Two Cars Damaged In Collision Friday

Extensive damage was done to two cars last Friday as the result of a collision on N.C. 801, three miles east of Farmington.

State Highway Patrolman R. C. Blaylock said that Mrs. Barbara Lee Sheek, 19, of Advance, Route 1, was operating a 1952 Henry J. and attempted to make a left turn into a driveway. Her car was struck in the rear by a 1955 Ford, being operated by Lester Lee Myers, 32, of Route 2.

"Approximately $500 damage was done to the Ford, and the Henry J was demolished for all practical purposes. Mrs. Sheek, an expectant mother, was admitted to the hospital for observation."

UNCLE DAVE FROM DAVIE Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Looks like they're having a heap of trouble with them teenage mobs and school kids in Brooklyn. I came along in a day when a feller rolled his own cigarettes and his old lady rocked her own baby and I reckon I ain't fitten to comment on the matter. But in my time a stout switch from the nearest tree cured most of them teen-age diseases. From all the publicity they give it, I reckon that tree that grew in Brooklyn was the only one they had around the place. Their teen-age mob trouble is probably on account of the shortage of trees they got there.

It was a sad day for American youth when they invented the safety razor and quit selling strops.

I see by the papers where Dulles is getting a little worried about all that money Russia owes us and ain't paying. He says he's "considering bringing up the subject with Krushchev in an effort to hasten the start of talks about repaying."

Now that's a system for collecting debts that would suit even ole Ed Doolittle. Next to our system of giving money away to them foreign countries, our debt collecting system with Russia is the best thing we got.

It short would help relations, for instance, if the feller that owns the hardware store, instead of sending me a bill and hinting about getting himself a lawyer, would invite me out to dinner and mention off-hand something about getting together one of these days and talking about the bill.

And them fellers at the court-

Car Goes Crazy And Runs Wild

"The car just went crazy and started running all over the place" was the way a woman explained her accident last week. "I had my foot on the brake all the time."

State Highway Patrolman R. C. Blaylock found that running all over the place was right when he investigated the accident Monday morning around 8 a.m. on N. C. 801, about three miles out of Farmington.

The car had been headed in the direction of Winston - Salem and ran off the road on the right side. Following this it travelled 30 yards back across the road and hit a bank on the left side. After hitting this bank it bounced, switched ends, and hit back again with rear end about 30 feet on down the road. The car then roared back across the highway, into an oat field, made a complete circle in the oat field and knocked down a guide wire. It then went out of the field, back across the road and finally stopped when it ran head - on into the bank again on the other side.

The car was a 1956 Dodge being operated by Mrs. Violet Peoples Sharp, 37, of Mocksville, Rt. 2. The entire front end of the car was demolished and Patrolman Blaylock estimated the damage at approximately $700.

Patrolman Blaylock said that Mrs. Sharpe told him that "she had her foot on the brake all the time." It is surmised, however, that in the excitement she must have put her foot on the accelerator instead of the brake.

The award, an annual presentation by the Mocksville Junior Chamber of Commerce, was presented to Z. N. at the graduation exercises last Thursday night. The presentation was made on behalf of the Jaycees by Jack Cecil, awards chairman.

The Junior Citizenship Award is presented each year to the young man or young woman who, in the opinion of a secret group of judges, has contributed most towards good citizenship. These contributions entail actual participation in various activities of home, church, school and community. Also, taken into consideration by the judges is an original essay written by the nominee on a topic of his own choosing.

Previous winners of this award have included Henry Shutt, Alton Sheek, and Johnnie Ruth Ellis.

Z. N. Anderson has been very active in affairs at the Davie County High School. A second baseman on the baseball team, he made the All-North Piedmont Conference team for two consecutive years. "He has maintained an 'A' average all through school and has not missed a day of school since he was in the third grade.

For an essay, Z. N. wrote on why he wanted to be a medical doctor. In this essay he pointed out that there have been 12 doctors in preceding Anderson generations, and that his family is well represented in the medical field.

In summing up why he wants to be a doctor, G. N. said: "The practice of medicine is rewarding, demanding, and interesting; but most of all, it gives a wonderful feeling to know someone has been helped through my efforts and God's will."

What Every Veteran Should Know

Veterans who feel that they have service incurred disabilities but have not established this fact with the Veterans Administration were told this morning by W. J. Wilson, Davie County Veterans Service Officer, that they should file a claim with the Veterans Administration.

Mr. Wilson said if the Veterans Administration grants service-connection for the disability, the veteran may be entitled to receive compensation, priority for Veterans Administration hospital treatment, out-patient treatment by local doctor for service-connected disability and it will have bearing on whether or not the veteran's widow and children will be entitled to receive death benefits.

For further information contact W. J. Wilson, located at Lynn Haven Nursing Home, Mocksville, or Robert F. Currence, District Officer, N. C. Veterans Commission, 202 Frye Building, Hickory, N. C.

The world admits that a man has ability only after he gets there.

June Dairy Month

Throughout June literally hundreds of persons in North Carolina will join hands in a common effort to call attention to this state's booming dairy industry — from the dairy cow to the chilled carton of fresh milk left on your doorstep.

To say that the North Carolina dairy industry is big business and is important to the state's economy would be trite—yet it is fact that seldom gains the attention of the average person on the street. Suffice to say that North Carolina has some 35,000 individual farm families who are in the business of keeping cows to produce milk. The gross dairy farm income in this state climbed over the billion dollar mark in 1957. Just the cows on the state's dairy farms were valued at about $38.5 million.

The average grade A dairyman in North Carolina with a 24-cow milking herd has an estimated $27,000 invested in animals and dairy equipment alone.

And there's the dairy manufacturing side of the picture. Dairy processing plants have an approximate average capital investment of $35 per quart of daily output. A plant with a 1,000 gallon business has at least $140,000 invested.

But why go to so much trouble to tell the dairy industry story? May and June are months when Old Bossy outdoes herself. They are months of abundant milk production. In order to market this above-normal production, farmers and businessmen of the industry have long realized that "it pays to advertise." And advertise they do. Along with the formal advertising, hundreds of hours by many people in many different jobs go into what is known as "general promotion."

With school out and hot weather at hand during June the industry has for years been faced with a drop in milk consumption. The general public and the kids have had a tendency to turn from wholesome milk to not-so-wholesome, other iced drinks. This, and other aspects of modern existence, has attracted the attention of nutritionists, and others interested in the general public welfare.

So, many persons from different occupations are attracted to the June Dairy Month promotion.

Dedication of Annuals

"The Davie County Clarion" is the annual published each year by the senior class of the Davie County High School.

Two issues of the "Clarion" have been published, and two men that have meant much to those seniors, students and friends of education have been honored by having the "Clarion" dedicated in their honor.

It was only natural that the first issue of this annual be dedicated to Curtis Price, Superintendent of Education in Davie County. Likewise, it came as no surprise that the second edition, just published this year, was dedicated to Dave F. Stillwell, Principal of the new consolidated high school, who has guided the school so ably its first two years.

Last year's "Clarion" said this of Mr. Price:

"The Senior Class of 1957 is especially proud to dedicate the first edition of the Davie County Clarion to Mr. Curtis Price, our County Superintendent. Mr. Price is a leader . . . a leader whose beneficial guidance has accomplished much. He is a friend . . . a well wishing and supporting friend whose concern and helpfulness have been greatly appreciated. His accomplishments in education, his efficient planning and foresight that have made this high school possible, his tireless efforts on behalf of the students, and his interest in the improvements and problems of the school and the entire student body portray the character and perseverance of our superintendent. May this dedication reflect in some small way our heartfelt gratitude to Mr. Price for his high school and for all the educational services he is rendering the county and state.

"His high standards have instilled in each of us a high regard for the finer things of life, and we feel that we are indeed fortunate in having such an outstanding person as our leader."

And of Mr. Stillwell, the dedication of the 1958 high school annual reads:

"For his sincere interest in each student; for his keen sense of humor; for his perseverance and efforts in the many activities of the school; for his example of noble and upright ideals; for his wisdom in solving various problems; for his ability to inspire and challenge each student to do his best; and for his ambition to make Davie County Consolidated High School outstanding in scholarship, sportsmanship, and citizenship, we . . . the seniors of 1958 . . . with respect, admiration, and appreciation, dedicate our annual to our principal—Mr. D. F. Stillwell."

We believe the people of Davie County join with the two graduating classes of the Davie County High School in their words of praise of these two leaders in education.

Local Motorists Pay $39,400 For Roads

In the first year of operation of the big Federal aid highway program, the Government collected $1,482 million in new excise taxes, of which passenger car operators in Davie County contributed an estimated $39,400.

For the country as a whole, the receipts were about 1.2 per cent less than the $1,500 million expected.

Most of the money, turned over to a special Highway Trust Fund, came from the one cent a gallon increase in the tax on gasoline which went into effect on July 1, 1956.

Together with the higher taxes on tires, eight cents a pound instead of five, the average motorist was nicked for nearly $8.60 in the year, according to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce estimate.

This average cost, applied to the number of cars in operation in Davie County, gives $39,400 as the amount of new taxes locally.

Truckers are also being assessed. In addition to the cent a gallon imposed, they are paying higher taxes on tires and other equipment as well as a special levy on trucks weighing over 26,000 pounds.

Further tax demands may be made upon car owners later, it is pointed out, as state governments become faced with the need of paying their share of the cost.

The added expense of motoring in Davie County during the first year of the construction program is reflected somewhat in the receipts of the local gas stations, which came to $643,000 in the year, compared with $614,000 in the previous year.

Originally, it was thought that the 41,000-mile highway net work would be completed in 13 to 15 years. More recently however, a much longer time was indicated because of the rising costs of construction and because of the limitation that was placed in the bill that the work be done on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The current attitude, in the Administration and in Congress, has been to push ahead with the road building more rapidly, using additional Federal funds. It would thus serve as an anti-recession project, they feel.

The inspiration for John Howard Payne's song "Home Sweet Home" was a shingled cottage at East Hampton, Long Island, where he spent his boyhood, the National Geographic Magazine says. His beloved song was part of an opera, "Clari," or the Maid of Milan.

News of Long Ago

What Was Happening in Davie County Before The Days of Automobiles and Rolled Hoes
Davie Record, March 13, 1918

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ijames spent Thursday in Winston-Salem shopping.

N. T. Foster has moved his family into the Lee house just beyond the depot.

W. C. Wilson of Route 1 and Chas. Miller of this village spent Wednesday in Winston.

Dr. Charles Anderson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Statesville, was in town Thursday afternoon.

Work is progressing nicely on the new Baptist Church. When completed this will be one of the prettiest churches in this section of the state.

Lonnie Cantner of Iredell was in town last week and while here purchased from R. L. Wilson a tract of land adjoining his on the Post Road.

The editor and R. M. Ijames Forded down to Charlotte Friday. The wheat crop on the roads were looking fine, and much plowing is being done.

J. T. Angell has purchased the Reid Davis house and lot opposite the graded school building.

Mr. Davis has purchased the John James house and lot near Casey's Store.

Rev. Dwight Brown of Fallston, came in last week to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Brown, on Rt. 4.

Did you see the aurora borealis or northern lights Thursday night? It was a grand and awe inspiring sight and is said to have been the most plainly visible ever seen in this section. No one knows for a certainty what causes this strange light, but it is supposed to be due to reflections of the sun against the ice fields.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Foster motored to Salisbury Thursday and spend the day shopping.

Davie Teachers Association held its last meeting of the year Saturday, March 9th in the Mocksville School auditorium. There was a splendid attendance. A very instructive program was carried out.

Just as we were going to press with today's paper, we dropped a galley of editorial matter which hit the floor with a mighty thud and scattered our editorials into a thousand pieces, which accounts for the scarcity of articles in this department of the Record.

Weather forecast — generally fair and very unsettled with Deport Hill beyond redemption and the road drag out of business.

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS

WASHINGTON — The outlook for an early adjournment of Congress is rather bleak if action is anticipated on major bills pending before the Senate and House.

Major Bills
Some of the major bills are foreign aid, reciprocal trade, taxes, defense reorganization, labor reforms, space agency, appropriations and recession legislation.

The President has already vetoed the farm bill and the omnibus rivers, harbors and flood control bill. Last week the Senate Agriculture Committee began hearings on a new farm bill. Whether or not there will be an attempt to override the veto of the rivers, harbors and flood control bill is uncertain at this time. As a rule, Congress tries to get through in time for election campaigning in the autumn. Each session begins on an enthusiastic note for early adjournment but pressing matters tend to dampen the enthusiasm. The best estimate now seems to be that Congress will adjourn around mid-August.

Much Debate Ahead
It will be necessary for action this month to prevent an automatic reduction of corporation and certain excise taxes. There is mounting evidence that the extension will be made without drastically changing the present provisions. There is some effort being planned to reduce the excise taxes on specific things to help stimulate a business recovery.

The Senate Finance Committee has yet to hold hearings on the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Bill. As I have discussed in previous columns, this bill will have

WHY?

Do We Wear Black For Mourning?

Countless customs that come to us from previous ages of man attest to his ceaseless battle with spirits of evil. Even more than most of us he feared ghosts, believing that spirits of the newly dead would come back to inflict injury on the surviving relatives.

To outwit these ghosts, primitive blacks daubed their bodies with white pipe clay which they thought rendered them as invisible as the spirits. White savages painted relatives of their dead with black to fool the ghosts.

(Copyright 1956 John Emery Ent., Inc.)

The pay as you go plan would not be so bad if a man didn't have to pay and still not go.

IN THE SCHOOLS . . . The troubles which Northampton County has been having with its school moneys—and which Warren County and some others have had in the past — may lead to some sharp legislation . . . investigation . . . or both.

Just now, when schools are clamoring for more money—and are already setting their sights on more funds from the 1959 Legislature—is a bad time for a big question mark to hang like a sword of Damocles over local handling of education money.

Don't be surprised if an all-out investigation begins about the year hence — or sooner, with a tightening-up on the handling of school funds, local and State.

HEART TROUBLE . . . Roy Davis, one of Davie County's political leaders and for many years one of the most popular men in the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Cup, suffered what was regarded as a heart attack last week. Davis has not been in the best of health for some little while—and her's wishing one of our most efficient and courteous public servants a speedy recovery.

"43 PRECINCTS OUT OF—" . . . The last Primary was the first in an even dozen years in which we had not one Statewide fiasco to get excited about. That's why you did not hear the familiar "761 precincts out of the total of 2,078 give J. R. Upholm 30,000 to John Doe's 73,000 . . ."

Although there were several interesting local races — and some unwholesome to come — Statewide interest in last Saturday's voting was about as low as it has ever been.

And, yes, on the number of precincts in the State referred to above. The total of 2,078 precincts is correct. We have picked up 23 precincts — 12 in Forsyth County alone—since the 1956 vote.

GROWING . . . The North Carolina Guide, put out by the Department of Conservation and Development, reported that our fine State has "more than 40 peaks" which are 6,000 feet or more above sea level. The Guide was published in 1955.

But the summer season literature from the same department—1958 vintage — says 49 go 6,000 or better. And that's a lot better than "more than 40." Pinning it down—or u—as it were. That's fine.

C & D's literature, and that's what it is, this spring says, "in Western North Carolina there are 23 peaks which are 5,000 feet tall or taller."

However, C & D says in its North Carolina Guide that "some 30 peaks are from 5,000 to 6,000 feet high."

