✓ Mary Stone Rodwell

Miss Mary Wilson Stone Rodwell, 97, formerly of Hemlock Street, Mocksville, died on Wednesday, Jan. 5, 2011, at Autumn Care of Mocksville.

Known to friends as "Mary Wilson" or "Miss Mary", she was born Dec. 14, 1913, to the late Thomas Anderson Stone Jr. and Sarah Eliza Hanes Stone. While briefly living with her parents on Jericho Church Road (Bob Allen homeplace), she didn't like farm life and ran away from home at an early age to live with her grandparents, Lizzie Spencer and Francis Johnson on North Main Street (Sue Short home place). She attended Mocksville Elementary and graduated from Mocksville High School in 1933. She worked in her father's car dealership and was driving cars before she could reach the pedals. On Nov. 24, 1935, she married John William Rodwell Jr., son of Dr. J.W. Rodwell of Cana. Of the marriage was born Katherine Letitia Rodwell on May 9, 1941. Mr. Rodwell, known as "Boy", with an engineering degree from N.C. State, was one of Mocksville's first electricians. Mary Wilson was a homemaker and took daily care of Letitia following a debilitating car accident until Letitia's death in 1976. Miss Mary's pastimes included crocheting, solitaire, word puzzles, football and reading her Bible. She enjoyed her second home at High Rock Lake and the time spent with Otis, Lois and Mike Hendrix. After Mr. Rodwell's death in 1981, she lived alone and enjoyed spending time with her neighbors, Grady and Betty Westmoreland and Grady and Cathy McClamrock.

Survived only by friends, Mrs. Rodwell outlived her parents, husband, daughter and siblings Sarah Hanes Stone, Elizabeth Spencer Stone, Thomas A. Stone III and Clement Hanes Stone. She was a quiet, private person who took pride in her ancestry and her family's contribution to the community. A student of genealogy, she graced her family lineage 10 generations to Jamestown, Va., Friedberg (Old Salem), England and Germany. Her great-great-grandparents, Archibald Gracey and Letitia Mitchel Wilson Carter (Oaks Plantation) donated land to lay out the Town of Mocksville and in 1833 donated one-half acre upon which First Methodist Church was first built. A lifelong member of First United Methodist Church of Mocksville, she loved her church and contributed generously to its missions.

A gathering of remembrance was conducted at 2 p.m., Friday, Jan. 7, at First United Methodist Church, Mocksville with the Rev. Joe Collins, D. Min. officiating. Burial followed in Rose Cemetery.

Memorials: Davie Community Foundation, PO Box 546, Mocksville; or First Methodist Church, 310 N. Main St., Mocksville.

X Jean Reiss

Virginia Blanche May "Jean" Reiss, a direct descendant of Peter Clemmons, the founder of the village that bears his name, died Dec. 20, 2010.

She was born on Jan. 21, 1925 in Beaumont, Calif., and late in life moved to Clemmons to research her family roots. Many residents at Bermuda Village enjoyed her piano performances during Sunday vespers while she lived there. She displayed early on an interest and talent in music. She studied the piano and became accomplished. Her studies took her to the University of Utah, and while there, she performed with the Utah Symphony Orchestra as featured piano soloist. She was intellectual and loved going to school. She obtained her bachelor's degree from Westminster College in California.

She was organist for the North Hollywood Methodist Church for 28 years. She directed the children's choir there, presenting special performances. Later, she converted to Catholicism and played the organ for many masses and weddings. She earned recognition as the best accompanist in the San Fernando Valley and Los Angeles area. This was acclaimed by symphony orchestra and many soloists. One of her main interests was the work she did for the Film Advisory Board in Los Angeles. In later years, she began to study genealogy. This curiosity led her to Clemmons to search the ancestry other mother, Blanche Catherine Clemmons May. She married Robert Reiss and they had a son, David. She lost both of them in separate auto accidents.

Survivors: her sister, Marjorie Egloffand; her brother, William S. May and his wife MaryAnn; and many nieces and nephews and friends.

Elsie Sheets Stroud

Elsie Elaine Sheets Stroud, 95, of Mocksville died on Thursday, Feb. 3, 2011, at the Gordon Hospice House surrounded by her family.

