COTTON DEADLINE IS SET FOR APRIL 22

Cotton farmers don't have much longer to decide whether they will plant their cotton acreage or release it.

O. E. Driver, Chairman of the Davie County ABC Committee, expressed the hope that all cotton farmers will get a clear picture of the choice they have to make before the deadline for releasing cotton acreage, which is April 22 in this county.

Mr. Driver says that complete release of cotton acreage that will not be planted this year could go a long way toward solving the problems of cotton farmers this year. Cotton farmers took a 17% cut in acreage this year. A large percentage of this cut came about by failure of cotton farmers to plant their full acreage last year, and failure to release acreage that would not be planted. The farmer who releases the acreage will receive just as much benefit as the farmer who releases the acreage. This is one way he has of retaining his planted history and keep from cutting his future allotments.

Farmers who cannot plant their full allotment this year should stop by the ABC office and discuss with them the advantages and disadvantages of releasing cotton acreage.

Local Unit To Take Part In Nationwide Alert Sometime Soon

Residents of Davie County are cautioned not to be alarmed when the Medical Company, 120th Infantry, North Carolina National Guard, mobilizes for a test alert soon.

The warning was issued by Capt. Hugh A. Lagle, commanding the Medical Company, which will participate in the alert sometime this spring with every other Army and Air National Guard unit in North Carolina and nation.

"One day soon the residents of this community will see their National Guardsmen mobilize quickly," Capt. Lagle said, "and carry out duties assigned to them in case of an emergency."

"We ask our fellow citizens not to be disturbed in the slightest by this Guard activity, which is simply a training exercise to test the speed and efficiency with which local Guardsmen can be mobilized in case of a disaster, or other emergency calling for our services."

"Please remember that this is only a test alert. However, another purpose is to give our fellow citizens an opportunity to see the Medical Company in training and to learn more about the important mission assigned to our Guardsmen in peace and war."

Exact time and date of the test alert to be known as "Operation Minuteman" will be secret until just a few hours before it is sounded. Capt. Lagle explained. The "go ahead" order will be issued by the Adjutant General and transmitted to all North Carolina Army and Air National Guard units.

Meanwhile, Capt. Lagle added, nearly 400,000 Guardsmen in more than 2,200 other communities in the remaining states and in the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska will be alerted by their own Governors and Adjutants General. The green light for "Operation Minuteman" will be given by Major General Edgar C. Erickson, Chief of the National Guard Bureau, from his office in the Pentagon in Washington, D. C. General Erickson and his staff are coordinating the test alert.

"LET GOD BE TRUE"

By PAUL SIKES

Let us suppose that A asks B to let him borrow his automobile. B tells A that he may go to Salisbury in his car. Several days later A returns the car to B. B notices that the car has been driven 3,000 miles since he let A borrow it to go to Salisbury. When questioned about the excess mileage A declares, "You told me that I could go to Salisbury in your car but you did not say that I could not go to Texas." Ordinarily people do not act like A until they start talking about God's word.

God told Noah to "Make thee an ark of gopher wood . . . (Gen. 6:14). Did Noah then decide to build the ark from a wood of his choice? God had a choice and it was gopher wood. When God told Noah the kind of wood to use that excluded other woods. We know that Noah used gopher wood because the Bible states "Thus did Noah, according to all that God commanded him, so did he." (Gen. 6:22).

The Bible gives us an example of two men who offered something to the Lord which he commanded them not. The difference was between fire from the Lord and "strange fire." Both were fire but the Lord did not command "strange fire." And Nahab and Abihu, the sons of Aaron, took either of them his censor, and put fire therein, and put incense thereon, and offered strange fire before the Lord, which he commanded them not. And there went out fire from the Lord, and devoured them, and they died before the Lord." (Leviticus 10:1, 2).

A study of Matthew 26:26-29 will show us that the bread and the fruit of the vine were the elements used by Jesus when he instituted the "Lord's supper." He said, " . . . This do in remembrance of me." (I Cor. 11:25). Many of us eat eggs and bacon in our homes but does that mean that we can put them on the Lord's table and eat them along with the bread and the fruit of the vine? By telling us what to use everything else is eliminated.

Singing is a kind of music, so is playing an instrument a kind of music. The New Testament is not opposed to music because singing is a kind of music. . . . singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord." (Eph. 5:19). . . . singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord." (Col. 3:16). Thus we are told what to do—we are to sing. Let us not be like Mr. A and go beyond what we are instructed to do. As far as the New Testament is concerned the use of mechanical instruments in worship to God is no more acceptable than was Nahab's and Abihu's "strange fire." (Adv.) —FROM THE COUNTY AND HOME AGENTS' OFFICE—

COTTON FACTS

1. Cotton Production. Cotton should be run in a two to three year rotation. On demonstrations in the state, cotton growth on the rotation plan produced from 200 to 300 pounds of seed cotton per acre than cotton grown on the same land each year. The same practices were used in each case.

2. Soil Samples. A soil sample should be taken of each field to determine the amount and analysis of fertilizer that should be used.

3. Recommended Varieties. The recommended varieties of the area should always be used. The recommended variety for this area is Coker's 100.

4. Germination. Never plant seed unless a germination test has been run. Do not plant seed that will not test 80 per cent or above in germination.

5. Fertilizations. If soil samples have not been taken, 500 to 600 pounds per acre of 5-10-10 or similar analysis should be used. This fertilizer should be placed in with the seed at planting time, 40 to 60 pounds of nitrogen should be used to sidedress after the cotton is chopped out. On low potash soil or soil that has been used for legumes for several years, 200 pounds of sulfate of potash should be combined with the nitrogen when sidedressing the cotton.

6. Stands. Three to four plants per foot should be left when thinning.

7. Weed Control. Cotton should be cultivated regularly enough to prevent weeds and grasses from growing. Weeds compete with the cotton for plant food and water. It takes three to four times as much water for one stalk of rag weed as for one stalk of cotton.

8. Insects. One out of every 7 bales of cotton is lost to insects in North Carolina. On state-wide experiments, one dollar in prevention of boll weevil returned nine dollars worth of cotton. Let's prepare to keep this enemy under control.

9. Boll rot and Corn Earworm. During the past few years, much damage to cotton has been caused by the corn earworm. Cotton should be checked often for this pest and control measures used when necessary.

10. Prompt Harvest. Pick the cotton only when it is open wide. Try not to have early opened cotton and late cotton in the same bale.

11. Classing and grading. All of the cotton in this area is above the average grade of cotton in North Carolina. Therefore, you should ask your ginner to take a sample of your bale and have it graded so you will be paid for the cotton you are producing.

SLAUGHTER CATTLE SALE

A slaughter cattle sale will be conducted in Lexington on April 15. There will be approximately 25 steers in this sale from Davie County. So far, there has not been a suitable market in this area for this type of cattle. The Extension Service and the North Carolina Department of Agriculture cooperating with the Feeders of this section will be able to group the cattle together and get the buyers of this state and some from other states to bid on the cattle. By the three groups working together a very desirable market should be worked out in order to have a reliable market for our cattle in this section.

Chicken Pie Supper

There will be a chicken pie supper at William R. Davie school Saturday night, April 9, beginning at 5 p.m., sponsored by Chestnut Grove Methodist Church.

NATURAL AS THE CROPS YOU GROW

CHILEAN NITRATE of SODA is the world's only NATURAL NITRATE FERTILIZER

NATURAL as the crops in your fields, Chilean Nitrate is the only natural nitrate. Guaranteed 42 per cent plant food. ★ Richest of plant foods. Chilean's many extra values make it one of the most efficient and economical nitrogen fertilizers. ★ Chilean's nitrogen content is 100 per cent nitrate. Ideal for top-dressing and side-dressing. Free flowing, spreads evenly and smoothly. ★ Chilean needs only moisture from the air to dissolve—no waiting for rain—fast, effective action. ★ Every ton of Chilean contains sodium equivalent to 650 pounds of commercial limestone—an acid-destroying agent. The more Chilean you use, the greater its acid-destroying value. ★ Sodium supplements potash—when necessary, substitutes for it—reduces leaching losses of potash, calcium, magnesium—releases unavailable potash in the soil. ★ Sodium increases availability of phosphate in the soil and improves efficiency of applied phosphate. ★ Chilean is rich in small quantities of minor elements necessary for healthy vigorous growth—It's the only natural combination of 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements.

MHS News

By ED ROWLAND

Mocksville's roaring baseball team scored six runs behind the five-hit pitching of "Lefty" Howell Friday afternoon to defeat Advance, 6-3, in the first county game of the season for both clubs. Several errors by the Panthers in the field contributed heavily to the six runs as Wayne Williams on the mound for Advance gave up only four hits to the Wildcats. Mackie Deadmon smacked a long triple in the first inning for the only extra-base blow.

On Thursday Mocksville plays Davis Townsend here, and Tuesday they go to Advance for the return game with the Panthers.

The senior play, "The Big Blow-up," presented to a full house Friday night, took in over $200. Ann Owings, the business manager, reported to the class Monday.

The seniors are justifiably proud of the production, and they feel that those of you who saw it had a good time, and also those of you who didn't miss something.

Behind the scenes at the play: Charles Hendricks and Johnny Braaswell's unscheduled exit through the audience in the third act—a back-stage mixup in suitcases (in addition to the ones on the stage)—a lost necklace—and Mrs. Crenshaw's quieting the waiting cast.

The annual Junior-Senior banquet, held Saturday night at the Vance Hotel in Statesville, seemed to be a tremendous success from everyone's viewpoint. The turkey dinner was excellent, the program was very good, and the dance held afterwards topped off the biggest event in the school's social life.

Gaither Sanford, junior class proxy, was the Master of Ceremonies and the toastmaster.

World's Highest Peak

Schoolchildren and answerers on quiz programs will have to revise one of their bits of knowledge. Mt. Everest, the world's highest, has long been listed as being 29,002 feet high. This was not hard to remember, the two feet above 29,000 tending to help the memory. The experts never trusted the accuracy of the figure because it was reckoned a century ago, when there was more chance of error. A few years ago a figure was publicized and said to be more nearly correct. This put Everest's height at 29,141 feet.

This is now seen to have been an exaggeration. The government of India has been making an elaborate survey, whose result has just been reported to the National Geographic Society by Gen. I. H. R. Wilson, Surveyor General of India. The new figure is given as 29,028.

Too bad it is not 29,029. That would be easier to remember.

Something Nice

The Davie County Grand Jury last week took cognizance of the new Davie County office Building in its report to the Hon. Harold H. Hubbard, with the following remarks:

"In the Grand Jury report of August 31, 1954, complaints were made of the crowded conditions of all the various rooms of the court house. This has all been eliminated by the erection of the nicest office building in this section of the state, and we, the Grand Jury, feel it is a credit to the citizens of Davie County."

This newspaper heartily concurs with the above. The office building is a credit to the citizens of Davie County, and each and every citizen should take a just pride in the progress it reflects for the county.

Burden On The Defendant

Davie County should act immediately on the recommendation of the Grand Jury for the establishment of a Recorder's Court in the county. The county should not, without good and sufficient reason, delay the establishment of a court system that is endorsed by the presiding Superior Court Judge, has the support of the law officials and many of the lawyers; and above all, would provide for a more adequate administration of justice.

The criticism of our present system in Davie County may be enumerated as follows:

1. As there is no court with the jurisdiction to handle the cases of speeding, reckless driving and other such indictments, the defendants must await Superior Court for the disposition of their cases. This involves a wait of several months, and in some cases accumulate so as to make a docket that is so large that it cannot be disposed of in the time allotted for the session.

2. The Constitution of the United States provides for a fair and speedy trial for a defendant. Under the present system a wait of months for a trial on a motor vehicle violation can certainly not be considered speedy and in many cases is not fair.

3. In order to have a fair trial, due consideration should be given the individual case by the court. With a docket of around 300 cases, such consideration cannot be practically given.

4. The present system is a perversion of justice in that in many cases it makes it more profitable for an innocent man to plead guilty and pay the fine and cost, than to fight to establish such innocence in court.

For example: An officer arrests you for speeding and reckless driving. You feel that you are innocent of the charge and are dependent on the American system of justice, through a trial by your peers, to establish your innocence or guilt.

However, to take a chance on the establishing innocence, here is what you must do: First, you should employ a lawyer. Second, you must be present at court each day until your trial is finished. Under the system employed in Davie County, this means waiting at the minimum of 3 to 4 days for your case to be called, as the "guilty" pleas are taken first. All this adds up to considerable time and money, and even if you succeed in establishing your innocence, you have won only a moral victory. Your expense is much greater than if you had pleaded guilty and paid the nominal fine and cost.

The result of the above is that the greater percentage of the defendants enter a plea of guilty, pay the fine and cost, and get it over with—but what does this do to our system of justice that declares that the burden of proving a man guilty is upon the State—and not upon the defendant to prove himself innocent.

The present system of administering justice in Davie County places an undue burden on the defendant—a burden so great that it is more feasible to plead guilty than to accept the process of justice that is so rightfully due each and every American citizen.

This is the Law

FARM CROPS

This is the first of a series of articles that will appear each week throughout the next three months. They have been written for the non-lawyer as a public service of the North Carolina Bar Association.

Although the writer is currently writing a series of articles under the heading "This is the Law" once a week for a number of the daily newspapers published in the State, the contents of the articles to be published in this newspaper are to be different.

Does a purchaser of land acquire ownership to the growing crops on the land at the time of the sale?

Yes. The general rule is that a deed to land passes growing crops to the grantee of the deed in the absence of a reservation to the contrary. This is true even though the crops have already ripened and are merely standing unharvested in the field at the time the deed is given. As between seller and buyer of the land, the law considers the land and crops attached to it as being united.

The principle applies to cotton, corn, tobacco, grain, and all kinds of vegetables, fruits, and berries that have not been harvested and are still attached to the soil. If the land conveyed by deed is in the possession of a tenant, the grantee of the deed merely acquires the grantor's title or interest in the land. The tenant's lease is not terminated and the tenant is not deprived of any of his rights under his lease. The tenant simply acquires a new landlord.

May these be an oral agreement that a sale of the land does not include the annual crops attached to the land?

Yes. Although a conveyance of the land or a contract to convey the land must be in writing, under the law of North Carolina permits an oral reservation of the annual crops to the seller.

But there cannot be an oral agreement to except from the provisions of a deed the fruit on trees and the berries or products of perennial plants.

Perennial trees, bushes, shrubs, and vines pass with the title to the land and there cannot be an oral reservation to the seller of either them or their products. Perennial crops are those which are produced year after year from the same roots, trees or bushes without annual planting. Unharvested crops are a part of the land to which they are attached, and contracts relating to them must be in writing.

John Jones by will gives a farm to Mary Smith. There is an unharvested crop of corn, tobacco, cotton and vegetables on the farm as of the time of the death of John Jones. Does Mary Smith become the owner of the unharvested crop?

No. In the absence of a clearly stated provision in the will to the contrary, the unharvested crop belongs to the executor or administrator of the estate of John Jones as a part of the personal assets of the decedent's estate.

There is a statute in North Carolina expressly so providing. In most of the other states there is no such statute, and in these states Mary Smith would become the owner of not only the farm but also the unharvested crop.

If John Jones had not left a will and Mary Smith had inherited the farm as an heir, the same principle would apply. The unharvested crop would belong to the executor or administrator of the estate of John Jones.

There will be a continuation of the subject of farm crops next week.

Have Thine Own Way, Lord

The hymn that was inspired by a prayer

The station was crowded. It was just before Christmas and it seemed that everybody in New York was on the go. Nobody noticed the little lady as she made her way to the ticket window. Nobody noticed her as she sat quietly and watched the milling throng while she waited for her train. That's the way she wanted it. She didn't like to be noticed. But traveling was something new to her. As a Bible teacher she had been all over the United States, had spent several years in England and, when she was nearly 60, made a trip to Africa. No there she was, past three score and ten, waiting for another train. This time for Philadelphia where she was scheduled to speak.

Adelaide Pollard was a remarkable little woman. She devoted her life to making the world a better place, but she didn't want recognition for her efforts. Nobody knows how many hymns she wrote because she rarely signed them and when she did she just put the initials, "A. A. P." That's why if you look up "Have Thine Own

Have Thine own way, Lord!
Have Thine own way!
Then art the Potter,
I am the clay.
Mould me and make me
After Thy will,
While I am waiting,
Yielded and still.

Have Thine own way, Lord!
Have Thine own way!
Search me and try me,
Master today.
Whiter than snow, Lord,
Wash me just now,
As in Thy precious
Hemlock I bow.

Way, Lord," in your hymnal, chances are you will see only the initials under the title.

Miss Pollard had just turned 40 at the turn of the century when she got the inspiration for "Have Thine Own Way." She was at a prayer service when a woman used a phrase that struck her. In her prayer the woman omitted the usual beseeching for blessings but prayed that the Lord "just have your own way with our lives." The sincerity of the prayer so impressed Miss Pollard that by the time she got home she had the hymn shaped in her mind and finished it just very right.

Perhaps God figured Adelaide Pollard had filled enough engagements. The caller announced the train for Philadelphia that day in December, 1924, but the quiet little lady of 72 didn't get on it. The throngs milled through the gate, but the author of "Have Thine Own Way, Lord" had been called to take another train. She was buried at Fort Madison in her native state of Iowa and they had a quiet ceremony. That's the way she would have wanted it. . . .

Have Thine own way, Lord!
Have Thine own way!
Wounded and weary,
Help me, I pray!
Power—all power—
Surely to Thine,
Touch me and heal me,
Saviour divine.

Have Thine own way, Lord!
Have Thine own way!
Hold me for my being,
Absolute unity!
Fill with Thy Spirit,
Till all shall see
Christ only, always,
Living in me!

WASHINGTON REPORT

BY BILL WHITLEY
LOBBYISTS. How do you feel about the development of the Antarctic Continent? If you have any views on the subject, a certain lady in Washington, Miss Elizabeth Kendall, would like to know about them. She is one of some 700 lobbyists currently registered with Congress. Like Miss Kendall, all of the lobbyists have special projects they are working on.

Hundreds of organizations retain agents in Washington the year around to bring influences to play on members of Congress. Many of these groups maintain big offices with large staffs of experts.

LEADERS. There are several lobbying groups that are masters when it comes to influencing lawmakers. They leave no stone unturned exactly what they want. In many cases they provide very helpful and essential information on pending legislation.

Probably the richest of all lobbying groups is the National Association of Manufacturers, which plays effective roles in influencing legislation on taxes and other important economic issues. Another wealthy and effective group that works along the same lines as N. A. M. is the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, a group that swings a big stick when it comes to influence.

OPPOSITION. In many legislative fights, such wealthy groups as the AFL and CIO labor groups fight proposals that are supported by the NAM and the Chamber of Commerce, and vice versa.

Both the AFL and CIO keep large staffs in Washington to carry on their fight for organized labor. In recent years, farm groups have become some of the most influential lobbying groups in the capital. The Grange, the Farm Bureau and the National Farmers Union all have lobby organizations working full-time to mold legislation to their liking.

STRUGGLE. The larger lobbying groups have almost unlimited financial resources to back up the argument for or against legislation in which they are interested. There are smaller groups that struggle constantly for their cause with very few funds. In some cases it amounts to an individual fighting for what he thinks is right.

The lobby records show some interesting cases:

The Institute of Scrap Iron has a representative to furnish information about that group. Another lobbyist makes it his business to protect the Panama Canal Pilots Association. A gentleman from Philadelphia wants Congress "to pass an act providing for a full judicial review of certain claims arising from French Spoiliations occurring prior to 1800."

Another gentleman is interested in any legislation that might keep Ireland united.

The hothouse vegetable industry has a representative in town to watch out for it.

The American Lawn Mower Institute also has a man in town, but he hasn't repeated just what he wants yet.

Washington — It is often said that an honest confession is good for the soul. On Sunday of last week my wife, Harry Gatton, and I were traveling from Washington As we neared North Carolina, Harry, who was driving the automobile in which we were riding, suddenly turned on the radio. When the radio became audible, I found myself listening to the unfamiliar voice of some speaker who was the master of a discussion of the tax bill recently before the Senate. I thereupon made this remark to my wife and Harry: "I wonder who is speaking. I can tell by his voice that he is a good Southerner." Harry laughed and said, "That's you Senator." I then realized for the first time that I was listening to my own radio program. I might add in this connection that one's own voice on a radio broadcast ordinarily sounds strange to himself. Since I did not recognize my own voice when I referred to myself as a "good Southerner," I do not fall in this particular instance under the condemnation of the adage that self praise is half scandal.

