Margaret W. Summers

Margaret Worley Summers, 90, of Mocksville, died on June 26, 2014.

The homegoing service was conducted Saturday, June 28 at 2 p.m. at Fork Baptist Church, US 64 East, Mocksville, officiated by the Rev. Robert Garrett and Dr. Michael W. Coffey. Burial followed in the church cemetery. Visitation was at the church.

Mrs. Summers was born Oct. 26, 1923, in Winston-Salem to Ray Allison Thompson and Ethel Langston Thompson. She professed her faith in Jesus Christ, was baptized and joined Fork Baptist Church at age 14, where she remained a supportive life-long member. On Oct. 7, 1949, she married James Ross Worley, following his World War II Army service in Europe. Being the last of the five children to leave home, she always honored her parents by hard work, support, and care throughout their lives. They knew long hard days of work on the farm and in the furniture industry, raising their children, gardening, and caring for her aging mother. She was proud of her children's accomplishments in school, the military, and careers. Both retired from Burlington Industries in Lexington. After building their home and family, a loving and caring marriage of 50 years ended when her husband died. In later years, she was re-introduced to a Shady Grove High School friend, William G. Summers of Mocksville, and they were married in 2000. No stranger to hard work, again she worked as a homemaker, gardened, and helped with his beef cattle farm. They attended Fork Baptist and Oak Grove Methodist, both being life-long members. Illness again took her husband. She has been supported by many family, church, and special close friends through all these years, bringing much comfort to her: the families of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Rummage, Danny Brown, Wayne Rentz, the Senior Ladies Class of Fork Baptist, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Baity, Mr. and Mrs. John Seaford, Wilma B. Smith, and Lorraine Litten.

She was also preceded in death by her parents, grandparents, brothers John A. Thompson and Ray J. Thompson, sisters Lorene Thompson Brooks and Kathleen Thompson Knight.

Surviving: her daughter, Sarah Marie Coffey and husband Michael of Denver, N.C.; son James Ray Worley and fiancée, Meridee Floyd of Cherryville; grandson Michael N. McKenzie and wife, Leslie, and great-grandson Michael Wayne McKenzie, all of Smithfield, Va.; her sister, Bessie Thompson Oliver Darr of Lexington; step-daughter Brenda Summers of Raleigh; step-sons William Summers and wife Marcia, and Robert Summers and wife Karen, all of Clemmons; and many nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Lonnie G. West Sr.; 2 sons, Randy Lee West and Cheyenne Bodie West; her parents, William Henry Allen and Pansy Dora Allen; a brother, William Junior Allen; 2 sisters, Donnell Goss and Betty Lee Johnson.

Survivors: a son, Lonnie G. West Jr. (Lisa); 2 daughters, Sandy W. King (Kevin) and Cindy W. Potts (David); 5 grandchildren, Wendy, David Jr., Deana, Sarah and Rebecca; 8 great-grandchildren; 1 great-great-grandson; 3 brothers, Francis Sony Allen (Nellie), Jimmy Ray Allen (Magaline) and Sam Allen (Sue); a special sister-in-law, Margaret Allen; multiple nieces and nephews, cousins and friends; and special friends, Susan Carpenter, Peggy King, Debbie Bledsoe and Danny Crouse.

A celebration of going home will be on Saturday, July 5 at Wesley Chapel Methodist Church at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Sara Scruggs. The family will receive friends afterwards in the fellowship hall.

Memorials: Wesley Chapel Church.

Harold Eugene Wood

Mr. Harold Eugene Wood, 70, of Farmington Road, died Sunday, June 29, 2014, at his home.

He was born April 30, 1944 in Davie County to the late Robert Lee and Hattie Mae Freeman Wood. He retired from KOSA after 30 years. He was a simple and generous man. It did not take much to make him happy. He enjoyed hunting, fishing, the outdoors and was a NASCAR fan. His family meant everything to him.

