Mocksville School Site Survey Results Studied

The results of a detailed study pertaining to the Mocksville Elementary School site has been received by the Davie County Board of Education. This study and survey was made by John F. Cline, Realtor, and C. L. Vaughn and Associates, Architects and Engineers.

The results of this study have been made available to the county commissioners and are in the board of education office for anyone to see that might be interested.

The acquisition of the necessary properties for the elementary school to remain at its present site and the allied costs of making such property suitable for school facilities, is estimated at $150,746. The sellers have asked $117,000 for their properties and the properties have been appraised at $105,746. It was also estimated that it would take around $15,000 above normal for the needed filling and grading of these properties, and additional foundation cost above normal would be around $25,000. The cost of demolishing the old classroom building was put at $5,000.

The Davie County Board of Commissioners and the Board of Education will have a joint meeting in the near future to consider the results of this survey.

Leon Jones is Manager At Belks

Leon Jones has assumed the position as manager of Belks of Mocksville.

Mr. Jones succeeds Ed Cox who has transferred to Mount Airy as manager and to supervise the opening of a large Belks store in the Mayberry Mall Shopping Center.

Mr. Jones is a graduate of the Thomasville High School. He graduated from East Carolina University with BS in physical education. He taught for three years at Siler City before joining Belks. After several years in Siler City, he was with Belk-Yates in Randleman for eleven years, and then was with the Belks organization in Chester, S. C. Since June of 1968, he has been with Hudson-Belk of Thomasville.

He is a Methodist and a former member of the Randleman Lions Club.

Mr. Jones, a widower, and his two children, age 17 and 14, plan to move into residence at 1020 Duke Street in the very near future. Mrs. Jones died of a cerebral hemorrhage last fall.

Commissioners Hold Meeting

A tax assessment rate of 60% for county taxes was adopted Monday by the Davie County Board of Commissioners. This is the same as last year.

In other action, the board of commissioners approved paying for the vaccine and advertising for the annual rabies clinic. The vaccine will be administered to the dogs by Dr. Clyde Young, local veterinarian, who is donated his services free of charge. He will be assisted by Mike Walker, County Dog Warden, and Carter Payne, assistant county agent.

The board of commissioners also voted to establish the authority designated under the mental health program.

The board received a $100 check from Margaret C. Woodson Foundation, Inc. to be used on behalf of the animal shelter. Inasmuch as the animal shelter is operated by the

Scenic Snowfall Covers Area

Citizens of this area awoke Saturday morning to a scenic winter wonderland. One of the most beautiful snows in years clung to trees, shrubs, etc. resulting in picture-book winter scenes wherever one chose to look.

The snow, which measured from 8 to 10 inches in Davie County, wrecked havoc on power and telephone lines as snow-laden limbs, trees, etc. broke and fell across lines. Crews from Duke Power, Davie Electric Membership, and the telephone companies serving the area worked all-day Saturday restoring power and telephone service.

Snow, mixed with some sleet and rain, began falling early Friday night around 8 p. m. However accumulation did not begin until after midnight.

The snow continued throughout Saturday until around 6 p. m. Many of the local businesses closed early.

The wet, heavy snow snapped thousands of tree branches and felled many trees. However, aside from power and phone lines, no major damage was reported from fallen limbs.

A warm Sunday sun turned snow into slush and the paved roads and highways soon became clear and dry. Davie schools opened as usual on Monday at 8 p. m.

This was the second large snowfall to this area within the past two weeks. On February 15th, eight inches of snow hit this area. Both of these snows were the heaviest single snowfalls to hit the area since 1930. (On December 17, 1930 an estimated 18 to 20-inches fell. On March 1, 1927... snow estimated at between 18 and 24-inches fell.) (Note... These are single snowfalls and are not to be confused with total accumulations that may result from several snowfalls such as occurred several years ago).

Town To Seek $495,000 in Sewer Bond Vote

The Town of Mocksville has given notice of intention of filing application with the Local Government Commission in Raleigh for its approval of the issuance of $495,000 of sanitary sewer bonds.

These bonds will be subjected to the approval of the voters of the Town of Mocksville in an election which will probably be held on May 6th, the same date as the municipal election for mayor and five commissioners.

The $495,000 sanitary sewer bond issue will be for the purpose of providing funds, with any other available funds, for extending and enlarging the sanitary sewer system of Mocksville, including the construction of additional sewage collection, treatment and disposal facilities and the acquisition of any necessary land, rights of way and equipment.

The proposed new sewage system will cost about $1-million. The Appalachian Regional Commission has approved a federal grant of around $450,000 to be used towards this project.

The Town of Mocksville is presently served by three separate plants and five pumping stations. The proposed system would initially replace the plant on the northern side of town and would eventually replace the plant on the eastern side. It would remove a sewage plant from a residential area and would provide service to the property west of North Main Street and to the areas outside the northern city limits.

Kenneth Honeycutt, local funeral director with Eaton Funeral Home, has been named Chairman of the Davie County American Red Cross fund raising committee for 1969.

Mr. Honeycutt plans to kickoff this fund drive on March 15th and continue it until the quota for Davie County is met.

"Everyone can't be a worker, but everyone can be a giver... so when called on support your local Red Cross fund", said Mr. Honeycutt.

Board Declines Jr. High Plan

The Davie County Board of Education decided Monday not to pursue a plan for the establishment of a 7th and 8th grade junior high school in the county.

This decision came in their regular meeting after considering a report which showed how the county could operate such a school within the budget setup for the current building program. The advantages of the program were cited as an improved curriculum for the 7th and 8th grade students including such things as a vocational education program, band, choral program, athletic program, etc. This could be done using the facilities presently existing at the Middle District School.

Supt. James E. Everidge said the board made the decision not to pursue this plan at the present because "it would go against publicity given prior to the bond issue vote last September."

However, Mr. Everidge pointed out that the Middle District School could be used for this program in the future in the event the state supported kindergarten program becomes a reality.

The board also received results of the study on the Mocksville Elementary site. (See another story).

Larry Smith New Manager

Today signals a special occasion at Mocksville's B. C. Moore and Sons Department Store. The appointment of a new manager is being celebrated by a "New Manager's Get Acquainted Sale," starting this morning. The manager, Larry Smith, is the former assistant manager of Moore's in Sanford, N. C. Mr. Smith invites "the people of Mocksville to come in to meet him and take advantage of the slashed prices and big savings" during his new Manager's Get Acquainted Sale.

Smith began his career with B. C. Moore and Sons in 1961. He worked part time while in high school here at the local store. While attending college he worked summer months in Moore's Department Stores in Marion, N. C., Asheboro, N. C., and Siler City, N. C. Upon graduation, he began full time employment with Moore's of Sanford, N. C. in July 1967.

Jericho-Hardison Organize To Get Water From Town

The Jericho-Hardison Community held a meeting at the Hardison Church Monday night, March 3rd, at 7:00 p.m. to organize a non-profit organization in order to raise the money to pay the Town of Mocksville to provide water for this community.

It has been estimated that more than 70 per cent shallow wells in Davie County on "buck tallow" soils are polluted, and this is the predominant type of soil in the area of Jericho-Hardison Community.

Twenty-two members signed contracts last night. This was the total number that was present. It will take sixty members, at $650.00 each, in order to get the water run to this community. Fifty-three members have said that they would sign a contract. There are seventy homes in this area that could be serviced by the water system, if and when it is completed. It is the opinion of most of the leaders in the area that a sufficient number of people will sign the contract within the next week to give the go ahead on the system.

Social Security Agent Is Here March 12th

The Social Security District Office in Salisbury, N. C. which serves Davie County residents has announced that Joe Ragan, Field Representative will be at the Mocksville Courthouse on Wednesday, March 12, 1969 to assist those who need to conduct social security business but are unable to go to the Salisbury office.

Mr. Ragan will be located upstairs in the courtroom from 9:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. on that day.

ELVIE BELL JR.

Davie Marine Is Killed In Vietnam

Elvie Bell Jr., 23, of Rt. 4, Box 255, Mocksville, a corporal with the U.S. Marine Corps, was killed Friday while serving on a tour of duty in Vietnam.

He was born Oct. 31, 1945, in Davie County, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvie Bell Sr. of Mocksville. Educated at Davie County High School, Livingstone College, and Rowan Technical Institute, he enlisted in the Marine Corps in June of 1966 and went to Vietnam on Feb. 3, 1968.

Also surviving are three brothers, James W. Bell, stationed in Korea with the U.S. Army, and Bobby G. Bell and Larry Allan Bell, both of the home; and the maternal grandfather, Lindsey Flint of Rt. 4, Mocksville. Funeral arrangements are incomplete. The body will be brought to the Noble and Kelsey Funeral Home.

Nearly 2 1/2 million people have visited the Battleship U. S. S. North Carolina during the more than seven years the ship has been a state memorial.

Davie And Iredell Counties Considering Joint Jail System

The proposal for a joint jail system between Iredell and Davie Counties was considered at a joint meeting of commissioners of both counties in Statesville on Monday night.

The meeting produced no firm decision. Commissioners agreed, however, to contact the Institute of Government at Chapel Hill on legal problems before considering the proposal further.

The Davie County jail system has already been condemned because of security problems with felons according to the Davie County Board of Commissioners. Davie County prisoners are now housed either at Forsyth County jail or at the Forsyth County jail. Felons are placed in the Yadkin County jail, while juvenile offenders are placed in the Forsyth jail, those charged with misdemeanors are still being held in the Davie County jail. The Davie commissioners said they are paying Yadkin County $2 per day per prisoner for housing Davie prisoners.

Davie is seeking the system with Iredell County since Alexander County already has plans for its own jail system, and Davidson County has a new jail.

The Davie Commissioners said a jail study by a private agency is expected to be ready by June. Present plans indicate that Iredell County needs a new 60-man jail at a cost of about $375,000 and Davie needs a 30 or 45-man jail at a cost of about $175,000. These estimates are based on a block system type of jail.

The Institute of Government will make a survey of the needs of both counties, following which another joint meeting will be held.

Hunt For Happiness Discussed For Rotary

The continued "hunt for happiness" was discussed for members of the Mocksville Rotary Club on Tuesday by the Rev. Gilbert Miller, pastor of the First United Methodist Church.

Telling the Rotarians that the hunt for happiness started in the Garden of Eden and has been going on ever since, Mr. Miller said:

"It has been well established that happiness is not found through wealth or ownership of material things; it is not found through the achievement of fame and glory; it is not found in the attainment of social prominence, through sport participation or even through marriage."

"Happiness is found only when we submerge our selfish egos in the unselfish service of others", said Mr. Miller.

Harry Murray had charge of the program and introduced Mr. Miller. President O. K. Pope presided.

RETIRES

Miss Annie Pearl Tatum has retired as of February 28th after working for the past 30 years with the Davie County office of Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service. She was honored at a dinner Tuesday night, February 25, at the Center Community Building by present ASCS office employees, county committee members and their families and close friends. As a memento of the occasion, the group presented Miss Tatum with a pendant watch inscribed with the date of her retirement. Miss Tatum lives on Route 4.

Snow-Sleet Storm Of 1934 Is Recalled

The breaking of trees and limbs in the snow that fell last Saturday brought back memories of the big snow and sleet storm that hit this area on February 24th and 25th, 1934.

The following report of this storm as it appeared in The Mocksville Enterprise was follows:

"King Winter spent the weekend in Mocksville, but since he left such a trail of wreckage in his wake, he is not likely to be a welcomed guest again."

"Beginning about 7 o'clock on Saturday night the first real snow of the season began falling, and by 9:30 the ground was covered with between 2 and 3 inches and the trees were thickly mantled, a beautiful sight indeed. But Sunday brought rain and sleet, and the trees were heavily coated with ice. By Sunday night the ice-laden limbs began crashing off the trees many of them falling on the electric and telephone wires, thereby putting them out of commission."

"Another phase of weather put in its appearance on Sunday night, when a severe thunderstorm, with brilliant lightning, added to the disturbance of the evening. Oil lamps and candles were put into use, and most of the citizens kept close to their firesides. Buses and automobiles traveled cautiously through the streets, and some were stalled on the highways for sometime."

"On Monday our pretty little city looked like a battle had been fought here, a battle with the elements. Many of the prettiest shade-trees have been sadly broken up, and wire are down in all directions. The sun came out on Monday and then the snow and ice began to melt. CWA workers cleared the streets so that traffic could be resumed. The city schools did not open on Monday but will resume work on Monday of next week."

"With the electrical apparatus for pumping the town's water unable to function, the supply of water was cut off Monday and Tuesday until the necessary repair work could be done. All of this, of course, was inconvenient, but we just made best of these temporary discomforts."

"Tuesday arrived clear and colder, and the forecast promises falling temperature." The next week's issue of the Enterprise had the following article:

"Mocksville has spent the week in setting her house in order and the streets have been cleared of debris, and electric and telephone wires and posts repaired. Electric service was restored to the business houses around the Square by Wednesday, and by Friday evening the homes of Mocksville could put away the emergency lamps and candles, and turn on the lights."

"The South East Public Service Company has a number of workers here this week repairing the telephone connections."

"Many of the prettiest trees in town have been badly broken up by heavy sleet, but when spring comes this will not be so noticeable. It is said that the timber over the county has been greatly damaged by the recent storm."

CARS IN COLLISION ON TOWN SQUARE

An accident occurred Saturday, March 1st, at 1:30 p.m. on North Main Street at the intersection with Depot Street. Sgt. Lonnie M. Tutterow of the Mocksville Police Department investigated and gave the following account:

Virginia M. Hooper, 18, of Rt. 2, Nashville, Tenn., driving a 1966 Dodge, was driving south and ran through the red light at the Town Square in heavy snow. A 1967 Ford, being operated by George Roger Morgan, 36, was struck in the left side by the Dodge.

Damage to the Ford was estimated at $250 and to Miss Hooper's car $450.

She was charged with fail to yield right of way.

World Day Of Prayer

World Day of Prayer Service will be held Friday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. at Bixby Presbyterian Church. Mocks and Advance Methodist Churches will also participate in this service.

QUALITY AT THE MARKET PLACE

Quality standards of many farm products are based largely on eye-ball tests which are no more quantitatively describable than the blush of a beautiful girl. There may be unseen qualities of more importance—those that could be specified by chemical or physical tests that may be related to their nutritional quality. The problem, says Leo F. Williams, County Extension Chairman, is that most farm products are bought and sold on sight alone.

The appearance as well as the unseen qualities of farm crops and livestock are directly affected by their nutritional diet. Sweet corn, for instance, will produce misshapened ears if potash deficiency occurs while the plant is growing. A steer will have a coarse rough appearance if he has had to make it on sawbriars, sassafras, sagegrass and corn cobs.

What can the farmer do about it. In North Carolina he has an excellent opportunity to get help with the problems related to feeding his plants as well as his livestock. The North Carolina Department of Agriculture maintains a soil testing service as well as a livestock feed testing service. Both services are offered by the Soil Testing Division, under the direction of Dr. Preston H. Reid.

The soil testing service makes the chemical tests on the soil samples submitted and experienced agronomists offer their best judgment as to the fertility management of the crops. The feed testing service provides the estimated feeding value of feed materials submitted so that farmers can make their own feeding rations. The soil tests are free but there is a small charge for the feed tests.

Mr. Williams said he would be glad to discuss the services with anyone and indicated that the necessary supplies and instructions for submitting both soil and feed materials are available at the extension office in the Davie County Office Building, Mocksville.

R. P. Holiness Church

A revival is now in progress at the Redland Pentecostal Holiness Church, which is located on the Baltimore Road off Highway 158. It will continue through Sunday night March 9.

The Rev. Harold Caudle of Hamptonville, General Evangelist of the Western N. C. Conference of the Pentecostal Holiness Church, is the speaker. There will be special singing each night and the pastor, Rev. C. C. Carpenter, extends to the public a cordial welcome to attend the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland H. West of Route 2, Mocksville, N. C. were recent guests at the famous King's Inn & Golf Club in Freeport, Grand Bahama Island, as winners in a Bahama Bonanza sales contest sponsored by Babson Bros. Co., builders of Surge milking and water conditioning equipment. The Wests also enjoyed the sun, sand and sights of this newest of Bahama Island resorts, while attending a sales meeting held for Surge Dealers and their wives from all parts of the U. S. and Canada.

MEETING

The Davie County Hospital Auxiliary will meet Tuesday night, March 11th, at 8 p.m. in the dining room at the hospital. All members and interested people are urged to attend this meeting.

Davie Hairdressers

Elect Officers

The Davie Hairdressers Association held its regular monthly meeting Monday night at Center Community building.

The "Swing into Spring" Hair Fashion show was discussed and planned. The show will be presented to the public March 10 at Center Community building and everyone is invited. Door prizes will be given and favors for all.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Dot McDaniel; 1st Vice-President, Margaret Wilson; 2nd Vice-President, Mae Howard; Secretary, Jenny Turner; Treasurer, Gail Campbell.

The next monthly meeting will be April 14th.

CORRECTION. . . The poem titled, "Spurgeon" published in last week's paper and composed by Mrs. Fred Smith, is not a sister of the late Spurgeon Goss who died in Vietnam, as the story so indicated. Mrs. Smith was a friend and at one time a neighbor.

Susan Harris Has Birthday

Susan Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harris, was honored with a dinner Sunday, March 2, by her parents at their home on Route 2, Advance. She was four years old.

A turkey dinner was served to family members including a decorated birthday cake made by Mrs. Fred Murphy.

Movies were made of Susan opening her birthday gifts. Attending the dinner were: the honoree, her sister, Renee, Mr. and Mrs. George Harris and daughter, Mary of Rt. 4, Mrs. Reba Shoaf and daughter, Lynn of Spencer, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Allen of Mocksville.

Hospital Meeting Attended By Locals

A Middle Management Seminar sponsored by the N. C. Hospital Association was conducted at the Statter Hilton Inn in Winston-Salem, Feb. 17-21.

Employees of Davie County Hospital attending were Mrs. Viola Tomlinson, Dietician and Mrs. Ann Stiller, RN.

Sessions were conducted by Mr. Lester Redding of Hyattsville, Maryland.

Matters of interest discussed during the week included: Qualifications of a Supervisor, Functions of Management, Effective Communications, Effective Discipline, Suggestions for Effective Classroom Instruction, How to Prepare for and Lead a Meeting and Processes of Problem Solving.

In short, in the words of the instructor, it was a meeting to teach people how to do things they normally didn't have time to do because they were required to attend meetings.

BARBECUE

The Advance Volunteer Fire Department will hold a Pork Bar-B-Q Saturday, Friday, March 7 at about noon - running through Saturday March 8, until sold out. The proceeds of this sale will be applied to a much needed larger and better fire truck.

Sharon Howell Is On Dean's List

Miss Sharon Howell, Mocksville, has been named to the Dean's Academic Honor List for the fall semester of the 1968-69 academic year at Pfeiffer College. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wesley Howell, she is an English major.

To be named to the Dean's Academic Honor List at Pfeiffer a student must have "a level of academic attainment worthy of special recognition".

Miss Howell is one of 98 students named to the Dean's List. Dr. Hoyt Bowen, Academic Dean, reported.

Breakfast Sunday At Union Chapel

The men's breakfast scheduled at Union Chapel Methodist Church for last Sunday was postponed until Sunday, March 9, at 7:30 a.m. on account of the snow. All men of the church are urged to attend.

Special Program At "The Stone"

By Pam Leary

Hello Stone Patrons! Our place will really be swinging this Saturday night. Those Groovy SIMPLICITY FIVE guys will be back to blast our eardrums with new sounds and sensations. There will be lots of dancing and food. So, if you're looking for a swinging time with lots of good fun... come to the church-sponsored STONE. See you there "dickies."

Luv, Pam

Miss Mary Peoples Has Birthday Party

Miss Mary Lee Peoples was entertained at a "Sweet Sixteen" birthday party, Saturday, Feb. 22 at 7:00 p.m. at the Rotary Hut in Mocksville.

The hut was decorated in red and white for the occasion. Hostesses were Mrs. Shirley Lanning and Miss Dianne Bates.

Upon arrival, the honoree received a white carnation corsage.

Dancing and games were enjoyed during the evening. Afterwards, refreshments consisting of birthday cake, assorted crackers, mints, potato chips, pickles, cookies and pink punch were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lanning, Miss Dianne Bates, Donnie Ratledge, Miss Mary Lee Peoples, Jerry Ratledge, Miss Delilah Bailey, Miss Judy Carter, Miss Wanda Livengood, Lanny Ledford, Miss Ginger Stanley, Larry Stanley, Miss Rhonda Cranfill, Miss Cecelia Graham, Harvey Cranfill, Miss Linda Shores, Kenneth Jones and Miss Pam Hendrix.

Jill Carter Is Entertained

On Sunday, Feb. 23, 1968, Mrs. Dorothy Carter entertained for her daughter, Jill, on her seventh birthday.

Bingo was played by the group with prizes awarded.

The group sang "Happy Birthday" to Jill. After which, birthday cake and ice cream was served. During this time, Jill opened the gifts.

Guests were as follows: Bonnie and Dean Foster, Dennis Smith, Anita and Reggie Potts, Rene Minor, and Sally Goodwin.

"The boss!" Jim said and laughed to see Jimmy dwarfed by his chair.

And I began to wonder. When our son is ready to occupy that chair, what kind of a man will he be? Will he have integrity and a sense of responsibility for his employees? Or will he cut corners, use the people he works for—who work for him?

So much depends on us. Right now, he learns of love and kindness from our voices, our hands. As he matures, our values, respect for others and concern will help to shape his attitudes.

How glad I am that our Church offers a program of Christian education for Jim and me, as well as for Jimmy. As our son grows, so will we.

The strength you need to meet the responsibilities of your life can be found in your church.

PASTURE FEEDING TIME

The time has arrived and will soon be gone when cool season grasses such as orchard grass and fescue get their annual or biannual topdressing of fertilizer, reminds Leo F. Williams, County Extension Chairman. The first chore to get out of the way, however, is soil sampling if it has not already been done. "We can sometimes keep our pastures well fed by calling on experience and using a trained eye," says Mr. Williams, "but we can take much of the guess-work out of it by using the services of the Soil Testing Division of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture. Despite the heavy influx of samples, the Soil Testing Laboratory is giving prompt service. With in 2 weeks from the time your samples reach the laboratory, your report is in the mail. So there is still time to take the guess-work out of spring fertilization. The warm season pasture plants such as bermuda will soon need to be fertilized also. Therefore, samples from those fields should be collected now. Mr. Williams reminded that it is important to be specific as to the kind of pasture plants grown when soil samples are sent to the laboratory. List the kinds of plants such as ladino-orchard grass, fescue, coastal bermuda or sudan grass. Mailing cartons, individual soil sample boxes and the information sheets that need to accompany the samples are available at the County Extension Office in Davie County Office Building, Mocksville, N. C.

Constable Avery Foster has been hospitalized now for several weeks with a heart condition. He says that he is happy and thankful that he has so many friends that have remembered him by flowers, cards, and personal visits. Avery, as he is known to his many friends, has been a law enforcement officer in the Mocksville area for many years. He is shown above on his hospital amidst many of those flowers and cards. ## B B & T Holds Annual Meeting

The stockholders of Branch Banking and Trust Company held their Annual Meeting in the bank's home office in Wilson on February 25. President J. L. Satchwell reported that the 96th year of operation was another "Best year in the history of the bank." Net operating earnings for the year were $2,261,252 or $2.27 a share compared to $2,104,323 or $2.11 per share a year ago, adjusted to reflect the mergers between the Bank of Davie, the Bank of Halifax and Branch Banking and Trust Company.

President Satchwell said, "Last year the economists underestimated the sharpness of the rise in economic activity and overestimated substantially the dampening effect that the surcharge would have on the economy. Both government and consumer spending soared to new records, and in combination with wage and other cost rises, fanned the fires of inflation. Consumer prices rose almost 5%, about twice as fast as the average increase for the preceding three years. Hence we are now involved in a clash between a strong economy with inflationary bias and a very restrictive monetary policy. It is anticipated by some forecasters that there will be another increase in the prime rate with the possibility of another upward adjustment in the discount rate by the Federal Reserve Board." He further commented that the Fed seems determined now to halt inflation, so we may expect continued high interest rates for some time to come.

Total resources of the bank on December 31, 1968, were $230,105,921 compared to $217,220,610 on the same date last year. The year closed with total deposits aggregating $201,181,992 compared with $188,396,389 on December 31, 1967. While increases in savings and other time deposits accounted for most of the gain, demand deposits also continued their upward trend.

At the close of the year total loans were $112,085,739 which amounted to 55.7% of deposits. At the year end there were 1724 stockholders, an increase of 11% over a year ago when the total was 1553.

The solicitation of new business in the Trust Department resulted in an increase of 34% over 1967.

Last year the directors approved entry into a consortium of 57 banks forming the Atlantic States Bankcard Association which would offer the Master Charge credit card plan. The program as projected for all practical purposes is on schedule and the first mailing of the Master Charge credit cards will be during the second week in March.

Of major significance to stockholders was the announcement late in 1968 of a new Home Office building in the Wilson Downtown Business District. Plans for the multi-story structure are now underway and it should be ready for occupancy within two years.

Branch Banking and Trust Company at year end had 666 officers and employees in its 48 branches located in 32 North Carolina cities and towns.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The wives and families of members of the 312th Evac. Hospital unit now serving in Vietnam will meet Sunday afternoon, March 9th, at 3 p.m. at the American Legion Building on Miller Street, Winston-Salem. Those attending are asked to bring any new slides they may have. There will be a guest speaker and refreshments will be served. The Commander of Post 55 will also be present and speak to those attending.

Mizell Introduces Legislation To Aid Ministers

Congressman Wilmer D. Mizell (R) North Carolina today co-authored legislation in the House of Representatives which will permit ministers to participate in retirement programs in addition to Social Security.

In introducing this measure, Mizell stated he felt such legislation should not have been necessary. In 1954, a minister was in the position of being a professional with, in effect, no retirement benefits. In that year, Congress recognizing this injustice, passed a law making it possible for him to be covered by Social Security, if he so desired. This law has been changed to cover a minister unless he does not wish to be so covered, but still considers him to be a self-employed individual as pertains to his Social Security tax. A minister pays all of his tax, with no contribution from the church.

In 1964, the "Keogh bill" was passed giving professionals and other self-employed individuals a retirement option in addition to Social Security. However, the minister is excluded from participation in this program.

Mizell stated: "My bill will make it possible for a minister to join the ranks of his fellow professionals by permitting him to participate in the 'Keogh bill' as well as Social Security. I hope my colleagues will look favorably on this legislation, as a previous Congress did when confronted by the similar situation previously mentioned."

CCB Has Record Year

Central Carolina Bank shareholders at their 65th annual meeting in Durham last week heard details of CCB's record-shattering performance in 1968. Chairman George Wats Hill presented to the shareholders a report stressing how management is building for the future.

Hill told the shareholders that the bank's deposits increased by $18 million during 1968, a gain of 18%. Total loans showed a $12 million increase, or 21%. Earnings of $3.03 per share were 38% greater than the comparable figure for 1967. Total assets showed an advance of $21.9 million, a growth of 20%.

Noting that Carolina Bank & Trust Co. of Denton had been merged into CCB on January 2, 1969, Hill called the shareholders' attention to the fact that they would be asked, at a meeting on March 18, to consider plans for a merger of CCB with Bank of Yadkin, of Yadkinville.

In his remarks, Hill told the shareholders also that the bank's decision to offer Master Charge — the nation's most widely recognized bank charge card plan — was an investment in the future.

As a part of CCB's planning for the future, Hill said a continuing program of building, remodeling, and renovation was being carried on. He cited these instances: Expansion of the Apex Office to provide additional customer space and convenience; Addition of customer parking and an improved drive-up window at Creedmoor; Carpeting and a new roof at Hillsborough; Improved drive-up windows and added customer parking at Mebane; Location of a permanent building site at Oxford; Implementation of construction plans for branch office at Roxboro; Renovation or relocation of Wake Forest Office.

Hill told the shareholders that the bank's four-color report for 1968 — which emphasized the role of CCB's management team — would be available at no charge to all interested persons.

Members of the board elected by the shareholders were: George Watts Hill, chairman; S. P. Alexander; H. Spurgeon Boyce; Oliver K. Cornwell; D. St. Pierre DuBose; Mrs. Herbert J. Fox; L. W. Horton; Frank H. Kenan; Robert L. Lyon; Hubert H. Rand; Donnie A. Sorrell; Bernice L. Ward; and Paul Wright, Jr.

FARMINGTON

Neil Lashley

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lahey and children Lou and Roland, visited Dr. and Mrs. Benard Vick in Greenville, N. C. on last Saturday. Mrs. Vick is Mrs. Lahey's sister.

Mrs. Clayton Groce who was a patient in the Davie County Hospital is now a patient in the Baptist Hospital. Her condition is improving. She is expecting to return home by early next week.

Mrs. Georgette Tucker and Gilbert Tucker visited Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Strupe, and Mrs. Louise Perryman in Lewisville Friday.

James M. Brock of Kinston spent the weekend at home with his mother, Mrs. B. C. Brock, Sr. Other weekend guests of Mrs. Brock were two grandchildren Martin and Robin Brock of Mocksville.

Miss Patricia Brock, student in the Lenoir Community College at Kinston was at home for the weekend. Her guest coming with her was Miss Joan Belick from Ferrell Penn. She is also a student at Lenoir College.

Mrs. J. T. Green returned Friday from a two week trip and visit in Fort Myers Beach in Florida. She reported that flowers, vines, and trees were in full bloom there, making a fairly land dream come true.

Sunday afternoon guests of Miss Eloise Ward were Mrs. Maxine Pruitt and daughter Mary Jo, of Greensboro.

Miss Margaret Brock and Mrs. W. E. Kennen visited Mr. and Mrs. George Sheek, Jr. and G. W. Sheek Friday in the Old Town community of Winston-Salem.

Another heavy weekend snow left the countryside a veritable sight of gleaming beauty. It afforded for the young in heart sledding sport at home and on the hill sides, especially on the long hill on the Old Spillman Farm.

Pino Farmington
Homemakers Meet

Wednesday afternoon, twelve members of the Farmington-Pino Homemakers Club met at the home of Mrs. Vernon Miller with Mrs. B. F. Linville associate hostess, and the vice-president, Mrs. Dwight Jackson, presiding. The meeting opened with the singing of the national hymn, God of Our Father, followed by devotionals given by Mrs. G. H. Smith. She used the third chapter of Proverbs in presenting her message of "Obedience and faith in acknowledging God in our hearts and before man." She closed with the poem "A Happy Home".

During committee reports it was suggested that in sending articles to the soldiers in Vietnam, send warm socks instead of the sweets of candy and koolade. These sweets absorb the heavy moisture from the damp, rainy climate. Those who have used magazines and wish to pass them on to others bring them to the next Club meeting for distribution in the hospital or jail.

Mrs. Gene Miller presented the program, "Investing in Family Relations". She emphasized the importance of good communication between members of the family.

Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Linville served tempting refreshments of chicken salad sandwich, cake squares, nuts, mints, and coffee.

Flying Nickel

Modern, super jetliners, capable of carrying from 360 to 400 passengers, require about 10,000 pounds of nickel in alloy form for engines, landing gear, engine mounts, thrust reversers and miscellaneous pressure tubing.

ABOUT PEOPLE

If we work marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal minds and instill into them just principles we are then engraving that upon tablets which no time will efface, but will brighten and lighten to all eternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Graham are proud parents of a baby girl, Regina Lemell who was born at the Davie County Hospital, February 11th.

MACEDONIA

Once again alot of us were caught unprepared for the snowy weekend we had and also the hours some of us spent without electricity. I sometimes wonder what the younger generation would do if we had to go back to the ways of living that our grandfathers and great-grandfathers had. We are "spoiled" now to all the modern conveniences but you can still have some good eating by using a fireplace such as good steaming coffee and baked potatoes in foil baked in the red hot coals of the fire. The children are always fascinated by the fluffy snow and anxious to build snowmen and I also saw a big igloo which someone had spent alot of time making.

Macedonia had a good attendance Sunday, around 100, in spite of the snow. We were very happy to welcome several new members into our fellowship Sunday. We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Fred McHann from Union Chapel Methodist Church. They also presented their infant daughter in baptism. We also want to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Philip Plyler and Chuck from Union Ridge Methodist in Winston-Salem and Mrs. Plyler's parents Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Culler from Pine Chapel Moravian in Winston-Salem. We are always glad to welcome new members into our church. We also had several visitors at morning worship service and we invite them back again soon.

We still have alot of sickness in the community. We won't try to name them all but we wish them all a speedy recovery.

We want to remember Mrs. Grace Call in our prayers. She underwent ear surgery last Thursday at Martha Jefferson Hospital in Charlottesville, Va. She is now convalescing at her home but cannot have visitors at present.