MISTAKES

I returned to Washington from Morganton on Tuesday of last week and found the remainder of the week a extremely busy one.

The Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations of the Senate Committee on Government Operations spent Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday taking evidence in

60 Second Sermons

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "When liberty becomes license, dictatorship is near."—Will Durant.

The kind lady asked the little boy how his brother was.

"He's sick abed," the boy replied, "he hurt himself."

"That's too bad," said the lady.

"How did he do it?"

"Well we were playing who could lean farthest out the window—and he won!"

Much has been said about freedom. Little is understood. Some feel that freedom is the right to do anything that pleases them. They fall from the window, hurt themselves. Some feel that freedom gives them the right to censure the actions of others. They get punched on the nose.

John Randolph said that "the principle of freedom combined with mere selfishness will make men only devils, each trying to be independent so that he may fight only for his own interest." Freedom is difficult to understand. Perhaps that is because freedom is not pure. It is mixed with something. True freedom must be mixed with restraint. Freedom restrained by love, kind consideration and genuine understanding for our fellowmen, never receives a bad fall. It never earns a punch on the nose. This is the freedom about which the Apostle Paul wrote. This freedom can be enjoyed by all.

The investigation of the circumstances surrounding the promotion and honorable discharge of Major Percas, the Dental Officer, who took the Fifth Amendment when he was called up to to subscribe to his loyalty oath as an Army officer and when he was subsequently investigated by Senator McCarran.

It has been asserted that the promotion and honorable discharge of Major Percas resulted from the presence of some mastermind in the Department of Defense working in the interest of Communism. While the Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations has not made any findings of the fact up to this time in respect to this matter, I deem it not (Continued on Page 6)

REAL ESTATE TAXES

One of these days there will be a real estate licensing board set up in North Carolina similar to those operating in most of the other states of the union.

If the public realized that the proposed tax on the transfer of real estate will come out of their pockets, and not out of the pockets of "that real estate agent" there would be more opposition to the proposal than has been voiced so far. It will get more and more unpopular to buy a home—or sell one if the proportion of money involved going for taxes continues to increase.

AZALEA FESTIVAL . . . The Eighth Annual Wilmington Azalea Festival was another success, last week end despite the freezing weather the week before which killed most of the blossoms. It just goes to show that people attend this wonderful event for other reasons as well as to view the lovely flowers.

The officials of the Festival say they realize that they have right here in North Carolina, hundreds of lovely girls who are just as beautiful and charming as this year's Azalea Queen, Sara Shane, who was flown in from Hollywood. They also realize that to get national publicity you must have national figures, and that is a pun and can be taken literally or figuratively.

With reference to figures, Governor Luther Hodges quipped at the Coronation Ball, "I won't take much of your time because I know you are more interested at this time in reviewing the lovely figures before us here tonight than you are in those budgetary figures we are struggling with in Raleigh, and in this feeling I join you."

While we are on the subject of figures, Mike Souchak, the popular former Duke football player was struggling with figures on the golf course in his efforts to keep his figures low enough to win some high ones.

BALLOONING PROFITS . . . Henry and Babe Bost, the energetic and successful operators of the Bost Agency, invested a lot of money in souvenir balloons for the festival. They were out on the streets trying to sell enough of them to get their money back.

When a dozen or so of their balloons, which were filled with helium gas slipped out of Henry's hands and sailed into the sky, during the parade, someone on the Governor's Reviewing Stand was heard to say "There goes the Bost brothers' profits."

BIG WHEELS . . . I saw a lot of my old friends in Wilmington, and a lot of friends from all over the state. Grady Cole, Mr. Dixie of Station WBT in Charlotte, was on hand as usual, and did a marvelous job of entertaining. Harry Wimer, the famous sports broadcaster, asked Grady if he planned to ever run for public office. Grady replied, "No. I'm going to make mine another way."

Seeing all of the dignitaries and well-known personalities reminded me of the saying, "Blessed are those men who travel in wide circles, for they shall be known as Big Wheels."

Well there were a lot of Big Wheels in Wilmington last week end, and I'm sure they all had a wonderful time.

NEW GADGET NEEDED

Thoughts while riding to and from Wilmington — Why don't the car manufacturers make an adjustable buzzer for speedometers so it can be set at any speed limit, say 55 the present speed limit in North Carolina, and when that speed is exceeded the buzzer goes off to warn the driver?

DUMMY WHAMMY

While on the subject of speed, do you want to slow down the flow of traffic by your place? Just stretch two small rubber hoses across the road about 50 feet apart. This will look enough like a whammy setup to change the trend of thought of the speeding motorists. This is guaranteed to reduce the speed and increase the sound of screeching brakes.

HI DIDDLE DIDDLE

Do you know which of the nursery rhymes is the favorite of Mrs. Luther Hodges? "Hi Diddle Diddle, the Cat and the Piddle." Wants to know how I know? She said so at Wilmington last week, when one of the floats passed which was decorated in the nursery rhyme motif.

MISCELLANEOUS

Under the "what will they do next" subject comes the fact that you can now rent yourself a shower door. Yes, just call the man and he will install a beautiful glass door on your present bath tub, and you can throw away the old shower curtains and enjoy your bath behind a beautiful glass shower door for only a few cents a day. And what's more, when you have paid rent for 14 years, the door becomes yours and no further payments.

AGRICULTURE . . . The recent freeze which destroyed the peach crop in N. C., is just another example of the uncertainty found by those in agriculture in a State where the economy is so dependent upon the farm. It is important we do everything to assist the peach grower in his hour of distress, and the same goes for those others whose livelihood comes from the soil. When our agriculture economy falls apart the rest of the economy is found to collapse.

How the farmers have survived as well as they have is difficult to understand. The farm prices appear to be out of line with those charged at the consumer outlet. The difference in the price of beef on the hoof, for example, to that charged for steak continues to mystify most of us.

If there is anyone who has made a profit raising beef cattle in North Carolina during the past two years, we have not heard about him.

Report To The People

By PETER W. MAIRISTON
Davie County Representative

Because the milk bill was safe the conference report that finally came in last week was apt to cause a good many problems which I wanted more fully studied. I voted to reject the report. It is now the law, and although I felt that some improvement could be made, the important thing is that the Milk Commission has authority under which it can go some of the way toward keeping the industry on an even keel.

All Thursday morning I spent pushing figures around with Vera Chase who is the engineer for the Utilities Commission. While he doesn't have any power to decide what the solution to the toll problem will be, his recommendations will have a strong bearing. While we couldn't come to any conclusions, we gave the "technical rattle-dazzle" a thorough going over and the figures are encouraging. The next move is to try and get the Telephone Corp. and the Central Telephone people together at the earliest possible date. I have made strong representations to this effect to Walter Fuller who is the State head of the Telephone Corps.

Most of my time is being taken up with the work on Appropriations which is mass of details. So far no program has been cut out and only certain economizing has been asked of the various departments.

America by 1975 will be a land using twice as much plastics, chemical fertilizers, and three times as much synthetic fibers and petrochemicals, according to reports by the National Association of Manufacturers.

The NAM cites a recent study by McGraw-Hill Publishing Company which points up the tremendous growth that lies ahead of this nation.

The report points out that output of plastics should increase from 2.5 billion pounds to 6 billion in 1975, that the market for fertilizers will double, that production of synthetic fibers should triple and displace much of the natural fibers, and that investment in petrochemicals may increase from $3 billion to $9 billion by 1975.

EASTER ISLAND

Most everyone has read, from one time to another, about Christmas Island, since stories about it usually appear throughout the country at Christmas. But, did you know that there is also an Easter Island?

Located 2,000 miles west of Chile, in the Pacific Ocean, Easter Island covers 65.5 square miles and contains hundreds of stone figures. With the two Juan Fernandez Islands, less than 100 miles west, Easter Island is one of the national parks of the Chilean government.

This Easter Service Is Cathedral's 413th

Tourist from many lands are expected to be on hand when the 413th annual Easter services are held in the first cathedral built in the New World—At Colden Trujillo the famous old Cathedral of Santo Domingo.

The Cathedral of Santo Domingo was consecrated in 1541 and in it repose the bones of Christopher Columbus, who asked in his last will and testament that his remains be buried in Santo Domingo, "the land I love best."

In 1947, the Dominican Tourist Center arranged the specially conducted tours during Easter Week, including Easter services at the ancient Cathedral and guided visits throughout Colden Trujillo, the oldest city in the Western Hemisphere.

It is the only city in the Americas which has buildings of the Columbus era still in use.

Easter-Time Pagan Observance Great Day

Even the Pagan Easter, on which the Christian day of rejoicing was superimposed in many lands, was a great day. The Pagan observance signified the resurgence of the human spirit after the rigors of winter. To the early Christian, Easter was a day of triumph because it justified his faith in the victory of life over death.

The Christian meaning is the same today. Although the world remains unsettled, nations suspicious and plotting against one another, Easter Sunday is a token of all resurrections, the time when we count the world's gains and rejoice in them.

Actual Easter Date
May Vary by 35 Days

The actual date of Easter varies from between March 22 to April 25th over a period of 35 days. About A.D. 325, the Council of Christian Churches at Nicea, in Asia drew up the Nicene Creed and decided that Easter shall be the first Sunday following the Paschal Full Moon, which happens upon or next after March 21. The reason for this ruling, it was said, was that the Pilgrims needed moonlight to travel on their way to the great yearly Easter festivities.

This Easter We Have Many Causes for Joy

This Easter Sunday we have more than one cause for joy.

We might remember Easter Sunday, 1944, when the weary Americans of the 5th Army worshipped at a crude altar, all too close to the German lines. Or, just one short year later, Easter Sunday, 1945, when our soldiers and marines streamed ashore at Okinawa... or the Easter Sunday in Korea.

Surely, the world is yet in a great state of unrest, but on this Easter morn let our mourning be alone for Him that was crucified on the cross for all mankind.

STORY OF EASTER

In the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

And, behold, there was a great earthquake; for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, Which was crucified.

He is not here: for He is risen, as He said. Come see the place where the Lord lay.

And go quickly, and tell His disciples that He is risen from the dead; and, behold, He goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see Him; lo, I have told you.

And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring His disciples word.

And as they went to tell His disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held Him by the feet, and worshipped Him.

St. Matthew

Easter Time Of Sure Hope

Easter is a time of sure hope, and the symbol of continuing life. There is for mankind the glorious announcement, "He is risen!" bringing again the realization that the one great sacrifice has brought about the triumph of eternal life over death. We remember that Christ allowed himself to be crucified that man might earn the glory of immortality.

Easter marks the turning point for nature, when the whole countryside seems to respond and echo with the words "I am the Resurrection." We may see then a great kinship between two of God's creations: nature and the soul of man. As man may grasp immortality with his dying breath, so is it true that nothing in nature is ever completely destroyed. With Easter comes flowers to adorn the fields, but lately heavily laden with snow. Leafless trees come alive with bright green branches, dull bark is soon hidden beneath bright sprays of greenery and pink-white blossoms.

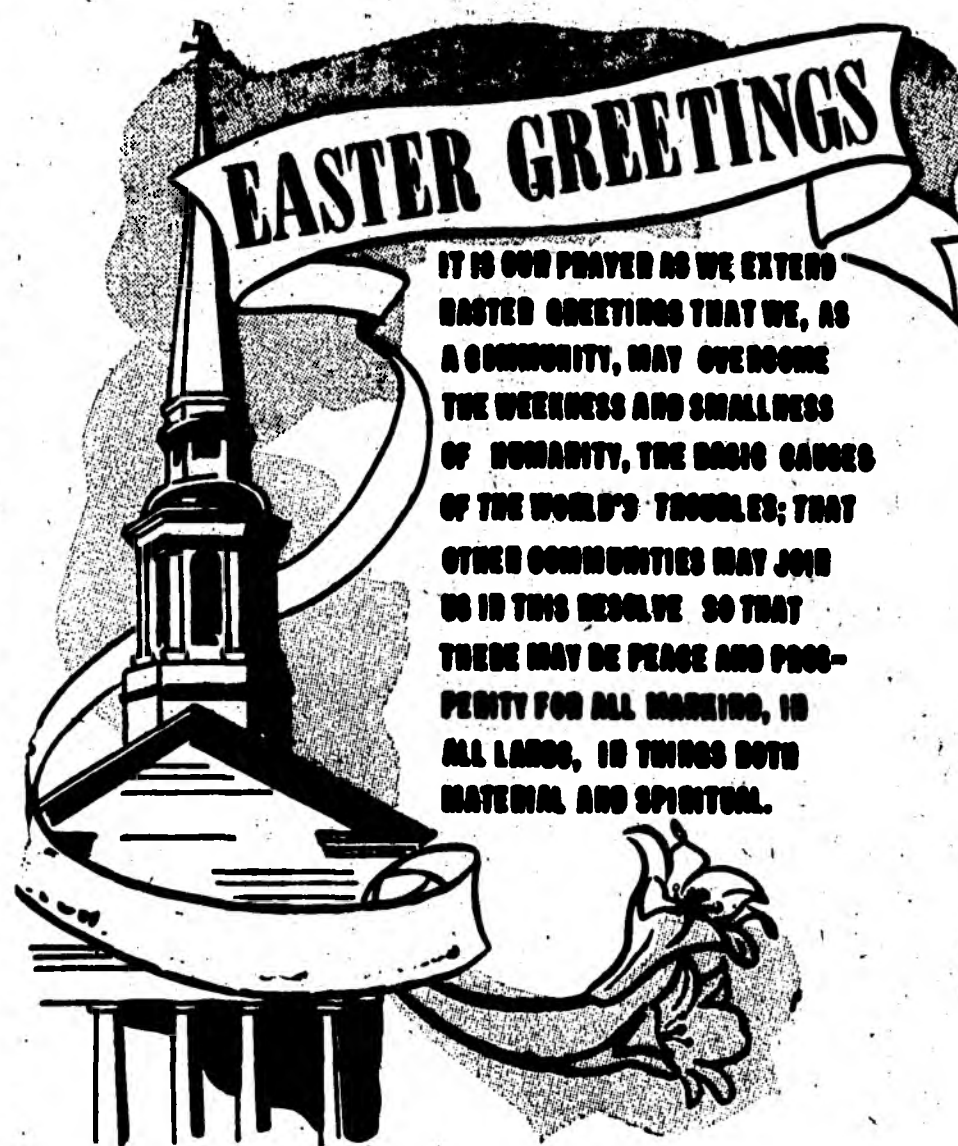

As life on this planet once began in a garden, so does the world again each Easter season.

How Bunny Became A Symbol of Easter

How did the bunny rabbit become associated with Easter?

The rabbit or hare is a symbol of the moon and since the date of Easter is governed by the moon, it is, in a sense, a lunar holiday. The bunny came into the Easter picture, it is said, because of the fact that young rabbits are born with their eyes open and, according to an old superstition, the hare, which has nocturnal habits, always kept its eyes open. Hence, it became identified with the full moon.

Too, the Egyptian word for hare was "un" which also means "to open," or the "opener." As opener of the new year at Easter time—spring being the time when most vegetation is young or new—the hare became associated with the egg, symbol of resurrection, as an Easter symbol.

EVENING SERVICE

Easter Is Principal Christian Festival

Easter is the chief festival of the Christian year, commemorating the Resurrection of Christ.

As far back as the second century A.D. Christians in Asia Minor observed Easter day on the 14th of Nisan, the seventh month of the Jewish calendar, while Christians in Europe observed the nearest Sunday.

While early Christians were observing Easter, usually about the same time of year the Romans were also celebrating the Vernal Equinox or the arrival of Spring.

Lent, Now 40 Days, Once Was 40 Hours

Lent is the great period of fasting in Christian churches and begins on Ash Wednesday, which comes 40 days previous to Easter, not counting Sundays.

Originally, lent was but a period of 40 hours, but later was lengthened to a period of 36 days, omitting all Sundays and all Saturdays except one.

It was brought to the present 40 days when Pope Gregory added Ash Wednesday to the fast, together with the remainder of that week.

The first formal recording of a lenten fast is in the fifth canon of the Council of Nicaea in 325.

SENATOR SAM ERVIN ★ SAYS ★

unless to state that in my opinion the evidence taken by us shows that there is no basis whatever for this charge.

According to the evidence, the promotion and honorable discharge of Major Peress resulted from a misinterpretation which the legal staff of the Department of Defense put upon an act of Congress the absence of any adequate regulation in the Department of Defense or the Department of the Army dealing with security risks and subversives and an incredible amount of bungling and poor administrative work in the Department of the Army. In other words, the promotion and honorable discharge of Major Peress resulted from mistakes made by men whose loyalty to America cannot be questioned.

IMPORTANT BILLS

In addition to my work on the Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, I attended all the sessions of the Senate, which witnessed some lively fights on the cotton acreage bill, the postal pay bill, and the Civil Service pay bill. The fight on the cotton acreage bill was between those Senators who believed that any increase in allotments should be utilized to give small cotton growers a minimum allotment of 4 acres each, and those Senators who believed that any increase in allotments should be apportioned among all cotton growers on a percentage basis regardless of the sizes of their present allotments. Under the plan advocated by the second group, North Carolina would have received an additional allotment of only 7,736 acres out of a total proposed additional allotment of 271,612 acres, whereas under the plan supported by the first group, North Carolina would have received 38,580.2 acres out of a total proposed additional allotment of 169,879.3 acres. As a result of the fight between these two groups, both plans were defeated. Senator

Scott and I supported the plan advocated by the first group of Senators because the additional proposed allotment of 38,580.2 acres to North Carolina would have brought the allotment of each of our 47,470 small cotton growers up to a minimum allotment of 4 acres. In my judgment, each cotton grower should be granted a legal right to an allotment of at least 4 acres.

GOOD SOIL CONSERVATION IS GOOD WATER CONSERVATION

Duke Power Company foresters have just finished their spring planting of 2,000,000 seedlings.

Our first obligation in this planting is to protect your Electric Service by preventing soil erosion. Erosion deposits silt. Silt cuts down efficiency in power production.

Since our land-forest program began in 1940, over 15,000 acres of poor, eroded, or abandoned farm land have been planted in loblolly pine seedlings. These millions of trees, some of them full grown now, have greatly increased the holding capacity of nature's great water reservoir — the Soil.

Saving vital water is a problem that concerns us all, and we can all help solve it. From land left bare, not only water but soil is quickly lost. On land properly managed, eight feet of soil can contain up to four feet of water, 50% of volume.*

Bill Benson Elected Head Of ASTC Student Body

Edges Out Room-Mate,
Bill Sofley, For Post

Davie County candidates played a leading part in the hot political campaign that was waged this past week on the campus of Appalachian State Teachers College, and one candidate came out winner for the college's highest office. Elected president of next year's student body was William Harding Benson, brother of J. O. Benson of Mocksville. One of his keenest rivals was Billy Ray Sofley, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sofley of Mocksville. They were best friends through high school, went to Catawba College one year together, transferred to Appalachian together, and have roomed together here. Then, they ran against each other for the student body presidency, along with six other candidates. Some people at Appalachian thought it too bad that both young men from Mocksville couldn't win! Both were extremely well qualified and popular with the student body and faculty.

Bill Benson, next year's president, is a 1951 graduate of the Mocksville high school. During his secondary school career he had been a varsity football player, and was co-captain his senior year. He was the county oratorical contest winner, president of his freshman class, president of the student body his senior year, and winner of the Danford Foundation leadership award and the citizenship award his senior year. At Appalachian he is a rising senior, majoring in elementary education. He has been president of one union in the Baptist Student Union, is this year's treasurer of the Student Council, has been assistant manager of Justice Hall, men's dormitory, and has just been elected by the senior class (because of his academic record) to be chief marshal at commencement. He is also a member of the Association of Childhood Education International. As a member of the North Carolina National Guard for six years, he presently holds the rank of sergeant in the Medical Company in Mocksville, and holds two citations which were presented to him as the outstanding soldier for two years.