From 80 to 223 — or how to get ahead in the public relations business in one easy lesson. We are a growing state—and that, obviously, includes our mountains.

RALEIGH CITIZEN . . . Lafayette Patterson, operator of a travel agency here and one of Raleigh's more charming citizens, is an uncle of Attorney General John Patterson of Alabama. He has been living here for about three years.

Lafayette, a loyal and zealous Rotarian, is himself a former Congressman from Alabama. He is a brother of the present attorney general's father who was killed four years ago in one of the stinkiest scandals to hit the South.

The current issue of Time Magazine has an article on Attorney General John Patterson, 36, who is now running for Governor. In a field of 14, Patterson in the first primary led by 34,000 votes. But he was accused of having Ku Klux Klan support. Since the runoff was on June 3, you should know by now what happened to him.

SCOTT WING . . . The North Carolina State Grange is asking for contributions to add a wing to its headquarters building in Greensboro. It will be designated as the W. Kerr Scott Memorial. The decision was made only after conferences about the idea were held with the Scott family and they agreed to it.

Harry Caldwell, close friend of Kerr Scott, says that a permanent record is being made of all contributions and the names of all contributors will be provided the Scott family. If interested further, get in touch with Grange Master Caldwell at Box H-1, Greensboro.

LOOKING . . . For one reason or another, four or five rather nice — large, that is — buildings here are vacant in the heart of the business district.

The Farm Bureau, whose offices for 20 years have been in Greensboro, has voted to move them to Raleigh. For several weeks now a committee headed by Executive Directors Alonzo Edwards have been considering these Raleigh sites, but as of last week the Bureau and its big staff of insurance people were still in Greensboro and the Raleigh buildings were still vacant.

NOTES . . . One of the men running for the Legislature was Hubert Humphrey of Greensboro . . . no kin to the U. S. Senator from Minnesota . . . Lloyd Langdone, capable head of the N. C. Dairy Products Association, has ambitious plans for making this June the biggest even Dairy Month . . . Piedmont Airlines, whose new turbojet planes go into the air on Aug. 15, has a new travel credit card which permits owner to fly on credit any line anywhere in North America . . . The boy's year end report card showed he had flunked the grade and in presenting it to his father he said: "Dad, just what do you think my trouble is — environment or heredity?"

With schools barely out, most dailies are now running long Teachers Wanted columns . . . one reason principals are paid for ten months work instead of nine . . . Incidentally, Raleigh now has two privately owned employment services . . . The prediction here is that Attorney General Malcolm Seawell will be promoted to the State Supreme Court Bench within 12 months . . . On Tuesday of last week, six of the seven justices of the State Supreme Court — only Judge Hunt Parker was absent — augustly balanced their trays as they moved through the line for lunch at one table in a distant corner of the Raleigh S & W Cafeteria. They say around here that the man closest to Gov. L. Hodges is Lt. Gov. Barnhardt . . . a good combination, a good team!

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "Man's greatest freedom is to discipline himself." — Barnard Baruch.

Bruce Catton tells of the time General Robert E. Lee attended the christening of a friend's child.

"Tell me," the mother asked, "some words that will guide my boy to manhood."

Lee's answer summed up his creed that had carried him through struggle and suffering. "Teach him," he said simply, "to deny himself."

The world's greatest Teacher told his followers to deny themselves. If they would have eternal peace. They must learn to discipline themselves. The Teacher could not do it for them. There was no magic formula that would transform them easily. The rich could not buy peace. They must control themselves by self-denial.

Too many of us think that discipline can be imposed from the outside. Many good souls would pass laws to force others into narrow paths where they could not err. Parents try it. Courts of law try it. Governments try it. It isn't successful. Discipline that is effective is self-imposed. It comes from within.

Teach every child and encourage every adult to deny himself. When you have done that you have pointed the way to certain happiness, peace and possible greatness. Remember, too, that the best teaching is done by example.

ROLAND D. ROBERTS,
Preacher for the
Jericho church of Christ

As of June first, I. Roland D. Roberts, have begun to serve as the preacher of the Jericho church of Christ. It is my earnest desire to serve the people of this community at all times. If I can be of assistance to you, feel free to call on me at any hour you see fit. My telephone number is 252-J. Mocksville.

This offer of service is not limited to me only, all members of the Lord's church in this community are willing to serve you. The preacher is not the only minister of a congregation of the church of Christ, but one of many ministers. Christ himself said, in Matthew 20:26-27, "but whoever shall become great among you shall be your minister; and whoever would be first among you shall be your servant." He not only applies this to his disciples, but also to himself for in the next verse of the same chapter he said, "even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many."

From these passages of Scripture and others like them, too numerous to mention here, it can be seen that the Christian's life is a life of service. This is why I say that all members of the church of Christ are ministers and not the preachers only. The only difference between those of us who preach and the other members of the Lord's church is that the other members have seen the great need for service and realize that someone should be able to give full-time to this work. Hence, they support us preachers in order that we might be able to give all of our time to serving the people of the community in which we are working.

ple of the community in which we are working.

On Sunday, June 15, a gospel meeting will start at the Jericho church of Christ and will continue through the following Sunday. Paul Sikes, of Salisbury, North Carolina, will do the preaching. Mr. Sikes is no stranger in this area as he preceded P. B. Whitaker as preacher for the Jericho church of Christ. I feel sure that there will be many people in the community who will want to take advantage of this opportunity to hear the gospel preached in its purity and simplicity and also to renew old acquaintances with Mr. Sikes.

The Jericho church of Christ extends a cordial welcome to all to come and hear the gospel of Christ preached by this able man. The Sunday morning services will be as usual: 10 a.m. for Bible study and 11 a.m. for communion and preaching. The services each evening, including Sunday, will be at 7:30 p.m. (Adv.) ## Local Activity In Farm Housing

More farm construction — with better homes for farm families, better shelter for livestock and improved storage facilities for machinery and grain. That's the prospect in coming years says Clarence H. Sink, county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration.

Recently, as an anti-recession measure, his agency expanded its farm housing loan program to the fullest extent possible under existing laws set up by Congress. And Mr. Sink reports that he already has received many inquiries from interested people in the area. To be eligible now, an applicant must own a farm that is in agricultural production and must plan to produce at least $400 worth of commodities for sale and home use, based on 1944 prices. Many part-time farmers who previously were ineligible can qualify for loans under the expanded program.

Mr. Sink said that one reason for renewed interest in farm construction is that many of the farm homes and service buildings in the community were built many years ago and because of weather and age now need general repair. And in some cases farm owners, need to replace them entirely with modern structures designed to meet present day needs.

In addition to financing major construction, the loan funds can help a farm owner repair and update buildings. For example, he may wish to add a bathroom, including a waste disposal system, modernize the kitchen, add an extra bedroom, improve the heating, insulation and electric wiring, put a basement under the house, and cement floors in service buildings. The construction work can start after the loan is closed. The loan bears 4 per cent interest on the unpaid balance and may be repaid over a period up to 33 years.

Mr. Sink reports that the agency has $400 million dollars available nationally which can be used over the next three years for farm housing loans. He said there is no specified limitation on the amount which can be loaned in any one state or community. Practically all of the money loaned in Davie County will be spent locally to purchase supplies at lumber yards and business places and to hire skilled labor.

Military Counselor Service Available

In North Carolina, as elsewhere throughout the Nation, the 1958 ed with making decisions which will guide their futures.

Some of the seniors will go on to college. Others will seek employment and begin their business careers. Some will remain on farms and other lines of endeavor. With few exceptions, all of the young men graduates will be faced with military obligations. In many cases, young lady seniors, through without military obligations, will nevertheless seek careers in the armed services.

The parents of these students are naturally vitally interested in the plans of the students and both parents and Sgt. Miller, the U. S. Army Recruiter in Mocksville, will play a major role in the guidance of high school seniors in this area this year.

In his added capacity as a military counselor, Sgt. Miller is daily being contacted by high school youths and their parents for advice on impending military service. Sgt. Miller said this week this is "happy to be able to be of service to the parents of high school graduates this year." He added, "I have a great deal of information available for all high school seniors, both young men and young women. If they will come to see me at Mocksville Court House each Wednesday, 2 to 4 o'clock, I will be glad to talk with them about the many advantages of an Army Career and, in the case of the male students, I will endeavor to guide them as they seek answers to the many questions they have concerning their military obligations. Naturally, this military counseling service incurs no obligation on the part of the seniors or their parents. I'll be glad to see them at any time, either at the Recruiting Station, or in their home." Sgt. Miller can be contacted at the Post Office Building, Winston-Salem.

Why Go
CHURCH?

A stranger passing a large mine in Pennsylvania asked a little boy why the field was full of mules. "These mules are worked in the mine during the week," replied the boy, "and are brought up into the light on Sunday to keep them from going blind."

Do you "come up" on Sunday—up from the worries, the struggles, and the confusion of the week to let the light of God's Word shine into your heart? Or do you spend your Sundays "down in the mine," where you spend your Saturdays, your Mondays, and your Tuesdays?

After a week of failure and fumbling and sinning, there is no experience more glorious than the divine assurance of God's minister: "Be of good cheer, thy sins be forgiven thee." Matt. 9:2.

After a week of trial, worry, and disappointment, there is no greater lift than the promise from the lips of God: "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." Heb. 13:5.

After a week of stumbling and groping there is nothing more reassuring than an hour spent in the company of Him who said: "I am the Light of the world. He that followeth Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." John 8:12.

Saturday has no sorrow which Sunday cannot heal—if—Sunday is a day of worship, prayer, and praise.

We've answered your question, "Why Go To Church?" Now we ask, "Why Not Go To Church?" How about next Sunday?

MILK TO EAT AND DRINK

The dairy industry is again sponsoring June Dairy Month. Rightly so too—since the months of May and particularly June are the time of the year when largest supplies of milk are produced. Total milk production this year is expected to reach near record levels despite the reduced number of milk cows on farms. Reduced government price supports may result in a slight decrease from last year on manufactured dairy products.

Kinds of Milk

Milk through modern science, research and technology has been developed to satisfy most everyone's needs. Today, milk appears on the market in many forms developed to: protect the public health, improve the keeping quality, make maximum use of by-products, preserve surplus, facilitate distribution and storage, and to satisfy consumer demands. There is a wide selection of each type or form of milk at the consumer's disposal. Most types of milk can be classified into four general groups: (1) fresh fluid milk; (2) concentrated milk; (3) fermented; and (4) flavored milk.

Fresh Fluid Milk

The most popular and major class of milk purchased at retail stores or from route salesmen is the fresh fluid type.

1. Pasteurized Milk — nearly all fresh fluid milk available in retail stores is pasteurized. Pasteurization of milk is done to kill disease producing organisms, and most bacteria. Pasteurized milk is not only safe for human consumption but the heating process improves the keeping quality of milk.

2. Homogenized Milk — Is fresh whole milk in which the butterfat has been mechanically broken down and dispersed uniformly throughout the milk. Since the fat particles have been dispersed cream does not settle to the top.

3. Vitamin D Milk — fresh fluid milk to which specified units of vitamin D have been added is "Vitamin D" or "fortified" milk. This type is also usually homogenized to insure uniform distribution of butterfat.

4. Skim Milk—this type of milk has had a substantial part of the fat removed to reduce the fat content to less than three and one-fourth per cent. It is often advertised at fat-free milk. Since much of the fat has been removed, skim milk is very low in fat soluble vitamins, especially vitamin A. Skim milk has gained in popularity in the past few years with diet conscious calorie counters.

Flavored Milk

Flavored milk is whole milk to which a flavoring agent has been added. Chocolate is the most popular type of flavored milk. The flavored milk drinks, however, are usually made from skim milk.

Economy in Buying Milk

1. Milk of the same quality from different bottlers, sometimes varies in price. Compare prices.

2. Sometimes a quart of milk costs less at the store when delivered to the home.

3. Large size containers offer economy. Often milk sells less per quart when purchased in the two-quart or half-gallon containers.

Care of Milk

Although milk is the perfect food, it is an ill to the consumer. Proper care should be given to that investment and make the highest possible quality milk is delivered or bought.

ISENHOUR

store, for highest quality — remember to: keep it cool, keep it clean; keep it covered; and keep it in a dark place.

ARMY WORMS

During the past five or six years army worms have hit in several different sections of Davie County and destroyed several hundred acres of small grain. In most instances the farmers did not realize that their small grain was destroyed until they started harvesting. Farmers should keep very close check during the next few days to see if army worms are cutting small grain. They usually start on grain around the first to the 7th or 8th of June. They cut small grain heads off and let them fall to the ground, which seems to be the only way they affect small grain, and if you don't stop and look closely, you will not be able to tell that the heads have been cut off until you start harvesting.

People who find army worms present and would like to have their small grain dusted, there is a plane dusting service out of Winston - Salem that has done work in Davie County for the past year or two and seem to be very satisfactory. You may get in touch with the County Agent's Office and we will contact this service for you.

WOOL POOL

The wool pool will be conducted in Salisbury on June 16 and 17. Sheep producers will be notified at a later date of the exact location of the pool and the prices of wool.

BEEF CATTLE SUGGESTIONS

1. Remove bull from cow herd and place in bull pasture July 1.

2. Spray to control horn flies and other warm weather insects. Use DDT, Lindane, or Toxaphene, as directed by manufacturers.

3. Creep feeding is good insurance against over grazed pastures, poor milkers, injury, etc. A 50-50 mixture of corn and oats is a good creep mixture.

4. Heavy infestations of stomach worms may follow the wet spring. If calves appear unthrifty and tend to scour a lot, a treatment of phenothiazine is indicated.

5. Cow prices are still favorable for culling out poor producers.

6. The following Beef Cattle events are scheduled for June and July: A Commercial Cattleman's Field Day, Caroland Angus Farm, Tryon, Friday, June 6. Fat Cattle Sale, Rocky Mount, Tuesday, June 17.

MEATS

The months of May, June and July are heavy skipper fly months and they are making their appearance in large numbers in cured meats throughout the state. At this time all cured meats should be inspected to see if there are any skipper flies, skippers, larder beetles or larvae on the cured meats. In most cases it is getting too late to bag those home as if the meat has not been protected it probably already has some insect damage. In the event that meat does have some damage the best way to handle this, especially if it is skipper damage, is to trim out the affected areas and go ahead and freeze the parts of these hams that are good. In the event of just the beetle type of infestation, those hams can be dipped in boiling water for approximately 30 minutes to kill the insects on the surface then these hams can be bagged satisfactorily. Ham mites may be present on these hams, although a few mites do not cause too much damage. In the event of heavy mite infestation the meat should be trimmed or washed in boiling water and then frozen. Following this coming fall, before new meat is put into the smokehouse, the smokehouse should be sprayed with lindane, the directions for this are in Leaflet No. 385 USDA. Information on protecting hams from insect damage can be found in Extension Circular No. 405 "Curing Home Country Style." This circular can be obtained from the County Agent's Office.

UNCLE DAVE FROM DAVIE Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

There's one thing in this world for shore. No big league baseball pitcher will ever come from them fellers that throws out these daily newspapers to the subscribers around the countryside.

I bought me a pair of field glasses off'n a soldier after the war so's I could look fer mine better. The feller that throws my morning paper out has got lumbago in his throwing arm and plain cussedness in his heart. Some mornings he throws it up on top of my silo and sometimes he throws it down the chimney and some mornings he throws it so good I ain't never found it. One morning, when I was a day late paying him, he throwed it in my neighbor's hog pin down the road.

