Local Calf Scramble Saturday

A calf scramble, sponsored by the Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held at Rich Port Saturday evening at 8 p.m.

Twenty Hereford calves, weighing from 200 to 300 pounds each, will be turned loose in the ball park. Approximately 40 boys, equipped with halters, will attempt to catch them. When a calf is haltered and delivered across the finish line, the boys draw a name from a hat containing names of farmers promising calves as prizes. These calves may be claimed by the boys as they become available.

The boys competing in this scramble will be selected by the county farm agents and agricultural teachers.

The boys not lucky enough to catch a calf will participate in a greased hog contest. A hog, weighing from 50 to 75 pounds, will be greased and turned loose. A prize will be given to the boy capturing the pig.

There will also be a milking contest with four contestants and a greased pole climbing contest. In the latter contest a pair of shoes located on the top of the pole will be the prize for the winner.

Some 55 per cent of United States farm income is from products that have little or no price supports.

Davie County Gives Scott Big Majority

Former Gov. W. Kerr Scott won the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate Saturday in a hard-fought primary.

Unofficial figures from 1,918 of the state's 2,027 precincts gave Scott 297,001 votes to 271,661 for Senator Alton A. Lennon, who was appointed by Governor William B. Umstead last July to succeed the late Sen. Willis Smith. This gave Scott a lead of 25,340 over Lennon and a majority of 11,204 over his six opponents, with 109 precincts still to report.

Scott will oppose Republican Paul C. West of Raleigh, nominated in convention, in the general election. Since this is a Democratic state, Scott's nomination is equivalent to election.

A surprising factor of the Senate race was the small vote received by the five minor candidates—a combined total of only 14,136.

Scott carried Davie County, having a total of 700 votes to 406 for Alton Lennon. Scott carried every precinct with the exception of West Shady Grove and Clarksville.

So as Davie went, so went the State. Davie County gave a majority to each of the candidates nominated.

Congressman C. B. Deane was the top vote getter in Davie with 878 votes as compared to 141 for his opponent, Coble Funderburke. Scott also carried Davie on the short term ballot, 594 to 353.

The five minor candidates amassed only a total of 46 votes in Davie County. However, each man on the ticket received at least one vote in Davie.

Edwin Gill carried Davie County with 508 votes to 315 for Josh James, for the 22nd State Treasurer. For Commissioner of Insurance, Charlie Gold had 330 votes to 286 for Fletcher.

Legion Jrs. Lose Opener

Mocksville American Legion Junior Baseball team bowed to Spencer 10 to 2 Tuesday night in the opening game in League 2, Area 3.

Goodman, on the mound for the Spencer Juniors, limited Mocksville to only four hits. Jerry Fox had a triple for Mocksville's only big blow of the evening. Bobby Wooten went the route on the mound for the local team.

Mocksville will play Greensboro there Thursday evening. On June 8 they play at Salisbury and on June 10, at Lexington.

Mocksville's entry in the 1954 American Legion Junior race was roundly trounced by the Lexington Juniors at Lexington Saturday night, 16-11. It was a wild game all the way with Mocksville committing enough errors to give the game to Lexington.

Several of the first-string players for Mocksville were conspicuous by their unexplained absence, and only nine players made the trip. One of these was a Pony League player and another hadn't played Legion ball before.

Lexington banged out 13 hits, including 3 triples and a double; 11 Lexington players were walked; and Mocksville made 11 errors. The local nine didn't fare as well with only nine hits to their credit. Only four men got on via bases on balls, but Lexington bobbled the ball 11 times.

Bobby Wooten started on the mound for Mocksville, and he was relieved in the sixth by Howell. Harding took over in the eighth and struck out the three men who faced him.

This bird means business!

(He makes 11,000 calls every day—delivers 4,000,000 babies a year!)

These days, the stork is working overtime.

He established the all-time record last year when he delivered almost four million babies in the U. S. A. Four million—that's about 11,000 new customers every single day!

Our population is growing so fast that every month we add enough people to make a city the size of Richmond, Va.

What does this astonishing population increase mean to American business?

Simply this: an over-increasing need for everything America makes, everything America eats, everything America wears. Everything.

And this is just one reason why you are living in the age of America's greatest opportunities. Here's just a small sample of the big changes that are taking place:

1. We have more jobs—Even though employment in some areas has fallen off, we still have twenty million more jobs than we had in 1939. Nine times more Americans are in the $5,000-plus income bracket than in 1941!
2. We have more money—In spite of inflation and higher prices, the American people have over twice as much spending power now as they had in 1940.
3. We have more savings—Individual savings in America rose from $68.5 billion in 1940 to about $250 billion in 1953.
4. We have more farm output—52% more per man-hour than we had in 1940—and this in spite of a net shift of almost six million away from farms since that year!
5. We have more leisure time—Forty million Americans now get paid vacations—a great boon to the hotel and transportation businesses, to the sports, entertainment and hobby fields.
6. We'll soon have atomic energy driving locomotives, planes, power plants. Barring war, the atomic age should be America's greatest age!
7. We have a $500 billion backlog of needs that must be filled. We need $40 billion for schools...$60 billion for highways...$100 billion for housing...$300 billion for durable equipment. All this we need and more—much more!

It's plain to see that every businessman, housewife, laborer, white-collar worker, farmer—every one of us—is living on the threshold of America's greatest age of opportunity!

The better you know America,
the better the future looks!

ATTENTION LOVERS OF SWEET POTATO PIE!

While not all of North Carolina's production of sweet potatoes goes into pie-making, all Tarheels were happy to learn the 1953 crop of an estimated 4,320,000 bushels is 420,000 bushels more than that produced in 1952! This is an important money crop and contributes its part in making North Carolina a better place in which to work, play and live.

Another contribution to more pleasant living for North Carolinians is the brewing industry's self-regulation program where brewers, wholesalers and retailers—in counties where malt beverages are permitted under State control—cooperate to maintain wholesome conditions for the legal sale of beer and ale.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Elementary, my dear Watson

In the 1890's, when the German scientist Robert Koch developed tuberculin, one of the distinguished foreigners who visited him to discuss his discovery was an English physician named Arthur Conan Doyle. Yes—it was the creator of our old friend, Sherlock Holmes. The famous writer of detective stories was enthusiastic about this new substance which could detect tuberculosis germs in the human body. In a magazine article, he called it "a very important addition to the art of medicine."

Koch discovered that if he injected an extract of TB germs—tubercle bacilli—into the skin of animals, those who had been infected with the germs would soon develop red spots where the injection had been made. Others, who had not been exposed to tuberculosis, had no reaction.

By this simple means today we can find whether or not tuberculosis germs have entered the human body. The red bump that we call a tuberculin reaction does not mean that the person has tuberculosis. His body may have been able to overcome the invading germs, as in the case with most people who react to tuberculin. But the reaction does not mean that he has been around someone who has the disease in an active form so that germs were passed on to him.

To the doctor a tuberculin reaction is a clue, just as a foot print was to Sherlock Holmes. Then the doctor can take precautions to see that the germs do no further damage. And he can track down the culprit, tuberculosis, by examining the family and friends and associates of the reactor, to see whether one of them may be spreading TB germs without even realizing that he has the disease.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by Davie County Tuberculosis Seals Sales Chairman, Curtis Price.

Farm Market Price Survey

Editor's Note: Following is a summary of market price information for the week ending May 23, 1954, as gathered and edited by the Market News Service, N. C. Department of Agriculture.

Hog prices turned downward again this week at local buying stations. The decline amounted to 1.00 per hundred but a portion of this loss was regained at the week's close and top hogs closed 75 cents lower at mostly 25.25 per hundred pounds. In Chicago, hog prices dropped 1.00 to 1.50 and the closing top was a sparsely paid 26.00. The main weakening factor in the market was the rather large declines registered in wholesale dressed pork trade. Cattle prices were about steady in Rocky Mount and Rich Square during the week. Auction prices for good steers were reported at 18.50 to 19.75 and utility and commercial grades at 14.00 to 18.75. Utility and commercial heifers ranged from 12.00 to 17.00 and good vealers from 22.00 to 24.00. Utility and commercial cows brought 10.00 to 15.00 and good bulls 14.50 to 15.25.

Practically all grades and classes of cattle sold in Chicago this week were at prices ranging from 50 cents to as much as 3.00 lower. Choice and prime feed steers and heifers were off 50 cents to 1.50. Cows and bulls were 1.00 to 1.50 lower and vealers 2.00 to 3.00 lower. Most good to low choice steers were reported at 19.50 to 22.50 while good to low choice heifers brought 20.00 to 24.00.

Fryers and broilers remained steady in the Central North Carolina area. Farm pay prices were reported at 24 cents per pound. Heavy hens were weak with closing prices ranging from 19 to 23 cents per pound. Most sales, however, ranged from 20 to 22. Fryers were generally steady in other leading southern producing areas. Closing farm pay prices ranged from 23 to 24 cents per pound in the Shenandoah Valley and North Georgia areas and from 24 to 26¢ in the Delmarva section.

Eggs were unchanged in Raleigh with local grading stations paying 40 to 42 cents per dozen for A, large; 36 to 38 for A, mediums; and 35 for B, large. Durham also reported a steady egg market with prices for A, large at 40 to 43; mediums at 33 to 35; and B, large at 32 to 34.

Shelled corn prices strengthened slightly at several of the state's leading grain markets during the week. Closing prices for No. 2 yellow corn ranged from 1.65 to 1.72 per bushel in the eastern part of the state and from 1.75 to 1.85 in the piedmont. Wheat and oat prices were irregular. No. 2 red winter wheat ranged from 2.10 to 2.25 per bushel and No. 2 red oats from 65 to 80 cents per bushel.

Snap beans were generally steady to stronger at the close of the week on eastern North Carolina auction produce markets. Most sales on the Faison market were reported at 1.75 to 2.25 per bushel while on the Mount Olive market most sales ranged from

Meet The Juniors

By ED ROWLAND

Ben Harding
From Courtney High comes one of the outstanding players on the 1954 American Legion Junior baseball team; Ben Harding. Ben holds down the first base position on the squad and fills in on the mound when he is needed. He is in his third and final season in Legion ball this summer.

Ben is 16 years old and will be a senior at Courtney next fall. There is a saying that athletes have brawn but not brain, but Ben has both. This past spring he was Co-chief marshal of the junior class, and his classmates think so much of him they have elected him president of their class for the past three years.

Baseball is his favorite sport, but Ben excels in football and basketball, too. He is an end on Courtney's six-man football squad which last season was runner-up to Old Town for the Western Division of the state title. Courtney's strong basketball team he held down the center spot, and among his specialties was rebounds.

When you attend the Legion games this summer and see a tall boy stretching high and low to take the throws to first base, you'll be looking at Ben Harding, one of Courtney's contributions to this Legion team.

Bobby Woolen
Bobby Woolen, one of the promising hurlers on the squad, hails from West Yadin. This is his first year in Legion ball, but in the games so far he has exhibited fine control and a variety of deliveries to fool the opposing batters. His specialty is strikeouts.

Bobby will be a junior at West Yadin High next fall he is 15 years old. Bobby has more than athletic ability to his credit, because he is a Beta Club member and was president of his class last year.

Baseball is his only sport, but he is outstanding in that. He won two and lost none for West Yadin this spring in his second season of high school baseball. Look for some fine pitching to come from Bobby Woolen.

PHILADELPHIA "A's" TO CONDUCT CAMP

The Philadelphia Athletics will conduct a baseball school and tryout camp at the Kannapolis Baseball Park, Kannapolis, on June 2, 3 and 4.

All boys 16 years old and over are invited to attend. The sessions will get under way at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and will continue until late in the afternoon.

Hopeful of discovering new player talent to bolster their farm system and ultimately the major league team, the Athletics are fulfilling a second purpose in conducting their efficient camp. All of the boys who attend will receive expert instruction in various phases of baseball under the capable supervision of three of the top scouts in the Athletics organization: Dave Coble, Shelby: Eddie Brockwell, Winston-Salem; and Dutch Brennon.

Bernie Guest, Farm Director, and Earl Mack, Jr., Assistant, report that the tryout camp has been a source of a large percentage of the young men now playing in the Athletics organization. Youths who are interested in a professional baseball career should not miss this opportunity to find out just what their chances are.

The A's are particularly interested in signing young men who want to play professional baseball immediately.

Tid-Bits

By GORDON TOMLINSON

Anyone that knew "Marsh" Horn could not help but be fond of him. He might differ with you on issues, on candidates, on politics in general—but you could not help but like the man.

Testimony to this was borne out by the overflowing crowd that attended his funeral, and by the exceedingly large number of beautiful floral tributes.

"Marsh" was active all day Saturday around town, kidding about politics and candidates with first one person and another. He also was using every opportunity to put in a good word and do a little work for his candidate, Alton Lennon.

To a Scott supporter "Marsh" would say: "You're wrong. But if you're right and your man wins I'll vote for him this fall." And that he would have done if fate had permitted.

As a Democrat, "Marsh" had a full year during the first five months of 1954. He attended the Jefferson - Jackson Day Dinner in Raleigh in February. In April he went to Charlotte and heard Adlai Stevenson speak. And last month, on May 20, he attended the State Democratic Convention in Raleigh. At each of these functions he saw friends and renewed old acquaintances.

A son was born to Bob and Betty Dwigings Saturday morning. All day Bob was passing out cigars and receiving congratulations—that is except from one man.

Bob said that when he told Mack Kimbrough about it, Mack replied: "Another D— Democrat!"

All those around Mocksville know of the friendly running feud between Sol Cook and Will Marklin. Hardly a day passes without the two becoming entangled in some incident and Saturday was no exception.

About the middle of the day someone inquired as to how many votes had been cast at the Mocksville box. Someone else answered (in error of course): "Oh, Around a thousand."

Will heard and promptly chirped: "My G—! Who have they got counting them—Sol Cook?"

Sol also likes to tell about Will considering the possibility of running for county coroner.

"I asked Will what he would do if he had to determine the cause of a man's death," said Sol.

"Will said he would go through the process of examination and call it something or other," continued Sol.

"And, do you know," said Sol, if old Will did run for an office I'd find it mighty hard to keep from voting for him, myself."

Mister Democrat

Mr. Democrat is dead!

The above is an abrupt and somewhat startling statement. However, the statement is no more abrupt and startling than the facts contained therein.

"Mr. Democrat" was John Marshall Horn of Mocksville. His sudden death Saturday shocked his friends, leaving them and his party with a great feeling of personal loss.

For "Marsh," as he was known throughout Davie and this section of the state, there was no greater tribute than being a Democrat. He loved this party with an unswerving loyalty that is seldom seen. And with this love went arduous and faithful service.

"Marsh" was engaged in active party work almost up to the very end. He was active and interested in the Democratic Primary Saturday that was to select a United States Senator. As late as 5 p.m. Saturday afternoon, "Marsh" was talking politics and kidding among his friends. In other words, "he died in harness," and those that knew him know that this would have been the way he would have chosen.

"Marsh" will never be forgotten by his many friends and associates, not only in Davie County but throughout the entire State. He will be missed, but his inspiration and example of party loyalty will long be remembered.

As "Mr. Democrat" he will creep into and somewhat influence any conversation concerning politics for sometime to come. And this would be as he preferred.

Safety In Automobiles

Testing organizations continue to tell the American buying public that American automobile manufacturers are not giving sufficient attention to safety considerations.

In thorough and scientific tests it has been demonstrated that several simple changes in automobile body structure could have many lives, and prevent many disfigurements annually.

One of the safety features which could easily be installed in automobiles is an overhead brace, or rail, as racing drivers call it, which would prevent the roof of the automobiles from caving in if they turn over. Although we are aware of the fact that automobiles are not built to be turned over, the fact is that a number of them are turned over every day of the year. In the accidents an unnecessary number of drivers and passengers lose their lives because the roof caves in and crushes the occupants.

Another safety factor which most automobiles should include is safer braking. Most analytical tests prove that the type of brakes used on a vast majority of U. S.-built automobiles loses its efficiency when brakes are applied over a sustained application. Another safety device which would probably save more lives than any other thing, and certainly prevent more disfigurement, is the safety-strap. Safety-straps should be worn by all those who are going to do prolonged high-speed driving. Every responsible test ever made proves that safety straps protect occupants and the driver from what might be a fatal injury in a large percentage of automobile accidents.

Another safety factor which could be more carefully considered by manufacturers is weight distribution, the improper distribution of which causes skids and therefore many accidents.

Perhaps if the proposed car buyer would be more concerned with a car designed with the thought of keeping him alive, rather than being designed primarily for beauty and speed, more progress would be made in this field. It is a rather poor commentary on the automotive trade, and the buying public generally, to realize that most of us are driving death traps, slaughtering American citizens at the rate of better than 500 a week, and doing very little about it.

No Sudden Changes Due Because of The Segregation Decision

Despite widespread speculation about the Supreme Court's decision that separation in the public schools is unconstitutional, the fact is that few changes will occur in many of the seventeen states soon. And this includes North Carolina.

There is every evidence that the court tried carefully to avoid forcing a program that could well cause friction even though it found that mandatory separation of the races in the public schools is unconstitutional. By announcing that the states' Attorney General would be called to discuss how the situation could best be worked out, the court insured that no drastic action would take place immediately.

It appears that the next school year will already be under way before Attorneys General of the various states present their plans. While there may be some changes, the situation will certainly not be clarified until further hearings are held.

Perhaps the most surprising thing about the decision will be the lack of sudden, or overnight change, it brings. Custom dies slowly, and where both races are satisfied with their schools, especially in the areas where population is about equally divided, there will be a general reticence on the part of parents and students to attempt to force entrance of a few students into a particular school.