He was also preceded in death by 2 brothers, Jerry Gray Wood and Robert McKinley Wood; and a dear friend, Linda Wood.

Survivors: a daughter, Donna Creason (Perry) of Mocksville; 2 grandchildren, Tiffany Lauren Johnson (Adam) and Kevin Lynn Creason; a great-grandson, Syllas Johnson; nieces and nephews, Glenda Thompson, Sue Sims, Buster Wood, Jerry Wayne Wood, Jay Wood, Mark Wood and Janice Claybrook.

Joe Cagle

Joe Cagle died on July 13, 2014 at his home in Bermuda Run.

Born in Shawnee, Okla., he was one of six children of the late Lillie Belle (Joyce) Melott Cagle and I.B. (Bill) Cagle. He was also preceded in death by a sister, Betty Collins, and a brother, Wendall Cagle.

He was proud of his Native American Pottawatomí heritage. His great-grandmother was one of the original five families establishing the Citizen Potawatomi Nation in Oklahoma.

Survivors: his wife of 55 years, Shirley J. Cagle; daughters, Jennifer Whyman (Dan) of St. Louis and Jill O'Dea (Kevin) of Portland, Ore.; grandchildren, Erica, Tim and Ben of St. Louis; sisters, Carol Kuenstler (Oscar) of Elephant Butte, N.M. and Linda Teal (Jim) of Rockport, Texas; brother, Keith Cagle (Sandi) of Rockport; and many nieces and nephews.

He earned a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Central State University in Edmond, Okla. Mr. Cagle worked for 37 years in the chemical industry with Nalco Chemical Co., W.R. Grace and Betz-Dearborn. He was a lifetime member of the American Chemical Society. After moving to Charlotte, he fell in love with the state and its people. He chose to return to North Carolina when he retired in 1998. He looked forward to many days on the golf course at Bermuda Run with friends and neighbors. Discovering Sawtooth School of Visual Arts, he became involved in the art world in Winston-Salem. After exploring painting, he decided pottery was where he belonged. "Playing in the dirt" was his passion for years. He became a member of Associated Artists and a founding member of the Muddy River Art Association. He was a member of Clemmons Presbyterian Church.

After rescuing a large white greyhound, he decided he needed an easier way to bath "Tony" so with friends Lee Reynolds, Sam Zaffino and Don House he designed and opened "Go Dog Wash" on Jonestown Road in 2004. After 7 years, he retired again to devote more time to his pottery. His home studio provided many hours for teaching relatives and friends how to make an original work of art. He had served as mentor to business associates and friends, active in each neighborhood in which he resided, participating in civic and philanthropic endeavors. He told each family member often how much he loved them and was proud of them.

His memorial service will be at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 26 at Hayworth-Miller, 108 E. Kinderton Way, Bermuda Run. The family will receive friends following the service. Burial will be later at Chapel Hill Memorial Gardens in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mr. Hinson was born on Jan. 3, 1935 in High Point, a son of Ollie (McMahan) Hinson of High Point and the late Ernest Daniel Hinson. On Oct. 12, 1945 he made his decision to become a Christian and two weeks later became baptized at Pilot View Baptist Church.

He was a 1953 graduate of Trinity High School, after which he experienced his call to the Ministry of Gospel of Jesus Christ and attended Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem, earning a bachelor's degree in 1959. He was also a 1961 graduate of the School of Pastoral Care, Winston-Salem. He furthered his degree at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Wake Forest, with a bachelor's of divinity degree in 1966, a master of divinity in 1973, and a doctor of divinity in evangelism in 2002. He has served as associate pastor at his home church, Pilot View Baptist Church where he was ordained, and interim pastor at Hilliard Memorial Baptist Church, Albertson Road Baptist Church, Reavis Memorial Baptist Church, Abbott's Creek Baptist Church, Morningside Manor Baptist Mission, Wise Baptist Church, and Green Hill Baptist Church; pastor at Union Cross Baptist Mission, Jewel Baptist Church, Blaise Baptist Church and Green Hill Baptist Church; youth director at Green Street Baptist Church; Chaplain at Army Reserves and National Guards; associate director of the division of evangelism, Baptist State Convention of N.C.

