David Charles Potts Is Killed In Collision Friday

First Highway Fatality Occurs In Truck Crash

Davie County's first traffic fatality of the year occurred here late Friday when David Charles Potts, 20, of Cooleemee died of injuries sustained in a collision of two trucks about three hours earlier.

The accident happened at 3:30 p.m. on Route 64 east, a short distance inside in the city limits. Potts died in Davie County Hospital at 6:15 p.m. He suffered two broken vertebrae, a crushed chest, broken pelvis and other internal injuries.

Potts was a passenger in a 1½ ton truck, owned by the Davie Electric Membership Corporation and driven by Sam L. Daniel, 35, of Mocksville, Rt. 4. A third occupant was Tommy Shelton, of Advance, Rt. 1.

The truck driven by Daniel headed east, collided with a soft drink truck owned by Southeastern Beverage Company and driven my Kenneth Odell Hodge, 21, of 517 Dean Street, Winston-Salem, going west. Daniel Boone Hill, 30, of Winston-Salem was a passenger in the soft drink vehicle.

Shelton was thrown clear of the wreck and was not injured.

Highway Patrolman A. W. Cox who investigated, said the soft drink truck was following a car driven by Mrs. Anna Mae Owings, 40, of Mocksville, Route 1. Mrs. Owings had signaled for a left turn to the driveway of her home, and had drawn to a halt prior to making the turn, the office said. When Hodge applied his brakes the soft drink truck skidded into the left lane and collided with the Daniel truck. The two rear wheels were knocked off the latter vehicle. It left the road, cutting down a utility pale and overturning on an embankment.

Patrolman Cox said Hodge had been charged with manslaughter and reckless driving.

Potts was discharged from the Army at Ft. Bragg two weeks ago and this week resumed employment with the Davie Electric Membership Corporation, with which he had been connected prior to entering military service.

He was born Nov. 21, 1935, in Davie County, the son of Charles Franklin and Bessie Brown Potts.

In October, 1955, he married Miss Phyllis Foster of Cooleemee, and they had been making their home at Cooleemee following his discharge from the Army.

Surviving, in addition to the wife, are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Potts, of Mocksville, Rt. 5; two brothers, Junie Franklin Potts, Mocksville, Route 5, and Roby Austin Potts, Harmony, Route 1; six sisters, Mrs. Travis York, Advance, Rt. 1, Mrs. Thomas Johnson, Harmony, Rt. 1, Mrs. Clyde Ireland, Yadkinville, Rt. 3, Mrs. Paul Hendrix, Mocksville, Rt. 5, Miss Annie Belle Potts, Mocksville, Rt. 5, and Mrs. David Boger of Mocksville, Rt. 5.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Bear Creek Baptist Church. The Rev. W. C. Barkley, the Rev. A. L. Walters, and the Rev. A. F. Blackburn officiated. Burial was in the church cemetery. Pallbearers were fellow employees of the Davie Electric Membership Corp.

HOMECOMING AT REDLAND

Robbers Hit Again!

Kiger's Store on North Main Street in Mocksville was broken into sometime Tuesday night. A pistol and a watch were reported taken.

The Mocksville High School was also broken into during the same period, but nothing was reported as missing. The big plate glass in the door to the principal's office was torn out.

Democratic Meetings

Democrats of Davie County will hold precinct meetings on Saturday afternoon, 2 p.m., at the regular polling place of each precinct.

The purpose of the meeting will be to elect a precinct committee to function during the next two years. Each precinct committee is composed of five members, two of whom shall be women. After the election of the precinct committee, the five members of the committee meet and elect a chairman.

The chairman of each precinct committee comprise the County Executive Committee.

In addition to naming a committee and electing a precinct chairman, each precinct will also name delegates to attend the county convention to be held in Mocksville on Saturday, May 12.

The South Mocksville precinct will hold their meeting in the court house Saturday afternoon. The North Mocksville precinct will hold their meeting in the elementary school building on Cherry Street.

Army Reserve Offers Plan For Local Youths

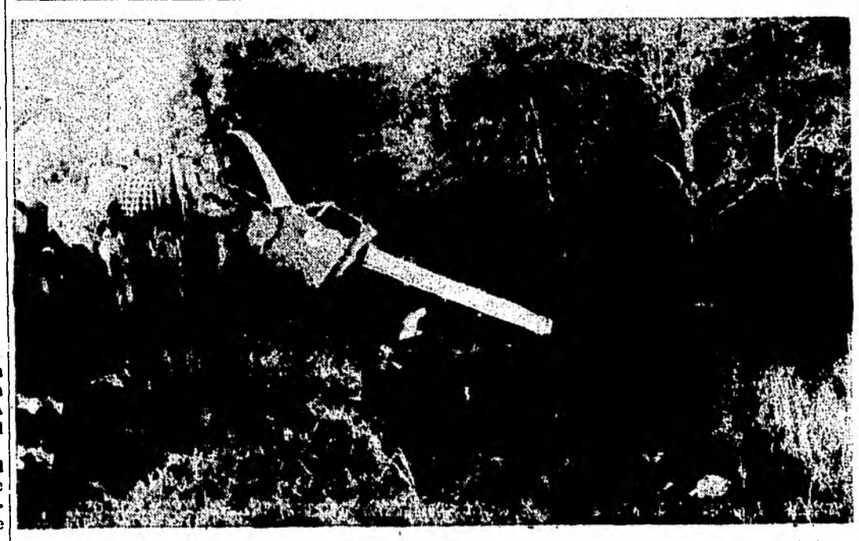
The Army has announced a new plan by which local youths who join the Army Reserve under the six-month active duty option may remain together for a portion of their training.

If as many as ten young men enlist in the Army Reserve together, they will be permitted to remain together for their first 8 weeks of basic training, according to Major Gerald W. Smith, Army Reserve Advisor. In addition, they will be assigned to the same branch of service whenever possible.

Each group will be given an appropriate identification, such as Winston-Salem, North Carolina, Contingent Number One.

Major Smith pointed out that this new plan affords young men in the 17-18 and one-half age bracket an opportunity to fulfill their military obligation in company with their home-town friends.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the U. S. Army Reserve at the armory on Stadium Drive in Winston-Salem or your local Reserve Unit Commander.



DAVIE'S FIRST FATALITY occured last Friday when this truck was involved in a collision on Highway 64 West.

Philip Juboor To Tell Of Visit To Holy Land

PHILIP JUBOOR

Philip Juboor, a native of Salisbury and a former native of Lebanon, will speak at Center Methodist Church Sunday at the 11 o'clock service. His subject will be concerning his trip to the Holy Land.

Mr. Juboor returned recently from a visit to Lebanon, Syria, Trans-Jordan and Jerusalem.

According to Mr. Juboor: "This is a place where the passing of 19 centuries has failed to obliterate the feeling that Christ is just up the street and that Pilate is there doing the business of Rome."

On his return to the Holy Land, where he spent his youth, Mr. Juboor followed the well worn paths used by Jesus and the men of Bible times. Following these paths he made a complete tour of this country.

At the River Jordan he collected water in a large number of bottles which he brought back with him.

According to Mr. Juboor his most memorable moment was his visit to the spot where Christ ascended to Heaven, Jesus' footprint is there, etched in stone, and Mr. Juboor said he touched it with his hand.

AMERICA 1975

America by 1975 may be a land in which there will be a labor shortage.

The National Association of Manufacturers cites an article in a recent issue of Better Living, published by E. I. duPont deNemours, which discusses this possibility.

The article says, in part:

" . . . If the trends of the past 80 years continue, then the anticipated 216 million U. S. population of 1976 will demand twice the quantity of goods and services available today. Yet the work force 20 years hence will be only about 30 per cent larger than it is today.

The answer must be increased individual output—the same answer that for generations has created America's unsurpassed standard of living.

Civil Service Jobs Available With VA

The civil service has announced that the following jobs are now available for people of this area at the VA Regional Office in Winston-Salem: Appraiser and Construction Analyst.

"LET GOD BE TRUE"

By J. B. WHITAKER

In John 8:31, 32 we read, "Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, if ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." In this passage of Scripture is a wonderful promise. Our freedom is conditioned upon our continuance in the Word of Christ.

The American people have traditionally been known for their great love of freedom. In the past fifty years we have fought two great world wars in order to defend our freedom. At the present time we are doing everything within our power to guard against aggression. The United Nations has been called into existence in order to help freedom loving people.

We have gone to great lengths in order to insure our political freedom. It is strange, however, as we look at the amount of "religious bondage" in the world today. In the religious organizations of men we can see principles which we will not accept in our political life. An American would not think of letting someone far across the ocean dictate to him what he ought to do politically. Yet we find people in America today who are willing to be directed by a foreign power. We see the same inconsistency in the Protestant denominations. It should make the blood of any American boil to think that some man or group of men in some city in the United States was setting down in disciplines, creeds, manuals of faith, etc., what I must believe. Yet we find this in many instances today. If you look at any list of the religious groups of America you will find where the headquarters of that organization is located. From that city come the decrees of uninspired men as to what the members of that organization must adhere to. This picture that we see today is a far cry from what we see in the New Testament. In the New Testament we see congregations of the Lord's people who were free and independent from all other congregations. Each congregation directed its own affairs. They were bound together by love and there was no super organization above the local congregation to dictate to it what it must do. If we continue in the word of God we are made free, but if we go by the wisdom of men we will be come enslaved to men who "bind heavy burdens and grevious to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders."

We want to invite you again to attend a gospel meeting with us. The meeting will continue through May 6. Services are conducted each night at 7:45. Come and enjoy good congregational singing and inspiring messages from the Bible. (Adv).

Bill Myers Wins Bowman Gray Race

North Carolina's racing spotlight will again be focused on Winston - Salem next week end with sportsman and amateur races Saturday night at Bowman Gray Stadium and Sunday afternoon at the Peace Haven Speedway, located just northwest of the city.

Bill Myers of Germanton, winner of the sportsman 35-lap feature last week, moved up in the point standings at the stadium, but Curtis Turner of Roanoke, Va., and Glenn Wood of Stuart, Va., will be the drivers to watch next Saturday night in the 35-lap sportsman feature battle.

In other racing activities last week end, Bob Welborn of Greensboro won the 150-lap all convertible feature race at the Greensboro Fairgrounds track before a crowd of more than 7,000 spectators. Welborn drove a 1956 Chevrolet and finished just ahead of Gwyn Staley of North Wilkesboro in second place.

Gordon Snead of Roanoke, Va., won the sportsman feature race at Lynchburg Speedway Sunday afternoon and Bunk Moore won the modified feature at the Charlotte Fairgrounds track Friday night.

In the sportsman race at Bowman Gray Stadium next Saturday night, Turner, Wood and Joe Weatherly of Norfolk, Va., are due back in the ranks after a week's absence, and a keen battle is also expected in the amateur ranks. Jimmy Rumley of Winston-Salem won the amateur feature last Saturday night, making the third dirved to win feature honors this season. Ken Bush of High Point won the previous week and Cecil Grubbs of Winston - Salem won the first.

Most of the sportsman and amateur drivers who compete at Bowman Gray Saturday night will move over to Peace Haven Speedway for the races Sunday afternoon.

INSTALL ENGRAVING MACHINE—Ted Everest and Gordon Tomlinson look over the new Fairchild engraving machine installed last week by the Mocksville Enterprise. This machine will enable the Enterprise to make their own engravings.

MARTHA HUSSER

"April Showers" was the theme of the Junior - Senior banquet which was Friday, April 27 at the Winston - Salem Police Club. The decorations were beautiful and they certainly indicated that the Juniors had exerted quite a bit of effort.

Friday night, May 4, the annual operetta will be given. However, this year you'll receive a double treat: an operetta entitled "The Land of Dreams Come True," given by the first through the fourth grades: and a one-act play entitled "Life O' The Party," presented by the fifth through the eighth grades.

Anyone who has seen an operetta will agree that nothing is more enjoyable than to see tiny children acting, singing and dancing in their beautiful, frilly, colorful costumes. This year you'll meet Mother Goose, and her many children, all dressed in their gay costumes, one cuter than the other.

The elementary and grammar teachers have worked long and hard preparing these plays, and they feel that they will provide a most enjoyable evening for you. So remember — Friday night, 8 p.m., at the school auditorium, with no admission, you'll find some mighty wonderful entertainment.

"MEET THE SENIORS"

Whenever I think of this week's feature senior, I always associate her with an adding machine! Cleo Carter, voted "Capable" in the list of senior traits, has been our class treasurer for three consecutive years ,and is terrific when it comes to adding and handling money. We have compete confidence in Cleo, and feel that no one could do her job better.

Cleo is quite capable, as she was so deservingly voted, she's attractive and as neat as a pin! She's quite a wonderful person to know, she's friendly and willing to do her share of any work that is to be done.

Cleo, although I have no real grounds on which to speak, I'll say it anyway, "You've a lot of ability—why not make the most of it?"

By JOHNSIE ELLIS AND JOE BUSIEK

Last Wednesday morning at 5:30 most of the Juniors and Seniors from Farmington started arriving at the school to meet the chartered bus which would carry them to Washington, D. C. The bus was on its way by 6 o'clock with all the students and Mrs. Hawkins, and Mr. Morris, the chaperones. After several hours for travel, they stopped at Natural Bridge for a sight-seeing tour and also for lunch. After a much enjoyed rest, they continued their trip until they came to Endless Caverns. Here, they enjoyed many unusual underground sights. Resuming their trip, they arrived in Washington at about 8:00 o'clock.

Last Monday, our Beta Club met with Joe Busick, president, presiding. Some of the business contained the discussion of the Beta Convention to which we are sending two delegates, and an end-of-school party. A committee of four was appointed to take charge of the party. On this committee are: James White, Peggy Dull, Johnny McBride and Johnsie Ellis.

Last Saturday night, a birthday party was given for Polly James. Several of the students were present and enjoyed the games, music, and all the fun.

The "John Wesley" film will be shown at the Bethlehem Methodist Church this coming Sunday night beginning at 7:30 p.m. Everyone who is interested in the spread of the gospel in this country will be inspired and instructed by this picture. Everyone is invited to attend.

Lawrence West conducted the prayer meeting this week due to the absence of the pastor, the Rev. George Smith, who is conducting a training school for church membership at Smith Grove Methodist Church. Mr. Smith is also conducting a training school at Bethlehem on Monday nights. This school will last four more weeks.

At the Yadkin Valley Baptist Church, beginning Wednesday, May 2, there will be different guest speakers from the State Baptist Board each night through Friday, May 4. This is a very important series for the Baptist and each one is urged to attend. Visitors are welcome.

Joe Langston was operated on April 25 at the Davie County Hospital for appendicitis. He returned home Sunday.

Mrs. S. S. Blakely had an operation on April 25 at the Davie County Hospital. Her condition is reported satisfactory.

Mrs. Willis Riddle is at the Davie County Hospital for treatment and rest.

Macedonia Moravian church is looking forward to its 100th anniversary celebration on May 13 (Mother's Day); and our spring revival which begins on May 20 and extends through May 27. The Rev. Oliver Greene will be the evangelist.

Pink Hendrix brought the message to the prayer meeting group last Wednesday night, April 25, as a part of our preparation for the revival. A different layman will speak each Wednesday night. Elmer Beauchamp is the speaker for this week.

A Bible and an electric wall clock was presented to the Smith Grove school last Friday morning at 10:15 a.m. in a special chapel servibe. The gifts were given to the school by Mrs. Eva Lee Martin in memory of her son, Ronald. Miss Joyce Butner made the actual presentation to the school and the Rev. Norman C. Byerly spoke briefly on the significance of the gifts.

Pvt. James E. Austin In Signal School

Pvt. James E. Austin, 18 son of Henry Austin, Mocksville, recently was graduated from the lineman's course at the Army's Southeastern Signal School, Fort Gordon, Ga.

The eight-week course trained him to construct and maintain both open and lead covered field communication wires and cables.

Gifts of God

The Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce successfully launched the "eye bank" project last Thursday night when 33 of those present at a dinner meeting willed their eyes to the North Carolina Eye Bank so that others might see.

The Eye Bank for Restoring Sight, Inc., is a state-wide organization for obtaining, preserving and transporting eyes and making them available for any eye-surgeon to perform the corneal graft or transplant operation for the restoration or improvement of sight in certain cases of patients suffering from a particular type of blindness or impaired vision.

The principle of the corneal graft operation is simple — the replacement of a clouded cornea by a clea rone. Corneas are tiny pieces of tissue, no bigger or thicker than dimes, which curves in front of the irises and pupils of our eyes. Nothing else possesses their characteristics or can fulfill their functon. Normally they are completely transparent. Light flashes through them, and the swift, complicated, mysterious mechanism of our sight begins.

Sometimes injury or disease clouds both corneas of a person's eyes, making them opaque to light. When that happens, even though the rest of the eyes and the optic nerve remains healthy, the person becomes blind. Vision is stopped at its source, but not necessarily stopped forever. Vision can usually be restored to one eye at the time by cutting away the clouded cornea and replacing it with a piece of clear, healthy cornea taken from the good eyes of a person after death who previously willed his eyes for this service.

A good cornea is defined as a healthy, transparent one from a person known to have been free from infectious diseases; the age, sex, race and blood type of the donor make no difference, nor does any defect in vision not affecting the cornea. There are no eyes bought, and there are no eyes sold.

The action taken by the 33 persons at the Jaycee meeting last Thursday night provides that the North Carolina Eye Bank may have their eyes after their death for use in restoring sight to ohers. To give one's eyes is a generous act, yet one which costs nothing and involves no sacrifices. It is our great fortune that modern medical science now empowers the least of us to leave to our fellowmen when we die a gift like the gifts of God.

Be Sure to Register

There are only two more Saturdays remaining for citizens of Davie County to register if they wish to vote in the primary of May 26th, and it is certainly the duty of each and every citizen to register and vote.

I only takes a few minutes of one's time to place his name upon the registration book of his precinct. Then after being registered, he will have the privilege of voting in the primary of which he is registered on May 26th.

In Davie County both partics will have primary contests on May 26th. The Democrats have five men seeking the three offices available for county commissioners. Likewise, the Republicans also have five candidates seeking these three positions, and the Republican voters will also have a selection to make for a Register of Deeds candidate.

The Democrats will also have primary contests on the state and district level. There are three candidates running for Governor, and here are two candidates running for Congress. In addition, there are also some primary contests for other state offices.

Between now and May 26th, interest in all the races will have become more intense. Howver, unless you are registered as a voter in the party of your choice, you will have nothing to say about who your party's candidates will be.

The Soil Bank

Congressman C. B. Deane, as a member of the House Appropriations Committee for the Department of Agriculture, said recently in Washington that although $1,200,000,000 is a lot of money, the urgency of the farm problem is such that he feels that the Congress should proceed at once and adopt the bill making the appropriation for the acreage reserves and soil conservation payments.

Mr. Deane pointed out that when the President vetoes the recen farm bill he called for immediate action on the Soil Bank Program. Under the Soil Bank Program, advanced by the President, no specific amount of funds were advanced by the President other than in general terms. The President pointed out that the program might cost one billion or two billion dollars.

The House Appropriations Committe of which Mr. Deane is a member, took the position that there is existing law to carry out a so-called Soil Bank Program. It is contained in the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, originally enacted in 1935. Under this Act of 1935 and the amendments made to this Act, the Secretary of Agriculture is now authorized to carry out preventice measures, including operations, methods of cultivation, growing of vegetation, and changes in use of land. The Secretary is also directed under this 1935 Act "to cooperate or enter into agreement with, or to furnish financial or other aid, to any agency, governmental or otherwise, or any person, landowner, tenant or share cropper."

Congressman Deane said that the Act of 1935 is very broad and actually will mean more to the small farmers than the originally conceived Soil Bank.

The Congresman said also that he had never felt the Soil Bank plan would have meant much to the small farmers of his district and North Carolina, where the average size farm is around 50 acres. Under this Act of 1935 for which Mr. Deane's committee has reported a bill calling for an appropriation of $1,200,000,000, these funds will reach down and touch the small farmer.

It was pointed out that perhaps the principal objection being advanced by the Secretary of Agriculture to the program and appropriation now being proposed by the House Appropriations Committee is that under the program advanced by Deane's committee, Mr. Benson would not be allowed to make advance payments of aid before the actual work or practices were performed.

As Mr. Deane said, the small farmers do not want charity, but a sound program that would lift them out of their present serious situation.

Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of Defense:

GLAD HAND... MORE CONCEALING THAN IRON CURTAIN ?

WASHINGTON REPORT

By BILL WHITLEY

RETIREMENT. Last week Sen. W. Kerr Scott, along with several other Senators, sponsored legislation that would increase retirement payments to former Federal employees who are now on the retirement rolls.

The legislation grew out of hearings that Senator Scott held on Senate Bill No. 2875, which would increase retirement benefits for Federal employees.

According to Scott, S. 2875, "would help people who are now Federal employees when they get ready to retire. It was very obvious that any overall increase should also assist former employees who are now retired."

BENEFITS. The new measure would increase annuities to former employees now on retirement by not less than $100 a year and not more than $300.

Painters — with ropes and ladders — are monkeying all over the tall structure. It will take several months to complete the job, and it will cost between $40,000 and $50,000.

For many years, the dome has been given a fresh coat of paint every four years — election years, that is, in order to be spruced up for Presidential inaugurations.

INDIANS. The Lumbee Indians of Southeastern North Carolina soon should have their name made official as far as the Federal government is concerned.

Last week the Senate Interior Committee's sub - committee on Indian affairs gave a quick okay to a bill that would make the name official. Final action will be routine.

The state legislature has already passed legislation doing the same thing.

FARMERS. Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, a mon who coins a lot of phrases in debate on the Senate floor, has a new one for the Republican office-sekers who are worrying about Ike's veto of the farm message.

Those who are trying to justify to President's stand on farm price supports, Senator Kerr says, are suffering from "self hypnosis."

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS

WASHINGTON — Committees of which I am a member have been requiring the lion's share of my time the past several days.

LONG HOURS

I refer to the Armed Services Subcommittee on the air inquiry headed by Senator Symington and the Permanent Investigations Subcommittee headed by Senator McClellan. In addition to these committees, there have been meetings of the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committees and th Calendar Committee which acts when routine legislation is being handled on the floor. This activity, plus the normal requirement of looking after matters pertaining to the constituents of North Carolina leaves no time for loafing or taking advantage of the normal tendency to field to the pleasures of a doze in the sunshine.

NOT AT BAT

Some of the political battles that take place on legislation remind me of a story they told me back home in Morganton when I was a young boy playing sandlot baseball. The team on which I was playing was getting terribly bad—in fact, the score was 43 to playing was getting beat terribly nothing. It is said that somebody asked me if we were getting beat and that I replied in the negative, basing my opinion on the assertion that our team had not been at bat yet so we couldn't be getting beat.

TECHNICALITIES

Governmental bureaucracy has been a topic of discussion since the birth of the nation. I was impressed during the recent conference in connection with hurricane damage in North Carolina with the fact that some of the government's lawyers must stay up all night trying to figure out how to complicate simplicity. I got that impression from the meeting with Secretary Weeks and his attorney on damage ot the highways in our State. This was a simple technicality that the Secretary apparently knew should not stand in the way of granting certain funds. It is this type of bureaucratic stalling that takes so much time in Washington. But things usualy work out in due course to the satisfaction of all concerned if the cause is legitimate.

DELEGATION

I am looking forward to the National Rivers and Harbors Congress in Washington. The North Carolina delegation under the co-chairmanship of Mr. E. L. White, former Mayor of Wilmington, and Mayor George W. Dill, Jr., of Morehead City, will have a dinner on the evening of May 9. Our state is vitally concerned with rivers and harbors legislation, and this is an opportunity for unified action on our needs. You will be interested in following the action of the meeting in Washington. The North Carolina delegation is made up of some of the most enlightened and interested people on problems and needs of rivers and harbors. Their contribution to the development of our State is far more important than I can detail here. These delegates deserve a vote of appreciation for their unselfish contribution.

TEXT: "No storm harms a man who believes."—Ovid.

Two Hollywood actresses were discussing horoscopes. One said to the other,

"I didn't know that you believed in astrology."

"Oh, yes," the other actress replied, "I believe in everything a little bit."

The most important thing in life is to believe. From the darkness of unwritten history man emerged, believing. He believed in nature, the wind, the sun, his ancestors and a hundred gods. As his knowledge and understanding grew, his beliefs changed. But, always, he believed. Emerson wrote, "Man bears beliefs as a tree bears apples."

Not all man's beliefs have been true, but they have been necessary. They are necessary today. Beliefs are based on the total wisdom of the ages. They hold us steady against the pull of influences which would cause us to repeat errors. They anchor us against drifting aimlessly. Yet it is surprising how few of us will fight for a belief, proving that we do not, truly, believe.

More lives have been limited by a lack of believing, than by any other cause. If you would achieve any degree of greatness, choose a few beliefs and stick with them. They'll do more for you than you can do for them.

Raleigh Roundup

(Written this week by Thompson Greenwood, Exec. V. P., N. C. Merchants Assn).

UP CLOSE . . . As you sat there within 20 feet of him and watched him as he chatted with others at the head table, you had to give yourself a mental pinch to make yourself realize that the man who looks so much like one of the Marx Brothers might very well become—within the next 5 years—President of the United States of America.

Vice President Richard Nixon does not look like a President. He doesn't even look like a Vice President. He isn't the type you would take a second glance at if you were introduced to him in a crowd — unless you knew of course that he is only one little heartbeat away from the Presidency.

He has a bulldog chin, heavy eyebrows, a cautious - semi-shy smile, and a fair set of teeth. At least, from where we sat, they all looked natural. On the day we saw him — about three weeks ago at an American Retail Federation luncheon in Washington — he was wearing a black suit. He wore a vest, I noticed, when one of the sweet young things at our table said wished he hadn't.

Nixon speaks well off the cuff, has a good deep voice, and oozes sincerity. If when you last saw him on television, you though he needed a shave, it wasn't your set. He did. He is one of those fellows who always does. He has a o'clock shadow at noon.

And, unless we Democrats do better with our campaigning in the next six months than we have in the past six, Dick Nixon stands a much better than average chance of being President before he is 50.

WRITE - IN CANDIDATE . . . In the Raleigh Sears store last Saturday morning to get some spray for my fruit trees — all seven of them — I ran up with an old acquaintance.

He was standing there, when I first saw him, looking bemusedly at a garden tractor in operation — all six-feet-seven-275 lbs. of him. No ordinary appearing fellow — and a dead ringer for our Southern Senators and governors and Congressman as portrayed in movies manufactured by folks who were never further South than Atlantic City.

His name? Olla Ray Boyd of Pinetown. We talked about old times, hog cholera, and all that, and then I said — just to make conversation:

"Olla Ray, you're not a candidate for office this time, are you?"

With a you - ought - to -beashamed - of - yourself look, he gazed down at me and said: "Oh definitely, but merely as a write-in candidate."

He likes this write-in business, says it's the ideal way to win elections without spending a lot of money. I was so charmed by his philosophy that — I hate to admit this — I let him get away without asking him what he's a candidate for this time. But he's running.

ONE OR THE OTHER . . . Sam Ragan of the Raleigh News and Observer tells of the two girls who were being followed by a lone sailor. It could happen in your town. Finally the girls could stand the suspense no longer and turning to the sailor said, "Either quit following us or get another sailor."

SCOTT'S HEALTH . . . It's been a long time now — thanks to mutual friends of ours — since I've had a chat with my boss from 1942-47, W. Kerr Scott. I handled publicity for him in the State Agriculture Department during these years just before he beecame Governor—and he was by far the best boss ever I had — though I had some fine ones: the late Herbert Peele, Edenton School Superintendent J. A. Holmes, Columbus County Superintendent of Schols H. D. Browning, who now has the same job in Wilson County, and the late Willard L. Dowell, who for 23 years was secretary of the N. C. Merchants Association.

When I used to ramble over the state with Kerr Scott, he was an extremely vigorous man, full of pep, good humor. He was the biggest eater I ever saw. One time we stopped at Buck Overton's place out from Rocky Mount — and he ate two large barbecue dinners, and part of another one.

In Raleigh two months ago there were rumors that Sen. W. Kerr Scott had cancer of the stomach, a floating kidney, and a new kind of diabetes. Let a man lose 40 pounds in weight in about a year, he will look washed out and washed up. A little street-corner chatter will do the rest.

But a close friend of mine, Mayor C. W. Roberts of Leakesville, was in Senator Scott's office in Washington three weeks ago and found him looking good, alert, and liking his work. He's walking six miles a day, has been worried about lack of energy — but this latter shortcoming is not surprising for a farmer in the very shadow the the Eisenhower administration these days.

Senator Scott is taking some pills every day —as what man sixtyish isn't — but he thinks he's in good health and his doctors say he is. He was in Duke Hospital back in the winter for a checkup —and rumors had it he was in again last wek. But he wasn't.

We have had such bad luck with our senators within the past ten years—losing seven by defeat or death—it is not surprising that we get excited when he hear whispers of illness. Senator Scott is merely trying to prolong his life by losing weight.

Thou and thine shouldst probably do likewise.

NEW FACES? . . . Although we like very much the good men who now speak for North Carolina in the House of Rcresentatives in Washington, D. C.—for each of them has at some time rendered valuable personal and/or association service—we are not getting into these tussles associationwise or otherwise.

Nevertheless, we must needs be impressed by comment made by the Greensboro Daily News last week in regard to some of these gentlemen. This paper points to opposition this fall for Republican Charles Jonas in the 10th and Democrat Hugh Alexander in the 9th. It refers to the Primary battles coming May 26 and says:

"Thus five of the incumbents have real fights on their hands this Spring and two other congressmen may be battling for their seats next Fall. With a new Congressman scheduled to fill Woodrow Jones' seat, that means eight out of 12 congressional chairs could have new occupants."

The Daily concludes: "While no one believes anywhere like that many new faces will show up in Washington, there is a real possibility that some old-timers will be unseated."

NAME 'EM . . . It may be, as the Greensboro Daily says, that some "old-timers" will be knocked off this time. These are peculiar days — what with racial troubles, etc. — but it's all but impossible to beat out a Congressman in the South. Maybe you're older, or have kept up more closely with it, but so help me I can recall right now only one Congressman in North Carolina that has been beaten in the Primary in the past 40 years. Now Ham Jones last out to Charlie Jonas. I'm talking about a Democrat defeating a Democrat. L. H. Fountain downed aging John Kerr in 1952. Any others?

Bonner went up when Warren stepped down; Cooley went when Pou died; Chatham won when Folger quit; Durham won when Umstead retired; Carlyle won out when Clark retired; Deane went in when Burgin went out; Alexander came in when Doughton retired, etc. So it goes. Southern Congressmen can be beaten—but it takes some tall doings.

AMERICA BY 1975

America by 1975 will be a land in which electronics and ultrasonics will make our home work-loads much easier.

The National Association of Manufacturers cites an address by Dr. Robert C. Turner, professor of business administration, Indiana University, before the student body of the College of Business Administration, University of Georgia, concerning these expected changes.

Dr. Turner said in part:

". . . (4) Household Appliances

"'Those now in the semi-luxury stage will be standard equipment in every home. But there will also be new ones, and new developments in old ones. Examples: ultrasonic dish and clothes washing machines; electronic dust filters; . . . electronic methods of sound reproduction which render today's phonograph obsolete; electronic meal preparers replacing the kitchen stove, etc."

MHS News

By BILL COLLETTE

Mocksville continued to dominate the Forsyth - Davie Class A conference as it downed Lewisville 10-0 Tuesday at Rich Park, behind the 2-hit pitching of Billy Sell. R. Koontz got a single in the first inning and Atkins collected another in the 4th, but Sell faced only 28 men in the seven inning contest. He walked 3 and struck out 6, as he gained his third victory aginst 1 setback this season. Lester Allen and Henry Shutt led the hitting with 2 for 3 apiece as the Wildcats shelled starter Ziglar for 4 runs in the 5th. Southpaw Wayne Tuttle came on to retire the side, but he was touched for 4 more runs in the 6th that broke the game wide open. The locals collected a total of 10 hits.

The Wildcats gained revenge for their earlier defeat at the hands of Farmington by edging the Blue Devils 7-6 in a wild game, but the defensive play of the locals was a far cry from their usual performance. "Lefty" Howell gave up 6 hits while gaining his fifth victory of the present campaign. He displayed excellent form, fanning 15 batters and walking none, but the below par fielding made the game close all the way. The Wildcats scored the deciding run in the bottom of the 7th when Alton Sheek opened the inning with a triple down the right field line, his second of the night. Mackie Deadmon collected his second hit scoring Sheek. Lester Allen also had two safeties for the locals. Mocksville's record is now 12-1.