Early Detection Can Cut Cancer Deaths

Doctors are saving lives from cancer but not fast enough. The American Cancer Society disclosed in surveying the past ten years of progress.

ACS statistics show that with one alarming exception cancer in the major body areas where that disease develops is no longer increasing substantially as a cause of death. The exception is lung cancer, which claimed about 24,000 lives last year, 20,000 among men.

Cancer occurring in the five other major areas is leveling off in the death statistics, and there have been sizable gains against the uterine type. As a result, the death rate from cancer among women between 25 and 75 has declined 10 per cent in the last decade.

The American Cancer Society expects that the attack against cancer of the breast will soon be reflected in dropping death rates. The key to this effort to save lives is the technique of breast self-examination which teaches women to examine their breasts once a month for lumps or irregularities which might mean the start of early, curable cancer. While local cancer of the breast can be cured in seven out of ten cases today fewer than four out of ten are saved.

New Methods Aid Detection
The progress against cancer of the uterus will be speeded when the Papanicolaou smear method of detection is more widely used. This is based on the discovery that even early cancers shed cells in body fluids. These cells can be picked up in the uterine smear from which a slide is prepared and examined under the microscope by specially trained technologists. Cancers so early that they show no other signs have been discovered in this way. Women over 35 are urged to have pelvic examinations twice a year.

The problem of lung cancer probably is the greatest challenge facing cancer control efforts. A relatively rare disease 40 years ago, cancer of the lung is now a major cause of death. Only about five per cent of all lung cancers are cured today but with early detection and prompt surgical treatment this figure could be changed to at least 50 per cent, most authorities believe.

X-Ray Tests Urged
Early lung cancer can be detected by x-ray. The "silent shadow" of cancer of the lung shows up when the disease is most curable.

Lions Broom Sale
Is A Big Success

The Mocksville Lions Club sold over 300 brooms last week in their door to door canvass.

C. C. Chapman, President of the Lions Club, was well pleased with the response of the public to this project and expressed the thanks of the club.

"We want you to know that the Lions Club broom sale was a tremendous success," said Mr. Chapman. "We want you to know that we realize that the citizens of Mocksville and the surrounding communities are responsible for that success. You will never know just how grateful we are for the friendly reception we experienced when we knocked at your door."

The broom sale was put on to help the blind help themselves. All brooms were made by the Guilford Industries for the Blind. Helping the blind is one of the many objectives of the Lions Clubs all over the world.

"When you see that Lions button on a coat lapel, you can be sure that it is worn by a man who is anxious to help you and the community in any way possible," said Mr. Chapman. "That is what the Lions Club is for—service to the community. When you helped us so much to help the blind last Thursday evening, we knew that we are welcome in the community."

The vaccination program will be under the supervision of doctors. The exact time and place will be announced later.

The vaccine is expected to be made available for local use the first part of next week. Local representatives of the health department will pick up the vaccine in Greensboro.

In the mass test last spring, only four-tenths of one per cent of the vaccinated children had reactions which were described as minor.

"LET GOD BE TRUE"

By PAUL SIKES

"... Holy and reverend is his name." (Psalms 111:9). The psalmist was talking about the Lord when he penned the preceding words. Since the Lord's name is holy and reverend why does man allow the name "Reverend" to be used in regards to himself? Some will reply that "Rev." or "Reverend" is just a title of respect.

There are many titles that one may use without using a word that is applied to the Lord only.

Matthew records Jesus' instructions in regards to the scribes and Pharisees who loved "..." the uppermost rooms at the feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi. But be not ye called Rabbi; for one is your Master, even Christ; and ye are all brethren.

And call no man your father upon the earth; for one is your Father, which is in heaven. Neither be ye called masters; for one is your Master, even Christ. But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant. And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted." (Matt. 23:6-12).

We have no record that Jesus nor any of his apostles or followers wore the title "Reverend." Jesus left us "..." an example, that ye should follow his steps." (1 Peter 2:21).

A preacher can be a pastor but all preachers are not pastors. The

WORK ABOUT

Senator Ervin Says:

has worked to see if justice is being done. The plan is to conclude the matter very soon and to make a report to the full committee.

DEFENSE DEBATE

The American Forum of the Air has invited me to appear of its nationally televised and broadcast program for April 10. Representative Dewey Short and I will discuss the national defense program.

Many school groups have started visiting Washington. Their visits, coinciding with the arrival of Spring, have brightened legislative offices and corridors around the Capitol.

The cold weather destroyed about one-third of the fabulous cherry blossoms around the Tidal Basin, but the Festival was a success. North Carolina was beautifully represented by Miss Louise Graham during the pageant.

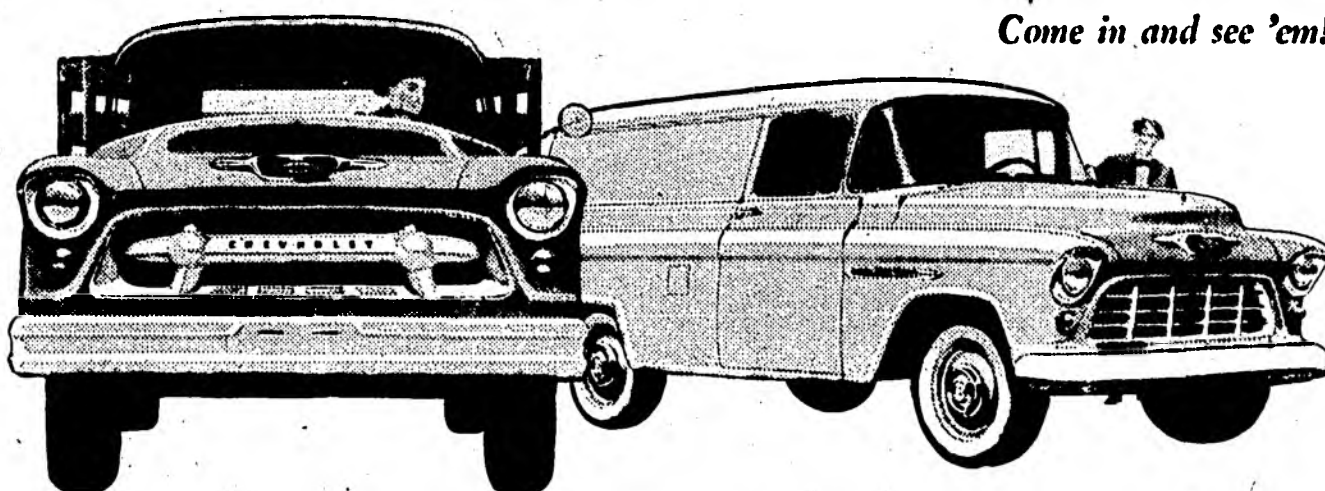

term "Pastor" has come to be accepted as a title applied to preachers in general. If one is a pastor then it is all right to call him what he is, but many times men wear the term "pastor" as a title when he has not been appointed, ordained, or qualified as pastor in God's sight. In the New Testament the terms: "elders"; "presbyters"; "shepherds"; "pastors"; "overseers"; and "bishops" all referred to the same work or function. The qualifications for this work are set forth in 1 Timothy 3:1-7 and in Titus 1:6-9. A man must have these qualifications before he can be appointed or ordained to do the work of a pastor. Certainly a man could not be a pastor who does not have "faithful children." The other qualifications must be met also.

Let us reserve the name "reverend" for the name of the Lord. When one has met the scriptural qualifications of pastor and has been appointed or ordained then let him be called a pastor in name as well as deed. (Adv.)

Rubber elevator paddles reduce grain cracking. It's the only combine in its class with the walker type straw rack... a real grain saver. There are up to 26% fewer points to lubricate, and the Ford Combine is as much as 14 inches narrower than other 6-foot combines for easier passage through gates.

BEAUTY

AFTER THIRTY

By FRANK KINNEY
WINSTON-SALEM—After a woman reaches thirty she should beware of allowing her hair style to make her look older. She should consult her mirror with a more critical eye.

From thirty on the live color of ones hair begins to fade, the face starts its settling process, the neck becomes thicker and shorter and the tendency is to accept just any old hair style.

You can offset this fading of color by using a color rinse especially suited to your hair. You can dress your hair in a fashion that will give uplift to counteract the settling of your features. A shorter thicker neck needs tapered hair-shaping to make it appear longer and more graceful.

A Hairdesigners training is keyed to the needs of women over thirty. A fine Thermal Modulation Permanent, designed just for you can add allure to your features. For the finest in beauty work or for free advice on your needs visit The Hairdesigners Beauty Salon, 416 N. Spruce St. in Winston-Salem. For an appointment drop in or phone 42411. (Adv)

It's Not News

Last week Curtis Price was re-elected Superintendent of the Davie County schools for the fifth consecutive two year term. This newspaper carried this announcement, but in one way of looking at it—this was not news.

If there was one person in the county that thought Curtis Price would not be re-elected superintendent, he would be a rare individual indeed. The re-election of Curtis Price as superintendent was considered to be routine, and was conducted as such.

Some people dislike being taken for granted—although in some cases, like the one above, it is a high compliment to the quiet efficiency with which important duties are discharged. Most of us take the motor in our automobile for granted. When we press the starter, we expect the motor to start and continue to run. If it doesn't, then we become concerned.

Curtis Price has meant much to the school system in Davie County during the past ten years. The quiet efficient way in which he has led the schools of Davie County forward has established him as an integral part of the county. He has earned the confidence of the people and the people of Davie know that they have the school system in good hands.

No, it is not news when Curtis Price is re-elected superintendent. The real news would be if he wasn't—for then we would have genuine concern on the part of the people. As it is, the desire to have Curtis Price remain as head of our schools follows as night is by day. For that, we congratulate the people.

A Qualified Judge

Since the need for a Recorder's Court in Davie County has been recognized and spelled out by the Grand Jury, the next question is will it be put into operation?

One of the first concerns for a proposed court of this type is whom will be the judge? The law requires that the judge be a person with a license to practice law.

If the county commissioners are considering the establishment of a recorder's court for Davie County, this newspaper would like to nominate A. T. Grant for the post as judge.

Mr. Grant has a long and distinguished career as a lawyer in the county and state. He is the senior (active) member of the Davie County Bar Association. He is qualified for the position both by legal training and his service to the county.

The matter of establishing a recorder's court in the county certainly is deserving of immediate and serious consideration. At the present time it seems to be one of the county's greatest needs.

Operation Minutemen

Governor Luther Hodges of North Carolina, as Commander of the North Carolina National Guard, has issued instructions for all units of the National Guard to participate in "Operation Minutemen," in cooperation with the Department of Defense. The local unit of the National Guard will be among those participating.

"Operation Minutemen" will be a test mobilization of Army, Air National Guard Units and will be held around the middle of April as means of fully acquainting the American public with the capabilities and mission of the Army and Air National Guard.

The National Guard has been given the important mission of being ready and capable on short notice to alert and mobilize its men to meet an emergency.

This is the Law

By ROBERT E. LEE
(For the N. C. Bar Association)
FARM CROPS

Alexander by will gives and devises a farm to Biggs for the term of his natural life and upon his death to Cherry. Biggs lives on the farm a number of years and then dies. At the time of his death there is on the farm an unharvested crop of corn, tobacco, cotton and vegetables. Who is entitled to the unharvested crop?

Biggs had a life estate in the farm. Upon his death, the members of his family must move. Cherry, as the remainderman, now becomes the owner of the farm and is entitled to its possession.

The executor or administrator of the estate of Biggs may, however, enter upon the farm for the purpose of cultivating, harvesting and removing it. He does not have a right to the full possession of the farm, but merely to a right of ingress and egress for the purpose mentioned in relation to the annual crops planted as of the time of the death of Biggs. If interfered with in the reasonable exercise of this right by Cherry, or if the crop is injured by Cherry, he has a cause of action for such injury.

The executor or administrator of the estate of Biggs may exercise this right of his through an agent.

This rule of law was created several centuries ago in relation to tenancies of an uncertain duration as an encouragement to agriculture and to assure to a tenant a return for his labor. It applies to a tenancy at will, which is a tenancy for no fixed time and can be determined by the will or desire of either party.

A person with a tenancy of an uncertain duration is not entitled to the right of ingress and egress for the purpose of cultivating and harvesting a planted crop if he has terminated the tenancy by his own conduct. For example, the executor or administrator of the estate of Biggs would have no rights to the unharvested crops if Biggs has committed suicide.

Hobson leases to Johnson a farm for a period of one year. Johnson plants a crop of winter grain which will not be ready for harvesting until after the expiration of the one year period. Does Johnson have a right to harvest the crop?

No. This is a tenancy for a fixed period of time, and not a tenancy for an uncertain duration. It is the tenant's own folly to sow when he knows that the term of his lease will expire before he can reap.

Morris own a life estate in a farm. Upon the death of Morris, the farm becomes the property of Rogers. On January 1, 1953, Morris leased the farm to Teeter for a period of five years at an annual rental of $1200. Morris died on April 1, 1955. What are the rights of Teeter?

There is a North Carolina statute controlling the rights of the parties in this situation. Teeter may continue in full possession of the farm until the end of 1955. He and his family may continue to reside in the house on the farm until December 31, 1955, when they must vacate.

Teeter pays to Rogers nine hundred dollars in rent, which is a proportionate part of the total annual rent elapsing in between April 1, 1955, and December 31, 1955. Teeter is entitled to recovery from Rogers a reasonable compensation for the seed and tillage of any crop not gathered as of December 31, 1955.

Farmers received about 30 billion dollars for what they marketed in 1954. This was five per cent less than in 1953, according to figures released by the USDA Agricultural Marketing Service.

ON GUARD—A HERITAGE

In more than 2,200 communities in the United States, Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia, nearly 400,000 Army and Air National Guardsmen direct descendants of the Minutemen, are ready to help in the defense of America.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By BILL WHITLEY
ATTACKS. Within the past few weeks, Democrats have opened a barrage of attacks on the Republican Administration which may lead to big issues in next year's elections. Taxes, foreign policy and farm policies have been the main lines of attack.

NEW APPROACH. In the new volley of attacks that have been unleashed by the Democrats, there is a sharp departure from what has been a general hesitancy to include President Eisenhower in criticism of the Republican Administration. The Democratic leadership until now has avoided making direct attacks on Eisenhower for fear his popularity would cause a political backfire.

As a result of his tremendous popularity, attacks have been leveled at his advisors and cabinet officers instead of the President himself.

SPOT. Recent developments in foreign affairs, however, have made it necessary for the President to be criticized directly. This is true because of the fact the President himself formulates and carries out the foreign policy of the Republican Administration. When it comes to this phase of the Administration, none of his subordinates can take the load off the President.

FORMOSA. The heated controversy around the explosive Formosa issue has opened a flood of criticism of Eisenhower for his indecisiveness, uncertainty and shifting of position.

RESULT. So far, the attacks on Eisenhower and his Formosan policy have been damaging to the Republican Party. The Democrats' deep concern over Formosa and peace have shaken them into realizing that the President's views are not sacred. If the criticism sticks, then the President will be open to a whole new avalanche of criticism in the field of domestic affairs. The trigger is primed to turn the guns in the face of the President. The ground-work for such strategy has been laid in the bitter criticism of cabinet officers and others for present tax and farm policies. It would be a simple matter to turn sour public opinion in these matters directly toward Eisenhower.

BACKFIRE? The barrier that the President must hurdle is to keep the United States out of war over Formosa, and at the same time, keep the islands from falling into the hands of the Communists. If this can be done, then the President's popularity would soar to even new heights and all future Democratic criticism would probably fall flat.

TEXT: "Do nothing which offends your own soul."—Whitman.

A man and his niece stood watching the young people dance about them.

"I'll bet you never saw any dancing like that back when you were young," declared the school girl.

"I did once," replied her uncle, "but the place was raided."

The older generation always appears unnecessarily severe on the younger folks. We know that manners and customs change from generation to generation. Sometimes, faced with youthful scorn at our old-fashioned ways, we relax standards in the mistaken belief that we are being broad-minded in a changing world.

Human nature does not change. It is the same in every generation. The garments its wears, its manner of speaking and acting may differ, yet its fundamental urges are the same. Therefore today's youth should meet the same standards which have proved proper and safe through all generations. Regardless of the scornful look, it well to remember Ellen Glasgow's advice that, "All change is not progress; and all movement is not forward." Let us "Do nothing which offends your own soul."

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS

WASHINGTON—The extremes of weather conditions have caused a major problem with respect to agriculture in North Carolina and the Southeast.

WEATHER DAMAGE
Following the severe damage to early crops caused by the recent freeze, the Farmers Home Administration declared 87 of North Carolina's 100 counties eligible for farmers to make application for emergency loans.

In the Senate last week I was joined by Senator Scott in the introduction of a bill to authorize an appropriation of $5,000,000 to repair damage to the beach front along North Carolina's coast caused by Hurricane Hazel. I am greatly interested in seeing this bill enacted. It provides that funds so appropriated shall be expended for repairs by the Chief of Engineers of the Army, under the direction of the Secretary of the Army, and for grants by the Secretary to local authorities to assist in financing repairs made under their direction.

BURLEY TOBACCO

The burley tobacco bill passed the Senate last week. The Senators from Tennessee and West Virginia joined with North Carolina's Senators in trying to prevent a further reduction in the small burley tobacco grower's acreage. One amendment which I offered would have prevented an allotment out to growers of less than seven-tenths of an acre. It failed to pass. I supported the burley tobacco bill on final passage because acreage allotments seem to be absolutely necessary in order to avoid serious trouble in the program. Burley tobacco is grown in the mountain counties of western North Carolina.

ATOMIC TESTS

In my report of next week I hope to discuss my experience as an observer of an atomic bomb explosion. Last Friday I left for the Nevada Atomic Test Ground near Las Vegas to witness one of the current atomic tests.

SUBCOMMITTEE

As the chairman of a subcommittee of the Senate Armed Services Committee it has been my duty to study the Status of Forces Treaty or Agreement. Foreign governments have acquired criminal jurisdiction over American forces stationed abroad through executive agreements and through the NATO Status of Forces Treaty. We have been making inquiry into the matter. Our government has exclusive jurisdiction over persons subject to its military law and primary jurisdiction over a member of a force or civilian component in NATO countries. We are reviewing the way the treaty

KIDD BREWER'S Raleigh Roundup

A GOVERNOR'S DAY . . . Governor Luther Hodges has been applying the business approach to his job as governor, and shows no ill effects from the many duties and responsibilities of the office so far.

When he took office he reduced the time allotted for usual office appointments for visitors to see him from 30 minutes to 15 minutes, and with the cooperation of the visitor he reduces this in most cases to ten minutes. Part of this is accomplished by permitting his visitor to do most of the talking and limiting his part of the visit to asking and answering questions.

Another method of saving time is by doing his dictating by machine at the Mansion, beginning at 7:30 each morning. When he arrives at the Capitol he has answered his correspondence and written his many statements and speeches. He never dictates letters in the office. He also never accepts calls or callers at the office. Personal business is limited to early morning, late evening, or at lunch, and there is very little of this because he has it organized to require a minimum of time.

WAKE ENTERPRISES, INC.

Governor Hodges is president of the Wake Enterprises, Inc., which will open a Howard Johnson Restaurant to the public on U. S. Highway No. 1 North, a mile and a half from the Raleigh City limits on the 20th of this month. So, as mentioned here some time ago, when some say they were in Raleigh and ate with the Governor it will not necessarily mean they ate at the mansion. The difference will mean the difference between a profit and a loss. Other partners and officers in the Raleigh Restaurant are H. F. Fitchett, of Danville, vice president, and S. B. Jones, a contractor of Raleigh, as secretary-treasurer.

MOTOR COURT . . . Sixty days from now another corporation of the Raleigh Enterprises, Inc., consisting of the following officers will open a Howard Johnson Motor Court next door to the restaurant. Kidd Brewer, President; W. E. Wallen of West Palm Beach, vice president and S. B. Jones, secretary-treasurer. So when someone says they spent the night in Raleigh with me, it will not necessarily mean they had to sleep in a barn.