With his wife he started the Jimmy Hinson Evangelism and Reach Out Evangelism Ministries and had conducted church-related revivals in more than 800 churches in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, West Virginia, Alaska, Brazil and India. He was the senior adult pastor at Old Town Baptist Church. He also had radio and television ministries, "Echoes of Evangelism," "Religious News" and "A Time for Truth."

When not ministering the gospel of Jesus Christ he enjoyed golfing, bowling, hunting, bantams and bees.

Also surviving: a son, Jimmy D. Hinson Jr. and wife Sharmon of High Point; a daughter, Phelicia Corpening and husband Jim of Tryon; a grandson, Jason M. Corpening of Tryon; a brother, Tony D. Hinson of San Diego, Calif.

A funeral service was held at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 26 at Cumby Family Funeral Service, Archdale with the Revs. Joe Coltrane, Steve Hedgecock and Rick Spear officiating. Burial followed in Floral Garden Memorial Park. A visitation was held Saturday at the funeral home.

Gloria Benson Stacks

Gloria Dean Benson Stacks, 82, of Mocksville, died unexpectedly Wednesday, July 23, 2014, at Autumn Care of Mocksville after a period of declining health.

A native of Wichita Falls, Texas, she was born May 29, 1932, to the late Louie H. and Elma Dean Pepper Benson. She was a 1949 graduate of Abilene High School (Texas) and attended Texas Christian University in Fort Worth with a major in dance. She met and married Harry Lee Lambeth Jr. in 1955. The late Mr. Lambeth was a well-known art and antiques dealer in Winston-Salem for years. In 1977, she married artist William "Leon" Stacks Jr. They lived in Morganton, where his reputation was earned as an "impressionist tree" and "mountain painter" and then in Hilton Head Island, S.C., where he concentrated on "seascapes" and "Lowcountry" painting until his death in 1991. Mrs. Stacks continued the fine art restoration work begun by her late husband with the assistance of artist Clyde Williams. Her artistic endeavors in many fields brought the admiration and respect of art lovers throughout the Carolinas. She moved to Mocksville to be near her children and grandchildren in 2006. She continued as a homemaker and caregiver to family and friends as long as her health permitted.

Survivors: a daughter, Alison Lambeth Dyson of Mocksville; a son, Harry Lee Lambeth III of Thomasville; a brother, Albert "Pat" Benson of Henderson, Texas; and a sister, Nancy Benson Tate of Winnsboro, Texas; 2 grandchildren, Jessica Dyson Myers and Travis Dyson; and special family friends, Clyde and Pam Williams of South Carolina, Sally Lehr of Texas, and Sue Hohmann of Mocksville; plus many nieces and nephews.

She was also preceded in death by a brother, Robert L. "Bob" Benson.

A graveside celebration of life service was conducted at 4 p.m. Sunday, July 27 at Forest Hill Cemetery in Morganton with Pastor Chuck Taylor officiating, where she was buried beside her late husband. The family received friends on Sunday at the Davie Funeral Service Chapel in Mocksville.

Sarah West Fortney

Sarah Elizabeth "Betty" West Fortney, 92, died of natural causes at her home in Maryville, Tenn., Monday, July 28, 2014, with family by her side.

She was caring and devoted, born with a kind, gentle spirit, who was unfailingly polite, to the last day of her life. Born April 11, 1922, to parents Walter Wesley "Bud" West and Ella Agnes Miller West on the family's dairy farm in the Pino community of Davie County, she was the sixth of eight children.