The unanimous decision of the Supreme Court Justices caught most observers by surprise. There is speculation that several Justices went along in making the decision unanimously only on the basis that no overnight change would be ordered by the highest court.

The May 17th decision seems to allow ample time for individuals, school authorities, and state officials to study and discuss the problem before any definite steps are made.

A Decade Has Passed

Though it seems like only a year or so ago, come the sixth of this month, Sunday, ten years will have passed since American and British troops landed on the beaches at Normandy in the great military operation which was to crush Adolph Hitler's European empire. And it was nine years to the day, on May 8th, that German military leaders surrendered their forces everywhere to the victorious allies. . . . Hitler having committed suicide on the last day of April or first of May.

Many changes have taken place since D-Day in 1944. But one change—the change to a genuine peace-time lull between wars—has not favored the American people. A huge defense machine must still be maintained and another threat to world security — Communism — is as ominous as the one the Allies defeated in 1945.

It is an event all Americans should remember, representing a military effort all would-be aggressors would do well to recall. Odd, however, that today, ten years after the invasion of Fortress Europe, we should be seeking the support of both Germany and Japan in our fight against Communism. And odd, we should be lacking the wholehearted and warm support of a French nation we recaptured and gave back to the free people of France in 1944 and 1945.

Who would have guessed it ten years ago? A decade can bring about surprising changes.

Rock Of Ages

Perhaps the most popular of legends about the writing of "Rock of Ages" has as its theme a wandering poet caught in a storm, and finding refuge under a cleft rock, writes his sentiments while the elements rage. The trouble with the story is that it wasn't invented until after 75 years after the hymn was written. Actually, the song was born of a less inspiring setting . . . an argument between two preachers.

"Arminianism" and "Calvinism" means little to the layman. But those were fighting words to the strict theologian of 200 years ago. "Prizefight" and "chilney-awee" are terms hurled by Arminian John Wesley at Calvinist August Toplady after the latter had accused the founder of Methodism of acting like a "hurling, sly assassin." Thus the battle went as both men, shrouded in their beliefs, carried on their fight in tracts, sermons and even hymns . . . Wesley contending that man could live without sinning and that Grace was free to all . . . Toplady arguing that everybody was born damned and redemption was a matter of God's choice.

Moving to London as minister to French Catholics, Toplady became editor of "The Gospel Magazine." Thus he had a new outlet for his arguments. In March, 1776, he wrote an article on "Spiritual Improvement and the National Debt," in which he sought to prove that man was as helpless to pay his debt of sin as England was to liquidate her national debt. At one sin per second, he figured, a man would have chalked up 1,576,800,000 transgressions at age 60 . . . but such a staggering debt had already been paid by Christ . . . to "pray afresh to God."

Toplady climaxed his article with a poem that is known today as "Rock of Ages" and it is gratifying that "Rock of Ages" has outlived the age of heated arguments on theology in which it was born.

Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee;
Let the water and the blood,
From Thy riven side which flowed,
Be of sin the double cure,
Save me from its guilt and power.

Nothing in my hand I bring,
Simply to Thy cross I cling;
Naked, come to Thee for dress,
Helpless look to Thee for grace;
Foul, I to the mountain fly,
Wash me, Saviour, or I die.

While I draw this fleeting breath,
When mine eyes shall close in death,
When I soar to worlds unknown,
See Thee on Thy judgment throne,
Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee.

THIS IS THE LAW

By FRED L. DAVIS
(For the N. C. Bar Association)

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW
Last week an attempt was made in this column to impress upon the reader the enormous influence exerted upon his everyday life by administrative agencies and their decisions which have the force and effect of law.

It was stated that one of the greatest services an attorney can render his client is in the field of administrative law. This week specific instances of such legal assistance are presented.

Occupants of a residential section were plagued by malaria-carrying mosquitoes. Investigation showed the mosquitoes were breeding in a nearby bottom area owned by a non-resident, whose address was unknown. The sufferers consulted an attorney, who brought the situation to the attention of the health officer and the municipal authorities, and pointed out the applicable statutes. The bottom was drained, and no further cases of malaria have been reported in that area.

A young business man ordered to report for induction into the army desired a few days extension in order to clear up his business affairs. The draft board, while sympathetic, held that it could do nothing since its ruling had already been made. The young man consulted his attorney, who, although barred by selective service regulations from appearing for his client before the draft board, was able to point out to his client that the board had given him only an 8-day notice to report instead of the 10-day notice required. When the matter was brought to the attention of the draft board, it held a re-hearing, and granted additional time to the selectee. Now in service, he estimates he saved several hundred dollars by having his plea reconsidered.

Case of the Miller
A miller wished to move his operations from a water-driven mill to a location in town. The town property was not zoned for industry, but the miller's attorney was able to present evidence which convinced the zoning board that the property should be rezoned. In addition, the attorney brought to the miller's attention the regulations of the Department of Agriculture applicable to power-driven mills (but not to water-driven mills) in advance of his operations change, saving him money and red tape trouble.

A small town wished to hold an agricultural fair. Its backers thought all that was necessary would be to set up prizes and engage a carnival, but this was not the case. It was necessary to prepare proper reports to the Commissioner of Agriculture and other similar papers, to comply with the law. After this was done, the fair operated successfully from the first year, without any of the red-tape troubles and anxieties usually attendant upon such projects.

But not all problems are so happily resolved. Statutory law provides, in many cases, for appeals to courts of law from decisions made by administrative agencies. These appeals must, however, be made within a specified period, and all too often the individual consults his lawyer too late.

For example, if a taxpayer wishes to take exception to a franchise tax assessed against him, he must file a written application for a hearing before the Commissioner of Revenue within 30 days after date of notice of such assessment.

In one such case, a taxpayer wished to appeal from the assessment figure shown on his notice. He consulted an attorney—five days too late for the lawyer to request the hearing.

About Driver's Licenses
The time for appeal may vary. In the case of a "discretionary" revocation of a driver's license, the hearing before authorized representatives of the Department of Motor Vehicles is supposed to be within 20 days after the suspension of a license is appealed. The decision of the Department may be appealed to the Superior Court—within 30 days of the final decision of the Department.

In many cases, probably a favorable decision could be obtained without the necessity of appeal. The attorney is familiar with procedures of the various administrative groups—these procedures vary widely.

The Utilities Commission, for instance, holds its hearings along very much the same lines as the Superior Court, while the Board of Conservation and Development is informal in its hearings, seldom swearing witnesses and giving consideration to written documents not made in affidavit form.

The private citizen, then, is wise to consult with one schooled in administrative law in the same manner he would take his lawsuit problems to an expert.

HINDSIGHT . . . As the returns rolled in late last Saturday night with Alvin Wingfield and the other minor candidates barely in the race at all, I thought of what we had written in this space here last week, as follows:

"A lot of things have been happening in the senatorial thing within the past two weeks. It seems doubtful that here will be a second primary. Watch your money, boys, for only the careless will bet on this one. Our main reason for thinking there will be no runoff is that the 'other' candidates have not been able to get up as much steam as we thought they would three or four weeks ago."

We were not sure whether the winner would be Alton Lennon or Kerr Scott—there were so many straws in the wind—but we just didn't feel there was much interest in Wingfield's candidacy. But other predictions pushed his total votes to as high as 50,000, with most of the prophets saying about 30,000. We couldn't see it. Wingfield's vote will run, when all the returns are in, at around 8,500. The minor candidates, then, polled only a little more than half of what the predictors had said Wingfield, alone, would poll.

FUTURE . . . Although W. Kerr Scott has been nominated with only a shade over 50 per cent of the votes cast, the Democrats should—and no doubt will—rally to his support in the General Election this fall.

And, one thing is sure, there isn't much chance Kerr Scott will ever be found voting with the Republicans in the Senate.

His philosophy will in all likelihood put him on the team with Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Russell Long of Alabama, Paul Douglas of Illinois, John Sparkman of Alabama, Herbert Lehman of New York, and Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. Not bad company, either, and Scott must be constantly on his toes to keep up with them. The U. S. Senate is no place for mental laziness.

POOLE IN WAKE . . . In Wake County, Scott as he has in the past really went to town. His vote was 14,793 to Lennon's 9,352. Although former State College Chancellor J. W. Harrelson was the front man as manager for Wake, Bruce Poole was largely responsible for lining up the precinct organizations and getting out the vote. His herculean efforts turned the trick in Wake County.

I don't know how it was in your section, but here in Wake the Scott folks really worked.

And just who, you might ask, is Bruce Poole?

Well, he was originally a Scott man, but supported William B. Umstead for Governor in 1952. Scott saw betrayal and Poole was moved out as warden at State Prison.

Poole felt that his support of Umstead was not appreciated to any great extent, so he went back to Scott. Incidentally, give any candidate 100 Bruce Poole's and chances are he will carry the State. We understand that Scott had here and there in North Carolina about that many key men who would listen to nothing except Scott's victory.

SLIGHT . . . Some of Carlisle Higgin's friends are still talking about an oversight—or whatever it was—that kept the Winston-Salem attorney and political leader off the stage at the recent State Democratic Convention. Higgins, who managed William B. Umstead's campaign for Governor and who recently succeeded Robert L. Doughton as Democratic National Committeeman from North Carolina, was not invited to sit on the stage. Why he wasn't, nobody seems to know. Of course, it was just one of those things that sometimes happen—but it didn't do much to create Democratic harmony in the State.

WEAVER SUCCESSOR . . . We predicted here three weeks ago that Wake Forest's Jim Weaver would be elected as the first commissioner of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

He was chosen last week. Now the Baptists must find a successor.

Within a few hours after he had been named to the five-year contract (at $15,000 per year) with the new athletic conference, a move got underway among Wake Forest men to bring Jim Tatum from Maryland as Deacon athletic director and football coach.

Tatum has told friends he would return to this State for a salary of $20,000 per annum. It is common knowledge that he was on the verge of coming to State, but they wanted only a football coach, feeling that they had already an unusually capable athletic director in Roy B. Clogston.

Wake Forest could not afford to pay $20,000 for a head football coach. They could not go that high for an athletic director. But for a combination—and what with Wake moving to Winston-Salem and the need for a big name coach and a broadened athletic program—they might come up with the $20,000 per year and Big Jim Tatum. At any rate, this is all being discussed here and there about the State—and may well supplant Alton Lennon as the chief topic of Baptist conversation now that the primary it out of he way.

CHECKING . . . As reported here last week, a local paper has been doing a lot of checking and a lot of hunting on Kidd Brewer—but with no startling results. They even referred to me as the "mystery man" in the Umstead administration.

As we said before, had the paper asked me in the first place about my business, I could have told them the same thing they went to a lot of trouble to find out: to wit, my business is not as good as it was under the Scott administration.

CONGRATULATIONS . . . While we are thinking about it, a hearty word of congratulations is in order for Terry Sanford, who managed W. Kerr Scott's successful campaign for the U. S. Senate. He conducted a clean hard fight, and is now as well set as any young man we know in North Carolina to go places politically.

LATER . . . Friends of Conservation Director Ben Douglas should not be disappointed that he has withdrawn formally his name as a possible successor to the late Senator Clyde R. Hoey. He is thinking about the future.

The reports we get are that he was given assurance of sharp support for another office—probably Governor—later if he would not get into the Hoey successor controversy.

60 Second Sermons

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "Life is not so short but there is always time for courtesy."—Emerson.

There is a familiar story about Abraham Lincoln which bears repeating. Lincoln was out for a drive with a wealthy plantation owner. They happened to pass an old negro who bowed very low and took off his hat to them. Lincoln tipped his hat in return and smiled at the man.

"Tell me something, Mr. President," the landlord asked, "Why should a man in your position take off your hat to a slave?"

"Because," replied Lincoln, "I prefer not to be outdone in courtesy by anyone."

Safety officials tell us that the greatest cause of accidents on our highways is a lack of courtesy. "Failure to yield the right of way," heads all accident causes.

That which is true on our highways is true in our business and social lives. Most collisions and accidents in life are caused by a lack of courtesy—"failure to yield the right of way." Men and women who make it a point not to be outdone in courtesy by anyone are better, safer drivers on the highways of our nation and of life. They enjoy a smoother, safer ride. Try it.

The nation's farmers will have to feed about 200 million United States citizens by 1975.

'LET GOD BE TRUE'

By PAUL SIKES

Many times I have seen signs with the following message: "Jesus Is Coming Soon." Let us notice some passages from God's word concerning the second coming of Jesus Christ.

Jesus said in John 14:3 "And I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself, that where I am, there ye may be also." The writer of the Hebrew letter speaks of this coming in Hebrews 9:28, "... unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation."

How many will see Him when He comes? "Behold the cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him..." (Rev. 1:7). We learn more concerning this second coming by reading two verses about His ascension. "And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel; which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven." (Acts 1:10-11).

Christ's coming will be a time of reward. "For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then shall reward every man according to his works." (Matt. 16:27) "And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according to his work shall be." (Rev. 22:12).

Some might ask, "What will the world be doing when Christ comes?" "But as the days of Noah were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. For in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and knew not until the flood come, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be." (Matt. 24:37-39). Their minds were not concerned with preparation.

Is Jesus coming soon? "But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only." and "Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come." (Matt. 24:36, 42). "... but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure." (1 John 3:2, 3). adv.

MY EXPRESSION OF APPRECIATION TO THE VOTERS OF DAVIE COUNTY

C. B. DEANE

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE UNITED STATES CONGRESS

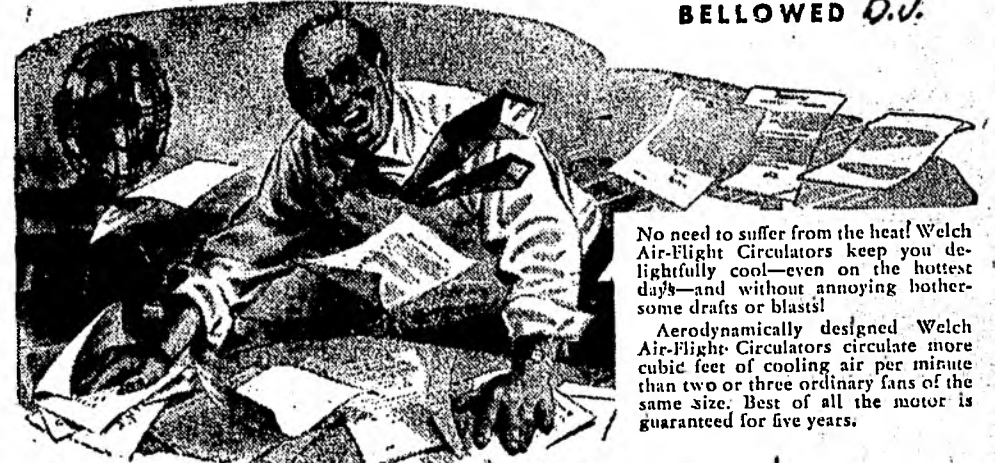

On Last Saturday you gave me a majority vote for the United States Congress that makes me feel not only very humble but challenges me to an even greater dedication to the urgent tasks that face us at home, in Washington and the World.

Never before as a Nation do we face more serious problems. I covet your prayers to the end that friction and bitterness within our country may be supplanted with the spirit of understanding answers to these many problems on the basis of what is right.

I am most grateful for your confidence.

Farm and Home News

—FROM THE COUNTY AND HOME AGENT'S OFFICE—
JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH
Everyone should endeavor to drink more milk and use more dairy products.

Every farmer should cull one cow from the herd in the month of June if she is not making a fair profit over the cost of feed. If every cow that farmers are losing money on was culled from the herd, there would be no surplus of any milk produce.

Producers and consumers should work together in June Dairy Month to adjust some of the over-production or under-consumption of milk products.

DID YOU KNOW?

That American milk consumers are a hard drinking bunch? They downed more than 12 billion quarts last year.

Ten and one-half quarts of rich milk are needed to provide the four pints of rich cream necessary to make one pound of butter?

That ice cream is a highly nutritious, as well as delightful food?

Government charts list ice cream in the Group IV of the Seven Basic Food Groups.

That non-fat dry solids is the least expensive and most concentrated food source of protein, calcium and riboflavin?

Every day homemakers in the United States use about eight million cans of evaporated milk, or put another way—5,500 cans per minute?

That dairymen throughout the world come to the U. S. to observe and study America's efficient low-cost system of milk production, distribution, sanitation, pasteurization?

Americans consumed per person last year about 27 per cent more cheese than before World War II—substantiating the phrase, "there's a cheese for every taste and pocketbook."

Though most mothers make an effort to see that their families get enough milk, according to a U. S. Government report, women generally "have a poor record as milk consumers, often taking far less than they need for adequate nutrition."

SEVEN OUT OF TEN

Along the installations maintained for the protection of your Electric Service, seven out of ten fires are caused by those who most enjoy fishing and other recreation that water provides.

For many years, the Duke Power Company has been growing trees to prevent eroded soil from filling dams and lakes maintained for one main purpose — GOOD ELECTRIC SERVICE.

Gradually, the water clears because of this protection, and people enjoy it more. Public access areas are provided for the convenience of Piedmont folks who enjoy boating, fishing, and other recreation along lakes and rivers. Then a neglected campfire or thrown match starts, all over again, the cycle of forest destruction that once made the Catawba "famous for mud."