The Wildcats now have a batting average of .301. The conference batting mark is .343. The team also has stolen a total of 47 bases in 11 games.

Below are the individual batting averages:

	Conf.	O'all
Alton Sheek	.417	.351
Mackie Deadmon	.455	.406
Z. N. Anderson	.154	.324
Darwin Allen	.250	.333
Lester Allen	.538	.333
Henry Shutt	.333	.267
Dickie Nail	.222	.231
Billy Sell	.500	.300
Kenneth Howell	.500	.250

CHILEAN NITRATE—WORLD'S ONLY NATURAL NITRATE

Whatever the crop—corn, cotton, tobacco, pastures, small grains, fruits, vegetables—Chilean Soda top-dressings and side-dressings give the best results, lowest costs, largest net profits.

Natural Chilean works fast. Corn responds bountifully at rates up to 500 pounds per acre or more, 40 to 50 days after planting. The nitrogen in Chilean is 100 per cent fast-acting nitrate—invaluable at the critical stage of crop development.

Natural Chilean boosts yields. On cotton, side-dressings of 300 pounds or more, 35 to 40 days after planting, produce heavy-yielding, early-maturing plants. On pastures, too, it's a more efficient summer fertilizer than ammonia forms of nitrogen.

Natural Chilean contains sodium. Ammonia nitrogen is acid-forming and must be changed to the nitrate form in the soil, but every ton of Chilean contains sodium equivalent to 650 pounds of commercial limestone for destroying soil acidity.

Natural Chilean benefits crop and soil. Because it corrects acidity, improves potash, phosphate and minor element availabilities, Chilean is one of the most efficient and economical nitrogen fertilizers for side-dressing summer crops. Ask for Bulldog Soda. Look for the Bulldog on the bag.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lanier visited Mr. and Mrs. Layton Ammond in High Point Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joyner of Davidson County visited Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Joyner Saturday.

Mrs. Lester Young and Mrs. John Lanier visited Clarence Creason Sunday afternoon. He is a patient in Davie County Hospital.

J. B. Lanier, W. C. Lawson, Mrs. Debbie Livengood, Miss Ethel Hege and Mrs. Lester Young attended a meeting at the First Methodist Church, Lexington, Friday night.

Beverly Jean Pack celebrated her first birthday April 28. Those enjoying the party with her from two to four were: Tommy and Terry Stewart of Fork; Jimmy and Sandra Barnes of Elbaville; and Don Bailey. Mrs. Pack served birthday cake and ice cream to the children and Mrs. Tom Stewart, Mrs. Foy Bailey, Mrs. Pearl Pack and Mrs. Lester Young.

The locals will end the regular season's play Friday night when they meet the powerful Red Raiders of Kernersville High. The outcome of this game will probably decide the conference championship.

SOIL STEWARDSHIP

By C. W. THOMPSON

The earth and all that is related to it is the Lord's by virtue of His having conceived and created it. He created it whole and good, a perfect work, God made it for man's use.

Our existence depends on our continued good use of the land as a faithful steward under God. Conserving its resources so that we might live happily on the earth.

Therefore, man living on the earth and holding "dominion over" it and possessing legal ownership, must exercise his dominion in harmony with the will of God. He should continue to produce food, fiber, and fruit essential to human welfare. At the same time he must accept responsibility to conserve and enrich the soil he tills for the use of future generations. Then he needs never to be ashamed of his stewardship under God who made the earth and called it good and ordained man as its steward.

The week of May 6-13 has been designated as Soil Stewardship Week.

1956 COTTON AND TOBACCO COMPLIANCE

Around this time of year about the first order of business in most of our ASC offices is getitng ready for our big compliance job this summer, according to C. V. Smoot, chairman of the Davie County ASC Committee.

This business of checking compliance or measuring acreage planted to allotment crops, has always been a tremendous job. This year, that job will be even more of a strain on the ASC folks in the county. The absence of spring weather this year has thrown the season back a couple weeks already. As far as possible, measuring by county offices is supposed to be completed by June 30, the end of our fiscal year. The tobacco reporters will not be able to get out in the field until the last of May, this means that within about 30 days, counting Saturdays, 1,481 acres of tobacco and 2,160 acres of cotton must be measured in Davie County. With this situation facing us we see this measuring job is really going to be a job this year.

Measuring these crops necessitate visiting 856 tobacco farms and 1144 cotton farms and locating and outlining on an aerial photograph the fields, planted to the crop in order that the acreage may be computed. Reporters have already visited 873 wheat farms for the purpose of determining the acreage planted to this crop. Although each farm is allowed to plant 15 acres without any penalty the acreage has to be measured in order that a marketing card may be prepared to identify the crop.

Also 240 tobacco and 142 cotton farms were visited for the purpose of premeasuring the crop.

This premeasuring was done mainly as a service to the farmer and only farmers who requested the service and paid the actual cost of the service could have their crops premeasured by ASC. In premasurement, the reporter visited the farm and laid off for the farmer, in fields that he designated, the exact acreage that makes up his allotment of the various crops.

This saves the ASC reporter considerable time during the regular measuring season because when na reporter visits a farm that has been premeasured, all he has to do is check to see that the farmer planted the exact acreage that was laid off. When the farmer plants the exact acreage as laid off, no other measuring is necessary.

Within the next few weeks we will take on additional prospective reporters and will give them an intensive training course, followed by an examination to weed out the unqualified.

By the time the measuring season begins, we hope to have enough men who have been thoroughly trained and will be equipped and ready to go to work as soon as weather and planting conditions permit.

When the reporter reaches the farm, he first visits the fields which have been planted to the allotment crop. Where these fields follow the lines of permanent boundaries that reflect on the aerial photographs, the reporter only needs to outline the field following these boundary lines, and the rest of the measurement job will be performed in the ASC County Office. Where the field boundaries are not reflected by a road or a creek or any other identifiable line on the photograph, the reporter will make sufficient measurements on the ground to plot the lines of the field on the photograph. Again the actual determination of area involved is made in the county office.

When a reporter turns the aerial photograph in to the county office with the outlines of all fields planted to allotment crops entered, these fields are measured by technicians in the county office using an instrument called a rotometer. These are the same technical instruments used by the Army to check distances and areas from maps or photographs, and they are also widely used by Engineers and surveyors. The extreme accuracy of these instruments when using aerial photographs which have been taken according to rigid specifications, and corrected with the greatest degree of accuracy to the specific scale, provide as accurate a way to determine land areas as is available.

In addition to this measurement, the County Office spotchecks at least two per cent of all farms in the county for human error. This spotcheck is always made by a different person from the one who originally visited the farm, and from the one who originally determined the area on the map. In addition, the State Office employs spotcheckers who check an additional one per sent of all farms in the State.

This measurement of acreage planted to all basic crops in this State is a big job and a necessary job, but it is still just one part of an effort on the part of the farmers themselves to maintain supplies of these crops in line with demand. This voluntary effort on the part of farmers to work together and keep supplies in line assures the farmer that he will have some return for his year's labor and at the same time insures the consumer against inflationary prices caused by shortages. You notice the program is called voluntary. Even though Marketing Quotas on basic crops are provided for by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, these quotas are never placed in effect until the farmers affected, voting in a free election, request by a two-thirds majority that they be placed in effect. By way of protecting the farmer and the consumer the law that provides for Acreage Allotments, Marketing Quotas and Price Supports on basic commodities provides that the Secretary of Agriculture will set the Marketing Quota and Acreage Allotment for the commodity involved at a level that will prevent the accumulation of surpluses and yet will meet all domestic and foreign demand.

Although this program does do much for the consumers of farm commodities, its primary objective is to directly benefit farmers themselves. Farmers at this time of year should show their appreciation of the program by giving all possible assistance to ASC in checking planted acreage.

NHA Girls Attend State Convention

On Saturday, April 21, several NHA'ers of Davie County Training School attended the annual State Convention of the North Carolina Association of New Home makers of America at the Agricultural and Technical College in Greensboro. The students attending were: Rosie Hairston, Mae Nell Davidson, Nannie Pearl Frost, Barbara Shunn, Eva Jo Chunn, Betty Kemp, Lula Goolsby, Marion Doulin, Jeannette Mason and Lillie Johnson.

Some of the fetaures of the Convention were: a talent program with representatives from each District, Campaign speeches from the State Officers for National office, and the installation of 1956-57 State Officers and District Teacher Advisers.

The guest speaker for the afternoon was Miss Boletha Frojen, visiting lecturer of Woman's College, Greensboro. Miss Frojen is a native of North Dakota. She has traveled in the States and over different parts of the world teaching and supervising Home Economics. She gave interesting facts on the Hawaiian Islands. Their dress, the Hula Dance and different other interesting customs of the Hawaiians.

Lula Goolsby, a student of the Davie County Training School, and member of the New Homemakers Organization, campaigned and won as candidate for National vice president of the NHA. She was also installed as State vice president. Our local adviser, Miss A. A. White, was installed as District NHA adviser for NHA chapters in District VII.

These were thrilling events for the students of Davie County Training School and for our local adviser.

Miss Lula Mae Goolsby, a sophomore of the Davie County Training School, was installed as State vice president of North Carolina Association of New Homemakers of America on Saturday, April 21 at the annual State Convention which was held at the A & T College of Greensboro. Miss Goolsby was elected to represent North Carolina as candidate for National Vice President at the National Convention of the NHA to be held at Bethune Cookman College, of Daytona Beach, Fla., June 4-8. Miss Goolsby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Goolsby of Fork.

Olive Branch Cemetery To Be Park And Picnic Site

Farmington-Pino Group Reclaims Historic Site

The Olive Branch Cemetery, site of some of the earliest Methodist meetings in Davie County, is being restored as a park and picnic area by the people of the Farmington Community.

The Pino - Farmington Grange, in cooperation with the Farmington Community Council, is sponsoring a cleanup of this historic cemetery.

On April 28, people from both the Farmington and Pino communities met early in the morning at the cemetery with axes, rakes, honeysuckle cutters, and other implements to cut the dense undergrowth.

At noon, the women arrived with lunches which were spread under the grove at the entrance to the cemetery and the work halted and a picnic took place.

After the picnic, work continued until five o'clock and at that time approximately three - fourths of the cemetery had been cleared. A date will be set in the near future for the continuation of the cleanup activities which will also include the removal of debris from the grove and the placement of picnic tables there for the benefit of the community and passing tourists.

In addition to this cemetery clean-up, the clubs in the community have been sponsoring other projects.

Last Saturday, the Farmington Volunteer Fire Department held a rummage sale, selling everything from bits of wire to a grandfather clock. This rummage was collected in a community wide clean-up drive. The proceeds from this sale will be used to purchase additional equipment for the fire department.

A recently staged square dance at the school gymnasium, and painting and repairs on the fire station add to the activities of the Farmington Fire Department. At the present, plans are underway for the acquisition of shrubbery for the sides of the fire station.

The PTA o fthe Farmington school has improved the landscape of the school by placing shrubbery at the front of the auditorium. The grange is inspiring home development by sponsoring a community - wide mail box repair project.

The women of Farmington and Pino have backed the Women's Auxiliary of the Davie County Hospital and sponsored a house to house solicitation for the national cancer fund.

Among projects underway, but not completed, are the organization of a blood bank, disposal of trash and tin cans by periodic pickups; beautification of the "four corners" in Farmington; and a summer recreation program.

Donations To Local Hospital Announced

Donations made recently to the Davie County Hospital were announced this week by J. K. Sheek, chairman of the board of trustees. They were as follows:

Plastic soap dishes for the patients rooms and bathrooms, by the WSCS of the Salem Methodist Church.

110 yards of cotton twill by Erwin Mills of Cooleemee for use is making draw-sheets.

Claude Horn and C. J. Angell Appliance Company also made merchandise donations to the hospital.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson also made a donation.

Local Masons Get Degrees

The degrees were conferred upon them in Greensboro last Friday. The degree work was taken in Winston-Salem and Greensboro.

Those receiving the 32nd degree were: W. J. B. Sell, Robert Hendricks, Roy Harris, Bill Merrell, and James Boger.

Books To Close

Registration books in the county will close at 6 p.m., Saturday.

All those in the county who have not registered during this three week period will not be allowed to vote in the Primary on May 26th. As this is a new registration, everyone is required to register before being eigble to vote.

Easter Seal Sale In Davie Nets $1,096.50

A total of $1,096.50 was realized this year in Davie County in the annual Easter Seal drive.

According to Miss Jane McGuire, secretary of the Davie County Crippled Children's Association, said that the mail appeal brought in $531.60; the Lily Parade, $25; and the school campaigns netted $539.50.

Mocksville, $174.75.
Shady Grove, $44.77.
Farmington, $31.62.
Smith Grove, $39.22.
Wm. R. Davie, $82.36.
D.C.T.S., $61.32.
North Cooleemee, $26.65.

Local Draft Board Seeking Registrants

The Davie County Board of Selective Service is looking for William Kyle Edwards. His last known address was Route 1, Price, N. C. Prior to that his address was Mocksville, Route 2. He was born on May 29, 1927.

A spokesman for the local board requests that anyone knowing of his whereabouts to contact the local board. It was pointed out that he is not delinquent yet, but will be if not heard from soon.

Softball Meeting Monday Night, 7:30

There will be a meeting of all managers wishing to enter teams in the Mocksville Recreation Softball League this summer at the county court house, Monday night at 7:30.

James G. Latham, director of the program, urges that all teams be represented at this meeting.

Rummage Sale Makes $1,000 At Farmington

The Farmington Volunteer Fire Department realized more than $1,000 at the rummage sale held Saturday.

Wade Groce, Farmington Fire Chief, expressed thanks and appreciation on behalf of the Farmington Fire Department for the response and cooperation received.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

199 Patients Admitted To Davie County Hospital During March And April

Forty Births at Hospital During First Two Months

A total of 199 patents were admitted to the Davie County Hospital during the first two months of operation, according to a report released this week by Frank Ceruzzi, Hospital Administrator. There were a total of 40 births during March and April.

"In the observance of National Hospital Week (May 6-12) it is worthwhile to pause and reflect on what hospital week means to residents of small communities," said Mr. Ceruzzi.

"Most of us are indebted to some hospital which by using its special services and skills, has saved or prolonged the life of loved ones, or helped us back to health."

"It is well to recall the key role of the smaller hospital in maintaining the nation's health. It is here that is found the warmth and personal care which are so desired in time of distress. What the small hospital may lack in special equipment, it more often makes up in special services which no mechanical equipment can replace."

Since opening on March 1 of this year, the Davie County Hospital has shown a steady growth. This is reflected in the following statistics:

Days of care, March, 359; April, 546.

Laboratory procedures performed: March, 78; April 110.

In the 700 hospitals of the United States, more than 30,000,000 patients were cared for last year. This is the greatest number in any year of the hospital history.

More han 3,000,00 babies are born in hospitals in this country each year.

On an average day there are more than 1,300.00 persons in the hospitals of this nation.

POWER AND Versatility

5HP UTILITY TRACTOR
3 forward speeds and reverse

Here's the unit that'll save you time and money on jobs too small for 4 wheel tractors and too big for small garden tractors or hand work.

The 5 HP Briggs & Stratton engine packs the power to pull a 10" plow, a 10" rotary tiller, cultivate, mow, cut weeds, logs, and brush. Ride while you work, too, with this Model VA and Simplicity Riding Sulky or haul big loads with a Trailer Body. Use it for portable power for concrete mixers, pumps, generators.

100% free-wheeling, makes handling and turning easy. Finger-tip controls and gear shift for changing speeds, for stopping, starting and reverse.

Buy the Simplicity 5 HP Utility Tractor and you've got a hired man at a fraction of the cost. See it today.

Only $330, plus tax. (Attachments extra)

Sleep - walkers? Ghosts? No, it's just the seniors parading in their white caps and gowns. As soon as they arrived Thursday, all the seniors put them on and began a "grande marche." In one door and out the other up the aisle of the auditorium, out the front door with Brack Bailey, the class president, leading the way. As Coach Hardin put it—"They acted like a dog showing off a new set of fleas!"

This is the first graduation at which the Shady Grove seniors have worn white caps and gowns and we feel that the change is indeed a pleasant one.

The seniors are entertaining the juniors with a hamburger fry, Wednesday night, May 9, at Tanglewood Park. This s an annual affair that the seniors have for the juniors in appreciation for the Jr.-Sr. Banquet.

Brack Bailey and his parents will entertain the high school faculty and the seniors on Monday night, May 14, at their home.

The seniors are looking forward to both the party at Tanglewood and the party and Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Bailey's home with great anxiety.

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

By CLAUDE W. THOMPSON

Man's stewardship of the land is being emphasied in Davie County during this week.

The period of May 6-12 has been designated by Governor Luther H. Hodges for the observance of Soil Stewardsip Week. Soil Conservation Week is being observed this year throughout North Carolina during the same period.

The local observance includes sermons on soil stewardship in local church, community meetings, civic club programs on soil conservation, farm tours, etc.

The purpose of Soil Stewardship Week, which is sponsored by the National Asociation of Soil Conservation Districts is "to remind people in all walks of life that man is but a steward, not owner, of God's soil, water, and plants."

The observance was started as Soil Stewardship Sunday 10 years ago by a Southern farm magazine, Farm and Ranch. The response of ministers and laymen was so great that the soil stewardship idea spread rapidly. The National Soil Conservation District Association took over sponsorship of the event last year and this year expanded it from Soil Stewardship Sundayto Soil Stewardsip Week.

In North Carolina, where Soil Conservation Week has been observed for several years, the State Association of Soil Conservation Districts decided to combine the two observances this year during the week of May 6-12, which had been designated by the National Association as Soil Stewardship Week.

The National Association of Soil Conservation Districts has prepared booklets and other information to help pastors plan special services for the week emphasizing man's stewardship of the land. These are available locally from Supervisors of the Middle Yadkin District.

In urging widespread participation of the joint observance this year of Soil Stewardship Week and Soil Conservation Week, J. N. Smoot, Chairman of the local board of district supersivors said:

"I am proud that the ministers of our county have shown such interest in putting this program on through the churches of our town and county."

BOOSTS CORN and COTTON YIELDS!

Apply ARCADIAN Nitrogen Solutions in the row from a tank behind your tractor. Save all bag-lifting or fussing with high-pressure tanks. ARCADIAN FERAN* non-pressure Nitrogen Solution spreads fast from dribble tubes to the soil surface. ARCADIAN NITRANA* low-pressure Nitrogen Solution feeds crops quickly when you apply it 2 to 4 inches deep. Both FERAN and NITRANA give your crops quick-acting nitrate nitrogen and long-lasting ammonia nitrogen for a big yield boost at low cost.

Add FERAN Solution to irrigation water and let water do the work of carrying nitrogen to the crop roots. A hose to the suction side of the irrigation pump pulls ARCADIAN FERAN Solution from a tank or drum into the irrigation system.

SEE YOUR NEARBY SUPPLIER for low-cost, labor-saving ARCADIAN FERAN or NITRANA Nitrogen Solutions. Use the modern nitrogen side-dressing that saves backaches while it builds profitable yields.

Macedonia

The 100th anniversary celebration of the Macedonia Moravian church will be held Sunday, May 13. In the year 1956, a log meeting house was built on the present site of the Macedonia Moravian church and it was dedicated to the Lord on May 24, and 25 of that year. Sunday will be a milestone in the life of this congregation in more ways than one. Due to the hard work of the congregation and the former pastors, the background was laid for some of our present blessings from the Lord. After 100 years Macedonia has it's own band with 22 members. This past year saw an electronic organ installed and completly paid for by the congregation. There have been many other improvements. Our celebration on Sunday will be both a Thanksgiving and a challenge. The 11 o'clock service will feature our newly-formed Junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Paul Foster and the guest speaker will be the Rt. Rev. J. Kenneth Pfohl, Bishop of the Moravian Church. At 12:30 a picnic style lunch will be served on the church grounds and everyone is invited to come and rejoice with us on this day. After lunch there will be a band concert under the direction of Robert A. Mills. After the band concert, three former pastors will bring greetings: The Rev. G. E. Brewer, The Rev. Henry A. Lewis, and the Rev. J. George Bruner. There will be a lovefeast at 7:30 p.m. and the guest speaker will be the Rev. R. Gordon Spaugh.

Sunday is Mother's Day, and at Macedonia Sunday School a gift will be presented to the youngest, oldest, and the mother with the most children present. The Yadkin Valley Baptist Church will use this same procedure also, but Bethlehem Methodist will, give potted plants to three mothers as determined by a committee.

The Faithful Workers class of the Yadkin Valley Baptist church will meet at the home of Fletcher Williard for a fellowship supper at 6 p.m. Saturday night, May 12.

Keeping the Pace

An editorial appearing in a recent issue of "Fire Engineering" magazine points up the big problem facing many of the small fire departments of this country. Inasmuch it is of direct interest to so many in his county which is served by small volunteer departments, it is reprinted herewith:

"The volunteer fire forces of the nation today face many grave problems. One of the worst it that of keeping pace with the growth in fire hazards and resultant increasing need of improved fire protection in their districts.

"Today, with the shifts in population, in business, and industry and rapid growth of all-weather highways, there are no longer any rural and suburban fire departments. There are just fire departments — paid, part-paid and volunteer. Just as fire hazards know no emergency, so too is the problem of fire suppression universal.

"And, while fire hazards, and demands upon the fire forces of our towns, villages, and districts multiply and intensify, the costs to maintain and operate these forces are increasing. At the same time, also, the tasks of keeping the volunteer organizations at a high level of operating efficiency with the facilities at hand are grawing apace.

"Evidence of the seriousness of the situation is seen in the study of large-loss fires over the past few years. More than half the conflagrations (fires entailing losses of $250,000 or over) have occurred outside the city limits and were fought, at least in their early stages, by volunteers.

"These volunteers cannot necessarily be blamed for the resulting high losses. In many cases the cards were stacked against them before the fire occurred, or before they ever reached the fire ground. It is doubtful if even the largest municipal paid department could have controlled most of them, taking into account the types of buildings and occupancies involved, the delayed discovery and tardy alarm of fire, and the lack of modern fire decetion, alarm transmissions and extinguishing facilities.

"It is manifestly absurd to expect fire departments — volunteers in particular — which were organized and equipped to cope with only the simplest, commonplace types of fires such as have previously been encountered in rural and suburban areas, to successfully combat today's complex, even deadly types of blazes that eventuate in these new hazards. Indeed it is remarkable that volunteers have managed to achieve the high plane of efficiency which distinguishes so many of them, in the light of the failure of local and area government to support them financialy and in other ways.

"It is high time that our volunteer fire forces were reviewed and re-evaluated, in view of their present and future responsibilities. It is time that they were given financial as well as moral encouragement. It should no longer be necessary for them to have to finance their own essential operations — to pay for the privilege of risking their necks. The businesses and industries which they must protect should pay their just share of that protection.

"Mutual aid, under the organized county or area protection plan, is an asset of course, but it calls for cooperation and coordination of all fire protection forces, public and private. If outright fully-paid or paid and part-volunteer area protection such as is successfully being practiced in some localities is the answer, then let's have it.

"The situation calls for action—by the public, industry, government, and by the fire service itself—and now!"

Hoxey's Cancer Treatment

Sufferers from cancer, their families, and all concerned with the care of cancer patients have been advised by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare that the so-called Hoxey treatment for inernal cancer has been found to be a worthless treatment.

The Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act authorized dissemination of information garding drugs in situations involving imminent danger to health or gross deception to the consumer. The Hoxsey treatment for internal cancer involves such drugs and its sale represents gross deception to the consumer. It is imminently dangerous to relp upon it in neglect of competent and rational treatment.

The Hoxsey treatment costs the patient $400 plus $6 in additional fees; expenditures which will yield nothing of any value in the care of cancer. It begins with a superficial and inadequate examination of the patient at the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic, Texas, or Portage, Pa. The patient at Dallas is then supplied with one of the following "cancer" medicines: Black pills, red pills, a brownish-black liquid, or a light red liquid. The black pills and the brownish-black liquid contain: Potassium iodide, licorice, red clover blossoms, burdock root, Stillingia root, berberis root, poke root, cascare sagrada, prickly ash bark and buckthorn powder. The red pills contain potassium iodide, red clover, Stillingia root, poke root, buckthorn, and pepsin. At Portage the patient is given the same "cancer" medication although the colors of the pills are different.

There is evidence that potassium iodide accerelates the growth of some cancers.

The Food and Drug Administration has conducted a thorough and long-continuing investigation of the Hoxsey treatment. His claimed cures have been extensively studied and the Food and Drug Administration has not found a single verified cure of internal cancer effected by the Hoxsey treatment. In addition, the National Cancer Institute of the U. S. Public Health Service has reviewed case histories submitted by Hoxsey and advised him that the cases provided no scienific evidence that the Hoxsey treatment ahs any value in the treatment of incrnal cancer.

Those afflicted with cancer are warned not to be misled by false promise that the Hoxsey cancer treatment will cure or alleviate their condition. Cancer can be cured only through surgery or radiation. Death from cancer is inevitable when cancer patients fail to obtain cure "without the use of surgery, x-ray, or radium, as claimed by Hoxsey.

The new Coliseum here has been the talk of the town for severa days. City Commissioner Robert Moss had fought for such a building for years, one which would be a credit to New York City and would have show-rooms and auditoriums large enough to hold convention crowds. Well, he got i at last and we enjoyed seeing it Stamps, new automobiles and pho. tography displays were on view Main trouble in the big place was that many visitors got mixed up went out of the exits and found themselves on the street befor they knew it. Then they had t fuss or pay their way back i again. But hardly had the Coliseum opened when Commissioner Moses tried to open a parkin lot in Central Park. Irate moth ers descended on him like a to of bee-hives and literally scream ed that this park was meant fo parking babies, not cars. Mose fumed and took to the bullrushes —in fact, he left town for a two weeks vacation.

Both the chicken and the egg came first at the annual Chicken Booster Day celebration here at the Hotel Sheraton - McAlpin and the pretzel and potato were right along with them. It was a gala, food - filled occasion with our fine - feathered friends featured as being "out of this world," even hinting of fowls on other planets. A genial and hungry crowd milled up and down and there were a lot more present than just "us chickens." Nicest thing about the displays was that you could eat them. Tasty chickens combined with mushroms, cranberries, and pretels in all forms and shapes. Burnished apples from New Jersey vied with polished potatoes from Maine ,the latter having a big nail near each to show how they can be well cooked that way. Talks were short and the speakers were full of their subject.

I don't know how it is in your town, but it looks as if we will have 24-hour banking service here at any time. Little by little, the banks are extending their hours of being open until soon one can doubtless bank around the clock Well, maybe it will be nice to make a savings deposit before breakfast, take a late afternoon siesta in the air-conditioned safety-deposit vaults or float a midnight loan. These local institutions apparently are expending to take care of the increasing two-way money traffic.

Grover Whalen is known as a courteous man, but never was he more so than when he greeted Charles Linberg on the latter's return from his memorable solo flight across the ocean. According to the book about Grover, "Mr. New York," (Putnam), the colorful Mayor Jimmy Walker reminded Lindberg that there was a man who was vice president of a company that had spent a quarter of a million dollars, trying to do what Lindy did—that same man was the last one to shake the Lone Eagle's hand and bid him godspeed before he left—and that man was Grover Whalen.

Gotham Gatherings: Earl C. Buchanan sells eggs and poultry but in calling on his restaurant-customers here, he often has a problem. Seems they all insist he have a piece of pie or cake, etc., "on the house" and by the end of the day he feels like a stuffed egg—or fowl . . . ran across a 916 newspaper with an ad for a patent medicine stating it "Makes rheumatism, gout and lumbago folks jump with joy." And to think they had Prohobition then too . . . they say Grace Ranier now has 38 titles. With those and 15 cents he can ride the New York subways . . . sign on a sports equipment store on Broadway, "Flying spoken here"; and Abercrombie & Fitch, one of our biggest Madison Avenue stores, is selling live bait and worms as well as artificial fishing lures . . . Jerry Griffin says his aunt wired a Florida resort hotel asking for reservation and if she might bring her poodle. Her answer: "Come ahead. Some of our best friends are poodles." . . . asked an oldtimer and he said the greatest change in New York in 50 years is the absence of horses and wagons which hut playing children more, he said, than do cars nowadays. Too, he added whimsically, we are rid of the sparrows which followed the horses—in the streets.

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS

WASHINGTON — The death of Senator Alben W. Barkley has deeply saddened all of us. We had somehow grown to think of him as the leavening force in the Senate.

BARKLEY

Dr. Frederick Brown Harris is the chaplain of the Senate. I attended Senator Barkley's funeral at Foundry Methodist Church, and was so impressed by the eloquent an accurate tribute that Dr. Harris paid my late colleague at the funeral service that I am going to quote part of it here. Dr. Harris said:

"We are vastly poorer because his eloquent, passionate voice will be heard on longer in the Nation's councils, on its platforms, and in its forums.

"For us there is an altered world, since but a few hours ago he went down in full armor with unabated powers, having lived his strenuous years up to the hilt.

"We think of one who with unbowed head and unembittered heart met life's tragic losses, and who found constant fun in living, and who reveled in laughter; who loved folk more than fortune, and who was valiant as a knight of old in righting wrongs and enthroning justice; and who counted it as part of his religion to help see that his country was well governed.

"He so numbered his days, applying his heart to wisdom, because the whole world was the House of the Lord, as echoed by the last phrase which fell from his lips.

"We come in gratitude to think tenderly of one who occupied high office and yet never stooped to low designs; one who was greatly honored by his countrymen, but who ever put principle above pedestal, one who was a partisan with deep convictions without blind sopts."

As one reporter wrote about the funeral, "An onlooker, unfamiliar with American politics, would have found it impossible to tell whether Senator Barkley was a Republican or Democrat to judge from those who moved out into the rain."

All North Carolinians can rejoice in the fact that this great man's forebearers were North Carolinians. He and I often spoke about his connections in North Carolina.

TEXT: "Everything begins from loneliness."—John Erskine.

Mrs. Williams, in the darkened theatre, could find only two seats on the aisle, one behind the other. Wishing to sit beside her sister she cautiously surveyed the man in the next seat. Finally, she leaned over and whispered.

"I beg your pardon, sir, but are you alone?"

"Cut it out. Cut it out, sister. The wife's with me."

There is a vast difference between being alone and being lonely. Some people are never lonely, although often alone. Others are always lonely although never alone.

Lonely people wear many faces but no disguise. The child who shouts loudly; man who parades grandly; the woman who chatters sharply; those who despoil delicate sensations wantonly ,all are lonely. Their hearts cry for the companionship and approval of others. They need to be understood, not censured.

Everyone, no matter how poor or rich, illiterate or educated, ill or healthy, can make someone, somewhere, a little les lonely—a little happier.

Each time you lessen someone's loneliness, you step nearer to Heaven. You'll know that's true by the growing glow in your heart. Try it.

(Written this week by T. Greenwoo. Exec. V. P., N. C. Merchants Association).

WHAT HAPPENED? . . . He doesn't have as much hair as he did four years ago, but other than that Adlai Stevenson is the same man he was in 1952. He has gone quite a bit of traveling, reading, meeting and talking with people all over the world.

Then why is it that Adlai Stevenson, who I believe could have beaten anybody except Eisenhower in 1952, seems as faded as last year's rose. Why has the shine gone off the apple?

ABLE . . . My opinion is that he is the most able man in the Democratic Party — even though I care not for the way he walks, talks, or holds his head. It is that he doesn't have the common touch? Is he too intellectual?

In this day of television, radio, multi-million - circulation magazines — and newspapers blanketing the countryside — you are lost as a Presidential candidate if you are unable to communicate --as Stevenson puts it -- through these media and in a personal way, too. It may be that if Woodrow Wilson were living today, he could not be elected President of the United States.

HAD HIS DAY . . . The leading Democrats in North Carolina hope that Adlai Stevenson will be renominated for the Presidency—but a lot of them are privately of the opinion that he might not make it. He has lost his charm—four years from the time he was the brighest new star on the political horion. It remainds one of a few words in one of Auslander's poems: "This man is dead. Everything you can say is now quite definitely said: this man held up his head and had his day. Then turned his head a little to one way—an slept instead."

Keep an eye on Averell Harriman, Governor of New York, and his friend with the dark glasses, Stevenson sees Harriman as his principal opponent. He, rather than Estes Kefauver, is the man to watch.

