George Thomas Clark

George Thomas Clark, 71, died early in the morning on Friday, Dec. 26, in the company of his family.

He was born June 28, 1943 in Hartford, Conn. to Beatrice Geer and Burgess Miller Clark. A 1965 graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, he spent his professional life as a wizard of mechanical sales in the HVAC industry. He loved his multi-cultural extended family and was especially happy as "Grandpa," sharing snuggles, sports, and fun with his four grandchildren. He particularly enjoyed currency collecting, and was passionate about ice hockey. He played recreationally into his 70s and was an organizer and manager of the Carolina Classics Hockey Club for players over 60. He took pride in establishing the "Carolina Cup" tournament for senior players, which crowned its first champions earlier this year. He was a life-long Hartford Whalers/Carolina Hurricanes fan thrilled to see the Stanley Cup in person after the 2006 championship. His contagious optimism and big heart made him a committed community volunteer, serving recently with other animal-lovers at the Humane Society of Davie County, as chair of the Triad ABC Board, as treasurer of the Bermuda Run West HOA, and as an alternate on the TBR Planning Board.

Survivors: his wife of 32 years, Deborah Wilensky Clark; children, Kevin Clark (Tammy) and Dr. Paula Clark Fischinger (Joseph); grandchildren, Faith and Jack Clark, and Genevieve and Elena Fischinger; former wife and friend, Carol Clark-Matthews; his mother-in-law, Yvonne Wilensky; several in-laws, nieces and nephews, and his five feline family members.

A life celebration will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 3, at Bermuda Run Country Club.

Memorials: Humane Society of Davie, 291 Eaton Rd. Mocksville; Carolina Hurricanes Kids 'N Community Foundation (1400 Edwards Mill Rd, Raleigh, 27607); or any social services or arts charity.

Lena Prevette Souther

Mrs. Lena Prevette Souther, 95, of Ratledge Road, Mocksville, died Friday, Dec. 19, 2014 at her home.

She was born Dec. 3, 1919, in Wilkes County, the fifth child of the late Gaston Roscoe and Pearl Johnson Precocoe. After retiring from Fiber Industries in 1982, she loved do-it-yourself projects, and it seemed that there wasn't anything she couldn't do. Mindful of the environment, she was recycling before recycling was known, turning trash (plastic, paper) into crafty treasures. Although she enjoyed many artistic crafts, her passion seemed to be sewing and quilting and she passed her knowledge to her daughter and granddaughter, Renee. They quilted and sewed together once a week and often enjoyed trips to quilt shows. Even though she won many blue ribbons for her work, she remained humble. A faithful member of Salem United Methodist Church and the Treasures Sunday School Class, she served as Sunday school teacher for children for many years and volunteered with Bible school and fund-raising suppers. A 60-year member of Kappa ECA, she participated in programs and served as a recreation and craft leader. She was a member of the Monday Morning Quilt Club, which brought her joy, and the Davie County Quilt Guild.

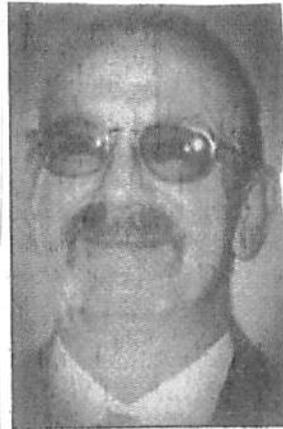

She was also preceded in death by her husband, Charlie Clay Souther in 1991; a son, Gary Clay Souther in 2003; and her brothers, Loyd, Claude, Stoy, Dewey, X.D., Earl, Arvil and James Prevette.

Survivors: her daughter and son-in-law, Sharrie S. and Harold P. Campbell; granddaughters, Renee C. Call (Jeff) and Regina C. Andari (Fadi); and great-granddaughter, Haley L. Kyles (Matt); grandchildren, Dena Kennedy (Barry) and Scott Souther (Tonda); great-grandchildren, Chadrick Andari, Bryson Call, Hollie Faerman-Diaz, Emily Souther, Jacob Souther, and Garrett Kennedy; 7 great-great-grandchildren. Malena Faerman (her namesake), Campbell Kyles, Colton Kyles, Katie Diaz, Meredith Diaz and twins, Caroline and Charlotte Diaz; sisters, Lucy Phifer and Margaret Brown; and a daughter-in-law, Linda Souther.

A funeral service was conducted at 11 a.m., Monday, Dec. 29 at Eaton Funeral Chapel with the Revs. John Erwin and Lynn Cash officiating. The family received friends at the funeral home following the service. A private burial took place in Salem United Methodist Church Cemetery.

James W. 'Jim' Miller

James (Jim) W. Miller of Newark, Del. died on Jan. 27 at home after a 25-year battle with Parkinson's disease.