FISHER . . . There have been a lot of rumors circulating out of Raleigh about my friend and neighbor Captain L. R. Fisher, former Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Bureau, former Head of the Malt Beverage Division of the ABC Board, former Safety Director of the North Carolina Motor Vehicles Bureau, former Commander of the Western Division of the State Highway Patrol.

Most of the rumors have been without the slightest truth attached. One thing which has not been a rumor until lately, but which is very much a fact is that he will, probably by the time this appears in print, have become former Director of Safety for the Highway Department by resigning, to take over the Schlitz Beer Franchise for Raleigh and surrounding area. As most people know a Schlitz Beer Franchise is about as profitable as a Coca-Cola Franchise, and about as difficult to come by. Some idea of the value of such a thing can be gotten from the fact that Fisher has already been offered fifty thousand dollars for franchise. Financially it will mean that Captain Fisher, who in the past has been in constant fear of losing this state job or that state job, due to political activity, will in the future be free to really operate out in the open in behalf of his political friends, and there is not a person in the State who has more loyal political friends than L. R. Fisher.

By the time the next Democratic Primary rolls around Fisher will have his new business organized, and then it will be a good bet that whoever has his support for Governor will feel the benefit.

ANOTHER PARADE . . . The annual Farmers' Day Parade at Farmville will be held this year on the 20th of the month. This is one of the largest events of its kind in these parts.

Charles Edwards, the able secretary of the Farmville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association, has invited yours truly to bring along the hot rod and chauffeur.

four some of the beauty queens in the parade. Wouldn't miss it for the World. I love parades.

CLEANUP . . . Frank Crane, your handsome and efficient Commissioner of Labor, came out to Belle Acres several weeks ago and did his annual spring cleaning of the blue bird boxes—and put up three or four more which he makes himself. We now have several dozen blue bird boxes on our hill, thanks to Frank, and a nest is again being built in each one. Frank, the Brewers and the blue birds thank you.

RECOVERING . . . My friend and former associate coach at Appalachian, Flucie Stewart is recovering from an operation at his home in Greenville, South Carolina. For a while there it looked as though Flucie was in real danger, but as of Flucie used to say "It was a tight fight, with a short stick, but I won."

FUNERAL . . . I attended the funeral of Bob Madry, the long time genial and respected Director of Publicity at the University of North Carolina. We have known Bob since we used to attend high school athletic contests at Chapel Hill back in the twenties. Bob was tops in his profession and in the hearts of his friends. Conspicuous at Bob's funeral was a beautiful wreath of lilies from the Duke University Athletic Association, such esteem as Bob Madry was held by everyone.

NEW PAINT . . . They have now developed a paint which comes in the form of a gelatine, like Jello. You can reach in the bucket, pick up a wad, throw it against the wall and go over with your brush and smooth it out. This leaves no lumps, and when painting the ceiling there is no danger of having the paint drip in your eye like it does everytime I have tried the job.

Report To The People

By PETER W. HAIRSTON
Davie County Representative

This has been another busy week, especially since last Wednesday was mixed up by the fact that nothing got done on account of the trip which was mainly called off to have the Legislature see the 82nd Airborne Division. I was particularly interested because the outfit I was in had fought next to this Division in Belgium during the Battle of the Bulge; so I went on down in spite of the rain.

The Appropriations subcommittee voted to make a small cut in the budget of school supervisors; but I do not believe that this should hurt the program. However, I am very much concerned about the cut in the school health program.

A bill affecting Davie County was introduced this week. It simply gives the County Commissioners authority to pay a small monthly sum toward a secretary for the solicitor. While I did not introduce the bill, I cannot in good conscience oppose it, because without this Davie County is simply asking the solicitor to carry the burden of our not having a Recorder's Court.

The bill permitting epileptics to marry if their attacks are controlled passed this week. It will not affect many people, but it does remedy what has been a very unpleasant situation with respect to those few.

Some time ago, Judge Nat Crews made a speech at the PTA at Shady Grove in which he told about the excellent work that is being done by the foster home program for certain children. Ever since then, I have been much interested in this matter and was very pleased to be asked last night to appear on a panel on the subject with Dr. Ellen Winston, the Commissioner of Welfare who administers the program, Senator Cameron Weeks, a member of the American Legion Auxiliary, and Dr. Edsall. This was the second time I had been asked to appear on the time this session is over with, I won't be asked again where Davie County is located.

Prices for oats, barley and sorghum grain probably will average below the 1954 levels this summer. Large acreages are in prospect for these crops and supports have been reduced.

Aid In Paying Staff Of Solicitor Proposed

Two legislators sent up a bill last week in the North Carolina General Assembly that could relieve 17th District Solicitor J. Allie Hayes of North Wilkesboro from paying for his secretary and office space.

The bill, offered by Wilkes Rep. T. E. Story and Yadkin Rep. Smith Williams, would authorize the county commissioners of the five counties in Solicitor Hayes' district to share the cost of paying for his secretary.

It would authorize the board of commissioners of the county in which the solicitor resides to either furnish him office space or pay $20 a month to be applied to rental of his office.

Counties in the district are Mitchell, Wilkes, Yadkin, Davie and Avery.

The bill is strictly permissive, not mandatory. County commissioners from several counties have endorsed it but there may be others who might not want to contribute. It was learned.

Under the bill each of the five counties would be authorized to pay $30 a month for the secretary's salary.

At the present, Solicitor Hayes pays for a secretary out of his own salary and also pays his own office rent.

Rep. Williams said the plan has been endorsed by the Yadkin commissioners and by the bar association in this county.

MORE ABOUT Cancer Detection

along with a thorough physical examination. Men over 45 should have two x-rays a year because the heaviest incidence of lung cancer begins to occur at this age.

If this admonition is widely followed, lung cancer deaths can be expected to drop, and this would be reflected in a reduced over-all cancer death rate.

ACS officials assert that the declining cancer death rate among women can be traced to the vigorous public education program which started in 1936 and received great impetus with the reorganization of the American Cancer Society in 1943. With extra emphasis on the weapons now available greater progress is anticipated for the future.

In the Mocksville area the Mocksville Lions Club will make a house to house canvass beginning on Monday, April 25. Literature will be distributed to help people understand the danger signs in cancer and contributions will be received to help the American Cancer Society in its drive for education, research and service.

In many areas of the county it will not be possible to contact people personally. Those people are urged to mail their contributions to "CANCER," care of your post office, or to Rev. W. Q. Grigs, Mocksville, who is Davie County Chairman.

Please come back. Put out that fire! Campfires left to burn themselves out were one of the main causes of fires that blackened over 20,000,000 acres of your country last year.

This is the season of high winds — and forest fires. Fires that will cost the lives of human beings, helpless bears, deer and other animals, and destroy timber that would build thousands of homes.

This year let's help. Be sure every spark in your match, cigarette, or campfire is out, dead out.

SAVING TREES SAVES WATER!

The Department of Agriculture declares that where proper forest management is used, eight feet of soil can contain up to four feet of water, 50% of total volume! At the same time it has reduced loss from fire 95% below the loss fifteen years ago.

Seed or Grain Not To Be Harvested Under Practice 18 and 19 Carried Out Under the 1954 ACP. Mr. O. E. Driver, Chairman of the Davie County ASC Committee, reminds farmers that Practice 18, "Establishment of a vegetative cover in the fall of 1954 to protect cropland which will be shifted from crop production in 1955," outlines that cost-shares paid under this practice shall be refunded if the land is not devoted throughout the 1955 crop year to green manure and cover crops from which no hay or seed is harvested.

PRACTICE 19, "Establishment of vegetative cover in the fall of 1954 for winter protection from erosion," outlines that pasturing consistent with good management may be permitted, but none of the growth shall be harvested for seed. The farmer will be required to refund cost-shares paid him if seed or grain is harvested.

Farmers who received payment for carrying out these practices last fall should keep this in mind.

CHANGES IN THE LAW AFFECTING TOBACCO GROWERS

The Davie County ASC Office has just received information on recent changes in the law affecting tobacco growers in 1955, according to O. E. Driver, chairman of the Davie County ASC Committee.

Changes in The Law Public Law 21, 84th Congress, approved March 31, 1955, made a number of changes in the law with respect to tobacco. The new provisions that affect flue-cured tobacco are as follows:

1. The penalty on excess tobacco marketed is increased from 50 to 75 per cent of the average market price for flue-cured tobacco for the preceding marketing year. Based on present estimates of the 1954 market price, the penalty on excess flue-cured tobacco for 1955 will be about 39 cents per pound.

MHS News

By ED ROWLAND

Mocksville rolled to its fifth straight victory on the baseball diamond last Thursday when Davis-Townsend fell by the wayside, 14-2. Earlier in the week the Wildcats blasted Griffith, 10-1.

Against Griffith Billy Sell went the distance for Mocksville, allowed only two hits, and gave up the lone run in the first frame. Mocksville, on the other hand, pounded out nine hits, and with the help of eight Griffith errors, tallied ten times.

Thursday at Mocksville Kenny Howell hurled against Davis-Townsend, and was touched for only three hits. He did not allow the first until the sixth inning. Mocksville got the lead early, and coasted most of the way. Darwin Allen slugged out a double and a triple in three at-bats to take slugging honors. Lester Allen and Z. N. Anderson had perfect days at the plate, the former hitting two for two, and the latter getting three for three.

On the 15th Mocksville travels to Davis-Townsend, on the 19th they go to Cooleemee for a county contest, and on April 22nd Griffith comes here.

The juniors have selected Mr. Leonard Crotts, an eighth grade teacher and director of the Talent Show staged last fall, as their play director. Promptly he and class representatives went into a huddle and chose "Peck's Bad Boy" for the production. It will be given sometime in May.

Tid-Bits

GORDON TOMLINSON

One day last week the telephone rang at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hastings Carter of Mocksville. Mrs. Carter answered the phone and heard her little granddaughter, Patricia Ann McClamrock, age 3, say:

"Grandmother, come over here quick. My mother is sick."

Mrs. Carter questioned her little grand-daughter further and heard her say:

"Mother is lying on the floor in the living room. I can't get her to move or talk to me!"

Needless to say, upon hearing this Mr. and Mrs. Carter were immediately on the way to the home of their daughter, Mrs. Bill McClamrock, who lives on Avon Street.

However, in the meantime, a thoughtful telephone operator, realizing something was wrong, called Mrs. W. O. McClamrock who lived next door. Mrs. McClamrock rushed over there and cents per pound.

2. Any acreage of tobacco harvested in excess of the farm acreage allotment for the year 1955 or any subsequent crop shall not be taken into account in establishing state and farm acreage allotments.

3. The farm acreage allotment or tobacco shall be reduced if any producer on the farm files or aids in the filing of any false report with respect to the acreage of tobacco grown on the farm.

Acreage To Be Measured In Hundredths

The procedure for determining acreage and performance has been revised to provide that the total farm acreage of tobacco shall be recorded in acres and hundredths of acres. There shall be no tolerance above the allotment and any excess, computed in hundredths, must be disposed of to come within the allotment.

Short Time Allowed For Getting Rid Of Excess Tobacco

Farmers who are overplanted in tobacco may either request re-measurement or may dispose of the excess provided a request for re-measurement or an intention to dispose of the excess is filed in the ASC office within five days from the date of the notice of the measured acreage. At the same time the request is made the farmer must pay the estimated cost. The charge for re-measurement will be 70 cents per acre to be remeasured or $ 6.00 per farm, whichever is greater. The charge for checking disposition of excess acreage will be $1.00 per tenth of an acre to be disposed of with a minimum of $3.00 per farm. No credit for disposition of excess tobacco may be given if any of the tobacco on the acreage to be disposed of has been harvested and any disposition of excess acreage must be made in the presence of a representative of the County ASC Committee.

Farmers should thoroughly understand the changes in the law and administrative regulations affecting their 1955 tobacco acreage and future allotments.

Further information on any of the above items may be obtained at the County ASC office.

Death benefits to families of deceased veterans also are exempt from taxation. These include compensation, pension and all GI insurance payments.

Veterans Administration is referring all applications from veterans for VA direct home loans to Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program (VHMC) regional committees. VA announced.

VA said it is initiating this procedure to give World War II and post-Korea veterans living in remote areas and small communities the advantage of the GI loan placement facilities of the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program.

VA stressed it will continue to make direct home and farmhouse loans, within the funds available, in those cases where the VHMC committees have been successful in their attempts to place loans with a private lender.

Loans secured through private lenders will be VA-guaranteed loans bearing the same interest as VA direct loans—4½ per cent per annum.

The demand for VA direct loans has resulted in waiting lists of veterans in most of the areas which are eligible for VA direct loans.

Under the new procedure, the more than 20,000 veterans on the waiting lists will be given an opportunity to file direct loan applications immediately, as well as those veterans who request direct loans in the future.

VA said the new procedures are expected to improve the chances of veterans in the smaller communities and rural areas to obtain mortgage financing at 4½ per cent interest without long waiting periods.

With the beginning of this new referral procedure, VA will send direct home loan applications to the more than 20,000 veterans on the waiting lists.

If a regional committee is unable to place a particular application with a private lender, VA will process the application for a direct loan as soon as sufficient direct loan funds are available.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Veterans figuring their Federal income taxes need not count any payments they have received for Veterans Administration benefits, since these payments are tax-free, the VA and the Bureau of Internal Revenue said.

Dividends which veterans receive on their GI insurance policies also are exempt from taxation and need not be reported as income.

FAITH ALONE can guide man's footsteps into the future

In these days of swift change and catastrophic events the eyes of thoughtful men turn from the present to the unknown future. What does it hold for them, their families, their friends and their world?

Behind the dark veil that separates today from tomorrow may lie strange, new forces, treacherous tides, innumerable hidden dangers and new foes of human life and happiness.

These are the great uncertainties of life. The man of today, like his primitive ancestor, peers anxiously, even fearfully, into the future and tries to solve its mysteries, but the effort is futile. His vision is unable to pierce the darkness that shrouds tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow.

Yet man has risen from primitive degradation, through all the difficulties and dangers of the reviving years, to his present civilized estate. He has fought the beasts of the forests, the diseases of the jungle, the pangs of hunger and the sting of cold—and has survived.

He has survived and become preeminent in the world because he possessed faith—faith in himself and his race, and faith in a Supreme Being who drew the pattern of the universe and made the laws that govern human destinies.

This is the golden thread that runs through human history. It is the key to all the uncertainties and mysteries. It is the light that has guided man's footsteps into his eternal future.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should become a member regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Man Hurt In Davie When Car Overtakes

A Winston-Salem man was seriously injured Sunday when his car overturned on a dirt road near Farmington in Davie County.

William Clifton Eaton, 39, Negro, of Winston-Salem, suffered a back injury and severe scalp lacerations. He was admitted to Kate Bittling Reynolds Memorial Hospital, where he was taken by ambulance.

The accident occurred at 3:10 p.m. on Wyo Road off of Highway 301 in the Farmington community.

State Highway Patrolman T. J. Biddett of Mocksville said Eaton's car, traveling at a high rate of speed, went out of control on a sharp curve. The auto struck a bank, careened about 25 yards and overturned once in the center of the road.

The car landed on its wheels, the patrolman said, but appeared to be damaged beyond repair.

Bill To Save State $6000 Introduced

Davie Representative Peter W. Hairston introduced a bill in the House of Representatives Monday night designed to save the State $6,000. The identical bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator John F. Shuford of Rowan County.

The bills repeal the law which requires copies of newly-passed statutes to be sent to all justices of peace following each session of the General Assembly.

Rep. Hairston said that this would result in the printing of 1,500 less volumes of the session laws, with a saving to the state of $6,000.

Stocks And Bonds Are Discussed For Rotary

Stock and bond investments were discussed for members of the Mocksville Rotary Club, Tuesday, by a representative of the firm, Merrill Lynch, Penner and Beane.

W. L. Thorpe compared the stock market conditions of today with those of 1929.

"Today we have more investing and less speculating," said Mr. Thorpe. "And even more important is the difference of approach and attitude of the buyer."

Mr. Thorpe said that conditions of today were so unlike those of 1929 or any other time as to offer no historical precedent. He described the safeguards that existed today which he said, in his opinion, make a market crash of such proportions as the one in 1929, unlikely.

Mr. Thorpe described the tremendous progress made by America during the past 20 years and told how today the stock market was catering to the small investor. He termed the investing in industrial stock as an "Investment in America."

Ted Junker had charge of the program and introduced Mr. Thorpe. President O. H. C. Shutt presided. Miss June Greene served as pianist.

Special guests included: Rev. W. Q. Griggs, Rev. Jack Paige, E. P. Foster, Frank Ceruzzi, Bill Clement of Raleigh and Henry Myers of Greensboro.

Local Lions To Canvass For Cancer

On Monday evening members of the Mocksville Lions Club will call from house to house in the Mocksville area to distribute information concerning cancer and to receive a financial contribution toward the goal of $738.

W. Q. Griggs, chairman of the 1955 cancer drive, requested that some member of the family stay at home on this date until a representative has called so that the literature may be received and the offering taken.

Members of the Lions Club are requested to meet at the Methodist Parsonage on Church Street at 6 p.m., Monday, or as soon after as possible for assignment.

"It was a thrill to hear that research had finally come up with a vaccine that will practically eliminate the dreaded disease of polio," said Mr. Griggs. "In cancer, research is working toward the same goal. So far the only approved means of curing cancer are x-ray, radium and surgery. However, in the treatment of certain types of cancer, some hormones, chemo-therapy and certain radioactive isotopes have proved successful."

"Research is seeking constantly to find the answer to cancer, and we may be confident that eventually the answer will come. In the meantime we must not relax in our efforts to provide funds for this research, to educate our people to take advantage of services now being rendered in detection and cure of cancer, and finally to provide the best service possible for those who have already come down with cancer."

Cut the fat from a 2 or 2 1/2 inch Kingman's or any good reliable steak. Cover a metal platter with a film of olive oil and crush in the oil 2 or 3 petals of garlic. After the oil has become thoroughly saturated with the garlic, remove the crushed garlic and dip both sides of the steak in the oil, then generously salt and pepper both sides of the steak.

The bed of charcoal should be glowing red and the grill from 3 to 4 inches over the bed of coals. Put the steak on the grill and thoroughly sear one side, turn over; grill the steak on each side until it is cooked to the desired doneness. Remove the steak from the grill. Place the metal platter with its film of oil on the grill and when the platter is very hot put the steak on the platter and spread on the steak 1/4 lb of butter. When the butter has thoroughly melted, baste the steak thoroughly and then add scant tablespoon of Worcestershire sauce and baste once more just before serving. Squeeze over the steak the juice of 1/2 lemon. Cut on metal platter and serve.

Modern 12-volt electrical system!

The only car in the low-price field with the extra energy of 12 volts . . . twice the electrical punch!

Faster, stronger cranking for cold-weather starts and a "fatter" spark for faultless high-speed operation.

Highest standard compression ratio in its field! Chevrolet's compression ratio is 8 to 1, to wring every possible ounce of power and extra miles out of every gallon of gas.

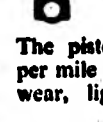

Requires only four quarts of oil! Chevrolet's V8 engines are so efficient they need only four quarts of oil . . . so you save on every change!

Highest horsepower per pound! These great V8's weigh far less than any similar engine in America, top the low-cost field in power per pound!

Shortest piston stroke in the industry! Three-inch stroke reduces cylinder-wall friction, generates less heat, permits more compact design.

The pistons do far less traveling per mile . . . that means less engine wear, lighter loads on bearings.

It's the valve-in-head V8 as only the valve-in-head leader can build it!

Five Are Nominated For Junior Citizenship Award

Five high school students of Davie County have been nominated for the Junior Citizenship Award. This award, sponsored by the Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be presented to the boy or girl at the graduation exercises at his or her school.

The selection will be made by a committee on the basis of the information, recommendations, and thesis submitted by each of the nominees.

A brief review of each of the nominees is as follows:

HENRY SHUTT

Henry Shutt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shutt of Mocksville. He is in the eleventh grade at the Mocksville school.

At school, Henry has been an honor student, maintaining a straight "A" average. In addition, he has been very active in athletics, lettering for three straight years in basketball and baseball. He received the Rotary "Sportsmanship" award for basketball in 1955.