Mrs. Kate Riddle visited Mrs. Ruth Butner last week.

Mrs. Lula Sparks hasn't been feeling too good lately. Remember her in your prayers and with a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Sparks have always been faithful to visit the sick and needy of the community so now we can remember them. Mrs. Virginia Beckner spent most of last Thursday with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Sparks and Miss Cora Jones of Clemmons visited them Thursday evening.

Ronnie Smith and Ernest Cope visited Mrs. Ira Seats Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Nancy. She is very ill after having a stroke. Please be in prayer for her in her time of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Burke and Geva, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harp and Buddy visited and had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Smith Sunday. In the afternoon they all enjoyed showing home movies.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Parks and Leslie had supper with Mrs. Kate Riddle Sunday evening.

I have been asked to remind all the choir members of choir practice Wednesday nights at 7:30. They are learning some new songs for the Easter services and each choir member needs to come and learn the new songs. If you don't come to practice you don't know how to sing the songs. You may find yourself singing when you should be holding anote. It takes the cooperation of each choir member to have a good choir and it won't hurt us to sacrifice a few extra minutes one night a week for a few weeks to learn some new songs for the beautiful and sacred Easter season. Think of what the Easter season means and what Christ sacrificed when he died on the cross for our sins and I think maybe we will be more willing to give a little more time to helping make the Easter services more meaningful in song as well as in word. Plan now to come and do your part.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Morton and son, Ronnie and Mrs. Mary Gaither of Salisbury visited relatives and friends here Sunday.

Miss Odessa Newsome spent the past weekend with her aunt, Mrs. Helen Frances in Brooklyn, New York.

We are glad to note that Jessie Lee Gaither who has been a patient had the Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem, is now at his home.

Yadkin Valley

The W. M. U. held its regular meeting Monday night at 7 o'clock. The program this month was, "The Living Church at Work" for the week of prayer for Home Missions.

The attendance was good at the Valley Sunday, even if old man winter did dump a 12 inch snow on us. It was a most beautiful snow and the trees looked like pictures with snow standing 3 or 4 inches on some of the branches. But how about the big thunder and lash of lightning at 6:30, and the snow still coming down.

Mrs. Lois Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Parker and daughter, Michelle visited Mr. and Mrs. Larry Parker, Tracy and Paul Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Boles had supper Sunday night with Mrs. Maude Hauser and Mr. and Mrs. Henry McBride. Also visiting them were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Allen, Mrs. Eugene Hauser, Letty and Wesley. Mr. and Mrs. Boles plan to return to their home in Dallas, Texas sometime this week.

Little Patrick Williard returned to his home Saturday after having surgery last Thursday at Forsyth Memorial Hospital. He is getting along fine.

Mrs. Jim Zimmerman returned to her home Thursday after having surgery at Forsyth Memorial Hospital. Her condition is much improved.

Mrs. Ruby McBride visited Mrs. Dulcie Hauser Sunday.

Mr. Jake Sheek's condition was some better Sunday. We hope he will continue to improve.

Mrs. Hattie Allen spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Allen. Her husband is still a patient at Lula Conrad Hospital at Yadkinville.

Ronnie Riddle was home for the weekend and attended church service Sunday.

Cornatzer News

Miss Bonnie Day, student at Piedmont Bible College, spent the weekend with her parents Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Day.

Lucille Potts is undergoing treatment at Davie County Hospital for asthma.

Sunday afternoon visitors of Sampson Winters were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barney of Cleveland, N. C.

Mrs. Deal Thorton is a patient at Davie County Hospital. Her condition is not improved.

Mrs. Louise Potts expresses her thanks for the many nice cards, gifts, deeds and prayers for her during her illness.

Mr. and Mrs. James Boger visited Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Daywalt Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Laura Jane Barnhardt was sick at her home several days last week.

Spurgeon Foster is under treatment at Davie County Hospital.

Sunday afternoon visitors of Mrs. Lena Wall were Mrs. Leona Bowens, Larry Carter, and Christine West.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald West and Kristy visited Mr. and Mrs. Roger West and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fulcher in Winston-Salem Sunday.

Mrs. Homer Potts spent Wednesday with Mrs. Louise Potts and Mrs. Barbara Allen in Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leonard of Boone and Mrs. Annie Ruth Leonard and Mrs. Ruby Pierce of Harmony visited Mr. and Mrs. Claude Williams Sunday.

Terry Potts, student at N. C. University at Chapel Hill spent the weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Potts.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Potts were Mrs. Mae Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Welden Allen and Weldaia, Mrs. Jo Bowens and Garlene and Lavada.

The Cornatzer 4-H Club will have a Talent Show Tuesday, March 11, at 7:30 p.m.

Four Corners

Linda Burgess of A. S. U. Boone spent the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burgess.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ratledge Jr. visited his parents Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Cain Ratledge.

Mr. and Mrs. Von Shelton and Cindy attended funeral services Thursday of Cindy's Godfather, Onnie Wall at Vogler's Chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shelton visited Mr. and Mrs. George Laymon Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Bon May visited Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Shelton Sunday evening.

This community wishes to express their deepest sympathy to Dewey Dixon in the recent death of his wife, Mrs. Lela Essie Dixon.

ORIN BENSON and his field trained retrievers is booked as one of the headline attractions at the Sportsmen's, Boat, Camping and Vacation Show of the Carolinas in Charlotte Coliseum, March 11-16. Benson, dean of hunting dog trainers and handlers, from Eagle, Wisconsin, will celebrate his 30th anniversary on the Sports Show circuit during the Greenville Show.

Here and There

A reminder to all, Rev. Middleton will show a series of color slides made on the Mission field in Chile on Sunday night, March 9, at 7:30 P. M. at the Green Meadows Church. A cordial welcome is given to everyone wishing to attend and enjoy seeing and hearing about one of the countries in South America.

Although the snow was deep on Sunday, Rev. Middleton made it from Lone Hickory and 37 members of Green Meadows were in church on Sunday morning, also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Luther West and son of Pino. When they found no one at their church, they came on down and paid a visit to Green Meadows.

Mark Williard was confined to his bed on the weekend with a cold and sore throat. What a time for a young teenager to have to stay in bed with 14 or 15 inches of snow on the ground.

Rev. H. K. Middleton was the guest on Sunday of the Joe Langstons. Their afternoon guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Langston of Statesville.

Mrs. Bessie Smith is on the sick list again, also not well as Willis Riddle, Mitchell Wheeler and Mrs. Keith Hodgson.

All of those who can get out, now is a good time to visit the sick and the shut-ins, also the new people who have moved in. Fred White enjoys visits from their friends, although Mrs. White's condition has become so that she is not able to communicate with visitors due to her sight and hearing loss.

A visit last week to Mrs. Richard Sheets finds them well and the twin boys healthy and happy, weighing and measuring the same thing. Little Susan is so proud of her brothers and is happy to give them her toys. One of the twins now crawls on his hands and knees and the other one slides on his tummy.

Mrs. Pearl Matthews visited Mrs. Kenneth Holt and Mrs. Bobby Salmons, new residents of the area one day last week.

PINO NEWS

The community was very beautiful Saturday morning with the ugly things covered in snow and the tree limbs with a white cover. They were so pretty.

This community was very sad to hear of Mrs. Dewey Dixon's death last week. She was a friend to everyone and always had a smile.

Mrs. Harmon McMahan has been moved from Davie County Hospital to her daughter's home in Cooleemee, Mrs. Ed Hoyle. Mr. McMahan is also staying down there.

J. H. McClannan has returned home from the Baptist Hospital.

Fred Trivette is a patient at Davie County Hospital after suffering a heart attack.

Mrs. Lester Dull is spending sometime with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Pendleton and little son at Boone, Vernon and Luther Dull and Sherry Shelton visited them Sunday and reported a lot of snow in the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Astor Shelton's home has a new coat of paint.

Mocks News

There was a good attendance at church services Sunday morning.

Our community extends sympathy to Mrs. Lee Mock and Mrs. Herman Myers in the recent death of their mother, and father, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Myers of Bixby and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dzekemich and children of Griffith Road visited Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Myers Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jones of Redland visited Miss Claudia Jones Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Foster and Miss Flossie Foster of Dulin visited Mrs. Roy Carter Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Rupard of Lewisville visited Mr. and Mrs. John Phelps Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Cornatzer of Winston-Salem visited Mrs. Roy Cornatzer Saturday.

Miss Sallie Beauchamp returned to her home Wednesday from Fran Ray Rest Home.

Mrs. Thomasine Pierce of Winston-Salem visited Mr. and Mrs. W. r. Craver Sunday. Mr. Craver's condition is worse, he is now confined to his bed.

Cedar Creek

It is not ours to worry about the uncertainties of tomorrow. It is ours to live our best from day to day and trust God for the future. "For yesterday is but a dream, and tomorrow is only a vision; But today well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness, and every tomorrow a vision of hope."

The Town and Bond Issues!

On May 6th this year the citizens of the Town of Mocksville will be asked to vote for the issuance of up to $495,000 worth of bonds to help finance a new sewage system. This is the second time within the past 6 years that residents living within the narrow corporate limits of the town have been asked to assume a bonded indebtedness to enlarge and improve the water and sewage systems of the area.

Only 6 years ago, back in 1963, the citizens of Mocksville approved a $500,000 water bond issue for expanding and improving the town's water system. This bond money has been well spent and the Town of Mocksville now has a water system capable of supplying not only the needs of the town, but the immediate surrounding area. In fact, a recent survey by an engineering firm has come up with the recommendation that the water treatment facilities at Mocksville "could and should be expanded to serve all of Davie County."

Now all of this is fine and something of which the Town of Mocksville can well be proud of and for which county residents can be thankful. However, the trend to continue to keep the primary source for these utilities confined to a small number of taxpayers in the Town of Mocksville is most alarming. . . and could equate the fairy tale of "killing the goose that lays the golden egg".

The matter, of course, to which is being referred is the continued refusal by the governing officials of the Town of Mocksville to extend the city limits . . . to take in certain surrounding areas so that the tax responsibility of such utilities as has previously been mentioned could be shared more equitably.

At the present time the taxpayers of Mocksville are paying off the $500,000 water bond issue and interest and the town is supplying water to areas outside the corporate limits, including both residents and industry. It is true that those outside the town pay a higher rate than those within the town, but it still does not compensate for the taxes being paid to pay off the bonded indebtedness that makes such service possible.

The budget for this year of the Town of Mocksville sets the expense for operating and maintaining the water department at $39,518.70 and the sewer department at $17,370 for a total of $56,888.70. The estimated revenue from the water and sewer department was put at $67,000. But . . . and it is a big one . . . the Town of Mocksville is paying $52,592.50 a year in payment of principal and interest on bonds . . . an amount which most of it comes from the taxpayers of the town. As some one recently put it . . . "the only difference of living within the city limits than right on the outside is the payment of the $1.12 tax rate . . . we pay it and they don't. There is little difference in services received!"

Far too long now have town officials put off the expansion of the Town of Mocksville. Far too many excuses and negative reasoning have been advanced to keep the town the same size as it was originally laid out more than 130 years ago. There are few municipalities in the state today that can claim this negative record.

With the $500,000 sewage bond vote coming up on May 6th . . . the same time the town is electing a mayor and five commissioners . . . some definite and decisive steps should be taken towards including the certain areas to be benefited within the framework of the Town of Mocksville. The present situation is most unjust and unfair.

CONFLICT?...Since he took office a few weeks ago, Attorney General Robert Morgan has-through activity on behalf of the people-made himself a popular man for any job he cares to seek in 1972.

He has been widely mentioned as a candidate for Governor next time. Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor of Wadesboro is also in the running for the top job.

Then, last week, Leo Jenkins of Greenville came right out and all but made himself a candidate for Governor three years hence. Dr. Leo didn't beat about the bush. Infact, doesn't know how to--

Now, since Attorney General Morgan and East Carolina University President Jenkins' plans might do to Morgan's possible candidacy. You see, Morgan is chairman of the board of trustees for ECU and in fact is the man chiefly responsible for its conversion from college to university.

Odds are, they both will not run. This would divide eastern strength. And the east-less numerous than they used to be in the Legislature-has a deep-seated, all-consuming hunger for more political prominence.

Meantime, Pat Taylor tends strictly to his knitting-as the presiding elder of a sometimes-rambunctious State Senate.

BEST TAX....The Governor seems to be holding his strength for the tobacco tax. He has victory already in the State Senate. However, it is still nip-and-tuck over in the House-or was of this past weekend.

Legislators do a lot of perspiring over where to get the additional money always needed.

The ideal tax must be fair and equitable-easily assessed and quite collectable. Including society, young and old, business and industry must take hold.

Professional men should pay their share-to make the tax completely fair. Now for those who cannot afford to pay, exemptions will help to show the way. Revenue must adjust to changing times; and always produce the needed dimes to pay for the services we demand...to keep Tarheelia always...the Fairest Land.

COMPLETE MESS....The legislative printing machinery, sputtering all session, broke down completely this past Friday night. Fortunately, all but a handful of the legislators had left for home hours earlier.

So bogged down was the modern-as-tomorrow gadgets, the legislative branch of the government had to send over to the Revenue Department and bring in special help. Thanks to red tape, this was camera-the toe of their boot. Although the bugs in the new machines have been the butt of many jokes, they are actually leading to short tempers-and some clashes of personality at....high level.

IN RETURN....Many a North Carolinian is sweating-and will until April 15-over the 10 percent surtax going to Uncle Sam.

But when one observes only one small school system--Martin in this instance-getting $700,000 per year from the Federal Government, you can readily see where the money goes.

Now on July 1, North Carolina will join around 40 other states coming under the Federal Truth-in-Lending Law. This was passed last year after eight years of study in the Congress. The same law will apply to all states under it. Uniformity. . .after long deliberation.

Although the Legislature is almost sure to get a North Carolina credit regulation bill, odds are it will prefer the Uncle Sam model. Why? Because of uniformity; no cost to the State; and the fact that the Federal Truth-in-Lending Law will be supervised by the Federal Reserve System.

The more the average citizen pays into Uncle Sam's pocket, the more he expects in return. Or vice versa. And the consensus is that the Federal Reserve is better equipped than the N. C. Banking Commission to supervise credit transactions affecting banks, furniture stores, automobile firms, etc. A big order! This one will bear watching.

CAR SALES UP....While Ford, Rambler, and General Motors are now in the last stages of tooling for their small cars (to sell for about $2,000 and compete with Volkswagen) the regular big car sales continue upward in this State. New car sales were 16,274 in January last year. Chevy was on top with 3,925. Ford second with 3,666, and Pontiac third with 1,465.

TEN LITTLE DRIVERS

TEN little drivers, road and weather fine . . . One nodded, fell asleep--then there were nine.
NINE little drivers, one a little late . . . Tried to pass upon a hill--so there were eight.
EIGHT little drivers, one went to heaven . . . He ignored a stop sign--then there were seven.
SEVEN little drivers, speeding in the sticks . . . Out popped a moving van--now there are only six.
SIX little drivers, laughing and alive . . . one with tires completely bald--skidded, now there's five.
FIVE little drivers, one with faulty door . . . Didn't have his seat belt on--so there's only four.
FOUR little drivers, one who couldn't see . . . With a dirty windshield--that left only three.
THREE little drivers, one of them a "stew"
Drank a dozen cans of beer--leaving only two.
TWO little drivers, dragging just for fun . . . One didn't see the open ditch--that left only one.
ONE little driver, round a curve he tore . . . Lost control and hit a tree--there isn't any more.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Sgt. Randall Miller's Unit Receives Award

Sergeant Randall A. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Powell E. Miller, Rt. 2, Mocksville, is a member of the 6100th Support Wing at Tachikawa AB, Japan, that has earned the U. S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

This Pacific Air Forces unit was cited for nine years of accident-free flying, support of Asia Operations and in maintaining good community relations with the Japanese people. The wing was also commended for exceeding Department of Defense standards in aircraft maintenance administrative airlift for the Fifth Air Force and for outstanding operation of housing areas.

Sergeant Miller, a computer operator, will wear the distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the unit.

The sergeant is a 1964 graduate of Davie County High School.

His wife is the former Kiyoko Uehara.

Advance News

Attendance at the United Methodist Church was good on Sunday despite the now. Several visitors were in the congregation, among them were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Potts, Regie and Anita Potts, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Browder and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Craig and Gary Craig of Clemmons. Mrs. Walter Shutt, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Collette and Jeanne Collette of Winston-Salem were Sunday luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Collette of Raleigh. Bob is Mrs. Shutt's grandson. After lunch the group had an interesting tour of Raleigh.

The newly formed Triad Sportsman Club held its monthly meeting at the home of Charlie Latham on Wednesday evening with 16 members attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Foltz of Winston-Salem were Wednesday afternoon visitors of Miss Laura Shutt.

Miss Anita Potts spent Friday night with Julia

Cornatzer.

Mrs. Rhea Potts has returned home after spending the past week in Greensboro as a guest of Mrs. Frances Faucette.

Mrs. Mozelle Ratledge had many visitors Sunday. Among them was her brother, G. W. McCulloh of Charlotte. Luncheon guests were her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Frye of Mocksville. Another daughter, Mrs. Harvey Hamerick and baby of Chapel Hill arrived Sunday afternoon to spend a few days. Mrs. Ratledge's supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Smith and Jean Smith of Redland.

Frederick Bailey, a student at U. N. C. Chapel Hill, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bailey.

Darlene Godbey's Success Story!

Darlene Godbey's success story is one of those little sparklers too often lost in the hullabaloo over massive anti-poverty programs. It shouldn't be.

Darlene is the 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Godbey of Mocksville, Rt. 4. Her handicap? She's the next eldest daughter in a family of 11 children. Her dad's take home pay from saw mill or construction work couldn't stretch far enough to adequately cover the needs of the ever-growing family.

Darlene welcomed the opportunity to earn money as a worker with the Neighborhood Youth Corps, one of the many branches of the anti-poverty program coordinated in the four-county area of Davie, Stokes, Surry and Yadkin by the Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Inc., headquartered at Boonville.

For 16 months the pretty youngster worked as NYC worker in the office of Mrs. Mary Kiser, secretary of Davie County High School, where she was a student taking such courses as shorthand, typing, and office practices.

Mrs. Mildred Foster, Davie Manpower Coordinator, and at that time Neighborhood Youth Corps director as well, saw in Darlene the qualities that make for success in the business world. When graduation day arrived in May of 1968, Darlene moved out of the NYC jurisdiction, but Mrs. Foster followed through and helped her protegee land a job with the Hanes Corporation at its Central Distribution Center at Advance near Mocksville.

Beginning as a file clerk and card sorter, Darlene quickly moved up until now she works in the Data Processing Section at the Central Distribution plant. She was trained in key punch operation and IBM card sorting at the Hanes plant in Winston-Salem.

Advancements have come rapidly for the Davie youngster, with three pay raises already chalked up to her credit, plus one company advancement. She now makes close to $2.00 per hour.

"I love my work and I love the people I work with here," Darlene enthused.

Plant Manager, Art Hodges notes that the company is equally happy with the arrangement.

"Darlene is an excellent employee," he pointed out. "She is an asset to our plant and we are very happy to have her working here."

That's music to the ears of Mildred Foster, who takes pride in her NYC graduates. She follows through and places each of them on jobs at the conclusion of their high school careers, which also heralds the end of their participation in the NYC program.

"With the exception of the college-bound students, anyone who got her own job," Mrs. Foster said, "I managed to place all my NYC students on jobs."

Neighborhood Youth Corps supplied work experience, financial assistance and developed pride in accomplishment that will forever be a great asset to Darlene Godbey.

"I feel that working with the NYC helped me in so many, many ways," Darlene pointed out.

What does the future hold for Darlene?

If the ring on her third finger, left hand, is any clue, she'll be getting married soon. She and David Tutterow, a Mocksville, Route 4, native plan to be married sometime in August of this year. David is a senior at East Carolina University, Greenville.

Does she plan to have a large family, with say, 11 children?

The answer to that query was quick in coming. It was an emphatic, NO! She explained she sometimes feels as if she's already raised a couple of families, because of helping out with the Godbey clan which lists Darlene at 19, an older sister, 20, and the other brothers and sisters strung out at 17, 16, 15, 14, 10, eight, five, four, and two years of age.

"Sort of like doorsteps," she laughed. "But it has made a close family of us."

Darlene continues to live with her family and commutes to work each day. "She deserves all the good things that can come her way," Mrs. Foster concludes. "She's a mighty good little girl and she works hard. She's a great example of what can happen when we help people to help themselves."

The Battleship U. S. S. North Carolina, now berthed at Wilmington as a state memorial, was the biggest and most heavily armed ship in the U. S. Navy at the time of her commissioning in 1941.

Incentive Grants Spark Improvements In Area

Incentive grants from Federal funds have played a major role in helping the poor in the four counties of Surry, Yadkin, Stokes and Davie to gain much-needed services they had been without for years, to learn to make better use of their time and effort, and in many cases to gain a better insight into the workings of private enterprise and government.

One of the brighter examples of what an incentive grant can lead to can be found in the North Mocksville section of Davie County, where a small group of Negro families took a $1,000 incentive grant, matched it with $3,104 raised by the sweat of their own brow and had a water system installed to serve their neighborhood. These people had for more than 20 years carried water from some distance away to their homes, using jugs, buckets and other vessels for conveyance. Each family in the neighborhood was requested to come up with a $342 contribution of its own ... and each did so, although in most every case at great sacrifice. Their reaction? Pride, great pride in a job well done. This pride is already carrying over into other facets of their community lives and is expected to continue to do so.

A cooperative grocery store at Dobson is another example of incentive grant at work. This particular grant, also for $1,000, has given the poor people of Dobson an opportunity to display initiative and business know-how and to develop pride in accomplishment. The lone paid employee is Mrs. Shirley Crouse, who receives $15 per week for operating the store. All other work, including repairs to the building, has for the most been done free of charge. This store has been in operation since Jan. 23, 1969.

Another cooperative grocery store is being operated at the Cross Roads section of Surry County. This rural neighborhood was in dire need of such a facility. Again a $1,000 incentive grant was the foundation on which this store was built. The facility is located in an abandoned school building that was remodeled by the people of the neighborhood ... again free of the charge. Much of the equipment in the store was donated by the people. The people themselves operate the store, but a paid operator has been named. She is Mrs. L. C. Britley, who is to receive the sum of $25 per week for her labor. However, as of the moment, she has not accepted payment for her work. Rather, she has volunteered it. Members of the neighborhood council make up the bulk of the work force.

A third cooperative grocery store, located in the CAP Community Service Center at Jonesville, is in operation, thanks to a $1,000 incentive grant. Here again, the theme is volunteer labor, and plenty of it. Used equipment has been purchased or donated and the store is operating. A salaried person is expected to be placed in charge eventually.

These cooperative grocery stores provide a service to the communities in which they are located, in that they do provide some goods at lower prices than can be had at some privately owned neighborhood grocery stores. They still can not compete too well with the supermarkets and their vast bulk purchasing power. However, the cooperative stores do save the poor some money and they do teach some valuable lessons in business ... while instilling tremendous pride. They are also good for business, because they buy their stocks from the reputable wholesale establishments in the area, just as the privately operated stores do.

A third type project resulting from an incentive grant can be found in Southeast Yadkin, where a neighborhood council organization sought and got a grant to remodel an old church building for use as a community building and day care center for their community. They, too, plan to perhaps eventually move into the cooperative grocery phase of service as others in the area have done. Already work has begun on the old building: A new roof has been added and the eaves are being boxed in. Windows are being replaced. An oil circulator is to be put in and the inside ceiling and other finishing touches are due to be done soon. In the very near future, it is hoped that meetings can be held in the renovated building. Work is being done by volunteers, at no charge.

Some other grants have been applied for, but not yet approved and funded. One of these, in the Baileytown section of Stokes County, is now pending and upon approval may result in a much-needed recreation area for that community.

These incentive grants, in every case, have done what their title implies: provided an incentive to give the poor of this area the necessary spark to improve their lot through their own initiative and hard work. A proud citizen is a valuable citizen. These people now have something of which they can be justly proud.

Elbaville News

Owing to the deep snow, there were no church services at Elbaville last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Foltz of near Winston-Salem visited Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Markland one day last week. Their Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Coy Combs and son of Lewisville, Rt. 1.

Visitors Sunday at Mrs. Sallie Carter's home were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Everhart and son of Lexington and Miss Carol Brigman and friend Johnny Snider.

Mrs. Carter spent a part of last week visiting her daughter Mrs. Tom Brigman on the Baltimore Road.

On Feb. 14, Mrs. Mildred Hege and granddaughter, Lisa, and Mrs. Annie Hall attended the wedding of Mrs. Hall's granddaughter, Judy Hall of Kernersville and Jerry Call of Winston-Salem at the Gospel Light Baptist Church.

Sunday Mrs. Hall and son, T. K. Hall, attended the wedding of her grandson, Allen Hall, and Miss Linda Roberts at Morris Chapel Church. Both live on Vance Road near Kernersville.

The Advance-Elbaville Homemakers Club met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Iva Young.

The new president, Mrs. Blanche Wallace, and new secretary, Mrs. Iva Young, officiated. Nine members were present and enjoyed a social hour with delicious refreshments. The March meeting will be with Mrs. Mildred Hege at her home.

Honor Society Holds Induction Ceremony

The Davie High School Chapter of the National Honor Society held its induction ceremony on Thursday, February 27, at the county library.

Karen Cook, president, presided over the meeting.

Billy Anderson had devotionals, after which Lanette Barney, Brenda Summers, Paula Walker, and Bonnie Tutterow discussed the four qualities of character, leadership, scholarship and service, which the National Honor Society stands.

Membership cards were presented to the new members, James Wall, Faculty Advisor. Previous members were also recognized.

Bob Hoyle gave a very interesting talk on his work with the mentally retarded children of Davie County and the plans for the Mental Health Clinic.

After the program, the members and their parents enjoyed refreshments of punch and cookies.

Career In Science And Engineering??? JETS To Be Organized Locally

Are you interested in a career in science or engineering? If so, then the JETS may be of help to you.

The JETS, short for Junior Engineers Technical Society, is affiliated with the Winston-Salem Engineers Society. The group is sponsored by engineers from all over North Carolina. The main purpose of the group is to help high school students discover what the field of engineering is about. It also introduces the many phases of engineering.

A JETS chapter has been established in Davie County. Mr. M. L. Niblock, science instructor at Davie High, is acting as coordinator for the school. G. L. McClamrock, an engineer at Western Electric in Winston-Salem and a member of the Winston-Salem Engineers Society, is the group advisor. The club consists of about 13 members made up of juniors and seniors although the group is seeking younger students. The local chapter meets every second and fourth Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. All of the meetings are open to the public, and the JETS need public support in order to function successfully.

Since most students should make their choice as to a career in early high school, the JETS is extremely helpful to freshmen and sophomores. Many would-be engineering students go into college without realizing that there are hundreds of different types of engineering. The JETS offers materials and speakers from different fields of engineering to try to help the members in learning about a particular field from college on through life. Parents and students who are interested in investigating the fields of engineering will find the JETS a valuable help.

The JETS chapter of Davie County has had several guest speakers. Mr. Harold Bolick, City Engineer of Winston-Salem, spoke to the group about Civil Engineering as a Profession. He discussed the college requirements and told of some of the problems encountered by a civil engineer in day to day work. In another meeting, Mr. David Dean, an industrial engineer at Western Electric, spoke on Industrial Engineering. He also explained the educational requirements, plus the requirements of an individual to be an industrial engineer. The group has other speakers lined up for future meetings, including an Equipment Engineer slated to speak at the regular club meeting on March 13.

The JETS of Davie County also has some plans to attend a State Engineers Fair at State College on March 29. Several tours are being planned for the group by some of the industries of Winston-Salem.

Davie County's JETS Chapter needs the support of the students and their parents. Anyone who is interested in one or more fields of engineering shouldn't wait until their senior year before investigating the requirements. By then, it will be too late to take a badly needed course which was left out. The JETS will give to the potential engineering student a broad understanding of the various phases of engineering as a profession.

The JETS Chapter of Davie County is ready and willing to help any student who is truly interested in a form of engineering or science as a lifetime profession.

James Latham Is Taken Into Fraternity

James M. Latham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon R. Latham of Route Two, Mocksville, North Carolina has been initiated as a founding brother of the Lambda Chi Alpha Colony on the Western Carolina University campus. Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity is one of the largest college fraternities with 168 chapters and 12 colonies in the United States and Canada.

James M. Latham was graduated in 1966 from Davie County High School.

The initiation was held Saturday, February 22 and was followed by a banquet in Dillsboro, North Carolina.

The "In" Metal

Sixteen denominations of pure nickel and nickel alloy coins were introduced by seven different countries in 1968 to replace coins previously struck in silver.

Underground Forest

International Nickel's underground mining operations in Ontario require some 40,000,000 board feet of timber each year.

Electricity keeps helping to inspire new and better ways to get things done, to give people time to take it easy. It's one of the best values people get.

In fact, today the average Piedmont Carolina family gets about twice as much electricity for a dollar as it did thirty years ago.

That's value — particularly when you think about how the price of almost everything else has gone way up.

The old house located on South Main at the intersection of the Lexington Road was burned last Saturday afternoon by the William R. Davie Fire Department. Davie's newest volunteer fire department used the burning of this house to train some of their personnel in fire fighting tactics. The above photos, made by Gray Smith, show various stages in the burning of this old house.

School Art On Display

The public is invited to view the art exhibit now on display at the Davie County Library. This is another of the art shows sponsored by the Mocksville Woman's Club.

The art on display is from the art classes taught by Larry Groce of the Davie County High School. The display shows some of the talents of the high school students.

The show covers a wide variety of media including oils, pastels, crayon resist, pen and ink, charcoal, paper mosaic, collage, ceramic sculpture, wood carving, acrylic and water colors.

LITTLE LEAGUE

The Davie County Little League Association will meet in the Davie County Courthouse on Thursday, March 13, at 7:30 p.m. Bill Hall, President of the Association, announces that this is a most important meeting for the purpose of organizing and making plans for the coming year.

Statement On Education Audit Denied By Boards

A joint statement issued last week by the Davie County Board of Commissioners and the Davie County Board of Education is a direct denial of a statement made February 26th by Rep. Gilbert Lee Boger that the school board had never supplied an audit for publication.

Rep. Boger had introduced a bill in the North Carolina General Assembly that would require the education board to make quarterly financial reports to the county commissioners. At the time the bill was introduced the representative was quoted as saying: "to my knowledge our board has never supplied an audit for publication."

The bill passed the House of Representatives and was sent on to the Senate. Last Friday this bill, Bill 148, was given an unfavorable report by the ## Senate Committee.

Davie County School Superintendent James Everidge said Monday that he understood that Rep. Boger had now withdrawn this bill.

The joint statement released last Friday, signed by John M. Bailey, chairman of the Davie County Board of County Commissioners, and G. H. C. Shutt, Chairman of the Davie Board of Education, was "to clear up possible misunderstanding which may have arisen as a result of recent articles in the press."

The two boards, in the joint statement, indicated that the board of education "has filed" and the county commissioners "has received a quarterly financial report initially requested by" the commissioners "October 3,

Mill Operations Curtailed At Cooleemee

Erwin Mills will close its yarn manufacturing and weaving operations in Cooleemee, but will continue to operate the dyeing and finishing plants.

Notice of the shutdown was made to employees at meetings Tuesday and Wednesday.

The closing of the two operations was as a result of continuing poor business in markets for heavyweight cotton and synthetic blend apparel fabrics, management said. Such fabrics include gabardines, twills and poplins, which are fabrics heavily affected by foreign imports.

Not affected by the closing will be some 400 employees in the dyeing and finishing operations. They will continue to process fabrics manufactured by other Erwin plants. Talks with individual employees began Wednesday. Company personnel officials will explain the unemployment, profit sharing and other benefits to each employee affected by the closing.

A company spokesman said Erwin will continue to operate the recreation center, pool and water and sewer plants.

"The closing," said one official, "is in no way a reflection on the people or the town. We hate to see this as much as anyone in Cooleemee does. The fact is that the operation has been losing money for two years, and nothing we could do seemed to turn the tide. Probably the most important factor was the foreign imports, which hurt the heavy apparel fabrics industry so badly."

The Erwin Mills Plant in Cooleemee . . . And change of shifts at the time of announcement.

The company's statement, released Tuesday afternoon, was as follows:

Erwin Mills announced today that continuing poor business in markets for heavyweight cotton and synthetic blend apparel fabrics will force the shutdown of yarn manufacturing and weaving operations at its plant here.

D. E. Barham, manufacturing division manager, said dyeing and finishing operations at the Cooleemee Plant will not be affected and will continue to process fabrics manufactured by other Erwin plants.