Born in Mocksville on Jan. 14, 1939, he was the first son of Hunter and Myrtle Miller. He grew up on Davie Street in Cooleemee and graduated from Davie County High School. He served with the 82nd Airborne division of the U.S. Army from 1958-1961, spending time in Okinawa and South Korea. His brother also served in a different unit. In a rare opportunity to reunite on foreign soil, the Army arranged for Jim and John to be photographed together in South Korea on the same day. After graduating with a bachelor's degree in textile engineering from N.C. State University in 1964, he joined the DuPont Co. in Hendersonville, Tenn. Within two years, he moved to Delaware, working in technical and marketing positions. Following brief stints in Dallas and New York City, he settled in Delaware where he received consecutive marketing excellence awards for his work with Kevlar and Nomex. After the space shuttle Challenger crash, he worked with NASA on behalf of DuPont to develop the protective orange flight suits used in subsequent expeditions. He spent his adult years in close contact with fraternity brothers from his Sigma Phi Epsilon chapter at N.C. State. He participated in yearly golf trips with his friends at DuPont and served as a deacon at Limestone Presbyterian Church. As a licensed pilot, he enjoyed taking his family on a number of family vacations. He loved Southern cooking (especially North Carolina barbecue); talking with anyone who would listen; taking his time with projects; and tinkering with cars. He was admired for his sense of humor and his ability to tell a story, rich with metaphors and vivid mental pictures. He was a good listener and problem-solver. He could fix almost anything.

He was preceded in death by his parents and his brother-in-law David Gerwig, formerly of Richmond, Ind.

Survivors: his wife, Ann Gerwig Miller of Newark; son, James Hunter Miller of Wilmington, Del.; daughter, Courtney Ellen Miller of Philadelphia, Pa.; his brother, John Edward Miller and wife Millie of Hanahan, S.C.; brother-in-law, Robert Bruce Gerwig and wife Laurie of Macon, Ga.; sister-in-law, Kathie Davidson Gerwig of Lakewood, Colo.; 3 nieces and a nephew: Sarah Gerwig-Moore (children Dean and Eliot) and Amy Gerwig Walker and husband Caleb, all living in Macon, Ga.; and Jefferson Gerwig and Rachel Gerwig of Indianapolis, Ind.

A service honoring his life will be held at Limestone Presbyterian Church at 11 a.m. on Feb. 14. Childcare will be provided. All guests and children are invited to join the family in Klair Hall for a reception and lunch following the service.

Verna Howard Howell

Verna Howard Howell (Dunn) died on March 8, 2015 on her 88th birthday after less than a two-week stay at Bermuda Commons in Advance.

She was born and raised on a farm on Rainbow Road, daughter of the late Hettie May Sofley Howard and Albert Stevenson Howard. As an adult she moved just down the road from her parents, where she lived and managed to take care of herself until four weeks ago. During her brief stay at Bermuda Commons, a nurse commented, "It was like a revolving door in and out of her room with the outpouring of friends and family visiting." She loved to be around people and to tell stories. A few weeks before her death while riding in car on US 158 and NC 801, she named every person who lived in each house and named their parents. She never met a stranger and never was without conversation. She was employed with RJR Tobacco Co. in Winston-Salem for 20 years, 13 years at Ramada Inn in Clemmons and 30 years as a CNA at the Blumenthal Jewish Home in Clemmons. She did private duty nursing at Bermuda Village in Advance. She retired but never slowed. She was an active member of the Good Times Square Dance Club, the Home Demonstration, Cub Scout leader, Methodist Women, and a participant at the Farmington Senior Center events and monthly birthday parties. She had the annual chicken stew for friends every fall and many looked forward to the fire, stew and stories. She was a faithful member of Bethlehem United Methodist Church, where she was the oldest female member living until her death. She loved to travel with friends, family and her brother, Thomas Howard. She enjoyed her morning at Bojangles, catching up on the latest gossip. She was a NASCAR fan who rooted for Jeff Gordon. In her later years she enjoyed watching Judge Judy, The Walton's or the local news. If someone was sick or had died, she would start cooking; making chicken pies, green beans, sweet potato casserole and some type of pie or cake. She was a fabulous cook and before her decline in health would always fix Monday night supper so the family could congregate and discuss their happenings. It got to be a joke because you never knew who would stop by. She loved canning and freezing corn. When her son-in-law got a new Harley, she decided she had to ride. At age 78, she got on the back and down the road they went. When she returned, she said if she could put training wheels on it she would get her one to ride, it was so much fun. She could not always wait until Thursday for the Davie County Enterprise and she would sometimes slip out and go get the paper on Wednesday just so she could be the first to know the news. She would read every word and then start calling to see if we had heard about so and so. We knew she was sick Wednesday when she did not ask for the Davie County Enterprise. She will be missed at the Howard Reunion, which she was a fixture every year. She could put you in your place or be in the place where you needed her to be minutes later. You could depend on her to be at family gatherings and be early and stay late so she would not miss anything. Her wit and sense of humor remained alert and observant to the end.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Loyd Dunn; a sister, Julia Geraldine Howard Pilcher, and 2 brothers, Glenn Stevenson Howard and Hugh Thomas Howard.