During his freshman year, Henry was a member of the student council and helped draw up the constitution. He is a member of the glee club, serving as president his junior year. He was president of his home room during his sophomore year. He is Co-Chief Marshal this year, and is president-elect of the Beta Club. He has served as sports writer for the "Hi-Life" (the school paper) for three years.

Henry is a member of the First Methodist Church, sings in the choir, and serves as an usher. He is chairman of the recreation commission of the Methodist Youth Fellowship and served as vice-president for two years. He served as a member of the commission on membership and evangelism for two years.

In scouting, he holds the rank of Life Scout. He has received the coveted "God and Country Award" and the "Order of the Arrow." He has served on the staff at Camp Uwharrie for four years and as a scribe. He has held all the offices in scouting from patrol leader to Junior Assistant Scoutmaster.

For his thesis, Henry discusses value of education, focusing on the new consolidated school.

YVONNE HUTCHINS

Yvonne Hutchins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hutchins of Mocksville, Route 5. She is in the 11th grade at the Mocksville School.

At school, she is a member of the Beta Club and has been a member of the glee club for three years. She is a school bus driver and has bought a set of sterling silver from money earned in this position.

She has been a member of the 4-H Club for eight years and has won nine blue ribbons, and three red ribbons in calf shows. During her eight years of 4-H work she has won approximately $110 cash. She received two awards from the Holstein-Friesian Association for having a blue ribbon calf in calf shows. She represented Mocksville at the 4-H Club Week in Raleigh, serving as an usher.

Yvonne is a member of the Union Chapel Home Demonstration Club, serving as publicity chairman. She has also been an active member of the Future Homemakers Club, for the past three years, holding several offices and committee posts.

She has been a member of the Methodist Youth Fellowship for five years, holding several offices. She is secretary and publicity chairman of the "Ladies Aid Society."

She started taking piano lessons in the ninth grade, paying for her own lessons with money received from her 4-H cow.

For her thesis, Yvonne wrote on the subject: "4-Her Looks For a Higher Horizon," in which she cites the value of 4-H work in building of character, home and community.

LYNDA CRAWFORD

Lynda Crawford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Crawford of Mocksville. She is in the 11th grade at the Mocksville High School, having a straight "A" average.

In school she has made an outstanding record, serving as marshal in the ninth grade at the Mocksville High School. She has been a member of the girls' chorus and mixed glee club for three years.

For the past five years she has been a 4-H Club member, holding many offices and receiving many honors.

She played on the basketball team in 1954-1955.

Lynda is a member of the Beta Club, and is one of the six marshals chosen from the 11th grade to marshal at the graduation exercises. She was chosen because she had one of the six highest grades.

For three years she has been an active member of the girls' auxiliary of her church holding all the top offices. She was an assistant teacher in the Junior department of the Vacation Bible School in 1953. She has also served as assistant to the leader of the "Sunbeams," and assistant teacher of the Intermediate Sunday School Class.

At the associational GA Rally at Wingate College, she was elected secretary of the Associational Young People.

She has taken music lessons for five years and been in 11 music recitals.

She has made dresses for relatives, and assisted neighbors with their work. She stays with her younger brothers whenever her

He is a member of the Mocksville Baptist Church where he serves as an usher. In 1953, he was elected president of his Sunday School class. At the present time he is working on the "God and Country Scout Award."

Phillip has long been active in the scouting movement. During the year 1953-54 he served as crew leader, and is currently a senior patrol leader. He represented Davie County at the National Boy Scout Jamboree in California in 1953. In 1953 he attained the Star Rank, and received the coveted "Order of the Arrow" in 1954.

In his thesis on the needs and problems of this community, Phillip discusses the problem of adequate recreational facilities.

Cool Spring Alumni Group To Hold Banquet

The first annual banquet of the Cool Spring Alumni Association will be held May 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the main auditorium of Cool Spring School. Some 1,200 invitations have been mailed to graduates and their husbands or wives. Well over 100 of these were sent to members of the Mitchell Academy which was converted to the public school at Cool Spring early in the century. Former teachers of the school and their husbands or wives are especially invited and due to the incompleteness of the mailing lists, the association committee would like to use this means to invite any teacher or graduate that has not received a notice of this event to contact the president, John H. Webb of Route 1, Statesville or Mrs. Edgar Sowers, 817 East Front Street, Statesville, secretary of the association.

Farm and Home News

—FROM THE COUNTY AND HOME AGENTS' OFFICE—

The Piedmont Proed Sire Heifer Sale will be conducted Aug. 18, 1955, at the Iredell County Fair Grounds. The sale will consist of grade and registered animals that are results of artificial breeding or to desirable proved bulls. These heifers should be bred to freshen between Aug. 1 and Nov. 1, 1955. No open heifers or cows beyond second calf will be accepted. Breeding dates must be furnished on all cattle. If bred artificially, the breeding receipt must be transferred to the buyer. Cattle within the county must be selected and the number turned in to the Sales Committee by May 31, 1955. Heifers brought very fancy prices on this sale last year. People with heifers of this type and desiring to sell on this sale, should get in touch with some of the agricultural workers of the county or Ray Phillips, Artificial Breeding Technician. The heifers sold on the sale from Davie County last year averaged $300 each. The county should have at least ten animals for this sale.

Feeder Calf Sale

The State Committee for the Feeder Calf Sales of North Carolina feel that the price will be better this year on steer cattle, especially so on heifer calves, due to people keeping some of the heifers for foundation stock and others buying heifers for foundation herds. They also feel that the number of calves in our Feeder Sales will be short this year. They have been in each county trying to secure enough feeder calves to supply demands that they already have. Davie County sold approximately 275 head in this sale last year and the quota has been set at 300 for this year. Dr. C. W. Young, Charlie Bahnsen and Leo Williams, County Agent, are on the Selection Committee for the cattle entering the sale from Davie County. Anyone interested in selling cattle on this sale should get in touch with one of the members of this Selection Committee. Rules and regulations of the sale will be mailed out in the near future.

NATURAL AS THE FOOD YOU EAT

CHILEAN NITRATE of SODA is the world's only NATURAL NITRATE FERTILIZER

NATURAL as the food your children eat, Chilean Nitrate is the only natural nitrate. Guaranteed 42 per cent plant food.

* Richest of plant foods, Chilean's many extra values make it one of the most efficient and economical nitrogen fertilizers.

* Chilean's nitrogen content is 100 per cent nitrate. Ideal for top-dressing and side-dressing. From flowing, spreads evenly and smoothly.

* Chilean needs only moisture from the air to dissolve — no waiting for rain — fast, effective action.

* Every ton of Chilean contains sodium equivalent to 650 pounds of commercial limestone — an acid-destroying agent. The more Chilean you use, the greater its acid-destroying value.

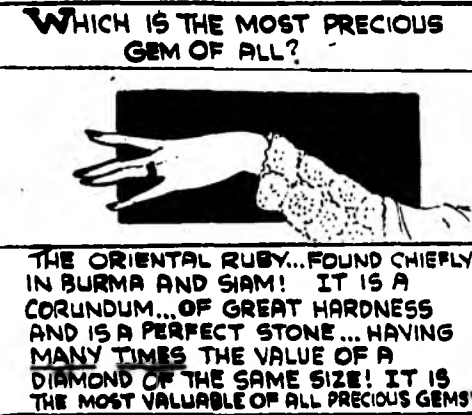

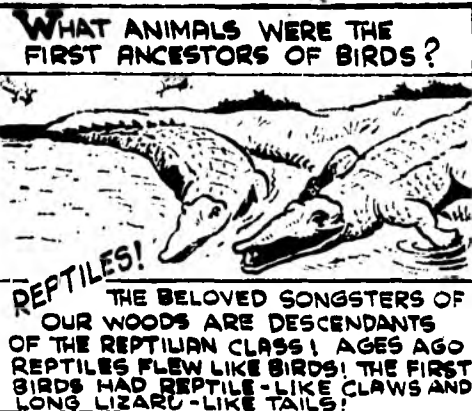

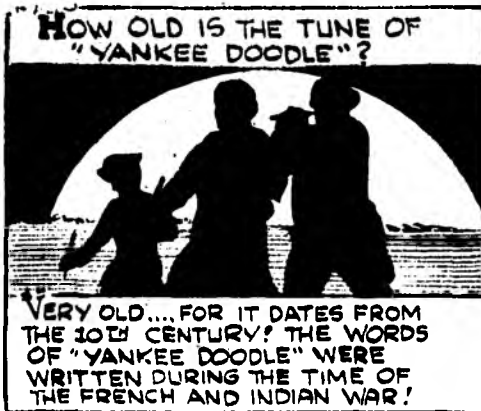

* Sodium supplements potash — when necessary, substitutes for it — reduces leaching losses of potash, calcium, magnesium — releases unavailable potash in the soil.

* Sodium increases availability of phosphate in the soil and improves efficiency of applied phosphate.

* Chilean is rich in small quantities of minor elements necessary for healthy vigorous growth — it's the only natural combination of 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements.

Tobacco farmers in this area were cautioned about buying plants from other belts to assure themselves of enough to transplant.

The farmers were urged to develop the plants they now had instead of considering buying elsewhere. It was pointed out that going to other belts was too far to go and too hard to know what you're getting.

"The more farmers we have buying plants from other farmers the more troubles we're likely to have later on this season," said Tab Williams, Winston Tobacco Market supervisor. "I have not seen any farmer who's really hurting for plants."

He said farmers in this section begin thinking about invading the eastern and border belts for plants because those farmers have already begun setting out. Most of the time there is an abundance of plants left in the beds which farmers in those belts would like to sell, he said.

"If our farmers will just bring their own plants along," he added, "they'll be all right."

The next worry for the farmers is the approach of blue mold, already reported in strength in the border belt and reported as far west as Raleigh.

Farmers were urged to begin treating their beds immediately.

MARRIAGE

Are "common-law marriages" recognized in North Carolina? No. Common-law marriages have never been recognized in North Carolina.

Most States until recent years recognized common-law marriages. At the present time they are permitted in 18 states. They are: Alabama, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Mississippi, Montana, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota and Texas.

Common - law marriages, in those jurisdictions where such are authorized, are just as binding as a ceremonial marriage. They can be terminated only by annulment or divorce.

What is a common-law marriage?

To constitute a common - law marriage there must be a present agreement between a man and woman, eligible to enter into such relationship, to take each other as husband and wife. All this is necessary is that the parties shall intend to marry, and their intention may be proved either by their words or by their conduct. No solemnization or other formality, apart from the agreement itself, is necessary. No witnesses are required.

The agreement being the essential element in these marriages, it may, like any other agreement, be proved by words or by conduct, and by the testimony of the parties themselves or by the testimony of third persons.

What are the requirements of a valid marriage in North Carolina?

Briefly stated, any man and woman entitled by law to be married may do so by appearing together before a minister or justice of the peace and voluntarily expressing their serious intent to be husband and wife, and having the minister or justice of the peace declare them man and wife. No witnesses are required.

What are the marriages prohibited by the law of North Carolina?

Interracial and bigamous marriages are absolutely void. A marriage between a white person and a Negro is an example of an interracial marriage that is void. If a man enters into a second marriage before his first marriage has been dissolved by divorce or death of his first wife, the second marriage is bigamous and void.

The following marriages are merely voidable—that is, they are valid until they have been declared void by the court in an annulment proceeding: (1) marriages between two persons nearer of kin than first cousins; (2) marriages where one of the parties is less than 16 years of age; (3) marriages when either party at the time is physically impotent; (4) marriages in which one of the parties is incapable of contracting for want of will and understanding; and (5) "a marriage contracted under a representation and belief that the female partner to the marriage is pregnant, followed by the separation of the parties within 45 days of the marriage which separation has been continuous for a period of one year shall be voidable. Provided, that no child has been born to the parties within 10 lunar months of the date of separation."

North Carolina forbids the marriage of double first cousins, but marriages between first cousins are valid.

May a couple be legally married without a marriage license? Yes. It has been held in North Carolina that a failure to procure a license will not invalidate a marriage otherwise valid.

The only effect of marrying a couple without a license is that the minister or justice of peace is subjected to a penalty of two hundred dollars. It is the marriage ceremony, and not the obtaining of the license prior to the marriage ceremony, that determines the validity of the marriage.

In most States marriage licenses

Have you seen "Basilger Jr.?" — "the only bottle fed chicken in Davie County?"

Such was on display at the Davie Feed and Seed Store this week. There was a little chicken, named in a big glass jar. There was a little opening cut so that the baby chick could stick its head out to get feed and water. This made the statement of being fed from a bottle or jug, true.

Many were questioning the senior Basilger about how he was going to get the chicken out of the jar after feeding it on his highly touted feed. Others were wondering if the growth of the chicken would be shaped by the jar—pointing out that many good sermons had been preached on that particular subject, as far as humans were concerned.

Chickens seemed to be making the news in Davie County this week. On Sunday morning 32 chickens were hatched on the farm of Mrs. Harold Franks, Rt. 3, Mocksville. One of these chickens was deformed.

This one little chick was hatched out with no legs. It was completely normal otherwise. Mrs. Franks said that she examined the chick closely and there was no place on the body for legs.

Mrs. Franks says she is going to give this chick special treatment and try to raise it.

Paul Sikes, young pastor of the Jericho Church of Christ, is a proud father. Last Friday at the Iredell Memorial Hospital his wife presented him with a son.

This week he was going around passing out an item proclaiming in bold letters: "It's a Boy."

However, it was not the customary cigar he was passing out, instead it was a large "Tootsie Roll."

STREET NAMED
OUTSTANDING
DAVIE FARMER

C. A. (Gus) Street, dairy farmer of Advance and son of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Street, Sr., of Winston-Salem, has been named Young Adult Farmer of the Year for Davie County.

Dr. Ramey F. Kemp, president of the Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced last week the decision made by a secret committee chosen by County Farm Agent Leo F. Williams.

The program is being sponsored throughout the United States by Jaycee organizations to spotlight younger farmers who are doing outstanding jobs in agriculture and community service.

Mr. Street now operates a 23-cow milking herd in a dairy setup which he has almost developed into the ultra-modern "automation" category—mechanized farming operations, harvesters, motorized silos and other labor-saving devices.

His 80 acres of pasture and hay grain crops grow on land steadily improved through soil and water conservation practices.

He was the first farmer in Davie County to install a sprinkler irrigation system as a protection due to drought.

An active Granger and church member, Mr. Street also participates in community and county-wide development programs.

He was educated at N. C. State College, and his wife, the former Mary Jane English, of McDowell County, majored in home economics at the Woman's College in Greensboro.

Gus Street is termed by his Davie friends "a town boy who loved the country, came to it, and has made good in a big way."

The selection of the Young Adult Farmer of the Year was made on the basis of nominations and facts concerning each farming operation and its owner's community activities.

The county winners will be reviewed by a state Jaycee committee and a North Carolina winner chosen. From state winners four national winners will be selected later this summer.

statutes are construed as directory and not mandatory. Under this view, a valid marriage may be created without first obtaining a marriage license. A statute which is deemed directory merely points out, a way by which a result can be certainly accomplished but which does not say that it is the only or exclusive method by which the result can be accomplished.

The fact that the license may have been obtained by fraud or perjury, or that the consent of parents is not obtained as specified by statute in certain cases, does not prevent a marriage ceremony from being effective.

Tobacco Acreage

Each year there is considerable tobacco acreage lost in Davie County because growers fail to raise the amount allotted them. Last year 46.4 more acres were withdrawn from the county's allotment by the government because of failure to utilize the allotment according to the prescribed formula.

In 1954, Davie County had a total tobacco acreage allotment of 1915.8 acres. Of this amount, only 1414 acres were planted. This means that Davie farmers failed to plant around 500 acres of tobacco allotted to them. Figured on the basis of $500 income per acre, this was a loss of $250,000 income for the county.

This year, there are 30 farms in the county which will lose a part or all of their tobacco allotments if the owners or tenants do not plant as much as 75 percent of their allotment.

To emphasize the importance of this acreage being planted, a list of these farms are printed below. Some of these farmers may not realize they are about to lose their allotment. And, on the other hand, there may be someone who would like to rent some of the acreage.

Here are the farms that will lose their flue-cured tobacco allotment if none is planted in 1955:

The Complete Story

Congressman C. B. Deane has expressed a concern over the farm problem now facing the country. In a recent speech in the House of Representatives, Congressman Deane urged a "campaign of truth," asking the nation's press, the farm organizations, the chambers of commerce, business groups, and every organization that is interested in the farmer, to tell the complete story.

The complete story as outlined by Mr. Deane to Congress is as follows:

1. That $2 per cent of the American farmers are earning less than $5,000 each year.
2. That we are a nation of small marginal farmers.
3. That the farm owner is at the bottom of the economic ladder in weekly buying power, and that his estimated 1955 weekly buying power will be $2.52 less than 1954, while all other occupational groups are increasing.

4. That the true picture of surpluses be told and particularly that only two per cent of the 1954 total farm output was not currently consumed and that we should begin to think of a positive floor under the farm owner that will stop the downward trend of his income.

Mr. Deane recommends that Congress should initiate at once a congressional investigation of the price squeeze the farmers face. He points out that while the price of farm produce received by the farmer has declined 12 per cent in the last two years, there continues to be a marked increase in the market and processing charge. The farmers' share of the consumer's food dollar has been decreasing constantly—from 54 per cent in 1945 to 43 per cent at the present time.

As a member of the Appropriations Committee, Mr. Deane has come to know the real crisis the marginal farmer, as well as the established farmer, faces. It is only through such forthright recognition of a problem that a solution becomes possible.

Yes, Mr. Deane, the complete farm story needs to be told if we are to halt the farm economic trends that are causing so many people concern.

RECESS IN WASHINGTON

While Congress took a recess for Easter last week, my Senatorial work did not substantially abate. I was compelled to spend a considerable portion of the week attending sessions of the Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations of the Senate Committee on Government Operations, which is currently engaged in investigating supposedly inefficient practices of the Foreign Operations Administration in Pakistan. This Subcommittee is charged by the Reorganization Act of 1946 with responsibility for "studying the operation of Government activities at all levels with a view to determining its economy and efficiency." Our investigation has, thus far, indicated that there may be substantial truth in charges that the Foreign Operations Administration has been guilty of some highly inefficient conduct in connection with the proposal to erect grain elevators in Pakistan.

North Carolinians will be interested to know that this particular Subcommittee was formerly headed by our beloved Senator Clyde R. Hoey, under whose guidance it conducted the investigation of the "five-percenters."

My trip to Nevada afforded me a bird's-eye view of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska, Colorado, Utah and Nevada. While I was much impressed by the snow-covered Rocky Mountains, the fantastic rock formations of Utah, and the grandeur of the Grand Canyon, I was even more impressed by the desert-like con-

A Hymn Is Born

BY CLINT BOWMAN

Why Do You Wait?

Writer of popular songs turns talents to church

"George," the elderly woman said as she handed her son a clipping from a religious periodical, "I think that would be good for music." So, to please his mother, and with the thought that it might "help somebody," George Frederick Root wrote a tune for the hymn.

"The Shining Shore" is rarely heard today but it was a favorite in its time. It was a special favorite of noted hymnwriter Henry Ward Beecher. Anyway, that's the line of man George Root was . . . gentle, considerate and ever anxious to help somebody.

One day, nearly a century ago, after George F. Root joined his brother in the Chicago publishing firm of Root & Cady, he was opening the company mail when he came across a crudely written manuscript from a youth in Pennsylvania. The author called his song "Laura Vale" and stated that it was his first effort at composing.

George Root liked the song but he must have smiled at a note attached to it. The note said that if the song was acceptable the author would appreciate a flute in exchange for it as he was too poor to buy one.

So George Root wrapped up a brand new flute, attached a note and sent it to the youth in Pennsylvania. The note said a job was waiting in Chicago if the boy wanted it. Ten years later Philip Bliss was editing hymn books and writing such popular songs as "Wonderful Words of Life" and "Almost Persuaded" and was fast becoming one of America's greatest gospel singers.

Why do you wait, dear brother,
Oh, why do you tarry so long?
Your Saviour is waiting to give you
A place in His sanctified throng.

What do you have, dear brother,
To gain by a further delay?
There's no one to save you but Jesus,
There's no other way but His way.