He said that a decline in demand and depressed prices for the types of fabric made here, brought on in part by imports from the Far East of both fabrics and finished apparel, had caused the local plant to operate at a "substantial loss" for the past two years.

"Every effort has been made to make this a profitable operation," Mr. Barham said. "We have spent very substantial sums of money for improvements in plant, and equipment since 1962, but there has been only deterioration in business and we must reluctantly take this step."

He stressed that only the "greige" mill, which includes yarn and weaving operations, was involved in the shutdown. "Between 700 and 800

DEADLINE IS 5 P.M. FRIDAY

M. H. Murray Files For Town Board

Friday, March 21st, at 5 p.m. will be the deadline for filing for mayor of board of commissioners for the Town of Mocksville.

Mocksville will elect a mayor and five councilmen this year. The Primary will be held on April 8th and the election on Tuesday, May 5th.

As of noon Tuesday, only one man had filed for office.

M. H. Murray filed last week as a candidate for the Mocksville town board of commissioners, subject to the April Primary.

Mr. Murray, manager of the Mocksville Feed Division of Holly Industries, is a former member of the town council, serving three terms from 1949 to 1955.

He is chairman of the board of directors of the Central Carolina Bank, a member of the Mocksville Rotary Club, and an active member of the Mocksville United Methodist Church.

33-Year Perfect Attendance Record

Richard Ferebee has been presented an award for 33-years of perfect attendance at Sunday services of the Eatons Baptist Church.

He is the son of Mrs. J. G. and the late Mr. Ferebee of the Cana community.

Rotary Views Film On Use Of Schools

Members of the Mocksville Rotary Club viewed a film "To Touch A Child" at their regular meeting, Tuesday.

The film concerned making the full use of school buildings and playgrounds for the benefit of the community. It depicted what a city in Michigan did in this regard.

E. C. Morris had charge of the program. Leo Williams showed the film. President O. K. Pope presided.

Jericho-Hardison Area Forms Corp. To Purchase Water

A new non-profit organization has been formed in the Jericho-Hardison section of Davie County to solve the water pollution problem.

The Jericho-Hardison Water Corporation has been organized and officers and directors named to handle finances and guide the first steps of the new company.

Ashley Seaford was elected president of the new corporation; Bob Shore, secretary; and Glenn Seaford, treasurer. Directors are Dr. L. W. Richards and John Spillman.

Glenn Seaford said the area will comprise sections along Hardison Church Road and Davie Academy-Cooleemee roads, including the new Residential development called Southwest Acres.

Seaford said the area will include about 70 families, and that 25 residents signed up for membership in the corporation at the meeting at Hardison Church.

The company treasurer added that at least 60 people must sign up in order to raise the money to finance the company which will be owned by the membership. Membership in the corporation is available for a fee of $650 which will pay for the entire system if 60 residents agree to the contract.

This money will finance the laying of water lines from Mocksville to the area, and thereafter each resident will pay a monthly rate to Mocksville for the service.

Seaford said that a representative from Branch Bank in Mocksville had met with the citizens group several times and that he assured them the bank will finance anyone in the area to join the system.

It has been estimated that more than 70 per cent of the shallow wells in Davie County drilled in what is called "buck tallow" soils are polluted. This type of soil is a problem, not only for wells, but also for septic tanks because it is type which does not readily absorb drainage.

One community in the proposed water system is already having trouble with wells, and other residents are concerned that their wells may be polluted.

Seaford said that company members are hoping everyone else in the area will join the corporation immediately, and that the firm now expects to get the water lines installed this summer.

Court Ends Session

The March session of Superior Court ended last week. Judge Fate J. Beal presided. Cases disposed of were as follows:

State Highway Commission vs Clyde G. Melton and wife Edna R. Melton et al, settled. Mrs. Carole Robertson Foster vs S. M. Call, acting admr. of the Estate of Johnny Franklin Foster, et al, settled. Divorces granted included: William Hubert Barney vs Ethel Sherman Barney, Elmer Cicero Smith vs Addie Nichols Smith, Marilyn Jean Davis Smith vs Gary Preston Smith, and Annie Lois Swisher Howard vs Charlie Samuel Howard.

All other cases docketed for the session were continued.

Lt. Commander Sofley Receives Navy Citation

Lieutenant Commander Billy R. Sofley has been awarded the Navy Achievement Medal for meritorious achievement during combat operations against the enemy.

Commander Sofley, son of Harley Sofley of Gwyn Street, Mocksville and the late Mrs. Sofley, was cited for services as supply officer aboard the USS VANCOUVER LPD 2, February 26 to August 19, 1968.

The award was for his superior professional competence, determination and problem-solving ability which produced an outstanding material availability program throughout a long and arduous deployment remote from sources of supply.

The recent awards ceremony was held aboard the USS VANCOUVER LPD 2.

Commander Sofley has also been selected by the Navy to attend graduate school at Michigan State University this fall. This graduate study will be in the field of retailing.

The following is a copy of the citation presented to him:

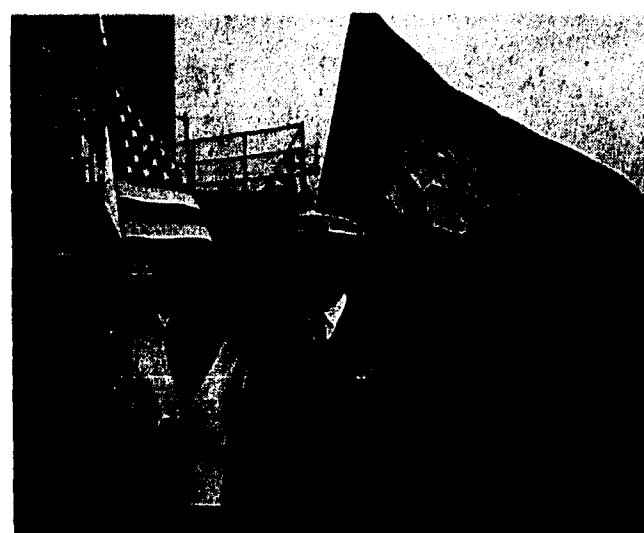

LT. CMDR. SOFLEY

"For meritorious achievement while attached to and serving in USS VANCOUVER (LPD-2) as Supply Officer from 26 February to 19 August 1968 during combat operations against the enemy. Lieutenant Commander Sofley's superior professional competence, determination and problem-solving ability produced an outstanding material availability program throughout a long and arduous deployment remote from sources of supply. His supervision of a Supply Department dedicated to the needs of the ship, and never failing in support to embarked and Landing Marine Corps personnel amply demonstrated his reliability and resourcefulness in the face of difficulties. Lieutenant Commander Sofley's professionalism, judgment and leadership reflected great credit upon himself and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Lieutenant Commander Sofley is authorized to wear the Combat "V".

Davie Has 203 Businesses

There is a total of 203 businesses in Davie County, according to statistics released by C. L. Deck, manager of the Greensboro office of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. This total is based on a physical count of the March, 1969 edition of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book.

Mr. Deck noted that each year business concerns in all parts of the United States are asked by Dun & Bradstreet for copies of their financial statements. This year requests are being sent to nearly three million business concerns -- to the corner grocery store, worth a few thousand dollars, as well as to businesses worth millions.

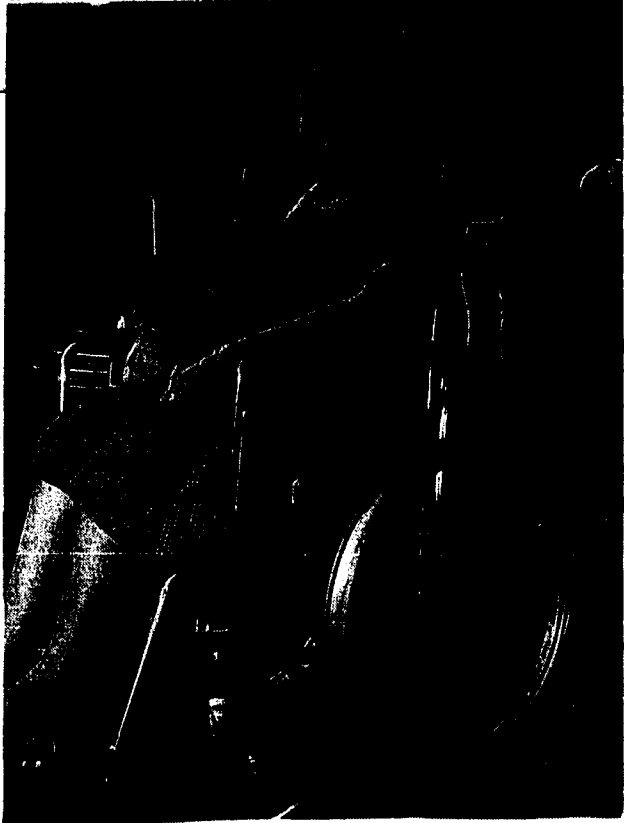

The Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book lists those manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers who seek or grant commercial credit, but it does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, security dealers and real estate brokers. Therefore, the figures for total businesses in the United States would be higher than the three million quoted above.

During the past year, Deck added, approximately 20% of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book listings for Davie County businesses were changed. The changes occurring in Davie County are about even with the rest of the country.

When the owner or officer of a business enterprise, or his accountant, fills in and mails his financial statement to Dun & Bradstreet, it becomes a part of the credit report on his

Miss Josephine Cooley.....an inspiration to others!

---THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY IN MOCKSVILLE---

Thanks Jo!

It was 1939... thirty years ago... that a lovely young woman came to Mocksville and assumed ownership of the Mayfair Beauty Shop.

After operating this shop for less than three years, Miss Josephine Cooley was injured in an automobile accident, becoming paralyzed from the waist down.

And this was the beginning of "The Jo Cooley Story" that is known not only all over this state, but throughout many others. A story of courage... a story of self-reliance... a story of devotion to others... all woven into one Jo Cooley.

The story of Jo Cooley and how she has continued to manage and operate the Mayfair Beauty Shop is too well known to be recounted here. Also, the story of Jo Cooley and her work and devotion to help other paraplegics throughout the entire state is as equally well known.

However, we do take this opportunity to extend our best wishes to Jo Cooley and the Mayfair Beauty Shop on the event of their 30th anniversary and say thanks to Jo... a person that has meant so much to so many.

employees will be affected, he said. "More than 400 will continue in jobs in the dyeing and finishing operations."

Closing of the plant areas involved is scheduled to take place on an orderly basis over the next four to six weeks as production and inventory runouts are completed.

"With the help of the North Carolina Employment Security Commission, we believe jobs can be found in this area for the people affected," Mr. Barham said.

Burlington Mills has owned the Cooleemee property since 1962. During the past seven years they have invested several million dollars in the Cooleemee operation.

Manufactured at the Cooleemee Plant have been cotton and polyester-cotton blend fabrics, including gabardines, twills, poplins... such heavy apparel fabrics as used in men's and boys' sportswear.

A spokesman for Burlington said that several efforts were made to sell the Cooleemee Plant, without any success.

"We have also studied ways in which other Burlington divisions might use the plants, but at the present time there is no prospect of this," said the spokesman.

It was revealed that of the 700 to 800 employees affected, 60% are men and 40% are women. Most of these are members of the company's profit sharing and retirement plan and will receive full benefits, the total amounts of which are determined by their pay scale and length of employment. These and other benefits are being explained to each employee, since each individual case is different.

Burlington also announced that other plants in the division were also curtailing operations to some degree.

"It is a matter of economics in every case, and we had to choose the plant at which the economic difficulties are the greatest. The other textile companies are experiencing the same problems," said the Burlington official.

It was stated that Burlington has been losing money for the past five years with the Cooleemee operation... with heavy losses the past two years.

The closing is not expected to effect the top management officials and will have no effect on recreational or the water and sewer operation in Cooleemee.

The manufacturing operation will be phased out over the next few months. The recent announced government contract for Cooleemee will be fulfilled by this time.

After the cessation of manufacturing, the equipment will probably be moved out of the building.

Burlington officials said that it was not known at this time just what use would be made of buildings housing the manufacturing operations.

More about School Audit

1967, copies of annual audits made by an independent firm of auditors and an annual budget on standard forms, copies of which are kept on file in both offices."

The statement continued that "both boards in their statement stressed that their joint action in releasing this information was not to be construed as opposition to the pending house bill on the subject."

FAR BEHIND....Nobody seems to know the reason, but the current session of the Legislature—now two months of age—is running away short of the activity at this stage of the 1967 session.

This applies both to bills introduced and laws passed.

NO FUN....Presiding officers of the two houses—Earl Vaughn in the House and Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor in the State Senate—are discouraging funfests. They don't want out-of-town trips and other variances.

And the rank and file of members don't seem as light-hearted as in other years. This may be due to the fact that they are living all over town; have their own little offices; and are just not together as much as in other times.

LEADERSHIP....Ask members why the desert air and the curious calm, and they give a variety of reasons.

A few points to the tobacco tax proposal. The increased power of the Republicans is blamed by a few old-line Democrats.

Most frequently, however, one hears talk of a "lack of leadership." Particularly in the House. It is admitted that many of the older, more experienced men in the half a chance. Most government employees seem to have socialistic tendencies of this type. So they kicked out the private printers and gave the bill-printing job to the State Prisons Department. They did a few sessions.

But now prisons has gone the way of Capital Printing-out the window. Big, beautiful, automatic offset machines are now doing the printing—in the Legislative Building—under John Brooks. These machines are leased, not bought. Brooks is sweating it out.

It remains to be seen whether it is possible to bring in a six-months basis new machines, temporary employees, etc., and do the job necessary to keep up with the demands of the Legislature and the public. But put it down—John Brooks will find the answer.

Meantime, the experiment continues and—with all the trouble—one can get the printed bills faster and in better shape than in olden times. However, the scuttlebutt is that legislative administrative costs are running more than $75,000 ahead of two years ago.

And as we are gradually getting away from (though it hurts) the easy informality of yesteryear.

THE OPPOSITION....Although still confined to the back seat in the Legislature, the Republican Party this time is more troublesome than ever before. Also, it seems to be taking itself more seriously.

Last week for example, it did these things:

1. Found the Advisory Budget Commission had set up an appropriation of $900,000 for the operation of a building that has not been built.

2. Announced plans for "fact-finding" tours by Republican legislators in an effort to cut unnecessary spending."

3. Sent forward a bill to broaden the State Minimum Wage Law (which had just been raised from $1 to $1.25) to include persons over 65, theater ushers, doormen, and school and college students employed parttime during school year...and others overlooked by the Democrats.

All in all, the GOP seems to be feeling its oats. This means, of course, that the Democrats must try to sit a little more firmly in the saddle.

business and a factor in determining the credit rating of his business. Mailing the statement, rather than waiting for the Dun & Bradstreet reporter's call, means a concern's important suppliers will quickly have the latest facts on which to make credit and sales decisions. When the Dun & Bradstreet reporter receives a business man's financial statement in advance of his periodic call, he can make a more detailed analysis of the financial condition of the business and discuss its operations more intelligently.

Back of each listing of a business in the Reference Book is a Dun & Bradstreet credit report. The report includes the following: a record of how the business is paying its bills; a history of the business (who owns it, who runs it, and how long it has been operating); a description of what the business does and how it does it; a financial section which usually includes the latest financial statement.

While credit reports are primarily used by business men who want to evaluate the credit risk of a business before shipping or selling, insurance underwriters, bankers, and other professionals also use reports.

Tattle-Tales

By Gordon Tomlinson

Roy Collette recently went to Miami, Florida and apparently drove his camper the way he drives his car in Mocksville. But there he didn't get away with it according to the reports reaching us.

In the heart of the city of Miami Roy made that forbidden U-turn.

He was stopped and despite all of Roy's eloquence, the officer took away his driver's license.

Things are always happening to us at this office, too!

Last week a man was waiting in the office for Mrs. LeGrand to finish a telephone conversation. In walks Duke Sheek and inquires:

"How is your wife getting along?"

"She died about two weeks ago. I'm here with the writeup about her death and funeral for you to put in the paper," said the man.

By this time Mrs. LeGrand had finished her telephone conversation and Duke told the man to give it to "Mrs. Margaret".

The man handed Mrs. LeGrand without knowing just what it was and before looking at it, replied most graciously: "Thank you! We're so glad to get this!"

Punch, cake squares, cheese straws, nuts, and mints were served to approximately forty guests. Attending the party from here were Mrs. Way and her mother, Mrs. Beal Smith. Mrs. Jerry Anderson and daughter, Dawn, entertained at their home on Route 1.

A gift of avocado Teflon cookware was presented to the honoree by the hostesses. Seventeen guests were served decorated cake squares, lime punch, green and white mints and nuts.

MANDO - MEEKS

Mr. and Mrs. Dominic J. Mando of Mocksville announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane Ledford, to Mr. Kenyon G. Meeks, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon G. Meeks of Aliceville, Alabama.

Miss Mando graduated from Davie County High School and received her B. A. degree from Southwestern at Memphis, Memphis, Tenn., in 1968. She is now teaching at North Charleston High School in Charleston, South Carolina. Mr. Meeks, a graduate of Aliceville High School, is now a senior at The Citadel in Charleston, South Carolina and will receive his commission in the United States Army in May.

A summer wedding in the First Presbyterian Church, Mocksville, is planned.

Feted At Bridge Club Honored With Party

Miss Vicki Hendricks, March 16th bride elect of Tommy Fleming, and Mrs. Rodney Way, a recent bride, were feted last Tuesday evening at a bridge club meeting. Hostess was Mrs. L. P. Martin at her home on Poplar Street.

The honorees were given gifts of silver after the refreshment course served in the spacious family room at small tables prior to the bridge progressions. The focal point of the room was a pot of white mums on the round coffee table.

Miss Hendricks wore a forest green wool suit and Mrs. Way wore a peach wool dress. Among the guests present were the honorees' mothers, Mrs. Robert Hendricks and Mrs. Beal Smith.

Miss Luanna Ellis Has Birthday Party

Miss Luanna Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ellis, was honored with a party on her seventh birthday anniversary. The party was given in William R. Davie Fire Department building on Saturday afternoon, March 8. Colorful balloons and streamers decorated the room for the gala occasion.

Eighteen cousins and friends of the honoree enjoyed playing games and opening birthday gifts. Vickie Merrell assisted the hostess in serving the tiered birthday cake, ice cream, potato chips and Kool-Ade. Favors were party hats and horns.

CORRECTION

An error was made in last week's issue concerning the operators at Mayfair Beauty Shop. It should have read Jewel McClamrock instead of Jo McClamrock. Jo McClamrock is also a Beauty Operator but she has her own shop - Tres Jolie. We regret the error.

Mrs. Robert Fishel was hostess for a surprise going-away party at her home in Advance Saturday night, honoring her son, Lindsey who will leave soon for the armed services.

Games for the festive occasion were directed by Miss Carol Black of Lewisville.

Refreshments consisting of assorted sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, nuts, mints, and punch were served to local and out-of-town guests.

Attending the party were: the honoree, Jerry Jordan of Lockhart, S. C.; Judy Wyatt of Spartanburg, S. C.; Mike Webber of Union, S. C.; Donna Reno of Buffalo, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lambeth of Thomasville, Mr. and Mrs. James Black and Carol Black of Lewisville, Luann Kiser of Winston-Salem, Vicki Harrison of Spencer, Janice Lyerly and Mary Ann Lyerly of Linwood, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lee Starr, Carolyn Starr, Linda Frye, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Slater, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Crawford of Mocksville and the local guests, Mrs. Lindsey Fishel, the honoree's wife, Glenn Bailey, Gary Livengood, Helen Jones, Sam Bailey, Carlton Markland, Dale Spry, Mrs. Nancy Zimmerman, Harold, Cammie and Randy Zimmerman, Jimmy and Dale Fishel and Tim Fishel of Ft. Bragg. Also attending was Lindsey's grandmother, Mrs. Clint Holder.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fishel were hosts at a dinner at their home honoring their son, Lindsey. Guests for this occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Clint Holder, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Myers, Mr. and Mrs. George Star, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lee Star, Carolyn Star, Mrs. Nancy Zimmerman, Harold, Carol and Randy Zimmerman, Mrs. Rosa Lee Holder, Vickie and Cathy Holder, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holder, and Keith and Karen Holder of Clemmons, and Mr. and Mrs. James Black and Carol Black of Lewisville.

Machine Training Program Continues At Ingersoll-Rand

Ed Ozimek, Manager of Machining Operations, Portable Compressor Division, announced that a group of 16 personnel started in the second training group at the Mocksville Plant of Ingersoll-Rand.

The first class completed their program on March 7, 1969. The training lasted for seven weeks with 52 hours being classroom instruction. The class was given a broad background in all phases of manufacturing with individual concentration on one specific machine or area. The representatives of the State of North Carolina plus the Ingersoll-Rand instructors all feel the first class has progressed beyond the expected. Some operators will assist in training the second class while others will start production operations with both first and second shift coverage.

The second class, which started March 3, 1969, is presently in its classroom training under the direction of Bill Schneider (State of North Carolina's Instructor). The new personnel represent 3 counties with fourteen being from our own Davie County. They also represent high school or advanced education with little or no practical machining experience.

The third class is expected to consist of 20-25 people. It is slated to start on April 14, 1969. With its completion, the Portable Division will have a three-shift operation until the 100,000 square foot addition to our present plant is completed. The initial site work is scheduled to start by April.

The Womens Society of Christian Service met Tuesday night at the church. The meeting was called to order and business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Charles Neyle. A most interesting program entitled "The Lion and Lamb", was presented.

The skit was based on a fable from India and taken from the W. S. C. S. materials. The program included Mrs. Dick Vogler as the lion, king of the forest. Mrs. Alpha Vogler acted as the lamb, who was lost in the forest. An Angel, "Mrs. Good" was played by Mrs. Philip Vaughn while Mrs. Charles Neyle was "Mr. Evil". Miss Fannie Mock was the narrator and Miss Paula Vaughn was pianist. The story goes that "Good and Evil" became involved in an argument trying to win the lion over to their respective sides. In the climax the lamb, was the Lamb of God, recited the Beatitudes and called again from the forest. "Mrs. Good" and the Lion responded and knelt before the altar. Each person in the skit was dressed in appropriate costume and gave an excellent performance. Another interesting aspect of the program was the comparison of the proverbial Lion and Lamb with the month of March.

Mrs. Bonnie Cornatzer flew to Hawaii this week to join her husband, Spec. 4 Clinton Cornatzer, who is on a 10 day Rest and Relaxation leave from service in Vietnam.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Robertson of Redland were Sunday dinner guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Darnell Robertson and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Cornatzer and son, Allen were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Roderick Jordan in Winston-Salem on Friday night.

Lindsay Fishel was guest of honor at a Going Away party at his home on Saturday night. His mother, Mrs. Blanche Fishel, was hostess for the surprise occasion. Lindsay will soon be leaving for the armed services.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carter are the proud parents of a 9 lb. 7 oz. baby son, Jack David, who arrived on Friday, March 7, at the Baptist Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zimmerman were Sunday afternoon guests of Charles Godwin in Elkin.

Mrs. Doris Wyn and son, Kelly of Lexington were weekend visitors of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Potts.

Mrs. Mildred Hege and Mrs. Sue Garwood visited Mrs. Recie Sheets on Saturday night. Mrs. Sheet's Sunday afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sheets of Lewisville.

MACEDONIA

The March winds are really blowing and let's hope they blow away all the cold and flu germs. We still have a lot of sickness but our church attendance is improving. We had a good attendance Sunday and we also welcome the visitors.

We want to remind all our young people we are still having Youth Fellowship meetings. Invite a friend and come to the meeting Sunday evening at 6:00. We know you will enjoy the fellowship of meeting together with friends of your own age group. Our leaders work hard planning programs so let's don't let them down.

We want to express our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Helen Butner and her family in the passing of her father Mr. Jones.

We also extend deepest sympathy to the friends and relatives of Mr. Sam James on his passing. May God be with both these families in their time of bereavement.

Mrs. Nan McBride visited Mrs. Charlotte Smith and Mrs. Alberta Cope last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Willard of Winston-Salem were Saturday afternoon visitors of the Philip Beauchamp family.

Mrs. Kate Riddle had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Davis and Neal Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Parks visited the Kenneth Smiths' Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Minnie Cornatzer visited Mrs. Alberta Cope Sunday afternoon. Miss Shelby and Ruby James were also Sunday visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Allen had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Beauchamp and children Saturday evening.

Rev. George J. Bruner has now returned to the Nursing Home near Kernersville where he was a patient before entering the hospital. He is getting along fine but I'm sure he would enjoy getting a card or a visit from one of his many friends in Davie County.

The Clarence Hockaday family had visitors last week which made five generations of their family. Tony Tucker and family of Fresno, Calif. were visiting with their baby, Anthony. It is hard to find a family with five generations now and I'm sure they will be proud of the pictures they made of them.

We are planning to have a Pre-Easter work day on Saturday, March 22. We will begin at 8:00 and the Women of the church are asked to serve lunch to the workers. Please mark this date on your calendar and plan now to come and help with the work on the grounds and in the graveyard. Mr. and Mrs. Major Beauchamp visited Mr. and Mrs. Philip Beauchamp Sunday afternoon.

EGG PROMOTION HELPS INDUSTRY

"The major source of farm income in North Carolina is the livestock and poultry industry", according to Edmund Aycock of Wachovia Bank's Agriculture Department. "An important factor in the development of income from livestock and poultry is the work done by commodity promotion groups", added Aycock, who is serving as State Chairman of the March 26 Egg Promotion Referendum.

Egg producers are being asked in the referendum to approve the continued assessment of 2c per case on table eggs produced, packed, or processed in North Carolina. Money collected is used to finance the consumer educational and promotional programs conducted by the North Carolina Egg Marketing Association.

Egg packing and grading firms collect the 2c per case assessment from the egg producer. Money is remitted to the North Carolina Department of Agriculture for the use of the Association. Producers not happy with the program have the right to request a refund.

NCEMA, which was organized in 1961, is financed and controlled by egg producers. Its program is a self-help promotional program authorized by Statutes of the General Assembly of North Carolina for the promotion of use and sale of agricultural commodities.

Disease Carried

By Scrap Fish

Little is known about the ecology and life history of non-commercial and non-sports fish. These fish obviously are in competition for food and it appears now that they are very likely vectors of a fish disease called C. columnaris.

In studying this disease for the Atomic Energy Commission, Battelle-Northwest Laboratory, Richland, Washington, has been investigating the upstream migration of adult salmon and the downstream migration of the juveniles. They discovered that C. columnaris virus is low above fish ladders and high below these ladders. In directing their attention here, the scientists have found that fish ladders are harboring scrap fish which carry the disease.

WILLIAMS-STEWART

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie H. Williams of Route 3, Mocksville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen Joyce, to Thomas Jerry Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Stewart, also of Route 3.

Miss Williams is a 1967 graduate of Davie High School and is now employed at the N. C. Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. Mr. Stewart, also a 1967 graduate of Davie High, works at Hanes Corporation.

Both will graduate at Forsyth Technical Institute in June.

The wedding is planned for April 19th at Cornatzer Baptist Church.

Navy Announces New Programs

Due to the Navy's increased tempo of data processing operations, a need has occurred for a greater number of Data Systems and Data Processing Technicians.

The U. S. Navy Recruiting Service has been authorized to accept and process the application of individuals for enlistment and reenlistment in Pay Grade E-6 as Data Systems Technician Petty Officer First Class (DS1) and Data Processing Technician Petty Officer First Class (DPI) for a thirty (30) month period.

To be eligible for the Data System and Data Processing Programs an applicant must meet the basic qualifications for enlistment or reenlistment in the U. S. Navy, be 24 to 40 years of age and be a U. S. Citizen. In addition, normal color perception is mandatory for the Data System Program but is not required for the Data Processing Program.

A Data Systems Technician requires 24 months experience in maintaining a digital stored program computer and one of the following devices: magnetic tape unit, disc file, high speed printer, card and tape readers and punches.

A Data Processing Technician requires 24 months as a Programmer or Systems Analysis with any general purpose digital computer system.

It is noted that it would normally take a minimum of 52 months to achieve this rating through a straight enlistment.

Chief Harry K. Driver, local Navy Recruiter for this area invites anyone interested in this program to contact him at the local Navy Recruiting Office located in the Post Office Building, Winston Salem, N. C.

Vogler. Devotions were given by Jane and John Vogler. Their topic was "What Values are There in Your Home". Scripture was Philippians 4:8-9. The song was led by Marcia Myers - "Ain't Going To Study War No More".

Old business consisted of Bread and Cereal Contest, March 15, helping in the pork bar-b-que for the Fire Department March 7 and 8, Talent-flower-craft show, Church Sunday, and Craft Show.

New business consisted of the Farm and Rural 4-H Club extended an invitation to our club to visit their club. It was voted to accept their invitation in April. The planning committee met and made plans for our 4-H club to work in community development.

After the program we had recreation and refreshments were served by Judy and Larry Carter. They were enjoyed by all.

Presidential Scrapbook Winners At Advance School

The presidential election might have been over with so many people when all the returns were in but not so with Mrs. Lucille Cornatzer's 8th grade and Mr. Jones's 7th grade history classes at the Shady Grove School. The race was just getting heated up with them.

Every since school started these students have been collecting the best information possible for his scrapbook on The Presidential Election. They were asked to turn these in the first week in February in order to round up with the inauguration. All students made a good job displaying ability to choose material, organize and present the subject with an artistic knowledge of the same.

We were fortunate in securing Mrs. Helen Crenshaw, Charles J. Wells and Jim Lloyd as judges who spent a great deal of time evaluating these scrap books as to durability, presentation, originality and value of material.

Lynn Jones and Kathy Williams of the 8th grade won first place. Jane Cook and Beverly Pack of the 8th grade tied for second. Jane Vogler and Jeff Ward of the 7th received honorable mention.

Open Car Door Struck By Vehicle

A 1966 Chevrolet, owned by Edgar Joyner, 20, of Rt. 2, East Bend, was parked in the road Friday, March 7, with door open, and a 1965 Plymouth being operated by Mack Arthur Whitaker, 18, of Rt. 4, struck the door.

The accident occurred on the Green Hill Road at 7:45 p.m. 3 miles west of Mocksville.

State Trooper R. F. McKinney investigated.

LIBRARY News

The way March roared in like a lion means it will go out like a lamb. This is the time of year to start thinking about the flowers in spring. Before you start your planting, come in and see the books we have on gardens and gardening.

The books on the Extension Homemakers' Reading list are very popular! The 1969 books are marked with bright yellow tape for easy identification. Start your reading program now with these books from the public library.

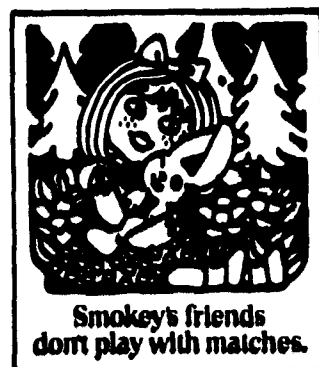

There is a magnificent display of art works by Davie County High School students now up in the library. Examples of the varied art media are well represented. Plan to stop by the public library to see this art show.

On March 24, Monday night, at 7:30 there will be a film program in the public library. The program will be about American Indians. The film: LONGHOUSE PEOPLE, DANGEROUS RIVER, INDIAN ARTISTS OF THE SOUTHWEST, AMERICAN INDIANS OF TODAY, and INDIAN DANCES.

This will be an interesting and enlightening program about the earliest Americans. Plan to be in the library to see it.

Need a program for your group? The public library has three new Canadian films which can be borrowed on short notice. These are: CALGARY STAMPEDE, LAND OF THE BIG BLUE SKY, and SKI TIME IN JASPER. If you need an entertaining program or just want a change of pace from the TV, come in and borrow these films!

Don't forget the public library now has a circulating record collection. Three 33 1/3 albums can be checked out by an adult for three weeks. Come in and look over our selection.

Judges look over the scrapbooks on last year's Presidential Election as prepared by the students of Mrs. Lucille Cornatzer's 8th grade and Mr. Jones second grade. Mrs. Helen Crenshaw is seated. Jim Lloyd, a judge, looks over a scrapbook with Mrs. Lucille Cornatzer, teacher; and C. J. Wells.

WHEELING ALONG
NEW YORK (AP)—Light-weight, forged aluminum wheels are being used in regular railroad operations to speed rapid transit passengers to their destinations.

The aluminum wheels, equipped with steel rims, are expected to reduce total weight of each transit car, resulting in less power required to operate the cars and additional cost savings.

Mouth of the South

A Blow For Sanity

Joe Penna, who was a sagacious comic of the thirties, had a famous saying: "Monkeys is the craziest people."

Now in the enlightenment which has come to us through the ensuing years, it is obvious that the peculiar insanity which Mr. Penna assigned to monkeys is not limited, but rather extends full force into the human race as well.