As a whole, our North Carolina folks don't care too much for Kefauver . . . would prefer Harriman over Kefauver. I have a sly hunch that former President Harry Truman is biding his time and will throw strength to the man he named Secretary of Commerce when he kicked Henry Wallace out in 1946. Harriman, whose father left an estate of about 500 million dollars when he died in 1909, will be 65 in November. So it's this year—or not at all—for Averell Harriman. He is regarded as ultra-liberal.

DOUBTFUL . . . But it now looks doubtful if anybody the Democrats nominate can defeat that friend , to - everybody, the lovable Dwight D. Eisenhower.

DECLINE . . . Speaking of General Motors . . . we note that Chevrolet is now once again edging ahead of Ford in North Carolina. In March, latest month for which figures are available, 2,866 new Chevrolets were sold as compared with 2,680 Fords.

Although there has been some new-car sales decline as against a year ago, it hasn't been nearly as sharp as everybody last fall thought it would be. Here are comparisons for this March and March of 1955:

Buick, 1,006 and 1,052 in March '55; Cadillac, 197 and 166; Chevvy, 1,866 and, 1573; Chrysler, 192 and 224; Continental, none this year and six last; DeSoto, 150, and 192; Dodge, 273 and 388; Ford, 2,680 and 2,822; Hudson, 40 none last; Lincoln, 50 and 31; and 42; Imperial, 14 this yer and Mercury, 478 and 534; Nash, 96 and 75; Olds, 829 and 871; Packard, 34 and 54; Plymouth, still behind Buick for third place, 895 this year an 1,020 last; Pontiac, 895 and 917; studebaker, 150 and 171; and Willys, two this March and 27 last year.

New car sales through March total 27,424. Last year, same date: 27,524. Trucks, 6,005 this year as compared with only 4,779 for this time in 1955. Truck sales, March '56: 2:003; last March, 1,645.

SURVEY . . . Washington Columnist Stewart Alsop, who is about as nearly fair as any of them these days, with the cooperation of an expert has just completed a thorough survey among "75 American voters of all shapes, sizes, and shades of political opinion."

This testing of political opinion showed that President Eisenhower is stronger with the voters —at least outside the farm areas —than in 1952. Alsop reports that the President's heart attack is proving to be a political asset. He says: "A good many people apparently intended to vote for the President rather as one might send flowers to a sick friend, to cheer him up. We were unable to find a single person who had decided to vote against the President because of his health."

HOW LONG? . . . While on the subject of Time and Life, Lucely speaking, I read the other day how this fellow had measured a man's 70 years to the waking hours of the day—from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Here is the way you stack up:

If you are 15 years of age, the time is 10:25 a.m.—20 years of age, 11:34—25 years of age, 12:42, If you are 30 years of age it is 1:51 in the afternoon for you. If you are 35, the time is 3 o'clock. If you are 40, the time is 4:08—45, it is 5:16. If you are 50 years old, it is 6:25 . . . 55 years of age, 7:34; 60 years of age, 8:42; 65 years of age, the time is 9:51.

If you are 70 years of age, it is 11 o'clock.

REPORT CARD . . . At the risk of admitting that we are moving along, I must tell you that 35 years ago in the Jonesville Public Schools, our report cards were not furnished by city, county, or state. They came from the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. in Winston-Salem. Blanks for the marks and signatures of parents were on the front, with the advertisement for the bank on the back of the card.

But the little statement in the Vachovia ad on the flip-side made a lasting impression upon me—"If Youth but knew what Age would have, many a penny Youth would save" — while I forgot much of what listed on the front.

And heard about Benjamin Franklin, the man who said it. My trouble was that I didn't know Youth, had never heard or seen the name before. It wasn't until some 35 years afterward—much too late to become really well acquainted with him—that I saw in the eyes of a son. The flip-side ad was passed along—with parental interpretation.

THE PROPHESY . . . Twenty-three years before he was to go to the U. S. Senate I believe while he was editor of the Biblical Recorder, the late Josiah William Bailey, said: "Although volumes of Dante and Shakespeare or Browning and Tennyson may be on our shelves, when the mood strikes, by the fireside, we must dream a little with our own heart's interpreter and sweet companion, John Charles McNeill. In such a nook, should all the critics gather round and all the great poets protest, we should shamelessly confess the hunger of our hearts for McNeill

"By and by an awakened world will speak tenderly his name the while it lingers lovingly upon this or that heart-moving line of his, as North Carolinians do now."

Bailey and McNeill had been classmates at Wake Forest and were the warmest of friends. John Charles McNeill's poetry, as J. W. Bailey prophesied, is in sharper demand today than the year his two volumes first appeared. ("You will not—will you?—soon forget when I was one of you, nor love me less that Time has borne my craft to currents new.")

All of which is to announce that the seventh editions of his two books, "Lyrics From Cottonland" and "Songs Merry and Sad," are now being printed through the University of North Carolina Press and will be available at bookstores around the latter part of June. ("Nor shall I ever cease to share your hardships and your joys, robust, rough-spoken, gentle-hearted unburnt boys").

AMERICA BY 1975

America by 1975 will be a land in which we may ride on trains powered by coal-fired gas turbine locomotives.

The National Association of Manufacturers cites a 1954 report of the Department of Coal Economics, National Coal Association, regarding this prospective development.

The report says, in part:

" . . . Various coal producers and railmen have cooperated; pooling teclnical finds, funds, personnel to develop the coal-fired gas turbine to compete with diesels. Still in the experimental stage, it requires no water for steam or cooling even for a transcontinental run. A commercially produced gas turbine engine will also have a very significant application in stationary power plants and other new uses."

RE-ELECT

C. B. DEANE
TO CONGRESS

To the Voters of Davie County: I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the men and women of Davie County for the active support being given me in my campaign for re-election to Congress. By splendid majorities you have sent me to Congress. By your vote and confidence you have enabled me to gain valuable seniority. As the only Congressman from North Carolina on the important Appropriations Committee, I feel that I have reached a position where I can give my greatest service to our district.

Gratefully yours,
C. B. DEANE

READY FOR BIG RACE: Jim Paschal of High Point, shown here with his 1956 Mercury is ready for the 100-mile Grand National Circuit race at Orange Speedway in Hillsboro, N. C. for next Sunday, May 13, and also for the first annual "Virginia 500" which will be staged at Martinsville, Va., Speedway Sunday, May 20. Paschal has won 100-mile races at both tracks and rates among the top favorites.

Bobby Myers Wins In Race At Stadium

Bobby Myers roared to first place in the sportsman feature before 7,000 spectators at Bowman Gray Stadium last Saturday night, taking the lead on the 15th of 35 laps and keeping it.

The Winston - Salem speedster passed Whitey Norman who drew the pole position and stayed in front for the early laps; and continued the rest of the way without serious challenge. The main duel developed for second place between Glenn Wood of Stuart, Va., and Norman. Wood finally went by Norman on the 32nd lap and they finished in that order.

Both sportsmen and amateurs will race again on Saturday night at 8 p.m.

The trouble with patience is that the more you have the more some people use it.

By BILL COLLETTE

The Wildcats suffered their second loss of the season (their first in conference play as they bowed to Clemmons, 4-3. A pop-up double that dropped just out of reach of the shortstop in the first set up one run, while a double down the right field line that fell just inches beyond the fielder's fingertips in the sixth put two more men in scoring position. These proved to be the deciding factors in the contest. In the meantime fast baller Jim Fant held the Wildcats in check until the sixth inning without allowing a hit. Darwin Allen finally broke the ice with a hard hit bouncer that hopped over the second baseman's head for a single, driving in the local's first run. They added two more in the 7th on two walks followed by a single into center field by Otis Snow (Mocksville's only clean hit) and a hard hit ball to the second baseman by Alton Sheek, but Deadmon filed out to left field to end the game. Fant struck out a total of 11 men, Billy Sell pitched for the 'Cats and yielded only six hits, but the breaks went against him from the start.

Mocksville scored two runs off starter Tommy Echols in the 1st and added another at the expense of rellefer Osburn to defeat Kernersville 3-1 in a game that gave Mocksville first place in the Davie-Forsyth Class A Conference. It was the Red Raider's second conference loss in four years (both to the Wildcats this year).

Alton Sheek lead off in the first with a triple that was followed by singles by Z. N. Anderson, Darwin Allen, and Lester Allen, giving the local's a 2-0 lead. At this point Echols was relieved by Osburn, who pitched excellent ball the remainder of the game. "Lefty" Kenneth Howell went the distance for the Wildcats and allowed only two safeties as he was credited with his 13th straight victory over a two year period. However, one of these was a round-tripper by William Bennett in the 5th. Lester Allen with 2 for 3, Z. N. Anderson with 1 for 2, and Alton Sheek, and Mackie Deadmon with 1 for 3, both triples, led the hitting for Mocksville. Howell fanned ten to bring his total for the season to 55.

As champions of the Davie-Forsyth conference the Wildcats will meet King, Stokes County champs in the play offs this week. The winner of this series will meet the Yadkin Valley champion.

"LET GOD BE TRUE"

By J. B. WHITAKER

In Luke 2 we have the story of the parents of Jesus going to Jerusalem for the feast of the passover. This incident takes place when Jesus was twelve years old. We read in Luke 2:43, 44—"And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not of it. But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey; and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance." This story is familiar to all of us. It is a pathetic story, yet it is full of meaning for people today.

The record says that Mary and Joseph "supposed Him to be in their company." This is a fault with most all of the human family—they go on mere supposition. Think of the many heartaches and blunders we experience today just because we suppose that everything is alright. This incident teaches us very clearly that it will not do just to suppose a thing is right in religion. Many people are practicing things today on a mere supposition that that thing is alright. Many people have been led astray because they supposed some religious teacher was alright. Joseph and Mary thought Jesus was with them when He was not. They could have known by investigation that He was not with them. Why think that strange when, maybe for years, you have belonged to some church supposing, all the while, that it is of Christ and that He is in it, when by investigation and study of the New Testament you could know assuredly that He is not there? Many suppose a church is right because parents belonged to it. The common reasoning is: "If it was good enough for father and mother it is good enough for me." Many will not search the Tew Testement to see if it was right for mother and father. Again some suppose a church to be right because it is old or wealthy or big. None of these things prove that Christ dwells there.

In this story Joseph and Mary went back to Jerusalem and found Jesus right where they left Him. This is our desire and plea today. Christ can not be found in the denominations we see about us but in the original gospel which went forth from Jerusalem. We find the frist congregation of the church of Christ in that city (Acts 2). Back to Jesusalem means back to the New Testament, back to the Apostles' doctrine, back to the true worship for Christians today. When we see the confused religious condition of the world today we can know of a surety that they have lost the Christ. The opinions, commandments, and precepts of man have been substituted for the teachings of Christ. If we walk in the light of the word of Christ we have the promise of His abiding presence (2 John 9-11.) (Adv).

STRAWBERRY TIME!

Spring is the time for fresh strawberries and cream, strawberry shortcake, and many other luscious strawberry dishes. The North Carolina strawberry crop will move to market in May. We have only 1500 acres produced commercially in North Carolina, but get strawberries, fresh and frozen, from other states. Fresh strawberries should be at their lowest price when the local crop is moving to market.

What Varetles Do We Grow?

The Massey has long been the favorite in North Carolina, but the recently developed Albritton has gained fast in popularity. It is a good bearer and a firm, well-flavored full - colored berry. Most of our berries are produced in Southeastern North Carolina. Some everbearing varities are popular in the mountains but don't do well at lower altitudes.

What Indicates Quality?

In fresh strawberries:

Look for:

Clean, bright fresh appearance
Full solid red color
Dry, glossy surface ... .
Free from dirt, trash
Cap attached to each berry.

Avoid:

Dull, lusterless, shrunken berries that indicate overripe fruit.
Leaky or damaged fruit indicated by stained container
Decay, indicated by mold.
Berries without caps, may have been roughly handled or may be over mature.

Size is not an indication of quality. The largest berries are generally preferred for desserts, because of their size and appearance. However, some large varieties have white or hollow centers. Small berries give a larger measure, but take longer to remove caps.

What Is Proper Care?

Strawberries are very perishable. Handle carefully and little as possible. At home: Carefully pour from box into a shallow pan or tray. Remove the bad ones. Store unwashed, uncovered, or coverely loosely with waxpaper. Store at 32-35 degrees F. Before serving: Wash quickly and gently in bowl of cold water. Carefully lift out with fingers. Remove caps. Don't soak in water, for they become waterlogged.

What Do Strawberries Provide?

Besides a wealth of eating pleasure, fresh strawberries are an excellent source of Vitamin C. A cup of fresh strawberries provides 80 per cent of the day's vitamin C needs for a physically active man. Properly handled strawberries during processing and storage retain most of the original vitamin C. They also have small amounts of vitamins A and B and minerals. For the calorie counters, they give only 55 calories per cup (without sweetening).

Strawberries Freeze Well!

Frozen strawberries rank first on our list of commercial frozen fruits. Home freezing is also popular and easy to do.

For best freezing results: Select only firm, fully ripe, deep-colored berries. Wash in very cold water—preferably ice water. Cap and keep cool until frozen.

For chopped or sliced berries—use one-fourth pound sugar per pound of berries. Mix sugar and berries well by stirring. Pack and freeze.

For whole berries: Use 40-50 per cent syrup.

For puree: Small berries and slightly under or overripe may be used, but should be sound. Pour berries through sieve or food mixer, mix 4 to 1 by weight with sugar and freeze.

Some Delicious Ways To Serve:

Strawberries and cream were once a luxury, but are a favorite today. For added pleasure, wash, cap and cover with sugar an hour or two before serving. Keep in refrigerator.

Crushed strawberries and sugar added to a glass of milk make a delightful refreshment.

Strawberries go well in many ways:

Dipped in powdered sugar
With cream cheese on crackers
On shortcake with milk or cream
On cereal with milk or cream.
In ice cream
In sherbert
In fruit cup
With milk or cream
In jams, jellies

Rules and Regulations For The 1956 Proved Sire Bred Heifer Sale

1. Sales to start promptly at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, August 22, Iredell County Fairgrounds, Statesville, with lunch available on the grounds.

2. Animals must be in sale barn by 5 p.m. of the day before sale.

3. Sale will consist of both Grade and Registered animals that are a result of artificial breeding to desirably proved bulls that have been located in an artificial breeding stud.

4. Only first calf heifers that have been dehorned will be accepted.

5. All heifers must freshen between August 1 and Nov. 1 with preference being given to animals calving near to sale time.

6. All Grade daughters of Asheville bulls must be positively identified as to sire by securing through the technician a certificate of identification issued by the stud.

7. Breeding dates must be furnished on all cattle. If bred artificially the breeding receipt must be transferred to the buyer.

8. Registration and transfer papers must be furnished on all purebreds at seller's expense.

9. County selections must be completed by May 31, 1956.

10. Final selections will be made by a committee of out of county personnel by June 15, 1956—and this committee may reject any animal that in its opinion does not meet the requirements as outlined by the steering committee.

11. All animals must be properly fitted (clipped and clean) and halter broken. At each sale the animal judged to be best fitted will be sold without any commission charge.

12. All animals must negative to T.M. and Bangs test not more than thirty (30) days prior to sale and must come from a herd that was either accredited for Bangs and T.B. or was negative to these tests within the last 12 months. Individual copies of out of state health papers must accompany consigned animals.

13. The sale is to be operated on a non-profit basis and shall be financed by charging a small commission of approximately 7-10% of sale price.

Annual Ham Show and Sale

The Annual Northwest North Carolina Development Association Ham Show and Sale will be held June 26th at the Agricultural Building in Winston - Salem. Davie County will be allowed to sell five to ten hams in this sale. Below is a list of rules and regulations for the show and sale and it is hoped that we will be able to get this number of hams for the show and sale. People desiring to sell some hams in this sale should get in touch with one of the county agents in the immediate future.

1. All hams entered in the show and sale must be in cure before Jan. 1.

2. All hams should be sugar cured.

3. All hams should be left in cure according to a recommended curing schule to avoid over salty meats.

4. Hams should be soaked in cold water for about one hour after coming out of cure. This is to prevent salt streaking.

5. All hams should be smoked to a uniform color.

6. Liquid smoke should not be used on hams.

7. There should be no anti-skipper compounds used on hams or other applications of sugar or pepper.

8. All hams should be bagged to prevent insect damage.

9. All hams must be cured by Inhibitor.

10. Hams should not weigh less than 10 pounds or more than 22 pounds.

11. All hams should be well trimmed.

12. Limit number of hams entered by each exhibitor (number to be decided by committee).

13. All hams will be probed and all off-odor hams will be rejected.

* The sugar cure is not compulsory, but it is desirable to have some proportion of sugar mixed with the salt.

FHS News

By JOHNSIE ELLIS AND JOE BUSIEK

Last week "Sweet Seventeen" turned eighteen for Bessie Seats at a surprise birthday party. Like so many surprise birthday parties, however, the news leaked out ahead of time but the celebration turned out a great success. The eighteen guests at the 18th birthday were: Peggy Dull, Ann Harding, Joyce Payne, Virginia Boger, James Crowder, Betty Lapish, Kelley Reavis, Clarence Elmore, Lester Phillips, Charles Grady Anderson, Dianne Seats, Johnsie Ellis Jean and Jo Rupard, Doris Hutchens, Elaine Davis, Linda Hanes.

Farmington's monthly 4-H Club meeting was held last week with Johnny Hauser presiding and Jean Sharpe assisting. With the regular program chairman sick, a program was hastily improvised. Slides and explanations about the 4-H Camp, Camp Millstone, were given by Miss Warlick and Mr. Baker. Several students signed up for Camp.

At the 4-H County Council, only three students from Farmington, Jean Sharpe, Margaret Jo Harpe, and W. B. Sharpe, enjoyed the delicious refreshments served by Smith Grove, took part in answering riddles asked by Mr. Baker, an square danced. Maybe we can get a better showing at the nevt (the last) meeting.

At the return baseball game with Mocksville at Mocksville in a night game, Farmington put up a good stiff battle which almost, but not quite, won the game. The final score was 7-6 in favor of Mocksville.

The next game, the game with Advance, turned out to be a different story, though, with a 2-0 win. Yes, with Clarence Driver on the pitching mound for all but 2 innings when Lawrence Gregory replaced him, Farmington allowed not even one run to Advance—some pitching and fielding, huh? Special mention is given to the picture and article about Farmington's star pitcher. Lawrence Gregory, on the sports page of the Sunday Winston - Salem Journal and Sentinel for his pitching against Mocksville which resulted in a victory for Farmington and the first loss for Mocksville.

Farmington's Beta Club sent 2 of its members, Johnny Houser and Joe Busiek, to the annual Beta Club Convention in Asheville. They enjoyed the talent show, conventions, elections, jokes, speeches, the banquet and the dance that ended the convention. Transportation was cordially extened to them by the Mocksville Betas.

As graduation time is drawing near, the Junior Class marshalls have been selected so that they may start preparing for the grand send-off for the seniors. Johnsie Ellis as Chief Marshall will be helped by Johnny McBride, Camilla Jarvis, Gary Groce, Barbara Wright and Vivian McKnight.

PRICE SUPPORT RATES

Farmers in the county need to know more about the price support program, according to C. V. Smoot, Chairman of the Davie County ASC. Actually, price supports are just one phase of our farm program; other links in the chain are acreage allotments and marketing quotas. On three of our basic commodities, cotton, wheat and tobacco, farmers are assigned an acreage allotment that they must plant within in order to be eligible for price supports. This acreage allotment represents the farm's share of the acreage needed nationwide to provide an adequate supply of the commodity to meet domestic and foreign needs and to provide a small reserve for contingencies. The acreage allotment is converted to a marketing quota which represents the production from the acreage allotment. Therefore acreage allotments and marketing quotas serve to keep the supply of basic commodities at or near the amount the Secretary of Agriculture determined would be needed to meet demands. Acreage allotments and marketing quotas also determine eligibility for price support on the commodities involved.

As we brought out last week, all farmers are notified of their acreage allotment; they all understand this allotment, and why it is necessary, and ASC makes an individual check on the plantings of each farmer to see that he has complied with the allotment. The price support phase of our farm program however, involves the setting up by the Secretary of Agriculture of a level of price support on the basic and non-basic commodities. These rates, when set by the Secretary of Agriculture, usually as a national average rate are converted to State or area rates and the farmers are advised of these rates. At the same time farmers are advised that they may secure, through the ASC County Office, or through the Stabiliation Corporation, in the case of tobacco, loans on their commodity at the loan or support rate. Every year, there are some farmers who do not know that they can secure these loans, or in the case of grains or cotton, have not prepared in advance storage space for these commodities while under Government loan. There are also some farmers every year who sell their commodities at a rate lower than the support rate because they do not keep up with the rates when announced by the local ASC County Office.

We have had quite a few support rates announced recently and the Secretary of Agriculture has just made quite a change in our support program on corn.

When President Eisenhower announced his decision to veto the Agricultural Act of 1956, he requested the Secretary of Agriculture to take prompt administrative action to increase farm income this year. One action taken by the Secretary in complying with the President's request was to increase the minimum national average support price for 1956-crop wheat from $1.81 a bushel to $2 a bushel. This was accomplished by increasing the percentage support level from 76 per cent of parity to 83.7 per cent of parity. For the type wheat produced in this county our minimum support level will be around $2.22. That word "minimum" means that the support rate will not be reduced below $2.00 per bushel, and in the event that 83½ per cent of parity on July 1, 1956, is more than $2.00 per bushel, the support rate will be increased accordingly.

In the 73 non - commercial corn counties, including Davie, support is required by law to be set at 75 per cent of the rate paid in the commercial area. The approximate minimum national average is $1.12½ a bushel. For Davie County this rate would be approximately $1.24½.

Tobacco for this year is still under mandatory 90 per cent support, and on flue-cured this year, the minimum national average support rate will be 48.2 cents a pound. The average loan levels are based on parity price as of March 15, 1956. The actual support level will be the minimum shown or the level computed at the beginning of the marketing year whichever is greater. For flue-cured tobacco, this is July 1. Price support will be based on official standard grades at a specified rate for each grade.

These support rates are important. Only by the farmer's being aware of the minimum price guarantee provided him by the Federal Government in the form of price supports can he know what his minimum price should be when he sells on the open market. Farmers who produce any of the basic or non - basic commodties currently under price support should make themselves familiar with all aspects of the program. The local ASC County Ofice Manager will be glad to answer any questions on these price support programs. It's better to ask questions than to lose money in the market place!

West Yadkin Wins Opener With No-Hit Game Tuesday Night

It will be do or die for Mocksville here Thursday night when they take on the West Yadkin nine in the second round of their two out of three play-off series in the state Class A play-offs.

Jerry Dickerson, a senior right-hander pitched a five-inning no-hitter Tuesday night as his West Yadkin team defeated Mocksville 7 to 0 in the opener of the series at West Yadkin.

After West Yadkin had exploded for all seven of its runs in the fourth, rain began falling in the top of the fifth. The game was called as soon as the side was retired.

West Yadkin's runs came on a single by Marcus Allred, an error by the first baseman, a double, single, triple, a hit batsman, another single, and Marcus Allred's double, his second hit of the inning. H. T. Meroney then relieved starter, Ken Howell, to strike out Money to retire the side.

Former Davie Man Killed In Explosion

John Ed Ratledge, 37, of Elkin, was killed Monday morning when a gasoline tank exploded in downtown Elkin.

Mr. Ratledge is a former native of Davie County and he and his family lived for many years next to the McGuire home on Salisbury Street.

Mr. Ratledge was born in Davie County June 8, 1919, the son of John Wilson and Elsie Jones Ratledge.

He was graduated from Elkin High School in 1938 where he was an outstanding athlete. He was a veteran of World War II, having served two years in the Army, part of the time overseas. After his discharge from the Army he went into business with his father in the service station.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church and William J. Jones Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was married to Miss Ruth Mull in 1943.

Surviving are the widow; two children, Judy and John Edgar Ratledge, Jr., all of the home; his parents; four brothers, Hayden Ratledge of Marion, Bob and Fred Ratledge of Elkin and Ray Ratledge of Winston-Salem; and one sister, Mrs. Luke Irwin of Elkin.

The explosion occured about 9:45 a.m Monday in the submerged tanks of the service station while a tanker from a Sanford oil company was filling the station's underground tanks.

Mr. Ratledge and Mr. Cooke went underneath the station to determine why one of the tanks was overflowing. Shortly after they went underground, there was a violent explosion.

The two men came out of the lower part of the building, covered with burns and with most of their clothes burned off. They were rushed to the hospital.

Lions Club Makes Recording Of Bible Available to Blind

40 Blind In Davie Now Are Reading by Machines

Forty blind people in Davie County are now reading extensively with their ears, by way of talking book machines, or record players, loaned to them—indefinitely and free—by the Library of Congress in Washington and distributed here by Miss Nelle Ransom, case worker for the North Carolina Commission for the Blind.

And last week a complete recording of the Bible was purchased by the Mocksville Lions Club for Mrs. C. Frank Stroud of Mocksville. However, these recordings of the Bible may be loaned to anyone in the county who wants them.

More than half of the talking machines distributed in the U. S. are in North Caro'ina because of the extensive job being done here by the commission. And the most popular book in the state, without even a close runner-up, is the Bible.

Miss Ransom tells of the time she visited the Library of Congress and asked why it was so difficult for her people to get the Bible when they could get anything else with ease.

"Because everybody in North Carolina wants it," she was told. Generally one or two books of the Bible are sent at a time and frequently patrons must wait their turn.

Miss Ransom thinks that the Bible has a special significance to the handicapped.

"When a person loses his sight —especially in later life—a person who's religious — or a person who's become bitter — he wants the Bible. He needs it to turn to as a source of comfort and relief, something to sustain him."

The record players are loaned to the people who want them for as long as they want them. Books or records are mailed to them, two at a time for a two-week period, with no charge even for postage. The only requirement is that they take them back to the post office for mailing themselves. They come packed in special boxes that require only the flip of a card to have them re-addressed and ready for return.

When Mrs. C. Frank Stroud got her machine, she sent the Library of Congress a list of 25 books that she wanted to read—and soon they started arriving regularly. As Herman Bennett, age 11, of Mocksville, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Daniel, was slightly injured in a mishap Tuesday afternoon.

According to Policeman C. R. Plowman, Herman riding a bicycle attempted to go between a truck and some parked cars. His bicycle struck the rear wheel of the truck, throwing Herman from the bicycle onto the highway.

He was taken to the Davie County Hospital where he was examined and released.

Local People To Attend Boarding Home Institute

Nine institutes on boarding home care for adults are planned by the State Board of Public Welfare to be held throughout the State between May 15 and June 1.

In announcing these institutes, Dr. Ellen Winston, Commissioner of the State Board of Public Welfare, stated that the purpose of the meetings would be to offer help to the operators of homes for adults in meeting the need in this state for these facilities for the aging and infirm.

There are now 204 homes in 73 counties with a capacity of approximately 3,600.

Among the subjects which will be discussed by qualified personnel at these meetings will be: essential safety measures in home care, personal hygiene, good housekeeping, accident prevention, more effective use of health resources, use of leisure time and related matters.

Operators of homes in counties surrounding the place of meeting will attend the nine institutes. Those from Davie planning to attend the institute in Lexington on May 23rd, include Woodrow Wilson, operator of Lynn Haven Nursing Home; Miss Ossie Allison and Mrs. Charlie Smoot of the Davie County Welfare Department.

MYSTERY FARM

Last week's mystery farm was identified as that of B. T. Browder by Mrs. Robert Ellis.

Soldier Injured Sunday At North Wilkesboro

A cargo helicopter from Fort Bragg landed in the field back of the Davie County Hospital Monday, picking up a soldier who had been hospitalized here since Sunday night.

Pfc. Billy M. Henry, 21, of the 301st Airborne Squadron at Fort Bragg, was returned to Fort Bragg for further medical attention.

Pfc. Henry, a New Mexico native, was reported injured while attempting to ride a Brahma bull in a rodeo at North Wilkesboro Sunday afternoon when he was thrown against a steel railing. At the time, Henry did not appear to be seriously injured. However, two or three hours later, while on the way back to Fort Bragg in the company of several companions, Henry become sick and violently maniacal and the stop was made at the Davie County Hospital.

Dr. R. D. Kornegay, who examined and treated the soldier, said that he suffered a concussion and a possible shoulder separation. Authorities at Fort Bragg were notified and they made arrangements to send a helicopter after Henry. They requested that a landing spot be marked with a whitecross, which was done by the use of sheets, and that a fire truck be on hand in case of an emergency.

Jack Ward Named Athletic Director For Davie School

Board Names Four To Davie's Coaching Staff

Jack Ward, coach and director of athletics at the Cooleemee High School, has been named Director of Physical Education and Athletics for the new Davie County High School which will open this fall. Mr. Ward will serve as head football coach in addition to his other duties.

Other members of the coaching staff selected by the Davie County High School Board at a meeting held last week were Frank Hardin of Advance, Bill Peeler of Mocksville and Gene Dull of Farmington.

The school board met last week with Davie County School Superintendent, Curtis Price, and organized. Gordon Tomlinson of Mocksville was elected as chairman, and Dick Everhardt of Cooleemee, secretary. Other board members present were Gene Bennett of Shady Grove and C. B. Seats of Farmington.

Teachers for the new school are expected to be elected and announced in the near future. The selection of a principal for the school is expected to be made sometime in the early summer.

FHS News

By JOHNSIE ELLIS AND JOE BUSIEK

"Take me out to the ballgame, take me out with the crowd . . ." seems to be the motto of all the Farmington students this week. Last Friday, our team played host to Cooleemee and defeated them 5 to 1. Lawrence Gregory pitched this game and 4 of the 5 runs were driven in by Jim Smith, who knocked a home run. All of the team did a swell job in the field. Our only county defeat was against Mocksville. We were then defeated by only one run. The Farmington team closes its season Thursday at Yadkinville.

The Beta Club met last Monday night for the last time this year. All the business was discussed and completed. At this meeting, the club decided to donate the remainder of its money to the Athletic Fund for the new school. Near the close of the meeting, Mr. W. O. Dull, our sponsor, rendered a short, but profitable speech. The club certainly appreciates all that Mr. Dull has done this year to help make better students and leaders out of the members. We feel that our monthly meetings have been very worthwhile and that we have accomplished much.

The chorus, directed by Mrs. Nina Groce, is busy preparing for the musical part of graduation. The seniors, though, are working harder than the chorus toward this big event. Our Baccalaureate sermon will be on Sunday night, May 20, at 8:00; Class night will be on Monday night, May 21, at 8:00; and graduation will be on Tuesday night, May 22, at 8:00.

The seniors had individual pictures and group pictures made in their graduation caps and gowns, last Tuesday. All the activities at Farmington seem to point to the big event, graduation, which is only a few short days away.

MORE ABOUT

soon as she returns one set, new ones are sent. A typical list submitted recently included a book of Peter Marshall's, numerous selections from the Bible, Wilson's "Nine Bridges" and "Granny Rite," Neal Buck's "The Good Earth," etc. Current issues of the Reader's Digest are also available on record.

There are recorded books on religion, adventure, travel, wild west stories, mysteries, plays and novels of all kinds. "Gone With The Wind," a great favorite, requires three boxes for all the records.

Ads Work No Miracles

Some retailers often remark: "Advertising doesn't pay. I tried it once and never sold a thing." That could easily happen, and the same merchant might also say "That doctor gave me a bottle of pills. I took one and it didn't do me any good." And it could be that he took the wrong pill.

Advertising can only recite the qualities of a product or store and recite it thousands of times. Advertising can only spread the word about what is there. And since all people are not in the market for the same thing every day, it is possible to run one advertisement without response.

Before a retailer judges the worth of a newspaper advertisement there are a few things that should be considered. First, did the advertisement give the woman customer any reason for reading it? The customer must have a reason for giving her time. A platitude and the store's name sells nothing in the newspaper. The customer wants INFORMATION —complete information, and she will read any newspaper advertisement that gives it to her, no matter what length, as long as it keeps her interest. PUT THE BEST SALESMANSHIP IN THE NEWSPAPER COPY. ILLUSTRATE THE LAYOUT WITH ATTRACTIVE PICTURES. TELL THE CUSTOMER A REASON FOR MAKING THE PURCHASE, FOR MAKNIG A CHANGE, FOR COMING TO YOUR STORE.