A FEW YEARS before George Root gave poverty-stricken Philip Bliss a break, he was teaching music at New York's Institute for the Blind where one of his pupils was a sightless girl who loved music. Root encouraged the blind girl by setting some of her poems to music. That blind girl soon set the Christian world to singing nearly 500 of her hymns. Her name was Fanny Crosby.

Come the War Between the States and George Root was to that era what George Cohan was to the days of World War I. From local post boxes he used the name G. Fredrick Wurzel came "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching," "The Little City of Freedom" and one he must have written while thinking about his mother. It goes "Just before the battle Mother, I am thinking most of you." The war over, George Frederick Root turned his talents to composing, writing, editing, publishing and singing songs of the church, and many of his hymns are still in use today.

In 1895 the world lost a kind and considerate man . . . age 75. He wrote songs for minstrel shows, songs for marching armies and songs people just love to sing. But he will be remembered longest through the works of those less fortunate than he. Root's hymns were written through his own hymns, like this one for which he wrote both words and music in 1878:

Do you not feel, dear brother,
His Spirit now striving within?
Oh, why not accept His salvation,
And throw off your burden of sin?

Why do you wait, dear brother?
The harvest is pressing on;
Your Saviour is longing to bless you,
There's danger and death in delay.

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: The first prophet of the future is the past - Byron.

Two scientists were discussing the future. One, a pessimist, said that an atomic tragedy would destroy the world in ten years. The other offered to give odds of 100 to 1 that no such things would happen.

"Those are long odds," said the pessimist. "What makes you so certain?"

"I don't have to be certain," replied the other scientist. "I only know that I can collect my bet and you can't."

Down through the centuries men have been predicting the end of the world. The only definite Biblical promise is that we will never know exactly when the end will come. Yet we must know, if we think at all, that today could be the end for anyone of us. The destruction of our earth and all mankind, though predicted time and again, experience shows us has never happened. That need not concern us.

The end of our personal "world," we know from the experience of others, can come at any moment. That should concern you and me. Does it?

Report To The People

By PETER W. HAINSTON
Davie County Representative

The cooperation which I have received on all sides in the effort to get the telephone charges eliminated between Mocksville and the rest of the county has been most encouraging and although it will be several days before the final results will be known, I am very hopeful that a solution can be reached.

Through Senator Kerr Scott's office, the Washington REA were contacted and between them and the State office of the telephone authority arrangements were made to push the schedule up and have the meeting set for Friday, April 22. The State Utilities Commission changed their schedules to see to it that it was possible for their engineer to be present. This I felt was particularly important since it will mean that a representative of the public who is equipped to understand and is unbiased will be present.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By BILL WHITLEY

COTTON. New efforts are being made to get additional acreage allotments for small cotton farmers in the Southeastern cotton belt.

The move for more cotton acreage was started after a blanket of freezing weather covered several South Atlantic States and knocked out the multi-million dollar peach crop. As a result of the freeze, thousands of southern farmers are without prospects of cash income this year. Many others will suffer drastic cuts in income.

To help make up the damage caused to the peach crop, the Senate Agriculture committee is studying emergency proposals that would allow larger cotton allotments.

DEFEAT. Just a few days before the disastrous freeze, the Senate killed a bill that would have prevented cotton acreage reductions this year. Senators from the Southern states worked hard to prevent acreage reductions for farmers with four or fewer acres of cotton, but lawmakers from western states killed the effort by demanding that increases be given to the large cotton ranches in the West.

If the new plan goes through, it will mean that those cotton farmers in the stricken areas will be allowed to increase their acreage at least enough to make up part of the loss from their peach crop. The final outcome is doubtful, however, because many Senators favor other forms of aid.

AID. A gentleman named Thomas Lamb of Santa Monica, California, has come up with a unique idea about foreign aid.

Sensors are getting letters from Mr. Lamb urging that legislation be enacted that would provide for gifts of money to America.

Of course the backing in the country is the inspiration for this help and the source of it, too.

On April 1, I wrote a letter to Mr. Kemp Doughton and Senator J. C. Eagles, who are the chairmen of the Joint Appropriations committee suggesting a revision of some of the publication laws of the State. For instance as long as there is a complete set in the office of every Clerk of Court, I see no need for sending 100 copies of the laws passed at each session to the Sheriff as well. The result of this letter is that in a few days, Senator John Shuford of Asheville and I will introduce a series of bills to cut out a good deal of this unnecessary expense. Each bit of saving is small, but the total is considerable and the saving should repeat year after year.

George Henry Shutt, Jr., and Johnny Braswell came down for a visit one day last week and I thoroughly enjoyed seeing them. It turns out that Johnny lived next door to Mr. Luther Barnhart, who is president of the Senate, in Concord.

cans to spend in foreign countries.

Under his plan, the United States Government would pay for tourists' trips to foreign lands.

Mr. Lamb's reasoning goes this way:

"It is dollars that these countries need and they would get the same benefit whether the money was brought in by tourists or given to their governments as grants."

Mr. Lamb would choose those who would make "foreign aid tours" by drawing social security numbers.

There are three things certain about such a plan: (1) It would cost the government money. (2) It would put more money into foreign countries. (3) It would be a mighty good deal for the people who would get to make the trips.

RUSSIA. A gentleman called a Senator's office and wanted to know how to go about getting a passport to Russia. As a rule requests are a surprise to a Senator's office, but this one was a shock, to say the least.

Maybe as a matter of curiosity, the office asked why the man wanted to go to Russia. His reply cleared the fog a little.

"I'm sick and tired of this place," he said. "I was drinking a little and beat up a cop. Now they are going to can me. I'd just rather go to Russia than go to jail. They claim Americans have freedom, but what kind of freedom is it when you can't take a couple drinks and express yourself."

The man never has called to withdraw his request.

America by 1975 will be a land of homes in which there probably will be twice as much usage of electrical appliances as there is today, according to a report of the National Association of Manufacturers.

The NAM cites a study entitled "The American Economy—Prospects for Growth 1950-1980" published by the Department of Economics of McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, Inc. This reveals that by 1970 most new homes will be completely air-conditioned year-round and electric heated in the winter. The electric heat pump and electric heat resistance will be in widespread use. New homes will include more of the appliances that save work for the housewife—automatic washers, dryers, dishwashers and waste disposers.

It is not inconceivable that television sets (color, of course), will be built into half the rooms for inter-family communication.

THRILL IS OVER . . . It is generally conceded now around Raleigh and elsewhere that most of the members of this year's edition of the N. C. General Assembly are getting a little impatient to get going toward home.

Believe it or not, the thrill is over. More important, too, the pay has stopped—has been stopped in fact, for more than two weeks.

REASONS . . . The work has become monotonous and increasingly fatiguing. The legislators—even the most patient of them—are tired of listening to various reasons why this or that bill should or should not be passed.

They have given up hope of finding any group which agrees that their particular interest should be taxed to pay the freight. To put it a little more briefly perhaps, your legislators are homesick for the relative peace and quiet of their own respective communities.

COMPROMISE . . . It is this frame of mind which makes it possible for compromise—perfect weather for it—and compromise it must be if we are to have a tax law and keep the show on the road.

FISHING? . . . It is at these times when it is advisable to take a little time for a bit of quiet meditation which is ordinarily associated with the gentle sport known as fishing.

And, on such occasions, what you catch is not nearly so important as what you are thinking while trying.

READY TO TRY . . . Several members of the Legislature have been so kind as to tell me recently that when they received an invitation from me at the beginning of the session—more than three months ago now—to come fish in the lake at Belle Acres, they thought it was a nice courtesy, but albeit a useless gesture inasmuch as they would of course not be around here when spring arrived.

They admitted, too, that they thought three months ago that they would have little time to devote to such harmless pursuits. But now these legislators declare they are ready to do a little fishing—and some thinking.

WHILE WAITING . . . Who knows but that the final decision as to who will feel the tax bite may be decided while various members of the Legislature are casually waiting for the bass to bite at Belle Acres lake.

And who is there to argue against the choice of the site of decision?

Certainly, in the open—under God's beautiful sky and surrounded by the beauty of green pastures is a more appropriate place for conscientious decisions affecting so many of God's people than in a smoke-filled hotel room.

HARD TO BELIEVE . . . Representative Ralph Fisher of Brevard, who resigned last week because of illness and who is to be replaced by his wife, Thelma, has probably as many friends among legislators as anyone in North Carolina.

It's a good bet that Thelma, who will be one of only two women members, will be shown every attention and courtesy by her husband's many friends.

Someone said recently about Ralph: "He is certainly a fine man—it's hard to believe that he is a Republican."

Ho hum. Such is the workings of the political mind.

BY HELICOPTER . . . Suppose you have noticed that Gov. Luther Hodges is making use of a helicopter for transportation several times this week.

One of these days our major political candidates and officeholders as well as business leaders will be fitting from here to there by helicopters to keep their more important engagements.

HIS PLATFORM . . . Now that the Navy has developed what is referred to as the "flying platform," candidates for political office in the future can arrive on the scene equipped to make his speech and be off again without even ascending or descending from the platform.

REFRESHING THOUGHT . . . In our world of wars and bickering, it is indeed a refreshing thought that polio has been conquered at last.

Let us pray that cancer and the other dreaded diseases of man will soon be overcome. And let us back up our prayers with financial contributions to assist in this important work.

FINAL STAGES . . . It is difficult to realize, but a short twelve months from now will find North Carolina in the final stages of another Democratic Primary.

The lines have not yet been drawn, but the backstage manipulations are beginning to take place. Shortly after the Legislature adjourns, the pot will begin to boil. Watch for some interesting alignments which will soon make the headlines.

NOTES . . . Ben Douglas, director of Conservation and Development, has become a tennis fan since his beautiful daughter, Jean, married the star of the Presbyterian College tennis team.

J. Foster Barnes, director of the Duke University Glee Club, is off on the annual sleep club trip. This year the group will appear on Perry Como's show.

Speaking of Duke, I walked into the barber shop over there this past week and felt I was in a dream.

There sat Phil Bolick, a classmate and teammate of mine from Winston-Salem getting a haircut. There was "Mr. Farnes" and "Roy"—and Pa Erwin, all of who were cutting hair 25 years ago, and there was "Ol' Shime" looking not a day older and with his hand out as usual.

Time certainly marches on—and makes many changes—but apparently not at the Duke University Barber Shop.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor: Mocksville Enterprise, Mocksville, N. C.

March sales of ABC liquor stores was almost five million dollars, exceeding last year's March sales by $12,000. Charlotte and Mecklenburg holds the lead with nearly one million dollars down the drain.

These reports from Raleigh by the ABC officials tell only part of the story. There are the enormous figures on beer sales; and wine. Statistics show that with all the flood of hard liquor that is consumed, more alcohol is consumed in beer than in any other way. And then, of course, there is flowing from "under the counter" and through ten thousand other avenues the flood of "bootleg" liquor.

Meanwhile, our "piddling" legislative body down at Raleigh stands as perennial god-father to the entire traffic. This social crime is kept activated by schemes that bespeak the lowest forms of bribery; a situation under which the principle of majority rule is choked into silence by the power of those who profit by the sale of this deadly narcotic.

The method of this villainy is to "bottle up" and keep off the floor of the House any and every bill that would threaten the stranglehold of the liquor traffic in the State. This can be done by bribing only a few men. But it couldn't be done even by that method if we had fewer plumbers and more he-men in the Legislature.

Only last week after the "pay" had run out (and perhaps some of the more honorable members were obliged to leave) did there issue from the body the "low blow" to the citizens of the State who have been seeking to unshackle the people from the liquor power. It was the "dead cat" that came whirling through the Proprietary and Grievances Com. in the form of a bill to legalize 3.2 per cent beer in the counties that have outlawed beer. This was an unmitigated insult to these dry counties (or it would be if it should become a law). May God Almighty pity the people under such conditions!

GORDON TOMLINSON, Editor

Entered at the Post Office at Mocksville, N. C., as Second Class Matter Under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

WASHINGTON — On April 1, flew to the Nevada Test Site with other members of the Armed Services Committee of the House and Senate for the purpose of witnessing an atomic explosion. It is my feeling that as a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee I should acquire as much first-hand information concerning matters of this kind as possible.

NEVADA TRIP

Atomic explosions are conducted in the Nevada Test Site under the supervision of the Atomic Energy Commission for the purpose of adding to our knowledge of the military effects and uses of atomic energy. As a consequence, the scientists in charge of these matters rightly insist that atomic explosions should not be had unless weather conditions are virtually ideal. For this reason, it is frequently necessary to postpone planned atomic explosions for days at a time when weather conditions are not suitable.

WEATHER CHANGED

ington for the Nevada Test Site, the weather was suitable for conducting an atomic explosion. However, the weather changed while we were en route to Nevada and, by reason thereof, it became necessary to postpone the planned explosion. Hence, we were compelled to return to Washington without witnessing a demonstration.

Despite this fact, our trip was very much worthwhile. We made minute inspections of the Nevada Test Site, observed the locations of prior atomic explosions, and received considerable briefing at the hands of the scientists who supervise atomic experiments. We returned to Washington by plane on the morning of April 4.

My trip to Nevada afforded me a bird's-eye view of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska, Colorado, Utah and Nevada. While I was much impressed by the snow-covered Rocky Mountains, the fantastic rock formations of Utah, and the grandeur of the Grand Canyon, I was even more impressed by the desert-like con-

Bill Myers Wins First 1955 Race, Saturday

Bill Myers, the 1953 Bowman Gray Stadium sportsman champion hailing from Germantown, N. C., jumped into the lead in the 1955 campaign Saturday night by winning the 35-lap sportsman feature to establish himself as the driver to beat in the program scheduled for next Saturday night.

Glenn Wood, the 1954 champion from Stuart, Va., figured in a pile-up on the first lap of the feature that handicapped him throughout the race, but still managed to finish fourth in the feature race. Perk Brown of Leakesville, N. C., was second and Johnny Dodson of King, N. C., was third.

Paul Walton of High Point, N. C., who has been sharing the amateur spotlight with Joe Kirby of King, N. C., won the 20-lap amateur feature of the stadium program as Kirby finished second, trailed by Red Renegar of Winston-Salem, third; Bill Matthews of Winston-Salem, fourth, and Tom Tuttle of Rural Hall, N. C., fifth.

The drivers will return next Saturday night for another seven or eight event sportsman and amateur program starting at 8 o'clock.

In the sportsman feature, Curtis Turner of Roanoke, Va., drew pole position for the feature and led the race for 27 laps until the rear end of his car collapsed, forcing him out. Brown took over at that point and led until the 34th when Myers breezed into the lead with Slim Rominger's No. 48 Ford. Winding up back of the first four drivers were Ralph Ligouri of Fayetteville; fifth: Tools Jenkins of Winston-Salem; sixth: Sam DiRusso of Richmond; seventh: E. J. Brewer of Winston-Salem; eighth: Carl Burris of Leakesville, N. C.; ninth, and Shorty York of Mocksville, N. C., tenth.

Turner won the first, 10-lap heat, trailed by Brown and Jenkins while Pee Wee Jones of Winston-Salem won the second, followed by Ligouri and Slim Rominger of Clemmons. Wood won the consolation event with York winding up second and Dodson third.

In the amateur division, Harold Atkins won the first heat to pace five home town stars, trailed by Red Renegar and Jack Long, while Walton captured the second with Leo Tuttle of Kernersville second and Jack McClamrock of Mocksville third. Bill Matthews of Winston-Salem won the consolation, trailed by Roy Holder and Cecil Grubbs.

What Every Veteran Should Know

W. J. Wilson, County Veterans Service officer for Davie County, stated today that there are certain important documents pertaining to the veteran's service which should be kept in a safe place, the location of which is known to his next of kin.

Some of these documents are original copy of Report of Separation from the Armed Forces of the United States (DD Form 214); original copy of Certificate of Discharge; Certificate of Service (DD Form 217 or 217 CG); orders to and release from active duty; and warrants, commissions, diplomas, citations, commendations, letters of appreciation, etc.

The DD Form 214 and Certificate of Discharge should be recorded at the Register of Deeds Office, located in the county seat of the veteran's residence immediately upon release from service. The Register of Deeds requires no fee for recording most documents and a certified copy, which can be used in applying for most VA benefits, can then be obtained from the Register of Deeds Office.

All Government insurance policies with a record of premium payments on these policies and notices of insurance premiums due should be kept.

Other papers and documents to be saved are certificate of eligibility for GI loan benefits, a record of VA "C" (Claim) number if a claim for any benefits from the VA has been filed and all correspondence from the VA.

For further information see your County Service Officer who is located at Lynn Haven Nursing Home, Mocksville.

"LET GOD BE TRUE"

By PAUL SIKES

"... Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his." (Rom. 8:9). What does it mean to have the "Spirit of Christ?" One cannot have the spirit of the devil and at the same time have the Spirit of Christ. If one is not a Christian he does not possess the Spirit of Christ. Unless one is a Christian he has not been saved from his past sins. Let us consider the Spirit of Christ under three headings.

The Spirit of Christ concerning personal injury and insult. "... Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps: who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth: who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously." (I Pet. 2:21-23). While on the cross He said, "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do..." (Luke 23:34). Peter said, "... when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God." (I Peter 2:20).

The Spirit of Christ concerning service to others. "For the Son of man also came not to be ministered unto, but to minister..." (Mark 10:45). "If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example, that ye also should do as I have done to you." (John 13:14, 15). Jesus was not instituting an act of worship but merely performing a service. He was also pointing out their responsibility as servants. Many people wash feet as a religious ceremony. If the feet are clean before the washing then it is just a ceremony. Would Jesus leave us an example to wash clean feet? There is no record that the church ever washed feet as an act of worship. We should be willing to be of service to others in whatever capacity we are needed.

The Spirit of Christ concerning obedience unto God. "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus... being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross." (Philippians 2:5, 8). "Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered; and being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him." (Heb. 5:8, 9). "... Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his." (Adv.).

Macedonia

On Sunday morning, April 17, the Macedonia Moravian Church had the pleasure of hearing five girls, from Salem College, sing. They were accompanied on the piano by one of our own girls, Miss Christine Beauchamp. The chaplain of Salem College, the Rev. Edwin A. Sawyer, brought us a very challenging message on the "Consecrated Life." There were several visitors at this service.

The Moravian College Glee Club from Bethlehem, Pa., held five concerts in the south which were well attended and received. The club was composed of all male voices along with a student director. Last Thursday, the glee club was at the New Philadelphia Moravian Church and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sheek and the pastor attended from Macedonia. Others from Macedonia attended on Friday night when the concert was held at the Advent Moravian Church.

The annual Spring Festival which is held at Willow Hill, Va., was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Beauchamp and family, Miss Gail Sheek, and the pastor of Macedonia and his family. This service consists of the playing by the Moravian band, a special speaker, and the distribution of an apple to each one present. The service was held at 3 p.m. last Sunday.

Sunday, April 24, there will be a special speaker at Macedonia for the morning worship service. He is the Rev. John E. Goserud who is the pastor of Konnoak Hills Moravian Church near Winston-Salem. Brother Goserud has a very special appeal to the young people. It is very possible that he will sing a special during the service. The general theme for the service is "Missions."

We are happy to report that the last news that we had from Mr. Charlie Ward is that he is somewhat improved; however, his condition seems to be complex and rather changeable. He is still in the Davis Hospital at Statesville. Mr. Chalmus Walker, who has been in the Lynn Haven Nursing Home in Mocksville, is now at his home in Bixby. This indicates a decided improvement in his condition. Mrs. Walker is still at the Lynn Haven Nursing Home.

It was very good news to learn that Mrs. Tillet Walker had made a trip to Mocksville in order to purchase a new rug for her home. Mrs. Walker has been rather confined since her illness.

Airman First Class Richard Foster, who has recently spent about 30 days at home, left last Thursday for Camp Kilmer, New Jersey. From there he is going to Newfoundland for a term of duty. Pvt. FIRST IN BEAUTY—Compare styling and see why Charm, a leading fashion magazine, chose Plymouth "Beauty Buy of the Year." Plymouth's long, sleek Forward Look wins over the hand-me-down styling of the "other 2."

Why pay up to $800 more for a car
smaller than Plymouth?

NORTH CAROLINA UNLIMITED

N.C. POPULATION

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYED

State Government Employment RATIO is LOW!