She was preceded in death by her husband J.L. Fortney, her parents, brothers Walter Miller West, Lonnie Gray West Sr. and wife Dorothy, Luther Wilson West Sr., and by sisters Virginia Steelman and husband George, Jessie Guentert and husband Harold, and Lois Deese and husband Ray Jr.

Survivors: her daughter, Lindalee Fortney Thomas of Maryville; her brother, Roland West and wife Betty, sister-in-law Osthine West, all of Mocksville; as well as numerous nieces and nephews.

She loved her family. Elissa Evans, neighbor and friend, shared more than 40 years of holidays and special occasions with her and her daughter. She graduated from Farmington High School in 1941 and completed the Nursing Diploma Program at City Memorial Hospital, Winston-Salem, earning her registered nursing degree. She was employed by the Georgia Baptist Children's Homes, Baptist Hospital of Memphis and Santa Monica Hospital. After her family moved from California to Maryville in 1962, she worked 23 years at Blount Memorial Hospital, primarily as night-shift charge-nurse on pediatrics, retiring in 1986. She loved God, seeking to live by His principles and was a member of First Baptist Church of Maryville for more than 50 years. After retirement she volunteered in the church nursery and visited members who were homebound or in nursing homes. She enjoyed trips and good-times with the FBC "Golden Agers," as well as happy games of Rook and "Hand & Foot" with church friends, sitting on the porch of the Wonderland Hotel in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. She spent three years at Wellington Place Assisted Living before returning home for a year with her daughter. In her last 12 months she drank plenty of coffee, ate lots of everything and enjoyed watching her bird-feeders.

The visitation and funeral were conducted at Smith Mortuary of Maryville, Saturday, Aug. 2. A memorial service will be held Sunday, August 10, 2:30 p.m., at Wesley Chapel United Methodist Church, Mocksville, which she attended as a child. The Rev. Sara Scruggs will officiate; Ben Brock will play piano. Remains will be interred in the church cemetery.

Memorials: Cemetery Fund of Wesley Chapel UMC, c/o 3532 NC 801 N., Mocksville.

Josephine McClamrock

Mrs. Josephine Carter McClamrock of Mocksville died Tuesday, July 29, 2014.

In her soft-spoken demeanor, her life was a tapestry of people, places and events that culminated in an elegantly poignant life.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Bill McClamrock.

Survivors: her daughter and son-in-law, Patricia and Gene Draughn, her grandsons, Matthew and Justin Draughn and Justin's wife and children Aubrey, Honor Presley and Cannon Draughn, all of Mocksville; siblings, Elva Grace Carter Elam of St. Louis, Mo., Lawrence Ray Carter (Kathy) of Mocksville and Margaret Ann Carter Bryant (Don) of Flat Rock; and special friend, Jane Owens Smith.

Her passion was her husband, her daughter and son-in-law. It was found in her grandchildren as well as the people and places around her. Most will remember her and her husband in a seemingly constant beehive of motion, a march of labor. The moments of pause, whether sitting in the front yard with family or something as fleeting as a single look, there was an underlining sense of being passionate about the moment. The last years have seen a body and a mind failing, but within these failings she found friendships in the individuals who moved closer rather than moving away.

She was born Nov. 15, 1926 in Davie County to the late Hasten Wade and Mary Garrett Carter.

A funeral service was conducted at 11 a.m., Saturday, Aug. 2 at Eaton Funeral Chapel with the Celebrant Holly Marion officiating and music by Kevin Bryant of Flat Rock. Burial followed in Rose Cemetery. The family received friends Saturday at the funeral home.

Memorials: Alzheimer's Assoc., Western Carolina Chapter, 3800 Shamrock Drive, Brantcomb 10, Charlotte, 28215-3220.

Worth McCoy Bowles

Worth McCoy Bowles of Clemmons died on Aug. 9, 2014.