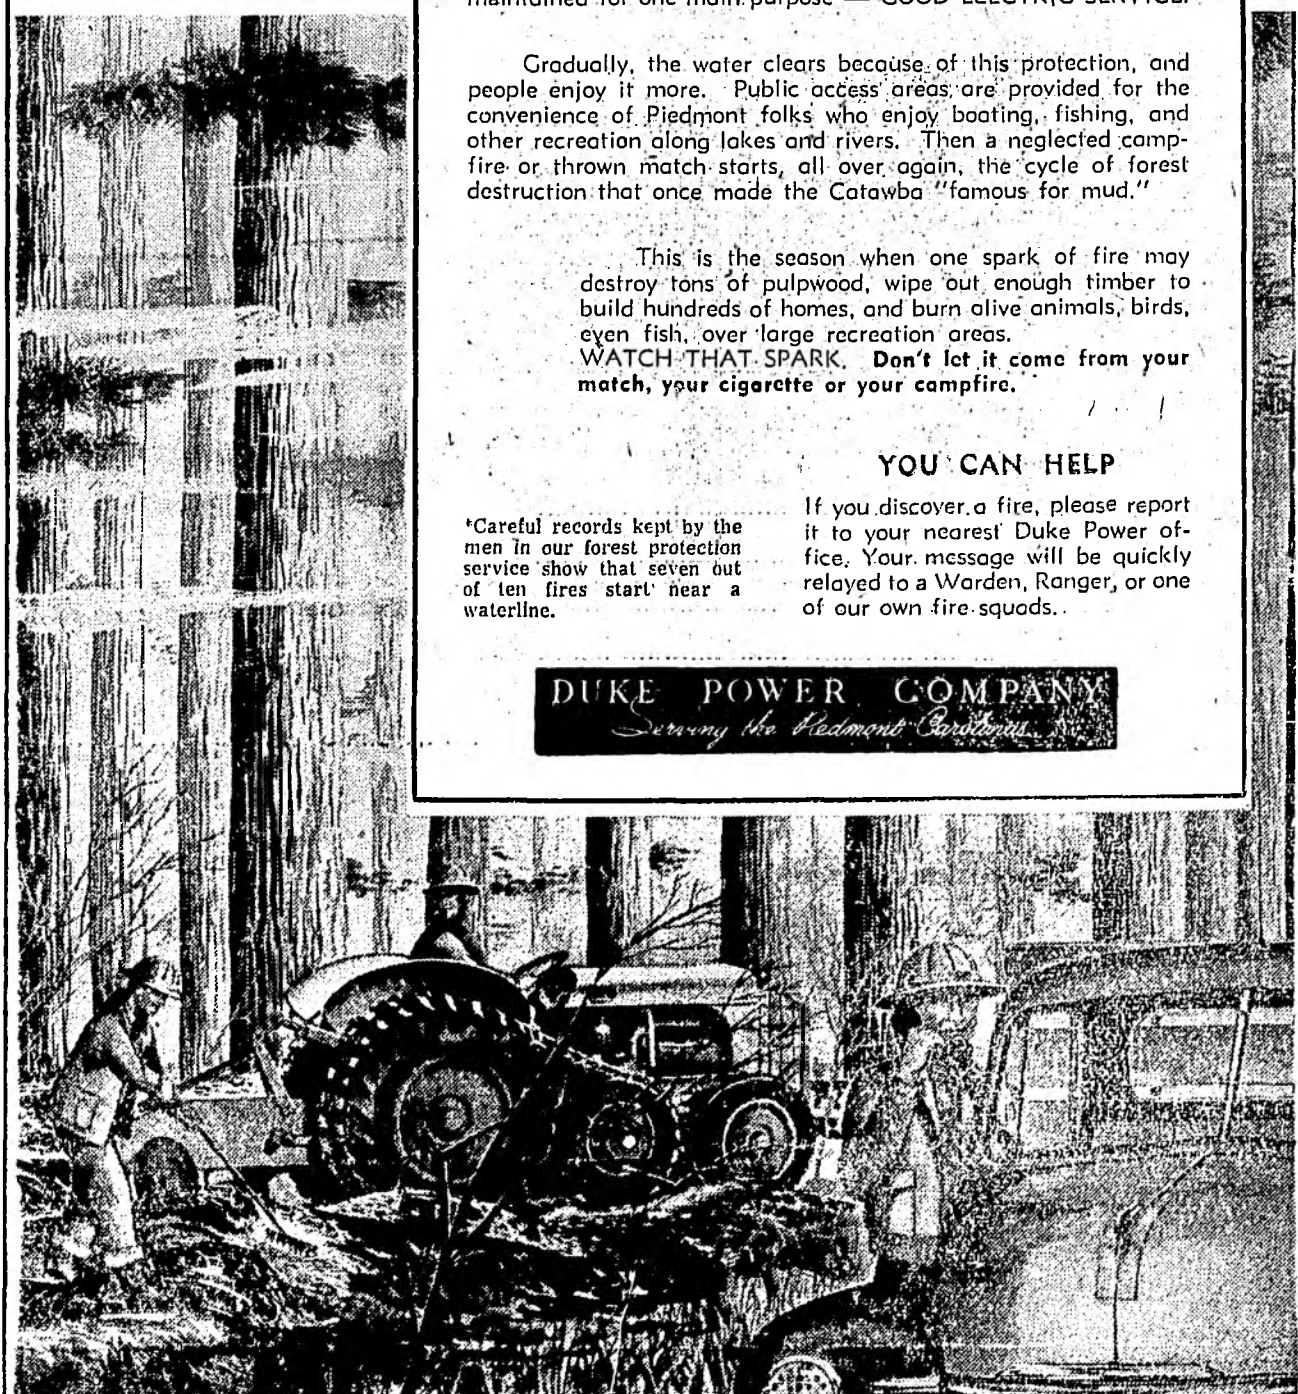

This is the season when one spark of fire may destroy tons of pulpwood, wipe out enough timber to build hundreds of homes, and burn olive animals, birds, even fish, over large recreation areas. WATCH THAT SPARK. Don't let it come from your match, your cigarette or your campfire.

YOU CAN HELP

*Careful records kept by the men in our forest protection service show that seven out of ten fires start near a waterline.

If you discover a fire, please report it to your nearest Duke Power office. Your message will be quickly relayed to a Warden, Ranger, or one of our own fire squads.

Farmington Fire Dept. Now Ready for Full Operations

Project Financed Through Contributions

On May 9 of this year the Farmington Volunteer Fire Department officially went into operation. And, they proudly point to the fact that since that date until now, they have not had any property loss in the community due to fire.

Fire Chief Wade Groce points out that "As yet we haven't had any calls. Just a few drills and a false alarm. However, we are ready, willing and able if the need were to arise."

The Farmington Volunteer Fire Department grew out of a project by the Pino-Grange and began around October, 1953. Through voluntary contributions around $5,000 was raised. In order to complete the project which estimated cost was around $8,000, the additional amount was borrowed from the bank.

Today Farmington has a modern fire truck, fully equipped. The community also owns a fire house on which is mounted the alarm siren.

Until the rural telephone system gets into operation, an alarm is turned in by pressing a button on the outside of the fire house. This sets off the siren which has a range of approximately three miles. The first of the volunteer firemen to arrive take the truck and leave instructions as to their destination on a board at the fire house. This enables the others to follow without any undue loss of time.

The Farmington Volunteer Fire Department is incorporated. J. E. Essie serves as president; John Carr Harpe, vice president; John H. Caudle, secretary; Harmon McMahan, treasurer. In addition there is a board of directors on which each church and civic organization in the community is represented.

Theatre Party For Children, 9-15, Tuesday

A special invitation has been extended to all children of the county, both white and colored, to participate in this festive party.

"Scramble" Winners Announced

A large crowd attended the Jaycee sponsored "Calf Scramble" held Saturday night at Rich Park. Twenty Hereford calves were turned loose, four or five at a time, and twice that number of boys were given an opportunity at catching them and delivering them across the finish line. The winners were allowed to draw a name from a hat and will receive a dairy calf as soon as the donor has one available.

After considerable "scrambling" around by both boys and the calves, the following came out as winners: (The name of the dairy calf donor is shown in parentheses):

Bobby Sidden (Cecil Leagans); Wade Dyson, Jr. (M. D. Pope); Gary Chaffin (Luther West); Johnny Hauser (Wade Patches); Halwood Groce (Hubert and W. A. Bailey); James White (B. T. Browder); Gilbert Potts (C. W. Phillips); Bob Langston (Clayton Groce); William Bailey (C. G. Angell); Roy Potts (Alex Tucker); Leon Carter (Paul Blackwelder); James Myers (Alex Tucker); Joe Vestal Gobble (Della Cornatzer); Dwight Langston (Hubert Boger); Jimmy Howard (Gene Miller); Brock Bailey (Lester Walker); Morgan Chaffin (E. F. Etchison); Herman Rutledge (Roy Redden); Tennyson Anderson (Fred Orrell).

Billy O'Neal caught the greased pig which was donated by G. A. Potts. Lucky numbers were drawn for calves as follows: Gray Barnhardt (Kenneth Hoops); Robert Mabe (Clarence Carter).

Brock Bailey climbed the greased pole and received as prize a pair of work shoes donated by the Mocksville Cash Store. The committee thought that a second prize should be awarded to Carlton Livengood who put forth such a great effort. Carlton will also receive a pair of shoes.

MEETING FOR WHEAT BUYERS MONDAY NIGHT

Marketing quotas are in effect with respect to the 1954 crop of wheat, and the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1930 specifies certain responsibilities and duties applicable to each buyer of wheat.

In order that people who buy or acquire wheat from producers may be fully advised regarding their responsibilities under the wheat marketing quota program, we have scheduled a meeting of all wheat buyers in the county to be held at the Court House in Mocksville on Monday night, June 14, 1954, at 8 p.m. It was announced by O. E. Driver, Chairman of the Davie County ASC Committee.

Intermediate buyers and all other people who are interested in the marketing quota program are invited to attend this meeting. An intermediate buyer is a person who purchases or acquires wheat prior to the time the wheat has been marketed to a warehouseman, elevator operator, feeder, or processor is considered as an "intermediate buyer." This will include persons who thresh or combine and receive toll wheat as payment for such service. Under the marketing quota regulations they must keep the required records of all such transactions and must properly identify the wheat acquired when it is marketed by them to a buyer as such wheat will be subject to such marketing quota penalty. The intermediate buyer will have to keep a record on Form MQ-95 (wheat 1954). This form will be given to the intermediate buyer upon request according to Mr. Driver.

All wheat buyers are urged to attend this meeting on Monday night.

Shady Grove FFA Chapter Tobacco Plant Bed Honored

Demonstration Bed Adjudged County's Best

Last year there was a serious shortage of tobacco plants in this area. Tobacco farmers experienced considerable difficulty in obtaining good plants in the battle of tobacco production.

This year farmers seized upon the opportunity to assure a better leaf crop by seeding ample beds and giving them proper care.

The junior group projects in this field were sponsored by the tobacco committee of the North-west North Carolina Development Association. The purpose was to boost the area's supply of plants and also to serve as demonstrations in good plant-bed management.

Last Thursday evening these junior farm groups, FFA Chapters, were honored at a dinner meeting in Elkin for the outstanding work displayed in establishing special tobacco plant-beds in the nine counties participating in the area development program. At this meeting, John C. Whitaker, chairman of the board of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, spoke. Top prizes of achievement were awarded.

The Davie County prize of $25 (donated by the Bank of Davie and the Sanford organizations) went to the Shady Grove FFA Chapter of which Jimmy Jones is president, and H. E. Partin, advisor.

The Shady Grove FFA Chapter under the direction of Mr. Partin made a plant bed. Joe Talbert furnished the land for the demonstration. The work was done by the FFA boys.

The seed, cover, weed control gas, and insecticides were furnished by commercial companies interested in the program. To demonstrate the value of certain procedures, the bed was divided into sections. Weed control gas was used on one section, and wasn't on another. A plant bed cover was used on one section and not on another. The results are apparent to anyone viewing the beds and according to Mr. Partin emphasize the importance of proper procedures to the boys.

From this bed the FFA Chapter has sold over 3,000 plants. They have 8,000 more plants contracted. The money from the sale of these plants, plus that the chapter received from having the best demonstration bed in the county, will be used to start a "pig chain."

"LET GOD BE TRUE"
By JACK WILHELM

It is refreshing to us daily to see friends who promise things to us who will keep their word. On the other hand, it is disgusting and nauseating when those in whom we had confidence demonstrate their unworthiness of our trust by a failure to do as they promise. The Bible repeatedly requests us to place our trust and faith in God. He has given us many great and precious promises, (2 Pet. 1:4; and he is faithful in keeping them to us. Heb. 10:23; 2 Pet. 3:9. We can rest fully assured that what God has promised, He will do; provided we can meet the conditions He gives for us to be recipients of the promise.

Some Things God Has Not Promised:

Sometimes, men try to have God granting them things which he has never said he would give. (1) The way men excuse themselves from doing right causes us to think that God has promised to accept excuses in place of service. This is not true, as is shown clearly in Luke 14:16-24. (2) Some apparently feel that God has promised a long life to them; which they can control themselves. Neither is this true, since James 4:13-14 reminds us that we have no control over the future and should include God in our plans today. In view of the briefly and uncertainty of life. (3) Many teachers leave the impression that God has promised to forgive one's alien sins through prayer. This again is an effort of man to have God making a promise which His Word does not make. The statement of the blind man in John 9:31; the life of Cornelius and the fact that he was told to hear the Word where, by he would be saved, in spite of his prayers; (Acts 10 and 11); and the conversion of Paul, who was told to cease his praying and arise and be baptized and wash away thy sins, (Acts 22:16); show honest hearts that God has not included prayer as a condition of pardon for alien sinners. There is nothing an alien sinner can obtain through prayer that cannot be furnished by the Word of God. How appropriate is James 1:21.

The Nature Of God's Promises:

Some of God's promises are unconditional, meaning that we have no control over some things God has promised. Examples: (1) He has promised that the world will not be destroyed again by a flood, Gen. 9:12-17; (2) He has promised us an appointment with death, Heb. 9:27; and (3) This is followed by a judgement which we will attend without any alternative on our part.

However, God's word also includes many conditional promises. That is, God promises things, provided we comply with the conditions of His will. Examples: (1) All things will work together for good, But to those (a) who love God and (b) who are the called according to His purpose, Rom. 8:28. (2) He has promised that we shall know the truth and be made free, provided we continue in His Word, Read John 8:31-32. (3) He has promised to forgive the alien sinners of their sins. This is to whosoever will come and take the water of life freely, Rev. 22:17. It is to those who believe and obey the Gospel of Christ, Mark 16:15-16; Heb. 5:8-9; Rom. 6:16-17; Thess. 1:7-9.

The meeting with the church of Christ at Jericho will continue through Tuesday night, June 15. We would like to share our services with you each night at 8 p.m. You are always welcome to meet with churches of Christ who preach the gospel of Christ.

Tid-Bits

By GORDON TOMLINSON

Ferdinand and Cicero were two Hereford calves contentedly leading a happy life on the spacious Win-Mock Farm of Fred Bahnsen. That is—until Saturday afternoon.

Saturday afternoon Ferdinand and Cicero, along with 18 other of their brethren, were loaded into a truck and to their destination was unknown. They figured that something must be in the wind, however, because Jack McCustion, manager of the farm, and Kent Taylor, herdsman, were also bound for the promised land.

What happened to Ferdinand and Cicero, and their brethren, can best be described by the conversation that took place between the two calves around 10 p.m. that night as they made their way back to their home, Win-Mock Farm.

"I don't know," said Cicero. "I never found out either. I heard Mr. McCustion say something about a scramble—and when those monkeys got after me that's exactly what I tried to do."

"Oh, the whole business was crazy to me," said Ferdinand. "Nothing was ever explained to me. Some one shoved you and me and a couple of others into fenced-in area. I looked around for some grass, but saw nothing but sand and a lot of people. Suddenly a voice from nowhere said, one, two, three go—and thinking they meant me—I started."

About that time there came a groing of thundering feet, tipped with wildly swinging arms holding ropes. Thinking they wanted

Farm and Home News

—FROM THE COUNTY AND HOME AGENT'S OFFICE—
Nonfat Dry Milk Solids Fast Gaining Popularity

High in protein, calcium and the B Vitamins—and fat free—non fat dry milk solids well deserves the popularity it has achieved so quickly. American homemakers early evaluated the nutritional and economical advantages of nonfat dry milk, and its important role in balancing the family diet and budget. Popular demand has placed this concentrated dairy product in every grocery store, and boomed its sales to consumers to 100 million pounds annually.

Nonfat dry milk solids is all me to run to the pen like Mr. McCustion and Mr. Taylor do sometimes, I started running and looking for it. But you know as yet I haven't found out what they wanted.

"One boy grabbed me, threw me down and put a halter on me. I started off at a trot and he started pulling back. Well, then I thought maybe we were suppose to have a tug of war, so I started pulling back, but that wasn't it either. Finally after considerable tugging on both our parts. I took a few steps forward—the crowd started applauding—and Mr. McCustion and Mr. Taylor grabbed the halter and hurriedly shoved me back into the truck. I say it was crazy!"

"Yes, that was my experience, too," said Cicero. "Except I fared worse than you. I had a big old brute to sit on top of me and boy is my side sore."

By this time the 20 calves were back at Win-Mock and were turned loose in the pasture. As Ferdinand and Cicero trotted off side by side, Ferdinand was heard to ask:

"You don't reckon that was politics, do you? I've heard that politics is often rough like this and I heard that Mr. Fred Bahnsen was elected the other week to the Forsyth Board of County Commissioners."

"I don't know," replied Cicero. "But if that was politics that Mr. Fred dragged us into, I would say that it's time for a change!"

And that is how two of the main participants viewed the Jayco "Calf Scramble" Saturday night.

food—fresh, sweet milk from which only fat and water have been removed, and to which nothing has been added. It takes 100 pounds of fluid separated milk to make just 9 pounds of nonfat dry milk solids. Concentrated in this form, it is possible to put more needed nonfat milk solids into foods and to do so economically.