If the ratio of public employees to total population is a measure of efficiency, then North Carolina is among the most efficiently governed states in the union. A recent study showed the total number of State and local government employees equivalent to 241.3 per 10,000 population, making the North Carolina ratio fourth lowest of any state. The economy and efficiency with which our State is operated goes far in making North Carolina a better place in which to work, play and live.

Another contribution to more pleasant living for North Carolinians is the brewing industry's self-regulation program where brewers, wholesalers and retailers—in counties where malt beverages are permitted under State control—cooperate to maintain wholesome conditions for the legal sale of beer and ale.

HANGING ON—The large frame house of Mrs. Vick Swicegood of the Jerusalem Community was literally hanging on to the remaining portion of the large chimney which ran through the center of the house following the wind storm Sunday afternoon. The arrow points to a section of the house on which the entire roof was completely blown away. Portions of the roof were scattered over a 300 to 400 yard area. Also note how the house was twisted, with this end completely torn loose. All of the windows were blown out of this house which was in the path of the storm. No one was at home at the time of the storm, between 1:30 and 2 p.m., Sunday. (Staff Photo).

Davie County Hard Hit By Wind and Hail Sunday

Coolseemee & Jerusalem Suffer Wind Damage

Thunderstorms rolling across Davie County Sunday afternoon did considerable damage in some sections of the county.

And some of the areas that escaped damage as an early afternoon squall line passed across the state were buffeted around 8:30 p.m. by a hail and rain storm.

The Coolseemee and Jerusalem sections appeared to be the hardest hit in Davie County.

In Coolseemee, a large tree fell across the bedroom of the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Hoyle. Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle and their two children were at home at the time. The two children were asleep in another bedroom.

Mr. Hoyle said that they heard a large roar, awakened the children and started for the basement. However, before they reached the basement it was all over.

The tree did considerable damage to the portion of the house it struck. It was a new home in which the Hoyle family had moved only two months ago.

At the Mike Walker home next door, a tree was uprooted and brushed the house on its way down, but didn't do any damage. A tree fell across a car belonging to Morris Rabold. Another tree crashed in a garage and damaged another car.

Power lines were down, and several roads blocked by uprooted trees. Portions of the ball park fence were blown down.

In Jerusalem, the wind hit a large frame house owned by Mrs. Vick Swicegood. The tin roof was completely blown from one side of this house and scattered over a distance of around 300 yards. The house was completely twisted out of shape and one end completely torn loose.

The top portion of the chimney was blown away. Many believe that had it not been for this large chimney running through the center of the house the entire house would have been toppled from the foundation. No one was at home at the time of the storm.

At the nearby home of Edmund Swicegood, a son, a garage was demolished. Mr. Swicegood had a tractor and other tools in the garage.

A roof was ripped off a barn on the farm of Mrs. Walter Woodson.

In the Fulton community, the wind ripped a roof off a large poultry barn.

There were other reports of large trees uprooted, tobacco barns and out houses destroyed.

The hail storm which struck the area around 8:30 was the worst seen in some time. The ground was completely covered in certain areas with hail larger than marbles. The hail was accompanied by considerable wind and rain.

Cerebral Palsy Fund Donations To Honor The Late H. W. Brown

Anyone wishing to donate to the cerebral palsy fund in honor of the late H. W. Brown, may turn such donations in to either Mrs. H. W. Brown or Duke Tutterton at the Mockville post office.

It was Mr. Brown's request that donations be made to this fund rather than send flowers to his funeral.

Plans Listed For Hospital Honor Plaque

The board of trustees for the Davie County Hospital has announced plans for accepting contributions from any donors who are interested in honoring relatives and friends. The names will be placed on a plaque to be placed in the reception room at the hospital.

J. K. Sheek, chairman of the board of trustees, said that the name of the donor would not be put on the plaque—only the name of the person who is being honored.

Minimum contribution for this is $100. "However, no mention will be made of any amount received from any particular donor," said Mr. Sheek.

NEW HOME IS DAMAGED—The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Hoyle of Coolseemee was damaged Sunday afternoon when the wind uprooted a tree and brought it crashing down on the bedroom portion of the house. The impact of the tree buckled the roof of this portion of the house. Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle, and their two children, were all at home at the time. However, no one was in this particular bedroom. Negotiations are still in process between the Central Telephone Company and the Yadkin Valley Telephone Membership Cooperative over the 17 cent toll charge now in effect between the two exchanges.

A conference between representatives of the two companies was held last Friday in Charlottesville, Virginia.

A report on the conference said that proposals were submitted by the parties involved which are now being studied in the effort to iron out the details.

DAVIE CO-OP OFFICIALS GO TO WASHINGTON—Representatives of the Davie Electric Membership Corporation attended a Congressional Dinner in Washington last week honoring North Carolina's Senators and Congressmen. In the top photo, J. C. Jones, Manager of the local co-op, says "so-long" to Senator W. Kerr Scott, after serving as host to the Senator for the evening's activities. In the center photo, Senator Sam J. Ervin, Jr., and Joe Patner, assistant manager, were caught by the camera as they were exchanging greetings. Davie REA Group Attend Congressional Dinner

Representatives of the Davie Electric Membership Corporation attended the Tar Heel Electric Membership Association dinner held last week near Washington which honored the North Carolina Congressional delegation.

Those attending from here included Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Seaford, I. G. Roberts, J. H. Steele, Joe Patner and Gordon Tomlinson, representing the Mockville Enterprise.

Around 300 members of North Carolina REA cooperatives attended the buffet dinner given at the Walnut Hill Lodge at Falls Church, Virginia.

Sen. W. Kerr Scott and Sen. Sam J. Ervin and all the state's representatives, with the exception of Rep. Harold Cooley and Rep. Charles R. Jonas, attended the dinner.

The Davie Electric Membership Corporation were host to Senator W. Kerr Scott.

J. A. Ward, Rose Hill farmer and president of the association, asked for congressional help in obtaining Buggs Island power. Mr. Ward said that 12 Virginia and five North Carolina cooperatives—all in the service area of the Virginia Electric and Power Company—have saved over $350,000 in power costs by purchasing their energy requirements from the federal government's John H. Kerr project in Virginia.

Ward told the gathering that 14 other cooperatives in North Carolina—all located in the service area of the Carolina Power and Light Company—have failed in their efforts to purchase the 60,000 kilowatts which the government has reserved for them in the project.

Mr. Ward said that the CP & L Co. had been committed to wheel the power to these 14 cooperatives nearly four years ago, but that representatives of this company appeared before a congressional committee in opposition to a proposed governmental transmission line into North Carolina.

Mr. Ward outlined the accomplishments and future of the REA, and recommended that Congress reject the Hoover Commission report on the REA.

To Accept Application For Approximately 50 More 1st & 2nd Graders

A total of 606 first and second grade children in Davie County received the Salk anti-polio vaccine last week.

Dr. W. M. Long, Dr. H. B. Anderson, Dr. G. V. Greene and Dr. W. P. Kavanaugh administered the vaccine in cooperation with the Davie County Health Department. The doctors were assisted by Mrs. Rachel Stroud and Mrs. Edith Chappell, Health Department Nurses, and many volunteer workers.

The Davie County Health Department announced this week that it might be possible to secure enough Salk vaccine to vaccinate 50 more first and second graders. Mrs. Stroud and Mrs. Chappell said that they would accept applications for first and second grade children from the parents through Monday of next week.

It was pointed out that since the vaccine was limited, those parents desiring it for their children (in the first and second grades only) and who have not heretofore requested it to make immediate application at the health department. It was made clear, however, that the possibility of these requests would be contingent upon the availability of the vaccine.

2 Convicts Escape From Local Camp

Two prisoners escaped from the Davie County Prison Camp around 2:15 Monday afternoon.

Graham was serving 25 to 30 years for second degree murder, having been sentenced in August, 1951. Lucas was serving three to five years for false pretense, having been sentenced in November of 1951.

Bloodhounds were brought to Davie Monday afternoon to assist local officers, prison officials, and the State Highway Patrol in the search.

As of last reports, neither of the convicts had been apprehended.

Local National Guard Unit Participates In Test Alert

Local Unit Mobilizes Fifteen In 12 Minutes

The great value of the National Guard to community, state was strikingly demonstrated last Wednesday night during "Operation Minute-men," the Guard's national wide test alert.

The Medical Company, 120th Infantry, North Carolina National Guard, located in Mocksville, demonstrated during the alert that it was ready to help defend this area or extend assistance in case of fire, tornado, flood or other disaster.

Within 12 minutes after the alert was sounded, fifteen men had reported to the armory. At the end of one hour, 37 had reported. After three hours, 69 of a total strength of 73, had reported.

All water works, power sub-station and the telephone office was covered by armed troops within 30 minutes after the alert.

At the end of the first hour, all other objectives had been covered including bank, post office, court house, county office building, Roving's patrols covered the town of Mocksville.

Responding to praise from civilian officials and National Guard commanders for their fine showing, Capt. Andrew Lagle, commanding the local unit, said that officers and men of the unit were happy to participate in this training exercise.

"We appreciate the many fine comments on the ability of our unit to mobilize quickly to be of any possible service to our community, state or country in peace or war," he said.

"The fine cooperation of community officials and area residents in helping us mobilize also is deeply appreciated. We feel that we have again shown our fellow citizens in a convincing manner the important mission of the National Guard."

"Fortunately, this was only a test alert. There might be a time, however, when we would mobilize to protect the community against an armed enemy, or to help civilian agencies cope with fires, flood, storms or other disasters."

"We wish to emphasize these things because they are the principal missions of the National Guard — to help community, state or nation when and where help is needed."

"The National Guard is the oldest military organization in the United States. We are proud of the Guard's great tradition of service in every war since Colonial times, and in a wide variety of national disasters in peace."

"We mention these things because we know there are many young men and veterans in this community who would be proud to be in the National Guard. We would be proud to have them."

Information concerning enlistments may be obtained from M. Sgt. Baxter B. Deadmon at the local National Guard Armory.

The early spring potato crop is expected to be marketed later than usual this year.

Identification Tags Are Now Available

Leo F. Williams, Civil Defense Director of Davie County, today announced plans for making Official Civil Defense Identification Tags available to all children and adults in this community.

The Identification Tags are authorized by the Federal Civil Defense Administration and are an important safety measure for everyone. Mr. Williams said. They provide quick identification which would be helpful in case of accident, sudden illness or any emergency, including air attacks.

Each tag is permanently stamped with the wearer's name plus the name and address of the person to be notified in an emergency. The wearer's birth date and religious preference also are stamped on the smooth metal tag which is carried on a non-tarnishable chain.

Through special arrangements, instructions for ordering Official Civil Defense identification Tags may be obtained at displays in grocery stores in this area.

He also reported that Civil Defense has tried to put this project into effect for three years but has been blocked by lack of personnel and funds. Recently, however, FCDA secured the help of a large food manufacturer in distributing Official Identification Tags on a nation-wide, at-cost basis.

Tid-Bits

GORDON TOMLINSON

J. K. Sheek and C. H. Tomlinson were swapping tales concerning the first World War, recently. Mr. Sheek had one concerning Spurgeon Anderson.

Kim said that Spurgeon used to be one of the fastest runners in the entire country and that during the war that was his position with his company. Now a runner was described as the man who would carry the important messages between the various groups.

Kim said he remembered very well the only time he ever saw Spurgeon in Europe during the war. He said that his company had just taken a small village and mopping up activity was in progress. He said he saw Spurgeon come running through and called to him.

Kim said that Spurgeon inquired as to the way to the front—that he had a message to deliver. Kim said he told him it was in a certain general direction, but didn't know just where.

"Didn't they give you a map?" Kim said he asked Spurgeon.

"Yes, but that doesn't do much good after the face of the earth has been changed as much as it has in this vicinity," said Spurgeon referring to the destruction wrought by the artillery and bombs.

"You'll find it—don't worry," said Kim.

"I don't know," answered Spurgeon. "This makes the third time I've been through this village looking for it!"

A mother of one child slated to get the anti-polio vaccine put on the slip that she wanted to talk to the nurse—that she didn't understand the program.

Last week when the program was ready to get underway, one of the nurses went by to see this woman and tell her that the vaccine was available for her child if she wanted it.

"I understand it now," said the woman. "I saw it on television. It said that President Eisenhower's grandchildren had took it—and if they can take it, mine can too!"

At the North Cooleemee Elementary School, Monday, two automobiles drove up containing candidates for the anti-polio shot.

As they began to crawl out of the two cars and march in, the eyes of the nurses got bigger and bigger. By the time the last one had gotten out of the two automobiles they had formed a line in which the count was 24.

How Advertising helps you

What Do You Know?

YOU have heard it many times. Two persons will meet. One will say: "What do you know?" It is a common everyday American greeting.

It would be a good idea if each of us would ask ourselves the question, "What do you know..." and add to it this phrase, "because you have advertising to help you?"

You would be astonished if you were to check on your store of knowledge to find out what much of what you know came from the ads you read in the newspapers. For the newspaper has become the great fountain of knowledge.

For example, how far would "new" things like radio and TV, vacuum cleaners, ammeniated tooth paste, chlorophyll, vitamins, hormones, wonder drugs, popular best sellers, modern furniture, and whatever else you might want to name, have gone without the power of advertising?

Before advertising entered our lives so strongly, so frequently it took years for a new idea to "take hold." Now new ideas are taking hold almost every night. There has never been a limit to the capacity of the American public to absorb new ideas. There was, until advertising developed fully, a limit to the number of new ideas which could be presented to the American public.

Of late years there has been a craze for European cars, and a new breed of Americans who spurn anything made in America and term it "Detroit Iron."

While there is unquestioned merit in many of these imported automobiles, their design or lines somewhat resemble the lines of cars which Americans were claiming about in 1933. One of the reasons for the continued acceptance of these old lines, to take only one example, by Europeans is that they haven't had advertising to teach them what's new.

But here in America, with the force of advertising pushing us to seek the new, always the new, we have no chance to become static or content.

Argue as much as you like about whether that's good or bad, the fact remains America is ahead of the world in practically every thing!

TIMBER CONTRACTS

Butts has several acres of standing timber on his land. He wants to sell to the King Lumber Company the right to cut and remove all the trees in excess of a given size. Must this contract be in writing?

Yes. Standing timber is a part of the land. Hence, a contract to sell or convey growing trees or any interest in or concerning them must be in writing and executed with the same formalities as required in the transfer of real property. In order to be enforceable against creditors of the landowner and purchasers for valuable consideration, it must be probated and registered in the court house as required by statute.

A contract to sell growing trees to be cut and removed by the purchaser necessarily involves a right in him to enter the land for that purpose. As a consequence, it must be in writing.

Is a written contract to convey standing timber valid between the parties without a registration in the county court house?

Yes. As between the parties themselves, a written contract to convey standing timber is valid without registration. It can be specifically enforced or sued upon.

It is to the interest of the buyer of the timber rights to see that it is properly registered in the court house of the county in which the land is situated. If he doesn't and the landowner sells his land to a purchaser for value, the buyer of the timber has lost his right to cut and remove the timber.

How long does a buyer of growing trees have within which to cut and remove the trees?

If no time is specified, the courts usually allow a reasonable time. Where a contract conveys the timber on land and specifies that it is to be removed within a specified time, it has been held in North Carolina that the trees cannot be removed after the expiration of the specified time.

Hill has several acres of standing timber on his land. He orally agrees to cut and deliver all of the trees on these acres to the Rush Lumber Company for an agreed price. Is the oral contract valid?

Yes. Hill has made a contract to deliver cut trees or logs to the Rush Lumber Company. Such are items of personal property. Contracts concerning personal property are not required to be in writing.

The contract of an owner of land to sell at a stipulated price all the trees or logs on a tract of land is not a contract affecting an interest in the land, since the cutting and delivery of the logs by the owner would constitute a conversion of the standing timber from real property into personal property. It is not contemplated by the parties that there should be a transfer of title to or interest in the trees as they stood upon the land.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

"LET GOD BE TRUE"

By PAUL SIKES

The word of God compares the Christian life to many things. We read about a race, a warfare, branches, etc. Paul speaks of the Christian life as a walk. The basis for our study will be the book of Ephesians.

1. We should walk in good works. First the writer shows the saints at Ephesus how they had walked before they became Christians. "Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience." (Eph. 2:2). Then he says, "For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them." (Eph. 2:10).

2. We should walk worthy of the vocation. "I therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called, with all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love." (Eph. 4:1, 2).

3. We should not walk in the vanity of our minds. "This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind." (Eph. 4:17). Verses 18, and 19 of the same chapter describes the condition of the Gentiles. "Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart: Who being past feeling have given themselves over to lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness."

4. We are to walk in love. "Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children; And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savour." (Eph. 5:1, 2).

5. We should walk as children of light. "For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord; walk as children of light." (Eph. 5:8). "... let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light." (Rom. 13:12).

6. We should walk circumspectly. Christians should walk carefully. "See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise."

Paul also said: "Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is." (Eph. 5:17). (Adv.)

MHS News

By ED ROWLAND

The big news at Mocksville High now is the annuals, although the students are generating a little interest in baseball. These books came in over the week end and first thing Monday morning, Ann Kurfes, the editor, presented a copy to Mr. Bill Peeler, to whom they are dedicated this year, in a special assembly.

Even though this is his first year at Mocksville, Mr. Peeler has endeared himself to the entire student body. He has a subtle wit that is refreshing after some of the more blunt kinds to which the students are subjected; he helps the players on his teams learn and he gets the best out of them. His teams have won steadily, but they have not sacrificed fair play and sportsmanlike conduct. And in many other ways Mr. Peeler justifies what the seniors said about him in the dedication.

This year's Mocksvillian is black (the prettiest ever, the seniors think) to match the black class rings and the black and gold class colors of this Mocksville High School, Class of 1955.

The Wildcats are really rolling along at a fast clip on the diamond this spring. Billy Sell and Lefty Howell racked up wins Nos. 6 and 7 last week. Sell took his third straight win with a 14-2 shellacking of Coolmees. Johnny Williams, on the mound for the Indians, was tagged often and hard by the Wildcats in this game. Billy now has a 3-1 record.

In Friday night's contest Howell limited the Griffith nine to one hit, a scratch single in the fifth. A walk followed, and an error by Henry Shutt allowed the only run to come in. Mocksville scored three runs, two of which came in the second inning on a bases loaded double by Mackie Deadmon. Charles Messick knocked in the other in the sixth. Lefty is still undefeated with a 4-0 slate.

Mocksville's next games send them against Farmington there on Friday for the first meeting between these two teams. Tuesday the squad travels to Mills Home for the return game with them. Howell won a 11-2 no-hitter against this team earlier in the season.

The Wildcats are playing excellent ball, and you fans will enjoy seeing them play. Come on out for our next home game.

Betty Lou Edwards, recently named delegate to Girls' State, has been chosen editor of Hi-Life, the school paper. Miss Edwards will assume her post for the final issue this year. Doris Jones is the out-going senior editor. Also on the same slate, Jeannette Butler was picked as Business Manager. Marietta Rummage is now holding this post.

Farmington

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mauney of Kannapolis were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Purches.

Miss Rita Beverage of Washington, D. C., and of Maine arrived Saturday for a week's visit with Miss Margaret Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Graham have as their house guests their daughter, Mrs. Van Note and Dr. Van Note, and two grandchildren, Judy and John Van Note of Cambridge, Ohio. Other Sunday dinner guests of the Graham's were Mr. and Mrs. Price Graham and children, Glenetta and James; Mr. and Mrs. S. Graham and children, Helen and Norman; Mr. and Mrs. H. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. S. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cox, all of Elkin; Dr. and Mrs. David Graham of Spruce Pine, Dr. Gordon Graham of Tryon, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Moser and son, Robbie of Lewisville; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Graham of Elkin.

MRS. G. C. GRAHAM HONORED AT PARTY

Monday evening at the home of Mrs. H. G. Smith the WSCS of the Farmington Methodist Church under the leadership of the Hospitality Committee, entertained in honor of Mrs. G. C. Graham who is soon sailing to visit friends and relatives in her native England for several months.

Mrs. Smith greeted the guests at the door, Miss Vada Johnson directed the guests to the living room.