I clumb up on top of the house this morning with my field glasses and looked good fer it but I reckon he launched this one up yonder with them satellites. So I stepped up the road a piece and peeked up my neighbor's and started reading it.

The first piece I seen was where a couple Congressmen was giving their views on how to beat these high prices. One of 'em said the way to beat the high cost of food was to eat less. The other one said the way to beat it was to quit buying anything. I got a heap of faith in our national thinkers, especially if they is in Congress, but their plan won't work.

The less I eat, like one of them advises, the less resistance I'm going to have to quit buying. I'll git so weak from eating less that ever time pass the grocery store I'll go in and git me a can of sardines and I'll feel so good after eating them sardines I'll buy my old lady a new kettle or somesun.

I could fesser out song pun better'n that, in fact was about to solve the problem when my neighbor come up and demanded his paper. Incidentally, that's one thing that's wrong with this country, people demanding their rights and putting property above charity and enlightenment.

Well, since I didn't git no paper this morning, I set down and started looking at our church magazine. The first thing I seen was a piece headed "Minister Hits Girl's Bathing Suits." We need that feller in the Army. Anybody that can hit such a small spot in a real marksman. The piece went to say that you could judge a girl's character by the bathing suit she had on. Frankly, Mister Editor, I don't think there's enough there to make a judgment possible.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dave

MORE ABOUT Teen-Ager Fined

The siren but Booe would not stop.

The patrolman said that he followed Booe down the Bixby Road for approximately three miles when suddenly Booe gave a stop signal with his hand and started slowing down. The patrol car started to pull along side when Booe made a complete left turn in front of the patrol car. Patrolman Wright said he slammed on his brakes but hit the rear of the Ford.

Booe and the other occupants of the car jumped out and started running across the field. Patrolman Wright said he and Deputy Hancock shot their revolvers into the ground in the effort to frighten the runners into stopping. Booe did stop and surrendered to the officers.

Patrolman Wright said he found that Booe did not have a registration card for the 1940 Ford. A check with the Department of Motor Vehicles revealed that the license on the 1940 Ford had been issued to a 1949 Ford. The car was towed in and stored.

Booe works at the Daxle Furniture Company in Lexington. Judge Grant gave Booe until next Tuesday to see if he could raise the money to pay off the fines to have the sentence changed to that of serving time in prison.

'Let God Be True'

ROLAND D. ROBERTS,

In the twenty-third chapter of Matthew we find a scathing denunciation of the scribes and Pharisees. In this denunciation Christ condemns them for setting themselves over the average man. In doing this the scribes and Pharisees, who were the scribes, readers, and teachers of the law of Moses, placed on their people heavy legalistic restrictions that were not given in the law of Moses. The glaringness of their hypocrisy was evidenced in the fact that they did not keep the restrictions that they placed on others.

These hypocritical religionists swelled with pride when their disciples would address them as "Rabbi" in the market places. (Matt. 23:73). Their desire to be called by such a title, publicly, indicated that they were more interested in appearing to be righteous before men than being found favorable in the sight of God. This love for human praise is today condemned in God's people.

The term "Rabbi" was an honorary title of the Jewish doctor of law and is means "my master" or "great teacher." To call one "Rabbi" implied that you were in obedience to his authority in religious matters. The Jews accepted, without question, the judgment and authority of these men who, in reality, had no divinely delegated authority. Their only real authority was that which they had established for themselves. Christ said that God only is our teacher and to him only should we give obedience in spiritual matters. When Jesus tells his disciples and the others present to "call no man father" he is telling them not to subject themselves to human authority in place of divine authority.

One submits himself to earthly authority in matters of religion when he allows humanly established church conferences, conventions, synods, and ecumenical councils, which have absolutely no divine authority from God, to tell him what to believe in doctrinal matters concerning his religion. To allow professional religionists, not unlike the scribes and Pharisees, to tell us what we are to believe in matters of religion is to call them "father" in deed, if not in word.

Each of you has the responsibility, to himself, to "work out your own salvation with fear and trembling." (Philippians 2:12). Luke commended the Bereans for "examining the scriptures daily" to see if the things Paul taught them were so. If these people were commended, by Luke, for checking on the teachings of the Apostle Paul, should we not also check on the teachings and edicts that are handed down to us by those who have no such divine appointment as did the Apostle Paul?

We should also refrain from calling any ordinary man "reverend," for this term is used in the Bible only to apply to God himself, even as is the term "father" when delegation of spiritual authority is involved. (Psalm 111:9). Christ told his disciples to "call no man father" because to do so is, firstly, to apply to man a name that is used, in the Bible, to refer to God only, and secondly, it is to delegate to man authority over his fellow man in the matter of his soul's salvation. By this same principle we can safely conclude that we should not apply the term "reverend" to any man, as a title, for to do so is to apply to mortal man a title that is reserved for God and to attempt to delegate to that man spiritual authority over our relation to God that belongs to God only. (Adv.)

Man Is Hurt As Motorcycle Strikes Auto

Johnny Calvin Clontz, 23, of Mocksville was injured when his motorcycle collided with a car on Highway 150 at Advance Moravian Church Friday night.

He was admitted to Baptist Hospital with cuts and injuries of his right wrist and leg. Hospital attendants said his condition apparently was satisfactory.

State Highway Patrolman S. B. DeMarcus, who investigated the accident, said quick thinking by Harry Hill of Lexington, Rt. 4, at the scene of the accident probably saved Clontz from serious loss of blood.

The officer said Hill, one of the first to reach the injured man after the accident, applied a tourniquet to stop Clontz' bleeding.

The officer said the accident occurred about 8:25 p.m. as Clontz was riding south on his motorcycle.

It collided in the south bound lane, the officer related, with a northbound 1953 Chevrolet driven by Clarence Thomas Reich, Jr., 33, of 2417 Urban St., Winston-Salem.

Patrolman DeMarcus said Reich cut his car in front of the motorcycle in an attempt to make a left turn into a driveway at the residence of W. L. Snyder. Damage was estimated at $350 to the two vehicles.

What Every Veteran Should Know

Because an increasing number of Korean Veterans are losing their opportunity for education benefits offered by the Korean GI Bill, W. J. Wilson, Davie County Veterans Service Officer, lists the deadline for entering training.

The Service Officer said that veterans must begin Korean GI Bill training within three years after their separation from service. For veterans discharged on or before Jan. 31 1955, training must come to an end no later than Jan. 31, 1963. For veterans separated after Jan. 31, 1955, the deadline for finishing training is Jan. 31, 1965, or eight years from date of discharge whichever comes first.

Mr. Wilson said that his office has the VA forms needed to apply for training under the Korean GI Bill and that he is prepared to assist veterans in making applications.

For further information and assistance contact W. J. Wilson, located in the Lynn Haven Nursing Home, Mocksville, or Robert F. Currence District Officer, N. C. Veterans Commission 202 Frye Building, Hickory, N. C.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

I'M ASHAMED OF MYSELF

Yes, I'm ashamed to admit that when I sent Eileen and Jimmy to Daily Vacation Church School, it was for a selfish reason. Having them at school each day would give me a couple of carefree hours of my own!

Then, the first afternoon, they came home bursting with enthusiasm. While I gave them a snack, they sang me a song they had learned, based on the books of the Bible—and they knew each one! Guiltily, I asked myself if I could do as well!

Vacation Church School will be over in another week, but in our house it's going to continue until fall. Each morning, Eileen, Jimmy and I will have a school session of our own, and they can help me re-learn some of the things I'd half forgotten. And when next summer comes, Eileen and Jimmy will be going to Vacation Church School again—but for themselves, this time, not for me!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Social Security Benefits

INCREASING FARM INCOME

Davie County's farm income will be increased this year by around $99,000 thanks to a project carried out by Leo F. Williams, Davie County Farm Agent, and his assistants in cooperation with the Social Security Administration.

Talking to a representative of the Social Security Administration Mr. Williams was startled to learn that Davie County farmers were probably losing around a half-million dollars or more in loss of social security benefits. Checking on his own, Mr. Williams found that many farmers in Davie were indeed eligible for Social Security payments, but were losing the money through failure to file for these benefits. It was then that Mr. Williams and his office took action.

Letters were mailed out to farm families in Davie County. The letters read as follows:

"Dr. Mr. ....
"I have found that many farmers in Davie County are eligible for Social Security payments; and through failure to file for them, are losing money that I feel can be used in these times. If you are drawing Social Security, please fill out the first question only; and if you are not receiving Social Security, please fill out the form completely, even though you may be under 65, as the information is still valuable to us. Please help me make this effort a success by filling out the form and returning it in the enclosed, addressed envelope. No postage is required. Thank you.
"Yours truly, Leo F. Williams, County Agent."

The questions to be answered were then listed as follows:

- "1. Are you now drawing Social Security? .....yes.....no.
- "2. What is your age?.....
- "3. If married, how old is your wife?.....
- "4. How many children have you under age 18?.....
- "5. Did you net over $400 in 1955?.....yes.....no. In 1956?.....yes.....no. In 1957.....yes.....no.
- "6. Did you gross before living and crop expenses taken out in 1955 $800.....yes.....no; in 1956 $600.....yes.....no; in 1957

5 Percent Plan For Prosperity

Last week this newspaper carried a full page advertisement urging people to "buy themselves out of the recession." Some one very accurately pointed out that the biggest trouble was that the average man did not have anything to buy with... that with reduced work—high prices—and the prior commitment of portions of salary to time payment plans—there was nothing left to spend at the present time.

However, a plan that will work was adopted in Ridgefield, New Jersey, recently. The reason this plan will work is that it involves people that have the money... whether they consider it "salted away" or not.

Ridgefield is a community of approximately 11,000. It is part residential and part manufacturing. The plan was authorized by Samuel Rubin, industrialist, who is president of the Fabrege Perfumes, Inc. This plan works as follows:

Industrialists are to pledge immediate expenditure of at least five per cent of their plants' value on repairs or improvements; Retail merchants and those dealing in service would institute, at once, a five per cent discount on the normal price of their merchandise or service;

Home owners would spend five per cent of the value of their homes, or five per cent of annual wages, or five per cent of accumulated savings on repairs and improve-

$600.....yes.....no.

A blank line was then left for the signature of the farmer filling out this form.

Around 1500 of these letters were sent out. Of this amount around 600 were filled out and returned. Of the 600 returned, it was found that approximately 100 were due to be receiving Social Security benefits.

A representative of the Social Security Administration was contacted relative to these 100. On the average, each of these families was due to be receiving around $82.50 per month in benefits.

At the present time, the benefits have started for the most of these families. This will mean an income increase of approximately $989 on the average per year for each of these families. Multiply this by the 100 families and you have the figure of $98,900 which will be coming into Davie County.

There are probably many more farm families in the county that are due to be receiving these benefits. Those families did not fill out the questionnaire for one reason or another and of course until they do this or contact the Social Security representative, there is no way of knowing whether they are eligible or not.

Social Security benefits are not in the realm of charity. They are payable under the program setup by the Federal Government to assist cases that can qualify under certain standards. Anyone that has any question whatsoever as to whether or not he may be eligible for some of these benefits should contact the representative of the Social Security Administration.

However, this editorial started out to salute the efforts of the local county agent's office. Of course, their action among the farmers in the social security project is only a minute part of the service they are rendering. However, judging from the fact that this action alone has brought money enough into the county to more than pay the cost of the extension program for several years, we would say that our county farm agent, Leo F. Williams and his assistants, are doing a tremendous job for our county.

ments;

Renters are to agree they will spend their five per cent on durable goods.

Banks and other lending agencies are to pledge that they will reduce rates in line with the five per cent formula.

It is figured that if this plan were adopted across the nation, a transfusion of $20 billion would fill the veins of commerce and "restore prosperity to our people and secure jobs for all."

These figures are conservative inasmuch as personal savings in the United States are estimated at $275 billion, and five per cent of this one type of "fozen" funds amounts to $13,750,000,000.

The plan is simple as it is practical. It gives everyone, the banker and bricklayer, merchant and mechanic, teacher and teamster an opportunity to get behind a community effort to rout the recession.

Asked how he arrived at the five per cent figure, Mr. Rubin said: "On an individual basis, the five per cent appropriation is the lowest conceivable form of insurance against loss of job, loss of home, and economic disaster."

Well, that's the plan and it should work. However, whether we need to put in into effect here or not is of course debatable.

One of the world's strangest mammals is the hyrax, a tailless conylike creature about the size of a Belgian hare, says the National Geographic Magazine. The animal lives in Arabia and East Africa, where its thick, soft fur is often made into rugs. Most are rock-dwellers, but a few live in trees. Zoologists are especially interested in the hyrax as a curious relative of the elephant.

To make themselves beautiful, girls in New Guinea rouge their whole faces—forehead, chin, and all.

SENATOR SAM ERVIN ★ SAYS ★

WASHINGTON — The foreign aid debates in the Senate have again obscured objectivity in legislation to meet the communist peril to the free world. This lack of objectivity was created by the move to lengthen the list of communist satellite countries eligible to receive foreign aid if the President considers it in the national interest and security.

In a recent address before a college graduating class, Senator Theodore Francis Green, of Rhode Island, discussed the peril and the frequently raised question of what can be done in the present world crisis to meet this peril to free men, the like of which has never been noted before in the annals of history.

Words Of Warning

Senator Green said: "Communism today poses a very great danger to mankind in general and to us Americans in particular. That menace has no regard for the inherent dignity of man, and has an absolute disregard of all ethical and moral principles, as well as of human sympathy."

Congress is seriously concerned about the peril. This fear manifests itself in the legislative branch of our government by the concern over cutting the United States Army and whether or not the executive branch is sufficiently alert to the urgency of adequate defense. At the same time there has to be sufficient emphasis on modern defense systems and the development of an in-being military posture.

One of my chief concerns is that is not enough emphasis on research and development. Admittedly there can be excessive amounts wasted trying to keep ahead of the communists in the scientific race. This cannot be permitted to retard our efforts and accomplishments.

I share Senator Green's view that communism poses a serious threat to Americans in particular. As a consequence I have never been able to vote for foreign aid or mutual security for any communist country.

It is regrettable that foreign aid cannot be acted upon in a realistic manner to produce legislation that will provide military and economic support for the needy countries in their efforts to repress communism. To me it is neither morally honest nor wise to give aid to communist satellite countries, the use of which funds will help forge the chains of slavery on the peoples of these satellite.

Legislative Principles

My legislative principles will not let me indulge in the false notion that foreign aid to communist countries is the way to win friends and stop communism. Neither will they permit me to ignore the necessity for adequate military and economic aid to those countries that are genuinely standing alongside the free world.

SO THIS IS NEW YORK

By NORTH CALLAHAN

Only a comparative few of the near accidents in the air are publicized, Captain Frank Smith, veteran TWA pilot tells me. He was bringing a big plane in from Europe not long ago, and just as he reached Boston, a military jet swooped out of nowhere and only missed his plane, loaded with 65 people, about 6 feet. "It just about scared me to death," said Smith shaking his head and urging better air-traffic regulations. Major airlines have many jet transports on order now, and it will be just a few years until this will be the common mode of flying, he related. One can leave Paris in early morning, breakfast in New York, lunch in Los Angeles and have dinner in Honolulu all the same day, the pilot stated confidently. The new planes will fly 600 miles an hour — now the average speed is 300 — and will use 200 pounds of fuel per minute. Well, I don't know what we're coming to, but we surely are on our way in a hurry!

