such as the officers shall be rising seniors, and the club will do as it sees fit toward sponsoring fund-raising activities. The constitution was approved last Tuesday at a special meeting held in the auditorium, President John Hodgson presiding.

Notes From Here and There
Jack Naylor pitched the final five innings of the Advance game practically on nerve alone. During pre-game warmup he accidentally stepped in a hole in the outfield, breaking a blood vessel in his ankle. The ankle, swollen to great size, bothered Jack terribly, especially when he had to run or step hard on it. On doctor's orders, he will not play any ball for at least a week.

Agricultural products represented 42 per cent of all U. S. imports last year, compared with 48 per cent in 1951.

New Holland's great new twine baler - the compact "66"

NEW HOLLAND'S Sensational 66

costs hundreds of dollars less! Makes hay baling practical on almost any farm!

HERE ARE THE FACTS:
The surprise of a life-time! That's the New Holland "66". We'll wager you've never seen a baler so compact in design... so completely new - feature after feature.
You'll be amazed the first time you see the "66". It's shorter and lower than most balers of its type on the market. It's designed to operate at full efficiency with a one or two-plow tractor. Best of all, it's priced so low that now even small-acreage farms can afford the finest in baling equipment.

Now you can enjoy the full benefits of having your own baler on the farm. You can bale your hay the moment it's ready to come in, and bale it fast for the highest quality with least spoilage by sun or rain.

In the field you'll find it hard to believe your eyes when the efficient "66" gobbles up the windrow. Nothing seems to stop it. It can kick out 6 firm square bales a minute... package up to 7 tons of hay in an hour! And it bales anything—clover, prairie hay, sudan grass, maize.

Come in and see us right away! We're ready and waiting to show you a "66". We'd like to go over this wonderful grass-land machine with you point by point... give you positive proof you can't buy better at the price!

The New Holland "66" proudly takes its place with the famous "77" twine-tie and the Mighty "80" wire-tie. No matter whether you feed, sell or custom bale, there's a New Holland that can do the job faster, better and at lower cost. Come in and look at YOUR New Holland today.

Miss Helen Keith Vogler Marries Jesse B. Shutt

Miss Helen Keith Vogler, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vogler of Advance, was married to Jesse Burke Shutt, son of Mrs. J. B. Shutt and the late Mr. Shutt of Winston-Salem, at the home of the Rev. E. W. Turner in Mocksville, on Saturday at 3 p.m.

The Rev. Mr. Turner performed the ceremony, using the double ring service.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burton of Advance were the only attendants.

The bride wore a navy blue suit with navy and white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Shutt is a graduate of Shady Grove High School and is employed by the P. H. Hanes Knitting Company in Winston-Salem.

Mr. Shutt is a graduate of Lewisville High School and is employed by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

Following the ceremony, the couple left for a wedding trip to points in Kentucky. Upon their return they will be at home on West First Street, Winston-Salem.

A SHALE BLOCK SILO GIVES YOU

Convenient Low Cost Storage of Feeds

Store silage properly and it will last for years. Even after long periods, silage is one of the best—lowest cost—stock feeds known. It provides more digestible nutrients than any food except pasture and is always available for any emergency.

A Silo made of Statesville shale block is weather proof, pest proof and resistant to acids. It requires little or no maintenance and the original cost is lower than silos of equal quality. Dollar for dollar, a Statesville shale block silo is your best buy.

Statesville Brick Company will be glad to send you a booklet telling how to build a shale block silo. Write or phone Statesville Brick Company today for your free copy.

Highest-powered ENGINE in the low-price field plus all these other buyer benefits that only the New Chevrolet offers you!