It is most graphically demonstrated in the antics of sports enthusiasts who are generally called fans.

This word alone should be a clear indication of the dementia besetting those who follow their idols into the various stadia of the country.

Happy Sort Of Neuroticism

Fans is a vulgarized form of fanatics, and certainly most of the people who were in Charlotte last week for the Atlantic Coast Conference Basketball Tournament were afflicted with a serious psychosis.

It is a happy sort of neuroticism from which the basketball fans suffer.

Even in going down to defeat with his team, the basketball buff manages to savour a peculiar sort on exorcising delight.

In victory, one might observe men and women of mature years and deeply lined countenances whooping with the wild abandon usually expected from the unrestrained young. To me, it was one of the refreshing experiences of the year.

When every headline bodes ill, frequently too awful to contemplate, how good it is to see multiplied thousands of people, huddled together in close proximity, enjoying themselves just as though the world were not going to hell in a handbag.

It ought to happen more often in our part of the country. It used to be before the Dixie Classic was murdered in a political war which was then assigned the holy crusade of a fight against gambling.

In short—the ACC tournament strikes a mighty blow for mental health.

PREVENT THOSE WINTER DRIVING WOES

The Safe Winter Driving League presents the following tip for safer winter driving from the National Safety Council: "Don't be a 'peep-hole pilot.' Brush snow completely off front, back and side windows. Replace dead wiper blades with live, new ones to prevent streaking. All your lights should be working, with headlights aimed properly. You must see danger to avoid it."

Rebelettes Bow In Piedmont Tournament

Kannapolis defeated the Davie girls Tuesday night by a score of 34 to 33.

Davie was ahead at halftime by the score of 17 to 13. Critz scored with 53 seconds to go making the score 33 to 31. Markland missed two free throws with 32 seconds to go.

Arlene Perkins of Kannapolis hit what proved to be the winning point with 26 seconds remaining. With 24 seconds to go, Markland of Davie fouled and she hit both making the score 34 to 33. Wilhelm of Kannapolis then missed 2 free throws and Davie got the rebound. Davie had the ball at the sound of the buzzer but couldn't score.

Individual scoring were: For Davie High: Markland 12, Hendrix 13, Foster 2, Paula Barnhardt 4 and Miller 2.

For Kannapolis: Arlene Perkins 7, Darlene Perkins 1, Critz 17, Twitty 8, and Erwin 1.

Davie Rebels Lose To Boyden High

Boyden turned back host team Davie County, 57-52, Monday night as Charles Lynn set the house on fire with 28 points and 28 rebounds.

North Rowan's Benny Craig was equally impressive, scoring 27 points in the Cavaliers' 71-67 double-overtime upset victory over Kannapolis.

Boyden and North Rowan met for the third time this season at 8:30 tonight for the Piedmont championship. The winner will qualify for the association championship game in Hickory on Friday night.

Boyden did not miss a field-goal attempt until almost four minutes had elapsed in last night's game, but Davie County stayed close to the Yellow Jackets.

DAVIE LEADS

A nine-point streak by the home-coming Rebels moved them into a 17-10 lead. Three points by Ronnie Shoaf, four by Hubert West and two by James James accounted for the seven-point lead. The Rebels led by 19-12 after Craig Ward's long shot just before the buzzer, ending the first quarter.

Lynn, who did not score a field goal in the first quarter, bucketed a shot after a rebound with 6:10 to play in the half. He scored 12 points in the quarter as the Jackets took the lead again.

James, Davie's leading scorer, picked up three quick fouls in the first quarter and had to play cautiously on defense in the second and third quarters. He contributed 10 points to his team's cause in the first half and Davie trailed by only 29-28 at halftime.

Boyden moved out front by eight points at 40-32 in the third quarter after a jumper by Mike Sawyer. Lynn held a nine-point advantage when Lynn scored on a three-point play. Two baskets by sophomore guard Ward and a foul shot by James cut the lead to 43-39 at the end of the quarter.

BOYDEN ROLLS

In the final eight minutes Boyden built its lead to nine points again at 63-43 and 64-45 as Davie County's efforts began Kannapolis won its berth in the finals by stamping North Stanley's cold-shooting Comets 42-24.

Davie County finished in third place in the regular season in the North Piedmont Conference.

but won the NPC tournament. The Rebels enter tonight's Piedmont title game with a record of 19-5.

Kannapolis won the South Piedmont regular-season crown and triumphed in the SPC tournament last week. The Little Wonders are 14-2 for the season.

In yesterday's first afternoon contest at the Davie County Gym, Kannapolis took a 7-3 first-quarter lead, then broke open the contest in the second period by outscoring North Stanley 15-2.

Kannapolis moved from the 22-5 halftime lead to a 34-12 advantage at the end of the third quarter.

COLD STREAK

North Stanley, which finished the season with a 20-3 record after winning the North Piedmont regular-season crown, had a long cold streak. The Comets did not make a field goal from the 5:41 mark of the first quarter until the 4:48 mark of the third stanza.

North Stanley outscored Kannapolis by 12-8 in the final quarter to cut the final margin to 18 points.

Kannapolis hit 16 of 43 field-goal attempts for 37.2 per cent. North Stanley hit only six of 36 for 16.7 per cent.

Judy Critz led Kannapolis with 22 points, while Trudie Burris scored eight for the losers.

Davie County led Concord by 9-8 after one quarter and moved ahead by 19-15 at the half. Concord cut the lead to 30-28 after three quarters.

The home team pulled away to a comfortable lead early in the fourth quarter and Concord slid the margin to two points in the final seconds.

Janice Markland paced Davie's scoring with nine points. She was followed by Susan Hendrix with eight and Anne Foster with seven.

Concord's scoring leader was Becky Jones with 15. Cindy Ritchie and Elaine Morris each tallied seven.

The box scores:

to foul out. Shoaf was the first to leave the game, then James fouled out. West and Steve Zimmerman exited in the final minute of the contest.

The closest the Rebels could come late in the contest was the final five-point margin. The Jackets were in complete command for the last several minutes.

Sawyer followed Lynn in scoring with 18 points. James paced Davie with 14, followed by Ward with 13. James and Zimmerman had 11 and 10 rebounds, respectively, for the losers.

Boyden hit 20 of 53 field-goal tries for 37.7 per cent and made 17 of 36 at the foul line. Davie made good on 23 of 66 shots for 34.8 per cent and canned six of 11 at the line. Thus, Boyden had a 13-point edge at the free-throw stripe. Boyden out rebounded the Rebels by 49-35.

In the second game, Craig's two driving layups in the second overtime period put the Little Wonders on the ropes as North Rowan scored its first basketball victory in several years over a South Piedmont team. Walker, Whitley's four free throws served as the knock-out punch.

Richie Leonard Is Excelling

The following is a reprint of an article from the Lexington Dispatch concerning Richie Leonard, who is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Boger of Route 2, Mocksville. The article was written by Judy Hippler:

The newest hit at UNC should be "How to Succeed Without Really Trying", starring Richie Leonard.

The 19-year old sophomore from Welcome seems determined to shatter all existing achievement records and then some.

He holds an academic 4.0 (perfect A) average, but for him that's only a minor feat. He's actually majoring in extracurricular activities.

"I guess I spend at least 40 hours a week in committee meeting," the blue-eyed blonde said. "I don't study as much as I used to, and I don't sleep much at all."

He's the youngest UNC student ever to be elected student legislature speaker and student legislature speaker and student body acting vice-president.

He is also a Richardson fellow, Morehead scholar, National Merit Scholarship Committee chairman, member of Delta Upsilon social fraternity, Men's Orientation Coordinator and student representative to the Faculty Committee on Scholarship. He is now concerned about student government's role in the University.

"Most people are caught up with the small crises that affect them as individuals," he said. "They're apathetic about most campus issues. The only time they're active is during crisis periods."

He said that student government's failure to interest the student body has caused its decline.

"Student government hasn't been active enough this year," he said. "We've done important research but failed to provide adequate leadership. This has caused a lack of respect for it. The only real power student government has now is the power of the purse. We control a quarter of a million dollars this year."

But the blame does not lie entirely in student government. "The campus is becoming so large it's difficult for any campus-wide group to represent the diversity of interests here," he explained.

"Besides, the existing channels of communication between students, faculty and the administration are overloaded."

Richie said the role of interest groups in the University is expanding.

"The Black Student Movement shows how much power a cohesive group of students can have," he said.

This "boy wonder" came to UNC from North Davidson High School. He was yearbook editor, debate team president, National Merit finalist, National Honor Society member and Danforth Award recipient.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie W. Leonard, Rt. 10, Lexington.

News Valuable To Veterans

By W. J. Wilson

Insurance Dividend Hoax

Once last fall and again this spring, a false rumor has been spreadly concerning "VA dividends for the asking." On one occasion a reprint from a 1963 daily bulletin of the Long Beach, California Naval Shipyard contained this erroneous information. More recently, we were informed that the October 7, 1968 issue of MANPOWER BULLETIN of the NASA Marshall Space Flight Center carried the same false report. Both bulletins referred veterans to the VA Center, Ft. Snelling, St. Paul, Minn. The NASA bulletin even provided a reply form.

When the rumor arose last fall, this office wrote the VA center in Philadelphia, requesting a written statement refuting the rumor, which statement could be quoted when needed. A reply came quickly and we were thanked for our efforts to preclude needless correspondence. On January 28, 1969 the VA Regional Office released an appeal to the news media to help dispel the fake dividends rumor.

I am glad to cooperate with the VA in such matters, both as an aid to that agency and to correct misinformation which is being given to our veterans.

W. J. Wilson

ASK IRS

Q—WHAT INSURANCE PREMIUMS ARE DEDUCTIBLE AS A MEDICAL EXPENSE?

A—Premiums paid for policies providing medical care are deductible as a medical expense for taxpayers who itemize. No deduction can be taken for life insurance premiums or for those paid to provide weekly benefits in case of disability.

Don't forget that medical insurance premiums should be handled differently than other medical expenses. Most medical expenses need to be reduced by 3 per cent of the taxpayer's gross income before they can be deducted.

For medical insurance premiums, however, one half of this cost up to a maximum of $150 may be deducted without regard to the 3 per cent rule. The excess is then subject to the 3 per cent rule. This is explained in the 1040 instructions.

Three Salisbury Jaycees Killed On 601 Enroute To Cooleemee

The members of the Salisbury Jaycees en route to a visitation meeting with the Cooleemee Jaycees were killed Thursday night when their car skidded broadside into an oncoming tractor-trailer on Highway 601 North. The accident occurred around 7:15 p.m. about a half-mile north of the Wagon Wheel Dance Hall, about 5-miles north of Salisbury.

Killed were Robert (Bob) Cornwell Felton, 24, of Salisbury Rt. 11; Roddy Gabriel, 24, of Rt. 2 Salisbury; and Henry Warren Turner, 30, of Rt. 2, Salisbury.

Driver of the truck, Milton Marshall Alipert, 35, of Winston-Salem received minor head cut.

Felton was the driver of the 1969 Rambler Javelin in which Gabriel and Turner were passengers. The car was headed north. The empty tractor-trailer, owned by Southland Distributing Company of Advance, Rt. 1, was headed south.

State Highway Patrolman R. L. Pearce said that Felton apparently lost control of his car which began skidding sideways and into the left lane of the highway. The oncoming tractor-trailer struck the car broadside, in the right side, shredding the car. The tractor-trailer then swerved off the highway on the right side, plunged over an embankment and overturned on the right side.

The demolished car was spun around in the highway and stopped about in the center of the heavily traveled highway.

Felton and Turner, both in the front seat, were killed instantly.

Gabriel, a passenger in the back seat, was alive when C&M ambulances arrived.

However, it took state patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and onlookers about a half-hour before Gabriel could be freed from the wreckage. He was dead on arrival at Rowan Memorial Hospital.

The bodies of Felton and Turner were wedged in the car wreckage for about an hour.

Rowan County Coroner Rufus Honeycutt said that Felton and Turner, suffered massive internal injuries.

Gabriel died of head injuries.

It was raining heavily at the time of the collision, and the wreckage of the car with the trapped men inside resulted in the highway being blocked in both directions.

Traffic was backed up an estimated mile and a half to two miles in both directions for an hour following the collision.

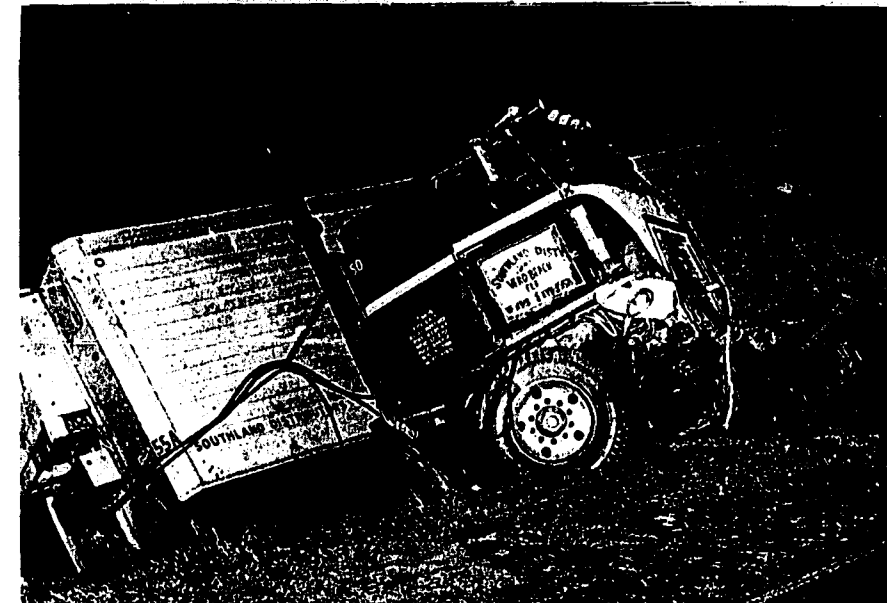

Five other members of the local Jaycee club narrowly escaped being involved in the fatal crash. The other five, including club president Bill Roberts, Charles Glover, Jerry Kirkley, Charles Foushee, and Bob Bailey, were enroute to the same Cooleemee meeting at the time of the accident.

The other Jaycees were in another vehicle ahead of Felton's car and were unaware of the crash which occurred only moments after they passed the same spot.

The members in the earlier car did not know why the other three Jaycees did not show up at the meeting until they ran upon the crash scene as they returned from the meeting.

Area Leaders Invited To Closed Circuit Telecast Meeting With Nixon

Businessmen and community leaders of Mocksville have been invited to Charlotte on March 26 to take part in a closed-circuit telecast meeting with President Nixon, his Cabinet and other high officials of the Nixon Administration.

Administration plans for attacking community problems and the role of voluntary leaders will be discussed.

The meeting will be held in Charlotte's Ovens Auditorium beginning at 10:00 a.m. sharp and lasting for three hours.

In addition to the Charlotte meeting, some 25 or more similar gatherings will be held across the country. The local Chamber in each host city is inviting delegations from surrounding areas.

Altogether, hundreds of cities will be represented throughout the nation and the discussions are expected to cover a wide range of problems which are common to most of Urban America.

Overall arrangements are being handled by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Washington, which builds the event as "Challenge From the Nixon Administration." It is the first meeting of this kind ever attempted.

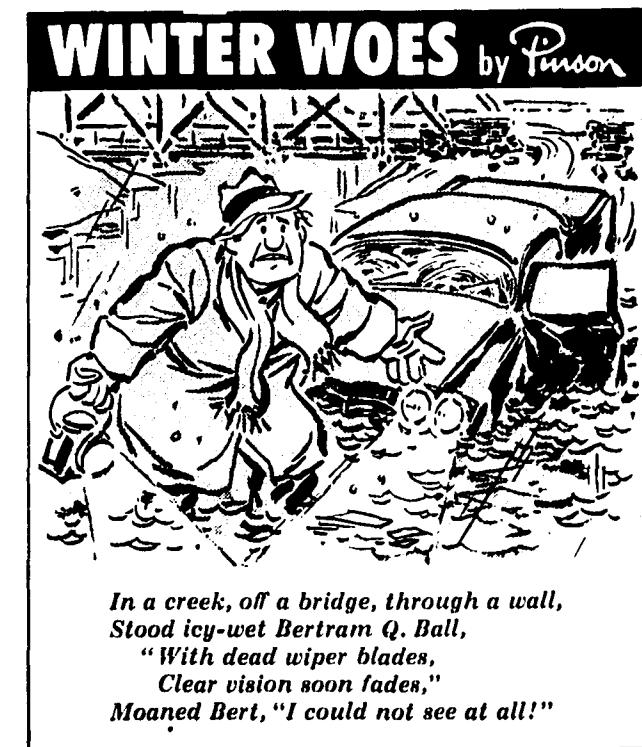

In announcing the unusual program, Arch N. Booth, Executive Vice President of the National Chamber, pointed out that it was the business community's response to President Nixon's inaugural address call to "enlist the legions of the concerned and the committed" to help solve social problems.

The telecast will be projected on a large screen, live and in color with two-way audio facilities to enable the Washington group to answer questions from local participants.

The event is a highlight of Chamber of Commerce Week which is being observed throughout the nation March 23-29.

Mental Health Clinic For Davie-Rowan-Iredell Studied

First steps toward the formation of a tri-county authority which would administer a comprehensive mental health center for Rowan, Iredell, and Davie counties were taken last week at a dinner meeting held at Bame's restaurant and attended by over 30 officials from the three counties as well as the N. C. deputy commissioner of mental health.

Primarily an information session, the meeting was held for the purpose of spelling out to representatives of the counties concerned what could be expected from such a multi-county arrangement and its advantages in terms of cost, personnel, and program. Already there are 12 such comprehensive centers underway in North Carolina, with 12 more projected for this biennium.

John Whitfield, social case worker with the Rowan center, presided, and the group-including commissioners from the three counties, mental health advisory boards, and other officials—was welcomed by Dr. Jane Highbee, director of the Rowan Mental Health Clinic. Dr. Warren Young, psychologist at the local clinic, traced the background of the Rowan facility, explaining that in 1965 Iredell first contracted with Rowan for services from the clinic, and that last year Davie also requested services.

Dr. Young indicated that since the passage of the mental health act of 1963 the goal and growth pattern in mental health has been focused toward the establishment of comprehensive centers which with the use of federal funds, would develop the resources of a community and help people where they live. Such centers, he said, typically offer 24-hour emergency service day care facilities, in-patient facilities, programs for children, consultation and education, as well as out-patient care.

Dr. Nick Stratas of Raleigh, deputy commissioner of mental health for the state of North Carolina, pointed out certain advantages of these comprehensive centers. It's obviously impossible, he said, for North Carolina to set up centers in all 100 counties - impossible from the point of view not only of cost and personnel but of effectiveness. The envisioned program, a highly efficient program, is ideally suited to serve from 100,000 to 200,000 people. (The combined approximate populations of Rowan, Iredell and Davie is 163,000.)

Dr. Stratas emphasized the fact that program is more significant than facilities and that the goal was a matter of service rather than buildings.

He expressed the hope that the mental health program beginning in July would be a joint program of the three counties, which by that time would have formed a joint board and drawn up a joint budget which would be matched "two to one by state funds, three times."

Resolutions by the three involved boards of commissioners are necessary, he said, before such a tri-county arrangement can be entered into.

He recommended that each of these three Boards consider consolidation of their mental health programs and then meet together, if they so decide, to draft and sign a joint document.

It was agreed that the Rowan board should call such a meeting in the near future. Dr. George Eckley of Statesville introduced the Iredell delegation. Bob Hoyle of Cooleemee presented the Davie group, and Mr. Whitfield the Rowan group which included all five county commissioners and several members of the local Mental Health Advisory Board as well as clinic personnel.

He has travelled throughout the United States and has served a tour of duty in Korea and in Germany. He has visited sections of the Middle East and part of East Germany.

In addition to being the brother of Holy Cross own pastor, Pastor J. Marion Boggs, Chaplain Boggs has conducted a preaching mission at Ol. St. Matthews Lutheran Church in Davie County some twenty years ago.

Chaplain Boggs received his A. B. degree for Lenoir Rhyne College, Hickory, and his B. D. degree from the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Columbia, S. C. He served the congregation of Christiana Lutheran Church of Granite Quarry prior to his entering the military chaplaincy.

Thurmond Foster Sustains Injuries

Thurmond Foster of the Dublins Community of Davie County sustained severe injuries Monday when he was "penned" by his tractor.

At the time of the accident, Mr. Foster was working in a wooded area, cleaning undesirable undergrowth and scrubby trees on his farm.

According to a report Mr. Foster's tractor started to roll. In his effort to stop the vehicle he was "penned" by it.

Finally freeing himself Foster was able to climb upon the tractor and make his way to the trailer home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Campbell.

The Campbells took the injured man to Mocksville to the hospital. Doctors there dispatched him to a Winston-Salem hospital.

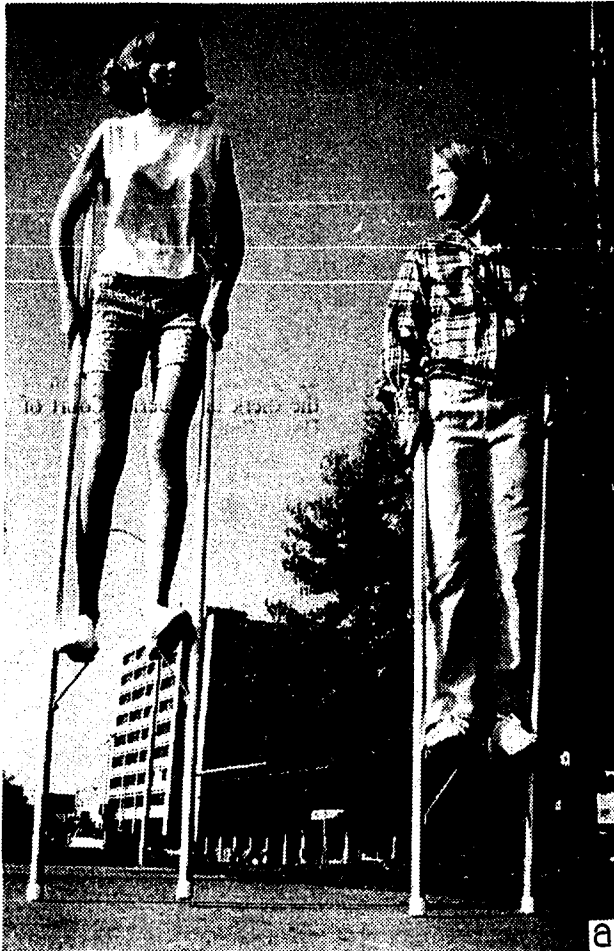

It was reported upon examination it was discovered the Foster's right leg was broken in two places and he had multiple lacerations and severe bruises, not only to the injured leg, but to other portions of his body.

$495,000 SANITARY SEWER BONDS for the purpose of providing funds, with any other available funds, for extending and enlarging the sanitary sewer system of said Town, including the construction of additional sewage collection, treatment and disposal facilities and the acquisition of any necessary land, rights of way and equipment.

This notice was first published on the 6th day of March, 1969. Any citizen or taxpayer objecting to the issuance of all or any of said bonds may file with the Local Government Commission a verified statement setting forth his objections as provided in Section 159-7.1 of the General Statutes of North Carolina, in which event he shall also file a copy of such statement with the undersigned, at any time within ten days from and after such first publication. A copy of this notice must be attached to the statement so filed. Objections set forth in said statement shall be for consideration by said Commission in its determination of whether or not it may hold a public hearing as provided by law on the matter of issuance of said bonds.

Girl Scout Week March 9th - 15th

The more than 12,000 Girl Scouts in the Tarheel Triad Girl Scout Council are celebrating Girl Scout Week from March 9 through March 15. This year the girls are calling the week, "We appreciate you" or W. A. Y. Week. Throughout the thirteen counties served by the Council, Scouts have made plans to thank all the wonderful people who help to make the Scout program possible.

To Sponsors who often provide meeting places, they are giving promissory notes for service to be given during the year. They are asking radio and news media to thank all people who give to the United Fund and who buy cookies and they are writing personal notes to all the people who have helped the troop in any way throughout the year.

Girl Scout Week opens, as always, with each girl attending the church of her choice in uniform. Girl Scout Sabbath is March 8. Many churches have planned special recognition for the girls. Some troops who are Church sponsored will be in charge of the service. In many cases, they will serve as ushers or the choir, or carry out some other part of the service.

The Tarheel Triad Council began operation on September 1, 1968. It is a consolidation of the former Keyauwee, North Carolina Piedmont, and Pilot Area Councils and serves Alleghany, Davie, Davidson, Alamance, Caswell, Forsyth, Guilford, Randolph, Rockingham, Stokes, Surry, Wake, and Yadkin Counties. The Council has temporary offices in High Point, but work has begun on the new office building. Contracts were awarded for the concrete and glass panel building in late December. The site, which the Council purchased in early fall is located off I-40 at the Sandy Ridge Exit. It was carefully chosen as the central point of the Council's territory which could be easily reached from all points of the jurisdiction. Members of the building committee are: Charles W. Lewis, Jr., Greensboro, Chairman; Mr. T. Daniel, Winston-Salem and W. D. Lee, Jr., High Point.

Plans for the operation of 13 Day Camps have been approved by the Board and are nearing completion under the Direction of Miss Maxine Dowell, Director of Camping Services. Information on year-round camping opportunities on the ten Council-operated sites has just been mailed to all troops. Since September 1, 1968 girls have used these sites for week-end camping. Camp folders with details on the summer resident camping program to be offered at Camps Keyauwee, Old Mill and Shirley Rogers are also going to registered girls this week.

One hundred and twenty-five Senior Scouts and adults attended a State-wide Senior conference which this Council hosted in November. Theme for the conference, "Are You An Ugly American?" centered around the social problems of today's young adults.

In considering its work for 1969-1970, the Board has adopted the following goals:

1. Strengthen Service Teams which are those volunteers working directly with troops.

Girl SCOUT WEEK

2. Improve the image of Girl Scouting in the total jurisdiction, within the Girl Scout family and with the public.

3. Build and maintain effective communications.

4. Adequate finances.

In addition the Board assumes the responsibility for carrying out its charter obligations, which are: To further the development of the Girl Scout movement in the United States; to establish local responsibility for leadership, administration, and supervision of the program; and to develop, manage, and maintain Girl Scouting in accordance with the terms of our charter.

Everybody wants to be Somebody. Unfortunately, many of today's youngsters seem to think that the only path to acceptance is the destructive course . . . and it's true that breaking windows will often get your name in the papers.

But so will helping afternoons in a day-care center, or planting shrubs and trees in an empty lot, or walking a nature trail holding the confident hand of a blind teenager. These are the kind of things Girl Scouts do, and have been doing now for 57 years.

In fact, this week is the Girl Scouts' birthday all over the country, and they're celebrating it just by going on with the thousands of service projects they've become involved in.

The funny thing is, once these kids get really involved in Girl Scouting and its modern-day activities, they stop caring about getting their names in the papers, each of them knows she's Somebody, because what she's doing is important. And it is.

To help form "a true union - a single society and a single American identity . . ."

To foster relationships on a personal level . . .

To widen horizons, to lift sights, to open doors . . .

In short, to meet the greatest domestic challenge in the history of our times, Girl Scouts of the U. S. A., the largest single organization of girls from 7 through 17 in the country, has gone on record since its birthday this time last year.

The girls have stood up to be counted.

In riot areas, Girl Scouts have established day-care centers and stood by them when the going got tough.

In crowded urban centers during a long hot summer the Scouts have provided, free of charge, day camping with activities, sports and crafts for their neighbors.

In areas where a helping hand, understanding and perseverance make a difference, the Scouts have made that difference.

Happy birthday, girls. This is your week. You deserve all the accolades we can hand you.

level for the first time.

Mrs. Jack Grist, Director of Personnel Services for the Tarheel Triad Girl Scout Council announce a schedule of training events for volunteers in the Winston-Salem area. The opening event on March 11 at the Maple Springs Methodist Church from 9:30 until 12:30 is "Introduction to Girl Scouting". It presents the purpose, philosophy, structure, program, and ways of work of the Girl Scout movement. This is basic information for all jobs and is designed for all adults new to Scouting.

A series of three "Program Level Roundtables" will be given on March 18, 20, and 25 from 9:30 until 12:30 at the Maple Springs Methodist Church. There will be sessions for Brownie, Junior and Cadette Leaders. The roundtables are designed to give help to the leader on girl characteristics, program structure, program planning, badges and challenges, ways of work, and skills for each program level. They are especially planned for leaders working with any one program

A session scheduled for March 13 at the Maple Springs Methodist Church from 9:30 until 12:30 which is on "Troop Management" will provide help with the patrol and Court of Honor system, troop finance, and girl-leader planning.

Students are asked to register immediately, to bring paper and pencil to all training. Troop leadership trainees should bring the Leader Notebook and Handbook for the particular program level.

Basic Outdoor Skills will be given April 9 from 9:30 until 2:30 at Camp Seven Springs, near Farmington. It is an introduction to simple outdoor activities, and a survey of the progression of outdoor activities through all program levels. Instruction in firebuilding, simple first aid, knot tying, outdoor cooking, toolcraft. For all adults who need help with the beginning steps in outdoor activities in the Girl Scout program.

Leaders are asked to bring 60c for food. Wear flat heels and clothes appropriate for weather. Sessions will be held whatever the weather.

County Farm Agent

Why do people have soil tested? Mr. Leo F. Williams, County Extension Chairman says that farmers who have soil tested generally fall into two groups.

One group wants to know how little lime and fertilizer they can get by with. The other group wants to know how much lime and fertilizer they can profitably apply.

Regardless of the implied question accompanying each soil sample, the Soil Testing Division of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture always comes up with the same answer. This is a good practice says Mr. Williams. It allows each farmer to start from an "average" requirement for the specific conditions indicated by the chemical tests performed on each soil sample. The "how-little" group can be negative and the "how-much" group can be positive. Each group, of course, must have standards of their own to determine the degree of variation.

"We sometimes ascribe a degree of exactness to soil test values which was never intended," says A. L. Hatfield, Soil Testing Division Agronomist. "Our chemical tests are very accurate and repeatable but we are only trying to predict the behavior of the crop. The response of the crop to present fertility and added fertilizer depends on many environmental conditions and managerial decisions. Each farmer should include strip tests in his fields to determine the levels of fertility that fit his managerial ability. When interpreting a soil test, however, we try to predict the needs which will maintain the nutrients at that level where the supply available to the plants cannot be a limiting factor from germination to maturity."

Mr. Williams predicted that the "how-little" or "average" farmer may become extinct in the same manner as the reckless auto driver - by his own acts. With fertility levels for 40 bushels of soybeans and managerial ability for 60, there may be 20 bushels lost each year. According to Mr. Williams, a soil test will indicate the relative fertility level and is, without question, a must in planning any fertility program. We can no longer rely on the one fish per hill recipe for economic survival.

The necessary supplies and instructions for collecting and mailing soil samples to the Soil Testing Division laboratory are available at the Extension Office in Davie County Office Building. The latest information from the laboratory indicated that prompt service can still be expected if the samples are sent in now.

News About Adult Education

The Basic Adult education class at the Education Center in Cooleemee has added the course, "Negro Contribution to America". The course meets on Monday nights from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. Julius Suiter is the teacher, being assisted by Mrs. Kate Foster, who is the teacher of basic adult skill and fundamentals on Wednesday night.

The basic adult classes in Mocksville meet from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Elementary School on Monday and Thursday. Mrs. Nell Hyatt and Mrs. Clyde Dyson are the teachers of these classes.

Dwight Jackson and Gray Everhardt are the coordinators for the Learning Lab. This class meets on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. also. In the Learning Lab an individual may earn his high school diploma. A $3.00 testing fee is the only charge for the Learning Lab Program.

Anyone interested in any of the program offered in adult education may come by and register at any class meeting or call 634-2740 or 284-2611.

SKIING

Poor physical conditioning is a major factor in ski accidents. The majority of skiers sit behind a desk five days a week, and then dash out to participate in one of the most strenuous of physical sports. Weekend skiers should set up a program of daily exercises that start before, and continue during, the ski season. Running, hiking, and swimming are all excellent conditioners for skiing.

SKIDDING FOR SAFETY

TENNESSEE SKID TEST TRAILER
—one of the devices used by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards during its annual winter test project to measure the stopping ability of various types of tires, chains and other equipment.

These findings point up the extreme hazard of driving on glare ice—showing that with regular tires it may take close to nine times as far to stop as on dry pavement. The Safe Winter Driving League cautions drivers that regardless of the type of traction device employed—even with tire chains—far slower than normal speeds are essential on icy pavements.