Like those about Brooklyn Bridge, the stories about this island never cease—and why should they? This said that a local businessman was on a trip through the Southwest and was looking for souvenirs to take home to his friends. He spotted an old Indian with a pile of blankets for sale and asked him how much for the lot. "A hundred dollars," replied the Indian. "Twenty-four dollars," was the reply. "Listen," said the Indian. "Bargains like Manhattan Island you ain't going to get no more."

The Poultry and Egg Anniversary Fair at the Hotel McAlpin brought a lot of us former country boys and girls together again. It seems to me there is nothing more traditionally American than chickens — as we used to raise them — and their eggs, as we all eat them. Around the festive room were samples of baked chicken, pressed chicken, chicken pie, fried chicken — oh yes, now and then a turkey with pretzels and duck for good measure — until I couldn't tell who was eating the most. Ray Ervin, Fred Smith or myself. It was an occasion of "vital importance."

On Times Square there is a movie showing the life of W. C. Handy and the little brought pleasant memories of this famous Negro who was a credit to his race. I remember talking to him just before he passed away not long ago, and was struck by his kindness and understanding, although he was blind. Billy Rose once operated a restaurant here in these colossal struggle or to gamble with our security by failing to support an adequate national defense system or to slow up our efforts for world peace.

named "The Diamond Horseshoe" and a feature attraction which always brought applause was the brief appearance of W. C. Handy playing his timeless "St. Louis Blues." Over in the Lord's green pastures there is now the added pleasant sound of a kindly old man playing on his very own golden trumpet.

Just to see what makes these newscasters tick, I dropped in on Bob Wilson at NBC not long ago for his Saturday Night News. Bob is a likeable, handsome fellow who is one of the favorite telecasters around here. As we sat in the bright lights and chatted before the broadcast, I noticed his blue shirt, heavy make-up and tension and realized this was not an easy job, though Bob makes it look that way. During the newscast, I sat in the control room with genial Robert Prigault who directed the show with a lot of technical remarks over a mike that, must have made sense for the whole thing went off beautifully.

Godham Gatherings: Spring Byington says she doesn't know what all this fuss is about the chemise dresses; that we have been wearing them for years, but calling them bathrobes... Burr Davis, an undertaker, was introduced at the Rotary Club as "one business man who always knows exactly where his customers are."

Never have I heard of a more important hobby than that of Henry J. Bjorkman of 183 East 87th Street here. He makes baseball bats for boys in orphanages who otherwise might not get one. Fortune young fellows as far north as Canada, as far south as Florida receive these expertly-made bats from Mr. Bjorkman, who spends his spare time in his basement turning them out on his small lathe. He knows the name of the boy who gets each bat—and puts it right on the handle, just like that of a big leaguer. Henry Bjorkman realizes what athletics means to boys. He was captain of the Dartmouth College baseball team himself, back in 1925. Now he is with a Wall St. firm. As for this fine hobby—well I think Henry is a big leaguer himself!

At luncheon, I sat next to an official of Columbia University and asked him if he was a good president of that institution as he is of the United States. Smiling at the loaded question the official replied that he felt like a good anywhere he is, but admitted that he was out of this element when he headed Columbia. Regardless of politics—of which New York is a hotbed — it is generally felt here that he is a good U. S. President, but still somewhat out of his element.

SURPRISE . . . Of the several surprises produced by the recent Democratic Primary, the biggest to us included the following:

The ease with which William Y. Blackett whipped William T. Hatch for the Superior Court Judgeship in this (Wake County) district. About six to one.

The sorry run made by Veteran Legislator Jim Vogler in his bid for a State Senate seat in Mecklenburg County. He ran third and failed to carry a single box. If we are not mistaken, Vogler has never lost a House try, never won a Senate try.

The tremendous victory of Congressman Ralph J. Scott of Danbury over Winfield Blackwell of Winston-Salem and Twin City Mayor Marshall Kurfess. He received roughly twice as many votes as Blackwell and about five times as many as Kurfess. Now who was young gentleman planning to take on Scott in 1960?

The narrow squeak of Congressman George Shuford over Newcomer Heinz Holman in the 12th (general Asheville area) District.

LITTLE THINGS . . . Just a lot of times election results turn on little things, a favor here, a visit there, a bad walk, a twisted eyebrow. It has been said many times that Tom Dewey's 840 hairs over his upper lip — a little old half inch square mustache—kept him from the Presidency of the United States.

They say in the Elizabeth City area that J. William Copeland of Murfreesboro beat out A. P. Godwin of Gatesville for the State Senate on May 31 because Copeland visited a certain precinct in Currituck County — he went there duck hunting often — and Godwin did not. The votes in that little old precinct spelled the difference.

An eye infection kept George Shuford off the campaign trail in the Twelfth and nearly cost him his seat in Congress. But it also got him a few sympathy votes.

Also, politicians should remember this slogan now going the rounds in business circles: "There's hardly any business got nowadays that ain't went out after."

LONG WEEKEND . . . If you are planning a vacation trip the July 4 week end, you'd better make your reservations within the next 30 minutes or you may find yourself sleeping in the car.

Reason: July 4, this year falls on Friday. That means everybody on State and Federal payrolls will take off on Thursday after work and have a full three day week end.

All North Carolina banks have received permission from the Governor to close on Saturday, July 5. July 4 is already a banking holiday. Money is taking a few days off.

THE STATION . . . Representing the Governor the other day at a Travel Host School, Secretary Ed Rankin said a service station has been described as a place where you "fill up the car and drain the family."

And on this litterbug campaign which is doing so much to clutter up your car and clean up the highways, Rankin said that Luther Hodges is no Johnny-come-lately in the keep the highways clean business. It started years ago before Hodges ever considered running for political office.

The Hodges children even now tell of how they used to fill their pockets with chewing gum wrappers and the like because their daddy stubbornly refused to let them throw them out the car windows.

WENT TO VIRGINIA . . . Our town and city streets in North Carolina frequently have a much more appearance than our inter-city highways.

While in Chicago on that industry hunting trip, the Governor and two or three friends cornered a firm representative and asked him seriously for an honest answer as to why his company decided to locate their Southern plant in Virginia instead of North Carolina.

The solemn answer he gave was that his investigators had found the N. C. city in which they planned to locate "too filthy looking... too dirty... the streets were terrible."

32,867. Little February this year ran better than April by 5,846 new car sales to 5,449.

FORD VS CHEVY . . . In the four month period — January through April — in 1957, there were 9,549 new Fords sold in North Carolina to 9,228 Chevrolet.

This year, Ford led Chevrolet in the four month period in North Carolina by 6,662 to 6,457.

But in the Nation as a whole it is quite another matter indeed. Time Magazine in its June 9 issue says in a special note that Chevrolet, "after losing first place to Ford last year, is so strong that it has produced more cars this year than all divisions of Ford Motor Co. Score: 578,189 Chevys to 490,286 Fords, Mercurys, Edsels, Lincolns and Thunderbirds."

NOTES . . . Politicians here are watching with interest the speech making abilities of young Bowman Gray, president of Reynolds Tobacco Co. . . . Charles Bradshaw, popular young businessman here, who ran third in a four man race for the State Senate and a former city councilman, is a stepson of the late A. J. Maxwell, who ran third for Governor in 1940 (behind W. P. Horton and J. M. Broughton) . . . The son of the late W. P. Horton and son in law of Carl Goearh will be in the House from Chatham County . . . And Irvin Belk of the store Belks in Charlotte led the ticket in Mecklenburg and will be in the House — if he can get by Charlotte Republicans this fall — which of course he can . . . Coaches are saying Wake Forest has the best upcoming freshman basketball team in the whole U.S.A. with one player superior to Wilt-the-Stilt.

TEXT: "Apology is only egoism wrong-side out." — O. W. Holmes.

A United States Senator delegated a young attorney to speak for him at a small town rally. Feeling extremely humble over his responsibility, he began, nervously,

"With some doubts as to my right and with many misgivings about my ability—"

He got no farther. A supporter of the opposing candidate broke in.

"If you feel that way about it, young feller, why don't you just shut up?"

"Do not apologize for speaking" is one of the first rules taught in Toastmasters' Clubs. A prepared address should be worth making. If it is work making, there is no excuse for an apology.

Time after time men apologize for speaking on vital subjects. Such timidity is pretense. It really displays a feeling of self-importance. The timid person is saying, "I am important. Everyone is looking at me, listening to me, criticizing me."

That is silly. Few people are important enough to command such attention. Certainly timid people are not. Actually, listeners want to hear a good speech. They resent apologies that indicate that they have chosen to listen to a second-class effort.

When speaking, have something to say. Say it without apology. You'll be surprised how many will pat your back.

ASC News

Support Rate of 1958 Wheat

The Department has announced that 1958-crop wheat will be supported in North Carolina at $1.99 per bushel for grade No. 1. This rate has been determined on the basis of the minimum national rate of $1.78 per bushel announced April 19, 1957. Should a higher support rate be necessary on July 1 to meet the minimum level of price support specified by law, the announced rate for North Carolina will be increased accordingly. The Wheat Bulletin containing the 1958 rates will not be published in the Federal Register until after July 1, 1958. County offices may use the rates shown in this letter for the purpose of making loans until the final rates are published. To be eligible for price support the wheat must grade No. 3 or better, or grade No. 4 or 5 on the factor of test weight only, but otherwise grade No. 3 or better.

North Carolina Support Rates For 1958 Crop — Barley, Oats, and Rye:

1958 crop barley, Grade No. 2 or better, will be supported in North Carolina counties at $1.05 a bushel. Barley, to be eligible for loan, must be grade No. 4 or better. (Or Grade No. 4 Garlicky or better). Oats, Grade No. 3 or better, will be supported in this state at 71c a bushel.

Rye, from the 1958 crop produced in this state, must grade No. 2 or better or No. 3 on the factor or test weight only, but otherwise No. 2 or better in order to be eligible for support. The support rate in this state for No. 2 or better is $1.27 a bushel.

Price support on these grains in 1958 will be carried out as in previous years through farm and warehouse stored loans and through purchase agreements. Support will be available from harvest time through Jan. 31, 1959, on barley, oats, and rye and loans will mature on Feb. 28, 1958.

Growers Reminded of Wheat Quota Vote, June 20

A last minute reminder to eligible growers about the upcoming vote on 1959 crop wheat marketing quotas was issued today by J. G. Crawford, chairman of the Davie County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The referendum will be held on Friday, June 20. Local polling places will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

"Eligible" growers, the chairman explains, are those farmers who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1959; since growers with 15 acres or less of wheat and those in the feed wheat program are exempted from marketing quota provisions, they are not eligible to cast ballots on 1959 wheat marketing quotas.

Chairman Crawford points out that the vote is on marketing quotas for the 1959 wheat crop, not acreage allotments. Whether or not quotas are approved, wheat acreage allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining the individual grower's eligibility for price support. The level of the available wheat support will vary, however, according to the outcome of the vote. If at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the quotas, support will be available on the 1959 wheat crop at a national average of not less than $1.81 per bushel, or 75 per cent of parity. If quotas are not approved by the necessary two-thirds of the votes, support for the crop will be available at about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity.

Mr. Crawford says that if marketing quotas are in effect, there will be penalties on "excess" wheat produced on acreage in excess of farm acreage allotments. The penalty will be 45 per cent of the wheat parity price as of May 1, 1959.

Growers who have any question about the wheat program or local voting places are urged to get in touch with the County ASC Office at Mocksville.

Nine Boys Face Charges Of Destroying Property

Gang Cuts Saddles And Clothing Of Campers Staying In Rich Park

Nine boys, ages ranging from 16 to 20, are scheduled to be tried in Davie County Criminal Court next Tuesday on the charge of malicious damage to personal property.

Warrants were served this week on Bobby Baugess, Harold Gene Trivette, Roger Seamon, Laverne Cohen, Roger Parrish, Johnny Mason, Robert Barnhardt, Benny Turner, and William Waters. They are charged with the destruction of personal property belonging to a group of boys, ages 14-17, at Rich Park around midnight last Saturday night.

The nine boys allegedly went to Rich Park where they took knives or other instruments and cut hats, boots, shoes, horse saddles belonging to several boys who were camping there for the night with their horses after participating in the Jaycee Cal Scramble on Saturday night.

The property destroyed belonged to the following boys of Mocksville, Route 1: John Blackwelder, Don White, Larry White, Darnell Gobbie, Jerry Gobbie and Carl Dyson. These boys participated in the events at the park on Saturday night and received permission to camp there until Sunday morning so they could ride their horses back home.

Sometime after midnight they were awakened when the gang of boys descended upon their camp. Two of the campers came to town and contacted Mocksville Police-man Jim Smith.

Mr. Smith went immediately to the park where he apprehended Johnny Mason, Bobby Baugess and William Waters. Baugess and Waters remained with Mason who had his car, while the other six boys fled over the fence into the darkness.

All members of the gang were later identified and warrants issued for their arrest. Bonds for court appearance were set at $300 each.

UNCLE DAVE FROM DAVIE Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I don't think we'll ever get any place discussing things with them Russians either at the summit or at the base. The routine they got for handling a diplomatic situation is hard to beat. They make a complaint, then they refuse the explanation. You can't beat that setup for results. If we carried it out like that in private life, for instance, it would run about like this. I get a bill from my doctor and then I write him and ask for an explanation. Then I reject it and call for an explanation of the itemized account. We keep this up until me or him one dies of old age.

But I think the real reason Russia stays mad at us all the time is because they owe us money. Them addest my neighbor ever got with me was the time he owed me ten dollars for helping him do some ditching. He said the ditch filled back up anyhow, and he stayed mad at me for three years over that ten dollars he never paid me. I don't think we'll ever get together with them Russians till we mark off what they owe us.

And we got our problems here at home as well as over yonder. For instance, last night on television they was introducing a new color for women's dresses. This woman that was giving the commercial called it "Tiger Rose," and allowed as how it was

Cancer Crusade To Be Extended

The American Cancer Crusade will continue through June, July and August according to an announcement this week by the Rev. C. B. Newton, Davie County Chairman of the crusade.

Mr. Newton announced that to date Davie County has raised $316 towards their quota of $1,000. He urged anyone having a contribution to mail it to Miss Cornelia Hendricks, secretary, Mocksville, N. C.

North Carolina raised $364,004 for cancer research by Tar Heels through four annual Cancer Crusades since 1954. $560,001 has been returned to North Carolina Medical Schools by the American Cancer Society for four years since 1955 for Cancer Research. $1,036,844 was awarded to North Carolina Medical institutions by the National Cancer Institute for two years.

A national medical program has been launched by the American Cancer Society that, for the first time, may bring a leading form of cancer under total control. Dr. John F. W. King, ACS Director of Service, has revealed.

Uterine cancer, which kills 16,000 American women every year, will be the first form of cancer to be "completely vanquished" if the program now underway meets its aims.

Modern diagnostic methods have made it possible to discover uterine cancer as long as 10 to 12 years before actual symptoms begin to appear. The uterine cancer cell examination tested extensively in many U. S. cities in past decades, is the key to the program, said Dr. King.

"The American Cancer Society recommends that the smear test be done at least annually as part of a regular checkup for women," Dr. King said. "It is the broad consensus among doctors who treat cervical cancer that it is 100 per cent curable if it can be detected in its early test stages."