Entirely new Styling

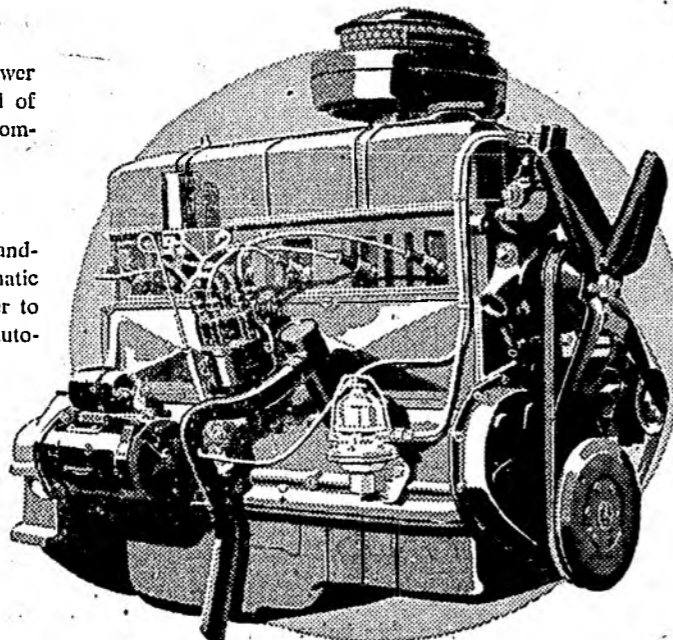

Strikingly new—with longer, lower lines that set a new standard of beauty for low-priced cars. Roomier, richer interiors, too.

Entirely new Powerglide*

Faster acceleration from a standing start with new automatic starting range . . . new power to pass in city traffic with new automatic passing range.

Entirely new Economy

The most important gain in economy in Chevrolet's history! Two great engines now offer even more economy than you have enjoyed with Chevrolet in the past.

Entirely new Safety

New one-piece curved windshield for greater visibility. New, sturdier construction. New, easier brake action and new Foot-Form brake pedal.

Entirely new Durability

Chevrolet's new Body by Fisher is strengthened throughout. New heavier door-posts and sills. New bracing in roof and framing.

Entirely new Power Steering*

Exclusive to Chevrolet in the low-price field! It permits you to park with finger-tip ease. You turn the wheel and the power unit does the work.

Pictured above, you see the great new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine—one of the most important advances in engine design in many and many a year.

New high compression! The 7.5 to 1 compression ratio is among the highest in the industry. Free-breathing carburetion, new aluminum pistons and many other features also play an important role in making this the most powerful engine in its field.

Yet, both the "Blue-Flame" engine (teamed with the new Powerglide automatic transmission*) and the advanced "Thrift-King" engine (in gearshift models) offer a wonderful gain in economy, too.

Why not come in and take the wheel on a demonstration drive? Why not make it soon?

*Optional at extra cost. Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine available on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models only. Power Steering available on all models. (Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.)

High walls, barred windows, armed guards —is this the cure for crime?

When a disease epidemic breaks out in America, we stop at nothing to find the source of trouble. Millions are spent each year on research for infantile paralysis, tuberculosis, heart disease, cancer.

But what is our cure for crime? Our government spends millions annually for law enforcement, for the building of jails and penitentiaries, but it does little to prevent crime. Legal punishment is costly and ineffective. It is not a cure!

"Overcome evil with good." This is the only cure for the disease of crime. This is the spirit of Christ that we must nurture in the hearts of our youth. This is our hope for tomorrow—that men will learn to live by understanding and love, not by law and punishment. A better world will come only with better people.

You and your children will find the true way of life taught in the churches and church schools of America. It is the privilege and duty of all to attend church services regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

GMG TRUCKS A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE 228 cubic inch engine with 105 horsepower—highest in its class. Dual-Range Truck Hydra-Matic* unerringly selects the right gear ratio for all needs—automatically. 8.0 to 1 compression—highest of any gasoline truck engine—extracts more punch, faster response, from non-premium fuel. Hydra-Matic's 3-speed range for traffic, 4-speed range for open going, cuts engine rpm to the minimum needed for the job. Hydra-Matic's fluid coupling prevents engine strains, shock loading of drive line and rear axle, reducing servicing and repair needs. Better acceleration without shifting lag, cuts "traffic light time" at every stop. Elimination of clutch-and-gearshift effort keeps drivers fresher, more alert to accident hazards. *Standard equipment on Package Delivery model; optional at moderate extra cost on others. QUESTION:

is diesel power really as good as they say?

ANSWER:

EVERY BIT! Diesel is the modern power . . . in industry . . . in locomotives . . . in ships, and trucks, and submarines. And the Oliver Diesel is the simplest farm tractor ever made to use it—made in all sizes. Operating for one-third the fuel cost of a spark ignition tractor, an Oliver Diesel is clearly the most up-to-date tractor you can buy.