We think we live in a rough age, but things have been worse. Some figures just released here by the Health Information Foundation show that for every 15 people who die of cancer and heart disease, 61 die in accidents. In one year, 836 children under 14 years of age died of polio — while 11,441 kids of the same age were killed in traffic accidents. Yet in 1900, the figures show, the death rate from all forms of accidents was 72.3 per 100,000 population, while by last year, the same ratio had declined to 60.6 per 100,000. Then who said those were the good old days? It was Grandpa who lived dangerously!

Vacationers returning rom Florida report that the most fabulous estate they have seen in years is that of Mitchell Brive of Vidalia, Georgia. Set in a pretty landscape of some twenty acres, this elegand Southern mansion is picturesquely surrounded by other buildings such as a recreation-room flanked by a swimming pool; an appetizing-looking indoor-outdoor barbecue; an air - conditioned dancing pavillion complete with organ and orchestra instruments; a movie theater seating a hundred persons, all climaxed by a large and splendid white-brick house containing really gorgeous Louis XIV furniture and piped-in beautiful music — as well as a host of Mitch Brice, whose geniality sets off just right the whole colorful estate.

Herbert Hoover kindly sent me four "eye-openers" he calls them, about our government, based on the recent study of the Hoover Commission. These are, and we quote: "In 1951, the Army shipped from California to New York, 807,000 pounds of tomatoes. During the same period, the Navy shipped 775,000 pounds from the East Coast to California; a single reduction in the normal employee-turnover of 25 to 50 per cent annually, would save the government $90 million annually; there are still 10.6 years' supply of WAC wool serge uniforms on hand, purchased in World War II, and 100 years' supply of Waves hats in Brooklyn; billions are spent in creating and handling some 25 billion pieces of government paper each year. End to end, this paper would stretch from the earth to the moon 13 times."

Whenever I am reminded of Old New York, I think of my friends the Warrens. Jack and Marietta, they were, and now it is just Marietta and she lives in Texas. He was a drama-music editor of the Old New York World and she a charming concert singer and they were all joyously mixed up with Caruso and Victor Herbert and Charles Frohman and Delmonico's and such. But they found time to stroll in the park and meet Theodore Dreisser or Josephine Hull. They also found time to be laughingly gay and to love life together in New York in a great, big wonderful way. As a friend, Zula McCauley said, "They lived on the heights" of enjoyment, as well as achieveing those fine things for which they strove in life. Well, New York misses the Warrens — and sends its best regards to Marietta.

There is a horse - voiced singer on the "Meet the Artist" radio show named Bill Haley who sounds as if he came from the Bronx, but actualy hails from Michigan and now lives in Chester, Pa. He and his "Comets" as his orchestra members are called, are responsible for much of the rock-and-roll music craze — and some of it does sound crazy, as do the names. "Crazy, Man Crazy," "Shake, Rattle and Roll," "Keep That Candle Burning Bright, Mather" and "See You Later, Alligator" are just a few of the illuminating titles of the pieces. But there is something catching about Haley's songs and his music style. Fact is, the tene-agers seem "crazy" about them.

LOCALS MAKE GOOD SHOWING IN FFA MEET

The FFA members, all winners in public speaking parliamentary procedure, dairy judging and livestock judging elimination contests, came from Davie, Ashe, Yadkin, Surry, Wilkes, Alleghany, and Iredell Counties.

All first place winners were named FFA district champions.

Macedonia

Spring Revival

Rev. Oliver B. Greene

The Spring Revival of the Macedonia Moravian Church will begin Sunday morning at 11 a.m., May 20, and continue through Sunday evening, May 27. The evangelist will be the Rev. Oliver B. Greene of Greenville, S. C. who is well known throughout this area from his previous visits. He is nationally known through his radio broadcasts. Everyone is urged to attend these services.

Mrs. Matt Smith, the oldest member of the Macedonia Moravian congregation, who was born November 3, 1877, was present for the 100th anniversary celebration of the Macedonia Moravian church last Sunday, May 13. Mrs. Smith is 79 years old. She had an eye operation last year that was a success.

Miss Erman Beruchamp of the Macedonia congregation won a cedar chest in a contest sponsored by a leading furniture store of Mocksville. The contest was open to high school seniors.

The Rev. J. George Bruner held prayer meeting at the Bethlehem Methodist church last Wednesday night for Mr. Smith who is still conducting a training school at Smith Grove Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Osburn Ellis are the proud parents of a daughter, Carol Jean, who was born at the Davie County Hospital last Friday, May 4. She weighed nine pounds. This is the Ellis' third child.

Mrs. Clyde Wood returned home from the Davie County Hospital May 7.

Mrs. Willis (Sally) Riddle is at home after spending several days at the Davie County Hospital with pneumonia. She rteurned home on May 7.

Mrs. S. S. Blakely has returned home from the Davie County Hospital and her condition is reported as satisfactory.

Brenda Hendrix, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hendrix, is at home from the Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem, after receiving treatment. Her condition is improved.

Joe Langston is still unable to return to his work. He was operated on for appendicitis recently.

Mrs. Julie Howard is spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Robert King. Sunday the Kings had a birthday dinner in her honor and everyone invited brought a basket. Mrs. Howard was 93 years old.

The inside of the Yadkin Valley Baptist Church is being redecorated by the men of the church. Thew ork is being directed by a committee composed of Elmer Hendrix, Clem Hendrix, Kelly Smith, Taylor Foster ,and Gray Matthews, chairman.

The adult committee, den mothers, cubmaster, etc., of the Smith Grove PTA sponsored cub scouts are receiving special training from Dr. Ramey Kemp of Mocksville. The PTA hopes to announce the formation of the cub scout pack very soon.

MHS News

By BILL COLLETTE

The Wildcats moved into the second round of the state title series by defeating King in a one game playoff, 8-1, at Clemmons last Tuesday. Mocksville scored in every inning as they collected a total of seven hits and five stolen bases. Big Landis Tuttle on the mound for King, but he was relieved by J. Robertson in the second.

Mocksville broke the ice quickly as Alton Sheek reached second base on an error, advanced to third on a sacrifice fly by Mackie Deadmon, and scored on Z. N. Anderson's single. A tremendous drive into deep left center field by Mackie Deadmon in the second added 2 more runs to sew up the game, but the Wildcats continued to score in the third as two walks and a single by Lester Allen added another to the score. Singles by Darwin Allen and Anderson, plus an error and a sacrifice fly added two more in the fourth, and a single by Otis Snow, another error and a sacrifice fly brought the score to six for the Wildcats. Their final run came on a walk by Lester Allen, who advanced to second on a fielder's choice, stole third, and scored on a wild pitch.

King got their lone tally on singles by Donald Boyles and Tuttle in the fourth. Lefty Howell pitched for the Wildcats and was the winner, but he tired in the fourth and was relieved by Billy Sell in the sixth. Howell walked two, allowed four hits, and struckout four to bring his season's total to 59 in 49 innings. Sell walked one, struck out 2, and didn't allow any hits in the two innings he worked.

Mocksville will meet West Yadkin this week in a two best out of three series. The opener is at West Yadkin Tuesday night, the second game is here Thursday night ,and the third game, if necessary, will also be played here either Friday or Saturday night.

Rock 'N Roll Show At Coliseum, May 30

The Biggest Rock 'N Roll Show of '56, which comes to the Winston - Salem Memorial Coliseum Wednesday evening, May 30, for one performance only, boasts of more hit record makers than any thier show that has ever appeared in this city.

Heading the 12 star bill is Bill Haley and his Comets, Decca Records' pride and joy. Haley has probably done more to spread Rock 'n Roll music than any other artist. Actually, Rock 'n Roll is Haley's baby. He created it—and made Rock and Roll America's first choice. Next in line are the hard and new group. The Platters, recently seen from coast to coast as guests on the Como TV show. The Platters already have two records that have sold a million copies — "Only You" and "The Great Pretender." Following in the footsteps of these two hits are their latest -"Winner Take All," and "Magic Touch."

Clyde McPhatter's appearance in the Biggest Rock 'N Roll Show of '56 marks his first public appearance since his induction into the army. In fact, Clyde was only discharged April 19th, but was signed for the show months prior to his. While still in the service, Clyde recorded "Seven Days" which is a big hit now with Rock 'n Roll fans.

LaVern Baker, known to fans as "Little Miss Sharecropper.," is the gal who put the "rock" into his new music. Sale of LaVern's latest recording "Get Up Get Up" indicates she will equal and possibly surpass the success of her last big hit "Tweedle Dee." LaVern Baker, incidentally, can take the credit for teching "Mr. Emotion" Johnny Ray how to put over a song.

Big Joe Turner, called by many "the boss of the blues," has a voice that matches his size. Six foot two and weighting one-eighth of a ton, Big Joe has been a top headline attraction for nearly 30 years. In addition to his many record hits, including the current one, "Morning, Noon and Night," Mr. Turner can take bows as composer of many of the top Rock 'N Roll hits, including "Shake, Rattle and Roll," the tune that sky-rocketed Bill Haley and his Comets to fame.

Among the newest bright stars in the Rock 'n Roll field, and without question the youngest of the Biggest Rock 'N Roll Show of '56 are the Teenagers. Four of the boys are just 16—but Frankie Lyman, the top tenor, is only 13 years of age. And it's Frankie who penned the lyrics for their smash hit record "Why Do Fools Fall In Love." Frankie has a natural tenor and natural gift for the rhythm of words.

Small Grain Field Day

Rowan County

A small grain field day will be conducted at the new Experiment Station in Rowan County from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. on May 24, 1956. People desiring transportation to this field day should meet at the County Agent's Office in Mocksville at 1 p.m. and transportation will be arranged.

Small Grain Demonstration
Davie County

A small grain demonstration will be conducted May 28, near Mocksville on the Lexington highway. All recommended varieties of oats, wheat and barley will be observed in this demonstration. All small grain producers are invited to attend this demonstration: meet at the County Agent's Office at 9 a.m. on Monday, May 28.

Farmers Relieved of Federal Taxes
On Gasoline used for Farming Purposes

Under the provisions of Public Law No. 486, approved April 2, 1956, farmers are relieved of the burden of Federal taxes on the gasoline and special fuels used on their farms for farming purposes. The relief in the case of the gasoline tax is accomplished by providing annual refunds payable by the Federal Government directly to the farmers. The first claims to be filed will be with respect to gasoline purchased after December 31, 1955, and used on a farm for farming purposes before July 1, 1956. These claims must be filed on or before Sept. 30, 1956. Subsequent claims will cover the fiscal year period July 1 to June 30.

Necessary claim forms will be available at County Agent's Office and may be obtained after June 1.

Poultry Suggestions For May

North Carolina is still considered a deficit egg producing state. The production of eggs in general is seasonal with a big surplus being produced during the spring months and a deficit existing thereafter. This has led to large importations of eggs into the state from other areas. These importations overlap in some periods with the North Carolina produced eggs and thus are competition to them to a large extent. Many poultrymen are worried over this competition and ask the question, "How is the North Carolina egg-producing industry going to meet this competition and capture its share of the state's egg business?"

FIRST, the egg producer must reduce the cost of production to a competitive level. This can be accomplished through the channels of breeding, feeding, management, and the development of large units to reduce labor overhead.

SECOND, the production of market eggs must be distributed throughout the entire year rather than concenerated to a few months. This can be done by starting two or more groups of layers throughout the year.

THIRD, a constant drive must be made to market an egg that can compete with eggs from any section on a quality basis. There is little doubt but that very high per cent of the original quality of the fresh egg can be conserved with little cost or effort on the part of the poultryman if he will do it. Many thousands of dollars in egg money are lost each year because some producers will not take care of the eggs, especially during hot weather.

Producers should give very serious consideration to marketing quality eggs. At a relatively cheap cost, egg holding rooms can be built. In other cases basements, spring houses, or other buildings can be converted to use for egg holding purposes. Undoubtedly, at the present time a great volume of eggs is being imported into the state. Many of our producers complain about this competition The very best way to keep our North Carolina eggs on the move is to be constantly on the alert to reduce the cost of production and to increase the quality of North Carolina eggs going to market. IT CAN BE DONE.

May Reminders

1. If you don't have an egg holding room, build one. Plans are available from your county agent.

2. Lay plans now for starting fall-hatched chicks. Orders should be placed to insure quality and quantity from your hatheryman for the time you want them.

3. The time to start your layers on the free-choice method of feeding is during the growing period when the chicks are around eight to ten weeks of age. According to research at N. C. State College, the feed cost per dozen eggs for birds fed free choice averaged three cents less than for birds fed a 20 per cent mash and the grain hand-fed.

4. Cull all loafers and low-vitality birds.

5. Provide adequate ventilation. Your birds will need plenty of fresh air or warm or hot days.

6. TV programs for May: "Developing Better Turkeys" Dr. E. W Glazener, May 17. Stations televising these ahe WUNC, Chapel Hill; WLOS, Asehville; WTVD, Durham; WITN, Washington; WSJS, Winston-Salem.

ARMY WORMS

Small grain fields should be inspected every few days for army worms. Army worms have been reported within the county and they will probably be very active in some sections in small grain fields within the next week or so In most cases people do not notice the army worms in grain fields until they start to harvest then they find that the heads are missing. Therefore, it is important to check on small grain fields regularly.

Small Grain Variety Demonstration

All producers of small grain should mark May 28th on their calendar. All recommended small grain varieties are seeded on a plot near Mocksville and the results of this plot will be studied on May 28th leaving the County Agent's office at 9 a.m. All small grain producers of the county are invited to attend this demonstration.

Sheep Shearng Contest

The 4-H Sheep Shearing Contest will be conducted for the first time in Davie County Saturday, May 12, beginning at 10 a.m. on the Win Mock Farm. People desiring to see sheep lose their wool at a rapid pace should come by and see these boys competing for State honors in the final sheep shearing contest.

Robert L. Reavis Is Serving Aboard Flagship

Robert L. Reavis, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Reavis of Route 5, Mocksville, is serving, aboard the amphibious force flagship USS Mount McKinley which is carrying civilian news correspondents to witness Operation Red Wing, a nuclear explosion test in the Pacific.

The Mount McKinley, a command and communications ship, has been specially outfitted with extra radio equipment as a service to the correspondents. Modern Navy elecaronic installations will enable the American public to hear live brodacasts from the Mount McKinley. They also will see fascimile photographs in news papers hours after the blast.

Operation Red Wing, sponsored jointly by the Department of Defense and Atomic Energy Commission; is scheduled to take place at the Eniwetok Proving Ground in the Pacific.

A joint announcement issued by the two sponsoring agencies described Red Wing as a "megaton range nuclear detonation." A megaton is the energy equivalent of one million tons of TNT.

NATURE'S WAY

Arguments are not to convince the other fellow that he is wrong, but to convince ourselves that we are right.

HEADS PARADE: Buck Baker of Charlotte, N. C., ranks as the top man in the NASCAR Grand National point standings as the speed demons get ready for their major test of the season, the first annual "Virginia 500" late model stock car race at Martinsville, Va. Speedway Sunday, May 20, starting at 1 o'clock. Baker hopes to rack up his first triumph over the Martinsville track with either a 1956 Dodge or a 1956 Chrysler 300B.

The two keenest rivals in Bowman Gray Stadium racing history will be back to renew their battle in the 35 lap sportsman feature of the Saturday night eight-event sportsman and amateur stock car racing program.

Curtis Turner of Roanoke, Va., rated as one of the best all-around drivers in the country, will fly his plane back from Langhorne, Pa., Saturday afternoon to compete in the stadium races Saturday night and then fly back to Langhorne Sunday morning for the convertible races.

Billy Myers, the Germanton, N. C., ace who won the national sportsman championship last year along with the stadium crown, will take part in time trials at Martinsville Saturday afternoon for the Sunday "Virginia 500" late model race, then return to Winston-Salem Saturday night for the sportsman races and travel back to Martinsville Sunday for the 500-lap speed classic.

"We'll have all the top name drivers back on hand Saturday night," Track Manager Alvin Hawkins announced.

In addition to Turner, two other convertible drivers, Glenn Wood of Stuart, Va. and Joe Weatherly of Norfolk, Va., will also return to the stadium with Turner in his private plane. And accompanying Myers from Martinsville will be Rex White of Silver Spring, Md., another popular favorite.

In the 35-lap feature last week, Foots Jenkins of Winston-Salem, staved off an attack by Pee Wee Jones of Winston-Salem and Fuzzy Clinton of King to capture top honors in the 35-lap sportsman feature. It was Jenkins' first feature win at the stadium and he led all the way.

In the 50-lap amateur feature championship race, Bill Sides of Winston - Salem captured top honors in a thrilling battle that included plenty of wrecks and crashes.

The Saturday night program gets underway at 8 o'clock with perhaps the biggest field of the season competing.

Visiting The Sick

Almost every hospital has something of a problem concerning visitors, because almost every hospital patient has visitors. Except for the few who are too ill to see anyone, "visiting hours" provide a welcome diversion to interrupt the monotony of the long day in bed.

However, visitors do create some problems for the hospital. The Davie County Hospital is making available a pamphlet which outlines a few sensible rules which should be followed.

It is necessary to restrict all visiting to certain hours of the day. The routines of medical and physical and nursing care for the patients must be followed systematically. Visitors can only be permitted when they won't interfere with these routines.

Even within the letter of the visiting-hour rules, though, there may be visiting practices which are disturbing. When a patient is seriously ill, of course his doctor will forbid any visitors at all, or at least any except the members of the immediate family. In such cases, friends of the patients are usually familiar with his condition and realize they won't be permitted to visit the room, even though they may stop at the hospital to inquire. There are always one or two, however, who think they should be permitted to go in—"just for a minute," and who blame the hospital for enforcing a rule which has been established solely for the patient's welfare.

A good practice for all hospital visitors to follow would be to call the hospital or the patient's family before each visit, to make certain that their visits would be welcome. This would not only save the hospital embarrassment of refusing admittance to a visitor who may have come from many miles away, but it would also save mny a patient the effort of entertaining when his condition is such that visitors are permitted, but not always welcome.

Another good rule for hospital visitors would be, "Come Alone!" The patient may be delighted to see Sally and Jane together when they come, but it is more of an effort to entertain two, than one. It may not only be better for the patient to have just one visitor at the time, but it is also better for the hospital. To get to the room Sally and Jane had to pass the doors of many other patients, and a few of these may be gravely ill. Even being as considerate and as quiet as possible, low voices and foosteps may arouse some of these patients from badly needed naps.

There is a rule against children, for two reasons. Ons is that a child, even the best behaved, creates a disturbance in the hospital. But probably the biggest reason is the likelihood of transmission of some of the childhood diseases into the hospital where there are new born babies.

Also, this pamphlet points out that visits of short duration are better both from the standpoint of the patient and the hospital. Long visits tend to tire out the patient, who would not be in the hospital unless he needed rest.

The "Welcomed Visitor" may be summed up as follows:

"If the visitor comes during the visiting hours, and comes alone, and comes quietly, and doesn't stay too long, the entire staff of the hospital will be just as glad o see him as the patient."

Rural Mail Box Improvement

May 21st through May 26th will be observed as "Mail Box Improvement Week." During this period clubs of various communites, in cooperation with the postoffice department, will place special emphasis on improving the rural mail box.

Any community can be made more beautiful with painted mail boxes. The rural mail box may be painted either white or silver, with the name in neat black letters about one inch high on the side of the box.

Serviceable mail boxes should protect the mail from the weather and not injure the carried. Boxes should be properly supported with strong posts. These boxes should be easily accessible to the carrier with the name of the owner inscribed in black letters on the side, visible to the carrier as he approaches the box.

Where neighbors live close together, the boxes should be grouped, preferably on a shelf like board attached atop two or more strong posts, and three and one-half or four feet above the ground. Mail boxes should be erected on the right side of the road as traveled by the carrier.

Ruts in the approach to the mail box should be filled. The carrier is not required to leave his vehicle to serve the box. Also the area immediately to the box should be kept clean. Flowers may be planted at the bottom of the post to make the box more attractive.

Views and Reviews

Lt. Gen Leslie G. Groves, retired, head of the wartime atomic project:

Dr. Ernest Jones, British psychonalyst:

"The best cure for juvenile delinquency is a happy marriage."

Paul G. Hoffmon, former Economic Cooperation Administrator:

"Despite a startling refutation of Stalin by Russia's new leaders, the basic goal of the Kremlin is unchanged. It is world conquest.

Val Peterson, Civil Defense chief:

"The development of nuclear weapons has reached the stage where the shadow of absolute destruction has been cast.

Akhbar El Yam, Egyptian newspaper:

George Kennan, former U. S. Ambassador to Russia:

"Unless we change pretty soon and pretty drastically, our ald approach to foreign affairs . . . we must expect a continued tendency toward reduction of our prestige and influence throughout the word generally."

Adlai E. Stevenson, candidate for Democratic presidential nomination:

"Peace and security are the nation's most important business."

Dr. Wendell M. Stanley, Nobel prize-winning scientist of the University of California:

"It used to be that we'd have a disease confronting us, and then we'd go looking for the organism that causer it. Now, we have hundreds of new viruses—viruses in search of a disease."

Voting Records

A hard-hitting study of North Carolina by Dr. Roma S. Cheek, Duke Political Scientist, points up a poor voting record among the populace of the state.

According to a survey made by Dr. Cheek of the voting records of 113,701 voters in a geographical area of 398,351 persons, she found that only 36 per cent of those who could have voted actualy did. The worst record was made by those n the younger age group, 21-25. Even citizens of 70 years and over voted more than the younger group.

On a racial basis, she found that the ratio of voting of those Negro citizens who were registered was higher than that for the white citizens who were regisered. Of both races more city dwellers voted than rural residents.

THE HOME BUILDER

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS

WASHINGTON — The foremost statesman of the Congress, Senator Walter F. George of Georgia, announced last week that he would not seek re-election after the completion of his present Senate term.

THE REALIZATION

Reporters rushed to his office across the hall from my office in the Senate Office Building when it was learned that the elder statesman, the dean of the Senate, was to make an announcement. The reporters alerted their downtown offices to be ready to move a bulletin on the wires and requested the use of my office telephones in order to get the news out as quickly as possible. The realization that the distinguished senior senator wil leave the Senate causes one to reflect on his remarkable career and life. He is held in the highest esteem and will undoubtedly go down in the history of the Senate as one of the top Senators of all time. His publi ccareer is a model of dedication to the finer aspects of political service.

SENIORITY

Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona will become the senior member of the senate in terms of service. He has been a member of Congress since Arizona was admitted to the Union. Before becoming a Congressman, he was high sheriff of a county in what was to become Arizona. He was elected to the Senate in 1927 after having served from 1912 until that time in the House. Senator Hayden, alert and posessing a keen mind, is Chairman of the Appropriations Committee. No man in Congress is better informed on appropriation matters than Senator Hayden.

GENERAL LeMAY

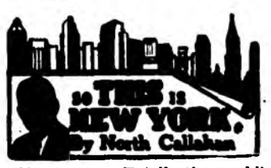
General LeMay's testimony before our Special Air Force Subcommittee and the subsequent divergent views expressed by high Administration sources have touched off a national debate on the status and requirements of air power. This, to a certain degree, was one purpose of our special inquiry. We have shown the degree which our air progress has lagged, and General LeMay's testmony has shown that he feels strongly that the Russians are overtaking Uncle Sam in air power. As I view it, the people should know the facts about the nation's air power with the exception of that information which must of necessity be kept classified in order not to assist a potential enemy. There has been more confusion than ought to be over what has been happening to our air defense, and I feel that the committee is rendering a useful service in probing to find out what the facts are.

COLLEAGUE

Itw as a pleasure for me to accompany my colleague, Senator Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming, to North Carolina last week-end. He spoke to a meeting of the North Carolina Automobile Dealers Association in Pinehurst. We had a good visit, and I regret that it was necessary for both of us to hurry back to vote on a bill. I would have enjoyed showing him more of our famous North Carolina hospitality.

RIVERS AND HARBORS

The other week I wrote about the Rvers and Harbors Congress to meet in Washington. The meeting was held and many of our State's leaders attended the affair here. Legislation of this nature is vital to our State, and unity of action is an effective way to proceed on projects of this nature.



This is now officially the world's argest city. In the past, as you know, London has been spoken of along with other large population centers as being as large or larger than New York. But some figures just released by the United Nations give the following information in population terms of the metropolitan areas of which each city is the hub: New York, 12,000,000; London, 8,300,000; Tokyo, 3,300,000; Shanghai, 6,200,000 and Paris, 4,800,000. Of course, one has to remember that there is no recent information about cities behind the Iron Curtain.

It was like being at home back n my father's country store at Fork Creek, Tennessee. The current exhibit of the New York Historical Society on old-time foods and medicines, that is. In showing in an interesting and entertaining manner the developments along these lines since the passage of national laws for their improvement, 50 years ago, the organization has almost outdone itself. Along its staid walls are soda crackers served from the old-type barrel; shiny apples, pink pills for pale people, posters and labels and even a mellow old pot-bellied stove around which the "customers" sat and swapped yarns and gossip. And how the ladies must have made up in those days, judging from their cosmetics on display: Violet Sec toilet water, Headache Cologne, Chushed Violet Smelling salts and Wood Violet tooth wash. Looking at an ancient patent medicine said to contain 40 per cent alcohol, an old friend, Herbert Powell who came here from Minnesota, said he could now understand why his grandmother used so much of that brand.

We once lost our Mary Alice, then aged 4, in Wanamakers Store for 45 excruiating minutes until she was found quite calm by our cousin, Milton Callahaln. That seemed a horrible experience. But Mrs. O. O. McIntrye tells me that she lost her mother in Macy's. It seems the two good ladies were innocently shopping when suddenly Mrs. O. O. looked up from trying on some gloves—and no mother was in sight. She began a casual search, this soon turned into a frantic dashing about, then a desperate look into the store's hospital and a dismal report to the authorities. Still no mother. Finally, almost in tears, Mrs. McIntyre telephoned her husband, the late columnist, who serenely replied that the mother was safe at home and had been there for an hour—having simply walked out and taken a cab—when she missed her daughter in the store.

Ran across a cab driver who evidently has little respect for the local weather man. Turning to me—a captive audience in the back seat — and speaking out of the corner of his mouth, as they usually do, he whined, "Wonder why day cain't hit it right some of the time? Why dis here wedder man here, jist let him mention snow flurries, and what happens? We have de blizzard of de year; Good ting he's not giving out de train schedules — nobody would make their rattlers. And another thing," he shook his head as he just missed hitting a pedestrian who cut across a red light, "I'd sure hate to go to de race track with this here wedder man here, We'd lose on every horse he picked."

60 Second Sermons

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "Criticism comes easier than craftsmanship."—Zeuxis.

A party guest turned to a stranger to criticize the singing of a woman who was trying to entertain them.

"What a terrible voice," he complained. "Do you know who she is?"

"Yes," was the answer. "She is my wife!"

"Oh," said the critical one. "I beg your pardon. It isn't her voice, it's the stuff she has to sing. I wonder who wrote it?"

"I did," was the answer.

Without critics this would be a backword world. Criticism of conditions, customs and ideas brought primitive man from his trees and caves, and gave him civilized living. Constructive criticism is one of man's great abilities.

We should take care, however, not to confuse fault-finding and conceited "second-guessing" with constructive criticism. Too often we join a popular chorus of complaint to gain a moment's attention or flattering agreement.

There is a simple way to tell the difference between needed criticism and useless fault-finding. When the urge to criticize is felt—stop! Think. Ask what good can come from the complaint. If no good can come from it, don't criticize. Constructive criticism can result in some good. When no good can come from criticism, silence shows greater wisdom.

Raleigh Roundup

(Written this week by T. Greenwood, Exec. V. P., N. C. Merchants Association).

ON THE STEPS . . . Kidd Brewer, who had the ball when the race for lieutenant governor got under way—and dropped it when he was sidelined for two months of rest on his doctors' orders—returned to the game last week and immediatley grabbed the ball again and was off to what promises to be a red hot race from here on out.

Standing on the steps of the Education Building, Brewer held a press conference and let go with both barrells.

As March Ethridge, Jr., editor of the Raleigh Times described it: "Fresh off the starting blocks in the race for lieutenant governor, Kidd Brewer has made bigger headlines and more sense than all the other candidates put together.

"Considering Brewer's talent for showmanship, the headlines aren't unexpected. Nor for that matter is the sense, but it is nevertheless a welcome change. While all the other candidates have campaigned on the same tired platform, Brewer has launched his own do-it-yourself program to save the public schools.

"He is the first Democratic candidate who has put the public schools in their proper perspective. He does not count them as something to be bartered with or bandied about for political gain, but as one of North Carolina's most valuable assets.

"On higher salaries for teachers, Brewer also went to the heart of the matter. He did not debate whether teachers deserve a raise; that's already decided. Nor did he hedge about whether the State can afford it. 'I'm willing to pay the price,' he said. Good for him.

"He's late getting started with the primary only two weeks away. But with one good statement and some intelligent answer to questions, he has joined the front runners." So wrote the Raleigh Times.

EDWARDS LEADING . . . Early last week — before Brewer's reappearance, Lynn Nisbet, Raliegh correspondent for afternoon newspapers of the State and a pretty good political prophet—he prophesied Truman's win in 1948—said that Alonzo Edwards of Hookerton is the leader in the race for lieutenant governor.

We think that Luther Barnhardt is right up with Edwards. And with two Duke men in the forefront—Edwards and Brewer—you may find J. V. Whitfield and Gurney Hood holding the balance of power—in a second primary.

NOTHING TO IT . . . Two or three weeks ago we reported here that the Spencer ABC store sometimes has cartons of cigarettes for sale. We had heard that workers in the Spencer railroad yards sometimes bought cigarettes on credit and then traded them for whiskey. We've done quite a bit of informal checking on this — and others have, too — and we can't find any proof that any such situation exists—in Spencer or elsewhere.

Note to our good friend, Tom Allen, State ABC chairman: Sorry, Tom, for any embarrassment we caused you or your folks in the legal end of the whiskey business. No harm, only humor, intended.

NOT AGAIN . . . This young lady had been married ten years, had eight children, the oldest of which was a daughter, nine.

Mother had dressed the little girl for a party ,and, just before she left, had her turn around once again for a final inspection.

"Well, I'll declare, you are certainly about the prettiest little nine-year-old girl in this whole community—but, I'll admit I'm prejudiced."

"Oh Mommy" said the little girl, "not again!"

SEGREGATION . . . The most Christlike person living as far as we are concerned is Dr. W. R. Cullom who must be close to 90 and for over 50 years was head of the Religion Department at Wake Forest College.

He will preach the baccalaureate sermon next Sunday for the last graduating class of Wake Forest students on the old campus. I took Bible under him 25 years ago. We sorry college freshmen referred to him at Potty Cullom—but we all loved him. His lectures were dull—so dry in fact that when the building in which they were given burned in 1933 some fool said the flame started when Dr. Cullom's dry notes exploded from spontaneous combustion.

Be that as it may we value his opinion more highly than anybody else's on matters involving humanity people living souls. Here is what Dr. Cullom believes about the problem of segregation:

"NEITHER RACE wants integration. A friend of mine — a great physician — was opening his new clinic a few years ago. He called in several of the most sane and thoughtful Negroes of his com- Charles Phillips.
munity and asked whether they would prefer a separate or a mixed waiting room. Almost without exception these Negroes preferred a separate waiting room. I believe that the same holds true in the field of public education today.

"LET US LOOK squarely at the progress that has been made in race adjustments among us for the past few years and move forward to build upon this with positive assurance with happy outlook and with dogged determination. Nothing short of this is at all worthy of the task which is ours just now.

"LET US ASK the courts to allow us ample time in the execution of our task. Better take a huhdred years for it while building from the inside than to do it in a month or two by forced flat.

"LET US UNDERSTAND thoroughly that both races must share equally as far is possible in all that is done.

"NOR MUST THIS SHARING be though of in any sense as a compromise or an accomodation. On the contrary t must be thought of as entirely mutual and as a give-and-take matter on both sides.

"LOOKING TO THE WORKING out of some such plan as I have suggested let each community have a steering committee made up of an equal number from each race, from both sexes, and of both mature and young people who shall hold regular meetings for considering, educating, and guiding in this important and delicate task.

"LET US FOLLOW the example of the armed forces and abolish segregation as rapidly as inner experience, common sense, and the best judgment of our eaders may think wise."

HAM STRICTLY . . . When I saw Joe Lovett in New York last January, he got after me again about that country ham I was going to get him for Christmas.

You see, Joe Lovett—an important man in the American Retail Federation in Washington — had done me several good turns. ARF meeting last November I So, in an expansive mood at the foolishly said: "Joe, you can look for a country ham from me along about Christmas."