Social Security Reports Are Due

This is the time of the year when most people start thinking of filing their income tax returns. There is another important report social security beneficiaries in Davie County should be thinking about, according to Robert C. Thomas, Social Security District Manager of the Salisbury office.

If you are a social security beneficiary born February 1, 1896, or later, you are required to file a report with the Social Security Administration if you earned over $1680 last year. This includes earnings as wages off from self-employment. Mr. Thomas said the report should be filed as soon as possible. The deadline, under the law, for filing is April 15, 1969. Failure to file by April 15th may result in a loss of benefits.

The Salisbury Social Security Office will be glad to help you with any questions you have or assist you in completing the report. If you visit the social security office, take your W-2 form for 1968 with you, or if you were self-employed, take a copy of your 1968 tax returns with you.

Mr. Thomas urges those who received social security benefits in 1968 and worked and earned more than $1680 to contact the social security office without delay. Mr. Thomas said, "We will help anyone file his annual report if he will come by our office, or if they prefer, they may meet with our representative who comes to the courthouse in Mocksville on the second Wednesday of each month." The social security office in Salisbury is located at 105 Corriher Ave., near Catawba College. The telephone number is 633-6470.

Davie Students On Honor Roll

Academic honors at Western Carolina University have been conferred upon 4 students from Davie County, according to an announcement by Dr. W. Newton Turner, vice president for academic affairs.

Dr. Turner said that they are among 541 Western Carolina students on the Dean's List for the fall quarter of the current academic year. Students on the Dean's List must earn a quality point ratio of 3.0 on a scale of 4.0 for the quarter, and must maintain an over-all average of at least 2.0. Only students with at least two quarters of residence at the university are eligible for the honors list.

The students from Davie County are: Mrs. Audrey W. Deadmon of Grove St., Miss Eleanor A. Stewart, William E. Wilkins, all of Cooleemee; John C. Eaton of 723 Park Ave., Mocksville.

which is 8 percent of the County's 1969 quota of $286,539, according to Knox Johnstone, Davie County Volunteer Chairman.

Sam Erwin Says

Our Federal Courts have been the subject of much criticism and part of the problem may lie in the fact that Justices and judges with increasing frequency are performing extrajudicial duties. Last week, I introduced a measure in the Senate which seeks to enforce the principle of separation of powers by prohibiting Federal judges from engaging in certain extrajudicial governmental activities.

Essentially, the bill provides that except where provided by law, Federal judges in active service shall not participate in the exercise of any power or duty which is conferred or imposed upon any officer or employee of the executive or legislative branches of the Government.

Involvement in party or governmental affairs outside the ambit of their judicial duties is very attractive to many Federal judges. But the dangers of the practice are real. The problem has concerned judges and others each time the matter has come to a head. The appointment of learned and respected judges to public positions no doubt contributes to the quality of the work they are called upon to perform. Their participation lends an air of dignity and tone to the finished product. Nevertheless, there is serious question as to the advisability of judges borrowing on the prestige of their office for such purposes.

There is the question of the loss of manpower which results when judges leave their primary responsibilities to perform other duties. Judges and the court system as a whole are affected, sometimes quite adversely, by the involvement of a judge in political disputes. Judges are expected to be aloof and impartial, and to dispense justice according to law. Their reputation, and the reputation of the judiciary suffers when they become identified with a certain position in current public issues, when they run for other offices, elective or appointed, when they become involved in matters which may eventually be presented to the Court, and when they otherwise step over the line between proper and questionable outside activities.

The question of what nonjudicial activities a judge of the U. S. courts may properly perform without infringing upon the dignity and responsibilities of his office is one which has confronted holders of judicial office since the creation of the Federal Judiciary. History abounds with examples of lower Federal judges and Supreme Court Justices who have been asked or have volunteered to perform official duties which were thought by many to be incompatible with their judicial office.

The problem created by extrajudicial activity of this nature by the Justices is particularly acute at this stage in the Court's history. More and more, the Court has been involving itself in social and political problems. Many people have criticized the Justices -- I among them -- for imposing their personal political views upon the Nation in the form of constitutional decisions. It is essential for the Court to maintain a position of public neutrality no less than it is basic to its function that it actually be neutral in these issues.

The bill I propose may not be the answer to the many difficult problems involved in the question of extrajudicial activities. Indeed, I am not entirely convinced that this is a problem which can be entirely solved by law. I am hopeful the bill will serve as a means of guiding Congress, the President, and the Court in dealing with this problem.

Ask IRS

Q - SOCIAL SECURITY TAX WAS TAKEN OUT OF MY PAY ON BOTH JOBS I HAD LAST YEAR. IS THERE ANYWAY I CAN GET PART OF THIS BACK?

A - If more than $343.20 was withheld from your wages last year for Social Security taxes, then the excess can be claimed as credit on your income tax return. The amount of the credit should be entered on line 18, page 1 of the form 1040.

Be sure to attach W-2 forms from both employers showing the amounts that been withheld.

Q - WHY DID YOU USE COLOR ON THE 1040 TAX FORM YOU MAILED ME?

A - Color is used to draw attention to the lines on the tax form that give people the most trouble. It is hoped that the number of errors made on tax returns will thereby be reduced.

Last year, one of every nine income tax returns filed contained an error that slowed processing. If the taxpayer was expecting a refund, it was delayed until the error could be corrected.

Two-color forms were sent to about 30 million taxpayers. The balance of the forms mailed to taxpayers and those which will be available at local banks, post offices and IRS offices, are printed in black ink.

Q - I MAILED A CHECK TO A CHARITY IN DECEMBER BUT IT WAS NOT CASHED UNTIL THIS JANUARY. DOES THIS MEAN I CAN'T DEDUCT IT ON MY 1968 RETURN?

A - You may take the deduction in the year you wrote and mailed the check. This means that a check dated by you in December 1968 can be deducted on your 1968 return.

Q - THE LABEL ON THE TAX RETURN I RECEIVED IN THE MAIL IS WRONG. WHAT SHOULD I DO?

A - Draw a line through the incorrect part and put in the proper information. Return the corrected label with your return when you file so that your return will be properly identified and the needed correction can be made on your tax account.

Q - IF I FILE FOR A REFUND OF TAXES WITHHELD ON A SUMMER JOB, WILL MY PARENTS LOSE THEIR EXEMPTION FOR ME? I'M A COLLEGE STUDENT AND NOT MARRIED.

A - No, your parents will not lose you as an exemption, so long as they furnished over half your support. In this situation the same exemption can be claimed on two returns, yours and your parent's.

Q - I SUPPORT MY GRANDSON. CAN I CLAIM HIM AS A DEPENDENT EVEN THOUGH HE DID NOT LIVE WITH ME?

A - Generally, you can if you provided more than one-half of the child's support, and the other dependency tests are met.

The dependency requirements are explained in the 1040 and 1040A tax instructions.

Area Manpower Training Program Making Progress

EGG VOTE SET FOR MARCH 26TH

Davie County egg producers will vote March 26th on continuation of North Carolina's produce-financed egg promotion program, according to Leo F. William, County Extension Agent.

A 2c per case assessment on each case of table eggs purchased, packed, or processed in North Carolina finances the state-wide egg promotion program conducted by the North Carolina Egg Marketing Association. NCEMA was organized in 1961 following successful passage of the first egg referendum in 1960. The program has been reapproved by producers in 1963 and 1966.

On March 26, egg producers will vote on continuation of the 2c per case assessment for the next six years. All producers of eggs are eligible to vote in the referendum. A two-thirds majority of favorable votes will continue NCEMA's Nationally recognized egg promotion program.

The North Carolina Egg Marketing Association maintains an office in Raleigh. Employees include an Executive Secretary and Home Economist who carry out promotional programs approved by the Board of Directors of the Association.

EGG PROGRAM BENEFITS PRODUCERS

Mr. Good-For-You, the familiar egg symbol found on the label of many Grade A eggs produced in North Carolina, is the official trademark of the N. C. Egg Marketing Association, according to John Hamby of Durham, President of the Association.

The Mr. Good-For-You symbol — which includes the words "Produced in North Carolina" — has gained wide recognition for North Carolina's quality eggs in both state and national markets. This trademark, which belongs to the state's egg producers, is one benefit producers have received from their self-help egg promotional program which is financed by a 2c per case assessment on table eggs.

North Carolina egg producers will vote March 26 on continuation of the two cents per case assessment on table eggs produced, packed, or processed in the state. The assessment finances the consumer educational and promotional program of North Carolina Egg Marketing Association.

The Association, formed by egg producers in 1961, is financed and controlled by producers. A two-thirds favorable majority on March 26 will continue the Association's program for the next six years.

"Highly satisfactory," was the way a spokesman for the sponsoring Community Action agencies of Northwest North Carolina expressed reaction to a meeting held in Winston-Salem late last week at which a plan for a 10-county rural Manpower Training Program was discussed by representatives of the CAP agencies, plus representatives of other State agencies, industrialists of the area and Morris Riger, Regional Manpower Administrator for the U. S. Department of Labor.

"I feel we made considerable progress," commented Willard Swift, an official of the Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Inc., one of the sponsoring agencies. Other CAP agencies involved include Blue Ridge Community Action Agency, Lenoir; Blue Ridge Opportunity Commission, North Wilkesboro; and I-Care, Inc., Statesville.

Counties involved will include Burke, Caldwell, Wilkes, Ashe, Alleghany, Iredell, Surry, Stokes, Yadkin, and Davie.

The Manpower Project was initiated by the four CAP agencies early in February, and on February 10 a six-man delegation flew to Washington, D. C., to outline the plan for Riger. Riger was impressed, and he set up subsequent meetings, of which the one last week in Winston-Salem was the first.

The project is expected to cost in excess of $1-million.

The project's goals are to set up an organization to provide job orientation, pre-vocational training, and job placement for the 700 to 1,000 hardcore unemployed persons in the 10-county area. These people, generally untrained, are regarded as unable to compete in the present labor market.

The U. S. Department of Labor is being asked to support the project with more than $200,000. The remainder of the funds is to come from "in-kind" funds from existing agencies in the area and the state, plus the various industries in the 10-county area.

A number of agencies will be involved, including community colleges, employed security commission, and others.

A portion of a rough draft drawn up by a consultant firm, pointed out that: "Basically the Rural Manpower Service will operate as an outreach pre-vocational (job orientation), job coaching, and job development program. It will coordinate and pull together adult basic education, vocational training, vocational counseling and job placement service done in the area by other services."

Willard Swift of the Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Inc., Boonville, noted that: "We are greatly encouraged by the reception given this proposed project by Mr. Riger on both occasions and we are very optimistic about its chances."

— Because Of Cooleemee Closing — Mizell Seeks Curbs On Foreign Textile Imports

Congressman Wilmer D. "Vinegar Bend" Mizell today contacted the Secretary of Commerce, Honorable Maurice Stans and a Special Assistant to the President, Honorable Robert Ellsworth, concerning the announced shutdown by Ervin Mills of its plant in Cooleemee, North Carolina.

Last week, Ervin Mills made public that continuing poor business for heavy weight cotton and synthetic blend apparel fabrics was forcing the shutdown of yarn manufacturing and weaving operations at the Cooleemee plant. The dyeing and finishing operations there are not affected and the plant will continue to process fabrics manufactured by other Ervin plants. Ervin Mills blamed the difficulty in part upon imports from the Far East of both fabrics and finished apparel.

Some 700 to 800 employees are affected by this shut-down and closing of the plant areas involved is scheduled over the next four to six weeks as production and inventory runouts are completed.

In appealing to high government officials for help, Congressman Mizell who represents Cooleemee and Davie County from which a large segment of the labor force for this plant is derived, emphasized the need for strong curbs on imports by the Federal government to protect the textile industry as a whole. Mizell stated: "The impact of cheaply manufactured goods into our country is causing an intolerable situation. Unless steps are taken to protect this segment of our textile industry that is competing against goods that are manufactured by cheap labor and imported into our country, this could develop into a very serious situation."

Mizell has requested that the Department of Commerce and the White House take steps immediately to look at the legislation "I have introduced along with Congressman Jim Broyhill and others that would permit the President to curb the unfair competition with such plants as Cooleemee face in the production of goods at the earliest opportunity."

Pork, Egg Levy Vote March 26

Pork and egg producers throughout the state will vote March 26 on continuation of their producer-financed promotion program. A two-thirds favorable vote is required.

In the March referendum, the North Carolina Pork Producers Association is asking a 3-year continuance of the 5 cents per head assessment on all hogs sold for slaughter. The assessments finances the Association's promotion on production, sale, and consumption of pork and pork products.

The Egg Marketing Association is requesting a 6-year continuance of its authorization to collect a 2 cents per case of table eggs produced, packed, or processed in North Carolina. Funds collected finance the Association's consumer education and promotional programs.

Mr. Brady Angell and Mr. Tom E. House are Davie County's Egg and Pork Campaign chairmen respectively. In a joint announcement, they listed the following polling places for Davie votes: Mocksville Farm & Garden Store, Johnson's Gulf Service Station, at Farmington; Ken Stroud's Sinclair Service Station, at County Line; Odell Hendrix's Barbecue, at Fork; and Speer Brothers 66 Service Station, at Davie Cross Roads.

The self-help promotion programs are sponsored, financed, and controlled by producers.

Leo J. Heaphy, Chief, Department of Pulmonary Medicine, Bowman Gray School of Medicine has served as chairman of the medical advisory committee, and was the first speaker. "This type of club can prove to be of great value to the patient with emphysema," Dr. Heaphy reports. "By learning from one another the patient can make adjustments and learn to live with his disease. It seems they remember better what they hear from another patient than what is told them by their doctor."

Dr. Kimberley Is Re-Elected To Academy

Dr. Kimberley D. Kimberley, 717 Hospital Drive has been re-elected to active membership in the American Academy of General Practice, the national association of family doctors.

Re-election signifies that the physician has successfully completed 150 hours of accredited postgraduate medical study in the last three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

5-Year Old Reports Death

Last Saturday—began just as another day for the Bruce R. Warn, Jr. family of Rollingwood Drive, Clemmons.

For Mr. Warn, 41, a project engineer with Ingersoll-Rand of Mocksville, it was a day off from work. A day he could remain at home with his five-year-old son, Robbie. A day he could do some work around their new home.

For Mrs. Warn, a cashier at Weatherwax Pharmacy in Clemmons, it was another Saturday and another day of work.

As Mrs. Warn left for her job Mr. Warn proceeded to work out of doors on an area near the family's new home, which has a vacant lot on either side. He burned off an area and feared for awhile that it might get out of control. However, through his efforts it was contained.

As the day wore on, Mrs. Warn at work at Weatherwax decided to telephone her family. Little Robbie answered.

"How are you getting along", the mother asked her small son.

"Oh I'm fine. But Daddy is lying outside on the ground playing dead and I can't get him up!", said the youngster.

An alarmed Mrs. Warn

Davie Residents Asked To Respond To Emphysema Club

Davie County residents are invited to respond to the call being issued by the Forsyth Tuberculosis & Health Association for victims of emphysema to ban together and help each other fight the disease.

Acting on the theory that there is some strength and a great deal of comfort in numbers, the TB and RD Association has developed an emphysema club which is designed to give victims of the disease a chance to talk over their problems with others who are suffering from the same symptoms.

Mrs. Loren Moe, Executive Director of the Forsyth Tuberculosis and Health Association, said the club is currently recruiting members and the association is trying to update its mailing list of club members.

The tuberculosis association helps with the development of the club and stands by to lend additional help when called upon. However, according to Mrs. Moe, the patients do most of the work after the clubs are organized. They elect officers, plan programs, and contact speakers. Once the club is in operation, the patients have control over the direction of its activities.

Last May the Forsyth County club was organized and held its first meeting in June. Monthly meetings were held until the winter months when meetings were suspended because of the danger of "flu and colds."

The first meeting drew some 40 people and a membership was recorded at that time. Dr.

year. The Primary will be held on April 8th and the election on Tuesday, May 5th.

Last week, Mayor D. J. Mando and all members of the current board of commissioners filed for re-election.

Mayor Mando will be seeking re-election to his fifth term, having served in this capacity for the past 8 years.

For councilman, Roy Collette will be seeking re-election to his sixth term as will Gilmer J. Hartley. Both have served on the town board for the past ten years.

O. K. Pope filed for re-election to his fourth term, having served as councilman for the past six years.

Clyde Glascock and Samuel W. Howell both filed for re-election to a second term as town councilmen, both having served one two-year term.

M. H. Murray became the first to file for town councilman, filing on March 6th. He previously served on the town council from 1949 to 1955.

With six seeking the five seats on the town council a Democratic Primary is assured for April 8th.

The registration books for the town are now open but will close at 9 p.m. Saturday, March 22nd. Mrs. Louise R. Meroney is serving as registrar.

Davie Schools To Conduct Workshop For Primary Teachers

Davie County Schools will conduct a summer workshop for primary teachers and principals to improve the teacher-learning process in a continuous progress program that uses team teaching.

All elementary teachers and principals have already begun collecting information as a background through a Science Research associates extension course entitled "Nongraded and the Reading Program".

The primary purpose of the workshop will be to improve the instruction of students in the primary grades through an investigation of a continuous progress program in which a child progresses at his own rate of growth in skill subject areas. Teachers will begin the workshop on June 9 and continue in half-day sessions through June 20, 1969, at the Davie County Education Center in Cooleemee.

The workshop will be sponsored by Appalachian State University and the Davie County Board of Education and will be financed by Elementary and Secondary Education Act Title V and local funds.

This workshop, Education 506 Curriculum Construction, will be offered to primary teachers and principals for college credit with renewal credit or for renewal credit only.

Erwin Plant Is Aiding Employees To Find Jobs

The North Carolina Employment Security Commission will have representatives at the Cooleemee Recreation Center all day Friday, March 21, to interview employees effected by the announced closing of the plant's Greige Mill. Plant Manager, Cyrus Cooley, said today. The office will open at 9 a.m.

In addition, Mr. Cooley said he and his management are working with area industries in efforts to place employees and will welcome representatives of these companies who want to interview employees at the Cooleemee plant.

He said a number of industries in Davie, Rowan and surrounding counties have already contacted the Cooleemee plant about possible job openings for the employees. Names of these firms are being posted and arrangements are being made for interview facilities at the plant. Also, contacts have been made with the Salisbury

-Rowan Chamber of Commerce for possible assistance.

"The response has been encouraging and we feel that most of the employees will be able to find jobs. As job information is developed we are making it known to employees through personal contact and bulletin board notices", he said.

Mr. Cooley reiterated the company's announcement last Tuesday that "everything possible will be done to help employees find job". He said the Greige Mill phase-out is going as scheduled and will continue over the next four to six weeks.

Mr. Cooley said, "we are grateful for the understanding and assistance that our fellow townspeople have given in this trying situation. We solicit their continued support".

He added, "as stated last Tuesday, the Dyeing and Finishing Plant, which employs 400 persons, will remain in operation".

Kiser Chairman Of Easter Appeal

A. M. Kiser, Jr., of Mocksville has been named chairman of the 1969 Easter Seal appeal for Davie County, being held March 1 through April 6.

Kiser will be coordinating Easter Seal efforts to raise funds for direct services to Davie County's crippled children and adults.

The Easter Seal appeal is being conducted by state and local affiliates of the National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults throughout the United States, and last year provided rehabilitation and direct services to more than 250,000 people.

In North Carolina, Easter Seals have given assistance to over 3,000 handicapped persons, with the concentration of its efforts being in equipment loan pools, offering wheelchairs, braces, crutches, and walkers to the physically handicapped.

Some 200 children and adults also attend Camp Easter-In-The-Pines, North Carolina's Easter Seal Camp, where activities are geared toward their abilities.

Regional Home Ec. Association Launched

Home economists from the 18 Northwest counties will meet together Saturday, March 29, 1969 at the Forth Agricultural Building, 537 Spruce Street, Winston-Salem to launch a regional home economics association. The meeting will start at 10:30 a.m. and conclude by noon. The registration and coffee hour will begin at 10:00 a.m. The new association will be a spin-off of the state-wide 1,500 member North Carolina Home Economics Association.

The state organization has the framework to cope with general problems within the area of family living, but it is unable to tackle situations peculiar to one area of the state. Mrs. Lillian Danner, Watauga County Home Economics Extension Agent temporary chairman of the regional association, said today. The important problem may be management in one region of the state; consumer competence in another, she explained.

Under the new organizational structure, each region may define the problem it believes to be most pressing and work toward its solution. The five other regions may select unrelated challenges.

Other benefits of the new association include; the opportunity for greater professional participation, a chance for home economists to become acquainted with other persons in the same field, a more compact method of expediting business and coordinating activities, and hopefully increased membership.

Serving on the steering committee with Mrs. Danner are: Mrs. Carol A. Taylor, Home Economist Piedmont Natural Gas; Miss Catherine Anthony, Home Economics Teacher Forbush High School; Mrs. Sarah W. Durante, Home Economics Extension Agent, Randolph County; and Miss Janie Shipley, Home Economics Student, UNC at Greensboro. For more information, home economists may contact Mrs. Ostinie W. West Home Economics Extension Agent in Davie County.

Tattle Tales

by Gordon Tomlinson

Vicki Hendricks, now Mrs. Tommy Fleming, has had a multitude of things on her mind for several months now leading up to her marriage last Sunday.

In order to keep things on schedule... and not forget... she did what most all businessmen do... that is, keep a memorandum book.

The only trouble was that during the mad rush of the last few weeks, Vicki lost her memorandum book.

Well, Vicki looked and looked... but she couldn't find her book. Then a certain store returned the memorandum book to Vicki. This was their story.

A clerk found the book in the store. There was no name in the book. So they began to read the day by day memorandums. When they got to Sunday, March 16th, they saw this notation scrawled in large letters:

"GET MARRIED!" Checking on the ones getting married on that date they knew it had to be Vicki. But her mother said:

"You know you didn't make a memorandum to yourself to remind you to get married on March 16th, did you?"

"Yes, I did," replied the incredulous Vicki.

"Well, I don't know," said her mother!

Miss Ruby Lee Jarvis

JARVIS-BRENDLE

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie F. Jarvis, Sr. of Route, Advance, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruby Lee, to A/IC Perry Leiry Brendle. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Brendle of 1745 North Peachtree Street, Winston-Salem.

Miss Jarvis is a graduate of Gray High School, Winston-Salem, and is employed at Bimco Corporation.

Mr. Brendle is a graduate of Parkland Senior High School, Winston-Salem. He is stationed with the Air Force in Yokota, Japan.

A May wedding will take place in Green Meadows Baptist Church.

PLOTT-WALKER

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Plott, Jr. announce the engagement of their daughter, Gail, to Kenneth Lee Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Walker of Lexington.

The wedding will be August 3 in Macedonia Moravian Church.

The bride-to-be and her fiancé are seniors at Appalachian State University. She was a student teacher at Sherwood Forest Elementary School in Winston-Salem last fall, while Mr. Walker was student teaching at West Forsyth High School in Clemmons.

Miss Plott was named to the collegiate Who's Who. She and Mr. Walker are dean's list students and were junior marshals.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The club president, Mrs. W. J. Wilson presided. During the business session, it was announced that a contribution to the Boys Home at Lake Waccamaw had been made.

Mrs. Wilson also announced the date of the tea for Miss Cynthia Johnson, who was first place winner in the Art Show the club sponsored last fall. The date has been set for March 30.

Leo Williams gave the program and showed a film entitled, "Fulltime Utilization of School Buildings."

HAIR SHOW IS SUCCESS

Over 200 people attended the "Swing Into Spring" Hair Fashion Show presented by the Davie Hairdressers Association Monday night of last week at the Center Community Building.

A total of 52 models were presented with hair styles done with curling irons, finger waves, and modern waves with wigs, etc. The models ran the gamut from the little girl going to the beach in her bikini, to the young lady on her wedding day, to the grandmother celebrating her wedding anniversary.

Ten door prizes were awarded including wiglets, bubble bath, blankets and other items.

Miss Jo Cooley served as commentator for the Show.

Announcement has been made that the Association is already planning its Fall Show.

SGT. and MRS. WAY ARE HONORED

MARRIAGE VOWS ARE SPOKEN SUNDAY IN FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Miss Vicki Jeanette Hendricks and Thomas Greer Fleming were married Sunday afternoon, March 16, in the First United Methodist Church. The Reverend Gilbert Miller officiated at four o'clock in the afternoon ceremony.

Decorations of the sanctuary were palms, candelabra with lighted cathedral white tapers, altar vases filled with large white mums and fern, and boxwood topiary trees with white carnations.

Wedding musicians were Mike Hendrix, organist, Gene Smith, soloist, and the Methodist Adult Choir who sang, "The Lord's Prayer".

Mrs. Fleming is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Hendricks of Salisbury Street. She attended Western Carolina University, where her husband is a junior. Her sorority is Delta Zeta. Mr. Fleming is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ned Greer Fleming of Morganton.

Mr. Hendricks gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a demi-fitted gown of imported organza featuring a yoked redingote effect of Chantilly lace and long sleeves. A pearl scalloped neckline was accented with a bow in back which fell into a Watteau chapel train. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a cluster of jeweled lace and petals and she carried a bouquet of white spider mums, red rosebuds and gypsophelia.

Honor attendants were Miss Donna Ashe of Sylva and Mrs. William Kenneth Gordon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Becky Fleming of Morganton, the bridegroom's sister; Mrs. John Ladieu of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Ronald Brown of Ft. Bragg, and Mrs. Rodney Way.

The attendants wore identical empire gowns of aqua chiffon over taffeta fashioned with long tiered puffed sleeves. Their matching headresses were of flaired net with clusters of jeweled petals. They carried bouquets of white daisy pom poms and gypsophelia tied with aqua bows.

Mrs. Stephen Bennett presided at the register in the vestibule of the church.

Robert Mark Hendricks, the bride's brother, was an acolyte.

Mr. Fleming was his son's best man. Ushers with the bride's brother, Jerry Martin Hendricks, were Tommy Canipe and Gene Hansen of Cullowhee, Benny Harwood of Raeford and George E. Coakley of Clemson, S. C.

The mother of the bride wore a shocking pink silk ensemble fashioned with a rolled jeweled collar and a corsage of pink carnations and Baker fern.

The bridegroom's mother wore a beige lace dress and a corsage of sunset mums and fern.

After a church reception, the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tennessee. Upon their return, they will live at Sylva.

Reception

The bride's parents entertained with a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony.

The guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hendricks and Mrs. R. C. Dyson of Atlanta kept the guest register.

The reception table was covered with a white satin and lace cloth which was caught up at corners with pink flowers tied in white satin bows. The centerpiece was a silver candelabra with white tapers and a bouquet of pink roses, tiny mums and gypsophelia in the center.

Mrs. Sheek Miller, assisted by Mrs. Robert Lanier, served the tiered wedding cake and Miss Susan Stanley of Morganton poured pink punch. Serving heartshaped cheese wafers, decorated mints and nuts were: Mrs. Johnny Carter, Mrs. Bobby Winters, Mrs. Jerry Anderson, Mrs. Bill Lagle and Miss Susan Collette.

The guests were presented to the receiving line as they departed which was composed of the bride's parents, the groom's parents, and the bride and groom.

BRIDAL COUPLE IS HONORED

Miss Vicki Hendricks and fiance, Tommy Fleming who were married Sunday, were honored with a round of wedding festivities Saturday prior to their wedding.

Mrs. Beal Smith, Mrs. Jerry Anderson and Mrs. Rodney Way entertained with a bridesmaid luncheon Saturday at the Statler Hilton Inn in Winston-Salem, honoring bride-elect Miss Hendricks.

The honoree wore for the occasion a navy blue and yellow linen ensemble with the hostesses' corsage of white carnations.

The centerpiece for the luncheon table was an arrangement of white mums, fern and gypsophelia and white tapers. Favors for the guests were small bags of rice.

Miss Hendricks was presented with a pitcher in her china pattern and she gave her attendants books of "Apples of Gold" and their headresses to wear in her wedding. Among the eleven guests present were Mrs. Robert Hendricks, the bride's mother, and Mrs. Fleming of Morganton, mother of the bridegroom.

Miss Hendricks and her fiance were feted Saturday evening when Mrs. C. C. Chapman, Mrs. O. K. Pope and Mrs. Mac Dunkley of Salisbury joined hospitality in entertaining with a rehearsal dinner at the home of Mrs. Chapman on Lakewood Drive.

The U-shaped table, covered with white linen, was decorated with ivy runners, white candles and an arrangement of yellow rose buds, mums and stephanotis.

Place cards were used to seat the guests. The bride-elect's place was marked with a corsage of carnations and tiny white wedding bells.

Baked ham, green beans, baked potatoes, apple rings, congealed salad, hot rolls and cherry cream pie were served.

Mr. Perkinson is married to the former Elizabeth Graves of Wilson, N. C. They have three children.

FARMINGTON

The March winds are blowing more gently; the last of snow that lingers on the north side of large buildings is slowly and silently melting away; the song birds are happily chirping; their mating calls are sounding loud and clear; the Spring peepers in their damp homes in meadows and brooks and ponds are in community groups joining together in the Spring Hallelulah chorus; the smell of burning grass and weeds and leaves as the blue smoke rises from the land tells that garden plots are being prepared for the plowing of the good earth; children without coats are running wild to and fro in yard and field playing as confined dogs romp when unleashed; there is a feeling in one's bones that Spring is just around the corner and the beauty of the flowers will again be everywhere showing after the dead of Fall and Winter, a new life of hibernating creatures, plants and flowers that are being resurrected all about us. The flowers are beginning already to give color and fragrance to the once brown earth. Spring is on its way.

Ticket Scalping

Jack Horner, former sports editor of the Durham Herald, and now executive secretary of the Carolinas Section of the PGA, was arrested in Charlotte during the ACC Basketball Tournament for ticket scalping. Bloody embarrassing!

Not so much being arrested. Anybody who has been a sportswriter for 30 years isn't going to get really steamed over a misdemeanor charge regardless of the publicity.

But the part that really looks bad is that Jack was offering five dollar tickets for only ten bucks. He just didn't try to gouge enough.

If all the scalpers and those who buy from them were, as prescribed by law, thrown into the pokey, there would be a sizeable void in the basketball constituency. And nobody should be surprised or dismayed that a number of Virginia players were caught and arrested.

It is more surprising that players from all the other schools didn't wind up in the jug, too.

Players are always given tickets to the games in which they play. On top attractions, they are able to sell these tickets for sometimes fabulous prices. It is not infrequent that some well heeled and interested alumnus will peel a couple of fifties off his wad and buy a player's ticket. This is a way to circumvent the NCAA rules about how much a college athlete may receive for his services.

Ticket scalping doesn't seem such a heinous crime to me. It is a good deal cheaper to pay a hundred dollars a pair for center court seats than it is to give of the participating schools the five hundred necessary to be able to buy a seat, and find it up in East Podunk where the birds fly by during the games.

Besides, the buyers could get their tickets through legitimate channels if they really wanted to think ahead.

Scalping, an example of the capitalist practice of buying and then selling an item in great demand for a profit, has succumbed to the socialist tendencies of the day, but the anti-scalping laws have done little to break up the practice and nothing to aid in an equitable distribution of tickets.

Problems At Maryland

When Dwight Eisenhower ran for President of the United States he promised, if elected, he would "clean up the mess in Washington." You may be your judge as to how well he succeeded.

Just up the road a piece from the nation's capital, Tom Kehoe has just assumed direction of the athletic department of the University of Maryland. He is faced with the immediate need to clean up the mess in Maryland.

Already Bob Ward has been fired as football coach, and the axe falling on Basketball Mentor Frank Fellows is just before drawing first blood.

Kehoe, who for more than twenty years has been in the relatively placid world of track, is now trying to find two head coaches complete with staffs, and also he is hopeful of quelling players and student disaffection. If he doesn't have a strangled nerve seizure before it's all over, he'll miss probably his best chance to go nuts in the public eye.

Steve Gubeck, master sports scribe for the Washington Star, and just elected president of the Atlantic Coast Sportswriters Association, said in his inaugural speech before that august body:

"There is just no excuse for Maryland's basketball team being so bad. After all, in Washington, we do have the highest shooting percentage in the world."

Our Rescue Squad!

The Davie County Rescue Squadron is truly an organization dedicated to the service of others.

The 24 members comprising this squadron stand ready 24-hours each and every day to answer an emergency call... a bad automobile wreck with victims pinned in... a drowning and search in muddy waters for the body... a disappearance and a search through long hours of night over hill and dale, through woods and brush. These are the emergency situations in which the Davie Rescue Squadron has performed so nobly in the past, and constantly stand ready should the call arise in the future.

If this group confined itself solely to the above it would rate the thanks and appreciation of the entire county... but it does much more. The squadron also performs as traffic detail at any ball game or large gathering in the county.