More than one-third of nonfat dry solids is complete protein—essential to building of all body tissue and muscles. Nonfat dry milk solids is a most inexpensive source of complete protein.

Calcium is richly concentrated in nonfat dry solids too—and this is the nutrient most lacking in American diets today according to eminent nutrition authorities. Calcium is needed not only by children, but people of all ages.

While comparatively new to the homemaker, commercial food manufacturers have for generations been using nonfat dry solids in their high quality foods. Unknowingly, Mrs. Homemaker has derived the benefits of such usage. Bakers, for example, are the biggest customer for nonfat dry milk solids—using nearly one quarter billion pounds every year. They have long known, as Mrs. Homemaker does now, that yeast and quick breads, cakes and cookies, have improved color, flavor, texture, food value when made with nonfat dry milk solids. A variety of dairy products are also made with nonfat dry milk solids: ice cream, cottage cheese, flavored milk drinks, cheese foods. Appetizing, flavorful, loaves are made with smooth slicing sausages and meat loaves are made with nonfat dry milk solids.

The commercial baker and the homemaker know too that quick mixes are like money in the bank—to draw on at the end of a busy day, when here are emergencies, or unexpected guests. Commercial mixes on grocers' shelves today include cakes, biscuits, rolls, muffins, cookies, soups, beverages. The homemaker can also make her own homemade mixes—thrift, nutritious, delicious, and "easy as pie."

Challenge of McCarthy

The arrest recently of seven Communist leaders in New York and Connecticut pushes to 109 the total number of the party's leaders bagged by the FBI since the drive against them began six years ago.

The bagging of the latest seven Communist leaders also has a political twist. It comes at a time when the greatest hullabaloo possible is being made about Communism by Senate investigator Joe McCarthy, Wisconsin Senator. It comes just as the Senator has challenged the President's authority on security information.

It comes at a time when many people are being told that Senator McCarthy has a "right" to secret government information, and when the President and his advisors are telling the same people no member of the legislative branch has the power to delve into the affairs of the executive branch and to tell executive employees to disobey the orders of the President.

Senator McCarthy says he should have the secret information he wants, and that government employees should turn it over to him and disregard the orders of President Eisenhower to the contrary. Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) says that McCarthy may have already committed a crime in accepting such secrets from one government employee. That the officer who turned it over to him might also be guilty of a crime.

When McCarthy takes on the President (and he has done it before, but less directly) he is taking on a man in his own party that has a much larger following than he does. Not only that, but McCarthy is challenging the very roots of our democracy in setting himself up as greater than the law of the land. Perhaps these two factors will combine to such an extent that the verdict of public opinion will deal old Joe a lethal blow.

Voice Of The People

"For all those who engaged in our victory—and especially for those who worked in my behalf—my appreciation is humble and eternal," said W. Kerr Scott last week following his nomination to the U. S. Senate.

"As your Senator, I shall try, as always I have done in public office, to develop a program for betterment of all our people."

"There has never been any reason why Democrats of North Carolina should not join together to fight the common enemy. Democrats may count on me," said the former North Carolina Governor.

In defeating Lennon, Scott polled the largest number of votes received by a primary candidate in North Carolina. The previous high was the 303,605 vote received by Frank Graham in the first of the two 1950 contests.

The vote for Governor Scott shows in this contest anyway, he has the backing of the majority of the people in North Carolina. His interest in the rural people, and his efforts to do something about their needs, has been a characteristic of Kerr Scott ever since he first entered public service many years ago. Being forth-right, and on many occasions too outspoken, he has been a much cussed and discussed figure. However, the close scrutiny under which he was subjected during this last primary and the subsequent failure to produce any facts, should be proof enough that Governor Scott is not at all the man he has been painted in some quarters.

For the good of the State of North Carolina, for the good of the Democratic Party, and for the good of all the people it is hoped that some of the bitterness heretofore existing against Mr. Scott will subside. He deserves a chance to represent the people of North Carolina in the United States Senate. To do this he needs the backing and support of all.

What many have termed "the voice of the people," nominated Mr. Scott for the senate. To represent this "voice" becomes a challenge to Mr. Scott—but it is also a challenge to the people behind this "voice." It is a dual challenge of understanding and cooperation—the very foundation on which a democracy is based.

Vacation Bible Schools

The various churches of this county are now conducting the annual "Vacation Bible Schools."

The purpose of these schools is to teach, inform and acquaint the children with the organization of the Sunday School and Church, the Bible, and personal relationship one with another. To carry out this purpose, daily morning sessions are held for a period approximating two weeks, during which time instructions in these varied fields are given.

The so-called "Bible Schools" have a definite place in the program of the church. These schools acquaint the youngsters with the ritual and its objective, without subjecting the youngsters to the rigors of discipline that the regular service demands. Through this method the child gains greater understanding of what the church offers and what is expected of him.

The Calm After The Storm

Few would have believed, if told several years ago that the Supreme Court of the land would one day rule unanimously against mandatory segregation in the public schools, that such a calm atmosphere would prevail all over the South in the days immediately following that decision.

It is remarkable that the decision has produced no ugly incidents, or demonstrations and that order has prevailed throughout the country. The Supreme Court, of course, had a hand in this, since the High Court did not order an immediate abolition of all segregation when it asked for further arguments in the cases involved.

The Supreme Court has given lawyers involved (including Attorneys General of the states affected, the Attorney General of the United States, Herbert Brownell, and lawyers for the plaintiffs) until September 15th to present their arguments on methods for beginning the destruction of the mandatory separate but equal school system.

The Court has also given the affected parties until October 1st to file briefs in the case. Whether or not the various states' Attorneys General will argue the steps by which mandatory segregation is to be eliminated in the public schools, we are not prepared to say at this time. No doubt, Attorney General Brownell or his representatives, will be on hand for the arguments, as was the case in the earlier arguments of this case before the Supreme Court.

Perhaps the most amazing thing about the recent Supreme Court decision is the fact that the 9-0 verdict overturned the 1896 verdict which was almost equally unanimous 8-1.

Thus, in the short period of 58 years, the Supreme Court has entirely changed its interpretation of the Constitution, or its philosophy in interpreting it.

The real effect of that decision is to clear the way for changes in this field as fast as changes can be made without friction, and in line with the will of the majority of the people affected. Despite court decisions, laws and constitutional amendments (such as prohibition), modes and folkways of peoples change only as people themselves accept these changes. The abolishment of segregation will be no exception.

On Christ, the Solid Rock, I Stand

A cabinet maker takes up writing

"On Christ, the solid rock, I stand; all other ground is sinking sand." That line ran over and over in the mind of a 34-year-old London cabinet maker as he walked toward his woodworking shop.

Edward Mote was happy. He had learned his trade; had worked at it for wages and now he ran a woodworking business of his own. Always busy, Mote spent his spare hours writing articles for London periodicals. And, now and then, when a key line would hit him, he tried his hand at writing verse. But most of all Edward Mote was happy because his once confused mind was settled on his belief in God. He had been brought up in a home where the Bible was not permitted and his playground had been the streets of London. But after he became a man he attended Troitnam Court Road Chapel where sermons of the renowned John Inyan set his mind at ease.

Edward Mote's cabinet shop ran itself that day in 1934. He had a theme for a poem and he wanted to get it on paper. Closed in his little office he wrote the caption "Gracious Experience of a Christian" and, as he put it in the day I had four verses complete and wrote them off. "The Sunday following Mote went to the home of a minister friend whose wife was near death. Groping for words, the cabinet maker thought of his verses. He sang them for the dying woman and, at the conclusion of each verse, added the line "On Christ, the solid rock, I stand; all other ground is sinking sand." It was only then that Mote realized he had written a hymn. He had a thousand copies printed for friends; a hymnal picked it up and "The Solid Rock" has been sung ever since.

THIS IS THE LAW

By CHARLES W. DANIEL
For the N. C. Bar Association
Segregation in Schools
The recent momentous decision of the Supreme Court outlawing segregation of the races in the public schools of this country has excited intense speculation about practical results and will continue to do so indefinitely.

No man can say with any degree of certainty WHEN the actual transition to mixed classes will begin, or, what course it will take once it begins.

There are a few broad facts which may be stated as definite NOW:

1. The five cases considered together by the Supreme Court, and to which its decision was directed, dealt with segregation in the PUBLIC SCHOOLS ONLY. The opinion by Chief Justice Earl Warren and an unanimous court did not purport to deal with segregation outside the public schools. It would seem to follow—although the court in its 4,000 word opinion did not specifically say so—that other State segregation laws affecting segregation in intra-state transportation and the like remain unchanged. It should be emphasized that the decision affects PUBLIC SCHOOLS—those operated with State funds—only. I do not, of course, affect PRIVATE or DENOMINATIONAL schools.

A recent headline in a Durham paper, indicating that private schools are also involved, was obviously in error.

2. The 17 states now having segregation will be given a chance in arguments before the Supreme Court, AFTER next October 1 to suggest means and procedures for putting the new rule into effect. Since the 1954-55 school year will have started even before arguments begin it is a strong bet—as a practical matter—that no actual transition to mixed classes will take place in North Carolina during the next school year, and perhaps, not for some time after that.

3. Once the new plan is put into effect, it is doubtful that anything approaching a general mixing of the races in the classroom will occur in the near future. This is true because of the rule adopted by our State Board of Education which says that children must attend the school in the district in which they live. A child may attend a school outside his own home district only if the school heads of the two districts involved in a proposed transfer agree to the transfer, or, if the transfer is allowed by the State Board of Education.

There seems to be no sound reason why these rules of the Education Board should be altered as a result of the Court decision. Since most white children live in the close vicinity of the schools which they now attend, and the same is true of negro children, it appears, at least at the outset, that first mixing of the races would be slight.

4. There is nothing in the FEDERAL Constitution or in the Supreme Court's segregation ruling which says that a State MUST operate public schools. Our North Carolina Constitution—which could be changed by amendment on vote of the people says, in Article X, Sec. 2 that the General Assembly shall provide by taxation "and otherwise" a uniform system of public schools, "free" to children between 6 and 21, with separate but indiscriminate schools for whites and negroes.

The fact that "free" public schools are provided for both races, as well as Indians, is a voluntary function in State government. The fact that public schools are provided at all is a voluntary assumption of responsibility on the part of the State.

1,000,000 Affected
Approximately 1,000,000 white and negro students and teachers will be affected by the decision in North Carolina, once it is put into effect. In the 1952-53 school year, there were 652,622 white students (71 per cent) in our public schools. There were 276,401 negro pupils (29 per cent). The white students had 20,885 teachers (82 per cent), the negroes 8,031 teachers (38 per cent).

The meat of the historic court decision is found in the terse statement: "Separate educational facilities are inherently unequal." Chief Justice Warren, in the choice of those words, meant simply that no matter how equal the educational facilities, if they were kept separate, then, the quality of the educational opportunities could NOT be equal.

What Every Veteran Should Know

Since the time of the Civil War, veterans of the armed forces traditionally have been given some degree of preference in appointments to Government jobs.

Veteran preference in its present form was provided by Congress in the Veteran's Preference Act of 1944. Recognizing that an economic loss is suffered by those who serve their country in the armed forces, Congress enacted the law as a means of preventing veterans seeking Federal employment from being penalized because they were isolated from the civilian world during the months or years they spent in service.

Preference does not have as its goal the placement of a veteran in every Federal job in which a vacancy occurs; this would be incompatible with the merit principle of public employment. It does provide a uniform method by which special consideration is given to qualified veterans seeking Federal employment.

60 Second Sermons

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "He who would eat the kernel must crack the shell."—Latin Proverb

After a strong sermon on free salvation, the preacher asked that a collection be taken. Following the service, a member chided the minister about the collection.

"Preacher," he said, "I thought you said that Salvation was free—as free as the water we drink?" "Salvation is free," replied the minister, "and water is free. But when we pipe it to you, you have to pay for the piping."

In modern society no man supplies all his needs. He cannot be his own doctor, shoemaker, clothier and furniture-maker. Using one special skill, a man does better work and makes higher wages. Others specialize in other fields. This division of labor, each to the task for which he best is fitted, builds better products and creates more leisure for all.

Sometimes we criticize others who seek pay for services we use. The ministry of our churches and the organization of our charities are questioned. Yet, were we to handle them in addition to our regular work, neither would be done as well. While we "pay for the piping," we should be grateful for the system of pipes. It gives us better products and services and more leisure in which to enjoy them.

PURE FOOD CRUSADER

The outstanding leader in the crusade for federal legislation regarding food adulteration was Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Chemistry from 1883 to 1914. His influence on public opinion resulted in the passage in 1906 of the Meat Inspection Act and the Pure Food and Drugs Act.

1,500 APPLE VARIETIES

There are more than 1,500 varieties of apples in cultivation. Breeding of this fruit through selection and grafting has been in practice since ancient times. Cato in the third century, and Pliny in the first, had noted varieties of apples developed in those days.

HANDY HOMEMAKERS

In 1953 amateurs hung 60 per cent of the nation's wallpaper and applied 75 per cent of its household paint, according to the American Peoples Encyclopedia 1954 Yearbook.

tact: W. J. Wilson, Davie County Veterans Service Officer, Mocksville.

WHAT ABOUT STAFFS? . . . In all the talk about W. Kerr Scott taking out a win over Alton A. Lennon for the U. S. Senate and whether this person or that person would succeed by Governor Umstead appointment the late Senator Clyde R. Hoey, most of us have neglected to think of—or at least to refer to—the people who are most directly affected by the two changes which are occurring.

I am referring to about 20 people who comprise the staffs of North Carolina's two offices in the U. S. Senate. We have talked about Sam Ervin, Bob Lassiter, Irving Carlyle, Gregg Cherry and others.

But now with Lennon going out, Scott going in, Clyde R. Hoey gone and Sam J. Ervin becoming the western senator, what about Harry Gattton? He went from a good job with the Treasury Dept. last year to succeed Jesse Helms as administrative assistant to Senator Alton A. Lennon. Both Gattton, who formerly managed a radio station in Statesville and his wife work in Lennon's office.

Then there is the veteran assistant, modest and likeable, John Slear. For many years he was Congressman Robert L. Dougherty's assistant. His wife, Julia McNinch Slear, writes a Washington society-political column. She is the daughter of the late Frank McNinch, former mayor of Charlotte who could not stomach A. L. Smith in 1928, but who bounced back into prominence when the New Deal moved into town in the spring of '33.

Slear, when Hamilton Jones of Charlotte went to the Congress, moved over with Jones. The east windows in Jones' offices, while Slear was here, had at their base in dirt as rich as Yaddin River bottomland, some of the finest African violets seen by these tired old eyes in many a day. They bloomed in abundance, were hosts to many a casual visitor to the Jones office, but proved of little use to Congressman Hamilton Jones, ran head-on into the Republican and Charles Raper Jones in 1952.

It should be pointed out here that although the flowers were still around in '52, Caretaker Slear had long before moved over to the Senate Office Building as assistant to New Senator Willis Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Slear know their way around in Washington, have a host of friends back in Tarheel-ia, and are among the leaders of the North Carolina group in the nation's capitol.

Now, if memory mistaketh not, both John Slear and his wife have law degrees, have seldom used them, but what about their future, with Kerr Scott of Hav River moving into Washington in November? What, also, about the others who make up the Lennon office staff in Washington? Well, they could hardly hope to remain in their present capacities after the election this fall.

The one man who did more than anybody else to lift petty details from the shoulders of Senator Clyde R. Hoey, thus leaving him to attend to the more important duties of his office, was Jack Spain of Greenville, Spain, former mayor of Greenville, became secretary to Congressman Herbert Bonner when Lindsay Warren was appointed Comptroller General, a job he vacated only a few weeks ago. Bonner, of Washington, N. C., had been Warren's secretary, was appointed to succeed his boss and was elected in 1940.

When Hoey went to Washington in 1944, Jack Spain left Bonner and became administrative assistant to the new senator. Jack still maintains his home and legal voting residence in Greenville, has farming interests in Pitt County, but doesn't get back to his home woods often because of that rat race in Washington.

Another assistant in the Hoey office is Miss Helen Whitaker, sister-in-law of Edwin Pate of Scotland County, farmer, merchant, State Senator, and recently elected head of the N. C. Bankers Association.

Carolyn Basin of Yanceyville daughter of State Senator Sam Basin, has been an assistant in the Hoey office.

Will Senator Sam Ervin keep this staff? Only time will tell, of course, but the word we get is that they are not nearly so worried as is the staff of Senator Alton Lennon, whose term of office has only about five months more to run.

Something worth considering: Jack Spain over the years served in a dual capacity as secretary and administrative assistant to Senator Hoey as I did for Senator Hoey. Senator Ervin would do well to keep Jack Spain as administrative assistant and bring over one of Sen. Lennon's men for secretary.

CROSS-BREEDING . . . Frank Crane, who last week was appointed Commissioner of Labor to succeed the late Forrest Shuford and his lovely wife, Edith, really have a bird's eye background. Until she became a Crane, Mrs. Crane was a Peacock. Yes, this is an actual case of where a crane married a peacock and now both are very fond of birds and are considered the best amateur ornithologists in this section of the State.

Several years ago Frank put up more than a dozen bird houses on our hill, Belle Acres, just outside Raleigh on the road to Durham and overlooking Crabtree Creek. He took on the responsibility of inspecting and cleaning out those boxes each year.

Last Sunday week—when Frank and Edith were out visiting the Brewers—he made his annual spring check and reported there was a family of bluebirds occupying each box. Well, since bluebirds are considered good luck omens, we all solemnly crosses our fingers and wished that the Governor would appoint Frank Crane Commissioner of Labor.