Well, I had one cured by Lee Mathis of Yadkin County on my back porch — but we couldn't hold out ,so by Christmas it was pretty well shot, Joe came down as one of our speakers at the Retailers Activities Clinic in Chapel Hill in February. I had a ham for him, but he flew and had no way to take it back with him. I drove to Washington in April, but forgot the ham. When I heard Veep Nixon would be our speaker, I called my wife and asked her to catch a plane up for the occasion. She did. When I saw her standing in the lobby of the beautiful Statler, I saw she had brought her big piece of luggage. "Why that?" I asked. "The ham," she said. We went to my room—and there it was—in the bag where soft, beautiful underthings usually repose. Now, while other men's wives smell finely of Moonlight Mist, Arpege, and Ishah, T. Grenewood's lady will exude the lasting pungent, definite odor or floored-pen, corn-fed NU. C.-bred country ham. Chanel No. 5 doesn't stand a chance.

MARTHA HUSSER

Parties, parties, and more parties!! The seniors are really getting party minded! They realize that after graduation, get-togethers will be few and far between, if not impossible, so they're trying to be together every minute of every day of the remaining days of school. Brack Bailey, John Foster, and Jimmy Jones each are giving the seniors parties this week. I'm afraid that studying is the fartherest thing from our minds!

Congratulations are in store for Jeanette Orrell, the senior class salutatorian, who became engaged this past week end. The lucky boy? Richard Cornatzer, better known to most people as "Red." Best of luck to both of you in your future!

The Junior marshalls have been announced. They are: Sue Browder, chief; Tama Sue Markland, Alvin Myers and Gordon Cornatzer. Sue and Tama made the highest grade among the girls; Alvin an Gordon among the boys; Sue of which made the highest grade in the entire Junior Class.

"MEET THE SENIORS"

Given the title of "Co-operatve" in this year's list of Senior Traits, James Foster, has made quite a few accomplishments in this, his senior year. He did exceedingly well in the previous two senior plays and has the leading male role in the Class Night exercises to be given Monday, May 21.

James is a member of the FFA, 4-H Club and of the baseball team. He is also a bus driver.

James is always willing to do his share of work and to help others in any way that they may ask. Consequently, he was given the title of "Co-operative," which he well deserves.

The girl voted "Neat" in the list of Senior Traits is Emily Jane Mock quite an outstanding person. To me, she is the girl in the senior class "tops" in poise and she "carries" herself exceedingly well. Emily has a personality that all love, and if she would list all her friends you would find just as many youngsters on the list as adults and vice versa. Quite a well rounded person!

Emily is: a member of the "A" honor roll and Panther staff; secretary of the Outlook staff; vice-president of the Beta Club; member of Monogram Club and co-captain of the Varsity basketball team.

You'll probably remember Emily as the hustling forward of the Pantherettes, and also as the girl that had the misfortune of not being able to play in the tournament due to heart trouble. However, I'm proud to inform you that Emily has greatly improved and the chances that she'll be cured completely are both possible and probable!

David Charles Blakely, better known as just "D. C." was given the title of "Good sense of humor" in the list of Senior Traits. Although D. C. has been a member of our class for only three years we cannot visualize ourselves without him.

D. C. blushes quite easily and at the mere suggestion of "light-up, D. C." he actually does—turning red from ear to ear! No matter how much he is teased and made to "light-up" he always smiles and never seems to mind.

D. C. is a member of the FFA and is a substitute bus driver. He was voted the senior boy of the month for his outstanding performance in the senior play, "The Uninvited Ghost."

D. C. certainly does have a "Good sense of Humor" and he certainly is the type of person that everyone enjoys to be near!

Fulton

There were serveral visitors at church Sunday morning. The children gave a Mother's Day program. The Young Adult Class, the youth and the children's classes presented gifts to the oldest mother, Mrs. Beatrice Johnston; the youngest mother, Mrs. Betty Lou Beauchamp; and the mother with the most children at church, Mrs. Gladys Gobble.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Lanier Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Livengood of North Wilkesboro; Mr. and Mrs. Layton Ammond and son, Carl, of High Point; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dene Lanier of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith and daughters, Marieta and Glenda, of Reeds; Mr. and Mrs Frank Bailey of Winston-Salem; Mrs. Nelson Sidden and children of Reeds; and Mrs. Betty Lou Beauchamp and baby of Winston-Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Foy Bailey and son, Don, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Aron Bennett in Winston-Salem, R.F.D.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Pack and daughter, Beverly, and Mrs. Pearl Pack of Elbaville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Joyner and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lanier have completed their new homes and moved into them the past week end. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Seaford also have a home under construction.

There will be a barbecue at Fulton church hut sponsored by the WSCS, on May 26, beginning at 2 o'clock. The public is invited. The WSCS met Saturday night at the hut. The vice president, Mrs. Shirley Lanier, was absent and Mrs. Luin Mae Lanier had charge of the program. The hostess, Mrs. Carl Smith, and Mrs. Clay Lawson served refreshments to fifteen members and several visitors.

RE-ELECT
C. B. DEANE
TO CONGRESS

Dear Friends,

As a member of the Appropriations Committee in Congress, I serve with four other Members to appropriate funds for the Department of the Air Force and the Department of Agriculture. During these crucial days, I feel the heavy responsibility of serving on two such important committees. I am greatly concerned about the National Defense Program of our country and the needs of our farmers. I am equally concerned with the smallest needs and problems of every constituent in my District.

In the closing days of my campaign for re-election as your Congressman, I express again sincere appreciation to the many personal friends and devoted supporters who are giving their time and effort toward my re-election.

Many people have offered their financial support, but I have made the decision not to accept personal cash contributions to my campaign in the primary. I have expressed to these friends my gratitude. I have shared with them my conviction that it is not right for such vast sums to be spent on political compaigns throughout the nation. I am appealing to the people of the 8th District to back me with their personal support and to share with me the responsibilities of this campaign. Some of my friends in various counties are running ads for me, for which I am most appreciative. It was on this same basis I ran two years ago. The results were gratifying.

I am grateful for the opportunity I have had to serve you. In asking for your active support and your vote on May 26, I pledge to you my total committment to seek diligently the answers to the serious problems facing the defense of our nation; the urgent needs of our farm people; our veterans; the service men and their families; the growing unemployment among some of our people; the need for improved old-age retirement ;adequate legislation to protect the smal business men and our large manufacturers and employees against unfair foreign competition.

Sincerely,
C. B. DEANE

"LET GOD BE TRUE"

By J. R. WHITAKER

In II Peter 1:10 we read, "Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure." The word which should impress us here is the word "sure." This word means "certain" or "without doubt." In the material things of life we go to great lengths in order to be sure that a thing is what it should be. People do not invest large amounts of money in a doubtful enterprise. When we purchase real estate we employ a competent attorney to examine the deeds and to remove any doubts. We refuse to have anything to do with any kind of undertaking if there is one obscure or uncertain feature about it.

People do not apply the same rule, however, when it comes to the religion of Christ. A great host of people in this country today have doubts about their religion. The Bible clearly teaches that consistency should be one of the outstanding traits of our life. We are told, "Our God is One God." God is a consistent God. You find God operating in the field of religion exactly as he operates in the field of nature. Why can we not be as consistent? Why is it that we do not exercise the same care over spiritual matters as we do over those things of a temporal nature?

Many people have doubts as to the importance of baptism. These doubts can be removed by a careful examination of the Bible. Many people have accepted substitutions of various kinds. They entertain doubts as to whether they have obeyed the commands of Christ. These doubts could be removed if they exercised the same care and discretion in spiritual matters as in matters of a worldly nature. Many denominational practices produce doubts in the minds of honest people. These doubts can be removed by a study of God's word, by renouncing false doctrine, and by taking a stand with Christ.

True religion is such an important matter that people should take no chances with anything that it doubtful. In faith and practice men ought to be willing to leave off those things which are doubtful. Unity could be achieved today if men were willing to leave these doubtful things alone. People are not disagreed as to what the Bible says. We can see and understand and know what it says. Whence comes the strife, division, and hatred? These things have come because of the belief and practice of things which are "doubtful." Jesus said, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." The truth of God delivers us from doubt. Are you in doubt about your religious practices and beliefs? Weigh them in the light of God's word. There is no reason whatever for doubts—you can "make your calling and election SURE." (Adv)

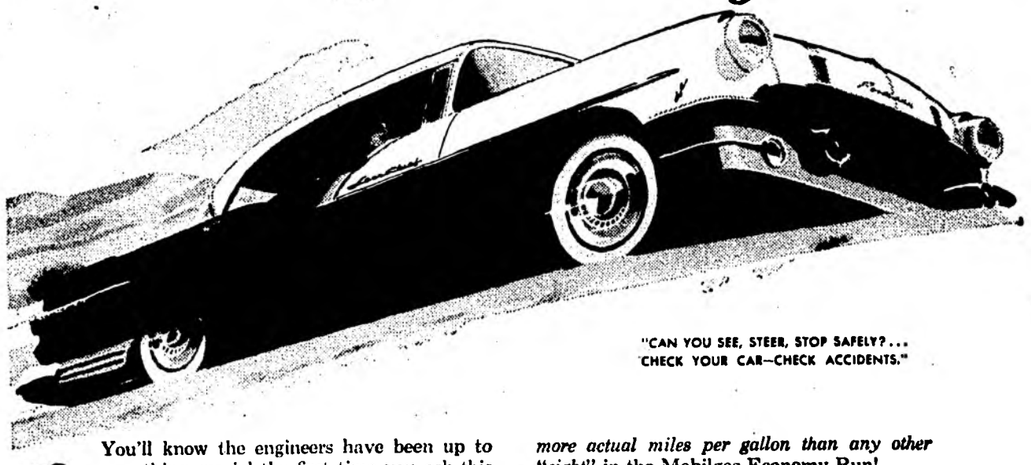
Here's Where the New Ideas Come From...

General Motors' new Technical Center—largest of its kind in the world—employs 4,000 engineers, scientists and stylists. These vast resources combine with Pontiac's own ultramodern engineering facilities to bring you America's greatest automobile value—Pontiac, a General Motors Masterpiece.

Watch "Wide, Wide World"—NBC-TV, Sunday, May 20—report on GM's new Technical Center.

...and Here's Where they GO!



"CAN YOU SEE, STEER, STOP SAFELY?... CHECK YOUR CAR—CHECK ACCIDENTS."

You'll know the engineers have been up to something special the first time you ask this long, low beauty for action, for here's "go" you can't get anywhere else.

The "go" of the newest in high-compression, high-torque engines—Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8, so advanced and so efficient it delivered more actual miles per gallon than any other "eight" in the Mobilgas Economy Run!

The "go" of the newest in automatic transmissions—Pontiac's Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic*, specially engineered for Strato-Streak power and smooth as silk at any speed!

Come on in and bring yourself up to date fast!

AN ELEVENTH COMMANDMENT

"Thou shalt inherit the Holy Earth as a faithful steward, conserving its resources and productivity from generation to generation. Thou shalt safeguard thy fields from soil erosion, thy living waters from drying up, thy forests from desolation, and protect thy hills from overgrazing by thy herds, that thy descendants may have abundance forever. If any shall fail in this stewardship of the land, thy fruitful fields shall become sterile, stony ground and wasting gullies, and thy descendants shall decrease and live in poverty or perish from off the face of the earth."

Library News

By Mrs. J. Frank Clement

Exciting and interesting things are happening at the Davie County Public Library. Recently, the Misses Knox of Salisbury, gave to the library a very rare, old book. "The History of the Pirates." On the fly-leaf is written in quaint script, "William Bailey, His Book, 1793 (or 1798)." Mr. Bailey was the great - grandfather of the Misses Knox. This small and worn volume is under glass but with a magnifying glass, which is nearby, many visitors have enjoyed this valuable book, which is greatly appreciated by Davie County.

The first day of May, the library entered upon another type of service to our citizens. Magazines which have been donated and brought to the library, and a collection of books were taken to our new hospital. Mrs. George Martin, Chairman of Ward Service, quickly had books and magazines on the built-to-specifications book truck, gift of Mr. Will Call, and was off down the hall carrying reading material to each and all patients. In the future, Mrs. Etchison will stop with the bookmobile at the hospital every second Thursday to collect books and to leave a new selection.

Another enterprise to which the library looks forward, is aiding the Lions Club in their very worthwhile project of getitng Braille records to the blind. The library appreciates the opportunity of being custodian for these records, accessioning and circulating them.

With these two projects, the Davie County Library is extending its usefullness into hitherto unexplored regions and is anticipating an increasing demand for these ventures.

Many new books have been arriving, books for the Elementary, Junior, and Teen-age groups, and for the Adult reader.

Among the adult we find:

Non-Fiction:

The Apocrypha; American Mountain songs; Peale, Faith is the answer; Miller, White Cliffs of Dover; Crile, Cancer and Common Sense; Vocational Guidance, Outdoor jobs for men; Rogers, Angel unaware; Levnson, the mentally retarded child; Lewis, Surprised by Joy; Grunwald, Peter the Great; Walfe, Thomas Wolfe's letters to his mother; Ethridge, Nila, her story; Ortloff, Color and design for every garden; Aul, How to plant your home grounds; McKenna, Small-home landscaping; Bernstein, the search for Bridey Murphy; Germain, the magic power of your mind.

Fiction

Lord, a night to remember; Steele, the kiss of kin; Seifert, A Doctor for Blue Joy Cove; Mayrant, Always a river; Roberts, Boon Island; Slaughter, The scarlet Cord; Jenkins, Saddlebag Parson; Cunningham, Warhorse.

We have many booklets from the Life Adjustment series. For instance: What you should know about communism; Your behavior problems; Facts about juvenile delinquency; Should yo go to college?; Facts about narcotics; What you should know about smoking and drinking; Helping children solve problems; Let's talk about honesty; Emotional problems of growing up; Why children misbehave; What good it high school?; Why stay in school?; Getting along with others; Making and keeping friends; Where are your manners?! What is honesty? etc. etc. These booklets could be used to great advantage by any worker with young people.

Cooleemee Lions Give Scholarship

This annual award is given to a student selected by a committee appointed by the Lions Club. He will be allowed to attend the school of his choice.

POWER OFF SUNDAY

All electricity in the county will be off Sunday morning from 8:15 until 8:30.

American Legion Jrs.

The first practice of the Davie County American Legion Junior baseball team will be held Saturday, May 26th, at 2 p.m. at the Mocksville ball park.

The Legion Juniors will be coached again this year by Grimes Parker of Cooleemee. Coach Parker has asked that every boy, born after Sept. 1, 1938, who wishes to become a candidate for this team, to be present at this time.

Calf Scramble And Events Are Planned For Saturday, June 2

The third annual Calf Scramble will be held at the ball park on Saturday night, June 2, at 8 p.m. The event will be sponsored by the Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Davie Counti Agriculture Council.

In addition to the regular calf scramble, there will be many special events suc has a rodeo feature, a tug of war, an ice cream eating contest, a milk dinking contest, and a rooster bicycle race. The latter consists of a race on bicycles for youngsters to a point where roosters are under bushel baskets. The riders must pickup the roster from under the basket and return on bicycle, carrying the rooster, to the starting point to be declared the winner.

Fishing Rodeo Winners Listed

First Group: Biggest Fish, Clay Pesaro; Most Fish, Jimmy Short; Smallest Fish, Jone Jones.

Hospital Donations

J. K. Sheek, chairman of the Davie County Hospital Board of Trustees, announced this week that the White Foundation Inc., of New York, through Mrs George Martin, had made a generous donation to the local hospital.

Mr. Sheek also announced that the Western Auto Store of Mocksville had donated an electric fan to the hospital.

ADVANCE REVIVAL

Revival services will begin at the Advance Methodist Church on Sunday, May 27, at 8 p.m. Rev. John Sills of Winston - Salem will be the visiting speaker. Everyone is given a cordial invitation to attend.

Jaycees Plan On Doctrines Of Churches

The month of May is traditionally "Religious Emphasis Month" with the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In cooperation with the national project, the Mocksville Jaycees are planning a series of special programs of community-wide interest.

In cooperation with the three denominations, on three consecutive Wednesday nights at 8 p.m. (May 30, June 6 and June 13)—a union service will be held at a different church and a visiting minister will discuss the teachings and doctrines of his particular church. There will be a question and answer period following each program.

June 6, the Rev. J. P. Davis at the Methodist Church in Mocksville.

Lester P. Martin, Jr., chairman of the Jaycee committee planning this program, said that the Jaycees believe that this series of lectures will serve a worthwhile community purpose and "be highly informative and inspiring for all who attend."

"Everyone is welcome to attend each program and learn the teachings and doctrines of his neighbors' and denominations as well as renew his acquaintance with his own beliefs," asid Mr. Martin.

Nail-It-Down Contest Winners Are Announced

There were 12 nail-it-down contest winners last Saturday at the Mocksville Cash Store. Those driving the nail down in three licks and winning overalls were as follows:

Election Results

The Mocksville Enterprise will be open Saturday night for compiling the county results in the Primary vote.

J. C. Dwiggins, county election board chairman, has instructed all registrars to report the results to him at the Enterprise office just as soon as the votes are counted.

Employment Security Commission Described To Local Rotarians

The functioning of the Employment Security Commission was explained to members of the Mocksville Rotary Club at their Tuesday meeting.

P. Monroe Johnson, Claims Deputy of the Winston - Salem District, presented a film and discussed the work of this commission.

Cooleemee Industrial Arts Group Wins State Awards

Three entries from Cooleemee won four top awards at the annual North Carolina Industrial Arts Project Fair held recently in Greensboro. Over 600 pojects from all corners of the state filled the gymnasium.

One of the five top awards within the state was an achievement cup which is awarded for the best individual project within the tenth grade. This achievement cup was won by Carl Grubb of the Cooleemee High School. His project, a walnut, foam rubber, upholstered chair of modern design, also won the first place medal in the tenth grade woodwork division.

J. L. Singelton won first place in the machine shop division in the tenth grade. His entry was a parallel clamp assembly.

This industrial fair has been held for the past five years and the Cooleemee High School has always taken a large percentage of the top wards.

Bill Price is the instructor in the industrial arts department

Cash Award Contest

Eugene S. Bowman, publisher of the Mocksville Enterprise, this week announced a cash award contest to children under 12 years of age writing the best letters of "Why My Pop Is Tops."

All letters must be of 100 words or less in length, and must be turned in to the Enterprise by Father's Day, June 17. Judging will be by a special committee to be named.

First prize in the contest will be $10 in cash; second prize, $5 in cash; and third prize, $2.50 in cash.

Primary Vote On Saturday

Democrats of this county will be issued two ballots Saturday on which to vote.

On one ballot will be the 8th District Congressional race between C. B. Deane of Rockingham, present Congressman, and Paul Kitchin of Wadesboro.

Also on this ballot will be the names of the candidates for state officers. On this the voters will choose between the following:

FOR GOVERNOR: C. E. Earle, Jr., Luther H. Hodges, Harry P. Stokely and Tom Sawyer.

On the county level, Davie Democrats will select three out of five candidates for county commissioner. They will choose from the following:

Bob Hoyle of Cooleemee; Willard Foster of Jerusalem; Gilmer Hartley of Mocksville; W. Robah Patterson of Fulton; and H. A. Johnson of Fulton.

Davie County Republicans will choose candidates for Register of Deeds as well as county commissioner.

For Register of Deeds, they will select one of the following: Kermit Smith of Mocksville; Nancy Tutterow of North Calahain; and Lewis Ijames of Fulton.

For County Commissioner, the Davie Republicans will also select three out of five from the following: Atlas Smoot of Mocksville; C. W. Alexander of Jerusalem; B. T. Browder of Cornatzer; Clarence Carter of Fulton and J. N. Groce of Smith Grove.

Locals Now Playing In Western A Semi-Finals

Stoneville rallied in the top of the seventh inning Tuesday night to score three runs and beat Mocksville 4-2, in the opener of the Class A Western semi-final playoff.

A triple by shortstop Herman Joyce that brought in two runs was the key blow of the inning.

The Stoneville club scored its runs on two hits and two costly errors by the Wildcats.

The clubs meet in the second game of the series at Madison at 8 p.m. Thursday. Plans have not been worked out for the third game if it is needed.

Stoneville took a 1-0 lead in the third inning when Ronald Priddy was hit by pitcher Kenny Howell, stole second and scored on a single by Herman Joyce. Joyce drove in three of Stoneville's four runs.

Mocksville moved ahead in the fifth. Otis Snow led off with a single and moved to second as Henry Shutt walked. Both runners advanced on a passed ball and Dickie Nail drove in Snow with a single. Pitcher Kenny Howell brought in another run with a single.

The Wildcats held their 2-1 lead until the seventh.

The trouble started when second baseman Z. N. Anderson errored a grounder by Jackie Manuel. A sacrifice by Jimmy Crotts moved up Manuel. Ronald Priddy then dribbled a slow roller down the third base line that Howell couldn't handle and everyone was safe. That was when Herman Joyce tripled to center field, bringing in two runs to put Stoneville ahead to stay. Wayne Smith followed with a single that made is 4-2.

Last week, after dropping the opening game to West Yadkin, the locals bounced back to win two straight from the Yadkin County nine.

Mocksville took an 8 to 0 win at Mocksville last Thursday night, and on Saturday night converted two throwing errors and a passed ball into runs to top West Yadwin 4-2.

West Yadkin's Jerry Dickerson hurled a two-hitter but was the victim of errors.

The Wildcats scored two runs in the first when Lester Allen and Otis Snow came in when the West Yadkin third baseman missed a throw attempting to catch Allen stealing third.

In the fourth Mocksville got what proved the winning run on an almost identical error. Allen stealing third and scoring when the catcher overthrew the fielder. Allen had reached base both times on errors.

Kenneth Howell, the winning pitcher got another run in the seventh on an error. Alton Sheek, who got both Mocksville hits, singled Howell into scoring position.

Stilwell Named Principal Of Davie County High School

David F. Stilwell has been named principal of the new Davie County Consolidated High School. The appointment, which is subject to approval by the Davie County Board of Education, was made by the school board at a meeting held Monday night.

Mr. Stilwell is 41 years of age. He holds a BS degree from Western Carolina Teachers College and a Master's degree from the University of North Carolina

He has had teaching experience at Germanton and Clemmons in Forsyth County, and has served as principal of the White Rock and South Fork schools. He also served as administrative assistant to Dr. Ralph Brimley, Superintendent of the Forsyth County Schools.

DAVID F. STILWELL

From 1950 to 1955, Mr. Stilwell served as supervisor in the Davie County school system. During the past year he served as principal of the Smith Grove School.

Alton Sheek Wins Jaycee Junior Citizenship Award

Alton Sheek of the Smith Grove Community is the 1956 winner of the Jaycee Junior Citizenship Award.

The trophy, signifying this award, was presented to Alton at the graduation exercises at the Mocksville High School on Wednesday night. The presentation was made by Paul Richards, President of the Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Alton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Sheek of the Smith Grove community. He graduated on Wednesday night from the Mocksville High School.

At school, he participated in all three sports and was a member of the glee club and Beta Club. An active 4-H member he won many awards for his projects.

He achieved the Eagle Scout rank in October, 1955, and received the Bronze Palm Award in February of 1956. He has been a member of the Order of the Arrow since June, 1954, and is the only srout in Davie County to attain brotherhood membership in the Order of the Arrow. For the past year he has served as vice chief of Lodge No. 208 (Uwharrie Council).

Alton is also active in church, serving as vice president of his Sunday School Class and a member of the MYF.

ASC News

Penalty Rates Announced

Farmers who are overplanted on wheat, or who are making their plans to overplant on tobacco are reminded of the high rates of penalty that have been set, according to C. V. Smoot, Chairman of the Davie County ASC Committe. The penalty rate on excess wheat acreage for 1956 is $1.07 per bushel. Farmers are permitted to plant 15 acres of wheat; however, when this areage is exceeded ,or their allotment is larger, a penalty is due before the farmer can get a marketing card to sell his wheat. Farmers may utilize their excess wheat, but it has to be done not later than May 31st. This may be done by using the excess acreage for green manure, hay or silage.

The penalty rate on excess tobacco acreage in 1956 is 40c per pound. Due to the fact that excess acreage will not increase a farmers allotment for the next year, and since the rate of penalty is high, it will not pay a farmer to harvest tobacco in excess of the allotment. Also a farmer who is overplanted on tobacco will not be eligible for price support.

Report ACP Practices

Farmers who received approvals for carrying out soil building practices this spring are urged to make their report to this office as soon as possible.

Approvals are being made for limestone, farm ponds and terracing. Farmers who have not received any approval this year are urged to come to the local ASC office and request approval. A sign-up period will be held later for fall approvals.

About the time parents give up the task of guiding the destinies of their children experience takes over the job.

Presbyterian Summer Workers Announced

Two summer workers for the First Presbyterian Church in Mocksville will arrive soon to take up their duties.

Jerry Jones of Lake Alfred, Florida, and Harriet Jones of Lakeland, Fla., will live in the Presbyterian Manse and assist in the church this summer.

Miss Jones has a BS degree in pre-school and elementary education. At the present time she is teaching in the Richmond City Schools and will arrive here around June 14.

Mr. Jones has a BA degree in philosophy, with colaterials in history and English Literature. He worked two summers ago as director of church education of the Fist Presbyterian Church of Tallahassee. Last summer he served as director of the Presbyterian Student House at Florida State University. He will arrive in Mocksville around May 31st to assume his duties.

If you're sure the other fellow is right it is a good plan to follow in his footsteps.

Tid-Bits

By GORDON TOMLINSON

One upon a time there was an infant in his mother's arms. The uncle of this baby attempted to "chuckle" it under the chin. The child responded with an expectoration of saliva upon his uncle.

Said the uncle to the mother: "You had better look out! This child will probably grow up to be a HOLY TERROR!"

Today this child has grown up to be the Rev. J. P. Davis, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Mocksville.

Saturday at the Jaycee Fishing Rodeo the judges were counting fish. Clay Peraso had quite a string of fish.

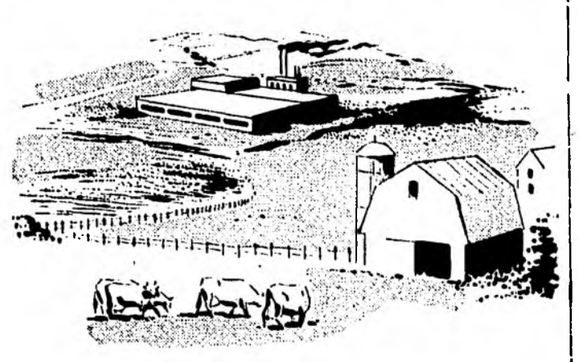
When the judges started counting Clay's string of fish, he looked up at them and asked:

"Do you want to count all of them?"

"Yes," replied one of the judges.

"Well, I have some more," replied Clay, as he began to pull other fish out of his pockets.

Did you know this fact about ... NORTH CAROLINA



We are a State of many small farms — the second in number in the entire country.

These farms provide North Carolina with a reservoir of highly intelligent and adaptable workers available to our new industrial growth and development. Industry is always seeking new locations in progressive areas where people are happy in their work and play.

And almost without exception where you find industrial progress in North Carolina you find "legal beer," as sold under state control laws supported by the brewing industry's own program of Self-Regulation.

Only The Year-Ahead CHRYSLER brings you the

Dotted line shows the short roof typical of other 4-door hardtops. This means cramped head and leg room. Solid outline shows Chrysler's longer roof.

Other 4-door hardtops have short rear windows indicated by broken line above. Chrysler's windows extend all the way to the back of the rear seat.

Chrysler's longer roof, greater room, and better visibility are the result of two-part roll-away window. Rear segment rolls forward. Forward segment down.

All the airy openness of a racy convertible . . . and the full size and comfort of a big sedan. That's the Chrysler 4-door hardtop.

You can get in and out as easily as in a sedan because the entrance area is full width. And you get full vision because the rear window comes all the way to the back of the rear seat.

Chrysler's ingenious new roll-away action rear window is the secret. It permits a full-size roof, and the rear seat is back where it belongs.

Best of all, this 4-door hardtop has all the YEAR-AHEAD features that make the "PowerStyle" Chrysler the success car of 1956! See it now!

Community Council Held At Farmington

The Farmington - Pino Community Development Council held its regular meeting on Friday night, May 18, in the Farmington Agriculture Building. During the business session reports were given by representatives from local clubs concening progress made in community pojects already underway. B. G. Lakey and J. W. Hoyle wee appointed to investigate the possibilities of forming a Boy Scout Troop in Farmington, and S. G. Wallace and J. H. Caudle were asked to continue their efforts in organizing a summer recreation program.

The council was fortunate in having Frank Ceruzzi, Davie Hospital Administrator, as guest speaker for the meeting. Mr. Ceruzzi spoke on the organization and problems of opening the hospital and the progress made in the first two months of operation. The present needs of the hospital were presented and Mr. Cerrzzi stressed "Walking Blood Bank," by asking that local clubs urge their members to go to the hospital, have their blood typed and sign as prospective donors.

MRS. GEORGE CLEVELAND HAIRE

MISS LENA GRAY CORNATZER MARRIES GEORGE CLEVELAND HAIRE, SATURDAY

Miss Lena Grey Cornatzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ray Cornatzer of Mocksville became the bride of George Cleveland Haire, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Haire of Mocksville, at 7:30 p.m., Saturday in the First Methodist Church here.

The Rev. J. W. Vestal of Badin and the Rev. W. Q. Grigg performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Johnny Haire of Washington was organist, and Jack Allison LeGrand was soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess gown of ivory satin designed with a scalloped neckline. Panels of chantilly lace were appliqued on the bodice and bouffant skirt, which extended into a cathedral train. Her veil of illusion, studded with pearls, fell from a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a bauquet of white roses centered with white orchids and showered with valle lyilies.

Mrs. David R. Stroud of Rocky Mount was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Carol Miller and Misse Edri Greene of Mocksville and Miss Helen Poston of Statesville. They wore gowns of aqua taffeta with matching star rise headdresses and carried cascade bouquets of pink roses.

Tayna Sue Dunn was flower girl, and Dan Markland was ring bearer.

The bride's parents entertained at a reception in their home. Assisting in serving and receiving were Mr and Mrs. Sheek Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Sell, Mr. and Mrs. Hoy Poston of Statesville, Miss Florence Mackie, Miss June Carol Green, Miss Mattie Mae Killian, Miss Alice Brumfield, Mrs. Joe Spry, Mrs. Jim Wilson and Mrs. Bill Armsworthy.

After a wedding trip to Florida the couple will live in Washington, where the groom is employed by the United States Government.

Mrs. Haire was graduated from Mocksville High school and attended the Weaver Airline School in Kansas City, Mo. Her husband is a graduate of the same high school.

Three Honorees Have Birthdays

Mr. and Mrs. Eirv Speer gave their son, Daniel, a birthday party Saturday afternoon on his seventh birthday anniversary. The party was also given for Charles Phillips who was seven years old and Kathy Bledsoe who was two.

Attending the party were: Daniel Speer, Kathy Bledsoe, Charles Patsy and Carol Phillips, Bobby Caudle, Billy Murphy, Kenney, Arnold and Jean Harpe, Dwayne and Larry Booe, Sarah, Reggie, Larry and Garry Harris, Pat and Jane Speer, Mrs. Jack Bledsoe, Mrs. Ruby Gross, Mrs. Kathleen Speer, Roy Speer, Bobby Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. William Speer and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Harris.

Birthday cake, potato chips and lemonade were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell Are Hosts At Party

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Powell entertained at an ice cream party Friday evening at their home on Route 1, honoring Mrs. Jim Ratledge, a recent bride, and Miss Faye Wilson, bride-elect.

Gifts were presented the honorees, and an ice course was served to the honorees, the host and hostesses' daughter, Elaine, Jim Ratledge and Earl Seamon.

Miss Nancy Latham Is Feted At Shower

Cake-Cutting Given For Bridal Pair

Miss Lena Grey Cornatzer and George C. Haire were honored at a cake-cutting Friday evening after the rehearsal for their wedding Saturday in the First Methodist Church.

Miss Carol Miller and Miss Helen Poston of Statesville, both bridesmaids in the wedding, were hostesses.

The party was given at the home of Miss Miller on Yadkinville Road. Arrangements of roses and magnolia foliage decorated the home. The bride's table, overlaid with a pink satin lace cloth was centered by a silver bowl of pink rose buds, white snapdragons and gypsophila flanked by pink tapers in silver holders.