Survivors: her 2 children, Kathy Howell Miller (Patrick), Ronald Gene Howell (friend Jody Kirby); 3 grandchildren, Suzanne Miller Lakey (Bryan), Matthew Holt Miller (Laura) and Stephanie Howell Mathis (Shannon); 6 great-grandchildren, Annabelle, Brooklyn, Calleigh and Stella Lakey, Caleb and Conner Mathis; 5 nieces and nephews, Julia Ann Pilcher Myers, Loretta Pilcher Boger (Jeff), Tommy Howard (Robin), Anthony Stevenson Howard, and Beverly Howard Tripp.

Her funeral service was to be held Wednesday, March 11 at 5 p.m. at Bethlehem United Methodist Church in Advance. Burial was to follow in the church cemetery. The body was to lie in state one hour before the service and the family visitation was to take place in the sanctuary after the burial.

Elbert 'Steve' Miller

Elbert "Steve" Miller, 66, died Saturday, March 14, 2015, at his home on Swicegood Street in Cooleemee with family and friends by his side.

Born Sept. 16, 1948, he was the son of the late John C. Miller, Sr. and Bonnie Sue Tutterow Miller. He attended Davie County Schools and enlisted in the U.S. Army. He was a Vietnam veteran, receiving the National Defense Service Medal, the Vietnam Service Medal and the Vietnam Campaign Medal. He was honorably discharged with the rank of Specialist 4 in 1969. Many of the health problems he developed later in life were, in part, the result of his service to his country. After the military, he returned to Davie County where he became a master carpenter and served as foreman on many residential and commercial construction projects. He was a quiet man who enjoyed fishing.

Survivors: his son, Anthony Steven "Tony" Lomax of Salisbury; 2 brothers, John C. Miller Jr. and wife Marilyn, and Perry Miller and wife Bobbie Jo, all of Mocksville; plus a host of friends, neighbors and comrades.

There was a time of visitation and viewing on Tuesday evening, March 17, at the Davie Funeral Service Chapel. A celebration of life service was conducted at the funeral chapel at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, March 18. Burial followed at Rowan Memorial Park in Salisbury where full military honors were accorded by the VFW Memorial Honor Guard and the NC National Guard Honors Group.

Mrs. Elinor Jane Paxton Satchell, 89, died Thursday, May 14, 2015, at Autumn Care of Mocksville.

She was born Sept. 10, 1925, in Harrisville, W.Va. to the late Robert and Nina Paxton. Mrs. Satchell earned her registered nurse degree and served in the Cadet Nurse Corps in Newport News, Va. from 1944-1947. She was a devoted wife of 38 years to Richard Odell Satchell of Newport News, during his ministry in churches in Spence, Md., Atlantic, Va., Lutherville, Md., and Heathsville, Va. until the Rev. Satchell's death on Oct. 30, 1986. Mrs. Satchell was an accomplished seamstress and enjoyed needlework, much of which is in her granddaughters' homes. She made a pineapple pastry beyond compare. Mrs. Satchell filled her home with a broad range of music, from classical to country. She was an inveterate reader and inventive crossword puzzler, much to the delight of her daughter. Mrs. Satchell was a treasure trove of wisdom and a fount of hillbilly humor.

Mrs. Satchell raised five children, all of whom survive her: Robert Mason Satchell (Ellen) of Gloucester, Va., Richard Lee Satchell (Susan) of Phoenix, Ariz., Jane Satchell McAllister (Charles) of Mocksville, William David Satchell (Karen) and John Mark Satchell (Pat), all of Richmond, Va.; 7 grandchildren; 8 great-grandchildren; a sister-in-law, Luemma Paxton of Callahan, Fla.

A celebration of her life will be held in Mocksville in July and her ashes will be interred in Peninsula Memorial Park of Newport News, Va., next to her husband.

Annie Pauline 'Polly' Carter Deal

Mrs. Annie Pauline "Polly" Carter Deal, 86, died on Thursday morning, May 28, 2015 at her home in Faith.

She was born July 2 1928, to the late Clyde Hampton Carter and Gladys Mae Howard Carter of Kannapolis. After losing both parents at age 6, she moved to Cooleemee, and lived with grandparents, attending Cooleemee School, where she was a graduate. On her 18th birthday, 1946, she married the love of her life, James Gilbert Deal from Woodleaf. They started their family and moved to Faith. She loved to read, and was the Faith librarian for 20 years and at the East Rowan Branch for 10 years. Many to this day still referred to her as "Miss Polly".