Crepe paper was given to guests to make an orchid corsage. A display of varied artistic ability was shown, but Mrs. John Harding and Mrs. C. B. Seats won the prize for the most realistic.

Then Miss Vada Johnson conducted a contest on England in which Mrs. G. C. Graham was the winner. Mrs. Graham sang the National Anthem of England and gave a reading "The Doctor's Fee."

A going away song was rendered by the Farmington Trio, Mrs. C. C. Williams, Mrs. L. L. Foster and Mrs. N. H. Lashley.

Mrs. H. G. Smith, with an appropriate poem presented the honoree with a lovely orlon stole.

The guests were invited into the dining room where Miss Vada Johnson and Mrs. O. R. Allen presided at the lace covered table. A centerpiece of pink tulips and baby's breath decorated the table. Punch, sandwiches, cake, cookies, nuts were served to the following: the honoree, Mrs. Graham, Messames Van Note, B. C. Brock, W. W. Spillman, N. H. Lashley, Geo. Tucker, S. O. Wallace, F. H. Buhnsen, C. B. Seats, W. A. Taylor, Kent Taylor, J. W. Williams, J. E. Sherrill, O. R. Allen, John Harding, C. C. Williams and Misses Margaret Brown, Vada Johnson and Rita Beverage.

MOTHER vs. INFECTION

Maybe most of these cuts and scratches would heal without any medicine. But who can tell when a simple scratch is going to develop into a serious infection?

Mother is alert to every possibility of danger for her children. Guarding them against infection is part of her daily responsibility.

Incidentally, that accounts for Mother's constant concern for her children's religious training. She knows that there are "infections" which destroy our moral and spiritual well-being.

Every Sunday, with her husband and her children, you'll find Mother in Church. For the Church is one of the few things that Mother considers even more essential to the well-being of her family than that bottle of antiseptic in the medicine closet.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

They Told Their Story

They told their guests the story last week. They—the representatives of the REA cooperatives of North Carolina. Their guests—the North Carolina Congressional delegation. The setting—a buffet dinner get-together just outside of Washington, D. C.

The representatives of the REA cooperatives told their story as it should always be told—that is, through the people they are serving. To tell this story, they chose a typical farm couple—a man and his wife from Anson County.

Taking the floor first and with an illustrated lecture the farm wife proceeded to describe and show to all present just what electricity meant to her in the home. The story would have been a most familiar one to the many housewives of rural Davie County for they too had shared this same experience.

Following his wife, the farmer traced the life of his family on the farm from his marriage until today. He, too, with an illustrated lecture revealed just what the coming of electricity, through the efforts of the Rural Electrification Authority, had meant to the improvement of his farm and methods of farming. His, too, was the typical and familiar story—but by being so, it was that much more impressive.

The president of the Tar Heel Electric Membership Corporation, J. A. Ward, a Rose Hill farmer, described the effect the adoption of the Hoover Commission Report would have on the REA and asked on behalf of the rural people the REA was serving—

"Full and complete repudiation by Congress." Mr. Ward also asked for congressional help in obtaining power from the government financed Kerr Dam, located on the North Carolina and Virginia border.

And, Congressman C. B. Deane cited figures showing the solid growth and financial stability of REA in North Carolina and throughout the country.

That briefly was their story—and everyone present believed that it hit its mark in being understood and endorsed by the Congressmen and Senators present.

Senator Sam J. Ervin, Jr., rose to his feet to compliment the REA on the job it was doing for the rural people and said:

"I don't see how anyone that knows the true story of what the REA is doing could help but be 100 per cent in favor of its program."

Similar praise at the conclusion of the meeting was voiced by Rep. Thurmond Chatham.

Senator W. Kerr Scott was present and as he said afterwards, "felt more like a host than as a guest." The story which he heard that night was one which he had been telling for years.

The story that was told last week near Washington needs to be told over and over again. For it is with such telling that the program becomes strengthened—not only for those who hear, see, and are convinced—but, also to those whom are charged with the responsibility of providing service and receiving service—there is a feeling of inspiration and gratefulness.

American Preferred

In all the excitement about Soviet propaganda techniques we sometimes attribute a cleverness to the Soviet folks which they do not really display. Two items in the news recently bear that out.

Thomas M. Pryor, writing in the New York Times, gives an account of a trip to the Orient by Robert Hardy Anderson, an American author and scenarist. Andrews visited Tokyo, Hong Kong, Bangkok, Rangoon, Calcutta, New Delhi, Bombay, Colombo, Singapore and Manila. Wherever he went he found a demand for American films and an overwhelming preference among the people for our films over those produced behind the Iron Curtain.

In a by-lined Associated Press story,

Richard Kasalschke tells of the crowds in Moscow who have turned out at a theater showing two American films, "Camille," and "Waterloo Bridge."

Perhaps the reason for the preference for American films abroad is that, with few exceptions, pictures made in this country are aimed at entertaining and the people abroad want entertainment. Communist films, on the other hand, are deliberate propaganda and any entertainment value they have is considered merely incidental by the makers.

Hollywood is guilty of a great many artistic sins. Yet it is still a powerful force for communicating the American message to persons in other lands.

Making Good!

The Joint Appropriations subcommittee last week completed its work on the 637 million dollar state budget for the next biennium. A tabulation shows that this subcommittee decreased the recommendations of the Advisory Budget Commission by about a half million dollars.

Rep. Peter W. Hairston of Davie County is a member of this most important subcommittee. Last week he personally introduced in the House bills that will save the state up to $100,000 every two years on printing costs. The identical measures were offered in the Senate by Sen. John Shuford of Buncombe. The measures dealt primarily with the printing and distribution of biennial reports by state departments.

The work of Rep. Hairston on this important committee has won the praise of his associates and officials in Raleigh. As one official put it: "Mr. Hairston has the rare ability of seeing problems in their proper perspective... their relations to the state as a whole, outside of county borders. This merits for him the confidence of his associates, and thus enables him to truly represent the best interests of the people of Davie County."

OUR FAITHFUL WATCHDOG

WASHINGTON REPORT

By BILL WHITLEY

HOOVER. Remember when President Truman reached into oblivion and put former President Herbert Hoover back on the map of public affairs by naming him chairman of the now-famous Hoover Commission? That was just after Congress passed the Government Reorganization Act of 1947.

After many months of long, hard, tedious study, the Hoover Commission came up with several reports that were praised all over the country. The Hoover Commission's work became even more popular as Congress and President Truman put to work many recommendations made by the select group of statesmen working with Hoover.

CARRIED OVER. Because of the effective work it did and the popularity of its proposals, the Hoover Commission has become an important leg of the government in its relatively short history. It has been carried over from Congress to Congress in the belief that it can make lasting contributions although its membership and missions have changed from time to time. It has won wide acclaim in the past as a non-partisan, objective group that finds sensible, workable solutions to many of the complex problems of the best governmental operations.

SURPRISE. Those who had been waiting for results of the work of the Hoover group during the past year were handed a sack full of surprises when the reports started coming down a few weeks ago.

The first reports in January gave able and thorough treatment to the old puzzle of paper work management in the government and personnel and civil service problems.

Then came a report on the various medical services of the Federal government. The report, moulded under the guiding hand of Hoover himself, was loaded with the most explosive sort of dynamite. Among other things, if the recommendations were carried out, it would cut the heart out of the entire Veterans Administration hospital program. In general the report suggested that the Federal government would do well to sharply curtail all of its medical services.

LOANS. Another revealing report covered the subject of government lending agencies. In short, Hoover and his group would change the complexion of the entire credit services of the government. The controversy the report caused even within the commission is indicated by the fact that five members of the 12-member group filed dissents to the recommendations. Commission member Chet Hollifield, who is also a Congressman of California, summed up the opposition to the report with this statement:

"By and large the recommendations in the report, if fully carried out, would make it harder for American citizens to buy homes or to get loans for their farms and businesses.

"The recommendations point in the direction of tighter agricultural credit, a slowing down of housing construction, restrictions on the rural electrification program, and limitations on other direct or indirect aids provided by the Federal government."

AIM. What former President Hoover and a majority of the members of the Commission are aiming at is difficult to determine. However, one thing can be said: These reports reek with old time rock-ribbed conservative thinking. In almost every case, the Commission is in line with the Administration in its approach to over-all government policies. That policy is to get the government out of as many functions as possible and return them to private enterprise. That is, set as many as the public will tolerate without endangering the popularity of the Eisenhower Administration.

It is interesting to note that President Hoover's Commission is in many, many cases opposed to policies that developed in the years after Mr. Hoover left the Presidency himself. It would be interesting to know if Mr. Hoover really thinks his policies of 1932 would work in 1955.

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS

WASHINGTON—After the Senate returned from the Easter recess, it found that many committees had held sessions during the recess without taking any time to go home.

I was unable to get to North Carolina except for an enjoyable meeting in Davidson County on Easter Monday.

Senator Hayden, Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, brought out the Second Supplemental Appropriations for action on the Senate floor last week. Among the amendments that were adopted before final passage was the Kerr amendment which provided $7,000,000 additional funds for the school lunch program.

SOMETHING NEW

For some time now there has been before the Congress a bill to permit the mailing of live scorpions. The Post Office Department had been reluctant to give favorable report on this proposal, but there has been developed a plastic bag which is supposed to remove all danger to postal employees. Sounds rather far-fetched to the average person just as it did to me, but Senators from the South-

TEXT: "Commendation is the duty of a friend."—George Washington.

The customer in the restaurant glared at his piece of rare steak. He called to the waiter.

"Didn't you hear me say, 'well done'?" he complained.

The waiter ignored the rare steak and replied:

"Yes, sir! Thank you very much, sir. It's seldom we get any thanks, sir."

Appreciation is the easiest gift to give, and the most seldom given. Appreciation is the least expensive gift we can offer, and we tug it closer than a costly diamond. Appreciation is the most wanted word, yet our lips rarely phrase it. Why?

It doesn't take much searching to see that our own selfishness prevents voicing the merit of others. We are intent on our own ways. We are afraid that others will be honored above us. We simply do not take the time or make the effort to notice that others are achieving goals, however small. If you want to have some fun today praise the next friend or acquaintance you meet. Do not be lavish, but express a few words of quiet appreciation. Watch that person take on new life. No doctor could perform a greater miracle. And that person will think that you are very clever, too.

AMERICA BY 1975

America by 1975 will be witnessing a spectacular growth in the use of light metals in home construction and manufacturing processes, according to a study cited by the National Association of Manufacturers.

The NAM cites a report entitled "The American Economy—Prospects for Growth 1950-1980," published by the Department of Economics of McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, Inc. This points out that the output of titanium, a wonderful metal for lightness and heat resistance, is expected to increase several fold by 1970. The use of aluminum probably will triple by the same time.

It is expected that just ten years from now the building industry alone may require as much aluminum as was used for all purposes in 1953. Aluminum makers also hope to see an increasing number of auto parts, perhaps even engine blocks, cast from the white metal.

DRYS . . . As you have probably noticed if you have done much reading or radio-listening within the past two weeks, the drys are up-in-arms over a proposal to make three-point-two-per-cent beer legal in areas where the stronger content has been voted out by the people.

Advocates of the dry cause seem to want to know just how dry is "dry."

In other words, it's not "How Dry I Am," but rather "How Dry Am I?"

SCARS . . . Now that the Legislature is heading for the last roundup, you will hear within the next few days about love feasts and all that.

It isn't all sweetness and light, however.

It looks definitely as though there are going to be some rather severe political scars left in spite of what the Legislature does and who winds up paying the bill.

In legislative sessions of the type we have this time—where new sources of revenue must be found and old sources revamped, bad feelings are frequently unavoidable.

GO HOME! . . . The other day the heads of one of our State Departments in Raleigh was discussing the Legislature, length of the session, and items of that nature. During the course of the conversation, he was heard to remark about as follows:

"I had been looking forward for many months with a great deal of pleasure to the time when the Legislature would be here so I could enjoy seeing and visiting my old friends again. But now I wish they would go home—not go home mad—just go home."

SUMS IT UP . . . The statement made by the department head, although made casually and without a great deal of deep thought, just about sums up the general sentiment around here.

And—brother—don't think for a minute the legislators don't want to do just that—get going home as soon as possible.

This wish should come to pass somewhere around the middle of May.

LENGTH OF SESSIONS . . . Other sessions of the N. C. General Assembly which have reached down into May include that of 1931 when the State was searching for new revenue—as is the situation this time.

But, as Highway Commission Chairman Sandy Graham told House Finance Committee Chairman W. B. Rodman publicly last week: If the legislators who are here this time think they have troubles, they just don't know anything.

The 1931 session went to May 27. The argument was over the sales tax—and those opposing the tax won out.

Two years later, with the State in a terrible financial condition, the session adopted the sales tax, but stayed in Raleigh until May 15.

In 1935, with Dr. Ralph McDonald and Willie Lee Lumpkin working to remove the sales tax—which was put on as an "emergency measure"—the Legislature was in Raleigh until May 11.

Two years ago, with money matters no problem, the Legislature ground to a stop on April 3. Four years ago the session adjourned around the middle of April.

FARMER . . . We farmers gathered down at Farmville last Wednesday and had ourselves quite a time for a spell.

We had a parade—and a pink lemonade. Men from Mars and antique cars. Marching bands and reviewing stands.

Farmville has every right to be proud of the manner in which their annual Farmers Day celebration has gone over.

We enjoyed every minute of it.

DRIVER . . . Charlie Edwards, the efficient secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Farmville, had invited me to drive the former Lulung Osburn in the parade. Now, Lulung is the former Miss North Carolina and runner-up to Miss America and is what we farmers would call a real trim filly. I was looking forward to riding with her and had cleared the matter with my own Mrs. America before leaving home—as is evidenced by the bumps on my head.

But your truly got his wires crossed up as per usual and instead of having lunch at the Country Club with the big wheels we were with Gene Simmons, general member of the State Board of Conservation and Development from Tarboro, having a sandwich and shake, and visiting with young Bobby Monk and his dad and Skinny, and the other boys at Monk's Warehouse.

SUDDENLY . . . Well, before we knew it, the parade had started. We joined it—and in the middle of the first block we spied a bevy of high school beauties preparing to mount one of the numerous floats. We stopped, crowned Miss Carolyn Dixon, the beautiful brown-eyed, 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed A. Dixon of Paulsboro, as "Miss Farmer's Daughter of the World." And, with our queen graciously and charmingly waving to the thousands of viewers, we really did that parade! Boy, we really did!

EVERY YEAR? . . . There is a bill before the Legislature which would require the General Assembly to meet each year as is the case in South Carolina instead of every two years, which is the situation in North Carolina at the present time.

There are some good arguments in behalf of this bill—and it may pass. If it does, it will mean much more time must be devoted by the members and would-be members to running for, and serving in, the Legislature.

We know many of the most able members who have stated that should it be necessary to meet annually they would not be able to do so—and therefore would not be candidates in the future. More on this later.

Report To The People

By PETER W. HAIRSTON
Davie County Representative

As the session draws on, and there is no way of knowing even close when it will be completed, there is a sort of tension developing. One of the reasons for this is that months of work on an important measure can be thrown into a wastebasket when some measure of importance is rejected by the committee to which it is assigned or by the house after a committee has recommended it. This session has been particularly long on measures which have been introduced, worked over and finally killed or passed in such a weak form that they have no meaning. Such a case was the corn meal bill, which as passed only says that meal must be tagged as either enriched or unenriched.

Most of my time is still being spent on matters relating to appropriations. Much of this is a process of making many small savings; some of it is trying to hold on to valuable programs which are already in operation.

The only way that I can keep up with my work is to come to my desk first thing in the morning. The building is opened for cleaning at 7 o'clock. Because we are about the only two down there at that time of the morning, I have come to know Pete Fellows, who is the young man doing much of the cleaning. He has a real wit and is a keen observer. One thing he tells me is that there are more tobacco choppers in the west than in the east. This morning the count was three to one. He also tells a tale of the greatly beloved Republican minority leader, Ralph Fisher. Mr. Fisher, who is a lawyer, once tried to sell Fellows a coffin with a windshield wiper.

Last night I had the last group of students from Davie—Claude Horn, Jr., Kenneth Hoffman, Sherrill Brinkley, and Bill Walker; all of them from State College. After supper we perched on the steps of the Sir Walter and watched the lobbying take place. It was particularly active last night because of an important banking bill and a rewrite of the corporation act had just about every lobbyist anyone ever heard of in operation. I think that my guests were interested as I had been to see for themselves that lobbyists are easily identifiable, operate entirely openly and render a valuable service in furnishing information, at the point of view of certain interest. We bet the lobbyist who fails to give accurate information. Nobody is interested in anything he has to say from then on out—a situation which does not get him many more clients.

Senator Ervin Says:

Western part of our great country where scorpions are plentiful (and very poisonous) pointed out that live scorpions can save lives. How? Serpent serum is used in treating a scorpion bite. The Senate passed the bill. Thus medical research work can now go on, aided by the postman carrying live scorpion in a plastic bag!

I kept my ears open around the Senate to see the reaction to the most welcome news of the validity of the Salk polio vaccine. The nation's leading lawmakers were very happy that another of mankind's great scourges has virtually been conquered. The feeling seemed to be that this is an outstanding example of progress in a field that really means something and that everybody has cause for joy. Perhaps cancer will next be the victim of unending research.

During the week the hearing on the FOA grain storage project in Pakistan was carried on by the Government Operations Committee. It is nothing short of punishment to have to sit until six or seven o'clock at night on a committee with the spring weather we're having now in Washington.

SAM RAYBURN

On last Saturday night I attended the dinner honoring Speaker Sam Rayburn. This gave me an opportunity to see many North Carolinians who were in town for the affair. We were all looking forward to seeing former Vice President John Nance Garner who had planned to come here from his home in Nevalde, Texas, but his arthritis was bothering him too much, or so his doctor advised, for him to make the trip to Washington.

The Army invited a few Senators to the Pentagon for a briefing on some secret weapons our country has. I went along. It took about two hours for the briefing and I found it very helpful as a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas set a bag of Texas onions to my office last week. They were very fine specimens. Some of the high school boys and girls spied them sitting beside the entrance to my office. I told them that they were more than welcome up here and if they got hungry we would be glad to furnish them onions. There were no responses favorable to the suggestion. Secretly, I am confident that most people wish they were in a position where onions could be eaten without causing social consternation.

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER

By FRANK KINNEY

WINSTON - SALEM — It is human to want to be different. Are you dissatisfied with your appearance? Do you gaze into the mirror and say, "If only there was something I could do to improve my good points and minimize the bad."

Well, you can. For instance, take your hair. Your face is round and yet you wear your hair flat on top, and long in the back. Try pulling it high on your head in a mass of curls. But perhaps your face is long. Change your hair entirely, putting fluffy curls around your face and flatness on top. Or, if your face is pointed, have a long bob with fullness below the ears. The oval shape is the ideal for hair.

which to strive. Each face has its individual characteristics, and for each there is a proper hair style. We specialize in individual hair designing, using our exclusive Thermal Modulation method of permanent waving. This permanent waving gives you that beauty found heretofore in only naturally curly hair.

A change in your hairstyle can be a change for the better if you have your hair designed at The Hairdesigners Beauty Salon, 416 N. Spruce St. in Winston-Salem. For an appointment drop in or phone 42411. (Paid Adv.)

Yes, indeed... biscuits go like hot cakes when you pour on plenty of delicious dark Karo... there's nothing like it for good eating. Satisfying flavor. So rich it stands right up on top of biscuits (keeps 'em light and fluffy). Keep Karo on your table morning, noon and night... it tops anything!

Social chatterboxes? NO!

"Are Women's Clubs the social Chatter-boxes men think they are?"

A. E. Wiggam, author of "Let's Explore Your Mind," answers with a loud "No." There are over 20,000,000 members of women's clubs, he says, "and believe me, they mean business! The women propose to have better communities than you men would give them to live in."

Members of the Home Service Department at the Duke Power Company work with Carolina Club Women. We know they are a serious group. They ask us for programs that will help them run their homes better, yet save them time, so that they can work for their communities, too.

Their high standards keep us on our toes, finding the best and newest ways of making Electricity give them dependable low-cost help.

It takes continual study and improvement in our Home Service techniques to live up to the expectations of the club women of the Piedmont Carolinas.