Frozen pink punch, three tiered pink and white wedding cake and mints were served.

Steelman-Wooten Vows Are Spoken

Miss Jessie Ruth Steelman and James Wesley Wooten were united in marriage Saturday, May 19, in the Baptist parsonage. The Rev. J. P. Davis officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of only Mr. and Mrs. B. van de Werken.

Miss Steelman is the daughter of Mrs. Berry R. Steelman of Rt. 1 and the late Mr. Steelman, and Mr. Wooten is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley R. Wooten.

Mrs. Wooten, graduate of the Mocksville High School and a Commercial Art student, is now employed at Hanes Hosiery Mill in Winston-Salem.

Mr. Wooten, who has recently received his discharge from the Air Force, is engaged in farming on Route 5.

TWO SOLUTIONS to boost your cotton and corn yields

Side-dress with ARCADIAN® Non-Pressure FERAN® Solution

Pump ARCADIAN FERAN Nitrogen Solution into a tank behind your tractor and head off across the field, side-dressing row crops at the rate of 40 to 100 acres a day. FERAN flows down to the soil surface through dribble tubes, or under the soil surface from tubes leading behind cultivator teeth or chisels. ARCADIAN FERAN supplies quick-acting nitrate and long-lasting ammonia nitrogen that feeds crops well for big, profitable yields.

Side-dress with ARCADIAN Low-Pressure NITRANA® Solutions

You can side-dress 40 to 80 acres per day with low-cost, top-quality ammonia and nitrate nitrogen from a low-pressure tank of NITRANA Nitrogen Solution. ARCADIAN NITRANA goes 2 to 4 inches deep in the soil, right where crop roots need it. You inject NITRANA and cultivate your cotton or corn at the same time. Side-dressing with ARCADIAN Nitrogen Solutions is one of the fastest growing new ideas in nitrogen fertilization today!

Arcadian NITRANA® and FERAN® NITROGEN SOLUTIONS

Petty will defend his title in the annual late model stock car races at Bowman Gray Stadium Saturday night nd then compete in the 100-mile Grand National over the improved Charlotte Speedway Sunday afternoon. Petty finished third back of Buck Baker and Speedy Thompson in the 500-lap race at Martinsville, Virginia, last Sunday.

Wear A Poppy Saturday In Honor Of War Dead

Saturday will be Poppy Day in Mocksville and throughout the United States. Millions of Americans will observe the day by wearing memorial poppies in honor of the nation's war dead and by making contributions for the welfare of war's living victims, the disabled veterans and needy children of veterans.

Women and girls of the American Legion Auxiliary, and cooperating organizations, will be on the streets from early morning with baskets of crepe paper poppies made by disabled veterans, offering everyone an opportunity to pay individual tribute to the war dead by wearing one of the little red memorial flowers. No price will be asked for the poppies but contributions to the rehabilitation and child welfare funds of the Auxiliary will be received.

All of the Auxiliary's poppy workers will be unpaid volunteers, giving their services for the dual purpose of honoring the dead and aiding the disabled. Among them will be members of three generations, wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of men who have served America in the three wars of this century. The poppy distribution is being directed by Mrs. Sue Short, Poppy Chairman of Davie County Auxiliary Unit.

The poppies to be distributed here have been made by disabled veterans at Fayetteville, and are crepe paper replicas of the famous poppies of Flanders Fields which took root and bloomed in the raw earth of the battle graves in Europe, providing nature's floral tribute to the heroic dead. Ever since World War I they have been worn annually throughout the English speaking world as a symbol of remembrance, and to raise funds for the aid of disabled veterans and children of veterans.

Miss Mary Montgomery To Wed In Late Summer

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Montgomery of Greenville announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Lou, to Charles Robert Oliver, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Oliver of Reidsville. A late summer wedding is planned.

Miss Montgomery, a granddaughter of Mrs. A. M. Kimbrough and the late Mr. Kimbrough, was graduated from Reidsville High School and attended Greensboro College two years. She recently received a B.S. degree at East Carolina College, Greenville.

Mr. Oliver, is also a graduate of Reidsville High School and of Davidson College. He is now studying at the Seminary in Richmond, Virginia.

Baltimore

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Baity, Mrs. Flossie Jones, Louise Jones and Mrs. H. P. Cornatzer visited Mrs. Ernest Boyles recently in King.

Mrs. John Keaton is improving from a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sofley of Redland and Mr. and Mrs. Fillmore Robertson were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Browder.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cornatzer attended the Cornatzer - Haire wedding in Mocksville Saturday evening.

Mrs. Clara Bailey visited Mrs. R. S. Cornatzer Monday evening.

Mrs. Laura S. Terrell of Williamsburg, Va., was a week end guest of the Frank Mocks.

Mrs. Norman Chaffin assisted in entertaining the first grade of Shady Grove school Saturday afternoon. The train ride to Mocksville was the thrill of the afternoon for the children and no doubt for the other passengers as well. A picnic was later served at Rich Park, Mocksville.

The Power of Memorial Day

by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

I had the privilege of growing up in small Ohio communities in the early part of this century, and one of my most inspirational memories centers around Memorial Day and the old soldiers of the Civil War.

To me, Memorial Day was one of the most moving of all the national holidays. I was stirred by the speeches and martial music from the bandstand or cemetery on what we called "Decoration Day." There was something about the newness of life that the Spring had brought; soft sunshine falling on the fresh green grass of early summer, the misty hills in the distance, the sound of stirring national songs, and above all, the softly flapping flag in the gentle breeze as the speaker told us of our country, the deep devotion of its heroes, and recounted once more the stirring episodes of our heroic past.

And many a lazy summer afternoon, I sat on the coping around the old courthouse listening to the veterans of the Civil War tell of their experiences in the epic struggle between the States. A boy's imagination quickly sent him off behind long columns of blue or grey, and to him, such names as Antietam, The Wilderness, Shiloh, and Gettysburg became very real and meaningful.

Those old soldiers used to talk gratefully of Lincoln's insistence that those who had borne the heat of the battle and the burden of the struggle, the widow and the orphan, were to be given not charity, but their rightful due as the dependents of those brave men who had fought to preserve liberty and to keep the Union intact. It was regarded as a sacred duty of the nation, and the nation kept faith with its veterans.

In those days, as now, were many who had been disabled by the struggle. Their ability to compete in life had been reduced by wounds suffered in battle. Even as a boy I remember hearing how it seemed they were thought of only on such days as Memorial Day, when orators, fervent in their patriotism, remembered, if only for a day, the long continuing sacrifice made not by those who had died in battle, but by the disabled who were to live for many years following the great struggle.

The heroes of World War I and World War II and the Korean War are, of course, men who, with no concern for themselves, gave their lives that freedom might live. We can never do them adequate honor. And, we must never forget them. They died in their young life, forsaking the opportunities of the years that the rest of us might live and develop our highest hopes and dreams.

However, there are other living heroes who deprived themselves of either physical, emotional, or mental health for us and for their fellow countrymen. It would be as wrong for us to neglect or forget them as their buddies who today sleep on some Pacific Island or in a European cemetery. A hero dead or a hero maimed and disabled are both due our equal gratitude and our unceasing devotion.

We must never forget that the most effective way of honoring those who have died is to remember the living disabled, that their lives may be rich and full. They are a great asset to our country as the living embodiment of devotion to freedom. A country is recreant indeed which does not everlastingly keep alive grateful appreciation to those who suffered disability to perpetuate everything that we Americans hold dear.

There could be no better time than on Memorial Day to resolve that we shall gratefully support the honored men and women who have suffered disability from the wars of the United States.

(Written especially for the Disabled American Veterans, the Ident-a-Tag organization)

MRS. N. H. LASHLEY

Rev. J. W. Hoyle, III, who has been with his wife and young daughter, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Holroyd, in Chester, S. C., returned Friday and filled his preaching appointments Sunday and also delivered the baccalaureate sermon Sunday night in the school auditorium. Monday Mr. Hoyle entered the Charlotte Memorial Hospital for four or five days medical care.

Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Hoyle, II. of Greensboro were here with their son for the week end.

Miss Patty Collins, student nurse at Fletcher, N. C. after a two day visit with her mother, Mrs. Jesse Collins, left Sunday for Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Bill Smith is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Smith. She arrived Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Johnson and children, John and Martha, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wall of Winston-Salem enjoyed the week end in the mountains, traveling over the Blue Ridge Parkway.

Mrs. John C. Hartman accompanied Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman of Mocksville to Boone Friday to attend the graduation exercises at Appalachian State College. Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Brock also drove up for the occasion.

Mrs. Arthur Hallerman of Winston - Salem was a Sunday guest of her mother, and sister, Mrs. F. H. Bahnson and Mrs. R. D. Shore.

RECEIVING A CERTIFICATE OF PROMOTION to radarman third class, USN, is Perry B. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Anderson of Route 5, Mocksville, and husband of the former Miss Annette D. Stiller of Cooleemee. Before entering the service in November, 1952, he attended St. Charles High School, St. Charles, Va., and was employed by Piggy Wiggly Stores, Inc., Pennington Gap, Virginia. Navy Capt. E. A. Barram, Commanding Officer of the Dam Neck Fleet Air Defense Training Center, Virginia Beach, Va., made the presentation, April 20. The promotion followed successful completion of a Navy-wide petty officer examination conducted in February.

Mr. and Mrs. William Scheltes of Winston - Salem were visiting friends and relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene James and children, Judy and Buster, are visiting W. P. Carnatzer this week.

Bill Brock visited his aunt, Mrs. Frank Musgrave in Fremont over the week end.

Mrs. J. W. Williams returned last week from several weeks visit with her son, J. W. Williams, in Durham.

WSCS Meeting

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Farmington Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. George Tucker with Mrs. Kenneth Taylor as associate hostess, for the May meeting.

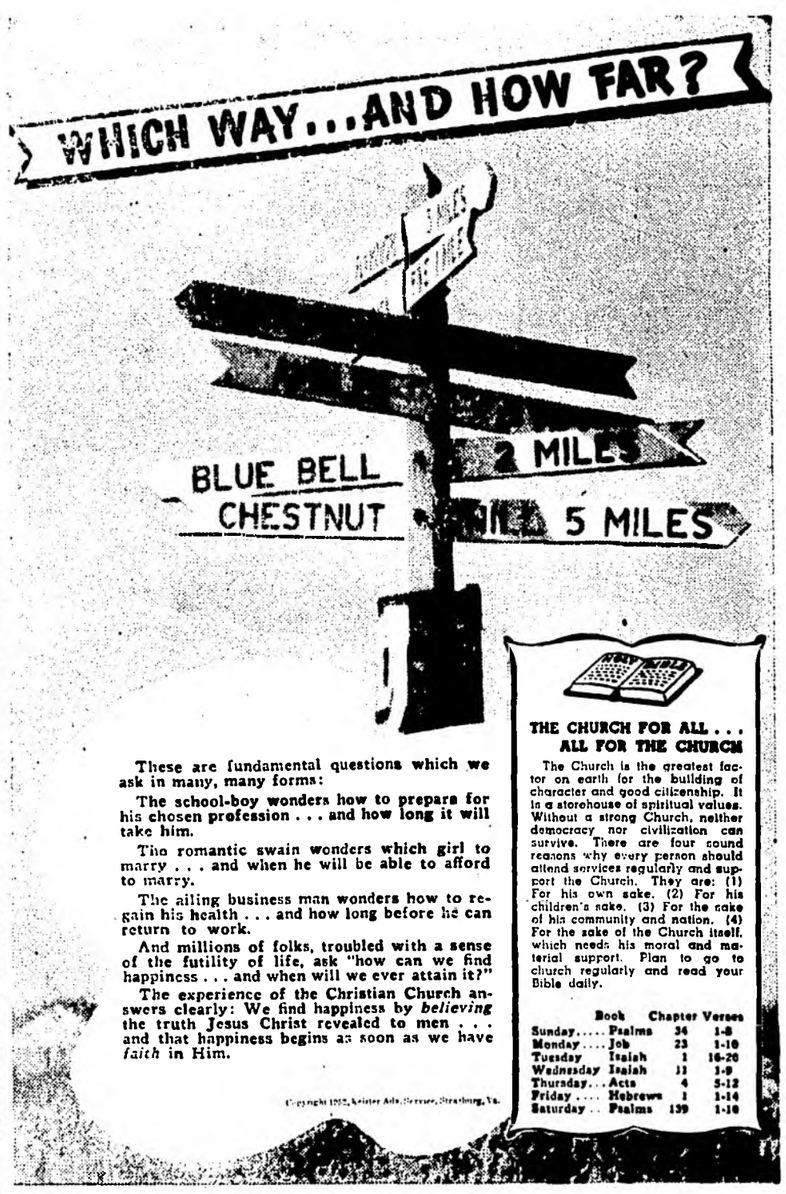
Mrs. Grady Smith, president, presided at the meeting after which the devotionals and program were given by Mrs. B. C. Brock, subject being "Why We Give." An impressive pledge service was then held under the direction of Miss Kate Brown.

The business session was then given after which the hostesses served refreshments, consisting of a salad course to nine members. The June meeting wil be held at the home of Mrs. Leon Foster.

REVIVAL SERVICES

Revivil services are now in progress at the Church of God Mission in the building along side of the Mocksville Cleaners on East Depot Street. There will be a different speaker each week.

Even a level-headed man has to take a great many bumps.



These are fundamental questions which we ask in many, many forms:

The school-boy wonders how to prepare for his chosen profession . . . and how long it will take him.

The romantic swain wonders which girl to marry . . . and when he will be able to afford to marry.

The ailing business man wonders how to regain his health . . . and how long before he can return to work.

And millions of folks, troubled with a sense of the futility of life, ask "how can we find happiness . . . and when will we ever attain it?"

The experience of the Christian Church answers clearly: We find happiness by believing the truth Jesus Christ revealed to men . . . and that happiness begins as soon as we have faith in Him.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

the boy who put the joy in Flatbush

After all the Series' shouting was over and Brooklyn had settled down to somewhat near normal, a reporter asked Podres what his plans were. Said Johnny:

"I don't plan to do very much except maybe go out and buy some more U. S. Savings Bonds with my share of the World Series loot."

And those were some of the biggest and best plans that Johnny could have made. It's essential for all of us — big sports stars or fans — to be concerned with future financial security. And the best way to insure having it, is to invest your money in U. S. Savings Bonds.

Here's why. Your principal invested in Bonds is safe — not subject to market fluctuations. Your returns are sure — Bonds pay an average of 3% per year, when held to maturity. Your Bonds are liquid savings — you can cash them after 2 months, should an emergency arise.

So take a tip from World Series Star Johnny Podres. Go out and buy some more U. S. Savings Bonds—on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or at your bank.

The Candidate of Choice

Saturday, May 26th, is the time of selecting candidates for office. In making the selections, perhaps the voters should ask themselves: "Why is that candidate seeking office and what is my reason for supporting him?"

There is an old adage, "the office should seek the man and not the man the office." Figuratively this is good reasoning, but it works both ways. In most cases candidates must seek an office, but even so, in doing this they should ask themselves, and in support you should ask yourself, whether or not they are qualified.

A public office is a place to render public service—not a place to seek personal glory and selfish aims.

Along with the idea of service a candidate must necessarily have other qualifications. Simply wanting to serve is not enough. Experience and knowledge are vitally important.

In this changing world it is important that every person in public office have a knowledge of public affairs. New problems arise almost daily.

Also, public officeholder needs to have an open mind, not bound by prejudices. He should be able to listen as well as talk, and be able to get along with people. In the selection of candidates, it would do well for the voters to remember some of these attributes.

Voters, who ask candidates to seek office, should do so without expecting personal gain. We cannot have the best government if voters give their support to office-seekers, whom they expect to control. Because a voter supports a candidate does not mean he should try to dictate to him.

Saturday the selection of candidates for office will be made by voters of both parties This selection deserves the most careful thought and consideration—and then your vote.

Don't leave the choice of selection up to someone else. Be sure to vote for the candidate of your choice.

The Last And The First

This week what was probably the last graduation exercises of the four high schools in the county were held. Around 156 students of the high schools of Mocksville, Cooleemee, Farmington, and Advance received diplomas signifying successful completion of the prescribed course of study at these institutions.

Next year, the first graduation exercises of the new Davie County Consolidated High School will be held.

The passing from one era into another is often somewhat marked with some degree of sadness—and that is how it should be. It is always sad to sever the relationship with the past even though you are marching ahead. However, inasmuch as progress is an ever continuing process, those that continually look behind—get left behind.

The consolidation program of the four high schools in Davie Coutny is definitely keeping in step with progress. The consolidated school will be able to offer so many more advantages in the education of youth, than could ever be offered in the individual community school.

Thoughts should not dwell too long on the fact that after this year there will be no high schools at Mocksville, Cooleemee, Farmington, and Advance. Instead, all thoughts and efforts should be directed towards the new consolidated school as the birth of a new era in the educational processes of Davie County.

Keys To Future Teams

Everyone in this community is proud of the Mocksville High School baseball team and the showing they are making this year. Last week the two play-off games with West Yadkin drew overflowing crowds, cheering the boys on.

Coach Bill Peeler has done a marvelous job in whipping this team into shape and piloting it to the most successful season experienced by a local high school team in recent years. However, the ground work for this team was laid long before it was assembled this year.

Most of the boys on the Mocksville baseball team are what may be termed as graduates of the Pony Baseball League. This league operates in this community each summer and offers youngsters between 12 and 16 the opportunity to play organized baseball, under the supervision of an adult coach and manager.

A roll call of the members of the local baseball team would almost by synonmous wit ha roll call of the graduates of two teams in the Pony League—Mocksville and Smith Grove—of the past. Through these organizations these players have developed, just as these organizations are now in the process of developing other players for future Davie County teams.

Those in the community who enjoy athletic events and appreciate athletic skills, would do well to remember that even 'Rome wasn't built in a day." The developing of top-notch athletic teams is a continuing process and one that must begin early. Such programs as the "Pony League," and other supervised athletics for the youngsters, are the keys to whether or not the teams of the future will jus play, or excell.

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS

WASHINGTON — I have been increasingly concerned by the danger of the continuing encroachment upon the rights of the States. I have decided to attempt to find out if some steps can be taken by Congress to restore the relationship of the legislature, executive and judicial branches of our governmen to the balence that the Constitution provides.

EXAMPLE

My plans are to introduce a resolution in the Senate, and press for its adoption, to cause a study to be made of the degree to which the executive and judicial branches have encroached on Congress. It has reached the point where lawyers in the executive branch openly admit they have no law for some of their actions but are simply making their orders to comply with the general policies of the Administation. I do not exonerate Congress from its responsibilities. In the short time I have been in the Senate, I have observed taht Congress is prone to delegate its Constitutional powers to a degree that literally discourages one who has studied and believes in Constitutional processes.

WHEN?

There is a possibility that a resolution of this nature may never survive in Committee. I hope that it will not perish. When will it be presented? My present plans call for additional study of the problem in order to prepare a suitable brief of facts upon which to base a resolution. It will be introduced shortly thereafter.

RESPONSIBILITY

I feel that I have a clear responsibility to the people of North Carolina to point out the dangers of continued perversion of the provisions of the Constitution by those who apparently see it as only a scrap of paper.

CORRUPTION

The frauds which we are investigating in connection with military clothing contracts are shameful examples of the degree to which corruption sometimes exists. I believe there is considerable work to be done in this investigation. Here is a good example of the proper role of an investigating committee.

PRIMARY DAY

I have not previously mentioned the Democratic Primary to be held on May 26. My purpose in mentioning it here is simply to say that I trust the people of North Carolina will exercise their precious right to vote for the candidates of their choice.

ADJOURNMENT

The tempo of Senate work is rapidly increasing with the passing of time. Various committees are completing their work on important bills and reporting out legislation to the Senate for its consideration. As a consequence, it is not likely that Senators or their staffs will have much leisure before the end of the session which Congressional leaders hope will not be later than July 31.

SO THIS IS NEW YORK

By North Callahan

During the past few days, I have been making a little survey among typical New Yorkers, from taxi drivers to bank presidents, about the forthcoming election. The results are interesting if not surprising. Ninety per cent of those questioned, regardless of party, believe President Eisenhower will be re-elected. Most of them don't like Nixon, however, and fear he eventually will be President. One doctor said the staff at his hospital felt Ike should not run again. On the other side, Stevenson still has the edge but Kefauver is coming up strong and a lot of those interviewed say they wish our system were so that nominations would be made by the people and not controlled at political conventions.

We saw the Brodway play which has just opened here, "The Lovers" by Leslie Stevens, presented at the Martin Beck Theater by the Playwrights' Company, and were quite impressed by it. Like Henry Adams, it takes you back to the 12th Century for one portrayal of great truths that are as sensible as they are today. A Knight takes the young bride of one of his peasants away from her husband on their wedding night—because he wanted her and had the legal right of such possession. The problems which follow, the human and ecclesiastical reactions which although sad are also moving, all furnish a very entertaining evening in the theater.

Teresa Brewer has the reputation of being a religious person as well as a popular singer. She said that religion had not hurt her career in show business, but on the other had had helped her through many rough spots. Another unusual characteristic: she does her own shopping for groceries. "I'm probably the only singer who signs autographs on boxes of cereal, cans of peas and wrapping paper," she says.

A bus driver was making his usual morning run to the suburbs here, and as he went along, he tossed out packages of newspapers at various designated spots to be picked up later by carriers. Suddenly a car pulled alongside the bus and honked loudly. The bus pulled over. A motorist stuck his head out of the car and said, "You seem to be losing papers. I've been picking them up for the last hour." So he handed over the bus driver's entire morning delivery.

Dropped into a store on 48th Street and found it so full of customers that some finally left because they could not get waited on. This variety store was clearly the most popular place in the block. On the counters were standard-brand goods and on them were labels giving the prices. Then it turned out that this was one of the discount houses which are growing fast here, and that the secret of their big business activity was simply lower prices.

Caps are back again. Many of them now appear on New York streets after an absence, except on cab drivers, of a quarter of a century. When I was a boy, wearing a cap was just the thing. Then as the movie began using caps as smybols for hoodlums, they gradually disappeared. Of course many of the new types, some imported from England where men continued to wear them, have slim, skull cap lines and long bills that look like that of a duck. But anyway, you're no longer gazed as as a gangster when you wear a cap.

Gotham Gatherings: this city has 20,000 cops and 30,000 cab drivers. The police commissioner regards the cabbies as sort of additional police, so he personally signs commendations for their help to his department. . . . Book of the Month Club celebrating its 30th anniversary says it has sent out 142 million books, more than are in all U. S. libraries.

AMERICA 1975

America by 1975 will be a land in which farm-based industrial products may assume much more importance in our economy.

The National Association of Manufacturers cites a 1954 address by Paul Willis, then president, Grocery Manufacturers Association, regarding this possible development.

Mr. Willis said, in part:

". . . The farms of the United States supply many raw materials important in industry — cotton, wool, and other fibers; hides and skins; fats and oils for paints and soaps; tobacco; industrial alcohol; and others . . . Farm-based industrial products may become even more important in the future as demand provides the icentive, and technology the means, of substituting renewable products of the soil for exhaustible materials."

Raleigh Roundup

(Guest columnist this week Bob Bartholomew, former staff writer for the University of North Carolina News Bueau).

HOLDING FORTH . . . Kidd Brewer — the you'll be glad you did candidate for lieutenant governor — wha was sidelined during most of the compaign under orders by his physicians — is holding forth this final week in his open air headquarters in capitol square—day and night.

This marks the first political marathon in North Carolina history.

AYCOCK . . . Brewer spends the day greeting the public and the night beside the statue of Governor Charles B. Aycock, who was the great leader in education for North Carolina a half-century ago.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS . . . At all hours of the night he is contacting disc jockeys on their radio shows and newsmen and friends throughout the state . . . spreading the word of his campaign to preserve and to improve the public school system of North Carolina.

DO - IT - YOURSELF . . . Now, whether or not Kidd Brewer defeats his opponents — Luther Barnhardt of Concord, Alonzo Edwards of Hookerton, Gurney P. Hood of Raleigh ,and J. Vivian Whitfield of Burgam — will not be known until this coming Saturday night — but almost everybody you talk to — whether they are for the Kidd or not — agrees he has accomplished a lot within a mighty short time.

He really seems to be getting out to the people.

His Do - It - Yourself Campaign . . . appealing directly to the people . . . disregarding political organizations and refusing to accept contributions in excess of ten dollars has impressed those who have heard about it.

Brewer is attempting to let everyone head thestory this week.

"How is the campaign for Congress going in the Eleventh District?"

Answer: "All three of the candidates are losing ground."

ADLAI ENDORSED . . . Presidential Candiadte Adlai Stevenson was endorsed almost unanimously by the State Democratic Convention — and almost all of the delegates elected to the national convention this summer are known to be sharp supporters of the gentleman from Illinois.

IF HE LOSES . . . But — be that as it may — if Adlai Stevenson loses out in the Florida and the California primaries — and fails to ge the nomination on an early ballot — some North Carolina delegates may begin looking for a new bandwagon — upon which to climb.

SYMINGTON . . . If such a move begins, Senator Stewart Symington of Missouri could be the beneficiary of such a development.

At least that's what a lot of the fellows were saying in Raleight last week — though none of them wanted to be quoted on it.

MECKLENBURG RESOLUTION? . . . Has a political revolution occured in old Mecklenburg County — or has the Democratic organization there merely fallen temporarily into new hands?

This question was being widely discussed at the convention. The news that something out of the ordinary had taken place in Charlotte broke in the newspapers the day following the county convention there on May 12. But the full significance of it did not begin to be realized until several days later.

For the time being at least old time party leaders are out in the cold and new leaders are in charge.

The new Democratic kingpin in Mecklenburg is Jack Love, manager of the Queen City Bus Co. and now seeking re-election to the State House of Representatives.

He has served only one term in the General Assembly and prior to that had no political experience.

Love and four or five of his lieutenants gained control of the country organization by seizing the precinct setups. They named Attorney W. M. Nicholson as the chairman — and he in turn is expected to appoint Love as treasurer.

THE OLD GUARD . . . Unless the old guard crowd goes sulking in their tents . . . or the new leaders let victory go to their heads, the change may re-invigorate the party organization and prove helpful in reducing the Tenth Congressional District now held by the Republicans.

NEW PAROLES HEAD . . . It is virtually certain that — before the end of the summer — there will be a new chairman of the State Parolee Board.

Dr. C. H. Patrick, the present chairman, is expected to resign in order to return to his post as head of the Sociology Department at Wake Forest College.

GOVERNOR IS RUNNING . . . Of course, everybody knows that Governor Luther Hodges is running for re-election. But nobody thinks there is any real contest.

"The Governor, however, cannot be accused of underestimating his opposition," said Thompson Greenwood, who has been writing this column for the past several weeks in a conversation I had with him a few days ago.

That's certainly true. He and his campaign manager, Harold Makepeace of Sanford, are campaigning as seriously as if this were a political life or death affair.

ALL - OUT BUSINESS . . . They are distributing literature, and badges, putting on television programs, writing innumerable letters, and doing all the things that are usually done in a hot race or the Governorship.

A prominent lodge member was telling his wife about an incident that happened at the lodge. The president had offered a silk hat to any man who could truthfully stand up and say that during his married life he had never kissed any other woman but his own wife.

"Well," he replied, "I was going to, but you know how terrible I look in a silk hat."

How quickly excuses fly to our lips. Have we ever failed that we did not have an excuse. Perhaps we make excuses only to ourselves. Many times we make them to others.

There is something healing about an excuse. It binds up our wounded ego and helps us to think well of ourselves when we have little reason to do so. An excuse is really a guarded lie, used by someone who hasn't the courage to accept the responsibility for failure.

Watch the person who always excuses his conduct, his failures. He is declaring, loudly, his immaturity. Don't laugh at him. Go home and make certain that your childisiuess is not showing.

"Hey, y'all! Our annuals are here!" This cry was echoed throughout the halls and classrooms on Tuesday, May 15. Unexpectedly, the annuals arrived and were given out during the last two periods. The proud Seniors first told the secret that had been so hush-hush all year — to whom the annual was dedicated which was Mrs. Mamie Jamerson, who teaches science and math. Although Mrs. Jamerson has been with us for only one year, she has been outstanding as a teacher and an advisor, so it is only fitting that our last high school annual, the '56 Indian Echo, be dedicated to her.

Another important event on May 15 was the Class Day Exercises. The theme was "The Plantation Song." Each senior had a part in the play. Some of the main characters were the valedictorian speech, by Bill Garwood; the salutatorian speech, by Chas. Templeton; the newsmonger, Shelva Jones; the giftorian, Shelby Foster; the historian, Janet Link; the prophet, Joe McCullough; the beautiful dreamer, Jo Ann Ijames; and Kismet, Donnie Hinkle. "Sharp" Canupp acted as Master of Ceremonies.

The Seniors have been very busy writing thank-you notes for all the lovely graduation gifts they have received. Some of them have been watches, jewerly, clothing, and one lucky senior has received a car.

The Wildcats came back strong to take two straight games from West Yadkin after dropping the first contest 7-0. This gave the series to the locals, who will now meet Stoneville this week in a two out of three series. The winner of this will play for the Western championship.

The Wildcats won the second game of the series Thursday night behind the 3 hit hurling of Billy Sell. Bobby Wooten started for West Yadkin, but he was replaced by Tony Royall in the fifth after giving up 8 hits and seven runs. Royall was touched for three hits and one run in the two innings he worked. Sell struck out 13 and walked five while keeping the three West Yadkin hits well scattered.

The locals took an early lead as Alton Sheek led off with a triple in the first and scored on a long sacrifice fly by Mackie Deadmon. They increased their lead to 5-0 in the second by collecting four runs on a single by Dickie Nail, a hit batter, two errors, and a triple by Z. N. Anderson. In the fourth Sheek singled to open the inning, but was forced as second as Deadmon reached base on a fielder's choice. Mackie stole second and scored on Anderson's single. Anderson stole second also, and came in as Darwin Allen lifted the next pitch into right field. The final run came in the sixth as Lester Allen singled, took third on the centerfielder's error, and scored on a passed ball.

In the third and deciding game Saturday night the Wildcats were able to get only two safeties off the excellent pitching of Jerry Dickerson. He fanned 15 Mocksville batters in 7 innings, but four errors, four passed balls, and 8 stolen bases gave the locals a 4-2 victory.

Lester Allen reached first on an error, and stole second base in the second inning to set the stage for the local's first tally. Otis Snow walked to put runners on first and second, then a fake bunt and double steal resulted in Allen scoring as the throw to third base was missed by the fielder. Minutes later Snow came home on a fielding error by the third baseman to give Mocksville a 2-0 lead. An error in the fourth inning followed by two stolen bases and another wild throw by the catcher allowed Lester Allen to increase the lead to 3-0, while the Wildcats final run came in the 7th on an error, a single by Alton Sheek, and a passed ball. Alton Shek collected both of Mocksville's hits. The other was a triple in the fifth.

Lefty Howell started for the locals and pitched excellent ball for three innings, but he tired in the fourth and gave two runs on two hits and an error. Billy Sell came on in relief and retired 12 out of the 13 men he faced the remainder of the game. The only West Yadkin batter to reach base after this did so on an error in the bottom of the 7th. Howell received credit for his 8th victory this year against only one defeat. The team's record for the season is now 16-3.

The Wildcats' hitting has dropped off sharply in the last few contests. At the present time only four players are hitting over .300. They are: Z. N. Anderson (.347); Alton Sheek (.339); Mackie eDadmon (.313); and Lester Allen (.311).

Macedonia

The revival which is in progress at the Macedonia Moravian church, has averaged over 225 in attendance since the beginning. The revival started last Sunday morning and will continue through the Sunday evening service, May 27. Everyone is invited to hear the Rev. Oliver B. Greene from Greenville, S. C. The number of people from other churches as well as our own, has been very gratifying. Bethlehem Methodist Church called off their prayer meeting in order to come to the revival. The Rev. A. C. Cheshire of the Yadkin Valley Baptist Church pledged his support to the meetings.

A piano recital was held last Friday night, May 18, at the Smith Grove school under the direction of the piano teacher, Mrs. Fred Smith. Those students who received honorable mention were Danny McDaniels, Carol Crews, Wayne Byerly, Glenda Wood, Billy Ellis, Patsy Riddle, Sharon Cope, Sarah Lou Laird, and Lula Cook. Those who received pins for the satisfactory completion of two books of music theory were Joyce Butner, Harriet Terrell, Treva McCulston, and Judy Wilkins. The "Pin of Music," was presented to Harriet Terrell for the most outstanding progress for the past three years. The recital concluded with Steve Teague singing "The Lord's Prayer" with Miss Joyce Butner playing the accompaniment on the piano.