And—don't you know—three days later he made it. The salary is $10,000. As labor conciliator, Frank was receiving $8,500 per year. By the time he expends a few hundred here and a couple hundred there for election and re-election, chances are he will not be making as much net money as before he got the appointment. But—he will have more prestige, will be in a good position to improve the lot of labor in North Carolina, will be a member of the Council of State, and will reap any fiscal benefits that accrue through the possible hiking of salaries of the men who run the State of North Carolina.

Incidentally, our Governor receives only $15,000 per year. He should not receive less than $25,000. Members of our Council of State should not draw less than $15,000 per annum. Folks, we are underpaying the men who have the chief responsibility of running this State and sooner or later we may regret it.

NOTES . . . Surprised to see former Lt. Gov. Reg Harris of Roxboro take it on the chin again from Byrd Isage. Satterfield up in Person County. Harris, showman and general howdy doer around Raleigh, can't seem to do anything with his home folks any more. Harris' defeat by Satterfield for the Legislature—a little old seat in the House—surprised everyone here. He didn't run against Satterfield in 1952, but took him on again this year and went down again.

Just a lot of time people from back in the counties are a lot more popular around the Sir Walter and here and there in Raleigh than they are with the folks at home. We've noticed that several times.

Cousin Wayland Spruill of Windsor, the old rippling waters of the Chowan man, was defeated for the State Senate by A. P. Godwin of Gatesville, who in 1933 served his first term in the Legislature. It is an ironical item that the only man who had the nerve to take on Kerr Scott for Agriculture Commissioner (Spruill) opposed him very, very successfully in 1940) lost for the State Senate the same day his old opponent was being nominated for the U. S. Senate. Cousin Wayland also lost out for the House in 1952, so this may mean the end of a long and interesting career in politics for Cousin Wayland Spruill.

DIPLOMATS ABROAD

The United States sent diplomatic representatives to 76 countries in 1953 and was represented here by diplomats from 77 countries, according to the 1954 Yearbook of the American Peoples Encyclopedia. U. S. representatives included 68 ambassadors and eight ministers. The U. S. ambassador's post to Paraguay had been left vacant.

Meet The Juniors

By ED ROWLAND

Calvin York

From Harmony comes the best hitter on the Legion team this year, Calvin York. In his second season of Legion ball (he played for Statesville last year) he is batting over .400. Calvin is 10 years old and in his final summer of Legion eligibility.

In high school, baseball Calvin played third base, but he was switched behind the plate to catcher. A little more experience and Calvin will stack up with any other Legion catcher in the state. Right now his hitting is just what Mocksville needs (if some other players get the habit).

Next year Calvin will start his final year in high school. That will also mean he will wind up a brilliant athletic career. He has been a half-back on Harmony's six-man football team for three years, and a forward in basketball in addition to his baseball activities. The students at Harmony High think a lot of Calvin; he has been a class treasurer for two years.

Sharp Canupp
Sharp Canupp is a student at Cooleemee High and will be a junior there next year. He is playing his first season of Legion ball as an outfielder; he is 15 and has another year of eligibility left.

For the Cooleemee Indians he has played second base for two years, but Coaches Short and Tomlinson needed him in the outfield, so there he plays. Sharp is a three-letter man at Cooleemee already. He plays guard in basketball and halfback in football. He will be entering his third football season next fall.

Sharp says he has been a duncer for seven years, but his classmates have elected him president for three years, so he can't be too dumb. On the diamond he isn't dumb; he is one of the smartest players to ever play on a Mocksville Legion team.

Next week: Kenny Howell, Johnny Williams, Ronnie Jones.

The number of milk cows on North Carolina farms in April, 1954, was estimated at 393,000, compared with 380,000 during the same period a year earlier.

Hut, Saturday night.

The following guests: Miss Della Potts; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Frye, Rev. Mrs. R. Paul Foster and son, Wilson, accompanied Sgt. Richard Foster and wife to his Air Base in Georgia, Monday. Sgt.

Foster has spent his 30 day furlough with his parents.

Visitors at Macedonia Church Sunday were Miss-Frances Dixon of Yadkin County and Mrs. Leona Gregory and sons, Edward, Johnny and Melvin of Forsyth.

Several from Macedonia attended the revival services at Mt. Carmel M. E. Church at Five Points, Forsyth County, this week. The Rev. Ransom McAlpine, who held revivals at Macedonia and Bethlehem M. E. Churches several years ago, is the evangelist.

Mrs. Hattie Cope spent the week with her sister, Mrs. Wilbur Hockaday, at Clemmons.

Mrs. Nera Godbey and Mrs. Grace Call attended the commencement exercises at Chapel Hill. Mrs. Call's daughter, Miss Sarah Dot Call, was graduated this week.

Central Telephone Puts New Switchboard Into Operation

New Board Is Served By Five Operators

On June 15th of this year the Mocksville exchange of the Central Telephone Company put a new switchboard into operation. The new switchboard is served by five operators and has a capacity of 1,200 lines. At the present time there are 500 lines hooked in, serving over 300 telephones. This new board replaced the old switchboard which was served by three operators, and had a capacity of 400 lines. With five operators on duty on the new board, officials have announced that faster and more efficient service is now possible. R. J. Webb of Elkin, local area manager, announced that a new cable is now being completed to serve the northern section of Mocksville. Also that a new cable for the southern section is being approved. In addition to the local service, the board services calls on 20 trunks between the rural co-op exchange. There are also six Winston-Salem circuits at the present time, with two more to be added. There are four Salisbury circuits. Mr. Webb as area manager supervises activities of the Central Telephone Company in Elkin, Booneville, Yadkinville and Mocksville. C. J. Wilson is the manager for the Mocksville exchange. Mrs. Frank Honeycutt is chief operator and cashier. There are 11 operators that serve the switchboard in three shifts. They include: Mrs. Nellie McBride, Mrs. Richard Orrell, Mrs. Ed McClamrock, Mrs. Mary Nell Holman, Mrs. Jim Owings, Mrs. Jane Owings, Mrs. Dewitt Hethcock, Mrs. Henry Taylor, Mrs. Jettie Stine, Mrs. Era Murph and Miss Marie Poplin.

Farmington VFD To Elect Officers

Officers of the Farmington Volunteer Fire Department will be elected June 25th at a joint meeting of the firemen and the board of directors. Plans call for the election of an assistant chief, two captains and four lieutenants. J. P. Essie, president of the Farmington Volunteer Fire Department, announced that the solicitation of funds and organizational work was continuing. "We are in dire need of funds to make payment on the fire station, finish paying for the truck and equipment, and buy more badly needed equipment for the truck," said Mr. Essie. Practice sessions for the volunteer firemen will continue to be held on Thursday evenings of each week at 6:30 p.m.

Farmington Fire Dept. Answers Call

The Farmington Volunteer Fire Department promptly answered its first call last Friday and extinguished a fire that threatened the home of Ray Hendrix. No one was at home at the time. The fire, apparently started in the southwest corner of the house, Mrs. Clyde Weatherman noticed smoke coming out of the house and went to Bingham's Lumber Yard and had someone there to investigate. Donald Bingham went to Farmington and turned in the alarm. The call was answered promptly, but the firemen had trouble entering the house. They finally battered down a door. As the house was filled with dense smoke, it took several minutes to locate the source of the fire. The blaze was put out quickly after it was found.

Meanwhile, Clemmons and Advance trucks, which had been called also arrived in that order. Firemen from both of these departments assisted in putting out the fire, but only the Farmington truck was used.

Damage to the house was estimated to be less than $1,000. The cause of the fire is unknown. There was no electrical wiring in the closet or no oily or greasy rags that might have caused spontaneous combustion.

Salisbury Post Writer Pays Tribute To Couple

Mr. and Mrs. James White Subject Of News Article

On June 6th in the Salisbury Post appeared an article written by Mack McKa of that newspaper concerning a Mocksville girl and her husband. The article was entitled: "Jim White and Homer Friday Can Be Grateful For Wives." Mr. McKa wrote as follows:

"America is indeed the land of opportunity or rather, double opportunity, for James David (Jim) White, a Kannapolis native, and for Homer B. Friday, a Salisbury native now living in Kannapolis."

"And their story is a fine tribute to two fine little Dixie ladies, who struggled along with them, to help them achieve their 'second ambition in life.'"

Jim White, remembered here as a former basketball star at Cannon High School in Kannapolis, and later with the Carolina University Tar Heels, is scheduled to graduate from law school at Carolina this month.

Let's take Jim's story first. He was a tower of strength on the strong Cannon High basketball teams at Kannapolis, and played guard at times for the strong Cannon Memorial YMCA varsity team of those days. Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. White of Kannapolis.

Jim quickly became a basketball star at Carolina. He graduated from high school at Kannapolis in 1939 and entered Carolina the fall of 1940. But he could not stand the pressure long after the Pearl Harbor attack in 1941, and enlisted in the army air corps in 1942.

In Service In Italy His service in the air corps included service in Italy, and he received his honorable discharge in 1945. He reentered the University that fall and graduated in 1947.

In basketball at Carolina he was noted for getting his points in crucial spots, when they counted most, and his guarding was terrific.

From 1947 until September, 1951, he held an excellent position with General Electric Supply Corporation, being stationed at Sacramento, Calif., Charlotte and Greensboro respectively. It looked like a great future, but all the time something was gnawing at Jim. He had decided he wanted to be a lawyer. So he entered the University of North Carolina law school in September, 1951.

Telephone Company Bars Giving Location Of Fires

System Established For Notifying Firemen And Others Needing to Know

New regulations concerning giving out information regarding location of fires was put into effect Monday by the Central Telephone Company in Mocksville.

R. J. Webb, local manager, announced that henceforth the telephone operator would not give the location of a fire to people calling the switchboard. A system has been worked out by the telephone company and the fire department whereby all firemen, law officials and those needing the information will be notified.

Mr. Webb said also that owner of any property involved or that might be in danger would also be notified by the company.

"In the past, we have been giving out the location of fires to anyone that called the switchboard. This swamped the board with calls immediately after the alarm went off and resulted in an almost impossible situation as far as the operators were concerned," said Mr. Webb.

"Effective June 14, the Central Telephone Company adopted the policy for all their exchanges of refusing to give this information except to firemen, law officials and others who need to know. This will enable the telephone company to give faster, accurate and better service during the emergency period at hand. We hope that we will have the understanding and cooperation of the public in this matter," continued Mr. Webb.

The action was taken with the full approval and cooperation of the Mocksville Fire Department. The telephone company has worked out a system whereby all firemen and others requiring the information will be notified immediately.

"This system was worked favorably in other localities and with a little understanding and cooperation will work here for the benefit of all," said Mr. Webb.

Tid-Bits

By GORDON TOMLINSON

Tuesday afternoon rural telephone service went into use in Davie County. At the formal cut-over at the Smith Grove exchange someone remarked:

"There will probably be more talking going on in Davie County tonight than there has ever been before."

This was probably true, considering the long wait many have had for telephone service.

They tell this one of a Colored preacher who in conducting a revival was not having the success he desired in securing converts.

Came the closing day of the revival which was on a hot Sunday afternoon. Members of his flock came in out of the broiling hot sun to find the stove in the church glowing red hot, and all the windows shut.

Before they had time to wonder too much, their preacher arose and addressed his congregation as follows:

"Jesus said, 'I go to prepare a place for you'. But I say, 'I'm preparing you for the place you're going to go.'"

Many visiting "Hide-Away Lake" have wondered why "Dock" didn't do something about the indentation he has across the road. One irate woman even went so far as to point it out to him and tell him that he must fix it.

The story is that "Dock" put the shallow ditch across the road on purpose. He put up all types higher enlisted ratings in the Army.

of signs requesting the motorists to drive slow. However, there were many who would come down the road at a considerable speed with great clouds of dust engulfing the lake area. The ditch has slowed them down and stopped most of this.

It was interesting to watch, however, for the first day or so after the ditch was put there. There were the signs warning motorists to slow down and drive slow, but of course many paid little attention to these until they hit the ditch. Of course no damage, other than a good bouncing, resulted . . . but after one time, most of the drivers slowed down to the speed they should have been maintaining in the first place.

TOBACCO PROGRAM

The production adjustment and price support program, which is a part of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Program were designed to adjust production to eliminate surpluses or keep supply in line with demand according to O. E. Driver, chairman of the Davie County ASC Committee.

We have had production adjustment programs on tobacco every year since 1938 except for 1939 when the farmers voted against such adjustment. We have had some type of price support on tobacco since 1936. During the many years these programs have been in effect on tobacco, just about all of the many persons either directly or indirectly concerned with our No. 1 money crop have been favorably affected by our tobacco program. ## Pino Grange In Meeting

Pino Community Grange held their regular meeting June 1, with Master James E. Essie presiding.

Wade Groce reported that telephone service was scheduled for June 15 at which time open house would be held at the site of the switchboard. This project was initiated by Pino Community Grange.

C. H. McMahan and Wade Groce reported that additional funds are needed for the fire department even though the fire truck is in operation. An automatic timer has been put on the siren. Mr. Groce stressed that anyone turning in an alarm be sure to wait until the truck knows where to go for the fire or be sure and write adequate directions on the bulletin board outside the firehouse telling how to get to the fire. Mr. Groce stated that he understands reductions in insurance rates are available by adding certain items to the fire truck. Further investigation will be made.

J. F. Essie has learned that medical payments in connection with automobile insurance are optional. Anyone receiving a bill which includes the medical expenses and they are not desired should notify the National Grange Mutual Liability Insurance Company when making their payment. The Grange Group Hospital Insurance payments are due before July 1. Mrs. L. G. Miller or Mrs. J. E. Essie will accept payments or sign up new members.

Three flood lights have been put in the Grange yard and Mrs. J. E. Essie, Youth Chairman, provided entertainment in the yard for children between the ages of 6 and 14 during the business meeting. She expects to supervise entertainment for the children during each Grange meeting throughout the summer.

Mrs. Wade Groce, who represented the Grange at the symposium held at Mocksville school gave a report on rheumatic fever. She described the symptoms of a child with the disease and emphasized the fact that a rheumatic fever clinic for children is available at the Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. D. K. McClamrock.

Penny for penny, that bottle of milk on your doorstep is a terrific buy.

According to tables released early this year by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Research Service, milk and cheddar cheese are way out in front of all other foods as plentiful and cheap sources of calcium.

What does calcium do for you? Besides building strong bones and teeth, calcium performs important functions in healthy heart action and the maintenance of muscle tissue. That goes for people of all ages, from infants to elder citizens.

But perhaps the big surprise in the government report is in the listing of milk as a cheap source of animal protein. Dairy people have known milk contained important and economical amounts of this protein, but perhaps even dairymen have not been aware of how economically milk delivers the vital nutrient to the consumer.

A dime's worth of milk gives you almost twice as much protein as does ten cent's worth of round steak; 23 per cent more than a ten cent purchase of hamburger or eggs. In comparison with other kind of meats and poultry, milk showed up equally well in the government report.

Of all the sources of animal protein compared in the government table, only pink canned salmon was a challenger for the milk cow's crown as queen of economy.

It is not suggested that people exclude other important and basic foods from the family table

In favor of milk.

Meats, poultry, fish and plant foods have nutritional importance above and beyond detail comparisons of "which foods will bring you what nutrient" most economically. A good balanced diet for every individual is the objective of health officials as well as people in the food business.

But people in the milk business constantly wish consumers would have a little better appreciation of the economy of milk. Informed people, dairy sources say, realize that the business of producing and processing the dairy milk supply from millions of cows and distributing it to 160 million consumers is a magnificent American accomplishment.

But dairy people feel there is too little appreciation of the tremendous and economical contribution made by dairy foods to the American diet. That's why June DAIRY MONTH is held each year — to increase the public's understanding of the dairy industry's massive daily effort which brings milk and milk products to consumers more cheaply than anywhere else in the world.

Cotton

Cotton fields were checked in all sections of the county the week of June 7. No boll weevils were found in the buds of the cotton in any fields.

We saw and heard of quite a bit of boll weevil activity in the middle part of April. Reports are that they live only ten to 16 days from hibernation without food. Probably the warm rains in April brought many boll weevils from hibernation and it is possible that they died from starvation since the cotton is late this year.

We will have reports of our cotton survey in the paper each week, these reports to come from all sections of the county.

Farm Market Price Survey

Continuing the trend which started in late May, hog prices turned downward again this week at local buying stations. The loss amounted to only 25 cents, however and the closing tops were reported at 24.00 to 24.50. A 25-cent decline was also reported in Chicago where top hogs closed at 26.25.

Cattle prices were steady to slightly stronger on the Rocky Mount and Rich Square auction markets. Good steers sold from 17.75 to 22.70; good heifers from 15.00 to 18.00; and good vealers from 20.00 to 23.00. Utility and commercial cows brought 11.00 to 16.50 and good bulls from 13.00 to 15.00.

Cattle prices were irregular in Chicago with steers and heifers steady to 50 cents lower and cows steady to 50 higher. Bulls were steady and vealers were weak to 1.00 lower. Most good to low choice steers brought 20.75 to 22.75 while good to high choice heifers ranged from 20.00 to 24.00. Utility and commercial cows ranged from 11.50 to 15.00 and utility and commercial bulls from 14.00 to 17.00. Good and choice vealers were reported at 18.00 to 22.00. Fryers and broilers remained ported at 24 cents per pound, steady throughout the week in Heavy hens were about steady, the Central North Carolina area ranging from 19 to 20 cents. Fry-birds but the market was weak at the ers were irregular.

Local Cow Makes Outstanding Record

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has reported a cow, belonging to R. R. Redden of Mocksville, as having completed an officially tested lactation through the Herd Improvement Registry program of their association. The report on this cow was as follows:

quarts daily 23, 2 3/4 times average cow."