Miller of Route 4, were united in marriage Sunday, June 16, at half after six o'clock in the evening. The Rev. ## Advance Farmer Benefits From Social Security

George F. Cornatzer, of Route 1, Advance, believes in getting all he can from his farm. He not only gets his profits from the sale of his farm produce, but he gets a monthly social security check as well.

On March 7, 1958, Mr. Cornatzer contacted S. W. Miller, Field Representative servicing Davie County, and inquired about getting social security benefits. His application was started. This was the beginning.

Mr. Cornatzer was asked to bring in to Mr. Miller copies of his 1955, 1956 and 1957 tax returns and evidence that he filed these returns, as well as evidence of his age. This he later did. The evidence showed that he netted over $40 in 1955, 1956 and 1957, by using the option of two-thirds of his gross income (not to exceed $1800 gross) for these years. His date of birth was established as June 23, 1888.

According to this information, Mr. Cornatzer could have gotten social security checks beginning with the month of April, 1958. As social security payments are retroactive for only 12 months, we could pay him beginning with March, 1957. From April, 1958, to March, 1957, was lost forever because Mr. Cornatzer failed to file in time. Even as it was, Mr. Cornatzer's first check was over $800.

Mr. Cornatzer wanted these facts published so that others could profit from his mistake and Mr. Cornatzer urges his neighbors, who are 65 or older to inquire immediately by letter, telephone, or in person about their rights. The social security office is at 105 Corriher Avenue, Salisbury, N. C.

Mr. Miller is at the Court House building, second floor, in Mocksville, at 9 a.m. every first and third Friday of each month. In July—on the 7th and 18th.

WIN STATE HONORS

Six boys from Davie County participated in the New Farmers of America State Convention at A and T College in Greensboro.

The G. V. McCallum Chapter sent their president, Melvin White and Collette Ellis as delegates to the convention.

Other members attending the convention were John Frank Patterson, Alfred Mason, James Peebles and Smithy Brown. These boys made up the judging team, which won fourth place in the state competition.

Paterson, of the Cooleemee section, was the fourth highest in judging score with 380 points.

ROBERT A. HALL

By mail balloting in Chapel Hill, Bob Hall was elected second Vice President of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association. He will be installed, with other officers, in April, 1959. Mr. Hall is associated with his father in operating the Hall Drug Co. in Mocksville.

Social Security For Disabled Workers

More than 170,000 severely disabled workers in communities all over the Nation are now receiving social security disability insurance checks.

But there are probably other eligible disabled workers, some of them no doubt living in Mocksville, who have not yet applied to their social security offices for these benefits. Those who have been disabled for work for a long time must apply before June 30 or they will lose their rights to these new benefit payments.

Any severely disabled person who has worked under social security for at least five years and who, because of his condition, does not expect to be able to work again, should get in touch with his social security office right away.

If he is between 50 and 65 years of age, he may be eligible for monthly disability insurance benefits. If he is under 50, he may be eligible to have his social security record frozen to protect his own future right to disability payments, and also his family's rights to survivors insurance benefits.

To be eligible under these disability provisions, a disabled worker must meet the definition of "disability" in the social security law. He must also have social security credit for at least 5 out of the 10 years before he became disabled; at least a year and a half of the credit must have been earned in the three years just before the beginning of his "period of disability."

A. L. Scales, advisor, accompanied the group to the convention.

SO THIS IS NEW YORK

By NORTH CALLAHAN

here may provide solace for the soul but it is sadly lacking in outlets for electric razors, a visitor found. A minister from Duke University was there recently and needed a shave. From one wash room to another he went seeking a little plug-in place for his beard whacker, but this sedate seminary had been built before the days of such trimmers, so for quite awhile he was stumped — I almost said stubbed. Then with whiskers lengthening every minute, he finally decided to "beard the lion in his den," as it were and, ended up in the dean's office, using an ordinary light socket for his razor.

A Gotham woman thinks that "everybody in the world ought to have at least one good book of his own." So she did something in this direction. When the local school system recently set up a special school in Greenwich Village for problem boys considered undesirable in public schools, she sent it a gift of 125 books. These included such titles as "Tom Sawyer" and "Moby Dick." If these fellows will read and digest these books, they will no longer be delinquent.

New York may be a dirty place but the man who invented the shower bath lived here—and put it to work. He was Dr. Simon Baruch, father of Bernard Baruch. That's what Dr. Charles Goodman, local dentist, told a group of us at the meeting of the Torch Club. The elder Baruch, from Camden, S. C., was in the Confederate Army, was captured and thought he would be hanged, but found kind Yankee treatment instead, he related. As a surgeon who helped many wounded, he surprised other doctors by washing his hands thoroughly before operating a practice little known in Civil War days. After the war, Simon Baruch came to New York City, and for seven years battled with the city officials or public baths. Finally, after inventing and demonstrating the shower, he convinced them. By 1901, 700,000 free baths had been given here, millions more since, and a large free bath house in lower Manhattan is now named after him. Dr. Baruch, Dr. Goodman who has studied his life said, did not feel any disease as neurable, "only no yet understood. He also observed, "Every man is a slave of some woman and would not wish for emancipation."

This has been called a city of cliff dwellers, referring of course to the many people who live in the tall apartment houses. It has always been a little hard for me to visualize this comparison—that is, until I saw something recently. It was a group of excavators tearing a big hole in the side of a steep hill and preparing for a structure to be erected there. But it still looked like a cliff. And beside the work was a large sign which read, "Now Renting."

Gotham Gatherings: A government release offers for sale "Hog Houses," with no mention whether or not this involves emergency housing for humans, although with the current attitude of some folks, certain nominations could well be in order. . . some suites in the Waldorf-Astoria rent for as much as $50.00 a year. Herbert Hoover and Douglas MacArthur live in these. Yet a couple who stayed at the hotel on their honeymoon complained that though they paid 25 bucks for a room, it was on the second floor and right over an all-night garbage can - removal operation . . . overheard at a filling station where an attendant was filling an automobile tank: "Better shut off your engine. You're gaining on me."

Every day a man runs up against the kind of truth that hurts.

PROBLEM AREAS IN FIELDS
Now is a good time for farmers to find out what's wrong with problem areas in their fields which reduce production and eat into profits. Such problem areas should be identified and corrected soon after abnormal symptoms appear.

It is not always possible to find the trouble, but frequently it can be traced to some deficiency or imbalance of plant nutrients, to a disease problem, or to a combination of these and other factors.

The following procedure is suggested as a means of solving the problem of weak spots:

1. Take a composite soil sample from several places in the area of abnormal growth, no matter how small.
2. Take a second composite sample representative of areas of normal growth in the same field.
3. Fill out Soil Sampling Information Sheet as completely as possible, describing the abnormal appearance and growth of plants. Also supply other pertinent information about the problem area, such as when it was first observed, and previous soil treatments. Send the soil samples and Information Sheet to the Soil Testing Division, N. C. Department of Agriculture, Raleigh, N. C.
4. Send a specimen of a live plant suffering from abnormal growth to the Plant Disease Clinic, Gardner Hall, N. C. State College, Raleigh. Directions for packaging and mailing such specimens can be obtained from the county agent.

SHAVINGS AVAILABLE
C. A. and Glenn Seaford, Route 4, Mocksville, have a lumber plant and they have a building to blow the shavings in where farmers can pull a trailer or truck underneath to load. They can load in a matter of seconds and the price is 50 cents for a pick-up truck load and $1.00 for a tractor trailer load. People desiring shavings to bed stables and will need shavings during the winter are able to stock up, there is an adequate supply at this place at the present time.

Davie Rated A Superior Market

Davie County proved to be a strong market during the past year, according to a national study of business activity, just released. Significant gains were recorded as local residents, enjoying better incomes and a high rate of employment, bought more goods and services than ever before.

The picture is revealed in a new, copyrighted survey of buying power, presented by Sales Management. It covers every section of the country.

The extent of this activity in Davie County is apparent from the volume of business done by the local retail merchants. Their sales came to a noteworthy $11,724,000 for the year, compared with $11,240,000 in 1956.

The gain, which amounted to 4.3 per cent, was greater than that achieved generally. For the United States, the rise was 4.0 per cent.

What was the direction of the bigger spending? Mostly for soft goods, according to the reports. Food expenditures were at a high level, also. The major appliances, however, lagged behind.

Locally the heavy spending was made possible by bigger incomes. Despite a falling off toward the end of the year, the net earnings, after taxes, climbed to $18,232,000, from the 1956 figure of $17,228,000.

Divided by the number of local households, this represented net income of $4,698 per household, an arithmetical average.

The survey employs a "buying power index" to show how much retail business is actually done in each community as compared with estimated full capacity. This weighted figure is based on such factors as income, sales and population.

It rates Davie County capable of .0086 per cent of the nation's retail business. Since a smaller proportion was done in the past year, .0058 per cent, the index shows that full potential has not yet been reached locally.

Nationally, there will be a return of the former business vigor, say many economists, when the consuming public regains a feeling of security and confidence. It has the money but hesitates to use it. Savings are piling up, consequently, at a rate never before witnessed. The return of only a small fraction of this stockpile to the market would have a terrific effect, they say.

Automobile Misconduct

Automobile misconduct is proving to be very costly.

In a recent session of Davie County Criminal Court a teen-ager was fined $375 and cost for what was termed by the judge as "reprehensible conduct." This eighteen-year-old boy was tried on six charges, all of which resulted from the mis-use of an automobile by "tailspinning" on a public highway.

This tailspinning, which is usually submitted under the charge of reckless driving, has been appearing more and more on the docket of the local county court. There is no excuse for such action as "tailspinning" and Judge A. T. Grant has given every indication that guilty parties will find no sympathy in court for the utter disregard for the life and property of others.

There is also some indication that there is some racing on the highways taking place. This, of course, is one of the most serious crimes on the books. Under present law, anyone caught participating on the public highways in a planned race will have his car confiscated as well as personally facing imprisonment or a heavy fine.

There are many other serious violations of the highway laws, but the two above are being stressed because they are classified as deliberate violations. That is, they are violations deliberately planned by the driver. They don't just happen.

When misused, automobiles are classified as deadly weapons. They are capable of, and do, bring about death and destruction.

The deliberate misuse of an automobile for "tailspinning" or racing on the highway can never be justified. Such misconduct on the part of the operator should always prove to be more costly than he can afford.

Time Marches On

The year 1957, marked by Sputnik and talk of rockets to the moon, will also be remembered as the death rate for many noted persons, according to David Whitney, Managing Editor of The World Book Encyclopedia.

The names of some of those who died are recognizable, to practically every American, but many who passed away are familiar only to those who remember "the good old days."

Deaths which made the front pages during 1957 include those of Aga Khan III, Sholem Asch, Humphrey Bogart, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Christian Dior, James Dorsey, Benjamin Gigli, King Haakon VII, Oliver Hardy, Joseph R. McCarthy, Louis B. Mayer, Ezio Pinza, Diego Rivera, Jan Sibelius, Arutro Toscanini, Erich von Stroheim, and Robert C. Kuppke.

The business field lost such notables as:

Sosthenes Behn, who founded the International Telephone & Telegraph Corporation; Louis Sample Clarke, who invented the first American spark plug; H. Jay Hayes, who used stovepipe sheet iron to build the first all-metal automobile body; William L. Murphy, who invented the Murphy In-a-Door bed; Charles Pathe, who founded the Pathe newsreels in the 1890's; Paul Starrett, the architect who built the Lincoln Memorial and the Empire State Building; Theodore Steinway, chairman of Steinway and Sons, who could assemble a piano blindfolded; and Henry Warren, inventor of the Telechron electric clock.

Few Americans noted the passing of John Todd on July 14th despite the fact that his voice was familiar in almost every home in America. Mr. Todd played the part of the Lone Ranger's Indian friend, Tonto, on radio.

Editorial Briefs

The "Lord's Prayer Rock" stands near Bristol, Vermont. It was inscribed in 1891, the National Geographic Magazine says, to admonish profane teamsters urging their horses up a steep grade.

All of man's recorded history is less than the tick of the clock compared with the time that light has been on the way to earth from distant stars, says the National Geographic Magazine. "Objects in the heavens are seen as they were up to ten million centuries or more ago. Today they may be entirely different or have receded far beyond the range of the largest telescope. Some may no longer exist at all.

Geese hatched in an incubator will attach themselves to birds of other species or even to human beings whom they follow about as if they were real parents. This so-called "imprinting" takes only a minute or so. But once it has happened, the geese will not switch over, even to their own parents.

About 400 "Cedars of Lebanon" still exist, guarded as a national treasure by the trading country on the eastern Mediterranean. Famed since Biblical times, the cedars provided wood for the Phoenician galleys. King Solomon built his Temple with Lebanese cedar. Egyptian pharaohs sought the timber for solar boats to transport their souls. Several remaining trees are believed to be more than 1,000 years old.

TEXT: "To live with honor, be what we would appear to be." — Socrates.

Someone asked President Lincoln if he found the ceremonies connected with the Presidency tiresome.

"Yes, sometimes," said Lincoln. "In fact, sometimes I feel like a man who was being ridden out of town on a rail, and said, 'If it wasn't for the honor of the thing, I'd rather walk'."

There are many types of honors. The value depends upon the point of view. Apparently the most expensive honor is honor to be gained by a reputation for integrity. So few people seem able to afford it. They can't pay the price. They shirk off responsibility because it isn't convenient. They tell a "white lie" because it won't hurt "very much." They make promises and evade fulfilling them. They are not evil, just undependable. The honor of a reputation for integrity costs more than they are willing to pay.

Integrity is for sale. This is the cost: A man must go out of his way to discharge an obligation, if necessary. He must sacrifice, sometimes, to make his word good. He must be fair. He must be truthful.

The world is eager to honor men of integrity. There are too few. There never can be too many. Copyright 1958 Fred Dodge

What Every Veteran Should Know

Veterans of the Spanish-American War are reminded by W. J. Wilson, Davie County Veterans Service Officer, that they are eligible for outpatient medical treatment by their home town doctor at the Veterans Administration expense.

The Veterans Service Officer said that treatment may be authorized for non-service connected disabilities as well as service connected disability but that proper applications must be made to the Veterans Administration before treatment is received and before payment will be made.

Mr. Wilson said the Spanish-American War period covers those veterans serving in the Armed Forces between April 21, 1898 and July 4, 1902.

For assistance in securing this important benefit Mr. Wilson may be contacted in his office at Lynn Haven Nursing Home, Mocksville; or Robert F. Curran, District Officer, N. C. Veterans Commission, Frye Building, Hickory, N. C.

KIDD BREWER'S Raleigh Roundup

TOPS... Since he was a Duke man, Willis Smith wanted a strong Carolina Law School graduate as one of his partners.

Taking the direct approach, Smith went directly to the University and told them he wanted the top man receiving his law degree. This young man became associated with Willis Smith. He later married Willis Smith's daughter.

Last week he was named president - elect of the N. C. Bar Association. He is Jim Dorsett, originally from Salisbury, and for many years now a member of the firm: Smith, Leach, Anderson, and Dorsett.

FOR THE MERCHANTS?... We heard on good authority last week that retail merchants of the State will soon have in their corner the law firm of Smith, Leach, Anderson, and Dorsett.

One of the incorporators of the new State Chamber of Commerce is Willis Smith, Jr., whose good work on behalf of merchants in the 1957 General Assembly is expected to bring in the 7500-member N. C. Merchants Association as a regular client for the law firm established by his father.