He was the son of Amos Lee and Jessie Lee (Johnston) Bowles of Mocksville. He grew up on the family farm (now the site of the Carolina Bible Camp in Mocksville) with 2 older brothers, Alvin and Jack and 4 younger sisters, Nora, Vera, Alice and Roberta. A veteran of World War II, he served in the US Navy Air Corps as a pilot and navigator in the South Pacific. It was during pre-flight training in Illinois that he met and married his wife of 62 years, Dorothy Ruth (Valentine), 2006, of Chicago. After discharge from the Navy he went to work for Standard Oil Co. as a mechanic and service station manager then later as an owner operator, which lead him to Seattle, Wash. where he settled down and raised 2 children, David (Scott) and Donna Lynn. He was a strong man, friendly, generous and kind who lived his life with the small-town southern values learned during his childhood in the Depression era rural south.

Survivors: his son and daughter-in-law, David "Scott" and Donna-Jo Bowles of Indiana; 3 grandchildren, Taylor (Curtis), Meghan and Benjamin "Gunnar" Bowles; his daughter, Donna Lynn Bowles of California; his sister, Vera Scobey of Clemmons; as well as many friends and golf buddies.

John Charles Dunn

Mr. John Charles "Charlie" Dunn, 76, of Park Avenue, Mocksville, died Saturday, Aug. 2, 2014, at Forsyth Medical Center after suffering a massive stroke.

Generous and according to his wishes, he gave the gift of life to others through organ and tissue donation. He was born on Feb. 15, 1938, in Hampton, Ark. to the late Kenneth W. and Mable Reddin Dunn. He was a graduate of Hendrix College, Conway, Ark., Class of 1960 and of Duke Divinity School, Class of 1963. Establishing the Alice C. Gaither/Terry S. Dunn Fund at the Davie Community Foundation was his way to honor the family history of generations of friendship, respect and love between the families. This was set up to assist in literacy and early childhood education. His involvement in his community and church spanned many years including leadership roles and loyal service at First United Methodist Church of Mocksville, the Mocksville Rotary Club, Mocksville Jaycees, The United Way, the Davie YMCA, Davie County School Board, Davie Community Foundation, Scouting and the Brock Performing Arts Center. He was retired CEO and president of Mocksville Savings and Loan, later Mocksville Savings Bank, then StoneStreet Bank Corp., which became Suntrust Bank. Special interests in banking were to assist the community, regardless of color or creed in providing loans for churches, small businesses and home ownership. He was proud of the bank's sponsorship of Mocksville's 4th of July celebration at Rich Park which included the Winston-Salem Symphony, Lady Liberty and fireworks.

Survivors: his love of 54 years, Terry Shutt Dunn; 4 children, Ginny Dunn and Steven L. Fry and John Henry and Carol S. Dunn; 6 grandchildren, Sally Virginia Fry and Matthew David Scruggs, John Steven Fry, and John Wesley, Lindsey Elizabeth and William O'Brien Dunn; 2 siblings, James K. and Kay W. Dunn and their family and Martha Lynn Dunn and her friend, Floyd McDonald; and a brother-in-law, G.H.C. Shutt III and his family.

A celebration of life service was conducted at 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 9 at First United Methodist with Dr. Glenn L. Myers Jr., the Rev. Billy Rintz and Pastor Julian Gaither officiating. The family received friends at Rich Park following the service.

Doris Anne Frye

Mrs. Doris Anne Braxton Frye, 87, of Mocksville, died Thursday evening, Aug. 7, 2014, after a two-day illness.