Testing was supervised by N. C. State College of Agriculture and Engineering, in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

APPLICATION FOR WHEAT ALLOTMENT

Farmers on land which no wheat was seeded for grain for all of the years 1952, 1953 and 1954, may apply for a 1955 wheat acreage allotment, according to O. E. Driver, Chairman of the Davie County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC Committee by June 30, 1954.

Blank application forms are available at the county ASC office for use in filing requests for allotments.

Wife Has Brilliant Background She was a Greensboro Women's College graduate. She studied piano one year after her graduation at the Julliard School of Music in New York. She taught piano for Vassar Studios at Greensboro, four years, (1948 to 1952).

While she was in Greensboro she appeared weekly in a television (WFMY-TV) show two and one-half years. She was pianist with Howard Wayne as an organ-piano team.

And since Jan., 1953, she has served as traffic manager with radio station WCHY at Chapel Hill. It was a new commercial station that started on that date. And all the time she was "in there pitching" for her man Jim.

"We really have not had time to think much about our future plans, when and if Jim passes his bar exams in August this year," she wrote in a recent letter.

"Jim has several possibilities in mind, but in any case, we desire to settle in North Carolina, and let Jim eventually practice law. Right now he seems very much interested in trust work and estate planning. Perhaps we can work out something in this field, and perhaps The Post story will help Jim find such a connection. We deeply appreciate your interest," she said.

While in law school Jim served as vice president of his first-year class, (1951-52), and was vice president of the Law School Association in 1953-54.

The Farm Program

Senator Walter F. George Senior Democrat from the State of Georgia, recently uttered pessimistic words in speaking of prospects for an extension of high parity price supports. When asked whether he thought chances were good for extending fixed 90 per cent parity supports for the six basic crops, Senator George replied in the negative.

Senator George says there is continuing pressure from the Administration, and from Agriculture Departments officials, for a flexible price support bill. This was borne out in a speech by President Eisenhower last week before a "Citizens for Eisenhower" group who are interested in electing congressmen this fall who will support the Administration's program. Senator George apparently believes that sentiment in favor of this type of agricultural program is strong enough to come very close to blocking an extension of 90 per cent parity price supports.

On the outside, a number of Democrats and some Republicans—all in favor of extending the high and fixed price supports—are more optimistic. They believe the House will pass a high-support farm bill and that prospects are very good for its passage in the Senate. However, it is agreed that if President Eisenhower vetoes such a bill it would have no chance of passage this year.

Considering the fact that farmers of the country have been suffering an economic squeeze for the past two years, it becomes obvious that no further handicaps must be imposed on the farmers at this time.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson believes his bill will not impose such a handicap. If he is incorrect, as some of his Republican friends believe, he will have a nail driven in the Republican Administration's coffin. The farmers—whether one likes the system or not—enjoyed relatively high prosperity during recent Democratic Administrations, and it is only natural for them to wish to continue prosperous.

Even though Mr. Benson's program might prevent the accumulation of surpluses, the farmer prefers to be prosperous at the expense of these faults, rather than squeezed in a tighter economic position so that the Government will not build up surpluses.

With unemployment up sharply, industrial production down, and the farmers of the country suffering a continuing economic pinch, the present administration is on shaky grounds in the economic field. It is hard to believe this Republican Administration would make the same fatal mistakes of past Republican Administrations, and let the country be engulfed in hard times once again.

A Dangerous Precedent

Two bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives, H. R. 9309 and H. R. 9153, which would "prohibit the transportation in interstate commerce of advertisements of alcoholic beverages, cigarettes, cigars, smoking tobacco, or chewing tobacco."

No testimony has yet been taken on these pending bills.

The stringent provisions of these bills are calculated to destroy all advertising promotion of these items on television, radio, magazines and newspapers. One has only to consider the large amount of advertising of the tobacco companies to realize the effect the passage of this bill would have on television and the other media.

As this is a tobacco area, there would be much personal concern over the passage of this bill. Being unable to advertise or promote the tobacco products, sales would naturally decline. With the decline of sales naturally will follow a decline in the demand for tobacco the cash crop that supports so many farmers in this area.

This is not to argue the merits of the use of tobacco. There is much to be said against its use. However, since the time of Columbus it has been a product that has played an important part in the growth and development of this country. It is a product whose use depends solely upon the choice or rejection by the individual. In a democracy it is important that we keep such individual choices free.

The precedent such bills would set up could easily be extended to other commodities. To single out one commodity where the production or sale of which raises no questions of constitutional validity seems to be an extremely hazardous proceeding. It would open the gate to other repressive measures relating to other commodities deemed objectionable by any group with power enough to make such objections felt.

Fire And The Telephone

Effective June 14th, the Central Telephone Company began the policy of not giving out information concerning fires. This policy became mandatory due to the fact that the switchboard is swamped with calls the moment the fire alarm goes off. This results in somewhat a paralyzing effect upon the local communication system and hinders the getting of information to the parties that need to know.

The telephone company has worked out a system of notifying all the firemen, law officials, and others that need to know. They also will notify anyone whose property may be in danger. They will refuse all other requests for this information.

The action was taken by the Central Telephone Company with the sanction and full approval of the Mocksville Fire Department. All concerned believe that this action will provide faster and more efficient service at a time when fast and efficient service is needed most.

In this matter both the telephone company and the fire department need the full cooperation of the public.

The Lake As An Asset

The swimming facilities created by Theodore "Dock" Brown on the outskirts of Mocksville is definitely another progressive step for this community.

For more than a decade the hue and cry in this community has been for swimming facilities. Much discussion took place on the subject but nothing tangible took place. The Town of Mocksville was urged by some to build a municipal swimming pool, but the expense was considered too great.

This past year Mr. Brown found a spot near town that looked like a good spot for a lake. He purchased the land and went to work. Saturday the grand opening of this lake was held and judging from the attendance this will be the most popular spot around Mocksville for the next three months.

In addition to furnishing nice swimming facilities for the people of this community, this lake becomes important for other considerations. This community is interested in attracting industry. One of the most important assets a community may have in attracting industry is recreational facilities. In this field Mocksville, as a small town, has very much to offer.

When They Ring the Golden Bells

A circus music master writes a hymn

Elgin is a few minutes drive from Chicago and Kirkland is a few minutes west of Elgin. It was in Elgin and Kirkland that a forgotten music master and circus performer spent the last days of his 85 years. His name was Daniel A. (Dion) De Marbel who in his better years could do anything... and had done everything.

As a youth Dion De Marbel sailed from his native France, where he was born at Seville in 1818, to roam the Arctic on a whaling ship. In 1847 he fought with the American Navy in the Mexican War. As actor, singer and musician he toured the continent. When the North and South clashed in '61 he joined the Federals and played in the Sixth Michigan Infantry band. After the war he went with James A. Bailey's circus as a musician and when Bailey went with Barnum in 1881 to form "The Greatest Show on Earth" De Marbel organized his own show. Losing his tent and other equipment in a fire in Canada the aging showman joined "Buffalo Bill" Cody to organize the famous Wild West Shows.

There's a land beyond the river,
That we call the sweet forever,
And we only reach that shore by faith's decree
One by one we'll gain the portals,
There to dwell with the immortal
When they ring the golden bells for you and me.

We shall know no sin or sorrow,
In that haven of tomorrow,
When our bodies shall sail beyond the silver sea;
We shall only know the blessing
Of our Father's sweet caressing,
When they ring the golden bells for you and me.

(Copyright 1887 by Dion De Marbel)

Old files of The Elgin Courier-News recount that this versatile entertainer was an accomplished sleight-of-hand artist, a one-man minstrel show, an eloquent speaker "on any subject," a poet and composer of popular ballads. On Sundays he sang in the Methodist choir. During the week he called community dances.

In 1887 De Marbel was nearing three score and ten and he wanted to leave something lasting. And he did. But, as with his more than 25 other songs, he received not a dollar for "When They Ring the Golden Bells." In December, 1903, Dion De Marbel went on to "dwell with the immortal" in the "land beyond the river." Old soldiers of the G. A. R. buried him in Elgin and the government placed a modest marker at his grave. There is no other tribute... no doler... just the simple wording "Drum Major D. A. DeMarbel, 6 Mich. Inf." And there in Soldiers' Reserve at the Bluff City Cemetery the music master whose artistry was thousands beneath the big top, and who left behind an immortal hymn, awaits the day when "the King commands the spirit to be free..."

When our days shall know their number,
When in death we sweetly slumber,
When the King commands the spirit to be free,
Never more in anguish laden,
We'll be with that lovely maiden,
When they ring the golden bells for you and me.

Don't you hear the bells now ringing,
Don't you hear the angels singing,
"Tis the glory bell that jubilee,
In that far-off sweet forever,
Just beyond the shining river,
When they ring the golden bells for you and me.

60 Second Sermons

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "Be humble or you'll stumble."—Dwight L. Moody.

The President of a great railroad worked his way up from a lowly place in the system. He recalls an incident during the first day he was appointed Station Master at a tiny way-stop. Two tenant farmers came to ask some questions about a bill of lading. The new official decided to show his importance and busied himself doing nothing while the farmers waited patiently. Finally, one of them said, "Dat's life fo' yo', brudder. De little de station, de bigger de agent."

It is easier to meet and talk to important leaders than to those who think they are. Minor men fence themselves off. They shut out ideas and friendships which are important to their growth. They remain minor men. Successful men-keep in constant contact with "grass roots" feelings from which they obtain their right to lead. Leadership in business or politics is granted by millions of people. That leadership is kept as long as the leader knows and supplies their wants. When he becomes so pompous that he shuts off his contacts, the people choose a more humble man—who feels their needs. A new leader is born. That is American phenomenon.

THIS IS THE LAW

By THOMAS F. ADAMS, Jr.
(For the N. C. Bar Association)
REAL PROPERTY LAW
(Husband and Wife)

Questions are frequently raised about the difference in the inheritance of a husband in the real estate of his deceased wife and inheritance of a wife in the real estate of her deceased husband.

Dower. By statute a married woman, upon the death of her husband without a will or if she should dissent from his will, is entitled to a life estate in one-third in value of all of the real property which her husband owned during the marriage. The wife may lose this dower right if she commits adultery and is not living with her husband at his death or is convicted of the felonious slaying of her husband or being an accessory before the fact to such slaying.

The widow's dower may be affected by a deed between her and the other survivors. If such deed is not made, the widow may petition the Supreme Court to appoint a jury of three persons to set aside her dower in the lands of her deceased husband. The remaining lands of the deceased husband descend to his heirs at law (children and grandchildren, if any, and if none, to the parents and brothers and sisters of their children). Under the law as written, if a husband does not leave a will, owns real estate in his own name, and does not have close kin, very distant relatives may inherit his real property to the exclusion of the wife, except for her dower interest. If the deceased husband leaves no persons who can claim as an heir the wife is then deemed an heir and as such, may inherit his real estate.

Dower Cannot Be Cut Off. Generally speaking, a husband cannot cut off the dower of his wife if she is unwilling for him to do so. He may, however, make a will in which he devises her less than her dower interest. This works upon the wife an election of taking what is left her in the will, or of sending from the will and taking what the law gives her as her dower.

Curtsey. By Statute, a husband is entitled to a curtesy in all the lands owned by his wife during the marriage, which interest entitles him to the rents and profits from the land during his life. In order to qualify for a curtesy in the estate of his deceased wife, a husband must have a child born alive by her marriage, however, it is not necessary that the child be living at the time of the death of the wife. The right of curtesy may be lost if the wife has obtained a divorce from bed and board and is not living with her husband at her death, if the husband has abandoned his wife and is living in adultery at her death. In addition, the wife may cut off the curtesy of her husband by a will giving her lands to other persons, and the husband cannot regain his curtesy by dissenting from her will.

If the wife leaves no will, her real property passes to her heirs at law however distant relatives they may be, subject only to the curtesy interest of her husband; and the husband does not inherit real property from his wife unless there are no persons who can claim this property as her heirs. The husband may sell his own property subject to his wife's dower, but except for a lease for

FIRST HINT... The Wall Street Journal in an editorial carried this past May 27 said that the "North Carolina poll (Ed. note: our May 29 primary) will be the first hint of South's reaction to high court ban."

The main thing in the Journal editor's opinion was that if Kerr Scott should receive the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate it would indicate that North Carolina was not objecting as seriously to the U. S. Supreme Court's decision as a victory by Alton A. Lennon might indicate. The editorial said that "a victory by Mr. Lennon would be interpreted as reflecting popular resentment against the Court ruling."

"By the same token, a Scott triumph would be read to mean that Tar Heel voters no longer can be stirred up over the race issue," said the Journal. Well, Scott won, but the Tar Heel voters are, nevertheless, "stirred up," but plenty, over the segregation question.

LETTERS... We haven't had an opportunity to see them, but reports we get are that Governor William B. Umstead's mail for the past month has been fully loaded with letters — many of them really pitiful — from white families whose training, education, and experience for generations stand like a giant in opposition to their sending their children to school with colored children.

Most of these letters come from rural communities, where Negroes and whites will be forced to ride the same school buses. A lot of the complaints are from good, though poor, white people who say they have no funds with which to send their offspring to private schools but cannot permit them to go to school with Negroes. You have no idea of the vastness of the problem if you have not lived in the rural areas of Eastern North Carolina.

A LONG FIGHT... Although additional decisions must come from the U. S. Supreme Court before white and colored will be forced by law to attend the same schools, most of us are not yet awake to the serious problems facing thousands of families—both white and black — throughout this state.

It's going to be a long, hard, tough, dirty fight. There will probably be some bloodshed here and there, with indictments, lawsuits, and cases moving through the various courts on this charge and that charge of non-compliance with the law and stubborn violations of it.

The big change will require a lot of Christian patience, tolerance, and understanding between the races. Even then, it may be 25 years before we see full compliance with the law.

NEW SOUTH?... We speak of the New South. This move from segregation to non-segregation of the races will prove just how New we are. Can we stand the test? Only time will tell. But not more than three years, a wife is not permitted by the law to dispose of her lands unless the deed is signed by her and by her husband, and proved and acknowledged by them. A wife may, however, convey her separate property "without her husband" signing the deed if they are living apart under a deed of separation, or is the husband insane. An absolute divorce cuts off both dower and curtesy.

Joint Ownership. The hardships sometimes resulting under the dower and curtesy laws may be avoided by having an original deed for property made to the husband and wife jointly. This creates what is known as tenancy-by-the-entirety. This means that both husband and wife must sign any deed to the property. If it is sold, it means further that if the property is not conveyed before the death of either, the interest of the deceased husband or wife passes automatically to the survivor and does not descend to the heirs of the first to die. This does not mean that property should always be held by husband and wife as "tenants by the entirety," because, in some instances, severance and estate taxes may be avoided by separate ownership. Very often other problems are involved which can only be solved by a properly written will.

the important thing to remember is that this test of the South's real strength is not something that will begin in the far distant future. It's virtually here on us, right now. Are we ready for it, individually, as a family, as a state, as a united section of the United States? If not, then now—not tomorrow — is the time to start preparing our minds for the test. That isn't easy, for the first requirement is that we must close our eyes to yesterday.

NEGRO IN POLITICS... Turning from the segregation question to the role of the Negro in Southern politics, the Wall Street Journal reports that "in some areas of Dixie, the 'Negro vote'—it's cost in anything like a bloc — may even now hold the balance of political power between Democratic candidates in intra-party fights, or in Presidential elections as between the GOP candidate and the Democratic nominee."

According to the GOP estimates, 120,000 Tar Heel Negroes were registered in 1952, nearly five times the 25,000 estimate for 1940.

FALSE HOPE... The editorial says that Republican experts estimate Negro registration in 11 Southern states at 1,130,000 in 1952 as compared with only 244,000 in 1940.

It may be that the GOP figures — what with their Attorney General Herbert Brownell doing the pleading before the U. S. Supreme Court in behalf of the Negro — that it can get the black vote in Dixie come 1956. From here that seems a false hope—particularly in view of the fact that just 2 weeks Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was made a paid-in-full life member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Mrs. Roosevelt previously had made the initial down payment on her $500 life membership in the organization.

SURVEY IN DUPLIN... What do the Negroes think of the "segregation question." Are they for non-segregation, against it, or don't they care? For instance, in New York City where they can legally live anywhere and go anywhere they wish, the Negroes prefer to stay off to themselves. They are much more clannish than white people and think a lot more of their Harlem and their Lenox Avenue than of Fifth and Park Avenues.

The Carolinian, Raleigh Negro weekly newspaper, ran this editorial on Saturday, June 5: "The News and Observer has reported that the Wallace Enterprises has 'learned' through a recent survey that the Negro leaders of Duplin County are unanimously in favor of segregation in 'he public schools.'"

"In order to check the validity of the Enterprise's conclusion," it would be necessary to know who decided on who the 'Negro leaders' of Duplin County were, and by what method. A much more elusive, but just as important fact that needs checking is what position in the community do these 'leaders' hold? what proportion of them are principals and teachers whose income at present is tied to the segregated school system, and how many others of them are dependent for their comfortable status on the white community's approval of their expressed attitudes.

The doubting Carolinian continues. "The questions posed the Negro leaders by the Enterprise were definitely angled. Further, there is no indication as to whether those quizzed were in reply protected by anonymity or not."

"The upshot of it all is that the survey is of highly doubtful value as a revealer of the truth, though admirable in getting the answers desired by the questions." In other words the widely read Carolinian editor apparently believes that the Negroes of Duplin County would vote for whites and colored to go to school together—if the poll were fairly held.

But we have no evidence—and the Carolinian has any it does not present it—that the survey was not held in an upright, fair and square manner.