Mrs. Albert Howard was taken to a hospital in Statesville last Friday, May 18, for treatment. She has a heart condition.

Mrs. Irene Williard is still in the City Hospital in Winston-Salem where she has been for about three weeks. Her condition is reported as about the same.

The WMS of the Yadkin Valley Baptist Church which was to have had a meeting last Monday night, May 21, postponed it until next Wednesday, May 30, due to school activities. The sunbeams, Royal Ambassadors, and GA's will meet May 30, also.

WHAT KITCHIN SAYS ABOUT MIXING RACES IN SCHOOLS

Paul Kitchin, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Eighth District, repeatedly has stated his position on racial integration and the Southern Manifesto. Here is what he said to members of the PTA in his home town of Wadesboro:

"Racial integration in schools amounts to social integration of the races insofar as a child is concerned. That is because so much of a child's social life is connected with the school. And that is one of the principol reosons I am unalterably opposed to the Supreme Court's position; and so wholeheartedly in favor of the Southern Manifesto which my opponent declined to sign.

"I wont equal, but separate, educational opportunities for the Negro. I wont the Negro to improve his own social life with other Negroes. But I do not believe in racial integration on the social level; ond I will forever fight any law or ruling which forces the white and Negro children to mix socially at schools and in school buses.

"And that is just exactly what racial integration in the public schools would do."

By J. B. WHITAKER

The most valuable and important possession of man is TIME. We reckon time in terms of the past, the present, and the future. Our yesterdays cannot be changed. The Apostle Paul had the correct idea about the past when he said, "This one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." (Phil. 3:13, 14). With reference to tomorrow we are told, "Ye know not what shall be on the morrow." (James 4:14). Tomorrow may bring forth death according to James. The great word of the Bible is "TODAY." In Hebrews 3:7, 8, 13 we are told, "To day if ye will hear his voice, hearden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness. But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin." Thus we can see that God wants us to be interested in today and not yesterday or tomorrow.

It is commonly believed by a great host of people that, though a man may have come to a full realization of the requirements of God upon him, he has plenty of time to accept any many chances to obey God. This is contrary to the teachings of the Bible. God has always demanded that man obey him immediately. Not even burying a dead father or bidding friends farewell were sufficient reason for delaying to follow Christ. (Luke 9:59-62). Jesus knew that if men turned back, even for seemingly good reasons, it would become harder and harder each delaying moment for them to follow Him. The Bible is filled with examples of people who followed the Lord immediately. In the cases of conversion recorded in the New Testament people obeyed the Gospel the day they heard. There are only two examples of men in the New Testament who asked for more time. In Acts 24: 25 we have the story of Felix. This man asked for a more convenient season. As far as the sacred history is concerned the convenient time never came for this man. In Acts 26:28 we have the story of Agrippa. He was almost persuaded to become a Christian. As far as we know, this man did not ever become a Christian. These examples are recorded to impress upon our minds the fact that the gospel must be obeyed when heard. In James 4:17 we are taught that to know and not obey is sin. In II Thess. 2:11, 12 Paul says that God sends a strong delusion or working of error to those who do not receive the love of the truth.

There is no second chance promised either in this life or after death. God says, "Now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation." (II Cor. 6:2). It can be plainly seen from Luke 16:19-31 that man has no second chance after death. The world says, "Take your time." The Bible says, "Today, if ye hear his voice, harden not your hearts." Which will you accept? Have you obeyed the gospel of Christ? Christ is coming to take vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. (II Thess. 1:8, 9). (Adv).

Davie County Small Grain Demonstration

Small grain producers should make plans to attend the small grain demonstration to be conducted May 28, 1956, near Mocksville on the Lexington Highway. All recommended varieties of oats, wheat and barley will be observed in this demonstration. All small grain producers are invited to attend this demonstration. Meet at County Agent's Office at 9 a.m. on Monday, May 28.

Small Grain Field Day—

Rowan County

A small grain field day will be conducted at the new Experiment Station in Rowan County from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. on May 24, 1956. People desiring transportation to this field day should meet at the County Agent's Office in Mocksville at 1:00 p.m. and transportation will be arranged.

Farm and Home Week

Farm and Home Week will be conducted at State College June 4-7, 1956. Registration will be at the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday, June 4-7. An excellent program for both men and women has been planned. Anyone desiring more information concerning program may contact County Agent's Office.

Are You Providing Plenty of Space For Your Pullets?

How many good pullets will you have by show time when they are put in the laying house? If your pullets are short changed on feeding space, watering space, ventilating space, floor space, and management space (practices), they may not develop into very profitable birds. The next time you feed or water your chicks, check on the number of feeders and waterers you are providing. Remember, these birds will be layers in such a short period of time. The care you give your chicks during the growing period will affect their performance; that is, how well they will lay and the labor return you will receive. So make sure your chicks have the necessary things and conditions to develop into profitable layers. The birds cannot supply these facilities. If you don't, no one else will.

FEEDER SPACE. Provide at least two feeders, six feet long, for each one hundred birds. If the feeders are kept outdoors, then use the covered type.

WATER SPACE. Each 100 pullets will need six to eight gallons of water daily. Provide at least two three-gallon fountains. Your pullets will dring more water if it is FRESH, CLEAN, AND COOL. Remember, your pullets will not dring enough water to meet growing requirements if the waterers are dry for any length of time, if the water is thick with dirt, or if the water is hot.

FLOOR SPACE. If you raise your pullets in confinement, they should have one square foot of floor space from one day to eight weeks, two square feet from eight to sixteen weeks, and three square feet after sixten weeks. If overcrowded, vitality of the birds is reduced; and they become more susceptible to disease.

OUTDOOR SPACE. 100 pullets on range should have one-fourth to one-half acre, depending upon the amount of green feed that is available. Provide one range shelter 10 ft. by 12 ft.

FEED. Chicks need a balanced diet to make the proper growth. If mostly grain is fed to chicks, it is like giving candy instead of meats and vegetables to children and then expecting them to grow normally. Grain is a good source of energy but low in protein, vitamins and minerals. A good growing mash sohuld be fed along with the grains. If you use the free choice feeding system, keep one hopper filled with a 26 per cent protein growing mash (a 32 per cent can be used), one hopper filled with whole yellow corn, and one hopper of whole oats before the pullets at all times. If the free-choice system is to be used in the laying house, it should be started by the time the pullets are eight to ten weeks of age. Whole grains should be fed at this time.

Disability And Social Security Is Explained

"Totally disabled persons who fail to check on their rights under the disability freeze provisions of the social security law, are running the risk of losing money for themselves, or for their families," said Louis H. Clement, District Manage rof the Salisbury Office today.

"If a disabled person is eligible to have his social security record frozen but fails to apply to his social security office, Mr. Clement continued, "the survivors payments in the event of his death before age 65 may be reduced or not payable at all.

"Although the disability freeze provision does not provide cash disability payments, it is of benefit to disabled persons under age 65, because it excludes the period of disability from their social security earnings record and thus protects their retirement and survivors rights and the amount of future benefit payments. It is similar to the waiver of premium clauses in private insurance policies.

Workers who can benefit by referral for rehabilitation services will find the freeze to be an additional help, as it will protect their potential retirement benefits during their rehabilitation period.

Mr. Clement further stated that in order to qualify for the freeze a disabled person must have worked under social security at least half of the time in the 10 years before he became disabled, in addition to having worked about half of the 3 year period immediately before. The disability must have lasted for at least 6 months and be severe enough to keep the person from doing regular work. The disability must also be permanent or at least of a long-continuing nature. "The freezing of a person's earnings record during total disability is not automatic. Each individual must file an application for it. If a person is mentally or physically incapable, a person may see about it on his behalf.

FHS News

By JOHNSIE ELLIS AND JOE BUSIEK

Last Friday at the ringing of the first bell to open school ,a small cavalcade of cars, loaded with Farmington students, left, the school in their dust. Was this on the level—or were they openly defying the school rules? No, it was nothing dramatic. Everything was strictly legit, for it was was the senior class, chaperoned by Mrs. Grece, on its way to Winston-Salem on its annual pilgrimage to invade the high spots of the town. First on the list was the Hanes Knitting Mill, followed by Southern Dairies. At Southern Dairies we finally got one of those free samples we'd been hoping for. After lunch we trooped back to go through the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, where we again received free samples. Somewhat weary and almost, but not quite beaten, we weer taken over a good deal of Wake Forest College. (It seemed like acres). From there to Bowman Gray School of Medicine and to WTOB completed the tour. After a good supper and some time to cool our heels and freshen up a bit, most of us took in the movie, "Guys and Dolls." All considered we'uns had an enjoyable day. Oh' yes, and a few of the seniors went on their own to the airport and got to go into a sure-nuff honest - to - goodness airplane and look it over.

Because the seniors didn't have grade mothers this year, a few of the seniors' mothers got together and gave us a weiner ronst at the home of Joyce Payne. Some of the seniors are guests were: Johnny Hauser, Clarence Elmore, Ann Harding, Bessie Seats, Peggy Dull, Joyce Payne, Ruth Howard, Wayne Beck, Rachel Langston, Jimmy Howard, Olena Grece, Patsy Cline, Michael Angell, Mr. and Mrs. James Grece, Mr .and Mrs. Leroy Page, and Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wallace.

At the senior class chapel we had a special visitor, Mr. C. D. Jamerson, from the Erwin Cotton Mills in Cooleemee. Mr. Jamerson gave a talk on "What an Employer Looks for in an employee." Several valuable tips were abscorbed by his listeners, especially the seniors who will soon be job-hunting.

To Tangelwood Park went the players from both the basketball and baseball teams and the cheerleaders for their party, held every year after the playing seasons. They have a lot to talk about, too, having had an exciting season in both sports.

Two senior girls, Ann Harding and Joyce Payne, were invited to the Rowan Memorial Hosptial in Salisbury to see a play entitled "Nurses' Follies," and attend a pajama party. Be sure to wear your very brighest p.j.'s, gals.

Mocksville was full of Farmington (as well as other schools) seniors, for the girls were given their miniature cedar chests at Davie Furniture Company and the boys a pair of argyles at B. C. Moore's. A nice mechanical pencil was given to both boys and girls by Pennington Chevrolet Co. The seniors wish to thank one and all for their gifts.

If this news is full of talk about seniors, seniors, seniors, this week, we can't help it because at the end of school, near graduation, the seniors' activities seem to triple and a lot seems to happen. And after all, graduation comes only to seniors, and that's big news. So instead of cussin' them let's give them a hand for making it this far.

Funerals

MISS ANNIE ORRELL, 72

Funeral services for Miss Annie L. Orrell, 72, of Advance, were held Monday afternoon at the Advance Methodist Church. The Rev. H. C. Clinard officiated. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Miss Orrell died May 20th at the hospital at Camp Butner. She had been in declining health for several years.

There are no survivors.

She was born in Davie County, daughter of Henry and Ida Orrell. She was a member of Advance Methodist Church and was active in its work as long as her health permitted.

People who make light of the faults of others seldom set the world on fire.

Annual Calf Scramble Is Scheduled For Saturday

The annual calf scramble will be held here at Rich Park on Saturday night of this week at 8 p.m. This program is under the sponsorship of the Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Davie Agricultural Council.

The program will feature calf scrambles for 5 and 6 years olds as well as FFA and 4-H members. The calf scramble consists of turning loose a number of 300 lb. Angus and Hereford calves. The participants must catch a calf, put a halter on it and lead it across the finish line.

In addition to the calf scramble, the program Saturday night will also feature an exhibition of roping, riding and bull riding by the Jones boys. These are former Texas cowboys who will bring their own horses and put on all types of riding and roping exhibitions.

There will also be a milk drinking and ice cream eating contest with the participants being volunteers from the audience. Also, there will be a tug-of-war contest between the Rotary Club and Lions Club.

Softball Scheduled

Play in the Mocksville Recreation Softball League will get underway on June 5, with eight teams participating. Teams entering in play this year include: Firestone, Presbyterian, Baptist, National Guard, Heffner's Flooland, Heritage and the Methodist.

C. B. Deane Issues Press Statement

Congressman C. B. Deane, who was defeated last Saturday for nomination by Paul Kitchin of Wadesboro, has issued the following statement:

"' I have extended by congratulations to Mr. Kitchin. He and the entire Democratic ticket will receive my full support in November.

"The campaign that ended Saturday was a challenge to me. I tried to conduct the campaign with the needs of the whole country in mind. There is a great deal of confusion these days. I do not want to add to this confusion but to try to be a part of the answer. I have no regrets.

"To the people of my district, whom I have had the honor to represent for nearly ten years, I am sincerely grateful. I express deep appreciation to all the people who expressed their faith in me, not only by their vote but by their tireless effort in my behalf.

"I want to continue to seek, in all I do, to build unity in our district and in our state. To this end I pledge myself."

Erwin Mills Plan Summer Vacations

The employees of Erwin Mills plans in North Carolina and Mississippi will receive their summer vacations during the first week in July. The plants will close early on the morning of June 30 and reopen July 9.

Operations will be closed down in order to give all employees their vacations simultaneously.

Mocksville In Play-Off For Western Class A Title

Winner Of Series With Dallas To Play For State Class A Title

Mocksville and Dallas were scheduled to meet in the second game of the Western Class A baseball play-offs at the Simm's Legion Park in Gastonia. If a third game is needed, it will be played on a neutral field mutually agreed on by the two teams, later this week.

The winner of this play-off will be the western champion and will meet the eastern victors for the state championship next week. Under the rules of the North Carolina High School Athletic Association, the site of the championship games are alternated each year between the east and the west. This year the series will be played on the eastern field.

Alton Sheck, Mocksville centerfielder who was struck by a pitched ball thrown by Joe Wooten, was not seriously injured. He suffered cuts around his left eye when the glasses he was wearing were shattered. He will probably be out of the game Wednesday night, but may be ready for play, if needed, later in the week.

Lester Allen, who hurt his knee sliding into home plate with the winning run, was not seriously injured and will not be out of the lineup.

Monday night's game was halted in the ninth inning when Sheck was injured. Several fans stormed from the stands. Actually, it started in the eighth when Lester Allen, Mocksville third baseman, claimed a pitch by Wooten hit him on the hand. Umpire Jim Clark ruled it a foul strike. There was quite a bit of argument about it but the ruling stood.

Then, in the ninth, a wild pitch by Wooten caught Sheck in the face. The youngster at first appeared badly hurt and some of the fans got excited about the injury. One took a swing at Umpire Clark, but quick action by Mocksville school authorities and other citizens restored order in a short time. After the game was over there was some more milling around but again citizens stepped in to keep things quiet.

The lead changed hands almost every inning and both teams hit the ball hard.

Lester Allen was the game hero, though for a time he was so upset about the question of whether he was hit by the pitched ball that he had trouble fielding his position. But on the whole, he did an outstanding job. He had three hits, including a triple that set up the wining run. Mackie Deadman had two hits for Mocksville. Darwin Allen and Zee Anderson drove in two runs each.

Billy Sell did an excellent job on the mound. Though Mocksville has been playing seven - inning games, he pitched 10 innings on Monday night. He struck out 11

Nickname Of 'REBELS' Is Adopted By New School

Colors To Be Burnt Orange, Black, White

It will be "DAVIE COUNTY REBELS" next year when the athletic teams of the new consolidated high school don new uniforms bearing the colors of burnt orange, black and white.

The nickname of "Rebels" was adopted recently by student representatives of the four high schools in a special meeting with Coach Jack Ward. The colors of burnt orange, black and white were also adopted.

Masons Of 4 Counties To Stage Fish Fry

Masons of four counties, Forsyth, Stokes, Yadkin, and Davie are participating, and visiting Masons will be invited. The fish fry begins at 4:30, and Mr. Foy will speak at 6 p.m.

Farmington V. F. D. Answers Two Calls

The Farmington Volunteer Fire Department answered two calls during the past week end.

The Lon Williams house burned Saturday around 12 noon. The entire upper portion of the house was aflame when the fire was discovered and the house completely burned.

Around 8 a.m., Sunday morning, the barn of Cecil Leagans caught on fire from the hay drying machine. Promptly answering call, the fire was extinguished. Damage was done to the barn and the motor of the hay drier.

Mystery Farm Is Identified By Ten

The first four to identify the farm and qualify for certificates from the B. C. Moore Company were Alvin Hartman, Brack Bailey, B. R. Bailey and Allen Bailey.

Local Gurnsey Cow Makes Top Record

A registered Guernsey cow, Royal Counts Paulette, owned by P. B. Blackwelder, Mocksville, has completed an official production record of 9,094 pounds of milk and 520 pounds of at, according to the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

This production, made in the AGCC's Herd Improvement Registry, is equal to 4400 quarts of high-quality milk.

Whirl of Bridal Parties Honor Miss Latham

Sunday bride-to-be, Miss Nancy Latham, is being entertained at a series of parties and luncheons.

She was guest of honor Wednesday evening, May 23, at a linen shower given by Mrs. Chauncil T. Brown in the Pink Piano Room in the YWCA in Winston-Salem. Floral arrangements were of deep red roses. Miss Latham was presented a white carnation corsage by the hostess and a shower of linen gifts by her friends. After bridal games were played, punch, fancy sandwiches, cookies, nuts and mints were served to: the honoree, Mesdames S. R. Latham, the honoree's mother; Lester Keller, Wayne Eaton, Benny Naylor, Johnny Naylor, Leo Cozart, Guy Hartman, Francis Shore of Winston-Salem, and Miss Jane Click.

A bridal dice party on Saturday, May 26, also honored Miss Latham. Hostesses were Mrs. Sam Latham and Mrs. Jim Latham who entertained at the Sam Latham home on Spring Street. A corsage of pink carnations and a pair of table lamps were given the future bride by her hostesses. Roses and mixed summer flowers decorated the home. Mrs. Guy Hartman won the high score prize and Mrs. Lester Keller the consolation.

A dessert course was served prior to the progressions and iced Cokes and nuts were passed later in the evening.

On Wednesday, May 30, Mrs. R. F. Click and Miss Jane Click honored Miss Latham at a luncheon at their home on Wilkesboro Street. Arrangements of garden flowers decorated the home and the honoree's place was marked by a bridal bouquet of white carnations. The hostesses' gift to her was of silver.

Covers were laid for: Miss Latham, Mesdames S. R. Latham, Jim Latham, Sam Latham, Benny Naylor, Lester Keller, Guy Hartman and Miss Rebecca Austin of Boone and Monroe.

Miss Frankie Junker will be hostess at a dessert-bridge party tonight at her home on North Main Street honoring the popular bride-elect. A green and white color scheme will be carried out in the decorations and refreshments and the honoree will receive a gift. Twenty guests are invited.

Saturday evening prior to the rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Latham and Bill Benson, Mrs. J. F. Naylor and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cozart will give a dinner for the bridal pair. The dinner will be given at the Naylor home on Wilkesboro Street. Thirty - five guests will attend.

A cake-cutting in the Methodist Fellowship Hall after the rehearsal will climax the wedding festivities. The bride-elect's sister, Mrs. F. B. Shore, of Winston-Salem, and her aunt, Mrs. Grady Lewis, of Walkertown, will be hostesses. Approximately 50 guests will attend.

Mrs. Elmo Foster Presents Piano Pupils

The Progressive Series, piano pupils were presented in their annual spring recital last Thursday evening, May 24, at 8 o'clock in the Mocksville High School auditorium by Mrs. Elmo Foster.

Those taking part in the program were: Beverly Foster, Michael Hendrix, Myrtle Gobble, Shelby Jean Spry, Joyce Durham, Becky James, Johnny Hendrix, Judy Hames, Don Cassidy, Shirley York, Theresa Foster, Carol Jean Alexander, Barbara Jean Foster, Linda James, Mona Fleming, Nora Williams, Brenda and Roverda Ellis, Wanda Gobble, Betty Sue Foster, Sue Crotts, Betty Graves, Barbara Ann Daniel, Leroy Cranfill, and Jerry Berrie.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank anyone who assisted me in any way during the illness and after the death of Miss Cora Austin. You shall always be remembered.

DUKE SHEEK

Shelby J. Everhart Marries W. A. Brown At Fork Baptist Church

Miss Shelby Jean Everhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Everhart of Cooleemee, became the bride of William Allen Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brown of Mocksville, Route 4, at 4 p.m. Sunday in Fork Baptist Church.

The Rev. A. M. Kiser performed the ceremony. Miss Frances Seaford was organist.

After a wedding trip to Wetsern North Carolina the couple will live on Mocksville, Route 4.

The bride is a graduate of Cooleemee High School. Her husband attended Mocksville High School and is employed by J. P. Green Milling Company.

Miss Faye Wilson Honored At Shower

Miss Faye Wilson, bride-elect, was honoree at a miscellaneous shower Saturday night when Mrs. Paul Forrest and Mrs. Roger Powell entertained at the home of Mrs. Forrest. A color scheme of green and white was used throughout the home in the decorations and the refreshment course.

After a series of games and contests, Miss Wilson seated under an umbrella of green and white, opened her gifts.

Refreshments consisting of a punch course were served the honoree and Mesdames Clarence Forrest, Doyle Beane, Ernest Seamon, J. F. Stonestreet, Novella Safley, Virgil Wyatt, Bruce Turner, J. A. Bowles, J. G. Anderson, D. C. Wilson, and Misses Ruby aSfley, Carol Forrest, Lynne Wilson, Ruth and Brenda Forrest and Johnny Matthews.

Mrs. Robert Pittman Honored At Shower

Miss Nancy Cozart and Mrs. Guy Hartman entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Cozart on Route 5 last week honoring Mrs. Robert Pittman, recent bride.

The hostesses chose a color scheme of pink and white using roses and snapdragons throughout the party rooms.

In a series of bridal games, Miss Katherine Parrish proved to be the winner. Later a punch course, continuing the color scheme, was served to approximatey twenty-five guests.

CENTER REVIVAL

Revival services will begin Sunday morning at Center Methodist Church and continue through Friday evening. The song service will begin each night at 7:30. Rev. Paul Bruton of Concord will be the visiting evangelist. Rev. Bruton is pastor of the Mount Olivet Methodist Church. In his absence on Sunday, Rev. G. W. Fink will preach at the 11 o'clock service, and there will be a visiting speaker for the evening service. Also during this time the daily vacation Bible school will be conducted in the mornings from 9 until 11. The pastor, Rev. R. L. Ooakley, gives the public a cordial invitation to attend these services.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT

Leo F. Williams, County Agent

Artificial Bred Heifer Sale

The Artificial Bred Heifer Sale to be conducted at Statesville in August is very short on heifers. People having heifers that would qualify for this sale and would like to enter them in the sale, should get in touch with the County Agent's Office in the near future. The number of heifers for this sale is very low and prices should be very good on heifers sold.

Notice To Farmers With Bred Heifers For Sale

A representative for one of the major milk companies was in touch with the County Agent's Office during the past week wanting all available springing heifers that are for sale in this area. These heifers must be fresh sometime during August, September, October and November. People with good quality heifers of this type desiring to sell, get in touch with the County Agent's Office and leave the number of heifers for sale. We are positive that we can find a quick sale for them.

Screwworm Infestation

Numerous cases of screwworms were reported during the past week. People with cattle away from the barn should check at least twice a week for screwworm infestation. As a rule, it takes screwworms only a few days to kill an animal.

Vegetables

Yields and stands of pole beans are often reduced a lot by staking too late. Supports should be put up before the beans start to run so that the young, tender plants will not get tangled and damaged. When helping some of the bean vines to "get started" don't forget that all of our pole beans twine in a counter clockwise direction.

Early tomatoes may fail to set fruit for several reasons but usually it is due to cold weather (below 60 degrees F.). Hormone sprays, now available at most seed stores, can be applied to insure early fruit set. The sprays are applied directly to the flowers of the first two or three flower clusters with an atomizer or other fine sprays. Many home gardeners and some commercial growers are now using this hormone effectively. Be sure to follow the manufacturers directions.

Make your fall garden plans now. Many good fall crops like tomatoes, broccoli, cauliflower, cabbage, and lettuce are not planted because the seed or plants are not started in time.

Folks who like to grow large watermelons should prune them. Pruning is simply removing all but 2 or 3 desirable shaped melons from each vine. Start when the first melons are about four inches in diameter and repeat every 10 days until you have two well shaped fruit per hill.

Other jobs for May: Get stakes for tomatoes and pole beans, get seed for fall crops, set up your irrigation system, mulch garden, keep insects and diseases controlled and topdress earlier planted crops.

FRUITS

Selecting Strawberries For The Table — Berries harvested for home use or for the home freezer should ripen on the plants. Most of the varieties now grown can ripen completely and still be firm enough to hold until they are prepared for the table or the freezer.

Renewal of the Old Planting— If you intend to keep the old planting over, plan to start immediately after the last fruit is harvested. If the plants were spaced originally, then you main job will be to keep all runners off and fertilize the planting with 8-8-8 at the rate of four pounds per each 100 feet of row. The mulch need not be removed, but weeds will have to be cut off.

Plantings that are one solid mat should be cut down to rows about 18 inches wide and thinned in the row so each plant is about six inches from the next in all directions. Apply four pounds of 8-8-8 per 100 feet of row and brush excess from the dry leaves. Keeps the weeds down. Remove runners so as to keep the plants thinned in the row. Cultivate or mulch betwen the rows. Plantings badly diseased or of poor vigor should be destroyed and a new planting planned for next season.

ORNAMENTALS

Mulch Saves Work — A mulch can reduce your weeding time by fifty per cent. It reduced labor for some people more than that, and best of all, plants grow better where a mulch is used. Here are some questions and answers on mulches:

Q. What is the purpose of a mulch?

A. A mulch helps keep down grass and weeds; keeps the soil cooler in summer and warmer in winter; helps prevent splash erosion; maintains organic matter; helps prevent soil packing and crusting; and best af all, conserves moisture.

Q. Is mulching practical?

A. On small areas, yes. On large areas, probably not, depending, of course, on price of material used.

Q. Which materials make a good mulch?

A. Coarse materials, like pine straw, that don't pack down and keep out air and water are best. Other materials that can be used include leaves, peanut hulls, corn cobs, tobacco stems, straw (remove all grain), and paper. Peat moss and sawdust pack down and shed water and are therefore not the best materials for mulching.

Q. When should mulches be removed?

A. Around permanent plantings they are usually permanent. Summer is when they are most needed. Apply fertilizer on top of mulch. In the vegetable garden, the mulch can be worked into the soil after the growing season.

Q. Will peat, oak leves, etc., make the soil too acid?

A. No. Even very acid materials change the soil pH very little, unless used in large quantities and worked into the soil.

Q. Will mulches rob soil of nitrogen?

A. To some extent, yes. Organic matter as it mixes with soil will temporarily tie up nitrogen. You can overcome this by adding extra nitrogen. It will all eventually be returned to the soil.

Azalea and Camellia Leaf Galls —A disease known as leaf gall is very common on azaleas and Sasanquas at this time of year. It's especially wide spread when it is cool and damp.

The disease portion of the leaf becomes thick and fleshy and has a pale or yellowish green color. At maturity the galls are covered with a white powderly material. The disease is perhaps more alarming than it is destructive, although it will weaken the plant if it is severly infected.

You can control the disease by picking off the leaves and burning them. Remove the diseased leaves before they develop spores (fine white powder) which will infect other leaves. If picking off the leaves isn't practical, spray the plants with bordeax mixture near the end of the flowering period and continue at two week intervals until the middle of June. When the weather becomes hot and dry, this disease usually disappears of its own accord, but will probably appear again the next spring if weather conditions are right.

County Delegate Selected to Attend 4-H Forestry Camp

Assistant County Agent C. R. Baker has just announced that Eugene Dyson, Rt. 1, has been selected to attend the second annual 4-H Forestry Camp to be held at 4-H Camp Millstone during the week of June 4 through 9. The camp is located in Richmond County between Ellerbee and Rockingham. The camp is conducted by the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service and is sponsored by Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Eugene will leave for camp on the morning of June 4 and return home on Saturday, June 9. All expenses while at camp, including his travel, will be paid for by the sponsor.

Upon his arrival at camp, he will join delegates from the other counties of the state and 12 assistant county agents in a week of outdoor life, in the woods training and fun. The camp program is designed to give the 4-H Club boys who attend the knowledge and experience they will need to be the successful forest owners and leaders of tomrrow. Experienced foresters and woodsmen from the Extension Service and the timber industry will be the instructors.

While at camp, Eugene will learn such things at planting a forest, measuring timber, improving timber stands, harvesting the timber crop, how to work safely in the woods, and care of woods tools.

Advance Community Development Meeting

The Advance Community Development meeting was held in the Community Building on Wednesday evening, May 23rd, at 8 p.m. In the absence of Rev. Clinard, chairman, the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Frank Tucker, vice chairman. H. E. Partin served as secretary. Reports of community development accomplishments were given by various organizations. Some of these were: F.F.A. helped rework tennis court; flag pole at school repainted and reset; new chain and new flag presented by Mr. Potts' sixth grade room.

Home Demonstration Clubs were selling products to increase the amount in treasury to be used to improve community building.

Whose Farm Is This?

Can you identify this farm? If you can telephone or come to the office of The Mocksville Enterprise after 1 p.m. Thursday. The first four adults correctly identifying the farm will receive certificates good for one dollar in trade at B. C. Moore and Sons store in Mocksville. The owner of the farm may receive a beautiful mounted enlargement of this picture at the B. C. Moore and Sons store in Mocksville.

Progress is being made on other projects started earlier in the year. Farm and home accomplishments were given by families present.

Oscar Poindexter, one of the community's photographers, made reports on pictures that had been made, and other pictures that should be made were recommended. These pictures to be presented at the June meeting.

A committee, consisting of Oscar Poinexter, Albert Poole, and H. E. Partin, was appointed to get a long-time plan on the community building. This same committee will serve in making plans for garbage collection. This report will be given at the June meeting to be held on the 4th Monday night in June.

New projects to be started were recommended.

Control of Stored Grain Pests

You cannot start to figure your profits as soon as your grain is put into storage. Insects have caused a heavy loss to stored grains in the past few years.

The two pests which do most damage to grain stored in North Carolina are the rice weevil and the Angoumois grain moth. These insects have the ability to penetrate the hard outer surface of a sound kernel, thus allowing themselves and a group of insects called "bran bugs" to enter and completly destroy the grain.

These pests do not originate spontaneously. They come from some previously infested grain. Therefore, it is necessary to fumigate or otherwise treat to kill the insects, and eliminate a source of supply in the new crop. Also it is essential that all areas where old grain was stored be cleaned up and treated with an insecticide.

The safest materials to use are methoxychlor, DDT, or TDE. Either wettable powders or emulsions may be used. The wettable powders are used at a rate of one pound of the 50 per cent wettable powder, or two quarts of the 25 per cent emulsion, in 3 gallons of water. This amount will adequately cover 1,500 square feet of surface. This spray should be applied at least one month before the new crop is stared. It can be applied with a small knapsack sprayer, a bucket-pump, or even a broom if no sprayer is available, although the latter is not as efficient.

If grain going into storage shows an infestation, it should be fumigated within two or three weeks. Fumigation may effect germination of the grain is moisture content is above 11½%. The following fumigants and the amount per 1,000 cubic feet of space are suggested: (800 bushels occupy 1,000 cubic feet).

1. Carbon tetrachloride — four parts
   Use 5-6¼ gallons.
2. Carbon tetrachloride — one part
   Ethylene dichloride — three parts
   Use 6-7½ gallons.
3. Ethylene dibromide—5%
   Ethylene dichloride—35%
   Carbon tetrachloride—60%
   Use 5-6½ gallons
4. Carbon tetrachloride
   Use 6-7½ gallons.

If bin is tight, for example, a well caulked steel bin or a tongued and grooved wooden bin lined with heavy felt builders paper, the lower amount of fumigant is each case may be used. The above grain fumigants produce a heavier than air gas; therefore, the bottom and sides of the bin must be tight. Otherwise, the gas will flow out through any opening as if it were water.

The grain in the bin should be level and not closer than six inches to the top. Prepare the bin carefully before fumigation. Seal all cracks, especially around dors and windows. Seal exit, padlock, or nail building after fumigation.