She was born in Greensboro in 1927 to Eula Woody Braxton and Julius Charlie Braxton. While studying at UNC-G, formerly Woman's College, a classmate, Opal Frye (soon to be sister-in-law) suggested she write to her brother serving overseas in World War II. She did, later meeting him with his usual twinkle in his eye, and was married to Arthur Aviron Frye for 62 years. They moved to Mocksville in 1946, where she worked as a bookkeeper at Davie County Agricultural Extension Office, Rankin-Sanford Implement Co., Farm Bureau, and later as genealogist in the history room of Davie County Public Library. She continued this passion until age 78. Mrs. Frye was keenly interested in people her entire life, making new acquaintances and treasuring old friendships. She was a needlepoint artist, and knitted until the past month. She was a voracious reader, especially international current events and history. Mrs. Frye seemed knowledgeable on every subject and expert on many. She was a member of First Baptist Church where she sang in the choir and taught Sunday school for approximately 60 years. Dear to her heart was her small devoted Sunday school class, recently named in her honor. Perhaps one of the most important things in her long life were her treasured girlfriends. She loved them deeply going as far back as Mrs. Ellilu Key from grade school. Since December, 2012, she has resided at Brookstone Terrace at Clemmons where she was happy. Not only receiving excellent care, she made friends and considered fellow residents and staff as family.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband.

Surviving: a son, Thomas Keith Frye; a daughter, Karen Anne Frye Riddle and husband Vance; grandchildren, Opal Christine Frye (Ben), Anna Caroline Mitchell (Michael) and Grace Jillian Riddle (Hunter); and great-grandchildren, Caroline, Charlie and Sidney Mitchell.

The family received friends Saturday, Aug. 9, at Eaton Funeral Home. A funeral service was conducted at 3 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 10 at First Baptist Church, with the Rev. A. Shane Nixon officiating. The body was placed in the church 30 minutes prior to the service. Burial followed in Rose Cemetery.

Scherer was born Oct. 21, 1929, in Kansas City, Kan. and was the son of the late George Jacob Scherer and Dovie Deloras Jones Scherer. He earned his bachelor's and medical degrees from the University of Kansas and on June 18, 1954, was married in Asheville to Lois Anita Varner Scherer, who died Jan. 17, 2010. He served in the U.S. Navy as a lieutenant from 1954-1957 and in the Navel Reserves until 1962. In July of 1957, he came to Hamptonville, at Windsor Crossroads and opened a medical practice along with being a doctor with the Lula Conrad Hoots Memorial Hospital in Yadkinville. He served as an assistant pastor at the Fair Oaks Gospel Church in Winston-Salem. In April of 1976, he and Dr. Jim Ward opened the Tri-County Medical Park Family Practice between Harmony and Union Grove. His office served patients from Iredell, Yadkin, Wilkes, Davie, and Alexander counties. He continued his association with the medical park until his retirement in 2009, at which time he gave the building back to the community. He was associated with Iredell Memorial Hospital for 50 years and served 17 years on the board of trustees. He was a member of the Community Baptist Church at Mt. Mourne. Scherer was called to be a missionary but because of only one kidney, could not be accepted so he made the medical practice his mission. He did not charge ministers, missionaries, or Christian workers a fee. He had a love for teaching the Bible and had Bible study in his home on many Friday evenings for years followed by foods and desserts prepared by Mrs. Scherer. He was a supporter of the Gideons Organization.

Donald Gray Angell

Donald Gray Angell, 81, of Asheville, died on Aug. 25, 2014 at the John F. Keever, Jr. Solace Center in Asheville.

Born in Winston-Salem, NC, he was predeceased by mother, Grace McCullough Angell, father, Brady Landreth Angell, and daughter Margaret Angell Tanahey.

He was a business graduate of UNC Chapel Hill and was a CPA for more than 40 years. He also held a bachelor's of music degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and served as minister of music for several area churches. He was a member of the Salvation Army Board, Kiwanis, and served on committees during his 30 years as a member of First Baptist Church of Asheville. A lover of music, he played piano and trombone, was part of the Asheville Choral Society, and enjoyed many seasons as part of the First Baptist Church of Asheville Orchestra and Adult Handbell Choir. He sang bass for almost 30 years with the church's Adult Choir and was a 25-year Charter Member of the Asheville Community Concert Band.