And, as for the Wallace Enterprises, we have been reading it for many a day and would bet our bottom dollar it is at least as free of prejudices as the Carolinian—maybe even freer.

Macedonia

The annual election of Sunday school and Church officers will be held Sunday at Macedonia Moravian Church in connection with the 11 o'clock service.

Union Service of the Methodist, Baptist and Moravians will be held at Yadkin Valley Baptist Church Sunday night, June 27, at 7:30 o'clock with the Rev. G. C. Graham of Farmington Methodist Church bringing the message.

The Primary and Junior departments of the Macedonia Moravian Sunday school conducted the devotional services Sunday morning. Miss Maggie Ellis is Supt. of the department and working with her are the following: Miss Jeanette Butner, pianist; Miss Joan Riddle and Miss Christine Beauchamp, assistant pianists; Mrs. Mary Frances York, Mrs. Thurmond Hockaday and Mrs. George Thomas Frye.

Mr. Robert Howell has returned from the Government hospital in Salisbury. Mr. Charley Red Hanes at the Memorial hospital and Mr. Walter Lineback at the Baptist hospital are seriously ill. Mrs. Franklin Douthit is resting nicely in the Memorial hospital after her operation, last Friday. The Moravian Auxiliary met with Mrs. Lolo Douthit, Old Vineyard Road, Winston-Salem, Thursday afternoon with 16 members present and several visitors. After the devotionals, Mrs. Kenneth Butner read the minutes of the May meeting and Mrs. Raymond Shelton called the roll and collected the dues. Election of officers for the new year, beginning July 1, resulted in Mrs. Elmer Beauchamp, president; Mrs. Bill Lee, vice president; Mrs. R. Paul Foster, secretary; and Mrs. Kenneth Butner, treasurer.

Mrs. B. C. Snyder of the Advent Moravian Auxilliary, Winston-Salem, then told of her trip by plane, last Christmas to the Holy Land. She showed pictures of the various places she visited and explained the life and customs of the people. Her display of garments, and curios from abroad were very interesting.

Mrs. Douthit served refreshments at the close of the afternoon assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Katherine Cady.

Rev. Mr. Bruner of Macedonia Moravian Church assisted by the Rev. Norwood Greene of the Enterprise and Hopewell Moravian Churches conducted a baptizing service Sunday afternoon, at the Everhardt pool, south of Winston-Salem, off from the Lexington road. There were ten candidates baptized. The special singing on the banks of the stream, was conducted by Mr. Robert Spaulth.

Mrs. Joe Howard and children gave Mr. Howard a birthday dinner at his home Sunday afternoon. Being a beautiful Summer afternoon, a bountiful dinner was spread on long tables, erected under the large oak trees. Mr. Howard is enjoying good health at 73 years. He received many useful gifts.

The first fire the Farmington fire truck extinguished was Friday when they were called to the home of Mr. Ray Hendrix, where a fire was discovered in

'LET GOD BE TRUE'

By PAUL SIKES

Quite frequently, many honest people come to be concerned about the condition of turmoil and confusion in religion, and then ask, "Who is responsible for this division anyway?" This is certainly a justified query, especially when we remember that the Bible repeatedly pleads that "there be no divisions among you..." It is indeed significant that the Apostle Paul asked the same question, many years ago: "For who maketh thee to differ from another?" 1 Cor. 4:7. In the preceding verse, he gave one of the basic causes for division in religion; and it was the simple fact that many people think of men above that which is written. It is good that our friends live in such a way that we may have confidence in them. But no matter how good they might be, the Lord expects us to follow them only to the extent that they follow Christ. In 1 Cor. 11:1, Paul said, "Be ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ." This indicates that we must not place so much confidence in men that we would trust them instead of the Word of God. When the Word speaks to us plainly, let us not be so bold as to think that an imperfect man who denies the Bible is still teaching the Truth. "If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God..." 1 Peter 4:11.

How strongly would you like to know the answer to the question concerning who makes us to differ in religion? Surely we all will admit that unity is more pleasant and desirable; so why not settle our differences as the Lord demands. But remember, we cannot please the Lord with a condition of compromise of the truth by mutual agreement. Unity is demanded, but the Truth cannot be sacrificed to have it and still please God.

Consider a few basic observations about some prominent differences among us:

1. Who makes us to differ concerning the plan of salvation? Is it the preachers who say salvation is wholly by "Faith Only" in Christ, and offer not ONE statement of scripture to prove it; or is it the one who reminds us of James 2:24 and Gal. 5:8 to show that faith must be active and accompanied by obedience?

2. Who makes us differ concerning the purpose of baptism? Is it the one who reads the Bible and pleads that we accept Acts 2:38; Mark 16:15-16; 1 Pet. 3:21 and leave them as they are, teaching that baptism is "for the remission of sins" or is it the one who denies these plain statements, and they say, "Baptism is not essential to remission of sins?" Let us read the truth. Let us believe the truth; and let us obey the Truth. It is the only thing to make us free. Adv.

What Every Veteran Should Know

THAT World War II veterans who started their educational program or other training program within four years of discharge must complete their training by July 25, 1954. However, those who enlisted or re-enlisted between October 6, 1945, and Oct. 5, 1946, have nine years to complete training after discharge from service.

THAT Korea veterans must start educational or training program within two years after release from service, or August 20, 1954, whichever is the later, and entitlements terminate 7 years from date of discharge or release from service. Many of these veterans will lose their right to education and training course before August 20, 1954. Korea veterans discharged or released from service after August 20, 1952, have two years from date of discharge or release to start.

THAT Deadline for applying for mustering-out pay is July 16, 1954. All veterans of Korean conflict separated from active duty after July 16, 1952 (except certain veterans retired for disability) were paid mustering-out pay at time of discharge and in monthly installments following discharge.

She Didn't Get By . . . Did He?

Last Wednesday afternoon a Negro, serving 17 to 20 years for murder, took leave of the local prison camp. His name was William Alexander. At the time he made his escape he was serving as waterboy for a group that were combining oats on the prison farm.

As the convicts were checked in at 6 p.m. Alexander was missed. Officials investigating found where he had crawled down a ditch so a call was placed to law officials in Mocksville.

At 7:10 a.m., Thursday morning Policeman Avery Foster entered Will Gaither's Cab place at the depot to investigate a report of Alexander being there. In this place Policeman Foster saw a man sitting with pajamas on a tieback around his head. (This man, in an apparent attempt to masquerade as a woman, had not failed to include padding in the proper places.)

Policeman Foster, not revealing that he had seen through the disguise, inquired if she was cold. "Yes and sick, too," the person replied. "I had a wreck on highway 64, the Statesville highway, but no one was hurt except me."

The person requested Avery not knowing at that time that he was a policeman to drive her to the Kate Biting Reynolds Hospital in Winston-Salem. Avery invited her to come along. Once getting this person in the car, Avery drove to the front of Sanford Motor Company.

Avery got out and whispered a request to C. H. Tomlinson, who was standing in the doorway, to call the prison camp and tell the officials to come.

Soon officials of the prison camp drove up in their truck. "I have a woman who says her name is Mrs. Lillie Mays that I want you to identify," said Avery. With that he handed the officers a billfold that he had found in the ladies' pocketbook the person was carrying.

The prison officials took one look at the billfold, one look at the disguised person, and told Alexander to get out.

Alexander crawled out of the car and into the prison truck where he made the understatement of the year: "I didn't get by with it, did I?"

Local Woman Has Talented Parakeet

Mrs. Amanda Evans of Mocksville is the owner of a talented parakeet named "Sweet-Skeets." It was delivered to her at the age of eight weeks, on April 3, 1953. On this same day it was named "Sweet-Skeets" by Bill Owenby of radio station WCOG in Greensboro.

The color of this parakeet is green and yellow. Mrs. Evans describes him as a Christian bird and has this to say about him:

"I have an altar in my sun porch where I go to pray. As I pray the bird will sit on my folded hands, with head bowed and eyes closed."

This bird can say: "Who made you?" "God made me!" "Please Mommie come on let's pray;" "Thank you our Father I pray for everyone!" "Hello pretty baby, how do you feel?" "I feel good, praise the Lord;" "I am sleepy and want to go to bed;" "Bye, bye, be good! O.K., I will;" "Excuse me please, I am so sorry;" "I live at 320."

"Skeets" can also ask for a drink of water. He drinks the water out of a glass and then says "good." He can do all types of tricks on a tight rope and plays with toys like a child.

Mrs. Evans is very fond of "Skeets" and terms the parakeet as great company. She has written a poem entitled "Service" which she has dedicated to the bird. It reads as follows:

"God made and taught the little parakeet how to sing and talk. And when they had learned the art He sent them here to use their talent day by day.

The dreary lives of people to cheer, while we are on our way. The rich, the poor, the sad, the gay. I stand and watch him using his talent.

His gifts from God every day— swelling his throat with song. And word, regardless to pay, praise, or applause. Being content to gratify one our big worlds many needs.

Singing a lesson to be our self, and to scatter seed of love, cheer and service to everyone. I pray Lord as my "Sweet-Skeets."

Help me to serve, teach me to do the best I can. To make this world a better place, And happier for my fellow men, forgetting self.

Help me to be humble, rejoicing always to do my bit of service here. For once I pass this way and then no more."

Plans For Consolidated High School Going Ahead

Representatives of the State Department of School Surveys have been in Davie County during the past two weeks surveying possible sites for the new Davie County Consolidated High School. ## The Rural Telephone System

Last week Wade Groce dialed the Mocksville exchange and asked for a telephone number in Raleigh. In only a few seconds the call was completed and he was talking with his party.

This marked the beginning of rural telephone service in Davie County. On that day, the telephones of 258 subscribers in Davie County, members of the Yadkin Valley Telephone Membership Corporation, were put into use. An additional 100 were put into use by the week end.

The cut over last week of the Smith Grove exchange in Davie County marked the completion of the second leg of the rural telephone program in this area. Approximately a year ago, the Harmony exchange was put into operation. In the near future the exchange in Yadkin County will be put into operation. This culminates a long period of efforts that has constantly been punctuated with disillusionment and disappointment.

It was in the fall of 1949 that the Pino Community Grange initiated the project to provide the rural people of Davie with telephone service. Several meetings were held and soon interest was manifested in neighboring Yadkin County. Interested representatives of both Davie and Yadkin Counties combined and under the guidance of State and National Rural Electrification officials, organized the Yadkin Valley Membership Corporation.

Following the organization of the co-op, an intensive drive was put on to secure enough members to put the establishment of telephone service on a practical basis. Various civic clubs, groups and individuals cooperated in signing up subscribers to this telephone service.

Engineering problems and negotiations with the connecting companies caused many delays in the project. However, last week the goal was realized when the Smith Grove exchange went into operation.

Of course the system is not yet perfect. There still remains much to be done both from the engineering and policy making angle. However, the telephone system is now a reality and whatever problems exist will be worked out in time.

Intelligence Vital To Life

Let's not make the mistake of underestimating intelligence.

Too many people take every opportunity to say smart things about the man of book-intelligence, suggesting that they believe that this is a big joke.

No problem of the world will be solved by emotion. No great benefit comes to the world except through change. Thousands of experiments would have been valueless without a trained mind to read their message and apply them truthfully.

It is all right for man to take pride in his experience, garnered through the years. He has something that is distinctly an asset to him. However, let him not underestimate the value of so-called book intelligence, if he has little of it.

Experience and intelligence together will solve many problems that neither, alone, can handle. The man without either is badly handicapped. He who pokes fun at intelligence is as foolish as the book-worm, who imagines he can understand all of life by reading between the covers of the printed word.

Preservation of Freedom

The chairman of the board of U. S. Steel, Benjamin F. Fairless, has sharply taken issue with the proposition that "calculated treason" cannot be distinguished from "honest freedom of thought."

"To men of integrity," Mr. Fairless said, "the difference will always be clear; for it is integrity, above all else, which determines our right to the enjoyment of freedom, and which governs our ability to preserve it."

Concerning the preservation of our freedom, Mr. Fairless offered what he termed "three small pieces of advice."

(1) "When you must choose between two contrary courses of action, look carefully at each one in turn, and ask yourself this question: Will it increase or diminish the freedoms of my fellow men?"

"If it offers to enlarge the scope of individual freedom, then it can never be the wrong course, because whatever else may be its weakness, it is leading, at least, in the right direction. But if it would curtail your freedom—even in the smallest degree—then it can never be the right course; because no matter how far and how fast it may help you to travel, you will only be running the ball towards the wrong goal."

(2) "You may be greatly tempted at times to relinquish some part of your so-called 'economic' freedom, in the belief that collective action, under government, can provide a greater measure of comfort or security, or welfare for your fellow men than they can hope to attain through their own individual effort or through private associations. Shun that temptation.

"You have been free to think, to study, to write, and to follow every avenue of research as you wished. But how would that help if—in your world of tomorrow—you were not equally free to work, to quit, or to change your job?"

(3) "The world's key fortress of human liberty is America itself. So long as our freedom stands, the enemy cannot gain ultimate victory; but let it be undermined by the sappers—let it start crumbling beneath our feet—and soon there will be no corner left on earth where men can walk in dignity.

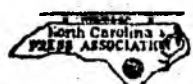

"Attention cannot be devoted wholly to distant horizons. You must watch with constant vigilance the familiar ground around you. You will have to look down at your feet, and make sure that they are planted firmly on the solid ground of freedom; for it is the misfortune of man that he cannot fly to his chosen goals on magic carpets or Utopian dreams. He must plod his way slowly, one step at a time, and one foot in front of the other."

Marketing Cards Needed
To Sell Wheat

O. E. Driver, ASC Chairman, informs Davie County farmers that before selling any wheat they will need a marketing card to identify the wheat as penalty free wheat. If the wheat producer does not present the marketing card to the buyer at the time of the sale the buyer is instructed to collect $1.12 per bushel penalty.

Davie County wheat farmers who wish to sell wheat can come by their ASC office and pick up a wheat marketing card or a wheat marketing certificate. A receipt must be signed when the card is issued; therefore, it is necessary to visit the ASC office in person. If the operator is unable to visit the County Office he may request in writing that his card be mailed to him. If no wheat is to be sold, exchanged, or paid as toll, no card need be obtained.

These wheat marketing cards will also state whether or not the farmer is eligible for price support. Only those farmers who have harvested wheat within the farm wheat allotment and do not owe a wheat penalty on another farm will be eligible for wheat price support.

The 1954 wheat price support rate is $2.36 per bushel for U. S. Grade No. 1. Storage and grade deductions as well as service fees will be made from warehouse stored loans. Farmers interested in getting loans should apply at the local ASC County Office.

PLENTY OF MILK

Milk production in the United States last year has been estimated at 119 billion pounds. This is about 2 quarts per day for each man, woman and child in the country! This production has been exceeded only by the all-time record high of 110.8 billion pounds produced in 1945, according to the 1954 Yearbook of the American Peoples Encyclopedia.

The per capita consumption of dairy products in the United States in 1952 was equivalent to 821 pounds of milk per year, an all-time high; in 1953 the figure was 689 pounds, a decrease of 132 pounds per person.

A Hymn Is Born

BY CLINT BONNER

O God, Our Help in Ages Past

A rebellious youth revolutionizes church singing

The clerk read a Psalm. Everybody sang. That is, everybody except young Isaac Watts. After church that Sunday in 1692 when his Puritan father called him to the carpet Isaac said flatly that there was no music in the Psalms. Whereupon the outraged deacon suggested that the young upstart write something better. The result of that challenge was a revolution in church singing.

Staid, old Enoch Watts must not have been thinking when he hurled that remark at his teenage son. For at his boarding school in Southampton the deacon himself had taught Isaac five languages before the boy was 14. That is, the deacon taught when he wasn't in jail for acts against the Established Church. And for 12 years Mrs. Watts had tutored her oldest son in the writing of verse. At 7 he had won a medal for writing rhymes. He waxed so poetical that when Enoch threatened to thrash him for rhyming even in his everyday conversation he cried out, "O father do some pity take, and I will no more verses make!"

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home!

Under the shadow of Thy throne,
Still may we dwell secure;
Sufficient in Thine arms alone,
And our defense is sure.

Accepting his father's challenge, 15-year-old Isaac set about "Christianizing and modernizing the Psalms. It had been tried before but not by a mind like that of Watts.

The following Sunday the clerk read, a new kind of hymn. It began: "Behold, the glories of the Lamb." Amidst His Father's throne; Pre- pare new honors for His name, and songs before unknown." The congregation went wild. They made young Watts bring in one of his "modernized" Psalms every Sunday for two years!

Isaac Watts had successfully broken a tradition. Before he was 30 he wrote "Joy to the World," "When I Can Read My Title Clear," "Am I a Soldier of the Cross" and 650 other notable hymns and paved the way for Wesley, Newton, Cowper and many others.

Isaac Watts lived in troubled times but he could have written no more appropriately for the present era than when he paraphrased the 19th Psalm more than two centuries ago and wrote:

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come;
Be thou my guide while life shall last,
And our eternal home.

THIS IS THE LAW

By CHARLES W. DANIEL

CRIMES

A "Crime" is any act, or conduct, which has been declared a crime by the State and for which the individual or group responsible may be publicly punished, either by fine, or imprisonment, or both.

North Carolina divides crimes into two general classifications: Misdemeanors and felonies. A felony is a crime which is or may be punishable by either death or imprisonment in the State's prison. Any other crime is a misdemeanor.

The distinction between the two classifications of crime is important for several reasons. The least of these is the fact that one convicted of a felony loses his citizenship and its attendant rights, including the right to vote or hold public office. A person convicted of a misdemeanor is not so severely penalized. Citizenship last upon conviction of a felony may be restored by law (outlined in Chapter 13 of the General Statutes).