Where there is head room fumigants may be applied to the surface of the grain with an ordinary garden sprinkling can, if a pump or other type of applicator is not available. In other cases a stirrup pump or a compressed air sprayer may be used to apply the fumigant from the outside of the bin. Check sprayer for leaks. Avoid contact with fumigant on skin, shoes and clothes. Wear a full faced gas mask with an approved cannister. The gases given off are poisonous and can cause death to persons handling them. Therefore, always work in pairs, beginning at the back of the bin and working toward the exit.

Fumigated grain should be left undisturbed for 48 hours or more. It is advisable to put a sign on the storage house saying: FUMIGATED.

Another dust formulated with wheat flour as a carrier has been used in some areas on wheat. Its effectiveness depends on the moisture content and original insect infestation of the grain. Use the proper dust and apply it according to the manufacturers recommendations.

Grain must be dry enough for storage, otherwise poor insect control with fumigants and protectant dusts may be expected. It is advisable to harvest grain as soon as it is ripe. This avoids much of the insect infestation which begins and continues to develop in the field.

If you want to maintain quality, inspect stored grain frequently and re-treat when necessary.

Wheat Referendum Announced

On July 20., Tar Heel Wheat growers will decide whether or not quotas will be in effect for the 1957 Wheat Crop and whether or not they want to cut their price support guarantee to 50 per cent.

According to C. V. Smoot, Chairman of the Davie County ASC Committee, wheat farmers who have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1957 are eligible to vote in the July 20 referendum. Ballots will be cast at polling places to be announced later by the ASC office. Two-thirds of the vote in the referendum must vote in favor in order for the referendum to carry. If the referendum carries, poducers who stay within the acreage allotted for their farms will be eligible for the full level of price support. Producers who do not comply with their allotments will not be eligible for price support and will be subject to marketing penalties on their excess wheat if they harvest more than 15 acres.

If quotas are not approved by wheat growers, the price support will drop to 50 per cent of parity for producers who stay within their acreage allotments. If quotas are voted out, farmers may exceed their allotments without being subject to quota penalties but they will not be eligible for price support at any level.

All eligible voters should see that tehir vote is cast on the 20th of July.

MORE ABOUT

Mocksville In Play-Off

and was tough in the pinches. He walked only one man, got a hit himself and drove in two Wildcat runs.

Mackie Deadmon drove in all of Mocksville's runs as the Wildcats defeated Stonevill High School's nine, 3-1, Saturday night at Kernersville to advance into the Western Class A finals.

It was the crucial game of a best of three series. Stoneville won the first, 4-2, and Mocksville the second, 2-0, as all three contests were decided my a two-run margin.

Stoneville's run was scored in the sixth on a walk, single by Wayne Smith, another walk and Luke Smith's long fly to center Herman Joyce tagged up and came home.

Darwin Allen walked and Alton Sheek singled to start Mocksville's third inning rally. Then Deadmon singled ocer second base scoring both runners.

Independent Telephone Companies Serve Over Two-Thirds Of Country

The 4,714 Independent (non-Bell) telephone companies of America, of which the local telephone company is one, and which serve 11,000 communities and two-thirds of the geographical area of the country, now operate 8,461,000 of the 56,490,000 telephone in the United States, its territories and possessions, and have a total plant investment of $2,042,833,000.

According to C. J. Wilson, local representative of the Central Telephone Company, figures released by the United States Independent Telephone Association reflect the continuing growth and progress of the industry, which has been expanding at an accelerated pace during the past 10 years to meet the unprecedented demands for telephone service occasioned by population growth, increased usage, and a prosperous economy. While the country's poulation increased 31 per cent during the 20 year period from 1935 to 1955, the number of Independent telephones soared from 3,185,00 to 8,461,000 or 166 per cent, the Association said.

The Independent telephone industry, through its operating companies, equipment manufacturers, and suppliers, served approximately 11,000 communities in the United States, which is twice the number served by the Bell System. However, because Bell companies operate in most of the larger metropolitan areas, they have by far the larger number of telephones (48,029,000).

The Independent industry has introduced a number of major technical advances in the telephone field, including the first practical automatic switching system, which was invented by Almon Brown Strowger, a Kansas City undertaker. Its first commercial application was made more than 60 years ago in an Independent exchange at La Porte, Indiana. A few years later, the Independents introduced the first dial telephones in a number of exchanges in various parts of the country. Today, many Independents are installing direct distance dialing whereby the customer dials his own long distance numbers without the assistance of an operator.

At the turn of the century, Independents introduced automatic dial telephone systems in such large cities as Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Omaha, which cities are now served exclusively by the Bell System. Some of the cities in which the Independents operate include Tampa and St. Petersburg, Fla.; Lincoln, Nebraska; Rochester, and Jamestown, New York; Long Beach, Santa Monica, and the entire suburban area of Los Angeles, California; Fort Wayne and Terre Haute, Indiana; Durham, North Carolina; Sumter, South Carolina; Erie, Pa., and Lexington, Kentucky.

The nation's long distance service is furnished primarily by the Bell System toll network. All long distance facilities are interconnected with Independent company lines. Long distance traffic between thetwo segments of the Industry is freely interchanged. Agreements are in effect covering routings and divsions of revenues on the interchanged business. Many Independent companies themselves own and operate a large mileage of toll lines, mostly regional in character, all interconnected with the Bell network and with the toll facilities of neighboring Independent companies.

URANIUM WORLD WIDE

In recent years the quest for uranium has become world wide. The 1958 Yearbook of The American Peoples Encyclopedio reports that evidence of deposits have been noted in Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Israel, Italy, Uruguay and Spain.

Davie Academy Community In Extensive Development

4-H Club Is Organized And Adopts New Projects

The Davie Academy community is rapidly being developed into a better place in which to live through the efforts of the Davie Academy Community Developmetn organization.

Under the leadership of their president, J. N. Smoot, and other officers, W. E. Shaw, vice president and Margaret Daywalt, secretary and treasurer, rapid strides ae being made in various pojects.

Running water has now been put into the community building tlie digging of a well.

At Salem Church, the cemetery has been leveled and seeded with grass. Tomb stones were re-aligned.

Also, at the Salem Church, a new vistibule was built and a new piano added. On the church grounds, side walks have been laid and grass sown.

The community development organization is also sponsoring a young boy's baseball team. Equipent has been purchased for this team.

A 4-H Club has been organized for that community. Sharrie Souther is president; Sue Cartner, vice president; Sylvia Walker, secretary; Sara Walker, reporter; Gail Koontz and Sharrie Souther are the song leaders. This group meets every second Tuesday night.

Joining in the community development program, the 4-H Club is now in the process of establishing an outdoor picnic area at the community building. They are constructing an outdoor furnace and picnic tables.

This 4-H Club also presented a 4-H Church Sunday program.

The Salk Vaccine

Enough Salk vaccine for at least two doses each for over 80,000,000 American children and expectant mothers will be produced this year by five manufacturers licensed to make the vaccine under strict Federal controls.

Medical authorities recommend that two doses of one cc. of the vaccine be given four to six weeks apart to be followed by a "bootser" shot of one cc. at least seven to ten months later. It has been determined that one dose of vaccine is not expected to give full protecion against paralyic polio, but a single injection in some instances has given a considerable degree of protection. However, reliance on a single dose is not recommended. Three injections should be undertaken for the best protection or "full immunization."

Although there will be enough vaccine produced for 30 million individuals to receive the first two shots of one cc. each, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis estimates that there are only 65,000,000 in the most susceptible group of children under 19 and expectant mothers, of whom only 52,000,000 are considered immediately available for vaccination.

The U. S. Health Service, through the Bureau of State Services, allocates the vacvine based on population within priority groups to states and territories. Less than half of the vaccine allotted under the voluntary immunization program has been distributed through doctors and pharmacies. Public health agencies have received the remainder. However, policy on this distribution differs from state to state.

On the state level the vaccine is usually allocated proportionately according to the number of eligible persons in each county or city served by a ful-time health department.

When Federal Grant vaccine is distributed to privatep hysicians, they must not charge for the vaccine, although they are permitted their usual professional fee for administering it. When physicians purchase the vaccine from pharmacies they may charge the patient for the vaccine as well as for its injection.

The pharmaceutical firms that manufactured the vaccine for the 1954 field trials agreed to manufacture, without profit, enough supplies for the trials. Since then, the drug manufacturers have stepped up production and have still met the rigid standards of production and safety regulations agreed upon with the Federal Government.

Cost to the manufacturer to produce the vacine includes the cost to develop his plant, train technicians, perfect producers and absorb loss from experimentation. One drug firm threw away some 11 million cc. of vaccine that complied with existing safety measures and production controls because it wanted to comply with even newer controls. This represented a cost to the manufacturers of several million dollars, but the vaccine material that eventually reached the public was of superior quality.

According to Dr. Leonard S. Scheele, Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health Service, the Salk vaccine "is as safe as we can humanly guarantee."

The process for manufacturing the Salk vaccine is still a lengthy one, including the evtensive testing to insure that the vaccine is safe and contains no live organisms which may cause the disease. However, the drug manufacturers have spent vast sums of money on improvement of processing and on the accelerated production program to furnish enough vaccine.

Barring unforseen mishaps or snags in the testing and release structure, the manufacturers will produce more than enough vaccine this year for everyone in the top priority groups to have been vaccinated by the end of the season.

Eight Grade Graduation

Last week four of Davie County high schools held what will probably be the last high school graduation exercises in the respective communities. Beginning next spring, the high school graduation exercises wil be from the new consolidated Davie County High School.

However, several citizens have proposed an idea that certainly has considerable merit. This idea being that the elementary schools had a graduation program for those finishing the eighth grade.

Many schools have such a program for those finishing the eighth grade. Formal rites are planned and certificates are issued signifying the successful completion of eight grades of study.

Inasmuch, as finishing eight grades does indicate the reaching of the first plateau, to to speak, such recognition is entirely appropriate and rewarding. Such programs would also tend to stimulate more interest in the schools on the part of the parents, as well as the pupils.

Industrial Arts

This newspaper wishes to congratulate Bil Price and the Industrial Arts Department of the Cooleemee High School. For the past five years this department has taken a large percentage of the top awards in statewide competition.

Up until new, industrial arts were available only to the students in the Cooleemee school. However, beginning next fall there will be an industrial arts department in the new consolidated high school, which will make such a program available to all students in the county.

Through the industrial arts department a student is able to learn a trade such as woodworking, metal and machinery work.

THE FUN-LOVING POINSETTIA

By careful handling a poinsettia received at Christmas, if growing well and in its prime, will last for quite a while. It must be kept out of drafts; it must be kept moist always but never soaked; it must have moist air to keep leaves from dropping; it must have an even temperature, day and night; it must have some fun.—Fayetteville (N. C.) Observer.

NEW U. S. WEAPONS

Several atomic weapons were put into U. S. Army service last year, reports the 1956 Yearbook of The American Peoples Encyclopedia. The 280 mm tamic cannon, capable of firing both atomic and conventional shells, took its place with U. S. troops overseas. The Army's "Honest John" rocket, as well as the Army's "Corporal" missile and the Air Force's "matador" missile, all of which can carry an atomic warhead, were sent to forces in Europe. "Honest John" also went to Japan.

SCIENCE FICTION REALITY

The nuclear explosives of the future would be carried by missiles traveling thousands of miles per hour, spanning oceans and continents in a matter of minutes. This is the opinion of most military leaders, according to the American Peoples Eneyclopedia's 1956 Yearbook. The intercontinental ballistic missiles, called IBM for short, would be driven far into space by rocket power and would then fall back to earth after its fuel was exhausted. Some means would be devised to guide it to its target.

UNENDING RINGS OF INFLUENCE

Who said New York cops are tough? A visitor here has just the opposite opinion. Not knowing his way around, this man from out of town asked a Time Square policeman for the way to go to Brooklyn, thanked the cop for the information and received the answer, "You're very welcome." The visitor was disappointed that the cop in the Penn Station didn't know just where the Stork Club was—but at the policeman's salary — this could be understood. Another cop held up traffic long enough to tell our visitor that the boat trip around Manhattan is one of the best such events here. One bit of information from the policeman at Radio City was that there are no more burlesque here —but some are in Jersey City just across the river. Finally, when the visitor asked the cop at the Brooklyn Bridge what to see in the Bronx — the officer, whether humorously or not — sent the man to the Bronx Zoo.

They tell a story of a young man who went to work on one of the big picture magazines here which seems to pride itself on being hard-boiled and sophisticated. They seem to have a habit of never letting a new employee know what his duties are, at least for some time. This particular one finally went to the managing editor in despair. "I've been here a year and a half," he said, "and no one has even spoken to me." The editor looked at him coldly, then asked, "And you think I should be the exception?"

Veteran New Yorkers are pretty nice folks, I have found after "visiting" here some 17 years now. They understand the traits and problems of human nature rather well and treat one accordingly. It is the newcomer who gets a good job — at least he thinks it is — and then tries to be the kind of New Yorker he read about in fiction or saw in the movies back home, who is the difficult one. He is the type who keeps people waiting in the office lobby just to make them think he is busy; who swaggers into the "right places" he can't afford, in order to look successful; who acquires so-called "smart language" often partly filled with risque and profane words just so he can show he has seen all the Broadway shows; then he looks down his nose when he visits the folks back in the home town — and as a result they think New York is a snobbish Sodom.

George Pickwick, well-known local attorney, hardly has a high regard for flying overseas. He told me that what happens is this: one gets into a sealed tube at a New York airport, it rattles, roars, then takes off and after several hours of vibration and convivility, one wonders if he will ever emerge from the tube or if it really is to become his tomb. Then an eerie voice comes over a speaker announcing that the contraption is over the London area, it slowly lowers itself until it rubs the ground and the door opens on people with a clipped accent—and then the passenger emerges frm the plane and believes he really is in England.

"The Lost Colony" which has run longer than any other outdoor drama which was presented at the Metropolitan Opera House not long ago, fresh from Manteo, N. C., where it opens again soon, made a good impression on New Yorkers. But some of the cast who came in Elizabethan costume to the party preceding the performance attracted aqually as much attention on the streets and in hotel lobbies. Some folks here thought they were really lost.

That the Civil War Between the States is really over is borne out by the fact that Lincoln Memorial University of Harrogate, Tenn., will, in June, confer honorary degrees not only on General U. S. Grant III but on the esteemed grandson of Grant's opponent at Vicksburg, Miss., John C. Pemberton III. This is a worthy and appropriate recognition of these two men who also are personal friends.

AMERICA BY 1975

America by 1975 will be a land in which the demand for coal will be about 50 per cent greater than it is today.

The National Association of Manufactuers cites a 1954 report of the Department of Coal Economics, National Coal Association, concerning this possibility.

The report says, in part:

" . . . Taking 1950 as a base year, government estimates place the total demand for mineral fuels as doubling by 1975; coal will go up 50 per cent. While rival fuels are estimated to rise more than coal, at some point in the 1970's the increasingly prohibitive costs for the discovery and production of new deposits of oil and natural gas may signal an increasing dependence upon solid fuels or snythetics from such fuels."

Many people laugh at the mistakes of others when they should be trying to profit by their own.

WASHINGTON — We approved the conference report on the farm bill last week.

I do not regard this version as favorable to agriculture as the original bill which was vetoed by the President. I do not believe it will substantially alleviate the farmer's plight. The provisions which aid soil conservation, such as reforestration, will be helpful to North Carolina. As I say, the original bill was much better and I regret that the President vetoed it.

SQUABBLE

The armed forces have been discussing their problems in the open much to the consternation of the Secretary of Defense. This squabble developed hurriedly. It will be investigated. There is a need for the facts on what it going on in our defense picture, and I am confident the country can depend o nhearing a lot more about this situation.

The Air inquiry has started a serious examination of our defense posture which is long overdue.

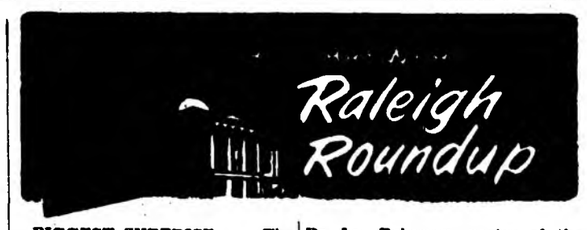
OPTIMISM UNFOUNDED

The tiff between Secretary Dulles and Harold Stassen over what the Soviets are doing in connection with their announced reduction in ground forces compels me to conclude that Stassen's optimism seems premature and illogical. He is optimistic over virtually nothing, in my honest opinion. From what I can learn the Soviets are stepping up their emphasis on the type of activity that would be used in an atomic attaew on us should that be the decision of the Reds. If Mr. Stassen honestly feels that the Communists are converted to the ways of pease, his recent experience at the unsuccessful conference on arms reduction must have made no impact on his thinking.

TROUT HATCHERY

The Senate Commerce Committee has reported favorably a bill to establish a trout hatchery on the Davidson River in Pisgah Forest.

This bill, handled in the House by Representative Shuford, is now subject to action by the Senate. I appeared in behalf of the bill before the Senate Committee last week. It is an established fact that North Carolina is dependent to a great degree on a growing tourist business, in addition to providing recreation for our own people. This bill will help povide trout to stock the streams and it will be another step in the development of our resources.



BIGGEST SURPRISE . . . The Primary last Saturday brought out a lot of surprises here and there about the State—but one of the biggest in our book was that Congressman C. B. Deane did not carry a single precinct in his home county of Richmond. Such as this happens now and then—but it is always news, nevertheless — and Deane is a fine man.

THANKFUL . . . As for myself, I have so many blessings to be thankful for, it is difficult to know where to start.

It was a bitter pill to take when the doctor put me to bed for a couple of days after I had filed for Lieutenant Governor — back in March.

I felt it was not quite fair to my friends who had pledged their support to me to attempt to run under the handicap of being sick. Therefore, I requested that my name be removed from the ballot, thus releasing by supporters to work for other candidates of their choice.

After resting for eight of the ten weeks of the campaign, I decided that since my name was still on the ballot and I had regained my health that I would see what could be accomplished in the final ten days without organized support or money.

PAPERS . . . I did not ask—or expect—my friends to alter their plans and again to begin working for me. I also limited contributions to a maximum of ten dollars. I am surprised and deeply grateful for the fact that—under the circumstances—over 50,000 people cast their votes for me. This is itself enough to make one humble. The fact that at least three of the leading newspapers of the State carried editorials supporting my stand that our public schools should not be used as a political football—but should be preserved at all costs — should be victory enough for anyone.

I feel confident that my position will win out in the long run.

WAKE FOREST MEN . . . Our three new Congressman — Paul Kitchin of Wadesboro, Alton Lennon of Wilmington, and Ralph Scott of Danbury — and the man who has the big lead in the Lieutenant Governor's race — Luther Barnhardt — are all Wake Forest Law School men.

If I am not mistaken, Kitchin, Scott and Lennon sat in the same law class one year.

SALARIES . . . A lot of people seem to think that the job of being U. S. Senator is a great deal bigger than that of being in the House of Representatives. Well, it is — in a way — but not paywise. The representative makes just as much as the Senator: $22,500 per year.

The Governor now makes $15,000 — but he gets a place to live and a lot of extras that would cost him big money if he had to pay for them.

We can think of nobody who wouldn't prefer to be Governor at $15,000 than senator or representative at $22,500.

The thing that hurts on the $22,500 item in the representative field is that he must stand for election every two years. The senator's term is for six years.

Your Lieutenant Governor in North Carolina now receives the sum of $2,100 per year—and it's only been in the last ten years that he has been been receiving that much.

Your superior court judges get $11,000 per year, while your State Commissioner of Labor, for instance, receives only $10,000 — or the same as Commissioner of Agriculture and Commissioner of Insurance.

BIGGEST CHANGE . . . With a new Congressman going to Washington in the Eleventh District place vacated by Woodrow Jones — and with Lennon, Kitchin, and Scott moving in, we will have four new men in the nation's capitol this year — or the biggest change in our Congressional delegation since the turn of the century.

This is the word of WPTF newsman Phil Ellis — and a little cursory checking seems to bear out his statement. Wholesale changes.

NEW GROUP . . . A group of 152 ministers of the Southern Baptist Convention met recently out in Chattanooga, Tenn., and decided to organize a new group to be known as the Southern Baptist Fellowship.

Spokesman for the group was Dr. Lee Roberson, pastor of the Highland Park Baptist Church of Chattanooga which counts 14,000 members in its church and the chapels in the surrounding area.

Dr. Roberson announced that the first official meeting would be held in Atlanta next November, and that more than 500 Baptist ministers would be in attendance for the organization of the fellowship.

Know why the new group was organized?

Dr. Roberson says the "sole purpose" of the organization is to provide fellowship for "like-minded Baptists who subscribe to its Articles of Faith."

Importance of the group has added signigifance when one realizes that Brother Roberson and our fine old Southern Baptist Convention have been at cross purposes for some time.

This organization can lead to a weakening of the Baptists in the South—as an organization, certainly.

GOOD FEELING . . . Although the campaigns were not without their troubles — and their bad feelings — we have had it a lot worse in this State — as, for instance, when Alton Lennon and Kerr Scott had it out a couple of years ago.

We didn't observe too much mud slinging — though there was some of it — and it may be that we are now heading into an "era of good feeling" in State government.

Gov. Luther Hodges showed that our people are pretty well together on one thing: they like their governor. It's good to have unity of purpose.

And, while it was probably unnecessary, Gov. Luther Hodges and his staff conducted one of the finest, most wholesome, cleanest campaigns North Carolina has seen—or will see—for a long time.

EXCITEMENT . . . Well, keep an eye on California now to see developments on Adlai Stevenson. The Democratic Convention on a smaller scale is now being fought out on the West Coast.

So, except for a scattered race here and there, you can kiss politics pretty well goodbye and get on with your work until along in midsummer — when the Legislature comes to town and the big national conventions get under way.

The town money - lender lost his purse. It was found by an honest man who advertised it. In time the advertisement was answered. The finder, satisfied that the money-lender owner the purse, returned it cheerfully. The contents of the purse were counted several times, which annoyed the finder.

"What's the matter?" he asked. "Isn't it all there?"

"Yes," said the money - lender. "But remember you have had it for over a month. What about the interest?"

Advisors on financial subjects point out that a small investment in almost any phase of American business, twenty years ago, could result in untold riches today. Unfortunately few of us had money to invest then, even if we had the foresight to invest it properly.

All profitable growth and dividend - paying investments are not made with dollars. The poorest man can invest and profit without putting up one penny. Reach inside yourself. Take from your happiness, your friendliness, your love, your faith, as little or as much as you feel that you can spare. Invest it anywhere, in anyone. Your dividends will enrich your life and you will build a better world. It is the most satisfying investment anyone can make.

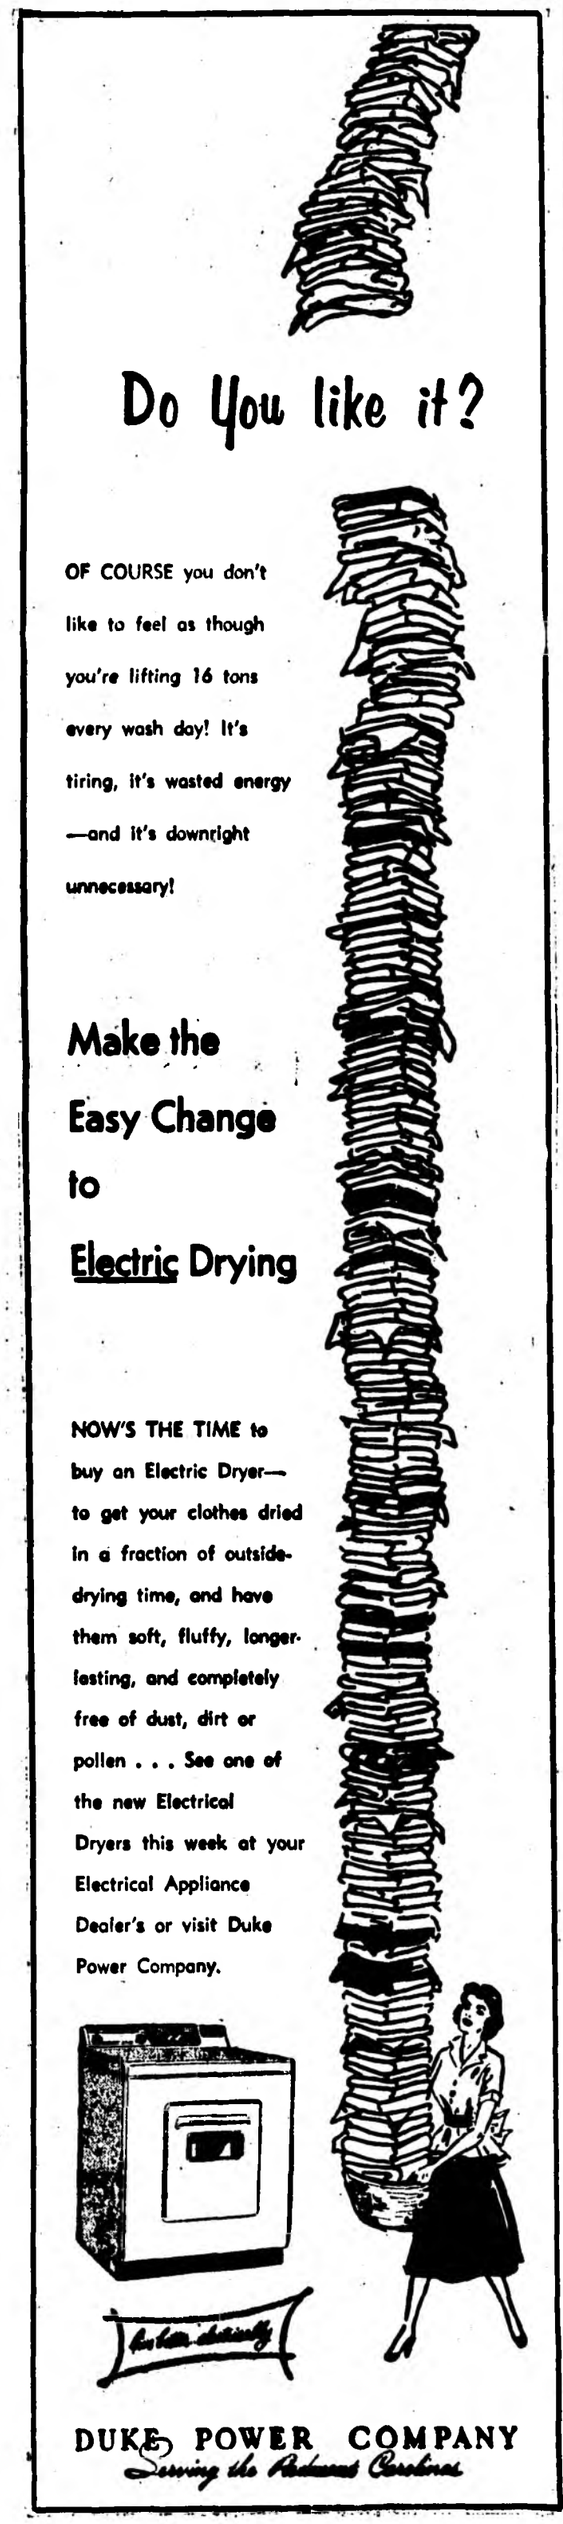
Wess Lowery of Charlotte spent the past week end with Mr. and Mrs. George Baity.

Mrs. L. S. Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. Joe White, Mr. and Mrs. Will White, Glenda White and Mrs. Mary Sain attended the Allen and Classcock wedding held at Ijames Cross Roads, Sunday evening.

Mr. an Mrs. Otis Murray, Mrs. Erk Morris and children of Lexington visited Mr. and Ms. Clyde Murray Sunday.



Do You like it?

OF COURSE you don't like to feel as though you're lifting 16 tons every wash day! It's tiring, it's wasted energy —and it's downright unnecessary!

Make the Easy Change to Electric Drying

NOW'S THE TIME to buy an Electric Dryer— to get your clothes dried in a fraction of outside-drying time, and have them soft, fluffy, longer-lasting, and completely free of dust, dirt or pollen . . . "LET GOD BE TRUE"

By J. B. WHITAKER

The word "must" is used numerous times in both the Old and New Testaments. The word denotes necessity. There have always been things which man MUST do in order to please God. We want to confine ourselves today to the use of the word in the New Testament. In John 3:7 Jesus told Nicodemus, "Marvel not that I said unto the, Ye must be born again." Jesus had previously explained this by saying, "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God."

In John 4:24 we have the conversation of Christ and the woman at Jacob's well. Jesus told her, "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." In order for our worship to be pleasing today it must be in accordance with these two requirements of Christ. Jesus said again in John 9:4, "I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work." Jesus was not intersted in doing his own will but the will of God.

In Acts 4:12 the Apostle Peter says, "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Men today preach that there is nothing in a name. Peter declared here that there is a great deal in a name. There is on other name whereby we must be saved.

In Acts 9:6 we find the following reading, "And he trembling and astonished said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou MUST do." We find penitent Saul going into the city. He comes to Ananias. Paul later on rehearses his conversion with Ananias. In Acts 22:16 Ananias told him, "And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord." Saul was told what he MUST do.

In Heb. 11:6 we are told, "But without faith is is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that dilegently seek him." Paul said in 2 Cor. 5:7, "For we walk by faith, not by sight." To please God we must have faith in Him. In 2 Cor. 5:10 Paul says, "For we MUST all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad." This is an appointment that all of us MUST keep! In Heb. 9:16 we are told, "For where a testament is, there MUST also of necessity be the death of the testator." Christ's will became effective at ihs death! We MUST be saved today according to the terms of that will. Have you done what God has said you MUST do?

FHS News

By JOHNSIE ELLIS AND JOE BUSIEK

Well, vacation time has finally arrived for the students at Farmington. Before this happened, however, the Seniors were at last participating in the long - awaited exercises of the baccalaureate sermon, class night, and graduation.

The sermon on Sunday night turned out to be a success with Rev. Hoyle of our own community giving the address. Class night on Monday night was equally successful. The credit for this well-planned occasion goes to Mrs. Nina Grece, the senior sponsor, who worked so diligently to make this a memorable night, not only fort he seniors but for everyone who attended.

Graduation, the saddest of all the exercises, was on Tuesday night. Dr. Plemmons, President of ASTC, Boone, delivered a very noteworthy address. Mr. Wallace, our principal, then gave the seniors their diplomas. The seniors will surely be missed by the remaining high school students next year but nevertheless we would like to congratulate them for having successfully completed their jounrney through school.

The junior class of Farmington enjoyed an End-of-School party at Reynolds Park last Firday. They left school for this occasion at 2:00 and spent the evening swimming, riding, etc. After a picnic supper, they tried their luck at playing carpet golf and bowling. Also, several members of the class went skating.

On Wednesday, the last day of school, an assembly was held for the whole school in the auditorium. Awards and certificates of all kinds were received by smiling students from the first through the 12th grades. The Intramural Sports trophies were given to high school winners and Perfect Attendance Certificates were awarded to worthy students from the various grades.

Our co-valedictorians were again recognized, as they received a book, from the principal, to always keep and read.

Monograms were also given out and some of those receiving letters and stars were: Rachel Langston, Johnny Hauser, Ruth Howard, Lawrence Gregory, Jimmy Smith, Leo Vestal, Gene Sheek, Elizabeth King, Carolyn Boger, Camilla Jarvis, Edith Pilcher, Alma White, Winifred Davis, Leonard Shelton, Johnny McBride Jimmy Zimmerman, Donald Miller, John Foster, James White, Ruth Wyatt, Margaret Angel, Rachel Hanes, Linwood Lipscomb, Clarence Driver, Kelly King, and Jimmy Lowery.

The preceding awards were for basketball and baseball accomplishments. The following were also recognized — Patsy Cline, chief· Doris Hutchins, Joyce Payne, Johnsie Ellis, Polly James, Vivian McKnight, and Gail Bennstt.

As the school year comes to a close, we, the students of Farmington High School, would like to thank the following high school teachers for their helpful instruction and guidance and their friendly consideration — Mr. Wallace, Principal and teacher of French and Geometry; Mrs. Hawkins, English teacher and Librarian; Mr. Morris, Commercial and Mathematics teacher; Mr. Dull, Coach and teacher of Biology and History; Mrs. Groce, teacher of Home Economics and Chemistry; and Mr. Page, Agriculture teacher.

At this is the last column of news that will appear from Farmington High School, we would like to say "Thank You" for your interest and we hope you have enjoyed reading the news as much as we have enjoyed writing it. We are looking forward to a combined county school news next year from Davie Consolidated High School and we hope your interest will extend in this direction, also.

Goodbye, have a very pleasant vacation, and you'll be hearing from us again next school term.