For instance, the recent basketball tournaments held here. During the six days of basketball play the Davie Rescue Squad had members on duty directing the traffic and assisting those attending the ballgames to find parking spaces. Also, the conference requires four law officers on duty at all these games and this too was performed by members of the Rescue Squad after being deputized for this duty by the Sheriff.

To carry on these services the squad utilizes an ambulance... a van that can readily be converted to an ambulance... a truck that has a portable generator capable of generating electricity... a van for special equipment... and two boats.

The Davie Rescue Squad is now paying on this equipment. The squad receives $1200 a year from the county, but most of this goes to pay premiums for insurance carried on the members and equipment. The only other source the group has for funds is from their fish fries and donations from individuals recognizing and appreciating their services.

This group seldom undertakes personal fund raising drives unless it is absolutely necessary. They prefer just to serve the public... asking nothing in return. However, they do need funds to help pay on the equipment and defray the expense incurred in the previously named operations. By giving you can help an organization that always stands ready to help you.

Poisoning - Many Names

There are many names for poisonings. Some of them are things like "aspirin", "lye", "bug killer", "furniture polish" and "drugs". Others are names like "George", "Mary", "Johnny" and "Alice". Hundreds of thousands of children are involved every year in accidental poisonings - and many such tragedies can be prevented.

The pharmacists of our community are observing National Poison Prevention Week from March 16 to 22. The Week is an annual national observance proclaimed by the President in an effort to call the public's attention to the dangers of accidental poisoning and to suggest methods for reducing the tolls of injuries and deaths.

Children under 5 are the principal victims of accidental poisonings according to the National Clearinghouse for Poison Control Centers. In 1967, the Clearinghouse reports, more than 72,000 children under 5 accidentally swallowed potentially harmful substances.

Aspirin, both adult and children's, is implicated in a large percentage of accidental ingestions. Aspirin is one item found in practically every home. Often, it is left on the bedside table, or the kitchen counter, within easy reach of a youngster. Often, too, children have heard the flavored aspirin called "candy" by their parents - and candy it becomes, taken without permission. Another predisposing factor is children's tendency to imitate what their parents do - and taking aspirin is an oft-viewed occurrence.

Locked up poisons prevent tragedy. A locked place for medicines may be a dresser drawer, a linen closet, a suitcase - any storage area that can be locked. And, storage patterns should be related to the growth and development process of a child. He crawls, he becomes a toddler, then climbs. He is agile, ingenious and mobile; you must be his match.

Internal medicines should be stored separately from other household substances. Not only may there be similarities in the design and composition of containers, but the colors, consistencies, even odor, may possibly be duplicated. There is the possibility of reaching for one bottle and grasping the one alongside of it - the one that may be poisonous.

Medicines prescribed for one individual under one set of circumstances should not be used for others. Also, medicines, over a period of time, may undergo changes in composition resulting in toxicity. When medicines are no longer to be used, flush the contents down the drain, then rinse the container before throwing it away.

A good rule to remember is that any substance accessible to a child is a potential poison. Your pharmacist can help you "poison-proof" your home. See him this week, during National Poison Prevention Week.

Helen Sparks To Edit Year Book

Miss Helen Sparks, Mocksville, has been named editor of the Pfeiffer College yearbook for 1970. She was elected to this post by the college's Publications Committee which is made up of student, faculty and administrative representatives. Miss Sparks has also been named president of Washington Residence Hall for women for the coming year. In this role she will serve as one of the principle officers of the Association of Women Students.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frank Sparks, Rt. 2, Mocksville, she is an elementary education major at Pfeiffer and is a graduate of Davie County High School.

School To Present Play

The Boyden High School Music Department will present its 10th Anniversary musical production "West Side Story" by Leonard Bernstein, in the Boyden Auditorium March 26, 27, 28 and 29 at 8:15 p.m. each night.

A professional orchestra will support the high school cast which includes Tommy Atkinson as TONY, and Deborah Busby as MARIA.

The entire production is directed by Mrs. Blair Beasley and George F. Wilson and was choreographed by Voigt Kempson of New York City.

Reservations maybe made by calling the high school in Salisbury, 630-1221, between 2 and 5 p.m.

AT THE MANSION...Motorists driving by the Governor's Mansion-and there are many of them these days-wonder what the huge piles of bricks at the Blount Street entrance will turn into when the work is finally completed. Well, eventually they will lead to more privacy.

Mansion grounds-one of the original parks in Raleigh that belong to the State (and not to the city)-consist of one block. The formal, brick-paved drive leading up to the Mansion, has two entrances. Then, for food service, etc., there is a little side entrance back closer to the kitchen.

The official residence of the chancellor of N. C. State University on Hillsborough Street here has much more privacy than the home of the Governor of North Carolina. It has a big, beautiful hedge on all public sides of it-and the grounds seem to be just as beautiful as those of the Mansion-whose yard is as open as a field.

Blount Street is far, far from the best section of Raleigh. One time, it was tops. But no more. The Mansion needs to be set apart more from the surrounding area-for beauty, exclusivity, and protection.

OVER THE RIVER...The murders, riots, rapings, and other crime in Washington, D. C., are bringing good business to Virginia. Just over the Potomac in many shopping centers of Fairfax County, Alexandria, and down into Fredericksburg, Va., the restaurants and bars are doing a thriving business. So say N. C. visitors to Washington.

Tourists, fearful of trouble in the Nation's Capital, go with friends-and some catch cabs-over into Virginia. Those who live there and commute-literally thousands-have discontinued their afterwork drinks in Washington.

It's an ill wind-and Virginia is on the good end of it.

LOCAL OPTION...They are still whispering around the Legislature about a local option liquor-by-the-drink bill or bills during this session.

And, as for the dyes, they confess that "everything is far too quiet around the State House."

Could be... Last year, when the Virginia General Assembly finally passed the necessary legislation for local votes on whiskey, the Washington Star reported that the measure called for it to be done "on a local potion basis."

BACK HOME...Legislators-when the wind is just right-are daily reminded that North Carolina is still an agricultural State.

Every now and then a lawmaker, bred on the farm, can be seen gently lifting his nose the better to get those back-to-the-feedlot odors that fill the block whereupon sits the magnificent palace called the Legislative Building.

The answer, of course, is that his nose knows-contingent meal when he smells it. And it comes from yon feed mill which looms on the skyline only a few feet due north of the State House.

Everything else of prominence has been crunched under in the bulldozing march of North Carolina Government. When will the feed mill go? What hidden power does it hold over the planners?

If, and when, it ceases to grind, the pigeons must move elsewhere-mayhaps to the palace. Until that happens, more than one legislator will slow his early-morning stride to that committee meeting to get one more whiff of yesterday.

SIMPLE...A lot of people-all voters, too-seem to be having a smidgen of trouble reaching their legislators in Raleigh.

Well, the best thing to do-and thanks to sharp and beyond-the-call of duty of Southern Bell-is dial area code 919 and then 829-4111. There you can get your lawmaker's office number, telephone number, seat number, and residence.

NOTES...Jesse Helms, vice president of WRALTV and one of the editorial commentators best known in this area of the South, is the new president of the Raleigh Rotary Club....

The new Holiday Inn going up here...about 16 stories...is round...and will have a restaurant on its top floor that will go around-and-around...just across Hillsborough Street from the Baptist State Convention Building, square....

A certain lady in Puerto Rico has offered North Carolina's David Brinkley $20,000 for his 1967 correspondence, says the Wall Street Journal. He turned her down, has agreed to give the thousands of letters he receives each year to the Wisconsin Historical Society....

And Author Jonathan Daniels is donating to the State University Library here in Raleigh several hundred choice historical volumes.

Betting here a Vic Bubas, the Duke Basketball coach, will become assistant athletic director at Duke...or assistant to the president...with top job his...within five years....

Here is a recent blip from the Raleigh Times: "Miss Y, secretary to Mayor A, was back at her desk in City Hall today after an absence of more than a month due to influence...."

A new travel agency for Raleigh...the Diners-Fugazy...will open big offices here some three blocks from the Capitol in about three weeks....

The law firm of which former Gov. Dan K. Moore is a part registered as legislative lobbyists here last week.

EARTH-MOVING PROJECT

About 12 million tons of earth and rock were lifted by the energy released from a 100-kiloton nuclear explosion (equivalent to 100,000 tons of TNT) used in the Atomic Energy Commission's first experiment to study the use of nuclear explosions in large-scale earth-moving projects.

Davie County School Bus Drivers Honored At Banquet

Davie County school bus drivers and school personnel were honored at a banquet last Friday night at the Rotary Hut. The banquet was sponsored by Pennington Chevrolet Co., Inc.

Loflin, Eddie Frank, Vestal Danner, Tom Shore and Craig Boger (mechanics for the county).

Mrs. Cecil Little (keeps records on all buses, miles traveled, maintenance, etc.)

D. G. Pruitt of Salisbury, State area bus supervisor.

O. K. Pope, of Pennington Chevrolet Company; D. J. Mando, Assistant Principal; Jack Pennington of Pennington Chevrolet Company; Lonnie Tutterow, Mocksville Policeman; Herman Cartner and Gilmer Brewer of Pennington Chevrolet.

Governor Robert W. Scott has issued a letter commending the job being done by the school bus driver. This letter is as follows:

Periodically situations arise which bring to our attention the tremendous responsibility assumed by the teenage school bus drivers of our State. In accepting and faithfully discharging this great responsibility, these young people render an immeasurable service to our schools, and consequently to all the citizens of the State. In so doing, they reveal to us the true qualities of our present day youth.

As the Governor of North Carolina, representing all of its people, I would like to commend the drivers of our North Carolina schools, individually and collectively, for the splendid job being done.

To each of the school bus drivers of Davie County for the school year 1968-69, I want to express a sincere appreciation for acceptance of the responsibilities and for so effectively meeting the challenges of their position. With this expression of appreciation goes my sincere congratulations for a job well done and my very best wishes for success in future undertakings.

Cordially,

Bob Scott

MACEDONIA News

Spring is surely just "around the corner" because our yard has been full of robins the last few days. It's good to see the beautiful sunshine and see all the different kinds of birds playing around and singing and it makes you feel like getting out your rakes, hoes and shovels and start to make flower beds and gardens. It's also a good time to clean up the dead limbs and grass, etc. left over from the winter freezes. Macedonia will have a workday Saturday at 8:00 to do just this around the church grounds and in the graveyard. Plan now to come and help with the work. The women of the church will furnish the noon meal so come on out and enjoy the fellowship of being together.

There will be a general meeting of the Women's Fellowship on Tuesday, March 25th.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the friends and relatives of Mr. Joe Howard. May God be with them in their time of bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sparks and Teresa and Alethea Sparks ate birthday dinner with Doris Gough Sunday.

Miss Bessie Platt has been on the sick list. We hope she will soon be well.

Ernest Cope entered Davie County Hospital Sunday for x-rays and tests.

Please remember all the sick in your prayers. We pray God will see fit to fill their needs and they will be well soon.

Miss Helen Sparks, student at Pfeiffer College is spending the week with her family, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Sparks.

Misses Nancy and Gail Platt spent the weekend at home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Platt, Jr. Our congratulations to Gail who announced her engagement in the paper Sunday to Ken Walker. They will be married August 3. Both are seniors at Appalachian State University at Boone.

Henry Sparks and Mrs. Reynolds visited Mr. and Mrs. John Sparks Sunday afternoon. Their Sunday supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Sparks and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Sparks, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Parks and Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cornatzer and Mrs. Kate Riddle visited the Kenneth Smith family Saturday night. Mrs. Hattie Cope visited with her daughter Mrs. Betty Doss last week.

Mrs. Dorothy Ellis and Carol visited Mrs. Grace Call last Tuesday night. We are pleased to see Mrs. Call is doing so well.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smith, Mark, Gina, Tim and Brent of Sheffield had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Beauchamp and children Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. David Smith and Allyson spent the weekend in Virginia visiting David's relatives.

Mrs. W. A. Ellis was honored at a birthday dinner last Sunday at the W. R. Davie Fire Department. All of her children were present and most of her grandchildren. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Lennie Peoples, sister of Mrs. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walker and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lemon of Star, N. C., and Miss Ida Ellis. Everyone enjoyed getting together and we wish her many more birthday anniversaries.

Here & There

Regular schedule of services continue at Green Meadows Church. Mr. Herbert Smith of Bethlehem will be guest conductor of the Wed. evening prayer service.
A reminder to all those interested, this Sun. afternoon is open house for the Yadkin Association Home and Office Building.
Mrs. Lillian Gregory remains a patient at the Davis Hospital in Statesville. She was admitted on Feb. 28, with a heart condition, latest reports from the doctor shows some improvement.
Mrs. Lula Boger has again returned home from the hospital and seems to be getting along well. Visiting her on Sun. afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Boger, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Carter, Jr., and children and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Langston.
Mr. Chasell Gregory was admitted to the Davis Hospital in Mocksville on Friday. His condition is not completely diagnosed at this time.
Rev. Hubert Middleton was the luncheon guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Williams on Sun. They all enjoyed lunch at the restaurant of "Mr. Steak" near Hanes. Sun. evening following church services, Rev. and Mrs. Middleton and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Langston enjoyed a short visit and refreshments of ice cream, pound cake and hot Russian tea with them in their home.
The community extends sympathy to the family of Mr. Bruce Warren. Mr. Warren died suddenly on Sat. at his home in Clemmons. The family moved from New York and lived in this community until their home was built in Clemmons.

Jehovah Witnesses Stress Bible Study

"Disregard of law and order on a worldwide scale is greater today than ever before," said Joseph Saia in an assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Hudson, N. C.
Saia spoke to an audience of 1,121 during a public discussion on the topic, "Law and Order - When and How?"
The district supervisor added, "With the crime wave zooming, the F. B. I., using the latest method of crime detection and the police department asking for more money to combat crime, yet all enforcement agencies are in complete dismay and turmoil about solving the flood of violence that even shocks our modern teenagers."
Saia, who has been teaching the Bible with the Witnesses for over twenty-five years, said, "The Bible helps us to recognize authority." He then explained, "The astronauts, with their control center in Houston, Texas, have recognized that the architect of the universe has a blueprint of fixed laws that must be observed if outer space travel is to be successful. The blueprint for law and order on earth is the Bible. If we observe Jehovah God's laws and principles as the astronauts observe the fixed laws in outer space travel, we may be successful in establishing law and order. However," declared Saia, as he cited scriptural prophecies of a "new heaven and new earth," "the law and order of Jehovah God will bring a 'earth-wide peace.' The present increase of violence and lawlessness with injustice will come to its complete arrest at Armageddon." Then he added, "Strange as it may seem, soon there will be no more lawlessness on the face of the earth."
Saia then asked himself the question, "When can we expect this to come about?" He answered, "World events since 1914 in fulfillment of Bible prophecies assure us that this would come about in this generation by divine intervention by the Kingdom of God in the hands of Christ Jesus."
Jerry C. Smith, the local minister for the Witnesses said, "The dramatization of the home Bible study and its importance to all individuals and families will help us to strengthen the faith of the people in our locality through Bible study. We want all to learn the truth that leads to eternal life."

Chicken Algerian Low-Calorie Elegance

Any time of year, chicken is an aid and comfort to the dieter. Compared with other popular meats, chicken ranks lowest in calorie count. The National Broiler Council points out that a three-ounce portion of skinless broiled chicken, for instance, has only 115 calories.

Chicken Algerian combines browned chicken pieces with diced eggplant, onions, and tomato sauce. Tabasco, the liquid red pepper seasoning, adds spicy zest to the wonderful combination of ingredients. The dish is cooked in a skillet and simmers only about a half hour until done. Chopped green peppers are served, condiment fashion, with the Chicken Algerian.

Chicken Algerian

2 broiler-fryer chickens, cut into serving pieces
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup diet margarine
2 medium onions, chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced
2 cans (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 teaspoon dried leaf thyme
1 teaspoon dried leaf basil
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
2 medium eggplants, peeled and diced
Sprinkle chicken pieces on both sides with salt and paprika. Heat margarine in very large skillet or Dutch oven; add chicken pieces a few at a time and brown on both sides. Return chicken pieces to skillet with onion and garlic. Mix together tomato sauce, thyme, basil and Tabasco; add to skillet. Simmer, covered, 15 minutes. Add eggplant and cook, covered, 10 minutes longer or until chicken is tender. If desired, serve sprinkled with chopped green pepper.
YIELD: 8 servings, 300 calories each.

The Afternoon Circle met Monday at the home of the chairman, Mrs. J. H. Thompson, with 5 members present.

Mrs. Thompson gave the program using an article on "100 Years of Missionary Work". Mrs. J. K. Sheek had the devotions.

A salad course and coffee were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

The Morning Circle met Tuesday morning at the Educational Building with 8 members and 4 visitors present. Mrs. William A. Ellis and Mrs. Glenn Miller were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Miller gave the program "Missions In The Philippines" and Mrs. Ellis served doughnuts, coffee and coca colas to those attending.

FIRST BAPTIST

George Leagans qualified for the District Sword Drill at the Youth Conference held at Statesville First Baptist Church March 15.

Vickey Riddle will enter the Training Union Jr. Memory Tournament to be held at Western Avenue Church, Statesville March 23.

Beginner and Primary choir's will sing at the Sunday evening worship service March 23.

Circle No. 2, of the First Baptist Church, Miss Louise Stroud, chairman, met on Monday evening, March 17 at the home of Mrs. Jim Andrews on Park Avenue. The program, "Into Highways and Byways" was presented by Mrs. Raymond Keller.

Fruit punch, cake and ice cream were served to ten members present.

SAM ERWIN

The advent of a new Administration is always a time for examining the direction which we may expect our country to take during the next four years. If history is of any value in such prophecies, it leads us to conclude that what is said in a political campaign has little bearing upon the policies of the new Administration.

The first sixty days of the Nixon Administration have brought a change in style and tempo, but it is still too early to say how it will fare in bringing us face to face with the realities of our time.

The President has yet to recommend much to Congress. This may be good after a year when Presidents sent messages to Capitol Hill daily. The President has been cautious in his remarks, has met with the leaders of the Western World, and has appointed most of his top Administrative officials.

Having done this, the question arises if this per se will bring about a change in direction. The answer is "not necessarily", because much of government today is conducted by civil servants who have been schooled for a long time in policies and programs so vast that they touch virtually all our affairs.

At the outset, every Administration is confronted by a vast and unchanged bureaucracy. Human nature is

Area Residents Eligible For Classes

Residents of the Mocksville area are eligible to enroll in four evening classes which will be conducted this spring on the campus of Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem by its Management Institute.

The classes will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. one night each week for 10 weeks. A fee of $70 will be charged for each course.

The classes:

"Effective Cost Management" The institute said this program is appropriate for those engaged in manufacturing, office management, retailing, the service trades or any other productive enterprise where cost is a significant factor. The instructor will be Robert W. Glenn, division industrial engineer for Burlington Industries at Burlington.

The course will open Monday, March 17. "Effective Development and Training of People" - The institute said that helping people to progress and grow is an important responsibility of every manager - this course provides the know-how to accomplish it. The instructor will be Carl L. Whitney, a retired Army colonel and now assistant executive director of Goodwill Industries Rehabilitation Center in Winston-Salem. The course opens Tuesday, March 18.

"Building Effective Communications" The institute said these sessions aim at helping the student understand the basic principles of face-to-face communication and provide opportunities for increasing his skill in applying them. The instructor will be Verwyn A. Hayes, assistant professor and director of lebate, Department of Speech, Wake Forest University. The course opens Wednesday, March 19.

"Personnel Aspects of Supervision" - The institute said this course aims to develop an appreciation of the personnel aspects of a manager's job, to promote understanding of typical personnel problems and to develop skills in conducting personnel relations in face-to-face situations. Judson D. DeRamus, retired regional director of the Veterans Administration and now consulting associate of the Management Institute of Wake Forest University, will instruct. The course opens Thursday, March 20.

Enrollment applications and further information is available from the Management Institute, Box 7285, Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem, N. C. 27109.

More About Warn Death

immediately rushed home and found the body of her husband lying on the ground just as her small son had related. He had died of natural causes.

Bruce Royden Warn, Jr., 41 was born in Elmira, N. Y. to Bruce and Grace Hamilton Warn. He had lived at Clemmons for the past several months. Prior to that he lived in the vicinity of Farmington.

He was a member of the Campbell United Methodist Church at Campbell, N. Y. Funeral services were held there Wednesday.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Laura Austin Warn; a daughter, Miss Pamela Warn of the home; a son, Robert Bruce Warn of the home; three stepdaughters, Misses Sharon and Claudia Baird and Mrs. Deborah Van Etten of Campbell; and his parents of Horsehead, N. Y.

Social Security

The social security district office of Rowan, Davidson (except Thomasville and Walburg), and Davie Counties is located at 105 Corriher Ave., Salisbury, N. C. 28144. The telephone number is 633-6470.

If you have any questions about social security, visit or call the Salisbury social security office, or get in touch with us by mail. The office is open Monday through Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and on Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., except on national holidays.

If you are unable to come to Salisbury, a social security representative will be at the New Courthouse, Juvenile Courtroom in Lexington from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. each Thursday in April, May, and June and at the Courtroom, 2nd floor in Mocksville from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on April 9, May 14, and June 11.

You should get in touch with the social security office:

1. if a member of your family who has worked under social security dies.
2. if you decide to retire between age 62 and age 65.
3. if you will be age 65 within the next three months to apply for MEDICARE regardless of whether you plan to retire or not.
4. if you become totally disabled and your disability is expected to last at least 12 months.

Organized groups are invited to contact the social security office if you would like someone to speak to your group on Retirement Benefits, Survivor Benefits, Disability Benefits, or MEDICARE Benefits.

Yadkin Valley News

An open house will be Sunday March 23 at the Associational Missionary's home and office at 2:30 until 5:30. All churches are asked to attend and see what has been purchased through the churches of Yadkin Association. The home is located one block east of the courthouse in Yadkinville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint West visited Rev. and Mrs. John Frank Frye at their home near Walnut Cove Sunday evening.

The W. M. U. will hold its associated meeting April 29 at 7:15 p.m. at Shady Grove Baptist Church.

Mrs. David Frye is still confined to her home and has been for several weeks from a backset of the flu. We hope she will have a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Lorena West visited Mrs. Bessie Smith and Mrs. Alma King last Thursday. They were both improving.

Mrs. Clint West and Mrs. Henry McBride went with the Yadkin Home Demonstration Club March 11 on a tour to Rutherford, N. C. They toured the Tanner Co. and saw all operations of the dresses they make. They saw the display of finished products ranging in price from $30.00 to $75.00. Then the Don Caster Mill was toured and the finished products from the Cutting Dept. were priced from $75.00 to $500.00. All the dresses were especially ordered and were very beautiful. A fashion show was given by their model from New York after the tour. After the fashion show the ladies had lunch at the Country Club. On the way home, the bus stopped at the Mills Cloth Shop and the Mitchell Co. at Spindale, N. C. The day was well spent and enjoyed by the bus load of ladies.

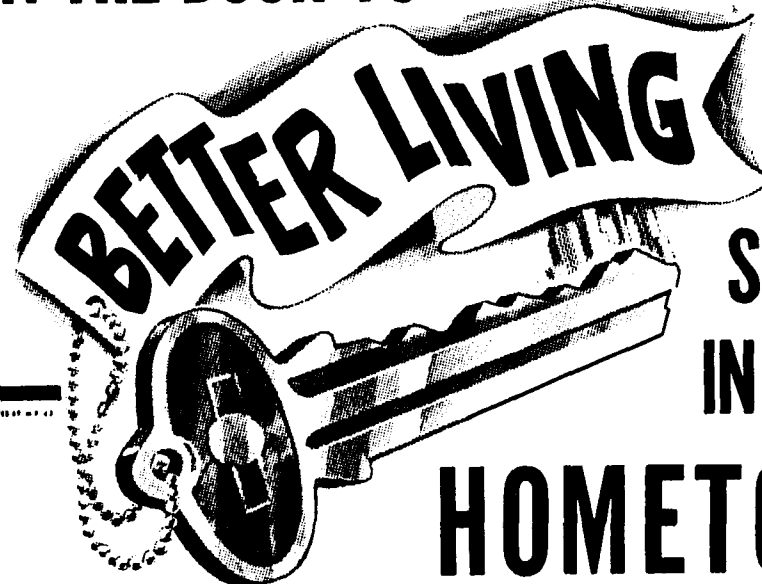

The Yadkin Valley enjoyed a message brought by a visiting minister, Rev. Wade Chappell from Gum Orchard Baptist Church, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob King had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Wade King. After this they visited Mr. and Mrs. Ott Smith. Mrs. Smith has just returned home from an operation at Davis County Hospital. Her sister, Mrs. Mattie Smith, is staying with her for a few weeks.

Mrs. Henry McBride and Wesley Hauser visited Mrs. Brenda Baily and Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Poindexter and Lynn Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Riddo visited Mrs. Maude Hauser Sunday night.

To accomplish this goal, it is the wish of OEO that the youth program give young people experiences which "provide for the development of leadership, increased skills and self-direction."

The cost of the project, which if funded would begin this summer, is expected to be somewhere between $25,000 and $40,000.

The proposal is being prepared by Ralph Cooke, acting chairman; Mrs. Lorene Lowe, and Robert Leo Cox, Neighborhood Youth Corps Director.

A spokesman for the proposal committee pointed out that the proposal must be submitted within the next two weeks.

The group to be served will encompass young people between the ages of 10 and 25 and will include work in recreation, education, and economic development.

The area of recreation, it is expected, will include such activities as camping, arts and crafts, swimming, an inter-county softball league, and perhaps a basketball clinic will make up a portion of the program.

The educational phase of the program will probably include purchase and distribution of books to the various community centers in the four counties, tours, guest speakers, and correlation of existing fine arts programs to bring low income youth into contact with these programs.

From the economic standpoint, youth council members themselves will be employed wherever possible in the program and young people will be referred to possible employers through the youth centers, according to their abilities.

Success of the program will hinge to a great extent on the Youth Council members, who will have a voice in the formation of policies for the program in their particular communities. They will, for example, have a voice in the interviewing, screening and selecting of a director and fulltime employees to work in the proposed program. A youth board will be selected from the four counties to determine policies for the program.

Priority in the program will be given to young people who have dropped out of school, potential dropouts, those with no immediate source of income, or with little or no contact with other social agencies, and with those who have no consistent work history or marketable skills.

A spokesman for the Community Action Program officials writing the proposal pointed out that:

"Recreation will be used as a drawing card, but the program encompasses education, leadership and social and cultural development, and does so primarily in the communities where it was not previously available. An attempt will be made to bring low income youth into the mainstream of community life."

Q I JUST RECEIVED A BILL FOR TAXES I PAID LAST MONTH. WHAT SHOULD I DO?

A — Write the office which sent you the bill telling them when you made your last payment and where it was sent. Be sure to give your name, address and Social Security Number. It is possible that your payment got separated from the return or notice accompanying it.

To make sure payments are properly credited, always put your Social Security number on your check or money order.

It will also be helpful to write on the check what it is for and to enclose any bill or notice you may have received.

REFUND?

A — Refund claims filed now can be processed and the check issued in 5-6 weeks. Returns filed in April take longer to process, because of the high volume of returns received at that time.

Any error on the return, such as a mistake in figuring the new tax sur-charge or a missing Social Security number or signature, will cause delays. If your refund is delayed, wait at least 10 weeks from the time you filed before writing IRS about it.

Adult Education

In today's highly organized society, the involvement of all is needed to combat the continuation of a high percentage of our adults being uneducated. Many adult education classes have been established and have gained a token of respect but have failed vastly to reach the majority of the adults that need valuable skills in order to compete in today's competitive world.

In many areas the lack of education among adults have created areas of poverty; in many cases, adults have not been motivated by personal experiences, which caused other characteristics; such as (1) Unemployment and underemployment (2) Resistant to change (3) Lack of vocational training (4) Lack of awareness of existing services (5) Lack of transportation. Naturally such conditions only lead to the establishment of poor ghetto areas.

Since involvement of many agencies are necessary to give personal consultation and advice, leaders of adult education classes should solicit help from the following agencies: (1) News media (Radio, Newspaper, T. V.) (2) All schools - with backing from the board of education (3) Industries (4) Civic Clubs (5) Church groups (6) Community colleges (7) Technical institutes (8) Chambers of Commerce (9) Employment at security commission (10) Health Departments (11) Welfare Departments. Through the involvement of the many community agencies and the coordination of all other agencies working together, information and data could be provided to all groups for their use in planning. With this vast array of help, many needy adults could be reached through personal contact and with planned objectives explain in layman terms - undereducated adults will cause many new classes in Adult Basic Education and Learning Labs to be started in all parts of the state.

Agencies involved should see priority plans to educate and motivate the poor toward the programs and services available, advantages of working together, desire to bring about change within themselves and the agencies that can help them and encouragement of greater participation on the part of the poor and undereducated adult to seek help. Apathy and the lack education many times cause the poor adult not to seek solutions.

The poor have evidenced the needs of education once objectives have been explained. These agencies will and should put priority of Adult Basic Education but will give attention to dropouts below eighteen years of age and to child development of pre-school children.

Through the leadership of dedicated administrators and the involvement of the many community agencies many adults will find themselves as an individual with renewed hope for life.

25 Davie Students At N. C. State U

The fastest growing school at North Carolina State University is continuing its upward climb, spring enrollment figures released Tuesday showed.

The School of Liberal Arts, which was organized in 1963 and is already the second largest school on campus in enrollment, again showed the largest increase, jumping from 1,786 students last spring semester to 2,185 this spring.

Dean of Student Affairs James J. Stewart announced that the total spring enrollment at NCSU is 11,153 students. Spring enrollment in 1968 was 10,392.

The largest school on campus continues to be engineering, which noted a sizable increase of 130 students over last spring. Engineering enrollment is 3,260 students.

Next highest increase in the eight schools was in the School of Physical Sciences and Applied Mathematics which went from 924 last spring to a current enrollment of 1,015.

The coed population at NCSU continues to grow rapidly. There are 1,676 young ladies now studying at the former center of male education, 379 more than a year ago.

The Graduate School also reported a major increase, from 2,057 in spring, 1968 to 2,316 in 1969.

All 100 counties in North Carolina are represented in the spring enrollment.

Spring enrollment figures for the eight schools of the University are:

Agriculture and Life Sciences - 1,764; Design - 456; Education - 844; Engineering - 3,260; Forest Resources - 650; Liberal Arts - 2,105; Physical Sciences and Applied Mathematics - 1,015; and Textiles - 711.

There are 268 unclassified students enrolled for the spring semester. Of the total, 25 are from Davie County.

Rep. Mizell Introduces Bail Reform Legislation

Congressman Wilmer D. Mizell (R), North Carolina today introduced into the House a bill which would authorize conditional pretrial release of detention of persons charged with noncapital offenses who pose a danger to the community.

During his campaign for election to the Congress, Mizell took a strong stand on "law and order", as it will be remembered. In introducing this bill, he stated: "This is my immediate answer to the many questions put to us at every turn. This bill, which I am co-sponsoring, with numerous other Congressmen, is accurately called 'The 1969 Reform of the Bail Reform Act of 1966', and it is high time some action is taken in this direction."

"As a result of the 1966 act, judicial officers are without discretion to detain even those arrestees whom they believe to be a danger to the community unless they have reason to believe they will fail to appear for trial. Consequently, our crime rate has risen with the

Local Headstart Funds Are Okayed

Notification was received earlier this week that funds for operation of Head Start centers in Surry, Yadkin, Stokes and Davie counties have been okayed by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Fifth District Congressman Wilmer Mizell notified Claude Campbell, director of the Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Inc., of the OEO decision. Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Inc., is the non-profit corporation which will administer the program as it has done for the past two years.

Total cost of the program is $260,284. The local share, to be "in kind" funds, not cash outlay, will amount to $53,012.

The Head Start program provides a comprehensive child development program of nutritional health, educational, social and related services to children of low income families who will attend regular school for the first time in the fall of 1969.

The proposal, submitted on Nov. 30, 1968, calls for operation of 17 centers, with 56 classrooms. Personnel will include 102 non-professionals (paid), plus 56 volunteers. Of the paid workers, 77 will be parents of children involved in the Head Start program. An estimated 900 children will be involved.

The program will begin on June 16 and end August 8.

additional crimes committed by those who are permitted to roam the streets for six to nine months while awaiting trial.

"This bill is not proposed as the final answer to a problem that is not without substantial constitutional ramifications. Rather, it is intended to be the starting point on ways and means of fully protecting individual liberties as well as promote effective law enforcement."

"Had this proposed been a part of the law some two years ago, an incident which took place in Davidson County, North Carolina, would have been prevented for those who had been arrested and charged with previous violations of the law would have been held without bond and they would not have been free to endanger the lives of the Sheriff of Davidson County, Mr. Fred Sink and his whole family by bombing his car."