RUNOFFS... Several men prominent in the 1957 Legislature failed or face runoffs in their attempts to return to Raleigh. Of most interest probably is the one in Mecklenburg where Senate Incumbent Spencer Bell and House Incumbent Jack Love are having it out for the Senate seat. From here it looks like Bell, but Love is surprisingly strong — although one of the most controversial figures in the 1957 Legislature. They say more money is being spent on this thing in Charlotte than we used to spend on U. S. Senate campaigns. Jim Vogler, veteran legislator who ran third in the first go-round, describes the dollar - slinging as "terrible."

Other incumbents having runoffs are Walton Griggs of Currituck, Frank Pittman of Halifax; Thurston Arledge of Polk. Veteran Gene Bost, former House Speaker, is having all sorts of trouble with Former YDC Leader Bedford Block. They each received 5,450 votes. We are betting on Cannon. Bedford Good Friend John Jordan, Jr., has a runoff with Tom Ellis in Wake for the State Senate. Jordan is a former president of the State YDC's and a long party stalwart.

HODGES LUCK... In describing Hodges luck around Raleigh, oldtimers say he must have been born with a horseshoe around his neck. Some of the good fortune he creates himself. They say he is pulling hard for Carl Venters of Onslow County to be the next Speaker of the House. And, right now, it does look as if Venters seems to be pulling a little ahead of Add Hewitt of New Hanover, the other candidate.

You may ask why the Governor would be so interested in having a close friend as Speaker. Mainly because the Speaker names all the committees in the House and laws are made or killed in these committees. Now if the Governor is also close to the Lt. Governor, who names the Senate committees, he can tie these strengths with the natural prestige of his office and come pretty close to calling the shots.

From these three sources comes most of the Governor's strength in his last Legislature — when his honeymoon day are history, some of his popularity has passed, and his big appointive positions have been filled.

NOTES... The Employment Security Commission's Quarterly made famous in the State by Mike Dunnagan will feature the 123 chambers of Commerce in this autumn issue... By far the most beautiful new hotel in the South is Morehead City's ultra-modern, Morehead Billmore managed by personable Bill Taft, Asheville native... From here it looks like a Governor's race between Edwin Gill and Alton Lennon in 1960, with Luther Hodges leaning to Gill. Because he has been in the State service so long, a lot of people regard Edwin Gill as an old man. He isn't... will be 69 July 30... and Lennon will be 52 on August 17... Of the 14 men in our Congressional delegation ten years ago, only Representatives Cooley, Barden, Durham, and Bonner are there today... The others are dead, defeated, or both... Old-time point of service: H. D. Cooley (1934), Hap Barden was elected in 1936... Carl Durham and Herbert Bonner were elected four years later...

One of the most encouraging items about the recent Primary was that the racial issue was not a factor — and is being used in the runoff in Wake County as a political gimmick, according to our information... One of the candidates here, Tom Ellis, is a law partner of J. C. B. Shringhaus, Jr. and like his opponent, an outstanding — and successful — lobbyist in the last Legislature... A few of the convention-hungry hotels are said to be a little miffed that the U. C. Bar Association insisted upon carrying its big convention to South Carolina's Myrtle Beach — and the dairy people are going down there for their summer outing... Our State's best defense: Bigger beach hotels.

* SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS *

WASHINGTON — Long Senate sessions reflect the quickening rate of legislative action on a number of important bills.

The Labor Bill... The major debate of last week concerned the Kennedy-Ives Labor Bill.

This legislation grew out of the disclosures of abuse and corruption made by the Senate Select Committee of Improper Activities in the Labor - Management Field. Earlier attempts to write haphazard labor law on the floor of the Senate by amendments to the Welfare and Pension Fund Bill were rejected. The Senate, and upon following proper procedure in my opinion rightly so, insisted on committee hearings and a report. As promised, the Kennedy labor subcommittee held extensive hearings and drafted the present bill. The bill was subsequently reported favorably by the full Labor Committee with only one dissenting vote. The bipartisan nature of the bill was shown in its title, bearing the names of its Republican and Democratic sponsors, Senator Ives and Kennedy.

Politics Injected... It is unfortunate that in the last hours certain administration leaders chose to inject partisan politics into the debate. Secretary of Labor Mitchell's words that the bill was worse than no bill at all seem dictated either by ignorance of its provisions or by desire for campaign material. Some spokesmen, it would appear, prefer an issue to legislation.

Positive Provisions... The Kennedy - Ives Labor Bill does not cover the entire area where abuses have been found. It does not go as far in some instances as the McClellan investigations have indicated need for corrective laws. I supported some tightening amendments to the act. But the bill as reported from committee does include positive provisions for the protection of the rank and file worker and for the encouragement of honest unionism. Among its provisions is the requirement for full reporting and disclosure of union operations and financial dealing of officials, with criminal penalties for failure to report and false entry. It provides criminal penalties for the destruction of union records, funds a Federal offense. It forbids anyone convicted of a serious crime from holding union office until his voting rights have been restored by the State. The bill guarantees the right of secret ballot to union members in the election of their officers and re-election within a stipulated time. Limits quires that the elections be held are placed upon the establishment and the duration of trusteeships, with legal machinery to dissolve trusteeships in violation of these limits.

These provisions are in line with the recommendations of the McClellan Committee and they have received Senator McClellan's support. They are a step forward in curbing abuses now existent in the labor - management field and at the same time they do not penalize honest unions. Our Select Committee will continue its investigations and further recommendations will be forthcoming.

HIGH ESTIMATE... The policy of taking people for what they think they are worth keeps a lot of bill collectors busy.

"The best things in life are free . . ." but we would like to amend that phrase and add that in North Carolina some of the most interesting attractions in the State are the results of enterprising, private businesses requiring large capital expenditures in return for making a modest charge. Our outdoor dramas are famous, as are also Grandfather Mountain, Chimney Rock, Orion Plantation and now Twentise Railroad—a whistle tooting scenic narrow gauge that is packing them in.

The American tourist wants places-to-go and things-to-see, and they also want and like the enlightened hospitality of our "legal control" system of the sale of beer and ale—a system that has gained widespread approval as being in the best interests of the law-abiding community and its visitors.

June Or July Is A Good Time To

Have Soils Tested For Fall Crops

Are you going to seed some alfalfa or a new Ladino clover pasture this fall? If so, it is not too early to collect soil samples and send them to the Soil Testing Laboratory for analysis. This also applies to fields which are to be used for small grains and other fall crops. A soil test will be especially helpful in determining lime needs as well as correcting other major nutrient deficiencies prior to seeding. It is rather difficult to raise the lime and phosphate level in the soil plow layer by top-dressing. Therefore, the lime to apply these materials if the soil is low is prior to seeding, when they can be mixed into the soil. A soil test will show you the lime, phosphate, and potash levels of your soils.

By sampling now, you have an opportunity to apply lime from two to four months prior to seeding. Ground agricultural limestone, which is normally used for liming, does not react immediately upon addition to the soil. Soil acids must act to dissolve the lime during neutralization, which is a graduation process, especially if the soil is strongly acid. Where lime is needed it should be applied and mixed into the soil from two to four months prior to seeding.

A prompt reply can be expected from the Soil Testing Laboratory during June and July. There is much to gain by early sampling and farmers are encouraged to stop by the County Agent's Office or other agricultural agencies and obtain supplies and instructions.

'Let God Be True'

ROLAND D. ROBERTS,

In John 15:5 we find that Jesus makes the statement that "I am the vine and ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit; for apart from me ye can do nothing." There are many people in the world today who teach that this passage indicates that there are many churches, each one being a branch of Christ. A consideration of the passage just quoted will show that this teaching is a gross misrepresentation of God's word.

At the time that Christ made this statement He was speaking to those men who were to become the apostles, at the last supper before His crucifixion. The "ye" in the statement is second person and refers to the individual apostles and not to man-made groups that call themselves churches.

A careful study of other passages will show conclusively that Christ was not referring to religious denominations as the branches. The writer is sure that all who read this article will agree that there is only one God. The same passage of scripture that states conclusively that there is only one God also says that there is only one church. "There is one body and one Spirit, even as also ye were called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is over all, and through all, and in all." (Ephesians 4:4-6). In these passages the word "body" means the church for in Colossians 1:18 we find that it says "And He is the head of the body, the church." Thus the body and the church are one and the same.

From Colossians 1:18 we also see that Christ is the head of the church, which is His body. Thus if we assign to Christ more than one body or more than one church of which to be the head, we not only make a freak out of Christ but we do also make a freak out of His church. Hence, it is entirely impossible for Christ to have said that he would be the head of more than one body. But each member of the Lord's church is a branch of Christ, who is the vine or member of His body, of whom He is the head.

This can be shown to be true for in Romans 12:4-5 we find that Paul says, "For even as we have many members in one body, and all the members have not the same office; so we who are many, are one body in Christ and severally members one of another."

In this day when there are more than 300 different religious groups in this country alone who are professing to be at least part of the true body of Christ, how is the average man going to know which one is teaching the truth? Having shown conclusively that there is but one church the question just asked takes on greater importance for each of us. Next week the writer will give some guidelines or pointers that will make it possible for you to take your own copy of the Holy Bible and find for yourself what the Bible teaches about the true body of Christ.

It's the NEW FORD 6-foot COMBINE

for a money-making harvest

There are dozens of features in the new Ford Combine which make us say, "you've never seen a combine to match it." And the best way to find out all that's new and better about this combine is to come in and check it over.

Right away, you'll notice many crop-saving advantages. The sickle, for example, will cut within 1½ inches of the ground to get more of the "down" grain. Or, it can be raised as high as 3 feet for faster work in sorghums or other tall crops. You can adjust cylinder speed by the twist of a knob, and one handy lever controls the volume of wind. Rubber elevator paddles reduce grain cracking. It's the only combine in its class with the walker type straw rack . . . a real grain saver. There are up to 36% fewer points to lubricate, and the Ford Combine is as much as 14 inches narrower than other 6-foot combines for easier passage through gates.

There's much more—we've just touched on a few of the high spots. So come in and find out more!

Air Conditioning Equipment For Hospital Being Installed

The installation of the air conditioning equipment at the Davie County Hospital is now underway. The contract for the air conditioning was awarded to the Robert F. Ham Plumbing and Heating Company of Mooresville for a base bid of $17,800. The electrical contract went to the Electric Wiring Company of Hickory with a base bid of $2,200. The total net contracts for the job amounted to $19,800, plus $1,188 for architects' fees and $412 for contingency, making a total of $21,500 in which the federal government is requested to participate.

Frank Ceruzzi, local hospital administrator, pointed out that the federal share of the estimated costs amounted to $10,750, which is to be matched by the same amount by the local hospital. This has been approved by the Medical Care Commission in Raleigh by W. F. Henderson, acting executive secretary.

The units now being installed were manufactured by the Remington Air Conditioning Corporation of Auburn, N. Y. The contractors now being installed contain a compressor for cooling in the summer and hot water for warmth in the winter.

These units cleanse the room air by filtering; prevents stagnant air by gentle, silent circulation; and provides controlled ventilation with filtered conditioned outside air. Both heating and cooling are automatically controlled to suit the desire of the patient. Neither drains, nor chilled water pipes are required with these units.

"The benefits from air conditioning will provide improvements in every department of the hospital," said Mr. Ceruzzi. "Personnel will function more efficiently. Patients will enjoy a speedier recovery, which in turn results in more widespread use of hospital facilities by the community as a whole."

The money for the local part of the air conditioning project was raised by the Davie County Hospital Auxiliary last year.

UNCLE DAVE FROM DAVIE Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: Them Congressmen has been arguing for six months over a bill to keep billboards off them new Federal highways they is fixing to build. The fellers at the country store Saturday night decided they'd put the subject on the barrel-head for one evening. Farmers can often decide things better in one evening than Congressmen can in six months. Ed Doolittle allowed as how it would set education back 20 years to do away with billboards. He says the magazines is all talking about Johnny can't read much no more on account of this new progressive education system we got in the schools. Ed's magazine information ain't too up to date on account of the only magazines he ever sees is the ones his old lady fetches home from the beauty parlor. But he claims the only reason Johnny can read the stop sign at a railroad crossing is from what he picks up from them billboards while he's riding the school bus back and forth. He's in favor of billboards 100 per cent as a education measure. Jim Clodhopper didn't agree with Ed. He says everything else has gone scientific and the can't see no reason why Johnny can't get a education without learning how to read and write. He thinks Johnny peeping at them billboards is bad fer education under the new system we got now of educating a kid without learn-

A Tribute

A tribute to the people of Davie County was paid last week by Mack McKa of the Salisbury Post in his column, "Roamin' Rowan and Vicinity." Mr. McKa wrote the following under the head of "Fine Business in Davie":

"It is refreshing to note the fine spirit of Davie County residents in quickly backing any movement in behalf of the new Davie County Hospital . . . like the good Davie folks shelling out more than $530 at the hospital auxiliary supper last Saturday night."

"It seems to me that the new hospital and the fine new Davie County Consolidated High School have done wonders for Davie County folks in general the last couple years . . . They have always been 'salt of the earth' type of people, and hitching their wagons to a couple of worthwhile stars, like the hospital and high school plant, seems to have inspired the whole county with expansion ideas."

Special event for the week will be a doll show Wednesday afternoon, July 2.

The playground will be closed Friday, July 4th.

Little League The Mocksville Little Leaguers will play Moreland Park of Salisbury at Rich Park on Friday evening at 5:30 p. m.

Boys Receive Suspended Sentences And Placed On Probation For Vandalism

Juniors To Play Thomasville Here Thursday

The winning streak of the Davie County Legion Juniors was snapped when they fell before Lexington last Saturday night.

On the previous Thursday night, Davie squeezed by Spencer 4 to 3. Bob Wetmore went the distance on the mound for Davie, copping his second victory.

Leading the hitting was James Edwards, who got two of Davie's three hits.

In the game with Lexington, Coach Jim Latham's boys began scoring too late in the game as they were finally edged by Lexington 8-6.

The local team, behind 4 to 0 going into the sixth inning, scored three runs in the sixth but were never able to catch their opponents.

Starter Dude Jordan needed relief from Bruce Driver to put down a fourth inning Lexington rally.

Otis Snow had a perfect night at the plate with three free trips, a single and a triple to raise his batting average to .458. He leads the team in that department. Joe Anderson also had two hits.

The local Juniors will meet Thomasville at Rich Park on Thursday night at 7:45 p. m. They travel to Greensboro on Friday and then to Salisbury on Saturday night.

Dave will then return to Rich Park next Tuesday night to play host to Asheboro.

The local Juniors have a record of 4 wins and 5 losses, with five games left to play.

Attempting To Pass Results In Collision

Attempting to pass was the cause of a wreck around 9 a. m. on June 21, six miles west of Mocksville on Highway 64.

State Highway Patrolman William G. Wright said that a 1953 Plymouth, being operated by Allen Ray Robinson, 27, of Raleigh, attempted to pass a vehicle in front of him. At the time he pulled out to pass, this vehicle also pulled out to pass another.

Robinson swerved off to the left and lost control, swerving back and stalling in the center of the highway.

A 1952 Chevrolet, operated by Charles F. Vance, Jr., 32, of Winston - Salem collided with the Robinson car in the center of the highway.

No charges were preferred. Damage to the Plymouth was estimated at $75 and $100 to the Chevrolet.

Paul Marklin Named Head Coach At Wilson

Paul Marklin, a native of Mocksville and former grid star at Catawba College, has been named head football coach at Wilson High School.