Petition For Citizenship
A convicted felon, after he has served his time or paid off, may get back his citizenship by filing a petition in the Superior Court, setting out his occupation since his release and the reasons why he believes he should be reinstated as a full-fledged citizen. The felon must wait two years after release before filing this petition. Then the clerk of court must advertise the fact that a hearing on the petition is to be held, so that those who might oppose the restoration could appear. On the actual hearing before the Superior Court Judge, the felon must prove by "five respectable witnesses" that his "character" for truth and honesty has been good for three years.

The difference between felony and misdemeanor is also important because there is no time limit against prosecuting felonies. On the other hand, the time limit after which a person may not be prosecuted for a misdemeanor is two years. This means that if one commits a simple assault or an ordinary trespass (which are misdemeanors) and the State fails to prosecute for two years thereafter, it is barred forever and the offender is free.

However if one commits murder or any other felony he may be prosecuted for it at the pleasure of the State no matter how much time might have elapsed before the criminal action is started.

Offense Against State

All crimes are offenses against the State. They are infractions of State laws, or the "common law" which is unwritten. It is for this reason that criminal cases in all courts are labeled "State" (of North Carolina) vs. John Doe (defendant). The General Assembly and certain State administrative agencies over the years have determined what kind of conduct shall constitute crime. It was the General Assembly which determined that rape, first degree murder, burglary, and arson are "capital crimes," punishable by death in North Carolina. Kidnapping is punishable by life imprisonment.

Double Jeopardy

The Federal Constitution protects the individual against "double jeopardy"—trial more than once for the same offense. On this point the question arises "When does the protection of the double jeopardy provision begin to work? When is a trial a trial, after which the State cannot quit and begin again later, or after which the State cannot again prosecute the defendant on the identical evidence? Generally, it may be said that a defendant has been placed in "jeopardy" after the jury has been impaneled and the defendant arraigned. If the State goes this far in prosecuting an accused person, it cannot later try the same individual again for the original offense, unless the trial judge finds facts legally sufficient as a basis for ordering a mistrial. In such case, the accused could be tried again for the same offense. The accused could also be tried again in a mistrial in the first hearing should be ordered on motion of the accused, himself.

A person accused of a minor crime can be tried by a Recorder's Court or a Justice of the Peace may plead "not guilty" and yet have his case heard by the Judge without a jury. This is not true of cases heard in Superior Court. There, every case in which a plea of "not guilty" is entered MUST be heard by a jury.

Give All The Facts

Many persons, seeking the aid of an attorney to defend them against charges of crime, make the gross error of withholding some of the facts from the attorney.

No attorney can properly defend against an alleged crime unless he is given all the facts within the knowledge of his client. A person accused of crime should have no qualms about telling his lawyer truthfully everything he knows about the case. The attorney's relationship with the client is completely confidential. The attorney has taken an oath to protect—with the law—the interest of the client. Remember these facts if you are ever accused of a crime. They could easily be the difference between prison and freedom.

This is the last in the current series of articles "THIS IS THE LAW." The North Carolina Bar Association hopes that you have found the articles informative.

The nation's beef production in April, 1954, totaled 990 million pounds, 7 per cent less than March but about the same as April a year earlier.

60 Second Sermons

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "Making people kind, not merely respectable, solves the problem."—Elbert Hubbard.

For many months a man had paused, each morning, to drop a dime in the hat of a beggar on a busy street. One day as he dropped the coin, he announced, "I'm sorry, but I'll not be able to help you any more. I am going away to get married."

"What do you mean," screamed the beggar, "by getting married at my expense?"

It appears that many foreign countries are like that beggar. But the fault does not lie with the beggar. The fault is with the giver. He drops a coin in the beggar's hat, but has not invested his personal interest in what causes the man to beg. When the aid is withdrawn, the beggar feels injured. Lasting good comes to the beggar or the nation, when he who gives looks beneath the surface gift. He invests himself, personally, in the causes which made the gift necessary. Only then is the gift truly helpful.

What Every Veteran Should Know

Eye glasses will be furnished by the Veterans' Administration if they are medically determined necessary for:

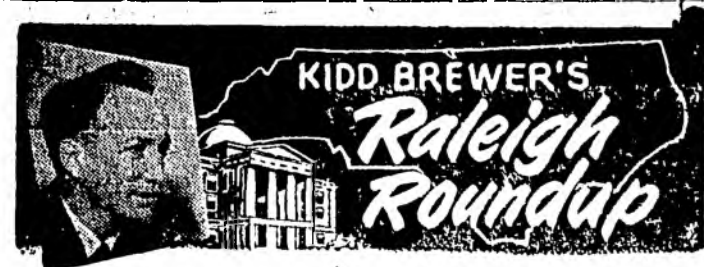

- a. A service-connected disability.
- b. A necessary part of hospital treatment or domiciliary care.
- c. To prevent interruption of training authorized under Public Law 16, 17th Congress.

Veterans whose Insurance Policies were in force at least three months between anniversary date of their policy in 1953 and the same date in 1954 as well as servicemen and new veterans whose policies are or were under waiver while in service will share in the 1954 dividend.

Dividend will be paid automatically to eligible policy holders about 60 days after anniversary dates of their policies. Veterans who elected to receive cash dividends in 1953 will also receive cash this coming year whereas those who chose other plans will have same procedure followed unless they write the VA for cash payment.

For further information contact W. J. Wilson, Davie County Veterans Service Officer, Mocksville, N. C.

United States farmers placed 47 per cent of the 1953 wheat crop, 41 per cent of the cotton crop, and 29 per cent of the peanut crop under the federal price support program.

BACKGROUND . . . A lot of people seem to want to know more about our new United States Senator, Sam J. Ervin, Jr., of Morganton, who is succeeding the late Clyde R. Hoey.

JOINER . . . It has long been an axiom that if you want to get anywhere in politics you must first be a joiner. It looks as if Senator Ervin's profession, experiences, education, interests, and politics led him into virtually everything joinable in Western North Carolina.

Of course he belongs to the N. C. Bar Association, is a member of the North Carolina State Bar, the American Bar Association, and the Association of Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners.

He has membership in the American Judicature Society, the General Alumni Association of the University of North Carolina (president in 1947-48), American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, Society of the First Division, Army and Navy Legion of Valor.

Senator Ervin is a member and former president of the Morganton Kiwanis Club, the Morganton Chamber of Commerce, the State Literary and Historical Association, Southern Historical Association, American Historical Association, and the Society of Mayflower Descendants.

On the lodge and Greek business, he belongs to Sigma Upsilon, Phi Delta Phi, Junior Order, Knights of Pythias, Dookies, Knights Templar and the Scottish Rite Masons (32nd degree).

Like other new U. S. Senator, W. Kerr Scott, Sam Ervin is a Presbyterian and also like the Haw River gentleman is an elder. Probably this will mark the first time in history where we have had two Presbyterians representing us in the U. S. Senate.

As a joiner, then, you can see that Sam J. Ervin, Jr., qualifies fully—for any political role thrust upon him.

EDUCATION . . .

The new U. S. Senator graduated from the University of North Carolina the same month Kerr Scott finished at State—in June of 1917.

Ervin went into the service. But returned to school after the war and graduated at Harvard with a law degree. He had received the straight A.B. at Carolina.

WAR RECORD . . .

He served in France with the First Division for 18 months during World War I. He was twice wounded in battle twice cited for gallantry in action, and was awarded the French Fourragere, the Purple Heart with one Oak Leaf Cluster, the Silver Star, and the Distinguished Service Cross.

BIRTH . . .

You heard a lot of loose talk about age in the recent primary about how we needed young men, men who would be there long enough to achieve seniority in the U. S. Senate.

They said W. Kerr Scott, born April 17, 1896, was too old. So when time came to name a successor to Clyde R. Hoey, a man younger than Scott was chosen.

Sam Ervin was born on Sept. 27, 1896, and thus our senior senator will be from April to September younger than our junior senator.

OFFICES . . .

How have his memberships, his education, his contacts, planned out through the year for Sam J. Ervin, Jr. He represented Burke County in the Legislatures of 1923, 1925, and 1931. He was chairman of the Burke County Democratic Executive Committee in 1942. He was trustee of the Morganton Graded Schools, 1927-30.

From 1930 to 1937, our new senator was a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee. Senator Ervin was a trustee of the University of North Carolina, 1932-35, 1945-46; Judge, Burke County Criminal Court, 1935-37; Judge, North Carolina Superior Court, 1937-53.

As did our mutual friend, Hubert Olive of Lexington, Sam Ervin, Jr., resigned his judgeship to reenter the practice of law. And, like our mutual friend, William B. Umstead, who now lives on Blount Street here, he resigned his seat in Congress to reenter the practice of law.

Other positions and honors: Member State Board of Law Examiners, 1944-46; member N. C. Hospital and Medical Care Commission, 1944; Government Appeal Agent, Burke County Service Board No. 2, and chairman, Burke County Labor Mobilization Board, World War II; Congressman, 1946-47; trustee, Davidson College, 1948-50; Associate Justice State Supreme Court, 1948 (appointed by Governor Cherry, until last week).

The new senator is a doctor of laws, having been given the honorary LL.D. degree at the University of North Carolina.

AS A MAN . . . Although Sam Ervin was on the State Supreme Court bench here for six years, he never established residence in Raleigh, was never listed in the telephone directory except in his official capacity as associate justice.

He is a big, ponderous, slow-moving, but quick-thinking man. Eastern North Carolina folks have a rule, love Raleigh. A lot of westerners can't get used to the climate and the Raleigh personality, which is definitely more eastern and really more Southern than that of the mountains.

Kerr Scott, for instance, never owned or rented a home in Raleigh—although his office was here almost continuously from January of 1937, until January of 1953. During those 16 years here Scott lived at the YMCA and at the Governor's Mansion.

Like most of his associates on the State Supreme Court, Ervin lived at a local hotel. But, unlike them, he roomed at the Carolina Hotel rather than the Sir Walter.

Kerr Scott, in his campaign for Governor, broke precedent and established headquarters at the Carolina rather than at the Sir Walter. He did so again this year when he ran successfully for the U. S. Senate. So, for about six months in 1948, his first months in office, and for six months this year, his last months in office here, Sam Ervin could not leave or go to his room at the Carolina without running a veritable gauntlet of Scott-for-Governor or Scott-for-Senator signs ranging in size from ten inches to ten feet.

LOT ALIKE . . . So Sam Ervin, Jr., of Morganton and Kerr Scott of Haw River are a lot alike—though each would probably deny it. They are the same age. They are both Presbyterians. Each is the father of three children, Ervin with two daughters and a son, and Scott with two sons and a daughter.

Each has been in public life almost continuously since graduation from college in 1917. Scott in agriculture and Ervin in law. Neither is, as we say, very effed. Ervin is quieter, more studious, more of a scholar, cares little for publicity or for getting into wrangles. Scott is a controversial figure, is probably more ambitious than Ervin, has a knack for getting his name in the papers, and has an uncanny feel for the pulse of the people.

Despite all that has been said heretofore, neither Scott nor Ervin is likely to say or do anything in Washington seriously to besmirch the good name of North Carolina. Ervin is conservative, but our two new senators might make one of the finest teams the U. S. Senate.

Paul N. Myers, USN, Returns From Far East

Scheduled to return to Long Beach, Calif., from the Far East in the near future aboard the destroyer USS Collett is Paul N. Myers, torpedoman's mate third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Myers of Route 1, Advance.

The Collett has completed her fourth tour of duty in Far Eastern waters since the outbreak of the Korean conflict in 1950. During the six months tour she operated with Task Force 77 off the coast of Korea, patrolled the Formosa Straits, and participated in exercises designed to keep the crew in maximum readiness.

In company with the destroyer De Haven and the cruiser Juneau, she was the first United States ship to see action against the Korean forces. This year she was among the first naval units to return to the Far East after a cessation of hostilities, thus completing a cycle of peace-to-war to peace again, in the service of her country.

Beats Connecticut!

There are 15 life insurance companies with home offices located in North Carolina, representing nearly $4 billion of insurance in force as of December 31, 1953. Hartford, Connecticut is generally called the insurance capital of the country, but actually there are only 5 companies with home offices in that state. The prestige and employment these insurance companies give North Carolina contributes greatly in making the Tarheel State a better place in which to work, play and live.

Another contribution to more pleasant living for North Carolinians is the brewing industry's self-regulation program where brewers, wholesalers and retailers—in counties where malt beverages are permitted under state control—cooperate to maintain wholesome conditions for the legal sale of beer and ale.

Tid-Bits

By GORDON TOMLINSON

Come July 4th, a group of local sportsmen will take off on one of their annual fishing trips. However, according to the conversation taking place the other day one former member of this entourage will be conspicuous by his absence — and has been, according to the group, since 1950. They explain his absence by telling the following story:

On the fishing trip around July 4, 1950, all were having the best of time. In fact they were having such a good time that when the time allotted by the wives for this trip elapsed, they didn't want to return, but knew better than to stay.

This one member of the group was single at that time. In the discussion that followed as to whether they should return or stay longer, he took the floor and proceeded to deliver a sermon on the "right of man." His friends report that he severely chastised them with words for being under the thumb of their wives as far as fishing trips were concerned. This would never happen to him, he said.

However, this was the last year this man has been on this particular fishing trip. That fall he was married and for some reason has never been able to rejoin this outing. His friends say he expresses a desire to go, but there is always some convenient excuse at hand.

So this July 4th this group is planning another of these annual outings. They say that again they expect this man to be conspicuous by his absence. But returning to the scene of the 1950 lecture on the "rights of man," they'll pay the proper respect with the thoughts of "he lived to learn." And remembering this, when their allotted time expires and with their eyes on things to come, they too, will return to their wives.

One night last week following a meeting of the board of education, board members decided to inspect one of the sites being considered for the new consolidated high school.

Driving to this location, the car was pulled off the road into a wheat field. The members of the board of education and Supt. Curtis Price got out of the car and began walking around looking over the site.

Someone passed by and spying a car at night in the middle of a wheat field, with men walking around, hurried into town and reported what they thought to be a wreck.

With sirens screaming, both a "W" and a "P" ambulance and T. J. Badgett rushed to the scene. Rushing to the car in the field they found the board members calmly going about the job of looking over the site, unaware of the commotion they had caused.

That is the story one board member told to me. However, one will have to admit that a car in a wheat field, with a bright June moon overhead, would appear to be slightly out of place. But as the patrolmen found out, you never can tell.

Local Cub Scouts

Attend Camp Uwharrie

Mocksville Cub Scout Troop 575 spent last week end at Camp Uwharrie. Thirteen Cub Scouts, accompanied by a like number of fathers and adults enjoyed the rambling and swimming facilities afforded by the Boy Scout Camp.

The group arrived in camp Saturday afternoon and were assigned an area. Following an afternoon of swimming and boating, supper was prepared by the group over open furnaces. After eating, games such as softball, ping-pong, horse shoes, shuffle board and checkers were played until bed time which was around 10 p.m.

Sunday morning following an early breakfast, more swimming and boating took place. At 9 p.m. Sunday school was held in camp, the camping area cleaned and the group checked out.

The group was under the supervision of Cubmaster R. F. Kemp. Members of the Cub Scout troop attending the camp included: Jimmy Miller, Jimmy Sheek, Don Cartmell, Bill Moore, Johnny York, Chuck Tomlinson, Charles Crenshaw, Tommy Anderson, Larry Thomas, Johnnie Hendrix, Bonnie Smith and Robbie Lanier.

No wonder the Piedmont Bride counts on keeping house the Electric Way. Her mother uses far more Electric Service than the average housewife in other parts of America—3,500 kilowatt hours as compared with a national average of 2,350 kilowatt hours.

Julia Williams acted as registrar, enrolled 45 children.

We are equipped to play the following games: baseball, softball, croquet, croquet golf, basketball, box ball, squat ball, volleyball, badminton, tether ball, horse shoe pitching, paddle tennis, box hockey, ping-pong and many quiet games.

The champs and contenders had a good warm up Friday to see whether or not they will retain their titles for 1954. These following played ping-pong: Charley Barker, Clyde Studevant, Milton Williams, and Gordon Gailther. # Farm Market Price Survey

Editor's Note: Following is a summary of market price information for the week ending June 18, as gathered and edited by the Market News Service, N. C. Department of Agriculture.

Hog prices registered, the sharpest drop of the season at local buying stations this week when declines ranging from 2.50 to 3.00 were reported. This brought top hogs down to 21.00 to 21.50—the lowest price paid since November of last year. Hogs also declined 1.75 to 2.50 in Chicago during the week where a closing top of 23.75 was reported. Main factor contributing to the weakness was the sharp drop in dressed pork prices.

Cattle prices were also weaker on the Rocky Mount and Rich Square auction markets this week. Utility and commercial steers sold from 12.00 to 19.00 and utility and commercial heifers from 9.00 to 14.25. Commercial vealers brought 14.00 to 18.50 and utility and commercial cows 9.00 to 13.00. Good bulls were reported at 14.50 to 14.00.

Fryers and broilers declined 1 cent per pound in the Central North Carolina area during the week and farm pay prices were reported at 23 cents per pound. ### Thy KING Cometh

Amid joyous hosannas and waving of palm branches, He rode into the city of Jerusalem, past these same walls which are standing today. Long ago in ancient Palestine, the prophet had heralded the coming of a king. But now few thought it more than the usual procession of some new earthly ruler. Yet no king ever came as He came. No king ever built such a kingdom. This was the King of Heaven who rode into the hearts of men and built there a Kingdom of Love! They crucified Him, but death could not stop His coming. He comes in every age to all who will believe. He comes to you. Go to church this Palm Sunday, for "thy king cometh." Let the King of Heaven ride into your heart.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