"I am urging my Colleagues to take cognizance of this bill, and hope that some action will be started soon in the Congress to bring this legislation up for consideration."

Record Ford Sales Made In February

Record February combined car and truck sales have been reported by Ford Division's Charlotte District Sales Office.

J. Carver Wood, Jr., Charlotte district sales manager, reported sales of 1,910 trucks and 6,661 cars and trucks combined were each records for any February. Car sales of 4,751 were 7.1 per cent over sales a year ago. The former records were 1,786 trucks in February, 1968 and 6,368 total units in February, 1966.

"The tremendous February sales pace and the exciting produce innovations on the horizon add to our expectations that 1969 is going to be a vintage year for Ford Division," said Mr. Wood. "Our February record is even more significant because there was one less selling day than last year."

Ford Division's Charlotte district office supervises dealerships in most of North Carolina and all of South Carolina.

Nationally, Ford dealers sold 142,509 cars and 61,878 trucks in February. "New car sales have been at a high level since the start of the model year," said Mr. Wood, "and there are indications we are on the threshold of a real spring selling surge."

Sam Erwin Says

Congressional oversight of the legislation which it enacts is a subject which has occupied the attention of the nation at least since Woodrow Wilson coined the term a half-century ago.

To a significant degree, much of what Congress does every day is a form of oversight. Now that the Federal Government deals with almost every aspect of life, and the Executive and administrative branches, not to mention the Judiciary, are taking over more and more law-making powers, the need for increased and improved oversight by the Congress is greater than ever. Some have said that the role in Congress in policymaking and public law formulation has shrunk almost to the point of disappearance when compared with these other "law makers". While such views represent an exaggeration of the problem, it is true that a large part of the law-making function which the Constitution gives to Congress has shifted to other bodies.

For this reason, it is most important that, at the least, Congress assure itself and the public that the Executive departments, the administrative agencies, and the Courts are operating in their proper spheres. This can only be done by keeping our government finely adjusted according to the constitutional system which we established at the foundation of the Republic.

There are a number of possible ways in which Congress can improve its oversight of Federal agencies. What is required, perhaps more than anything else, is to put legislative oversight on a more regular and formal basis. Ideally, each agency should be the subject of periodic hearings which would review for the benefit of Congress and the public every facet of the agency's operations.

Recently, the Senate Subcommittee on Separation of Powers, of which I am Chairman, has been conducting hearings on the functioning of the National Labor Relations Board and plans hearings to review the operation of other administrative agencies. The purpose of the hearing is to let Congress know at first hand what the agency is doing and how well it is performing.

Those dealing with the agency have a chance to voice their support or opposition to the agency and its decisions without being tied to a pro or con position on some piece of legislation. The agency itself also benefits because it can present its case fully to the public. It has an opportunity to explain controversial decisions and perhaps elaborate on the reasoning behind its rulings. It can clarify misunderstandings and obtain congressional approval or disapproval of disputed points. The agency also has the opportunity to seek congressional clarification of cloudy areas of the law or of authority.

Congress has not instituted such reviews on a regular basis mainly because its committees have been too busy with new legislative programs to investigate the operation of existing programs. However, the proposed legislative reorganization act now being developed would permit the committees to perform more duties in the field of legislative oversight.

There are other possible alternatives including the use of advisory committees composed of private and public experts familiar with particular governmental programs who would assist Congress in its oversight duties.

The time has arrived for Congress to meet this problem if we are to avoid replacing our constitutional system of representative government. Otherwise, constitutional government will deteriorate more and more into a network of bureaucratic realms. For this reason, I plan to continue my efforts in behalf of responsible congressional oversight.

8 Seek 5 Seats In Primary Odom And Carter File For Town Board

HAROLD ODOM

Eight candidates will seek five nominations for the Town Board of Commissioners in the municipal Democratic Primary on April 8th.

Harold Odom and Jimmy R. Carter filed last Friday for nomination as town commissioners. The five incumbent members plus M. H. Murray previously filed for office.

Mayor D. J. Mando is unopposed for re-election as mayor.

Mr. Odom is manager of member service of the Davie Electric Membership Corporation. He is past-president of the Mocksville Jaycees and was the winner of the Distinguished Service Award in 1968. He is president of the Mocksville PTA and treasurer of the Mocksville Cub Scouts. He is a member of the First Baptist Church of Mocksville, sings in the choir, and is superintendent of the Young People's Department. He is married to the former Linda Price. They reside on Salisbury Street with their two sons.

Mr. Carter resides on Church Street in Mocksville and is employed by the Hanes Corporation. He served in the U. S. Navy during the Korean conflict. A member of the Mocksville Volunteer Fire Department, he received the "Fireman of the Year" award in 1967. He is past-president of the Davie County Heart

JIMMY CARTER

Association and vice-president of the Mocksville Community Development Association. He is married to the former Nellie Snyder. They are members of the Concord Methodist Church where Mr. Carter is a member of the official board.

Incumbent members of the board seeking renomination and re-election include Roy W. Collette, O. K. Pope, Gilmer J. Hartley, R. Clyde Glascock, Samuel W. Howell.

The municipal election will be held on Tuesday, May 6th, with the residents voting on the $495,000 sewer bond issue at the same time.

Directors Sought For Head Start

Directors for the 1968 Summer Head Start Program are being sought for each of the four counties served by the sponsoring agency, Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Inc.

A YVEDD, Inc., official said that directors will be named in each of the counties by April 1. Counties involved include Yadkin, Surry, Davie and Stokes. An advertisement relative to the post appears elsewhere in today's issue of the paper.

The 1968 Summer Head Start Program will begin on June 15 and end on August 8. It is expected to reach more than 900 children in the four-county area.

Total cost of this year's program is $260,284, with the bulk of that sum to come from the federal government through the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity. The program is administered by the Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Inc.

N. C. Little Symphony In Concert Here Friday

Ever since the North Carolina Symphony began its 24th annual tour of the state last November, its 60 musicians have been performing together. Three weeks ago, however, they divided to form two smaller orchestral units. Known as the Little Symphonies East and West, these units will tour simultaneously in different parts of the state during the remaining weeks of the season, which ends in May.

It is the Little Symphony West that will visit Mocksville Friday for two concert appearances. A children's concert will be given at 1:00 in Mocksville Auditorium, and an evening concert will follow that night, also in the Auditorium, at 8:15 P. M. Both are being sponsored by the Davie County Chapter of the North Carolina Symphony Society, of which Mrs. Knox Johnstone is president.

The practice of travelling each season as both a full and a little symphony began as early as 1946, but it was not until last year that two Little Symphonies toured the state. The second unit was created as part of a 10-year projected plan of expansion drawn up in conjunction with the $1 million matching grant received from the Ford Foundation in 1966.

Conducting the two concerts will be Symphony Director Benjamin Swalin, a man who needs no introduction to North Carolina music lovers.

The well known maestro, now in his 30th season as director, is conducting one of the most cosmopolitan orchestral units in Symphony history. It is composed of 30 musicians representing 10 states and five foreign countries, including Japan,

DANIEL DOMB
...Cellist...

The North Carolina Symphony ... Benjamin Swalin, Director

Korea, Greece, Guatemala and Canada.

Most of the foreign players are in the States for the first time and are here solely to perform with the Symphony. The Guatemalans were contracted as a result of a trip made by Dr. Swalin to Central America last summer.

With the exception of foreign players, musicians are selected from auditions conducted annually by director Swalin at such musical centers as Eastman School of Music, the New England Conservatory, and the Universities of Michigan, Illinois and Indiana.

Included on the Friday night program are: selections from "My Fair Lady"; Brahms' "Hungarian Dance No. 1"; Telemann's "Overture in G Minor"; Mozart's "Symphony in G Minor"; and Delibes' "Slavic Theme and Variations" from the ballet "Coppelia."

Exhibiting the exceptional skill which has won him much national acclaim will Israeli cellist Daniel Domb. Described by the Christian Science Monitor as "one of the most promising young cellists in the world," young Domb is appearing as a guest artist with the North Carolina Symphony for the first time this season. He will be featured playing Haydn's "Concerto for Violoncello and Orchestra."

Admission to the evening concert will be by membership in the Davie County Chapter of the Symphony Society. Those wishing to purchase memberships at the door may do so as follows: $8 for two; $5 for one; and $1 for a student.

Membership in the Society entitles a card bearer to attend any of the more than 40 evening concerts given by the Symphony across the state that

Food Program Aids 350 In Davie County

The U. S. Department of Agriculture food program aided 350 needy persons in Davie County during January. USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service said that 168,674 persons in 64 counties took part in its direct distribution program.

In North Carolina the food distribution program is administered by the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, and the food stamp program is administered by the North Carolina Board of Public Welfare, both in cooperation with the Consumer and Marketing Service.

USDA foods distributed during January to needy North Carolina families had an estimated retail value of nearly $1.9 million. These foods included dry beans, butter, cheese, corn meal, scrambled egg mix, flour, canned poultry, grits, lard or shortening, canned chopped meat, evaporated milk, nonfat dry milk, rolled oats, peanut butter, canned vegetables, instant mashed potatoes, rice, corn syrup, juice and rolled wheat.

Low-income families taking part in the food stamp program in January exchanged $437,080 of their own money for $807,953 worth of USDA food stamp coupons. Then, the families received $370,873 worth of free, bonus coupons to increase their buying power at local grocery stores.

Killing Is Self Defense

A Negro man who died of a gunshot wound Saturday afternoon was killed in self-defense, a corner's jury ruled Saturday night.

Davie County Sheriff George Smith said Sunday that no charges would be made against Mrs. Madeline Eaton of Mocksville, the dead man's sister.

Roscoe Cuthrell, 47, of Mocksville, Rt. 5, Mrs. Eaton's brother, was killed by a shot from a .22 caliber rifle while at the home of another sister, Smith said.

He quoted Mrs. Eaton as saying Cuthrell was shot after he had fired at her with a shotgun.

According to Smith, Cuthrell came to the home of Mrs. Harrie Richam, on the Pineville Road north of Farmington. According to Smith, Mrs. Eaton said she was standing on the porch when Cuthrell fired at her from close range. He said she told the jury she did not remember shooting Cuthrell.

Smith said Cuthrell was shot in the heart. He was taken to Davie County Hospital. He was born in Davie County to the late Vance and Lucy Brock Cuthrell, and was a member of Bethany AME Zion Church at Farmington.

Surviving are six sisters, Mrs.

William R. Davie On Fire Control

The William R. Davie Volunteer Fire Department is now hooked up with the Davie Fire Control System.

Edward Beck, Fire Chief, has requested that to report any fires in that area one should call 634-2211. From this number the proper contacts will be made and the alarm sounded.

On Friday night, a kitchen shower is being given by the auxiliary for the benefit of the kitchen in the VFD building. Those attending are urged to bring some useful item for this kitchen.

Chief Beck said that the department answered two brush fire calls last week.

Beck Receives Silver Star For Gallantry

Sp-4 Ronald L. Beck of Mocksville, Rt. 1 has been awarded the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action in Vietnam.

The award, made by the direction of the President of the United States, is the fourth highest military decoration presented.

The Silver Star was presented to Sp-4 Beck in ceremonies held recently at Fort Benning, Georgia where he is now stationed with the 197th Infantry Brigade.

The award is for gallantry in action while engaged in military operations involving conflict with an armed hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam.

On August 26, 1968, Specialist Beck was serving as a rifleman with his company during a battalion-minus reconnaissance in force operation on which his unit was acting as the lead element. The friendly forces were proceeding through an area near Loc Ninh when they were suddenly subjected to intense rocket and automatic weapons fire by North Vietnamese entrenched in a series of bunkers.

Specialist Beck immediately moved to the extreme right flank and boldly advanced toward one enemy bunker, the fire from which was pinning down the members of his squad. With complete disregard for his personal safety, he rushed through the hail of hostile rounds to the enemy fortification and hurled several hand grenades into the firing port.

The occupants of the bunker continued firing, so Specialist Beck rolled into the firing lane in front of the position, and placing the muzzle of his weapon into the firing port, silenced the insurgents' fire with his own rapid fire. Although wounded, he then crawled back to the friendly position.

The extraordinary courage and initiative of Specialist Beck while exposed to relentless fire directly resulted in several enemy deaths, and were instrumental in greatly limiting friendly casualties during the encounter," said the citation.

Specialist Beck is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Beck of Mocksville, Rt. 4. He and his twin brother, Donald Beck, were stars on the 1965 championship Davie High football team. He graduated from Davie in 1966.

He is married to the former Patsy Gobble of Mocksville Rt. 1.

Job Day To Be Thursday

The first Job Day ever held in Davie County will take place on Thursday, March 26, in the Mocksville Elementary School gymnasium between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The Job Day is sponsored by the Davie Community Action Agency, which is a division of Yadkin Valley Economic Development District, Inc., headquartered at Booneville in Yadkin County.

Mrs. Mildred Foster, Davie Manpower Director for the Community Action Agency, will be director of the Job Day program. She said today that a great number of unemployed persons will be on hand to be interviewed for employment by industry representatives from Davie, Rowan and Davidson counties.

"There are lots of people out of work in Davie County now," Mrs. Foster said, "due to the closing out of part of Burlington Mills plant at Cooleemee. Many of those people are already being placed on jobs, or are finding jobs on their own. But, a lot of them will be on hand for our Job Day, too."

The Bur-Mill closing at Cooleemee actually put 750 persons out of work.

Industries scheduled to be represented at Davie Job Day are: Erlanger Mills, Lexington; Cone Mills; Cy-Hart Sportswear, Salisbury; Rowan Mills, Salisbury; Corrier Mills, Landis; Corlin Processing, Landis; Cartex, Salisbury; N. C. Finishing, Davidson County; Dakota Mills, Davidson; Wenoah Cotton Mills, Davidson.

-----J.C. JONES-----

Magazine Features Jones

J. C. Jones, general manager of Davie Electric Membership Corporation of Mocksville, will be featured as personality of the month in the April issue of THE CAROLINA FARMER.

The magazine, which has 200,000 subscribers across the state, will salute Jones in a "Profile" for his leadership in rural development and civic activities.

Davie EMC serves over 11,000 consumer-members in sections of Alexander, Davie, Iredell, Rowan, Wilkes and Yadkin counties in the rapidly-growing Piedmont area.

It is the power supplier for 23 commercial and industrial concerns, including the Holly Farms rendering plant, Buck Knitting plant near Statesville and the Clayton Marcus Furniture plant in Alexander County, and 150 churches, 88 dairy farms, as well as poultry operations, schools, farms and homes.

The article says Jones has had a finger on the economic pulse of the areas served by Davie EMC ever since becoming manager of the system in 1939.

Quoting Jones, the article notes there have been "tremendous changes" in the area since the co-op began operating. "Rural electrification," Jones says in the article, "has been the biggest contributor and the road program next. I get a great deal of satisfaction just riding over the area since I was born and raised here."

Jones is a past president of Tarheel Electric Membership Association and has served on the TEMA board at various times. He is a member and past Master of the Mocksville Masonic Lodge and a former member of the Rotary Club. He is also active in the Davie County Development Association.

Mrs. Jones is the former Ruth Stroud of Iredell County.

SAIN - TURNER WEDDING CEREMONY SOLEMNIZED IN HOME SATURDAY

The marriage of Miss Linda Sue Sain and Bruce Steve Turner took place at 8 p.m. Saturday, March 22, at the home of the bride's parents on Route 2. The Rev. Don Sides officiated.

Mrs. Turner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sain. She is a senior at Davie County High School.
Mr. Turner, the son of Mrs. Bruce Turner and the late Mr. Turner, is also a senior at Davie County High School. He works at York's Sinclair Service Station.
The bride wore for her wedding a street-length off-white dress. Her veil fell from a white satin bow and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.
Candelabra with lighted white taper and baskets of large white mums and gladioli formed the background for the wedding vows. Dean Allen was usher and acolyte.
The bridal couple left immediately after the reception for a short honeymoon. Upon their return, they will live with the groom's mother.

Reception

The bride's parents entertained with a reception following the wedding ceremony.

Large bouquets of valley lilies were used at the corners of the white lace-covered table. A silver branched candelabrum with lighted cathedral tapers and mums, gladioli and pink carnations centered the table.

Mrs. Forrest Whittaker cut and served the tiered wedding cake decorated with pink rosebuds and Mrs. Bill Bowles poured lime punch and served the mints and nuts.

Lingerie Shower

Bride-elect, Miss Linda Sain, wore an orange linen dress and the hostesses' corsage of yellow carnations to a lingerie shower given for her Thursday evening at Mrs. Joe W. Bailey's home on Deadman Road. Co-hostess was Mrs. A. R. York.

The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth and an arrangement of yellow roses and green candles were used in the center.

Bridal games were played and green punch, cake squares with yellow roses, mints, nuts and pickles were served.

Miss Sain and Bruce Steve Turner were married Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents on Route 2.

HUNT - LOWERY

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Hunt of Sheffield, Massachusetts, announce the engagement of their daughter, Cynthia, to Sgt. Grover W. Lowery, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny N. Lowery of Lexington Road, Mocksville.

Miss Hunt, a graduate of the University of Massachusetts, is a social worker with the American Red Cross.

Sgt. Lowery is a Dental Laboratory Technologist with the Air Force and is attending Wittenburg University in Springfield, Ohio.

St. Lowery and Miss Hunt are both stationed at USAF Hospital at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio.

The wedding is planned for late May.

... Miss Walker, Miss Hall, Miss Sparks, Miss Cornatzer, Miss Heffner, Miss Barney, Miss Owens and Miss Bracken are shown at the R.B. Hall home last week when they were entertained at a tea. (Photo by Barringer).

The Charity League of Lexington will hold its annual Sub-Debutante Ball at 8:30 p.m. Friday, March 28, at the Lexington YMCA.

Thirty-nine girls, including six from Mocksville, and two from Advance, and all 1969 high school graduates, will make their debut.

The girls will be presented to society by organ music and after the presentation a combo will furnish music for dancing.

The sub-debs and their mothers were honored by the Charity League at an afternoon tea Saturday, March 22, at the home of Mrs. C. H. Hargrave in Lexington. Sunday afternoon the girls attended a tea honoring Miss Debbie Young given by Mrs. D. C. Young and Mrs. J. S. Rogerson in Salisbury. On March 28, after the ball, the League will entertain the girls and their escorts with a breakfast at the YMCA.

Girls to be presented from Mocksville at the ball are Carol Lanette Barney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Spencer Barney; Linda Lucille Bracken, daughter of Mrs. Willie Mae Bracken; Hope Fitchett Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buckner Hall; Cynthia Elaine Heffner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Heffner; Nancy Elaine Sparks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frank Sparks; and Paula Louise Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shore Walker.

From Advance are Betty Sue Cornatzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Johnson Cornatzer; and Carol Lynne Owens, daughter of Mrs. Golden Sigmon Owens.

Escorts for the girls include: Hugh Malcolm Myers, 1st, and James Stephen Blackwelder for Miss Barney; Lewis Albert Canter and Lonnie Kent Barnette for Miss Bracken; Guy Johnson Cornatzer and John Edwin Sparks for Miss Cornatzer; Dwight Alan Sparks and Timothy Hathan Allen for Miss Sparks; David Oren Heffner and Williams Campbell Gray, Jr., the latter of Wilkesboro, for Miss Heffner; Richmond Sheek Vogler and Charlie Buford Hoover for Miss Owens; Paul Walker and Billy Spillman for Miss Walker; and, Robert Buckner Hall and Peter Wilson Hairston, Jr. for Miss Hall.

ladies and the minuet was on Friday the 14th and the Grande Ball on Saturday the 15th. All events took place at the College Community Centre.

All girls for this 37th annual Debutante Cotillion were selected according to their scholastic averages and personality. To the debutante with the greater number of patrons went a scholarship to the college of her choice. Ila Odessa Newsome of Davie County was second runner-up.

The local girls presented were: Charlene Cockerham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clifton Cockerham; escorted by Kenneth Lee Turner. Eva Lendora Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davidson; escorted by Ran Anderson, III. Deborah Lynn Gaither, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gaither; escorted by Robert Campbell. ## Construction Proceeds At Hickory Hill Golf And Country Club

Heavy equipment being used by Dock Brown and his construction crew in clearing and grubbing for the golf course. Dock reports that all of the 18 holes have been cleared and the grubbing operation was only recently started due to the inclement weather. It is hoped that most of the grubbing can be completed through the month of April.

View of equipment shed which will be used to store the maintenance equipment such as special tractors and gang mowing machines. This building was completely dismantled at the West Arden Farm site and reconstructed on the golf course property by Wiley McClamrock of Mocksville. Salvage of this building resulted in savings of several hundreds of dollars.

View of the progress being made in construction of the club house. H. R. Hendrix of Hendrix and Corriher Construction Co., general contractors, report that the club house is about 20% completed as of this date, with completion expected by late June. The heavy equipment in the foreground was recently transferred to the golf course site by the Hendrix and Barnhill Construction Company, prime contractors for the irrigation system. It is expected the laying of the irrigation pipe will be started by April 1.

The board of directors reports that one or more members of the board is usually at the construction site every Saturday afternoon and would welcome those members who are interested in visiting the facilities. They also report they would be most happy to tour the facilities with visitors and to answer any and all questions.

The site of the swimming pool showing the pool location with the nearly completed bath house in the background. The pool will be located so that it overlooks the 18th green. The bath house was constructed entirely of redwood and will be completed in a natural finish.

Use CCB's master charge card. You may be a cash winner too!

On March 14th Tom Currin of Durham bought a shirt and tie at the Young Men's Shop.

But that's not all.

On March 20th Tom Currin won $50 in cash from Central Carolina Bank.

But that's not all.

Tom Currin won $50 because he bought the shirt and tie with CCB's Master Charge Card.

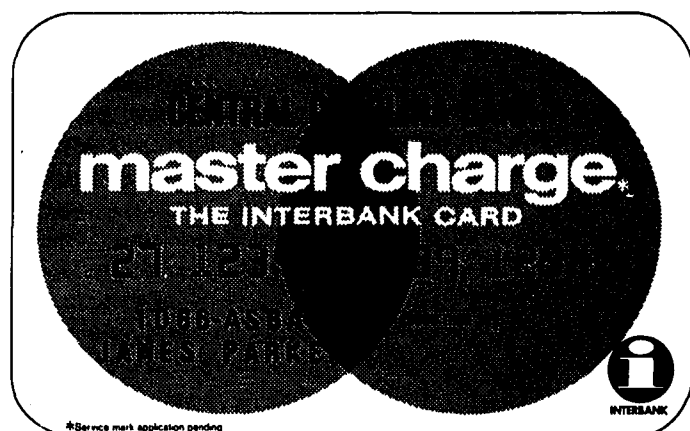

And that is all you have to do to be a CCB cash winner. Just use CCB's Master Charge Card* anywhere the Master Charge symbol is displayed, or enter at any CCB office (no purchase necessary), and you automatically become eligible for $50.

Twenty $50 bills will be given away every week. And you can enter every week. Just by using your CCB card.

Each week's winners are selected at random by an independent agency using a computer. Names of each week's winners are posted in every CCB office. And winners are notified by mail.

Tom Currin is only one of the contest winners and there are three weeks worth of $50 bills to go! So be sure you have a CCB Master Charge Card. And use it. CCB Master Charge...the card that gives you more for your money.

BILL CURRIE Mouth of the South

ACC Tug Of War

When Everett Case blew out of Indiana like a cyclone more than two decades ago, basketball in these parts was about as interesting as Aunt Fanny's love letters.

When the Happy Hoosier got his roots down in Raleigh, he caused a shock wave which prompted convulsions on all the North Carolina campuses of what was soon to be the Atlantic Coast Conference.

As soon as the alumni found out that winning basketball is fun, they began to agitate for better coaches and more players, and the result was in a few years Frank McGuire at North Carolina, Vic Bubas at Duke, and Bones McKinney at Wake Forest.

With an imposing array of brains and guts such as this quartet could muster, there was little hope for any of the other four schools to contribute much more than ballast to the league race.

Maravich Had To Sand The Floors

Clemson had one coach — Pres Maravich, and he not only coached the varsity alone, but also handled the freshmen, did all the recruiting and took care of laundering the players' lingerie.

One summer, with rented equipment, Pres sanded the gym floor, and then finished it up himself with a paint brush and a can of lacquer.

South Carolina had so many coaches who lost so many games that as foggy as my memory for tragedy is, I have long since purposely forgotten what was happening in Columbia.

Virginia was even sadder, because the Cavaliers always came out in pre-season doping as a possible "darkhorse," whatever that is.

Maryland, floundering under personable Bill Millikan, would sometimes score a tremendous upset by winning over a Big-Four team, this would be an occasion of such magnitude that even the Washington newspaper would go up an eighteen point headline to herald the event.

Driesell, McGuire Put On Squeeze

Now if you can't remember these days, you have missed it. They are gone just as certainly as the hair of Ray Reeves' head.

Maryland has just signed Lefty Driesell, a terrible-tempered workhorse who in nine years brought Davidson to such dizzy heights that his successor is already assured of a couple of years of instant success.

Lefty is the kind of guy who would push biddies in the branch without a flicker it is meant a win, and Maryland is going to start acting like the team deserves the best field house in college basketball — which is has.

On the other end of the league, Frank McGuire needs no qualification. Already, South Carolina is in a spasm of enthusiasm and ticket sales never dreamed of five years ago.

So with Driesell pulling on one end and McGuire on the other, North Carolina's Big-Four may soon be looking for a government program of some kind or another.

And, of course, once Virginia settles down from its player revolt, Bill Gibson will either start winning, or the Cavaliers will be out after somebody who can, and Bobby Roberts has already been given the word at Clemson: Produce something that looks like it's going to win in two years, or throw your shovel on the truck.

Everybody can't win, but in the ACC from now on there will be a yearly contest among coaches, and those who win will get to keep their jobs.

Davie Has 3 In Civitan Classic

Two Davie High stars have been selected to play in the third annual senior all-star basketball game sponsored by the Marion Civitan Club.

Ronnie Shoaf and Hubert West of Davie will play for the South All-Stars in the Marion Civitan Classic on Saturday night, March 29, at 7:30 p.m. The team will be played at Marion, N.C.

Coach Bob Henry of the Rebels will serve as coach of the South team for the classic. He will be assisted by Earl Lentz of the Kannapolis team.

Organized in the fall of 1966, the classic brings together the senior stars from teams of the Northwestern and Southwestern Conference against those from the North and South Piedmont Conferences.

Shoaf and West were both stars on the Rebel team that won the conference championship this year.

Shoaf is 5 ft. 11 inches in height, and played guard, averaging 12 points per game. He was named on the all-conference basketball team. He was the quarterback of the football team and was selected last year as the most valuable baseball player. He plans to attend Lenoir Rhyne College and will major in business or physical education. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert F. Shoaf of Cooleemee.

HUBERT WEST

and performer on the Davie High track team. He hopes to attend either the University of North Carolina, Lenoir Rhyne or Guilford and major in business. He was named to the all-tournament team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Allen West, Sr. of Mocksville, Rt. 2.

Other members of the South squad include: Benny

RONNIE SHOAF

Craig of North Rowan; Doug Hunt of Central Davidson; Tommy Roseman of North Stanly; Charles Lynn of Salisbury; James Lipscomb of Kannapolis; Robert Horton of Kannapolis; Ernie Pope of Statesville; Robert Lewis of Albemarle.

The South team has won both previous contests.

Ijames On All-Northwest Team

James "Jingle" Ijames of the Davie County Rebels has been named to the Journal & Sentinel 1969 All-Northwest basketball team. He was one of only three juniors selected to the 15 member squad picked from all the counties of Northwest Carolina.

This team could be the best ever selected in the past 43 years. Said the article:

"If the team has a weakness, it is not apparent. As far as size is concerned, the team is the tallest ever, with an average height of 6-4 1/2 and weight of 182 pounds. The 15 players averaged 19.5 points per game.

In discussing the selections, the article said of Ijames:

One of only three juniors selected to the all-Northwest team, Ijames has yet to reach his full potential. At present, he carries only 155 pounds on a 6-4 1/2 frame.

But that didn't handicap him against stronger opponents. He averaged 16.2 points per game and led Davie County to the North Piedmont Conference regular season title. Ijames can shoot from outside, is a great jumper and is extremely quick. He also started in football and won two events in the North Piedmont-South Piedmont track meet last year.

Coach Robert Henry said of Ijames, "He makes our team. And he hasn't come close to his full potential yet."

Ronnie Shoaf of the Rebels received honorable mention.

Major John Seats Decorated By Air Force

A Davie County native has been decorated for service and achievement in supporting the United States effort in Southeast Asia.

Major John H. Seats received the second and third clusters to the Distinguished Flying Cross and the second through eighteenth clusters to the Air Medal for achievement as a forward air controller. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Seats of Mocksville Rt. 2.

One cluster to the DFC was given for achievement on February 7, 1968, when Major Seats was flying in support of surviving personnel of the special forces camp at Lang Vei, Republic of Vietnam.

Flying under a low overcast, he stayed close to the camp and directed fighter aircraft for three hours even though he was being continuously fired upon by unfriendly forces.

His efforts contributed greatly to the reduction of the enemy forces and helped survivors and a relief force hold out until eventual rescue, according to the citation.

Major Seats received his second cluster for "extraordinary achievement" on February 29, 1968, one year before the presentation at Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, Ohio. In this instance he successfully directed the silencing of several gun positions which were guarding a major supply and infiltration route. During the entire time he directed fighters in the target area, he was under fire. The area was made safe for other forward air controllers, resulting in the eventual destruction of several "lucrative targets".

The 17 clusters to the Air Medal were presented for "contributing materially to the mission of the United States Air Force in Southeast Asia" as an O-1 and O-2 pilot.

Major Seats is a graduate of the Farmington High School and N. C. State University with a degree in dairy manufacturing. He entered the U. S. Air Force soon after graduating from N. C. State, around 14-years ago. He plans to return to college next year to pursue a master's degree in engineering.

Major Seats is married to the former Dorene Cowood of Tampa, Florida. They have two daughters, Brenda, age 7, and Kristy, age 4. They live near Columbus, Ohio.

Rickie Foster Lagle of Rt. 3, Mocksville, was recently initiated into the Beta Chapter of Sigma Pi Alpha honorary language fraternity at Catawba College. A 1968 graduate of Davie County High School, Lagle is a freshman at Catawba. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lagle of Rt. 3, Mocksville.

Rescue Squad Aux. To Meet Monday

The Davie County Rescue Auxiliary will meet Monday at 7 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Abe Howard on Milling Road. This is a very important meeting. Final plans for the Spring Fish Fry will be made. The date has been set for April 26. Everyone please keep this date in mind. All members are urged to attend.

CEDAR CREEK

Our worship this weekend was and enjoyable one also. Bros. John West and Julius Ridgell conducted the devotional service. Rev. Hay had as guest the Rev. Surges of Andersonville, N. C. as guest speaker. His theme, "Count Your Blessings", was a very spiritual one. Mrs. Surges accompanied him here.

Prof. William West and daughters, Vickie and Cathy, of Goldsboro, called last Sun. at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lula West.

Mrs. Sam Cain of Four Corners called a few days ago at the home of Mrs. William Eaton. George Foote called also. He also called at the home of E. J. and Alta Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Rhinehart, Jr. also called at the home of Mrs. William Eaton. Spending the weekend here with his brothers, Alta and E. J. Eaton, was Sgt. Guy Eaton of Fort Jackson, S. C. Visiting the Eaton's on Sunday was Mrs. Cora Bailey.

Henry Scott and girl friend called Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scott.

Mrs. William Eaton and children, Jean, Donald and Darlene, spent last weekend in Winston at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome McKnight.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the Dulin and Allison families in the lost of their loved ones.

The Mackies Homemakers Club met at the home of Mrs. Dewey Parks on Monday evening with 8 members present. After the devotional and business meeting, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

ABOUT PEOPLE

The Good Will Committee of Davie County met at the St. John A. M. E. Zion Church Sunday, March 23, at 3:30 p.m. in a mass meeting. The meeting was held for the purpose of bringing the Negro citizens up to date on the progress that have been made in job opportunity and the prospect of future jobs. Mr. Calvin James, Secretary of the Committee, and also member of the Bi-Racial Committee was the principal speaker. His subject was, "Have you been to the Art Academy?" The meeting was largely attended. A choir of fifty or more voices of members of the various churches rendered the music. A good will offering of $286.95 was taken and presented to Leroy Dulin, who recently lost his wife, Mrs. Hazel Dulin.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hollis and son, James visited in the home of Mrs. Adelaide Ellis last week.

Mrs. Lula Foster is a patient at the Davie County Hospital.

Mrs. Henrietta Holman underwent surgery at the Davie County Hospital last Thursday.