Mr. Marklin, for the past five years, was assistant to Walter Rogers who resigned at the end of the year to take an administrative position in the Roxboro school system.

Mr. Marklin joined the Wilson staff in 1953 after coaching at Cherryville High.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Marklin of Mocksville.

S. G. Chappell, superintendent of the Wilson City Schools, who made the announcement said:

"I think Paul will do a good job for us. He certainly has done well thus far, and we feel that he is the man for the job."

Walter Rogers, retiring head coach said:

"I think Paul will do a good job. I am mighty glad he got the position. He's done a fine job for me - he did excellent work the four years we worked together. Paul is good in working with boys which is certainly in his favor."

Mr. Marklin went to Wilson in 1954, and has been head basketball coach there for the past four seasons. Whetehr he will also continue in that category or not has not been determined.

Coach Marklin said that he planned to continue the system installed by Coach Rogers. In 1952, Coach Rogers installed the split-T formation, and set up a plan that includes a junior high team consisting of eight and ninth graders; and the varsity which primarily is made up of 11th and 12th graders.

Wilson for the past two or three years has been a top threat in the AAA Conference. This past year they were favored to win the championship, but wound up with a record of 7 wins and two losses. Wilson easily defeated Fayetteville, the eventual conference champ, during the regular season but lost by upsets to Durham and Wilmington.

Coach Marklin will inherit a host of boys from a fine junior team, plus a flock of fine varsity returnees.

"I am looking forward to a good season in 1958," said Coach Marklin. "We'll do all right. I'm sure, but I ab afraid we are going to be hurt by lack of depth."

Group Also Convicted Of Conspiracy In The Case

Nine boys received suspended sentences and were placed on probation for terms ranging from 18 to 24 months for their part in conspiring against some teen-age campers at Rich Park in the early hours of June 15th.

The defendants were charged with malicious damage to personal property as the result of cutting of hats, boots, shoes, horse saddles, and the taking of a blanket from campers at Rich Park following the calf scramble two weeks ago.

The boys were also charged with conspiracy to commit assault and battery on the campers and to destroy personal property.

Individual sentences were as follows:

Roger Seamon, 17-years-old, 12 months suspended sentence, suspended for 2 years. Pay proportionate part of damage and cost and placed on probation for two years.

Roger Parflesh, 17-years-old, six months suspended sentence, suspended for 12 months. Pay proportionate part of damage and cost and placed on probation for 18 months.

Benny Turner, age 16. Sentenced to six months, suspended for 12 months. Pay proportionate part of damage and cost and placed on probation for 18 months.

Johnny Mason, age 18. Sentenced to ten months, suspended for 18 months. Pay proportionate part of damage and cost and placed on probation for two years.

Bobby Baugess, age 18. Sentenced to 12 months, suspended for two years. Pay proportionate part of damage and cost. Placed on probation for two years.

Robert Barnhardt, age 16. Sentenced to 12 months, suspended for 18 months. Pay proportionate part of cost and damages. Placed on probation for two years.

Harold Gene Trivette, age 20. Sentenced to six months, suspended for 12 months. Pay proportionate part of cost and placed on probation for 18 months.

Laverne Cohen, age 18. Sentenced to six months, suspended 18 months. Pay proportionate part of damage and cost and placed on probation for 18 months.

William Waters, age 27. Sentenced to six months, suspended for 12 months. Pay proportionate part of damage and cost. Judge Grant said because of his age, he could not be put on probation.

Total damages to the property of the boys were put at $173.10. Court costs amounted to $273.50. This gave each boy a proportionate part of around $49.70.

Testimony at the trial brought out that John Blackwelder, Don White, Larry White, Darnell Gobble, Jerry Gobble and Carl Dyson participated in the calf scramble and were given permission to spend the night at the park. They put their equipment in the grandstand and were sleeping there.

Sometime after midnight three boys came down to the park. When they found out that others were there they left and went to the Mocksville Grill. There they told the others that "A bunch of Indians were at the ball park and wanted to fight."

The nine boys piled into the car of Johnny Mason and went to the park.

Harold Eugene Trivette, one of the defendants, testified for the state and said that someone carried the saddles and put them in the trunk of the car. When he saw them he told the boys to get them out and someone threw them out of the car. Trivette testified that it was Bobby Baugess and Roger Seamon that did the cutting on the saddle. He said he did not know who cut up the hats, etc.

Judge A. T. Grant pointed out to the defendants that when they banded together and conspired to commit an unlawful act, that each of them became liable for the act of the other and all were equally as guilty in the sight of the law.

Following the sentencing, the boys were turned over to Tom Presnell, probation officer.

ASC News

Soil Bank Payments

Davie County farmers are now being notified by the local ASC office to come into the county seat and pick up their soil bank payments. Mr. Sofley, County office manager for the Davie County ASC Committee, announced today that these payments are being handed out in person in order to expedite delivery of needed payments to the farmers and in order to permit the farmers to transact other business with the county office at the same time.

Mr. Sofley cautioned, however, that farmers should not visit the ASC county office until they receive a post card notification to the effect that their soil bank payment is ready to be picked up. He further cautioned that Washington regulations will not permit the release of Soil Bank payments to a second party for delivery to a payee. Any farmers, however, who find it inconvenient to make a person call by the ASC office to pick up their check may request the county office to mail the payment to them.

There were 2829 acres placed in the 1958 Soil Bank Program by Davie County farmers. This participation, according to Sofley, will yield payments of approximately $187,552. A good part of this $187,552 is yet to be paid and will be picked up by farmers scheduled to call at the local ASC County Office. Compared to this local participation in the Soil Bank Program a total of $31,000,000 will be paid out in North Carolina under both phases of this program. This is a considerable increase in participation from last year especially in the case of Acreage Reserve.

Wheat Buyers Meeting

There will be an instructional meeting for all wheat buyers in the Davie County ASC office on Friday, June 27, at 10 a.m. The purpose of this meeting is to review the 1958 wheat regulations and to inform buyers of the records that they must keep. All wheat buyers in Davie County are urged to attend this meeting.

Performance Work

Performance reporters will probably finish the measuring of tobacco, cotton, and Soil Bank Base this week. Notices of measured acreage will be mailed as soon as computations can be made in the office. All farmers getting excess notices are urged to come by the ASC Office immediately and let their intentions be known. Several changes have been made which will be explained in the excess notices. It is important for farmers in excess of their allotment or base to request reassignment or disposition within 7 days.

Safe Handling Of Chemicals Urged

Individuals have been warned concerning the careless handling of insecticides or chemicals. Strict obedience to the instructions on the package is urged to avoid serious accidents.

Certain chemicals must be packaged in glass because of their action on metals. A near tragedy was averted recently through speedy medical attention. A small child picked up a "pop bottle" filled with a potent insecticide and spilled a small amount on his person. Through some act of God the child did not drink the "soda pop." Needless to say the spillage of a concentrated chemical on the skin of a child is severely dangerous and a single swallow would have resulted in death.

All insecticides, dusts or chemicals have the instructions for handling and using clearly printed on the box or bottle. These instructions should be followed to the letter.

Our Marriage Was SHAKY

"We were heading for the divorce courts for sure," said Ed, "me and my wife. Once we had loved each other. But later we began to quarrel every day."

"How did you quit?" Fred inquired.

"Well, they say, 'A little child shall lead them.' One day our youngsters were getting noisy in the parlor. My wife and I were sitting at the kitchen table, not willing to say a friendly word to one another. My wife shouted: 'Alice, I want you to stop quarreling!'"

"Alice answered, 'Mother, we're not quarreling. We're just playing Mother and Daddy.'"

"That got us. We looked at each other. We smiled at each other for the first time in months. We decided to approach our problems sensibly."

"We'll have to start going to church, again, for their sake. If not for our own," she said, and I agreed.

"I got out our dusty family Bible and we read a chapter together. Oh, yes, we still quarrel sometimes, but not like before. We forgive one another. It's much more fun to have Christ in your home than to leave Him out."

If you agree with Ed, why not come to Church and learn the things that will help you build up a Christian home for yourselves and your children!

Health—Something To Cheer About!

Global and national statistics and studies clearly indicate that Americans are the healthiest people on earth—despite the tensions of our times.

This happy condition, we think, pays eloquent testimony to the ideas of our forefathers, that took root on this continent more than three hundred years ago, and have blossomed into a freedom that has allowed us to provide for ourselves as no people in history have ever done before.

As the heirs to a dynamic system of free enterprise that has made us the best fed, the best clothed, the best housed people on earth, it is perhaps natural that we should also be the healthiest. But the picture is broader than that. In addition to making bathtubs and breakfast foods and autos and back-saving devices, we have fought disease with spectacular success.

Through the development of drugs and pharmaceuticals alone, we have made tremendous gains in recent years against tuberculosis, mental illness, arthritis, epilepsy and polio. Major breakthroughs in the treatment of cancer and heart disease could come at any time.

In this, as in our other great industries, the race is to the strong. It involves risks and millions and often years of time. Also, frequently a hard-won triumph of a highly successful drug or pharmaceutical is short lived. It may be obsolete at any moment by new discoveries by a competitor, or even by the firm that produced it. This is certainly no field for the timid.

Equally significant, the same competitive effort is our best assurance that we will not be priced out of health. Here, according to the Manufacturing Chemists' Association, is the record (in a nutshell) on the "wonder" drugs:

The price of Salk vaccine has dropped five times, and about 50 per cent, in three years.

Insulin is six per cent of what it was thirty years ago.

Penicillin has dropped more than 99 per cent since 1943.

Terramycin capsules have dropped 39 per cent in eight years.

Aureomycin has dropped 65 per cent in four years.

Less than ten years ago, a gram of cortisone cost $200. Today, a gram, divided into 40 tablets, costs $9.50 on prescription.

Bulk vitamin B-12 cost $12,500 a gram when it was first introduced, and now sells for $125.

The best possible summary of any discussion of health-in-America is the simple fact that our first gift to today's new-born baby is a life expectancy of 69.9 years . . . ten years more than the infant of 1937 . . . over 20 years more than the arrivals of 1900.

Here is a record of progress no other nation can challenge.

How Do You Feel?

It has been discovered that the ionization of the air we breathe makes us feel the way we do . . . arritable at one time, exhilarated at another. The effect is most pronounced on those with allergies, such as the hapless hay fever victim in pollen season.

It is said that negative ions make us feel good. Positive ions make us depressed. And the air is always ionized, one way or the other at widely varying degrees, which accounts for the wide range of effect that the weather has on our spirits and dispositions.

Scientists consider 500 to 1,000 ions per cubic centimeter of air as normal and have observed positive ion counts as high as 6,000 and negative up to 11,000 per cc.

When the barometer drops in advance of a storm, ionization is positive and the behavior of all animals—including humans—become unpredictable, and frequently not very good. It is a time for getting nipped or scratched, for bending fenders and saying things we don't really mean.

However, with the negative ionization of the rising barometer or of heavy rains (as opposed to light rains which are usually positively ionized) our optimism and feeling of confidence returns.

Several manufacturers of air conditioning systems are now including in their equipment a method by which negative ions are generated. If this proves successful, perhaps in the future our gloomy days will be numbered.

At the present time, however, your answer to the everyday query of: "How do you feel?" is probably based on whether you have a negative or positive charge!

About Driving

It has often been said that statistics could be twisted to prove almost any point, and in many cases this happens. However, the use of statistics are very important and exert a great influence on the conclusions of an individual in regard to any problem.

A study of statistics about automobile accidents offers food for thought for all of us. We present these findings and in doing so some conclusions that may be reached by an individual:

The greatest number of accidents happened on week ends. (Drive as little as possible on week ends).

Saturday was the most dangerous day of the week for accidents; Sunday for fatalities. (Sunday drivers are the most deadly).

3 to 6 p.m. were the most dangerous hours. (Probably due to fatigue and the rush to get home).

Most fatal accidents occurred on straight, dry roads in clear weather. (You are safer on a crooked and wet road in bad weather).

Most fatal accidents involved cars in good mechanical condition and drivers in good physical condition. (The fault lies in driver violations).

Driver violations were found in 86 per cent of all fatal accidents. (Obey the traffic laws and use common sense and you will live longer).

Excessive speed (for prevailing conditions) was the greatest single violation. (The faster you drive the less chance you have to correct for a mistake. Speed makes your mistakes more costly).

Fifteen per cent of the drivers in fatal accidents had been drinking. (Twisted around, this means that 85 per cent of the drivers in fatal accidents had not been drinking). However, there is no argument with the advice of: "If you drink, don't drive; If you drive, don't drink."

The age group of 25 to 34 was involved in the majority of accidents. (As this is the most active age for travel, this is no surprise).

Seventy-nine per cent of all accidents involved drivers who lived within 25 miles of the accident location. (We take more chances and are least observant in territory with which we are very familiar).

Fifty-six per cent of all rural accidents occurred off U. S. Highways or expressways. (Drivers take more chances on the least traveled roads).

In summation we repeat: "Courtesy on the road, clear thinking and adherence to the traffic laws will give us safer motoring!"

The United States annually produces 22,900,000,000 pounds of wheat flour, says The World Book Encyclopedia.

The highest inhabited town on earth is Gartok, a busy trading center in western Tibet. The National Geographic Magazine says. Gartok stands at 15,100 feet above sea level, an altitude higher than the tallest mountain in the United States.

The Living Scriptures—

Vital Link to God

by Jack Hamlin

IT IS NOT THE WILL OF YOUR FATHER WHICH IS IN HEAVEN, THAT ONE OF THESE LITTLE ONES SHOULD PERISH.

— MATT. 18:14

COMING THING? . . . Now that summer is in full bloom—although about a month "late" at most of the beach and mountain resorts—it is good to dwell upon the thought that old-time-honored Murphy School in Raleigh is going to be air-conditioned throughout.

You will recall that most of North Carolina is right much of an over during virtually the entire month of September.

How long will it be before other elementary schools—and high schools, too, for that matter—will be air conditioned? Many a Murphy School kid will be comfortably happy come September.

They will not realize that the first big giant step toward year-round schooling in Raleigh has been taken.

SHADES OF WASHINGTON . . . Although many a Wake Forest College alumnus will remember Edith Earnshaw as the wife of its long-time bursar she has earned herself quite a little reputation as a rhymer since the death of her husband several years ago.

About Sherman Adams last week she wrote: "In front of Goldfine's establishment a sign hanging—bold and clear, that all who run for office may read: Sherman Adams Slipped Here."

GOOD TIMES . . . Federal employees in North Carolina—and there are upwards of 30,000 of them—will reap a financial harvest this summer as the result of the ten per cent pay raise.

Since the raise is retroactive going back to Jan. 1, an estimated five million dollars in back pay checks will flow into North Carolina during the next two months. That ain't hay.

ERROR . . . In reporting on Primary surprises a few weeks ago, we listed as one the fact that Bill Bickett beat Bill Hatch so badly for the Superior Court judgeship for the Wake District. We said—or it came out that way—the victory was six to one. Well, it wasn't nearly that bad. The official vote: Bickett, 11,068; and for Hatch, 6,834.

RIGHT ALONG NOW . . . If you think the Republicans are having their troubles with Adams in this year 1958, you are right—and we haven't heard the end of it.

But 30 years ago this summer the Democrats found themselves in terrific troubles. The man in the middle of it was Al Smith, our Democratic nominee for the Presidency.