She was born Jan. 26, 1916, in Walkertown, and was the daughter of the late Thomas Jefferson and Alda Cople Sheets. She was a member of Society Baptist Church. She was a teenager during the 1929 recession and was a part of a family of 12 children living in a rural area near High Point. Her father ran a small country store and was a barber. Shortly after their marriage, Elsie and J.C. moved, with Billy, to Marietta, Ga. When World War II started, they moved to Baltimore, Md. and worked at the Glenn L. Martin Co. which produced the Mars Martin (the largest flying seaplane) to enter production. The company also produced the Martin B-26, a medium bomber and the PBM-3 which was a patrol bomber. After being in Baltimore about a year, they moved back to Marietta and worked at the Bell bomber plant which produced the B-29 (the plant which is credited with ending the war a little sooner). After she did her part in the war effort, the family moved to North Carolina. In 1946, she and J.C. began running a country store in a building owned by Tennison Lowery. In about 1958, they built a building on the land purchased from James Harvey Stroud and continued the business until the death of J.C. in 1993.

From that time until she was in her 80s, she continued to help run the store. She enjoyed working in her flowers, sewing, and being with the family.

She was also preceded in death by her husband, J.C. Stroud; 6 brothers, Franklin, Thomas, James, Kenneth, Gene, and Rodger Sheets; and 3 sisters, Elma Boyles, Pauline Smith and Grace Winslow.

Survivors: a son, Billy Stroud (Beverly) of Mocksville; 2 sisters, Margaret Smith of High Point and Carol Todd of Trinity; 3 grandchildren; and a great-grandchild.

Graveside funeral services celebrating her life were held at 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 6 at Society Baptist Church cemetery with the Rev. David Childress officiating. Jim Dwiggins, C.J. Jack Daniel Barker

Mr. Jack Daniel Barker of Statesville died Monday March 7, 2011, at his residence after a brief illness.

He was born May 23, 1925, in Iredell County and was the son of the late Ila Mae and Carter Barker, and one of 13 children. He attended Ebenezer Elementary School and Harmony High School. He served his country in the U.S. Army 157th Infantry Division in World War II from 1944-1945 and was awarded two Bronze Stars and the Purple Heart. In December 1947, he married Lorene Richardson of Harmony who died in 2005, and they shared almost 60 years of marriage. After discharge from the Army, he joined his brother Zeb in operating Barker's Radio & TV. A formal partnership evolved in 1963, and this family business operated for 28 years. After retirement, he worked at Manheim Auto Auction for 20 years, retiring again at age 82. He was a bluegrass musician and singer. He learned to pick his guitar as a boy when he and his brothers, George, Dwight, E.C. and Loree would pick and sing on the back porch. Many times these brothers gathered at Jack and Lorene's home, often joined by nephews Steve and Buddy.

Jack enjoyed years of entertaining with his brothers, Dwight and E.C. as members of Dwight Barker and the Melody Boys, and had a Saturday evening television program in the 1950s. He was a life member of Hebron Baptist Church and served as music director. He used his gifts to serve and praise his Lord and Savior with his guitar and singing at Hebron and at nursing homes and other special functions in Statesville. His love of music was a special part of his life, which he has certainly passed on to his children, Alan and Ann. He was eager to give a friendly handshake, that bright smile, and an uplifting word. His life was a testimony of his faith and love for his Lord, and found joy in each day.

He was also preceded in death by 5 brothers, Dwight, George, E.C., Cecil, and Zeb Barker; and 6 sisters, Lucille Morrison, Pauline Johnson, Reba Hendren, Beulah Harris, Connie Shoemaker and Ethel Fox.

Surviving: his son, Alan Barker (Sharon) of Statesville; his daughter, Ann Scruggs (Jim) of Statesville; 3 grandchildren, Ryan (Mallorie), Jeremy (Stephanie), and Elizabeth; 4 great-granddaughters, Nevaeh, Makenzie, Lydia, and Kalissa; and a special great-niece, Natalie Thomas (Kevin); his youngest brother, Loree Barker of Statesville; and numerous nieces, nephews, and cousins.

A celebration of his life was to be held Wednesday evening at 6 at Hebron Baptist Church with the Revs. Darren Johnson and William Wease officiating. Visitation was to follow from 7-9 p.m. Graveside services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the church cemetery with full military honors.

Charlie Lamual Wall, loving husband, father, grandfather, son and brother. Passed away July 19, 2010 after battling cancer for 2-1/2 years. Charlie was a remarkable human being and we all miss him dearly.

God looked around His garden and found an empty place. He then looked down upon the earth and saw your tired face. He put His arms around you and lifted you to rest. God's garden must be beautiful. He only takes the best.

He knew that you were suffering. He knew you were in pain.
He knew that you would never get well on earth again.
He saw the road getting rough and the hills were hard to climb.
So He closed your weary eyelids and whispered, "Peace be thine".

It broke our hearts to lose you but you didn't go alone.
Part of us went with you the day God took you home.
If tears could build a stairway and heartaches make a lane,
We'd walk a path to heaven to be with you again.