Mrs. Daisy Bell Burke remains ill at her home on Mill Street.

Mrs. Dewitt Neely and children of Winston-Salem visited their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Studevent Sunday.

Mrs. Lonnie Barker remains ill at her home on Neely Street.

Miss Linda Gail Plott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Plott, Jr., of Route 1, Advance and a senior at Appalachian State University, Boone, N. C. has been elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. This honor is conferred annually upon selected students from approximately 900 colleges and universities throughout the United States. Nominees are selected for their outstanding academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and above average future potential.

CCB—Yadkin Bank Merger Is Approved

Shareholders of Central Carolina Bank & Trust Company and of the Bank of Yadkin gave overwhelming approval this week to plans for a merger of the two banks at meetings held in Durham and Yadkinville.

Directors of the two banks at meetings held on February 10 had unanimously recommended merger to the shareholders. Now that shareholder approval has been given, the merger awaits final action by governmental supervisory authorities.

Basis for the merger as approved by the shareholders is an exchange of stock with CCB issuing 57,500 shares of its common stock of the par value of $5 per share in exchange for the 1,000 outstanding shares of Bank of Yadkin's common stock with par value of $100 per share.

Bank of Yadkin had assets of $7.6 million at the close of 1968, and operates one office in Yadkinville, CCB, with 26 offices in 16 communities, showed year-end total assets of $127 million.

Advance News

Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Hamerick of Chapel Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hege and Steve Hege were Saturday night dinner guests of Mrs. Mozelle Ratledge. The occasion was a celebration of Mrs. Hamerick's birthday, the former Kermit Ann Ratledge.

An impressive Christening service was held at the United Methodist Church on Sunday, prior to the morning worship service. Little Anna Ratledge Hamerick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Hamerick was christened in the presence of a large congregation and many visitors. Among the visitors were Dr. Hamerick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamerick of Rutherford. Following worship service the Hamericks and Mrs. Mozelle Ratledge enjoyed a luncheon at the Statler Hilton Inn in Winston-Salem.

Mrs. W. H. Holmes of Audubon, New Jersey and Mrs. Carl Pratt of Winston-Salem were Thursday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zimmerman.

Mrs. Rhea Potts was an overnight guest of Mrs. Ellis Foster in Winston-Salem on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Foster, Jr., Kevin and Mandy Foster, Mrs. Georgia Foster, Texie Foster, Mrs. Recie Sheets and Miss Blanche Foster were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davis at Ogburn Station. The dinner was given in honor of Mr. Davis' birthday. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Headon Jordan of Woodleaf, sister and brother-in-law of Mr. Davis and Mrs. Georgia Foster.

The Rev. and Mrs. Tommy Cashatt and Tim Cashatt of Lexington were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shutt and Miss Laura Shutt.

Mrs. Mary Carter of Hamptonville spent the weekend at her home here.

Mrs. M. C. Deadmon of Mocksville, Mrs. Freddie Brewer and son, Brent of Statesville visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zimmerman Sunday afternoon. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shutt.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Reavis of Farmington, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mitchell and grandson of Hanes were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mrs. Recie Sheets.

Mrs. Mary Berridge and Miss Connie Stafford of Rural Hall were Sunday guests of Mrs. Berridge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lallie Comatzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Markland of Winston-Salem visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Markland Sunday. They also spent sometime with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Vogler.

Mrs. Kenneth Hoots and Mrs. Rhea Potts were treated to a plane ride Sunday afternoon from the Twin Lakes Airport with pilots Roy Potts and Jimmy Weaver. The flight which lasted an hour and a half took them over the surrounding countryside and was Mrs. Hoots' first airborne experience, which she enjoyed very much.

Miss Laura Shutt is confined to her home by illness.

Major and Mrs. Larry Carlton of Ft. Bragg spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zimmerman visited Mr. and Mrs. James O. Black in Lexington Sunday afternoon.

have our Good Friday Lovefeast. Plan now to attend some or all of these services. Easter is a time to be joyful because even though Christ died on the cross for our sins, he arose again from the dead and now lives in the hearts of all Christians all over the world. So plan now to join with us for Easter to help bring the real meaning of Easter back into this day of commercialism.

We still have several people on the sick list. Mrs. Henry Hockaday entered Davie County Hospital Sunday for X-Rays and tests.

Mrs. J. H. Platt Sr. was taken ill Sunday afternoon and was also admitted to Davie County Hospital.

Ernest Cope returned home Sunday from the hospital where he underwent tests. He is feeling some better.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Spillman visited Mr. and Mrs. John Sparks last week.

Mrs. Madeline Sparks and Nancy Sparks attended a tea Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. H. Hargrove in Lexington. This was given for the 39 Debutantes in this territory of which Nancy is one of the number chosen from this county.

Mrs. Nan McBride visited Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher McBride Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Grace Call and Nera Godbey spent Sunday in Charlotte with Mr. and Mrs. William F. Nahory and sons, Joseph and John.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sparks had dinner with Rev. J. George Bruner Friday at his home on Laurel Street in Winston-Salem.

Doug Sheek surprised his parents Friday night by arriving home for the weekend from Greenville, S. C. where he is a senior at Bob Jones University. His parents were very proud of his good grades received on his practice teaching. His brother, Gene Sheek and wife, the former Barbara Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurmond Wright, and their 4 children, Deserie, Andra, Zane and Lance also visited here. They returned to South Carolina Sunday morning.

Miss Jean Seats spent Friday night with Mrs. Alberta Cope.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Seats and Miss Sarah Jones had supper Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Beauchamp and family.

Mr. Howell Mackie, husband of Mrs. Jessie Mackie will enter Davie County Hospital Tuesday and undergo surgery on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Beauchamp, Anna and Tony visited and had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Highfill and daughters in Winston-Salem, Sunday.

If you happen to have a trash pile or old gully with any empty bottles around and you see two people scrambling around in it clad in overalls, brogans and shovels, don't be alarmed it's only Charlotte Smith and Alberta Cope. They are raiding all the trash piles for all kinds of bottles. One of them had a little trouble climbing and resulted in a backache for awhile. If they find many more bottles to bring home they will have to start moving furniture outside to make room for them. The bottle hunting will probably stop the first time they shovel up a snake.

Four Corners

Rev. M. T. Gales Pastor of Courtney Baptist Church is holding 2 weeks Revival in Georgia. In the absence of the pastor, Rev. Clarence Shore was the guests speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dull of Advance visited Mr. and Mrs. George Laymon last Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Von Shelton gave a dinner Sunday honoring Mrs. W. G. Hutchins of High Point on her birthday anniversary. Mrs. Hutchins two girls and David Gardner of Greensboro were present to enjoy the occasion. Those visiting in the home of Dewey Dixon Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien Dixon of Winston-Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Dixon and Margetta of Yadkinville, Mr. and Mrs. George Laymon, and Mr. and Mrs. Chip Essic.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Latham of Pino visited Mr. and Mrs. Chip Essic recently.

Mrs. Eugene Ellis visited Mrs. W. L. Dixon and Mrs. Eva Lee McMahon last Thursday at the Med Center in Winston-Salem.

Mr. Robert Davis had the misfortune of breaking his arm last week while cranking his tractor.

Donnie Davis also had the misfortune of a bad sprain while playing ball last week. He is on crutches.

Mr. J. T. Pilcher, his two sons, and Mark DesNoyers enjoyed a fishing trip to the coast last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Davis and family of Hamptonville were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ellis.

CEDAR CREEK

(March 20 column)

Spring is really here! The birds are singing. The green grass is peeping out from its earthly bed. It makes you glad to be alive and to live in the country.

Sunday was a beautiful day and the members of the Cedar Creek Baptist Church really enjoyed the day of worship at the Galilee Baptist Church in Winston-Salem, the 15th Anniversary of the church, and the 10th of the pastor, the Rev. W. C. Hay. The Rev. H. Wesley Wiley of Washington, D. C. brought the message for the occasion. We really enjoyed the gracious hospitality.

Prof. William West and girls, Vicki and Cathy of Goldsboro, called Sunday night at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lula West.

Mrs. William Eaton and children spent the weekend in the homes of her children, son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome McKnight.

Guy Eaton of Fort Jackson, S. C. was overnight guest of his brothers, Alta and Everette Eaton.

Mrs. Sam Cain was dinner guest in the home of Mrs. William Eaton one day last week. George Foote called also.

This community sends its deepest sympathy and prayers to the Dulin and Allison families over the loss of dear ones, for we know that they were very precious and loved by all.

Car Strikes Pole On South Main St

Annette Eckerd, 16, driving a 1967 Dodge Sunday afternoon, going north on South Main Street, ran off the pavement on the right of the roadway, came back on pavement and lost control of the car. The vehicle then struck a pole belonging to Duke Power Co. that is situated in Mrs. John Sanford's yard.

Damage to the car was estimated at $300 and to the pole $150.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT ORDER

NORTH CAROLINA
DAVIE COUNTY

DEBORAH ELAINE ROSEMAN LINK, by her next friend MYLO BOYDEN ROSEMAN, Plaintiff vs.
RONALD HOWARD LINK, Defendant

It appearing to the Court from the affidavit of the plaintiff in the above entitled action that Ronald Howard Link, the defendant therein, cannot after due diligence and search be found in the State of North Carolina; that a cause of action exists in favor of the plaintiff against said defendant and it further appearing from said affidavit that said action is an action for absolute divorce upon the grounds of one year separation;

It is now ordered that a notice be published once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper published in Davie County, North Carolina, giving the title and purpose of this action and requiring the said defendant to appear at the office of the undersigned Clerk of the Superior Court of Davie County, on the 5 day of May, 1969, and answer or demur to the complaint. This 31 day of Jan, 1969.

Glenn L. Hammer
Clerk of the Superior Court

TOWN OF MOCKSVILLE NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ZONE ORDINANCE

PURSUANT TO THE AUTHORITY vested in the Town Commission by Zoning Ordinance of the Town of Mocksville adopted July 11, 1961, and North Carolina General Statutes, Chapter 160, Article 14, the said Town Commission will consider the following changes and amendments to this Ordinance at a Public Hearing at the Town Hall on May 6, 1969, at 7:30 p.m.

1. To rezone for conditional use from R-9 to B-3 District the following described tract of land:

BEGINNING at the Southeast corner of the Town of Mocksville Fire Station lot on the North side of Sanford Avenue at its intersection with an alley and running thence in a Western direction with the North edge of Sanford Avenue 545 feet to the South corner of Reep Grocery Store lot; thence in a Northern direction 250 feet; thence in a Western direction 50 feet; thence in a North direction 335 feet; thence in an Eastern direction 333 feet; thence in a Southern direction 135 feet; thence in an Eastern direction 209.88 feet to a point in the Western edge of an alley; thence in a Southern direction with said alley 425 feet to the POINT AND PLACE OF BEGINNING and being lots 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 38A, and 38B, Section 1, Davie County Tax Map 9.

BEFORE TAKING SUCH A LAWFUL ACTION as it may deem advisable the Town Commission shall consider all recommendations from any citizen present on the above proposed zoning amendment.

IN CASE, HOWEVER, OF A PROTEST signed by owners of 20 per cent or more either of the area of the lot included in such proposed change or of those immediately adjacent in the rear thereof extending one hundred (100) feet from the street frontage of such opposite lots, such amendment shall not become effective except by favorable vote of 3/4 of all members of the legislative body of such municipality. This 10 day of March, 1969.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Yolles, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Preventing Mental Explosions

Mental illness is America's No. 1 health problem.

Alcoholism, drug addiction, marital strife and divorce, racial tension, economic instabilities, inadequate education, urban crowding, violence in the streets—all of these and other mental health problems like schizophrenia and depression touch every one of us.

What is being done to solve these problems?

More research is being encouraged and supported by federal, state, and local governments and by private institutions. Programs to train more people to tackle mental health problems are underway.

Most importantly for the sick, services are being improved. In fact, a bold new approach, called Community Mental Health Centers, is becoming the nucleus of the national mental health program.

More than 50 million people live in areas to be served by some 330 Centers all over the U.S. when they become fully operational, probably within the next year.

The person who needs help is the object of all this. Who is he? Let's look at a specific case.

Our man is 50 years old. Let's call him Henry. He could very well be your next door neighbor, except that he has killed a man for no apparent reason. Was he a vicious beast all along?

Henry's history shows differently. He had been a good provider, a well-liked neighbor, and had worked 30 years for the same company.

Henry had been married 12 years earlier, when he was 18. One day his wife left him, never to return. Henry tried to keep his family of three children together. But they eventually also left him.

On the surface, Henry has been bearing all this calmly. But then he loses his house, one of his most prized remaining possessions. Too, he is replaced in his job by a younger man. This is the thing that finally pushes him over the edge.

That night, in a tavern, he kills a man who makes a harmless joke.

Henry's tragic story is true. There are too many Henrys, as we all know, in every community and neighborhood of this country today. We are just beginning to realize the root causes of their distress. We are just beginning to see that Henry's troubles—and indeed all our deep social problems—must be attacked prior to the time that they explode in crises.

Henry's crisis didn't just happen. It was the end result of a long chain of unfortunate circumstances. The mental health center can help break this chain of stress that encircles individual members of a community like Henry. Not only will the centers and hospital services they are tied in with provide help for extreme cases—centers will also provide a complete program of essential services such as inpatient and outpatient care, partial hospitalization, consultation and education, and emergency services.

ANOTHER EFFORT....Close friends of Jim Gardner say they are certain he is even now running for Governor on the Republican ticket in 1972.

He has precedent for a second try. Gardner ran for the House of Representatives against Veteran Harold D. Cooley of Nashville, was defeated. And within six months of this defeat was throwing up billboards for his successful campaign 18 months later.

You can also hear—if you listen closely and long enough—that Mel Broughton is already going for the Democratic nomination for Governor three years from now.

President Richard Milhaus Nixon wasn't the only man failing to make the grade on the first time around. His comeback—described by some writers as the greatest since Lazarus—will no doubt serve as a sign for other first-time unfortunates.

Watch the great game of politics for a spell...and you will note that try, try again is a good motto. It applies all up and down the line—from the board of alderman, the Legislature, State offices, and on up to...the Presidency. Extra effort pays off—quite frequently.

COME 1972....So, if you are looking for newsworthy names in 1972, how about conjuring or conjecting with these:

Robert Morgan, Dr. Leo Jenkins, J. Melville Broughton, Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor and Jim Gardner.

As a beginning.

REGULAR....Dr. John Caldwell, chancellor of N. C. State University, and last week one of the most popular institution administrators in the Nation, had to spend Wednesday, March 19th, in Washington, D. C. He flew tourist class...back with the crowd...rather than the plusher, more expensive, first class rate.

SURPRISE....The purchase of fast-growing, far-flung (as far north now as Pennsylvania) Eckerd Drug Stores by coast-to-coast A & P Stores came as a surprise to politicians and stockholders here.

Few companies of its type in this section of the country have done better in the past twenty years than Eckerd. To borrow a line from one of Kipling's poems, this company has shown many "the way to promotion and pay" since World War II.

The man given the chief credit for this phenomenal upturn is the former Mecklenburg lawmaker, Edward M. O'Herron, Jr. of Charlotte. He took time out from his busy, busy life as Eckerd leader to serve in the sessions of 1951, 1953, and 1955. He is still politically active....

Assisting O'Herron tremendously with the big drug firm has been David H. Rankin. He married O'Herron's sister—and is the son of former Gaston Senator (for many terms) Grady Rankin.

Story is that management of Eckerd's will continue much as it is under the stock exchange deal which merged it with A & P. This puts the big food company into the drug business...as has been the case for many years with Kroger and Colonial Stores.

CARS....To compete with Volkswagen, Opel, etc., Ford Motor Co. is coming out on April 17 with its new $2,000 car called the Maverick.

And why the odd date of April 17? Because that is the date upon which Mustang made its appearance several years ago....and Ford wants Maverick to follow as closely as possible the hoofprints.

Community Action Agency

Has opening for qualified professional to serve as Director for the Summer Head Start Program in Davie County. The Head Start Program will begin on June 16 and end on August 8. The Director of the 1968 Head Start Program for Davie County must be selected by April 1, 1968. Applications should be mailed to:

Mrs. JoAnn Snow
YVEDD, Inc.
PO Box 328
Boonville, N. C. 27011

Ford and Chrysler are said to be worried about the big chunk of the auto market which went to General Motors (Buick, Pontiac, Chevy, Oldsmobile, Cadillac) in the past two years.

BIG TO DO....Probably no man now living has done more for athletics—and this means crowds and incoming cash—in this Raleigh town in the past two decades than Roy Clogston.

As director of athletics at N. C. State University, Clogston has been in the middle of collegiate activity. It serves no purpose here to recite the success that has come to State in basketball and on the gridiron under Clogston's guidance.

Well, he's still young—but age is moving in upon him. So, Roy Clogston is retiring. And a big dinner—maybe five or six hundred folks in attendance—will be given for him here early in May.

It should be quite an event—but one which will pale in comparison to the scores of exciting athletic shows Clogston has planned and promoted while directing athletics at N. C. State.

WISCONSIN, TOO....There are not many comparable situations in the country—where a Governor has an uncle as a leader in the State Senate...as Gov. Bob Scott and State Senator Ralph Scott.

However, up in Wisconsin, Warren Knowles is Governor....and his brother, Robert, is president pro tem of the State Senate.

ANOTHER BELK....When former State Senator Irwin Belk of Charlotte ran for the Legislature in Mecklenburg County, he always led the ticket. No matter who was running for what.

Now his younger brother, John, head of the Belk stores, is going for Mayor of Charlotte. The three other candidates say they know it's going to be a tight (but not from a money standpoint) campaign.

Annual Davie DHIA Meeting

The annual meeting of the Davie County DHIA met Tuesday night at 7:00 p.m., March 18, 1969, at "C" Ward's Restaurant. Ervin Angell, President of the Association, introduced each member and guests. The Secretary-Treasurer, Johnny Sparks, read the minutes of the last meeting and gave the treasurer's report. Guy Lyon, local tester, awarded the following people with production awards: Mrs. Arthur Baker, Fred Bahnsen, C. L. Blake, H. F. Blackwelder, Brantley Farms, and Wade Groce. Mr. Lyon also went over the monthly reporting form with the Association members and discussed and explained each heading.

The Association voted to join the State Association in helping to set up a retirement system for the testers.

After the business session a panel discussion was conducted, with President Angell, H. F. Blackwelder, Jim Eaton, and Roger Gabbert serving on the panel.

Luther West and Jim Eaton were elected to the board to replace Hubert Bailey and Homer Barnes. Luther West was elected President of the Association, John Ferebee, Vice-President, and Jim Eaton, Secretary-Treasurer.

The tragic results of a jackknife are dramatically shown by this vehicle. After the trailer swung around behind the tractor, the vehicle went out of control. The results are apparent.

New Stabilizing Device Ends Jackknife Worries

Three jackknife accidents in less than ten years caused Newsom Oil Company, a Shell Oil distributor headquartered in Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina, to install a revolutionary new stabilizing device on their tanker trailers. The Hope stabilizer, marketed in the United States and Canada by Hampshire Equipment Corporation, New York, has ended jackknife problems for Newsom Oil since it was first installed over 14 months ago.

"We're sold on the Hope stabilizing device," reports Thurman Askew, secretary, treasurer and general manager of the oil distributing company. "After three jackknife accidents in ten years, we looked long and hard at the Hope device, hoping it would be the answer to our problems -- it certainly has been."

With Hope stabilizers on all of the firm's tanker trailers, Askew plans to install the device on any new semi-trucks they purchase.

"As far as I'm concerned, they're standard equipment. We wouldn't be without them," he reports.

The last of Newsom's jackknife accidents completely demolished the tractor, not to mention the time lost for the truck and driver.

"We are just thankful that the public and our drivers have never been seriously injured," Askew says. "The only thing that kept the accidents from being much more serious and costly was that our drivers are very competent and that there was no other traffic in the path of the jackknifing trailer," he says.

Newsom's drivers are sold on the new safety device, too. Marvin Draper, veteran long-haul driver for Newsom, tells how the Hope stabilizer saved his trailer from jackknifing under conditions that would have been a sure jackknife without it.

Draper recalls returning one night from Richmond, Va., to home base in Roanoke Rapids, N. C., with a full load, when a car he was meeting suddenly ran off the road and veered back across in front of his rig.

"The roads were icy and I slammed on my brakes, but the trailer stayed right behind me. Without the Hope stabilizer on that ice, I couldn't possibly have kept the trailer under control," Draper reports.

As it was, he was able to bring the tanker trailer to a safe stop without damage or injury.

Draper, who averages 125,000 miles a year, should know what conditions cause jackknife -- he's had two in his career as a truck driver.

Once, before the anti-jackknife device was installed on his truck, he was carrying a full load of fuel back from Norfolk, Va. As he rounded a curve, he had to stop suddenly to avoid hitting a barricade. Draper braked hard and the tanker trailer kept coming around in an uncontrollable jackknife. He was pinned in the cab until help arrived and narrowly escaped serious injury.

"I'd hate to drive a truck without one," he says today. "I know what a jackknife can be and I'm sold on the stabilizing device." Both Draper and Askew admit that the drivers were skeptical at first of the new stabilizing devices. They didn't see how anything could stop the force of a jackknife at highway speeds.

"But now the drivers continually tell other truckers about what a great improvement the Hope stabilizing device is," Askew says.

The Hope Anti-jackknife Device was developed in England and is marketed in the United States, Canada and Mexico by Hampshire Equipment Corporation, New York.

The stabilizer device is installed on the top of the trailer's upper fifth wheel plate and acts as a disc brake connected to the kingpin. When the driver applies the brakes, the discs are gripped and act as a dampener to restrain the relative motion between tractor and semi trailer.

In a tractor-trailer not equipped with a stabilizer device, the trailer is free to swing from side to side. With insufficient traction or under sudden braking, the momentum of the trailer's swing carries the tractor with it and lashes with tremendous force any other automobiles or obstacles in its path.

The Hope stabilizer makes it impossible for the trailer to swing free and thus stops the momentum before it builds up.

"The jackknife, while not the most common of trucking accidents, is definitely the most feared by truckers and motorists because of its catastrophic results," according to James Marshall, president of Hampshire Equipment Corporation.

He points out that jackknife accidents account for more than five percent of the $8,900,000,000 lost in motor-vehicle accidents during 1967. Hampshire officials are hopeful that the device will also eliminate a substantial portion of the 49,000 deaths and 1,800,000 injuries resulting from motor vehicle accidents in the same year.

Conservation Spring Workshop Is Thursday

Area III of the North Carolina Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts will hold its Annual Spring Meeting at the Howard Johnson Restaurant on I-85 between Greensboro and High Point at 4:00 p.m., March 27, 1969.

The meeting begins with two workshops on legislation and watersheds. There will be a report from committee activity and a speaker after dinner.

Area III is comprised of the following counties: Alamance, Cabarrus, Caswell, Chatham, Davidson, Davie, Guilford, Iredell, Randolph, Rockingham, and Rowan. The Spring Meeting is one of the year's highlights for District Supervisors in this eleven-county area. They, along with other agricultural leaders, will have the opportunity to meet and discuss their accomplishments and to determine conservation goals for the future.

A pretty girl holds a cutaway model of Hope stabilizer which is built into the coupling of a tractor-trailer to prevent the jackknifing of a vehicle when the brakes are applied. The device is mounted on top of the semi-trailer's upper fifth wheel plate. It acts as a disc brake, connected to the kingpin. When the brakes are applied, the discs are gripped and act as a dampener to restrain the relative motion between tractor and semi-trailer. The girl's left hand is around the casing which contains the disc plates. Protruding from the bottom is the kingpin and kingpin tongue. The unit measures 12-inches square by four inches deep and weighs approximately 80 pounds.

You could be looking for trouble if you don't have Electric Comfort Heating.

Trouble could happen anytime, almost anywhere in your heating system. And even after you find it, it could take a long time getting repaired.

But if you had Electric Comfort Heating, you wouldn't have to worry. It's the simplest heating system available.

In fact, the only moving parts in most Electric Comfort Heating systems are in the standard thermostats. So there's less chance of anything going wrong.

Those are some of the reasons why more and more homeowners are switching their present systems to electric heating. And today, electric heating is installed in about half the new homes and apartments served by Duke Power.

In short, it's the coming thing. So talk to a Duke Power representative soon. He'll be happy to give you the name of an Electrical Modernization Dealer nearby.

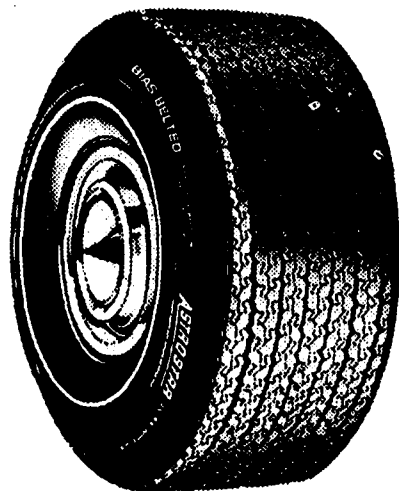

Electric living is carefree living.

Senator Sam Ervin Says:

The Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty which the Senate consented to ratify on March 13th seems to me to have been over-sold to the American people. Perhaps this is because many of our citizens believe that this treaty represents a genuine step toward world peace. Closer examination of the treaty reveals that this is an incomplete treaty and represents more hope than effectiveness in dealing with the problems involved.

My study of the treaty reveals that our nation has far more to lose by the treaty than it has to gain from it. After much deliberation, I voted against its ratification.

I did so even though I would welcome effective regulation of nuclear weapons. The truth is, however, that this treaty does not guarantee that nuclear weapons will be reduced, or that the present non-nuclear powers will not in the future obtain nuclear weapons. The absence of a single safeguard in this treaty by which our nation can determine whether other nations have violated the treaty renders the stated purpose of the treaty, i. e., to prevent the production of nuclear weapons by the present non-nuclear powers, ineffective. Without operative safeguards, I do not see how you can have a meaningful treaty.

A more serious objection to the treaty is the fact that the United States, as a nuclear power, has agreed to furnish nuclear power for peaceful purposes to non-nuclear nations which sign the treaty. Actually, what this does is to commit the United States to furnish nuclear power to every non-nuclear signatory nation. There are only three nuclear powers who favor the treaty -- the United States, Russia, and Great Britain. Britain is in no position to finance nuclear aid to other nations. Russia is unlikely to do so. So this means that the United States is incurring another obligation that could damage our economy and burden our taxpayers. There is always the possibility, too, that in giving nuclear aid for peaceful purposes to a non-nuclear power that we shall give sufficient information to develop "the bomb" also. Secretary of State Rusk testified in hearings that it is very easy to convert the peaceful know-how of nuclear usage to weaponry, and this will raise some serious problems when we are called upon to fulfill this pledge.

The most serious objection, I think, is the danger that this treaty will be interpreted by non-nuclear signatories as a pledge that the United States will assume the role of "world policeman" at the very time when we are seeking to extricate ourselves from the policies that brought us into the Vietnam War. This obligation arises from impressions given to the signatory nations during preliminary negotiations over the treaty, including a statement made by our representative to the United Nations that is subject to the interpretation that we will come to the aid of any non-nuclear treaty nation confronted with nuclear attack. It has been said that such statements by our leaders are not binding, but we are in war today in Vietnam for less authorization.

I regret that the amendments to the treaty which I offered in the Senate in the form of a "reservation" and an "understanding" were not accepted. This treaty, in my judgment, incurs obligations that I do not think our nation is prepared to assume.

Girl Scout Council Adds New Members

At its meeting March 18 held at Camp Seven Springs, near Farmington in Davie County, the Board of Directors of the Tarheel Triad Girl Scout Council elected new Board members and new members of the Council Nominating Committee to replace those who found it necessary to resign.

Replacing Mrs. Gaither Sanford, First Vice-President will be Mrs. Burce Woolsley, Winston-Salem. Mrs. Woolsley is a former Vice-President of the Pilot Area Council. She has been in Scouting for 14 years beginning as a leader, then serving as a neighborhood chairman and Board member.

Elected to fill other vacancies on the Board were: Mr. Greg Bean, Winston-Salem, former member of the Pilot Council Board and who served as treasurer and is now on the Finance Committee of the Tarheel Triad Board. Mr. S. E. Burford, High Point, principal of Andrews Senior High School, who is active in civic affairs in High Point and educational circles in the state.

Results of the Council Cookie Sale, according to a preliminary report from Mrs. Raymond Perry, Greensboro, indicate that Scouts and their leaders have done an excellent job. Profits from the Cookie Sale are used to give troops 5c per box to help with troop program; 2c per box goes into a Council "Wider Opportunities" fund which gives scholarships to girls who need financial help to attend camp and other Council-wide or National and International events. Adults also may receive financial assistance when needed to help with expenses for attending special opportunities offered to them. The balance goes into enhancing Girl Scout program, especially in the Council's ten camps which offer a variety of camping experiences throughout the year. Cookie profits purchase tents, canoes, refrigerators, cots, etc.; build Troop shelters, bath houses, and docks; maintain roads; correct soil erosion, purchase additional property surrounding camp sites. Since September 1, when the Council officially began its operation, more than 3,000 Scouts have used the Council-operated sites.

Summer camping opportunities which were shared with the Board at this meeting include a variety of events. Folders which detail information about them have just been mailed to all troops.

Camp Keyauwee, which will operate from June 29th through August 9th, is for girls who have completed the 3rd grade through the 11th grade. There will be a special unit, Fun in Nature, offered the 2nd and 3rd session of the three two week sessions which is open to girls who have completed the 3rd through the 5th grade.

Camp Old Mill which will operate June 22 through August 2 will offer, in addition to the regular camping program for girls from 9 to 18, special units for Counselors in training, Creative Camping Skills, and the World of the Arts. The Counselor-in-Training Course for girls who have completed the 10th grade will be offered July 6 through August 2. It is a two year course. Girls who are interested should apply to the Tarheel Triad office by April 15.

Creative Camping Skills will be offered the first session only. Emphasis is on living creatively in the out of doors. Its purpose is to learn advanced camping skills to be used on an extended primitive camping trip. It is open to girls who have completed the 7th grade and have had at least one year at a resident camp.

The World of the Arts unit will be offered the second and third sessions to girls who are interested in learning through self-expression and appreciation drama, music, sketching, folk art and native crafts.

Camp Shirley Rogers, Roaring Gap, N. C. will operate June 22 through August 2. It will offer, in addition to the regular camping program, special units in Creative Camping Skills, Backpacking, and Canoeing. For the 1st session, the Creative Camping Skills unit is open to girls who have completed the 7th grade and up. Emphasis is on learning and practicing advanced camping skills to be put into practice with a primitive camping trip the second week of the session. Girls must have had at least one year of resident camping and know basic camping skills. The Backpacking unit, offered the 2nd and 3rd sessions, is open to girls who have completed the 7th grade and up who have had at least one year at resident camp. The first week will be spent on skills and preparation. The second week will include backpacking in the surround mountains.

Canoeing will be offered the 3rd session to girls who have completed the 7th grade and up with at least one year resident camp experience. Girls must be able to pass the swimming and canoeing tests. The first week will involve the practice of camping and canoeing skills followed by a overnight canoe trip. Details on Day Camping opportunities will be issued at a later date, but the camp folder lists the following sites for summer day camping opportunities in the Tarheel Triad: Camp Chinqua-Penn, Camp Rocky Ledge, Camp Douglas Long, Woodman of the World, Camp Keyauwee, Tappawingo, Yeager Farm, Seven Springs, Elkin, Yadkinville, Wilkes, Lexington Area, Mt. Airy.

Other business completed at the Board meeting included the approval of procedures for troop fund raising, the use of Girl Scout facilities by non-Girl Scout groups, the terms of Association Chairmen, troop financial reports, and agreements for the use of surplus foods, including milk. The estimated budget for 1970 had its 2nd reading and was approved as presented.

The Board was delighted to see the Seven Springs program center which formally accepted from the architect at this meeting. It is the Council's only completely winterized facility, offering central heating, along with its many unusual features. The property, whose major portion was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Trotman, Winston-Salem, to the Council, offers a wealth of program opportunities to the Girl Scouts. It includes a large lake and a building which can house as many as two troops for week-end camping in even the worst of weather. In addition, to the two large assembly rooms with 12 foot fireplaces, there are bedrooms; showers with hot and cold running water; two patios; and a complete kitchen with stoves and refrigerators for two troops. The building is a Chalet type structure and could accommodate as many as 200 Scouts with ease.

Mrs. Daily announced that Mrs. Richard M. Nixon has accepted the position of Honorary President of the Girl Scouts of the United States, largest girls' organization of its kind in the world. Mrs. Nixon's two daughters have been Girl Scouts. In accepting the honorary presidency, Mrs. Nixon continued an unbroken tradition that was begun in 1917 by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.