The Atlanta Braves were her team, and she and Jim watch every game on TV and Polly kept score in official scorebooks. They were fortunate to travel all over the US whether by car and on bus trips. She never met and stranger and dedicated her life to helping others. She was a member of the Extension Homemakers, American Legion Auxiliary, East Rowan Ladies Civitan, and a local Red Hat Club. She helped launch the first 4-H club in the Faith area. She participated in the Rowan Crop walk for 34 years, worked with the Habitat for Humanity Port-A-Pit meals, delivered Meals on Wheels, and worked with events in support of Victory Junction. She loved to dress up as a clown and other characters working with children in schools. One dear to her heart was her activity with the Rowan Special Olympics. She was competitive, so whether it was raising money for Relay for Life, or selling tickets for the Habitat meals, she always threw herself across the line giving her all to everything she put her hand to work. She loved her church family from Shiloh Reformed in Faith. She served on many committees such as heading up the acolytes, teaching Sunday school, delivering tapes/CDs to those who couldn't attend church. She was part of the Women's Circle, participating in the knit one pray two group, and gathering groups for fundraisers. She was always involved in something. Family was important. She was involved making sure families gathered each year for a reunion.

She had two siblings, Ralph Wesley Carter of Mocksville, who died in 1977 and Walter Dwight Carter of Norfolk, Va., who died May 3, 2014.

Survivors: her 3 daughters, Reba Louise Deal Drennan of N. Myrtle Beach, S.C.; Paula Christine Deal Hill (Ronnie) of Rockwell; and Melissa Joyce Deal Waller of Granite Quarry; grandchildren, Scottie Hill (Ginger), Alan Hill (Kim), Heather Drennan, Bradley Drennan, and Jordan Waller Johnson (Will); 7 great-grandchildren; and 1 new great-great grandchild.

The family received friends on Saturday, May 30 at Powles Funeral Home. The funeral service was held on Sunday, May 31, at 3 p.m. at Shiloh Reformed Church, conducted by the Rev. Richard Myers, pastor. Burial followed in the church cemetery.

Anne Blackman Goodin

Anne Blackman Goodin died on June 9, 2015, at Forsyth Medical Center.

She was born Jan. 2, 1932. A native of Newton, she was a Winston-Salem resident since the mid-80s and had resided at Brookridge Retirement Community for the past eight years until the last two months when she moved in with her daughter, Debby.

She was preceded in death by her parents Mr. and Mrs. M.F. Blackman; her brothers, Don, J.P. and Harry Jones; and her husband James C. Goodin Sr.

She met her husband when they were 14 and 15 and married him 4 years later. They moved to Greenville, Miss. where he was stationed in the Air Force and their family began with Debby, Jimmy and Donny. When not chasing three children under the age of 3, she worked as a church secretary, a choir director and soloist. Three years later they re-turned to Newton where she worked as a secretary for Burlington Mills and continued her music ministry. He joined the Highway Patrol and was transferred to Stanley, where they were active members of Bruington Memorial Baptist Church and she worked as a secretary for Gaston County Dyeing Machine Co. In 1963, the family was made complete when the fourth child, Amy, made her surprise debut. In 1969, the Highway Patrol moved them to Mocksville where they joined the First Baptist Church. She was employed at BB&T as a customer service representative. Both were involved with the Eastern Star Chapter where they served as Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron for years. Upon retirement they moved to Winston-Salem to be closer to their children. They were married for 48 years until his death in September of 1999.

Always smiling, she was loved by family and friends. Her recipes for country style steak, chicken salad and fudge are legendary. She loved to play cards, the slot machines in the Bahamas and Harrah's. She always told her preachers that "if I'm not winning, I'm not sinning."

Her body was donated to the Wake Forest School of Medicine for use in medical research.

Her memorial service was held at Knollwood Baptist Church at 11 a.m. on Saturday, June 13.

Survivors: 4 children: Debby Teague of Winston-Salem, who has 2 sons, Ken (Lindsay) of Winston-Salem and Lacy (Jillian) of Dallas, Texas; Jimmy Goodin (Barbara) of Mocksville, and their 5 sons, Clint (Rachel) of York, S.C., Chuck (Jaime) of East Bend, Ind., Jacob (Heather) of Winston-Salem, John Kennedy of North Wilkesboro, and Matt Kennedy (Bobbie) of Jonesville; Donny Goodin of Winston-Salem and his son, Austin (Robin) of Advance; and Amy Goodin Powers of Winston-Salem, and her 3 children, Tess Miller of Mocksville, Zach Miller of Goldsboro, and Sydney Crawford of East Bend; and 9 great-grandchildren; many nieces, nephews and cousins; many friends; her sister, Bobbie Kiersey of Atlanta, Ga. and her family; and her special friend, J. L. Boyd of Winston-Salem.