Survivors: his wife of 34 years, Robbie Hobbs Angell; daughter, Becky Angell Ready and husband Geoff of Hendersonville; son Michael Angell and wife Carol of Asheville; son, David Angell of Asheville; and 3 step-children, Jennifer Blackburn Bracey of Elkin, Joseph A. Blackburn, Jr., and wife Kimberly of Dobson, and Jessica Blackburn Broome and fiancé Charles McAuley of Asheville; 2 brothers, B. Dean Angell and wife Betty of Petersburg, Va., Richard L. Angell and wife Carol of Mocksville; 13 grandchildren including Dustin and Noah Ready, Kevin Angell, Chris Angell, Amanda Angell Bullman, Micaela Angell Warren, Brendan Sampson, Caroline Bracey, Savannah and Nolan Blackburn, Dylan Broome, and Pierce and Jackson McAuley; and 9 great-grandchildren.

He requested that his life be celebrated through a special worship service. In his presence, at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 16, friends and family gathered in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church Asheville to honor his last wishes. Leading in worship were ministers Clark Sorrells, Karen Sorrells, and Leah Brown, and more than 60 members of the Adult Choir. His children, Michael, David, Jennifer, and Jessica contributed through prayer and words of remembrance, and granddaughter Amanda shared memories and sang for her grandfather. From prelude (a brass trio arrangement of "When the Saints Go Marching In") to postlude (the "Oak Street Rag," a song in the ragtime tradition and composed by Don), the service was filled with his favorite music. Many have since reflected upon the memory of watching him quietly direct music throughout the service. His ashes were inurned at the columbarium of The Sacred Garden at First Baptist Church Asheville.

Memorials: Salvation Army or Academy for the Arts at First Baptist Church of Asheville, 5 Oak St., Asheville, 28801.

James Cecil Cartner

Mr. James Cecil Cartner 85, of Mocksville died in the early hours of Wednesday morning, Nov. 19, 2014, after struggling with pneumonia.

He was a graduate of Cool Springs High School and a life-long resident of the Davie Academy community. Throughout his life, he was an active member of Salem United Methodist Church where he served as a Sunday school teacher and treasurer for years. He was a member of both the Mocksville Masonic Lodge and the Eastern Star for more than 50 years as well as the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association. Mr. Cartner worked for the U.S. Postal Service for 30 years serving inside the post office and as a letter carrier. After he retired at 58 he continued to work several jobs including driving a school bus for the Davie County School System and working as a clerk at Willow Oaks Hardware and Caudell Lumber Co. His favorite job was bagging groceries at Lowes grocery store in Clemmons. As a "bag boy" he spent his days talking to people, giving them a helping hand, and making their day brighter with a smile. This was characteristic of Mr. Cartner who was known to say, "People are what is important, and we all need to take care of each other." Alan Bowles, a long time friend, said: "If the world was filled with people like Mr Cartner we wouldn't have to worry about meanness and wars." After nine years with Lowes, he retired once more but wasn't finished working. His final "career" was that of Grand Jury Liaison for Davie County. He left this position at age 82. Mr. Cartner spent the last two years of his life as a resident of Arbor Acres retirement community in Winston-Salem. He was a favorite among the nurses and staff many of whom stopped by the last day of his life to give him their love and sing to him which was one of his greatest comforts in later years.

Survivors: his wife, Ruth Boger Cartner, 85, also of Arbor Acres; daughter, Janice Cartner Meyer and son-in-law Larry Meyer of Mocksville; and granddaughter Elizabeth Denton Meyer of Washington, D.C.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Thomas Glenn and Bessie Barneycastle Cartner; brothers, Roy Holt and Thomas Elijah; and sister Bessie Pauline Cartner.

A funeral service was conducted at 2 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 22 at Salem United Methodist Church with the Rev. John Erwin officiating. Burial followed in the church cemetery with Masonic graveside rites conducted by Mocksville Masonic Lodge AF&AM 134.