Many an outstanding Democrat, including the late Senator F. M. Simmons, could not stomach Al Smith. Cries to the effect that the Pope would be in control of the White House were heard on every hand.

E. H. Woodruff of Gadsden, Ala., and J. A. Linville of Winston have our thanks for life savers.

J. L. Sheek, John Nail Waters, and Misses Margaret Nail and Julia Hunt motored down to Charlotte last week and spent a day or two.

Miss Lucile Ray Pass, of Roxboro, in sending us a dollar for the Record, says, "After spending two pleasant years in Mocksville I want to keep in touch with the town and this is the best way I know to do it."

The editor spent a short while in Hickory and Morganton last week and while in those lively towns, met many old friends and acquaintances. It was our pleasure while in Morganton to spend a short while in the News Herald office.

A little more than six weeks ago were were sticking time on that paper which was edited by the late T. G. Cobb. The News-Herald is now under the able management of Miss Beatrice Cobb, a daughter of the late editor and owner, and is a newsy and up to date paper. Sorry we could not remain longer in the mountain city.

Misses Edna Horn and Margaret Thompson are spending a few days in High Point the guests of Miss Lucy Oakes.

Miss Gilmer Baly of Winston-Salem is spending this week with Mrs. W. C. Martin.

Misses Edna Stewart, Clayton Brown and Rose Owens left Saturday for Raleigh to attend summer school.

The following white men have been called to appear before the local board on Monday, July 22, at 4 p.m. for entrainment to Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga., on July 23 at 10 a.m.: Pearly L. Koonz, C. L. Lsley, W. B. Garwood, W. Grady Sain, F. W. Foster, J. L. Keller, R. L. Howell.

The following colored men have been called to report to the local board on Monday, July 28, at 4 p.m. for entrainment to Camp Greene, Charlotte, on July 30, at 10 a.m.: Oliver J. Hairston, John Draughn Wyatt, W. H. Howell, Samuel Avery, Goston Neely, Charles Wilson, Chas. B. Tatum, Alfred Dillard, Chauncey Diggins, Norman Hairston, Dan Smith.

The easiest thing in the world to do is to be outspoken.

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS

WASHINGTON—The Senate passed the Kennedy-Ives labor bill last week, after five days of extensive debate. In most part the bill was confined to the elimination of abuses in the labor-management field which were uncovered by the McClellan Committee.

Wide Course
The Senate was wise in so limiting the bill. To have attempted broadside revisions of the Taft-Hartley law through amendments would have spelled the defeat of any labor legislation at this time. This was true because of the deep divisions in the Senate regarding Taft-Hartley changes which would have delayed action and would have brought about a bill unable to win majority support. By refusing this course the Senate was able to get a bill which effectively implants union democracy and weeds out corrupt influences in the labor-management field. Now the Senate can proceed to give separate attention to other needed reforms, particularly those in the secondary boycott and organizational picketing areas.

Provisions
The long list of provisions contained in the Kennedy-Ives bill cannot be detailed in this column. Reference to a few, however, will show its strength. Briefly stated are some of the things this will do:

Guarantees to union members the right of secret ballot in free elections and provides for union elections to be held within certain stipulated times.

Regulates trusteeship practices over local unions requiring full reporting and placing a time limit on the continuance of trusteeships.

Requires under criminal penalties the full reporting and disclosure of union operations both internal processes and finances.

Requires under criminal penalties the full reporting and disclosure of all financial transactions and holdings of union officers which might give rise to possible conflict of interest.

Provides criminal penalties for the willful destruction or falsification of union records.

Provides criminal penalties for embezzlement or conversion of union funds by union officers.

Denies union office to anyone convicted of a felony until the restoration of his voting rights in the State thus barring union control by gangsters and hoodlums.

Allows a majority of a union to remove at any time a corrupt official.

Requires under criminal penalties full reporting by employers and labor relations consultants of activities intended to influence workers in the exercise of their bargaining rights under Taft-Hartley.

Provides criminal penalties for givers and receivers of bribes in labor-management dealings.

Such provisions as these under proper administration will do much to protect both the rank-and-file worker and the honorable and law abiding union leader. Only corrupt unionism will be affected by the bill.

No Change
In the course of debate over the Kennedy-Ives proposals I received some inquiries as to whether any provisions would affect State right to work laws. This question arose only in connection with one section of the bill which provides certain exemptions to the construction industry. At my suggestion the Committee inserted a clarifying statement that nothing in that section could invalidate any State right to work laws which might be in conflict with it. The right to work laws are unchanged.

SO THIS IS NEW YORK

By NORTH CALLAHAN

Now that it's picnic weather, the hot dog has again come into its flavorful own. This typically American delicacy which goes under other names is said to have originated here at Coney Island some 50 years ago. The name, "hot dog" itself was first applied by a cartoonist named Thomas Morgan, and at first it was not generally liked. The Coney Island Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution forbidding concessionaires to use the word "dog" in connection with any edible commodity. But the name was too popular. By 1930, the hot dog had invaded France, where it was called "chaud chien," and also England where a newspaper explained it meant "a broiled sausage in a split roll."

You may not like it, but if you are more than 25 years of age, you will probably enjoy a recording made not long ago by O. Winston Link, a photographer of this city. It is entitled "Sounds of Steam Railroading" and has captured for posterity those mellow sounds of a golden yesterday in transportation. Link set up his equipment beside the Baltimore & Ohio and Norfolk and Western tracks at Shenandoah Junction, West Va., and came away with sound tapes of whistles and bells, trains arriving and leaving, clanks, wheezes, rumbles, chuffs, hisses, pants, groans and clicks given off by the all-too-rapidly-disappearing steam engines.

The recent visit of Vice President Nixon to South America, called attention to the rigors of this office, as well as that of the President. The Presidency may be a killing job, but the Vice Presidency is no cinch either. The same number of Vice Presidents have died in office as Presidents, seven of each. While three of the Presidents were assassinated, the Vice Presidents all died natural deaths.

John Willem of a local advertising agency says that in another 20 years, this country will be dominated by some 14 metropolitan strips which he calls "interurbias." The first such strip is already virtually completed. It extends for 600 miles along the Atlantic coast and is now for all practical purposes, Willem says, unified. While it contains only two per cent of our land area, it has 20 per cent of the population and produces 25 per cent of the nation's retail sales. The second interurbia is already developing along Lake Michigan linking Hammond, Indiana, with Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

60 Second Sermons

By FRED DODGE

TEXT: "Tact arrives at conclusions without expressing them."—Rodman.

On the conclusion of a lecture, a famous speaker was met by a little white haired lady who expressed her enjoyment over his speech. Shyly, she confessed, "I'm taking the liberty of speaking to you because you said that you loved old ladies."

"Oh! I do, I do," replied the lecturer gallantly. "And I also like them your age."

Carl Zuckmayer, the German poet, says "Tact is the great ability of seeing other people as they think you see them." The use of tact is a neglected virtue. In the hurry of modern living we don't have time to be tactful. At least, that is one excuse. We also excuse our boorishness by saying that tact is deceitful, while we are frank and straight-forward. That is childish poppy-cock. We are simply too lazy and self-centered to learn and practice the skill of being tactful.

How quickly we blame national leaders who fail to use tact. Yet we scorn the use of tact in our personal relations. Why?

Your tact can come only from your thoughtful graciousness. Tact reveals your mental discipline in consideration for others; patience and understanding. Wouldn't it be well to be known as tactful?

'Let God Be True'

ROLAND D. ROBERTS.
Last week the writer said that he would discuss some guideposts that will aid the reader to take his own copy of the Bible and discover whether he is a member of the true church of the Lord Jesus Christ. The five guideposts that will be discussed in this and consecutive articles are:

1. The Church's name
  2. The date of its establishment
  3. The method for becoming a member of this church
  4. Its organization
  5. Its worship.
- In the New Testament there are several titles by which the Lord's church is designated. However, in each one there is inference that this church belongs to God or Christ. It is very significant that each name concerns itself with God or Christ for Peter, in Acts 4:10-12, declares to be speaking in the name of Jesus Christ. Having made this declaration he continues to say concerning the name of Jesus Christ, "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, wherein we must be saved."

The New Testament names for the body of Christ are: the church of God, (Acts 20:28), church of the firstborn (Hebrews 12:23, and the church of Christ (Romans 16:16). If the church of which you are a member bears one of these scriptural names of the Lord's church you are safely past the first of these guideposts and ready for the second.

In this day of religious divisions there are certain groups that bear one of these scriptural names who cannot meet the qualifications of the other four guideposts which are listed above. If the group to which you belong meets the qualifications set forth by four of the five guideposts you will need to investigate further to find a group that answers to all five of them.

Any good book on church history will point out that during the last 1,800 years many different churches have been established at different dates. Since we have learned, in previous articles, that the Bible teaches that there is but one church we can now discover the date of the establishment of the church of the Lord Jesus Christ and thereby eliminate the possibility of all others which were established at a later date from being the true church.

In the second chapter of the book of Acts we find concerning the establishment of the true church. In this chapter we find that the apostles were together in one place when the Holy Spirit made its entrance and filled all of them. After this miraculous filling of the Holy Spirit the apostles went forth to speak and when they did each man who was present heard them in his own tongue. This was a miraculous thing for there were men present from many different nations.

In preaching to them Peter convicted them of their sin in crucifying Jesus Christ. Upon being convicted they asked what to do and Peter told them in Acts 2:38. Upon repenting and being baptized, we read in Acts 2:47 that "the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved." Thus we have the establishment of the Lord's Church.

Historians tell us that this took place in 33 A.D. Hence, it is safe to say that the Lord's church was established in 33 A.D. and any group established thereafter would not meet this second qualification.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT

LEO F. WILLIAMS
County AgentChemical Weed Control
In Corn

Many farmers are using 2, 4-D successfully in corn. The use of 2, 4-D to control certain broad-leaved weeds in corn has become an accepted practice. Recent research results have created interest in the possibility of a treatment which combines side dressing and late weed control in the same operation.

The applications are timed by days after planting or stage of growth of corn. Special attention should be given to proper timing, rates of application, and forms of 2, 4-D used. Cotton, tobacco, many vegetables and flower garden plants and other desirable plants can be injured through carelessness.

Post emergence treatment is a spray applied to weeds after corn is growing. The chemical is most effective when applied to young vigorously growing weeds. It will control cocklebur, ragweed, pigweed, morning glory, lambsquarters and many other broadleaved weeds, but it will not control growing grasses.

Use of nitrogen solutions and 2, 4-D when properly applied with non-pressure nitrogen solution — synthetic detergent — 2, 4-D mixture will produce excellent weed control in corn.

When corn is 6 to 36 inches tall direct the spray on the weeds and out of the corn buds. Use "drip" nozzles or nozzle extensions to apply one-third to one-half pound to 2, 4-D amine salt per acre.

FARM FORESTRY FACTS
Cost-Sharing Help for Replanting
Winter-Killed Seedlings

A letter from State Forester Fred H. Claridge reminds us that A.C.P. (Agricultural Conservation Program) cost sharing is available to help you replace forest tree seedlings planted last winter which were killed by the severe freeze.

This help is available to producers who planted trees last winter with or without ACP or Soil Bank help. It applies where survival was less than 500 trees per acre due to weather or other conditions beyond your control.

Procedure for qualifying is as follows:

1. Look over the areas you planted last winter.
2. If you find less than 500 living seedlings per acre and you want cost-sharing help to replant go to your county ASC office. Tell them you want to file for re-establishment cost sharing under practice A-7.
3. Fill out the regular form 201.
4. An inspector will come out, examine your planting, determine how much acreage needs replanting and how many trees it will take to do the job.
5. Get your order in for the trees and plant them next winter.

Your cost-sharing rate will be determined as follows:

1. If the inspector finds less than 300 live trees per acre, he will class your planting as a complete failure. Your cost-sharing rate for replanting will be the same as the regular initial planting rate — $12 per acre.
2. If more than 300 but less than 500 trees per acre are alive, the inspector will class it a partial failure. Help for spot planting will be $12 per 500 trees replanted.

Example: Last winter you planted five acres of open land to 700 trees per acre. This summer only 350 per acre are living. This is a partial failure. The inspector will recommend spot planting. If all of the trees you replant would live, you would only need to spot-plant 150 per acre to bring the stand up to 500. However, some of the spot-planted trees will not make it even in a normal weather year. Therefore, the inspector may recommend that you spot-plant 300 per acre to allow for average failure. To spot-plant five acres with 300 trees per acre, you will need 1500 trees. At $12 per 500 trees spot planted, your total cost sharing for the five acres will be $36.

3. If the inspector finds 500 or more live trees per acre, this meets the minimum stand requirement. No replanting cost sharing will be authorized.

Remember you need a full stand of planted trees to make the most profitable tree crop possible. If you did not get one last winter from your planting due to weather, his will help cover the cost of filling in the gaps.

DCFS Recreation
The Davie County Training School playground last week was as busy as a honey bee in the month of June.

The average enrollment per day last week was from 10 to 45 children. All the equipment last week was in constant use.

The playground got off to a good start with baseball leagues being organized and played four games. The league consists of three teams and will participate in 12 games. The two top teams at the end of the season will play in a "Little World Series," which will consist of five games. The teams standing are as follows: Boostown Street, 3 wins and 1 loss; Cooleesme, 1 win and 1 loss; Depot Street, no wins and 2 losses.

The midweek leaguers traveled to North Wilkesboro last Monday and defeated the Wilkes Little Leaguers 13 to 9. Eugene March held his opponents spellbound with fast balls.

Also, last week the basketball league was organized. It involves three teams which play each Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. The team's standings and captains are as follows:

Nath Dulin, Captain, "The Trotters," 2 wins and no losses; Willis Campbell, Captain, "The Lakers," no wins and one loss; Billy Smoot, Captain, "The Hawks," no wins and one loss. Many other activities took place last week such as: The new ping pong champion is Elton Fote. The new croquet golf champion is Eugene March. The new bowling champion is Cecil Clement. The box hockey champion is Rondal Brown. The new badminton champion is Billy Tabor.

The tots enjoyed the merry-go-round, swings, swimming pool, story telling, treasure hunting, and the sandbox. This week they will start their basket weaving under the direction of Mrs. Clyde Studevant.

The opening play will feature an all-professional cast in "The Tender Trap."

The play will be shown in the big red barn which has been converted to a summer theatre. There are 300 seats, a tile floor and a proscenium stage. One entire side has sliding doors which opens onto a patio where there is a refreshment stand. Behind the stage is a scenery workshop and dressing rooms.

This old barn in Tanglewood Park was earmarked for a theatre from the very beginning. However, in the plan for development of the park it was not expected to be put into operation until much later.

Last winter, however, a group of Winston-Salem leaders banded together, put up the money, and brought the plans to a head which enabled the showing this summer.

Ten shows will be staged this summer. Showing will be each night, Wednesday through Sunday at 8:15 p.m. There will be matinees on Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 3 p.m.

All seats are reserved. Reservations may be made by writing or telephone.

Following "The Tender Trap," which will end Sunday, the next production will be the "Ramshackled Inn." Beginning on July 9th, Jeffrey Lynn will be starred in "The Moon Is Blue" production.

James Walton, head of the drama department of Wake Forest College, is manager and director. Special guest director this summer will be Dallas Williams, Director of the University of Nebraska Theatre. Robert Skinner of the Charles Street Playhouse in Boston, Mass., is the scenery designer.
